

Indonesia Frees Condemned Yank

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Allan Lawrence Pope, a 33-year-old American flier, has been whisked secretly from an Indonesian prison where he was under death sentence to a "wonderful reunion" of six weeks with his wife and two sons in the United States.

Pope was reported in New York on personal business but he was not available to newsmen.

His wife, Yvonne, said Wednesday night at her parents' home in Akron her husband is in good health and "everything has turned out fine for us."

Until his secret release July 2 as part of a general political amnesty by the Indonesian government, the situation was far from rosy for the former Air Force pilot who had won the Distinguished Flying Cross for bravery in Korea.

In April 1960 an Indonesian military court found him guilty of killing 17 members of the Indonesian armed forces in bombing and strafing missions. He was accused of carrying arms and ammunition for rebel forces during an unsuccessful 1958 uprising.

Pope said at his court-martial he had flown one attack mission for the rebels in his World War II-type B26 bomber, but claimed he didn't kill anyone. He denied charges he was to blame for most of the rebel air raids on ships, ports and airfields in eastern Indonesia or that he received $10,000 a mission from the rebels.

The American flier said he joined the rebels without pay. He wanted to fight communism, Pope asserted, and was told the Communists controlled the government of President Sukarno.

Pope was sentenced to death April 29, 1960. His petition for clemency was denied and all prior appeals for his release were fruitless.

The State Department disclosed news of Pope's release last night and said he had asked the amnesty and his return to the United States be kept secret. He wanted to rejoin his family and rest and relax without fanfare.

Ya'll Come

The Rev. John Black, pastor of First Christian Church, invites members of the church to attend the Roundup barbecue to be held Friday from 6 to 9 p.m. The barbecue is being sponsored by the Christian Women's Fellowship, whose members have been selling advance tickets. Late comers will be able to purchase tickets on arrival at the barbecue, however. Serving time for the food catered by Smith's Tea Room will be from 6 to 8 p.m. A program of pantomime—a look at the church of yesterday—will be presented from 8 to 9 p.m. by the youth of the church.

Castro Troops Kill Rebel Leader

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban troops and militiamen killed a counter-revolutionary band leader named Manuel Lopez in an engagement Monday, it was announced.

Press dispatches said Lopez, described as a "despicable collaborator" of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, was shot dead near Moran, 310 miles east of Havana. No other casualties were mentioned.

Lopez was said to be responsible for the deaths of two militiamen June 29.

WHY SAVE PROTESTANTISM?

By T. H. Tathel, preacher

Church of Christ, 2800 West Highway 80
P. O. Box 1362

"Can Protestantism be saved?" is a question raised in the September issue of a popular magazine. But I ask, "Why save Protestantism?" Christianity existed long before Catholicism came into being in the seventh century when for the first time one man was accepted by the Universal Church as her bishop or pope. Again I ask, Why save demon-inationalism, premillennialism, Campbellism, Calvinism, Armenianism, or any other ism? None of these "isms" existed at the fountain-source of Christianity. Why not bypass all these and go back to the simple religion of the Bible and be just Christians — just members of His church? Why not?

You are invited to visit the undenominational congregations, which are simply churches of Christ. —Adv.

Soblen Lawyers Ask U.S.-British Data For Court

LONDON (AP) — Attorneys for Dr. Robert A. Soblen asked the high court today to compel Home Secretary Henry Brooke to produce evidence between the U.S. and British governments concerning the fugitive spy.

They asked that Brooke be subpoenaed, Justice John Stephenson did not rule immediately on the request.

The development came at the opening of the third day of hearings on Soblen's second application for a writ of habeas corpus. The 40-year-old psychiatrist is fighting deportation to the United States to serve a life sentence for passing wartime secrets to the Soviet Union.

Soblen was in court again today. He seemed in better health and spirits than Wednesday when he left the courtroom three times complaining that he had a headache.

P. Edwin Jones, the head of Soblen's legal team, charged that the home secretary, by ordering Soblen deported to New York, was trying to extort him. He contended the doctor had committed no extraditable offenses because espionage is not an extraditable offense under the U.S.-British extradition treaty.

AF Officers Die In Bomber Crash

POPE AER 50 (AP) — Two Air Force captains were killed Wednesday in the crash of their World War II B26 medium bomber. The plane was caught in the blast of its own bombs.

They were Capt. Eugene Waldvogel, 29, pilot of Fort Walton Beach, Fla., and Capt. Jerry Maul, 30, copilot of Sallis, Tex., near Sherman.

$15,000 Ordered Back To Estate

HOUSTON (AP)—Acting Probate Judge A. C. Leshar Jr. has ordered $15,000 returned to the Clara Currie estate in exchange for a stock certificate issued by the Southwest Equities Corp.

Suspended Probate Judge Clem McClelland and Richard Putney, former administrator of the estate, have been indicted for conversion of funds from the estate.

Putney said in June that McClelland told him the Currie estate had subscribed for the stock and Putney said he wrote a check for the $15,000 Jan. 24, 1961.

College Loan

BROWNWOOD (AP)—A $460,000 loan for Howard Payne College has been approved by the Community Facilities Administration for building a men's dormitory.

Mrs. J. W. Jennings of Houston contributed about $51,000 toward construction of a Student Union, which will be on the ground floor of the four-story building.

TO: Parents of Kindergarten and Nursery Children.

Dear Friends:

One year ago I opened JACK AND JILL KINDERGARTEN AND NURSERY SCHOOL because I felt there was a very real need for professional care plus training for children whose parents worked.

Response to our school has been good and I wish to thank each parent who shared HIS CHILD with us.

I am pleased to advise that we can now offer even better services and facilities for the fall semester which begins on Monday, August 27, 1962.

Do you want your child:

1. To be in a school conducted on a high professional level?
2. To be with a friendly, cooperative staff who love children?
3. To be in an environment conducive to healthful, happy living?
4. To enjoy activities appropriate for his age level?
5. To have another place besides home where he may spend a portion of the day and feel secure and protected?

If you are interested in our program, dial AM 4-8411 or AM 4-2282.

Attend OPEN HOUSE — Sunday, August 26, 3:00-5:00 P.M.

Sincerely,
Arah Phillips, Principal

2 Burglaries, Theft Reported

A theft and two burglaries were investigated by Big Spring police Wednesday and Thursday morning. A hotel room and a motel room were entered and money taken, and air conditioning equipment taken from the top of a new house.

Patrolman Walter Johnson was told at the Wyoming Hotel shortly after 2 p.m. Wednesday that a billfold containing $36 in cash, a passport, and other papers, was taken from a room. Consuelo Martinez, a maid, said she left the door unlocked while she was working in other parts of the building and that the billfold was taken from her suitcase. She also said she left her purse on top of the suitcase but it was not taken.

Frank Mathes, an aircraft executive for the Noerthrup Corporation, told Patrolman Joe Henry that someone entered his room at the Travelodge Motel 1004 W. 4th after midnight and before 6:30 a.m. Thursday and took his billfold from the night table beside his bed. He said his door was locked but that he did not latch the safety chain.

Mathes told the officer that $100 in cash, a check for $50, and a $70 wrist watch were taken.

An electric motor, a water pump, three air conditioner cooler pads, and a gas control valve, all valued at $150, were reported stolen from the roof of a house at 2508 Carol some time Tuesday night. Sheeter Caselman, contractor, told police that the houses around 2508 are all new and occupied. The loss was reported to police Wednesday.

Firemen Put Out Three Minor Fires

Big Spring firemen answered three calls between 1 and 5 p.m. Wednesday to minor fires. Little damage was done.

A hot load of trash dumped at the city's dump ground east of the city, caused one fire.

A second call was to a car fire in front of the Manhattan Cafe, 208 W. 3rd, when gasoline caught fire as the engine back fired. The car was owned by J. R. Hale.

A fire at Marcy and Virginia caused from burning trash, was put out quickly.

Sisters Trap Strange 'Bird'

A girl's voice—excited—told the reporter that she and her sister saw a bird fly in their garage Wednesday afternoon. They closed the door and caught it.

Jerry Lou Corbell and Marilyn Corbell, 2509 Carol, had never seen such a bird at close range. It was a bat.

Anyone wanting a bat for a pet may contact the girls.

Jury Returns ROW Verdict

A county court jury deliberated 45 minutes Wednesday afternoon and brought in a verdict awarding A. O. Vandervort and others $17,414 damages for land taken for right-of-way purposes. The land was needed for US 87.

The verdict was returned in an appeal case brought by the State Highway Department against the findings of a special commission, which had valued the land at $17,702.

The state's original offer had been slightly more than $8,000. Total land involved was 1.51 acres. On the land were a number of buildings including a print shop.

No announcement was made by Joe McNamara and Bill Roberts, attorneys for the State Highway Department on whether they planned to file an appeal in a higher court. Wayne Burns, county attorney, assisted them in the trial.

R. H. Weaver, attorney for the Vandervorts, said that his clients have not decided whether to appeal or to accept the findings of the jurors.

Water Usage On Sharp Incline

Water—one and a half million gallons of it—began flowing into Big Spring's new elevated storage tank on the North Side this morning.

