COAHOMA — Howard County Water Improvement District No. 1, the agency which serves Coahoma and Sand Springs with water, is running about three weeks behind its scheduled date to finish a new $230,000 water system improvement program.

The reason for the delay, according to Earl Reid president of the district, is that more than a mile and a half of extra water lines have been added to the system in Sand Springs.

The extension, which was not a part of the original program, will make water service available to more than a score of new homes which have been built in Sand Springs.

DEFORMITY NOTED

Pregnancy Ended With Abortion

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Mrs. Sherri Finkbine's abortion was carried out Saturday and her Swedish doctor said the fear that drove her all the way to Sweden was well founded. Had she given birth the child would have been deformed by the drug thalidomide he said.

After a 45-minute operation, the television performer from Phoenix, Ariz., was reported in satisfactory condition in Caroline Hospital.

The surgeon told her husband Robert Finkbine that the drug used in the early part of her pregnancy had certain effects on the unborn child. No details were given, but babies born deformed from the drug elsewhere have been without limbs or with hands or feet attached directly to the body. Some have had internal deformities.

Mrs. Finkbine entered the hospital Friday after the Royal Medical Board approved her application for an abortion.

If all goes well, she may be able to start home next week.

The abortion terminated a pregnancy that had been a nightmare of more than two months for Mrs. Finkbine, 30, and her 31-year-old husband.

Finkbine bought the tranquilizer thalidomide on a visit to England last year. His wife used about 30 pills during the first stages of her pregnancy.

Through an article in a Phoenix newspaper they learned of the tragic effect the drug had on the human foetus in many parts of Europe and the Americas.

After their attempts to obtain a legal abortion had been turned down in Arizona, the couple in desperation flew to Sweden, where abortions are legal in some cases.

They arrived Aug. 5. Their plea for abortion received enormous publicity and they moved to the villa of Swedish friends to avoid the spotlight.

On their first week in Stockholm they saw two Swedish doctors. After examining Mrs. Finkbine these doctors, a gynecologist and a psychiatrist, supported her case and submitted a formal application to Sweden's medical board, the only Swedish authority to rule on abortions.

After a long and nervous wait the Finkbines were told that the board had approved their application on the ground that a child birth might endanger Mrs. Finkbine's mental health.

County Court-At-Law Proposal Gathers Dust

By SAM BLACKBURN
Three months ago a Howard County grand jury, after a week of special effort, laid a lengthy and firm recommendation before Judge Ralph Eaton in the 11th District. It urged establishment of a County Court at Law for this county.

The report was passed along to county officials concerned with the action.

It has rested in peace. No action has developed, and there is little prospect that such a court could be activated in 1962, even if prompt and pressing action developed immediately.

Drafts of the county budget are ready for presentation and no funds are earmarked for the court. No officials, so far as could be learned, has made mention of it.

The grand jury suggested the county bar association lend a hand, but the bar has been waiting to be asked.

"I think we will probably end up by sending a delegation of our members before the county commissioners sometime soon," Bill Eysen, chairman of the Howard County Bar, said. "We will advise the court that we are ready to help in any way we can."

BACKGROUND REPORT

Gil Jones, district attorney, helped the grand jury, headed by Toots Mansfield as foreman, to draw the lengthy recommendation. He said that the grand jurors were intensely in earnest and worked hard to get the information and background material they incorporated in their report. The special committee to dig up facts was headed by Mansfield. Other members were Mrs. Lorraine Talbot, Hack Wright and Jack Wallace. They made trips to Abilene and Odessa where they talked with county officials. County courts at law are operated in both Taylor and Ector Counties. The committees spent many hours obtaining information about the courts at law. It was on the information they collected that the grand jury, as a whole, decided the need for a county court at law exists in this county.

TWO JUDGES

The committee said it was impressed with effectiveness of county courts at law in these two counties. In each county, it was shown how the new court speeded the administration of justice and at the same time brought to an end the annoying congestion of county criminal dockets.

By having two county judges—one who presides over the county court at law and the other who serves as administrative officer for the county commissioners court—the general level of county governmental efficiency has been vastly improved, the panel was told.

County officials did not comment on the proposal submitted by the grand jury at the time it was filed. There has been no discussion, officially, since.

It was agreed that establishing the court would involve considerable expense.

The grand jury stressed that the individual elected as judge of the county court at law must be an attorney and further, that the salary paid for the job should be sufficient to attract an appeal to qualified and competent men.

QUALIFICATIONS

The grand jury recommended a man be selected capable of presiding over the court at law in the matter of handling such misdemeanors as might be filed in the court and at the same time capable of dealing with probate matters, juvenile cases and civil litigation in county court. Such a course would leave the regular county judge entirely free to preside over all sessions of the county commissioners court, supervise the general functions of county governmental machinery and act as an administrative chief for the several agencies in the county court house.

The grand jurors pointed out in their report that the county court at law in Abilene was established when Taylor County had a population no greater than that of Howard County. In 1958, the first year the court functioned, the grand jury reported the county court at law exceeded the expenses of its operation by revenue in excess of $9,000. The following year, the court netted $19,415 above expenses and in 1960, the revenues were $22,357 more than the costs of operation. Last year, the grand jury was told, the revenues of the court were nearly $49,000 greater than the costs of operating it.

Weather Holds Fate Of Cotton Harvest

By SAM BLACKBURN
Rain in generous quantities within the next few days is imperative if Howard County cotton farmers are to save the bulk of their crop.

The burning sun and the continued drought is playing havoc with the late cotton. What rally the plants make during the night and early morning is erased by too-hot afternoons.

"We need a two-inch or three-inch general rain from border to border in this county. We need the rain now and if we do not get it soon, crops will be seriously menaced," Herb Helbig, county farm agent, said.

Farmers agree with him. Most producers appear not nearly so concerned now over the insect threat as they are over the drought.

BOLLS ARE POPPING IN SOME FIELDS... But cotton harvest generally is late

CAN FIGHT BUGS
"We can deal with the bugs," said a Fairview farmer. "They hit us a lick about three weeks and we had some damage before controlling them. But we can't do anything about getting rain."

Jimmy Taylor, former county agent, estimated that with a timely rain, the county could make 25,000 bales or more.

Reports have said that heaviest insect infestation has been found in fields in the Fairview community, but farmers do not seem unduly alarmed over the situation.

In Luther community, a check of irrigated fields and dry land cotton on Friday did not show extensive damage. A few fallen squares were found under some plants but L. L. Underwood said that the number of damaged squares was abnormal. There has been no poisoning in the area.

"Cotton," he said, "usually puts on a great many more squares than will ever mature. Some of these always drop off. The plants in the fields around here still have more squares than average."

BOLLS OPENING
Bolls are opening in some fields and the Louis Sturm farm has one field which would probably yield a bale if given a picking now.

Cotton stalks in the irrigated fields near Luther are loaded with fat bolls. Many stalks are nearly three feet tall and lushly green. Dry land cotton, later than the irrigated fields is flourishing but the need for rain is reflected in the wilting which builds up during the day.

Another field of cotton where a lot of bolls are beginning to open is on the D. S. Phillips farm a mile north of Coahoma. Friends of Phillips are convinced he could win the honor of ginning the first bale if he desires to do so.

Strum, L. C. Underwood or possibly some other Luther irrigated operator could have a bale before the Luther gin is back in operation.

MECHANICAL HARVEST
One thing is increasingly evident about the harvest. Most of it will be mechanically harvested. Some predict as much as 95 per cent will be gathered this way. Farmers say they are fed up with

The annual institute is held at Texas A&M with from five to 10 police officers from each state chosen for outstanding work in their own communities.

Hull is the first police officer from Big Spring ever to receive the scholarship. Police Chief Jay Banks has lectured at the institute in the past on "Integration Problems in the South."

Police Question Man About Stolen Money

Argentine money, stolen from an automobile parked on the Town House Hotel lot Wednesday, was recovered Friday when a local bank reported that two boys were trying to exchange it.

Detective Aubrey Hurlay brought in a man for questioning after the boys identified him as the man who sent them to the bank. He said he found the money in an envelope and wanted to see whether it was good or not.

The bills were returned to the owner, J. S. Augstein, Sterling City. The man questioned was released.

PASTEL COLORS YET FOR A COTTON GIN! Blue panels pep up new fireproof plant at Fairview

Color Creeps Into New Gin Building

Two of the fanciest looking gins to be found in these parts will be put into service in Howard County this fall.

Both are housed in brand new all-steel buildings and both feature a lot of brand new machinery.

One of the gins, now within 10 days of completion, is the Planters Gin at Luther. The other, still 45 days away from the finishing touches, is at Fairview.

The Fairview gin is causing a lot of comment. Customers say you have to go a long way to see a more attractive appearing building than the gleaming steel structure.

It has been given the added flipp as an eye catcher by the painting of sky blue panels on its metal sides.

The Planters gin, rebuilt as was its Fairview competitor, from the ground up does not have the colorful touch of the blue panels. It's just a tin building observed L. L. Underwood, gin building considerably larger than the one it replaces, stands out on the flat Luther landscape. Last year Planters rebuilt its gin at Knott.

The fire hazards around a gin constitute a grave problem.

The insurance rates are high, said the veteran ginner. "We figure we can save enough on insurance rates in a decade to pay for the new building."

At Luther Underwood estimates that at least 60 per cent of the machinery in the gin is new. Like the one at Fairview, the Luther gin will have five stands of the most modern design. Both gins have an hourly capacity of up to eight bales an hour.

However, neither Underwood, nor Jack Grant, ginner at Fairview, plan to push the equipment to that speed. Both agree that it is better to go slower and do a better job of ginning.

The old gins at each site were capable of from four to five bales an hour if hard pushed.

Both gins have installed modern

COTTON IS LATE

Underwood said there is a probability some irrigated cotton in his community could be ready for ginning next week. Perhaps, he said before the new gin will be ready to go. However, he said most of the cotton, other than the irrigated tracts, is late and he does not track for the big rush of harvest to generate before late October.

McCrory and his associates are not worried that they need six more weeks to finish their plant.

"Cotton is late," McCrory pointed out. "We'll have plenty of time to complete and test the gin."

Grant is one of the proudest fellows to be found in Fairview community. He regards the new gin as an innovation and believes that it will enable him to do an even better job for the gin's patrons than in the past.

Over the county the gins in each community are already busy putting their equipment in shape for the season ahead most have undergone an overhaul.

BIG PLANT
At Fairview, the new building 140 feet long and 40 feet wide is just a step south of the old gin building. The old gin which J. O. McCrory, one of its owners, said he recalled visiting when he was just a little boy, has long been a landmark in the Fairview. The other owner is J. R. Dillard.

The new building is 100 per cent fireproof. It is constructed of metal throughout the set on a concrete foundation.

The same fireproof construction has been followed at Luther.

Both are a far cry from the old days when the average gin, powered by steam, often was housed in ramshackle buildings which appeared so frail the next stiff breeze might send them toppling over.

REDUCE HAZARD
It's not just for looks, said McCrory. He pointed out that

Major Street Projects To Get Under Way Here Monday

Monday will be a red-letter day on street work in Big Spring for 1962. Some new paving will be started, correction of a drainage and maintenance problem at Birdwell and Eleventh Place, and a seal-coat program started.

About 1,130 feet of Adams Avenue will be paved from the Dora Roberts Student Union Building eastward past the drainage ditch on the east side of the stadium. Larry Crow, city manager, said that contracts were negotiated between the City, HJC and W. D. Caldwell Co. Work will be pressed in hopes of solving a dust and drainage problem before the first football game.

This is not part of the assessment program on which a hearing has been set for Sept. 11.

NEW PROGRAM

A bid price of $5.1117 per front foot on a 36-foot street and $3.2228 per front foot on a 40-foot street in the assessment paving program was accepted by the commission last Tuesday night provided not more than 25 per cent of the property owners on streets included protest. Included will be Birdwell Lane from Fifteenth to Marcy; Brown Street between Third and Fourth; Austin Street from 100 feet south of Third to Fourth; and San Jacinto Street, from Third to Fourth.

If the first phase is accepted, and work started, a second phase of the assessment paving will be started.

A problem which has been a drainage and maintenance headache to the city for some time will be solved when city crews start Monday evening, tearing out about 100 feet of curb and pavement on Birdwell Lane and Eleventh Place.

INTERSECTION JOB

The city commission is very anxious for this work to be done. Crow said Friday. "I have, on the commission's approval, authorized the work to start Monday when the heaviest traffic is past. Poor drainage has made maintenance expensive and has created a bad situation. We will save money in the long run and have a much better street."

The city will put down a stabilization base as soon as the pavement is removed and allow traffic to move over the street while the work is being done.

The curb will have to be rerun but this will not bother traffic. The street cannot be topped until the curbs and gutters are run.

He estimated the cost of the repaving, to provide drainage on Birdwell to the north, at approximately $1,700.

SEAL COATING

Single shot seal coating will be begun Monday morning to cover about 40 blocks of paved streets. On the north side these will include North Second, Scurry to Benton; North Third, Gregg to Runnels, and Northwest Fourth, Ayford to Gregg.

South side streets will be Second, Gregg to Lancaster; Cedar Road, Marcy to Canyon Drive; all of Ridgelea; all of Caylor; Eighteenth, Goliad to Donley, and Fifth, Gregg to Main.

Work has been completed on Runnels, Thirteenth to Eighteenth; on Wood, State to Settles; on Nolan, Fourth to Sixth, and on Goliad, Seventh to Tenth.

Other Monday work to be started in the public works department and under the bond program will be: Final clean-up and stabilization of downtown alleys (these will be seal-coated in 1963); sodding of the outfield at the softball field in the City Park; and laying of the 36-inch outfall sewer line between the old and new sewage disposal plants.

Three Best-Dressed Men

The three best-dressed men around the Big Spring Fire Department this week were Fire Chief H. V. Crocker, left; Training Officer H. W. Clawson, and Fire Marshal A. D. Meador. They now wear white caps, white shirts, black ties and black trousers. City Manager Larry Crow Jr. said the uniforms for summer were to dignify the "top brass" of the department. The winter uniforms will be the same as in the past except for white shirts.

Prominent Publisher Dead At 80

FORT WORTH — Clarence H. Leonard, one of Texas' most beloved newspaper publishers, died Friday night in a Fort Worth hospital at the age of 80.

He was publisher of the Gainesville Daily Register, which his father, a Gainesville civic and business leader, founded in 1890. He began his newspaper career at the age of 5, delivering his father's newspapers astride his pet pony.

The veteran publisher was hospitalized Tuesday night after he suffered a head injury when he fell at the front door of his Gainesville home.

His condition grew steadily worse and he was transferred Thursday by ambulance to Fort Worth's Harris hospital where he died at 6:15 p.m.

Distinguished looking, yet always soft spoken, Leonard was meticulous in all undertakings. His spic-and-span publishing plant was the talk of the newspaper profession. A beautiful rose, placed daily in the front window, was an admiring trademark.

