Ginner Brings In First Bale

Cecil Long, right, of the Lomax Community, gets a premium check of $500 from Wesley Deats, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee, for Howard County's first bale of cotton for 1962. At left is Lindell Newton, asstant manager of the Co-op Gin, and John Currie, State National Bank. The 473-pound bale was estimated as middling grade and had fifteen-sixteenths-inch staple.

Wide Areas Get Rain

More showers sprinkled broad areas of the nation today in the wake of thundershowers and another day of hot and humid weather in many sections.

Showers covered areas across the north-central upper Mississippi Valley west, southwestward to the western high plains and from the central plains west and southwest through the central and southern Rocky Mountains region into the southern plateau.

Another belt of showers extended through the central and southern and southern Atlantic coastal states with heaviest amounts along the immediate coast. A thundershower hit Miami late Tuesday night.

Soviets Abolish Berlin Commandant's Office

Dick Dennis Suffers Bullet Wound In Head

Dick H. Dennis, 70, a Big Spring carpenter, continues in critical condition in Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital with a bullet wound in his head.

Dennis shot through the head with a .22 calibre rifle was found sprawled in the front seat of his car shortly after 1 p.m. Tuesday in a cotton field on the Lee Hanson farm.

The bullet entered his head in the right temple and emerged near the hairline, toward the upper part of the skull on the left. He was unconscious when found and it was estimated by doctors and investigating officers that two hours had elapsed since the shot was fired.

The cotton field is in Martin County, about two miles west of the Howard County line. The shooting was investigated by Dan Saunders, sheriff of Martin County, Deputy Sheriff Fern Cox, Big Spring Bobby West, investigator for the district attorney's office, and Clarence Airhart, Martin County deputy.

The wounded man was found by Rodney Feaster, 12-year-old son of Lonnie Feaster, who farms the land for Hanson.

Rodney had started to the mailbox and saw the car standing in the cotton field. It was nearly a mile from the nearest house.

He investigated and discovered the wounded man.

He informed his father, then Feaster and Hanson brought Dennis to Big Spring.

Saunders said there was no note or other clue to the shooting. The rifle was beside the body with one empty shell in the magazine.

Officers were told that Dennis lived alone in the 1700 block of Lancaster. His wife died two years ago.

He has one son whose home is in San Angelo.

Associates said that the man had been depressed since the death of Mrs. Dennis.

Functions Given To Russian Headquarters In E. Germany

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet Union summarily abolished its commandant's office in Berlin today and told the Western Allies henceforth they must deal with the Soviet military command in East Germany.

The move, coming at a time of rising tension in the divided city, was apparently a new step in the Soviet campaign to oust Western garrisons. The decision appeared intended to support the Soviet claim of East German Communist sovereignty in matters concerning Berlin except in strictly four-power military affairs.

There was no immediate comment from Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the American commandant.

The announcement came two hours after U.S. Military Police at Checkpoint Charlie held up three Soviet armored cars for 45 minutes at the border crossing point. A hassle developed as the Russians insisted they did not want an escort despite recent stonings of Red army buses carrying sentries to the Soviet war memorial in the British sector.

The Soviet cars finally went through, accompanied by an American military escort.

The Soviet announcement said the Western powers have used the existence of the Soviet commandant's office as an excuse to interfere in internal affairs of East Germany.

The announcement declared the Western powers are resorting to such measures in order to preserve the occupation regime in West Berlin as a cover for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization military base.

The Russians said matters taken up by the Soviet commandant, such as movement of supplies for the Western garrisons and movement of troops in and out of West Berlin, are "temporarily within the jurisdiction of the headquarters of the group of Soviet troops in Germany."

That meant that even the arrangement was subject to change. Sir Christopher Steel, head of the British military government in Berlin, said the abolition of the Soviet commandant appears to have no great political implications. But he said he wanted to know more before commenting further.

In the incident at Checkpoint Charlie today, a U.S. jeep pulled out of a doorway and blocked the path of the three Soviet armored cars.

At first, the Russians refused to get out of their olive drab cars, marked with the red star. Then two Soviet officers emerged and talked with a U.S. major.

The Russians have repeatedly rejected escorts while traveling in West Berlin despite the stoning by West Berlin demonstrators. They switched from buses to armored cars.

Earlier, East German border guards and West Berlin police fought with rocks and tear gas grenades across the Communist wall.

West police said the new clash erupted when the Red guards opened up with a rock barrage. They were driven back with tear gas grenades. No injuries were reported on either side.

The flareup came near Bernauer Strasse, scene of many daring escapes since the Communists built the barrier dividing the city.

During the night West police rounded up 126 persons for identity checks in a hunt for Communist agents. The Western commandants have charged Red agents were fanning the demonstrations in West Berlin. All were released.

Heavy rains cleared the streets of West Berlin demonstrators during the night.

The Soviet war memorial sentries—stoned for three nights in a row—went to their posts in armored cars Tuesday night.

Showing no arms, the three Soviet armored cars and a Soviet staff car made the trip from Checkpoint Charlie to the Soviet War Memorial two miles away and back without incident.

American military police and West Berlin motorcycle policemen tailed the Soviet convoy while it was in West Berlin.

The Soviet switch from buses to less comfortable but safer armored vehicles came a night after a Russian soldier was bloodied in a bus stoning during the most violent outburst in West Berlin since the Communists began building their wall through the divided city a year ago.

Psychiatrist In Eidinoff Case To Take Stand Again

RUSK, Tex. (AP)—R. J. Bennett, an El Paso psychiatrist, faced cross-examination today in the bid of Dr. Harold Eidinoff to gain release from a mental institution.

Bennett testified Tuesday after Eidinoff, 33, reviewed the 1959 shooting in which he killed lawyer Ted Andress at the El Paso airport.

Eidinoff maintains he now is sane. Supt. Sam Hoester of the Austin State Hospital testified to the same effect.

Bennett said Eidinoff "is still suffering from paranoia and I feel that he should be hospitalized."

Eidinoff cannot be tried for murder because a Lubbock jury held he was insane at the time of the slaying.

The El Paso doctor gave the jury a long account of his relations with Andress, including the display of nude photographs in court and several legal battles.

Of the shooting, Eidinoff said he went to El Paso from Grants, N. M., checked into a motel and learned from newspapers that Andress was due back in El Paso by plane. He went to the airport.

"I just saw him standing there about 30 feet away," Eidinoff said. As far as he can recollect, he was fairly calm until he saw Mr. Andress. When I saw Mr. Andress, I just lost all reasoning. I went up to Mr. Andress and tapped him on the shoulder.

"I said, 'I understand you are going to shoot me on sight.' We just stood there facing each other. I took a pistol from my pocket and shot him. I remember throwing the pistol on the ground and walking away."

Eidinoff testified he lost a $102,000 libel suit to Andress and was advised by Percy Foreman, Houston lawyer, to leave El Paso as quickly as possible.

In talking about the nude pictures which have figured in his troubles, Eidinoff said there were two of him and one of his first wife taken during their 1937 honeymoon.

They were divorced and he married wife No. 2. In a divorce case 19 months later, his second wife gave the pictures to lawyers and they were used in court. The doctor said she found them in a trunk left by his first wife.

U.S. Hoping Ambulance To Cool Tempers

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. authorities hope stationing of an American ambulance near the Berlin wall will soothe West Berlin tempers without inflaming the East-West border situation.

Informed sources said today instructions on when and how to use the ambulance stress a humanitarian purpose.

Thus, the U.S. Army ambulance is not to enter Communist East Berlin to aid an escapee hit by Red bullets until it appears the Communists themselves will not go to his aid.

The vehicle will be unarmed. If the U.S. ambulance does pick up the injured person, it is supposed to take him to an East Berlin medical center if practical—not complete his escape by carrying him into West Berlin.

The announcement of the ambulance plan and a talk with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin by Secretary of State Dean Rusk were two high points Tuesday in intensified Allied discussions after the furor over last Friday's death of a young East German.

The youth was shot by Communist police as he attempted to flee to West Berlin and left to bleed to death on the Communist side of the wall.

The incident set off three nights of violent anti-Russian riots—and some outbursts against Americans—by angry West Berliners.

The demonstrations caused sharp concern in Washington. One U.S. official described the Berlin situation as dangerous and said the U.S. government sympathizes with the outrage of the West Berliners but also needs their help in solving Berlin wall problems in an orderly manner.

Rusk called in Dobrynin for a 20-minute conference and proposed again that the big power commandants in Berlin meet to work out ways to reduce dangerous incidents.

If the diplomatic move is successful, U.S. officials hope there will be no occasion to dispatch the ambulance through the wall. On the other hand, U.S. officials are considering countermeasures if the Communists prevent the ambulance from entering East Berlin.

Mrs. Jones will be buried near her husband, who died in 1956, and her son, M. Tilford Jones, who died last April 9.

Judge's Well Is Severed

AUSTIN, AP—The Railroad Commission issued an order Tuesday severing the pipeline connection of a well operated by Gregg County Judge Earl Sharp of Longview.

