Ben Bella Finds Dissension In New Regime

ALGIERS (AP)—Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, flushed with the acclaim accorded his belated appearance in the capital, encountered new obstacles Saturday on his road to power.

Cracks appeared in the new-found unity of Algeria's leaders less than 24 hours after Ben Bella received a rapturous welcome from thousands of screaming, chanting, flagwaving Moslems.

Ben Bella and his supporters flew in from their rebel capital of Oran exactly a month after moderate Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda arrived from Tunisian exile on the first day of independence.

COMPROMISE

Ben Bella's virtually independent regime ended when quarreling politicians reached a temporary compromise, mostly on Ben Bella's terms.

This established a Ben Bella-dominated political bureau of seven men to prepare for a national election Aug. 27, but left Ben Khedda at the head of the provisional government until after the election.

It was clear, however, that his old political enemies were still not prepared to bow.

WON'T OBEY

Officers of anti-Ben Bella military zones in the guerrilla army in central Algeria let it be known that they would continue to refuse to obey the orders of regular army chief of staff, Col. Houari Boumedienne. Ben Bella's main military backer, Boumedienne was fired by Ben Khedda on the eve of independence, accusing him of attempting to establish a military dictatorship.

Two members of the Political Bureau opposing Ben Bella's quest for power boycotted a meeting he called.

ABSENTEES

The absentees were Deputy Premier Mohammed Bouiaf and Minister of State Hocine Ait Ahmed.

The Political Bureau has no direct government functions. It is the executive committee of the National Liberation Front (FLN), the movement which led Algeria to independence. The FLN is the nation's only substantial political group.

Marshall Girl Is 'Miss Texas'

FORT WORTH (AP)—Nineteen-year-old Penny Lee Rudd of Marshall was named Miss Texas 1962 here Saturday night in a tension-wrapped ceremony that ended shortly before midnight.

Misses Beaumont Richardson, Oak Cliff, Waco and Marshall were picked as finalists from a group of ten semi-finalists. The five beauties then faced three questions each from the judges before the final decision of Miss Texas was made.

Dead In Wreck

GEORGETOWN (AP)—Charlie Johnson, 35, of Leander, was found dead Saturday in the wreckage of his pickup truck in a ditch beside a culvert eight miles west of Georgetown.

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Some call it the season of "dog days," but the business picture in Big Spring hasn't been reflecting any summertime slowdown. Fact is, business made much of the news this past week.

The First National Bank awarded contract to A. P. Kasch & Sons for a new building at Fourth and Main, a modernistic structure which will bring a new look to the city's business area. The bid was $487,257, to which must be added cost of land, furniture and fixtures and various other items.

Another new look comes into being, too, with the opening of the College Park Shopping Center. Big Spring has had various suburban business areas, but this is the first completely integrated center to come into being here. It is due to get a big response.

Residential building here has moved along, and at a record pace. Construction permits for homes reached an all-time high in July, with a total of $1,013,200. That's a lot of houses, and it makes some folks wonder "where are all the people coming from?" The hope is that demand keeps up with the supply.

Continuing the good news, those fine showers of Wednesday night (See WEEK, Page 10-A, Col. 7)

To Answer Charges In Estes Conspiracy

AMARILLO (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said Saturday the head of a major New York corporation indicted with Billie Sol Estes will probably volunteer for trial to answer anti-trust charges.

Indicted at Amarillo were Maynard Wheeler, president of Commercial Solvents Corp.; Estes; and R. E. Clements, former owner of Superior Manufacturing Co. Estes' creditors meet in Dallas Monday to decide which of several offers, if any, to take for the Pecos promoter's assets.

Estes is in bankruptcy and Harry Moore of El Paso is the receiver. Indictments charge Wheeler and Estes with two counts of conspiracy to fix the price of anhydrous ammonia fertilizer in Potter County (Amarillo), and two counts of restraint of trade by fixing the price of the fertilizer so low that it drove out competition.

BUYER INTERESTED
Reported interested in buying Estes' assets are Morris Jaffe of San Antonio, president of Fed-Mart Inc. F. J. Gray, a Baytown financier, and Irving Kaplan, an official of United Foods in Houston.

Moore and three members of Estes' creditors' committee talked in Dallas Friday about selling Estes' holdings. The committee men were Robert Greenberg of Chicago, T. E. Mitchell of Plainview and M. R. Irton of Dallas. A syndicate of Houston investors, headed by Irvin E. Kaplan, will make an offer Monday for virtually all of Estes' assets, Kaplan said Saturday.

Kaplan, president of United Foods, Inc., declined to say how much the syndicate would offer. He said a final draft of the offer was under preparation and the offer would be made Monday in Dallas.

OTHER INTERESTS
United Foods operates canning and packing facilities in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, a foothold in Houston and other enterprises. F. J. Gray, Baytown financier, was reported ready to make a separate offer, but he could not be reached for comment. Wilson said the indictments

More Polio Immunization Slated In Cities Today

DALLAS (AP)—Fort Worth, Dallas and some nearby counties try Sunday to immunize all those who were not vaccinated last Sunday with Sabin oral polio vaccine. Goals announced by about 35 of Texas' 254 counties are to immunize 4.5 million persons this summer.

Most smaller counties have held their clinics only one day. Such cities as Houston, Fort Worth and Dallas are holding clinics on succeeding Sundays.

Galveston begins a two-Sunday program Sunday.

Sabin vaccine, a liquid, is placed on a sugar cube which is eaten. It provides immunity for the individual and prevents his transmitting the disease to others. Salk vaccine, taken with a needle, does not prevent an individual from becoming a carrier. Houston has completed its immediate program with estimates that 95 per cent of the persons in the county received vaccine.

In Fort Worth and Dallas, about 60 per cent received vaccine last Sunday.

So far no person who has been vaccinated with the Sabin type in Texas has become a victim of the disease provided they were immunized in time. The vaccine requires up to 14 days to become effective.

The campaigns for vaccination began after the state suffered its worst outbreak of polio since Salk vaccine became effective.

The current round of vaccinations are against Type One. Two other vaccination sessions are planned later against the other two types of polio.

Called 'Menace' American Ousted From Philippines

MANILA (AP)—The Philippines deported Saturday American industrialist Harry S. Stonehill, 45, officially called a menace to state security and a participant in corruption that President Diosdado is trying to wipe out.

The wealthy ex-GI from Chicago left for Sydney, Australia, where he is to take another plane Sunday for San Francisco.

JURISDICTION
Congress had surrendered Stonehill for expulsion in what a committee called "the higher interest of the nation" after a brief tussle between executive and legislative authorities about jurisdiction in his case.

Stonehill, who changed his name from Steinberg, issued a paring statement.

"I have come to love the country during the 17 years that I stayed here. I found friends among the people. I shall treasure this the rest of my life. In all sincerity, I can state that I modestly contributed to the well-being and economic development of this country, in more specific terms, to the employment of thousands of Filipinos," he said.

It was the end of the line here for Stonehill, who built a multi-million-dollar business empire on tobacco, oil, glass and real estate in the Philippines after World War II.

His American business associate, Robert Brooks—similarly ousted—had already been ousted after leaving behind his wife and five children, Brooks, flew to Tokyo.

NO COMMENT
"I'm sorry, no comment," Brooks told newsmen in a stop-over at Tokyo.

Macapagal issued orders Friday for the ouster of both after the deportation board ruled them guilty of such charges as bribery of public officials, economic sabotage, violation of banking laws, blackmail, and tax evasion. He said they would be sent to the United States and never permitted to return.

Stonehill was turned over to police for transfer to the immigration detention center.

His wife, Philippine-born, is not subject to deportation.

Brothers Killed By Lightning
BROWNFIELD, Tex. (AP)—Two young brothers died when struck by lightning Friday as an electrical storm flashed across the Panhandle of Texas.

They were found lying face down about 100 yards from a tenant farmhouse where they lived near here.

Mercury Soars To 100 Mark
Big Springers panted Saturday as a searing sun sent the mercury to the century mark. They found little consolation in reports that the local temperature was a bit lower than those being scored by other communities in Texas.

No relief is in store for today or Monday. The same hot days and the warm humid nights will continue, the U.S. Weather Bureau reported. The high today should again hit 100 degrees.

The blistering heat which prevailed here baked all of Texas from the Gulf of Mexico to the tip of the panhandle.

A tornado swirled up out of the thunderheads in Pecos County. The sizzling temperatures were topped by Presidio's smoking 108 degrees and bottomed by Galveston's hot 89. For many points it was the hottest day of the year.

A giant grass and brush fire, covering an estimated 2,500 acres, burned out of control north of San Antonio where firemen were hampered by a water shortage.

Other maximum temperatures included Abilene, 102; Alpine, 92; Amarillo, 95; Austin, 102; Beaumont, 99; Brownsville, 93; College Station, 100; Corpus Christi, 91; Childress, 103; Dalhart, 96; Dallas, 98; El Paso, 95; Fort Worth, 100; Houston, 99; Junction, 106; Laredo, 106; Lubbock, 96; Lufkin, 102; Midland, 102; Mineral Wells, 101; San Angelo, 106; San Antonio, 103; Victoria, 97; Waco, 103; Wichita Falls, 101; and Wink, 104.

For San Antonio, it was a record-tying 12 consecutive days of 100 degrees or better.

Indiana Lad Wins Soap Box Derby
AKRON, Ohio (AP)—David Mann, 14-year-old son of a Vesper, Ind. police sergeant, defeated 182 other boys Saturday to win the silver anniversary running of the All-American Soap Box Derby.

The youngster guided his black and silver racer down the 97.4-foot green asphalt slope of Derby Downs in 27.79 seconds in the final heat to defeat Teddie Morrow of Lancaster, Ohio. Mark J. Kordon of Akron was third.

A $1,500 college scholarship is the first prize for Mann, who raced under sponsorship of the Gary (Ind.) Post Tribune.

Satellite Bill Foes Would Accept Lease

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Senate sponsors of a government-ownership bill said Saturday they are willing to have a satellite communications system operated by a private corporation under a lease arrangement.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said that while they oppose an administration measure providing for private ownership and operation, they are not committed to government operation.

TEMPORARY TRUCE

They are among a small band of Democratic senators who blocked with a five-day filibuster a move to call the bill up for Senate action this week. A temporary truce was reached last Wednesday with an agreement to send the measure to the Foreign Relations Committee for further study.

Under the agreement, the bill is to be taken up in the Senate again on Aug. 10 and Morse has threatened to renew the filibuster then.

Morse, interviewed by Clark on a radio and television program taped for Pennsylvania stations prior to the truce agreement, said "We're up against a steamroller here."

"I think that eventually the majority can win this fight, but probably will win this fight, but at a terrific cost," Morse said. "They are going to win this fight at the cost of self-interest, not only in the Senate but in the country."

CLAIMS SUPPORT

"The American people are beginning to see through this," Morse claimed, reporting this shows in telegrams he is receiving. He added they are running 9-1 in support of his position.

The administration measure already passed by the House, provides for a private, government-regulated corporation to own and operate the U.S. portion of a projected system of global communications—using satellites as relay stations.

Half of the corporation's stock would be sold to communications companies like the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and half to the general public, with a group of stockholders electing six directors. The president would appoint three directors.

Opponents contend this would be a giveaway of the government's investment in the space program and create a private monopoly that would be dominated by AT&T.

Morse said that although he insists the satellite system must be owned and controlled by the government, he is willing to consider working out a lease or a license with AT&T or any other communications company.

Candidates for governor and congressman-at-large are not challenged formally from within their own parties, neither are most congressmen running in the state's 18 regular districts.

The Michigan Fair Campaign Practices Commission denounced Saturday a Negro tabloid weekly newspaper, the Illustrated News, for urging nomination on a racist basis of three Negro Democratic candidates for Congress in three Wayne County districts.

The Community Co-ordinating Council of Metropolitan Detroit, an association of 37 Negro business, professional, religious and labor groups, supported the commission.

The council said in a statement, "We dissociate ourselves unequivocally from any such racist technique. . . . We consider any effort to arouse citizens on the basis of race or religion, whatever its source, as representative of bigotry and intolerance."

LIMIT ON ALIMONY It's Making Women Tramps

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A time limit should be applied to alimony argues Superior Court Judge Roger Alton Pfaff of Los Angeles.

"The cocktail lounges of America are filled with unhappy, lonely, frustrated, and alcoholic women," Pfaff told the American Bar Association Friday.

"They've eueched an affluent husband out of a substantial lifetime annuity. The ex-husbands are left financially strapped."

As for the ex-wives, Judge Pfaff observed: "What otherwise would be emotionally stable and productive women are turned into tramps."

VOTING IS TUESDAY Racial Issues In Michigan Election

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The raising of racial issues injected new interest Saturday in a Michigan primary election campaign in which attempts to set off fireworks mostly have fizzled.

The election is Tuesday. Experts estimate a million voters will turn out, drawn mostly by localized contests.

A sharp downturn in voter interest made its appearance after a U.S. Supreme Court justice held up until after the primary a state supreme court order for immediate reapportionment of the Senate or election of all senators on an at-large basis.

Candidates for governor and congressman-at-large are not challenged formally from within their own parties, neither are most congressmen running in the state's 18 regular districts.

Burned In Blast

BEAUMONT (AP)—Melvin Graham, 28, of nearby Silsbee died Saturday of burns suffered Wednesday in a gas explosion. Graham went inside the Eugene Paine house, two miles north of Silsbee, to check on a noise he suspected a prowler had made and set off a tremendous blast. Burns covered his whole body.

Auto Insurance Said Too High
DALLAS (AP)—Texas automobile owners pay too much for their auto insurance, an industry leader said here Saturday.

Vestal Lemmon, general manager of the National Association of Independent Insurers, said Texas owners pay as much as 50 per cent more for their auto insurance than drivers in other states.

He blamed the high insurance rates on the failure of the Texas Legislature to adopt a competitive rate law for auto insurance.

"Such a law," he said, "would allow economically operated insurance companies to sell automobile insurance at rates substantially below the rate set by the State of Texas."

Lemmon said Texas was the only state which straitjackets both prices and coverage of automobile insurance. Two other states, Massachusetts and North Carolina, set rates and coverage for minimum liability policies but allow competition in other areas.

"Permitting competition," he added, "is the logical next step to follow the wise decision of the State Board of Insurance which recently threw out the repudiated so-called 'merit rating plan.'"

FAA Lays Down Rules For Training Flight Engineers
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency set up guidelines Saturday under which pilots can qualify as flight engineers.

It rejected a shortcut plan to accomplish the same goal proposed by Eastern Air Lines.

There was no immediate indication what effect the moves would have on the 43-day-old flight engineers strike against Eastern, but it at least seemed to clarify the course the company will have to follow.

Eastern has been shut down, except for four New York-Miami flights daily, since June 23 over the issue of whether the third

Airline Won't Accept Him As Passenger

LONDON (AP)—Israel threw new complications Saturday night into Britain's attempt to send runaway soviet spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen back to the United States. A government spokesman in Jerusalem said Soblen would be returned to Israel if Britain insisted he leave on an Israeli airline.

British authorities, who have rejected Soblen's appeals to remain here, have ordered him to leave aboard a plane of the Israeli government airline, El Al, which brought him here July 7.

But El Al refuses to accept Soblen as a passenger.

URGED TO RECONSIDER
The Israeli spokesman disclosed his government's new position after British Ambassador Frances Hancock called on the Foreign Ministry's director general Chaim Yehiel in Jerusalem Saturday afternoon.

The ambassador had urged Israel to reconsider El Al's refusal to accept Soblen. A source close to the Israeli government said Hancock's effort was considered by the government as "an ultimatum demand."

In London, there was no immediate official comment on the Israeli decision. Soblen's British attorney appeared surprised but pleased.

MIGHT ESCAPE TERM
There was speculation here that Soblen might escape a life prison term in the United States if he is taken out of Britain for a destination other than the United States.

El Al planes stop at Zurich, Rome and Athens. If Soblen were to fly to Zurich, he could transfer there to a flight to Communist Czechoslovakia, which has offered him political asylum.

The law permits any Jew to settle in Israel, but it gives the government the right to refuse persons it considers undesirable. The government did so in Soblen's case earlier.

British authorities, meanwhile, granted Soblen three more days in Britain while they attempted to break the deadlock with El Al. News that the deadline for his departure had been extended to midnight Wednesday reached Soblen in the hospital wing of Brixton Prison. His lawyers claimed he was in bed and suffering some pain. The Home Office said Brixton's medical officer had examined Soblen and found no change in his condition.

Soblen is said to have leukemia and not have long to live.

NO RIGHT
Israel maintains the British Home Office has no right to give orders for Soblen's removal to a foreign airline. They are declining to fly him home and have pre-empted through diplomatic channels.

London takes the view that El Al brought Soblen here and, since no formal permission was given for him to enter Britain El Al must take him out. Soblen got the trip interrupted by slashing his wrists and abdomen just before the plane landed in London. He had gulped $100,000 bail in New York to flee to Israel.

Polio In Waco
WACO (AP)—McLennan County's first polio case this year was diagnosed Friday. Johnny Lan-ares, 2, had taken one Salk vaccine shot.

Specifically on the new program until they had a chance to study it. An Eastern statement released in Washington said the FAA letter and policy statement have not yet been received.

The airline has had 50 pilots going through its unofficial training course. Some have already received FAA certificates as engineers, but will still have to meet the prescribed minimum hours of training and take an FAA test before they can function as crew members.

The FAA said the total 60 hours instruction can be provided when the pilots meet certain basic requirements.

Cities To Give Big Welcome To 49th

DALLAS (AP)—You'd think the 49th Armored Division soldiers were a war when they return home next week.

Maybe they did.

President Kennedy called up the Texas National Guard outfit last Oct. 15 to beef up the nation's armed strength when the Berlin crisis looked like it might get rough.

In all, nearly 150,000 civilians were called to active military duty.

This gave the United States time to strengthen its forces by draft and enlistments until even with the regular forces now are 300,000 stronger than before the Berlin troubles.

The Berlin crisis eased after the October calls to active duty. But whether Khrushchev took off the pressure because of America's quick military reaction is only speculation.

Kennedy told the 49th this week "When the Free World needed more its challenges you responded."

Among other outfits called up was the 10th National Guard Division of Wisconsin, parts of which got a big welcome home Saturday after training at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

The 49th Armored trained at Ft. Polk, La.

You can't have much of an official party Texas think without a barbecue and they'll be killing fatted calves right and left when their boys come home to their 74 towns.

Wichita Falls may put on the biggest show. It is trying to line the homecoming route through three counties with flags and bunting. Air raid sirens will sound off, and an Air Force band will play for the Army.

The Navy will play for the Army, too—a Corpus Christi sail or band traveling halfway across Texas to sound off at the Tyler homecoming.

Mt. Pleasant will set all the church bells chiming, bands will play and flags will fly.

Dallas will usher its units into a spanking new armory built while the 49th was away from home.

Parades will be held almost everywhere the soldiers return home, and this might be considered a final insult to sore feet. But not to the 49th. It's an armored outfit and doesn't walk much anyway.

Gov. Price Daniel will execute a lot of symbolism at Austin, presenting the unit there with a state flag to mark the division's return to state control.

Already advance parties of the division are in Texas preparing for the return for the logistics problem is a huge one for an armored division.

More than 4,000 officers and men of the division will return. Of this number about 1,400 are filler troops—reservists outside the 49th who still had military obligations and were recalled to fill in the unit.

Woman To Get Award For Withholding Thalidomide

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy approved Saturday a prize award to Dr. Francis O. Kelsey for blocking the marketing of the drug thalidomide and preventing a major tragedy of birth deformities in the United States.

The woman, medical officer of the Food and Drug Administration, will receive a gold medal and citation for distinguished federal civilian service. This is the highest official honor that can be given a career civilian employee of the federal government.

The award will be made at a ceremony at the White House in Washington Tuesday. Five other persons previously selected for the award will be honored at the same time.

Thalidomide is the drug developed in Germany which has been blamed for the birth of deformed babies whose mothers took it as a tranquilizer.

Dr. Kelsey refused to approve it as safe for human use in this country.

The President paused at the outbreak of an 44-day-long weekend ashore and refused to approve the award to the Canadian-born Dr. Kelsey 49.

It didn't take him long after that to board the Maine, the family's 12-foot motor cruiser and head out into Lewis Bay.

Next weekend Kennedy will be staying on a secluded island just off the Maine coast at the summer home of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney. The roving White House will be set up at nearby Boothbay Harbor.

The next weekend Kennedy will be off for the West on a trip the White House is hilling as non-political.

So far as the rest of the family is concerned, Kennedy will be going it alone for the next two weeks. Mrs. Kennedy and their 4-year-old daughter Caroline leave from New York Tuesday for two weeks at an old Italian villa.

Motel Reports $120 Burglary

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hood, Silver Saddle Lodge, 1194 W. 3rd reported more than $120 stolen from them about 1 a.m. Saturday. Missing was a money sack containing between $60-70, a man's wallet with about $5 and a woman's billfold with from $65-70.

A resident at the Wyoming Hotel also reported money missing when a burglar entered his room and took his trousers and their contents. He told police he had left the door to his room open and that the items were taken during a time between 4:30 a.m. Saturday. The articles were found later near the mens dormitory at Howard County Junior College and $7.80 was missing from the wallet.

