Kennedy Wants Economy Stabilized By Competition

So Government Need Not Interfere, Chamber Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told the United States Chamber of Commerce today he wants to see an economy kept stable by the free forces of competition so the government will not need to intervene in the price-setting process.

He mentioned its program in the field of transportation, its recommendation for setting up tax guidelines, its legislation to provide an 8 per cent tax credit for investment in machinery and equipment. And he said he does not regard vigorous enforcement of the antitrust laws as antibusiness. Actions in this field are based largely on complaints from businessmen themselves, Kennedy said.

"To the extent of your interest in protecting profit margins, our interests are identical—we in government have a large stake in your profits."

NOT ANTI-BUSINESS Kennedy said he is aware some consider the administration antibusiness. But he said it is difficult to see how the government and nation can survive without business.

"I think our record, in totality, shows we are not unresponsive to the problems of business," Kennedy said.

The government's effort to mollify business was underscored by the appearance, at the start of the chamber's opening session, of Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges. He spoke only a few sentences, but they were full of assurances of good will.

NEVER AGAIN The President said there never again need be such events as his recent crackdown on the steel industry's attempted price increase—providing all forces join in achieving non-inflationary profits and wage increases within bounds of productivity increases.

He said an economic upswing is continuing, and he is convinced 1962 will break all records for profits, employment and productivity.

Wagner, a Chicago oilman, deplored and denied the mistaken impression—which he said many people gained from the dramatic steel price struggle—that inflationary pressures are fostered by industry's so-called greedy desire for profit.

NOT PRICE SETTING In his first speech to any business organization since he forced the steel industry to withdraw its April price increase—a move widely criticized in industry—Kennedy assured the 4,000 businessmen-delegates and their guests: "We do not seek to set prices."

SERIOUS HUMOR The President's tone was good-humored but serious. He drew a laugh by stating:

Nothing could be further from the truth," Wagner told about 4,000 delegates at the opening session of the chamber's 50th annual meeting. "Steel had already been subjected to three increases in wage costs as well as increases in other costs without an increase in price."

X15 Tops Designed Ceiling

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The X-15 rocket plane shot more than 47 miles into space today, a record for winged craft, and apparently achieved its goal of flying higher than it was designed to fly.

Wagner's speech to the nation's biggest business organization was his first appearance before a business audience since he forced the country's major steel producers to withdraw their $4 a ton price increase.

Other figures on the flight were not at once available. The old mark of 217,000 feet, or about 41 miles, was set by Air Force Maj. Bob White.

Wagner told the delegates that "the two culprits slowing down America's growth are first, high taxation accompanied by deficits because of excess spending, and second, wage increases at a rate that is in excess of gains in productivity."

Hobbs Man Drowns In Lake Thomas

T. H. Dicus, an employee of the Halliburton Co., Hobbs, N. M., was drowned in Lake J. B. Thomas about 3 p.m. Sunday when a boat capsized. Jay Harwell, Dicus' companion in the boat, was able to swim ashore and report the accident.

Owen Snyder, said Monday morning. "Harwell was in a state of shock after the accident and he could not be sure of the area because the capsized boat drifted after he swam away from it. All the divers and dragging teams can do is operate in the approximate area."

Rescue teams from a wide area of West Texas, including divers, were working in shifts during the night and Monday morning in an effort to locate the body of the drowned man.

Melvin Byers, an ex-Navy frogman who is employed in the Big Spring city engineer's office, went to the lake Monday morning to assist.

The accident occurred on the north side of the lake about a quarter of a mile southwest of Boyd's Lodge and just inside the Borden County line.

A clear picture of the accident had not been definitely painted Monday because of Harwell's condition. High winds caused the capsized boat to drift and rescue teams could only estimate the area in which to search.

Rough water has hampered the use of small boats in the rescue efforts.

Sheriff's officers from Howard, Borden, and Scurry counties, Department of Public Safety men, firemen, police, Sea Scouts, and individuals, went to Lake J. B. Thomas as soon as help was requested.

Big Spring firemen on hand to help were Edison Taylor, acting captain; Herb Doering, Jimmie Welch, Capt. R. C. Hale, Gale Miller, Doyle Hooper, Capt. John Waddell, and Bill Kuykendall.

The Big Spring police radio was serving as a clearing house for teams and individuals coming in from Odessa, Snyder, Pecos, Midland, and other places. Units at the lake were notified this morning that other help was on the way.

The Sea Scout Unit from Big Spring, with Explorer Ship 136, went to the scene at 10:30 p.m. Sunday night and remained until 11 a.m. Monday. The Scouts helped divers get in position, carried men back and forth to the rescue operations location, and kept a patrol on the dragging area.

Small boats were unable to operate in the rough water as high winds during the night rose again Monday morning after a few minutes of calm.

"There is not much way of actually knowing where the body went down," Deputy Sheriff Allen

"The Big Spring Herald is associated with the Harte-Hanks organization, and Taylor was its national advertising representative."

Lubbock Man President Of News Fraternity

LUBBOCK (AP)—Jerry Hall of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal was elected president of the Texas Association of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, Sunday.

Mr. Taylor was stricken while trimming a hedge at his home and died en route to a hospital. He has suffered previous heart attacks.

Gayle McNeut of the Houston Post was elected vice-president and Robert Stanley, North Texas State University, vice-president for undergraduate affairs.

The funeral service will be held Tuesday afternoon in Dallas, with burial here.

Test Site Closed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A ban against shipping and air traffic was clamped today around Johnston Island where the United States is expected to fire soon its high altitude nuclear bursts—the most spectacular and perhaps the most important of its Pacific test series.

Survivors include his widow, three step-children, all of Dallas, and a son, Herbert Jr., of Littleton, Colo.

Moss Creek Lake To Close Tuesday

Moss Creek Lake will be closed beginning Tuesday for 11 days, Bruce Dunn, director of public works for Big Spring, has announced.

"We will reopen the Lake on May 12," he said, "after we have given the grounds, buildings, and picnic areas maintenance repairs. We have to grade some roads, paint facilities, and some repairs."

Cool Weather

Rain, light snow, fog and cool weather extended across broad areas of the nation today from the north Atlantic region into the Plateau states.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy toasted his 173 dinner guests—Nobel Prize winners and men and women of letters—as the most extraordinary collection of talent ever gathered at the White House.

Stickney Denied Stay

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court refused today for the third time to grant a hearing to Howard Stickney, under death sentence in Texas for killing Mrs. Shirley Barnes of Houston.

In his third appeal, Stickney asserted the prosecution suppressed evidence. The court order refusing to consider the appeal noted that Justice Douglas favored hearing it.

During a long series of legal moves in state and federal courts, the Supreme Court on May 31, 1960, and on April 17, 1961, denied Stickney a hearing. On January 16, 1962, Justice Douglas granted Stickney a stay of execution pending Supreme Court consideration of the latest claim of suppression of evidence.

