Scholars Work On New Bible Version

LONDON, AP—A panel of biblical scholars is wading out "non-sense" passages and such words as virgin and Jehovah from the Old Testament in a revolutionary English language translation which aims at more accuracy and readability.

Prof. Godfrey R. Driver, director of the 10-man panel, said the changes are expected to stir as much controversy as did those in a New Testament version by a companion group of scholars. It was published last year.

The two new translations will be combined as the New English Bible, which is sponsored by a joint committee of Britain's major Protestant churches. Prof. Driver said the revised Old Testament, which has been in the works for 15 years, may be ready for printing in four years, a year ahead of schedule.

The panel is using the standard 9th Century Hebrew text for its part in the first major British revision of the Bible since the King James version appeared 351 years ago.

Dr. J. H. Green, professor of philology at Oxford University, said the Dead Sea scrolls proved "very disappointing indeed from our point of view. I do not think they are more than two dozen pages where they gave us substantial help with a difficult passage, though they do provide a complete Isaiah, probably or possibly of the first century B.C."

Prof. Driver said the new wording will give the Old Testament a wholly new idiom and rhythm. Passages of poetry will be redone in verse, affecting nearly all the books of the prophets and particularly Isaiah. The word virgin will be replaced in Isaiah's "behold a virgin shall conceive" and other passages because the original Hebrew word "means only a marriageable young woman, whether virgin or not," he said.

Jehovah disappears because it was a deviation produced in 1520 and "leprosy goes since in biblical times it meant a skin disease now called psoriasis."

Also out are such archaic words as thou, thee, doth and saith except where characters speak to God. But in the prologue to Job Satan will address God as you "because Satan is the devil and is allowed to be impertinent," said Prof. Driver.

"Nonsense passages are getting a thorough reworking. So much of the Old Testament makes no sense as conventionally translated," he said. "I teach Proverbs myself and I find some of it quite incomprehensible."

By The Associated Press
Summer-weary Texans added new marks today to calendars showing more than seven weeks without rain in some sections. Forecasts promised a familiar scattering of thundershowers but no real letup in drought causing concern in parts of the state. More temperatures topping 100 degrees were in prospect for all sections. Austin was in its 51st straight rainless day. San Antonio counted its 40th day without enough moisture for the Weather Bureau to measure. At Laredo, a 26-inch shower last week snapped a string of 47 days without rain. Galveston went 44 days before a puny .01 inch fell. Main effects so far of the summer drought and soaring temperatures have been concern over crops and livestock plus, in perhaps half a dozen areas, volunteer rationing to restrict lawn watering and car washing while city pumps catch up with demand. Texans for the most part have worn a few less clothes and stuck closer to air-conditioned buildings. Although the mercury has soared to numerous local records, there have been reports of but two deaths from heat prostration—one each in Houston and Dallas. In Houston, where humidity accents the intense afternoon heat, National League baseball games formerly set for 2:30 p.m. have been moved back to 4 p.m. Special permission for the late starts was granted after several fans suffered heat strokes at a June 10 game.

There was no measurable rain at any Weather Bureau station over the state Sunday. Wichita Falls' 102 degrees was the top mark.

International Beauty Title Winner Spurns A Fortune

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Tania Verstak, a reluctant Cinderella, is turning down a chance to wear the royal robes she won as Miss International Beauty.

She is returning to Australia to continue preparations for a career as a welfare worker, intent on helping people who like herself are refugees from communism.

She has declined offers of lucrative film contracts and she does not want to tour the world as Miss International Beauty—an endeavor which earned her predecessor $25,000.

"I've got as much money as I want," she said. She won $10,000 with the title Saturday night. She said it will go into her father's building insulation business in Sydney.

Tania, 21, felt she wasn't pretty enough for the contest which drew 50 girls from as many nations. The judges disagreed.

The hazel-eyed lovely fled from her birthplace, Tientsin, China, with her White Russian parents 13 years ago. The parents had escaped as children from Soviet communism.

She said she'll return home to fulfill her contract as Miss Australia, if that runs until Christmas. Miss Verstak, 21, intends to study English, Chinese and psychology to prepare for refugee work overseas. She already is fluent in English and Russian.

Tania posed uncomplainingly and with a warm smile for the crowds of photographers who clamored for pictures Sunday. Talking to newsmen, she frequently became confused in answering their questions.

"I am sorry," she told them, "but I'm still in a daze."

Early last week the shapely, brown-haired girl said she did not expect to reach even the semifinal field of 15 picked from original entries representing 50 countries.

"I felt I didn't belong," Miss Verstak explained. "The Australia contest wasn't for beauty. How could they choose me from all those girls?"

Oscar Meinhardt, executive producer of the pageant, said it's all right with him if the new queen does not accept the commercial offers which started pouring in on her even before she was named winner Saturday.

"Just as long as she upholds the dignity of the title," he said, "there is no objection. And I know she will. She's a wonderful girl."

After completion of her tour as Miss Australia, Tania plans to return to Sydney University at night to brush up on her languages and to help during the day in her father's business.

Next year she'll return to Long Beach to crown her successor. Then she hopes to go to Switzerland to work in refugee aid organizations.

Throng Nearly Swamps JFK

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Kennedy, weekend here, decided to take a swim in the Pacific — and was almost swamped by a throng of 1,000 admirers.

The scene was reminiscent of Coney Island on a muggy Fourth of July. The Secret Service, to a man, was in a mild state of shock.

Bystanders walked into the sea fully clothed as the President stroked into the ocean in front of the Santa Monica beach home of his brother-in-law, Peter Lawford.

It happened Sunday during the President's 33-hour visit to Southern California, a flying trip which ended shortly before midnight when the presidential jet took off to return to Washington, D.C.

It had been billed as a non-political trip, although the President obviously helped the cause of Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown when they dedicated the $11-million San Luis Dam in central California on Saturday.

The President spent much of his time in Southern California with Lawford — whose wife like the President's is vacationing in Europe.

The President and his film star in-law spent much of Sunday lounging by the pool of the actor's home, passing around a football, and enjoying second helpings from the Lawford's well-stocked larder.

Film stars Doris Day, Janet Leigh and a bikini-clad Sue Lyon (the film's "Lolita") watched the President's swimming jaunt, but weren't in the presidential party and stayed clear of the mob scene which ensued.

It started when the President, apparently without prior warning to his security guards, emerged from Lawford's beachfront home and set out for the surf 100 yards across the sand.

The house fronts on a public beach at nearby Santa Monica. Some 100 bathers, who had been waiting for hours for just such an appearance, let out a wild cheer.

The cheers brought other bathers from out of the sand, from under blankets, from everywhere.

They closed in on the smiling chief executive many trying to shake his hand. Affably, he obliged many.

He dived under a big breaker. Most of the throng followed him in — including one fully dressed woman and one fully dressed news photographer.

For 15 minutes he swam vigorously. The crowd swam with him. The Secret Service, late in catching up, watched helplessly on the beach.