Another Try Is Made For Nuclear Pact

GENEVA (AP)—Chief delegates from the United States and Britain returned to the Geneva disarmament talks Saturday for another attempt to talk the Soviet Union into signing a treaty banning nuclear tests throughout the world.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean and British Minister of State Joseph B. Godber brought from their respective capitals a new Western compromise gesture aimed at overcoming Soviet objections to international policing of a test ban agreement.

Soviet opposition to international controls has held up progress on a test ban since they began discussing the idea four years ago.

Dean and Godber declined to reveal any details of the new Western offer but President Kennedy announced last Wednesday its basic outlines. He insisted on a test ban agreement calling for international on-site inspections of possible nuclear blasts on the territory of all nuclear powers, coupled with nationally manned control stations for the detection of suspicious seismic shocks.

The new Western proposals are to be submitted to the 17-nation disarmament conference early next week. But Western and neutralist conference sources expressed some optimism that they would lead to any disarmament progress soon, if at all.

They pointed out that the Russians have refused to budge from their resistance to on-site inspections and predicted the Soviet position would remain unchanged even though the Western powers offer to grant Moscow one of its own conditions to a test ban treaty. This is the Soviet demand that scientific stations built throughout the world to detect underground atomic blasts are staffed from the countries in which they are located.

Harmonious Convention In Sight For Texas Democrats

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' Democrat leaders already are talking about the nice, peaceful state convention Sept. 18 in El Paso.

Almost as quiet as the state Republican convention the same day in Fort Worth.

In the past, the meetings have been no place for anyone suffering from convention claustrophobia—fear of getting caught in a political tight spot.

It appears now that the two conventions will be used mostly to whip up enthusiasm and Nov. 6 support for Democratic gubernatorial nominee John Connally and GOP nominee Jack Cox.

Another liberal-conservative split among Texas Democrats, which appeared to be developing after the defeat of Don Yarborough, apparently has been mended by the state AP's endorsement of Connally.

"Looks like a quiet convention from here," said a Connally spokesman this week, "but don't quote me on that."

Connally has the odds on his side.

During Gov. Price Daniel's administration, state Democratic conventions often erupted into intra-party riots over the seating of contesting liberal and conservative delegations and over recognition of senatorial district nominees for the state executive committee.

Connally has said several times he believed all duly elected delegations should be seated at the convention and that the nominees of senatorial caucuses for the state executive committee should be honored.

The biggest problem at the Democratic convention this year may be finding seats for those craving the record number of 1,000 votes, about 1,500 more votes than the 1960 total. Delegate votes are based on the number of votes cast for governor, in the preceding general election and 1960's big presidential vote turnout caused the increase.

Drafting of a platform to be used in Connally's campaign for Nov. 6 and the naming of a new state executive committee to guide the party for the next two years will be the major items on the Democratic agenda.

APLCO leaders have notified both parties they want a voice in drawing up both platforms.

Commie Youth Delegation Splits

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—The Ceylonese delegation to the Communist-sponsored youth festival here split Saturday and its non-Communist members left the festival. They charged they were being exploited for cold war politics.

While Soviet cosmonaut Yuri A. Gagarin was being given a triumphant welcome by a crowd of 15,000 delegates, a news conference at a restaurant a few blocks away was being held about the first serious split in the Communist-run show.

Spotty Rainfall Record Over The State

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Some Texas areas received record amounts of rain in July and wider areas received little or none.

John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, said the most favored areas are North and Northwest Texas.

Bollworms are causing much concern in many areas. Some shedding in cotton had been noted where no rain fell.

Ranges in the less favored sections need rain. The stock water situation is critical in many counties.

Reports from district agents: Showers in the Panhandle, except in some western counties, have benefited crops and ranges. Ranges are normal or above in all except the drier counties and livestock are in good condition.

Only parts of three counties in the South Plains (Lubbock) report less than adequate moisture. All crops are making good progress. Insect damage has been light.

Harvesting of onions and potatoes more than 75 per cent complete and yields and quality have been good. Soybeans, sesame and castor beans look good. Rains have improved ranges and boosted dry-land crops.

In the Rolling Plains (Vernon), two counties are dry, parts of four need rain and in 16 moisture is adequate. Bollworms and boll weevils are increasing. Limited acreages of early grain sorghum have been harvested. Ranges are improving.

Light to heavy rains spotted far West Texas but parts are extremely dry. Lambs are moving to market at very light weights. Sheep shearing has started in Kinney and Val Verde counties. Bollworms are causing a lot of damage.

Moisture is very short in all Central West Texas except in Taylor and adjoining counties. All crops and pastures need rain badly. Calves and lambs are moving to market ahead of schedule. Stock tanks are low or drying up. Goat shearing has started.

Showers in western counties of Central Texas helped a lot but eastern counties need rain. The sorghum harvest is picking up. Corn is maturing rapidly and cotton is opening. Insect control is a major problem. Recent rains helped peanuts. Livestock are normal.

Little damage to crops has been reported from the flooding in parts of North Central Texas. Bollworms are causing trouble. Rains helped ranges. Some fields of early sorghum have been harvested.

Moisture is adequate in most of Northeast Texas. Bollworms are causing concern. Corn is maturing and peanuts are making good growth. The water-melon harvest is on but prices are low. Pastures are average. Moisture is generally short in East Texas. Pastures are below average and 45 cases of scraw worms were reported.

The hot, dry weather is maturing cotton fast and is causing small bolls and squares to shed in South Central Texas. Cotton, rice, hay and sorghum harvesting is general in the southern half of the area. Peanuts and ranges need rain. Dry range forage is a fire hazard. The marketing of calves is active.

Italian Officers Get Flying Safety Tips

One of the more interesting—essential—phases of the Webb AFB mission is its flying safety program, directed by Major Harris B. Wilhoite. He is responsible for the program, its administration, and seeing that all pilots and other personnel are briefed on elimination of hazards. Major Wilhoite also supervises the orientation of officers from allied nations sent here for briefings on new developments.

Two such officers, now studying here, are Major Fiorenzo Jannicelli and Capt. Mario Lusso of the Italian Air Force. Major Jannicelli is a senior pilot, who formerly commanded an Italian Air Force Transport Squadron. Both are now fighter pilots.

The two Italian officers arrived at Webb in mid-July for a five weeks study of USAF flying safety methods. They came to Webb from the University of Southern California where they completed a 12 weeks course in flying safety especially prepared for USAF officers. This is the only university in the world offering such a course.

Current Air Force policy requires every flying safety officer to attend this course and Webb has one officer—Capt. John Seaton—now enrolled. Major Wilhoite and Capt. Val G. Nelson are graduates of the course.

The course includes—accident investigation, aeronautical engineering, and aerodynamics.

Major Wilhoite said that at least one of the accidents he had been called to investigate might never have been solved had he not attended the course. Each student must investigate and submit his findings on at least two accidents in which aircraft is involved, during the course.

Major Jannicelli received his flight training in Italy, but attended the navigators course with the Canadian Air Force in 1950-51. Capt. Lusso received his pilot training with the Canadian Air Force in 1956-57. The captain said the course was of 17 months duration, and that he flew the T-33 (under another name) in basic training. It was called the Silver Star.

From Webb, Major Jannicelli and Capt. Lusso go to Stead AFB for the survival course, then to the Pentagon, and then to Rome, for reassignment—probably as flying safety officers.

Prior to enrollment in the University of Southern California, Major Jannicelli and Capt. Lusso completed the language course at Lackland AFB, Texas.

Guardsmen Due Home Thursday

National Guardsmen from the area will be given a warm welcome immediately after mustering out Thursday at the local Armory. The men will be completing 10 months of active duty at Fort Polk, La.

Seventy-two men of Battery A, Third Rocket Howitzer Battalion, 132nd Artillery of the 49th Armored Division are slated to return by convoy on or before the Thursday mustering out date. The hour for the dismissal command has been set for 4:30 p.m.

A buffet spread and social gathering is being arranged as a joint undertaking of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and the Chamber of Commerce. Tentative plans for the affair were worked out at a meeting Thursday afternoon.

The massive troop movement of 10,000 men in the 49th Division began Wednesday. Even before that, Sgt. Roy E. Sweatt, both of Colorado City, and Sgt. John T. Hamilton Jr., Spec. 4 Jimmy G. Hamill and Pfc. Wilbur Cunningham, all of Big Spring, they will help get the Armory back into shape to meet the returning men.

All of the men will return by Tuesday, M. Sgt. Hedges said. Many will return in private cars and others will arrive with a motor vehicle convoy. They will report for duty Wednesday and Thursday during regular duty hours, and will be mustered out at 4:30 p.m. Thursday, a time set by Division headquarters. However, closing ceremonies, including a guest speaker, will probably put the returning celebration off until about 5 or 5:30 p.m.

Lt. Robert L. Harris and Sgt. Fred McDowell Jr., are to remain at Fort Hood to close out affairs there. They will be relieved of duty status not later than Aug. 31.

Remaining on duty here until Aug. 15 will be Capt. Dewie O. Stevenson and the others who arrived early, except Cunningham. None of the men in the local group decided to revert to Regular Army and all 72 men who left are scheduled to return.

Youth Retreat Is Concluded

STANTON (SC) — The three-day District Eight Youth Retreat at the Baptist Encampment north of Stanton ended Saturday at noon. The retreat, which began at noon Thursday, featured a campfire each evening and a devotional service, as well as daily services, and swimming activities.

David Norvelle, Midland, was director of the camp; Tye Wright, Colorado City, assisted. The Rev. W. H. Uhlman, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Stanton, was superintendent of the boys at the retreat. Superintendents of girls were Mrs. P. M. Bristow, Mrs. Elmer Long, and Mrs. Glenn Gates, all of Stanton.

Wounds Are Fatal

DALLAS (AP)—Herman Moody, 26, was dead at a hospital early Saturday where he was taken by three youths. He had gunshot wounds.

Annual Summer Program Has A Big Attendance

A total of 1,300 youngsters took part in the summer recreation program directed by the YMCA this summer. A breakdown of figures showed 442 enrolled in 12 fun clubs, 136 in special classes such as tumbling, trampolines, etc., 330 in learn-to-swim, 210 in progressive swim classes and 472 in art and craft classes.

Total attendance figures reached 17,250 for the June through July sessions. Of these, 4,022 attended fun club sessions, 4,816 attended the special classes and 2,821 were in learn-to-swim courses. Attending the special events such as little olympics and the water show were 893, while 1,429 attended progressive swim classes. Taking advantage of free swim periods were 5,307, and 971 participated in free gym activities. Total number on the handball courts during the two-month period was 688, while 1,502 was the total attendance in the arts and crafts classes.

Nine instructors had charge of the overall summer program. Working on the North Side were Sam Dawson, aquatic director, R. F. Dodson, fun club director, and Marilyn Gum, assistant director of fun clubs.

South side instructors were Bill Engle, fun club director; Mrs. Ora Burson, girls' fun club director; Katherine Hepper, assistant fun club director; Ernie Hobbs, aquatic director; and Delnor Pass, basketball instructor. Mrs. Terry Pateman directed the whole arts and crafts program.

The Y building will be closed for three weeks to allow the staff vacations and for repair work on the building, beginning Monday.

Aged Woman Dies In Colorado City

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Mrs. Sarah Emma Gentry 88, died in the Reed Hospital Friday afternoon after a long illness. She was born in Lovita, Texas, December 1, 1873 and married the late Edward D. Gentry in 1889.

She is survived by a son, Edgar B. Gentry of Colorado City, a sister, 4 grandchildren, 17 great grandchildren and 3 great great grandchildren.

Adventure in Paradise?

Sergeant Joe Kerson is not in the tropics for the scenery. He's there with lots of other G.I.'s... watching... standing guard... fighting loneliness.

There is no USO on Joe's island—there is in 32 other military danger zones. With 2,750,000 G.I.'s, USO hasn't been able to keep pace. For lack of funds, thousands of watch-worn, tattered G.I.'s are being deprived of the USO's spiritual help... its vital measure of home.

Well, you can do something about that by giving to your United Fund or Community Chest, from which the USO gets a well-deserved share. Especially well-deserved because USO tries to reach all G.I.'s—your boy among them—so he'll never have to wonder...

Passenger Trains Fading From The Texas Scene

AUSTIN (AP)—Passenger trains may soon be hard to find in Texas.

Railroads have let passenger service within about 4,000 miles of passenger service has disappeared in five years.

A survey shows that in Tyler, an passenger train has left the city since 1954, when the Cotton Belt dropped its last two trains to Texas. No passenger trains serve Nacogdoches, Lufkin, Victoria or McAllen.

Ten years ago, eight lines used the Dallas terminal. Five use it today.

AFTER 40 YEARS
In Corpus Christi, the Seaboard Pacific left the city with its passenger service for the first time in 40 years when Train 100 departed June 10.

Missouri also dropped its day trains between Houston and New Orleans Aug. 13, leaving the ICC powerless.

The ICC will hear testimony Aug. 13-14 in Fort Worth on whether it should allow the Rock Island to drop its day trains between Fort Worth and Wichita, Kan.

The ICC is a successor to the transportation business. Before it was given such authority in 1936, the Texas Railroad Commission gave railroad permission to drop almost 40 passenger trains while retaining efforts to drop 20 trains.

"Our position is dictated by the Texas Supreme Court decision which held that where the passenger line is operated at an out-of-pocket loss, the commission is permitted to grant abandonment," Commission Chairman W. Murray said.

"I can see the wisdom of the court's decision. If the public doesn't patronize the railroads, the commission can't make them provide service."

FINANCES
"It's a simple task—we admit economy on public necessity but we can't take our decision only on the railroad's finances," Murray said.

Railroad union leaders think service cancellations should not be a simple task. Commission files bulge with transcripts of which the brotherhoods and business interests protested.

"We try to point out that the railroads use some consideration to the community," said Earl Jergins, of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

"If they are making money on overall freight and passenger operations they should continue passenger service," Jergins said. He said several hundred train-coaches is a lower fare—a room for two on an Austin-Washington trip costs about $40 less than the $118 for first-class Pullman fare.

Railroads and buses will be exempt after Nov. 15 from the 10 per cent federal excise tax on tickets, a war measure dissolved earlier this year.

Commission figures show railroad management has trimmed costs in 25 years to stretch the passenger's dollars.

At least one fare cut did not help business. The Fort Worth-Denver allowed to lapse this spring a fare cut on trips from the Dallas-Fort Worth area to Houston.

The two-year rate cut had dropped fare one per cent below bus rates in an effort to meet competition and stimulate inter-city rail travel.

If the price makes no difference to the public, should the railroads keep stripping passenger service?

The unions say this is what the railroads want. Paul estimated that railroads could get out of the passenger business in Texas in 10 to 15 years, but he thinks it would be a mistake.

"I believe people are going to get fed up paying tax dollars to build highways that have to be rebuilt every 10 years," Paul said.

"People will realize that trains are the safest way to travel. In 1961, there were no fatalities on passenger trains in Texas, while more than 2,000 people were killed on the highways."

Murray agrees. "I am concerned that passenger traffic has declined because of the long range picture, the expanding population will greatly increase the need for public transportation. Some day the highways will be so crowded we will want for increased service."

The matches, in use for a year by Missouri Pacific and slated for other lines, are slightly larger and hold more personal than standard Pullman cars. Each number coach's compartments have sleeping facilities.

Sherri Finkbine Will Seek Legal Abortion In Sweden

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Sherri Finkbine boarded a plane today for Sweden, and she hopes, legal abortion of the baby she believes may be deformed by thalidomide, a tranquilizer drug.

Before boarding the plane, the Phoenix television personality and her husband held a news conference at which she said she plans to have the abortion in Sweden, where "the decision is up to the doctor."

She added that she had originally planned to go to Japan but that the Japanese consul in Los Angeles had to check with Tokyo before granting a visa.

"He didn't refuse us but I'm sure it would have taken too long," Mrs. Finkbine and her husband Robert, a schoolteacher in Phoenix, fear their fifth child may be deformed by the drug thalidomide taken in the early stages of the woman's pregnancy.

They appeared Friday night on a local television show presided over by Los Angeles Times columnist Paul Coates.

"I've tried to keep control of myself emotionally," Mrs. Finkbine said. "She said she definitely will get an abortion because she feels it is the right and only thing to do."

She added: "I've received all kinds of letters. Some people have even sent things to cure the baby if it were not all right."

ADOPTION OFFERED
"I burst into a rage when a San Francisco couple offered to adopt the baby if I would want to do it. I would want to do it to avoid the burden on someone else."

Mrs. Finkbine star of a Phoenix children's television program called "Stumper Room," said she probably wouldn't return to the job. "The station would be in a previous position if I returned," she said.

Mrs. Finkbine said the thalidomide was obtained by her husband while conducting a student tour in Europe.

"I took the pills during the first eight weeks of my pregnancy," she said. "I control nausea. I should have known better. I foolishly took my husband's prescription."

TO HELP OTHERS
She said her main reason for telling newsmen about her dilemma was to help other couples avert similar tragedies.

"My mission has been accomplished," she said.

Earlier the Los Angeles Times, in an exclusive story, disclosed that the couple had fled to Los Angeles on Thursday.

"Imagine, I wore a blonde wig and smoked glasses and was all stuffed with towels and pillows to look like a woman in advanced pregnancy," Mrs. Finkbine told the Times.

"At the airport in Phoenix, I walked right by two television friends and they didn't even give me a second glance."

Arizona courts have ruled that an abortion could be granted in any state if a woman in advanced pregnancy is in danger. She said, however, that doctors have advised her to give the abortion. "The drug thalidomide has been blamed for deformities in thousands of babies born in Europe, Australia and Canada."

Horse Killed In Highway Mishap

STANTON (AP)—Dudley Anderson, operator of a trucking service in Stanton, was involved in a horse-truck collision on State Highway 107, 20 miles north of Stanton at 4:30 a.m. Saturday morning.

Anderson was on his way to Lubbock to get a load of feed for the Farmers Co-op Gin Society in a Co-op truck when the animal ran in front of the vehicle. The horse was killed, but Anderson was not injured. Damage to the truck was estimated at $300 or less.

Shot To Death
DALLAS (AP)—Eddie Smith, 21, of Dallas was shot to death Saturday. Another Negro, 26, was arrested.

No Recession Is Sighted In Texas

AUSTIN, AP—Business is good in Texas and there is no sign of a recession, says the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. New car sales, which will be higher and use more gasoline, may lift the state's prosperity higher.

Band Practice Opens Monday

Band students in local public schools get an early start on the 1962 school year as they begin practice sessions Monday afternoon in Doug Wiebe band director.

The High School Band begins preparing for school work and football appearances at 7:30 p.m. Classes will meet every weekday. The advanced band of Grant Junior High will meet at 8:30 a.m. each day and beginners join their sessions at 1:30 p.m. At High School, both groups meet at 8 a.m.

Students should bring their instruments Monday since practice will begin immediately. Whoopi He also pointed out that the classes will be held at the respective schools.

Faces Trial In Bank Failure

LAREDO, AP—Manuel Medina faces trial here Monday on charges stemming from the failure of his private bank down the Rio Grande at Zapata.

The bank had $70,000 in deposits at the time of its collapse in July of last year. It was one of the rare private banks in Texas and, as such, was exempt from state or federal control.

Medina, 32, is accused in criminal charges of accepting deposits, knowing the bank was insolvent. What became of the money has not been fully disclosed.

At a bankruptcy hearing held in February, Medina testified that he closed the bank because it ran out of money. The trial was moved here when it became impossible to get a jury in Zapata, 48 miles south of here.

Dies Of Burns

HOUSTON, AP—Alex Gurka, 61, died Friday of burns received a week earlier when he stumbled and fell into a tank of acid.

Illinois Seeks Gun Used In Slaying Here

A pistol, identified as the one used to slay Arthur DeKraai, Iowa hitchhiker near here last September, and which is now a part of the District court records in Cherokee County, is needed in Belleville, Ill., according to a letter from authorities there.

The pistol, a major state exhibit in the trial and conviction of John Edwin Myers, for the murder of DeKraai, is also alleged to have been the gun used to kill George Ballard, 47, and his 11-year-old daughter, Carol, near Belleville, Ill.

Illinois wants the pistol in its efforts to convict Donna Marie Stone, 14-year-old girl friend of the condemned Myers, for the Ballard homicides.

Myers is in the Howard County jail here under sentence of death. He is sweating out the final determination of his destiny as his case is reviewed by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. Statements which he and Donna Marie made identified the pistol in question as the gun used in the slaying of not only the Ballards and DeKraai, but also in the murder of Margaret Wernicker.

The four died at the hands of Myers and the girl on three bloody days last September. Galtford Jones, Howard County district attorney, has been asked by Belleville to send the gun to St. Clair County so that it can be used in the trial of Donna Marie starting Aug. 20.

Myers was tried in Rusk in Cherokee County on a charge of venue and the gun is now held as a part of the court records. Jones has written to Cherokee County authorities of the request and suggested the gun be loaned to the Illinois authorities.

