French Policy Called Suicidal

By ELTON C. FAY AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara described France Saturday night —without mentioning either the nation or its leader—as a weak nuclear power whose go-it-alone policy could be suicidal.

An address McNamara prepared for a university commencement exercise in Michigan contained the most outspoken official comment by a U.S. government official on an agonizing issue which until now had been kept largely offstage.

President Charles de Gaulle has launched France on a program for devising and producing her own nuclear weapons and using them in the manner which she chooses, outside of the system of mutual, coordinated defense under the North Atlantic Treaty Organizati-

Although McNamara, with the obvious approval of the White House and State Department, spoke plainly about weak atomic powers, he did use some cautious language. He did not name either France or De Gaulle.

Did he mean to include Britain, behind the United States and Russia in atomic strength in the category of "relatively weak national nuclear forces?" Probably not, because his remarks contain two words that seem of key importance—he speaks critically of nu-

Army Unhappy Over Governor-Blocked Plan

By FRED S. HOFFMAN WASHINGTON (AP) — Some high Army officials are ready to recommend a get-tough course if state governors insist on holding onto National Guard units the Army feels are unnecessary.

But they still hope the governors can be persuaded to go along with the Army's plan to break up four Guard divisions and eliminate 340 company and detachment-size units.

The record of virtually solid opposition by governors seems to indicate it is a slim hope.

It is questionable whether President Kennedy would permit the Army to get tough with the governors on this politically sensitive question in a congressional election year.

Intense political pressure has been directed against the planned elimination of 751 Guard and Reserve units and a related proposal to cut Guard and Reserve manpower from 700,000 to 642,000 men.

The Defense Department said nearly half of the 50 governors have written letters which have come to the attention of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. All were critical.

Thirty-three of the 100 senators have written—about half opposed and the rest either forwarding letters from constituents or, asking information. Apparently none supported the reorganization plan.

Slightly fewer than 50 House members have written to McNamara on the question, the Pentagon said, with about one-third of them registering opposition and the rest sending along letters from the homelands or seeking information. Here, too, there are no known expressions of support.

In this fight, the Army has a powerful ally in McNamara, who has shown in the past he doesn't bend easily to pressure.

The Army believes the final language of a military money bill, already passed in different versions by the House and Senate, will permit it to go ahead with its controversial reorganization plan.

But the Army is braced for the BenJack Credited With Creating Brazilian Refuge

DALLAS (AP)—Former Dallas insurance promoter BenJack Cage says it is through his influence that a proposed extradition treaty with Brazil cannot become retroactive.

The Dallas News reported this, quoting old Texas friends of the convicted embezzler.

Because of the retroactive clause, Cage and other American fugitives remain free in Brazil.

The suggested treaty, ratified by the U.S. Senate, was drawn with Cage in mind. He fled to Brazil after being given a 10-year term in a Dallas court in the ICT case. The Brazilian Senate still hasn't approved it.

PLAN OF SALVATION (8) By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 2000 West Highway 36 P.O. Box 1282

By hearing the gospel, believing, repenting of his sins, confessing Christ and being baptized, the sinner is converted. But this is not all he must do.

Once saved, does not necessarily mean always saved. The Bible says we are "kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time (I Pet. 1:5).

DEBATE TUESDAY Tuesday night (7:45) of this week a four-night debate will begin between the Primitive Baptists and us at the City Auditorium, which will stand the test of Bible examination, what they teach, or what we teach on the plan of salvation? Everyone will profit by this orderly and friendly discussion. Welcome.

Wrong Designation Being Reported For Some Employees

Area employers wrongly designating their employees as "sub-contractors" for income withholding and social security tax purposes, is one of the biggest current problems facing Internal Revenue Service, Dallas IRS District Director Ellis Campbell Jr., reports.

The IRS uncovered an alarming number of employees claiming to be "subcontractors" or "independent contractors."

"Employees cannot simply decide they want to be bona fide contractors," Campbell said. "To qualify they must actually be in a trade or business with some kind of an investment. The fact they have signed a statement, or had a card printed doesn't make them a contractor, or a subcontractor under the law."

A new booklet, "Employer's Tax Guide," defines "employers" and "employees" under federal tax laws. This is a 31-page official booklet and is available in all IRS offices. "There's no charge and every employer should obtain a copy, and they will readily see where they come under the law," Campbell concluded.

An Army official said the new plan would make sure the Guard and Reserve were "keyed right in with the active Army and ready to support it quickly during any national emergency, not just all-out war."

Community Chorus Idea Approved

The cultural affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon approved the formation of a community chorus group. Guy Chapman had submitted the idea to the committee at an earlier meeting.

Mrs. Clyde Angel, announced that Mel Ivey, music teacher at Goliad Junior High, will direct the group.

Ivey reported that he had already been in contact with about 20 persons who indicated interest in the group, which will be made up of "people who just like to sing."

Also discussed at the meeting was the organization of a civic band, which Dr. Charles Rainwater is checking. Music appreciation now being taught in the public schools was also discussed.

Data Hints Passenger Was Behind Airline Explosion

WASHINGTON (AP) — A troubled man who had talked of suicide bought a supply of dynamite shortly before boarding a plane which crashed and killed 45 persons, an FBI investigation has disclosed.

The FBI declined all comment on its report, but from other sources it was learned that findings of the investigation tended to confirm earlier reports that the plane was blasted out of the air by a passenger.

The Continental Airlines 707 jetliner fell in pieces over a wide area around Unionville, Mo., on May 22.

Thomas G. Doty, 34, of Kansas City, took out more than $300,000 of insurance payable to his wife before boarding the flight. He was described as despondent and as having told acquaintances a few days before the flight that he was planning to take his life rather than face criminal charges pending against him.

The FBI investigation also turned up a purchase of dynamite by Doty at a hardware store, and traces of dynamite were found by the FBI laboratory on parts of the crashed plane's tail section, it was reported.

Sources familiar with the FBI probe said no firm findings were made, but added that circumstantial evidence pointed strongly to both the means and the reasons for the crash. The FBI investigation was understood to be substantially complete.

Doty, a former divisional sales manager for a Kansas City cosmetics firm, was arrested in April on charges of armed robbery and carrying a concealed weapon. He reportedly had plans for a new business venture at the time of the crash.

Relatives said Doty and Mrs. Geneva Greenwood Fraley of Independence, Mo., were making the trip to Chicago in connection with a business they planned to open. Mrs. Fraley was reported planning to quit her job with a cosmetics concern to join Doty in an interior decorating and party goods firm. She was the only woman passenger on the plane.

Ford Gold Car Award

Bob Brock, left, sales manager; R. W. Andrews, president, and John Fort, general manager, of Shasta Ford Sales, Inc., admire the Gold Car award brought back from Dallas Tuesday. The award was made in recognition of Shasta's effort in outselling Big Spring area competition in 1961.

Big Spring Guardsmen Eyeing Release

FORT POLK, La. — Big Spring members of the 49th Armored Division, eyeing an August release from active duty, are now receiving final physical examinations for separation.

The hospital at Fort Polk, tabbed for the chore of performing out-processing examinations on some 20,000 Reservists and National Guardsmen here, conducts the checkups at a rate of 60 per hour. All examinations will be completed by June 30.

Present plans call for the 49th, made up of some 10,000 Texans in 95 units from 74 Texas cities, to begin the trek back to Texas Aug. 6-7. The units are due for release at midnight on Aug. 9.

Training for some 100 men of Battery A, 3rd Rocket Howitzer Battalion, 132nd Artillery, the Big Spring unit, called to active duty last fall at the height of the Berlin crisis, is being conducted as usual. Range firing, Army Training Tests and an expected Strategic Army Corps mobility test fill the training schedule.

The mobility test will be designed to check the deployment posture of the division which has been assigned to the III STRAC Corps since February. Maj. Gen. Harley B. West, the division commander, has stated that a normal training schedule will be followed until July 15, at which time the men will concentrate on the movement home.

A maze of administrative work required for each individual's release faces personnel sections. They are now churning through multiple forms of everything from requests for shipment of household goods to the ever-important individual service record.

By the time August arrives, personnel officials will have initiated 23 separation forms on each man in addition to bringing the approximately 25 existing forms up to date.

Members of the division when it was mobilized will return to Texas with their units. The 4,000 individual reservists recalled to active duty to bolster the division's strength will be released here concurrently.

Army officials term the mobilization of National Guard and Reserve units the most efficient partial mobilization in American history. They have pointed out that the deficiencies uncovered here have been incorporated in revisions of mobilization plans and will benefit future military operations.