The action came after survey crews hired to test for crooked oil wells finished taking obstacles from the bore of the well.

The well was plugged in mid-June, despite commission orders against plugging wells.

District Railroad Commission supervisor Roy Payne of Kilgore told the attorney general's office the survey results on Sharp's well show it was deviated 30 degrees.

Government casualties totaled six killed and 14 wounded.

South Vietnamese Kill 166 Guerrillas

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Vietnamese troops today claimed 166 Red guerrillas were killed and 25 captured in their offensive to break the back of the Communist force in the Mekong River delta.

A communique clamped a major victory in what appeared the biggest battle of the civil war so far. A Viet Cong company commander was reported killed and a Red battalion dispersed in the fighting 125 miles southwest of Saigon.

Military sources said the government's 1st Airborne Battalion encountered a large concentration of Viet Cong guerrillas Tuesday night a few miles south of the operation's command post at Bac Lieu, in southern Ba Xuyen Province.

An estimated 300 guerrillas ambushed the government battalion after U.S. Marine helicopters had ferried the South Vietnamese troops into the area. The para-troops fought their way out of the ambush and chased the fleeing guerrillas through the flooded rice fields.

Legislative Leader Dies

AUSTIN (AP) — Read Granberry, 63, died Tuesday of a heart ailment after a long illness.

Granberry, 63, was parliamentarian for the House for 19 sessions dating back to 1915. He had been executive director of the Texas Legislative Council since 1956.

Granberry was one of our state's most outstanding public officials and educators. He made many lasting contributions to Texas during his long career with the University of Texas and the state government.

Speaker James Turman said Granberry's death "is a great personal loss to me as well as a great loss to the House of Representatives."

Granberry was the first man hired as assistant to the University of Texas president, Dr. H. H. Ransom, university chancellor, who said:

Prof. Granberry distinguished himself in service to the university and state. Granberry entered the legislature as a page in 1909. He was appointed parliamentarian, then a sort of secretarial post, in 1915.

Austin Area In Longest Dry Spell Since 1921

AUSTIN (AP) — This is the longest dry spell for the Austin area since 1921.

Three more days without rain and it will be the driest since 1921.

Other Central Texas spots are in the same shape. Teasing showers the past two weeks are all that keep a number of south central Rio Grande Valley and coastal points from joining the list.

Critical summer drought conditions dominated farm and ranch activities in most areas of the state as hot dry weather held on, said the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service Tuesday.

Moisture is needed over the entire state, however, drought conditions approaching the severity of a few years back, are the most pronounced in Central South and West Texas.

Acting state climatologist Olive Owens agrees that many areas are dry but says other points have received almost as much rain for the first half of this year as they would in a full normal year.

There has been seven consecutive weeks of no rain in central Texas but 12 consecutive weeks of showers in the Panhandle.

This may turn out to be the beginning of a serious drought but 1962 probably will not be a record drought year, Owens said.

New Soviet Test Blast Detected

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) — A new Soviet nuclear test explosion in the atmosphere was registered today by Uppsala University's Seismological Institution.

Uppsala scientists put the strength of the explosion at about nine megatons—equivalent to nine million tons of TNT. That would make it the No. 3 blast in size of the five explosions set off in the current Soviet series.

Grave Condition

LOVINGTON, N.M. (AP) — Robert Purdy, 29, of Lubbock, was reported in grave condition after a 36-foot fall down the side of a grain elevator Tuesday. A bar on which he was standing to paint the elevator, slank broke.

WHO GAVE US THE BIBLE?

Sometimes people claim that their church produced the Bible and give it to the world. Surely, if their church had produced the Bible they would have included in it somewhere the words of Jesus: "I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me." Bible such statements as: "And call on man your father upon the earth; for one is your Father, which is in heaven" (Matt. 23:9). Surely, no church which differs from the Bible, produced the Bible. In fact, the true church did not.

Ex-Senator Still Alive, Thank You

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gerald P. Nye, one-time senator from North Dakota, arose from the grave in which a magazine article prematurely buried him and gave notice today that:

1. He is alive and kicking.
2. He knows where a certain body is buried, or rather where a truly-dead ex-senator's ashes were strewn in the long ago in fact. Nye stressed them himself, under a tree on the Capitol grounds.

What brought Nye back from "The Great Beyond," was an article in the September issue of "Pageant" magazine entitled "The Only Man Buried on Capitol Hill." It is a heat-tugging tale about Henry Clay Hansbrough, a publisher-politician who helped "lame the West, a pen in one hand and a sixgun in the other." When North Dakota entered the Union, he became its first representative in Congress and from 1891 to 1909 was U.S. senator.

Although still tall and handsome and although his handle-bar mustache still glistened, the aged Hansbrough felt a premonition of the end in 1933. Visiting the office of his friend, Sen. Nye, he said he loved Washington and wanted to remain on Capitol Hill forever.

Pointing out a window, he said: "When I die I want you to bury my ashes under that elm tree."

Now Nye knew it was against the rules to bury anybody on the Capitol grounds. But for old friendship's sake he consented.

A short time later the old man died, and a box bearing his ashes arrived at Nye's office. According to the magazine article, Nye gathered a few friends and colleagues, proceeded to the tree and buried the box with a simple whispered prayer.

Versions of the incident leaked out, writes the author of the article, Edward Hymoff, but "Sen. Nye himself carried the secret to the grave with him. Today, no one—barring possible survivors of the burial ceremony—ever knows which elm tree the senator is buried under."

Nye, who is now 69 and a Federal Housing Administration specialist on housing for the elderly, got off a 1,500-word letter Tuesday to Howard Cohn, executive editor of Pageant. It wasn't a rough letter as Nye might have written back in the days when he was a firebrand isolationist whose Senate career, 1925-1944, stirred many a controversy.

In fact it was a mellow epistle datelined "Over here in the Great Beyond." Death must have been painless, he said, for he never noticed it. It could have been caused by those three wasps that stung him a while back in his garden.

But he wanted to set the record straight: he did not bury the box with Sen. Hansbrough's ashes with his own hand; he strewed them out of the box—a plain everyday shoebox.

For years thereafter, he wrote

"the ground covered by the scattering produced the greenest grass on Capitol Hill and, at the time of my last observation, before coming Over Here, the tree, feeding upon the ashes of Henry Clay Hansbrough, was the healthiest looking of all the neighboring trees."

In conclusion, Nye gave Pageant a description of life "Over Here." It is much like life on earth, he said—gardening, churchgoing, work.

"I even draw pay for my services as though it were not known that I had departed life," he said. "Many things are much the same as on earth, he said—including bills to pay and taxes, taxes, taxes."

Editor Cohn told a newsman he was deeply embarrassed. "I'm glad to hear Sen. Nye is alive," he said, "and if he's kicking it's with good reason."

Author Hymoff said he thought he had checked his article thoroughly but guessed he had checked some of it "in the wrong places."

Lightning Kills Texas Farmer

By The Associated Press
Lightning killed a farmer near Floresville while tornado funnels whirled overhead and drought-checking rain moistened other South Texas areas late Tuesday.

Searing summer heat eased off several degrees over the state. A few light showers fell early Wednesday in the Panhandle. Skies were clear to only partly cloudy elsewhere.

Lorenzo Marin, 63, had sought shelter from a thundershower under a tree just before lightning killed him on a farm two miles north of Floresville.

The shower brought 53 inch of rain at Floresville, first in 53 days.

State police reported one in a small flock of twisters over South Texas dived into a cotton field in Blumtritt, 10 miles north of Robstown.

Two funnel clouds appeared near Beeville, another close to Mathis and several in the Corpus Christi vicinity, but none touched. Lightning was blamed for two range fires near Junction. Firefighters from Junction, Menard and Rocksprings battled one

Compromise Or Extension For Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders apparently are going to have to choose between abandoning some major elements of President Kennedy's program or keeping Congress in session until October.

The betting on Capitol Hill is that several of the administration's pet measures are going to fall victim of the adjournment fever building up among candidates anxious to campaign in an election in which 39 Senate and all House seats will be filled.

Some of these candidates already are calling for action on a minimum of necessary legislation and an early quitting date. Almost nobody thinks there will be a post-election session.

PROGRAM OF 6 BILLS

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has laid down a program for Senate consideration of six bills. All concerned agreed the measures will keep the Senate busy until Sept. 15.

The six bills included a compromise farm measure which was expected to win Senate approval today. Behind this Mansfield listed measures dealing with drug controls, expanded compensation for disabled veterans, Philippine war damage claims, tax revision and international trade.

He decided to take up the controversial tax revision bill when it became apparent that the Finance Committee won't complete action on the trade measure until early September.

In the tax bill an administration provision for a 7 per cent credit on business plant investment is under heavy fire. There will be the usual futile efforts made to reduce the 27 1/2 per cent oil depletion allowance. Some senator may come up with an amendment for the immediate tax reduction Kennedy decided not to request.