The guards didn't breathe easily until a hastily summoned life guard patrol boat cruised up near the swimming President.

As he emerged from the water, the mob scene was repeated. By this time there were 1,000 persons there.

It was a climax to a day of relaxation for the President. A rocking chair was delivered to the Lawford home just before his arrival. Mostly, the President just sat around the pool. Occasionally he got up to toss a football with Lawford.

It also was a day of good home cooking and plenty of it. Mrs. Della Bradley, the Lawford's Negro cook, said the President had second helpings of creamed chicken deluxe on rice rings, vichyssoise soup, hot fudge sundaes, plus an added bit of Polish ham and Boston baked beans.

Earlier the President attended Mass at the nearby Church of the Good Shepherd. Fisher Larry McHugh said the President dropped a $100 bill in the collection box.

"I saw in Beverly Hills," said McHugh, "this is noticed."

Hot, Dry Days Wilt Grass But Speed Texas Harvests

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Hot, dry days wilted pastures throughout most of Texas last week but speed harvests, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Cotton harvests are well under way. Sorghum combining is nearly finished in South Central Texas. Many cattle are going to market from the parched ranges of South Texas. Stock water is scarce.

Moisture in the Panhandle generally is adequate and grain sorghum is making excellent growth.

The South Plains had good rain in July resulting in good development of crops. Areas that received lighter rain in July will soon need moisture, as will ranges.

Moisture is short in 16 Boiling Plains (Vernon) counties. Cotton is being damaged by bollworms and weevils. The early sorghum harvest continues.

Navarro, Clay, Parks and Ellis

Counties are dry but moisture is adequate in the rest of the North Texas area. Bollworms and weevils damaged cotton. Pastures are good for August.

Northeast Texas is short on moisture. Cotton is opening and insects are a problem. Most hay has been harvested. Late melons are being marketed. Pastures are average.

The Davis Mountains area had good range conditions while the Edwards Plateau range was in poorer shape. Lambs and calves were heavy in the Davis Mountains and very light in the lower Edwards Plateau area. Irrigated cotton is excellent with fruiting heavy. Bollworm infestations are heavy. The area needs a good general rain.

Only the Abilene area of Central West Texas is not suffering from a critical shortage of moisture. Dry ranges have caused early marketing of calves and lambs in large numbers. The cotton and sorghum harvests are beginning. Both crops are short.

Cotton has a heavy infestation of bollworms. Goat shearing is well under way.

The cotton harvest in the Central Texas Blacklands has begun. Sorghum and corn harvests are about half over. All peanuts are planted and have large vine growth but need rain. Pastures in the west Cross Timbers are average. The east and south need rain. Stock water is average to low. Livestock marketing is increasing.

Moisture in East Texas is very low and ranges are in below average condition. Disease is hurting pecan trees. There have been 165 cases of screwworms reported in East Texas this year.

South Central Texas is dry and hot. The cotton and rice harvest are in full swing and there's a shortage of hand pickers. Corn and peanuts are being harvested. Late peanuts are suffering from the dryness. Cull cows and calves are being marketed. Goat shearing is starting.

Extremely hot dry weather continues in the upper Gulf Coast and has speeded all harvesting. Gins are operating around the clock and ungrinned cotton is piled on the lots. Rice combines are also working long hours. Pastures are suffering. Tanks are getting low and there have been some grass fires.

More than half of the cotton in South Texas has been harvested. The hot dry weather has been hard on pastures but livestock are in fair condition.

Aging Fliers Pay Tribute To Comrade

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) — American flying heroes who fought for France in World War I bowed graying heads in a solemn tribute Sunday to a departed comrade.

Tears glistened in the eyes of some of the old-timers as an American Legion rifle squad fired three volleys and a bugler played "Taps" in memory of Col. Fredrick W. Zinn, who fought with them in the French Foreign Legion and the Lafayette Flying Corps.

Taking part in the ceremony were a handful of the few survivors who volunteered for service with the French forces before the United States entered World War I.

Zinn, the first American aerial combat photographer, was buried at his request two years ago—in Memorial Park Cemetery off the end of the runway at Battle Creek's Kellogg Field.

A plaque dedicated to Zinn's memory was unveiled Sunday at the first reunion air show by his daughter, Mrs. Howard Wilson of Chicago, and a former comrade who saved his life when Zinn was wounded in 1915. Col. David W. King of Chester, Conn.

Further tribute was paid at a quiet graveside ceremony where Baron Hans Georg von der Osten, 66, Cologne, Germany, laid a wreath on Zinn's tombstone.

The Baron, who flew with Baron von Richthofen's legendary squadron of the German imperial air force, said in German as he stepped back "With the highest respect for an honored opponent."

Another wreath was placed on the grave by the present day commander of the Lafayette Escadrille, Capt. Bernhard Zeigler, a wounded veteran of the recent Algerian war. Zeigler, 29, flew from France to join in the reunion of the men who fought in his country's behalf before he was born.

As the air heroes paid their respects to Zinn, they were well aware of their thinning numbers.

About 55 survivors are believed scattered around the world. Of the 20-odd who came to the reunion, the youngest was 66, the oldest 87.

A nostalgic highlight of the air show was a mock aerial dog fight pitting a French Nieuport 23 against a German Fokker D7, flown by stunt pilots Frank Tallman of Santa Ana, Calif., and Cole Palen of Rhinebeck, N.Y.

Baron von der Osten, watching the battle, was not distressed when the Fokker apparently lost the fight, trailing a plume of black smoke. He said he understood that was the outcome to be expected with thousands of American spectators watching.

Nathaniel Duffy, of Buffalo, N.Y., said he remembered that most of the dog fights usually didn't last as long as the 15-minute demonstration.

Usually, he said, "one plane either went down or ran away before there was much of a fight."

Showers Hit Scattered Areas

By The Associated Press

Showers dampened scattered sections in the eastern half of the nation today but generally fair and warm weather prevailed in most areas.

The showers fell over areas in the central plains, the middle Mississippi Valley, the eastern Ohio Valley and in the northern Atlantic coastal states. Only other wet spots were along coastal areas in Washington.

The generally hot weather extended throughout the south central region Sunday. The mercury reached in St. Louis the highest mark in eight years. It was 102 in Kansas City and 101 in Springfield, Mo. The 105 reading in Little Rock, Ark. was a record for Aug. 19.

Readings of above 100 were reported in sections of Illinois, Kentucky and in Texas. The drought continued in Texas. In Austin Sunday was the 50th consecutive day without rainfall.

DEAR ABBY

He's Lacking Something

DEAR ABBY: My husband does not drink but every time we go out in public no one will believe he is sober from the way he acts. Last Saturday night we went to a night club with friends. My husband weighs 220 and is only 5 ft. 7. He spotted the daughter of a friend of ours at another table, so he went over and asked her to teach him how to Twist. The manager came out on the floor and told them to please sit down as they were creating a disturbance. You should have seen them! Then he went up to the girl who sings with the band, handed her a hairpoint pen and asked her to autograph his chest. He unbuttoned his shirt and she did. Everyone laughed but I didn't see anything funny about it. He's always doing things like that. When I complain, he says I have no sense of humor. Is he right or am I?

