

Pig Show Auction Brings Good Prices

Frank Neill, Big Spring FFA member, whose 205-pound barrow was rated grand champion of the Howard County 4-H and FFA Pig Show Thursday, is $274.75 richer today by virtue of his achievement.

His prize winning barrow sold last night at the auction, which formally closed the show, for $125 a pound. The buyers were a syndicate comprising Clyde McMahon, River Funeral Home, Texas Electric Service Co. and the Herald.

In addition to the $256.75 paid for the animal at the auction, Neill won $10 first prize for best barrow in the heavy class and an extra $10 for the grand championship. However, to compete, he had paid in an entry fee of $2 which was deducted from his profit.

David Adkins, 4-H clubber, sold his 195-pound reserve champion barrow for $1 a pound to First National Bank.

Across the board, other than for the two top animals sold, the average price was slightly better than 36 cents a pound for the 30 barrows sold. This was more than double the market price for hogs Thursday at Fort Worth. By-bidders bought back the pigs for 17.50 cents a pound for hogs 180 pounds and over and 17 cents for hogs under 180 pounds. Herb Helbig, county agent, said the prices were exceptionally good.

Announcements were made that the master showman of the show was a 4-H club youngster whose pig placed ninth in the lightweight barrow class. He is Glenn Holley, son of Mrs. Wiley Holley, Gail Route.

Glenn is no newcomer in the pig show field. He has been a top competitor in the shows for several years. Judge Euel Linder of Lubbock tapped him as master showman, even though the judge would not rate his entry higher than ninth spot. Hamilton Optical bought Glenn's pig for 36 cents a pound. Glenn is the proud owner of the 1962 showmanship trophy. The Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored the show and members of that organization were on hand to handle the details of the sale. Dub Bryant was auctioneer.

New Motion Lost At White Slave Trial

AUSTIN (AP)—Defense attorneys lost a second try today to get a directed verdict of innocent in the white slavery trial of Roy Lee Dunn of Orange.

Federal Judge Joe Fisher overruled defense attorneys' second motion for a directed verdict.

Opposing attorneys then began closing arguments. The case was expected to go to the jury during the afternoon.

Dunn is charged with violation of the Mann Act, which prohibits transportation of a woman across state lines for immoral purposes. The government contends Dunn was instrumental in a trip made last year by Lynn Willis Young from Oklahoma to Bryan.

Ole Miss Campus Appears Peaceful

Meredith In Cafeteria Draws Stares

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Negro James H. Meredith ate breakfast in the school cafeteria today and headed into the final classes of his first week at the University of Mississippi.

Federal marshals—still the reduced force of three men—accompany the 29-year-old Negro into the cafeteria, where he got his own plate and ate at a table with them.

People stared, but nothing more.

Meredith plans to leave the campus later for a weekend holiday—destination unannounced.

A restless peace hung over the campus at the end of a week that started with bloodshed. Federal government officials described the situation as "fairly tense."

An indication that calm had returned to the 114-year-old university, scene of last Sunday's riots and two killings resulting from Meredith's enrollment, was the reduction of the military force on hand.

Some 3,500 Mississippi National Guardsmen, pressed into service by President Kennedy just before the riots, will be released tonight and another 4,500 got orders to return home.

The weekend was expected to be quiet in Oxford, after the Department of Defense ordered the homecoming football game between Ole Miss and Houston switched to Jackson, about 170 miles south. Authorities feared the 30,000 expected fans might have caused new incidents at Oxford.

CLAIMS FOUL

Little Millsaps College claimed foul and said the transferred game would interfere with its game in Jackson at the same time.

The Meredith story had other developments Thursday.

Meredith used the library and ate in the university cafeteria for the first time. A few eyebrows cocked and there were some insults hurled when he left, but mostly the incidents were without disorder. A white student sat with Meredith, but did not eat.

The Justice Department said its force of 450 marshals would be reduced by 75 per cent within the next week.

The halls of the Mississippi Legislature echoed with criticism of the Kennedy administration. Rep. Russell Davis joked that U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy would referee the Ole Miss-Houston game and House Speaker Walter Sillers observed that if he did Ole Miss was "beaten before it starts."

MANY INJURED

The Justice Department disclosed a total of 166 marshals including specially deputized border patrolmen and Bureau of Prison personnel, were wounded during last Sunday's riots.

Suspect In Williams Death Is Held Here Without Bond

A Negro ex-convict, who has a past record for robbery by assault, is being held without bond in the beating death of Stanley Williams, aged retired farmer, Aug. 26.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said that the man in jail is Earl Don Green, 23, and that Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace, has refused to set bond in the man's case.

"We believe he had a part in the slaying of Mr. Williams," Jones said. "We intend to hold him while we dig further into the case."

Williams was located in Colorado by Bobby West, special investigator, and City Detective Jack Jones last week. He and a companion returned with the two officers and went to Fort Worth where they were subjected to polygraph tests. Green's companion was exonerated and released but Green was ordered held for further investigation.

"We have filed a charge of murder with malice against Green," Jones said.

He added that the Negro had been sent to the state penitentiary from Big Spring Nov. 9, 1959 to serve a five year term for robbery by assault. He was released from prison July 23 and was reportedly in Big Spring Aug. 26, the night that an intruder broke into the Williams' residence at 517 N. Benton.

Mr. Williams was so badly beaten by his assailant that he died of his injuries a few days later. Mrs. Williams, also beaten, recovered from her injuries. A investigation into the case has been under way ever since.

Mrs. Williams told officers the intruder took $40 from the house. Mr. Williams' billfold, emptied of its contents, was found blocks from the Williams' house.

Mrs. Williams, confused and shocked by the attack, was unable to give officers much help in their search for her husband's slayer.

Jones said that the case is not closed and that the investigation by police and other authorities is being pushed ahead.

"We have reason to believe that Green is implicated in the slaying," said the district attorney, "and we want to complete our investigation."

Green is being held in jail and was being subjected to additional interrogation today.

Annual Farm Bureau Meet Set Saturday

The Howard County Farm Bureau family will come together Saturday evening for its annual meeting.

Officials are anticipating a crowd in excess of 300—they hope much larger.

Activities will start with a dinner at the Howard County Fair Barns at 7 p.m., followed by an address by Delbert Downing, Midland.

At the business meeting subsequent to Downing's address, four directors (half of the board) will be elected for two-year terms.

Delegates will be named to the state convention in San Antonio and resolutions will be acted upon.

Loy Acuff, chairman of the membership campaign, also is due to report. Howard County is seeking to round out its enlistment campaign in order that district No. 6 can be the first in the state to reach its quota.

Neil Fryar, president of the Howard County chapter, will preside over the annual membership meeting.

Ready To Go

United Fund Progress Being Measured In Leaps, Bounds

United Fund progress is being measured in leaps and bounds at central headquarters, Dr. Lee Rogers, campaign manager, said this morning.

Optimistic reports continue to come in from those divisions that have launched their portions of the annual effort. Many of the divisions will kickoff activities later in the month.

The employees division, under Randall Polk, already has one firm reported in with 100 per cent, and it only began work Thursday. It is the State National Bank. At Webb AFB, Col. Charles W.

Head, UF project officer, pointed out that several smaller groups have reached their goal and the Metropolitan-Latin American division turned out to make plans for its effort. This enthusiastic group will begin work Oct. 18.

Meanwhile, members of the special gifts division are making last minute arrangements to launch its work Monday morning. Champ Rainwater and John Currie are co-chairmen of this division.

The United Fund lends support to 13 local youth guidance and welfare organizations. The goal this year is $103,324, considerably lower than the amount that was raised last year.

Astronaut Admits Goof—Overuse Of Attitude Fuel

ABOARD USS KEARSARGE in Pacific (AP)—Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., who flew his Sigma 7 spacecraft so precisely he landed almost dead center on target, feels he made one goof.

A space agency spokesman reported Thursday night that the Navy commander, for an unspecified period, used two systems to control his craft's attitude in space. There was a consequent double usage of vital fuel—which he in contrast was trying to conserve.

However, when the time came to start down at the end of the sixth orbit, Schirra was quoted as saying his instruments showed he still had 78 per cent of his attitude control fuel left.

"That presumably prompted him earlier to say his sensationally precise six-orbit flight on Wednesday was "a definite step forward in terms of scientific accomplishment."

And a spokesman called the flight extremely smooth in terms of pilot performance and spacecraft systems operation.

Lt. Col. John Powers, spokesman of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Schirra's 78 per cent fuel still was much more than earlier astronauts had at the same point in their flights.

He said the amount of fuel left after Schirra positioned his craft for re-entry had not been measured.

Schirra estimated he had enough fuel left when he landed in the Pacific for several more orbits if they had been required. The fuel is hydrogen peroxide, which is converted into steam jets that turn the craft around in space.

During technical discussions with engineers and five fellow astronauts, Schirra said that several times in flight he felt that too many people were talking to him by radio.

Powers explained that the astronaut's communication with the ground is by high frequency radio and that even if two people are checking out their system in Australia, the astronaut hears them.

Trustees OK 5 New Rooms

Trustees Thursday decided on five classrooms in the new permanent addition to Marcy Elementary School and set a date for opening bids on the project.

Originally, they had planned to add four classrooms to the south wing of the school and to build a bathroom adjacent to the south wing. The new plans call for a rectangular addition to the south wing, with three classrooms on the north side of a hallway and two classrooms and two toilets on the south side of the hallway.

The addition will be the same type of construction as the original building. Classrooms will be the same size. Total size of the addition is 5,560 square feet.

The action was taken at a called noon luncheon meeting at Cosden Country Club. Visitors included William Wades, principal of Marcy, Don Crockett, and Atmar Atkinson, architectural consultant.

Bids will be opened at 2 p.m., Oct. 30, in the Marcy cafeteria.

Trustees set a maximum of 240 calendar days for completion of the work and included a liquidated damages clause with penalty of $100 a day. A minimum wage was established according to Texas legal requirements.

The building should be completed by the end of June, 1963 and ready for occupancy at the beginning of the next school year.

A sketch of a proposed building for the Kentwood school site was shown to trustees. No action was taken.

Present for the meeting were Wendal Parks, Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, Joe A. Moss, O. S. Womack and Johnny Johnson.

Billie Sol's Home May Be Changed Into A Motel

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Chronicle said it learned today the $100,000 Pecos home of Billie Sol Estes may be converted into a motel.

Rumors of the conversion spread in Pecos after Word Estes, brother of Billie Sol, applied to change the zoning of his brother's property from residential to commercial.

The Pecos planning and zoning commission set a hearing for Oct. 22.

Word Estes had no comment when asked by the Chronicle if the requested change is aimed at motel use of his brother's house.

Soviets Accuse U. S. Naval Aide Of Spying

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government today accused Cdr. Raymond D. Smith, the assistant U.S. naval attaché at the embassy here, of espionage. He was ordered to leave the country immediately.

It was assumed that Smith's expulsion was ordered in retaliation for the expulsion from the United States this week of two members of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations accused of buying defense secrets from a U.S. sailor.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry ordered Smith's expulsion in a note handed to U.S. Consul James R. McSweeney this morning.

The Soviet note said Smith had "carried out espionage through observation of military objects."

"He had detailed maps and notes and special apparatus the nature of which left no doubt he was engaged in espionage," the note said.

The Soviet news agency Tass said: "On Oct. 2, competent Soviet organs detained in Leningrad an unknown person who conducted careful observations of a military object.

"The detained person was found today to be the assistant U.S. naval attaché, Raymond Smith. He had with him detailed maps, notes and special apparatus, which prove without doubt that Smith was engaged in spying."

There was no immediate comment from Smith or the embassy.

Moscow radio said McSweeney had been told: "The Ministry of Foreign Affairs is lodging a firm protest to the embassy in connection with Smith's spying activities which are incompatible with his status as a diplomat and considers the further stay of Smith in the Soviet Union undesirable."

The U.S. consul said he had rejected the protest as well as the charges that Smith was engaged in espionage, "but as usual in these cases we are complying with the ministry's wishes."

