MORE THAN 100 SENT TO MISSISSIPPI

Marshals, Border Patrolmen Drawn From Texas

McALLEN (AP)—Unofficial reports from U.S. Border Patrol spokesmen today listed as at least 109 the number of known patrolmen airlifted from Texas for possible Mississippi integration duty. The 109 were from the Texas-Mexican border. In addition, at least three U.S. marshals have been sent from Texas. Sources here said it was their understanding that the patrolmen would act as U.S. marshals at the University of Mississippi, where Negro James Meredith seeks to enroll at the all-white school. A source at McAllen said 43 men were sent from his area. A source at Brownsville said 46 were sent from that area. They were flown to Memphis, Tenn., in Border Patrol planes. At Del Rio sources said 20 patrolmen were called individually to Laughlin Air Force Base at

Del Rio with no announced destination. They left in a Border Patrol plane. None of the sources would permit use of their names and referred all other inquiries to the Justice Department in Washington. Other sources said two marshals from San Antonio and one from El Paso were sent to the trouble area. DEL RIO, Tex. (AP)—A Justice Department spokesman in Washington told the Del Rio News Herald today that "several hundred" federal law enforcement officers are being assembled in Memphis, Tenn., for possible use in Mississippi's integration situation. The News Herald said the spokesman was Henry Diamond, assistant to Edwin Guthman, director of public relations for the department. Diamond said the officers were from various branches of the government. The spokesman told the newspaper by long distance telephone that he assumed most of the officers were flown to Memphis.

Barnett Fails To Show For Contempt Case

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi failed to appear as the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals started contempt hearing for him today. The court had directed that the 64-year-old governor—who vows to go to jail rather than integrate the University of Mississippi—appear and show cause why he shouldn't be cited for civil contempt. The trial proceeded without Barnett. Previously court sources said the governor could be tried in absentia since the charge was civil contempt. Barnett has three times defied federal court orders directing that Negro James H. Meredith be enrolled at the 114-year-old all-white state university. Eight of the nine circuit judges were present for the opening of the hearing.

Cross Burns

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A cross burned Thursday night and left a charred mark in the grass in front of the University of Mississippi administration building.

All Preparations Made For Pre-Game Barbecue

Football and barbecue are on the menu for fans tonight as the Big Spring Steers and the Evening Lions Club team up to provide an evening of entertainment. All preparations have been made and ticket sales have been brisk for the annual barbecue which precedes the opening game at Steer Stadium. Tickets will be available at the high school cafeteria for persons who have not been able to purchase them in advance. Serving begins at 5 p.m., and the diners are advised to get out

Ole Miss Citizen Army Disappears

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—The citizen army of Mississippi peace officers disappeared today from the University of Mississippi campus with no indication if this signaled the end of resistance to enrollment of Negro James H. Meredith. Amid mounting federal pressure, reports from good but unofficial sources told of a weekend truce reached between Gov. Ross Barnett and Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy. The Justice Department in Washington quickly denied the reports. But, the Justice spokesman did not confirm or deny that the governor and Atty. Gen. Kennedy talked by telephone Thursday night. During the time this reported agreement was being negotiated, a detachment of Army Engineers moved into Memphis, ready to extend administrative and logistic support to a huge force of U.S. marshals massed at Millington Naval Air Station. All entrances to the wooded Ole Miss campus stood free of blockades by state officers. Only six or seven police cars had been seen on campus by midmorning. Army and Justice Department spokesmen said the 110-man Engineer unit would provide supplies, meals, administrative services and possibly arrange living quarters for the marshals. An Army spokesman emphasized that the Engineers will have absolutely nothing to do with affairs in Mississippi. They will remain at Memphis, 50 miles north of this college town. The Engineers—first federal troops to be ordered to any kind of duty in connection with the defiance of court orders by Mississippi's top officials—arrived at the Memphis Naval Air Station at 3 a.m. after a 200-mile overnight trip from Ft. Campbell, Ky. Their 49-truck convoy included tractor-trailers carrying heavy equipment, tractor-drawn vans, jeeps and other vehicles. CAPACITIES "They have with them the capacity to set up a tent city to furnish bedding, cooking and that type of service for the marshals," said Lt. Col. T. A. Price, deputy commander of operations at Ft. Campbell. Price said the members of the 70th Engineer Battalion, were armed because their maneuver was a mobility exercise. Further moves in the showdown between federal and state authorities over attempts to enroll Negro James H. Meredith at the university were expected momentarily today. Thursday the Justice Department called off a fourth attempt to get Meredith admitted. Both sides said the action probably averted violence and bloodshed. Then the government began enlarging its force of marshals for further action, with Washington announcing that several hundred from around the nation were being sent to Memphis and that the Army Engineers also were being dispatched there. PROCLAMATION Use of federal troops to override state authorities would require a proclamation from President Kennedy. Atty. Gen. Kennedy dramatically halted Meredith's fourth attempt to become the first Negro knowingly admitted the university, saying he feared "major violence and bloodshed for the citizens of Mississippi" would result if U.S. marshals and Meredith appeared on the campus. Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson of Mississippi agreed. An Atlanta television station, WSB-TV, quoted Johnson as saying in an interview Thursday night that "if the state troopers hadn't been at Ole Miss that Negro wouldn't have lasted as long as it takes to aim a shotgun." Johnson estimated a crowd of 5,000 to 8,000 were gathered at the university in anticipation of another appearance by Meredith and told WSB-TV: "You couldn't have turned them back with a regiment of men. A lot of lives were saved by their (federal marshals) not coming."

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Jack Greenberg, said Meredith would not go to Oxford today. The attorney general met earlier with Maj. Gen. Creighton

Lend-Lease Ships Bearing Cuban Cargoes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today that five or possibly six American lend-lease ships sent to Russia during World War II have been used by the Soviet Union in traffic with Cuba. The Soviet Union has 84 U.S. lend-lease merchant ships remaining from the 121 loaned to it under the wartime lend-lease program. None has been paid for. State Department press officer Lincoln White said that "according to information we have, five or possibly six of the lend-lease ships have been used by the U.S.S.R. in the Cuban trade." His news conference statement was in response to a question. White said it was believed that three to four of the ships had engaged in the heavy Soviet buildup of Cuban military supplies which Moscow began last July.

Six In Family Killed By Fire

BEVERLY, Mass. (AP)—Six members of a family perished early today as a windswept fire reduced their 13-room house to ashes. A boy was the only survivor.

Police said the three-story single family house was owned and occupied by William P. Dodd, an attorney for the H. P. Hood & Sons, large New England milk company. Dead were Dodd, 35; his wife, Eunice, 33; and their children, Elizabeth, 8; Susan, 4; Eugene, 2; and William Jr., 10 months. Melvin Dodd, 10, awakened by the flames, jumped out a window to safety. He ran next door to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Clementi and awakened them. Neighbors heard screams from the blazing home but the flames were so intense it was impossible for anyone to get inside.

Texas U. Students Support Meredith

AUSTIN (AP)—The University of Texas student governing body voted 21-8 Tuesday night to endorse James Meredith's fight to enter the University of Mississippi. The student assembly sent Meredith a telegram stating: "We salute your courage and perseverance in facing overwhelming opposition to stand up for your constitutional rights." Another telegram went to the student body of the University of Mississippi. It said: "We sympathize with your problems but also remind you that the preservation of freedom and individual rights is the responsibility of every American."

Visit To U.S.

BERLIN (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt flew off today for a week's visit to the United States and a talk with President Kennedy. "I will discuss Berlin's security needs with complete frankness," Brandt told reporters at the airport.

Radio Contract

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Negotiations between pro-Western Thailand and the United States for construction of a powerful transmitter in northern Thailand to penetrate Red China are expected to start next week, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said today.

On Duty

Helmet liners and night sticks were the order of the day as Mississippi Highway patrolmen gathered at the gate of the University of Mississippi in Oxford anticipating another attempt of a Negro to enroll in the state institution. The patrolmen also carried gas masks in bags worn around their shoulders.

Attorney General, President Stand By For Developments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy canceled a West Coast speaking engagement and President Kennedy left his weekend plans flexible today to stand by for possible new moves in the University of Mississippi desegregation crisis. There was no immediate indication of any White House action to get Negro James H. Meredith enrolled in the face of widespread opposition and threats of violence on the scene. Direct use of Army forces would be a matter for presidential decision. President Kennedy spends almost every weekend out of town—the last few have been at Newport, R.I.—and ordinarily leaves on Fridays. But assistant press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said he will not leave town today. Asked whether the Mississippi situation was responsible for the lack of a decision on the trip this week, Hatcher told reporters: "That's one of the reasons weekend plans are indefinite." Hatcher said the President had been in touch with his brother, the attorney general, today on the Mississippi issue. He said they had talked by telephone only once that he knew of by late morning. In the early afternoon, the Justice Department denied a report from Mississippi that Atty. Gen. Kennedy and Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi had agreed in a telephone exchange to have a weekend truce in the Meredith matter. Information officer Edward Guthman said the department would proceed with its plans, but declined to say what the plans were.

comment when asked whether the 29-year-old Meredith would attempt for a fifth time this week to enroll at the university. Defense sources say the direct use of Army forces in the Mississippi dispute would come only as a last resort but that standby planning has been done on the basis of calling in some 1,500 men. The force would include 500 military police, who could come from Ft. Gordon, Ga.; and 1,000 infantrymen. The latter could be drawn from the infantry center at Ft. Benning, Ga., base from the 2nd Infantry Division and some smaller units.

Publisher Sees Dynamite In Integration Crisis

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A note Georgia publisher says the situation at Oxford, Miss., is such that federal marshals might be fired on and "you will have an armed rebellion against the United States government." Ralph McGill, publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, said in an interview: "Certainly, the United States government will have to move with troops or whatever it takes" to see that a federal court order to admit Negro James Meredith to the University of Mississippi is carried out. McGill was here for a speech to the Louisville Committee on Foreign Relations Thursday.

U.S. Sends Flood Relief To Spain

BARCELONA, Spain (AP)—The United States sped relief to Spain's flood victims today as new rains spread more misery through the ravaged industrial districts around Barcelona. Touting the region stricken by the flash floods of Tuesday night, Capt. Gen. Agustin Munoz-Grandez, vice president of the Franco government, said the death toll may reach 600 or more. It was officially announced 473 bodies have been recovered. More than 300 persons were still listed unofficially as missing. The injured totaled 200. About 1,500 also were reported homeless.

Compromise

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — A retired army colonel, Carlos Alberto Muscio, will be sworn in tonight as chief of Argentina's federal police, a compromise choice in the civilian-military quarrel over police control. U.S. forces at the joint Spanish-American airbase at Zaragoza sent earth-moving equipment to help clear up the rubble. The U.S. Embassy in Madrid sent powdered milk, rice, noodles and other food to Barcelona.

Unusual Record Of Public Service

Thirty-five years ago, a young Big Spring woman began her first day's work as a court house deputy. This week, that same woman is starting on her 36th year of continuous service in the county building. Thirty-four of her 35 years service have been in connection with the administration of the county school system. She is still in that field. Today, Mrs. Loy Acuff (better known around the court house as "Miss Helen") is being congratulated by her friends on her unusual record in public service. Asked if she regarded her employment as permanent, she remarked: "Well, I am not sure. There were many common schools operating when I first began work. Now there are only three left in the county. "The future of two of these is now before the courts and they could vanish from the scene. "I don't know whether you could call the job a permanent one or not." She did say there was a considerable difference in the size of the first pay check she received 35 years ago and the one she will get for her October work this week.

