

Compensation Claims Show Decrease From '61

Unemployment compensation claims filed with the Texas Employment Commission in Big Spring for August are a few less than for August, 1961, according to Leon Kinney, manager. He said that there were 695 claims filed in the month just ended compared with 703 for the same month a year ago.

During the 1961 month, more placements in non-agricultural jobs were made by the local office than in August this year. Kinney said that 303 placements were reported in 1961 compared with 257 this year.

He said the difference was probably due to a drop in construction work in Big Spring this year.

"If you will recall," he said, "there was considerably more building last August than at present."

He said the difference in placements had to be in the field of construction since the demand for clerks, office workers and others in kindred fields in the community remains good.

He also explained that the 695 claims for unemployment compensation does not mean that many individuals.

"Some persons file as many as four or five claims," he said.

Forsan Asks For Bids On Moving Tank

FORSAN—Forsan's city council will open bids Oct. 9 on tearing down, transporting and re-erecting a 20,000 gallon water tank to serve the town's new water system now in the process of being installed.

The tank, purchased from the Texas Electric Service Co., is presently on top of a 78-foot steel tower in Handley. The Forsan city council will award a contract to someone to go to Handley, take down the tank and tower, move them to Forsan and erect them anew.

A site back of the welding shop in downtown Forsan has been obtained as a location for the tank.

It will be replacement for the old 10,000 gallon storage tank which serves the community at present. Plans are to keep the smaller tank in service as emergency storage.

The new tank on its 78-foot tower will provide pressure of about 45 pounds for the consumers, according to engineers.

Meantime, H. B. Hodgson, contractor from Midland, who has had the main contract to lay new water lines in the town, is moving in equipment and pipe. All of the 5,670 feet of two-inch galvanized pipe is on hand and the 4,000 feet of four-inch and 400 feet of six-inch asbestos-cement pipe is due soon.

ROW Appeal Set For Tuesday In County Court

A jury panel of 60 members is to report in Howard County Court Tuesday at 10 a.m. to serve in the trial of an appeal brought by the state in a right-of-way matter.

The case to be tried, according to Ed Carpenter, county judge, is State of Texas vs. J. O. McCrary, et al.

The land involved is 11.479 acres in Section 1, Block 33, township 1 north. It was taken when US 87 was widened into a four lane road.

McCrary and his wife were awarded $4,765 for their land and the state felt the special commission's award was excessive. A motion to appeal the findings was filed.

Sometime ago, an attempt was made to try the case but the matter had to be delayed due to one of the principals not having been properly notified.

Training Program

FORSAN (SC)—Darrell Flynn, principal of the Elbow school, conducted the in-service training program for the Forsan Independent School District last week. Midway school teachers also participated.

CENTER TO OPEN DOORS ONCE AGAIN

The Howard County Rehabilitation (Crippled Children's) Center will reopen Monday morning, according to Jim Thompson, therapist.

"We are straightening things around today," he said Saturday, "and will resume treatment of our patients Monday morning."

Thompson said all patients would be called advising them of the new address—402 Edwards Blvd.—and that the doors would open again.

The residence has been partially remodeled for its use as a treatment center and the special equipment has been moved from the building at 8th and Owens. Officials of the Howard County Rehabilitation Center were forced to abandon the latter facility because of damage caused by a severe washout of the foundation. City officials ruled the building unsafe.

GOP Aspirant Would Meet Rep. Mahon

The Republican candidate for Congress from the 19th District, Dennis Taylor, campaigned in Big Spring Friday. He met with a group of his supporters and then made personal calls.

He revealed that he had sent a telegram to Congressman George Mahon, the Democratic nominee, calling for a "public discussion of the issues where the voters can ask participants questions on their views."

Taylor issued this as a "challenge to face the voters in this district with me at any time or place."

Taylor released a statement to the press criticizing Mahon for voting for the U. S. purchase of $100,000,000 in United Nations bonds. "This bill provides American funds to the U. N. which should have been provided by the Communist-neutralist countries who have intentionally avoided paying their dues and assessments. I propose that we withdraw from the U. N. immediately and initiate a form of free nations whose basic criteria for membership will be an intense desire to remain free."

Officers, Doctor Disagree On Time Of Death

By SAM BLACKBURN

There is a sharp divergence in the opinion of Dr. Martha Madsen, Midland pathologist, and that of local police officers on the probable date Travis R. Hicks, 37, was shot to death.

She believes that Hicks died sometime in early July of this year. Officers who have been digging into the mystery of his death believe he died at least nine months ago.

SEPT. 1

The badly decayed body of Hicks, identified only by his name engraved on the upper plate of his false teeth, was found Sept. 1 in a rainsoaked field just west of the Howard County line in Martin County.

The remains were turned over to Dr. Madsen, who is a member of the staff of the Madsen-Brooks, Pathological Laboratory in Midland, for an autopsy. The autopsy was asked by Martin Gibson, Martin County justice of the peace.

Dr. Madsen confirmed the belief of investigating officers in one detail—Hicks, regardless of the date he may have died, met death as a result of a gunshot wound.

A battered .22 calibre slug was found embedded in the right wall of the nearly fleshless skull. It had entered, as Dr. Madsen puts it, at the "left frontal sinus near the orbit . . . and came to rest in posterior lateral wall of the right orbit."

Copies of Dr. Madsen's report as submitted to Justice Gibson have recently reached Bobby West, special investigator for Gil Jones, district attorney, and other local officers who have been cooperating with Sheriff Dan Saunders of Martin County, and his staff in the investigation of the case.

ELECTRICIAN

Hicks' last known residence was in Big Spring where he worked from time to time as an electrician.

In the event his slayer is ever brought to book, Dist. Atty. Jones will prosecute him since Martin County is in the 118th Judicial District. For these, as well as personal reasons, West, Sheriff Miller Harris and Chief Deputy Fern Cox of Howard County and other local officials have been working on the case since the finding of the body.

The local officers agree with the doctor on most of her findings. They do not agree on, however, the time she estimates that Hicks came to his death.

Her statement that the decay of the body and other factors indicate that death took place from "six weeks to two months prior to the discovery of the corpse" does not fit either the impression of those who saw the remains nor other facts that have been uncovered since, the investigators say.

MUCH LONGER

Local officers believe Hicks had been dead much longer than two months. West and Cox, as well as the others investigating the case, are still convinced that the partially disabled war veteran drifter came to his end not earlier than Nov. 28 and not later than December, 1961.

These officers have more than the extensive deterioration of the body to sustain them in this position even though they also believe that the decay clearly indicated more time than two months had elapsed.

They have several questions they ask in attacking the finding of the pathologist as to the probable death date.

1. If the victim was slain sometime around mid-July, (as would be the case if death occurred within six weeks of Sept. 1, the day the body was found), why was the man wearing heavy clothing, long-handled underwear?

2. If he was alive from Nov. 28 (the last date he was seen alive) until sometime in July, why didn't he contact his relatives?

CHECKS RETURNED

3. Why did he cease calling for his monthly pension checks from the Veterans Administration? A check arrived for the man at Midland on Dec. 1. It was unclaimed. Each month since that time, the checks sent to the Midland address were not claimed and were returned to the bureau.

It has been determined by investigation that Hicks checked out of a rooming house in Big Spring Nov. 28. That same date, he collected two pay checks he had coming to him for electrical work he had performed for a local company. The checks were cashed, evidently by Hicks.

Since that date, no one whom investigating officers have been able to find, has seen Hicks alive. The next time he was seen was when his badly decayed corpse was found in an untilled field about a mile east of US 20. The nearest occupied house to the lonely field was more than a quarter mile away.

It was quickly established that the man had been the victim of foul play. The nearly fleshless skull, which was just a few inches from the remainder of the body, revealed an ominous irregular hole just above the left eye.

EMPTY POCKETS

His pockets revealed nothing. The only thing found on the moldering corpse was a can of patient denture cleanser. The dentures were near the body—one revealing the name "Travis R. Hicks" engraved on its upper side.

Publication of his photograph brought out that Hicks had been alive Nov. 28, 1961 and had cashed two pay checks on that date. Nothing further has been discovered of his activities until his body was found in the Martin County field.

Partially disabled by ailments received in military service, Hicks had been receiving disability allowance checks from the government. These came to the Midland post office. One arrived at the office Dec. 1, 1961. It was never claimed . . . the man was usually prompt in picking up his pension checks. The check ultimately was returned to Washington unclaimed. Later other checks arrived and, in turn, were sent back with the notation "present whereabouts of addressee unknown."

Hicks had a sister in Andrews, a brother in Kermit, two other brothers in Grandfalls and still another in Monahans.

These relatives told officers that they had not seen him since late fall of 1961. They explained that the 37-year-old war veteran was somewhat of a drifter—often months would pass during which nothing would be heard from him. Hence they felt no particular alarm over not hearing from him during the winter of 1961 and on into 1962.

Meantime, officers of Martin and Howard County, with assistance of the Department of Public Safety and the Texas Rangers, are still digging into the matter.

They hope, ultimately, to put the finger on the unknown individual who fired a shot from a .22 calibre pistol or rifle into the head of Hicks.

Hicks, according to his relatives and others, was a friendly sort of chap. He was gregarious by nature and never one to get into difficulty with his fellows. He liked companionship and was happiest when he was with other men.

This poses another question: "Why was he slain?"

Officers then ask: "Was he killed for the money

he may have had on him?"

It is known that Hicks cashed two checks for a total of $80.10 Nov. 28. He paid his room rent and possibly some other bills. He could not have had much cash left, officers speculate.

There was no money found on his body Sept. 1.

Four Out Of Five Congressmen Opposed To Government Secrecy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Four-fifths of the country's congressional nominees, responding to a survey, say they favor giving the public all information about government operations except military secrets.

They expressed the opinion in answering a questionnaire of the Freedom of Information Committee of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

The report was issued by Wendell C. Phillippi, chairman of the committee and managing editor of the Indianapolis News. The annual meeting of the AP managing editors will be held in Minneapolis, Minn., this week.

The survey on the people's right to governmental information brought replies from 253 nominees in 29 states. Some of those replying did not answer all questions.

Two hundred and three nominees said that as members of Congress they would take the position that the public has the right to all except security information. Thirteen others said they believed only military and diplomatic secrets should be withheld.

Twenty-eight others attached other qualifications such as business secrets, contract negotiations, executive privilege and intelligence data.

On the question of whether all government contracts, except those involving military secrets, should be disclosed, 215 answered "yes" and six "no."

The largest number of affirmative votes—224—was on whether the public should be informed within the bounds of military security about failures as well as successes in space vehicle, missile and similar tests. Four negative answers were received.

The least agreement was on whether an attempt should be made to re-evaluate and relax security restrictions on scientific information necessary to the advancement of research and development.

There were 160 affirmative answers, eight negative and 67 qualified.

A question on whether the House Subcommittee on Government Information, headed by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., should be continued brought 189 answers in favor and only one flatly opposed to its continuance.

Of others, 32 expressed no opinion on the question or said they did not know and 31 gave qualified answers.

Two hundred and 12 nominees favored an amendment added to foreign aid bills by Rep. Porter Hardy Jr., D-Va., requiring federal agencies to provide information to Congress about mutual security expenditures.

Opposition to the amendment was expressed by two nominees and 12 had no opinion.

Two hundred and six nominees said they knew of no specific instances where newspapers or other communications media had violated security, and 33 said they did not know of such instances.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, Republican leader in the House, said in seeking to qualify a general desire for freedom of information: "Certainly I have always been for a maximum flow of information. At the same time, I have been down here (in Washington) long enough to know that there are many 'gray' areas involving conversations between high government officials, which, for reasons it would take a book-length treatise to explain, can't be made public."

August E. Johanson, a nominee in Michigan, said: "There is a basic area in which 'executive privilege' properly applies. On the other hand, I think it has been over-extended beyond reason until it has become an umbrella to protect the entire bureaucracy."

Kurt Glaser, a Republican candidate from Illinois and a history professor, said he once worked with documents classified "secret" which would fill a 700-page book.

"It is my opinion no loss of security would result should a personal copy be delivered to Mr. Khrushchev," he added.

Woodrow A. Horn, a Republican of Pennsylvania, said "Until strong 'right to know' laws are enacted, we will never be able to stop the secret boondoggling that costs our nation many millions of dollars every year and perpetuates the growth of inefficient bureaucracy."

U.S. Predicts Lowering Of Grain Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has predicted that the reserve and surplus of feed grains—corn, grain sorghums, oats, rye and barley—will be reduced a full 25 per cent under its 1961 and 1962 emergency feed grain programs.

Under these programs, growers who retired feed grain land to help reduce the surplus got price supports on their grain and payments on the idled land.

When these programs started in 1961, the reserve and surplus of feed grains was reported at a record high of 84.7 million tons. The department said in a feed situation report today the extra stocks are expected to be down to 62 million tons by the end of the 1962 crop-use year.

The government did not want, of course, to eliminate the reserve and surplus. Some extra supplies are needed for possible drought or other emergencies. While no figure has been given as to a desirable emergency supply, a likely estimate is 35 to 40 million tons.

A farm bill approved by the House Thursday and awaiting Senate action would continue the voluntary feed grain land retirement program next year.

The feed situation report said total use of feeding grains during the 1961 crop year ending next Oct. 1 is expected to total 163 million tons, or about 12 million above the 1961 crop production. This 12 million ton deficit in production is being taken from the surplus.

