Death Car

The car which Airman 2. C. Joseph E. Kinsel was driving at midnight Wednesday is shown as found by police photographer Lt. Robert Bronson. It careened off a truck and landed against the steel pole in the driveway of the Mayo Ranch Motel. The driver died at the WAFB Hospital a short time later.

Airman Is Killed In Traffic Crash

Airman 2.C. Joseph E. Kinsel, 24, was killed early this morning when his car struck a parked truck in the 1200 block of East Third and bounced into a steel post at the Mayo Ranch Motel. The wreck occurred about 12:30 a.m.

The airman was stationed with the 331st FIS at Webb AFB and was apparently returning to the base when the mishap occurred. It was Big Spring's first fatal accident of 1962 and the fifth for Howard County.

Kinsel was alone in the car and police said the vehicle plowed into the truck—owned by Ranger Iron Works and driven by Lyndle Dean Summers, Ranger—which was parked at the curb on the south side of the street. It skidded from the impact and into the motel post.

A river ambulance carried the injured airman to the Webb AFB Hospital where he died shortly afterward. The body was taken to the Veterans' Administration Hospital for an autopsy, police said. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Airman Kinsel was born Jan. 31, 1938 in Iowa City, Iowa. He was graduated from Hampton, Iowa, High School in 1956. He attended radio repairmen's school at Scott AFB after enlisting in the service. He was transferred to Webb AFB in April, 1960.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Gladys Ann Kinsel, Hampton, Iowa; one son, Stephen David, of the home; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Kinsel, Hampton, Iowa.

Mrs. Kinsel lived in Big Spring briefly until about a year ago when she and her son returned to the family home.

Trains Crash, 83 Are Killed

TOKYO (AP)—Two electric commuter trains, coming from opposite directions, piled into a derailed freight tonight, killing 83 persons and injuring 147.

Police said they expected the death toll to rise.

Most of the injured were in serious condition. Three hours after the violent accident, rescue workers still were boring into the twisted wreckage.

Railway officials said the freight arrived at Mikawashima station in northeastern Tokyo ahead of schedule and derailed after being shunted to a siding.

The incoming and outgoing Japan National Railway commuter trains smashed into the wreckage. The inbound train plunged into a ravine and demolished a large storehouse. One person in the house was reported killed.

Tower Hits Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said today the Peace Corps dismissed a teacher, 65, because she was unable to take "virtual combat training."

A joint announcement by the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission said it was in the low megaton yield range—the explosive equivalent of from one to several million tons of TNT.

The previous shots in Operation Dominic, which got under way one week ago Wednesday, were in the 100,000 to 500,000-ton range. By contrast, the atom bomb that struck Hiroshima in World War II was rated at 20,000 tons of TNT.

Wednesday's blast thundered

Rain Spatters Parts Of State

Occasional light rain spattered parts of South Central Texas and it was clear to partly cloudy in other sections Thursday.

The weatherman saw a chance for showers to spread over most of South Central and Southeast Texas by Friday.

Slightly warmer temperatures were in prospect for most areas of the state.

There was a little rain to gladden cotton and vegetable growers Wednesday in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Brownsville's 20 inch was the heaviest reported.

Top temperatures Wednesday ranged from 88 degrees at Presidio down to 73 at Brownsville. Early morning marks Thursday varied from 47 degrees at Dalhart to 69 at Corpus Christi.

After the army took Syria out of the U.A.R. and a conservative Parliament was elected, the government of Dr. Marouf Dawaybi reversed the land reform program and displaced many of the peasants. Army leaders gave this as one of the chief reasons for their coup in late March, which threw out the parliamentary government.

Mexico City Gets Ice Sheet

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Down-town streets of Mexico City were covered with ice Wednesday in the wake of the season's heaviest hailstorm. Torrential rains which followed melted the ice in a few hours. There was no serious damage.

U.S. Sets Off Third And Biggest In Atom Test Series

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States wrapped up the first week of its nuclear tests in the Pacific with its third and biggest burst so far in the series—a million-ton blast that flashed through cloudy skies near Christmas Island.

As in the first two tests, the device Wednesday was dropped from a plane. But it was at least twice as strong as either of the earlier shots.

A joint announcement by the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission said it was in the low megaton yield range—the explosive equivalent of from one to several million tons of TNT.

over the Pacific at about 3 a.m. Eastern Standard Time.

As nuclear weaponeers checked the results of the initial clutch of tests and prepared for blast No. 4, a controversy was reported blowing up within the Kennedy administration. The question: What steps should the United States take to halt future nuclear tests after Dominic runs its course.

About 30 more shots are expected to be fired in the Pacific tests. Among them will be three high altitude explosions in June or July.

The discoverer of the Van Allen radiation belt, Dr. James Van Allen of State University of Iowa, said Wednesday that a big nuclear detonation at high altitude probably would kick a hole in the belt but that he expected that it would be healed or repaired in a matter of a few weeks.

County Voting On Two Levels

Voters in Saturday's primary will be balloting on two different precinct levels.

One will be the justice precinct—the other the commissioners precincts.

There are two races for justice of peace. Justice precinct No. 1, Place No. 2, covers all the voting boxes in Big Spring (No. 1, No. 2, No. 3, No. 4, No. 8, No. 15 and No. 16). Justice precinct No. 2 involves voting boxes No. 9 (Coahoma), No. 7, (R-Bar) and No. 5, (Vincennes).

Boxes in commissioners precinct No. 2 are Big Spring box No. 2 and No. 15, Coahoma No. 9, and Forsan No. 10.

Boxes in commissioners precinct No. 4 are Big Spring box No. 4, Vincent No. 5, R-Bar No. 7, Center Point No. 11 and Gay Hill No. 6.

In any case, the voter will find only those races in which he is entitled to vote on the ballot at his voting precinct.

Syria Launches Arab Socialism

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria's new government launched its program of Arab socialism by reinstating the country's 1958 land reform law Wednesday.

The law, a keystone in the program begun when Syria was a part of President Nasser's United Arab Republic, divided the country's large feudal estates among landless peasants.

After the army took Syria out of the U.A.R. and a conservative Parliament was elected, the government of Dr. Marouf Dawaybi reversed the land reform program and displaced many of the peasants. Army leaders gave this as one of the chief reasons for their coup in late March, which threw out the parliamentary government.

Kennedy Due Rail Labor Report Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is due to get an advisory board's recommendations today for settling another big labor pay case, this one involving the bulk of the employees of the nation's railroads.

The report will deal with the wage increase demands of unions representing 450,000 rail workers, the same number of workmen involved in the recent steel labor controversy.

Even before receiving the report from the three-man presidential emergency board, named to try to head off a possible rail strike, the railroad industry had directed an appeal to the White House to disallow an inflationary any increase the board may recommend. The carriers detented a wage cut.

The unions complained that the industry's public statements coming just in advance of the report were unethical and comparable to "trying to influence a judge while he has a case under consideration."

All this presaged rough going ahead, no matter what the board may recommend, in the 30-day period allotted under the Railway Labor Act for negotiations on the basis of the board's findings before a strike can be called. Members of the 11 rail unions involved have already authorized walk-outs.

The report due today deals with claims of the nonoperating workers who service and maintain the rail system. They compose about two-thirds of all rail employees.

The carriers have a hot dispute running, too, with the operating unions—the engineers, firemen and others who man the trains. This relates primarily to industry demands to eliminate firemen from freight locomotive crews and to make other manpower economies.

Wilson Asks Grand Jury To Check Into Estes Case

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty Gen. Will Wilson requested the Potter County grand jury today to "set the earliest possible hearing date" to look into the affairs of West Texas financier Billie Sol Estes.

Wilson said transcripts of testimony in the various courts of inquiry held around the state are now completed and were sent to the Potter County district attorney.

Wilson offered the help of his staff in obtaining any information the grand jury may need.

Wilson said the transcript of the last Dallas court of inquiry is being forwarded to Dist. Atty. Frank Baughman in Amarillo.

"Also available for consideration by a grand jury are statements of numerous witnesses taken by members of my staff, together with other evidence gathered during the course of our investigation," Wilson said.

"In view of this, I respectfully request that you set the earliest date possible for presentation to the grand jury of evidence of felony anti-trust violations by Billie Sol Estes and certain other co-conspirators."

Wilson said his investigation into the Estes case still is not completed, and declared that he will pursue the investigation "until all the facts have been brought to light—regardless of how long it may take."

Wilson also said his staff is making available to an accounting by the McClelland Senate investigating subcommittee the records and evidence obtained by Wilson and his assistants in the Estes probe.

The committee representative in Austin is W. W. Habbitt. He has been in Austin two days.

Ranger Probes Fire-Bombing Of Newspaper

MIDLOTHIAN, Tex. (AP)—Texas Ranger Buddy Hendricks of Waco opened offices in this Ellis County town today and said he would be here for the duration of the investigation into the fire-bombing of the Midlothian Weekly Mirror offices.

"I don't know who threw the fire bomb through the front door of the newspaper, but there are a number of things to check out," Hendricks said. "We are here to enforce the law and not to get involved in local politics. We hope to get things cleared up that have happened in the past."

Orbit Club Members Agree 'Fireflies' Not Paint Chips

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet cosmonaut Gherman S. Titov visited President Kennedy today after a busy morning in which he met U.S. astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. and traded shop talk, philosophy and jokes with Glenn as the American led him on a tourist round of Washington.

The two spacemen reached the White House about a minute ahead of schedule. A sizable crowd watched from the sidewalk. The party, including Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, posed for photographs and then were ushered into Kennedy's office.

The meeting between the two space conquerors was a no-ceremony affair, and the tour was carried out as simply.

The Soviet cosmonaut and the American astronaut shook hands at the home of the National Academy of Sciences, where Glenn greeted his fellow member of the exclusive orbit club with a simple "hello."

Titov responded in Russian "Zdravstvuite ochen rad."

American experts on the Russian language said the simplest way to translate that was "very pleased to meet you."

With their wives, the space fliers had coffee, then registered for the International Council of Scientific Unions where both had speaking dates later in the day. After that they set out on the sightseeing tour.

HIGH HUMOR
An early stop was the 555-foot Washington Monument where Titov quipped:

"This is the first joint Soviet-American journey into space." Glenn laughed when the translation came to him and replied there is a joke among American spacemen that the needle-like monument "would never get off the pad."

At the Lincoln Memorial, Glenn pointed out the inscriptions on the walls, saying when he came to the Gettysburg Address, "it's very short."

"All good speeches are short," Titov replied.

At the National Archives, as the spacemen stood before the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, the crowd grew quiet.

"You only make progress as you use what is gone before; that is true with all countries," Glenn told Titov.

The Russian responded that "during the ages humanity accumulates experiences."

LADIES TALK
Mrs. Glenn was with Titov's wife, Tamara, 24, guiding her by the arm when necessary.

Asked what they talked about, Mrs. Glenn replied, "ladies talk." As the two posed for photographers after the salutations, Titov pointed smilingly at the camera men rushing about and said: "Something is going to break down."

And about the only other thing said between the spacemen before a pool reporter had to leave the room was this exchange:

Titov—"We are not trained for delivering speeches."

Glenn, with a grin—"I agree."

Glenn, the first American to orbit the earth, went around three times, Titov 17. The first and only other person to make the trip was Soviet Yuri Gagarin who made one orbit.

After meeting President Kennedy at the White House, Titov and Glenn will lunch together at the State Department, attend a space meeting, then hold a news conference and wind up the day at a reception given by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

SEES COOPERATION
A smiling and expansive Titov told a news conference at the Soviet Embassy Wednesday that some day Americans and Soviets will fly together to the moon and beyond.

He didn't know when spacecrafts would be manned by international crews but—"I can tell you that it will be sooner if our governments can agree to prohibit war and to disarm."

And with a grin, Titov said it was a historical injustice that men were picked for the first trips into space.

FIRST TV PICTURE IS BOUNCED OFF SATELLITE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first transmission of a television picture between two points on the earth by bouncing the signal off an orbiting satellite was announced today by the Air Force.

The experiment was conducted April 24 with a transmission from the Camp Parks, Calif., field station of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Lincoln laboratory to the Millstone Hill Laboratory at Westford, Mass. The Echo I satellite served as the reflector for the bounced signal.

The distance between the two land points is about 2,700 miles, but the signal, traveling up to the orbiting satellite and back to earth, traveled 3,900 to 4,000 miles.

Quality of the first picture was not good. It looked somewhat like a badly adjusted home TV receiver, with "snow." But the picture shown to newsmen today—a lettered card with the initials M. I. T.—was entirely recognizable.

"Women have made advances in many sciences," he said. "They can withstand hardships on a higher level than men."

"Justice will come and women will fly to space, especially on the prolonged journeys."

The crowning event of the day was visiting the temple grounds of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Salt Lake City where we were given a tour by Dean W. Cluff. We saw the museum, Seagull Monument assembly hall, the tabernacle and outside of the temple.

We realized, after they hauled our bus out of the pavement Tuesday evening and were under way here Tuesday from Rio de Janeiro to be put on public display.

Atty. General Race Lie Test Takes Stage

Tom James and Waggoner Carr, rival candidates for Texas attorney general, exchanged more harsh words Wednesday night about a lie detector test.

Their wrangle shared interest with closing campaign pushes in the governor's and other statewide races.

L. R. Wynne, Amarillo polygraph operator, said he tested James for three hours on a dispute with Carr and the device indicated James reacted favorably.

James asserted the examination proved he had told the truth.

Carr, campaigning in El Paso, declared the test was "a rigged sideshow with James himself as the Barker."

The two candidates have been arguing over a conversation they held in December, 1960, when James was a member of the House Investigating Committee and Carr was speaker.

CRIME PROBE
James has claimed Carr sought to induce him not to hold a public hearing on crime and vice conditions in Jefferson County, and Carr has denied that was the case.

In the dispute, James had challenged Carr to undergo a lie detector test. Carr said he would not interrupt his campaign to do so.

After the examination Wednesday afternoon in Amarillo, James said "Waggoner Carr has proved he is certainly unfit to serve as attorney general of Texas."

