3 Convicts Escape From Alcatraz Prison

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three convicts—all bank robbers—escaped during the night from Alcatraz Federal Prison in San Francisco Bay, the prison said today.

The prison said the three were missing at bed check Monday night. Officials on the rocky island prison told police the men arranged their beds to make it appear they were occupied.

They gained access to a utility pipe tunnel through which they climbed to the roof of the cell block. They removed bars protecting a skylight.

From the roof they dropped down a pipe to the ground. Then they made their way to the rear of the island to the water's edge, Dollison said.

Dollison identified the three men as John W. Anglin, 32, and Clarence Anglin, 28, both of Montgomery, Ala., and Ferris A. Morris, 35, of New Orleans.

Dollison said San Francisco police, the FBI, and the Coast Guard were carrying out a sweeping search of the bay for the missing men.

He said they had cut away a portion of the back of their cells with a sharpened spoon.

The Duster Rolling Into Big Spring

This photograph, made by Lee Smith, 1964 S. Monticello, shows the wall of dust rolling into the city from the west. Big Spring residents had a glimpse of "instant darkness" about 5 p.m. as the front struck. There was enough daylight to make the photograph and then it was dark.

Twisters Reported In Cloud Of Dust

"From daylight to darkness in the bat of an eye" described the weather around 8 p.m. Monday when a solid wall of dust rolled over Big Spring and Howard County ahead of turbulent weather.

Big Spring residents had no early warning of the storm except to watch it blow in. The cloud had a vicious rolling appearance and was moving rapidly in an almost due easterly direction.

Two tornadoes were reported southwest of Big Spring, and one about five miles north but none apparently touched the ground.

Utility companies reported only minor troubles. A few telephone wires were blown down but no poles were damaged although the wind gusted as much as 60 miles an hour in places.

Howard County Airport wind gauge registered winds to 60 miles an hour.

Torrential rains fell at the Big Spring-Odessa intake on Lake J. B. Thomas but not over the watershed in general.

The lake now is 2.45 feet below spillway level, and the 181,000 acre foot content is 89.1 per cent of its volume capacity.

The commission approved the project in the petroleum producing "Golden Triangle" area of Beaumont, Port Arthur and Orange at a hearing Monday.

Planting May Get Started

The south and southeast portions of the county got small amounts of rain in the storm which breezed across the county late Monday evening, but once again the northern half was treated better.

Rainfall ranged from .20 in Lomax to .10 at Chalk and only a trace at Coahoma. Big Spring received amounts ranging from .15 to .21 inch from the scattered showers.

Most of the county has not yet received enough rainfall to insure a good stand, he said, but since June is almost halfway gone many farmers are taking a chance on more rain coming this way shortly, at least enough to get up an adequate stand of cotton.

The north half of the county, except for a spot about five miles north of Coahoma and another area around Gay Hill, has received more than two inches in the past several days and should be in pretty good shape.

The success of late planting depends much on favorable weather later in the season, he said. Last year some June 25 cotton made

Estes Gets Grand Jury Subpoena

FRANKLIN, Tex. (AP)—Sheriff A. B. Nail of Pecos said today he has subpoenaed to appear before a Robertson County grand jury here Wednesday.

The grand jury is investigating the June 3, 1961 death of Henry Marshall, a federal agriculture official who was looking into Estes cotton allotment dealings.

His attorney (John Dennison) made him available and we got service on the subpoena, Nail said.

The Robertson County grand jury reopened the Marshall case three weeks ago. Marshall's body, pierced by five bullets, was found on his ranch near here June 3, 1961. The inquest verdict was suicide. A bolt action rifle was found near the body.

Marshall, 52, was state chief of production adjustments for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. At the time of his death he had been looking into cotton acreage allotments held by Estes.

Estes since has been indicted on fraud and theft charges. The Agriculture Department, holding the obtained cotton allotments illegally, recently levied a $554,172 penalty against him.

Judge John M. Barron, who called the grand jury investigation, has said Marshall was trying to stop manipulation of acreage allotments by Estes. But Will Wilson, state attorney general, says an Agriculture Department report on Estes' dealings indicates Marshall helped Estes on agreements for leasing land to which cotton allotments had been transferred.

Rutherford Faces Attempt To Oust Name From Ballot

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Dist. Judge George M. Kellon agreed Monday to hear a motion to remove the name of Rep. J. T. Rutherford, D-Tex., from the November general election ballot.

Robert Frias, whom Rutherford defeated in the May 5 Democratic primary election, presented the motion, claiming Rutherford forfeited his right to a place on the ballot because he was late in reporting a $1,500 campaign contribution from West Texas promoter Billie Sol Estes.

Rutherford has said he was not aware of the Estes donation until he checked his records.

Laos Spotlight Moves To Geneva

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The spotlight on Laos will shift briefly back to Geneva now that the rival princes have agreed on a coalition government in the name of national unity. They formally signed the agreement today.

"This is a happy day for Laos," said Avtar Singh, Indian chairman of the International Control Commission.

Singh said a delegation from the 19-member Cabinet named Monday will go to Geneva within three weeks to sign the 14-nation Geneva accords.

AUSTIN (AP)—Crews hunting oil-stealing wells in the rich East Texas field had their search in high gear today in an attempt to complete the first round of surveys this week.

The crews, hired by the state to find deviated — slanted or curved—wells, finished six directional surveys Monday to bring the total to 21.

All the wells on which directional surveys have been run are apparently illegally deviated.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said no directional surveys are made unless inclination surveys first show the well is crooked.

Inclination surveys show that a well is slanted, but directional surveys must then be run to show how much.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Houghton Brownlee said investigators have run into a new problem—the use at a rock on the surface of the ground. When the rock was kicked, oil began flowing from the dummy wells.

The attorney general's office, the Railroad Commission, federal investigators and state police are conducting the probe.

Estimates of how much oil has been stolen by the wells drilled to siphon from neighboring leases have ranged from $10 million to $72 million a year.

The attorney general's office has obtained court orders restraining operators on 28 leases from interfering with the probe.

The commission has issued an order prohibiting the plugging of wells which would keep crews from making their surveys and about 50 Texas Rangers and highway patrolmen are standing duty in shifts to back up the order.

Some operators, investigators said, have used the pipe to hook up a group of dummy wells—non-producing or low productive wells—to an illegally deviated well.

Then, the "hot oil" is pumped through the plastic pipe—undetectable with mine detectors—to the dummy wells, thus making it appear that several wells are producing.

Brownlee said investigators have "just started digging and are trying to map out the maze of plastic pipe on some leases."

Brownlee said some of the illegal pumping equipment is very elaborate. One well connected to a set of dummy wells had an electric switch buried so it would turn on when someone just kicked

Rocky Has Inside Track

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—The quiet assumption among most Republicans attending national committee meetings here appears to be that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York will be their 1964 presidential nominee.

Behind all the hoopla of optimistic declarations that their party is going to win control of the House and add several governorships in the November election, there is soft-pedaled but not unspoken talk about the choice of the next man to oppose President Kennedy.

In this talk there is a strong disagreement on whether former Vice President Richard M. Nixon can or can't be counted out of the 1964 running if he wins the governorship of California.

There is a lively interest in what will happen if George Romney wins the governorship of Michigan. There is talk that William Scranton would make an attractive presidential candidate if he can take over the statehouse in Pennsylvania.

There is solid support for the idea that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona deserves at least second place on the 1964 ticket as spokesman for the party's conservatives.

The committee reported that a national survey of Republicans had disclosed that "President Kennedy's grab for more and more executive power will be the overriding issue of the 1968 campaign."

Asked not to be quoted directly, committee supporters of the bill said in interviews that Ribicoff's comments left no doubt the administration earnestly wants a bill this year.

It was understood Ribicoff told the committee Kennedy would have no part of a measure which did not contain Social Security financing for his health program for the aged. Everything else, so these sources were given to believe, is negotiable.

The shaded countries above are the seven European Communist nations that have pledged closer economic cooperation among themselves and stepped-up production, according to a communique issued after a summit meeting of the nations in Moscow. The meeting was aimed at producing an answer to the European Common Market. The communique said that Outer Mongolia was also voted into the group.

Star System Hit After MM Firing

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood's star system came in for sharp criticism today following 20th Century-Fox' decision to give up on "Something's Got to Give."

Executive Vice President Peter Levathes announced cancellation of the film Monday night. The development was preceded by the sacking of Marilyn Monroe on Friday and co-star Dean Martin's subsequent refusal to work with her.

Levathes was terse in his announcement, saying only that the move was reluctantly made.

But the boss of another studio commented: "The star system has got way out of hand. We've let the inmates run the asylum and they've practically destroyed it."

Members of the crew assigned to the Monroe-Martin vehicle said they hoped to run an ad in the trade papers headed: "Thanks, Dean and Marilyn, for putting us out of work."

Miss Monroe was fired for absenteeism. The studio said she showed up only five working days in seven weeks of shooting. The star blamed illness for her absences. On film, however, was her much-publicized nose bathing scene.

All told, 20th Century-Fox lost $2 million worth of film by scrapping the picture.

But one studio source summed it up this way: "If we had continued at the rate we were going with Marilyn, we would have had an American 'Cleopatra.' It's better to shut down and lose $2 million than keep on and maybe lose $10 million or $12 million.

"There was nothing we could do but scuttle it."

After Marilyn was fired, she was replaced by Lee Remick. Then co-star Dean Martin departed, saying he'd work with no one but Monroe.

The studio could replace Marilyn easily because she wasn't on much film, but Martin was in nearly every scene director George Cukor shot while waiting for Marilyn to return to the set. Miss Remick would say only, "I'm not mad at anybody."

Martin said of the shutdown, "Gee, that's a shame. I'm really sorry. If they'd kept Marilyn in the cast I think we could have made a very fine picture. But she was too sick to go ahead with it. So that's it."

It was a day of decisions for Levathes.

He also decided to suspend Walter Wanger as producer of "Cleopatra," at $30 million the most costly film in history.