AMENDMENTS

The trade bill is certain to attract a mountain of amendments and produce a hurricane of talk. Mansfield's schedule did not cover such House-passed bills as those dealing with postal rate increases and pay raises for postal and other federal employees. Nor did it include measures the House is expected to pass for extending federal unemployment compensation payments and to provide money for the foreign aid program.

The Democratic leader offered no timetable for possible action on an administration bill to provide a $300-million federal subsidy for mass transportation operations.

He said the senate won't move until the House does a measure Kennedy consistently has plugged to set up a youth conservation corp.

TIED UP

A bill to provide for higher education—about the only measure of its kind given any chance for passage in this Congress—still is tied up tightly in Senate-House disagreement over its terms.

The House has yet to act on a bill which would authorize Kennedy to initiate $500 million in public works of all kinds if an economic recession threatens.

It still has coming up its annual battle over foreign aid funds. There also will be noisy argument over a Senate-passed measure to authorize the purchase of U.S. bonds.

It still is undecided whether measures such as those covering drug controls and unemployment compensation will be passed.

Also pending is a Senate-passed proposal for a constitutional amendment to abolish state poll taxes.

Family Reunited Through Berlin Wall After 25 Years

DETROIT (AP) — A family whose efforts to reunite found a passage through Berlin's wall expects to meet here today after 25 years of anguished separation.

Margaret Reuter's dream—one she thought could never be—scheduled to come true at 6:15 p.m. when her mother steps down from a plane at Metropolitan Airport.

Helena Gruebnaue, 77, who hasn't seen her daughter in 25 years and never has met her five grandchildren, passed through a Berlin checkpoint into the West Tuesday.

She was one of the very few allowed to cross to West Berlin by East German authorities since they built the wall a year ago.

"I tell you, it's the answer to our prayers," said Mrs. Reuter whose home is in Grass Lake, a Jackson Mich. suburb.

"We've been hoping and praying for this and now it's really happened."

The release climaxed years of effort, helped in recent months by G. Vernon Leopold, a Detroit attorney who was once a refugee himself.

Leopold entered the case last May after the death of Mrs. Gruebnaue's husband, Jacob, in Mount Clemens, Mich. in Berlin to settle the estate. Leopold suggested she seek Mrs. Gruebnaue's release.

Leopold told his wife here by phone Tuesday that Mrs. Gruebnaue is "very relieved" to have made the passage.

"I'll bet she's really happy," said Mrs. Reuter. "I know I'm so very very happy. The children are just as excited as I am. They've never seen my mother. I'm so happy I could cry."

Mrs. Gruebnaue who lived in Michigan and Wisconsin from 1913 to 1937 "wanted to go back and see her people," her daughter explained.

"She just stayed too long," Mrs. Gruebnaue lived in West

Viet Nam War Called A Draw

NEW YORK (AP) — The administration's latest estimate of the war in South Viet Nam is that the United States-backed Vietnammese forces and the Communist guerrillas have fought to a temporary draw, the New York Times said today.

A Washington dispatch to the Times added that United States officials attributed a new Communist propaganda campaign in Asia to a stalling of the drive by the Viet Cong, Vietnamese Communist guerrillas supported by North Viet Nam.

The new propaganda line calls for a neutral peace zone in Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia, the story said.

Drought Hits North Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Cattlemen in parched north Mexico will face a critical situation if they don't get heavy rains within two weeks, the National Cattle Confederation reports.

President Octavio Ochoa said many ranches had enough water in their wells only for that length of time.

He said the affected area includes the states of Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, Tamaulipas, Chihuahua, Durango, Baja California and Sonora.

"If the needed rains don't come, only prompt action by the government to supply needed water from dams will prevent a crisis," Ochoa said.

Despite the warning of a possibly critical situation, Ochoa said reports so far of heavy losses of cattle because of drought appeared to be unfounded.

He said the confederation's information indicated "not more than a few hundred" had died.

Ochoa added, however, it was possible that a report from Sonora of the deaths of 5,000 cattle could be accurate. Sonora is one of Mexico's prime cattle raising states.

Warnings of an impending crisis came on the heels of word the government will allow more cattle to be exported this year. It has set a new yearly export figure of 1,317,000, an increase of 317,000 over last year.

To Speak

Capt. J. A. Nichola, commander of the Web-based Flight Facilities Section (Communications) will speak to members of the Big Spring Flying Club Sept. 10, in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Packed Rules Panel May Be Unpacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Rules Committee, packed last year to give liberals control, probably will be unpacked next year to put a conservative coalition back in the saddle. In his last big major legislative battle, the late Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas succeeded by a five-vote margin, 217 to 212, in increasing the committee's membership from 12 to 15 on Jan. 31, 1961.

The objective was to switch control from four Republicans and two Democrats to eight Democrats in general, the idea worked out successfully, with many bills clearing the committee by an 8-7 margin.

Before the enlargement, major bills often were stymied by a 6-6 deadlock.

The increase raised Democratic membership from 8 to 10 and Republican from 4 to 5. But two of the Democrats, Chairman Howard W. Smith of Virginia and Rep. William M. Colmer of Mississippi, often voted with the Republicans.

TACTIC SUPPORT

Rayburn had tacit support from the White House in the bitter fight to increase the membership.

Often overlooked is the official language of the resolution that brought about the change. It stipulated that the rules group should have 15 members only for the 87th Congress, which goes out of business next January.

Unless the battle is fought anew the committee will drop to 12 members in the Congress convening in January. The combination of four Republicans plus Smith and Colmer would be enough to prevent the six more liberal Democrats from mustering a majority vote needed to clear legislation for a House vote.

House leaders haven't decided whether to try next year to keep the committee at its present strength.

BAD ODDS

For several reasons the odds now appear to be against them. 1. Rayburn was able, when the chips were down, to line up some Southern votes which aren't likely to yield to the persuasion of the new speaker, John W. McCormack of Massachusetts.

2. Last year when the change was made, President Kennedy was new in office and many House Democrats were unwilling to incur his displeasure or risk the loss of executive patronage available to them for the first time in eight years.

3. Normally the political party in control of the White House loses House seats in a non-presidential election year. Tradition and the odds say that there will be more GOP seats next January than there were in January 1961.

Conservatives are confident they will win next January if the House leadership decides to battle to keep the committee at its present strength. They won't have Rayburn and a new president going against them.

Delay Caused Carpenter To Miss His Target

HOUSTON (AP)—A delay of at least three seconds in the firing of the braking rockets on his spacecraft caused astronaut Malcolm S. Carpenter to land some 250 miles beyond target in his May 24 flight three times around the world. That was the report made to a National Aeronautics and Space Administration conference — the first official post-flight conference held at this new base of the manned spaceflight center.

Artillery Missile Test Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Pershing artillery missile testing a quicker, explosive nose cone separation device has been fired successfully on a short range flight. The two-stage, solid-fuel rocket hit a target about 200 miles down range Tuesday night in its first test flight in more than two months. Since the last shot in June technicians worked to correct problems which plagued the missile in three of the five previous launchings.

Former Governor Stages A Comeback

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Former Gov. Milward L. Simpson, 65-year-old Cody attorney, staged a political comeback and won the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate in Wyoming's primary election.

His opponent, Kenny Sailors, 41, Jackson Hole dude rancher and star, conceded defeat. In the November election, Simpson will run against Democratic Sen. Joe Hickey. Hickey was opposed in the Democratic primary but polled 25,626 votes in returns from 572 precincts.

Simpson led Sailors 17,578 to 11,709 in returns from 473 of 602 precincts.

At stake will be the four years remaining in the term of the late Senator-elect Keith Thompson, Republican, who died a month after the 1960 election. Hickey, governor when Thompson died, appointed himself to the Senate.

Acting Gov. Jack Gage, 63, who succeeded Hickey as governor, held a lead of Will (Scotty) Jack, 70, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Returns from 572 precincts gave Gage 17,134 and Jack, 13,329.

Clifford P. Hansen, 49, Jackson rancher, won the Republican nomination for governor. Returns from 572 precincts gave Hansen 23,391 votes; Charles M. Crowell, Casper attorney, 14,122; and former Cheyenne Mayor R.E. Cheever, 3,629.

Rep. William Henry Harrison, a grandson of former President Benjamin Harrison, won the Republican nomination for a fourth term as Wyoming's only member in the U.S. House.

Lou Mankus, 39, Cheyenne attorney held the lead for the Democratic congressional nomination over former Laramie Mayor Stephen Moyle, 12,903 to 3,812.

Sir Winnie Is Back Home

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill awakened refreshed and happy in his Hyde Park gate home today following his return from Middlesex Hospital.

"He had a good night," said a spokesman. "He seems well and happy this morning."

The 87-year-old warrior spent 54 days in the hospital after he fractured his left thigh in a fall in Monte Carlo. He went home Tuesday.

DEAR ABBY

He's Still A 'Soph'

DEAR ABBY: How long does it take for a grown man to forget when he went to college? A friend of mine is almost 50, and two minutes after he meets someone he manages to get into the conversation that he went to Harvard.