Smith was detained and questioned by Soviet authorities Tuesday while on a trip to Leningrad.

The naval officer, married with three children, arrived in Moscow last June.

Embassy officials said Smith and his family might leave Monday if transportation could be arranged.

Smith, 41, from Brooklyn, N.Y., attended Brooklyn Polytechnic High School, studied at Columbia University and was graduated with an engineering degree from Tufts University, Medford, Mass. He received his Navy commission Oct. 20, 1945, and was promoted to commander in August 1957.

Light Rains Patter Down

Light showers which pattered through with steady regularity throughout most of Thursday night and into Friday morning, provided around 20 of an inch of moisture for most of the county.

The rains did not do any particular damage nor any real good, according to farmers. Actually, if the farmers had been given their choice, they would have preferred no rains.

They want the bright sun on all possible days to hasten as much as possible the ripening of the late cotton in their fields.

Cloudy skies hung over the city Friday and there was a heavy dampness in the air.

Each time the rains arise, they bring to a halt the widespread poisoning activities of farmers who are battling another in a series of boll worm and leaf worm invasions. The cool weather slows the worms to a slight degree but not enough to offset the loss of time in the poison campaign.

Stock Market Holds To Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to hold a gain in slow trading late this afternoon.

Volume for the day was estimated at 2.7 million shares compared with 2.53 million Thursday.

Gains of fractions to about a point were the general rule for key stocks. A few of the more volatile issues moved more widely.

American Killed In S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—An American was killed and two were wounded today in what U.S. sources termed a major encounter with Communist guerrillas in the swampy Mekong River delta.

An estimated 100 Communist guerrillas and 20 government soldiers were killed in the operations, informants said.

HONG KONG (AP)—The Soviet Union has closed its consulate in Shanghai, Red China's biggest city, the South China Morning Post reported Thursday.

Consulate Closed

Embassy officials said Smith and his family might leave Monday if transportation could be arranged.

Smith, 41, from Brooklyn, N.Y., attended Brooklyn Polytechnic High School, studied at Columbia University and was graduated with an engineering degree from Tufts University, Medford, Mass. He received his Navy commission Oct. 20, 1945, and was promoted to commander in August 1957.

Peanuts, Pensions Keep Congress Busy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hot feelings over peanuts and pensions kept Congress in groping uncertainty today over when it could bring its session to an end.

Right after the Senate met for what some hoped would be a dash toward a finish line Saturday night, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., won a vote that it would stand by its position on the multi-billion-dollar farm appropriation bill. That's where the peanuts come in.

The Senate is insisting on about $25 million for a number of research facilities including a $16-million peanut marketing laboratory at Dawson, Ga. The House is resisting just as hard, so there is a deadlock on a bill that must get final action before Congress adjourns.

The pensions issue is in a bill now at the White House. It would permit self-employed persons to establish pension plans for themselves.

Congressional advocates of this idea are apprehensive that President Kennedy would like to veto it.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., chief Senate sponsor of the bill, said he had had no word at all as to whether the President would sign it.

Another must matter before adjournment is final action on the foreign aid appropriations bill. Senate-House conferees agreed today on a $3,928,000,000 bill, but the House and Senate still must act. The total is $298 million more than the House originally voted and $494 million less than the Senate put in its bill.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, asked if he thought Congress would adjourn Saturday night, had a two word reply: "Hope so."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader, told a reporter he was quite confident of adjournment by Saturday night.

Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, House Democratic leader, voiced similar views but not so strongly.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of Republican senators, said he feared it would not be until next Tuesday.

One Part Of Jobs Picture Brightens

WASHINGTON (AP)—Total U.S. unemployment last month was the lowest in two years.

But the rate of joblessness remained at the high August level of 5.8 per cent and total employment declined.

These and other job figures reported Thursday by the Labor Department presented an alternately rosy and dour picture.

On the plus side:
The 3,512,000 unemployed in September were 420,000 fewer than the number out of work in August. The September figure was the smallest since September 1960, just before the last recession.

The number of job holders, 68,668,000, topped any previous September.

The ranks of the hard-core unemployed—those without jobs for six months or longer—thinned by 100,000. Their number, a little below 500,000, was the lowest in two years.

On the gloomy side:
The flow of an unusually large number of housewives and out-of-school teen-agers to the job market kept the unemployment rate up. Thus the jump from 5.3 per cent in July to 5.8 per cent in August was not so temporary as department officials had expected.

The drop of 1.1 million from August in the number of Americans at work was about one-third larger than usual.

CHIPPER'S BACK HOME

Chipper the prairie dog is home again, and everybody is happy.

Chipper skipped away from his owners, Donald and Pam Harper, day before yesterday, and a distress report was printed in The Herald.

Then, Thursday afternoon young Jimmy Graves saw a dog chasing Chipper and went to the little animal's rescue. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Graves, 1905 Settles, had read about the missing pet, and called the Harpers. Happy ending.

The Hat Sat, And That's That

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When the defense lawyer showed up for trial of a conspiracy case, the judge objected—to her hat.

Elinor Chandler Duncan was wearing a feathery black one and Judge Kenneth E. Sutherland suggested it might distract the jury.

Mrs. Duncan declined to remove her bonnet and moved for a mistrial. The motion was denied.

Then, the second day of the trial, she appeared in a white hat—a turban type with a large red rose pinned to one side.

Again the court suggested she take off her hat, and again she refused.

Said Mrs. Duncan during a recess: "I wear a hat because I don't have time to have my hair done."

Mrs. Duncan's husband is attorney Frank P. Duncan. His mother, Elizabeth Ann Duncan, was executed at San Quentin Prison on Aug. 8 for the murder-by-hire of his first wife.

Better Still, Avoid Sickness

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Need a nurse?

If you do, avoid the stony one—and the one who's too obliging.

Dr. Genevieve Burton of the University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing says the nurse with a "wall of stony aloofness" is covering up feelings of insecurity and inadequacy.

And, she said, "the nurse who is too warm, too unselfish, too obliging—because of the tremendous need to be liked—frequently leaves her co-workers and patients feeling a heavy burden of obligation and ultimately resentment."

Dr. Burton addressed the New Jersey Nurses Association.

Watch Him, He Might Jump Bail

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Judge Gerald J. Klein said a traffic offender—one of the last of 200 cases he handled in a single night—paid a $10 fine and then hopped across the courtroom, bounding up and down.

"Why are you walking that way?" the judge asked.

"If I'm in a kangaroo court I thought I ought to act like a kangaroo," the man replied.

The judge lectured him on the dignity of courts, then let him go.

Kovacs' First Wife Weds Again

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The late Ernie Kovacs' first wife, who recently lost a California court fight for custody of her two daughters, has remarried.

The former Bette Kovacs told a newsman she married Larry Walizer, sales manager of a Jacksonville real estate firm, at Kingsland, Ga.

Actress Edie Adams, widow of Kovacs, was awarded custody of the two girls, Bette Lee, 15, and Kippie Raleigh, 13, at Los Angeles Sept. 13.

Wisdom Of Solomon, Reversed

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Jim Parks told City Court Judge Beverly Boushe that the disorderly conduct charge against him was due to a quarrel over a woman.

Boushe asked: "Just how old does a man have to be before he's too old to be fighting over women?"

Parks, 75, pondered briefly, then replied: "I really can't answer that I reckon you'll just have to ask somebody older than me."

The charge was dismissed.

THE WIND BLOWETH

By T. H. Farbel, preacher
Church of Christ, 2800 West Highway 50
P.O. Box 1285

There is a tendency to shroud with mystery the new birth. Men say it is "something better felt than told." They quote this verse: "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth; so is every one that is born of the Spirit" (Jno 3:8). They then comment that the new birth is like the wind. But the verse did not say that. It said the one that is born of the Spirit is like the wind. In other words, the inner man is the one born of the spirit, and it cannot be seen.

However, the changes made on the inner man, are wrought through the powerful word of God, which like a two edged sword pierces the heart (Heb. 4:12; Rom. 10:17; Acts 2:37). And the new birth is completed when he is obedient to the word, for it is sometimes called, obeying the gospel (II Thess. 1:8; I Pet. 4:17).

Plan now to be with us Sunday. Bible classes, 9:30 a.m.; worship, 10:30 and 7. Sermons: "The Church in Her Former Glory" and "A Good Conscience." You are always welcome! —adv.

Schirra Sees Flight As A Forward Step

By RALPH DIGHTON

ABOARD USS KEARSARGE in Pacific (AP)—Relaxing today in hull sessions with five of his six fellow astronauts, Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra said his six-orbit earth-girdle "was a definite step forward in terms of scientific accomplishment."

He did not elaborate, but it was known that the major objective of Schirra's flight Wednesday—from a Cape Canaveral launching to a near-bulldoze landing 9 hours, 13 minutes and 170,000 miles later near this carrier—was to minimize use of the attitude control fuel supply. This overrode all other scientific objectives.

An 18-orbit, 28-hour mission is proposed for early next year that would push the two-ton Mercury capsule to its maximum endurance, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said. This is because of the limit on attitude control fuel capacity.

Schirra reduced use of the control fuel by drifting for about half of the flight, said spokesman Ben James. During this time, the Navy commander made no attempt to control and stabilize the capsule's position in relation to the earth.

Schirra described his drifting flight as "a very nice feeling. I felt as if I was on top of a trajectory," he added, using a pilot's term to describe the sensation when a jet plane reaches the top of a climb.

The astronaut reiterated he had "encountered no ill effect at all" for having been weightless and was able to function "as you would on the ground with no limitations."

Five of the six other astronauts were flown aboard the Kearsarge Thursday by carrier plane from Midway. They and Schirra retired to his admiral's cabin to discuss and evaluate his reports.

The astronauts, who arrived with a group of space agency doctors and technicians, are Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.; Navy Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm Scott Carpenter; Air Force Maj. Virgil I. Grissom; Air Force Maj. Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. and Air Force Maj. Donald K. (Deke) Slayton.

Schirra told them he had seen the same astronomic phenomena as Glenn and Carpenter on their orbits.

These included snowflakes, and a blazing sunset in which the sun appeared flat on the horizon.

The capsule already has been lifted by helicopter to Midway, from where it will be flown to Houston, Tex. for detailed study by NASA technicians.

NEW YORK (AP)—Roman Catholicism maintains it is the "one true Church."

However, when its historic 2nd Vatican Council convenes Oct. 11 in Rome, representatives of other communions also will be officially seated in the solemn assembly.

They also are somehow part of Christianity, Rome recognizes, even though nominally outside the "one true Church."

It is a subtle but significant point, and offers a dramatic undecurrent to the council, first of its kind in nearly a century, and market in each country. He pointed out that the survey showed significant growth in manufacturing activity but in agriculture and construction, which employ more than half the people in Latin America, there was stagnation or decline.

One reason so much attention was placed on the external sector was that better statistics were available, the U. S. delegate suggested.

Peru told the committee it felt that statistics based on financial figures alone failed to reflect the true picture of economic and social conditions.

It was pointed out that Peru has achieved the minimum five per cent rate of growth recommended by the alliance for progress but this does not reflect the true situation of widespread poverty.

Peru declared that means of determining growth should take into account social factors as well as economic ones.

Mexico observed that one of the key problems is reflected in the decline of fixed investments in Latin American in the past five years.

Goldwater Says Barnett Wrong But Within Rights

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., says he disagrees with the actions of Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett but that he thinks Barnett was within his rights.

The conservative spokesman was peppered with questions Thursday by students at the University of Louisville, where he spoke earlier. They asked him his views on the Mississippi integration crisis and Barnett's role in blocking Negro James H. Meredith's admission to the University of Mississippi for a time.

"I am totally opposed to segregation of any sort," Goldwater said, "but I don't believe the Supreme Court finding outlawing school segregation) is the supreme law of the land. I disagree with Governor Barnett and think what he has done is distasteful, but I think he has a constitutional right to do it."

He said he would like to see the contempt proceedings against Barnett go to the Supreme Court.

"Then we would have grounds to say if the (1954) decision has the teeth of law," he said.