Leonard came from a pioneer family which contributed to the building of Gainesville, a thriving community on the Red River, just south of the Oklahoma border. Widely-known Leonard Park was donated to the city by his family.

He was named Texas' "Newspaperman of the Year" in 1956 by Sigma Delta Chi, the journalism fraternity. He was active in the Texas Press Association, The Associated Press Managing Editors Association, the Texas Daily Newspaper Association and the Southern Newspaper Association.

In 1961 his Gainesville Register won the TPA's general excellence award and repeated in 1962 in a higher population bracket.

Survivors include a brother, Joe M. Leonard of Gainesville; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Esther R. Leonard of Gainesville; and four nephews, Cmdr. Robert E. Leonard, U. S. Navy, Boston, Mass.; Joe M. Leonard Jr., Gainesville; Earl M. Leonard, Gainesville; and Bill Kerby, Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon from Whaley Memorial Methodist Church of Gainesville, where Leonard was a member.

LONGEST CAB RIDE IN HISTORY HERE!

VERIFIES TEST-TRACK EVIDENCE: "MONTHS MORE RIDE WITH RIVERSIDE TIRES"

Tuesday you can see one of the two cabs criss-crossing America to prove publicly the superior mileage built into Wards famous Riverside ST-107 Tires. Cabs are equipped with regular Riverside Tires taken directly from retail stocks. Marathon cab ride will equal 3 years' driving for the average motorist. Tires will be driven until they're smooth—and total mileage is expected to reach surprisingly high levels. Previous test-track findings last Fall proved Riversides gave months more ride than 4 other nationally advertised, first-line 4-ply Nylons. Now these facts get open-road demonstration. See the cab, talk to the driver at Wards!

Test-Tracks, labs already prove Wards Riverside Tires Tops!

Nearly 50 years of careful testing, superb design and top-notch quality go into Riverside Tires.

Made in one of the world's largest tire factories, Riverside "Check-rated" Tires are built to a standard of quality—not to meet a price!

At a giant test track in Lancaster, California, Riverside ST-107's were driven for 1000 miles at 95 MPH—to assure Riverside buyers of maximum safety at expressway speeds. At another test track in Texas, Riversides—and other major brands—were driven almost continuously over a 375-mile loop—1100 miles a day.

It is here that tire engineers learned conclusively that Riversides would give months more ride than 4 other major-brand tires. More ride, more safety, better all-around performance. Because of the continuous, top-quality test program maintained by Riverside, many major Fleet operators rely on Riverside Tires in rugged commercial use with expensive pay-loads. These cost-conscious, big-volume purchasers depend on Riverside "specifications" and Quality Control. Any motorist can get the same fine Riversides at more than 1200 Wards stores nationwide.

FREE TIRE ROTATION

Bring this coupon to any Wards Auto Service Center in the next 30 days and get FREE ROTATION and inspection of your present tires—regardless of brand or age. Nothing to buy, no obligation.

Good Any Monday Thru Friday During Next 30 Days.

U. S. AUTO CLUB CERTIFIES CROSS-COUNTRY RIDE!

Famous United States Auto Club—supervisor of the annual Mobilgas Economy Run and other major automotive test events—is judge of "the longest cab ride in history."

USAC picked the tires used for the rugged open-road ride at random directly from various Wards store retail stocks.

A USAC observer has been riding with each cab, since they pulled out of Detroit, May 26 on the cross-country marathon ride.

Max White, USAC observer with Cab #1, is co-chairman of the Technical Committee, Indianapolis 500 Mile Race. A. J. Shepherd, USAC Observer in Cab #2 during the entire trip, is a former Indianapolis "500" driver—who qualified for the race at 143 MPH!

Drivers will sign affidavits at the end of the run certifying compliance with USAC rules.

Guess The Meter "Bill" . . . WIN ONE RIVERSIDE ST-107

Can you estimate the "bill" on the meter to date—before you pull into Wards parking lot here? Remember, the cab left Detroit May 26 and has been attempting 400 miles per day, 5 days per week. Meter rate is 40¢ for the first one-third mile, 10¢ per additional one-third mile—plus 10¢ for each 2 minutes wait time in traffic, at stoplights and train crossings. A 400-mile day is about $10.00 plus waiting time charges. Final meter reading could be over $11.00 if the run breaks 40,000 miles! Go ahead—take a flyer at it. Cizon's estimate here wins one ST-107 Riverside Tire Free Enter as many times as you like. Nothing to buy. No obligation!

THE FIRST SWEEPER

FIRST SELF-PROPELLED SWEEPER

THE NEWEST STREET SWEEPER

Big Sweeper Eclipses Record Of First Mule-Drawn Machine

By M. A. WEBB
Street sweeping equipment for Big Spring has evolved from a five-foot single brush drawn by a little pair of mules driven by a lad named Skeet Forsythe, to a modern, self-propelled, streamlined machine. Two drivers keep it operating 16 hours a day.

The first sweeper had two large rear wheels which drove the brush in the opposite direction with a chain drive. Two low front wheels held the weight even and were beneath the driver's seat. Dirt and trash were swept against the curb and men scooped it up and put it in wagons or trucks to be hauled off the streets.

The modern sweeper picks up its own trash and dumps the carrier when full.

SLOW CHANGE

The evolution from the first to the newest in Big Spring has been slow. The mule-drawn sweeper was modified to be pulled with a Fordson tractor in 1930. The first self-propelled sweeper was purchased in 1933. The first operator was still Skeet Forsythe. He graduated to street superintendent July 4 in the same year.

The old sweeper finally played out during the depression and war years, and the city went three or four years without one.

A new Wayne sweeper was purchased in 1954 and is still in use. A second self-propelled sweeper was purchased by the city in 1960 but didn't "pan" out so well and was traded in on a second new Wayne in 1962. So Big Spring has actually owned five sweepers during the 34 years since 1928.

"It took five hours to sweep the streets with those two brown-tail mules," Skeet said this week. "I started at midnight and had to make two rounds on each street. We had Mann, Scurry, Runnels, and Johnson from First to Tenth then. There was a scoop crew right behind me. I was not 21 then but operated the sweeper at night and road machinery in the daytime."

FAST SWEEPING

"When the new self-propelled machine was bought we had more streets, but we swept them all in four and a half or five hours. That was pretty fast sweeping then."

Then came the time we had no sweeper and had to use blades, brushes and scoops until we could get the next one in 1954. Forsythe continued. Boy, that was some boost to our morale and that sweeper has been a good one. It's eight years old now and, with an overhaul after we got our present new one, will be good for a lot more sweeping.

The new sweeper takes care of the business area between 3 and 5 a.m. every day. The two operators are Ray Leeds and Sanchez Torres.

"Big Spring now has around 100 miles of paved streets and it takes a lot of sweeping," Forsythe said. "I'd hate to think we still had to do it with mules, even though it crowds us to keep them clean now when showers fall."

MULES RETIRED

"Those mules and I had a thorough understanding of each other and we got the job done, but it sure did speed things up when we hitched that sweeper to the tractor in 1930. It didn't sweep close like the modern sweepers but kept our streets in pretty good condition."

Forsythe is still street superintendent, a division of the public works department, and doesn't have time to do any equipment driving now. He has been with the City of Big Spring for 34 years, starting as a sweeper mule-skinner. All city equipment maintenance and repair is now under his supervision at the city garage.

"Every time a piece of equipment is damaged it's just like taking skin off me," he says. "I like good machinery and like to see it treated well — including sweepers."

Airline To Resume Full Operations

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Eastern Air Lines said Saturday full operations, curtailed since July 23 by a strike of flight engineers, would be resumed Sept. 13.

Malcolm MacIntyre, Eastern's president, said his line would resume full jet and piston plane service regardless of a continued strike by the flight engineers and a threatened walkout by machinists.

"If the machinists strike, we would have no alternative but to get an injunction," MacIntyre stated at a news conference.

"Where you have a contract and the machinery for settling grievances, there is no problem in getting an injunction to stop a walk-out," MacIntyre said.

MacIntyre pointed out that resumption of what he called "full schedules" did not mean that service would be provided on the same level to all cities as before the strike began.

"The total seat miles will be reduced," MacIntyre said. "There will be a reduction of service to some small cities."

MacIntyre also said that a streamlining of operations would mean that 4,000 to 5,000 employees in all categories would not be recalled Sept. 13.

He said perhaps one or two thousand of these would be recalled about Dec. 15 when the heavy winter traffic is expected. However, MacIntyre said, there are no present plans to return to the full 18,000 employee level which EAL had on June 22.

The strike by the AFL-CIO Flight Engineers International Association stemmed from a dispute over whether pilots or engineers would man the third seat of the cockpit when jet plane crews are reduced from four to three.

Budget Hearing Set At Coahoma

COAHOMA — Public hearing on the proposed budget for the Coahoma Independent School District has been set for 8 p.m. Monday at the school.

Mechanically, preparations are being made for the opening of school. Supt. W. A. Wilson reminded all parents that pupils from grades 1-12 must present certificates of the five shot immunizations as a requisite for enrollment.

Garden City Needs Two More Teachers

GARDEN CITY (SC) — Two faculty positions are still open at Garden City High School.

Mrs. Rosa B. Curtis is to be the math teacher, but there is an opening in the home economics department. Also needed is a language teacher, said B. L. Murphy, superintendent.

Three Brothers Victims Of Gunfight In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Three brothers died in a gunfight that erupted early Saturday in an argument over a woman.

Two men were charged with murder.

Killed were Fred and Larry Garcia, 34 and 24, of Houston, and Martin Garcia, 26, of San Antonio.

Fred was shot in the chest as he stood in front of El Rancho night club shortly after midnight.

Firemen To Meet

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — More than 2,000 firemen are due here Sunday for the International Association of Firefighters convention.

Police said the shooting followed an argument between Garcia and Benito Espinoza, 29, of Houston, when Espinoza made advances toward a woman, 28, who was with the Garcia brothers.

Espinoza has been charged in the slaying.

The other two brothers chased Espinoza down during a brief gunfight and pistol whipped him, police said, and then returned to the night club.

They scuffled with club owner Antonio Ortega, 42, and he drew his pistol and shot Larry twice and Martin once, police said.

Ortega was charged twice, once in each death.

Who me? Neglect my child's vision?

Of course you would never intentionally endanger your child's visual health. But time passes fast. Did you really have his eyes examined in the last 12 months, as you intended to do?

If not, take him to a TSO office soon for a scientific eye examination. His eyes will be examined internally for evidence of disease or defect and then for visual abnormalities.

If your child's vision is found to be satisfactory, there is only a nominal $3 charge for the examination. If glasses are needed (or contact lenses, if preferred) they will be dispensed without delay by skilled opticians and set in smart frames that will flatter your child's natural looks.

Finest quality single vision glasses . . . as low as $14.95 complete with examination, lenses and frame.

Precision-fitted Micro-sight single vision contact lenses . . . $65 complete with professional examination. ©TSO—1962

KIWANIS DISTRICT GOVERNOR SPEAKS
Half dozen clubs send delegations here

Kiwanis Official Banquet Speaker

It is not enough to enjoy the blessings of freedom afforded by this land—it is more important that all good Americans be constantly vigilant that these blessings are perpetuated.

This was the admonition of Jay Dee Fountain, Lawton Okla., business man, and currently governor of the Oklahoma-Texas Kiwanis district Friday night. He was speaking at a dinner in his honor at the Codden Country Club with the Big Spring Kiwanis club as hosts. More than 125 were present.

The appearance here was Governor Fountain's official visit to Division 22 of the Kiwanis International organization. Big Spring is a club in that division. At the banquet were delegations from the Kiwanis clubs in Lamesa, Colorado City, Andrews, Snyder, and from two clubs in both Midland and Odessa. There are 11 clubs in the 22nd division. A. J. Walker was master of ceremonies. The speaker of the evening was presented by Jack Alexander, lieutenant governor of Division 22 and a member of the Big Spring club. Mrs. Don Newsom, vocalist, provided special music for the evening.

Governor Fountain was accompanied by his wife and his young son. He is making visits officially to each of the divisions on his district. He discussed plans for the district convention to be held Oct. 4, 5 and 6, in Oklahoma City and summarized highlights of the program planned for it.

After the banquet a social hour in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Fountain was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smith, 712 Dallas. Smiths and the Alexanders were co-hosts to this event.

J. C. Pickle, president of the Big Spring club, expressed his thanks to the club members and to the delegations from the other clubs for making the banquet a success.

DEAR ABBY

A Really Big Problem

DEAR ABBY: I have a really big problem I am 45 years old and what I am expecting is not a blessed event. You see, I am not married, but I got mixed up with a 17-year-old mail boy who works in my office. He's just a kid and marriage is out of the question. I have given this boy presents and cash because at my age it is not easy to get a man I know I was wrong, but I am very lonely and I'd get so lonesome I would almost lose my mind. I don't want to cause this boy any trouble as it was all my doing, but I must find out where to go to have this baby and get it adopted out. Advise me at once, please.

OLD ENOUGH TO KNOW BETTER: DEAR OLD ENOUGH: Get in touch with the Booth Memorial Hospital (supported by the Salvation Army) and they will care for you during your confinement, and arrange for the adoption of your baby.

DEAR ABBY: In your opinion is it proper for a telephone caller to ask "Who is speaking?" Also, do you think a telephone caller should ask for such information as "Where is your mother, and what time do you expect her home?" BURNED-UP ADULT: DEAR BURNED UP: A telephone caller should always introduce himself when making a call. Then he may ask to whom he is speaking. Only in cases of urgency should a caller ask where his party may be reached and when he is expected to return.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and can't get a boyfriend because of my competition. A certain girl in our crowd has all the boys after her. She is red-headed, has bands on her teeth and is straight up and down, but her mother lets her wear heels, straight skirts, orange lipstick and eye make-up. I'll bet if I could do all that I would be popular, too. How can I get my mother to let me grow up so I can get a boyfriend? JEALOUS: DEAR JEALOUS: Your mother knows what she's doing. Honey, let your red-headed, straight-shirted, painted little friend enjoy her "popularity" now. You'll have yours later. And it will last longer.

DEAR ABBY: Do I have to send another wedding gift to a cousin of mine who is remarrying her former husband? CHUMP: DEAR CHUMP: Not unless you want to.

STOP!

IF YOU'RE THINKING OF LEAVING SCHOOL, PLEASE TAKE TIME TO READ THIS MESSAGE; IT COULD CHANGE YOUR ENTIRE FUTURE!

Your Friends May Be Envious Of Your First Paycheck, But In Several Years, They'll Be Earning More Than You Are, Because They Have A Diploma!

If you drop out of school early, you'll be closing the door on many opportunities which mean bigger paychecks, greater job satisfaction and more security in the future:

(1) None of the professions will be open to you because these demand training beyond high school, and of course such higher education must be preceded by a completion of high school.

