Pilot Walks Away From T-38 Crash

A T-38 jet trainer pilot on a routine training flight, walked away from his plane when he crash landed it about a quarter of a mile north of the runway at 7 p.m. Monday. The plane did not burn.

Lt. Michael T. Larkin, 22, of Capehart Housing Area, Webb AFB, a student pilot, was taken to the base hospital with an arm abrasion and neck injury, neither of which was considered serious.

Lt. Larkin, who was bringing his plane in on a single engine approach for landing, reported an engine malfunction. He kept his landing gear up and made a "belly landing" in a pasture, knocking out three fence posts along the route of the new IS 20, breaking down several mesquite bushes, and coming to rest about 20 feet from another fence.

He is a member of Class 63-C of the 3561st Student Squadron, and had not been at Webb long.

Larkin is married and has no children. Mrs. Larkin is the former Kathryn M. Brindoe, Seattle, Wash.

Parents of the pilot are Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Larkin, Seattle, Wash.

First Nat'l Bid Opening Dates Fixed

July 31 has been fixed as the date for opening bids for the new First National Bank Building.

Lester Morton, president, said Tuesday that the architect, George L. Dahl, Dallas, has been instructed to invite competitive bids. The opening will be in Dahl's office at 4 p.m.

The bank in recent months has had the lot on the half block fronting on Main between Fourth and Fifth, cut down to make way for the new building. Over 10,000 cubic yards of earth were removed.

Plans for the new bank building call for a structure of 25,000 square feet, nearly three times the amount of space now available. The plant, with extensive glass and stone exterior treatment, will face on Main. Three drive-in windows on the south end of the building will accommodate four lines of cars, which will have 250 feet of stack up room. There will be extensive parking area south of that.

The lobby area of the bank will be along the north side, and the work areas will be on the south and west portions. A mezzanine will be over the work areas.

Skies Clear Off Across The State

By The Associated Press

June rains which overlapped into July apparently have come to an end as the Weather Bureau has forecast clear and warm weather over the state.

The only precipitation expected is in the form of scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers over only the south and west portions of Texas.

Freedom For Algerians Is Proclaimed Today

New Civil War Is Threatening

ALGIERS (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle proclaimed Algerian independence today and Nationalist Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda arrived with his ministers to assert their rule over a new nation threatened with civil war.

The triumphant return of the former rebel fighter was darkened by the threat of a military uprising by 4,500 mutinous Moslem guerrillas who want to put radical Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella in power. Ben Bella opposes Ben Khedda's policy of cooperation with France.

Ben Khedda flew in from Tunis, his headquarters while he directed the exile regime in its campaign to throw off 132 years of French rule. He was the first to leave the plane.

EFFECTIVE
Algeria's independence became effective at 10:30 a.m.—4:30 a.m. EST—as the result of a statement issued by De Gaulle following a special meeting of the French Cabinet.

By the self-determination vote of July 1, 1962, the statement said, "the Algerian people called for independence of Algeria, cooperating with France."

"In consequence, the relations between France and Algeria being henceforth founded on the conditions defined by the governmental declarations of March 19, 1962 (the Evian peace agreement), the president of the French republic declares that France solemnly recognizes the independence of Algeria."

CONVEYED
France's last colonial administrator of Algeria, High Commissioner Christian Fouchet, conveyed De Gaulle's declaration to President Abderrahmane Fares of the Algerian Provisional Executive and transferred to the provisional government the sovereignty France had held for more than a century over Algeria.

The Evian agreements call for the provisional executive to rule Algeria until a Constituent Assembly is elected later this month and a parliamentary government takes over. It was believed Ben Khedda's Cabinet from Tunis would be merged with the provisional executive, and Ben Khedda would become president of the new combined executive body.

Late Monday night, as crowds of cheering Algerians roamed the streets of Algiers celebrating the overwhelming vote Sunday for independence, guerrillas loyal to Ben Khedda's government took control of public buildings in the capital to deny them to Ben Bella's dissidents.

3,000 GUERRILLAS
Some 3,000 guerrillas in central Algeria were in a state of open mutiny, led by Maj. Si Mokhtar. They were joined by an estimated 1,500 soldiers of the French-led Moslem local security force. About 30 French officers and noncommissioned officers were with them, presumably against their will.

The insurgent troops backed the cause of Ben Bella, the radical vice premier who fled from Tunis to Tripoli after a violent clash with Ben Khedda and other moderate members of the nationalist regime.

Ben Bella opposes Ben Khedda's policy of cooperation with France. He wants a sweeping socialist revolution for Algeria, oriented toward the United Arab Republic's President Gamel Abdel Nasser and dependence on the Communist bloc rather than the West for economic and military aid.

NO INDICATION
Another 40,000 nationalist guerrillas were scattered over Algeria. So far there was no indication that they were joining the revolt against Ben Khedda.

Algeria's future appeared to rest with some 45,000 regular nationalist troops in Tunisia and Morocco. Their present sympathies weren't known. Two months ago they acclaimed Ben Bella when he returned after five years of French captivity. Today their chief, Col. Houari Boumedienne, was in flight after being ousted by Ben Khedda for plotting with Ben Bella.

The nationalist regulars were still barred from Algeria by electrified, mined barriers manned by French troops.

NOT KNOWN
It was not known what action the 400,000 French troops would take in the event of a Moslem civil war. French patrols stood by as guerrillas loyal to the premier placed armed cordons around administrative buildings, banks and other key points in Algiers.

Ben Khedda called on the Algerian people to unite behind his leadership. He was joined at a giant celebration rally in Tunis by Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba, who proclaimed his government's support of Ben Khedda and his government.

From Cairo, President Nasser urged the Algerian leaders to make their peace and restore Algerian unity. He called on King Hassan II of Morocco and Bourguiba to join him in a peacemaking effort.

Gas Workers Reject Union

Operating employees of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company rejected a proposal that local 340 of the International Operating Engineers be their representative.