Presence Of Outsiders Holds Portent For Vatican Council

EDITOR'S NOTE: For the first time, this year's Vatican Council will be attended by observers from other denominations. This is listed in an indication of growing union among Christians. Here, in the last of three articles, an Associated Press writer who will attend explores what this may mean in future years.

the only one ever held under Rome's auspices to be attended by those not in its fold.

Although the Protestant, Anglican and other "delegate-observers" will have no direct voice in the decisions, their presence will be felt, and their views may exercise a latent side effect on the proceedings.

CLEAR ROADBLOCKS

One purpose of the council, says Pope John XXIII, is to help "clear away some of the roadblocks" to Christian reunion. He himself has been a prime mover in renewing links with Protestantism and Eastern Orthodoxy.

"Separated brethren," he calls them.

Although the council intends no direct moves for reunion at present, the fact that this is a future, inherent goal has been a paramount point of public interest in

Hemisphere Seeks Ways To Implement Alliance

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Inter-American Economic and Social Council delegates continued discussions today on means to implement the alliance for progress program.

One group undertook a general review Thursday of Latin America's economy.

The United States told the session that a survey prepared by the secretary of the Organization for American States and the U. N. Economic Commission for Latin America appeared too concerned with the development of the external sector of the economy.

The report sums up the economy of Latin America in 1961 as one of relative stagnation. It deals with foreign trade, which accounts for about 15 per cent of the economies.

But, it would, in the view of many church authorities, provide a basis for reciprocity and stimulate effort toward understanding and to overcome differences, when possible.

"The non-Roman churches hope," said Dr. Visser t'Hooft, "that the 2nd Vatican Council will mean progress from monologue to dialogue."

"It is important that progress be made toward a conversation in which the Roman Catholic Church and other churches, without compromising deeply held convictions, deal with each other as Christian churches should be have to each other."

Hemisphere Seeks Ways To Implement Alliance

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Inter-American Economic and Social Council delegates continued discussions today on means to implement the alliance for progress program.

One group undertook a general review Thursday of Latin America's economy.

The United States told the session that a survey prepared by the secretary of the Organization for American States and the U. N. Economic Commission for Latin America appeared too concerned with the development of the external sector of the economy.

The report sums up the economy of Latin America in 1961 as one of relative stagnation. It deals with foreign trade, which accounts for about 15 per cent of the economies.

the council, both among Catholics and others.

From pulpits of nearly every kind have come expressions of hope—and doubts—about possible steps in this direction.

Leaders of the Episcopal, United Presbyterian, Lutheran, Greek Orthodox and other churches in this country, as well as denominational officials abroad, have urged prayers among their members in the council's behalf.

CAUSE OF UNITY

"All Christians, whatever be their confession, hope and pray that this historic event will serve to advance the cause of unity for which our Lord prayed," says the Rev. Dr. W. A. Visser t'Hooft, general secretary of the World Council of Churches.

One key zone of past tension, already relaxed in some measure and which conceivably may be eased further, has been Rome's traditional aloofness from other denominations, on the ground that it is the only true Church.

Some Catholic scholars see the possibility of a fresh interpretation of that tenet. Such action, says the Rev. Robert J. Graham, a Jesuit scholar, could "further a new approach by Catholics" to interdenominational relations.

Although Rome stands fast on the immutability of its basic doctrines, it also holds that fuller exposition of them can sometimes bring wider consensus, without compromise of truth or conviction.

NATURE OF CHURCH

Such efforts may be focused on defining the nature of the Christian Church itself, and whether or not its full and authentic dimensions, in some ways, exceed Rome's institutional lines, with other churches sharing it to some extent.

This fundamental question has been before the Church for centuries, says Augustin Cardinal Bea, head of the Vatican's Secretariat for Christian Union, but has never been dealt with "in a complete and profound manner."

One proposal is that the council make absolutely clear that valid baptism, although conferred outside Roman Catholicism, joins a person to Christ and, at least in part, to His Church, thus affirming that true aspects of the church extend beyond Rome's administration.

This wouldn't automatically

Autumn Notes

Mrs. Etchison Hosts HD Club

Mrs. Wayman Etchison was hostess Thursday for a salad luncheon for the Lomax Home Demonstration Club. Eight members answered roll call by telling something they knew about 4-H work.

The devotion was given by Mrs. Neil Fryar after which members worked on individual crafts for the program. Mrs. James Moore gave the council report. The club will meet October 18 in the home of Mrs. Carl Fambro.

Members and guests of the Officers Wives Club turned out, replete in seasonal fashion and color, for the first fall luncheon and style show Thursday at the Officers Club, Webb AFB.

Hostesses for the affair, in the ballroom of the club, were wives of the Air Base Group. One hundred and forty-eight members and guests were served at tables featuring an autumn motif. The main table was centered with an arrangement of bronze and yellow spider mums, while smaller bouquets were noted on other tables. Oak leaves and acorns detailed the white linen cloths. Programs appeared as school slates, and favors were note pads and pens.

School pennants, book satchels, slates and other significant items formed a school room scene with a Peter Rabbit figure seated in a school desk. This was where "Comedy of Errors" was presented. "How not to dress for a coffee," by Mrs. Fred Hoyer; for luncheon, Mrs. Perry Duncan; tea, Mrs. Bedford Underwood; and cocktail hour, Mrs. Thomas Irving.

Rectifying the comedy skit, fashions by Zack's was presented with Mrs. Jim Zack, narrator. Styles exemplified proper attire for all occasions. Mrs. M. H. Bence was smartly gowned in a pure silk shirtwaist, gray patterned in gold; Mrs. H. W. Brown, in textured toast fabric, notably trimmed with a piece of gold leaf jewelry; Mrs. R. Council paraded in a white Dacron and wool dress with only contrast, a margined hem in tan and black.

Design featuring marked simplicity and dramatic detail in red tone was shown at the luncheon. Mrs. P. Lee's shirtdress was the Howard Wolfe shirtdress worn by Mrs. A. K. Halverson, who with her auburn coil complimented the gown; Mrs. W. E. Harris drew much attention in sumptuous evening attire, a turquoise satin sheath draped and halved with stole of blended blue and turquoise satin.

Then there were other classic examples of what the well-dressed woman is wearing this season such as Mrs. P. Lee's black ensemble, cut long and lean, having contrasting white fur trim and matching white fur toque.

And speaking of chapeaux, all those superb hats worn by the models were originals by Mrs. T. C. Seebro, also a model. She was elegantly attired for evening in three-dimensional brocade of silver and gold. Mrs. H. E. Lynch was smartly dressed in a three-piece ensemble of gray double knit wool worn for whatever the occasion. That new, lush shade called bakana was shown in leather jacket and double knit dress worn by Mrs. C. D. Meyer, while Mrs. M. L. Odle wore another of those round-the-clock knit ensembles with toast accessories. Always outstanding for after-dack Mrs. Lee's sequined chiffon with over jacket of sequined chiffon was featured by Mrs. S. H. Osborne.

Also modeling sports, rain wear, afternoon and evening fashions were Mrs. W. N. Knapp, Mrs. L. L. Patton, Mrs. T. L. Wilson and Mrs. G. Heatsill.

Piano accompaniment was provided by Mrs. R. W. Allen. Mrs. J. A. Nichols was chairman of the Braising, one of the moist heat cooking methods, is best for cooking chops and steaks. Large cuts may be roasted, but frequently strips of bacon are placed over them to keep them moist during cooking.

JOHN F. KENNEDY

JFK To Leave For Weekend Of Politicking

WASHINGTON (AP)—John F. Kennedy turns today from grave and nagging chores to a presidential role he obviously enjoys: a weekend of openly politicking in four key states as head of the Democratic party.

Although he canceled all appointments Thursday and nursed a cold, Kennedy isn't expected to be hampered too much in his first major outright political tour since the 1960 campaign.

Certainly his program would tax a well man—eight speeches in less than 48 hours, a helter-skelter dash by plane, helicopter and limousine into Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota.

Kennedy's schedule called for a midafternoon departure for Covington, Ky.

Before he beds down for the night, he will have made three speeches, at Covington, at Cincinnati's Fountain square and at the Metropolitan Airport in Detroit.

Saturday he moves on to Flint and Muskegon, Mich., before flying to Minnesota, winding up with a statewide night telecast at a bean feed in Minneapolis. He returns home Sunday after a noon speech in St. Cloud, Minn.

Kennedy's choice of these particular states is no accident.

Each was fought over bitterly during the 1960 presidential campaign. In the end Kennedy was lucky to come out with a 2-2 tie. He won Michigan and Minnesota, but barely. His Republican opponent, Richard M. Nixon, carried Kentucky and Ohio.

Ohio was a real blow to Kennedy. It's a big state, with 25 electoral votes, and he drew some of his most enthusiastic crowds there. Nixon rolled up his biggest plurality in Ohio, winning by almost 300,000 votes.

Since Kennedy was unable to take Kentucky and Ohio in 1960 even with the most strenuous of campaigns, it would seem dubious that he could do much good with brief stops there tonight.

Democratic leaders think it's worth making the effort.

In Kentucky Lt. Gov. Wilson Wyatt covets the job held by Sen. Thruston B. Morton. As a former chairman of the Republican party Morton is a prime target.

In Ohio, Kennedy would like to get in some good licks for Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who is seriously challenged by the GOP state auditor, James A. Rhodes. The President may also say kind words about Sen. Frank J. Lausche, a Democrat up for reelection, even though Lausche is no redhot New Frontiersman.

Water Pollution Trouble Seen

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Water Pollution Control Board has warned some 5,000 municipalities and industries that they face stiff fines if they do not apply for pollution permits.

Dave Smallhorst, board executive secretary, said only 300 to 400 applications for pollution permits have been received. He said about half of this number comes from cities and towns.

Smallhorst estimated that applications from 1,000 municipal permits and 5,000 for industrial permits should be on file with the board at the present time.

The deadline is Nov. 1.

Big Spring is involved in a minor way with the pollution problem, according to Bruce Dunn, director of public works. A permit to dump effluent into Beal's Creek has been requested, but no reply has been received. Dunn foresees no difficulty in obtaining the permit. The pollution from local effluent occurs only after heavy rains and the waters then pour into the Colorado River far below Lake Thomas and away from any public water supply.

Cosden Petroleum Corp. is not involved with pollution of surface waters. It holds permits to drill salt water disposal wells, according to Lewis Thompson, vice president of production.

Smallhorst told a regular monthly meeting of the board that cities and industries are subject to fines up to $1,000 a day for each day after Nov. 1 if they do not ask a permit.

Board member W. J. Cutbirth recommended that the board decide at its November meeting whether to prosecute those who have not made application.

Space Travel Is Too Fast For Ex-Trail Driver, 92

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—"All this space travel is too fast for me," opined Will Caffey, 92, onetime trail driver who lives at Snyder. "I just don't think the good Lord meant for people to go to the moon," he said as he patted one foot to music which enlivened the 46th annual convention of the Old Trail Drivers Association. Oldsters and their descendants gathered to conjure up memories of yesteryears. They spun stories, laughed and danced from sunrise until late at night. Caffey, here with his 82-year-old wife, was a center of attraction. "The last trail drive I took was in 1892 when I rode up to Kansas from White Deer," he said. "Those were hard times, but we always came out okay. In some ways, the times are more dangerous now than they were then, I suppose." A native of Ketchy, La., Caffey went with his family to Comanche County in 1875. He started as a lad making long, hard drives to take cattle northward to market. "In 1901, we went by covered wagon to Snyder," he recalled. "Until 20 years ago he was a farmer and rancher. "I still raise quite a garden each year," he said. "You should see that okra and those beans and black-eyed peas." The Caffeys have nine children, 20 grandchildren and 22 great grandchildren.

HOUSTON (AP)—Flames leaping 150 feet overhead roared through a rubber products warehouse and forced evacuation of a small hotel in the Houston industrial district today.

The four-alarm blaze in the Semco Houston Corp. warehouse, a one-story brick structure, were discovered shortly before 2 a.m. City detectives Ned Human and Charles Reynolds escorted about 20 occupants from the Underpass Hotel, a two-story frame building just across a narrow alley. DEAR ABBY What's The Percentage?

