Biggest, Wettest Rainfall Of Year Saturates Area

As Much As 5.70 Inches

By SAM BLACKBURN
 The biggest, wettest and best rain of 1962 moved across West Texas Tuesday night and Wednesday saturating the area with from 1.25 to as much as 5.70 inches of desperately needed moisture.

The rains were not really expected. Forecasters had said that "scattered showers" might result from a cold front which was hovering over the area Tuesday but no one seemed to expect the kind of precipitation which fell.

Nor could the rains have been better. They fell slowly and with persistent steadiness throughout most of the night and parched fields and ranges drank greedily.

PERKED UP
 Cotton plants which had been panting under a blazing sun perked up wonderfully and farmers whose faces had assumed the grim expression of men facing disaster presented happier expressions.

Temperatures topped on the heels of the rain. From a sizzling 95, heavily humid, Tuesday afternoon, the heat broke to a cool 59 degrees Wednesday morning.

Continued cool weather for today is the forecast with overcast skies and more showers foreseen for both today and Thursday.

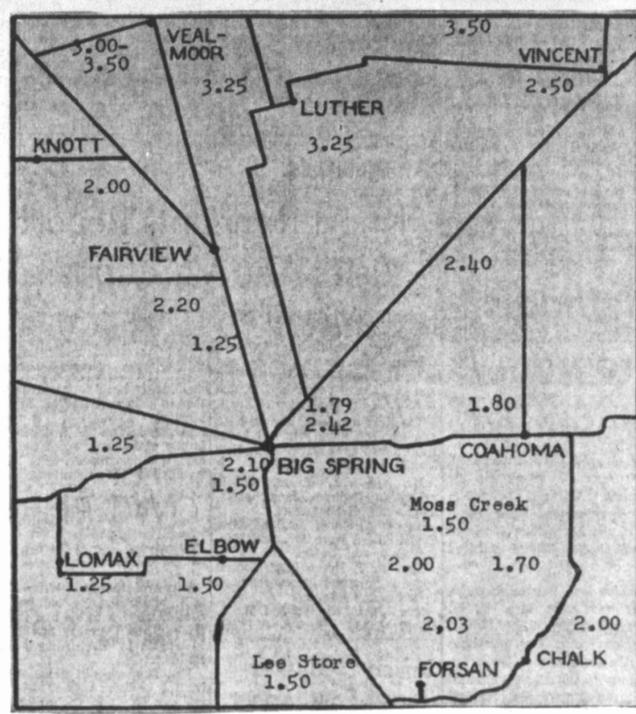

There was some debate as to whether the rains were too late to do a maximum amount of good but it was generally agreed that only benefit could derive from the fall.

"We couldn't do anything about the drought," remarked one farmer. "We had about all we could do to cope with the bugs. Now that the moisture problem has been met, we can go ahead with our war on the insects with better heart and better results."

SHARE
 Apparently every section of the Big Spring area shared generously in the rains.

Heaviest rains in Howard County seem to have been in the Vincent area, already the best treated rainwise of any part of the county, and in the extreme northwest corner around Ackerly, Knott and Vealmoor.

Rainfall in Vincent varied from 2.50 inches to as much as four inches. This was typical of that part of the area. Heavy rains soaked the ranchlands of Borden County with reports from some areas of as much as 4 inches.

A LOT OF RAIN
 . . . and most of it was soaking in

In Ackerly, the rains were from three to four inches and Knott had from two inches up.

In Big Spring, the official gauge at the U. S. Experiment Station showed 1.79 inches.

This was the heaviest single rain of the entire year and also the biggest rain recorded for Sept. 5 in the 60 years that records have been kept. Heaviest Sept. 5 reading heretofore was in 1918-.50 of an inch.

YEAR'S TOTAL
 The rain of last night pushed the year's total to 9.12 inches. No water was caught in the Moss Creek basin from the rain.

Until Tuesday night's offering the biggest rain of the current year was the .96 of an inch which fell July 10.

In the southeast corner of the county, Chalk had two inches; Forsan 2.03; Moss Creek Lake 1.50; Powell Creek and Powell ranch 2. and 1.70 respectively. Coahoma had 1.80 inches of rain and Sand Springs, 2.10.

As usual, the precipitation

Torrential Fall In Borden
 GAIL—Torrential rains fell here Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, soaking most Borden County pastures and putting out desperately needed stock water.

Sheriff Sid Reeder said that the measurement in Gail was 3.4 inches. Along the north county line, the lightest part of the county, an inch of rain fell, but to the northeast rains were more intense. In the Fluvanna area there were reports of three and four inches.

South and east of Gail, rains ranged up to four inches. Gavitt Creek, east of Gail, was running heavily, and Bull Creek was up, although not on a rampage. If the Fluvanna rains were general, however, Bull Creek could experience a delayed rise. The two creeks empty into Lake Thomas.

The Colorado River was on a pronounced rise, too, Sheriff Reeder reported. Over a major portion of the county, creeks were running.

Rainfall Adds To Lake Thomas
 Lake J. B. Thomas was rising substantially Wednesday morning on the strength of heavy rains in central, south and northeastern Borden County.

The elevation shortly before noon was 2255.38 feet, 2.62 feet below spillway level, and the rate of increase was about an inch an hour. The gain for the night was 10,500 acre feet, better than three billion gallons.

There was prospect that Bull Creek would have a delayed rise, and if so, the lake could approach capacity.

Lake Colorado City gained .5 of a foot.

Moss Creek Lake had no appreciable increase, but a substantial amount of runoff was reported going into Powell Creek Lake.

Scurry Reports Up To 4 Inches
 SNYDER—Good to heavy rains fell over most of Scurry County last night with the west side of the county apparently getting the most.

Snyder had 1.08 inches according to the official gauge. There were reports varying from three to four inches from the Fluvanna area in northwest Scurry County.

The southwest corner had similar reports. Dunn, in the southern place of the county, reported two inches.

Ben Bella In Saddle Again As Guerrillas Beaten Down
 ALGIERS (AP) — Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau took control of Algiers for the second time today after beating down local guerrilla warlords in a brief civil war.

It was impossible to say, however, whether stability was in sight for the two-month-old nation plagued by internal strife and chaos since its birth.

The Political Bureau called off the regular army's invasion of the Algiers area, then moved back to the Algiers offices it vacated under guerrilla pressure 10 days ago.

The rebellious leaders of the guerrilla Wilaya (zone) No. 4 controlling the Algiers area agreed to a demilitarization of the capital and marched their troops out of the city.

Ben Bella personally announced the agreement Tuesday night from the balcony of the government building, former headquarters of the French colonial administration.

"We have won," Ben Bella said, "not because the soldiers of Wilaya 4 have left the city but because the people have imposed their will."

The agreement represented a compromise between the civilian politicians and the guerrilla commanders trying to preserve the authority they seized after the end of the war with France.

The Political Bureau was to function as the country's provisional government without Wilaya 4 interference but gave up its demand for immediate dissolution of the Wilaya command.

The regular army was not to enter Algiers for the time being. Order was to be maintained in the city by police and the pro-Ben Bella commandos of former terrorist chief Yacel Saadi.

Saadi's men held the Casbah, the overcrowded old Moslem quarter in the heart of the city, as a Ben Bella enclave throughout the Wilaya rebellion. The guerrilla troops made two unsuccessful attempts to root them out. More than 150 persons were killed or wounded when the commandos fought them off.

The Communist-equipped regular army held a wide perimeter 70 to 100 miles west and south of Algiers. Its four-day advance from the Oran area with several thousand men and heavy artillery caused fewer than 10 killed and 100 wounded, mostly in its own ranks.

The regular forces were instructed to hold their fire as much as possible, and the heaviest fighting took place in the Algiers Casbah.

The Political Bureau was expected to set a new date for national elections, already postponed five times.

Demos Move To Avoid Veto On Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic lieutenants maneuvered today to avoid a situation in which President Kennedy might feel he had to veto the administration's tax revision bill.

Involved is an amendment being pressed in the Senate by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to attach to the measure a House-passed bill to set up a tax deductible retirement system for self-employed persons.

As many as 80 of the 100 senators are reported to be committed to support this proposal.

Everybody concerned thinks Kennedy would veto the measure if it came to him separately. The opinion is just about as unanimous that he would veto the parent tax bill if such a provision is included. A veto of the parent bill would mean the junking of his proposal for a 7 per cent tax credit for business plant investment. This provision, agreed to by voters of both houses, has been counted upon by the administration to soften some of the business opposition aroused in the steel price rollback.

To avoid wasting the months Congress has spent on the tax measure, administration lieutenants were working desperately to line up Senate votes to sidetrack the self-employed proposal until after the parent bill is passed.

The outcome of this touch-and-go effort seemed likely to rest on a firm promise that the self-employed measure would be taken up immediately after the tax bill.

A pledge to get a final vote on the self-employed proposal before the Senate takes up the trade bill might give the administration sufficient votes to table Dirksen's amendment. Democratic leaders reportedly were convinced they had enough votes to do it.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he plans to make tabling motions—which automatically cut off debate.

Defeat of the motion to table would indicate the Senate intends to vote the amendment into the bill, after it has worn down opposition talk against it.

Harry Hurt Dies Today
 Harry Hurt, retired Big Spring banker and long-time resident of Big Spring, died at 12:30 p.m. today in the Howard County Hospital.

The body was removed to River Funeral Home where arrangements are pending. He leaves his widow and one son, Harry Hurt Jr.

Mr. Hurt had been in ill health prior to his retirement as vice president at the First National Bank last year after a tenure of 40 years. No longer after he left his post on July 31, 1961, he became seriously ill.

Reared in Big Spring, he spent practically all his life here with the exception of time in the Army in World War I. Besides his banking connections, he served on several public and civic boards.

Mr. Hurt was a son of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hurt, pioneer residents of Big Spring; his father was the T&P physician in addition to his private practice.

After graduation from high school, he went into officer training at Fort Sam Houston with the 90th division and went overseas as a casual officer. This meant that he served with several units while in Europe.

Upon his return in 1919, he took a job with the J. M. Radford Company wholesale grocery concern. A couple of years later Louis Price, then head of the First National, offered him a job at the bank.

Harry Hurt took it, with a thought in mind that a couple of years in the bank would provide him with valuable experience. He had in mind opening a service for automobile financing, then in its infancy, and in real estate loans and insurance.

Soon he was handling exchange and posting the general ledger, and steadily he was advanced to higher positions of responsibility. These two years stretched into two score years.

At the time he took his place with the bank, he stipulated he was to get off three weeks that same year. He had previously met Miss Vivian Hall of Abilene, who was to be a bridesmaid in a wedding here, and on Sept. 1, 1921 they were wed.

In his younger days, Mr. Hurt was a capable athlete, earning respect for his pitching ability. As the ace of the staff of the Elks baseball club, he lost only one game. Had he been interested, he would have been considered a fine pro prospect.

Mr. Hurt was a member of the Masonic bodies, the Scottish Rite and the Shrine at Alabaz Temple in San Antonio. He served numerous times as a Chamber of Commerce director and as a vice president and treasurer. From the foundation of the Howard County Junior College until the time he retired from the bank, Mr. Hurt was HCCJ treasurer. He also served as an official in the Kiwanis Club and on several other official bodies and boards.

Glasscock Gets Soaking Rains
 GARDEN CITY (SC)—Welcome, heavy, soaking rains fell over most of Glasscock County Wednesday morning, brightening winter pasture prospects. The rain also will benefit crops to some extent, particularly fall grain plantings.

