ALLIED SOLIDARITY 'UNSHAKEN'

Rusk Flies To Europe On Fence-Mending Tour

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived today to begin a fence-mending tour of Western Europe. He declared Allied solidarity remains unshaken.

In a brief statement on arrival at Orly Field, Rusk said he intended to confer with Allied leaders on "our common goals and our common commitments" as they affect the North Atlantic community and other parts of the world.

On his 10-day tour Rusk will tackle a number of problems that plague relations among the Western Allies.

Near the top of the list will be efforts to forge a common nuclear weapons policy, an issue on which Washington and Paris are far apart. No quick agreement is expected.

France's President Charles de Gaulle has determined his nation should have its own nuclear force. The United States contends the West's force should be "indivisible," that "relatively weak national nuclear forces" would have a negligible effect.

Rusk does not expect De Gaulle to change his views overnight, but he does hope to clear away some of the underbrush of Washington-Paris misunderstanding on secondary matters.

The secretary of state has a wide range of world problems to go over not only in Paris but in Bonn, Rome, Lisbon and London. He also will make a stopover in Berlin.

Before winging out of Washington early today, Rusk conceded the talks with Paris are "a new period of creative activity."

Rusk, calling the alliance's foundation solid, said his European talks will center on "what is next to be done—the new steps."

SOVIET MEETING Rusk had a 90-minute conference on Berlin Monday with Anatoly Dobrynin, the Soviet ambassador. It was his fifth such meeting since Dobrynin arrived in the United States in March and no progress has been reported so far.

This is another point of difference between Paris and Washington. De Gaulle feels these talks are a waste of time. The Kennedy administration believes it is important to keep the talks going—and the Kremlin seems to agree.

Whether Rusk will get to see the austere, unbending De Gaulle, was not known for certain in Washington. It is a matter of protocol, a decision for the French president to make and to announce.

Rusk, U.S. officials said, has no fixed agenda for discussions in any of the capitals. The issues, however, are well known, and Rusk is ready to talk on any or all of them.

BREAKDOWN This is a country-by-country breakdown of the problems which likely will come up in the five capitals.

PARIS—The talks in the French capital will present the toughest problem for Rusk. The positions of Washington and Paris differ on such basic questions as negotiations with the Soviet Union on Berlin, on nuclear armament and the political integration of Europe.

All these headcases will come up in one way or another during the two days Rusk will spend in Paris.

The secretary, officials said, will restate the U.S. position on all of them, explaining that the talks with the Soviets have to go on, however fruitless they had been thus far, that the United States believes France's effort to have its own nuclear weapon is meaningless as far as the West's nuclear deterrent is concerned, and that Britain's membership in the European Common Market should not be held up by philosophical talks on how close the future political ties among countries of Western Europe should be.

DIFFERENT SITUATION BONN—While Rusk will likely face a unanimous opposition in Paris, whether he talks with De Gaulle or with his foreign minister, Maurice Couve de Murville, the situation in Bonn might be different.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is expected to continue to insist that reported U.S. proposals to end the Berlin stalemate are unworkable, but Gerhard Schroeder, the West German foreign minister, may be more understanding—at least this is what Washington officials hope for.

On the nuclear issue, the secretary will have a smooth sailing in Bonn, as the Germans are satisfied with the present structure with the United States exercising unilateral control over NATO's nuclear force.

LONDON—There will be few if any controversial topics to be discussed in London. Rusk's talks will be more of a working conference character, centered on Britain's desire to join the Common Market. Rusk, however, might bring up the question of British contribution to NATO's conventional forces in Europe, which the United States considers inadequate.

MOST PEACEFUL ROME—The day Rusk will spend in the Italian capital may likely be the most peaceful of his trip. The United States is satisfied that despite some flirtation with the left, Italy is a staunch partner in NATO. Rusk will be willing to listen to Italian ideas on how to solve problems in Africa and in the Middle East, two areas with which the Italians claim to be more familiar than other members of the Western alliance.

LISBON—His short stop of less than 24 hours in the Portuguese capital probably won't be too pleasant. Portugal is angry with the United States and maintains that it was abandoned by its NATO allies when India invaded Goa, the Portuguese territory on the Asian peninsula.

Rusk will discuss the future of the U.S. bases in the Azores, vitally important in naval and air communications with Europe. The rights to use them expire by the end of the year.

COL. D. W. EISENHART

Col. Eisenhart To Speak Here

Col. Donald W. Eisenhart, deputy commander, Lackland AFB at San Antonio, has accepted the invitation of Col. Wilson H. Banks, Webb AFB commander, to speak to the graduating class—62-II—June 21.

Col. Eisenhart is a former commander of Webb, and Col. Banks' immediate predecessor. He is well known to both the military and the civic leaders of Big Spring, having taken an active part in civic affairs while stationed at Webb.

The colonel will be speaking on a subject with which he is thoroughly familiar. It was he who initiated the current pilot training set-up—now known as the Undergraduate Pilot Training program. It was under his administration that the changeover was accomplished.

The colonel will no doubt see many familiar faces in the class. They entered training at Webb two months before Col. Eisenhart left the command.

Claims Texas Lags In Oil Conservation

OMAHA (AP)—A Texan said today the nation's largest oil state has lagged behind most other states in adopting modern oil and gas conservation laws.

C. W. Alcorn of Houston said Texas pioneered many statutes but old rules and trial and error have left serious scars.

Alcorn told the Interstate Oil Compact Commission two recent Texas Supreme Court rulings have offered encouragement for the future by frowning on the drilling of wells on tracts as small as one-tenth of an acre.

Other speakers at the opening general session of the mid-year meeting of the 33-state oil and gas conservation study group included Gov. Howard Edmondson, D-Okl., the compact chairman and Govs. Frank Morrison, D-Neb., and John Anderson Jr., R-Kan.

An Indiana oil man, John Lavens Jr. of Evansville, said oil imports threaten to stop the growth of the domestic industry and reduce its effectiveness in bolstering national defense.

Lavens said the ratio of imports to domestic production now exceeds 26 per cent compared to 5 per cent prior to World War II.

Alcorn, former president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, said deeply ingrained attitudes and vested interests have worked against needed changes in Texas laws.

"Mistakes made in good faith decades ago still haunt us," he said.

Alcorn is chairman of a new statewide industry committee for equitable development of Texas oil and gas resources.

Crews Begin Eight More Slanted Tests

AUSTIN (AP)—Crews began eight more slant-hole oil well tests today as the state's investigation into reports of underground theft threatened to spread from the East Texas Field to the nearby Hawkins Field.

"This thing has grown beyond anything we expected," Asst. Atty. Gen. Houghton Brownlee said Monday.

"It has us and the Railroad Commission tied in knots," Representatives of Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's office, the Texas Railroad Commission, the Texas Department of Public Safety and, since Sunday, the Texas House General Investigating Committee are prowling the rich East Texas Field.

SEEK PROOF All four groups seek proof that some wells are drilled at angles to siphon oil from adjoining leases.

Wilson said he has asked the Railroad Commission to extend its East Texas Field no-plugging order to the Hawkins Field.

"The information we now have indicates some of the same operators who have been drilling deviated wells in the East Texas Field may be carrying on similar operations in the Hawkins Field," Wilson said.

He told the commission that Texaco, Inc., filed a civil suit last week in federal court charging that some of the same operators the state has been investigating in the East Texas Field have drilled deviated wells in the Hawkins Field.

The number of injunctions granted by Dist. Judge Herman Jones in Austin against oil operators' interference with the tests mounted to 40.

OBTAINS ORDERS Wilson obtained orders against eight more operators to permit additional tests in Gregg, Rusk and Upshur counties. These will continue for two or three days.

Brownlee said when the eight tests are completed, the state will study its finances to see if more are possible.

"We still have some money left and we will go until we run out," Brownlee said.

He said an inclination and deviation test on each well costs $1,300. Some run more, he said, because of extra labor to pull obstructions from some of seven "junked" wells found so far and because it is necessary to "kill" producing wells by pumping salt water into the pipes to stop oil from flowing.

Wilson said Friday that he will make every effort to fix responsibility for the junking or plugging of seven wells. Excluding the seven plugged wells, the state has tested 25, Brownlee said.

DEFENDANTS Defendants named in the latest injunction cases were G. V. Youchum, Damon Oil Co. and H. W. Donnell of Kilgore, Pete Davis of Gladewater, Garvin Oil Co. of Dallas, Arthur V. Suggs, of Longview, C. S. Starr of Kilgore, Major & Garvin Producing Co. of Selman City and Max Clark of Longview.

Appeal Is Taken To Sault Ste. Marie

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Dyke Askev Simmons' appeal from a death sentence for a triple murder in 1959 has been taken to the Collegiate Tribunal in Sault Ste. Marie.

Should this court uphold the sentence the Fort Worth man's only hope rests with the governor of Nuevo Leon or the president.

Simmons is the first American ever sentenced to death in Mexico, where murder cases usually bring a maximum sentence of 30 years.

