Some Preliminary Plans

Marvin Springer, Dallas planning consultant, discusses some of the problems of the downtown area with Dr. J. E. Hogan (left), and Randall Polk (right). Polk was named chairman of a committee to set up a corporation aimed at downtown area improvements. Hogan has been chairman of the pilot group of businessmen who called a town meeting Monday to launch discussions concerning downtown improvements.

Corporation OK'd To Handle Downtown Improvement Plans

An executive committee to set up a corporation to handle projects in connection with downtown business area improvements was approved at a meeting of merchants and property owners Monday night at the City Auditorium.

Plan is to have this committee establish framework for a corporate charter, constitution and by-laws, and recommend officers and directors for the organization.

It would be a non-profit type association with purposes outlined in broad enough terms to permit the corporation to handle any type of downtown development.

Randall Polk heads the group, which also includes Robert Currie, Lester Morrison, Adolph Swartz, Jack Little, Bill Crooker, Ike Robb and R. W. Whippley.

Appointment was outgrowth of discussion of developments to date in keeping the downtown area attractive to shoppers. Dr. J. E. Hogan, who has been chairman of a pilot organization, reviewed activities, including conferences with Lubbock and Abilene groups which have set up corporate organizations. Hogan pointed out that the maintaining of a viable downtown area could come about only through expenditure of money, work, and time, in a collective fashion.

A report was heard from Marvin Springer of Dallas, engaged by the City of Big Spring as a planning consultant. Springer said the first vital step in any program would be the formation of an association, in which all merchants and property owners would be members, with some method of assessment made to handle expenses.

Suburban shopping centers have their place, said Springer, but the "wheel" of a community must have its "hub" and that along with banks and offices, retailers must remain, and be progressive and aggressive.

The corporate approach is necessary, both Hogan and Springer emphasized, because decisions affecting the downtown area must have concurrence of so many people. This is in contrast to a one-owner shopping center development, where plans and projects can be decided immediately. While shopping centers still are fairly new in the economy, their impact will become greater and greater, Springer said.

Offstreet parking is a major step in the downtown development, but there also must be wise selection of sites for these, Springer said. And downtown merchants must look to appearance of stores, and plan cooperative promotions. The proposed new corporation would be designed to encompass all such projects.

Marquez Goes On Trial As Habitual Criminal

Margarito Ortega, 27-year-old sand and gravel pit worker, was telling a jury in 118th District Court this morning how he was assaulted and stabbed on the night of April 14. He identified his assailant as Richard Marquez, 24, who is on trial as an habitual criminal.

The Marquez case was the first to go before a jury on this week's docket in Judge Ralph Caton's court. If the jury finds he made the assault with a knife on Ortega, as the state alleges it will prove, the defendant will then have been convicted of three felonies—enough to qualify him as an habitual criminal under the laws of Texas. And conviction on an habitual criminal carries an automatic sentence of life imprisonment. Ortega is the state's first witness.

Marquez, who has lived in Big Spring most of his life, sat stolidly at the defense table slouched deep in his chair. His eyes were focussed on his hands and he paid little attention to the proceedings in the court.

RECORD SUMMED UP

Guilford Jones, district attorney, told the jury that Marquez had been convicted in February, of theft and granted a probation sentence. This sentence, the state attorney said, had been set aside and the youthful defendant had been found guilty of burglary. That was Sept. 21, 1959. Now, Jones said, he stands before the bar on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

John Richard Coffee is attorney for Marquez. The jury was selected at 10:30 a.m. and the remainder of the panel excused to go home until 9 a.m. Thursday.

The jurors trying Marquez are: George Amos, R. A. Davis, M. O. Roberts, Roy Dunlap, Thomas Vernon Swafford, E. T. White, J. W. Woods, Mrs. Alton E. Underwood, J. T. Knowles, L. K. Nichols, Wayne Morris and Mrs. A. R. Kimble.

GUILTY PLEAS

Eight pleas of guilty were accepted by the court Monday but not a single defendant was ordered taken to the state prison. All were granted probation or suspended sentences.

Last defendant to be sentenced was Ramona Saldana. She was charged with possession of narcotics paraphernalia—a charged metal cap off a cold drink bottle, an eye dropper and the needle portion of a hypodermic syringe. These items were found in her purse in a room at the Wyoming Hotel, where she had been living with a man named Rodriguez.

She was sentenced to five years and the sentence probated. Gil Jones, district attorney, told her the only reason she was not facing trial before a jury and a probable term of 25 years in prison was that he was convinced the man in the case was the true offender and that the grand jury did not indict the man.

COURT WARNING

The court warned her that the sentence could be anything from 2 years to life and sought to impress her with the importance of obeying to the letter the terms of her probation.

Other pleas of guilty included Ronald Gene Murphy, forgery. He was given a four-year probation sentence with the stipulation that he repay $390.63—the amount of the checks he forged and cashed here—within 18 months. He told the court he had a job paying him $310 per month salary and pledged he would pay off the checks.

C. C. Briggs, charged with writing a worthless check, drew a probation three year sentence and a fine of $1 with a requirement that he repay $231.48 in six months.

B. L. Phillips, charged with writing a worthless check, was found guilty and granted a three year probation sentence.

David Campos, indicted on two charges of burglary, was given a five year probation sentence. In his case, excellent work by the city police department identification officer Stanley Tropashka in identifying the suspect from one fingerprint drew commendatory comment from Jones.

Robert Arnold pleaded guilty to a forgery charge and was given three years probation and a requirement that he repay $150 to the persons who were frauded by the checks.

River C. Williams charged with burglary, was slated to go to trial but changed his mind and pleaded guilty. He was given a three year probation sentence.

