Faulkner Dies . . . Of Heart Attack

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Nobel Prize-winning author William Faulkner, who made the fictional Yoknapatawpha county of Yoknapatawpha known through the world, died today.

WILLIAM FAULKNER

Death came to the 64-year-old author at a hospital in Oxford. He returned here some weeks ago from the University of Virginia where he had spent much of his recent years as a lecturer in American literature.

Committee To Investigate Lobby Tactics On Sugar Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee will investigate efforts by foreign agents to influence this year's sugar legislation—lobbying tactics termed unfortunate by President Kennedy.

Congressional figures indicate the sugar lobbyists were paid a total of more than $500,000 by their foreign government clients. The investigation is expected to start in a few days and will be headed by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. He was designated by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which handles legislation dealing with registration of foreign agents.

Allocation of foreign quotas was a hotly contested issue as the complicated sugar bill made its way through Congress. The compromise that finally passed the Senate and House and awaits Kennedy's signature includes specific quotas for 24 foreign countries.

The Senate Finance Committee has developed data that some lobbyists got up to $50,000 a year and fees as high as 50 cents a ton for the quotas they obtained for their foreign government clients.

Committee members did not contend there was anything illegal about the lobbying. Under the law persons acting in behalf of foreign interests must register with the Department of Justice.

Asked at his news conference Thursday about the sugar lobbyists, Kennedy commented: "I think it is an unfortunate situation when men are paid large fees by foreign governments to secure quotas, and where, in some cases, there are contingency fees. For every ton of sugar they get allocated to their country they secure a payment of so much."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the lobbying amounted to an effort by foreign governments to appeal to Congress to overturn an administration policy. He referred here to administration proposals to eliminate almost all quotas.

Fulbright said a parallel situation would be if foreign nations hired lobbyists to try to persuade Congress to give them more foreign aid than the President had recommended.

The Senate voted approval for Kennedy to buy 150,000 tons of sugar a year at premium prices from Western Hemisphere countries. Administration senators said the Dominican Republic, Argentina and probably Peru would benefit.

The three were among nations which protested the sugar act allotments. The Dominican Republic and Peru each were given 100,000-ton annual quotas and Argentina was cut out entirely.

The premium or subsidy price is now about $56 a ton over the world price.

The 150,000-ton added authority was tacked onto a House-passed bill dealing with the importation of honey bees. The House has adjourned until Monday so no further action on the change is possible until then.

The amendment sponsored by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana would take the 150,000 tons out of the 1.64-million-ton quota reserved for Cuba. At the event its Communist government is supplanted.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this because I know that other mothers are having the same problem.

As two- and three-year-olds watch TV commercials, they see children in stocks and cash told police she tried to donate $11,427 to the Black Muslim sect Thursday night but failed.

Helene Herman, 52, who gave a Santa Monica address and talked of having once lived in Chicago, was taken to Central Receiving Hospital and later was transferred to General Hospital for observation.

Officers quoted her as saying she walked up to the Temple of Islam and told three men standing outside "I want to give you some money to help kill the white people."

The officers said she was ignored. Eventually, she walked around the corner to a private residence and knocked on the door.

When Cora Weaver opened the door, Mrs. Herman walked in without a word, strolled through the living room and kitchen into a large closet.

Police said it took four patrolmen to remove her from the home. During the struggle one of Mrs. Herman's two handbags burst open and showered the officers with $100 bills.

JFK Proposal Greeted With Pessimism

TOKYO (AP)—Industrialists and government officials today greeted with pessimism the Kennedy administration proposal that Japanese industries invest in factories in the United States.

The consensus appeared to be: What would be gained by moving into a high-wage labor market when we have comparatively low wages here at home?

"We could not compete with American industry because of their highly advanced situation," declared Toshiya Hiramatsu, an executive of the huge Mitsui Petrochemicals Industries, Ltd. "We would rather stress increasing exports than build factories in the States."

The U.S. government had suggested foreign investment in building U.S. factories as a means to improve America's balance of payments and to create job opportunities in certain areas.

But the Japanese pointed out that they too have an adverse balance of payment situation, a problem of more dollars going out than coming in.

Shigeru Sasaki, a spokesman for the huge Hitachi Manufacturing Co., electrical equipment, said the lower wage paid by the Japanese was the key to their survival in international competition.

He expressed hope the United States would ease its immigration laws to permit entry of Japanese workers. U.S. Embassy sources here, however, stressed the Kennedy administration proposal includes no easing of any existing barriers.

Nagato Kobayashi, of the Matsushita Electrical Co., which has a sales firm in New York City, said "If the proposed areas are appropriate enough for industry, American industries would have built their factories there long ago."

Areas mentioned as possible foreign investments sites included Maine, New Jersey, North Carolina, Kansas and the West Coast.

Judge's Order To Be Tested

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal judge's extension of his restraining order against a Pan American World Airways strike by flight engineers headed today toward a test in the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Daniel Kornblum, the engineers' lawyer, announced he would appeal after U.S. Dist. Judge George Rosling Thursday extended the restraint until Aug. 1.

"I don't think we can survive this," Kornblum declared and added angrily, "I think you've put the flight engineers out of business."

The order was signed at the end of the seventh day of a hearing on Pan Am's request for an injunction against the Flight Engineers International Association. Rosling's restraint would have expired today.

The engineers struck Pan Am June 23 but returned to work under a court order issued three hours later. A strike started at the same time against Eastern Air Lines is now in its 14th day and has kept the carrier grounded.

The strikes stemmed from the same two-year-old issue—the manning of jet airliner cockpits, now occupied by three pilots and an engineer.

The hearing before Rosling is expected to end today. He said he would start a two-week vacation in Miami July 13 and would study the transcript in the hope that he could have a decision ready to file when he returns to the bench July 30.

He urged, Pan Am and the union to negotiate in the meantime toward a settlement.

THE VISIBLE CHURCH

By J. H. Farber, preacher
Church of Christ, 300 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1383

The common conception is that the Lord's undenominational church is invisible, that is to say, a church must be a denomination.

In the days of the Apostles of Christ when there were no denominations, the Lord's church existed in congregations with geographic location. They assembled together, sent out evangelists and in general carried out an efficient program of church work. See Acts 11:26, 13:1, 14:23, 14:26, 27.

Thus, we have proof that the church can exist and function effectively without denominational machinery.

Today we have no other organization than that prescribed in the New Testament for the congregation. We have no inter-congregational organization, no official publications and no headquarters on earth. The Lord's undenominational church still has a visible existence.

Visit one of the undenominational churches of Christ in the area. Do it Sunday!

DEAR ABBY: I was raised in a family where the father did all the punishing. My mother never laid a hand on us, but we sure got it from our father when she reported that we had it coming. Now that I'm a mother, I follow the same method, but my husband says I am wrong. He says if a child needs punishment, I should do it on the spot and not wait for him to do it when he comes home. Do you think a mother should have this unpleasant duty added to her busy day?

OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER DEAR ABBY: If you want to have "pleasant" well-mannered children, you will have to accept the "unpleasant" duty of training them. Punishment need not always be physical. Withholding permission to go places (called "grounding") is frequently far more effective. Raising children is a joint effort, and a mother's constant teaching usually does more to mold the child than a father's occasional strong arm.

DEAR ABBY: I must beg to disagree with your advice to "get rid of Bertha"—the affectionate devoted midget that smooches all over the male. You say brings in $365 a year. What does the wife bring in? OIL IMPORTS

Prospects Dim For Senate Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Turned down by the House, backers of a statutory limitation on oil imports are turning to the Senate. Their prospects appear dim. Reports that the Kennedy administration would prefer to deal with oil imports by executive action, rather than by legislation, didn't help the efforts of oil and coal forces to get a limiting provision in the trade bill as passed by the House.

This word seems likely to react also against similar efforts in Senate hearings on the trade bill.

The White House is reported to have promised oil state congressmen action to tighten control of oil imports. So the pleas of the oil-coal forces may wind up at the White House.

One thing seems certain—the campaign for further curbs will continue. Rep. Arch Moore Jr., R-W. Va., and others of the sponsors of the proposed trade bill amendment have said they would carry on the fight, taking it to the White House if necessary.

The House Ways and Means Committee rejected the proposed amendment in acting on the administration's trade expansion bill. Subsequently, the House Rules Committee adopted a no-amendment rule for House consideration of the bill.

A motion to send the bill back to the committee provided for extension of the present trade program for one year. The motion lost, 253-171.

Minor Jameson Jr., executive vice president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said in a letter to association members shortly after House passage of the trade expansion act.

"Many congressmen from oil producing states voted for the motion to return the bill to committee as a means of protesting the failure of the bill to include a provision that would solve the problem of excessive oil imports."

"However, other congressmen from oil producing states voted against the motion because they had received from officials of the administration assurances that administrative action would be taken to meet the oil import problem."

Jameson said it was understood the assurances were that the President's study committee created last December to review the oil import situation will report by Sept. 1.

A system of limitation of oil imports would be retained. Imports would be related to domestic production.

Efforts would be undertaken to solve a problem of increasing imports from Canada. "It is understood that these assurances were accompanied by recognition that the level of domestic crude oil production is too low and that total controlled and exempt imports should be held to a stable relationship to domestic production," Jameson said.

The proposed amendment called for limiting oil imports to 14 per cent of domestic production over a base period.

ACTIVE TRADING

Key Stocks Are Down, Market Takes Sharp Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took a fairly sharp loss early this afternoon after five straight sessions in which advanced outnumbers declines. Trading was active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 2.30 to 214.50 with industrials off 4.30, rails off .80, and utilities off .70.

Key Stocks were down from fractions to about 2 points. The volatile "growth" stocks were down considerably more.

Profit taking on the market's rebound from its 1962 lows was the reason given by brokers for the retreat.

Normal pre-teening caution lent emphasis to the selling, as traders don't like to be out on a limb with the possibility of unexpected news and with markets closed.