Now I know lots of men who went to Harvard, but they don't mention it 25 times a day. It so happens I never went to college and my income is easily double that of my Harvard friend — which proves you don't have to go to Harvard to be a success.

What can I say to this Harvard grad to let him know he sounds ridiculous?

WOODROW WILSON HIGH, 1933

DEAR W. W.: Persuading a 50-year-old man that he "sounds ridiculous" is a hopeless task. It's just another case where the boy got through college but college never got through the boy. Forget it.

DEAR ABBY: Please help settle a family fight. I have two sisters. They got into a real battle and are not speaking to each other. I steered clear of the fight and am friendly with both of them. One sister says that if I continue to be friendly with the one SHE isn't speaking to, our friendship will have to come to an end. I don't think this is right. What do you think? THE SISTER IN THE MIDDLE: DEAR SISTER: It's your sister's privilege to fight with whomsoever she chooses, but she has no right to force you to non-speaking terms with her enemies.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is the world's dullest man. Whenever we go to a friend's home he goes off by himself and listens to the radio. Or else he just sits and talks to the dog. He never has a thing to say. I try to draw him into the conversation and he answers with a YES or a NO. What does a wife do when she is married to a moron like this? BORED AND EMBARRASSED

DEAR B AND E: Who picked this moron? And why? CONFIDENTIAL TO HIGH POCKETS: The guy who always winds up with the check is not necessarily a "good kid." He is more of a goat.

Born July 4, 1906 at Tulsa, Mr. Cooper married Verda May Boney Aug. 9, 1924, at Guyton, Okla. He and his family moved to Big Spring in March, 1938, from Channing.

After coming here he went into the cattle auction business with the late John Poe. Grand Jury Meets Monday

Eighteen of the original panel of 20 names drawn for grand jury duty remained on the list Wednesday. The panel is to report to the 118th District Court Monday morning.

Judge Ralph Caton will select 12 from the list and qualify those as grand jurors for the new court term which opens on that date.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said that he expects to lay about 20 felony matters before the grand jury for its consideration. He said that the cases are about the usual type on hand at this season of the year.

Usually, the court has no selection to make to fill the grand jury. Generally by the time the court has heard and accepted the valid excuses for not serving only a dozen of the panel remain. These are then sworn in and assigned to their duties.

The panel as it stood Wednesday: James Vines, J. A. Marshall, Ralph McLaughlin, Joe Peckle, Mrs. Lewis H. Payne, M. A. Lunday, Mrs. F. P. Driver, Garner M. Adams, James Tidwell, Dr. W. A. NUCLEAR MERCHANT SHIP NEARS END OF FIRST RUN

ABOARD SAVANNAH (AP)—The Savannah, world's first atom-powered merchant ship, will go into the sail-for-pay for business Tuesday, Aug. 28, carrying 32 passengers from Savannah, Ga., to Norfolk, Va., at a minimum of $125 a head.

This was related today as the Savannah neared her namesake city and an anticipated big welcome at the end of her maiden voyage to a commercial port.

The 20,000-ton, $53-million ship is carrying 20 passengers, including Gov. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia, on the present trip from Norfolk, Va., but this ceremonial trip is free.

Officials of the States Marine Lines, Inc. of New York, which operates the Savannah for the government, told newsmen some 400 persons have applied for the 32 berths available on the initial commercial voyage that will formally usher in the atomic age of merchant shipping. The ship will also carry some commercial cargo.

The nuclear-powered Savannah could cruise for 3½ years on her present initial fueling of 17,000 pounds of uranium oxide.

Estes' Subterfuge Attempts Described

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Orr testified today he wrote checks for $25,000 and $150 last February to help Billie Sol Estes engineer a subterfuge to obtain cotton acreage allotments from the government.

Orr, president of the Superior Manufacturing Co., told the story at a hearing before the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Donald F. O'Donnell, the subcommittee's chief counsel, pictured the deals described by Orr as desperate efforts by Estes to wrap a cloak of legality around his disputed juggling of cotton acreage planting allotments.

Orr swore he could not recall whether anyone in the Estes camp had told him the check writing deal—in which the $25,000 check disappeared with no cost to him—was designed as a test case for a scheme to bring apparent third parties into Estes' allotment deals and thus thwart federal investigators of the trick.

Orr testified that as a favor to Estes he wrote the two checks—both payable to Conway Mays, one of the farmers whose cotton planting allotments Estes is alleged to have illegally purchased and lease-back arrangements.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supreme Court officials said today that a hearing will be held Oct. 31 on an attempt to clear the way for issuance of the first liquor store permit for Impact, an Abilene suburb.

Impact residents voted last week to allow two liquor stores to be opened for many years.

Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo and Abilene lawyer Davis Scarborough asked permission Tuesday to request a court order mandating against Dist. B. W. Waters, U.S. marshal of Odessa, to issue a writ of habeas corpus in the name of CCH Inc., which has applied for a package store permit in Impact.

A long legal battle has been waged over Impact's incorporation.

The effect of today's state Supreme Court order is to freeze all action both in Milburn's court on the package permit appeal and in the Eastland court on the incorporation appeal until the Supreme Court hears arguments and decides if it should enter the legal battle again.

Impact Hearing Scheduled Oct. 31

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate antitrust investigators have voted to issue "second chance" subpoenas to four steel companies that refused to hand in reports on their pricing practices.

The action came Tuesday at a closed-door session of the Senate antitrust subcommittee. Chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., said the vote was 5 to 3.

Before the session, Kefauver said he would ask the subcommittee to approve contempt of Congress citations against the National Republic, Bethlehem and Arco steel corporations.

Instead, the senators decided to issue new subpoenas giving the steel producers a second chance to comply. Kefauver said he said the subpoenas will go out immediately, not only to the companies but to their chief officers as well and will be returnable in 10 to 12 days.

The subcommittee's five Democrats voted to issue them, with the three Republican members opposed. Kefauver said.

The original subpoenas were issued last April after the steel industry's short-lived price increase. The $6-a-ton boost was announced and then rescinded under White House pressure.

Kefauver said at that time detailed information on production costs was essential for an intelligent evaluation of the need for price increases.

He said last week that eight steel companies, including U.S. Steel Corp., had indicated they would comply with the subpoenas, although they strongly objected to submitting cost figures.

Kefauver said he advised the eight they need not produce the data until the question of compliance with the noncomplying companies has been finally determined.

Johnson's 20-day swing will be essentially a goodwill mission.

He is also prepared to discuss important policy matters, including changes in U.S. foreign aid philosophy.

New Tremors Spread Panic After 15 Italians Are Killed

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—New earth tremors spread panic in southern Italy early today after a severe earthquake Tuesday night that took about 15 lives and injured at least 100.

No foreigners were reported among the dead and injured.

The earth shocks left a trail of damage from this port city to the Adriatic coast. Some of the deaths were attributed to heart attacks from fright. Many of the injured were hurt in panicky flights from vacation homes and buildings.

Jacqueline Kennedy's cliffside vacation villa at Ravello is only 45 miles southwest of the apparent epicenter of the worst quake. Only slight tremors were felt there and Mrs. Kennedy's 4-year-old daughter, Caroline, and the rest of the household remained calm, servants said.

Lyndon Starts Foreign Mission

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy starts Vice President Lyndon Johnson off today on a round-trip, five-month tour of six nations in southern Europe and the Middle East.

After a final word with Kennedy at the White House, Johnson will be ferried by helicopter to Andrews AFB and then plane to Greece, Iran, Turkey, Cyprus, Lebanon and Turkey.

Johnson's 20-day swing will be essentially a goodwill mission.

He is also prepared to discuss important policy matters, including changes in U.S. foreign aid philosophy.

Son Charged After College Prof Is Beaten To Death

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—Dr. Harris Livingston Russell, 34, a Sam Houston State College professor, was beaten to death today with an iron bar from a weight lifting set.

Sheriff Floyd Farris filed a charge of murder against Harold Russell, 19, a son of the professor and a student at the college's summer school.

Farris said the youth signed a written statement.

The father and son resided at the college's country campus, a former Air Force base northeast of Huntsville.

Russell had taught here six years. He previously taught foreign languages nine years at the University of Texas.

Farris said the son had been attending the University of Texas and planned to return there after the Sam Houston summer session.

New Subpoenas Voted For 4 Steel Firms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate antitrust investigators have voted to issue "second chance" subpoenas to four steel companies that refused to hand in reports on their pricing practices.

The action came Tuesday at a closed-door session of the Senate antitrust subcommittee. Chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., said the vote was 5 to 3.

Before the session, Kefauver said he would ask the subcommittee to approve contempt of Congress citations against the National Republic, Bethlehem and Arco steel corporations.

Instead, the senators decided to issue new subpoenas giving the steel producers a second chance to comply. Kefauver said he said the subpoenas will go out immediately, not only to the companies but to their chief officers as well and will be returnable in 10 to 12 days.

The subcommittee's five Democrats voted to issue them, with the three Republican members opposed. Kefauver said.

