'CORPSE' IS STILL ALIVE

In That Cactus Bed, He May Have Wished He Was Dead

They got all ready for an inquest to determine the cause of death but when the justice of the peace got to the scene, the "corpse" was gone.

Furthermore, the man, who was supposed to play the principal role in the inquest, is recovering nicely in a hospital at Snyder. His condition was described as good Thursday.

It all occurred on Wednesday afternoon. William Snow, a 55-year-old resident of Post, was traveling west in a pickup truck on the Snyder highway. A few miles east of the Vincent turnoff, he lost control. The pickup rolled over a number of times finally flipping Snow out of the wreckage. He was thrown over a fence into a pasture where he landed in a huge cluster of prickly pears.

Horrified witnesses made a hasty examination of the victim and came to the conclusion he was dead.

An ambulance from Big Spring was summoned and Walter Grice, justice of the peace, was called to the scene to hold an inquest as is required in deaths of violence.

Meantime, before Grice and the Big Spring ambulance could reach the scene another ambulance from Snyder arrived and took the driver to Snyder. He was admitted to the hospital there.

U. S. Forces Move Up To Laos Border

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — U.S. Marines, carrying a bristling array of bazookas and other arms, moved up to Thailand's border with Communist-weakened Laos today.

One of their officers declared they will stay "as long as we are needed."

A task force of 1,800 Leathernecks in brown-green-blue jungle uniforms came ashore from U.S. 7th Fleet warships at Bangkok with rifles, grenade launchers, machine guns and bazookas and were greeted by the cheering Thai crowds.

Thailand's government had invited American forces to help defend the border which was threatened by a Communist offensive in Laos last week.

The first Marines were flown immediately in huge Hercules transports to a point about 40 miles southeast of the Laos capital of Vientiane—a flat area that is hot and dusty in summer and wet and muddy in winter.

500-MILE ARC American forces were expected to be strung out in a 500-mile arc along the Mekong River border from the Vientiane area to the southern extremity of Laos.

The nearest tip of the arc is more than 200 miles southeast of Houei Sai, where the Communist offensive in northwest Laos threatened Thailand's frontier.

The Americans' position was designed to carry no threat of immediate contact with pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces, but would make it possible to back up the royal government at Vientiane if the Communists continued their drive to seize the administrative capital.

The U.S. combat command in Thailand seemed likely to be bolstered soon by units from other members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan announced plans to send Royal Air Force fighter units to Thailand if requested. Australia and New Zealand also were reportedly ready to send token forces.

An uneasy quiet prevailed in adjoining Laos—potential flashpoint for a war that could spill over that country's borders. U.S. officials were hopeful that the American show of force would deter the so far victorious pro-Communist rebels and that the leaders of the country's three factions would agree on a coalition government.

FIRST BATCH

Greeted by American diplomatic and military officials and Marshal Dawee Chullasapa, chief of staff of Thailand's armed forces, the first batch of 1,400 U.S. Marines landed at Bangkok's port district of Klong Toey from the LSD (landing ship dock) Point Defiance and the attack transport Navarro.

Another 400 aboard the carrier Valley Forge were flown by helicopters to Bangkok's Don Muang Airport.

U.S. C130 Hercules transports were warned up to rush the Marines to bases in northeast Thailand to start patrolling along the Mekong River nearby between Thailand and Laos.

Led by Lt. Col. Fred A. Steele of Ventura, Calif., the Marine task force will bolster a 1,200-man American Army combat group already in Thailand since the SEATO maneuvers here two weeks ago. That group was to be strengthened by another 700 men (See LAOS, Pg. 2-A, Col. 2)

U.S. Considers Resuming Aid To Push Laos Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is considering resuming monthly $5-million payments to Laos if the Boun Oum government acts promptly to promote negotiation for a new coalition regime pledged to cold war neutrality.

This may mean a shakeup in the government at Vientiane centered on the present strong man, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan. Kennedy administration officials from the President down are reported to have lost confidence in Phoumi. Associates say that President Kennedy holds the general, who controls several government ministries, responsible for the military crisis in Laos during the past two weeks. He further feels that Phoumi blocked successful negotiations in the past for a government of national union embracing pro-Western and pro-Communist leaders under a neutralist prime minister.

Until last February the United States had paid Laos about $3 million a month for several years, the funds being designed for payment of salaries for troops and police. Phoumi controls the security forces as minister of defense and minister of the interior. He also holds the post of deputy prime minister under Prince Boun Oum.

The payments were stopped in February as a means of putting pressure on Phoumi to drop certain conditions which he had imposed for an agreement to the proposed coalition regime.

In the last few days Phoumi has told U.S. representatives, according to reports to Washington, that he was prepared to see the defense and interior posts go to a neutralist. The feeling of officials here, however, is that he still wants in effect to exercise a veto right over the choice and that this may impede prospective negotiations.

9 Persons Served As City Gets Appeals Cases Back

Nine persons were served capias pro fines Wednesday on cases appealed from corporation court to county court and then returned back to the city. The order returning the appeals to the city was based on faulty bonds.

The nine people served with the papers involved 10 offenses for which fines had been assessed in corporation court. Four of those arrested paid their fines and five spent the night in the city jail in lieu of fines.

Forty of 58 appeals ordered back to the city were delivered by the county clerk at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday. Fifteen capias pro fines, signed by Judge W. H. Eysen Jr., were issued Wednesday night. Twenty-four more were issued Thursday morning and were to be served.

County Attorney Wayne Burns and County Judge Ed Carpenter were to go through more appeals Thursday afternoon and many of those are expected to be ordered back to the city because of faulty bonds. Cases returned to the city cannot be appealed again due to the time limit.

The 10 cases handled by police thus far include five for drunkenness, (one paid $25 and four in jail); one speeding, $6 paid; one violation of dance ordinance, $25 paid; one working without a health permit card, $15 paid; one charged with failure to control speed to avoid accident $20; and one for driver's license $20, in jail.

A man and wife arrested and put in jail, both of whom had been charged with drunkenness and had appealed, told police that they had paid an attorney over $200 for appealing the case and wondered if they could get some of the money back.

Unless defense lawyers come up with some surprise legal artillery this afternoon, Wayne Burns, plans to ask the county court to rule that it has no jurisdiction to hear 48 appeal cases on file from corporation court.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press The Weather Bureau today issued a forecast for possible tornadoes from 1 to 7 p.m. in an area along and 60 miles on each side of a line from 50 miles northeast of Dalhart to Midland.

This takes in most of the South Plains and Panhandle and includes such cities as Borger, Pampa, Amarillo, Plainview, Levelland, Lubbock, Big Spring, Brownfield, Lamesa and Midland.

Connally Due Here Friday On 'Whistle Stop'

John Connally, Democratic candidate for governor, comes into Big Spring Friday, and the atmosphere of his visit is reminiscent of the campaign methods of years ago.

Connally will be aboard a special three-car T&P train, in a "whistle stop" tour across Texas from Texarkana to El Paso.

He is due to arrive at the T&P station here at 4:30 p.m., will be greeted by local authorities, and will speak from the train platform. Then, he and his family will remain in Big Spring overnight.

Connally supporters issued a blanket invitation for all people to join in the welcome at the station and were hopeful that several hundred people will appear.

There are more than 30 press representatives aboard the Connally special, which was traveling today from Texarkana to Fort Worth with stops at every station. The train is due to have some 50 people aboard. A barbecue supper has been arranged Friday evening for the visiting press.

Connally is being accompanied by Mrs. Connally and their three children, John III, 15; Sharon, 12, and Mark 9.

Official welcome from the city will be extended the family by Mayor George Zachariah, who is to present two novel gifts. Young Mark will get a couple of horned toads as representative of the West Texas country, and Mrs. Connally will be presented with free-form figures of polystyrene, which come out of the Cosden plant incidental to Cosden's production of commercial polystyrene. The unusual shapes are used as home decorations.

The special train is to leave here at 7:45 Saturday morning, will make stops at all stations west, and is to arrive in El Paso Saturday at 4:30.

It's Still A Big Country

WASHINGTON (AP) — For 11 seconds Wednesday you could have had an acre of National Forest all to yourself—theoretically. But that's all over now.

The big moments came at about 4:30 p.m. The Commerce Department's population clock showed there were 186,160,811 Americans. That's the exact number of acres in the nation's National Forests.

The clock showed an increase of one citizen 11 seconds later. So someone would have had to share his acre—or everyone would have lost a little bit of land.

Freeman Talks With President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman spent 20 minutes with President Kennedy today, but the White House would not disclose the purpose of Freeman's unscheduled visit.

Ast. Press Sec. Andrew Hatcher was asked whether the conference might have dealt with the Billie Sol Estes case. He replied that he did not know what the President and Freeman talked about, and did not want to speculate.

Plane On Orbit Mission Crashes

Death Of 14 Won't Change NASA's Plans

All From One High School

Yarbo. Miss Tesson is a part of the court of royalty that will present awards to winning teams and individuals. The awards the students held here have already been won by Mauldin and Yarbo.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. transport plane on a mission related to Saturday's planned space flight by astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter crashed today near Nairobi, Kenya. The Air Force said all 14 aboard apparently were killed.

The Air Force said all 14 were Air Force personnel, not immediately connected with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

NASA itself had said earlier that none of the seven Mercury astronauts was aboard the C130 Hercules. Inquiries about the astronauts were based on the fact that some of the astronauts draw assignments at points along the line of flight for manned shots.

The wreckage of the C130 was found on a mountain near Nairobi, to which the aircraft was en route.

CRAFT BURNED

It apparently burned on impact, the Air Force said. Two helicopters from Nairobi had reached the scene.

The Air Force said that normally a C130 carries a crew of four. This would indicate the others were passengers.

No names were available immediately and the Air Force knew only that the flight was in connection with the forthcoming manned satellite flight.

At Cape Canaveral, a Project Mercury spokesman said the C130 was "a logistic plane—a supply plane—for the Nairobi-Kenya contingency site."

The Air Force tells us that it crashed at 3:27 a.m. EST while making an approach to the Nairobi air field," he said.

The spokesman said the plane was from the Evreux Air Base in France and was assigned to the 32nd Air Division.

NO CHANGE IN PLANS

Based on information available, he said, the crash would not affect plans to launch Malcolm Scott Carpenter into orbital flight Saturday.

A contingency site provides planes to search for the astronaut and his spacecraft if he comes down in an unscheduled landing area.

The Nairobi station is not located near one of the 17 Mercury tracking stations, which maintain contact with an orbiting spacecraft. This reduces the likelihood that tracking personnel were aboard the C130, the spokesman indicated.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it had no information on who from the agency might have been aboard the plane. None of the seven Mercury astronauts could have been aboard, however. In addition to Carpenter, Walter M. Schirra Jr., John H. Glenn Jr., and Virgil I. Grissom are at Cape Canaveral where they have been assigned duties to perform during the orbital flight. Alan B. Shepard Jr. is at the tracking site at Point Arguelo, Calif. L. Gordon Cooper Jr. at the station at Guaymas, Mexico, and Donald K. Slayton at the station in Muecha, Australia. Shepard, Cooper and Slayton have been at their assigned stations for the last week.

Oil Flow Still On 8-Day Plan

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission ordered today that Texas oil wells be held back to an eight-day production pattern in June. It was the fifth straight month for the record-low scale.

The commission order set the total allowable for the month at 2,785,724 barrels a day, an increase of 49,456 barrels daily, caused primarily by the shorter calendar month of June.

Nine major producers and purchasers appearing at the production hearing asked that the production scale be held at eight days. Three asked that it be set at a new low of seven days.

The commission order was the 12th eight-day pattern in 14 months. When the record low scale was ordered for last May, it was seven months before a nine-day scale was set in December.

A nine-day pattern for next month would have meant an increase in production quotas of 240,959 barrels a day. A seven-day scale would have dropped quotas 142,046 barrels daily.

The nominations: Eight days—Indiana Oil 228-

000; Texaco 150,000; Sun 105,150; Mobil 228,600; shell 160,30; Humble 382,635; Atlantic 80,170; Gulf 214,485; and Standard of Texas 35,200.

Seven days—Cities Service 79,500; Sinclair 111,800; Phillips 122,757.

F. B. Cochran, speaking for independent producers of the Corpus Christi area, also asked an eight-day allowable.

Major purchasers and producers made pre-hearing nominations totaling 2,507,201 barrels a day, up 51,414 barrels daily from May primarily because of the one less calendar day in May than June.

The Bureau of Mines forecast a demand for Texas crude in June of 2,540,000 barrels a day, up 25,000 from this month.

B. F. Harrison, representing Southern Minerals Corp., told the commission the company's stock on hand totaled 751,000 barrels, 400,000 above the desired level.

"We hope the commission will lift the proration," Harrison said.