(2) On-the-job training for skilled and even semi-skilled work has been sharply reduced in recent years because there are now so many people who have already been trained, in high school, to do the work.

Consider the job that is luring you away from school. The pay may look good now, but think about your chances for future advancement. And remember, the paychecks you receive during the years you should be in school will never make up for the money you can earn later if you stay in school. The educated person starts higher up the ladder of success and with the knowledge that's needed in order to climb faster.

As Benjamin Franklin said, "An investment in knowledge always pays the best dividends."

Paving Of New Segment On US 87 Ready To Start

Cage Bros. contractors engaged in building a divided highway segment to US 87 from the city limits north to Fairview, plan to begin shooting the road Thursday and will complete the project early in September.

When finished the six miles now under construction will transform US 87 into a four lane road from Big Spring northward to the Dawson County line. The northern end of the highway has already been made into a four-lane road.

The Cage Bros. contract calls for the expenditure of around $200,000 to change from a two lane into a four lane thoroughfare.

Smoot said that Strain Bros., San Angelo, have a contract to sealcoat the eastern land of the highway (the old roadbed) and will start almost simultaneously with the completion of the new paving by Cage Bros.

$200,000. Work started on the job March 5. Joe Smoot, resident engineer for the State Highway Department, said the San Antonio contractor has made good time and that the highway department was pleased with the work.

Van Hoose Named To Directorate

Tom C. Van Hoose of Big Spring has been appointed an associate director of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association. He operates the Pontiac agency.

Announcement of the appointment has been made by TADA President Joe B. Kinsel of Beaumont.

TADA is a statewide organization with a membership of over 1,300 franchised new-car and truck dealers. Headquarters are located in Austin with H. C. Pittman as executive vice president.

Three members of Coach Robbins' 1962 line are admiring Elmo's new fall line.

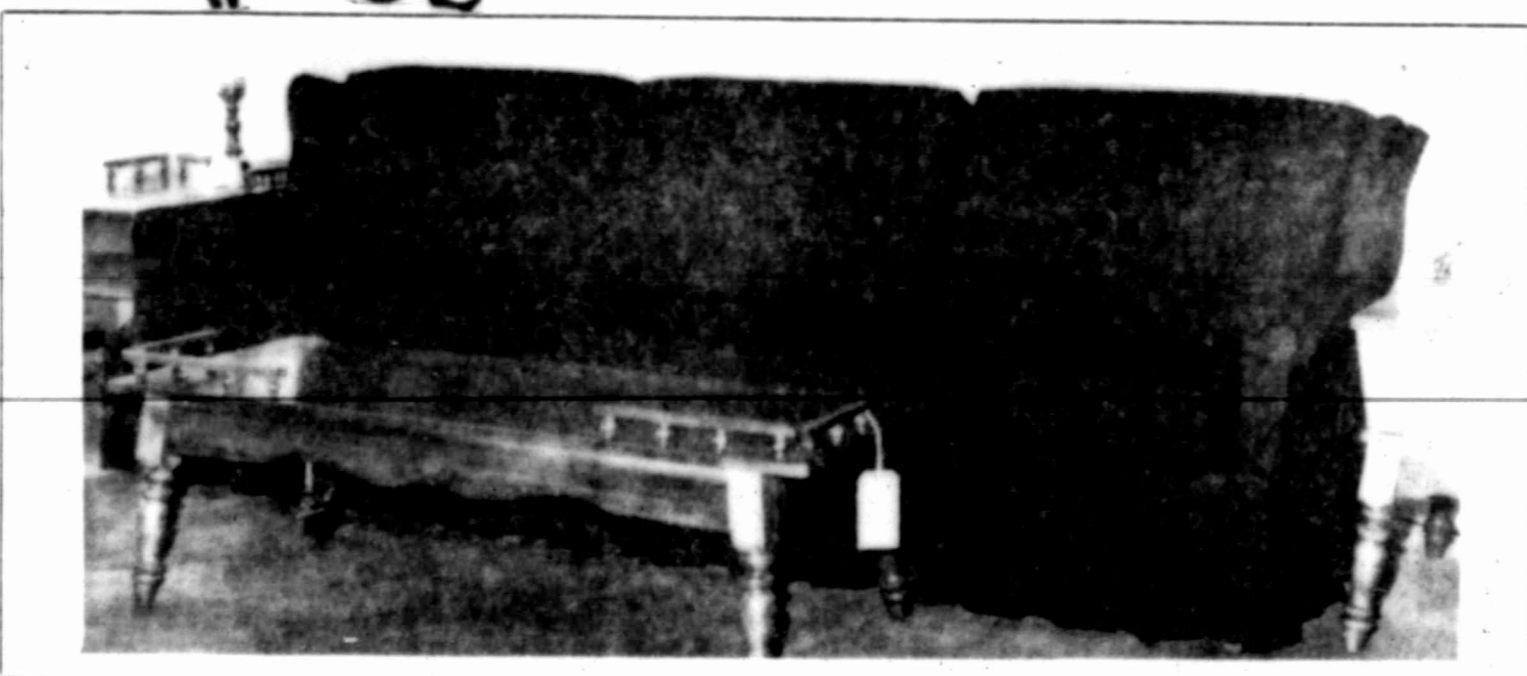

Left to right: Joe Lewis Brown has selected a plaid ivy sport coat priced at only $29.95. Eddie Nelson has chosen a Fabian Sweater for only $10.95. Jimmy Nip wears a new black mohair dress suit priced at only $49.95.

Internes Round Out Training Here In Pastoral Counseling

Four temporary citizens, pastoral counseling internes at the Big Spring State Hospital, will be packing their bags to leave next weekend.

They have completed a summer's work at the hospital, which set up this training program several years ago.

The visitors are Tony Hollis, Bermuda, Doug Hogg, Norfolk, Va., Val Frakes, Lawton, Okla., and Bill Branch, Atlanta, Ga. All are theological students at seminaries in the East and Southwest.

Hollis, 22, is in his second year of the three-year theological program at the General Theological Seminary, New York, N. Y. He and Hogg are studying to become Episcopal ministers. Hollis plans to return to his home diocese in Baltimore, Md., upon completion of his training and following ordination.

Hogg, who is attending the Episcopal Theological Seminary of the Southwest at Austin, lacks one year of the program. He said he intends to go directly into the pastorate field in Virginia after ordination.

Frakes will begin his third and final year at the Union Theological Seminary, New York, N. Y., in September. He hails from Lawton, Okla., and was somewhat familiar with the West Texas climate and its citizens before coming to Big Spring. The others, however, met it cold and found things hot. It took quite a bit of doing to try to adjust to the heat and dust.

Bill Branch, 23, is a United Presbyterian, as is Frakes. He came here from the Union Presbyterian Seminary, Richmond, Va., but makes his home in Atlanta, Ga.

"I will probably remain in the Southeast after ordination and may take additional training later," he said.

A busy schedule has not allowed the four young men to become acquainted with much more than Big Spring, although they have made quick trips to other cities in the area. Much of their opinion of West Texas, however, depends on their impressions of this city.

"We have done a lot of swimming," Branch said, explaining that they had been given guest memberships to the YMCA and to Cusden Country Club for the length of their stay here.

But they have not been impressed so much with the weather. And who can argue that the summer has not been a bit on the hot side?

Informality Will Mark Party In Honor Of NCOs

Informal dress will be the uniform at a western style barbecue supper for sergeants at Webb Air Force Base scheduled Thursday at the Big Spring Country Club.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the informal, local businessmen and non-commissioned officers become better acquainted. The special events committee of the Chamber and the Base Council are working jointly on the affair.

It is to begin at 6:30 p.m. with a hospitality period. The meal will be served about 7:30 p.m.

Local businessmen are hosting the sergeants. Through Thursday 71 tickets had been purchased, leaving about 10 more available. They may be obtained at the Chamber office. Each ticket will admit one sponsor and one sergeant.

Courtney Reunion Scheduled Aug. 23

Annual homecoming for the Courtney community in Martin County has been set for Aug. 26 starting at 1:30 p.m. in the schoolhouse.

No program has been planned so that the entire afternoon can be devoted to visiting an reminiscing. Sam Sid Cross, president of the reunion association, Joe Stewart is vice president, and Mrs. Kathleen Lewis is the secretary.

U.S. Chamber Head To Speak At Dedication

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex. (AP)—H. Ladd Plumley, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will speak when the Hubbard Creek Reservoir is dedicated near here Oct. 4.

The dedication will be sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce of Breckenridge, Abilene, Albany and Anson and the mayors of those communities, as well as the 12 directors of the West Central Texas Municipal Water District. The dam is on Hubbard Creek, a tributary of the Clear Fork of the Brazos River.

The reservoir is about two miles from Breckenridge, and 30 miles from Possum Kingdom Reservoir. Conservation storage is 320,500 acre feet. An acre foot is 311,000 gallons.

The dam is to supply water for the four cities. No power production or irrigation is provided in the project.

Approximate cost of this present phase of the project, including land, flood easements, damages, cost of dam, spillway, emergency spillway, clearing, moving of utilities, relocation of U. S. 100, surveying, relocation of county roads, additional right-of-way for U. S. highway, fences, removal of about 75 graves, legal fees and cost of financing total about $8.3 million. The district voted $15,000,000 in bonds for the entire project.

Formal Orbit Report Monday

HOUSTON (AP)—Astronaut Scott Carpenter will make his formal report Monday on his May 24 orbital flight.

Top space officials also will present six technical reports on key aspects of project Mercury 8 Aurora 7 flight.

There has been speculation two 20-minute discussion periods included on the all-day agenda may lead to comments on the new Russian flights of 64 and 48 orbits.

The astronauts and key officials of the Manned Spacecraft Center have declined comment on the Russian flights.

More than 3,000 persons have been invited to the Tuesday conference, the first to be held outside Washington. A spokesman for the spacecraft center expressed hope it will be the first of many such meetings to be held here.

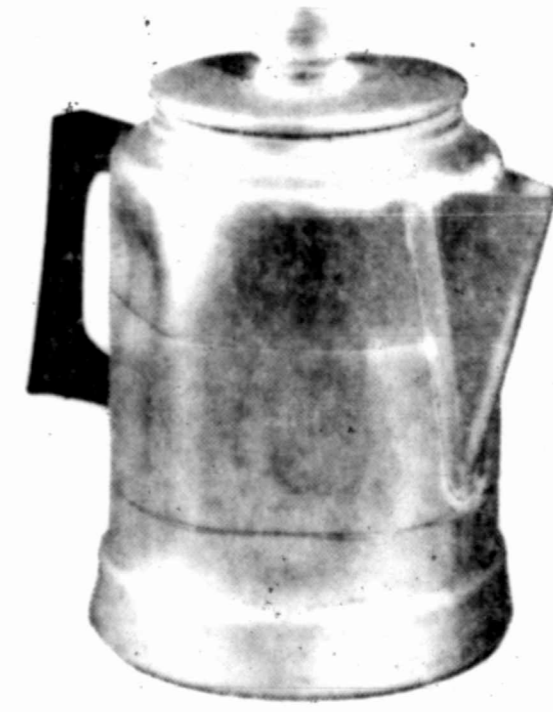

Those invited include about 2,000 persons who received invitations to the April 6 Washington conference at which Lt. Col. John Glenn reported on his Feb. 20 orbital flight.

This group includes congressmen, foreign ambassadors, President Kennedy's Science Advisory Committee, and scientists from throughout the nation.

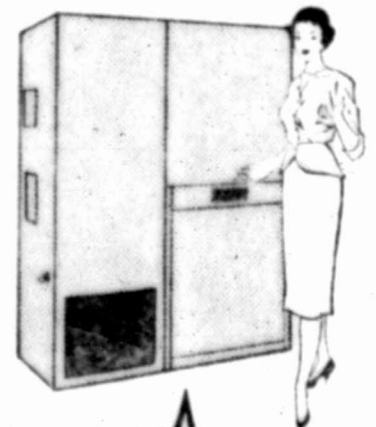

Challenge Of The Cross

Youth Week at the First Baptist Church will be climaxed with presentation of a sacred drama, "Challenge of the Cross." Cynthia Pond, who will play the lead, is shown here with one of the characters, Ross Reagan, who has also served as youth pastor during the special week. Seven young people and the youth choir will stage the program at 7:45 p.m. today.

Orioles Fall In 10th, 4-3

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Cleveland Indians scored the winning run without a hit and defeated the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 Saturday in 10 innings. . . With one out, Tito Francona hit a long drive to right center field which Oriole right fielder Jack Brandt dropped after a long run. Then, after Willie Kirkland was walked intentionally, relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm uncorked a wild pitch which allowed Francona to score. . . Francona also figured in the other two Cleveland rallies. He doubled in the fourth and scored on a single by Woody Held, and he slugged a homer to open the sixth. The Indians added another run in the inning on a double steal by Kirkland and Held. . . Cleveland's total for the season is 100 runs in 100 games. Baltimore is 98 runs in 100 games. . . The victory moved the second place Giants to within three games of front-running Los Angeles pending the outcome of the Dodgers' night engagement with Cincinnati.

Giants Ramble Past Braves. . . MILWAUKEE (AP)—San Francisco reliever Bob Boin bailed out starter Jack Sanford in the sixth inning and cruised the rest of the way Saturday as the Giants snapped a three-game losing streak by defeating the Milwaukee Braves 6-4. . . The victory moved the second place Giants to within three games of front-running Los Angeles pending the outcome of the Dodgers' night engagement with Cincinnati. . . Boin took over for Sanford after the Braves had crept to within one run and had runners on first and second with one out in the sixth. The big right-hander worked his way out of the jam and hurled three-hit ball through the stretch in preserving San Francisco's 17th victory and 11th in a row. Sanford has lost six. . . The Giants, who had won only one of seven previous road games put together five hits and three runs in shelling Milwaukee starter Bob Hendley in the fourth. They added another run off Carl Willey in the sixth and two more off Lew Burdette in the ninth. The loss was charged to Hendley; now 8-10.

Hopes High For A Winner At Coahoma

COAHOMA — Hopes are high here that the Coahoma Bulldogs can and will show a big improvement over last year's 1-9 non-loss record during the 1962 football season.

Last fall's contingent was largely an untried outfit, prone to make mistakes. Coach Jimmy Spann and his aides have 16 lettermen returning from last fall, however, plus some prime transfers and promising graduates from the junior high school program.

The Bulldogs, who represent their school in District 6-A, begin workouts at 7 a.m. Monday and will toil twice a day until school gets under way. Evening workouts begin at 5:30 p.m., perhaps later.

Spann's team begins its season Sept. 7, at which time it meets a traditional rival, Hermleigh, in Hermleigh.

Principal losses to the Bulldog team were halfback Frankie Firezza, top scorer for the 1961 season; guard Billy Ford and halfback Ronnie Lindsey.

