Rising To Great Heights

College Park Shopping Center, 1704 East Fourth, which will open around Aug. 1 is sporting a new sign. Erectors are completing the 60-foot high pylon-type structure. A weather vane is on top of the two-section illuminated sign, a clock below, and three arrows at the bottom. The arrows will be of different colors and will flash.

Warm Welcome Set For Kennedys

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Rising expectancy gripped the Mexican capital today on the eve of President Kennedy's arrival for possibly the warmest welcome Mexico has ever given a visiting chief of state.

X15 Sets New Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—X15 pilot Joseph A. Walker, streaking upward to a maximum altitude of 120,000 feet, set a speed record during the climb—but he didn't mean to.

The space agency aviator took the 52-foot, stubby-winged rocket plane aloft Wednesday to experiment with some risky braking maneuvers. But en route to the maximum altitude, he reached a record 4,159 miles an hour—more than six times the speed of sound.

The old mark of 4,093 m.p.h. was set last Nov. 9 by Air Force Maj. Robert White, also in an X15.

Officials said they were uncertain why the craft, designed for a 4,000 m.p.h. top speed, did so well.

The flight was to test the angle to attack, a maneuver future space craft may use to slow their return into the earth's atmosphere. The plane loses altitude with its nose higher than its tail in a "pancake landing."

Lamesa, Tahoka Men Charter Bus For Start Of Dam

LAMESA (SC) — About a dozen Tahokans will join 24 Lamesans on a chartered bus trip Saturday to groundbreaking ceremonies at the site of the Canadian River dam near Sanford.

Sponsored by the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, efforts to secure at least 29 passengers originated here this week, with the minimum number making reservations by Wednesday.

O'Donnell was invited to participate, but did not secure any reservations.

banners and signs were going up along the parade route from the International Airport to Los Pinos, the Mexican White House. Work had been held up until the last minute because of the torrential rains falling each afternoon. Officials did not want them to be damaged or faded Friday.

300 BANDS

Three hundred bands, including many mariachi and marimba groups, were assigned places at intervals along the route.

An estimated one million persons will line the streets. Schools are closing, federal employees are being let out from work, and all unions are ordering members to turn out in force.

The Weather Bureau said it was almost certain that warm sunshine would greet President and Mrs. Kennedy when their jet touched down after a four-hour flight from Washington.

It is almost equally certain that showers will fall during the afternoon, as this is the rainy season. Police said they expect no anti-Yankee demonstrations. Steps were being taken to prevent any. Known Communists have been rounded up, students warned, and security measures are tight.

DEMONSTRATION

However, the Communists have called for a demonstration sometime Friday. A 24-hour visit Tuesday by Blas Roca, Cuba's top Communist, added to fears at least a minor disturbance may develop.

President Kennedy and his host, President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, will talk privately on three separate occasions, with a total of about 3½ hours set aside for the conversations.

No agenda has been set for their talks, but Kennedy told his news conference in Washington Wednesday he wants to discuss all Latin-American problems, not just those between the United States and Mexico.

This reinforced speculation that the U.S. President would bring up Fidel Castro's regime and its influence throughout Latin America.

PACKED PROGRAM

The Kennedys will spend 48 hours in Mexico. Their first day's program will be packed with activities, beginning with airport ceremonies and ending with a Mexican folkloric ballet at night.

On Saturday President Kennedy will attend the annual Fourth of July celebration held by the 15,000-member American colony. On Sunday, just before they take off for Washington, President and Mrs. Kennedy will attend Mass at Mexico's leading Roman Catholic shrine, the Basilica of Guadalupe.

Woodrow Bean Is Given Suspended Sentence, Fine

AUSTIN (AP)—Former El Paso County Judge Woodrow Bean was fined $5,000 and a 5-year suspended sentence Wednesday for failing to file income tax returns.

U. S. Dist. Judge Ben Rice suspended the sentence on condition that Bean pay the fine within 60 days.

Bean pleaded guilty June 18 to charges that he did not file returns for 1956 through 1960. He said during a campaign for congressman-at-large that taxes were withheld from his salary during this period.

His lawyer, Sen. Charles Herring of Austin, asked the court for leniency. He said Bean cooperated with the Internal Revenue Service and "didn't try to hold back anything."

"As far as I know, he never before has been accused or convicted of a crime," Herring said. "He has lived a good life, but he has violated the law and he knows that. He is willing to pay for it." The maximum sentence would have been five years in prison and a $50,000 fine. Herring said he did not plan to appeal.

Bean led a five-year race for the Democratic nomination for congressman-at-large in the first primary but lost to Joe Pool, a Dallas lawyer, in a runoff election.

During the campaign, Bean said he had not filed an income tax return since 1952. R. L. Phinney, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, said the statute of limitations forbids prosecution over returns from 1953 to 1955.

Bean can be required to pay taxes on unreported income for any year, plus a 50 per cent civil fraud penalty and interest of 6 per cent.

The indictment listed Bean's share of community income for the five years in question as $53,296 and total income at $106,693.

Freeman Admits Some Errors In Estes Case

FM Extension Is Scheduled

State Highway Department has scheduled construction of 2.9 miles of FM highway connecting SH 350 and IS 20, it was announced today.

Ed Carpenter, county judge, said that the county has not yet signed up right of way for this road, but that work will be started at once.

The road begins west of Cadden's refinery and goes northwest to tie into the Snyder highway at the point where the Gail road intersects.

The project is to cost $180,000, according to Jake Roberts, district highway engineer, who announced the approval of the project for 1963-1964.

The 2.9 miles road is an extension of FM 700 and the money set up in this particular project is for surfacing and shoulders only, according to Roberts.

He said that a separate project for structures and grading has been set up and approved. This will include an overpass over the Texas & Pacific railroad tracks. Joe Smoot, resident highway engineer, will supervise the program. Roberts said that the job is a part of the 1963-1964 State Consolidated Highway Program which involved $150,000,000 for the two year period.

Under this program U. S. State and loop highways will be constructed. Roberts said that the local district will get 60.3 miles of roads under this program, which will cost $4,590,000.

LUTHERANS

New Church Born In Biggest Merger

DETROIT (AP)—A new church was born today in the largest merger of Lutherans in American history.

With solemn ceremony and song, four denominations joined forces to become one—the Lutheran Church in America.

"We rejoice with thanksgiving that Thy spirit has led us to this hour," was the prayer of about 7,000 Lutherans massed here for the occasion.

Rank on rank, they moved forward to kneel in communion around white altar tables stretching across the red-carpeted arena of Cobo Hall.

At one point, in dramatic symbolism of the unification of the four bodies, the flames of four tall candles were brought together, fusing into a single, bright blaze.

TAKE PART

Presidents of the four former denominations took part in the proceedings, formally consummating the merger.

"An epochal, long prayed for event," said the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, of New York. The assembly included 1,000 official delegates, plus an outpouring of other Lutherans.

"There is jubilation here today," said the Rev. Dr. P. O. Bersell, of Minneapolis. "At long last these four Lutheran bodies have come together because they belong together, because they have one Lord and one faith."

Their past divisions trace back to differences in national origin and languages. But these factors have faded on the American scene, leading to formation of the new united church.

3½ MILLION

Altogether, it has 3½ million members in 6,125 congregations, the sixth largest Protestant body in the nation.

It "will provide a mighty witness for the faith in the midst of all the compromising, humanizing and secularizing tendencies abroad in the world today," said the Rev. Dr. Lavin H. Lundeen, of Minneapolis.

He called it a step toward the "unification of all Lutherans" in America.

The merging denominations are the 2½-million-member United Lutheran Church, of German background; the 630,000-member Augustana Lutheran Church, of Swedish descent; the 35,000-member Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Church, and the 25,000-member American Evangelical Lutheran Church, of Danish origins.

TREND

Their merger is part of a trend toward Christian unity that is gradually bringing various denominations closer together, and is sealing the rifts in organizationally-divided Lutheranism.

Back in the 1890's, this country had more than 70 different Lutheran branches, separated along ethnic lines. They have steadily coalesced.

The new union reduces the number to 11, and brings 95 per cent of the 8½ million Lutherans in America into three major bodies.

They are the 205 million-member Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod; the 203 million-member American Lutheran Church, that was formed through a three-way merger in 1960, and the new church created here today.

TAKING NOTE

"Other Christians throughout the world are taking note of the event in the unfolding drama of the Christian Church," Dr. Bersell, long-time leader of the former Augustana Church, said in a prepared sermon.

A huge communion service marked the occasion.

The new merger comes after about six years of negotiations, led by a 46-man commission headed by Dr. Lundeen, president of the former Augustana Church.

He said the new church does not look on itself as an end, but as a means for seeking closer relations with other Christians "for the furtherance of the Gospel of the Lord."

"All this, we believe, is part of the plan God has for his church," he said.

Calm Returns To Algeria's Oran

ALGIERS (AP)—French army headquarters said today calm had returned to the west Algerian capital of Oran after a rampage of destruction by diehard European terrorists defying cease-fire orders from the Secret Army Organization.

Eight plastic bomb explosions damaged schools and public buildings Wednesday while sporadic shooting in several areas of the city pitted Europeans against Europeans.

The army said radio reports from its Oran headquarters indicated there had been no violence since 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Demonstrations of joy were reported from Oran's Moslem areas, separated from the European sectors of the city by barbed wire. Secret army leaders in Oran as well as Algiers ordered an end to resistance and urged the European population to join the Moslem opened a round of fast talks today with top Portuguese officials in an effort to mend badly strained relations between Portugal and the United States.

Rusk Glum After Talk With Salazar

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk

A cool welcome and anti-American demonstrations marked Rusk's arrival Wednesday for the windup of his 10-day tour of North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies.

Today the government organ Diario de Manha greeted him as a friend and said it hoped he would act as a real friend after seeing for himself the situation of Portugal and its possessions.

Rusk began his day with a 90-minute conference with Foreign Minister Franco Nogueira and emerged smiling. Neither side would comment on what was said.

Then Rusk drove to the office of Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, this country's dictator for nearly 35 years, for another conference.

The key issues for discussion were renewal of the lease for U.S. military bases in Portugal's Azores Islands, Portuguese bitterness because the United States supported a U.N. investigation of Portugal's African colony of Angola and resentment because the United States did not prevent India's seizure of Goa.

American officials said nothing would be said publicly about the future of the Azores bases until both sides can think it over in connection with broader questions of cooperation.

Rusk and Ambassador Burke Elbrick looked gloomy when they walked out of Salazar's office.

Eastern Asks For Judgment

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Eastern Air Lines asked U.S. District Court today for a $4.5-million judgment against the Flight Engineers International Association.

The damage suit was based on a strike against Eastern in February 1961, and not the current walkout which has halted the line's operations.

Eastern asked the court for a default judgment in the amount of $900,000 a day for the five-day strike.

In the 1961 strike, U.S. Dist. Judge Emmett Choate found the union in civil contempt for failing to return to work in accordance with his order. He fined the engineers union $250,000, but reduced the amount to $25,000 when the union said it did not have $250,000 in its treasury.

Eastern withdrew from the suit after the engineers returned to work and did not prosecute a claim for damages. Today's action reopened the claim.

But He Defends Overall Handling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman defended his agency's handling of the Billie Sol Estes case today but acknowledged "some errors and shortcomings for which I, as secretary of agriculture, must assume responsibility."

Freeman's statements were in testimony prepared for the Senate investigation of the Estes case.

The Senate investigation subcommittee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., is exploring how the Pecos, Tex., financier made multimillion-dollar profits under federal farm aid programs, and whether high-powered political influence deals helped him.

As the hearing began, McClellan said Freeman's actual appearance on the stand would be delayed until afternoon.

He said members of the committee had not received copies of Freeman's statement until this morning and his testimony would be delayed to give them time to study it.

NO GIFTS

Freeman declared "no official or employee now in the department is known or can reasonably be believed to have improperly accepted gifts or other favors from Estes."

"Estes received no special benefits as a result of favored treatment from the Department of Agriculture," he added.

Freeman repeated what he has said before, that the government "has lost no money through its business with Estes."

The secretary spelled out his testimony in a 50-page typed statement.

In it he said Estes should not have received additional cotton acreage allotments now under scrutiny in the hearing, and he said the appointment of Estes to the National Cotton Advisory Committee was a mistake. Freeman said, however, that Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy acted in good faith in approving the appointment.

WAS TOLD

The Senate subcommittee was told Wednesday that Murphy approved Estes' appointment last Dec. 22—the same day the undersecretary had endorsed a proposed cancellation of cotton acreage allotments to Estes in some complex land deals the legality of which has been challenged by the department.

"The undersecretary concluded that Estes' involvement in the transfer problem was not a sufficient reason for dropping him from the advisory committee," Freeman said. He added that Murphy based this belief on an understanding that the allotment issue was a civil legal dispute which would not affect Estes' standing as a committee member.

FIRST DAY

The first day of the Senate inquiry erupted into a political row set off by one of Freeman's subordinates.

That exchange was over a statement from the agriculture aide, Horace Godfrey, head of the department's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), that the farmer committee system of administering farm aid at the local level had gone through "eight years of neglect and outright knifing" in the Eisenhower administration.

Republicans objected. Freeman went right back into the same general area today.

The secretary pointed at the Eisenhower administration in connection with Estes' dealings in cotton acreage allotments and grain storage. Of the cotton deals the secretary said:

CONCLUSION

"I cannot escape the conclusion that these transfers should never have been approved in the first instance and that they would not have been approved if it had not been for the very confused situation that prevailed in 1960 and 1961, a situation which was unknown to me until after I had studied the investigation which the department instituted last year, and reported last November."

"However, as secretary of agriculture, it was my responsibility, if there had been in existence and operation early 1961, when most of these transfers were initially approved, an adequate, effective and specifically outlined system of communication and supervision from the Washington office, and if the county committees had been fully and completely informed of their responsibilities and had carried out these responsibilities faithfully, I believe all of this could have been avoided."