Jewish New Year Services Start Today

Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, will be observed in services starting today at 7:30 p.m. in the chapel at Webb AFB. The rites will usher in the Jewish new year 5723.

A. J. Prager will read the services, assisted by Louis Wolfson, who will read the Hebrew portions of the rites. A second service will be held 10 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday in the chapel.

Rosh Hashanah is a joyous day, a day of feasting and praise.

It will be followed by the Days of Awe, a period leading up to the observance of Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement. These services will be held first at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 7 at the chapel, followed by rites from 10 a.m. Oct. 8 to sundown. The Days of Awe constitute a period of introspection, and the Day of Atonement, a day of fasting, is regarded as the holiest of all the Jewish holidays.

Several local business firms will be closed Saturday, among them Prager's, Mellinger's, Zack's and the Army Store.

Encephalitis Outbreak Ends

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The State Board of Health said Thursday the encephalitis outbreak on Florida's west coast is past and persons who ask will be told there is no reason to stay out of the area.

Dr. W. L. Wright, acting state health officer, said telegrams have been sent to Public Health Service offices and to health officers in Pinellas, Sarasota, Manatee and Hillsborough counties giving the board's position.

NEVER PERISH

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher
Church of Christ, 3000 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1353

"My sheep hear my voice, and I know them and they follow me; and I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand. My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand." (John, 10:27-29)

This is a promise that certain ones shall never perish. Who are they? Not only those who have once become the Lord's sheep, but who follow Him. These are people, who in the present, are His sheep, hear His voice and follow Him.

These are not people who quit

President Works Up Simple Battle Cry For Campaigns

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP)—President Kennedy has worked up a clear, uncomplicated battle cry for his headlong venture into the 1962 congressional campaigns. He puts it this way: Democrats look ahead and are good for the country, Republicans look back and don't know where they're going.

Kennedy played hard on the theme at a Democratic rally in the rain here Thursday night, just as he had at Harrisburg, Pa., a week ago.

Men close to the President believe that's the main line he will take through an arduous five weeks of stumping across the land for Democratic congressional and gubernatorial candidates.

Kennedy cut short his prepared speech when rain began to soak the 10,000 who trooped to Wheeling Island Stadium for the Democratic doings. He used less than 15 of the 20 minutes set aside for him on a statewide telecast of the rally. He liked West Virginians too much, he said, to keep them out in the wet.

Kennedy recalled why he liked them so much, too. It was in West Virginia that he won a vital presidential primary victory over Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn.

"This is the place where the Democratic victory of 1960 had its start," Kennedy said, "and I assure you tonight that it will also be the starting place for the Democratic victory of 1962."

Kennedy avoided mention of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower by name. But with almost a snarl, he said the national government in the 1950s had left West Virginia "on the beach, to decline and rot."

West Virginia, which has been in economic straits, is on the way to its best year ever, Kennedy said. He claimed for his administration a goodly share of the credit, citing defense contracts,

DEAR ABBY

Maybe It's A Pipe Dream

DEAR ABBY: Since my boy friend has started to smoke a pipe he has become impossible. He is constantly tapping, scraping, filling, lighting and cleaning his pipe. He is so busy with the pipe he hardly has time to hold my hand. And a kiss is out of the question. If he really enjoyed his pipe, I wouldn't mind, but he can't seem to keep it lit for more than a minute at a time, so where does the pipe smoking enjoyment come in? I hear that the reason most men smoke pipes is because they think they look good with a pipe. Is this a fact?

DEAR BUGGED: A real pipe smoker REALLY enjoys a pipe, I'm told. But a man who takes to a pipe because he wants to keep "busy"—or worse yet because he thinks he "looks good," is having what is commonly known as a "pipe dream." Wake him up!

DEAR ABBY: I don't see why a waitress should get a tip for doing her job when sales people, cashiers and cooks don't get tipped for doing theirs. The public seems to have a soft spot in its heart for waitresses. It burns me up because everyone knows that the reason most girls take waitress jobs is to meet men.

DEAR OUGHT: You ought to know BETTER. Girls who want to "meet men" can either walk the streets or hang out in dives. Any woman who will don a uniform, carry trays and be pleasant to all customers deserves as big a tip as the diner can afford.

DEAR ABBY: Can you or any of your readers give me any information on the HAWTHORNE tree? I dug one up and transplanted it and it isn't doing a thing. Where it grew originally there was lots of moss around it. Does a Hawthorne tree need moss to grow or doesn't the moss have anything to do with it?

DEAR HYANNIS: All I know about "moss" is that a rolling stone doesn't gather any. But if anyone out there digs the Hawthorne tree, please advise.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, in care of The Big Spring Herald.

Ike Backs Up Enforcement Of U.S. Stand

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower told a news conference Thursday:

"Now, here is a governor defying for a while the assistance of the National Guard, armed and paid for by the federal government, and defying the federal courts. This is absolutely unconscionable and indefensible."

Eisenhower, here for a Pennsylvania Republican fund-raising dinner, said he is positive the Kennedy administration "will do something" to require the university to admit Meredith in accordance with federal court orders.

"It will have to be done because, otherwise, the federal government and the federal judiciary will be completely defied," said the former president. "You just can't have that."

Body Sought

BROWNWOOD (AP)—Searchers probed Lake Brownwood Thursday night in search of the body of Jesse Barnes, 50, of Abilene who was presumed drowned. Barnes reportedly was at the lake for a weekend fishing trip.

Blamed In Death

DALLAS (AP)—A plastic clothes bag was blamed in the death by suffocation Thursday of Mary Helen Turner, 5-month-old daughter of Mrs. Ella Ruth Turner of Dallas. Mrs. Turner told police she left the infant on an upstairs bed, on which the bag also lay, while she went downstairs.

Big Spring's Alternate Unit

Here's a group of Big Spring High School football players who, no doubt, will see a lot of action against Snyder here tonight. It's coach Don Robbins' alternate unit, which probably clocked more playing time than the regulars against Plainview two weeks ago. Up front, left to right, they are Coye Connors, Thurman

Bovines Launch Home Play Against Tigers

Horace Bostick, one-time Big Spring quarterback, shows off his Snyder Tigers before his home town for the first time tonight in an 8 o'clock football game with the resident Steers.

Big Spring hasn't been given a true test. The Steers knocked off Plainview in Plainview two weeks ago, 86-6. But Plainview likely will play a patsy to every opponent this year.

Don Robbins, the local mentor (who used to coach in Snyder), did have the satisfaction of playing virtually everyone he took to Plainview and some of the reserves gave him quite an eyeful. The Steers will again alternate likely will play a patsy to every opponent this year. Don Robbins, the local mentor (who used to coach in Snyder), did have the satisfaction of playing virtually everyone he took to Plainview and some of the reserves gave him quite an eyeful. The Steers will again alternate their quarterbacks, Rickey Wisener and Albert Fierro. And they will again learn upon Baxter Moore and Dick Spier to do much of the ball lugging.

Snyder has splendid quarterbacking in Dalton Walton and Jimmy Wilson. Wilson perhaps is the better passer. Walton might navigate the club better, however. Snyder opened with a thrilling 7-0 victory over Andrews and then dropped a 14-6 decision to Leveland, a victim of its own mistakes.

The Longhorns, who will trot out in brand new jerseys tonight, will outweight the Tigers considerably but the Snyder speed could more than make up for it. Big Spring will be working on a winning streak of two straight over the Tigers, after having dropped something like four in a row to the Snyder gang.

Snyder's chief threat will, no doubt, be sophomore Leslie Brown, a 155-pound halfback who can really lug the leather. Brown was regarded as the finest junior high school back in West Texas last year and, of course, has made the expected improvement.

Eddie Kirby and Bob Pena are other backs the Steers will have to slow if they hope to beat the visitors. Pena is the boy who almost beat the Longhorns two years ago with his running but who was handicapped by injuries in last year's game.

Good weather could bring out a through well in excess of 4,000. This opens the home season for Big Spring.

Bostick finished his eligibility here around 1940 and later attended TCU. He succeeded John Conley as head coach at Snyder last year.

Probable starters: (agate) BIG SPRING

Linebacker—Jimmy Wilson, 153, or Dalton Walton, 165.

Washburn now is 12-9 while O'Dell, looking for his 20th victory, lost his 14th.

The Cardinals lost little time taking charge against the Giants, rapping lefty Billy O'Dell for two runs in the first inning. Oliver's double plus rookie right-hander Ray Washburn's single gave St. Louis another run in the fifth, then came the Cards' big fifth, climaxed by Oliver's big hit.

Washburn now is 12-9 while O'Dell, looking for his 20th victory, lost his 14th.

The Panthers have a splendid fullback in Steve Scoreder, a 180-pounder, but admittedly have lost some speed. Last year's outfit topped Stanton, 14-6.

Dauphin says his club is in top physical condition and isn't handicapped by injuries.

Buddy Glaspie will again be at the controls for Stanton and can call upon such backs as Joe Williams, Dewey Anderson and Teddy Stewart to give him help. The Buffs boast a giant line, anchored by Ben Mott, Mike Sorley and Mack Mathis.

NL Challengers Look Like 2 Tired Turtles

By JIM HACKLEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer
This National League pennant marathon is taking on the look of a race between two tired turtles going uphill.

But if they aren't moving very fast, at least the finish line is in sight.
For all their speed and verve, Los Angeles' pace-setting Dodgers have been backing up. And with a big burst of drive and determination, San Francisco's second-place Giants have been standing still.

The pestiferous Houston Colts applied the latest stopper to the Dodgers with a rallying 8-4 victory Thursday night at Los Angeles. A few hours before, the St. Louis Cardinals broke in front with a commanding lead and held on for a 7-4 decision at San Francisco.

Stanton To Seek 3rd Win In Row

STANTON — Stanton seeks its third straight victory in an 8 o'clock football game with Fort Stockton in Fort Stockton.

The Buffaloes, coached by Harlin Dauphin, have turned back two District 6-A powers, Merkel and Coahoma in that order.

Snyder Standouts

Jim Campbell Is Making No Pennant Vows

DETROIT (AP)—Jim Campbell, young and aggressive, jumped into his new job as the Detroit Tigers' general manager by making no pennant promises.

Improvement of a fifth-place team that had been expected to challenge the New York Yankees for the 1962 American League championship is the first step, Campbell said. A future pennant is the Tigers' ultimate goal.

"I feel a team can't say it wins the pennant," Campbell said after his promotion Thursday. "A team can make progress. But the only successful club this year was the Yankees—and they won it."

Campbell, 38, assumed the general manager's duties performed the last two seasons by Vice President Rick Ferrell. Campbell has been a club vice president himself since 1959 and was placed in charge of the Tigers' minor league operations in 1960. Ferrell was retained in a new capacity as player evaluator.

"I realize we have to make changes and we're going to make changes," said Campbell, who last played baseball as an outfielder at Ohio State, in the 1940s. "We're going to make changes, but we're going to do it in an orderly fashion," he said.

Campbell was given all-inclusive duties by President John E. Fetzer, who became outright owner two years ago. The club has not had a general manager in title since Fetzer disposed of Bill De Witt, president-general manager in 1960.

Manager Bob Scheffing, whose contract runs through next season, has said the club needs considerable help for next season, especially in the infield.

Campbell worked his way up from the bottom of the Detroit organization. He joined the Tigers in 1949 as business manager of a Class D farm club. He became business manager of the farm system in 1952. In 1956, he became farm director and later business manager before advancing to a vice president's post.