Balloting was conducted last weekend by the National Relations Labor Board on a system-wide basis for the company. Big Spring was one of the points where workers voted.

Results showed 286 against the IUOE representation, 158 favoring and 62 challenged votes. There is a seven-day period in which outcome of an election of this type may be challenged by either side.

WELCOMES NEW NATION

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy welcomed Algeria to the family of nations today in a statement calling the achievement of Algerian independence an "important step toward fuller realization of the dignity of man."

The White House statement made no direct declaration of formal diplomatic recognition of the African nation but stated a wish to "strengthen and multiply the American bonds of friendship with the government and people of Algeria."

U.S. recognition of the new Algerian government will take place in the very near future, officials said.

ON CIVIL RIGHTS

GOP Governors To Force Vote

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Caucusing Republicans agreed today to try to force a showdown vote at the Governors' Conference on a strong civil rights resolution.

With the Resolutions Committee still trying to produce a compromise proposal in this and the field of health care for the elderly, Republican governors decided to carry their fight to the floor if that is necessary to get a "meaningful" civil rights declaration.

But the Republicans were split over the issue of financing health care through Social Security taxes. Democrats, who outnumbered them 34-16, seemed likely to produce a majority for endorsement of this program.

CLOSURE
The conference, which closes with a visit Wednesday to Philadelphia where President Kennedy will speak, got a series of invitations for forthcoming sessions.

Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida put in a bid for Miami in 1963, promising the governors they would get a look at a Cape Canaveral space shot. His invitation seemed likely to be accepted later in the year by the Executive Committee.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey asked the governors to meet in Atlantic City in 1964, promising they could also visit the New York World's Fair on the same trip.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said he thinks the meeting ought to be held in New York but added he will cooperate with New Jersey.

"I'LL BE THERE"
Gov. Edmund B. Pat. Brown said he wants the governors to come to San Diego, Calif., in 1965. He promised them a visit to Mexico. And by the way, he said, "I will be there to greet you."

Brown faces re-election opposition in November from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Not to be outdone, Rockefeller said.

POT CALLS THE KETTLE

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—The 54th annual Governors' Conference, which has before it a resolution regretting the Supreme Court's official prayer decision, opened its second session today without prayer.

Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire, conference chairman, gavelled the session into action without formality of calling on any governor or minister for prayer.

Monday's sessions opened with a prayer by Gov. George D. Clyde of Utah.

also seeking re-election, said that if the governors come to New York in 1964, "I'll be there to greet you."

In a later session, Gov. Albert D. Rosellini of Washington was expected to be elected the new chairman to succeed Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire.

MAJOR ITEM
The future of the National Guard was the major item on the Monday agenda which wound up with the governors taking a "no compromise" position against the Kennedy administration plan to pare down and streamline the Guard and Reserve system. This was outlined in the key speech, by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The governors listened politely and stungly applauded McNamara's scientifically oriented explanation of why they should give up 295 National Guard units. They were unimpressed with an hour's closed meeting with the secretary.

As Gov. S. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia put it afterwards, the governors were willing to sit down and reason with McNamara about the matter, but, by the Continental Congress, they were not going to have the federal government out any local units in their states.

In his prepared text put out in Washington, McNamara had said:

PAPER TIGERS
"We want no paper tigers in our Reserve structure."

But this line was deleted shortly before he made his talk to the 54th Governors' Conference. There was no immediate explanation for the action.

The Washington threat to the Guard was only one of the issues on which the governors said they want local control of almost everything that concerns the lives of their voters—except, of course, the federal aid without which the states could not operate today.

There was even an argument over whether the U.S. Supreme Court could interfere in a state's right to have a prayer said in its public schools. This stemmed from the court's decision that a state-dictated prayer in New York was illegal.

UNLIKELY
A couple of unlikely companions in this adventure, Govs. Farris Bryant, Florida Democrat, and John H. Ree, Maine Republican, gave birth to a resolution to put the conference on record as regretting the court's decision and urging Congress to amend the Constitution to "make clear and beyond challenge" the nation's traditional faith in God.

At that point came a parliamentary snafu. The conference has a rule that all resolutions must be submitted 30 days in advance. This one hadn't been and Gov. Robert E. Smylie, Idaho Republican, entered a dissent to its consideration.

TO NEDERLAND

Coach McKenzie Resigns Post With Local Schools

Emmett McKenzie formally submitted his resignation as head coach and athletic director at Big Spring High School to accept a position as superintendent of schools in Nederland. The Nederland board extended the offer Monday night.

McKenzie telephoned Sam Anderson, Big Spring superintendent of schools here, in Denver, Colo., to announce his decision. Anderson is attending the NEA convention in Denver.

Quite probably, no successor to McKenzie will be named until Anderson returns here and the school board goes into session next week.

McKenzie formally takes over as superintendent at Nederland, his home town, on July 23. He said this morning he planned to leave here with his wife, Shirley, and son, David, around July 21.

McKenzie coached at Nederland for 11 years and was head coach there for three years. He is a graduate of SMU and received his master's degree at the University of Texas.

At Nederland, McKenzie will succeed Orland Strickland as the superintendent. Strickland is moving to Chisno, Texas, as superintendent of schools.

The school trustees here had advance notice that McKenzie was being considered for the Nederland post although he had not applied for it. The president of the school board there sent an inquiry to McKenzie several weeks ago, asking if he would be interested in an offer if it was forthcoming.

McKenzie's contract with the Nederland school system will extend for three years. His starting salary will be $12,100 per annum, and son, David, around July 21.

RICKY GETS HIS ANSWER

Wonder What's In That Green Box?

By SAM BLACKBURN

Luck was riding with Ricky James, 12, Monday afternoon.

First of all, he found a mysterious green box buried under rock on a hillside near his home in Silver Heels. That was exciting.

Then, after he had unearthed the box, he carried it safely down the hill and across the 100 yards to his home. En route, because it was heavy, Ricky rested several times. He said he dropped the box on the ground "pretty hard" two or three times.