The official reading at 7 a.m. was 1.4 inches in Garden City. The Bigby ranch, seven miles west, reported 1.6 inches. At the Atlantic Pipeline Company station 15 miles northeast, 2.3 inches had been measured at 8:30 a.m., and it was still raining.

13 Men Killed In Crash Of Private Plane

The Worst Industrial Air Mishap

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Thirteen men died in the crash and explosion of a two-engine private airplane on a farm southeast of here Tuesday night. It was the worst industrial aircraft accident in the nation's history.

The twin-engine Lockheed Lodestar, owned by the Ashland Oil & Refining Co., was carrying executives from subsidiary companies in Cleveland and Buffalo to Ashland, Ky., for a sales meeting today.

There were no survivors.

The death toll of 13 exceeded by one the previous high for an industrial aircraft accident — a crash near Shreveport, La. on Jan. 10, 1954. The crash of a Continental Oil Co. plane near Marion, Ohio, on July 1, 1959, took 10 lives.

It was over Lake Milton about 8:30 p.m. when witnesses heard sounds that indicated trouble and saw the plane go into a spin, crashing in bright orange flames that lit the sky.

The tremendous explosion littered Glenn Sickle's 40-acre farm field with human and mechanical wreckage. One piece of the fuselage was found a mile away.

The blast dug a crater five feet deep and about 20 feet in diameter.

Among those the Frontier Oil Co. said boarded the plane at Buffalo were Clayton G. Maxwell, 60, vice president of Frontier; Newton A. Bricks, 48, transportation manager; James A. Mahan Jr., 37, manager of marketing; James Whittaker, 32, assistant manager of Frontier's oil burner division; and Joseph A. Collins, 64, manager of the oil burner division.

An Ashland Oil Co. spokesman said four men from another subsidiary, Allied Oil of Cleveland, also were aboard. They were identified as Jay P. Alexander, 51, executive assistant to the president, Allied Oil; Robert Wulff, 37, manager of retail fuel oil sales; Wayne T. Wiggins, 37, sales manager; and W. H. Parr, fuel oil sales representative for Allied at Ashtabula, Ohio.

From the home company, there was John W. Drennan, administrative assistant for marketing.

An Ashland accountant, James Goff, 34, was believed also to have been in the plane.

Chief pilot Blaine Berkstreser was aboard, and copilot Ronald Roberts, of Ashland, also was scheduled to make the trip.

First on the scene of the crash 18 miles from this northeastern Ohio city was Richard McKenzie, who lives nearby. He said he heard a whistling or screaming noise, somewhat like the noise of a jet plane. He saw the red lights of the plane moving in a spinning pattern, then saw a tremendous crash. Flames shot more than 50 feet above the wreckage, he said.

William Weimer of Youngstown, who was fishing on Lake Milton one mile to the east, estimated the plane's lights were at 400 feet altitude when he heard what sounded like engine trouble.

"It coughed and sputtered, then faded out," he said.

Hicks Death Time Interval Narrows

Travis R. Hicks, 37, whose skeleton was found in a rainsoaked field on the Howard-Martin County line last Saturday, was alive on Nov. 28, but apparently was dead three days later.

Investigations Tuesday seem to have reduced the interval, in which the itinerant electrician met his death, to a three day interval—Nov. 18 through Dec. 1, 1961.

Publication Tuesday of Hicks' picture in the Herald led to narrowing down the time element in the mystery of his death.

Seth Lacy of Lacy Electric Co., Big Spring, recognized the picture as an employe who worked briefly the last few days of November, 1961.

The records of the company produced two checks paid to Hicks for two periods of employment. He seems to have worked for a few days the week of Nov. 20 and two days the early part of the following week. He was paid $48.56 and $31.58 for his services. He cashed the two checks at Gibson's Discount Center Nov. 28, 1961.

Endorsement on the checks was followed, in one instance, with a notation "NM" and a series of numbers.

Meantime, it has been shown that he had a check from the veterans bureau for disability which arrived at the Midland post office Dec. 1. The check was not cashed. A second check showed a month later and was also uncashed. The post office returned the check to the bureau.

Bobby West, investigator for the district attorney's office, said, from these facts, it appears that Hicks must have been slain sometime after Nov. 28 and before Dec. 1.

It has been established that Hicks met death from a gunshot wound. A battered .22 slug was found in his skull.

Where he was slain and how his body happened to have been left on the field on the Martin County farm has not been determined.

West repeated his plea for any information on Hicks' actions or companions in the critical interval from Nov. 28 through Dec. 1.

It had been believed prior to Tuesday's developments, that the last time Hicks had been seen alive was Nov. 16. The checks turned in by the Lacy company has contributed importantly to the investigation into the mystery, officers said.

Stock Market Activity Moderate
 NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed early this afternoon after a see-saw morning session. Activity was moderate.

Prices opened lower, continuing Tuesday's late selloff. But as the Dow Jones average dropped to within a hair of the 600 level, buying came into the market. A few key issues were up as much as a full point before the advance trailed off.

Strike Called
 HOUSTON (AP) — Union millwrights today called a strike that halted almost every major commercial and industrial construction job in the Houston area.

City Enrollment Still Outstripping Estimates
 Enrollment continues to outstrip original estimates for the Big Spring Independent School District as the number leaped by almost a hundred this morning.

The tally was 7,352 pupils. Elementary schools picked up 57 pupils, soaring to 4,316; secondary schools gained 26, going to 2,993. Special Education remained unchanged at 143.

Sam M. Anderson, superintendent, pointed out that the gain today is probably not as much as the statistics show. Monday's count was a headcount of students attending class and absentees would not show up in some of the school figures. Today's figures reflect enrollment.

College Heights and Marcy, the elementary schools which were crowded Monday, leveled off today and remained almost static. Goliad Junior High gained three more as it shot up to 920 students.

"Goliad is a problem area, but the school has served about that number of students before," Anderson said.

Largest gains were at the Senior High School, where 28 new students were registered; Lakeview Elementary, which picked up 19; Airport, up 15; Bauer, up 16; and Cedar Crest, up nine.

Figures for the schools this morning were Airport 453, Bauer 474, Boydston 505, Cedar Crest 280, College Heights 622, Kate Morrison 251, Lakeview 190, Marcy 545, Park Hill 213, Washington 783, Goliad 920, Lakeview Junior High 72, Runnels 726, Senior High 1,175 and Special Education 143.

Area Schools Count 10,000

More than 10,000 students have enrolled in local and area schools in the past week, with some school figures still incomplete.

Actual student enrollment hit 10,073 this morning as schools from Ackerly, Coahoma, Forsan, Stanton, Westbrook and Garden City reported. Of the total, 7,352 were registered in Big Spring's public elementary and secondary schools. The Howard County total was 9,367.

The Sands School district reported 405 enrolled, 94 at Knott, 142 at Ackerly Elementary, 75 at Ackerly Junior High and 94 at Sands High School. Coahoma of officials said 757 students were registered in its schools. Of this number, 97 were in Midway Elementary School, 363 in Coahoma elementary schools, 121 in Coahoma Junior High and 176 in Coahoma High School.

Forsan and Elbow totaled 385, with 143 in Elbow Elementary, 146 in Forsan Elementary and 196 in Forsan High School. First day enrollment for Glasscock County schools showed an eight per cent increase over last year, Supv. B. L. Murphy said. Enrollment stood at 244 pupils today, with 137 in the elementary grades, 46 in junior high and 61 in high school.

At Westbrook in Mitchell County, Supt. Herman Parsons reported an enrollment of 137, with 47 students in high school.

Two hundred students were registered in the common school districts of Gay Hill, Vealmoor and Center Point. A breakdown showed 75 at Gay Hill, 27 at Vealmoor and 98 at Center Point.

Stanton figures were incomplete as only the high school had completed its total enrollment, 222. Courtney elementary had enrolled 96.

In Big Spring, the three Parochial schools had 275 signed up. St. Mary's Episcopal Church, with two kindergarten classes and one first grade class, reported 50 pupils and announced some vacancies left in the first grade. Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church enrolled 153 in the first three grades of elementary school, while Big Spring Christian Day School had 72.

SHOWERS FOR BIBLE FUND, TOO

Showers of blessing came to the Bible Class Fund today, adding $190.25 and running the total $2,797.55.

Another day or so of such splendid support will help get the fund's minimum goal of $3,600.

The fund's Bible Class at the First Methodist Church took up a collection Sunday that came to $120. Another person, wanting to have a part, sent in a quarter which could be like the mustard seed. A kind lady, who previously had given, made another gift.

Appreciates Health

Narda Onyx, a native of Estonia, knew the hardships of the war, including hunger. After coming to the United States and becoming a part of the "The Clear Horizon" CBS daytime series, she learned that overeating is as detrimental to the health as is hunger.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Narda Onyx Advises Old-World Methods

HOLLYWOOD — Narda Onyx came to the United States from Estonia after knowing hardships during the war. She brought a host of old-world beauty recipes with her.

"When cucumbers were plentiful, we would squeeze out the juice and bathe our faces in it. You must try it," Narda urged. "All the vitamins and whatever else there is in it clear the skin and make it feel so fresh."

Narda has been working in "The Clear Horizon," a daytime TV show on CBS.

"I was very careful to eat for energy. I have great respect for food ever since my health was nearly ruined by a poor diet. But this is a land of plenty, and for the first time I have had to be careful of overeating. I never want my weight to get out of hand, because I think it's unhealthful to have large fluctuations. You can tell by your clothes if you're beginning to gain, and you can cut down right away if they seem tight.

"What helps me to reduce is to follow the old rule of eat like a king for breakfast, a prince for lunch and a pauper for dinner. You need something to go on to carry you through the day, so a big breakfast is not fattening because you burn up the calories, but what you eat at night before going to bed is not used up, and that food is usually stored as fat. I think one of the worst habits is to fast all day long and then have a great big dinner in the evening, but most people want to eat that way."

Cancer Test Yields Warning For Women

CHICAGO (AP)—A mass test of Ohio women for cancer of the womb yielded a finding and a warning today.

The finding: One of every seven women so examined fell into a high-risk class.

The warning: Such women should have more frequent check-ups, preferably twice a year.

The study stemmed from an extraordinary long-term program, launched in 1947, to improve the cure rate for cervical cancer in Lucas County (Toledo) Ohio.

During the years 1947-50, 70,763 women were examined—more than two-thirds of all the women over 20.

Of the total, 36,549 were examined at least twice.

A report on the test was made at the annual meeting of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

The report said women examined for symptoms of uterine cancer and given a smear test could be tagged as either high or low risk. It showed that 14 per cent of all women examined more than once were in the high-risk group.

The study noted that there is a high rate of salvage of uterine cancer patients when the disease is detected early and treated promptly. But it also stressed the difficulty of examining 57 million American women.

Then the report pointed out that establishing a means of defining high-risk women could make it easier to persuade such women to be examined once a year or more often, if necessary.

The study reported to the society was conducted by Dr. Edward L. Burns of Toledo; Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, statistical research director of the American Cancer Society; and Dr. T. W. Gorski, research director of the Cancer Cytology Research Fund, Toledo.

Hoover Tumor Cancerous But No Spread Seen

NEW YORK (AP)—The intestinal tumor removed from former President Herbert Hoover a week ago was cancerous but "no recurrence is anticipated," Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center announced Tuesday.

The statement that no recurrence was expected indicated that doctors believed all the cancerous tissue was removed in the three-hour operation that Hoover, 88, underwent Aug. 28.