Brundage Initiates New Fight To Purify Games

CHICAGO (AP)—Avery Brundage, a life-long crusader for amateurism in sports, is 73 years old today and embarked on a new battle to keep the Olympic games pure.

The big, broad-shouldered International Olympic Committee president could pass for a man 15 or 20 years younger. He will need all his strength to enforce the new Olympic rule which bans athletes who receive college scholarships as well as those supported by governments as has been charged against Soviet Russia.

Brundage was first elected I.O.C. president at Helsinki in 1952 for an eight year term, and then re-elected for a four year term which will expire when the 1964 games are held in Tokyo.

Mavericks Nudge Travis, 12 To 6

Goliad's ninth graders achieved a signal victory here Thursday night before 1,000 fans, trouncing Snyder Travis by a score of 12-6.

The defeat was the first suffered by the Travis team as a unit in over a year. Runnels of Big Spring last administered a loss to the Travis team.

Goliad scored both its touchdowns in the opening period. Gary Earhart got the first on a six-yard run at the end of a 55-yard march. Danny Kirby rambled across for the second on a five-yard dash, culminating a 65-yard drive.

Forsan Plays Stanton Bees

STANTON — Forsan, which ordinarily fields an eight-man football team, will play the first 11-man game in the school's history at 8 o'clock tonight.

ACKERLY—The Stanton Junior High School football team won their second straight game here Thursday evening, turning back Sands by a score of 18-14.

To turn the trick, the visitors had to score in the final minute of play. A pass from Buddy Shanks to Butch Robnett produced the winning score.

Coach Jimmy Spann of Coahoma calls back Travis Reid 'Mad Man' because of the savage way he runs. Reid puts a lot of effort into his play.

COACHES OF THE BIG SPRING B TEAM SAID THE DOGIES PLAYED RATHER LISTLESSLY AGAINST SNYDER THE OTHER NIGHT. BIG SPRING WON THE GAME, 24-14, BUT THE MENTORS SAID THE TEAM'S SECOND EFFORT WASN'T THERE LIKE IT WAS IN THE DOGIES' FIRST GAME AGAINST SAN ANGELO.

AMONG BOYS WHO DID DRAW PRAISE FOR THEIR PERFORMANCES WERE RICKIE PERDUE, MARVIN BELL AND JUNIOR HOLLAND. THE COACHES TOOK 37 BOYS TO SNYDER AND PLAYED THEM ALL.

ONE THING YOU CAN LOOK FOR IN FOOTBALL THIS FALL: THE RED FLAGS WILL BE FLYING A LOT OF TIMES. Game officials have been cautioned to be especially watchful for roughing infractions. Teams guilty of piling on after the whistle has blown will be charged and penalized 15 yards.

THE WINKING CLOCK, WHICH BIG SPRING FANS HAVE NEEDED FOR SO LONG, HAS FINALLY BEEN INSTALLED AT MEMORIAL STADIUM HERE AND WILL BE IN USE FROM NOW ON.

THE COCA-COLA PEOPLE STOOD THE EXPENSE OF THE CLOCK — WHICH IS SO MUCH BETTER THAN THE OLD OPEN-FACED TIMEPIECE USED SINCE THE STADIUM WAS OPENED.

WHEN THE SAN FRANCISCO 49ERS PLAYED THE CHICAGO BEARS IN AN NFL GAME RECENTLY, QUARTERBACK JOHN BRODIE OF THE 49ERS COMPLETED FIVE OF 11 PASSES DURING THE FIRST HALF FOR 28 YARDS. HOWEVER, BRODIE AND HIS UNDERSTUDY LOST 28 YARDS TRYING TO PASS, SO THE TEAM'S NET GAIN ON PASSING IN THE TWO QUARTERS WAS ZERO — REPEAT, ZERO.

THE BUSINESS AT HAND FOR THE BIG SPRING STEERS IS SNYDER, AND IF THEY ARE LOOKING ON DOWN THE ROAD TO WICHITA FALLS THEY COULD BE MAKING A GRIEVOUS MISTAKE. The Tigers, when they play Big Spring, usually come loaded for bear. A win over the Longhorns proves pleasing ointment for the wounds the Tigers might have suffered or will suffer in other games.

THE LOCAL FOOTBALL TEAMS HAVE GOTTEN OFF TO THEIR FINEST COLLECTIVE START IN HISTORY. In 11 starts against outside opposition, teams from the varsity on down through the eighth grades have won nine times. And in those 11 games, local teams have outscored the opposition, 294 points to 54.

OF COURSE, THEY'VE BEEN TRAVELING IN COMPARATIVELY GENTLE SEAS TO DATE. THERE'S HEAVY WEATHER AHEAD — FOR ALL TEAMS. ARE THEIR SHIPS SEAWORTHY ENOUGH TO RIDE OUT THE ROUGHEST STORMS?

BOBBY WILLIAMS, COAHOAMA'S SPLENDID TACKLE, IS NOT THE ONLY BULLDOG WHO USED TO RESIDE IN BIG SPRING. BILLY STEGALD, SENIOR TACKLE, CALLED BIG SPRING HOME AT ONE TIME.

REPORTS FROM LAKE J. B. THOMAS SAY LOTS OF BIG BLACK BASS ARE BEING HOOKED THESE DAYS. DURING THE HOT WEATHER they apparently laid low and didn't forage much, but now the bass are full of shad, are filled out and full of fight.

U.S. To Cut Los Alamos Off Federal Apron Strings

By HAROLD R. WILLIAMS
LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP)—The federal government is preparing to cut the Los Alamos atomic apron strings.

But most of the 13,600 residents of this atomic city don't like the prospect and wish they could continue under the benevolent thumb of the Atomic Energy Commission.

A bill awaiting President Kennedy's signature provides for disposal of all Los Alamos property not directly connected with AEC projects. The action follows similar disposals at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Richland, Wash.

TOWN'S FEELING
Ramon Sanchez, 23, a gas station attendant, summed up Los Alamos community feeling: "This town really had it made. The AEC did everything for you—and for free. I hate to see it go."

The AEC does do everything for its dwellers from fixing a leaky faucet to repairing streets—and mowing lawns in some cases. The Zia Co., the AEC's giant housekeeper, does most of the chores.

Disposing of property in Los Alamos, which the AEC owns lock, stock and barrel, will not affect the Los Alamos scientific laboratory. Its research, projects and experiments continue with no change.

Another reason Los Alamos doesn't like the changeover is because of the big bite it will take out of the pocketbook.

With the AEC owning everything, there were no taxes other than personal, because the federal government can't be taxed. Now with Los Alamos residents owning their homes and ground, taxes will make a bigger dent in the take home pay.

SELL, GIVE AWAY
The AEC will sell and give away residences, businesses, even churches, schools and the police station.

Los Alamos has some 3,500 dwelling units, ranging from kitchenette apartments to single-family homes, the latter in the minority (only 34 per cent).

The person living in the house at the time of the sale will be given first chance to buy it. Storekeepers will get an opportunity to purchase their business buildings.

There are 45 stores. The total community facilities to be put up for sale are estimated to be worth $38 million.

The federal government will donate municipal facilities valued between $22 and $24 million. Most of these are churches, schools, parks, a hospital and county offices.

SPENDING
The proposed new law provides for spending $2.7 million in improvements, which will likely include a new courthouse, and $2 or $3 million in annual subsidy payments over a 10-year period.

Actual sale of the real estate is not expected to start before mid-1964. The Federal Housing Administration must appraise the homes, each one separately, and this isn't expected to be done until early 1964.

A little less than 20 years ago, the Army's Manhattan District took over a remote mountain school for boys as the site for a super-secret laboratory to build the world's first atomic bomb.

The town has grown from a collection of log and stone school buildings to a clean and bright city.

The laboratory has a staff of 3,500, including more than 1,200 scientists and engineers. The laboratory is operated for the AEC by the University of California.

HOUSING SHORTAGE
The decision to sell Los Alamos to its residents was made in 1961. One big reason for such a proposal is the acute housing shortage.

"We fully expect that the action authorized in this bill will stimulate private building, bring in outside capital and eventually help to solve the housing problem," said Charles C. Campbell, AEC area manager.

It is estimated 500 laboratory employees live outside the Los Alamos County boundaries.

Ellis Stout, an AEC safety engineer, who was returned to office as county commission chairman by an overwhelming majority this spring, has aided disposal plans since their inception. But he personally doesn't think disposal will work without AEC subsidy.

He points out that the laboratory is the town's only "industry." But it can't be taxed. And Los Alamos has been coddled by the AEC with the best of everything.

HIGHER PAY
The police department is made up of civil service employees who are trained for border patrol work. These men are paid much over the average for New Mexico policemen.

Schools have blossomed in every neighborhood until now there are 11. They are ultra modern.

The business center of Los Alamos consists of malls connecting stores and a large beautiful park in the center. This park is just one of many.

Stout, who has been at Los Alamos 16 years, doesn't believe any other industry will locate in Los Alamos. It is literally "the end of the road."

The town is nestled among pines at the foot of some of the most spectacularly rugged mountain scenery in New Mexico.

There are no railroads and the winding steep mountain roads are the only transportation link to a world some 1,500 feet below.

WORKED OUT
Almost every detail of the shift from almost complete AEC control to a county government has been worked out by the three county commissioners.

Los Alamos County was chiseled out of two counties when it was formed in 1949. Its elected officials are $1 a year with the exception of the county attorney.

One of the biggest problems ahead is utilities. Stout argues the AEC should turn these over to the county instead of selling them to private industry. The AEC has not said what will be done with the utilities.

Another problem is water. Deep wells far down the valley supply the water and it is pumped up to Los Alamos through many miles of pipe. The AEC has said it will give the county the distribution but not the source of its water supply.

ARRANGEMENTS
Tentative arrangements for disposing of the residences have been announced by Stout.

The houses range in price from about $8,000 to $16,000.

After the FHA appraisal, the buyer can purchase the home for a 25 per cent reduction of the appraised cost. He must make a 3 per cent down payment.

Survivors of the Flying Tiger airliner that ditched in the Atlantic waved and shouted with joy at the sight of land as the rescue ship Celerina reached Antwerp today.

U.S. Air Force Maj. Harry O. Benson of Marshfield Hill, Mass., cried out: "Everybody of our group is in good physical condition!"

The Swiss freighter carried 27 of the survivors it plucked from stormy seas 500 miles off Ireland on Sunday after the chartered airliner with 76 persons aboard—mostly American servicemen and their families—made a crashed landing on a flight to West Germany.

Of 48 survivors, 21 have since been transferred to hospitals in Ireland and England. Twelve bodies were recovered. Sixteen other passengers are missing and presumed dead.

Aboard the Celerina, the survivors lined the deck rails or peered through portholes as the rescue ship moved up the River Scheldt to Antwerp. Some wore makeshift clothes provided them by the ship's crew or flown to them.

Carol Ann Gould, 22, of Lyndhurst, N.J., one of the hostesses on the airliner, appeared on the deck wearing slacks and a sweater.

Samuel T. Nicholson, 32, of Dallas, Pa., navigator of the Flying Tiger airliner who was landed in Ireland after being reached, flew here to meet other survivors.

"I am in pretty good shape," he said. "I have chemical burns on the back of my legs—you could say second-degree burns. I have a few other small burns but they are not worth worrying about. I am lucky, compared to other people."

Nicholson was unable to walk unaided, but otherwise looked fit.

He said the airliner pilot, Capt. John D. Murray of Oyster Bay, N.Y., also aboard the Celerina, suffered head cuts and apparently a slight concussion, but he was not seriously injured, Nicholson said.