Earlier Monday Jimmy Roger Wallace, charged in two counts with leaving the scene of an accident, pleaded guilty and drew a two-year suspended sentence. He agreed to pay the victim of his misdriving the costs of their hospitalization and damage to their cars in a week's time.

Roy Russell, indicted as a DWI second offender, had his case reduced from a felony to a simple DWI—a misdemeanor. He will be brought before the county court for trial.

Three bond forfeitures were ordered when defendants docketed for trial failed to show up.

George Curry, habitual criminal, was one; Bishop B. Johnson, DWI second, was another, and Joe Pat Anders, burglary, the third.

Living Costs Unchanged At August's Record Level

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs remained unchanged in August at the record level set in July.

Prices for food, housing, medical care and personal care all averaged unchanged for the month.

Higher costs for used cars and gasoline and for reading and recreation items were balanced out by the usual late summer drop in clothing prices due to end of season sales.

The Labor Department index of consumer prices was 105.5 per cent of the 1957-59 average, the same level as reported for July.

Compared with a year ago, consumer prices are 1.2 per cent higher.

On the former base of 1947-49, the August index was 129.4. Wage rates of some labor contracts are tied to this "old index."

Soviet Union To Build Fishing Port In Cuba

Location Not Immediately Told

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro announced today the Soviet Union plans to build a major port in Cuba as a base for its Atlantic fishing fleet.

Castro, addressing his nation on television after signing a contract for the port with Soviet Fisheries Minister A. A. Ishkov, said the port will cost 12 million pesos.

The cost will be met by the Soviet Union, Castro said, through a "credit" to finance purchase of the necessary machinery to operate the port. It will be built by Cuban laborers with Cuban material, the prime minister said, and the nation will be compensated for this contribution by additional food shipments from the Soviet Union.

Castro said, however, the port actually will belong to Cuba and will be operated by Cuban workers.

The prime minister did not announce the location of the port immediately. Indications have been reported that the Castro government plans to build a naval base at Banes on Cuba's north-east coast about 80 miles north of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Castro said the port will be constructed and used by Russia under a 10-year contract. However, he referred to the pact as a mere formality.

"It surely will continue much longer than 10 years," he said.

The peso is regarded on a par with the U.S. dollar by the Castro government. However, foreign exchange brokers in Miami give about 16 U.S. cents for a Cuban peso. It was not known which standard Castro was using when he referred to the port as a 12-million-peso installation.

Senate Panel Kills Steel Contempt Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee squelched today its antitrust subcommittee's contempt of Congress charges against four steel companies and nine of their top executives.

The 9 to 5 vote was a clear-cut victory for the steel firms in refusing to comply with subpoenas from the antitrust subcommittee for detailed figures on their costs of production.

The companies—Bethlehem, Republic, National and Armco—contended that disclosure of the information would give competitors, both at home and abroad, an unfair competitive advantage.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., had announced in advance that he was opposed to the subcommittee's effort to press contempt charges.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., subpoenaed the data last April after the announcement of a $6-a-ton steel price increase, later rescinded under pressure from President Kennedy.

After the four companies refused to comply, the subcommittee subpoenaed nine of their officers to appear and produce the records.

The executives failed to show up and Kefauver's subcommittee, by a 5-2 vote, accused them of contumacious conduct and asked the full Judiciary Committee to recommend to the Senate that they be cited for contempt of Congress.

County Gets Light Soaking By Showers

Showers, which produced only a smattering of moisture but made the countryside appear drearily soaked, began falling on most parts of the county around 5 a.m. today.

They were still in progress—an intermittent basis—at 11 a.m. The U. S. Experiment Station, north of town, had gauged .07 of an inch of rain at 8 a.m. Other parts of town seem to have about the same volume.

Texas Electric Service Co., switching and downtown plants, said not enough moisture had fallen at 8 a.m. for gauges to register. Snyder TESCO plant had reported rain in that area at .07 of an inch. Chalk, in the lower southeast corner of the county, had only a trace.

The fact that the rains did not build up was now viewed with regret by the farmers. They do not need additional rain at this time and would prefer that the skies stayed clear for some weeks. They want late blooming cotton to have every opportunity to mature and cool rainy days will not help this aim at all.

Other cotton, now opening or already open, suffers from rains. The work of picking is halted and if the moisture holds, the lint becomes stained which means a decrease in the price paid for the staple.

Ranchers had no quarrel with the light rains. They were helpful to pasture lands. However, neither ranchers nor farmers have any immediate need for additional moisture—the heavy rains earlier in the month had soaked the land to full adequacy for present needs.

Of course, here in town, homeowners were appreciative. The showers will be beneficial to lawns and flowers.

Meantime, the skies remained heavily overcast. The temperature was 64 degrees at 8 a.m. at the experiment station and had not climbed much higher by noon.

Some light runoff developed in the gutters of sloping streets during the showers. Raincoats were abundant on the streets and windshield wipers on most cars got a good workout.

Goldberg Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee approved today President Kennedy's nomination of Arthur J. Goldberg to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Reported Crashed Plane

Heroic Story Told In Airliner Ditching

LONDON (AP)—American servicemen and their dependents calmly went through a "ditching drill" as their Flying Tiger airliner plunged into the stormy Atlantic.

The heroic story of courage in the last fateful moments before the crash landing of the Super Constellation in darkness Sunday night was told today by some of the 48 survivors—44 men and four women.

Twelve of the 76 persons aboard the four-engine chartered airliner are known dead. Bodies of 10 men and two women were recovered.

Sixteen, including two children, are missing.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said at noon: "There is little hope that any more survivors will be found unless a raft is remaining afloat somewhere."

The captain of the plane—described as a hero by other survivors—said his crew of eight and the 66 passengers were brave and magnificent when he told them he had to ditch.

There was no panic and this averted a greater loss of life.

