ON DISHONORING OF NEGRO TROOPS AND INFLAMMATORY CLAIMS

Meredith Has Words For Army -- And NAACP, Too

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—James H. Meredith, Negro student attending the University of Mississippi under federal guard, today criticized the Army and, by implication, the officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. In an interview he sought, Meredith complained the Army had inflicted "a dishonor and a disgrace" on Negro soldiers by segregating troops brought into Oxford after the riot that attended his appearance here nine days ago. His other complaint was against what he called "this inflammatory claim" by some people that he had been "picked, selected or chosen by them to integrate the University of Mississippi." The president of the Mississippi NAACP, Aaron Henry, was reported earlier as saying Meredith was selected from a list of candidates for the desegregation move.

Meredith denied this after the report of Henry's statement. "I have good reason to believe that this and similar accusations have resulted in stronger opposition to me by the students at the university," Meredith said. "If it were true, I must admit that I would think their opposition would be in some ways justified," he said. Meredith said, "I consider it of utmost importance that the persons who claim to be the Negro leaders would be individuals of unquestioned integrity and not individuals who will make irresponsible statements to gain personal ends." As for the military, Meredith said that during his first two days on the campus, "the military units looked like American units." "Since that time the units have been re-segregated, Negroes have been purged from their positions in the ranks," he said. Meredith said that he complained "the proper authorities" Thursday, and that the next day he was told the situation would be corrected. On Monday, he said, "Negro soldiers were indeed seen again among the soldiers. The ones I saw, however, were on a garbage detail truck and unarmed. The white members of the detail were armed. This condition constitutes a dishonor and a disgrace to the hundreds of thousands of Negroes who wear the uniforms of our military services." He said his conscience would not allow him to go on without "at least letting the Negro soldiers know that I did not like them being dishonored." Asked whether he thinks the university has failed to discipline students who heckled him, Meredith replied: "I don't know if the university is disciplining hecklers or not, and I am not seeking to find out." Meredith said he wanted to thank the federal marshals and the Justice Department for what he called "the fine way" they handled his entering and remaining in the university.

Ousted U.S. Official Leaves Moscow

Commander Raymond Smith, assistant U.S. naval attaché accused of espionage in Russia, and his wife, Ellen, are shown at Moscow airport prior to leaving with their three children for Copenhagen on the first leg of their trip to the United States. Smith was ordered out of Russia. The U.S. State Department claimed the Russians were retaliating for the expulsion of two members of the Soviet U.N. delegation from the United States.

West Apparently Decides Against Action In Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The Western Allies apparently have decided to do nothing except protest the refusal of East German guards to let a British army ambulance go to the aid of a man shot just over the Berlin wall. The Soviets refused to accept the protest Monday. The East German action was clearly a blow to Western prestige in Berlin. "Just one more slice off the Berlin salami," said one West Berliner. Western officials were reluctant to predict what further action might be taken. From their re-

Man Injured, Another Held In Shooting On North Side

One man was seriously injured and another jailed, following a shooting on the North Side late Monday. Rudy Hernandez, 502 NW 4th, was taken to Howard County Hospital Foundation shortly before 11 p.m. Monday, suffering from three bullet wounds. Alex Arzola Torres, 22, 601 N. Douglas, was later arrested, questioned about the shooting and charged with assault with intent to murder. He was placed in the Howard County jail and his bond set at $2,000 which he had not posted at noon Tuesday. Police Patrolmen Bob Armstrong and Blaz Bailon, on routine patrol about 10:40 p.m., saw a car leave the 500 block of Northwest

Swollen Appeal Docket Reduced To 21 Cases

Only twenty - one of more than 400 appeal cases on file in Howard County Court were left tentatively alive on the county court docket today when Judge Ed Carr, presiding, agreed the attorneys in these matters might file valid appeal bonds and reactivate their cases. One appeal was set for jury trial Wednesday. Nine others were summarily dismissed by the court because the complaints were held to be faulty. The remainder of the 423 cases on the original docket—with the exception of those cases in which George Thomas and John Richard Coffee are the attorneys—were ordered remanded to the court from which they originated. These are the corporation court and the two justice of the peace courts. Thomas was reported out of town. Coffee had reported early in the proceedings but had not returned when court shut down for the morning session. Their cases will be considered later. Wayne Burns, county attorney, said the matters remained were cases in which faulty appeal bonds had been filed and were, therefore, not legally before the court. Wayne Basden, who had nearly 200 of the cases on the docket, summarily conceded remand of all but 14 of the cases. He asked the court to permit him to file amended bonds in these cases. R. H. Weaver had seven cases in which he asked time to file amended bonds. He also had two in which the bonds were rated as valid and the cases subject to trial. These were complaints against Paul Smith Limer Jr., and Weaver agreed to have the defendant in court Wednesday for trial of one of the appeals. The appeal cases on today's docket included 259 from corporation court, 113 from Justice Court Place No. 1 and 91 from Justice Court Place No. 2. Burns and Carpenter were pleased with the reduction