Singleness Of Purpose Urged On Webb Grads

The last line of a page in the current history of Webb AFB was written Friday night with the graduation of Class 63A. This class was the first to graduate after having flown the supersonic T-38 Talon under the new concept of undergraduate pilot training.

Second Lieutenant Kenneth E. Staten is honor graduate, receiving the Commander's Trophy and distinguished graduate award, a sword from Col. Harold C. Collins, 3500th Pilot Training Group Commander. Lt. Staten is a graduate of the U.S. Air Force Academy and a native of Denver, Colorado.

Col. Herman F. Smith, a professor of psychology at the U.S. Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo., delivered the graduation address.

In his speech he told class members: "You should remember that your skills are extraordinary, that it is your responsibility, your privilege, to use these for the greatest good of your country, and you should dedicate yourselves toward this end."

Col. Smith admonished the young officers to have singleness of purpose, a goal within the Air Force they plan to reach and then not be diverted from this goal.

He added: "Do your first job well, knowing that job knowledge, judgment and cooperation are expected of you, and remembering that your ability to communicate, manage and lead will be evaluated and should grow. And as you pass from assignment to assignment, keep your goal firmly in mind, dedicating your skills to this nation, the society which has made their development possible."

Receiving their wings Friday night at the Basic Chapel were: 2nd Lt. Donald E. Joy, Neil B. Anderson, Galen P. Casley, Richard D. Hoover and James D. Krumpton.

Also Michael E. Rawlings, Frank A. Self, John L. Smith, Fred E. Sparks, Kenneth E. Staten, Terry L. Stoner, Dale C. Tabor, Allan E. Utendorf and Larry R. Winchell.

Members of the German Air Force who graduated were: 2d Lt. Gert Fischer von Mollard, Hartwig A. Friedle, Horst L. Gebhardt, Gert Gollub, Helmut A. Schaber and Wolfgang Scheele.

Invocation and benediction were given by Chaplain Major Benja-min F. Moorman. Col. Wilson H. Banks, wing commander, introduced Colonel Smith and also presented the diplomas to the graduates, at which time the instructors presented the wings to their respective students.

Lt. Col. Joachim S. Vogt, German Liaison Officer from Lackland AFB, came to Webb to congratulate the first German students who graduate from supersonic undergraduate pilot training at Webb.

Members of the class contributed $2 toward the youth activities fund at Webb. Their contribution was made at this time since they will not be here for the forthcoming Youth Fair.

Kennedy Sets Up Pulse-Feeling Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—A trip to the West Coast Aug. 17-19 apparently will give President Kennedy the opportunity to explore for himself how the country feels about his administration.

Electric Co-Op Meeting Aug. 7

Louie Throgmorton, vice president of the Republic National Life Insurance Co., Dallas, will be the featured speaker at the annual membership meeting of the Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, Inc., Aug. 7 at 6 p.m. Throgmorton is a noted humorist and after-dinner speaker and has spoken to audiences throughout West Texas.

Additional entertainment will be afforded by Ben Hall and the Circle 4 Ramblers. The western string band will perform prior to the opening of the business session.

The business meeting includes reports from cooperative officials. There will also be three directors elected to fill three-year terms each.

Approximately 1,500 persons from parts of six counties served by the cooperative are expected to attend the meeting in the Lone Wolf Electric Co-Opatorium. Each person attending will receive a door prize in addition to being eligible for prizes which will be drawn during the meeting. Soft drinks, coffee and donuts will be served during registration from 6 to 7 p.m.

Unless he changes present plans Kennedy will not be making any political speeches for his party's candidates. But there is nothing to prevent him from conferring with political leaders.

Kennedy is represented as believing that the opposition in Congress to his legislative program may not reflect reliably the feeling of the average citizen.

A great user of polls himself, Kennedy recognizes that the form in which a question is put may have great influence on the results.

He said at his Wednesday news conference that a poll which indicated 72 per cent of the people oppose a tax cut which would increase the national debt might have come out quite differently if those polled had been asked if they favored a tax cut to head off a recession that would boost the debt.

A president, of course, can't drift in and out of the stores on main street or mill in the crowd at a supermarket. He has to get his information from people whose judgment he trusts.

In this sense the trip seems likely to become something of a warmup for some frankly political excursions this fall when Kennedy is expected to plug for the election of Democrats running for the Senate, House and governorships who support his program.

When he stops at Pierre, S.D., Kennedy will be touching base in a state where he hopes George McGovern, who resigned as Food for Peace director, will take a senatorial seat away from the Republicans.

His flip of a switch to start the circulation of power from Oahe

Dam — with appropriate remarks about the progress the country is making — may be about all the President will have time to do for McGovern.

But the ground-breaking for the San Luis irrigation project near Los Banos, Calif., Aug. 18, obviously is only a prelude to later activities in the state. California Democrats are confident Kennedy will be back to try to help Gov. Edmund G. Brown meet the challenge of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has said Kennedy is considering participating in the ceremonies opening the Lewis and Clark highway on the Montana-Idaho border.

In Idaho, the Democrats hope to fill the Senate vacancy left by the death of Republican Henry C. Dworshak, as well as re-electing Frank Church.

Brown Schedules Open House Today In Highland South

A house with a view from both the front and the back is Clyde Brown's Blue Star open house in the Highland South Addition, 703 Highland. The spacious three-bedroom home, built of pink and cream brick, boasts two large picture windows across the front to provide a view of South Mountain, and stretching across the back are large windows giving a panoramic view of Big Spring. A sun porch of tinted glass also provides another sight of the city.

CLYDE BROWN

A white and gold motif is followed throughout the house with subdued white walls and gold light fixtures. The kitchen cabinets are white with gold trim, and the formica cabinet top has a gold design on a white background. The appliances, which are all gas in line with the Blue Star promotion, are turquoise. The kitchen features a built-in stove and dishwasher as well as ample cabinet space. A snack table, also with gold and white top, is placed in one end, and a utility room for washer and dryer is located to one side.

The family room, which connects to the kitchen, is constructed of birch paneling, and features four large windows overlooking Big Spring. A brick fireplace with planters on each side is situated in the east end of the room, while on the south wall are bookshelves and cabinets holding an AM-FM stereophonic phonograph. An intercom system will carry the music to every room in the house.

A mahogany china closet and a picture window are the highlights of the dining room, located on the front of the house which faces South Mountain.

Double doors, also in the white and gold scheme, give way to a wide tiled entrance hall. Directly in front of the hall, but on the

July Postal Receipts Drop

July postal receipts were $7,827.84 under the receipt total for July, 1961. E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said Saturday. He said receipts for the month just ended were $28,000.59. July, 1961 receipts were $35,828.43.

However, the post office receipts through the first seven months of the year are still $7,715.88 ahead of the same period in 1961. The total receipts for the interval Jan. 1 to July 1962 is $222,440.25. For the same period last year, the figure was $214,724.37.

has two wide closets, while another features a walk-in. In the master bedroom three closets, two of the walk-in variety, are provided. The master bedroom is on the front of the house and also has a picture window; a tile dressing table and three-quarter bath is connected to it. Another bathroom is located down the hall and is also done in white tile with gold fixtures.

From the sun porch on the west side of the house, one can follow a sidewalk down a level to the brick barbecue pit on the patio, lighted by a gas lamp.

The house is carpeted throughout with an off-white 100 per cent continuous filament nylon carpet, except for carpeting in the family room, which is green, and in the smallest bedroom, which is blue.

The house is centrally heated and air conditioned. In front of the house are brick-in flowerbeds and a driveway leading to a double garage, attached to the west side.

Open house is from 1 to 6 p.m. today.

LA Angels Skid To Third Place

Orioles Win By 3-1 Tab

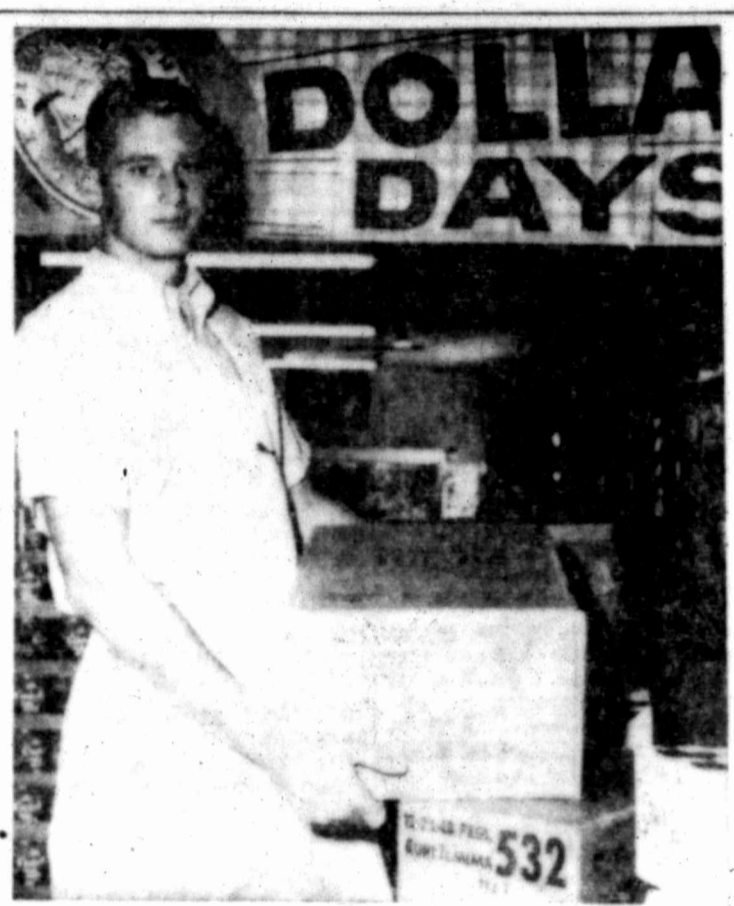

BALTIMORE (AP) — Right-handed Jack Fisher weathered a ninth-inning uprising Saturday night and pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 3-1 victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

Lee Thomas led off the Los Angeles ninth with a double off the right field fence after an infield out. Felix Torres drove home the visitors' first run of the ball game with an infield single.

Joe Koppe fanned to end the inning and the game.

Home runs by Russ Snyder and Boog Powell aided Jack Fisher's strong performance. Fisher gave up four hits, two of them in the second inning and two more in the ninth.

Scoreboard for Orioles vs Los Angeles Angels. Orioles won 3-1.

Jack Fisher pitched the Orioles to a 3-1 victory over the Los Angeles Angels Saturday night.

Braves Sweep Double Header

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Tommy Aaron's grand slam homer with two out in the ninth boosted the Milwaukee Braves to a 7-3 victory and a sweep of a double-header with the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday after southpaw Bob Hendley breezed to a 6-2 triumph in the opener.

Aaron, the rookie kid brother of the Braves' Hank, unleashed against reliever Jack Baldschun, lining a drive against the wind into the bleachers in left after Maye had loaded the bases with an intentional walk to Lee Maye.

Milwaukee tied the game in the eighth with a pair of runs against Chris Short, who contributed to his own downfall. Short permitted a hit by Hank Aaron when he failed to cover first on an infield tap. Maye bounced a hit between the plate and the mound and Short threw the ball into right field as Aaron raced to third and Maye to second. Joe Adcock's single to left center scored both runners.

Philadelphia Phillies and Milwaukee Braves played a double-header Saturday at Comiskey Park.

Mets Decision Cincy Twice

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets, who had never beaten the Cincinnati Reds, whipped them twice Saturday 9-1 in the opener and 3-2 as Frank Thomas looked a home run in the 14th inning of the nightcap. The two defeats dropped the third place Reds 10 games behind first place Los Angeles.

Scoreboard for New York Mets vs Cincinnati Reds. Mets won 9-1.

Harvey Kuenn's Single Boosts Giants To Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Harvey Kuenn's seventh-inning clutch single drove in the winning run Saturday as the San Francisco Giants beat Pittsburgh 6-5 in a game in which the lead changed hands five times.

Draws Life Ban

RED DEER, Alberta (AP) — Pat Hannigan, forward with the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, was barred for life from the Red Deer Baseball Association and fined $100 Saturday for breaking the nose of Empire W. R. Scott.

Teen-Agers Lose, 7-5

BROWNWOOD — The Kiwanis Buffs of Brownwood scored five runs in the sixth inning on their way to a 7-5 victory over the Whatley Printers of Big Spring in the finals of the District Junior Teen-Age Baseball tournament here Saturday night.

U. S., Mexico Break Even In Cup Matches

By WILL GRIMSLEY Associated Press Sports Writer MEXICO CITY (AP) — Inspired Chuck McKinley scored a terrific straight set victory over Mexico's favored Rafael Osuna Saturday but Mexico gained a 1-1 tie in the opening singles matches of the American Zone Davis Cup tennis semifinals.

Antonio Palafox revived the hopes of a capacity crowd of 2,200 at the Chapultepec Sports Center by polishing off Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., 6-3, 6-1, 3-6, 7-5.

This added meaning to Sunday's doubles in which McKinley and 20-year-old Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., play Osuna and Palafox.

New Orleans May Get Texan Club

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The guessing game is on again about American Football League expansion—or realignment. The latest twist is a report the Dallas Texans will move to New Orleans.

The pro football loop—starting its third season this fall—has been dropping hints about expansion, but has taken no official action.

Hunt visited New Orleans shortly before the Boston meeting and told newsmen he would like to add the city to the league in 1963 if it could guarantee 20,000 advance season ticket sales and adequate stadium facilities.

Hunt—in Atlanta for an exhibition game between his Texans and the Oakland Raiders—said he had no plans to shift his team to New Orleans.

There have been indications the AFL might take further action on expansion—or franchise shifts—at a Sept. 1 meeting.

Most observers conceded the best-of-5 match series would probably go the limit.

Rod Laver Wins Hamburg Match

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — Rod Laver, the defending Wimbledon champion, reached the semifinals of the West German Tennis Championships Saturday by defeating Wolfgang Stueck of West Germany 3-6, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1.

Packer Aerial Game Ruined Us: Graham

By JOE MOOSHIL Associated Press Sports Writer CHICAGO (AP) — "They're always going to beat you with their passing and there's not much that can be done about it," said Otto Graham.

Five times the National Football League champions went for touchdowns through the air, many of them appearing ridiculously easy. "They have the advantage in their pass patterns and receivers with their red-dogging tactics," said Graham.

Because of the Green Bay rush at All-Star quarterback John Hadl of Kansas, Graham reverted to Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State who threw from the shotgun formation, which is less susceptible to red-dogging tactics. "I told everyone this club could move the ball and I guess the boys proved it," said the All-Star coach.

Right now I would like to say I always had respect for the Packer organization. Do you know what they did? They gave us the game ball to give to Ernie Davis. That's really being professional." Davis, the All-American from Syracuse was unable to play because of a blood disorder which forced him to watch the game from a Cleveland hospital.

The loss of Davis and Ron Bull of Baylor, a pair of power-packed backfield speedsters cost the All-Stars a lot of speed. Bull was out with a high fever. "We had plenty of power," said Graham, "but losing those two robbed us of a lot of backfield speed."

"Look at it this way. Our passers were rushed and knocked around. Did anyone see Bart Starr get knocked down at all? I'm not taking anything away from Starr. He's a great passer and of the most underrated in the league. But I know how it is. I was a pro quarterback and you could go back there and have a cup of tea before throwing. That's the way to play the game."

Over in the Packer dressing room, Coach Vince Lombardi gave the All-Stars plenty of credit for finally admitting "it's a game of men against boys. They were superbly coached very spirited and showed a tremendous amount of pursuit. Their linemen, Larry Oestri of Northwestern was outstanding."

We weren't surprised by them except for the way Hadl rolled out and ran around. Lombardi said he was satisfied with the condition of the Packers at this point. "We did a little more outside running because we were pinched on the inside. But we found their weakness in their defensive secondary and our long game paid off."

Field For 31st Golf Meet To Be Limited

Son Powell, the reigning club champion, has been named captain of the local team for the Couden Cup matches, which will be held here Friday, Aug. 31, as a prelude to the 31st annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament.

Qualifying for the eight-man local team is already under way and will continue through Thursday, Aug. 30. Those competing for spots on the team, and anyone who plays golf in Howard County is eligible. He must play 72 holes in order to be considered. Powell, who will double as one of the directors of the tournament, will also have the job of picking the out-of-town captain, who, in turn, will name his own coterie.

Play will be conducted over 18 holes and winners of each match will be determined on a low-ball, low-total basis. A maximum of three points can be won by any team of two players. Toots Mansfield and Harold Hall will share the duties of tournament directors, along with Powell. Match play in the tournament itself will begin Saturday, Sept. 1 and finalists in the 32-player flight will meet over 36 holes of play on Labor Day.

Last year's tourney was held at Harlingen AFB, Harlingen, Texas, and was won by Webb with Lackland AFB, San Antonio, second. Both Webb and Lackland entered the ATC go-round at Lackland where the hosts made a clean sweep of all entries and Webb set for a fourth.

The 1959 and 60 district meets were also hosted by Webb. Races expected include Chanute AFB, Ill., James Connally AFB, Waco, Keesler AFB, Miss.; Randolph AFB, San Antonio, Laredo AFB, Laredo; and Lackland. All contestants will arrive at Webb Monday night for a pre-tournament dinner, at which time pairings will be made.

Webb's coach, Airman 2C Frank Hrovat, casts an optimistic eye at the tourney, remembering the Dusters' fine showing at the Midland Invitational tournament and their recent clean sweep of Forsan's Invitational. Lackland, probably the strongest contender, has lost a large part of its sting as a result of the recent reassignment of its star pitcher, Frank Karraz, to Tachikawa AB, Japan. Karraz hurled Lackland's Warhawks to four successive tournament championships and was twice named to the Air Force's World-Wide team.

Webb's former mound star, Jack Long, has been lost to Laughlin AFB, Del Rio, which will not compete in the tourney. Craig and Vance AFB will also not be represented. The field will be limited to 288 players. Last year, a record 325 paid entry fees. If that many enter, the tournament will be made up of 17 flights.

By paying entry fees, non-members can start qualifying for the Couden Cup team on Aug. 15. If they desire to play qualifying rounds before that time, they can do so merely by paying green fees—$2 on weekdays and $3 on weekends. It is estimated that the value of prizes to be given away at the conclusion of the tournament will exceed $4,000. Only those who qualify on the appointed day, Aug. 31, will be eligible for the medalist's award. However, qualifying scores can be turned in before that time.

BEST RECORD IN U.S.

OU Mentor Still Rates No. One

By BOB HOOBING Associated Press Sports Writer Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma State's supreme among college coaches at 46. The special consultant to President Kennedy's Youth Fitness Council not only has the best record, but also has the most trophies and can claim two pupils among the elite. The only 100 per center in major college ranks, Wilkinson has guided 15 Souther clubs to 129 victories, 24 losses and four ties.

Nearly 50 points behind at 79 is runner-up John Vaught of Mississippi with a 120-31-7 record. An Associated Press rating of the top 25 coaches based on more than 60 games reveals Dan Devine of Missouri is in third place. Woody Hayes of Ohio State, Paul Bryant of 1961 national champion Alabama, Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd, Bob Blackman of Dartmouth, Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse, Ralph Shug Jordan of Auburn and Duke's Bill Murray round out the first 10.

Had Named MVP In Tilt

CHICAGO (AP) — Quarterback John Hadl of Kansas was named the most valuable player in Friday night's All-Star football game won by the Green Bay Packers 42-20. Hadl received 58 per cent of the votes submitted by sportswriters covering the game to finish ahead of end Chuck Bryant of Ohio State. Larry Oestri, a linebacker from Northwestern, was third in the balloting.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Don Robbins, new head coach at the local high school, and Jack Bradley, head mentor at Odessa High, started their high school coaching careers together at Port Arthur five years ago under Buckshot Underwood. Odessa is generally being undersold in the pre-season football polls, if for no other reason than the Bronchos will be cast-tough on defense. Bradley will see to that. Although he is known to be in California and has indicated to friends he won't be back, Charley West hasn't yet been written out of 1962 high school football planning here. Robbins hopes to get him back before September arrives. West, a diminutive Negro youth, has two years of eligibility remaining in high school. He's a defensive safety on the football team. Chato Herrera, the Mexican youth Chuck Waugh (formerly of Webb AFB) will be meeting in a San Antonio fight ring next Tuesday. He is unbeaten in four professional bouts in San Antonio and has a record this year of six wins and two draws. He hails from Matamoros, a town where he played a fine third base for the Odessa High School football team last spring, is now with Salisbury, N.C., a New York Met farm club. Carl Schreiner, the Midland Lee athlete, has been playing summer baseball in Pampa. Del Shofner of Center, Burd's Humphrey (Highgate) and Jim Swink (Rusk) are veterans of the Texas All-Star High School basketball game who went on to make good in collegiate football. Shofner and Humphrey matriculated at Baylor while Swink attended TCU. Officials of the annual Junior Texas-Oklahoma Golf Matches in Wichita Falls may call off the dogs because of a lack of housing for the boys.