DEAR ABBY: For 10 years I have been trying to convince my wife that it is her duty to get up in the morning and prepare breakfast for me. She doesn't have to go to work, so if she went back to bed afterwards it would be all right with me. She tells me that I am behind-the-times and that 98 per cent of the wives sleep in the morning and their husbands either get their own breakfast or go out and buy it somewhere. Can you tell me if this is correct? I would like to know approximately how many wives in our nation still get up in the morning to prepare a decent breakfast for their families?

DEAR NO: Your wife must have "dreamed" those statistics. I am willing to bet that at least 75 per cent of our wives have the coffee parking at 7:30 a.m. How about it girls?

Show Cause Order Issued In Walker Case

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—The government must show by next Tuesday that it has proper reason to keep Edwin A. Walker, former Army major general, in custody without releasing him on bond.

U.S. Dist. Judge John W. Oliver issued the show cause order Thursday after Walker's attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Walker, charged with inciting insurrection and seditious conspiracy, was arrested Sunday night during the rioting at the University of Mississippi over the enrollment of a Negro, James H. Meredith.

Walker's bond was set at $100,000 in his arraignment before a U.S. commissioner at Oxford, Miss. Then he was taken to the U.S. prison system's medical center in Springfield.

U.S. Dist. Judge Claude F. Clayton of northern Mississippi later ordered him held at the medical center to determine his mental competency.

Walker's sister-in-law has said the $100,000 bail is available.

In their petition, Walker's attorneys said the ex-general was denied bail, was denied right to counsel, and was denied a hearing on the issue of his commitment.

James E. Finch of Louisville, Ky., who said he is regional director for the National Law Enforcement Committee, told Judge Oliver the committee would post the $100,000 bond and wanted to intervene for Walker.

The judge referred Finch to Walker's attorneys.

The judge also gave the government 10 days to file briefs certifying the true cause of Walker's detention. Walker's attorneys were asked to file briefs supporting their petition for a writ of habeas corpus. The government was given 10 days to reply to those briefs.

Nixon Jokes, Kennedy Pays

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former vice president Richard M. Nixon jokingly offered "my mortgage home" Thursday to President John F. Kennedy for a California meeting of his cabinet.

Nixon, Republican gubernatorial candidate, ribbed the scheduled influx of Democratic leaders to support the campaign of his opponent, Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Nixon told a Los Angeles Press Club audience that the President and Mrs. Kennedy, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges and others will be in California this month.

There has been some unhappiness, Nixon gaged, about not being able to hold Cabinet meetings in Washington because they can't get a quorum.

In addition to letting them use his home, he said, "they can use my swimming pool—and I will even furnish a change of clothes."

Howard County 4-H Edges Coahoma FFA At Pig Show

Howard County 4-H Club members nosed out Coahoma FFA by a single spot to take top honors in the number of placings made in Howard County 4-H and FFA Pig Show here Wednesday and Thursday.

The 4-H organization carried home a total of 16 placings and Coahoma wound up with 15. Four of the Howard County 4-H wins were in the gilt division where no FFA entries were entered.

Big Spring FFA chapter placed only six pigs but has the consolation of knowing the grand champion of the show was shown by one of its members. Frank Neill's heavyweight barrow took that honor.

A 4-H boy, David Adkins won the reserve championship in the show with his lightweight barrow. Both his and Neill's barrows were first in their respective classes.

Ronnie Anderson, a 4-H breeder, showed the champion breeding gilt.

Five of the first 12 places went to 4-H exhibitors; three to Big Spring FFA entries; and four to Coahoma FFA members.

There were 50 barrows entered in the show and four breeding gilts. All of the latter were shown by 4-H club competitors.

Herb Helbig, superintendent of the show, said that the entire event rated as one of the best and most successful of the 17 years the show has been staged.

He was particularly pleased at the marked improvement in the quality of hogs which were shown. In recent years, there has been a step-up in interest in this field, largely attributable to the programs of the FFA and 4-H organizations.

Euel Linder, who judges pig shows all over the Southwest and recently judged a major show in Little Rock, Ark., voiced amazement Wednesday at the extremely fine quality of the hogs which were entered in the show here.

"The quality of these pigs is exceptional," the former Texas Tech instructor observed. "There are a number of pigs entered in this show which in other shows I have judged would have easily won championships."

Pig Show Placings: Heavyweight barrow—Frank Neill, Big Spring FFA, first; Robert Lubbock, Howard County 4-H, third; Pablo Tovar, Big Spring FFA, fourth; James Rader, Coahoma FFA, fifth; Bruce Wells, Big Spring FFA, sixth; Joe Barnes, Howard County 4-H, seventh; Carl Shoemaker, Howard County 4-H, eighth; Joe Barnes, Howard County 4-H, ninth; Don White, Big Spring FFA, tenth; Lovell Hanson, Big Spring FFA, eleventh; Larry Helms, Big Spring FFA, twelfth; Lawrence Lippard, Coahoma FFA, thirteenth; Darryl Peoples, Coahoma FFA, fourteenth; Lightweight barrow—David Adkins, Howard County 4-H, first; Vernon Long, Coahoma FFA, second; Ronnie Anderson, Howard County 4-H, third; Gary Helley, Howard County 4-H, fourth; Clarence Neill, Coahoma FFA, fifth; Vernard Free, Howard County 4-H, sixth; Vernon Long, Coahoma FFA, seventh; Johnny Gibson, Coahoma FFA, eighth; Glenn Walker, Howard County 4-H, ninth; Iva Jo Brooks, Coahoma FFA, tenth; Larry Phlego, Howard County 4-H, eleventh; Lee Roy Jones, Coahoma FFA, twelfth; LeRoy E. Two Hospitalized Following Wreck
A 17-year-old boy, Harold Dean Osborn, 604 E. 15th, was taken to Malone and Hogan Hospital Foundation, and Mrs. Frankie Bair, 1010 E. 20th, was taken to Cowper Hospital and Clinic shortly after 6 p.m. Thursday following a two-car collision at Goliad and East Eighteenth.

Neither driver is in serious condition although both received painful cuts and bruises. Mrs. Bair remained in the hospital Friday with abrasions and contusions of the head and body, but was reported doing well Osborn was released from the hospital Friday morning.

Only one other accident was investigated Thursday night by police. Lorna Flippin O'Neal, 205 Utah, was one driver and Wilton Vasseyr, 122 W. 3rd, owner of a parked car, in a collision at 1200 W. 3rd.

Henry's Probation May Be Set Aside
Ernest Henry Jr., who was granted an 18-month probation sentence Feb. 15, 1962, on a car burglary indictment, stands a good chance to have that probation set aside.

Gil Jones, district attorney, announced that he is filing a request in 118th District Court that the probation be cancelled in Henry's case. Since being granted probation, Jones said, Henry has been implicated in three burglaries and on Sept. 23 was found guilty on a charge of being a minor in possession of alcohol.

Thefts Checked By Police Officers
Two thefts were investigated by police Thursday. One was a call from the YMCA building where a bicycle was reported to have been ridden away by a boy. Mrs. W. M. Miller, 1104 Pennsylvania, told officers that her daughter parked her bicycle in front of the building and went inside to play. Other children said they saw a boy ride the bicycle off but did not know who he was.

Wall finishing materials were reported stolen from 2106 and 2110 Cicella where Bobby McDonald has two houses under construction. Value of the materials was placed at $60.

Board Approves One, Denies One
The Zoning Board of adjustment granted one request for a variance in sideyard clearance, and denied another during a meeting Thursday.

Cortez & Milch sought an eight-inch variance in side yard clearance at the corner of Wilson and Muir streets where a 15-foot side yard is called for in the zoning ordinance. The board made an on-the-spot inspection and granted the request.

Concert Association Needing Members
The Big Spring Concert Association is about 200 members shy of its minimum goal to underwrite the season series.

Unless friends of the association who have not renewed their memberships do so soon, the major cultural agency of the community will be in financial trouble.

Canceling is not advisable or practical, officials pointed out at a meeting of the board last night, because forfeiture fees would equal the amount yet unsubscribed.

Mrs. Clyde Angel, president, is used an appeal to members who have not yet renewed their season tickets to do so promptly.

Otherwise, the work of the association, developed so painstakingly over the years, could collapse and leave the community without any agency for bringing fine arts and other quality entertainment to the area.

The first presentation of the season, the National Ballet of Canada, is set next Tuesday evening at the municipal auditorium. In November, the celebrated actor, Basil Rathbone, will present a wide selection of dramatic roles and readings. Other programs include the famous First Piano Quartet, which has been scoring hits for over 20 years, and finally the renowned Dallas Symphony.

Tickets for the four performances are $9 for adults and $4 for students, and they may be obtained from any member of the Concert Association Board or by calling the Herald or Zack's.

Scouting Gains More Traction
Paced by a camporee this week-end, Scouting is getting traction here as the summer season. The district committee was told at its regular monthly meeting Thursday at Cosden County Club.

Dates for several other events were announced at the session. These include a district Court of Honor on Oct. 23 at the HJCJ auditorium. Dr. W. A. Hunt, advancement chairman, urged all unit leaders to report in advance of the meeting. The council explorer Whing Ding, for the senior boys, has been set for Nov. 9-10-11 at Webb AFB, said Doug Orme, chairman.

Ben Johnson, leadership training chairman, announced these dates for leadership training sessions at the old SUB on the HJCJ campus: Cub basic Oct. 9-9. Cub advanced Oct. 23-25; Boy Scout basic Oct. 11; Explorer Oct. 13-17; Boy Scout advanced Nov. 18-27; patrol leaders Oct. 27.

Joe Jackson, organization and extension chairman, reported by membership of 1,114 539 Cubs, 420 Scouts, 155 Explorers. A roundup of prospects in sixth and seventh grades has been completed and unit leaders will begin making contacts to invite these boys to join, he reported.

D. D. Johnston reported for the camping and activities committee on plans for the physically fit campout at the Roundup grounds this weekend. Camp Rainwater, finance chairman, urged Scouts to help all they can to making the United Fund a success.

Re-elected were R. L. Tollett, district chairman; Joe A. Moss and Joe Pickle, vice chairmen. Jack Gulley was named district commissioner; and Carl E. Campbell and Jack Alexander the council representatives at large from the district.

BS Exploration Directors Re-Elected Here Thursday
Stockholders of the Big Spring Exploration, Inc. Thursday re-elected their directors, who in turn re-elected the officers of the corporation.

Reports reflected a year of activity directed mainly toward liquidating liabilities and consolidating assets. Although the operating profit before capital extinguishment and exploratory costs amounted to $63,386 as compared with the previous year, the net loss after capital extinguishments was $126,587 against $150,815 for the year before.

At the meeting held in the company offices at 101 Goliad, 521-579 of the $20,947 shares outstanding were represented by 221 stockholders attending or sending proxies.

Directors returned to the board were Dr. P. W. Malone, Ted O. Groehl, R. B. Reeder, M. R. Saunders, Dr. M. W. Talbot, Dr. G. F. Dillon, Dr. J. M. Woodall of Big Spring, Curtis Dall, Philadelphia, Pa., John B. Roden, Casper, Wyo., H. R. Cape, Lamesa, and Clyde Tandy, Brownsville.

Dr. Malone was then returned as chairman of the board, Roden was re-elected president, Groehl the executive vice president, Reeder vice president, Dr. Talbot treasurer and assistant secretary, and N. G. Hilliard, secretary and assistant treasurer. Roden, Groehl, Reeder, Dr. Malone, Saunders and Dr. Talbot will comprise the executive committee.

Officers noted a reduction in earned surplus but stressed that the company had made progress during the year and had definite plans for expansion and improvements. Despite the depressive condition in the oil industry, officials were optimistic.

Police Reserves Complete Basic Training Course
The final session of the police reserve basic training school was held Thursday night with public relations, juvenile delinquency and probation, and press relations being discussed by three men.

Thirty-six hours had originally been scheduled for classes, but the reserve officers ended up with 42 hours. Police Chief Jay Banks said at the final session. He also explained that other in-service training would be required from time to time.