Much is expected this year of Tommy Grant, a 150-pound senior quarterback, who was ineligible for varsity ball here last year because of the transfer rule. He moved here from Garden City after lettering his sophomore year in school.

Bobby Williams, former letterman linebacker at Big Spring, also becomes eligible this fall. A 150-pounder, he'll play tackle.

Lettermen due back with the Bulldogs, their weight, position and number of years in which they have won numerals, include: Senior Jimmy Mays, 160, end, two letters.

Senior Yogi Cunningham, 195, moved from quarterback to guard, three letters.

Junior Danny Stoker, 150, tackle, one letter.

Sophomore Larry Pflerigo, 160, tackle, one letter.

Sophomore Ronnie Burgess, 150, center, one letter.

Sophomore Ted Cearley, 200, guard, one letter.

Junior Butch Fraser, 165, former quarterback and center, now an end, one letter.

Junior Dan Shelburn, 200 pounds plus, tackle, one letter.

Junior Weldon Self, guard moved to center, nearly 200 pounds, two letters.

Junior Ronnie Dodson, 150-pound quarterback, one letter.

Senior Billy Stegald, 185, tackle, one letter.

Senior Billy Turner, 175, fullback, three letters.

Sophomore Eddie Walski, 190, guard, one letter.

Sophomore Eddie McHugh, 150-pound fullback, destined to run first or second string.

Promising squadmen back include sophomore Dwayne Allen, 140, halfback; sophomore Wesley Wright, 150, who'll probably play an end position; Wayne Krause, a freshman who will be using his last year of eligibility, halfback, 190 pounds; Jimmy Shafer, a 140-pound junior, and junior Vernon Long, 145-pound quarterback.

Up from junior high are such promising boys as Mike Mosley, 145-pound end who may be moved into the backfield; quarterback Marshall Williams, 140-pounder who throws the ball well; Tony Butler, 160-pound fullback, and Tommy Stoker, 165-pound guard.

Spann plans to hold a football camp the first week of training, at which time the boys will be bedded down in the school gymnasium at night.

Rotan, one of the conference foes for the Bulldogs, has been favored in some pre-season polls to win the Class A State championship.

Coach Spann is expecting close to 60 boys to report for initial workouts. Spann will be assisted this year by Rob Etheredge, Grady Tindol and his freshmen mentor, Bill Easterling.

The Coahoma schedule:

Sept. 7 — at Hermleigh
Sept. 14 — Rankin at Coahoma
Sept. 21 — Stanton at Coahoma
Sept. 28 — Lorraine at Coahoma
Oct. 5 — Reagan County at Big Lake
Oct. 12 — Open
Oct. 19 — Roscoe at Coahoma (C)

Spartans Shun Use Of Platoon Ball

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan State plans an "iron man" defiance of the accelerated trend toward unit substitution in the coming college football season.

With some teams like Pitt, Air Force and Navy getting the fall practice jump on the rest of the field this week, attention is swinging to the gridiron where Coach Duffy Daugherty's Spartan outcasts stick out like the proverbial sore thumb.

The stakes for Michigan State are Big Ten and national prominence.

Because 14 of the 20 lettermen lost were either on the starting offensive or defensive units, Daugherty says, "We are going to get the best 11 players we have on the field at one time. Platooning is a luxury we won't be able to afford."

Among those new recruits willing to pay the price of platoons are Army — where Paul Dietzel brings the three-unit plan he popularized at Louisiana State — Colorado, North Carolina, Detroit, Richmond, Cincinnati, Kansas, Florida, Georgia and New Mexico State.

Coach Jim Hickey of North Carolina reasons, "One of the calculated merits of three unit substitution is that it boosts squad morale."

Participation has increased now that 33 players share the heavy duty instead of 22 as in the long, since outlawed unlimited substitution scheme.

Generally speaking, fans can expect still more three-unit substitution, more wide-open pro-type attacks and an increased blending of the two classic offenses — T and single wing.

And in the vicious circle, the tougher the jammed defenses get, the more field goals will abound.

"Not all is unorthodox at Michigan State where the Spartans are joining in the growing redesigning of left and right halfbacks as tailbacks and wingbacks, a la single wing influence."

In order to get the maximum out of his high quality personnel, Daugherty is assigning All-American Dave Behrman (25) to full-time center duty, relieving him of added tackle-guard chores.

The multiple moves also send Ed Budde from guard to tackle, Mike Currie center to guard, Lino Sanders end to wingback and Deway Lincoln tailback to wing back.

Texas, Washington, Air Force, Iowa State and UCLA also have undergone major personnel manipulations.

At Texas where Coach Darrell Royal appears to have launched another trend with his "flip-flop" unbalanced line version of the wing-T, a dozen moves have been made to shore up the once-beaten Longhorns of '61, including the switch of promising sophomore Gary Crain from fullback to tailback.

Jim Owens, a teammate of Royal's at Oklahoma believes he can enhance his swing-T at Washington by sending Jim Stiger from fullback to halfback, Glen Keizer from end to center and Jake Upp from end to tackle.

New Mexico State has with drawn from the Border loop, leaving only Texas Western, Hardin-Simmons and West Texas State agreed to remain for the present.

Offensively, William and Mary is adopting the pros' shotgun attack, a version of which Jim Camp calls the "sling shot" at George Washington, Nebraska will employ a spread part time, TCU has a spread-T and SMU what it terms a sprint-out-T.

Oklahoma's split-T stronghold was the scene of large doses of wing-T in the spring.

Williams New HPC Coach

BROWNWOOD — Charles Williams, whose magic conversion toe made seven-pointers of almost all of famed "Pistol Pete" Pedro's 22 touchdowns at West Texas fall, has been named backfield coach at Howard Payne College, effective immediately, according to Dr. C. E. (Nig) McCarver, athletic director, and H. N. (Rusty) Russell, head football coach.

He succeeds Melvin Lindsey, who resigned his post Aug. 1 to accept an assistant coaching position at Big Spring.

This will be the 27-year-old Williams' first coaching assignment, but he will be able to rely on a rich football background in quickly making his mark in coaching circles. A four-year letterman in football at Smithville High School, he played the quarterback slot for Russell at Victoria Jr. College during the 1958-59 seasons, and guided his mates to a good 8-2 non-loss record the final year.

Williams successfully negotiated 24 of 37 conversion kicks attempted last fall and made good on six of seven field goal tries.

Stanton Has 15 Vets Back This Season

STANTON — The Stanton Buffaloes, who change partners to dance this fall, begin work Monday morning for their Sept. 7 football opener in Merkel.

Coach Harlin Dauphin will greet 15 letter winners, including seven who were regulars last year.

The Bisons, members of District 7-AA this year and will have as conference opponents Crane, McCamey, Alpine and Sonora.

Crane is the pre-season favorite, but the Buffs are ready to concede nothing. They feel as if they got a liberal education in competing in a district with that perennial toughie, Denver City.

Incidentally, playing Denver City didn't leave Dauphin or the Buffaloes with a complex. He's booked the Mustangs again for a practice game and the Buffs are looking forward to visiting Denver City on Oct. 26.

Regulars returning from last season include Mike Sorley, a 230-pound tackle who rated both all-district platoons last fall; Buddy Glaspie, 175-pound all-district quarterback; Dewey Anderson, 190-pound fullback, honorable mention all-district; Mack Mathis, 185-pound senior, another boy who rated the honorable mention list; Ben Mott, 180-pound two-letter tackle, a senior; Ronnie McReynolds, 180-pound junior end; and Joe Williams, 140-pound senior, who also rated the honorable mention list as a halfback last year.

Other numeral winners returning include Ronnie Hayes, 185, junior guard; Donnie Polson, 200, senior guard; Bob Stephenson, 170, senior end; Bill Graves, 150, senior guard; Lynch Hightower, 175, senior tackle; Roger Boyce, 245, junior tackle; Teddy Stewart and David Hodge, both of whom are linemen and have won two letters.

Principal losses to the Buffs were Herb Sorley, all-district linebacker and end; Jimmy Sale, halfback and linebacker; and Sam Webb, an all-district defensive guard.

Such boys as Jack Mims, 195-pound back and Johnny Swanson, 140-pound halfback, new to the varsity squad will bolster the Stanton attack.

The Buffs will be handicapped by a lack of speed but will be one of the biggest teams Stanton has ever fielded.

Dauphin expects about 55 boys out for initial drills at 8 a.m. Monday. After Monday the Buffs will work from 7 until 9 o'clock each morning and from 6:30 to 8:30 each evening until school starts.

Harlin says he will have more depth than ever before. The Buffs

Bowling Parley Is Called Here

The meeting started at 7 p.m. Tuesday, August 31. League play ordinarily gets under way in September.

Masters Tourney Dates Are Set

By The Associated Press

The first annual Texas masters invitational fishing tournament will be held Aug. 20-21 at Port Mansfield. The meet will consist of team fishing with a maximum of four members on each boat's team. The fishermen will seek only sailfish, blue and white marlin.

The Concho Bass Club's invitational tournament is set Oct. 6-7 on North Concho and Nasworthy lakes near San Angelo.

Deck fishermen on the Highland Lakes who use the lightest tackle catch the most fish, says Buddy Rogers, operator of a Marina on Lake Travis. "They find out they do better when they use very light gear, especially on crappie."

Dry weather is driving deer to grazing on the highway shoulder, writes Sid Rees of Kerrville. "Nearly every night several deer are run over between Center Point and Kerrville. Unless rain comes soon, the deer are going to be in poor shape for the hunting season."

The state game and fish commission asks that towns and cities wanting a commission wildlife exhibit for fairs, sports shows and such to make the request as much in advance as possible. It's first come first served in booking the exhibit. The display of live birds, mammals, reptiles, and fish of Texas begins a new season Sept. 6 at the Floyd County Fair in Lockney. It will be at the West Texas Fair in Abilene Sept. 10-15 and at Amarillo's Tri-State Fair Sept. 17-22.

W. R. Bill Long, former Denton game warden and now a game and fish commission information-education officer at Tyler, is author of a new cookbook, "From Armadillo to Rattlesnake." He says alligator gar may be cooked like most other fish. "We've heard that they are a desirable when just nailed to a

Billy Wade Puts Crown On Line

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Billy Wade of Freeport, a veteran tournament golfer at 15, will put his state title on the line Tuesday in the Texas Junior Golf Tournament.

Before Wade hits his first ball, about 500 other golfers under 19 will be in a qualifying round Monday.

Wade, defending champion, is exempt from qualifying. He is the youngest player ever to win the title.

The low 31 qualifiers will join Wade in the championship flight. The others will be paired in as many flights as are necessary.

Wade can expect strong competition from golfers like David Holcomb of Mission, runnerup last year. Eugene Mitchell of Houston, Jeff Voss of Dallas and Jim Grant of San Antonio.

Mitchell won the Texas-Oklahoma junior tournament, Voss was the runnerup. Grant was medalist last year.

Plans Cemented For Tournament

If more than $100 is realized in entry fees for the Sept. 1-2-3 Partnership Handicap Golf Tournament being staged at the Mummy course here Sept. 1-2-3 by the Big Spring Golf association, five teams will share in the awards.

Entry fee has been set at $2 a person and entries will not know the identity of their partners, as association officials say, until after the tournament—at which time names will be drawn from a hat.

Entries, of course, will be sorted according to their handicaps, after which the drawings will take place.

The BSGA expects to have over 100 members by tournament time and most will have established their handicaps by that time. Players are required to play five 18-hole rounds before handicaps can be established.

Competitors will be required to play 36 holes over the three days of the meet.

Oil Pumper

Oil on the R. H. Ratliff lease is produced by pumping it out of the sump hole in the background with this gasoline motor. The hose from the motor runs to a pipe which carries the oil to a settling tank. A similar hose is dipped into the hole when enough oil has accumulated to be produced.

No Space, Depth Worry For Sunflower Field

By JOE BEYER
The Sunflower field in Mitchell County produces a different quality of oil than does any other field in the county.

But that should not be a surprise. The field simply is unlike any other in the county or anywhere else in the United States.

It produces 40-gravity oil from a sand tapped at depths ranging from 18 inches to about 20 feet. Nearest other oil produced in the area is of 26 or 27 gravity and lies about 6,000 feet underground.

Located on the west bank of the Colorado River just west of Colorado City, the field is almost hidden among the weeds beside the road. It looks like a gravel pit, and that is what it was until 1943.

Harry Ratliff, who owns much of the land on which the field produces, knew he had something peculiar on his property, but was not sure what it was. The nature of it was revealed in 1943 when a gravel hauler carelessly tossed a burning match to the ground.

FLAMING SANDS

The area about him burst into flames and one of the horses being used to pull the gravel wagon was burned severely.

Veterinary bills to fix the horse ran to $85, Ratliff said.

Because the field is located just across the road from Col-Tex Refinery, the oil was at first believed to be seepage from the refinery or from pipelines with faulty connections. It was produced and sold to the refinery for $1.50 a barrel. Men dug holes and collected the oil wherever it was found. One man had a water pump rigged up to produce the oil and his children took turns providing the power. It brought him about $12 a week extra income at the cut rate price.

The field might still be produced as seepage had not Harry Ratliff had difficulty getting someone to drill for and produce the oil. After several men had quit working in the hot, lowland area, he got a man named Harlan Welch.

IT'S LEGITIMATE

Welch believed the oil came from a legitimate pay which he estimated would yield 2,300 barrels of oil to the acre. He applied to the Railroad Commission for an official drilling permit to allow him to sell the oil at $2.65 a barrel instead of the $1.50 cut rate price.

The Railroad Commission, Col-Tex and several other agencies tested the field and finally concluded it was legitimate, Ratliff said.

Col-Tex Refinery when it was still a Pritchard and Anderson concern, dug several holes and tested the area for more than a month, Ratliff said. They checked possible losses at the refinery and decided that the quantity of oil far exceeded losses.

The peculiar thin sand has not yet been identified, however. At first it was thought to be an outcropping of the Yates but a hole drilled to 500 feet just west of the field passed through the Yates farther underground and found the formation barren, according to Ratliff.

Additional proof of the genuness of the pay is its lasting quality. It is still producing. And the quantity which can be produced has not fallen off noticeably, Ratliff said. The difficulty is in getting someone to work the hot pits.

TRICKY PRODUCTION

The secret behind producing the oil lies in making sump holes and can be gathered. It is allowed to stand in a tank for sediments to settle before being shipped to Cosden Refinery in tank cars.

First official production came April 20, 1952. McCordle No. 1 Ratliff pumped 16.3 barrels of 49 gravity oil in 19 hours. Pay was topped at two feet and the hole bottomed at 2 1/2 feet. It was completed in the super-shallow sand with a spade and posthole digger.

The sand-gravel conglomerate from which the oil is produced extends down river about one-half to three-fourths of a mile. Recently other outcroppings of what is believed to be the same pay have been reported southwest of the city, Ratliff said.