Mrs. Barnes and her husband were slain at Galveston in May, 1958. Stickney was arrested in Canada and returned to Texas for trial.

Voting Booths Ready For Use

The 54 voting booths ordered by the county commissioner's for use in election precincts have been delivered and will be put in official service May 5, according to Ed Carpenter, county judge.

He said that plans are to send two of the booths to the Coahoma voting box and that the 52 remaining booths will be distributed in the seven Big Spring voting places. Distribution will probably be determined on the basis of vote totals in the respective boxes.

Carpenter said that A. G. Hall, who filled the contract to manufacture the booths for the county, has promised to deliver the booths to the voting boxes and set them up for use.

Thunderstorms Move Over State; Tornado Flags Up

A line of severe thunderstorms, bringing hail to the Eastland and Comanche areas, moved through Central Texas Monday with the Weather Bureau warning of possible tornadoes.

large hail and damaging windstorms in addition to possible tornadoes.

The weather agency said at that time that all persons in Erath, Somervell, Hood and Parker Counties should take precautions.

This forecast was an expansion in both area and time of an earlier severe thunderstorm forecast for an extreme north portion of North Texas.

Light hail fell over the Lake Brownwood area, state police reported, while hail three-quarters of an inch in size fell near Comanche.

The cool front was expected to bring scattered showers over all North Central and East Texas as it moved along.

The turbulence came from a cold front which dropped temperatures as much as 20 degrees as it moved through the western part of the state during the night.

The entire state is expected to feel the cooling effect Tuesday.

Lovely But Lonely

Texas Senate Due For Some Shocks

By BOB ROOKER
AUSTIN (AP)—The quiet and powerful Texas Senate could be in for a shock when the votes are all counted this year.

Even if all the incumbents seeking re-election win, there will be seven new senators—nearly 25 per cent—and a new lieutenant governor.

A host of candidates, including 16 Democratic House members and 12 Republicans vow there will be some other changes in the upper house.

All 31 Senate seats must be filled in this year's election because of the redistricting act passed in 1961.

LITTLE CAPSULES
After being sworn in next January, the senators will file by a little glass bowl and pull out small white capsules. Sixteen lucky senators will find "four term" in their capsules. The other 15 must run again in two years.

One of the biggest changes will be in the presiding officer. Former Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey stepped down last year after 11 years of firm direction of the Senate.

Four Democratic senators entered the race to fill the state's No. 2 post—Robert Baker, Crawford Martin, Jarrard Secrest and Preston Smith. House Speaker James Turman is another strong Democratic contender.

Two Republicans, Kellis Dibrell and O. W. Hayes, also are running for the position.

TWO MORE
In addition to the four Senate seats vacated by the lieutenant governor aspirants, two more are vacant because of resignations—Sens. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville and R. A. Weinert of Seguin. Another opening came when Ray Roberts won a seat in Congress.

Politicians say opponents are making political life hard for several members of the Senate leadership seeking re-election.

Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center is reported in a close race with Jack Strong, a Longview lawyer. Sen. Dorsey Hardeman is running hard against former Rep. W. A. Stroman, also of San Angelo.

Lane and Hardeman appear to have a peculiar campaign problem in common—opposition from a large segment of women. Lane once challenged the women "to come up to my district and beat me, and then reported on the Senate floor, "They came and tried, but didn't make it."

WOMEN'S RIGHTS
Neither one was particularly enthusiastic about proposed legislation supported by several women's rights delegations appearing before Senate committees.

Sen. Jep Fuller of Port Arthur must get by three opponents in the primary—former Reps. Roy Harrington and W. T. Oliver and W. M. Fore—to go into the general election against a Republican.

Rep. Dewitt Hale is reported giving incumbent Bruce Reagan a tough fight at Corpus Christi.

Other hard primary battles involving incumbents include:
Sen. Doyle Willis and Rep. Don Kennard at Fort Worth; Sen. A. R. Schwart and former Rep. Sam Stewart and former Rep. Sam Bass in the Gulf Coast District 17; Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford against Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene and Impact Mayor Dallas Perkins; Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo against Rep. Charles B. Williams of Borger; and Sen. Frank Owen III of El Paso against Rep. W. E. Snelson and former Rep. Louis Anderson, both of Midland.

CONTESTED
All of the vacated seats are hotly contested in the Democratic primaries.

Seeking Baker's post at Houston are Rep. Criss Cole, City Councilman W. H. Jones and William Merrill and Gail Reeves.

Trying for Roberts' East Texas seat are Ralph Elliot and Rep. Charles Hughes of Sherman and Ralph Hall of Rockwall.

Martin's post is sought by former Rep. Ben Sudderth of Comanche, Carrol Garry of Itasca, Warwick Jenkins of Waxahachie and J. P. Word of Meridian.

Reps. Frank McGregor of Waco and Murray Watson of Mart are battling for Secrest's post.

Weinert's vacant seat is sought by Rep. R. A. Bartram of New Braunfels, Walter Richter of Gonzales and Charity Ray of Lockhart.

HUDSON'S PLACE
Former Rep. Jim Bates of Edinburg and Rep. Paul Langoria of Pharr are trying for Hudson's place.

Rep. Wesley Roberts of Seminole, former Rep. H. J. Blanchard and Paul Cox of Lubbock and Don Hancock of Plains are trying for Smith's spot.

Incumbents who have no opposition in either the primary or general election are: Sens. A. M. Aikin Jr., Paris; Martin Dies Jr., Lufkin; Galloway Calhoun Jr., Tyler; Nevelle Colson, Navasota; Charles Herring, Austin; Culp Krueger, El Campo; Louis Crump, San Saba; William Patman, Ganado; Abraham Kazem, Laredo; and Franklin Spears Jr., San Antonio.

Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress is unopposed in the primary but has a Republican opponent, John Zahn of Farwell, in the general election.

REPUBLICANS TRY
The Republicans making a stronger than usual bid for Senate seats this year, with 12 candidates in 10 districts. The Republicans are reported concentrating primarily on two races—Hudson's and Baker's seats.

In Hudson Valley district, the GOP is running hard with McAllen Mayor Robert Barnes. He will take on the winner of the Bates-Langoria primary battle.

In Houston, the GOP has Belaire City Councilman Jim Mc-

COULD BE WRONG

By A Christian Writer

"There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death" (Prov. 14:12).

This means a man can think he is right and feel he is right; yet be wrong.

Feeling that you are saved proves nothing.

Feelings can be deceptive. "The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?" (Jer. 17:9).

Believing you are right in your religion, does not prove you are right. It depends on the evidence which supports your belief. Is it because of what the Scriptures say that you believe this? Did you take all the Scriptures, "rightly dividing the Word?" (Matt. 4:4; II Tim. 2:15; 3:16, 17).

"So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God" (Rom. 10:17). This is the only kind of faith worth having.