City Manager Larry Crow discussed the importance of good public relations for police officers.

"The best public relations for any police force is the incident that never happened," he said. "The public has a tendency to judge the whole department by those having the poorest public relations. Courtesy, appearance, and attitudes are the three main characteristics by which people judge you."

"I have had some good reports of the work already being done by the reserve police, even before you have completed your training. I have a letter from Ted O. Groehl, Potentate of Suez Temple, Shriners, which has given me cause to feel very cheerful about your public relations."

A portion of the letter, as read by Crow, said "Suez Temple and Big Spring Shrine Club expresses their sincere and profound thanks to you and the city governing body for the splendid manner in which the police department, both the regular and reserve personnel, handled their duties at the Suez Shrine circus held in the rodeo arena Sept. 20."

"I believe it is a matter of history that the night performance of the Suez Shrine Circus was one of the best ever seen in Big Spring. It was a real treat for all of us who attended. The police department handled the situation in a most commendable manner. The police officers were courteous, helpful, and efficient. The reserve police officers were also very helpful and efficient. The police department has a fine record and I am sure it will continue to be one of the best in the area."

Four Explorers Staked In Area
Four wildcats are listed among 10 new sites staked in the area by operators. Borden, Dawson, Garza and Howard counties each picked up a prospect.

The Howard County venture is Tidewater Oil Co. No. 1 S. L. Lockhart, about 17 miles north of Big Spring. It is projected to 8,000 feet and is about three-fourths mile southeast of the Cabot No. 1 Lockhart, which flowed 252 barrels as a discovery from the Fusselman in October of last year.

In Dawson County Roden Oil has projected the No. 1 D. L. Adcock to 12,000 feet as a fusellman test. Location is about five miles north of Lamesa.

The Wil-Mc Oil Corp. No. 1 Clayton-Johnson is to be plugged back to 5,000 feet as a wildcat about 10 miles northeast of Vealmoor in Borden County. Garza County's explorer is Highland Oil Co. No. 1 Sam Ellis, set for 4,200 feet about 11 miles northwest of Post.

Borden
Wil-Mc Oil Corp. No. 1 Clayton-Johnson is an old well about 10 miles northeast of Vealmoor, which is scheduled to be plugged back to 5,000 feet for wildcat tests of an unreported section. It spots C NW NW, section 39-32-4n, T&P survey.

Post-Debutante Admits Slaying Of Engineer

BOSTON (AP)—Police said today a pretty young post-debutante has admitted slaying an electronics engineer whose nude body was found in her luxurious Beacon Hill apartment.

Det. Lt. Edward Sherry said Miss Suzanne Clift, 21, was booked on a murder charge and would be arraigned today in Boston Municipal Court.

She is accused of the shooting of Piero Brentani, 27. His body, a 22-caliber bullet in the back of the head, was found Wednesday in the girl's padlocked bedroom.

Sherry said the girl was very calm, almost stoic as she told her story. He said she gave no reason for the slaying.

She identified a 22-caliber pistol, found in the kitchen of the apartment she shared with her socially prominent grandmother, Barbara Pierce Pearmain, 71, as the murder weapon.

LEFT TUESDAY
Police said Miss Clift told them she shot Brentani early Monday in the room where he was found. She said she did not leave the house until Tuesday.

The slender blonde girl told of flying to South America and back. Miss Clift, niece of movie actor Montgomery Clift, was arrested shortly after she entered Massachusetts General Hospital Thursday night.

Police found her after getting a lead from a taxicab driver. James Maceyk, administrator of the hospital emergency ward, said the girl "just walked in and sat on a bench like anyone else looking for treatment." He said Miss Clift was crying and "gave the appearance of a person looking for a psychiatrist."

The cab driver, John Anzalone, 21, of Billerica, told police the girl had a dachshund dog with her when she engaged his cab at South Station railroad terminal. He said he did not recognize her as the woman police were seeking.

TO APARTMENT
She told him to drive to 85 Pinckney St., the Beacon Hill apartment she shared with her grandmother.

When he drove up to the apartment, Anzalone told police, "she didn't get out right away. But then she said she wanted to see if anyone was home. She changed her mind and told me to drive to the Statler Hilton Hotel."

At the hotel, Anzalone said, the girl dismissed him and told him to take care of the dog. She left in another cab. Anzalone reported the incident to police and only then learned the identity of his passenger.

Brentani held degrees from the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology and Harvard University. Mrs. Pearmain found the body when she returned home from a 19-day vacation at her summer home in Osterville on Cape Cod.

Varig Airlines in New York told police a young woman traveling with a dachshund had taken a jet flight to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Tuesday and had returned to New York Wednesday.

WAS SECRETARY
Miss Clift is a graduate of a Boston finishing school and attended Mt. Holyoke College. She recently worked as a secretary.

Her mother, Mrs. Peter Thomson, divorced and remarried, and also living on Beacon Hill, said Brentani was "a fine sensitive fellow" whom Suzanne met on a blind date two years ago.

Brentani, who worked for Minneapolis-Honeywell Co., was a native of Dresden, Germany. He reportedly was the son of a man in Italian consular or diplomatic service. He listed his parents' names as Ermanno and Carlotta Brentani, Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Steve's Dreams Come True On 6th Birthday

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP)—Stevie Weber's dreams are coming true today, his sixth birthday. His dreams do not center around money or success or fame, but then the world of a 6-year-old boy is not our world.

Trains—or, rather, a train—occupies a dominant place in Stevie's world. It's a Long Island Rail Road freight train, and every morning at 10 a.m. Stevie has been watching it roll by Merrill Ave. near his home and waving to the crew.

The crew got to know Stevie after a while, and they'd wave back, as the boy enviously watched the train clatter into the distance.

NOT A FREIGHT
Knowing his love of trains, Stevie's parents have been taking him on a train ride on his birthday for the last three years. Still, a coach isn't a freight train.

Stevie's mother decided that maybe even a big railroad could understand the dreams of a little boy, so she wrote to the LIRR asking if perhaps there wasn't something the railroad could do to give Stevie a special present this birthday.

There was. A about 10 a.m. today, the freight train Stevie has been watching was to stop at Merrill Ave. It's not a regular stop, but there's an irregular reason for it. Coming aboard are Stevie and his father, Floyd. They're riding—right in the cab with the engineer—from Merrill Ave. to Hicksville, more than seven miles away.

FROSTED CAKE
At Hicksville is a frosted cake with six candles on it waiting for Stevie. And there to help him celebrate were to be the members of the train crew that have been waving to the youngster.

How does Stevie feel about all this? "We didn't even tell him about it until a couple of days ago because we knew how excited he'd be, but, frankly, we still weren't prepared for his anticipation," his father said.

"He's been talking about nothing else since, and he's been spending all his time 'reading' his train picture books like an astronaut getting ready for a launching. "How does he feel? Well, it's hard for me to say. Remember when you were 6 years old?"

Political Overtones For World Series

MEXICO CITY (AP)—An editorial cartoon in the newspaper La Prensa Thursday showed members of the Giants baseball team being handed false beards. "This will scare the Yankees," said the caption.

Texas Banks Show Gains In Deposits

By CLAYTON HICKERSON, Associated Press Staff Writer

Large gains in deposits—attributed to such factors as sound growth of the Texas economy, good crops and insurance payments from Hurricane Carla—were posted by the state's banks for 1962's third quarter. Reports came Thursday as of the end of business Sept. 28 in response to calls from state and federal government agencies.

All-time deposit records were set in several cities, including Orange, Denton, San Antonio and Victoria.

Brazosport reported a whopping 26 per cent gain in deposits. An accelerated shrimping operation and insurance claim payments for Hurricane Carla damage got the credit.

A bumper cotton crop on the South Plains boosted deposits in that area. Other banks which deal heavily in West Texas pointed to widening retail sales, increased farm operations and pickups in manufacturing.

San Antonio's record was credited in part to $20 million distributed among the banks 10 days ago by the city public service board after the sale of revenue bonds.

Public funds on deposit also helped at Orange. Waco—one of the few points reporting deposit declines—blamed fluctuations in government deposits for Connally Air Force Base and Veterans Administration installations.

Growing population and generally good business conditions did the job at Denton, bankers said. They credited livestock sales and good crops at Paris. Borger bankers noted industrial stability in the area. Houston bank executives said rising deposits denoted the area's general economic growth. Deposit totals include (this year and at same point in 1961, respectively): El Paso County, $302,952,901 and $294,069,788. Bryan-College Station, $29,284,492 and $25,527,127. San Antonio, $777,464,933 and $704,102,053. Waco $146,849,000 and $150,191,000. Port Arthur $79,790,887 and $73,895,764. Port Arthur Area (3 adjacent cities and Port Arthur) $100,136,776 and $91,608,889. Victoria $103,797,944 and $93,854,763. Borger $20,234,000, a slight increase. Brazosport $23,064,932 and $19,144,900. Beaumont $161,771,859 and $160,886,911. Galveston $114,132,326 and $107,245,312. Gainesville $22,996,560 and $21,067,869. Military Action Ruled Out, Economic War On Cuba Set

First In 99 Years

The first Pope in 99 years to leave the Vatican for an extended trip by train, John XXIII, gives his blessing to a crowd at Rome's Trastevere Station, en route to Loreto. With him is Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
An AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Having ruled out direct military action to smash the growing Communist base in Cuba, President Kennedy has embarked on a strategy of active economic warfare against the Castro regime.

His immediate purpose is to make Soviet aid to Cuba as costly and unprofitable as possible.

His long-range aim is to bring the self-styled Marxist-Leninist government of the Caribbean nation down in collapse.

To achieve his short-range purpose the President needs not only to raise the cost of Soviet shipping to Cuba but also to deny Soviet Premier Khrushchev any new Communist successes in the Western Hemisphere.

To attain the ultimate destruction of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro by economic and political means, if that is possible, the President needs far greater support and cooperation from U.S. allies all over the world than he so far has been able to muster.

His policy, so far as it goes, seems likely to command considerable domestic support, which is inevitably a source of concern in this congressional election year. It falls far short of the expressed desires of those critics in Congress and elsewhere who in recent weeks have called for much more drastic action, including possible naval blockade.

Two developments this week give the broad outlines of Kennedy's limited action program.

In a meeting with 19 Latin-American foreign ministers at the State Department, Secretary of State Dean Rusk sought and won unanimous agreement on two major points.

One was that this country's allies in the Western Hemisphere must do more than they have done so far to protect their lands and their political systems against subversion with arms, agents and money exported from Cuba.

The other point was that the Latin Americans should take whatever measures are available to them to cut off their remaining trade with Cuba and deny Castro the benefit of Western Hemisphere imports and exports.

In the second development, administration officials disclosed to Congress, to the Latin-American foreign ministers and to the NATO allies that the United States has decided to impose penalties where possible on those who make ships available for transporting Soviet bloc goods to Cuba.

The shipping restrictions outlined by State Department officials are sweeping: They will bar any Soviet vessels from American ports—except for humanitarian reasons or other special cases—because the Soviets are sending arms to Castro.

They will deny U.S. cargoes to ships involved in the Cuban trade with Communist-bloc countries.

U.S. officials estimate 75 per cent of Castro's trade is now with the Sino-Soviet bloc, 25 per cent with non-Communist countries, virtually all of which are U.S. allies.

The real limiting factor in Castro's importation of civilian goods, including petroleum products and fuels for his industry, has been his shortage of funds for foreign trade. He must pay cash because he has long since destroyed his credit.

Administration informants say that Turkey, Italy, Japan, and Germany have agreed to U.S. appeal to deny the use of their ships for Cuban trade. Britain and some other NATO allies have told their shippers to cut down on vessels in the Cuban trade.

But if the U.S. objective is to make Castro wholly dependent on Soviet sources of supply, the United States will have to obtain far greater cooperation from allied governments than it has so far.

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Textbook Committee declined Thursday to recommend adoption of any new economics textbooks for use in Texas high schools.

The committee announced after a 10-hour secret session that it was recommending 96 textbooks for use in public schools but none on economics was included.