The retreat was general, taking in steels, motors, rails, oils, chemicals, tobaccos, electrical equipments, aerospace issues and the savings-and-loan stocks which rallied sharply Thursday.

The list declined from the start and, after making its lows late in the morning, came back a little.

Among the savings-and-loan holding companies, Financial Federation was down a couple of points while losses of around a point were shown by United Financial of California, First Charter Financial and Trans-World Financial.

IBM dropped about 8 points, Xerox and Polaroid around 3 apiece.

Down about 2 points were such stocks as General Electric, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Zenith, Merck, American Telephone and Ford.

Losses exceeding a point were taken by U.S. Steel, Korvette, Goodrich, Boeing, Air Reduction and Lorillard.

General Motors was off nearly a point despite a report of record car sales for the company.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 9.03 at 574.84.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds showed little change. Trading was light.

Oxford Loses Debate To Texans

NEW YORK (AP)—Oxford University of England lost to North Texas State University in what was billed as an international debate championship.

Judges voted 2-1 for the Texans, Anne Hodges and John Saney. They were the national winners in the NBC network's championship debate series, climaxed six weeks ago with a victory over the University of Southern California.

After the national trophy was won, Oxford cabled its challenge to the winners and North Texas State accepted.

The Texans took the affirmative side in the debate subject: Resolved, that the decline and fall of Western civilization are at hand.

The association long has had a policy against teacher strikes, considering them unprofessional. Sanctions says an official of the organization, would focus public attention on unsatisfactory teaching conditions without penalizing children by going on strike.

The sanctions policy probably will be included in the proposed resolution on professional negotiations, one of the last to be taken up at the final session of the association's annual convention.

Pressure for some such weapon as sanctions has been growing with the national association in recent months because of the growing power of teacher unions.

Tests Show Youngsters In No Danger

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten St. Louis youngsters, tested to determine how much radioactive iodine 131 is in their thyroid glands, are apparently in no danger.

Dr. Merrill Eisenbud, professor of industrial medicine at New York University, made the tests for the U.S. Public Health Service.

The purpose was to learn how to estimate how much radioactive iodine is in the thyroid gland from the knowledge of how much is in food.

The professor said progress was made toward that aim and results would be announced by health service.

There never was any indication the children were in danger. Dr. Eisenbud continued. They were picked because an increase in the amount of iodine 131 was noted in milk samples taken in the St. Louis area in May. Some scientists think radioactive iodine, from nuclear fallout, could cause cancer in children if certain levels are exceeded.

Clifford Mitchell, director of sanitation for the St. Louis County Health Department, had said the level of iodine 131 in the milk there had been going down for several weeks and never was high enough over an extended period to cause concern.

Morton Proposes Health Care Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., has offered a proposal as a substitute for the Kennedy administration's health care for the aged plan which includes Social Security tax financing.

Under Morton's proposal, the program would be financed from general revenues of the Treasury and would provide federal payments for private health insurance premiums for persons over 65.

Morton said he expected his alternative to be disposed of without a record vote, a pretty clear indication he did not hold high hopes for it.

The Senate actually got around Thursday to debating the administration proposal for the first time.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., put it before his colleagues as an amendment to a pending House-passed bill revising the public welfare laws.

Morton estimated the annual federal cost of his proposed program might be $1.2 billion.

The payments would be $125 in annual premiums for those who owe no federal income tax in a year, a graduated scale from $125 to $25 for those with tax liability up to $400, and $25 for those owing $400 or more in taxes.

States desiring to participate would negotiate contracts with insurance companies under which persons over 65 would be offered a choice of short-term illness coverage or long-term or catastrophic illness coverage.

States would pay all administrative costs.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., one of five Republicans cosponsoring the Anderson proposal, said negotiations still are under way on the option feature of the plan.

This would permit a beneficiary to elect to take his health care payments through a private insurance company.

A Devotional For The Day

He that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is the Lord's freeman. (1 Corinthians 7:22.)
PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for Thy blameless Son who, though nailed by man's sin to the cross, won eternal freedom for us. Help us to live in the true liberty He gives to those who believe in Him. Use us to show this freedom to others. In Jesus' matchless name. Amen.

Need More Than Good Will

So far as good will is concerned, the visit of President and Mrs. Kennedy to Mexico was an unqualified success. So far as yielding results in international policies, subsequent developments will furnish the basis for appraisal.

This analogy may not be apt because Mexico's culture and history antedates ours by centuries, but her passion for independent action is not unlike a headstrong teen-ager. It is not always a case of being against cooperation but avoiding it because someone will say the Colossus of the North is pulling the strings. This is a psychological block we need to understand and which our neighbor needs to overcome because it is imperative that we both work closely together. Mexico virtually holds the key to successful working relations with southern parts of our hemisphere.

Split That Check

The Internal Revenue Service soon will begin severely checking travel and entertainment deductions for income tax purposes. This is a deduction the House-passed administration tax revision bill receives Senate approval.

limits on travel expenses and lodgings as deductions. He said on April 20, 1961: "The slogan, 'It's deductible,' should pass from the scene."

The House Ways and Means Committee, under great pressure from restaurant owners and the travel business, watered down the expense account provision. Still, the new rules look stringent. For example, if over half the use of a club is for business purposes, then that portion—but only that portion—can be written off for tax purposes.

able, however, whether the army itself or Soviet arms would get the most credit for a victory. The Communist party in Indonesia, supported by daily propaganda blasts from Moscow, would certainly claim the victory. For the Communist party in Indonesia is the largest, best organized and most vocal group in that country.

David Lawrence

Our Problem In Indonesia

Are the Communists about to achieve perhaps their biggest victory in Southeast Asia? This is the question which well-informed persons in the West are asking sadly as they watch the buildup toward a virtual conquest of Indonesia — one of the most important areas in the world today.

THE REAL worry now in the West is what the future of the Indonesian army would be. Hitherto it has been anti-Communist and pro-Western. It is regarded as the only group capable of resisting any Communist effort to take over from the inside. Obviously the Indonesian army personnel would be impressed with a victory they won with Soviet arms and as a consequence of training by Soviet military advisers. The net result could be that Indonesia would become a de facto Communist state with no freedom of action independent of its Communist supervisors.

Indonesian President Sukarno has made it appear that his dispute with the Dutch government over West New Guinea is solely a fight between nationalism and colonialism. It began that way, but now it has been followed by such definite intervention by the Soviets as to give them a substantial advantage.

IT IS TOO EARLY to tell what really will happen, but there is a growing fear that the Communists may gain the upper hand inside Indonesia. It is surprising that the facts about the Soviet military aid to the Indonesian forces in recent months have not been widely publicized to date.

THE INTERNAL situation in Indonesia today is a struggle between an army that is predominantly anti-Communist and a Communist political party which is the largest Communist party outside the Iron Curtain.

THE AMERICAN EFFORT, therefore, has been to bring a settlement of the dispute over West New Guinea by peaceful means so as to prevent the exploitation by the Soviets of their military aid to Indonesia. Besides small, artillery and amphibious tanks and armored landing vehicles, the Soviets have provided some of their most up-to-date weapons, such as the MIG-21 jet fighters and the TU-16 jet bombers equipped, respectively, with air-to-air and air-to-surface missiles. Six Russian submarines have been furnished, and others are reported on the way to Sukarno. There also is reportedly a promise to send surface-to-air guided missiles.

The big question now is what the acquisition by Indonesia of West New Guinea would mean to the rest of the world. If regarded as an Indonesian military victory, it would be construed as a double defeat for the West. For this would signal a military defeat for the would-be mediator — the United States.

However, I would be glad for any straws that show the wind is blowing in the right direction. And who knows what "my come next" How about Botticelli's Venus on bath towels? Or one of Rousseau's pastoral scenes on a tent canvas? The possibilities are endless.

Pep Talk For Diplomats

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you can't stand the heat, President Kennedy said, you'd better get out of the kitchen. He said he himself thinks the kitchen is the best place to be.

He was giving a pep talk to the State Department's career men, the Foreign Service officers. There are about 3,700 of them in various department and diplomatic jobs ranging all the way up to that of ambassador.

emotional attacks made on them from time to time. This kind of assurance would have been more helpful a few years ago than now when they're not under attack.

Calcium Is A Vital Ingredient In Healing

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. "Dear Dr. Molner: What foods will counteract an over-amount of calcium and cholesterol in the body?" — F. H.

There aren't any foods to "counteract" calcium if, at times, reduction of calcium is necessary, then it is simply a matter of avoiding, or cutting down, the foods which contain a lot of it.

When the condition is at the point at which surgery is suggested, there's precious little chance of correcting it by exercise. The skin and other tissues have become so stretched that it would take years to make much progress by exercise.

Indeed, some people wrongly assume that calcium is a nasty substance that is to be avoided. This is not so.

The idea, no doubt, arises because sometimes there are "calcium deposits" in one part of the body or another. "Spots" on the lungs are calcified areas. Creaky joints often have calcium deposits. Painful feet are another example — "spurs" of calcium may form on the heel or elsewhere, and hurt.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of Big Spring Daily Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Calcium is a vital ingredient in healing a wound or injury. If you cut your finger, calcium gathers there to form the scar tissue. Break a bone, and calcium is needed to make it knit. Damage a tendon, and again calcium helps. Infections and chronic irritations also need calcium for healing. Some people wonder why they get black and blue too easily — and many times discover that they

Around The Rim

Who Cares When You Can See?

The wonder of sight has never ceased to amaze me.

Being one of the many who enjoy occasional good eyesight—immediately after being fitted with new horn rims and scratchless bifocals—I particularly enjoy those few days of crisp, unblurred vision before the peepers begin settling back into their usual out-of-focus position.

After the last time my ophthalmologist gauged the degree of myopia and prescribed the proper lenses, I got my first look at Austin. By the time I arrived in Big Spring a year and a half ago, the old vision was down almost to normal night vision.

A FEW DAYS AGO I decided it was time for another of those infrequent visits to the eye-doc. The prospect of improved vision outweighed the horrible thoughts, and afterthoughts, of the chunk of change which I would leave behind.