Check everything by the Bible; then recheck it. You, too, could be wrong.

Udall Wants Flexible Oil Import Control

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall said today federal authority to control oil imports must be flexible.

He told the Independent Petroleum Association of America rigid rules would prevent emergency adjustments to the mandatory program to control oil imports.

Udall reiterated opposition to an amendment that would place in President Kennedy's proposed trade expansion act a specific formula for controlling oil imports.

The amendments, offered by Rep. Tom Steed, D-Okla., would limit crude and petroleum products imports to 14 per cent of domestic crude production.

Steed speaks Tuesday to the IPAA, the policy-making body for more than 7,000 independent oil and gas producers.

IPAA strategy calls for an all-out effort to get the 25-member House Ways and Means Committee to accept the Steed proposal. Should this fail, an effort will be made to have the House return the trade bill to the committee for reconsideration.

Udall said the Kennedy trade bill includes virtually the same national security clause contained in the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act that expires June 30. Oil imports mandatory controls are based on this clause that mentions no commodity by name but authorizes the White House to limit imports of any commodity which threatens national security.

"We feel strongly the national security clause is entirely sufficient to protect the nation's petroleum security, which is your objective as well as ours," said Udall.

ON THE SHELF

By The Associated Press
THE HUMANIST FRAME.
Edited by Julian H. Huxley.
Harper, $6.50.

It is not what man has been, nor what he is, that counts in this book. It is what man could be in the future that concerns the learned authors presented here.

There are 26 essays designed to portray all the aspects of "The Modern Humanist Vision of Life," as the subtitle states. But this is "evolutionary humanism," not the Renaissance brand.

The idea at the core of this system of ideas is not evolutionary as much as it is humanistic, that man can, and should, make the fullest use of his potential to direct his own destiny. It credits man with the ability to find himself, decide on the direction in which he should go, and then do something about it. The implications lead to revolutionary concepts indeed.

Among other things, this means that humanists are not content with a conflicting variety of religions centered about a variety of gods in human form. They want to take a new look at the spiritual life in terms of man's own fulfillment, and help God do a little evolving himself.

RELIANCE ON KNOWLEDGE

Of course the humanist considers science as only part of the answer to solving man's problems. He acknowledges that Communism, threats of super-wars and the population explosion are present dangers to human salvation, but he counts on "the knowledge explosion" to supply man with the raw material to build his future. He argues that if man pays as much attention to feelings as to facts, if he searches for human values as diligently as he has sought for material usefulness, and if he can think in terms of the world society while retaining the creativity of the individual, he can win his way through to a future worth having.

Julian Huxley has written the title essay and has brought together the contributions of 25 experts. His thoughts and beliefs dominate the book and his viewpoints spread across all the special subjects which the book contains.

SOMEWHAT UNEVEN QUALITY

Biology, politics, ethics, psychology, economics, education, sociology, law, medicine, music and the visual arts are among the topics examined in the light of humanism. These essays are a little uneven in quality. Most of the authors are British, but five of the chapters were written in America.

For its grasp of the essentials of man's 20th Century dilemma, one of the best articles is "The Integration of Knowledge," by Oliver L. Rieser, chairman of the department of philosophy at the University of Pittsburgh. Stephen Spender's essay on the visual arts is a stirring plea for the integrity of the individual creative spirit. H. J. Muller charts "The Human Future" in logical terms and Aldous Huxley concludes the volume with "Human Potentialities," calling for "the realization of our full humanity."

One serious fault must be mentioned. In virtually every essay the diamonds of wisdom are embedded deeply in the thick blue clay of academic jargon. The style is professorial. But the ideas are there, if you work for them.

This is an important book for those who think, but it will have little appeal for anyone whose approach to living is casual. In the realm of new ideas and new ideologies it is stimulating, provocative and challenging. It is a navigator's handbook for the long journey into tomorrow.

Profile Study

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and President Kennedy present a study in profile during welcoming ceremony at Andrews Air Force Base, Md.

Kennedy-Mac Parleys End

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan appear to be broadening their joint approach to summit diplomacy in a move toward more informal contacts with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

This seems to be one of the chief results of the weekend White House conference between the American and British leaders.

Another reported result is agreement to soften as far as possible U.S. and British conflicts of interest over reshaping worldwide trade patterns on Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

REDS BLAMED

In a communique Sunday Kennedy and Macmillan blamed the Soviet Union for the current series of U.S. nuclear weapons tests and pledged to work for disarmament and a ban on testing. The criticism of the Soviet Union was muted and indirect and apparently reflected a desire by Kennedy and Macmillan to keep on good terms with Khrushchev.

The summit maneuver presumably reflects the same attitude and is pointed toward future weeks rather than an immediate heads of government meeting. In fact it was learned that one objective Kennedy and Macmillan have in mind is to establish a pattern of talking with Khrushchev occasionally without having to have a big formal conference.

"They think it should be possible," one well-informed diplomat explained, "to have more flexibility in summit diplomacy—to get together from time to time without having a huge international circus."

LESS DIRECT

This was brought out in the communique in a less direct manner. Kennedy and Macmillan, it said, "reaffirmed their willingness to consider meetings of heads of government whenever there is an indication that such meetings would serve the interests of peace and understanding, and in this respect they took note

Visiting Cosmonaut Orbiting Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov has discovered that going around the globe 17 times is a snap compared to orbiting nighttime Manhattan.

The Soviet spaceman and his pretty brunette wife, Tamara, 24, wasted little time Sunday night in hitting the tourist trail.

At 6:30 p.m. they were walking down the ramp from a Soviet turboprop airliner at Idlewild Airport. At 7:30 p.m. they were arriving at the Soviet United Nations mission headquarters on Park Avenue.

They took only an hour and a half to freshen up before they were off again. The plan, apparently, was a quick and quiet tour of some of the sights of the brightly lit city.

Thanks to midtown traffic, the tour wasn't as quick as intended. Thanks to the curiosity of the average New Yorker it wasn't so quiet either.

Before the tour started, Titov said he was anxious to meet American astronaut John Glenn Jr. "We will have quite a lot to talk about," Titov added through an interpreter. Titov is to attend the international space conference in Washington, D.C., later this week.

Houston Wins Debate Tourney

DALLAS (AP)—A two-point margin spelled victory for two University of Houston students Sunday as they edged North Texas State in the finals of the Texas Intercollegiate television debate tournament, "Young America Speaks."

The Houston debaters won $4,000 for their school's scholarship fund with the 131 to 129 win, clinching their four debate victories on the 15-week Texas Network program.

North Texas won $3,500.

Winning debaters were Lance Funston of Houston, and Joe Draughn, of Purcell, Okla.

Speaking for North Texas were Anne Hodges of Dallas and John Swaney of Sherman.

Houston's team took the negative side on the topic, "Resolved: That the House Un-American Activities Committee should be abolished."

Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Easton and his wife, who have visited Premier Khrushchev in the Soviet Union were among 300 persons who greeted Titov and his wife of Idlewild.

During Titov's tour of Manhattan he kept smiling, and responding with friendly gestures to the attention that appeared to take him by surprise.

At the skating rink in Rockefeller Plaza Titov pinned small medals on two young girls and a small boy in a sailor suit, and replied in Russian when the children said "thank you." The medals read "Vostok II" — the name of the spaceship that took him around the earth 17 times.

At Times Square, plainclothes police had to clear a crowded sidewalk so Titov and his party could get out of their limousines for a stroll. As the strollers moved up the east side of the square the crowd around Titov grew until it stopped traffic briefly and hid the cosmonaut entirely.

hour for a night view of the city from the observation deck. Titov described the sight in the Russian equivalent of "not bad."

He accepted a small model of the world's tallest building, offered a young lady who offered an autograph book, then was off again for a fast ride to the southern tip of Manhattan. The cars paused briefly at Union Square — traditional haunt of soap-box orators, Communist and otherwise — then sped to Wall Street, where the cosmonaut alighted, looked somewhat blankly at the darkened New York Stock Exchange and nearby skyscrapers along the cavern, then back to the cars.

At the Battery, Titov strolled out on a parking lot overlooking the harbor where it was possible to get a good look at the Statue of Liberty in the distance. Apparently that quick look was all he wanted, and he climbed into the limousine for a ride up the East River Drive and home.

Rocky May Be Facing Big Threat From Conservatives

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Republicans believe Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller may be facing a bigger re-election threat from party conservatives in New York than he seems willing to admit. This is one of the bright spots Democrats have been able to field out of a weekend which brought the announcement of Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City that he will not seek his party's nomination to oppose Rockefeller and Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits, who is up for re-election, at the GOP convention in September. Falling that, the conservatives will try to get enough signatures to win places on the ballot in November. In New York State, candidates for statewide office can be nominated independently by getting 12,000 signatures—at least 50 from each county. While Rockefeller and Javits seem assured of getting their party's nominations, the conservatives hope to demonstrate some significant dissent which might be telling in the November results and thus affect Rockefeller's chances for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination. Associates say that both Rockefeller and Javits minimize this movement, which started earlier in the year among Republican conservatives who don't like what they regard as the liberal viewpoint of the two. It is evident, however, that Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., who might be opposed by Wagner for re-election in 1964, takes a much more serious view of the incipient conservative revolt. The view of Keating and some other Republicans is that the conservatives might be able to strike a body blow at Rockefeller in usually Republican upstate New York. Most politicians agree that Rockefeller has lost ground there, not only because of his divorce but because of what some Republicans regard as a sort of New Deal type of administration in Albany. As far back as February Rockefeller was asked on a nationwide television program if he were swinging to the right. He replied, "Not in the slightest." Rockefeller figures to run well in New York City, particularly if Wagner sticks by his decision. Whether Wagner will do that remains to be seen. He said he wouldn't allow himself to be drafted, adding that President Kennedy "knew how I felt" and "respects my judgment." It is not in the political cards that the Kennedy administration will give up easily on New York and on the President's leading potential Republican opponent in 1964. The possibility of a Wagner draft cannot be ruled out. Democrats recently put out a party poll which indicated that Wagner held a 43-41 percentage edge over Rockefeller in the state, with 16 per cent divided. Javits said on a television program Sunday that other polls show "a very large measure of support for Rockefeller in our state, enough to make his re-election decisive."

Voters To Have Say On Horse Racing Issue

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas voters will get their first chance May 5 to say how they stand on the bitterly controversial issue of legalizing horse race gambling in the state. Both major parties will submit a referendum in the primary elections on whether pari mutuel betting should be legalized in the state. The decision will exert powerful influence but will not be binding on the state legislature. Opposition to betting on the ponies jelled quickly and armed itself with some weapons used successfully in the past 30 years—economic evil and moral decay. The biggest group opposing passage of the referendum calls itself "Texans against race track gambling" and is headed by the president of Texas' largest steel company and the chancellor of Baylor University, the largest senior college supported by Texas Baptists. The organization levelled its big guns on legalized betting recently in a full page advertisement taken out in the Wall Street Journal. "A two-dollar bet is murder," the ad says. "Gambling is the biggest single cause of such crimes as embezzlement; it also is a cause of broken marriages, neglected children, poverty and sometimes suicide. The three D's of gambling, it says, are 'debt, degradation and death.' At least two major Democratic candidates are actively campaigning against legalized betting—Gov. Price Daniel seeking a fourth term and State Rep. Tom James seeking the attorney general's post. Generally, the opponents argue that pari mutuel betting hurts business, that it tends to make time payments risky, that it is immoral and that it brings bad elements into the state. On the other side of the fence are several groups led by the Texas Thoroughbred Breeders Association and State Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry, a self-styled retired gambler. Berry led an unsuccessful drive in the 1961 legislature to legalize pari mutuel gambling and is running for re-election on the issue. Supporters of legalizing betting argue that it helps business, aids the state with its tax problem, stimulates the breeding of high class racing stock and brings in the much sought-after tourists. Texas legalized betting on the horses in a 1933 special session and major tracks sprung up in Houston, San Antonio and near Fort Worth and Dallas. But in 1937, the state legislature outlawed the pari mutuels by a one-vote margin, putting the big racing enterprises out of business. Attempts to restore betting failed in 1941, 1947, 1953, 1959 and 1961. The propositions voters will mark May 5 differ as to party. Republicans will have the option of voting for or against the legislature submitting a constitutional amendment to legalize pari mutuel wagering on a local county option basis. Democrats will have two choices. One proposition simply asks if the voter is for or against a constitutional amendment legalizing wagering on horse races. The other asks if the legislature should "enact a law legalizing pari mutuel wagering on horse races with the state and track sharing 14 per cent of the pari mutuel pool, the home county receiving two per cent of the total pool and all other counties receiving one half of the net share on the basis of population. No racing on Sunday."

Drought Caused Major Texas Cattle Move

LUBBOCK (AP) — One of the great migrations of cattle from Texas occurred in 1890-94, a researcher at Texas Tech has found. Cause was a great drought, says Roy Sylvan Dunn, sociologist and archivist, writing in a West Texas Historical Association publication. Thousands of head of cattle were shipped or otherwise moved to Indian territory during that period, Dunn found. The drought began in 1890 and increased considerably for three straight years. His research shows that more than 60 per cent of West Texas counties suffered from drought in two or more years. West Texas did not suffer alone. All of Texas had dry times, with rainfall 28 per cent below normal in 1894-95. However, some good came out of the dry period. The drought prompted a re-evaluation of livestock production practices from the "reckless, open-range-live-water pattern to one of enclosure and tight management," which had been used in previous droughts. Some of the water and soil conservation measures used to cope with the drought were these: Livestock raisers learned to build dams, dig wells and scrape out tanks in the earth. They improved the quality of their herds; and They cultivated crops for supplemental feeding.