It, too, has been plagued by absenteeism by its star, Elizabeth Taylor.

Vietnamese Reds Claim GI Statement

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese Communists have broadcast what they claimed to be a captive American soldier's statement denouncing "the criminal maneuvers of U.S. imperialism" in South Viet Nam.

The soldier was identified as Spec. 4 George F. Fryett Jr., 26, whose parents live in California. He is the only U.S. serviceman listed as missing among the 6,500 U.S. troops stationed in South Viet Nam to help President Ngo Dinh Diem's government fight the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

Fryett, a clerk in the U.S. Military Assistance and Advisory Group in Saigon, disappeared last Dec. 24. He reportedly went by bicycle to a village in Bien Hoa Province, north of Saigon, and apparently was captured by the Viet Cong.

The Communist "Liberation Radio," believed to be in North Viet Nam, broadcast Fryett's purported statement Saturday. It was picked up by U.S. Embassy monitors in Saigon and a translation was made available today.

According to the broadcast Fryett appealed to the Communists for leniency and asked to be returned to "my compatriots' community" where "I want to be able to do something good for your people, such as by informing the American people of the presence of and illegal acts by the U.S. troops in South Viet Nam."

U.S. Embassy officials stressed that there was no confirmation that Fryett had made the statement.

U.S. officials noted that the Communists claimed to have obtained similar statements from two other American soldiers captured and released in May, but that the soldiers insisted they signed nothing.

U.S. Army officials said Fryett's father, George F. Fryett Sr., lives in Long Beach, Calif., and his mother, Marcella Schultz Bruce, lives in Los Angeles.

Co-Op Has Big Month

May turned out to be another big month for Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, although not as big as April.

As cotton farmers eased up on the pre-planting irrigation in order to attempt planting, C.R.P. Rock purchases dropped from April's 10,029,560 KWH to 8,001,120 for May. This compared with 5,708,670 for May of last year.

Sales in April had been 9,176,163 KWH, and in May they were 7,833,141 as against 5,296,929 for May of 1960.

For the first five months of the year, the system has bought 32,423,866 KWH of power, up from the 19,782,410 for the same period last year. Sales have aggregated 29,005,482, up from the 16,708,496 for the first five months of 1960.

At the end of May there were 2,327 miles of line energized, a gain of two miles for the month and 156 more than a year ago. There were 4,918 members connected, a gain of 28 for the month, 582 for the year.

He is also a former chairman of the board of the Kiwanis Club, served as a member of the Big Spring School Board and is currently serving as a member of the Salvation Army, YMCA, United Fund, and other local organizations.

Top Businessmen To Study U.S. Balance Of Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of top ranking businessmen has agreed to examine the Kennedy administration's steps to halt the balance of payments deficit and to make recommendations on how to stop the resulting flow of U.S. gold abroad.

The businessmen, headed by U.S. Steel Corp. Chairman Roger M. Blough, conferred with President Kennedy for an hour Monday night. Afterward, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said they had agreed to make the balance of payments study.

The meeting followed Kennedy's appeal Monday in a Yale University commencement speech for cooperation between the government and all segments of the economy.

Salinger said of the meeting:

"The President feels that this kind of cooperation is most important and that can be most helpful between business and the government."

In his speech earlier in the day Kennedy had declared: "The solid ground of mutual confidence is the necessary partnership of government with all sectors of our society in the steady quest for economic progress."

The President also said those who blame his administration for the sharp decline in stock prices are raising a false issue. Two of his most frequent Republican critics—Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Minority Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana—hampered away again Monday on the subject of the economy at a news conference.

"It has become clear that the Kennedy administration has got America moving again—but in the wrong direction," Dirksen said. "The stock market's crash has supplied the evidence."

Halleck said of Kennedy's proposal to cut income taxes next year: "Evidently this means that Mr. Kennedy intends to cut taxes and spend at the same time. We say the two are contradictory so far as promoting confidence is concerned and can only produce intolerable deficits that will further depress the economy."

U.S. To Stay In Thailand Despite Agreement In Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will keep military forces in Thailand for the time being despite the agreement of neighboring Laos' three political groups to form a coalition government.

High U.S. officials, in disclosing this today, said they believe the threat of a Communist-dominated Laos has been averted, at least for the present.

However, the new Laotian government is expected to be too weak at the outset to halt the threat of Red infiltration from neighboring North Viet Nam.

U.S. troops in Thailand, which now number about 4,000, are being retained there as a protection against Communist infiltration into that U.S.-allied country.

The United States is concerned, too, about the infiltration of Communist guerrillas into pro-Western South Viet Nam via a corridor through southern Laos. This flow is expected to continue.

U.S. officials are hopeful that the 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos can meet by the first week of July, or possibly sooner, to put into effect the agreements which will neutralize Laos and remove it from the cold war arena.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, premier-designate of the new coalition government, is expected to head the Laotian delegation at Geneva.

There is still a blank spot in the Geneva agreement which remains to be negotiated. This is a declaration by Laos of the neutrality it expects to maintain under its new government of national union.

American authorities are now going on the assumption that the military dispute that divided the little Southeast Asian kingdom can be shifted to the political arena.

With the progress made thus far toward setting up a coalition government, the United States can resume its financial assistance to the royal government and will be ready to continue aid to the new Souvanna Phouma government once it has taken the reins of power.

The United States has held up budgetary assistance amounting to $3 million a month since February.

One of the difficult problems ahead is the need to pay the royal troops who have been engaged in the Laotian civil war.

Once the Geneva agreement has been adopted, the new government will demobilize most of the fighting forces and integrate the remaining troops into a national police force. Officials of the State and Defense departments and the Agency for International Development met Monday to consider the question of costs before demobilization is effected.

Presumably the Communist bloc will continue to provide for the salaries of pro-Communist Pathet Lao troops and an estimated 16,000 North Vietnamese now in the country.

The Geneva agreement will require the withdrawal of all foreign forces, including the 10,000 Vietnamese and less than 1,000 American military advisers and technicians in the country.

PLAN OF SALVATION (4)

By T. H. Tynel, preacher, Church of Christ, 2000 West Highway 89 P.O. Box 1302

One must first hear the gospel, that produces faith in the honest and good heart (Rom. 10:17; Luke 8:15). Faith, then is the second condition in the plan of salvation. Faith and belief are the same. The words are used interchangeably (Jno. 20:27). Faith and belief are nouns. Believe is the verb. Man does the believing (God does not do it for him); for man is commanded to do it. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved..." (Acts 16:31). This also shows that be-

DEAR ABBY

Time For Insurance

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who is insurance-shy? We have been married for 15 years and have four children, and he positively will not carry one cent worth of insurance unless he has to. (He has auto insurance because he can't drive a car without it.) The place where he works has some insurance for him, but in case something happened to him we could never make it on that. I am worried sick over it, but when I bring it up he says, "You're a real looker, Kiddo, and if something happened to me you could get another guy in 15 minutes." How can you reason with a man who takes this attitude? We are not POOR. We have a bank account in six figures!

DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: Call a reputable insurance company and ask for an agent who can talk to a man who is bull-headed and ignorant about insurance. Insist that your husband hear him out. He will get an earful. A man who loves his wife and family OWES them this kind of protection.

DEAR ABBY: Seventeen months ago I married a nice woman. She was a thoughtful, tidy and affectionate girl. Now she doesn't even comb her hair any more, and her slip hangs down to her ankles. She smokes like a brush fire and likes to sleep her life away. I made a big mistake. I wish I could mail her back to her mother. What should I do?

DEPRESSED AND DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DEPRESSED: Your wife is obviously sick. Get her to a doctor. When a man takes a wife, she is no longer her mother's responsibility, but his! (The same thing could have happened to you.)

DEAR ABBY: Whenever we entertain, my husband and I take our guests' coats and hang them in the clothes closet. Some of our friends ask their guests to "lay their coats on the bed in the bedroom." We think this is awful. What do you think?

MRS. FUSSY
DEAR MRS. FUSSY: If you have the closet space to hang your guests' coats, congratulations. But some people do not, in which case there is nothing wrong with asking their guests to lay their wraps on the bed.

Smiles Broad, And Boots Muddy

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Smiles are broad and boots muddy over a lot of Texas after soaking rains in many areas during the past several days. Less favored areas still are crusted with dust.

The driest areas are far west, central west and Plains counties, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Range and crop prospects have greatly improved, he added. However, some areas will have considerable replanting due to hail, winds, sand and washing, he said.

Here are the reports by district agents:
Widespread rains in far South Texas have been very beneficial to cotton and young grain sorghum, pastures and other crops. The vegetable harvest is on the market good. Ranges need more rain.

General rains over South Central Texas have put new life into fading pastures and crops are responding rapidly.

Fields are soaked, and corn, sorghum and hay crops are assured in the upper coastal area. Cotton is fruiting and insect damage is light. Corn is in the roasting ear stage. The vegetable harvest is good. Watermelons should move within two weeks. Rice is making good progress but dead spots in some fields caused concern. Pastures are mending.

Moisture is spotted in East Texas where pastures range from average to below. Livestock marketings were heavy and prices have dropped.

Moisture is adequate in the eastern counties of Central Texas but short in the western counties. A fair oat crop is being harvested. Corn and sorghum in favored areas were making good progress. Peanut planting is on; the peanut crop is set; and pastures are good.

Moisture is badly needed in all West Central Texas except in southeastern counties. Row crops were at a standstill and pastures were drying up. Stock water was critically short. Some feeding of livestock is beginning.

Scattered showers have failed to relieve the situation in far West Texas. Winds have hurt young cotton and sorghum. Grass growth is almost nil. Small grain is ripening and sheep shearing is about over. Livestock feeding is increasing.

Rains helped Northeast Texas but more is needed. Cotton is squaring. Tomatoes are nearing the green-wrap stage and some pinks are expected to move from Smith County next week. Early peaches are ripening. Pastures are improving.

Rains in North Central Texas left adequate moisture. Pastures are improving rapidly. Some cotton is yet to be planted.