We will fill the tank slowly, Roy Hester, water superintendent, said Thursday morning. We plan to take today, Friday and most of Saturday to fill it. Water will not be used from the new tank until the early part of next week. We need to make checks to see if our elevation instruments, joints, and lines, are in proper condition and functioning.

Connections into the city water mains were completed Wednesday and the job of cleaning and leveling the grounds will be completed this week. Fencing will be done in a few days.

Rotarians Hear Of School Growth

STANTON, SC.—L. M. Hays, superintendent of the Stanton Public Schools, discussed growth in the system during his 10 year tenure at the Rotary Club meeting Tuesday. He pointed out that the faculty has been expanded from 22 to 43.

The speaker was introduced by Jimmy Fryar, program chairman. John Morris, Big Spring, and M. Williams, Abilene, were introduced as guests by Rev. Ellis Todd, president.

Attendance was pegged at 15.

NEWS BRIEFS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gusted farm aid official Emery E. Jacobs today blamed a breakdown of administrative procedures in Texas for Billie Sol Estes' success at wangling allegedly illegal cotton-planting allotments from other states.

Jacobs, who was fired as a deputy administrator of the federal farm aid program last April 13 as a sequel to the then-breaking Estes scandal, testified before the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate moved today toward prompt passage of a drug bill given a new push by President Kennedy at his news conference Wednesday.

The bill is designed to strengthen safeguards against the sale of dangerous or ineffective drugs.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a new farm bill with a dose of the tough controls President Kennedy requested to reduce surpluses of corn and feed grains.

The measure, approved Wednesday 47-37, now must go to a conference committee.

Kennedy asserted the Senate measure "gives us an opportunity to bring some sense and reason and control into an area which has been marked by excesses and chaos in recent years."

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—A federal judge, saying even seconds are important in this nuclear age, ordered striking electricians to resume work today at Redstone Arsenal's Space Research Center.

Hollywood (AP)—Hoot Gibson, the rough-riding quick-shooting cowboy of three decades of Western films, died in a hospital today of cancer.

Judge Plans Friday Hearing

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, said Thursday he planned to go ahead with a hearing Friday on a motion by the attorneys for Gay Hill and Center Point common schools for a mistrial in the long fought annexation case in his court.

Also set down for a hearing on the same day is a motion by the Howard County School board and the Big Spring Independent school district for a judgment in their favor—either based on the findings of a jury verdict or in lieu of the verdict based on the findings of the court as to the law in the case.

The annexation protest was tried in the court some weeks ago. A jury returned a partial verdict—answering seven of the nine special issues placed before it in the court's charge.

The common schools, fighting against the county board's action of May 4, 1959, summarily annexing them to the Big Spring district, contends in its motion that the verdict was incompetent and therefore not a valid finding.

The school board and the Big Spring school district, in their motion, say that the questions answered in the verdict were in their favor and that the verdict was a valid one.

The hearings on the motions were originally set for last Friday and continued on motion of the common schools.

El Chamizal, Long-Neglected Border Pain, Near A Solution

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Staff Writer

As rivers go the Rio Grande is a stable old stream. Oh, it flooded now and then until dams pretty well stopped that. But it rarely changed course.

But in 1884 the sedate old river went on a binge. It staggered from its normal course and wandered into Mexico.

Then, as if fearing it would shock the neighbors, it scuttled back to its course.

The neighbors didn't talk much then, acting as if they didn't see the river's lapse from the straight and narrow.

But skeletons come to light and this skeleton is rattling loudly now—80 years later.

For when the Rio Grande staggered into Mexico it didn't return to the place it started. It entered the stream bed a little below the point it left.

JUST BRUSHLAND
In doing so, it placed a few hundred acres on the U.S. side that was brushland, and both the United States and Mexico possessed more of that sort of land than they needed or wanted.

Cleofas Calleros, noted El Paso historian and an expert on this little segment of land, says, "It was just weeds and brush and a few trees. There wasn't a house there."

The piece of land eventually gained a name, El Chamizal—from the Spanish word for brush.

Today this El Chamizal is creating headaches in the highest governmental circles in Mexico and the United States.

To vocal elements in Mexico the wedge of land has become a point of national honor.

To U.S. authorities it now involves delicate relations with Latin neighbors.

Some Mexican circles put it flatly: Will the United States keep its agreements and return El Chamizal to Mexico?

TIGHT SITUATION
The situation admittedly is a tough one.

For the once worthless brushland now teems with 22,000 persons by historic Calleros estimate. Most are U.S. citizens.

Collectively they have a huge investment here. So do El Paso, the school district and private utility companies.

These citizens, or a part of them at least, face the prospect of being uprooted from their homes and businesses should the United States turn El Chamizal back to Mexico.

While the nations struggle with the problem, what do the people of El Chamizal, El Paso and El Paso's sister city of Juarez, Mexico, think about it?

Interviews with residents show that they appear unemotional about what may come. What will be will be.

In fact, the interviews demonstrate that the man-on-the-street is so unconcerned that he has failed to inform himself well about the issues.

TEMPERAMENT?
Perhaps this is due to the Latin temperament. Most residents of El Chamizal are of Mexican descent. Latin temperaments have a reputation for being fiery.

But around El Paso at least, Latins tend to let someone else do their worrying about problems the individual can't solve himself.

And filtering down to the residents is a feeling that one way or another the two governments will not permit them to suffer personal loss other than the natural emotional tug if they must leave their present homes for new ones.

There is no possibility that they will be required to change citizenship everyone agrees.

Ramon Villalobos, the El Paso Times' reporter for the sister city of Juarez, Mexico, and a man well versed in matters on both sides of the border, talked to residents of both sides of the Rio Grande about El Chamizal.

IN GOOD HANDS
Most of them, he reports, feel that the question of national ownership is not anything they can determine. And they feel the matter is in good hands when the diplomats of Mexico and the United States talk about it.

No one bothered about the Rio Grande's little misdemeanor until 30 years later when a Mexican citizen laid claim to El Chamizal on grounds the area belonged to Mexico.

This brought talks between the members of the International Border Commission.

The commission could not decide the issue and sent it to arbitration. In 1911, an arbitration board said the land belonged to Mexico.

The U.S. member of the arbitration board dissented. He said no one at that late date could determine where the Rio Grande flowed before it cut a new channel. The United States agreed with its member, saying the award could not be carried out.

because the old course of the channel could not be fixed.

MATTER RESTED
There the matter rested. Mexico was more preoccupied with a revolution than a little piece of land still only thinly populated.

Even today the size of El Chamizal cannot be decided. Estimates range from 400 to 650 acres. The Boundary Commission says 400.

One reason the old channel cannot be recognized is that the whole area, including what once was the stream bed, has been built up with homes, stores and streets.

The issue was revived when President Kennedy visited Mexico this year.

Kennedy and Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos said they were instructing agencies to "recommend a complete solution to this problem."

El Chamizal has blocked arbitration between the two countries since 1911. A solution appears near.

IN THREE YEARS
Mexico's Foreign Minister Manuel Tello said he believes El Chamizal could become a part of Mexico within three years.

Rep. J. T. Rutherford, D-Tex., says the issue will not be settled soon. Rutherford represents El Paso in Congress.

The United States appears ready to offer a solution. Its general terms have been made public in part by the Boundary Commission, and by investigations by the El Paso Times and the Dallas News.

The proposed solution—and the U.S. ambassador, Thomas Mann, stresses that no commitments have been made—would be a compromise.

It calls for Mexico to cede 200 to 250 acres of Cordova Island to the United States. The area is not an island at all, belongs to Mexico and is on the U.S. side of the stream. It joins El Chamizal.

Mexico, in turn, would acquire part of El Chamizal. Mexico's net gain would be 437 acres.

SCHOOL TO MEXICO
That plan would leave two El Paso schools inside the U.S., but a newly built school would go to Mexico. Peyton Packing Co. and the large Union Stockyards also would be on the Mexican side.

Official and unofficial talk is that the deal would cost the United States $30 to 35 million because a great amount of relocation is involved.

Most of the land is occupied by wage earners' homes, some light industry, schools, utilities and streets.

Citizens of both sides of the border cross to the other at will and appear on the best of terms.

Most residents of El Chamizal are of Mexican descent but their families for generations have been U.S. citizens. They are as proud of this citizenship as a Mexican is of his. They would prefer to live in the United States.

Thornton Hardie, who was in a July 20 conference with Mann, said the plan calls for purchase of property by the United States from private owners. The United States then would cede the property to Mexico.

STILL CITIZENS
Calleros, present at conferences with Mann, says that U.S. citizens living in the Chamizal zone would not lose their citizenship.

Mann showed a proposed settlement to a small number of business leaders, then returned three weeks later and obtained support for the plan from El Paso Chamber of Commerce directors and other leaders.

Ellis Mayfield, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said the community would want to be consulted again if any deviation arises from the plan.

Those leaders who have spoken up on the plan generally are favorable. Texas Gov. Price Daniel says the matter is up to El Paso. "I think the state will approve any agreement worked out to satisfy the El Paso people," Daniel said.