Carr retorted: "Surely James does not think the people of Texas will fall for such a cheap trick."

Other candidates for attorney general plugged away steadily.

Les Procter, speaking in Houston, urged backers to "go on the firing line for me." W. T. McDonald, a Court of Criminal Appeals justice, said in Austin he was the only contender with judicial experience and predicted he'll be in a runoff. Tom Reavley called attention to a poll of absentee voters by the Sam Antonio Light which he said shows he's leading in the race.

GOVERNOR RACE
In the campaigning of eight Democrats and two Republicans for governor, there were these developments:

Jack Cox and Roy Whittenburg, the GOP opponents, both were at a big party rally Wednesday night in Houston.

Cox asserted Saturday's primary "marks the beginning of a new era of two-party politics in Texas—but I don't see our primary itself as conclusive victory, either personally or for the party."

Whittenburg told the Houston audience he and Cox had agreed the loser will work wholeheartedly to help the other win in the November general election.

In another verbal attack on the Supreme Court, Whittenburg said the tribunal will make the Constitution worthless unless the people intervene. He also spoke caustically of "the willingness of President Kennedy to assume dictatorial powers."

BRISK INFIGHTING
Brisk infighting continued among Democrats vying for the gubernatorial nomination.

Marshall Formby, at McAllen, glibbed that "ward heeled, the two-bit politicians and those who

By 1:30 a.m., an hour behind schedule, we were in Albuquerque and had a midnight snack.

Band Loses No Time On Way To Fair, Already Into Utah

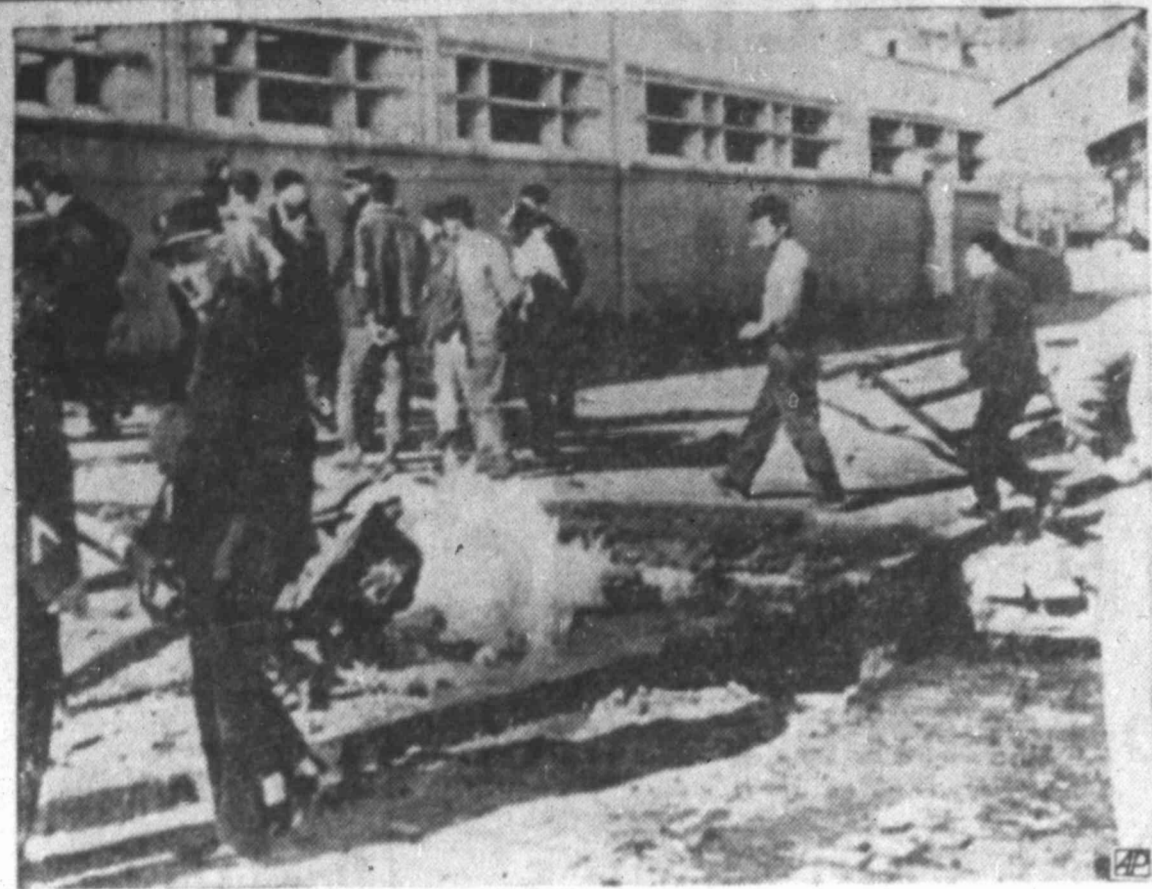

By BOBBY DAWES
PRICE, UTAH—After the big day finally came Tuesday, the Big Spring High School band rolled through West Texas, New Mexico and now through Utah on our way to the World's Fair at Seattle.

If sleep came for high school band members last night, it was at a minimum. When they looked out through groggy eyes at the foothills of the Rockies, it was a great sight. Rolling into Cortez, Colo., we ate at the Pony Express restaurant and were welcomed by the Cortez Chamber of Commerce.

This Was An Automobile

Algiers police and spectators gather around the remnants of a booby-trapped car which exploded on the North African city's waterfront killing and injuring a number of Moslem dockworkers. The bombing was attributed to the Secret Army Organization which wants to prevent Algerian independence.

Death Toll Rises Sharply In Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—Moslem dockworkers today boycotted the waterfront where at least 96 dockers were killed in a bomb blast planned by the European secret army.

The strike brought the port to a standstill. Seven ships were waiting to be unloaded and others were anchored in the outer harbor.

The underground extremists fighting to keep Algeria French kept up their terror campaign today with bombings and robberies. Two violent explosions wrecked a Moslem medical insurance office near the Algiers Casbah and two post offices were held up and robbed of about 28,000 francs ($5,600).

There were no immediate reports of casualties. The explosions occurred before the building opened for business. During office hours it is usually crowded with Moslems collecting government insurance payments for medical expenses.

The new terrorist action followed one of the bloodiest days in Algeria since rebellion erupted in the territory more than seven years ago. Officials reported 110 persons were killed and 147 wounded Wednesday in Algiers and Oran. Almost all were Moslem victims of the Secret Army.

Algerian Nationalist leaders strove to hold back enraged Moslems from wreaking vengeance against the European extremists out to wreck the cease-fire reached by President Charles de Gaulle and the rebels March 19.

The savagery of the terrorists' attacks in Algeria's two biggest cities was clearly designed to provoke a civil war to block Algerian independence.

At least 96 Moslems were killed and 147 wounded in one blow when a booby-trapped car loaded with 40 pounds of explosives and shrapnel exploded among 1,500 Moslems crowded around a dockside hiring hall.

In the other Secret Army stronghold, the western port city of Oran, French soldiers and police made no move to interfere as European gunmen and settlers massacred six Moslems on the broad Boulevard Joffre.

Terrorist snipers were firing from rooftops indiscriminately into the neighboring Moslem quarter.

Other officers elected were Hutchinson Moore, principal of Hutchinson School in Colorado City, first vice president; Raymond Holt, vocational agriculture teacher in Locaine, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Aycock Jr., primary teacher in Colorado City, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Hutchins, Westbrook School, secretary.

The group meets three times each year. The program included a pantomime by high school girls at Westbrook. A gift was presented by the association to Mrs. Nadine Gordon, ex-president of District Four. Dinner was served by lunch room personnel of Westbrook. Approximately 80 attended.

LAMESA (SC) — Absentee voting in Dawson County failed to set a new record and fell well short of the 178 standard established here in 1960.

County Clerk Frank Y. Martin reported the final tally on absentee voting was 111, with 103 being cast in the Democratic primary. Absentee voting in 1960 broke an eight-year-old record of 163, set in 1952.

Lions Hear Patients On Mental Health

Downtown Lions got lessons in mental health first hand Wednesday, listening to four patients tell how they slipped from normalcy and were helped back on the road to normalcy.

Dr. Paul C. Young and Dr. Frankie Williams were in charge of the program at the Big Spring State Hospital, where the club met. Eddie Torres furnished dinner music and Mrs. Jeannette Hartwell and Mrs. Erma Pritchett served as hostesses.

A teenage boy and girl, a woman and a man each spoke simply, frankly and powerfully of how they became involved emotionally and finally had a mental crack up. Some could not recall even entering the hospital, they were so far from reality. Another said he hated everyone and had completely withdrawn from contact with other people.

In detail, they described their first reactions to hospitalization, their slow progress, and their present outlooks as virtually recovered patients.

The meeting was part of the observance of Mental Health Week.

Hutchins Named MCTA President

WESTBROOK (SC) — Robert Hutchins, principal and science teacher in the Westbrook School, was elected president of the Mitchell County Teachers Association during the Spring meeting held in the Westbrook Cafeteria Monday.

Other officers elected were Hutchinson Moore, principal of Hutchinson School in Colorado City, first vice president; Raymond Holt, vocational agriculture teacher in Locaine, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Aycock Jr., primary teacher in Colorado City, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Hutchins, Westbrook School, secretary.

The group meets three times each year. The program included a pantomime by high school girls at Westbrook. A gift was presented by the association to Mrs. Nadine Gordon, ex-president of District Four. Dinner was served by lunch room personnel of Westbrook. Approximately 80 attended.

Patients Discuss Their Progress In State Hospital

Five patients at the Big Spring State Hospital told Rotarians Tuesday the reasons for their being in the hospital and how they have progressed during their stay. Rotarians met at the hospital for their regular Tuesday program in observance of National Mental Health Week.

Eddie Torres, a patient and a pianist, furnished dinner music for Rotarians. Dr. Preston Harrison told the men that Eddie could play any tune they could name, except "America," without music.

Dr. Harrison, hospital superintendent, introduced Hospital Chaplain Max Maguire, Dr. Paul Young, chief of clinical psychology, and Dr. Frankie Williams, clinical director.

Dr. Young called on each of the patients to tell the audience why he or she was in the hospital and to discuss his progress. All were in various stages of recovery.

The first, a young man, had been in the hospital for six weeks. He said he had a breakdown while in college.

"I guess I was confused," he said, "and just wanted to curl up and 'mope.' I am still somewhat confused but think I will be able to go home before long."

The second patient, also a college student, told Rotarians that he had illusions. I think I can go back and get straightened out."

A young lady told Rotarians that she was about ready to go home and was in the "going home" ward. She had been at the hospital three months.

"I had a number of breakdowns before," she said, "but did not know about this hospital. The first I knew of it was when I woke up here. I am finding that the outside world has problems also, and that all are not just mine."

A second young woman said that, after treatment, all her problems have not been solved but that she can cope with them.

"My problems, not unusual to some people, seem to grow bigger with me. I now come here once a week for counseling and to just talk about problems."

Rescue Workers Find Body, Funeral Scheduled Today

The body of Temple H. Dicus, 52, of Hobbs, N. M., was recovered from the waters of Lake J. B. Thomas about 5:15 p.m. Wednesday. He was drowned Sunday afternoon when the boat from which he and a companion, Jay Harwell, also of Hobbs, were fishing capsized in the rough water.

The body was recovered by dragging operators in about seven feet of water and not over 50 or 60 feet from where he was thrown from the boat. The bottom of the lake at that point was covered by heavy brush.

The incident occurred on the north side of the lake about a half mile southwest of Boyd's Lodge, just inside Borden County.

Dicus was general superintendent of the Hobbs district for Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co., and Harwell was employed by the same firm.

Harwell told Sheriff Sid Reeder of Borden County that the boat capsized suddenly in the rough water and that he thought Dicus was holding to a preserver-type cushion from the boat. The cushion was found on the shore near where the boat went under. The drowned man was unable to swim. Harwell swam ashore and reported the accident.

Sheriff Reeder said the body was located by Aubrey Rogers and J. A. Jones, both of Gail.

Harwell, formerly in business with his father, Jess Harwell, in trucking operations in the Snyder-Gail area, was in a state of shock for several hours after the accident. Sheriff Reeder said he remained at the lake constantly until the body of Dicus was recovered.

The rescue operations were carried on with the aid of hundreds of men and officers from a wide area of West Texas. The Snyder fire department and women took over the feeding of those working in the water which was extremely rough due to high winds.

"There is one thing about Lake J. B. Thomas that is unlike most lakes," Sheriff Reeder said. "Nearly every body of a drowning victim has been recovered close to where it went under. There is no strong undercurrent. Although the water may be rough on top it is quiet under the surface."

Dicus' body was taken to Bell Funeral Home in Snyder and then transferred to the Griffin Funeral Home in Hobbs. Funeral services were to be held today from the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Jack London, pastor, officiating. Burial was to be in Memory Garden Cemetery at Hobbs.

Dicus was born April 27, 1910.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Eddie Jo Dicus, Hobbs; a daughter, Mrs. Curtis R. Sullins, Hobbs; a son, Ralph Dicus, Houston; his mother, Mrs. Minnie Dicus, Odessa; a brother, James W. Dicus, Odessa; three sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth James Pendleton and Mrs. Grace Ling, both of Odessa, and Mrs. Lillian Bell Lawlis, Vernon; and one grandson.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Little-Known Regulation Pointed Out By Reader

To the Editor: This is written not with an attitude of complaint or hurt pride, but rather in the spirit of warning or alerting others of a possibly little-realized or understood traffic regulation. Perhaps it might serve to keep a moving violation from appearing on someone's record, thereby help keep their insurance costs from rising further.

Sunday afternoon I was a passenger in an automobile on the way to Labbock. On the outskirts of that city we were stopped by a patrolman, who informed the driver that we had passed another vehicle improperly. This was a surprise to all of us.

