Doctors Strike Over Medical Care Program

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—A strike by most of Saskatchewan's 700 private doctors swept this province of 925,000 people today as the Socialist provincial government launched the first big compulsory medical insurance plan in North America.

Wilson Charges Officials Should Be Dismissed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson says Undersecretary Charles Murphy and four other Agriculture Department officials should be fired for granting favors to Billie Sol Estes.

Wilson also expressed his view on a television program that Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman should resign for lack of prompt action in the Estes scandal.

An Agriculture Department spokesman declined comment. Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, a member of the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee, appeared on the program as defender of the Agriculture Department. He said his committee, which resumes its hearings in the Estes case Thursday, has found no evidence of favors from Estes to persons still in the Agriculture Department.

Estes, a Pecos, Tex. financier, has under state and federal fraud charges involving about $22 million in mortgages of fertilizer tanks which the FBI has said do not exist. Manipulations of his cotton acreage allotment and storage of government grain also are under state and federal investigation.

Wilson, who has spent three months on the Estes inquiry, said "I don't think there is any question at all that he built an empire on favors, largely in the Department of Agriculture."

The favors included, he said, approval of the cotton allotment deals which he contended were known in Washington before charges were brought against Estes. He also listed movement of government grain to Estes elevators from the Midwest, and failure to increase from $700 to a million dollars the bond on grain Estes stored for the government.

Wilson said Murphy should be fired along with Horace Godfrey, administrator of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Services (ASCS). John C. Bagwell, Agriculture Department general counsel, Joseph A. Moss, director of the ASCS cotton division, and Tom Miller, ASCS Southwest area director.

Muskie said responsibility for the cotton allotment deals "should go back to the grass roots at the county level." He said some ASCS committees in Reeves County, which includes Pecos, received favors from Estes. Some members of this committee, which approved the Estes cotton allotment manipulations, have been discharged.

were closed for the Dominion Day holiday today, but many displayed signs saying they would remain shut. Physicians said they would not give medical advice by telephone and would make house calls only in dire emergencies.

The government medical plan and the doctors' strike—took effect Sunday.

Free emergency treatment was provided by about 240 volunteer doctors at 24 of the province's 120 hospitals, but officials warned they may be unable to extend this service beyond two weeks.

Authorities began moving emergency and chronic cases to the 34 hospitals. The hospitals said they were busy but were not overloaded. One fatality, an infant, was reported.

Ten-month-old Carl Derhousoff, believed suffering from meningitis, died Sunday night en route from his home in Usherville to an emergency treatment center in Yorkton, 75 miles away.

The provincial government said it would call on some of the 110 doctors in the public health service if they were needed to help in the emergency.

Four doctors arrived from Britain here are expected.

The dispute has been raging for 30 months over the plan, which is financed by taxes and ad personal premiums.

The program, modeled after Britain's national health service, provides for all medical services except drugs, dental work, eye glasses, diagnosis and treatment of cancer, and hospitalization.

Hospital costs are covered under a separate government plan. Cancer treatment is provided by the province's cancer clinic.

All Saskatchewan residents except those covered by federal medical plans must register for the provincial medical care plan.

Premiums are $12 a year for a single person and $24 for families. These will pay only part of the estimated $21 million annual cost of the plan. A 5 per cent sales tax and other taxes will supply the rest.

A $25 fine is the penalty for failure to register or pay premiums.

The government claims the doctors oppose the plan because it limits the fees they can charge patients covered by the program. However, the fees set by the law are the same as those paid under two doctor-operated medical insurance plans. The doctors say they ask only that the plan not be compulsory.

Dawson FB Fixes Contest Dates
LAMESA (SC) — The Dawson County Farm Bureau will sponsor its annual queen contest on 8 p.m. July 19. It has been announced by Mrs. Danneil Echols, contest committee chairman.

A new division is being added to the 1962 contest for girls from 12 to 14.
The winner of the senior contest will be eligible to compete in the district event.

Lamesa Delegation At Ceremonies

Part of the Lamesa delegation that attended ceremonies of the Canadian River Water Authority dam at Sanford Saturday is shown below. About two dozen Lamesans joined 12 from Tahoka to formally recognize the launching of a $96,000,000 project to furnish water to a dozen Panhandle and Plains cities. Ray Renner and Sam Richards are Lamesa's representatives on the board.

IN ALGERIA

Leftists Reported Massing For Coup

ALGERIA (AP)—About 4,500 armed supporters of anti-French leftist Ahmed Ben Bella were reported massing today for a military coup in Algeria even as celebrating Moslems celebrated their newly won independence.

A deputy premier in the nationalist government in exile, Ben Bella broke with the moderates led by Premier Youssef Ben Khedda and left Tunis headquarters last week for Tripoli, capital of Libya.

The threat of civil war for long-suffering Algeria did not dampen the enthusiasm of thousands of celebrating Moslems surging through Algeria's cities and towns but French officials were concerned.

They reported Algerian guerrillas aided by deserters of the French-formed local force, were massing near the administrative capital of Rocher Noir 30 miles east of Algiers and in the Blida Atlas Mountains to the south.

News items in Rocher Noir saw movements of Moslem troops on the highways nearby. The troops said they were members of the local force, which consists principally of 60,000 men who served in the French Army. They were formed into special units to assume security during Algeria's transitional period.

Ben Bella has opposed the course of moderation and continued collaboration with France proposed by Ben Khedda of the exile government in Tunisia. Throughout the country, Algerians flocked to the polls Sunday to vote a virtually unanimous "yes" to independence and collaboration with France. Many thousands of Europeans reluctantly joined in the vote.

Many towns registered not a single "no" vote. The final result was expected to be close to 99 per cent affirmative.

The vote set a sweeping seal of approval on the cease-fire agreement that ended the bitter 7½-year Algerian war.

NOT LEGALLY
It did not yet make Algeria an independent nation legally. The separation from France will be formally decreed by President Charles De Gaulle when the final results of Sunday's referendum are known, probably within two or three days.

For jubilant Moslem millions, polls closed Sunday night. Crowds of young Moslem men and women cruised through the streets of the European quarters joyfully chanting nationalist slogans and waving immense green and white Algerian nationalist flags.

In the European strongholds of Algiers and Oran, settlers watched the demonstrations with blum faces but no violent clashes were reported anywhere.

RECOGNITION IN THE OFFING

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will soon "recognize Algeria as an independent nation," an official said today.

State Department press officer Joseph W. Reap said, however, that the United States would wait "until there is a formal pronouncement or proclamation" from French President, Charles de Gaulle, legally announcing Algeria's independence.

ON THE SPOT

Rockefeller obviously had put reluctant Democrats on a spot with a proposal that the conference go on record as favoring more active leadership by the governors in the field of civil rights.

Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio said he favored conference action on this proposal.

But Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California expressed the opinion that this would only give Southern Democratic governors a chance to make some segregation speeches. Lawrence said that each governor would follow his own convictions in any event, adding that he doubted such a resolution would have much practical effect.

COMPROMISE
Rockefeller led a series of endorsements for the compromise proposal worked out by the U.S. Senate for medical care for the aged financed through Social Security taxes.

Brown and DiSalle supported Rockefeller's position. But Powell emphasized his differences with Rockefeller by opposing it.

TOO WEAK TO TRAVEL

Runaway Spy Gains Strength

LONDON (AP)—Runaway spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen was reported out of danger today after trying to kill himself aboard a crowded Israeli airliner returning him to an American prison.