The hospital announcement said "there was no evidence of any spread" of the cancer beyond the segment of malignant colon that was removed.

Hoover has been reported making a satisfactory recovery. He smoked his favorite pipe Tuesday, took regular nourishment, walked about his room and read newspapers and get-well messages.

The Salazers met while working in the cotton fields near Houston and were married last November.

K Giving Little Friend Some Hand-Me-Downs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fidel Castro's big friend Nikita Khrushchev apparently is giving Cuba some hand-me-down defensive weapons.

The anti-aircraft missiles which President Kennedy says the Soviet Union has shipped into Cuba apparently are of a vintage like those the United States started using almost 10 years ago and since has discarded.

The Soviet motor torpedo boats which Kennedy says are in Cuban waters are not believed to be the newest of the big fleet of Soviet patrol craft, although they may have been fitted out with modified surface target missiles.

Kennedy said in a statement Tuesday night that the Soviets have provided the Cuban government with a number of anti-aircraft missiles "with slant range of 25 miles, which are similar to early models of our Nike."

This could be reference to a Soviet weapon which the United States designates as the T6 surface-to-air missile. That missile closely parallels in design and operation the first of the U.S. Army's Nike series, called the Ajax. It went into use a decade ago and since has been succeeded by the longer range, nuclear-tipped Nike Hercules.

The T6 is reported to have a range of 20 to 25 miles, an altitude of about 60,000 feet and to carry a conventional high explosive warhead. Its rocket engines appear to use solid fuel.

Kennedy said that the Soviet anti-aircraft missiles delivered to Cuba have been accompanied by "extensive radar and other electronic equipment which is required for their operation."

The U.S. Army has found that months of technical training is needed by crews manning the intricate radar guidance and firing system of the Nike weapons. Presumably, the same problem faces Castro—which could explain some of the approximate 3,500 Soviet military technicians said by Kennedy to be in Cuba or en route.

The Soviet navy includes several hundred patrol-type craft, among them the "Soviet-made torpedo boats" mentioned by Kennedy.

Kennedy mentioned that these torpedo boats carry ship-to-ship guided missiles with a range of 15 miles.

Kennedy said there was no evidence of the presence in Cuba of "offensive ground-to-ground missiles" nor of military bases provided by the Soviet Union. This apparently was directed at long-rumored but never-confirmed reports that Soviet long-range rocket bases were being built in Cuba.

De Gaulle said the creation of a political union among the six Common Market nations was being delayed by "internal" and "outside" influences. He did not elaborate.

He added, however, that as far as France and West Germany are concerned, "there is every reason to organically form their mutual relations without waiting any longer since they (France and Germany) are in agreement on the principle and realization of this important task."

Kennedy Sends Warning As Cuba Receives Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has warned that the United States will take "whatever means may be necessary" to prevent Cuba from turning its growing supplies of Soviet arms against any part of the Western Hemisphere.

Kennedy said the Soviet Union has provided the Castro regime with a variety of military equipment, including short-range missiles and torpedo boats.

But he added there was no evidence of any organized combat force in Cuba from any Communist bloc country or any significant buildup of Cuban offensive capabilities.

"Were it otherwise, the gravest issues would arise," said Kennedy.

He declared: "It continues to be the policy of the United States that the Castro regime will not be allowed to export its aggressive purposes by force or threat of force."

"It will be prevented by whatever means may be necessary from taking action against any part of the Western Hemisphere."

Kennedy's statement, giving new details on the current Russian shipments to Cuba, was issued by the White House Tuesday night after the President and top aides conferred for an hour with Democratic and Republican congressional leaders.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara were slated to brief a joint meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees on the situation today.

Kennedy's announcement appeared to have a multiple purpose—to keep the public informed, to tell Castro and the Kremlin to keep hands off the rest of the Americas, and to offset domestic criticism urging more drastic action against Cuba.

Administration officials have reported previously that more than 30 vessels carrying communications gear, weapons, economic aid and technicians have been arriving in Cuba in a massive wave of Soviet assistance which began late in July.

Kennedy said further information in the last four days establishes that the Russian shipments include:

1. Antiaircraft defense missiles, similar to early models of the American Nike, having a slant range of 25 miles. (The Soviets have supplied similar surface-to-air missiles in past aid to Iraq and Indonesia.)

2. Several torpedo boats carrying ship-to-ship guided missiles having a 15-mile range.

3. Approximately 3,500 "Soviet military technicians"—an increase above previous official U.S. estimates of the number of military specialists arriving from the bloc.

At the same time, Kennedy's statement said the number of Soviet technicians is consistent with the number needed to set up the Russian equipment and train the Cubans how to use it.

The President provided these other details:

There is no evidence of any organized combat force in Cuba from any Soviet bloc country, of a violation of the 1934 treaty giving U.S. base rights at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba, or of offensive ground-to-ground missiles.

Nor is there evidence, Kennedy said, "of other significant offensive capability, either in Cuban hands, or under Soviet direction and guidance."

Franco-German Chiefs Discuss Europe's Future

BONN, Germany (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer met today for a vital discussion of the economic and political future of Western Europe.

The importance of the talk was amplified Tuesday night when the French leader, in Germany on a six-day state visit, indirectly suggested formation of a Bonn-Paris political axis.

De Gaulle said the creation of a political union among the six Common Market nations was being delayed by "internal" and "outside" influences. He did not elaborate.

He added, however, that as far as France and West Germany are concerned, "there is every reason to organically form their mutual relations without waiting any longer since they (France and Germany) are in agreement on the principle and realization of this important task."

THE PEW SPEAKS

By T. H. Tarkenton, preacher Church of Christ, 3000 West Highway 50 P.O. Box 1583

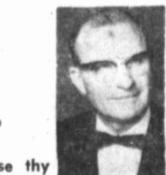

"Thou shalt be missed, because thy seat will be empty" (I Sam. 20:18). The empty pew speaks; and this is what it says:

1. To the Lord: "I did not mean what I said when I joined in the hymn, 'O How I Love Jesus.'"

2. To the preacher: "Your efforts at soul winning are not appreciated. You will need to stop preaching to outsiders and devote much of your time to converting church members."

3. To the weak brother: "Others do not attend regularly; so why should you?"

4. To the one almost persuaded:

ed: "After all, is there a reality in the religion of Jesus Christ?"

5. To the absentee himself: "If you can miss once, you can miss again, and you will find it easier to miss the next time. Look out, brother, you have taken the first step toward apostasy! You have started down the road which has led thousands to their ruin!"

Read Heb. 10:24, 25, and resolve to attend the services of the Lord's church. Why not begin by coming to our mid-week preaching service tonight at 7:30?

A Devotional For The Day

"My Father is working still, and I am working." (John 5:17. RSV.)
PRAYER: Dear Father, we ask Thy guidance for our lives. Abandon us not because of our sins and failures, but purge us so that we can serve Thee in newness of life. In Christ's name. Amen.

Carnage On The Highways

Ominous is the word for the National Safety Council's report on traffic deaths during the first half of 1962. In that six-month period, 18,120 lives were lost in street and highway accidents. Not an unprecedented Labor Day carnage has been added to this.

Ominous is the word because the traffic death toll usually is higher in the last six months of the year. If Americans keep up the present rate of carnage, nearly reached in 1956, when deaths probably will exceed 40,000. That figure was nearly reached in 1956, when deaths at the six-month mark were 172 fewer than during the present year's first six months. The contrast with last year's experience is striking. The six-month toll is 17 per cent higher than it was a year ago, even though motor traffic has increased by only five per cent.

The figures are no cause for despair or inactivity. But they should inspire in every responsible driver a resolve to do all possible, individually, to slow down the 1962 march of highway death.

Time For Action Rather Than Assent

With the resignation of the acting administrator, the county commissioners court has announced that applications will be accepted for county engineer.

We hope that there will be capable applicants for the job and that one will be named as expeditiously as possible to the post of engineer.

This position, the key element in continuing efficient operation of the county road system under the unit law, has been open since the resignation of Walker Parks about two years ago. Billy Paul Thomas, who has taken a position in private industry, served as the interim administrator.

A backlog of plans has now been exhausted, and it is imperative that a licensed professional engineer be located to assume the duties of the post. By training, an engineer will be equipped to attend to the technical matters of planning and construction. He also likely will have a background in organization and administration, in management and in cost controls, in basic knowledge of machines and in maintenance.

Under the unit system Howard County has attained an enviable record of permanent road construction, and this has been accomplished through the counsel and direction of competent county engineers. Not always has the path been smooth, for the residue of the old practice of cutting the pie in precinct pieces has created occasional bumps. Yet in general the engineers have contributed sound plans and have developed a good system.

Under the unit system which means that the entire county is considered as a unit for its road operations an engineer is required. The system cannot function as it should unless it has a good engineer directing. Practically every one gives assent to the program, but now we need action rather than assent. Somewhere there is a competent man to be had. There must be a dedicated effort to find that man and to name him to this highly important post.

David Lawrence Labor Leaders In Politics

WASHINGTON — If the Presidents of all employer organizations in the country were to make speeches telling their employees that business would get better if fewer pro-Kennedy Democrats were elected to Congress this November, the wail that would go up from labor leaders would be heard from coast to coast.

YET GEORGE MEANY, president of the AFL-CIO, issued a Labor Day message calling on the 17 million members of the trade unions throughout the country to elect a Congress that will support the Democratic party's President on domestic issues.

This means that all local union presidents in every community now have been given the signal to go ahead and do everything they can to influence the union members to vote as the top men in the AFL-CIO want them to do.

a member of the union, he has difficulty getting a job. This is true, for instance, in certain unions in the theatrical and film business, as well as in the printing trades and in many of the construction industries. Also, the number of apprentices in various industries is virtually limited by tacit agreement between employers and unions.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE are not yet fully aware of how far compulsory membership in the labor union or its equivalent has gone in free America. This phase of "civil rights" gets little attention, and there are no demonstrations like those in Albany, Ga., to emphasize the segregation of union from non-union members in the opportunities for employment throughout the United States.

Mr. Meany, speaking as head of the AFL-CIO, has just denounced a public-opinion survey recently conducted by the Opinion Research Corporation of Princeton, N. J., which revealed that people generally are opposed to compulsory labor-union membership. He called the poll "rigged" because it asked the question whether Americans should be forced to join any "church, union, or political organization." He said that "to equate membership in a trade union with a man's religious or political beliefs... is not only dishonest but malicious."

FEDERAL LAWS do not prohibit either employers or union leaders from trying to tell workers how to vote. But employers have been reluctant to do this. They have accepted on its face the fact that the law which prohibits any "contribution" for a political purpose by a labor union or a corporation or a business defines "contribution" as used in the statute, as "anything of value." But the courts have been vague in recent years and have ruled, for instance, that money spent on electioneering in newspapers published by unions is merely "free speech." Likewise, union officials, while continuing on union payrolls, give their time freely to auxiliary organizations which do the money raising among union members during political campaigns. The sums raised are equal to if not larger than the total amounts collected by the Democratic National Committee in national campaigns.

BUT THE PERSONS who answered the question in the nationwide poll could readily have refused to lump the three categories together. The nature of the answers actually showed that the citizens polled understood this and other related questions. Thus, in the same poll, while 93 per cent agreed that no American should be forced to join any church, union, or political organization, 79 per cent, in answering a specific question, expressed approval of the right to organize in unions and bargain collectively.