Defense lawyer Hector Zapata said he will continue fighting for his client, whom he claims is mentally disturbed.

Simmons was convicted on controversial evidence of cold-bloodedly shooting Marta Perez Villagomez, 21; her sister Hilda, 18, and their brother Juan Manuel, 14.

Hurricane-Hunting Satellite Goes Into Orbit, Tracks Clouds

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane-hunting Tiro V rocketed into orbit today to seek the cause of the killer storms and perhaps help devise means of taming them.

A three-stage Thor-Delta rocket blasted off at 7:18 a.m. carrying the fifth in the series of weather-eye satellites.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced more than two hours later that the satellite was in orbit and had transmitted its first series of cloud cover pictures.

A pair of television cameras in the Tiro V made pictures as the satellite completed its first orbit and relayed them instantly to a tracking station at Wallops Island, Va.

Weather experts hope the pictures will provide valuable information on the origin, development and movement of tropical storms born in the 1962 season, which opened last week.

OVERCOMES DEFECT The robot weatherman achieved orbit despite a malfunction in the Thor-Delta guidance system.

Project official Robert Gray reported that 20 seconds after launching a short circuit developed in ground equipment designed to beam radio commands to the guidance package.

"After that, the rocket had to rely on its automatic pilot to fly its proper course," Gray said.

He said the auto pilot is fed all flight commands before launch and can carry out the mission, but normally not as precisely as the radio guidance system.

The huge rocket rose smoothly on a tall yellow-orange flame, arched toward the northeast and sped swiftly from sight.

Hurricane-hunting was Tiro V's main assignment. But meteorologists hope pictures taken by its cloud-cover cameras also will provide vital data on storms, fog and ice breakup near the Arctic Circle; Pacific Ocean typhoons and other weather phenomena around the world.

PEAK PERIOD The launching was timed so the 286-pound satellite's two television cameras would be aimed at the hurricane-breeding grounds of the Caribbean and Atlantic during late August and all of September, normally the peak period for tropical storms.

The hurricane season opened oficially Friday. If the initial storm of the season, Alma, develops in the first 10 days of Tiro V's flight the satellite would be able to photograph it.

After this period, the satellite's alignment was to be such that for 38 days the camera would be able to photograph cloud cover only over areas south of the equator. Beginning in mid-August the vehicle's intended path would permit camera coverage in the Northern Hemisphere for 35-40 days.

The Weather Bureau planned to relay hurricane pictures snapped by the satellite as swiftly as possible to warning centers in Miami, Fla.; New Orleans, La., and San Juan, Puerto Rico, for help in plotting direction and intensity of the storms.

NOT MAIN MISSION NASA, emphasized hurricane detection is not Tiro V's main mission, that it is basically a research vehicle, like the four previous satellites in the program and two more scheduled to follow. The Tiro satellites are laying the groundwork for an operational space weather surveillance system, Project Nimbus, scheduled to begin launching next year.

"If a hurricane develops during the time Tiro V is in a position to take this picture," an official explained, "we will assemble all the pictures taken in the area in the days immediately before. These may provide clues to what type conditions must exist for a hurricane to form."

"We will try to follow the course of the storm with the satellite cameras, and hope that the satellite can actually be the first to detect a hurricane, as Tiro III did last year."

SPOTTED ESTHER Tiro III photographs disclosed Hurricane Esther two days before conventional means could have spotted it. In its four-month useful life, the satellite photographed five hurricanes and one tropical storm in the Atlantic, two hurricanes and a tropical storm in the eastern Pacific and nine typhoons in the central and western Pacific.

Tiro V was launched on a course which would enable it to cover a much wider area of the world than its four predecessors. The route would put its cameras within range of all territory between the Arctic and Antarctic circles.

No Deadline On Berlin, Niki Says

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev told Romanian workers today that the Soviet Union sees no reason to go to war over Berlin and "we do not give any deadline" on settling the Berlin issue.

"The United States threatened us with war over Berlin, but I don't see any reason to go to war," he said.

"Those who talk about war had better remember that if they pushed the button it would boom against them."

"We do not give any deadline, but as soon as the matter is ripe we will solve the problem," he said.

Khrushchev spoke to a crowd of railway workers in the rolling-stock repair yards on the outskirts of Bucharest. He arrived in Romania Monday for a week's visit.

Khrushchev told the workers: "I am convinced that tomorrow the Red flag will fly over the United States. But we will not fly the flag. It will be the American people themselves."

Discussing Berlin, Khrushchev said:

"We want an agreement with the Americans to change the occupation status of West Berlin and convert it into a free city. But if there is no understanding on this matter with the United States, we will sign a peace treaty with the German Democratic Republic, ending the occupation status of West Berlin."

Khrushchev attacked the United States for failing to reach an agreement on disarmament and a halt to nuclear testing.

"Therefore we have to produce bombs," he said. "This is a waste of energy because people cannot eat bombs."

He said the armament race was responsible for the recent increase of meat prices in the Soviet Union.

HEAR BOTH SIDES

By T. H. Tarkenton, preacher, Church of Christ, 2006 West Highway 59, P.O. Box 1382

People do not agree in religion because they have not fairly investigated both sides of the doctrines on which there is division. Paul said, "Prove all things; hold fast that which is good" (1 Thess. 5:21).

Any side of a question looks good if it is not challenged. And it is easy for anyone to defend his doctrine if he does not have an opponent.

There is division today over the plan of salvation; and no subject could be more important. Hear both sides of the question on the one occasion by attending the four-night debate which begins tonight, 7:45, at the City Auditorium.

New Phone Directories Due In July

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. today announced that the cover of the 1962 Big Spring telephone directory features a Webb Air Force Base dedication.

The cover, drawn by Karl Hoeffle, was based on photographic coverage provided by the Webb AFB photographic laboratory and shows two T-38 Talons flying past the Webb control tower.

Photographs of various flying activities at Webb were submitted in February for consideration and the artist made his selection from them.

The telephone directory will be issued to subscribers during the first week in July, according to Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Alexander said approximately 13,000 directories would be issued this year.

Royal Decree Re-Worded, Laos Coalition Advances

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, premier-designate of Laos, reportedly won agreement to his latest demands today and the machinery was once again set in motion to install his coalition regime.

Informed sources said King Savang Vatthana and right-wing leader Gen. Phoumi Nosavan agreed to Souvanna's demands for modification of a phrase in the royal decree authorizing the coalition regime.

Souvanna threatened a walkout because the original decree mentioned that the National Assembly had approved the coalition agreement signed last week. Neither Souvanna nor his half-brother and ally, pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong, recognize the conservative-dominated National Assembly.

Souphanouvong, on a visit to Communist North Viet Nam, echoed Souvanna's objections, calling the National Assembly "an instrument of American imperialism."

Souvanna's objections forced the postponement of the installation ceremonies and raised fears that the coalition, two years in the making, was doomed even before it took office.

Informants said, however, that Souvanna won his way in meetings today with King Savang and Phoumi, a deputy premier in the new government along with Souphanouvong. Phoumi reportedly drafted the original installation decree.

Informants said the decree was revised to say that the National Assembly has delegated full powers to the king to decree the formation of the coalition.

Man Knifed In NS Melee

Thirty-five stitches were required to close three cuts on the neck of Ramon Veliz, 709 N. Scurry, following a melee in front of Sam's Bar, 307 NW 4th, Monday night. He was taken to Howard County Hospital Foundation about 11:30 p.m. where he was treated and released.

Detectives Aubrey Hurley and Jack Jones were questioning three boys in connection with the fracas Tuesday morning but no charges had been filed at noon.

They were hunting another man for questioning.

When an argument started between five men and a woman in the bar the owner ordered them outside where the cutting occurred.

Two thefts were being investigated by police Tuesday morning. An air conditioner was reported taken from a house trailer at the D&C Trailer Sales, US 80 west.

Fourteen sets of drapes were reported stolen from a house under construction at 2607 Rebecca. Cortese & Milch Construction Co., builders, said the house was not locked and that the drapes, valued at $360, were taken between Friday and Monday.

Grand Jury Panel Picked

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, will qualify a grand jury for the new court term next Monday and the body will immediately begin investigation of approximately 20 felony cases which have accumulated since the last grand jury session.

Dist. Atty. Gil Jones said that it would take about two days for the grand jury to complete its investigation of the cases he plans to present to it.

A special jury commission Monday drew 20 names for grand jury duty. Twelve of these will be selected when Judge Caton convenes the court at 10 a.m. Monday.

The panel comprises: Jack Orr, Coahoma; Morris Patterson, Big Spring; Ralph W. Gossett, Big Spring; J. D. Gilmore, Forsan; Lloyd Robinson, Ackerly Rt.; F. D. ## Firemen Answer Three Fire Calls

Two grass fires and a false alarm took firemen out Monday night. No damage was reported.