NO LOSS

As for Estes' grain storage deals, Freeman said that of the $7.6 million received by Estes in storage payments from the government, "all except $328,000 was for grain stored in his elevators during the previous administration."

"We do not stand to lose the value of even one bushel of grain from the Estes storage operation," the secretary said, however. "There has been no embezzlement of grain. It is still there and in good condition."

McGowen Also Worked As Investigator

PECOS (AP)—Dist. Atty. R. B. McGowen acknowledged Wednesday night that he had worked for one of Billie Sol Estes' creditors as an investigator.

This occurred prior to the indictment of Estes on state and federal charges of fraud and theft, McGowen said.

He discussed the matter with a reporter several hours after a district judge granted a delay and ordered trial of Estes on state charges of theft transferred from Pecos. McGowen, as prosecutor, opposed the transfer.

His law firm, McGowen and Magee of Pecos, has continued the work for a creditor but "I have been too busy since then to do anything on the case myself," the district attorney said.

McGowen's role as an investigator for an Estes creditor was unfolded before a congressional committee in Washington. It asked why Dallas lawyer Frank Cain had not taken suspicions of possible criminal activity by Estes to a law enforcement agency.

The Dallas Times Herald published this account: Cain testified before the House Government Operations Committee that McGowen was hired in February to do "leg work" in West Texas for Cain's law firm. Cain's firm represents Pacific Finance Co., which holds mortgages on fertilizer tanks it claims do not exist.

Postpones

District Judge J. H. Starley of Pecos postponed the trial of Billie Sol Estes on state charges of defrauding a fellow Reeves County farmer and said he would move the case to Tyler. Starley ordered the trial postponed on request by Estes' attorney after a day and a half of attempting to form a jury.

Estes Activities Caused No Wage Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reps. Charles Teague and Charles Gubser, California Republicans, asked Wednesday whether activities of Billie Sol Estes caused a difference in the minimum wage rate for Mexican farm workers in Texas and California. The answer is no, a Labor Department spokesman asserted.

Teague and Gubser said the California rate was fixed at $1 an hour and the Texas rate at 70 cents while Jerry Holman, then assistant secretary of labor, had primary responsibility for regulations under the bracero program.

DEAR ABBY

His Second Childhood!

DEAR ABBY: I am 69 years old and have been married to the same selfish man for 44 years. I worked for 36 years to help out. He is 72 and thinks he is 45. Every time I look for him he is across the alley fixing something for a 40-year-old woman who has a husband her own age to fix something if it gets broken. For Mother's Day he gave her six roses he bought in a store and a picture of HIMSELF in his uniform from World War I. He gave me a card which said "TO MY MOTHER." I am not his mother! What do you make of this?

HAVING TROUBLE

DEAR ABBY: Your husband seems to be enjoying his second childhood more than his first. Nothing serious can come of it.

Tourists Want To See Lyndon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The thousands of tourists who file in and out of the Senate galleries, indicate by their whispering and gestures that they get a double thrill if Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is in the chamber.

During debate on the House-passed bill to establish a commercial communications satellite, Johnson, who much of the time is out of the city or otherwise unable to attend Senate sessions, was very much on hand.

So, with the summer tourist tide reaching record proportions the Senate for a time proved a double tourist attraction. Not only did the sightseers get to see the vice president in his role as presiding officer of the Senate but they also heard debate on a subject of interest and importance. On the Senate floor were scale models of satellites orbiting the earth and lines indicating how the audio and picture signals would be bounced back to earth.

Don't let the old goat know you're jealous, or he won't be able to get his hat on.

DEAR ABBY: I will be 13 soon and am going to have a birthday party. My mother says I can have only 36 kids. I have six cousins my age. I like 3 of them, and 3 of them I don't care for too much. If I have all my cousins I will be able to have only 30 classmates. Would it be all right if I invited the 3 cousins I like and took their ice cream and birthday cake to the other 3 after the party?

BIRTHDAY GIRL
DEAR GIRL: Invite ALL your cousins. Taking ice cream and cake to uninvited cousins would be a new low in public relations with one's relations.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in the service overseas. He informs me by letter that because of a recent promotion he may not be able to take a planned leave because others in his division are entitled to leave before he is.

Is he trying to put something over on me? I was always under the impression that everyone in service was entitled to a 30-day leave every year. Where can I find out for sure? BAFLED
DEAR BAFLED: Call your Veterans' Administration office. Or the Red Cross can give you the information you want.

CONFIDENTIAL TO RECIPE COLLECTORS: A reader sent me her treasured recipe for old-fashioned butterscotch pudding (can be used as pie filling, too)—hand-down from four generations. It's delicious and it's yours for a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

How's the world treating you? For a personal unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of the Big Spring Herald.

MAY WE ASK?

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher
Church of Christ, 3000 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1288

Why is it that without exception in the book of conversions (Acts of Apostles) the people rejoiced in salvation after believing, repenting and being baptized, never before? See chapters 8 and 16.

Why is it that while the Bible says men are saved by faith, it never says they are saved by "faith only"; but on the other hand James 2:24 says they are not justified by faith only? There must be a reason.

Why is it that every time both salvation and baptism are referred to in the same Scripture, salvation comes after baptism; never before? See Mark 16:16; Acts 22:16; 1 Pet. 3:21; etc.

The Bible says, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved..." (Mark 16:16). Why, then, do men say, "He that believeth and is not baptized shall be saved?" If you know of a Bible reason for men to say such a thing, we will give you a chance to stand up in our open-air revival tonight, and tell us about it.

AT REVIVAL TONIGHT

"The Bible Doctrines of Unity and Division" will be Mr. Tom Tarbet's sermon at 8 p.m. today in the north gate to Webb AFB. Question period follows sermon. The church of Christ at 3900 West Highway 80 invites everyone tonight and throughout the week.

GOP Enters Arena In Border Politics

By RAMON GARCES

Laredo Times Writer
Written For The Associated Press

LAREDO (AP)—Border politics, usually turbulent, will have a new issue next November—Republicanism.

The Republican party is planning the biggest vote hunt in history in the 10 counties near the Rio Grande, traditionally a Democratic party stronghold.

The Republicans are reviving an old issue of machine politics and joining hands with anti-machine factions in some of the counties to strengthen their positions.

"We're organized better than we have ever been before and we're out to get as many votes as we can," said Laredo oilman John Hurd, GOP chairman in Webb County.

Hurd's Republican party, which has attracted only a handful of votes in years before, this year received the support of the county's militant Reform party, which has fought the half-century old Independent Club, Democratic party faction, since 1956, making little headway.

The Reform party executive committee voted last year to become a Republican party faction. The same thing is happening in Duval County, George Parr territory; in Starr County, upriver from Laredo, and in Zapata County, where some Democratic factions are reported joining the Republicans.

At stake are 45,542 votes in the 10 county area known as the 21st State Senatorial District. None of the counties has gone Republican since Reconstruction Days.

The 10 counties gave President Kennedy 30,263 votes to Richard Nixon's 8,334. "It will be different this November," predicts Homero Martinez, vice chairman of the Webb County Reform party. "Jack Cox will do better than Nixon."

Martinez says there will be some local interest in some of the races in Webb, Zapata, Starr and Duval counties.

In Webb County, five GOP candidates have been certified for November.

County Judge Pedro Ramirez of Zapata, the Democratic party nominee, is opposed by accountant Angel Flores, a Republican.

The border counties went strongly for John Connally for governor both on May 5 and June 2.

In the runoff 7 of the 10 counties gave Connally 12,456 votes to Don Yarborough's 3,512.

Connally's win was biggest in Duval County, 3,081 to 223; and in Webb County, 4,624 to 1,966.

Webb County's Reform party has endorsed Republican Jack Cox for governor. The Independent Club, of course, is backing Connally.

In Duval County, Clarence Schroeder, the gas station owner in San Diego, is the county's Republican party chairman who is leading the fight for Cox.

Schroeder recently was jailed on contempt of court charges when he refused to turn over GOP primary records to a grand jury. Republicans have been pounding at the "Duval County issue."

Webb County's Homero Martinez said the party would continue hitting what he called the "flagrant use of authority" in Duval County.

Teaching Vacancies Are At Minimum For Current Time

The teaching staff for local public schools is almost complete — at present — with perhaps a dozen vacancies, according to Sam M. Anderson, superintendent.

Most of the local openings are for special positions, he said. They include one math teacher, one French teacher, probably one science teacher, several elementary teachers and one girls' physical education instructor.

"The PE vacancy will be the most difficult to fill," Anderson said. "There are not too many qualified teachers available in this field."

Anderson said status of the teaching staff is in much better shape than it was at the same time a year ago. However, about 40-50 resignations can be expected between now and August if history repeats.

MANY APPLICANTS

The backlog of applications is large, and employment will be selective. Only persons with at least 24 semester hours of college preparation in the field in which they will teach will be selected. This is partly a result of the new standards of accreditation which go into effect during the coming school year.

"The old 12-hour teaching minor is practically worthless now for hiring purposes," Anderson said.

The changes in standards have also presented problems in assignment of teachers who are already on the staff. Some will have to be assigned to a variety of classes, perhaps in which they do not prefer to teach, Anderson said.

LIMITED ASSIGNMENT

Teachers who do not qualify in the field of their major may teach no more than two periods a day in certain areas if they have a minimum of preparation. Such areas are drama, economics, journalism, government, sociology, speech, speech-drama and World Geography. Only 12 hours of preparation is required for these courses.

Others who are not qualified under the new standard must go to an approved college and develop a preparation program for the area of their assignment. They must show progress toward qualification at the rate of at least six hours a year.

A by-pass route is available to some teachers, but it is expected to be a headache for school administrators. Teachers who can show successful teaching experience for five years previously in a field may continue to teach in it if they met the standards in effect in the 1961-62 school year.

Our secretaries will be writing letters by the team in answer to queries from teachers who have taught here. We also will have to send out a few inquiries," Anderson said.

The teacher records show when and where a person taught school, but not what he taught, making the new paperwork necessary.

Although hiring of new personnel is made more selective by the upgrading of standards, the change is a welcome improvement, Anderson said. He pointed out it is necessary to maintain high quality education. It is not expected to be as great a problem here as in other areas where high quality has not always been sought.

Chaplin's Son Wins Acquittal

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor Sidney Chaplin, son of former movie comedian Charlie Chaplin, has won acquittal on the first two of three speeding charges lodged against him within 3½ hours last April 16.

He was acquitted of the first charge last month and the second Tuesday. The third is scheduled for trial July 17.

All three summonses were issued on a two-mile stretch on the Bronx River Parkway as Chaplin was driving to suburban Scarsdale with his wife after performing in a Broadway show.

Crusoes Returned To Their Parents

VENICE, Italy (AP)—Six teenage Robinson Crusoes were marched back to their parents after roughing it for nearly a month on a half-acre island in Venice's big lagoon.

Police rounded up the adventurers after fishermen detected signs of life on the island, half a mile from civilization. The parents had been without news of the lads since May 28 when three of them left letters saying they were quitting school for a life of adventure in Africa. They dined on canned goods, fish and provisions secured on night raids to the mainland.

Photographed in Real County at Indian Falls on the Rio... in the Country of 1100 Springs. The cold, clear water you see here will disappear underground and filter for 100 miles through limestone to artesian wells beneath the Pearl Brewery.

Nature could stop right here. The water you see in the picture is everything water should be. Cold, clean and fresh from the spring — it's a perfect picture of purity. But this water is headed for greatness... and nature has more work to do. It happens underground in the thirsty white limestone that drinks in part of this stream. The water is filtered underground for 100 miles (as only Edwards limestone can do it), then it's channeled into Pearl's own artesian wells, a quarter-mile beneath the brewery. Up comes a great natural brewing water — pure, clear, perfect for capturing all the life and good taste in Pearl's fine grains and hops. Soblen Held After Arrest In Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Israel police today arrested Dr. Robert A. Soblen, bail-jumping fugitive from a life sentence in the United States as a Soviet spy, and hurried him before a magistrate.

Arraigned in a Tel Aviv court, Soblen was ordered held for the issuance of an official charge against him within the next 10 days. It is understood he will be accused of entering Israel illegally and with false papers.

Reliable sources said Soblen arrived Tuesday night after a flight from New York via Paris, showing immigration officers a Canadian passport in the name of his late brother, Beras Soblen.

When police asked for his passport this morning on his arrest at the Hotel Savoy in Tel Aviv he reportedly said he must have lost it on the way from the airport.

There is no extradition treaty between the United States and Israel under which the United States could ask for Soblen's return.

However, U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said in New York, "We will make every effort to secure his return."

Morgenthau said he had been notified by Israel of Soblen's arrest.

Soblen fled from New York Monday on the eve of his scheduled surrender to begin serving his life sentence, escaping via Idlewild Airport.

In Washington, the FBI and State Department said no official word had been received there about Soblen's arrest.

Soblen was free on $100,000 bail. The 42-year-old Lithuanian-born psychiatrist, reputedly dying of cancer of the blood, was convicted July 16, 1961, in federal court in New York of spying for the Soviet Union over a 20-year period.

The U.S. Court of Appeals affirmed the conviction March 13. Last Monday the U.S. Supreme Court refused to review his case. Soblen's wife said he disappeared a few hours later.

He was scheduled to surrender in federal court at New York today to begin serving his life term. Soblen could have been sentenced to death. U.S. Dist. Judge William B. Herlands had spared him the electric chair because Soblen's disease, leukemia, was supposed to kill him by this summer.

In New York Wednesday, Judge Herlands ordered Soblen's bail forfeited, but stayed the forfeiture until this afternoon.

Soblen's wife, known professionally as Dr. Dina Soblen, became his surety by posting $40,000 in cash and $60,000 in government bonds.

According to authorities, $20,000 of the money was her own and $20,000 was borrowed from a friend whom she later repaid. The $60,000 in bonds was lent by another friend.