U. A. R. Forces Help Rebels In Yemen Fight

But Saudi Arabia Denies Helping Royalist Faction

ADEN (AP)—Troops and planes of the United Arab Republic are bolstering the revolutionary regime in Yemen amid signs of an approaching fight with forces seeking to restore the monarchy. Royalists claimed their forces were advancing in a two-pronged drive to surround the revolutionary capital of Sana. They said they encountered negligible resistance. There was no confirmation of the report. Western correspondents on a weekend visit to Yemen saw ample evidence of expanding U.A.R. military assistance to the revolutionary regime. U.A.R. troops and planes guarded Sana's airport. Squads of U.A.R. officers and instructors were seen outside the massive government building and more were unloading from a U.A.R. ship at the Soviet-built port of Hodeida, 100 miles away. "We do not care if there is a threat," the rebel premier, Col. Abdullah Sallal, 40, told the newsmen. "We can depend on ourselves and our friends." The U.A.R. Middle East News Agency said 10,000 volunteers are being armed in Yemen's three key cities—Sana, Taizz and Hodeida. Sallal said the rebel regime has the backing of the Yemen army of 20,000, including the National Guard, and sufficient Soviet and Czechoslovak arms purchased by the monarchy to withstand attack. The army has T34 tanks and other heavy equipment. The fledgling air force has Soviet MIG17 fighters and Ilyushin 10 bombers, with more on the way. Yemeni pilots are still training in Italy

Rain Causes Delay Of World Series

NEW YORK (AP)—The fifth World Series game was postponed today because of rain after a delay of more than an hour. It will be played Wednesday at Yankee Stadium. The postponement was the first in a Series since Oct. 4, 1956, when the second game of the New York Yankees-Brooklyn Dodger Series was washed out in Brooklyn. The San Francisco Giants and New York Yankees are even at two wins each.

Saturn Launch Pad Completed

BARTOW, Fla. (AP)—Frank Murphy and Associates, Bartow steel fabricating firm, announced it has completed a launching pad for the Saturn rocket, this nation's largest. The pad awaits inspection and transportation piecemeal to Cape Canaveral. The firm has been working since June on a $750,000 contract to build the pad and a service tower. The tower already has been delivered.

Soblen Apparently Had Secret Pocket

LONDON (AP)—A Scotland Yard detective said today Robert A. Soblen apparently knocked himself into a fatal coma Sept. 6 with a drug hidden in a secret pocket of his trousers. "I have found no evidence that he was assisted by any person," Superintendent James McKay told an inquest into the fugitive spy's death.

Knees In Gym Class 'Immoral,' Girl Claims

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Judy Rae Bushong, who feels exposing her knees in gym class is immoral, was given one week today to appear in bloomer-type shorts the other girls wear or face permanent expulsion from high school. School officials said the girl and her parents would be notified of the deadline in a registered letter. Soon after the township school board voted unanimously Monday night to order Judy expelled if she doesn't comply, the 17-year-old girl said she would never agree to wear shorts because of her religious convictions. Her father, the Rev. Herbert Bushong, an ordained minister and part-time pastor at the non-denominational church of Soul's Harbor in Waynesburg, near Canton, said: "I pay taxes that go to support the school and my daughter should be allowed to attend. Why should I have to pay tuition and transportation for her to go elsewhere?" The girl was suspended from Springfield Township High School Sept. 24. Her father said she could wear either slacks or pedal pushers in gym classes. This didn't satisfy school officials. The suspension first was ordered by James Stone, high school principal. He was supported by Supt. Charles Rieger. "A passage in the state code says religious beliefs of parents are not sufficient ground for ex-

Walker Exam Meet Delayed

DALLAS (AP)—A meeting between Robert Morris, a lawyer for former Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, and Dr. R. L. Stubblefield, one of the psychiatrists named to examine Walker, was called off today. This meeting was cancelled when U.S. Dist. Judge Claud Clayton of Mississippi, who has jurisdiction in the case, advised Stubblefield not to confer with Morris without the presence of a government appointed attorney. Morris said Walker, who was embroiled in the University of Mississippi integration crisis, would present himself to the psychiatrists for examination Thursday night and probably be examined on Friday. Stubblefield, of the Southwestern Medical Center, was selected by Walker's lawyers to make the examination ordered by a Missouri judge. The choice of a psychiatrist by the federal government to make a similar examination is pending, but Morris said it is presumed the federal doctor would make his examination at the same time as Stubblefield. Walker is resting on a ranch. Morris said his mother lives at Center Point near Kerrville. Walker, released from a federal hospital at Springfield, Mo., Saturday, has until Friday to take the examination. He was arrested on the University of Mississippi campus at Oxford, Miss., and taken to Springfield before being released on reduced bond of $50,000.