The report said use of these grains, which includes exports, is expected to be as large during the 1962 crop year as in the previous year.

Supplemental high protein feed supplies for the 1962-63 year are expected to be sufficient, the department said, to maintain feeding of cattle, hogs and poultry at near the high level of the 1961-62 year, the report said.

The department said early movement of feed grains from this year's crop under price supports has been smaller than in 1961.

It said the general level of feed grain prices this fall and winter may not differ greatly from a year earlier.

Bond Sales Off Pace

Sale of United States Savings Bonds is only slightly off the pace for the first eight months, reports showed Saturday.

Sales through August for district No. 5 amounted to $1,053,000, about $100,000 less than two-thirds of the $1,730,000 district goal for this year, reported Larson Lloyd, district chairman.

Only in Andrews and Scurry counties has there been a serious lag in purchases. Martin County, with sales of $81,000 to date was at 202 per cent of its total. James Jones is chairman at Stanton. In Seminole, where Doyle Hankins is chairman, the percentage is 96.5 of the year's goal.

Sales in August and for the eight months, with the percentage of the year's goal in parenthesis, were: Andrews $1,781 and $19,310 (32.2); Dawson $5,006 and $62,629 (56.9); Gaines $12,225 and $115,842 (96.5); Howard $42,506 and $485,874 (66.7); Martin $1,800 and $81,000 (202.5); Mitchell $30,200 and $185,967 (68.9); Scurry $118,031 and $138,879 (37.5); total $111,550 and $1,053,670 (60.9).

EQUAL WAYS

"Yet the children of thy people say, the way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal. When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby." (Ezek. 33:17, 18). Thus, "the wages of sin is death," whether committed by the alien sinner, or the person who has become righteous. The Lord's way is equal. Sin is just as ugly to God when committed by His children, as when committed by others. "The soul that sinneth, it shall die..." (Ezek. 18:20).

As sure as God's children can commit sin, they can die spiritually, and reap the wages of sin.

The Lord does not wink at sin in his people.

It is possible for a child of God to be angry with his brother and say insulting things, thus he can come into danger of hell fire. "Whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire" (Mat. 5:22).

Emancipation Proclamation 100th Anniversary Marked

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy urged the United States Saturday to move further toward the goal of individual liberty set 100 years ago when Abraham Lincoln freed the slaves.

In ceremonies at the Lincoln Memorial marking the 100th anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation, Kennedy said it must be regarded "not as an end but as a beginning."

Kennedy was not present. His pre-recorded remarks were broadcast to the nation on radio and television, and by loudspeaker to 3,000 persons gathered at the foot of the white marble memorial.

The President's theme of the unreached goal was stressed also by U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, the principal speaker on a program that included New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, U.S. Circuit Judge Thurgood Marshall, and gospel singer Mahalia Jackson.

"Individual freedom is still the great unfinished business of the world today," said Stevenson. "Once more we doubt whether the human experiment can survive half slave and half free."

Speaking against a background not only of the Lincoln Memorial, but of racial troubles in the South, Stevenson urged that the spirit in presentation to the national Civil War Centennial Commission of the original Emancipation Proclamation. The historic document was acquired by the State of New York after being raffled off in 1864 at a charity bazaar for wounded Union soldiers in Albany, N.Y.

It will be returned to the New York State Library at Albany after being displayed at the Library of Congress in Washington for a month.

One of the highlights of the ceremony was the reading by Archibald MacLeish of a poem he wrote for the occasion. In words described later by Stevenson as "of imperishable nobility," MacLeish paid tribute to the man whose statue brooded behind him in the temple-like memorial.

The proclamation Lincoln issued on Sept. 22, 1862, said MacLeish:

Emancipates — but not the slaves.
The Union—not from servitude but shame
Emancipates the Union from the monstrous name
Whose infamy dishonored
Even the great founders in their graves.
He saves the Union and the dream goes on."

Monday Visit To Seal Tito-Russian Accord

By EUGENE LEVIN
BELGRADE (AP)—Seven years ago a visitor from Moscow stepped off an airplane and abjectly told President Tito:

"We sincerely regret what happened."

Monday Tito goes to Belgrade airport again to receive another visitor from Moscow. His coming in Yugoslav eyes, amounts to a new Soviet apology.

With each visit—by Nikita Khrushchev in 1955 and now by Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev—the pendulum in Soviet-Yugoslav relations was swinging back to friendship from bitter denunciation.

Brezhnev's 10-day visit is not expected to produce major declarations, but it underscores a new thaw in relations between Moscow and Belgrade—and possibly a more difficult period in Yugoslav-American ties.

In 1948, Tito and Stalin parted ways in an ideological dispute that rocked the Communist world. Yugoslavia was read out of the Kremlin's Cominform and turned to the West for economic and military aid in a fight for life.

Seven years later Khrushchev came to Belgrade to mend fences. The de-Stalinization drive paved the way. Tito became the Communist hero who had stood up to Stalin when Khrushchev was bowing.

The Khrushchev-Tito reconciliation was short-lived. The Hungarian revolution split them again. In 1958, observers from Russia and other Kremlin-line countries walked out of the Yugoslav Communist Party Congress and denounced the Yugoslav program as anti-Marxist.

Tito had been in Russia in 1956 after the reconciliation. Klementi Voroshilov, Soviet president, was scheduled to return the visit in May, 1958.

Voroshilov's visit was postponed at the last minute.

"Comrade Khrushchev," Tito said in a speech shortly afterward, "attacked Yugoslavia with words that have nothing in common with comradely criticism. He insulted not only the Yugoslav leadership, but the Yugoslav people too."

Four years later, and obviously with the blessing of Khrushchev and Tito, Brezhnev picks up the invitation Voroshilov did not use.

Yugoslavs say Tito has not changed, but Khrushchev has. Yugoslav officials always have insisted they wanted good relations on a government-to-government level, with ideological differences between Communist parties shunted aside.

Russia, apparently concerned lest "Titoism" encourage more Hungarian-type uprisings in Eastern Europe, emphasized ideological differences.

Then Foreign Minister Koca Popovic was invited to Moscow last summer. Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko returned the visit this summer. Sources here say the Russians tacitly accepted the Yugoslav view that relations should be improved.

Yugoslavs also say Moscow's differences with Red China and Albania bring the Kremlin closer to Belgrade, which views the Albanians and Chinese as the bitterest enemies of Tito's brand of communism.

Tito, still a Communist, describes Yugoslavia as nonaligned in world politics. Recent pronouncements on disarmament, Berlin and other major issues support Soviet policy, however.

Yugoslavs do not hide their anger over anti-Tito attacks in the U. S. Congress. They fear the European Common Market may damage Yugoslav trade.

The feeling here is Tito will move closer to Russia, perhaps visiting Moscow later this year, but will cling to his independence.

After Years Of Spending, Ceylon Nears A Disaster

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—After years of over-spending on good living, Ceylon is running out of money. Most of its politicians hesitate to do anything but wait for the crash.

This island nation off India imports more than it exports. The government spends more than it collects in taxes. Its foreign exchange reserves are almost depleted.

Fear of repercussions from angry voters has kept the government from carrying out its own calls for austerity. Most opposition politicians also shy away from the unpopular measures that Ceylonese economists and foreign experts say are necessary.

But a moment of truth is approaching.

By December there will not be sufficient foreign exchange to import enough rice, basic item in the Ceylon diet. Despite the lush agricultural productivity and good fishing possibilities of this tropical island, Ceylon imports 43 per cent of its rice needs, 74 per cent of its fish and much of its other food.

The nation has been warned of the December crisis by Felix Dias Bandaranaike, 32-year-old nephew of Prime Minister Sirimavo Bandaranaike.

As finance minister, he proposed to cut rice imports and substitute cheaper wheat for a fourth of the weekly rice ration.

Older politicians in Mrs. Bandaranaike's cabinet considered a rice cut political suicide. They forced her and Felix Bandaranaike to back down. Felix Bandaranaike resigned from the finance ministry.

The budget he had introduced was further distorted by failure to collect a new 7 1/2 per cent sales tax. After two chaotic days

Key Figures In Ceylon

Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike, left, Ceylon's prime minister, leads a nation which after years of over-spending is running out of money. Her nephew, Felix Dias Bandaranaike, 32, right, resigned as financial minister in a controversy over his proposal to cut rice imports as an economy measure.

the effort to reduce the deficit had to be abandoned.

The politicians now in command are sticking to the shell of the budget. "They are just like Mr. Micawber, hoping something will turn up," said a civil service expert.

"The trouble is," a leading opposition politician said, "we have been supporting a Rolls-Royce welfare state on a bullock cart economy."

In addition to subsidized food, the government provides free education and medical service, and subsidized transportation and housing.

These benefits were added atop an economic structure created by the British, who gave Ceylon independence in 1948. They exported tea, rubber and coconuts to pay for necessities.

The exports gave Ceylon one of the highest standards of living in underdeveloped Asia, with a per capita income almost double that of India. In 1961 Ceylon's 10,167,000 people averaged 617 rupees ($129.57) apiece, scarcely higher than the per capita rate in 1948, because a population increase of 2.8 per cent a year has eaten up small economic gains.

The need to improve agriculture and industry has been recognized by successive Ceylonese governments, but little has been accomplished. The number of hungry mouths has increased 10 times as fast as rice production.

Industrialization, the key to a soundly balanced economy, would require a cut of luxury imports plus a combination of lower subsidies and higher taxes.

The predominantly middle class United National Party that governed until 1956 only talked about industrialization, the key to a S.W.R.D. Bandaranaike, who came to power in that year with the backing of rural masses, prepared the rough outline of a 10-year development plan. He was assassinated in September, 1959. His widow became prime minister in 1960.

Ceylon needs foreign aid but has impeded it by seizing some assets of U.S. and British oil companies. Private foreign investment has been frightened off by contradictory talk of nationalization and efforts to restrict exportation of profits.

For political reasons of nationalism among Ceylon's Buddhist Sinhalese majority, the talents of the Hindu Tamil minority are being wasted. Racial tension could explode.

Yet Parliament appears unconcerned. The budget debate involved little discussion of the budget and much violent political bickering.

The loans will be sold with a repurchase guaranty by the VA. The VA will buy back a seriously defaulted loan for the same price paid by the purchaser.

More than $100 million of VA owned mortgage loans have been sold with this repurchase guaranty since April. The purchasers have included national, state and savings banks, savings and loan associations and similar organizations.

VA Selling Mortgages

The Veterans Administration Regional Office in Lubbock is making another offering of mortgages obtained in the sale of homes acquired under the GI Home Loan Guaranty Program, Ray Boren, contact representative at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, announced today. Similar offerings are being made by VA regional offices throughout the nation.

Prior VA offerings were on a competitive bidding basis. The current offering is "across the counter" at prices established by the VA. With the exception of loans secured by properties in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont, New Hampshire, sales prices for loans in the current offering will be (interest rate and sales price per $100). Five per cent, 98.5; 5 1/4 per cent, 99.5; 5 1/2 per cent, 101.5; 5 3/4 per cent, 103.5; six per cent, 105.5.

Dallas Symphony On Concert Agenda

Shortly after the end of World War II, a group of Big Spring people began exploring the possibility of a major musical event for the city.

The city had never had a symphony orchestra to present a concert, so overtures were made to the Dallas Symphony, then as now one of the best in the land. Several individuals personally underwrote the event, which proved to be an artistic triumph. There have been other symphonies here since then, but from that time the Dallas group has remained a sentimental favorite.

To climax its 1962-63 series, the Big Spring Concert Association has been able to book the Dallas Symphony again. Those who have heard the orchestra before know what a treat is in store when the stage of the municipal auditorium is packed with skilled instrumentalists under the baton of one of the country's most exciting conductors.

Other programs on the current series will include the National Ballet Guild of Canada, with 80 in its company and orchestra; an evening with the noted actor, Basil Rathbone, and the original First Piano Quartet. Season memberships ($9 and $4) are available from directors or may be had at the Herald or Zack's.

Donald Johanos is the conductor of the Dallas Symphony and everywhere he has excited the praise of critics. The Pittsburgh Press appraised him thus: "Mr. Johanos, who conducts without a baton, is one of the reach-into-the-orchestra - and drag - it - out-of-'em school."

John Rosenfield wrote in the Dallas News that Johanos "a handsome young man with much podium grace, seldom uses a baton except to work with his soloists. His 10 fingers, though, produce results and an exceptional timbre that fill the orchestra shell." Critics from the St. Louis Post Dispatch, New York Journal-American and many other papers have been equally glowing in their praise.

Johanos is a native of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He became concertmaster of high school and college orchestras, won regional violin contests. He won a scholarship at the Eastman School of Music and took his master of theory there. He directed symphonies in Pennsylvania, became a protégé of Eugene Ormandy for three years of advanced study with the Philadelphia Symphony.

He studied in Salzburg, Amsterdam, London, Edinburgh, Vienna, Paris, Milan, Rome and Lucerne. In 1957 he joined the Dallas orchestra as associated conductor and was made resident conductor in 1961. The standing ovations he has received in several guest-conductor engagements this year over the nation and his engagement in Amsterdam this winter testify as to his unique artistry.

China Turns Its Guns On Revisionists

TOKYO (AP)—Red China turned its ideological guns on so-called "modern revisionists" Saturday in what looked like a new round in its quarrel with the Soviet Union.

