Shooting Heat Wave Out Of Saddle

Hot weather getting you down? Don't take it out on your secretary, your wife, your neighbor or hired help. Follow the example of these youngsters and take it out on each other—with water pistols. It's a better method for keeping cool than the looks of David Hopkins, Rex Talbot, Robert Kionka and David Talbot would indicate. (Keith McMillin Herald Photo)

No Record—But It's Hot

It was 104 sizzling degrees in Big Spring on Sunday afternoon, but that reading lacked five degrees of matching the hottest Aug. 5 in local history.

That dubious honor goes to Aug. 5, 1911 when the temperature was 109.

To all practical purposes, however, that 104 was hot enough. There was little comfort to be derived from noting that other West Texas towns were hotter.

Heavy consumption of water developed as worried householders scanned their shrubs and lawns and noted the wilting effect the hot sun produced.

Despite the sweltering heat, traffic was tolerably brisk on streets and highways. As usual on hot days, the lakes were crowded with pleasure seekers.

Monday dawned crystal clear and the sun seemed to be working overtime to match the work it performed on Sunday. All-time record hot for this date was scored in 1921 with a sizzling 108 degrees.

You could find those around today who were willing to bet that this afternoon will break that 41-year-old record.

Webb Wage Board Workers Get Raise

Wage Board (hourly rates) employees at Webb AFB will receive a wage increase effective Aug. 19.

Word of the increase was received Friday at Webb. It is the policy of the Air Force to pay its employees who are subject to wage board procedures at rates which are approximately equal to the prevailing industrial rates in the community. Surveys are made each year to determine the local prevailing rates, and to assure employees wages are kept in line.

The increase for Webb employees ranges 5 cents for non-supervisory personnel to 7 cents per hour for supervisors.

Spies Captured

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syrian authorities claim they have smashed the most efficient Israeli spy ring since the 1948 Palestine war and rounded up seven of its members in Damascus.

Bible Fund Gets Its First Gifts

The annual appeal for funds to support the Big Spring High School Bible Class program has now begun.

The sponsoring Big Spring Pastors Association has named a committee headed by the Rev. Jack Strickland, and even before that the first contribution was received.

I came as usual from old friends of the program, Dr. and Mrs. P. D. Dick, O'Brien, who now reside in Houston. For nearly 20 years Dr. O'Brien pastored the First Baptist Church here and was one of the founders of the Bible classes.

Bible, which is taught as an elective for its moral, ethical, literary and historical values, carries regular scholastic credit. However, under state laws, tax funds may not be used to finance the program. Hence, the Pastors Association, with the help of churches and of numerous friends has financed the Bible Classes privately for nearly a score of years.

Dr. and Mrs. O'Brien mailed in their check for $25.

Hard on the heels of this were checks from Pyle Bradshaw for $15, from Mrs. Felton Smith for $5, from the Companion Sunday School Class and the Byketa Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church for $25 each. Each of these has been faithful supporters ever since the year.

Thus the fund almost has its first hundred dollars.

Many of the local churches underwrite the program in their budgets, but this normally supplies less than half of the $6,100 budget. The difference is made up through contributions mailed or brought to the Herald.

Approximately 100 high school students have signed up for the Bible classes this autumn, and this makes it probable that five class sections will need to be offered. Almost every year there has been an increase in interest and enrollment.

On the association's committee for the Bible Fund are the Rev. John Black, the Rev. A. Ward Jackson, the Rev. Downt Seago and the Rev. Donald Hungerford. Mrs. J. O. Johnson, who was the teacher when the program was inaugurated here prior to the end of World War II, is the teacher.

'Seed Corn' For Appeal

I look back with greatest pleasure to the help I was able to give this Bible teaching fund," wrote Dr. P. D. O'Brien in sending in his check to kick off the Bible Fund appeal.

I do not regret any of the time, effort or money which I contributed to such causes as Chamber of Commerce, AMCA, Boy Scouts, Heart Fund, United Fund, Rotary Club, Masonic Lodge, USO, P.T.A., Gideon's International or any of the other worthy community movements," wrote Dr. O'Brien, "but I look back with greatest pleasure to this Bible Fund.

It was not much, but with the wonderful men of other churches with whom I labored, enough was provided to keep the classes going. I remember with a glow of satisfaction the eight years I had the privilege of teaching the International Sunday School lesson on radio, and the eight years I had the privilege of preaching in the city jail every Monday morning.

But the Bible Class in high school stands out above them all. "Here is our check. We hope it will be seed corn to help get the money again this year. This is not a gift but an investment in our greatest asset. God bless all who give, the teacher and each pupil who elects to take the course."

Cruiser Found

HOUSTON (AP)—A cabin cruiser and its seven occupants were found safe today after a six-hour search of the Houston ship channel.

Abortion Is Denounced

GARDENA, Calif. (AP)—"Many people would be glad to have a child like ours," said a mother whose son was born deformed because, she believes, she took the drug thalidomide during pregnancy.

Hannelore Webb, 23, said Sunday—in a copyright story in the Los Angeles Times—that she and her husband, William J. Webb, also 23, agreed that "abortion would be entirely wrong."

Their infant, William J. Webb Jr., was born June 15 with no right forearm, a partial left forearm and no thumbs. His hands extend from the ends of his stubby arms.

Thalidomide has been given as the cause of deformities in babies in Europe, Canada and Australia, whose mothers took the drug during pregnancy.

The initial shock of learning her child was deformed wore off gradually, Mrs. Webb said. But after I got out of the hospital and held the baby in my arms, I knew everything was okay.

Mrs. Webb said she wished she could talk to Sherri Finkbine, the Phoenix, Ariz., mother of four who is seeking an abortion in Stockholm, Sweden, because she took thalidomide during her pregnancy.

The Webbs are Baptists. Mrs. Webb, a native of Germany, married her husband 15 months ago when he was stationed with the Army in Bad Hersfeld, Germany.

She said she took thalidomide in the form of a drug called Contergan which was available in Germany at the time she was pregnant. She stopped taking it when she heard a warning over the radio.

The Webbs said that surgeons hope to correct their son's deformities at least partly with a series of operations.

Kennedy Returns

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy flew back to Washington today after another vacation weekend with Mrs. Kennedy who is leaving for a two-week visit in Italy.

Mrs. Kennedy is leaving today for New York for an overnight stay before flying out Tuesday for a two-week vacation in Italy.

Coroner Seeks Answer To Suicide Question

HOUSTON (AP)—A coroner's investigation team, aided by detectives, is seeking the answers to these questions today. Evidence uncovered so far is conflicting.

The coroner's office said it has received a telegram from Miss Monroe's half sister, Bernice Miracle of Gainesville, Fla., authorizing release of the body to ex-baseball star Joe Di Maggio, second of the actress' three husbands, or to Milton Rudin, her attorney. They presumably will make funeral arrangements.

Dr. Ralph Green, her psychiatrist, said she called him at 5:15 p.m. Saturday, distraught, seeking reassurance. They talked an hour. He told her to take a drive in her car to relax.

It was a ride she never took. Instead, she retired at 5 p.m. in what her housekeeper, Mrs. Eunice Murray, thought to be good spirits.

If she made any calls that evening, they were local calls. Telephone company records disclosed no toll calls from her number.

Mrs. Murray rose at 3 a.m. Sunday in her quarters in the

Dr. Kelsey Called In Drug Hearing

Sherri Sees Doctor Today On Abortion

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Mrs. Sherri Finkbine sees a Swedish doctor today, seeking speedy abortion of the baby she fears has been deformed by the drug thalidomide.

Dr. Karl-Inge Oester of the Royal Medical Board said a "penetrating investigation of the reasons" must precede any official approval of the operation. Other Swedish medical sources said the Phoenix, Ariz., television personality might have to stay in Sweden at least two or three weeks.

Doctors at Stockholm's Caroline Hospital are expected to handle the case. After examinations and a study of statements by Mrs. Finkbine's American physicians, they could recommend for or against the abortion. The medical board will make the final decision.

"I am hoping and praying that the Swedish medical men will be able to help me quickly," Mrs. Finkbine said when she arrived Sunday with her husband, Robert.

"What people forget," she told newsmen in Copenhagen, "is that it is beginning to be more of a baby to me every day. I want it taken away before it moves. Once that happens, I don't think I could hold up emotionally."

Tense and nervous, Mrs. Finkbine appeared near collapse.

Her American doctor has said a caesarean section might be necessary for abortion unless the operation was performed immediately. The 30-year-old brunette is nearly three months pregnant.

Mrs. Finkbine decided to seek the operation in Sweden, which has approved abortions for seven other women who have taken thalidomide after an Arizona court refused to approve termination of her pregnancy. Arizona law prohibits abortions unless the mother's life is in danger.

Thalidomide has been blamed for the deformities of thousands of babies born with deformed arms, legs and internal organs. Most of the cases have been reported in Europe, Australia and Canada. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration prevented distribution of the drug in the United States, except on a limited, experimental basis.

Mrs. Finkbine's husband bought the tranquilizer in London during a European trip last year and brought it home.

Lady Medic Who Halted Thalidomide To Testify

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee called Dr. Frances O. Kelsey for testimony on President Kennedy's proposed amendments to drug control legislation.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said today before the committee went into closed session that he believed there would be no controversy over adding to the bill provisions to tighten regulations over such drugs as thalidomide.

Dr. Kelsey is the Food and Drug Administration medical officer who blocked U.S. marketing of thalidomide, a tranquilizer which some medical men blame for malformation of infants in Europe.

While never sold in the United States, thalidomide was distributed to 1,231 U.S. doctors for possible experimental use.

AMENDMENTS

Kennedy sent to the committee 25 pages of proposed amendments to a measure sponsored by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn.

Kennedy wrote Eastland asking, among other things, that the government be given additional authority to remove unsafe or ineffectual drugs from the market.

"I am going to lay every one of President Kennedy's amendments before the committee," Eastland said. "It will be up to the committee to decide which of them it wants to write into the bill."

Excepted from the President's recommendations were some patient controls originally proposed by Kefauver, and stripped from the bill along with some stiffer controls by the Judiciary Committee.

The Kefauver bill had paralleled in many respects proposals made by Kennedy in his consumer message to Congress early this year. Last spring, the President strongly endorsed the Kefauver bill in a letter to Eastland.

The committee modified the measure into what Kefauver says is now "a mere shadow of itself." Last week at his news conference, Kennedy said the Senate bill, which is still in the hands of the committee, "does not go far enough."

SAFE DRUGS

The administration proposals combined with those still in the Kefauver bill "will help assure the American people that any drug on the market today is safe and effective for its intended use," Kennedy wrote.

Reports that thalidomide is believed responsible for thousands of malformed births in Europe and the story of how a government medical officer blocked its sale here helped put the spotlight back on the United States' drug laws.

The renewed discussion of drug procedures took this form over the weekend.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-

Minn., said he supported Kefauver's proposal to require adequate testing of drugs on laboratory animals before they are given to humans. Humphrey, who heads a Senate subcommittee looking into distribution of thalidomide, called for establishment of a drug research center under the Public Health Service.

CONSENT NEEDED

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., another member of the subcommittee, said in a separate statement that the law should require consent of the patients before a doctor could prescribe a drug like thalidomide. Although thalidomide never was approved for sale in this country, it was distributed to 1,231 physicians for possible experimental use. Such distribution is legal, and the doctor is not required to advise a patient he is taking an experimental drug.

Dr. Kelsey said laboratory tests on animals are no alternative to testing new drugs on humans.

She said, "In the last analysis, data on the safety and effectiveness of drugs can come only from clinical tests with human beings."

She spoke on two television interview programs.

Saturday, President Kennedy authorized Dr. Kelsey to receive the President's Award for Distinguished Service, the highest award for federal civilian service.

BULLETIN

AMARILLO (AP)—Dist. Judge E. E. Jordan set Billie Sol Estes' trial on anti-trust indictments today for Oct. 29 in 47th District Court in Amarillo.

Stock Market In Minus Column

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market slipped into the minus column early this afternoon after a slightly higher opening.

A number of early fractional gains turned into small losses as trading continued at a moderate pace on the New York Stock Exchange. A minority of key issues showed changes of a full point or more.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 40 at 219.40 with industrials down 70, rails off a minimum 10 and utilities off 20.

Commerce Secretary Hodges' weekend statement doubting a tax cut this year appeared to fall in line with the thinking of "Wall Street" analysts.

Steels, motors, metals, chemicals and rails were mixed while utilities and building material issues fell unevenly.

Mystery Blasts

MACAO (AP)—At least two persons died and more than 20 were injured in two mysterious explosions Saturday and Sunday in Chinese Communist territory across the border, reports reaching here today said.

The reports said about 200 residents of the area were detained by the Communists in connection with the incidents.

Vatican Paper Pities Actress

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican paper L'Osservatore Romano said today Marilyn Monroe was the "victim of a mentality and a way of conception of life of which she was the symbol."

The Vatican radio, also commenting on her death, said a person "should have the courage" to face the tests of life without turning to suicide.

L'Osservatore mentioned the actress by name in its editorial. The paper in a newscast commentary, referred to "the loss of an idol" without naming her.