WORSE HALF

DEAR WORSE: Your husband must feel unloved and unappreciated at home or he wouldn't try so hard for large and applause from the general public. Build his ego a little and lessen his need to show off for strangers.

DEAR ABBY: How old do you have to be before you can go to the movies with a boy if your mother says yes but your father won't let you?

ALMOST 12

DEAR ALMOST: You have to be whatever age you reach when your mother and father both say yes.

DEAR ABBY: My family is very "profession-conscious." They don't care what a man is like as long as he's a doctor. I started dating an intern who turned out to be a Jeffrey and Hyde type. In the company of others he is perfection itself, but when we are alone he is aggressive and brutish. My parents refuse to believe anything bad about him. My brother interns with this fellow and says I am childish and old-maidish about his friend's advances to me. (This is a loving brother!) I am 23 and don't want to be shop-worn before I marry. When I told my family why I was going out with this animal again, my father laughed and said, "He is only a man, and my mother said it is time I was married. Am I wrong?"

SAVING MYSELF

DEAR SAVING: Keep saving yourself. You will find dishonorable men in honorable professions.

Nuclear Merchant Ship Makes Maiden Voyage

By FRANK CAREY
By The Associated Press
ABOARD NUCLEAR SHIP SAVANNAH (AP) — This 24,000-ton vessel, the world's first known atomic-powered merchant ship, was shoved off today on a maiden voyage which signals the opening of a new era in commercial passenger and cargo hauling on the high seas.

The 24-day voyage from historic New York to Savannah, Ga., also will mark an American advance in the technological race with the Soviet Union. The Soviets have built a nuclear-powered icebreaker, but their plans to enter the nuclear-powered merchant ship field are believed to be still in the blueprint stage.

The Savannah is not expected to enter regular commercial service for about a year and a half. Meantime it will make demonstration trips and possibly take on some paying passengers for trips between American ports.

The Atomic Energy Commission officials said the vessel is not expected to operate at a profit because it is the first ship of its kind "and costs of such a prototype are necessarily high."

Among passengers aboard the great white ship for the run to Savannah, Ga., were Georgia Gov. and Mrs. Ernest Vandiver; Rep. and Mrs. E. Elliot Hagan of Georgia, and Mayor and Mrs. Malcolm MacLean of Savannah.

The ship was named in honor of the 320-ton sailing vessel with auxiliary steam power that first crossed the Atlantic in 1819 using steam power part of the way.

Although the Savannah has undergone previous sea trials, the present trip marks her first excursion to a regular commercial port.

The ship has vast capabilities. With a single fueling of its mammoth atomic furnace, it could cruise for 3 1/2 years, for a distance of 300,000 miles—much farther than the distance between the earth and the moon.

It is fueled by 17,000 pounds of uranium oxide, the power equivalent of 90,000 tons of fuel oil. The ship's designed speed is 20 knots—about 23 statute miles per hour—but she already has done up to 24 knots in trials off Yorktown.

Representatives of the Atomic Energy Commission and the U.S. Maritime Administration of the Department of Commerce were all smiles before sailing time. The two government agencies jointly developed the Savannah which is operated for the government by States Marine Lines.

"At least a dozen nations in Europe, including Russia, are planning to build nuclear-powered merchant vessels, and so is Japan," said an AEC man. "But we in the United States are out ahead of the pack."

The Savannah is due to reach Savannah, Ga., sometime Wednesday. Plans call for a winging reception.

The ship is due to start back to the Virginia area Sunday, Aug. 26, to pick up permanent ballast at Norfolk, preparatory to departure late in September for the Seattle World's Fair via the Panama Canal.

LAMESA (SC) — A work order for the construction phase of the new sewage treatment plant and outfall line for the City of Lamesa has been issued.

Construction of the outfall line from the site of the new plant will be under way by Aug. 25, according to the contractor, Mitchell Darby of McAllen. This portion of the system should be completed in about four months. It is expected that work will begin on the plant by Sept. 25 and should progress without delay to substantial completion by April 15, 1963.

Bonds for the plant were voted last year.

Contract Reported Drawn Up By Estes' Creditors

DALLAS (AP) — Mante Irian said today that a contract has been drawn up by representatives of the creditors committee of Billie Sol Estes for the sale of the assets of the bankrupt West Texas promoter to San Antonio businessman Morris Jaffe.

The Dallas lawyer would not disclose the selling price until the final contract is approved by the final committee. Jaffe, president of Fed Mart Stores, is reported to have offered $6.5 million for Estes' assets.

The seven-man creditors committee will be asked to approve a final contract between the trustee of the Estes estate, Harry Moore of El Paso, and Jaffe this week, Irian, a member of the committee said.

Irian said the contract was drawn up over the weekend in Chicago by Bob Greenberg, vice president and general counsel of the Walter E. Heller Co. and also a member of the committee. Moore and Alan Poage of El Paso, lawyer for Moore.

He said representatives of Commercial Solvents Corp. also were present in Chicago part of the time the contract was being drawn up.

"Copies of the final draft will be mailed to the various committee members this week as I understand it," Irian explained. "When each member has had a chance to see the contract we will either attempt to obtain their approval by telephone or call a committee meeting in El Paso or Dallas."

Irian said that at least one member of the committee is known to oppose the terms of the contract, as they are set out in the final draft.

Whether we can get him to change and what the action of the full committee will be are two things I wouldn't care to predict, he remarked.

The offer by Jaffe to buy the total bankrupt estate of the indicted promoter was one of three received by the committee at a meeting in Dallas two weeks ago. The other offers came from E. J. Gray and his son, Eddie, from Baytown, and another delegation from Houston headed by Irvin Kaplan.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Beulah Hickman, a son, Reaves Hickman, Albany, two daughters, Mrs. Houston Zinn, Big Spring, and Betty Jean Hickman, San Marcos; a sister, Mrs. S. W. Browning, San Antonio; and a brother, Ray Hickman, Slaton.

Market Prices Continue Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock markets prices continued higher this afternoon with electronics and aircrafts showing the way.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.5 million shares, compared with 3.43 million Friday.

Prices headed upward soon after the start. Steels, motors and utilities showed an almost uniform plus pattern. Rails were mixed and drugs were off slightly.

The commission said that with this information, and after a conference with city officials, it might be possible to formulate a plan to bring the proposal into being sometime in the future.

Howard County Commissioners Court discussed the needs of the city and county for a modern public health center with a committee from the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce Monday and told the committee the commissioners are well aware of the need for a solution to the problem.

However, the commissioners also advised the committee that no funds are available at this time for the county to invest in such a program.