The attack, broadcast by the British, during the week of Communist Albania which follows the Red Chinese line.

Quoting from the People's Daily newspaper, Peiping radio accused President Tito of Yugoslavia of betraying Marxist-Leninism, consorting with "U.S. imperialists," and being a counterrevolutionary.

Chinese Communist criticism of what Peiping considers weak Soviet policy has often been cloaked under attacks on the Yugoslav leader.

"Tito and 'other revisionists'—incorrectly assume the 'predatory and aggressive nature of imperialism' has changed," the broadcast said.

The Albanian Communist regime, in open disgrace with Moscow since last year, pulled no punches in broadcasts denouncing both Premier Khrushchev and Tito as revisionists.

Famed Bleeding Woman Of Lent Honored In Death

KONNERSREUTH, Germany (AP)—Therese Neumann, who appeared to suffer Christ's agonies on the cross every Lent since 1926, was buried Saturday in a village cemetery near her cottage here.

Despite wind-whipped rain and cool temperatures, about 5,000 people attended.

Thousands of people made pilgrimages to this Bavarian Alpine village every Lenten season to see Miss Neumann's trance, when spots of blood would appear at her eyes and on her hands in a pattern similar to Christ's stigmata. The church, however, has never formally declared this a miracle.

Year's Traffic Toll In District Reaches 75

Traffic accidents in the Midland Highway Patrol District since Jan. 1, 1962 have taken 75 lives, caused injuries to 751 persons and cost $1,136,366, according to Capt. Ray B. Butler, district commander.

His report for the first eight months of 1962 released this week credits Howard County with four deaths. Forty-nine persons have been injured in the 98 accidents which have been investigated by the highway patrol in the county. The crashes have cost the people of the county $62,020.

The Highway Patrol report includes only those accidents which occur on rural roads and state highways. Fatalities which occur in cities or towns are not included.

There have been two such fatalities in Big Spring this year. This brings the number of persons killed in traffic accidents within the county's boundaries to six for the year.

Other counties in the Big Spring area which are in the Midland district and included in Capt. Butler's report:

Andrews: three fatalities, 26 injuries, 28 accidents, $25,123 damages;

Borden: no fatalities, five injuries, 10 accidents, $5,650 damages;

Dawson: seven fatalities, 48 persons injured, 52 accidents, $63,832 damages;

Ector: five fatalities, 104 persons injured, 174 accidents, $120,100 damages;

Glasscock: no fatalities, six persons injured, 17 accidents, $15,465 damages;

Martin: five fatalities, 13 persons injured, 29 accidents, $34,065 damages;

Midland: one fatality, 33 persons injured, 95 accidents, $73,847 damages.

Of all of the 24 counties in the district, Gaines and Presidio counties hold the record for the most deaths. Nine persons have died in car accidents in Presidio County so far this year; eight have died in crashes in Gaines County.

Mitchell County Fair Ends On Happy Note

By M. A. WEBB

COLORADO CITY — The annual Mitchell County Fair ended Saturday night on the happy note of having the largest turnout of people and the greatest number of entries in its history.

Crowds milled around the carnival midway at 10 p.m. Friday, after the Colorado City-Monahans football game ended. Saturday crowds were still enthusiastic.

"It is beyond doubt the best fair ever held," Dick Kendall, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring the fair said. "There were more and better entries in all divisions, and the interest of the public was high."

The Civic House, where exhibits were judged and ribbons awarded Thursday, drew a steady stream of viewers, from 5 p.m. when the doors were opened, until closing time Saturday night. All food, horticultural, arts and crafts, and needlework displays were located in the Civic House. Agriculture and automobile exhibits were shown at the National Guard Armory where hundreds of farmers, ranchmen, and their families, viewed the displays and exchanged ideas.

The Old Settlers Reunion, held at the museum building from 9 a.m. until noon Friday, drew more than 300 old-timers of Mitchell County. Many of them returned from other areas to attend the reunion. Mrs. Eleanor Coleman Burchard, daughter of an old-time doctor, returned from Sacramento, Calif. to receive recognition as the old-timer traveling the greatest distance.

Saturday is normally a day when most farmers and ranchmen come to town, and there were more than the normal number in the city Saturday, Kendall said.

Other exhibit results included:

Big Lakes Slowly Losing Overflow

Water is slowly receding at Lake J. B. Thomas, although it experienced a slight rise during the week.

Saturday the big reservoir of the Colorado River Municipal Water District was at elevation 2258.54 feet, which is .62 of a foot above spillway level. Barring further rises, it will be toward the end of the month before the spilling is completed. Spotted showers in the area added .27 of a foot to the level of the lake which has been spilling since Sept. 5.

Lake Colorado City, was at elevation 2070.65 Saturday. This is .40 of a foot over spillway. This lake received a half foot rise during the week.

THEY'LL STICK BETTER
The 1963 inspection stickers for Texas Motor Cars are on hand. At upper right is how the 1962 models looked.

New Stickers Ready To Stick

Something new has been introduced this year to the motoring public but so far the local public has managed to restrain its enthusiasm to invest in the device.

The something new is the 1963 safety inspection stickers which were put on sale Sept. 1. The numerous inspection stations in Big Spring have an abundant supply of the new stickers but so far no grand rush has developed for them.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said the new sticker is a dry mount decal which the DPS believes will adhere to windshields regardless of weather conditions.

He admitted that the safety inspection stickers which have been used in the past have not been quite all they should be in the matter of adhering to the windshields for the year they had to last.

"The type we are introducing this fall," he said, "have worked with remarkable effectiveness in other states."

All motor vehicles in Texas are required by law to be annually inspected for safety. Cars which are passed by the inspectors are provided with an official sticker which must be displayed on the windshield of the vehicle. There are 5,000,000 vehicles which must be inspected and stamped by the 5,000 inspection stations. First date for inspection is Sept. 1 of each year. Deadline is April 16, 1963.

Cars which do not display an official sticker showing they have been inspected and approved after April 16 will be impounded and their owners can be fined for the delinquency.

Garrison urged all motorists to have their cars inspected early. "Do not wait until the last week," he pleaded. "With the hard summer driving coming to an end, fall is an excellent time to have your car inspected and readied for the winter months."

"The inspection stations are now prepared to make the required check. Why not get the job done early?"

A fee of $1 is charged for making the inspection. If the checker finds something faulty with the car, he advises the owner and he is instructed to have it corrected.

No safety sticker will be attached until the repair cited is made and the correction checked out by the inspector.

ABC Members Briefed On City's Master Plan

Bruce Dunn, director of public works in Big Spring, Friday briefed members of the American Business Club on what the municipality has done to date with money from the $4,300,000 bond issue approved here two years ago and bared plans on how the remainder of the bonds will be invested.

Dunn said the city realized a saving of $14,000 on water and sewer line extensions, which originally were to have cost $657,000; renovated the water treatment plant at a cost of $398,000, or $9,000 less than the estimated cost; and had realized a savings of $9,000 on construction of the elevated water storage plant built recently in the north part of town. The latter expenditure, he added, cost $216,000.

The city's sewer plant, which is being enlarged and modernized, is about 40 per cent completed and the total cost will run about $66,000 more than anticipated, or about $796,000.

Scheduled for attention in 1963 are such projects as feeder lines from the new storage tank into the city's main; an extensive paving program, 32 blocks of which have already been set; and a flood control system, which could cost the city upwards of $83,000 and which will include the construction of several new retention dams in the west part of the city.

The flood control plans could be tied in with the proposed extension of 11th Place all the way across town. Right-of-way for such an artery has not yet been obtained, he stated.

The Texas Highway Department, Dunn revealed, is firming up plans to widen IS 80 on both Third and Fourth Streets from Union to Tulane Streets. Contract for that job will be let in February and the total cost, including Big Spring's share, will approximate $200,000.

The first leg of the IS 20 spur around Big Spring will be let to contract on Oct. 23 at a cost of $2,500,000, Dunn revealed. That would carry the road up as far as the U. S. Experiment Farm north of town. The second leg of the spur, which would complete the job, will probably be contracted for in December and the cost will run about $3,000,000. Big Spring has already readjusted its utility lines, Dunn stated, in order that work could be started on the by-pass.

Work on a new Gregg Street viaduct will also be started sometime during 1963, Dunn stated. When completed, the viaduct will be wide enough to handle four lanes of traffic. Once it is opened to vehicular traffic, no parking will be permitted within the city limits anywhere along the highway, Dunn revealed.

Long-range plans also call for the state to extend FM 700 all the way from IS 20 to the Snyder Highway (No. 350).

An expressway running from north to south through the city up across South Mountain is also in the talking stage.

The team captained by Max Green remains in the lead in the attendance contest being staged within the club, proxy Elmer Phillips stated. The group captained by Dr. Harold Smith is second. The contest still has five weeks to run.

David T. Jones was nominated for membership within the club. A total of 65 were present for the meeting, held in the Settles Hotel.

Vance Recuperates From Lung Surgery

William C. (Kelly) Vance, 1805 Wallace Place, is recuperating from lung surgery in Western General Hospital in El Paso. The surgery was Sept. 12 and the lower lobe of the right lung was removed.

Mr. Vance, a civilian worker at Webb AFB, is making rapid recovery and plans to be back home in a few days.

Mrs. Vance has been at her husband's bedside for the past two weeks.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Two Local Pilots Enter Sky Derby At Midland

By M. A. WEBB

Two Big Spring women pilots, with male co-pilots, will be entered in the High Sky Derby at Midland Sept. 29. The derby is sponsored by the Midland Chapter of the 99ers. The pilots must fly their aircraft to Midland on Sept. 29, have them serviced and checked. The aircraft will then be sealed until time to start the derby.

Ann Bynum will be one of the pilots, with Bill McClendon as co-pilot. Lilith Lurting will be the second entry from Big Spring, with her husband, Dr. Fred Lurting, as co-pilot.

They will take off on the proficiency race to the Marfa airport, be treated to a barbecue, at $1.00 per plate, and then fly back to Midland. Trophies for various speed - performance - efficiency ratings will be awarded at a banquet Saturday night in Midland. The Midland Jaycee Air Show will be held Sunday, Sept. 30, and the High Sky Derby-ites will have an opportunity to see the Blue Angels perform.

The Jaycees have also announced that plans have been completed to have the Project Mercury Capsule as a static display at the Air Show. The capsule will be similar to the one in which John Glenn orbited the earth.

"Flying at Howard County has been just mediocre," Ted McClung, airport manager, said Thursday. "It has been steady but not rushing. The flying club students and pilots have been more active than in some weeks, but transient, business, and other flying has been light."

Big Spring Flying Club members flying during the week in the Piper Colt were: Bob Brock (2), including a cross country; Joe Clark (2); John Stanley, Troy Marchbanks, Dr. M. A. Porter, Toby Cook (3), Jay Lebcowitz, cross country.

Webb Aero Club members flying were: Cessna - Schirmer, Hurt, Small (2), Heartsill, Dr. Healy, Tri-Pacer-Robinson; Colt - Hurt, Roberts (2), Carter, Curtis.

One of the things, not looked kindly on by the Federal Aviation Agency, is "buzzing." That means flying noisily below the altitude prescribed in civil air regulations over cities, towns, villages, or open-air meetings.

The regulations say that aircraft may not fly lower than 1,000 feet above the tallest obstacle within a horizontal area of 2,000 feet from the airplane. Flying clubs usually take stringent measures to eliminate members who violate the regulations. Student pilots are coached on the regulations early and frequently. "Buzzing" has happened twice recently within 10 days over Big Spring.

An Antique Air Show, featuring the 1962 National Acrobatic Champion, Don Pittman, in his Pitt Special, will be held in Quanah Oct. 7. The show, with a fly-in luncheon, is sponsored by the Quanah Chamber of Commerce. Other features will be parachute jumps, antique and experimental aircraft. The luncheon will be served at noon.

★ An Evening With Basil Rathbone
November 5th

★ First Piano Quartet
February 15th

★ Dallas Symphony Orchestra
March 19th

★ National Canadian Ballet
October 16th

Wherever symphonies are mentioned, the Dallas symphony stands high on the list. This brilliant assembly of virtuosos performs under the baton of Donald Johanos. From the time that he became the first student to be accorded the honor of conducting the Eastman Senior Symphony, Mr. Johanos has risen steadily as a conductor. He has studied under many of the top men in America as well as in a dozen European countries. He has been chosen as the representative young American conductor with the Concertgebouw Orchestra in Amsterdam this winter. The orchestra, a sentimental favorite here because it was the first to bring symphonic music to Big Spring many years ago, will climax the series March 19.

Basil Rathbone needs no introduction to anyone conversant with the theatre, motion pictures or television. A gifted actor, Mr. Rathbone has put together some of his favorites from Shakespeare, as well as other classic and contemporary authors. His interpretations of literary gems have thrilled audiences. Of Mr. Rathbone, Gilbert Miller rates him as "the best equipped actor of the English-speaking stage." Mr. Rathbone will be presented Nov. 5.

One of the outstanding musical groups whose name has become a standard for perfection in performance is the First Piano Quartet. The quartet comprises William Gunther, Edward Edson, Adam Garner and Frank Mittler. An enthusiastically received performance with the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra encouraged the quartet to continue as a group . . . and continue it has for more than a score of years of unprecedented acclaim. This example of matchless precision and electric range of color will be presented Feb. 15.

