Saturn Giant On Schedule Von Braun Says After Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The great Saturn rocket is on schedule on a timetable to boost the three-man Apollo spaceship into orbit in late 1964—an important step toward placing the craft on the moon in this decade.

Reaction To Atom Tests Predictable

By The Associated Press America's resumption of nuclear tests in the air brought three small demonstrations in foreign countries, thousands of expressions of dismay, indignation, concern, tolerant understanding from friends, bitter denunciation from the Communists.

tests had been shown up as "the biggest lie of all the false assurances made by anyone in the West."

ment conference. Soviet negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin Wednesday night brushed aside all questions with: "no comment."

The noisiest demonstration was in Tokyo, where 325 leftist students, Communists, Socialists and members of the Japan Anti-Bomb Council shouted before the U.S. Embassy and tried to enter the embassy compound. Japanese police drove them off, but the leftists have promised to demonstrate every day during the test series.

"With the explosion at Christmas Island, a new round in the nuclear arms race has been started," the commentator said.

In the United Arab Republic, Cairo's daily Al Akhbar said: "Our belief in positive neutrality will find an echo among peace-loving nations when world peace remains at stake."

FILED IN 18TH DISTRICT COURT Myra Annale vs. Alfonso Annale, suit for divorce. Robert Mason et ux et al vs. Arlan M. Briggs, suit for damages.

U.S. STUDENTS In London, 14 Americans—most of them students in England—marched up and down all night before the U.S. Embassy with anti-nuclear placards.

ARMED PREMIER Swedish Premier Tage Erlander said the American tests confirmed his government's fear that the Soviet Union's earlier resumption of tests might lead to a "reckless arms race in the field of nuclear armament."

GOP Candidates Poke At Demos

By The Associated Press
 Republicans fighting one another in the party's Texas primary got together long enough for some stout collective pokes at the Democrats Wednesday night. Rivals for Democratic nominations in the May 5 voting for the most part stuck to fights within the political family. Jack Cox and Roy Whittenburg, vying for the GOP nomination for governor, were among seven candidates for statewide office turning up at a "knock out the New Frontier" rally in Dallas. Cox asserted President Kennedy's intervention in the steel price dispute was "a dictatorial act" and another basic industry has "crumbled under Washington bureaucracy." He predicted a Republican sweep in the nation's 1964 elections if Texas names a GOP governor. Whittenburg, still hammering away at the U.S. Supreme Court, again called for specific terms instead of appointed for life. He said the state level is the place to start because nothing can be accomplished in Washington. Edwin A. Walker, contesting five others for the Democrats' gubernatorial nomination, told an audience at Snyder Wednesday that "I am an extremist and proud of it." Addressing a rally in Midland, Walker asserted John Connally is the handpicked candidate of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson for governor and the Johnson organization has "doublecrossed every true conservative and even every ultra liberal in Texas." Walker scheduled stops Thursday at San Angelo, Brownwood and Abilene. Connally meanwhile wound up two days of stumping in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. At Edinburg he repeated a pledge for elevating Pan American College to a four-year, state-supported school. In a dig at Gov. Price Daniel, Connally said he knew of no business "that would hire a man, keep him five and half years, wind up $96 million in the hole and then pat him on the head and say 'stick around, we need a man like you.'" Daniel attended a political reception given by the Houston Classroom Teachers Association Wednesday evening and inspected the new space flight center being built near Houston. To a questioner who asked why he sought a fourth term, Daniel replied: "I want to keep our state run by Texans here in Texas." The governor said Texas leads the nation in new industrial plant location and "the rate of growth and prosperity in our state today is unmatched in its history." Marshall Formby, courting voters in Dallas, said he had found in traveling about the state that Texans want a change, they don't want any Washington domination in state politics and nearly half still are trying to decide how they'll vote. Formby also said he favors a constitutional amendment limiting the state sales tax to 2 per cent "as a protective measure against wastefulness and excessive spending." Don Yarborough, campaigning in Dallas, predicted he will be the leading candidate for governor going into a runoff. In Fort Worth, Yarborough declared that "liberals and conservatives agree that I am the only man in the governor's race who is defending the President and the only candidate who still stands proudly by the President's program."