Survivors aboard the Canadian aircraft carrier Bonaventure and the tiny Swiss freighter Celerina told of the last minutes as the plane dropped toward the tossing waves 500 miles west of Ireland.

"Ditching drill, advice and a running commentary were given to the passengers during those last few hideous moments before impact," a radio report from the Bonaventure said.

"This was believed to have been given by the navigator of the aircraft whose position reporting, incidentally, was proved excellent. As a result of this briefing, survivors and those bodies recovered were all wearing life jackets."

The crew of the Celerina risked death to rescue the survivors from rafts in the storm-tossed Atlantic. One crewman was reported injured.

A helicopter from the Canadian aircraft carrier made 13 trips Monday "under the most difficult conditions"—a radio message said—to land medical supplies.

Cotton Escrow Vote Scheduled

AUSTIN (AP) — Rio Grande Valley farmers will vote Friday whether to continue a cotton escrow program which State Agriculture Commissioner John White says was very successful in 1962.

White said approximately $3,120,000 in escrow funds was collected during the 1962 harvest season on 420,000 bales of cotton.

The escrow program, initiated by the farmers, provided funds for a general cleanup in the valley area and helped halt the pink bollworm threat. Under the plan, each grower in the lower valley pink bollworm control zone deposits money in escrow to insure proper stalk destruction after harvesting is completed. This prevents a buildup in pink bollworm infestation.

Four Men Die In 2-Car Crash

WACO (AP)—Four Negro men were killed in a two-car collision west of Waco on U.S. 84 today.

Three persons were injured. Investigators said six construction workers, five of them Negroes, were in one car. In the other auto was a white woman, Diane Hyman, 20, of Hewitt, near Waco.

Officers said three of the victims were killed outright. A fourth died at a Waco hospital.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor is expected to enter a plea today for Senate restoration of the funds chopped by the House for the administration's foreign aid money bill.

Rusk, Gromyko Plan Parley

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk was expected to tell Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today that shipment of Soviet arms and technicians to Cuba is causing serious concern in the United States.

The two diplomats were to meet at a luncheon in Rusk's hotel suite for their first private talks since last July, when they conferred in Geneva during the conference on Laos.

New Trouble

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Mass resignations from the powerful council of admirals confronted President Jose Maria Guido with a new crisis today. The air force, pledged to his support, ordered an alert of all units for new trouble in Argentina.

She finally found Schultz teaching school in Broward County in Florida, under an assumed name. Brent said to his mother, after the judge's decision, "I'm not going anywhere with you, you witch."

Beginning Today, Cubans May Join U.S. Service Units

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Beginning today Cuban refugees may volunteer for special Spanish-speaking units to train for service in the U.S. Army and Navy. Exile leaders urged refugees to join up.

The Defense Department, which announced the program Monday said those who make the grade in basic and advanced training will be given a chance to join the two services.

The plan was set up, said the Pentagon, "in order to assist Cuban refugees in this country to maintain themselves and to employ usefully and further develop their skills and abilities by service in the armed forces."

The program is scheduled to be in full operation at a number of cities within two weeks. The recruiter's doors open today in Coral Gables, just outside this heartland of the refugee colony.

Last week the U.S. government estimated that 147,000 exiles from Fidel Castro's regime have registered in Miami and more are arriving at the rate of 1,600 to 1,800 a week.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., has estimated that there are 75,000 refugees of military age in this country.

For more than a year, the United States has accepted English-speaking Cubans for military service but as of last month only 90 qualified.

In view of this the Defense Department decided to drop the language requirement and set up special units probably to be commanded by Spanish-speaking Americans.

Officials said there is no limit, so far as they know, on the number of Cubans who may sign up.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council appealed to refugees to take advantage of the program.

The council, largest of the anti-Castro groups, said arrangements for the special training school were completed after a conference Monday between its president, Dr. Jose Miró Cardona, and Pentagon officials in Washington.

Another exile group, Alpha 66, which recently shelled merchant vessels off Cuba, expressed support for the plan.

But the nine-member Cuban Revolutionary Junta does not approve. Its spokesman, Rogelio Cisneros, said the group "is in disagreement with the mass recruiting of the Cuban refugees and considers it a mistake."

CAN SIN

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher
Church of Christ, 3000 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1382

Even the best Christian can, and does, sin. The Apostle John included himself when he said, "If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us" (1 John 1:8).

Of course, the Christian can get forgiveness. "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (1 John 1:9).

What if a Christian does not confess his sins? He is not forced to; he is a creature of free choice. Is it possible for a Christian to commit murder? If so, he can be lost; for we are told that "no murderer has eternal life abiding in him." If it is not possible for the Christian to murder, then the laws of the land should exempt any accused Christian from trial, and free him without hearing.

Who would deny that it is possible for a Christian to hate his brother? If it is possible for him to hate, it is possible for him to become lost. "Whoever hateth his brother is a murderer; and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him." (1 John 3:15). —Adv.

Minkus Publications has just released three new albums designed for young collectors. The Minkus "United States Stamp Album" provides space for regular postal issues, commemoratives and airmails. The Minkus "World Stamp Album," which has spaces for more than 4,300 stamps, represents 420 stamp-issuing countries. The Minkus "Guide to Stamp Collecting" tells youngsters or those beginning a collection how to start and what to do. All three new albums cost $1 each.

Republic of South Africa has announced two commemorative postage stamps paying tribute to the unveiling of the precinct stone of the British Settlers Monument at Grahamstown. The stamps portray the ship "Chapman." This ship arrived in Algoa Bay on April 10, 1820, bringing the first of a large group of settlers from Britain.

Two nations, Eire and Luxembourg, have announced issuance of stamps honoring Europa. The designs are the same for each country featuring the "Europa Tree." Collectors desiring special first day covers of the Eire stamps may write to Irish Cachet Covers, 947 E. 32nd St., Brooklyn 16, N. Y. The cost of a complete set on cover is $1.