The false alarm to Northwest Tenth and North Main was turned in at 8:40 a.m. Tuesday. A grass fire about half way between Luther and Vincent was reported at 8:50 a.m. Tuesday and a grass fire on East Twenty-fifth Street was reported at 5:25 p.m. Monday. Causes of the two grass fires were not known.

650 employees. Wayne Johnston, president of the line, said it would lay off enough workers to make up the $3.8 million annual cost of the wage increases.

Several railroads said they plan to begin furloughing workers. Others said they will study the effect of the wage hike before deciding whether to make work force cutbacks.

The one-year agreement which was reached June 5 followed recommendations of an emergency board appointed by President Kennedy. James E. Wolfe, spokesman for the nation's railroads, estimated the settlement would cost the lines $105 million a year.

The Rock Island Line reported it has laid off 300 workers since May to offset an estimated $2.4 million payroll raise. President H. Ellis Johnson said he expected

Re-Motivation Class Being Held At State Hospital

The third class in re-motivation is being conducted at the Big Spring State Hospital this week. Attending are 12 employees of the hospital, three volunteer workers and three employees from the local Veterans Administration Hospital.

Purpose of the program is to train employees who work with patients in ways to establish communication with them. Since the first class was conducted, about 200 patients who were previously withdrawn, have been assisted.

The first course was held in October, 1961. Four employees went to Rusk State Hospital to receive training. Among the four was Mrs. Lorna Baum, who has taught the course held locally.

Sessions for the current class began Monday. Others will be held Wednesday, Friday and Monday to complete the 30-hour course. At present training is being restricted to personnel who work in nursing service, but will eventually be extended to every person who deals with patients.

Northern Pacific reports 54 non-operating employees have been furloughed and further cuts are expected.

The Chicago & North Western said no layoffs have been started yet, but a plan is under discussion. A company official said the wage settlement will cost the firm $2 million or more annually.

The Burlington Road reported the layoff problem is being discussed and the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad said studies were being planned.

A Santa Fe spokesman said, "Higher costs of labor and a slump in carloading may cause some work force adjustments."

In St. Louis, Missouri Pacific announced it has begun laying off workers to offset a $3.3 million addition to its payroll. The St. Louis-San Francisco Railway announced it also is laying off non-operating employees.

Mother Held In Beating Death Of Child

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP)—Dana Henderson died Monday night, 10 days shy of her fourth birthday. Sheriff Emmitt said Billie Joe Moore, her 27-year-old mother, signed a statement in which she said she had repeatedly hit Dana with the buckle end of a belt after the girl misbehaved.

"I am going to make a lady of her," the sheriff quoted Mrs. Moore as saying.

Mrs. Moore was arrested a few hours before Dana's death on a warrant charging mistreatment of a child. She was released on $2,500 bond.

Prosecuting attorney Bob Fritz said he had prepared another warrant charging second-degree murder.

Dana's mother and stepfather, Marion Moore, 26, a construction worker from Franklinton, N.C., brought her unconscious to Bothwell Hospital early Sunday.

Doctors reported Dana had a brain hemorrhage, a perforated intestine, a deep laceration in the small of the back, and a mass of severe bruises from head to toe. The brain damage involved nerves which control breathing.

The Moores have a 10-month-old daughter and Mrs. Moore is expecting another child. Mrs. Moore went into hysterics when Dana died.

Jury Quits; Marshall Verdict Still Suicide

FRANKLIN, Tex. (AP)—A suicide verdict still stands in the mystery shooting of Agriculture Department official Henry H. Marshall last year.

After a month-long probe in the reopened case, the Robertson County grand jury decided Monday night that evidence was "inconclusive to substantiate a different decision at this time."

The jury began the investigation after West Texas promoter Billie Sol Estes was indicted on fraud and theft charges. Marshall, 32, had been checking into cotton allotment dealings of Estes.

Dist. Judge John M. Barron, who joined Dist. Atty. Bryan Russ in convening the jurors, dismissed the group with praise for its work, remarking that the case "has resolved itself into a police action."

"If any evidence warranting an indictment comes up, the grand jury can come right back," Barron said.

Marshall was found dead June 3, 1961, at a lonely spot on his ranch near here. He had been shot five times with a bolt action .22 caliber rifle which lay nearby. The inquest verdict by a justice of the peace was suicide.

Judge Barron ordered the body exhumed with the consent of Mrs. Marshall, who has insisted her husband was not the type to take his life. A Houston pathologist, Dr. J. A. Jachimczyk, performed an autopsy.

The physician said he did not believe Marshall could have shot himself five times but there was a bare possibility of suicide. Dr. Jachimczyk found Marshall had inhaled a near-lethal amount of carbon monoxide gas and suffered a deep bruise on the forehead.

Marshall was state chief of production adjustments for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. He was one of the first officials to look into Estes' manipulations of cotton acreage allotments.

The Agriculture Department has since fined Estes $354,172, holding he obtained cotton allotments illegally.

Estes appeared before the grand jury last week. He refused to answer more than 100 questions on the ground of possible self-incrimination, Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson disclosed. Grand jurors questioned by his lawyer said they did not consider Estes a suspect in the death of Marshall.

Another development stemming from the Estes proceedings was the formal discharge Monday of W. P. Mattox as vice chairman of the Reeves County ASCS Committee. He had been suspended after being accused of accepting expenses from Estes for a trip to Washington.

Red Slain As 4 E. Germans Slip To Safety

BERLIN (AP)—A West Berlin student led four East Germans through a tunnel to safety in the West Monday night after escaping a hail of gunfire from Red border guards who accidentally killed one of their own men.

Two other students helped the refugees scramble through the 90-foot tunnel under the Red wall dividing Berlin moments before the East German border guards sprayed the underground escape route with machinegun fire and tear gas grenades.

The Communist action thwarted the flight of nine other East Germans, and at least five of them were taken into custody.

The West Berlin students had dug the tunnel from the American sector of West Berlin to a house on the Communist side. The students said the work took a month, and that they arranged to use the tunnel for the first time Monday to bring out 13 East Germans, mostly women and children.

ROUGH EITHER WAY

"We didn't know when we broke through whether the Vopos (East German police) would be waiting for us with tommy guns at the ready or bash in our skulls with their jackboots," one student said.

Two students waited at the western end of the tunnel to help haul the escapees through on a metal stretcher pulled by ropes. The third went 200 yards into Communist territory to guide the first group of escapees—two women, 26 and 22, and two boys, 11 and 5.

The guide said he was leading the group to the building when an East German guard challenged them. The student fumbled for his identification papers to distract attention from the women and children. They reached the building about the time Red guards in a nearby pillbox opened fire.

"The Vopo was hit and fell on the sidewalk," the guide said. "I ran for my life with bullets whizzing after me."