Mayfield and El Paso Mayor Ralph Spitsinger say the arrangements will benefit the city by freeing El Paso's growth to the east.

FROM ALL ANGLES
Calleros said he had looked at the proposal from all angles, including that of good will, after Mann consulted with him.

"I don't know of a dissenting vote," among those who have seen the proposal, the historian said.

"If Mexico accepts it, it will be a grand thing," said Calleros. Calleros, who came to the United States from Mexico when he was 6, lived in El Chamizal for many years and still owns property there.

He was present at the 1911 arbitration.

"At that time it would have been easy to turn the land over to Mexico," he said, "because of lesser improvements there at that time."

Clouds Tease Rain-Shy State

By The Associated Press

Occasional clouds tantalized rain-shy Texas but appeared to promise no appreciable moisture Thursday.

Skies were overcast at El Paso. It was clear to only partly cloudy elsewhere.

The weatherman again predicted widely scattered thundershowers. It was due to turn a bit cooler Thursday night in the north part of the Texas Panhandle. No other change was forecast.

There was enough rain to measure at only four points in the state Wednesday. Victoria got 47 inch. Galveston 37. Amarillo 04 and Lufkin 01.

Top afternoon temperatures Wednesday included 100 at Laredo and San Angelo, 101 at Wichita Falls and 102 at Presidio.

Brain Brings Day Of Robots Closer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The day of "seeing eye" vacuum cleaners and lawn mowers is coming closer.

A gadget which could guide rug-sweeping and yard-trimming appliances without human help—and distinguish warheads from decoys or submarines from whales—was demonstrated Wednesday at the Western Electronics Show.

Called an optical decision filter, the device was developed to detect crevices and boulders for unmanned moon jeeps.

Builder Sam S. Viglione of Douglas Aircraft's Astropower Electronics Laboratory said the same principles could be used in making instruments to:

1. Recognize fingerprints, signatures or even human faces and then unlock doors and bank vaults.

2. Pinpoint storm centers as they develop beneath orbiting satellites.

3. Guide spaceships through a starfield while the pilots sleep.

The prototype device, which has been miniaturized from a roomful of instruments, fits in a suitcase. Viglione said further research could reduce the size to a three-pound object nine inches long.

It is basically a tiny computer which has been taught to identify 200,000 three-dimensional shapes. It has 400 photo cells in the retina of its "eye" and 400 logic units in its "brain."

The device is sensitive to visible light rays, which enables it to guide vacuum cleaners around furniture and moon jeeps around obstacles.

It could be made sensitive, Viglione says, to other kinds of signals, such as sonar for submarine detection, or the types of electromagnetic radiation given off by superheated missile warheads as they re-enter the atmosphere.

The key to its usefulness is the ability to distinguish between an almost unlimited number of signal patterns, and do it faster than a man can think.

It's expensive now. Viglione declined to discuss costs pending negotiation of contracts for aerospace applications. But mass production, he said, will bring the cost within reach of the average consumer.

Labor, Too, Balks At Kennedy's Plan

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy is finding labor just as hard to convert to his new guidelines for a booming economy as he found many leaders of big business and many top men in Congress.

A developing clash with labor could be one of the highlights of the struggle to get the economy moving faster—supposing the government can do it. And labor's own view of the guidelines is sure to dominate much of next year's labor-management negotiations in many industries.

The labor-administration clash is over a shorter work week. The dispute of the administration with business is over the government's increasing role in collective bargaining and especially in monitoring price policies. The conflict with Congress in the economic field is over taxes and tariffs and spending among others—all tied to economic growth, jobs and prices.

Labor has told the President it is tired of waiting for a seemingly sidetracked boost to economic growth to find jobs for the 900,000 or more persons out of work many for long periods.

The union leaders' idea is that a 35-hour week instead of a 40-hour week either would furnish more jobs to get the same amount of production or would counteract some of the inroads of automation on factory and office employment.

The administration says it will stand firm on the 40-hour week as the norm. The President thinks that in some lines more work rather than less may be needed to get the economy moving fast enough to put all the nation's capacity in operation and all its labor force to work.

And a 35-hour week at the same pay as a 40-hour one would add to the pressure for higher prices. This the administration opposes—as witness its sharp reaction when steel companies tried to raise their prices last April.

As a matter of fact many labor contracts already call for less than a 40-hour week at standard pay. Anything over that brings extra pay. The most cited example is the 25-hour week won this year by electrical workers in the New York construction industry. But other contracts across the nation call for less than a 40-hour week.

The American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations is calling for a major drive to win more of these shorter week contracts as negotiations come up in the months ahead.

It also will ask Congress to cut the present statutory 40-hour week to 37 by amending the federal Fair Labor Standards Act.

Helium Plant Work Slated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interior Department said today the Bureau of Mines is preparing to modernize and enlarge helium purification plants in the South west.

Bureau Director Marling Ankeny has established at Amarillo a five-member board to negotiate a contract under which designs and specifications will be developed for improved purification equipment.

The modernization is planned to keep pace with steadily rising demands for helium. The designs will incorporate the latest advances so the new equipment will be capable of processing greater volumes of helium.

The bureau will contract later for actual fabrication of the new units Ankeny said.

Amarillo is headquarters for helium field operations. Those interested in being considered in the negotiations for the contract for equipment designs and specifications must file proposals with the negotiating board by Sept. 21.

The consumption of helium has increased about 20 per cent each year since 1950. The increase is expected to continue.

To insure adequate supplies beyond 1980, the bureau is now in a large-scale conservation program in which private industry is building plants to extract helium now lost when natural gas containing it is burned as fuel.

The helium conserved under this program will be stored underground until needed. After storage, it must be purified before it can be used. Therefore the bureau is taking steps now to insure that adequate purification facilities are available when they are required.

Mayor, Boardmen In Strawn Ousted

STEPHENVILLE (AP)—The mayor and four councilmen of Strawn, in Palo Pinto County, were stripped of their offices Tuesday by a court order.

Dist. Judge W. J. Oxford ruled the officials failed to comply with election statutes.

Mayor R. D. Pruitt and Councilmen J. R. Hunt, R. L. Staggs, Joe Neeley and Wilson Unkert of Strawn were affected.

Oxford held for the plaintiff, R. W. Drake and others, because the four men did not take their oaths of office within 30 days after assuming city duties.

The judge said a special election can be called after 26 property-owning taxpayers of Strawn petition county commissioners.

Mrs. Potter died suddenly Monday morning in a Dallas hospital after being admitted an hour earlier.

DEAR ABBY

His Ignorance Is Obvious

DEAR ABBY: My sister has been in the State Mental Hospital for many years. Her brain was damaged at birth and there is no hope for recovery. My husband is ashamed of it and has asked me not to mention it to anyone. Our children are 4 and 7 and he says if they should hear of it we should deny it as he doesn't want them to know there is insanity in our family. I know he is wrong but he won't listen to me. Maybe he'll listen to you.

GETTING NOWHERE
DEAR GETTING: There are few families who have not had (or will not have) a relative with a mental illness. Our minds can suffer a breakdown just like our kidneys, livers or our hearts. A mental patient is as blameless for his condition as a cancer patient. Contact your local Mental Health Society and ask for free pamphlets. Your husband's ignorance need not be permanent.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a father who is so ignorant that all he can talk about is his job? When we sit down for a meal all he talks about is the different people he works with and what happened at the shop that day. I get so bored I could haul off and smack my old man in the mouth. I am 17.

FED-UP BOY
DEAR FED: Who is feeding you, Sonny? If it's your "old man," you had better keep quiet or else leave the table—hungry.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband was born he had brothers and sisters who were married and had children of their own. Consequently, my husband is younger than many of his nieces and nephews. One of his nieces is married to a man who is ten years older than I am, and he insists on calling me "AUNT MARY." He is related to me only through marriage and I resent this "Aunt Mary" business because he emphasizes the "AUNT" when there is a crowd around. I'd rather he called me "Mary." How can I get my point across?

AUNT MARY
DEAR AUNT MARY: Tell him, good-naturedly (when there is a crowd around), "Out of respect for my elders, I really shouldn't correct you in public, but won't you please call me 'Mary'?"

DEAR ABBY: I don't see why a 2-year-old child takes space in your column just because she does the Twist. My baby is ten months old and he can whistle and snap his fingers with both hands.

JFK Warms Guns For Campaigns

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is warming up his political September and October campaign against the administration of his administration. The President fired some bursts in Wednesday's news conference at assorted Republicans, at opponents of his social security-financed plan of health care for the elderly and at critics of his youngest brother, Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy.

In mid-campaign form, Kennedy picked former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey and GOP Sens. Kenneth B. Keating and Jacob K. Javits of New York as his Republican targets.

DIDN'T RESIST
When a reporter mentioned Keating's charge that action was being delayed on the Thurgood Marshall nomination by "ridiculous and unanswerable questions," Kennedy didn't resist the temptation to take a crack at Keating, Javits and Eisenhower.

The President said action on the nomination of Marshall, former official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, as a U.S. circuit court judge had been delayed too long. Marshall is a Negro.