The original subpoenas were issued last April after the steel industry's short-lived price increase. The $6-a-ton boost was announced and then rescinded under White House pressure.

Kefauver said at that time detailed information on production costs was essential for an intelligent evaluation of the need for price increases.

He said last week that eight steel companies, including U.S. Steel Corp., had indicated they would comply with the subpoenas, although they strongly objected to submitting cost figures.

Kefauver said he advised the eight they need not produce the data until the question of compliance with the noncomplying companies has been finally determined.

Yanks Rip Angels In Tenth Inning

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bill Rigney's disorderly stomach was doing the Mt. Vesuvius twist today to the accompaniment of 76 trombones.

That, at least, should be the fate of Rigney's harassed internal system after the beating his Los Angeles Angels took from the American League leading New York Yankees Tuesday night.

The Angels' manager, just out of the hospital for treatment of a stomach disorder, watched his scrappy club tie the powerful Yankees in the ninth, then had to witness a seven-run explosion in the 10th inning that gave the front-runners an 11-4 victory.

Rigney suffered a soft jolt when Bill Skowron drove in the tie-breaker. Two severe quakes followed on run-producing hits by Tony Kubek and Clete Boyer. Roger Maris' grand-slam homer got the twist music going.

The victory in the opener of the key three-game series boosted the Yankees lead to three games over the Angels and Minnesota Twins, who moved into a tie for the runner-up spot by defeating Washington 5-2 on the combined four-pitching of Jack Kralick and Ray Moore.

Elsewhere in the A.L. Detroit belted Cleveland 10-1 while Jim Bunning hurled a four-hitter. Bob Roberts pitched Baltimore to a 9-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox and Boston walloped Kansas City 11-6.

A pair of bases-empty homers by Lee Thomas were the big blows as the Angels pulled out to a 3-1 lead over the Yankees after five innings. A two-run shot by Elston Howard in the sixth tied it. The Yanks moved out front in the seventh, but the Angels battled back to throw it into extra innings on a walk and singles by Billy Moran and Leon Wagner in the ninth inning. The deluge followed, making Bud Daley, 6-3, the winner and former Yankee Ryne Duren, 2-9, the loser.

Kralick, 9-8, had the Senators blanked on two hits until the eighth inning when a two-run single by Don King brought on King to end the uprising. The Twins jumped on Dave Stenhouse, 10-9, in the fifth when singles by Bernie Allen and Zolo Veralles, Kralick's sacrifice, and Lennox Green's single got two runs across. Allen's run-producing single and a sacrifice fly by Veralles in the sixth put it out of reach.

Running 13-8 was backed by a 14-hit attack while allowing the Indians only one run on a first-inning homer by Al Llopola. The Tigers moved out front in their half of the first with Dick McAuliffe's two-run single, the key blow of a four-run rally. McAuliffe had four singles, for the night and drove in three runs. Steve Baros homered for the Tigers as the Indians went down to their 32nd defeat in the last 44 games. Jim Perry, 19-10, lost it.

Roberts, 2-6, limited the White Sox to seven hits and three runs in a run until Floyd Robinson hammered in the ninth. The Orioles, off their damage early against Early Wynn, 6-10, who was seeking his 20th victory. Wynn forced in a run with a bases-loaded walk in the first inning, then was tagged for a grand slam by John Bosc. Powell Robert's triumph was his 24th. He's third among active pitchers behind Milwaukee's Mike Mosley, who moves up from junior high to try and win a place on the Coahoma team, is the son of Paul Mosley, president of the Big Spring Golf association. Young Mike, who is due to be moved into the Bulldog backfield, ran a 58-second quarter in track while still in junior high. Coach Jimmy Spahn thinks Mike is going to be a great footballer, in time.

Probably one of the biggest sports news stories of the year will come when Notre Dame decides to terminate the contract of football coach Joe Kuharich. Kuharich didn't get much mileage out of what was conceded to be stellar material at Notre Dame last year. Many of the alumni reportedly are more than a little impatient with him. Joe has already alerted school officials not to expect an all-winning team this year. His explanation: Casualties in the classroom could be a death blow to the Irish.

Eight brother combinations are trying out for positions on the Schulenburg High School football team this fall.

Coaching staffs at Odessa Permian and Abilene Cooper will, no doubt, devote their time exclusively to scouting other 2AAAA teams the night of Sept. 14. Neither team is scheduled to open its season until Sept. 21.

LUBBOCK (AP)—Johnny Agan, the Albany all-state halfback who signed a letter of intent with Texas Tech and then said he was going to Oklahoma, has changed again.

Agan came to Tech Tuesday and agreed with Coach J.T. King that he would enroll in the fall.

Edwin Hall, Eden guard, and Agan both had signed with Tech when they announced, while being given summer employment by a friend of Oklahoma, that they were changing schools.

King said over the weekend he received a telephone call from Agan's father asking if the boy could see the coach about enrolling at Tech.

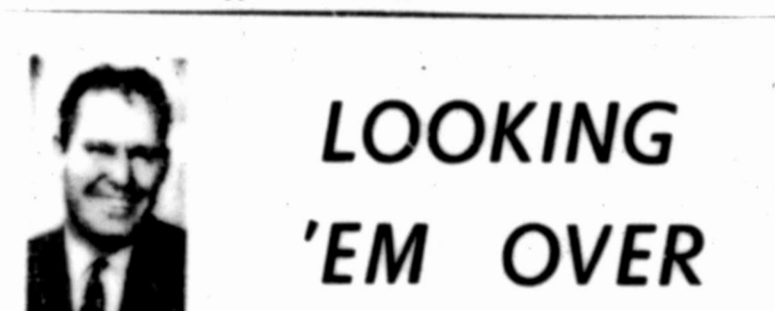

"Johnny, financing his trip himself, arrived Monday and called me to see whether a scholarship still was available," King recounted Tuesday.

"Today he came by the office, and we shook hands on our agreeing his two-bagger to a three-run first inning. Norm Siebern hit two homers for the A's, each time connecting with a mate abroad to raise his league-leading runs batted in total to 85. Earl Wilson, 11-5, got credit for the victory.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With TOMMY HART

Anybody ever hear of a professional wrestler named Billy Smith, who was supposed to have headquarted in Big Spring?

Ben H. Charon of Blue Bell, Pennsylvania, is doing some intensive research on the sport and wants to include Smith in a book he's doing.

Pat Shannon, who is football coach at San Antonio Thomas Jefferson High School, has a refreshing approach toward his occupation.

Over in Coahoma, the football buffs are expecting a lot out of Tommy Grant, the quarterback who becomes eligible for varsity ball this fall.

Tommy has been working hard this summer to get in shape. He's not the best passer seen in this area but his leadership qualities more than make up for it. He could lead the Bulldogs out of the football wilderness.

Mike Mosley, who moves up from junior high to try and win a place on the Coahoma team, is the son of Paul Mosley, president of the Big Spring Golf association. WAUGH TKO'D IN TITLE GO

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Paul Alba of Austin is the new Texas featherweight boxing champion. Alba, 122, beat Chuck Waugh, 124, formerly of Webb AFB and now of Midland on a technical knockout in the 10th round as the two scrapped for the vacant title Tuesday night.

Maloney Fills Bill As 4th Red Starter

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Round about June, Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson had a perplexing mathematical problem. No matter how he added things up, his search for a fourth starter invariably left him with three. Then Hutch had a hunch—Jim Maloney.

It's August, the defending champion Reds have pulled to within five games of National League-leading Los Angeles and are only 1 1/2 back of second-place San Francisco. One of the major reasons—Jim Maloney.

A right-hander who originally started in the Cincinnati organization as a shortstop, Maloney continued his fine hurling Tuesday with a four-hit job while Marty Keough's two-run inside-the-park homer provided the support for a 2-0 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

It was the fourth consecutive triumph for Maloney, who has solved Hutch's pitching problem by joining Bob Purkey (19-4), Joey Jay (18-10) and Jim O'Toole (13-13) as the Reds' big four. Maloney now is 8-4 and has allowed only six runs in his last four starts—an amazing 164 earned run average.

Keough, meanwhile, took over where the Reds' big hitters—Frank Robinson, Vada Pinson and Gordie Coleman—failed against Don Cardwell. The 28-year-old utilityman, acquired from Washington and hitting at a .288 clip, stroked the game-winner in the eighth inning, after a single by Leo Cardenas.

The triumph was the Reds' 14th in the last 17 games and moved them another step closer to the Dodgers and Giants, who were, both idle Tuesday.

In other action, Milwaukee edged St. Louis 6-5 in 10 innings, Pittsburgh extended New York's losing streak to 13 games with an 8-6 triumph in the opener of a doubleheader before the Mets came back to win 5-4. Art Mahaffey got Philadelphia off to a sweep over Houston with a 5-3 first-game triumph for his 17th victory. The Phils made it 15 in a row without a loss over the Colts by winning the nightcap 7-4.

