Whoosh! And No Window

Employees of Swartz had no dikes to man when wind suddenly blew in the main show window on the East Third side at noon today. But they hopped to with brooms to sweep back the deluge that poured in, damaging mannequins, some clothing and furnishings. Note edge of broken window. (Keith McMillin Herald Photo)

Gusty Storm Breaks Glass, Floods Streets

A deluge of rain hit Big Spring at noon today. Clouds rolling up throughout the forenoon turned on the moisture shortly after 12 noon. The rains quickly turned streets into rivers and the downpour was so heavy that visibility was reduced to near zero. The big front window in Swartz on East 3rd blew in. Crashing glass damaged the window display. Water poured in on the heels of the glass and added to the damage. Mannequins were damaged and clothing was slashed by the falling glass.

There were reports of heavier rain in the Capehart Addition. Some small limbs were knocked off trees by the wind which accompanied the rain. Debris was floating along some streets. Cars were forced to drive with lights on and at a small pace.

Union Leader Casts Doubts On Both Parties

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Hank Brown, president of the Texas AFL-CIO, said today the platform of both parties in Texas make no assurances working people have much to gain from either one.

Checks indicated that the rain was pretty much of a local affair—restricted closely to the corporate limits of the town. At the U.S. Experiment Station on the north edge of town, only 32 inch was gauged.

There were reports that 40 inch rain has fallen in the Douglas Addition between 11:30 a.m. and 12 noon. Hail was reported in the southeast and northeast parts of town and light fell downtown.

Therefore we must have our political recommendations on the past performances of the individual and his platform for progressive legislation in the interests of not only the 400,000 organized workers of Texas, but for the 15 million in the state's total work force. Brown said.

JFK Returns After Weekend Of Relaxation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy returned to Washington today after a weekend of relaxation at Hyannis Port, Mass. His jet plane landed at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland at 10:12 a.m.

The President had no public appointments for his first day back from the weekend, but he received a first-hand report from his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, in from Brazil.

A scheduled presidential visit to Brazil was put off last week because of the political situation there. The announcement of the delay came as Salinger was in Brazil.

The President varied his weekend program of boating, swimming and water sports in the vicinity of the summer White House Sunday.

He took off aboard the No. 2 presidential yacht Patrick J., named for his paternal grandfather, for a run of 20-odd miles across Nantucket Sound to Martha's Vineyard, where the boat put in at Edgartown Harbor, mecca of coastal yachtsmen.

The presidential yacht stayed only a few moments at a pier near the Edgartown Yacht Club, then put out to sea again. He was there long enough to be seen by scores of small boat sailors and summer people who somehow got the word he was coming.

Aboard the Patrick J. with the President were his wife and daughter, Caroline, his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, and the President's sister, Jean, with her husband, Stephen Smith and son, Stephen Jr.

Tough Tribesmen Back Pro-West Algerian Chief

ALGIERS (AP)—The tough tribesmen of the Kabyles Mountains have become the biggest obstacle to Ahmed Ben Bella's campaign for power in Algeria.

The dissenting deputy premier's followers describe Algeria's Kabyle minority as their main problem. They are working hard to win the Kabyles' sympathies.

But Ben Bella's agents, campaigning in the towns and villages of the mountain range east of Algiers, are finding the Kabyles' tribal discipline impossible to break. Almost to a man, they are loyal to the government of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda.

Estimated to number more than a million the Kabyles took a leading part in the bitter underground war against the French. They suffered heavy losses. Hundreds of their villages were destroyed and their inhabitants moved to relocation camps.

Now that the war is over, they are rebuilding their villages. They generally favor Algeria's cooperation with France, as laid down in the Evian peace agreement, and promised by Ben Khedda. Ben Bella wants to turn Algeria toward the Communist East.

The Kabyles' leader is balding revolutionary hero Belkacem Krim, one of the strong men of Ben Khedda's team and the chief nationalist negotiator at the Evian talks.

SAYS AGRICULTURE DEPT. No Favoritism In Estes Bonds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department produced figures today it said proved there was no favoritism in setting bond on Billie Sol Estes for government grain stored in his warehouses.

But Dabney Townsend, acting chief of the warehouse branch, said the method of setting bond has been changed "to eliminate any possibility of criticism."

Townsend was the first witness as the House Government Operations subcommittee resumed its hearings on the grain storage operations of the Pecos, Tex. financier.

Estes, 37, has been charged with fraud and declared bankrupt. His grain storage activities have been taken over by a receiver.

Townsend produced a tabulation of all grain bonds fixed at $700,000 or more. Estes' bond was $700,000. Unless other factors are involved, the normal maximum bond for grain storage facilities is $200,000. "Of all the bonds set above $200,000 on judgment alone."

$40,000 Damage In Lubbock Fire

LUBBOCK (AP)—Fire razed two business buildings Sunday for the second time in six months, and damaged two other buildings for an estimated $40,000 loss.

The North College Upholstery Shop and Wilson's Auto Supply were razed. Damaged were the Glassarama, a one-time night club being used for storage, and a dry cleaning shop.

Reds Reject U. S. Test Ban Proposal In Advance

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin rejected in advance today an American compromise designed to reach a nuclear test ban treaty soon.

Zorin was asked in a news conference if the Soviet Union would be willing to accept international inspections on its territory if the United States and Britain drop their proposal for internationally staffed seismic detection stations inside Russia.

He said the Western plan was "no compromise at all in our view." U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean said on his arrival Saturday the Western powers are ready to make this compromise to help get a treaty, but would insist the accord provide for international inspection of the site of a suspicious event detected on Soviet soil.

The new Western idea has not yet been raised in the disarmament talks, which resumed today after a month-long recess.

Zorin said the Soviet Union has already made its own compromise by accepting as a negotiating basis a neutralist proposal providing for on-site inspections only by invitation of the country where

5 More Missing In 3 Disasters

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Three air crashes in 24 hours in South Viet Nam's guerrilla-infested jungles today left 26 dead, including four American servicemen.

Five more Americans were missing in the air crashes, and another was killed in an ambush Saturday in one of the bloodiest weekends in recent months.