But Kennedy said he has assurances the Senate will confirm Marshall before Congress adjourns. He added:

"In regard to Sen. Keating, I think it is interesting to point out that there were seven circuit court vacancies during the previous administration which the senators from New York had something to say about and Thurgood Marshall was not nominated on any of those occasions."

SWIPE AT IKE
Kennedy also took a swipe at Eisenhower's criticism of the moonshot program. In a magazine article recently, the former president said efforts to put a man on the moon added up to little more than a stunt. Kennedy said it was "important, vital."

Kennedy also said "We are second to the Soviet Union" in development of rocket boosters needed to carry heavy loads into space. He said "We are behind and we are going to be behind for a while" and "anybody who attempts to suggest that we are not behind misleads the American people." Eisenhower had told a London news conference Aug. 15: "I do not agree that they (the Russians) have a space lead or that there is a gap. I'm a little tired of that word gap."

Kennedy sailed into Humphrey for charging that a Senate Armed Services subcommittee investigation of stockpiling was—as a reporter put it—"a stab at the back of President Eisenhower."

LONG ASSOCIATION
Except for the four years he served in Eisenhower's cabinet, Humphrey has been associated for years with the Hanna mining interests.

The President said the M. A. Hanna Co. is being investigated in the stockpile probe—not Humphrey, except as a responsible official of the firm. Kennedy contended the firm made "extremely large profits with very little risk to the company" on nickel contracts.

"I can quite understand," he said, "the desire of some witnesses to identify themselves with President Eisenhower or to limit the investigation by charging that it is an attack on President Eisenhower, but I think the Congress ought to do its job."

Kennedy sat down firmly on the National Committee for an Effective Congress. This privately financed group, which says it supports "world-minded" candidates, suggested recently that Edward Kennedy's candidacy for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Massachusetts is hurting the President politically.

TART REPLY
"I think the people of Massachusetts can make a more effective judgment for a more effective Congress than even this committee," Kennedy replied tartly. "I think that they will."

Kennedy was asked if the defeat of Rep. James B. Frazier Jr., D-Tenn. and the close call Rep. J. Carlton Loser, D-Tenn., had in the primaries indicates opponents of his health care plan for the elderly are likely to have rough going.

He said he thinks his plan will be one of the factors the voters take into account in deciding on House members and senators.

Kennedy wasn't buying any suggestions that he endorse publicly a Democratic candidate to oppose GOP Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in New York. He said he wouldn't take any position on the matter but would leave the decision to the state Democratic convention next month.

Warning Signs For Maneuvers
AUSTIN, AP—Warning signs will be erected in eight counties during the Oct. 15-30 Army maneuvers the Highway Department said.

Maintenance crews also will closely patrol the roads to detect and repair at once any damage. Affected will be Mills, Brown, McCulloch, San Saba, Lampasas, Coryell, Hamilton and Comanche counties.

Area Students Begin Trek Back To School
LAMESA (SC)—A total of 6,134 students Monday are expected to begin the annual return to the classrooms as school resumes in the Dawson County area.

Students at Borden County High School in Gaff return on Aug. 27. Following them are Klondike students on Aug. 28. Union on Aug. 31, Dawson School in Welch on Sept. 3, and Lamesa, O'Donnell, Sands at Ackertly and Flower Grove all on Sept. 4.

Integration in the two-county area will be effected at O'Donnell where about 50 Negro students are expected to enroll in the previously all-white classrooms.

Sands has a new gym, home economics and science lab and cafeteria, while O'Donnell sports a new junior high school building and relocated administrative offices in the old junior high structure, which was renovated during the summer. Klondike built a new gym, cafeteria and vo-ag classroom during the summer. Extensive improvements are slated to begin at Dawson after the term opens.

Superintendents and expected enrollments at area schools include Abe Holder, Lamesa, 1,850; W. C. Vincent, Gaff, 2,500; Fred N. Criner, O'Donnell, 719; Fred N. Minter, Union, 150; C. L. Mitchell, Dawson, 290; R. N. Pierce, Ackertly, 450; J. L. Newbury, Flower Grove, 190; and A. L. Alford, Klondike, 245.

Small Fry Are Dead Serious About Game

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Baseball is serious business at the Little League World Series, or as serious as anything can be to a 12-year-old boy with braces on his teeth.

"The pillow fighters were eliminated along the way," says Don James, manager of the Kankakee, Ill. team.

"In one of the regional tournaments we played in, the kids on the other teams were up half the night, screaming running around and having pillow fights.

"Those teams didn't make it. Here it's serious business. Lights go out at 10 o'clock. All these boys are here to win."

Kankakee is one of the favorites. "We're in good shape," James says. "Oh, I think my center fielder is a little homesick, but he's coming around."

The Illinois team meets Pitman, N.J., today in one of the semi-final games. Monterrey, Mexico, and San Jose, Calif., meet in the second.

The other four teams, Kunitachi, Japan; Del Rio, Tex.; Stoney Creek, Ontario, Canada; and the team from the U.S. army post at Vienna, France, have dropped in to the consolation bracket.

Consolation games are scheduled for Friday and the championship game Saturday.

The four teams representing foreign areas add to the serious tone.

"The Japanese players are frisky, lively boys, but they seem to feel that it is important for them to make a good showing," said a little league official. "They are the first all-Japanese team we've ever had."

Also the Mexican boys are always very solemn. They have since Mexico won the series twice in 1957 and 1958. All the teams since then have appeared to feel that they have to live up to the other Mexican boys who won.

The Canadian squad had been downcast since the week-long series started. The best pitcher and hitter on the team, Don Carrigan, suffered an eye injury in the Canadian playoffs and was unable to play. Then in their first game here the No. 2 pitcher and hitter, Tommy Cope, stopped a line drive with his hand and is out for the series.

The team of American boys representing Europe also carried a burden into the competition. The European entry last year, American boys from Germany, not only failed to win a hit in three games, but never hit a ball out of the infield.

The present representatives from Potters, 200 miles from Paris, already have scored two runs and collected six hits in one losing game—to erase some bad memories.

106 Frosh Still On AFL Rosters

DALLAS AP—The American Football League has come through its first cutdown and more than a third of the rookies still are on the rosters.

The clubs had to trim to 43 by Tuesday. A second cut will be 38 next Tuesday. By Sept. 4 all must be down to the league limit of 33.

There were 106 rookies left after the initial cut. They include such notable starting team candidates as Lance Alworth of Arkansas, Bert Coan of Kansas and Jerry Robinson of Grambling. In San Diego, Curtis McCutcheon of Kansas for Dallas, Frank Star, Charles Frazier of Texas Southern for Houston. Not to mention Nick Buoniconti for Boston, a former backer, Jerry Tarr for Denver and all American Alex Kroil of Rutgers for New York.

Hidalgo County Loses In Meet

SHAWNEE, Okla. AP—Riverside (Calif.) advanced to the finals by edging Hidalgo County of Texas 5-4 Wednesday night in the Colt Baseball League World Series.

Riverside's opponent in Friday's finals will be decided in a game tonight between Hidalgo and Norfolk County, Va., each loser of one game in the double elimination tournament.

Norfolk lost Tuesday as the series opened but swamped Hamtramck, Mich., 13-7 Wednesday. Hamtramck was eliminated.

A tavern homer in the bottom of the fifth inning gave Riverside its margin of victory. Hidalgo opened the scoring with four runs in the third, and in the bottom of the next inning Riverside likewise got three runs.

HEFTY CHEERS FROM ALL THE GANG AT BOYS RANCH
Youths guests of Downtown Lions, later at Webb AFB

60 Lads From West Texas Boys Ranch Enjoy Local Hospitality

It was a toss-up whether the Downtown Lions or 60 lads from West Texas Boys Ranch enjoyed their meeting more.

The boys are on a tour of the area and were luncheon guests of the downtown Lions Wednesday at noon. Earlier they were entertained at a swim party at the Cosden Country Club.

During the afternoon Webb AFB conducted them on a tour of the base. They got to see T-37s, T-38s, and F-102s in action, went through the maintenance shops, the physiological training section and other points of interest.

The current tour is ranging from Winters and Brady to Midland and Andrews.

Members of the Boys Drama Club staged the program with a series of musical pantomimes, and they got a big assist from Roy Minear. Minear is president of the Boys Ranch. Bill Crooker, a local co-chairman, also was a guest of the club.

In charge of the young visitors was Morris Craig, executive di-

Ryan Joins SH Staff

The Big Spring State Hospital has announced the employment of a new staff psychologist, Charles W. Ryan. A native of Montague, Tex., Ryan had been with the 49th Armored Division at Fort Polk, La., for a year prior to coming here this week.

He is a graduate of North Texas State University at Denton, where he received his B.A., and he is now completing work on his master's degree. He was employed as staff psychologist at the Wichita Falls State Hospital for a year following his graduation.

In his new job here, he administers and interprets tests, gives therapy and does research.

School Opening Delay Will Be At Center Point

The story was right but the headline was wrong, and Gay Hill patrons were confused.

