Behind The Footlights

Niki Lettunich of El Paso was the star of the District 6 Farm Bureau Queen contest Thursday evening when she was crowned queen for 1963. The photographer caught her beauty highlighted by footlights.

El Paso Entry Wins FB District Contest

By KAY LOVELAND

For the second consecutive year an El Paso County beauty topped the District 6 Farm-Bureau Queen title.

Niki Lettunich of that county Thursday night at HCCJ auditorium walked off with the district crown which entitles her to compete in the state contest at San Antonio in November.

Runner-up was Ann Yater representing Martin County. The other four contestants were Barbara Mikulik, Tom Green County; Donna Warren, Dawson County; Judy Roman, Howard County; and Nell Hanson, Gaines County.

Miss Lettunich, a 19-year-old blonde-haired, blue-eyed contestant, is a junior at Texas Western College in El Paso where she is majoring in speech therapy. She is valedictorian of her high school class in Clint, a winner of state competition in the Interscholastic League for declamation and poetry interpretation and a member of the one-act play cast competing in the Interscholastic League.

She is also El Paso's representative to the National Fashion Board, as well as a member of McCall's Fashion Board and chairman of the White House Conference on Youth in Washington.

Top beauty at Texas Western she has been named best dressed coed, Miss El Paso Rodeo, Miss Texas Western runner-up, Miss Perfect Posture runner-up and as an active member of the women's auxiliary to Providence Memorial Hospital. She holds an office in Delta Delta Delta sorority and was a member of the east of The Children's Hour, which was a TWC summer project.

Miss Yater, a senior at Stanton High School, is a cheerleader, editor of the annual, member of the student council and treasurer of FHA.

As winner of the contest, Miss Lettunich won an expense-paid trip to the state contest in addition to being presented a bouquet of roses and a token gift. She will go to national competition in December at Atlanta, Ga.

Contestants were judged on a basis of poise, personality and appearance. All of them were required to give talks on "Why I Am Glad My Family Is a Member of Farm Bureau," as well as answer questions.

Prepares Program Of Pulse-Feeling

Farm Bureau representatives more than three score strong trotted out an assortment of topics for policy discussions here Thursday as a preparation for pulse feeling at the local level.

No decisions were reached at the meeting of district No. 6 delegates at the Settles during the afternoon. These will come from the county conventions and be aired at the state gathering.

Suggestions from delegates just about covered the water front. For instance, these were tossed into the hopper: labor minimum wages, cost-price squeeze farm program, research, federal deficit spending, states' rights, soil and water conservation, water policy, foreign aid policy, federal aid to education, roads, individual rights, medical aid to the aged, postal services.

Farm Bureau staff members added a few, both on the state and national levels. They asked for instructions on taxes, more

Nation's Wheat Farmers Vote For Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's wheat farmers have voted to continue controls on their crop, but by the smallest margin in 12 such tests since 1941.

In Texas the totals were 3,592 for and 3,261 against the program. Unofficial returns from the 39 commercial wheat states where balloting in the referendum was conducted Thursday gave 161,242 for and 74,454 against marketing quotas designed to restrict production in order to reduce costly surpluses.

This was a favorable margin of 68.4 per cent. Approval by at least 66.7 per cent—two-thirds—of the growers voting was required. Last year quotas were approved by an 87.4 per cent margin. The previous low was 73.3 per cent for the 1955 crop.

Returns in 16 states fell below the two-thirds level. These included Kansas, the No. 1 wheat producing state, as well as such other major producers as Colorado and Montana.

SPECULATION

The decline in the support for controls started speculation in farm and political circles in view of the Kennedy administration's desire for tighter farm controls. Of immediate interest was the possibility of the referendum might have on pending legislation.

The control program ran into sharp opposition from farm bureau organizations in many states. These organizations want to end controls and make a downward adjustment in price supports.

The program will allot 55 million acres to farmers for planting for the 1963 crop. It also would set marketing quotas which would limit sales to production on each farm's allotment. Excess sales would be subject to a penalty tax.

BIG SURPLUS

This program is the one under which the present big surplus has piled up. The Kennedy administration had asked Congress to pass legislation authorizing tighter controls. But no decision was made by the legislators in time to submit such a program to the referendum of growers, many of whom are now starting to plant wheat for next year's harvest.

Under the approved program, wheat next year will be supported at $1.82 a bushel, compared to $2.00 a bushel. The rate was higher this year because farmers were required under a one-year, emergency program, to reduce plantings 10 per cent below their share of the 55 million national allotment.

Other crops being grown under controls include cotton, major types of tobacco, peanuts, and rice.

7 Of County's 9 Wheat Men Favor Quotas

Seven of Howard County's wheat farmers favor quotas on wheat production for 1963, one is opposed to wheat quotas and the ninth man in the county who plants wheat didn't bother to vote.

These were the results of Thursday's wheat referendum election in Howard County, conducted by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Gabe Hammack, ASC office manager, said the land allotted for wheat in 1963 is approximately 1,900 acres. What wheat is grown in this county is on farms in the northeast part of the county, Hammack said.

Rocket Aloft

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)—Space agency scientists sent a four-stage Scout rocket aloft today in an experiment aimed at learning what kind of heat shields are needed on space vehicles returning to earth at speeds of about 18,000 miles an hour.

Stock Market Moves Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Selected issues were in demand and the stock market moved a bit higher today in dull trading.

Volume was about 2.6 billion shares.

Gains went from fractions to a point or so with a few up more widely. A liberal assortment of losers dampened the rise.

Many Wall Streeters were off for a head start on the Labor Day weekend. The market will be closed Monday.

Mrs. Smith, Longtime C-City Resident, Dies

COLORADO CITY (AP)—Mrs. Jack G. Smith, 74, longtime Colorado City resident, died in the Watson Memorial Home, in Fort Worth Wednesday night following an illness of two years.

She was born Oct. 25, 1887, in Hearne, Texas, and married Jack G. Smith June 16, 1909, in Houston. The couple moved to Colorado City the same year.

Mrs. Smith was a rancher and county commissioner of Mitchell County prior to his death in 1943. Mrs. Smith had been in the Fort Worth home for two years. She was a civic and religious leader in Colorado City and had been active in the Tubercular Association of Texas, the Shakespeare Club, the Daughters of the Confederacy and was a member of the County Library Board. She had served as one of the first presi-

Steel Executives Defy Subpoenas

8 Panhandle Counties Cast 'No' Ballots

AMARILLO (AP)—Wheat growers in eight Texas Panhandle counties voted Thursday against retaining controls on the crop.

In Ochiltree County, Texas' biggest wheat producer, the vote was 203 against and 123 for.

Unofficial returns tabulated by the Amarillo Daily News showed four other Panhandle counties recorded majorities against marketing quotas on the 1963 wheat crop, three failed to give controls the necessary majority and six counties posted favorable votes.

The figures of other counties: Sherman 90 for and 142 against; Dallam 77 for and 96 against; Carson 301 for and 92 against; Hansford 123 for and 134 against; Randall 233 for and 27 against; Potter 52 for and 27 against; Moore 116 for and 33 against; Deaf Smith 314 for and 121 against; Swisher 216 for and 30 against; Hutchinson 52 for and 63 against; Parmer 405 for and 147 against.

Monday A Holiday For City

Monday will be a general holiday for Big Spring.

All downtown stores and offices will be closed. Governmental agencies will be inoperative. Skeleton crews will man public utilities.

The occasion will be the 40th anniversary celebration of Labor Day.

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce classifies Labor Day as one of the major holidays of the year. Nearly 100 per cent of the stores observe it by closing their doors.

Shoppers are expected to abound Saturday as residents stock up in anticipation of the Monday shutdown.

Highways are expected to be thronged with traffic starting tonight. Thousands of people will be on the roads on Labor Day weekend travels.

Fishing places will be teeming with visitors Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

The day is of especial holiday importance because it marks the termination of the summer season for the younger citizens. School and school activities await them once the Labor Day has passed.

Rosemary Will Enroll In School

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Rosemary Sheppard will enroll in a public school this fall for the first time in six years. Whether she stays depends on a court hearing, next month.

Rosemary, 15, won the first round Thursday of her battle when Dist. Judge Eben L. Taylor denied a petition to return her to the custody of her parents, who got court approval to teach their children at home six years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Sheppard had asked Judge Taylor to vacate a juvenile court order placing Rosemary with an older sister, Naomi McNeese.

Blood Supplies For Hemophilia Victim Dwindle

DALLAS (AP)—Supplies of blood for a critically ill hemophilia victim from Borger dwindled today at Baylor Hospital.

Jerry Ward, 30, still is hemorrhaging from what doctors believe is a bleeding ulcer. Since Sunday, Ward has received more than 45 pints of blood and 15 pints of plasma.

Only 10 donors have responded to emergency appeals.

Hemophilia prevents blood from clotting.

Doctors hope to build up Ward to the point where they can operate on the ulcer.

Physicians estimated the total cost of treatment may be $15,000 to $20,000.

To Be Evacuated

HAVANA (AP)—A five-day airlift between Havana and Mexico begins today as Uruguayan diplomats start the evacuation of 303 persons in refuge in their embassy for months.

MEN, THIS COULD GROW

LONDON (AP)—The founder of the Society for the Protection of Uter Femininity reports membership is growing.

We started up a month ago, said portrait painter Sara Leighton, 28, and we are receiving wide support throughout the country.

Membership is limited to women. Miss Leighton gave no figures on total membership.

The society wants women to give up the vote and stop trying to compete with men in business.

"A woman should stay in the home," said Miss Leighton. "My ex-husband agrees with me."

Dr. Broadrick To Head Mass Immunization

Dr. B. Broadrick, president of the Permian Basin Medical Society, will be general director of the mass immunization against polio, slated for Howard and Glasscock counties on Sunday, Nov. 11.

The Medical Society will be joined by the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce in handling details of the public health program, and Dr. Gene Hightower will be chairman for the JayCee phase.

Dr. Broadrick is to appoint key executives soon, and a complete organization will be perfected. Hundreds of volunteers will be needed to the immunization program.

At a preliminary meeting Thursday, pharmaceutical representatives said that Type 1 Sabin vaccine, to be taken orally, will be supplied to accommodate the entire population of the two counties—more than 40,000 doses.

The Type 1 immunization will be followed at intervals with Type 2 and Type 3.

Preliminary plans are to set up administering stations Nov. 11 at public school buildings. At each station will be physicians, pharmacists and nurses, as well as clerical volunteers.

Full details of the program will be publicized as plans are perfected, Dr. Broadrick said.

'Copters Downed, 4 Yanks Wounded

SABON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist guerrillas have shot down two more U.S. Army helicopters, wounding four Americans serving as advisers to Vietnamese forces.

A U.S. military spokesman said the Americans were evacuated after their copters were downed Thursday. They were not seriously wounded. Their names were not made public.

The helicopters were shot down as they airlifted troops into South Viet Nam's central highlands.

The Webb AFB Youth Fair opens a two-day run today at 8 p.m. The event will be held on the baseball diamond east of the armen's swimming pool.

There will be concession stands of all types for adults and youngsters and rides for the children.

Highlight of the fair will be the election of "Miss Delta" and "Mr. Talon."

Contestants for "Miss Delta" are Sue Smith, Kathy Mason, Joan Lyster, Rebecca Copeland, Jackie Poole, Denise Head, Linda Mason, Candy Harris, Cheryl Bray, Judy Lyster, Nancy Head, Sharyl Harp, Jeanne Clark, Jo Ann Council and Thanna Jean Haxby.

Candidates for "Mr. Talon" are Mike Osborne, Rick Pratt, Larry Yates, Dennis Clark, Andrew Woods, Jimmy Seales, Thomas Seebo, Charles Head, Richard Poole and Richard Danke.

Final selection by the judges will be made Saturday, 9:30 p.m. on the fair grounds. First place winners will receive $25 each and second place will receive medals of the T-38 and F-102 aircraft.

Among the rides for youngsters will be ponies on loan from Travis D. Wyatt, draft horse and kiddie wagon from A. G. Mitchell, zoo ride from Hartman Hooser, and a calliope from Cecil McDonald will furnish music.

BIBLE FUND STALLS AGAIN

After a heart warming day Thursday, the Bible Class Fund experienced a cooling off Friday, again almost stalling out this urgent appeal.

Three friends however kept the ball rolling with contributions that ran the aggregate to $2,296.25, still about $1,300 shy of the minimum needed from non-solicited gifts.

Your help if you have not had a part is now almost necessary if ample funds are to be provided for offering credit Bible courses to approximately 100 high school students.

Panel May Seek Contempt Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top executives of four big steel companies defied subpoenas today from the Senate Antitrust subcommittee, failing to appear and produce data on production costs.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., the subcommittee chairman, denounced their refusal to appear as willful and premeditated contempt of Congress.

He recommended that his subcommittee cite the steel executives for contempt. The subcommittee was expected to go into closed session to decide whether to do so.