The paper, which criticized Miss Monroe less than two months ago for swimming in the nude in a movie scene, said it wished to express "sentiments of profound pity" for the actress.

Both Sides Seek Solution To Albany Race Problems

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Both sides in this city's racial impasse groped today for a face-saving solution but there was little indication of an early settlement.

Prayer vigils were planned in 13 cities throughout the nation and a group of ministers were set to march on the White House to protest Albany's jailing of hundreds of Negroes, including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Police stayed on standby alert for the fifth consecutive week, although this southwest Georgia city returned to its untroubled pace of life. Sporadic, small-scale demonstrations by Negroes have become routine and attract only handfuls of spectators.

Less than 100 persons, including six adults, remained behind bars in Albany and nearby towns. Since renewal of protest demonstrations July 11, there have been 40 arrests made, pushing total arrests since December to about 1,200.

Though city commissioners generally are as eager as Negro leaders to resolve the issues, neither side has been able to find an acceptable way out.

This is the dilemma, King says, that some concrete progress must be made before he leaves, else he must admit defeat. City officials say they will do nothing until he leaves because they cannot politically afford to give King a victory.

King behind bars on a third time in this city, said in a statement issued by an aide that the planned prayer vigil showed no efforts are not in vain.

"This evidence that the whole system of segregation lies heavy on the conscience of the whole nation," King said.

King was visited Sunday by his

Texas Congress District Now Most Populous

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 34th congressional District of Texas (Dallas County) is now the most populous in the country, replacing the 20th District of California.

The Census Bureau reported today that as a result of redistricting, the 34th Texas District is the largest with a population of 951,327. Redistricting in California to give the state eight more seats in the House has cut that state's 20th District from a population of 1,013,400 to 388,933.

Michigan's 12th District, the western part of the upper Michigan peninsula, remains the least populous with 177,431.

Sleeping Pills End Marilyn Monroe's Long-Tragic Life

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A doctor smashed his way into a locked bedroom—and found Marilyn Monroe dead in bed, nude, a telephone clutched in her hand, an empty pill bottle nearby.

It was her psychiatrist who found the body early Sunday.

The mysterious death brought a tragic end, at 36, to the troubled, scarred life of Norma Jean Baker—the frightened wife who became the world's most famous blonde as Marilyn Monroe.

She apparently died either late Saturday or early Sunday of an overdose of sleeping pills. The empty bottle had contained 36 Nembutal capsules.

Was it suicide? Had she called someone before she died?

A coroner's investigation team, aided by detectives, is seeking the answers to these questions today. Evidence uncovered so far is conflicting.

The coroner's office said it has received a telegram from Miss Monroe's half sister, Bernice Miracle of Gainesville, Fla., authorizing release of the body to ex-baseball star Joe Di Maggio, second of the actress' three husbands, or to Milton Rudin, her attorney. They presumably will make funeral arrangements.

Dr. Ralph Green, her psychiatrist, said she called him at 5:15 p.m. Saturday, distraught, seeking reassurance. They talked an hour. He told her to take a drive in her car to relax.

It was a ride she never took. Instead, she retired at 5 p.m. in what her housekeeper, Mrs. Eunice Murray, thought to be good spirits.

If she made any calls that evening, they were local calls. Telephone company records disclosed no toll calls from her number.

Mrs. Murray rose at 3 a.m. Sunday in her quarters in the star's Brentwood home—awakened by an uneasy dread she couldn't explain—and found Miss Monroe's light still burning, her door locked, and no answer to her knock. She phoned Dr. Greenson.

He rushed to the home, smashed a bedroom window with a fire-place poker, forced his way in, and told Mrs. Murray: "She appears to be dead."

No notes were found. She was found lying face down, the covers hunched around her shoulders.

The body was taken to a nearby mortuary and then to the county morgue where it remains today, unclaimed.

Hours before she had been one of the world's most famous personalities.

But on her coroner's call sheet, tagged to crypt 33 in the morgue, were these unrevealing statistics: Weight 117 pounds, height 65½ inches, hair blonde and eyes blue.

Next of kin—Gladys Baker, mother. Address unknown.

Her three husbands had little or nothing to say about her death, at least to newsmen.

Joe Di Maggio, the ex-baseball star, flew here Sunday, apparently to be nearby for the funeral.

Her first husband, policeman James E. Dougherty, lives in Los Angeles.

Her mother, an inmate of mental institutions for most of her life, was last confined to a home in nearby La Crescenta.

MADE A WILL

Marilyn, who had shifted for herself since early childhood, was known to have made a will outlining plans for her own burial.

A business associate said that it had not been found yet and funeral arrangements were pending until its discovery expected later today.

Dimaggio hopped on the first plane leaving San Francisco for Los Angeles after hearing of her death via a radio bulletin. He was in seclusion in a Santa Monica hotel.

Though Marilyn divorced him in 1955, the two had remained good friends.

Playwright Arthur Miller, the actress' third husband, said at his home in Roxbury, Conn., his ex-wife's death "was a shock."

He said he hadn't decided whether to go to Hollywood for the funeral.

"It had to happen—I don't know when or how, but it was inevitable," he was quoted as saying of Miss Monroe's death.

Miller became Miss Monroe's third husband in 1956 and they were divorced last year.

Meanwhile, the coroner's investigators prepared a series of tests to officially determine whether the 36-year-old actress accidentally or intentionally took the overdose of pills that investigators believe killed her.

MENTAL EVIDENCE

Coroner Theodore J. Curphey said psychiatric evidence would play an important part in the verdict.

"We will question her friends and others to determine her mood preceding death," the coroner said. "This is most necessary in a case where no notes were found with the body."

Our investigation so far shows that she did not die of natural death and we can make a presumptive opinion that death was due to an overdose of a drug.

He said it might be 48 hours before a verdict can be announced.

Thus in death the screen's sex goddess left behind the same mysterious personality contrast that she evinced in life.

As Marilyn Monroe, movie star, she was under a public microscope—exciting, wanted and mobbed by adoring fans.

He, more than a score of movies since her first big break in "The Asphalt Jungle" of 1950 had grossed $200 million.

At the banks that finance movies, her name on a contract meant unlimited credit for a producer.

OVER THE BRINK

Only her last two movies, "Let's Make Love" and "The Misfits," had been disappointing at the box office—a fact which distressed her.

Friends said she was distraught in recent weeks over being fired from the film "Something's Got to Give" by Twentieth Century-Fox Studio.

Marilyn has a history of a decade of tardiness, unexplained illnesses, sudden disappearances and failures to appear. But stu-

British Market Entry Deadlocks

LONDON (AP) — British newspapers tried today to salvage some hope out of the deadlock over Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

The papers said Sunday's breakdown in the seven-nation talks in Brussels would delay but not necessarily scotch Britain's chances of joining the prosperous European Economic Community.

The talks were recessed until October after France reportedly had not agreed Britain's demands for a free admission of farm exports from Canada, Australia and New Zealand should Britain become a partner in the EEC.

The government acknowledged that the delay assented hope of an agreement on Britain's entry into the economic community with France, Italy, West Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

The Laborite Daily Herald said the delay was embarrassing for Prime Minister Macmillan's government but "a political muddle is still a long way from a breakdown."

The Times said postponement was disappointing but better than some verbal compromise which the two sides would interpret differently.

Edward Heath, Lord Privy Seal, who represented Britain at the Brussels talks, reported to Macmillan after telling newsmen "We have covered as much ground as possible."

Heath insisted there had been broad agreement over many fields in commonwealth affairs. But another conference delegate, Dutch Economic Minister Jan de Pous, said the deadlock would make Britain's entry into the market impossible before 1964.

This was a hard political blow to Macmillan, who must schedule a general election by the fall of 1964 at the latest and who hoped that by then British participation in the Common Market would be boosting the British economy.

Coahoma Plans For Vaccinating Dogs All Day Thursday

COAHOMA — Arrangements have been made for vaccination of dogs and other warm-blooded pets against rabies here Thursday.

Owners are urged to bring their dogs and other pets to the fire station between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Thursday. Dr. A. M. Simpson, Big Spring, will be on hand to offer the anti-rabies vaccination.

A new ordinance has been adopted by the Coahoma city council requiring that all dogs be vaccinated against rabies and that owners be required to keep them up. The effective date will be after the vaccination clinic.

Walker Calls Stalingrad 'Propaganda'

DALLAS (AP) — The German siege of Stalingrad two decades ago was a Communist propaganda farce, former Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker asserted in an interview Sunday in the Dallas News.

Attributing his information to Pentagon briefing of top level officers in 1948 or 1949, Walker quoted former Lt. Gen. John O'Daniel as saying: "There was no great siege of Stalingrad. It was my impression it was a farce, built up to make Americans work night and day for production in the war effort."

The News said O'Daniel, now retired, substantiated at his San Diego, Calif., home Walker's account of the Pentagon report, but said he believed it was given in 1949 or 1950.

Walker resigned from the Army after being relieved as commander of the 24th Division. He was officially censured for trying to influence how his soldiers voted and for strong remarks about several prominent Americans.

Walker said the German army made no more than three direct attacks on Stalingrad and never assembled more than 3,000 troops outside that Russian city.

If the people of Stalingrad suffered during the fighting, Walker said, they presumably were being punished by Soviet Premier Josef Stalin. He added: "There were certain sectors, during and after the war, including Stalingrad, that gave Stalin trouble. He didn't mind imposing harsh controls—even to starving them to death."

A Defense Department spokesman said in Washington there would be no comment now on Walker's assertion.

The opening stage of the battle of Stalingrad began in 1942 when German troops, in an attempt to cross the Volga, occupied the northern part of the city but were stopped in their drive.

The Soviet army recaptured Stalingrad after a three-month battle that ended in February 1943. Russian officials said 365,000 German troops had been encircled and 91,000 taken alive.

Capt. Gerhard Humbert, who wrote the German Second Corps diary during the battle, said that "At one period, 30 German divisions were scrambling to get a foothold in the city ruins. Conditions were unbelievable. Men died of starvation and disease, froze to death, and were killed in bitter hand-to-hand fighting."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dynex®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation 22®. At all drug counters.

Reds Start New Tests

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) — The Soviet Union has launched a new nuclear test series with a super-bomb blast which Swedish scientists placed in the 40-megaton range, second only to the 50-megaton blast the Russians set off last October.

The new blast Sunday, apparently touched off at Soviet atomic test grounds in Arctic Siberia, came as no surprise to the West. Premier Khrushchev had announced his forces would have to resume testing because of the U.S.

"Pacific tests now being concluded. The U.S. State Department called the Soviet explosion a 'somber episode' but made clear it will not halt U.S. efforts to get a nuclear test ban.

The present problem before the world is not who tests last, but how we can rid the world of nuclear testing once and for all," said the department statement, referring to Soviet statements that they insisted on holding the last round of tests.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean returned to the Geneva disarmament conference Saturday with new Western compromise proposals for a test ban treaty. No date has been announced for presentation of the proposals to the conference.

Estimates varied as to the size of the Soviet explosion Sunday, believed touched off on the island of Novaya Zemlya about 1,350 miles east of Uppsala.

Uppsala University's Seismological Institute classified it in the range of 40 million tons of TNT and said it occurred at a higher altitude than the Soviet series of 1961.

A Norwegian scientist said his instruments showed only that it was smaller than the 50-megaton bomb set off Oct. 30.

The Japanese Meteorological Institute estimated the blast in the 20-megaton range.

Romney Entry Highlights Primaries For 3 States

By The Associated Press

Relatively quiet campaigns, highlighted by auto maker George Romney's plunge into partisan politics, come to an end Tuesday with primary elections in Michigan, Kansas and Missouri.

In all nominations for two governorships, two Senate seats and 34 House posts are at stake. Only in one of Kansas' two Republican senatorial campaigns has there been a spirited clash.

Another candidate was picked Saturday when Idaho Republicans nominated former Gov. Len Jordan for the Senate. He will seek election this fall to the seat vacated by the death last month of Sen. Henry C. Dworshak. The Republican convention action Saturday also made it likely that Jordan will be appointed by Gov. Robert F. Smyke to fill Dworshak's seat in the interim.

Idaho Democrats pick their senatorial candidate in a convention Aug. 18, with Rep. Grace Pfoz the favored candidate.

Romney, former president of American Motors and already mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate in 1964, has only taken opposition in Michigan's GOP gubernatorial primary tomorrow.

A last minute write-in campaign for Richard Durant, a member of the conservative John Birch Society, has been launched. Durant disavowed the move. He said he is for Romney.

Political observers will watch to see how Romney, who has waged a vigorous campaign, fares in total votes compared with Gov. John Swanson, who has no Democratic opposition in his bid for a second two-year term.

There is no senatorial election in Michigan this year, but the state gained an additional House seat in the 1960 census, and the winner will be determined on an at-large basis. Neither Republican former Rep. Alan Bentley or Democratic state chairman Neil Staehler has primary opposition.