De Gaulle Wanted As Trial Witness

PARIS (AP)—Ex-Gen. Raoul Salan's defense has issued a list of witnesses it wants for the treason trial of the captured chief of the anti-Gaullist secret army in Algeria. Among them are President de Gaulle and the recently retired Premier Michel Debre. Unless the witnesses are called, Attorney Jean-Louis Texier-Vignancour said, Salan will stand mute at his imminent pre-trial hearing before an examining magistrate. The witnesses said he particularly wanted to question the witnesses about an assassination attempt on Salan when he was commanding French forces in Algeria and about the May 13, 1958, Algiers uprising by Salan and others that led to the return of de Gaulle to power.

Progress Made In Fusion Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rapid progress is being made toward the control of thermonuclear fusion—to harness the power of the hydrogen bomb for the production of electricity, an Atomic Energy Commission scientist said Wednesday. Dr. Arthur E. Ruark, chief of the thermonuclear research division of the AEC, told newsmen that laboratories in this country and in western Europe were solving many of the problems. But he tempered his optimism by saying that so far it was not proved that this sort of reaction could be controlled for the production of usable power. He held a news conference shortly after speaking to the American Physical Society.

West Texas Skies Clear

By The Associated Press
 Skies cleared over much of West Texas but it was at least partly cloudy everywhere else in the state Thursday. There was a little light rain during the night in the south edge of the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Weather Bureau observers were keeping an eye on a weak cold front in the Rocky Mountains. They expected it to drift eastward and touch off light showers in West Texas by Friday. Temperatures climbed Wednesday, ranging up to 97 degrees at Presidio in the Big Bend country. Dallas was the coolest point with a high of 71.

Spring On Campus

NEW YORK (AP)—Two thousand Columbia University male undergraduates raided the campus of Barnard College, Columbia's female branch, early today. They were quickly repulsed. "It's just spring," said a university official.

Higher Water Rate Approved For Base

An increased water rate for Webb AFB was approved by members of the Big Spring City Commission Wednesday evening, following a meeting with base officials at the Codson Country Club. The new rate is 35 cents per 1,000 gallons, up from the present 20 cent rate. It will add about $11,000 each year to the base water bill. It is based on the large consumer industrial type rate for users of 10 million or more gallons per month. The new rate is retroactive to Sept. 1, 1960 and represents about $15,500 in back revenue.

However, 17 per cent of the back revenue will be retained by the government as credit on the loan for construction of the big water line that serves the base. The government financed the line when the base was activated in 1952.

City commissioners expressed some reservations about the rate — they had asked for 40 cents per thousand gallons — but agreed that Webb is a major industry as well as a major institution in the city, and good relations with the base are enjoyed by the city. The rate is subject to annual review and may be geared to fluctuations in production and financing costs.

Tech Hurdler Had It Rough

LUBBOCK (AP) — If Texas Tech's Bob Swafford makes the 400-meter hurdles look easy, it's because he has overcome far tougher obstacles off the track.

He did it to win probably the most punishing race of all, the 400-meter hurdle, at both the Texas Relays and Kansas Relays this spring.

Swafford was just 3 when he was run over by an auto. His left leg was broken. Fastened together by metal pins, it is shorter than his right.

Illness slowed Swafford as a junior at Texas Tech last spring, but he still managed to place in the high hurdles and run in the mile relay at the Southwest Conference meet.

In February, Swafford accidentally spiked himself warming up. Several stitches were required. He couldn't get a track shoe on his left foot for nearly a week.

Despite the slow start, Swafford has come along fast. In his last five meets he has been first in one or more events.

Daniel Spurs Guam Economy

AGANA, Guam (AP)—Bill Daniel, Texas cattleman and lawyer, took a look at the livestock situation on Guam and vowed something must be done. This large central Pacific island once was self-sustaining. When Daniel became its governor last May, it was importing 90 per cent of what it consumed. The cattle situation to him appeared particularly distressing. The herds were depleted. The cattle were scrawny. "Production is at an all-time low because of inbreeding and the island is importing the beef products it should be producing," Daniel said at the time. "The government's beef herd, which should be setting the example, has been allowed to decrease to 14 head."