We were on a two-lane highway which was of more than sufficient width. Without breaking the speed laws, and exercising proper caution for safety, we had overtaken and passed a number of vehicles. Occasionally we had partially crossed the center stripe in the process, but not with oncoming vehicles bearing down upon us closely and dangerously. There was no yellow stripe in evidence indicating "no passing."

The officer informed us that we should not have crossed the center stripe at all with oncoming traffic in the other lane, even though there was sufficient clearance in our estimation. He proceeded to issue a ticket to our driver for improper passing. Had I been the driver, probably I would have been driving the same way.

Probably a lively discussion could be generated on the point of whether or not in that area they are over-zealous in enforcing the highway regulations, thereby creating what is unpopularly known as a "trap" for the unwary driver. However, it must be assumed that traffic regulations are formulated for the protection of us all, and are designed to protect all of us from some of the obviously poor judgment of many drivers we meet on the highways. My point simply is to alert or

To the Editor: This voter-to-be agrees with her parents that I want my children, in the future, to come home and tell me about their Sunday school lesson—not how Hot Horse Herbie did at the tracks.

It is hard for me to understand how we, as Americans, can sit back while legalized gambling leaks into our state and community. I cannot understand how it has come so far as to be placed on a ballot.

Surely the parents of this city are not so anxious to make an easy dollar that they would expose their children to what I (gambling) would eventually bring. If people are anxious to throw away hard-earned money, I can think of thousands of hungry, shoeless children, many hospitals and various charities who would be more grateful, and I'm sure God would be much prouder.

WHY THE DIFFERENCE?
By A Christian Writer

The same message that the apostles preached, will get the same results today, when it falls on honest and good hearts (Luke 8:15). There may not be as many honest and good hearts today; but when the message is received wholeheartedly today, the results will be the same as when the message was received wholeheartedly in New Testament times. If not, why not?

According to Acts of Apostles, all who received the message, not only believed and repented; they also were baptized. Neither did they rejoice in salvation before their baptism. Furthermore, they were baptized the same hour of the day or night. They did not wait until the end of the year, or even the end of the week, to be baptized in a group. Read the Book of Acts.

On Pentecost day the only ones who went away un-baptized, were those who did not gladly receive Peter's message. (Acts 2:41.) The Acts of Apostles gives no exception to this in the cases of conversion.

Why the difference between the results then and today? Echo: Why?

John Connally Leads Field In Paper Backing

By ROBERT E. FORD
DALLAS (AP)—About half of Texas' daily newspapers have endorsed a candidate in Saturday's governor's races, with John Connally far ahead in the field in number of newspapers backing him.

In second place in number of endorsements is Gov. Price Daniel, seeking his fourth two-year term, followed by Marshall Formby and Republican Roy Whittenburg.

The others in the race, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, Edwin A. Walker, Don Yarborough and Republican Jack Cox, either reported no tabulations of daily newspaper endorsement or reported none.

Connally's headquarters today said 30 newspapers have endorsed him. Daniel's aides reported 10. Formby's headquarters said 4 and Whittenburg's campaign workers reported 1.

The majority of editorials supporting Connally stress the editors' belief that Connally possesses major qualifications for the job.

They also spoke out on one of the major issues—Daniel's bid for a fourth term.

The Del Rio News Herald, speaking out on the fourth term issue and endorsing Connally, said, "Texas government needs a fresh start. It needs new leadership."

The Paris News said Connally "will add national prestige to the office of governor, but more important, he has in quantity the qualifications necessary to make a top-notch chief executive. . . . Connally can bring into the Capitol building new and fresh ideas and leadership."

The Port Arthur News declared, "Sensible Texans will try to find the man whose qualities of leadership, energy and imagination give the best prospect that he can mobilize Texas for the future. . . . There is only one who fills these specifications. . . . He is John B. Connally."

The San Antonio Express and News, in endorsing Connally, declared, "Texas needs fresh, vigorous leadership. Texas must find a new vision on which to develop her resources."

Newspapers supporting Daniel saw the governor's long service in public office as an asset, however. The Baytown Sun, for instance, declared, "Twenty-three years of topflight public service have been credited to Daniel. . . . He has never committed one single act that ever impugned the integrity of Price Daniel one iota."

The Snyder Daily News in effect editorially endorsed Daniel's own answer to the fourth-term issue by saying two more years in the governor's chair would give him the equivalent of two terms in a county office, where terms are four years instead of the two years for the governorship.

Editorials supporting Formby and Whittenburg stressed their qualifications for the office.

The Dallas Morning News pointed out that it is supporting Connally for the Democratic nomination, but reserved the privilege of taking a new look when the race becomes one between Democrat and Republican in the November general election.

A comparison shows that a large number of newspapers which opposed the 1960 Democratic ticket of John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson is supporting the candidacy of Kennedy's first secretary of the Navy—Connally.

These newspapers include the Athens Review, Dallas Morning News, Dallas Times Herald, Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Houston Post, Longview News and Journal and the San Antonio Light.

Pro-Connally newspapers which endorsed the Kennedy-Lyndon Johnson Democratic ticket in 1960 include the Abilene Reporter-News, Austin American-Statesman, Brownwood Bulletin, Corpus Christi Caller-Times, Del Rio News Herald, Denison Herald, Greenville Herald-Banner, Jacksonville Progress, Lamesa Reporter, Laredo Times, Marshall News-Messenger, Paris News, Sherman Democrat, Temple Telegram, Waco

News-Tribune and Times-Herald and Wichita Falls Times and Record News.

Among other newspapers supporting Connally are the Beaumont Enterprise and Journal, Big Spring Herald, Bonham Favorite, Pasadena Citizen, the Port Arthur News and the San Antonio Express and News.

Backing Gov. Daniel are the Marlin Democrat, Stephenville Empire, Snyder News, Childress Index, Baytown Sun, Victoria Advocate, Lufkin News, Houston Chronicle, Terrell Tribune, and Houston Press.

Supporting Formby are the McKinney Courier-Gazette, Cuero Record, Gladewater Mirror and Tyler Courier-Times and Telegraph.

The Borger News-Herald is giving editorial support to Whittenburg.

PARI MUTUEL, PRO AND CON - PART II

Times Have Changed, Says Horseman

EDITOR'S NOTE: In a referendum May 8 Texas voters will be asked whether they are for or against legalizing pari-mutuel wagering on horse races.

horse racing in Texas is one of the great ironies of a great state. Texas is, in fact, the horse capital of the world.

the pleasure and profit of America's top ranking outdoor spectator sport. Horse racing draws more people to it than baseball and football combined.

has a desire to win something. People buy stocks because they hope the stock will rise in value and they will gain.

TRPA did not even exist when Texas had racing in the 1930s. There was little state income then also.

is the caliber of men now determined to properly administer pari-mutuel racing here.

Storm Victim

Another asset Texas has today is the caliber of men now determined to properly administer pari-mutuel racing here.

Fallout Considered Matter For Concern, Not Alarm

EDITOR'S NOTE—More than in any other field of pressing public concern, science speaks with a divided voice on the hazards of fallout from nuclear tests. In this last in a series of facts about fallout, an Associated Press science writer describes hopeful avenues of research and sums up what is known today.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—Outside, rain spattered down.

A frightened mother kept her children home from school. Rain, she believed, would bring down deadly amounts of radioactive fallout.

Other parents at times of nuclear tests, and even long afterward, won't allow their children to drink milk for fear it is contaminated with radioactive iodine that would give them thyroid cancer.

A small boy broke his finger. His mother is convinced it healed slowly because fallout had weakened his bones.

Scientists are generally dismayed over such extreme reactions to real or potential hazards in fallout.

They know what happens to animals given pretty good wallops of radiation, or big doses of strontium-90 or radioactive iodine. They know, for example, that strontium goes to bones, and can produce bone cancer in animals. But it takes 1,000 to 10,000 times the amount of strontium represented so far in fallout to produce the bone cancers in animals.

CAUSE FOR CAUTION
Still, that gives them cause for caution about what the far more tiny doses from fallout might do to humans over the years. But the scientist's phrase of "might be hazardous" is sometimes taken to mean any amount will be hazardous.

Federal radiation experts have established what they believe are sound safety limits regarding special-threat fallout atoms. These are the maximum amounts of radioactive strontium, iodine, or cesium which they believe a person could take in or be exposed to daily and still not be harmed. Fallout in the air, in milk or food, rarely has exceeded these limits, and then only for brief periods.

But they cannot offer absolute proof of no bodily harm from test fallout. Full knowledge about such radiation is lacking.

This uncertainty creates an issue in discussions of the need for nuclear testing, the moral right to test, and the fear that testing enhances prospects of ultimate war.

NEW TESTS
New research experiments are aimed at learning what the somatic or bodily effects of low-level, chronic radiation may be.

One project being started here at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory by a team of specialists will involve a colony of 100,000 mice, quite apart from the mice used in genetic studies.

Hundreds to thousands of mice will be exposed to various dosages of gamma rays from radioactive cesium over periods of days to months.

Then they will be observed and examined during their lifespans—normally about two years or so—to see if they live less long or get more cancers, leukemias and other ailments than mice not so exposed, explains Dr. A. C. Upton, a pathologist and physiologist.

Little is known about the long-term effects of low amounts of external radiation, he adds. Mice here will receive total dosages of five to 50 roentgens. That is about as low an amount as it is practical to give and still hope to see any measurable results among hundreds of mice.

LOW RATE
It is already known that a dosage given at a low rate generally has no more than one-quarter to one-third the effect on mice as the same amount given rather rapidly.

Life shortening from radiation has been observed so far in mice, Dr. Upton adds. But little information is available about animals larger than mice, and about humans.

Irradiated mice usually die of about the same causes as normal mice, but they die sooner. The timetable for death is advanced. The more radiation received, the earlier the appearance of diseases of old age, such as cancer.

At the Argonne National Laboratory, near Chicago, the Atomic Energy Commission also is setting up still another colony of 10,000 mice.

Some of these will be dosed with varying amounts of strontium-90 and perhaps other fallout atoms to pinpoint effects. The amounts will be about 1,000 times or so larger than the amounts humans now are exposed to from fallout.

Out of this will come more solid clues to human hazards from long-lasting fallout atoms such as strontium and cesium.

A LONG TIME
Like Dr. Upton's project, the Argonne research may take up to 10 years to draw significant new clues to put the human hazards into clearer focus.

These projects represent just some of the research to assess the real influence of radiation on human life.

"Many of us are concerned not so much about present levels of fallout, or what may come in the near future, so much as the effects if tests are held repeatedly to add greatly to existing radiation levels," Dr. Upton said.

The research seeking basic information could also produce extremely valuable dividends, he adds, such as:

—Sounder estimates of the protections really needed for workers in the atomic age as atomic energy power plants expand.

—Opportunities to test, in animals, antidotes or preventives proposed for radiation sickness, or protection against genetic or somatic hazards.

CANCER KILLER
Clearer understanding of how radiation acts to kill cancer cells or combat leukemia, or how large doses act to bring on these diseases.

Clues to the immunity reaction by which a living body rejects borrowed organs, and study of methods to make borrowed organs survive to save lives.

Clues to the action of some viruses which, like genes, are regarded as bundles of genetic information to dictate what happens to cells and organisms.

These may well overshadow the ability finally one day to state precisely the risks from fallout.

As of now, in the words of one U.S. Public Health Service expert, fallout "is a matter for concern, but not alarm."

Many but not all scientific judges would agree.

Happy Pilot
While technicians examine the X15 rocket plane, research pilot Joe Walker smilingly leaves the sleek black ship in which he soared to a record altitude of almost 48 miles from Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

Chamber Warned Against Alliance With Extremists

WASHINGTON (AP)—A panel of speakers has cautioned that businessmen who ally themselves with extremist groups in the cause of anticommunism may simply serve the purposes of the Soviet Union.

The discussion developed at the annual meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in response to written questions from the audience about the John Birch Society and similar conservative organizations.

The theme of the program was "Strengthening freedom to meet the challenge of communism."

A business consultant, Leo Cherne, executive director of the Research Institute of America, told the questioners that attempts to divide a nation into irreconcilable camps, left and right, were a carefully taught tactic of the Communist conspiracy.

"There are the radical extremes, left and right, who serve the purposes of the Soviet Union by making of this struggle a radical struggle, rather than one waged in the tradition of American freedom," Cherne said.

The Communists do not succeed unless they achieve this kind of split, in which extremists are fighting each other instead of the common enemy, Cherne said.

Dr. Frank Barnett, program director of the Institute for American Strategy, Chicago, reminded the 4,000 businessmen-delegates that France paid the penalty in World War II for having formed irreconcilable blocs of the right and left.

Rather than forming dozens of new organizations, Barnett said, Americans can do a more effective job of education on the Communist threat by cooperating with existing organizations like the chamber and the American Bar Association, which have established and financed committees devoted to the anti-Communist effort.

Object Blazes Over Southeast

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A meteor-like object blazed across the sky from west to east over the Southeast Wednesday night.

Karl Hujer, professor of astronomy at the University of Chattanooga, said the object probably was a meteor belonging to the orbit of Haley's Comet, due to be seen again in 1965.

Hujer said the earth's orbit overlaps that of Haley's Comet about this time each year, and sporadic meteors sometimes are seen.

A LOT OF BOOZE Seized whisky counted at Colorado City

Two Face Charges For Liquor Haul

COLORADO CITY (SC) — "Biggest liquor haul I ever saw," remarked Mitchell County Sheriff Lewis Claxton Wednesday. The Texas Liquor Control Board seized 950 cases of whisky at Colorado City Wednesday and filed a forfeiture suit against the liquor, valued at $50,000, and a truck and trailer, estimated at another $50,000. Criminal charges were filed in county court of "transporting liquor on a public highway without a written statement—" against drivers Marvin and Murray Jennings of Sun Valley, Calif. Bond was set at $500 on each man by County Judge Elmer Martin. Sheriff Claxton said that the two men had not made bond and were still being held in the Mitchell County jail.