Similarly, 60 per cent said unions have grown large enough or are too large now, and 52 per cent agreed that there were union monopolies today. To cope with this problem, 71 per cent of the citizens polled said they favored a law to prevent unions from shutting down whole industries. Sixty-nine per cent favored anti-trust laws to control union monopolies, while 64 per cent favored closer governmental regulation of labor unions.

AS FOR the state laws which prohibit compulsory union membership, the AFL-CIO leaders seek the election of more Democrats to Congress this year so as to bring about the early passage of a federal law that at one fell swoop would repeal the "right to work" laws of all the 19 states which have them now. That's the big prize the union-labor leaders seek to win in the congressional election.

THE BUSINESS EXECUTIVES connected with large corporations likewise volunteer their time and services to campaign activities, including fund raising. But no large companies have ventured to use their house organs—magazines or newspapers—for direct appeals to their employees to vote for a particular political party or its candidates.

There is no way of telling how much pressure union officers in local unions exert upon the membership to get them to vote a certain way. Many workers are fearful of reprisals if they don't do as the union bosses instruct them to do.

Both's Little Adventure

CAMPTON, Ky. (AP) — When Gene Both shot an arrow into the air, it landed on the top of an unoccupied building.

The 15-year-old boy, using a door for assistance, climbed to the roof, retrieved the arrow, then discovered the door had swung out of reach.

Scouting to the edge of the roof, he was wondering whether to jump when a wasp made up his mind for him. It landed on his nose.

Both promptly let go and dropped 20 feet but landed unscathed and unbroken.

Ann Knows What She Wants In A Man

NEWTON, Iowa (AP) — Glen Wehrman told his 6-year-old daughter Ann she could have a kitten, because she already had a dog.

The little girl looked steadily at her father, then said: "I'm going to grow up and marry a man who will let me have a cat."

HADN'T REALLY EXPECTED HER, ANYWAY

James Marlow Don't Get Ideas, Nikita

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's sudden warning to Cuba and Russia—the result of a Soviet tit-for-tat switch in the cold war—boiled down to telling them not to get aggressive notions.

It was the climax of events building up for weeks.

In a statement Tuesday night Kennedy didn't complain about the kind of military help the Soviets have given, and are giving, Fidel Castro. The kind the President listed as going to Cuba could be considered strictly defensive.

BUT HE SAID plainly enough that if the buildup was of the kind that could be used for aggression—like Soviet bases in Cuba—or if Castro moved against his neighbors, "the gravest issues would arise."

Actually, by giving military help to Castro in America's back yard, the Soviets are doing to the United States what this country has been doing to the Communist world for years.

For example: the military help, and even alliances, this country has provided for countries around the Communist perimeter in Europe; the aid to Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa near the coast of Red China; military aid in Korea and South Viet Nam, and, recently, troops in Thailand. The United States has approximately 8,000 military advisers in Communist-threatened South Viet Nam.

IN RECENT DAYS, as news accumulated about Soviet military help for Cuba and the arrival there of Communist bloc military technicians, a number of senators complained Kennedy wasn't tough enough.

One senator, Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., called for an invasion of Cuba. Another, Homer Capehart, R-Ind., said about as much. Still another, Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., criticized what he called Kennedy's "do-nothing" attitude.

Kennedy could have brushed these complaints aside. Other senators on other subjects have had complaints. But what brought the whole business to a head was what happened Sunday.

In Moscow there was a joint Soviet-Cuban announcement which promised Russian help to Castro in building steel mills and in farming. Then it said they discussed threats of aggression from "imperialist quarters."

IT DIDN'T mention the United States. But it added: Because Cuba asked military help to protect itself, Russia would give it "armaments and technical specialists for training Cuban servicemen."

The announcement didn't list the kind of armaments, but it carefully avoided saying the military help would include Soviet troops.

In a statement Tuesday night Kennedy ticked off the kind of equipment he said he knows Cuba got from Russia:

DEFENSIVE missiles, but not offensive ones, and equipment to use it, some Soviet-made torpedo boats with ship-to-ship guided missiles having a range of 15 miles, and perhaps a total of 3,500 Soviet technicians for setting up and teaching the Cubans to use the electronic equipment Castro got.

But he noted there was no sign of Soviet bases or Soviet combat troops in Cuba, or any other "significant capability" there in Cuban or Soviet hands.

If these things showed up, he said, the "gravest issues" would arise.

Here are some of the events in the background:

On Aug. 20, U.S. officials reported 15 Soviet vessels, including five passenger ships, arrived in Cuba, but they doubted any Communist bloc troops were landed.

At his Aug. 22 news conference Kennedy said he knew supplies had been landed but he didn't know what troops were.

TWO DAYS later a group of Cuban refugee students, in two small boats that stood offshore, fired on a Havana hotel. They admitted it. On Aug. 27 Capehart voiced his complaint.

Hal Boyle Lesson In Double Talk

NEW YORK (AP)—How's your double-talk? A bit rusty?

Double-talk is the verbal salve that keeps civilized people from rubbing their egos raw as their separate dreams, desires and ambitions bump into each other.

Here are a few examples of double-talk—plus their literal translations—to help you get back into the swing of things:

"My, that tan you got on your vacation sure makes you look healthy." They must have had sun lamps in that barroom.

"Boss, I think you've got a wonderful idea there." But why did you turn it down when I suggested it to you six months ago?

"Darling, you don't mean to tell me you wallpapered this room all by yourself?" It looks like you'd been helped by the Marx brothers and the Three Stooges.

"Well, naturally men with shoulders as wide as yours are a bit hard to fit." Particularly when their stomachs are even wider.

"Just tell me when" I've already poured in three jiggers—do you want the whole bottle?

"You mean you're really wearing one of those new high-fashion wigs? I'd never have guessed it. I felt sure it was a mop.

"The way I look at it, every man is entitled to his own opinion." Even an idiot like you.

"Oh, don't tell me your glass is empty already." What kind of a cocktail party is this? They pour liquor like it was glue.

"For a third-grade pupil, your little boy certainly shows a fine background." I guess those two years he spent in the second grade did him some good, after all.

"I certainly hope you and your husband will be as active in P-T-A as you were last year." And if you both keep your big mouths shut, maybe the organization will be able to get something done.

"Here, lady, take my seat."

"I'm getting off at the next stop anyway."

"Oh, why did the music have to stop? I could dance like this all night." Now, if you'll just get off my feet, you big oaf, maybe I can limbo back to my table.

"Be sure and let me know the next time you'll be in town." So I can arrange to have the phone and the doorbell disconnected.

"I don't know when I've had so much fun." Yes, I do—it was the last time I went to the dentist!

To Your Good Health You Can't Prevent Scar Tissue After Surgery

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Please answer these questions for me.

A—Can anything be done to prevent scar tissue after major surgery (hysterectomy, including cervix)?

B—Is scar tissue the same as adhesion?
C—Is there any way to dissolve scar tissue once it has formed? Does it always form after surgery?
D—Is the formation of scar tissue after the above operation a serious matter?—MRS. F. I.

A—There's no way to prevent scar tissue from forming, nor would you want to do so. Such tissue is Nature's mending of a wound. Fibrous tissue (the scar) commonly is as strong as the original tissue, and it may be even stronger. This is necessary in any wound, whether a cut finger or a hysterectomy.

B—Scar tissue does not necessarily mean "adhesion," although an adhesion is, of course, composed of scar tissue. In operations it is not always possible to prevent some portions of cut tissue from touching each other and healing together, even though they were not originally joined. Many times this does no harm, but if the adhesion happens to inter-fer in some way, then a second operation may be needed to correct it. For one example, after an abdominal operation scar tissue may form in such a way as to constrict the bowel. This would be a case of "adhesion" which can be serious.

C—There is no way to "dissolve" scar tissue. In some people, especially those of dark complexion, but others as well, a surface scar, as the incision of an operation, or a deep cut, may grow much thicker than average. This is called a "keloid," but it is really only an extra large formation of scar tissue. Plastic surgeons sometimes can make this less noticeable by removing the overgrown scar itself, then with meticulous care bringing the edges of the skin together again. A special technique is used for doing this. It cannot guarantee that a new keloid will not form, but it often succeeds.

Anyway, yes, scar tissue always forms after surgery. It must, only occasionally does it form in such a way as to be undesirable.

D—In a hysterectomy, formation of scar tissue does not usually involve any problems.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is known about taking estrogen as a cause of cancer? I have heard there is a relationship.—J. W.

No, I don't know of any such casual relationship. Estrogen or other hormones can speed the growth of some kinds of cancer, but that is quite a different matter from "causing" the cancer. In average amounts used, estrogens are not regarded as a factor in cancer in humans.

Dear Dr. Molner: What can be done for a rectal itch that just about drives me crazy? I have tried all the salves and preparations on the market. The doctor suggested it might be pinworm, but tests found that was not the case. He suggested an ointment but that did no good.—MRS. P. J.

If pinworm has been ruled out, there are other possible causes, but I would suggest more than one test, since the modern method, using sticky cellulose tape, is so simple and convenient.

Other possibilities include allergy to foods or fabrics; excessive moisture; overuse of ointments. Keeping the area scrupulously clean, and then dry by applying a small wad of cotton wool, has helped many people. (And one reader told me that, when absolutely no physical reason could be found in his case, a few visits to a psychiatrist brought complete relief!)

Around The Rim Just Folksy, That's All

One of the most amazing phenomena of our generation is how pure corn is palmed off as culture.

The handiest device is the folk song, whatever that is. A few choice ingredients are necessary, but success is guaranteed if the formula is followed.

For instance, you need a guitar, and two or three will be better. A busted pianola or a three string harp will add color if available. All the musician needs is a few basic chords and an ability to strum mightily between refrains.

NEXT, IT IS well to pick up a non-descript hayseed who sings through his nose. The quality of his voice is of little import so long as he can tighten up those nasal passages when assaulting the high notes. The gift of sprinkling grammatical errors and a few colloquialisms will help. An alternative is to get a collection of the same sort, maybe a trio, a quartet or even a small anvil chorus.

Costume and general appearance are important, too. The ladies should all have a wild hair-do, something on the austere side with an allusion of straw. The men can have an errant lock which dangles before the eyes, keeping time with the guitar picking. If the hair, however, is not curly, then it should be plastered down like one of those before characters in a hair oil ad. Clothing, though clean and neat, must appear common and casual, even if you have to work at it.

BUT MOST OF all, you have to have some silly verse. The lower the quality of doggerel, the better it is for folk singing. No literary crime is too great but that it may be justified in the name of rhyme. Nothing is too trivial or uncouth but that it can be chronicled in bucolic ballad.

"I was going into town, now don't you frown, for I needed some snuff because I didn't have enough. But on the way, I'm sorry to say, I uttered a curse because I lost my purse. So far as it will go, this is my tale of woe, and now I've said my snuff adieu, I'll have to bum a chew."

THIS IS CALCULATED to evoke loud and vigorous cheers. Earthy, some critics will say. Note the hidden meaning of depression days and the indomitable will to make the most of a bad situation.

Or—"Now Bonnie don't you cry, my blue-eyed baby doll, for Daddy's gonna buy something for his moll. Come-a tippy, tippy la lomma, do tippy sit yamma, Bonnie my baby, a tippy eye-saye. Did you get it? No? Well, hit that G chord again, Rufe, and take it from the top."

—JOE PICKLE

Inez Robb Little Lady Goes Over Big

After 50 years as the brightest comedienne and one of the luminaries of the Yiddish theatre world around, Molly Picon finally saw her name in lights on Broadway just a year ago. Now, with another year of experience under her belt, this diminutive star checks in at a Hollywood studio tomorrow to join the Rat Pack for her first American film.