Returning to Big Spring in response to popular acclaim, the National Ballet Guild of Canada will spotlight Lois Smith as prima ballerina and Earl Kraul as premier danseur. From London to Mexico City and all over the United States and Canada, this outstanding troupe has won lavish praise of critics and audiences. In addition to a large company, the ballet has its own orchestra and brilliant settings. This production of exquisite beauty, grace and music will open the series on Oct. 16.

Worms Hurt Some Cotton Fields, Others Untouched

Boll worms are causing heavy damage to some cotton in Howard County while in other fields only a few miles away little or no damage is being done by the pests.

"I checked fields on the B. O. Brown farm in the Vincent area this week," said Herb Helbig, county agent. "I found few boll worms and no damage. He did not have enough infestation at this time to merit poisoning activities."

"I went three miles to the Ed Carpenter farm and the fields there are heavily hit by the worms and the crop has already suffered considerable damage."

"Judge Carpenter plans to start poisoning as soon as the wind permits. He has already lost some cotton due to the worms and each day the weather keeps him out of the fields, the damage will mount."

Helbig said this is the story over the county. Many farmers are poisoning but the overall poisoning activities have not built up to the peak they reached prior to the recent rains. The same spotty condition which Helbig found in the Vincent area prevails all over the county, he said.

He also reiterated that in any farmers are getting relatively poor kills from their poison for the reason the worms have crawled inside half closed blossoms and thereby escaped when poison was applied.

The cabbage loopers are still suffering from the mysterious virus which swept their population on the heels of the rains. However, a new crop of loopers is hatching out. Helbig does not regard the loopers as a problem any longer. He said that there are still some leaf worms to be found in the fields but here again these pests do not constitute a serious threat to the crop.

"At this season," said Helbig, "the cotton is far enough advanced that loss of leaves—which is the result the leafworms would bring about—will do little damage."

He also added that the farmer will have to determine just how good his chances are to mature cotton just now blooming before the first frost, in determining just how heavily he is to go about poisoning activities.

"A lot of cotton just now blooming will probably be killed off by frost before it has a chance to mature, Helbig said. "An early frost would do a lot of damage in most fields. However, if there is a late frost then the farmer has a gambling chance to finish his crop. He will have to decide how good his chances are."

Base Calls For Bids

Maj. Harry C. Hon, USAF contracting office at Webb AFB, has announced that invitations to bid on the following projects have been sent out to interested contractors: repainting interiors of Building 504, and the covered walk-ways; extending steam lines in aircraft paint shop; application of emulsified asphalt to taxiways and runways; repairs to recreation field house; repairs to underground electric distribution, mobile control.

Three awards were made by Maj. Hon's office this week: Boss Electric Co., Big Spring, was the successful bidder on the installation of a four-way telephone duct with a low bid of $12,915. Frank W. Miller Construction Co., Fort Worth, was low bidder on "repairs to roof on the base theatre, bidding $2,844. The Petroleum Tank Service, North Carolina, was awarded the bid to clean the storage tanks for $1,495.

The bread contract, involving in excess of $36,000 for bakery products, for issue and sale on the base went to Baldrige Bakery, Lubbock.

Air Rescue Award

Capt. T. C. Seebo, commander of the Webb AFB Detachment 32, Central Air Rescue Center, was presented this week with a distinguished award for superior performance. The award was in recognition of an unblemished record in air rescue work. The presentation was made by Bill Barr, of the Kaman Aircraft Co.

DEAR ABBY

Difference In Love And Like

DEAR ABBY: A man wants to marry me and I am undecided. I LIKE him very much but I don't LOVE him. I was married for six years to a man I LOVED but didn't LIKE. He took off and left me with four children and $2,000 in debts. I divorced him. The man who wants to marry me is 40. He is a prosperous farmer and the kindest man I've ever known. He is willing to be a good father to my children and pay off my debts. I am only 29. Is this too young to live without love?

name and address and I will send you a list of homes for unwed mothers in your area at once. Yes, some of them are free, and you will be cared for confidentially.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of The Big Spring Herald.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

UNDECIDED: DEAR UNDECIDED: Instead of the word "like"—substitute "respect and admire." And for "love"—"physically attracted to." Your chances for happiness, in my opinion, are better with a man you respect and admire. You'd be surprised how easy it is to love a man who is good to you. Marry the farmer and everything will come up roses.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell my wife how foolish she is to put her name and address on her key chain? I tried to tell her that if she lost her house keys, whoever found them would know right where to go to rob her. She thinks some honest soul will return them to her just because her name and address are on it. Or am I wrong in wanting to take no chances?

ED

DEAR ED: You're right—although the majority of finders are not keepers. It pays to take no chances.

DEAR ABBY: I am 26 and my husband is 27. We have been married for five years and here is my problem. I love to dance but my husband doesn't. He knows how to dance and he is a good dancer, but he doesn't like to dance. I knew this before we were married, but I thought he would change. I want to dance, but it takes two to tango. How can I get him to dance?

LOVES TO DANCE: DEAR LOVES: If dancing is such an important part of your life, you should have married a tango dancer. You could probably get your husband on his feet by begging, insisting or nagging, but why bother if he doesn't enjoy it? Get off his back.

Davis Leads In Winnings

DENVER—Big Sonny Davis, 27, Kenna, N. M., cowboy, counted $2,884 in roping events at the famed Pendleton, Ore. Roundup, which ended four days of competition last weekend.

Davis, an agile 220-pounder, spliced a $1,507 calf roping victory with a fourth place finish in steer roping worth $1,377 to earn laurels as the rodeo's individual top money winner. He set an arena record of 14.3 seconds, in tying down his first steer, to boot. Dean Oliver, Boise, Idaho, has a firm grip on calf roping honors with $24,844, more than twice as much as second place Olen Young.

With 1962's steer roping championship playoffs set for Saturday and Sunday, at Douglas, Wyo., Davis now looms a real title threat due to his Oregon winnings. He is only $21 behind standings leader, Everett Shaw, Stonewall, Okla. The latter failed to score in Roundup competition.

The season's 15 top money winners in steer roping will vie for the championship at Douglas. Prize money is $6,500.

Other southwest cowboys who scored at Pendleton included Freckles Brown, Lawton, Okla., who padded his lead for the bull riding championship with a $935 second place finish; Olin Young, Albuquerque, N. M., second in calf roping, worth $850; and Billy Joe Deussen, Booth, Tex., fourth in steer wrestling, $394.

Brown, 41, now has won $16,248, bidding for his first world championship in a 22-year rodeo career. He is $5,353 ahead of his nearest rival for the riding title.

Labron Harris Jr., Wins Amateur Title

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Labron Harris Jr., 20-year-old son of an Oklahoma professional, stormed from behind an almost hopeless deficit with a string of pars and birdies Saturday and won the 62nd U.S. Amateur Golf Championship with an incredible 1 up victory over insurance man Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla.

Gray missed a desperate 26-footer for the birdie that would have sent the match into overtime, then stepped up and rolled in his short putt for the victory.

Our Thanks

The Big Spring Shrine Club is deeply grateful to the officers, directors, and members of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo for allowing us to use the rodeo bowl for the Shrine Circus last Thursday. This generosity and public spiritedness played a great part in the success of the circus, the purpose of which is to help some boys and girls to walk again. We feel as though the rodeo association has reached down to give crippled children its hand.

Hornung, Crow Face Each Other Today

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Paul Hornung and John David Crow, considered the National Football League's two finest running halfbacks, face each other Sunday when the Green Bay Packers and St. Louis Cardinals meet in Milwaukee in the day's premier NFL game.

Both were victorious a week ago, with Hornung's 28 points pacing the defending champion Packers to a 34-7 victory over Minnesota and Crow scoring three touchdowns in his team's convincing 27-21 upset of Philadelphia's Eagles.

The Eagles are embroiled in another key game this week, playing host to the New York Giants, who lost a week ago to Cleveland. In other games, the Browns are host to the Washington Redskins, the Chicago Bears visit Los Angeles, San Francisco plays the Detroit Lions, Baltimore is at Minnesota and Pittsburgh travels to Dallas.

Coyotes Slam Breck, 28-0

WICHITA FALLS — Wichita Falls High School, which hosts Big Spring the night of Oct. 5, won its 16th straight football game by turning back Breckencridge, 28-0, before 9,000 fans here Friday night.

Gail Coyotes Smash Forsan Buffs, 28-6

Only 2:20 later, Gail found its second opening. Stevens snatched a Buffalo pass and returned it 35 yards to Forsan's five. Sam Buchanan pierced through right guard on the next play to make it 14-0.

Forsan's deepest scoreless penetration came in the first quarter and separated the Coyote talls. Soles carried on gains of 20 and seven yards as the Bisons moved to the home 15. The Coyotes dug in and put the Forsan rushers nine yards in the hole before taking over on downs.

After a scoreless second quarter, Gail opened the following half with a 55-yard scoring drive consuming nine plays. Nunnally's 10-yard flat pass for Burrus made it 6-0, and Stevens went through center for the extra two.

drove from their 15 to midfield, before a fumble cost them the ball. Preston Stone covered the backfield bobble on Forsan's 34. Five running plays preceded Nunnally's 23-yard scoring flip to Burrus. Stevens' PAT plunge fell short.

When Plainview's Ray Gonzales fumbled the punt which resulted in a safety for Big Spring in that game the other night, Eric Nichols of the Steers was the first player to tackle him. . . . Bob Devaney, coach at Wyoming University, whose team played against all three, rates Eddie Wilson of the Dallas Texans a better pro quarterback prospect than Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State and Los Angeles Rams or John Hadl of Kansas and the San Diego Chargers. . . . Ken Soles, Forsan High School's "player of the week" last week, earned the distinction by gaining 221 yards in 16 rushes with the ball. . . . He completed only one pass, but that went for a touchdown. . . . Soles plays safety on defense, but on three occasions he came up to make tackles when Klondike had the ball. . . . Coahoma's Bulldogs now have a spacious new practice field. . . . They formerly had to work out on the turf at Bulldog Field. . . . Julian Pressley, the baseball coach at Odessa High School, recently was given $400 by the Odessa Bronco Boosters Club, as a reward for the fine coaching job he did last spring with his high school baseball team. . . . Under Pressley's guiding hand, the Broncos went all the way to the finals in the state playoffs. . . . How Time Flies Dept.: Jay White, scourge of the Lamesa High School football club, is the son of Gus White Jr., the Lamesa Tornado back of the middle '40's and now one of the better golfers in this area. . . . Gus Jr. has played in the last two Big Spring Invitational Golf Tournaments. . . . With Sherrill Kidd, young White teams to give the Tornados one of the best 1-2 punches in state high school circles. . . . Season football ticket sales at San Angelo High School totaled 1,840, an all-time record.

pair of field goals and four extra points, and also gained 67 yards rushing. Crow, in his first game since spraining an ankle when the Packers rolled over the Cards 41-14 in a pre-season game, gained 78 yards. In addition quarterback Sam Etchevery showed he's ready to aid the necessary aerial support to Crow's running, completing 13 of 23 for 148 yards against the Eagles. The Cards also showed well defensively, allowing Philadelphia only 28 yards rushing, and may need all they can muster against the tank-like thrusts of Hornung and fullback Jim Taylor. The Giants, stung 17-7 by the Browns in a hard-fought game, may not have quarterback Y. A. Tittle at full strength because of an injured knee. Ralph Guglielmi is primed to step in if needed, while Bob Sims moves to the left linebacking slot for rookie Bill Winter, who's out three weeks with a knee injury. The Eagles tried to beef up their rushing game by signing free agent Merrill Douglas, an NFL veteran, and bolster a sagging defense by hiring veteran tackle Joe Lewis. Their line was pulverized by the Giants' running in an exhibition game two weeks ago and showed poorly against the Cards. Jimmy Brown and Tom Wilson, in their first regular season stint together for the Browns, gained 210 yards against the Giants' strong defense. The "skins gave up over 400 in a 35-35 tie against Dallas. But Bobby Mitchell, traded by the Browns to Washington last winter, scored three touchdowns, caught six passes for 135 yards and ran back a kickoff for 92 yards and a touchdown. Norm Snead, fourth in passing, will have to exploit the Browns secondary at least as well as he did against Dallas, when he nailed 14 of 26 for 217. But Browns' quarterback Jim Ninowski also may do the same against a Washington defense that surrendered 341 passing yards. Willie Galimore, who paces the NFL in rushing with 172 yards, will lead the Bears against Los Angeles. The Rams, losers in the final 2½ minutes to Baltimore last week, will be without halfback Jon Arnett, but found improved defense in limiting the Colts to only 50 yards rushing. Detroit, which swamped Pittsburgh 45-7 in its opener, sends the loop's top passer in Milt Plum against the 49ers excellent pass defense which limited the Bears' Billy Wade to only 13 yards. Plum hit a phenomenal 21 of 30 passes for 251 yards against the Lions, who will be out to avenge a 49-0 lacing San Francisco handed them at home last year. The Colts had Johnny Unitas in his usual clutch-winning role against the Rams, when he threw two TD passes in 2½ minutes last week. But they may need it again against Minnesota. The Vikings, led by Fran Tarkenton, bombed Baltimore in an exhibition game, running up 477 yards. Pittsburgh's rookie fullback Bob Ferguson should see action after his head injury suffered against Detroit was not considered serious. The Stealers will need to beef up their defenses to stop the passing of Eddie Lebaron (13 of 16 for 176 yards) and the running of Amos Marsh and Don Perkins.