Steers Had Offer From Berger Club

Before the contract between the Plainview and Big Spring football teams was very old, Berger officials approached the local mentors, wanting to play the Steers. The Longhorns probably would have benefited more from a series with the Bulldogs, financially and otherwise than they did from hooking Plainview. Collier, cronier Don Cherry (the voice of TV's Mr. Clean) says that Earl Stewart was the best amateur golfer in history. He reckoned without a fair masher named Robby Jones. Vernon Law, the Pittsburger hurler, has five sons. He started the first name of each one with the letter V. Chuck Waugh, the former Webb AFB airman, has been working out with the veteran Manny Gonzales in Midland for his Tuesday night headline bout in San Antonio. If nothing else, Chuck will learn defense in sparring with Gonzales. Wendy Green, the local pro, and his Midland partner, Garry Littlejohn, finished one stroke out of the money in the recent $15,000 Odessa Pro-Am, despite the fact that they posted 29 birdies in the 72 holes of play. Bogies on the ninth and 18th holes the final day of the tournament cost Green and Littlejohn the chance to finish in the money. Wendy says that, as of now, he is planning no more tournament action for the year. Ernie Schuyler, president of the First National Bank in Odessa, was captain of the West Texas State college basketball team back in the late '30s, when it was billed as the "world's tallest team." Dick Martin, the veteran amateur lumberjack, owns 18 real houses in and around Dallas. In their head to head clashes in the U. S. Open, Western Open and PGA, Jack Nicklaus held a two-stroke edge over Arnold Palmer. Nicklaus was six over par and Palmer eight over for the seven rounds in which they were playing partners. For the six rounds in those tournaments when they played separately, Palmer was six over and Nicklaus one over.

Jim Brown Not An All-Around Back

The floor of the basketball gym at the local high school will be four inches higher than it formerly was when the new footings are in place. The goal, of course, will have to be raised according to Bill Doty of Clear Creek, who will play in this week's all-star basketball game in Lubbock. Brown has been active in the sport since he was four years of age. San Angelo High School has supplied no fewer than 19 players for the all-star football classics staged by the Texas Coaches Association but has yet to have a cager named to the star spangled squads. Dale Hopkins, a Big Spring printer, picked up two first place trophies in a recent clay pigeon shoot here in Midland. Jerry Currie, the local horseman, recently claimed a horse named Country Delivery for $2,000 at Ruidoso Downs. Country Delivery failed to get into the money in the race in which Currie placed his claim. Otto Graham, coach of the College All-Star gridirers, rates Jim Taylor of Green Bay and ex-teammate Marion Motley as better all-around fullbacks than the great Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns. Graham points out that Brown never throws a block. George Sauer, the former Baylor mentor, went to New York as an assistant on the Titan staff not long ago but now is general manager of the AFL club and, as such, is coach Bulldog Turner's boss. Delnor Poss, the BSHS basketball coach, says the late Dwight Trice of San Angelo was the best high school linebacker he ever saw in action. Trice performed on the 1951 Bobcat football team. The South Texas Baseball league, an independent circuit, is prospering. The league, with six members now, may go with eight teams in 1963. The loop is centered around Seguin. All three members of the varsity coaching staff at Wichita Falls Rider High School were head coaches at one time or another. Heavily salted sewage effluent is threatening the Hogan Park golf course in Midland and a $20,000 program is underway to salvage it. Midland has already invested about $80,000 in the layout.

Locals Ousted From Tourney

BROCKENRIDGE—The Big Spring Nationals were ousted from first round consolation play here Friday afternoon by San Angelo 11-1. Donald Richman, Reagan Williams and Mike Phelps stole home in the first inning for San Angelo to provide the margin of victory. Bobby Lacy counted the winners' other run in the fourth. Big Spring counted its only tally in the fourth. Big Spring had earlier lost to Graham in championship round play, 2-0. Albert Cardenas and Mike Gartman divided time on the mound for Big Spring. Cardenas was charged with the defeat.

Webb Defeats Smith's Twice In Exhibitions

Webb AFB defeated E. C. Smith Construction twice in practice softball games at Webb Friday night, 5-4 and 6-1. Webb came from behind with a two-run outburst in the seventh to win the opening game. Gordon Fitz opened the round with a triple. Tom Curran walked and John Terry broke up the game with a single. Two were out at the time. In the second contest, Bob Pekar smashed a sixth inning home run with the sacks jammed to ice away the verdict. Curran, Frank Kenny and Frank Hrovat were aboard at the time. Each team collected four hits in the afterpiece. Oakley Hagood had a double and a single for the losers while Pekar also had a two-run round tripper in the first inning for Webb. When Pekar picked his first four-master, Kenny was up front. Pekar also pitched the win shading. Troy Wetzel hurled for Smith's in the opening game, yielding six safeties. Smith's collected six hits off Terry in the opening game. Terry helped promote the win by driving out two hits, both of which were singles. For Smith's in the opening game, Jackie Thomas smashed a double and a one-baser. In the second game, Smith's collected six hits off Terry in the opening game. Terry helped promote the win by driving out two hits, both of which were singles.

Oakey Hagood Mace Champ

Oakey Hagood of E. C. Smith's Construction won the league championship in the Big Spring Softball league with an even 5-0 average. Hagood, who drove out 19 hits in 38 official trips to the plate, beat out runner Jim Watts of Norton's Foods by over 100 percentage points. Watts finished with a .391 average. Billy Paul Thomas of Smith's was third in the derby with an average of .385 and led the league in total hits with 20. Thomas and Marion Tredaway, a teammate, finished as the leaders in runs scored, each with 17. Thomas lanned a record 210 batters while walking only 36 and giving up only 11 earned runs in 124 innings. A dozen hitters in the league finished with batting averages of .300 or better, according to league statistician Danny Valdes.

Dave Williams Has Winning Formula

By MAX R. SKELTON HOUSTON AP—Dave Williams ignores his critics and has teams keep winning championships. His University of Houston golf team has won six of the last seven national championships. The title teams have included five individual national champions—Rex Baxter Jr. in 1957, Phil Rodgers in 1958, Richard Crawford in 1959 and 1960, and Kermit Zarley in 1962. A few days after being appointed to his first coaching job at the end of the 1951 season, Williams announced Houston would win the national championship. No one paid much attention at the time because the 1951 team had won only one match. It took five years for Williams to reach his goal. "We've been very lucky and our record actually has been fantastic," said Williams. "If we had Palmer, Hogan, Sneed, and Middlecoff our record probably wouldn't be any better." A few weeks before the 1962 team returned to the national title to Houston, Williams' first book, "How to Coach and Play Championship Golf" was published in English and Japanese. The record Williams says is fantastic has promoted criticism. He has been accused of roaming the country recruiting golfers like a coach building a pot football team. It also has been charged that few of his stars stick around long enough to graduate. Williams denies both charges. "When you reach the top it is natural someone's going to try to pick you apart," he said. He answers the charges with these statistics: The six title teams have involved seven Texans and several players from Idaho, California, Washington, Arkansas and Virginia. Of the 19 players who have shared the national and other championships won by the team only four failed to graduate and two of these withdrew from school after their second year of the 17 who entered their fourth year only two did not graduate. There hasn't been any widespread recruiting, Williams said. "There has been a special attention behind each out of state player. For instance, Zarley came here because he is a good friend of Bob Pratt, who was our outstanding 1959 title team. As to the charge about graduation, Williams adds: "Just remember that Jack Nicklaus didn't graduate at Ohio State. Nicklaus, the former National Amateur champion who won the National Open this year as a rookie on the pro tour, was the National Collegiate champion in 1961 as Purdue. I was six weeks short of a string of five straight Houston championships. Williams said having a winning team has been a major factor in attracting out of state players. "Kids will come to Houston for only tuition just to be on a winning team," he said. "Of the seven out of state boys on the title teams only two have received almost full scholarships. Four have received tuition only, and the seventh, Rodgers, came here under a National Jaycee scholarship. Financial problems nearly scuttled Williams' golf teams when Houston emphasized major sports in 1959. But the former engineering professor developed his own formula to underwrite the team's finances. He upgraded the school's four-day old spring tournament to the All-American Intercollegiate Invitational and launched a ticket campaign pegged on $10 springships. The revamped tournament raised $3,000 in 1959, $9,000 in 1960, and $11,000 each in 1961 and 1962. "We might have had a team without the tournament income but not a golf program," Williams said. "I was janitor of the gymnasium at East Texas State College at Commerce. I grew up with athletes on a year-round basis," he said. "Before 1951 I never had coached but had always been interested in coaching."

Hester's Downed By Herald, 5-4

The Herald lightened the YMCA Slow Pitch Softball league by defeating the pace-setting Ernie's Supply team, 5-4, at the City Park Friday night. A run in the sixth turned the trick for the Newbies after they had tied the count in the fifth. Jimmy Roger, the league's leading hitter, crashed out three hits for Hester's, half his team's totals. The Herald managed only three safeties off Jerry Pate but made them count. In the opening game, J&I, decimated Reeder Insurance, 10-0. Behind the two hit pitching of W. Henry, while Montgomery Ward shelacked Coca-Cola, 17-4. The Reeder-J&I game was called at the end of 4 1/2 innings after the winners had scored heavily in the first three rounds. Ward started off with eight runs in the first inning and coasted in from that point. H. Little was the mound winner in that one while Quezada was charged with the defeat. J. Holt and Parker each drove out three hits for Ward's Agate.

Raiders, Texans Clash Aug. 18

MIDLAND—Only 19 days remain for area football fans to secure tickets for the professional benefit football game between the Oakland Raiders and the Dallas Texans August 18 at Midland Memorial Stadium. Midland Jaycee officials reported late Tuesday that a booster trip through the northwest area last Wednesday was highly successful and a near-capacity throng is expected for the exhibition clash of American Football League rivals. Choice seats are being sold on a first-come, first-served basis and all mail orders received will be honored upon receipt on that basis. Area fans will have an opportunity to see two professional teams in action for the second time in as many years. Last year the Dallas Texans romped over the Denver Broncos, 33-13, on the floor of the Midland 13,000 seat stadium. Tickets for the Midland game can be secured by writing Benefit Football Game, Box 133, Midland. Prices are $4.00, $3.00 and $1.50. Twenty-five cents should be added to mail orders to cover cost of postage and handling.

Ackerly Field Gets Extension In Martin

Texas No. 1 J. O. McCrary, about 16 miles southeast of Lamesa and just over the Dawson-Martin County line in Martin County, gave the Ackerly (Dean) portion in Martin County an extension. It was completed for 252 barrels of oil flowing on initial potential.

64 per cent water, on initial potential. The project bottomed at 2,750 feet and was plugged back to 2,712 feet. Pay was encountered

New Wells Total 284

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission said Saturday that 247 oil and 37 gas wells were brought in last week. For the year, 6,220 oil and 2,026 gas wells have been drilled, compared to 5,547 oil and 1,835 gas wells last year.

at 2,591 feet and 3 1/2 inch casing, set at 2,750 feet, was perforated between 2,591-96 feet and 2,607-12 feet. The intervals were fraced with 10,000 gallons. The well spots C SE NW NE, section 41-30-15, T&P survey, on a 480-acre lease about 13 miles east of Big Spring. Ohio Oil No. 7-C TXL was completed in the Herrell, East (Queen) field for 50.4 barrels of oil on initial pumping potential. The Sterling County completion spots 330 feet from the west line and 1,500 feet from the north line of section 1-31, T&P survey, about 15 miles west of Sterling City.

It also gauged 59 per cent water with gravity of the oil 31 degrees. Total depth is 5,141 feet and perforations are between 1,499-501 feet. C. W. Guthrie, Big Spring operator, reported a failure in Glasscock County. It is the No. 1 John W. Zant, which was plugged and abandoned at a total depth of 7,835 feet.

LOOKING DEEP

Downhole Camera Acts As Eye Below Ground

Since the first oil well was drilled intentionally in 1859 by Col. Edwin L. Drake, men of the petroleum industry have had to work "blind" in downhole operations. Now, the bottom of a hole is no longer protected from the human eye by virtue of its depth.

Calif., which developed and produced the underwater TV camera, are optimistic about the prospects of extending the maximum temperature at which the camera can be used.

Some 40 miles southwest of San Antonio. Vertical fractures produced in these wells during their initial completion have been measured successfully by using the system.

Now, the bottom of a hole is no longer protected from the human eye by virtue of its depth. With a new downhole television system developed by Shell Development Company's Exploration and Production Research Division in Houston, the condition of a hole several thousand feet underground can be seen.

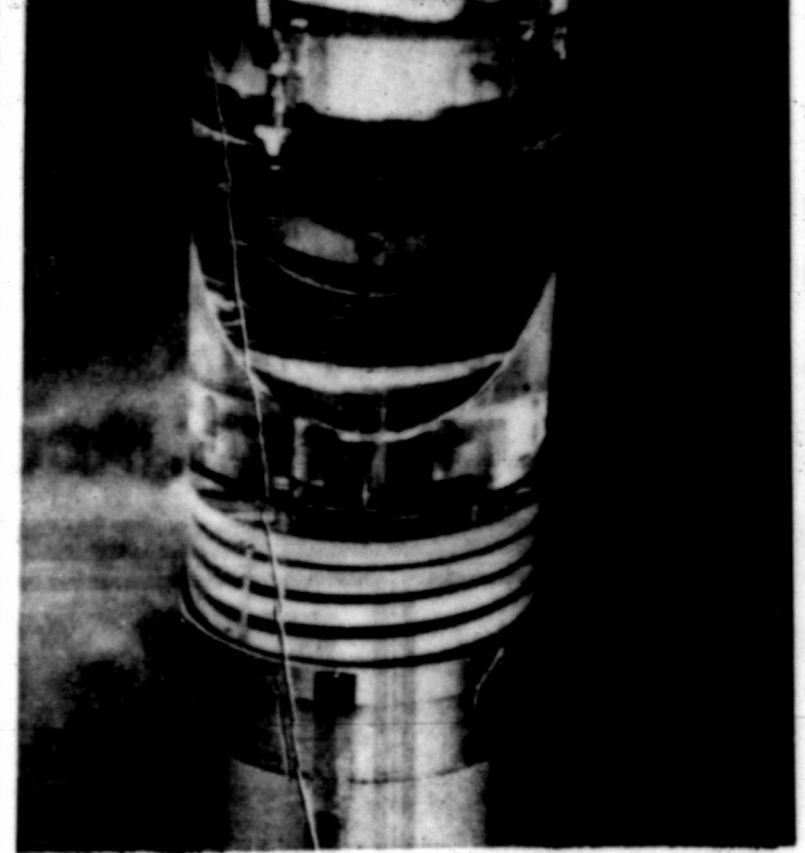

The camera, with auxiliary equipment, was built into a housing suitable for downhole viewing. Auxiliary equipment includes three helical neon fluorescent lights to illuminate the bore-hole, a motor driven mirror set at 45 degrees to the axis of the instrument to provide a 360-degree scanning of the hole and a small magnetic compass recessed in the mirror to tell the viewing direction.

Condition of the hole can be viewed at the surface by a television monitor screen and the camera can be stopped at any point for more intensive study of a section. In addition, the image can be recorded with a Polaroid camera.

Mechanical conditions and open-hole features can be seen. Fishing operations, for example, will be aided by using the downhole television.

At present viewing is restricted to sections of the hole containing transparent liquids, air or gas, cut work is being done to overcome this limitation. It has been used up to 5,000 feet and at a maximum pressure of 5,000 pounds per square inch. Continuous operation is possible at 120 degrees Fahrenheit with short periods of use at slightly higher temperatures.

Diameter of the present camera housing is 4 1/4 inches, allowing use in a 5 1/2 inch casing.

Downhole Camera

The lens of the camera can be seen in the mirror at the center of the instrument. Developed by Shell Development Co., it makes possible scanning hole conditions several thousand feet under ground. The white stripes wrapped about the instrument are neon lights to illuminate the hole.

Area Drilling Edges Upward During Week

Area rotary drilling activity followed the trend of the entire Permian Basin Empire as it edged up during the week ended Friday, according to a Reed Roller Bit Company survey. The Basin moved to 205 active rigs, from 202 at the end of the previous week, while the local eight-county area took a larger jump, going from 14 the week before to 18 Friday. At this time last year the Basin registered 244 units making hole.

Lea County, N.M., with 23 active rigs, paced the area. It was off three from the 26 of the previous week. Other more active counties include Pecos 16, Andrews 15 and Crane 12. Dawson and Howard counties paced the area with five units each. Only Martin County, which dropped one rig during the week, showed no rotary in operation Friday.

A look at each county in the Basin, with comparative figures for the previous week in parentheses, follows: Andrews 15 (12), BORDEN 2 (2), Cochran 2 (5), Crane 12 (11), CROCKETT 6 (5), Crosby 0 (2), Culbertson 0 (1), DAWSON 5 (3), Dickens 2 (2), Ector 13 (16), Eddy 11 (10), Fisher 6 (5), GARZA 1 (2), Gaines 8 (7), GLASSCOCK 3 (0), HOCKLEY 6 (5), HOWARD 5 (4), Kent 1 (1), Lea 22 (26), Loving 2 (2), Lynn 1 (1), MARTIN 0 (1), Midland 5 (4), MITCHELL 1 (2), Nolan 5 (5), Reagan 2 (1), Reeves 4 (3), Roosevelt 2 (2), Runtels 5 (7), Scheiher 4 (2), Scurry 3 (5), STERLING 0 (0), Stoneall 1 (1), Sutton 0 (1), Terrell 2 (0), Terry 4 (1), Tom Green 0 (1), Upton 8 (6), Val Verde 2 (2), Ward 9 (9), Winkler 4 (4) and Yoakum 2 (3).

Cabot Man Promoted

E. L. Green Jr., Pampa, has been appointed general manager of the Western Region of Cabot Corp., according to Louis W. Cabot, president. Green assumes the duties of Hugh Burdette, who recently reached retirement age. Green joined Cabot in 1936 as executive assistant. In 1948, he became vice president of Cabot Carbon Co. and in 1958 was elected to the board of directors of the parent company. In July 1960, he was elected vice president of Cabot Corp. and has been manager of the Oil and Gas Division of the Western Region until now.

Auto Hits Pole After Collision

A car driven by Billy Willman, 808 E. 13th, careened into a telephone pole at Ninth and Gregg Saturday after being in collision with another car. The other driver was Mrs. Thelma Helton, 910 Main. Neither driver was injured. There was an estimated $100 damage to the pole. Earlier in the morning, Alonza Salinas, Webb Air Force Base, and Paul Bradley, 1106 Austin, were involved in a minor collision at Third and Johnson. D. Alva Summers, 3614 Calvin, and Betty J. Ross, Box 1347, were listed as drivers of cars which collided about 5 p.m. Friday at 1701 Gregg.

More than 850 service stations in six southwestern states bear the Cosden, Col-Tex or Onyx insignia of Cosden Petroleum Corp., according to the July 27 issue of the Cosden Copper. They are as far south as Freeport, north and east into Missouri and Kansas and west of Albuquerque, N.M. Fort Worth has the largest number of stations, with Dallas ranking second.

Four New Locations Set In Area Fields

The Howard-Glasscock field in Howard County has picked up four new locations, three staked by Drilling and Exploration Co., Inc. The other site is the Socony Mobil Co. 33 Mary Chalk, spotting 330 feet from the north and 430 feet from the west lines of section 124-29, W&NW survey, nine miles southwest of Iatan. It is on a 280-acre lease and is projected to 2,490 feet by rotary.

The No. 1-2 E. W. Douthitt, C NE NE SW, section 123-29, W&NW survey, is set for 2,350 feet by rotary. It is on a 160-acre lease about seven miles east of Forsan. The No. 1-3 E. W. Douthitt is set for 2,350 feet by rotary tool on a 160-acre lease about seven miles east of Forsan. It spots C SE NE SE, section 123-29, W&NW survey. The projected depth is 2,350 feet by rotary tool.

Argentina Drilling In '62 Expected To Remain High

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON (AP) — Argentina and Libya are the 1962 hot spots for free world oil drilling operations outside the United States. Argentina is expected to drill 1,550 wells this year. Libya in Africa is expected to drill 240 wells. The Argentine forecast represents a four per cent decline from 1961 but the South American country's drilling activity still leads all free world areas except the United States.

Revised forecasts on free world operations were released this week in a mid-year copyrighted report circulated by the publishers of World Oil Magazine. World Oil said Argentina probably will remain the most active drilling country in South America. Argentina drilled 1,620 wells last year while boosting its crude production 44 per cent to 232,000 barrels daily. Venezuela held a wide edge in production with a daily average of 2,566,000 barrels but boosted output only two per cent while drilling 492 wells. Almost all of Argentina's active drilling rigs are in the Comodoro Rivadavia area in the south. Libya is expected to overtake Algeria as Africa's most active area. Only 212 new wells are expected in Algeria this year compared to 219 last year when production jumped 78 per cent to 323,000 barrels a day. Libyan production may exceed 200,000 barrels a day this year after averaging only 19,000 last year.