I left my name at the secretary's desk and grooped into an easy chair whose comfort belied its name. Finding I had sat on a copy of "Better Homes And Gardens," I picked it up and began flipping pages. The words were somewhere in the gray portion of the pages so I contented myself with reading the large captions and trying to make out the people in the pictures.

FINALLY THAT moment arrived. I sat in the chair and relaxed for a moment before the doctor swung the machine against my face. The bruise is still there, but that is little enough to pay for the gift of sight.

We read the chart through several successive changes of magnification and clarity, one eye at a time, until he was satisfied that the proper prescription had been selected.

"How's that," he said, snapping away the shield from my right eye so I could see with both eyes.

"They're both fine," I said.

WE WENT THROUGH a process of bringing together a line and a dot and when he opened both lenses again there was only one copy of the chart in front of my eyes.

"Sometimes when a person gets lenses as strong as yours, double vision can occur," he pointed out superfluously.

"Well, anyway, you have one consolation. You can probably pay for these by renting them to someone who wants a close-up view of the next spaceman while he is orbiting," he said.

ON THE WAY OUT I penned my name on a bank draft, hoping that I was writing on the desk and perhaps the secretary would not notice. But the bank passed it through anyway. And a few days later I got the new glasses.

So now I can see. My wife says she feels as though she is looking into a cavern each time she looks into my eyes, but who cares? My friends have once again acquired faces and the countryside looks green in spite of the drought.

A Good Word In Fast Company

Fashions in words can be just as overwhelming as those in wigs—one of which can often lead to the other.

At the moment I am fed up to here with "nubile," the most fashionable—and misused—adjective of the moment. It is two, six and even that "nubile" was tossed on the world by Lolita, who may have been even though she was only 12 (in the book) she was, to put the best face on it, advanced for her age. So perhaps the adjective applies.

BUT FOR SOME reason—and you don't have to look far for one—a great many persons who use the word seem to believe that it has a slightly naughty, if not dirty, connotation and that they—the users—are showing their sophistication and daring by casually dropping it into the conversation. Mainly what they are showing is the unenlightenment.

It is not that I was any more erudite in the beginning than the general run of those who use it in print and person. But at least I had it in the words of the dictionary to look it up in the dictionary.

HAVING ASCERTAINED the true meaning of "nubile" from both Webster's and from the Oxford English Dictionary, I had the sneaky impulse to do my own galloping poll among my peers to find out their definition of the word "nubile."

The results of the poll are both gratifying, entertaining and, though wide of the mark, contain a rugged nugget of truth now and then.

IN REPLY to my question, "What is the meaning of 'nubile'?" I received the following answers, among others:

- 1. "It's a kid who looks like Marilyn Monroe."
- 2. "A girl who needs a brassiere."
- 3. "A high-school chick with college ideas."
- 4. "A brat who behaves like Liz Taylor."

That was why, he explained, he had to go out into private life to find ambassadors for some countries. In some places money counts, too, if only because Congress doesn't vote enough expense money for ambassadors for entertaining.

In some key capitals, like Moscow, Bonn and Rome, Kennedy picked career men in others, like London, Paris and New Delhi, he chose outsiders for special reasons.

Almost all the top jobs in the State Department are filled by men—like Secretary Dean Rusk—whom Kennedy brought in from outside. The highest ranking career man is Hugh Alexis Johnson, deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs.

THIS FEELING has been accentuated by a study recently released by the Department of Defense on "The Changing Patterns of Defense Procurement." It shows that while Michigan had 9.5 per cent of military prime contracts during the Korean War the state had only 2.7 per cent of the much smaller total in 1961. The contrast for the whole Middle West in equally striking. Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin combined had 17.4 during Korea and only 9.1 during the 1961 fiscal year.

The study also showed that research and development contracts farmed out to universities and other nonprofit organizations are largely concentrated on two coasts. Massachusetts alone had $119,000,000 in such contracts, California $38,000,000 and Maryland $45,000,000. Michigan's total was $14,000,000. And out of these projects come industrial developments that tend to locate around the center of origin.

THE CHALLENGE in the election this fall is very likely to come from the Republican side of the fence, and the principal challenger will be George Romney, the Republican candidate for Governor. Romney, a casting office's dream for "How To Succeed in Politics by Really Trying Hard," has been called the invention of a few shrewd publicists. But he is a hero to many elements in this state if only because he did the "seemingly impossible" by introducing the first compact car and pulling American Motors up from nothing to 6.8 per cent of the industry total this year.

In testimony before the Kefauver anti-monopoly subcommittee in 1958 Romney condemned both big unions and the giants of the auto industry. He advocated a law that would require both Ford and General

(5) "A girl you should ask to see her birth certificate first."

(6) "A prematurely old tomato who is younger than she seems. Used to be known as San Quentin quail during Prohibition. Still known as jail bait."

(7) "Old enough to go out with boys but not with men, unless they want to live dangerously."

(8) "Needs a mother's guidance, probably with a shillelagh."

(9) "I am shocked, Mrs. Robb, that you ask dirty questions through the mail."

(10) "A girl in a bikini who isn't built for it."

THAT IS an adequate cross section of the replies to my poll, from which it is apparent that most persons believe "nubile" has a pretty spicy if not leering connotation, when, as a matter of fact, it is a staid adjective whose real meaning is, according to Webster's, "marriageable—said of females, or of age."

The Oxford English Dictionary agrees. It defines the word thus: "Of females; marriageable. Of age. Admitting of, suitable for marriage." The word is descended from the Latin verb "nubere," to marry.

IT IS, as you can see, a staid word that somehow has got mixed up in fast company and earned an under-earned reputation as a six, six-letter word ill-fitted for use in polite or mixed company. All it signifies is that a girl is of an age for marriage and an honorable estate. "Nubile" is nothing to snigger about or write on a fence.

It must surprise this old adjective to discover that sexy Freudian overtones have been gratuitously added, and that the Old Lady from Dubuque will freeze if it is used in her presence. Although she, too, was undoubtedly nubile at one time, but be prepared to duck if you say so to her face.

Employment And Politics In Michigan

DETROIT — When President Kennedy campaigned so hard in this state in 1960 he talked again and again about the high rate of unemployment and the need to get moving again. That intensive effort paid off, for he carried Michigan by 66,000 votes out of more than 3,300,000 cast.

The unemployment rate has dropped from an average of 11.1 per cent last year to the current 6.5. But with the total labor force in the state failing to grow during the past four or five years there is a feeling that the promises of '60 are still in the realm of hope deferred and hope deferred is not a happy component for an election year.

Motors to break up into smaller units with a guarantee of a minimum of five companies in the industry. He would have industry-wide bargaining outlawed.

ON THE TWO sides of the industrial bargaining table industry and labor keep on repeating what they have long been saying. General Motors can show that hourly wages have increased 208 per cent since 1940, going from 91 cents to $2.80. That does not take in fringe benefits which, according to GM, went from eight cents to 72 cents an hour in the same period. U.S. wages are said to be three times higher than the pay for similar work in Germany.

The United Auto Workers can show that in 1960 when the average manufacturing corporation had a 9.5 per cent return on investment, GM's $959,000,000 profit represented a 17.9 per cent return. Ford's $423,000,000 after tax profit was a return of 16.4 per cent. For the whole 15-year post-war period, 1957-61, according to Walter Reuther's annual report to his union, GM made almost $1 billion in profits after taxes, which was equivalent to a 21.4 per cent annual return.

IN A KIND of dialogue of the deaf that has persisted throughout the postwar years the two sides have been endlessly arguing "too high" from labor, "Prices and profits are too high." But, even if one or both were right, what could be done about it through the intervention of government, in the present political situation, is far from clear. It is inconceivable that President Kennedy would call for a reduction of the wage level. And Congress would never sanction any punitive action against the profits of industry, however large they have been shown to be.

WHILE THEY will give him their all in the coming election, Romney is in a sense a counterpoise to the auto giants. In the same way Detroit's new, aggressive, 34-year-old Mayor Jerome P. Cavanaugh, elected over the opposition of the UAW, is a counterpoise to big labor. He has begun to solve Detroit's financial problems and he has named men who are taking creative and constructive steps to meet this sprawling city's vast problems. So it may be that new centers of power are forming and out-of-new and imaginative approach may come a solution for the long shadow of chronic unemployment.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

A linen shop in Paris is offering two-color blankets with a Picasso drawing on one side and a drawing by Cocteau on the reverse. Whether this is supposed to encourage sleep or cause insomnia is not stated.

This outburst of artistic effort on mundane items has a counterpart in the sweatshirts, now being sold in this country, that feature portraits of Beethoven, Brahms and Bach. Perhaps this is an indication of great cultural strides among the young, though one might think there would be better ways to convert them to a love of classical music.

However, I would be glad for any straws that show the wind is blowing in the right direction. And who knows what "my come next" How about Botticelli's Venus on bath towels? Or one of Rousseau's pastoral scenes on a tent canvas? The possibilities are endless.

Still, we are inclined to prefer our art on walls. There's something a bit disturbing about the sight of Beethoven cosmic snow and all, passing by on the front of a teen-ager's sweatshirt.

But I wouldn't advise anyone to bleach her hair at home unless she learned to do it from a professional. Even now with all the things I have to buy, it costs me eight or nine dollars for touch ups, and in the beauty salon it is twice that."

"Personally I like the natural look. I think there is nothing prettier than healthy hair that is clean and glossy from lots of shampooing and brushing. And I think that men like hair that feels like hair. If you are dancing and put your cheek next to his, when you've used a lot of lacquer it's not very comfortable. But with the hair-styles that are popular now, it's almost impossible not to use some lacquer."

"Men like blondes," Diane declared, "or should I say, blondes get attention faster."

"We talked about skin and Diane feels that your aim should be to keep your complexion so lovely that you have no need to wear make-up."