A two-engine troop-laden Vietnamese air force transport crashed near the Laos border far north of Saigon today in the most serious of the air mishaps, killing 22 Vietnamese soldiers and a U.S. Air Force flight instructor. There were four survivors, all reported to be Vietnamese.

The C-47 transport caught fire and crashed on take off at Kon Tum Airport, 260 miles northeast of here.

Seven planes and six helicopters searched for the wreckage of a two-engine U.S. transport believed to have crashed Sunday against a mountain while on a flight from Saigon to Ban Me Thuot, 160 miles to the northeast. The C-123 transport had a crew of four Americans aboard.

The search was hampered by heavy rain and mist over the foothills and mountains around Ban Me Thuot.

Other search crews probed the mountainous jungle 200 miles northeast of Saigon where a U.S. Army H21 helicopter crashed in flames after being hit by guerrilla gunfire.

Ground parties found the charred bodies of two U.S. Army officers and an enlisted man. But an American enlisted man and two Vietnamese were still missing.

The only known survivor, a U.S. Army captain said to have been the pilot, was found walking through the jungle five miles from the crash. He was only slightly injured and accounts here succeeded Ribicoff as governor 18 months ago, was nominated unanimously as gubernatorial candidate.

Ribicoff's Republican opponent is Rep. Horace Seely-Brown Jr., a veteran of six terms in Congress.

The convention results left no doubt that Bailey was still in the saddle. But the finality of Kowalski's defeat was a bitter pill for his vociferous followers to swallow.

They had jeered every time the names of Bailey and Ribicoff were mentioned from the platform. They had interrupted the keynote address delivered Friday night by Mansfield and shouted down Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., when he placed Ribicoff's name in nomination.

When their champion, in defiance of protocol, appeared on the stage during a floor demonstration in his honor and urged them to they went into a near frenzy.

The Geneva negotiations for world disarmament—a project discussed for 15 years in various forums without any progress at all—are expected to last for several more years.

The current talks appear doomed to failure as long as the Western nations and Soviet bloc cannot find a way to break their deadlock on basic issues on which both sides have said repeatedly they cannot compromise.

The Western plan, already rejected by the Soviets, provides for gradual disarmament with control provisions to guarantee that no disarming country secretly retains armies and weapons, and for a strong international force under the United Nations to keep the peace in a disarming world.

The Soviet plan, unacceptable to the West, provides for total disarmament in four years with abolition of all nuclear arms in the first 15-month stage, no control over the forces and weapons that a country would be entitled to retain under a treaty, and a weak peace-keeping force whose units would be under national command.

The first three-month phase of the conference made little headway. It was devoted mostly to lengthy speeches and explanations of policy. The only step forward was the adoption of a treaty preamble in general terms.

British Minister of State Joseph B. Godber and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, that had any chance of being set-

Common Market Shock To Aussies

By GORDON TAIT
 SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Britain's affair with the Common Market has been a shock to long-faithful Australia, but this country seems today to be taking the prospect as a challenge more than as a cause for remorse. It looks as if affection for Britannia will remain high even if she does go off gallivanting with those European fellows. Every Australian seems sure Britain will join the Common Market. The price for Britain's entry appears to be the cancellation of a preference, perhaps by 75%.

These preferences virtually assure commonwealth countries a market for much of their surplus food. If preferences go, a great deal of the British market also will go because Britons then will be fed largely by continental Europe.

People are saying: "She just has to join, she'd be left out in the cold if she didn't." Many also are saying without explanation: "The Americans are pushing her into it."

Wheat of Australia's meat, wheat, sugar, butter, cheese, eggs, wine, dried fruit, canned fruit and jam, fresh apples and pears.

Seek new markets, says trade minister John McEwen.

Many Australians think the United States should lower tariffs on wool and other products which Australia exports.

In many ways Japan is Australia's big hope, especially if the Japanese continue to use more meat and dairy products in their diet.

Japan already is Australia's No. 2 customer. In 1960-61 Japan bought goods worth $362 million. Britain took $519 million and the United States $162 million.

Japan spends more in Australia for wool, coal, copper, hides, pig iron, iron and steel scrap than does any other country. It is also an important buyer of meat, sugar and wheat.

Red China too has become an important customer for wheat.

Australia sold China grain from last year's crop for $179 million on pay-as-you-eat terms. The Chinese have met the installments on the due dates.

There are guesses that Australia will grow more rapidly as a nation once it no longer has favored treatment from Britain. In any event, there is a philosophical attitude.

The Sydney Daily Mirror put it like this: "Let us not squall, too much before we are hurt. It may be indeed that our hurts will be slight, and that what appears today to be a grievous tangle may in a year or so become an inspiration to more vigorous effort and greater economic rewards."

Seven Die In Car-Truck Crash

Investigators go through the wreckage of a car-truck crash that took the lives of seven persons, all from one family. The accident happened east of Waller on U.S. Highway 290 apparently when the car swung to the wrong side of the highway and rammed head-on into a tractor-trailer loaded with steel. The dead were identified as: Cary Jackson, 33; his wife, Vera Catherine, 38; their children, Johnny, 12, Larry, 8, Nina, 6, and Sheila, 2, and Mary Elizabeth Jackson, 18, believed to be Jackson's sister-in-law.

Fatal Shooting Led To Gaudy Era's End

NEW YORK (AP) — A tense, pugny man stepped outside the Hotel Metropole on Manhattan's West 43rd Street, and stood under the lighted marquee. He looked about nervously.

At that moment, four men waiting in the shadows, opened fire with their revolvers. Herman Rosenthal, a gambling house operator who had informed authorities about police graft, fell dead.

The murder was in the early, pre-dawn hours of July 16, 1912—50 years ago today—and it opened one of the most sensational chapters in the annals of New York City crime.

It sent a top police official—and the four hired killers—to Sing Sing Prison's electric chair and figured in toppling the entire city administration.

The backdrop was a gaudy era of gamblers, gangsters, crooked politicians and corrupt cops. Shootings, sluggings and bombings were common. Dozens of gambling houses flourished in mid-Manhattan.