Tyre Gets OIC Post

DALLAS—David N. Tyre, co-ordinator of employee communications, Humble Oil and Refining Co., Houston, has been named chairman of the Employee Information Program of the Texas Oil Information Committee. The announcement was made Saturday by OIC chairman A. O. Saenger. Tyre succeeds A. H. Crowell, Gulf Oil Corp., Houston, who has accepted an out-of-state company assignment. He will head an OIC program to channel current information on industry matters to Texas oil and gas industry employees. The OIC is the public information and service program of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. Tyre served as chairman of the 1962 Dallas regional Employee Communications Conference sponsored by the American Petroleum Institute. He holds a bachelor of science degree in economics from the University of Pennsylvania and is a captain in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

Bracero Days In Texas Gone? Farmers Blame Labor Dept.

MERCEDS (AP)—Is the Mexican bracero, long a familiar fixture in Texas during the crop harvesting season, fading from the state's agricultural scene? He didn't show up this year in the Lower Rio Grande Valley for the cotton harvest. The Valley farmer didn't ask for him.

Valley farm leaders say they think the rest of the state will follow shortly.

These leaders say the Department of Labor destroyed the bracero when it set his wages at 70 cents an hour. Improving mechanical cotton harvesters apparently are adding the final nails in the bracero coffin.

When the Department of Labor ruled recently that the Mexican farm worker would have to be paid the 70 cents per hour, Texas Valley farmers at once said they would not contract braceros for this year's cotton crop.

The valley's estimated 400,000-acre crop is nearly three-quarters picked and the farmers have kept their word.

The answer is mechanical harvesters.

Last year the four counties of Hidalgo, Cameron, Willacy and Starr contracted 12,000 braceros for the 348,000-acre crop. None have been contracted this year.

12,000 FEWER

The bracero contracting center at nearby Hidalgo said the situation outside the valley area is about normal so far. About 20,000 braceros have been processed to date, about 12,000 less than last year or the amount usually used by the Texas Valley.

Bob Lilly manager of the Valley Farm Bureau, estimates 80 to 85 per cent of the Valley's cotton will be harvested by machine this year compared to about 65 per cent last year.

Lilly has bitterly attacked the Labor Department ruling on the 70 cent per hour minimum. He estimates that the 1962 crop is being harvested by about 10,000 citizen hand laborers, 1,000 mechanical pickers and a few mechanical strippers.

Last year 23,000 hand laborers worked in Valley fields including 12,000 braceros.

Proposal Gets OK To Extend Vet Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate committee has approved legislation boosting by $80 million the compensation the nation pays its disabled veterans and offering government life insurance to an added 16 million veterans.

The action by the Senate Finance Committee Friday apparently signaled settlement of a House-Senate deadlock that first developed in early 1961.

Both branches favored increases in payments to veterans with service-connected disabilities. The boosts are designed to make up for cost of living increases since 1947, when the last raise was enacted.

But the Senate repeatedly tacked onto compensation bills an amendment to reopen national service life insurance coverage for veterans of World War II and the Korean War.

The insurance bill approved by the Senate committee includes some changes from the House version. It allows veterans up to 50 years old to buy term life insurance. The House bill provides only for permanent insurance plans.

The Veterans Administration estimates 16 million veterans could take advantage of the insurance re-opening. It expects only 2 to 3 million to apply.

'Texana' Collection To Be Directed By R. H. Shuffler

AUSTIN—An expanded, system-wide "Texana" program, to be directed by R. Henderson Shuffler, was announced Saturday by the University of Texas.

R. HENDERSON SHUFFLER

Shuffler will come to the University System Sept. 1 from the Texas A&M College System, where he is director of information and publications.

As director of the Texana program, Shuffler is assigned to broaden the scope and use of the University's numerous collections related to Texas. Chancellor Harry Ransom said.

"In the past, most Texas collections have naturally concentrated on political and military history, archival records, biography and literature," Dr. Ransom explained.

"The Texana program in the University of Texas System will encompass the history of Texas business, education, medicine, religion and publications. It will include scientific materials as well as the records of economic resources such as lumber, cattle, oil and transportation. Special sections will be devoted to Texas architecture, design, painting and photography. Emphasis will also be placed upon cartography, since maps and charts are both one of the most important and one of the most neglected sources of information about Texas.

Apart from collection, a major purpose of the program will be to make Texana of all kinds available to students, scholars and writers concerned with source materials on the state's development.

Shuffler was graduated from Texas A&M College in 1929 and became editor of the Odessa News-Times the same year. He was operating partner in the weekly newspaper from 1933 to 1938 and general manager of the daily News-Times from 1938 to 1940. In 1940, he organized the Odessa News-Times Company, Inc., consolidating the News-Times and the Daily Bulletin as the Odessa American. He was executive vice president and principal stockholder of the publishing firm, as well as general manager of the American, from 1940 to 1945.

He joined A&M's staff in 1945 as executive director of the de-

49th Division Is Recognized By Kennedy

FT. POLK, La. (AP)—President Kennedy told men of Texas 49th Armored Division Friday that its service during the Berlin crisis added materially to the readiness of United States forces.

In a letter he commended Maj. Gen. Harley West, commander of the National Guard unit, for the "leadership and professional skill exhibited by him and his commanders."

The 49th is going home next week after nearly 10 months of active duty service here.

The President wrote, "When the Free World needed increased military strength to meet its challenges, you responded. Having met the emergency and accomplished your mission, you can return to your civilian pursuits with pride in your hearts. I know I speak for your fellow Americans when I say your nation is grateful for your sacrifices and proud of your accomplishments."

The main complement of the division returns to its 74 Texas cities Aug. 7 and will be mustered off active duty at 4:30 p.m. Aug. 9.

DEAR ABBY
Return The Invitation

DEAR ABBY: Our 18-year-old son is interested in a girl he met at school. We have nothing against her, but she is not of our faith. Recently she has been taking our son to church with her. We think this is a little too possessive for a 17-year-old girl. Should we put a stop to it or ignore it? We don't want to do the wrong thing. How have other parents faced with the problem, handled it?

A YOUNG MAN'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: The girl is not "taking" your son to church without his consent. He may be going out of curiosity or courtesy. Say nothing about it. If you "forbid" him to go, you will only force him to spring to her defense.

P.S. Why doesn't he invite her to his church? What's sauce for the goose, you know.

DEAR ABBY: Our parents just celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. My sisters and brothers and I invited all our friends and gave mother and dad a memorable surprise party. The guests brought lovely presents. Neither our mother nor father can read or write English and everybody knows it. I suggested writing a thank you note to each person who brought a gift and sign it "The children of Mr. and Mrs. So-and-So."

My sister says she never heard of anything so ignorant. She says, "We should write the thank you notes as though our parents had written them and sign THEIR names to them. My dad has been at the bank for 35 years. Who is right?"

THE CHILDREN
DEAR CHILDREN: Because it was a surprise party and you children invited the guests, it would be proper for you to write the thank you notes and sign them. "The children of Mr. and Mrs. So-and-So."

DEAR ABBY: I am ten years old and have a boxer dog named Mert. I love her very much and sometimes I kiss her. I never kiss her on the mouth. I kiss her on the forehead. My parents say it is stupid and not even clean. Mert is clean as a person. Abby, and I don't see anything wrong with kissing her. What is your advice?

DOG KISSER
DEAR KISSER: Obey your parents. Honey. A vet once told me that people shouldn't kiss dogs because dogs are apt to get something from people. So if you love Mert, hug her, but don't kiss her.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply send a self-addressed stamped envelope to ABBY, care of The Big Spring Herald.

For Abby's booklet, How To Have A Lovely Wedding, send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 326, Beverly Hills, Calif.

TOO HIGH
Lilly says the 70 cents per hour wage scale would put farmers out of business.

Citizen labor for cotton picking in the Valley started at $2.00 per hundred pounds and rose to $2.50-$2.75 by mid-season. Farmers say this will still average no more than 50 cents per hour, the minimum last year for braceros.

They said the 70 cents per hour eventually would cost farmers $4.00 per hundred pounds or an average of $60 a bale for harvesting costs alone.

The price for custom machine harvesting is about $2.00 per hundred, and less if the farmer owns a machine.

Some Valley farmers apparently have used a scattering of "wet-backs" labor or Mexicans who illegally entered the country.

MORE ALIENS
The Border Patrol picked up 1,205 aliens in the Brownsville, McAllen, Hidalgo area during July. A year ago in July only 341 were picked up.

Patrol officials say many of these were picked up in valley cotton fields. They said they believed many of these migrated to border towns without the knowledge that bracero labor was not being sought by valley farmers.

Rites This Week For Crash Victim

COLORADO CITY, SC—Funeral services for Lynn Thaddeus Tiller, 28, killed near Huntsville, Alabama, in a plane crash Thursday, will be held in the St. Marks Methodist Church in Midland Monday or Tuesday according to the Kiker and Son Funeral Home of Colorado City.

Burial will be in the Rest Haven Memorial Park.

The body will arrive in Colorado City today, Doyle Kiker said.

Tiller was born in El Paso, January 25, 1934, and lived in Midland. He was a cropduster.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Buck Tiller of Midland, a brother, Keith Tiller of Lincoln, Nebraska, his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary F. Tiller of Colorado City and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Bessie Bellinger of Midland.

COBWEBB SWEEPING is best done in the clouds, according to Mrs. Ted McClung's way of thinking. When the plane leaves the runway, problems and cares are left behind. When not receiving flying instructions, Mrs. McClung's day off from the office is often spent flying with her husband. She is business forms designer at Cosden Petroleum Corp. in the service department. It was Mrs. McClung who did the line drawings for the company's annual report, recently published. The McClungs spend many weekends flying across state to visit with their families, whom they otherwise would seldom see. The small, single-engine, two-passenger plane is Mrs. McClung's favorite craft kept at her husband's place of business, Big Spring Aircraft, Inc.

THE DAY OFF SO... WHAT IS HER PLEASURE?

IT'S THOSE DECISIONS — whether to swim or ski, or both—that trouble Miss Suzanne Compton on her Saturday off from work at the First National Bank. Miss Compton's plan for a career in banking began after graduation from high school this spring. She is secretary in the office of Jack Orr. Most Saturdays, Miss Compton has a date with her skis. If not on skis at the lake, she could possibly be found at a local swimming pool.

WOMEN'S NEWS BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD SECTION C BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 5, 1962

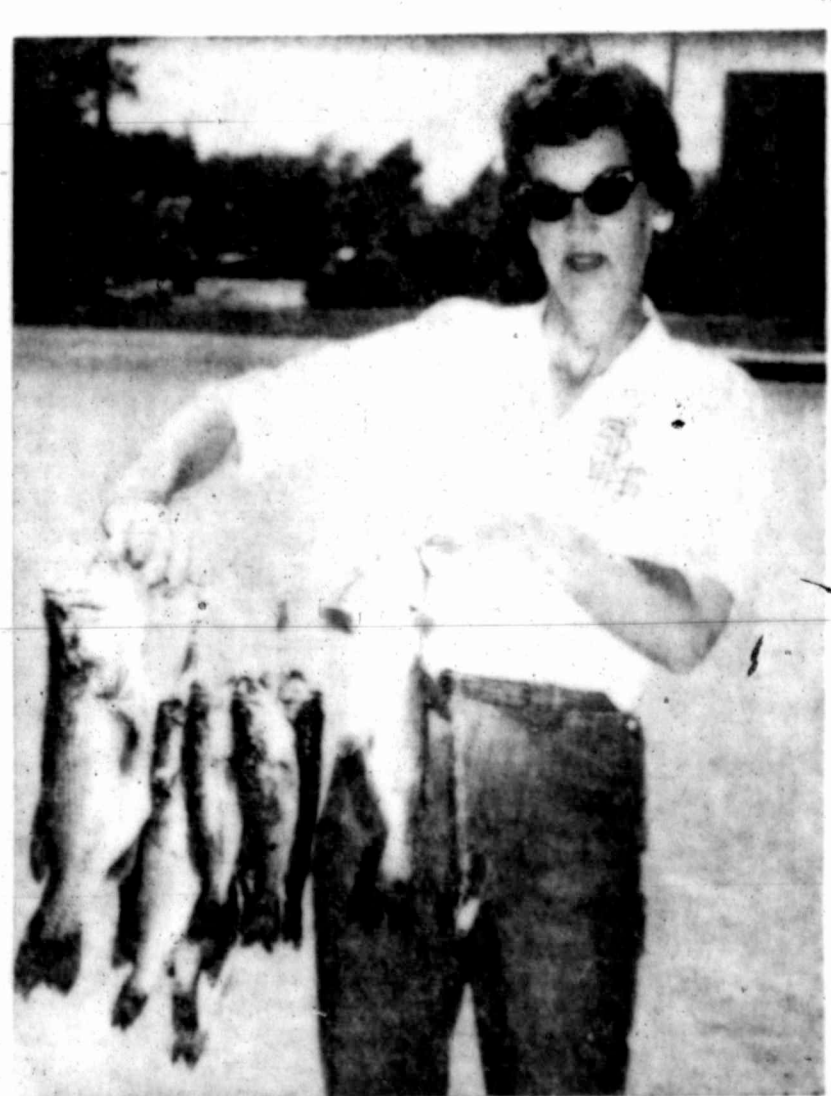

THE BATTLE OF THE BACKYARD is a regular Saturday occurrence at the home of Mrs. Jean Carter, 1222 East 15th. A service representative for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., Mrs. Carter fills her away-from-the office time with chores about the house, inside and out. Also, she keeps up with a young son, David, who is a Little Leaguer and a Cub Scout. At night? They read.

A GOOD BOOK and time to read is Mrs. G. C. Broughton Jr.'s idea of recreation. She is a Casden purchasing agent in the office of George Zachariah. Her day off, Saturday, begins with home marketing and other errands, but when those are finished she is free to be at home and resume a current edition.

GIVE HER A POLE and a tank of fish and Mrs. W. C. Ragsdale asks nothing more on her day off from work. During her 40-hour week she sells advertising, but when the free time comes along she scurries to a nearby lake or tank to while away hours that usually result in profitable fishing.

Miss Harkrider Bride Of Will Roy Bennett

LAMESA (SC)—The North Side Baptist Church was the scene at 8 p.m. Saturday for the wedding of Miss Martha Lou Harkrider and Will Roy Bennett. The Rev. Bobby Phillips, pastor, read the double ring rites.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Harkrider and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bennett, all of Lamesa.

Given in marriage by her brother, Billy Harkrider, the bride wore a gown of silk organza and Alepon lace over peau de soie. The lace bodice featured a Sabrina neckline with long sleeves tapered to petal points over the hands. The full skirt was accented by a bouffant bustle adorned with hand made silk organza roses. The bodice and sleeves were accented by seed pearls and sequins.

Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of carnations and gladioli on a white Bible.

Mrs. J. E. Seay of Lubbock, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Carolyn Breeding and Brenda Davis, both of Lamesa. Flower girls were Susan Sherman of Lamesa and Janie Renee Harkrider of Big Spring, the bride's nieces.

Best man was Max Jones of Lamesa. Candlelighters were Jeannie Breeding and Linda Coffey, both of Lamesa. Ushers were Benson McCallar, Richard Jeter and Gary Mitchell, all of Lamesa. Lennie and Donald Denman, both of Lamesa, were groomsmen.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico the bride chose a two-piece suit of cotton knit, styled with beige skirt and a beige white and yellow striped jacket. Her accessories were yellow.

The bride is a student at Lamesa High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of L.H.S., is engaged in farming.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Logsdon and sons spent last Sunday in Brownfield, where they attended the Ethridge family reunion.

Other Coahomans attending family reunions this week were Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Holley and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Holley of Big Spring. They attended a Cary family reunion in Ira.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dever attended a reunion of the Corley family in the Inadale community.

Visiting this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Wilson were their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Zilbert, and children. They also visited her sister and family, the Dan Clarks of Sand Springs.

Methodist Class Holds Luncheon

The Susannah Wesley Sunday School Class of First Methodist Church held a salad luncheon Friday at noon at the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The Rev. Joe Leatherwood, associate pastor, presented a devotion on the book, "The Letter to the Romans" by William Barclay.

The tables were decorated with bouquets of summer flowers. Mrs. B. E. Winterrowd and her group served as hostesses.

Among the 22 in attendance were guests, Mrs. Leatherwood and Mrs. Killis Eubanks.

DATE BOOK

The Elbow P.T.A. executive board will meet Tuesday, 7:30 p.m. at the school to discuss school plans for the coming year.

Cosdenites Frequent The Grounds Of World's Fair

The Seattle World's Fair is proving to be quite a drawing card for Cosdenites and their families. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Peters Jr. plan to frequent the grounds and exhibits as the high spot in their three-week vacation. It will also attract Cheryl Housager, as it already has the Ray Brookses, the Ray Whites and the Leon Gains. Mr. and Mrs. George Grams with the C. F. Wakefields of Colorado City are vacationing in Rudoso N. M.

Mrs. Alma Golnick is enjoying her annual visit to LaGrange, Ga., with her brother, Dr. P. B. Cleveland.

Lois Tarbox Is Honored

A luncheon in the E. C. Shive home, 1707 Hamilton, honored Lois Tarbox, who is due to move to Lubbock this month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tarbox. Hostesses for the Friday affair were Mrs. Shive and Charlotte Shive.

The luncheon table was spread with a pink cloth and centered with a bouquet of pink and white garden flowers. Seven guests, the honoree and hostesses, were seated at places marked with gold miniature suitcases.

Miss Tarbox was presented with a farewell gift of engraved stationery.

Ray Brubakers Are Guests At Weavers

COAHOMA (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brubaker and children spent several days here this week visiting with the Weiden Weavers. The Weavers are planning to return the visit next weekend.

Accord

designed by Merton L. Gershun

Accord was deliberately designed to bring good contemporary design and high quality to the reasonable-price bracket... and this new starter set makes it more desirable than ever. Come in and see the rich walnut with its soft, oil type finish... the inlaid bandings, cane panels and the dull gleam of four-leaf metal inlays. We've pictured only a few of the pieces, the complete collection includes dozens of different bedroom and dining room pieces and a selection of particularly beautiful occasional tables. Accord looks expensive, but it really isn't. Come in soon and see for yourself.

Engagement Announced

Dr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas Jr., 400 Washington Blvd., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathleen, to Michael Musgrove, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Musgrove, Del Rio. The wedding is scheduled for Sept. 1 at the First Methodist Church in Big Spring. Miss Thomas recently completed her junior year at Texas Tech. Musgrove graduated from Texas Tech in June.

PRE-NUPTIAL PARTY

Miss Carla Sledge Is Given Evening Party

Miss Carla Sledge, bride-elect of Carey King, was complimented Friday evening at a formal pre-nuptial party in the home of Mrs. T. H. McCann, 702 Highland. Co-hostesses, Mrs. C. R. Eubanks, Mrs. R. F. Davis, Mrs. Blet O'Brien, Mrs. Bill Horne, Mrs. Orville Bryant, Mrs. Billy T. Smith, Mrs. Fred Lancaster and Mrs. Dawn Leonard, assisted in receiving guests. Miss Sledge is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sledge, 1516 Kentucky Way. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim King, 606 Elgin. The couple plan to be married Aug. 11 in the Sledge home.

Members of the house party alternated at the crystal service. The refreshment table, laid with white cutwork linen, was centered with an arrangement of pink gladioli and pink roses. Miss Betty McCann presided at the guest register. On the occasion, Miss Sledge chose a white lace full-skirted frock fashioned with a moiré bodice. Her white accessories and pink carnation corsage, a gift from the hostesses, completed the ensemble. Mothers of the engaged couple were presented white carnation corsages.

With Lucille Pickle

KATHLEEN DOZIER

Again, with last minute mustered courage, we are filling in for the vacationer, LUCILLE PICKLE, putting a few thoughts into print which might otherwise have gone unnoticed. Today at the JOE PICKLE home there is a reunion of the RIX family which will include plenty of talk and a grooming table laden with a typical reunion feast. MRS. CHESTER MATHENY baked the ham and we are certain that the head of the Pickle establishment will bring forth some homemade ice cream, with each of the RIXES providing a special complementary dish.

It was a capacity crowd that turned out for the regular Friday night buffet and evening's entertainment at Big Spring Country Club this week. The dining room was filled, the food was good and most everyone stayed on for games that followed. Among the number were MRS. W. C. SMITH and daughter, MRS. J. F. HOWELL, who is visiting; the CHAMP RAINWATERS, having an evening out; GORDON GIZON and SIDNEY MBLINGER, heard discussing the arrival of SAM and ANN MELLINGER's son, VICTOR DR. and MRS. MILTON TALBOT and family; E. L. POWELL, who conducted the games; the new MRS. W. L. KOUNTZ, and many others.

MAJ. and MRS. CHARLES SMITH drove into town early yesterday morning from Webb Air Force Base to put their 16-year-old daughter, LOUISE, aboard a bus bound for Pasadena, Texas, where she plans a glorious two-week vacation with her grandmother Mrs. W. U. Smith. Up from Pasadena, JOHN ULREY, his wife and daughters are here to spend the week in the home of his parents, the R. D. ULREYS, 420 Dallas. In the offing is a coaching school at Lubbock next week, which J. ULREY will attend.

Printer's Ink Leaves Mark On The Printer

Mrs. Leslie Grisham, 1615 Harding, has changed from a full-time housewife to a full-time printer working with her husband in a local printing shop. She started when her husband purchased an off-set printing press for his printing shop in Louisiana five years ago. With this transaction he received some free advice. The salesman told Mr. Grisham to show his wife all he knew about the thing and then let her do it, because "she doesn't know that ink and water don't mix."