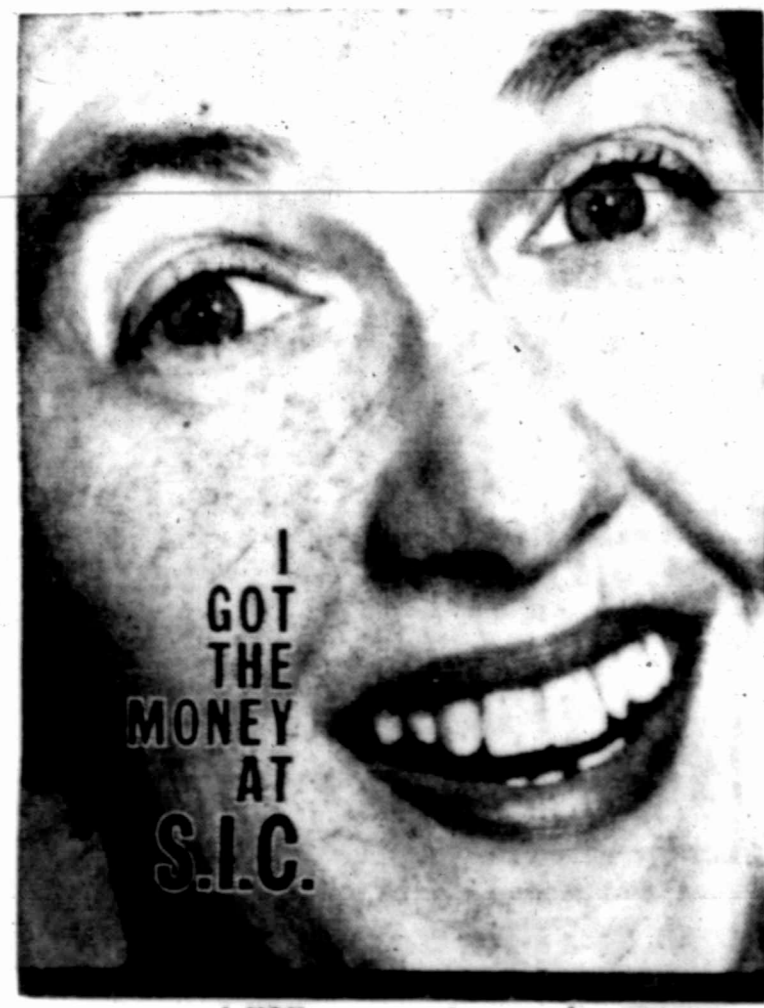

Hottest congressional fight is in the 4th District where four Republicans seek the GOP nomination to succeed the veteran Rep. Clare F. Hoffman, who is retiring.

Kansas voters chose two sets of senatorial candidates due to the death earlier this year of Sen. Andrew Schoenberg, a Republican

Born 17 Years Ago — Under A-Bomb

By OSCAR LIDEN
Managing Editor
San Jose, Calif. Mercury
HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP) — Hiroko Tomita celebrates her 17th birthday today.

That, in itself, is a miracle. By all odds this winsome school girl should never have survived her natal day, Aug. 6, 1945.

A few minutes after Hiroko was born, history's first combat atomic bomb exploded a mile away. Hiroshima was leveled. More than 78,000 people perished. The injured numbered 37,475.

The story of Hiroko's birth was told, simply but eloquently, through an interpreter as she knelt with her parents in the living room of their modest home before her visitors.

MOTHER REMEMBERS

The mother, Yoshiko, 45, remembered the day well.

"I was lying, face down, right there," she pointed to a corner of the little room. "My husband was beside me, watching the new baby. The midwife had just stepped outside. Two of our children, Yaeko, who was 7, and Hiroko, who was 5, had been sent outside to play. Another daughter, Sakaye, who was 8, was with friends in the country.

"There was an awful noise and heavy shaking, and our house came down. The roof was here," she indicated, by gestures, a slanted space about three feet high at its apex.

The newborn baby was hurled about 10 feet away. The father, Torao, was struck on the head by a timber.

"My only thought was to save the baby," Yoshiko said. "I tied a blanket around my middle as I was still bleeding, and crawled around to find the child. Then I wrapped a futon in a mattress-like pad around us both, and crawled out of the broken house. There were fires all around, so I ran for the Ota River."

FATHER'S STORY

At this point the father, a 51-year-old foundryman, speaking in a low voice, took up the story.

"I was mixed up, stunned by my hurting head, but I remembered the children outside. I found Yaeko crying, but she ran away from me. I was covered with blood, and she didn't know me. Finally, I caught her."

"I could not find Hiroko, so I got away from the fires all around, we ran to the river."

Three days later, they found

Hiroko's body buried under debris, still elapsing a doll.

The hours and days that followed were filled with scenes of indescribable horror for the Tomitas and the other survivors.

Recalling the devastation of Aug. 6, 1945, a question arose: "What do you do after such an inferno?"

Tomita smiled. "We just pick up the pieces. One tries to live." Hiroshimans have built well. The city that rose phoenix-like from its ashes has grown to a bustling metropolis of 465,000.

OTHER DAUGHTERS

The two older Tomita daughters completed their schooling and Sakaye, now 25, is married and lives near here. Yaeko, 22, works for a rubber company and lives with the family.

Hiroko, "the atom bomb child," is studying for her exams at Hiroshima business school. She has two years to go.

Do the Tomitas feel any bitterness over the bomb? Mrs. Tomita replied:

"No, we understand it was a necessary part of war. It could not be helped. But we do not want war again. We must find ways to live without this awful thing."

How will the Tomitas celebrate Hiroko's birthday?

"They will not join in any mass demonstrations against nuclear weapons, such as occur annually here on Aug. 6 when throngs chant, 'No more A-bombs' and agitators seek to whip up disarmament sentiment in the World Peace Memorial Park."

Rather, the family will join in silent prayers offered by residents all over the city — prayers for peace and understanding.

Marshall Beauty Texas' Candidate

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas candidate for Miss America this year is Penny Lee Rudd, a brown-haired, brown-eyed beauty from Marshall.

Judges picked the East Texas girl as winner in a Miss Texas pageant Saturday.

Miss Rudd, 19, is a University of Texas junior who measures 34-22-34, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rudd of Marshall.

Linna Rogers, 21, Miss Oak Cliff, was first runnerup. The next finisher was LaNelle Gallant, 21, entered as Miss Waco.

We Thought That Was The Riviera's Flag

GERONA, Spain (AP) — Four young Englishmen were in jail today for trial on charges of insulting the Spanish flag by replacing it with the lower half of a bikini. Police said the men were swimming with two British girls on the Costa Brava when one of the men dived and snatched the bikini pants from one of the girls. He ran to the flagpole on the beach, hauled down the Spanish flag and replaced it with the bikini piece. "We intended no harm," one Englishman told police.

Lad Charged In 5 Deaths

BROOKINGS, S.D. (AP) — A boy, honor student in high school, today faced a murder charge in the rifle slayings of all five members of the farm family next door. State's Atty. Gordon Myrdal said he would file a charge of murder against the boy, 16. A murder conviction can bring the death sentence in South Dakota if a jury votes a unanimous verdict. The youth appears before Judge Walter M. Aaberg and he then can be identified publicly. A state statute forbids identification of arrested juveniles until they appear in court. Bodies of Hugh Paulson, 44; Mrs. Paulson, 35; and their three daughters, Karlyn, 13; Anita, 9; and Lenne, 6, were found in their home near Volga Saturday. Karlyn's body, nude and bound, was in an upstairs bedroom. The others, downstairs, had been tied and foot. Vernon Rude, the county coroner, said the boy admitted shooting the five Friday night because "I had to do something." Rude said the youth told officers he tied the others and ordered Karlyn to go upstairs and undress. The boy then went upstairs and tied up the girl, Rude said.

Some Of Famed Star's Last Words

NEW YORK (AP) — "I was never used to being happy, so that wasn't something I ever took for granted." The words came from a beautiful young woman—the brightest movie star of her generation who in the eyes of many Americans had every reason to be happy. Her name was Marilyn Monroe. She was found dead Sunday.

Marilyn made the statement in an interview printed in the current issue of Life Magazine. Here, in her own words, are some of the late star's views on her life, her fame and her art. "When I was 5, I think that's when I started wanting to be an actress—I loved to play. I didn't like the world around me because it was kind of grim—but I loved to play house, and it was like you could make your own home daries."

More Heat For Texas

Some of my foster families used to send me to the movies to get me out of the house and there I'd sit all day and stay into the night—up in front, there with the screen so big a little kid all alone, and I loved it. "When I was older, it was the creative part that kept me going—trying to be an actress. I enjoy acting when you really hit it right. And I guess I've always had too much fantasy to be only a housewife. "And I want to say that the people—if I am a star—the people made me a star, no studio, no person, but the people did. An actor is not a machine, no matter how much they want to say you are. Creativity has got to start with humanity, and when you're a human being, you feel, you suffer, you're gay, you're sick, you're nervous or what ever. "Real glamor, it's based on femininity. I think that sexuality is only attractive when it's natural and spontaneous. We are all born sexual creatures, thank God, but it's a pity so many people despise and crush this natural gift. Art, real art, comes from it—everything. "Fame to me certainly is only a temporary and partial happiness—even for a wife, and I was brought up a wife. But fame is not really for a daily diet, that's not what fulfills you. It warms you a bit, but the warming is only temporary. "I was never used to being happy, so that wasn't something I ever took for granted. You see, I was brought up differently from the average American child because the average child is brought up expecting to be happy—that's his successful, happy and on time."

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH AP Newsfeatures
 Bulan Bahasa Kebangsaan which means "National Language Month" in Malaya is being honored by the Federation of Malaya with three new postage stamps in triangular design. Each stamp will feature a Palyria palm leaf and the motto "Bahasa Jawa Bangsa—Language Is the Life of the Nation." The 10 sen is purple and brown, the 20 sen is green and brown, the 50 sen is red and brown. The U. S. Post Office Department has relaxed its recent ruling which stated that requests for first-day covers must be received five days in advance of the issuance date. This rule has been modified temporarily so that requests made be received up to the first day of issuance. One of the reasons for this relaxation is that the Post Office Department has been late with its advance notices on the dates of issuance for new United States stamps. The guess in many quarters is that the Post Office Department was awaiting Congressional action on the proposal for a 5 cent rate for surface mail and it was necessary to wait to find out whether the new commemoratives would be 4 cent or 5 cent stamps. It is believed that as soon as the new rate would go into effect the five-day ruling will again be announced. Ethiopia has issued a new stamp honoring the second anniversary of the presence of the Ethiopian contingent for the United Nations Forces in the Congo. The new stamp simultaneously honors the 20th anniversary of the birth of Emperor Haile Selassie. The Ethiopian brigade left the Congo on July 10, 1960 and was completely on duty by July 22. The central design of the stamp depicts an Ethiopian soldier outlined against a map of the Congo. In the upper right hand corner is a vignette portrait of King Haile Selassie. The words "Collective Security" appear at the upper level. Belgium has issued its new semi-postals featuring birds at the Antwerp Zoo. Illustrated on the stamps are the following birds: Rock Cuck, Red Lark, Senegalese Turaco, Short beaked Toucan, Great Bird of Paradise, and Congolese Peacock. A new pamphlet entitled "Astronomy on Stamps" has been written by Alphonse P. Mayernik. It lists approximately 500 stamps based on astronomical subjects. Mayernik omitted allegorical issues which had merely astronomical representations or symbols such as a star and crescent. He also omitted rocket and astronomical stamps which do not include celestial bodies.

Reverberations Over Death Of MM Come In From World

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — From London, from Paris and around the world came reverberations of the shock caused by the death of Marilyn Monroe.

The news even penetrated the Iron Curtain. In Moscow, Tass reported:

"The famous American film star Marilyn Monroe died today at Los Angeles at the age of 36. The official medical conclusion points out that death was caused by an extra large dose of soporific. A Los Angeles official coroner stated that suicide, in his opinion, was not excluded."

In Paris, director Billy Wilder, who directed the star in "Some Like It Hot," said:

"Maybe she was tough to work with. Maybe she wasn't even an actress. But it was worth a week's torment to get those three luminous minutes on the screen."

In London, Sir Laurence Olivier agreed she was difficult to work with, but added:

"She could be incredibly sweet, most tenderly appealing, and very, very witty."

Olivier starred with her and directed her in "The Prince and The Showgirl." He blamed Hollywood for making her "the complete victim of ballyhoo and sensation."

French writer-director Jean Cocteau also blamed Marilyn's death on a public hungry for personal details of her life.

"This atrocious death will be a terrible lesson for those whose principal occupation consists in spying on and tormenting the film stars," he commented.

Marilyn's three ex-husbands offered only brief comment, or none at all.

who was Marilyn's first husband when she was 16, said: "I'm sorry." He was patrolling in a squad car, only 10 miles from her home, when reached for comment.

Her second husband, famed baseball player Joe DiMaggio, flew into Los Angeles from San Francisco shortly after learning of Marilyn's death, but went directly to a hotel where he remained in seclusion. He made no statement.

Playwright Arthur Miller, Marilyn's third husband, declined comment at his home in Roxbury, Conn. He said only that he hadn't decided "whether to go to Hollywood (for the funeral)."