Steers Have Own Version Of M Boys

Big Spring High School has its own version of the M boys in football. . . . No fewer than eight members of the high school squad have last names starting with the letter M. . . . When the Goid Junior High School ninth graders beat Snyder Lamar in Snyder in their opener this season, it marked the first time they had won a decision since banding together as seventh graders two seasons back. . . . The Mavericks evidently are a dedicated outfit and are benefiting from some fine coaching on the part of R. E. Dodson, Jimmy Marcus, Oakley Hagood and Jack Taylor. . . . Taylor, incidentally, is a former Odessa athlete who attended both Oklahoma State University and Corpus Christi University. . . . Get ready for a steady diet of the Dallas Cowboys on local TV until Thanksgiving Day, when you'll be able to view the Green Bay Packers and the Detroit Lions in a morning game. . . . Only three of the 17 pro games scheduled for local viewing will not involve the Cowboys. . . . John Crippen, a 1962 graduate of Lubbock Monterey High School and a one-year basketball letterman with the Plainsmen, is now enrolled at South Plains College in Levelland. . . . He was an outside man on the team which finished third in the state playoffs last spring. . . . Grant Teaff, the McMurry College football coach, set a goal of 20 pass interceptions for his team this season. . . . The Indians grabbed off five against Howard Payne College the other day in a game McMurry won, 7-0. . . . Jack Irons, the Texas Western freshman from Big Spring, ran at end for a while with the Miners but is again at fullback. . . . Hilarrio Morales, the 23-year-old Mexican signed by Martin County's Milton McMorries, is still in training for a ring comeback at Juarez.

Rozelle Wooing Two Clubs In AFL

Coach Don Robbins of Big Spring speaks well of Rick Peters, one of his substitute backs. . . . Says Don: "Rick is a boy gifted with tremendous speed nor size, but with tremendous spirit. He'll give you everything he's got." . . . Three of the unsung heroes for Big Spring in last week's game with Plainview were Jimmy Nipp, Tim Smith and Mike Houston, all of whom played terrific games in the line. . . . The Harlem Magicians, a Negro basketball team built around ace dribbler and ex-Globetrotter Marques Haynes, are seeking to book games in this area. . . . When Big Spring's Charley West ran back that Plainview punt for a touchdown, team-mate Thurman (Big Daddy) Randle helped clear the boulevard of traffic by blocking out two Bulldogs at the same time. . . . It's an ill-concealed fact in some areas that Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National Football League, is hoping to build his circuit's membership to 16 teams by adding the San Diego Chargers and the Houston Oilers of the rival AFL. . . . AFL attendance is up more than 80 per cent over last year, however. . . . In the league's first seven games, the average attendance was 28,939. . . . If the San Francisco Giants should be so bold as to win the National (baseball) league pennant, and their chances are very remote, they'd get to use Candle-

Mrs. Harrison Talks On The Baby Clinic At Guadalupanas Meeting

Mrs. Preston Harrison, president of the Medical Auxiliary, spoke of the Guadalupanas of the Sacred Heart of Mary Catholic Church, Thursday evening. She discussed the clinic for babies on the north side of Big Spring.

Mrs. Harrison told the group of 22 members that the clinic, entitled "Well-Baby Clinic," is set up on the north side of town to advise mothers in that area about the care of newborn babies. The primary function of the clinic is for six-week and three-month check-ups, referring the mother to a physician if necessary. Mrs. Harrison noted that due to financial hardships and lack of transportation, some babies in that area do not receive proper treatment during the early months of their lives.

After offering prayer, the Rev. Father Patrick Casey gave a spiritual talk on the meaning of Catholic women's organizations, explaining the importance of instructing children in catechism.

During the business meeting, Mrs. C. G. Salazar reported on the San Angelo Diocesan Convention, held Sept. 11-12. The group discussed fund-raising projects and scheduled one for Sunday, 7 p.m. at the church hall. A reception for new members will be held Oct. 7, at the church hall.

It was announced that Mrs. David Gomez was elected parliamentarian, after which the group elected Mrs. Jesse Hernandez, chairman of the flower committee for special occasions.

Following the refreshment period, during which Mrs. Ray Molina, Mrs. Gilbert Reyna and Mrs. Salazar, hostesses, served, it was announced that the next regular meeting is set for Oct. 18.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MOLLIE HARTZOG
The usual morning routine was under way in the hospital outpatient clinic. The nurses glided about in their quiet efficiency, a little more quiet perhaps than usual. The waiting patients thumbed through magazines growing restless at the waiting. The only incongruity was the nearly visible vitality crackling about the NCO corpsmen on the staff. This hard working group usually works with determination rather than alacrity.

Considering this scene, we noticed an increasing number of hunched figures shuffling in obvious pain amid the quiet nurses. It was the next afternoon when we found our explanation. Those crouching old folks were the doctors, those quiet nurses had sore throats from laughing, and those agile NCOs were the victors in a disastrous Officer - NCO softball game. No score was revealed, but should not the eye doctor be able to see the man on second base if only to avoid collision? Shouldn't Lt. Crunkilton hear the word butter without flinching when nobody mentions fingers? Any why does Dr. Wensinger start violently when anyone mentions the word slide? From what we hear, their double play was terrific. It allowed everyone on the opposing team to get home safe. Truly it was the sports event of the year.

Rain showers have given way to baby showers this past week. Mrs. Ad Lindsey was guest of honor recently at the home of Mrs. R. G. Howell. The littlest Lindsey should arrive next month, so the party guests were relaxed and rather gay not having to keep a weather eye on the mother. The honoree was seen to nibble upon the cakes decorated with the blue booties, the pink ones were bypassed. Do they bake blueberry booties perhaps?

Earlier in the week, Mrs. Neil Hansen co-hosted a shower at her home on Rannels for Mrs. Bruce Fullerton. Other hostesses were Mrs. Woody Kimsey, Mrs. Bill O'Neill, Mrs. Joel Rosen. A pink and blue T-38 from the Stork Heirlines, manufactured by the Hostess Aircraft Company, led the decorations. It was parked on the dining table and surrounded by gifts. On another smaller table keeping an eye on things, rested a large, dignified stork upon a bed of green ivy. This was surrounded by the tea, coffee and dessert salad. A door prize was won by Mrs. Paul Benz, who in turn presented it to the guest of honor since Mrs. Benz is about due for a baby shower herself. There were about 18 guests on hand chatting and enjoying the party. All were wives of students in class 64-A.

Family Services will hold their orientation for all dependents on Tuesday, Sept. 25, through Sept. 27 at the Service Club. Hours are 8:45 until 11:30 a.m. and all wives are invited to attend. The lectures are intended to teach the wives everything they must know about the Air Force life. Legal advice, financial details and pay scales, transfers and many other extremely important fields are discussed. We heard our first orientation after five years of service life when we considered ourselves an old experienced hand. We emerged feeling like a brand new draftee and reflecting that our four overseas wouldn't have cost us such a bundle if we hadn't managed to do all the wrong things out of ignorance. We thought power of attorney meant the television rating of Perry Mason. For this orientation, any children under three months will be cared for free at the Service Club, while older children have free care at the base nursery. Mrs. Joe Sparks will be happy to answer any questions about the orientation at AM 3-6007.

We borrowed a hat or two and some suspenders for the recent production of Inherit the Wind. We borrowed three pairs of galluses and returned three. We still have one black set left. With buttons, too. We tried them with our grey flannel skirt, but they left something to be desired. Like getting rid of them, maybe. We'd be grateful if the owner would give us a nudge and we would speedily return them forthwith. Button holes and all.

On the subject of suspense, Mrs. J. Zeig called to say her suspense about an incoming phone call from Nebraska was over. The call came from friends, Lt. and Mrs. James Eller, who are en route to Ramey AFB, Puerto Rico. They will visit the Zeigs on their way through Webb. Hasta luego.

Kewpie Doll?

No, she isn't a kewpie doll, but pretty, red-haired Laurie Ann Loudamy could pass for one. She knew she was the center of attraction when this picture was made with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Loudamy Jr., her brother, Gary, and sister, Sherry. Loudamy is the new manager of Safeway No. 1.

Loudamy Returns Home As Safeway Manager

Many will remember Luther Loudamy Jr. when he graduated from Big Spring High School and how he went to work as a food clerk at the Safeway store when it was located on Rannels St. Now, 20 years later, he has returned to Big Spring as manager of Safeway No. 1. After serving his apprenticeship and learning his trade well Loudamy was promoted to manager of stores in Breckenridge, Sweetwater and San Angelo.

He didn't return to Big Spring alone. With him came a family which will become as much a part of Big Spring as he is himself. Loudamy met his wife, Sybil, while managing the store in Breckenridge. They were married 16 years ago in Abilene. Making her first trip to Big Spring, Mrs. Loudamy was pleased with her husband's hometown, and is looking forward to setting up housekeeping in her new home in Kentwood.

The oldest of the couple's children, Gary, 14, is a ninth grade student at Goliad Junior High. Although he isn't of age (the limit at the stores is 16) to work at his father's store, he says he would like to learn the business. Gary and his father make a good bowling team and have a number of trophies to prove it. His highest bowling score is 214 while his father holds a 265. They are making plans to enter a winter bowling league.

Sherry, 8, the lovely little auburn-haired daughter, attends College Heights Elementary School. The youngest, eight-month-old Laurie Ann, naturally is the idol of the family. The two girls have a secret, and they're not telling anyone how Sherry can always make Laurie burst out in laughter when the rest of the family's attempts fail.

So the hometown boy has returned, and has this to say: "Big Spring has really grown, and I'm glad to be back. I think it is one of the best places in the world."

Blanched Celery

Celery that has been grown in a trench may be blanched by filling the trench with soil. If it has, instead, been grown at ground level, set a board along each side of the row so that one edge is half an inch deep in the ground, the other hidden under the celery leaves. In about ten days the hearts of each celery clump will be blanched.

Mrs. Thomas Named Seal Sale Chairman

Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. has accepted the chairmanship of the 1962 Christmas Seal Drive which begins in November. Announcement of Mrs. Thomas' appointment was made this week by Dr. Frankie Williams, president of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association.

After accepting the appointment Mrs. Thomas said, "We are starting immediately to organize the annual Christmas Seal Campaign which provides funds for the voluntary program to wipe out TB in our community. I am sure the campaign will be a successful one because the men, women and children of Howard County are deeply concerned about the problem of TB."

Pointing out the purpose of the campaign, she said, "The funds contributed for Christmas, voluntarily and in the privacy of homes, help to erase tuberculosis and to bring those who have TB to the care of physicians, thus resulting in a remarkable saving of lives." Mrs. Thomas also noted that the Howard County TB Association contributing for and making liberal use of Christmas seals. Nov. 13 is the date set for beginning the 56th annual sale of Christmas seals. The campaign will run through December.

Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., left, is the chairman for the 1962 Christmas Seal Drive in Big Spring. On the national level, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, right, heads the annual drive.

HOLLYWOOD—Sherry Jackson is allowed to have her own apartment now, a thing she dreamed about when I first met her several years ago. Fresh out of her teens, she looks back on the problems that teen-agers have.

"I sympathize with any girl who feels she is misunderstood. It is up to parents to explain their point of view so that their children can understand. To demand obedience without giving reasons creates rebellion, and I think a lot of teen-agers who are called delinquent are really that way from lack of emotional security or because of rules that are too strict."

Don't Throw Away Those Stockings

Those giddy silk stockings with beads and bangles sewn up, down, and around the legs aren't as impractical as they seemed at first glance during the Italian and French couture shows.

An enterprising New York advertising woman has stopped throwing her rummy stockings away. Instead she's mending the runs, covering the seam line with sequins and pearls, as if she had planned for them to be there in the first place. She'll wear them with a short-in-front ball gown, as they were exhibited at the European shows.

Fall Fashion Exhibit Scheduled At Tech

"Fashion, Fabrics, and You" will be presented before the Texas State Home Economics Association, Region II, at its annual meeting on October 2, at the Student Union Building, Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

Following a 6:30 p.m. dinner, the program will be presented by Miss Helen Wright, special field representative, Simplicity Pattern Company, New York City.

Tendencies in fall fashion, color and fabric interpreted for the individual will be illustrated in a wardrobe of 13 garments planned for all occasions.

Miss Wright has an extensive background in education and business. She graduated from Carnegie Institute of Technology with a Bachelor of Science degree in costume economics and earned her Master of Arts degree from Columbia University Teachers College in clothing and textiles. She taught clothing and textiles before entering the business field as stylist and fabric consultant.

Reservations must be made in advance with the reservation chairman, Mrs. Betty Moran, Home Service director, Pioneer Natural Gas Company, Drawer 1121, Lubbock. The dinner and meeting are open to all home economists who are members, or interested in being members, of Texas Home Economics Association.

Enhanced With Rings

Don't be afraid to wear a dramatic ring, whether or not you have beautiful hands. Hands are an important part of the feminine image, and every woman should learn to make the most of them.

Rings and bracelets add to the beauty of women's hands, and this year there is a fresh vogue for the bold accent ring, worn usually on the little finger, to accent a color theme or express a personal whim.

Sometimes the accent ring may be your birthstone. Sometimes it may be your favorite color, expressing your own personality or taste—sapphire to match your eyes, perhaps, or a big dome of turquoise and gold just because you like it.