UF Special Gifts Unit Sets Fast Pace

Workers in the special gifts division of the United Fund maintained the pace set by other divisions when it launched efforts Monday. Two workers reported in the first day with all their cards worked and turned in. This fast pace was established early in the drive at Webb AFB and in the big gifts division, when workers began reporting over their quotas on the first day of their efforts. The fast start—aimed at an early completion of the drive—has accounted for $27,010 so far toward the goal of $103,324. Two other divisions will begin work Wednesday. The public employment division, with Bruce Dunn heading up the city-county section and V. J. Beldi leading the state-federal section, will begin canvassing. The railroad brotherhoods will pick up their cards and materials during a meeting at 9 a.m. at the Cosden Country Club. These men begin actual contact work Friday. One division at Webb AFB has gone over its quota, however about four individual offices have reported over their quotas. In the major divisions at the base, this is how they stood this morning: Wing Headquarters, 59 per cent; Air Base Group, 26 per cent; M&S Group, five per cent; Civil Engineering, 14 per cent; Hospital, 29 per cent; 331st FIS, 29 per cent; Pilot Training Group, 76 per cent; Detachment 2, communications, 71 per cent; 420th Fuel Training Detachment, 50 per cent; and Detachment 32, Rescue, 186 per cent.

Rats, Powder Are Aid To Research

By BILL W. DEAN
 OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — White-coated Joe Carver is down there in the basement with his rats. He is interested in their brains—and some bone-white, musty-smelling powder in a little bottle. What is he up to?

Ask that unscientific question of Dr. Michael J. Carver—everyone calls him Joe—and you get a peek into one of the new worlds of research: the complex, little-explored problems of retarded children.

His rats-and-powder project concerns a particular group of these children. They suffer phenylketonuria—a name some practical soul shortened to PKU.

A PKU child is born as bright as the next one. But his first mouthful of food starts him on the road to mental retardation.

Dr. Carver, 39, is chief of biochemistry at the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute and an associate professor in the University of Nebraska College of Medicine.

Recently he moved into a bright basement laboratory in the institute's new Mental Retardation Clinical Research Center.

A father of three children of his own, his attitude toward the retarded child is anything but scientific detachment. Joe Carver admits he's emotionally involved.

"I guess it's because I've discovered I know so many people with retarded children," he says.

Before his work took him into the field, Carver had no idea there were so many. It is estimated 126,000 retarded children are born each year in this country. One out of every 20,000 live births is believed to be a victim of PKU.

In an extreme case, a victim of PKU may be speechless and uncomprehending. His arm and leg movements may be erratic and poorly controlled. He may be easily frightened and quick-tempered. Other victims may look almost normal.

But one important distinction sets apart all PKU from most retarded children.

"In only a small percentage of mentally retarded children can you put your finger on what is wrong with them," says Dr. Carver. "This is a case where you can." It is a metabolic flaw.

 "RELIABLE PRESCRIPTIONS"

OUT OF CONTEXT

By T. R. Farber, preacher
 Church of Christ, 28th West Highway 80
 P.O. Box 1282

One reader of this column made the following statement to me: "You take a lot of Scripture out of context, of necessity; but I have gone to the Book, and I have never found you wrong."

By "out of context" he did not mean "I feel sure" that the verses were considered without view to their context; but that I did not quote the context because of the small space available here. To take a portion of Scripture without regarding its context (the statements before and after), is to convert the text into a pretext. If I do that, those who "go to the Book" will find me wrong. I have space here to do little

"You take a more than give key statements. I take for granted that you readers will 'go to the Book' and see for yourself if these things are true (just as we read they did in Acts 17:11). That is why the Bible references are given. You are not asked to take my word for anything."

May I strongly recommend that you go to 11th Place and Birdwell Lane tonight at 7:30, and hear evangelist Durward Lee. Then go home and "go to the Book." He does not ask you to take his word for anything. —adv.

GI Peers Through The Wall

A United States soldier peers through a hole in the Communist-built wall on the Berlin border after a West Berlin man was shot by Communist border guards. Standing by are a U.S. military policeman and a West Berlin policeman. The man was shot by East Germans as he emerged from a tunnel on the east side of the border while attempting to assist refugees through the escape route.

Kerala, Once Red, Tries New Regime

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
 TRIVANDRUM, India (AP) — The shaky government of Kerala, the South Indian state which elected and later ousted a Communist government, is putting its leadership in new hands in an apparent attempt to halt a strong drift back toward Communist rule.

The chief minister of Kerala, Pattom Thanu Pillai, member of the Small Peoples Socialist Party, has resigned and will become governor of Punjab State, a figurehead job. Pillai, 76, is being succeeded in Kerala by a member of Prime Minister Nehru's Congress Party, R. Shankar, former deputy chief minister.