When the $100,000 bond was posted last August, the government expressed fear that Soblen might flee to Cuba.

Bookkeeper Swears Davis Is Innocent

DALLAS (AP)—His bookkeeper testified Wednesday that oilman W. O. Davis Jr., accused of a $6 million swindle, is innocent.

Red-haired Mrs. Virginia Gibson, 29, said she has worked for Davis three years and never knew him to take a nickel from anyone.

Davis, 40, was charged here June 9 with selling eight leases containing illegally slanted or fake oil wells to Nortex Oil & Gas Corp. of Dallas about Feb. 10, 1961. The wells are in Gregg and Rusk counties.

Mrs. Gibson, an attractive widow with three children, spent three hours on the witness stand before a preliminary hearing was recessed.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Phil Burleson and Walt Bondies questioned her for half of that time. She told of going to work for Davis firms for $250 a month in 1959 and said her salary now is $700 a month.

Mrs. Gibson told Fred Erisman of Longview, one of Davis' lawyers, that Nortex sought out Davis to negotiate purchase of the leases in question from Ebro Oil Corp., owned by Davis.

Davis made no statement, except to assert he is innocent. He sat quietly listening with lawyers Gordon Wellborn of Henderson and Robert Scholer of Kilgore.

Mrs. Gibson said Davis resigned as Ebro president when the sale was planned.

She said Nortex President James Wendover and Vice President James Holcomb went to Ebro offices at Longview in 1960 and started working out plans for a merger. Nortex auditors examined Ebro books and Nortex officals inspected the leases before the sale, she testified.

Davis got no money from Nortex for the Ebro sale, she said, but he and other Ebro stockholders received Nortex stock and debentures through Ebro.

Ballman asked suggestions for legislation.

Oilmen Indicate No Objections

LONGVIEW (AP)—No objection to well tests or to an injunction banning alterations of wells prior to tests was indicated Wednesday in answers filed by three Tyler oilmen named in a $320,000 suit by Continental Oil Co.

J. L. Guley Jr., Raymond Hedge and J. L. Patton, plus nine other defendants, are under a restraining order returnable before Judge Sam Hall Friday.

The Continental suit charged diverting oil and asked court permission to test several suspect wells.

Jury Holds For Plaintiff

A jury in 118th District Court ruled Wednesday that the General Indemnity Company owes Clifford Lee Shick, Shattuck, Okla., compensation for a period of 401 weeks at $35 a week.

The jury reported to the judge it had reached a verdict around 2 p.m. Wednesday. Judge Ralph Cato accepted the verdict but remanded the jurors to their chamber until counsel for the insurance company, the court and the defendant's lawyers could go over the verdict and determine exactly how it read.

The defense then moved the jury be sent back for a further deliberation on the verdict. The court overruled the motion.

The jury had deliberated on the case since 11:20 a.m. Wednesday. The case, first of several slated for trial this week in the court, began on Monday afternoon.

Shick, a former employee of the Cabot Engineering Co., claimed that he had been injured in an accident while working on a job here. He sought $35 a week for the maximum time—401 weeks—in his suit. This was what the jury awarded him.

A motion for a new trial will probably be filed by the insurance company.

Local Youths Will Attend SA Camp

Activities at the camp will include horsemanship, swimming, boating, archery, crafts and Bible classes. A camp for girls begins July 16. About 12 girls from Big Spring are expected to attend.

May Ask Rehearing On Voiding Of Case

A motion for a rehearing on the ruling of the state Supreme Court that Mack Herring's sanity trial was void will be filed by the defendant.

Warren Burnett, defense attorney for the Odessa high school youth charged with the murder of a school girl friend, said that he would file the rehearing plea at once. He estimated the high court would probably rule on the rehearing motion by August 2.

He said that he had no comment on what the defense would do other than to say the motion would be filed. He indicated that the strategy to be followed if the case should ultimately be remanded for a new trial would be determined when such a situation arose.

The high court held Wednesday that the preliminary sanity trial for Herring was "never legally invoked and the judgment rendered is therefore void."

Herring was held insane at the beginning of a scheduled trial for murder in which he was to face charges that he shot Elizabeth Jean Williams, 17, to death. He said the girl pleaded with him to kill her and that he acceded to her plea.

Burnett was in Big Spring on Wednesday as attorney for a plaintiff seeking compensation in the 118th District Court.

Mexico's First Lady Has Helped Education, Children

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's first lady, hostess to Jacqueline Kennedy this weekend, has dedicated much of her life to helping solve Mexico's educational problems and toward giving underprivileged children a chance to improve their lot.

Eva Samano de Lopez Mateos is a graduate teacher of the normal school of Toluca. She has worked in several humble schools, at times in the slums of the Mexican capital.

While her husband was minister of labor, Mrs. Lopez Mateos kept her job teaching 50 fifth-graders at the Benito Juarez primary school. Only after suffering a severe ailment did she retire from teaching.

She continues to keep an eye on everything concerning education, which she feels is a main need in a country where illiteracy still ranks high.

Her activities include the inauguration of new school buildings and child welfare centers, even in remote areas of Mexico. Tears come to her eyes whenever she has a chance to speak to old teachers, who consider Mrs. Lopez Mateos their equal, talking with her freely on school matters, comparing experiences. Many of the improvements that teachers and pupils have shared during the

SUB Raided By Burglars

The Dora Roberts Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College was burglarized some time Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning.

Big Spring police, answering the call from Ben Johnson, dean of the college, said a screen had been ripped out and a north window broken out for the prowler to gain entrance. The cash register in the snack bar had been broken open and damaged. No money was taken and nothing else was reported missing. Damage to the window was estimated at $40 and to the cash register $200.

Four flipper type hub caps were reported stolen from a car owned by Lloyd Jones, 1108 Scurry, while parked at the Ritz parking lot. Two tail light lenses, valued at $5, were reported stolen from a car at Pete's Used Car Lot, 611 E. 4th.

Tax Protests Are Reviewed

Seventy-five taxpayers, dissatisfied with the assessments against their property, have appeared before the equalization boards in the two days the sessions have been in progress.

The hearings terminate today at 3 p.m.

The county commissioners, who sit as an equalization board for the county, said they had been fairly busy although not rushed.

The board representing the school and city also had its share of clients and a few taxpayers were on hand waiting their turn most of the two days.

Dr. Ruth I. Anderson, North Texas State University, will be the moderator for the panel discussion on preparing secretaries for tomorrow's office. Marjorie Keaton, TCU, James Lemaster, University of Houston, and Angie Vail, San Jacinto College will be on this panel.

Exhibits by various companies will be set up. Mrs. Green teaches shorthand and typing at Big Spring Senior High School and Mrs. Thompson teaches typing and bookkeeping.

W. B. Sherman Dies Of Critical Burns

W. B. Sherman, for many years a bench tailor for Big Spring firms, died Wednesday night in Brownwood as the result of extensive burns.

Mr. Sherman had been filling a cigarette lighter when he spilled fluid on himself. This became ignited and he was burned over 95 per cent of his body.

Rites were due to be held Thursday afternoon at the Davis-Morris Funeral Chapel in Brownwood, and burial will be in the Brownwood cemetery with Masonic services.

Mr. Sherman leaves a daughter, Mrs. Mildred White, and two grandchildren. He formerly worked here with Hemphill-Wellis Company and with Gibbs and Weeks Men's Store.

Four Mishaps On Streets Checked

Four accidents, one a hit-and-run, were investigated by Big Spring police after noon Wednesday. No injuries were reported.

Cecil Neighbors, Howard House, was driver of a car involved in a collision at East Third and Johnson. Driver of a car with a New Mexico license left the scene.

Other accidents, locations, and drivers of vehicles involved were: Seventh and Abrams, Annie Fox, 904 Abrams, and Barney Echols, 511 Galveston; Twenty-fourth and Scurry, William Russell Parke, 1010 E. 6th, and David Wayne Burleson, 206 Galveston; Fourth and Benton, Floyd Elmer Gay, Irving, and Clyde D. Cranford, La-last three years in Mexico can be traced to her personal interest.

Millions of pesos have been spent—both from official and private sources—in the operation of the National Institute of Children's Welfare, where free breakfasts are prepared for poor children at public schools.

Last year 300,000 such breakfasts were distributed daily, and plans call for a substantial increase this year.

She likes to guide visitors through the institute, and Mrs. Kennedy will visit it.

Mrs. Lopez Mateos was born of a well-to-do family of British descent in San Nicolas del Oro, a small village in the mountainous state of Guerrero.

While studying to obtain her degree as a teacher, she met and married the man who later was to become president of Mexico. Their only child, Avecia, is 23.

The revival, which has drawn a reasonably good attendance, will end Sunday night. Tarbet said a question period followed the sermon each night during which any person present could ask a question.

Subjects of sermons for the remainder of the revival are: Thursday, "Bible Doctrines of Unity and Vision," Friday, "What Sin Is and How Christ Saves Man From It," Saturday, "The Second Coming," Sunday, "The Judgment."

The public is invited to attend these meetings, Tarbet said.

Hearings Set On Amendment For Prayers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee will hold hearings next week on proposed constitutional amendments to override the Supreme Court's decision outlawing official prayers in public schools.

However, Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., sought a swifter remedy than an amendment, which would have to be approved by a two-thirds majority of both houses and be ratified by three-fourths of the states.

He introduced a resolution to provide that the court's action not ban any public school system from providing time for prayer as long as no public official prescribes or recites the prayer of- fered.

Constitutional amendments to legalize classroom prayers have also been introduced in the House.

Women's Clubs Vote On Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Federation of Women's Clubs voted today to work for a constitutional amendment to allow voluntary nondenominational religious observances in schools.

The action came by voice vote, with only a few noes heard. Among the 1,285 delegates to the convention.

The women turned down an amendment to the religious observance resolution which would have protested this week's decision of the Supreme Court against official prayers in public schools.

Mrs. Gerald E. Northrop, Castleton, Vt., chairman of the resolutions committee, said she thought all the women were emotionally upset by the court's decision. But she said the committee felt the court could not have made any other decision. She added that the court was deciding on a legal point.

Soldier Tells Of Captivity

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. soldier released by Communist guerrillas told today of 35-hour forced marches during which his arms were bound and his captors led him with a rope around his neck.

Spec. 4 George F. Fryett Jr., 26, of Long Beach, Calif., told a news conference he was exhibited in many villages during six months in Viet Cong captivity. He said he had to read Communist propaganda aloud at gun point four or five times a day.

Fryett, 26 pounds thinner than when he was captured on Christmas Eve, consulted with a U.S. intelligence agent before replying to questions from newsmen. He denied, as he has done before, that he cooperated in any way with the Viet Cong while he was held in the jungle.

Before allowing him to appear at the news conference, U.S. authorities apparently decided he revealed no secrets to his Communist captors and signed no statements critical of the United States. He said he knew nothing about a letter Communist broadcasters said he had written to his family criticizing U.S. support for the South Vietnamese government.

Fryett said the pair of sandals he had been wearing when captured fell apart because of constant exposure to water and marching. His feet were badly blistered.

The soldier said he tried to escape once by slipping into a river. He managed to loosen his hands while partially under water, he said, and pulled the rope around his neck loose. He then tried to swim away under water, but he was caught and bound tightly again.

During his entire stay with the Viet Cong, Fryett said, he was kept at gun point by guards totaling from seven to 50 men.

Fryett was captured while riding a bicycle about 15 miles from Saigon. He was released last Sunday.

Killed were Arthur Mercer, 29, of Daytona Beach, Fla.; Leonard Mercer, 13, and Charles Mercer, 3.

Injured were Gertrude Mercer, 27, of Daytona Beach, and Yvonne Mercer, 5, both in fair condition; and Mary Hall of Grapevine, Tex., in serious condition.

The relationship of the dead and injured was not known immediately.

Market Stages Strong Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market staged a strong rally in vigorous trading today.

It was the first clear-cut advance in almost two weeks.

Many key stocks gained $1 or more in a rise, that seemed stronger than the several other rallies that flittered out in recent weeks without reversing the general downturn.

Wear It Once, Throw It Away

Actress Stella Stevens models the latest high fashion gown, a $250 dress made of black transparent paper which is supposed to be worn once, then tossed in the waste basket. Designer Louis Margliano says you can't see through the material as long as it retains its folds which Margliano calls "sculpture." The paper can be cleaned, but if it's pressed the sculpture comes out and it becomes transparent cellophane. So you just throw it away.

BRIEF BYWAYS

Clarksville Has Claims To Fame

By ED SYERS
Venerable and dignified Clarksville on Red River bordering US 82, near Texarkana, has many claims to fame. Near here Sam Houston first entered Texas. Here, too, was one of Texas' first newspapers, the Northern Standard. Six miles north, in 1833, seven pioneer families from Tennessee founded a small colony around Shiloh Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Three families furnished signers for the Texas Declaration of Independence. One family, however, outdid itself.

Albert Latimer, one of the signers, was elected to the Texas Congress in 1840. At the same time and from the same home, his father, James Latimer was named to the Arkansas legislature.

You see, Arkansas became a State the same year Texas became a Republic. There was a mix-up over whether the Sulphur or Red River marked the boundary. The little, but well-represented colony of Shiloh lay within the land both claimed.

Around Garden City, in Glasscock County, even a Texan has to admit it's pretty rugged looking country, but then so was California's Imperial Valley until they got the water there. I stopped and asked Alton Cook at the service station about "Garden."

"Why this soil will grow anything," he said with solid West Texas confidence. "Cotton, sesame, alfalfa, corn. Just need water's all."

"What's the best money crop?" Mr. Cook kept a straight face. "Between here and Big Spring," he said, "guess you'd say the Spraberry oil field."