The bad-jumping 62-year-old psychiatrist, sentenced to life imprisonment for spying for the Soviet Union, slashed his wrists and stabbed himself in the abdomen with a steak knife Sunday during a flight back to New York after being refused political asylum in Israel.

Soblen was reported gaining strength in the hospital but remained too weak to travel for the time being. A Justice Department official in Washington said the prisoner's return to the United States is not expected soon because he is not in very good shape.

HOSPITAL
A bulletin issued at Hillingdon Hospital said Soblen's condition has improved, and it is unlikely that an operation will be necessary.

Soblen suffers from leukemia—cancer of the blood—and doctors said last August he had less than a year to live.

Soblen, accompanied by a U.S. marshal, made his suicide attempt aboard an El Al Airlines Boeing 707 over the English Channel as the big jet approached London for a routine stop.

The Lithuanian-born doctor was rushed to Hillingdon Hospital where Scotland Yard detectives stood guard over his room.

CANT STAY
A British Home Office spokesman made clear that Soblen, who was deported Sunday from Israel, would not be allowed to stay in Britain.

As soon as Dr. Soblen is fit enough to travel, he will have to leave the country," the spokesman said.

Soblen forfeited $100,000 bail and fled from the United States last week after losing an appeal against the life sentence given him for spying for the Soviet Union during World War II. He was traced to Tel Aviv, Israeli authorities expelled him on the grounds that he entered the country on false documents — the Canadian passport of his late brother.

Soblen was secretly bundled aboard an Israeli airliner at Lydd Airport Sunday morning for Athens and transferred there to a chartered El Al airliner returning 152 Americans from vacations in Israel.

U.S. Chief Marshal James J. P. McShane, 53, who had flown to Tel Aviv to bring back Soblen, and an Israeli doctor accompanied the convicted spy.

The party traveled in a curtained-off forward section of the big jet. A member of the Israeli embassy staff said that as the plane flew over Europe, Soblen complained he was cold and asked for a blanket. He wrapped himself in it and put the top around his shoulders.

Later, he was served with lunch on a metal tray—smoked salmon, steak and coffee. When no one was looking, he slipped the small steak knife under the blanket, he cut his wrists and plunged the knife into his abdomen.

The first his escorts knew of Soblen's injuries was when they saw blood seeping through the blanket.

TREATED
Soblen's wounds were bandaged by the doctor traveling with him. Most of the 152 charter passengers were unaware of what was going on.

The pilot, Capt. Sam Shamur, radioed ahead to London where the airliner was to make a one-hour stopover to refuel and change crews. As soon as the plane landed, police, immigration officials and ambulance men went aboard.

Strapped to a stretcher, Soblen was carried off the plane and rushed to the hospital.

Earlier, Israeli officials emphasized that Soblen was expelled from the country and not being extradited. The United States and Israel do not have an extradition treaty.

NOT IN CUSTODY
The Justice Department in Washington said Soblen technically was not in McShane's custody, that the marshal was "accompanying" him. Presumably McShane could not have stopped him legally had he tried to leave the plane at London. But because he did not have a valid passport, immigration officials would not have admitted him to Britain.

Independence ceremonies were held in Usumbara and Kizil, capitals of the territories which have been administered by Belgium as Ruanda and Urundi.

Leaders in both cities are fearful of possible future violence from the ancient animosity between the Uru and the more numerous Bahutu they once enslaved. It is feared that this may break out again after Belgian troops leave.

The two nations, with combined populations of five million and an area totaling about 20,000 square miles, start out with little money in their treasuries and few resources to sustain them.

President Kennedy sent congratulations to both nations and expressed U.S. willingness to assist them in the cause of freedom and peace.

The new nations received quick recognition from the Communist side.

RELATIVE SAYS

West Texan Was Offered $5,000 To Kill Marshall

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Chronicle quoted a relative of Henry H. Marshall Sunday as saying the FBI knows the identity of a man who claimed he was offered $5,000 to be the late agriculture official's assassin.

L. M. Owens of Franklin, Marshall's brother-in-law, told the Chronicle an FBI agent showed him three pictures of the man, who is supposed to live in West Texas.

He, the FBI agent told me this fellow claims he was offered $5,000 to kill Henry Marshall. I told him I'd never seen the man before," Owens said.

He said there was no suggestion by the agent as to who was trying to hire a killer.

Apparently the man in the picture, described by Owens as being big, chunky and in his 30's, has been cleared of any complicity in Marshall's death, the Chronicle said.

Owens and a neighbor found Marshall's body on his ranch near Franklin June 3, 1961. The 52-year-old chief of production adjustments for the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service had been shot five times with a bolt action rifle.

Marshall's death was ruled suicide at the time.

High Nuclear Test Shot Is Scheduled

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States will make a third try at exploding its biggest and highest atmospheric nuclear shot of the current Pacific series on Wednesday night, the Fourth of July, above Johnston Island.

A spokesman for Joint Task Force 8, which is conducting the tests at Johnston and British-owned Christmas Island, said the blast is scheduled between 4 a.m. Thursday and 7:30 a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Washington reports have indicated the explosion will bring the Pacific series near conclusion. The reports said the series is about 85 per cent completed.

The test comes within the two or three months mentioned by President Kennedy in March when he announced the decision to resume nuclear testing. The series, tagged Operation Dominic, began April 25.

Officially, the high-altitude device will have the explosive force of more than a million tons of TNT, the power scientists call a megaton. Unofficially, it is expected to be up to 50 times as powerful as the nuclear warhead dropped on Hiroshima.

The explosion is expected to go off at an altitude of about 200 miles.

The first high shot attempt, June 4, was aborted when the Thor missile's tracking system failed. The second attempt, on June 19, was scrubbed when the Thor fuel overheated and collapsed. Parts of the second rocket fell back on Johnston Island, slightly injuring two civilian technicians.

The blast may knock a hole in the ionosphere, a layer of space particles which reflect radio waves, and disrupt communications throughout the Pacific for hours.

Sand Springs Ramps Asked

Howard County Commissioners court has dispatched a letter to the State Highway Department asking that ramps be built at the Sand Springs viaduct.

The growth of the Sand Springs community since 1956 when IS 20 was built has made the need for these ramps imperative, according to Ralph White, county commissioner.

He has a letter from Rep. George Mahon in which Mahon relates that he has been working with the Bureau of Roads and other agencies in an effort to have them order the ramps.

A letter from DeWitt Greer, State Highway Department engineer, related that when the road was built in December, 1956 the state had asked that ramps be built at the Sand Springs point but that the U. S. Bureau of Roads had rejected the request.

Again in July 1960, Greer renewed his request, and once again the plea was rejected. Mahon said he had been unable to change the views of the bureau so far. Greer spearheaded by a letter from the Howard County Commissioners Court, might be helpful in breaking the bottleneck.

More Convicts Climb Down

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two more convicts, including ringleader Robert Payne, came down from a water tower today at Western State Penitentiary. That left only one of the original 13 prisoners perched on the tower.

Surrendering with Payne, 29, was James Reed, 24. Still holding out was Charles Miller, 32, serving a life term for murder.

Warden James Maroney said Payne and Reed "didn't look good, their lips were puff and swollen," but they climbed down on their own.

Guards immediately escorted the pair to the prison hospital where they were placed under treatment for exposure and the effects of thirst and lack of food.

Payne is serving a term for parole violation and armed robbery conviction, Reed is a convicted robber.