Another peculiarity of the field is that a part of the area is underlain with salt water while the rest is not. Whenever the salt

Locations And Completions Are Reported

Two locations and two completions in this area have been filed with the Railroad Commission.

Texaco No. 2 J. O. McCrary will be located 660 from the south and west lines of section 6-34-3n, T&P, in the Ackerly Dean field of Martin County. This 8,900-ft. venture is on a 341-acre lease and is 16 miles southeast of Lamesa. Also in Martin County, Murphy H. Baxter has staked his No. 1 Morgan Unit 1120 feet from the south and 1,320 from the east lines of section 27-35-2n, T&P, some 12 miles northeast of Stanton. It is projected at a 7,800-ft. Sprayberry Trend test on a 320-acre lease.

Dawson County reported two completions. One is in the Tex Hamon (Lower Mississippian) field, the Texaco No. 1 UT Tex-Hammon Mitchell, 660 from the north and west lines of section 26-28-T&P, on an elevation of 2,673. Total depth is 11,800 feet, the plugged back depth 11,453, the 2 1/2 inch casing at 11,800 perforated at 11,098-108, 132-42, 160-70, 272-82. Initial flowing production was 11 barrels of 35.6 gravity oil per day with 6 per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was 1,973:1. Operator acidized with 8,500 gallons.

Tidewater No. 5-A Stokes, 660 from the north and 1,960 from the west lines of section 2-C39, PSL, completed in the Welch field for 29 barrels of 34-gravity oil per day pumping. Gas-oil ratio was 790:1. Total depth was 4,932, top of pay 4,681 on an elevation of 3,140, the 5 1/2-in. string set at 4,932 and perforated from 4,889-4,931. Operator acidized with 1,000 gallons and fraced with 6,000 gallons.

Lower Gasoline Prices Restrain Oil Earnings

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Lower prices, especially for gasoline, during the first half of 1962 kept earnings of major oil companies from increasing greatly. Independents had even a harder time.

A survey of 37 independent companies by the Oil and Gas Journal shows net income for the first half totaled $91,732,000 or 18 per cent above 1961. Twelve majors reported net income up 4 per cent.

Independents with integrated operations or interests in refining and marketing showed declines. Integrated independents in the survey were down 21 per cent in net earnings. The marketer-refiners had a 12 per cent drop.

But independent producers were helped along by more stable prices for natural gas and crude oil. The 22 producers had a 16.5 per cent gain in net profits.

The majors did more business with sales at a record level. Profits for most showed only moderate increases, and almost half reported declines.

The Journal said the profits pattern this year indicates international concerns as a group are faring better because they are able to offset lagging domestic returns with profits in foreign operations.

Also, it says West Coast companies have a profit advantage because that area isn't plagued with the bitter price wars experienced during the first half of last year.

Main profit troubles are in the Mid-Continent and East Coast areas, where retail prices have been up and down this year.

Contradictions are in this pattern. Gulf Oil, one of the top international reports record volume in its worldwide operations but an 11 per cent drop in profits.

Five domestic companies—Shell, Continental, Cities Service, Atlantic Refining and Ashland—report increased profits.

Jersey Standard said its domestic profits were hurt by lower product prices, but higher sales abroad helped account for a 10.4 per cent gain.

Texaco's first-half earnings were the best in the company's history, thanks to marketing out-lets in all 50 states and many foreign areas to offset domestic price sore spots.

The Journal's predictions for the last half of the year see the oil industry having a tougher time making a profit. Demand has been running from 4 to 5 per cent ahead of last year, but the magazine says this is expected to taper off in the next six months.

University To Conduct Survey

AUSTIN (AP)—The University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology will conduct a mineral resource survey of 42 East Texas counties under a $40,000 contract with the Area Redevelopment Administration of the U.S. Commerce Department.

Dr. Peter T. Flawn, bureau director, said Dr. W. L. Fisher of the bureau staff will direct the two-year project.

Counties involved in the survey include Anderson, Angelina, Boyce, Camp, Cass, Cherokee, Gregg, Harrison, Henderson, Hopkins, Houston, Jasper, Lamar, Leon, Limestone, Madison, Marion, Montgomery, Morris, Nacogdoches, Newton, Panola, Polk, Rains, Red River, Robertson, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Shelby, Smith, Titus, Trinity, Tyler, Upshur, Van Zandt, Walker, and Wood.

Although East Texas has been explored for oil and gas for many decades, few modern geological and engineering data have been developed on the other mineral deposits which occur in the area, with the exception of the iron ores, lignite, salt and sulphur. Relatively little is known about the other non-metallic industrial minerals in East Texas which include clays, industrial sand, g. limestones and construction materials, Flawn said.

Strange Oil Well

The trench shown above produces oil on the R. H. Ratliff lease in the Sunflower field just west of Colorado City. The super-shallow sand is encountered from 18 inches to about 20 feet under the surface. The "well" is capable of producing four barrels of oil a day.

Blueprint Of Work

Clem P. Durbin, supervisor for Fred Bell Construction Co., left, and Homer D. White, resident engineer, pore over blueprints for the half-million dollar air conditioning project at the Big Spring Veterans' Administration Hospital. The contractor has already hauled in supplies and equipment needed to complete the outside work on the mammoth project. When this is finished, workmen will move inside to complete the job on the hospital building.

Equipment Moved In For VA Hospital Air Conditioning

Work has begun on a project which calls for expenditure of more than a half-million dollars for air conditioning at the Big Spring Veterans' Administration Hospital. No provision for cooling was made when it was built. A contract was recently let for $537,725 to be spent on the job and costs may exceed that if unexpected expenses are incurred during installation. The contractor, Fred Bell Construction Co., San Antonio, has moved machinery into the carpenter shop at the hospital for installation of two 135-ton compressors which will provide the cooling. The shop is just north of the main building. All work on the exterior of the main building will be completed first, according to Homer D. White, resident engineer. This includes installation of electrically driven compressors, additional transformers, chilling towers, and the ducts to the main building. Only the main hospital unit will be air conditioned. AUTOMATIC CONTROLS The unit will be automatically controlled and will be set in with the existing heating unit for year-around temperature control. It will be a high pressure refrigerated unit. Chilled water will be piped underground from the compressor room to the main building. It will then be piped throughout the hospital to chambers where fans will blow air across the water-lens for chilling. These chambers will be placed at strategic points for maximum use of cooling capability. High pressure air is being used instead of the older type which uses large fans. It allows smaller ducts to be used. However, this creates other problems. White said. The pressure sometimes presents noise problems. A loose screw at duct connections or a pinpoint hole can cause excessive noise. To prevent this, most seams are welded and extensive use is made of insulation. INSIDE WORK Once the work has reached the hospital building, probably before winter and inclement weather set in, the project will be finished one floor at a time. The basement will be completed first. The project should be completed before summer sets in next year. Work will be done as much as possible to prevent discomfort to patients and not to interfere with hospital operation. You cannot expect everything to go normally with a project of this size going in, V. J. Beldi, hospital director, said, "but it will certainly be worth the trouble." HELPS PATIENTS Patients are much more comfortable during summer in a cool pleasant atmosphere, he said. The health of patients is also affected. Elderly patients, for instance, will not have as much of a problem of dehydration—losing water from their bodies through perspiration. White too admitted that much major construction while a hospital is in operation presents problems. Every new hospital is now air conditioned when it is built," he said. The contractor is trying to use workers available through local unions whenever possible. White said. In addition, local or area subcontractors are C and D Electric Co. and Jimmie D. Jones Construction Co., both of Big Spring, and Johnson Service and Viking, both of Lubbock.

New Driving License Agent

Harold Decuir, formerly stationed at Odessa, is the new drivers license examiner for Big Spring. He succeeds Jack Thurgamer, who has entered the DPS training school in Austin preparing himself for a post with the state highway patrol.

Decuir, a member of the DPS for several years, is a native of San Angelo. He had been examiner in Odessa since May.

He and his family—Mrs. Decuir and their young daughter—are establishing their home in Big Spring.

Decuir said he would operate the same examination schedule followed by his predecessor.

He will be in Big Spring in the office of the examiner, in the basement of the county court house, Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8 a.m. to noon for written examinations. In the afternoon driving tests will be conducted. The office will also be open until noon each Saturday.

Nine Apply For Reserve

Nine applications for places on the reserve police force for Big Spring were complete Saturday morning and several were out and will be returned Monday, Chief Jay Banks said Saturday.

"They are coming in much faster than we anticipated," Banks said, "and we are highly pleased with the caliber of men applying."

Each applicant is fingerprinted, photographed, and measured for clothing sizes, when his application is completed. Physical examinations will follow after some necessary investigations are completed. Training material to begin the basic night courses, is being assembled pending completion of the first contingent of men, Banks explained.

White too admitted that much major construction while a hospital is in operation presents problems. Every new hospital is now air conditioned when it is built," he said.

The contractor is trying to use workers available through local unions whenever possible. White said. In addition, local or area subcontractors are C and D Electric Co. and Jimmie D. Jones Construction Co., both of Big Spring, and Johnson Service and Viking, both of Lubbock.

LOYD O. FITTS

MEN IN SERVICE

Pfc. Loyd O. Fitts, son of Mrs. O. R. Fitts, Route 1, Ackerly, is among the active Army personnel supporting the 1962 National Rifle and Pistol Matches, which are being conducted at Camp Perry, Ohio, July 27-Aug. 26. Fitts, who is regularly assigned as a rifleman in Combat Support Company of the 1st Division's 8th Infantry at Fort Riley, Kan., is assisting in the operation of the ranges and statistical office for the matches. He entered the Army in July 1961 and completed basic training at the fort. The 26-year-old soldier is a 1953 graduate of Ackerly High School.

Army Pvt. Jackie W. Owens, 21, whose wife, Elaine, lives at 1009 E. 16th St., Big Spring, recently completed the six-week transportation movement control course at the Transportation School, Fort Eustis, Va.

He entered the Army last January and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Owens Sr., live at 608 E. 12th St.

MAXWELL AFB, Ala.—Graduates from the U. S. Air Force Squadron Officer School here last Friday included Capt. Rodney R. Rush, whose wife is the former Elizabeth Wise, 1504 Kentucky Way, Big Spring.

Another was Capt. Lowry G. Martin of Lamesa. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Y. Martin, 101 Highland Drive, Lamesa, and a graduate of Texas Tech. Capt. Martin is being assigned to Edwards AFB, Calif., and Capt. Rush will be sent to Selfridge AFB, Mich.

Function Of 331st Explained To Club

The functions and missions of the 331st Fighter-Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB and the role of the Air Defense Command, of which it is a part, were discussed by 1st Lt. Bruce D. Risinger before members of the American Business Club Friday at the Settles Hotel.

The 331st is an independently-operated unit not identified with the mission of Webb itself, he said, although it is dependent upon the mother base for such things as food service, air police, medical needs and weather information.

Risinger, who is assistant information officer for the 331st, reminded that the unit is on 24-hour alert guarding against surprise attack.

He added that the greater Southwest has become increasingly important to the defense of the United States and North America because of the important military installations, nuclear proving grounds and test laboratories to be found in the three-state area of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Risinger also reminded his listeners of the potential threat Cuba, an unfriendly power, offered to the people of the United States.

The officer also went into detail on the F-102 series now being flown here, mentioning that the high-altitude, all-weather inter-ceptor planes valued at $1,500,000 each. He added that $700,000 of that amount is in electronic equipment aboard the craft. He said the speed on the plane amounted to 1 1/2 times the speed of sound and the craft could climb 40,000 feet in three minutes. Landing the F-102's here is a problem, he stated, because the touchdown speed is 160 MPH—a lot for a craft weighing 15 tons, seven thousand pounds of that, he pointed out, is fuel. The pilots are required to make use of drag chutes on all landings in order to stop the craft.

Leads Revival

Forsan Methodist Church will hold revival services Aug. 19-26. Dr. H. Clyde Smith, superintendent of the Big Spring district will preach each evening at 7:30 during the week and will close the revival services on Sunday, Aug. 26. The Rev. C. T. Jackson, pastor of the Forsan church, will preach at first services of the revival today.

"Does anybody know I'm here?"

"Does anybody care?" These are questions GIs all over the world are asking themselves. For many, the only evidence they see that Main Street U. S. A. does care is their nearby USO. The USO offers GIs its vital measure of home—when and where it's needed most.

But with our military buildup the USO hasn't been able to keep pace. More USOs are needed for the relaxation and spiritual uplift so urgently required by our sons in service. Let every GI know that you care so that he'll never have to wonder

...time to pick and put up

The farmer doesn't have this business of food production cornered. Quantity may be his, but the quality can be matched in many instances on postage-stamp plots by his city neighbors. In the city dweller's back yard there may be lurking a few vegetable-bearing species among the blooming plants and shrubs. With care, plenty of moisture and enough sunshine, these back yard plants, attractive in their fashion, supply fresh vegetable meals during the summer. Quite often there is enough for home canning and freezing, too.

A number of in-town residents have proof of their gardening talents. Among them is the J. O. Johansen family, who has reaped a good summer harvest with prospects of more to come. Their garden was planted on a small plot of ground located east of the City Park—with a well full of water nearby. Except for pickles and preserves, the bulk of the homegrown food has gone into the deep freeze at their home.

The Jack Adams family at 1902 Winston has gathered backyard vegetables throughout the summer. A teacher at Goliad School, Adams' vegetables were planted early in the season bordering the lawn back of his home. Recent weather has taken its toll, yet there are tomatoes and okra still bearing. Onions, squash, cucumbers, beans, peas, etc. have been canned and frozen for future use. Also, the neighbors have had a share in the bountiful vegetable supply.

Neither the Johansens nor the Adamses are competing with the W. C. Carrolls in productive quantity. The Carrolls, who live north of Big Spring on Gail Road, are justly proud of their acreage; what it produces; and their food storage.

The pear and peach orchards, damaged from sandstorms, are not bearing this year. Although the grapes were stunted by the severe storms, the arbor did produce enough clusters for picking and freezing. The fields of peas and the garden's yield will more than fill the Carrolls' pantry shelves and deep freeze.

Each year about this time Mrs. J. T. Byers, 700 San Jacinto, begins preserving fruit and making jelly. Heavy laden, the fig trees in her yard apparently have borne fruit enough to stock the pantry well. The figs will be picked this fall. Presently Mrs. Byers is making peach preserves, although pears and cherries are canned fruits her family prefers. A widow, Mrs. Byers has reared five children with homemade jams and jellies, regular food items for their meals at home.

IT'S A FAMILY AFFAIR at the J. O. Johansens when vegetables are gathered from the garden and made ready for processing. Beneath a large shade tree, Mrs. Johansen, her son, Edward, and daughter, Betty, are stringing and snapping beans. Here in the yard, they can let the stems and strings fall where they may. The family pet has his place with the group, making it a foursome.