Moisture is adequate in 12, and short in 10 counties of the Rolling Plains (Vernon.) The wheat harvest neared completion. The district average was 15 to 20 bushels an acre. Several thousand acres of cotton will have to be replanted due to hail, winds and sand.

Showers gave hope of more to come in the dry South Plains (Lubbock.) Irrigated cotton was making good progress except where it was damaged by wind and sand. About 80 per cent of the irrigated grain sorghum had been planted but the lack of rain held up dryland planting. Ranges were below average.

The wheat harvest in the Panhandle has started but was stopped by rains. The test weight on early wheat has been light. Sorghum planting should begin now in areas previously too dry for planting. Cotton stands are poor due to hail and much replanting will be necessary. Ranges need more rain.

Argentine Death Toll Rises To 43

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Leading Argentine surgeons labored today to save many youngsters gravely injured when a commuter train rammed a school bus jammed with more than 100 school children Monday.

Two among the injured died Monday night, raising the death toll in the crash at a fog-shrouded railroad crossing to 43. Eighty-one persons, most of them children under 10, were on the injured list.

A Devotional For The Day

The Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. (John 14:26)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for sending the Holy Spirit, the Comforter, to be ever with us. Teach us to put our trust in Him for insight, for guidance, and for strength. In our Savior's name. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Grateful For Timely Rain

Our rains have not been exactly in the drought-breaking category, but they have given substantial relief to part of our area, raised hopes for the other portions.

Based on scattered reports, it would appear that about two-thirds of the north half of the county, where three-fourths of our farming areas like, has enough moisture for planting. Probably a third of the county's farms now have sufficient seedling for assuring a good stand of crops, and there will be almost that much more on which farmers will hazard a planting.

This is not the rosier outlook possible, but compared with the situation this time last week, it is encouraging. Perhaps more showers will help plug some of the holes in the planting pattern and bring desperately needed relief to the southwest and southeast corners of the county. At any rate, we're grateful for what we have received, for it gives us that fighting chance that West Texas needs before it can begin to talk about agricultural income.

West Texas Feels Its Oats

Political observers have been so pre-occupied with conjecture over distribution of conservative, moderate, liberal votes, and over possible combinations of these along with Republican and Democratic division in November, that they have missed one of the significant developments in the recent Democratic primaries.

This is the power that West Texas can and is bound to exert in state politics.

For a long time West Texas has been a sort of step-child, or a Johnny - come-lately at best, in state governmental affairs. The redistricting in 1953 for the 1956 census and again this year for the 1960 census afforded this area a greater degree of justice.

But it remained for the primaries to demonstrate what the area can do. Consider this: Both the Democratic nominees for lieutenant governor (Preston Smith) and attorney general (Waggoner Carr) are from Lubbock. Both are accounted moderate to conservative in their political thinking, which fits fairly well into the area pattern. Carr likely would have won handsily without solid regional support, but it was the great West Texas vote that swept him into office, and which enabled Smith to stage an upset in winning his nomination. The gubernatorial nominee (John Connally), whose Fort Worth residence could qualify him as a West Texas, also garnered a substantial West Texas vote.

Moreover, the chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, Ed Connally, is from Abilene.

Even the GOP is in on the act, for its governor nominee, Jack Cox, is from Breckenridge. Hence, this region is beginning to assert itself politically.

Marquis Childs Personnel Problems Of Diplomacy

WASHINGTON — The conduct of diplomacy by the free-wheeling government of a democracy of divided powers presents a chief executive with grim and seemingly irreconcilable contradictions. He is the captain, in theory, of a boat in which every separate oarsman reserves the right to pull in his own separate direction.

NOTHING COULD illustrate this more strikingly than the adoption by the Senate of an amendment (later somewhat tempered) denying any aid to Communist or Marxist dominated countries. If this were allowed to stand the President would have no latitude in dealing with the intricacies of the Communist bloc and the divisions existing within that bloc.

But even in day-to-day details of diplomacy — the selection of ambassadors and how they conduct their embassies — rival oarsmen are apt to try to set the boat off on another course. These rivalries are particularly awkward at a time when revolutionary changes are occurring in every department of life and the diplomacy of the past seems more often than not philly inadequate to the fierce demands of the present.

The opposition press in Australia criticized the appointment on the score that Battle was an amateur on a segregationist state. But the President told the Australian ambassador, Sir Howard Beale, that he was sending one of his closest friends whom he regarded most highly. The Australian government is said to be happy about the choice. Beale is a former Cabinet minister who would himself rank as an amateur diplomat.

AS PAST experience has proved, distinguished non-career men often make able and effective ambassadors in situations in which a career man would be inadequate. This has been true in India where a succession of non-career diplomats have distinguished themselves in a sensitive assignment.

The other side of this coin is the faithful fat cat who has served the party well and opened his checkbook generously. He is rewarded with an ambassadorial post for which he has no visible qualification and in which, more often than not, he is not especially happy. The Administration is sending Matthew McCloskey, of Philadelphia, long treasurer of the Democratic party, to Ireland, a reward in the past for the serving and a friendly and undemanding post.

BY A PROVISION of the law granting a special 12 per cent retirement bonus to foreign service officers announcing their departure by a July 1 deadline the Department of State is losing the services of 212 officers, including 107 in the four highest grades and 17 with the rank of minister or ambassador. This in itself is a small revolution with both advantages and disadvantages in the Kennedy Administration's effort to reshape and sharpen the tools of diplomacy for the difficult tasks of the 'sixties and after.

SOME OF THE retirees are so completely in the stereotype of the past—the diplomacy of high tea and striped pants—that they are considered in the category of dead wood. Others would still have a useful contribution to make if it were not for the exigencies of the retirement provisions and the attraction of an extra $1,600 to make an annuity of $15,500 for retiring career ambassadors. And the State Department wants the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to put through an exemption which would permit 10 Class 1 officers to stay on and still get the bonus.

As he is often reminded, President Kennedy said in the campaign that he meant to get the very best men to serve in each important post. Yet he has had many of the same difficulties that his predecessors had in staffing top jobs.

THE PRESIDENT made his good friend, General James Gavin, ambassador to France although Gavin had no diplomatic or political experience. Gavin's critics say he has identified himself so closely with President De Gaulle that he has become almost the principal advocate of the French claim to American nuclear know-how and nuclear weapons.

The current rating is 68 career to 28 non-career ambassadors, with four vacancies. Of the 28 four are businessmen, which has been the commonest category for the political ambassador, and the others are from teaching, the law, journalism and other professions. This ratio—68 to 28 is about par for the past decade. In only two recent periods was the career percentage higher and these came with an impending change of administration when the fat cat would have no motive to take a post for a short time.

THE REALLY tough search now on is for a successor to Llewellyn Thompson who has served for four and a half years as ambassador to Moscow. That is a long stretch in a hardship post and Thompson wants out. The successor should speak Russian fluently so he can talk with Premier Khrushchev in his own language. And he must meet a number of other exacting requirements. It is a melancholy commentary on the field, career and non-career, that no candidate seems immediately evident.

RECENTLY THE news leaked out that he was appointing his close friend, William Battle, 41 years old, to be ambassador to Australia. Battle served with Kennedy during the war in the Pacific and he managed his campaign in 1960 in Virginia. The opposition press in Australia criticized the appointment on the score that Battle was an amateur on a segregationist state. But the President told the Australian ambassador, Sir Howard Beale, that he was sending one of his closest friends whom he regarded most highly. The Australian government is said to be happy about the choice. Beale is a former Cabinet minister who would himself rank as an amateur diplomat.