The four companies—Bethlehem, Republic, National and Armco—have challenged the subcommittee's jurisdiction and contended the subpoenaed cost data is confidential information.

Contempt citations would have to be approved not only by Kefauver's subcommittee, but by the full Senate Judiciary Committee, its parent body, and by the Senate itself.

Then it would be up to the Justice Department to decide whether to submit the citation to a grand jury.

In event of a grand jury indictment, the case would go to trial.

The steel executives who were subpoenaed but failed to appear are:

Bethlehem Steel Corp.: A. B. Homer, chairman and chief executive officer; Edmund Martin, president; and Frank R. Brugler, controller.

Republic Steel Corp.: Thomas F. Patton, president; and George M. Feiel, vice president and controller.

National Steel Corp.: Thomas E.

Guerrillas Call On Civilians To Bar Algiers

ALGIERS (AP)—The rebellious guerrillas holding Algiers called on unarmed civilians today to bar the roads to the capital to motorized columns of troops advancing from western Algeria.

The guerrilla commanders of Wilaya No. 4 in Algiers sent out a call to the population to form human barricades against the regular army troops supporting Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's quest for power.

Newsmen who drove as far as 15 miles (30 miles southwest of Algiers) saw half a dozen armed guerrilla roadblocks and groups of civilians answering the mobilization call.

There was no word of the advancing army columns Thursday night they were reported about 150 miles from Algiers.

The entire area within an 80-mile radius of Algiers appeared firmly under control of the Wilaya 4 command.

COMMUNICATIONS CUT

Telephone and telegraph connections were cut Thursday night shortly after European settlers left the city by telephone that heavy attacks of Algerian troops, armed with Soviet and Chinese weapons, were moving along three highways toward Algiers, and were about 10 miles from the capital.

It was not known if they halted on the night.

The army chief of staff, Col. Henri Bourdienne, dispatched his units in obedience to an order from Ben Bella's Political Bureau to bring Algiers under the bureau's authority.

The motorized units apparently were part of the 12,000 men of the Algerian army stationed in Morocco during the war with France. The army is armed with Soviet and Chinese weapons, including cannon and some armor.

In the capital, guerrilla units of the rebellious Wilayas (zones 3 and 4) vowed to resist.

They called on the population to pour into the streets "despite machine guns and oppose Ben Bella and his followers.

Politicians issued appeal after appeal for reason and conciliation to avert civil war. Some assured foreign diplomats, everything will soon stop. French military sources said they believed a major armed conflict was not imminent. The French Army kept carefully to the sidelines.

LITTLE TENSION

There were few signs of tension in Algiers. There was no evidence of preparations to repel an attack.

The capital's garrison numbered about 4,000 guerrillas, but forces throughout the two zones total about 35,000 men. Ben Bella and Bourdienne have 45,000 men in the army and some 25,000 guerrillas of the four other wilayas whose commanders have pledged allegiance to the deputy premier and his Political Bureau.

Wilaya 4 officers, some unshaven and some with sandals on bare feet, stressed "We shall not fire the first shot."

They vowed, however, to defend the capital against what they termed a "fascist dictatorship."

Khrushchev And Grandson

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev holds his grandson, Nikita, in his arms at Yalta where they are vacationing, according to caption information provided by the Russian news agency Novosti. The boy is the son of Khrushchev's daughter, Rada, who is married to Izvestia editor Alexei Adzhubel.

Gas Ceiling Cut Ordered In S. Texas

WASHINGTON (AP)—A two-cent cut per thousand cubic feet in the ceiling price on all gas sales in the 15 counties at the southern tip of Texas was ordered Thursday.

This decision affecting Texas Dist. 4 was a ruling by the Federal Power Commission. It lowered the ceiling price from 18 to 16 cents.

Gas from the area is purchased by interstate pipeline companies serving the South, Midwest and East.

In another major opinion, the commission decided initial prices in certificate cases involving independent producers shall be determined by the "in-line" price in the area at the time the producer contract was executed and by the commission's guideline ceiling price for the area.

The FPX set up a test governing determination of appropriate in-line price and ruled that cost of service and financial requirements evidence normally is not relevant in producer certificate cases.

The commission indicated this ruling will greatly simplify future certificate cases.

In a related action, the commission scheduled a hearing here Oct. 29 on fixing the price line for producers who start selling gas at prices higher than 15 cents between the time the area pricing policy was adopted Sept. 28, 1960, and the instance of Thursday's ruling.

The main decision contained an extensive re-examination of prices for gas sold in Texas districts.

This opinion authorized 27 natural gas sales by independent producers under contracts executed prior to Sept. 28, 1960. The commission found that in-line price for these pre-existing contracts was 15 cents and fixed the initial price for these sales at that level. Some had proposed prices up to 17 cents.

Kennedy Signs Satellite Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed the communications satellite bill today, setting up the legal framework for a privately owned corporation to handle this country's part in a global network for messages and pictures.

He said the space system will provide benefits for all people and "contribute to world peace and understanding."

A large group of top officials and congressmen surrounded the President as he used 15 pens to sign the bill.

Kennedy said the new law, cause of a long controversy in Congress, provides "many safeguards to protect the public interest."

"No single company or group will have the power to dominate the corporation," he said in a statement.

The general public, the communications industry, and the federal government all will have a voice. All will contribute their resources and all may reasonably hope to benefit.

Outlining benefits expected from the satellite system, Kennedy said there will be "vastly increased capacity to exchange information cheaply and reliably with all parts of the world by telephone, telegraph radio and television."

"The ultimate result," he said, "will be to encourage and facilitate world trade, travel, education, entertainment and the many kinds of professional, political and personal discourse which are essential to healthy human relationships and international understanding."

The controversial bill, which was tied up the Senate for weeks by a filibuster by liberals who called it a giveaway, landed on the President's desk Monday when the House passed it 371-10.

The bill, which was the version finally passed by the Senate and concurred in by the House, was very close to what the President asked for.

The corporation, first of its kind in the history of American private enterprise, eventually will put into orbit a network of satellite relay stations that can send messages and television pictures instantly to any point on the globe.

The satellites will be the descendants of the experimental Telstar, which already has shown it is possible to send clear television pictures across the Atlantic.

The Kennedy administration, after many months of backstage talks, decided that the corporation to control this operation should be a private one, with half the stock owned by existing communications companies and half owned by the general public at $100 a share.

The President will appoint organizers of the company to get it started, and therein lies the unique quality of this corporate setup. It is the first time the government has set out to organize a company that will be privately owned and return a profit to its owners.

Thereafter, 15 directors will be named, six by the communications companies, six by the public stockholders and three by the President.

Liberals charged that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., one of the largest in the world, would dominate the satellite corporation. Backers of the bill argued that it contained many safeguards and government controls to prevent this.

Lad Kills Out Of Curiosity

NEW YORK (AP)—Pretty 14-year-old Suzanne Grskovic is dead, the boy she had a crush on told police, because he "just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

The ravished body of brown-eyed, blonde Suzanne was found Thursday in shrubbery off a dirt road in Queens, about five blocks from her home.

She had been strangled with her brassiere and strips from her dress. On her abdomen were carved an "S" and an "X"—made with a beer can opener.

Walter Tjunin, 17, on probation after spending a year at a state reform school, led police to the scene of the crime after a 6-hour grilling. He was charged with homicide and rape.

"I strangled her with her clothes," he told detectives. "I just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

A search began for Suzanne when she failed to return Wednesday night from a dance. Later it was learned that Tjunin had left with her to walk her home.

Suzanne cared little for boys, but she did like Tjunin. Near her body was her charm necklace. It bore the inscription "Sue and Walter."

Weekend Heat Relief In Prospect

By The Associated Press

Cooler air pushing into the Texas Panhandle gave promise Friday of weekend relief from August heat for the northern half of the state.

Showers dotted scattered areas Thursday and some shower activity continued through the night over parts of the Panhandle.

The forward edge of the cold front lay across the north edge of the Texas Panhandle by early morning and forecasters looked for it to edge downstate slowly.

Isolated thundershowers were expected along the cool air mass, and a few showers elsewhere over the state.

The Weather Bureau said hot weather would keep its grip on other sections while showers lowered temperatures in Northwest Texas, spreading into North Central Texas by Saturday.

Gonzales in South Texas revealed in a 15-inch rain Thursday—the first moisture there in 63 days.

Top temperatures Thursday ranged up to a sizzling 111 degrees at Presidio in the West Texas Big Bend Laredo recorded 102 and El Paso, Childress and Wichita Falls 100. Galveston's high was 88.

Reflecting the cool fronts effect, the mercury registered 63 degrees at Dalhart early Friday while it was 74 at Amarillo, ahead of the front.

Safety Officials Call For Caution

CHICAGO (AP)—Safety officials—faced with a steady rise in the traffic death rate this year—urged today that the nation's motorists try to keep down the highway fatality count in the Labor Day weekend.

The National Safety Council estimates that between 410 and 490 persons will die in traffic accidents in the 78-hour holiday period starting at 6 p.m. local time today and ending at midnight Monday.

In the first seven months of this year 21,960 persons were killed on the nation's highways, an increase of 9 per cent over the same 1961 period while motor travel increased 4 per cent.

The 3,846 persons killed in July represented a 16 per cent jump over the toll in July, 1961 and was a record high for any July.

ORIGIN OF LIFE

By T. H. Yankel, preacher
Church of Christ 300 West Highway 30
P.O. Box 1284

Recent newspaper articles have told of scientists forming the virus in a test tube from chemicals. It is inferred that at last, man has formed life from non-living matter; though the writer was careful to avoid claiming that this had been done.

Rible believers are not frightened that scientists will prove life originated by accident from non-living matter, and that from this, man has evolved by chance. The Bible still gives the only sensible explanation for our origin: "The Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul." (Gen. 2:7)

There are no contradictions between the Bible and true science. Whenever there arises a seeming contradiction, between science and the Bible, we only need to wait awhile and science will revise her conclusions and confirm the Bible. (To be continued)

JFK's Family Heading Home

RAVELLO, Italy (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy and her daughter Caroline said goodbye to the Amalfi coast and their 11th century holiday villa today and started home to spend the Labor Day weekend with the President.

They left Rome aboard a Pan American World Airways jetliner for New York at 7:31 a.m. EST.

The Kennedy family plane, the Caroline, is to fly them on to the Quonset Point Naval Station in Rhode Island. The White House announced that President Kennedy would time his departure from Washington this afternoon to reach Quonset Point about the time his wife and daughter arrived. The family will spend the holiday weekend at Hammersmith Farm, the Newport home of Mrs. Kennedy's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss.

The American First Lady and daughter had spent 23 days on the beautiful Amalfi coast, swimming, water skiing, yachting and mingling with the local folk. They enjoyed it so much, Mrs. Kennedy extended the visit a week.

Carefree Bachelor May Have Lot In Common With Bums

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The carefree bachelor, the idle retired man and the playboy who can't hold a job may have something in common with the bum on skid row.

Professor Boris M. Levinson told the American Psychological Association, in a paper to be presented today the bum "has nothing driving him, has nothing to live for, and does not want to become anything."

Homeless men in the middle and upper income brackets would end up in skid row if they did not have money, said Levinson. Instead, they may be found in residential hotels, retired at an early age or jumping from one job to another.

All homeless men lack close personal relationships, he said in an interview.

"They flit from one city to another, they leave friends and jobs without remorse."

"They reject our life and its values, and are content merely to exist, vegetate with least effort, watching the world and their lives pass by."

Levinson's report says "The Court Refuses To Free Soblen

LONDON (AP)—The British Court of Appeal today refused to free fugitive spy Robert A. Soblen and upheld an order to deport him to the United States.

The court dismissed his appeal for a writ of habeas corpus.

The ruling—fourth adverse decision Soblen has met in the British courts—means he may be deported to serve a life sentence in the United States for disclosing wartime secrets to the Soviet Union.

One last resort still lies open. Soblen can seek leave to appeal to the House of Lords, highest tribunal in the land. Only the nation's top law lords can now reverse the ruling given today.

Soblen's lawyers have said they would carry the case to the lords. Soblen, 61, a psychiatrist, has been in England since July 1, when he stabbed himself aboard an Israeli airliner bound from Tel Aviv to New York. Since then Home Secretary Henry Brooke has been trying to send him on to the United States.

Soblen jumped $100,000 bail and fled to Israel on a bogus passport.

Collins' Death Learned Here

Mrs. James M. Smith, 1904 Runnels, has been informed of the death in Whitesburg, Ky. of Sam Collins, the husband of Mrs. Jessie Stamper Collins, a former Big Spring resident.

The Collins have lived in Kentucky for many years. Mr. Collins died Tuesday. Mrs. Collins is the daughter of Mrs. J. D. Stamper, Winchester, Ky., who is well known to many Big Spring residents.