Three of the four economics texts in the list for consideration were protested at a Sept. 14 hearing.

These were "Our American Economy," published by Harcourt, Brace & World; "Applied Economics," published by South-Western Publishing Co., and "Economics for Our Times," published by McGraw-Hill Co.

A fourth economics book, "Understanding Our Free Economy" published by D. Van Nostrand, was not protested. At the September hearing, R. K. Harlan, a Dallas businessman, contended that "Our American Economy" was not objective. Mrs. A. A. Forester of Texarkana, state textbook chairman for the Daughters of the American Revolution, contended "Economics for Our Times" was weak in its discussion of labor laws. Mrs. Joan Sley, a Fort Worth housewife, appeared for the Parents' Committee of Tarrant County and protested adoption of all three economics books.

Getting Familiar (With Flying)

This photo was identified by TWA flight engineer William J. Miller of Van Nuys, Calif., as a blonde student hostess in the lap of one of the plane's pilots on her first "familiarization flight" as part of her training. Miller produced more than 100 photographs when he testified in Washington before a House Government Activities subcommittee looking into observance of flying regulations. He said he made the photographs on TWA flights with an infrared camera concealed in a black box and hung on the cockpit wall. No identifications were made.

Compromise Bill Affects Water Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise bill to appropriate funds for public works, still subject to final congressional action, drops two Texas projects and carries altered amounts for others.

Senate-House conferees made public Thursday a version reconciling differences in bills passed by each chamber. Both now must accept or reject it.

The compromise measure deletes $500,000 for Brazos Island Harbor construction and $50,000 for planning on the Vince and Little Vince Bayou project. No provision for either had been made by the House. The amounts were inserted by the Senate.

Conferees agreed on $2,005,000 for the construction phase of Navarro Mills Reservoir, as voted by the Senate. The House had approved $2,080,000.

On other projects, for which the Senate voted money while the House made no provision, the compromise bill includes $75,000 for the Fort Worth Floodway (Clear Fork) and $115,000 for Port Arthur hurricane protection.

Among reclamation projects, the latest figure for the San Angelo project is $2,690,000, as fixed by the Senate. The House had approved $2,770,000.

And Lesser Subjects

Margaret Mary Donofry, center, of Jackson Heights, N.Y., and Marie Louise Hurley, right, Arlington, Va., talk to Chairman Jack Brooks, D-Tex., of the House subcommittee. Miss Donofry testified she was allowed to fly a four-engine plane and Miss Hurley told of seeing a third officer board a plane for a passenger flight after an all-night drinking bout.

More Finalists Due Rounds In Van Cliburn Piano Tests

FORT WORTH (AP) — Three more finalists in an expanded field of nine take turns playing for the judges tonight in the Van Cliburn international piano competition. A comely French blonde and two Russians shared ovations from a capacity crowd of 1,400 in leading off the final round Thursday night. A third trio will play Saturday night. Mikhail Voskresenski, 27, a Russian tabbed a favorite through two weeks of preliminaries and semifinals, appeared first. Next came Nikolai Petrov, 19, of Moscow and Cecile Ousset, 26, of Paris. Playing tonight with the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra will be Marilyn Neeley of Glendale, Calif., Hiroko Nakamura of Japan and Ralph Votapek of Milwaukee. The last three finalists are Sergio Varella-Cid of London, Arthur Charles Fennimore of Berwyn, Pa., and Takashi Hironaka of Tokyo.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY EXTENDS UNIQUE LINCOLN CONTINENTAL 24-MONTH—24,000-MILE WARRANTY TO ALL '63 PASSENGER CARS AND TRUCKS

These are the cars

LINCOLN CONTINENTAL

This is the total-car warranty

Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers in turn warrant to owners, as follows: that for 24 months or for 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services, routine replacement of parts, such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades and brake or clutch linings, and normal deterioration of soft trim and appearance items. The benefits of the warranty are available to the original purchaser and to subsequent owners of the vehicle during the time and mileage limits prescribed in the warranty.

Here is what it means to you

The new 1963 Ford-built cars and trucks are quality-engineered and manufactured to serve you better and last longer than ever before. The proof is in the warranty . . . proof of quality unheard of a few years ago.

In fact, it was only two years ago that Ford Motor Company announced the 12-month, 12,000-mile passenger car warranty which became the industry standard as other manufacturers followed Ford's lead. At the same time, Lincoln Continental became the only American-built car warranted for two full years or 24,000 miles, whichever came first. Now, this warranty applies to all Ford-built cars, regardless of price. Why is this possible?

Actually, the new warranty is a natural outgrowth of the engineering leadership that has resulted in twice-a-year (or every 6,000-mile) passenger car maintenance. It goes hand-in-glove with such Ford-pioneered service savers as the elimination of the 1,000-mile inspection . . . 30,000- to 36,000-mile intervals between major lubrications, 6,000-mile intervals between oil changes and minor lubrications, self-adjusting brakes, aluminum mufflers, and longer-life electrical systems.

These features that save you time and money as you drive are a direct reflection of the total quality achievements of Ford Motor Company.

Stick To The Issue

When Edwin A. Walker was alleged to have led a group during riots at Oxford, Miss., on Monday, he was charged with inciting an insurrection, resisting an officer, etc. He was removed to a federal hospital in Springfield, Mo., awaiting efforts to raise bail.
 If the train of events were as alleged, the procedure up to this point seems to have met legal requirements. Then a federal district judge ordered the former general held for psychiatric examination.
 Quite aside from any pros or cons of the Oxford situation, this latter step raises a serious question about Walker's civil rights. This may involve some fine legal interpretations, but the raising of a question of mental accountability has been one for a defense pleading. Is it therefore proper to hold an individual while the prosecution seeks such a determination?

 Some have privately and publicly expressed reservations on the point of rationality, but if the former general has been booked on this specific count, we missed it. If he has not, then it is wrong to hold him on this account. If he can post bail on the specific charges against him, then he should be released. And if authorities fear provocations of interference from him, they have recourse to injunctive relief.

Reflecting Credit

At a meeting of the Texas Association of School Administrators this week, Sam Anderson, superintendent of the Big Spring Independent School District, was chosen to be the president-elect. He will take office June 1, 1963 for a one-year term, but his designation as president-elect means that the association will be utilizing his services for the next several months too.
 This is a compliment to Mr. Anderson personally, and it also reflects credit on our school district. The appraisal by one's peers is usually a revealing one, and this honor speaks well for the professional standing of Sam Anderson.

 This is not the first time that he has been honored with top offices in educational circles, thus, it confirms previous esteem. We doubt there is a harder working or more sincere schoolman in the state.

Ole Miss Tells Its Story

WASHINGTON — In the avalanche of news dispatches during the last few days, it was inevitable that the wire services would have to condense what was evolving as "the Mississippi story." But the American people like fair play. It is only fair now that, as a matter of record, what the University of Mississippi said officially through the chancellor and the board of trustees should be presented comprehensively. The statement was telephoned to Washington early Monday and was issued here through the offices of the two U. S. senators from Mississippi. It was plainly certified as the expression of the University itself. It read as follows:

"(1) THE DEPARTMENT of Justice had requested the University officials to take steps to warn the students not to assemble or demonstrate, with a threat of expulsion if they did. The University officials felt that threatening was not the way to handle the matter, and, instead, they outlined a plan whereby on Sunday night a special edition of 'The Mississippian,' which is the daily campus newspaper, would be issued for distribution early Monday morning. Statements would be sought from the lieutenant governor, the governor, the chancellor of the university, the director of student personnel, and the president of the associated student body, which could be used in the paper, over the campus radio, over the local city radio, and over the loudspeaker at the student union building. Such statements were in process of preparation as the students were returning to the campus late Sunday afternoon.

"WE WERE INFORMED by a Justice Department spokesman that Meredith would be brought to the campus later the same evening. University officials advised that this might not be an appropriate time, as the students were returning from their homes in large numbers at that time, and that we had not yet had time to put into effect the appeal to students which was planned for late Sunday and early Monday morning. The University was informed that Meredith was coming anyway.

"(2) It was insisted by the Department of Justice officials that the University proceed to register Meredith on the Sabbath. During two or three telephone conversations, the University, as well as members of the board of trustees contacted, refused to violate the Sabbath or to take these unusual steps as the offices were closed on Sunday and, of course, including late Sunday evening. University officials were informed that Meredith would be on hand and on the University lands shortly, which, in view of the approaching darkness, was considered locally to be unwise.

"(3) LARGE CONTINGENTS of United States marshals armed and with tear-gas equipment and gas masks and other weapons came on to the campus late Sunday afternoon and formed a shoulder-to-shoulder line surrounding the Lyceum building, which is the administration building. They presumably had not been informed by the Justice Department that their plan for registering Meredith on Sunday had been abandoned, for their seemed to be no reason whatsoever to surround this building. Several justice attorneys entered the Lyceum—or administration building—and remained there presumably as advisors to the marshals.

"(4) AS A NATURAL consequence, students gathered in front of the Lyceum building to see what was going on. Before long you could hear them chiding, giving college yells, and, of course, occasional jeering. Some of them were reported to have flicked their cigarettes in the direction of the marshals from a position across the street from the marshals, and some of the cigarettes were reported as being flicked on or toward fabric covering of military trucks.

"(5) The military police inquired if the director of student personnel would talk to the students if the marshals furnished a loudspeaker—which they agreed to furnish—and the director of the student personnel agreed to do so. Loudspeaker equipment was never furnished, so the director of student personnel and other university officials moved among the students talking to them, pointing out that the highway patrol was working harmoniously with the marshals, and that the students should disperse.

"(6) MEMBERS of the Mississippi highway patrol assisted the marshals by urging the students to withdraw and were, in fact, aiding and pushing the students backward on to the grass farther away from where the marshals were located as they were surrounding the Lyceum building. The highway patrol was succeeding in moving the students backward and seemed to have things under control when, without warning, the marshals fired tear-gas projectiles, some of them, at least, fired point-blank at the students and highway patrolmen. This seemed, from all accounts, to have been unnecessary and illogical. This is also not the way to use tear gas, as any professional, well-trained law enforcement officer would know.

"(7) ONE HIGHWAY patrolman was reported to have been struck in the mid-section by a tear-gas projectile, and he was hospitalized, and in the early evening a highway patrolman reported that they did not think he would live. He was removed to the hospital at Jackson by airplane later in the night.

"(8) Of course, the unfortunate firing of the gas shells provoked the students and others, which apparently detonated the activities which followed. Tear gas permeated the entire area.

"(9) A NEWSPAPER man representing a London and Paris newspaper was slain shortly thereafter and arrived at the hospital dead. Outsiders began to come to the campus at some point because the marshals had not closed off the entrance to the campus. They were still guarding the Lyceum building instead of guarding the entrances to the campus. Another outsider, not a student, was shot dead and several were injured, including three other outsiders whose identities were not known and some United States marshals.

"(10) Later in the evening, about midnight, reports were received that, as students were arrested, they were being manhandled by the marshals. Troops of soldiers began occupying the campus after midnight."

THE STATEMENT then referred to the casualties and urged that Congress appoint an investigating committee to determine the responsibility for the fatal happenings of last Sunday.

A Painful Story Far From Ended

WASHINGTON (AP)—The explosion at Ole Miss—while dramatizing the Negro's struggle for equal rights and opportunities in the South—is only one more episode in a painful book far from ended.

The Southern Negro has been making some progress toward his goal. He still has a long way to go. White resistance to treating him as an equal crumbles slowly.

AND, JUST because it does, what happened in Mississippi in the long view just one more roadblock removed on a long march.

The riots and murders at the University of Mississippi, over admitting just one Negro to one state public school, comes when the United States is trying to act as friend to the newly free but recently colonial Africans.

How does this look to the rest of the world? C. L. Sulzberger of the New York Times, writing from Athens, says that in effect Southern treatment of Negroes is America's own form of colonialism.

The American State Department, which has to try to impress Africans and Asians with the good will and enlightenment of the United States, might wish the white resistance would collapse with its defeat in Mississippi.