Red East Europe Is Short Of Food

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — The women go into the state-run supermarkets, look around, and often leave only with baskets of bread.

Food is short in Communist East Europe this spring. In East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Bulgaria the shortages are worse than in Poland; Hungary and Yugoslavia.

Nobody is starving. Stores have cheap staples, like bread, noodles, canned fish and low-grade sausage.

There are shortages of vegetables, fresh fruit and poultry. Where there are supplies, prices are often so high that housewives look longingly and then turn away to the staples.

Meat stores are closed more often than open. When meat becomes available, there frequently are long queues.

The prospects for improvement this summer and fall are not good. Floods in Poland, drought in Bulgaria and cold weather elsewhere have hurt crops. Everywhere they are late, in some areas spoiled by rain.

East Europeans, even so, may be eating better than the Russians. The diet is dull, however. They eat new potatoes, lettuce, cucumbers, onions when they appear in the stores, not when they want them.

East Europe's food situation contrasts sharply with that of Western Europe. In Germany, France, Italy and England, food shops have everything to choose from, prices are more acceptable and housewives leave with full shopping bags.

On a tour of East Europe, this correspondent so far has not found the same sort of plenty. The area used to be the breadbasket of Europe, Communist governments say there are shortages because people are eating more and demanding more.

Western diplomats behind the Iron Curtain attribute the shortages and crop difficulties to total or partial collectivization of farms. Communism, they say, still has not been able to find incentives to make dispossessed farmers work and produce.

Shasta Wins Award For Sales Effort

R. W. Andrews, president of Shasta Ford Sales, Inc., Big Spring, returned from a meeting of Ford dealers in Dallas Tuesday where he received the Ford Gold Car award.

The gold car award is presented to dealers in local areas where they outsell competition.

The award was presented by M. L. McLaughlin, assistant general manager of the Ford division, in recognition of sales leadership in 1961.

"This means that Shasta Ford Sales outdid our competition in the Big Spring area," Andrews said. "Every one of our sales staff had a hand in helping to put us over in the effort."

The award brought back by Andrews is a gold scale model of a Ford attached to a background inside a walnut frame.

New Piper Cherokee To Be Ferried In This Week

By M. A. WEBB
A new Piper Cherokee, the airplane that replaced the Tri-Pacer, will arrive at Howard County Airport Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday morning. Big Spring Aircraft will fly the new plane in from Florida. Howard Loyd plans to leave Sunday morning by air to ferry the low-wing, wide landing gear craft back.

The 10-foot tread—one third of the wing span—allows smoother landings, and the bigger nose wheel helps, in the ground stability in windy landings, he said.

Not too much activity has been going on around the base this week. Weather conditions, mostly in neighboring areas, have held up flying.

Three pilots who started out from Howard County at the time the aircraft crashed near Sweetwater ran into the same weather that plane did and returned to Howard County to spend the night," Ted McClung said. "One was a couple, Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Grissom, from Tucson, Ariz."

Charles Neefe, member of the Big Spring Flying Club, went to Lubbock Friday morning and came back happily showing his private license. Neefe has been instructed by Howard Loyd since joining the flying club.

Registering for the use of club airplanes this week were: Big Spring Club's Colt—Charles Neefe (7), Dr. M. A. Porter (2), Bob Brock (2), Dan Fuller, Betty Ray Clifton (2), Joe Clark, Jay Lebowitz, Bill Wilson, John Stanley; Webb Aero Club's Cessna—Hurt, Smalley, Marks (2), Janssen, Tibbs, Sculley; Tri-Pacer—Wafford, Janssen, Marks (2); Colt—Carpenter, Skip (2).

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. DeVaney, of the Farm Bureau, returned Friday afternoon from a business trip to Victoria and McAllen, in Big Spring Aircraft's Comanche.

Crop dusters have been grounded for most of the week. The high winds have cut down on the amount of work they can do.

Watch that blasted blast! If you fly a light airplane don't fly directly below the wings of a big aircraft. A tremendous upgust followed immediately by a violent downgust is experienced under the left wing. A tornado-like blast from left to right is stirred up by the wing tip on the left and a light plane will jump up and then hit the bottom.

FAA admits that very little is known about why the blasts occur, but warn pilots to stay away from beneath the big birds because the blast reaches out some distance.

Sara Beth Homan Elected To Office At Girls' State

Sara Beth Homan, Big Spring, a citizen of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State now in progress in Austin, at the Texas School for the Blind, has been elected as precinct chairman, Federal Party, in the County of Give. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Homan, and was sponsored to Girls State by the local American Legion Auxiliary Unit.

Girls State was organized as a national Americanism activity in 1937 by the American Legion Auxiliary. Non-partisan and non-political, the purpose of the Girls State program is to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age, to afford them an opportunity to live together as a self-governing group and to inform them of the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities which they will assume when they become adults. They learn of the problems of government by performing the same duties as real office holders in the everyday world.

Associate Justice Meade Griffin of the Texas Supreme Court will administer the oath of office to the various elect state officials of Bluebonnet Girls State Monday, in the rotunda of the state capitol.

Climaxing the session will be the selection of two outstanding Citizens of 1962, who will be sent to Girls Nation in Washington, D. C., by the American Legion Auxiliary.

McClellan Calls Snake Case His Finest Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., generalissimo of the Senate's investigation of the Billie Sol Estes case, has clashed with presidents. He has stared big shot mobsters in the eye and called them "scum."

He has sent crooks to prison, won respect as a tough, fair adversary in courts, congressional hearing rooms and in the political wars.

But just about the biggest kick he ever got from a victory was when, as a young trial lawyer, he won a suit for damages for the death of a snake.

He tells the story with gusto for it was a case to test a man's talents as lawyer, investigator, strategist and in the art of springing a surprise at the psychological moment.

His meticulous preparation for that long ago case of the deceased snake has been typical of McClellan's approach to any challenge: Prepare yourself well, then meet it head-on.

As chairman of the powerful Senate permanent subcommittee on Investigations, McClellan has chosen exactly this approach to its forthcoming public hearings on the Estes case. He shrugged off some grumbling from the sidelines over his refusal to dive right into a public airing at the first hints of scandal in dealings between Texas financier Estes and persons high on the Washington scene.

His be-sure-you're-ready approach has paid big dividends in investigations of the underworld, racketeering in the labor-management field and wrongdoing in government by his subcommittee and the old Senate rackets committee which he also headed. The investigations made him a national figure, and sent a lot of men to prison.

When McClellan questions a witness, he wants to have at least a good idea of what a truthful answer should be. He says he "just can't abide liars."

In that snake episode, McClellan was counsel for a partner in a snake show venture. The partner sued an express company for damages, contending that his $550 python had caught pneumonia and died because the express company let the reptile get chilled in its crate left standing on a railway station platform.