At the house, he couldn't get the rusted metal hasp which held the hinged lid to release. He put the box in the carport and waited until his father, Allen C. James, came home from work at Cosden.

KNOCK IT OPEN
The elder James, after examining the mysterious green box, took a hammer and hit the hasp a couple of sharp blows. The rust broke loose and the hasp released.

James and Ricky eagerly raised the lid. Then they let it down as tenderly as they could and backed gingerly away from the box.

Inside the box they had seen eight brownish parcels neatly stacked to fill the rear section of the case.

Printed clearly in black across the top of each parcel were the letters: "TNT."

Giving the box a wide berth, James made his way to the house and called the sheriff's office.

TENDER RIDE

Deputy Sheriff A. G. Miller contacted W. D. Caldwell, who has men on his staff experienced in handling explosives.

He was joined by Frank Jobe, a bulldozer operator, and they went to the James' residence. Jobe identified Ricky's find as TNT. He added that the stuff was still very much alive and highly dangerous.

"We loaded the box in the car and headed for the Caldwell gravel pits south of town," Mitchell said. "I did not enjoy my ride a great deal."

At the pits, the box was checked by Billy Winford, longtime powder man, who confirmed the identification of the contents.

Eight one-pound packages of TNT appeared remarkably well preserved in its wooden kit.

MORE POTENT

"Even more explosive now," ruled Winford, "than when it was first buried."

The deadly explosives were placed in the thick-walled dugout where explosives are kept at the pit. The TNT will be safely destroyed.

Where did the TNT come from? Officers speculated that it possibly was taken from a military installation during World War II. If so, whoever took it concealed it under a huge pile of rock in the hills south and east of town.

At that time, if the incident occurred 15 years ago when World War II was in progress, there were no houses in what is Silver Heels addition now.

SHAKY MEMORIES

All those years, the green wooden box with its deadly contents had been reposing undisturbed on the hillside.

The weather removed some of its rocky covering and left the green corner exposed which caught young Ricky James' eye Monday afternoon.

The Jameses, meantime, are breathing easier than they did while the green box was in their carport. Yet every time the elder James thinks about the two sharp whacks he gave that box with his hammer, he shudders. And Ricky recalls nervously the two or three times, en route from the hill, when he set the box down "pretty hard."

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

The C. R. RHOADES are back from Alaska and have a world of stories and information about their month-long trip which covered much more than 13,000 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhoades and their daughter, Regina, had first, attended the World's Fair and spent four days in Seattle. Mrs. Rhoades says those that go to the fair should make a special effort to see the Space Needle all the way. They stood in line for two hours and 45 minutes just to get in the building and then that long again in the dining room, but it was all worth it.

The party left Seattle by Boeing 707 Jet and flew to Ketchikan. They stayed in Juneau, Anchorage and Fairbanks before going on to Mt. McKinley and Fort Yukon. They took the train trip from Anchorage through McKinley Park to Fairbanks which took 12 hours to cover 400 miles. The train stops along the way for trappers, fishermen, Indians and Eskimos. It also takes a little time for the trainmen to get out and clear the tracks of moose who prefer to do their walking on the tracks.

When the Rhoadses arrived in Fairbanks they were at the gateway to the Eskimo country where so much hunting is done strictly for the survival of the people. They didn't get to the North Pole but they were only 30 minutes from it.

At Fairbanks they were in the land of the midnight sun which was fascinating to Mrs. Rhoades. She says the sun seems to hang in the sky for about four hours and never gives off any heat. They had 24 hours of daylight.

The only change was twilight at 12 midnight, though it never became too dark to prevent reading out of doors. It gets rather cold in this part—68 to 80 degrees below zero during the winter—in fact it is pretty cold during the 60 days of summer. The Big Spring folk wore wool clothing with top coats and rain coats and still felt the cold.

A visit to the original Hudson Bay Trading Post was interesting. There they found ermine pelts for $1.00 per animal and muskrat fur was on for 45 cents a pelt. Everything else was very high and the tourist accommodations are nil.

They had a dog sled ride and got certificates verifying the fact that they had crossed the Arctic Circle. They found the dinner listed as steak and vegetables was really an open faced hamburger with lettuce and tomatoes.

Juneau was the friendliest of the cities and that the skyways are the highways in Alaska. At several points tourists must stop and look three ways to avoid collisions with aircraft that come in from all directions at low altitude. The hotels in most places are first class and food is good but not like home.

In Fairbanks they found several brick homes and a neighborhood of modern homes.

They were sorry to hear of the accident of Mrs. DONALD EISENHART who was returning from a vacation trip to North Carolina and Virginia. They visited in Rockingham, N. C. and in Roanoke, Va.

COL and MRS. CLARK HOSMER of San Antonio were weekend guests of COL and MRS. WILSON BANKS. They left Monday en route to Phoenix, Ariz.

MR. and MRS. TOMMY JORDAN returned Monday from Dallas where Mrs. Jordan underwent surgery for a spinal fusion. She was returned here by ambulance and is now at her home.

MRS. GLADYS HOLMES, sister of Harold Canning, and her husband, HUBERT W. HOLMES, have been promoted to brigadier by the Salvation Army. They direct the work of the men's social center in Miami, Fla. Mrs. Holmes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Canning who formerly operated the Salvation Army post here.

CAPT. ALLEN ROBERTSON, who made a habit of winning the short story writing contest at Webb AFB, is continuing at Wright Patterson AFB where he is attached to headquarters for the USAF Recruiting Service. He won the $25 first prize award for the second consecutive year. His manuscript will be entered in the Air Force Logistics Command Former Officer of Information Service officer at Webb. Capt. Robertson is due to be assigned in September to Wakkana, Japan. In a letter, Capt. Robertson said he had heard from Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Brophy, Maj. Brophy formerly was wing operations officer and they are moving from Salt Lake City to Sacramento, Calif. Robertson also had a note from Mary Archer, formerly associated here with Cadden, to the effect that she has signed for a job with Aramco for a two-year stint in Saudi Arabia. His newsworthy also brings word that Dewey Magee, formerly in the OIS office at Webb, has now made master sergeant.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner of Ackerly were weekend visitors with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy.