Coastal, Brazos-bottomed, piney and post-oaked Grimes county boasts a unique claim on flags over Texas. Here ended one, began another. At Navarro, French Cavalier La Salle was murdered, effectively ending the brief flutter of France's Fleur de Lis. A marker in town cites the spot. Thirty miles north is the little village of Bedias and the Bethel Cemetery nearby. One marker simply reads Sarah Bradley Dodson, 1812-1848. Made Texas flag, Sept. 1835. Young Sarah, wife of a lieutenant of Harrisburg volunteers, made her flag of calico squares, red, white and blue and one big star stitched on. The flag flew over Washington-on-the-Brazos when Texas Independence was written March 2, 1836. It went into action at San Jacinto.

I see where a county recently sent its citizens bounty-hunting on snakes.

Makes you recall that, even before LaFite, this had been known as Punta de las Culebras, anglicized with time to Snake Island. Then along came a man named Michel Branamour. Menard to found a city. Did he name it for himself, in the custom of the time?

Not at all. For this great Texas port-to-be, he chose the name of Louisiana's Governor, Count Bernardo de Galvez. Thus Galveston. And Mr. Menard? Galveston's founder got a West Texas county — and its seat of government named for him.

Christoval is a wooded village where the Concho River runs north. Below the town, there is a dignified highway sign marked "Toe Nail Trail."

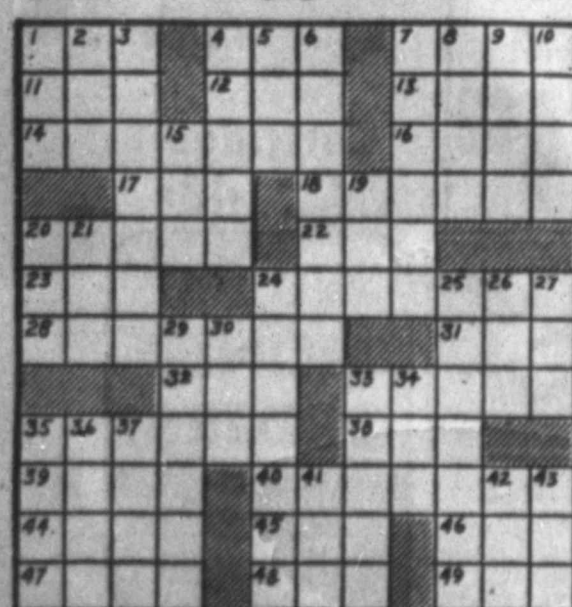

I circled immediately, located Jesse Wilkinson, who has horsebacked most of that country. Toe Nail is 17 miles out a stretch of road which Robert E. Lee once rode from Fort McKavett to San Angelo's Fort Concho.

"How come Toe Nail?" I asked. "Those days," said cowboy Wilkinson quietly, "that was country you hung onto by your toenails." I thanked him and started off.

"Then again," he said, rolling a Durham, "that's a real rough trail. Was when I was a kid. We used to say it'd wear the toenails off a mule." You can take your choice.

Prisoners Spend Night On Water Tower

Thirteen prisoners pose happily for photographers on a water tower at the Western State Penitentiary at Pittsburgh, Pa., in protest to conditions at the prison. Twelve climbed up on the tower, joining a fellow inmate who had been there for a day. The catwalk is about 100 feet above ground.

Opposes Attack On Mainland

WASHINGTON (AP)—Under policy decisions of President Kennedy, the United States is reported to have told President Chiang Kai-shek's government on Formosa that it flatly opposes threatened attacks by the Chinese Nationalist government on Communist China.

In another move to forestall a Formosan crisis, Kennedy publicly warned the Communists Wednesday against attacks on Nationalist-held territory, including the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

DEFENSE Kennedy told a news conference in words directed to Peking, "We will take the action necessary to assure the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores. Any threat to the offshore islands must be judged in relation to its wider meaning for the safety of Formosa and the peace of the area." He did not spell out what action might be taken.

His public comments of special significance for the Nationalist government were less direct but he declared, "We are opposed to the use of force in this area." He described U.S. policies and purposes with respect to the Formosa situation as being purely defensive.

Informants later confirmed that the U.S. position on any Nationalist military operations against the Communist-held mainland has been made known to the Nationalist leaders at Taipei.

AGREEMENT The President said a 1954 agreement which commits Nationalist China not to act against the Communists without U.S. agreement is still in force.

"I have indicated that our interest in this area is defensive, and we would like to have a renunciation of the use of force," he said.

Alan G. Kirk, retired admiral who is the new U.S. envoy to Taipei, is understood to be carrying a message from Kennedy to Chiang dealing with the Formosa situation. Kirk left here Wednesday for Formosa.

In official quarters here the impression is that if the Reds launched a massive assault on Quemoy and Matsu the United States would almost certainly go to Nationalist China's support.

But informed officials here still consider as unlikely any Red Chinese attempt to seize the offshore islands. They also tend to discount the possibility of Nationalist operations against the mainland.

BUILDUP The main source of concern over the danger of conflict is the recent buildup of Communist Chinese forces in the region opposite Formosa. The islands of Quemoy and Matsu are vulnerable to attack, since they lie only a few miles offshore.

The Reds are reported to have around 400,000 troops, about 300 fighter planes and 800 or more big guns concentrated in the area facing Quemoy and Matsu—and beyond that, Formosa.

Chiang has a military force of more than 800,000 men, of whom probably around 100,000 are committed as defenders of the offshore islands.

WORKING MAJORITY Kennedy May Have To Work For Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy may have to hit the campaign trail hard if he expects to win in November the working majority he concedes he now lacks in Congress.

In words somewhat more severe than he has employed before, Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday that a share of the blame for the roadblocks his program has encountered in the House rests on some Democrats who have been voting with Republicans for 25 years.

Kennedy's specific mention of 1937 as the inaugural date for the enduring Southern Democrat-Republican coalition pointed the finger at a select group among 19 House members who have been in Congress that long or longer.

Excluding the Republicans, Kennedy could count only a few such as Reps. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., William M. Colmer, D-Miss., and Frank W. Boykin, D-Ala.—among the implacable opposition.

But the historical-minded President obviously was talking about the far wider range of conservatives who have been elected in subsequent years—mostly from the South—and who now deny him a working majority on his controversial bills.

Kennedy appeared to believe that to overcome this coalition the Democrats would have to win a bare minimum of six additional administration supporters in a

Council Accepts Its Own Award

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council has accepted its own highest award for safety from itself.

The award, a plaque, commemorates 3 million man hours worked without disabling injury or day lost because of disabling injury. The council has 375 employees and accumulated its record in 4 years, 3 months.

William H. Lowe, Inland Steel treasurer and the NSC's board chairman, presented the award Wednesday to the council president, Howard Pyle.

Drysdale Wins 13th Game For Dodgers

By MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Calm, cool and collected, that's Don Drysdale. That's right—Don Drysdale.

The Los Angeles Dodgers' fireballer, whose pitching talents have been diminished in the past by an easily reached boiling point, has learned to curb his temper and seems headed toward his first 20-victory season in the majors.

Drysdale, 25, won No. 13 Wednesday night with a five-hitter that whipped Milwaukee 6-2, but had to maintain his composure during a series of incidents. Twice he was hit by pitches, and twice he had to pitch out of jams created by errors. In the sixth, Maury Wills booted a grounder by Hank Aaron, allowing the first Braves' run to score. In the eighth, Ed Matthews got a double when Frank Howard misjudged his fly, and took third on a passed ball.

The Giants remained on top with their fifth consecutive victory, 6-3 over the Reds. Third-place Pittsburgh edged the New York Mets 6-5 in 10 innings and fourth-place St. Louis blanked the Chicago Cubs twice, 4-0 and 8-0 on shutouts by Larry Jackson and Ray Sadecki. Houston and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

Drysdale (13-4) also got the Dodgers started in the fifth when he was hit by a Bob Shaw (9-4) pitch. Wills forced him, then rode home on Willie Davis' homer. The Dodgers clinched it with three in the seventh against reliever Hank Fischer.

Ed Bailey, who hit a pinch-hit grand slam homer for the Giants Tuesday, tagged a Ted Wills pitch for a two-run homer in the sixth inning that snapped a 3-3 tie against his former Reds' teammates. Harvey Kuenn and Felipe Alou each homered for the San Francisco Giants.

Franciscans, Wally Post hit his 12th for the defending NL Champions. Bob Bolin (1-0), won it in relief of Mike McCormick. Wills lost his first decision.

Bill Virdon's fourth single, a walk to Dick Groat, and Bob Skinner's third single got the gamewinner across for the Pirates against Mets' starter Roger Craig (4-10). The victory went to Diomedes Olivo (3-0).

Fine Quarter Horse

A good representative of the stock type Quarter Horse is Lee Cody, a stallion at the M & M Cattle Company, Mansfield, La. The breed's characteristics include a short-coupled body, powerful hindquarters, deep hearting, short ears, deep jaw, plenty of withers between the eyes. This particular horse is noted for his cattle cutting ability. (AP Photo)

Quarter Horse Breed Growing

By BOB GRAY, EDITOR
The Texas Horseman Magazine
Written For The Associated Press

The Quarter Horse breed — a livestock phenomenon of the past two decades—continues to grow at an explosive rate.

Statistics released by The American Quarter Horse Association at its recent convention show that the breed which did not exist until 1940 processed 50,620 registration certificates in 1961—10 per cent more than in 1960. Texas remains the biggest Quarter Horse-owning state.

There were no less than 823 AQHA-approved Quarter Horse shows in 1961—18 per cent more than the year before. At those shows, a total of 22,522 registered Quarter Horses competed — some 4,635 more than competed in the 1960 shows. They were held in 44 states including Hawaii.

There was an increase of 25 per cent in the number of Quarter Horse races run in 1961—and last year saw the biggest purse distribution in Quarter racing history: $2,495,676. That was a $654,420 gain over the record year of 1960. And 1961 produced the richest race yet run in Quarter racing—the purse for the All American Futurity at New Mexico's Ruidoso Downs came to $202,425.

What all this adds up to is that the modern Quarter Horse has become the most successful, widely-used horse breed of the 20th century.

Described by its devotees as "the horse that can do anything," Quarter Horses are now most widely used as pleasure animals. They are ridden by people of all ages in western horse shows, youth horse shows, rodeos and, simply, down the road. Those with running blood in their ancestry form the basis for the Quarter running industry, which last year held meets in 13 states.

The Quarter Horse also is still the backbone of the cattle-handling business, on ranches and farms of the nation. Contrary to popular belief, most major ranches still need and use large numbers of horses for ranch work. Most are Quarter-types.

In its report, the AQHA stressed the role that youth activities are playing in the breed's expansion. "The word phenomenal best describes the interest shown in AQHA Youth Activities," said Secretary Howard Linger.

"Though this program was not announced until long after many 1961 shows had been held... we still sent out 90 All-Around Youth Trophies in the last six months of last year to those shows which held Youth Activities events."

Linger gave other evidence of the breed's spectacular growth when he announced that the Quarter Horse Association's national membership — 24,555 — increased 4,938 in 1960 alone. Further, the association's monthly news magazine, The Quarter Horse Journal, resembled a telephone directory in December—carrying 422 pages of Quarter Horse news and advertising.

And to inspect all the Quarter Horses eligible for registration, the association's inspectors traveled a combined total of more than half a million miles in 1961, examining 21,813 horses on the hoof.

"It is apparent," said Linger, "that 1961 was a big year for the Quarter Horse, the association and the industry which the horse sustains."

The only phase of the industry which showed any decline was in the sales averages—and this was apparently due in part to the increase in sales and numbers of horses sold in them last year. At 101 Quarter Horse auctions in 1961 a total of 4,949 head sold for an average of $1,361. The year before, at 85 auctions, 4,214 Quarter Horses averaged $1,499.

Many Quarter Horse breeders—and there are literally thousands of them nationally now—don't view this with any particular alarm, however. Some breeders have felt for several years that prices were too high—giving many people the impression they had to be wealthy to own a registered Quarter Horse.

That many players have turned in qualifying scores in the 70's. In all, 70 linksters have formally entered and tournament officials are holding out hopes that as many as 100 will take part in the meet.

Match play in the tournament begins Saturday, continues over Sunday and winds up Wednesday, July 4.

Son Powell is still low in the meet with a one-over par 72. Others in the 70's and their scores include:

W. E. Ramsey, 74; Dick Pfeiffer, 79; Darryle Hertz, 75; Dr. Carl Marcum, 75; Lester Morton, 74; Dr. Robert Johnson, 78; Hudson Landers, 79; W. S. Crook, 76; Bill McLendon, 78; Gil Jones, 74; Bob Bright, 77; Jack Cook, 74; Sam Thurman, 77; El McCormick, 77; and Jack Wallace, 74.

Today is the final day a person can enter and play his qualifying round. A new champion is assured, since James Lee Underwood, the defending titlist, is not returning. Entry fee is $5. A dance and buffet supper will be held the night of July 4.

Mike Cochrane Death Victim

A spokesman at the hospital said Cochrane, 58, had been in and out of the hospital several times in the last year. He said the cause of death had not been determined.

East, West Gridders Await Buffalo Game

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The All-America Bowl, featuring the cream of last season's college stars, gets the football — that's right, football — season off to an early start Friday night.

Both squads, the East and West, finished heavy preparations on Wednesday for the second annual game. The game will be televised (NBC) over 176 stations with the Buffalo area blacked out.

East Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State and the West's Murray Warmath of Minnesota named their co-captains Wednesday, but neither has announced his starting lineup.

Hayes nominated Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State and Larry Onesti of Northwestern to co-captain the East, while the West picked a pair of quarterbacks, Bobby Ply of Baylor and Sandy Stephens of Minnesota.

Gabriel, an outstanding passer at North Carolina State, is expected to lead the East's No. 1 backfield that includes Ernie Davis of Syracuse, Angelo Dabiero of Notre Dame and either Bob Ferguson of Ohio State or Al Rushatz of Army.