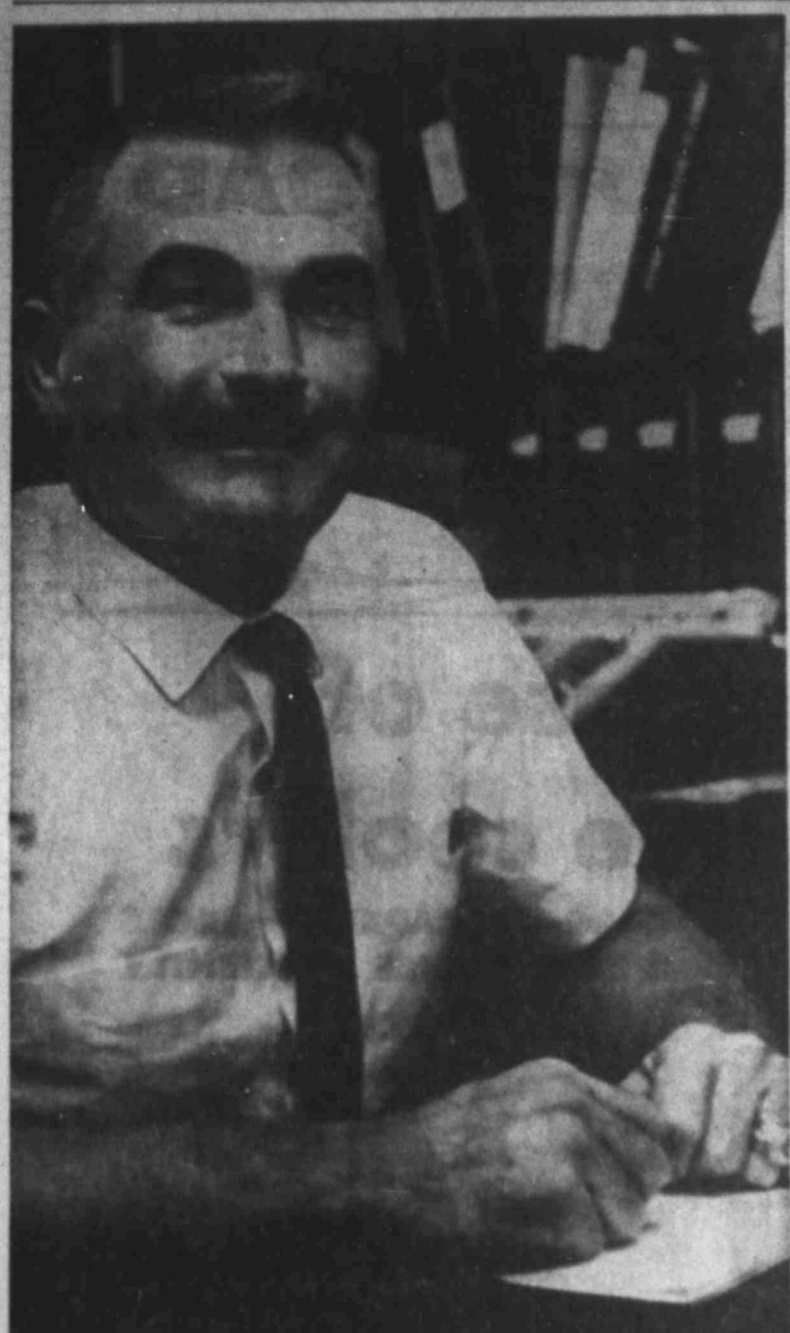

McClellan produced temperature records from the Weather Bureau, treatises on the care and feeding of pythons, expert testimony from snake experts.

He grins now at recollection of the description he gave the jury of the poor python's pitiful death throes; and how he capped this by producing the snake's hide, dramatically unrolling it on the courtroom floor with a flourish like a man rolling a bowling ball.

Ever wonder what's beyond the shaded bend of that river, think about shoving off down it in a boat as far as you wanted to go? Camping, maybe fishing, swimming, or just loafing and looking. Why not try it this summer?

Whether four days or two weeks, here's a frontier at anybody's fingertips. Exploring it is inexpensive, different, soul-renewing, and with a little planning and precaution, neither difficult nor dangerous. For any number, boated in pairs, it's fun. It's good for families. For a father-son team, it's unbeatable.

PICK RIVER

First, pick your river. My son Bill and I like the Guadalupe and Colorado. They're wooded, clear and uncomplicated. Yours can be the Brazos, Trinity or any of a dozen offering varying navigable lengths. Now, lay out your trip. State Highway Department County Maps give almost precise river direction and distance. You can laze along one mile an hour or push it with a small motor to forty miles a day. The map's a must.

Stay out of canyon white water, like Big Bend's Santa Elena, unless you're expert. Compare town elevations en route. A big drop means rapids somewhere. Select your starting point—three or four alternate take-outs. No Pike's Peak-or-bust goal. Just let an easy float unfold. Now your boat (and paddles). A 14-foot aluminum canoe handled and packed best for two of us. Outboard? Keep a bow lookout for snags and boulders. You'll make a check-off list for shelter, food and clothing. We used the one below for 4-man, 2-boat, 10-day trip. You can trim. Plan your packing. Check on renting.

Floored tent (tent hammocks eliminate cots), tarp, cots, camp stools (sneak in a folding chair for you), folding plywood tabletop (covers cot), gasoline lantern, flashlights (extra mantles, batteries), axe, trench shovel, large nails, light rope, ball twine, pocket compass (spurge here), pencil, paper.

Gasoline stove, nested cook-kit (Scout model), knife, fork, spoon sets, heavy skillet, two nested pots, can opener, egg turner.

The group. "Of course it is. We must make ourselves free from risk and danger in order to be a lot safer. We need to train ourselves and the younger generation in safety."

He urged his listeners to adopt the use of safety belts in automobiles, focusing attention on the fact that an estimated 5,000 of the 33,200 who died in auto mishaps each year could be saved by using the belts.

"An estimated 1,500,000 persons are injured each year in automobile crashes," he added. "Research shows that the number of injuries could be reduced at least one third and perhaps as much as one half if safety belts were used regularly by all people."

Henninger said that 93,000 people die from all types of accidents in this country every year and those are apt to happen anywhere—on the highway, in the home, the schools and in recreation.

He reminded that carelessness on the part of the victims causes a lot of the mishaps. "No one wants to get hurt on purpose," he added.

"Speed is one of our greatest killers," he stated. "It stands to reason that if we crash while traveling at a high rate of speed, the impact on contact is going to be greatest."

Sgt. Henninger also showed a film on the value of using automobile seat belts to club members.

Johnny Johnson filled in as presiding officer at the meeting, in the absence of Garner McAdams and Elmo Phillips, both of whom are on their way to Atlanta, Ga., to attend the National ABC convention.

New officers within the club will be formally installed within the next two weeks, it was announced.

Police Report A Rash Of Auto Mishaps

A new rash of collisions Friday included one which sent Mrs. Ross Boykin, 101 Jefferson, and Annette Hodnett, 1407 Wood, to Malone and Hogan hospital with minor injuries. The accident happened at Eleventh Place and State at 9:47 p.m. Injuries were slight and the two women were treated and released.

Drivers of the vehicles involved in the accident were Ross Hale Boykin, 101 Jefferson, and Anna Eulalia Mitchell, 404 Birdwell. Other accidents, their locations, and drivers of vehicles involved were: 1104 Mt. Vernon, Bobby Jack Barnes, owner of parked vehicle, and Mrs. Donald McAdams, 1104 Mt. Vernon; Second and Runnels, Kenneth David Dillon, 211 Elm, and Ronald Shelton Hubbard, 2206 Nolan; 100 E. 2nd, Joseph T. Novak, Webb AFB, and Fred Clint Hyer, 1729 Yale; Hit and run behind Settles Hotel when a station wagon owned by Barr Photo Center was struck by a car which left the scene; 800 Eleventh Place, Wanda Kuykendall, 632 Caylor, and Mary Ross, 3206 Cornell; Gibbs Chevron Station parking lot at East Fourth and Birdwell, parked car owned by Douglas Stuteville, 904 E. 14th, and Morris Joel Molpus Jr., 1812 Alabama.

An accident was reported at Fifth and Gregg and when police arrived both vehicles were gone. One was later found in front of a cafe. The car was reported ramming a pickup. Police advised the driver to stay out of the car until her temper cooled.

Private Owner System Runs Into Congress Snag

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's plan to provide for private ownership of a vast communications system in space has run into brisk fire from Democratic senators who want the government to own it.

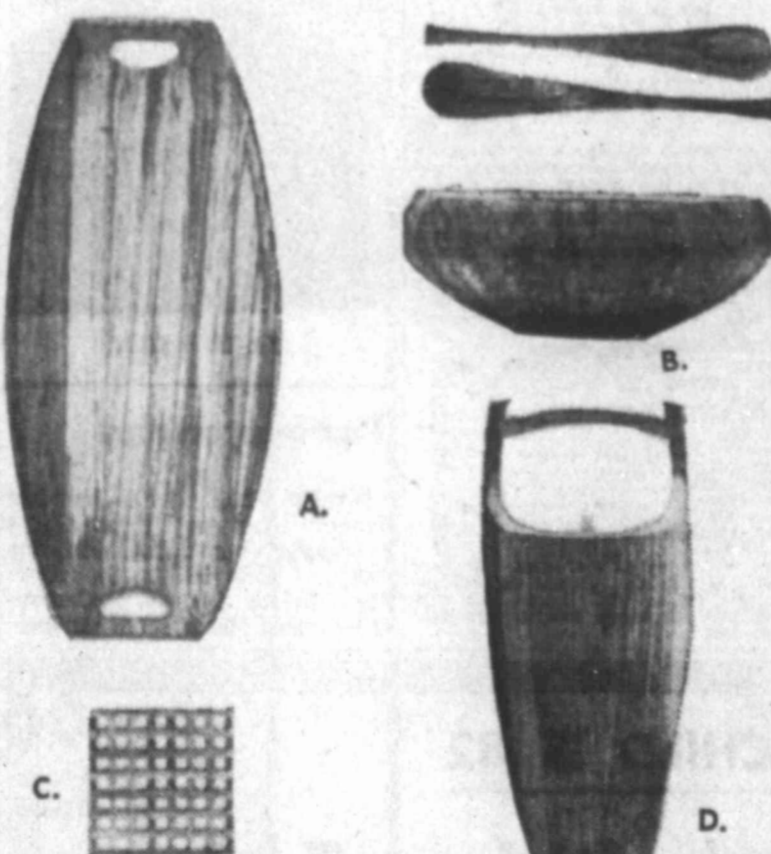

The Senate Democratic leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, said Friday he expects debate on the issue will take up much of the Senate's time next week.