Clifton Webb, who was credited by Marilyn with being the first Hollywood name to befriend her, commented: "I was deeply, deeply fond of her. I am so shocked. People should have been more tolerant of her."

"Few people really knew how upset she was," said Edie Adams, widow of Ernie Kovacs. "I feel just terrible... She often called to talk over her problems with Ernie and me."

Dean Martin, the actress' intended co-star in the ill-fated film "Something's Got To Give," remarked: "I just can't believe it. She was a warm and wonderful girl. I was anxiously hoping we would finish the picture together." (Martin refused to continue in the film after Miss Monroe was fired. The movie was later scrapped.)

Gene Kelly said he had a date with Miss Monroe Sunday to discuss a future musical, and spoke to her on the phone three days ago.

"She was in excellent spirits—very happy and very excited about her future projects," he said. "I just don't understand."

Mismanagement, Apathy Blamed In Sugar Shortage

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's top agricultural official says mismanagement and apathy in farm co-operatives are partly to blame for a drop in this year's raw sugar harvest.

In a speech delivered to sugar workers more than two weeks ago and made public Sunday, Carlos Rafael Rodriguez said the harvest could have been more than 5 million tons. Government figures put the harvest at 4.8 million tons of raw sugar.

Paddy Chayefsky Was Prophetic In 'The Goddess'

NEW YORK (AP) — Marilyn Monroe's life story was said to have been the basis for a 1957 movie, "The Goddess," in which—ironically enough—the heroine has a bottle of sleeping pills in her hands just before the final fadeout.

The Paddy Chayefsky screenplay told of a beautiful girl with a sorry home life who grows up in the depression years. She lives so insecure she marries, at 16, the first man who gives her a second look.

She leaves him, goes Hollywood, becomes a screen sex bomb, makes millions of dollars, buys a showplace-type mansion—but isn't happy.

An emotional wreck, she has a bottle of sleeping pills in her hands at the movie's end.

Parr Again Reigns In Duval County

By CLARENCE LAROCHE
San Antonio Express State Editor
Written for The Associated Press

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP)—George Parr, the Duke of Duval, again is tall in the saddle. He sits on his political horse as if he had never been bucked off.

Just 8½ years ago, Parr was left staggering by combined state and federal investigations that brought hundreds of indictments and long years of court action. Courts, including the U.S. Supreme Court, have reversed or voided many of Parr's trials. The only serious charge left on the docket is an income tax rap in Austin and this one has been waiting a long time.

The long years of court battles drained Parr's treasury. He took voluntary bankruptcy in 1958, saying he was broke. Today, he swears, he lives on borrowed money from friends and relatives.

But the man who was once political boss of 10 counties still lives in good style. He and his young second wife live in a massive two-story Spanish style mansion. He drives a late model car and dresses in natty business suits.

Parr remains in the background, however, and lets his nephew, Duval County Judge Archer Parr, and County Commissioner Dan Tobin Jr. carry on in the public glare. His domain has shrunk to a single county, Duval, and part of Starr County.

"George Parr is no longer seen on the streets of San Diego as in former years," said Donato Sena, a founder of the Freedom Party and one of Parr's political foes.

"But there's no doubt who's calling the shots."

A Republican said Parr uses his nephew and Tobin as front men. "I don't tell Archer and Danny what to do," Parr said. "They would look silly if they would tell everyone who came to see them to 'Go see George.'"

"If they need advice they can come to me," Parr said. "And if I can give it to them, I do."

Remnants of the old Freedom Party, founded to fight Parr, have gone over to the Republicans. Most of Parr's other political opponents have become Republicans.

He has been accused of many things over the years. One of the most often repeated accusations is that at election time Duval County hires as many as 700 extra workers.

"No, that's not quite correct," Parr said seriously. "Then he grunted."

"I would say the figure is 699."

"That is seasonal employment," Tobin—who used to be a Parr opponent—said. "and it's perfectly legal."

Duval County and Parr got back into the news recently when Clarence Shroeder, the GOP county chairman, was jailed for refusing to turn over election records. He said Parr forces wanted to alter the records.

"Why should we want to get into the ballot boxes?" Parr said. "We know how people voted here. We know who are with us and who are against us."

"I'll tell you, all this ruckus was started to help pull votes for the Republicans to the state level—not on the local level," he said.

"As a matter of fact," said Archer Parr, "I think I know the issues the Republicans will raise in their campaign."

He checked them off on each finger as he said:

"Duval County...
"Box thirteen...
"Lyndon Johnson...
"And Billie Sol Estes..."

DEAR ABBY

The Author Of A Prayer

DEAR READERS: I recently published a prayer entitled, "Slow Me Down, Lord," and asked help from my readers in identifying its author. I received letters ascribing it to Norman Vincent Peale, Cardinal Cushing, a Methodist preacher in Bridgeport, Conn., a Jewish chaplain in Texas, the president of Redlands University in California and a Chicago advertising executive who is supposed to have composed it while reflecting on the hurrying masses before his office window.

But I believe I have found the actual author. He is Orin L. Crain, secretary-treasurer of Typographical Union No. 283, Oklahoma City, Okla. He wrote it five years ago while in Indianapolis. It was intended as a "gentle reminder" for employees who work at a steady pace without hurrying to better work and more of it than those who need a slowing down.

Mr. Crain wrote in his letter to me that the "prayer" had never been copyrighted. He sent a copy of it to his son, who was then studying to be a minister.

"The one you published," wrote Mr. Crain, "is the gilded-lily version. I am sending you the original. I am well paid if it makes you happy. Keep it or share it with your friends. Orin L. Crain."

—SLOW ME DOWN, LORD
"Slow me down, Lord,
Ease the pounding of my heart
By the quieting of my mind.
Steady my hurried pace
With a vision of the eternal reach of time."

O. L. Crain,
Eastertime, 1957.

DR. AND MRS. J. F. HOWELL JR., AND SONS

Dr. And Mrs. Howell Jr. On Way To San Antonio

Mrs. J. F. Howell Jr., accompanied by sons, John Franklin III and Clemons Alfred, left Big Spring today for Sonora where they will meet her husband, Dr. Howell. From Sonora, they will travel on to San Antonio where they will live for the next two years.

During the past three weeks, Mrs. Howell and sons have stayed with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smith, 712 Dallas, while Dr. Howell completed indoctrination training at Gunter Air Force Base in Montgomery, Ala.

During that period, Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their daughter, the former Jo Ann Smith, and their grandsons visited Six Flags Over Texas at Arlington and visited friends and relatives in south Texas.

Dr. Howell recently completed a four-year period of internship and residency in Henry Ford Hos-

Duplicate Winners Announced

Nine tables were used in play in Sunday duplicate bridge games at Cosden Country Club.

Winners in the north-south section were Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, first; Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. Anne Hardy, second; Mrs. Charles Tompkins and Mrs. Tom South, third; Mrs. Flora Bell Wright and Harvey Williamson, fourth.

Placing in the east-west division were Mrs. R. E. Dobbins and Mrs. Bill Emerson, first; Mrs. J. Y. Robb and Mrs. Champ Rainwater, second; Mrs. Glenn Riley of Garden City and Mrs. Joe Herbert, third; Mrs. Lloyd Nalls and Mrs. Fern Durham, fourth.

Miss Martin Is Party Honoree

Miss Sharon Martin, bride-elect of Fred D. White, was complimented at a combination personal and miscellaneous pre-nuptial party Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. J. A. Coffey, 103 Jefferson. Assisting Mrs. Coffey were cohostesses, Mrs. S. M. Anderson, Mrs. John F. Smith and Mrs. S. M. Smith.

Guests were served by Mrs. J. F. Smith from a table laid with white linen cutwork and decorated with a mass arrangement of giant yellow daisies and a bowl of fruit. China appointments were used in serving.

Mrs. S. M. Smith presided at the register which was signed by 35 guests.

Special guests were Mrs. A. L. Martin, mother of the honoree, and Mrs. J. A. Whisenand, mother of the prospective bridegroom.

For the occasion, Miss Martin chose to wear a cherry pink two-piece suit accented with an orchid print blouse.

The engaged couple will be married Aug. 26 at the First Baptist Church in Big Spring.

Princess Anne Turning Into A Royal Tomboy

LONDON, AP.—Princess Anne, who'll be 12 on Aug. 15 — is erupting into the first full fledged royal tomboy in memory.

A born athlete, she has her father's love of speed, her mother's love of horses, a touch of her aunt Princess Margaret's independence and a robust sense of adventure all her own.

As a child, her mother Queen Elizabeth II was shy and retiring, a girl with delicate coloring and soft blue eyes, studious and obedient, a sort of royal hot-house flower.

Not so the Queen's daughter. Her Royal Highness Princess Anne Elizabeth Alice Louise.

She took her first plane ride at the age of 4 — and exclaimed in her excitement:

JOINED BROWNIES AT 9
She attended her first circus

when she was 7 and made so much joyous noise that her older brother Prince Charles had to shush her.

She went to her first ballet at the age of 8 and officially opened her first bazaar when 9.

She also insisted on joining the Brownies, the junior order of the Girl Guides that same year.

Anne drove Prince Philip's midge car when she was 10, and took driving lessons on a full-sized automobile from her uncle-in-law, Lord Snowdon, a month after her 11th birthday.

She became a good rough and tumble ice skater at 11 and was a bridesmaid for the third time before her 11th birthday.

Nearly two years younger than Prince Charles she can outrun him, outstride him and, on occasion, outwrestle him.

When she saw her father playing polo, she returned to Buckingham Palace and introduced bicycle polo.

HAS RECKLESS SPIRIT
Not too many years ago, she and Charles were spending the weekend at nearby Windsor Castle.

With Anne leading the way they found an exciting door to the roof and a few minutes later, to the horror of gardeners working 100 feet below, she and her brother were sighted playing hide and seek on the palace's roof.

Alarmed at her daughter's reckless spirit of adventure, the Queen gave orders that when the children were at Windsor all doors and passages to the roof must be locked.

Undismayed, Anne found a secret entrance to an old tower, and using newspapers as a sled, led Charles in a series of slides down one of its slanting walls.

This caused the Queen to issue another order — bar all openings to the towers.

JOKE ON PAINTER
At Buckingham Palace 2½ years ago, curly-haired Anne watched a painter decorating a sentry box.

She had in a clump of garden bushes as the man mounted a ladder with a can of paint, leaving another can on the ground at the foot of the ladder.

She dashed from the bushes, picked up the can on the ground, rushed silently back to the shrubs and hid the paint.

In a few minutes the painter descended and to his astonishment, discovered the second can missing.

He remounted the ladder, apparently thinking he'd taken it to the top of the box.

While he was at the top of the ladder, Anne returned the can. Back down the ladder came the painter and he looked shaken when he discovered the can of paint — just where it hadn't been a few moments before.

SHE'S RAGTIME COWBOY
Possessed of great energy, she likes to help the palace maids with their dusting and once asked them:

When I grow up, do you suppose I can dust the palace all by myself?

Some years ago she liked to race through the palace grounds dressed in a cowboy suit. This caused palace gardeners to call her Ragtime Cowboy Anne.

Actress Advises To Let Husbands Flourish Naturally

By The Associated Press

"Let your husband be an individual instead of reminding him that all the other men do this or that better," pretty blonde actress Barbara Eden advises young brides.

Start out on the right foot, she says. The psychology of trying to make over your husband like your friend's husband is all wrong. She has been married four years to actor-artist Michael Ansara.

"Most men like to cook occasionally, but not Mike. He hates to barbecue and won't go near the kitchen, so why should I insist," she says.

"You've got to take a mature outlook toward marriage. A wife should give 100 per cent, not 50 per cent as many newlyweds seem to think. It's the wife who must keep the marriage on an even keel. Keep trying to remember why you fell in love with your husband, rather than thinking up ways to make him over."

Robert E. Lee Is Winner This Time

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Grant surrenders to Robert E. Lee. No it's not garbled history. It's the latest development in a storybook romance with historical overtones. Gay Elizabeth Grant, a slim 19-year-old blonde, has made known her betrothal to Robert E. Lee of Washington, D.C. He's a direct descendant — nobody knows how far removed — of the famous Southern general.

Lee, 29, explained that he and Miss Grant are under pressure to hold their September wedding at Appomattox where Gen. Lee surrendered to Gen. Ulysses Grant.

But this surrender ceremony will take place in a church in suburban Oakwood.

What's the favorite subject of discussion of this Grant and Lee? You guessed it—the Civil War.

Wilkersons Vacation In New Mexico

GARDEN CITY (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Joy Wilkerson and their daughter, Juda, accompanied by Mrs. Wilkerson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sparkman of Burney, and Gary Powell of San Antonio left Sunday for a week of vacationing at various points of interest in northern New Mexico.

Gary and Bobbie Williams of Hamilton are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Joe Riley of Garden City and the Donald Plageneses of St. Lawrence.

Mrs. T. J. Sunday and Mrs. Jena Clark of Colorado City are visiting this week with their sisters, Misses Myrtle, Nettie and Monda McMasters and Mrs. Clay Wells.

Mrs. Rose Calverley has returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Loyd Flannery of Waco.