DEAR ABBY Give Her Understanding

DEAR ABBY: There is a girl in our office who is about 35. I'll bet she's never had a date in her life. She tells us about these romances she has on her vacations, and she even shows us lovey-dovey cards signed "Louie" and "Paul" that she buys and sends to herself. She's not a bad-looking girl, was what an imagination! Should we take up a collection and send her to a psychiatrist?

OFFICE GANG
DEAR GANG: Collect a little compassion and fix her up with a date.

DEAR ABBY: I was married for ten years to a man who was a devil to live with. Thank heavens that is all behind me and I am married now to a kind and loving man who treats me just wonderful. My problem is that am still wearing the rings from my first husband and they are painful to wear because of all the unhappy memories that went with them. I can't put them away and go without a wedding ring, and my second husband never got around to buying me any. I guess he doesn't realize how important a wedding ring is to me. It doesn't have to be anything fancy like my first set. Any cheap set will do. How can I make him understand how I feel?

OAKIE
DEAR OAKIE: Tell him, Lady, tell him. And, if necessary, take him to the five and dime and make him buy you one.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I were married, my parents told me that as far as you see, they are very orthodox in their religion and I married a

Look Before You Leap

Despite repeated pronouncements on the subject, one of the perennial problems of city operation is that of dealing with requests for water sales outside the city limits.

Quite logically, the city commission has a policy against such sales. There may be some customers which have been served and would continue to be served under a grandfather clause, but the effect of the policy is to put all others on notice that the city cannot and will not take on customers outside the corporate limits.

But when a householder runs out of water, he understandably will appeal for consideration. So far the commission has held fast, serving only in conjunction with annexation. This is fair and logical for if houses are to be given municipal services, they should be part of the municipality.

Not all—but many—homes in proximity to the city have been built at a particular site to get around the cost of city taxes. This is all right, but it is also all right for the city to refuse service if and when city services are in urgent need. Annexation has solved many emergency problems, but it is not necessarily the best solution for often annexed territory does not fit at all into city plans. There conceivably can come at a time when the city cannot accommodate even by this device.

This should put those on notice who reside in proximity to the city and particularly those contemplating building near to but outside of the city to be double sure about water supply before they build or buy.

Carl Hayden Runs Again

When it comes to U. S. senators, Arizona is best known nationally as the home state of one of the Senate's most controversial members, Barry Goldwater. But Arizona also has produced Sen. Carl Hayden, who during congressional service of unparalleled duration has been among the least controversial of legislators.

It is of interest outside Arizona that Senator Hayden will again seek his party's nomination on Sept. 11. One important factor is that he will soon be 85 years old. That is the chief reason why, after six terms in the Senate, he now faces rather serious competition. His opponents say he should step down.

A lifelong Democrat, Hayden has strummed the partisan strings so lightly that he has been re-elected even in years when Republicans captured numerous other offices. He holds the all-time record for continuance in office, having served in Congress from the dawn of Arizona statehood in 1912; he went to the Senate after 16 years in the House.

Hayden's experience, untainted by any hint of corruption, is an asset. Yet it is true that he is an old man, even though those who know him best say he seems younger in his 80s than many men seen in the 60s. At any rate, here is a contest that will attract considerable national attention.

A Victory For Private Enterprise

WASHINGTON — "People's capitalism" has just won a significant victory in the United States. It is a triumph that requires the very basis of Soviet communism.

For the Congress of the United States, by an overwhelming vote and with the support of the President, has given a private corporation the opportunity to develop a communications business through Teletar and other satellites in outer space.

HAD THE VOTE in Congress gone the other way, the Communists would have argued that in the Soviet Union, everything is owned by the government. The Communists are taught that only the government can really perform economic tasks and that a system of private profit is wrong.

In the United States, by the latest vote in Congress on the bill that provides regulation for the whole Teletar operation as far as communications are concerned, private enterprise is seen to be more efficient, more economical, and better trained through its talented personnel to do an effective job.

SOME OF THE champions of government ownership in their recent speeches in both houses of Congress declared that, since the project was so big and since it might involve relations with other governments in the making of communications agreements, the task should be wholly in the hands of the American government. The argument was made also that, since the government had spent a good deal of money in developing the vehicle used to launch the Teletar satellite, the people should own the whole communications project.

BUT THERE ARE many things in America for which the government has at one time or another spent large sums, and yet this has not led to government ownership. Also, the government once owned the Bell system, and in the West, but it eventually gave away homesteads to attract settlers. Likewise during wartime, enormous plants were built that became obsolete for military purposes. Aluminum plants and synthetic rubber plants which cost many millions were sold for relatively low prices to private companies, some of which thereby got their chance to become big and successful competitors of existing companies in the same line of business.

THE NEW MEASURE, which has gone through both houses and shortly will be signed by a sympathetic President, gives the public an opportunity to invest in the new corporation. Only half of the stock is to be held by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company—otherwise known as "the Bell system"—and by other com-

James Marlow Goldberg And T-H Law Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur J. Goldberg was an organization man and Martin P. Durkin wasn't. But the difference between these two secretaries of labor went way beyond that, and in more ways than one.

Yet, each started out with pre-arranged burdens. The Republican platform in 1952 and the Democratic platform in 1960. Both in a bid for the labor vote, promised to make changes in the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Durkin, a lifelong unionist and president of the plumbers, concentrated on trying to make good on the Republican promise after President Eisenhower named him secretary in 1952. He quit in nine months.

HE SAID Eisenhower ran out on an agreement to send proposed changes to Congress. Eisenhower denied there was an agreement. Durkin went back to his union and died in two years of a brain tumor.

Goldberg, a lifelong labor lawyer, didn't concentrate on trying to make good on the Democrats' 1960 promise after Kennedy made him secretary in 1961. Kennedy still hasn't sent proposed T-H changes to Congress.

Goldberg not only didn't quit but became such a success as secretary that this week Kennedy appointed him to the Supreme Court. And George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, isn't mad at Kennedy or Goldberg for the T-H failure.

Recently Meany told reporters he is a realist and knows suggesting T-H changes to this conservative Congress would be useless. He blames Congress, not Kennedy or Goldberg for the things that didn't get done.

MEANY EVEN arranged in a Labor Day message to express thanks for the number of measures helpful to labor, which the Kennedy administration did manage to get through.

Goldberg had worked for the AFL-CIO as special counsel. But the labor organization didn't get mad at him either, at least publicly when he came out against its demand for a 35-hour work week.

Nor is business clawing Goldberg although he and Kennedy worked side by side in the steel dispute which turned business against the President.

To top it all, when Kennedy announced Goldberg's appointment to the court Wednesday, Republicans joined Democrats in saying what a fine thing this was.

How did Goldberg manage to come through all this smelling like a rose? For several reasons, some of which ought to make him an excellent justice of the Supreme Court.

HE HAS BEEN probably the most active and hard-working labor secretary in history. And the court is no place for a slouch.

Although he has spent his life working for labor organizations, Goldberg when he became secretary detached himself, financially and mentally, as a labor partisan. Goldberg who had been chief negotiator for the steelworkers, is getting them better contracts and higher wages, even when it meant a dead-end strike, has repeatedly stated this Kennedy-Goldberg policy.

"We in this country must do everything within our power to prevent inflation and maintain price stability." Translated, this meant: "Try to keep wage increases and price increases down. In this way, and in his dealings in general, Goldberg has sought to act as a public servant whose primary purpose is the general welfare and not that of a special group.

No Supreme Court justice can hope to shake loose from the attitudes of a lifetime—as some dismal justices have demonstrated—but he cannot be a good justice unless he tries to think in national rather than factional terms.

THE PRAISE Goldberg got from Republicans this week is evidence he has had success in presenting himself as a public leader and not a special one.

But none of Goldberg's progress in his job could have been possible if he and Kennedy had not shared an outlook on what they thought was needed and should be done and how. For this reason—although some credit should be given to Goldberg for adaptability in fitting into the Kennedy administration smoothly—he has managed to sail along.

Unfortunately for Durkin he seemed to have little in common with Eisenhower and was not adaptable at all.

Keeps Him Mowing
BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—A Bradenton man informed neighbors of a scheme he devised which may revolutionize the lawn mowing industry.

The happy schemer places cockatiel glass holders used for lawn parties in intervals around his yard, then places an acid drink in each.

He says the cocktail stake are placed so that as he rides around on the power mower, he is never without refreshment.

It Always Happens
WELLINGTON, Kan. (AP)—Tommy, a white Angora cat, has a mind of his own.

He ran up a tree at his home to escape a dog. He refused all appeals to come down and spent all night and part of the next day in the tree.

His owners finally called the fire department for help. "The minute we started to raise the ladder the cat backed right down the tree," said a fireman.

Around The Rim Agents To Spread The Revolution

We started a revolution in 1776 which we never should have given over to other ideologies.

Washington was correct in surmising that a weak new country needed time to grow, and his advice to stay out of Europe's politics was wise in its time. But we have long since ceased to be weak.

In the meantime, we allowed the shots heard round the world to echo into oblivion—or ultimately into the hands of revolutionaries with no understanding of libertarian principles and few scruples. At the same time, as America grew wealthy and industrialized, we allowed our diplomats and businessmen to curry favor among ruling classes in backward countries to the exclusion and sometimes even to the suppression of the people. American tourists in a later day walked through oppressed countries with high and icy noses, and more permanent residents abroad cordoned themselves off British colonial style.

THE ONLY THING that saved us was the presence in these countries of missionaries, some common-sense travelers or residents, and the occasional passionate American who helped others fight their revolutions.

We are paying for our folly today, but we need not continue. There is nothing to keep us from picking up the American Revolution once more and spreading it through the world—with this country's might to back it up.

ONE HAS ONLY TO compare the stability of Mexico with the instability of most other Latin American nations to prove the point. Mexico was situated geographically in such a position that, in spite of our differences and bloodletting in the past, libertarian ideals were bound to filter across the border.

In fact, Mexico's example furnishes us the first rule—the power of ideas. It is not enough to print piles of obscure literature, saying nothing in too many words, and leave them in U. S. Information Service libraries, particularly in countries where most people are illiterate.

WE NEED TO CHOOSE agents—loyal, intelligent and carefully trained—by the thousands, and send them into the world to spread the ideas and understanding that alone will bring freedom.

There need be no difficulty with ruling cliques or penny-ante dictators. Welding of Teddy Roosevelt's big stick should be enough to keep them in line, particularly when they see the handwriting on the wall.

WITH A NEW generation breathing the air of freedom, and plenty of experience behind us in helping bring it about, it should be no more difficult nor dangerous to turn this same weapon against the Communist world. Indeed, our agents should have better response among the Kremlin's slaves than Red agents are now obtaining among the slaves in parts of our so-called Free World.

—BOB SMITH

Inez Robb The Glory Of The Stars

The world—and Khrushchev—may be too much with us, but has another generation ever had its eyes fixed so exhilaratingly upon the stars? Our feet fumble on hard, uncertain paths. But our eyes are on the heavens.

Only a few years ago we had to be content to search the night and wish upon a star. Now we probe the stars for their secrets. And we can, if we wish, even invest in a man-made star, Telstar. Difficult and dangerous it may be, but what a time in which to be alive!

WHAT WILL Mariner II, now fleeing through space toward Venus, tell us of this "mysterious sister planet of earth"? One—known to the ancients as both the Morning and the Evening Star, her brilliance is only exceeded by the sun and the moon.

"Venus presents a poor face when viewed through a telescope." I read she is buried in a thick cloud cover, the scientists report, and is seen through the telescope as "a white blob with a shadow playing across the cloudy surfaces here and there."

BUT SHE WAS not obscured by cloud or shadow the one time I saw Venus rising out of the east like an incredibly large and beautiful Christmas tree ornament. She was a vision of majesty and enchantment that I shall remember as long as I live.

I saw, with naked eyes, this "mysterious sister planet of earth" just a few weeks before the outbreak of World War II when I was flying home from Europe in one of Pan-American's old—and then brand new—Clipper ships. It was 2 a. m. and I was sound asleep when the steward shook me awake and said:

"THE CAPTAIN'S compliments, and he says if you will come at once, you can see Venus rising."

Through the astrodome of the Clipper, the late Capt. William D. Winston simply pointed to the east, where a brilliant, flashing light was just shooting above the horizon. In the dark sky, some 10,000 feet above the Atlantic, that light seemed as brilliant as the sun—even more brilliant, for it was white and radiant as a great diamond piercing the night.

NO CLOUD LAYER veiled the unearthly brilliance or beauty of Venus as she rushed with awesome speed over the horizon and began to race up the inky arch of night. The planet was scarcely over the horizon when her unearthly technics flooded the sky with color.

Alternately, with only a few seconds between each brilliant change, Venus flashed from sparkling white to vivid, flaming red. Here was a real skyrocket, bursting with Fourth-of-July vigor and an unimaginable beauty over the Atlantic. Or a heavenly traffic signal in a glorious extravaganza.