Cities Service said that under an eight-day allowable, they would sell 9,900 barrels daily. Humble said they will retain sales of 20,000 barrels daily under an eight-day pattern. Mobil said their 228,600-barrel nomination will allow them to buy 8,000 barrels daily.

Sinclair planned to sell from 3,000 to 5,000 barrels daily on the eight-day schedule.

The allowable by districts is: Dist. 1, 51,080 barrels a day, up 253 barrels daily; Dist. 2, 115,421, up 2,761; Dist. 3, 345,794, up 3,617; Dist. 4, 188,816, up 3,723; Dist. 5, 29,225, up 480; Dist. 6 (outside East Texas Field), 131,277, up 2,794; Dist. 6 (East Texas Field), 126,447, up 2,735; Dist. 7B, 138,593, up 1,589; Dist. 7C, 126,163, up 2,474; Dist. 8, 1,098,028, up 24,000; Dist. 9, 262,485, up 1,973; and Dist. 10, 122,929, up 725.

The SEC said that, as part of its broad investigation of the securities industry, it will make a spot check later of personal stock dealings by those named in the questionnaires returned by the 50 funds.

To facilitate the check, the funds are being asked to report all purchases and sales made between Dec. 1, 1960, and June 30, 1961.

The reason, the treasurer said, is that the state went into the fiscal year begun last July 1 with a $14 million hidden deficit, one left over from the year before.

Gov. Jimmie Davis is scheduled to address a joint session Sunday night.

Davis has produced his proposed $60 million bond program to help erase the deficit. He will lay out his administration plan for state spending during the fiscal year starting July 1.

State treasurer A. P. Tugwell, first man to warn of the current overspending trap that has caught lawmakers, estimated at a House committee hearing before they quit for the weekend there will be a $10 million deficit next fiscal year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. and Japanese scientists sent two rockets 78 and 80 miles into space Wednesday to test the temperature and density of the ionosphere.

The two firings from Wallops Island, Va., completed a series of three shots begun April 26, and a U.S. space official said preliminary data indicates all three were successful.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission says it is investigating the possibility that some mutual fund insiders are profiting from data not available to the public.

The SEC said it was distributing a special questionnaire to 50 unnamed mutual funds. It wants the names of all persons who might have access to advance information about changes in the stock portfolios of the funds.

Since mutual funds often buy or sell stocks in large quantities that influence prices, and because they benefit from costly research advice, an insider who knew in advance of a pending transaction might be able to cash in on his knowledge.

ARMED FORCES DAY

Webb AFB Is Ready For Big Open House

Webb AFB is ready for a big open house affair Saturday in commemoration of Armed Forces Day. All day there will be fly-overs of various military craft, and during the afternoon there will be close-ups of many military planes as well as static exhibits along the life at Webb.

Earlier, Col. Kenneth O. Desert, chief of the systems plan directorate for technical training, will address a luncheon gathering at 11:30 a.m. in the Officers Club where Col. Wilson H. Banks is serving as host.

The open house affair at the base will get under way at 12:30 p.m., and at 1:30 p.m. there will be a flyby of eight T-37s, followed within minutes by a flyby of eight T-33s, then four T-38s, six F-104s and three F-105s. Finally at 3:05 p.m. there will be a single T-38 in demonstration of this new trainer's phenomenal climbing ability. Static displays will include T-37s, T-33s, T-38s and H-43s from the training section at Webb and F-102s from the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb, KG-135 tanker from Walker AFB, N. M., F-100 from Cannon AFB, N. M., F-101 and F-9F from Naval Air Service at Kingsville.

Other displays will include those from the chaplain's office, physiological training, Girl Scouts, Little League, base hospital, civilian personnel, personal equipment, Civil Defense. There will be a rescue demonstration at hangar T-1, and at 2:10 p.m. there will be an engine change demonstration.

Concession stands with soft drinks, snow-cones, sandwiches, coffee, ice cream, etc., will be operated.

from Hawaii and Okinawa, and U.S. Army, Marine and Air Forces in Thailand will total about 2,000 men.

GENERAL ARRIVES
Lt. Gen. James L. Richardson, judge advocate general and deputy chief of U.S. Army forces in the Pacific, returned to Saigon, South Viet Nam, on his way to Bangkok to take command of the American forces in Thailand. In Saigon he conferred with Gen. Paul D. Harbo, who leads U.S. forces in both Viet Nam and Thailand.

The American Marines and infantrymen are expected to be strong and close a 90-mile arc running from Udon, a town just below the Laotian capital of Vientiane, and east and south to Ubon, across from the southern part of Laos near Cambodia. Both Udon and Ubon have airports and are on rail lines to Bangkok.

The American invasion-by-invitation of this ancient land of Buddhist temples, smiling people and rich rice fields went off smoothly.

Mr. F. R. Alford, Sr., of Buffalo, N.Y., visited the group of Marines expected to be in Thailand. "As long as we are needed," he replied serenely.

TRAIL TRUCKS HELP
Royal Thai army trucks rushed the Marines to Don Mueang Airport where they joined the group being airlifted from the carrier Valley Forge.

Within five hours the first big transport transport took off with Marines for the rail and highway center of Korat, about 100 miles northeast of Bangkok.

A spokesman said the airlift out of Bangkok may take up to two days.

Korat, a staging center for further movement south, has rail lines to Nongkhai, on the Laotian border in the north, and to Udon, a large town near the frontier northeast of Bangkok.

Movement of the Marines to the northeast—instead of to the southwest—where the pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces drove closest to the Thai border—was seen in Bangkok as an attempt to demonstrate U.S. intentions of avoiding anything resembling aggressive action.

FIRST WAVE
The first wave came ashore at daybreak.

With youthful Marines lining the railings, the Point Defiance and the Navarro steamed up Chao Phraya River to land them at King Toey with their battle equipment.

The first Marine ashore was Capt. Maurice H. Ivins, 35, of Chambersburg, Pa., a platoon commander. The Leathernecks were quiet with little to say.

The swift action by President

Kennedy is sending troops to stand by worried Thailand drew the approval of other nations at the anti-Communist Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

SEATO's permanent council in Bangkok emphasized in a statement that the American buildup of military, paramilitary and police forces in Thailand is also aimed at a warning that any Communist aggression will be resisted.

British Prime Minister Macmillan met Wednesday night with his defense committee of senior cabinet ministers and military chiefs. Macmillan was expected to tell Parliament later today that Britain is ready to send about 300 men to Thailand. Britain has 300 more Marine commandos aboard the aircraft carrier Bulwark at Singapore, North Borneo, about 48 hours from Bangkok.

AUSRE ADD
Australian Foreign Minister Sir Garfield Barwick told his Parliament today that Australia might also send regular army troops to Thailand if the Thai ask for military aid.

New Zealand's Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake told newsmen in Wellington his government is considering dispatching a small contingent to augment the American force.

"It is most important New Zealand should join the Allies in demonstrating solidarity with Thailand at a time when the military situation in northern Laos has seriously deteriorated with Communist forces moving very near the borders of Thailand," he said.

France, Pakistan and the Philippines are the other members of the eight-nation SEATO alliance. The Philippines had previously pressed for intervention in Laos when serious fighting there first flared up. France was against any such move at that time.

There were no reports of fighting in Laos since the royal forces of Houei Sai and in panic across the Mekong River into Thailand a week ago.

NEARLY COMPLETE
The U.S.-backed airlift of about 2,000 Laotian troops back to government-held territory was nearing completion.

Hanging over rebel-held territory in northern Laos from Chongkai, in northern Thailand, reconnaissance pilots reported they failed to spot any Communist troops.

The Reds advanced on Houei Sai after overrunning the provincial capital of Nam Tho, 80 miles to the north, but never actually occupied the border town abandoned by the royalist troops.

There was speculation in Chongkai that the rebels might have withdrawn their main forces to Nam Tho, which the pro-Western Laotian government had built up as a stronghold but gave up after a brief fight.

Commander L.L. Gen. James L. Richardson Jr., 32-year-old Nebraska, is the new U.S. field commander in Thailand.

An expert on jungle guerrilla warfare, Richardson will lead a joint task force consisting of air, sea and ground units in Thailand.

30 Apply For Manager's Job

Thirty applications for the position of city manager of Big Spring had been received through Thursday morning, Roy Anderson, acting manager, said. Two have come in since the city commission meeting May 8.

"The commission agreed," Anderson said, "to attend the Texas City Managers Association spring meeting at Abilene June 18-22 where they will screen those who seem to be qualified for the Big Spring job. They will then interview those in whom they are interested to come to Big Spring for further questioning and to see what the job here entails."

The commission had asked for applications from four men whose names were submitted by Steve Matthews of the Texas Municipal League; Herbert Whitney, city manager of Corpus Christi; and A. K. Steinheimer, city manager of Big Spring who has taken a similar post at Beaumont. Several names were submitted by all three men.

No date has been set for the employment of a manager by the commission.

Runaway Rail Car Nearly Brings Disaster To Waco

WACO (AP)—A runaway railroad gondola car, loaded with 90 tons of gravel, headed for a potentially disastrous trip today across Waco's busiest streets but halted when it hit a trailer-truck and stopped.

An empty gondola which ran away with the loaded one killed one man and injured another before overturning.

The cars were parked at a construction firm site at the western edge of the city.

They broke loose and headed downhill toward the city.

The empty car ran over and killed Elmer Hill, 56, a Tyler railroad construction crew worker. It injured T. H. Carter, another crewman from Greenville. Then it overturned.

Cotton Belt railway authorities dispatched a switch engine to meet the runaway car head-on to stop it from a possible destructive trip through Waco's business section. Employees began frantically telephoning business firms along the right-of-way to warn them.

The gondola rammed about four blocks before it rammed the cab of the trailer truck which was parked partly on the rail.

First graders for the 1962-63 school year and their parents will get a preview Friday of what school life will be like at all elementary schools in the Big Spring Independent School District, according to Setnor E. Williams, assistant superintendent.

A special round-up program has been scheduled beginning at 3 p.m. to acquaint youngsters and their parents with school. The children will get a chance to see a classroom in operation and parents will be informed of important details of entering a child in school.

The parents will be told about state and local age requirements, birth certificate requirements, immunization, school hours, attendance, health services and other subjects. They will also find out what they should do to help prepare a child to enter school.

"While parents are being given this information, the prospective students will tour the classrooms," Williams said. "They will be divided into small groups whenever possible."

The program has been scheduled to coincide with the usual 2 p.m. dismissal of classes so parents can see both the classroom routine and the building crowd when school is dismissed.

Registration should be made with Mrs. Rube McNew at 1908 Settle. The $5 registration fee covers the cost of milk, ice, groceries for the cookouts, supplies, crafts materials, baby sitting for children of volunteer adult leaders, etc.

These People Got Well Headaches

This man came to the office suffering with violent headaches. The headaches had a four year history with the last headaches lasting two months (day and night). Prior treatment had not been able to do more than to dull the headache and then it would resume in full intensity. Spinal examination disclosed the cause and work was begun to reduce and eliminate the cause. This was over four years ago and when we saw the patient several months ago (for another condition) he reported that he still was well and there had been no recurrence and the headaches were gone. No. 49.

Neuritis

Over two years ago this patient came complaining of pains in the neck and shoulders with pains radiating into the arms and head on occasions. Nervousness and constant fatigue were other complaints. She had suffered a severe fall a number of months prior which evidently was the cause of the spine damage we located. We prescribed a number of treatments but we were able to dismiss the patient much earlier than anticipated as the condition and pains rapidly disappeared. According to her son whom we treat occasionally, there has never been any recurrence of the troubles. No. 405.

SACRIFICE FOR SINS

By A Christian Writer

"And He bearing His cross went forth unto a place called the place of a skull

... where they crucified Him, and two others with Him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst." Verses 17, 18.

The prophet saw these things about 500 years ahead of time, and said, "because He hath poured out His soul unto death and He was numbered with the transgressors; and he bore the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors." Isa. 53: 6, 12.

"Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in His blood." Rom. 3: 25.

The benefit of this sacrifice for sin is not forced upon anyone.

Niki Sees Improvement In Yugoslav Relations

VARNA, Bulgaria (AP)—Premier Khrushchev says the Soviet Union's long-strained relations with Communist Yugoslavia are once again good.

"Our relations with Yugoslavia were rather strained previously," Khrushchev declared Wednesday, "but now I can say with satisfaction that our relations are normal and I would even say good."

Speaking before a crowd of 30,000 Bulgarians in the main square of Varna, a Black Sea resort city, Khrushchev declared that the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia are in harmony on many questions and commercial ties between the two countries are improving continuously.

"We are also ready to develop scientific and cultural relations with Yugoslavia in the interests of strengthening peace," he said. Tito's independent brand of communism caused the first split in Communist ranks after World War II, and the United States has sought to encourage Tito's independent course with large-scale economic and military aid.