Gay Hill school will open Monday Aug. 27 as scheduled, Principal George Archer, reminded today.

It is at Center Point where school opening has been delayed until Sept. 4.

Gay Hill buses will run Monday morning to pick up the pupils.

Immediately after registration has been completed, they will be returned home—probably before noon. The first day of classes at Gay Hill will be Tuesday, and the cafeteria will be open on that day.

Lyndon Takes Friendly Texas Air To Lebanese

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson personally carried America's greetings to Lebanon today in a handshaking grass-roots visit with some of Beirut's people.

Halting his motorcade on the way to his hotel from the airport, Johnson chatted with boy watermelon vendors and Palestine refugees while diplomats milled about in the throng.

He shook hands and winked and said over and over: "I want you to know we are strong friends of your people. America is your friend."

At one point he asked a boy: "You want to go to America with me?"

The boy replied: "No, but I am grateful. I am only 11 years old."

The unscheduled stops, occurred only a few minutes after Johnson, his wife and the 34 other members of his party stepped off their military jet transport which brought them from Washington.

Lebanese showed they were well aware of the vice president's Texas roots. They put in rush orders for four flags of the Lone Star State to decorate Johnson's suite in Beirut's seaside Phoenix Hotel.

Special matchbooks proclaiming "Welcome to LBJ" were sprinkled around the suite and the hotel lobby.

One of the Middle East's best known papers in the French language, L'Orient, printed a front-page picture this morning of Johnson in cowboy hat astride a horse on his Texas ranch. The caption said: "This Texas horseman arrives today in Beirut in a flying office."

The finish coat will be poured early next week and we should have a good intersection. At least we are gratified with the many calls coming in complimenting the city's efforts in solving a bad problem," he said.

Traffic has continued to flow over the 100 feet torn out as city crews put in early and late hours to get the job done.

Intersection Work Is Partially Done

Curb and gutter were completed on the west side of Birdwell Lane at Eleventh Place Wednesday. Curbs are being poured on the east side today.

The prime coat for new pavement, to improve the drainage at the intersection, will be poured late today if everything goes according to plan.

Larry Crowley, city manager, said Thursday morning.

"The finish coat will be poured early next week and we should have a good intersection. At least we are gratified with the many calls coming in complimenting the city's efforts in solving a bad problem," he said.

Traffic has continued to flow over the 100 feet torn out as city crews put in early and late hours to get the job done.

Lightfoot Rites Slated Friday

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Dalton Lightfoot, 47, died Wednesday at 6:20 p.m. in the Root Memorial Hospital after an illness of several months.

He was born Oct. 16, 1914, in Johnson County and married Leona Martin Oct. 29, 1935, in Colorado City for five years and was a butcher. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. from the 3rd and Elm Streets Church of Christ. Burial will be in the Pyron Cemetery under the direction of the Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Lightfoot, Earth, Tex.; his widow, four sons, Earl Lightfoot and Ronnie Lightfoot, Abilene, and Gary Lightfoot and Kenny Lightfoot of Colorado City, one brother, Clarence Lightfoot, Hayward, Calif.; and two sisters, Mrs. Lottie Kasinger, Earth, and Mrs. Melba Shelton, San Leandro, Calif.

F A T OVERWEIGHT

Available to you without a doctor's prescription, our drug called ODRINEX. You must lose ugly fat in 7 days or your money back. No strenuous exercise, laxatives, massage or taking of so-called reducing candies, crackers or cookies, or chewing gum. ODRINEX is a tiny tablet and easily swallowed. When you take ODRINEX, you still enjoy your meals, still eat the foods you like, but you simply don't have the urge for extra portions because ODRINEX depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food. Your weight must come down, because as your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less, you weigh less. Get rid of excess fat and live longer. ODRINEX costs $1.00 and is sold on this GUARANTEE: If not satisfied for any reason (and return the package to your druggist) and get your full money back. No questions asked. ## Texan's Idea Brings Change In Foreign Aid

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the most basic changes in the foreign aid program in years has been brought about in large part through efforts of Texas Congressman Jim Wright.

An amendment he offered when the bill came up to extend the life of the program was accepted by a decisive vote. Now that the bill is law, State Department officials have been seeking his advice on the best ways to get the idea into operation.

The Wright plan calls for emphasis on making of loans rather than outright grants, and seeing that the money goes as directly as possible to individuals for such things as buying homes or farms or small businesses. This contrasts with the heretofore normal pattern of allocating money to foreign governments with the hope that it will trickle down and create more jobs.

Too much stress has been placed on big, grandiose projects too far removed from the plain citizens to have much real grass-roots impact, says Wright.

The aid now will be channeled so far as possible through cooperatives or savings and loan institutions, which will in turn let the money out on long-term, low interest rate basis to individuals.

Wright got the idea from a missionary in Peru, who told how lack of credit holds back advancement of the so-called little man there more than anything.

In addressing the House in support of his amendment, Wright said lack of progress of some nations seemed to be tied to lack of opportunities of its citizens.

"For generations," he continued, "a person born of average modest circumstances has been doomed to remain forever in those circumstances."

He has had no hope of bettering his lot or of creating a more hopeful future for his children. No hope for education, no hope of ever actually owning a house or a few acres of his own land.

Naturally this leads to unrest. It has spawned revolution after revolution.

AROUND THE CAPITAL

Returning to Dallas to live is Col. Frank Wozencraft and his wife, who have resided for years in Leesburg, Va., some 30 miles away while he practiced law here. Col. Wozencraft was mayor of Dallas about 40 years ago then one of the youngest heads of a major city in the nation.

The Texas Little League baseball champions, hailing from Del Rio, stopped here briefly en route to Norfolk, Va., to participate in the southern regional championship playoff. Rep. Clark Fisher, D-Tex., their congressman, welcomed them to town and saw them off on another plane to Norfolk.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will have no good excuse in the future for not having a dazzling shine on his shoes. A New York public relations firm hired by a shoe polish company said that on Johnson's 54th birthday, Aug. 27, he would be presented with a fancy shoe-shine box on behalf of the nation's bootblacks.

It is a custom-made, personalized shoe-shine box, containing a stream-lined electric shoe shiner, suitable for shining shoes of both Democrats and Republicans, said the announcement.

It was created by another ex bootblack who went on to become president of Esquire shoe care products, Irving J. Shattner.

Johnson as a youth shined shoes in his hometown of Johnson City to pick up extra spending money, it added.

A move to save historic old Belasco theater building from the demolition hammer has been launched by Rep. John Dowdy, D-Tex., who serves on the District of Columbia committee as well as the House Judiciary Committee.

He has introduced a resolution which would preserve the building and establish there a children's theater and an art center.

Thugs Terrorize Home To Force Youths Into Gang

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A woman reported a gang of juvenile thugs bombarded her home with rocks and threatened her family with death because her three young sons refused to join the gang.

Mrs. Roy Van Zandt said a half dozen members of the Grey Eagles gang stoned her house Tuesday night. It has happened before, she said.

Mrs. Van Zandt said she chased the boys off with some rocks of her own.

The gang is believed responsible for the shooting death of Henry Gomez, 14, in June. He was shot while swimming in a creek and police say it was because he refused to join the gang.

Bill Evans To Receive Degree

DENTON—Bill G. Evans, Big Spring, is one of 227 candidates for master's degrees to be awarded at North Texas State University tonight.

Commencement exercises were to be held at 8 p.m. at Fouts Field. There were 519 candidates for bachelor's degrees, 227 for master's degrees and seven for the doctor of education degree.

A 1957 graduate of Big Spring High School, Evans was a candidate for the master of music degree. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Evans, 2410 Johnson.

Busy Social Calendar Planned For Patients

With the aid of volunteer workers at the Big Spring State Hospital, patients keep an active social life with picnics, dances, club meetings and bingo parties. Among activities forthcoming is a picnic Friday for patients in the intensive treatment ward. The outing will be in the city Park where the patients will play ball and other outdoor sports as well as have a picnic lunch. A picnic is held once a month for patients in different wards.

Mrs. Haskell Beck, assistant volunteer coordinator, has announced that one of the Midland volunteers is teaching three dance classes each Friday for the benefit of ambulatory patients. She teaches classes in ballroom, folk and square dancing.

Mrs. Beck also announced that, in conjunction with a school-hospital program, 400 students from Abilene Christian College have been earning three hours credit each by observing in their capacity as volunteers.

The third meeting of the hospital Toastmasters Club was held Monday evening in the hospital classroom. The club, which meets twice a month, is sponsored by the Toastmasters and Toastmistresses Clubs of Big Spring. Purpose of the Toastmaster is to promote good speaking, poise and development of personality for both men and women patients.