Elks Couples Tell Duplicate Winners

Members of the Elks Couples Club used nine tables in play in a Saturday evening session of duplicate bridge at the Elks Lodge.

Winners in the north-south division were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Riley of Garden City, first; Mr. and Mrs. Winston Harper, second; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Patton, third; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haller, fourth.

East-west winners were Mrs. Anne Hardy and Harvey Williamson, first; Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Price; Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, fourth.

Wives Club Holds A Pizza Party

The British Wives Club held a pizza supper Thursday evening in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Gas building. Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Winn and Mrs. Vince Broadwater.

During the meeting, Mrs. James Ambrose was elected vice president. Two new members, Mrs. Ralph Harmon and Mrs. Gene Keeler were welcomed.

Winners in party games were Mrs. Harmon, Mrs. Hollis Russell and Mrs. Vern Cox.

It was announced that Mrs. Ambrose and Mrs. Russell will be hostesses to a welcome-home party for the club president, Mrs. David Bayless, who recently returned from a visit in England. The affair will be held in the home of Mrs. Ambrose, 129-A Dow. All members and British women are urged to attend.

Flatons Visit In James Calmes Home

Weekend guests in the James Calmes home, 2703 Rebecca Drive, were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Flaton of Fort Worth. The Calmes had not seen the Flatons in four years.

The Flatons returned to Fort Worth Sunday evening.

First-Course Salad

Chick peas may be bought canned. They make an interesting first-course salad when they are drained and marinated in a well-seasoned French dressing. Serve them on salad greens topped with lots of minced parsley.

Bake Pork Chops

It's not necessary to pre-brown pork chops on top of the range if you bake them first in a covered casserole, then uncover the casserole for the last 15 minutes or so.

BUSINESS LUNCHEON

Mrs. Billy Johnston Is Hostess For WIC

Members of the Big Spring Women in Construction group gathered in the home of Mrs. Billy Johnston, 2107 Runnels, Thursday for a salad luncheon and business session.

During the business session, delegates were named for the National WIC Convention to be held Sept. 14-16 at Oklahoma City, Okla. Those named were Mrs. Tom McAdams and Mrs. Johnston. Alternates were Mrs. Tom Enloe and Mrs. C. C. Cheate.

The group planned a bosses banquet for Aug. 25 at the home of Mrs. Raymond Dyess. The banquet will be in the form of a Hawaiian luau.

Members voted to submit Mrs. E. O. Worthan's name for the national nominating committee for officers.

Fourteen members, including a new member, Mrs. Nonie Burns, and a guest, Mrs. Johnny Hooper, were present.

GRANT'S COMES TO BIG SPRING... first store opens here Tuesday

Many Departments In Grant's Store

An atmosphere just for shopping has been built into the new W. T. Grant store at the College Park Shopping Center, according to Earl Cole, manager.

A modern air conditioned building has been provided. Decorative colors add to the pleasantness of the store. The ceiling is cushioned to hold down sound and attractive display counters are manned by courteous employees to help the customer find any article available easily and quickly.

More than 22,000 square feet of the 26,000 square feet of space has been allocated to display of merchandise. And, the departments have been designed to fit together as "shops within a store" to make shopping easier. Related articles are all displayed in one general area for that type of merchandise.

General areas into which the store is divided are fashions, hardware, variety goods, dry goods and gardening.

Fashions include the newest of sound fashion trends picked by 22 buying experts who have easy access to the fashion market. Evidence of the leadership in the fashion field was publicized recently when the Honorable Robert F. Wagner, Mayor of New York City, awarded a certificate of appreciation to Grant's for its efforts and cooperation in a campaign to maintain New York City's place as the fashion leader of the United States.

Fashions include the company's own Joyce Lane label. The fashions take in all age groups, from infants on up, including such hard-to-fit groups as girls in their teens and young, growing lads.

Hardware includes all the general accessories and tools. Even tires and automobile accessories are included. The variety store covers a larger area which includes items ranging from pet supplies to furniture to radios and televisions. Grant markets its own Bradford radio and television. The list of dry goods is almost endless.

The Garden Shop, located as a wing to the south of the main store, offers a complete line of gardening equipment such as mowers, tillers, etc. fertilizers and green plants.

To top off the wide variety of goods available, the customer can be sure of getting S&H Green Stamps with every purchase.

Firm Considers Customer Service Important Item

Customer services, those almost unnoticed niceties which make shopping more enjoyable, are one of the most important items in W. T. Grant stores.

Perhaps highest on the list with the store is its guarantee to please, which stands behind each purchase. Satisfaction is guaranteed or the customer's money is refunded. Earl Cole, manager, said high quality merchandise is offered in Grant stores and the company is glad to stand behind every product sold, he added.

Other services to make shopping easier are the large parking lot at the front of the store. To allow more customer parking, employees use an area behind the store.

Once inside the store, the customer is offered more services to ease and speed his shopping. Canvas baskets are available for lighter loads of merchandise. For heavier or bulkier items, there are metal carts which also have carrying facilities for small children. Larger children can be kept entertained on the decorative mall to the south of the store.

Three types of credit have been found to be preferred by customers. Upward of two million families avail themselves of the convenience of buying what they need when they need it with Grant credit.

Fifteen years ago, the Grant Company launched its first successful customer credit program on a test basis. Today, every Grant store across the nation is the headquarters for family shoppers who scoop up bargains at sale time and select family needs when assortments are complete.

Some persons prefer Grant's 30-day charge account, which brings the convenience of monthly shopping without cash. There is no credit charge when the bill is paid within 30 days. A helpful feature of this method is the handy "Instant Credit Recorder" form sent out each month. It serves as identification in any Grant store and since sales are recorded on it, the customer knows just how much he has spent at any time during the month.

A second feature is the option plan which accompanies it. If the budget will not permit payment in full at the month's end, the customer can convert the 30-day account into a monthly payment account.

With the Credit Coupon Plan, customers can get $50, $100, $200 or more in handy credit coupons which can be spent in any department of any Grant store, just like cash.

The third charge plan is the special account for larger purchases. Convenient terms can be arranged, with no down payment required, and payments may be extended up to 24 months.

Articles may be put into lay-away for 60 days with only $1 down, Cole said.

Several other businesses, not yet ready, will open later. They are Phillips 66 Service Station, College Park Drug Store, ladies ready-to-wear, cafeteria, dentist's office, beauty shop, and Modesta's Gifts.

A "Sneak Preview" will be held tonight for all businesses where families may become acquainted with the shopping center. The preview will be held from 6 to 9 p.m.

All parking area lights will be turned on at 7 p.m. and off at midnight. Security lights will remain on all night. The center's big electric sign will burn brightly all night.

The water fountain in the garden area at the southeast corner of the center will be turned on at 9 a.m. daily and its lights will come on with the parking area lights.

Employee parking will not be

Texaco Believes It Has First 8-Stage Producer

HOUSTON (AP)—Texaco, Inc. reports it has completed an oil and gas well believed to be the first eight-stage producer on record.

The well is the No. 1 E. M. Beckenhauer, 3 1/2 miles southwest of Francis near the middle Texas coast. It is in the Francis field of Jackson County.

Initial completion was made in the "X" zone through perforations at 7,022.66 feet. The calculated flow was 128 barrels of 43.7 gravity oil per day through a 12-64-inch choke.

The remaining seven zones produce gas. All seven record free flows ranging from 921,000 cubic feet to 2,226,000 cubic feet a day.

permitted on the customer parking area. Ample room has been provided at the rear of the center for all employees' cars.

Bicycle riding on the walkway under the canopy in front of the center will not be permitted. Store managers who see anyone riding a bicycle on the walkway have been asked to take immediate steps to prevent it for safety reasons.

Definite store hours, for opening and closing, will be worked out at a later date, but for the present the opening time is set at 9 a.m. Some stores may open earlier, especially the grocery, barber shop, and the cleaning shop. Closing hours may vary also, but evening hours will be observed.

Streamers or banners, for advertising purposes, may be allowed on the center provided they are not longer than 30 feet.

Center managers have agreed that special attractions, like antique auto shows, square dance festivals, and other functions, may be held on the parking area during days or hours when businesses are not open.

Helium-filled balloons will be given to children during the opening Tuesday, and some stores have provided for special treats and favors to early customers.

College Park Shopping Center will pull off all wraps Tuesday morning and seven business houses will begin serving customers. A formal opening will be held later in the year when more merchants are ready for opening.

Mayor George Zachariah will cut the big ribbon to the center in front of Grant's on the parking area at 8:30 a.m. Managers, assisted by representatives of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce Red Carpet corps, will cut ribbons to the individual stores shortly before 9 a.m. for the official opening.

The first seven places ready for customers are Safeway Stores, Lewis Variety Store, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., Cauley and Smith, Optometrists, College Park Barber Shop, Grant's and College Park Cleaners.

CITY'S SECOND SAFEWAY STORE... located in the College Park Shopping Center

Safeway Opens Modern Store In College Park Center

The College Park Safeway Store, built on the latest architectural design and equipped with the most modern fixtures, is set up for the convenience of customers throughout. The more than 19,200 square feet of floor space has shelving and bins spaced so that customers may pass in the aisles without crowding.

The main floor is approximately 150 feet wide by 126 feet deep. Seven checking stands of the latest design take up a large portion of the front entrance for customers is from two sides with automatic door-opening pads outside and in. Baskets and carts are available from both sides.

The curved ceiling has acoustical material and four huge curved beams of laminated lumber which support the roof and are exposed under the ceiling blocks. Fluorescent lighting gives daylight effect and spotlights are placed down the center to give extra lighting to the frozen food bin in the center of the floor.

The refrigerated produce bins and racks are on the west side of the building. The entire west wall is covered with a refrigeration unit and another bin type is on the floor between the wall and the first food racks.

The meat section is along the east wall. An open-top refrigeration-type rack will give customers a full glimpse of the ready-wrapped meat. The cutting room is between the display refrigeration unit and the east wall. Smaller refrigeration bins, with open tops, will be on the floor between the wall racks and food shelves.

Poultry and dairy products refrigeration units are along the rear wall.

The bakery racks, with mirror and formica backs are just to the west of the center frozen food bins and well toward the front of the store.

A convenience found in the new store will be the office, cashier's window and bottle-return at the west front of the building, easy to find for customers.

The store will have meat, produce, perishable and frozen foods, grocery, drug and non-food item departments, with all clearly marked.

45 To Be Employed At Safeway Store

The new Safeway store in College Park Shopping Center will employ 45 workers in all departments to provide top service to customers. In addition to the manager, assistant manager and porter, there will be seven market employees, three in produce, 12 courtesy clerks, 12 checkers and cashiers and 16 male clerks.

Many of the personnel are experienced Safeway employees from the other local store located on Gregg Street and from other stores in other communities. Manager of the store is John R. Taylor, who was manager of the Gregg Street store for three years prior to his present appointment. Taylor has 20 years of experience with the Safeway Company, having started with them in 1942 in Plain Springs, Okla., as a food clerk. He left the company for three years during World War II to serve in the armed forces. In 1948 he resumed the company in Dallas where he worked his way up through the ranks as department manager, assistant manager, retail manager and finally store manager. # Odessa Lumber Building Burns ODessa, N.Y. AP — Flames and explosions caused by lightning rapped through a 2½-acre lumber company building on the outskirts of Odessa Sunday causing damage estimated at a minimum of $1.5 million.

Firemen said the blaze erupted in the Cotton & Hanson Lumber Co. after lightning struck the building's carpentry shop which contained thousands of feet of dried lumber.

Violent Death Toll Reaches 28

Texas counted 28 violent week-end deaths including 13 in traffic. The latest deaths included those from West Texas.

Debra Wharton, 5, of Odessa drowned Sunday in Lake Bridgeport, northwest of Fort Worth. The child wandered away from a family reunion picnic.

An air force captain from Lowry AFB at Denver was killed and six members of his family injured, three seriously in a car-truck collision near Amarillo Saturday. He was Howard Gilliland.

Grant's Emphasizes The Friendly Spirit

There is a tradition of friendliness in the Grant's Company reaching back to Mr. Grant's first store in 1906. Earl Cole, store manager, said last week, "We intend to maintain this spirit in the Big Spring store."

Cole heads up a staff of some 50 persons who have worked to open the store and plan the company operation. He said the staff would level out at between 50-60 persons after the grand opening festivities.

At the end of Grant's first year of business, he gave credit for his store's success to the store girls' loyalty and enthusiasm," Cole said. "That same attitude prevails in the company today."

The Big Spring store is primarily a home-town enterprise in regard to employees," he pointed out. "With the exception of myself and assistants, all personnel were employed here."

Cole's assistant is Paul Fiest and Elmer Robinson is the district merchandiser. Cole is a native of Bathurst, Ky., where he attended public schools. He received his business administration degree from Andrew Jackson Business University in 1954. He joined Grant's as a management trainee going to work in a Nashville, Tenn. store.

After his training period, he went to work in Greenville, S.C., as the district merchandiser, and assignments at Knoxville, Tenn., and Lexington, N.C. followed. He was promoted to assistant manager at Birmingham Ala. and successively held the same post at Montgomery, Ala., and Chattanooga, Tenn. Then he was

Lewis Store Has Specialty In Giftware

The newest feature of the new Lewis Five and Ten Store in College Park Shopping Center is an innovation in giftwares, according to Jerry Caughman, manager.