He added that it may be necessary to shunt the bill aside now and then so the Senate can act on other legislation, including extension of the corporate and excise taxes.

The bill, backed by the administration, would create a private corporation to own and operate the American share of a proposed global satellite relay system. A similar measure has been approved by the House.

Henninger Lectures ABC On Safety

H. K. Henninger, Texas Highway Patrol sergeant stationed in Midland, lectured members of the American Business Club on the value of practicing safety during the service organization's regular luncheon Friday at the Settles Hotel.

Henninger pointed out that 9,000,000 persons suffer injuries of some sort in the U.S. during the year which require medical attention. That is equivalent to the population of Texas, he added.

He contended that the accident toll could and should be substantially reduced if proper precautions were observed.

"Is life important?" he asked

Two Churches Sponsor Debate

A friendly but serious debate on the conditions necessary for salvation will be conducted in the city auditorium this week.

The debaters will be T. H. Tarbet, minister of the West Highway 90 Church of Christ, and Elder V. F. Lawrence, Donaldson, Ark., who will present the Primitive Baptist viewpoint.

The churches are paying the cost of the series and there will be no collections. The debates will be held Tuesday through Friday nights, beginning at 7:45 p.m. each day.

There will be no judges and the speakers will make no rebuttals. Each evening, the speakers will make one talk each.

The sponsoring churches have invited all interested persons to attend the series. Many out-of-town people are expected to be here for the debates.

Expectant Mother Dies Of Injuries

HOUSTON (AP)—An expectant mother died Saturday of injuries received Thursday when she fell off the back of her husband's car. Doctors said Mrs. Winifred Bowden, 18, was 5½ months pregnant. Her son, taken in Caesarean section, also died.

Officers said Mrs. Bowden was sitting on the trunk of the car at the service station where her husband, David, 20, works, and as he pulled the car forward she fell off, her head striking a curb.

Freeman Seeking Assurance Against Future Scandals

WASHINGTON (AP)—While the Billie Sol Estes case crackles about him, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman is trying to prevent this sort of thing from happening again.

Estes, 37, a smooth-talking Texas farm boy, took city slicker finance companies for millions before his paper empire toppled this year and he was indicted for fraud. Almost daily investigators uncover new facets of his dealings.

Although Freeman asserts the government didn't lose a cent to the Pecos, Tex., wheeler-dealer, there is evidence that he took advantage of loopholes in government farm programs and their administration.

Republicans charge he received favored treatment from the Agriculture Department. They say the favoritism came in Estes' cotton acreage allotment transfers, and in the department's failure to boost his bond on grain storage facilities and to remove Estes as a member of the President's Cotton Advisory Committee until after his indictment.

Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., says Freeman told him he now regrets his May 7 news conference comment that the Estes affair had been "ballooned out of all proportions."

Freeman refused to confirm this and appeared reluctant to discuss the subject, but he is trying to lighten up his 90,000-employee department.

Testimony before Texas courts of inquiry and a House investigating subcommittee shows a number of warning signals in the Estes case that either were ignored or followed up too slowly. Freeman is creating a trouble shooting team of investigators who will collect warning signals and report directly to the secretary.

"We should be acutely tuned in to little things that might become big things," Freeman said in an interview.

"In a case that involved as much money as this, the work should have moved much faster. There ought to be shortcuts that will alert the top officials more quickly."

In 1949, a Hoover Commission task force said of the Agriculture Department:

"This department has grown to its present size without sufficient attention being given to integrating its parts into a whole. As a result it is in many ways a loose confederation of autonomous bureaus with a strong tendency to develop overlapping and duplicating programs."

Some progress has been made in pulling together the vast operations of the department since that day, but meanwhile the department also has grown enormously, especially its surplus commodity operations.

When Freeman took over early last year, he made changes that may have far-reaching effects. The Estes affair stepped up the pace and forced a close look to see if other changes are needed.

Freeman acknowledged slowness in facing up to the problems posed by Estes but he insisted the evidence doesn't show that the West Texas financier got any favors.

Although three officials who look favors from Estes have been fired, Freeman repeatedly has asserted they gave no favors in return. Asst. Sec. of Labor Jerry Holleman also was fired when he admitted taking money from Estes.

Freeman agreed, however, that any wealthy, influential man — as Estes appeared to be — may get extra consideration from a government agency, even though he says it probably won't change the final decision.

"A man who can call on his congressman for help, possibly bring in a smart lawyer, is bound to be better off than the man who doesn't know his way around," Freeman said.

"This is also true in our courts. A rich man who can afford a lot of fancy lawyers often gets a better deal than a poor man."

Freeman said he counted on his special investigating team to speed up machinery in cases such as that of Estes, where he said it was moving in the right direction but much too slowly.

This is planned as a group of 14 to 16 picked men who will coordinate the activities of the 700 men already working on internal audits and investigations.

Estes was continued as a member of the President's Cotton Advisory Committee when it was given official status by Congress last fall, even though one agency was investigating his cotton acreage allotment dealings and another probing his financial status.

As a result of the first investigation, the department levied a $354,000 fine against Estes for alleged irregularities in the transfer of more than 3,000 acres of cotton allotments. The action came after his indictment.

Freeman said the cotton allotment investigation was a "very tricky legal problem," but he added:

"The transfer of a few acres should not attract attention but the transfer of 3,000 acres should have been warning. Then we should have gotten to the heart of that—fast."

Republicans have charged favoritism was shown when the government dropped plans to boost the bond required for Estes' grain operations from $700,000 to $1 million.

Warehouse officials accepted a net worth statement — later admitted by the accountant to be poorly drawn — that showed Estes' net worth was more than $13 million at a time when he actually was in debt.

As a result of this incident, two certified public accountants have been assigned to the warehouse division to help review financial statements and help train other staff members.

A task force is reviewing all bonds of $200,000 or over for grain warehouses and $100,000 or more for cotton warehouses and making a comprehensive review of most recent financial information from warehousemen.

Later, a review is planned of the adequacy of all bonds of any amount.

A further step involves another task force reviewing policies and procedures in administration of commodity storage facilities under the U. S. Warehouse Act and the uniform grain storage agreement to see if net worth and bonding requirements are adequate.

Business As Usual For Night Clubs

By The Associated Press

Night clubs and cabarets in most of the nation's entertainment centers were reported doing business as usual for the peak summer trade season.

The brisk trade reports came in the face of Senate disclosures of unsavory doings in entertainment meccas in many sections of the country where so-called "B-girl" clubs operate.

City fathers, police officials and cabaret owners in practically all cities questioned denied such establishments as B-girl clubs were in operation to begin with.

A few others admitted they had once been plagued with such niteries but have long since run them out of business.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm of New York City said: "We have no B-girl clubs in this city."

He added that as far as he knew, the night club business in the city was going full blast.

Philadelphia reported its legitimate bright spots were doing business as usual and police inspector Frank Rizzo reminded that the other type clubs simply are not in business any more.

Pawtucket, R. I., checked night club billings in the light of Senate disclosures and ordered one establishment to cancel a special dance routine scheduled for the weekend.

One sign outside a Miami Beach club read: "Thirty Exotic Dolls." That and a host of other clubs in the year-round playland continued their floor shows featuring scantily-clad girls, but police said it was a far cry from the productions offered a few years ago.

Out in Calumet City, Ill., where Senate probes were told all sorts of illicit operations went on in night clubs, the neon signs continued to blaze. Officials said the patronage at the clubs had dropped off, but they declined to attribute it to Senate disclosures. They said, instead, the dropoff was due to an increase in unemployment and a crackdown in the last year against low class clubs.

Waits

Dancer Anita Lopushok sits in a hearing room as she waits to be called as a witness by Senate Investigations Subcommittee probing the night club entertainment field. In her testimony she told of being tricked into signing away her right to her baby and being threatened.