Other recreational activities scheduled for patients this week include a dance Wednesday, a singing party for all wards at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, bingo for all wards at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, a charm class at 2 p.m. Friday, choir practice at 3:30 p.m. Saturday and games in the canteen at 7 p.m. that day, church services for all wards at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

No Back-Combing

Geraldine Brooks, Perry Mason star, finds that her new hair style is much easier to keep than one that has to be back-combed. Her new haircut is full in the front and on the sides and close-cropped in the back. She says there is no substitute for a professional haircut.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Simple Hairdo Looks Pretty On Geraldine

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—When Geraldine Brooks flew West for a Perry Mason show, we lunched at CBS. She was wearing a new hairstyle that had fullness in front and a close-cropped look in the back. It is an practical for summer and sports, and the way it is cut I just brush it and comb it and one layer falls on top of the other to make fullness without back-combing. I have never known such freedom," she declared. "There are lots of things you can do yourself, but there is no substitute for a professional hair cut." Geraldine's latest hobby is, a class that combines modern dance, pantomime and singing. You exercise every muscle and gain control and grace she said. To prove this, she applied her hand through the air with the grace of a fish swimming. The trick, she continued, is to bring into play every little home in the back of your hand. It takes time but broken down, it's a matter of concentration and practice. And it's a great exercise to keep your hands young. Geraldine was wearing a coral pink nail polish that she said was a non-allergic brand. Not so long ago, my face broke out and when the doctor took patch tests, he discovered I had a reaction from lanolin. It is amazing how many things I can't use because there is lanolin in them. But there is a large choice in cosmetics that are carefully tested for allergies. Thank heavens, I discovered the cause of my trouble," Geraldine said in parting. "because there is nothing that robs you of poise and self-confidence like a face full of blemishes."

1910 GREGG OPEN NIGHTLY UNTIL 3 O'CLOCK 501 W. 3rd

A Devotional For The Day

Let brotherly love continue. Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares. (Hebrews 13:1-2.)
PRAYER: Loving Father, we thank Thee for the gift of Christians — parents and friends — who have taught us much about unselfish love. May we be ever mindful of the needs of others. Teach us, most of all, to love as Jesus loved. In His name. Amen.
(From The Upper Room)

The Pressure Buildup

The Berlin buildup is under way again. More than a year ago this perpetual point of tension witnessed successive incidents which created a near crisis. The President reacted with a firm declaration of policy and backed it with a recall to active duty for several National Guard and reserve units.
This crisis like those before it and the one now in the making was generated by Russia. Unable to stand the damning evidence that given a chance, people will flee from the happy Soviet paradise, Russia erected a Wall of Shame to hold in the East Germans. On the anniversary of this wall, tension mounted and at least one incident, the shooting of an East German youth by Red guards, threatened to trigger explosive violence in this powder house.
With the worst of this transient threat past, Russia now has announced withdrawal of its command from West Berlin, announcing that henceforth contact will have to be made with East Berlin garrisons.

This is interpreted as a part of a campaign of pressure to oust Western garrisons from West Berlin. There will be other devices, and pressure can well increase.
We made it plain before that we are in Berlin because we have a right to be in Berlin. If Russia is probing for signs of softening, then it is time to make it clear again that we are going to stay there so long as there is need for us to do so to protect our rights and those of our allies. This calls for a stubborn resoluteness on our part no matter how ticklish the situation may get.

What's Wrong With Competition?

It now appears that a major portion of the President's transportation policy proposals will not be tackled let alone be enacted by Congress this session.
Several of the proposals have been referred to boards and commissions for study or recommended reforms. Many more, however, are bottled-up in congressional committees.
Like any general suggestion, the policy statement may have points of varying merit. However, we fail to see where the basic theory of removing barriers—notably the railroads—from excessive regulation is anything but fundamentally sound. They were shackled in a day when the rails suddenly rocketed into a transportation monopoly. That condition has long since ceased to exist, the shackles remain.

What is wrong with permitting railroads to get into the market place and slug it out on rates? One proposal is to remove minimums on most passenger and freight rates. Maximums would be pegged to protect the public against excessive charges.
Right off, the inequity of rails having to quote a fixed rate while competing carriers are free to make their own rates would disappear. Griefs of anguish would go up from those who have enjoyed this rate sanctuary, but the public would get more service for less money. Railroads want a chance to compete, not a stifling constrictiveness that would lead to the temptation of subsidy.

David Lawrence Sound Tax Reforms Needed

WASHINGTON—Two phrases have appeared conspicuously in the press in recent weeks. One is "tax reduction" and the other is "tax reform." The first is easily understood widely known and popular. The second is relatively unknown, misunderstood and could be popular or unpopular depending on how it is applied.
The purpose of both tax reduction and tax reform nowadays is supposed to be "to get the economy going again"—to cause money to be spent by consumers and funds to be made available for business expansion and modernization so that costs can be lowered.

achievements in the field of education. Charitable work would be one of the biggest single beneficiaries if citizens of high incomes had their tax rate reduced.
THE PEOPLE WITH large earnings are the ones who were successful by use of their energies over the years or their skills or their inventive talents. But these abilities are frequently stunted nowadays by the feeling that there is little use in trying to increase earnings because the government will take it anyway.
It is in the field of tax regulation, however, that reforms are most urgently needed. Abuses of deductions for expense accounts, such as for cars, to be corrected, and Congress during the current session is giving attention to this very subject. There are other abuses too, but in the main, tax reform is needed in those fields where it can do most to stimulate business expansion, increase employment opportunities and promote a sound growth of the national economy. For this would bring to the Treasury substantial revenues.

SOMETHING VERY positive however, will have to be done to bring about a change of thinking among those bureaucrats in the Treasury Department who write the technical regulations and submit them to a bewildered Congress, most of whose members are uninformed on the meaning of these technical questions. Only a few committee members in Congress have studied the subject at all.
For years now there has been a glib reply given to those who say that taxes ought to be fair, equitable and stimulating rather than a barrier to business growth. The comment from the Treasury usually is: "You're right, the regulation is fair, equitable, but the government needs the money."

WHAT IS DESIRABLE is a new approach to the problem and if possible a disinterested one. The Treasury is prejudiced because it looks only at the gain or loss in revenues from tax changes and refuses to take a long look ahead since it is naturally concentrating on this fiscal year or the year immediately following.
WHAT IS NEEDED today is a selection by the President of a national commission of outstanding citizens, already familiar with taxation in theory and in practice who could make a non-political report to congressional committees by next January or February. The commission's aim should be the formulation of a five- or ten-year program with a set of principles on the subject of federal spending while at the same time leaving to the states certain categories of taxation that can provide them also with revenues over a given period of time. In the attempt to focus on a single year's figures, the need to build a sound economy on a long-range basis is being overlooked.

THIS IS A short-sighted view. For it stifles and strangles the economy and prevents it from growing as soundly as it should. As for revenues, a change in a given regulation might indeed cut down some revenues temporarily, but in the long run, it can also build them up.
There seems to be a misunderstanding too of how people will spend money that they save on taxes, and as to what is likely to be done by way of constructive spending for the good of the national economy.

A MAN OF SMALL means who gets a few extra dollars a year from a tax cut might spend it for necessities and it can amount to a great deal for him. But very little is heard of what could happen if the top tax rate were cut, for instance, from 91 per cent down to 45 per cent. People of means already have the necessities of life. If they have surplus funds due to savings or tax rates, they would be the first to invest that surplus in business expansion. They can hardly find things to buy for themselves for here indeed is to be found "the man who had everything." Many such persons just give away all their cash. Private philanthropy in America has for a long time been the chief support of human welfare and of the Big Spring Herald.

Look Without A Window

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Hunter Look has his sign posted in his sporting goods store.
"Bat inspection free. Bat swinging $33 per swing."
Look put up the sign after numerous customers broke his plate glass windows while trying out the feel of a baseball bat before buying it.

Quip Follows Bird

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — A bird flew in and out of the pulpit of the Harry Browne Memorial Presbyterian Church just as a quip minister was being introduced.
The minister, Dr. Albert C. Winn, a proponent of doctrinal theology, entered the pulpit and commented.
"There was one bird here, now there's another. He left when he was introduced as a professor of theology."

Oil And Water

SALINA, Kan. — Too much sun lotion forced the closing of the swimming pool of the officers' club at Schilling Air Force base.
Officials said swimmers failed to take showers to remove lotion before entering the pool. Oil accumulated on the sides of the pool and it was temporarily closed for cleaning.