PEAS WERE PICKED, shelled and made ready for the deep freeze earlier in the day. By afternoon, Mrs. Johansen is shown adding packages of peas to the many other vegetables and fruit already stored. More and more the deep freeze method of preserving is replacing the pressure canning process.

WOMEN'S NEWS

Big Spring, Texas, Sunday, August 19, 1962

Herald Photos By Keith McMillin

PRESERVING is an annual project carried out by Mrs. J. T. Byers, who is peeling peaches for preserves to be made for her daughter. Later there will be figs to replenish the depleted supply of last year. Pear and cherry preserves are the family's choices over other preserved fruit. Syrup and fruit show clear and colorful in the jars left from last year's canning.

ONLY OKRA, with a few tomatoes, remain in the backyard beds at the home of the Jack Adams family. With his youngest daughter, Teri, and son, Mike, Adams has a look at the okra plants which border the back lawn.

WEIGHTED WITH PODS, the plants in the field of peas are almost ready to be stripped of their bounty. Meanwhile, Mrs. W. C. Carroll, who especially likes gardening, keeps the rows free of grass and unsightly weeds.

Vows Pledged In Lamesa Rites

LAMESA (SC) — Linda Stokes and Gerry King exchanged nuptial vows Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Christian Church, with the Rev. Richard Tarr, pastor, reading the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Davison, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice King, all of Lamesa.

Vows were exchanged before an arch of greenery flanked with white gladioli. Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Fred Sanders at the organ, with Ed Johnson singing "Whither Thou Goest."

Laquetta Hancock of Kermit, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Beverly Hale and Glenda Wood.

Bill Mires was best man, Tommy King, the bridegroom's brother, and Royce Goolsby served as ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown designed with an imported lace bodice having a rounded neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The skirt of bridal satin was fashioned with a princess waistline and accented with appliques of lace.

Her waist-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of starched lace outlined with seed pearls. She carried a white orchid surrounded with white feathered carnations on a white Bible.

A reception followed, held in the home of the bride's parents, with guests attending from Amarillo, Dimmitt, Big Spring, Lamesa, Levelland, Kermit, Abilene and Lovington, N.M.

The couple was graduated from Lamesa High School. The bridegroom will attend Texas State College in Canyon, where they will reside.

Rudds Plan 25th Year Observance

Observing the 25th anniversary date of their wedding, the Rev. and Mrs. Billy D. Rudd will be honored today when a reception is to be held at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David A. Rhoton, 2801 Lawrence.

Friends are invited to call during the hours from 2:30 and 4:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudd were married Aug. 18, 1937, at Brownwood, and came to Big Spring in October of 1952. He is associate pastor of the East Fourth St. Baptist Church.

Their children, all of Big Spring, are Mrs. Rhoton, Billy David, Garland and Jackie Rudd.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheats Visiting Eldridges

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sheats Jr. and their daughter, Sabra, 1411 Virginia, are in Wichita Falls for the weekend visiting her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. S. E. Eldridge. He is the pastor of the First Assembly of God Church there.

News And Deadlines

Wedding stories, along with pictures of brides are to be published immediately after weddings occur. Friday and Saturday wedding stories and pictures will appear in the Herald's Sunday edition.

To meet deadlines the wedding information and picture must be in the Woman's Department at least two days before the ceremony is to take place. Stories submitted in time to meet the deadline will be given the best coverage that space will permit. Those not meeting the deadline will have to be reported briefly, the editor, the delay, the shorter the story will be. Send no picture be used if the information is late.

These regulations are generally applied to any other event. News should be reported as it occurs. News is a perishable commodity and loses its value the older it grows.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MOLLI HARTZOG

Most women have wished they had fewer feet after a long hot day shopping. This wish was reversed Tuesday afternoon by a good many after a while of window shopping at the shoe fashion show given by Pelletier's at the Officers Club. There were sicker snip-toe cocktail pumps and gaily colored afternoon patents, beige hi-top sneakers soft as butter, and breathtaking tall boots with stiletto heels. Lewis Wolfson of Pelletier's commented that the dainty boots were taking the fashion world by storm this year, and were designed to wear with evening wear as well as sport clothes. Models were from the young Squadron Waves. Elections were also held within that group. New chairman for the 1962-63 will be Mrs. Robert Cepolis. Door prizes in Danish took were won by Mrs. Parent, Mrs. Cepolis, and Mrs. Harold Collins.

Bridal showers soon for Miss Louise Rogers, sister of Mrs. J. E. Patton. The wedding will be in Fort Worth and Mrs. Patton and Miss Rogers leave Webb this week to prepare for all the showers, luncheons and other pre-nuptial doings soon to take place.

Mrs. Frances Bates and her children are enjoying some sizzling weather in Baltimore and will return to Big Spring in a few weeks.

Heading soon for the coast are Lt. and Mrs. Terry Ueyama who plan to do California—a very good plan indeed since between them they have relatives in six major cities in that state. Mrs. Ueyama Sr. will join them in Seattle, Wash., later for a look at the Fair before ending their vacation.

A pleasant surprise for a mother is the Mrs. Lee Somers was the gift of an ice blue nylon gown and bed jacket. The gift was presented to her Wednesday. The occasion was a baby shower given by Mrs. Don Harris, Mrs. Sherrod Osborn, Mrs. Dick Johnson, and Mrs. Sam Couquitt. Mrs. Somers was especially delighted with her gift since the mother of a hospitalized child is somewhat like the bridegroom at a wedding necessary, but definitely playing second fiddle in the matter of receiving gifts. Mrs. Somers also received a carnation corsage and many gifts for the little first fiddle, soon to arrive.

Tickets for the Youth Fair are also good for a chance on door prizes there. To be included are a portable TV transistor radio, portable camera and a record player. The ticket holder need not be present to win the prize. Winners for the Miss Delta — Mr. Talon contest will receive $25 first prize while the runner up will win $15. Tickets are to be had at the wherewithal for a ticket to the Air Force Academy and SMI game is only a couple of weeks until Labor Day weekend and all around Webb leaving is running high concerning every phase of the Youth Fair slated for that weekend.

Mrs. M. W. Taylor was a recent visitor here at Webb in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Parent. Mrs. Taylor comes from Phoenix, Ariz.

Capt. and Mrs. Angus McPhail, recent transferees from Webb, write from Japan that the natives of that land are fascinated with the large American feet being long to Mrs. McPhail. She wears size 9AA shoe, and seems to attract attention thereby wherever she goes in that land of small-footed women.

Lt. and Mrs. Terry Hedges, commentator and swimmer respectively for the water ballet last summer at the Officers Club pool, send word that having completed training at Luke AFB their new home will be Homestead AFB, Here from Ashton, Ill. are Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Patton and Mrs. Guy Casey. The visiting Caseys plan to tour Arkansas en route home to Illinois.

Newcomers from Perrin AFB are Lt. and Mrs. Bill Smith of the 331st Welcome to Big Spring and Webb Air Force Base.

Miss Nancy G. Wicks Is Bride Saturday Evening

Matrimonial vows were pledged by Miss Nancy Wicks and Guy Fred Davy of Monahans, Saturday at 8 p. m. in the First Christian Church Pastor of the church, the Rev. John C. Black Jr., read the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Wicks, 500 Austin. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Davis, Monahans.

Providing nuptial music, Mrs. George White, accompanied by Miss Dolores Howard, organist, sang "Always" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Candelabra holding cathedral tapers formed an arch for the altar. A large sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums centered the arch flanked by emerald fern trees and white standards tied in satin. The pews were marked in white satin.

Dressed in a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and taffeta, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress featured a molded bodice of Chantilly lace fashioned with a scalloped Sabrina neckline. The long, fitted sleeves came to petal points over the wrists. The taffeta skirt, designed with unpressed pleats, was applied in lace and extended into a chapel train. A capulet of nylon held her waist-length veil of silk tulle. She carried a cascade of white feathered chrysanthemums, backed in satin and pearl leaves, with showered tulle and satin peacock ribbon.

In traditional style the bride chose something old, her mother's wedding hand, the wedding gown, borrowed, a linen handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Edith K. Murdock, blue, a wedding garter. Miss Carole Ann Wicks attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing a full-skirted dress of orchid moure taffeta. Her headpiece was made into a circlet of orchid nylon, tulle and taffeta. Bridesmaids, Misses Virginia Davis, sister of the bridegroom, and Annette Lebowitz, were attired identically in the maid of honor. Each carried a single white chrysanthemum shrouded in orchid satin.

Keith Davis, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Other male attendants were Travis Starr and Elvin Hunt ushers, and Lt.

MRS. GUY FRED DAVIS

William Hansen and Talmage Higginbotham, groomsmen. Guests attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Everett Jr. and Miss Phyllis Willey and Miss Joyce Thomas Mrs. Jay Lebowitz presided at the guest register.

RECEPTION

A reception for the couple was held in the church parlor with the couple, their parents and their attendants in the receiving line. Refreshments were served from a table laid with white lace over orchid. The centerpiece was composed of white and orchid chrysanthemums. The three-tiered cake was frosted in a white flower design and topped with bride and groom figurines. Members of the house party were Mrs. W. D. Everett Jr., Miss Phyllis Willey and Miss Joyce Thomas Mrs. Jay Lebowitz presided at the guest register.

WEDDING TRIP

For a wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride chose a powder blue rayon suit with white accessories.

A graduate of Big Spring High School, the bride was a member of the National Honor Society, Distributive Education, Future Homemakers of America. She was formerly employed with Zale's Jewelers.

Gene Lockharts Guests Of Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lockhart and family of San Jon, N. M., are visiting this weekend in the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lockhart of the Luther community and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Williamson, 3215 Auburn.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

If this year's hat designers had been in our back yard anytime since our grass turned green last spring I would know readily where they got their ideas for the styles... from our toadstool displays. I would venture to guess we have had more different patterns this year than ever before in the fast developing fungi.

Reaping the results of two nights, production, I found high crowned ones with no brim; some with a pooked up crown and a drooping brim; others that took on the appearance of a five pointed star and one had an up-turned brim giving it the saucer shape.

KATHY McREE, bride-elect of BILL DROKE, is today in Albuquerque, N.M., where she is the honoree for a gift shower being given by her schoolteacher friends. Saturday Miss McREE was introduced to friends of her fiancé's family, the W. E. DROKES, at a tea. Monday she and Mr. Droke will go to Denver, Colo., where she is to teach the third grade in the Aurora Public Schools. Bill will continue his medical studies after their marriage.

A frustrated housewife was MRS. JIM M. SMITH when she toured the Farmer's Public Market in Seattle during a recent vacation trip. Mrs. Smith was the guest of her daughter, FRANCES STAMPER, who had won the expense paid trip for two, given by the Odessa First National Bank, for being chosen the outstanding employee of 1961.

The two women sought out the market on the suggestion of a Seattle resident and they were delighted at the displays of the fruits, vegetables, fish, etc. Mrs. Smith said she didn't know as many types of cheese were available and that she nor her daughter had ever thought of peanut butter offered in bulk. All this wonderful food for sale and there they were—tourists.

The women took the trip by train, and couldn't have been better pleased by nature's showing off with wild sweetpeas, other flowers and berries that grew along the right-of-way which followed the Columbia River. They also took the ferry trip to Victoria, Canada, and toured the Butchart gardens which are a must for the tourists but this is the city is dressed up for the Victoria's Centennial year and the street lamps have additional globes and baskets of growing flowers are hung from each standard.

Even in Victoria the Texans never get away from home... their driver for the tour was a native of Odessa. Also on the trip the women met an Abilene man who is a nephew of MRS. ROY MILNER, a long time Big Spring, now in California.

MRS. RUTH BURMAN who taught school here for many years, is now teaching physical education at Putnam School at El Paso.

In a recent note she said she is happily busy as a member of the El Paso's Teachers' Association Council, serving as courtesy chairman for the coming year; as well as being the study chairman of the AAUW International Relations.

MR. and MRS. RAYMOND MOORE and their children, Gary and Gayle, and a niece, Mary Grace Ray of Imperial, are in Cisco today to attend a family reunion honoring Mr. Moore's grandmother Monday the group will go to Dallas to visit the DARRELL MOCKS, former Big Spring residents, and then will spend a day at Six Flags. Mary Grace is the daughter of the former MARJORIE MOORE who made her home here several years ago.

MR. and MRS. J. L. WOOD have returned from Georgetown and Liberty Hill where they visited a new grandson, JOSEPH LACY WOOD III, and are bragging that he is a big one, having weighed nine pounds, 10 ounces on arrival last Monday. The father is well remembered here as J. L. WOOD, now principal of the Leander school, near Liberty Hill. The mother also teaches in that school. The maternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Patterson of Georgetown. The newest member of the family is destined to be called "Trey."

Last Tuesday LLOYD ARNOVICH, social worker at the Big Spring State Hospital, was at City Park when he came upon EDWIN F. HARRIS, a former buddy who served 2 1/2 years with him aboard a ship "USS Bell" in World War II. They hadn't seen each other since 1946. Arnovich said he had been trying unsuccessfully for years to get in touch with Harris, who happened to be here visiting his mother, Mrs. Mabel Harris.

Group Has Honor Guest At Luncheon

Mrs. J. D. Fountain, wife of the district Kiwanis governor, was honored guest Saturday when a noon luncheon was held at the Big Spring Country Club. Mrs. H. W. Smith was in charge of arrangements for the affair attended by the Kiwanis Queens.

Following the luncheon party bridge was played for afternoon entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Fountain are here from Lawton, Okla., to attend a meeting of Division 22 Kiwanis International. Representatives of the division are from Odessa, Midland, Larissa, Andrews, Snyder, Colorado City and Monahans.

MRS. RAYMOND R. ENGELHARDT

Miss Peggy Francis Is Bride Of Houston Man

Matrimonial vows were pledged by Miss Peggy Sue Francis and Raymond R. Engelhardt of Houston in a Saturday evening ceremony at the First Methodist Church. Officiating in the double-ring service was Gene Patterson of the University Avenue Church of Christ, Austin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin J. Francis, Route 1. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Engelhardt of Houston.

The marriage was performed before an arch of cathedral candelabra centered with a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and white majestic daisies. The arch was flanked with tiered Gothic columns holding fern arrangements. Memory candles were lighted during the ceremony.

Jack Hendrix, organist, presented a program of traditional selections before accompanying Mrs. Jimmy Bradford as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "O Promise Me".

WEDDING GOWN

The bride was escorted to the altar and presented in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of candlelight silk organza over taffeta made by Mrs. R. W. Engelhardt, mother of the bridegroom. The bodice featured a softly rounded neckline, shaped to a V in the back. The long petal-point sleeves were applied in Alemon lace. The voluminous skirt of unpressed pleats extended into a chapel train. A large self-material rose was attached between pleats at the back waist. Her elbow-length veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a coil of white satin petals. She carried a crescent of frenched white carnations centered with a white Japette orchid in a shower of satin and picot streamers.