Widow, 74, Lost 4 Days In Hills

OLD FORT N.C. (AP) — A 74-year old widow who apparently lived on wild berries and leaves during four days she was lost in mountains near here has been found alive just before an all-out search was to be abandoned.

A doctor said the woman, Verna Ammons of Marsville, Tenn. was in remarkably good condition.

Searchers located Mrs. Ammons Sunday learning against a tree halfway up mile-high Young's Ridge. She had disappeared Wednesday while she and other patients of the Highlands Hospital in nearby Asheville were guests at a picnic.

Beauty Seeks Vanderbilt Entry

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The reigning Miss America, Maria Fletcher of Asheville, N.C. has applied for admission to Vanderbilt University.

Registrar William O. Batts confirmed Sunday that her application is being considered. Only about one out of seven women applicants enter Vanderbilt under the private school's limited enrollment.

Miss Fletcher was graduated from A. J. Reynolds High School in Asheville with a 92 average. She was a dancer with the Radio City Music Hall Rockettes in New York before winning her crown and a $10,000 college scholarship.

Health Center Needs Talked

Howard County Commissioners Court discussed the needs of the city and county for a modern public health center with a committee from the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce Monday and told the committee the commissioners are well aware of the need for a solution to the problem.

However, the commissioners also advised the committee that no funds are available at this time for the county to invest in such a program.

The committee was headed by Dr. C. B. Marcum and Dr. Milton Talbot. Others present were Kenneth Pace, chamber of commerce, and Bo Bowen, county health nurse.

The two groups agreed that the project should be a combined city-county project. It was also agreed the first step would be drafting plans and specifications by an architect. The probable cost, too, of the project should be determined.

The commissioners said that with this information, and after a conference with city officials, it might be possible to formulate a plan to bring the proposal into being sometime in the future.

X15 Under Test At Near 5 Mach

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — An X15 rocket plane roared across the desert sky today at close to five times the speed of sound in its stubby wings.

Tested from the air friction future space ships must endure returning to earth.

U.S. space agency engineers estimated temperatures on the black plane's steel alloy skin shot close to 1,200 degrees Fahrenheit. Heat up to 1,200 degrees has been recorded on previous flights.

Robert Rushworth was not trying for records in today's flight, one of a series intended to improve the design of future aerospace craft.

He hit a top speed of 3,443 miles per hour on the way up to 67,000 feet. The record-smashing X15 previously has reached 4,159 m.p.h. and 314,750 feet.

Foreign Worker Totals Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department said today 98,299 foreign workers were being employed in seasonal agricultural work in this country during the late spring and early summer.

This compared with 1,036,255 U.S. workers in similar work of the foreign workers, 36,681 were from Mexico, 9,946 from the British West Indies and 342 from Canada and other countries.

The heaviest employment of foreign workers was in Western states, the total being 62,478 of which 61,478 were Mexican nationals. In this region California was tops with 44,059. Texas was second with 17,717 foreign workers, all but 78 from Mexico.

Drainage Work To Begin Today

Work was to begin today solving the drainage problem at the Birdwell Lane-Eleventh Place intersection. City crews were to begin tearing out 100 feet of curb and pavement.

"We will begin the work shortly after the heavy after-work traffic has moved," Larry Crow, city manager, said. "The curbing will be re-again while the street base is being compacted."

"There will be some inconvenience to traffic for three or four days," Crow said, "but we will try to keep traffic moving over the area while work is going on."

The drainage planned, in rebuilding the intersection, will send water north on Birdwell Lane with two slight dips on each side on Eleventh Place.

Meetings Slated

Three committee meetings will be held at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday at 10 a.m. members of the agricultural committee will meet and at 2 p.m. the retail committee will hold its session.

The meeting of the cultural affairs committee will take place at 5:15 p.m.

Eidinoff Again Seeks Release From Hospital

RUSK, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Harold Eidinoff charged with killing lawyer Ted Andrew in the crowded El Paso airport in 1959, seeks again today his release from the hospital for the criminally insane.

A sanity hearing here last December resulted in a hung jury.

The El Paso physician now contends he is sane and should be released.

A jury at Lubbock found Eidinoff, now 33, insane when he shot Andrew to death on Jan. 28, 1959. Because of the verdict, Eidinoff cannot be tried under Texas law on a charge of murder.

The shooting climaxed a five-year feud that involved the display of nude photographs of Eidinoff and his first wife in a divorce suit. Andrew represented a group of lawyers who sued the doctor for the legal fees in the divorce suit. The lawyer also won an $80,000 libel suit from Eidinoff.

At the Lubbock trial prosecutors contended Eidinoff had insanity and even selected a type paranoiac which would permit him to go about his business normally.

The defense denied the contention, claiming that paranoia is not curable and that if a person were going to take insanity he would choose a type that could be cured.

Barbecue Slated For A&M Students

An informal barbecue for all Texas A&M students who soon will be returning to school is to be held at the City Park Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Members of the Big Spring A&M Club are sponsors of the affair, held annually as a "back-to-campus" affair. It is a family meal, and all A&M people, their wives and children are invited.

Derailment Kills 2, Cause Is Sought

WATSEKA, Ill. (AP) — Authorities searched today for the cause of a three-car derailment of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Dixie Flyer which killed two persons.

A steam and two coaches at the rear of the Florida-bound train carrying 91 passengers left the tracks on Monday and bounded along the tracks for two or three blocks.

The CA&I's main line was cleared late Sunday. The derailment occurred at nearby Patwood about 70 miles south of Chicago.

U.S. Test Leaves Belt Of Radiation

BOULDER Colo. (AP)—A new and perhaps menacing radiation belt is in the atmosphere around the earth — put there, scientists say, by a United States high-altitude nuclear test blast last July. Little is known of the new belt except:

1. It could imperil astronauts in future space flights, and hence might cause the United States to delay its Project Mercury program.
2. It emits radio frequency signals and therefore may interfere with some radio astronomy.

The presence of the radiation belt, 600 miles and higher above the earth, was disclosed by Dr. James Warwick of the University of Colorado's high-altitude observatory, in a copyright article by science writer Victor Cohn of the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune.

Dr. Warwick's comments were substantiated by Dr. James A. Van Allen who in 1958 discovered the principal radiation belt encircling the earth.

The Colorado scientist said the effect of the Pacific high-altitude test blast last month was to greatly intensify the so-called Van Allen radiation ring.

The new ring, he said, consists of high-energy H-bomb electrons, invisible atomic particles, which follow the path of the earth's magnetic equator. The Minneapolis Tribune described the new radiation ring as probably a temporary layer under the inner part of the Van Allen belt.

"By temporary," said Dr. Warwick, "I mean possibly months or it may mean five years. We are maintaining constant observation, and I hope that by Sept. 1 we may have more information."

At Southampton, N.Y., where he is vacationing, Dr. Van Allen said the new belt has "increased the potential danger for manned space flights," but detailed explanation is needed before the effects on the Project Mercury flights can be determined.