Rehearing Motions Are Both Denied

Motions for rehearing of cases appealed from two adjacent counties have been overruled by the Eleventh District of Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland.

Both the appellant and appellee moved for a rehearing in the case of Doyce Ray Waddell et al vs. Empire Drilling Company from Borden County, but the motions were denied. The appellant moved for rehearing in the case of Superior Insurance Company vs. John Jenkins, but this, too, was denied.

2 Yanks Die In Red Ambush

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—In a vicious Communist guerrilla ambush, two U.S. Marines were killed Saturday near this capital, killing 2 U.S. officers and 15 Vietnamese.

The bold ambush 30 miles north of Saigon was carried out with 50-caliber machine guns, 57-mm recoilless rifles, land mines and small arms by a guerrilla band of from 300 to 400 men.

Not a member of the armored column escaped unhurt, said U.S. sources, who estimated the number of wounded Vietnamese soldiers at 20. All seven vehicles in the column were heavily damaged and the guerrillas stripped them of weapons before fading into the jungle.

Vietnamese soldiers, aided by a big U.S. helicopter, set out in pursuit of the raiders, but the chase appeared hopeless.

Never before had the Viet Cong guerrillas appeared so close to Saigon so heavily armed. They staged their ambush near the town of Ben Cat after terrorizing villagers into silence.

Six U.S. servicemen now have been killed in combat since last December when U.S. military aid was stepped up. A U.S. army sergeant was killed in an action in Central Viet Nam this week.

The two U.S. dead, both advisers to the Vietnamese army's 7th Regiment of the 9th Infantry Division, were riding in a jeep, he third vehicle in the convoy.

They were not immediately identified pending notification of next of kin.

One apparently was killed instantly by a mine explosion. His body was found in the jeep. The body of the other was some distance away.

The Viet Cong ambush was strung along more than a half mile of road.

Villagers said the Viet Cong moved into the area about 7 a.m. and set up the ambush about 20 yards from the side of the road.

Villagers said the Communists threatened them with death if they betrayed the ambush to government authorities.

"You shouldn't get the idea our people just walked into this flat footed," a U.S. officer said.

"It was a very well planned and executed ambush. We knew the road was dangerous but no one realized there was a Viet Cong force of that strength in the area."

The Viet Cong began the attack by blowing up a civilian truck in front of the convoy with a land mine, killing all its civilian occupants. The Communists then detonated other mines and poured withering fire into the convoy.

The firing lasted only 15 minutes.

The convoy consisted of two military trucks, a civilian truck, three armored cars and the jeep. The government forces in Ben Cat heard the firing and sent a rescue unit. But the Viet Cong had set up a road block with a felled tree, and rescuers were delayed a half hour in reaching the ambush site.

The bodies of the two officers were brought to Saigon.

Ben Cat is a central town in an area where South Viet Nam has been concentrating on a strategic hamlet program called "Operation Sunrise."

Under the program villagers living in a Communist-controlled area are relocated in new hamlets under heavy guard against Communist marauders. Communist propaganda lately has attacked the strategic hamlet program.

Elsewhere, a major government operation began two days earlier 40 miles north of Saigon was still underway. About 1,200 Vietnamese troops, using a new type of armored personnel carrier, were taking part.

The operation, supported by U.S. Marine Corps and Army helicopters, was in a region virtually controlled by the Viet Cong near the border of Cambodia.

First reports said 6 guerrillas were killed Saturday, 20 captured and a variety of weapons seized.

On Friday the attackers uncovered Communist field hospital, and killed an important political commissar said to have been decorated by President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam.

On Thursday the operation destroyed a large food depot and five vehicles kept by the Viet Cong at the base.

MRS. JOHN RICHARD POTEET

Poteet-Baumann Vows Repeated In Midland

LAMESA. (SC) — Bertha Ann Baumann and John Richard Poteet pledged marriage vows in double ring rites read Saturday evening in the Grace Lutheran Church in Midland.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Baumann of the Valley View Community near Midland, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. R. H. Poteet of Lamesa.

Rev. Allen Brutlag read the marriage ceremony before an altar flanked by baskets of white gladioli interspersed with stock and white cathedral tapers in pedestaled candelabras. White satin bows marked the bridal aisle carpeted in white leading to the satin covered prie dieu centered before the altar.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white silk organza and rose point lace fashioned with a sabrina neckline accented by white sequins and seed pearls. The figure bodice formed a deep V in back and closed with tiny lace covered buttons. Long lace sleeves tapered to petal points over the hands. The bouffant skirt, appliqued with lace garlands down each side, was enhanced with a bustle back flowing into a chapel train with a self-fabric cabbage rose at the waistline. A pearl crown held the wide bubble veil and separate circular veil of pure silk imported English illusion and she carried a crescent bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid and mounted on a white pearl Bible. Shirley Huse of Lamesa, the bride's cousin, was maid of honor and Carolyn Hamby of Orange was the bridesmaid. Another of the bride's cousins, Cindy Huse of Lamesa, was flower girl.

Serving as best man was Mickey Poteet of Lamesa, the bridegroom's brother. Groomsmen were Dick Norris of Lamesa and Gary Teinert of Midland. Ushers were Ervin Baumann of Midland, the bride's brother, and Kenneth House of Lamesa, the bride's cousin.

A reception was held in the church with the couple assisted in the receiving line by their mothers and the bridal attendants. Guests attended from Lamesa, Lorraine, San Angelo, Dallas, Austin, Waco, Welch, Orange, Amarillo, Riviera, San Benito, Colo. and Denver, Colo.

For a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride wore a navy blue silk shantung sheath dress designed with elbow length sleeves ending in circular ruffles. Her shoes and bag were of navy

For a wedding trip to an unknown destination, the bride removed the jacket from her wedding dress and attached the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Coahoma High School. She has attended Howard County Junior College and was formerly employed by Universal CIT in Lubbock. The bridegroom, a Coahoma High School graduate, attended North Texas State University and is presently employed as sales manager for KFNE Radio.

Col. Harold Collins, Family Randolph's Loss-Webb's Gain

Already being feted among Big Spring's newcomers are Col. and Mrs. Harold Collins, who this past week moved their furnishings into their new quarters at 3 Albrook in Webb Village. They come here from San Antonio, where Colonel Collins was at Randolph AFB, and he is now commander of the Pilot Training Group at Webb.

Colonel Collins has been in the Air Force for 15 years and has had active duty in Japan and Korea. An interesting item in the Collins home is a hand-painted folding divider which was a gift to the Colonel from a Japanese governor.

There are three children. Pat, 17, is attending summer sessions at Howard County Junior College, after having graduated from Trinity High School in San Antonio a few weeks ago. A lovely brunette, she is an accomplished pianist, with ten years of study behind her.

Mike and Doug are two "look-alikes" who also play the piano, but Mike asserts a preference for football. He's 12, and will be in the seventh grade next Fall. Doug, 8, will be in his third school year.

Another important member of the family is a 3-year-old dog named "T-Bird."

Colonel Collins brings here a reputation as a top-flight golfer, and there are some trophies to bear this out. One is a clock, won in the Randolph AFB tournament last year.

All the family like to fish, and have spent several vacations at Lake Texhoma. They plan to test their skill at Lake Thomas. The Colonel said his wife is the real fisherman of the clan, has the family record for the largest fish. Mrs. Collins also enjoys such pastimes as bridge and playing the piano.

Collins Family—Plus 'T-Bird'

"T-Bird", three-year-old dog of the Harold Collins family, made a few objections to coming into the house where he isn't ordinarily allowed. Pictured with Col. and Mrs. Collins, Pat, Mike and Doug, he seems quite puzzled about the whole thing. The boys insisted that they couldn't have a family portrait without him. Col. Collins is the new commander of the 3560th Pilot Training Group at Webb AFB.

Beck-York Vows Said In Chapel Ceremony

Made by the bride's mother, the dress had a scalloped neckline outlined in pearls, as well as a scalloped hemline. Her shoulder-length veil of tulle, which she borrowed from Mrs. Mike Tavaglione, formed a crown traced with pearls. As a bouquet she carried an orchid on a white Bible, which was a gift of the bridegroom's mother.

Mrs. Bobbie Jack Barnes, sister of the bride, served as the matron of honor. She wore an orchid crystalline dress with a full skirt and low neckline and carried long-stem white carnations tied with orchid and white ribbon.

Providing music for the ceremony was the Rev. John Beck, brother of the groom, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and Marian Walker, organist, who played "The Wedding March."