"You have to be sure your face is clean, not only on the surface but in the pores. I like to use a medicated meal several times a week. I mix this with water and really scrub my face with my fingers. It keeps my pores from having blackheads, and my skin has a fresh look. Afterward, I use a moisture lotion that isn't greasy or sticky, but it keeps my skin from being dry. I find this routine agrees with my skin better than any I've ever used."

U. S. Business Is Becoming International

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Like it or not, American business grows more international by the day.

Item: President Kennedy urges West Europe to unite and then join the United States in a concrete Atlantic partnership. Among its goals: "We can balance our worldwide trade and payments at the highest possible level of growth."

Item: American businessmen have been pouring millions of dollars into branch factories and other businesses in Europe, Japan and elsewhere. Europeans have millions invested in American industries. And now the United States is asking Japan to build factories in the United States.

Item: The stock market crash has caused Europeans to sell American securities and put some of the returns into gold. The American dollar has fallen on many of the foreign exchange markets to the level where it is supported by their central banks under an international agreement. The price of gold has risen sharply in London. Rumors of possible devaluation of the Yankee dollar continue to flourish abroad despite earnest denials by Washington.

Item: Some American investments abroad have been nationalized in recent months, notably in Brazil. But in other lands American still pour in investment money—while fighting a bill before Congress to tax earnings on such investments as they accrue rather than when they are repatriated.

Item: The United States is trying to get the Common Market and other European nations to cut further their import restrictions on certain U.S. manufactured goods and farm products, but to date has had little success.

To many American businessmen, therefore, it seems as if the United States has already achieved a measure of that "interdependence" which President Kennedy proposed as a goal in his Fourth of July speech at Independence Hall.

What Americans export makes up only about 5 per cent of the total of their production. What they import accounts for an even smaller percentage of total domestic sales.

But some American producers count on these exports to mean the difference between final profit and loss. And some American industries find the competition of foreign imports painful—some call it fatal.

In addition, American exports and imports are now tied closely with U.S. foreign policy. There wouldn't be a deficit in our balance of payments nor a resultant outflow of gold if it weren't for the spending of American dollars for foreign aid, overseas military commitments.

One reason given for inviting Japanese to build factories here is that it should lessen the flow of American dollars to Tokyo to pay for Japanese imports.

And one of the chief arguments for the administration's trade bill, passed by the House and now before the Senate, is that it would grant the President powers to manipulate tariffs so as to increase in the long run the amount of American goods sold abroad. It also presumably would increase the amount of goods foreigners might ship here.

Business and finance would become just that much more international—in a non-Communist world that seems to be groping its way toward more economic interdependence, if short of unity.

Tooth Decay Is Contagious

BONN, Germany (AP)—A leading American dental research scientist says it has been proved that tooth decay may be contagious in humans—as well as animals.

Dr. Robert J. Fitzgerald, of the National Institute of Dental Research in Bethesda, Md., told a news conference tooth decay can be produced by inoculating an animal with decay-producing germs, whereupon the disease passes from animal to animal merely by close contact.

Fitzgerald is among 150 dental physicians and research workers attending an international conference on oral biology here.

Atlanta, Ga. (AP)—Negroes want their freedom now and one of the ways for them to get it is through intensified voter registration campaigns, says the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., integration leader and exponent of non-violence.

"I am still convinced that one of the most significant steps that the Negro can take at this hour is that short walk to the voting booth," he told National Association for the Advancement of Colored People delegates at a dinner Thursday night.

He commended the NAACP for making voter registration a major theme of the national convention King, who is president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), said it was significant that such major civil rights organizations as the NAACP, SCLC, Congress of Racial Equality, Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and the Urban League were coordinating voter registration campaigns.

"Already we are getting results," he said. "In Georgia alone we were able to register more than 30,000 Negroes in less than 90 days."

About 2,800 persons were registered in a month at Chattanooga, Tenn., he said.

King criticized reports in some newspapers and magazines of disunity among the various civil rights organizations.

"We can and should criticize each other in fair and free exchange," he said. "But we must

More Questions

This is a candid study of Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman shortly before he resumed his testimony at a Senate Investigations Subcommittee hearing into the affairs of Billie Sol Estes. From the witness chair Freeman said he was acting at once to "recoup for the government whatever losses have been sustained" on Estes' challenged cotton deals.

King Stresses Short Walk To The Voting Booth

Ready To Travel, But Block Set Up

LONDON (AP)—Hospital officials said today Dr. Robert A. Soblen is fit to travel—but his lawyers claimed to have blocked the fugitive spy's removal to America until at least July 16.

A British legal firm representing the 62-year-old psychiatrist said this is the effect of a court summons served this morning on Home Secretary R. A. Butler.

Officials of the Home Office previously disclaimed responsibility for Soblen's presence in this country.

"The legal position is enormously complicated," said a Home Office spokesman, who declined to speculate what moves the Home Office might make.

In Washington, Justice and State Department officials went into conference on the affair.

A Justice Department spokesman said details were being worked out on steps to oppose Soblen's court move.

Soblen tried to knife himself to death rather than return to the United States to serve a life term in prison. He has been in a London hospital since Sunday.

The delaying move came in a post-midnight visit by two of Soblen's attorneys to the home of Justice Sir Alan Abraham Mocatta.

The justice granted them permission to apply for a writ of habeas corpus and set the hearing for 10 days from now. If obtained, such a writ would require that Soblen be brought into court for an inquiry into the lawfulness of his detention.

The Home Office has insisted all along that Soblen is merely in transit through Britain, not in custody. The Home Office position is that he must be taken out of the country by El Al, the Israeli airline, which was transporting him to New York when he interrupted the trip with his suicide attempt.

A spokesman at Hillingdon Hospital near London airport said Soblen is now fit to travel.

El Al has an airliner scheduled to leave for New York this afternoon. Asked whether Soblen would be aboard, an airline spokesman said, "Maybe yes, maybe no."

Soblen jumped bail and fled to Israel last week after his appeal in American courts against a life sentence failed. He was expelled by the Israel government.

A spokesman at Hillingdon Hospital, where Soblen's life was saved by blood transfusions, said that his condition continues to improve and that he had a comfortable night.

Whether Soblen escapes prison or not, his doctors have said he has only about a year to live anyway as he suffers from leukemia, cancer of the blood.

Tax Decrease Will Depend On Health Of Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says he is giving very serious consideration to proposals for business and labor for an immediate income tax cut. And he feels Congress should think hard about it too.

But, he told his news conference Thursday, the decision whether taxes should be reduced now or next year will depend on the economy's health as reflected by basic economic indicators.

Kennedy said he and his advisers will be watching these indicators closely "in the next months."

"If we feel that the situation in the economy warrants a tax cut then, of course, we would recommend it," he said.

For the present, said Kennedy, he will keep to his plan for tax reductions and other revisions next year.

He emphasized, however, that he and Congress should pay heed to recommendations from such diverse quarters as the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the AFL-CIO for an early tax reduction.

"But the basic question will be to try to make an analysis as to the health of the economy over the next months," he added. "Whether '63 is the appropriate time or not."

In the meantime, he said, the administration will press for congressional action on present economic legislation, including the bill to give tax credit for plant and machine modernization and the antidepressant measures to give him standby authority to cut taxes and launch a public works program.

REPEATS

The President reiterated his Fourth of July call for a declaration of interdependence with a united Europe—when Europe becomes one great organization, to advance all mankind.

"We would not want this to be a rich man's club while the rest of the world looks on," Kennedy said. "We want the benefits of this kind of union to be shared."

Would this lead to some kind of political union between the United States and Europe? It depends on how you define political, Kennedy said. North Atlantic allies already have political commitments to each other, he said, and these may take on "a more intimate form."

BUSINESS

Inevitably, homegrown politics and Democratic administration's relations with business came up in the half-hour conference. Ken-

尼迪 said "an awful lot of businessmen" have supported the Democratic party, even though he agreed his party "is not the party of business." Asked what he thought of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's description of Republicans as the party of business, Kennedy replied with amusement.

"Well, I think, as I said, I dislike disagreeing with President Eisenhower, and so I won't in this case."

On other matters, Kennedy offered these comments:

VITAL

Legislation—He opened the conference with strong appeals to Congress to pass his foreign aid and medical care measures. Assistance programs "are vital to our security," he said. On medical care for the elderly—in view of the fact that doctors' fees are not included in his proposal and the government already helps build hospitals, Kennedy said he found the American Medical Association's "extreme hostility to this bill somewhat incomprehensible."

Sugar Lobby—Kennedy called lobbying by foreign sugar interests to secure quotas for sales in this country "an unfortunate situation." Legislation already passed and amendments just introduced will gradually minimize quotas and produce less lobbying, he said "and I think we ought to have less of it."

REDUCE

Soviet Union—The United States is attempting to reduce the chance of conflict with the Soviet Union in a variety of ways and to maintain its own security and peace of the Free World, he said. "That is the object of our policy."

Nuclear Policy—Contrary to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's aggressive charge, Kennedy found Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was constructive in a recent speech advocating the restriction of atomic war to military targets and discouraging the creation of new, independent nuclear forces—as by France, The United States, Kennedy said, feels a nuclear force under NATO protects Western Europe.

PROBLEM

Campaigns—Deciding whether to campaign only for Democrats who have supported his major programs or for all who want him should not cause a problem, Kennedy speculated, since those who back him to campaign have generally backed his policies. He declined to offer advice to California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who is opposed for re-election by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Civil Rights—Kennedy said he will follow through on a campaign promise to issue an executive order against racial discrimination in federally aided housing "when we think it will be a useful and appropriate time."

SHELTERS

Shelters—Kennedy urged Congress to act this year on an extensive fallout shelter program. Japan—The United States has encouraged Japan and other countries to invest in business enterprises here, he said, particularly in areas of high unemployment. Heavy U.S. investments overseas have helped upset the balance of payments, he said, and the purpose is to bring matching foreign capital to this country.

FOR DRINKING

Youths Given Spankings On City Judge's Order

WHITING, Ind. (AP)—Three youths, among nine who were given unusual punishments Thursday by City Judge William Obermiller, were spanked by two policemen and a bailiff.