Old Galveston Blockhouses Go

GALVESTON (AP) — Something that once excited the kids is gone from Galveston. It is the blockhouses where the military kept watch against invading fleets, particularly during World War I. The 40-year-old structures already were obsolete when World War II began. The five concrete blockhouses were at the eastern end of the seawall. One reason for their removal was traffic. Three cars within 14 months rammed into them, killing the sole occupant of each car. After the third death — that of a young Galveston mother — the City Council asked the government to remove the blockhouses. Government officials agreed and the Corps of Engineers awarded a $7,000 contract for the job. Torn down with them was a crudely painted skull and crossbones and a bulls-eye, painted there apparently to mark the spot of so many deaths.

What's Happened To The Beloved Irish Spirit(s)?
ROME (AP)—The Irish are the world's top milk drinkers, says the Food and Agriculture Organization. The FAO committee on commodity problems said Ireland consumes 637 kilograms (1,401.4 lbs.) per person each year. That puts the Irish ahead of Britain, the United States, France, Germany and Austria—each of whose citizens downs 300 to 400 kilograms (660 to 890 lbs.) of milk and milk products yearly.

'Defenders' Hits A Touchy Subject

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—CBS' "The Defenders" on Saturday night moved into a touchy area with a story about the trial of a dedicated doctor charged with performing abortions — operations illegal in 50 states.

The program was dropped like a hot potato by its three regular sponsors, and was denied airtime on a number of CBS affiliates because of its theme. But whether one enjoyed the program, or whether one approved of the doctor, the story certainly raised an issue or two.

The drama asked whether an unmarried girl should have only a choice between bearing an unwanted child or of submitting to an operation which is against the law? To make its point, the program had as one of the doctor's patients a girl who went to him for help after being criminally assaulted by a stranger.

Unfortunately, also in an effort to make its point, the story line took some pretty sordid turns. For instance, the successful physician who turned to helping unfortunate girls did so because his own daughter died in the hands of a butcher.

E. G. Marshall as the defense attorney remained almost blandly aloof and neutral as the chips fell. But it was, all in all, a most interesting program, done with good taste and a quiet matter.

"Sixty Hours to the Moon" was an ABC briefing Sunday night on some of the study and preparation to put men on the moon and, after that, onto other farther away planets. Despite the practical statements by the experts and a down-to-earth commentary by astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., it's still hard for the post-teenage viewer to believe its all real and not science fiction.

As Marine Col. Glenn explained kids understand it all very well — it's just us adults who shake our heads.

'Defenders' Hits A Touchy Subject

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—CBS' "The Defenders" on Saturday night moved into a touchy area with a story about the trial of a dedicated doctor charged with performing abortions — operations illegal in 50 states.

The program was dropped like a hot potato by its three regular sponsors, and was denied airtime on a number of CBS affiliates because of its theme. But whether one enjoyed the program, or whether one approved of the doctor, the story certainly raised an issue or two.

The drama asked whether an unmarried girl should have only a choice between bearing an unwanted child or of submitting to an operation which is against the law. To make its point, the program had as one of the doctor's patients a girl who went to him for help after being criminally assaulted by a stranger.

Unfortunately, also in an effort to make its point, the story line took some pretty nasty turns. For instance, the successful physician who turned to helping unfortunate girls did so because his own daughter died in the hands of a butcher.

E. G. Marshall as the defense attorney remained almost blandly aloof and neutral as the chips fell. But it was, all in all, a most interesting program, done with good taste and a quiet matter.

"Sixty Hours to the Moon" was an ABC briefing Sunday night on some of the study and preparation to put men on the moon and, after that, onto other farther away planets. Despite the practical statements by the experts and a down-to-earth commentary by astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., it's still hard for the post-teenage viewer to believe it's all real and not science fiction.

As Marine Col. Glenn explained kids understand it all very well — it's just us adults who shake our heads.

Tollisons Have Long Experience

It hasn't taken Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tollison long to feel right at home in Big Spring. The Tollisons, new owners of Big Spring Mattress Company, were formerly Lubbock residents and had been engaged in the same type of business there for over 30 years.

Those years of experience in the manufacture and renovation of top quality bedding shows in the number of satisfied customers who use their products.

Mr. and Mrs. Tollison purchased new equipment and modernized the plant extensively before starting operations. The new machinery will provide better, faster, service for people who are satisfied with nothing but custom-made bedding.

Big Spring Mattress can provide beautiful, healthful bedding in both standard and special sizes. Today's trend is to king-size beds that help provide more comfortable and complete rest. Often these beds are expensive. The Tollisons suggest you compare their prices and service. Their company offers factory to home prices with no freight or hidden expenses.

Misshapen, lumpy or packed mattresses can be re-done to look and feel like new at Big Spring Mattress Co., 813 W. 3rd. Years of service can be added to bedding at only a fraction of the cost of purchasing new—if you let this local firm do the work right here in town. They can also convert your old bed springs into modern box springs and offer a choice of beautiful headboards at reasonable prices.

Housecleaning Is Made Easy

An American tradition as old as apple pie though not as palatable is Spring housecleaning. This is the time of the year when the woman of the home puts on her apron to dress up the house.

So often the major problem in making rooms look bright and new again is the task of cleaning carpets and upholstery.

It is no longer necessary to take those lovely carpets off the floor for cleaning and renewing the beauty of their colors. A new product called Blue Lustre Carpet and Upholstery Cleaner has been developed especially for home use. This amazing product provides a simple - sure and effective method of cleaning care at very little cost.

Blue Lustre is a special concentrate that is mixed with water to create a billowy foam. This foam is then applied to rugs or carpets with an inexpensive long handled brush or it can also be used in any type of rug shampoo applicator.

The action of Blue Lustre foam makes original colors spring back to life like new again - leaves pile open and fluffy and carpets stay cleaner longer because there is no oily, gummy residue to cause rapid resoiling. It's safe to use on the finest oriental rugs and cleans upholstery beautifully.

Housewives have found that Blue Lustre makes it possible to clean soiled spots and pathways as they appear without going over the entire carpet. Blue Lustre is also safe and handy to keep around the house because it is completely odorless and nonflammable. It is economical to use for one half gallon of concentrate is sufficient to clean three 9 x 12 rugs or several pieces of upholstery. Also available in quart and gallon sizes. Blue Lustre is handled locally by Big Spring Hardware.

Using Blue Lustre

Using Blue Lustre, this young lady is doing her spring cleaning the easy way - without removing that lovely carpet from the floor. Blue Lustre produces a billowy foam that is safe to use on finest oriental rug and cleans upholstery beautifully. Colors spring back to life and the pile is left open and fluffy. Blue Lustre is sold locally by Big Spring Hardware Co.