First Cold Front Crawls Over Texas

By The Associated Press

The season's first cold front crawled relentlessly southeastward across Texas Tuesday dropping temperatures and touching off rain showers.

A tropical disturbance that pushed into Lower California and spread over Arizona and New Mexico and parts of West Texas is responsible for the moisture and accompanying cool temperatures.

Early Monday the northern Panhandle was hit by rainstorms that were general over the area, but measuring less than an inch in most areas.

By Tuesday morning the front had moved across North Texas past a line from Sherman to Abilene and westward. Showers were reported at many West Texas and Panhandle points.

Temperatures north of the front were in the middle and lower 60s, while those ahead of the front were in the 70s.

Forecasts called for clear to partly cloudy skies ahead of the front. Considerable cloudiness was expected along and north of the front.

The cool air mass is expected to push southward to a line from the Big Bend country to East Central Texas by Wednesday.

Weather Bureau forecasters said it is expected to be cooler north of the front with readings in the 70s and lower 80s, while temperatures south of the front are expected to be mostly in the upper 80s and 90s.

By Wednesday the West Texas area is expected to clear as the front moves across the state.

The speech was billed in advance as filling in details of the national charter he announced last May. In that charter he promised to broaden his regime through collective leadership, free elections and an equitable distribution of wealth.

It was the broadest overhaul of government machinery since Nasser and his band of young officers sent King Farouk from the throne into exile with the coup of 1952.

Sabry was appointed head of a new Executive Council which collectively will assume executive power, Nasser said. In effect, this makes Sabry prime minister and chief of government.

Also created, however, was a presidency council headed by Nasser to have responsibility for policy and over-all planning.

The Executive Council decisions will be collective and Sabry will be unable to act on his sole authority, Nasser emphasized.

Schirra Will Take Pictures Of The Earth

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. will be taking pictures of the earth, hunting rare types of cosmic rays, and checking on how much the earth's atmosphere reduces light during his scheduled six-orbit flight Oct. 3.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration Manned Spacecraft Center here said Monday Schirra will devote a considerable amount of time to making color photographs of the earth for NASA's Goddard (Md.) Space Flight Center.

"Goddard scientists are interested in color photography of folded mountains (a type of range), fault zones, volcanic fields, meteor impacts and glaciers," NASA officials said.

The cosmic ray experiment will require no effort from Schirra. Scientists will attach packs of sensitive emulsions to each side of the flight couch. It is hoped certain rays about which little is known will strike the packs and leave impressions.

The experiment with light will be an effort to determine how much light filters through the earth's atmosphere and how well the astronaut can see at night.

Three high-intensity flares will be lighted at Woomera, Australia, and electric lamps of three million candlepower will be displayed at Durban, South Africa. Schirra will have a photometer to measure the intensity of the light he sees.

Schirra will handle most of the light sighting and photographic assignments during his second through fifth orbits when he is not expected to be too busy controlling his ship, NASA officials said.

First Family Has Box Seats At 'President' Show

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Kennedy have box seats tonight to see a benefit preview of the new musical "Mr. President," depicting the life of a fictional chief executive and his family.

The benefit will raise more than $70,000 for a favorite Kennedy family charity—two centers that provide care and research for mentally retarded children.

A glittering audience of more than 1,650 from Washington and New York, including diplomats, socialites and politicians, will see the new show which brought songwriter Irving Berlin out of retirement.

Kennedy, his wife and mother, Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, will share their box with soon-to-retire Colombian Ambassador Carlos Sanz de Santamaria and his wife; Alice Longworth, daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt and Washington artist William Walton, a longtime friend of the Kennedys.

The 600 persons who bought $100 tickets to the benefit got special invitations to buffet suppers being given before the show by 15 prominent Washington hostesses, among them Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wife of the vice president, and Cabinet wives.

"Mr. President," with songs by Berlin, book by Russel Crouse and Howard Lindsay and starring Robert Ryan and Nanelle Fabray, is on its way to a Broadway opening Oct. 18. It's already a sellout for its forthcoming three-week stand at Washington's National Theater.

Patient, 104, 'Doing Fine' After Surgery

NEW YORK (AP)—The gall bladder surgery was the first operation the patient had ever had. It was successful. The healing was normal. Recovery was according to schedule.

The operation was routine in all respects but one—the patient was 104 years old.

Doctors at the Brooklyn Hebrew Home and Hospital for the Aged said Monday the patient, Sarah Perler, is "doing fine" and that her recovery from the operation was "even faster than in some younger patients."

The physicians said they have found no reports in recent American medical literature of major abdominal surgery in a patient of such an advanced age.

Mrs. Perler was born in Eastern Europe three years before the start of the American Civil War and emigrated to the United States in 1920. Twice married and widowed, she has two surviving sons, both in their 70s, three grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

The woman, described by a spokesman as "lively, alert and extremely interested in things," entered the home in 1957, joining about 1,000 other old folks whose average age is 83.

Recently, Mrs. Perler developed symptoms of acute abdominal distress, and doctors recommended emergency surgery. It was performed Aug. 27, and an acutely inflamed gall bladder, containing numerous stones, was incised and drained.

The patient was kept under supervision for only two weeks, after which she was returned to her regular room.

A spokesman for the home said, "The day after the operation, her only complaint was that she wasn't getting enough to eat."

"Since returning to her room she's been walking around and talking with great animation to her nurses and her roommate—who is only in her 80s."

"After 104 years," the spokesman commented, "Mrs. Perler finally has an operation to talk about."

In 2 Months, Mariner II Will Reach Space Milestone

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Two months from today, if all goes well, U.S. space scientists will chalk up another first—talking with a spacecraft over the longest distance yet.