Mrs. Beck Harris and sons of New Jersey are visiting Mrs. Harris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Riley and family of LeFors are houseguests of the Bruce Hansons at the Hansons Ranch in southwest Glasscock County. The Rileys will be here for the July 4 holiday.

Mrs. F. A. Price, sister of Mrs. Vernon Gill and daughter, Louella of Attec, N. M. were visitors last week with the Gills.

Films Shown At Dinner Session Of D. And D.

Harry Douthitt of Continental Emco Supply Co., Midland, was guest speaker for a dinner meeting of Desk and Derrick Monday at the Wagon Wheel.

Illustrating his talk, Douthitt presented a film, "A Letter to Youngstown," which concerned step-by-step processing of basic steel products from the raw material through the finished products.

After a question and answer period, Ralph Hughes, Cadden pipeline engineer, showed slides on the use of steel pipe and construction of pipe lines as carried on by Cadden Petroleum Corp.

Mrs. Frances Bratcher was introduced as a guest. Another guest for the evening was Mrs. Douthitt.

Plans for an August birthday party were announced and members were told of a forthcoming Christmas card sale.

Daughters Visit S. A. Bradfords

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Bradford have their daughters visiting with them this week. They are Mrs. Gary Osborne, Iowa City, Iowa, and Miss Pat Bradford, Denver, Colo. Also with Mrs. Osborne is Mr. Osborne and their two children, Brenda and Paul. Miss Bradford, a teacher in Denver, is home for summer vacation.

Members of the Baptist Temple YWA met at the home of Miss Jonelle Knightstep Monday evening for a prospective members salad supper.

Miss Jackie Buchanan, E. J. Jane Drinkard and Lapricia Brown were welcomed as new members.

During the program a discussion period was held.

Survey Says College Joes Are Romantic

GRANVILLE, Ohio (P) — That sparkling college coed who moons over the poetry books or stares enraptured at the movie screen isn't as romantically inclined as her male counterpart.

According to a survey completed by Denison University sociologist Dr. Dwight Dean, freshmen men were found to be more emotional than freshmen women.

The study also concluded that college men and women whose fathers' occupation were relatively low in status were found to be more romantically inclined than those whose fathers had a high status occupation.

MR. CAMPBELL

By T. H. Tackett, preacher
Church of Christ, 2006 West Highway 30
P.O. Box 1535

Continuing yesterday's answer to a letter: Yes, I know about a Mr. Campbell, whom I tell my brother. But if he formed a denomination, I have not joined it. To become a member of the church of Christ, I only did what people did in Bible times. Upon hearing the gospel, I believed in Christ, confessed that I was a sinner, and was baptized. I was buried in baptism. "For the remission of sins, just as the Bible says: Mark 16:15-16, Acts 2:38, Rom 10:9.

If that did not make the people of the First Century members of a denomination, formed by Mr. Campbell (who lived in the 19th Century, then it did not constitute me a member of such a denomination.

I was not baptized into a denomination, but into Christ (Rom. 6:3, Gal. 3:27). No church examined me nor voted on me as a candidate for baptism. I did not pledge allegiance to a denomination nor to a list of doctrines. I only confessed Christ.

Having met the Bible conditions to salvation, I believe the Lord has at 33 me to His church, the church of Christ, as per Acts 2:47.

African King Likes To Twist

USUMBURA, Burundi (AP)—An African king who reckons he is one of the best royal twisters in the world is coming to the United States this summer to meet President Kennedy and see the White House.

Mwambutsa, the mwami, or king, of the new nation of Burundi, met foreign newsmen Monday and told them he will leave his pocket-size country next door to the Congo at the end of the month and tour the United States, Britain, Belgium, Switzerland, the Netherlands and France.

DUE TO QUIT

Burundi is half of the former trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi. Belgium's troops are due to quit the country by the end of July. Their departure could open the way to trouble from the mwami's political foes, but the ebullient, 38-year-old monarch said he didn't think there would be any trouble.

Mwambutsa has held his throne for 43 years, since he was 13. Since the assassination of Crown Prince Louis Rwagasore last year, his heir has been 17-year-old Prince Charles, now studying in Switzerland.

The mwami is a regular visitor to night clubs and sometimes sits in on the drums. Having formally, on his last visit to Belgium, he was constantly trying to elude his bodyguards. Once he climbed out of his bedroom window, hailed a cab and danced in a night club until the early hours.

COMES NATURAL

His proficiency at the twist comes naturally, he explained. "As an African," he said, "of course I find it easier to do than whites. We have got the natural swing needed. Come down and watch me some night at one of the night clubs."

Mwambutsa is popular with his people and drives about Usumbura in a yellow American convertible, waving to everyone he sees. He has a chauffeur but prefers to drive himself.

Polishing off his whisky and soda, he jumped behind the wheel of his convertible and told the newsmen as he roared away: "I think I have a game of dice now."

Twist Champion Arrives Well Heeled

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP)—The Censhaw County twist champion, 450-pound Willie Graham of Luverne, Ala.—was an apparently well heeled sightseer today in the land of the Kennedys.

Graham, 34, arrived on Cape Cod Monday, a new type of Negro Reverse Freedom Rider in this resort community.

What made Willie different—aside from his 450 pounds—was his affluence. Previous Negro arrivals came with one-way bus tickets and usually were pretty thin on money.

Willie, as a temporary visitor, came with a round-trip bus ticket and with pockets evidently well lined. He said both the ticket and the money—amount undisclosed—were provided by Luverne segregationists.

Unlike previous arrivals, Graham picked up a reservation in a Hyannis motel.

In a telegram from the mayor of Luverne, F. A. Sikes, asked that Graham—called "Big Nick"—be well received. The message said Graham is a well-liked shoe-shiner in his home town and more than that, the county twist champion.