The journey for the 24 men and 3 women picked out of the Atlantic ended at noon as the Celerina nosed into the lock at the entrance to the docks.

A spokesman for the U.S. Service Hospital at Burderop, England, said survivors under treatment there are making excellent progress and are just fine.

McMurry Reports High Enrollment
ABILENE — McMurry College announced this week that its fall enrollment on the main campus was up 15 per cent over 1961 with 1,238 students registered. The college's Dyess Air Force Base program includes 450 this fall, giving McMurry a total enrollment of 1,688.

Registrar Jerome Vannoy said McMurry had established another all-time high in its enrollment. The previous high was for the spring term of 1962 when the college had 1,530, including 407 at Dyess AFB.

Last fall there were 1,089 on campus students and 314 at Dyess AFB.

Tells Of Airliner Ditching
Air Force Major Carl E. Elander of West Point, N. Y., and his wife, Lois, both of whom survived the Flying Tiger Airline plane ditching in the Atlantic, are shown after being landed by helicopter at Shannon Airport, Ireland. Elander described the crash in the North Atlantic in which 28 persons died and there were 48 survivors. The Elanders were picked up by the Swiss freighter Celerina and then transferred to the Canadian aircraft carrier Bonaventure.

Survivors of the Flying Tiger airliner that ditched in the Atlantic waved and shouted with joy at the sight of land as the rescue ship Celerina reached Antwerp today.

Senate Panel Restores Aid Cut Sliced Out By The House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee has responded to a plea by President Kennedy and restored to the foreign aid money bill much of the funds cut by the House.

Tacked back onto the bill was $72,400,000 of the $1,124,400,000 House reduction.

Up In Smoke

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans will smoke 497.5 billion cigarettes this year, spending a record total of $6.88 billion for them, the Agriculture Department predicted today.

The consumer outlay for all tobacco products was forecast at more than $7.8 billion. Spending for cigars would trail far behind cigarettes, with $645 million forecast.

year cut the request to $4,754,800,000. Then the House this month voted its big cut.

Even if the amount voted by the committee is approved by the full Senate, the appropriations finally available to Kennedy likely will be somewhat less because a conference committee will have to choose between the Senate and House figures.

In addition to changing the money totals the Senate committee aimed at banning aid to countries whose ships carry arms or other supplies to Cuba. Kennedy would have discretionary authority to waive the ban.

And, the committee substituted for a House bar against any aid to Poland and Yugoslavia discretionary authority for Kennedy to extend economic help to those countries upon a determination and a report to Congress that:

- (1) It is vital to U.S. security.
- (2) The recipient country is not controlled by the Sino-Soviet axis.
- (3) It will promote a country's independence from the international Communist conspiracy.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY EXTENDS UNIQUE LINCOLN CONTINENTAL 24-MONTH—24,000-MILE WARRANTY TO ALL '63 PASSENGER CARS AND TRUCKS

These are the cars

- Fairlane
- Galaxie
- THUNDERBIRD
- MERCURY

- LINCOLN CONTINENTAL

This is the total-car warranty

Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers in turn warrant to owners, as follows: that for 24 months or for 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services, routine replacement of parts, such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades and brake or clutch linings, and normal deterioration of soft trim and appearance items. The benefits of the warranty are available to the original purchaser and to subsequent owners of the vehicle during the time and mileage limits prescribed in the warranty.

Here is what it means to you

The new 1963 Ford-built cars and trucks are quality-engineered and manufactured to serve you better and last longer than ever before. The proof is in the warranty... proof of quality unheard of a few years ago.

In fact, it was only two years ago that Ford Motor Company announced the 12-month, 12,000-mile passenger car warranty which became the industry standard as other manufacturers followed Ford's lead. At the same time, Lincoln Continental became the only American-built car warranted for two full years or 24,000 miles, whichever came first. Now, this warranty applies to all Ford-built cars, regardless of price. Why is this possible?

Actually, the new warranty is a natural outgrowth of the engineering leadership that has resulted in twice-a-year (or every 6,000-mile) passenger car maintenance. It goes hand-in-glove with such Ford-pioneered service savers as the elimination of the 1,000-mile inspection... 30,000- to 36,000-mile intervals between major lubrications, 6,000-mile intervals between oil changes and minor lubrications, self-adjusting brakes, aluminum mufflers, and longer-life electrical systems.

These features that save you time and money as you drive are a direct reflection of the total quality achievements of Ford Motor Company.

Bill To Hike Postal Rates, Workers' Pay Past Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill that would increase both postal rates and the pay of federal employees has won Senate approval by an overwhelming 72-3 vote.

If enacted, it would mean a penny hike in postage for regular and air mail letters and a wage boost averaging about 10 per cent for 1.5 million government workers.

The next step is up to the House. If it takes the Senate measure as is, the bill goes to President Kennedy for signing into law. If the House balks, a joint conference would have to work out a compromise.

The House last January passed a bill designed to bring in $690 million a year more in postal revenue. But this measure does not provide for an increase for postal and other government workers.

In Thursday's debate Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, saw the two-step $1,049,000,000 pay hike as an effort "to buy votes" in an election year. And, Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., one of the three who voted against the bill, said it was calculated to make everybody happy except the taxpayer.

The pay raise would go into effect before the election, Robertson noted, and the postal rates rise afterward.

Sens. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., and John J. Williams, R-Del., joined Robertson in voting against the bill. Lausche was one of four senators who, while not voting, went on record against it by arranging "prais" with other senators who favored the measure.

Most senators said they felt the

Traffic Death Toll Climbs At Rapid Clip

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic deaths are climbing at a record clip.

The National Safety Council reported that Thursday, and cited these figures: Motor vehicle accidents cost the lives of 4,069 Americans in August. That was the highest toll ever compiled for any August.

August was the tenth consecutive month to show an increase or no change when compared with the corresponding month of the previous year.

In the first eight months of this year 25,910 persons were killed—another record. The toll represented an increase of 9 per cent over the corresponding period of 1961.

During the first eight months approximately 950,000 persons suffered injuries that disabled them at least beyond the day of the accident.

While deaths went up 9 per cent travel gained 5 per cent. The death rate for the eight months was 5.1 per 100 million miles of travel, compared with 4.9 through the corresponding period of last year.

Religious Work To Be Performed In Soviet Union

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet Union has agreed to let an American chorale group perform a religious work during its cultural exchange tour of the Soviet Union starting next month, it was announced Thursday night.

The man who arranged the exchange said the inclusion of Bach's B Minor Mass in the program for the Robert Shaw Chorale is the first time the Soviets have permitted a religious work by touring musicians.

Coming to the United States and Canada in exchange for the chorus is the Leningrad Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra with violinist David Oistrakh, said a spokesman for Columbia Artists Management, Inc.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reports the Soviet Union has fired another nuclear test shot in the arctic atmosphere.

The AEC said Thursday's test had the force of less than 30 million tons of TNT, second strongest in the current Soviet over Novaya Zemlya island. The test was the 17th reported by the AEC in the current series.

Padre Island Park Bill To Be Signed Into Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to establish the 81-mile long Padre Island national seashore park off Texas' Gulf Coast becomes law today with President Kennedy's signature.

Several Texas members of Congress, who have long supported the proposal, arranged to be present to witness Kennedy's action.

Enactment of the measure to make the island a national seashore area is the third such action by the present Congress. The other two, which also had Kennedy's backing, are at Cape Cod, Mass., and Point Reyes, Calif.

The bill creating the latest area directs that it be administered by the National Park Service. It also authorizes appropriations of $5 million to acquire the land from private owners. The latter, however, are permitted to retain mineral rights to the land.

The narrow island, 117 miles long, skirts the Gulf of Mexico between Corpus Christi and Port Isabel, near the mouth of the Rio Grande.

Passage of the measure has been blocked for years over the question of land acquisition. Some land owners on the island sought to retain more than proposed in earlier versions of the bill. This issue was subsequently settled by compromise.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., first introduced a bill—which the Senate passed—that provided for an 88-mile long park.

As originally introduced in the House by Reps. John Young and Joe Kilgore, Texas Democrats, the bill proposed a 65-mile long park. After property owners were persuaded to accept the 81-mile length, the House passed the bill and the Senate accepted the change.

Marine Chief Sees No Quick End To Fighting

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The U.S. Marine commandant, Gen. David M. Shoup, declared today Americans "are too impatient to bring a quick end to guerrilla war in South Viet Nam."

He said there is no panacea that will overnight eliminate Communists here. Before leaving for Bangkok after a four day visit, Shoup told a news conference that Americans "sometimes want to progress faster than the vehicle they are riding. When progress is not as fast as we expect we get impatient and our attitude here is 'that we should get this thing over and done with.'"

Tower Has Words For Extremists

DALLAS (AP)—U.S. Sen. John Tower told a Dallas audience Thursday there is no place for "extremists" of either the right or left in shaping the country's future.

"Now is not the time for Americans to be calling each other names or questioning the honesty of those in government over us," Tower said, adding: "times like these call for courage and cool heads," he said.

Statewide Well Spacing Rule Due

AUSTIN (AP)—A statewide spacing rule setting a general pattern of one oil or gas well for each 40 acres goes into effect Monday.

The Texas Railroad Commission issued the order Thursday amending a commission ruling which had been in effect since 1944. The new ruling has two major provisions which:

1. Forbid the drilling of an oil or gas well any nearer than 1,200 feet from an existing well on the same tract.
2. Forbid drilling of wells nearer than 467 feet from property, lease or subdivision lines.

Albert Snaps At Critics Of Cuban Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democratic Leader Carl Albert has snapped back at Republican critics of the administration's handling of the Cuban problem.

"Political, self-serving desperation," was the Oklahoma's description Thursday of the GOP attack.

Albert stormed to a microphone, visibly angry, after Rep. William C. Cramer, R-Fla., said Democrats had failed to back up their strong words with action when they rejected Wednesday a Republican amendment to a Cuban resolution.

The resolution, passed by both the House and Senate, was intended as a show of unity behind whatever steps Kennedy might take, including the use of force, to prevent Cuba from becoming a military threat in the hemisphere.

The amendment, proposing stronger language, was beaten down 251 to 140, drawing support from only three Democrats.

"Under that amendment," Albert said, "the United States would have been limited in action only to violations of the Monroe Doctrine. The resolution as passed provides for action within or without the Monroe Doctrine."

The Democratic leader added: "The time has come for the members to reaffirm the unity of this country and this Congress and to make a determination that they will not resort to partisan politics in dealing with the problem of the security of this hemisphere."

Senate Repeals Red Disclaimer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has voted to repeal the Communist disclaimer affidavit required under the government's college student loan program.

Instead, a member of a subversive organization who accepted such a loan would face up to five years in prison and a maximum fine of $10,000. A loyalty oath still would be required.

The Senate acted Thursday in passing a House bill that makes the same changes in the law affecting National Science Foundation fellowships. The House now will have to concur before the disclaimer affidavit can be repealed.

When President Kennedy was a senator he twice tried and failed to get the affidavit repealed. About 20 universities have declined to take part in the student loan program because of the disclaimer requirement.

Gas Breaks Up Integration Mob

CAIRO, Ill. (AP)—Police used tear gas to disperse a crowd of integrationist demonstrators who gathered in front of police headquarters Thursday night.

Illinois State Police, called to the scene, said the 250 to 300 persons were protesting the arrest of 28 marchers in downtown Cairo earlier in the evening. At least 15 more were arrested during the second protest.

Police arrested 27 Negroes and one white person earlier for violating a city ordinance prohibiting parading without a permit.