Rip Allen, license and weights officer for the Department of Public Safety, discovered the whisky late Tuesday evening while making a routine check on the truck in downtown Colorado City. In order to transport liquor through a dry area, a carrier must have a manifest showing the pick-up point, the destination, and quantity carried, as well as a common carrier permit. Allen said the drivers were not able to show a manifest. He checked the cargo and found the whisky. C. B. Arnold, head of the Big Spring division of the Texas Liquor Control Board, and members of his staff, including J. T. Morgan, Bill Flynn and Andrew Lofler, were in Colorado City Wednesday investigating the incidents and filing the suits. The liquor was removed from the trailer, counted and returned to the trailer. The whisky was transferred late Wednesday from Colorado City to Big Spring by the LCB officials. Arnold said it is now stored in a bonded warehouse and will be held until the case on file in Mitchell County is handled. If the courts sustain the seizure action of the LCB the liquor will ultimately be offered for sale to the highest bidder by state authorities. Hundreds of Colorado Citizens visited the City Hall parking lot Wednesday during the counting process to view the stacked cases of whisky.

City Arranges Payment On IS 20 Costs

The city commission authorized a warrant ordinance for the purpose of borrowing money to pay the Texas Highway Department's share of utility adjustments on IS 20. Approximately $90,000 will be needed to cover the cost, which will later be refunded to the City of Big Spring, with interest. Cost of the entire job was set at $114,600. The city's actual part will be between $9,000 and $10,000. A letter was read to the commission, from J. C. Roberts of the Texas Highway Department, agreeing to the city's request that a storm sewer cover be placed at the intersection of Birdwell Lane and East Fourth when paving is done by the state on that section. An open drain had been set up at first.

Approval was given to Forrest and Cotton's request that the testing of materials for the new sewage treatment plant be contracted to Trinity Testing Laboratory, Dallas. This includes concrete and other construction materials. Two items discussed, but not acted upon officially, were the Institute for Mayors, Councilmen, and Commissioners, to be held at McAllen June 24-26, and a public hearing at Ballinger scheduled by the Corps of Engineers relative to drainage problems on Colorado River basin May 22.

It is possible that city officials will attend both but the matter will be discussed again at next Tuesday's meeting. A request from the automobile dealers of Big Spring for permission to hold an automobile show May 26 on Main, between Fourth and Fifth streets, was discussed. Merchants and shop owners on the street involved will be contacted for permission to close the street. The commission favored the request, if approved by merchants.

Historical Meet To Discuss Tourist Markers

Other members of the tourist and convention committee of the Chamber were being contacted today to see if any could attend, Pace said. Purpose of the meeting will be to put emphasis on marking historical sites of tourist interest in Texas. The "big spring" is one such site. John Ben Shepperd, Texas State Historical Survey Committee, will direct the meeting at the high school auditorium. It begins at 11 a.m. Speakers for the occasion include Dr. Rupert N. Richardson, Hardin-Simmons University; Lawrence, state committee member from Tyler; Charles Hawn, member of the Texas Highway Commission; George W. Hill, Austin, executive director of the TSHSC; and Frank Hildebrand, assistant director of the Travel and Highway Department.

District Adds A Little Chlorine

A little chlorine has raised pumping capacity of the Colorado River Municipal Water District by two and a half million gallons. Microscopic plants gather inside the lines, and once a year the district chlorinates the line. Instantly, the plants turn loose, friction is reduced, and pumping capacity goes back up.

COMMISSION MAKES INTERIM JOB APPOINTMENTS WEDNESDAY

Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, was appointed by the city commission to act as interim city manager, beginning May 14, when A. K. Steinheimer leaves for his new post in Beaumont. Bruce Dunn, director of public works, was placed in charge of all Master Plan bond program work. The appointments were made Wednesday night in a special meeting. Anderson will receive $250 per month additional salary for the interim work and Dunn will receive $150 per month additional. The commission is still receiving applications for the city manager's post in Big Spring. Twenty-eight had been received through Wednesday night. Two other men had been contacted and asked to submit applications if interested. Interviews and screenings will begin soon but the commission agreed to "go slow" in making a choice of the man to fill Steinheimer's place. No date for interviews to begin was set but may possibly be set at the regular meeting next Tuesday night.

Yoga Teacher Here To Demonstrate Art

Bala Krishna, who has taken Hatha Yoga to most parts of the world, including the Kremlin, will be in Big Spring tonight to give a demonstration of this ancient Hindu art. He will stage a one-hour demonstration at 7:30 p.m. in the YMCA gymnasium and will conduct a clinic in Yoga here next week. Hatha Yoga is the physical portion of a complex system of Yoga which most Westerners bundle together under the label of Yoga. Krishna is now touring the western hemisphere putting on demonstrations and teaching classes in Hatha Yoga. About a year ago he went to the Kremlin where he taught a class in Yoga. He was well received, even by the highest Russian officials, Krishna said. "Andrei Gromyko and Anastus I. Mikoyan were interested in Yoga, but they did not sign up to take the class," he said. "Yoga is neither a religion nor a mysticism, Krishna said. It is a discipline in the art of uniting together various elements of man which are often scattered. It is not a muscle-building exercise, but it imparts strength to the practitioner by improving the functioning of each part of the body and returning the body to its natural and youthful condition. "Man was not born with sickness. There is no reason for him to be sick," Krishna said. He criticized severely living on a diet of "sweets and things which taste good" instead of eating what is needed to give the body strength. He also said most people eat too much. Krishna recommended Yoga for anyone nine years or older. By practicing about 15 minutes each day a person can retain youth during most of his life, Krishna said. He said Yoga has been practiced more than 6,000 years in India. At first it was limited to the higher castes, but now can be learned by anyone. It was passed down through his family for many generations. He belonged to a family in the higher castes of the Kerala province of India. The course, as taught locally, will consist of five lessons in hatha exercises, posture and proper breathing.

He Did It The First Time

Bala Krishna, right, teaches Joe Leach, physical director of the Big Spring YMCA, how to do the headstand. Krishna is a teacher of Hatha Yoga and is now touring the western hemisphere giving instruction in the art of physical health. He explained that Hatha Yoga, the physical form of Yoga, is only the beginning of a complex system of improvement of the body and mind.

City Awards Contract For Re-Locating Of Water Line

A contract for relocation of the 14-inch raw water line, on property east of Birdwell Lane and north of Marcy Drive, was awarded to Clyde Construction Co., Odessa, at a special meeting of the city commission Wednesday night. The contract price was $10,721.25 and the city's cost, shared by CRMWD, is $4,900. CRMWD will pay $2,500. Lloyd Curley and CPE Homes, Inc., agreed to pay the difference, and the city will bear the engineering and inspection costs. Curley had paid his share but easement papers had not been completed before the commission meeting. Relocation of the water line, a part of which is now exposed along a high ridge, will permit utilization of all the property. The line will be laid along Birdwell to the alley south of Alabama, then down the alley and easement to Miami extended and along Miami to reconnect to the present line in Miami. The 30-foot easement across the property, now owned by the City of Big Spring, will be deeded back to Curley and CPE Homes, Inc., after the relocation is completed, in exchange for a 10-foot easement along the alley at the south line of Monticello Addition. Individual bids on equipment for the city's new sewage disposal plant, which were received at the April 10 meeting of the commission and processed by Forrest and Cotton, consulting engineers, were considered Wednesday were approved, with a saving of $26,110.62. The bid of Shiftlet Bros., Abilene, was low on the new plant and renovation of the old plant at $743,580. All firms bidding on the plant had included an equipment price of $132,700. The city had asked for individual bids on some equipment to insure a choice of equipment and in hopes of better prices. The cost will be lowered still more because the two per cent sales tax was included in the cost of all equipment and will be refunded. The greatest reduction was seen in the clarifier equipment. The estimated cost was $22,000 and the company, Dorr Oliver, Inc., bid $15,826.32 which lowered the cost $6,173.68. The commission had rejected

The meeting was held as a special feature of National Credit Week. Another meeting, by the Big Spring Credit Womens Club, was set for noon today at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. Fisher compared Social Security with other insurance care designed for the same purpose—to cover the hazards of death, disability and old age. He said Social Security replaces only a portion of income lost. Howard County gets the largest portion of benefits distributed by the local district office, Fisher said. A question and answer period followed Fisher's talk. There were 29 members and four guests present for the special meeting. Guests were Mrs. Kenneth Cox, Mrs. Virginia Miller, Mrs. A. G. Eitzen and Fisher. R. E. Hickson was appointed as the representative of the club for a convention in Houston May 19-22. Justin F. POLITICS can be bought are all on the John Connally handwagon in the governor's race—but they can't deliver enough votes to elect the LBJ-backed candidate. Formby described himself as "the one man in the race that is free, and the one that could serve all the people."

Connally in Houston said he proposed to be "a working governor." He added: "I'm going to be particularly interested in the state's procurement policies—how it makes purchases. I expect to visit the various departments and talk to the department heads in charge. I want to understand their methods of operation and procedure."

Wilson added that as governor he would handle the state's affairs without consulting "Washington or Austin lobbyists first."

Mention of Washington came also from Edwin Walker, who told a Dallas audience that "I will not be dominated from Washington."

"Texas' rights are in danger," Walker said at another point, when federal courts decide when a state must reapportion congressional districts—"next they will be telling Texas how she will be represented and who will represent her."

Gov. Price Daniel, swinging across North Texas, stressed seasoned leadership. "Proven experience and complete independence from the lobbyists for special interests, both in Washington and Austin, are the main issues in the governor's race," Daniel said. "At Austin I have had the courage and independence to differ with Washington every time the rights of our state have been threatened."

Don Yarborough and his aides came up with another prediction of victory at the polls. One reason, Yarborough said, was growing support from small business men.

Giants Ride High With Mays' Help

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Francisco Giants have come up with a formidable three M combination—Mays, Marichal and Marriage—that's got them sitting atop the National League with their longest winning streak since the club moved west in 1958. The Giants stretched their victory string to eight games Wednesday, whipping Pittsburgh 3-2 on a homer by Willie Mays that snapped a 2-2 tie and provided Juan Marichal with the run he needed.

It was home run No. 8 for Mays, who has hit four in the last seven games while swinging away at a .400 clip.

Marriage has been even more of a help to Marichal, 34. The fireballing right-hander who broke into the majors by hurling a one-hitter settled down domestically before the season started and has settled down on the mound since the season opened.

The victory over the Pirates, sending them to their sixth loss in eight games, was Marichal's fourth in six decisions, and his third complete game. He was 13-10 for the 1961 campaign.

In the only other game played, Bob Gibson hurled a five-hitter for St. Louis that throttled Houston 4-1 and Bob Buhl and Don Elston combined for a three-hitter as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-1. The Cincinnati-New York and Milwaukee-Philadelphia games were rained out.

Marichal gave up the two runs in the first inning on Bob Skinner's homer, then shut out the Pirates on four hits the rest of the way. The Giants tied it against Earl Francis (1-2) in the fifth on a single by Felipe Alou, Jose Pagan's double and a single by Jim Davenport. Mays' won it in the sixth.

Gibson (2-1), who limited the Colts to two hits last week, allowed a run on Jim Pendleton's homer in the second inning. The Cardinals then went ahead to stay in the fourth with three runs on Bill White's homer, a single by Ken Boyer, a two-base error by Al Spangler on Minnie Minoso's line drive, a fielder's choice play and Julio Gotay's squeeze bunt that went for a hit. The victim was Ken Johnson (0-4).

Buhl (1-1), making his first appearance since the Cubs acquired him in a trade with Milwaukee, allowed the Dodgers only two hits for six innings—both in the first. Elston came on when Buhl appeared to tire. The Cubs wrapped it up on Andre Rodgers' two-run double in the fourth and added an insurance tally in the seventh on Jim McKnight's run-scoring single. Wally Moon's homer accounted for the lone Dodger run.

Red-Hot Howard Stars In New York Victory

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"They can't get me out." That's Elston Howard's credo. The rangy New York Yankee catcher doesn't say it with cockiness, but with quiet confidence.

It was his simple explanation last year with his dazzling .348 average, and again this spring when he started off the season in rapid-fire style.

Now, after a slight skid, Howard is hot again. He powered the Yankees over the Chicago White Sox Wednesday night, 4-3, with a ninth inning homer—his second in as many games and fourth of the season. It was the seventh successive victory for the Yankees now 2½ games to the front in the American League.

In the other AL night game, Kansas City cut loose against Detroit and outscored the Tigers 12-8. Prize rookie John Powell smashed a pair of two-run homers for Baltimore as the Orioles beat Minnesota 6-5 Wednesday afternoon. Bad weather knocked out the two other games on the schedule—Boston at Washington and Los Angeles at Cleveland.

White Sox rookie Joel Horlen (1-2) turned back Howard his first three times up and held the Yankees to five hits as he took a 3-2 lead into the ninth. Then Yogi Berra opened up with a double and Howard promptly cashed in on his last chance with an opposite field homer into Comiskey Park's right field seats.

Yankee starter Ralph Terry doled out only three hits but trailed 3-2 when he gave way in the seventh to Jim Coates (2-0), who checked the White Sox on one single over the last three innings. Al Smith was the nemesis for both New York pitchers with a triple, single, two runs batted in and one scored against Terry and the lone hit off Coates.

The Yanks pushed across one run off Horlen in the first on Berra's bases-loaded ground out and scored again in the sixth when Bobby Richardson singled and Roger Maris doubled.

The Athletics whacked left-hander Don Mossi (2-3) and reliever Sam Jones for 11 hits and 10 runs in four innings and wound up their barrage against Ron Kline. Gino Cimoli kept up his belting for the A's, opening their seven-run second with a triple, climaxing it with a two-run double, and adding another double later.

All told, Kansas City banged out 15 hits—including homers by Norm Siebern and Wayne Causey. Al Kaline and Dick Brown had a homer plus two singles each for the Tigers, while Bill Bruton hit a homer and Jake Wood counted three singles. Rookie John Wyatt (2-1) picked up the victory in relief.

Almost lost in all the slugging was Vic Wertz's fifth straight pinch hit—a single in the seventh—tying the league record.