This remark, apparently, was from an old-fashioned printer who looks askance at the new fangled methods such as off-set (otherwise known as lithography). Off-set printing, unlike the traditional "letterpress," is based on the principle that water and oil do not mix, and printer's ink is oil-based.

Mrs. Grisham thus was able to enter the off-set tradition without preconceived notions and a lot of old work habits to unlearn.

So Mrs. Grisham became a queen of her trade. Now she masters the machine better than most women run vacuum cleaners. There are a half dozen or more knobs and gadgets on the press which she has to know how and when to set so they will be just right for the many difficult printing jobs. She took to that machine like a duck takes to water, according to her husband who says she runs it better than he ever could. But the off-set press is just one of the many printing machines which Mrs. Grisham runs in her line of work. She knows how to handle minor repair jobs, too, but yet hasn't tackled the major repairs.

DIRTY JOB

"It surely is a dirty job," said Mrs. Grisham revealing her ink covered hands and pointing out black ink on her husband's clothes she said, "I don't think the secret has been invented for getting this stuff out." She meant out of clothes and off of skin, because once you get that printer's ink in your blood it won't come out. And Mrs. Grisham, like most printers, doesn't want it to. She loves her job and its many unusual features. The largest job which she prints without assistance was 500 booklets consisting of 26 pages each. Male printers will say oh how simple; but women will agree that it's something.

What happens to this printer when it's quitting time? Well, 5 o'clock doesn't mean quitting time for Mrs. Grisham. She goes home and plays housewife and mother to four children, Terry Lee, 17, Virginia Ann, 15, Margaret Jean, 13, and Joy Dale, 10. Mrs. Grisham enjoys every minute of her after hours job, because she was a housewife for many years before becoming a printer. She finds the two jobs mix better than printer's ink and water.

Parishes In Arkansas For Visit

COAHOMA SC - Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parish and family left this week for a visit with her parents in Arkansas.

The Rev. and Mrs. Richard R. Copeland and children of San Antonio are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laney. He will fill the pulpit at the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday at 9 a.m.

The hostesses presented the honorees with their gift, a coffee table.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MOLLI HARTZOG

Ordinarily, Big Spring is rather warm and those who can fling a few free days, head for the hills, preferably Ruidoso, N. M. The temperature there is due to rise above the mean, however, any time this week. It seems there will be frenzied activity all over the place, without success, upon the arrival of four couples from Webb, Capt. and Mrs. Veryl Hewitt, Capt. and Mrs. Norman Buhner, Capt. and Mrs. Robert Council and Maj. and Mrs. Sherrod Osborne have all flung a week to spend in that resort. They have rented a spacious cabin in the pines and are resting a few days before leaving so to be relaxed enough to use every minute for golf and fishing. Fishing we have not seen them do, but golf to this active group means 36 holes before breakfast to warm up for a brisk round before lunch. They should be back at Webb, relaxed and refreshed, on Monday evening.

Capt. and Mrs. William Daoust have been in Lansing, Mich. for a few days, visiting their parents. Word comes that the weather is so cold there as to make their plan of camping out an impractical one. Too cold in August? Makes us wonder if other people react as violently as we do to a change of three degrees after residing in West Texas.

Capt. and Mrs. George Fortner drove to Amarillo to meet his brother, David, who is en route to his home in California. Fort Devon, Mass., was David's last post and he is just recently out of the U. S. Army. He plans to visit here at Webb as a relaxing brand new civilian for a week or so, before returning to Long Beach.

First Lt. and Mrs. Ed Nock will leave Aug. 12 for Randolph and are now trying to visit with Mrs. Pauline Nock and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Irwin, his parents and sister, who are en route to Colorado. Things aren't working out too well since Lt. Nock seems to have the choice this weekend of constant duty as AO, a rotating obligation, that turns up when least desired, and a cross-country trip which you must grab while you can. At last report, Lt. Nock emerged like Dagwood Bumstead from the Nock residence heading for the Flight Line.

There have been some changes of residence just lately here at Webb. All that comes to mind at the present are moves in Lt. and Mrs. J. W. Harper have moved onto Ent Drive, Lt. and Mrs. Butera have plans to settle on Gunter, and Lt. and Mrs. Clint Lavender are now on Oriole St. There is much moving in the Air Force way of life, and although we have been in Webb Village for three years, most of our neighbors come and go with greater frequency. Being a non-active type, we only walk around the block infrequently. Occasionally we seem to be on the wrong street and lost among unknown dogs and children. It is not only that the neighbors change so quickly, but confusion sets in. Last week we greeted our neighbor of three years with a hearty welcome to Webb.

Jersey Woman Is The Head Wrecker

LITTLE FALLS, N.J. — Mrs. Rose Spagnola, a smartly dressed, perfectly groomed mother of three, works in a tiny office in a yard filled with used lumber, old bath tubs and battered radiators.

As head of a wrecking and building supply corporation Mrs. Spagnola leaves the job of dismantling houses to a staff of 15 skilled men.

She does the administrative work—talking to prospective customers, handling estimates for jobs and running the office and payroll.

When her first husband, Carl Albano, died 10 years ago, Mrs. Spagnola, left with three young children, decided to take over the business herself.

"I didn't know a thing about it, but I learned," she says. "I know it's unusual for a woman to be a wrecker, but I love my work."

Plans Fall Wedding

The engagement and approaching marriage of Kathleen Louise McRee to William E. Drake Jr., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William T. McRee, 1905 Morrison Dr. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. William E. Drake of Silver City, N.M. The bride-elect received her degree at Texas Tech, and has taught school for the past year at Albuquerque. N.M. Drake is a junior medical student at the University of Colorado. The wedding is planned for early fall.

Mrs. Phillips Is Shower Honoree

A stork shower was given for Mrs. Wesley Phillips, Thursday evening in the home of Miss Sally Adair, 2904 Cactus. Cohostess was Miss Francine Saylor.

Fifteen guests were served refreshments from a table laid with white lace over red. The centerpiece of white chrysanthemums was flanked by ivy in ceramic lamb holders. The hostesses served.

Williamsons Are Guests Of Son

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Williamson, 3215 Auburn, left Saturday evening for Wichita Falls where they will visit their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Williamson, who plan to move to Oklahoma City, Okla., during the next two weeks.

The E. R. Williamsons will return Monday evening.

Couple Exchanges Vows In Evening Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Carol Ann Monroe and Ray Hill was solemnized Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the First Christian Church. The double ring service was read by the pastor, the Rev. John Black, before an arch centered with suspended wedding bells. Sunburst arrangements of gladioli and asters were placed on either side. Candelabra tapers in candelabra illumined the scene.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Monroe, 1700 Laurie, and Tom Monroe of Hollywood, Calif. Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, Princeton, Ind., and Charles E. Hill, Washington, Ind., are parents of the bridegroom.

Mrs. E. F. Roberts of Waco, aunt of the bride, presented a program of organ music which included "Because," "I Love You Truly," "The Lord's Prayer" and traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by Jack Pearson, a family friend, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza over satin. The basque bodice was styled with a Sabrina neckline of embroidered Alencon lace detailed with seed pearls and sequins. A deep V-back closed with tiny buttons and was accented with a double bow. The bouffant skirt having a carriage-back effect was flared into a sweeping train. Pearls and sequins enhanced the queen's crown which secured her veil of silk illusion. Her cascade bouquet of white carnations was carried with a white Bible.

Gilmores In Forsan For A Visit

FORSAN (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gilmore and childreep of Sundown have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gilmore, and Tommy.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Long were her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Olive, and Phil from Tucson, Ariz., and her sister, Miss Midge Olive of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hutchinson had as guests, her sisters, Mrs. John Haynes of Arlington, Mrs. Jack Bratton of Payson, Ariz., and Helen Bratton. Also visiting were her nephew, Forest Ward, Austin, and Mrs. Howard Meek of Houston.

F. J. Klahr and Jeannie are in Casper, Wyo., with his relatives. Accompanying them on the trip is his son, Cecil Klahr of McCamey.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Klahr and children and her sister, Mrs. Sylvia Angus, are spending next week vacationing and fishing at Corpus Christi.

J. M. Hutchinson returned from Houston, where he had minor surgery at Anderson Clinic. He is resting well.

Mrs. Mamie Gandy is visiting her daughter and family, the Bob Nelsons, near Atlanta, Ga. She plans to stay with them for an indefinite time.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Park and Stevie spent their vacation at Buchanan Lake.

Mrs. C. B. Long, along with Mrs. Charlie Long and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Long, were in Cross Plains to attend funeral rites for Ed Long.

Mrs. M. M. Fairchild was a recent visitor in Lorraine.

Today's Girls Use Looks—And Brains

AP Newsfeatures

Time was when girls were content to bat their eyelashes at boys to make their high school days tolerable. They figured that so long as they had to go to school, they might as well make it pay off in dates.

But that attitude has changed since the atom was split. Girls now are not just content with reading science fiction.

Ten of the 40 finalists in the 21st Science Talent Search (Westinghouse) are girls, a pretty good ratio in any science competition.

Typical of the 1962 science inspired girl is Sheila Lynne Granel, 16, of New York City, who developed a system for "adding and subtracting" polygons, many-sided geometric figures, a method known as vector analysis.

Sheila wants a career in medical research and that motivated her science interest from an early age. "Neither parent prodded me into it," Sheila volunteers. "They just encouraged me to find my way." She hopes to study biological and physical sciences at Radcliffe College.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Travis Fryar, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Sandra Pearson and Diane Womack. Their dresses were street-length sheaths of rosebud taffeta with billowing overskirts of organza. Their head-dresses, cabbage rose hats were veiled; they carried nosegays of flowers in harmonizing shades.

John Green of Webb Air Force Base was best man. Gary Richardson and Jimmy Posey were ushers. They also served as candlelighters.

RECEPTION

After the wedding, a reception was held in the home of the bride's mother. Guests were received by Mrs. Monroe, Mrs. H. W. Killingsworth, Mrs. Leon Kinney, and Mrs. Glen Gale.

The lace covered table featured a three-tiered card, frosted white and topped with bride and groom figurines. Mrs. Gerald Wooten and Mrs. Charles Madry were those who served.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Beverly Lander. Those attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Linder and Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Roberts, all of Waco.

WEDDING TRIP

Leaving afterward, the couple went to Ruidoso, N.M. For travel the bride chose a beige dress, matching jewelry and tapestry shoes and bag. They will return to make their home in Big Spring.

The bride attended Big Spring and Waco schools. She is now employed with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Hill graduated from Washington High School, Washington, Ind. After serving four years in the Air Force he was discharged and is now employed at Webb AFB.

Residents Move From Coahoma

COAHOMA (SC)—The Nelson Brookmullers, residents of Coahoma for the past several years, left this week to make their home near San Antonio where he has accepted a position as manager of a ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spann and children have returned after spending six weeks in Alpine, where Mrs. Spann attended Sul Ross College.

Petty Officer I.C. Ruel Kinder is on a 15-day leave from duty at Cape Canaveral, Fla. He is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kinder, and other friends and relatives.

Plans Told

Mrs. C. L. Hale of Stanton announces the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Betty Sue, to Sonny Crocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Crocker, 1207 Beaton, Big Spring. The wedding is scheduled for Sept. 8, in the home of the bride-elect, Miss Hale is a 1960 graduate of Stanton High School. The prospective bridegroom is employed by the Big Spring Herald.

Mrs. Tindol Home From Hospital

COAHOMA (SC)—Mrs. Grady Tindol was dismissed from a Big Spring hospital and is resting well after surgery.

Letha Nell Roberts, accompanied by her sister and brother, Mrs. Irene McKenney and Joe Roberts of Big Spring, made a trip to Brownfield Wednesday where they attended the funeral of A. J. Strickland.

Mrs. Tye Renfro, Mrs. Henry Beard and Mrs. Tollie Hale, all teachers at Coahoma grade school, spent four days this week in Alpine attending a reading course at Sul Ross College. They plan to tour the Big Bend National Park before returning.

Mrs. T. H. Greenfield was honored at a surprise birthday party Wednesday evening. Her four daughters and her son hosted the occasion. Sixty friends called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Greenfield of Sand Springs.

Mrs. E. A. Richters is spending this weekend visiting her sisters, Mrs. Richard Jones in Midland and Mrs. J. J. Nichols in Odessa.

Pepper Helpers

In preparing green peppers for stuffing, some cooks like to boil them in water to cover for about 5 minutes. Other cooks like to drop the peppers into boiling water and let them stand off heat for about 10 minutes. Whichever treatment you use, first cut off the tops of the peppers and remove the inner seeds and membranes.

Family Fun

It's fun for the whole family when Laurie Stevens tries to talk her chihuahua, Bambi, into the notion of smiling, although he refuses at the time. Dr. and Mrs. Ronald Stevens, who are shown with their other daughter, Mary Lynn, can always find time for family humor.

Vet And Family Take Big Spring For A Home

From the cool climes of Colorado to the warm, windswept West Texas country is a noticeable change according to Dr. and Mrs. Ronald Stevens, who have recently made Big Spring their home. It was about five weeks ago when, with their two daughters, Laurie and Mary Lynn, they moved here from Fort Collins, Colo.

Today's newcomers have had plans for making their home in the Southwest for a number of years. Occasional trips to Austin to visit Mrs. Stevens' brother brought them through the area which impressed them. Remarking about West Texas, Dr. Stevens said, "I just like the people here better than anywhere else."

Planning to make this their permanent home, the Stevenses have purchased a house at 3704 Dixon where they are now comfortably settled.

While Laurie is interested in becoming a part of the neighborhood's younger set, her eight-month-old sister, Mary Lynn, could care less about her new surroundings.

Mrs. Stevens' biggest worry about what to do with her time. She has a husband, two daughters and a new home to care for. Another figure almost too small to see is Bambi, a three-year-old Mexican chihuahua. He is a constant companion for the girls.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Stevens enjoy playing bridge. Collecting and playing stereo records also is a family pastime. Dr. Stevens likes to hunt birds and she enjoys sea-

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Alberson and children were in Jal, N. M., to visit his mother, Mrs. Jeff Alberson, recently.

To Marry

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Janie Eileen Barber to John Daryl Cox is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barber, 107 Algerita. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cox, 1509 Oriole. The couple plans to be married Aug. 25 in the Grace Baptist Church in Big Spring. The Rev. Roy Honea will perform the ceremony.

Ready-To-Use Infant Formula Is Developed

A new convenience for mothers—an infant formula product that is ready-to-use as it comes from the can—is being introduced nationally this summer.

The new product is ready for baby's feeding simply by opening the can and pouring the contents into a sterilized nursing bottle. No formula mixing or heating and no refrigerated storage of formula are required.

In nutritional breadth and balance the new product is said to be "nearly identical to mother's milk."

Convenient for use in the home, it is expected to be even more helpful when traveling; all that is required to prepare a feeding in the car or at Grandma's is a sterilized bottle and nipple, an 8-ounce can of the new formula, and a can opener. Because no additional water is needed, it is also expected to solve the problem of traveling mothers who find their babies have difficulty tolerating formula prepared from different water supplies.

C. L. Boyds Vacation In Mexico

FORSAN (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Boyd left Saturday for a trip to Mexico City. They plan to travel by plane for a five-day visit to historic and scenic points. From there they will fly on to Acapulco for five more days.

Their vacation was won in a contest of the First National Bank in Big Spring. It was arranged during May for those financing new cars through the bank.

He is employed by Forsan Oil Well Service.

Ott King was given a surprise birthday party Thursday evening. Out-of-town guests were the Ray Praters, the Bobby Hoges, the Jim Wards and the Chap Crockers all of Big Spring.

Perle's In The Whirl

AP Newfeature
Perle Mesta is a newcomer on Jackie Kennedy's crowded bandwagon, but she's there nevertheless. And she's back in the swing of things as Washington's "Hostess with the Mostess."

Indeed, the capital crowd is in a tizzy over Mrs. Mesta's so-called triumphal return and the reported end to her feud with rival party-giver Gwen Cafritz.

Nothing, not even Mrs. Mesta's insistence that she has never left Washington and has not been quarreling with Mrs. Cafritz, daunts this in the least.

As for Jackie, well, the ex-minister to Luxembourg has as much right to change her mind about people as she has to change the spelling of her name, or her politics.

They're Handy

Mrs. Carlene Cooper, top, and Mrs. W. C. Ramsey, two of a handful of Big Spring women who have purchased wigs, have found them to be quite handy at times when their hair needs fixing. Mrs. Cooper has had her two wigs about a month, having purchased them in Dallas. The one she is wearing is in a beige tone and is imported from France; the other is a silver hue and is German-made. Both are 100 per cent human hair. Mrs. Ramsey is wearing a Flatter Wig in her own hair color. Having had the wig about a year, she has had ample time to discover its usefulness, especially after an afternoon of swimming, which is one of her favorite pastimes. The wife of the manager of the Cosden Country Club, she swims almost every day, but can still look well-groomed with the help of her $150 wig. She has also found it handy on trips. Unlike many who take their wigs to beauty shops for setting, Mrs. Ramsey does this herself. Both women are well pleased with these additions to their wardrobes.

Pretty, Pert Perukes Please Wig Wearers

By KAY LOVELAND

Some 300 years ago fashionable persons, both male and female, would hardly have been caught dead without their wigs on. Fashion trends like history repeat themselves and judging from the current growing popularity of wigs among today's stylish set, the cycle has returned. Proof that wig-wearing is an old trend being refurbished can be found in Samuel Pepys' Diary, a daily journal written in the 1660's by Mr. Pepys, who was somewhat of a rogue. The diary sheds some light on the fashion of his day. "Nov. 2, 1663—By and by comes Chapman the perwig-maker, and upon my liking it, without more ado, I went up, and there he cut off my hair which went a little to my heart at present to part with, but it being over and my perwig on, I paid him three pounds for it, and away he went with my own hair to make another of July 18, 1664—Thence to Westminster to my barbers to have my perwig be lately cleansed of its nits which vexed me cruelly that he should put such a thing in my hands. Sept. 28, 1664—Here I also standing by a candle that was brought for sealing a letter do set my perwig afire, which made such an odd noise, nobody could tell what it was until they saw the flame, my back being to the candle. So it was in the 17th Century. Today wig wearers, and so far men aren't among them, don't have the same problems of cutting off their own hair, cleaning lice out of their wigs or setting them on fire, perhaps, but they will probably have their own Twentieth Century problems.

Sylvia Richardson Is Child Expert

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Any way you look at it, when it comes to children Sylvia Richardson is an expert.

Her husband is a pediatrician. She is assistant professor of pediatrics and director of the child study center at the University of Oklahoma Medical Center here.

And if that would put her expertise on too theoretical a level, the fact she's the mother of two young sons assures her plenty of practical experience.

At 40, she's a slender vivacious brunette. She started out to be an actress, graduating in 1940 from Stanford University in California with a bachelor's degree in speech and drama.

CHANGES PROFESSION "I was going to be a great comedienne," she says, eyes sparkling—but an interest in children with speech difficulties led her into a far different profession.

By 1948 she had obtained her M.D. She served her internship at Children's Medical Center in Montreal—the first woman to intern there—then went to Boston, Mass., where she became director of the speech clinic at Children's Medical Center.

the wigs don't have to be combed once they are set, so if a lady wants a new and different hair style which is difficult to comb she can have it with no bother. A final enjoyable feature is being able to change your hair color with a different color wig.

One summer discomfort women may suffer is a slight sensation of heat. Also, a loose fit on a wig would be uncomfortable.

If you're wondering how the wigs stay on without the aid of glue, the answer is, they are fitted snugly to your head so that there is no danger of their coming off accidentally. Some wearers also anchor them more securely with bobby pins.

How are the menfolk taking to this innovation in women's fashions?

"Husbands seem to like the wigs. The improvement they make after swimming tends to make them overlook the cost," says Lee.

"Will the price of the wigs go down?" "I don't believe so. Real hair is hard to get, and if it should become more difficult to get, then it is conceivable that prices might go up," he said.

How durable is the trend?

"I feel that wigs are here to stay, like hair coloring," he says. "They will become like an extra hat in a woman's wardrobe. At present not many hair stylists know much about wigs, but some schools are teaching wig classes now with the idea that this is more than just a fad."

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. D BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 5, 1962 SEC. D

Early Rodeo Entries Now Being Received

Early entries for the 17th Annual Howard County Junior Rodeo are being received at the office of Herb Helbig, Howard County Farm agent.

Helbig is superintendent of the show which opens Aug. 9 for a three night engagement. The rodeo will be at the Fairgrounds rodeo arena.

A rodeo parade is planned as an afternoon event for opening day. The parade will move through downtown Big Spring at 4 p.m. Featured will be members of the Howard County 4-H Clubs, the Howard County Sheriff's posse, as well as junior riding clubs from Snyder, Colorado City, and possibly other West Texas communities.

Admission to the rodeo will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 years of age.

The rodeo has the sanction of the American Junior Rodeo Association. All contests are conducted under the rules and regulations of the AJRA. Points scored in the local show are accepted in the calculation of national ratings for junior rodeo performers.