"We are privileged beyond most men," the captain said, as we watched the virtuoso performance of "Venus from the dawn-encrusted sea."

WE KEPT the night watch until dawn paled the stars and planets, even Venus. Even so, as day approached earth's sister planet in her orbit, Venus remained the brightest star in the firmament. She had ceased to flash alternately red and white. But she remained a gradually dimming incandescent star until the sun took over the sky.

Marquis Childs No Initiative From The West

WASHINGTON — During this interval when, for all practical purposes, the month of August has been abolished in the foreign offices in Europe, it is not considered polite to speak of the disarray of the Western alliance. While far from being a new story, it is brought into sharp focus by the latest Berlin crisis.

FOR THE MOMENT at least, the "Hold firm, don't give an inch" statements may suffice. But they make painfully evident that once again no initiative has come from the West. The posture is one of waiting for the next Soviet move.

It has been argued that this is inevitable since the West is determined to hold a position in West Berlin against the push of the Soviet Union. Consequently, there is no choice but to sit tight. That must seem, however, to confess a complete lack of imagination. Various ideas have been put up on how to pass the challenge back to the Soviets and, perhaps even more important, on how to improve the lot of the East Germans.

BUT THE TROUBLE in the alliance goes deeper than a mere lack of ideas or a disinterest in the ideas put out by official spokesmen. As the weeks just ahead are likely to reveal, the basic trouble lies in a failure of power—a failure of will—within governments that are in a sense provisional. This is the rude reality that cannot much longer be ignored.

IN WEST GERMANY, the struggle for power in a coalition government is unresolved. So long as he is Chancellor, the 86-year-old Konrad Adenauer can veto what any member of his Cabinet ventures to put forward. He did this in the spring when he bestirred himself at the conclusion of a six-weeks vacation to kill further discussion of a new internationalized authority over the access routes between West Berlin and West Germany. This proposal had been tentatively raised by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Thus a kind of vacuum exists in Bonn. Increasingly the West Germans tend to put the blame for inaction on the United States. Why do we not do something about the wall? Why do we allow the Soviets to harass the Western garrison? That is bound to set up a counter irritation here as American patience wears thin with the prolongation of the Berlin struggle.

IN FRANCE, President Charles de Gaulle simply refuses to consider the Berlin situation. He pursues his own national course with scorn, if not contempt, for the United States and Britain for even giving thought to the Soviet threats against Berlin.

With the revived activity of the Secret Army Organization in France and another attempt to assassinate De Gaulle there, too, the question of ultimate authority is unresolved. No successor is provided for. The French may vote on a new constitution, and it could include a vice-president.

THE END of the long civil war in Algeria has left near-anarchy. Out of the bitterness of that conflict have come military leaders with a pro-Communist and anti-Western bias bent on seizing power. If De Gaulle were to disappear from the scene, and the persistence of the Secret Army cannot be discounted, that added element of uncertainty would contribute to the threat of chaos and disorder.

In London, the government of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is also provisional pending an election to be held some time next year. Ever since Britain's bid to join the European Common Market was postponed if not rejected, Macmillan's hold on power has been tenuous. He's had to try to straddle the gap between the conditions laid down by the Market countries—primarily France—and the Commonwealth nations with their agricultural exports to the tariff-free motherland.

AND THE HARD-PRESSED Prime Minister must do this in the face of a long series of by-elections showing a radical drop in support for the Conservatives. After the disaster of Suez in 1956, Macmillan managed a miraculous recovery. Whether he can do it again—and nothing short of a miracle will suffice—is highly doubtful.

President Kennedy is more fortunate than the other heads of government in that he has two more years in office. But he faces an election in November that could have a lot to say about the degree of authority he can exercise in those two years.

IN HINDSIGHT, this may seem to have been merely the kind of hiatus suffered periodically by representative governments. In contrast to the iron facade of dictatorship, the West does not conceal its failures of division, conflict and just plain lack of initiative. But when this is said, it will, nevertheless, take a great deal of luck to insure that the alliance holds to a common aim in the impending test of nerves in Berlin.

To Your Good Health Better Check Quickly On Those 'Blackouts'

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I had a blackout the other day and wrecked the family car. Nothing like it has ever happened to me before. What could have caused it?

I am 50 and have been told by older women that the change of life is working on me, and I shouldn't be alarmed over a blackout.

Do you advise me never to drive again? MRS. D. P. H.
Let's not listen to what the old girls say about menopause or change of life. Too many things are readily attributed to this perfectly natural event. Blackouts are NOT caused by change of life, and they are NOT something to be ignored.

I do not "advise you never to drive again." Neither do I advise that you should drive—suppose another blackout occurred?

What I do most emphatically advise is that you have a thorough physical examination. There are various causes of blackouts. It could be a seizure involving some part of the brain. It could be some faulty rhythm of the heart. It could be a deficiency of circulation to the brain. A sudden twist of the neck can cause it.

It is hard to detect? What causes it—SUSIE.
It's a lack of certain chemical factors which are necessary for the formation of red blood cells, but the cause is not known.

It can be difficult to detect. There is always an absence of acid in the stomach, but because so many people are taking mixed vitamin capsules, it is possible for some of them to get enough Vitamin B12 to disguise the situation to some extent.

Vitamin B12 you see, turned out to contain the missing elements needed—before that, pernicious anemia always required large doses of liver or liver extract.

In these doubtful cases, special tests such as the use of radioactive B12 help identify the disease. The amount of B12 that people get in vitamin capsules is never enough to treat the disease adequately, but merely enough to confuse the issue. For treatment, periodic use of Vitamin B12 by injection keeps the body's chemistry in correct balance, and normal blood forms.

Untreated, pernicious anemia can cause great lassitude and crippling nerve damage. We don't speak of "curing" it because we can't, but with the correct injections it can be kept under control for a lifetime.

Dear Dr. Molner: What about a 9-year-old girl who positively does not want to go to sleep unless she has someone to sit beside her bed?—H. R. P.
I cut out a lot of detail, because the important part of this letter is in one sentence. The answer is brief, too. You've spoiled her in this regard. It will take some quiet but firm activity on your part to break her habit of being pampered too much.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is pernicious anemia? Is it curable? Is it hard to detect? What causes it—SUSIE.
It's a lack of certain chemical factors which are necessary for the formation of red blood cells, but the cause is not known.

Anything Goes In The Paris Fashion World

PARIS — What is in style? Current fashion collections here emphasize that nothing really is out of style.

Whether you wear long skirts or short ones, are bosomy or flat-chested, are boyish or a femme fatale next season merely depends upon which couturier you believe in.

Among the designers here is at least one for every woman's fashion point of view.

You can borrow boots and shawls from grandmother's attic and be in style, technically speaking. Or you can dig out those 8-year-old sack dresses and shape them a little or rob your husband's wardrobe of his hats, and you'll have an expert Jean Patou, Yves Saint-Laurent, Pierre Cardin to back you up.

Nothing you can do this fall, in terms of fashion, will be wrong. Nevertheless, some things will be more right than others because more than one couturier is advocating similar styles. And these will go down in apparel history as trends.

In nearly every one's collection are costumes with changes so subtle they're dubbed classic, or timeless. So unseasonably good looking are they that nary a man can find a way to poke fun at them.

Along with the sublime are also the seemingly ridiculous. Stylists create these perhaps with tongue in cheek, sometimes to dare to be different, usually to satisfy their more uninhibited clients, and possibly only to make news.

Draw your own stopping point. Most couturiers inch them down a little. Jean Patou and Simonetta on the other hand tucked them under at two and three inches below knee caps.

Nearly everyone agrees that jackets should be longer. Marc Bohan of Christian Dior believes in belts. Yves Saint-Laurent likes reed slim jackets so long they're more like coats, some loosely tied.

Others not. Nina Ricci, Lanvin Castillo, and Balenciaga like to see hips smoothly rounded by jacket peplums.

Shoulders are squared off by Castillo, not as much by Saint-Laurent, not at all by most others. Nearly everybody believes in a rounded, high bosom, but a hold-out is Cardin who thinks women should have nothing there at all.

Skirts are usually slim, but when they're full the tucks and gathers are in front, and occasionally they taper to slimmest at the knees. A deep center pleat.

They are slim, supple, and slithery; space in cut, sometimes draped, usually without collar, often with sleeves to the wrist; wool by day, crepe by five, and in grays, tans, and black.

For evening are sheaths of heavy crepe, and satin, covered with twinkle, with low backs and barely there bodices. But there are also inconspicuously heavy tweeds severely man-tailored for shock effect.

Shaggy rug wools, and bulky tweeds are favorites for suits and coats. Leathers and suedes in unlikely shades such as lilac are used alone, with each other, or combined with fabrics.

Fox, Persian lamb and broad-tail are as important as mink and sable to luxury minded couturiers. Besides trim for suits, and linings for jackets, the fur is worn as blouse dickeys.

Rhinestone trim silk stockings. Fur muffs are dot sized or big as barrels. High heeled boots stop at the ankle or climb to the knees. Dancing shoes have interchangeable heels with three different sizes. Evening ensembles are a composite of hair pieces that build them a foot high.

Hairdresser Likes Trust

"My ideal client is the woman who walks into this salon and says, 'I trust you. Do what you like with my hair—and means it,'" comments Kenneth Battelle, one of the world's most renowned hairdressers, in a recent magazine article.

Kenneth, creator of high styled hair-dos for the famous, believes good hairdressing talent is available throughout the United States.

"The trouble is clients won't take chances on letting their hairdressers experiment or create new styles for them."

"I wish people were willing to be a little more individual," he demurs. "And, sometimes hairdressers tend to lose perspective," he adds.

Paraplegic Surgeon Is Active In Wheelchair

NEW YORK (AP)—"I'm completely independent now," said Dr. Mary Verghese with a shy smile. "I feel equal to anything."

She was sitting in a wheelchair that she had just maneuvered skillfully down the hall at New York University's Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation. With long, supple fingers she smoothed the white medical jacket she wears over her sari and settled back to discuss her work.

Dark-haired Dr. Verghese is a paraplegic surgeon from India, who does operations from her wheelchair. Now 37, she is finishing up resident training at the institute on a World Rehabilitation Fund fellowship, working with rehabilitation patients who always look up and smile as the gentle, soft-spoken doctor wheels up alongside.

"I can understand their problems better than the person who hasn't had to undergo physical rehabilitation," she explained.

Actually, Dr. Verghese is just head and arms. Below that she can neither feel nor move.

Immediately after the accident I didn't believe I could do any useful work at all. Now I'm encouraged," she said.

The car accident occurred in 1954, when she was just two years out of medical school and specializing in obstetrics at the Christian Medical College and Hospital at Vellore, South India. The hospital staff was on its way to a picnic. After three operations the vertebrae in her fractured spine were fused into a solid column of bone from head to pelvis. This meant she wouldn't bend or topple over when she was placed in a sitting position.

"Months after the accident I started to do part-time work. I needed assistance to get into a wheelchair, but now I can do it by myself. I can travel anywhere alone. The wheelchair folds into cabs, you see."

At the end of August she'll go to London for a month's study of rehabilitation centers, returning to Vellore in October to establish India's first complete department for physical rehabilitation.

Dr. Verghese had to give up obstetrics after the accident, but she became proficient in surgically reconstructing hands paralyzed or deformed by leprosy. Dr. Paul Brand, pioneer in leper rehabilitation with whom she worked in Vellore, has called her "one of the most skillful hand surgeons in the East."

A devout Christian, Dr. Verghese was born in the state of Kerala, which contains more Christians than any other area in India. She is especially happy to be associated with the hospital at Vellore because it was founded by a woman, Dr. Ida S. Scudder, daughter of American missionaries, started with one room in 1900, now it's an 800-bed hospital.

Dr. Lloyd Marks Two Anniversaries

By KAY LOVELAND
Today marks two important occasions in the life of Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

It is the anniversary of 16 years of continuous service to the church here and also the anniversary of 35 years of married life. On Sept. 1 he will launch his 17th and 36th years respectively.

Dr. Lloyd is now the senior pastor in Big Spring in terms of tenure having come here Sept. 1, 1946, from Crockett where he had been pastor 11 years. Thirty-one years in the ministry, he was ordained July 5, 1911, at Calvert. At that time he was also the minister of a church in Hempstead in addition to the one in Calvert.

The local church has grown 100 per cent in terms of members since his arrival, increasing from 300 to 600 at the present time. No enlargement on the physical plant has been made, although bids are being taken this week for a new addition which will be erected on a prediction of a growth in membership to 750. The new addition will provide a sanctuary, church offices, a parsonage, nursery and classrooms.

"We are using all the facilities in the church now, which we weren't doing when I first came here," Dr. Lloyd commented. "Also, we have made interior improvements."

Under his direction the church organized St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in 1963, and the congregation has bought and paid for four lots to the south of the building during his ministry. "All we owned when I arrived was the lot on which the building sits," he said.