"I'M A SLOW starter," said Molly after her final performance in "Milk and Honey," the delightful musical in which she has been enchanting Broadway audiences for a twelve month—and stealing it (the show) blind.

The very fact that Molly, who can't be far from 65, looks dreamy on stage in her own gray hair, outdances the chorus, turns cartwheels and does splits, has had middle-aged audiences cheering her demonstration that where there's life, bounce is possible.

DOES the prospect of starring in her first American picture with the formidable Mr. Sinatra fascinate her, I asked.

"No, not in the least," said Molly, who stands scarcely five feet tall in her three-inch elevators. "I'm told when he settles down, he's a very serious worker. That's all I ask. I'm a serious worker, too."

And something else has predisposed me in his favor. Work on a Sinatra picture never starts till 12 noon, not at the usual 7:30 or 8 a.m. as in Hollywood custom. This means I won't have to get up at dawn to get to the studio, and I'm grateful.

"ALSO, THIS isn't the first picture I ever made," continued Molly, who made her stage debut in Philadelphia at the age of five. "I made two in Poland, the first called 'Yiddle with His Fiddle,' in 1936. It's still playing all over the globe. And the second, called 'Mamale,' was made a year later."

"In addition," she said with a sly grin, "after 43-years of happy marriage to Jacob Kalich, I don't think Hollywood holds any emotional hazards for us."

BUT WHY DID it take so long to get to Broadway, I asked, when for decades she had starred in the Yiddish Theatre on New York's Second Avenue and in every world capital?

"All my life I've done musical comedies," Molly began. "I've always sung and danced. Yet every time a Broadway producer came to me he offered me a drama about some negative Jewish mother who couldn't let go of her son. And I never wanted to do a drama, even in Yiddish!"

(And besides, to tell the truth, all of Broadway flocked to Second Avenue to see Molly.)

ONLY AFTER she had been the toast in London in "A Majority of One," the comedy in which she starred there with Robert Morley, was she offered the Broadway song-and-dance role of the giddy widow in "Milk and Honey."

"So now, in 1962, what do the Broadway producers send me?" Molly asked. "Plays about hill-billy women or Jewish mothers who can't let their sons go? Some negative old drama."

Was it terribly exciting to make Broadway at long last? I asked.

"TO BE HONEST, no," Molly answered, thoughtfully. "I've played in Yiddish, English, French and German all over the world. And one theatre is exactly like another, whether it's Buenos Aires, Paris or Johannesburg. To me, an audience is an audience, no matter where. To tell you the truth, there's very little difference between Broadway and Second Avenue. If people like you, the response is the same the world over."

"And something else I've noticed," Molly grinned. "As I get older, everyone else gets younger. Persons 10 years my senior are always coming up to me nowadays and saying, 'You were my grandmother's favorite.' I wouldn't disillusion them for the world!"

Holmes Alexander Telling The States What To Do

WASHINGTON—In Latin America the Army acts as a sort of strong-armed "conscience" to prevent the people from exercising their right to do wrong. In the United States, this function of monitoring and limiting popular sovereignty has been taken over by our Judiciary system.

LET THE PEOPLE of Argentina elect too many Peronists, and a military junta will step in to render the perfectly legal election null and void. We are apt to regard this supra-Constitutional action of the Armed Forces as a usurpation, and so it is, strictly speaking.

But the U.S. Supreme Court, abetted by some other Federal courts, has done in this country what the Army does in Latin American countries. The American Judiciary, rising above the Constitution, has held that the people must exert their rights of self-rule in a prescribed manner, or not exert them at all.

THIS IS EXACTLY what the Supreme Court did last March in deciding (Baker vs. Carr) that a Tennessee Court should insist that the Tennessee Legislature reapportion the districts which elect a House and Senate of that State. In noting that the Legislature hadn't conducted a reapportionment since 1901, and that population changes had occurred since then, the Supreme Court agreed with the appellants that urban citizens were less fairly represented than rural citizens. The Court found this situation in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment, which guarantees all citizens "equal protection under the law."

BUT JUSTICE STEWART pointed out in dissent that the Fourteenth Amendment has no application here and that the Supreme Court had gone far outside its Constitutional function. The case under review dealt only with a State legislature. No Federal representation was involved. The Constitution, aside from requiring that States maintain a "republican form of government," nowhere supports the view that State legislatures must be structured to equalize each voter's voice.

"It is surely beyond argument," says Stewart, "... that factors other than bare numbers should be taken into account. The existence of the United States Senate is proof enough of that."

STEWART PLEAD with his brothers of the Court that they practice "self-restraint" and not infringe upon the "freedom of a State to deal with so intimate a concern as the structure of its own legislative branch."

It is almost as if Justice Stewart were appealing for clemency in a tyrant who had the might to do whatever he willed with his victims. This is surely the fact in Latin America, where only "non-restraint" can prevent the Army from throwing the national legislature out of office. But it may come as a surprise to find our Judiciary asserting dictatorial power over the legislative branch.

THIS ASSESSMENT of the Judiciary's usurpation will not seem exaggerated if we read what a three-judge Federal Court in Florida has said in line with the Supreme Court decision in the Tennessee case. On last August 17th, this Florida Court found inequality of representation in the legislature, and observed that the duty to bring the State into conformity with the U.S. Constitution rested primarily and heavily upon the State. But then the Court added:

"Should the State fail or neglect to perform this obligation... then the less desirable reapportionment by judicial decree would be required."

NO ARMY JUNTA in Latin America ever warned a legislative body more plainly than that: "Do this—or else!"

Farm Costs Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Glen J. Vollmar, Ohio State University extension economist, reports that farm production costs today are nearly four times as high as they were in 1949. His said studies show about 70 per cent of farmer's gross income went to pay for production costs in 1961, compared with about 50 per cent in 1949.

In 1940, U. S. farmers spent $1.75 on machinery and buildings for every dollar spent for hired help. By 1960 the ratio had risen to 2.77 to 1, Vollmar said.

Haymarket Has To Go

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The historic Haymarket, the center of produce selling in the Louisville area for 77 years, is giving way to progress.

It was sold to the state highway department, which will build an expressway ramp through it.

General Seeks To Line Up Maneuver Area

SAN SABA (AP)—Gen. Paul D. Adams, who heads all U.S. Tactical Army forces on active duty, is making a personal effort to obtain use of a huge Central Texas maneuver area.

Starting a week-long tour of the affected zone, he sought to convince a group of property owners here last night they should let the Army rent the acreage. There has been outspoken opposition from some.

The general flew to Texas from MacDill Air Force Base in Florida to start the series of meetings.

Next on his schedule were a noon conference in Brownwood today and a night meeting at Hamilton.

Adams, as chief of the Army Strike Command, said he guarantees prompt payment for any property damage and stands behind the discipline of 50,000 soldiers due to take part in Exercise Core Shield.

The Army is trying to rent nearly two million acres of rolling brush country in the vicinity of Ft. Hood.

Recalling a similar operation 10 years ago, some landowners say there was widespread property damage, their claims were not paid promptly and the troops were undisciplined.

"This maneuver cannot be staged without public support," Adams said. "We just cannot have one of these maneuvers unless the public supports us. I came here tonight to ask our friends in Texas to try us out for one year, and one year only."

Adding that "I know you have recollections of some events that took place 10 years or so ago," the general said the Army now has the best disciplined troops, "the finest collection of young American manhood it can get anywhere."

Col. R. Donald Gray, judge advocate of the Strike Command, said the Army has enjoyed good dealings with property owners in the Carolinas, where two operations were staged.

Roy B. Ware of Mercury, Tex., said Adams didn't change his mind. "I am still against the lease arrangement," Ware said. "But he gave me something to think about."

Ward McKee and Grady Isham of San Saba likewise said their views were not changed.

Clay Kuykendall of San Saba said he has signed a contract to lease his range to the Army for 20 days in October.

"I thought it was a good thing all the time," he said. "I can't understand what these other people are complaining about."

Training A Race Horse?

It doesn't look like it, but that is exactly what Trainer Bubba Casco is doing. He's breaking and "putting a rein on" a two-year-old Quarter running colt that will soon be racing in Texas, Oklahoma or New Mexico. By early backmore and stock saddle training, a running Quarter horse can more easily be trained later on for such contests as cutting, roping and reining, says Casco.

Venus Rocket Path Changed

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The United States' Mariner 2 spacecraft streaked toward Venus today after changing to a new course scientists say will take it within 9,000 miles of the mystery planet.

The course change was made Tuesday in a spectacular maneuver 1.5 million miles from earth. Aboard the 447-pound vehicle are instruments that may tell whether life could exist on Venus, virtually a twin of earth in size.

If these instruments work as designed during a 30-minute fly-by Dec. 14, Mariner 2 will score a significant first in space for this country. The Soviet Union's Venus probe last year missed the cloud-shrouded planet by 62,000 miles—and its radios were dead.

An electronic whiff of Venus is all U.S. scientists ask of Mariner 2. Unsterilized, it was never intended to impact Venus but to miss it by 10,000 miles and go on into a giant orbit around the sun.

The 12-foot-tall spacecraft, launched Aug. 25 from Cape Canaveral, Fla., went through the intricate maneuver to overcome a bad start. A rolling motion by its Atlas-Agena booster during liftoff sent Mariner 233,000 miles off course.

Scientists at the U.S. space agency's Jet Propulsion Laboratory here spent days measuring the amount of error. Then, at 3:49 p.m. Tuesday they started sending a series of radio messages that commanded the spacecraft to point its nose in a different direction and then fire a small liquid fuel rocket in its tail. This sent Mariner 2 streaking toward Venus at a speed of 6,687 miles per hour.

"Everything worked just as designed," the Mariner project manager, Jack James, exultantly told a news conference. Continued success for Mariner 2 seemed assured by two events that took place shortly after the 29-second firing of the 37-pound rocket.

First, the spacecraft's solar panels, which convert sunlight into electricity for Mariner 2's radios and scientific instruments, were trained once again on the sun. They lost it when the space vehicle's direction was changed to a course closer to Venus.

Second, the high-power antenna at the base of the spacecraft, which was moved out of the way of the course-changing rocket's exhaust, was swung back and beamed again at earth.

A spokesman for the laboratory said scientists plan to spend the next few days tracking Mariner 2 and checking its instruments. No major announcements are expected until they attempt to turn on several experiments as the spacecraft nears Venus.

New Safeguards Considered After Latest U2 Incident

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is considering imposing new safeguards on military patrol flights near the Soviet Union in an attempt to reduce the risk of violating Soviet territory.

The latest in a long series of aerial border incidents flared into world headlines Tuesday when the Soviet Union charged that a U2 reconnaissance aircraft of the type that made sensational history in 1960 had trespassed Soviet territory in the Far East, north of Japan.

Kennedy administration leaders in a reply of unprecedented speed conceded that a U.S. plane—which State Department officials identified as a U2—might have flown unintentionally over Soviet-controlled territory last Thursday.

Officials said today they hoped this speedy concession of possible error would put a quick end to the latest U2 incident and kill any anti-American propaganda build-up Moscow might be planning.

The note to Moscow released here by the State Department only a few hours after Moscow's protest went beyond conceding the possibility of a mistake in navigation due to "severe winds during this nighttime flight."

It made two other points: 1. The policy of barring U2 flights over Soviet territory which was first laid down by President Dwight D. Eisenhower after the 1960 incident and was later confirmed by President Kennedy is still in effect.