Daniel is a Liberty, Tex., man, brother of Gov. Price Daniel of Texas. Guam has been an unincorporated territory of the United States since 1899. Before World War II, it was an American base but was captured by the Japanese, then re-taken by the United States. Military men consider it a gem of the Pacific. After the war it was built into a major base, and the natives flocked to jobs with the military. "The money earned here streams off the island in a steady flow instead of staying here to promote local investing and development," says Daniel. The island's governor sees an even greater threat in the possibility the military may reach a saturation point or that changing missions may throw natives out of jobs. So he has started a "back to the soil" movement and other measures. "We have to build a sounder economy," Daniel says. "Since mid-September, our village commissioners have reported to me that 1,730 families have planted new gardens," says the Texan. He expects an even greater increase.

INTO SCHOOLS
Daniel also ordered the gardening program pushed through the schools. Gardening now is taught in science classes and through demonstration gardens in the schools. To improve the cattle situation, Daniel first went to Rota, 50 miles north of Guam, and found 30 head of stocky Mongolian cattle brought there years ago by the Japanese. "I purchased these cattle for less than $3,000 and they are going to make fine foundation cattle to build up the government herd to about 200 head," said Daniel. Further to improve the livestock, he has imported cattle from the United States, some donated by friends, and some by Daniel. The governor outlined an iron-clad program for building the government herd, selling a portion of each calf crop at auction and rotating government bulls about the island. "Our chief problem in beef production has been inbreeding and we can cure that in a few short years by bringing in these new strains," he says.

KEY ACTION
Daniel considers one of his key actions has been the suspension of a federal regulation which required anyone coming to the island to undergo a detailed Navy security clearance investigation. "This regulation had served as an iron curtain in keeping out tourists and permanent residents who would invest here," he said. Another Texan, John Connally, who recently resigned as secretary of the Navy, lifted portions of the security order, thus clearing the way for normal entry of U.S. citizens. "Guam has a great deal to offer tourists traveling between Hawaii and the Orient," Daniel says. "They can stop here for two or three days, see the island and take advantage of Guam's free port status, and a steady flow of them will bolster our economy."

Several Honolulu investors are seeking sites for hotels.

TV CLASSES
Shortly after his arrival, Daniel organized television classes to help rural Guamanian children with English to fit them for school. Many know only the Chamorro language. Currently he is pushing a program to create disaster shelters from caves which Japanese carved in the hills with forced labor during World War II. Although he is an appointive official, Daniel acts as though he were running for office in Texas. His normal day runs as many as 18 hours, he goes almost anywhere there is a crowd, and he appears to be well liked by the 40,000 natives. When Typhoon Nancy struck the southern parts of the island last fall, Daniel personally supervised evacuation of villagers. "Governors usually sit out typhoons in the governor's palace," said a policeman, "but Gov. Daniel was out in the thick of this one."

Mrs. Daniel, the former Vara Faye Martin of Hillsboro, appears at official functions. Will, 20, the governor's only son, is a student at the College of Guam. The daughters, Ann, 15; Sue, 13; and Dani, 7, attend the local schools.

DEAR ABBY
Non-Smokers Take Charge

DEAR ABBY: My man smoked three packs of cigarettes a day and chewed up a whole box of snuff, too. He said that his mouth felt like the bottom of a bird cage. He got a prescription from his doctor for something that was guaranteed to curb his desire for smoking. I don't know what it was, but I know I saw a miracle happen because my husband has not smoked in 4 years.

OLLIE'S WIFE
DEAR ABBY: One day, twelve years ago, I decided that smoking was a filthy, stupid and expensive habit, so I made up my mind to quit. This is what I did. The moment I walked into a room, I announced, "I'VE QUIT SMOKING." After that I couldn't very well burn a cigarette off anyone, and I didn't carry them myself. I knew that I didn't dare beg a smoke or I'd make myself look like a real jerk. It was a matter of pride.