During his sixteen years here, he has baptized 313 infants and has married 127 couples. He says one of the most memorable events of his stay was when he accepted into the church the first child he baptized in the local church.

The highlight, however, of his Big Spring career, he revealed, "was when friends and members of the church sent my wife and me to the Holy Land 10 years ago."

Dr. Lloyd is a true native of West Texas. He was born on land his father was homesteading in Reeves County, between Pecos and Fort Stockton in 1906 and graduated from high school in Fort Stockton as high honor boy. His father before him was a Presbyterian minister. In fact he was the first preacher of that denomination Midland ever had, and in honor of this fact Dr. Lloyd will speak at the dedication services Sept. 16 for the new $2,000,000 plant the Midland church has built.

At Austin College in Sherman he received his B. A. degree in 1927 and also met Irene Wilson, whom he married. He received his M. A. at the University of Texas in 1932 after getting his B. D. from Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary in 1931. In 1931 Austin College conferred the honorary doctor of divinity degree.

Both the Lloyd's children were graduated from local schools and their daughter, Mrs. W. W. Harrell Jr., is now living in Morris-town, Tenn. Their son, R. Gage Lloyd II, lives here.

Dr. Lloyd has been active in civic and church affairs throughout the years. He is moderator-elect of the Presbytery of the Southwest and in January will take over as moderator. He is also a member of the YMCA board, has been on the board of the Chamber of Commerce twice, as well as the Salvation Army board. He has served as president of the Lions Club and of the Pastors Association and has taught Bible at the junior college for eight years.

Asked about the possibility of staying here another 16 years, Dr. Lloyd said "That depends on how long suffering the congregation is. The people have certainly been most kind to my family and me."

Goldberg, Wirtz Meet With Puns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two members of a mutual admiration society have returned to Washington, delighted with their new, higher stations in government life.

Puns and talk of filling shoes were in the air Thursday as W. Willard Wirtz and Arthur J. Goldberg met newsmen.

Successor

Goldberg is leaving President Kennedy's Cabinet to replace Felix Frankfurter as an associate justice of the Supreme Court. Wirtz has been moved up from undersecretary to replace Goldberg as secretary of labor.

On their arrival from Chicago, where the two made an unsuccessful effort to head off a telegraphers' strike against the Chicago & North Western Railroad, the former labor lawyers tossed bouquets at each other.

Goldberg said he suggested Wirtz as a successor. The gray-haired justice-designate said he was "delighted beyond words" that Kennedy picked Wirtz.

If Mr. Goldberg means a pun and means to say he is delighted beyond Wirtz, he is wrong," quipped Wirtz.

Wirtz said Goldberg, feeling somewhat grimy after the plane trip, donned a clean shirt just before the conference and offered to lend Wirtz one.

"No, Mr. Secretary," Wirtz said he replied "I'd rather try our shoes on."

It would have been a tight squeeze. The knot of Wirtz's shoes, said Goldberg, was so tight that Wirtz said he will follow Goldberg's prototype, although he regrets.

New Sanctuary Bids Opened

Bids for the new First Presbyterian sanctuary and educational facilities were opened Thursday, and the matter of a letting is now in the hands of the finance committee.

By one of the narrowest margins in bid openings here, Siggs Construction Company had the low proposal of $241,007 on 276 working days. Only $41 off the pace A. P. Kaseh & Sons had a proposal of $241,136 for 226 working days.

Both of the two low proposals were over allocated funds by a modest figure, and the building committee, headed by C. H. McDaniel, passed the matter back to the finance panel for final action.

Three other bids ranged up to a top of $262,000.

Plans for the building include a new sanctuary to be located on the south end of the half block which the church owns on the east side of Runnels, between Seventh and Eighth. It will seat 450 plus the choir, and its architecture will be a pseudo-Gothic to carry out the theme of the present church plant. Immediately to the north of the sanctuary there will be a unit for classrooms, offices, church parlors, nurseries, etc.

Some refurbishing of the present plant, which will be utilized for chapel, fellowship and educational purposes, is included in the plan. The new construction, designed by Olen Puckett architect calls for about 12,000 square feet of additional space. The one story wing off the new sanctuary will connect with the present church. When complete, the enlarged facilities will cover the entire half block.

New Mexican Volcano Suspected

TEPIC, Mex. (AP) — A new volcano may be forming in this West Coast state, University of Mexico scientists are investigating.

For the second time this year, smoke was reported spouting from a mountain peak near Santiago Ixcuitla, Nayarit. Villagers reported rocks and earth were searched and plant life destroyed.

The mayor of the village was ordered to collect samples of the scorched rocks and send them to Mexico City for study.

U.S. Hits GM With Price Control Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Justice Department, in a civil suit, is renewing its attempt to prevent General Motors from allegedly trying to control prices at which its dealers sell cars.

The suit, filed Thursday, in the U.S. District Court in Los Angeles parallels a criminal indictment returned last Oct. 12.

In Detroit, a General Motors spokesman said the company had not received official notification of the civil suit. He referred questioners to a statement issued by Chairman Frederick G. Donner after the October criminal indictment.

Donner said then that the government's charges were without foundation.

Donner's statement said, in part "General Motors has made no agreements with its dealers or anyone else, nor have we inflicted or threatened to inflict any sanctions on dealers supplying cars to discount house outlets."

Named as defendant in the new suit along with General Motors were these Chevrolet dealers associations—Los Angeles Chevrolet Dealers Association of Los Angeles and Orange Counties; Dealers Service Inc. of Los Angeles County; and Foothill Chevrolet Dealers of Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties.

The criminal indictment, now awaiting trial, was brought against the same defendants and three Chevrolet sales officials.

The civil suit accuses the defendants of trying to pressure Chevrolet dealers from selling to discount operators or referral services—both a widespread factor in California Chevrolet sales.

School Bible Readings Urged

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Owen B. Kiernan, Massachusetts Commissioner of Education has advised local school authorities to continue Bible readings in the public schools.

A memorandum from Kiernan said "It is the feeling of the department that the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court in the New York case held unconstitutional only the voluntary recitation of a prayer which was composed by a public authority."

U.S. Appeals To NATO Allies On Cuba Get Fair Response

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. sources said today American appeals to NATO allies to discourage Communist bloc shipments to Cuba have met with limited but generally satisfactory response.

The United States brought up the Cuban question at North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council meetings in Paris. It intends to do so again soon, in view of the new wave of Russian shipments.

A larger number of Western vessels reportedly are carrying cargoes to Cuba for the Russians. President Kennedy said Wednesday NATO should consider steps to discourage this.

The U.S. pitch is expected to continue in a low key, for several reasons.

One is that if Washington presents its concern over Fidel Castro's regime as a NATO question, then other NATO members may claim their pet problems also are affairs of the alliance. Portugal, for instance, would have liked NATO help to save Goa from India.

Another is the touchy political, economic and legal questions posed in other countries by any prospective action against Cuba.

Thus, U.S. diplomats have been bringing up the Cuban matter for discussion with the Allies—telling them the U.S. view of the problem—rather than presenting a set of demands for NATO action.

U.S. informants who reported this said the NATO countries have kept a watchful eye on shipments from their countries to Cuba. The Allies were said to have taken steps to help avoid transshipment of American replacement parts to Cuba and to curb any flow of strategic goods.

But there is little expectation that the NATO flag ships will stop calling at Cuban ports, and U.S. sources said the United States is not proposing this. Here are some reasons they cited:

1. The big maritime countries of Western Europe count on merchant fleets as major money earners and are reluctant to interfere with them.
2. The cargoes being carried to Cuba by vessels flying flags of NATO countries, under charter to the Russians, are believed to consist of economic goods. A number of Russian vessels are reported carrying the arms aid to Cuba.
3. The type of economic items being sent to Cuba are not believed to fall within the list of strategic goods banned by the West from shipment to Iron Curtain countries.
4. The United States itself permits shipments of foodstuffs and medicines to Cuba.

Sleeping Sickness Hits Florida West Coast Area

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—An outbreak of sleeping sickness, an unusual disease that affects the brain and nervous system, has hit this Florida West Coast resort area, with varying repercussions.

Pinellas County officials report 108 suspected cases of the illness, formally called encephalitis, and say they suspect eight deaths have been caused by it.

Motel and hotel operators along the Gulf Coast beaches say they have received numerous out-of-town reservation cancellations, although most report they are filled up for the Labor Day weekend.

South Carolina's health officer,

Dr. G. S. T. Peebles, cautioned residents of his state to steer clear of the West Coast area if they visit Florida.

Dr. Harry C. Oard, director of the county's communicable disease division, which is responsible for fighting the epidemic, resigned Wednesday without comment.

Sources close to the situation said Oard may have resigned because of pressure put on the health department by business and tourists interests.

W. C. Ballard, health department director, said he has received numerous telephone calls critical of releasing figures on the outbreak to news media, but he added:

"No pressure that I know of was put on Dr. Oard to quit or to hold back information on the encephalitis epidemic."

He said he would try to get Oard to reconsider his resignation. The South Carolina official said he based his warning against visiting this area on the case of a Silver Springs, Md., youth he said died of the disease Saturday at Orangeburg, S.C.

The youth, Richard Martin, 16, had been visiting the Tampa-St. Petersburg area. He was en route home when he was hospitalized.

Sleeping sickness is marked by nerve cell destruction, muscular weakness and lethargy.

Health officials say it is caused by the bite of a certain type of mosquito. It cannot be transmitted from one person to another. The mosquito gets the sleeping sickness virus from infected birds that migrate to the St. Petersburg area.

An all-out spraying campaign is on to try to eradicate the mosquitoes.

The disease can be confirmed only by laboratory tests which take several weeks.

Board Approves Amphitheatre Plan For Palo Duro

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Parks Board gave its approval Thursday to working sketches of an amphitheater for Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

The board received notice that the International Boundary Commission is considering assignment of a new 550-acre tract for a state park on Amistad Reservoir, being built on the Rio Grande near Del Rio.

The new tract is smaller than the original 1,000-acre tract but will be more accessible.

The board extended the concession lease at Longhorn Cavern State Park for one year and the jeep concession lease at Monahans Sandhills State Park for one year. It authorized legal inquiry preliminary to possible relocation of the proposed new $15 million lodge at Eisenhower State Park on Lake Texoma.

Islanders Raise Their Own Flag

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad-Tobago (AP)—The islanders of Trinidad and Tobago momentarily muted their steel drums and calypso songs early today to solemnly raise the flag of independence over the Americas' newest nation.

The two southernmost islands of the West Indies rang down 165 years of British rule in a quiet midnight ceremony in the floodlit forecourt of Red House, the government building, before 35,000 citizens and guests.

It was a subdued beginning as an independent member of the British Commonwealth for the Caribbean islands known for their steel bands and improvised calypso songs of African origin.

Hours before the bands and singers had been turned off the streets as many islanders flocked to religious services conducted by a Roman Catholic archbishop, an Anglican bishop, a Protestant pastor, a Moslem sheikh and a Hindu priest.

Representatives of 35 other nations—including the United States, the Soviet Union and Cuba—witnessed the ceremony.

The new nation's prime minister, Dr. Eric Williams, has said the islands' 800,000 citizens and 1,864 square miles will remain "unequivocally west of the Iron Curtain."

Drive For Union Methods To Farm Marketing Seen

CORNING, Iowa (AP)—An organized drive to apply trade union principles to farm marketing has spread across the Midwest corn belt.

The National Farmers Organization (NFO), arguing that farmers are the most underpaid group in America, has launched a program to engage food processors in collective bargaining.

To back up its demands for contracts with processors to assure farmers a fixed price for their products, members of the NFO have agreed to hold livestock and grain from markets starting Saturday. No contracts have been signed.

The NFO on three previous occasions has held livestock, primarily hogs, from markets. Its leaders claimed success in 1959, 1960 and again last year. Marketing officials said there was little noticeable effect.

Little success also was foreseen on the latest and most ambitious of the organization's holding actions.

Rival farm leaders and processors say the NFO does not have the strength or support of non-members to put the campaign across.

NFO President Oren Lee Staley

contends his group controls 25 to 30 per cent of the agricultural production needed to make its bargaining tactics effective.

The NFO has members in 15 states but refuses to reveal its membership figures. Staley says "Our membership strength is part of our bargaining power. You don't give away your strategy."

Best estimates are that the NFO has between 75,000 and 250,000 members paying $25 a year dues.

NFO, operating out of a converted store in this Iowa town of 2,941 was born in 1955 as a dirt farmer movement protesting low hog prices.

Jay Loghry, a 55-year-old feed salesman who had lost his farm in the depression, launched the organization by calling together interested farmers at Carl, Iowa. Thirty-five farmers attended. Hogs were selling for 12 cents a pound—7 cents more than farmers received in 1940.

Within two years NFO members numbered 40,000. Staley, 39, a Rea, Mo., farmer, has been NFO president for nearly seven years.