Candidates Feel Date Pressure

By The Associated Press

The calendar put pressure on Texas political hopefuls today as they began their final campaign swings five days before Saturday's Republican and Democratic primaries.

A major development was a request by Hank Brown, president of the AFL-CIO, that El Paso Dist. Judge Woodrow W. Bean withdraw from the congressman-at-large race.

Bean earlier agreed with Internal Revenue officers that he has not filed an income tax return in 10 years, saying he opposes the income tax and has invited the government to take action.

The AFL-CIO's political arm, COPE, had endorsed Bean for the congressman-at-large post.

Brown, in asking Bean to withdraw, said this: "We believe that every American is innocent of any charge leveled against him—until he has been judged by due process of law. We do not expect Judge Woodrow Bean from this belief. But in the current situation—with the larger and far more important interests of the people of Texas at stake—we believe that Judge Bean should withdraw."

Phil Willis, one of Bean's opponents in the Democratic primary, also urged Bean to withdraw and apologize to the party.

Many candidates took a breather Sunday preparing for the final drive.

However, Marshall Formby, Democratic candidate for governor, was active, telling campaign workers at Orange that John Connally, one of his opponents, is spending "more money than all the other candidates put together."

He added, "Who eats my bread must sing my song," declaring a candidate who receives large contributions is obligated.

Meanwhile, the San Antonio Express said it has learned that another candidate for governor, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, will launch an investigation of law enforcement in Banderas.

The paper quoted Sam Darden, attorney for the owner of the Wagon Wheel guest ranch, as saying Wilson told him he will have a staff member in Banderas. The statement came after the owner of the guest ranch complained of treatment of a guest by county officers.

Republican governor candidate Roy Whittenburg spoke to Knights of Columbus barbecues and rallies at McAllen and Brownsville Sunday. Also speaking was Democrat Don Yarborough.

Whittenburg told the crowd, "The Constitution is the only thing between us and dictatorship. The great issue today is dictatorship and slavery vs. states rights and self government."

Yarborough, claiming he is the only real Democrat in the race, said, "You could put the other five in a barrel, shake them up and then dump them out and they would all come out thinking and acting like Republicans."

Des Barry, Republican candidate for congressman-at-large, told a Houston precinct meeting Sunday that "if we allow these power-mad teamster bosses to dictate whether trucks will roll in the United States, we have surrendered one of the basic public rights." Barry defeated the Teamsters Union in a series of court fights some time ago on "hot cargo" handling.

DEAR ABBY

What Do The Eskimos Say?

DEAR ABBY: I live in Anchorage, Alaska, and can tell your "curious" reader that Eskimos DO rub noses to show affection, but it is no substitute for a kiss. Also, please tell your readers that we do not live in igloos. The only igloo I ever saw was in a picture book and I am 42 years old.

ANCHORAGE RESIDENT

DEAR ABBY: Take it from a G. I. who spent a year in Greenland: The only nose I rubbed among the Eskimos was my own!

"COLD PROPOSITION"

DEAR ABBY: Yes, the Eskimos DO rub noses instead of kissing for common sense reasons. It is so cold that if they kissed, their lips would get stuck together.

BUZZIE (age 11)

DEAR ABBY: May I quote Peter Freuchen, a Dane, and the foremost authority on Eskimos and their customs:

"A standard of beauty among the Eskimos is the nose. Eskimos do not kiss. They rub noses in greeting, but there is never any preening of the lips together, not even when boy meets girl."

(signed) "NOSEY"

DEAR ABBY: The Eskimos DO NOT rub noses instead of kissing. Years ago, when the T.B. epidemic was a threat among the Eskimos, they avoided kissing for reasons of health. But now they kiss like any other people.

"OLD FUR TRADER"

DEAR ABBY: I am a retired Coast Guardsman who was assigned to the Alaska Seal Patrol for 13 years. We traveled so far west we were actually going east all the way out to the Siberian Frigid Islands. Eskimos do rub noses when they meet, but it's man-to-man, man-to-woman, brother-to-sister and all sorts of combinations. It is more like a hand-shake than a kiss.

RETIRED SEAMAN

DEAR SEAMAN: Thank you. I

"We cannot expect the Americans to jump from Capitalism to Communism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving Americans small doses of Socialism, until they suddenly awake to find they have Communism."

Dietator Nikita Khrushchev (8 1/2 mos. before visit to U.S.)

Running The Gauntlet

Violence flared in Montreal's two-week-old trucking strike as a mass of striking teamsters bombarded a truck trying to leave a west end terminal. Members of the striking International Brotherhood of Teamsters ignored a police escort to attack the truck. Police used tear gas and warning shots to keep order. The teamsters want a 30-cent-an-hour increase over the present rate of $1.55. A conciliation board has recommended 16 cents.

Multiple-Death Accidents Kill At Least 19 In U.S.

At least 19 persons perished Sunday in a rash of multiple-death accidents, plane and boat accidents. Several persons were injured and three were missing. Near Bonita, La., a vacationing Texas family of four was burned to death after their car was struck from behind and the gas tank exploded in what police described as a hit-and-run accident. The dead were Paul Richard Mullins, 39; his wife, Ruby, 28; and their two children, Louis E., 7, and Paula Jean, 6. The Houston, Tex., family was en route to Greenville, Miss. M. L. Thompson, 24, of Wilmet, Ark., was arrested later in Hamburg, Ark., and held for Louisiana authorities on charges of hit-and-run driving, negligent homicide and drunken driving. Eight persons died in separate accidents involving light planes—one in east central Indiana, and the other in Nebraska. Vernard Gross, fishing near Fountain City, Ind., told of watching in horror as a small plane disintegrated in flight, dropping parts and bodies into a woodland. Gross said he heard "a terrible noise like a plane doing acrobatics" and saw a plane come out of the clouds. "Suddenly a wing fell off," he said. "Then, one by one, four bodies dropped from the craft." The dead were identified as Carl L. Dehmer Jr., 36, of Wichita, Kan.; his wife, Virginia, 35; Richard H. Ivers, 35, of Sapulpa, Okla., and his wife, Grace, 34. Three children were drowned and three other persons were missing after a big wave from a passing ship capsized a 16-foot outboard motorboat in Galveston Bay at Houston, Tex. Eight persons were aboard the motorboat. Killed were Gus Wesley Smith, 1; Charles Smith Jr., 5; and Betty Smith, 4. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, were missing, as was Danny Ray Henry, 12. A motorized pontoon raft carrying 18 persons capsized in a lake at Brookfield, Mo., killing two men and injuring at least eight others. Police said Willard E. McDonald, 52, drowned and Charles Wornack, 49, died of a heart attack. A Minden, Neb., businessman and his three children were killed in a crash near Cushing, Neb. An official said the light plane crashed in a field, apparently as it tried to land in a fog. Two persons died and three were injured when a Norwegian passenger-cargo ship and a Greek freighter collided in dense fog at the mouth of Chesapeake Bay.