Each youth got 15 solid whacks, as ordered by the judge. They stood before the judge as the policemen and a court bailiff administered the spankings with their hands on the seats of the teenagers' pants.

Some 250 persons who jammed the courtroom witnessed the spankings given to Steve Short, 16, Peter Welcome, 17, and James Hunt, 16. They, with Daniel M. Cardona, 15, had been convicted of drinking beer and brandy at the Whiting Beach on June 18. In addition to the spankings, Judge Obermiller ordered shaven heads and beach cleanup orders, and writing and studying for examinations on the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

The three youths who were spanked also were ordered to have their hair cut not more than a half inch high and help clean up Whiting Beach each Saturday until Labor Day. They will be joined at the beach by five other youths who received similar sentences from the judge last Tuesday and two others Thursday night.

Cardona was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $65. Obermiller said Cardona had been before him for intoxication previously.

Obermiller, an elected city court judge, has been on the bench about two years.

Fallout Shelter To Hold Horses

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—A fallout shelter for horses? C. T. Newberry is building one on his estate at nearby Black Brook, but it will have room for 17 persons as well as 12 horses.

The shelter, expected to be ready for use this year, will have three large intake fans to reduce odors and provide ventilation. Five rooms and a lavatory in the shelter are designed for use by Newberry, his wife and daughter and three families employed on the estate.

State civil defense officials have praised the project.

Dear Larry:

Haven't you ever heard of Johnston's No-Roach? Don't let the name fool you. Brush a little on your dog's back, and brush it round where he sleeps and eats. This won't hurt your dog, and he'll be "flea free."

Canal Plugged Up By Labor Dispute

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (AP)—The 20-mile Welland Canal between Lake Ontario and Lake Erie was plugged at both ends today by ships involved in labor dispute and traffic on the St. Lawrence Seaway link was halted. The blockage followed the spreading boycott against ships manned by members of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada.

The boycott began with lockmasters in the St. Lawrence Seaway, demonstrating their sympathy with the Canadian Maritime Union, a bitter rival of the SIU.

The lockmasters are members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers. The brotherhood and the SIU are members of the Canadian Labor Congress which Elected out the SIU two years ago.

The boycott spread to the Welland Canal lockmasters.

Thursday night two SIU-manned ships blocked the entry at both ends of the canal. Five down-bound ocean freighters were caught in the passage. Two others were waiting in Lake Ontario to go through.

Launched at 8 a.m. Thursday, the boycott threatened to bring most of Canada's lake fleet to a halt. Ships operated by Canada Steamship Lines, largest of the lake operators, were hard hit.

Transport Minister Leon Balcer and Labor Minister Michael Starr conferred for more than two hours with William Dodge, executive vice president of the Labor Congress in a futile search for a formula to meet CLC conditions for ending the boycott.

The CLC has listed three conditions: (1) An assurance of an end to what it termed the SIU reign of terror on the Great Lakes; (2) Free movement of CMU-manned ships now tied up in U.S. ports by a boycott of longshoremen cooperating with the SIU; and (3) A full government inquiry into the affairs of the SIU.

Mundts Back From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Mundt have returned from a three weeks' vacation that took them to Cochran, Ga., where they visited relatives.

They reported that the peach crop is excellent in that part of Georgia and the corn "is as high as an elephant's eye."

When in that area, they took time to visit the famed Andersonville prison, which housed Union soldiers during the Civil War. Prisoners died at the rate of 900 a month during the War Between the States, they were told.

World Wars I and II soldiers can now be buried there, if their families request it, they were also informed.

The Mundts made their way back via Wichita Falls, where they spent some time with his sister and her family.

From an area where the rainfall averages 40 inches a year, the Mundts came back to a place where the rainfall has been practically nil this year — and found their flowers all but dead.

Despite the drought conditions, they said they were delighted to be home. Texas has one thing of which it can be justly proud, according to Mundt — its road system. The improvement in the thoroughfares is noticeable as soon as a tourist hits the state's borders, they discovered, and other states have a long way to go to come up to the state's standards in highways.

The Mundts also paid as high as 38 cents for gasoline in parts of Georgia — the state tax bite there is 11½ cents a gallon. The prices on Texas gasoline looked good, for that reason.

The trip was the third the Mundts have made back through that part of Dixie.

On Schedule

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Recent heavy rains have not hampered highway construction and repair work, Minister of Public Works Javier Barros Sierra said. He said projects were proceeding on schedule.

the wandering minstrels who serenaded him during his visit here last weekend.

Mario Oliva Lara, secretary general of the union, turned the guitar over to President Adolfo Lopez Mateos to be forwarded to the White House.

Another Fourth, Another Girl

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—It was another glorious Fourth—and another baby girl—for William and Rosemary Hunter.

On July 4 a year ago Mrs. Hunter gave birth to Lisa Marie, 6 pounds-10 ounces, her first child. Wednesday she had a 6 pound-eight-ounce girl, Renee.

Hunter, a toll collector on the Walt Whitman Bridge, is 21. His wife is 20.

Finishing Touches Being Applied To Storage Tank

Work has not started on finishing touches to the city's new 1.5 million-gallon elevated tank on the North Side. The tank will be painted inside first. The outside will be spray-painted when wind and weather are right.

The painting contract was in connection with the Chicago Iron &

Bridge Company's job of erecting the tank.

Fencing of the area around the tank, the Edwards Heights ground storage tank area, and the filter plant area, will be done by Western Fence Co., Big Spring, at a cost of $4,474.49, with chain link material used.

Piping and appurtenances for connecting the elevated storage tank into the city mains will be done by Anderson Construction Co., Abilene, for $12,726.20.

Contracts, which have been in the hands of Freese, Nichols and Endress, consulting engineers, Fort Worth, have not been returned to the city, Bruce Dunn, director of public works said Thursday.

"We cannot issue a work order on these projects until the contracts have been returned to us," he said.

All these contracts, except the Edwards Heights ground storage tank, will be under the Master Plan bond program. That ground storage area is being fenced to protect instruments against vandalism.

Horse Likes Fancy Hats

Mrs. Russell, 43, has a taste for cute hats.

So has Punch, the dapple gray police horse.

The two met briefly here Thursday at the Royal Agricultural Show attended by Queen Mother Elizabeth.

Mrs. Russell was standing to welcome the royal party when Punch, being ridden in the procession, bit off one of the two plastic oranges decorating her straw hat.

Nixon Backs GOP Groups

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he supports both the All-Republican Conference, organized by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and the recently formed National Republican Citizens Committee.

Nixon and his wife arrived by plane Thursday from Denmark, where he addressed a Fourth of July celebration.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said earlier Thursday in Washington that he approved of the conference, formed last Saturday at Eisenhower's Gettysburg, Pa., farm as a Republican policy organization.

In a letter sent Monday to William E. Miller, GOP national committee chairman, Goldwater said: "President Eisenhower and I agree on that (the All-Republican Conference) but we disagree on the National Citizens Committee."

Said Nixon: "I think both organizations are additives rather than being divisive, and an additive is what the Republicans need."

Hillcrest To Break Ground For Mission Plant Sunday

Hillcrest Baptist's mission undertaking will be symbolized by a groundbreaking ceremony Sunday noon.

Immediately after Sunday services at the church and at the mission, members and other friends will gather at the site of a new mission church plant south of Wason Addition on the old San Angelo Highway.

The mission is designed to serve the rapidly developing sections in the Douglass Wason, Suburban Heights, Capehart and other areas.

An informal program will be held, probably starting at 12:15 p.m. The Rev. H. L. Bingham, Hillcrest pastor, and the Rev. J. F. Fields, mission pastor, are due to speak briefly before prayers and the turning of the first earth.

The congregation has been arranging for finances on the plant and work is due to begin within two weeks. The building will be frame construction with brick finish and will contain a sanctuary to seat 250. Sunday School rooms with some adaptable to a fellowship hall, plus offices and nursery.

A revival meeting will start Sunday at the newly organized Silver Hills Missionary Baptist Church. Most of the churches, however, are in the midst of regular summer schedules.

DAVEY AND GOLIATH Ventures Of Pair Interpret God

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—An extensive job of religious teaching among the nation's children is being done today by a little boy named Davey and his big loyal dog, Goliath. For a year and a half now, this fictional pair has been romping through experiences that offer kids some drama-packed explanations of the nature of God.

The lessons-in-action by the animated puppets still are going strong. "Davey and Goliath" is the name of a church-produced television series. Early chapters have appeared on 247 American television stations and parts are now being carried on more than 100 of them, with more episodes to come.

It has become the most widely used children's religious television series ever to hit the airways.

"There's no question about it," says Carl Cannon, director of station relations for the National Council of Churches Broadcasting and Film Commission, which distributes the series.

"Many stations have run it over and over again, some of them steadily for more than a year now.

Additional sequences of the stories now are being filmed in Hollywood with 13 new chapters to be ready by fall, bringing the total to 39 episodes of 15 minutes each.

Each makes some point about God, such as His justice, His omnipotence, His love for human beings, His mercy. But the concepts are conveyed through lively events in a contemporary setting easily grasped by a child.

"At long last, someone has gotten on the ball and is explaining God to children on a level they can understand," wrote a Huntsville, Ala., mother.

The series was developed by the United Lutheran Church merged last week into the Lutheran church in America. A theological committee oversees the content. Actual production is by a professional Hollywood studio, Clokey Productions, Inc.

Chinese Permit Church So Long As They Run It

By JOHN RODERICK
AP Religion Writer

TOKYO (AP)—A Communist China has announced that it will maintain its version of religious freedom for a long time to come. It conceded, however, that it has been guilty of errors in its religious policy.

These declarations were made by Chang Chih-yi, deputy director of the Communist party's united work front department, in the April issue of Nationalities Issue, a translation of which has just been made available here. They were part of a restatement of the Chinese line on religion.

Chang noted that the principal religions in China are Catholicism, Islam, Buddhism, Taoism, and Christianity, by which he presumably meant Protestantism.