"I don't want to prejudice the data," Dr. Van Allen said, "but the radiation is a matter of concern and it is conceivable that Mercury flights might have to be delayed."

Van Allen said the situation conceivably could lead also to delay in similar flights by Russians.

Variations of the Van Allen belt's radiation have been studied for a year with the help of a satellite called Injun, launched for scientific purposes on June 29, 1959.

Dr. Van Allen said previous Soviet nuclear blasts had not affected the radiation belt.

Dying Fisherman Claims He Was Attacked By Shark

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—A dying fisherman with a mangled right leg said Sunday he was attacked by a shark while fishing in the Gulf of Mexico.

Dr. Hockaday said Fix was in shock but managed to tell how he "fought the shark with his fishing rod."

The physician said he felt there was no doubt Fix was attacked by a shark. He said Fix was bitten at least three times on the leg and death was due to loss of blood.

Dr. Hockaday said that while surf fishing, Fix probably carried a stringer of fish attached to his belt that dripped blood into the water and attracted the shark.

It is common for sharks to steal fish off stringers from boats and piers.

Dr. Hockaday expressed doubt that a barracuda might have attacked Fix. Noting the attack occurred in waist-deep water, he said barracuda are not known to swim that close to shore.

Good Product A Standby Of Cactus Paint

Cactus Paint Company had its beginning during an era when it was not easy for a small, home-owned firm to get started in business. Its steady growth and rapid increase in production can be traced to one thing - an excellent product made especially for use in western climate.

From a partnership formed by E. B. McCormick and Bill Jackson at the old Big Spring Air Force Base, the operations soon grew large enough to need a new plant which is the present location on US 80 near Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

There over 250 basic materials used in the manufacture of the different top grade paints produced by Cactus. Some of these raw materials are obtained from the Cosden refinery while others are purchased indirectly from all over the world.

Gene Campbell, vice president and general manager of the company, believes that since paint is a perishable commodity, it is better to manufacture it near the selling market. With this in mind, Tony Bozich, research chemist for the firm, has concentrated on developing a paint that he believes will serve customers in this area better than any other. He guides the development of Cactus products through series of tests to determine what additives or processes es will give longer life and brighter colors to their paints.

Cactus markets its products in an area approximately 300 miles in each direction from Big Spring. Many local and area contractors use their paint exclusively in residential and business construction because it can stand the stress of constant sun and dry, dusty air.

Last year, Cactus sold 200,000 gallons of paint and has produced almost three million gallons since being in operation. Cactus makes some specialty items that are marketed in the East and sells many other items related to painting.

The Cactus paints come in all standard colors which are pre-mixed. Varying shades can be

BS Hardware Appliances Are 'Top Names'

Of all the various appliances sold by Big Spring Hardware Company there is not an "off" brand in the store. The lines of big appliances (the ones that represent a major investment for the home) are all well-known brands that have been on the market for many years.

Rueben Trantham, appliance department manager, says that the store displays its merchandise with pride and with confidence that it will perform as advertised. There is no doubt about the warranties given by leading manufacturers and Big Spring Hardware stresses this fact.

The two home washers sold by the store are both famous for quality and dependability. Maytag provides research-proven correct speeds, temperatures and water levels, regardless of the make-up of your wash load. It's all done with one button automatic washing. The Maytag dryer features electronic "fingers" that feel the moisture in the tumbling clothes so that action is stopped without "baking" the material. A Maytag washer-dryer combination uses only 34 spacesaving inches.

The other popular washer is made by Kelvinator, the company that also supplies Big Spring Hardware with refrigerators, freezers, dryers, and ranges.

Both free standing electric and built-in ranges are made by Kelvinator and Tappan. For customers needing a gas cooking appliance, there is the fine Caloric range, called "America's easiest range to keep clean." If you are color-inclined, you have a choice of several glamorous hues in all three.

Displayed in the home entertainment area of the appliance department are radios, stereo sets and TV made by Zenith. With 44 years of specialization in electronics, Zenith is still producing handcrafted chassis with no printed circuits and no production shortcuts. It costs more to hardware and hand solder every connection in Zenith TV's and radios but the makers know that it assures much fewer service repair bills for the customer in years to come.

Trantham explained that with the new "Space Command" unit, over a million users "use Zenith TV from their easy chairs. With no wire, cords or batteries to fool with, there is nothing between you and the set but space. The Zenith people produce both color and black and white TV's, battery and transistor radios and hi-fidelity record playing instruments.

All items purchased at Big Spring Hardware may be bought on a budget plan with as low as $10 down and up to 36 months to pay the balance.

New Honor Comes To Fighting Editor

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP)—New honor came today to an 85-year-old fighting California newspaperman—already twice honored for distinguished journalism since he challenged, last year, the activities of the John Birch Society, a militantly conservative group.

A committee, including noted newspapermen, now has named Santa Barbara publisher Thomas More Storke to be the 1962 recipient of an award given yearly by Colby College in memory of an alumnus, martyred editor Elijah Parish Lovejoy.

When shot to death in Alton, Ill. Nov. 7, 1837, Lovejoy was defending—against a mob—his newspaper plant and his right to publish truth as he saw it. He has been hailed as "America's first martyr to the freedom of the press."

The award, to be presented Nov. 8 at Colby's observance of the 125th anniversary of Lovejoy's slaying, will recognize Storke as a newspaperman of "integrity, craftsmanship and character," who has continued the Lovejoy heritage of fearlessness and freedom.

MOST OF LIFE
Owner-editor of the Santa Barbara News-Press, Storke is dean of California publishers, having given 61 of his 85 years to running his newspaper.

The Colby College announcement noted that Storke last November received the Lauterbach Award given each year to an American newsmen for outstanding work in the field of civil liberties. He was cited for "pointing out the dangers to American freedom created by extremists of the radical right."

In May this year, the Colby announcement also noted he received the Pulitzer Prize for editorial writing—for calling attention to what his newspaper said was a "campaign of hate and vilification" by the John Birch Society.

DISCOVERED BY
The ruddy-faced Tom Storke includes in his ancestry Spanish Lieutenant Jose Francisco de Ortega, who discovered San Francisco Bay and the Golden Gate in 1769. Storke went to work as a $6-a-week cub reporter in 1898 in his native seaside city. Three years later, with $2,000 he borrowed from a druggist, he bought the Santa Barbara Daily Independent.

Storke's News-Press, a daily of more than 31,000 circulation is the lineal descendant of the little "Independent" and other newspapers Storke acquired.

Stalinists Get Boot From Hungary's Reds

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Matyas Rakosi, Hungary's former dictator, and 24 of his Stalinist followers have been booted from the Communist party in a purge of the purgers. Karolyi Kiss, regarded as the leading Stalinist still in an important position in Hungary, also was demoted from the ruling Politburo.

The new purge was announced in a communique Sunday following a four-day meeting of the party's Central Committee. Janos Kadar, the party chief and premier who was jangled in one of Rakosi's purges, presided.