2. Precautionary measures intended to prevent accidental trespassing of Soviet air space are being reviewed.

Informed officials said that precautionary measures could include a requirement that patrol flights made in bad weather under difficult flying conditions should follow courses well away from Soviet territory to allow for potential errors in navigation.

Strict requirements to keep patrol planes under radar surveillance so that the pilot could check his position accurately might also be laid down.

Qualified officials made clear that the United States has no intention of halting such flights which are considered essential measures of U.S. defense operations. Patrol planes equipped with radar and long-range photographic equipment and flying over international waters or the territory of friendly nations keep such check as they can on military conditions in and around Soviet border areas.

Flights of this kind have been made for a dozen years or more. Many incidents, including the shooting down of a number of U.S. planes by Soviet fighters have occurred as a result. The United States has on many occasions accused the Soviet Union of sending its fighters over international waters to attack and destroy American aircraft.

The incident disclosed Tuesday held unusual, worldwide interest because it involved a U2 aircraft.

The U2 came into international prominence in May 1960 when a plane of that type, piloted by Francis Gary Powers, went down in the Soviet Union. The United States first denied that it was on a deliberate reconnaissance flight over the Soviet Union, then announced that U2s had been surveying Soviet territory and keeping check on military developments for four years.

Cool Front In Texas

By The Associated Press
Thermometers eased down a few degrees Wednesday behind a cool front enveloping the north half of Texas. The rest of the state stayed warm.

There were a few showers and it was generally cloudy back of the front's forward edge, which stretched in early morning along a line linking Texarkana, Waco, San Angelo and the Big Bend country. Skies were clear to partly cloudy on the opposite side.

Moisture measurements Tuesday included Lubbock .70 inch, Wichita Falls .66, Wink .25, Childress .18, Alpine .17 and Brownsville and El Paso .03.

Scattered thundershowers were expected to taper off in North Texas during the day but to continue Thursday in Central and South Texas. The Weather Bureau predicted temperatures down to the high 40s in the Texas Panhandle overnight.

Top marks Tuesday afternoon ranged from 102 degrees at Presidio and 101 at Laredo down to 53 at Dalhart.

The readings early Wednesday varied from 55 at Dalhart up to 82 at Galveston and Palacios.

Vacations For Wives

DEAR ABBY: Is there a housewives' union? If not, let's start one. I work 365 days a year and not a dime for overtime. Do I get a two weeks' vacation like my husband? Not on your life! If we go away for a vacation he finds a place with a kitchen attached and I still have to cook, do dishes and take care of the children. When do we kitchen police get a rest? Only when we are in the hospital having a baby, and then we're too sick to enjoy it.

IN FAVOR OF A UNION
DEAR IN: Husbands need to be gently needed into giving their wives occasional vacations without the children! It's marvelous for the morale. Get organized, Lady. You don't need a union, you need a "more perfect union" with your husband.

DEAR ABBY: I know you've heard of men with roaming hands. Well, I know a man with "roaming feet." We eat at the same lunch counter in the building where I work, and this fellow always manages to get the stool next to me at the counter. Pretty soon I feel his feet nudging mine. I move my feet, but he finds them again. I'm not the kind of person who makes scenes, but I'd like to know how to put a stop to this.

MARGE

DEAR MARGE: The meek may some day inherit the earth, but meanwhile they take plenty of abuse. "Nudge" this man's shinbone with a spindle heel, and he'll foetise with you no more.

DEAR ABBY: We would like your opinion of a man who is 56 years old, the father of three and grandfather of five. He has been going to night school for the past seven years, taking the same courses. He has FOUR diplomas to prove it. He used to be a well-dressed man. Now he wears a motorcycle jacket to work. He has a job on Wall Street. He reads your column, and believes in you. How can he be helped?

WE THREE

DEAR WE: A man who "has a job on Wall Street" and wears a motorcycle jacket to work must be the "boss" or else he would be fired. If he is successful, he is "eccentric." If he is not, he is in need of psychiatric help. Lead him gently into a room with a couch.

Ticket Sales Brisk For BSCT Play

Ticket sales for "Inherit the Wind," Big Spring Civic Theatre production to be given Friday and Saturday in the Howard County Junior College auditorium, is brisk, officials report.

Tickets may be had at the Chamber of Commerce office, the Webb AFB information office, or the Herald. Patrons who prefer may pick them up at the door on either of the performance nights.

This outstanding production is the most ambitious ever attempted by the BSCT. Over 40 actors will appear on stage and large number of workers in the wings are necessary to stage the play.

The production concerns the famed "monkey trial" of the 1920s, which pitted the courtroom talents of William Jennings Bryan and Clarence Darrow. More particularly, it involved the teaching of Darwin's evolution theories in public schools.

A dress rehearsal is scheduled this evening and the producers report the actors have made excellent progress. Everything is in readiness for opening night.

Curtain time both evenings will be 8:15 p.m.

New Tremors Near Persian Border Areas

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) - Earth tremors today rocked Turkey and Soviet Armenia near the frontier of Iran as this nation dug out the ruins of a quake that the shah said killed at least 10,000 persons.

The shah began a tour of the northwest region which was dealt a deadly blow Saturday as reports came of new earth rumblings within 400 miles across the Iranian border.

Moderately strong shocks shook the Turkish town of Igdar, near the Soviet frontier, and damaged about a quarter of the buildings. There were no immediate reports of any deaths. Igdar has 10,000 population.

The Soviet news agency Tass said a fairly strong earthquake hit Soviet Armenia at 3 a.m. and was followed by 14 weak tremors. Yerevan, a big modernized city at the foot of Mt. Ararat, felt the rumblings. The Soviet agency gave no details on possible casualties or damage.

The Shah of Iran was on a two-day tour of his quake-ravaged land where minor shocks have disturbed villages daily since Saturday, spreading terror among survivors.

The exact death toll probably will never be known. An official of the Red Lion and Sun-Iran's Red Cross-told of two villages not even on the map that had been wiped out.

Britain Orders Soblen To U. S.

LONDON (AP)—Britain today rejected Robert A. Soblen's final plea for clemency and ordered the fugitive spy deported to the United States "as soon as practicable."

His deportation probably will take place Thursday, but the time has not been announced.

Soblen, who faces a life sentence in the United States for wartime spying for the Soviet Union, has been on the run since June. He jumped $100,000 bail, fled to Tel Aviv, was expelled from Israel and landed in Britain July 1 after slashing himself while aboard the Israeli airliner that was flying him to New York.

British courts four times rejected the 61-year-old psychiatrist's pleas that he should be allowed to remain here or at least be allowed to go to some other country of his choice. Communist Czechoslovakia offered him a visa, it was reported.

In a final effort to avoid deportation, Soblen's lawyers this week presented Home Secretary Henry Brooke with a 20-page memorandum arguing Soblen's case.

Informed sources said it argued that Soblen's guilt had not been firmly established and that in any case he suffers from leukemia—blood cancer—and so should be allowed asylum on humanitarian grounds.

Sheriff Auctions Lamesa Company

LAMESA (SC)—Albert McGuire and George H. Hansard Wednesday purchased the personal and real property comprising Farm Grain & Warehouse Co. for $76,000 in a sale conducted by Sheriff Henry Mayfield.

Sam Richardson, Lamesa, started the bidding at $75,000 and the bid from the purchasers was the only other one received. The sale was conducted to satisfy a judgment obtained by Commercial Credit for indebtedness of $116,254. Hansard and seven other Lamesans were named as co-defendants.

Other negotiations will be required to satisfy the difference between the sale price and indebtedness. The sheriff will issue the deed.

Court Holds Brief Session

GARDEN CITY — Court activities in the 118th District Court in Glasscock County were brief Tuesday.

Ralph Caton, judge of the court, qualified a grand jury. Gil Jones, district attorney, laid one felony complaint—a charge of insurance fraud—before the grand jury and the body declined to vote an indictment.

The grand jury was excused from further duty.

Judge Caton had called a civil docket for the day. The first cases fell apart and it was announced a damage suit would be ready Thursday. The panel was instructed to return Thursday.

Tuesday afternoon Judge Caton learned that the attorneys in the case styled Ted Laughlin vs. John M. Clark and others could not be in court.

The clerk in Garden City was notified and was endeavoring Wednesday to contact the jury panel and tell them they need not return Thursday.

Holiday Death Toll Hits 501

CHICAGO (AP) - Traffic accidents over the long Labor Day weekend killed 501 persons, a record for the holiday and far ahead of the normal number of highway fatalities for a similar non-holiday period.

The final count for the 78-hour (three-day) holiday period showed that 501 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents reported from 6 p.m. (local time) last Friday to midnight Monday. The previous record high of 461 was recorded in the 1951 Labor Day weekend.

Last year's Labor Day traffic toll was 386. The National Safety Council said the average number of traffic deaths for a late summer 78-hour non-holiday weekend is 320.

In addition to traffic deaths, there were 23 fatalities in boating accidents, 57 drownings and 97 deaths in miscellaneous types of accidents, for an overall total of 678. This also was a record, exceeding the previous total of 638, also set in 1951.

L. Angeles Widens Gap In Senior Loop

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers, big bad bandits on the baseballs, had stretched their National League lead to 3 1/2 games on a sudden burst of speed by the unlikely desperado of them all — catcher John Roseboro.

The Dodger receiver came barreling home in the fourth inning of Tuesday night's key battle with second-place San Francisco, sliding in safely with the run that turned out to be the clincher in a 5-4 squeaker over the Giants.

The Dodger triumph evened the key four-game series between the leaders at one game apiece and gave the Dodgers a substantial edge with 23 games remaining.

It looked like an easy one for the Dodgers, who struck for three quick runs off Giants' starter Billy Pierce in the first inning on run-producing hits by Tommy Davis, Frank Howard and Ron Fairly. The Giants got one back against Pete Richter in the fifth on Tom Haller's homer.

Then Roseboro took over. After Lee Walls singled, Big Bad John lashed a triple, and stole home for the second time in a week.

Ron Ferranowski came on for the Dodgers to protect the lead, but ran into trouble in the ninth when a single by Harvey Kuenn and a homer by Jose Pagan brought the Giants within one run—Roseboro's run. Ferranowski, however, bore down, striking out sluggers Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda to end it.

Third-place Cincinnati remained 6 1/2 games back, using Marty Keough's homer for a 9-6 victory over Milwaukee. St. Louis belted the Chicago Cubs 7-1 on homers by Stan Musial and Gene Oliver while Harvey Haddix pitched and batted Pittsburgh to a 5-1 decision over the New York Mets.

At Houston, the Colts snapped their 17-game losing streak to Philadelphia, beating the Phils 4-1 behind Bob Bruce's four-hitter without the elaborate jinx-breaking production which they tried Labor Day.

Vada Pinson drove in four runs with his 21st homer and a single, but it took Keough's pinch-hit bases-empty homer in the eighth off Claude Raymond (5-3) to snap

Bruce also drove in two runs with a double and single, sharing honors with Bob Lillis, who knocked in a pair with a triple. The only run off Bruce came on Don Demeter's 25th homer. Cal McLish (9-5) was the loser.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sandy Koufax, Los Angeles Dodgers southpaw who was having his best season when a hand nerve block sidelined him July 17, will do no more pitching this year.

So says Dodger Manager Walt Alton, who has called up right-hander Jack Smith of Omaha, the American Association's top relief pitcher. Smith, who had a 17-7 record at Omaha, reports today to bolster the sagging Dodger mound corps.