The marchers, out for the third straight night, carried placards which demanded a human relations council and protested alleged police brutality.

Majors Criticize Marginal Law At Windup Of Well Probe

AUSTIN (AP)—Representatives of several major oil companies testified before the Texas House Investigating Committee Thursday and criticized the state's marginal oil well law.

The committee wound up its third public hearing in its slant hole oil well probe. The first was held in Dallas in August and the second was in Houston Tuesday.

Several of the oil men said under questioning that they favored changing the marginal oil well law to forbid a marginal well from producing more than a so-called good or proratable well.

Under Texas law, wells not capable of producing 20 barrels of oil daily are designated "marginal" and are permitted to produce at their top capacity every day of the month.

Proratable wells, those capable of producing more than 20 barrels a day, are limited to producing a set number of days at their given allowances as set by the Railroad Commission.

As a result, many marginal wells produce more than twice as much as proratable wells.

Representatives of Sun, Texaco, Tidewater and Hunt oil companies told the commission they favor changing the law to take away what they called an unfair advantage of marginal wells and to limit their maximum production to that of similar proratable wells.

Each of the 14 oil industry representatives at the hearing was asked how many wells his company had in the East Texas Field and how many of them were marginal.

Their answers included: General American, 489 wells, one-third of them marginal; Gulf, 1,054 wells, 178 marginal; Humble, 2,373 wells, 472 marginal; Hunt Oil, 152 wells, 43 marginal; Mobil, 955 wells, 139 marginal; Marathon, 338 wells, 82 marginal; Pan American, 1,469 wells, 139 marginal; Shell, 900 wells, 185 marginal; Sinclair, 667 wells, 42 marginal; Sun, 543 wells, 101 marginal; Texaco, 413 wells, 126 marginal; Tidewater, 878 wells, 180 marginal.

When asked about the average daily production of all their marginal wells in the East Texas Field, the oil company witnesses gave figures ranging from about five to 12 barrels.

Desegregation Suit Withdrawn

TYLER (AP)—A suit to desegregate Longview's all-white high school was withdrawn Thursday by the 17-year-old Negro who filed it.

Thomas Ljase filed suit last Friday through his "best friend" Hardie O. Johnson, against the Longview School Board.

The petition alleged the board denied admission to Ljase "solely on account of his race." And asked for a judgment granting the Negro immediate permission to enter the school.

No reason was given for the action of withdrawal.

Politics Causes Long Honeymoon

By HAROLD K. MILKS
MADRID, Spain (AP)—Handsome Prince Juan Carlos and his Greek princess bride, Sophia, are on a seemingly endless honeymoon because they are in the middle of a political tug-of-war which may decide when—or whether—he becomes the next king of Spain.

At one end of the rope is the prince's father, pretender Don Juan. At the other is Gen. Francisco Franco, the Spanish caudillo. Both have dug in their heels, monarchist sources here say, for the battle over Prince Juan Carlos' future.

The prince and princess, married last May 14 in Athens, are back from an around-the-world honeymoon which seems destined not to end until Juan Carlos' father and Gen. Franco agree on his future.

The situation requires an early meeting of Gen. Franco and Don Juan, monarchists say. The future position of the prince in Spain must be settled satisfactorily before he can come back here to live.

The young prince and his bride paused in Madrid after their marriage only long enough to make a required appearance at the home of Gen. Franco for lunch. They have been traveling since in the apparent hope that on their return the question of the prince's future would be settled.

Last week they spent only 20 minutes at Madrid's airport en route from Switzerland to Lisbon for a visit with the prince's father. They plan two weeks there, then—if their future in Spain still remains cloudy—they may go to Athens for a visit with the bride's parents.

But this can't go on forever. The demands of the Count of Barcelona (royal title of Don Juan de Bourbon) and the needs of Spain must be reconciled.

Basically, monarchists here say, there are two major problems to be resolved for Prince Juan Carlos, now 24, and his Greek bride. Don Juan wants Gen. Franco to give Prince Juan Carlos an official position and possibly with it the title of Prince of Asturias, which in Spain is equivalent to that of the Duke of Windsor in England, monarchists say.

The royal pretender is dead set against his son coming back to Spain just to join the social and cocktail circuit, without a job and a position to live up to, said one monarchist source.

The second problem is agreement on a formula by which Don Juan will formally abandon his own claim to the Spanish throne in order to pass it on to his son. Thus far he has refused to renounce his claim, and his son has shied away from accepting appointment as heir apparent without his father's formal approval.

Official sources here are silent on the situation.

In Lisbon, Prince Juan Carlos and his father declined comment. Monarchists here are growing anxious. They would like to see Prince Juan Carlos safely named heir to the throne and settled in Spain to await the pleasure of the Franco regime, which must determine just when and how the Spanish monarchy is to be revived.

Morning Coffee Is First Of Fall Social Affairs

The muted green and gold tones of early fall were beautifully combined for decor at the first of the fall season's social events when Mrs. Elmo Wasson, Mrs. J. Y. Robb, Mrs. Lloyd Wasson and Mrs. William Currie entertained Thursday at the Big Spring Country Club.

Eight hundred friends, invited for coffee, were registered by Miss Nell Hatch. She presided at the polished table that was decorated with a handsome brass Mexican candelabra with red votive lights. The register was covered with pale green pin wale corduroy and laced with gold cord. A cluster of artificial grapes in shades of green through purple added interest.

Three circular tables laid with floor length cloths of green corduroy were placed at vantage points about the club ballroom where the guests were received and served. Leather fern and gold pompon chrysanthemums were placed about the base of large brassy snifters that held iced melon balls of varying hues with sprigs of mint. Molded clusters of green grapes added to the beauty of the tables.

Coffee services and serving pieces were of copper and brass. Serving coffee were Mrs. Steve Currie of Garden City, Mrs. E. L. Powell, Mrs. John Hodges, Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow, Mrs. R. W. Currie, Mrs. E. H. Boullion, Mrs. E. V. Spence, Mrs. N. W. McClesky and Mrs. George O'Brien.

Others who assisted with the houseparty duties were Mrs. Champ Rainwater, Mrs. R. W.

Whipkey, Mrs. Harvey Williamson, Mrs. A. Swartz, Mrs. Dorothy Ragan, Mrs. Paul Wasson, Mrs. Frank McClesky, Mrs. Roy Townsend, Mrs. Cecil Guthrie, Mrs. G. H. Wood, Mrs. Dave Duncan, Mrs. Tom Ashley, Miss Marie McDonald, Mrs. D. M. Penn.

Also Mrs. James Duncan, Mrs. Ike Robb, Mrs. Jerry Worth, Mrs. Don Newsom, Mrs. R. H. Johnson, Mrs. Hayes Stripling Jr., Mrs. R. H. Weaver, Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. Milton Talbot, Mrs. Harrol Jones, Mrs. Kimbell Guthrie, Mrs. Jerry Currie, Mrs. B. Broadrick, Mrs. John Currie, Mrs. Ell McCormick, Edith Gay and Mrs. James Currie and Mrs. Arlis Rattliff of Garden City; Mrs. Jack Walton of Mrs. George O'Brien Jr., of Midland.

THE HERALD RECEIVES AWARD FOR MUSIC WEEK PUBLICITY

An award of merit was issued to the Big Spring Daily Herald by the National Federation of Music Clubs when the Texas Federation of Music Clubs met this week in New Braunfels for the annual board meeting.

The award was in recognition of the outstanding publicity given by the Herald to National Music Week.

The Music Study Club of Big Spring is an active member of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs, also of the national federation. Local president is Mrs. Carl Bradley.

For many years the Herald has staunchly supported the observance of National Music Week. The award this year is based on a full page spread last May picturing musicians and vocalists from junior high, senior high and junior college groups. An accompanying story told of programs presented by students and Music Study Club members during the week. The final program was given by the HCJC Choir for patients at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Indifference Is Dietrich's Trademark

NEW YORK (AP)—Marlene Dietrich is one of the most indistinctly glamorous women of our time. But she doesn't like to lift a finger to maintain the image.

Apparently the famous legs and figure thrive on indifference. In Las Vegas night club appearances the actress who has been a movie star since the early Thirties can swath herself in nearly transparent gowns and still outshine any curvy young thing around.

Her beauty secrets are soap and water.

"I can't be bothered putting on and wiping off and going to bed with cream on my face. I don't think it's wrong, just wasted effort. It bothers me, really annoys me."

Diet? "A shrug. 'If I don't work, I gain weight. When I work, I lose it.' But surely you exercise?" She shakes her head. "No. I broke a shoulder two years ago and the doctor told me to do exercises with weights. I didn't—which was probably stupid. But I got well anyway."

Thirteen members were present. Other guests were Mrs. Delbert Simpson, Mrs. Pat Johnson, Mrs. Dorothy Arlington and Mrs. Donna Collier.

Vary Eggs With Creamed Cheese

One of our favorite ways to vary scrambled eggs—and just right for three.

SCRAMBLED EGGS
6 eggs
¼ tsp. salt
½ tsp. white pepper
2 tbsp. butter
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese (cut in ¼-inch pieces 1-3 cup extremely well drained cooked chopped spinach)
Beat eggs with salt and pepper just enough to blend yolks and whites. Melt butter in a 9- or 10-inch skillet; add eggs and cook over low heat, occasionally stirring with a large spoon (so as not to break up eggs too much). Just before eggs are set stir in cheese and spinach; cheese should not melt entirely. Makes 3 servings.

A Devotional For The Day

I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. (Matthew 5:44.)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, teach us to know Jesus better. Help us to be like Him in word, thought, and deed. Give us His heart of compassion for the downtrodden and heavy-laden. Forgive us for our selfishness and lack of concern for the good of others. In the Savior's name we pray. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Revealing Issue

United States Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson bluntly and accurately laid before the 1963 regular session of the General Assembly the central issue which it must resolve if the United Nations is to survive as a peace-keeping organization of any effectiveness. It must be so financed that no member or minority bloc can obstruct or nullify majority-approved U.N. policy by neglecting to pay its regular dues or refusing to pay special assessments.

The crucial issue before this session—crucial because it will determine the U.N. competence to cope with all the other issues before it—is to eliminate the "financial veto" which has replaced the big-power veto in the Security Council as a barrier to action. The financial veto is most effective where carrying out U.N. policy requires an expensive emergency field force, as in the Congo and the Middle East, that cannot be financed out of regular annual membership contributions to the normal U.N. budget.

The Soviet bloc, as well as France and several other non-Communist countries, has run the U.N. into heavy debt. The 200 million dollar bond issue, of which the United States proposes to subscribe half, is a stopgap effort. The U.N. charter provision of vote suspension in the General Assembly for persistent nonpayment of prescribed share of the U.N. budget also applies to payments on bonded debt. Thus the issue is brought doubly into focus, both on the budget and on the repayment of the bonds.

The World Court recently issued an advisory opinion that the General Assembly can deny the vote to members who go delinquent. The issue to be settled is whether the assembly will enforce that rule. If not the financial veto will have become an approved fact, and the organization will be doomed to financial impotence. It could not even exist as a forum or sounding board for seeking to solve international problems.

Put The Gimlet Eye On Junkets

It now appears that the House of Representatives may act effectively to discourage "junket" spending of the sort that amounts to an abuse of the public trust. As is appropriate, this move has been prompted by the notoriously loose spending of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of New York.

It has been obvious to the public for a long time that something ought to be done about congressmen who spend the public money too freely for their pleasure while traveling on public business. Doubtless this has been apparent to members of Congress also, but they have been remarkably tolerant of their colleagues' laxity.