Governor's Confab Split Straight Along Party Lines

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Democratic governors reported majority support today for a program of medical care for the elderly financed through social security.

But they split wide open, as usual, on the question of a declaration on civil rights.

Republican state executives, meeting in a separate caucus in this politics-packed 4th annual Governors' Conference, exactly reversed the Democrats' stand.

Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire chairman of the conference, reported a majority of the Republicans opposed to the Kennedy administration's compromise health care bill scheduled for U.S. Senate consideration. But he said they were unanimous in their pro-civil rights position.

VARIETY
Gov. Stephen L. R. McNichols of Colorado said a wide variety of issues was discussed at a party headed by Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey.

term, as new chairman of the conference to succeed Powell. Traditionally, Democrats and Republicans alternate in the chairmanship.

Governors reported that Florida and California are bidding for next year's meeting of the organization.

GENERAL
Although Bailey said there was only "general" discussion of the issues at the Democratic caucus, Gov. John B. Swainson of Michigan said a majority appeared to favor a civil rights resolution he has authored.

Asked if there was Southern opposition, he replied: "There was some restlessness, but we outvoted them."

If the conference acts on civil rights, which may be doubtful, northern Democrats are expected to push Swainson's resolution. He proposed that the candidate go on record as supporting equality in balloting, the holding of public office, legal protection, employment, education, housing and public facilities.

Rockefeller said he found it "unusual" that Democrats would commend the president for something he had not yet done.

In a panel discussion of state problems Rockefeller told his colleagues that the federal government is short-changing the states in meeting the problems of heavily urbanized areas.

"CALM"
Pennsylvania's Gov. David L. Lawrence said in welcoming the state executives he hopes they will set a record for "calm, rational discussion and mutually provident decision."

But the smell of politics was stronger than the odor of chocolate in this candy-making center of America.

Given the opportunity at a news conference, Rockefeller fired a blast at the Kennedy administration. Asked if President Kennedy had fulfilled his 1960 campaign promise to "get America moving," he asked "in what direction?" Powell criticized what he called the Democratic administration's "antagonistic attitude toward the business and free enterprise community" which he said provided the jobs that the country needs to move ahead economically.

Rockefeller obviously had put reluctant Democrats on a spot with a proposal that the conference go on record as favoring more active leadership by the governors in the field of civil rights.

Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio said he favored conference action on this proposal.

But Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California expressed the opinion that this would only give Southern Democratic governors a chance to make some segregation speeches. Lawrence said that each governor would follow his own convictions in any event, adding that he doubted such a resolution would have much practical effect.

Rockefeller led a series of endorsements for the compromise proposal worked out by the U.S. Senate for medical care for the aged financed through Social Security taxes.

Brown and DiSalle supported Rockefeller's position. But Powell emphasized his differences with Rockefeller by opposing it.

Rain Teases Local Area

Rain fell on two sides of Big Spring again Sunday afternoon, but didn't get in the city limits enough to measure. The Big Spring Experiment Station rain gauge showed .01 of an inch.

The heaviest fall was to the west of the city. A strip two miles wide and about eight miles long, got rain measuring from one-half to an inch and a half.

The Wilkerson ranch, in that area measured 1.5 inches. Some rain fell to the north. Around Knott the fall measured from .20 at the Coop Gin to .75 in a five-mile area. Fairview Gin 5, Vincent 2 to a shower. Wilson ranch east of Vealmoor 2.63 in June. Ackery trace, Forsart trace, Garden City 3.

Texas Electric gauges registered in only two places Morgan Creek station, Colorado City, got .06 of an inch and Eskota 39.

The clouds were heavy in the north, west, and southwest Sunday afternoon.

Scattered Rain Still Expected
By The Associated Press
Rain carried over from a comparatively wet June is expected to continue in Texas through the first few days of July in the form of scattered thundershowers.

Weather Bureau forecasters call for considerable cloudiness over the state with widely scattered thundershowers in most areas.

Kennedy's Hopes Buoyed By Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's hopes for success of his Alliance for Progress were buoyed today by his second personal diplomatic venture into Latin America—a smashing triumph in Mexico City.

Kennedy Jests

President Kennedy brings a laugh from his audience at a low-cost housing project he visited in Mexico City. He remarked it must be discouraging to the director of such a fine new project to realize that all the young señoritas present soon would grow up, get married, and have families of eight and nine children, thus increasing the director's problem.

The two governments, the United States and Mexico, agreed to take such measures as may be immediately feasible to reduce the salt content of the water flowing from the Colorado River into northern Mexico. From there the American visitors reported to the basílica and were greeted personally by Archbishop Miguel Darío Miranda, Roman Catholic primate of Mexico, who celebrated the 30-minute low Mass at the main altar.

Millions of Mexicans in gay fiesta spirit poured into the squares and esplanades of their capital and packed the streets to cheer the President and Mrs. Kennedy on their weekend visit. That outpouring of humanity, which all but engulfed the presidential bubble-top limousine as it inched its way Sunday from Mexico's most famous shrine, the basilica of Our Lady of Guadalupe, alone marked the trip a success.

Never before had Mexico City turned out in such masses to greet a visiting dignitary. Government personnel who have been traveling with presidents for years say the pulsating reception exceeded any they had witnessed.

Wherever he spoke at official luncheons or at the Mexican government's big housing project outside the city, Kennedy talked of revolution in the peaceful sense. He associated political and economic progress in the 1960s with the revolutions that had advanced both the United States and Mexico in the past.

The joint communiqué issued Saturday by Kennedy and President Adolfo López Mateos of Mexico bound the two countries to work side by side in promoting the wellbeing of all inhabitants of the hemisphere. It also joined them in recognizing the independence of each nation and to oppose intervention, whether from Castro's Cuba or Khrushchev's Moscow.

On the major dispute, between the two countries, Kennedy said the Alliance for Progress is a "peaceful revolution" to benefit the little people of the hemisphere. He obviously is working on the theory that loans and grants aren't enough that the job can't be done without enthusiasm of both governments and people.

From that standpoint the President and First Lady scored heavily on their trip to Venezuela and Colombia last December. Their weekend in Mexico City was even more spectacular.

'I Say There, Where Are All The Signs?'

LEICESTER, England (AP) — Pretty Cheryl Johnson of Tulsa, Okla., popped her head out of the airplane cockpit and shouted: "Say, folks, which way to Coventry?"

Startled at the sight of a smiling girl and an airplane in the middle of a cow pasture, Peter McGorrian hurried over. "Please show me where I am," said Cheryl, producing a map. "I'm heading for Coventry." Peter obliged.

"Thanks," said Cheryl, taking off in her rented little Tiger Moth. In a few minutes she landed in another field. This time she'd run out of gas near Worcester.

Miss Johnson, in Britain 10 days as an exchange student, started out from Leicester Sunday on a motor bike. "I passed Coventry airport and I saw that lil' of Tiger Moth," she said. "It looked so cute I wanted to fly it."

She produced her pilot's license. The rent-a-plane people checked her out on the instruments and let her go. "Gee, they don't mark things over here like they do at home," she said.

"When I saw no names I got lost. Then I tried to get back to the Coventry airport. I was relieved to get down safely. I was very anxious and fearful when I ran out of gas. I was at about 1,600 feet and the engine went off. I'd never before landed a plane with a halted engine, but luckily I saw a pasture."