The Dodgers have been sweating it out with what amounts to a seven-man pitching staff, the smallest in the majors, with Koufax incapacitated and Larry Sherry out with a sore arm and an ankle injury.

Agajanian Cut Loose By Green Bay Club

By The Associated Press

At 43, Bootin' Ben Agajanian may have stuck his kicking foot in brine for the last time.

Bootin' Ben, veteran kicking specialist whose kicking foot is tooless and toughened by soaking in brine, was among the players cut Tuesday as the American and National Football Leagues reached their mandatory player limits.

The amazing ancient was trimmed by the NFL champion Green Bay Packers, who acquired the oldest active pro football player from San Diego of the AFL last year. Agajanian was picked up as kicking insurance when all-purpose back Paul Hornung went into the Army.

Agajanian has had a varied career. It first ended in 1941 when the onetime New Mexico University star lost all but the little toe on his right foot in a freight elevator accident. Agajanian, however, never gave up.

A cobbler made him a special shoe to minimize the pain and he began to soak his foot in brine to toughen it. Several retirements and hundreds of successful conversions later, Agajanian was still able to smile about the accident that almost finished his career.

Asked by a football player's father how to make a placekicker out of his son, Agajanian answered: "Cut off his toes."

Now he's out of a job again, along with seven-year veteran L. G. Dupre, heralded quarterback Lee Grosscup and Olympians Ray Norton and Ted Woods, in the NFL cutdown.

Two trades also were concluded in the final maneuvering to get down to the 38-man limit. Another two must go by next Tuesday's final cut to 36 players.

The Los Angeles Rams traded linebacker Bob Felligin, a six-year veteran, to Washington for a high 1964 draft choice. In a three-cornered deal, Dallas traded Dick Bielski to Baltimore, the Colts sent a high draft choice to St. Louis and the Cards turned over kicking specialist Jerry Norton to the Cowboys.

Dupre, who was a vital cog at halfback in Baltimore's 1958-59 championship teams, was cut by the Cowboys. Grosscup, acquired from New York only three weeks ago, couldn't make the grade at Minnesota while rookies Norton and Woods both were let go by San Francisco.

Other NFL vets cut included Philadelphia defensive halfback Glen Anderson, placed on the injured list; Los Angeles linebacker Bob Long, New York halfback Jim Podoley, Washington end John Aveni and Minnesota fullbacks Raymond Hayes and Glenn Shaw.

In the AFL, six of last year's regulars were trimmed as the clubs reached the final 33-man roster while former All-American Jimmy Saxton of Texas was placed on the deferred list by Dallas. Saxton, sidelined with a pulled muscle, can be reactivated in 16 days.

The regulars cut were Houston linebacker Dennis Morris, Boston defensive backs Clyde Washington and Bob Soltis, New York guard John McMullan, Oakland defensive tackle Jim Brewington and San Diego center Don Rogers.

Fry Absorbs Heavy Blows As A Coach

DALLAS (AP)—Saddened by the death of Mike Kelsey, their star center, the Southern Methodist Mustangs wonder what else the season has in store for them.

Kelsey, an all-state high school player at Corpus Christi, died Sunday after suffering a heart stroke in the first SMU practice.

His death was the third blow within four days for Hayden Fry, starting his first year as head coach of the Mustangs after two years as an assistant at Baylor and one year as an assistant at Arkansas.

Last week Jerry Rhome, who led the Southwest Conference in pass completions in 1961, decided to withdraw and enroll at a college that used a pro type offense. Two days later Norman Nelson, regular left end last year, was informed his physical condition would not permit him to play this season.

A week earlier Fry learned that Arlan Flake, a two-letterman at fullback, would miss a final season because he had not completely recovered from an ailment suffered last year. Early in June, Fry found that Jimmy Reeves, No. 1 defensive right halfback last year, would not be eligible for the 1962 season.

Assigned to the cellar of the Southeast Conference prior to these happenings, SMU now looks to the critics as if it will have no competitor for the position. The big question is how will the Mustangs react to these misfortunes?

As a nucleus for his first SMU team, Fry has 17 players whose desire to give their best on every play during spring drills earned them special recognition from the coaching staff—the privilege of wearing a red helmet.

The coaches are hoping they can find enough other players in this category that both top units will consist of "red helmet" boys by Sept. 22, when the Methodists open their season against Maryland.

Only three players due to start the first game were regulars last season when the Mustangs won two, lost seven and tied one. These veterans are Raymond Schoenke, right tackle; Billy Gannon, left halfback; and Tommy Brennan, right halfback.

Completing the backfield are Don Campbell, quarterback, who was No. 3 last year, and Max Derden, a sophomore who at 190 pounds is the heaviest deep back on the squad.

Aiding Schoenke in the line will be John Graves and Ray Green at ends, John Kneel at tackle, Les Stewars and Jack Rhoads at guards and John Hughes at center. All are lettermen except Kneel, a sophomore.

The big right-hander went the full nine innings with a four-hitter and knocked in two runs as the Colts won 4-1.

The Colts lost both ends of a doubleheader Monday night when they used bad luck symbols, a quadruple whammy and good luck charms. So they reverted to playing baseball with no frills Tuesday night and won.

Poised To Play

LOOKING 'EM OVER With TOMMY HART

By the 1963-64 season, the Howard County Junior College Basketball tournament, always timed for Christmas week, will probably be down to four teams. It has had as many as ten.

Increasing costs and competition for quarters from other meets are causing college officials to take a new look at the local round-ball carnival.

If the field is reduced to four teams, chances are coach Buddy Travis will import two clubs from the Mid-West, probably Kansas.

It is getting to the point that every team invited to the meet is demanding expenses. That would be well and good, if the tournament made a lot of money. However, by the time officials dole out money for trophies, officials and other items, there is very little left.

San Jacinto of Houston has agreed to come to this year's tournament and coach Buddy Travis has hopes of luring Tyler back. He's also extended an invitation to Jacksonville Baptist College, JBC, which only recently returned to the basketball wars, isn't well known in these parts but its coach is. He is Vernon Hartin, the salty ex-Marine who distinguished himself as the high school mentor here several years back.

Decatur Baptist has asked to be included in the tournament invitations and Odessa and Amarillo will both be returning. There's a possibility Allen Academy of Bryan will be here, too.

The tournament takes place Dec. 29-29 this year.

Froehling Is An Optimist

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Frank Froehling, a tall, hard-hitting 29-year-old predicted today he could only be "unbeatable" Rod Laver—if only he could learn to concentrate.

"I've played Laver several times," said Froehling, a junior at Trinity University. "He's beaten me each time, but I've played him on a pretty even keel. If I could learn to concentrate, I think I could beat him."

Froehling is America's sixth-ranked player and is seeded eighth in the current National Championships. It's something of a distinction in view of the fact that Chuck McKinley, No. 3, is the only other seeded American.

Froehling played Cliff Drysdale of South Africa in the third round today. Only 11 matches were played Tuesday before rain interrupted the proceedings at the West Side Tennis Club. This was the second rainout in a week.

"I have a big game," said Froehling, who resides in Coral Gables, Fla. "If I could learn to concentrate all the time, there's no telling what I could do. McKinley is lucky. He keeps his concentration all the time."

While he isn't bitter, he thinks he should have been selected to play on the Davis Cup team that lost in the North American zone final against Mexico last month.

"I guess they had plenty of good reasons for not choosing me," he conceded. "If Don Douglas had won two matches instead of losing two, anything would have been said by anyone."

"But on the other hand, what did they get from choosing Douglas? For one thing, he is 25, five years older than I am. All other things being equal, I would think they'd pick the younger player."

"Now Douglas has gone off and gotten married. He didn't even show up for the Nationals and he probably won't be playing much more tennis. I could have had that good experience under my belt."

The big question today was whether Karen Hantze Susman would recover enough from her flu attack to continue in the tournament. Wimbledon queen Karen from San Diego, Calif., is seeded No. 2 in the women's division to Margaret Smith of Australia.

Angels Refuse To Fold In Sizzling Flag Race

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"The game's not over until the final out" may be a trite old battle cry—but for the amazing Los Angeles Angels it's a way of life.

Fo 11 o w - ing the script they've used so often this season, the Angels humbled the New York Yankees 7-6 Tuesday by pouring across FOUR runs in the seventh inning and producing the winner in the ninth. It was the 16th time this year they've scored the clincher in their last turn at bat, and the 33rd time they've come from behind in the final three innings.

It was a day of multiple shocks for the Yankees, whose American League lead over the rain-idled Minnesota Twins was cut to 2 1/2 games and over the third-place Angels to 3 1/2.

Steers Look Good In Early Drills

Don Robbins, head football coach at Big Spring High School, expressed himself as being "well pleased" with the improvement the Steers have shown in workouts to date.

Robbins said the Longhorns have looked better in the first few days of drills than they did all last spring.

"They've done everything we've asked of them," Robbins said. "We have a few sore muscles but no serious injuries."

The Longhorns have been working mainly on fundamentals and Robbins said the team would scrimmage a short time every day until Saturday, at which time they pile into a bus and go to Loveland for a scrimmage against the Amarillo Sandies.

The local B team, about 40 strong, will go to Colorado City Saturday morning for a scrimmage against the Wolf B squad and all coaches plan to be on hand at that time.

Robbins and his aides have moved Eddy Nelson back to safety on defense and the Negro youth has responded to the challenge very well.

Robbins reasons Nelson will be of great value to the team at his new position and, in addition, will prove to be one of the most effective pass receivers in the district.

Rickey Wisard has been showing to good advantage running at the quarterback spot and has been throwing the ball well.

The Longhorns open their 1962 season a week from Friday night in Plainview. Then they take a week off before playing their home opener Sept. 28 against Snyder.

Green is Green But He Is Willing Student: Maxwell

ACKERLY—Gary Green, a boy who didn't suit out last year because he was a transfer student, is running at first string quarterback for the Sands Mustangs.

The Ponies visit Loraine Friday night to open their 1962 season.

Green, a 140-pound junior, has been throwing the ball well. Coach M. B. Maxwell reasons he'll fill the bill as the Mustang navigator. Green is from the Vealmoor community.

Maxwell will be able to start lettermen at six positions. Veterans back with the Coyotes this year are end Jimmy Schuelke, tackles Alton Richter, Jackie Flynn and Paul Davis and guards Ray Long and Bill Smith.

Heaviest player in Sands' starting lineup probably will be Flinn, a junior, who weighs 170 1/2 pounds.

Two more boys checked out equipment Tuesday and coaches Maxwell and Arlen White are now working with a squad of 25 boys.

The Mustangs will run off the Winged T.

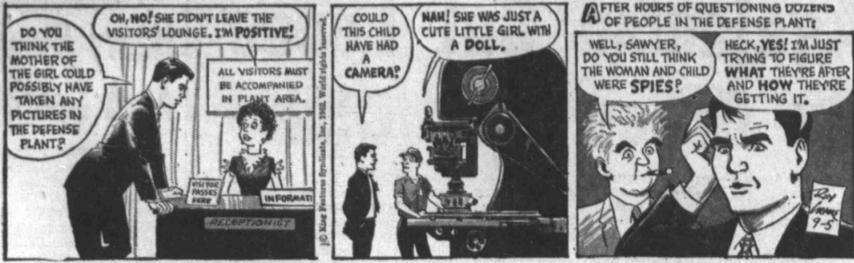

LUBBOCK (AP)—Bill Gravitt, Denver City High School's star center, has quit Oklahoma and Aron Davis, Kermit halfback, may follow suit, the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal said today.