Mothers Club Members Hear Talk On Course

The Rev. Father Francis Beazley was speaker during an evening session of the Mothers Club, Immaculate Heart of Mary School. He announced Thursday that the Sisters at the school will teach a 30-week course, "The Confraternity of Christian Doctrine," each Tuesday, 8-9 p.m. at the Sacred Heart of Mary Hall.

The purpose of the course is to indoctrinate adults on the north side of Big Spring as to the methods of religion of teaching catechism. The Sacred Heart of Mary Parish is left without teachers, because of the sister's recent transfer. He pointed out that without the help of adults, the five or six hundred Catholic children in that area, will not be taught catechism. He noted that members of the Mothers Club and the Altar Society, along with women from Webb AFB, have volunteered to enroll in the course.

Following Father Beazley's talk to the 35 mothers present, Mrs. Wayne Basden presented a program on the National Council of Catholic Women, illustrating the Diocesan and Deanery levels. She explained the framework of Catholic women's organizations. After the program, she reported on the San Angelo Diocesan convention, held Sept. 11-12.

The group discussed a Day of Recollection during Advent. They decided to attend Mass as a group every first Friday of each month, beginning Oct. 1.

It was announced that $500 has been pledged to install a library at the school. Part of the fund was raised as a result of the Round Robin Bridge Marathon.

Refreshments were served to the group.

New Neckline Idea

A new idea in neckline fillers is a dickey with a turtle neck collar, offering the throat covered look without the bulkiness of a sweater under a jacket. For dress up occasions are dickeys with velvet or satin ruffles up to the chin chin chin.

Tree Suffer By Autumn

If the prolonged heat of late summer mottles your trees with yellow or brown, don't rejoice that you're seeing the first touches of fall color.

Instead, chances are your trees are flashing the danger signals of drought damage. The dog days that oppress humans also take the starch out of your greenery. For weak trees the one-two-three punch of heat, dryness and oven winds may be the knockout.

Drought mars trees in various ways, but whatever the symptoms the best medicine generally is the same. Namely, long deep watering plus nitrogen-rich feeding to restore vigor.

AFB Wives While Away Their Hours Zealously

The serenity at Webb Air Force Base has been shattered; not by a sonic boom but by the zealous activities of the basedwellers' wives. Seasonal inspirations and aspirations are rampant with the approach of autumn. Wives have set the pace for fall and winter months which should leave no margin for boredom.

Already begun, the bridge sessions for beginners has routed out many of the students' wives to participate in the classes being conducted under the auspices of the Officers Wives Club.

International Wives are on the go, having filled a date Saturday in Stanton, showing their native dress and entertaining members of a Stanton club. Monday they will meet and decide upon a social affair to be given in mid-October when townspeople and residents of the base will be guests.

As part of their welfare project, Officers Wives met young people from the state hospital at the gates Saturday. Kiwanis Kids Day, and took them on a tour of the base. Afterwards they were hostesses for a program and lunch at noon. Other plans are in progress for entertaining adolescent state hospital patients.

Highlighting the program for this week is the Family Services orientation, Sept. 25-27, when 110 women of Webb will attend sessions to familiarize them with the base and its mission. On Wednesday, 9:50 a.m. at the Service Club, Mrs. James M. Gehrig, the OWC president, will talk on protocol.

Luncheons for OWC members and guests are to be resumed, beginning Thursday, Oct. 4, at the Officers Club. The first fall luncheon will include a fashion show. Saturday, Oct. 13, is the date set for open house at Webb's Thrift Shop, sponsored by OWC. Founded a year ago through the efforts of Mrs. August Taute, wife of Col. Taute, former deputy commander at Webb, the shop's anniversary will be observed. A birthday cake-cutting ceremony is slated for 10 a.m., and it is expected that some of those who helped to open the shop will be present on this occasion. Beginning this Monday the shop will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Somewhat distinguishing to Webb are the hat making classes, which are being resumed with Mrs. Tom Seebo, the instructor. Sportswise, the women are enthusiastic the year around and are regular Tuesday morning occupants of the Webb fairways. Presently they are participating in the club's tournament which

Temple Installs Year's Officers

"Candles for Christ" was the motto used in the WMS installation at Baptist Temple, Friday evening, conducted by WMU associational president, Mrs. W. M. Erwin of Sand Springs.

The worship center was lighted with candelabra holding white tapers, significant of the theme. Mrs. Curtis Reynolds, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Jarratt, sang "The Women's Hymn." Mrs. Hill offered the invocation, after which Mrs. Page talked on "Do People Really Take Vacations from Prayer Life?" She also read the 75-day prayer calendar, in honor of the 75th anniversary of the WMU.

Following the ceremony, circle social chairmen were hostesses to the 30 women during a social hour in Fellowship Hall. Guests were served from a table laid with yellow linen and appointed with crystal. Flower arrangements featured the autumn theme.

Gardening is another particular interest of Webb wives who have contributed much in the beautification program at Webb. Their regular meeting day is Friday, which the next date set for Oct. 28.

Current projects also include additional furnishings and redecoration in the OB Ward and Ward I at the base hospital, being carried out by the NCO Wives and the OWC.

These are to mention only a few of the women's activities planned at Webb. Judging by the month's calendar the winter scene poses promising—mentally, physically and therapeutically.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Dewayne Foster announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda, to Loy Cornett, son of Mrs. Zuma Lee Cornett of Lamesa and D. C. Cornett of Tuscola, Ill. The wedding is scheduled for Nov. 3.

Use Crazy Pockets

Pockets, haphazardly or thoughtfully placed, are big sportswear news. Bonnie Cashin puts "foot" pockets at the bottom of wooly plaid car robes. Sweaters for bicyclers have pockets at the shoulder blades so that the rider can carry his lunch there. And teen-agers are sewing crazy patch pockets to the knees of their dungarees.

Improved Jellyroll

Cut a sponge cake (bake in a jelly roll pan) into three parts. Put these "layers" together with jelly. Dust the top with confectioners sugar.

UT Students Marry At Presbyterian Church

Nuptial vows were solemnized Saturday afternoon in a ceremony uniting Miss Amy Eysen and Charles Brennon Arnold II. The double ring service was read at 4 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church by the pastor, Dr. R. Gage Lloyd.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eysen Jr., 501 Highland, and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Arnold, 805 W. 18th St.

The altar scene included baskets of white gladioli, palms of jade foliage and lighted wedding tapers in candelabra.

Mrs. K. A. Watts presented a program of traditional music and accompanied the vocalist, Rufus D. Rowland, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina gown of pure silk, white taffeta detailed with handcut Alencon lace. The softly gathered skirt was designed with a lace trimmed, front panel. The skirt was caught in deep folds at each side creating a redingote effect. The short veil of illusion was secured by a crown of pearls, and her only other ornament was a single strand of pearls.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of frenched white carnations, handstayed with satin leaves and centered with a white orchid.

Miss Helen Eysen, sister of the bride, wore a street-length dress, fashioned with full skirt and a bow at the waist. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of large bronze chrysanthemums with accents of smaller chrysanthemums and brown satin ribbon.

Martha Erica Eysen, also a sister of the bride, was similarly attired in green. She carried a basket of rosebuds.

Johnny Harrison of Monahans served as best man to the bridegroom. Ushers were Joe W. Sims, Midland, the bridegroom's cousin, and Norman Gound and Clarence Percy III of Lubbock.

RECEPTION

Afterward, guests were received by the couple, Mrs. Eysen, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold and the maid of honor at the Big Spring Country Club.

Gourd Ornaments Adds Color

When the little, bright colored, ornamental gourds are full grown, deeply colored, and firm to the touch, they are ready to be cut from the vine. Leave about two inches of stem attached to each gourd.

Hang them by these stems to a line stretched across a room that is cool and airy. Should mold appear on them, wipe them with a cloth wrung out of household disinfectant.

In about three weeks they will be dry. To bring out their color, wax them with paste wax or coat them with white shellac or colorless lacquer.

Good Beet Liquid

Use one teaspoon to each quart of vegetables and one tablespoon of vinegar to each quart of beets. The vinegar helps the beets keep their color.

MRS. CHARLES BRENNON ARNOLD II

enrolled as a junior at UT, majoring in elementary education.

Arnold graduated from BSIS in 1958, and also attended HCJC. He is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and Inter-Club Social Council. A senior student at UT, he is a mathematics major.

They will make their home at 304 E. 33rd St., Austin.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Arnold were hosts for the rehearsal dinner which was held at the Cosden Country Club Friday night. Members of the wedding party were guests.

Mrs. Hilon H. Fields registered the guests. Those attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eysen Sr., Mrs. Amy Sears, Miss Mary Eula Sears, all of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Timothy D. Eysen, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Tilford Lear, Rotan; Jeffrey Fields, Austin; Mrs. Edwin Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Arnold, Beeville; Mrs. Joe Wallace Sims, Midland; Mrs. Clarence Percy III, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Graham, Lubbock.

LEAVE FOR AUSTIN
The couple left afterward for Austin where they are students at the University of Texas. For travel the bride chose a brown suit and beige accessories.

The bride, a 1960 graduate of Waco High School, attended Texas Technological College and Howard County Junior College. She is

Mrs. Coker Hostess To Forum Party

Mrs. Lonnie Coker received members of the Womans Forum Friday at her home, 204 Jefferson, at a Coke party, the first gathering of the fall season. She was assisted in the house party by Mrs. Buel Fox, Mrs. Jack Johnson and Mrs. Clyde Johnston, cohostesses.

Attending were 19 members and guests, Mrs. Ervin Daniels, Mrs. L. C. Rone, Mrs. Johnny Green, Mrs. T. H. McCann Jr., Mrs. Bledsoe O'Brien, Mrs. James G. Dixon Jr., and Mrs. Tom McAdams. Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Johnston presided at the refreshment table, appointed with crystal and silver. The centerpiece was composed of pink and white asters and gladioli interspersed with greenery.

Winners Game Slated For Duplicate Bridge

In a Friday session of Big Spring Country Club duplicate bridge, it was announced that the Winners Game will be played Tuesday, 7:30 p.m. at the Webb AFB Officers Club. All players were urged to attend.

Twelve tables were used in play in the senior section. Winners in the north-south division were Mrs. J. J. Havens and Mrs. Myrtle Lee, first; Mrs. Hudson Landers and Mrs. Morris Patterson, second; Mrs. Champ Rainwater and Mrs. Fred Luring tied with Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. R. H. Weaver for third and fourth.

In the east-west division, Mrs. Ben McCullough and Mrs. Ayra McGann placed first; Mrs. Harvey Williamson and Mrs. Tom Ashley, second; Mrs. Glenn Riley of Garden City and Mrs. Joe Herbert, third; Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. J. D. Robertson, fourth.

JUNIOR MASTERS
In the Junior Masters section, five tables were used in play. North-south winners were Mrs. M. A. Cook and Mrs. "Pete" Cook, first; Mrs. Raymond River and Mrs. John Davis, second; Mrs. Monroe Johnson and Mrs. George White, third.

Winners in the east-west division were Mrs. Zolie Boykin and Mrs. Gus Barr, first; Mrs. E. C. Smith Jr., and Mrs. Jesse P. Jackson, second; Mrs. W. B. Hardy and Mrs. Grover Cunningham tied for third with Mrs. O. L. Nabors and Mrs. Hershah Petty.

Cut Weeds, Cut Pests For Next Year

Cut the weeds to cut the pests. The weeds growing back of your garage or along the fence lines of your back yard are, unfortunately, first rate breeding spots for numerous insect pests.

Eggs are laid on the weeds, pass the winter on them, and then in spring the insects hatch to feed on your flowers and vegetables. Cut the weeds this fall to avoid this trouble and burn any plants that have visible insect eggs on them.

Annual Multiplier

Cynoglossum, also known as Chinese forget-me-not, is one annual that will reproduce itself in every corner of the garden if seeds are not removed. If you do not wish to weed it out next spring, cut back the bloom stalks before the seeds ripen.

Elaborate Swimcaps Gaudy Umbrellas

Bathing caps are becoming so elaborate they are out pricing swim suits. A dimensional one that looks like a pink flowered Easter bonnet costs nearly $20. A glittering gold one is priced slightly less.

Umbrellas with gaudy jeweled handles are flooding the rainy day fashion market. But the status symbols are those with catskin handles that match similarly trimmed rain coats.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

Early this morning autumn came again and it found Big Spring women with the initial month of the season well worked with the beginning of their club year tucked away. Most federated groups have met and distributed the yearbooks and are settled now for (most of us hope), an active and fruitful year. Also with school underway, many mothers are now resuming their volunteer activities at the VA and state hospitals . . . however, I hear there is still a great need for volunteers, especially at the VA Hospital.

MR. AND MRS. D. D. DYER talked to their daughter, Mrs. JIM SWINEA, and her husband the past week by telephone from the Azores. Of course they talked to eight-year-old Susan, their granddaughter, who was most frustrated because her grandparents couldn't understand her sentences as an interference kept blotting out about every third word. The Swineas will be on the island for another year.

Guests of MR. and MRS. C. E. SHIVE are MR. and MRS. LES MYRICK of Denver, Colo., who made their home at the Shives' house during WWII.

MRS. LUCIAN JONES is in Las Cruces, N. M., to visit her son, Dennis.

SHARON CREIGHTON will return to Dallas today after spending the weekend with her parents, MR. and MRS. MERRILL CREIGHTON. She is a teacher of art in the Rosemont Elementary School.