TERMITES IN THE CLUB

James Marlow Kennedy-Ike Relations Rougher

WASHINGTON (AP) — The pleasant relationship between President Kennedy and former President Eisenhower is getting increasingly abusive.
No name-calling, no personal attacks, but blistering criticism of each other's administrations.
Several times in moments of deep concern he took office, Kennedy has sought out Eisenhower to talk with him. This was a switch for Eisenhower, whose relations with his predecessor, former president Truman, were frigid.
BUT TWICE within 10 days, Kennedy has traced two of this country's most vital troubles—the space race with Russia and the economy—back to Eisenhower as troubles he inherited.
Eisenhower's criticism of his successor in the White House has picked up steam over the past three months.
A month ago today he said the Kennedy administration "is floundering, thrashing aimlessly about" while doing things he said have started the whole nation to question its ability to comprehend.
A month before he said he believes Kennedy is in the clutches of the "big spenders." He had acutely criticized the Kennedy farm program before and after the House killed it with all but one Republican voting against it.
IN HIS television talk to the nation Aug. 13—after the Russians had shot their orbital twins into space—Kennedy admitted the United States was behind but had started late in the 1950s.
Eisenhower, whose administration spanned most of the 1950s, said Aug. 15 in London he does not agree with those who say the Russians have a space lead over the United States.
"I do not agree," he said, "that they (the Russians) have a space lead or that there is a gap. I'm a little tired of that word gap."
At his news conference Wednesday, Kennedy—saying anything who attempts to suggest we are not behind misleads the American people—stressed.
"We are second to the Soviet Union in long-range boosters. I have said from the beginning we have started late, but I believe before the end of this decade is out, the United States will be ahead."
EARLIER THIS month in the Saturday Evening Post Eisenhower said he doubted the wisdom of racing the Soviets to put a man on the moon and criticized the Kennedy administration for spending too much on the space race.
Kennedy, as if answering the spending complaint, said Wednesday.
"We are well behind but we are making a tremendous effort. We increased after I took office, after four months we increased the budget for space by 50 per cent over that of my predecessor."
The fact of the matter is that this year we submitted a space budget which was greater than the combined eight space budgets of the previous eight years. So this country is making a fast effort which is going to be much bigger next year, and the years to come, and represents a very heavy burden upon us all."
LAST JUNE 1 Eisenhower said he and other Republican leaders are "deeply concerned about the direction in which our economy seems to be going" under the Kennedy administration.
But in his Aug. 13 talk on the economy Kennedy said he inherited recession from Eisenhower when he took office Jan. 20, 1961 and that under him the country has had to recover from two Eisenhower recessions in 1958 as well as 1961.

Jerry Pillard More Taxes For Texans?

AUSTIN (AP) — Texans may have to pay more taxes after the legislature meets in January.
Four months of hearings on budget requests disclosed that agencies of state government are asking for more than $600 million in increased spending.
Tom Keel of the Legislative Budget Board said in a preliminary report that a tax bill of the requests are granted by the legislature.
Some legislators who went home last time thinking they solved the deficit and spending problem will be surprised when they face it again, Keel said.
The last legislature enacted the two per cent sales tax, a plan drawn up to raise about $220 million each two years.
The present appropriation bill to run state government through Aug. 31, 1963 is $1.5 billion. The agencies are requesting nearly $3.2 billion for the next two-year fiscal period.
Legislators have allowed state government costs to grow about 10 per cent each year. Keel said. If the new legislature follows the pattern, $250 million in new money must be raised.
Some suggested that the sales tax be increased to three or four per cent.
Another suggestion is to take out the present exemptions, such as groceries.
Public and college education are the hardest for the legislature to turn down.
The minimum foundation program calls for the legislature to raise $96 million more for public schools, plus $8 million more in state money for the teacher retirement program.
Colleges ask about $80 million in added money for the 2 years. The University of Houston, which comes under state support Sept. 1, 1963, is asking $20.5 million of this.
State hospitals and special schools with a current appropriation of $111 million for the two fiscal years, seek $146 million.

Inez Robb Civil Defense Masquerade

So far, since World War II, all official efforts toward civil defense have resulted in a feeble and farcical boondoggle.
Since the last major Berlin crisis a year ago, there was another sudden flurry about shelters for the faceless taxpayer, we have mercifully been spared the usual, ineffective civil defense yak out of Washington and various state capitols.
IN THE INTERLUDE, we taxpayers have gone about the business of earning a living and ponying up taxes for nuclear warfare. We have been—or, at least, I have been—grateful that officialdom has stopped its long and futile tangle of wringing its hands over the fate of us civilians and doing nothing about it—doing nothing except releasing horrifying statistics and prophecies about the mass-slaughter capabilities "love that word" "capabilities" of multi-megaton bombs. That, plus the difficulty and the frightful expense of saving civilians.
At least, we taxpayers haven't had to listen to all that monotonous old clatter in recent months. And my tired ears had begun to perk up.
BUT THE PEACE that passeth understanding has been shattered by Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. He has just informed President Kennedy that "the public" (that's you and me, honey) hasn't been sold on civil defense and is not aware that fallout shelters are essential to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness and the quarterly tax return.
Only the fact that Rep. Vinson is so old that he is automatically referred to as "venerable" (78, to be exact) keeps me from crying "baloney" or resorting to a Bronx cheer.
SUCCESSFUL politicians are eternally underestimating the intelligence of the public, probably because we elect them

Eisenhower, whose administration spanned most of the 1950s, said Aug. 15 in London he does not agree with those who say the Russians have a space lead over the United States.
"I do not agree," he said, "that they (the Russians) have a space lead or that there is a gap. I'm a little tired of that word gap."
At his news conference Wednesday, Kennedy—saying anything who attempts to suggest we are not behind misleads the American people—stressed.
"We are second to the Soviet Union in long-range boosters. I have said from the beginning we have started late, but I believe before the end of this decade is out, the United States will be ahead."
EARLIER THIS month in the Saturday Evening Post Eisenhower said he doubted the wisdom of racing the Soviets to put a man on the moon and criticized the Kennedy administration for spending too much on the space race.
Kennedy, as if answering the spending complaint, said Wednesday.
"We are well behind but we are making a tremendous effort. We increased after I took office, after four months we increased the budget for space by 50 per cent over that of my predecessor."
The fact of the matter is that this year we submitted a space budget which was greater than the combined eight space budgets of the previous eight years. So this country is making a fast effort which is going to be much bigger next year, and the years to come, and represents a very heavy burden upon us all."
LAST JUNE 1 Eisenhower said he and other Republican leaders are "deeply concerned about the direction in which our economy seems to be going" under the Kennedy administration.
But in his Aug. 13 talk on the economy Kennedy said he inherited recession from Eisenhower when he took office Jan. 20, 1961 and that under him the country has had to recover from two Eisenhower recessions in 1958 as well as 1961.

Jerry Pillard More Taxes For Texans?

AUSTIN (AP) — Texans may have to pay more taxes after the legislature meets in January.
Four months of hearings on budget requests disclosed that agencies of state government are asking for more than $600 million in increased spending.
Tom Keel of the Legislative Budget Board said in a preliminary report that a tax bill of the requests are granted by the legislature.
Some legislators who went home last time thinking they solved the deficit and spending problem will be surprised when they face it again, Keel said.
The last legislature enacted the two per cent sales tax, a plan drawn up to raise about $220 million each two years.
The present appropriation bill to run state government through Aug. 31, 1963 is $1.5 billion. The agencies are requesting nearly $3.2 billion for the next two-year fiscal period.
Legislators have allowed state government costs to grow about 10 per cent each year. Keel said. If the new legislature follows the pattern, $250 million in new money must be raised.
Some suggested that the sales tax be increased to three or four per cent.
Another suggestion is to take out the present exemptions, such as groceries.
Public and college education are the hardest for the legislature to turn down.
The minimum foundation program calls for the legislature to raise $96 million more for public schools, plus $8 million more in state money for the teacher retirement program.
Colleges ask about $80 million in added money for the 2 years. The University of Houston, which comes under state support Sept. 1, 1963, is asking $20.5 million of this.
State hospitals and special schools with a current appropriation of $111 million for the two fiscal years, seek $146 million.

Inez Robb Civil Defense Masquerade

So far, since World War II, all official efforts toward civil defense have resulted in a feeble and farcical boondoggle.
Since the last major Berlin crisis a year ago, there was another sudden flurry about shelters for the faceless taxpayer, we have mercifully been spared the usual, ineffective civil defense yak out of Washington and various state capitols.
IN THE INTERLUDE, we taxpayers have gone about the business of earning a living and ponying up taxes for nuclear warfare. We have been—or, at least, I have been—grateful that officialdom has stopped its long and futile tangle of wringing its hands over the fate of us civilians and doing nothing about it—doing nothing except releasing horrifying statistics and prophecies about the mass-slaughter capabilities "love that word" "capabilities" of multi-megaton bombs. That, plus the difficulty and the frightful expense of saving civilians.
At least, we taxpayers haven't had to listen to all that monotonous old clatter in recent months. And my tired ears had begun to perk up.
BUT THE PEACE that passeth understanding has been shattered by Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. He has just informed President Kennedy that "the public" (that's you and me, honey) hasn't been sold on civil defense and is not aware that fallout shelters are essential to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness and the quarterly tax return.
Only the fact that Rep. Vinson is so old that he is automatically referred to as "venerable" (78, to be exact) keeps me from crying "baloney" or resorting to a Bronx cheer.

Around The Rim Candidate For Preventive Maintenance

Sometime ago, city crews reclaimed a street that had all but been relegated to pastureland. That was Scurry, from Eighteenth down to about 15th Street, or thereabouts.
What had been an obstacle course of mammoth cracks and bottomless holes, was transformed into a reasonably passable street. In fact, there are few in town that can surpass this particular stretch. In addition, the city crews installed drainage ditches, rather than curbs, to move the water through the area without taking half the adjoining property owners' front yard.
BY AND LARGE, this experiment in street repair was a success. It sidestepped the issue of a regular paving program that would have included regular curb and gutter and given more permanent paving. But at this point, the job seems to have been well worth the efforts and money spent on it.
No extra appropriations were required to "pave" that stretch. The money came from the regular street maintenance funds. It indicates what can be done in extreme problem areas.
With schools almost open again, another problem street comes to mind, Goliad.