NFO members also belong to other farm organizations, principally the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Tower Opposes Bill Trimming Oil Depletion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., declared Thursday a proposed tax bill amendment to trim oil depletion allowance "would have a very adverse effect on the economy of Texas."

Tower said he hoped the Senate would reject the amendment offered by Sen. John Williams, R-Del. It would cut the 27 1/2 per cent allowance to 20 per cent.

"Some have called the depletion allowance a subsidy. The depletion allowance is not, as are subsidies, the transfer of money from the pocket of one taxpayer to that of another. It is an incentive to an industry where there are a great number of hazards," Tower said.

Wings Weren't Large Enough

STEVENAGE, England (AP)—Two-year-old Catherine Burton watched birds swoop around her nursery window and decided to try flying for herself.

She plunged 18 feet to a concrete path Thursday, but a clothesline broke her fall. Cathy, 2, told her mother, "I only wanted to fly like the pigeons."

The hospital reported Cathy had minor internal injuries.

On Way To Court

Dr. Robert Soblen, 61-year-old fugitive spy, rides to Appeal Court in London to continue his fight in British courts against deportation to the United States. Soblen came to court for the hearing from Brixton jail.

Probers Think Agriculture Dept. Ripe For Overhaul

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating Billie Sol Estes' federal farm aid deals said today the Agriculture Department is ripe for a structural overhaul. The suggestions came from both Democratic and Republican sides of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee as it called Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy for a third day of questioning. The subcommittee also planned to quiz two of Estes' lawyers con-

Dog's Cornea Is Transplanted To Blind Man's Eye

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—An Iraqi surgeon who transplanted a dog's cornea to a blind man's eye says the man can now see a hand move 18 inches away. The surgeon, Dr. Salah Aldin Alharah, said in a television broadcast some complications followed the operation but they were similar to those involved in corneal transplants between humans. "We cannot give a final decision in the case until we have made further operations of the same kind," he said.

Power Mower Cuts Foot From Child

DALLAS (AP)—The left foot of a 19-month-old Carrollton boy was severed Thursday when he was knocked down by a power lawn mower in the yard next to his grandparents' home in Dallas. The child is Charles Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kenneth Brown. The grandmother, Mrs. C. L. Bourland, said the accident happened moments after she started the mower. I guess the vibration of the motor started it rolling and the boy ran up about that time and it knocked him down. It didn't roll more than eight inches," Mrs. Bourland said.

Paralyzed And Deaf, Girl Regains Most Of Faculties

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP)—Della Derlien, paralyzed from the waist down and deaf, has regained most of her faculties but probably is proudest of her most recent accomplishment of learning to swim.

The story of Miss Derlien's recovery was reported in New York Thursday at the meeting of the American Congress of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation. Additions to the dramatic story of the girl's recovery and of her other accomplishments through her determination were described by her aunt, Mrs. Lorron Friedrichs of Sheboygan, with whom Miss Derlien, 26, lives.

"She is a remarkable girl," Mrs. Friedrichs said. "Not only did she learn to lip read on her own but this summer she insisted on going to a summer camp alone where she learned to swim." "Della is a very cheerful girl and never talks about the years she spent in bed and of the long surgery on her twisted body. She works part time as a photo retoucher for a Sheboygan studio, moves about freely in a wheel chair, dresses herself, helps me with the meals and housework. She never lost the ability to speak but she had to teach herself to lip-read. She never took a course in that art."

28 Refugees Arrive From Cuba

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Twenty-eight more Cuban refugees have arrived in Key West. The Derlien children came to live with Mr. and Mrs. Friedrichs when their mother died in 1950. The father, Peter, lives in Wausau, Wis. Dr. Herbert A. Schoening, director of rehabilitation services at the Kenny Rehabilitation Institute in Minneapolis, said that seven years ago, on the eve of her graduation from high school, the girl was stricken by spinal meningitis. Her body was left deformed, immobile below the waist, with the strain of muscle contractions dislocating her hips and cramping her legs in a crouched position. Her hearing failed. Year after year, she lay in this tragic state at her aunt's home. Finally, her family placed her under treatment of the Kenny institute. A 14-man rehabilitation team went to work on her case. Schoening said her restoration took 19 weeks. Miss Derlien underwent eight surgical operations and received intensive treatment, therapy and training.

Apprehension Follows Quakes

LOGAN, Utah (AP)—Some apprehensive feelings remained after Thursday's earthquake shook this Northern Utah community. The tremors also rumbled through sections of Wyoming.

Montana, Nevada, Idaho and Colorado. There were no injuries. Several small tremors followed the initial shock. Residents were warned larger aftershocks are possible. Six old brick homes in nearby Richmond were ruined by the quake. A sugar plant north of Logan and four buildings at Utah State University here were damaged. Logan Junior High School remained closed today because of damaged walls but most schools planned classes. Scientists estimated the shock at 3.7 on the Richter Scale. The San Francisco quake in 1906 was 8.25.

Official Delegate Getup

Emory Parrish, and Mrs. Reba Parrish, Big Spring, delegates to the convention of the National Letter Carriers Association, model the official costumes the 200 Texas delegates will wear at the meeting in Denver.

Couple To Attend Postal Convention

They'll look like cowboys and cowgirls, perhaps, but they'll really be the 200 delegates from Texas post offices to the meeting of the National Letter Carriers Association which opens Sunday in Denver.

Emory Parrish, president of Big Spring local 1084 National Letter Carriers Association, and his wife, Reba, who is official delegate from the auxiliary—The Mainsprings—leave Saturday for Denver to attend the meeting. They will travel in the official costume chosen by Texas postal workers for their delegates to wear.

The cowboy getup, with black hat, string tie and ranch style trousers will be a change from the gray uniform, official cap and hole shirt that Parrish wears on his daily rounds. Mrs. Parrish will wear a bright red blouse and white skirt with the black sash labeled in white letters, Texas.

The convention continues through Sept. 8. The association meeting is held each two years. The Parrishes are the only local delegates.

The association will elect national officers as one of the major items on its agenda. The Parrishes will combine the trip to Denver with a vacation tour in New Mexico.

Mrs. Parrish is employed at Webb AFB.

Chinese Settle 'Farmer Guards'

GANGTOK, Sikkim, AP—The Communist Chinese army is setting up units called "farmer guards" along the inhospitable Himalayan frontier to secure the Tibetan border, according to reports reaching this Indian-protected border province.

The farmer guards, sometimes are whole families which have the additional task of trying to convert Tibetans to communism and otherwise influence them to Chinese ways of life.

Sales Tax One Year Old Saturday; Few Battles

AUSTIN, AP—Texas' sales tax is one year old Saturday. Despite years of arguments in the legislature and by candidates in the first year operation was generally harmonious.

There were a few exceptions. One is a court ruling that State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert cannot collect the 2 percent sales tax on real estate transactions of less than 25 cents. This ruling is an appeal.

The other is a court ruling that natural gas and electricity used in bonded areas for mining business should be exempt from the sales tax. This ruling is an appeal.

At the Austin office of the state comptroller's office, Calvert said that the state will pay the state sales tax.

When the sales tax was enacted, the sales tax and surtax were expected to raise $1.8 billion in two fiscal years.

pected $160 million. The state will have no deficit at the end of this biennium, Aug. 31, 1963.

"I think we will avoid a break even," Calvert said.

Robert Nabors, director of the sales tax branch of the comptroller's office, said 30 or 35 persons work in the branch.

In addition, a number of revenue examiners are in areas around the state checking to see if taxpayers are properly made. These "bean" businessmen make the reports.

Calvert has made 43 rulings on the tax.

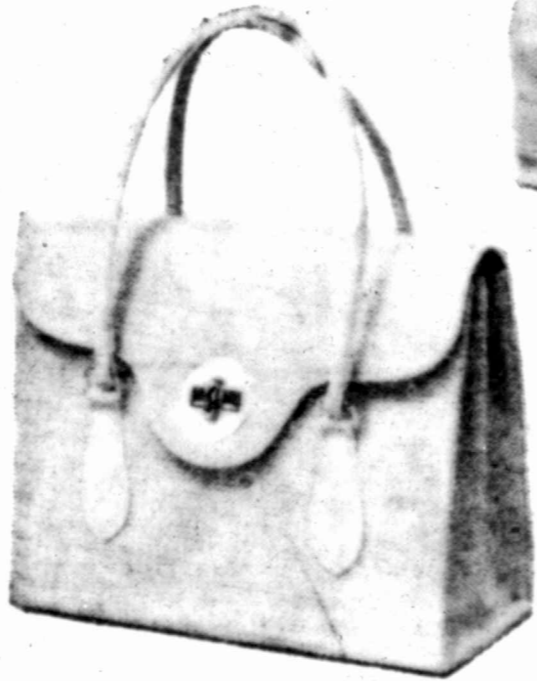

When the sales tax went into effect in Sept. 1, 1961, the Texas House of Representatives estimated the average Texas will pay the state sales tax $24 a year.

At least 200,000 sales tax permits have been issued to outlets or retail stores charged with collecting the tax from the consumer.

"I think most of the people and businessmen are aware of the tax," Nabors said. "I doubt if these are the many people who are supposed to collect the tax still unaware that they have to."

State Probes Oil Well Survey Report

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission said today it is investigating an oil well survey report by the chairman of Lone Star Steel Co. was slanted 20 degrees.

The pipeline connections to this lease have not been severed, said Railroad Commission Chairman W. J. Murray Jr. "We are not saying the well is illegally slanted. Our Kilgore office has asked for a plat of the lease to determine if the bottom of the hole is within the lease boundary."

The well is one of two wells operated by E. B. Germany and sons on the Christian Women's Board of Missions lease in the Hawkins Field. Murray said the Railroad Commission survey completed Thursday showed a deviation of 20 degrees.

Murray said that while there is a rule in the East Texas Field that wells may not be slanted more than 2 degrees without special permission that does not apply to the Hawkins field or other fields of the state.

The Railroad Commission chairman said that a survey completed Thursday on a field in the Quitman Field of Wood County, operated by Gibson Drilling Co., showed a deviation of 42 degrees. Murray said pipeline connections to the Quitman Field well were severed because the commission's Kilgore office was convinced the bottom of the well is beyond the lease line.

Severing pipeline connections is the commission's method of removing a well from a market. Corrective measures must be taken before the commission will restore pipeline connections.

Murray said that if investigation of the Hawkins Field well or any other questionable well shows the bottom of the well is beyond the authorized lease area, then pipeline connections will be severed.

If the well bottom is within 100 feet of the lease boundary or if the bottom is too close to other wells, then the commission would call a special hearing on the survey.

The commission specifies exact distances that a well must be placed from other wells and other property lines before a drilling permit is issued. Special spacing exceptions sometimes are granted after a hearing.

Murray said the Hawkins Field well with the reported 20 degree deviation was drilled before the commission passed rule 54 requiring that an operator must get special permission before intentionally deviating a well. Therefore, he said, the new rule would not apply unless a property line is crossed.

The commission's reports Thursday on the directional surveys coincided with Gov. Price Daniel's statement that he is willing to talk with the House General Investigating Committee about a special legislative session concerning crooked hole oil wells.

The committee heard witnesses testify in Dallas that two former state employees had banked thousands of dollars in unexplained income, part of which was linked to wells taking oil from neighboring leases. There also was testimony about falsification of official reports on drilling and oil production.

The commission's reports Thursday on the directional surveys coincided with Gov. Price Daniel's statement that he is willing to talk with the House General Investigating Committee about a special legislative session concerning crooked hole oil wells.

Rains In East, Clear In Most Western Areas

By The Associated Press

Rain and thunderstorms spread across scattered sections in the East today but clear weather prevailed in most Western areas.

A flow of warm humid air from the Gulf Streamed northward Thursday over the Plains states and clashed with much cooler air pushing eastward from the Rockies.

Thunderstorms broke out along the boundary between the two contrasting air masses from northern Kansas through eastern Nebraska and western Iowa into the western Great Lakes region and from Wyoming southward to New Mexico.

Rain and thunderstorms continued during the night and early morning in Midwest areas into the Central Plains with heavy downpours in northwest Iowa. More than nine inches of rain drenched Ida Grove, Iowa, in a 12-hour period, causing some flooding. Nearly seven inches doused Pocahontas with amounts from 3 to 4 1/2 inches in other areas.

Light rain and showers dampened southern sections of the Middle Mississippi Valley. Fog covered scattered sections of the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley, Maine, along the coast in the Middle and Southern Atlantic Coast states, the Upper and Middle Mississippi Valley, the Central Plains and along coastal areas in the Pacific Coast states.

Coolest spots were in the Northern and Central Rockies with temperatures in the 40s. The 50s prevailed in the Northern and Central Plains and Central Plateau regions with the 60s and 70s across the major part of the country. Hot spots were in the southwest desert region.