Only one other department like it exists in Texas. It was specially designed for the new store here. It will have on display items never before offered in Big Spring.

All merchandise is strictly top quality," Caughman said. "The area, located to the left as the customer enters the store is fully carpeted and displays are highlighted with indirect lighting. Glass shelves are backed with mirrors for reflected beauty."

Another new feature of the store is a snack bar where hamburgers, sandwiches, drinks, ice creams and all the requirements for a quick snack or a refreshing break are available.

The racks and counters of the new store offer a wider assortment of goods than has been available at any of the other four Lewis Stores. Most of the 7,200 feet of floor space is given to displays.

"We are not adding many new items because we have always had a good assortment of merchandise," Caughman said. "Instead, we are expanding the selection within the items."

Just as the shopping center offers the customer a choice of a variety of stores, each designed to meet a special need, so also is the interior of the Lewis Store set up into departments to make shopping easy.

Hardware for instance and its related items are adjacent to each other. The wide assortment includes paints, household equipment and electrical supplies.

Clothing is offered for all ages from infants to adults. It includes both outer and inner wear. Other departments offer costume jewelry, cosmetics, sewing equipment, towels, linens, lampshades and school supplies.

Grant Built Mammoth Chain On Sale Of Smaller Items

William T. Grant parlayed a sound idea and $1,000 into a nationwide family of stores.

Grant was born in Stevensville, Pa., on June 25, 1878, the son of a modest flour miller and descendant of a family who emigrated to Massachusetts in the early 1630's. At an early age he set about supplementing the family budget. He had the idea of selling packets of soap and eventually, through high school, he took a regular job in a retail store. He became a student of retailing, adding to his knowledge about the path to success with each succeeding job.

It was while working as the manager of a department store shoe section in Salem, Mass., that Grant found the answer to his quest for a different and surefire idea for a store. He noted that 25-cent items displayed on large counters at the front of the store drew crowds and sold out fast. Here he decided is the business for me. Fast sales turnover and no fitting problems.

With his $1,000 savings, he persuaded his three employers to back him in the new enterprise on Dec. 8, 1906, on the ground floor of the YMCA building in Lynn, Mass. Advertised as the W. T. Grant 25c Department Store, it set out to fill family needs in the pricing gap between 5c and the stores already in operation and the department stores. Coupling his flair for showmanship with his conviction that people would respond to his efforts to give them more for their money, Grant proceeded to prove his theories.

He had a customer's point of view because of his theory that he was a buyer for the public rather than merely a seller. In it, his first store was basically a self-selection store which invited customers to serve themselves.

He had a knack of winning the cooperation of his people. He regarded his sales people as managers of the section in which they worked and encouraged them to take responsibility for its operation and rewarded them according to their performance.

He was one of the first to use the word "department" in his stores. He had a knack of winning the cooperation of his people. He regarded his sales people as managers of the section in which they worked and encouraged them to take responsibility for its operation and rewarded them according to their performance.

But his new found venture was not long lived. As soon as work in other fields of endeavor in 1906, he established The Grant Foundation Inc., which engaged in activities which aided the development of children and youth. The approach has been through advancing the psychological understanding and knowledge of the public and especially the professions and institutions affecting the growing child. Grants exceeding a million dollars annually are being made to training programs, research and demonstrations, public education and youth services related to the field of mental health.

In recognition of his philanthropic interest in youth, Grant received the first annual Jacob Mervin Award for service to mankind from the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of New York in 1957 and in 1960 the University of Miami conferred upon him the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Humane Letters recognizing him as an imaginative merchant and philanthropist.

His other activities list members of the Voluntary Committee of Harvard Business School's advisors, trustee to the Department of Oriental Languages and Literature, Princeton University, an interest which came about through his older brother, the late Dr. Elihu Grant, biblical archeologist and author of note, who directed archaeological expeditions in Palestine in the late twenties. In 1951, he was elected to Distribution's Hall of Fame by the Boston Conference of Distribution, which cited him as an example of how a small merchant can build a great chain enterprise through application of sound principles of merchandising. Bates College of Maine conferred on him its honorary degree of Doctor of Law.

Today, over 1,000 W. T. Grant stores serve communities in 45 states.

Lewis Adds Fifth Store To Chain

PAUL CARROLL

Barber Shop Will Be Air Conditioned

The new College Park Barber Shop, located in the shopping center, will open Aug. 7 with the first refrigerated air conditioning in a Big Spring barber shop.

Paul Carroll, who has barbered in Big Spring for 29 years, will operate the shop. With him will be Rokee Carter, Jimmie Caldwell and James Powell. Powell has been with the shop since 1960. A resident of Louisiana but will return to Big Spring with his family to help with the barbering.

The shop will have six chairs but will start with four. A shoe shine stand will also be operated in the shop.

Fixtures will include the latest type chairs, colored blue, white and gold. Customer chairs are of the royal chrome type in blue and gold for comfort. Lavatories are also blue. Compressed air will be used for cleaning up.

Fluorescent light fixtures include a circular tube behind each chair and one for each two chairs at the back. Overhead fixtures are of the 40-watt type in blue and gold. A 25-watt vent light shadowless lighting.

Acrylic asbestos flooring is used in the shop and walls are wainscoted with ceramic tile.

No sunlight will reach into the building. Call for blinds or shades on the front which faces onto the covered mall.

Carroll has been with the College Park Barber Shop on Eleventh Place since its opening when the center was built.

Carroll says his shop will have a complete solution for all customers.

James G. Lewis, who left the armed forces after nine years service to try his hand as a variety store operator, is opening his fifth Big Spring 5-and-10 establishment Tuesday in the College Park Shopping Center.

The new store — No. 5 on his book — is the biggest and most ambitious of the Lewis efforts. The five stores are operated by the Lewis 5-and-10 Stores Inc. Lewis is president of the corporation.

Jerry Caughman, who has been with Lewis for nearly five years, is now vice president of the corporation, and will be manager of the big new store in the College Park Center.

The other stores in the system are No. 1, established in July 1952, in the 11th Place Shopping Center and now managed by Terry Lewis, son of the chain owner. Young Lewis has been working around the stores for much of his life.

No. 2 store is located at 1712 South Gregg. This is one of the earlier establishments of the system and the manager is James Anderson, who has been with Lewis for one and a half years.

No. 3 is at 501 Lamesa Highway. This store, which serves a heavy segment of the population on the north side of town, is managed by Albert Cardenas, who has been associated with the Lewis enterprises for two and a half years.

No. 4 is a new enterprise almost adjacent to the South Gregg store. It is the Lewis Toy Annex at 1706 Gregg. Anderson is also manager of this store.

Lewis came here in 1951 while in the USAF. He was assigned to reactivate the Webb AFB PX. During the year which followed, he and the late Mrs. Lewis opened the 11th Place Store. Mrs. Lewis was the active manager especially in 1952 when Lewis was sent to the AF Institute of Technology for a training course in electrical engineering. He left the service in 1954 and returned to Big Spring to devote full time to the operation of the store.

At that time, the 11th Place store was only about half its present size. The new store in the new shopping center dwarfs all of the other stores. It has 2,000 square feet of floor space. For the first time in his career, Lewis now has a private office—a feature which he says takes some getting used to after all the years without such a facility.

The new store, he said, is emphasizing gift goods. The baby goods department is also much larger than in any of the other stores. Another extensive department is the one devoted to notions.

A special feature of the new store is a snack bar. At present no other place is operating in the shopping center for the sale of coffee and food.

On opening day, Lewis said that all youngsters who visit the new store will get free balloons and free bubble gum but he emphasized that the boys and girls must be with their parents. The adults will be served free coffee and cupcakes at the snack bar.

The new store will also feature a postal service department. Lewis emphasized that this was not a branch post office but is an operation strictly within the store.

We will sell shirts and more

Postmasterships In Texas Towns

WASHINGTON, AP—The Senate has confirmed these Texas postmaster appointments:

John Lambert, Abilene; Cecil Bruce, Burnet; Dana Gilbreath, Deer Park; Thomas Finley, Dumas; Harold Miller, Earth; Edmond Jackson, Honey Grove; Lloyd Kuykendall, Kopperl; Ruby Hart, Naom; Jack Christian, Temple; Billy Decker, Tarrant; and Clifford Cummings, Wrentham.

Variety Store Offers Service

A customer at the new Lewis Five and Ten in College Park Shopping Center need not leave the store to mail a package to a recipient. Complete service—sales, wrapping and mailing—is provided under the single roof.

The mail service is a new feature in Lewis Five and Ten stores. It is located at the rear of the store.

To help the customer shop during a lunch hour, Lewis has provided a snack bar in the new store. It will serve a variety of short orders, such as hamburgers and sandwiches, cold drinks and a full card of ice cream and frozen custard refreshments.

Gift wrapping is available year around, manager Jerry Caughman said. It is free with any purchase of $1 or more. The item wrapped need not cost that much, he said, but purchases must total $1 for free wrapping. Otherwise the service will be provided for a nominal fee.

Clinic Was First Business To Open

The new offices of Cauley and Smith Optometric Clinic, located in the College Park Shopping Center, opened for business June 23. Furnished with the newest technical equipment and furnishings, the establishment is equipped with lab apparatus for grinding and edging lens. Also included is a frame bar with an unlimited selection.

An unusual feature, in addition to the prescription lens laboratory, is the contact lens fitting room, designed especially for examination for and fitting of contact lens. The offices also include a reception room, frame fitting room, lounge area and a main examination room.

Though both Dr. Marshall Cauley and Dr. Harold G. Smith have been in Big Spring for several years, their partnership is new.

Dr. Cauley is a native of Comanche and received his B.S. degree from Texas Tech in 1942 before he entered the Coast Guard Academy. He received his doctor of optometry at Southern College of Optometry at Memphis, Tenn., in 1948 and came directly to Big Spring to practice.

Dr. Smith, from Abilene, attended Hardin-Simmons University and the University of Houston. He took his B.S. and his D.D. from Southern College of Optometry at Memphis, also, and then worked for a year as a consultant for a plastic contact lens company before coming here to practice in 1959.

Striblings Open Dry Cleaning Plant

Two most cleaning and pressing services on request will be a feature of the new College Park Dry Cleaners, which opens its modern establishment in the College Park Shopping Center Aug. 6.

The College Park Cleaners is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Stribling. They come to Big Spring from Loraine where for the past 16 years they have been owners-operators of the Loraine Cleaners.

The Striblings have had long and varied experience in the work and will feature the best in cleaning and pressing service. To insure the best possible results they are installing new machinery throughout their big well lighted shop in the northeast corner of the shopping center. Brand new Hoffmann cleaning equipment is being installed. Stribling pointed out that better cleaning machinery than Hoffmann's is not available.

The dry cleaning machine itself is the latest device of its kind and is almost 100 per cent automatic. Most modern of cleaning fluids—guaranteed odorless—will be used.

Another unusual feature installed in the big shop is an electric conveyor belt for the prompt location and delivery of clothing to the customer. The Striblings say their shop is the only one in Big Spring with this latest of devices. It will save time for the customer and the shop in the prompt location and delivery of the finished clothing to the counter.

The shop will feature pickup and delivery service. It will maintain a complete alteration service. The Striblings announced that Mrs. Lena Polacek, who for many years was associated with her late husband in the operation of the Fashion Cleaners, will be six months for the new shop.

The Striblings are looking for a house and plan to establish their home here as quickly as they can. They have one son, now in Oklahoma.

They will start operations with three employees in addition to themselves and hope that business will justify the addition of other workers soon.

The shop hours at present will be from 7 a.m. to 6:15 p.m. weekdays.

Pittsburgh Opens First Retail-Wholesale Store

Pittsburgh Plate Glass, one of the most famous names in industry, is opening a retail-wholesale store for the distribution of glass, paint, mirrors and auto glass at the new College Park Shopping Center. The new Pittsburgh Plate Glass store will open Aug. 6. Its operation hours will be 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily with the doors to close at Saturday noon.

This is the first time the PPG has set up a store in Big Spring. Nearest of the company's scores of stores is at Midland.

Here to manage the Big Spring store is A. H. Frazier, Frazier, who has been traveling over the South Plains area for eight years for PPG.

He and Mrs. Frazier and two of their three children will establish their home in Big Spring in the near future. They are now looking for a house. Their third child, a daughter, is getting married soon and will move to Big Spring with the others. The Fraziers have lived in Lubbock for the past 13 years.

The new establishment features an $85,000 stock of paint product. Featured lines include famous PPG Sunproof, Wallbrite, Florida, Water Spar varnishes and Satin Side Enamels.

A feature of the new store will be a complete auto glass department. It will also stock and handle all varieties of glass and will take orders for the installation of plate glass windows. However, for the present, installation of such glass will be by a crew out of the Midland store.

Another widely known line handled by PPG stores which will be featured here is CRC Chemical Resistance Coating—an item of importance to industrial patrons of the concern.

The staff at the outset will be limited to three workers.