Powell, 20, bombed his first two major league homers and decided the Orioles' close one over the Twins. He poked a 370-footer to right against southpaw Jim Kaat (1-3) in the third and gave Baltimore a 6-0 lead with a 340-foot homer to left off right-hander Ted Sadowski in the fifth. Jackie Brandt drove in the Orioles' other two runs with a bases-filled walk and a triple, and also hit a double.

Skinny Brown (1-2) was the winner with help from Dick Hall. The Twins chased Brown with a four-run spurge in the sixth and Don Minecer put them even closer with a homer off Hall in the seventh.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With TOMMY HART

Phoenix Junior College, which passed up the National Juco Track and Field meet here last year, aims to win the big show here this month and thus dethrone the HCJC Jayhawks.

Phoenix sent only a few boys to the meet two years ago but most were 'class' athletes. The Arizonans supplied the high point man of the meet in the person of Richard Hayworth, a Negro boy.

Steve Carson, now coach at Phoenix, informed L. (Red) Lewis, director of the National meet via letter that his school would enter a squad of 18 to 20 boys here. That means the Phoenix team will be bigger numerically than the host school.

The Jayhawks are going to be hard-pressed to retain the championship, since Coffeyville and Hutchinson, two Kansas schools, are sure to make serious bids for first place.

Herman Robinson, the Hawks' star sprinter, developed a leg cramp in the Western Conference meet at Amarillo last week and Coach Lewis saw fit to replace him with Tommy Wise, the hurdler from Hurst-Eules.

Wise hadn't been running the 440 this season but he responded with a 49.5 clocking for the distance, sensational under the circumstances. Tommy ran the lap off the blocks, too.

When HCJC's Dean Cheatham was clocked in 9.6 in his winning effort in the 100 at Amarillo, Robinson was only a step behind him and was caught in 9.7.

The cramp Herman experienced wasn't serious and he should be a top contender in the Nationals.

Cheatham achieved that 31.4 clocking in the 220 running around a curve. Few furlong runners do as well on a straight-away.

The National Juco meet, no doubt, would prove a better and great attraction here if many people realize the two most important sessions are run at night.

Many sports buffs apparently think it is exclusively an afternoon show.

Quite likely, each of the American Football League teams will be paid $220,000 in TV money the coming season—almost double what they took home last year.

That will help several of the clubs come close to breaking even, something none has been able to do since the AFL started two years ago.

The New York Yankees' Tony Kubek and Ron Hansen of Baltimore are about the only two who get much publicity but, actually, it would be possible to field a fairly strong big league club of baseball players who are now serving in the Armed Forces.

Here's one possible alignment:

Catcher—Dick Bertell (Cubs), Jim Coker (Phillies) or Bob Taylor (Braves); infielders—George Williams (Houston), Tony Kubek (Yankees), Ron Hansen (Orioles), and Gene Leek (Angels); outfielders—Jim McNamany (Cubs), Barry Shetron (Orioles), Deron Johnson (Athletics) and George Thomas (Angels) and pitchers—Dick Drott (Houston); Roger Sinner (Giants), Veri Tienfenthaler (Giants), Ron Moeller (Angels) and Wynn Hawkins (Cleveland).

The National Hockey League did business in excess of $5 million the past season.

In the playoffs, the Chicago Black Hawks played to six gates of $80,000 or better each at home.

U.S. Reported Ready To Share Its Warheads

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The United States was reported today to be willing to share control of its nuclear warheads in Western Europe with a politically strong European union that includes Britain.

The U.S. position was described as a new approach to the years-old discussion of giving the North Atlantic Treaty Organization an independent nuclear strike force.

Qualified Western sources disclosed the new U.S. ideas as foreign and defense ministers prepared to open NATO's annual spring meeting. The defense ministers were to meet this afternoon to study weapons and production problems, among others. The foreign ministers open a three-day review of the allied defense position Friday.

During the past 18 months, numerous proposals for a supranational nuclear strike force have been put before NATO planners. But none has been able to solve the key question: "How many fingers on the trigger?"

Only two fingers are envisioned in the concept of American partnership with the European political union that is the ultimate aim of the six-nation European Common Market. A qualified Western source reported that

Rusk Arrives For NATO Session

Washington now was using nuclear armament as an inducement to the six nations — all NATO members — to get on with their political negotiations and to include Britain.

In the view of some Americans, an American offer to share nuclear control with a European authority would, achieve these ends:

1. Encourage West Germany and France to let Britain into the Common Market and speed formation of a political authority to manage the Common Market's foreign and defense policies. Britain has started negotiations to join the highly successful economic union and professed a desire to participate in its concurrent political discussions. France and West Germany want to keep Britain out of the political discussions until the economic negotiations are complete. The political talks have bogged down because of Dutch and Belgian refusal to proceed without British participation.

2. Satisfy the West German desire for nuclear armament and forestall the French drive for a separate national nuclear strike force.
3. Give smaller states a voice in nuclear decisions within the NATO framework.

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Lee Duwall, director of college information and student publications at Texas A&M, died of a heart attack Wednesday.

Rutherford Group Asks Protection Against Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eleven Texas congressmen presented the oil industry's plea for more protection against excessive imports to Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges Wednesday.

Rep. J. T. Rutherford, D-Tex., said the meeting was "primarily to present our case, not to receive a decision."

He quoted Hodges as saying his department "had not determined its position."

Rutherford asked for favorable consideration of his bill to base oil import quotas on percentage of domestic production.

He said he introduced the bill, along with Rep. Tom Steed, D-Okla., and others, in the belief that the present protection, provided in the interest of national security, is insufficient to prevent imports from further depressing the domestic oil industry.

Rutherford told Hodges that he hoped the proposed modification of the existing "security clause" would be considered and made a part of the pending bill.

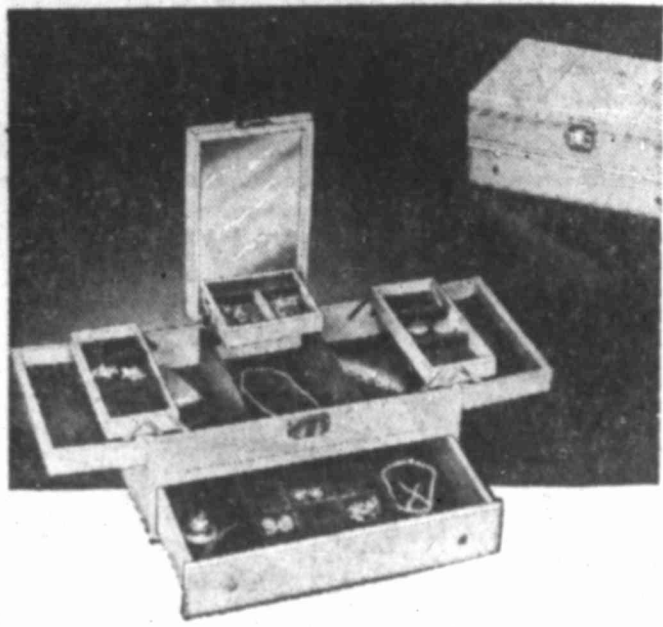

Also in the group calling on Hodges was Earl Turner, executive secretary of TIPRO.

Texas Voters Cast Record Number Absentee Ballots

By The Associated Press

Voters who didn't expect to stay home for the Texas primary Saturday cast a record number of absentee ballots in some counties but displayed matching indifference in others.

With the mail still returning some ballots to county clerks, reports of record absentee voting came from heavily populated Harris County (Houston) and at least three others — Travis (Austin), Gregg (Longview) and Hidalgo (Edinburg).

Spot checks by The Associated Press showed gains in the number of advance votes for at least four other counties, declines for about the same number and little change from totals of previous years for still other counties.

In Houston, Harris County Clerk R. E. Turrentine predicted a record turnout at the polls after handling an all-time high of 3,364 absentee ballots for Democrats and 507 from Republicans. This compared with 2,759 cast by Democrats two years ago, when there was no GOP primary.

Turrentine forecast a total vote Saturday of 180,000 to 200,000 Democrats and 12,500 to 18,000 Republicans. Harris County set a record of 165,000 votes in 1960.

Figures of the absentee voting in other counties included:

Travis—Record 2,726, including 172 Republican. Former high was 1,473.

Hutchinson (Borger) — Total 276, compared with 249 in 1960. Party officials predict a heavy turnout Saturday.

Gregg (Longview) — Record of 1,334 tops the 1960 figure by 317 votes. Interest heightened by county commission and justice of the peace races.

Orange (Orange) — Total 285, including 11 Republican votes. This is 100 over two years ago. About 9,000 votes are expected Saturday.

Wichita (Wichita Falls) — Total

514 with 122 ballots still out and 14,000 votes expected. In the 1960 primary, there were 525 absentee voters and a total vote of 21,049.

Hidalgo (Edinburg) — Record of 2,540 Democrats and 21 Republicans. Previous high in 1954 was 1,401.

Cameron (Harlingen) — Total of 477 Democrats and 29 Republicans. Officials said this was "nowhere near a record." They blamed "lack of issues" for a drop.

Willacy (Raymondville) — 134 Democrat and four Republican ballots.

Titus (Mount Pleasant) — Total 334 against 277 in 1960.

Navarro (Corsicana) — Total 245, compared with 227 two years ago and 384 in 1958.

Webb (Laredo) — Only 74 Democrats and 7 Republicans voted with seven still in the mail. Normal absentee figure is more than 200.

Bexar (San Antonio) — 2,143

Democrats and 306 Republicans. Howard (Big Spring) — 400 Democrats and 18 Republicans, second only to 553 votes cast in 1954.

Dallas (Dallas) — 1,406 Democrats and 338 Republicans, against 2,376 by Democrats and 337 by Republicans in 1958.

Tarrant (Fort Worth) — 1,154, including 152 Republicans, against 1,090 in 1960.

Taylor (Abilene) — 518 ballots, including 61 GOP, with 97 mailed out.

Midland (Midland) — 938 ballots, including 188 Republican.

compared to 980, all Democratic, cast in 1960.

Tom Green (San Angelo)—287 Democrats and 33 Republicans, plus 7 ballots still in mail. The 1960 figure was 180 Democrats.

Rosemary Claims Infidelity, Ferrer Asks Reconciliation

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Jose Ferrer, after hearing Rosemary Clooney accuse him of infidelity while sitting five children at home, answered her by pleading for a reconciliation.

"I'd come home tonight," Ferrer said.

His blonde wife tearfully testified Wednesday in their contested divorce trial that the Oscar winner had "affairs with other women from the beginning of our marriage."

Asked to comment on Ferrer's desire to come home, Miss Clooney, 33, answered: "I guess he would, if he could—and that's my only comment."

The trial is in recess until Tuesday.

Superior Judge Mervyn Aggeler suggested that both sides use the time to resolve their tangled financial situations.

"From what I've heard," the judge said, "both parties are as confused as the court."

Both Ferrer, 49, and his wife have given graphic accounts of how it is possible in Hollywood to earn millions and still be broke.

Miss Clooney, for instance, testified that she grossed $305,813.43 in 1955 and wound up with a net profit for the year of $4,190.38.

And that, apparently, was one of her better years because during eight years of marriage she grossed a total of $2,060,667.97—and now owes $63,632.99.

"Besides being insolvent," she said, "my doctor told me a week ago that I have an ulcer."

Testimony about Ferrer's alleged misconduct came after three days of detailed—and often dull—financial testimony.

Miss Clooney was choked with sobs as she accused her husband of sexual infidelity. The drama was so intense that Ferrer himself brushed away tears.

Then the singer described a meeting at which she said Ferrer told her that he could not promise to be a better boy. At this she cried uncontrollably.

Regaining composure after a few minutes, she asked her lawyer for a handkerchief.

Ferrer quickly jumped up from his seat at the counsel table and gave his own to his sobbing wife. She accepted it without looking at him.

Candidates Have Spun Their Wheels

Certain office seekers or their assistants have been skidding their wheels in one phase of their campaign activities.

E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said that his mail men have been finding mail boxes on residences being used by candidates to publicize their campaigns.

"This is against the law," Boatler pointed out. "We have instructions when we find material other than U. S. mail in boxes to remove it

'Spring House Party' Is Held In Gray Home

A standard placement flower show of the Spaders Garden Club entitled "Spring House Party," was staged in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Zack Gray on Wednesday afternoon. Winning top honors in the artistic division of the event were Mrs. W. D. Caldwell, sweepstakes; Mrs. Bob Carlisle, tri-color award; Mrs. Dave Dorchester, award of distinction. Sweepstakes and merit awards in the horticulture division were given to Mrs. James Bruce Frazier.

Rose Radiance

Mrs. Lloyd Zack Gray, above, admires the pink rose composition that won sweepstakes for Mrs. W. D. Caldwell in the artistic division of "Spring House Party." The event was a currently popular type of show among Big Spring garden enthusiasts. Mrs. Dave Dorchester, who created the arrangement pictured right, won the award of distinction in the artistic division. The gold coloring in the line composition was reflected in colors of the room where it was displayed.

Club Topic Is Flowers For Food

Flowers for food was stressed in a program given Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. J. R. Hensley for 22 members of Big Spring Garden Club. "What? Cooking with Flowers?" was the topic on which Mrs. Hensley spoke, telling of flowers and various plants used in cooking. She demonstrated phases of her talk with the refreshments she served. The cake was rose flavored and rose tinted; three-decker sandwiches enclosed ham with Chinese mustard, chopped nasturtium leaves, and cheese and rose petal spread; crystalized mint leaves, violets, rose petals, forget-me-nots and Acacia; and artichokes and cauliflower.