Maloney and Cardwell, 6-12, who had compiled a string of 17 straight scoreless innings, were locked in a shutout duel until the eighth. Cardenas started things with his third hit. Keough failed in an attempt to punt the first pitch, then took a called strike. He drove the next pitch to right field. George Altman tried for a shoestring catch and failed, the ball rolling to the wall as the runners raced home. That was it.

The Cards tied it in the ninth on a run-producing bloop single by Charlie James, but the Braves came up with the winner in the 10th on a double by pinch hitter Joe Torre and a two-out single by Lee Maye. Earlier, Tommie Aaron homered for the Braves while brother Hank extended his hitting streak to 21 games.

Gene Oliver homered for St. Louis. The winner was Claude Raymond, 3-2, who has saved nine games since joining the club June 28. Don Ferrarese, 1-4, was the loser.

The Pirates came up with four runs in the ninth inning of the opener—three on a throwing error by third baseman Felix Mantilla (to beat the Mets) and Roger Connor (4-1), who singled across the fourth run got the victory.

In the nightcap, Marv Throneberry came out of the coaching box and tagged a two-out, three-run, pinch-hit homer that enabled the Mets to snap their second longest losing streak of the year. Robert G. Miller, 2-1, was the winner with Elroy Face, 0-5, the loser.

Mahaffey (17-10) was touched for seven Houston hits, one more than the Phillies got in the opener but led all the way after a three-run Philadelphia first. Bob Bruce (7-8) gave up two walks and hit a batter in the inning with Don Demeter's looping single, the only hit.

In the second game, consecutive home runs by Johnny Callison and Roy Sievers moved the Phils out front to stay in the first inning. Callison went 4-for-4 in support of Jack Hamilton (7-11), who gave up homers to Jim Campbell and Carl Warwick. Jim Golden, 5-11, lost it.

The Southwest Conference in investigated circumstances of the summer employment Tech having claimed that the boys received higher pay than the prevailing scale. This would violate an NCAA rule.

It was denied that the boys received more than others at similar work.

The conference has not announced its findings. Hall has made no announcement that he contemplates a change.

The Dallas News said Agan, from his home at Enid, Okla., denied a report that Oklahoma officials, wary of an NCAA study, had recommended he enroll at Texas Tech.

Season Ducats To Go On Sale Next Monday

One item where inflation hasn't set in is the price of high school season football tickets. They cost the consumer no more than they did five years ago. The season ducats for Big Spring High School games, good for five home appearances of the Steers, retail for $7.50 and assure the user of the same location in Memorial Stadium throughout the season.

The tickets will be made available next Monday morning at 9 o'clock to persons who had season tickets last year. The subscribers can ask for the same seat location until Sept. 4, at which time they will be sold on a first-come, first-serve basis.

The cost figures out to $1.50 a game, a big bargain in this day and time.

Those who will be out of town next week can mail their checks to the School Business Office, 602 E. 13th St., and expect full consideration.

Season ticket holders have an added advantage. In cases where the supply of ducats for out-of-town games is short, they will get the first opportunity to make purchases, according to Don Crockett, who has been assigned to handle the sale of ducats.

Last year, a total of 661 season tickets were sold here and school officials hope to better that figure by several hundred.

Memorial Stadium seats 10,000, give or take a few dozen. Those purchasing season tickets are always assured of sitting in the west stands.

Big Spring opens its home season the night of Sept. 28, at which time it plays Snyder. The Steers also meet Midland Lee, Odessa High, Odessa Permian and Abilene High here.

Beatty Comes Close To Mark

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—Little Jim Beatty admitted today he was disappointed at not breaking the world mile record but cheerfully pointed out that he would have other opportunities.

The barrel-chested insurance agent from Los Angeles, blasted home in 3:56.3 in a race Tuesday—less than two seconds off the world mark, and the fastest ever run by an American.

"It was a little disappointing to come so close," said Beatty, "but there are other races and maybe I'll do it yet. I certainly am coming closer and closer."

Just last Saturday in London's White City Stadium, the 3-6 Beatty hit the tape in 3:56.3. That stood as the American citizen's record for just three days.

The world record is 3:54.4 held by New Zealand's Peter Snell, so Beatty must chop just one and nine-tenths seconds off his time to equal the world mark.

"I knew I had a chance at it," said Beatty. "But I probably started to kick too late."

Two others in the race bettered four minutes—Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., who hit the tape in 3:58.8 and Olavi Salonen of Finland in 3:59.1.

Bobby Seaman, Beatty's Los Angeles Track Club teammate, led at the 400-meter mark in 54.6, and Grelle hit the 800 meters in front in 1:55.4. Beatty took over going into the last lap.

"I thought for a minute Jim had it," Grelle said. "He was really moving at the end."

Seaman was fourth in 4:01.8 and Laszlo Tabari, another clubmate of Beatty's, was fifth in 4:06.2.

Ron Morris of Los Angeles, the United States national champion, cleared 18 feet 1 inch in the pole vault to equal his best performance and beat world record holder Pentti Nikula of Finland. Nikula could do no better than 15-8. He has a 16-2 1/2 vault awaiting recognition.

Texans Lose By 7-6 Tally

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Dwight Johnson of Norman kicked the extra point after Oklahoma's touchdown and it meant a 7-6 victory over Texas in the Oil Bowl football game Tuesday night.

Texas dominated the game in everything except the score, running up 290 yards in total offense and holding Oklahoma to 77.

But Mickey Upton of Stillwater dashed 16 yards for a touchdown and Johnson kicked the extra point in the second period. That made Oklahoma the winner in three of the last five meetings.

It was the second in a row for the Sooners.

Texas came storming back to drive 75 yards for a touchdown scored by Wayne Bell of Baytown with a 3-yard smash, but an attempt to run over a two-point conversion was halted by a batting Oklahoma line.

The deepest penetration Texas could make after that was to the Oklahoma 11-yard line with four minutes left and the Sooners held for downs. Texas later regained the ball but Bill Pennington of Duncan intercepted a pass at midfield to wipe out the last chance.

Bell was named outstanding back of the game. Alonzo Edwards of Tulsa was picked as outstanding lineman.

Nightmare Ends For Parents After Missing Girls Found

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — A bad dream ended happily for the haggard parents of two 7-year-old girls missing 48 hours but found safe in a nearby vacant apartment where they had been trapped by a faulty lock.

Two FBI agents, making one more routine check of nearby buildings, found the youngsters late Tuesday.

Hungry, but unharmed by their ordeal, pigtailed Maria Teresa Moreley and her pal, black-haired Rita Ohlgren, came home to joyous welcomes from families and neighbors.

They had been missing since Sunday afternoon and had spent two nights locked in a bathroom of the untenanted second-floor apartment.

The girls said they had gone in to use the bathroom as they had often done while playing nearby. This time, the defective lock trapped them in the small windowless room.

At first, they banged and yelled. When no one heard and the hours ticked by, they settled down to wait. They tried to open the lock with the hook end of a two-inch spring Maria Teresa had with her. They spent some time drawing with crayons.

Finally, they huddled together to sleep in the lavender bathtub. "It was cold," Maria Teresa said, and they became hungry.

The girls were dressed in shorts and sleeveless blouses and they shivered in the air conditioning which was operating in the empty apartment. They had nothing to eat since nontime Sunday, but there was plenty of water.

Their sudden disappearance from the garden apartment development area touched off a frantic search by some 600 volunteers, police, soldiers, Marines and neighbors.

Marine helicopters and police dogs joined in the widespread hunt that fanned out into metropolitan Washington.

To the frantic mothers, put to bed with sedatives, and the haggard fathers, who had searched in fear, their return was incredible relief.

"God gave us another chance," said Rita's mother, Mrs. Arthur S. Ohlgren. Her husband, a Marine major, had been called back on emergency leave as he was en route to a new military assignment in Japan.

"It was just like a bad dream," she said.

The fathers told how the FBI agents—U. Leroy Sweeney and Lansing P. (Pete) Logan—had burst into their apartments shortly after 4 p.m. Tuesday with the good news that the girls were found safe.

"Wonderful," was the way Maria Teresa's father, William Moreley, summed it up. A commercial artist employed by the Interamerican Development Bank in Washington, he was unshaven and his face was red from sunburn he got in two days of exhausting search.

His wife, Magdalena, a native of Guatemala, said she had been "quite a wreck" during the ordeal.

The scene was something of a fiesta though, when the good news spread through the apartment development.

Squalor Mocks Modern Glint In Wealthy Venezuelan City

By PAUL FINCH
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — A belt of squalor and misery mocks the modern glint of this fantastically wealthy city, the capital of the world's biggest oil exporting nation.

More than 300,000 illiterates of mostly Indian blood—many half starved and half-clothed—exist in battered shacks called ranchos.

Ranchos fester on surrounding hills like rubbish piles, in ravines which cross through the city or in the most plush residential areas.

MANY CHILDREN
Some of the younger rancho children run naked in the dusty settlements. Older ones shine shoes or simply beg of the busy downtown boulevards.