The bride chose her dress as something new, while something old was a pearl tear drop necklace. Something blue and borrowed was a garter belong to

The cake, embossed with confection roses and shaped in a clover-leaf design, was three tiered. It was surrounded by net ruffling and topped with three wedding bells.

Wall sconces over the serving table held lily of the valley bridal tapers. A refreshment table in the playroom was covered in Madeira cloth and centered with a silver epergne holding white stock and carnations. Silver appointments were used in all the service.

Tangy Milk Cooler Spells Refreshment

Now's the time to plan your menus around quick, cool and casual dairy foods. What could be quicker than pouring a tall, refreshing glass of milk cooler than a delicious dish of ice cream or more casual than a tangy cheese sandwich? And don't forget... nothing adds to the taste of summer-fresh vegetables like the pure cream goodness of golden, country-fresh real butter.

A cool idea is new colorful milk coolers. Beat 2-3 cup water and 2-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk to soft peaks. Slowly add six ounces thawed fruit concentrate (the flavor of your choice) and one cup water. Brighten cubes by stirring in a few drops food coloring. Freeze in refrigerator tray.

Drop them in a full glass. Fill with milk, and you have a good and nutritious treat.

Williamson, Clackum Repeat Nuptial Vows Friday Evening

MRS. BOBBY J. WILLIAMSON

Miss Marie Clackum became the bride of Airman I.C. Bobby J. Williamson when marriage vows were exchanged Friday evening in a candlelight ceremony at the First Assembly of God Church. The Rev. S. E. Eldridge of Wichita Falls officiated in the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Clackum, 1311 Mt. Vernon. Mrs. Pearl Williamson, Bremen, Ga., is the mother of the bridegroom.

A cathedral candelabra centered by an arrangement of white gladioli and flanked by two baskets of orchid gladioli made up the altar background.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Bill Phipps, organist, who also accompanied Mrs. Charles Odom as she sang "Always", "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of chantilly lace and bouquet taffeta. The molded bodice was fashioned of chantilly lace with a scalloped sabrina neckline trimmed with sequins and pearls and accented with a tucked cummerbund of taffeta ending in a bow in the back. Long tapered lace sleeves came to petal points over the wrists. The full bouffant skirt was enhanced with side panels, each ending in a bustle bow in the back above a chapel train. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a Juliet cap of chantilly lace petaled with chantilly lace trimmed with seed pearls and sequins.

The bridal bouquet was a white orchid atop a white Bible. The Bible served as something old and borrowed; something new was her wedding gown; and something blue was a wedding garter. She wore birthday pennies in her shoe.

Miss Shirley Clawson, served as maid of honor. Miss Jane Williamson, the bridegroom's sister from Bremen, Ga., and Miss Nancy Eldridge of Wichita Falls were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of orchid polished cotton fashioned into a sheath with an orchid chiffon overskirt. Their headresses were veils scattered with seed pearls and sequins. Each carried a single white chrysanthemum.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clackum chose a mint green eyelet dress. Mrs. Williamson, the bridegroom's mother, wore a pink embroidered sheath. Both costumes were complemented with corsages of white carnations. Perry Hamm attended as best man. Ushers were Wayne Clackum, the bride's brother from Ft. Polk, La., and Bill Phipps. Altar taper lighters were the bride's cousin, Miss Hilda Williams of Tallapoosa, Ga., and Wes Rowan. Junior taper lighters were Miss Merlee Dennis and Billy Clackum, brother of the bride.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS

Out of town guests for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hughes of Austin, Mrs. Vera Hughes, Mrs. C. G. Williams, Tim, Kay and Mike and Miss Hilda Williamson, all of Tallapoosa, Ga., Mrs. Ralph Robinson and Diane and Miss Jane Williamson, all of Bremen, Ga., Miss Nancy Eldridge, Wichita Falls, and Wayne Clackum, Ft. Polk, La.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Church Fellowship Hall with the couple, their parents and attendants in the receiving line.

The bride's table was laid with a white cloth draped with white net enhanced with orchid tulle circles and butterflies. White candles interlaced with orchid ribbon graced the table. The three-tiered wedding cake was trimmed in orchid and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Miss Ida Lou Camp presided at the register. Members of the house party were Mrs. Colbert Frazier, Mrs. Ray Hill, Miss Linda Stuteville, Miss Connie Dyer, and Miss Nancy Knox.

WEDDING TRIP

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride chose a blue lace sheath with three-quarter length sleeves with white accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home at 808 Johnson St., Big Spring. The bride is a 1958 graduate of Big Spring High School and is employed in the office of the J. C. Penney Co.

The bridegroom graduated from Bremen High School in Georgia and attended West Georgia College. He is now stationed with the 331st FIS at Webb AFB.

District Preparing To Get Plans Going For New Lake

The Colorado River Municipal Water District is preparing to take off the bridge on its planning for a second lake on the upper Colorado River.

E. V. Spence, general manager, said that he viewed the recent Texas Railroad Commission order banning disposal of Sharon Ridge and Coleman Ranch oilfield brines in pits as having broken the bottleneck on the project.

"Before long the board will be meeting, and I plan to ask for authority to proceed with plans for intercepting and disposing of the normal flow in the river," he said.

The district holds a permit from the Texas Water Commission for impounding a second lake, twice the size of Lake J. B. Thomas, provided it can demonstrate an ability to control salt water pollution. Intercepting the river's normal flow, which contains concentrates bearing 68 tons of salt per day at Colorado City, is considered by Spence as the key to the problem.

Banning pits and proper plugging of wells will mean that the matter of pollution will not be increased and that the district therefore will be justified in developing plans to dispose of salt water in the river's normal flow. Spence noted that a letter from Arthur H. Barbeck, Austin, chief engineer of the railroad commission, suggested that operations should be started immediately in the field by the oil operators so that further seepage into the subsol will be minimized.

"We have no reason to believe that the operators will not move as directed," observed the CRMWD general manager. "Hence, we are hopeful that they will proceed at once and that compliance will be complete well within the ample six months period."

Topographic maps by the United States Geological Survey are complete, and analysis of cores will also enable the district to proceed with firming the location of a dam, Spence explained. With assurance that seepage of 7,500 barrels of brine per day into the subsol of the upper watershed will be halted before the end of the year, the district will be in a position to step up its engineering on the project.

The board will be asked for authority to plan for a low water dam across the river. This would halt the normal flow and the underground migration in the channel, and this water would be drawn off at the dam for disposal. Fresh floodwaters would flow unimpeded over the interceptor dam and go downstream into the lake.

One possibility of disposal is to arrange to deliver the brine to oil companies for repressuring, either in its natural state or to dilute it with Lake Thomas water. This knotty problem is the hurdle which the district now must negotiate in order to insure proper quality of water in the new lake so that the urgent needs of a growing area may be met.

Webb Pilot On Simulated Space Flight

1st. Lt. James K. Fletcher, 3560th Pilot Training Squadron at Webb AFB, is currently undergoing a simulated space flight at the Aerospace Medical Center at Brooks AFB, San Antonio.

The tenth in a series of such tests, Lt. Fletcher has as a companion 1st. Lt. Robert E. Blake, an instrument instructor at Perin AFB, Sherman.

The test will differ from previous ones of this type, in that the two-man space cabin simulator was recently modified by the addition of an air lock.

The modification consists of a 20-inch diameter air lock and a 24-inch transfer lock which will allow the research scientists at the school to obtain a more complete and accurate evaluation of the physiological condition of the subjects at the stations, while undergoing prolonged "flights" at varying altitudes.

This addition is installed in the entrance door to the space cabin, and resembles a similar device which is projected for use in future space vehicles. This technique allows a physician to enter the transfer chamber, and then be taken up to the same atmospheric pressure levels as in the space cabin interior.

The occupants in the simulator then open the door to allow the physician to enter and perform the necessary medical evaluations. Once concluded, the same procedure is reversed. During the 14-day flight the pilots will live on dehydrated foods. They will man the cabin's simulated flight control panel 20 hours a day in shifts of varying length.

Lt. Fletcher is a native of San Antonio, and an instructor in the T-33 jet aircraft at Webb. He is the son of Lt. Col. James L. Fletcher, Rtd. The lieutenant is married to the former Miss Petra Nyman of Seattle, Wash. The couple has two sons.

Lieutenants Fletcher and Blake are scheduled to complete the test June 18.