Now the House Administration Committee has reportedly decided to withhold approval of Rep. Powell's bills for his abruptly terminated European jaunt. This was the trip, ostensibly taken for the purpose of preparing a report on the European Common Market, which found Powell and two women assistants visiting night clubs and the like at public expense.

The House should follow up on this. Unless it does, the public will know that the public interest is once again being given short shrift. A firm crackdown on congressional junketing is long overdue.

Cuba Is A World Problem

WASHINGTON—Maybe it will be a little easier now for President Kennedy to understand why there's so much opposition in Congress to the foreign-aid bill.

Maybe it will be easier for the British government to understand a demand that may come someday from the American people that American troops and also financial aid be withdrawn from Europe.

FOR NO LESS a person than the member of the British cabinet who heads up the Treasury Department in London has just told an American audience on television that Cuba is "essentially an American problem," and hence Britain couldn't pledge support for an economic blockade. The foreign minister of Norway also told Secretary of State Rusk that Cuba is "an American problem."

But supposing the United States had said to the world that Viet Nam was "essentially an Asian problem." Supposing that President Eisenhower, instead of landing marines in Lebanon, had said the Soviet aggression in that area was "essentially a Middle East problem?" and supposing President Kennedy had said in recent months that the fate of Berlin was "essentially a European problem?" What would have been the reaction then in London and in other European capitals?

CUBA IS NOT "an American problem." It is a world problem because Soviet aggression recognizes no geographical limits. The military and economic sinews of Castro's government are being provided today by the Soviet Union. The United States rightly seeks to impose an economic blockade on Cuba. Secretary Rusk is meeting with foreign ministers of various countries this week to persuade them to help by requiring their ships not to carry cargoes to Cuba. But even Canada—our next-door neighbor—has been hesitating to go along.

NATURALLY, the businessmen in these countries are opposed to any embargo on trade with Cuba. Will material interests and selfishness, however, prevail against a policy of checkmating the Soviet Union's aggression? Failure of the Western countries to work together in the 1930's caused the collapse of the economic blockade against Mussolini imposed by the League of Nations. World War II came as a result of the Nazi belief in the apparent disunity on our side.

It is already being argued by some governments that their ships are under long-term charter and can't be persuaded to withhold their transportation facilities. But, in a matter of preserving the peace of the world, the largest interest should, of course, prevail. If it doesn't, will not public opinion in the United States tend to be less concerned about threats by the Soviet Union to European countries?

THE WHOLE FUTURE of foreign aid, moreover, will be dealt a body blow if the principal nations of the world continue to evade their own obligation to help carry the financial burden of America's troops in Europe and in other countries. The taxpayers of the United States will not long support such a one-sided arrangement. Representative Otto Passman of Louisiana, Democrat, who has led the fight against the foreign-aid bill and succeeded in lopping off a sizable amount from it in the House at this session, will gain many more supporters next year if the European governments ignore Soviet military aggression in this hemisphere and continue to insist that the United States should pay most of the cost of its military forces assembled to check Soviet aggression in Europe, Asia and Africa.

ALSO, THE UNITED STATES government has just dramatically come to the rescue of the United Nations by voting a $100,000,000 purchase of bonds to pay the expense of the U.N. armies in Africa. The President of the United States didn't say that the Congo mess was "essentially an African problem."

MAYBE THE charitable explanation of all this is that neither the newspapers of Europe nor the American ambassadors there have conveyed the whole story of how the people of this country really feel about the Soviet infiltration and military buildup in Cuba. One reason for this may be because President Kennedy and Secretary of State Rusk have maintained a mistaken policy of silence. They haven't said a word publicly to the government of the Soviet Union to protest what it has done in Cuba. The reported explanation is that the advisers of Messrs. Kennedy and Rusk have insisted that to do so would "increase tensions" over Berlin. But tensions have increased now not only over Berlin but over Cuba. The West gives the impression of disunity, and the United States government gives the impression of timidity if not of fear to notify the Soviet Union that it has deliberately interfered in the Western Hemisphere and has assisted a dictatorship to continue to deprive the Cuban people of their sovereign rights.

A REAL OPPORTUNITY has been missed by the Kennedy administration to make it clear everywhere that what has happened in Cuba in the last two years is a world problem, and that the aggression by the Soviets must be checked by the free world.

For this is no time for "neutrality" either by the smaller countries or by the larger nations that regularly receive financial or economic or military aid from the taxpayers of the United States. (Copyright, 1962, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

Abuse Of States Rights Theory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mississippi's Gov. Ross R. Barnett is using the state rights' flag to defy the federal government and the Supreme Court.

Other states and their leaders have done the same, almost from the beginning of both the government and the court. State rights are an important part of the American system of government.

But the state rights' slogan has often been a handy, and sometimes reckless, excuse to have things both ways: To boost the union when it's convenient and to defy the union when that's convenient. Barnett is doing the defying now in Mississippi by refusing to let a 29-year-old Negro veteran of the Korean War, James H. Meredith, register at the all-white University of Mississippi.

To show how the state rights' cry has often been used as a political gimmick, American historians Samuel Eliot Morison and Henry Steele Commager, in their "Growth of The American Republic," said:

"Almost every man in public life between 1798 and 1860 spurned it when his section was in the saddle and embraced it when his constituents deemed themselves oppressed.

"ALMOST EVERY state in turn declared its own absolute sovereignty, only to denounce as treasonable similar declarations by other states."

And Charles Beard, in his "Rise of American Civilization," said: "From the foundations of the republic all factions were for high nationalism or low provincialism upon occasion, according to their desires at the moment."

Are You An Old-Timer?

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you an old-timer?

An old-timer is a person who enjoys using the present as a reminiscent springboard back into the past. Anything that happens today reminds him of something else that happened in some yesterday of his life.

There is a difference between an old-timer and an old fogey. An old fogey is a living fossil who feels everything in the past was better. An old-timer simply gets a nostalgic pleasure out of recalling what went before—whether it was better or worse.

You are probably an old-timer yourself if you can remember when—

You first learned to make music by humming through a piece of tissue paper on a pocket comb.

"The Stars and Stripes Forever" was perhaps the best tune for this form of art.

Most boys carried their marbles in a Bull Durham tobacco sack.

It was a patriotic duty to help beat the kaiser in the first World War by saving tinfoil from cigarette packs.

Folks feared the first family that started cooking with gas would blow up the whole neighborhood.

No baby had got off to a proper start in life until its fond parents had had it photographed, sans diaper, lying tummy down on a cloth of plush.

It was widely believed that if Congress raised the income tax rate above 10 per cent it would spur a bloody, nationwide revolution.

Johnny not only could read—but could also write legibly and work out problems in arithmetic.

Few school boards would hire a married schoolmarum, because a married woman's place was in the home.

Farmers blamed their woes on Wall Street, and Wall street regarded William Jennings Bryan as a wild-eyed radical.

The liniment for men and horses came out of the same bottle.

Foods were fried in lard, and nobody had ever heard of polyunsaturated fats.

If you left a waitress more than a dime tip, she knew for sure you were from out of town.

High school lads got their first lessons in feminine anatomy by sneaking into a burlesque show on Saturday afternoon. But they learned less than they do today by looking at the girdle ads in a woman's magazine.

There was no such thing as a joint family checking account. If a wife wanted a new bonnet, rather than ask her husband for the money she'd save it up from her household allowance.

Yes, that's how America used to be. Remember, old-timer?

No Cause To Remove Appendix In Fixing Hernia

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: If a doctor operates for any reason on the right side, in the vicinity of the appendix, isn't he supposed to remove the appendix? Can't he do this with or without the patient's consent?

I was operated on the right side, for a hernia, and five weeks later I returned to the hospital for an acute suppurative appendicitis. Shouldn't he have done both operations at the same time? —P. J. K.

No, there was no reason for him to remove the appendix, and in fact he had no right to do so without your consent.

Before an operation your sign a consent form, sanctioning the surgeon to do certain things. If, in an operation inside the abdomen, the surgeon finds a condition in which it is necessary to remove the appendix, naturally he is entitled to do so—and should.

Or, if in such circumstances, the appendix is found to be inflamed, removing it is obviously a part of the task of correcting the abdominal condition. Ordinarily, abdominal operations are done under a form of consent which includes such a problem. It is broad enough so that a surgeon, operating to remove a tumor, would be both empowered and obliged to remove two tumors if he found two. All of this is not a matter of legal fly-specking. It's just common sense.

But now let's take a hernia operation. The patient's consent would cover such surgery as might be necessary to repair the hernia.

This does not require penetration into the abdomen—inside the peritoneum, that is. It is an obvious wise axiom never to cut into any area without good cause for doing so. Risk, however slight, should not be incurred lightly. And entering the peritoneum involves added precautions.

Therefore your surgeon was entirely correct in what he did and did not do.

The fact that the appendix became acutely inflamed five weeks later is coincidental—unfortunate but still coincidental, and had nothing to do with the hernia operation.

There was no way, in repairing the hernia, that the surgeon could see the appendix or learn anything about its condition. And obviously if you yourself had had any advance indication that the appendix was going to flare up, you would have told him so.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have to watch my calories carefully. What is the difference between bread, toast and rusk, in calories? As I understand it, the difference is small, but it seems to me that I've heard that the toasting or drying process changes the nature of calories some way, so the effect on weight is different—that toast is less fattening than bread. I have asked dieticians about this, but they don't seem to give a definitive answer.—R. K.

I don't know why they shouldn't answer in plain language—except that the fable about dry toast has been repeated, so often that lots of people think it is true. Toasting (especially charring) drives off moisture, but there is precious little difference in calories between ordinary toast and bread. The only difference is that toast is harder to eat. A heavy eater can swallow two slices of nice soft bread in the time it takes him to chew one crisp slice of toast. And people who want to reduce probably are helped by sticking to hard-to-eat things instead of easy-to-eat items.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises—Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Potential Mental Break-Through

Two of the most promising discoveries that may relate to mental health—indeed to mental science—have come within a few months of each other. Combined, these developments may well open an entirely new field of science.

The first discovery was that of a young Houston prodigy who found that the sense organs could be bypassed, sending electromagnetic waves directly into the brain. The brain works on electrostatic principles and gives off electromagnetic radiations, and moreover is organized into complex circuits. Thus, the radiations given off by one circuit will create reactions in a similar circuit—whether those circuits be two radio sets, or a brain circuit offset by a complementary mechanical circuit.

IT IS POSSIBLE to send radio signals directly into the auditory channels of the brain, enabling a subject to sense words without actually hearing them. In reverse, a subject may "think" words without actually speaking them, and hear them over the receiving set.

Further development of this discovery may result in miniaturized electronic devices which may be tuned in to any human brain—which, generally, would mean direct mental control of hordes of robot machinery, and, specifically, the possibility of mental telepathy. For the field of mental health, this could mean direct and deep communication between doctor and patient.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY is that an electronic stimulation of selected portions of the brain causes a subject to re-live with full awareness any experience the operator may select. This is a decided advantage over hypnosis, in that the subject, instead of falling into a trance, is wide awake and fully cognizant of the fact that he is merely re-living a segment of his life. Under hypnosis age regression, the subject actually "lives" his traumas again.

THUS, WITH ELECTRONIC and electromagnetic circuitry, a doctor and a patient may establish complete telepathic rapport. A buried guilt conscience, for example, may be dug out of the subconscious and back into the light where patient and doctor may deal with it. Through the process of re-living traumas that brought about the condition, the patient with the doctor's help may establish new emotional reaction patterns to those traumas and thus neutralize the old patterns. With such weapons as these, even the now-hopeless mental cases might be cured.