NO JERK
DEAR ABBY: After having the cigarette habit for 40 years, I took my cigarettes out of my pocket and said, "You have been bossing me around for 40 years, now I am going to boss YOU around." I put away the pack and never smoked again. That was 15 years ago. I'm now 92 and feel fine.

W. H. E. (Ontario)
DEAR ABBY: When I had to have a cigarette before I could open my eyes fully in the morning, I knew I had better quit. I tried to taper off, but that never works. I finally walked into a church one morning (it wasn't even of my own denomination) got down on my knees and prayed to God to deliver me of the habit. And do you know, I haven't smoked, or even had the desire to, since? When everything else fails, try prayer.

AN ORDINARY GUY
DEAR ABBY: My husband smoked like a chimney. He had a lung X-ray taken at the suggestion of his physician. A dark shadow was discovered on his lung. Fortunately it was NOT cancer, but my husband snipped off that part of the X-ray and taped it to a package of cigarettes. He carries it with him constantly and now every time he is tempted to smoke, he looks at that X-ray and takes a peppermint drop instead. GRATEFUL

DEAR ABBY: Here is a proven method for overcoming the cigarette habit. If a person smokes 40 cigarettes a day, he should cut down to 39 the first day, 38 the second, 37 the third and so forth. It takes a lot of willpower, but if I could do it (I was a 4-pack-a-day smoker for 32 years) anybody can. WILLPOWER WILL
DEAR ABBY: A psychologist once told me that in order to break a habit, substitute another one. So instead of raching for a gum, a carrot stick or a piece of licorice. It really works. When you finally get your sense of taste and smell back again, you will never go back to smoking. It happened to me after 30 years. SUBSTITUTOR
DEAR ABBY: I sat down one day, at the age of 48, and started to add up the amount of money I had spent for cigars since I started to smoke them at the age of 24. When I realized that $5,000 had gone up in smoke, I lost my appetite for smoking. SMART TOO LATE
DEAR ABBY: I was a chain smoker for over forty years. I started to get pains in my chest and I had a dry cough that came and went, but I didn't worry about it too much. I went to the doctor and he examined me thoroughly. He shook his head and said, "Either give up smoking—or else I will not be responsible for your condition." I took the cigarettes out of my shirt pocket, tossed them in his waste basket and made up my mind that I had had my last one. And I have. I am 77 years old and no amount of money could make me smoke another cigarette. The answer: WILL-POWER. NO GIMMICKS

Focus On Health

By The Associated Press
Possible hazards in hair sprays, polio vaccine and tooth banks are topics of medical reports:

Hair Spray

A medical study raises suspicions that hair sprays may cause lung diseases in some women, and men who work as hair-dressers.

There is no proof this happens, and thousands of women have used the sprays without any apparent harmful effects, says a team of doctors.

But they tell of 15 women and men who possibly suffered lung damage from breathing in particles of resins used in hair sprays. They found evidence of lung damage either in X-rays, in examinations of bits of tissue, and in autopsies of three women.

It is known, they say, that people can breathe in the resin particles, but they didn't find the particles in the lungs. Animals exposed to the hair sprays haven't shown lung damage.

Nonetheless, Dr. Martin Bergman of St. Louis, Mo., and six associates say they think the study raises a strong assumption that breathing in too much of the hair spray material can cause trouble in susceptible persons.

Polio Vaccine

The new live-virus polio vaccine now is becoming available, but a committee of the American Academy of Pediatrics sees no emergency or urgency to give it to persons who have already had the full series of killed-virus of Salk vaccine shots and boosters.

Most paralytic polio occurs now among persons who didn't get Salk vaccine, it says. The specialists urge more effort to use the Sabin or live-virus vaccine in persons who as yet have had no vaccination. The Sabin vaccine offers several advantages, and "is best used on a community wide basis whenever an epidemic of polio strikes an area."

Extra Teeth

One day you may be able to call on a tooth bank to replace missing teeth.