A principal character in the affair was tough, taciturn police Lt. Charles Becker, head of the gambling squad. In the two years before the murder, it developed, he had banked $70,000.

The chain of events was ignited when Rosenthal, an ex-bookie turned gambling house operator, became embittered at a series of police raids, and began talking to Dist. Atty. Charles S. Whitman. Rosenthal said Becker had promised protection, but didn't deliver. The visits to the D.A.'s office—and threats of further ex-posure to Becker—doomed Rosenthal.

In June 1912, it was learned later, Big Jack Zelig, hoodlum and gang leader, was approached and promised $2,000 to have Rosenthal eliminated. Four gunmen were recruited.

On July 13, Rosenthal made an affidavit describing an extensive police payoff system, and talked further with the district attorney. Their last session was on the night of July 15.

Afterward, Rosenthal dined at the Hotel Metropole. A man came to his table, spoke to him. Rosenthal stepped outside. "Where's Harry?" he asked a stranger. The gunfire cut him down.

The assassins fled in a gray touring car, which was traced to Bald Jack Rose, a protection-money collector for Becker. The four gunmen were arrested and confessed. Becker denied everything.

The case stirred public cries for reform. Big Jack Zelig told a grand jury he had procured the killers at the behest of Becker and Rose. But on the day before he was to testify in court, Zelig himself was slain as he boarded a street car.

Nevertheless, the four killers, Harry (Gyp the Blood) Horowitz, Louis (Lefty Louie) Rosenberg, Frank (Dago Frank) Crofci, and Jacob White Lewis Seidenshner were convicted and executed April 13, 1914, in Sing Sing.

Becker's trial opened Oct. 7 in a dramatic atmosphere. Threats had been made against prospective jurors and others. Extra guards were posted. The chief witnesses against Becker were Rose and three gamblers.

Convicted, Becker won a new trial. Again he was found guilty. A broad investigation of corruption opened, involving the administration of Mayor William J. Gaynor, an independent Democrat. A Fusion candidate, John Purroy Mitchel, won the mayoralty.

Becker was executed at Sing Sing on July 30, 1915, three years after the scandal broke. His last plea for clemency was rejected by Gov. Whitman.

Girl Scouts To Celebrate 50th Birthday

BUTTON BAY, Vt. (AP) — Ladies generally don't brag when they reach their 50th birthdays, but 10,000 Girl Scouts open a rousing 10-day female stag party Wednesday to commemorate the event.

The second International Girl Scout Roundup marks the golden anniversary of the year a lady named Juliette Low of Savannah, Ga., organized a group of girls to teach them such maidenly arts as camping, cow milking and the future.

Honor the Past—Serve the Future is the theme of the roundup which will continue through July 31. President Kennedy will send greetings. The Post Office Department has issued a commemorative stamp.

STATE PARK
Button Bay, a flat, 450-acre site which will be converted into a state park after the girls depart, has been furnished with a water system—tapping nearby Lake Champlain for 250,000 gallons a day.

The scout organization built an amphitheater for 10,000 persons. The Army has supplied 100 tons of tents and a 100-bed field hospital.

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. has installed a microwave tower to handle long distance calls.

Girl Scout officials say it will be the largest mass movement of teen-aged girls in the country's history. Eleven special trains from all over the United States, 100 chartered buses and a hay wagon which will convey a troop from nearby Rutland, Vt., are included in the retinue.

ADULTS ON HAND
Scouts 14 through 17 years of age will do much of the work but 1,700 adults will be on hand to supervise and lend assistance.

Each patrol of eight girls will live adjacent to at least three other patrols from different parts of the country. Girls will rotate cooking over their own charcoal fires, getting supplies from the commissary and washing up.

DEAR ABBY

Mother Should Don Sun Suit!

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who won't let her daughter lie out in the back yard to sun herself? I don't mean in a brief bathing suit or anything like that. I mean in a sun suit. She says, "People might think it's me!" Do you think that would be so terrible?

WANTS TO KNOW
DEAR WANTS: If a daughter can be mistaken for her own mother in a sun suit, I think the mother should join her.

DEAR ABBY: We are middle-class people who own a nice little bungalow in a neighborhood where there are many children. We fixed up our back yard with swings, slides, etc. for our grand-children to enjoy while visiting us on weekends. During the week the neighborhood youngsters would ring our bell and ask if they could play in our back yard. How could we refuse?

Last week a neighbor boy fell teeth (not baby teeth). We received a letter from his father's attorney advising us that we were being sued for the dental bill. Our own attorney said it was our yard and we were liable. Please print this as a warning to other big hearted, uninformed people who can ill-afford such generosity.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's mother is coming to visit for a month. She never cared for me and the feeling is mutual. I am considering taking a job while she is here. That way she can have the run of the house, boss the children and just take over. (She will anyway. I will let her be the "Lady of the House" and I won't have to be around her all day. Do you see anything wrong with that? When I suggested it to my husband he said I should forget it. I'd like your opinion.

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW
DEAR D-I-L: I agree with your husband. His mother should be a guest—not the "Lady of the House." If you can't remain in the same house with her and behave in an adult, civil manner, you have a lot of growing up to do.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LIBBY:
When a man tells you he isn't good enough for you, believe him. He knows more about himself than you do.