On Nov. 25 the Venus-bound Mariner 2 will pass the 22½-million mile mark, the point at which the now-silent sun satellite Pioneer 5, launched March 3, 1959, stopped sending radio signals back to the earth.

Mariner 2, launched last Aug. 27, is scheduled to fly within 9,000 miles of Venus on Dec. 14. At that time it will be 36 million miles from earth.

How is it possible to talk over such distances — especially since scientists sometimes have trouble communicating between points on earth just a few thousand miles apart?

The answer is two-fold. First, the earth-to-earth signals have to travel most of the way through atmospheric interference. Earth-to-space signals are above the atmosphere after traveling less than 20 miles.

Second, Mariner 2 scientists are using incredibly powerful radios. John Thatcher, research engineer at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory where Mariner 2 was made, draws these parallels:

The television antenna on your roof weighs perhaps 20 pounds. Mariner 2 scientists use dish-shaped antennas 85 feet in diameter and weighing over 200 tons. There are three of them, at Goldstone, Calif., 200 miles northeast of Los Angeles, at Johannesburg, South Africa, and at Woomera, Australia. One of them always has the spacecraft in direct "sight."

Your television antenna probably cost between $5 and $50. Each of the three stations tracking Mariner 2 cost about $5 million.

The antennas at Goldstone, Johannesburg and Woomera can amplify the Mariner 2's signals 32,000 times.

At 1 a.m. today Mariner 2 was 4,647,576 miles distant, sending back signals that say all its instruments are operating properly.

On Dec. 14 earth scientists will send signals starting a new set of instruments to measure electronically Venus' temperature, atmospheric content and magnetic field.

These instruments will operate for only 30 minutes, but it will

Shell Makes Stock Offer

The board of directors for Shell Oil Co. has authorized distribution to shareholders of all stock held by it in Shell Oil Co. of Canada, Ltd.

Distribution will be made Nov. 1 to Shell shareholders of record at the close of business Oct. 8. It will be at the rate of one voting Class "A" common share of Shell of Canada for each five shares of Shell Oil Company common stock outstanding on the record date. The public will then hold about 17½ per cent of the equity of Shell of Canada. The rest will be held by various companies of the Royal Dutch-Shell group.

The main reason for the action is to enable Shell of Canada to comply with the policy of the Canadian government that Canadian citizens be given the opportunity to participate directly in the equity investment in enterprises engaged in the development of Canadian natural resources.

The Internal Revenue Service has ruled this is not a taxable distribution of income for U.S. income tax purposes. Detailed information is being mailed to Shell stockholders.

New Spacecraft In Public Debut

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A full-scale model of the Surveyor, an unmanned spacecraft designed to precede American astronauts to the moon and send data back to earth, had its first public showing Sunday.

The Surveyor was on display at the Houston International Trade and Travel Fair. More than 20,000 persons viewed the spider-like model.

Plans of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration call for seven Surveyors to be positioned on the moon. Each will contain television cameras which will send pictures and data back to earth.

Drills will be electronically actuated to probe 18 to 60 inches into the moon's crust. Fragments picked up by the drills will be distributed to various instruments inside the unit for analysis.

Mrs. Fay Newman Is First With Recipes

First recipes were submitted Monday for a special collection of family favorites to be published by The Herald next month. These came from Mrs. Fay Newman, 1809 Mittel, who submitted entries in three divisions. One of these was in tribute to the memory of a sister, "Miss Ina" who had a wide reputation as the maker of a coconut cake. The recipe collection, to be titled "Tastes O' Texas" will include seven different categories: salad, bread or rolls, main dish, vegetable, cake or pie, one-dish, and general desserts. A $10 cash award will be made to the first place recipe in each of these classifications, then there will be a grand award of $100 cash to the top recipe of all divisions. Experts in the home economics field will do the judging. Women (men, too!) are invited to send in their recipes right away. Original, or family favorites are required—with no prepared mix or box-top types accepted. Entries should follow this format: Division being entered, name of dish, list of ingredients in order they are to be used, complete cooking instructions, full name and complete address. Recipes must be typed or printed. All of them will be printed in a special supplement of The Herald, and will find a wide readership. Several hundred entries are expected. If you want to join the fun and perhaps win some money, send your recipe in right away!

'ROUND TOWN With LUCILLE PICKLE

All you women who swap ideas and new original recipes for the family table, STOP! — Don't tell another soul... Copy the recipes and enter them in the new Tastes O' Texas contest. Send your best recipe for anything in all the categories and it just might be that you'll win the big prize; if not the big one, perhaps one of the numerous small ones. Anyway, the contest for unusual and favorite recipes is fun and when they are all put together in one big cookbook you won't run out of ideas for a while. Already there is a contestant. Rules are in the Newman story on this page today.

Hose Hues Are Exotic

The oddest hosiery shades yet will be shimmering on the legs of women this winter, particularly women with heavy legs. One new hue is an exotic blend of black and red. Another is a mixture of brown and green. And still another shade is a brown and black combination. The dark shades are slimming in appearance.

What kind of stockings do you wear under the new shoe boots? For city boots (those with heels) wear walking sheer nylons with a ventilated foot. For dress-up boots (those in lace, beads, lame, etc. for evening wear) put on sheer seamless hosiery with a cotton sole. For knee-high boots (lined with wool or orlon) wear bright hued casual socks. For unlined boots use thick, wooly golf socks. For cold weather boots keep warm with hip-toe tights in bright autumn hues or black.

Prepare remaining pancake batter and apples the same way, adding butter to skillet as needed. Sprinkle with sugar before serving. Makes 4 servings—2 large pancakes per portion.

Where Does All That Money Go?