Money Saved On Moving Water Line

The cost of relocating the 14-inch Moss Creek Lake raw water line across property owned by CPE Homes, Inc., east of Birdwell Lane and north of Marcy Drive, was $1,763.71 less than estimated. The City of Big Spring has refunded $1,763.71 to Lloyd Curley, president of the corporation.

The contractor, Clyde Construction Co., had included a fixed amount for possible damage to existing pipe in the line, with the understanding that the property owners would receive a refund if the cost was less.

The bid price, including the fixed damage estimate, was $8,957.54. The City of Big Spring and CRMWD had agreed to pay $4,990 of the cost. Final cost, as submitted by Clyde Construction Co., was $7,193.83. More of the pipe was saved than anticipated which accounted for the lower relocation and material cost and allowed the $1,763.71 refund.

Right of way used by the line in the old location was deeded back to Curley and CPE Homes in exchange for new right of way along the alley south of Alabama and on Miami to the intersection with the old right of way.

The dirt left in the ridge from which the line was moved is to be relocated by the owner.

Injunction Halts Republic Aviation Plant Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—A temporary injunction has halted the 21-month strike at Republic Aviation Corp., the only producer of the vital F105 tactical fighter plane.

The Justice Department, acting on behalf of President Kennedy, went into Brooklyn Federal Court Friday and obtained the order, signed by U.S. Dist. Judge Walter Bruchhausen.

The President had said the walkout imperiled the national safety and that action should be taken under provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

A union spokesman said: "We will abide by his (the judge's) decision. We are removing the pickets from the gate as of this minute."

Do You Deprive Your Family of Regular Professional Eye Care Because of Cost?

Professional eye care is sometimes expensive and, as a consequence, often put off. This is unnecessary when you consider the outstanding professional eye care available at Texas State Optical, and its reasonable cost. TSO Doctors of Optometry have performed over 4 million eye examinations since 1935, an enviable record of professional competence.

There are three important phases of the professional eye examinations performed by TSO Doctors of Optometry:

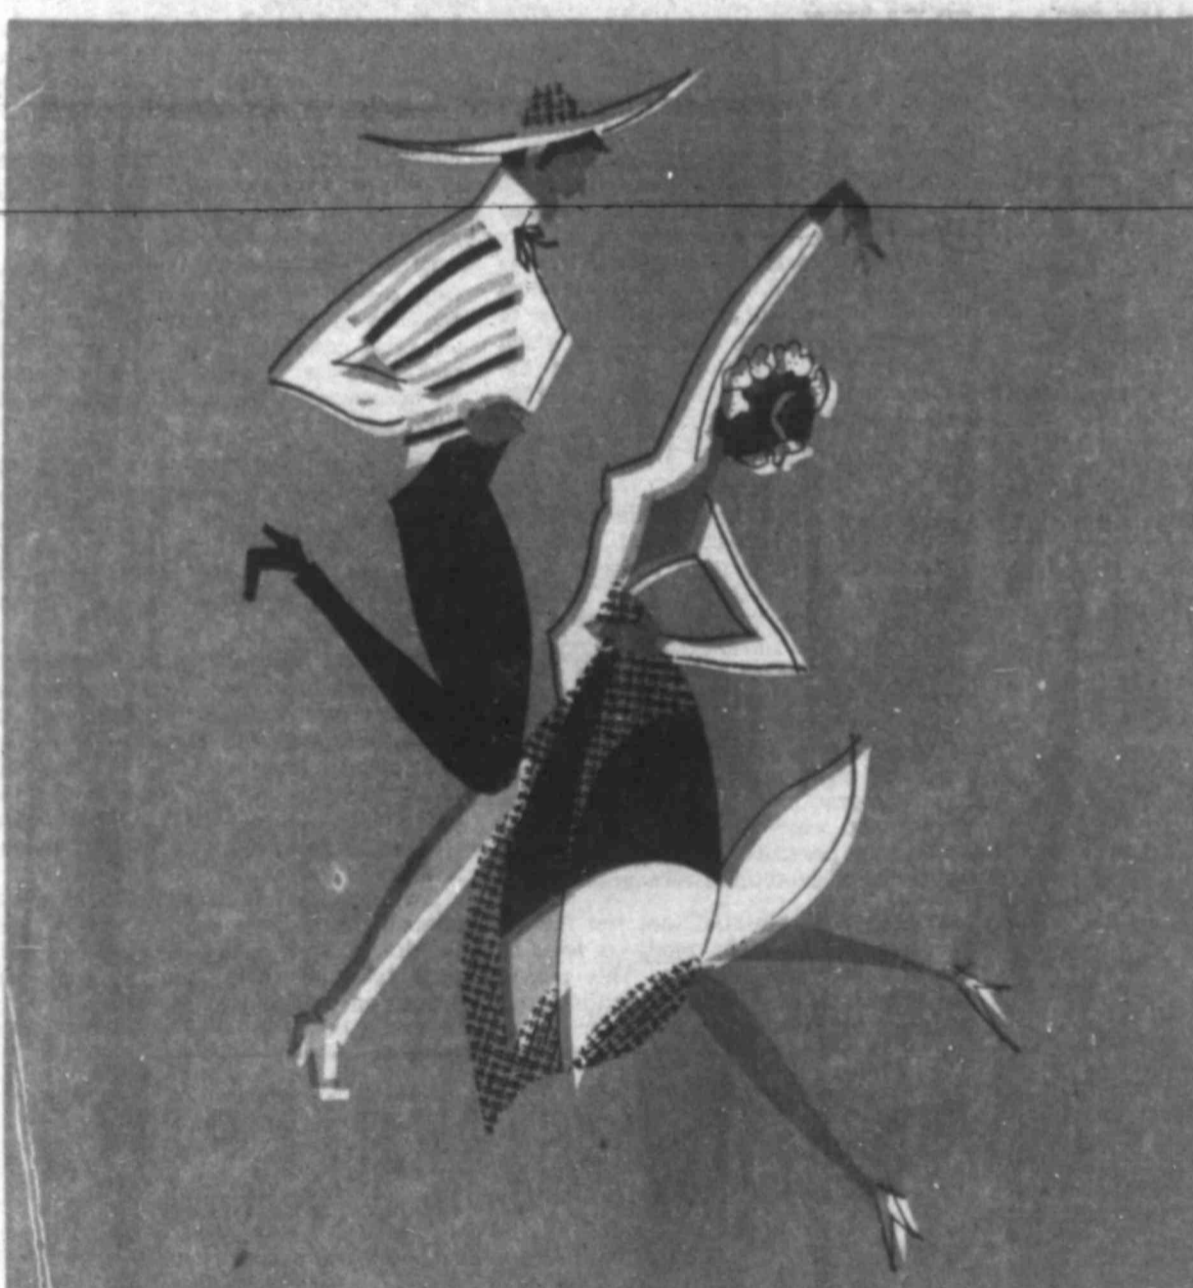

- 1. A case history of your eye condition and visual problems is recorded. It is used as a guide to placing emphasis on specific areas of the examining procedure.
2. With the Ophthalmoscope, an instrument used by both Doctors of Optometry and Medical Doctors, your eyes are examined internally for evidence of disease or physical defect. The crystalline lens inside each eye is carefully examined for any opacity, a symptom of cataract. The back of the eye (retina) is carefully scanned for evidence of disease, such as glaucoma. The eyes must appear healthy, then an examination for visual imperfections is made.
3. With the Ophthalmometer and the Phoropter, the eyes are thoroughly examined for visual abnormalities such as near or far sightedness, astigmatism and muscle imbalance. If such abnormality is present, the degree of it is measured and a prescription is written.

Doctors of Optometry, such as those professional men at TSO, obtain their degrees from recognized colleges, by completing five years of classroom, laboratory and clinical study. This includes courses in pathology, anatomy, physiology and optical science. They are educated in the recognition of symptoms and physical evidence of eye diseases and defects, the analysis of visual imperfections, the formulation of prescriptions for lenses, and the fitting of glasses and contact lenses.

So, considering the outstanding professional service available from the Doctors of Optometry at TSO, its reasonable cost, and credit terms, if needed, there is no reason for neglecting your family's regular eye care program. At TSO finest quality single vision glasses are as low as $14.85 . . . invisible bifocals as low as $17.85, including professional examination, lenses, and frame. Single Vision Contact Lenses, $65; Bifocal Contact Lenses, $130, both complete with professional eye examination. Let TSO take care of your family's eyes and be certain of professional competence at reasonable cost.