PROOF OF MIRACLES

By T. H. Farber, preacher
Church of Christ, 200 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1283

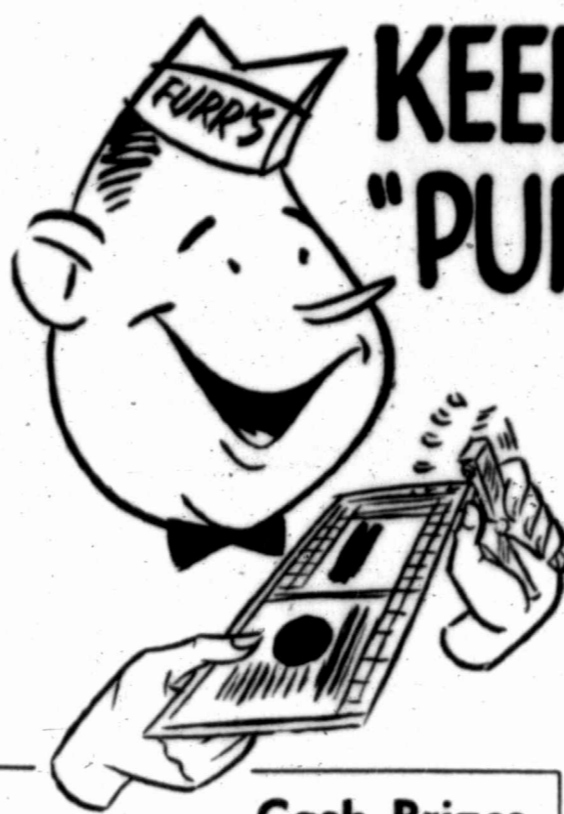

The early church did not need to prove that their miracles were genuine. Even the enemies of Christianity could not deny the miracles wrought. They said, "We cannot deny it" (Acts 4:16).

We do deny, emphatically, the so-called miracles of modern religious leaders.

If miracles were being wrought today as they were in the first century, then all the miracles of that century would be wrought today.

In the first century, God's miracle workers raised the dead, and gave perfect soundness to grown men who had been born deformed (Acts 9:37-40; Acts 3:1-11, and 4:16,22). Such things are not being done today. If they were all would know about it. None could deny it. I am willing to go to the cemetery with any evangelist and will raise as many from the dead as he does; if he will raise the first one. —Adv.

Over-40 Advice

Famous star, Faye Emerson, admits that she is overweight according to the modern trend, but she has no intention of ruining her health by losing weight. She believes that there is a certain poise in knowing how to grow old gracefully. Proud of her 21-year-old son, she states that she has never had one moment's unhappiness counting her birthdays.

Faye Emerson Enjoys Graceful Maturity

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — When Faye Emerson visited here recently, so many dinner parties were held for her that she laughingly told me, "It's been fun, but I'm going to have to reduce when I leave here."
 "But I'm not going to ruin my health trying to wear a size 10." Faye has curves and admits she has no intention of losing them. When you are over 40 and lost a lot of weight, you know what happens. Your face becomes lined and you hate to see women making themselves miserable trying to conform to a slenderness that is not easy for them.
 "I've had medical advice, dehydration pills and been on all kinds of diets, but I'm still overweight, according to modern standards. But I dress for it, and I don't let it make me unhappy. When I've been indulging, as I have here, I have the will power to take off what I've put on. And I can drop 15 pounds easily in two weeks.

Whitley-Ward Marriage Solemnized In Evening

LAMESA, S.C. — Joyce Jo Ann Ward and Charles M. Whitley were united in marriage at 8 p.m. Saturday in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ward, 1111 Lamesa. The bridegroom is the son of W. L. Whitley.
 The Rev. Richard Torr, pastor of the First Christian Church, performed the single ring ceremony before baskets of white carnations interspersed with ferns.
 The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of white nylon organza accented with sheer cut-work embroidery. The fitted bodice featured a rounded neck, short sleeves and a beffari skirt outlined in embroidered scallops. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.
 The maid of honor was Patricia Ward, the bride's sister. Phinas Whitley, the bridegroom's brother, was best man.
 For a wedding trip to New Mexico the bride chose a Scandinavian embroidered suit of tan with tan and royal blue accessories. The couple will make their home at 612 S. Sixth St.
 The bride is a student at Lamesa High School. The bridegroom is employed by the City of Lamesa.

Wilson Family Notes Wedding Anniversary

Mrs. Joan Wilson Sherred and children John and Hilary will be in Houston for the week of August 1 for the golden wedding anniversary of Mrs. Sherred's parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson.
 Dr. and Mrs. Wilson came to Texas on their wedding trip in 1912 when he was chosen to be one of the handful of professors to plan and organize the opening of Rice Institute, now Rice University. Dr. and Mrs. Wilson brought to Texas the best tradition of British and Canadian scientific education and buried in the cornerstone of Rice is a scientific paper written by the two when she was his student in the physics department at McGill University in Montreal.
 Dr. Wilson was head of the physics department at Rice from its opening until his retirement a few years ago. Since retirement, he has continued to teach a few graduate courses in his home.
 Mrs. Wilson, in addition to raising four children, took active part in the organizing of Rice with a special interest in the education and social life of the women students. She also was active in the building of the cottage-type orphanage which replaced the old institutional De Pelchin Faith Home, and in the building of the

Antique Pickin's Slim Abroad; New Merchandise Is Controlled

By VIVIAN BROWN
 AP Newsfeatures Writer
 Every foreign country is a storehouse of treasures. Most travelers hope to return home with something representative of the country they have visited—ancient artifacts, old Georgian silver, French porcelain, Italian paintings, Spanish furniture, Scandinavian pottery.
 But the pickin's in antiques are getting slim and there is a government limit on how much we can bring back in new merchandise.
 It's important to make our dollars count.
 "Times have changed and few finds can be made by scouring little places for treasures that others have overlooked," advises Pietro Migone, commercial counselor of Italy. "People who want old things should get a good antique dealer's advice rather than risk being gyped by their own bad judgment."
 This is especially true, says Migone, if you are trying to buy the things for which a country is famous.
UNLIKELY SPOT
 "The least likely spot to find an overlooked masterpiece is Italy," he points out. "But you can find second-best or third-best paintings or furnishings that are not being sought after. If you are willing to wait, these too become popular."
 Many people return from abroad with that unmistakable grin that seems to imply "mission accomplished." It could be a painting bought for a song or authentic looking reproductions of carriage lights or porcelains. Legions of amateur buyers have braved the dust-covered treasures from the flea market in Paris.
 "If a good dealer sells you a reproduction by mistake, few people will detect it, but if you buy with amateur methods your mistakes will be obvious to anyone with a trained eye," Migone points out.
MIGONE ADVISES
 Migone's boyhood was spent in a 300-year-old family home in Genoa filled with antiques and he has great interest in good furniture and good art. He advises travelers:
 Reconcile yourself to the fact that you are not going to stumble over a Rembrandt. Your best bet is to buy paintings who have not reached the celebrity stage. French impressionists or moderns such as Van Gogh sell for high prices.
 Know the furniture styles in vogue in countries before you visit them. Genoise like Genoise furniture the way Americans like Americana. Very little is said. When you are in an atmosphere like that, you should search for another period or style.
 Italians like pieces from the period prior to the French Revolution, Migone says, but there are bargains in Victorian furniture Italian classic, the old walnut heavy furniture that was widely disliked and discarded is popular again even with high brow types.