Wink Being Transformed By Urban Renewal Program

By DAVE SCLAIR, Editor, The Wink County News, Written For The Associated Press. WINK, Tex. (AP)—This town of 1,963 is possibly unique in the history of the United States. Its growth, building record, oil boom, population decline and lately its urban renewal program have brought it this distinction.

Stories, pictures and radio and television news commentators have commented, editorialized and screamed about Wink. All because of its urban renewal program.

The project, for which the federal government agreed to lend the local agency more than $200,000 and give it another $800,000, is now one year old. What is it all about?

Some time ago, Wink voted overwhelmingly to go ahead with the plan and organization for an urban renewal program, a project to wipe out long-standing reminders of Wink's heyday, making the business area into a model shopping center-type and generally revamp the community.

In July 1961, the word came that Wink had been approved for a $1,034,758 loan and grant from the Federal Urban Renewal Agency.

Publicity quieted down about the Wink program after a few months, but activity in the town didn't slow one iota. Month after month, officials cleared deeds, obtained more property and had structures removed from additional sites.

Raymond Parr heads the 221-acre slum clearance program. Parr says the agency has acquired 95 per cent of all the properties in the project area. Most structures have been razed and the lots cleared.

The beginning of the site improvement phase of the endeavor is under way, with one street in the city already paved and more scheduled to receive similar treatment. City and school district construction programs in the urban renewal work are well under way.

About $225,000 has been expended. "We are nearing the completion of the buying stage of the program," Parr said.

After the agency acquired the properties, the buildings, most of them sub standard, had to be cleared from the land.

"This is one phase of the program which has lacked understanding," Parr said. "People think we have paid extremely high prices for the buildings and then are selling them back to people for next to nothing."

"In reality, the people who buy these structures from us, tear them down and clear the land are doing us a favor. If they didn't do that we would have to pay someone to do it."

He said $28,774 has been received for the buildings. About 35 more are to be sold for perhaps $1,750.

Four businesses have been relocated from their old sites. Two of them have opened in new spots. Seven other businesses will be moved.

The town has lost 14 families to other cities. In all, 65 families were bought out because their residences were classed as sub-standard. Eleven of these families have moved to federal low-cost housing and 40 others have secured adequate other housing.

Moving expenses are paid for by the agency. Thus far, $8,332 has been paid for relocating. "A vast waste of federal funds" Creation of an oasis in the West Texas desert? Or smart shopping by Wink residents?

No one is sure, yet. The face of Wink has changed though. Eye-sores of half-demolished buildings are gone. New building is under way. The population has remained about the same.

Of course, there has been no mass movement of residents to the city that urban renewal is rebuilding nor have any new businesses shown up.

AP ANALYSIS JFK Dramatizes Progress Alliance

By WILLIAM L. RYAN, AP Special Correspondent. MEXICO CITY (AP)—What is President Kennedy accomplishing or trying to accomplish, by his personal diplomacy in Latin America?

Mexico was the third Latin American country, the president visited in his campaign to dramatize the Alliance for Progress. Few would deny he has scored a significant personal triumph. He made whirlwind trips to Venezuela and Colombia last December. Brazil at the end of July is next. There may be more.

PERSONAL TRIUMPHS. President Kennedy's personal triumphs in Venezuela, Colombia and Mexico indicate that many of the people of those countries regard the United States and the policies of its young president with hope and high expectation.

The alliance is dramatized in this way. But are there some dangers in dramatizing a program that raises hope that in a relatively short time Latin America can cure ailments which are the heritage of centuries?

The sobering fact is that the alliance cannot work unless those who run Latin America's governments and control its wealth cooperate to make it work. For the most part those who control the wealth continue to drag their feet, unwilling to sacrifice the privileges and advantages their class enjoys.

Whenever there is a prospect of political convulsion, Latin American capital flees to safe havens abroad. Of all Latin American countries, Mexico has had most success in freeing itself of past evils. Its revolution over a half century did

Hotel Frame Now Rubble

FORT WORTH (AP)—A team of engineers start probing a pile of twisted rubble today to learn what caused the steel and concrete frame for the new 7-story Towers Hotel to collapse.

The framework for the luxury hotel, being built off the west freeway near the downtown section at a cost of $2,000,000, collapsed about 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

No one was injured. Seven construction workers, lying in trailers 40 feet away, escaped the crash of tons of steel and concrete. Most residents of the area did not know of the collapse until midmorning when they missed sight of the structure.

O. T. Eames, construction superintendent for Tex-Craft Builders Inc., Houston, contractors, gazed at the wreckage and said "It took three seconds to fall and we had been working on it since February."

He estimated the loss at $280,000. He said the timetable for the construction, which was scheduled for completion in November, probably would be set back three months.

Eames said the collapse could have been caused by deficiencies in the concrete or lift-slab process, some other structural defect or sabotage.

Sergeant York Is Recovering

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Sgt. Alvin York is recovering satisfactorily from surgery for an enlarged prostate gland, a hospital spokesman said today. The spokesman called the operation an apparent success and said the 74-year-old Medal of Honor winner could return to his home in Pall Mall, Tenn., in about a week.

York has been bedfast for about 10 years following a series of strokes.

PONDERING Mysteries May Be Connected

By SAM DAWSON, AP Business News Analyst. NEW YORK (AP)—The financial markets have a couple of mysteries to ponder this holiday week. The solutions might be explained each other.

The first is growing evidence that tighter money and higher interest rates may be sought even though the business recovery seems to be running out of steam. That is just opposite from the way federal money markets anxious to see the economy grow are expected to act.

GOLD STOCK. The second mystery is why the nation's gold stock hasn't diminished in six weeks. During that time there has been increasing talk abroad about the potential weakness of the dollar even of eventual devaluation, a rising speculative demand for gold in preference to dollars, and the apparent buildup of dollars in European central banks. In more normal times these would lead to a renewed outflow of gold from the U.S. Treasury.

Many students of financial whodunits think the two mysteries are connected this way: European bankers appear to be acting under an accord reached several months ago to protect the dollar from any such speculative onslaughts.

SOLUTION. And the U.S. money managers, in turn, could be heading European advice that way to lessen outside pressure on the dollar is to raise interest rates here. This helps to keep investment money at home instead of going overseas to add to the pile of dollars available for exchange for U.S. Treasury gold.

Such a solution of the two riddles—that one explains the other—supposes that the U.S. administration feels that the pressure on the dollar is the more important threat just now than any chance of a serious letdown in the domestic economy in the immediate future.

But international and domestic money matters rarely are as simple as the plots of whodunits. There are other factors cited in Wall Street for the apparent tightening of money and credit by the Federal Reserve so that the banks' free reserves for lending are the lowest since October 1960—and the talk that the Fed may raise the interest charge on funds it lends to banks.

One factor is the prospect of increasing federal deficits which will add to the money supply, offsetting the Fed's tightening measure. Another is the growth in savings accounts, also adding to the funds the banks could lend.

STIFFER MEASURES. But what the financial observers would like to know—and are never told in advance—is whether the current tightening of money reserves is a prelude to stiffer measures to raise interest rates. For the banks themselves this would mean better profit prospects. They have raised the rates they pay on savings accounts, but haven't been able to hike the charges to lenders.

For borrowers, whether business firms or consumers, higher interest charges might mean second thoughts on going into debt to buy goods or equipment or finance business ventures.

But still another aspect of the financial puzzle. Could this reluctance be overcome by tax cuts or by increased government spending that promised more orders, more output, more jobs?