Odessa Woman Dies In Crash

ROBERT LEE — Mrs. Marie Hendricks, 59, of Odessa, died Wednesday of injuries suffered Saturday in a car-truck crash in this town 31 miles north of San Angelo.

Her husband is pastor of the Pentacostal Church in Odessa. Their car collided with the truck as Rev. Hendricks was driving to Ballinger to officiate at a funeral. He received minor injuries. The truck driver wasn't hurt.

Quarantine On Airport After Smallpox Scare

NEW YORK (AP) — Two persons suspected to have smallpox causing a quarantine of 200 persons at Idlewild Airport early today, were diagnosed later as "most likely" having chickenpox.

The new diagnosis, by U.S. Public Health Service officials, was reported by Dr. Stanley Goldstein, night supervisor at Bellevue Hospital, a few minutes after the two persons arrived there.

The 200 at Idlewild were quarantined for periods up to five hours during investigation of the suspected smallpox cases.

Goldstein said the Public Health Service officials gave him the working diagnosis of likely chickenpox while a Philadelphia woman and her three children—two of them with heavy rashes—were en route from the airport to the hospital.

Goldstein said he could not tell how long it would take the hospital to make a definite diagnosis.

The Public Health Service officials ordered the quarantine after they discovered what they considered "bad rashes" on the children.

Goldstein said they reported later that the cases were probably chickenpox and they ordered the family to the hospital for additional tests.

The Philadelphia family was among a plane load of 132 persons arriving from Brazil.

The quarantine order covered the 122 passengers, 10 plane crew members and airport employees who had contact with those on the plane.

All the passengers were released from quarantine by 6 a.m. They had to wait at the field until their baggage was fumigated. The Pan American World Airways jet on which they arrived also was fumigated.

The quarantine was the second smallpox investigation in the city this month. The first came after a 15-year-old boy with smallpox arrived at Idlewild Aug. 11 en route from Brazil to Canada.

GENEVA (AP) — The United States proposed today that the three nuclear powers continue meeting during the recess of the disarmament talks to try to work out an agreement banning nuclear tests by the end of this year.

Greek Cypriots Cool To Lyndon

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson left by air for Athens today after a 24-hour state visit to Cyprus in which they were welcomed with special cordiality by Turkish Cypriots. But the cheers faded when the U.S. vice president entered Greek sectors of town. A thin line of Greek shopkeepers and passers-by applauded perfunctorily as he drove past. The Greek majority in this island nation feels the United States is at fault for not supporting Cypriot union with Greece.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Barney Barnard, captain of the visiting team in the Cosden Cup matches taking place here today, thought it fair that only contestants in the 31st annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament play for his squad.

For that reason, he turned down several linksters who volunteered to come to Big Spring for the matches but who did not want to tarry for the meet itself.

Incidentally, Midland's Bill Munn, No. 1 player on the University of Texas team the past spring, would have appeared in both the matches and the tournament had he not recently undergone an operation on his knee to remove a cartilage. As it looks now, he'll be sidelined from golf until January.

Two members of Barnard's team, Gus White Jr. and Bobby Bluhm, fought it out in the finals of the Lamesa Country Club tournament last weekend and White won, 2 and 1.

A seasoned campaigner in the Big Spring Invitational meet, Buster Tuttle, won championship consolation at Lamesa.

Wendy Green, the Big Spring Country Club pro, reasons that it will take about a four-under par 67 to win medal honors in the local tournament, all other conditions being equal. That means no wind, to speak of and wind plagued the tournament much of last year.

Bobby Wright of Big Spring could be the man to turn the trick. He's been playing very good lately. He's had rounds of 67, 68, 70 and so on in recent weeks.

Green is also of the opinion it will take about a 73 or 74 to rate the title fight of 32 players.

Jack Irons, the father of Big Spring's all-district football and baseball star of the same name, was in Pecos recently and chanced to meet and talk with Wendell Faulkner, the man who was the principal of an article appearing in Sports Illustrated magazine recently because of his physical resemblance to golfer Arnold Palmer.

Wendell told Irons he lived in Big Spring at one time—around 1950. He also revealed that he had bought a carton of Pecos cantaloupes and sent them along to Palmer as a sort of "get acquainted" approach.

Eighteen scouts, representing every major league baseball team but the Kansas City A's, watched one game of the State Semi-Pro baseball tournament in Lubbock last week. Attendance was considered very good in the Lubbock tournament.

Officials of the Quarterback Club here say they are deeply indebted to Don Newsom, Elmo Phillips and Ted Hull, all of whom are local grocers.

Newsom donated the coffee and tea for the recent barbecue honoring the 1962 Steer football team. Hull and Phillips had the job of seeing that there was plenty of choice meat on hand.

Incidentally, paid attendance at the barbecue was reported at 750.

Orioles Find Going Rough After Sweep

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joy was unrestrained in Baltimore when the Orioles swept five straight from the mighty New York Yankees over the weekend.

"If we played like that all the time, we'd win the pennant," said Gen. Manager Lee MacPhail.

The Orioles don't play like that all the time, and they are sixth Thursday night, Washington clipped them, 3-2 for the third time in four games since the Yankee sweep.

In the only other American League game, the Chicago White Sox widened their fourth place lead to two games over the Detroit Tigers, beating them 5-4.

In the National League, third-place Cincinnati edged the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4 second night. San Francisco defeated Milwaukee 3-2. Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs 5-3 and Philadelphia outslugged the New York Mets 8-7. St. Louis and Houston were not scheduled.

The Yankees, whose chances of blowing the pennant are taken seriously only in Minnesota and Southern California, open the final month's drive by entertaining the Kansas City Royals tonight.

The Yankees, according to their manager, are putting pressure on the contenders in their own fashion.

"The closer they get to us, the tighter we get on them," said Ralph Houk.

Yankee ace Walter Ford (13-7) won against Ed Baker (12-14). The pesky A's beat the Yanks three of five during the recent road trip that wound up 4-1 for the world champion, with the five Baltimore defeats tacked on the end.

The Minnesota Twins fan gave back one at Boston with Dick Sogardson, 9-3, fusing with R. Monteagette (11-12).

The Los Angeles Angels, three games back despite having been written off about once a week since Memorial Day, meet Washington today with Tom Bosser and Ed and Don Lee in opposing lineup. Green, Dill and Steve Hawley are on the Angels' roster.

The Yankee Stadium for a four game set, beginning with a Labor Day doubleheader.

The St. Louis three 9 whites, Don Lee, Senatore, Don Lee, pitched the eventual winning run with a home run in the second.

HARLINGEN, AP — Match play began today in the Lower Rio Grande Valley Golf Tournament with Pat Thompson of Mission leading the way.

Thompson shot a 4 under par 67 Thursday to win medal honors by three strokes.

Wayne Straman of Mission and Nick Carter of San Antonio had 70. Lupe Rodriguez of Harlingen, Jim Cason of Harlingen and Bobby Larkey of Weslaco were next at 72.

Johnny Johnson of Harlingen, the defending champion, did not have to qualify.

Ivy Could Have Inherited Championship Club In AFL

By MAX SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Oilers have a new head coach but the stars and offense will be the same as the Oilers seek their third straight American Football League championship in 1961.

Frank Pop Ivy took over the Oilers last winter when he and a former assistant, Wally Lemm, pulled an unofficial inter-league switch that sent Lemm back to the National Football League as head coach of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The switch permitted Ivy to inherit a championship team, a 10-game winning streak, and two of the AFL's top offensive stars—quarterback George Blanda and halfback Billy Cannon.

Practically the entire 1961 championship squad is back and Ivy has what Oiler officials say is the finest group of rookies in the club's 3-year history.

About the only major change Ivy has announced is an intention of running more sweeps, a bit of strategy that could link with Cannon's announced objective of gaining 1,300 yards rushing in his third year as a pro.

Ivy has made it clear he will continue use of the double and triple wings, the patterns his two former Cardinal assistants, Lemm and Walt Schlinkman, used last season in turning spluttering Oilers into a high scoring offensive machine.

Schlinkman turned down a chance to move to St. Louis with Lemm and remains as an assistant under Ivy.

Despite a thyroid operation on Blanda and injuries to 11 other players, Ivy extended the Oiler winning streak to 13 games before Houston dropped its first 1962 exhibition game 21-14 last week to Buffalo.

He had experimented against Buffalo by using two platoons on both offense and defense while looking over the rookies headed by Bobby Janic, an impressive safety from Lamar Tech at Beaumont, Tex., and Tom Good, the former Mississippi State center who quit after only three days in last year's early training camp that was directed by Lou Rymkus, producer of the 1960 title team.

Ivy was pleased with the team's blocking and with Blanda's first real test after undergoing surgery.

Ivy stuck with basic offensive patterns for the most part but did make limited use of the double wing variation Lemm instituted after taking over last Oct. 14 when Rymkus' second Oiler team got off to a 1-3-1 start.

Blanda ranked only seventh among AFL passers in 1960 but was No. 1 last year, setting four league records while completing 187 of 362 passes for 3,340 yards and 36 touchdowns. He averaged 9.19 yards per attempt and 17.81 per completion.

Young Jacky Lee, who continues as understudy to the former Chicago Bear, tacked on another 1,206 yards and 12 touchdowns with 66 completions.

All of Blanda's favorite targets—Cannon, Charlie Hennigan and Bill Groman—are back.

Hennigan set a league mark of 1,746 yards on 82 receptions. Groman bothered much of last season and most of fall training this year by injuries, scored a record 17 touchdowns while receiving 50 passes for 1,175 yards. Cannon led all AFL backs as a pass receiver, taking 43 for 396 yards and nine touchdowns.

Cannon, the 1959 All-America halfback and Heisman Trophy winner from Louisiana State, ranked third in AFL rushing in 1960 with 644 yards but won the league title last year with a record 948 yards in 200 carries.

Jim Brosnan Kayoes L. A. Behind Reds

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Author-pitcher Jim Brosnan trudged out of the bullpen in the ninth inning Thursday night and preserved a 5-4 Cincinnati triumph over National League leading Los Angeles that kept the defending champion Reds within range of the Dodgers.

The third-place Reds led 5-0 behind Jim O'Toole's shitter when the Dodgers rallied in the ninth. Three runs were in and the bases were loaded when Brosnan got the call and started researching a sequel to his already published

"The Long Season" and "The Pennant Race."

Duke Snider was the first batter against the 33-year-old right-handed relief specialist. He was called out on strikes. Maury Wills beat out a hit, making it 5-4 and leaving the bases loaded. Jim Gilliam stepped up, worked the count to 3-2 then lifted a soft fly to center field.

The triumph salvaging the last of the three-game series, left the Reds 5½ games behind the Dodgers, who are 2½ in front of second-place San Francisco. The Giants closed ground as Jack Sanford posted his 13th straight victory, 3-2 over Milwaukee, on home runs by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Jim Davenport.

Mays' homer was No. 40, marking the fourth time in his career he has reached the 40-mark. Warren Spahn lost in August for the first time in three years.

Pittsburgh clipped the Chicago Cubs 5-3, but again had to call on relief ace Elroy Face—who responded with his 21st save as Chicago second baseman Ken Hubbs played errorless ball for the 72nd consecutive game—one game short of Bobby Doerr's record.

Flavor can't hide in this rare water.

Pearl's brewing water is as near perfect as nature produces. It bubbles out of springs to flow briefly across ripples and rapids in the scenic streams of the Edwards Plateau. Then it is swallowed up and taken deep underground by thirsty limestone. Never leaving this pure, white stone, the water is filtered for 100 hidden miles before it reaches Pearl's own artesian wells, a quarter-mile beneath the brewery. It comes up pure and clear—perfect for capturing all the life and good taste in Pearl's fine grains and hops. You taste all the delicate flavors you often miss in beer. Include refreshing Pearl in your holiday plans.

Doves May Be Difficult To Find In Howard Co.

Dove hunting begins at noon Saturday but there's a good chance the hunter who goes out after the birds in Howard County will find shooting opportunities rather slim.

Royis Tucker, game warden for this county, speaking before the Big Spring Kiwanis Club Thursday, said he had made a survey of the county and that the crop of doves is "pretty thin."

He warned all hunters to remember that the hunting is illegal in the afternoon. The doves can be shot at anytime after noon from Sept. 1 through Oct. 30. Both starting and ending days of the season are included as shooting days.

no hunter can have more than 24 in his possession at any one time.

Tucker pointed out that a hunter, who does his shooting in his own county, can hunt dove (or quail) without a hunting license. If he goes beyond the boundary of the home county, he must have a license.

Tucker was introduced to the club by Soc Walker, program chairman. He did not devote much of his time to a formal speech but used it to answer questions from the members.

quail in the area over which he has jurisdiction. This includes Howard, Mitchell, Scurry and Nolan counties. He said that this season in these counties opens Nov. 24 and ends Jan. 20. The limit is 15 per day and not more than 45 in possession.