Restoration Considered

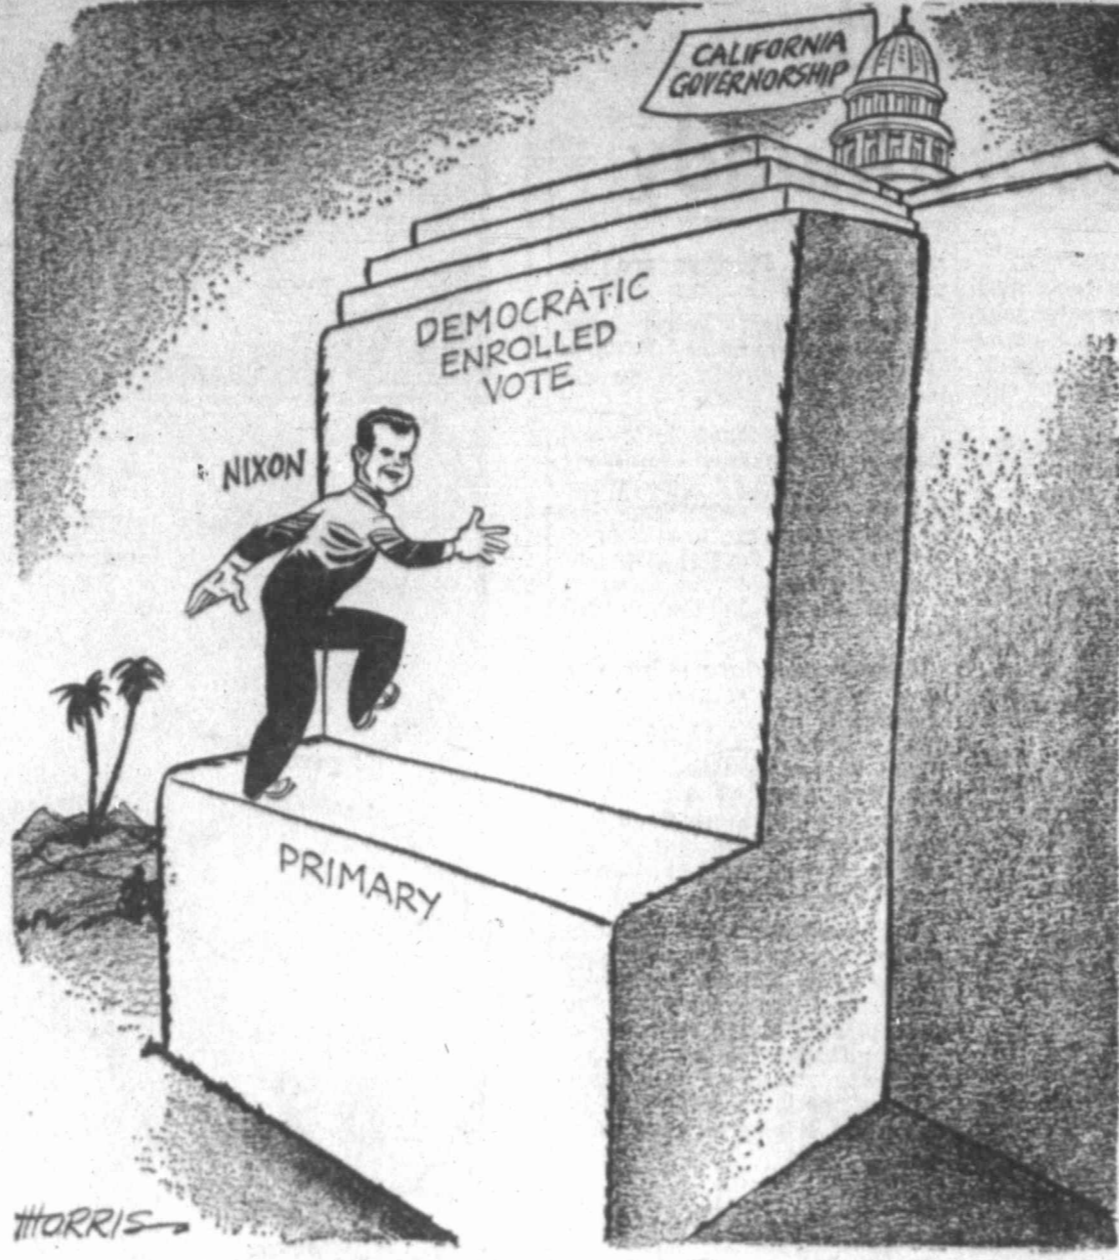

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Ont. (AP) — Several groups in this town at the mouth of the Niagara River on Lake Ontario want to restore certain areas to their 18th and 19th Century appearance.

The town, burned by Americans during the War of 1812, was rebuilt. Many of its existing structures date from the early 19th Century and others pre-date the 1913 attack.

All buildings in town are being surveyed and details of their history are being gathered. Niagara-on-the-Lake is considered to have some of the finest colonial architecture to be seen in Canada.

HERRIN, Ill. (AP) — Burglars took 17 pounds of turkey, 38 pounds of ground beef and 40 pounds of cheese from Chittily-Elementary School. Principal Ronald Browning said the school lunch program would continue "although the menu will be revised somewhat."

THE FIRST STEP WAS A BEAUT—

The Kennedy Crash Prosperity Is Not Yet A Corpse

By J. A. LIVINGSTON

Against the formidable debits is one overriding credit: This is America—and I'm not being sentimental. This is the society of President Kennedy and Roger M. Blough, of Eisenhower and George Meany, of Rockefeller, Ford, Reuther, and plain Joe Blow, as well as James Hoffa, Billie Sol Estes, and David Beck. It's still a melting pot of decency and ambition, of strength and honor, of weakness and evil—a melting pot of citizens who not only want "get going" with Mr. Kennedy, but keep going. Our contentions, differences, and divisions are our strength. We're not going to pull the country apart just because we're in a bear market.

PROSPERITY is not yet a corpse. And, the internal structure of business, itself, is strong. This has been no economic boom. Just a stock market boom. The nation has gone through two recessions in the last five years—1957-58 and 1960-61. Only when prosperity rolls along without a readjustment do inventories get vast and out of line with sales potentials. Only then do new industrial facilities, office buildings, and residences become an unsustainable burden if demand suddenly slackens. This time we've had a pullback to reality. In the last five years of the 'twenties, business hesitated only briefly in 1927. That's why the 1929 industrial slump was so severe.

LATENT FORCES are at work to sustain prosperity. The bumper crop of war babies will soon be rushing to the altar. Marriages reached a postwar low of 1,450,000 in 1958 and climbed to 1,550,000 last year. Starting this year, they could hit 1,650,000 and stay at that level and then, along about 1966, jump to 1,900,000. That's a powerful upswing—a creator of demand for furniture, apartments, new homes. Bear markets can't compete with dotting fathers of the brides.

Beyond that, the administration has latent powers. No greater contribution to economic resurgence could be made than the lowering of both the personal and corporate tax rates. And the President has so promised.

THE KENNEDY economists are not afraid of deficits. (This often scares business men.) They believe that when the economy runs at less than capacity, deficits are tolerable and greater spending is desirable.

Spending is just as effective—perhaps more effective—if citizens do the spending rather than the government. A tax cut makes everyone feel better. It's as good as a raise from the boss.

What we need in the United States is a regeneration of the profit motive—not through capital gains and tax gimmicks, but through work. There was a time when to make a profit was to make good. High taxes have deflected incentives. In our society today, the speculator has far more chance to become wealthy than the producer. Tax cuts won't be a shot in the arm. They'll be a long-term boon.

The objective of stimulating an "upward shift in the rate of investment" can be achieved by re-writing Treasury Bulletin 'F, a task long promised and long overdue. This bulletin sets guidelines for depreciation allowances—how fast companies can write off their machinery. The faster business men get their money back on equipment, the faster they'll spend on new facilities. A depreciation speedup is in a class with a corporate tax cut as an incentive toward modernization and expansion. Moreover, such changes would do more to improve business machinery. JFK Not Anti-Business, But Wants To Work By New Rules

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—In his Yale speech President Kennedy makes it plain government wants to cooperate with business—but along the lines of a new economy he envisions.

And in their reaction to the government-business clashes this spring most businessmen have made it plain they think government-business cooperation is essential—but that the old rules should still apply.

In its own reaction the stock market also has stuck close to the old rules—prices go down when uncertainty pile up and hold the possibility of a decline in profits and business activity—no matter who's to blame, government, business, or stock traders themselves.

The Yale speech seems to put the differences between government and business into clearer focus if only because of the flat statement that the government will continue its "watchful concern for our economic health" and insist that business and labor live up to their responsibilities to the public interest, as the government interprets it.

The President says in effect his administration is anxious to ally businessmen's fears that it is against them.

But the President calls upon his business critics to give ground—to abandon what he calls their stubborn allegiance to old myths and slogans—to move into what he sees as a new era in the nation's economy.

His chances of getting this concession by many businessmen immediately would seem pretty slim.

For one thing, they believe sincerely that economic laws don't change that easily; if at all. For another, many sincerely distrust the administration's vision of what would make the nation's economy grow at a faster pace. And still others note with some alarm a growing campaign to credit Europe's striking recovery from war damage as due to abandoning old fears of deficit financing.

The U.S. Treasury will close its fiscal books June 30 with a deficit. And if new spending proposed to pep up the economy, and tax cuts envisioned for next year, take final form the chances for deficit financing in the next fiscal year are strong.

Many fear this will fire up another round of inflation. To the ordinary citizen this means that the cost of living goes up because the market place value of the dollar goes down.

Others, including many of the President's close advisers, insist that the deficit spending will so pep up the economy that in following years there will be Treasury surpluses, strengthening the dollar in the long run.

The idea is only part of the administration's feeling that the government can't stand aside when the growth of the U.S. economy is at stake.

'62 FALCON FORDOR SEDAN

SAID THE FORD FALCON TO THE CHEVY II (AND CORVAIR)

No matter which compacts you compare the facts favor the Ford Falcon. Here's proof!

FALCON VS. CHEVY II

Chevy II tried to copy Falcon's lines, length, wheelbase, height, width—and many inside dimensions. But here's where it missed!

- Falcon's standard engine is a smooth Six; Chevy II's is a Four!
- Falcon offers more passenger comfort—almost 1 inch more rear leg room for example!
- Falcon has bigger rear doors—1½ inches wider!
- Falcon goes 6,000 miles between oil and oil filter changes* Chevy II, 4,000—a 33% savings!
- Falcon has extra layers of insulation—50% more underfoot!
- Falcon holds the Mobil Economy Run's gas mileage record for a Six or Eight!

PLUS 10% more glass area, multi-leaf instead of single-leaf rear springs, wider trunk opening with a mat inside, heavier bumpers, greater maneuverability, more models to choose from!

And Falcon's prices start lower!

*MSRP. Excl. 1,300-mile charge

FALCON VS. CORVAIR

Falcon is a true family car! It's not only longer but almost 4 inches wider than the Corvaire. It holds 6 big people in comfort. (Just try to seat 6 in a Corvaire!) And that's just the beginning!

- Falcon's engine delivers more horsepower than Corvaire's rear-mounted engine!
- Falcon packs away almost twice as much as Corvaire's front-end trunk!
- Falcon bridges the bumps better with a 1½ inch longer wheelbase!
- Falcon has bigger brakes than Corvaire!
- Falcon seats are comfortably higher—1½ inches higher in front, almost 3 inches in back!

PLUS 33% savings in oil and oil filters, record gas economy, 10% more glass area in the windshield alone, bumpers almost twice as deep—all in addition to Falcon's bigger doors, more shoulder room, deeper seats!

And Falcon's prices start lower!

Look, Snake; Just Be Glad They Didn't Try To Flush You Out

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—College student Mike Krieger wanted to help a friend's snake work up an appetite, so he put the foot anacosta in a bathtub of warm water in his apartment.

As frequently happens when someone is in the tub, the phone rang.

Krieger, 20, returned to find the anacosta—which crushes its prey like the boa constrictor—disappearing down the toilet. He grabbed its tail and started pulling. In the next apartment, Bob Titsworth, a graduate student at California Institute of Technology where Krieger is an undergraduate, happened to look into his bathroom, unaware of the drama next door. The snake's head had appeared in his plumbing.

Still unaware of dual interest, each man bent to the task of saving the snake. Mike and two friends—not wanting neighbors to know of their pet—tugged at the tail. Bob enlisted two fire department units, several policemen and a Humane Society worker in an attempt to coax the snake out.