Pillai's government, which had taken over from the Red regime, had completed half its five-year term with little to show to its credit. Internal dissension hampered administration, accompanied by an odor of corruption and virtually no progress on the immense problems facing the state. Failures of the government led to widespread expectations that the Communists would be returned to power in the next elections.

Pillai was chief minister by virtue of his seniority in the Cubans Riot Outside U.N.

NEW YORK (AP) — Anti-Castro Cubans attacked Castro supporters across the street from the United Nations building Monday with rocks and fists, then mounted a barrage of rotten eggs.

Police arrested 33 persons.

An address inside the General Assembly hall by Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos led to the appearance of the demonstrators. Dorticos denounced the United States in his speech.

Demonstrators in the assembly galleries flung such epithets as "traitor" and "assassin" at Dorticos, while some 300 opponents of Prime Minister Fidel Castro paraded outside.

As each demonstrator in the hall rose and shouted, he was quickly surrounded by U.N. guards and escorted from the building after being photographed for identification.

The clashes between the pro and anti-Castro pickets on 1st Avenue occurred late in the afternoon, hours after Dorticos had finished speaking.

Mexico Plans 'Spy' Case Probe

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The case of a Mexican woman who said she was arrested in Cuba as a United States spy will be investigated by the Foreign Ministry, the government said today.

Margarita Duran, 34, said she was tortured for more than two months in prison at Guanajuato before her captors freed her. She arrived from Havana Saturday.

"She said she went there to collect back alimony payments and was arrested shortly after landing in Cuba.

Longshoremen May Boycott Cuban Shipping

NEW YORK (AP) — An East Coast boycott of ship cargoes destined for the Soviet Union or Cuba has been recommended by top officials of the International Longshoremen's Association. A mail vote of the AFL-CIO union's membership was planned.

ILA Vice President Thomas (Teddy) Gleason said the boycott proposal was aimed at eliminating trade with Fidel Castro's government.

ILA locals have conducted sporadic boycotts against individual shipments to the Soviet Union—the latest of them on Sept. 19, when 1,700 crates of chemicals were held up temporarily on a Brooklyn dock.

Peace Corpsmen Land In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — A group of 46 U.S. Peace Corpsmen arrived in this mountain capital Monday to work with Ecuador's Indians in the Andes.

An earlier group of 50 arrived in August. One of the objectives is to help the Indians take part in Ecuador's social and economic life.

Chiang Repeats 'Return' Pledge

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek said again today he will personally lead his Chinese Nationalist armed forces

In a return to the Communist-held mainland. He made his pledge in a message commemorating the Oct. 10 revolution in 1911 which led to the establishment of the Republic of China.

Chiang, who will be 75 on Oct. 31, said the people on the mainland are only too ready to rise in support of a Chinese Nationalist counteroffensive.

Outlanders Share In Prizes At Fair

DALLAS (AP) — Stockmen of half a dozen other states shared championships with home state breeders Monday in the first major round of judging at the State Fair of Texas.

Despite rains deluging the Dallas area, the big show drew 50,549 visitors for the 463,873 since the fair opened Saturday.

In the Angus cattle division of the fair's Pan-American Livestock Exposition, Tolan Farms of Pleasant Plains, Ill., showed the grand champion bull, Bardoliermere WWF51. Blue Sky Farm of Kearney, Mo., and Kintyre Farm of Gloster, Miss., had the reserve champion, Ermitre 5 of Blue Sky.

Blue Sky Farm also had the grand champion Angus female, Blue Sky Ermitre Queen 3. Garrett Angus Ranch of Longmont, Colo., exhibited the reserve champion female, Blackbird 3 of Hamm.

In the judging of Jersey cattle, V. L. Stout of Rhome had the grand champion bull, Marlie Royal Supreme 575193, and Davis Brothers Dairy of Caldwell the reserve champion, Edgela Posing Acme.

Fred Davis Farm of Haslet showed the grand champion Jersey female, Beacon Bas Patience, and Warren Hordyke of Tyler the reserve champion female, W. R. Fairy Laura.

Swine show judges picked an entry of F. H. Christian & Sons of La Porte, Iowa, as grand champion boar in the Duroc division. The reserve champion was owned by Burkank Student Farm of San Antonio. Mid-West Farms of Winfield, Iowa, had the grand champion sow and W. F. Holloway of Petersburg the reserve champion.

For Yorkshire swine, Robert Cohen of Llano had the grand champion boar and reserve champion sow, and F. L. Jackson & Sons of Lytton, Iowa, the reserve champion boar. Cen-Tex Yorkshire Farm of Voca, Tex., showed the grand champion sow.

Ribbons for the champion Delaine-Merino ram and reserve champion ewe in the senior sheep show went to Francis Knott of Fredericksburg. A. C. Lindeman & Sons of Blanco had the reserve champion ram and Donald Bradford of Menard the champion ewe.