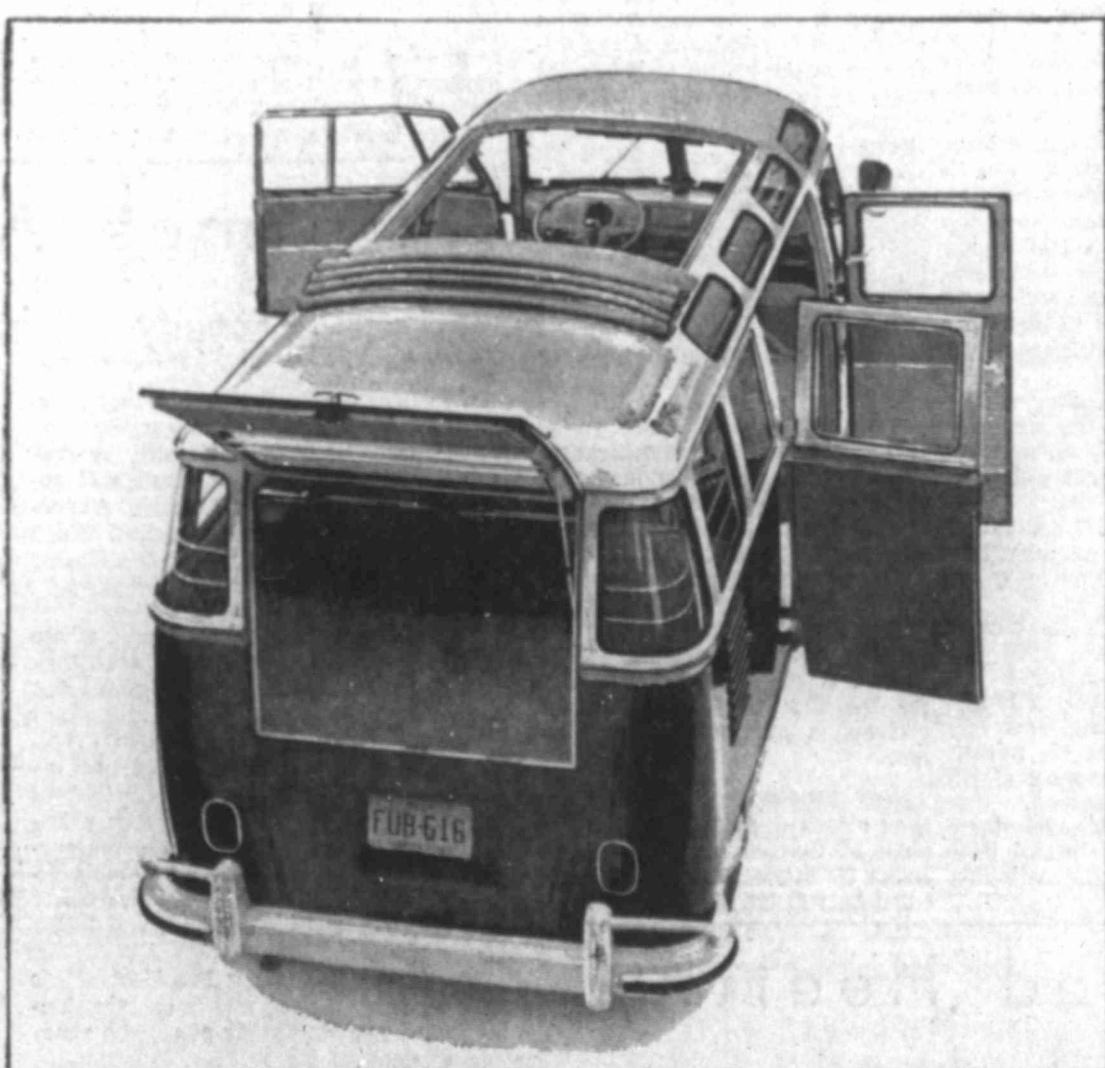

East German guards followed the fleeing group into the building, threw tear gas grenades into the tunnel and fired tommy guns. The shooting brought East German reinforcements rushing to the border.

U.S. PATROL

A three-man U.S. military police patrol turned up on the west side, but left after surveying the scene briefly.

East German guards cordoned off the building housing the tunnel entrance and presumably sealed up the escape route. The dead guard was hauled away in a truck.

The fate of the nine other, intended escapees was not certain, but West Berlin police said East German guards led four women and a child away from the scene. Scattered rifle and machine-gun fire was heard throughout the night from the Communist side of the wall.

What are you staring at? ...haven't you ever seen a station wagon before?

True this one isn't a new model—it's been made for years (but the 1962 model has 28 improvements). You see thousands of these Volkswagen Station Wagons on the road anywhere you drive.

But like the VW Sedan it is different from any other station wagon made.

The VW wagon is built for transportation. You will not find a wasted inch in it.

It has no nose because the engine is in the rear for better traction.

It is four feet shorter than the conventional wagon, which makes it more maneuverable and easier to park.

It is taller than the conventional wagon and shaped like a box. This lets it hold more than the biggest conventional wagon.

It loads from the side because this is the shortest distance to the carrying area.

Its driving seat is raised. This gives enormous visibility on hills and curves.

This model has a sliding sun roof and 23 windows to look out.

And you can order a Volkswagen Station Wagon with seats that include a center aisle. It lets you walk straight back to the kids from the center seat. This is just wonderful when you're traveling.

We don't know a thing Volkswagen has left out for traveling comfort.

Volkswagen has thought of everything: Economical price, operation and maintenance. Adequate capacity for people and stuff. Ease of handling on the road and parking.

Vacationing in a Volkswagen Station Wagon is fun—and such economical fun. Let us prove it. If you'll come in for a demonstration ride we'll give you

Once Shy Girl Now Star Dancer

ROME (AP)—Nancy Kovack says she was afraid to dance until she was more complicated than a fox trot as a college coed. But now, in her first starring role in a movie, she is proving to be a prize pupil learning to dance the way a Roman choreographer thinks the ancient Greeks danced.

"Back at the University of Michigan," Nancy says, "I never accepted a date for a dance or a prom unless I was asked by a close friend who knew I would dance nothing but the slow ones." Things have changed.

The 25-year-old brunette actress has her first starring role in "Jason and the Golden Fleece," being filmed in Rome and she is determined to make a success of it.

Cotton Is Versatile In Home Decorating

How to put new life into old rooms is the problem for the homemaker who completes her spring cleaning only to find the old decor boring.

Cotton can help solve her problem: brightly printed muslin sheets for the bedroom; a colorful kitchen curtain; new upholstery for that favorite chair; a canopy for the bed; new draperies; a slip cover for the couch; a new rug.

achievement chart for the year. She pointed out that all the chapter's goals will be completed by the end of the chapter year, Oct. 1.

A visitor, Mrs. Doris Carr, president-elect of the Scenic Chapter, ABWA, invited all members to attend their June 29 meeting at Coker's Restaurant at 7 p.m.

At that time they will have as guest speaker, Mrs. E. Whitaker, vice president of Southwest ABWA. Members were also invited to attend a luncheon of the Scenic Chapter at the Sands Restaurant on June 29 at 12 noon.

This luncheon will be a "get acquainted" affair in honor of Mrs. Whitaker. It was announced that a new member, Mrs. Noble Welch, will be installed to membership at the next meeting. Eighteen members and two visitors attended.

A pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by one of the patients after which nominating officers gave their report. They noted that officers will be installed at the next session.

The theme for the evening was poetry. Some of the selections presented were "The House by the Side of the Road" by Sam Foss and "If" by Rudyard Kipling. Some of the patients read poems and song lyrics which they have written.

Tall Talkers presented poems to the group. After refreshments were served to the 15 present, one of the patients talked on sports.

Topic evaluation was done by Mrs. Ward.

Nightcaps Are Back In Style

Nightcaps are back for the first time in more than a century, and women are wearing them everywhere.

The caps, which come in a variety of styles ranging from sturdy gingham to dainty nylon lace numbers, have been difficult for the nation's department stores to keep in stock during the past six months.

Now the menswear manufacturers have entered into the fashion spirit with nightcaps like those great-grandfather used to wear.

But women never did have a corner on the nightcap market. From the 14th to the mid-19th century, nightcaps were standard for women, men and children.

They were worn indoors as well as in bed, mostly to give wig-wearers a bit of relaxation.

Men's nightcaps in the 19th century were called jelly bags, because of their shape. They were usually fashioned of knitted silk with a tassel on the top.

Color Combinations Give New Look

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Tall Paula Prentiss Highlights Her Height

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Paula Prentiss was getting the star treatment on the set at MGM, where she recently filmed "The Horizontal Lieutenant," and I thought that here is a girl who has come up fast despite her five-foot-nine inches. As we walked to the commissary, I mentioned this to Paula.

"During my seventh and eighth grades I was miserable because I was the tallest person in my class. Most of the boys were just a little taller than my waist. I remember trying to dance with my knees bent until my best friend told me I looked ridiculous. I recently read in a newspaper of a girl who had gone to a plastic surgeon to have several inches cut from her thighs. Think of her anguish to go through an ordeal like that!"

Paula ordered a substantial lunch and said, "A tall girl can enjoy a larger appetite and many other compensations. I suffered with my height until a very wise person gave me a scolding. 'Count your blessings and be grateful for them,' she told me. 'You are making your height the most important thing in your life. What really counts is the impact of your personality, how much people admire you and enjoy your company.'"

"This was wonderful advice for me. I developed a sense of humor. Instead of being miserable on a date because I was taller than the boy, I made jokes like saying, 'When I go places, no one can miss me!'"

"I was fortunate that my parents had brought me up with a feeling that making decisions and facing problems was my responsibility. My father was a teacher and always said that the true goal of life was to be happy, and this is impossible when you compromise with what you know is right."

"It has paid off," I told Paula. "Now you have a contract with a major studio and a husband who is taller than you."

"He's six-foot-two so I can even wear high heels," she beamed. I wanted to know what other problems she had overcome.

"My skin breaks out," Paula confessed. "It is very disturbing to have bumps on my face, and it is not always easy to trace the cause. It really is like solving a mystery. You have a few clues and that is all. Even a doctor is not sure. He tries several remedies in hopes that one of them will work. We discovered that there were two causes of my skin breaking out. One was a result of careless eating habits, and the other a nervous reaction. I try not to get upset over things, but when I do, and I have a 'hickey,' I use a medicated make-up and a medicated soap with a sulphur base."

"I am very disciplined about removing my make-up," Paula revealed. "I like to clean my face with an oil that is water soluble and can be removed with warm water. When you put it on your face and splash with warm water, it foams a little and you have a clean feeling with no drying reaction."

We talked about make-up and Paula said that most people felt that the more they used the more flattering it would be.

"But actually each face is a challenge. You can't follow a style without analyzing what it will do for you. I love all the colorful eye shadows that are being shown today, but my eyes are deep set, and I have to give them a special treatment by using a light shade on my lids to bring them out."

The hour had flown and it was time for Paula to return to the set.

"I have a big scene to do after lunch," Paula confided, "and I can feel myself tensing at the thought of it. My biggest fault is trying too hard. I have to keep telling myself, 'Easy does it.'"

"But I have discovered that it is physically impossible to relax and worry at the same time, so I have a big anti-worry program going."