It took an hour and a half for the two factions to learn they were at odds over the ends.

The men then broke the plumbing and retrieved the snake, by now perhaps with an appetite but certainly with little stomach for further such adventures.

The Humane Society took custody.

Krieger explained that the warm water in the tub helped the snake—a cold-blooded tropical animal—raise its body temperature and thus feel more interested in eating.

Sen. Mansfield Urges New Look At Asian Policy

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., told a commencement day audience at Michigan State University that it's time for a re-examination of this nation's policy toward Southeast Asia.

The Senate majority leader and the administration's chief spokesman in that body said his support of President Kennedy does not preclude public discussion of present approaches, which he said will yield little to the people of this nation and little to the people of Southeast Asia.

Mansfield said he doubted that U.S. traffic security and other interests justify indefinite commitment to the unilateral defense of the area. Rather, he said, this nation should investigate "every possibility of minimizing the unilateral activity of the United States in Southeast Asia in every sphere."

He asked that we "Draw clearly the distinction between what is enduringly basic and what is transitory and peripheral in our interests with respect" to the area.

The unilateral supply of manpower and billions is at best "a mark-time course of immense costs" and "at worst, it's a collision course," he said.

Mansfield received an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Damaging Weather Keeps Grip On State

Unruly and damaging weather kept Texas in its grip Tuesday for a ninth straight day.

Several tornado funnels made menacing passes and thunderstorms with winds up to hurricane force swept wide areas of the state during the night, continuing well into the morning.

One set of storms hit hard at Monahans, Midland and Odessa in West Texas, ripping the roofs off at least three homes and smashing several small buildings. They packed wind clocked unofficially at 90 miles per hour in Monahans.

There were three other thunderstorm areas. One series formed in the Texas Panhandle and shoved to the southeast into the Childress vicinity. Another developed near Abilene and didn't start dissipating until it neared Fort Worth after dawn. Repeated thunderstorms swept through the Lufkin area in East Texas during the night.

The Weather Bureau reported a funnel cloud appeared Monday night near Seminole, not far from the New Mexico line, but there was no word of damage.

At Big Spring State Park just west of Big Spring, civil defense leader W. E. Berry told of sighting another twister. H. L. Thurmond of Coahoma saw one writhe through the area between Sand Springs and Coahoma. Neither dipped to earth.

At Cooper, northeast of Greenville in North Texas, residents watched still another tornado whirl harmlessly aloft. Heavy rain fell and wind caused limited damage at Cooper. A skating rink was wrecked at Paris.

Hail the size of golf balls piled six inches deep at San Hills Park near Monahans. Torrential rain threatened to flood buildings at a Girl Scout camp between Andrews and Odessa, causing officials to send a group of girls home to Odessa. Streets filled and water stalled numerous cars during a 2½ inch downpour at Midland.

The Weather Bureau issued its customary alert against severe thunderstorms, this time for a 120-mile wide belt between Wichita Falls and Tucumcari, N. M. It was in force until 9 p.m. Monday.

At Presidio in the Big Bend country, the mercury soared to 108 degrees Monday afternoon. Top marks elsewhere ranged down to 86 at Wichita Falls.

Temperatures early Tuesday varied from 94 degrees at Dalhart to 80 at Palacios.

Blonde Is New Miss Sun Fun

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP)—Virginia (Ginger) Pointevint, a striking green-eyed blonde from Huntsville, Ala., reigns today as the new Miss Sun Fun, U.S.A.

The Southern beauty, whose measurements are 38-23-37, was chosen Saturday night as a successor to Terry Lane Bowden of Brewer, Maine, as queen of the South Carolina coastal resort area.

Billie Sol's Interest In Newspaper Is Sold

PECOS (AP)—Billie Sol Estes' interest in the Pecos Daily News was sold at public auction Monday.

It was the first bit of property to go since Estes, once reputed to be worth $50 million, turned over his holdings to a court-appointed receiver April 7. He swears trial on fraud and theft charges and is the target of congressional and state investigations.

Receiver Harry Moore accepted a $9,250 offer from two certified public accountants, J. F. Patten and J. Rober Scott of Pecos, for the 92½ unencumbered shares of Estes stock in the newspaper. They were the only bidders.

The buyers agreed to repay Moore, a former El Paso bank executive, $2,700 he had advanced for the newspaper to continue publishing.

Moore received five bids earlier in the day but postponed the auction for six hours because of objections from two mortgage holders, Barney Hubbs and Joe Pouns. They own the Pecos Printing Co., which publishes the Pecos Daily News.

Hubbs and Pouns said 215 shares of stock in the newspaper are security for their $190,000 in mortgages. As conditions to sale, they insisted the buyer must retain the mortgages until they fall due four years hence, paying 7 per cent annual interest, and agree to continue publishing for that period.

The Hubbs-Pouns stock and 92½ other mortgaged shares are held by a Pecos bank as trustee.

Amounts of the original offers were not disclosed. They came from publisher Dorrance Roderick of the El Paso Times; rancher Buck Miller of Toyah, Tex., who is a Reeves County commissioner; Alan Propp of the Pecos Independent, a weekly newspaper; F. O. Masten of Sudan, Tex., a rancher and oil man holding the only additional shares in the property; and Patten and Scott, who said they represented a group of Pecos business men.

How much longer will your water heater last?

Replace it now with a modern flameless ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

If your present water heater is operating on "borrowed time", why risk the inconvenience and possible added expense of a "breakdown"? Install a modern, quick recovery, electric water heater now and enjoy all these advantages that only flameless electric water heating can give you:

FAST. New quick recovery electric water heaters with immersed heating elements give you hotter water faster and it stays hot longer. All the heat goes into the water—none is wasted up a flue. And the tank is completely insulated—even on the bottom—to keep heat inside where it belongs.

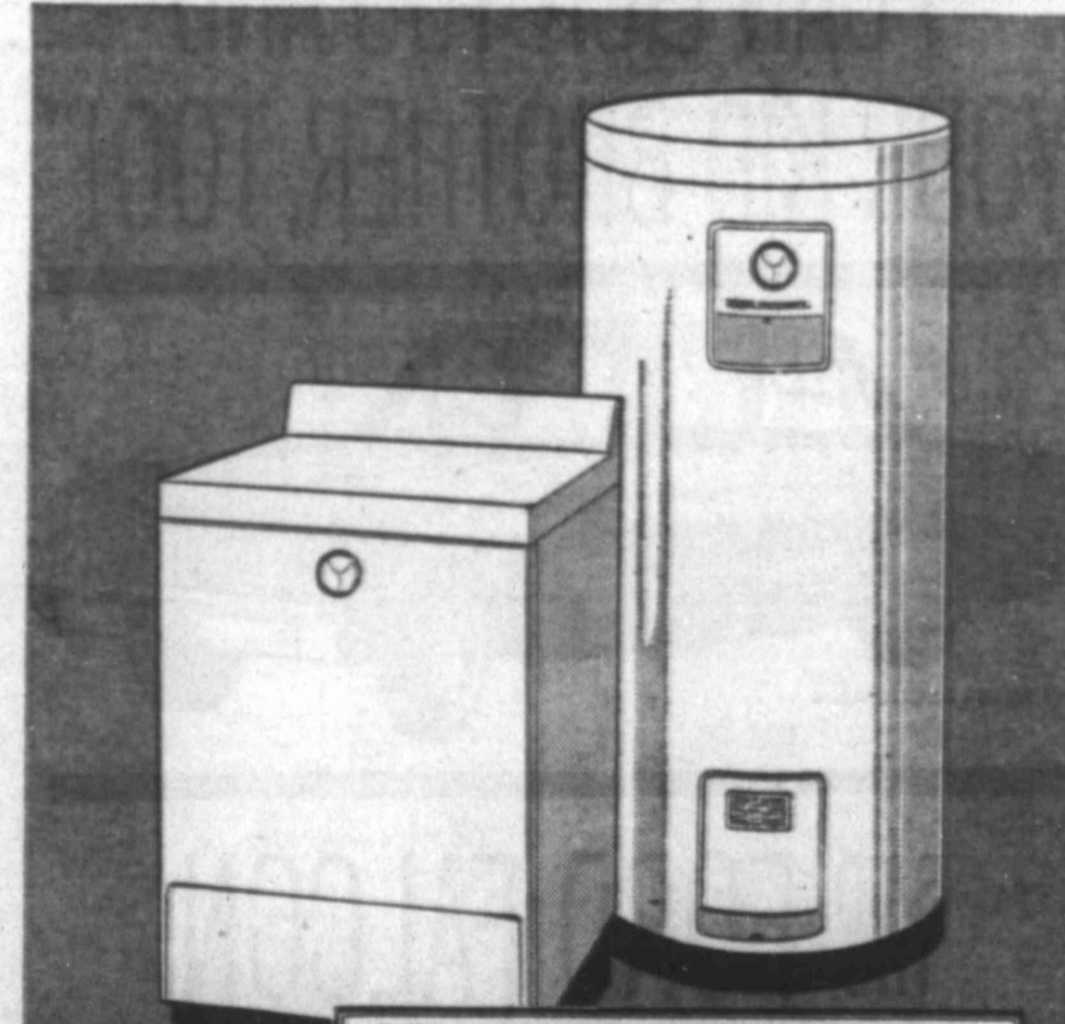

SAFE. No flames to blow out accidentally. No fuel to leak. No pilot light or flue to worry about. An electric water heater gives you peace of mind.

CLEAN. No by-products of combustion to soil walls or ceiling. No unpleasant fumes. No flue to accumulate soot. An electric water heater provides the cleanest method known for heating water.

LONG LIFE. The tank bottom is not subjected to the corrosive action of flames. There are no valves to stick, no burner to adjust. An electric water heater assures you many years of trouble-free service.

INSTALLS ANYWHERE. Because an electric water heater needs no flue, it can be installed anywhere in the house, close to the point of greatest use. This saves long heat-wasting pipe runs.