Sound like pure fantasy? Well, it was just a few years ago that any suggestion that one take a flying leap at the moon was an insult instead of a compliment.

That Phone Monster Gets You

"Tell me not in mournful numbers—" commanded an American poet. Fortunately for his peace of mind, he was gathered to his fathers just as Alexander Graham Bell was getting ready to market his contraption.

Goodness knows how Henry Wadsworth Longfellow would have managed today, with mournful numbers all over the dial in every phase of modern life. Millions of Americans, like the poet, have no head for figures.

YET WE ARE slated to drown in a sea of digits. That gloomy prospect makes for nice contemplation as one grabs his number in the butcher shop, takes his place in line and tries to remember the integers on his Social Security card, his driver's license, his air travel card or his telephone credit card—just in case the butcher wants some kind of identification in exchange for cashing a check for such a major purchase as a standing rib roast.

UNTIL 48 HOURS ago I felt that the complete dehumanization of the telephone system, via canned messages piled on top of staggering numbers, was adding insult to impossibility. Since then, however, I have been wondering. At that time I discovered, more or less accidentally, that a few living, breathing human beings are still among the robots that control the phone system.

This discovery was made in a phone booth as I dialed a mid-town New York hotel. After I had fed a dime to the phone and correctly dialed the number, I was startled almost out of my wits to hear a human being—in person, not a recording—intoning over and over, "Twenty-five cents, please; twenty-five cents, please."

TORN BETWEEN delight at making human contact with someone out there and surprise that I was expected to pony up another 25 cents for a 10-cent local call, I began intoning, "Why do I have to pay another 25 cents?"

Eventually the goddess recognized the party of the second part and asked, "What num-bah are you calling?" When I read the seven digits to her, she told me what I already knew—that I was calling a local number and a dime should do the trick. She returned my dime and suggested I dial again.

SO I DIALED again, and once more she began her dulcet litany, "Twenty-five cents, please—please!" I again recited my chant, "why, why, why?" When the goddess asked me what num-bah I was calling, I reminded her that I was her old friend dialing that mid-town hotel. This time she checked the number, said it was the correct one, all right, and told me to dial again.

Finally, on the third go-round, the goddess tossed in the dialing system, digits and all, and suggested I throw myself on the mercy of the operator. So once more using the dime that was getting thinner by the minute, I dialed Operator, who turned out to be human, too.

"WHY ARE YOU calling me?" she asked impatiently. Hastily I explained that I had been referred to her by the 25-cent expert, who had been beaten by the system. Would she, the operator, please dial the number and check it for me?

Reluctantly the operator agreed to take a sporting chance. However, as she made this crucial concession, there came that final click indicating that my dime was gone beyond recall, swallowed up forever by the phone company. I frantically jiggled the hood, pleading, "Operator, operator!"

BUT THERE was only glacial silence. All communication between the telephone company and me was kaput. And I didn't have another dime or even two nickels. I was licked.

Lacking the physical strength to yank the instrument off the wall, I walked out of the booth in the frustrated knowledge that coming or going, either with figures or folks, the phone customer can't win. (Copyright, 1962, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Netherlands Under Growth Pressure

THE HAGUE, Netherlands—One of the amazing things about this little country is its industrial rebirth following World War II. Rotterdam, blasted almost out of existence by the Germans, is once again one of Europe's greatest ports.

The industrial belt extends from the outskirts of Rotterdam right across the country to Amsterdam, with the emphasis on electronics and electrical products. In their own version of the European miracle the Dutch have drawn heavily on brains and hard work.

WHILE THE LEVEL of social services is not so generous as in Sweden and Denmark, public welfare is nevertheless skillfully organized and other European countries look to the Netherlands as a model. Wage may not be raised without government approval, which is a discipline the unions accept. Public housing that has a more attractive appearance than the usual barracks-like type of construction is everywhere.

YET FOR ALL THIS organizing ability and the strong will to work, Holland had in 1960 the lowest per capita income of any Western country with the exception of Italy. It was $980 annually, which compares with $2,800 for the United States, $1,270 for France and $1,345 for Britain.

This may reflect the pressure of population, which shows no signs of slackening. It is a matter of concern to many Dutchmen who feel hemmed in and who are beginning to ask how it will be possible if the birth rate continues at its present level to preserve recreation areas or any place where one can have a sense of aliveness with nature. In the few good days when the sun shines in this dour climate, Scheveningen and the other beaches are more jammed than Coney Island.

EVEN IF GOVERNMENT had the intention of trying to put an artificial check on this growth it would be impossible if only because of the opposition of the Catholic party which is one of the partners in the prevailing coalition. The country is divided roughly 40 per cent Catholic and 40 per cent Protestant, with the balance among religious minorities or no religion at all.

More than a century ago the Dutch broke in fierce dissension over aid to education and the result was the formation of Catholic and Protestant parties, giving an extra dimension of emotional intensity to political life. The government helps the church schools of both Protestants and Catholics and they eye each other with unremitting watchfulness.

BUT THE SKILL with which life is organized is a tribute to the fact that for all their divisions the Dutch have managed thus far to strike a balance. Conscious of the greatness of their past and their powerful outward thrust in the age of discovery, these twelve million people live in the European midland between the two opposing giants. Inevitably it comes out: "Of course, we are dependent on you—on your nuclear deterrent."

To this observer it has seemed that nothing in the postwar era has so poisoned the atmosphere as the fact of dependence. It creates a sense of impotence which underscores every resentment. And there would seem to be no cure for it until somehow a balance of control can be struck and Europeans can again feel they control their own destiny. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The new terminal building at the Atlantic City Airport greets visitors with a mosaic mural on one wall, showing the city's skyline. Made of 55,000 pieces of tile, the mural is 51 feet long and 14 feet high. Each of the tiles is just over one inch square, and each was hand-painted and then baked, a process that took 18 months to complete.

Education Rally Day Set Sunday At Lutheran Church

"Every Christian a Teacher" will be the theme of the annual education rally day festivities at St. Paul Lutheran Church Sunday, according to Moran Oppgaard, chairman of the board of christian education.

The Sunday school hour at 9:30 a.m. will mark the end of another year of religious instruction. More than 150 pupils from kindergarten through the senior department will review the lessons of the final quarter. Class and department promotions will take place the first Sunday in October, A. A. Graumann, Sunday school superintendent, announced. The five pre-confirmation departments are staffed by 22 teachers and officers, including the superintendent.

Leading the children's procession for the 10:30 a.m. rally day service will be the pastor, the Rev. Clair Wiederhoff, and the teaching staff. After the sermon on the theme of the day, the pastor will solicit responsive pledges of faithfulness and diligence from teachers, parents, and pupils. A tract elaborating on the rally theme will be given to every family present.

A congregational potluck dinner will follow the service. Weather permitting, outdoor games will be led by faculty members—Mrs. Walter Pachall, Mrs. Elwyn Runstrum, and Mrs. Ray Cantrell. Ice cream and soft drinks will be served by members of the board of education.

A special feature of the Sunday school program will be sound motion picture, titled "India, Launch Out Into the Deep."

THE REMARKABLE CIRCUMSTANCES ATTENDING THE BIRTH OF A GREAT PROPHET, HIS FAITHFULNESS TO HIS DIVINE CALL AND FINAL MARTYRDOM

Scripture—Luke 1:5-25, 57-80; 3:1-80; Mark 6:14-29.

By N. SPEER JONES
THE STORY of the birth of John the Baptist and that of his death are so well known, that we will devote our space here to some historical background.

Our lesson opens, "In the days of Herod, king of Judea . . . This was the Herod who was called 'the Great,' the bold and unscrupulous ruler, who sought to destroy Christ by killing all the male babies in Bethlehem. His success fully kept himself in the good graces of the Roman powers, even through the troubled political waters at the time of Julius Caesar's death and subsequent struggles for power involving Marc Anthony, Cleopatra and Augustus.

As our story opens, he is almost on his deathbed, for he died in 4 B.C. When Herod died, his kingdom was divided. One of his sons, named also Herod, was given a tetrarchy, technically a fourth part; his share was Herod (Antipas) had first been married to a daughter of the Arabian king, Aretas. When he became infatuated with Herodias, whom he met on a visit to Rome, his Arabian wife learned of his plans to replace her and escaped to her father, who subsequently made war on Herod and defeated him. John the Baptist's condemnation of this intrigue was not only on the grounds of divorce, but of incest, for Herodias was Herod's sister-in-law and niece. The daughter of Herodias who danced so lasciviously for Herod at his birthday banquet was the famous Salome.

Luke 3:2 mentions the high-priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas. This is significant, for Mosaic law dictated that there should be only one high priest at a time, and the office was for life. Herod had ignored this law for political expediency. Annas, the true high priest, had been deposed; Caiaphas was the the provinces of Galilee and Perea. His full name was Herod Antipas, although the Bible often refers to him simply as Herod, thus making him easily confused with his father, Mark 6:14 also confuses the issue by referring to him as "king," a title he did not have. He was as unscrupulous as his father, but without strength of will.

A half-brother of Herod Antipas, named Herod Philip, inherited the tetrarchy of the districts east and northeast of the Lake of Galilee, the poorest section of his father's kingdom. Unlike his brother and father, he was an excellent ruler, just and peace-loving. It was to his territory that Christ often went, crossing the Sea of Galilee. The people there were chiefly Greeks and Syrians.

This Herod Philip is not to be confused with another brother of Herod Antipas, also named Philip, whose wife, Herodias, carried on the intrigue with Herod Antipas.

fourth to reign in his stead. Yet Annas, called the most astute man of his time, maintained his political power with the Jews. The wilderness where John preached was a barren, blistering area known as the Ghor, a great depression at the lower end of the Jordan River, where it enters the Dead Sea.

Perhaps the greatest significance of his preaching beyond the prophecy of the coming Messiah, was the inherent democracy of the rite he introduced—baptism. The Jews had used baptism, but only for certain segments of the population—the priests in their consecration, and the lepers and others thought to be unclean, to purify them. Now we have a leveling rite, to be participated in by all, Jew and Gentile, heathen and leper, publican and priest. It taught the basic humility and repentance necessary for all for the redemption of sin.

Urges Religion In Campus Life

By RONALD AUTRY
NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Does religion have a place in American higher education? The Society for Religion in Higher Education, an organization of distinguished educators, believes it does.

In this view it should be a genuine part of the curriculum and of campus life. It should influence the concept of the college and university. "If religion is included in campus life and in the intellectual dialogue," says the executive director, Lawrence P. DeBoer, "it makes a difference how educators view the educational process. It might well affect student-faculty relations and the goals of the university." One concern of the society is high-level instruction in religion at both public and private institutions. The study of religion, says De-

Boer, is one indispensable way to discover the source of values by which men live. It digs "into the roots of our Western traditions which perennially inform our culture."

Moreover, he says, the study of religion may help bridge the gaps between cultures by clarifying the basic differences in values and "discovering common ground." It is necessary to know Hinduism before India can be understood and similarly, DeBoer says, "you cannot know American life without an acquaintance with our Judeo-Christian heritage."

He emphasizes that "in the present world an adequate religion curriculum must include both Western and Eastern religions as well as the religions of underdeveloped countries. An understanding of native African religions is especially important now."

The society was formed officially Sept. 1 by the merger of two groups little known to the public but with prestige in educational circles.