In the junior section of the show, Bill Barrett of Midland exhibited the champion Delaine-Merino ram. Christ Berger of Sonora, had the reserve champion ram and both the champion and reserve champion ewe.

Halter judging of Shetland ponies saw 5-G Pony Farm of Longview take the grand championship for stallions 42 inches and under with Golden Boy's Captain.

HEADACHES

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

Headaches that persist or recur frequently are danger signals that something is amiss. Masking the pain with aspirin or pain killers may seem an easy way for relief, however, if the trouble is not corrected, related symptoms begin to appear. Usually the headaches that used to present themselves in different areas begin to localize in one area or one side of the head, and the patient's illness is diagnosed as migraine. After extensive examination for tumors, past fractures and what have you, the patient begins to believe that they just have to live with it. Don't believe it. If more people knew the effectiveness of Chiropractic, I believe Bayer would have to start making hair tonic or paint. Don't ever forget that for every effect there must be a cause. Remove that cause and you have no headaches.

The local woman came to our office at the request of her sister whom we had helped earlier. The woman suffered severe headaches — associated with constipation — stomach disorders and a multitude of distressing symptoms stemming from a nervous disorder. We examined her and since she had been to very competent medical doctors we felt that only some spinal condition was left to be examined for and found (if present). X-ray examination of the woman's spine showed very little at fault but in examining along the course of some of the nerves — irritation and faulty transmission was suspected. Treatment was begun and in a relatively short time the headaches were drastically reduced, thereby reducing her nervousness in turn, and this reduced many of the minor physical ailments. No. 1349.

If you are receiving relief or correction of your headaches, you don't particularly need us. If you are still suffering in spite of treatment — we suggest that you have your spine and spinal nerves examined as they might be the cause of your distresses. The Hansen Chiropractic Clinic is open each evening until 6:30, located across from Piggly Wiggly. Call AM 3-3324 for an appointment. —Adv.

DEAR ABBY Something's Wrong Here

DEAR ABBY: Do you know of an institution or home where a 12-year-old can stay? My parents both say that I drive them crazy and they drive me nuts, too. Everybody yells at me and picks on me. All I want is to go away somewhere to give everybody a rest, including me. My parents are willing to pay double for a place to put me for a month or so. Please give me the name, address and phone number of a good institution. Thanks.

AN UNDERPRIVILEGED 12-YEAR-OLD

DEAR "UNDERPRIVILEGED": As soon as we have enough convalescent homes for oldsters we'll start thinking of adolescent homes for youngsters.

DEAR ABBY: I was glad to read where you said, "What's a cold foot or a knee in your back compared with togetherness?" I wish my wife (now "ex-wife") thought so.

On our first vacation, after having driven 600 miles, we stopped at a motor court at 10:00 p.m. and the only room available had a big double bed. My wife created such a commotion that we had to drive another 100 miles before we came to a motel with twin beds. She said I was trying to ruin her vacation. I neither drink, smoke nor snore. What should I have done? SLOW LEARNER

DEAR SLOW: According to your letter, you did it!

DEAR ABBY: I have been married 23 years and have a very good husband in many ways, but one fault he has is eating me up alive. He has never addressed me by my name. Here is an example: "Where is my shirt?" and "Get ready, we're going." We have argued about this ever since we were married. He has more respect for our dog. At least he calls the dog by his name. I tell him I was baptized like everyone else and have a name, but he says I am just looking for a fight. Sometimes I make believe I don't hear him and he yells, "DO YOU HEAR ME?" What should I do?

DEAR NO NAME: NO NAME it's best to know when to give up. Nagging a husband about something he has refused to correct for 23 years will net you nothing but an ulcer. Why don't you forget it for the next 23 years and see how that works?

DEAR ABBY: I loved the prayer, "Slow Me Down, Lord," which you published in your column. Speaking of prayers, when I was a little girl my mother felt that, "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep," etc., "If I Should Die Before I Wake," etc., was too depressing for a child, so she wrote the following prayers for me to say each night.

"Jesus, Gentle Shepherd, hear me.
Guard thy little lamb tonight.
Through the darkness be thou near me.
Keep me 'til the morning light."
I believe many mothers would prefer that their little ones say a prayer like my mother's. You have my permission to print it.

NAOMA W.

DEAR NAOMA: Many thanks for the revised version of "Now I Lay Me Down," etc. If I were to suggest an "improvement" on a prayer, I fear the ecclesiastical ceiling might fall in. But I agree, your mother's prayer is more appropriately worded for a child.

Long Range Plans In Economics For Hemisphere

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Long range economic planning received a major share of attention Monday at the Inter-American Economic and Social Council.

Also under discussion were prices, markets and supplies of basic export products.

The council is reviewing steps taken so far and further means for implementing the Alliance for Progress program.

A spokesman for Brazil urged that planning be based on concrete projects ready to be started instead of those which must await the drafting of global development plans for a country.