Rancho-dwellers make up a quarter of the Caracas population but most came from the interior region near the Andes Mountains.

City officials say thousands more come each year, seeking jobs or an easier way of life in the big city, despite admonitions of the government to stay where they are.

But it's easy to build a rancho," said one official. "You can pick a scrap pile and get discarded corrugated metal sheets for the roof, blocks for furniture and box wood for walls. They sometimes improve their place as they find more material."

Heating is no problem in tropical Caracas and rancho people keep the tin roofs intact despite torrential rains, by piling rocks on the top.

SOME INGENUOUS
More ingenious rancho veterans tap power lines to have free electric lighting.

A rancho mother of seven showed a reporter her one-room dirt-floor shack. She made coffee on an ancient but clean kerosene stove. "Where was her husband?" "He left before Juan Jose there was born," she answered.

A priest who works in the barrios told a reporter that families as they are known elsewhere scarcely exist.

The men can't support a family or accept responsibility. From month to month they drift from one woman to another, leaving each one with more children," he said.

Fey Alegria charity sponsored by Venezuelan Roman Catholics, estimates there are at least 40,000 abandoned children in the Caracas ranchos. The organization, whose name means "faith and happiness," has 21 primary level schools, including 12 in Caracas, to care for Venezuela's 173,000 orphans and half-orphans.

ALLIANCE PROGRAM
Recently an Alliance for Progress program was announced with the goal of eliminating the ranchos by 1975. More than $210 million will be spent through the Caracas city government to build 65,000 living quarters. More than 8,000 are scheduled to be built during the first year along with sewage and other facilities.

Antonio Cruz Fernandez, director of the Municipal Office of Urban Planning, says it is not a complete solution, however.

Official Named As Key Figure In Estes Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy has been named by the department's general counsel as the official responsible for the cotton program under which Billie Sol Estes, Pecos, Tex., financier, extended his empire.

The counsel, John C. Bagwell, told the Senate Investigating subcommittee Tuesday it was Murphy rather than Secretary Orville L. Freeman who really ran the program until Freeman stepped in and cracked down on Estes.

Bagwell said Murphy handled policy matters connected with Estes' transferring of cotton acreage allotments until last April 11 when Bagwell gave Freeman a memorandum and an oral report on what was involved.

Bagwell said Freeman moved quickly then to cancel Estes' disputed allotment transfers and to impose civil penalties on Estes totaling $554,000.

Estes has been indicted on charges that he raised millions of dollars by mortgaging nonexistent fertilizer storage tanks.

Bagwell read to the Senate subcommittee a prepared statement heatedly denying that he had attempted, in his memorandum report to Freeman last April 11, to draw the blueprint for what Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., termed a "bail out" of Estes. The memo outlined alternative decisions under which cotton deals such as Estes' might be "supported" legally.

But Bagwell said the alternatives were not recommendations, merely legal opinions.

Bagwell testified that no Congress member and no one in the executive branch had ever tried to influence his legal opinions on the Estes case.

Importance Of Stress In Orbit Flights Noted

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Confident smiles to the contrary, it costs in terms of stress and wear and tear to make the kind of orbital adventures U.S. and Soviet astronauts are making.

There are tell-tale signs of stress but few of them are advertised or talked about openly.

U.S. space experts have detailed information about the medical performance of their astronauts. Little is known of the physiological reaction of Soviet astronauts to the rigors of space flight.

One critical sign of stress can be associated with weight loss, more specifically loss of large amounts of water.

Indications of this came from Tuesday's conference reviewing the technical details of Malcolm Scott Carpenter's flight May 24. It was the second orbital flight in a U.S. spacecraft.

Carpenter, a 134-pounder at flight time, dropped six pounds by the time he weighed in aboard the recovery ships 15 hours later.

Most people lose some weight in the course of a strenuous day. But there are indications water loss can be caused by hormonal activity—more specifically activity of adrenal gland hormones believed to be indicators of stress.

The adrenal gland produces a variety of hormones and some of them have been shown to be active in the body's reaction to stress. Meeting a sudden challenge, adrenalin is released into the bloodstream and keeps alert muscles alert. Other adrenal hormones regulate other body systems, including the release or retention of water, perhaps in response to other kinds of stress.

U.S. space doctors are concerned with how much water to permit astronauts to drink before and during spaceflight. The problem is keeping a proper water balance in the body. John H. Glenn Jr., on the first U.S. orbital flight, became slightly dehydrated. His water intake was limited.

but his water loss was termed normal.

Carpenter lost about three times as much water as Glenn lost during a similar experience, indicating there may be broad personal differences. This is what flight physicians want to explore more fully. It could bear strongly on flights of long duration.

At a news conference Carpenter said he and his fellow astronauts are challenged rather than discouraged by the twin orbital flight by two Soviet cosmonauts.

SCIENCE AT WORK

By The Associated Press

Scientists cite progress in conversion of heat and wheat, and they work on a nuclear reactor monitor for use in space.

Heat Electricity

Scientists say the thermionic generator which converts heat directly into electricity will become increasingly important on earth as well as in space.

Its fuel can be the intense heat inside a nuclear reactor or focused rays of the sun.

Dr. Robert W. Pidd of General Atomics Division, General Dynamics Corp., predicts the first important use of the generators will come from testing thermionic cells with nuclear-powered plants generating electricity. They will produce current from temperatures ranging from 3,000 to 6,000 degrees Fahrenheit and boost plant efficiency by as much as one-third.

Later, nuclear-powered thermionic units may provide electricity for space vehicles and ocean vessels.

Thermionic converters work much like the familiar radio tube. Electrons boil off a heated element in a vacuum or in ionized vapor, are caught by a colder element and emerge as electric current.

A drawback with experimental ones has been a discouragingly short life, often less than 100 hours. But scientists and engineers at an energy conversion conference in San Francisco last week heard reports of three still going strong after 4,339 hours, 3,254 hours and 3,668 hours, respectively.

New Foods

Wheat chips wheat toffee and a chicken pilaf made with wheat instead of rice have been whipped up by food scientists at Stanford Research Institute.

They are seeking ways to boost consumption of wheat.

The average American, with 10 per cent more food available than he had 50 years ago, eats 250 calories less per day. He makes more money and buys more meat, fresh produce, luxury and convenience foods, less of the staples like wheat products and beans.

Institute scientists say they've developed a chemical treatment for wheat that makes it a practical substitute for rice in various dishes.

In the chicken pilaf it tasted remarkably like wild rice, they found. Wild rice is much more expensive.

The wheat chips and toffee have also won tasters' enthusiastic approval and more new foods from wheat are on the way.

Researchers say their wheat treatment process is simple and cheap. But they are not prepared to disclose it yet.

Nuclear Reactors

When the United States rockets its first nuclear reactor into outer space, close tabs will be kept on the reactor operation. A monitoring system is being designed and built at a General Electric plant in San Jose, Calif.

Readings on radiation from the reactor—now being developed to provide 500 watts of electric power for satellite instrumentation—will be transmitted to ground stations. The information will be used for further development of nuclear power systems for space.

Neutron and gamma ray detectors and other components of the monitoring system are designed to operate in temperatures up to 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

CRMWD Revenues Are Running Ahead

Revenues for the first seven months of 1962 are running ahead of last year for the Colorado River Municipal Water District and most of the gain is due to greater returns from oilfield repressuring. The monthly financial statement of the CRMWD shows $1,204,940 for the first seven months, whereas the same period last year produced $1,137,387. Sale of water to oil repressuring units has grossed $11,849, up from the $2,813 for the comparable period a year ago. Sale of water to member cities has accounted for $245,410, slightly ahead of last year's $240,963. Change in some rate structures has modified these revenues although for the seven-month interval the district actually delivered 350,000,000 more gallons to its member cities. Revenues from recreational facilities has amounted to $47,340, about $200 less from the comparable period of last year. Disbursements for operations have amounted to $402,769 during the seven months. This left $802,171 to be transferred to debt retirement and other indebted funds. July expenses (with the seven months aggregate in parenthesis) included: Supervision labor $945 ($1,746); operating labor $740 ($3,724); repairs and supplies $293 ($1,827); maintenance labor $1,626 ($8,101); general maintenance $480 ($2,507); electric power well fields $4,949 ($18,694); water purchases $2,427 ($16,952); automotive expense $2,600 ($6,501); pumping expense, mostly power $46,325 ($254,172); administration and general $12,196 ($68,019); recreation facilities $3,660 ($20,504); total $76,045 ($402,769).

Webb Open House Visitors Fly In

This aerial view shows 24 of the 28 aircraft piloted by members of the Permian Basin Aircraft Association who flew in to Howard County Airport Sunday for the open house at Webb AFB. Frank Strickler and Ted McClung made the photo. The two representatives of Big Spring Aircraft went aloft just before the main group returned from Webb to leave for home. Between 70 and 80 pilots, some from as far away as Marfa, flew in. One helicopter came in, and landed at the east gate of the airbase.