DEAR ABBY

There's An Answer

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that so many people who would not think of eating peas with their knives think it is all right to ask my elderly mother how old she is? This seems to be their first question after making her acquaintance. No matter how casual the relationship. It is an annoyance to her. Will you please print a suitable answer to this bold and presumptuous question.

DEAR ABBY: Would you please tell me the true, up-to-date meaning when a boy gives a girl his fraternity pin? I have been going with this boy for quite some time now and he wants to give me his fraternity pin. My parents say it means you are engaged to be married and, since we can't even think about getting married yet, they won't let me accept it. The boy says it means we are going steady—not engaged. Please print your answer. ALMOST PINNED

DEAR ALMOST: I don't know what it means on other campuses, but at California, Colorado, Illinois, Oklahoma and Iowa it means you are "engaged" to be engaged. A fraternity pin these days rarely sticks one for life.

DEAR ABBY: To the "Other Woman" who has never lied or cheated on "her man" for 5 years and expects to have him for her husband some day: I am the wife of such a man. He will cheat every chance he gets. Madame, you have a few facts to learn. A man who cheats on his wife never stops. His wife is not ignorant of his behavior, but is too much a lady to bring disgrace on her family. She would rather have people think her stupid than to let her children know what an immoral, spineless heel their father

Carpenter In Final Stages Of Preparation For Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Physical condition excellent and mental outlook bright, astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter swung into the final stage of preparations today for his high ride on the orbital trail.

Project Mercury officials said plans are progressing smoothly for a Saturday launch of the Navy Lieutenant commander in his Aurora 7 spacecraft. But they are keeping a weather eye cocked the emergency landing area in the Atlantic Ocean east of Bermuda.

Seas were reported running 11 feet high Wednesday in the area where the spacecraft would land if it did not go into proper orbit and had to be brought down after separation from the Atlas booster. Meanwhile, Dr. William Douglas said Carpenter, 37, and his backup pilot, Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr., are in top physical condition.

home in Palmer Lake, Colo., the elder Carpenter recalled his son's first flight into space — as a year-old baby. The future astronaut climbed from his crib, tumbled into space and hit his head on a radiator. He has a small scar over his left eye to show for that outing.

And when he was 8 he almost fell into the scalding water of a geyser at Yellowstone National Park.

"He tried to poke a stick in to see what made it boil," the father said.

The elder Carpenter plans to watch his son's flight on television and said he is not especially worried about it.

"Our American team values Seventeen more Negro 'Freedom Bus North' riders are headed for New York and Philadelphia today. And a segregationist group announced it hopes to send a busload of Negro families to Hyannis Port, Mass., where President Kennedy has a summer home.

human life and they won't let the boys go up until every contingency imaginable is taken care of," he said.

In the final days before the launching, the astronaut and his backup pilot will switch to a low-residue diet to prepare their systems for a possible 4 hour and 45 minute flight.

Presumably, Carpenter will go into seclusion in Hangar 3 with only telephone contact with his pretty wife, Rene. The blonde mother of the four Carpenter children is staying at a private home in nearby Cocoa Beach.

She came here earlier this week from the family home at Langley Air Force Base, Va. She said she prefers to watch the beginning of her husband's flight from the beach.

"There's nothing at all like it," she said, "to stand on the beach and see it go up — and the prayerful attitude of the crowd."

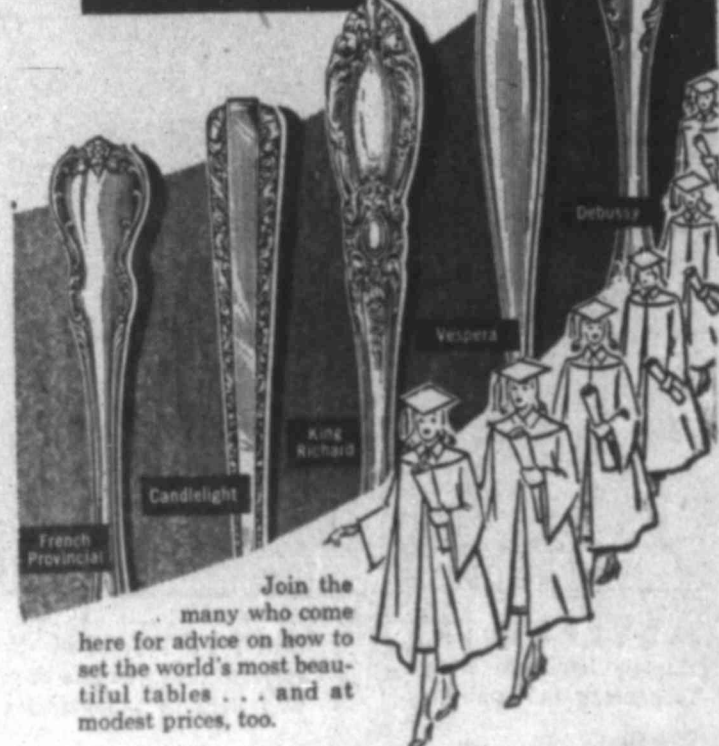

Another new experiment has been added to Carpenter's flight plan. Each time he passes over Australia — at an altitude of more than 100 miles — he will try to spot the light from three million-candle-power flares at the Woomera Tracking Station. It will be night time in Australia.

Honoring Mrs. Short

Mrs. L. B. Tovrea, Mrs. G. W. Vaughn, Mrs. N. E. Buhner, Mrs. Alfred L. Short, Mrs. L. M. Standish, and Mrs. W. G. Daoust, from left, at the Wednesday tea honoring Mrs. Short. Others were the hostesses who received during the afternoon guests at Webb Officers' Club.

Afternoon Tea Given Honoring Mrs. Short

A spring bouquet and colorful afternoon attire were noted Wednesday afternoon when a tea was given at Webb Officers' Club as a farewell gesture honoring Mrs. Alfred L. Short. Receiving the guests, Mrs. Short was attired in a full-skirted dark cotton, styled with molded bodice and rose piping on the scooped neckline. She wore matching rose-tinted shoes and a corsage presented by the hostesses. Capt. and Mrs. Short, both of whom are musicians and known for their talents in this field, are to leave soon for his new assignment with the Air Force in Alaska.

Some 70 guests were served during the tea hours, from 1 until 3 o'clock. The tea table was spread with an ornate Army and Navy cloth detailed with cutwork linen squares and lace. Appointments were of silver and the centerpiece consisted of Japanese iris, gladioli, carnations and fern in colors of blue, pink, rose, yellow and green.

Hostesses who received and presided at the tea and coffee services were Mrs. N. E. Buhner, Mrs. G. W. Vaughn, Mrs. L. B. Tovrea, Mrs. L. M. Standish and Mrs. W. G. Daoust.

WHITMAN, Mass. (AP)—Here's a tip from an expert on how ladies may avoid one form of handbag snatching: "Never place your handbag on a counter," says Elwin T. Shaw, who makes a stage living out of showing how thieves and pickpockets operate.

It's easy for the thief "to drop a top (topcoat) or a stiff (newspaper) on it" and walk off with the handbag, Shaw says.

He also recommends that women turn their handbags upside down and clutch the clasp when moving in a crowd. That makes it impossible for a pickpocket to open the snap and stop the bag from snapping open itself.

Troop 300 Planning Vacation

Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas and Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds have planned a summer trip beginning July 13 for the Girl Scout Senior Explorers Troop No. 300. Both troop leaders will accompany the Explorers.

The girls will stay at the Ft. Clark Guest Ranch in Bracketville and tour Alamo Village, located a few miles away from the ranch. The village was built for the filming of a motion picture, "The Alamo." The group plans to attend a teen-age dance at the Cantina in the village and go horse-back riding.

From Bracketville, the party will journey to Villa Acuna, Mexico, where they will attend the bull fights.

Those planning to make the trip are Katy Cochran, Joan Armstrong, Ann Howard, Annie Lee Nuttall, Erin Marcum, Sulema Yanez, Nancy Thomas, Sheryl Wilbanks, Carolyn Hooser, Carolyn Carlsson, Linda Fulbright, Sue Knox, Tricia Statler, Lynn Hewitt and Penny Frazier.

Curley Home Is Scene Of Buffet Luncheon Party

Members of the Downtown Lions Auxiliary were entertained with a buffet luncheon Wednesday when Mrs. Lloyd Curley and Mrs. Dick Lane were hostesses at the Curley home.

Invocation was worded by Mrs. Joe Pickle. Guests were seated at tables for six in the dining room. Cut flowers were used for the centerpieces.

Hostesses for the June meeting will be Mrs. J. E. Hogan and Mrs. Pickle.

Kiddy Fashions Go Toward Simplicity

Small fry are staging their own fashion revolution this Spring and creating their own style story.

The three S's—simplicity, simplicity and subtlety characterize this season's wardrobe for little girls.

Frills are kept at a minimum and the newest looking dresses have lowered waistlines underscored by pleats. Sleeves are often longer, straighter and pouffed. Many dresses are two-piece and the princess line and "A" line, slightly flaring from shoulder to hem, are proving extremely popular silhouettes.

Predominant on the color kaleidoscope this Spring are clear, fruit pastels with Orange, Peach, Lime, Strawberry Pink and Lemon Yellow taking the lead.

Fabrics encompass a multitude of sheer to textured weaves, many of them in blends of natural and man-made fibers for optimum performance qualities.

New Officers To Assume Duties Next Month

Newly elected officers of the Four O'Clock Garden Club, installed last week, will assume their duties when the June meeting is held at the home of the new president, Mrs. Bill Swindell.

The meeting is slated for the second Wednesday of June, when Mrs. Dale Smith will be the guest speaker.

Other new officers include Mrs. Glenn Lepard, vice president; Mrs. Wayman Clark, secretary; Mrs. Don Young, treasurer; and Mrs. Jimmy Solomon, Council representative.

Voluminous The Skirts From House Of Dior

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON Associated Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The capacities of elevators, automobiles and night club dance floors were challenged today as the Christian Dior house here introduced the widest hipped costume since the bustle.

A crush of fashion buyers who would never have squeezed into the showroom if they had been wearing designer Guy Douvier's newest suits, nevertheless applauded the broad-beamed silhouette as the best he has done yet.

Manikins wore heavily shadowed eyelids, false eyelashes; orange, blonde, or white streaked hair; tams or bullet-shaped hats and remote expressions on their faces as they began the style parade in bulky wool suits and dresses Wednesday.

The jackets were slope-shouldered with three-quarter length sleeves. Bodices were snug at the bosom but blousy at the waist. Girding the ballooning skirts were contour belts that rested just above the hipbone.

Worn with these fabrics as deep textured as rugs were blouses blinding with crystal jewels or with silky satin, or diaphanous lace. Satin, a favorite, was often used as trim on the wool suits. So were fur and velvet.

Every now and then, however, the models changed the pace with costumes as spare as exclamation points. But they returned again in skirts that parachuted out from multi-pleated or gathered yokes.

As the daytime costumes gave way to the night life wardrobes, skirts grew in volume, knocking programs out of the hands of the front row audience as they swished along. One slim white bodice of a cocktail dress perched on a huge ball of black fringe, a skirt shaggy than untrimmed poodle. Even the dinner gowns that did not gather at the waist tapered wide enough at the hem to require double doors for coming and going.

However the buyers found a different story down the street at Jane Derby's. Although she was gathering skirts and adding ruffles and bows to clothes when no one else would think of it, Miss Derby has reversed herself. Her silhouettes today are spare. The details are minimum. And a V-neck is always there, sometimes, framed with leopard trim, or made modest with insets when it plunges too low. Her sleeves are longer this year, too.

1905 Hyperions Name Committee Members

The 1905 Hyperion Club held its last meeting of the year on Wednesday afternoon in the Cosden Blue Room, with Mrs. Imogene Lloyd as hostess.

Mrs. Ben Johnson Jr., president read the names of committee members for the next year. They are Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, Mrs. R. W. Currie and Mrs. Shine Phillips, social; Mrs. W. T. Barber, Mrs. Norman Read and Mrs. Sam Anderson, program; Mrs. Anthony Hunt, Mrs. Clyde Angel, Mrs. Lee Hanson and Mrs. J. D. Elliott, finance and project; Mrs. Hayes Stripling, publicity and press book; Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow, state federation counselor; Mrs. H. D. Mural and Mrs. J. H. Greene, telephone; Mrs. J. A. Coffey, advisory council at Big Spring State Hospital; Mrs. J. R. Hensley, Christmas project.

Mrs. J. C. Pickle presented the program about Uruguay, concluding a study of Latin American states. She stressed the beauty, accommodations and wide variety of entertainment on the beaches along the country's Riviera. She also pointed out some of the agricultural characteristics of Uruguay. Refreshments were served to 16 members.