As an initial step, teeth have been preserved and grown outside the body in research by Dr. Robert Gerstner at the New York University Dental Center. Teeth in early stages of growth can be treated with an anti-freeze, glycerol, and then freeze-stored for years. They grow normally again after quick thawing.

Tooth buds from experimental animals have been grown in nutrient flasks up to the time when they are ready for formation of hard enamel. Dr. Gerstner now hopes to find enzymes which will start the formation of the enamel.

Local Publisher To Attend Meet Of Journalism Group

LUBBOCK (AP) — A number of the nation's foremost journalists will be featured speakers in Lubbock this weekend at a meeting of the Texas State Association of Sigma Delta Chi.

Don Reid Jr., editor of the Huntsville Item and president of the state professional journalism society, announced details of the program.

V. M. Newton Jr., managing editor of the Tampa Tribune, will speak at the noon luncheon Saturday.

At the banquet Saturday night, the speaker will be William L. Ryan, a national news analyst for The Associated Press. Special awards will be made during the banquet.

Saturday morning's session will begin with a panel discussion titled "Your Wire Services," with Sanky Trimble, The Associated Press, Dallas; Jack Fallon, United Press - International, Dallas; Vann Kennedy, KZTV, Corpus Christi, and Ralph Sewell, Daily Oklahoman and Times, Oklahoma City, as panelists.

Practical problems of journalism will be discussed Saturday afternoon by a panel consisting of Charles A. Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche - Journal; R. W. Whipkey, publisher, Big Spring Herald; Ed Wischamper, Editor, Abilene Reporter - News; Blair Justice, science writer, Fort Worth Star - Telegram; Delbert McGuire, director of Journalism, Texas A&M College and W. E. Garets, director of journalism, Texas Tech, Lubbock.

New Officers To Be Installed

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Austin McCloud, Colorado City attorney, will be installed as president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Friday night at Civic House. McCloud, who served as a director last year, will replace Drew Ballard, program director of Radio Station KVMO.

Ballard was recently selected as the outstanding Jaycee president in Region 2, and will have a seat on the board of directors. Arvie Clark, employe in the Colorado City post office, will be installed as first vice president; Larry Moffatt, second vice president; John Brand, secretary; Charles Goodlett, treasurer.

First Blast Data Checked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Scientists today checked preliminary data from the first blast in the new U.S. nuclear test series to see if it yielded significant information on improving the efficiency of American atomic weapons.

The new series got under way Wednesday over remote Christmas Island in the Pacific with the explosion of a research and development device, rather than a finished atomic weapon. A similar device likely will be used for the second blast—expected in a few days—as the United States pursues one of the major goals of the new test series: greater weapons efficiency.

Reaction in the wake of the opening blast was as expected. In Congress, Democratic and Republican leaders said there had been no alternative but to test again in the atmosphere, the Soviet Union loosed a vehement attack on the United States and from other nations there was a mixed chorus of denunciation and approval.

RUSSIAN SERIES
Some U.S. officials predicted anew that Russia would now follow through—and soon—with another test series of her own.

Informal sources suggested that the leadoff U.S. device in Operation Dominic, the name given to the first U.S. atmospheric tests in almost four years, probably rocked the Pacific waters with the blast equivalent of 100,000 to 500,000 tons of TNT. In a terse announcement, similar in style to those that followed 29 announced underground tests, the Atomic Energy Commission described Wednesday's blast as "in the intermediate yield range." Other sources said word from Task Force 8 in the test area was that the firing was successful.

The device apparently was 5 to 25 times more powerful than the bomb that leveled Hiroshima toward the end of World War II. But it was weak in comparison with some of this country's hydrogen bombs, rated at an explosive equivalent of 20 million tons of TNT.

DROPPED FROM PLANE
The opening test device was dropped from an airplane, probably a B52 or B47 bomber. This indicated the explosion may have occurred below 30,000 feet—a relatively low level blast.

Later shots, around Johnston Island, will include some at several altitudes ranging from 30 to high altitudes ranging from 30 to several hundred miles above the Pacific. These probably will be propelled upward by missiles.