Graham said he would spend a few days looking over Hyannis,

More Wall Work Begins

BERLIN (AP)—Working behind a screen of smoke and tear gas, the Communists began building a wall along West Berlin's border with East Germany Monday night. There was some suspicion they planned to surround West Berlin with concrete and steel barriers.

The Communists have virtually completed the barricade they began last August along the 26-mile border between East and West Berlin. Until Monday night, the 6-mile rough arc marking West Berlin's boundary with East Germany had been fenced off only with barbed wire.

West Berlin police said the extension work began at Falkensee Chaussee, a broad street leading from the East German village of Falkensee into the northwest corner of the divided city. Trucks unloaded concrete slabs there and at Seefelder Weg, a parallel street about 1,000 yards to the south.

East German police threw tear gas and smoke bombs at the West Berlin police could see the workmen laboring under floodlights in a cold rain to replace the barbed wire with masonry.

The extent of the Communist plans to extend the wall could not be determined immediately. The work began only a day after East German Interior Minister Karl Maron called on his police to make the "protective wall even more impenetrable."

Don't Use Children As Pawns, Teachers Told

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Public school teachers were advised today "you can't go out on an illegal strike one day and expect to go back to your classroom and teach good citizenship the next."

Arthur F. Corey, executive secretary of the California Teachers Association said, "The strike as a weapon for teachers is inappropriate, unprofessional, illegal, outmoded and ineffective."

Corey's remarks at the 100th annual convention of the National Education Association continued an NEA barrage against teacher unions.

GIVEN LATER

In an interview elaborating on a speech to be given later today, Corey said teachers cannot be expected to remain forever silent in the face of intolerable working conditions.

If professional negotiations with the school boards fail, he said, teachers should work through their professional organizations to apply sanctions against the school district involved.

When sanctions are applied, Corey said, "We advise the public through newspapers, radio and television that, in the opinion of the California Teachers Association, conditions in the district are not conducive to professional work by teachers."

REFUSE

"We refuse the district the use of our teacher placement service, and we notify every teacher placement office in the United States of our stand.

"This brings the full force of public opinion to bear on the district. Public opinion carries a lot of weight where the schools are concerned."

Sanctions are never applied until all other means have failed, Corey said.

"But let me emphasize—this is not a strike," Corey said. "The teachers do not walk out on the youngsters. We leave open every avenue for correcting the bad conditions."

PRESSURE

Corey acknowledged that sanctions involve pressure tactics, and in some quarters "they will be no more popular than the strike. But teachers must have some method of bringing their case before the public, and this is the best, the professional way."

U.S. Forces Are Cut Back

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Transport planes and helicopters flew U.S. Marines from Thailand today to land bases and sea units in the Pacific in a move cutting 1,000 men from the U.S. task force in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Informants said some of the Leathernecks were being flown directly to land bases in the Philippines, Okinawa and Guam. Others were being shuttled by helicopter to units of the U.S. 7th Fleet standing off Thailand.

The Marines, part of a 2,300-man force sent here six weeks ago to counter a Communist threat in neighboring Laos, began pulling out Monday because of "general lessening of tension" along the Laotian frontier.

Another 1,200 Marines and 3,000 Army troops are remaining in Thailand, but the U.S. Defense Department said more Marines might be pulled out soon, depending on the situation.

None of the departing Marines was destined for the United States. All returned to their regular stations on western Pacific bases or aboard ships of the 7th Fleet. The U.S. Embassy emphasized they "will be in a position to move back quickly if necessary."

County Court Jury Cases Are Called For Hearing Monday

Wayne Burns, county attorney, has announced he will be ready with 62 cases for trial during two weeks of the county court's jury trial docket opening Monday.

Thirty-two of the offenses alleged are DWI cases.

Burns said that County Judge Ed Carpenter has called a jury panel to report at 10 a.m. July 10 and a second panel to report July 17. The docket expires July 20.

A docket call is set for 1:30 p.m. July 9 to determine how many of the cases will be ready for trial. Burns said a number of the defendants may want to enter guilty pleas.

He said that the DWI cases set for trial are against Elton B. Duzier, Hilario Galindo, Granvil T. Miller, Joe K. Mitchell, Joe D. Herbert, Juan Rodriguez, A. Escobedo, Jack McClanahan, Paul Limer, Robert L. Callahan, Rodney J. Johnston, Cora Z. Crowder, J. C. Lewis, Billy J. Randell, Eddie Anderson, Jackie Overturf, Luciano Sepulveda, Cesar R. Oniveros, Jesus Hernandez, Charlie Recio, Jose A. Mata, Joe Thomas Holladay, Floyd Williams, Ethel Archer Glenn, Jerry Floyd King, William D. Graham, Vernon Bruce Phillips, Bobby Dee Anderson, Florentine Chapa, Kenneth D. Foster.

Other cases on the docket: Suspended drivers license—William McGuire, Ward Robinson; transporting liquor illegally—Eddie Reed, Anderson Davis Jr., Pete Davis, shoplifting—Trinidad Torres, Lydia Garcia, Romie K. Harris, Mary Juarez, Cosme Ramirez, William Johnson, aggravated assault—Clifton E. Woodard, Kenneth Scott, E. H. Barrington, carrying arms—Thomas J. Nickle, Louis C. Flores, Twalla Cathey, Fred Gothard, Lorenzo Lopez, Pedro Contreras, Aurrel Westbrook, rudely displaying a pistol—Freeman McCalister; possession of drugs—Stanley Waggoner, Bobby Dee Anderson; worthless checks—Mrs. J. J. Williams, Raymond Plumlee; theft—James Lee, Earl Barker, Jackie Snow; selling liquor without a license—Arthur Lockett; malicious destruction—Hilario Ramirez.

Almost Severed, Farmer's Arm Saved By Surgeons

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I told them to save my arm if they could," said the 61-year-old laborer. "I helped the doctors with a little prayer."

And save it they did, say the surgeons at Orthopedic Hospital. Dr. J. Vernon Luck, medical director, described the circumstances at a news conference Monday.