Teacher Takes Children On Whirlwind Capital Tour

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the spring, a tourist's fancy is apt to turn to the nation's capital. An estimated 1.4 million visitors saw Washington this month. Here's a brief jaunt with a group from Texas.

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Just give Mrs. Mary R. Kelly some Epsom salts to put in her footbath, and she's ready to lead a tour to far-away places.

All the way, for example, from Houston, Tex., to the marble corridors of Washington, D.C. Of the estimated 1.4 million tourists who came to admire their nation's capital this month, Mrs. Kelly is surely one of the most remarkable.

A vivacious grandmother, Mrs. Kelly is principal of the Second Baptist School in Houston. In her spanking new air-conditioned schoolhouse, she sees to it that 220 children get a firm grounding in the "four R's"—the fourth one being religion.

She also inculcates them with wanderlust—"I figure I must be part gypsy," she says with a grin. Each year she pilots a group of them into buses and takes them to see distant sights in the United States, Mexico or wherever.

Last week she was in town with two busloads—42 children, mostly 7th and 8th graders, plus a dozen mothers to help her with the shepherding. Sporting "Go Texan" neckties (Mrs. Kelly's was pink with steers' heads on it), these travelers really went places. And, thanks to Mrs. Kelly's efficiency as a rounder-upper, nobody got seriously lost.

Every once in a while she would halt, blow a whistle and rally her party around her. "Attention! COUNT OFF!" she would command. Then each member of the party would sing out an assigned number in order, from one to 54. Thus assured that no one had strayed, Mrs. Kelly would lead the way, for example, into the Supreme Court. This visit was something special, because the daddy of two of the children was being admitted to practice before the high tribunal.

So Edwin H. Frank III, aged 12, Miss Graham Frank, 9, and their mother Louise got to hear Chief Justice Earl Warren welcome Attorney Edwin H. Frank Jr. to the august bar. Asked afterward what he thought of the ceremony, Edwin H. Frank III said: "It was neat."

But it was the Library of Congress, with its gorgeous decorations and historical exhibits that most impressed Mrs. B. J. Rudd, American history teacher and second in command of the party. "Please don't take a picture of me with my mouth open," she asked a photographer. Next stop: The office of Rep. Bob Casey of Houston. The congressman, a Democrat, wasn't in because the House was in recess and he had some campaigning to attend to back home. But a secretary did the honors. What intrigued the boys most was a gag poster on the wall. Signed by the San Antonio Cattlemen's Association, it proclaimed: "Wanted, $5,000 reward for Con-

Another Negro Family Takes One-Way Bus North

NEW YORK (AP)—Another New Orleans Negro family has arrived here via what a fare-paying segregationist group calls "Freedom Buses" and a U.S. senator from New York describes as an "overground railroad" reminiscent of pre-Civil War days.

Shelby Williams, 24, a longshoreman, and his wife, 20, said upon arrival Sunday that they came in quest of a job and "just to be American citizens." Williams said he had been without work for six months.

Dozens met the visibly nervous couple at the bus depot. One Negro family offered them a room in their Harlem apartment. They expressed thanks, but took a hotel room to decide what to do. The Williamses were the second Negro family in eight days to come here on one-way fares paid for by the white Citizens Council of Greater New Orleans. The council has offered similar treatment to other Louisiana Negroes.

Last Saturday, Louis Boyd, his wife and eight children arrived on the first council-sponsored trip. They were showered with money, gifts of food and clothing and free lodging, and Boyd found a $100-a-week job in a New Jersey plant. Strong criticism of the Freedom Buses came from Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who told an audience in a small church in Harlem Sunday night: "I predict that this overground railroad will mark the beginning of the end of segregation as the basis of the Southern social order." "In a paradoxical way," Javits said, "it is the first clear sign of the breakup of segregation in the South itself, just as the underground railroad marked the breakup of slavery in the South a century ago."

The reference was to a pre-Civil War secret network through which abolitionists spirited Negro slaves out of the South to freedom. A council spokesman has suggested that the Louisiana Legislature consider the idea of underwriting $100,000 worth of "freedom rides north."

Of this, Javits said "If the state itself, as it has threatened, joins in this program, then we will sponsor federal legislation to deal with it."

He said he had in mind a bill that would divert federal welfare funds from Louisiana for every person sent north and put on welfare rolls of other states. A representative of the city welfare department was on hand to greet the Williams couple and discuss with them any assistance for which they might be eligible.

Of the Citizens Council, Williams said: "I don't hold nothing against them. They weren't trying to help nobody, just to prove something to themselves. If I'd had the money, I would have come here anyway to look for work."

Russians Bring Down Spaceship

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government says it has brought its spaceship Cosmos IV down safely on Russian soil after a three-day orbit around the earth. The Soviet news agency Tass said the ship, which went into orbit Thursday, was brought down Sunday at a predetermined point on order from the ground. Tass said its equipment functioned successfully during the entire flight. The ship was unmanned. The Soviets have been conducting the Cosmos series to study radiation and other dangers that might face man in extended space travel. The first three in the series were launched March 16, April 6 and April 24.

Gonzales Has A History To Be Proud Of

GONZALES, (H) — This town, settled in 1825, sometimes is called "The Lexington of Texas."

And each Oct. 2 the city holds a "Come and Take It Day" to mark the proud reply returned to soldiers of Mexico when they demanded return of a little cannon loaned the town for Indian fighting.

Every child of Gonzales is reared on the tale of the fight for the cannon, and a plaque in the Gonzales Museum bears the name of 18 men — "The Old Eighteen" — who held the foe at bay until Texas minutemen arrived to help repulse the Mexican troops.

Gonzales and its men went on to even greater glory.

In March 1836 Col. William Barrett Travis issued his appeal from the Alamo for help. And a group now known as the "Thirty-two Immortals" from Gonzales were the only ones to march to Travis' aid. They died along with the others in the Alamo.

Today, more than a century after those famous battles, the people of Gonzales live in a quietly beautiful town that wears its mantle of history with dignity, surrounded by mementoes of the early days of Texas.

A dozen miles southeast stands the "Runaway Speech Oak," under which Sam Houston stood in 1836 and told the people that they'd better leave before Santa Anna's advancing army reached there.

In town the Eggleston House is the oldest structure, and one of the oldest in Texas. Built of logs that have aged to a flinty hardness, it has been restored as part of the town's memorial to its forebears. It is furnished with furniture of the period in which it was built, 1840, after the people returned to rebuild the town they had burned at Santa Anna's approach.

Stricken Ship Rests Aground

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The Norwegian ship Tarantel, her right side ripped from water line to deck in a Chesapeake Bay collision Sunday, rested aground today while men from two Navy salvage vessels battled to keep her from settling deeper.