New Low Rate for ELECTRIC WATER HEATING
Only 1½¢ per kilowatt-hour for all electricity normally used for water heating by the average family. Call our office for full information.

Miss Betty Hughes Is Bride Of J. D. Adams

Miss Betty Hughes, Dallas, became the bride of J. D. Adams, Big Spring, on Saturday evening in the home of her mother, Mrs. Cecil Williams, 4415 Shenandoah, Dallas. The assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church, Dallas, read the vows.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Leonard Edwards, Big Spring, and Joe J. Adams, Breckenridge.

For the candlelight ceremony, the altar was decorated with a green and white archway flanked by baskets of white chrysanthemums.

The bridal bouquet consisted of white roses, stephanotis and pearls centered with two red roses, which she presented to her mother and Mrs. Edwards during the ceremony.

In keeping with tradition, the bride chose something old, her grandmother's pearls; something new, her dress; something borrowed, a lace handkerchief; something blue, her mother's blue wedding garter. She wore a 1962 penny in her shoe.

Mrs. Williams, matron of honor, was her daughter's only attendant. Dressed in a pale blue silk sheath, she was escorted to the altar by the bride's cousin, David Williams, mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Edwards, wore a rose lace sheath.

Think You're Too Tall? Take Advantage Of It

By VIVIAN BROWN

Do you think you are too tall? "Laugh it off. That funny feeling will last until you are about 20, then the boys sort of catch up to you," says pretty Paula Prentiss.

The Texas horn movie star, 5 feet 9 1/2 inches, says she too had qualms about her height until she learned "to have a sense of humor about it."

A popular coed at Northwestern University where she got her B.S. degree and did graduate work until 1960, Paula is chestnut-haired, brown-eyed and bursting with gaiety. What's more she's a willowy type that most short girls would envy, and her height paid off. She got her first movie role because of it.

"The problem seems worse about the 9th grade though, when most girls are taller than boys. You've just got to keep thinking you'll live through it," she advises.

Paula's decision to look as if and centered with hurricane lamps.

Mrs. S. Gorman offered the invocation. After scriptural passages were read by Miss Twila Lomax, Mrs. Cass Hill, mistress of ceremonies, gave the call to worship. Mrs. M. R. Turner, president, presided over the business session during which Miss Edith Gay presented the secretary's report and Mrs. Hill gave the financial report. Mrs. Ruby Martin presented the goals.

Mrs. Hill served as moderator of a panel discussion on "The Missionary and the Deaconess." Members of the panel were Mrs. Cass, Mrs. Dempsey and Mrs. B. M. Keese.

Twenty-seven attended, including one guest, Mrs. Dewitt Seago. Hostesses assisting Mrs. Stewart were Mrs. Miller Harris, Mrs. Turner, Miss Gladys Burnham and Mrs. Nan Bunch.

she enjoyed being tall wasn't easy at times.

A SAD TUNE
"I had a terrific crush on singer Tommy Sanders who sat behind me in music class at Lamar High School in Houston. Our seats were built up on tiers so that we looked fine together sitting down. But when we stood up, oh my!"

There are ways to appear shorter, she discovered.
"I used to wear very long evening dresses, then kick off my shoes the minute I got up to a dance, and I could even bend my knees without looking too silly," she says laughing.

After she had made up her mind to live happily with her height, she just wore what she liked and let it go at that.

"There is a certain way tall women can wear simple clothes so that they look elegant. But tall girls must learn to be graceful. Some girls slump, trying to look shorter," she says.
Paula keeps her weight at about

Bathroom Simplicity Is New In Home Decor

By VIVIAN BROWN

Little dolphin water spouts are no longer "in the swim." Cherubs are far out; eagles are out; fleur-de-lis is waning as bathroom motif. So says Marion Wieder, well-known interior designer who specializes in bathrooms.

"Classical lines are in. Greek key, egg and dart, reed and ribbon are the simple designs that people want as they weed out ornateness," she says.

Time was when nobody paid attention to bathrooms when they rented or bought houses, she says, but now people often come to her with architect's plans before they make the final decision about their home.

Mrs. Wieder loves to remodel a bathroom completely as she did recently for actor Robert Preston and his wife at their 150-year-old farmhouse in Rye, N. Y.

"The Prestons love the charm of early American so the bathroom was made to look barn-like. We used a flooring of real wood impregnated on vinyl with pegs, off-white leather tiles that resemble Spanish stucco on walls, baseboard of wormy walnut and heavy wood beams across the ceiling. There is a countertop of slate, walnut louvers at the windows and walnut molding around the medicine chest to match the shower enclosure.

All fixtures, including the light, are "dirty" pewter, she says.
"Men like earthy colors and wood tones," Mrs. Wieder says. They don't like pastels or bright colors like orange. They like Oriental and contemporary design.

However, off-white, deep pink and blue combined with other colors are the most popular bathroom colors, she says.
"You don't need to remove fixtures to do a new, lovely bathroom. The right use of carpet, new treatment on a medicine chest door, new paint or paper, complete illumination of a ceiling may be just what a little bathroom needs."

Mrs. Wieder adds distinctive effects in bathrooms by using old English porcelain jars from washstand sets as waste baskets; pewter, Delft and other decorative water spouts; furniture miniatures instead of shelves on walls.

Spanish miniatures are popular now, she says, although she also uses cabinets made to resemble French hutches with slate tops. A graduate of Pratt Institute, she has been an interior decorator for eight years.

because it approved a resolution in April, 1961, favoring construction of a dam at the Millican site.

The Brazos River Authority is sponsoring agency for the $65 million project.

The commission issued a report Monday saying 95 per cent of the salt pollution of the Navasota River near the site of a proposed Millican Reservoir is caused by oil field operations in Limestone County.

The commission compiled the report on tests made in 1956. The Mexia, Negro Creek and Cedar Creek oil fields produce 95 per cent of the salt water currently being disposed of in the Navasota, the report said.

Investigators found that about 5,500,000 barrels of salt water annually are disposed of on the ground surface in the Navasota River watershed from these three oil fields, the commission said.

Three Checked After Accident

Three persons were taken to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital at 10:15 p.m. Monday following a one-car accident on US 80 west. They were treated and released.

Mrs. Eseral Ortega and her two children, ages 3 years and three months, 817 NW 6th, were taken to the hospital by River ambulance from near the Caudle School turnoff on US 80. They suffered mostly shock when their car left the highway and struck a guard rail.

In the city, Big Spring police investigated four accidents, one including a police vehicle. A police car, driven by Patrolman Marvin Blackwell, and a panel truck, driven by John H. Bennett Jr., were in collision in the 600 block of West Third.

Jurors Being Selected For ROW Trial

Jurors were being selected this morning from a panel which had dwindled to 22 prospects shortly before noon today in Howard County Court in the state's second appeal of value placed on property taken for IS 20 bypass roads.

The suit involves land belonging to Charles Creighton, a Big Spring rancher. It was taken to the court after the state appealed a valuation of $35,140 by a special commission selected to value the property and assess damages.

It involves condemned land of .248 acre in section 29-33-1n; .508 acre in sections 29 and 30-33-1n; and 36.999 acres in sections 27, 29 and 31-33-1n.

An attempt to try the case last week failed when a jury could not be selected. Attorneys for Creighton are George Thomas and Roger Brown, and for the state, Joe McNamara, Tony McGee and David Thomas.

In a similar appeal three weeks ago, the jury awarded Sherman Smith $22,500 for his property, an increase of slightly more than $500 over the valuation set by the special commission.

Making the valuations were E. P. Driver, George O'Brien and Malcolm Patterson, special appraisers.

35 On Hand For Meeting On Equalization

The county tax rate for the coming year was set at $1.07 on 20 per cent of valuation by county commissioners Monday, the same assessment as last year.

Representatives from 35 businesses appeared before the board regarding valuation, but no complaints were registered.

"Everything went pretty smoothly," Lee Porter, county auditor, said. "With no change in the tax rate it was mostly a matter of determining increased or decreased valuation of properties."

The tax roll is up by an estimated $250,000,000, Porter said. The increase is mostly accounted for by the addition of the Sid Richardson Carbon plant. Valuation was made by the firm of Pritchard and Abbott, Odessa.

Dem Leaders Planning To Press For Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Democratic congressional leaders renewed their determination today to press for tax legislation during the present session of Congress.

Following the weekly breakfast conference of the leaders with Kennedy, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic Senate leader, said he wanted to make it perfectly clear that neither the president nor we of the Democratic leadership are considering postponing action on this vitally important legislation.

Mansfield said there is virtually complete agreement in every sector of the economy that the nation's continued growth and well-being demand an incentive for business investment in new production equipment.

"We are providing precisely that incentive in the investment credit provision of the pending tax bill," Mansfield said.

"Other sections of the bill are equally important—particularly the proposal to withhold taxes on dividends and interest income, which is essential as a matter of simple tax fairness."

The decision to keep fighting came in the face of a declaration by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D.Va., that he opposes the withholding tax. Byrd, one of Congress' most influential men in tax matters, also dislikes the investment incentive feature of the bill.

Mansfield said he believes the people, "who have been so grievously misled by the propaganda campaign of those who have their own selfish reasons for opposing withholding, now understand that withholding will work no hardship

Satellite Job To AF

WASHINGTON (AP)—Responsibility for developing the spacecraft for a military communications satellite system has been transferred from the Army to the Air Force.

A Pentagon spokesman said Monday that it is hoped the system will be in operation by 1964 instead of by 1966, the target date set by the Army.

Labeled "Advent," the program calls for launching three to 10 microwave satellites on an equatorial orbital path 22,300 miles above the earth. The satellites would relay voice and other communications a 1,000 miles simultaneously. They would be entirely separate from the proposed civilian communications satellite program.

The spokesman said the main reason for transferring most of the project to the Air Force is the fact that the Army's proposed 1,300-pound satellite is too heavy for the rockets now available.

The spokesman also said project costs have been running high. The Army already has spent $170 million on "Advent" and has asked another $100 million for the coming fiscal year.