Robert Orona, of suburban Pico Rivera, was at work last Aug. 24 when a road-tamper crushed and tore off his left arm. He was taken to the hospital an hour later.

Dr. Luck found two of the three main nerves intact in a two-inch strip of flesh from which Orona's arm was dangling. A long section of the third nerve was missing along with bone and muscle.

While Dr. Luck told of the two-hour operation, Orona wiggled five fingers at the end of an L-shaped arm that observers compared to a coarsely shaped hamburger with a tissue-thin glaze of skin.

Dr. Luck said, "Surgery has advanced to a point where it is proper to try to save extremities we once would have amputated. We joined the severed bone with a rod, then sewed the arteries together and took skin grafts from the man's thigh."

Dr. Luck said the result is "much better than an artificial arm, and it will get better. He can hold things with his fingers and by using his shoulder can lift light objects. He should be able to do some sort of light bench work after a time."

The elbow joint is fused and the biceps are gone, but Orona said he has "only a little pain now" and Dr. Luck said even that will go away.

The surgeon added, "The nerves are starting to function. An extremity would not be worth saving if it could not be made to function."

Last May 23 in Boston, Everett Knowles Jr., 12, had his arm cut off under a freight train. Doctors sewed it back and said they thought it was the first time an arm was reattached successfully. The boy's arm doesn't work yet because the nerves have yet to be joined.

New Zealand To Take Refugees

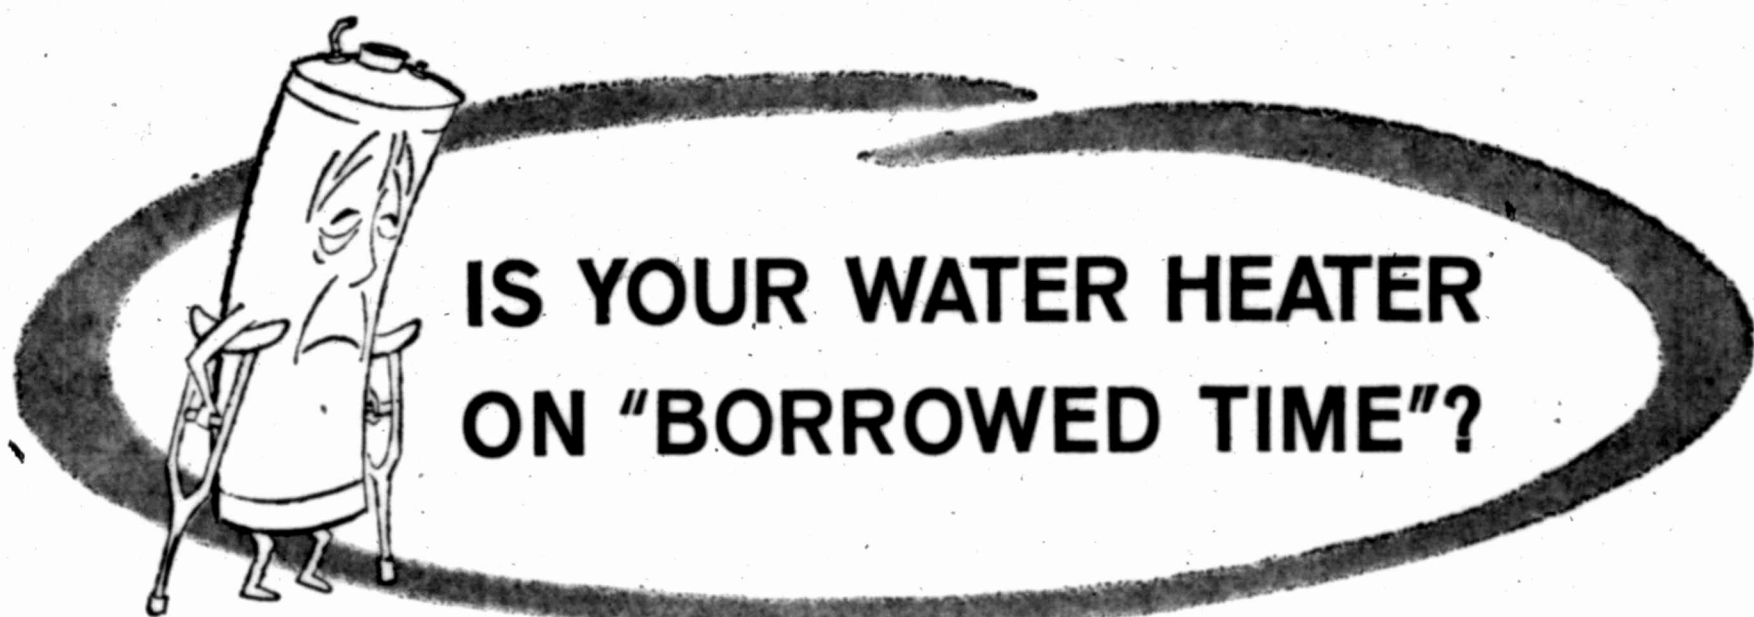

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake announced today that New Zealand will take 30 more Chinese orphans from Hong Kong. The little island country already had agreed to take 20.

Holyoake said New Zealand isn't big enough to resettle large groups of Chinese refugees, "but children are particularly worthy of any assistance that can be offered."

Former Judge Pays Fine

Former El Paso County Judge Woodrow Bean (right) talks with a reporter after it was disclosed he had paid a $5,000 fine, part of a sentence on charges of not filing federal income tax returns for five years. Bean also paid $23.90 in court costs Friday, 58 days before the deadline. Federal Dist. Judge Ben Rice also levied a one-year prison sentence, suspended it, and placed Bean on three years probation.

FEDERAL HEARING

Evans Ordered To Give Testimony

TYLER (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Sheehy ordered Monday E. R. Evans, a Kilgore oilman, to testify before a federal Petroleum Board hearing.

Evans had been subpoenaed by the board, which is investigating contraband oil production in East Texas.