These five different religions not only have a long history but will exist for quite a long period of time to come after the establishment of a Socialist society or even a Communist society," he said.

The Chinese Communist policy towards religion, he indicated, is to recognize its impact on the masses and seek to use it for its own ends.

To do so, he placed religion under patriotic control and imprisoned priests and missionaries, both Chinese and foreign, who resisted this move.

The purged religions which have emerged have been given at least surface freedom. The churches, mosques and temples remain open, in some cases they have been repaired or reconstructed, and religious believers have been free to attend them.

Chang, whose department is concerned with minorities, did not specify what mistakes had been made.

He made it clear, however, that these errors did not include the imprisonment of priests and others accused of counterrevolutionary activities.

"In the past, he said, our government has punished, in accordance with law, a group of imperialist elements and traitors who carried out counterrevolutionary activities by wearing religious cloaks."

"Here the question of religious belief did not arise. In the future, the government will, on the one hand, continue to persist in the implementation of the policy of freedom of religious belief, and on the other, continue to rely on the masses (including the mass of religious followers) in resolutely suppressing all elements who use religion for carrying out counter-revolutionary and other law-breaking activities."

Membership Up For Catholics

NEW YORK (AP)—Membership in the Roman Catholic church in the United States now totals 42,676,663, it was announced today. This is 771,765 more than last year, a gain of about 1.8 per cent.

The new figures were issued in the 1962 official Catholic directory. It shows that the number of Roman Catholics has increased 12,451,650 since 1952 when the total was 30,225,015. This is a 10-year growth of 40.8 per cent.

Chicago remains the largest among the 27 archdioceses, with a membership of 2,183,380.

Eight other archdioceses with more than a million Roman Catholics are Boston, 1,638,138; New York, 1,651,400; Newark, N. J., 1,495,298; Los Angeles, 1,421,478; Detroit, 1,396,346; Philadelphia, 1,251,934; and San Francisco, 1,121,585.

Brooklyn remains the largest diocese, with 1,493,164 members. Others with over a half million Catholics are Pittsburgh, 603,688; Buffalo, N. Y., 673,969; Cleveland, Ohio, 618,740; Rockville Centre, N. Y., 604,497; Providence, R. I., 521,353; Trenton, N. J., 519,307; and Corpus Christi, Texas, 504,250.

Chang, whose department is concerned with minorities, did not specify what mistakes had been made.

He made it clear, however, that these errors did not include the imprisonment of priests and others accused of counterrevolutionary activities.

"In the past, he said, our government has punished, in accordance with law, a group of imperialist elements and traitors who carried out counterrevolutionary activities by wearing religious cloaks."

Jeremiah Predicts Tragedy

THE CALL OF A GREAT PROPHET AND HIS FAITHFULNESS TO THAT CALL

Scripture—Jeremiah 1:1-5, 8-9; 7:1-7; 19; 21; 25:1-11.

By N. SPEER JONES

IN LAST week's lesson we saw the first prophecy of Jerusalem's destruction. It was given in about 625 B.C. by a woman named Huldah, in reply to King Josiah's inquiry about what to do, after the Book of Law was discovered and Josiah realized how grievously his people had sinned.

About three years later, c. 625 B.C., God called upon a man named Jeremiah to be His prophet. For some 39 years, Jeremiah continued to act as God's loyal spokesman, despite the disbelief, ridicule and scolding of Jerusalem, until the doom from which he tried to save them fell upon the city with Nebuchadnezzar's conquest in 586 B.C.

At the time of his call, Jeremiah was about 25 years old. He was apparently born in a village about three miles northeast of Jerusalem, called Anathoth — named, ironically, invaded, took him captive, but returned him to his throne. Despite Jeremiah's advice, he threw off the Babylonian yoke, and more misery followed. About 597, the Babylonians had him replaced by Zedekiah, who took an oath of allegiance to Nebuchadnezzar.

Once more, despite Jeremiah's counseling, this king cast off his allegiance, uniting with the Egyptians. This prompted the doom which Jeremiah foretells. In the frightful siege of Jerusalem, Jehoiahim died and his body was thrown outside the walls of the city; Zedekiah saw his sons killed in his presence, had his eyes put out, and was taken in chains to Babylon with the other Jewish leaders.

Jeremiah survived the fall of Jerusalem, but we do not know for how long; nor do we know for certain where or how he died.

His counseling for alliance with Babylon rather than with enough, for a Phoenician goddess named Anath. This village was one of 13 set aside for the priests in lower Palestine. Jeremiah's father was Hilkiah, apparently the priest in last week's lesson who discovered the Book of the Law during Josiah's rebuilding of the temple.

Jeremiah's work as a prophet spanned the last 17 years of Josiah's reign, the 11 years of Jehoiahim's and the 11 of Zedekiah's.

Jehoiahim and Zedekiah were the second and third sons, respectively, of Josiah. The first, Jehoahaz, succeeded his father but was soon deposed by the influence of the Egyptians, who put on the throne Jehoiahim — a cruel tyrant who reinstated all the abominations his father had abolished. THAT LIFE FROM ABOVE

A Christian does not live out of mere caprice — nor without rhyme or reason. He counts his blessings in many, perhaps counting sorrows and afflictions and divine corrections as God means to rectify and save him. For example, in James 1:2. "My brethren, count it all joy when you fall into different temptations. The temptations mentioned here are the trials of life, not the evil solicitations that are hurled as darts of the evil one. Compare Verse 2. "Knowing that the trying of your faith worketh patience." This temptation then is a trying of your faith, be glad and rejoice because of this kind of lesson.