The bodies of two passengers killed when the Tarantel was rammed just about amidship by the Greek freighter Hellenic Splendor remained aboard the stricken vessel. The Greek ship, although heavily damaged, continued under her own power to Philadelphia.

Heavy fog shrouded the bay when the ships collided about 6:20 a.m. Sunday. Water poured through the gash in the Tarantel's side and she wallowed stern down. A tug and a Navy salvage vessel put lines aboard and were towing her toward a shipyard when she scraped aground.

The Coast Guard said the Tarantel's agents have decided to leave the vessel where she is until an underwater survey determines whether temporary patches should be made before she is towed into a shipyard for repair.

Pumps and men from the Navy salvage ships Recovery and Shakeri battled to keep her from settling deeper but were not able to lighten her draft.

Confesses

James Vincent Miller of Seattle confessed, police said, that he set fire to his home and killed his son, David, 2, and two daughters, Jane, 14, and Patricia Ann, 18 months. Miller is shown at the hospital where his wife and two other children had been taken before he was questioned by officers.

French Occupy Center Of Oran

ORAN, Algeria (AP) — French army units occupied the center of Oran Sunday in a maneuver aimed against the terrorist Secret Army Organization, then suddenly withdrew today without any explanation.

Officials said the withdrawal probably would be only temporary, but the sudden switch mystified supporters of the secret army. Army officers would not discuss the reason for the move.

The troops had gone into the heart of Algeria's second city presumably to enforce a new ban against all vehicular traffic and parking in the heart of the city. Citizens also were warned not to walk along roadways in the area or to form groups.

As soon as the units were withdrawn this morning, European settlers defiantly drove into the restricted area despite an earlier warning that security forces might fire on violators of the new restrictions.

The center of Oran is regarded by the secret army as its own territory.

There was some speculation that French officers, by shifting troops back and forth, were trying to draw hard-core secret army units into the open. The official attitude has been to invest the city without provoking an open and bloody clash with the French settlers' underground.

By midmorning a few troop patrols were back on the streets. They did not interfere with the illegal movement of traffic nor with pedestrians who defiantly walked in the streets instead of on the sidewalk.

An estimated 450 members of the Moslem local force, headed by French officers but responsible to the provisional government, moved into the city's outlying Moslem areas. The only order so far had been maintained there by armed commandos of the rebel army of national liberation.

The toll of terrorism was comparatively light in Algeria Sunday. There were 10 deaths and six injured reported. Nine of the dead were Moslems, and five of the six wounded were Europeans.

Bean Admits No Tax Filings

HOUSTON (AP) — Woodrow Bean of El Paso, candidate for congressman-at-large, admits he has not tried to hide the fact that he has not filed an income tax return since 1952.

"At least 50,000 people in my home county and throughout Texas know it," he said at a press conference here. "It was an issue in my campaign for county judge and I have been elected six times by the people who know me in El Paso County in spite of it."

This was Bean's first statement on Internal Revenue Service charges that they had no records of returns from him since 1952. Bean said he believes the federal tax on personal income is "economically unnecessary, illegal and immoral."

"Merely because I have not filed an income tax report does not mean that I owe the government one penny," he said.

"My accountants tell me the government owes me money for the withholding taxes that have been deducted from every pay check as county judge and paid directly to the Bureau of Internal Revenue by El Paso County."

Editor Lashes U. S. Apathy

LUBBOCK (AP)—A noted editor says that to most Americans, freedom of the press means little more than a slick way through which newspapers gain fabulous riches.

V. M. (Red) Newton Jr., managing editor of the Tampa, Fla., Tribune, told Southwestern newsmen the average American has long since "gone apathetic in the good life of freedom." He said the average American has forgotten, "if he ever realized it, that freedom of the press is the key to all his freedoms and that it was gained only through much turmoil and bloodshed on the part of his forefathers."

Newton's comments came in a speech for a regional meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic society.

More than 150 persons from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arkansas attended the sessions.

Newton said that the American Press is undergoing severe criticism from what he described as "disgruntled minority elements" and warned that if the criticism continues unchallenged in the immediate years ahead "it could very easily lead to some sort of governmental control."

"There are many in our gigantic Washington bureaucracy who look with disdain, contempt and fear upon the right of the free American press to print the news of government as it takes place and would gladly seize upon any excuse to shackle your newspaper with the chains of censorship," he declared.

Newton over a period of years has attained a widespread reputation as a fiery editor seeking to maintain freedom of the press. He is a past national president of Sigma Delta Chi.

Mrs. Bobby Sledge, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in a pastel blue crepe dress accented with white accessories. She carried a nosegay of white miniature pom pom chrysanthemums.

Use Caution When Painting Metal

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

QUESTION: What is the best way to paint the metal on my house?

ANSWER: It depends on the kind of metal. For iron and steel, where the old surface is intact, no primer is needed. Where it is not, remove rust with steel wool and prime the bare spots with one of the corrosion-resisting primers now on the market. Follow with one or two coats of exterior paint.

Galvanized steel should be primed with what is called zinc dust-zinc oxide paint or a special type of primer for galvanized metal. Follow when dry with any desired topcoat.

With aluminum, remove all oil and dirt. Any exterior metal or wood primer will give good service, but in coastal or industrial areas, prime with zinc chromate. Use any exterior paint or enamel as a topcoat.

Saris, Ladies? First Lady Wears Them

NEW YORK (AP) — What Asian men are wearing today may have more influence on American women's fashions — and American men's too — than all those saris Jackie Kennedy is packing into suitcases.

Authorities in the fashion industry who watch every approving nod from the pace-setting First Lady for an indication of a new trend agree on this.

Thus the millinery industry is happily anticipating a deluge of fake and real karakul astrakhans into hat shops this fall. Mrs. Kennedy not only smiled her million-dollar worth of business smile on the traditional cap of the Pakistani male, she wore it, and packed some karakul home with her.

Sartorial American men can smugly point out that it's the same cap they've been warming their heads with for the past two years, but what woman cares?

U.S. Musical, English Stars And Play Win B'way Awards

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Two English stars, a London play and an American musical are Broadway's 1962 Tony Award champions.

Paul Scofield and Margaret Leighton won the annual medals presented by the American Theater Wing Sunday night for distinguished performance. Named as the outstanding play—with five awards—was "A Man For All Seasons" by Robert Bolt, in which Scofield appears.

The big musical, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," captured seven prizes, including one to Robert Morse as the male tune-show star.

The citation to Miss Leighton was for her portrayal in Tennessee Williams' "The Night of the Iguana."

It was the second straight year that the silver trophies for stellar dramatic acting went to visitors from London. The 1961 winners were Sir Laurence Olivier and Joan Plowright.

"Thanks for being so nice to the limeys," Miss Leighton enthused as she received her prize from Dame Judith Anderson.

The voting by the wing membership for the outstanding female musical star ended in a tie between Ann-Maria Alberghetti of "Carnival" and Diahann Carroll of "No Strings."