They are the National Council on Religion in Higher Education and the Danforth Teaching Fellows. They long have had the common interest of religion in higher education.

TED JAMES
James To Join First Methodist As Music Director

Ted James, new music director for the First Methodist Church, will assume his duties here Oct. 7. He comes to Big Spring from the First Methodist Church at Garland, where he has led choir activities two years. A native of Wellington, where he graduated from public school in 1948, he received his degree in music education at McMurry College in 1952. He was a public school teacher seven years in the band and choir program. He was discharged from the Army and Reserve after 10 years service. The new director is married and he and Mrs. James have two children.

Are you interested in the Catholic Church? An inquiry class will begin Monday, Oct. 1, at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church rectory at 8 p.m. The classes will be held each Monday and Thursday at the same hour.
The reason you care to attend these classes—regardless of what it is—is entirely acceptable. Just remember you are welcome. The discussions will stress reason, not emotion; facts, not feelings. To be sound, religion must have an intellectual foundation. You will build convictions, not prejudices.

Give God A Chance—God Will Open Doors For You!

BEDTIME STORY

Ned always takes the children up to bed at night—it's something he wouldn't miss. What amazes our friends is the fact that they always go smilingly. No fuss, no tears.

That's Ned's doing. He has made our bedtime something very special for our youngsters. After he has tucked them in, he sits down and tells them a story, sometimes pure make-believe, but often, Ned takes his bedtime stories from the Bible.

At Christmas, he tells them the story of the Little Jesus. At Easter, he points out the beauty of Spring, and speaks of the wonders of hope and faith. He keeps the stories very simple... and how our kids love them! When they started Church School this past year, they felt as if they had re-discovered old friends, so familiar were Biblical names and places.

Some people feel that religion is too "deep" for small children. Ned and I don't. To us, learning about our Faith is a vital part of life. We would hate to have missed it ourselves... and we've no intention of having our children miss it. That's why, each Sunday, you'll be seeing us in Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Skill Saves Webbs Plane

Combined activities of Webb AFB air-ground flying control facilities, the fire department and a skillful pilot averted a possible T-37 jet aircraft accident Thursday.

Instructor pilot 1st Lt. Roger W. Wright, 3550th PT Squadron, while flying with his student, 2d Lt. David K. Vaughn, 3561st Student Squadron, discovered that his nose wheel was cocked 90 degrees from its proper position. A landing under these circumstances could result in a serious accident.

While Lt. Wright circled the field, the touch down portion of Webb's runway was covered heavily with fire fighting foam by the fire department. The thick foam is slick and if contacted properly on landing, would permit Lt. Wright's cocked nose wheel to slide along the runway until he could bring the aircraft to a stop.

Col. Rex D. Fryer, Webb's deputy commander, who witnessed the landing, said, "Lt. Wright did an excellent job of flying and all others concerned showed outstanding teamwork in responding to the emergency situation."

Minor Accidents Are Investigated

Three minor accidents, with no injuries reported, were investigated by Big Spring police during the past 24 hours.

Locations, and drivers of vehicles involved, were West Vieduc, Filomino Perez Franco, 314 NE 7th; 200 block Gregg, Faye Riggan Henry, Midland, and Miguel Sanchez, 107 NE 3rd; HCJC grounds, George Wiley Williams, 1308 Stadium, and Jerry Wayne Peurhoff, 1019 Stadium.

Sabin Vaccine Gets Go-Ahead In Martin County

Martin County will hold its Sabin oral polio mass immunization Oct. 29, according to Glen D. Bunn, administrator of the Physicians Clinic and Hospital in Stanton.

The drive was originally scheduled Sunday and was canceled upon recommendation of the U. S. Department of Health when a preliminary investigation revealed that Type III serum might cause some of its recipients to contract polio. Since then, however, the go-ahead signal has been given.

Type I vaccine will be distributed at the hospital. Dates will be set later for administering the other two types of the vaccine. Although there is no charge for the vaccine, small donations are being asked to cover the cost of the serum.

Dr. James Shy, Martin County health officer, is in charge of the immunization program. The hospital is sponsoring the drive.

Civilians Receive Service Pins

Nine civilian employees at Webb AFB received service awards this week.

Four were given 20 year pins. They include Delbert L. North, Inspector; Fred Doelp, civilian personnel staffer; Robert L. McCullough, C and E Group; and John T. Baker, vehicle maintenance man.

Five employees of the 3560th Civil Engineering Group were presented with 10-year pins in an informal ceremony in the office of Maj. Lawrence R. Casey, group commander. They include Lewis E. Way, protective maintenance section; Mrs. Joy Dugan, secretary to Casey; Curtis J. McNeely, pavement and grounds section; John E. Freeman, refrigeration shop; Adren Westbrook, painter section.

Clubs Schedule Saturday Sessions

Tri-Grays groups hold their second meeting of the year at the Y at 9 a. m. Saturday, according to Francis Flint, general secretary.

Crafts, gym activities and swimming are scheduled. Guests are welcome. Flint said Mrs. Mamie Dodds is advisor for the program which is open to all girls in grades four through six.

Grays clubs will hold flag football practice sessions at 9 a. m. at the Y Saturday. These will be followed with swimming.

A family swim is scheduled from 7-9 p. m. to round out Saturday's program at the Y.

Officers Check Teen-Age Reports

Big Spring police received three calls Thursday night reporting teen-agers fighting, ganging up, and causing disturbance. One turned out to be initiation of students in the city park.

One report came from the Big "M" where a large crowd of youngsters gathered to be getting out of hand. A call from the Big Spring Country Club, said from 30 to 40 cars were parked at the entrance and that a fight appeared to be in progress. The sheriff's department was notified of the manager's request to have the cars moved.

Attendance Trophy Goes To Den 1

Den 1 claimed the attendance trophy at the Pack 1 meeting in Airport School Thursday night. The den also put on a skit for the more than 50 persons present.

Silver arrows went to Randy Hoovers, George Cole, and Gregg Hickman. Larry Ringner received his denner's stripe and Michael Gearhart, assistant denner's stripe. New boys were recruited and refreshments were served.

Park Bill Called No 'Give Away'

AUSTIN (AP) — The Padre Island National Seashore Area bill is no "give away," Albert B. Fay, Republican candidate for land commissioner claims.

will do everything in his power to persuade the Texas Legislature to grant the federal government to buy the 80.5-mile stretch of the island designated as a national seashore area.

"Unlike my opponent, I have been in favor of a Padre Island park ever since I first heard of the idea," Fay said. He is running against Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler.

Particle May Have Hit Mariner

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Scientists say Mariner 2 spacecraft was knocked out of its orientation to sun and earth on Sept. 8 but quickly regained its proper position. A micrometeorite apparently hit the Venus-bound craft and spun it on its axes but automatic devices righted it. Jet Propulsion Laboratory officials said.

Air Trip Tied To Campaign

Purchasers of an Allis-Chalmers tractor will get an air trip to Milwaukee during early December to see the company's Land of Power.

The campaign, being instituted on a national basis, is as simple as its slogan of "buy a tractor and take a trip," said Jerrold Walker, partner in Walker Brothers, local distributors.

The three-day, expense-paid trip will include visits to the company's plants in Milwaukee and Harvey, Ill. A tour of the 160-acre manufacturing complex at Milwaukee will feature display of 25,000 power tools producing capital goods for almost every industry as well as wheel and crawler tractors for the farm. The Harvey tour will include the new multi-million dollar engine manufacturing facility. A third day of entertainment and sight seeing will be spent in Chicago.

Each participating dealer will make his firm the Power Task Force headquarters for his territory, providing extra services during the campaign. There also will be demonstration schedules and an opportunity to test drive wheel and crawler tractors. Dealers as well as company salesmen will also be able to qualify for the air trip.

Dick Powell Under Cancer Treatment

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I always insist on the truth because there is too much at stake," said actor-producer Dick Powell. Then he calmly told newsmen that he's under treatment for cancer.

The versatile show business veteran was cheerful throughout the discussion of his condition Thursday and said he was confident of making a full recovery.

Alluding to his apparent good health, he asked with a smile: "Do I look like a terminal case?"

Powell, 57, and his wife, actress June Allyson, met with newsmen in the couple's Beverly Hills home.

The actor-producer, who heads the highly successful and prolific Four Star Productions, then disclosed that he has been receiving radiation treatments for a malignancy on a gland on the right side of his neck and another in a pocket in his chest.

Powell said he had been hesitant about talking of his illness until "all these rumors got all over town."

"One rumor," he said, "had me having a tremendous heart attack. Now that I know so much about cancer I am more afraid of getting pneumonia."

He explained that he had received six radiation treatments at the UCLA Medical Center and added that the physician in charge, Dr. Justin Stein, "is pleased with my progress and told me he expects to eliminate the condition."

Powell said he'll return to his studio Tuesday to complete six television shows in which he will appear under contract to the NBC network. Next spring he hopes to leave for San Francisco aboard his 63-foot cruiser.

The onetime star of movie musicals said his current illness first came to his attention a few weeks ago when he was in New York City for appearances on the "Today" and "What's My Line" television shows. He awakened one morning and couldn't open his eyes.

"My face was all puffed up but I went on and did the shows," Powell said.

The same thing happened later in Cincinnati, he said, but in each case the trouble was diagnosed as an allergy.

When he returned home, Powell's personal physician ordered laboratory tests which disclosed the malignancies.

Powell insisted that he is not in distress.

"I feel healthier now than I ever have," he said. "I get eight or nine hours of sleep a night. Formerly I was getting five hours."

Showdown Draws Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was a day of gray skies, rain and tension in Washington.

For once, Berlin and Havana were pushed into the background. The city of crisis had become a usually quiet college town of 5,000 in the Deep South—Oxford, Miss.

Helmeted and club-carrying Mississippi peace officers awaited an expected big push by U.S. marshals to put James H. Meredith, a Negro, into the all-white University of Mississippi.

For days the conflict between the federal government and the state of Mississippi had spattered and flared. Thursday a showdown was brewing.

Reporters felt that something was in the wind as they crowded the Justice Department press room — just across the corridor from the office of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

For most of the morning — and afternoon, too—Kennedy was closeted with his top aides receiving reports and mapping strategy. Late in the morning he discussed the situation with his brother, the President, at the White House.

state of Mississippi were on a collision course.

At 7 o'clock, Robert Kennedy returned to the Justice Department wearing a fresh shirt but not saying where he had been.

Newsmen pressed Guthman. Had the attorney general slipped off to have a word with the President before the chief executive flew off to Wheeling, W.Va., for a political speech? Guthman said definitely no.

About 47 minutes later the showdown was off—Meredith and his guard of marshals had been called back lest there be "major violence and bloodshed," said the attorney general. But he added bluntly: "Mr. Meredith will be registered."

Minutes later it was reported, then confirmed, that one of the Army's top generals—Maj. Gen. Creighton Abrams Jr., director of operations for the Army's deputy chief of staff for operations—had slipped into Kennedy's office and conferred for about 40 minutes with the attorney general.

Informed sources indicated they discussed arrangements for sending troops into Mississippi, if it should be decided they are needed.

Care For Victims Of Thalidomide

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German government will provide 3,600,000 marks ($900,000) for artificial limbs and hospital care of children born deformed because of the drug thalidomide.

Health Minister Dr. Elisabeth Schwarzhaupt announced Thursday that 600,000 marks ($150,000) will be distributed this year and the rest next year.

The minister said 6,000 German children were born with various deformities because of the German-made tranquilizer. About 1,000 of the children will have to wear some sort of artificial limbs and require special care for most of their lives, the minister said.