Mexico said its government is trying to improve the situation by working with confederations of industrial and commercial chambers.

4,600 Baby Turtles Loosed Into Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—About 4,600 baby sea turtles splashed into the Atlantic Ocean at Nassau, Bahamas, Monday in the final 1962 installment of "Operation Turtle Lift."

Packed in 23 boxes three feet square and four inches deep, the three-week-old hatchlings were carted by the Navy from Miami. The load brings to 42,000 the number of baby turtles distributed around the tropical Atlantic since the project began.

The idea is to keep the reptiles, which grow to 300 pounds, from becoming extinct. At present there are only two natural breeding grounds. One is at Tortuguero, Costa Rica, the other off the Yucatan Peninsula, now almost destroyed by hunters.

A University of Florida professor, Dr. Archie Carr, grows the hatchlings at Tortuguero in cooperation with the Caribbean Conservation Corp. The Navy helps distribute them.

Oil Production Is Fairly Steady

TULSA (AP)—U.S. oil production was fairly steady last week, with gains in Oklahoma and other states offsetting a decline in Texas, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Production averaged 7,353,775 barrels per day, up 3,775 from the previous week.

Texas production averaged 2,522,500 barrels daily, down 19,950. The decrease was due to an additional calendar day this month while the state remained on an 8-day production pattern.

Louisiana production dipped 2,450 barrels a day to 1,362,050. Oklahoma production increased 9,800 barrels a day to 560,000. Arkansas produced 75,000. Colorado 115,000 and New Mexico 297,450.

INTRODUCING THE 1963 DODGE

People can't help being carried away by the 1963 Dodge. Who can blame them? Dodge looks like an expensive car. But, it's priced down with other low-price cars. And inside there's room galore! The roofline sweeps straight back instead of sloping off. That means ample headroom in back, not just in front. There's more legroom and footroom, too. The seats are chair-high whether you choose a model with sofa style, buckets, or fold-down center arm rest in front. Plus, you get the most luxurious interiors in the field, a smooth torsion-bar ride, a thrifty Six or quick, slick V8. Little wonder, people get carried away . . . especially now that every Dodge is backed by a revolutionary 5-year/50,000-mile warranty! See your Dodge Dealer.

Senator Sees Adjournment —But When?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said today leaders have set a Thursday night target for adjournment of Congress.

Humphrey, the Senate's assistant Democratic leader, said after the party's congressional leaders had met with President Kennedy that he believes the goal can be reached.

But Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, told of Humphrey's Thursday prediction, replied: "What week?"

More Meetings Are Approved

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce decided on weekly meetings Monday, in order to have more time to discuss and handle chamber business. Regular board meetings are held monthly.

In a packed agenda Monday, the directors heard reports on a variety of chamber activities.

Col. Wilson H. Banks reported on the 7-30 training program, pointing out that the schedule is being maintained and that no classes have been moved. It was approved to query city and county officials on their plans for a health unit building.

Directors voted to pay off the balance of almost $7,000 outstanding on the downtown Christmas decorations. Jeff Brown reported the membership committee had enrolled 50 new members since Sept.

Champ Rainwater reported on re-evaluation committee activities. Dr. Milton Talbot suggested that the directors write the FFA for a clarification on the Love Field-Fort Worth case. John Currie gave a report on the search for a banquet speaker.

In other reports, items discussed were the appreciation dinner for Grace executives, the booth for the Permian Basin Oil Show, industrial contact activity and the sign on east US 80 which was refurbished by Cosden.

Trustees Have Routine Agenda

Only routine school business is on the agenda for a meeting of trustees tonight. The regular session is slated for 7:30 p.m. at the Administration Building, 100 E. 10th.

Much of tonight's meeting is expected to be taken up with discussion of the school site in the Kentwood area and probable building in the future. No action is expected.

Sam M. Anderson, superintendent, said.

An official budget form which must be sent to the Texas Education Agency has been prepared and it will be presented for signing by trustees.

Other business includes reading of minutes, accepting resignations and employing new personnel.

Scout Council Meets In Midland

The executive board of the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, will meet Oct. 25 in Midland to elect officers for 1963.

Members of the nominating committee headed by J. L. Rhoades, Odessa, are ready to report. Other items on the agenda include appointment of the Annual Meeting Committee and the Committee for the National Jamboree to be held at Valley Forge, Pa. in 1964.

Volunteers Plan Gift Shop For VA Hospital

However, there is room for at least 30 more.

The National Association of Letter Carriers and the TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) groups were reported as new volunteer organizations which will work as a unit.

Next quarterly meeting of the VAVS Advisory Committee will be at 3 p.m., Dec. 6.

Organizations represented among the 34 persons present at the meeting were the American Legion Auxiliary, American Red Cross, National Catholic Community Service, Eger Beaver Sewing Club, Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary, Airport Home Demonstration Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Auxiliary, City Council Parents Teachers Association, National Association of Letter Carriers, Salvation Army, BPOE and American Business Women's Association—Scenic Chapter.