Mrs. Bellomy Is Honored At Tea

Mrs. Eddie Bellomy was honored when a farewell tea was given on Monday by members of the Douglas Circle of Baptist Temple in the home of Mrs. Stanley Harbin.

Mrs. Bellomy and her husband are moving soon to Huntington, West Va., their former home. Guests were served from a table covered with green linen and appointed with crystal. Mrs. Bellomy received a farewell gift.

Following a salad supper of the Kentwood Methodist WSCS on Monday evening, at the church, an installation of officers was held.

Officers installed in a service conducted by Mrs. Raymond Hamby, were Mrs. Kenneth Born, president; Mrs. Bob Rybolt, vice president; Mrs. Wayne Parmenter, recording secretary; Mrs. Otto Ripley, treasurer; Mrs. Eddie McLain, children's secretary; Mrs. Cliff Hale, Christian social relations; Mrs. Ira Bigham, literature and publication; Mrs. Hamby, mission education; Mrs. John Whitaker, promotional secretary; Mrs. J. R. Cole, spiritual life; Mrs. Mary Dunn, student secretary; Mrs. Mark Farmer, supply; Mrs. Jim Ingram, youth secretary.

Mrs. Born conducted the pledge service and Mrs. Hale dismissed the group with prayer.

ESA Women To Attend Convention

Mrs. Robert Hamilton, Mrs. Glyn Mitchell, Mrs. Roy McMullen and Mrs. Bill Estes, members of the local Alpha Chi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, will leave Big Spring on Friday morning for Austin where they will attend the State ESA Convention on May 18-20 at the Driskill Hotel.

Mrs. Estes, beauty queen contestant of District 3, will vie in state queen competition. Outstanding ESA'er of District 8, Mrs. McMullen, will also be on the state competition list.

The party, accompanied by husbands of Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Estes, plan to return to Big Spring on Sunday.

Senators Vote Estes Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate investigations subcommittee voted unanimously today to stage a full scale public airing of the scandals flowing from the Billie Sol Estes case.

Chairman John McClellan, D-Ark., pledged a "full, thorough and complete" investigation of alleged influence deals by the Texas financier.

He said there was no sign of partisan discord among the subcommittee's members over plans to follow the trail of evidence, which could lead to the doorsteps of people high in government during both the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations.

McClellan said the public hearings will start just as soon as his expanded investigating staff can wade through a mountain of documentary evidence, but that it is impossible now to set the starting date. He reportedly hopes to get the hearing under way before May 31.

UNANIMOUS

He said the subcommittee, at a 90-minute meeting behind closed doors, voted unanimously to authorize the public hearings to start "at such time as in my discretion the staff is properly prepared."

The steadily expanding staff has been on the job for a month in a preliminary investigation which, he said, has now dug up evidence from which it "became apparent that the facts as they had developed and were being developed warranted a full, thorough and complete investigation with resultant public hearings."

McClellan said Estes, whose complex financial manipulations in government farm programs and other fields built a fortune,

Scene in Bangkok, Thailand

Transportation is varied in this view of Rajadamnoen Avenue, described as the largest and most beautiful avenue in Bangkok, Thailand. Rajadamnoen translated means, "where the kings walk."

American Marines will land in Thailand to build up the country's defenses against Communists in neighboring Laos.

Rain Will Be Valued Ally For Americans In Thailand

WASHINGTON (AP)—The rain will be an ally of American soldiers and Marines defending Thailand's Mekong River border from Communist penetration.

From now until mid-September, the almost daily rains will swell the already unfordable Mekong which forms most of Thailand's 1,600-mile boundary with Laos.

The Mekong, some 1,000 to 5,000 feet wide, is considered the last major physical barrier standing in the path of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao who dominate the heavily wooded ridges running much of the length of Laos. These ridges overlook plains extending to the Mekong.

The rainy season, now starting in Thailand, will hinder the American expedition in some ways.

It is expected to hamper somewhat the operation of U.S. fighter bombers and other aircraft supporting the American infantrymen and Marines ranged along the frontier.

Also, the rains would cut down tank operations in the northeast plateau where the American forces are to be deployed.

Indications are that the American Marines and infantrymen probably will try to guard a roughly 500-mile arc.

This arc would run from the town of Udorn, just below the Laotian administrative capital of Vientiane, east and south to Udon, a town across from the lower part of Laos near Cambodia. Both Udon and Udorn have improved airports and are on rail lines.

With such a small force, the Americans obviously will have to patrol over wide areas.

They also will have to depend heavily on reconnaissance aircraft to keep an eye out for any Com-

Shades Of Gaslight Era Echo As Connally Begins His Tour

By The Associated Press

John Connally turned back the clock to the gaslight era Thursday when he boarded a train for an old-fashioned whistle-stop campaign beginning at Texarkana and winding across Texas to El Paso three days from now.

The train will tour East Texas points Thursday, arriving in Fort Worth, headquarters for Connally's campaign for Democratic nomination for governor, for an overnight stay.

Connally attended the Renner Research Foundation's awards dinner Wednesday night near Dallas.

Don Yarborough, his opponent in the June 2 runoff, repeated demands for television-radio debate with Connally. Connally has refused.

In a new twist, Yarborough offered to limit the debate to the question of making portions of Padre Island a park rather than debating the full range of issues.

"I offer him a chance on statewide television to take part in a restricted exchange related solely to our differing stands on the stocks and supply systems developed as part of the U.S. military assistance programs in Thailand and South Viet Nam.

The Army estimates that a reinforced battle group of 2,300 men—slightly larger than that in Thailand—uses an average of 29 tons of supplies per day under non-combat conditions. In combat, the consumption climbs to an estimated 58 tons.

An Army spokesman said today that U.S. Army troops and Marine forces in Thailand will draw supplies from Army stocks in the Pacific area.

The Army Transportation Corps arranged shipment through both the Military Sea Transport Service and the Military Air Transport System.

"Capabilities for both surface and air supply to the Bangkok area are excellent," the spokesman said. "Except for emergency resupply, it is expected normal supplying will be by ship to Bangkok."

But he added that because rail service to inland points is limited, the greater part of supplies for forces which move inland will go by air from Bangkok.

Transport planes, like the big C124s and C130s, can land without difficulty at two or three Thai air bases.

J. W. Caldwell Rites Pending

John Wilson Caldwell, 90, died Wednesday about 2:30 p.m. in a local hospital. He had been in failing health since November of last year.

He came to Big Spring in 1956 from Huntington, W. Va. and made his home here with his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Barber. Mr. Caldwell was born Feb. 23, 1872 in Ohio.

His remains were sent by train this morning to Huntington where funeral arrangements are pending. He will be buried there beside his wife who died in 1946. Local arrangements have been under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Aldean Hatten, Huntington, and Mrs. Barber, Big Spring; four sons, Cesco H. Caldwell, Ashland, Ky., Russell H. Caldwell, Fort Meyers, Fla., Henry W. Caldwell and Frederick M. Caldwell, both of Huntington; four grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Even With No Combat, GIs Use Lot Of Supplies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 5,000-man U.S. military task force building up in Thailand will use about 50 tons of supplies a day, even if there is no combat.

If action should start against Communist forces across the Thai border in Laos, the tonnage could double with ammunition expenditure and increased consumption of automotive and aircraft fuel.

The jungle and plateau country in which the Army battle group, the Marine battalion and the air units are taking up positions is at the far end of a 9,000-mile long supply line from the U.S. mainland.

But a large part of the food, clothing, medical equipment, fuel and normal ammunition stocks needed in the initial phase is available from huge depots already operating in the Central Pacific, Far East and Southeast Asia. These depots are in Hawaii, Japan, Okinawa and the Philippines. To this may be added

Sign Broken By Bottle

Damage to the neon sign and transformer at the Big M Drive-in by a thrown beer bottle was one of two vandalism reports investigated by Big Spring police Wednesday.

Charles Downing, owner, told Patrolman John Scott Wednesday that the sign damage amounted to around $150. A witness gave the name of the person throwing the bottle. Downing said he would file charges.

Wilma Cline, 607 E. 15th, told police that the windshield on her 1961 model car was shattered and the paint on top scratched Wednesday afternoon while parked behind the United Finance building.

Wanda Kelley called from the office of Cortise & Mich Wednesday and reported theft of building material valued at $101.75 from building projects at 419, 4117, and 4115 Parkway Road some time Tuesday night. Included were nine doors and five sets of door hinges.

Downed Plane Still In Field

A DC-4 airplane which crashed in a plowed field about one mile east of Ackerly May 9 still rests where it landed about 200 yards east of US 87.

Cargo has been removed and the engines of the four-motor plane have been taken out. At present the nose is lifted off the ground, possibly for inspection of damages.

"We have not heard yet when the company will move the plane," Mrs. Joe Leman, on whose land the plane crashed, said today.

The craft belongs to Slick Airways. Neither of the two persons aboard the plane when it crashed were injured.

Mrs. Formby Returned Home

Mrs. Marshall Formby, wife of the former chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, has been removed from the Hamlin hospital to Plainview.

Her condition was described as "real good" when she left the hospital to return to her home town. Mrs. Formby and children were injured when the family car went out of control on May 4 and careened into a power pole in Hamlin. The children suffered cuts and abrasions, but Mrs. Formby was painfully and critically injured.

VIP's Caught In Case Of Stuck Yanks

MOSCOW (AP)—The case of the senior citizens from the United States, stranded on their tour by visa problems, involved persons close to the White House and the Kremlin today.

Right in the middle were President Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, and Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia.

At Moscow airport, the two ran into Mrs. Paula Winn, of Glendora, Calif., wife of tour director David Winn. She is rushing home to the United States to see if she

Landers Speaks On Speaking

More than anything, communication is the distinguishing mark of civilization, Martin Landers told the Downtown Lions Club at its Wednesday meeting in the Settlers.

Landers, head of the speech and drama department at Howard County Junior College, spoke to the group on dynamic communication, an art that involves the whole man.

The key to saying something is to have something to say, but it is equally important how one says it, he declared.

He cited several suggestions for effective oral communication. Among them were: make contact (merely by standing up you make contact); use the eyes, not just to rove but to rest on different individuals in presenting different ideas; use words that express ideas clearly; practice "you play like you practice"; use gestures that fit the idea and are natural; use psychological approach to get others to follow the line of thought; put your personality into the talk so the over-all impression will be good.

At the meeting Byron Alexander stressed the importance of individual participation in Cleanup Week, May 20-26. Col. Don Pendergrass urged members to participate in the observance of Armed Forces Day at Webb's President Ed Bouillon called for a large attendance at the district convention in San Angelo this weekend. Club members presented Larson Lloyd with a gift as the newest father.

Baccalaureate Slated Sunday

LAMESA (SC) — Baccalaureate services for about 120 Lamesa High School seniors are slated for 8 p.m. Sunday in the school auditorium with Dr. E. D. Landreth, pastor of the First Methodist Church, delivering the sermon.

The Rev. Walter Horn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. Richard Tarr, First Christian Church pastor, are also on the program.

Commencement exercises are slated for 8 p.m. on May 23.

Child Dies When Car Hits Bridge

BONHAM (AP)—A child died and four members of his family suffered injuries late Wednesday night when their car hit a bridge. The crash one mile east of here on U.S. 82 killed Millard Crawford, 1, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gene Crawford of Kermit. Crawford, 24, and his wife Geneva, 22, were taken to Bonham with critical injuries. Their two small daughters apparently were hurt less seriously. The right side was ripped off the car, spilling the family onto the paving.

Brothers Charged With Burglary

SHREVEPORT (AP)—FBI agents seized two Louisiana brothers and charged them Wednesday with taking $28,323 in a March 16 burglary at the Bloomburg, Tex., bank. They are George Brooks Sr., of Bossier City.

White Orders Estes Grain Bins To Cease Business

AUSTIN (AP)—State Agriculture Commissioner John White ordered Billie Sol Estes' grain warehouses to stop business Wednesday.

White refused to reinstate the operating licenses of two Estes warehouses and three warehouses of Coleman McSpadden, an Estes associate.

He estimated the five warehouses contain 4.7 million bushels of grain.

Estes' receiver, Harry Moore, applied for reinstatement of the two licenses after White permanently revoked them. Moore said he could increase liability bonds to meet White's requirement.

"In my understanding, receivers are not responsible as far as liability is concerned," White said. "Receivers are similar to new managers, and a new manager of an insolvent warehouse cannot be licensed."

He acted under a Texas statute which provides that no license shall be issued to a warehouseman who is insolvent.

White said the Commodity Credit Corporation has no obligation to grant storage contracts to Estes creditors.

"The taxpayers don't have to pay the bills of Billie Sol Estes," he said.