This Could Be The Year For Hot Temperatures

By KAY LOVELAND
If this summer follows the pattern set by the past three summers, residents will need air conditioners in a running order, for some hot weather is due in June, July and August.

Probably nearly everyone in Big Spring remembers the unusually mild season for this part of the country last summer. During the three summer months last year, Big Spring experienced only one 100-degree day, June 4. There were three other 100-degrees or 100 plus days during the year, occurring on May 11, 100 degrees; May 12, 103; and Sept. 2, 100. On many other days, 100-degree temperatures were predicted, but not reached.

In the summer of 1960, there was sweltering heat in June and early July. Seventeen times temperatures were predicted to reach and pass the century mark, and on June 21, a 44-year high of 108 was topped when the mercury soared to 109. The first 13 days of June gave no indication, however, of the heat wave to come. In fact, on three of those days temperatures of less than 90 were predicted.

But on June 14 a 105-degree reading scorched the area. The following day the temperature dropped to a mild 103. Citizens had two days of respite on the 18th and 17th and then felt a fiery blast on the 18th with 106-degree heat. There followed five days in which the temperature did not drop below 104, including the record-breaking 109.

On the 24th, 25th and 26th temperatures stayed in the almost welcome 90's. On the 27th the mercury climbed to 104 again. The month ended with a 100-degree recording on the 29th and 102 on the 30th. Five times in average of 2.1 more low temperature records. A study of this information would indicate that the weather in this area is getting cooler. At least, it does not indicate of this, it does show that the temperatures are not quite so extreme today. Comparing highest maximum temperature recordings for the two periods finds a 117-degree reading in 1907, as opposed to 110-degree records in 1951 and 1956. In a comparison of lowest minimums, a 33-degree temperature was recorded in June, 1913, while the lowest recording for the years since 1930 has been 48, registered in July, 1955.

At any rate, whether such figures indicate a trend toward cooler

DEAR ABBY... All The Handicaps! [Image of a woman]

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old high school junior and am in love with a 19-year-old boy. He says he loves me and wants to marry me as soon as I finish school. The only things stopping us are age, religion and money. I am Catholic and he is Jewish. His parents are so mad at him they don't even want to meet me, and mine are also against our marriage. He still doesn't know what line of work he is going to follow, but can get almost any kind of selling job because he has a nice appearance and a gift of gab. Do you think we have a chance of making a go of marriage? SUE (not my real name)

DEAR SUE: If you and your boy friend are two in a million, you can make it. But I advise you to WAIT! Neither one of you is equipped for marriage. And money and the blessings of your parents are very important. DEAR ABBY: I've been married for three years and I feel like nothing but an unpaid housekeeper. When we go grocery shopping, I sit in the car and my husband goes in with the grocery list. I am not allowed to have a milkman or a bread man. I haven't been to a beauty parlor since we've been married. Abby, what's a woman supposed to do when she looks like a sheep dog and is kept practically bare footed?

DEAR BLUE: A man who keeps his wife broke, looking like a sheep dog and practically bare-footed is sick upstairs—and a woman who holds still for this kind of abuse is sicker than he is.

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor and I have a complaint. Every weekend two religious fanatics come to our doors and try to preach to us. They have magazines, a 400 pamphlets and they want us to stop everything and let them read to us from the Bible. Now we have nothing against these people or their religion, but why do they try to preach to people who have their own religions and are not interested? We've tried telling them in a nice way that we haven't time, but this doesn't seem to discourage them. Then next week another pair comes and we have the same thing all over again. What can we do?

DEAR ANNOYED: They are probably sincere people who are dedicated to their religion and want to spread the gospel. If you tell them frankly that you are not interested, you will not be bothered again. CONFIDENTIAL TO "N": Don't be naive. A man doesn't have to travel to stray. If he's so inclined, he can manage it on his lunch hour. How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send your address, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of The Big Spring Herald. For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 2365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Veterans Urged To Consider Change In Insurance Plan

Veterans holding GI term life insurance policies should consider converting to permanent plans of insurance, according to Ray Boren, contact representative at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital.

Premium rates for permanent plans remains the same throughout the lifetime of the policy while the rate on term policies increases every five years, the VA pointed out.

These increases are relatively small at the younger ages, but get progressively higher at the older ages when the earnings of veterans may begin to diminish.

Halfway House Residents Establish Work Program

A new program to increase the work possibilities of persons staying in Big Spring's Halfway House will begin Monday, according to Floyd E. Riebold, counselor at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Regular advertising will be started in the Herald and other media. Advertising as Halfway House Services Enterprise, the patients are forming a work pool to provide an instant employe for almost any need.

Persons at the Halfway House are taking their first step into society after being hospitalized, often for long periods. The semi-sheltered atmosphere of the House, where they live together until they are prepared to step out completely on their own, allows them to gradually become accustomed to an environment from which they have been absent.

While living in the House the men are self-supporting, each contributing to upkeep, housing and food. At this time there are four men living in the house at 411 Lancaster, but more will be added when employment is found. The maximum length of stay is six months.

"The work pool we are going to form has worked well in other places," Riebold said. "Students at Texas Tech have a similar organization."

With the wide variety of persons who will berth temporarily at the Halfway House, many talents will be available to the public. Businessmen should have a ready supply of workers should they find themselves stranded without an employe.

Over Million Vets Listed

The latest survey made by the Veterans Administration shows there are 1,146,000 war veterans now living in Texas, according to Ray Boren, contact representative at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital.

Of this number, 786,000 are veterans of World War II. There are 280,000 veterans of the Korean War, while an additional 223,000 veterans, already listed with the World War II veterans, saw service also in Korea.

Texas also has 130,000 veterans of World War I, according to the tally, while an additional seven veterans of the Spanish - American War, the Indian Wars and career ex-servicemen who now receive compensation reside within the state.

The total number of veterans as of Dec. 31, 1961, the date of this survey, stood at 22,338,000 with 15,138,000 World War II veterans; 4,542,000 Korean War veterans; 2,511,000 World War I veterans, and 147,000 other veterans including Spanish - American War, Indian Wars and career ex-servicemen.

Another Summer Class To Open At YMCA This Week

Only one new class will begin this week at the YMCA, but officials are emphasizing that interested people may still register for classes which began last week.

The new class is an art appreciation course taught by Mrs. Terry Patterson on Thursday evenings. The first class will be held June 23 from 8 to 9:30 p.m. and weekly sessions will meet through July 14. Fee for members of the Y is $1; for non-members, $3.

There is still room for more enrollees in the three bridge classes which began last week. Taught by Mrs. Hudson Landers, there are two classes of beginner's bridge and one of intermediate. One beginner's class is held on Tuesday mornings from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and the other on Thursday at the same hour. The intermediate course meets at the same time each Wednesday. Fee for either course for Y members is $5. For non-members it is $10.

The tennis class instructed by Jerry Caddell is still taking members. The class meets each Wednesday at 7:30 a.m. at the tennis courts in the City Park. The program will continue through July 27. Each participant must bring his own racquet, but the Y furnishes tennis balls. Fee for members is $1. for non-members, $4.

A youth class which is enjoying good success is the square dancing session taught by Joe and Ruth Connally on Tuesday nights at 7:30 p.m. Thirty-two have signed for the class to date and more can register.

The last week of the first session of Indian Day Camp at the city Park will run Monday through Friday. The camp began June 11.

After the time spent in the House, if he has a job and can sustain himself, he is discharged from the hospital. While these patients are on furlough status.

Almost 100 Enroll In Special Classes

Pre-school instructional classes for non-English speaking children began in the Big Spring Independent School District last week and will continue for eight weeks, Superintendent Sam Anderson said.

Four classes of 92 Latin American youngsters, who will enter the first grade in September, are being taught this summer to speak English by Mrs. Elodia Bustamante, Mrs. Arthur Rueckart, Agnes Mitchell and Mamie Lee Dodds.

Classes are being held in Kate Morrison school where there are two classes of 39 students and in Bauer school, two classes of 53. Children attend the classes every day Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Anderson said that a few students might be accepted for the classes now but that official registration is closed.

Man Is Slain In Duel With Officer

BEAUMONT (AP)—Harold Hill was shot to death Friday at his farm home at Nome, 20 miles west of here, as a highway patrolman sought to serve two warrants charging traffic violations.

Glenn Rose of the Department of Public Safety said Hill, 26, fired first with a rifle as the officer stood at his door. Rose said patrolman Ruben Richardson returned the fire, and one or both of the trooper's two bullets killed Hill.