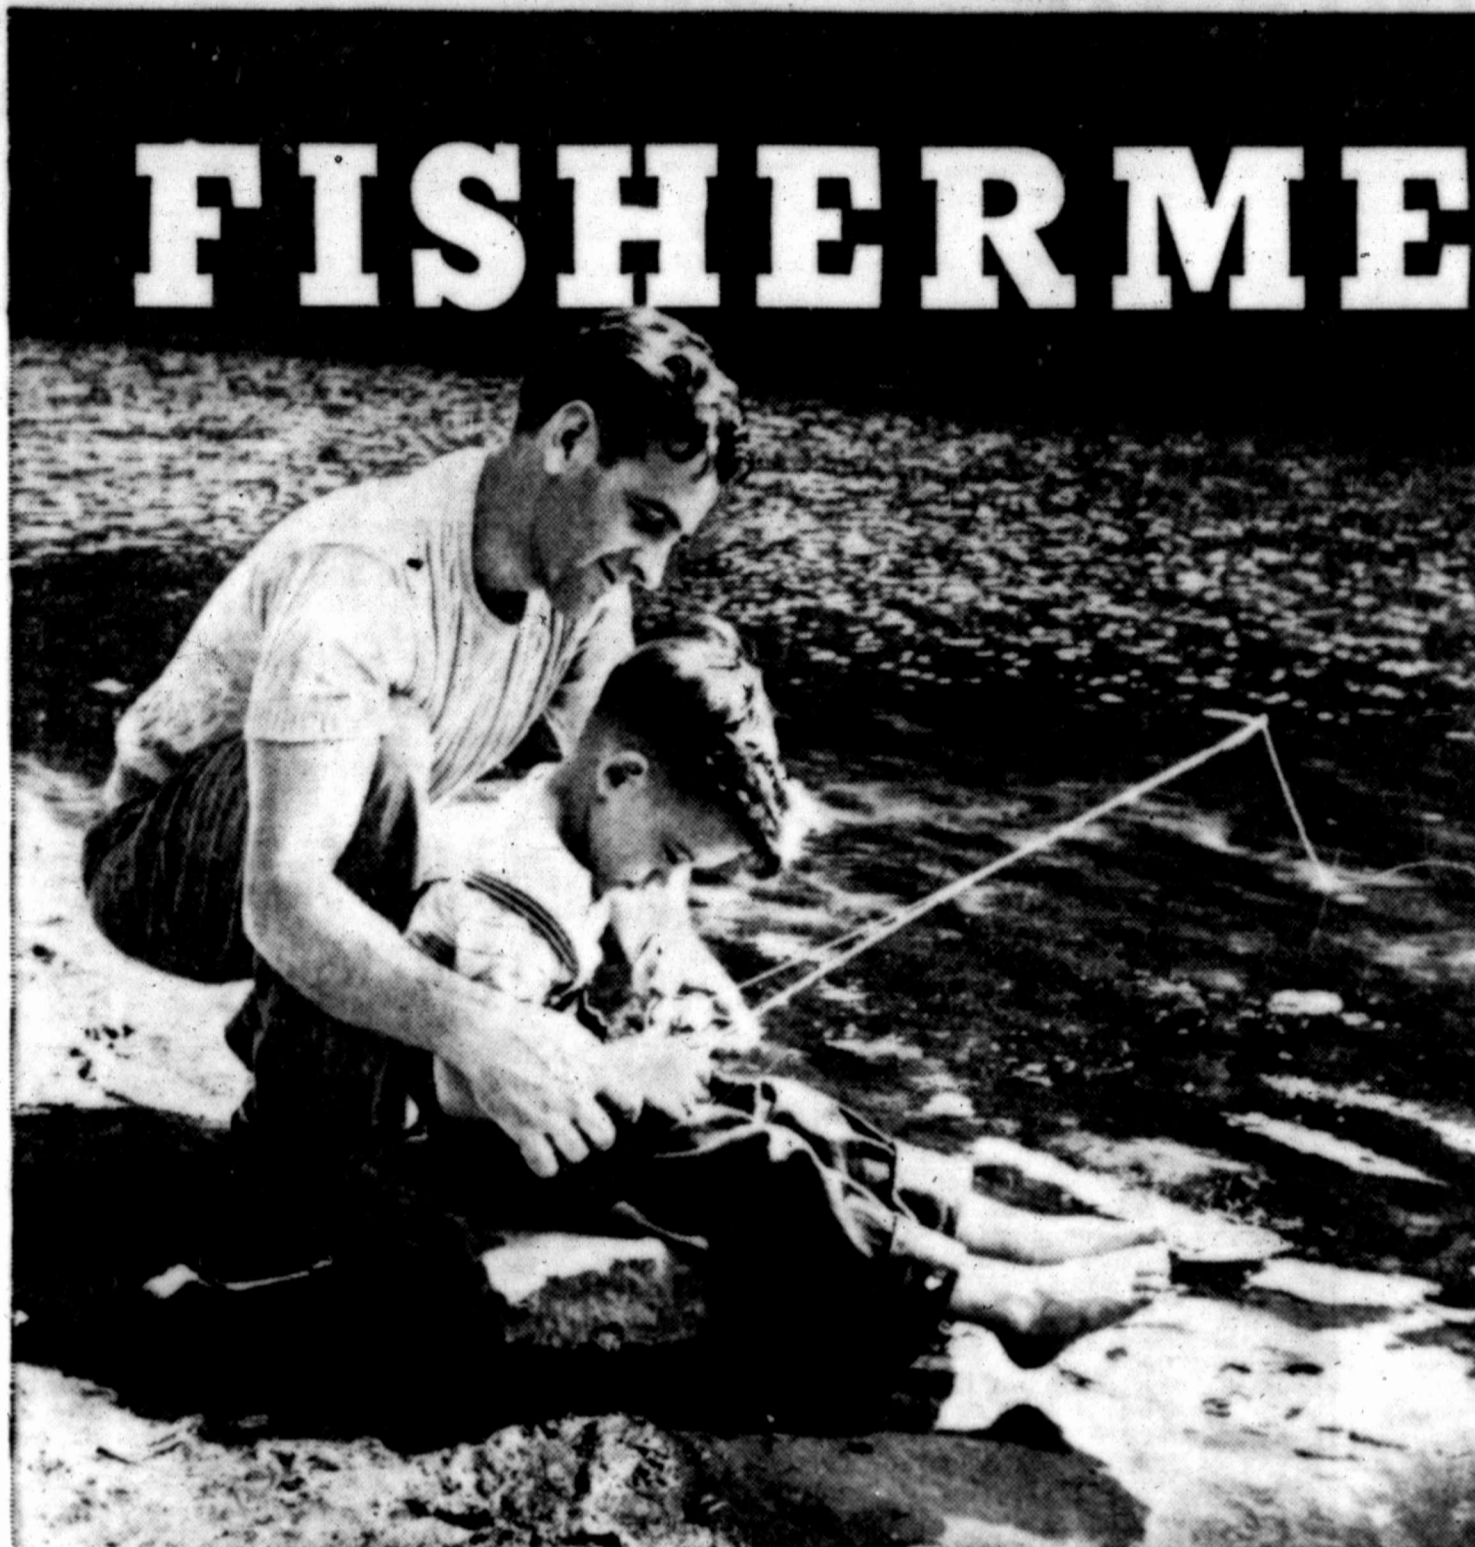

It is not a matter of glamour or witchery but a definite allurements nevertheless that the Christian has always before him. James 1:5 says, "If any man lack wisdom let him ask of God who giveth to all men liberally and upbraided not and it shall be given him." It is a satisfying thought to know that when you approach the Father as an obedient child of His that you will not be rebuffed, scolded nor go away hurt regardless of how wrong you have been, this promise however is not general to all men, it is specifically stated for any man "who is a worshipper of God and doeth His will."—In 9:31. Since there is such a thing as "vain" and "ignorant" worship as well as "true" worship the word "worshiper" in the above verse must not be misunderstood to mean you or me unless we are "doing His will" in those acts of worship. God does not bow to us regardless of how sincere we may think we are. We are the ones to follow and make our calling and election sure; worshipping God means nothing and to nor for us unless it be according to His will. But how comforting to know that if we are doing His will that our prayers avail!

The word temptation has been pointed out to mean "trials," which if taken rightly will do us good, but the word in James 1:13 means something else, this time it means "Solicitation to do evil." Note: "Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God; for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth He any man." This temptation leads to lust, thence to sin and finally finishes in death. The world today has greased their palms on this kind of temptation, we need to lay the whip, the lash, the goad and spur on ourselves and come back to God, through Christ.

We are sons of God by Faith — Gal. 3:26 Where In Christ — Gal. 3:26 Why "For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ" — Gal. 3:27.

Elbert R. Garretson, minister

Give God A Chance—God Will Open Doors For You!

FISHERMEN

Dad and Butch are both getting a big kick out of this. If Butch catches a fish — even a minnow — it's hard to say who will be the prouder.

We suspect, though, that it will be Dad. He'd probably give this little man all the fish in the ocean, if he could!

He is giving him things that really count. Good clean fun and happiness, a sense of sportsmanship, and that special man-to-man bond between father and son. And because his son means so much to him, Dad takes Butch to the services of their church each week.

Boys have to do a lot of growing to get to be men. It takes a lot to keep them growing the right way. Weekly church and church school attendance is a big step forward. Don't keep your child from taking it!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Smith's, Charley's Win In Tournament

E. C. Smith Construction and Charley's Package Store set the stage for a jaw-to-jaw meeting in the second round of the District 6 ASA softball tournament by winning opening round tests before a large crowd at the City Park Thursday night.

The two teams square away at 9:30 p.m. in the winners' bracket and Smith's will be gunning for revenge. It was upset by Charley's in the recent invitational tournament held here.

Southwestern Agricultural Chemical of Wall and Webb AFB vie in the loser's bracket at 7:30 o'clock this evening. The loser fades out of the tournament. The winner comes back to meet the loser in the Charley's-Smith's set at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The tournament winds up Saturday night. Three games might be needed to determine the titlist, in which event the final game wouldn't begin until 11:30 p.m. or thereabouts.

Both the champion and the runner-up here become eligible to play in the State ASA tournament at Brownwood next month.

Smith's scored in each of the first four innings on the way to its impressive win over Wall.

Billy Paul Thomas, the local team's big right-hander, never gave the Wall team a look-in. He stopped them with one hit, and that was a single by Norman Hodges, a pinch-hitter, in the seventh inning.

Thomas fanned an incredible 16 in the seven-inning struggle, and walked four.

Billy Paul also drove in the first run of the game in the opening round.

Marion Tredaway slugged a third inning home run for Smith's with the bases empty. Bobby Suggs duplicated that feat under the same circumstances in the sixth.

Tredaway also had a single to his credit, as did Suggs. Billy Paul Thomas had Smith's only other hit.

Jimmy Roger smashed a round tripper with two on in the third inning to propel Charley's to its victory.

Spec Franklin, the winning pitcher, and Dewey Carr yielded six hits but kept them well scattered. Carr pitched the final two innings.

Charley's counted five runs in the third inning to all but put the decision on the top shelf.

D. A. Miller boomed a triple and drove in two tallies for the winners.

Bob Pekar and Johnny Terry divided time on the mound for Webb, surrendering six hits between them. No Charley's player had more than one hit.

Pekar himself lashed out two hits for Webb, both of which were singles. Manager Frank Hrovat and Pekar scored Webb's runs, both in the fourth inning.

Bosses And Garibaldi

Karen Susman Maps Plans For Duel With Unknown

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Karen Hanitzke Susman, United States Wightman Cup tennis star, today started laying plans to master a loping, soft-balling Czech player who reached the Wimbledon final by upsetting four of the world's top stars.

Karen, 19, plays Vera Sukova, 30, in the final Saturday. The two have never met before.

Karen was seeded No. 8. Nobody thought of seeding Mrs. Sukova, an ambling, heavily built baseline player who has been around the European circuit for years and never done anything spectacular.

But in the last 10 days, almost unnoticed, she has demolished Jan Lehane of Australia and three seeded stars—defending champion Angela Mortimer of Britain, U.S. Wightman Cup star Darlene Hard and 1959-60 Wimbledon champion Maria Bueno of Brazil.

Mrs. Sukova achieved her most incredible triumph Thursday edging out Miss Bueno, the tennis tigress with the power service and the flashing volley, 6-4, 6-3 in the semifinals.

Mrs. Susman avenged a Wightman Cup defeat and crushed Ann Hayden of Britain 6-0, 6-1.

"I don't know much about Mrs. Sukova," Mrs. Susman admitted.

"I've watched her play a few times, and I know she is a baseline player. I shall have to start thinking out a plan to beat her."

It won't be easy. One of Mrs. Sukova's most distinguished victims, Darlene Hard, summed her up like this: "She's one of the most deceptive players in the game today."

Mrs. Sukova, a former basketball international who keeps her weight down by going for long runs three times a week through the winter, came to Wimbledon with a skimpy tennis wardrobe of one skirt and one pair of socks.

"I shall take the skirt back to my hotel and wash it in time for the final," she said. "The socks are my lucky pair."

Karen, who comes from Chula Vista, Calif., but now lives with her husband Rod at San Antonio, Tex., sank the hopes of the crowd on the center court by her clear-cut victory over Miss Hayden, the pride of Britain.

If Mrs. Susman wins she will take the title back to America for the first time since Althea Gibson won it in 1958. Mrs. Sukova is the first Czech ever to reach the women's final.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Don Robbins will, of course, get serious consideration for the head coaching job vacated at the local high school by Emmett McKenzie the past week.

Robbins now is the first assistant on the staff and has done a creditable job since he arrived here two years ago from Snyder. He is a dedicated football man but likes a well-rounded athletic program.

He comes from a family wealthy in football traditions and football successes.

Don himself was an all-state end for Breckenridge High School in 1951 the year his father Cooper Robbins Sr. guided the Buckies to the State championship.

Don's twin brother, Ronnie, also performed for Breck and is now head coach at Pecos High School. Cooper Sr. is director of athletics for the Odessa schools.

The only male in the family not now in athletics, is Cooper Robbins Jr., two years older than the twins, who was a 155-pound linebacker at Texas A&M when Harry Stietz was coach there. Cooper Jr. resides in Odessa, too.

No member of the local school board has committed himself publicly on the vacated job but this much is in Don's favor.