How did Mom spend an average $20 bill at the grocery store last year? Quickly, says Food Topics, a leading food trade journal in its 15th annual survey of consumer grocery store expenditures. The September survey reveals that the American housewife spent 3.8 per cent more in the super market in 1961 than in the previous year. In all, she spent a total of $20,290,000,000 in the nation's grocery stores. Sales of food and grocery items were up 2.8 per cent, and Mom spent the greater amount of her $20 bill on them: $10.54 for perishables, $8.13 for dry groceries. The survey shows that Mom's beginning to buy more and more of her non-food items at the grocery store — hair sprays, lipsticks, and even Pop's razor blades. Sales of non-food items were up 19.1 per cent last year. For the reducer or weight watcher in the family, housewives bought metered calorie products—the amazing amount of 262.4 per cent more than in 1960.

Quiet Drama As Kin Awaited News Of Ditched Airliner

By The Associated Press
There were tears of joy and tears of sorrow. Prayers of thanks and even some misgiving. And through it all was the waiting.

That's how it was throughout the nation today as relatives of the 76 persons aboard a ditched Flying Tiger airliner received the news of how their next-of-kin had fared in the Atlantic crash off Ireland Sunday.

Robert Elander of Seattle, Wash., whose son, Maj. Carl R. Elander, survived the crash, heard that doctors were helping the injured. "That was the straw

I kept hanging to," said the father.

In Fort Walton Beach, Fla., the mother and three brothers of Pvt. Larry Neville stayed at home Monday, waiting, praying and hoping. Then a daughter in Pittsburgh got word from a radio station that Larry was saved. "That part of our waiting was over," said Larry's mother, Mrs. Harold Neville. "We still don't know if he's hurt or anything, but at least he's alive."

For Mrs. Ernest L. Wilson of New Orleans "it was such an awful strain" all day while awaiting news on the fate of her sergeant-husband. One of their daughters, expecting a child, was kept from the fact that her father was aboard the crashed airliner. Then came the moment of relief: He had lived to tell about it.

In Russellville, Ark., too, Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Thornsberry "waited for word all day." Then it came, that their son, Gordon, an Army private, was rescued.

"My wife and I believe something greater than human beings took part in this," said the elder Thornsberry. But the wait was not over. "I'd give anything to know how he's doing, if he's injured," the father said.

A note of irony tinged the news that James E. Garrett Jr., flight engineer on the stricken plane, perished. In South Norfolk, Va., his father recalled that Garrett had gone to work only temporarily for the Flying Tiger line when he and other flight engineers for Eastern Air Lines went on strike.

Still in critical condition Monday night was Juan R. Onticeros, 20. His home town was not immediately known. He was in Ft. Hood hospital.

Bracero List Grows Shorter

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Braceros going to the United States may be only half the number four years ago, the government said Monday.

Slightly more than 150,000 men had gone up to last month. Officials said it appeared only 40,000 or 50,000 more men would go.

The 1959 total was nearly 400,000. The number has dropped steadily since then with last year's total 310,000.

DEAR ABBY

All Dollars, No Sense

DEAR ABBY: I was a widow for 15 years, then I met a man who had wealth and social position. After going together for a year we were married. Everyone "ooohed" and "aahed" over how lucky I was to get him. He promised me everything. No more going to the office (I was a secretary) and we would just travel, have a lovely apartment and enjoy life. Well, instead, he moved into my home and I haven't missed a day's work in six years. I come home every evening and make supper. I spent Saturday and Sunday doing the laundry and marketing. I have not seen one cent of his money, and he has plenty of it. Whenever I hear about women marrying millionaires I laugh to myself. I married one and life hasn't changed for me. I tell people I work just to keep busy.

STUCK
DEAR STUCK: It is a man's obligation to support his wife. After six years, don't you think you ought to review the bidding? Could it be that he felt you married him for his dollars? Otherwise, it doesn't make sense.

DEAR ABBY: All I can find in the stores today are snippy, soured clerks who try to rush you into buying something. Whatever happened to all those nice old sales ladies who invited the customers to take their time and look over all the merchandise?

SHOPPER
DEAR SHOPPER: They all died of overwork trying to get their stock back in order.

DEAR ABBY: I have gone with this young man about five months. I have only one thing against him. He sleeps too much. Whenever we go to a movie, he falls asleep right away. He even sleeps through church services. It is very embarrassing to see a young man sleeping all over the girl he's with. I have never known a person who could fall asleep so fast. When we are at my home in the evening, I can't even hold a con-

Demos Predict Good Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and his party leaders in the Senate and House made separate predictions today that the Congress session now nearing its end will produce an impressive record.

The Democratic congressional leaders, House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts and Senate Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, got together on a forecast that adjournment will come between the middle and end of next week.

Kennedy made his assessment in remarks to members of the Burros' Club, an organization of administrative assistants to Democratic Congress members.

Mansfield and McCormack set out their views in talking with newsmen after the leaders' weekly breakfast session with the President. At about the same time Kennedy was receiving 150 of the Burros in the White House rose garden just outside his office.

The President told the congressional aides that Congress by adjournment time will have written one of the most impressive records since World War I and they have "every reason to be satisfied" with the progress the party legislative program has made.

"It is a record on which the members of the House and one-third of the Senate can run in November," Kennedy said.

He shook hands with dozens of the visitors and told them that "all of us who hold elective office are only as good as our assistants."

Hearing Consultant

Mrs. Mildred Smith is the manager and certified hearing aid consultant at the Hearing Aid Center, 602 Permian Building. She displays various types of aids that can be purchased or leased from the firm. The machine is the audiometer used to test and measure the degree of hearing deficiency. These exams are given absolutely free to anyone upon request.