Radio Beacon Is Re-Named

WASHINGTON (AP)—The initials of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson are sprinkled liberally around his big ranch in Texas—but the LBJ brand will no longer be used as call letters on a nearby radio homing beacon.

A Federal Aviation Agency spokesman said Sunday night that the landing strip now is known officially as JCY, for nearby Johnson City, instead of LBJ.

"We think it is more appropriate to call it JCY," the spokesman said. "I guess there are some people besides the vice president who use that little airport."

There is some evidence that Johnson himself asked the FAA to take his initials off the air waves. An FAA spokesman said the change was made after Johnson learned of the call letters—but he said he did not know whether the vice president requested the change.

The equipment—described as a low-frequency homer—was installed shortly before the visit last year of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. The FAA official said it would be kept there as long as Johnson and other VIPs use the airport.

He said technicians who installed the equipment dubbed it LBJ.

Farmer Recovers From Lockjaw

CHICAGO HEIGHTS, Ill. (AP) — Ralph Douma, a 72-year-old farmer, left St. James Hospital Sunday, apparently fully recovered from acute lockjaw after 22 days of treatment which included emergency oxygen administration in a pressure chamber.

The successful treatment, using a decompression chamber, was believed to have been a medical first in the United States. Acute lockjaw, or tetanus, is almost always quickly fatal.

Camille Varriale, 3, of Tinley Park, another acute tetanus victim, is still in the hospital after undergoing treatment similar to that given Douma.

Just before the count ended, two Abilene men were killed when their car went out of control and slammed into a bridge abutment five miles south of Abilene.

Boy Hidden By Zealots Is Located

NEW YORK (AP) — United States immigration officials believe they have found a 10-year-old Israeli boy kidnaped by Orthodox Jewish zealots and hidden for three years. They awaited the arrival of the missing youth's mother from Israel for positive identification.

An immigration official announced Sunday night that a child answering the description of missing Yossele Schumacher had been taken from a Brooklyn family with whom he had been living. He said the child was in the custody of an immigration matron in a New York hotel.

Peter A. Esperdy, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, said the child is in good health and was surrendered voluntarily. There were no arrests.

Esperdy said the boy was taken into custody because of "an alleged violation of the immigration laws."

The case of Yossele Schumacher (Yossele is a nickname) started in 1957 in Jerusalem when his orthodox grandparents, Rabbi and Mrs. Nahman Starkes, took care of the boy because his immigrant parents did not have a proper apartment there.

When the parents demanded the child's return three years ago, the rabbi refused on grounds there would be a lack of religious discipline in the child's home. Then the child disappeared. Prolonged efforts in Israel and abroad failed to locate him.

Rabbi Starkes was jailed because he refused to give the police information concerning disappearance of the child, believed by Israeli authorities to have been kidnaped by Orthodox Jews.

Sawed Out, Gave Up

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Six condemned murderers sawed their way out of the cells on San Quentin Prison's death row early today, clubbed two guards and held them hostage for three hours before surrendering meekly after prison officials lobbed tear gas into the cell block.

The guards were hospitalized with head injuries after their release.

Aspicate Warden Dale B. Frady, in an interview, said the prisoners had sawed their bars over a period of time and disguised the cuts.

Frady said the hack saw they had somehow smuggled into the row was found after their surrender.

Frady said today's break went this way:

Shortly after 1 a.m. one of the men jammed a toilet Guard C. L. Deatrick went to see what was wrong. As he returned to the cell area, he was struck from behind with a sawed off bar.

The other guard, Sgt. R. R. Kardell was in the death row office at the end of the block. The convicts used Deatrick's keys to get into the office.

STRIKE AVERTED BY POSTAL EMPLOYEES

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Government and union negotiators reached an eleventh-hour compromise Sunday night to avert a strike by 46,000 postal employees.

The strike was scheduled to start at midnight to press demands for a pay hike for the postal and telegraphic employes amounting to 72.1 million schillings, or 77 million dollars.

After all-day talks climaxing the four-month conflict, the government-controlled post administration agreed to pay the employes a lump sum in advance and the rest in September.

FEUD RENEWED

Sketchy reports said Gonzalo Gallardo and 40 relatives attacked Federico Mejia and his family in reprisal for the slaying of a Gallardo.

Any Tax Cut Is Considered Only A Temporary Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there is an income tax cut effective this year or even next Jan. 1, it will have to be a temporary slash, with an early date fixed for automatic restoration of higher rates.

This is the opinion of key members of Congress who would have to do the spadework of tax-reducing legislation. The procedure still officially favored by the Kennedy administration—income tax rate reduction as part of general tax reform, enacted next year but made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1963—simply isn't practicable for any quick relief they believe.

Two years is the minimum time required to work out and enact a general revision of the Internal Revenue Code, one congressional expert of the highest qualifications estimated.

BOOST
While leaders have made no commitments, the mechanics that would be required for an early tax cut inevitably are being talked about informally, as pressure outside Congress builds up for a fast-acting boost to the economy.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce joined Friday the ranks of tax-cut advocates, which also include the AFL-CIO.

The Kennedy administration is known to be thinking in terms of a $6.5-billion tax cut if it becomes convinced such action is needed to keep the economy from sliding down. Sources close to President Kennedy said Saturday his present feeling is that the time for a tax reduction has not yet arrived.

LOWERING TOP
Kennedy advisers are talking about the possibility of lowering the present top of 32 per cent on corporations to 30 per cent. This would involve a $5-billion reduction for business. Another $800 million reduction should result from raising the present 6000 exemption for individuals to $800.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said Sunday he hoped Congress would vote to reduce corporate and individual tax rates by at least $5 billion before it adjourns.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., said in a recorded television interview that if a tax cut is necessary to give the economy a boost "it ought to be done now."

The tax writers face a dilemma. If a tax cut is to be effective in curbing what some consider the present uncertain state of health of the nation's economy, it must come quickly.

But if Congress simply cuts taxes now it may well destroy the chances of a methodical rewriting later of the Topsy-like tax structure.

This is because any tax rewriting necessarily will rouse the opposition of interests that have a special stake in this or that provision built into the complicated tax code over the years.

"SWEETENER"
To counter these separate oppositions, congressional tax writers are convinced they must wrap the package with a universally appealing "sweetener"—a general income tax cut.

The suggested solution is a tax reduction strictly limited in time — perhaps only six months. Then the prospect of making it permanent could still serve, at least to some extent, as a "sweetener" to ease a later tax reform effort.

'DOMINANT FORCE'

Merged Church Ends Convention

DETROIT (AP) — A fresh ecumenical venture was in progress today under a gold-and-white banner bearing the cross.

The emblem is that of the newly merged Lutheran Church in America, which has concluded its constituting convention here.

"God's hand has led us on our way but not to our destination," the Rev. Dr. Harry F. Baughman, of Gettysburg, Pa., said at a closing service Sunday.

OPEN DOOR
Ahead, he said, the new church faces an open door to new accomplishment and greater victory in the midst of modern influences challenging spiritual truth.

In four swift-paced days of legislation and ceremony culminating six years of planning, the new church set its organizational machinery in motion.

Its constitution sets this objective: "This church lives to be the instrument of the Holy Spirit in obedience to the commission of its Lord."

As for the effect of the four-denomination merger, embracing a total of 3,186,310 Lutherans, the Rev. Dr. E. E. Ryden, Minneapolis, a veteran Lutheran editor, said: "It will make the church an increasingly dominant force not only in the evangelization of America but also in influencing its thinking and in shaping its ideals."