BUT IT WON'T. The defeat was single and not total. The resistance there will continue, even if without bloodshed. It demonstrated one thing only:

That if a state defies a court order, as Mississippi did in trying to keep James H. Meredith, a Negro, from registering at Ole Miss, the federal government will use all its power to smash the resistance.

The example of the fiery defeat at Ole Miss will hardly affect the quieter forms of Southern resistance, which for years has been delaying equal treatment of Negroes.

In all of this there is a double irony.

1. The Supreme Court has ruled it unconstitutional for a Negro to be kept out of any American public school because of his race.

2. It might seem therefore to a foreigner that the Negro should be able to enjoy his rights at once since the Constitution guarantees them.

But the longer Negroes have to wait to get into white schools—or for other rights, like voting—the longer they are denied their rights and only because Southern whites, out of prejudice, wish to deny them.

Therefore, those who urge a very slow approach to the whole problem are actually suggesting the Negro citizen be patient about wanting those rights which under the Constitution and the Supreme Court interpretation of it belong to him.

Around The Rim

Suspiciously Like Cajun, Too!

Being versed neither in Latin nor in Greek, yet having a propensity toward research, I have of late found myself in an imponderable position. Or, to put the proposition in simple, every-day terms, my mind has a scholarly disposition yet lacks the rigid disciplines prerequisite to solving the problem with which I find myself confronted.

Earlier this last summer, I came across an odd inscription while rummaging through the ancient history section of the state archives building in Austin. The angular dispositions of my body, the book, and the window combined with the peculiar refractory qualities of the light to effect a most startling discovery. There in the margin of Page 13 of Plato's handwritten edition of "No Tite, Lucit," appeared a faint, narrow discoloration.

Further investigation disclosed the obscured lines to be marginal notes which somehow had failed to survive the centuries sufficiently to retain their legibility. Obviously, these notations had remained undiscovered by our modern scholars.

It was only with the greatest difficulty that I was able to make out the first portion of the inscription but, if I may be pardoned a point of pride, I did succeed in transcribing the first four lines, although the remainder must rest with the tools of modern science to surrender their secrets.

The marginal notes are repeated below verbatim:
 FOS KONTIN URSA GOAR
 FOFA DUS BROTFOTE UNDISON
 TINEN TAN UN A SHON
 DEAD ICATA DUDY PROPOS

It was at this point that I was forced to leave my task, due to eyestrain and a suspicious librarian. I did not, however, give up this new adventure easily. During a later trip to Dallas, while rummaging through the ancient documents section of the Platonic Museum, and being incited toward peering more at the margins than at the printed material, I came across a second, similar discovery. This time, there were no suspicious librarians about and I was free to extract another marginal note, in the same handwriting as the first, in its complete form. This second discovery is presented below:

SEVILLE, DAR DAGO,
 TOUSAN Busses INARO.
 NOJO, DEMSTRUX,
 SUMMIT COUSIN,
 SUMMIT DUX.

I leave the translations of these heretofore philosophic notations of the immortal Plato to the linguistic scholars, and content myself with the thought that I have contributed my small portion to the advancement of Science.

Drink And Drink And Elect And Elect

Ever since the end of prohibition, the nation's capital has annually won all such pennants as are offered for the nation's highest per capita consumption of alcohol.

It has long been acknowledged that the cocktail party in Washington is not so much a savage social ritual as the indispensable bent elbow of the body politic. Any visitor to Washington who has tried to spend a week on its social merry-go-round returns home awed by its intake of eight-to-one martinis aggravated by frozen canapés.

HOWEVER, something so new and frightening has been added to cocktail parties in the capital that there is, I am told, a run on white ribbon in the five-and-dimes. That new dimension—and this is the sort of important political development that you do not get from Walter Lippmann or Arthur Krock—is a stiff charge imposed by the host and hostess.

"Until this season, people in Washington used to give cocktail parties to get rid of their lobbying or social obligations or their liquor," explained an old friend, who has lived all his life in the nation's capital. "And you went to see and be seen and, like the stag at eve, to drink a skinful."

"THOSE WERE the good, old days," he continued morosely. "But the New Frontier has changed all that. Nowadays when the leaders of the establishment give a cocktail party—and what really 'in' Washington can afford to be seen at a disestablishmentarianist cocktail bout?—there is a big fat charge.

"The establishment cocktail hosts now charge a fee for their hospitality as a means of raising campaign funds for their friends. This is an election year and everyone in Washington who can afford a bottle of gin has someone near-and-dear who is running for re-election.

"SO, TO RE-ELECT his friend or friends," my friend went on, "the host gets out that bottle of gin, borrows a drop of Vermont from the neighbors and sends out engraved invitations for a cocktail party for the candidate. An envelope is enclosed in the invitation for your convenience in shelling out for the financial support of the man who."

"I was stunned last week to receive an invitation to a cocktail party for which the campaign cover charge was $100! Of course, whether you go or not, you are supposed to return that little envelope with a G-note. Now, no matter how many votes you can buy for $100, for that sum you can also buy an impressive amount of gin for home consumption.

"SO I CALLED my host and explained that I admired his candidate, but not one hundred dollars' worth," my friend continued. "So he asked me how much I liked his boy, and we settled for $5.

"But this was an exceptional break. Just a few days before, I was asked to a campaign cocktail party given by a decidedly establishmentarian hostess. She gave her pay-as-you-drink party not for one but for three candidates. What to do? I finally decided to go for $25. The new trend is to drink and drink and drink and elect and elect and elect.

REMEMBER when your mother used to have a silver tray on which callers left their cards? That's the tray on which you drop the envelope with your contribution nowadays in Washington. If you don't drop the envelope as you enter, you get that "they shall not pass" or "what is that bum doing here" look from your hosts.

"Once a cocktail party was a place where you were among friends," my Washington informant concluded. "Now it's a place where you're among friends with their hands in your pocket. I don't say this new policy is going to dry up Foggy Bottom. But it will help."

Planned Economy In France

PARIS — Could the kind of voluntary planning — guided capitalism — that France has put into practice be adapted to the American economy to cure the lagging American growth rate?

Under the dogma of "free enterprise" as it is cherished by a large segment of American opinion the answer would seem to be: probably no.

FOR ONE THING the French planning operation is completely divorced from politics. That is part of the extraordinary nature of the system as it was initiated by the planning genius of the time, Jean Monnet, who, as Mr. Europe, was also the father of the Common Market concept.

The special circumstance of France's political life, with virtually all authority centered in a single individual and the national parliament all but impotent, may help to explain why it has been possible to exclude political pressures. With a Congress determined to share the power of the executive and constantly lobbying for regional and special privileges, it would be hard to see how such a system could work in America.

FOR THE FRENCH themselves an important test is still to come on whether planning can be divorced from political pressures. The big and thorny problem just ahead is on allocation of the national income — how the pie is to be divided among the various claimants. Needless to say, this is bound to stir the strongest emotions.

In order to put the discussion of this toughest of issues on a high level the Commission of the Plan last year reviewed the Superior Council of the Plan, an institution which had fallen into abeyance after the first stage of the planning experiment. On the Council are top representatives of all elements in the economy. The planners will present the Council with a careful study showing that income can not continue to rise as they have in the past few years if at the same time social services are to continue to expand.

THE FRENCH SCALE of social benefits, including aid to mothers for each successive child, is an important part of a worker's income. Its pervasiveness has been the theme of cyclical literature about mothers who get pregnant in order to buy a refrigerator or a motor scooter with the allowance they will be paid for another child. You must choose the planners will now say, between further expansion of this system and an increase in individual incomes. And what they hope will result is an orderly and enlightened discussion by all concerned.

IN OTHER LESS sensitive areas the Commission of the Plan has already defined the law of political intervention. One example is regional development. The centralization of industry and trade in Paris and two or three other centers has become so acute as to be a real handicap to further growth.

The Commission has therefore set out to direct new industry into parts of the country losing young people to the cities and rapidly becoming impoverished. One of these areas is Brittany where the farms are small and agriculture is inefficient. By government loans to private industry—up to 20 per cent of the value of investment in relation to employment created—as well as other devices new electronics firms are being located there.

SINCE SKILLED workers are a primary requisite for modern industry, the government is establishing vocational schools in Brittany. With government encouragement a new Citroen automobile plant has been established there. A similar development is occurring in and around Limoges, Bordeaux and Amiens. An American tire company was given government assistance in return for agreeing to locate in Amiens rather than elsewhere.

At the same time Paris, which has been growing richer and richer, is being deliberately slowed down. Yet the planners say they have flexibility which permits them to act quickly in a given area. When three years ago there was a slight slowdown in the Paris area the huge Orly airport, construction of which had been proceeding in a leisurely fashion, was speeded to completion along with the access routes into Paris.

Perhaps the word capitalism no longer fits this system. With elements borrowed from free enterprise and from socialism it is in many respects a new form. For France is seems to work and the French who have always prided themselves on being individualists are now proving they are also pragmatists.

One-Third Of Cancer Cases Cured

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: In one of your answers in connection with cancer, you stated in part of your answer and I quote, '... or even people cured of cancer.'"

"I had been under the impression that there is no cure for cancer. I hope I am wrong. Will you kindly explain"—MRS. C. S.

Yes, you are wrong, I'm glad to say. And no doubt there are millions of people who think as you do—despite the efforts of cancer groups and societies to inform the public on the subject.

We still don't know exactly what causes cancer. Chronic irritation, as from certain chemicals, can cause cancer. This we know from experiments with animals, as well as from the first such type of thing ever recognized scientifically—that after years of work, chimney sweeps were likely to develop cancer of the scrotum, traced eventually to exposure to the chimney dust in which they worked. Not all got cancer, but a high percentage did.

We know that heredity has something to do with it. The laboratories breed strains of mice which consistently develop cancer, or get it very easily.

We strongly suspect that in at least some cases viruses have a connection, but we haven't been able to show exactly how.

We do know what happens when, from whatever reason or combination of reasons, cancer starts. The normal cells of the body, first at some microscopic area, stop replacing themselves normally. Instead, the cells divide and divide and divide, reproducing at a tremendous rate, with the cells being abnormal.

If we can remove this "colony" of cancerous, or improperly dividing cells, soon enough, that's the end of the cancer. It is cured. If we don't catch it soon enough, then the cancerous trick of faulty division spreads endlessly. Then nothing can be done.

As a rather poor simile, compare it to crab grass that gets started in a lawn. If we can detect it soon enough, and pull out all the tufts before it has gone to seed, the lawn is safe.

If we miss some of the crab grass, and it goes to seed, then, next season there is more of it. And, eventually, the crab grass takes over entirely, and there's little to do except plow up the whole lawn and start over.

It is about like that with cancer. Stop it in the beginning, and do a complete job, and the cancer is cured.

Ignore it a little while, and it can grow beyond cure. Right now, about one in three of all cancer cases is being cured. Cancer of the skin, which can be seen, can almost always be cured if treated right away—treatment is surgery and/or X-ray.

Cancer of the cervix, throat, colon and a number of other "internal organs" which still can be inspected one way and another, can be cured if early symptoms are observed and not ignored.

Cancer in some interior parts of the body that cannot be examined as successfully is more dangerous. It gets too much start before symptoms are apparent.

But we do cure, as I said, a third of all cases, and could increase the percentage if people were more suspicious of the symptoms, and consulted their doctors sooner.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Meeting Linked With Memory

By Jules Loh
Associated Press Writer

Pope John XXIII's selection of Oct. 11 as opening date for the Second Vatican Council "because it links us with the memory of the great Council of Ephesus," focuses attention on one of the world's most interesting holy places.

Many believe Ephesus, Turkey, was the home of both the Virgin Mary and the "beloved disciple" John during their last years on earth.

The Council of Ephesus, to which the Pope referred, was held there in the year 431 and defined the doctrine that Mary is the mother of God. Catholics celebrate the feast of the Divine Maternity of Mary on Oct. 11.

Most Catholic spokesmen feel the Pope selected Oct. 11 mainly because it was an appropriate feast day close to the time when preparations for the council will be complete. Prelates frequently use feast days to announce important church decisions, merely to add to their solemnity.