The expulsions from the party were ordered six years after the 1956 Hungarian revolt threatened to topple the Communist regime which Rakosi established with his boasted salami slicing tactics.

Expelled from the party along with Rakosi, 70 was Ernoe Geroc, 63, who succeeded him as the country's boss. During the 1956 revolt, Geroc followed his former chief into exile in the Soviet Union. He was allowed to return to Hungary last year but was barred from political activity.

Rakosi is believed still to be in the Soviet Union. He is reported in poor health.

Smallpox Scare Brings Wide Search

NEW YORK (AP)—Health officials of two nations worked against an awesome deadline today to find and vaccinate all persons who may have come in contact with a young Canadian smallpox victim.

The stricken boy, James William Orr, 14, flew here from Sao Paulo, Brazil, Aug. 11 on a plane with more than 80 other persons, including his parents and a brother and sister.

He passed through Idlewild Airport, traveled by cab to Grand Central Terminal and sat in the huge station's waiting room for 8½ hours before boarding a train for Toronto.

In Toronto the boy, described by his missionary father as feeling "under the weather," was taken to a doctor and eventually to a Canadian hospital.

Canadian authorities said the boy's illness was virtually certain to be smallpox, although confirming tests were still to be made. U.S. Public Health Service officials said there was no doubt.

It was the first confirmed case of smallpox in the United States since 1947, they said.

The development left New York City with the staggering task of running down all who may have come in contact with the boy here—including those who handled his baggage at the airport, the cab driver who drove the family to the city and those few from among the thousands of unknowns at Grand Central Terminal who may have touched or passed near the boy in the waiting room.

The city health department set up 12 vaccination centers in Manhattan and the Bronx, while issuing a call for all those who may have come in contact with the boy to step forward without delay.

Smallpox is a highly communicable disease that can be fatal if unchecked.

While the city vaccinated more than 300 persons at its centers Sunday, the U.S. Public Health Service gave vaccinations to more than 400 others at Idlewild Airport.

Centers in the city and at the airport were put on a round-the-clock schedule, while officials tried to hunt down the cab driver who transported the Orr family.

The father, who first described the driver as a Negro, later said he was white with a dark complexion and a foreign accent.

There are about 12,400 cabs in New York City with some 40,000 drivers.

Aerolineas Argentinas provided a passenger list of its Flight 322 from Brazil, and efforts were being made to track down each passenger. Some have scattered to far places.

More difficult still is the task of finding the boy's fellow train passengers on the trip to Canada. The father says the family remained in its coach during the journey.

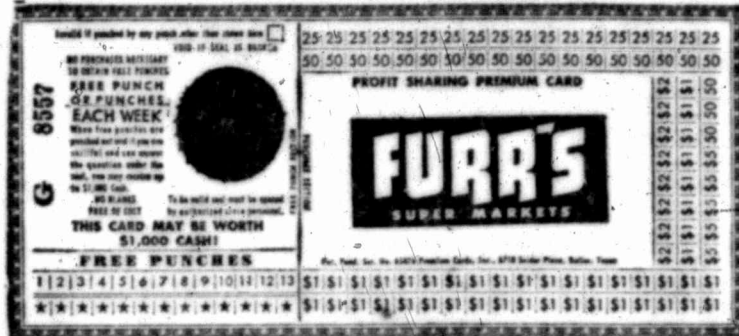

Most difficult of all is the task of finding those who were in the Grand Central Terminal waiting room with the boy. Here the chief weapon has been publicity, with the city health department repeatedly requesting through newspapers and on the air that all persons in doubt step forward and be vaccinated.

Most persons are vaccinated against smallpox as children, but such immunity generally can last no more than five years.

Wife's Safe

Robert Finkbine flashes a smile in Stockholm's Caroline Hospital after hearing of the successful outcome of a legal abortion performed on his wife, Sherri. Finkbine waited at the Swedish hospital during the operation which requested because Mrs. Finkbine had taken the drug thalidomide, blamed for baby deformities. Finkbine said doctors told him the operation reversed the drug had effects on the unborn child.

Couple Marries Here In Afternoon Rites

Miss Margaret Jane Merrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Merrill, 611 Linda Lane, and Jack Glynn Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis, 605 Elgin, exchanged marriage vows Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. The double ring service was read by T. H. Tarbet, minister of the Highway 80 Church of Christ.

Given by her father in marriage, the bride wore a princess day dress of white lace over satin, fashioned with fitted bodice which extended into points at the waistline, front and back, boat neckline and long, petal point sleeves. The soft folds of the gathered skirt were scalloped at the hemline. A veil of silk illusion was secured by a white pearl-encrusted princess crown and the bridal bouquet, carried with a white Bible, was a white orchid centering feathered carnations.

Miss Andrea Lynn Askins, maid of honor, was attired in blue with white accessories, including a white wisp veil hat. She carried white feathered carnations. The bridegroom was attended by Rufus Don Rowland, best man. A reception followed the ceremony, prior to the couple's departure on a wedding trip. Guests were served in the dining room, where a refreshment table featured the bride's colors, blue and white. Bride and groom figurines in a heart-shaped bridal arch crowned the two-tiered cake, frosted white and embossed with blue roses.

Mrs. Robert E. Stout, aunt of the bride, Coahoma, and Miss Louise Eysen were members of the house party. The bride chose to wear a white and orange silk jersey dress, white accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet for travel to McPherson, Kan., where her husband is employed with Brown and Root Const. Co.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Debbie Reynolds Gives Post-Natal Exercises

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—Entirely. Note: Lydia Lane invites your letter, but regrets that a personal answer cannot be given. From time to time she will answer beauty problems in her column. If you would like your question and answer to appear in this space, write to Lydia Lane, Questions and Answers, Big Spring Herald.

Q—Will you please tell me what their figures look like after having a baby? I am 22, pregnant and would like to keep a small size. (Mrs. T. T. W. Superior, Wash.)

A—Debbie Reynolds, who is presently expecting and who has two children, says: "If you are looking for excuses you can find them, but if you really want to keep a youthful figure, you can begin doing exercises while I'm still in the hospital. I raise my arms and spread them apart and bring them up and down to my sides. I bend my knees, bringing them toward my chest and roll back and forth. Several times a day I do breathing exercises—inhaling until my stomach is flat, holding my breath and exhaling. Later, with the approval of my doctor, I lie on the floor and do the same routine. When you start working right away—as soon as the baby is born—your muscles will snap back to normal.

Q—I am a secretary with an eight-hour job, but I read in the fun magazine that some movie stars work 12 hours. I wish you would tell me what they do to keep relaxed. I have tension in my neck and shoulders. What can I do? (D. D. Sacramento, Calif.)

A—Janet Blair says: "I can feel a release in my neck and shoulders after this routine. It has helped me more than anything. Place one foot comfortably at a short distance from the other. Extend your right arm forward and slightly to right and your left arm back with a straight elbow. Have palms of both hands turned downward."