White said the CCC must move the grain to other warehouses. The penalty for selling grain without a license is five years in prison or $5,000 fine, or both.

The warehouses are United Elevators at Lamesa, South Plains Grain, Inc., at Levelland, Associated Growers of Wildorado at Westway and at Wildorado, and McSpadden Grain Co. at Lubbock.

Killed In Crash

VEGA, Aex. (AP)—A car collision one mile west of here killed Mrs. Ruby Cranz, 38, of Tucson, Ariz., Wednesday. Three persons were injured.

Chiropractic Chief Says Patients Won't Be Spurned

HARLINGEN (AP)—No matter who controls health care funds, the Rio Grande Valley Chiropractors Association will "continue to administer to the health needs of senior citizens," the association president says.

Dr. Carl A. Beller of Harlingen said the association declared "We feel it is a deplorable situation when any doctor of the healing arts would turn away a needy patient and furthermore the problem of who controls health care funds should not be the problem it is."

Stay Granted

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel granted Leo Luton a stay-of-execution Wednesday moving the execution date from May 18 to June 20. Luton, 33, was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Frances Bryant of Dallas. She was shot down during the robbery of her husband's grocery.

9 Harlingen Crewmen Found Dead In Crash

JALPAN, Mexico (AP)—Nine crewmen from Harlingen Air Force Base were found dead with the wreckage of their shattered plane from Texas Wednesday.

A defense ministry spokesman reported Mexican soldiers reached the scene late in the day.

Directed to the spot by Mexican Air Force pilots, personnel aboard a U.S. Air Force C-54 radioed earlier that wreckage of the T29 "Flying Classroom" was strwn over a broad area.

It cracked up close to the village of Jalpan near here. Jalpan is 150 miles northwest of Mexico City, 30 miles north of the Mexico City-Laredo highway.

The plane disappeared Monday as it searched for Marcus Hooks of Donna, Tex. His single-engine Cessna 182 was found undamaged at Sota la Marina, between Tampico and Brownsville.

Harlingen AFB listed this crew aboard the crashed plane:

Capt. Ronald Minner, pilot; Lt. Noel Alsdorf, co-pilot; Maj. William Cameron, Capt. Edward Cobb, all of Harlingen; Airman Samuel Snell Jr., of Houston; Sgt. David Silva of Harlingen; Airman Rodney Kawamura of Honolulu, Airman Edward Gurley of Goldsboro, S.C.; and Airman Robert Wade of Houston.

Transfer Okayed

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel approved a $35,000 transfer Wednesday from the Texas Water Commission to finance the new Texas Water Pollution Control Board. The commission adopted an order for the transfer May 10.

Second House Loss In A Month

Mrs. W. H. Craker holds her 3-year-old son, Willie, as she sits in front of the shambles of the house which was to have been their home. The house was being hauled along the highway in Dallas, to Craker's lot when the truck towing it collided with another. It was the second house loss for the Crakers. In April their home was destroyed by fire and a grandchild died in the blaze. The Crakers cleared the lot, bought this house, and were about to get settled when misfortune struck again.

May Goes On Weather Binge, Slaps Various Parts Of U.S.

By The Associated Press
May went on a weather binge today, slapping parts of the country with a wild assortment that included midsummer heat, snow and heavy rain, wind and hail storms.

The spring heat wave, with temperatures in the 80s and 90s and high humidity, continued in many parts of the eastern half of the nation.

Strong winds, heavy rain and hail swept areas in Texas and the Southwest. Torrential rain totaling up to five inches sent a muddy torrent racing down a normally dry creek bed near Clarendon, Tex., and swept two persons from a pickup truck. One drowned and the other was found this morning.

Yarborough Dares Opponent To A 'Watered' Debate

AUSTIN (AP)—Don Yarborough has challenged his runoff opponent in the Democratic primary, John Connally, to a "watered-down debate."

"Since my opponent has repeatedly declined a full-scale debate, I offer him a chance on statewide television to take part in a restricted exchange, related solely to our differing stands on the Padre Island Park," Yarborough said in his office here.

Yarborough favors the 88 1/2-mile long national seashore proposal that has passed the U. S. Senate. Connally has said he generally favors the 66-mile version introduced in the U. S. House.

"The 66-mile bill represents a clear surrender of the public interest to the private ambitions of land speculators," Yarborough said in a statement.

Reports Show Connally Spent Most In Campaign

AUSTIN (AP)—Expense reports show Democrat John Connally conducted the most expensive campaign for governor.

Candidates in the May 5 primaries filed reports Tuesday. Connally's expenditures totaled $274,143, he said, and bank loans and debts totaled $162,000.

Connally's April report showed $123,634 in gifts. Contributions included B. Byers of Tyler, $1,500. Connally's opponent in the June 2 runoff election, Don Yarborough, reported total gifts of $71,214, loans $21,520, payments $109,576 and debts $23,604.

Price Daniel reported—gifts $102,404, loans $30,000, payments $128,484, debts $51,292. Contributions of $1,000 from French Robertson of Abilene, W. D. Noel of Odessa and Fagan Dickson of Austin.

Wagoner Carr, for attorney general—Reported gifts of $91,991, payments of $106,632.

Tom Reavley, his opponent, reported—gifts of $52,480, loans of $18,000 and payments of $91,963.

Roy Whittenburg, for governor, reported no gifts, payments of $11,373 and debts $6,254.

Panhandle-Plains Deluge Fatal To 2

By The Associated Press

Torrential rain sent a muddy torrent racing down a normally dry creek bed, swept two persons from a pickup truck and drowned them Wednesday night.

The downpour dumped rain estimated up to 5 inches in a rural area near Clarendon, 60 miles southeast of Amarillo. It was one of several cloudbursts battering the Texas Panhandle-Plains with violent winds and crop-destroying hail.

Rainfall estimated at 4 to 8 inches deluged farm country between Plainview and Hale Center. The same storm sent water rising briefly into a number of homes along Running Water Draw in Plainview.

NEAR LUBBOCK

Part of the same cluster of thunderstorms struck near Lubbock earlier, blowing down a small house and injuring four persons, none seriously. The Weather Bureau had issued a series of special forecasts alerting the area against possible tornadoes.

A six-foot wall of water hit a pickup truck taking Don Purdue, 68, and his sister, Mrs. Van Roy, 70, home to Clarendon from a church service at Martin, 6 miles west. The vehicle had stalled as they forded a low spot.

"He was trying to start the pickup when this water hit without warning," related Guy Sibley of Clarendon, who had driven onto a railroad trestle to pass Purdue's truck.

Sibley and a companion, James Owen, watched helplessly as the vehicle was tumbled 100 feet before it lodged against a big culvert under four-lane U.S. Highway 287. Then a door flew open and the two occupants disappeared in the swirling water.

BODIES FOUND

Peace officers and volunteers found the body of Mrs. Roy hours later. It was 5 miles downstream. The body of Purdue was found early Thursday about four miles downstream.

Mrs. Truett Behrens, wife of the sheriff at Clarendon, reported the driving rain and hail raged across a stretch of farm country 1 1/2 miles wide in the Martin community. The only building at Martin is a former school now used as a church.

In the Robertson community 20 miles west of Lubbock, winds estimated at 75 miles per hour smashed the frame house of tenant farmer Pedro Ogada. He and three of his children received treatment for minor injuries.

Another Robertson area resident, Thomas F. Scroggins, reported hail the size of moth balls beat young cotton plants to bits on about 20 farms. The wind leveled four buildings on the Scroggins farm.

North of Lubbock near Hale Center, hail stones accumulated 8 inches deep in some spots. Most of the water rising from the cloudburst quickly subsided.

First reports indicated cotton

FEW SHOWERS

The storms abated by Thursday morning, when a few showers were falling in North Central Texas and a drizzle at Laredo on the Mexican border. Patches of fog hugged the ground in the Dalhart area before dawn.

It was partly cloudy in other sections except for clear skies in the western edge of the state. Forecasts called for a few thunderstorms in Northwest and North Central Texas and scattered showers in other sections through Friday along with continued warm weather.

Temperatures early Thursday ranged from 48 degrees at Dalhart up to 76 at Laredo.

BARN WRECKED

Muleshoe, 70 miles northwest of Lubbock, likewise was hit by heavy rain and hail the size of peas. The wind wrecked a small barn on the Glenn Phipps farm 14 miles west of Muleshoe and smashed a cotton trailer against a combine.

Ranging northward the storms rumbled past Hereford, Dimmitt, Canyon and Amarillo before apparently veering eastward toward Clarendon.

Turbulence developed as a siege of hot and humid weather continued over most of Texas. There were only a few scattered showers, however, prior to the heavy rains in the late afternoon and evening.

Garden Fresh

Mrs. Preach Martin, a truly enthusiastic gardener, displays a dish. Creole Beans, made with favor fresh garden vegetables over any other foods.

Mrs. Martin Looking Forward To Big Crop

Grocery merchants may not expect to sell many vegetables to Mrs. Preach Martin this year. Abiding by the farmer instincts instilled in her as a child, Mrs. Martin has planted, with help from her husband, a vegetable garden on their land, located south of Big Spring. The garden consists of black-eyed peas, green beans, corn, squash and okra. Mrs. Martin says that both she and her husband find that garden work is more relaxing than it is work. Of course, they are looking forward to enjoying the produce of the garden.

Although Mrs. Martin did not have a real garden plot last year, she canned 30 quarts of green beans which were raised in the back yard.

That's not all. Mrs. Martin has numerous fruit trees in her back yard. Last year she canned approximately 150 quarts of peaches, apricots and plums. Her family has enjoyed the fruits much more than they would have cakes and cookies, she says. However, Mrs. Martin makes an occasional fruit cobbler. The frost, earlier in the year, has ruined all hopes of having an abundant crop as that of the previous year. Mrs. Martin commented that the plum trees are the only ones that look as if they might bear.

Mrs. Martin is a true believer in trying new recipes. She stated that for several years after her marriage, she tried at least one new recipe a day. She believes that this is the best way to develop a wider range of cooking ability. Although vegetables are her specialty, she likes to try new methods of preparing salads, desserts, especially frozen ones, and meats.

Cooking for health's sake is of great importance she believes. When cooking meat, she always bakes, broils, boils or stews it. It is a rarity to find fried foods on the Martin table. The Martins' favorite meats are broiled pork chops, broiled steaks and baked chicken.

Having eight grandchildren, Mrs. Martin finds that the best way to please the youngsters when they come to visit is to make ice cream and milk shakes. Of course, it's a must for the cookie jar to be full, she says. Her daughters, Mrs. David Williams, Las Cruces, N. M., and Mrs. Roger Ridgway, Borger, look forward to coming home for a visit, but their husbands usually insist that they take some of Mrs. Martin's recipes home with them.

Store-bought bread is obsolete in the Martin household. Mrs. Martin has made her bread for the past two years. She enjoys making the bread and her husband particularly likes the home baked kind. Mrs. Martin says that she and her family find cornbread delicious with a meal from their garden, such as black-eyed peas with sliced okra.

Mrs. Martin, a teacher of Mary Martha and Ruth Circles of First Christian Women's Fellowship, is a frequent hostess to her fellow circle members. She finds that cool desserts this time of year are best to serve to guests.

Besides being an excellent cook, Mrs. Martin excels just as highly in the art of sewing. She stays busy most of the time, but she took time out to list a few of the favorite recipes in her large file.

CREOLE BEANS

- 1 cup thinly sliced onions
 - 2-3 cup chopped green peppers
 - 2-3 cup diced celery
 - 2 cups fresh or drained canned tomatoes, (diced)
 - 2 cups cut green beans (cooked or uncooked)
 - 1 1/2 tsp. salt
 - 1/4 tsp. pepper
 - 2 tsp. fat
- Cook first three ingredients in

Apples Are Versatile When Creating Salads

If you have fresh apples you can always make a salad. Apples combine with anything and everything in making crisp, refreshing tossed salads — with small leftovers of fruit, vegetables, cheese or cold meats. Any type of dressing is suitable: use the one you like best. Double - job homemakers who must prepare a meal after a long day in the office or classroom, quickly make fruit or combination salads while the coffee perks and the chops brown.

WALDORF SALAD

- Crisp lettuce
 - Celery (2 stalks)
 - Walnut meats (8 nuts)
 - Fresh apples (2 medium)
 - 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- Combine chunked celery, walnuts, and apple chunks with lightly sweetened mayonnaise. Serve on crisp lettuce.

Popular combinations using apples, are with grated raw carrot, raisins, celery bits, pineapple chunks, diced banana, maraschino cherries; marshmallow bits, broken walnuts, dried fig bits; shredded cabbage, with slaw dressing. Also, flaked salmon or tuna fish, celery and almond slivers; raw turnip bits, chopped parsley, caraway seed; cottage cheese, crushed pineapple, paprika; seedless grapes, chopped chives, canned grapefruit.