Love Into All The World Is Rally Theme

"Love Reaching Into All the World" was the theme of the Spring Rally of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League at Faith Lutheran Church in Fort Stockton, today according to Mrs. Elwyn Runstrum, chairman of St. Paul Lutheran Parish Workers. The opening devotion was led by the Rev. Allen Brulag, Midland, using First Peter as the basis for his theme, "Called to Serve." Featured speaker, Inga Randolph who with her husband and children fled Poland a short time ago, defined and gave a brief history of Communism; indicated the manner in which Communism seeks to enslave the world; showed how Communism affects all areas of life; pointed out the effort of Communism in the United States; and suggested a definite course for the church to follow. Attending from St. Paul Lutheran Church were Mrs. John Foster, Mrs. Walter Pachall, Mrs. Albert Hohertz, Mrs. Elwyn Runstrum, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Oppgaard, and the Rev. and Mrs. Clair Wiederhoff. Mrs. Amalie Long of Monahan served as rally chairman.

Mrs. Duncan Is Hostess To Circle

After gifts were opened and refreshments served, Pamela Harris was inducted as a new Brownie. Kathy Coleman was welcomed as a new member.

Cookout lessons learned during a weekend cookout at the Boy Scout camp grounds, were reviewed. Appreciation was expressed for the help of Mrs. J. W. Lancaster, Barbara Thompson, Denise Head and Jeanne Clark, all of Mrs. Don Fendergrast's Intermediate GS Troop.

'ROUND TOWN With LUCILLE PICKLE

It was gratifying to know that May Day baskets have not been forgotten in Big Spring. After mentioning in this column that one hardly hears of them any more we received calls saying people still placed May baskets on the door on the first of the month because they had either received or given them.

MRS. LONNIE COKER who had just come home after surgery was pleasantly surprised by a beautifully arranged basket from the NAT SHICKS with a little note hoping it would aid her in her recovery.

Someone who has prepared baskets for a number of years for a special friend is a local school teacher who loves to keep up the old traditions. She has placed the basket on the friend's school desk or at her door for so many years it would probably be a shock to the friend if it were not there come the first of May.

This year the teacher, with the aid of her brothers and sisters, nieces and nephews, made a May-pole for her portable bulletin board. It was complete with satin streamers and cutouts of little children of all nationalities.

'They Have To Cool'

Mrs. Jimmie Peer is shown above trying to humor her daughter, Lori Kathleen, into accepting the idea that the cookies being taken from the oven must cool before they can be eaten. Mrs. Peer, who has always liked to bake, says that mixing up a batch of cookies or a cake is really fun and so much easier in her new kitchen.

Mrs. Peer Likes Role Of Typical Housewife

Pretty Mrs. Jimmie Peer likes to cook. In short, she says that she enjoys being a typical housewife. She feels that she never runs short of things to do especially since blonde and bouncy Lori Kathleen came upon the scene, but cooking is the part of housework that she enjoys most.

Meals are served at odd hours because of her husband's working conditions. An assistant operator at Sid Richardson Carbon Company, he works in shifts. Mrs. Peer says that she has finally adjusted to the preparation of a huge breakfast to satisfy her husband's ravenous appetite when he comes in from a 12 a.m. to 8 a.m. shift. Also she prepares hot meals to fill the wide-mouthed thermos he carries in his lunch. Peer, like many other men who have to carry a lunch to work, quickly tires of sandwiches. So, Mrs. Peer tries to prepare hot meals for his lunch most of the time. He especially enjoys homemade spaghetti and meatballs in his lunch.

Mrs. Peer likes to make simple cakes such as pound cake or chocolate cake with plain white icing, but she says that Peer prefers "the gnolet cake" like a coworker brought for his lunch. "Why don't you make one for me?" he queries. Mrs. Peer stated that most of the recipes that she uses are those she has acquired from her mother and mother-in-law, other relatives and friends with whom they have dined. Rarely do they dine with friends that she does not add another recipe to her file.

Recently Peer's mother and father came for a visit from their home in Aransas Pass. With them they brought about 20 or 30 pounds of shrimp and crabs. Although the Peers have a large freezing compartment in their refrigerator, they had to rent a locker in which to store their sea foods. Most West Texans would have considered this a problem, but it did not loom as such to Mrs. Peer and her family, who relish sea foods. She was reared in shrimp territory and while growing up, learned various ways to cook sea foods. When asked what she plans to do with all the shrimp, she replied, "I'll fix shrimp creole, boiled shrimp—wonderful for snacks, fried shrimp, steamed crabs and fillet gumbo with shrimp." What's gumbo? "Oh that's one of the 'old Louisiana backwoods recipes' my grandmother taught me."

Sea food, however, is not the favorite meat of the family. The Peers enjoy eating steaks and roasts, especially pot roast. Peer and Lori like for Mrs. Peer to cook the roast until the meat practically falls apart at the touch. Because it is easily digested, this meat is good for Lori, who is just learning to eat from the table. Since a freshman in high school, Mrs. Peer has been an old hand in the kitchen. She says that her big mistake was in telling her mother, who was working at the time, all of the good things that she was learning to cook in her homemaking class at school. That did it. From then on she was experimenting with her food projects at home in her mother's kitchen. Today she is grateful for having the experience, for she has not had that period of confusion in her kitchen that so many brides have.

Mrs. Peer believes that the best way for the housewife to save grocery money is to stay away from extras at the store during the week. She allots herself a certain amount of money and tries to follow a grocery list accordingly, replenishing the supply of milk and bread as needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Peer, in their new home at 2310 Marshall, are enthusiastic gardeners. After working in their beautiful rose garden, watering trees, running cement for flower bed curbs, etc., they are ready for a cool glass of iced tea and one of their favorite of baked goods. Mrs. Peer gives recipes for what she considers her baking specialties along with other dishes, including an authentic Louisiana shrimp creole recipe.

The Dressing Makes A Salad A Real Treat

Leaf lettuce, radishes and tomatoes from your own garden or from nearby truck farms are at their very best at this season, for they are tender, juicy and sweet due to the mildness of the weather.

Poultry In The Fore At Markets

By The Associated Press

Fryers, broilers, and even stewing hens are a top main course attraction at the nation's supermarkets this week.

And so are eggs, with prices falling even lower in many areas than recent economy levels. One national chain features large white eggs at 48 cents a dozen in its New York outlets.

Fried eggs can be teamed up with pork chops or pork loin, both reasonably priced at most stores this weekend, for an easy to fix meal.

For heavier meals, most cuts of beef are budget priced again this weekend, with round, chuck and rib roasts particular features.

Rib roasts are priced at 89 cents a pound in the New York area by one big chain.

Milk prices are generally lower and cheese and cottage cheese are both attractively priced.

Radishes, carrots, spring onions and leafy greens offer salad treats at good prices.

And sweet corn and new potatoes provide side dish variety at lowering prices.

Among old standby vegetables, features include cabbage, spinach, tomatoes, asparagus and artichokes.

Fruit attractions are grapefruit, oranges and apples.

Strawberry Sherbet

(Makes 2 quarts)

1 pint strawberries washed and hulled
1/2 cup sugar
1 tbs. lemon juice
3 cups liquid instant milk
2 egg whites
2 tbsps. sugar
Set refrigerator control at coldest point. Place strawberries, 1/2 cup sugar and lemon juice in saucepan. Heat to boiling point. Cool. Stirring constantly, slowly add liquid instant milk to strawberry mixture. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze until almost firm, about 2 hours. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; gradually beat in 2 tablespoons sugar. Turn frozen mixture into bowl; beat until double in bulk. Fold in beaten egg whites. Return to two refrigerator trays and freeze until firm, about 2 hours.

If 1 (16-oz.) pkg. strawberries is used, reduce sugar to 1/4 cup.

Beat eggs and add sugar; mix thoroughly. Add rest of ingredients.

Bake in 375 degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes. Cookies should be chewy.

Chicken Is First On The Outdoor Grill

With first signs of spring we begin polishing up the outdoor grill and checking our supplies of charcoal. It won't be long now until cooking out-of-doors becomes a daily joy. If you hunger for that outdoor flavor yet it's still a bit chilly in your area, you might grill outside and then eat inside. Chicken makes its entrance with a tropical sauce of toasted almonds and coconut for your first meal on the grill.

Place the chicken on the grill so that the pieces do not touch. Be sure the coals are at least 7 inches below the chicken. Using tongs, turn the chicken frequently and brush with melted butter. Test for doneness by cutting a slash in the thigh next to the bone. When there is no trace of pink the chicken is done.

If cook-out ventures take you from your porch or patio to the country or mountains, here is a solution for a portable grill. Bring an oven rack from your kitchen range along with you. When you arrive at your destination send the youngsters out to scout for four large rocks or bricks while you start the fire. Turn the bricks up lengthwise, set the grill on top of the bricks or rocks, and you're ready to begin. When planning ahead you can cook practically your whole meal on the grill. Peanut butter applies in foil and corn in the husks go beside the chicken. The tropical sauce may be prepared in a skillet on the grill, too.

1 tsp. vanilla extract
slightly softened

Thoroughly blend ginger snaps crumbs, softened butter or margarine and sugar. Press firmly against bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. (The easy way is to press crumbs into place using an 8-inch pie plate.) Freeze. Soften gelatine in cold water; add to pumpkin. Stir in spices, salt and vanilla extract. Cook over low heat until gelatine is dissolved. Cool. Blend with ice cream. Spoon into pie shell and smooth top. Freeze.

It's Time To Indulge In Strawberry Deluge

If you've been waiting patiently for the fresh strawberry gates to open wide, have heart. They're unlocked and ready.

Homemakers of this area have three great commercial early-spring strawberry gardens to draw from. Louisiana and Texas berries usually come first. Then, Arkansas patches come into their own. Growers and Mother Nature concur in this plan, as a general rule.

But it may be different this year. Weather has worked against the schedule. Rain and cool nights have retarded ripening of the earliest crop but helped late-crop development.

Now it looks like the three areas may overlap. The stage is set so sunshine and warmth could trigger the deluge. And fresh berries have to be eaten or processed when they're at their tastiest, sweetest best.

Louisiana producers have figured volume shipments from their gardens will start the week of April 15. That's now. They have 8,000 acres this year—1200 more than last year.

Arkansas berries are expected in volume around May 1, about two weeks ahead of normal. And Texas berries from several parts of the state will show in trade channels with regularity until the season is past. Other states to the north will follow soon.

So, it's time to plan full use of the abundance. Use strawberries on cereals, with sugar and cream, in shortcake and all the other many delightful ways only fresh strawberries can serve.

Pear-Citrus Salad Is Luncheon Bonus

Hearty luncheons need only a hot soup, a substantial salad and a beverage to complete the noon-day repast.

To focus attention on the salad: Arrange alternating slices of unpeeled fresh pears and fresh orange and grapefruit sections on beds of Romaine. Now center each plate with a dab of banana dressing made by combining equal parts of mayonnaise and sour cream with finely diced fresh bananas, a few chopped walnuts and the tang of fresh lemon juice.

Cool And Dampish, Maybe?

The U.S. Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast for May indicates that West Texas is just on the edge of an area which is slated for heavier than normal rainfall and in a big area due to enjoy cooler temperatures than normal for the month. Big Spring, according to the map, may be just inside the shaded area where heavier precipitation is anticipated.

Scout Fair, Exposition Slated Friday, Saturday

Several hundred Scouts and Explorers will keep the campfires burning around the rodeo grounds Friday evening and join with hundreds of Cubs Saturday for the spring Scout Fair and Exposition. Climaxing the spectacle Saturday night will be a round of Indian Dances by the championship Buffalo Trail Council team. These Order of Arrow lads recently not only won the sub-regional Indian dance competition at Albuquerque against some 10 other councils, but they won five out of six individual places. They are directed by Bill Wallace, Midland, Indian lore advisor, and Lester Mundy, Snyder, scout executive. Featured dancers are Warren and Jeff Wallace, Midland.

Scouts and explorers will set up camp around the rodeo arena and grounds starting at 4 p.m. Friday. After they prepare their supper at 6 p.m., there will be campfires by units at 7:45 p.m. with taps at 10 p.m.

Saturday's schedule calls for breakfast at 7 a.m., cleanup, preparation of displays and demonstrations at 8:00 a.m., presentation of demonstrations at 9:30 a.m.

Cub groups will arrive at 9:30 a.m. to put up their displays. After lunch at the grounds, Cubs will stage an olympics with a sack race, running broad jump, softball throw, obstacle relay, ball throwing contest (for den mothers), 50-yard dash. Cubs will be on hand for the campfire program starting at 7:45 p.m.

Scouts and explorers will have contests Saturday afternoon in compass, firebuilding, knot tying, map making, fire by flint and steel, tent pitching, observation, nature identification, Scout law relay and signalling.

Although the project is sponsored by the local Legion, the Noon and Evening Lions, Optimists, Rotary Club and Kiwanis Club help pay expenses.

Sheriff Gets 50 Per Cent Collections

Nearly 50 per cent of all the hot checks which have been turned in to the check department since it began operating Jan. 1 have been collected and the money paid to the merchants, Miller Harris, sheriff, reports.

He said that April was the biggest month of the four that the department has existed. Three hundred and 24 checks were turned into the department during April. In the same month, the department collected 218 checks. The total cash collected for the month was $5,399.45 which brought the total collections for bad checks for the four months to $15,900.13.

There are now 365 merchants and other establishments cooperating in the hot check collection enterprise. Harris said that 464 hot check writers have paid off in the time the department has functioned.

The department has handled 1,626 hot checks since it began operating. The checks collected hit 749.

The department has filed seven misdemeanor hot check cases in county court during April. Five arrests for forgery have been made during the month.

Public Hearing Set For May 15

A public hearing is scheduled by the Planning and Zoning Commission May 15 regarding a zone change from single family to multi-family residence on property owned by Ward Hall, north of Sixth Street and South of East Fourth. The request was made by a firm proposing to purchase the land for development of an apartment building between extensions of Elgin and Linda Lane. The hearing was originally scheduled for the regular meeting of the commission, May 1, but was postponed because of lack of time for notifying property owners within 200 feet of the property calling for a zone change. Difficult terrain has made the property unsuitable for residence development. Hall told the commission. It could easily be made suitable for the apartment building.