Warmath is expected to counter with a starting backfield of Stephens, halfbacks Jim Saxton of Texas and Bobby Lee Thompson of Arizona and fullback Art Perkins of North Texas State.

Of the 60 players in the game, all but two have signed professional contracts for the 1962 season. The two who have not signed are from the service academies, Rushatz of Army and end Greg Mather of Navy.

Most experts predict a wide-open game featuring the East hard-running backs opposing a sturdy West line that is built around Merlin Olsen and Clark Miller, a couple of 250 pounders from Utah State.

The big guns are Davis, a 212-pounder who won the Heisman Trophy as the outstanding college player last season, and the powerful, 220-pound Ferguson.

The game is sponsored jointly by the American Football Coaches Association, Buffalo Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Buffalo Evening News. The West won the inaugural game 30-20 last season.

Smith Wins 14th Straight Softball Loop Decision

E. C. Smith Construction won its 14th straight decision in the feature Big Spring Softball league contest at the City Park Wednesday night, turning back Anderson Music in a corking good battle, 3-0.

In the evening's other action, Phillips 66 edged out McDaniel Construction, 2-1, to run its season record to 6-9. McDaniel's now has a 4-9 mark.

Anderson carried the fight to Smith's and Ed King, the Anderson hurler, deserved a better fate. He gave up only three and none of them got out of the infield.

Billy Paul Thomas (13-0), the winning pitcher, also surrendered only three hits, fanned ten and issued one walk.

Smith's scored all its runs in the fifth when Bernard McMahan, Bobby Suggs and Jack Irons spiked the plate.

Wilson Spoils Party With Foot In Cake

AUSTIN (AP)—Denton Justice of the Peace Jim George evidently wants to have his cake and eat it, too.

But Atty. Gen. Will Wilson put his foot in the cake and ruined the party.

Wilson sent Denton County Atty. John Lawhon an opinion Wednesday stating:

1. George cannot have his name on the ballot as a candidate for justice of the peace in both of Denton's two precincts.

2. George cannot hold both offices at once.

3. George no longer can serve as a justice of the peace in his original precinct.

term as Place 2 justice of the peace.

On Jan. 18, George filed as a candidate for Place 1. On Feb. 1, he filed as a candidate for Place 2. The county Democratic executive committee said after the voting that George won nomination for Place 1 and received more votes than Riggs, and thus also won the nomination for Place 2.

Wilson said George automatically resigned Feb. 1 when he filed for Place 2 and he cannot be appointed to fill his own vacancy.

"If he should be elected in the general election to Place 2 and in the same election should be elected to Place 1 by means of write-in votes," Wilson wrote, "Judge George would then be elected to both places, but he could only qualify and hold one of the offices."

Child Drowned

FORT WORTH (AP)—Sharon Gee, 3, strayed from her home near the west edge of Fort Worth and drowned in a stock tank Wednesday. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gee Jr.

Wedding Bells Ring This Time

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—In 1912, in a small community in Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, Mae Heasley Pump and Harry Moore were busily planning for their wedding.

The ceremony was to take place on July 5, Harry's 21st birthday. But her family objected and the wedding never took place.

Mae later married another man and moved to Wisconsin, where her three children were born. After the death of her husband, she moved to Mobile.

Harry also married, but he never forgot the love of his youth. Now a widower, he recently learned of the death of Mae's husband.

Last April he wrote Mae, mentioning "the good times we used to have." He asked if he might see her, since he planned to be in the Mobile area. She consented.

Moore proposed again, and she accepted.

On July 5, Mae, 69, and Harry, 71, will be married in the small church in Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, where the ceremony was to have been performed a half century ago.

Jury Increases Award In Condemnation Appeal

A county court jury Wednesday afternoon held that Mattie Jackson and others are entitled to $32,570 for a tract of land taken by the state for right of way on IS 20 loop.

The case was an appeal brought by Mrs. Jackson against the findings of a special appraisers commission which had awarded her only $19,000 for her small tract. She filed an appeal, and the hearing which was under way Tuesday and Wednesday before a jury and County Judge Ed Carpenter, was on this appeal.

The jury deliberated two hours before reaching its decision. It held the owners are entitled to $27,650 for the land; damages in the sum of $3,920 for .090 acre of land left after the .279 acre needed for the right of way had been severed. The market value of the .090 land left was set at $1,000.

Attorneys for the State Highway Department indicated they would file a motion for a new trial. They argued the finding of the jury on the second portion of the verdict—the damages to the .090 acre left—was not sustained by evidence. No date when a motion would be filed was announced.

The land involved in the suit is all of Lot 6 and parts of Lots 4 and 5 in Block 49, Bauer Addition in Government Heights.

This is the third condemnation appeal to be cleared by the county court in June. Judge Carpenter said there is one more case slated for trial tentatively within the next 10 days.

Panama Selects U.N. Delegate

PANAMA (AP)—Aquilino Boyd, who once led a campaign to get the Panamanian flag flown in the Panama Canal Zone, was appointed the country's permanent representative to the United Nations Wednesday.

Boyd, a former foreign minister and member of the National Assembly, plans to leave early in July to take up his post.

Not Profitable

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Missouri Pacific Railroad said Wednesday the operation of 61 miles of track in Texas is not economically justified. It asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to let it abandon 48.2 miles of track between Mauriceville and Newton and 13.3 miles between Rosharon and Angleton.

Recreation Roll Gains

Enrollment in all YMCA fun club groups has almost trebled since beginning registration figures were reported two weeks ago. From a total of 172 then, enrollment has skyrocketed to 509.

A breakdown of the figures for each club shows that the Lakeview club took the biggest jump from 46 to 154. Comparisons of the others reveals Kate Morrison had 11 registered earlier, now has 53; Bauer had 21, now 56; Airport, Marcy and Parkhill, 14, now 72; Washington and College Heights had 47, now 112; Cedar Crest and Boydston, 33, now 62.

Enrollment in special interest classes has also gained from five to 17. The second session of learn-to-swim, which began Monday, shows an increase of 32 over the first session's registration. Boys enrollment jumped from 54 to 67, and girls from 62 to 81.

Joe Leach, program and physical director, also reported that the Y's progressive swim classes had gained considerably due to the end of the first learn-to-swim session.

"We are delighted with the marked gain in enrollment this year," Leach said, "for in the two previous years our enrollment has tended to drop rather than increase."

Mrs. Pendergrast Cited During Farewell Coffee

Acknowledging the Girl Scouting accomplishments of Mrs. Donald Pendergrast, who with her family will soon leave to make her home in Japan, a coffee was held Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. L. R. Lewis, 224 Albrook. Cited for her work, Mrs. Pendergrast received the bronze GS statuette.

Eighteen years of Girl Scouting was summarized in relating Mrs. Pendergrast's efforts. Highlights included the Golden Eagle award, presented by a bank president to Mrs. Pendergrast in 1937. At this time she also received recognition from her parents who presented her with a diamond necklace.

GS Day Camp work was conducted by Mrs. Pendergrast from 1937 through 1941. She was troop leader of 30 girls in Portugal; Day Camp director for two years in Springfield, Va.; and troop leader for four years in Big Spring where she is also credited with the organization of Webb's GS Neighborhood.

In Portugal, where no GS badges were available, Mrs. Pendergrast designed a charm bracelet and charms denoting the badges earned.

Guests attending the coffee were served from a table centered with an arrangement of blue daisies and apple blossoms. Silver appointments were used with Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. James Whitman presiding at the coffee service.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. James Primdahl, Mrs. C. L. Fox, Mrs. N. B. Jones, Mrs. George Foster, Mrs. Dan Moore, Mrs. James Whitson and Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin, all GS leaders and co-leaders.

Faculty Ma'ams Meet

The Faculty Ma'ams of Howard County Junior College met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. B. M. Reese with 12 members present. A business session was held.

Receives Recognition

The bronze Girl Scout statuette was received Wednesday by Mrs. Donald Pendergrast who was cited for her accomplishments in the field of Girl Scouting. The presentation was made at the home of Mrs. L. R. Lewis.

Club Meets With Mrs. M. A. Cook

The home of Mrs. M. A. Cook was the meeting place for the Sew and Chatter Club Wednesday. Secret plans were revealed and names were drawn for the next three months.

Refreshments were served to the 14 members present. The next meeting will be July 11.

Male Stars Wear Wigs

By CHARLES E. DAVIS
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Give Fred Fredericks a bank of hair and he can spin more tales than Scheherazade.

Fred—who inevitably was dubbed "Mr. Wigs" by one writer—has for many years been manager of the hair department of a cosmetics company in Hollywood. He knows more hairline facts about Hollywood than even the gossip columnists.

He leads you into one room where row after row of wig blocks sit on shelves. Each one is the skull contour of a customer. Names are affixed.

They're names famous in Hollywood. Some of them would surprise you.

But Fred asks that the names be kept secret. Some actors and stars are touchy about having it known that they use hairpieces.

There's one who probably won't mind—Charley McCarthy.

Three of every five male stars over 35 wear some hair correction," he advises.

Until fairly recently, men were the biggest buyers of hair falsies. A hairpiece can work wonders for a man's confidence, claims Fred.

He tells of the millionaire California playboy who felt his glamour was slipping and ordered a set of hairpieces.

He had a crew-cut hairpiece to wear when he sailed on his yacht. He had one with longer hair for formal occasions.

Mm-Mm GOOD

One of the favorite meals in the Alan Kernodle home is oven fried chicken and potato salad. Eight-year-old Katie Jo prepares the chicken for browning while her mother puts the finishing touches on the potato salad. The Kernodles live at 802 W. 15th Street.

Today's Cook Started Out With Hamburgers

"Cooking is my hobby," says Mrs. Alan Kernodle who started out cooking hamburgers 10 years ago. "My brother-in-law used to call my house 'hamburger haven' because I made them so often."

But Mrs. Kernodle has come a long way since the new bride and hamburger days. Self taught, she loves to cook and bake, especially when company's comin' she says in her North Carolina drawl.

Mrs. Kernodle, whose favorite meal is breakfast, likes to use recipes to get the basic idea, but usually ends up adding a little more of this and a little less of that. She gets a lot of help in the kitchen from Katie Jo who makes the salad dressings and prepares the meats for frying. Katie Jo recently made some cookies which her mother describes as delicious.

Mr. Kernodle, an employee of Corden Refinery, favors steaks with lots of gravy and Mrs. Kernodle strives to prepare them often. The whole family likes to prepare ice cream made with fresh fruits when they entertain. Other favorites of the house are green beans, oven-fried chicken, potato salad and combination salad.

Mr. and Mrs. Kernodle celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary last Monday and entertained friends and neighbors with an old-fashioned ice cream supper. They were to leave Thursday for North Carolina where they will visit relatives in their native state.

In addition to her activity in the kitchen, Mrs. Kernodle teaches an intermediate class in Sunday school and gives parties for the youngsters. She lists Banana Nutt cookies, which she bakes for special occasions, along with other recipes that she prepares often.

BANANA NUGGETS
1½ cup sifted enriched flour
1 cup sugar
½ tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. nutmeg
¼ tsp. cinnamon
¼ cup shortening
1 egg, well beaten

Pineapple Kuchen Is Quick Treat

Many of the tropical fruits are available this time of year, pineapples, and others, which will give a different taste treat to conventional recipes.

Here is a recipe which can be whipped up in minutes and will bake while the family eats dinner.

PINEAPPLE KUCHEN
1 cup sifted flour
¼ cup granulated sugar
1 tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
¼ cup milk
1 egg
1 tbsp. salad oil
1-3 cups drained pineapple chunks

Sift dry ingredients together into a bowl. Beat milk, egg and oil together in a measuring cup and add to flour mixture, blending well. Pour into greased 8-inch square baking pan. Scatter pineapple chunks over batter. Sprinkle with the following mixture:

¼ cup granulated sugar
2 tbsps. flour
¼ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. nutmeg
Drizzle with 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Bake in preheated hot oven, 425 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes or until cake part is done. Cut in squares and serve warm. Makes 8 or 9 servings.

Grapes Are Nutritious

The delicate flesh of grapes is rich in natural fruit sugars and contains a balanced and health-helping blend of essential minerals—components that dress up and enhance the nutrient content of hearty protein ingredients in a dish.

A tossed salad of grapes and diced chicken, spiced with curry; a combination of grapes, ham, mayonnaise, onions and vitamin-rich citrus juices in a highly nutritious mold; grapes and white wine (or cooking sherry) added to sauteed shrimp over fluffy rice. These are but a few of the guises of grapes the glamour fruit.

CURRIED CHICKEN AND FRESH GRAPE SALAD
3 cups diced cooked chicken
1½ cups diced celery
1 cup green seedless grapes or seeded grapes
2 tbsps. fresh lemon juice
1½ tps. salt
¼ tsp. ground black pepper
1½ tps. curry powder
6 tbsps. mayonnaise
Lettuce
3 tbsps. sliced, toasted almonds

Combine all ingredients except lettuce and almonds. Toss lightly. Chill until ready to serve. Place each serving on a bed of lettuce and sprinkle with sliced almonds. Yield: 6 servings.

Milky Favorite Welcomed By All

Chocolate milk served well-chilled or piping hot is a standby menu item. But how about trying it in a new role—baked custard? To prepare test recipe: scald 1 quart chocolate milk, combine 6 beaten eggs, 1 cup sugar and 2 teaspoons vanilla. Stir egg mixture into chocolate; add a pinch of salt. Pour into buttered custard cups. Set cups in pan of hot water. Bake at 325 degrees Fahrenheit, 40 minutes. Cool; sprinkle with cinnamon. Add a whipped cream halo. Yield: 8 servings.

Frizzle Dried Beef For A Summer Salad Bowl

By MARTHA LOGAN

For a warm weather supper that's colorful to concoct, teasing to toss, and easy to eat, try "beefing up" a salad bowl with meat power. It's easy and attractive to do with "frizzled" dried beef. And the flavor of dried beef adds a pleasant spark. The dried beef is snipped into small pieces with kitchen scissors and cooked in a small amount of butter until the edges begin to frizzle and curl.