BUDGET
In its final weekend business sessions, the convention adopted an overall budget of $58,641,332 for the 1963-64 biennium.

Delegates authorized church participation in various denominational organizations of interdenominational cooperation.

These include the National Council of Churches and the World Council of Churches, embracing most major Protestant and Orthodox bodies, and the Lutheran World Federation, including 30 million of the world's 70 million Lutherans.

The convention also voted unanimously to join in negotiations for setting up a new inter-Lutheran agency in America.

Similar action had been taken earlier at a convention in Cleveland by the 2,600,000-member Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, which in the past has stood aloof from such associations.

SOLIDARITY
The increasing solidarity among Lutherans was dramatically symbolized by an unusual appearance at the convention here Saturday by the Rev. Dr. John W. Behnen, of St. Louis, retiring president of the Missouri Synod. He came to congratulate the new church.

The projected inter-Lutheran agency also would include the 2,300,000-member American Lutheran Church, a 1960 merger of together, the three Lutheran bodies have more than 8 million members.

Activities establishing the new church closed with a festive Sunday afternoon service of thanksgiving, including the installation of the church's three principal officers. They are the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, New York, president; the Rev. Dr. Malvin H. Lundeen, Minneapolis, secretary, and Edmund F. Wagner, a New York banker, treasurer.

HEADQUARTERS
The church will have headquarters in New York, with division offices in Philadelphia, Chicago and Minneapolis. Its 6,172 congregations are being organized in 30 regional synods. It has 6,499 clergymen, 23 colleges and 13 seminaries.

DALLAS (AP) — Socrates, Bazaquas ran 13 miles to a church picnic Sunday.

When Socrates got there he couldn't stay — not even long enough for a cup of iced beer. He would have been late for work.

His long run was part of a Greek Orthodox church relay. The idea was to take a torch lit by an altar candle at the church to the picnic 13 miles away.

Thirteen runners were designated to run the 13 miles in one-mile segments. Socrates was supposed to run the final mile.

But a year ago, Socrates, 25, was a prize miler for East Texas State College, so he decided to do the whole course, sprinting along side the other dozen runners through their one-mile jaunts.

Angels Surprising In Loop Lead Bid

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Angels are wearing their halos at a slightly jaunty, rakish angle, and if their smiles are more devil-may-care than angelic these days—well, there's pretty good reason for it.

Of course, it may be a rather unangelic attitude that's struck by these Los Angeles Angels, but then, they don't often look much like angels in any event.

But the name on the uniform confirms the first point and the American League standings verify the second. They're only three percentage points out of first place and here it is almost time for the All-Star break.

The Angels, generally picked to finish deep in the second division in the pre-season selections, give no indication of forsaking the ride on Cloud Nine.

They gave a good indication of that Sunday when they split a doubleheader with New York at Yankee Stadium, losing the first 6-3 but rallying for the second 12-5. It gave the Angels a 2-2 split and their four-game series in New York and in their two-year history they had won at the Stadium.

INDIANS SCALPED

The split, along with Chicago's sweep over Cleveland, 5-4 and 7-6 dropped the Indians from first to third, in a virtual tie with Minnesota, which blanked Washington 9-0. That puts New York in first, three points up on Los Angeles, Cleveland in third only a half game behind the Minnesota in fourth, only three points' back of the Indians.

Detroit edged Baltimore 3-2 and Kansas City beat Boston 9-5 in the others.

The Angels' affair with the Yankees was a bit on the stormy side, involving a full-blown riot and some unbygone language in each game.

HOMERS WIN

The Yanks won the first on homers by Hector Lopez and Tom Tresh, while the Angels rallied for runs in the eighth to take the second.

Lopez' three-run homer in the sixth of the opener was disputed by the Angels. Right fielder Leon Wagner fell into the stands as he grabbed the ball, but umpire John Stevens ruled he had not leapt on to it.

The second major argument broke out in the eighth inning of the second game. With men on first and second, Jim Fregosi led a fly along the right field line which was touched by a fan and ruled a ground rule double. Gordon Windhorn scored the tie-breaking run, but the umpires would not allow Bilko to score from first. Winning pitcher Art Fowler (9-3) drilled a single as the next batter, driving in two runs.

Chicago took advantage of Cleveland errors and the resulting unearned runs in sweeping two from the Indians. Camilo Carrero's pinch triple with two out in the ninth drove in three unearned runs and won the first game. A fifth-inning six-run uprising, five of which were unearned as Gene Green dropped two fly balls, secured the nightcap.

Camilo Pascual (14-4) tossed his second straight shutout, 5-0; at the Washington Senators and was supported by a 13-hit Minnesota attack including home runs by Lennie Green, Bernie Allen, Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew. Pascual struck out four to push his league-leading total to 136 and went the distance for the 11th time this season.

Nats Abound In Pitching Stars

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Drysdale of Los Angeles and Joey Jay of Cincinnati are the latest candidates to file for the job of starting the All-Star games for the National League team. But the job may have been taken.

Sandy Koufax, Drysdale's sensational Dodger teammate, weighed in with such an impressive bid on his Saturday night no-hitter against the New York Mets that the others may be wasting their time.

Fredly Hutchinson, the manager who must make the decision, is well aware that Koufax's left slant would be just the thing to handle an American League lineup heavily spiked with left-handed hitters.

Drysdale and Jay kept their names alive Sunday, especially the handsome Dodger right-hander. Drysdale struck out 13 Mets. He won only 13 all last season. Jay chalked up No. 11 with a 6-1 nine-inning at Houston.

Actually an unused Chicago Cub pitcher, Don Cardwell, who has won only five games turned in the best pitching job on the Sunday program but he lost his two-hitter to Milwaukee 1-0 because of fielding lapses, including his own.

Despite the dramatic weekend performances by the Dodgers' pitchers, the San Francisco Giants still are hanging in there with a one-half game lead in the National League's two-run single was the big blow in three-run rally in the eighth inning for a 5-4 edge over the troublesome Phillies.

St. Louis brought back some of the old Cardinals and the Yankees of the 1942 World Series on an Oldtimers' Day program but messed it up by losing the regularly scheduled game to Pittsburgh 7-2. Even the sight of old Enos Slaughter steaming around the bases on a triple in the nostalgic game, couldn't make up for the three-run triple that Don Hoak hit to beat the Cards in their fight for third place.

Cardwell lost his two-hitter in the third inning. Mack Jones doubled and took third when Cardwell fumbled Joe Adcock's grounder before throwing him out. A passed ball by Dick Bertell let Jones score the lone run. Bob Hentley was the winner.

Hoak ruined the day for St. Louis fans when he tripped off Stan Musial's glove against the left field wall with the score tied at 2-2 in the sixth.

NO MORE ORPHANS New Pirates Blast Out Teen-Age Loop Victory

The Coahoma Drillers clipped the Pirates 8-7 in a National League Teen-Age baseball game during the weekend.

In the American League, Coahoma edged the Optimists 3-2 while the Tigers blasted the McMahon Indians 14-5.

The national league game was called due to the time limit after the Pirates had pulled off a 5-run rally in the fourth. Coahoma scored two runs in the bottom of the fourth to come from behind to win the game. The Indians blasted out five runs in the first frame of their game, but in doing so they shot their wad as the Tigers came on strong to club out a victory. Incidentally, the Tigers (who had been the Orphans) were playing their first game under-sponsorship of Whatley Printing Company.