Gravitt's mother, Mrs. W. Y. Gravitt, said at Denver City Tuesday night that Bill had left the Oklahoma team and had gone to Weatherford, Okla., to see about entering Southwestern Oklahoma State. She said he didn't want to play football any more.

Desmond Barry Brings GOP Candidacy To Big Spring

Desmond Barry brought his candidacy for congressman-at-large to Big Spring Tuesday addressing a large luncheon gathering of supporters at the Settles Hotel and doing a lot of personal campaigning.

DESMOND BARRY

Buoyed by exceptional response at various points over the state, Barry has laid out an intensive schedule to push his appeal for a place in the House of Representatives.

"I believe in constitutional conservatism," he declared, "exactly as was written into the constitution. The constitution envisioned a balance of powers. The executive branch has expanded out of proportion to its rightful place; the judicial branch is being expanded politically; congress has failed to accept its responsibility. That's why I'm running for Congress."

His program, he said, was for the preservation of basic individual rights; for the free enterprise principle and capitalistic system; and for a favorable climate once again for business.

"The Republicans are going to win," he confidently predicted. "They will win 49 representatives and gain control of the House. This is where it will count for the money bills originate there, and if you control the purse strings, you can control spendthrift government."

He's going at it hammer and tong, adding that "this is no token campaign. I'm going to win."

Barry first drew attention when he took on Jimmy Hoffa when the Teamsters' chief attempted to unionize Barry's Galveston Truck Lines, although his employees did not wish to join. Barry refused to sign, then battled before the National Labor Relations Board when the "hot cargo clause" was imposed as a form of boycott against his lines. He won his case, pressed it before the ICC and then saw it incorporated into the Landrum-Griffin act.

"I find that laboring people have a choice of leadership," he continued. "They can choose to follow their bosses, or they can make up their own minds. This is why I make practice as often as possible of standing at industry gates at shift change times. I've always been received courteously."

Barry told how, along the waterfront at the Houston channel he got one of the union stewards into an informal debate, won his point that the worker was really no further ahead (and possibly worse off in real economic gains) than years ago. Then he enrolled him as a member in the GOP and as a precinct chairman.

Reared and educated in Houston, he served five years in the Air Force, becoming a lieutenant colonel. He assisted the Mexican Air Force in setting up maintenance and supply facilities, then engaged in the air-conditioning business in Fort Worth before returning in 1954 to assume charge of the Houston truck line.

Readers Digest did an account in the November, 1958 issue on Barry's bout with Hoffa.

Before entering the race for the GOP nomination and now for congress, Barry was widely in demand as a speaker, having addressed 700 gatherings in 35 states. The U. S. Chamber of Commerce rates him as one of the nation's top speakers. Now he's putting in 4,000 miles and innumerable speeches a week seeking to get to congress.

Thefts Reported On Police List

Thefts investigated by Big Spring police during the past 24 hours included one breaking and entering, theft of tire and wheel, and theft of clothing from a car.

The Petty Bros. Service Station, 213 E. 3rd, was entered through a broken window and about $35 in nickels, dimes and pennies taken. All drawers in the office were ransacked.

Walter L. Slate, 1600 Vine, reported a tire and wheel, valued at $31, taken from his car some time during the past 10 days.

J. O. Brown, Midland, told police that while he was eating at Speck's Drive Inn, Lamesa Highway, someone took clothing and luggage from his parked car. He estimated the loss at $150.

Reserves Take More Lessons

The Big Spring police reserve turned out for the third training session at the police station Tuesday night. The fourth session is scheduled Thursday night from 7 to 10.

Lt. Robert Bronson, identification and records division, outlined the procedure in preparing and filing records, including arrest, search of the person, inventory of property taken from the arrested person, fingerprinting, photographing, and consolidation of records in one file. He also discussed the method of alphabetical, numerical and category filing, with the use of index cards.

Police Chief Jay Banks outlined methods used in mob and riot control. He displayed various types of weapons, and how they were used, including gas grenades and shells.

"The Big Spring police department is pretty well equipped with all types of weapons, and we all know how to use them," he told the group. "It is important to know how to take immediate and definite action, when trouble threatens."

The next session will cover the use of firearms, and more about arrest, search and seizure.

Convention-Bound

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. (Preach) True and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Monroy left Tuesday on a 4,000-mile journey that will take them to the national convention of Veterans of World War I in Buffalo, N. Y. Sept. 23-26. While True and Monroy represent the local barracks, their wives will represent the auxiliary. En route and on their return trip, they plan to visit in several states.

Vast Area Makes Immunization Plans

A West Texas-wide mass immunization against polio, through use of the Sabin oral vaccine, will be the biggest, geographically speaking, ever undertaken in the United States.

Fifteen counties, extending from Howard to the Rio Grande, will handle the immunization on a coordinated schedule, on Sunday, Nov. 11.

The area represents a population of about 315,000 people. While each county will handle its own program, the immunization will be simultaneous. This is done principally to facilitate shipping and handling of the Sabin vaccine.

The Nov. 11 program will be for Type I. It will be followed (in January and February) with Types II and III.

A local committee attended an area-wide conference in Odessa Tuesday night, to correlate plans. Dr. B. Broadrick will be director of the program here; Dr. J. M. Woodall will be in charge of medical activities; Dr. Gene Hightower will be director for the Junior Chamber of Commerce in handling all lay volunteer activities, and R. W. Whipkey is publicity director.

Dr. Broadrick is setting up a series of organizational meetings to perfect all details for the immunization program. He said full information will be released as circumstances develop.

Counties due to participate in the mass program are Jeff Davis, Presidio, Brewster, Pecos, Reeves, Loving, Ward, Winkler, Ector, Midland, Glasscock, Howard, Andrews, Crane and Upton. Martin County is setting up in different schedule.

To Have Surgery

Tom Slaughter, 1305 Gregg, is scheduled to undergo chest surgery at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, according to Mrs. Slaughter. He has been in and out of the hospital the past five or six weeks.

BLOOD - AND - THUNDER..
By Dwight Taylor. Atheneum.
$4.50.

AP Newfeatures
Before the movies (and of course before radio and television) there was a quaint, wonderful world of pure corn in the way of public entertainment — naive melodramas, mind-reading acts, cowboy shows and circuses, with their sideshows.

Early in the century Charles Taylor was a traveling showman in the midst of all this hokum. He is credited with writing some of the fanciest melodramas; one was titled "From Rags to Riches." He had a mind-reading act, in which he fed cues to an occult lady known as "Little Eva." He took part in stunt shows with such characters as a drunken hatchet-thrower named Big Chief Yellow Nose, whom he once was obliged to rescue from a hanging.

Charles was married for a time to Laurette Taylor, who became a great dramatic star, and the author of this book is their son. Dwight has been an artist and writer, and he must have inherited some of his father's talent for story telling, for he does a beautiful job of it.

The son writes about the father. Of course his subject is a natural. The old boy was one of those lovable rascals who never could resist a fancy trick to con the customers. He got into more silly scrapes than the late W. C. Fields—who, incidentally, keeps popping into your mind as you read.

Comparisons with Clarence Day's celebrated father are inevitable, and although the two types were poles apart, the showman is good for just as many rolling chuckles as the elder Day.

Here is a savory safari into a gilded age of tomfoolery, and a happy visit with an old coddler you won't forget.

Two East Germans Crash Through Barriers To Freedom

BERLIN (AP)—Two young East Germans drove an eight-ton truck through two barbed wire fences early today, climbed a third fence and swam a border canal to safety in West Berlin.

East German border guards fired their automatic rifles several times, but no one was hurt.

Police said the successful refugees were men between 22 and 25. They came through the southern suburb of Seehof, in Communist territory, and got across the Teltow Canal.

They reached safety just behind McNair Barracks, one of the biggest American installations in Berlin.

West Berlin police reported that an East German border policeman also got across. He came in civilian clothes and his route was not disclosed.

Jeeps of U. S. troops manned crossing points through the Berlin wall in the American sector to make sure that the Soviets used other crossings for the guards they send daily to the Soviet War Memorial in the British sector.

The Russians knuckled under Tuesday night to Allied demands that they use a British sector crossing to shorten the guards' route and lessen the danger of traffic disruption or demonstrations by West Berliners. But in the Western air corridors to the city Communist MIG fighters swooped down on Western airliners again, bringing new Allied protests.

The victory on the route issue heartened West Berliners, who sometimes complain the Allies too seldom take the initiative in the struggle to maintain their rights in the divided city.

After several hours of suspense, the guards showed up in their armored cars at Sandkrug Bridge in the British sector just before 7 p.m. They normally arrived at Checkpoint Charlie in the U.S. sector about 1 p.m.

The Soviet officer in charge shook his head in disagreement when informed British vehicles would escort his men to the memorial. The British units went along anyway, just as American Army cars had done in the past.

The Russians crossed the bridge back into East Berlin half an hour later after a trip without incident.

The first public recognition by the Communists of the checkpoint dispute was made Tuesday night by ADN, the East German news agency. It said Gen. Ivan Yakubovskiy, commander of Soviet troops in Germany, "having agreed on this matter with the responsible organs of the (East) German Democratic Republic, made no objection" to using the Sandkrug Bridge route.

Several hours before the checkpoint issue was settled, the United States, Britain and France protested to the Russians against MIG fighters which the West said accompanied three commercial airliners flying in the vital corridors from West Germany.

Teller Says U.S. Open To Attack

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—"It has become clear now the United States is as open to attack as Poland was in 1939—or even more," says Dr. Edward Teller.

The famed nuclear scientist made the remark Tuesday in talking about how nuclear weapons have weakened the ocean defenses of the United States. He said the United States is precariously behind the Soviet Union in development of atomic weapons.

"We have lost ground dangerously in the last 17 years," he said. "We cannot go on in this way for another 17 years."

Dr. Teller spoke to the National Advanced Technology Management Conference.

Las Vegas Mayor Wins Nevada GOP Nomination

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Soft-spoken Mayor Oran Gragson of Las Vegas easily captured Nevada's Republican gubernatorial nomination Tuesday, clinching a bitter primary campaign with publisher Herman Greenspun.

With still more ease, Democratic incumbents swept down an array of colorful but inexperienced rivals in Senate, congressional and gubernatorial contests.

Rancher William Wright of Elko County, a Republican leader, also followed an easy road to victory in a three-way GOP senate primary that featured a candidate who never appeared in public.

A voting machine breakdown in Las Vegas withheld results in the populous Clark County Democratic stronghold most of election night.

Gov. Grant Sawyer and Sen. Alan Bible claimed victory early but Rep. Walter Baring cautiously waited until early today for the deciding Clark County returns before claiming defeat of Dist. Atty. John Mendoza of Las Vegas. Greenspun, known nationally in the 1950s for his editorial attacks on the late Sen. Joseph E. McCarthy of Wisconsin, conceded when it became apparent that nearly 2 to 1 state trend for Gragson was holding up in his hometown.

Last-minute advertisements by a former Democratic assemblyman in Las Vegas pointing up Greenspun's conviction for running guns to Israel and other court trouble was branded a Sawyer-inspired "smear campaign" by the 52-year-old publisher of the Los Vegas Sun.

Gragson, 51, ran on his one-term record as mayor but vigorously traded charges with Greenspun over talk about Las Vegas hoodlum elements financing the campaign.

Sawyer, 43, running for a second term on a tight gambling control policy, was never headed by 1920s troubador Gene (My Blue Heaven) Austin and two other novices.