Water-sliced dried beef is vacuum packed in shiny foil ¼ pound flavor-tite packages to assure freshness. The foil packages must be refrigerated both at the store and in your home. For shelf storage purchase dried beef in 2½, 3½, and 5 ounce glass jars.

The art of making a good salad begins with knowing how to choose and treat the greens. With the variety available you can select greens with different shades, light to dark, different shapes of leaves, curly or flat, and different tastes, nippy or sweet. Keeping them crisp is the next step. The greens are immediately washed under cold water and dried by patting or tossing in a wire salad basket. Then, into the crisper or a plastic bag on the lower shelf of the refrigerator. For a fresher and prettier look, the greens are torn, not cut, into pieces. Generous chunks of vegetables are cut into a variety of shapes for interest. If you use a large enough bowl for tidy tossing and feel adept with the salad utensils, toss the Frizzled Beef Salad Bowl at the table and serve onto individual plates. Serve with a complementary dressing and a warm home-baked bread, to satisfy summer appetites.

FRIZZLED BEEF SALAD BOWL
2 pkgs. (¼ lb. each) dried beef, sliced water thin
2 tbsps. butter or margarine
6 cups mixed salad greens
2 cups sliced raw cauliflower
1 cup shredded carrots
1 cup cooked peas
1 tomato, cut into wedges
½ green pepper, sliced
¼ cup grated Romano or Parmesan cheese
½ tsp. celery seed
3 hard-cooked eggs, cut into quarters

Cut dried beef into pieces and separate slices. Cover with boiling water and drain immediately. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in heavy skillet. Add dried beef and cook about 5 minutes or until edges "frizzle" and curl. Combine the salad greens, which have been torn into pieces, cauliflower, carrots, peas, tomato wedges, green pepper slices, grated cheese, and celery seed. Toss with the frizzled dried beef. Garnish with egg quarters. Serve with an oil and vinegar dressing or Tangy Sour Cream Dressing. Yields eight servings.

TANGY SOUR CREAM DRESSING

2 cups dairy soured cream
2 tbsps. chopped chives
2 tps. lemon juice
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
¼ tsp. dry mustard

Combine all ingredients. Stir until well blended. Serve with Frizzled Beef Salad Bowl. Yields 2 cups.

Green Peas Take On A New Taste

Most men like green peas — and so here's a way to give them extra good taste.

GREEN PEAS FRANCES

1 tbsp. butter
6 thin scallions (sliced thin crosswise, green tops included)
1 cup (about 8 ounces) very small green peas

Melt the butter in a small skillet and cook the scallions and mushrooms in it until the scallions are partly tender. Heat peas in their liquid; drain and mix with scallions and mushrooms. Makes 3 servings.

Tips On Using Vegetable Oils

When cooking macaroni, noodles, spaghetti and rice, add vegetable oil to the boiling salted water. One tablespoon oil per quart of water prevents the water from boiling over, and keeps each noodle or rice kernel "separated."

Cakes and breads have evenly browned, unbroken crusts when the pans they are baked in are first brushed lightly with vegetable oil, then dusted with flour.

Vegetable oil is perfect for popping corn and toasting nuts.

Give cake mixes extra lightness and moisture. Add 1 tablespoon vegetable oil per 8-inch layer along with the liquid ingredients. And a spoonful or so of vegetable oil enriches white sauces, soups and gravies and keeps them oh-so-smooth.

A 10-Acre Popping

FLORIDA, Ohio (AP) — Popcorn, popcorn everywhere, but not a kernel to eat.

Firemen arrived to fight a grass fire at a farm near here recently and found it had spread to a 10-acre field on which popcorn was grown last year.

Kernels still scattered around the field from the harvest sure had things popping.

Commented one of the firemen: "The popped corn looked like snow and sounded a bit like a Fourth of July celebration."

Tasty Pickle Platter

Holiday or every day, around the pickle platter, there is a wide variety of styles from which to select. Pickles serve a multitude of food services as ingredients in all kinds of meat and ve-table dishes, salads, and sandwich spreads, as well as being consumed in huge quantities as snacks and garnishes. Here is a group of new ways to use the popular pickle.

Cheese Sauce Accents Chocolate-Rice Treat

Here's a brand new idea for a dessert sauce! Cream cheese, sweetened with confectioners' sugar and flavored with vanilla, is mixed with milk. It's then heated and served warm over an easy-to-make chocolate-rice pudding.

The chocolate-rice pudding is easy because chocolate pudding mix is used. The rice needs no beforehand preparation and cooks in 14 minutes. It is sweetened, then added to the chocolate pudding. This pudding is spooned into dessert dishes and just before serving is topped with the warm sauce.

CHOCOLATE-RICE PUDDING WITH CREAM CHEESE SAUCE

2-3 cup uncooked white rice
1 tsp. salt
2 cups water
1 tsp. vanilla
1-4 cup beet or cane sugar
1-2 cup milk
1 package instant chocolate pudding mix
1-2 cup confectioners' sugar
1, 3 oz. package cream cheese
1 cup milk
Dash of salt
1 tsp. vanilla
Put the rice, 1 teaspoon salt and water in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 25 minutes or until the water is absorbed. Be certain to use 3 cups of water. When the rice has cooked, stir in the vanilla and 1-4 cup of sugar. Cover and allow to cool. Stir in the 1-2 cup milk. Cover and chill in the refrigerator.

Prepare the instant pudding according to directions on the package. Stir the cold rice to make it creamy. Fold in the chocolate pudding. If desired, spoon into dessert dishes. Cover the dessert dishes and store in the refrigerator until time to serve. Or pudding may remain in the mixing bowl and be stored, covered, in the refrigerator.

The sauce may be made ahead of time and reheated or it may be made just before serving. To make the sauce, mix together the 1-2 cup confectioners' sugar and cream cheese in the top of a double boiler. Place over hot water. Gradually stir in the 1 cup milk. Heat until hot, stirring to blend. Continue cooking until sauce thickens. Stir in the salt and vanilla. Spoon over servings of the chocolate-rice pudding placed in dessert dishes.

This recipe makes 10 servings and 1-4 cups sauce.

Cream Of Avocado Soup Is Nutritious And Tasty

Start your meal off right with this delicious cream of avocado soup. Your family will approve and enjoy it as luncheon fare. And

Colonial Recipe Popular Today

Famous recipes of colonial days need not be forsaken just because they called for many hours of kitchen time. Use modern instant foods and these old-time favorites will take on new charm.

Taking an old New England recipe, a modern-day version called "Fishermen's Codcakes" was developed. The cakes are ready to saute in less than 5 minutes, when modern instant whipped potatoes are used.

FISHERMEN'S CODCAKES

(Makes 6 cakes)
1 (4-oz.) pkg. dehydrated shredded salt codfish
2½ cups water
1 egg, slightly beaten
¼ package (1 section) instant whipped potatoes
4 tbsps. butter
Soak codfish in ¼ cups of the water for 2 minutes; drain; press to remove moisture. Discard liquid. Combine egg, remaining water, potato flakes and codfish; blend well. Let stand 1 minute. Shape into 6 cakes. Melt butter in skillet; saute cakes until golden brown on both sides. Serve with tomato sauce and lemon wedges.

since it is made with evaporated milk, the extra creamy concentrated form of milk, you can be sure it is doubly nourishing, for evaporated milk contains twice the vitamin D, proteins and minerals of whole milk. It's a flavorful soup, with a velvety smooth texture, thanks to evaporated milk's better-blending qualities.

CREAM OF AVOCADO SOUP

(Makes 6-8 servings)
1 quart chicken stock or bouillon
2 tbsps. grated onion
31-3 cups (2 large cans) undiluted evaporated milk
¼ cup all-purpose flour
2 large avocados, pitted, peeled and diced
¼ tsp. pepper
Parsley
Combine stock or bouillon and onion. Cook over low heat 5 minutes. Slowly add 1 cup evaporated milk to flour to blend. Add flour mixture, remaining 2-3 cups evaporated milk, avocados and pepper and cook over low heat until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Garnish with parsley, as desired.

'Peachy' Dishes Add Glamour To Dinners

If your menu fare needs an extra flavor boost, or added color, serve canned peaches. This succulent fruit comes in slices, halves, and chunks. Any style adds glamour to your meals.

Persian Delight is a tasty, fire-ahead dessert treat. Combine ½ cup rice and 1 cup orange juice in a heavy sauce pan, cover tightly and bring to a quick boil. Stir once with a fork. Reduce heat, cover and continue cooking according to directions on rice package. Cool mixture, then stir in 1½ cups chopped dates and 1 cup chopped nuts. Chill in the refrigerator until serving time. Scoop rice mixture over drained canned freestone peach halves and garnish with cinnamon-flavored whipped cream. Rice mixture should generously top 9 to 12 peach halves, or make 5 to 6 servings.

Pies made with canned peaches are always a hit. Top with a sugared lattice top crust so your hungry family can see the luscious peaches peeking through.

Here are a few other "peachy" peach ideas, to help you make full use of the abundance of peaches.

You can create your own peach ice cream by swirling chunks of canned freestone peaches (use the syrup, too) into softened va-

Mexican Chicken Is Good Change

When appetites fade or when getting dinner becomes a bore, it's time for a change of cooking. Just such a lively change from the everyday is the Mexican chicken recipe. The sharp, sweet tang of orange juice spikes the sauce.

The custom of serving tart fruits or juices with protein-rich meats is a wise one, as the Romans well knew. They did not, however, have the advantage of frozen orange concentrate, which gives the fresh flavor of oranges in quadruple strength.

MEXICAN CHICKEN

1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in pieces
¼ tsp. salt, divided
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 tbsps. flour
1 tsp. Ac'cent
2 tbsps. sugar
¼ tps. cinnamon
1-16 tsp. ginger
¼ 6-oz. can frozen concentrated orange juice (1½ cups reconstituted)
¼ cup raisins
¼ cup flaked coconut
Sprinkle chicken with ¼ teaspoon of the salt and Ac'cent; brown on all sides in butter or margarine in heavy skillet. Remove chicken. Add flour, remaining salt and spices to drippings in skillet; stir to a smooth paste. Gradually add reconstituted orange juice. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Add chicken pieces and raisins. Cover; simmer over low heat until chicken is tender, about 45 minutes. Remove chicken to serving platter; spoon sauce over chicken. Sprinkle with coconut. Serve with hot cooked rice.

YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

Grapefruit Is Dieter's Dessert

Grapefruit is widely known for its usefulness in a reducing diet. By using the following recipe, a dieter may lose weight and eat dessert at the same time.

PARTY GRAPEFRUIT

Grapefruit
Grapefruit syrup
Whole strawberry preserves
Halve grapefruit; cut a thin slice from bottoms if necessary to have them stand straight. With a small sharp knife, free sections from dividing membranes, removing any seeds or cutting out centers. Refrigerate. Just before serving, carefully pour 2 teaspoons grapefruit syrup over each grapefruit half, 1 spoonful at a time. Center each half with a whole strawberry preserve. Serve at once. Use medium-sized or large grapefruit.

Pastries Are Ideal For Party

Whether you're entertaining old friends, new neighbors or your husband's business associates, coffee and dainty pastries are always in glowing good taste. What's more, virtually everyone is a coffee-drinker. Your refreshments need not be complicated, of course, but they can have a touch of elegance — much easier than you might imagine.

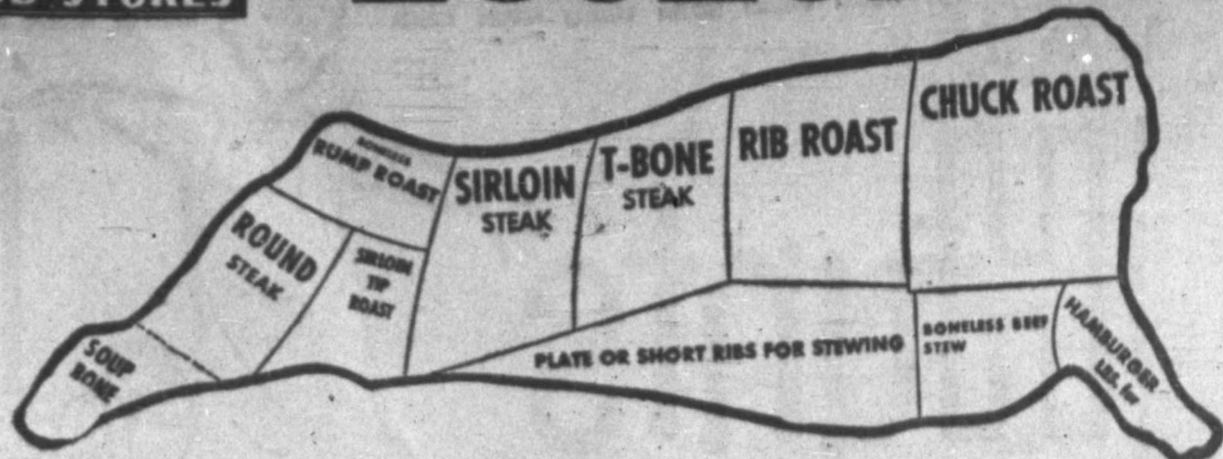

CREAM CHEESE PASTRY
1 cup butter or margarine
2 3-oz. pkgs. cream cheese
2 cups sifted enriched flour
Soften butter at room temperature. Add cream cheese. Beat until smooth. Add flour, half cup at a time, blending well after each addition. Work with fingers to smooth dough. Shape according to individual pastry recipes below and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes enough for about 3 dozen pastries.

Cherry Cream Pastries: Roll pastry 1-2-inch thick. Cut in 2-inch squares, then diagonally into triangles. Make a depression in center of each triangle. Bake. Fill with thick dairy sour cream. Top with cherry preserves.