MRS. MAMIE KIRBY of Dallas is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. J. BUTLER.

MR. and MRS. ROSS BOYKIN are in Shreveport, La., where they will spend most of the week with their son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. H. J. JOHNSON.

The Key Is Fur

The current fashion swing to fur scarves and little fur muffs has increased the number of bargain hunters at second hand stores. They're looking for enough good pelts in otherwise worn fur pieces to create home made versions of these.

Fur, fabric, or leather scarves are used to fill in last year's stand-away or deep V necklines on suits and dresses.

Pillow-Wise Chickens' Stock Is Up

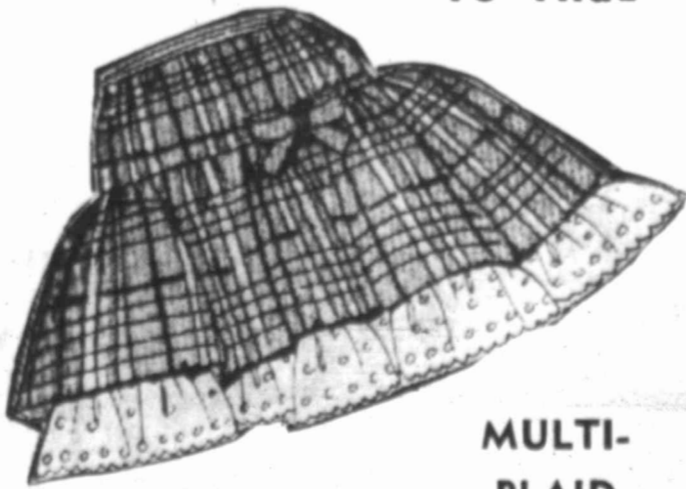

A successful research program aimed at upgrading the lowly chicken feather is benefiting America's homemakers by making available pillows that are high in quality and low in cost.

In attempting to meet the military needs for waterfowl feathers and down, research and development command developed a method for upgrading chicken feathers which makes them almost as good as the stockpiled waterfowl feathers.

The same qualities that make treated chicken feathers suitable for sleeping bag use also make them an excellent inexpensive choice for pillow stuffing. Although the government makes no claims regarding benefits for people with dust allergies, they do point out that treated feathers are more dustfree than any other feather filling. These pillows fluff back to their original dimensions even after repeated laundering and thousands of compressions.

Marquez Brothers May Be Reunited In State Prison

If plans of the prosecution pan out, Richard Marquez, 24, frequently in difficulty with the law, will soon join his brother, Andres, at Huntsville in the Texas State Penitentiary.

The prosecution has plans to ask that Richard go to the prison for life. Andres, sent to prison in 1959, has two 99 year terms plus a day, to serve.

Richard's case is one of 16 criminal matters docketed by Gil Jones, district attorney, as ready for trial in 118th District Court this week. Jones said he hopes to set the Marquez matter early on the docket.

DIFFERENCE

The chief difference in the cases of the two brothers is that Richard, if convicted, will be sent to prison as an habitual criminal. Andres, on the other hand, is doing his dual multi-year latches for murder with malice and armed robbery.

He was convicted for the Jan. 7, 1951 murder of Gerald Liner, young filling station attendant. Liner was shot to death late on the night of Jan. 7, as he was on duty in a filling station at 704 W. 4th Street.

Andres was only 16 years old at the time he was arrested. Trial was delayed until he was 17 so that his case could be handled like that of an adult. Now brother Richard, under indictment as an habitual criminal, stands a chance to join his younger brother.

Richard has a long record of clashes with the law and has been several times convicted of felonies. He was indicted as an habitual criminal by the grand jury and, under this indictment, if he is convicted, his punishment will be life imprisonment. Life sentences are automatic in habitual criminal convictions.

J. R. Coffee is his attorney.

OTHER CASES

Two other cases on the docket are of more than passing interest. One is unusual in that it concerns double indictment against one defendant accusing him of being involved in two traffic accidents in a single day. In both instances, he is alleged to have left the scene without stopping to render aid. The defendant is Jimmy Roger Wallace. The alleged accidents occurred July 27.

Another indictment developed as an aftermath of a defendant's sudden decision not to plead guilty to an earlier indictment—after he had appeared in court and announced he wished to do so.

This is the case of George Curry—one of several Negroes alleged to have had a part in the bold daylight robbery of Newsum's Food Stores of a considerable amount of money. One of the participants has already been found guilty and sent to prison.

Curry told the district attorney he intended to plead guilty and was taken before the court. He then changed his mind.

Jones also changed his mind—he cancelled the original theft indictment against Curry and, when the next grand jury convened, obtained a reindictment against the defendant. The new indictment alleges the defendant is an habitual criminal. This felony carries a life sentence if the defendant is found guilty.

MONDAY

The defendants and their attorneys will be in 118th District Court Monday at 10 a.m. The cases will be called and the trial dates set. Jones has said that he anticipates a few pleas of guilty from the list of defendants. If these develop, they will be heard Tuesday.

Tuesday at 10 a.m. a panel of 125 jurors has been ordered to report to Judge Ralph Caton. The first case of the 16 on the list will probably be called up for trial Tuesday afternoon.

Junior Rodeo Prexy Gets Award

Skipper Driver, Big Spring's Junior Cowboy, accepting a hand tooled saddle at the AJRA National Finals Rodeo. This saddle was given to Skipper by AJRA members and directors in appreciation for the job he did for the American Junior Rodeo Association for the 1961-'62 season. Skipper was reelected president of the AJRA for the '62-'63 season almost by an overwhelming vote. He also won the title World Champion Junior Operational Roper (team roping, ribbon roping), for 1962 and received an additional fine championship trophy saddle with that award.

Tindol Listed As Top Rider

James Tindol, Big Spring, serving two prison terms for as many felonies, is listed by the Texas State Prison rodeo director, Albert Moore, as one of the "old time championship riders" in the annual behind-the-walls contest.

The 1962 edition of the prison rodeo—the 31st annual performance—is held each Sunday during October in the prison's huge stadium at Huntsville.

Tindol, who was on parole for a 15-year prison sentence for rape, was convicted of beating Walter Gatlin, elderly Big Spring handyman, to death and received an additional 25 years in prison as his punishment. He was then re-manded to the prison to finish out his original 15 year term and serve his new 25 year term.

The prison rodeo director indicated that Tindol and a number of other older performers in the penitentiary rodeo will be hard pressed to keep their stellar ratings. New inmates, with records outside as outstanding rodeo hands, have been admitted to the prison since the last edition and will be competing against the champions.

Here's how Gas heat COOLS your home!

Cooling with a Gas flame combines four simple laws of nature. The ARKLA-SERVEL Sun Valley* GAS air conditioner employs them to produce the finest air conditioning science has yet devised!

First, BOILING, as in a percolator, moves the liquid refrigerant to the top of the unit in the form of vapor. Secondly, CONDENSATION, as on a glass of cold water, occurs, converting the vapor back to liquid. Next, EVAPORATION provides the chilling effect, just as blowing upon your hand, when wet, makes it feel cool. Last, is the ABSORPTION of the vapor by a salt solution called lithium bromide, in the same manner as table salt absorbs liquids. The liquid then returns to the "percolator" to start the cycle over again.

This is why an ARKLA-SERVEL Sun Valley* GAS air conditioner has no moving parts to wear out or break down, and why it 1) has a life expectancy of three-to-four times that of an ordinary air conditioner, 2) does not lose its efficiency with age, 3) operates with a minimum of service or repair, and 4) maintains its low operating cost throughout the life of the unit.

All these reasons add up to LOWEST OWNER-SHIP COST . . . and make ARKLA-SERVEL Gas air conditioning truly the wisest investment you'll ever make for your home.

Give God A Chance—God Will Open Doors For You!

THE ROAD THAT LEADS NOWHERE

The road pictured here bears the time-worn marks of many travellers. Apparently it leads to some distant village or serves perhaps as a link between more vital thoroughfares.

But in reality this road does neither. Once, no doubt, it had a destination, but today it fades away into the woods a few miles beyond—a "dead end."

How many lives are like this road? They have promising beginnings, but instead of continuing to worthwhile goals, they wander aimlessly to final dead ends.

The Church teaches us to build useful lives and guides us toward noble achievements and ambitions. Regular attendance at church services gives greater assurance that our pathway of life will not lead us astray. On the contrary, it leads straight to the house of the peaceful mind and the contented heart.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Dramatic Themes Head This Week's Movie Fare

Childrens Hour

Fay Bainter chooses to believe the lies of her 12-year-old granddaughter, Karen Balkin, as Shirley MacLaine and Audrey Hepburn, the victims, listen. This controversial film explodes the old myth that all children are pure and innocent, and because of this theme is recommended only for adults and mature young people.

Rear Window

Thelma Ritter, James Stewart and Grace Kelly go over some evidence of murder seen from Stewart's rear window in this scene from the returning Hitchcock classic, "Rear Window." A lot has happened to many of the actors who took part in this film since its first release—Stewart was promoted to a generalship in the Air Force Reserve, Miss Kelly became the princess of Monaco, and an overweight Raymond Burr, who portrays the murderer, has slimmed down and gone on to fame as TV's Perry Mason.

Bon Voyage

Fred MacMurray, Tommy Kirk, and Jayne Wyman have trip trouble with a rather overweight lady in this scene from "Bon Voyage." Walt Disney comedy about a zany American family making the European scene. The picture makes a return showing at the Jet Drive-In Theatre beginning tonight.

Are Children Sacrosanct?

"The Children's Hour," ironically adult in its theme, opens Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre, through United Artists release. It stars Audrey Hepburn, Shirley MacLaine, James Garner and co-stars Miriam Hopkins and Fay Bainter. Twelve-year-old Karen Balkin is introduced in the key role of the evil child whose lies causes tragedy in the lives of everyone it touches; the two young women whose behavior is questioned, the man who is engaged to one of them and the other girl whose emotions become subject to her own suspicions!

"The Children's Hour" was produced and directed by William Wyler—whose last film was the multiple award-winning "Ben Hur"—and written for the screen by John Michael Hayes, from an adaptation by Lillian Hellman of her own play. Twice seen on Broadway, this stage classic was almost brought to the screen once before, also by Mr. Wyler, but the then existing censorship restrictions required its theme to be altered so severely that it was not the same story at all. This year, however, Wyler was able to offer an accurate and truthful dramatization of the original controversial play.

This Mirisch Company, under whose banner this film was made for United Artists release, is Hollywood's leading independent film-making organization. In the three busy years since it was first founded, the company has produced "Some Like It Hot," "The Apartment," "One Two, Three" and "West Side Story" among a host of others.

Return From Degredation

"Two Weeks in Another Town," Irwin Shaw's novel revolving about a once-famous star who has reached the bottom and who makes a desperate fight to rehabilitate himself, now reaches the screen as a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture. The film is now at the Ritz Theatre.

Producer John Houseman and Academy Award-winning director Vincente Minnelli assembled a cast headed by Kirk Douglas as the actor on the skids, Edward G. Robinson, Cyd Charisse, George Hamilton, Claire Trevor and two of Europe's actresses, Dahlia Lavi and Rosanna Schiaffino.

Filed in CinemaScope and color largely in Rome, with many of its scenes shot on locations in the Eternal City never before photographed for a motion picture, "Two Weeks in Another Town," tells a story enacted against a background of movie-making. Basically, however, it is a drama of one man's efforts to find himself and of the people who help him and those who hinder him.

Kirk Douglas is seen as Jack Andrus, the Hollywood star whose career has arched from the height of fame to the depths of divorce, alcoholism and a final mangling automobile wreck. Three years in sanitariums have softened the physical scars but the fibre of the soul is still marked.

When the legendary director Maurice Kruger (Edward G. Robinson), with whom Andrus had made some of his finest pictures, offers him a part in an epic he is now filming in Rome, he is given the hope of making a comeback. When he gets to Rome, however, it is to find Kruger has made a botch of his picture, that it must be re-dubbed because Barzelli (Rosanna Schiaffino), his voluptuous Italian star, speaks little English, and the film's young American leading man, Davie Drew (George Hamilton), "possessing a hidden neurosis," refuses to cooperate. What Kruger actually wants of Andrus is for him not to act, but to pull the failing picture together.

It is a formidable challenge, made no easier for Andrus when he finds his former wife, Carlotta (Cyd Charisse), in Rome. An unscrupulous, hedonistic and predatory woman, as beautiful as she is selfish, Carlotta, largely responsible for Andrus' downgrade, now wants to prove that she can possess him again.

Andrus begins his fight to save both Kruger's picture and himself against big odds. On his side is the lovely young Italian girl, Veronica (Dahlia Lavi), of whom Davie Drew is desperately jealous. Against him is Kruger's hysterical wife, Clara (Claire Trevor), who persuades her husband that Andrus is trying to steal his thunder.

These interwoven threads of intrigue, jealousy, suspicion, love, hatred and revenge unfold the story.

"Two Weeks in Another Town" marks the third collaboration for Kirk Douglas, producer Houseman and director Minnelli, who previously were associated on "Lust for Life" and "The Bad and the Beautiful." Charles Schnee, who wrote the screen play for the latter, also adapted the Irwin Shaw novel to the screen.

Two Weeks

Kirk Douglas and Cyd Charisse are among the explosive components in "Two Weeks in Another Town," story of a film star's fight to bring himself back up from the degradation into which he has fallen.