New Uses For Old

CHAMBERS ADVISE
 Visit local chambers of commerce to determine good buys in the area you are visiting. Grand old factories have been turning out furniture, china and glass for centuries so you needn't leave a country without something to take home that is within your budget.

 In Italy, Carrara is good for statuary. Rome for antiques; Florence for antiques and reproductions; rich Spanish baroque may be found south of Florence. Many of the newer articles are so beautifully fashioned that one is likely to cease the quest for antiques, and settle for the newer conversation pieces. Migone says.

Medicare Faces A Decisive Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's Social Security health care plan for the aged faces a decisive test in Congress this week. The measure is the major item on a schedule which promises a busy week in both Senate and House. The Senate, which has debated the bitterly disputed health care issue for two weeks, is to vote Tuesday afternoon on whether to table and thus kill the president's plan. A revised version has been worked out to win support of five Republicans, but both sides expect the result to be extremely close. Sponsored by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., it is being offered as an amendment to a House-passed bill revising the public welfare laws. If the plan passes the Senate it goes on to the House where its prospects are doubtful. After disposing of the matter the Senate is expected to take up a money bill to provide funds for the Welfare and Labor departments.

Burglars Ransack Performer's Safe

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Recording artist Hank Snow gave police a list of contents missing after burglars broke open his office safe while he gave a Grand Ole Opry performance Saturday night. Included were seven watches, five sets of diamond earrings, several sets of diamond cuff links, insurance papers, several pass-ports and several silver western belt buckles. The singer estimated the value at about $5,000.

Preacher Dies During Service

ATLANTA (AP) — A Baptist minister fell dead in the pulpit of the Moreland Avenue Baptist church while leading his congregation in prayer Sunday. The Rev. W. B. Underwood, 70, was serving as interim pastor at the church

A floor fight is likely to develop because of proposed Republican amendments to bar both impacted school and hospital construction grants to segregated institutions. The impacted school program covers districts created because of federal installations. The House is expected to send to the President today legislation giving him authority to allocate 150,000 tons of premium price imported sugar quotas to the Dominican Republic and Argentina. Later in the week the House plans to debate the money bill for the State, Commerce and Justice departments, a farm bill extending present wheat and feed grain programs and the Atomic Energy Commission authorization bill. An effort will be made on the AFU bill to settle a long controversy by adopting an amendment giving the Washington State Public Power Supply System the right to build electric generating facilities making use of a plutonium reactor at the commission's Hanford plant. Senate House conferees will hold their first session Wednesday on the $4.4-billion foreign aid authorization measure, passed Thursday by the House and earlier in the session by the Senate.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH AP Newswriters In an attempt to let its voice be known to other nations of the world, Ghana has issued a new set of stamps entitled "World without the Bomb." The stamp issuance coincides with a meeting in Accra, capital of Ghana, in which various countries—from Africa, Asia and Latin America—will be represented. One stamp will feature an allegorical design showing five hands representing five continents at peace. Another stamp depicts an atom bomb blast in the form of a death skull. The third stamp is highlighted by a Peace Dove. All are multicolored. The U. S. Post Office Department has announced that the new edition of the popular publication "Postage Stamps of the U. S.

1947-1961" will be available Aug. 1. The new edition, priced at $1.25, embraces all U. S. issues from 1947 through the 4-c Nursing commemorative stamp placed on sale Dec. 28, 1961. In addition to the illustrations and descriptions, there are tables showing designers, engravers, first-day sites and dates. All mail orders for this booklet should be addressed to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., and should be accompanied by a money order or check.

Iran has issued two new stamps of identical design to commemorate the 15th anniversary of UNESCO. The stamps show the UNESCO emblem on a background formed by the Iranian national colors of green, white and red. The values are 2 Rials for inland postage and 6 Rials for international postage. Also appearing on the stamp is an inscription "15th Anniversary of UNESCO Foundation." The Australian Postal Administration reports that two new stamps have been issued for Norfolk Island. The stamps—4 pence and 1 shilling—portray fish of Norfolk Island waters. The 6 pence will depict the fish known locally as "Tweed Trousers." The 1 shilling stamp features a fish known as "Poov." The stamps will become part of the definitive series replacing similar denominations in the 1947 design.

Ordered To Return Real Estate

A Hollywood, Calif., judge has ruled that Miss Lucille Hackenberger, 48, left, must give back real estate valued at $75,000 to Reginald A. Wike, 62, right, a well-to-do Hollywood landscape contractor. Wike went to court to recover the property after keeping company with Miss Hackenberger for several years. The judge agreed with Wike that Miss Hackenberger was only after his property and never intended to marry him. But the judge said there was nothing he could do about cash gifts—which Wike said amounted to about $30,000—which Wike gave to Miss Hackenberger since 1953.

Miss Universe Opens Her Reign

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Miss Universe could have danced all night, but she didn't. She had to be in her room at 1 a.m. today.

Norma Beatriz Nolan, the 24-year-old brunette model from Argentina who has never had a date without a chaperone, formally opened her reign at the coronation ball in Miami Beach's swank Fontainebleau Hotel.

She had a date—and more than 1,000 escorts—at the ball, including consular officials from the 50 nations represented at the week-long pageant.

The smoky-eyed brunette dazzled the glittering crowd in a white evening gown that clung to her 35-25-36 figure, and a new white fur that cost the pageant $10,000.