Sources said the device detonated Wednesday was monitored by sensitive instruments geared to absorb a variety of information.

The blast force, the characteristics of the fire ball, the heat generated—all will indicate whether the laboratory experiments and calculations have put U.S. atomic scientists on the track of improving the efficiency of this country's warheads and bombs.

MORE POWER
A premium has been placed on packing more explosive power into smaller warheads because this would increase the destructive capability of U.S. missiles.

Experts considered it unlikely that the explosion produced much data on another important phase of the tests—research on the effects of nuclear blasts on radar and communications elements of antimissile systems.

Sources said they expect the later high altitude tests to furnish scientific information on this problem.

President Kennedy gave the signal for resumed air tests on Tuesday, he is vacationing in Palm Beach, Fla.

NO STATEMENT
Kennedy issued no statement on resumption of the tests, but he has left no doubt in several public statements why he had given the go-ahead—belief that the Soviet Union had made important advances in their series of atmospheric tests last fall.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said the Pacific firing started "a new round in the nuclear arms race." "No propaganda maneuvers of Washington can obscure the fact that it has perpetrated the gravest crime against mankind," Tass said. Ignored by the Tass statement was last fall's Soviet test series.

Instructors Get AF Commissions
First Lieutenants Clark T. Davis and William E. Holcomb Jr., assigned to the 350th Pilot Training Squadron at Webb AFB, were recently awarded regular Air Force commissions in a ceremony conducted by Lt. Col. Clifton L. Bray, squadron commander.

Lt. Clark is a native of Antimony, Utah, and a graduate of Utah State University, where he received his commission through the USAF sponsored ROTC program. He instructed in the T-33 until last February when he was reassigned to the T-37 instructor's staff.

Lt. Holcomb entered the USAF in 1959 after obtaining his commission through the ROTC program at the University of Mississippi. He is currently assigned to the squadron's Hachet Flight.

Both officers attended primary flying training school at Moore AFB, and basic training at Webb. They were then selected for further training as flying instructors and sent to Randolph AFB for the three months' training at the basic instructor's school there.

President Set For Busy Rounds

Scientist Finds Church Important To Family Life

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—A Menninger Foundation psychologist says the difference between families that thrive and those that go downhill seems to be a matter of finding things that are satisfying to each and yet involve all of them.

Dr. Lois Murphy told a marriage counseling workshop for Methodist ministers Wednesday a study of 60 normal children found that in their family backgrounds there was less moving and fewer divorces. Two-thirds of the families were active members of a church.

She said the church was the only institution to which the entire family can belong for a long period.

Actor Walks Out Of Wallace Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor Burt Lancaster, who walked out on a television show, says he felt that Mike Wallace, his TV host, "was more interested in sensationalism rather than the area of discussion agreed upon." The taped interview, walkout and all, was shown Tuesday night on the program "PM" over WNEW-TV. Lancaster flared at Wallace's questions and left the stage. Wallace asked Lancaster about reports that he has a quick temper.

First To Sign

Suzanne Compton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Compton, was the first to sign for the Miss Big Spring Pageant coming up June 16. Sponsored annually by the Jaycees, the contest is a preliminary to the Miss Texas and Miss America Pageants. Suzanne, a high school senior, won second place in the pageant's junior division two years in a row—and this year, she vies for the title in the senior division. She is shown here at the sign-up headquarters at Cizon's Jewelers.

Stokowski, At Age 75, Is Forming A New Orchestra

NEW YORK (AP)—Conductor Leopold Stokowski, 75, former husband of heiress Gloria Vanderbilt, has embarked upon a new mission in a long and distinguished musical career. He is forming a new symphony orchestra.

A generation ago, he brought the Philadelphia Orchestra to prominence, a feat that linked his name irrevocably with those of Arturo Toscanini and Serge Koussevitzky as giants of orchestral mastery. Critics generally acclaim him as one of the world's greatest maestros.