PROBABLY FEW dirt streets in Big Spring get more traffic than this street. It is a street that the motorist can hardly by-pass, if he has a youngster assigned to either of these schools, particularly if he lives south of this area. And Goliad, is the only street available to serve the area.
This section of street was struck from a previous paving program for various reasons, most of which were connected with adjoining property owners. But a less permanent pavement could be installed, such as was tried on Scurry. If not that, then stabilization such as was used in portions of the North Side.
TEMPORARY PAVING projects are certainly not the best way to spend money, but this street needs paving of some kind. If permanent paving is unobtainable, then temporary paving is the next best thing.
The Scurry Street problem was solved; surely the city can do the same for Goliad, where the traffic is probably just as heavy during school months.

U. S. Nuclear Subs Engage In Polar Hunt

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hide-and-seek maneuver by two U.S. Navy atomic submarines under polar ice points to the way a deep and deadly war could be fought in the Arctic.

President Kennedy announced the hitherto secret operation to a news conference Wednesday, saying that the submarines Skate and Seadrider had made "historic rendezvous" under the ice, then surfaced through an opening at the North Pole.

"This," said Kennedy, "is the first time that two of our submarines have worked together in this manner under the arctic ice pack and I want to congratulate all of those involved in this exceptional technical feat."

STARTED JULY 31

The submarine versus submarine operation started July 31 and concluded when the two ships surfaced Aug. 2. Navy experts consider it a major tactical demonstration that antismun submarine warfare in the hostile and weird environment of the ice-capped Arctic Ocean seems feasible in the event of hostilities.

Another phase of submarine warfare, rocket firing by submarines, creates urgent requirement for countermeasures. Russia is beginning to build and send to sea atomic submarines. One of the logical launching points for any Soviet submarine rocket attack on the United States and Canada would be the Arctic Ocean.

The U.S. Navy maintains a barrier patrol across one route for Russian submarines into the Atlantic. That barrier extends eastward from Greenland to Iceland and the Faroe Islands. But the Arctic Ocean, on which Russia borders is wide open.

DEFENSE NEEDED

If Russia should begin deploying rocket submarines under the ice, the United States must create a defensive system. The only apparent means are attack submarines, perhaps sent out on weeks-long patrols to listen electronically under the ice—a new barrier line.

Until now, the United States had no actual experience in submarine hunting in polar areas. Although atomic subs have been exploring and mapping the ocean floor of the area since 1956, they have worked singly and purely on exploration and crew training missions.

But on July 31, the Skate, coming up from the Atlantic and the Seadrider, from the Pacific, received radioed orders to start hunting each other.

Navy sources said this was a realistic operation, with each submarine using all its equipment and technique for evasion and search—a duel between submalines such as would occur in actual arctic engagement.

WEIRD CONDITIONS

The conditions were unlike anything encountered in years of actual and practice antismun submarine warfare.

In the Arctic, pressure ridges of ice, extending downward as well as above the surface, create inverted "mountains" behind which a submarine can hide. The normal problem of penetrating thermal layers of water in vertical probes by sonar is complicated with the horizontal blocks imposed by pressure ridges and occasional bergs.

Water temperatures, which affect the performance of both active and passive sonar, are far different from even the cold waters of the North Atlantic.

Here, in the naturally hostile environment, with the surface sealed off by ice, there would be little chance for escape by a wounded submarine. The contest would mean kill or be killed.

Area Students Receive Summer Degrees At Tech

LUBBOCK—Four students from Big Spring and several area students received bachelor's degrees in ceremonies Aug. 5 at Texas Tech. They were among 300 summer graduates.

Big Spring graduates, and their study fields, are: David DeVere Chamberlin, psychology; David Gordon Wilson, mathematics; Michael Ray Musgrave, management; and Elbert Claude Miller Jr., electrical engineering.

Area students graduating are Jimmy Wayne Davey, Garden City, agricultural education; Joseph Walter Emery, Sterling City, government; Ola Throya Naehlinger, Hermleigh, English; Wanda June Addison, Lamesa, elementary education; Alice B. Gunn, Welch, elementary education; Ronald Owen Kutch, finance; Doyle Wesley Cornett, Lamesa, mechanical engineering; Bruce Boyd Ablene, agricultural economics; Nancy Carolyn McCall, Midland, sociology; Morris Baxter, geology; Randall George Pendleton and Fred Mitchell Satterwhite, Andrews, social science and general science, respectively; Julian Curtis Hart, electrical engineering.

Briton Killed As Jet Hits Houses

BURY ST. EDMUNDS, England (AP)—A U.S. Super Sabre jet fighter crashed into a row of houses Wednesday, tore the roof off one and killed one Briton.

The pilot bailed out and was uninjured. He is Lt. John E. Malone of the 49th Squadron of the 48th Tactical Fighter Wing. His home was given as Tallahassee, Fla. The body of the Englishman was found hours later under the wreckage.

Farm Families Turning More To FHA For Financial Help

Lee R. Tunnell, local county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, announced that $374,860 was borrowed by farm families and other rural people in Howard and Glasscock counties in the fiscal year 1962, which ended on June 30. This compares with $321,900 during fiscal year 1961.

It has been announced by the Farmers Home Administration that it had loaned farm families and other rural people of the nation a record $637,000,000 in fiscal year 1962. Total loans in 1961, nationally, totalled $395,700,000 and for 1960 $328,900,000.

Nearly 57 per cent of the total loaned during fiscal 1962 went for farm operating expenses, almost 33 per cent for the purchase, development or enlargement of

Rescued In Brazilian Plane Crash

Survivors clamber aboard a rescue launch in Guanabara Bay, Rio de Janeiro, after a Brazilian jetliner veered off the runway of a nearby airport and plunged into the water. The craft, with 104 persons aboard, was taking off for Europe when the accident occurred.

15 Communist Ships En Route To Cuba; U.S. Keeping Tabs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifteen Communist ships were reported en route to Cuba today.

They are in addition to 16 vessels said to have docked at Cuban ports late last month with an estimated 3,000 to 5,000 Communist bloc technicians plus large quantities of goods including weapons.

President Kennedy said at his news conference Wednesday the U.S. government has information that Red "supplies and technicians of rather intensive quantity in recent weeks" have been landing on the Caribbean island.

Kennedy gave no figures, but said there is no information that Russian soldiers have come to Cuba or that the Communist aid is a buildup for an invasion of another country.

The President declined to assess the significance of the stepped-up assistance to the Communist-linked regime of Fidel Castro, saying "We are examining it now."

Other U.S. authorities indicated they do not yet know what the Reds are up to.

One speculation is that Moscow wants to strengthen the Communist hold on Cuba by sending in large numbers of technicians

JFK Sees Space Gap Closure By End Of Decade

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says the United States is pouring billions of dollars and a tremendous effort into overtaking Russia in space—and I think by the end of the decade we will.

This was a sort of hopeful look at long-term prospects in response to a news conference question Wednesday about Russia's orbiting of two cosmonauts.

It was tempered by mention an even dozen times that this country now is behind, second, or late or that the Soviets have a lead. Kennedy said "Anybody who attempts to suggest that we are not behind, misleads the American people."

who will operate in key positions. Another is that the Cuban economy is sagging so badly that the Communist bloc has decided massive aid is needed to revive its Western Hemisphere ally.

It is speculated also that the Communist help—while not of the kind for any large scale foreign attack—will augment efforts to export communism from Cuba to other Latin American countries through subversive means.

Reports reaching Washington are unclear as to the nationality of technicians who have been arriving in recent weeks.

The information has been imprecise also as to the exact nature of the cargoes. One reason is that cargoes have been unloaded in secrecy by Communist bloc personnel.

Available information indicates that among items inside crates taken off the ships, have been tanks, trucks, communications gear and modern small arms.

Irrigation Can Build Up Salt

COLLEGE STATION — Nearly one-fourth of Texas farmland is under irrigation and thus subject to possible "salting-up," according to L-570, "Test for Water Quality and Soil Salinity" recently published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The bulletin explains that salts put in the soil by irrigation water accumulate and can cause poor soil structure, trapping of water, and toxicity to crops. These salts in the water remain behind when the water is used by the plant or evaporates, and large amounts can easily be accumulated.

Symptoms of excess salts in the soil are yellowed leaves, shedding of leaves, and stunted growth or death of the plants due to reduced intake of water into the plants. Methods recommended by the bulletin to remedy the salted conditions include leaching the soil, irrigation more often, plant salt tolerant crops and using good cropping practices.

The new bulletin also discusses the testing of water and soil salinity for irrigation farmers, a new service of the Texas A&M Soil Testing Laboratory which was begun on Aug. 16. This service may be used in the same way that the soil testing lab is used and the information sheets necessary for the tests are available from your county agent or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station.

"Test for Water Quality and Soil Salinity" may also be obtained from the Agricultural information office.