These People Got Well

Headaches
This woman was transferred to us by another Doctor over three years ago suffering from low back trouble with pain into the left thigh, nervousness, headaches at the base of the skull with a slow heart beat and her vital capacity down. Blood pressure was normal at 130 over 84 and hemoglobin of 84%. This grandmother had tried many ways of getting well but until an analysis had been made of her spine and the offending nerve pressures removed, she had seen no hope. Now, she periodically comes in for a re-check and an adjustment if necessary. The only symptom now bothering her is too much energy which causes her to work too hard and then she naturally tires. No. 305.

Menstrual
This young girl, just entering womanhood, encountered the same difficulty many young girls do in that her cycle caused her trouble. Associated with this was a back ache which was constant in nature in that it persisted all month. There were leg aches and a marked degree of nervousness. She seemed to accept this difficulty as normal until her spine was checked and impinged nerves were located. Originally, she was very much afraid of the spinal adjustment, but when she found out that an adjustment was completely painless, she relaxed and all of her youthful troubles are now gone through having the spine corrected. No. 1542.

A Devotional For Today

"Therefore you also must be ready; for the Son of man is coming at an hour you do not expect." (Matthew 24: 44. RSV.)
 PRAYER: Help us, our Father, to be so occupied in the work of Thy kingdom that we are in constant readiness. Help us to be good and faithful servants so that if Christ returns today, or calls us home, He may find us at our post. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

Big Boost For Our Communities

Good news to Sand Springs and Coahoma, and thus to all of Howard County, was the awarding of a contract for construction of additional water lines and a sizeable storage tank.
 Project plans call for laying a 10-inch main line from the Big Spring distribution system to Sand Springs, and an 8-inch line from Sand Springs to Coahoma. (The Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1, which supplies Sand Springs and Coahoma buys treated water from Big Spring.) This capacity will be added to the present 6 and 4-inch line now in use.

Thus, the potential supply to these communities will be about trebled.
 Almost as important is the 250,000-gallon storage tank to be erected near Coahoma to maintain a reserve and adequate pressure for that city. Fresh from an experience in which the lumber yard was destroyed, Coahoma can appreciate the value of that.
 This project is due to be completed within 120 days, and it will release a new surge of development in these communities. It may not be as large as most would have liked, but it will be far and away better than the present system.

Heading Down The Homestretch

There was time when you could take the absentee ballot total in Howard County and almost nail the exact turnout in the election. For years the absentee voting was habitually 10 per cent of the total, but after the war, patterns changed.
 Now more people vote absentee, a lot of them for convenience. It is the variation in this latter category which makes it hazardous to predict what percentage this will be of the total vote.
 Five per cent in the past, has not been a bad rule of the thumb. On this basis, we could have something like 8,000 to 8,500 votes Saturday. This runs a trifle higher than many guesses. Perhaps it is evidence of a spurt of interest as the first primary campaign heads down the home stretch. This would be a good thing.

 Meanwhile, there are some signs of normalcy returning to the scene—every one of the gubernatorial candidates boldly proclaims that he will win or be in the runoff. That being the case, it will be a little crowded for the second primary in June.

Soothing Words Not Enough

WASHINGTON — On the subject of "stone-throwing" — apropos of the controversy recently over steel prices — President Kennedy in a speech before the U. S. Chamber of Commerce convention quoted the Bible as saying there is "a time to cast away stones and a time to gather stones together." But Mr. Kennedy forgot another quotation. Jesus said: "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to cast a stone."

THE PRESIDENT brushes aside the fact that he initiated the broad attack on American business three weeks ago, particularly on a large steel company. For, in a public statement on April 11 last, he expressed his feeling that "a tiny handful of steel executives whose pursuit of private power and profit exceeds their sense of public responsibility can show such utter contempt for the interests of 185 million Americans."

This was the "stone" cast by an administration which, because of its political indebtedness to the big labor unions, had refused to use any "stones" in the public interest to prevent an increase of $100 million a year in wage costs to the steel industry.

MR. KENNEDY has owed a public apology to the men in the steel industry and a disavowal of his charges as to their lack of patriotism. Maybe this is what he was trying indirectly to do when he said to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in his speech Monday:

"While government economists can point out the necessity of increasing the rates of investment, of modernizing plant and productivity, while Washington officials may urge responsible collective bargaining and responsible wage-price decisions, we also recognize that beneath all the laws and guidelines and tax policies and stimulants we can provide, these matters all come down, quite properly in the last analysis, to private decisions by private individuals."

THIS IS PRECISELY what the steel men, as private individuals, tried to do. Had Mr. Kennedy made this statement in a balanced plea to labor and management in the steel controversy, and had he recognized that a moderate increase in steel prices was not catastrophic in itself, there would have been more confidence among businessmen today in the fairness of his administration.

For the President in his latest speech does outline objectively the problems faced by government and business and labor. He declares that "it is easy to charge an administration is anti-business, but it is more difficult to show low an administration, composed of men who hope of rational men, can possibly feel they can survive without business, or how the nation can survive unless the government and business and all other groups in our country are exerting their best efforts in an atmosphere of understanding, and I hope co-operation."

BUT SUCH an "atmosphere of understanding" cannot be attained by misunderstanding the responsibilities of management to their stockholders — the investing public. Either the government has to run

Poll Tax Overshadowed By The Ponies

I have forebodings that my long campaign to keep the poll tax is coming to an end. On Saturday's ballot, the state voters will also mark whether or not to vote themselves of this particular tax in order to vote. It's only a straw vote, of course, but the legislature is certain to give great weight to the results in any future thought on the subject.

If the straw vote indicates most voters want to eliminate it, the poll tax is almost certain to go. Besides that, the liberal element in Washington and the North is urging the Southland to abolish the poll tax and literacy tests.

FRANKLY, I HAVEN'T been a bit excited over the race track issue, as I have never seen a horse race and my good wife Joyce would call an attorney if I even suggested risking a bit of our family fortune on the outcome of one. So I haven't given the matter much thought, other than to listen to the arguments from both sides and read the sudden wealth of material on the prospects of what would happen if it were passed.

The Republicans are also voting on a park area for the Padre Island area, and I am always in favor of more parks. But I don't get extra heated over the matter.

The poll tax, I am prepared to defend as I have annually in previous years. No matter what its detractors say, the poll tax has some real benefits:

1. IT PRODUCES income. The money taken in goes to help support the state and the schools. If this income is taken away, it will be raised from some other source. The other source could very well be ad valorem taxes on the local level and more sales tax on the state level. But one thing is sure: more money will be asked from some direction and a fewer number of people will pay it. The various agencies will certainly not reduce their money needs.

2. VOTERS MUST be registered in some manner. Some method has to be devised to register voters, to insure they get their one vote — but no more. This is going to cost money. Once again, the money will be raised from other means, if not from the poll tax. One thing sure about the poll tax, it pays its own way.

3. Not the least important, it is worth something just to have the fun of striking out the name of a candidate who has drawn some particular ire. The serious business of voting has an added touch of humor for this reason, for those with a sense of humor.

Forking over the relatively minor $1.75 is criticized as "having to pay to vote in a free country." We may very well vote out the poll tax, but we will still pay it — just in another form. No matter what we are sometimes led to believe by politicians, there is no such thing as something for nothing, and this is particularly true when a government agency is involved.

IF ONE THING IS free, then we pay for something else. In one way or another, Everything is paid for. The poll tax is an honest tax, if any tax can be considered so. I doubt that responsible residents would balk at voting merely because of an insignificant fee.

This question will probably be lost in the hubbub over the ponies, but it is probably just as important.

JFK Gains Support In Inflation Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is playing it by ear in trying to get labor and business to avoid price and wage boosts that might trigger a new inflation.

He has no authority under peacetime law to set prices or wages. He can suggest what he thinks they ought to be. But neither labor nor business has to listen to him.

How then can he persuade them to sign noninflationary contracts? Only through devices similar to those he used in the steel case or can dream up in the next big dispute.

THEY MAY NOT always work.

There will probably be unions and industries which ignore him and sign contracts he thinks damaging to the public interest.

He is probably reconciled to that possibility and is settling for the hope that if, in general, he can keep prices and wages down, it's a gain and the best he can expect with his present limited power.

For months before the steel contract was signed he used a very limited technique of persuasion although behind it, of course, was the tremendous moral influence of the presidency.

This was simply to suggest the public good required a noninfla-tionary settlement which meant no wage or price boost.

THE CONTRACT as signed gave no wage increase, although other benefits the union got cost the industry money, and there was no indication the steel companies intended to raise prices.

When they did, just a few days after the settlement, an angry Kennedy had to abandon the technique of polite nudging which hadn't worked and think up in a hurry brand new forms of persuasion.

He used denunciation. His aides got in touch with steelmen whose companies had not yet raised prices. And the Justice Department, headed by his brother, Robert Kennedy, threatened antitrust suits and a grand jury investigation of price-fixing.

IN THE END the steel industry called off the price increase and Kennedy had won.

In the next contract crises, and there seems sure to be one, the circumstances will be different, so Kennedy's techniques of pressure and persuasion will have to be adapted to the situation.

There is nothing to indicate he has a clearly thought out line of action—as there would be, and spelled out, if he had a law to work by—for any future crises.

Last February Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg said the government has no intention of dictating terms—this was superficial since there's no such power under law—but he did say this:

HE INTENDED to suggest in general and perhaps occasionally in specific terms what management and labor should do for the public good.

Then, this week, Kennedy's advisory labor-management committee went so far as to suggest that, under law, Kennedy should be able to set up fact-finding boards, in disputes which might create national emergencies, to make recommendations on contract terms.

This might not mean much if this had been just an ordinary board. It wasn't. It was made up of representatives for labor, business, the government and the public.

For this board to make this kind of proposal meant that Kennedy already—in his fight against inflationary contracts—had been very successful in rallying broad support for what he wants to do.

Why Garry's Still Here

NEW YORK (AP) — Thomas Garrison Morfit had a profound feeling of gratitude this week.

The reason: Thomas Garrison Morfit—better known to millions as Garry Moore—reached a historic milestone in a fabulous career. He performed in his 5,000th national network broadcast.

"All I ask is to be allowed to continue," said Garry, who quit school in Baltimore back in 1935 to become a radio continuity writer. There is no immediate hurry in the industry to dust off a place on the shelf for Moore. He remains, after 27 years in radio and 12 in television, one of the biggest profit-producing performers in the entertainment field.

Shows are estimated to bring to Columbia Broadcasting System an annual income of between $15 million and $20 million. This puts him on a par with, or ahead of, such other network money-winners as Arthur Godfrey, Art Linkletter, Dave Garroway and Ed Sullivan.

"I must be extraordinarily fortunate," Garry said. "I've never had as much fun as I'm having now. I never get up with a feeling of hating to go to work, as some people do."

I suppose it's because I'm still a fan myself. I still get a big thrill out of working with people I've admired for years—such as Duke Ellington and Ed Wynn. As a kid, I can remember standing outside a theater in Baltimore to get Ed Wynn's autograph. He's still a hero to me.

This quality of youthful enthusiasm is still one of the greatest assets of Moore, who feels he is lucky to have lasted so long and at present would like to go right on performing forever.

"Of course, you don't really retire in this business," he said with a wry smile. "You just wake up some morning and find they've retired you."

"Three or four years is an average lifetime on television, and already I figure I'm at least eight years to the good."

Garry has his own theory on how he and his program pals have managed to endure without boring their public.

"Our survival is probably the result of a remarkable lack of being spectacular," he said. "When you are spectacular, you have a skyrocket quality that can become so bright you burn yourself out."

At the ripe age of 47, Garry has this philosophy of life: "It pays to remember to be grateful, and to forget the idea you have a right to be happy all the time. If you have one really happy hour every day, you're ahead of the game."

"If I got fired tomorrow, I'd have no cause for anything but gratitude—although they'd probably have to drag me out of the studio, kicking and screaming."

To Your Good Health

Causes Of Menstrual Cramps Are Varied

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Molner: I have periodic cramps every month, and have ever since I can remember. I am 25 and married.

I am enclosing an article I read in a magazine about cutting the presacral nerve near the uterus. Is this article true?

My doctor said if I have children the cramps will stop. My husband and I would like children but have not had any in five years. There is nothing wrong with either of us, why can't we have children? — MRS. G. L.

The article is true, but cutting a nerve should be the last resort. I always advise the least cutting necessary — and the least method that will fully do what is required.

Causes of menstrual cramps are varied: glandular, nutritional, even mechanical, as narrowing or plugging of the cervical canal. Occasionally a D & C, (Dilatation and curettage, or surgical scraping of the uterus) helps. Sometimes use of one of the newer diuretics, to rid the system of excess fluid before the period, gives marked relief.

Simple pain — killers, tranquilizers, anti — spasmodics all have succeeded in many cases. (But narcotics should be avoided, for the obvious reason: The risk of addiction.)

It is likewise true that many a young woman, plagued by cramps, has found them to disappear after becoming pregnant. Thus these are quite a few known remedies for cramps, and while there is no way of predicting in advance which will be best, it is not too difficult to have your doctor try different ones in rotation.

As to your failure to have children, it would seem that after five years a fertility problem does, indeed, exist. It isn't by any means necessarily a matter of general health, although a metabolism check is advisable for both of you.

Going beyond that, it is my considered advice to start with husband, since a sperm count is an uncomplicated procedure, far easier than checking the various gynecological aspects of the wife.

In one — third or more of infertility cases, the sperm count shows the husband to be at fault. Too many husbands are reluctant to consider this "affront to their virility," but the most rugged of males can have some interference without knowing it, and sometimes the trouble can be quite readily rectified.

If the check on him shows nothing amiss, then it is time to begin more extensive medical studies, of yourself, because the you that need some special treatment.

Dear Dr. Molner: Last year I had surgery — perforated diverticulum and part of the bowel and appendix removed. In the last few months I have noticed part of the stool is very dark, almost black at times. At other times, everything seems normal. I can't seem to pin it down to any certain foods. — MRS. V. M.

These dark stools should be checked for blood — they are a usual sign of bleeding higher up. (A diverticulum can be a cause of such bleeding.)