Honored guests along with Miss Nolan and blonde Mariene Schmidt of West Germany, the retiring Miss Universe, were the runners-up. They are Miss Iceland, Anna Geirsdottir, second; Miss Finland, Aulikki Jarvinen, third; Miss Republic of China, Helen Liu, fourth; and Miss Brazil, Maria Olivia Cavalcanti, fifth.

The ball was the last night the girls had to struggle with the pageant's stringent rule—no talking with males without an escort.

"I don't know what nations I shall visit," said Miss Nolan. "I'm going to try to all of them to do everything possible to promote international friendship."

After she was crowned Saturday night before a nationwide television audience, she kept saying, "I don't know why I won. Those other girls were so beautiful."

Miss Nolan said she planned to sponge part of her $5,000 prize money for clothes. Paris and Rome are the cities she looks forward to visiting—to look at clothes.

"I don't want movie contracts," she said. "I like to travel."

The 5-foot-6½ beauty weighs 120 pounds. Her grandfather was Irish and her mother was Italian.

She speaks Spanish and Italian, and this is what she said after she found out Saturday night that she was the new Miss Universe. "I do not speak English. I am very happy."

Wide Areas For Talks

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa (AP)—Delegates representing six nations with tiny Pacific dependencies will convene Wednesday for discussions ranging from witchcraft to high level trade.

Samoans are so excited about playing host to the fifth South Pacific Conference that they have bargained Gov. H. Rex Lee with proposals for feasting and entertainment.

The U.S. administrator has had reminder that the 10-day conference will be busy in serious talks dealing with health, economic and to curb their enthusiasm with a social problems of the more than 3 million inhabitants of hundreds of islands and atolls scattered over the Pacific.

It will be the first conference to be held in Polynesian territory. Administering nations taking part are Australia, France, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Britain and the United States.

No Opposition Seen To JFK Appointment

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Kennedy's nomination of Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland to be the next secretary of welfare appears headed for speedy Senate confirmation.

Senate Republican leaders said they doubted there would be any opposition and Democrats were high in their praise of Celebrezze, 51, named Saturday to succeed Abraham A. Ribicoff.

The White House said the nomination probably would be sent to the Senate today. There it will be turned over to the Finance Committee.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said no hearings are planned but, as is customary, Celebrezze will be required to make an appearance before the group.

"So far as I know there is no objection to him," said Byrd at his home in Berryville, Va.

Celebrezze, now serving an unprecedented fifth term as Cleveland's mayor, is due in Washington Tuesday for a conference with Kennedy.

Byrd said the Finance Committee has a heavy schedule this week. It is working on the President's tax revision bill and is scheduled to begin public hearings Wednesday on the House passed trade expansion measure.

Byrd said the nomination will be worked in "as soon as we can—there won't be any delay."

On the Republican side, Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said, "I assume the record will disclose nothing that will prevent his confirmation."

Noting Celebrezze's popularity with Cleveland voters, Dirksen remarked, "Evidently he's done a very able job."

The assistant Senate Republican leader, Thomas H. Kuchel of California said, "I see no reason for any opposition or for the nomination to be treated in a partisan manner."

Celebrezze was elected to the Ohio Senate in 1950 and re-elected in 1952. He won his first race for mayor of Cleveland in 1953 and returned to office in 1955, 1957, 1959 and 1961. In winning a fifth term, Celebrezze got a 73.8 per cent plurality and carried every ward in the city.

He was born in Anzi, Italy, of naturalized U.S. citizens, and is believed to be the first Italian-American chosen for the Cabinet. If he is approved by the Senate he will become the second Roman Catholic in Kennedy's Cabinet. The other is the President's brother, Atty Gen Robert F. Kennedy.

Ribicoff, former governor of Connecticut, quit the health, education and welfare post Thursday to campaign for the Democratic Senate nomination in his state. On Saturday the Connecticut Democratic convention nominated Ribicoff for U.S. senator.

Oral Arguments Dropped In Slant-Hole Suit

LONGVIEW (AP)—Plans were abandoned today for oral arguments in the 6th Court of Civil Appeals at Texarkana in the case of Humble Oil and Refining Co. vs. H. L. Long, Tyler oilman.

This appeal plan had been based upon a defense objection to Humble surveying wells on leases operated by Long to determine if they were slant drilled.

In a letter to the appellate court, Fred Erisman, Longview lawyer for Long, said that when the appellate court vacated its own July 3 order restraining Humble, the major oil company had proceeded to move onto the leases and survey the wells.

Erisman said this "temporarily rendered the subject matter of the motions moot (outdated by developments)."

He said further that "having previously properly preserved exceptions to the rulings of the trial court, and expecting to be heard in detail on our contentions at a later date, it is doubtful if there is any necessity for the oral presentation on Tuesday."

At the original hearing in Henderson, Dist. Judge A. Royce Stout of Waxahachie ruled in favor of Humble.