"I get my body calmed down with deep breathing exercises, and my mind calmed by saying a poem. I like to recite a Shakespeare sonnet. I have to give it my full attention, and this takes my thoughts away from my problem. It may sound corny," Paula laughed, "but it works. You can't think of two things at a time, and by the time I have finished my sonnet, my tenseness has disappeared."

Tall or small, you'll find many suggestions in Leaflet M-31, "Fashion Dos and Don'ts." For your copy, send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

Proud Of Height

Lovely Paula Prentiss, tall star of "The Horizontal Lieutenant," recalls days when she stooped to try to be the same height as her dance partner. Following the advice of a friend, she realized that her height was a real asset to her looks and she resolved to make it a boon to her personality by joking about it.

Wilson Thinks Marshall Told To Okay Estes Deals

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said today he believes an official in the U.S. Department of Agriculture ordered Herfy Marshall to approve illegal cotton allotment transfers for Billie Sol Estes.

Marshall died a year ago and a Robertson County grand jury at Franklin has been probing the death to determine if it was suicide or murder. It ended its investigation Monday with no decision.

Wilson repeated that he believes Marshall's actions in the cotton allotment transfers were favorable to Estes, not unfavorable as many believed.

He did say, however, that the man was no longer in the department. He indicated the alleged instructions could have "come through the department" from an outside source.

Canadian Conservatives Suffer Major Setback

TORONTO (AP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's Conservatives emerged today from Canada's national election still the biggest party in the House of Commons but without a majority after a stunning setback. Diefenbaker apparently will try to form a minority government, as he did in 1957. But as he did then, he is expected to call a new election within a year after a period of routine administration in which no controversial legislation can be adopted. "We are still the government of Canada," the 67-year-old Conservative leader told supporters in Prince Albert, Sask., his home town. However, his party's holding had been slashed from a record 203 seats in the 265-member House of Commons. With three seats still undecided, the Conservatives held 117 and

Storms Whip Broad Area

By The Associated Press—Nasty June thunderstorms punished areas from the Panhandle to North Texas with flood-causing deluges and winds up to 100 miles per hour Monday. The fiercest winds battered Quannah and Childress, surging on to smash at Vernon and Wichita Falls, where several trailer houses were overturned near Sheppard Air Force Base. Five persons were injured as a result of the raging winds, and a gas explosion in a storm cellar hurt four others. Dust blew in blinding clouds before torrential rain and high winds raked the South Plains. Nearly 3 inches of rain fell in an hour at Amarillo and there were flash flood threats at several points in the Panhandle. Tornado funnels spun across the sky near Lubbock and Vernon without dipping to earth. They appeared while a tornado alert was up for a 120-mile wide stretch of country between the Amarillo area and Oklahoma City. Gradually dwindling into thunderstorms, the storms swept farther east and south during the night, lying along a line linking Texarkana, the Waco area and the Lower Pecos Valley by early morning. Much of West and North Central Texas was under a severe thunderstorm forecast Monday night. As fresh rains drenched the Amarillo vicinity Monday afternoon, water stood nearly a foot deep on parts of Highway 60 east of the city where an estimated 6 inches fell the night before. Churned by gusts hitting 65 m.p.h., the dust reduced visibility to zero at Lubbock, tying traffic in knots. Wind gauges recorded 97 m.p.h. as high as big as baseballs pounded Childress, causing widespread damage to roofs and shattering scores of windows. Boiling on down the Red River Valley, the storm generated winds up to 100 m.p.h. at Quannah. At Medicine Mound, 9 miles southeast of Quannah, accumulated gas blew up as four persons sought shelter in a storm cellar and one struck a match. Vernon, next in the wild weather's path, saw garages knocked over, roofs broken and power lines downed as 2 1/2 inches of rain poured down. Light hail fell. A girl was cut by flying glass at her home in Vernon. Injured as the trailers upset at Wichita Falls were four women and children. Electric power failed over about half the city for more than an hour. Early Monday blinding rain drenched Beaumont on the coast and hard showers fell around Corpus Christi and Kingsville. The Weather Bureau predicted occasional thunderstorms in North east and Northwest Texas, and thundershowers in other sections.

Son Of FDR Weds Socialite

DARLEN, Conn. (AP)—A grandson of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt was married Monday to a Connecticut socialite in a brief ceremony at St. Luke's Episcopal Church. The bridegroom was Franklin D. Roosevelt III, a Navy ensign on leave from assignment in the Far East, who was wed to Miss Grace Rumsey Goodyear of New Canaan, a sophomore at Smith College. Eleanor Roosevelt, the bridegroom's grandmother, and Norman Thomas, former Socialist party candidate for president, were among the 275 guests. Roosevelt was graduated from Yale University last year. He is the son of former U.S. Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., D-N.Y., who now lives in Washington, D.C., and Mrs. Benjamin Streeter Warren Jr. of Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich., and Fishers Island, N.Y. The bride, who attended the Sorbonne in Paris prior to Smith, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Goodyear of New Canaan. Christopher duPont Roosevelt, the bridegroom's brother, was best man.

Moderate Liberal Wins GOP Vote

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—A self-tagged moderate liberal congressman has won Republican renomination in Maine over a staunch conservative. Rep. Stanley R. Tupper whipped Rep. Peter A. Garland in the 1st District which is being expanded to take in part of Tupper's present 2nd District in a reapportionment by which the state loses one of three House seats in January. Tupper's margin was roughly 5 to 3 in Monday's biennial primaries. He will compete in November against former State Rep. Thomas L. Maynard who beat school principal Clyde Bartlett 7 to 5 for the Democratic nomination. In the only other major contest Maynard C. Dolloff won the Democratic nomination for governor with a razor-edge decision over National Committeeman Richard J. Dubord. Dubord wouldn't concede, on the basis of unofficial returns, saying he wants to see the official tabulation—available in about two weeks—before making any statement. Dolloff, former state grange master, will contest re-election of

Radio Man Dies

MIDLAND (AP)—Jack Cecil, owner of Radio Station KJBC, died at a doctor's office Monday. He was the victim of an apparent heart attack. SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Four hundred persons are expected at the annual meeting of the Justices of the Peace and Constables Association of Texas which starts Wednesday.

Justice Meet

The socialistic New Democratic party for the moment could say nothing. Its leader, T. C. Douglas, had lost his bid for a Commons seat from Regina and the party was leaderless. Douglas refused to indicate whether Diefenbaker will get New Democratic support. The situation in Parliament will be similar to that in 1957 when Diefenbaker took over as head of a minority government after ending 22 years of Liberal rule. The Conservatives carried on for nine months, then won a landslide victory in a new election. There was no clear reason for the huge Conservative losses except perhaps a general lack of confidence. Liberal leader Lester B. Pearson repeatedly accused the government of indecisiveness and charged that it had undermined confidence at home and Canada's prestige abroad. There also was considerable grumbling about the unemployment and the government's devaluation of the Canadian dollar. The "Diefendollar," as it is sometimes called, is now valued at 92.5 U.S. cents.

DEAR ABBY Time To Clean House!

DEAR ABBY: My husband is kind and considerate, but in the 20 years we have been married he has never been able to part with a single piece of clothing. He built a locker in the basement of our home and it is stuffed from one end to the other with out-dated suits, shoes, shirts and underwear. Now he wants to build another locker, although there is scarcely room to turn around down there. Am I wrong in expecting him to give away some of these clothes? He tells me they belong to him and to mind my own business. HOARDER'S WIFE DEAR WIFE: You say your husband is "kind and considerate." His behavior indicates otherwise. To keep clothing stored away for years, when others could make good use of it, is selfish. Explain this to your husband.

DEAR ABBY: What would you say to a friend who made you a cake for your birthday, knowing you had diabetes and cannot eat anything made with sugar? Don't say she probably doesn't know it as she goes with me when I visit my doctor. WONDERING DEAR WONDERING: Just say "thank you" and appreciate her thoughtfulness. You can have your cake without eating it, too.

DEAR ABBY: How should I sign my name? I have been a widow for five years. Am I still Mrs. Herbert L. Starr? Or am I now Mrs. Amelia Jones Starr? BEWILDERED DEAR BEWILDERED: Socially you may use either Mrs. Herbert L. Starr, or Mrs. Amelia Jones Starr. But legally, you are Mrs. Amelia Jones Starr. DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who has money for everything else, but when it comes to a telephone she uses mine. I don't mind letting her use my phone, or even calling her when someone rings her up here, but get this: Our only telephone is in the kitchen, and whenever this neighbor uses it she

Big Debate Getting Started: Is Balanced Budget Needed?

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Balancing a budget is a neat trick if you can do it—as many a family man knows.

On a national scale the attempt has, more often than not, frustrated presidents for decades.

And now the balancing trick is complicated still more by a big debate just starting.

Is balancing the federal budget really the virtue it's cracked up to be? Should we abandon the type of budget we've used for decades in favor of one of several other devices in vogue in Washington?