The Defense Department also announced that the Air Force will develop a system of some 40 to 50 smaller communications satellites on a polar orbit from 5,000 to 7,000 miles above the earth.

The Army will continue to be responsible for "Advent" ground equipment, the spokesman said. He added that some of the parts already developed by the Army will be usable in the new program.

However, the Defense Department said parts of the contracts the Army has granted the General Electric Co. plants in Philadelphia and the Bendix Corp., of Ann Arbor, Mich., are being canceled.

Work To Begin Soon On New Plant Addition

Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital, said today that construction on the new rehabilitation building, for which a contract was granted Monday by the State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools, should begin within the month.

The State Board awarded a contract for $291,342 to Suggs Construction Co. of Big Spring to construct the new building. Contracts for similar buildings were awarded to the Rusk and Terrell State Hospitals.

The new building will be located in a quadrangle composed of the administration building at the front, the central dining room to the west and wards on the north and south. It is the first of two buildings to be located in that area; the other will be the medical and surgical building.

The rehabilitation center will take up 18,000 square feet and will include combined auditorium and gymnasium facilities. In addition to housing the occupational and recreational therapy units of the hospital, the building will also provide a canteen and serving area, vocational rehabilitation facilities, space for the volunteer office and lounge, a sheltered workshop area and space for music therapy.

Frater Visits

Bob Frater, who won first place in the bareback riding event of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and rodeo, came through the city Monday on the way to Burkburnett for more competition. He also won first place in the Carlsbad rodeo, according to Jack Cadzow, manager of the Elm Courts.

Bean balls? Who, me? That was the general tone of the comment Monday night after the incidents that took place during the fourth inning of Baltimore's 5-3 victory over the New York Yankees and precipitated a free-for-all in which Yankee Manager Ralph Houk tried to swing at Orioles' field boss Billy Hitchcock.

Leading off the fourth, Orioles' rookie outfielder John (Boog) Powell was hit in the head by a Bud Daley fast ball, slumped to the ground, but remained conscious. He was carried off the field on a stretcher and taken to a hospital where his injury was diagnosed as contusions of the head.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With TOMMY HART
Sports KILBREW, Minnesota slugger: "The pitcher who bothers me is the jerky-jerky type like Jim Bunning. He throws everything at you except the ball."

JERRY BARBER, PGA golf champion: "I've used the same putter for 14 years. I've changed it some but I never changed putters. People who have never putting usually have a putter that's too tight so they can't get the ball in the hole."

BOB McALISTER, young pro golfer: "I earned only $2,500 when I won the Orange County Open but I figured out where it's worth a total of $26,000 to me, counting everything. It keeps me from having to qualify for a tournament for a whole year. It gets me in things like Las Vegas. It got me one of those Pontiacs to drive. And that electric golfmobile I pulled behind my car. I pull the golfmobile from one stop to another and rent it to the PGA. The electric company which makes it gets the advertising. I get some more side money."

TED WILLIAMS, former baseball great, in a tip made to Little Leaguers: "Whenever I got into a rut, I'd get back into the groove by closing my stance and hitting back through the middle. I was never a real good opposite field hitter, but I learned to hit to left field. Paul Waner helped me. He said, 'chop down on the ball.'" til the first pitch from Baltimore starter Robin Roberts in the last half of the inning sailed over Roger Maris' head. The Yankee slugger started toward the mound, but in hand and a fierce look on his face.

Maris was restrained by Orioles' catcher Hobie Landrith as players from both teams roared onto the field. Houk and Hitchcock wound up in a heated argument that ended with umpire Charley Berry holding Houk as the Yanks' skipper attempted to go after Hitchcock.

"The Yanks have been throwing at my men all during the series," said Hitchcock.

"I know my man," said Houk. "He didn't throw at Powell." Did Hitchcock order Roberts to throw at Maris?

"How could I," asked Hitchcock. "I was in the clubhouse with my man who was hit in the head. I didn't even speak to Roberts."

"I'll talk about anything else. But don't ask me about that." Daley had nothing to say. He left before the game was over.

When it was over, the Yankees were in a tie for second place with the Cleveland Indians, who moved up by beating Boston 10-0 in the only other game played. The Yankees loss permitted the Minnesota Twins to move into the top spot, a half-game ahead of the runners-up.

Willie Kirkland tagged a three-run homer for the Indians in the fourth inning and put them ahead to stay. He later added a two-run double in the seventh for five runs batted in. Bubba Phillips also connected for the winners in support of Jim Perry (5-3), who limited the Red Sox to seven hits. Earl Wilson (3-2) lost it.

Littler Wins Golf Classic

Littler Support Is Mushrooming

By DON WEISS
By The Associated Press
OAKMONT, Pa. (AP)—Back to back championships in the National Open Golf Tournament for Gene Littler?

Support was mushrooming today for golf's quiet man in the wake of Littler's brilliant play this year and more over for tournament favorite Arnold Palmer, who severely gashed a finger on his right hand in a freak accident just when he was confident he had shaken a cold that kept him sub par physically for nearly two weeks.

"Littler's my pick," said two-time former Open champion Gary Middlecoff as he and the other early arrivals relaxed after a practice round at the 6,894-yard Oakmont Country Club course where the 62nd U.S. Open championship begins on Thursday.

"You don't have to be a big hitter to score on this course," said the Memphis dentist. "You have to be able to drive straight and putt well on these slick greens. Littler's playing beautifully, has been all year. Unless he has a big letdown after winning that big one in New Jersey Sunday the $100,000 Golf Classic at Clinton, where Littler nailed the $25,000 first prize, he can do it."

A year ago, the soft-spoken Californian quietly tamed another fabled course like this one—the Oakland Hills Country Club at Birmingham, Mich.—for his first Open title. It, too, was a course that demanded great accuracy off the tee and a sure putting touch.

Gary Player, the little South African, and veteran Jackie Burke are others who like Littler's chances to become the first defending champion to repeat since Ben Hogan in 1950-51.

The attitude on Palmer seemed to be to wait and see how much of a problem the slashed finger will pose and whether, as Palmer himself says, he's shaken the slump that dropped him well down in the Memphis and the New Jersey tournaments the last two weeks.

A doctor took six stitches in Palmer's third finger on his right hand to close the wound he suffered while he was putting luggage in the trunk of his car late Sunday night at the nearby Latrobe, Pa., airport. The gash went all the way to the bone alongside the knuckle.

Jackson Hurls N. York Mets Past Houston

By MIKE RATHET
By The Associated Press

HOUSTON (AP)—The New York Mets got seventh-inning pitching from lefty Al Jackson Monday night and beat the Houston Colt 4s for the first time ever, 3-1.

The Mets, who had lost three straight to the Colts, jumped ahead in the fifth inning when Charley Neal led off with a walk against loser Dick Farrell. Sammy Taylor's triple scored Neal and Jim Hickman's single got Taylor home. New York added a run in the sixth on a walk to Frank Thomas, an infield out and Neal's single.

The Colts scored their only run in the fifth on doubles by Norm Larker and Merritt Ranew.

Jackson, who won his third, did not allow more than one hit in any inning.

The victory was the fourth in the last six games for the Mets after 17 straight losses.

The Mets kept the Colts jumping, and mosquitoes did the same for the Mets.

Colt Stadium became the first major league park to sell bug killer at its concession stands.

"Hey!" yelled New York pitcher Bobby Miller in the direction of the Colts bench. "Get any mosquitoes over there?"

"No," shouted back Cot Deal, the Houston pitching coach who once managed Miller in the minors. "They just want the Mets."

"Humph," snorted Miller. "They better bring their lunch then."

Phils Prove Spoiler Role

By MIKE RATHET
By The Associated Press

Down on paper as a soft touch, Philadelphia's spoiler Phillies have ripped up the form sheet by throwing another roadblock at one of the National League's pennant hopefuls and adding this entry to their streak-snapping log: June 11—Beat St. Louis 8-5, snapping Cardinals seven-game winning streak.

Monday night's entry was the fourth in a series.

On May 17—the third-place Cincinnati Reds had a six-game victory streak. The Phils won 6-5. On May 31—the first-place San Francisco and Cincinnati were rained out.

Home runs by Don Demeter and John Callison powered the Phils to their triumph over the Cards and paced a 12-hit attack that enabled Philadelphia to beat former teammate Curt Simmons (6-3) for the first time in nine tries.

Demeter hit his eighth homer with a man on in the fifth inning to put the Phils ahead to stay 4-3. Callison's three-run pinch-hit homer in the seventh brought home the deciding runs. The winner was reliever Jack Hamilton (4-5).

Dick Stuart hit two home runs for the Pirates—a first inning inside-the-part job with one on and a three-run shot in the sixth. The victory went to Joe Gibbon, winning his first since a trip to the minors cured his ailing arm.

The Mets beat the Colts for the first time in the rivalry between the two new NL clubs. Al Jackson (3-7) limited the Colts to seven hits. The Mets got six against Dick Farrell (4-6) to put it away.

Francisco Giants had a seven-game string. The Phils won 5-2. On June 2—the Los Angeles Dodgers, tied for first place, had a 13-game skein. The Phils won 7-0.

That's the way it's been for the Phils, who don't seem to be going places in that NL pennant scramble could have quite a bit to say about who does.

The victory over the Cardinals dropped St. Louis into fifth place behind the Pittsburgh Pirates, who moved up with a 6-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. In the only other games played, the New York Mets defeated Houston 3-1. San Francisco and Cincinnati were rained out.

Lane Is Ready To Fight Again

By MIKE RATHET
By The Associated Press

BOSTON (AP)—Southpaw Keny Lane is so pleased with his unanimous but unpopular 10-round decision over Tommy Tibbs he'd like to try it again—for big money.

"Lane was the choice of all three officials but few of the fans who paid $1,950 at the Boston Arena gate Monday night. Many of the customers stayed around to heckle the Massachusetts Boxing Commission.

"We want to come back for some money," Lane said afterward. "If the people thought this was a good, tough fight we'd like to make it again."