But, in light of the emphasis the Second Vatican Council is placing on religious unity, many feel that linking it with the Council of Ephesus was a happy, if incidental, turn of events.

For one thing, the Council of Ephesus was one of the few early Ecumenical Councils whose decisions are accepted by Orthodox and most Protestant bodies as well as Catholics.

For another, it puts major stress on the ancient doctrine of Mary as mother of God rather than on more modern Marian definitions which some Christians view as stumbling blocks to unity.

In still another vein, linking the two councils in spirit gives this year's gathering an impressive historical perspective stretching back to apostolic times. The Church of Ephesus, which still exists as a Catholic archdiocese, was one of the seven churches of the Book of Revelation. The solemn meeting of bishops held there in 431 was the church's fourth Ecumenical Council; this year's similar gathering in Rome will be the 21st.

Ephesus was one of the most important cities of New Testament times; a thriving seaport and site of the famous Temple of Diana, one of the seven wonders of the world. All that's left today is three square miles of ruins on the eastern shore of the Aegean Sea.

In 1927 archeologists discovered a tomb beneath the floor of a 6th-century Byzantine basilica which some hold to be the burial place of John the Evangelist.

Though nothing is known from Scripture or early church history about Mary's final years on earth, the tradition that she accompanied John to Ephesus after the fourth century.

Part of the reason for the belief springs from the fact that the city's ancient church, where the council was held, was called St. Mary Theotokos (mother of God). In pagan times the building had been a Greek university. Historians believe it was converted to Christian use in about 350 A.D., a period when it wasn't customary for churches to be dedicated to saints except in places where they actually lived.

The belief was revived 90 years ago when the ruins of a shrine, built on the foundation of a small three-room house, were discovered on a hilltop overlooking the Aegean. The ruins, now restored, are regarded by many as the house where Mary lived.

Each year about 50,000 pilgrims climb the hill to visit the shrine.

Do Beliefs Matter?

SOME OF THE GREAT NEW TESTAMENT TRUTHS, THEIR BELIEF AND THEIR SALVATION

Scripture — Matthew 15:14; John 3:17-18; Acts 16:11-15; II Thessalonians 2:13-17; I Peter 3:15; II Peter 3:14-18.

By N. SPEER JONES

WITH THIS LESSON we begin the fourth and final quarter of our year's studies. Subject matter for this quarter is entitled "Basic Christian Beliefs."

Before we deal in detail with some of these beliefs, it is important and fitting to discuss a question which is all too often skipped over, or touched on only lightly — does it really matter what you believe, and why?

The first passage from our lesson concerns hypocrisy. It is useless to pretend to believe something, when in reality we do not believe it. Worse than useless, it is insulting.

Matthew records a stunning example of this hypocrisy among the self-righteous Pharisees, and

Christ's denunciation of it — more telling because He all but ignored the "blind" Pharisees than if He had spent more time reproving them.

John records in his third chapter a conversation between Christ and Nicodemus, one of these literal-minded Pharisees. Scholars debate whether the verses assigned are still part of that conversation, and whether they are Christ's words or John's. It would seem that if they are not Christ's actual words, they must be a close approximation to something John had heard his Master say, so positive are they in revealed truth.

Here we see that Christ came at that time not to judge or condemn the world, but to offer all men the possibility of salvation. Based on copyrighted outlines prepared by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

Everyone may choose whether or not to believe in Christ and God.

The passage from Acts gives an illustration of the very opposite of the hypocrisy of the Pharisees. Here we see a woman waiting to believe in Christ even before she hears His story from Paul. This woman, not a Jew, travels regularly from Philippi to a riverside prayer place to join the simple Jewish worship there; she senses the futility of heathenism, and turns to the Jewish God.

As soon as Paul tells his story, however, she becomes a convert to Christianity. Her belief, moreover, is complete; her first action is to open her home to these unknown apostles.

Do Beliefs Matter?

SOME OF THE GREAT NEW TESTAMENT TRUTHS, THEIR BELIEF AND THEIR SALVATION

Scripture — Matthew 15:14; John 3:17-18; Acts 16:11-15; II Thessalonians 2:13-17; I Peter 3:15; II Peter 3:14-18.

By N. SPEER JONES

WITH THIS LESSON we begin the fourth and final quarter of our year's studies. Subject matter for this quarter is entitled "Basic Christian Beliefs."

Before we deal in detail with some of these beliefs, it is important and fitting to discuss a question which is all too often skipped over, or touched on only lightly — does it really matter what you believe, and why?

The first passage from our lesson concerns hypocrisy. It is useless to pretend to believe something, when in reality we do not believe it. Worse than useless, it is insulting.

Matthew records a stunning example of this hypocrisy among the self-righteous Pharisees, and

Christ's denunciation of it — more telling because He all but ignored the "blind" Pharisees than if He had spent more time reproving them.

John records in his third chapter a conversation between Christ and Nicodemus, one of these literal-minded Pharisees. Scholars debate whether the verses assigned are still part of that conversation, and whether they are Christ's words or John's. It would seem that if they are not Christ's actual words, they must be a close approximation to something John had heard his Master say, so positive are they in revealed truth.

Here we see that Christ came at that time not to judge or condemn the world, but to offer all men the possibility of salvation. Based on copyrighted outlines prepared by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

CAIN OFFERED TO GOD THE FRUIT OF THE FIELD

Hebrews the 11th Chapter tells us that Abel offered to God a more excellent sacrifice than did Cain. Abel offered animal sacrifice, Cain offered the fruit of the field. The astounding thing about this is that the 11th Chapter of Hebrews says that Abel offered by faith and that his offering was accepted and Cain's was rejected. What happened, and it is the only logical conclusion, is that Abel offered by Faith and that Cain did not offer by Faith. It follows that since "faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God"—Rom. 10:17 that both Cain and Abel heard the word of God and that in what God said to them he told them both the same thing, namely that God told them both that when they made sacrifice and offering to Him they must offer ANIMAL SACRIFICE. Abel did, Cain did not!! Abel offered by Faith and Cain was presumptuous.

My friends, the most respectable sins among men today are committed in church houses!!! men are acting like Cain; they are substituting infant baptism for that which God said, Teaching and faith and repentance must precede baptism, Mk. 16:15-16; Matt. 28:18-20, Acts 2:38. They are offering sprinkling instead of baptism which goes to the Roman Catholic Council of Ravenna in 1311, and not back to the Bible.

Faith starts and stops with the Bible. Rom. 10:17, II Cor. 5:7 and without Faith it is impossible to please God.

Big Spring ran 60 plays against Snyder, in addition to the times it punted, yet could score only one touchdown. Their shortcomings on offense caused the coaches to take a new look at the personnel and come up with some lineup changes...

The Steers set a school record by scoring safeties in two successive games—against Plainview and Snyder. They don't often get two safeties in one season.

You can be certain of one thing: School officials didn't hurt Wichita Falls High School's football talent in the least, when it came time to create a third school district within the city...

Officials in other school districts have been more realistic when it came to shaping boundary lines for schools.

Pistol Pete Pedro, the West Texas State football phenom, played semi-pro football back east before Joe Kerbel signed him to frighten enemy lines for the Buffaloes.

Tommy Grant, the Coahoma quarterback, broke a tooth half in two in a recent game and had a mouth protector made for him by Dr. Charley Warren, the local dentist.

Warren, and several other local dentists, have been making mouth protectors for local athletes at cost. The guards will probably be required on all footballers next year.

Longhorn B Team Goes To Abilene

The Shorthorn lineup has been weakened somewhat in that Steve McCombs and Robert Goodlett have been promoted to the varsity squad. Every Steer who doesn't get to play against Wichita Falls tonight will be taken to Abilene Saturday.

Bragan Will Join Braves

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bobby Bragan will leave the Houston Colts to join the Milwaukee Braves as coach, it was learned today.

Bragan, a former big-league manager, served as coach for the Colts this past season after joining the new National League organization in a scouting capacity in 1961.

The 45-year-old former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Cleveland Indians will join hold-over Whit Wyatt, Bill Adair and Jo Jo White, whose signing was announced Thursday night in conjunction with the release of Jimmy Dykes and Andy Pafko.

Bragan, one of the most knowledgeable men in baseball, was regarded as one of the bright managerial types when he took over the reins of the Pirates in 1956. A daring fiery leader, Bragan got the Pirates off to a fast start after they had finished in last place the previous year, but a late season slump pulled them down to seventh place. He was discharged in the middle of the following season and then joined the Indians in '58 where he lasted one-half season before he was succeeded by Joe Gordon.

Stepup Reported On Engine Parts

Capt. Veryl C. Hewitt, property accounting officer at Webb's Base Supply, and F. M. Fulbright, foreman of the jet engine overhaul shops, returned this week from Boston, Mass., where they attended a conference concerning the J58-SA (jet) engine.

The conference was sponsored by the engine's manufacturer—General Electric's small jet engine division—and was called for the purpose of accelerating the delivery of parts.

Capt. Hewitt and Fulbright report a new schedule of production is being put into effect at the factory.

Four local people are members of the Midland Symphony Orchestra as that organization conducts its annual membership campaign. The Big Springers make weekly trips to rehearsals in Midland and Odessa, and the tempo of their trips will step up when the concert season begins

X15 Drops Two Safety Factors

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Air Force Maj. Robert Rushworth gunned an advanced model X15 rocket ship to 3,375 miles an hour Thursday, minus two built-in safety factors.

Rushworth was checking the plane's stability with its ventral fin removed and its yaw damper off. The fin acts as a vertical stabilizer. The damper prevents the plane from weaving dangerously on re-entry from space.

The X15 was dropped from the B52 mother ship over Delamar Dry Lake, Nev., 60 miles northwest of Las Vegas, and soared to 106,000 feet.

After shutting off the damper, Rushworth kicked the plane into broad weaving maneuvers at different angles of attack up to 18 degrees.

Engineers wanted to see how well a pilot can correct the yaw should his automatic system accidentally go out.

The 10-minute flight was also the first in which the model was flown without the ventral fin—a wedge of metal suspended from the tail. The fin normally is jettisoned just before landing.

Beauticians Slate Beauty Show Here

More than 500 area and out-of-state beauticians are expected to participate in the Southwest Texas Beauty Show of the Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists which begins Saturday and continues through Monday night in the Settles Hotel. Big Spring Unit 24 of District 8 will host the show. Jerry Lee, operator at the Hair Style Clinic, is show manager.

A full schedule for the three day contest begins with registration at 4 p.m. Saturday in the lobby of the Settles. The Dale White Combo will furnish music for the dance Saturday at 9 p.m. in the Settles ballroom.

Special guest is Buddy Francis, California beautician, and the originator of the "cushion cut" hairstyle.

Big Spring's unit will be represented in the outstanding team challenge contest by Mrs. Alice Bentley, co-owner of the Hair Style Clinic, Jerry Lee, and Mrs. Hazel Eppler, operator at Village Hair-styles. They are the winners of previous local contests held to pick the Big Spring representatives. Other District 8 team challenge contestants will represent Abilene, Colorado City, Sterling City, San Angelo, Midland, Lamesa, Sweetwater, Brownfield, Andrews and Seminole.

Ambassadors Club members from the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will be on hand to welcome visiting hairdressers.

Forty-eight trophies will be presented during the awards banquet at 7 o'clock Monday night to the winners of the series of contests. The hair shaping contest will begin at 9 a.m. Sunday. A contest for operators who have not previously won in competition will be held at 12:30 p.m. At 1 p.m. a student beautician contest will begin.

Monday's contests will begin at 8:30 a.m. with the open trend for original hairstyles. Winners of these contests will participate in the final competition which begins at 1 p.m. The Big Spring unit was last year's winner of the final contest. Mrs. Bentley will be representing Big Spring for the second consecutive year. The traveling trophy is on display now at the Hair Style Clinic, and if the Big Spring team wins again, it keeps the trophy.

Death Penalty For Embezzling

MOSCOW (AP)—A bookkeeper in Soviet Azerbaijan has been ordered shot for helping managers of state shoe stores embezzle money.