Combine Meat, Asparagus In Dish

Many varieties of vegetables make good companions of meat in main dishes. They needn't always be served as a side dish.

Take flavorful asparagus as an example. You can tastily combine it with a number of meats: ham, sausage, ready-to-serve meats, veal and even lamb.

Here are a few suggestions offered by Reba Staggs, meat cookery expert, for teaming meat and asparagus. Put sliced asparagus in a casserole dish with leftover ham, luncheon meat, etc. Use asparagus as a garnish for roasts by arranging in bundles with red pimiento strips.

Roll slices of "boiled" ham around cooked fresh or frozen asparagus spears and fasten with toothpick. Fry until lightly browned and serve with a cheese sauce.

Quick Meal Idea

Here's a suggestion for a quick-prepared meal. Cut luncheon meat into 1/4-inch slices, then divide each slice into four strips. Dip the strips into a batter made of 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 beaten egg and 1 tablespoon vinegar. Fry the meat strips in hot lard until they are golden brown.

Apple Pie Time Is Anytime

Any time of the year is apple pie time. Nothing tastes better after a meal of fresh garden vegetables and maybe roast beef than the home-baked apple pie. Here's a recipe for one that will practically melt in your mouth.

COCONUT-APPLE PIE PASTRY

- 1 cup sifted enriched flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 4 to 6 tsp. lard
- 2 to 4 tsp. cold water

APPLE FILLING

- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. flour
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
- 5 cups thinly sliced apples

TOPPING

- 1/2 cup flaked coconut
- 1-3 cup cornflake crumbs
- 2 tsp. melted butter or margarine
- 2 tsp. brown sugar

To make Pastry: Mix flour and salt. Cut lard into flour until crumbs are about the size of small peas. Add cold water, a little at a time, mixing quickly and evenly through flour with a fork until dough just holds in a ball. Use as little water as possible. Roll to a 1/4 inch thickness and line a 9-inch pie pan, allowing 1/2 inch crust to extend over edge.

To make Apple Filling: Mix sugar, flour, cinnamon, nutmeg and apples. Spoon into crust.

To make Topping: Combine coconut, cornflake crumbs, butter or margarine and brown sugar. Sprinkle over Apple Filling. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 45 to 50 minutes or until done.

Jiffy Meats Are Handy

A well-stocked kitchen always has a supply of ready-to-serve items on the shelf. They can be a big help when you're amidst the rush of a hectic day.

Here's a jiffy hash and green bean casserole. The upper layer is the hash and 1/2 can of celery soup; the underneath layer, cooked green beans and the rest of the soup. For a colorful topping, add tomato slices and green pepper rings.

HASH AND GREEN BEAN CASSEROLE

- 1 can (16 ozs.) corned beef hash
- 1 pkg. (9 ozs.) frozen french green beans
- 1 can (10 1/2 ozs.) condensed celery soup

Tomato slices, if desired
Green pepper rings, if desired
Grease an 8-inch square baking dish. Cook green beans until tender. Drain. Mix beans with 1/2 can of celery soup. Place bean mixture in baking dish. Mix remaining soup with corned beef hash and spread evenly over bean mixture. Top with tomato slices and green pepper rings, if desired. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25 minutes. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Favorite Brew Is New Flavor Trend

Sure signs of a party are gaily decorated tables and the sound of music. But, that party is not complete without plenty of good things to eat and hot coffee. A recipe for Party Pastel Pie tells how to blend the flavor of coffee right into the refreshments.

PARTY PASTEL PIE

- 1 regular size package (3 ounces) orange flavor gelatin
 - 1 1/4 cups boiling water
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 2 tsp. instant coffee
 - 1 pint vanilla ice cream
 - 1/2 to 3/4 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
 - 1 tsp. grated orange rind
 - 2 tsp. raisins
 - 1 tsp. chopped maraschino cherries
- 1 baked 9-inch pie shell, cooled
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water in 2-quart saucepan. Add sugar and instant coffee and stir until dissolved. Add ice cream by spoonful, stirring until melted. Then chill until thickened but not set (15 to 25 minutes). Fold in nuts, orange rind, raisins, and cherries. Pour into pie shell. Chill until firm (30 to 30 minutes). Garnish with whipped cream.

Cherry Sauce Crowns Ham For A New Cook

By MARTHA LOGAN

The boneless, lean, carefully cured canned ham is a wise choice for the young bride. Inexperienced in meal planning. A canned ham may be served as it comes from the can, or it may be heated through, allowing 10 to 15 minutes per pound in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). For hot service slice the ham before placing in the oven and tie with a string to hold in shape. At serving time remove the string and spread the dark cherry sauce over the top. To show off your carving skill you might prefer to slice the ham at the table. A sharp knife with a long, narrow blade will give best results.

You may purchase hams weighing from 1 1/2 to 13 pounds according to your needs. Some of the 1 1/2 pound hams may be stored on the cupboard shelf. The others that are labeled "Perishable — Keep Under Refrigeration" may be held for many months in your refrigerator. It is a good practice to purchase these hams from a refrigerated store case. As with all kinds of ham and other cured meats freezing causes rapid flavor deterioration.

Some of the new ham cans come equipped with a smooth rolled edge that makes a safety rim when the can is opened. The shape of the key is new, too, making for easier opening.

HAM WITH CHERRY SAUCE

- 5 lb. canned ham
 - 1 lb. can dark sweet pitted cherries
 - 1 tsp. cornstarch
 - 1/4 tsp. ground cloves
 - 1/4 tsp. ground ginger
 - 1/4 cup toasted, slivered almonds
- Heat ham according to directions on can. Empty cherries into a saucepan. Blend in cornstarch and spices. Heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in toasted almonds. Spoon sauce over top of ham.

Yields 15 to 20 servings.

SPINACH PUDDING

- 10 oz. pkg. frozen chopped spinach
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 tsp. butter or margarine
- 2 eggs, beaten lightly
- 3/4 cup shredded Swiss cheese
- 1/2 tsp. salt

Corn Puff Parfait Is Bride's Dessert

Parfaits look so elegant and can add such a touch of glamour to an everyday dinner. Convenience foods — instant vanilla pudding, crisp corn puffs, and frozen strawberries plus milk are the ingredients of this gay dessert.

Use your prettiest sherbet or parfait glasses. It's so easy — merely alternate layers of vanilla pudding, cereal, and strawberries. Top with whipped cream for an extra special touch.

CRISP CORN PUFFS PARFAITS

- 1 package (3 1/2 to 4 ounce) vanilla instant pudding mix
 - Milk, quantity called for on package label
 - 2 cups sweetened sliced strawberries
 - 2 cups crisp corn puffs, regular, presweetened, fruit flavor, or cocoa flavor
- Make pudding according to package directions. Let stand until it begins to thicken. Spoon alternate layers of cereal, fruit, and pudding into parfait glasses. Serve plain or top with whipped cream. Yield: 4 to 6 parfaits.

Prepare A Modern Low Fat Breakfast

Breakfast is the easiest meal of the day to prepare when the physician places a member of the family on a moderate low-fat diet. When such a reduction in the dietary fat is indicated, the fat calories in the morning meal can be replaced by those of low-fat content.

Here is a breakfast menu which provides 500 calories and 20.9 grams of protein with but 10.9 grams of fat: Orange juice, 1/2 cup; Cereal, dry weight, 1 ounce with 1/2 cup whole milk and 1 teaspoon sugar; 2 slices bread, enriched, with 1 teaspoon butter; 1 cup nonfat milk for the beverage; black coffee if desired.

The fat content can be reduced to 6.3 grams by the use of nonfat milk on the cereal.

Such a breakfast, while moderately low in fat, will provide quick and lasting energy throughout the late morning hours.

Plentiful Supply Of Berries

By The Associated Press

Plenty of strawberries are reaching Texas food markets at peak-of-season prices. There's lots of cream to go with them. Grapefruit, oranges, bananas and avocados are best to buy fruits this week. Supplies of watermelons can be expected to surge soon as South Texas shippers prepare for their rush season, the Agricultural Marketing Service says.

Other best buys this week include greens and green onions, onions, old potatoes, radishes, squash and turnips.

Wholesale prices on cabbage are generally higher and supplies in Texas markets are limited. Carrots and tomatoes also are higher.

Lettuce, okra and onions are available at lower prices in most markets. Supplies of fresh black-eyed peas are increasing at slightly lower prices.

Vegetable fats and oils and canned freestone peaches are plentiful.

A dribble of papayas appear in many markets, along with Texas dewberries in limited volume. Broiler-fryers, all dairy products, eggs and many cuts of red meats are among high-protein foods at attractive prices.

Stretch Out Milk

Budget minded? Stretch regular milk by adding reliquefied dry skim milk.

Tangy Salad Is Made From Ham And Grapes

Since beginning of time, grapes have been a favorite fruit. Ham and grapes combined form a delightful salad for a spring or summer meal. It's just the right thing to prepare for that special company dinner.

FRESH GRAPE AND HAM CHIFFON SALAD

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1 cup fresh orange juice
- 1 cup hot water
- 1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
- 2 tbsps. cider vinegar
- 2 tbsps. sugar
- 1 tsp. grated onion
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. ground black pepper
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1 cup diced cooked ham

2 cups seedless green or seeded grapes

Salad greens for garnish
Clusters of grapes for garnish
Soften gelatin in orange juice. Add hot water and stir to dissolve gelatin. Stir in next six ingredients. Chill until about as thick as fresh egg whites. Beat with a rotary beater until fluffy. Fold in mayonnaise, ham and grapes. Turn into a six-cup mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Unmold on a serving plate and garnish as desired with salad greens and clusters of grapes. Makes six to eight servings.

Water District Condemnation
Rights Upheld

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Supreme Court has upheld the right of a water district to condemn land for use in relocating a West Texas highway.

Martha Francis Bullock brought the suit seeking an order to prevent the State Highway Department from relocating U.S. 180 around Hubbard Creek Reservoir.

West Central Texas Municipal Water District is constructing the dam and reservoir in Stephens and Shackelford counties to give Abilene a water supply.

The water district condemned the land and an award for damages was made. The condemnation suit is now pending in Stephens County court.

The water district posted a deposit with the court and then contracted with the highway department to relocate the highway.

Martha Bullock then filed suit in district court to stop the highway department from using the land, but the injunction was denied. This decision was upheld by the Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland and the Supreme Court could find no reversible error in this decision.

Baby Snake Loose

NEW YORK (AP)—A 4½-foot baby boa constrictor was the object of a police search in Harlem today.

The snake was reported missing Wednesday night from its container in a pet shop.

A spokesman for the Bronx Zoo said the baby snake, if frightened, might do harm to a baby but is not generally likely to threaten humans.

Wallenda Sees Act

Mario Wallenda, once a part of the circus act, The Great Wallendas, watches as three members of his family perform on the high wire at Postville, Mich. Mario was seriously injured in a fall from the wire last Jan. 30 in Detroit. He is being treated in a Detroit hospital in an effort to regain use of his back and spine. On the wire are other Wallendas, Karl, 57, top; Gunther, 34, front bottom; and Herman, 60, rear.

Frio Town, Once Busy, Now A Ghost

FRIO TOWN — When Frio Town was founded in the 1870's, it was the cowboy capital of the South Texas brush country, a cultural center and an outpost of law and order.

Today only a gaunt stone courthouse with boarded windows and a cemetery mark the site of the former seat of Frio County.

More than two centuries have passed since Louis Juchereau de St. Denis left Nachitoches for San Juan Bautista below Eagle Pass, but the trail that he followed soon became an important trade route.

Known as the Presidio Road, the route traversed what is now northwestern Frio County, which was created in 1858 and named after the river.

TO SAN ANTONIO

Canary Islanders passed that way, to establish a civilian settlement at San Antonio 220 years ago; Santa Anna and the Mexican Army rested at the crossing on the Frio where the town was later built before going on to besiege the Alamo.

After the county was created from bits of Atascosa, Bexar and Uvalde counties, ranchers began to move in, and in 1871 the town was founded beside the ancient crossing of the Frio.

The first postoffice was established with the name of Frio City. The first courthouse was built of cypress lumber bought from John Leaky, who had a sawmill where the town of Leaky stands today, and hauled by ox wagon 85 miles. E. J. Emsly whitewashed the finished building inside and out for $20.

NEW EDIFICE

After that building burned, a new, two-story edifice was erected of native stone and that building stands today on land owned by the Roberts family, bordering on State 140 between Uvalde and Pearsall. A stone jail, of which only the foundation remains, is reputed to have been the home away from home of such famous outlaws as Sam Bass and Frank and Jesse James, all of whom were locked up there for minor offenses.