Dear Dr. Molner: Over a long period, my 12-year-old son has been troubled with frequent nose bleeds. Do diseases of the heart, liver or kidneys have anything to do with this condition? Aside from his nose he seems to be in good health. — MRS. C. K.

These diseases can be related to nose bleed, but there would be other signs. If the boy's general health is good, it would be more reasonable to suspect that some tiny artery is located near the surface membrane of the nose and is irritated easily by blowing, picking, a slight bump, etc. The small, bleeding vessels of the nose usually can be easily eliminated by simple cauterization.

Nature's imitation of art goes on apace. Even so, I was a bit surprised when I discovered an advertisement for a "Cocktail Tree" as I recently rifled through a nursery catalogue—a never-ending pleasure to one who has been long in city pent.

THE UNKNOWN species (at least, unknown to me) was priced at $7.95, or approximately the cost of a fifth of good Scotch or aged bourbon. Since there was no description of the tree or the breed of cocktail it produces, I could only assume that such trees are so common that no description is necessary for the arborist or alcoholic customer. Who needs a description of a cottonwood? Or a Lombardy poplar? Or a weeping willow?

While I was ringing up the nursery facts and figures on the Cocktail Tree, visions of sugar plums danced through my head. Had some latter-day Luther Burbank crossed an olive tree with a juniper bush to achieve, at long last, the perfect Dry Martini which—through nature's own medium—would completely bypass vermouth?

OR PERHAPS SOME horticultural genius had succeeded in uniting an apple, the basic ingredient of applejack or (famed Jersey Lightning (as it was known in the old bad days of prohibition, and the only thing faster and more lethal than Jersey justice) with the pomegranate, from whence cometh grenadine, for a pre-packaged Jack Rose.

Or had some scientific sleight-of-hand managed to produce a ready-made Daiquiri through the fortuitous combination

J. A. Livingston

A Policy But No Procedure

"American consumers have now been saved the threat of a new inflationary spiral set off by higher steel prices. That was the most immediate effect of the battle . . . between United States Steel and the President of the United States . . ."

"President Kennedy really means to intervene with his full weight . . . and shows he knows how to make his weight felt — both in his coldly furious public denunciation of Big Steel and in the behind-the-scenes actions that split the ranks of the steel companies and ended the price boost."

IF THE ABOVE quotation were from a university economist, a representative of a consumers' organization, or even, perhaps, from an editorial in a newspaper, it would demand no special attention. But these are the opening paragraphs of the lead article in Labor, weekly newspaper of the 18 Railroad Brotherhoods. The president's rollback of the steel price is regarded as a victory for labor. But is it such a victory?

"It will be tougher than ever," says Purchasing Week, for union officials to "oppose the informal 3 per cent ceiling the White House has placed on labor settlements."

BUSINESS MEN'S organizations, such as the Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers, are bound to say: "What's sauce for us is sauce for labor."

As a result, the White House is in labor negotiations up to its porticoes. The president has a policy but no procedure. He is deciding case by case without a body of precedent. This is government by man (which can be caprice) rather than by law.

There is an ironic parallel between the steel wage settlement and the price rollback.

THE PRESIDENT and Secretary of Labor Goldberg intervened purposefully — almost mandatorily — in the wage negotiations. At one point, when negotiations wanted to adjourn over a weekend, they first made it known to Goldberg. ("Pop, is it all right if we knock off now?")

Editorialists praised David J. McDonald's statesmanlike behavior and his acceptance of a modest 2½ per cent wage boost. The industry also was praised. So, when U. S. Steel raised prices, there was national dismay, disappointment, and a furor. The president let it be known he felt "double-crossed." How does this affect you and me — all of us? — Roger M. Blough, chairman of United States Steel, was caught in a web of public of sugar cane, the lime tree and, again, the pomegranate."

WELL, SIR, science has made magnificent strides in this century. But although it has produced the jet engine, split the atom, put man in space and driven the housewife crazy in a push-button kitchen, the truth is that it has not yet delivered a tree that can mix and hand the customer a cocktail.

Agricultural automating is not about to add bartenders to the list of unemployed. The Cocktail Tree, as the nurseryman told me, is really a citrus tree with delusion of grandeur and not a do-it-yourself bar.

THE TREE IS one that through grafts produces oranges, lemons and limes on one and the same rootstock. Or grapefruit, oranges and limes. Or limes, grapefruit and lemons. But never a cocktail. Slot-machine addicts will recognize it as the one-armed bandit that never pays off. It is strictly for the customer who wants a fruit cocktail base for his drink.

"Cocktail" is a misnomer for the tree. It is innocent as a dove, sober as a judge, pure as the driven snow and ripe for membership in the WCTU.

REALIZATION of a Martini Tree or a Bloody Mary Bush (half potato, half tomato with a slight graft of sagebrush) is in the distant future. It will be some time between the poet sings:
 "Woodman, spare that tree,
 Touch not a single sap,
 I will not see it come to harm.
 While it gives bourbon sap."

WAGES AND PRICES have been brought in the presidential domain, despite the president's flat declaration before the U. S. Chamber of Commerce — "We do not seek to set prices."

Unless we are to have ad hoc decisions, it will be necessary to find a procedure, a method — preferably by law — to serve as a guide not only for negotiators, but also for presidential aides.

Even the 3 per cent productivity formula for wage settlements, set forth as a guide by the Council of Economic Advisers, has an element of economic caprice and accident. The 3 per cent is an average. It may not be fair to workers in underpaid industries or workers in industries in which labor is scarce. It may be too generous to workers in well-paid industries.

If that be so, to whom does the 3 per cent formula apply, and who is to decide, and how?

Sweetness And Flight

LULA, Miss. (AP)—Due to his sensitive nose, Dr. Namo Yeates keeps his office fresh by spraying perfume around every now and then.

This practice backfired in one case. A male patient arrived home smelling sweet and his suspicious wife opened up on him with a pistol.

The fellow ran for his life but was plugged in the leg. So back he went to Dr. Yeates' office to have the bullet cut out. "I didn't charge him," Dr. Yeates said.

Lions Conventions To Open Friday

LAMESA (SC) — The District 72 Lions convention, opening here Tuesday, is expected to be the biggest of its kind ever conducted in Lamesa. From 600 to 700 Lions from 21 West Texas counties are expected.

A luncheon kicks off the activity Friday at the National Guard armory. In addition to local and out-of-town members and spouses, the Lamesa civic clubs have also been invited.

The featured speaker will be Dr. Charles W. Jarvis, D.D.S., humorist, philosopher of San Marcos. His topic will be "Getting Along With Others" or "Only Skin Them Once."

Other highlights of the convention include a district queen's contest and show Friday night, which will be open to the general public. Other special entertainment is planned for the contest, titled "Sweethearts and Swing."

Saturday's program includes breakfast meetings for Lions and their ladies; and "international" luncheon for Lionesses; a noon luncheon for club presidents and secretaries and the Saturday night banquet and governor's ball.

A district cabinet meeting will be conducted at 5:30 p.m. Thursday. At 8 p.m. on the same day, early arrivals and the governor's cabinet members will be treated to a buffet supper at Lamesa Country Club, site of a Lion's golf journey. Tee off time is 8 a.m. Friday.

X15's Altitude Estimate Down, But Still Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—It's still a record for winged aircraft, but the X15 achieved about 246,700 feet altitude in its test flight Monday, and not 253,000 feet as first reported.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration Tuesday revised downward to 46.7 miles the height reached by the rocket plane. The previous mark for the X15 was 217,000 feet.

The 246,700-foot figure is still tentative and further study of radar data will be necessary before a final figure is released.

DEAR ABBY

There'll Be A Message

DEAR ABBY: I am a freshman in college and, believe it or not, I have never kissed a girl. I mean really KISSED her. I have given girls little innocent pecks on the cheek, but that doesn't count. This may sound nuts but I have dated plenty of girls and, while everyone else is making out, we sit and talk. I spoke to a buddy of mine and he said, "Don't ASK a girl if you can kiss her. Just grab her and kiss her." I would die of embarrassment if she pushed me away. Does a guy just grab a girl or does he ask first?

SHY GUY

DEAR SHY: A kiss should be more of a spontaneous act than a planned campaign. If you have to ASK a girl for permission, the whole thing would probably be a big let-down. Wait until you get the "message."

and well, but our friends say that we can't do it because of that first marriage she had. In view of the fact that she never had a "real" wedding, don't you think we should go ahead with our plans?

HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Although your daughter never had a large church wedding, she did have a "real" marriage ceremony. Forego the veil and gown for a simple wedding.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "Alone and in love" that if she is the woman who is in love with my husband, she'd better get used to being "alone" because there is not going to be a divorce in this family!

AWARE WIFE

For a personal (unpublished) reply to your problem, send Abby a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

DEAR ABBY: My brother and his wife were married for three years. They were divorced and stayed apart for almost a year. Then they were remarried to each other. If they had not been divorced, they would be celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary this June. Would it be proper to entertain at an open house for their "25th anniversary" anyway, and ignore the time they were apart? Incidentally, a daughter was born to them before their divorce.

MIDWEST

DEAR MIDWEST: Be generous and ignore the divorce.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter was married two years ago, but it wasn't much of a wedding. She eloped with a schoolboy sweetheart. It lasted only a year and now she is getting married again. We want to give her a large church wedding with a white gown

82-Channel TV Set Bill Passed
 WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to require that all new television sets be built to receive 82 channels was passed by the House Wednesday and sent to the Senate.
 The 279-90 roll call vote followed a voice vote of approval in the House Tuesday.
 The measure would require television set manufacturers shipping in interstate commerce to provide for reception of the 70 ultra high frequency channels as well as for the 12 very high frequency channels most commonly used.
 At present there are only 103 UHF stations, whereas the 70 UHF channels would provide room for 1,544 stations.

Primary Winners

Former Oklahoma Governor Raymond Gary, left, led a field of 12 in the Democratic gubernatorial primary and Republican Henry Bellmon, right, won his party's nomination for governor. Gary, who was governor from 1955 to 1959, faces a runoff. Oklahoma has never had a Republican governor.

Rural Voters Still Possess Strength

WASHINGTON (AP)—Politicians had new evidence today that the country folks still have a potent voice in states where voting reapportionment is an issue.
 But this was about the only trend discernible in Tuesday's gubernatorial primary elections in Alabama and Oklahoma.

Former Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma, who openly opposed a reapportionment plan to give urban voters of that state a bigger voice, drew heavy support in the rural areas to lead a 12-man field in the Democratic primary.
 And in Alabama, former Circuit Judge George C. Wallace, an ardent segregationist, harvested a substantial share of his votes in rural areas to lead in the Democratic primary.

Both men meet the runners-up in runoff elections later this month, and it is uncertain where the urban votes, spread over several candidates Tuesday, will go.

Another former governor trying to return to public life, James E. Folsom of Alabama, was losing his battle with State Sen. Ryan deGraffenreid for the runoff spot opposite Wallace. Folsom, who ran behind in the cities, appeared unable to make up enough ground on deGraffenreid as results from rural ballot boxes trickled in.

Gary, who gained national attention by supporting the unsuccessful bid of then Gov. W. Averell Harriman of New York for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination, will meet W. P. Bill Atkinson, millionaire homebuilder, in the May 22 runoff.
 The winner will take on Republican Henry Bellmon in November. A Republican has never been elected governor of Oklahoma.

The fate of a third former governor and two incumbents who hope to stretch their tenure in office to lengths unprecedented in their states will be determined later this month.

In Arkansas, former Gov. Sidney S. McMath got into a May 29 primary race that Gov. Orval Faubus hopes will bring him a record fifth term in the statehouse.

McMath, tabbed a liberal, indicated he will attack Faubus' actions in the Little Rock school integration controversy. Rep. Dale Alford, a militant segregationist, also is in the race.

Gov. Price Daniel tests in a Saturday primary the sentiment of the voters on his attempt to become Texas' first four-term chief executive in principal opponent seems to be John Connally, former secretary of the Navy.

There will be a runoff June 2 if none of the several candidates gets a majority. Entries include Edwin A. Walker, the former Army general who was admonished for his troop indoctrination program.

Although Sen. John G. Tower proved there is plenty of conservative strength when he was elected in 1961 as the first Republican senator from Texas since Reconstruction days, Walker is not expected to cut any figure in the race.

Farmer's Panel Rejection Not Estes Case Link

PECOS (AP)—A rejection for consideration as a member of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee was no reflection on him, Bill Mattox says.

In a formal statement, the Reeves County farmer and member of the county ASC since 1956, said he was among five men considered for the state post. He said he was eliminated from consideration by Vice President Lyndon Johnson's office solely for reasons of geographic location and that he agreed with the vice president's action.

Mattox made the statement in denying that he had ever asked Billie Sol Estes to recommend him for the state position. Mattox' name has been mentioned in the investigation into Estes' financial affairs.
 The statement also said that the Reeves County committee was very reluctant to approve transfer of cotton allotments to Estes land but "this sort of transfer is part of the law passed by Congress. The law was made for the purpose of preventing hardships to persons displaced from their land by eminent domain procedure."

Sea Ordeal Ends Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A harrowing, 10-day ordeal at sea was to end today for the skipper of a converted World War II sub-chaser and his 13-year-old daughter.

Jeff L. Hodges, 35, of San Jose, Calif., and his daughter, Sandra, were still aboard the 107-foot, wooden-hulled Pelican as it headed towards San Francisco, under tow by the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Taney.

Hodges left Gray's Harbor, Wash., in the old craft April 22, expecting to sail down the coast to San Francisco in about a week.

But the Pelican, which hadn't been sailed for seven years, developed engine trouble and Hodges and his daughter drifted helplessly for almost 10 days.

They were located southwest of Monterey Bay, about 95 miles west of Pt. Sur after drifting some 200 miles. When found they were nearly out of food, because high wind had blown some overboard.

But the Coast Guard said both Hodges, an experienced seafarer, and Sandra were in good shape. They did not require medical attention and elected to stay aboard the Pelican, which Hodges plans to use as a cargo vessel.