It Was Hot, But No Record

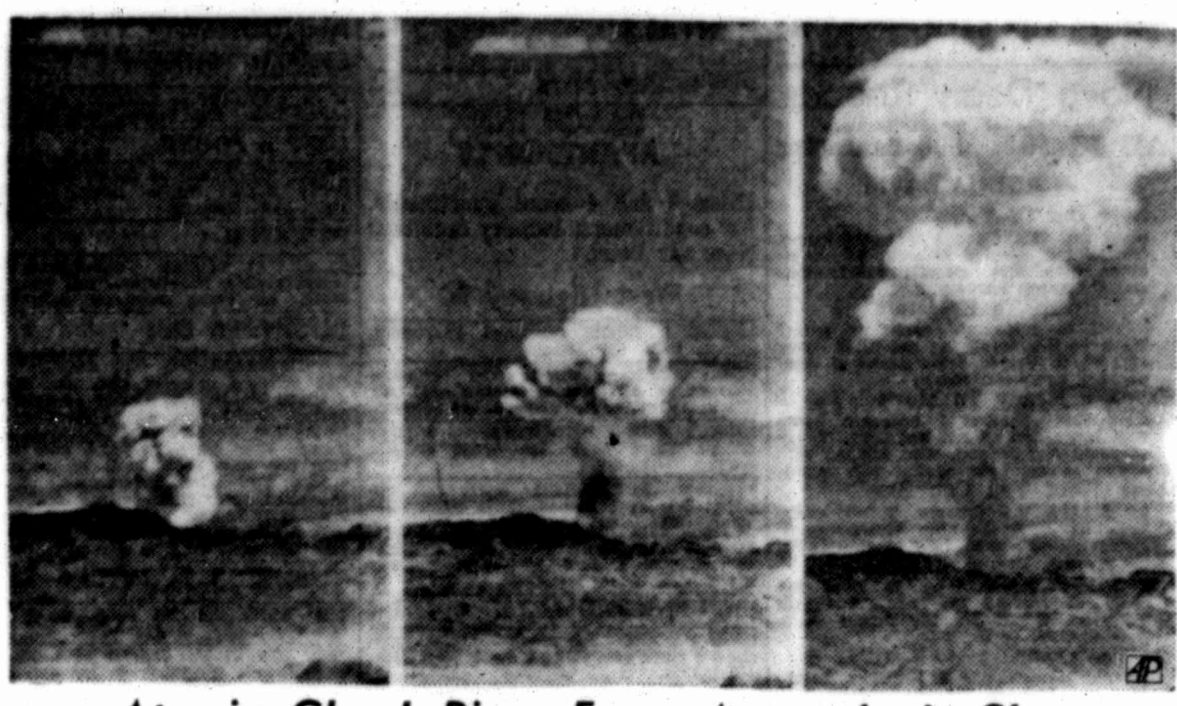

It may have seemed that Sunday was a record setting hot day, but it wasn't.
The temperature hit 102 in mid-afternoon and the humidity was high. The result was a lot of hot and uncomfortable Big Springers who were muttering that it was the hottest day they'd ever endured.
Actually the 102 degrees was not up to the 104 degrees which hit July 15, 1958.
Low for last night was a warm 69 degrees. The U. S. Experiment Station reported that 0.7 of an inch of rain was gauged at the station Saturday afternoon. This brings July's moisture to the 1.06 inch mark.
Farmers, who for the most part have had more moisture than has fallen in the town proper, are worrying over the heat wave and the lack of general rains. Cotton is still growing, they say, but it can't continue much longer if the present weather holds.

Atomic Cloud Rises From Atmospheric Shot

This is how a pillar of dust and debris rose from the desert floor at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada proving grounds after the firing of an atomic device in the atmosphere. Pictures were made from a mountain top about 50 miles away where observers could see the brilliant flash of the explosion but could not see the fireball because the burst was close to the ground and hidden by intervening mountains.

Trial Of Suspended Judge Is Postponed

HOUSTON (AP) — Dist. Judge Ed Duggan postponed today the trial of suspended Probate Judge Clem McClelland on an indictment alleging conversion of estate funds.
Duggan refused to dismiss the indictment but approved separate trial motions filed by lawyers for McClelland and Richard Putney, a lawyer who has handled estate cases under McClelland appointments.
McClelland was ordered to trial until the next term of court which begins Aug. 1. Duggan is to begin vacation at that time, however, and Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe said he has not decided whether to try to transfer the case to another court.
The postponement was ordered before Edw. Smith, chief lawyer for McClelland, brought his motion for a change of venue before the court.
Duggan agreed with Smith the highly publicized investigation of McClelland's probate court made it inadvisable to proceed with the trial today.
Smith also had argued a delay was needed to permit an audit of the estate of Clara Currie.

It was the second time in five days for Duggan to reject a motion to dismiss the July 20 indictment. Smith argued the indictment was illegal in that it was based on testimony from a four-day court inquiry that deprived McClelland of due process of law. Dist. Judge E. B. Hunt and the 1st Court of Civil Appeals have sustained the constitutionality of the court inquiry but Smith said he will appeal to the State Supreme Court.
Putney testified during the court inquiry that he and McClelland split a $10,000 fee he obtained as a lawyer for the Currie estate.

Six Injured In Accident Near Loraine

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Six persons were injured, apparently none seriously, in a two-car accident east of Loraine on IS 29 Sunday at 2:10 p.m.
Mrs. Mary Altman 57, Mrs. Lillie Katz 62, and the driver of the car, Mrs. Dorothy Edelman, all of Dallas, were hospitalized in the Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City, with multiple bruises and contusions, following the accident. In addition, Mrs. Katz had one or more broken ribs, according to her physician. He said that his patients' condition was satisfactory and that all three would probably be released from the hospital Tuesday.
John K. Woods, his wife, and three children, of Pleasant Hills, Calif., were taken to the Johnson Hospital in Loraine, where a spokesman said that Woods was hospitalized for treatment of bruises and abrasions. Two of the children were given first aid.
The accident was investigated by Highway Patrolman Budly Hertenberger, who said that the Woods automobile was parked on the shoulder when struck by the other vehicle.
Hertenberger reported two one-car accidents Sunday one in which W. T. Slaughter, 60, of Abilene, lost control of his pickup and struck a guard rail about one mile east of Colorado City. Slaughter was not hurt.
About 4:45 p.m. Morris Diggs, 18, of Odessa, struck a guard rail on IS 20 about four miles west of Colorado City. Diggs and John R. Booner 18, of Odessa, his passenger, were given emergency treatment at the Root Memorial Hospital and released.

Mrs. Cowper's Mother Dies

Mrs. George Odum, mother of Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, died at a local hospital at 3:25 a.m. today after an illness of five years. Mrs. Odum, a resident of Denton, had been making her home here with Mrs. Cowper since October of last year.
The body is to lie in state at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home until Tuesday morning when it will be transferred to the Schmitz Funeral Home in Denton. Services will be at 4 p.m. Wednesday at the Schmitz chapel. Burial will be in the IOOF Cemetery in Denton.
Mrs. Odum was born in Reagan Her husband, the late G. A. Odum, died in Denton in 1947.
She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Denton and of the Ariel Club in that city.
Survivors in addition to Mrs. Cowper include another daughter, Mrs. Harry Ferguson, Whitesville, Tenn.; two sisters, Mrs. F. L. Cornere, Tulsa, and Mrs. J. G. Borganer, Marlin; three brothers, Dr. Milton A. Davison, Marlin; Stephen Davison, Marlin; and Hugh Davison, Reagan. There are seven grandchildren.