He is familiar with the duties the job demands. He has a burning ambition to be a head coach. Time is on his side—the board may decide it doesn't have enough time to screen other competent applicants. The first fall drills are due to start in only six weeks or so.

The board is scheduled to meet next Tuesday and could fill the job that soon. It can't afford to wait very long, in any case.

Big Spring is by no means the newest school in District 2-AAAA, but it is the smallest.

Abilene High School has 1,750 students—400 more than Big Spring. Abilene Cooper has 400 more scholastics than the local school, and is growing by leaps and bounds.

Midland Lee has 1,450 boys and girls, compared to Big Spring's 950. Odessa High boasts 1,400 pupils, Midland High 1,350, Odessa Permian 1,200 and San Angelo 1,650.

That means that the next smallest high school, Permian, has 250 more students than does Big Spring. Assuming that half of the students are boys, that means that other 2-AAAA schools have anywhere from 125 to 400 more boys from which to choose their athletes.

It's not hard to figure out that Big Spring will always have a problem in the conference, manpower-wise, even though all the cities but San Angelo have multiple-school systems.

Most of the students at the other schools can concentrate on one sport, if they so choose. Athletes here often play three sports.

It's being predicted that enrollment in high school here will top 1,100 this fall. However, it was forecast by some observers last year that more than 1,000 will attend classes in the top three grades and the enrollment was consistently below 950.

G. F. (Shorty) Gideon, who is manager of the Muni golf course here, took time out from his duties last week to win fifth flight honors in the Andrews golf tournament. Runnerup in the flight was Jim Harper, also of Big Spring.

Gideon's medal score of 248 beat the winning score in the fourth flight by a stroke.

Jersey Man Hooks Fish In Pairs

BEMUS POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Robert Alexis of Edison, N.J., fishing in Lake Chautauque, hooked an 11-inch bass.

The bass, in turn, became bait for a 14-pound, 39-inch muskallonge.

It took Alexis 20 minutes to land both fish, he said.

Don Dillard Newest Of Indian Heroes

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Dillard, who he? He's the bench warmer who fired a two-homer salvo and shot the Cleveland Indians into a tie for the American League lead. That's who.

The outfielder came on as a late-inning substitute Wednesday and hit a grand slam in the 13th inning for a 6-2 victory over Detroit. Thursday night he replaced the injured Al Luplow and hit the game-winner with two out in the ninth for a 7-6 victory over the Tigers.

The latest Indian victory overcame a three-home run performance by the Tigers' Rocky Colavito and carried the Indians into a first-place tie with the Los Angeles Angels, who were not scheduled.

In the only other AL game, Jackie Brandt and Jim Gentile led Baltimore to a 5-4 decision over the Chicago White Sox.

Dillard, 25, entered the Indians line-up Thursday when Luplow

Rockets Blast Daggers, 19-4, In International

The Rockets started off with two runs in the first and closed out with 11 tallies in the sixth on their International Little League victory over the Daggers here Thursday night.

In between, they did a lot of scoring, too.

Mike Graves received credit for the mound victory. He surrendered only three hits to the Daggers and Lane Lewis got two of those, including a double in the fifth.

Kenneth Barfield and Charles Lacey each drove out three hits for the winners while Freddy Harris smashed a fourth inning home run and a first inning double.

Lacey, Harry Cannady and Barfield all accounted for two-base hits in the game.

In tonight's contest, the Sabres square off with the Talons.

Tribe Shaded By Kiwanis

Hank Pope pitched the Kiwanis to a 14-8 American Teen-Age league victory over the McMahon Indians here Thursday night.

Pope was tagged for eight hits, three of which came off the bat of R. Smith.

Bruce Bellamy, Rickey McCarron, Kirby Horton and Eddie Covington each had two hits for the winners. One of Bellamy's blows went for two bases.

The Kiwanis scored in every inning they went to bat.

The Pirates and the Giants of the National Teen-Age league played to a 5-5 deadlock in the evening's other game. The contest was called because of a league time limit.

Y Slow-Pitch Games Re-Set

YMCA Slow-Pitch Softball league games which had been scheduled tonight at the City Park have been moved back due to the ASA tournament going of there this weekend.

The games have been re-set for Tuesday night, according to Joe Leach of the Y.

Cup Team Plays In Clay Courts

CHICAGO (AP)—The United States Davis Cup team will compete in the National Clay Courts Championships at the River Forest Tennis Club July 16-22, tournament officials said today.

Government Wants A Cut Of Fortune

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—The federal government headed a growing list of claimants today to a $2.4 million fortune found in the trunk of a dusty, old automobile.

Bookmaker Joseph (Newsboy) Moriarty, 52, refused to discuss ownership of the treasure with an FBI agent Thursday, and authorities said his girl friend, Anna Petrick, followed suit.

Questioned at State Prison in Trenton, Moriarty would give only his name and said he plans to retain a lawyer, the agent said.

Local authorities who questioned Miss Petrick said she admitted owning the car in which the money was found but for the most part would not elaborate.

Miss Petrick, who gave her age as "over 21", was quoted as having said she had known Moriarty "practically all his life."

While Moriarty and Miss Petrick would neither deny or confirm ownership of the money, others had their eye on it.

U.S. Atty. David M. Satz Jr. said the federal government, "acting on the basis of strong indications" that the money had been accumulated by Moriarty, was taking steps to claim the entire amount.

Satz said the government could confiscate the money on three grounds.

He said the government already has six liens, totaling $335,000 on file against Moriarty; that concealed moneys are legally forfeited to the government, and that money obtained from illegal activities is subject to seizure by the government.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes said New Jersey might put in a claim, but he declined to speculate on what its legal basis might be. He said it is obvious the money had an illegal source.

HORMONEX BEAUTY SERUM

SO POTENT

$3.50

3 MONTH SUPPLY

REJUVENATE THE BEAUTY OF YOUR SKIN

perhaps as much as 15 years! It is a known fact that estrogenic hormones can supplement the waning supply in your own body. And Hormonex Beauty Serum is so easy and pleasant to use. With dropper count out 7 to 8 drops into the palm of one hand. Then with the fingertips of the other hand spread the precious liquid over the skin with special attention around eyes, mouth and throat. Its fragrant and greaseless-to-thrush, soo. one bottle will give you nearly a 100 day supply.

FACTS ABOUT HORMONEX BEAUTY SERUM

It is so concentrated—you use it drop by drop. Helps aging skin to look younger in a very short time. One dropper bottle contains 50,000 International Units of natural estrogenic hormones, over 25% Lanolin and over 25% Sesame to insure deep penetration and fast absorption by skin tissue.

7 or 8 DROPS EACH DAY

—gives skin its maximum daily allowance of hormones. One drop is 5 times as POTENT as a dab of ordinary hormone cream—so potent, in fact, you can concentrate hormone treatment on spots you select as needing them most—around the eyes, the mouth or the throat.

RESULTS ARE GUARANTEED

Hormonex Beauty Serum can dim or fade wrinkles, crow's feet and sagging and cause your skin to be softer and clearer. Your skin will take on a look of revived freshness, firmness and vitality. And, if used in time, age signs may be retarded indefinitely. You must be delighted with Hormonex Beauty Serum or you get a complete refund.

Services Head Toward Clash Over Commando Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army and Air Force headed today toward a clash over the Air Force's growing effort to move deeper into the antiguerrilla warfare business.

The crux of the issue is an Air Force proposal for $65 million to build its fledgling 850 man air commando force to about 5,000 men and develop special aircraft suited to fighting Communist guerrillas.

"The Army considers that no service should acquire counter-insurgency equipment or create counter-insurgency organizations which duplicate existing or planned capabilities which are the responsibility of another service," an Army spokesman said.

Although this statement did not mention the Air Force, it was clearly the Army's target. The Army staff was understood to have prepared a formal position on the issue, but the new secretary of the Army, Cyrus Vance, has not yet studied it.

The Army considers it has a primary responsibility in the antiguerrilla field. One of President Kennedy's earliest acts last year was to authorize doubling the Army's antiguerrilla special forces to about 5,000 men.

Army advocates also fear the Air Force may be preparing to get into ground war operations—where the Army feels the Air Force has no right to be.

NO STAND
In response to questions, the Army spokesman said his service has not taken a stand that it should be given exclusive responsibility for counter-insurgency operations.

But, he said, "the Army considers that each service should contribute to counter-insurgency."

Paul Needs His Dad

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — If a boy ever needed his dad, Paul Eugene Ramey needs his.

Eugene, a plucky brown-haired boy of 5, faces another operation on his heart Sunday. He'd like his dad to be there, but doesn't know where he is.

The father, Cecil Ramey, a construction worker, left his wife and five children on Jan. 6, 1960, according to Mrs. D. W. Kelly, Eugene's grandmother.

Six months later, Eugene underwent an operation to repair two holes which had been in his heart since birth. Now, an artery in his heart has ruptured and another operation is necessary.

"He's only got a 50-50 chance with the operation," said Mrs. Kelly. "Without it, he has no chance."

At about the time of the first operation his mother, Ann Ramey, went on relief. She is unable to work because she must care for the children. Mrs. Kelly has arthritis and has walked with crutches for six years.

Because so much of the money the family receives must go for medicine for Eugene, little is left for food.

Dad To Care For Children

CARSHALTON, England (AP)—Henry Fishre, 40, whose wife died 18 months ago, gave up his job as a stoker to stay home and take care of his 10 children.

He likes the arrangement. His children love it.

The British government—which saves money on Henry's unique arrangement—approves.

"The change was very hard at first," said Henry. "In many ways it would have been much easier to put the children into homes—but I didn't want that."

Had the children, whose ages now range from 3 to 17, been assigned to public institutions, it would have cost the government at least 40 pounds ($112) a week.

Now it's far less. Henry gets 10 pounds ($20) from the National Assistance Board, he gets another three pounds, 18 shillings ($10.92) in children's allowances.

His eldest boy, Raymond, 17, works and chips in two pounds ($5.60).