The first grave in Frio City's cemetery was that of Calvin Massey, killed by Indians; the second belongs to Wesley Hiller, killed by a horse.

The Ranger Camp, still known by that name although the Rangers are long gone, was on the south bank of Elm Creek, near where it joined the Frio.

LAST INDIAN

The last Indian in Frio County was killed by the Rangers in 1877.

On the cultural side, Frio City ran heavily to revivals, welcoming the activities of evangelists such as John Wesley DeVilbiss and the "Fighting Parson" A. J. Potter. The Rio Grande Baptist Association was organized in the old courthouse; the first school was taught by J. M. Ellege; later Frio Academy was founded with B. C. Hendrick as principal.

Early settlers established brick and lime kilns and a shingle mill, while during trail driving days vast herds of cattle were sent North from Frio County.

FENCE WARS

Until 1878, the country around Frio City was unfenced; then cattlemen began to enclose their holdings and fence cutting wars broke out, only to be curbed by the legislature and the Rangers.

Bur Frio Town's death knell was sounded 80 years ago when the International and Great Northern Railroad extended its tracks to the southward and missed Frio and 2,100 inhabitants.

On July 4, 1881, the first passenger train pulled into newly-founded Pearsall where it was sold on the site of a large sheep ranch. This became the county seat.

PRAIRIE FIRE

One of the trials undergone by settlers in this new town was a prairie fire that nearly consumed the lumber for the homes they were building.

Two years later, a general exodus began from Frio Town when most of its residents tore down their frame dwellings, using the lumber to rebuild in Pearsall.

The old courthouse fell on evil days. On the first floor there was a postoffice finally closed in 1940. On the second floor the old courtroom remains much as it was when justice was meted out.

A Devotional For Today

By their fruits ye shall know them. (Matthew 7:20.)
PRAYER: Father in heaven, we are inspired by the works of faith of famous women mentioned in the Bible. May their examples serve to strengthen our faith. In Jesus' name. Amen.
(From The 'Upper Room')

Resuming The Pressures

The United States has responded to Red penetrations in Laos and the virtual rout of royal Laotian forces by rushing reinforcements to Thailand. They are being rushed up, about 5,000 strong, to the northwest along the border with Laos.

This is plainly a move to protect Thai territory and our heavy investments in defenses there but it also is a show of strength, as witness presence of elements of the Seventh Fleet and the 13th Air Force. This may be having some effect, for Red Laotian forces are reported fading back from the Thai border points. Russia also is being urged to exert pressure on the pro-Communist leaders to halt fighting and pull back pending some sort of political settlement.

All of this is ticklish business for there is always the question of whether the Red Chinese will send troops into Laos as they did in Korea. This is possible, but most observers on the ground do not consider it probable.

This latest deterioration is but a resumption of one halted a year ago by cease-fire overtures. It is typical of the hop and skip pressure tactics of the Communists and pro-Communist native forces. It is also illustrative of the frustrating difficulties in stimulating much less welding and forging, natives into effective resistance forces. There are indications our guerrilla training is bearing some fruit in Vietnam, but Laos has a long, long way to go if it can be salvaged at all.

Have Fun While You Help

Friday will begin the annual National Junior College Track Meet in Big Spring. Thus, we want to make a final appeal to our people to support this splendid athletic show by attending the meet Friday evening, when the first round of preliminaries will be held, and Saturday evening, when the finals will be staged.

There will be well over 200 of the country's finest junior college athletes competing for the titles, and this adds up to an exciting show. While track may not have the fanfare and color that some larger team sports possess, it has the most appealing element of all sports—the direct competition of one man against another in running, jumping and throwing.

Big Spring is fortunate to be able to host this event. The best way to keep it is to help fill up the stands. Incidentally, the $1.50 price for all preliminaries and finals is a top flight bargain. Why not avail yourself of it, and of two evenings of real thrills.

David Lawrence Gifts To Government People

WASHINGTON—Suspicion does not necessarily mean guilt. Yet an emphasis on the improprieties committed by an official here and there in the Kennedy administration in connection with the operations of Billie Sol Estes, a Texas businessman, has cast a cloud on the reputation of various persons who may be entirely innocent of any crime or wrongdoing.

"Guilt by association" has long been condemned as unfair. The fundamental principle written into the law of the land is that a person, even if charged with a crime, shall be considered innocent until actually proven guilty. Yet too often that same principle is disregarded by the tendency of politicians to argue cases in the press by inference or innuendo.

THIS WRITER called attention to this tendency to rely on suspicion rather than evidence when the name of Harry Vaughan was in the headlines during the Truman administration, because of his part in the collecting contributions during the 1948 campaign and his acceptance later of the gift of a "deepfreeze" from a friend, and also when Sherman Adams, personal assistant to President Eisenhower, was similarly criticized because he took some gifts and accepted favors from an old friend who was trying to obtain governmental benefits.

Yet there has never been any evidence that either Harry Vaughan or Sherman Adams really violated any law. A defense of both men was made in these dispatches at the time. On the same basis the public today may be asked to withhold judgment before it assumes that the administration itself is generally tainted with scandal just because some officials occasionally overstep the bounds of good sense or ethics. The fact that a political party in the past used these tactics against the other party is no justification for similar tactics now.

THERE IS THE CASE, for instance, of Jerry R. Holleman who has just resigned as assistant secretary of labor. He has known Mr. Estes for ten years, and they were close friends, both attending the Church of Christ in Austin, Texas, where Mr. Holleman taught a Sunday School class. The latter was assistant director of the 1960 national political campaign in his home state. Did he feel he knew Mr. Estes well enough to consider that, by accepting a gift, he would not be compromised? There is only one kind of operation in which the Department of Labor could play a part favorable to the Texas cotton man, and this has to do with migratory labor. Rep. Jim Wright of Texas, Democrat, in a public statement says Mr. Holleman took a position opposite to that of Mr. Estes on this question.

THIS WRITER doesn't know Mr. Holleman but believes he may be receiving a punishment that is not deserved. He resigned, of course, to avoid political embarrassment to the administration, but if he really did nothing wrong, then should not the resignation have been declined? Now will he carry a blemish for the rest of his life?

Mr. Holleman has been active in politics for a long time. He was president of the Federation of Labor in Texas. Unhappily, the ways of politics develop cus-

TIME SOMEBODY HEARD OUR TUNE

James Marlow Insight Into Handling Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—When President Kennedy talks on television and radio Sunday about medical care for the aged it will be the start of the big push for his program and a vivid insight into a way he handles Congress.

For almost a decade—ever since President Truman left—there have been no brawls between the White House and senators and representatives.

President Eisenhower, while sometimes critical of the Democrats as a party, followed an opposite technique for eight years in dealing with individual members of Congress in both parties. HE DIDN'T attack or criticize individually, Kennedy pursues the same system. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, because that's the way he operated in the Senate, probably would have done likewise if he were president.

Whether Eisenhower was, or Johnson is, an influence on Kennedy is not clear. Probably not. After 14 years in Congress himself, Kennedy could be expected to operate this way. It's his way. But just because medical care for the aged is one of his major

Hal Boyle The Office Salesmen

NEW YORK (AP)—There was a time when a business office was merely a place where people went to earn a living.

Today, however, the average office has become an unofficial department store.

You no longer have to do your shopping during lunch hours or on Saturdays. One of the fringe benefits of modern office life now is that you can shop leisurely on company time without leaving your desk.

Seated comfortably in your swivel chair you can purchase anything from a grand piano to a stuffed polar bear.

This is because every office employee today seems to be a part-time salesman. The hired hands spend half their working time buying something from or selling something to each other.

The bait is always the same: "I can get it for you wholesale." You arrive in the morning and what happens the very first thing? Why, old Hank, the lovable janitor, sweeps up and says:

"I see you got egg on your necktie again. How much did you pay for that tie—three bucks? I can get 'em wholesale two for a dollar, and they come in 29 colors, not counting plaid. Shall I bring you in a dozen tomorrow?"

You try to buckle down to the job, but along comes Bill, the treasurer's assistant, for a friendly chat. After looking around furtively, he pulls out a box containing some unset diamonds.

"I happened to overhear you say you and your wife are celebrating your 10th wedding anniversary next month," he says. "How about surprising her with a sparkler? These are a third of what they'd charge you at a jeweler's."

You tell him that your wife is allergic to diamonds, but that does not stop Bill. He reaches in his other pocket and pulls out two ladies' wrist watches.

"How about one of these then?" he demands, "guaranteed for a full half year."

You start in to see the boss, but Genevieve, his secretary, stops you.

"I'm helping my little niece sell Girl Scout cookies," she says brightly. "My, are they yummy! How many boxes shall I put you down for?"

You back into the boss' den, and he looks up and says:

"Well, what's on your mind? Oh, by the way, do you have an American flag in your home? My wife is selling flags to help her church's missionary program, and I thought I'd take a few orders here at the office for her."

You explain apologetically you have all the flags you need at the moment.

"Oh, that's all right," replies the boss airily. "How about some Christmas cards? My wife is selling them for her church, too."

At quitting time you have a guilty feeling you haven't got much work done. But there is at least one satisfaction as you leave for home. The day hasn't been a complete waste.

Two employees have tentatively agreed to buy backyard swimming pools from you. That's your sideline.

programs and one of those for which he will fight hardest, his tactics in pressing it illuminate a number of things about his presidency.

BY AVOIDING head-on clashes with individual members of Congress who oppose him on one issue, he puts no personal reason in the way of their support on other programs where they have no particular stake or feeling.

For example: Some of the Southern Democrats who wrecked his few civil rights measures will be with him in other fields but probably wouldn't be if he had gone out of his way to jab at them on civil rights. He didn't.

Or, to take a specific example: Kennedy has been very careful and gentle with Rep. Wilbur Mills, Arkansas Democrat and chairman of the very powerful House Ways and Means Committee.

Mills has been a major stumbling block to Kennedy in the House on his medical care bill. But you hear no White House attacks on Mills.

The Kennedy administration feels Mills has been a great help on other issues and will be again on still more when the medical care issue is out of the way. So the administration is trying to get around him, not through him.

Whether all this adds up to the ideal way of handling Congress is a matter of Kennedy's political judgment. It could be argued that if Kennedy is really anxious to get through all the programs he tells Congress he wants he should be willing to fight hard for all of them.

IF HE GETS his special major items, or some of them, through this year, they'll be out of the way. Next year he can be expected to put his weight behind some other special projects while merely giving his blessing to others. This would indicate Kennedy is hoping to be judged at the end of his four years on his total performance instead of on a year-by-year reckoning of hits and misses.

That's the long view but it seems to be the one he has.

He and his aides have been laying the groundwork for a real effort on medical care. The big drive starts next Sunday when he talks in New York's Madison Square Garden.

To Your Good Health Cystitis Can Be Helped By Surgery

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Can trauma in childbirth cause bladder infections which continue to plague the mother?

I doubt if there is any pain more disconcerting than the burning urgency and pressure associated with chronic cystitis.

How accurate are intravenous X-rays? Will X-rays alone tell the "whole picture"? — A. C.

Trauma or injury in childbirth isn't likely to cause bladder infection directly.

Rather what happens is that supporting tissues are torn or stretched, letting the bladder wall sag into the vaginal tract.

This is called cystocele, which I have mentioned rather often. It can result in incomplete emptying of the bladder and permit irritation (bacterial and chemical) of the lining of the bladder. This is cystitis. The consequences can include frequent or painful urination, inability to control urination (called "stress incontinence"), and a sense of general discomfort in the area.

Very often the whole trouble can be eased or ended by a "vaginal plastic operation" to correct the torn or stretched tissues. (I don't mean that it requires a "plastic surgeon" in the common sense of the word. Gynecologists, urologists, general surgeons all do this type of surgery.)

As to your question: Intravenous kidney X-ray (known as the I. V. — or intravenous — pyelogram) gives considerable information about location, size and function of the kidneys.

It does not, however, give as much data as a "retrograde pyelogram," which also involves X-rays. In this, the inside of the bladder is first inspected directly with an instrument called a cystoscope.

Next, tiny catheters or tubes are inserted into each ureter, one of which leads to each kidney. Thus it is possible to test for infection or bleeding from each kidney separately. X-rays also are taken.

This whole procedure is much more elaborate and painstaking, and usually requires one or two days in the hospital, whereas the I. V. pyelogram does not. More time, more effort, more information.

Dear Sir: Is there any harm in using one-day vitamins? I have stomach ulcers and am on a bland diet. — N. S.

No. In fact an "ulcer diet" may be low in Vitamins B and C, so a combined vitamin supplement is in order.

Dear Dr. Molner: Concerning hepatitis, do serum shots make a person immune? Why does it take so long to cure hepatitis? If it's contagious, how does it spread? — MRS. M. F.