Lawyers for another man who had refused to testify, J. H. Watson of Kilgore said that he would agree to testify next Monday pending the return of one of the lawyers.

Both had refused, saying they should have the right to use their own stenographer to take down the testimony. They asserted that the board should provide them with a transcript of the proceedings. The government went to court to break their silence.

The government contends that the Petroleum Board proceedings is not a hearing, but rather an investigation similar to that conducted by a grand jury.

The government's petition in Evans' case said in part: "The board has reasonable grounds for believing that contraband oil has been produced from the H. F. Richardson Belle Ector lease in the D. Clark Survey, Rusk County."

The board likewise has reasonable grounds for believing that the said E. R. Evans has knowledge of the drilling, completion, production and other operations relating to the production of oil from the said lease; and that he has knowledge of the chain of title relating to the ownership of the said lease.

Similar contentions were made in the Watson petition, relating to an Upshur County lease. Evans was to appear before the board at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Vote On Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., voted for the compromise sugar bill which the Senate passed by a vote of 54-12. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., was not recorded as voting.

Finance Grant

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Housing and Home Finance Agency has granted $100,000 to finance construction of low-cost homes for migratory workers in Bexar County. The homes may ultimately be bought by the workers.

Private Conference On Laotian Treaty

GENEVA (AP)—The 14-nation Laotian conference decided to thrash out its few remaining differences in private after the United States and Red China clashed over U.S. troops in Thailand at Monday's opening session.

Delegates agreed unanimously to leave the remaining issues to the conference co-chairmen, Britain's Malcolm MacDonald and the Soviet Union's Georgi Fushkin, to avert any more open squabbles that could jar the precarious Laos peace accords.

The Western powers are hopeful that if things go smoothly, the delegates can complete a treaty in two or three weeks to guarantee the neutrality and independence of the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Third Woman Is Strangled

LYNN, Mass. (AP)—A third strangulation homicide within three weeks in Greater Boston—again following a pattern—confronted Lynn authorities today.

The body of Helen E. Blake, 65, a practical nurse, was found in her apartment Monday night. Miss Blake had been strangled with her brassiere and a nylon stocking.

Last Saturday night the body of Nina G. Nichols, 68, was discovered in her apartment in Boston's Brighton section.

On June 14, the body of Anna E. Slesers, 55, was found in her Back Bay apartment in Boston.

Mrs. Nichols was garroted with a nylon stocking. Mrs. Slesers was strangled with the cord of her housecoat.

All were killed at night in their apartments where they lived alone.

The three apartments were thoroughly ransacked, but police said nothing valuable was taken.

All three homicides are unsolved.

Must Make A Formal Report

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Newly wed Mrs. Ronald Francis Currier must make a formal written report informing her father of her marriage.

Her father, school Supt. O. Perry Walker, gave his daughter away upon her marriage to Dr. Ronald Currier, but since Mrs. Currier is a teacher she must comply with school board regulation and inform the superintendent of her marriage.

Hoarding Teeth, Just In Case

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Owner Bob Cook discovered that someone had broken into his dental lab over the weekend and stolen $9,000 worth of false teeth. Nothing else was missing. Taken were individual teeth destined for use in making up dental plates.

Missing

The Texas Department of Public Safety distributed this drawing of the missing witness they'd like to question in their investigation into the death of Henry H. Marshall. Marshall's bullet-riddled body was found on his ranch near Franklin on June 3, 1961. The drawing is said to resemble a man who asked directions to the Marshall farm a short time before the agriculture department official was found dead.

Guardsmen On Training Trek

FORT POLK, La. (AP)—Approximately 3,000 National Guardsmen of Texas' 36th Division are now in the Fort Polk maneuvers area for a tactical training program.

The remaining 5,000 guardsmen in the division will get their field training next week.

Because of limited terrain available, the division was forced to split its field maneuvers, Maj. Gen. Selden Simpson of Amarillo, division commander, said.

The 49th Armored Division, a Texas outfit called to active duty last fall, is finishing up its combat training in the swampy woodlands at the same time.

Mother, Son Are Reunited

NEW YORK (AP)—Crying for joy, a small, dark-haired Israeli mother has been reunited with the 10-year-old son she hadn't seen since he was abducted three years ago in a religious dispute.

Ida Schumacher planned to take the child back to his homeland as soon as possible after U.S. immigration officials turned him over to her today. She said she wasn't interested in prosecuting the religious zealots who spirited him away.

"I am only interested in getting my child," she said. Mrs. Schumacher, 37, arrived from Israel by plane Monday night and was taken immediately to an immigration office to see her son, Yossef, whom she calls "Yossele."

They recognized each other immediately, an official said. Mrs. Schumacher rushed to embrace the youth, crying over and over in Hebrew "My boy! My boy!"

Peter Esperdy, district director of the Immigration Service, said the boy had been found Saturday at the home of Rabbi Sanzil Gertner, a member of the ultra-Orthodox Hasidic sect, in Brooklyn. The youth had been living there under the name of Jacob (Yankele) Gertner.

Esperdy said the Gertners neither disputed the identification of the boy as the missing Yossef Schumacher nor claimed the right to keep him.

Mrs. Schumacher put the boy in the care of her grandparents, Rabbi and Mrs. Nahman Starkes, in Jerusalem in 1957 because the Schumachers, recent immigrants to Israel from the Soviet Union, did not have a proper apartment at the time.

When they asked for him back three years ago, the rabbi refused on grounds there would not be enough Orthodox discipline in the home. Then the child disappeared.

Park Open For Display

The Big Spring State Park gates will be kept open later than usual Wednesday evening to permit residents to witness the Webb AFB fireworks display from the top of the drive.

A. B. Cramer, park superintendent, said he would leave the gates open until 10:15 p.m. to permit people to park on the west side of the drive and witness the fireworks below.

At the same time, he warned parents to make sure their children bring no fireworks into the park.

"The grass is extremely dry," he explained, "and fireworks could touch off a fire easily."