Quail-hunting will be allowed in Borden County this fall with the season opening on Dec. 1 and extending through Dec. 16.

Other season dates include one for antelope opening Sept. 29 and ending Oct. 7. Again this year, the landowners will be issued permits to kill a specified number of antelopes and can issue these permits to whom they choose.

Laver Casts Long Shadow In Meet

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Roy Emerson, the forgotten man of Australian tennis, was squarely on the spot today as he began defense of his national tennis championship.

All season the easy-going Emerson has been plodding along in the shadow of his Davis Cup teammate, Rod Laver. In no fewer than eight countries has Laver won the national championship year while cutting down everyone who stood in his way.

This is Emerson's final chance to step out of Laver's shadow before the Aussies defend the Davis Cup at the end of the year.

The dark-haired Emerson's first round opponent was Pancho Gonzales, the sometime-playing captain of the Mexican Davis Cup team that knocked the United States out of the running in the American Zone competition earlier in the month.

Steers Launch Grid Workouts

Seventy-seven boys asked for football equipment at the local high school this morning. Official workouts are due to get under way around 3:45 o'clock this afternoon. The griders will work out twice Saturday and twice again Monday, then tail off to one-a-day drills for the rest of the year.

Emerson got a big break when Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy seeded seventh, scratched Nov. 16, the only player in his quarter who might make things difficult is Mike Sangster of Britain.

The Longhorns will hone their game for a scrimmage against Amarillo High, which takes place a week from tomorrow at Leveland.

Jerry Green, pro at the Big Spring Country Club, shows young Mike Rodgers the makeup of the competing teams for the annual Cosden Cup matches, which will be played starting at 1 p.m. today as a prelude to the 31st annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament. D Day At Hand For Entries In 31st Annual Tournament

What is shaping up as a very strong field starts the first run for the championship and allied honors in the 31st annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament at the Country Club today.

The massive meet does not end until Monday when the championship finalists meet over 36 holes.

Today's program is packed. Starter Gil Barnett was confronted with a big job trying to get off all those who had not yet qualified for the meet. In addition he had to concern himself with giving the go-ahead sign to the principals in the Cosden Cup matches.

The matches, which pit ten local linksters headed by Son Powell against an elite group of out-of-town players captained by popular Barney Barnard of Odessa. Barnard was not to announce his entire team until he arrived this morning. The nine linksters team with Powell won their spots through 72 holes of medal play.

There'll be a buffet supper in the club house for all tournament entries at 6:30 p.m. A dance will be held at the club Saturday evening. A bridge tournament is in the offing for wives of entries and members of the country club.

Raymond Stoker of Odessa is the defending champion. He's played very little this summer because of the time his school studies demands. He asked not to be considered for the visiting cup team for that reason but consented to play in the meet itself.

275 Might Win Title: Stewart

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Doug Sanders, winner of three tournaments and among the top finishers in nine others, and National Open champion Jack Nicklaus headed the field in the $35,000 Dallas Open today.

The tournament started with Sanders and Nicklaus favorites for the $5,300 first money but with Earl Stewart, the home pro who won it last year, considered a very strong possibility.

Short swinging Doug is the hottest player at this time, having won the last two tournaments. Nicklaus was eyed because of his great putting, since skill on the greens will be at a premium. They are not in very good shape.

Eleven players who have won tournaments this year and five of the 10 top money winners were competing. The pros were talking about 275 or 277 winning the 72-hole event that runs through Monday.

Rebuilding the Homeland

THE EARLY EXPERIENCES OF A NATION RETURNING TO ITS HOMETOWN AFTER AN EXILE OF 70 YEARS

Scripture—Ezra 1: 2:64-65, 70; 3:1-5; 7:6-10.

By N. SPEER JONES
TODAY we concentrate on two important men in history. All the passages in today's lesson are taken from the book of Ezra, the man often regarded as "the father of the scribes." However, although he was such an important man in Biblical history, we know almost nothing about him. He tells us (in chapter seven, verses 1-5) that he came from a long line of priests, descended from the high priest Aaron.

So Ezra was a born priest, but more than that he was a scholar—as he himself says, a man skilled in the law of Moses, that is, with the interpretation of the first five books of the Bible.

Prior to this time the major religious leaders were the priests and the prophets. Ezra and the scribes who followed him were to become more important than the priests or the prophets, as leaders of the people. They would study the laws and expound them to the people.

We don't know when Ezra was born, but we do know that he came into prominence about 458 B.C., when he obtained from the Persian ruler, Artaxerxes, permission and aid to recolonize Israel. (See Ezra 7.)

The events described in the first six chapters of the book of Ezra occurred before his time. The book opens with the beginning of the world-wide reign of Cyrus the Great of Persia, 80 years prior to Ezra's expedition, or in 538 B.C. This was 48 years after the fall of Jerusalem. The year 538 B.C. marked the end of the brief, based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission. praise of this man, not only as a soldier and statesman, but as a noble and humane person. Never did he destroy a town or kill a captive king. His treatment of the Babylonians was like that of a constitutional monarch, carefully guarding his people's rights.

This background helps to explain his remarkably charitable conduct toward the exiled Jews in Babylonia. Among his first acts as ruler was the edict permitting and encouraging their return to their native land—and it must be remembered that Cyrus was a Zoroastrian, a pagan who spoke of God as one of many. His religious tolerance and sympathy added to his remarkable ability to control men, for it gave him a firm following among the various religious groups in his huge empire.

"Ezra had set his heart to study the law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach His statutes and ordinances in Israel."—Ezra 7:10.

"BURIED IN BAPTISM"

The scriptures of God are not intended for refutation, nor exploitation. They are pure and real; the unimpeachable testimony of God's will to mankind. The scripture is not a text book on science and yet it is scientifically correct; the Word of God is precise, clearcut and unerring.

All of the aberration, laxity, mistake, heresy and misjudgment falls on the side of man. Man has bungled, and stumbled and slipped and tried; he is so often led by mirages and falsely impressed by his own self-deception.

The divine remedy, which Jehovah has provided, known as the gospel, offers man to pardon and forgiveness of his sins at the point of his rising from a burial called "Baptism"; this is from a Greek word "Baptizo" meaning to plunge beneath, cover, submerge, overwhelm, dip or immerse. The scriptural proof of forgiveness at the point of baptisms may be seen in Acts 2:38, Acts 22:16, Gal. 3:26-27, Mark 16:15-16, 1 Peter 3:21, John 3:3-5, Rom. 6:3-4, Col. 2:11-12, et al.

Compare Rom. 6:4 and Col. 2:12 and note the term, "Buried with him by baptism;" and that men are raised from baptism to "walk in the newness of life." This comprises the new creature spoken of in II Cor. 5:17—if any man be in Christ he is a new creature. Note this is "in Christ," not "in the water." The Scripture declares that we are baptized into Christ, Gal. 3:27. "For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ." Man has no rationality, profundity nor caliber that will permit him to throw overboard this eternal truth!

Sprinkling officially dates from the Roman Catholic Council of Davenna. Using the word "Officially" to mean the date, not official Authority from God! For God's word has not changed! John Calvin, Presbyterian, attested baptism as a burial in these words, "The word baptize signifies to immerse. It is certain that immersion was the practice of the early church. Martin Luther said, "Baptism is a Greek word, and may be translated 'immerse.' I would have those who are to be baptized to be altogether dipped." John Wesley (Methodist) "Buried with him by baptism—aluding to the ancient manner of baptizing by immersion." "Rantize" is the Greek word for "sprinkle." But even though you do not know about "Baptizo" or "Rantizo" you must still read the Bible correctly and know to be "buried in baptism" for the divine reason and thus do God's will.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Do you suppose Susie wants an addition for her doll family? Or ice cream and cake for supper tonight? Or a new pair of fancy black patent-leather shoes?

I'm Susie's mother, but I wouldn't know! You'd have to have seven league boots to keep apace with her active little mind!

For instance, she'd overheard us discussing our new family policy of having a suggestion box. Susie was determined to get into the act too. It is typical of her, typical of our family. We enjoy doing things together. We believe in unity in work, in play, and in prayer.

We center our family activities about the Church. The children go to Church School—Susie can hardly wait for each Sunday morning—and my husband is active in the Men's Club. I am president of the woman's group in our parish. Yet—it does take a lot of time and effort. But I am never happier than when I am doing church work, because I know how truly worthwhile it is.

Don't forget that your church needs workers too! Just as you need the Church!

Sophia Loren's Proxy Marriage Voided By Court

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A Mexican court has voided the Mexican proxy marriage of film star Sophia Loren and producer Carlo Ponti, their Italian attorney said today.

The action may save the couple from a bigamy trial in Italy.

At Juarez, Mexico, Antonio Lopez Machuca, who is Miss Loren's Mexican attorney, said no decree had been issued but that Judge Francisco Ungo Munoz had advised him one would be announced today.

Attorney Mario Luzzati said in Milan he had received word that a court at Juarez had declared the marriage was nonexistent—that Miss Loren and Ponti had never been married.

The pair had asked for the nullification of their marriage because of Italian law, not because of romantic difficulties.

Two months ago, an investigating judge in Rome, acting as a one-man grand jury, ordered Miss Loren and Ponti to stand trial.

Ponti has a Mexican divorce from his first wife, but Roman Catholic Italy does not recognize divorce. He was charged with bigamy. Miss Loren, who had never married before, was charged with concubinage in bigamy.

No date had been set for the trial, and the two were at liberty awaiting the start of court action.

Legal sources said the charges may be dropped as a result of the Mexican court action.

Ponti, 46, and Miss Loren, 27, were married by proxy in Juarez in September 1957, three years after Ponti obtained a Mexican divorce from his first wife, Giuliana Pinstra.

Several Italian citizens filed private bigamy complaints against the film couple.

Perry Mason Picks Up His Buddies, Goes To Thursday

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Indomitable Perry Mason, who has been defending the innocent every Saturday night for the past five years, will soon be moving lock, stock, Della, Paul and Hamilton to Thursday nights.

And of all the shifting of programs the new television season, the switch on Sept. 27 of "Perry Mason" will be watched with the greatest interest. When the show was launched, Saturday night generally was regarded as a sort of television Siberia, a time when only the very young and the infirm were home watching their sets.

Either the premise was wrong or Perry Mason persuaded a lot of people Saturday was a good night to stay home. The show—and the ones which followed it on CBS—invariably have rolled up enormous audiences.

The big question is whether the invincible attorney and his acting family will be able to carry that audience into another day and a new hour.

None of us is nervous," insists producer Gail Patrick Jackson. "It's like moving to a new neighborhood. You may make new friends but you'll still keep your old ones, too."

Mrs. Jackson gets a bit annoyed with those who complain about the "rigid format" of the series.

"No one has ever said we must have a rigid form and we don't feel that it is," she explained. "All we have tried to do is keep the characters and the stories as compatible as possible with the books. After all, Erle Stanley Gardner is still writing Mason books and they are enormously popular."

Last season they decided to spice up the series by introducing a new character, David Gideon, a young law student who got somewhat involved in Perry's cases. He disappeared quietly after a few shows.

"The public didn't like any changes in the set-up," she said. "They wrote in, saying they thought he was attractive and that Karl Held was a fine actor, but that he wasn't one of the family."

"Our shows are mental exercises—the audience always tries to guess who did it. And sometimes one's attention is diverted a bit. The epilogues are necessary to fill in any gaps in concentration."

—battle scenes from World War I movies glued together by a Marine disaster. The "Riddle of the Lusitania"—whether it was carrying arms and explosives when torpedoed during the First World War remains unanswered. Come on, fellows, give those old Wright Brothers films and the Mack Sennett comedy cops a rest for awhile.

Dick Powell must be superstitious. Last season he premiered his new anthology series with a whodunit containing so many stars in "Cameo" that means short and smallish roles that he had to list them alphabetically. The series was a hit. This year although his opening show of the season on Sept. 25, 1961, exactly a mystery show, has alphabetical list of stars—eight—ranges from Allyson (June) to Stanwyck (Barbara).

NBC's news special earlier this week seemed like a quicker toss together for a lean season. It was a bunch of now-familiar clips from old newsreels and—obvious-

Space Center Bids Are Made

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas and Nebraska firms apparently were low bidders Thursday in a joint proposal for constructing the first five units of the nation's $122 million manned spacecraft center.

A bid of $4,145,055 was submitted by W. S. Bellows Construction Co. of Houston and Peter Kiewit Sons Co. of Omaha, Neb.

The government had estimated the five units would cost $3,955,546.

Col. R. P. West, Fort Worth district chief of the U.S. Engineers, said a contract would be awarded within 10 days.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is building the spacecraft center on a 1,700-acre site 25 miles east of downtown Houston. U.S. astronauts will train there and future spacecraft projects will be developed there.

Bids were received on a two-story central data building, a heating and cooling plant, a fire station, a water purification building and a sewage treatment plant.