Hearing Aid Center In Permian Building

According to Mrs. Mildred Smith, hers is one of the most satisfying jobs in Big Spring. Mrs. Smith is manager of the Hearing Aid Center located in Room 602 of the Permian Building. She has continued to guide the firm's services since its opening and feels that she has won many new friends in this area. "It means a great deal to people who take advantage of a hearing aid's help to know that there is someone from our office ready to service those aids at all times," says Mrs. Smith. A certified consultant on hearing aids, Mrs. Smith holds the view that most everyone who has a hearing loss can be helped with a dependable aid developed by a reputable manufacturer.

At the Hearing Aid Center, Mrs. Smith will give a complete audiometer exam free to anyone upon request. She urges those who know or suspect that they have a hearing deficiency to come in at any time or call for an appointment. These exams are given in complete confidence and privacy. For those who may be hesitant or otherwise unable to make the trip to town, Mrs. Smith will make home calls after regular office hours. The audiometer will correctly reveal the amount of hearing loss and the customer can be properly fitted with one of several types of aids. One of the most popular is the eye glass model with frames of shape and color to flatter the face of the wearer. Another is the tiny "behind-the-ear" model which is practically invisible when used by men and can be hidden completely by a woman's hair. Many people prefer the small type with a concealed box which is worn in the ear. This is perhaps used by more people than any other model. A newer development is the "bone" type hearing aid which is also worn in the hair. Any of these hearing aids can be purchased from the Hearing Aid Center on a budget plan. If a purchase is not desirable, the firm has a plan under which aids may be leased. These aids have the same guarantee of trouble-free service that is offered with those that are sold. During the guarantee period, (one and two years) if the aid is faulty it is repaired or replaced without charge. For consultation or appointment, Mrs. Smith may be reached at AM 3-6383.

Popular Place

Long a popular dining spot for local residents, the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, 803 E. 3rd, also attracts many tourists who appreciate fine food and quick service.

Wagon Wheel Is Popular Big Spring Restaurant

Long recognized as one of the better restaurants in Big Spring, the Wagon Wheel has become a gathering place for businessmen, service clubs and women's organizations alike who wish to meet in private for dinner affairs. Two private dining rooms at the restaurant are made available for such groups and may be reserved in advance by a phone call to manager E. L. Terry. For these dinners, a menu can be decided upon earlier when fast service is desired or a la carte orders may be taken if preferred. Dinner waitresses are well-trained to give quiet, unobtrusive service that will not disturb a program or speaker. Robert Lee, well known local chef, has been with the Wagon Wheel Restaurant for over 10 years and has had a large part in establishing its reputation for fine food. He takes care in the selection of meats, vegetables and fruits purchased for his use and sees that all their goodness is preserved during preparation for serving. Specialties of the sparkling kitchen include charcoal broiled steak, Mexican dinners and "broasted chicken". The broasting style of cookery was introduced locally by Terry and quickly became popular because it takes only a few minutes to prepare. The "businessmen's lunch" is an appetizing and nourishing combination that is the lunch hour answer for the many men and women who take their noon meal downtown. For those who must eat in a hurry, sandwiches and sweet snacks of all kinds can be served quickly. The first major inside remodeling was completed at the Wagon Wheel last year. The dining room is now a light beige with accents of green, rose and yellow. Modernistic chairs and tables are constructed of walnut wood and cream leatherette upholstery. Artificial greenery and subdued lighting combine with soft music to provide a pleasant dining atmosphere. For dinner with the family or a quick cup of coffee with friends, you are always welcome at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, 803 E. Third.

State National Offers Many Bank Services

Personalized checks, without charge, are one of the many extra services made available to patrons of the State National Bank.

These checks, with name imprinted, help in identifying customers so that their checks are more readily cashed in places of business both at home and when traveling.

Customers at State National are used to being provided with this and many other courteous services that assist them in banking transactions. As pioneers among banking institutions of the Southwest, the officers and staff at State National are anxious to assist in the growth of Big Spring and the surrounding areas.

The directors of the bank continue to look forward and encourage the expansion of business and industry. This expansion usually requires banking assistance or counseling from men who keep up with financial trends all over the country. The State National Bank staff is active in this respect, especially in the field of agriculture which is important to the economy of this section.

Local farmers and ranchers often rely on the advice of bank personnel before obtaining loans to help increase herds or expand farming operations. A bank representative spends several days each week visiting the rural areas to talk with these patrons.

Being located in the heart of the business district, the institution is also a great help to the businessman who is welcome to stop by at any time during bank hours to take advantage of the convenient facilities near his location.

Drive-in windows provide the same services offered inside.

Depositors may feel secure in the knowledge that the bank is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and all deposits are insured up to $10,000.

Officers Are Wounded Trying To Control Mob

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A shotgun blast fired from the darkness early today wounded three St. Louis County police officers who were trying to disperse an unruly, excited crowd of some 300 persons in suburban Kinloch. A civilian was wounded.

The crowd was protesting the killing Sunday of a man by a Kinloch policeman.

Flareups of violence have been occurring ever since the shooting in the predominantly Negro community of 8,500. Both the man killed and the policeman were Negroes.

Fires were set Monday night and early today in several vacant buildings, a school, and a new home being built by the Kinloch chief of police as the mob got out of hand.

Police questioned more than 70 persons and gave three lie-detector tests following the shooting. All were released.

A blaze in the home of Kinloch Chief Roosevelt Hoskins was extinguished before it caused serious damage.

But a five-room frame wing of Dunbar grade school burned out and there was no school today for 1,000 children.

None of the three wounded officers, patrolmen Billy Rushing, 33, Hugh Hodges, 26, and Kenneth Armstead, 29, was critically injured. Rushing returned to duty. The others remained in County Hospital under observation. All are white.

Kinloch Mayor Clarence Lee said "growing unrest and even hatred" because of the killing of Darnell Dortch, 20, by a Kinloch patrolman, Israel Mason, 74, touched off the violence.