"I'm disgusted," Tibbs said. "I can't tell you what my record is but I can tell you I've lost about 40 decisions I should have won. And this was the worst of all."

"It didn't hurt much," the Masters champion said after a practice round late Monday. Palmer seemed considerably relieved that he could hit so well despite the heavy bandage.

"If it doesn't hurt any more than this," he said, "it won't be bad at all. We experimented with a couple different kinds of bandages and found one that lets me get the right feel of the club."

The other is Robert Sweeney, 50-year-old veteran from Palm Beach, Calif., who surprised tournament officials Monday by turning up at the last minute and producing some cracking golf with out any practice on the course.

George Fulton of Roanoke, Va., was matched against M. D. (Binky) Mitchell in the first round. Later in the day Bud Rudolph of Los Angeles, winner of one of Monday's most exciting duels, was lined up against Lennie Blue of Belmont, N. Y., in the second round.

Rudolph edged out David Hoare of England on the 18th hole to win 1-up.

Turman To Fight On Houston Card

HOUSTON (AP)—Buddy Turman is making another comeback. The Dallas heavyweight will meet Jim Olive of Detroit in a 10-round bout here June 19.

The main event matches Cleveland Williams and Orrie Paschal. Tod Herring meets Bill Pickett in another 10-rounder.

Turman has lost only nine fights while winning 35 in his often interrupted career.

OCEANPORT, N.J. (AP)—Veterinarians hoped today to save Roman Line, one of the top 3-year-old colts of the season, for the stud after his career was cut short by a broken sesamoid bone in the left foreleg. The colt was second to Decidedly in the Kentucky Derby, and finished third in the Preakness behind Greek Money and Ridan.

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—False Step, a New Zealand pacer now owned by an American, is the 3-1 favorite for the $50,000 International Pace Thursday night at Yonkers Raceway.

Morton's Foods opposes Anderson Music company in the first game of a Big Spring Softball league double header at the City Park this evening. The engagement gets under way at 7 p.m.

The second game, down for 9 o'clock, pits Neal's Transfer against McDaniel Construction.

Texas Longhorns Oppose Colorado State Today

By MIKE RATHET
By The Associated Press

OMAHA (AP)—Lack of size, tournament hitters and desire to protect a rare perfect record isn't making tiny Ithaca bow down to the big powers in the College World Series.

The Bombers' aim is to become the first small school and the first unbeaten team to win the NCAA Baseball Championship in the 16 years of the event.

Ithaca, possibly the smallest school and only the second unbeaten team ever to make it into the championship, overcame obstacles Monday night in the opening round of the double elimination tournament.

The Bombers knocked off Big Eight champion Missouri, 5-1, surviving a nervous spell during the early part of the game.

Joining the Bombers in the winner's bracket were Michigan, Florida State and Holy Cross, schools whose enrollments dwarf Ithaca's. Michigan best Texas 9-1 on Ron Tate's 2-run homer with two outs in the ninth and plays Holy Cross tonight. The Crusaders edged Colorado State College 4-3 in Monday's first game.

Ithaca's opponent tonight is Florida State which upset Santa Clara 5-1 in the opening round.

Two 3-hitters were turned in. Tom Belcher hurled one for Texas, only to lose to Michigan when Tate slugged his homer in the top of the ninth.

Larry Hawkins and Tom Davis combined for the other for Florida State. They stopped Santa Clara's sluggers without a safety and yielded all three hits to pitcher Bob Garibaldi, a .162 hitter.

Today's games; (times are Eastern Standard) 12 noon—Colorado State College vs. Texas. 3 p.m.—Missouri vs. Santa Clara. 7 p.m.—Holy Cross vs. Michigan. 9:30 p.m.—Ithaca vs. Florida State.

City Council Wrestles With Library Aid Problem

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Colorado City council heard no action from City Attorney John Worrell Monday night as to continuing city support for a free public library now owned and operated by the Mitchell County Federation of Women's Clubs and supported by donations from the city and county. The city cut off payments of $250 per month for receiving an opinion that the payments were illegal and the councilmen were personally liable for the payments.

Worrell told the group that the city could legally take over the operation of the library as a "city library" or it could call a special election to amend the charter to allow a contract with the Federation to operate the library.

He said that a third possibility which had been discussed—paying the city to the Federation—was illegal under the charter and statutes.

After discussion, councilman John Chinn made a motion for the city to pay the library the funds which had been held back to make future payments until we can study the proposition and challenge Gov. Ernest F. Hollings.

Primary voters are also in effect—electing a governor from among five candidates and deciding contests for five other lesser state offices. Few political experts were willing to predict the outcome of the Senate and governor race.

Polls opened at 8 a.m. and will close at 4 p.m.

Republicans are not holding a primary, but in convention nominated W. D. Workman Jr., Columbia syndicated newspaper columnist, for the U.S. Senate, and a former Democrat, State Rep. Floyd Spence of Lexington, for Congress from the 2nd District.

The Hollings-Johnson campaign was a bruising affair, with the 40-year-old governor carrying the fight to his 65-year-old opponent, Johnson, a veteran of 18 years in the Senate, largely campaigned on his record and labeled as "mud slinging" Hollings charges.

Donald Russell, a former assistant U.S. secretary of state under James F. Byrnes and Lt. Gov. Burnet R. Maybank, son of the late U.S. Sen. Burnet Maybank, were regarded as the strongest candidates in the five-way race for governor.

There was opposition in the Democratic primary for two of the state's six congressmen—Rep. Robert T. Ashmore of the 4th District and Rep. John L. McMillan of the 6th. Five Democrats sought to be nominated to the 2nd District seat, to be vacated in January by the widow of Rep. John J. Riley.

Manuel Alvarado Marquez pleaded not guilty in County Court Monday to a charge of aggravated assault. He was released from county jail after posting $1,000 bond. Marquez was arrested following an affray at a northside bar Friday night.

Damascio Anguiano pleaded guilty in Howard County Court to a charge of non-support and was sentenced to 60 days in jail and court costs. He is being held in county jail.

Some 24 junior and senior volunteers and new employees at the Big Spring State Hospital participated in an orientation program Monday. They made a tour of the hospital and listened to talks by staff members who explained the duties of each division of the hospital.

The volunteer office reported eight new junior volunteers and nine senior volunteers, several of them from Midland and Coahoma. Orientation is continuing today for new employees.

S. Carolina Political Giants Nearing Election

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — The battle between South Carolina's political giants reached the ballot stage today with Democratic primary voters choosing between incumbent U.S. Sen. Olin D. Johnson and challenger Gov. Ernest F. Hollings.

Primary voters are also in effect—electing a governor from among five candidates and deciding contests for five other lesser state offices. Few political experts were willing to predict the outcome of the Senate and governor race.

Polls opened at 8 a.m. and will close at 4 p.m.

The traditional stray dog which invariably seems to make an appearance on such solemn occasions was on hand for the University of Colorado graduation ceremony at Boulder. The dog wandered

Nigeria Asks More Corpsmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The top men of Nigeria's Parliament have thanked the United States for sending Peace Corps volunteers to their African nation—and asked for more.

Dennis Chuade Osadebay, president of the Nigerian Senate, and Speaker of the House Ibrahim Jalo Waziri spoke at an African-American Institute Banquet Monday night.

Osadebay said that Nigeria is "grateful for the young men and women you have sent to us—send us more."

Peace Corps workers were

Missile Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $1,419,000 contract to build Minuteman missile support facilities at Minot Air Force Base in North Dakota has been awarded the Arvol Hayes Co. of Lubbock, Tex.

Rep. Don Short, R-N.D., was notified Monday.

Collection Service Workshop Held Here Sunday

A seminar and workshop for collection service offices in this area drew 43 representatives from 14 towns here Sunday.

Thirty-one participants qualified for certificates. Among them were Gordon Hughes, Richard Hughes, J. B. Apple and Mrs. Joe Blasingame of Big Spring.

Instruction was conducted by Baird Neivalls, Austin, educational director of the Associated Credit Bureaus of Texas, assisted by J. O. Benson, San Angelo, and Mrs. Ruth Apple, Big Spring. The sessions, held in the Chamber of Commerce conference room, dealt with daily operational problems encountered by collection service personnel. The course is sponsored by the Association of Credit Bureaus of America.

Those taking part had luncheon at the Cosden Country Club during the noon recess.

Pat Boone Can't Win For Losing

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Pat Boone fans will simply have to face the fact that their boy has changed.

Not in real life. He is still the same clean-living, clean-thinking lad of yore.

But his movies — that's something else again.

Remember the sensation caused when Pat got his first kiss in a movie? Well, you should see him now.

Pat was just back from making "Main Attraction" in Austria and England for four and a half months. The role presents him in a light that his fans have never seen before.

"I'll admit I'm worried about their reaction," he said. "But I had to do it. I must do what I think is right for me, regardless of the consequences."

"I've already been hearing from them. They've read that I smoke in the picture, that I have a love affair with an older woman played by Mai Zetterling, and another one with Nancy Kwan."

"They're even complaining about 'State Fair,' which I didn't think was offensive at all. Of course, I got drunk in it and played a love scene with my shirt off with Ann-Margret. But the character I played was still a nice boy."

"Some of the fans complain about that, too; he was nice, but dull. And that's what I'm up against."

"I wouldn't mind playing 100 roles as nice boys in Walt Disney pictures; I'd like it, in fact. But there just aren't that many good roles as nice boys. I've been playing Pat Boone in every picture I've done. I've got to give the public something different if I'm going to last."

"But the trouble is trying to convince the fans that I can play a different kind of role and not have them claim that Hollywood has corrupted my morals. It hasn't."

Pat said that he had turned

New Weapon Is Announced

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. has announced development of a new antiarmor, anti-fortification guided missile by its aeronautics division. Few details were given but a picture released with the announcement shows the weapon being fired from a tank.

The new missile has been named the Shillelagh and is described as designed for close-in support of troops.

Ford said it will provide "high first-round hard-target kill capabilities," but declined additional information on grounds it is classified.