Lisa

Dolores Hart is helped by Stephen Boyd to escape dealers in "Lisa," dramatic offering now showing at the State Theatre on a double bill with the Jayne Mansfield comedy, "It Happened in Athens."

Athens Kid

Jayne Mansfield offers herself as the grand prize at the Olympics in the comedy about athletic heroes, "It Happened in Athens." The race that follows is not exactly the one laid out centuries ago by the first torch-bearer.

Playing the part of Christina (Spiridon's sweetheart) is new Hollywood discovery Maria Xenia, who at 24 is a veteran of more than ten foreign-made films. Backwoods-bred Christina is responsible for one of the film's funniest scenes: In a display of innocent female cunning, she manages to smuggle the homeless Spiridon into Eleni Costa's bedchamber—and then has the bad judgment to leave him there.

View From The Rear Window

The saying among those gentlemen who earn their livelihood by making motion pictures is, "If it's a Hitchcock film it's got to be good." The suspense-master, whose "Psycho" reached the nation's motion picture theatres with nerve-shattering force, will be represented on the screen of the Ritz Theatre next Friday with the return of an earlier thriller, "Rear Window." The Paramount picture in color by Technicolor stars James Stewart and co-stars real-life Princess Grace Kelly, Wendell Corey and Thelma Ritter with Raymond Burr, television's famed "Perry Mason," in a key role.

Set against the colorful background of New York's famous Greenwich Village, the film concerns Jimmy Stewart as a photographer who is confined to his apartment due to a broken leg from a recent assignment. Throughout the entire picture he is confined to his wheelchair which is placed near the rear window of his Greenwich Village apartment. From this vantage point and with little else to do he gazes idly at the neighboring apartments and their diverse occupants. It is then, with nerve-twitching abruptness, that Stewart witnesses what he believes to be a murder. Convincing his fiancée, Grace Kelly, his detective friend, Wendell Corey, and his nurse, Thelma Ritter, proves no easy task for Stewart.

A neat, tightly knit idea, and under the skillful directorial hands of Alfred Hitchcock, "Rear Window" emerges as a highly suspenseful film. Hitchcock has utilized his settings to attain maximum interest by pinpointing the placid everyday experiences of the neighbors, who are not in the least aware that some grotesque deed has been perpetrated in their midst.

It is these characters who afford some interesting sidelights to the film. While Stewart is not gazing into the apartment in which he believes a murder has been committed, he has his eye on the other apartment dwellers. They include such oddly assorted personalities as Miss Torso, the Composer, the couple on the fire escape, Miss Lonely Hearts, and the Newlyweds. Hitchcock probes these people's actions and the results are often humorous, often tragic, but always interesting.

The film was written for the screen by John Michael Hayes. Others in the cast include Judith Evelyn, Ross Bagdasarian, Sara Berner, Frank Cady, Jesslyn Fax, Rand Harper, Irene Winston and Havis Davenport.

How Not To Run In The Olympics

Although a true-life story of "epic" heroism would typically receive a heavy "dramatic" motion picture treatment, such is not the case with "It Happened in Athens," opening today at the State Theatre.

The CinemaScope-DeLuxe Color comedy-adventure, which stars Jayne Mansfield, Trax Colton, Nico Minardos, Maria Xenia and Bob Mathias, describes with light-hearted candor—and an uninhibited sense of fun—the dramatic rise-to-fame of the first modern-day hero of the Olympic Games.

Based on the biography of Spiridon Loues, an athletically untrained Greek shepherd boy (played by Trax Colton) who won the first modern revival of the Olympic Marathon race, "It Happened in Athens" was shot entirely on location in Greece—and is the last motion picture to be filmed with the world-famed Acropolis as a background setting (a government decree forbidding dramatic film work at religious shrines went into effect immediately after photography was completed). The film features history's most grueling footrace (26 miles long) and the beauty of some famous scenery and architecture.

The picture's romantic interest comes in the luscious form of Jayne Mansfield, who plays the role of Eleni Costa, a glamorous, calculating and decidedly publicity-conscious actress. When she offers to donate herself as the Olympic Grand Prize, innocent champion-to-be Spiridon finds himself hilariously entangled in a mesh of feminine intrigue that nearly costs him the love of his hometown sweetheart.

Playing the part of Christina (Spiridon's sweetheart) is new Hollywood discovery Maria Xenia, who at 24 is a veteran of more than ten foreign-made films. Backwoods-bred Christina is responsible for one of the film's funniest scenes: In a display of innocent female cunning, she manages to smuggle the homeless Spiridon into Eleni Costa's bedchamber—and then has the bad judgment to leave him there.

"It Happened in Athens" is from an original screenplay by Laslo Vadnay and was directed by Andrew Marton, best known for his "chariot race" sequence in "Ben Hur." The musical score was created by Manos Hadjidakis, the man responsible for the recent, highly-popular score from "Never on Sunday."

Playing the part of Christina (Spiridon's sweetheart) is new Hollywood discovery Maria Xenia, who at 24 is a veteran of more than ten foreign-made films. Protection Racket Theme

The evils of London's underworld, with the emphasis on the operation of a protection racket, are told in "The Frightened City" which opens Thursday at the State Theatre.

Herbert Lom is starred in this Zodiac production released by Allied Artists. He portrays the suave, rich accountant who sees the huge financial gain in welding several gangs into an all-powerful syndicate to operate the protection racket. He puts his vision into being, but remains as the man-behind-the-scenes.

As chief of the amalgamated gang, Lom selects Alfred Marks, a comic who does his first straight dramatic role in films. John Lemont, working from the Leigh Vance screenplay, guided Sean Connery, Olive McFarland and Yvonne Romain through their roles in which Connery finds his love affair with Miss McFarland

Drum Adapts Play He Knows

NEW YORK (AP)—Playing an old comedy in stock turned actor Leonard Drum into a writer-composer-lyricist. The subject of Drum's labors is George Kelly's "The Show-Off," in which he performed in 1956. The new adaptation, entitled "The Kid from Philly," is to be produced on Broadway by Michael Dewell, a cosponsor of the National Repertory Theater.

efficient smuggler; British screen star Marius Goring, seen as a white slaver who attempts to abduct Miss Hart; Leo McKern, who appeared on both the London and New York productions of "A Man for All Seasons," delineating the role of a Dutch barge skipper; Donald Pleasence, the star of Broadway's "The Caretaker," playing the role of a Dutch police inspector who first works with and then must pursue Boyd; Harry Andrews, last seen in "Circle of Deception," creating the character of an Arab gun-runner; and Robert Stephens, seen as a British intelligence officer.

"Lisa" is the first of many productions Robson will film for Twentieth under his own Red Lion banner.

Goes Hunting—With Recorder

Burl Ives went hunting like most of the jungle troupe that made "The Spiral Road." But he hunted with a tape recorder instead of a gun.

Between stints on the Eastman Color picture which also stars Rock Hudson and Gena Rowlands, Ives made many treks into the jungle interior. His object: to record the songs and the music of the remote bush Negro and American Indian villages, as part of his folk music collection, one of the most impressive collections in the world.

Librarians Set District Meet Here Oct. 13

Librarians from 34 West Texas counties will be in Big Spring Oct. 13 for the District 3 convention of the Texas Library Association.

More than 100 librarians are expected to attend. City-County libraries, school libraries and special libraries are invited to send representatives to the meeting.

Sessions will be in the Cosden Country Club, according to Mrs. Opal McDaniel, Howard County librarian. She is chairman of the recruitment committee.

Mrs. Jan Harris, Big Spring High school librarian, is presently chairman for District 3 and Mrs. Mary Nell Smith, Snyder, is vice-chairman.

A luncheon at the Cosden Club is to be a highlight of the day. Delbert Downing, Midland lecturer, is to be guest speaker at the morning session of the convention. The afternoon will be devoted to visits to the libraries of the city. These visits will include the Howard County Free Library, the libraries in the high school and two junior high schools, the Howard County Junior College Library, and library at the Veterans Administration Hospital and the library at Webb AFB.

Discussion of library problems and of new trends in library operation will form the basis for discussion during the convention.

Whatever The Reason, Cold Weather Is Near

DEAR BOSS:
How are you fixed for long handles and such?
I've just been checking up and we're getting mighty close to fall and when fall comes, Boss, winter is never far behind.

If you're up and around the house at 6:30 a.m. Monday, look out of the window.
You'll see summer slithering out of the scene.

Summer's been in the saddle since 9:25 a.m. June 21 and he has been a hardworking hand. He has cut off our water, turned on the back burner and tried to roast us out of business. It was only in his latter days when old age had just about done him in, that summer lost grip on the elements. That's when we got rain.

Fall will be in control of affairs from Monday until Dec. 22. At 2:15 a.m. on that date, winter will officially arrive.

It's a puzzling thing to me, Boss—now that fall is here and winter near. I am told the sun is closer to the earth than it was in the middle of July when things were really sizzling.

Why, come January 1, old Sol will be a full 3,000,000 miles nearer to earth than it was in mid-summer and yet the temperature will be cold, the ground frozen and possibly snow will be all around.

The book says the reason is the tilt of the earth's axis. It tilts 23 1/2 degrees. The seasons come from this phenomenon and not from the earth's orbit around the sun.

The average distance of the earth from the sun is 93,000,000 miles. The difference in orbital differences from between aphelion (farthest away) and perihelion (closest to the sun) is 3,000,000 miles. So, the earth goes through perihelion point just about New Year's and is, at that time, about 91,500,000 miles from the sun.

We go through the aphelion in the early days of each July.

In January, in this zone, we have winter when the sun is nearest and in July when the sun is the greatest distance away, we have summer.

So, say the bigwigs, it ain't how close we are to the sun that makes for the seasons. It's the tilt of the axis.

You see, Boss, they say that when the earth passes through perihelion, the northern end of the earth's axis happens to be tilted away from the sun.

Result: we get only slanting rays from the sun. But, contrarily, when apelion arrives, the tilt is toward the sun and the rays get a better bite at us even though the sun is 3,000,000 miles farther out in space.

Anyway, come Monday, it'll be fall, Boss.

New Method Gives Hope To Childless

LONDON (AP)—The Solicitors Journal—a British legal publication—reported that doctors have developed an operation whereby a barren woman can have children. But, it said, the nation's Medical Defense Union has given the opinion that any child born after such an operation would be illegitimate.

The operation involves grafting a healthy ovary—reproductive organ—into the body of a woman whose ovaries are sterile or have been removed. The healthy ovaries could be obtained from women who choose, for various reasons, to have them removed.

The magazine said a well-known British gynecologist almost performed the operation on a young, childless wife who begged for his help, but he said he first wanted the opinion of the Medical Defense Union.

The Medical Defense Union is an organization that insures doctors against legal actions resulting from the practice of their profession. It even defends them in court.

The Solicitors Journal said the medical union ruled: "Any child born after the operation would be illegitimate."

A spokesman for the Medical Defense Union said he could make no immediate comment.

The reasoning as to illegitimacy of the offspring made no distinction as to the marital status of the mother. It is based on a belief that such cases, like artificial insemination, are not normal or natural.

New Building Code On Tuesday Agenda

Big Spring may have a new building code if city commissioners go along with recommendations of the civic development committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

A subcommittee of that organization has conducted a study of local building needs and has approved a modified form of the Southern Standard Building Code for adoption. It has been changed to fit local needs and will be presented to commissioners at their Tuesday meeting.

Architects, builders, the building inspector and other persons affected by the code have been consulted. Only changes made were in administrative procedures to provide a method of appeal. Bob Heine is chairman of the subcommittee.

"We hope to get the code passed. We have certainly needed it a long time," Harold Talbot, chairman of the civic development committee, said.

He pointed out that control over building is a secondary purpose of the code. Its main function is to insure that even economical, marginal housing is safe to live in.

"Any reputable builder already meets the minimum requirements of the code," Talbot said. "That is why none of them disagreed with it."

The code differs from that of many cities as it is based on minimum strengths and quality rather than demanding that specific materials be used. Some codes prevent the use of new materials, even though they may be as good as materials which can be used. The recommended code permits use of almost any material as long as it meets the minimum strength requirements.

India Charged In Shooting

TOKYO (AP)—Red China accused Indian troops today of opening fire on the Tibetan border—killing a Chinese officer—and warned that war might break out in the area.

Hospital Slates Ministers' Course

Six ministers from the area will attend a 10-week Minister's Orientation at the Big Spring State Hospital this year, according to Chaplain Max Maguire.

The group will meet each week at 10 a.m. for seminars on pastoral counseling. Afternoons will be spent on wards applying knowledge gained during the morning sessions. Sessions will include lectures by members of the hospital staff.

Taking part in the orientation will be the Rev. Al Seddon, St. Paul's Presbyterian Church; Gaylan Poole, St. Mary's Episcopal Church; Rev. John Martin, Kermit; Rev. Fred Scheffel, Sager-ton; Rev. Henry R. Sallee, Andrews; and Rev. Terrence Kelly, Monahan.

WHY YOU CAN'T READ MOST PRESCRIPTIONS

Contrary to general belief, physicians do not write prescriptions in code, Latin or purposely unreadable by the patient. The chief reason you cannot safely read them is because the names of the drugs are unfamiliar.

There are more than 4,000 different medicines in our prescription laboratory and many of their names are almost similar. We know how to spell each one and their dosage and medical uses. Of course if we ever have the slightest doubt we immediately check with the physician before dispensing.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?