Or maybe, should we adopt the kind of deficit-ignoring bookkeeping they've used in Europe with seemingly marked success since the war?

The debate should be bitter. It will challenge some strongly held beliefs. President Kennedy has termed some of these conceptions myths.

You probably will choose sides, depending on whether you believe a Treasury deficit is a sin to be paid for in rising prices later on, or that in the present state of world and domestic affairs a deficit can be an economic tool to encourage growth and make more jobs and greater prosperity.

You may find yourself on the side of those who think taxes should be cut and government spending, too. But you may line up with those who see a continually rising federal debt as a small problem in an economy that is growing still faster.

Or you may join those who preach that our present concept of a federal budget is all wrong.

They contend it gives a false picture of actual government collections and spending, and especially of the effect of these on the national economy—that is, on business activity, profits, jobs, and consumer spending.

The federal budget which a president is required to submit in January, and which the Congress spends the following six months changing or adopting, is called the administrative budget. It dates back only to 1921. In that year Congress set up the Budget Bureau and ordained the formal, or administrative budget. The object was to keep a tighter fiscal control over the ordinary programs of government.

But since then a lot of other programs have been set up, and they aren't included in the administrative budget. In the 1930s the Social Security trust funds were started. The big highway trust fund also isn't included, nor veterans life insurance income and outgo, unemployment compensation, or railroad retirement funds.

About one-fifth of Uncle Sam's fiscal activity isn't recorded in the administrative budget at all. And yet this fifth plays a big part in shaping the national economy.

Take Social Security—not included in the administrative budget—as an example. If you are under 65 and working, what is withheld from your paycheck is money you can't spend—and that means some deprivation to you, but a lot more in the total of all deductions, in lost sales for the merchants and purveyors of various services.

If you are over 65 and drawing Social Security payments, the checks mean quite a bit to you. The total of these checks means a lot to all the makers of goods and to the service industries where the money comes to rest.

The economy, therefore, is directly affected by whether the sums the government is taking out in the form of withholding exceeds or falls short of the sums it is putting into the economy in the form of benefit payments.

And yet this deficit or surplus isn't shown in the administrative budget which a president submits and Congress passes upon. Other funds exempted from this budget also can, and do, affect the real fiscal deficit or surplus.

President Kennedy also pointed out in his recent speech at Yale that the administrative budget doesn't tell a loan from a straight expenditure and cannot distinguish between operating expenditures and long term investments.

Brotherhood Award To Clay

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Conference of Christians and Jews has presented its brotherhood award to Gen. Lucius D. Clay "for distinguished service in the field of human relations."

Clay, who recently served as President Kennedy's personal representative in Berlin, was honored Monday night at a $100-a-plate dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was among the industrial, professional and civic leaders attending the dinner. In 1945, Clay served under Eisenhower, then supreme Allied commander in Europe, as deputy military governor of the U.S. zone in Germany.

Town Tunes Up For Fiddlers Meet

HALE CENTER (AP)—This lusty town of 2,300 in the center of Hale County on the Texas High Plains is tuning up for its annual All-American County Fiddlers Contest held each July 4 in connection with the homecoming celebration.

Promoters of the event are seeking to broaden the scope of the contest to reach all America. Held annually for the past eight years except for one year, the contest draws many of the country's fiddlers including several former world champions.

Compared to the famous world champions fiddlers contest at Crockett, Tex., the All-American Country Fiddlers contest at Hale Center is a newcomer, but during the past eight years it has gained widespread recognition because of the calibre of competition and the impressive cash prizes it offers.

It now stands as one of the outstanding events of its kind in the country and its boosters are aiming for still higher honors this year.

Many top hands already have lined up for this year's contest and many more are expected to join. Nearly $600 in cash prizes will be offered again this year. The winner will be awarded a trophy.

The contest features two classes—an old fiddlers division and open division for all fiddlers.

The four winners in each of the two divisions will be awarded cash prizes of $100, $75, $50 and $25. Musical tickets will be presented to all fiddlers participating in the contest.

Offered as an added attraction this year is a division for boys. Several teenage boys participated in the open division each year but in the past they had to compete against the top fiddlers.

The new division for boys was created to encourage young fiddlers to participate in the contest while preparing to become future champions. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be offered in this division.

The All-American fiddlers contest is dedicated to the preservation and promotion of old-fashioned country fiddle music, once a part of the tradition of rural life that has almost disappeared from the scene in America. Efforts at Hale Center, Crockett, Athens, Lockney and Truth or Consequences, N.M., is beginning to revive interest and enthusiasm in country fiddle music. Many towns are sponsoring contests similar to the ones held at Hale Center and Crockett.

Last year Hale Center played host to approximately 10,000 visitors during the July 4 celebration.

Thailand Unhappy Over Decision Favoring Cambodia

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Thailand's Foreign Ministry announced today that its delegations to the 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos and the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Council in Bangkok have been instructed "not to attend future meetings until further notice."

A Foreign Ministry spokesman declined to elaborate on the order except to say that the reason is obvious.

It was believed the order resulted from the World Court ruling Friday giving Cambodia sovereignty over the disputed border temple of Phra Viharn which the Thais now hold.

Feeling is running extremely high here against the verdict, and the Thais have threatened to use force against any Cambodian attempt to occupy the border territory.

The United States, Britain and France all are members of the World Court, SEATO and the Laotian conference, and the representatives on the court from all three nations voted against Thailand's case. Cambodia is also a member of the Laotian conference.

How much longer will your water heater last?

Replace it now with a modern flameless ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

If your present water heater is operating on "borrowed time", why risk the inconvenience and possible added expense of a "breakdown"? Install a modern, quick recovery, electric water heater now and enjoy all these advantages that only flameless electric water heating can give you:

FAST. New quick recovery electric water heaters with immersed heating elements give you hotter water faster and it stays hot longer. All the heat goes into the water—none is wasted up a flue. And the tank is completely insulated—even on the bottom—to keep heat inside where it belongs.

SAFE. No flames to blow out accidentally. No fuel to leak. No pilot light or flue to worry about. An electric water heater gives you peace of mind.

CLEAN. No by-products of combustion to soil walls or ceiling. No unpleasant fumes. No flue to accumulate soot. An electric water heater provides the cleanest method known for heating water.

LONG LIFE. The tank bottom is not subjected to the corrosive action of flames. There are no valves to stick, no burner to adjust. An electric water heater assures you many years of trouble-free service.

INSTALLS ANYWHERE. Because an electric water heater needs no flue, it can be installed anywhere in the house, close to the point of greatest use. This saves long heat-wasting pipe runs.

Invitational Meet Begins Thursday

The Big Spring Invitational Softball tournament, first of its kind undertaken here in several years, will get under way at the City Park Thursday night and continue through Saturday evening.

Four teams are entered and they perhaps are the best amateur talent in this area. Two defeats will be required to eliminate a team.

One game is on tap Thursday night. That will pit Anderson Music against E. C. Smith Construction, both of Big Spring. The contest starts at 8 o'clock.

On Friday at 7 p.m., Charley's Package Store of Big Spring clashes with Matlock Furniture of Midland.

A losers' bracket game begins at 9 p.m. and the winners' bracket contest at 11 a.m.

Action will be resumed at 7 p.m. Saturday. Another game starts at 9 o'clock. If a third game is needed, it will get underway at 11 p.m. or thereabouts.

A trophy will be awarded to the first place team only.

Boyce Hale will serve as director of the meet and will double as umpire-in-chief.

The tournament is not to be confused with the ASA District 6 tournament, which will be staged here next month, also under the direction of Hale.

All Slow-Pitch Softball league games have been called off Friday, due to the tournament. They will be made up at a later date.

SPORTS dialogue:
BULLDOG TURNER, new coach of the New York Titans:
"The secret of a winning football team is a great quarterback. Not a good one — a great one. Most teams in the NFL have had only one great quarterback in their entire history. Some of the clubs haven't even had one."

HERB SCORE, the former baseball pitching great, now in the minor leagues:
"I'd rather earn my living in baseball than in anything else. I've always felt I've taken a lot more out of baseball than I've put in... not so much monetarily as friends. I like to pitch... I wouldn't like to give up. I've no regrets. I've been lucky. I like to think the game has given me a pretty good sense of values."

BILL CASPER, the pro golfer, on his methods of practice:
"If I don't hit the ball good now, a couple of hours on the practice tee aren't going to help. I do believe in a warmup, but just a warmup. It does no good to tamper with your swing on the eve of a tournament."

JACK NICKLAUS, one of the newest additions to the pro links tour in warming up for the National Open (and before he won it):
"I would swap most of the cash I've won for just one tournament. I want to win a tournament in the worst way. I'd trade the $10,000 I got for second place in that New Jersey tournament for a $2,800 win somewhere else on the tour. You know how long anybody remembers who finished second? About 30 minutes... I wouldn't rate Sam Snead with Ben Hogan. Snead was never a great driver. He was a poor driver at times. This is why he never won the National Open."