Weekly Meetings

The meeting of Howard County Republicans will be at 7:30 p.m. today at the headquarters office at 206 E. 4th. These meetings will be held on a weekly basis, not monthly as previously reported. The same schedule will apply each Tuesday evening until after the general election in November.

Walker And Mother

Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker is shown with his mother, Mrs. Charlotte Walker of Centerpoint, after they arrived in the University of Springfield, Mo., and is due to undergo psychiatric examination to determine if he is sane enough to stand trial on federal charges of inciting an insurrection and seditious conspiracy. He was arrested and charged in connection with the integration riots at the University of Mississippi.

Agent Describes Red Murder Gun

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP)—A former Soviet agent, accused of two political murders with a secret gas spray gun, indicated today the same weapon had been used in other Soviet-ordered killings.

Bogdan Stashinsky testified at his trial that an agent from Moscow instructed him in use of the spray gun at the Soviet compound in East Berlin. He said this was the weapon with which he killed Ukrainian nationalist leaders Lev Rebet and Stefan Bandera in Munich in 1957 and 1959.

He said the agent praised the weapon's effectiveness and quoted him as saying: "It has been used successfully on many occasions and has always proved to be dependable."

The agent claimed the gun left no traces that would have led investigators to suspect murder, Stashinsky said.

Stashinsky defected to the West in Berlin in August 1961, after his marriage to a German girl made his superior wary of him.

The Rebet and Bandera deaths were unsolved until Stashinsky turned himself over to Western authorities. Both men were originally thought to have died of natural causes, although an autopsy on Bandera later revealed traces of potassium cyanide.

Stashinsky described in detail, with the aid of sketches, how the spray gun was loaded with a small glass ampule of poison and fired.

"The man from Moscow said I must aim at the face or chest of the man," he said. "Then he has to breathe in the vapors which contract his blood vessels. He would immediately become unconscious and die in two or three minutes. A short time later his blood vessels would expand again and one would be able to determine nothing by an autopsy," the witness said.

Lakeview Band Boosters Organize

About a dozen Lakeview Band Boosters met Monday night at the Lakeview school to elect officers and organize for the current year.

Mrs. Walter Green was elected president. Other officers are Mrs. Steve Jones, vice president; Mrs. Dave Nelson, secretary; and Mrs. Lonnie Wright, treasurer.

Joe Hillburn, band director, pointed out projects which the Boosters will attempt to complete this year. This includes raising funds to repair some instruments and purchasing additional instruments to supplement the equipment provided by the school.

The club also plans to purchase uniforms for the band, but this will probably not be done this year.

Meetings of the Boosters will be held each Monday at 7 p.m. for the next few weeks during an intensive membership campaign.

E. S. Morgan, principal of Lakeview, was among those present.

Volunteer Firemen Plan Convention In C-City Thursday

Re-Districting Fight Is On In Midland County

MIDLAND (AP)—County commissioners agreed Monday to hire a law firm and fight a suit over redistricting of Midland county precincts.

Mayor Hank Avery sued Sept. 24 after the commissioners refused to act on his petition for redistricting on a "more equitable basis according to population."

Avery, in Fort Worth at the Texas Municipal League meeting, said the commissioners' action came as no surprise.

"We expected it," he said "and now the fight's on."

The Midland mayor said the commissioners "had no other choice to protect their minority." He said they represent 377 voters who are fighting 17,749.

Avery said he filed the suit not as a mayor but as a citizen of the county.

"I feel like if you believe in something you ought to fight for it," he declared, "and I intend to win."

Avery said he expects an early hearing in district court and "if the district court fails to act or acts contrary to my suit we'll go to the federal district court."

Farm Bureau To Elect Officers

Officers for the coming year will be elected from the board of directors of the Howard County chapter of the Farm Bureau at the regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. today. Eight directors were chosen at the Saturday meeting of members.

Neil Fryar, outgoing president, was a holdover director, as was vice president Arless Yater. The secretary, Loy Acuff, was re-elected as a director.

Donald Lay and James (Buddy) Barr, were newly elected directors. Others re-elected were Durwood Blagrove, R. V. Middleton, Larry Shaw, Ralph White, and R. E. Martin. Other holdover directors were Lawrence Davis, Leland Wallace, Dub Coates, Raymond Stallings, Lloyd Robinson and O. D. O'Daniel Jr.

Enrollment Drops Again

Secondary school enrollment dropped by 10 students in the past week to account for the total loss in enrollment registered Friday. There were 7,460 pupils in Big Spring public schools, nine less than the previous week.

Elementary enrollment went down 4,383 Friday. The secondary total went down to 2,928 pupils while special education remained the same at 149 students.