Q—Believe it or not, my problem is how to gain weight. I am overworked and I have no appetite. Can you help me? (Sally B. Seattle, Wash.)

A—Jan Harrison found her TV series so strenuous that the only way she could keep from losing weight was to drink this shake between meals: Two tablespoons of malt, two tablespoons of peanut oil, one tablespoon of health store honey—as dark as possible—and eight ounces of milk and two eggs. Put in blender or beat well with an egg beater. If you want a variety of flavor, you can add chocolate syrup or frozen strawberries.

Q—What can be done about veins that have become enlarged and show in your legs? I am troubled with this and I'm only 17 years old. Worried!

A—This is a problem that you should see your doctor about. Sometimes it requires an operation, if the veins have become quite enlarged. Some cases have been treated by injections which help shrink or tighten the walls of the blood vessels. If your legs show tiny red lines broken capillaries, you can make them less conspicuous by covering them with make-up. However, I suggest you talk to your family doctor.

Q—I used to be very fat. Now I intend to watch my weight and reduce as soon as I find I'm two or three pounds overweight. Could you tell me a blitz diet for just a few days of reducing? (Polly B. Philadelphia, Pa.)

A—Liliane Montevicchi says: "I pay for my excesses with a diet that lets me lose three or four pounds in two days. I have six eggs a day—two for breakfast, two for lunch and two for dinner. I can make a nice scrambled egg with water. I have a half grapefruit for breakfast and half a grapefruit for dinner. I have sliced tomatoes for lunch. Hard-boiled eggs are more filling, so I usually have them boiled for breakfast and dinner. I have three glasses of skim milk fortified with powdered milk whenever I feel hungry. It's filling and doesn't let me gain weight."

REGAIN YOUR FIGURE
Don't delay in getting your figure back after the baby is born. You'll find it easy if you get to work right away. Let Leaflet M-9, "Exercises After Childbirth," help you. For your copy, send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

Stays Slim After Childbirth

Debbie Reynolds, who is the mother of two children and expecting her third, says that there are always excuses for not losing excess weight after childbirth. She feels that motherhood is no reason for having a matronly figure, so she begins exercising prior to leaving the hospital after childbirth.

Braceros May Lose Jobs In Cost Squeeze

LAMESA (SC) — Many employers of bracero labor in Dawson County have indicated they will not seek the Mexican farm workers this fall. The financial loss risk caused by the increased guaranteed hourly wage of 70 cents, up 20 cents from last year, is cited as the reason. Most of the Dawson County gin owners or operators, who used an estimated 15,000 braceros last year, individually have decided that they cannot afford the risk and will not contract braceros. Some ginners, however, have placed orders for farm workers. The ginners point to the initial $49.50 cost of obtaining and equipping the bracero, an increase of $12 from last year. Owners here contend that all gins in the county lost from $10,000 to $20,000 on braceros alone in 1961. As an example, one gin owner pointed out that if the prevailing wage was $1.65 a hundredweight and a worker pulled 200 pounds in an 8-hour period, he would earn $3.30. However, under the guaranteed wage, he would be entitled to $5.60 for the same period, and the producer would have to make up the difference.

Union Faces Bias Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — A labor union is about to be charged for the first time in the 27-year history of the National Labor Relations Act with racial discrimination in refusing to process a Negro worker's grievance. Stuart Rothman, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, announced today he has authorized the Houston, Texas, NLRB office to issue a formal complaint based on charges brought by a Negro worker employed at the Hughes Tool Co., Houston. Rothman said the complaint will be lodged against Local 1, Independent Metal Workers Union, an unaffiliated union. He said Local 1 is made up of white employees while Local 2 is composed of Negro employees. The two locals are the joint bargaining agent for Hughes Tool Co. employees. The basis of the complaint, Rothman said, is that Local 1 has refused to process a grievance in behalf of Ivory M. Davis, a metal handler employed by Hughes since 1942 and treasurer of Local No. 2. Davis complained the company refused to consider his application for the company apprenticeship program to train for the better-paying job of machinist and toolmaker. Davis charges that Local 1 has refused to represent him.

Brown Completes Auction School

Fred E. Brown, Clyde has just returned from Kansas City, Mo., where he successfully completed the course in auctioneering and auction sales management at the Missouri Auction School. Brown was born in Cross Plains and has lived in Clyde for one year. He is married, and a graduate of Cross Plains High School. He also attended Abilene Christian College. Before moving to Clyde he lived in Odesa for four years, where he was employed at a barber shop. He is employed by a life insurance company.

Knapp Promoted On Lamesa Paper

LAMESA (SC) — Dave Knapp, city editor for the past three years, has been named editor of the Lamesa Daily Reporter by Lowell P. Hunt, publisher. Knapp succeeds O. G. Nieman, who has been transferred to Brownfield to become editor of the Brownfield News, also published by Hunt. Nieman has been editor here for four years. Knapp is a director of the Lamesa Jaycees, a member of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce and the West Texas Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society, and former member of the West Virginia Association of Journalism Directors. He is married and the father of six children.

Long Cab Ride Testing Tires

Billed as the "longest cab ride in history," one of two taxicabs testing Riverside tires will pull up at Montgomery Ward store here Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. Riding on tires that were selected at random from open retail stock, the cab has been rolling five days a week since leaving Detroit, Mich., on May 26. The Ward's store here will give a Riverside St 107 tire to the person guessing closest to the taxicab charges accumulated on the meter. An observer of the United States Auto Club is riding with the driver to certify that all rules of the test for tire durability are observed. Both cabs will keep going until the tires are smooth. The test is an extension of those conducted last year on the Lancaster, Calif., track when the tires outlasted four other leading brands, said company officials.

Development Group To Meet Tuesday

The Big Spring Downtown Development Committee will hold a dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Settles Hotel. Members will summarize past developments and bring to the committee several new topics for discussion and decisions. A luncheon meeting of the group is planned at the Settles Hotel for Sept. 12. At this meeting visitors from Abilene will speak to the group on the program used in promoting downtown development in that city.

Fatal Crash

Three members of a Dawson County family were killed Saturday afternoon in this car-truck collision on US 87, five miles south of Lamesa. One other member of the family was critically injured and two were less seriously injured. Dead were Trinidad Contreras, his 4-year-old son, Gonzalo, and his one-year-old daughter, Adelaida. His wife was seriously injured, while a daughter 3; and a son, 2, are in fair condition. Driver of the transport truck carrying 8,000 gallons of gasoline, Jesse Fulcher of Big Spring, received only minor injuries.

Hurricanes, By Any Other Name, Are Just As Gusty

By KAY LOVELAND
Why do they pick on women when it comes to naming hurricanes?

This question bothers me every year as the season for storms rolls around, and that past explanation that a hurricane is like a woman scorned somehow leaves me flat.

Now comes a packet from the United States Air Force Air Weather Service which clears the air on hurricane information.