First, there is no serum or vaccine that can give permanent immunity. Gamma Globulin will provide a few months of immunity.

Second, the time required for a cure depends on the severity of the individual case. This varies widely because there is no specific cure. All we can do is make conditions as easy as possible for the liver to "cure itself." The liver has remarkable power to do this.

Third, contact with body secretions appears to be the major means of contagion, particularly the stool. Avoid kissing. Be sanitariously careful in handling soiled clothing, bedding, body wastes.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Magic Element

Courtesy can be found where you least expect it; and strangely absent where it should be of prime concern.

Last week, I finally decided to buy an air conditioner. No more sweating at our house, I agreed, and hopped off to some local stores to check over the wares. The first store I visited had a large number of salesmen, all happily discussing the problems of the day. Or something. They were gathered in little cliques and having a grand time, none of them working.

AFTER STANDING around, leaning on the huge air conditioners for a few minutes, one of them finally called over to say that someone would be over after a while to see what I wanted. I don't know if that "someone" ever came or not, but that "someone" was elsewhere, after that experience of waiting around 15 minutes while the boys warmed over last night's TV shows.

Happily, I bought an air conditioner where the salesmen were eager for the business and to see that I was reasonably satisfied with it.

ON THE OTHER side of the docket, some out-of-town visitors were in to see us recently and couldn't find the Kentwood Addition. They stopped a policeman and asked directions. As told to us, the officer was very courteous and acted as a guide all the way to our house. Those visitors were impressed with this show of courtesy and were still talking about it when they left for home.

Normally, we are inclined to think public servants are not always as courteous as they could be, but that salespeople are the epitome of good relations. These two isolated instances, that happened almost the same day, proved that it is not always the case. I'm sure some highlights on the other side of the ledger could be turned up.

BUT I'M FRANKLY surprised when a store operator takes a lot of trouble to haul in merchandise, get it displayed, advertise it, then his help all but refuses to serve a customer that walks in the door. Back during the war, this was the customary way to run things, because shortages forced people to buy from those who had the merchandise. I think, perhaps, that some merchandisers have not heard that the war is over.

Of all the sales devices, a merchant may employ, courtesy is the most economical and one of the most valuable.

At the same time, it's gratifying to hear praise for the police. There is a difficult job and good public relations is not the easiest thing for them to achieve or maintain. Perhaps some of our merchants could get a few tips from them.

J. A. Livingston In Defense Of The Profit System

The Battle of Steel — Roger M. Blough versus President Kennedy — promises as much hashing over as the Battle of Gettysburg.

A letter from Frank F. Gray, of Ridge-wood, N. J., states a prevalent position forcefully enough to merit publication: "Your columns about the steel price rollback are so flagrantly biased and erroneous that they shriek for rebuttal."

"YOU SAY THAT steel must be competitive with foreign mills and that JFK helped them to remain so. This ignores that steel is not now, nor has it been for some time, competitive with foreign mills. Outside of a few special items, the bulk of our steel exports today go to countries buying our products with our money under foreign aid. Holding the price line will make slight if any difference in our export tonnage.

"Mr. Blough's principal argument was mainly overlooked in the press and totally ignored by the administration. It is that modernization financed out of profits is essential to the steel industry if it's to compete. His view is the long one, rather than the President's, who jeopardized business confidence and the expansion of the economy he deems so vital. The enormity of this error will be apparent before the end of 1962.

"I DISAGREE with your contention that inflation is 'over the hill.' Is a wage increase which exceeds increases in productivity non-inflationary? Is continued deficit spending by the federal government non-inflationary? Is the 25-hour work week non-inflationary?

Of course not! Prices are being held down and costs are not. Inevitable result: Less expansion of the economy, fewer jobs, reduced tax receipts, greater deficits.

"You say that this year's improvement in steel company earnings over 1961 support the administration's stand. Let's take a closer look! The first quarter of 1961 was a very poor one. The first quarter of 1962 was better mainly because users were stockpiling steel ahead of a possible strike.

"SUBSEQUENT QUARTERS will not equal the first, and the 'non-inflationary' 10 cent increase in wage costs must be absorbed after July 1. Steel forecasts for the balance of the year do not reflect your optimism for 'better profits from a higher operating rate.' Most producers will be hard pressed to cover dividends for 1962. "One journalist even went so far as to say that the steel industry had no justification for a price increase because the ten-cents-an-hour boost was a fringe benefit, not a wage increase. A cost is a cost is a cost is a cost!

"MR. BLOUGH'S over-riding responsibility in this situation was not to correctly construe the social environment," as you say, but to the 330,000 owners of U. S. Steel who expect him to operate their company at a profit.

"As a salaried employe of private enterprise, I applaud Mr. Blough's action. It dramatically showed the lengths to which a Chief Executive (and family) would go in the use of government power. I object to arbitrary interpretation of the 'public interest.'

"FEDERAL INTERVENTION is now firmly established as a part of any labor negotiation.

"Does the end justify the means? "If it can happen to steel it can happen to any industry and will ultimately have to be applied to costs. And costs include wages — yours and mine. A planned economy, aberrant to most of us, might well be the price paid in order to head off the six dollar per ton steel increase.

"It's time that someone had the audacity to defend profits. Instead of being a dirty word, fair profits should be recognized as the essence of a system, perhaps not perfect, but still the best that has yet been devised."

Holmes Alexander Self-Criticism Among The Russians

WASHINGTON — "Liars, humbugs, irresponsible windbags are our worst enemies," declared Premier Khrushchev on one of his forays into the Russian farm belt where he tried to stir rustics to high production.

To drive all workers for the Soviet State to greater efforts, the Premier called upon Russian writers to turn out comedies which applied the last of satire to the laggards.

SOVIET PLAYWRIGHT Sergei Mikhalkov dutifully wrote A Monument to Myself, based on the Khrushchev formula. The playwright laid the tongue upon stuffy, dishonest and pompous officials who apparently make up a goodly part of Russian bureaucracy.

As might be expected, Khrushchev liked the play — but his victims did not. Pravda gave it the official blessing, saying that, "The new comedy effectively points out the substance of Philistinism under present-day conditions. It exposes the heroic deeds of more intolerable than ever." At the Moscow Theater of Satire, the show went over big. But out in the provinces — well, wait!

AT THE TOWN of Pravdinsk, where the local House of Culture staged the comedy, a local bigwig perceived a likeness of himself in the lampooned role. A. I. Pavlov, chief of the housing and communal service department of the Balakhna Pulp and Paper Factory, delivered his own critique of the play:

"I hereby inform you that I have never been a parasite, a loafer or a buffoon," he declared indignantly. He went on to condemn the broad comic devices where, he said, "an artist belches slander against community activists. . . . He didn't see anything funny about it. He called satire a decadent form or art that 'went into disrepute in the 17th century.'"

UNDER COMMUNISM, it apparently doesn't pay to give the hotfoot to a local boss. As a result of Comrade Pavlov's blast, the play was examined by a factory trade union committee. Not unnaturally, these comrades endorsed their boss' anger and reprimanded the producer.

By now a chain reaction had set in. When the play was accepted for production by the Severodvinsk Theater, the chief of the executive committee on culture told a meeting:

"I WISH to convey to you the views of the City Party Committee which feels that A Monument to Myself should not be staged. . . . It wasn't staged. At the next stop on the borsch circuit, the Novosibirsk Regional Theater rehearsed the play but thought better of producing it in public. One of the officials of this theater group roasted the play and lauded the actors for keeping it from the public, saying: "A Monument to Myself (is) a vicious piece which maligns our way of life. Fortunately the company itself has had the courage to reevaluate and cancel the show."

THE PLAYWRIGHT tells all this in a recent Kommunist magazine article, but not in the spirit of a Broadway wit whose brainchild had been banned in Peoria and Oshkosh. Mikhalkov, a patient and loyal party member, still believes Khrushchev to be right and the local comrades to be too touchy.

But nowhere does the author write like the satirist he's supposed to be. Instead of treating satire as a gaffly looking for targets of opportunity, he depicts it as a beast of burden, highly destined to carry Marxian messages and Khrushchevian dictates. Mikhalkov writes:

"THE BUILDING of a Communist society is a many-faceted and complex process in which . . . criticism and self-criticism become a basic, tested fighting tool. . . . That is why the Party . . . so highly values the keenest of all weapons."

In view of what happened to his own play, this last remark is the funniest line of all.

Casa Manana Schedule Set

FORT WORTH — Claiborne Cary — the petite Amy of Casa Manana's 1959 production of "Where's Charley?" — will fly through the Casa Manana air as the ever youthful Peter Pan this summer.

Also named were performers who will have multiple roles during the season. They are:

Maureen Bailey, repeating the role of Wendy that she did on NBC-TV's production of "Peter Pan" in December, 1960, and also doing the role of Kim in "Bye Bye Birdie."

Jane Carlyle, actress - comedienne, playing three parts: Clementina in "The Desert Song," Mrs. Darling in "Peter Pan" and Mrs. McAfee in "Bye Bye Birdie."

Stockmen Told Bill Is Danger

FORT WORTH (AP)—There's a "back door approach to production controls and price regulation of the feed grain industry" in the feed grain section of the administration farm bill, a leader of the stockmen claims.

Leo Welder of Victoria, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, urged Wednesday that livestock producers call on their congressmen to defeat the bill. He spoke at the South Central Hereford Progress Clinic.

Executive and cattle feeder committees of his association have issued a formal call, he said, for opposition to the feed grain section. Welder said this would provide mandatory production controls on all feed grain crops.

"Producers who utilize a portion or all of their feed grain and sorghum production of their own farms and ranches would not be allowed to make necessary changes in planted acreage to meet changes in their livestock programs," he said.

School Drama Has Realism — In District Courtroom

The senior class play of Big Spring High School's drama department will have a background of utter realism. A courtroom drama, it will be staged in the district courtroom in the county courthouse.

Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. tonight, Friday, and Saturday.

Actually, there will be no curtains in this play. The courtroom does not come so equipped. And, even when presented in a theatre, the curtain is left open and the lights are left on, to add to the realism.

Title of the play is "Night of January 16th," by Ayn Rand, author perhaps best known for her novel, "The Fountainhead."

The entire action takes place at the trial of a young woman accused of murdering her lover and benefactor. There are no flashbacks or other gimmicks — and, although compressed in time as compared to real trials, the drama contains all the essential ingredients of the "real thing."

Well, there is one slight gimmick. Members of the jury are not actors at all. They are chosen from among the audience immediately after the "trial" has started. And the script is designed with two endings, for verdicts of "guilty" or "not guilty," in its run on Broadway and later after the play's release for general public use, verdicts have gone both ways and there have even been a few hung juries.

The drama's director, Bedford Forrest, who is high school speech instructor, made a special note of thanks to court officials who made the district courtroom available.

Winn Richbourg is student director. Leading roles will include Chap

Smith as the prosecuting attorney, Jay Hatch as the defense counsel, Susan Zack as the defendant, and Linda Morton as a key witness.

Other witnesses will be Arnold Gibson, Cheryl Bray, Jack Ed Irons, Cal Boardman, Candy Harris, Nelda Greenhill, Mike Halverson, Mike Faulkner, and Carol Odom.

Rick King will portray the judge. Other court personnel will include Sue Smith as the prison matron; Don Bynum, clerk; Joanna Patterson, secretary to the district attorney; Diane McEwin, secretary to the defense counsel; Sharon Tally, court stenographer; and Jimmy Atkins, court attendant.

American Exile Changes His Mind

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials report they have granted permission for the return to the United States of Robert Webster, a former U.S. plastics specialist who renounced America for Russia.

Officials said Webster, 33, of Cleveland, Ohio, apparently changed his mind some months ago about the desirability of living in the Soviet Union, and has been seeking clearances to re-enter the United States.

Webster has been in Russia since 1959 when he went to Moscow to help set up an exhibit and demonstrate plastics for the Rand Development Corp. He left his wife and two children in this country. She has since obtained a divorce.

Court Reverses Securities Case

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has reversed the conviction of Joe B. Springfield who was charged with selling securities without registering as a dealer.

He was indicted in Reeves County in May, 1960, for allegedly selling 200 shares of stock of the Pecos Valley Credit Corp. to Roy Pearce. The case was tried in the 143rd District Court in Reeves County.

Plans Drawn For Art Show

Final plans were made this week at a meeting of Las Artistas for the annual Texas Fine Arts Association show Saturday and Sunday.

The local club met at the studio of C. D. Reeder. Other projects discussed included a summer workshop at the Reeder studio designed around figure drawings of a live model.

Registration for the weekend show will be from 1-6 p.m. Friday at the site of the exhibition, the old Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College. Judge will be Dr. Clarence Kincaid from Texas Tech.

The show will be opened to the public after judging is completed Saturday morning.