Liver Pate Pastries: Roll pastry 1-2-inch thick. Cut into oblongs, about 1 x 1-1-2-inches each. Make a trough-like depression in each oblong. Bake. Fill with Liver Pate (Combine 1 2-1-4-oz. can liver pate, 1 hard-cooked egg, minced, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 2 teaspoons mayonnaise and 2 teaspoons drained sweet pickle). Garnish with chopped pimiento.

Don't Confuse Abuse With Rights

What might be called the "unorganized" American public has, by and large, been neutral and tolerant toward both organized labor and organized business. Some deplore their own unprotected lot in the face of united action by both employers and employees which raises prices and wages. But most of us recognize that under democracy the right to organize must not be abridged.

Still, intelligent Americans distinguish between utilizing such rights lawfully and abusing them. The McClellan committee's investigation of the Chicago ring debauching young women, lured into depravity by bogus offers of night club or film careers, is revealing. It has brought out a parallel fact which is astonishing.

One of the victims charged she had been hooted down by her union when she complained of outrages she had suffered in a strip-club dive. Senator McClellan had an official of the American Guild of Variety Artists (the union the girl accused) before him and forced him to admit he had turned a deaf ear to the complaints made by girl members of his union.

Leaving aside the moral implications of the case, such a union attitude smacks too much of collusion. Likewise, in the price-fixing revelations of a year ago there was collusion, that time on the part of business officials.

This is the sort of thing a democracy cannot tolerate. Both business and labor must be protected in their right to organize legitimately, but abuses which flagrantly defy or evade the law must be stamped out.

Fickle Crowds

What do words indicate as to a candidate's popularity? Politicians would give their eye teeth to know. They would like to know, for example, why in the presidential election both Nixon and Kennedy drew audiences of amazing size and enthusiasm in states which did not support them in the fall.

This recalls Al Smith's 1928 experience. In rural, prohibition-minded Kansas he drew such cheering crowds that the word went out, "Al is going to carry Kansas!"

He did not carry Kansas. He did not even make a good showing getting only 193,000 votes to Herbert Hoover's 513,000.

Crowds do show the future in some cases. Slim and sullen throngs are a bad omen which rarely misleads. But the value of the hosts of cheering followers was summed up for all time by Oliver Cromwell. Told that his popularity was shown by the big gatherings that had greeted him on a tour, he remarked drily, "Twice as many would come out to see me hanged."

A Catholic Charges Against JFK

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has just come under severe attack for supposedly having allowed political considerations to influence him in discriminating against the parents of 7,000,000 children who attend Catholic and other church-related schools in America. He is blasted as being a "politician," not a constitutionalist.

THIS CRITICISM is published in "Our Sunday Visitor," a Roman Catholic national weekly. Its editor, the Right Rev. Monsignor Joseph R. Crowley, made available over the weekend press sheets of a lengthy article written by the Rev. Virgil Blum, S. J., chairman of the department of political science at Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis. Father Blum makes an extensive analysis of pending legislation and cites authorities to support his contention that federal aid to all schools for the teaching of nonreligious subjects is unconstitutional.

"Why then," asks Father Blum, "does the Kennedy administration insist on discriminating against the nation's independent school children? Why then do most congressmen refuse publicly to support equality of treatment and freedom of religion for all children in a federal aid-to-education bill?"

"THE ANSWER," it seems to me, is simple. President Kennedy, like the congressmen, is a politician. Politics is his basis of action. He is a political realist. Hence, political considerations, not constitutional, are the decisive factors in his education policy.

"Politics is the art of the possible. Kennedy fully realizes this. He could not have been elected on a platform which promised freedom of religion in education. So he ran on a platform which promised to discriminate against church-related school children. Assuming Kennedy believes in equality and freedom of religion in education, an unequivocal statement in support of these civil rights would have been political suicide.

"A LARGE PROPORTION of congressmen are faced by the same dilemma. They may be profoundly dedicated to freedom of religion in education, but feel they cannot openly support the civil rights of church-related school children. If they do, the opponents of freedom of religion in education will shoot them down in the next election."

Father Blum discusses the "practicalities of politics" and points out that the present movement for "civil rights for colored school children" is stimulated by pressure groups who influence the voting. He calls, therefore, for the organization of pressure groups throughout the country to get behind what he calls the "civil rights of independent children" numbering about 7,000,000. He writes:

"Equal federal aid for every child! The U. S. Constitution permits it... so say the nation's best constitutional lawyers. Among them, Professors Paul Kauper of Michigan, Wilbur Katz of Wisconsin, Arthur Sutherland of Harvard, Philip Kurland of Chicago, William Ball of Villanova, and Harry Jones of Columbia University.

"THERE ARE more than 40 precedents for federal grants to parents for tuition payments in church-related schools. Each of these programs is valid, and each was adopted by a Congress and President sworn to uphold the Constitution."

"The GI bill of rights is, of course the best known precedent for federal aid for church-related school children. More than a million veterans paid tuition in 474 Protestant, 265 Catholic and five Jewish institutions of higher education with federal grants. These veterans enjoyed freedom of choice: they were free to choose any college and to study any subject. Many veterans chose to study theology. More than 37,000 studied for the ministry with GI grants."

"THE WAR orphans educational assistance act is another precedent. Today, tens of thousands of war orphans are paying tuition in the nation's denominational colleges with federal education grants."

"President Kennedy recently strongly urged the adoption of a vast federal scholarship program that would provide direct grants to hundreds of thousands of college students and, notably, direct cost-of-education grants to the schools of their choice. The President finds nothing unconstitutional about such grants to students, nor about cost-of-education grants to denominational schools."

"IF SUCH DIRECT grants with freedom of choice are legal on the college level, they are all the more legal on the elementary and secondary level. This was made emphatically clear by the U. S. Supreme Court in the Barnette case of 1943. Since children attend school under compulsion, said the court, the Constitution guarantees them greater freedom in education than college students whose attendance is optional."

Father Blum for many years has been an outstanding advocate of tuition grants to parents as a way out of the dilemma of making public benefits available to children in parochial schools. Many persons, like the writer, are opposed to the principle of federal aid to education and believe the states should handle such matters. But what seems puzzling is that President Kennedy and others argue that it is constitutional to aid church-related colleges and yet it isn't valid to aid elementary and secondary schools which have a similar church relationship.

CONSISTENCY at least would seem to require that existing federal laws which extend aid to church-related institutions at the college level should either be broadened to include the lower schools or else all such laws should be declared unconstitutional or repealed by Congress.

What Were They Hunting?

CENTRALIA, Ill. — Farmers tend to think of hunters who shoot domestic animals as either vandals or idiots. O. W. Niernan is certain he was the victim of the latter variety.

Hunters shot a 6-month-old heifer on his farm, and slew two of his pet peacocks. The hunters, apparently unfamiliar with what constitutes wild game, pocketed both peacocks.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talk about conducting a safari into a jungle!

Listen to the saga of a Senate investigator who was given what looked like a simple assignment. He was told to drop over to the Agriculture Department and pick up all documents there on Billie Sol Estes, the flailing fertilizer financier.

Emerging weeks later from the air-conditioned bureaucratic jungle, investigator Paul E. Kamerick reported that it was quite an ordeal.

Not that the natives didn't cooperate, he told the Senate investigations subcommittee Wednesday. Trouble was that the records were not all in one place. He and his Agriculture Department guides had to hack their way through the undergrowth to 15 different offices in order to collect the papers.

"I must say at this point,"

Kamerick reported sadly, "that we are not sure yet we have all the documents. Under the existing system we cannot be sure."

The investigator reported what looked to him like a breakdown of communications in the jungle muck—one agency didn't rightly know what the other was doing, he said.

Department officials disputed him, calling their system a well-knit one, no dim jungle.

During House debate on the farm bill last week, Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., proposed with straight face an amendment to forbid the number of Agriculture Department employees to rise over the number of farmers in America. This was defeated.

A newsman called the Agriculture Department Wednesday and asked how many farmers there are in America. An official said he did not have an up-to-date statistic on that, but said there are 3,668,000 farms.

Asked how many employees the department has, he said 81,672 full-time, and 16,668 part-time. Asked if this included people like county commissioners, he double-checked and said no. There are 16,000 full-time employees like that, plus an indeterminate number of part-time people who did "8,000 man years" of work last year.

Trying to get an idea of the growth rate of the total federal bureaucracy, the reporter called Sen. Harry F. Byrd's Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures. "How many employees did George Washington have under him when he became President?" an aide was asked.

The aide said he didn't have that statistic but that in 1816, the number of federal employees was 4,837, not counting the armed forces. Now the number is 2,471,061. This is a 509-fold increase.

In 1816 the population of the country was about 8.5 million. Now it is 186.5 million. This is only a 22-fold increase.

The trend cannot continue indefinitely. Otherwise everybody will be on the federal payroll drawing tax money to govern, regulate, police and confer other benefits on each other.

Dislocated Shoulder Joint Remedied By Surgery

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My son, 15, has trouble with his right shoulder. Every so often when he makes a move, it pops out of its socket, and until he can get it back in place, it is quite uncomfortable. What causes this, and should anything be done? — MRS. E. U.

This is called a "chronic dislocation of the shoulder joint." It is especially common in young people, and I wouldn't be surprised if "quite uncomfortable" might be a rather mild term. It can be distressingly painful sometimes.

Anyway, young arms are more likely than old ones to make some of the unusual movements that can throw the shoulder out of its socket.

Prior to that, there has to be some other cause, as well: a loose joint capsule; tendon structure that isn't adequate to hold the joint in place; changes or damage in cartilage.

Many times some previous injury is responsible — this same type of injury is fairly common among young athletes.

I must decline to answer whether something "should" be done about the shoulder, except for this: have the boy examined by an orthopedic surgeon. You will get the answer from him, on the basis of the particular case.

Most of the faults causing these "chronic shoulders" can be effectively and permanently corrected by surgery. On the other hand, splints, dressings, taping, and the like, give temporary relief but rarely bring permanent correction unless the shoulder is on the way to curing itself anyway, which doesn't often happen if the damage is severe.

If the orthopedist feels that surgery is wise, he will say so, and I'd then go ahead with it.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the cause for a brown-colored coating on the tongue? — F. B.

Excessive smoking is the commonest one, but there are others which permit yeasts and some organisms to flourish in the crannies of the tongue's rough surface and give this colored coating — recent use of antibiotics, mouth breathing, dental cavities, infected gums or tonsils.

Dear Dr. Molner: I'm "interested" in a woman, now 27, who has had diabetes since her early teens. How does this affect her potential as a wife and mother? My friends tell me she should not be a candidate for marriage. — J. R. S.

Diabetic women make excellent wives and mothers. There may be special problems in pregnancy — miscarriage and other complications are somewhat more frequent — but suitable medical care now can avoid or minimize many of these. Likewise, many factors are involved. My suggestion would be that you put your mind at ease by talking to your girl's physician, with her prior consent, of course.

Dear Dr. Molner: My 7-year-old very active nephew complains daily of stomach cramps. His mother thinks it may be due to eating eggs. He eats two a day. When visiting I have noticed that when he isn't watched closely he just pours salt on his food. I tend to believe this may be the cause. — MRS. R. L.

But I'd doubt it, since there must be days when he DOESN'T get a chance to pour on the salt but still has cramps. It would be easy to test the egg theory. Just don't serve him eggs for 10 days and see what happens. If the cramps continue, I would have him checked to see if any intestinal disorder exists — disease of the appendix, partial intestinal obstruction, faulty bowel action, or even an ulcer.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises—Their Causes and Cures," enclosing your recent 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Sign Of Tarantula Et Scorpio

No sooner are the ants gone, and a new pest takes their place. Unfortunately, these are more dangerous and our neighborhood seems to have quite an infestation.

Tarantulas are coming in the biggest numbers, however we have had a smattering of scorpions and one report of a rattlesnake in our neighborhood so far. Frankly, my good wife Joyce prefers the ants.

THE FIRST tarantula was killed in our garage, and he was about the size of a pint jar lid. Actually, in the retelling I usually say he was about the size of a number three washbowl, but as this piece is written for reading aloud at the family hearth, I stick to the scientific and measurable facts. Only a few days later, one of our hounds trapped and killed one of the monsters in the back yard, also of jar lid size.

Carrying my investigation into the highways and byways of the neighborhood, I uncovered the fact that my neighbor has chalked up three tarantulas in the backyard and a scorpion in the house. Another neighbor reports killing three scorpions—one of them in bed. Farther down the street, a Herald reader hesitated to pick his paper off the grass, fearsome of a tarantula lying under it. Sure enough, after kicking the paper over, a rattlesnake was coiled neatly under it. What a relief!

THE ANTS presented quite a problem. Frankly, there are still a few around, but the problem is largely whiped. The question now is how do you rid your real estate of spiders, scorpions and snakes? Rattlesnake these devils in the garage or in the yard is one thing, but I can think of more entertaining pursuits than going two-out-of-three with a scorpion in bed. Besides that, they're ugly.

I suspect, with the rabies problem coming along, we will also be faced with the skunk plague. If skunks start coming to town, they have to walk right by our house to arrive, and I'm sure they'll stop in for a visit.

BY THIS TIME, the casual reader will surmise that I find little to boast of in our move to suburbia. I think it's vastly overrated and would swap houses in a minute with anyone living right downtown, if it weren't for the tremendous payments I promised the FHA people I would make through eternity.

Ants were a minor problem, even a grassless yard I could stand, but how in the world do you combat tarantulas, scorpions, snakes and skunks?

Social Climber—Male Of Species

Now that Edward M. Gilbert, the compulsive check grabber, is in Rio de Janeiro beyond the reach of any U. S. Wyatt Earp, cafe society will have to look around for another patsy to set 'em up in the champagne bar.