Tigers Cop Double Win Off Loving

The Loving, N. M. Eagles knew about the Big Spring Tigers today after absorbing a baseball lesson here Sunday.

Big Spring swept both ends of a twin-bill, 14-4 and 6-4.

The first game was no contest after the first inning when the Tigers erupted with four runs on six hits. In the second, the Tigers lagged momentarily before a 3-run uprising in the fifth iced the game. Loving pushed across four runs in a final desperate rally that fell short in the top of the ninth.

Andy Mendoza, P. Martinez, Robert Dutchover each had doubles in the first game, and Pierrro had a triple. Collyer and Pierrro and Martinez accounted for double play. Jo Cadenhead got credit for the victory, striking out two and walking one. Medina was the losing pitcher, walking 8 and striking out seven. Martinez hit a home run for the visitors and Travis got a double.

Tommy Dutchover got the victory in the second, relieving Haracio Yanez in the second inning. Yanez walked five and struck out two in his stint while Dutchover walked a pair and whiffed as many. Martinez was the loser, walking six and striking out seven. Andy Gamboa and Albert Mendoza doubled for the winners, and Pierrro, Collyer and Gusman turned in a double play. Castro and Pito doubled for the losers.

The Tigers may play Odessa.

R. H. Weaver, a past champion, passed up the Big Spring Country Club July 4 golf tournament (it determines a club champion) to compete in the San Angelo Partnership meet, which attracted a record 300 players.

His partner was Craig Porter of San Angelo and they 69 was good enough to get them in the first flight.

Other Big Spring linksters active in the San Angelo meet included Bobby Wright, Jimmy Patterson, David Jones, Tommy Wilkerson and Bobby Leatherwood.

In case it slipped up on you, this is National Safe Boating Week, as proclaimed by President Kennedy.

Dexter Elkins, the SMU vaulter, probably was the first athlete ever transferred out of the University of Southern California and became a national champion. He tied for first place in the pole vault in the NCAA meet this spring.

Elkins spent his freshman year at USC.

Preasley Cooper, the Odessa Ector boy who had signed a letter of intent to attend Texas Tech, will instead play football and baseball for the University of Houston.

In announcing his change of plans, Cooper said he was influenced by the fact that Houston had a better baseball program.

When Roger Hennig, Mac Percival, Del Ray Mounts and Harold Hudgens ran out of eligibility after the past season, the Texas Tech basketball team lost men who accounted for 79 per cent of the Raiders' scoring the past two years.

Getting a boost in the world sometimes does things to people, especially athletes.

Take the case of Dale Maxvill, who recently was promoted from the Tulsa Oilers of the Texas league to the St. Louis Cardinals.

On the first night, he drove home from Busch Stadium and forgot his wife at the ball park.

Want to consider a revolutionary idea in football?

Hank Stram, coach of the Dallas Texans of the AFL, has started a one-man campaign to abolish the halftime break.

"There's very little we can do at halftime we can't do during the game. We're running a sweep and our tackle is hooking back on the defensive end we don't wait until half time to change the blocking if it isn't working."

Stram contends that the cooling off period not only makes a player more susceptible to injury but helps dull his mental attitude. He says that is especially true of a quarterback.

The parents of the drum majorettes may be inclined to want to throw stones at Stram.

Says Hank:

"It goes against every physical principal we teach. We warm up 20 minutes before a game, play hard for 30 minutes, then cool off for 20 minutes. Then we start playing again without any warmup. Surely the second half is as important as the first half. The kickoff is the most dangerous idea in football."

"Football games aren't won or lost at halftime anymore — if they ever were. The detection phase of football has become such a science that we know before a game what the other team will do. During the game we take Polaroid pictures from the pressbox, talk on the telephone to spotters sitting up high, get information from the players themselves as the game progresses."

Latin Americans Angry Over Pending Sugar Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—An angry diplomatic crisis over sugar legislation was reported today. It involves the United States and a group of key Latin American nations — among them Mexico, Argentina and the Dominican Republic.

political and economic crisis complained to U.S. officials it was the only country eliminated from the list of nations given sugar quotas by the House of Representatives.

The Dominican Republic complained formally it faces economic collapse and political chaos if Congress does not change the State Department officials said they had heard some countries are disappointed and that high level meetings were held over the weekend, and again today, to see what could be done.

Ambassadors of 17 Latin American nations went to the State Department last week to protest that the sugar bill, then pending in Congress, was unfair treatment, cutting the benefits some of them have enjoyed in the first half of 1962 at a time when their economies are in bad shape.

Not all the 17 countries produce sugar, but they went to the department in what was described as a move of solidarity. The sugar bill was up for discussion in the Senate today.

Trade sources said all major

Latin American sugar producing countries which have had marketing quotas in the United States are angered at the new legislation.

They assert the bill tends to discriminate against Latin America, since it calls for marketing quotas for such areas as South Africa, India, the Fiji Islands, Australia, the British West Indies, and the French West Indies, and cuts quotas for hemisphere nations.

A compromise sugar act extension bill, passed by the House Saturday, also comes up in the Senate today. The measure may be cleared for President Kennedy's signature by nightfall.

The Social Security health plan will be offered by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., as an amend-

Debate Beginning On Health Care

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate begins debate today on one of the most important issues of the 1962 session—health care for the aged financed under the Social Security System.

Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota told a reporter he was confident a bipartisan proposal to establish such a system would clear the Senate by the end of the week, despite a Fourth of July break Wednesday.

Sponsors claimed a good margin for the health program and said a number of Republicans would vote for it. However, many Republicans and some Southern Democrats remain opposed to Social Security financing.

Even if the measure clears the Senate it would face rough days ahead. The House Ways and Means Committee has refused to act on the administration measure for more than a year and obstacles to House action would be formidable.

The House had arranged to pass an atomic energy authorization bill today or Tuesday, but it was decided to put the measure off until next week. This left the House with no major business scheduled this week, and it plans to be in adjournment most of the week. The Senate will skip work only on Wednesday.

A compromise sugar act extension bill, passed by the House Saturday, also comes up in the Senate today. The measure may be cleared for President Kennedy's signature by nightfall.

The Social Security health plan will be offered by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., as an amend-

GOOD NEIGHBORS Good Fences Still Hold The Answer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don't fight with your neighbor over a dog. Your wife might answer the door some day and find a mail-order sweetheart, calling for you.

Federal Prison Director J. V. Bennett told a House Appropriations subcommittee last Jan. 25 about such a fellow. Here is Bennett's story in testimony released today:

"In Baltimore, there was a fellow who was a much-decorated paratrooper and got into an altercation with his neighbor next door over a dog. Well, that caused a fight between him and his neighbor and a third neighbor, so they beat up this fellow, kicked out his teeth, sent him to the hospital for about two weeks, and apparently while he was in the hospital he mulled over how he would try to get even with these fellows.

"So, when he came out, he went around to see the police and they would not do anything about it. The first thing he did was to call up the Alcoholics Anonymous group and tell them that his next door neighbor was in need of treatment, so they sent around a task force to look after him. Then he began ordering things through the mails and having them sent to his neighbor.

"He ordered a big fruit cake from Fort Worth sent to a lady down the street, and signed this man's name to it and then she, in turn, called up this man's wife and thanked him for his generosity, saying what a fine person he was.

"Then he began ordering other things, but the crowning blow was that he had carried on some correspondence with a lady whose name he had gotten out of one of those lonely hearts' clubs, and in the name of this fellow next door, he invited her to come and call on him at his home.