HANK FOLDBERG, Texas A & M football coach:
"I don't know how many games the Aggies will win or lose next fall. If I did, I'd be in another racket."

KEN VENTURI, pro linkster:
"I finished one stroke behind in the 1956 Masters after leading by eight with 18 holes to go. If I'd won that year, I might never have turned pro. I might have gone on to become the greatest amateur since Bobby Jones."

DONN MOOMAW, former UCLA All-American griddler, on why he became a minister-at-large for a Presbyterian church:
"I came from a normal Christian home. I went to church along with my family. But when I got to college, it was sophisticated and to take religion too seriously. For a couple of years there, I didn't go to church. I didn't think I had time. When I was named All-American in 1951, it was the most wonderful thing ever to happen to me. But I started thinking about it. I started seeing the futility of being at the top, only to find the top vacant. There was no deep happiness. I could see other kids on the campus who had depth and appreciation of life that I was unable to find in athletics. One Sunday, a businessman took me to church and they took me to his home and we had a long talk about religion. There was nothing radical about my conversion. I just wanted a fulfillment that I found in accepting Christ."

ROGERS HORNBY, baseball great:
"Guys like Bill Veck call this carnival stuff in baseball court. What's more colorful than playing in a World Series or beating somebody? You don't need midgets, sideshows or exploding scoreboards to draw fans. People don't drive to go to a ball game and hope to see a couple of monkeys chasing a jeep between innings. They'd go to some tent show where you can see hokey-kokey dancers on the side."

Wright Favorite In Women's Open

Mickey Wright, regarded by her touring pro companions as the Arnold Palmer of women's golf, has a chance to add even more prestige to her glittering record.

If Mary Kathryn Wright can win the coming U. S. Women's Open June 28-30 at the Dunes Golf and Beach Club in Myrtle Beach, S. C., it will be the second time within five years that the chubby-checked miss from La Jolla, Calif., has put together back-to-back triumphs.

Not even Mildred (Babe) Didrikson Zaharias, known as the greatest woman athlete of the first half century, could repeat in the Open. However, she did win three times within six tournaments.

Betsy Rawls, Mickey's persistent challenger, has taken four women's Opens but she, too, has never repeated.

Betsy, 34, from Spartanburg, S. C., might have made it two straight last year but on the last day Mickey came up with two fine rounds, a three-below par 69 and a 72, to force Miss Rawls into the runner-up spot, six strokes off her winning 293 over the 6,372-yard Baltusrol course in Springfield, N. J.

Mickey, 27, is hearing one of her goals, that of winning $100,000 in Ladies PGA tour money. She repeated in the Titleholders at Augusta this spring and is well on her way to matching the 10 tour victories she achieved in 1961 when she earned $22,236.

Mickey Wright was only 19 when she competed in her first Open at Peabody, Mass., in 1954. She was low amateur, finishing tied for fourth with Betsy Rawls, 17 shots back of Mrs. George Zaharias. But in seven subsequent Opens, Mickey was among the low 10 professionals five times.

The gal with the golf game to match her golden smile turned pro late in 1954 after winning George S. May's World and All-American Amateurs and finishing as runner-up to Barbara Romack, 4 and 2, in the Women's Amateur 36-hole final. Barbara has been chasing Mickey ever since.

Since 1953 when the U. S. Golf Association first conducted the Open for the fair sex, at Rochester, N. Y., Mickey has averaged more pocket money from this tournament than any other woman. She shows $6,150 for her seven trips to the starting line as a pro.

Louise Suggs, the only gal to finish in the top 10 each year since the USGA came into the picture, has earned $6,810 in nine Opens. Betsy Rawls is next with $6,625 while Patty Berg follows with $4,765.

Patty won the first event at Spokane, Wash., when the Women's PGA ran the Open. In the first LPGA Open, Miss Suggs scored at Landover, Md., beating the late Mrs. Zaharias by 14 shots. Louise Suggs still holds the record for the 72-hole tournament, a 294 scored in 1952 at Philadelphia's Bala Golf Club.

In Sand Trap
One of the favorites in the upcoming U.S. Women's Open at Myrtle Beach, S.C., is Betsy Rawls (above), shown blasting out of a sand trap. Betsy has won four Open titles.

Landry Greet Grid Rookies On July 13

DALLAS — Dallas Cowboys Head Coach Tom Landry has set July 13 as opening day for rookies in the 1962 training camp. In addition to rookies, veteran centers and quarterbacks will begin work the same day at the Cowboys new training location, Northern Michigan College, Marquette, Michigan. The remainder of the veteran contingent will start work on July 19.

The Cowboys plan to maintain their base at Northern Michigan throughout most of the pre-season schedule. The Dallas National Football League entry will leave the training site and return after games August 10 vs. Green Bay at Dallas, August 18 vs. Detroit at Cleveland, then break camp August 24 when they travel to Roanoke to meet Baltimore. The Cowboys will be in Dallas prior to playing the 49ers September 1 at Sacramento and the Vikings September 8 at Atlanta.

The Cowboys new training site is a beautiful state school located on the shores of Lake Superior. Cowboys General Manager Tex Schramm and Coach Landry, who inspected the school both expressed extreme satisfaction with the facilities.

This season will mark the Cowboys third in NFL play, and indications point to the Cowboys taking their place as a team to figure with in the Eastern Conference. Primed with a nucleus of veterans schooled in Landry's system and a fine crop of rookies, the Cowboys should make their presence felt when league play gets under way this fall.

There'll be a strong Cleveland Browns flavor when the Cowboys report to training camp. Four NFL veterans will be wearing Cowboys colors for the first time and all were obtained from the Browns — offensive backs Sam Baker and Preston Powell, offensive end Gern Nagler and offensive tackle Ed Nutting.

Latest rookies to be signed by the Cowboys are Mike Gaechter of Oregon and Dave Manders of Michigan State. Both signed as free agents.

Gaechter was a standout hurdler at Oregon and signed after his team lapped the field in the NCAA track and field meet last weekend. He will be tried as a defensive halfback. He is 6-0, 190 and lives in West Bancaster, California.

Manders (6-2 and 225) gained honorable mention All Big Ten as a center in both his sophomore and senior seasons and was last fall a native of Kingsford, Michigan, he will be tried at offensive guard by the Cowboys.

The Houston Colts have a home attendance of 527,333 for 34 dates while the New York Mets, the other new National League team, have drawn 384,457 in 23 appearances.

The 20 major league clubs have

Witness Will Take 'Fifth'
DALLAS (AP)—Mary Kelly has told investigators she knows nothing of the Southwest Conference basketball mess.

The Dallas Times Herald in a copyright story by Gary Cartwright, quoted the woman as saying that if she is forced to testify before the House Special Investigating Committee, she'll spend the time reciting the Fifth Amendment.

The brunette, whose name was mentioned frequently in the May 26 House hearings in Waco, went to David Witt's office Monday to answer her summons. Witt is counsel for the committee.

While three Department of Public Safety men questioned Miss Kelly, two DPS officers looked for Sig Dickson, the other witness the investigators have had a peculiarly tough time locating. They again failed to find him.

"I waited up for them until almost one o'clock," Dickson told the Times Herald. "This is starting to get ridiculous."

DPS subpoena servers have been looking for Dickson since before the May 26 hearings.

Holladay Hired By Cee City
COLORADO CITY — Allen Holladay, formerly of Lubbock High School, has been named first assistant coach at Colorado City High School.

He succeeds, Ken Kearns, who resigned at the end of the past school year to seek a head coaching job.

Holladay will handle much of the defensive coaching for the Wolves. Head coach at Colorado City is Sam Christie.

Phillips Opens With Anderson
In tonight's Big Spring Softball league games at the City Park, Phillips 66 opposes Anderson Music in the 7 p.m. contest while E. C. Smith Construction falls. A native of Kingsford, Michigan, he will be tried at offensive guard by the Cowboys.

Smith's is still undefeated in league competition.

Open Winner
Jack Nicklaus, rookie who turned pro only a year ago, holds his trophies after he beat Arnold Palmer in a playoff to win the National Open Golf championship at Oakmont, Pa. Nicklaus, from Tucson, Ariz., had a one-under par 70, while Palmer wound up with a 72. (AP Wirephoto)

Resigns

Pro-western Premier Song Yo-Chan of South Korea has sent his resignation to the ruling military junta. His 14-man cabinet agreed to quit with him to give the new premier a free hand in naming aides, but the junta accepted only two resignations. Song became premier last July.

New Residence Used As Stable

A brand new house, 3216 Hatch, was apparently used for a stable for a horse Sunday or Sunday night. Big Spring police investigating a call to the house for burglary and vandalism said all signs pointed to a horse.

Door pulls, magnetic latches, and door bumpers valued at $10 were taken. Damage to an asphalt tile floor and a broken sliding glass door, raised the damage to $160. The house is owned by Thompson Enterprises. The police report said droppings in the northeast bedroom indicated that someone had taken a horse into the house. Entry was gained through a broken glass door.