In this country he has contributed to the development of the Cincinnati Symphony, the Houston, Tex., Symphony, the Hollywood Bowl Symphony, and the All-American Youth Orchestra, formed here in 1944. He has also conducted the New York Philharmonic and the NBC Symphony, among others.

In his native Europe, his career has been equally broad. The new ensemble will be known as the American Symphony Orchestra, and during its first season starting this fall it will offer Monday night concerts in historic Carnegie Hall once a month.

Tickets will be moderate in price and all will be welcome.

"The idea is great music for everyone," said Stokowski, who conducted the orchestra for Walt Disney's widely viewed motion picture, "Fantasia," during a 10-year association with Hollywood.

Stokowski told a news conference Wednesday that New York City, which will get a new orchestral hall at Lincoln Center for the 1962-63 season, can well stand another orchestra. It now has only the Philharmonic and the Symphony of the Air, which has an irregular schedule.

"New York is the greatest and most powerful city in the world, yet Vienna has three symphony orchestras, Buenos Aires has four, Paris has five and London has six, while New York will have three after the American Symphony begins activities," he said. The first concert in Carnegie Hall will be held Oct. 15, and there will be six in all. The Carnegie Hall concerts will be repeated in nearby areas, such as New Jersey, Long Island and Brooklyn.

A group of citizens has underwritten the first year of concerts.

DeMolays Take Step To Organize Snyder Chapter

The Leon P. Moffett chapter, Order of DeMolay, under the leadership of David W. McClanahan, took the second step in a plan to start a DeMolay chapter in Snyder. Both degrees were conferred on the second Snyder DeMolay. Plans were made to go to Snyder sometime next month in order to confer degrees on other young men who have expressed a desire to become a DeMolay, and have been passed by the advisory board.

Other business consisted of plans to attend the area convocation set for June 15-16 in El Paso. The members will compete in athletics, speech, and other programs. If possible, the chapter sweetheart will make this trip, along with her mother.

The meeting time for the chapter was set back from 7 to 7:30 p.m. on Tuesdays so that member would have time to eat supper and get lessons before attending meetings.

Lawyer Falls To His Death

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Otis Nelson Jr., 40, prominent lawyer, fell from a window of his firm's eighth floor office in a downtown building late Wednesday.

Nelson landed on his head and did not regain consciousness before dying at a hospital. He left no notes.

Dr. James Scofield, county medical examiner, ruled the death a suicide.

Nelson had been the object of a wide search earlier this year. He left his office for home the afternoon of Feb. 2 and was not seen again until he was found driving his car toward Wichita Falls on Feb. 9.

U.S. Science Pavilion At Fair Is Feast For The Mind

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Just about everyone here has agreed that what makes the Century 21 Exposition a world's fair is the U.S. science exhibit.

It should be great—at an outlay of $10 million. But it wasn't only money that went into the six acres of buildings and lagoons. It also displays a great deal of talent, imagination and learning.

The design of the science pavilion was by Detroit architect Yamasaki. His soaring Gothic arches, lacy grills, pools and fountains add up to a striking visual image—certainly one of the most beautiful public buildings anywhere.

First you enter a large hall with a few hundred other fair-watchers and sit down on the thick carpet. On the side wall is projected a film depicting the history of science and its present status. Actually there are six films showing simultaneously, dazzling the mind with science's many faces.

Next you pass through a hall with graphic illustrations of what aroused man's curiosity: wind, sun, waves, lightning, etc. Another passageway illustrates how man's senses can be wrong. There are a series of optical illusions, including a whole Western town on a slant.

You come next to a large exhibit depicting the development of science — the major discoveries and what they mean.

You go next to the Spacarium where you are hurtled through space by means of the world's largest projection screen, an eight-ton aluminum dome suspended in a theater. Asteroids, planets, suns and galaxies whiz over your head.

The methods of science occupy the next great hall. Here you can find the answers to such questions as: What makes fireflies light up? What does the microscope reveal about cultured ganglia?

The Department of Commerce, which sponsors the scientific splash, obviously aimed high. The layman might understand only a quarter or less of what is offered. But for the scientist and the science-minded youngster, the pavilion offers a feast for the mind.