"Sure enough, she showed up in all her finery, apparently, and of course, she was met at the door at the right time by the man's wife. There you have it."

Court Ruling Draws Mixed Feelings In Sunday Sermons

By The Associated Press
The U.S. Supreme Court decision banning official prayers in public schools evoked both dissent and praise in Sabbath sermons.

One minister called it "proper, fair and correct" while another ascribed to the court a philosophy that "seeks to quarantine religion."

Some took the middle ground. Among them was the Rev. Dr. Charles D. Kean of the Episcopal Church of the Epiphany of Washington D.C., who said the court's ruling was "neither a great victory for religious liberty nor an attack upon the religious traditions of our country."

"The Supreme Court decision did not say religious devotions of a voluntary nature may never be held in public schools," he observed in a sermon Sunday.

RULING

Last Monday, the court ruled that a 22-word prayer drafted by the New York State Board of Regents for recitation at the start of each school day was unconstitutional.

The prayer reads: "Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and beg Thy blessing upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

Dr. E. S. James, editor of the Baptist Standard and a Southern Baptist leader, called the court's decision "proper, fair and correct," adding the school prayer "could not hurt anyone." However, Dr. J. Richard Sneed of the First Methodist church in Los Angeles told his congregation that the ruling will produce a more revolutionary effect on U.S. society than Karl Marx ever could.

QUARANTINE

He said the court's philosophy "seeks to quarantine religion." Dr. Sneed said, "With the Deity constitutionally incapacitated, only materialism, secularism and atheism can publicly prevail."

Richard Cardinal Cushing, speaking at Gloucester, Mass., in the annual blessing of the fishing fleet, said the decision "broke the hearts of millions and millions of people who live in captive nations behind the Iron and Bamboo curtains, whose only hope is in God and our own beloved country."

"The only thing communism fears is religion, and religion is the only thing that can save the world from being dominated by the butchers and tyrants of the Communist world," Cardinal Cushing said.

ATHEISTIC

The Catholic bishop of Providence, R.I., the Most Rev. Russell J. McViney, said "our founding fathers must be apologizing before the courts of heaven today for the agnostic, even atheistic decision of our U.S. Supreme Court."

In sermons Saturday, a number of New York rabbis said the decision has helped the cause of religion, not hindered it. Some described the prayer involved as being so neutral that it is meaningless and cannot help religion.

The Rev. Dr. Edward E. Klein of the Stephen Wise Free Synagogue in New York City urged that citizens follow President Kennedy's counsel to support the decision and accept it as a challenge to cultivate prayer at home and intensify religious education in synagogue and church.

Some churchmen said a larger reason for alarm were predictions that the ruling may lead to elimination of all Bible reading and religious observances from the public schools.

CAUSES ALARM

The Rev. Dr. John M. Krumm, Columbia University chaplain, said the prediction "justifiably causes alarm to churchmen who would regard an education from which all references to the role of religion in the formation of our history and culture had been removed as a distorted and inadequate education."

The Rev. Dr. Lawrence L. Durgin, preaching at the Broadway Congregational church in New York City told worshippers the court's ruling "deserves general applause."

"But let us be clear about the substance of the decision," he added. "The court has not decided 'against God' in the United States or in the public schools. On the contrary, it has decided that the reality of God can neither be guaranteed nor denied by action of the state."

WIDEN GAPS

The Rev. Warren R. Ebinger, executive director of the Council of Churches of Greater Kansas City, said in a sermon that "to either praise or condemn the court at this time may only tend to widen the gaps of misunderstandings already created."

In many cases, he added, individuals and churches are in complete disagreement with each other on the whole matter, and many of the opinions have been formed without studying the problem objectively.

The Rev. Dr. Albert P. Shirkey of Mount Vernon Place Methodist church in Washington D.C. said the court's decision could lead to complete secularization of America's national life.

"Where reverence for God is lost, loss of reverence for man follows," he said. "Dignity has been clearly exemplified in Russia."

MUST ABIDE

Dr. Shirkey reminded worshippers, however, that "we must at all times abide by the decisions of the Supreme Court." He recommended a period of silent prayer in public schools in which each individual "can speak to God in his own fashion."

DEAR ABBY

There Must Be A Limit!

DEAR ABBY: I have one of the best husbands in the world, and I know it. He puts in a nine-hour day of hard work, and then comes home and helps me with the housework. He keeps all the floors waxed and polished. He takes care of the woodwork, keeps the windows sparkling and he even does the washing and ironing. I said nothing when I am behind in my work. Last week he canned 100 quarts of peaches. Now, here is my problem: He isn't very loving. It would mean so much to me if he would just be a little more affectionate. I am only 33 and he is 36.

NEEDS AFFECTION.
DEAR NEEDS: Maybe he's tired!

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is having in-law trouble and she isn't even married yet. When her future-in-laws saw the wedding invitations, they hit the ceiling because their names didn't appear along with ours. We checked all the etiquette books and the first-class printers and engravers in town and they agreed that in no instance should the names of the groom's parents appear on the invitations. Well, to make a long story short, we had to have ANOTHER set of invitations made up to keep peace in the family. So, Dear Abby, in your role of peacemaker, please suggest that everyone have TWO SETS of wedding invitations made. One to be socially correct, and the other to keep peace.

FATHER OF THE BRIDE.
DEAR FATHER: You are to be admired for your generosity, but I doubt if your suggestion will be taken by many. In putting on weddings, most people would rather be socially correct than "friendly."

DEAR ABBY: The person who wrote in to say it was "unhealthy" for a husband and wife to sleep in the same bed reminds me of the mother who wouldn't kiss her baby because it might spread "germs." Personally, I couldn't wait to find a man I truly loved. Nuts to hot water bottles and electric blankets to keep me warm. There is nothing wrong with sharing a bed with your own husband. That's the way the good Lord intended it to be. If married folks would throw out the twin beds and go back to the big old-fashioned double bed, there would be fewer divorces.

NO PROBLEM.
DEAR NO: And to that I say "AMEN." What's a poke in the ribs or an occasional cold foot in your back compared to togetherness?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "N": YOU never realize how fast a month can go by until you pay alimony. Think it over.

How's the world treating you? For a personal unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of the Big Spring Herald.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

U.S. Marines Pulled Out Of Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand, (AP)—The United States is pulling 1,000 Marines out of Thailand because of "general lessening of tension" along the Laotian border. Another 1,200 Marines and 3,000 Army troops are remaining.

The U.S. Defense Department announced the withdrawal Sunday and said President Kennedy had authorized it. The announcement said more Marines might be withdrawn soon, depending on the situation.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the Leathernecks "will still be in a position to move back quickly if necessary." They were rushed to Thailand from units of the U.S. 7th Fleet in the western Pacific. Vice Adm. William Shoeb, the fleet commander, said they would rejoin the fleet units in the Philippines, Okinawa and Guam.

The U.S. task force was rushed to Thailand in mid-May after the Red rebels in Laos broke a ceasefire and advanced nearly to the border of Thailand.

The Communist guerrillas did not press their offensive, however, and 11 days ago the three political factions in Laos reached an agreement and formed a coalition government under neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

Disappointed, So They Burn Building

LOGAN, W.Va. (AP)—Safe-crackers blasted open the Belva Coal Co. office safe Saturday night, but found only a few dollars. So, reported police, they set fire to the office building.

Pete Franklin, office manager for the firm, estimated damage at $12,000.