Another Congress Battle Shapes Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prestige fight between the Senate and House Appropriations committees appeared close to settlement today. But another battle was shaping up between the two Agriculture committees.
Money bills have been tied up for more than three months while the Appropriations groups squabbled over chairmanships and meeting places of joint conferences and whether the Senate should be allowed to start limiting some of the revenue bills.
Government agencies have been operating under emergency provisions which permit them to go on spending this month at the rate they did during the last fiscal year which ended June 30.
Final agreement on who will preside seems likely to be reached on the basis of members' seniority in congressional service. This would put House members in the chair for about three of the conferences on 14 regular money bills. All chairmanships in the past have gone to the Senate.
The Senate's demand to originate half of the money bills apparently has gone down the drain for this session. Agreement has been reached to hold conferences in the old Supreme Court chamber near the center of the Capitol, instead of on the far side of the Senate wing.
Here's the background of the threatened outbreak between the Agriculture committees.
The House committee last week shelved a Senate-passed farm bill with tight mandatory production controls for surplus crops. It approved a measure of its own which would extend existing emergency feed grain and wheat programs.
The House measure comes up for a vote this week. To make sure that it doesn't go to a Senate-House conference which might restore much of the Senate law.

'Mutiny' Now Needs Ending

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — They said it couldn't be done — finish "Mutiny on the Bounty," starring Marion Brando. But it's completed—almost. I've seen it. It has violence, humor, color, scenery, sex, and new interpretation — Brando's — to history's most famous mutineer.

It took nearly two years and final cost may hit $25 million. It might have broken records for time and cost if Liz Taylor hadn't run into pneumonia in London and Richard Burton in Rome. "Cleopatra" will take longer and cost more. It started earlier and is still shooting.

MGM has put "Mutiny on the Bounty" together in rough-cut form with running time three hours and 40 minutes plus intermission. Not all of the music has been scored. A few additional scenes, requested by Brando to change his motivation in the ending, will be shot next month.

Most of the controversy on the movie—almost as much rebellion as that experienced two centuries ago on the original HMS. Bounty—centered on the ending.

Brando was accused by his bosses of too much temperament. He countered that, MGM sent a full company to Tahiti at a cost of $32,000 a day, without having the film's ending in mind.

MGM called it temperament. Brando calls it artistic rebellion. Brando asked, "How can an actor honestly portray an emotion when he doesn't know what the final outcome of the emotion will lead to?"

Widow Of Ex-AF Secretary Dies In 12-Story Plunge

NEW YORK (AP) — Margaret Talbott, socialite widow of Harold E. Talbott, secretary of the Air Force in the Eisenhower administration, plunged 12 stories to her death Sunday from a bedroom window of her Manhattan apartment.

Mrs. Talbott, 62, left five notes, police said. Four were addressed to servants. The fifth, apparently to her family, told of her continuing depression over the death of her husband five years ago.

Talbott, 62, died March 2, 1957, in Palm Beach, Fla., of a cerebral hemorrhage. He served as Air Force secretary under President Dwight D. Eisenhower from 1953 to 1955 when he resigned following a Senate probe into his private business affairs.

In the eight-room apartment on Fifth Avenue at the time of Mrs. Talbott's plunge was John E. Talbott, one of her 23-year-old twin sons, police said. The other son, Harold E. Talbott III, was week-ending on Nantucket Island. Two daughters also survive.

Mrs. Talbott's body, clad in negligee and a house coat, was found in a rear courtyard shortly after dawn. A maid in an adjoining building had heard the impact and called police.

Mrs. Talbott, a member of one of Philadelphia's oldest families, was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Thayer. Her father, an economist, had been vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad. She married Talbott in Philadelphia Aug. 11, 1925.

Prior to her marriage she had become known as a business woman, amateur actress, tennis player, golfer, swimmer and big game hunter.

2 People Injured When Tornado Hits Rural Area

By The Associated Press
Two persons were injured seriously Sunday when a tornado hit a rural area south of Pampa in the Texas Panhandle.

The injured, S. C. Jones, 73, and his wife, 67, were in serious condition at a Pampa hospital. A trailer, parked at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Babcock, 14 miles south and one mile west of Pampa, was damaged.

Mrs. Babcock said the tornado winds overturned the trailer and tossed it against their home, punching a large hole in the side of the house.

Heavy rain and hail accompanied the tornado.

The tornado struck about 3:50 p.m. and the Pampa tornado warning system was activated by the low-pressure area as the storm passed over the town.

A line of scattered thunderstorms developed between San Angelo and Wichita Falls in the late afternoon and moved eastward. The cool front moved across the Panhandle and South Plains bringing some respite from the high temperatures this month.

Early Monday skies were clear to partly cloudy in most sections of the state. Widely scattered thundershowers were reported in the northern portion of North Central Texas and in the Panhandle.

THE LAST PORTAGE. By Walter O'Meara. Houghton Mifflin, $5.

By The Associated Press
John Tanner was nine years old in 1789, the year that roving Indians captured him at a Kentucky cabin. For 30 years he lived as an Indian. And then for the remainder of his life, more than two decades, he tried to make his way back into the white world.

This is a bare gist of O'Meara's account. But his book also is a wide picture of life among the highways, the beaver-hunting Indians of the Northwest, told in terms which a layman can comprehend and enjoy.

Tanner grew up to be a thorough redskin, speaking only the tongue of his tribe, living the life of a primitive savage and marrying Indian wives.

Through this one individual, O'Meara has succeeded in telling the story of the Indians' hopeless struggles against the expanding frontier of the white men. It is a story of hardships, starvation, crudity, cruelty and exploitation.

Tanner's life was one long struggle against nature, physical catastrophes and almost unbelievable poverty.