Frazier pointed out that the store will open at 7:30 a.m. as a convenience to housepainters, who will need to do their paint buying prior to 8 a.m. when the working day begins.

The PPG store features its famous paint blending equipment which enables it to produce exactly any shade wanted for any need. The possible combinations offered by this system are almost endless, Frazier said.

A Devotional For The Day

In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink (John 7:37.)

PRAYER: O God, our Father, who art the source of all strength, help us this day to drink from the unfailing fountain of life. For all the tasks we have to do and the temptations we have to face, may we find within us the strength Christ promised to all who trust Him. In His blessed name we pray. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Obstructing-By Filibuster

A filibuster in the United States Senate can sometimes give a measure of needed protection to minority rights. But the instances are much more numerous in which the tactic of delay by endless and unrelated talk has discredited itself.

The recent rear-guard action of a small group of liberal senators in obstructing the communications satellite bill—and a great deal of other government business—appears likely to put itself in the more opprobrious category.

In the first place, the legislation against which it is directed is of a very reasonable type. As passed by the House of Representatives, it provides for a corporation in which one half the stock would be owned by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and other communications carriers, and the other half would be sold by public subscription. Six directors would be elected by each class of stockholders and three would be appointed by the President of the United States.

As against an alternative of public ownership and development of space communications by a government bureau, this plan promises to make optimum use of the great research and development resources of numerous American corporations in correlation with the National Aeronautical and Space Agency and other government bodies.

Ironically, many participants in the filibuster have objected to such tactics when used to delay civil-rights legislation. As Senate Democratic leaders point out, the opposition to the satellite bill has endeavored not merely to prolong discussion of the bill itself but to prevent its being brought up for discussion.

Nothing Wrong With Ice Cubes

Before too many of you middle-agers start clucking your tongues, shaking your heads and otherwise running down the kids and teens who are participating in the ice cube and chunk craze, better think back to the era when you were growing up.

Most of you have read about current contests in which a pair of youngsters see how many times they can exchange a piece of ice (hand to hand) before it melts. It has run into the thousands. It might sound silly, but it's better than playing "chicken" on the highways in cars, breaking into service stations for "kicks" or otherwise breaking the law.

And we'd venture more than one of you once participated in a yo-yo contest, a tree sitting or "napole sitting" ordeal, a dance marathon or even guinea golfish.

This younger generation is not much different if any than those of the past. They simply have more opportunity to get into trouble, to indulge in crazes and they also haven't had the best examples possible set for them by some of the past generations, including our own.

"Pass me an ice cube, Rubie."

J. A. Livingston The Bears And The Bulls Disagree

It's just after closing time in a broker's boardroom. Stocks have advanced. Three customers are chewing over the day's doings as follows:

Mild Bull: It never pays to argue with history. We usually have a summer rally, and this is it. The bear market may be over. But I'm still keeping some cash to buy later, just in case stocks slump back to their June lows.

BEAR: That's always the way with you glibbie fellows—keeping some cash but staying in the market. You ought to get out altogether. Of course stocks will test the old lows. And they'll go through them, too. Did you ever see a bear market that didn't have more than one leg?

Rampant Bull: Do you realize that the bear market is now seven and a half months old? That's three bear markets in the century lasted only 13 months. Why this thing is more than half over and the bottom has been reached. I'll sign your autograph book or that.

BEAR: Just when the recession hits you'll realize just how far up in the clouds you are.

RAMPANT BULL: You're as puffed up with confidence as a popover with air. You were right this year, but think how often you've been wrong. You're on the wrong side of the long-term trend. We're going places in America. Industrial production will rise. Profits will rise. Dividends will rise. Don't fight history, or you'll be a dead popover.

Mild Bull: Sometimes people get out of joint with their times. I'll concede that happened in 1961. Whenever stocks yield less than 3 per cent, it's time to stop, look, and maybe get out of the market. Many people did.

BUT YOU BEARS go to the opposite extreme. No matter how much it drops, you're always sure a stock is priced too high. Take United States Steel. It just paid another dividend at the $3-a-share rate. It yields better than 6 per cent. Even if the dividend were reduced to $2 a share, the yield would be more than 4 per cent. Or there's National Steel, yielding more than 5 per cent, and Inland better than 4 per cent.

Or look at some of the oils. Any time you can pick up Jersey to yield 4 per cent, you're going to do all right in the long run. Even some of the so-called glamor stocks don't look too bad. Maybe they're not bargains. But when do you get bargains except during panics or long depressions?

RAMPANT BULL: Since 1959, we've been promising ourselves the golden, six-

OUR HOLLOW-HANDED 'FRIEND'

James Marlow Congo Crisis Still Simmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Telstar, thalidomide, testing, taxes—and senatorial talkfests have pushed the Congo contest down in the news. It may be explosive news before year's end.

The Congo was born in shocking anarchy two years ago when it got its independence from Belgium. Thanks to the United Nations and its troops—it has 6,300 there now—order was restored.

In this way the central government of Premier Cyrille Adoula got on its wobbly feet. But it's in sad shape.

The Congo in general is poor. Katanga is rich in mineral resources controlled by rich British and Belgian interests that pay taxes to Tshombe's government, not Adoula's.

Adoula's government is pretty much in hock from big expenses it doesn't have the income to pay for. Katanga, as part of the central government, would make a rich difference.

FOR INSTANCE, while the central government's economy is in tatters, it has to support a big army; big for the Congo. Adoula's government is still in a mess just trying to run itself.

The United States and other governments have been thinking of ways to force Tshombe, with out war, to join up with the central government.

The thinking has been along the lines of economic pressure, like getting the British-Belgian mining interests in Katanga to pay their revenue to Adoula's government, or boycotting the Katanga mineral products.

Meanwhile U.N. efforts in the Congo cost big money. To raise it the United Nations is trying to sell $200 million in bonds to member nations. President Kennedy wants Congress to approve $100 million as this country's share.

BUT THIS proposal has run into trouble in Congress where not all members favor it and some are sympathetic to Katanga. Last Friday Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., strongly criticized U.S. and U.N. policy in the Congo.

He's against economic pressure on Tshombe and Katanga. Some in Congress want to be sure other nations buy at least $100 million in bonds before this country buys the other $100 million.

So, after two years of freedom, the Congo is a mess.

Hal Boyle Good Excuse For Bad Spelling

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

High school history teachers say the name most often misspelled by their students is "Nikita Khrushchev."

The length of the average telephone conversation—including believe it or not, those of teenagers—is about six minutes.

If someone gave you a million bucks in new dollar bills it would take you at least 25 days, working eight hours a day, simply to count it.

More American families own their own homes than don't.

Women have always been willing to undergo any ordeal in the quest for beauty. Cleopatra used a heavy application of river mud to set her hair, and pinned it into place with a polished stick.

The odds against a player getting four cards of a kind in a poker hand are 4,164 to one.

Wrinkles should merely indicate where smiles have been—Mark Twain.

Two out of three adult Americans wear glasses. Old blindness is seven times as common among men as among women. Children with crossed eyes are likely to be epileptic.

It is just as normal for you to grow down as it is to grow up. After the age of 40 you shrink about a quarter of an inch every 10 years.

Word has just reached us that someone in Tokyo searched a four-square-inch oyster and found it contained 620 pearls.

The expression, "Elementary, my dear Watson," became for a while a cliché in intellectual circles. The historical fact is that someone in Tokyo searched a four-square-inch oyster and found it contained 620 pearls.

The awkwardly graceful giraffe, the tallest animal on earth is so timid and fearful that it can die of fright while trying to avoid capture. A spider is one of the tallest creatures on earth for its size. It can travel 30 times its own length in a second. How far can you go in the same time—unless you're in the driver's seat?

It was Don Herold, the celebrated humorist who observed, "I'm happiness is not knowing what we want and killing ourselves to get it."

To Your Good Health Exposure To Some Fumes Can Be Dangerous

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Some time ago I read that inhaling certain fumes can damage the body. When can I obtain a physical examination to determine the extent to which fumes to which I have been exposed have affected my health?—D.H.

Your own physician. You can speed up his work of course by reporting to him the types of fumes that are involved.

Generally examination of the eyes and tests of the liver and kidneys, as well as blood and urine examinations for such things as lead poisoning will give good indication of whether exposure has been harmful. In some cases, X-ray studies may be advisable to see whether other chemicals or dusts have affected the lungs.

Dangerous exposure to fumes is not too likely among household products IF THEY ARE USED PROPERLY. In industrial plants, where fumes of solvents or other irritating or toxic materials may be present every day, added precautions are necessary and are enforced in most such cases.

Health examinations, powerful ventilating systems, protective clothing, compulsory use of gloves, goggles, masks, etc. are examples of how industry helps workers.

Myron A. Snell, of a Hartford insurance firm and chairman of a special committee which prepares technical bulletins on a wide variety of such topics, sent me some very interesting material on the lengths to which we should sometimes go to prevent any harm.

A paragraph which struck me forcibly in one report was this: "All employees should understand that anyone can develop dermatitis, a skin ailment, that is, and that everyone should follow these precautions—use of protective clothing, devices, etc. Each should understand that once he develops a skin rash, he is more likely to get it again. Each operator should take special care to prevent others from developing dermatitis because of plant equipment, hand rails, door knobs, valves, and switches that he has been too careless to keep clean."

As our complicated economy makes use of more and more chemicals, it's up to us to keep pace by knowing that some of them demand precautions if a company has rather strict rules about showers, keeping benches clean, using masks, and so on, an employee should realize that there are valid reasons. It isn't just for the sake of making rules.

In some of the smaller shops where powerful solvents or potentially dangerous chemicals are in use, it's an excellent idea for an employee to have himself checked from time to time by his own doctor, to be on the safe side.

I don't mean we shouldn't employ these useful chemicals. I mean it's up to us to treat them with respect. Tomorrow, I'll discuss household chemicals.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is polythemia vera? What is its cause and does climate have any bearing on it? I am 70, never had any blood difficulty before.—R.H.L.

It's an increase in the number of red blood cells, often called "Oxley's disease," after one of the great men of medicine who recognized it. But the cause remains unknown. It's generally a disease of middle or later life. The normal blood cell count is about 5 million, but with this ailment it rises to from 9 to 13 million, thus thickening the blood. Climate has no bearing on it.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in this column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Around The Rim What The Young Ones Say

Our five-year-old, Carol, is showing signs of maturity, although the omelets often vanish like a passing cloud.

The other morning, she ventured into my room to show off her Sunday School dress, then checked it from part to starboard in the mirror.

I volunteered the expected encomiums, then turned away from her to finish a chore. I wheeled back upon hearing a noise that sounded remarkably like a gymnast doing acrobatics on a trampoline, found her in the middle of a one-and-a-half gainer over my bed.

That method of exercise is sort of contrary to unwritten law around our place, a point which has been brought forth to her more than once.

With halo in place and in her Sunday best, and knowing the worst punishment she would get was a mild reprimand, she somewhat proudly remarked:

"My shoes didn't even leave a print."

We have only recently returned from a trip which carried us several thousands of miles through some of the most picturesque country in this broad land but I'm inclined to think that our time could have been better spent nearer our own TV set—as far as our two children are concerned.

Carol and the three-year-old, Phyllis, insisted on reading comic books or rock-ing dolls to sleep on the drives through the most scenic country.

They liked to dampen their toes in the children's wading pools of the motels where the family happened to be lodged for the night, but would have been equally pleased to swim in their own pool, which has to be inflated every time it is used.

They insisted on tuning in on the same TV programs they catch here, even though one rerun after another was being foisted upon us. And at some of the restaurants along the way where the specialty of the house might be "pheasant under glass," their standard order, likely as not, was "cereal and a Coke."

Phyllis has, for the most part, carefully chosen her words since she made her debut around our household—probably because she has found it difficult to get a word in edgewise.

She delivered her longest discourse on the vacation trip, however. I offer it to you, and let you draw your own conclusions.

"Quiet, I want to talk. . . There was this man and he got run on by a car and he got dead. . . Now, I'll tell you another joke. . .

More recently, she had this story to tell her mother:

"One time, a fox caught me and put me in a bag. . . but I got out and climbed up a tree."

—TOMMY HART

Oriental Country In The West

PARAMARIBO, Surinam — Do you dream of a never-never vacation land combining the mystery of the Far East; the majesty of Africa with its awesome jungles, mighty rivers and primitive tribal life; the romance of South America, including its aborigines still anchored in the Stone Age; the culture of Europe and the latest plumbing direct from Chicago?

DO YOU YEARN to go on safari? Hunt wild boar, alligator and the three o'ed sloth? Photograph jungle belles built like Dagmar and dressed like the Venus de Milo? Shoot foaming white rapids? Ogle oriental beauties? Collect a gorgeous array of butterflies? Or orchids? And see a rainbow at least once a day?

This giant, economy-sized travel package, all rolled into one small country for handy-dandy convenience, is ready and waiting for the venturesome traveler who is looking for the unbeaten path. Path? What path, chum? Here, you hack your own through the jungle as you go.

"DEAR HEAVEN, where is Surinam?" I asked my husband when he dropped the name into the conversation. It sounded somewhere East of Indonesia, where the best is like Bora Bora.