Chuck Wagon Gang Easily Handles Big Barbecue Crowd

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Texans put together a cook-out Monday night, the sight of which would make the collective mouths of the backyard barbecue set water like the Rio Grande.

The Chuck Wagon Gang from Odessa dished out 5,000 pounds of Texas beef to 10,000 or so persons. When the doors opened, the crowd filed through six chow lines as members of Junior Chambers of Commerce from other Texas cities helped the Chuck Wagon Gang dish out the food.

DeBolt explained the Chuck Wagon Gang consists of 250 professional and business leaders of Odessa, each paying his own way to barbecue sites over the nation. Each member buys his own western costume and donates his time. The Chuck Wagon Gang has traveled 500,000 miles in its barbecue jaunts. It hauls its cooking wares in a refrigerated van, a present-day counterpart to the earlier traveling cafe from which the group takes its name.

Shell announced his decision Monday night after a meeting with Nixon at the home of a friend. Shell, whose following represents the conservative wing of California Republicanism, told newsmen after the meeting with Nixon that Nixon had made no commitments to him. After the election, Shell, a wealthy oilman, had described the "minimum conditions" he said he felt Nixon had to meet to gain the backing of supporters.

Opponent Gives Nixon Support

LOS ANGELES (AP)—State Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell, who lost to Richard M. Nixon in the Republican gubernatorial primary, has endorsed the man who beat him.

ON THE SHELF

UHURU. By Robert Ruark. McGraw-Hill. $5.95.

In this massive volume, Ruark has written a fictional account of East African political and social ferment arising from the concept of "Uhuru"—roughly translated, "Freedom."

It is a pretty grim story, for it chronicles bloody conflict such as the world already has witnessed in the Congo and Algeria. One of the chief pictures a reader carries away from this book is a portrayal of a Stone Age culture in which a handful of educated, self-seeking, native politicians is seeking to gain control, as the frightened white farmers gradually give up their holdings in the face of murder and witchcraft.

The story's setting is Kenya, and the chief protagonist is a white hunter named Brian Dermott, whose Aunt Charlotte is a grand dame who runs one of the larger farms in the colony.

Dermott, having just sent his divorced wife Valerie back to England, goes on safari with two American clients, Paul Drake and his sister Kate. Meanwhile a political tension is building up over the execution of a white man for slaying a native—which wouldn't have happened in older days.

On safari, Dermott and Kate fall in love. But Kate is murdered by some bungling minions of one of the black political leaders. Dermott, sensing that the politician is both literally and symbolically responsible for the tragedy, shoots him in cold blood. The final irony is that the only way to save Dermott from hanging in these modern days is to get another black politician to defend him.

The whites in this book are skillfully depicted. Aunt Charlotte tries to get a land reform program going on her own acres, but as Dermott bluntly reminds her, it is too little and too late. Another farmer, Donald Bruce, flees with his family to the safety of Scotland, but returns alone at the end to fight murder with murder.

The blacks range all the way from the gunbearer who is faithful unto death to his white bwana and meensab, to the devious black politician—exemplified by Stephen Ndegwa, whose three wives run the gamut from primitive to high yellow.

The book is filled with local color, and saturated with the political talk of East Africa. It has a score of major characters, the lore of the safari and a brilliant exposition of current unrest in the bush country. But its 354 tightly packed pages make it too long, and much of the time it is slow-moving.

It is a novel that requires some effort from the reader to stick with it. But for those who persist, it builds into quite a panorama.

Miles A. Smith

Beaches Clear

GALVESTON (AP)—Swimmers can get to the beaches again in this island resort on the Gulf of Mexico. For more than a month seaweed has been floating ashore to pile up as high as five feet. Now it has stopped and work crews are clearing away the smelly piles of vegetation.

Fatal Collision

HOUSTON (AP)—William McQueen, 45, of Houston was killed in a head-on collision on U.S. 59 near Humble late Monday night. Three other persons were critically injured.

Banished Pogo Returns In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Pogo has returned to the English-language Asahi Evening News after being banished for nearly a month.

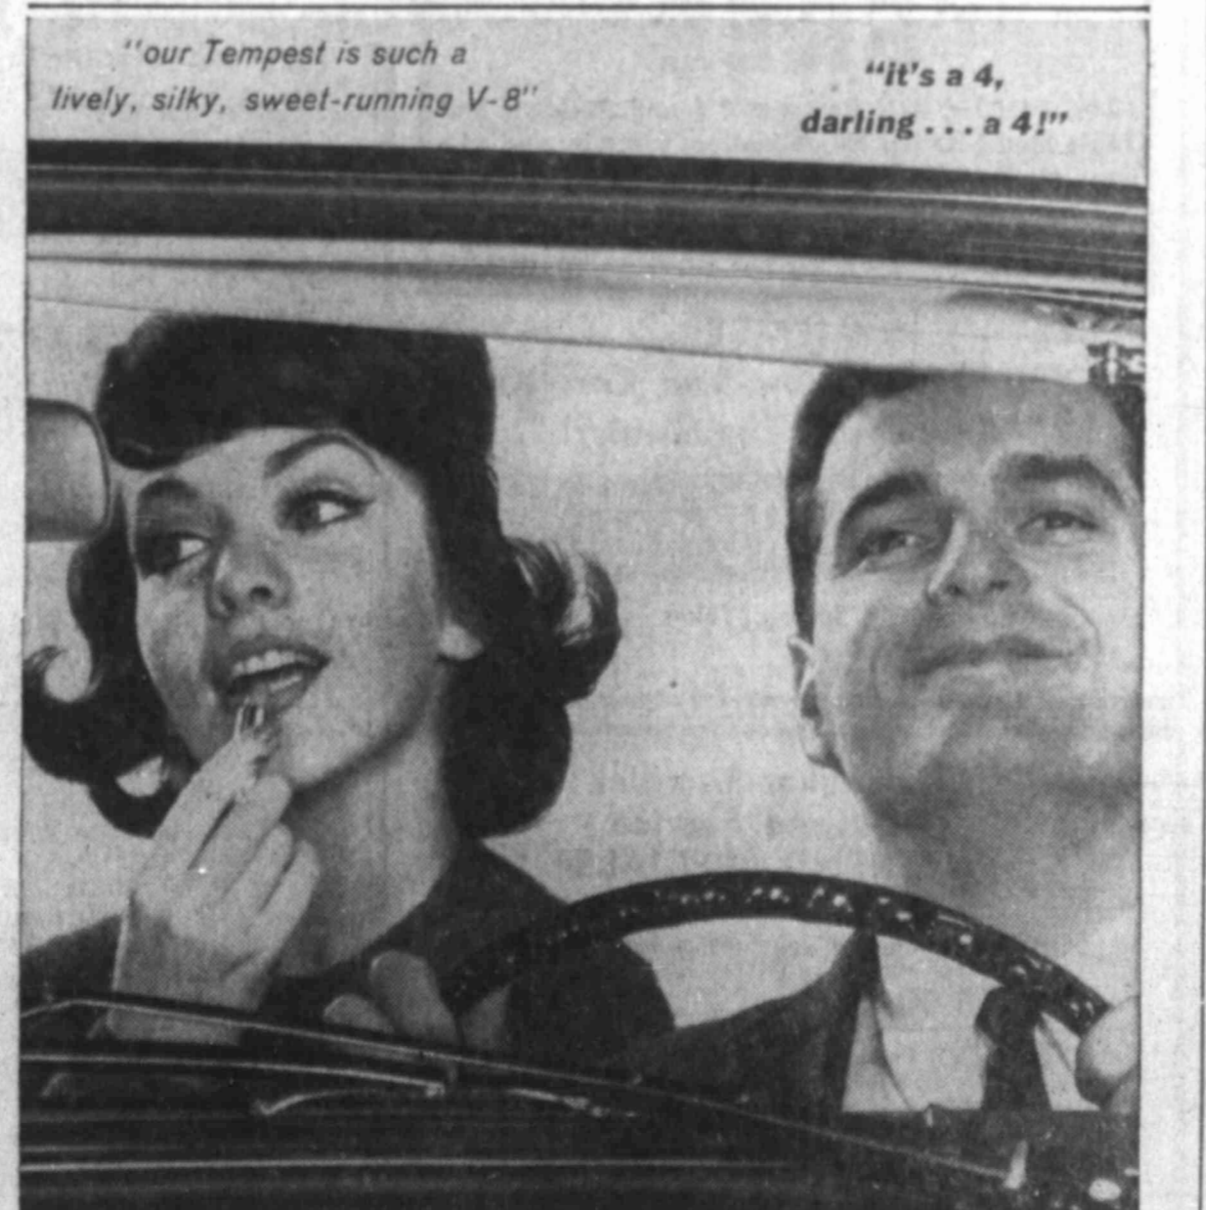

The paper pulled out Walt Kelly's cartoon strip May 21 after the Soviet Embassy complained a key figure, a pig, resembled Soviet Premier Khrushchev.