Gilbert, who was or wasn't (whose story do you believe?) accompanied by almost $2,000,000 "borrowed" from a Wall Street firm which he formerly headed, is not apt to be back this way in the foreseeable future.

BUT CAFE society won't have to look long or far for another sucker. There are always one, two, three or a dozen Edward M. Gilberts eager to pick up the tab for the privilege of hobnobbing with the cafe set.

Probably the most educational stretch of my lifetime in the newspaper business was as society editor, years ago, of the New York Daily News. I learned more about human and inhuman nature in those years than in all the class books, laboratory work and graduate lectures of Alfred Adler in psychology in which I minored at school.

IT TOOK hand-to-hand combat with assorted social climbers, the guerrilla fighters of the cafe crowd, to teach me that the male of the species is 10 times as deadly as the female once he is bitten by the social bug. That was contrary to all I had read and to all my preconceived notions.

There was then and still is abroad in the land a conviction that such silly, ridiculous actions as social climbing are solely confined to woman; that man is above such foolish, petty strivings.

IN A PIG'S EYE! It gradually dawned on me in those far-off days that a man afflicted with the itch to be in society will shell out any sum of money and put up with any hanky-panky to achieve his goal. He is comparable to a politician stung by the Presidential bee: only death will ever part the twain.

Gilbert, whose house of marked cards collapsed with the current stock market nosedive, is typical of the breed. Although his father was well-to-do and Gilbert did not start from the financial bottom, he was certainly low man on the social totem pole.

BUT HE DIDN'T propose to stay low man for long. No sooner did Gilbert become the newest boy wonder of Wall Street than he yearned to break the barrier of cafe society.

Like all other men of his kidney, he saw money only as a launching pad to put him in social orbit. What was the good of all that gold if he couldn't get his name in the society, gossip, Broadway and night-belt columns? That was the true glamour he yearned for. Better dead than not read daily in some column.

So, like many another smart operator in this field, Gilbert decided to make a pitch for social recognition as a patron of big, glittering charity events. That gambit is almost sure-fire, if one's donation to the charity is sufficiently large.

AND THEN Gilbert had the wit to "consult" Elsa Maxwell. So his second smart move was to attack society first on the Riviera rather than frontally in New York. It's comparable to the tactic of the American operatic singer who hopes, if she knocks 'em dead in Europe, to get a contract at the Met.

In Monaco Gilbert met a New Yorker, a man who like Miss Maxwell, can be "sympathetic" in these matters. Indeed, for that matter, cafe society itself is frightfully sympathetic with anyone who shows the slightest inclination to pick up its checks, as Gilbert did.

SO AS LONG as Wall Street boomed, Gilbert zoomed on the fringes of cafe society. And it wouldn't surprise me if the Rio branch of the cafe set isn't cautiously checking right this minute to determine whether Gilbert can still pay the tab. If so, he'll be a member in good standing, and instantly, in Brazil.

Socialism Fight In Utah

WASHINGTON — The pinpoint issue of November's Senate race in Utah is simple to state, but difficult to resolve, for the presumptive rivals are in accord over what it is — and in conflict over its solution.

This is the question — "Can the U. S. A. be saved for Socialism?"

SENATOR WALLACE BENNETT (R), the incumbent, calls himself an Old Frontiersman and believes that Socialism must be beaten back by opposing practically all of President Kennedy's welfare program and most of his reaches for additional executive power. Congressman David King accepts, a little gingerly, the title of Liberal and he supports all but a few of the President's plans.

Bennett told a Chamber of Commerce meeting: "I have been told that it is politically unwise for me to continue to stand up and fight against these dangerous programs of the New Frontier, even though I present constructive alternatives, because the President is supposedly popular and anyone who opposes him will be defeated. All I can say to this is that if some of us in Congress don't stand up and fight for principle... then this country will deserve the disaster that will befall it. I will not be silenced."

KING TOLD this reporter: "I believe the President needs me in the Senate to help his programs along. When a society continues to have unsolved problems, which become like unhealed wounds, the people will turn to other remedies. Political labels have become very confusing, but I think the conservatism of Senator Bennett leads to Socialism, and that the President's modern Yankee ingenuity is something that can save us from Socialism. The country must move forward. If that's Liberalism, then I'm a Liberal."

BOTH THE 63-year-old Senator, a former businessman, and the 45-year-old Congressman, a lawyer, are subject to their respective parties' conventions and primaries in the late summer and early fall. But already they are reaching for each other's political jugular veins in a series of taunting public statements. Back in 1960 they had a personal encounter which many Utahns regard as a preliminary skirmish of the coming November battle.

Meeting in an impromptu debate at Murray City two years ago, King pulled out the Republican National platform and showed that he favored many of its provisions and was entitled to two-party support — and Bennett pulled out the Congressional voting record and showed him to be in the camp with the labor movement and Americans for Democratic Action.

THE CONGRESSMAN is unhappy about the voting ratings of such organizations as American Farm Bureau, Americans for Constitutional Action, ADA and the AFL-CIO's "COPE," for they depict him to be Liberal on 75 to 100 per cent of the key roll-calls. Bennett enjoys flaunting these same ratings which make him an 85 to 100 per cent conservative.

The impartial Congressional Quarterly rates Bennett at 100 per cent and King at 0 per cent on the key subject of supporting measures to hold down the Federal role in Government and to respect States' Rights.

WHAT ALL this means in Utah remains to be proved. Bennett is the last Republican in what was formerly an all-Republican delegation. King is the son of the late Senator William King, who, from 1916-41, was a League of Nations and anti-trust law Democrat, but was defeated by a Demo-Laborite in his last primary. Bennett believes the State's drift to the Democrats is more apparent than real. Senator Moss (D) displaced Arthur Watkins in 1958, but it was a three-way contest full of strange cross-currents, with former Governor J. Bracken Lee (R) running as an Independent and helping Moss to be elected with 38 per cent of the vote. King believes that the evolutionary Liberalism of his father's day is still moving, and says that men like Bennett fought the tide of history then and fight it now.

ANOTHER UTAHAN, not in the race but in the role of elder prophet, is former Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, who has taken to the lecture trail to warn that the tide is a destructive flood which all good men should try to stem and control.

In a Los Angeles Speech Benson warned that Social Democrats have historically been the forerunners of Communism. Although the former Secretary did not name the American Democratic party or its Liberals, King demanded an apology, saying that Benson had charged "that the Democrats have conspired with Soviet agents to destroy the American system."

BENNETT DIDN'T quite say that (although King insists the inference was there), and certainly Senator Bennett has never gone in for "mean tactics" of any sort. But the King-Benson exchange shows what this Democrat, and probably other Democrats, are beginning to worry about. It's that little boggy rean, Socialism, whom they insist isn't there — but how they wish he'd go away!

Wife's Intuition Indicated It Was His Turn

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—A woman's intuition, astronaut Walter N. Schirra Jr. says, told his wife he'd be the next American in space.

Schirra, a Navy commander, whose selection for the United States' next orbital flight was announced officially Wednesday, says his wife Jo realized this fact some time ago "through a sixth sense which all wives have."

Actually, Schirra told a news conference, the official word was given him Tuesday night although he and his family had been told earlier he was the next astronaut in line.

ENTHUSIASTIC
The reaction from Schirra, his wife and his parents was as expected— "Enthusiastic. Delighted. Happy."

Schirra, 39, who may circle the earth as many as six times, said the additional three orbits would be a great bonus.

"If I am performing well and the capsule is performing well, we will decide during the third orbit whether to go for six," he said.

No major modifications are planned for the capsule or the space suit. Schirra said "we always felt the Mercury capsule had a capability of more than three orbits."

Schirra said he plans to slim down to 171 pounds before the space mission later this summer. He now weighs 175, and keeps in good physical condition by swimming, water skiing and surf boarding.

At the public announcement of his selection, his wife said "I'm delighted that Wally will have this chance."

CHILDREN

Mrs. Schirra, leaving Sunday for the new space agency headquarters in Houston, Tex., said she wouldn't go to Cape Canaveral for the launch because their two children would probably be in school by then.

Marty Schirra, 12, is quite excited, said Mrs. Schirra, but four-year-old Susie isn't aware of the importance of her father's assignment.

"Oh, golly!" said the astronaut's mother in San Diego. "It takes my breath away. My husband and I are so happy for him."

She said she and her husband, a World War I air ace, will remain in California. If the mission goes to six orbits, she said, her son will land in the Pacific and they will see him sooner by remaining on the West Coast.

Administration Wins Sugar Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has won its sugar fight in the Senate with overwhelming passage of a bill that would eliminate subsidies to foreign producers.

Passage Wednesday night by a 76-2 vote after 10 hours of debate sent the measure to a Senate-House conference. There it runs smack into a House bill which is in direct opposition to administration recommendations on foreign sugar purchases.

DEADLINE

The conferees will be working under a tight deadline since the 20-year-old sugar law, which long has divided the American market under tight controls, expires at midnight Saturday.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., head of the Senate delegation, told a reporter he would not be surprised if there is a conference deadlock. He suggested a temporary extension of the present law might result.

Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., who is expected to lead the House conferees, has called the administration bill wholly unacceptable on foreign purchases.

AGREE

Both bills agree on increasing to 60 per cent the U.S. growers' share of the domestic sugar market. It now is 55 per cent.

They also are quite similar on the allocation to American producers of more than 60 per cent of the new growth factor resulting from increasing population, although the Senate measure is slightly more generous to U.S. beet growers.

The two bills disagree completely on the method of handling the 40 per cent of American consumption reserved for foreign countries.

Beside following the administration lead in eliminating the premium subsidy price on foreign purchases, the Senate also knocked out all country-by-country allocations except for the long-standing obligation to the Philippines.

QUOTAS

The House bill named 25 countries and gave them specific quotas.

The Senate accepted Kennedy's proposal that 2.55 million tons of the foreign share be allotted to Cuba if that country's Communist government is overturned. Meanwhile, the tonnage would go to friendly nations on a competitive basis.

The House version reserved 1.5 million tons for Cuba but parceled that out among all nations in the next year.

Blames Witch

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A workman told police a witch killed his wife.

Pedro Perez said Wednesday his wife had complained that a witch had been causing trouble, but that he did not believe it until she died of convulsions last night. He said he was now convinced, and asked police to investigate.

Kennedy Suggests Prayers At Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—Whether the Supreme Court's school prayer decision pleases or displeases, in President Kennedy's view it's the law of the land and commands support. Moreover, he says it should encourage every family to pray more at home.

There is bound to be disagreement, Kennedy said at his news conference Wednesday.

He did not express a personal opinion but declared:

"I think that it is important for us, if we are going to maintain our constitutional principle, that we support Supreme Court decisions even when we may not agree with them."

This was his indirect advice to members of Congress who have denounced the court for holding an official prayer read in New York schools an unconstitutional crossing of the wall separating church and state.

NO COMMENT

Kennedy declined to comment on constitutional amendments proposed to circumvent the ruling until he could measure their effect on the Bill of Rights.

For the controversy over the court decision, Kennedy said, there is a simple remedy. "And that is to pray ourselves." He said it could serve as a reminder to pray more at home, attend church with greater fidelity and make the true meaning of prayer more important in the lives of children.

Kennedy had this to say of other subjects:

Trade—With the house gripped in debate over his tariff-cutting bill, Kennedy said passage this year "is vital to the future of this country." He opposed a Republican move to substitute an extension of present trade law as self-defeating on grounds that "we have exhausted the powers" it provides.

"DON'T ADJOURN"

Congress — Don't adjourn, he suggested, without adopting a good deal more of the administration's legislative program. He enumerated trade, tax, medical care, education and farm proposals among those difficult to get through Congress, where he acknowledged some Democrats have been voting with Republicans for years and have to do better. He called the November congressional elections important, with a workable majority hanging in the balance.

Farm Bill—The unexpected defeat of his wheat and feed grains control measure last week was "a great mistake," Kennedy said. "What is interesting," he added, is that Republicans now indicate they will support an emergency feed grain bill but voted against it with four or five exceptions last year.

Eisenhower — Asked about Eisenhower's assertion that his administration is spending too much on defense and "floundering" in fiscal and economic currents, Kennedy said he didn't enjoy the spending but felt strength helps maintain peace. With some Republicans protesting not enough is done to stand up to the Communists and others saying expenses are too high, he quipped: "There should be some coordination of policy. Otherwise it may appear that the Grand Old Party may be floundering."

BROTHER

His brother—Massachusetts voters, he said, will have to judge the qualifications of Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, a Democratic candidate for the Senate, against complaints there would be too many Kennedys in Washington. But for the first time since his youngest brother entered the race, the President commended him publicly—for work in past campaigns — and expressed "confidence in his ability."

Business—He welcomed a poll which recorded businessmen favoring his tax credit and trade bill but finding his administration antithetical to business, he said, that "most businessmen, No. 1, are Republicans and, No. 2, that they realize what is in the best interests of business and the country, that is, the trade bill and the tax credit."

Troops—Any decision to reduce U.S. forces in Europe would be based on strategic and tactical considerations, Kennedy said. The six divisions now there will remain through "the foreseeable future" and certainly until "we have a clear indication of what the future is going to be in Berlin."

STANDBY AUTHORITY

Taxes — Kennedy again urged Congress to grant him standby tax-cutting authority to cope with economic slumps. As to whether income taxes should be reduced earlier than next Jan. 1, the date he has advocated, Kennedy said the government is keeping watch on signs in the economy. Some are good, he said, and some not so good.

France—The United States accepts the fact, but does not approve, that France is developing its own nuclear deterrent force. "In my judgment," he said "the NATO alliance and the steps we have taken to implement the NATO alliance give adequate security to Europe and the United States."

Rostow—Walt W. Rostow, chief of the State Department's policy planning council has acted very responsibly in preparing a document on national security policies, Kennedy said. He contends the report, which some Republicans have criticized, will help the National Security Council determine what changes are needed in policies laid down in the '50s.