In keeping with tradition, the bride chose something old, a strand of pearls belonging to her mother, something new, her gown; something borrowed, birthdate pennies in her shoes, something blue, a garter.

ATTENDANTS

Attending as matrons of honor were Mrs. Bob Bell of Big Spring, twin sister of the bride, and Mrs. Jimmy Spears, another sister. Bridesmaids, Mrs. Leon Pettit of Big Spring, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Willie Brooks of Dallas, and bridesmaid, Miss Patricia Bradford of Big Spring, were dressed identically to the matrons of honor, wearing sheaths of dull red satin. The overskirts of red silk organza featured trim of red satin roses. Their headresses of red satin roses secured short veils of red tulle. All wore matching shoes and white gloves. Each carried a single long-stemmed white gladioli showered in a satin streamer.

Junior attendants were flower girls, Carla Joyce Spears, niece of the bride, and Kim Shane Gotcher, cousin of the bride. Kenneth Barnett of Dallas was ring bearer. Altar taper lighters were Henry King Engelhardt of Houston, brother of the bridegroom, and Eddie Gotcher of Lubbock, cousin of the bride.

Mervyn Stelter of Houston was best man. Groomsmen were Rolfe Johnson of Houston, Danny Clancey of Sweetwater, Jimmy Bradford of Austin and Henry King Engelhardt of Houston. Ushers were Leon Pettit of Big Spring, Jimmy Spears of Austin, brother-in-law of the bride, and Eddie Gotcher.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

Guests attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gotcher, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barnett, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Givings, Austin; and Mrs. J. C. Nowell, Fort Worth.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony. The honored couple, their mothers and the bridesmaid and bridesmaids formed the receiving line.

The serving table, laid with a floor-length silk organza cloth, held the bride's attendants' bouquets in a pruned crystal epergne. The arrangement was flanked by silver Victorian candelabra. The three tiered cake was served by members of the house party. Mrs. Freddie Stuart, Mrs. Ronald Was-

Miss Joy Sanford Bride In Ceremony At Lamesa Church

LAMESA (SC) — The Bryan Street Baptist Church was the scene at 7:30 p.m. Saturday for the wedding of Vanala Joy Sanford and Joe Carl Boles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Boles.

The double ring ceremony, read by the Rev. Milo B. Artuckle, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was performed before an arch of greenery flanked with baskets of white gladioli and candelabra. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a formal gown of white Chantilly lace over white satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. The bodice was designed with a scalloped neckline and long sleeves ending in petal points over the hands.

Her veil, edged with lace, was attached to a taura of sequins and pearls accented with pearl droplets. She carried a bouquet of white carnations on a white ribbon.

The maid of honor was Latonda Young of Lamesa, and bridesmaids were Betty Crutcher and Donna Stone, both of Lubbock. Wayne Boles of Welch, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Groomsmen were Raymond Witt and Jerry Don Pearce, both of Lamesa.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a two-piece dress of peacock blue jersey with black patent accessories. The couple will make their home in the Union Community where the bridegroom is engaged in farming. Both are graduates of Lamesa High School.

A Wife Can Help Hubby Win Office

WASHINGTON, P.—What can a candidate's wife do to help her spouse get elected?

The Republican Congressional Campaign Committee has come up with some sprightly advice on the subject, couched in light-hearted vein.

The wives of incumbent G. O. P. Congressmen compiled it.

Rule No. 1, the ladies agree, is to keep both eyes fastened on the candidate while he is making a speech.

"Watch him as if you certainly agree with everything and now really, isn't he just simply marvelous?"

This takes self-discipline, the G. O. P. wives concede, especially if you have heard the same talk over and over.

"Remember, you can't please everyone. Be prepared to ignore gossip and nasty criticism."

"Considerate women never let smoke waft in another's face; they never leave their gurning in an ashtray. They do not smoke while sitting at a head table."

"Try not to yawn," they enjoin. "We know of one Congressman who has said to his wife, 'If I catch you yawning, I'll stop my speech and say, 'Am I boring you?'"

Active Family

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Renshaw pose with their three sons, from left to right, David, Doug, and Danny. In the background on the wall is one of the many paintings which Mrs. Renshaw has collected. The picture frame is an antique, acquired after a search of 10 years.

Renshaw Family Has Many Life Interests

Among the newest families in Big Spring are the L. W. Renshaws, who hail from the neighboring city of Midland. The family, including the man of the house, his wife, Pat, and sons, David, Danny, and the baby, Doug, have set up an active household at 2602 Carol in the Kentwood Addition.

However, Renshaw isn't new to Big Spring nor Big Spring new to him. An exchange engineer for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., his work is in projected planning for Big Spring and Webb AFB. He has been working in this area for five years, starting with the company 12 years ago in Fort Worth. Renshaw worked in Mineral Wells before going to Midland. He met his wife while stationed with the Air Force in 1948 at Scott Field, Ill. During his military stint, he served overseas, and is a member of the American Veterans of Foreign Wars.

On the lighter side, Renshaw has continued his flying in civilian life, being a member of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association. He has been doing private flying as a hobby for the past seven years. Also, he handles a golf club well, having recently won third place in a tournament at Midland.

BETTER HALF
Wife, Pat, proves to be the most active member of the family. Her normal work day includes taking care of the boys, their new home, and some yard work on the side. But Mrs. Renshaw is an extra-special housewife. She is a writer and a painter. As chairman of the Midland Creators and Writers Organization, she has written several plays, including one which was performed for the Midland Community Chest and ran several nights at the Scarborough Hotel ballroom. She hopes to take an

VERSATILE BOYS
David, 10, and Danny, 7, are about as athletically and mechanically inclined as two boys can be. They find the hills and gulches in Kentwood to be the best playground anyone could have;

and their mother hopes that in the development of the addition they will not eventually disappear. Her painter's instinct is exemplified in the interior of her home, which features several paintings and original etchings by famous artists. Not to be overlooked are several of her own originals which grace the walls and are deserving of praise.

Mrs. Renshaw, a native of Maplewood, Ill., prefers to be active in one or two organizations rather than many. She has done some free lance writing, and has studied art in a course at Arlington State College. Also, she has an active part in Republican politics.

Danny, a second-grader, who has his mother's interest in painting, is an athlete in his own right. Doug, though only one year old, is as active or more so than his older brothers. As his parents say, "he doodles around in everything."

The Renshaws are also boating enthusiasts and make frequent trips to Lake Thomas. They are members of the Methodist church.

Mink Is No Longer Rich Enough

Engaged

NEW YORK (AP)—Name-dropping is a passe technique for impressing people. Now, to show that you are really somebody, you mention your invitation to see the new chinchilla fashions.

Everybody who is up on that sort of thing knows that you would never receive one unless you are known by the list makers, not only to have plenty of dollars, but the desire NOT to be included among the minkled masses.

High prices on this way blue-gray looking fur makes the wearers a happily exclusive bunch.

Would Zsa Zsa Gabor appreciate her $40,000 chinchilla jacket if her maid was running to the supermarket in one? Would Rita Hayworth have been nearly as grateful to her husband Aly Khan for $90,000 worth of chinchilla pelts if any number of white collar girls were making time payments on some, too?

Miss Sharon Manes' engagement to A.C. Robert M. Bodily is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard R. Manes, 1201 Ridgeway Dr. Stationed at Webb AFB, Bodily is the son of H. O. Bodily and the late Mrs. Bodily, Payette, Idaho. The wedding is planned for Sept. 1, at the home of the bride-elect's parents.

Winners Named For Duplicate

Winners named for the Friday afternoon session of duplicate bridge, held at the Big Spring Country Club, are announced for both north-south and east-west sections.

Mrs. J. J. Havens and Mrs. Jack Irons were first for north-south, with Mrs. Riley Foster and

Bill Head Is Host To Back-To-School Affair At Webb

"Loss of Freedom" was the theme for a back-to-school party given by Bill Head, son of Col and Mrs. Charles Head, Thursday evening on the patio of the Officers Club.

The dinner and "splash" party, followed by dancing, was held for 20 school friends of the host. Guests were served from a table laid with a white linen cloth decorated with garlands of multi-color flowers.

Use those trimmings leftover when you've made a pie or two, to concoct some small tart shells. Fill the shells with fruit preserves.

Mrs. Rogers Hefley, second; Mrs. Malcolm Patterson and Mrs. Tom South, third, and Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. Don Penn, fourth.

East-west winners were Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. Hayes Stripling, first; Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. R. H. Weaver, second; Mrs. R. L. Sandner and Mrs. Eileen Lingenfelter, third; and Mrs. Myrtle Lee and Mrs. Wendal Parks, fourth.

Winners in the Junior Master Division were, for north-south, Mrs. Gus Barr and Mrs. Zolbie Boykin, first; and Mrs. Herbert Keaton and Mrs. W. B. Hardy, second.

Winning for east-west were Mrs. H. N. Godbey and Mrs. M. A. Porter, first; and Mrs. George White and Mrs. Monroe Johnson, second.

Leftover Lamb?
Roast lamb leftover? If there are small fry in the family, they'll like it diced and served in a well-seasoned cream sauce.

For Better Eggs
Chef's trick: baste eggs, as they are frying, with butter.

Tape Up The Shakers

Put a piece of cellophane tape over the salt and pepper shakers before packing them in a picnic basket. The tape keeps contents from spilling.

Save Chicken Livers

Save the livers from your broiler-fryers and put them in the freezer. When you have a sufficient supply, thaw them and cook them in butter; add to a tomato spaghetti sauce.

Fort Worth Home Scene Of Cole-Clay Nuptials

Marriage vows exchanged by Miss Wilma Frances Cole and Jerrell Glen Clay, both of Fort Worth, were solemnized Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, in the R. B. Allen home, Fort Worth. The double ring service was read by the Rev. Cabel Roberts, pastor of Friendly Lane Baptist Church, Fort Worth. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cole, 700 Tulsa Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Troy H. Rash, Ft. Worth.

Arrangements of white mums and palms formed the altar background. A program of organ music was presented by Mrs. Bobby Browning, who also accompanied the vocalist, Miss Sylvia Cole, sister of the bride. She sang "Wedding Prayer," "I Love You Truly" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Wearing a day gown of white peau de soie, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Fashioned with lace bodice, the gown featured three-quarter sleeves and belted skirt, detailed with a peau de soie back panel covered in lace. A white satin tiara encrusted with pearls secured the finger tip veil of illusion. Her flowers were three gardenias nestled in stephanotis.

For something old, the bride wore an heirloom pendant watch, which belonged to her grandmother, something new was her wedding attire something borrowed was the white Bible which she carried, and something blue, a garter. She had birthdate penies in her shoes.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Marilee Cole, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, was attended in a dark green overbodice and skirt of silk organza over pastel green crystallette. It was styled with a belted skirt and short sleeves. Her accessories were of dark green, and she carried a yellow tinted mums.

Franklin Claudius, Fort Worth, attended as best man to his brother-in-law.

MRS. JEWELL GLEN CLAY

Sylvia Cole. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Frank Daniels and Miss Celia Maddox, both of Fort Worth.

WEDDING TRIP
For their wedding trip to Albuquerque, N.M., the bride chose a dark blue rayon shantung dress and black accessories. She wore the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School, received her degree from Texas Christian University, where she was a member of Alpha Chi, vice president of Phi Sigma Iota, and president of the Cercle francais. She will teach French and Spanish in high school at White Settlement, Fort Worth.

KIDS FUN TO HEAR
Clarke, who majored in zoology at the University of Missouri, expects to become director of a zoo.

Birthday House Lends Mother A Helping Hand

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Birthday parties, as every mother knows, are such sheer terror that they must be restricted to a yearly maximum of one per child.

As the tiny guests herd into the kitchen like a herd of elephants, trumpeting when do we get cake. I want ice cream... let's open the presents, now... what mother hasn't muttered, "never again?"

A 23-year-old man, with two children too young to have parties, expects to give 900 such parties this year and looks forward to them with pleasure. His experience handling elephants, gorillas and giraffes is a help.

He is Gary Clarke, a zoo keeper in the winter months. Comes summer, he dons a clown's costume and presides over the Swope Park Zoo's birthday house — a mother's best friend, at least once a year.

FAIRYLAND ATMOSPHERE
The birthday house, put into operation last year as part of the Children's Zoo of the zoological park, proved to be an enormous success from the start.

For $10, the outdoor birthday house will cater to a party of 12 for one hour, provide a fancy-decorated cake, punch, ice cream, invitations, eating utensils and paper plates. And best of all, there is no mess to clean up afterward.

The birthday house is a gold-colored octagonal aluminum structure, open on four sides, set in a fairyland atmosphere among murals depicting Mother Goose stories.

GRANDMOTHERS CELEBRATE
Noise is no problem. Even a dozen 7-year-olds up to 36 can be accommodated at one time! would be hard-put to outshout the surrounding noises of the zoo and the carousel cranking out music outside the gate.

"We think the birthday house is one of the nicest additions to our children's zoo," says Zoo Director William Cully. "It's proved enormously popular, even with the grownups."

Speaking of grownups, the birthday house has no means is only for children. Many a grandmother has been surprised to find on the plaque outside the birthday house confines. The next party is for Grandmother Jones.

Hollywood Dreams Often Nightmares
If you're heading for Hollywood this vacation hoping to be discovered by some movie mogul, better unpack your dreams. Unless, of course, you are loaded with talent.

Like thousands of other girls who make the trek each year, you may be doomed to disappointment, says blonde screen actress Shirley Knight. She made the grade, but understands the pitfalls.

Shirley, 24, 5-foot-5, 108 pounds, is one of the new crop of Hollywood actresses who have had acting experience in school plays and summer stock. She says:

"Most girls have a very romantic idea about show business. It is hard work."

Miss Patricia Martin Bride Of Piatkowski

Miss Patricia Ann Martin became the bride of Robert Earl Piatkowski Friday evening at the home of T. H. Tarbet. The double-ring ceremony was read by David Tarbet, minister of the Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Martin of Weatherford. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. A. Newmeth, Wyandotte, Mich.

Providing nuptial music, Mrs. T. H. Tarbet organist, played "Because" and "The Wedding March."

The bride's gown of Chantilly lace and silk organza, lined in bridal satin, was made by Mrs. Gibby Ingram. The bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and long, tapered sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was secured by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a corsage backed by a corded ivory fan studded in satin streamers.

In keeping with tradition, she had for something old, the fan; something new, her wedding gown; something borrowed, her veil; something blue, a garter. She placed a birthday penny in her shoe.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Margaret Oliver, maid of honor, wore a blue chiffon dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

George Oldham served as best man. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kit Seruggs of Houston.

For traveling to Carlsbad, N.M., the bride chose a coral knit suit with beige accessories. She attached the corsage from her bouquet.

A graduate of Big High School, the bride plans to attend nursing school. In high school, she was a member of the Future Homemakers of America, Spanish Club, Girls' Choir and I. C. T. The bridegroom is an Airman 2C at Webb AFB in the civil engineering group. He was a member of the ROTC at El Paso, where he graduated from high school. Presently he is employed by George Oldham's El Paso Station. The couple plans to reside at 1405 Park St.