The park gates have been closed at dusk each day as an answer to vandalism.

Cramer expressed the hopes that at sometime in the future the two per cent causing all the trouble would be brought under control and the other 98 per cent of the public could enjoy the park drive at night.

The Webb AFB fireworks display Wednesday is due to begin at 8:30 p.m.

Piggyback Is Magic Name In Railroading

Piggy Back

Texas and Pacific Railway's TOFC (trailer-on-flatcar) service is one form of piggyback operation which combines the flexibility of over-the-highway transportation with the dependability of all-weather rail service. This type freight service is much like having the railroad run right up to the customer's warehouse door.

"Piggyback" is a magic name in railroad transportation today. It is an operation which is leading a quiet revolution in shipping circles for more efficient, economical and dependable freight handling across the nation.

Since 1956, the Texas and Pacific Railway has offered this relatively new type of service for the benefit of its customers. Just what is piggyback? Well, in its simplicity, piggyback is nothing more than the transportation of truck trailers and containers on railroad flatcars.

The first type of piggyback service placed in operation on the T&P was Truck-Rail. In this phase of the railroad's service, a detachable trailer body, an overhead crane and a railroad flatcar or gondola play the important parts in combining the best in rail and highway transportation. In the Truck-Rail operation, the trailer is loaded at the shipper's warehouse, then wheeled to the site of the crane where the trailer body is quickly removed from the bed of the trailer and gently placed onto a railroad flatcar or gondola. The trailer body then is securely fastened to the car. In a matter of minutes — usually about 12 — the shipment is ready to move via rail to its destination. Deliveries of shipments are made in the same expeditious manner, the trailer body removed from the railroad car and quickly fastened to the trailer bed and wheeled away to the warehouse for unloading.

TOFC (trailer-on-flatcar) is another version of Texas and Pacific's piggyback operations. With the TOFC operation, the truck driver simply steers his tractor-trailer up a ramp onto the flatcar, locks the loaded trailer to the fixed trailer hitch on the freight car and then drives his truck tractor off and away. All of this operation is completed within a very few minutes. At the destination point, the driver drives his truck-tractor up the ramp, connects onto the rail-carried trailer and then drives his load off and away to the shipper's store-door. Texas and Pacific's piggyback service is like having the railroad run right up to the customer's warehouse door. It offers the advantage of delivery at the customer's convenience. In both cases, TOFC and Truck-Rail, the driver can handle the loading and unloading, or, if the customer prefers, the tractor can be driven away and the trailer left for the shipper's loading or unloading.

Weekend Tourist Boom Attributed To Kennedy

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A weekend boom in border tourism was attributed today to the warm welcome Mexico gave President Kennedy. Newspapers still eulogize the visit.

The largest number of tourists to visit Nuevo Laredo, Reynosa and Matamoros over a weekend in five years was reported by the newspaper Ultimas Noticias. No figures were given.

It said that the influx was so heavy at Nuevo Laredo Sunday that extra customs and immigration officials had to be called on duty. It said a near-record number of five-day permits was issued.

An increase in tourism was one thing Mexico had hoped to gain from Kennedy's visit.

Editorials were unanimously favorable to Kennedy, and editorial cartoons were featured in all major newspapers, along with pages of pictures and news stories.

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The Air Force plans to fire an Atlas missile 7,000 miles from Vandenberg to the Philippine Sea. The shot is scheduled for sometime next week.

Ornery Moose On The Attack

CARTHAGE, Maine (AP)—A bull moose attacked an automobile on Route 156, injuring a woman who suffered minor lacerations from a shattered windshield.

Louise Toothaker, 22, and her son Terry, 2, were riding in a car driven by Frank Jones, 28, when the moose appeared at the side of the road.

Jones braked the car to a stop and the moose charged at the car jumping onto the hood with its front legs and putting its head through the windshield.

Court Dates Set

LAMESA, SC.—Only two more sessions remain in the current February term of 163rd District Court. Judge Truett Smith has announced a jury trial week for July 30 and a non-jury week on Aug. 20. The next term of court will start Sept. 10.

DEAR ABBY

The Beard Is Temporary

DEAR ABBY: My husband is letting his beard grow because our town is going to celebrate its centennial. Just because this town is 100 years old doesn't mean HE has to look it. It's disgusting. It is like living with an Alredale. And it's not at all attractive. There are patches where no hair grows and parts of his beard are red! Do you think it is fair to the wives when these men grow beards to show civic spirit? I'm ready to look him out.

SPEAKING FOR MANY

DEAR SPEAKING: He's getting a big kick out of it, so why not go along with the gag? Don't "look him out." The hair on his chinny-chin-chin is only temporary. Your love is here to stay.

DEAR ABBY: I am only 14 but after reading the letter from HAD MY FILL, the woman who regretted having to take care of her 80-year-old father-in-law, I had to speak my piece. I wish I were old enough to take him into my home and care for him myself. He doesn't have much longer to live so why not make his last years happy ones?

DEAR ABBY: I am being married next month and want to ask your advice on a problem that has come up. I am marrying a farmer. We are both 23. We had planned to live with his parents, who have a very nice, modern, 10-room home on their farm. It's about 12 miles from the city. His people are the nicest in the world and I don't see why we couldn't get along fine living with them, but all my

Not Exactly A Hero's Reward

CINCINNATI (AP)—It wasn't exactly a hero's reward for firefighter Chester Merkel after a rescue in suburban Delhi.

Answering a fire call, Merkel heard from neighbors that occupants of the home were away but their dog, Spike, was trapped inside.

Merkel broke in through a door and found the dog.

Spike sank his teeth in Merkel's arm, then bolted out through the door.

Merkel was treated and released at a hospital while his colleagues put out the fire.

By Golly, Those Meters Are Crooked

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mayor Robert King High was right, Miami's parking meters are crooked—at least some of them.

High followed up a complaint from a taxpayer that a meter had not given him full time and was shorted. High demanded the meters be checked.

The parking department said Monday 8 of 122 meters checked so far were defective.