Girls' names in written as well as in spoken communications are shorter, quicker and less subject to be mistaken for something else than are the older and more cumbersome latitude-longitude identifications methods. These advantages are of course especially important in exchanging detailed storm information between hundreds of widely scattered stations, airports, coastal bases and ships at sea. In addition, the use of easily remembered names greatly reduces confusion when two or more tropical storms occur at the same time.

been used, they are repeated. If a major hurricane seriously affects the United States, the name assigned to it is "retired" for 10 years and another name is substituted in the list.

The list of names for 1962 is Alma, Becky, Celia, Daisy, Ella, Flossy, Greta, Hallie, Inez, Judith, Kendra, Lois, Marsha, Neleen, Orpha, Patty, Rena, Sherry, Thora, Vicky and Wilna. It is likely that the entire list will not be used, but regardless of this, in 1963 a completely new list will be employed. The Pacific has a different set of girls' names for the central and northwestern parts and for the northeastern regions, and unlike the Atlantic each entire list is used before a new one is started. In other words, the first name used each year is the name following that last used the preceding year.

LETTERS TO ADJECTIVES
Many suggestions for naming hurricanes have been made over the years. Among them have been the designation of the storms by numbers, by English letters, by Greek letters, by boys' names, by the phonetic alphabet used by military services during World War II, by the names of animals, or by descriptive adjectives such as annoying, blustery, etc., or by mythological or historical characters.

Some facts about hurricanes. A hurricane is a tropical cyclone accompanied by winds of 74 miles per hour or higher. It forms over the tropical areas of the Atlantic Ocean, the Caribbean Sea, the Gulf of Mexico, the eastern North Pacific and the south Pacific Oceans. Storms of the same type are called typhoons in the western North Pacific, baguinas in the Philippines, willywills in western Australia and simply cyclones in the Bay of Bengal and India Ocean.

Tropical cyclones may not reach hurricane intensity, and they are called tropical storms when the highest winds are from 39 to 73 miles per hour, and tropical depressions when the highest winds are under 39 miles per hour.

AUGUST BAD MONTH
North Atlantic hurricanes occur most frequently during August, September and October. They originate in various regions according to the time of the year. During May and June most storms originate in the Gulf of Mexico and western Caribbean. In July and August the areas of most frequent origin shift eastward and by September are located over the large area from the Bahamas to the Lesser Antilles and the Cape Verde Islands. After mid-September the principal areas of origin shift back to the Gulf of Mexico and western Caribbean.

Maximum intensity in a hurricane is not definitely known, but there is good evidence from structural damage that wind speeds of more than 200 m.p.h. have occurred. Most often the strongest winds near the center of the storm reach a sustained speed of 75 to 100 m.p.h. and occasionally rise to 125 or 150 m.p.h. with still higher gusts.

In the tropics, the entire storm moves forward slowly, usually less than 15 m.p.h. It may even remain stationary for a short time while the winds blow at high speeds around the center. As hurricanes move northward the forward speed generally increases, reaching 40 m.p.h. or higher in many cases above 40 degrees north latitude.

FOUR AT A TIME
The average annual frequency of North Atlantic hurricanes for the past 30 years has been five. This increased to seven per year, in the last 10 years. The greatest number of hurricanes during any calendar year was 11 in 1916 and in 1950, while no hurricanes were observed in 1907 and 1914. In 1950 four hurricanes were in progress at the same time in the North Atlantic area, including the Caribbean Sea and the Gulf of Mexico.

The United States Weather Bureau labels winds below hurricane force as light (7-17 m.p.h.), gentle (8-12), moderate (13-18), fresh (19-24), strong (25-38), gale (39-54) and whole gale (55-74).

Patman Calls For Action On Foundations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., said today the time has come for Congress to consider ways to control tax-exempt foundations.

He said in a speech prepared for delivery to the House that the foundations have reached "massive undreamed-of proportions." He added that some have assumed functions wholly foreign to the object for which they were granted tax exemption and, in his opinion, at variance with the public interest.

Patman, who is chairman of the House Small Business Committee, issued Saturday the second part of an interim staff study of tax-exempt foundations.

The report is based on a study of 324 large and small foundations out of the more than 45,000 in existence. Patman said net worth of the 324 foundations in 1960 was nearly $10 billion, 23 per cent more than the capital funds of the nation's 50 largest commercial banks.

In his speech Patman singled out for special mention the Ford Foundation and one established by Howard Hughes.

He charged that heirs of Edsel Ford, who died in 1943, used the Ford Foundation to save family control of the auto firm.

Patman said the Howard Hughes Medical Institute of Miami Beach, Fla., has a complicated relationship with Hughes Tool Co. and Hughes Aircraft Co.

He claimed that the institute has $3.3 million in untaxed earnings and that the tool company has saved more than $1 million in taxes by claiming a $2-million charity deduction.

ON THE SHELF

By The Associated Press
JEENEY RAY, By Iris Dornfeld, Viking, $3.50.

The subject of this story is unusual. Its depiction is accomplished with extraordinary skill. The effect is powerful.

Jeeney Ray is an adolescent girl who lives among the ignorant hill people of rural California. She has a physical disability which no one understands. She was slow to walk and still walks with difficulty. She was slow to talk and still talks with difficulty.

In her ignorant surroundings, it is assumed that she is a halfwit. Her grandmother—who dies just as this story is opening—knew better. That leaves only her brother Zeke, who was ashamed of her odd behavior and filled with guilty, rough feelings because of the shame. And there was Zeldia, his wife, who had a warm heart but did not understand.

Jeeney Ray had one terrifying experience with school and there after could not go back. She became what you might call a "child of nature." But to satisfy Zeke's blind desires, she was out to work as a chambermaid in a sordid, cheap hotel for railroaders and truckers, inhabited by bizarre characters.

All this while there is Jeeney Ray's anguished cry: "If I am a half-wit, what am I?" The reader will make a good guess as to her disabilities, but the awful and awesome tension in this story is whether she will learn her own nature.

The author tells the story through the thoughts of this unschooled and tormented girl. But unschooled thoughts would not convey the poignancy and impact of the girl's dilemma. So the author has sublimated her expressions into a poetic and oddly phrased imagery. It is a risky literary technique, this sublimation, but it is carried off beautifully.

For readers with understanding, this is an exotically flavored expedition into the shadowy and tender nuances of the human spirit. It sings.

THE FIRST MOVE in tic-tac-toe gets you started—but that's all. Skill and experience in the moves that follow decide the winner. It's the same in advertising. Your first move is to develop a strong sales story and express it in a good ad. Nice start. Next...get that ad before a large audience of ready-to-buy prospects. Skilled, experienced advertising men know they can do that best in the pages of the daily newspaper.

Four out of five adults read a daily newspaper on any given weekday, and each reader picks up and looks through his paper not just once, but an average of 2.4 times.* That means more sales messages delivered...more action per message. The next move is yours. Why not score with the daily newspaper?