Meet Madame President

Mrs. Merry Jo Bright is serving a second term as president of Spoudazio Fora Study Club. For her service and long club membership, Mrs. Bright received a silver disc, presented this year by the club.

Also, she is an active member of the Big Spring State Hospital Advisory Board, and serves as publicity chairman for the Girl Scouts and the Big Spring Country Club.

Mrs. Bright is a member of Beta Sigma Phi's Mu Zeta Chapter. She has been a member of the Ladies Golf Association, Big Spring Civic Theater, the YMCA, the State Mental Health Development Association and Washington Place PTA. Her time has been given, too, to various civic drives such as Heart Fund, polo, etc.

After attending the University of Houston, Mrs. Bright was employed as an airline hostess and during this time she acquired a private pilot's license.

Presently employed in the advertising department at the medication. The treatment is blended in different shades so that it does not look like medicine. This proves to gain popularity among both junior high and high school girls.

Cosmetic salesladies report that because sunburning is detrimental to a bad adolescent complexion, they recommend a medicated suntan lotion. It keeps the skin protected from the sun and chemicals in water.

BEFORE BED TREATMENT
Beautyicians recommend the use of beauty grains, which are usually made of almond meal. It is a simple before-bed treatment which teen-agers and adults find will clean pores better than soap. Boys as well as girls are interested in their complexions. Merchants report that during recent years, teen-age boys with skin problems have become less hesitant about seeking help for their complexions. They usually ask their mothers to buy the first medication, usually soap or a foamy crystal solution. After discovering the advantage of its use, they go back for more on their own.

The most important skin treatment is cleanliness. A good cleansing with hot water and soap rinsed with ice cold water twice a day is a "must" that should be on the daily schedule of any teen-ager.

Diet Vital To Health Of Skin

Amid the hustle-bustle days of senior and junior high students, there are times when they neglect diets and personal habits essential to good health and appearance. In many instances, as a result of this neglect, unsightly skin blemishes appear. Neither parents nor the culprit need panic should this occur for there are solutions to the teen-age complexion problems.

With modern scientific developments, there is little cause for alarm. Soaps, foams, sudsing crystals, ointments, lotions and even skin-toned medicated cosmetics are available to today's teen-ager with skin trouble.

Most adolescent complexions can be treated with proper diet, rest, drugs and cosmetics, however, serious conditions should be reported to the family doctor. He will usually recommend a dermatologist in the area.

FOAM RATES HIGH

A recently developed sudsing cleanser or foam rates high among teen-agers for skin treatment. It serves as an anti-bacteria agent. There is also only skin ointment with a soap accompaniment.

One main cause of teen-age skin blemishes is too much oil. An antiseptic-toned coverup lotion keeps the skin dry enough to prevent accumulation of grime and dust in the pores. An accompaniment for this treatment is a night cream. Also popular is a facial mask which draws impurities from the skin, clears and heals.

A recent development in the field of cosmetics is a liquid cosmetic which acts as an all-day

Montilla-Bunn Plans Told

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Josephine Montilla of Manila, the Philippines, and Glen D. Bunn, administrator of Physicians Hospital and Clinic, Stanton, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Montilla. The bride-elect's father is director of the Bureau of Fisheries for the Republic of the Philippines. Bunn is the son of Mrs. Ruby Bunn Miller, Fort Worth, and the late B. O. Bunn of Big Spring. Miss Montilla is expected to arrive in the States via airlines in September. The wedding date has not been set.

Mrs. J. Weaver Honored At Party

Mrs. James Weaver, the former Beatrice Hoobs, was honored at a surprise miscellaneous show held in the dining hall of the Howard County Hospital Foundation, Friday. Members of the hospital staff were hostesses.

Guests were served refreshments from a table laid with white linen and centered with an arrangement of pink and white gladioli. Crystal appointments were used in serving.

MOM MAKE READY

It's Back To School, Lunch Packin' Time

School's open means one thing to the youngster, but to Mom it means packing nourishing lunches for the back-to-schooler.

Made in advance, sandwiches can be packed frozen in the lunch box. These will thaw in about two hours.

To keep fillings from soaking into the bread, home economists suggest buttering both slices. But rather than just plain butter, use mustard butter for added interest. Just blend together one half pound butter or margarine and two tablespoons prepared mustard.

Cheese and chipped beef—Blend together 1 package 3-oz softened cream cheese, 1/4 cup chili sauce, 1/2 cup dried chipped beef and 1 teaspoon mustard.

Baked Bean Spread—Mash one

1-pound can baked beans. Add 1 tablespoon minced onion and 2 tablespoons prepared mustard.

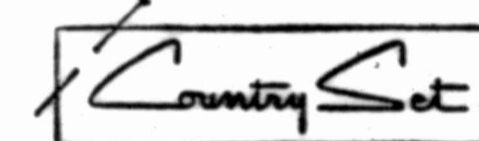

Cream Cheese and Bacon—Cook 4 slices bacon until crisp. Crumble. Blend together 1 package 3-oz softened cream cheese, 1 tablespoon pickle relish, 1 teaspoon mustard and the cooked bacon.

Deviled Ham and Cheese Spread

—Combine 1 cup ground or finely chopped ham, 1/2 cup of grated American cheese, 2 to 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon mustard, and 1/2 teaspoon onion powder.

Pineapple Cheese Spread—Combine 1 package 3-oz cream cheese, 1/4 cup drained crushed pineapple and 1 teaspoon of mustard.

KEEP THE COMPLIMENTS COMING... with this smart suit and separates of Blue Chip exclusive Camel-and-Navy plaid with Camel or Navy contrast-stitched cotton blouse. Top has detachable tie.

Scores Of Youths Making Plans To Attend College

By PATSY BRAZIEL
College students are packing trunks and bags once again to return to their chosen colleges and universities. For some it is a return to a familiar campus and familiar faces, for others it is a totally new experience. Still others won't be traveling out of town to college for another year or two since they plan to attend H.C.J.C.

H.C.J.C.

Big Spring Movie Week Features A Varied Menu

Variation seems to be the key-note in local theatres this week. Fans of sophisticated comedy will probably hearken to "That Touch of Mink," showing all week (except for one interruption) at the Ritz. Those who like strong doses of sex, however, will be disappointed, for "Mink," although it deals with a wolf and his feminine target, never gets beyond a few innuendoes.

Helping give "That Touch of Mink" that professional touch of light comedy are that old smoothie, Cary Grant, and that bastion of teasing virtue, Doris Day.

The interruption comes Friday with a double bill horror show combined with a stage production titled "House of the Living Dead" and starring Dracula. The stage show will be presented throughout the day and is being billed as a "scream show."

DEPARTING FILM
"El Cid" winds up its long stay at the State Tuesday. Those who have missed it and who enjoy color and spectacle on a large scale are advised to see "El Cid" now, as it may be some time before it hits the drive-ins. (And even then it may be cut considerably.)

The film is based on the ancient legends that grew up about the real person who became Spain's national hero. The actual man was colorful enough, but since the legend has become more or less official and dramatic classics about El Cid have followed the legendary rather than the historical path, it behooved the picture's producers to travel the same road.

"El Cid" presents the Spain of old when the Castilians shared their peninsula with the Basques, the Catalonians, and the Moors—all of whom were threatened for awhile by an invading sect of Moslem fanatics.

Charlton Heston stars as El Cid, with Sophia Loren as his paramour.

COMEDIES BILLED
Beginning Wednesday at the State is a Jerry Lewis double bill. "The Delicate Delinquent" is perhaps one of the best comedies Lewis ever made as it comes closest to that rare mixture of humor and pathos that marks the works of all good comedians.

Here, Lewis is not simply monkey-shining his way through an improbable plot and feeble slapstick. He portrays a misfit snorter who becomes involved unintentionally with a gang of hoods, but becomes the object of policeman Darren McGavin's almost fanatic zeal at leading stray kids back to the straight and narrow.

There is just enough feeling and depth and understanding to "The Delicate Delinquent" to raise it above mere comedy.

"The Sad Sack" on the other hand is a strictly non-serious slapstick based on the World War II cartoon character. It's fun all the way.

TWO FOR ONE
The Jet Drive-In Theatre starts off the week with two prize pictures for the price of one.

"Sail a Crooked Ship" stars the late Ernie Kovacs in one of the last movies he made. It is not by any means his best but the fact is that Kovacs never gave a bad performance. The plot of "Sail a Crooked Ship" is too confused and just plain wacky to try to explain, this being true of most of Kovacs' productions. Suffice it to say that the zaniest and least expected turns of plot will be most probable.

On the double bill is "Tammy and the Bachelor." When this film was originally issued, it marked one of the rarest events in Hollywood—a title song or theme song hailed by studio publicists as a "hit parade" number actually getting into the top hundred. "Tammy" in fact shot clear up through the Top Ten.

The film story by all the rules should have turned out a glib, maudlin and overly sentimental. But the plot factors, plus the acting, directing, scripting, and all the other facets of the production just happened to tie themselves together into a package that strummed heartstrings all over the country.

Essentially the story of "Tammy and the Bachelor" is the old tale of virtue conquering sophistication and being its own reward to boot. Debbie Reynolds is Tammy, a barefoot, bejauned young lass who has spent her life on a riverboat with a seedy but lovable old grandfather, Walter Brennan. The tickle finger of fate sends Gramps off to jail for some knifing, and Tammy off to some knifing's plantation where the sophisticated bachelor, Leslie Nielsen, is trying to make the worn-out land again productive.

Tammy's odd mixture of virtue, innocence and simple wisdom is too much for the rule-of-reason personality of Nielsen—as one might expect—and too much for a lot of other things that need straightening out. Before she's of which is above average. This one is "Winchester '73," starring James Stewart, and telling something about the gun that helped speed the conquest of the front.

GOOD ATTRACTIONS
Offerings at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre are paired, as usual. The double features this week include one really good picture each, plus a couple of routine types.

"Sink the Bismarck," a British production, starts off the week. This is a fictionalized documentary out of World War II, centering around one of the most exciting episodes of that war. The German pocket battleship had been raising Allied shipping to a devastating degree, and had tangled with the heretofore invincible British fleet. A lucky shot had sent the mighty HMS Hood to the bottom, and the resources of the entire Admiralty were called in to stop the Bismarck before it could escape for refueling and repairs, and slip out again.

The British are old masters at the buildup of suspense, and the picture's producers to indulge this factor to the hilt without changing the facts of history. If anything, knowledge that these things really happened whets the audience's appetite.

It is paired with "Sands of Iwo Jima," one of the hammiest gung-ho films ever to libel the U. S. Marine Corps.

ILL-FATED PROPHECY
Arriving at mid-week is "The Court-Martial of Billy Mitchell," starring Gary Cooper as the ill-fated prophet to whom our elders should have listened.

It was Gen. Mitchell who foresaw the incredible future of aviation in warfare. It was he who surmounted difficulties that would have caused Admiral Rickover to cry in pain, to bring about a few experiments which convinced nobody but some Jap and German onlookers. It was Mitchell who proved that airplanes could sink battleships.

Gen. Mitchell went unheeded and, as his desperation grew, his sensitivities to the traditional military disciplines hardened. He could have resigned from the Army and taken his battle to the people, a maneuver which would have shorn off his authority along with his uniform. He chose to stay in uniform and keep the credibility it would give his words, and chase a court-martial in defying his superiors.

The court-martial of Billy Mitchell was one of the most sensational cases of its day, and it served a purpose of publicizing a theme to which many young men were to begin paying more attention—a fact which may have saved our necks in World War II.

It is a magnificent picture which you ought not to miss. (The prophets are still trying to tell us a few things we don't want to believe.)

Saturday Opening
NEW YORK — Saturday is for Broadway shows. Five productions already have picked the last day of the week for premiere, arguing that press critics unable to appear in print locally until Monday editions, will be more deliberate in expressing opinions on a show's merits.

Traditionally, Thursday night has been the most popular for openings.

Lessening Risk
NEW YORK — A three-in-one financing plan for off-Broadway productions has been launched by a group called Theater Unlimited.

A capitalization of between $75,000 and $100,000 is being sought. The fund would be divided among three musical projects, a procedure designed to increase investors' chance at profit.

Decade Of Effort
NEW YORK — After 10 years of planning, Broadway Producer Saint Subber expects to get "The Masculine Principle" on stage this season.

The project is based on a short story by Frank O'Connor, and the delay has centered around obtaining a satisfactory adaptation. A decade of effort isn't regarded by Subber as exceptional. He is involved in such extended planning once before. The result was "Kiss Me, Kate," one of Broadway's all-time top hits.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The 25th anniversary of the National Apprenticeship Act receives philatelic tribute with the issuance of a new 4-cent U. S. stamp on Aug. 31 in Washington D. C. Issuance of the stamp is in keeping with National Apprenticeship Month, designated for August by President John F. Kennedy.

The 4-cent stamp in black on buff depicts a garbled hand offering a micrometer to an outstretched young hand — symbolizing the transfer of skill from the experienced worker to the new worker learning a trade.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations of the Apprenticeship stamp may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Washington D. C. The outside envelope to the Postmaster should be clearly marked "First Day Apprenticeship Stamp." Cover requests must be postmarked not later than Aug. 31, 1962.

West Germany marks German Catholic Day in Hanover with the 20-pfennig commemorative stamp, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The new stamp bears the motto, "To Believe, To Thank, To Serve." It features two worshippers and the cross. The stamp denotes the 70th observance of this religious day in Hanover.

Australia commemorates the World Conference of the Associated Country Women of the World by issuing a new 5-pence green stamp. The symbolic design depicts a draped female figure with arms outstretched against a background of the world globe. The

School Plans Be Ready For Bids By Oct. 1

FORSAN — Plans will be ready for bids by Oct. 1 on the scheduled $200,000 improvement program planned for Forsan and Elbow schools. Advertisement for bids on the jobs will be posted at that time.

A conference of school board members and Gary and Hohertz, Big Spring architects, on plans and dates was held last week.

The schedule of improvements planned for Forsan include three new classrooms, a kitchen and dining area, a girls locker room, boys locker room, renovation of the present gym and the remodeling of the present kitchen dining area into a library and superintendent's office.

The improvements will be incorporated into the existing buildings.

At Elbow, on the other hand, a new structure adjacent to present buildings will provide three new classrooms, a science room, principal's office, and a teacher's preparation room.

It was estimated that bids, will be opened about Oct. 20. Construction should get under way by Nov. 10 and the job finished in June 1963, according to Daryle Hohertz, one of the architects.

To Get Degree

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Gen. Walter Krueger, who rose through the ranks to become commander of the U.S. 6th Army, gets a doctor of laws degree Friday from Trinity University. Krueger, 81, is retired now and lives in San Antonio.