With the aid of a magnifying glass, I found Surinam at the northern beginning of the bulge of South America, neatly stretched between British Guiana or Demerara and French Guiana and Cayenne.

"Why it used to be Dutch Guiana," I said, a bit indignant that its name had been changed behind my back. In 1954, when its colonial status ended and it became an autonomous partner of the Kingdom of the Netherlands, the name changed to Surinam, derived from one of its indigenous Amerindian tribes.

"HAPPY IS the land that has no history." Exotic Surinam has had none to speak of since she achieved control of her own destiny. Her transition from colonialism to a commonwealth status has been marked by neither unrest, political violence nor economic travail. The adjustment has been smooth and painless, compared with the violent birth pains of new nations elsewhere.

Surinam, about the size of Florida and with a population of approximately 330,000, is not a Latin-American country in any sense except geographic. True, the Spanish discovered her, but the Dutch settled her. The English invaded her, and finally, at the Treaty of Breda in 1667 the Dutch literally tossed off Manhattan on the British in exchange for Surinam. And three away those $24 in heads! The Spanish and Portuguese never got so much as a toothhold here.

TODAY, because of the importation of slaves from Africa and eventually of indentured laborers from China, India and Java, the population of Surinam is an exotic and fascinating multicolored mosaic of many racial groups.

It may surprise you as much as it did me to discover that Surinam is, in large part, an oriental enclave in this hemisphere. More than 50 per cent of her population consists of Hindustani, Javanese and Chinese. Her populated areas are dotted with Hindustani temples, Muslim mosques and tong headquarters.

ALTHOUGH the largest single group in the population is officially designated as Creole (any mixture of Negro, Dutch, English, Spanish, Portuguese, etc.), the combined oriental communities, descendants of the indentured servants of old, far outnumber the Creoles. There are less than 5,000 Europeans in Surinam and only about 60 Americans.

An hour spent in Paramaribo's big public market, sprawling along the city's bank of the Surinam River, will convince any visitor that the United States as a melting pot can't hold a candle to Surinam. It even makes the United Nations seem a bit tepid, especially when the pale copper Amerindian whose roots are still in the Stone Age and the Black Negro, descendants of slaves who escaped to the jungle and live an ancient Africa tribal existence, come to market to trade their beads and wood carvings.

Holmes Alexander The Anti-Capitalistic Mentality

WASHINGTON — Great would be the rejoicing—would it not?—if a fertile, habitable, mineral-rich archipelago, were to rise in the Pacific Ocean off the California coast, adding great riches and opportunities to the American Commonwealth.

WELL, SOMETHING of the sort has happened in the field of Space telecommunications. Quite apart from the scientific and international significance, the launching of Telstar has revealed the potential of an enormous material wealth for Americans. Those who understand the immensity of the matter say that it is the "future biggest business in the world."

A business man named George Shaw, vice president of Radiation, Inc., estimates the revenue as close to $6 billion a year as of 1962. By 1972, the same authority calculates that the total Space communications business would run to $82 billion—$14 billion more than our present Defense Department budget. A national windfall. Imagine it if you can!

AND IMAGINE, which is more difficult, what it means in new jobs, new industries, new services, and new fields of knowledge and research. At a time when the American economy is wobbling, foreign competitors in Europe and Asia are striving to surpass us, and our American form of private enterprise is flourishing for new outlets, think what a chance this is!

Before the Senate at this writing is the Communications Satellite bill—H.R. 10409. The bill was considered in 11 days of hearings by the Interstate and Commerce Committee of the House, resulting in 710 printed pages of testimony. The House committee recommended the bill by a vote of 19 to 6. The House then passed the bill by a vote of 354 to 9. The Senate Aeronautical and Space Sciences Committee held 7 days of hearings and produced another 473 printed pages of testimony. Another Senate committee, this one on Commerce, held 7 days of hearings, adding another 413 pages of testimony. Of the 32 Senators on these committees, all but 2 voted for a favorable report.

AS EVERYBODY now must know, a small band of Senate filibusters has been trying to defeat the bill, which has the backing at this time of about 80 Senate members, as well as of the President and the Attorney General. Why such a determined opposition in the face of such broad endorsement? The nutshell answer, or a great part of it, is found in the language of Section 301 of the bill.

"There is hereby authorized to be created a communications satellite corporation for profit which will not be an agency or establishment of the United States Government."

"FOR PROFIT": There is the kernel of the opposition. The bill authorizes such big companies as American Telephone and Telegraph Corp., the Radio Corp. of America, Western Union and others to buy half the stock. The other half is to go on public sale at $100 a share. The companies and the shareholders risk their capital, and they hope to make profits.

Who are the Senators who object to this? Two of them, Bartlett and Gruening, are from Alaska, which is still close to 90 per cent Government-owned land and where the Defense Department (not private enterprise) still runs the primary communications system. Two others, Ke-fauver and Gore, are from Tennessee, where electrical power is highly socialized under the TVA system. Two others, Morse and Mrs. Neuberger, are from Oregon, another public power area. Yarborough is a maverick Texan, who rated 80 per cent in the latest Americans For Democratic Action rundown on "votes in harmony with liberal principles." Long of Louisiana is an independent Southern Democrat whose objections to the bill are peripheral. Two other Senators, Douglas and Clark, will probably join the insurgents.

WITH THE possible exception of Long, who is something of a special case, these Senators represent an anti-capitalist mentality which is far stronger than anything of the sort in the White House or in the generality of the Democratic party.

They oppose the satellite bill primarily because it is pro-business. The opposition in open debate provides us a chance to study, in their own words, this startling phenomenon—the anti-capitalist mentality in America.

A BIG, NEW FELTER
Addition at Big Spring Mattress

Most Modern Machinery At Big Spring Mattress

New machinery, including the immense felting machine pictured, is making the Big Spring Mattress Company, 813 W. 3rd St., one of the most modern and complete mattress factories in the Permian Basin.

The function of the felting machine is to convert light, packed cotton into fluffy layers to be used in mattress production. The process also produces fine quality quilting cotton.

Another recent innovation was the installation of a "filling" machine which places the cotton into the cover automatically to give a more even distribution in the mattress.

Owners and managers of Big Spring Mattress Co. are Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tollison who have had over 30 years experience in the bedding business.

"This field is a tradition in our family," said Mr. Tollison. "I have one son in the mattress business in Sherman and another in the same type of work in Pampa and we all do our best to produce good products," he continued.

A specialty of the factory is converting older, worn mattresses into useable, healthful bedding at moderate cost. This includes providing you with modern, box springs, too.

"Custom-styled bedding is getting more popular and practical all the time," said Tollison. "Often this can turn out to be twice as expensive as necessary if buyers do not comparative shop first. That's why I urge people who need king-size, circular or custom-built bedding of any shape to check with us right here at home first to see how much they can save."

For folks with back trouble, Big Spring Mattress can convert soft mattresses to the firm, orthopedic type which may be helpful with this problem.

Let Restaurant Prepare The Meal

When it's too hot to cook, the chefs at any of Big Spring's three Wagon Wheel Drive-Ins suggest that you don't. That's what they are getting paid for; cooking appetizing meals in any kind of weather.

If you'd like to eat on your own patio, that's all right, too. A telephone call can start the chefs cooking your favorite dish and by the time you drive up, it's all ready to go—still hot when you open it at home.

A courteous car hostess will assist those who eat in their cars. She can suggest a variety of basket plates such as steak fingers, chicken, fish or shrimp. Other specialties are pizza and barbecue beef sandwiches made from the Wagon Wheel's own special preparation.

For dessert you may wish to try their banana splits that have long been a favorite with the younger set. Iced drinks and "floats" are refreshing when you just want to sit and sip.

No matter what part of town you live in, there is a Wagon Wheel Drive-In a few minutes away.

Model Car Championship Contest Here!

August is the big month for model car enthusiasts and Joe and Lou Bunch, at Sportsman-Toyland Center. Although other contests are held during the year, the August competition for the championship model car trophy is the really big one.

Judging for the winning cars will take place shortly after the contest closes at noon August 25. Local judges will make the final decision and announce the winning contestants for each age group.

Here are the contest rules:
1. Judging will be made on beauty, originality and craftsmanship.

2. There will be three age groups: Junior—up to 12 years old; Intermediate—13, 14 and 15 years old; Senior—16 years old and over.

3. A contestant may enter as many models as he wishes.

4. All entries will be displayed in the store.

Three trophies will be awarded in each group: first, second and third prizes. Another award goes to the winner and two runners-up in the Grand Champion Sweepstakes, making twelve trophies in all to be won by local boys and girls.

All entries must be accompanied by an entry blank which is obtained when a car kit is purchased. Youngsters may use any of the nationally known and advertised brands of kits featured at Sportsman-Toyland Center.

Bunch says youngsters may enter as many cars as they wish as long as an entry blank accompanies each model. He suggests they come out right away and choose their working models in order to have plenty of time to complete them before the contest closes August 25.

Model Car Trophies

These twelve trophies will be awarded winners in the model car contest conducted by Sportsman-Toyland Center, 1608 Gregg St. First prize and runner-up winners will receive trophies in the junior, intermediate and senior divisions. Larger trophies will be awarded winners of the Grand Sweepstakes. The contest closes Aug. 25, and all entries will be displayed in the store.

STATE FARM INSURANCE MAN
Roscoe Cone

One Of Every Eight Autos Is Insured By State Farm

Roscoe Cone, agent for State Farm Insurance Companies, announced that State Farm Mutual Auto Insurance Co., largest in the world, passed the seven million cars insured mark in May.

The company is now insuring one out of every eight private passenger cars in the United States. This is an astounding fact, according to Cone, when you consider that there are over 400 companies writing car insurance in this country.

In fact, State Farm insures more cars than any other company in the world. No other auto insurance policy is backed by so many dollars in the form of assets and reserves set aside as surplus to protect policyholders.

"Hometown claim service, at home or away from home, plus net costs that are lower than most other companies, is largely responsible for the fact that car owners are buying State Farm insurance in ever increasing numbers," said Cone.

The local State Farm Agency office is located in the 11th Place Shopping Center where adequate parking facilities are available and where one stop shopping (including all types of insurance) is available.

Star's Death No Surprise To Reporter Who Knew Her

EDITOR'S NOTE — An article by columnist Bob Thomas about Marilyn Monroe from the August 6 issue of the Hollywood Reporter is being reprinted here, starting on page 14-B. It is an intimate view of the life of the actress who was famous and famous.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6 (AP) — It happened so quickly you weren't prepared for it. The telephone call came early Sunday morning. Marilyn Monroe died—sleeping pills.

That's all you needed to know, and somehow the pieces seemed to fit into place. It looked inevitable in retrospect that her 36-year life would end so tragically.

She had reached the end of her rope. She had run out of all that anxious gaiety with which she held onto life.

It was one of the all-time great acts of show business. No one could evade sexuality as well as she could. She was the original, the No. 1.

No one could create such a stir as she proved in May at President Kennedy's birthday party in Madison Square Garden. The crowd went wild when she sang "Happy Birthday" and the President commented, "Now I can quit politics."

She had as much attention as any actress has ever had and she was on her way to being a millionaire.

She was also miserably unhappy.

Her three marriages had brought her no lasting love and no babies. She was in top demand as a star, but not as an actress, which was what she wanted, and even her desirability as a star was in danger—not because the public had lost interest in her, but because of her lack of self-discipline.

For this she was fired and sued for millions and castigated as one of the stars who were ruining Hollywood. She withdrew deeper into psychiatry and pills and pink champagne. Then came the end—Sunday morning, her hand on a telephone, an empty bottle of sleeping pills nearby.

The wellsprings of her sorrow have had enough public exposure to be legend — her illegitimate birth, abandonment by her father, loss of her mother by insanity, a family legacy, shunting from orphanage to foster homes to orphanage; harsh and brutal treatment, including early introductions to sex.

She lost nearly everyone she loved. One of the big blows of her early career was the death of Johnny Hyde, the small, electric agent who boosted her to the big time and who might have married her.

But all this has gone down on the record and has been reviewed again to clarify the tragic riddle: How anyone so apparently successful might find the continuance of life so unappealing.

What was her legacy?

She left behind a small collection of work, much of it very good with her limitations. Her strong suit was comedy.

She was at her best in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" and "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," both satires on sex, and "Some Like It Hot," a spoof of the 1920s. She was least good when she tried drama, and this rankled her.

But she left behind more than a string of glamor-filled, over-produced movies. She gave Hollywood color and excitement in an era when the town was losing its grip on the world's fancy. No star of Hollywood's golden era shone more brightly.

Her brilliance was such that you overlooked the tragic aspects of her life — until you learned the news Sunday that Marilyn Monroe was dead.

Tomorrow: Marilyn's life and career in her own words.

To Wed In Las Vegas

Actor Barry Sullivan and Egyptian screen beauty Desiree Sumara pose in Hollywood after announcing that they will be wed in Las Vegas. The couple plans to return to Hollywood immediately because Sullivan must resume work on a film. It will be the third marriage for Sullivan and the first for Miss Sumara.