Testimony Still Continues In ROW Appeal Case

Testimony continued today in the appeal case brought by the State of Texas against the findings of a special commission in right-of-way condemnation proceedings. The defendants in the suit, on trial in Howard County Court, are Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Vanderford and others. The state contends the findings of a special commission on the value of land taken for improvement of US 87 was excessive. A jury was empaneled to try the case Tuesday and the initial witnesses were examined during the afternoon. It had been estimated the case could be completed by today but this appeared unlikely at noon. Land involved in the suit comprises 1.051 acres. The land was the site of a residence and a print shop and is located north of the city limits on US 87.

Boys On Bike Hit By Auto

The three days without accidents in Big Spring came to an abrupt end Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. when two boys riding a bicycle were struck by a car on the parking area at College Park Shopping Center. Neither boy was seriously injured but both were taken to the Veterans Administration Hospital where their father is a physician. They were treated for cuts and bruises. These will expedite planning for the lake, said E. V. Spence, general manager. Maps were furnished by the United States Geologic Survey and are on contours that will help with computing drainage yields as well as location of the best dam sites. The CRMWD holds a permit from the State Water Commission to impound a second lake, tentatively spotted for extreme south Mitchell County, provided it can demonstrate that a salt water pollution can be controlled. Earlier this year, the Texas Railroad Commission issued an order for operators in the Sharon Ridge and Coleman Ranch fields to stop disposing of oilfield brines in earthen pits. The district had contended that seepage from these pits,

District Receives Maps For Second Lake Planning

Topographic maps affecting a second lake on the upper Colorado River have been received by the Colorado River Municipal Water District. The maps were furnished by the United States Geologic Survey and are on contours that will help with computing drainage yields as well as location of the best dam sites. The CRMWD holds a permit from the State Water Commission to impound a second lake, tentatively spotted for extreme south Mitchell County, provided it can demonstrate that a salt water pollution can be controlled. IS 20 Loop Work May Start Soon

There is a possibility that the first phase of the Interstate 20 loop may be included in the October lettings of the Texas Highway Department. The attorney general was to file condemnation proceedings against one remaining tract on the east end of the project this week, said J. C. Jake Roberts, district engineer. This is due to open the way to proceed with contracting the job. The tract in question is owned by H. S. Moss at the eastern edge of town. Once before the matter was in litigation but an appeal from a jury of view commission award was eventually dismissed by the court. If a contract is let in October, the initial project will cover the section from a point just west of the FM 700 underpass east of the city to about where the city's new elevated storage is located just off NE 12th. Right of way has not yet been secured from the United States Department of Agriculture off the south end of the experiment station tract. This, however, is under negotiation between the USDA and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. The Gregg Street overpass on US 87 is in the design stage and satisfactory progress is being made on this project, reported Roberts. There is no timetable as to when the bridge division of the State Highway Department will complete the plans.

State To Sell Gregg St. Block

Field work on clearing of the South Gregg Street property of the highway department for sale has been completed. Appraisal of land and improvements have been finished by the district office and forwarded to the Texas Highway Department in Austin. Title work and other details will be completed there. When this is done, the block opposite the VA Hospital and formerly used as base of county operations will be advertised for sale on a sealed bid basis. Proposals likely will be opened in Austin. The property became surplus to the Texas Highway Department when a new headquarters plant was constructed and occupied at NW 12th and Snyder Highway.

Texans Not All Equal In Voting

By BOB ROOKER
AUSTIN (AP)—Texans are not all equal in voting.

If you're a city dweller, you probably swing about half or one-third the weight on election day as the farmer up the road or the small town resident. This situation may be changing. The Texas Constitution commands that representation in the state legislature and Congress be based on population. Then, it adds restrictions which make it impossible to follow its command.

TRADITIONAL

Even without the constitutional restrictions, it is traditional in many states, including Texas, for representatives to refuse to obey the Constitution and reapportion properly.

The reason: The population for decades has been shifting from the farm to the city and the rural representatives—in the majority—are reluctant to vote themselves and their colleagues out of a job.

The U.S. Constitution says that no state may deny its citizens equal protection of the law. The U.S. Supreme Court recently ruled that a state law allowing unequal representation did not provide equal protection.

Already several states are trying to avoid reapportionment of representation by a federal court through passage of their own re-districting bills.

NOT FOR CONGRESS

The Texas Legislature redistricted for state representatives and senators in 1961, but did not redistrict for seats in Congress. When Texas picked up its 23rd representative after the 1960 census, it was made an at-large seat. The first attack on Texas' reapportionment of its congressmen filed since the Supreme Court decision is in the state courts.

The suit was filed by Dallas businessman Giles Miller, who was unsuccessful in seeking the GOP nomination for congressman at-large in the recent primary elections.

The state Constitution provides for an ex-officio board to meet and redistrict legislative positions after a 10-year census if the legislature fails to pass a redistricting act itself.

Miller's suit asked that salaries of the officials on the board be withheld because they did not meet and set up new congressional districts. Dist. Judge D. B.

Wood of Georgetown refused his request.

NEXT ACTION

Miller said his next action would be to ask a temporary injunction to withhold the salaries. An example of unequal representation in Texas congressional districts is a comparison of the Dallas District and the 4th, formerly held by the late Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Dallas had 951,327 people in 1960. Rayburn's old district had 216,371. This meant the Dallas voter has less than one-fourth the representation of a Bonham resident.

Even though the legislature redistricted for state representatives and senators last year, representation in the legislature still is heavily weighted in favor of the rural voter over the city folk.

In the Texas House the member from Rockwall and Kaufman counties represents 35,800 people. Across the aisle is a representative from Dallas who represents 105,725 people.

SAME STORY

It is the same story in the Senate, divided on the basis of qualified voters instead of population.

The Harris County senator represents 1,243,158 people. His colleague from the Dist. 16 in Central Texas represents 147,434.

The rapid shift in population from the farm to city is generally credited with inequities in representation in most states, including Texas.

The census shows 75 per cent of all Texans live in urban areas. Between 1950 and 1960, Texas' total population increased 24.2 per cent, but the urban population swelled 45.8 per cent while the rural population dropped 16.7 per cent.

The lopsided apportionment in the Texas Legislature stems primarily from two constitutional provisions.

One puts a maximum of seven representatives from any one county until the population exceeds 700,000 people and then permits only one representative for each added block of 100,000 residents.

FLAT MAXIMUM

The other sets a flat maximum of one senator per county, regardless of population.

The 1961 redistricting plan made representation somewhat more equal in the House, but weighted it more heavily for the rural areas in the Senate.

For example, the state's four largest counties had 12.9 per cent of the Senate seats in 1950 and 29.6 per cent of Texas population. Under the new redistricting plan, they still hold 12.9 per cent of the senators, but now have 35.7 per cent of the population.

The 1963 Legislature is almost certain to be faced with a move to redistrict the state's congressional districts.

It also will have to wrestle again with the problem of redistricting the legislative spots.

EINSTEIN, COME BACK

MOSCOW (AP)—Le Col Pavol Popovich reported he found the behavior of air and water in a partly filled flask of particular interest in his scientific experiments in orbit. On earth the water is below and the air on top, he said in a news conference. "In space the water is on top and below while the air is in the middle in the shape of a sphere. No matter how hard you shake the flask the air will again assemble in a sphere."

Federal Debt Affects U.S. Economy In Subtle Ways

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—In a year marked by disappointments in some phases of the economy, the short of expected heights the U.S. debt has risen above $300 billion for the first time. Managing this huge debt is a colossal task in itself since it changes from day to day with some part almost always about to mature, and since it influences interest rates and financing of many other forms of debt from state and local governments to corporate, mortgage and personal debt. And even the proper distribution of the federal debt among various types of investors—banks, corporations, institutions, individuals—can be a problem, changing as the business cycle does.

The traditional American way of thinking, which labels debt as wrong and balanced budgets as a fixed goal, individual experience is that personal budgets long out of balance lead to disaster. But there is a new school of thinking growing more articulate, which holds that a $300-billion government debt isn't as bad as it seems to some, and that balanced budgets under some conditions are harmful.

COMPARISONS

This school compares the $300-billion debt not with past levels of indebtedness but with the national income and with total national assets. Thus, the debt shows a smaller percentage now than in some past eras. It is smaller per capita than in the previous debt peak at the end of World War II because the debt has grown at a slower rate than the population. In other words, these economists hold that we can afford a $300-billion federal debt.

THE PROBLEM

But the immediate problem for the Treasury is this: It must keep eternally at paying it off, even when it is going further into debt. At the individual's level, this shows up in the sale and redemption of U.S. savings bonds. These activities go on constantly with the ratio between them changing from month to month—and thus affecting the size of the total federal debt.

BILLS DUE

Each week the Treasury must also pay off more than a billion dollars worth of short-term bills coming due. It does this by offering new ones, and as often as not offers more new ones than old ones, thus raising new money—and the total debt. Also longer-term notes and bonds mature at frequent intervals and must be paid. Here also the Treasury usually offers to swap new ones for old—and sometimes raises a little more money to boot. That's how the debt grows.