Helbig said that the rodeo, sponsored by the Howard County 4-H club organization, is open to all junior performers who are under the age of 19 years. Events set for the 1962 show include bareback bronc riding, calf roping, barrel race, ribbon roping, pole bending and bull riding. Added events include wild calf race, goat scrambling, and goat sacking.

The all-around cowboy or cowgirl of the show will be presented with a hand engraved trophy saddle and seven trophy buckles will be given away at the conclusion of the show — one to the winner of each major event.

Staging the show will absorb the combined efforts of 150 club members, their parents and 4-H club sponsors.

Stock for the rodeo, which will be on hand well ahead of opening night, will be from the Alvin Koonsman ranch. Koonsman, a rodeo producer, lives at Snyder. His stock is famous for its quality and is in high demand for rodeos.

Nightly performances are at 8 p.m. All entry fees are paid back as prizes and entry blanks must be accompanied by entry fees. Deadline for entries is 5 p.m. Aug. 8.

Here For Rodeo

Brenda Townsend, left, Patti Green, center, and Diane Rose, all of Snyder, will be in Big Spring for the Junior Rodeo. They will accompany the Alvin Koonsman stock which is being used in the show. Miss Rose, right, is the niece of Mrs. Edith Weaver. Big Spring.

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — Missie, a pedigreed Airedale, claims a world record—a litter of 13 pups.

The previous known record was 12.

Missie's pups are all female. They were born recently at the home of the Airedale's owner, night club proprietor Bertie Green.

Proposed Judgment Goes Out To Attorneys In School Case

A draft of the court's proposed judgment in the Gay Hill-Center Point school district annexation case has been drawn and is on its way to the offices of the attorneys in the case, Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, said Saturday.

Caton said that this is a common procedure in civil cases. The judgment is reviewed by attorneys and approved as to form before it is formally entered in a case. Most judgments filed have notations at their conclusion reading "approved as to form, by" and followed by the signatures of the attorneys involved.

The Gay Hill-Center Point annexation case came to a close a week ago when a jury in 118th District Court returned a partial verdict July 28. The lawsuit dealt with an effort by the two common schools to set aside an order of the Howard County School board summarily annexing theirs to Big Spring.

After a week-long hearing, a jury of nine women and three men reported to the court they had been able to answer seven of nine issues laid before them.

The court is drawing his judgment based on the partial verdict. Copies of his findings have been sent to Bill Kerr, Midland; T. G. Christopher, Fort Worth, and to Harvey and Hartman Hooser, Big Spring. All of these were attorneys for the two common school districts.

The attorneys for the county board were Guilford Jones, Big Spring, and J. C. Hinsley, Austin.

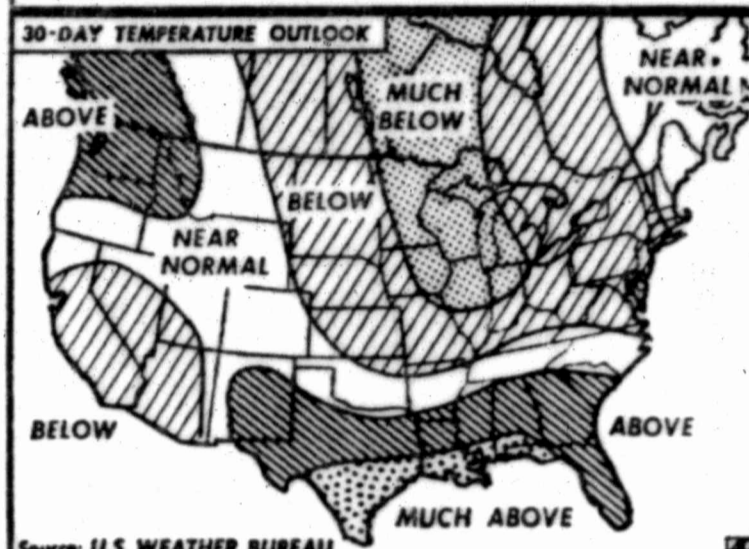

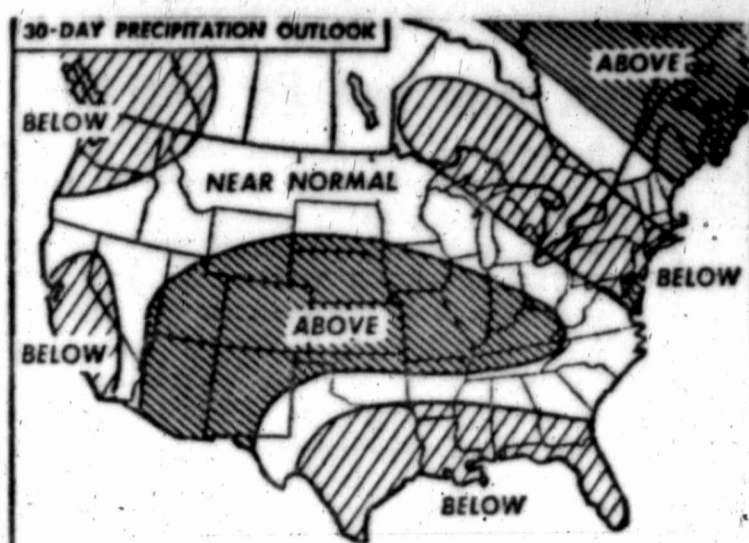

When the court has heard from the attorney's and an agreement reached as to its form, the final judgment will be entered in the court.

Until then, Judge Caton said that the findings of the court are not officially a part of the court record. He said that the final judgment may vary in some degree from the one that is now before the attorneys.

It seems generally agreed that regardless of how the court holds, an appeal will undoubtedly be taken to the higher courts.

However, it also appears agreed, that when this round of appeals is ruled on the long pending final answer will be reached. The proposed annexation has been on the books since May 4, 1960. Meantime, the two common school districts continue to function as they did prior to the county board action.

An injunction is in effect restraining the county board and the Big Spring Independent School District from seeking to take over the operation of the two schools until the lawsuit is terminated.

Hot And Mildly Damp

The U.S. Weather Bureau 30-day forecast for August indicates this part of the country will have temperatures above normal and precipitation about normal. The Big Spring area is on the edge of the line marking the district where below normal rains are forecast and narrowly averts the "above normal" zone in the matter of temperature.

Tourist Industry Declines In 1961

AUSTIN — The decline of the Texas tourist industry slowed slightly but did not stop in 1961. The annual Tourist Industry Report compiled by the Texas Highway Department, revealed that the number of tourists visiting Texas dropped for the fourth straight year.

Total visitors to Texas during 1961 were 8,408,000, a decline of about two per cent below the 8,600,000 who visited the state in 1960. Last year's guests spent only $440 million in the state as compared to 1960's total expenditures of $457 million.

The reason for the continued sag in the tourist advertising programs of other states, said Herbert C. Petry Jr., chairman of the Texas Highway Commission.

"Aggressive media advertising programs by other states continue to lure prospective visitors away from Texas—a state which has no funds as yet for media advertising," Petry said.

"Texans are waking up to the value of the tourist industry, and this encouraging new attitude is showing some results," Petry said. "Texas is a world within itself. In its variety of attractions it has everything to offer tourists except winter sports. Yet the ranking of the tourist industry in Texas gives cause for grave concern."

Nationally, the tourist industry ranks third—below only manufacturing and agriculture. But in Texas, it ranks only 13th.

Petry pointed out that the tourist industry of 1961 was, despite its decline, a valuable source of revenue for the state. Tourist dollars accounted for an estimated $23 million in direct state taxes, and the money spent by tourists created and supported 84,000 jobs for Texans—16,000 jobs in the accommodations field; 59,000 in food; 5,000 in transportation; and 4,000 in miscellaneous industries.

Here's how Gas heat COOLS your home!

Cooling with a Gas flame combines four simple laws of nature. The ARKLA-SERVEL Sun Valley GAS air conditioner employs them to produce the finest air conditioning science has yet devised!

First, BOILING, as in a percolator, moves the liquid refrigerant to the top of the unit in the form of vapor. Secondly, CONDENSATION, as on a glass of cold water, occurs, converting the vapor back to liquid. Next, EVAPORATION provides the chilling effect, just as blowing upon your hand, when wet, makes it feel cool. Last, is the ABSORPTION of the vapor by a salt solution called lithium bromide. In the same manner as table salt absorbs liquids, the liquid then returns to the "percolator" to start the cycle over again.

This is why an ARKLA-SERVEL Sun Valley GAS air conditioner has no moving parts to wear out or break down, and why it 1) has a life expectancy of three-to-four times that of an ordinary air conditioner, 2) does not lose its efficiency with age, 3) operates with a minimum of service or repair, and 4) maintains its low operating cost throughout the life of the unit.

All these reasons add up to LOWEST OWNER-SHIP COST... and make ARKLA-SERVEL Gas air conditioning truly the wisest investment you'll ever make for your home.

A Devotional For The Day

I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. (John 6:35)

PRAYER: Eternal Father, we thank Thee that we can pray to Thee. Hold Thy hand of blessings over us. Give us courage to witness for Thee. Be with us. Help us this day, strengthening us through the Holy Spirit. We pray these things in Jesus' name. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

What's Our 'Human Resource' Rating?

Imagine you are a top executive for a manufacturing concern, out to scout several towns as prospective sites for a new branch-unit. You're what is called a prime "industrial prospect." You stop in a particular community.

Let's say you chat with a waitress in a restaurant with the young attendant at the service station, with the clerk at the motel and the bell boy at the hotel. You went into some stores and talked with other people. You are trying to "sound out" this fictional town.

If most of the people you talk to (they don't know your mission say, in effect) "Aw, this is a crummy place. Nothing here. We need this. They ought to do that. We need a few good funerals. Why can't we be like other towns?"

If you got this kind of sentiment, what would you recommend? Even if the "fact book" looked good? Good location, good plant site, fair tax rates, advantageous utilities and transportation. That sort of thing.

We'll venture a guess. You would say to your board of directors "Stay out of there. None of our people would want to live there."

This is the kind of message that came across time and time again last week, in an Industrial Seminar held here. Men who know their business in this field cited the importance of having the physical facts. But these can be obtained.

But they said of more importance is the "human resource" of a town. This means the attitude of the people—all of them, not just the bigwigs. This means a place where people are energetic and happy and vibrant, and looking ahead. Where they think—and say—that they live in the "best darned town in the U.S.A." and where if they need something worthwhile, they work to get it.

This is the category of citizenship that can bring new business. How does Big Spring rate?

Welcome Home, Battery 'A'

It's home again for our citizen soldiers. An active duty assignment for nearly a year has ended for Big Spring unit in the 4th Armored Division—Battery A, 3rd Rocket-Howitzer Battalion of the 132nd Artillery.

Some advance increments are here, others of the more than 70 officers and men will arrive Tuesday, a final contingent on Thursday when formal mustering out is scheduled.

The community plans a formal ceremony of appreciation and welcome home on Thursday afternoon, and those who want to join in this gesture will be welcomed. Since the Battery is not moving to one organized unit, a downtown parade of strength seemed impracticable.

Furthermore, it's our guess that these men are much more interested in settling down at home and work once again than they are in appearing in review.

It's difficult for those of us who have continued in the even tenor of our ways to grasp the full sacrifice that these Guardsmen have made this past year—a large majority of them are married and with children. Virtually all of them were in secure jobs. They had homes, they had financial commitments, they had plans.

The whole way of existence was uprooted by a world emergency and these men like the soldiers they are, responded, went off to an unprepared camp and trained with skill and efficiency. They were in a wartime atmosphere just as much as if there had been shooting. They had a job to do and they did it.

Now they're entitled to return to their work to their duties and pleasures of peaceful living and to regain what has been lost.

And they're entitled to deep gratitude and acknowledgment from all of us. Be sure to give these fellows the warm clasp of friendly welcome. Give them a lift in getting settled. Let them know we're happy that they are back.

Marquis Childs

Tiger In The Senate

WASHINGTON — When a book about his career called "A Tiger in the Senate" first appeared, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon took up two hours of the Senate's time to denounce it as part of a dastardly plot to blacken his character. But in recent days he has been proving that if he is not a tiger, a fierce and lonely prowler in the jungle of the Senate—then he is surely the last unconstructed rebel.

IN ONE of the moments of drama occurring now and then the Marquis Leads. Sen. Mike Mansfield, one tense and white-faced on the fifth day of the filibuster to respond to Morse's allegation of a subterfuge and betrayal. But there was little he could say which had not already been said about his integrity on both sides of the aisle. Sen. Barry Goldwater inserted a note of humor by asking whether it was not possible that Morse, who left the Republican party to become a Democrat, was now returning to the Republican fold.

The Republicans are enjoying this affair. They see as do the Democrats the unending embarrassment it is causing the Kennedy Administration.

THE TARGET of Morse and perhaps a dozen Republican Senators is the Administration measure which would authorize a public corporation with government appointed directors on the board to operate the long distance communications satellite system. The last American Telephone and Telegraph company would instantly be thrown into liquidation and replaced by the greatest use of its facilities. AT&T would in effect be the filibuster charge get a gut of the half billion or more the government has put into satellite research. The company has spent about $400,000,000 for Telstar and the ground stations in Maine.

MORSE SAYS that he is leaving the satellite in a way that the government would retain control over it. This contrasts with the position of Sen. Estes Kefauver, who is for government operation of the system through its agents like the Tennessee Valley Authority. Even if President Kennedy had wanted some form of control over private enterprise, he was faced with a political reality.

'BEAT IT—YOU'RE CRAMPING MY STYLE'

J. A. Livingston

Keeping Prosperity From Running Wild

WASHINGTON — To say that Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg put the quietus on an emergency tax cut this year would be too strong.

But he did provide President Kennedy with an "out," if the President wants one, by making known that.

More people were at work last month than at any time in U.S. history—49,600,000.

UNEMPLOYMENT dropped by 430,000 to 4,000,000 and whereas in June, 35 out of every thousand workers didn't find jobs in July, this was down to 33 per thousand.

This news isn't a complete cure for the epidemic of recessionitis that has afflicted many government officials and economists, but it's an arrest of acute anxiety.

It indicates that the economy didn't deteriorate from June to July. And coupled with two other basic economic indicators—steel production and retail sales—it is positively encouraging.

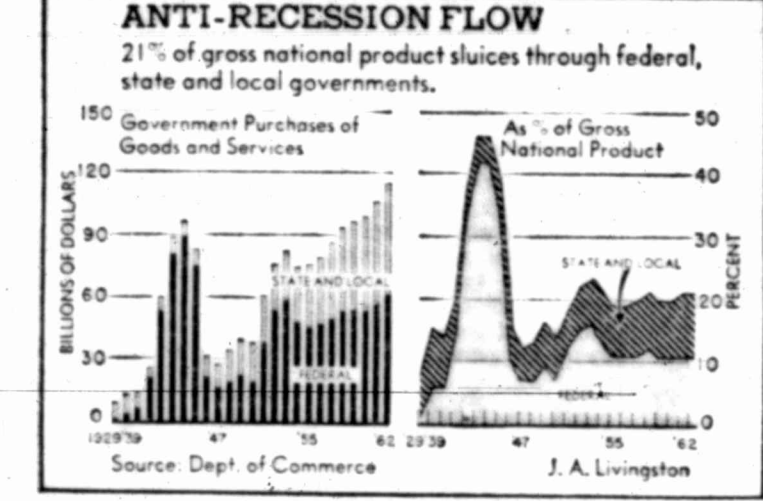

ECONOMISTS and statisticians in recent years have discovered a new, plaything—an automatic "toy" was developed as an economic tool by the National Bureau of Economic Research. It was taken over by private statistical organizations and still later, canonized by the Department of Commerce. For short it's called "leading indicators."

At all periods of economic development, some economic series are more sensitive or changeable than others. These have been traditionally called business barometers—carloadings, for example, or steel production or the stock market.

AS A NERVOUS parent checks the temperature of a sick child, statisticians now palpitate to the leading indicators. And because, in the last two or three months an increasing number of these indicators have pointed down, recessionitis has become prevalent.

Yet quantity isn't quality. One of the most sensitive indicators—steel production—while led the decline months ago has been charging to go up in recent weeks. Not only has production risen, but steel scrap prices have been strong.

Similarly, retail sales have shown that consumers are in a buying mood. They've not been intimidated by the stock market. Now add to this employment—a metric measure of economic well-being is signaling "Fairer Weather."

THIS LEADS ME to believe that a tax cut this year is most improbable. Purely on economic grounds, there's no need for it. It is frequently forgotten that total government purchases of goods and services amount to $13,000,000,000, of which roughly half is federal and the other half state and local. This is an anti-recession force, amounting as it does to more than 20 per cent of the Gross National Product.

Suppose we had a tax cut of five billion dollars. It would be less than one per cent of the Grand Total of Economic Activity. And, at present high levels of production and employment, this is still prosperity, don't forget. It's difficult to say whether the increased money in the hands of consumers would have a multiplying effect. Would it all be spent? And then some? Or would a large part be saved?

THIS HAS BEEN an over-advertised and, therefore, a well-anticipated recession. Adjustments to it have been and are being made. So it may never materialize. Instead of an industrial decline we may be on a prosperity plateau.

In which case, President Kennedy will be able to use a tax cut next year—for effective leverage to reform the entire tax structure. That chore is overdue.

How psychology has changed! In the depression 'thirties we kept promising ourselves "prosperity around the corner." Now, in the affluent 'sixties, we're for ever forecasting recessions. And this is good. It keeps prosperity from getting out of control.

MEMPHIS — A boy about 7, and his sister, perhaps a couple of years younger, waited in the doctor's office. The boy was not in the least happy about it.

"But I don't WANNA booster shot," he wailed.

Now, now, comforted his sister in her best little-mother voice, "that shot will be better than having booster."

Dear Doctor: Do you consider the liquid diets for weight control safe? If so, how many meals a day should they replace? Please send me "Lost Secrets of Reducing." I enclose 5 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for it.—Mrs. D. W.

Yes, most of these liquid diets are safe. They have enough protein, vitamins have been added, and starch and fats are low in quantity.

As a matter of fact the original purpose of these liquids was to give invalids some extra nourishment that could be eaten easily, even if the appetite was poor or chewing and swallowing difficult.

Now flavors have been added, and packaging is in convenient form so by reading the label you know how much to eat. Don't make the mistake therefore, of eating these liquid diets IN ADDITION to a regular reducing diet. Take it instead!

You can eat all three meals a day in this liquid form, but that gets pretty tiresome. Many people eat 300 calories at each of one or two meals, then have a chewy

Not Enough Hyphens, Too Many Digits

Well, we 19th century people could have told you it was going to happen. Some of us have questioned whether the push-button, automated, serial-number era was here to stay, and have sort of hoped it wouldn't.

Did you see that piece in the papers? Where just the loss of a hyphen a little thing no bigger than this—caused an expensive setback in the U.S. space race?

YOU PROBABLY would not understand this, so I will explain, or at least pass on what I have read. The hyphen was supposed to be put into the data processing for a missile launch. Its purpose was to be a type of negative symbol on other material being fed into the vehicle, to tell it what and what not to do. When the hyphen fell out, there was no "brake," and some false information got to the missile. The command "hard left, nose down" was not supposed to have been obeyed, but sure enough it was, and phooey went this particular launch. Eighteen millions bucks worth, it said in the print.

THIS IS disastrous, but it just goes to show you that you cannot go around trusting digital computers and data processors that emit all these electronic hieroglyphics, even if you know they are right. One man reported that the mathematical equation supposed to operate all this foideral was checked 300 times, and nobody could tell the hyphen was missing, not even the hyphen itself. So why not have faith in the 301st go-around? Incidentally, did the hyphen itself ever report? If these machines are going to replace us humans, they ought to be ready to stand up and take their punishment when they fail in their mission.

ANY OLD PRINTER can tell you that a hyphen missing in print can cause any amount of trouble, particularly if it was in an article libelous to begin with. But it is not as bad as losing commas, semicolons, periods or even dashes. It is to be hoped that this particular data processor has been checked and re-checked (note use of hyphen) to see that all the commas are in.

If a comma is missing, the missile very likely would turn on its launchers and destroy half the East Coast. It might even affect Texas.

WHILE WE'RE protesting progress, it is time here to pat on the back that guy in California who is suing the phone company to keep it from taking away his Exchange name. He is again converting to that seven-number system, and I want it known that I am, too. I can much easier handle a phone call like TAlullah 4-522, than I can one like 781 4-522, and this is not even considering the Code Area. Throw that in, and if you want to talk to your Cousin Harriet, across the country you have got to say 413-781-4-522, and I submit that this takes away Cousin Harriet's identity. This may not be significant to most people, but it is to Cousin Harriet.

IT HAS ALREADY been written here that we are involved and bogged down into far too many numbers. It is time we went back to simple name-calling. Even if you put hyphens in there and take the risk of their failing to appear. To the hills, Men! If the computers don't destroy us, the digits will.—BOB WHIPKEY

House Republicans Have Another Issue

WASHINGTON—For three months the Senate clamored against the administration's No Win policy toward Sino-Soviet communism—and then it became the turn of the House of Representatives.