Mason, suspended pending a coroner's investigation, said he was trying to subdue Dortch and his gun went off accidentally. The officer said Dortch had refused to accept a careless driving warrant.

The officers who were wounded had been summoned to aid the seven-man Kinloch force in dispersing a mob that gathered at a drive-in cafe near the Kinloch police station.

At times the mob chanted: "We want Mason!"

Throughout the night, Kinloch volunteer firemen answered fire calls and put each blaze out, even saving the main brick building of the grade school. The fires, authorities said, were the work of arsonists.

The three wounded officers were among some 85 sent to the mob scene. Armstead is a canine corps officer and his dog, Ike, was slightly wounded by the shotgun pellets.

But that ended the mob scene. Officers separated groups of persons, mostly young Negro men, into groups of 10 and 25, questioned them and then let them go in twos and threes to their homes.

This morning, the town was silent. A few people looked out windows and some stood in doorways, but the streets were clear.

Five county police cars, carrying 15 officers patrolled the streets.

The first flareup of violence was two quick shotgun blasts fired through a window of the Kinloch police station Monday. No one was hurt.

Mayor Lee has called an emergency meeting of the Board of Aldermen for tonight and a curfew on persons under 21 goes into effect at 10 p.m.

'White' Negro Once Attended Mississippi U.

NEW YORK (AP)—A fair-complexioned Negro who passes for white has disclosed he spent nine months as a student at the all-white University of Mississippi in 1945-46.

"Right now," he said today, "they're fighting a battle they don't know they lost years ago."

Harry S. Murphy Jr., 35, was referring to the current battle over admitting James H. Meredith, 29, a Negro, to Ole Miss.

Murphy, a native of Atlanta, where his father is in the printing business, is doing similar work in New York where he has lived the past nine years.

The New York Times said University of Mississippi files showed that Murphy had been a student there in 1945-46.

Murphy said his race was never questioned when he entered Ole Miss and lived on the Oxford campus as a Navy V-12 student.

Navy records listed him as white or Caucasian, he said, and these were presented to Ole Miss when he registered with others in his V-12 unit.

Reapportionment Of Precincts Asked In Suit

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Mayor H. C. Avery has filed suit demanding a reapportionment of Midland County precincts according to population.

The mayor claims 98 per cent of the voters are in one precinct. Avery took his plea first to the county commissioners court and was turned down there by a vote of 3-2.

He next went into 142nd District Court to make his plea. Points he claimed in his petition included:

1. The county is so malapportioned as to deny him equal protection and due process under the law.
2. That the turnout by the commissioners court be set aside.
3. That the district court appoint a master in chancery to recommend a plan of equal redistricting "on the general principle of substantial numerical equality."

Courthouse observers believe this is the first time that a suit has been filed in Texas asking a reapportionment of precincts.

Avery's petition shows that voters in 1962 numbered 17,811 in Precinct 1, 86 in Precinct 1, 86 in Precinct 2, 151 in Precinct 3 and 136 in Precinct 4.

He said the precincts have not been reapportioned since 1885. Avery said he acted for himself as a private citizen and for others.

Loretta Presents Her New Series

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AT TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Well, those double doors finally opened again after all the months and Loretta Young whirled out and introduced us to her new series.

Miss Young's new CBS show is a continuing story about a widow—played by Miss Young of course—and her seven children. The first show Monday night was amusing and highly improbable but served to introduce the large family. It was played mostly for laughs.

It was a rather pleasant beginning—for the feminine audience, anyway. Miss Young does dress so well.

High point of the evening, however, was "The Road to Button Bay," a warm, loving and brilliantly executed documentary film about last summer's senior Girl Scout roundup in Vermont. Producer Robert Drew chose three girls, every one a charmer, and followed them from their Kansas homes through the entire Girl Scout gathering.

It was a perfectly delightful hour. And what do you know? CBS quietly went ahead and showed it in color.

CBS' other special was "Opening Night," boasting five big stars—Lucille Ball, Jack Benny, Danny Thomas, Andy Griffith and Garry Moore. Unfortunately they had pretty feeble comedy material but tried valiantly for laughs. It was actually less a variety hour than a pump-priming operation. All the stars have a sponsor in common and the sponsor took the occasion to get his five expensive investments off to a good seasonal start with a big television promotion.

If New York City is typical of the rest of the country (and you can start a fight about this on any street corner inside and out of the city) NBC's "Jack Paar Show" and CBS' two-hour report of the opening of Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts whopped the network opposition over the weekend.

CBS' "College Bowl" had its fall start on Sunday with a new moderator, Robert Earle, who replaced Allen Ludden is an act-alike and a look-alike, except his hair-do. The show zipped along at its usual impressive pace, with some very smart teams from Lafayette and American Universities.

Recommended tonight: "Red Skelton Show," CBS, 8:30-9:30 (EDT)—returning with a new, hour-long program, aided by Harpo Marx; "Empire," premiere, NBC, 8:30-9:30—Richard Egan, Ann Seymour and Terry Moore in a Western with contemporary setting; also returning with new shows, Jack Benny, Dick Powell, Gary Moore, "The Untouchables," "The Ordeal of Woodrow Wilson," special, NBC, 10:30-11—Herbert Hoover comments on the World War I problems of another president.

Park Road Plan Draws Protest

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Highway Commission opened study today of requests for highway and road improvements, one of which drew protests.

Opponents of a proposed park road from Texas 31 east of Malakoff west to Texas 274 north of Trinidad said the cost of construction does not justify the need.

Chinese Claim 3 Soldiers Slain

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China said today Indian troops killed three of its frontier sentries and wounded two officers in an attack on a Chinese guard post in Tibet Monday.

The New China News Agency reported in a broadcast from Peiping that fighting continued this afternoon.