It came about in an indirect manner. On last July 16th, a number of congressmen with foreign-extracted names—Derwinski, Gianno, Norrell, Schneebeli, Wallhauser, Ostertag et al.—spent the afternoon oratorically observing Captive Nations' Week. They were joined by congressmen named Alger, Barry, Monagan, Flood, Lindsay, Judd and others, some of whom have large groups of foreign-extracted constituents and some who don't.

In the midst of rhetorical fireworks Monagan inserted into the record President Kennedy's proclamation of Captive Nations' Week, 1962, and President Eisenhower's equivalent proclamation of 1959. There was quite a difference, and it spells out what a growing number of legislators regard as the Kennedy administration's spirit of accommodation with the Soviet Union.

President Eisenhower opened with two "whereas" clauses in which he mentioned the captor nation as well as the captives. He made note that many natives have been "made captive by the imperialistic and aggressive policies of Soviet communism." He added that "the Soviet-dominated nations have been deprived of their national independence." He urged that we "study the plight of the Soviet-dominated peoples of these captive nations."

It was a formalized, far-from-fervent statement, but the point is that it named the enemy President Kennedy, in a somewhat shorter statement, never mentioned either Russia or China. He contented himself with noting that the 80th Congress had designated the third week of July as Captive Nations' Week, and then ventured the dubious generality that "the principles of self-government and human freedom are universal ideals and the common heritage of mankind."

Considering that we spend two-thirds of our national budget for anti-Communist purposes, and that Mr. Kennedy is a famed orator with a stable of talented speechwriters, you can be thinking that he might have made more of his opportunity to blast the Sino-Soviet enemy.

My guess is that many of the Republican congressmen who spoke on the House floor will now find it useful to run against the No Win policy, as well as against Medicare, anti-business deficit spending, power-seeking, the Kennedy machine and all the rest. It gives House members with foreign-extracted constituents a real rabble-raising issue, and I doubt if many will resist it.

It will be well, however, if they do resist the extreme accusations. Certainly Mr. Kennedy is not indifferent to the fate of the satellite countries, and nobody expects him to start a war of liberation. The President has acted with resolution in his return to nuclear testing, and in putting American training cadres into South Vietnam.

He has thus far resisted disarmament panceas, although he has evidently listened and talked a good deal in that area. He has strengthened the armed forces, and has enjoyed triumphs in Space and missilery. No President in our time has worked harder at the job or brought more brampower to the post, and his personal popularity is rightly much higher than the acceptance of his political programs or foreign policy.

In sum, the President continues to be too much influenced by men whose names often get into this column and whom he ought to comb out of his household. He might begin with the speechwriter who prepared the Captive Nations proclamation, which was like a skit on the Garden of Eden story with the Serpent left out. ### Faubus And The Constitution

WASHINGTON—The people of Arkansas have spoken—at least the Democratic party which is in the majority there has spoken. And the net result is that Governor Orval Faubus has been re-elected to a fifth term.

THIS, THREE TIMES since the fateful episode of 1957 when federal troops were ordered to Little Rock, the people have by their ballots endorsed the man who struggled to preserve the Constitution as he conscientiously interpreted it. He believed that the states have the right to police their own disorders and prevent riots, and that federal intervention is constitutional only if the state requested such aid.

To this day there is a serious question as to whether federal troops were legally employed in trying to enforce a federal court order. The present United States Attorney General, Robert F. Kennedy, said in speeches during the 1960 campaign that he thought federal marshals should have been sent to Little Rock instead of federal troops.

BUT THE FINE points of law are often disregarded by an emotional public. Few people realize for instance, that the Fourteenth Amendment, on which the Supreme Court based its 1954 desegregation decision, was fraudulently inserted in the Constitution in 1868, though the record of history plainly points out the shameful behavior of the emotional radicals in Congress who forced that action. Seats in Congress were denied Southerners and state legislatures which had already adopted the Thirteenth Amendment were suddenly deprived of their right to pass on the merits of the Fourteenth. The Supreme Court has never dared to pass upon the validity of the arbitrary method used to "ratify" the Fourteenth Amendment.

THROUGHOUT the length and breadth of America moreover—and, indeed, overseas—Governor Faubus, who ventured to protect his people against public disturbances arising over a court order based on the Fourteenth Amendment, was pilloried as some kind of an ogre who had mangled the Constitution.

This correspondent attended an interested public high school and would do the same if he were of student age now. But illegality cannot be condoned and distortion of the Constitution cannot be justified in order to suit the emotional whims of the times no matter how meritorious the objective. For the rule of Machiavelli that "the end justifies the means" has been relied on by many a dictator in the past and is the basis today of much of the capricious behavior of the Communists throughout the world. Unless there is a government of law, a free society cannot endure and human rights are eventually lost.

GOVERNOR FAUBUS stood his ground courageously. He decided that vindication could come only through the votes of his fellow citizens. He ran this year against a field of five candidates, all of them reputable and well known in the state. Unquestionably virtually all of them would have been acceptable to the people of Arkansas on the segregationist issue. But the people there preferred to tell the world that they still believe in Orval Faubus and that they are convinced he did not get fair treatment by the outside public in the 1957 controversy. They, therefore, gave Mr. Faubus more votes in the Democratic primary than the combined total of all five of the other candidates for governor.

THE FAUBUS victory shows that the people are loyal to a man of courage in politics who dares to speak his convictions, though the tide may be running against him outside his own state. The European press, which at times superficially discusses American politics, would do well to examine the Arkansas primary and take note that a governor has been renominated there and in November will be elected to a fifth term—unprecedented in state history—just because he did venture to stand up for the Constitution as it had been interpreted for decades and as he still believes it should be interpreted today when a question arises concerning the dispatch of federal troops to enforce a federal court order.

He obeyed the order, but that doesn't mean that either he or the people of Arkansas agree today that the method used was constitutional.

Annual Hereford Tour Is Scheduled Tuesday

Howard County - South Plains Hereford Association's annual selection tour of the ranches in West Texas is set for Tuesday.

On that date, a caravan of automobiles will make a swing to 12 of the most famous Hereford ranches in the area. The tour will go as far as Big Spring as Hamlin, Blackwell and Ballinger.

On the tour, Bill Reed, Sterling City, widely known Hereford cattle expert, will select 63 of the finest animals from the 12 herds to be inspected. These Herefords will be brought to Big Spring Dec. 8 for sale at the annual association sale.

The tour of the ranches is an annual event which attracts a large number of spectators. A general invitation to anyone interested in inspecting the herds is extended by the officers of the association.

The tour sets out at 8 a.m. Tuesday from the Charlie Creighton ranch on the west edge of Big Spring. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at this point.

The itinerary for the tour follows:

Patterson Bros. ranch, 8:45 a.m.; Dr. G. T. Hall Ranch, 9:15 a.m.; S. F. Buchanan Hereford ranch, 10 a.m.; James Coates ranch, 10:20 a.m.; Leland Wallace, 10:45 a.m.; Jack Buchanan, 11:15 a.m.

A stop at Snyder for lunch is set for 12:15 p.m.

After lunch the schedule will take the tourists to R. H. Odum ranch at 1:30 p.m.; Piped Piper Farms, Hamlin, 2:45 p.m.; Lewis Hereford ranch, Blackwell, 4:30 p.m. and the final stop will be at the Hugh and Rollin Campbell ranch, near Ballinger at 5 p.m.

From this point the tour will make its way back to Big Spring.

Jimmy Taylor, secretary of the association, said that the sale here Dec. 8 will follow the same pattern as other sales in the past.

It will be preceded on the night of Dec. 7 with a banquet for the association members and their special guests.

The next day a show will be conducted with trophies to the winning animals. The auction sale of the 63 selected animals will follow. Top prices are usually paid for the stock sold at these annual sales.

Taylor said the association hopes a large number of persons will make the tour.

Cotton Farmers Have New Threat

By SAM BLACKBURN

If it isn't one thing then it's something else.

For several weary weeks, the cotton farmers of the county sweated out a drought which threatened to spoil their chances of a cotton crop this fall.

Then it rained — good heavy rains which gave the heavy plants a new lease on life, renewed prospects of a fair to average cotton crop and lightened the worry load on the minds of farmers and land owners.

The rains, as they have a habit of doing sometimes, continued. Now, as an aftermath of the moisture, the farmers have something else to fret them — insects are developing in their fields and threatening to become a serious menace to the crop.

CHIEF INVADER

Chief of these invaders in the matter of potential damage at this time is the boll worm, Herb Helbig, county farm agent, said that Howard County farmers are finding a large build up of both small and large worms in their fields. He pointed out that August is traditionally the month when boll worms thrive best in the fields of this county. The time is at hand, he said, to wage war on the pests.

Jimmy Taylor, formerly county agent and now agricultural advisor for the First National Bank, said that he had found sizable accumulations of boll worms in some fields in the county — particularly in the irrigated areas. Other cotton is also showing the presence of worms in dangerous numbers.

Both Taylor and Helbig pointed out that warm humid weather such as has been prevailing for the past 10 days offer ideal conditions for the boll worms to flourish. Eggs hatch quicker and the worms are healthier and happier when it is humid and hot.

POISONING

Meantime, there is a pressing need for the farmers to begin poisoning. Taylor pointed out there are half a dozen effective formulas which can be used against the worms.

Helbig said that his office has a supply of the 1962 Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects. This is the official booklet on insect control. It provides complete information on the formulas to be used and how to apply them. However, Helbig pointed out that most Howard County cotton growers are veterans in the war on cotton insects. The same battle has to be fought each year.

Helbig said the criterion for farmers to employ in determining when it is time to begin poisoning is simple.

Control should begin at any time the farmer finds as many as four or five small worms, plus eggs, after he has checked 100 cotton plants. There are numerous fields already where this infestation rate has been reached.

Helbig said that he has also encountered signs of leaf worms and some cabbage loopers in the fields. Neither of these insects have become numerous enough as yet to pose a real problem. However, they should be closely watched, the county agent warned.

Maybe He's In Orbit

Cupid is a badly mixed up kid. Either that or the romanticists are confused.

Everyone knows that June has been called the month of brides since time began. In the popular fancy the bulk of the weddings of any given year were supposed to be performed in the gay, gay month of June.

But look at the record in Howard County.

In June, according to Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk, her office issued 36 marriage licenses. This rated as a fair to average marriage license business for a month.

And then came July.

A month the poets never write about and about which no one whips up rosy pictures of romance, wedded bliss and such.

During July, Mrs. Petty's deputies have issued not just 36 but 53 marriage licenses. July has been the busiest month of the year for this department of the county clerk's office.

Museum Animals Need New Homes

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Need a couple of black bears or some foxes, racoons or a deodorized skunk?

Or how about some turtles—eight different kinds?

The University of Michigan Museum has three months to find homes for these animals, or have them destroyed, said Dr. Irving G. Reimann, director.

The animal cage and reptile pit at the rear of the museum building must go to make way for a new $1 million building that will serve as a national center for research in animal biosystematics.

THE LORD'S WORK

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The dignity of willing labor is one of the principles which Christianity has established among us. It is a natural by-product of a faith whose founder was the Carpenter of Nazareth, whose first adherents were fishermen of Galilee.

Those who are eager to serve God and their fellow men find rich opportunities in the life of the Church. There are tasks for a man's hands, for his voice, for his pen, for his mind. There are needs that our offerings cannot supply . . . challenges that call for the talents and time of earnest men and women.

That friendly church which inspires us on Sunday is busy with the Lord's work all week. That man in the next pew is finding new happiness in willing Christian service. Are you?

'El Cid' Tells Film Story Of Spain's National Hero

Kid Galahad

Elvis Presley essays a new kind of role in "Kid Galahad," opening Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre. In "Kid Galahad," Elvis stops moving his pelvis long enough to step into the pugilistic ring. There is no advance information whether he takes time for some singing, but if it's the same old Elvis, he does.

GRANT, LOREN & 3 MOPPETS
Houseboat not always a home

'Houseboat' Stars Grant And Loren

There's a houseboat load of entertainment arriving Wednesday at the Jet Theatre when Paramount's romantic comedy in Technicolor and Vista Vision "Houseboat," starring Cary Grant and Sophia Loren, drops anchor. The attractive duo, last seen together in the dramatic Spanish production, "The Pride and the Passion," does a complete about-face in the very American "Houseboat," to uproarious comedy liberally spiked with romance and music sung, surprisingly, by Miss Loren.

"Houseboat" is a present-day story about a Washington, D. C. attorney who suddenly finds his three young children on his hands following the death of their mother from whom he had been estranged for three years. He must find a housekeeper to help with his brood, and Fate presents him with the most glamorous and most unlikely housekeeper ever to grace a kitchen. The seductive Miss Loren, herself a runaway from her too-strict musician father, brings home Grant's young runaway son and is mistaken for good housekeeper material. What happens when Sophia in a spirit of fun, accepts the job which includes making a home out of a broken-down houseboat, bringing the children and their father together, and smacking him from the arms of a determined girl he doesn't love, add up the plot of "Houseboat."

The film co-stars Martha Hyer and stage and television star Harry Guardino. Eduardo Cian-nelli plays Sophia's father.

Music Man

"The Music Man," foot-patting musical comedy, stays on the Ritz playbill through Tuesday. An adaptation of the highly successful Broadway production, the film stars Robert Preston.

'Who Was That Lady?' Is Wacky Romantic Comedy

"Who Was That Lady?," Norman Krasna's light-hearted leer at love among adults should make Jet Theatre audiences laugh louder than ever for a long time to come.

The Ansark George Sidney production for Columbia release stars such experienced funmakers as Tony Curtis, fresh from his laugh-engendering antics in "Some Like It Hot" and "Operation Petticoat." Dean Martin and Janet Leigh in a wild and wacky free-for-all farce.

When Curtis, a handsome chemistry professor, is caught by his wife, Janet Leigh, in something other than intellectual pursuit of one of his more attractive students, a chain-reaction of laugh-provoking complications is exploded. Friend and TV writer Martin comes to Tony's aid, he evolves an elaborate story that Curtis really is an FBI agent who was bussing the pretty scholar in line of duty. With this explanation swallowed by the starchy-eyed Miss Leigh, hook, line and sinker, "Who Was That Lady?" becomes one of the maddest — and funniest — of mad-cap comedies. Foreign agents, real FBI men in the persons of James Whitmore and John McIntire, and blonde bombshells like Barbara Nichols revolve around the Curtis-Martin-Leigh axis in a steadily mounting whirl of comedy. The film's fantastic climax takes place in the sub-basements of the Empire State Building here Curtis and Martin, believing themselves prisoners on an enemy submarine, patriotically try to scuttle the vessel and succeed only in rocking the building.

"Who Was That Lady?" is based on the play, "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" as produced on the New York stage by Leland Hayward. George Sidney directed.

LEIGH, MARTIN & CURTIS
They're real patriots in the end

Spanish history numbers but few figures who have stirred the imagination of poets, dramatists and balladeers as much as Spain's much revered warrior-hero who was born Rodrigo Diaz de Bivar but is best known as El Cid. The exploits of this courageous nobleman on the battlefield, his unquenchable devotion to his God and king and his turbulent and undying love for the beautiful Chimene are told in "El Cid," which opens Wednesday at the State Theatre.

The Samuel Bronston presentation co-starring Charlton Heston and Sophia Loren comes here after a road-show attraction in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Dallas and scores of other cities. This epic film spectacle in Super Technirama Technicolor was named one of the best 10 motion pictures of the year by many metropolitan newspapers and outstanding national magazines, including the New York Times and Time Magazine.

Heston is cast as the warrior who dreamed of peace, the romantic figure who early in his life was tried as a traitor but later acclaimed, even by his enemies, as "El Cid," a term adapted phonetically from the Arabic "Said," meaning lord or leader. This was a title which never again was to be bestowed on any other Spanish hero—an appellation as unique as the giant of a man who bore it. Miss Loren portrays Chimene, the beautiful Castilian noblewoman, both fiery and proud. Her romance with El Cid was, at first, tender and warm, and then it flamed into consuming hate and almost fatal revenge; her forced marriage to him began in deep bitterness, but her old love was renewed and grew strong enough to endure long separation, lonely exile and the hardships of battle. The cast of thousands includes Raf Vallone, Genevieve Page, John Fraser, Gary Raymond, Hurd Hatfield, Massimo Serato and Herbert Lom.

Director Anthony Mann has deployed thousands of actors against the panoply of sets and costumes by Veniero Colasanti and John Moore depicting the royal pageantry of Spain. The film was photographed in Spain, and many of the historic and pictorially magnificent sites where El Cid lived, loved and fought were used.

For the first time, El Cid's story now has been brought to the screen through the screenplay by Academy Award winners Fredric M. Frank and Philip Yordan, with the musical score by three-time Academy Award winner Miklos Rozsa.

"El Cid" is a Samuel Bronston production in association with Dear Film Productions, and is being distributed in the Western Hemisphere by Allied Artists.

Virginia U. Gets Faulkner Papers

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — The personal and literary papers of author William Faulkner, who died July 6, will be placed in the University of Virginia library, the university said. A spokesman for the university said the Faulkner papers to be sent here, and kept available for study, include every known manuscript of Faulkner's major works except the novel "Absalom, Absalom!"

Sophia Loren Joins Immortals

By The Associated Press
Italian actress Sophia Loren joined Hollywood's immortals when she dipped her hands and feet into wet cement in front of Grauman's Chinese Theatre. The ceremony was part of the agenda of a whirlwind one-day visit to the film capital. It was her first since winning an Academy award last spring.

Asks Divorce

By The Associated Press
Actor Red Buttons' wife announced in Santa Monica, Calif., that she will file suit for divorce. Buttons sued for separation last March. Attorney Ted Flier, representing Buttons' wife, Helene, said the former model wants a divorce instead of separate maintenance. They have been married 12 years and have no children. Both are 43.

Splendor

Natalie Wood co-stars with Warren Beatty in "Splendor in the Grass," returning to the Jet Drive-In Theatre. It is a story out of the past concerning the conflict between sexual drives and Puritanical attitudes, and what this conflict does to two young people.

Jayne Draws Female Claws

ROME (AP)—A woman watched Jayne Mansfield receive an Italian movie award, then slapped and scratched the blonde actress and knocked her down.

gi hotel was a gala affair with many well dressed tourists attending. Jayne went to a small stage, received her prize and thanked the organizers. As she walked off the stage, a woman jumped up and screamed: "Why does she get a prize? Why don't I get one? She refused to be photographed with me." Then the woman slapped and scratched Jayne, who fell to the floor with the woman on top of her. Police identified the woman as Alma del Rio, 43, an Italian cabaret entertainer who specializes in Spanish dances.

At Any Rate, The Road Is Paved And In Use

There seems to be some confusion as to how it came about but, regardless, Lomax community has a mile and a half more paved county road than most of its people expected to get this year.

And W. D. Caldwell, who had a contract to pave five miles of road in the area apparently has some extra money coming to him for an additional 1.5 miles of surfacing work.

Joe Hayden, commissioner for the district in which Lomax is located, insists that the county commissioners approved his proposal to go ahead and pave the extra mileage.

Lee Porter, county auditor, says he had no such information and that he fails to find an official minute on the issue. He also insists that the only official information he has is a contract signed by Caldwell (not by the county commissioners) for the paving of five miles of road for which Caldwell was to be paid about $8,000.

The extra mile and a half of the road begins at a point about two miles west of the Lomax store and extends to the Martin County line.

Ed Carpenter, county judge, said that opposition to Hayden's plan to pave this piece of road began a long time ago and that the advertisement for bids was for five miles of road which did not include the 1.5 miles. The paving called for, he said, was to be a loop extending a mile west from the store, two miles north and a mile east back to the main Lomax road. It was also finally agreed, he said, that an additional mile be paved going westward from the point where the north leg of the new road begins.

Hayden insists that the other members of the board had approved his plan to pave the additional 1.5 miles. He said the extra paving would bring the total bill due Caldwell to about $10,000.

Porter has indicated he does not intend to pay the difference between the original $8,000 and the final total until some official authorization is made by the county board.

No final decision has been reached on the matter.

Meantime, the road is paved and in use.

Crew Wages Set

Farmers are advised they must pay mixed crews, employed in cotton chopping, wages of 60 cents an hour — provided the choppers are not Mexican contract laborers. Wages cannot be less than 70 cents an hour for Mexican contract laborers, according to a telegram received by the Texas Employment Commission office here from the regional director of the U. S. Department of Labor. The wage scale became effective on Aug. 1.

ABC Initiates Eight Members

Eight members of the American Business Club received formal initiation and Mrs. Shelby Parnell, 3202 Cornell, while en route to a new station.

They arrived in Big Spring Thursday evening and will remain here about a week. Their new base is Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells.

Initiation at the service organization's regular luncheon held Friday noon at the Settles Hotel.

The eight were indoctrinated by Justin Holmes, past president, who reminded them that the letters A-B-C can also stand for "Americanism, Brotherhood and Character."

The first Friday in each quarter of the year was set aside for future initiations.

On Aug. 17, the ABC will share its meeting date with the Jaycees, at which time the first of the state's two gubernatorial candidates will appear here for a speaking date.

The ABC members will also meet with other service organizations on Aug. 27 to hear the other candidate in the governor's race.

Ladies Day will be observed by the club on Friday, Aug. 31, at the Settles.