Figures for the various schools are Airport 457, Bauer 511, Boydston 519, Cedar Crest 286, College Heights 531, Kate Morrison 267, Lakeview 206, Marcy 543, Park Hill 295, Washington 768, Goliad 909, Lakeview Junior High 72, Runnels 735 and Senior High 1,212.

Despite her 1931 conviction for murder, hospital superintendent Samuel Wick said he did not consider Mrs. Judd dangerous. She is now 57.

Baptist Temple Pastor Resigns

The Rev. A. R. Posey has submitted his resignation to the Baptist Temple effective Oct. 7.

Members of the congregation are due to name a pulpit committee Wednesday evening to seek and recommend a pastor for the church. Arrangements may be made at the same time for an interim pastor. The resignation followed a conference called Sunday by the congregation.

Rev. Posey said that during the next two or three months he plans to put finishing touches on a completed manuscript of some 70,000 words on the Book of Revelation. It will be offered for publication. During this period he also will be available for pastoral supply and revivals. He has an entire revival series taken from the Revelation.

Rev. Posey came here 8 1/2 years ago from Oklahoma to become the second pastor of the church. During that period the church has settled a $30,000 account on the original building and erected a $50,000 education unit. Six additional lots were purchased for future expansion.

Counting those who transferred in and out, some 2,400 were served during the tenure. There were 979 added by baptism and letter, and the net increase for the period was 305.

Flying Rock, Jeers Greet Ole Miss Negro

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A flying rock and a crowd of jeering students renewed tensions on the University of Mississippi campus Monday, after James H. Meredith's second week as a student had begun in comparative calm.

The incident occurred at the university cafeteria Monday night after Meredith arrived for dinner. No one was hurt but some broken glass sprinkled on the 29-year-old Negro's table.

Some 270 students jeered and shouted in front of the cafeteria. Earlier, Meredith attended classes without having to walk through crowds of booing students, a sharp contrast with last week. Two marshals trailed 30 or 40 feet behind.

Meredith's day went quietly until dinner.

"At lunch, only one lone cry of 'hi Blackie' broke the silence outside the cafeteria. Inside, some 100 students appeared to pay little attention to Meredith.

Earlier in the morning, two unidentified white students shook Meredith's hand as he walked toward his Baxter Hall apartment. Asked if he felt the atmosphere toward him was improving, Meredith said he didn't feel he was in position to judge.

"I think you people (newsmen) are better able to tell about that than I am," he said.

Meredith said he expected to settle down to his studies now that distractions were decreasing. He said he was having no academic difficulties because "I have lived under adverse circumstances all my life."

The evening incident lasted only briefly. The rock which shattered a cafeteria window apparently came from the group of students in front.

Marshals hustled Meredith out a back door.

The students then turned their attention to an auto which federal officials had been using and let the air out of its tire. One official yelled that the car was federal property.

BOOS AND CATCALLS

Boos and catcalls rang out. "What's the matter, white trash?" one student yelled. "You lost your nigger?"

The crowd then dwindled away. The Justice Department, meanwhile, opened its campaign to gain student acceptance of Meredith. Deputy U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach met with 200 law students and a smaller group of campus leaders. He indicated he was pleased with the outcome.

Katzenbach said he did not ask the students to do anything, but sought to explain and answer

Bible Club Holds Monday Meeting

The Bible Club of Big Spring High School held its first meeting of the school term Monday evening at the home of Mary Thornton. Dub McMeans presided.

The business session was followed with a Bible Bowl. Participants were Sylvia Cole, Terry Macklin, Jo Beth Pettus, Camella Ryan, McMeans, Walter Minter, Jena Cole, Jerry Parris, Willie Johnson and Sheri Farris. Judy Seals moderated.

A song composed by Miss Pettus was also presented and refreshments were served after the meeting.

Mahon Reports Plan To Cut Cotton Acreage

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposal to cut next year's cotton acreage allotment is being considered by the Agriculture Department, Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., said today.

Concerned over reports that the 18.1-million-acre national allotment for 1962 may be reduced in 1963, the Texan talked to agriculture.

"Murphy is meeting now with the cotton advisory council, which represents growers from over the nation," said Mahon.

"They're about to get down to brass tacks, but before that there may be some brass knucks. The secretary of agriculture has authority to cut it down to as low as 16.3 million acres, and I know serious consideration is being given to a reduction."

Mahon said he conferred with Murphy after reviewing the situation with Wilmer Smith of Wilson, Tex., and George Pfeifferberger of Lubbock, members of the Cotton Advisory Council.

"I think it would be a serious mistake to trim the national cotton allotment at this time," said Mahon.

"Cotton is having difficulty and making less of it available won't help the problem. There are cotton farmers who tell me that despite increasing production costs they had rather have a reduction in support prices than a reduction in allotments."

The department must decide by Oct. 15 what to do about the allotment, Mahon said.

Ring, Cross, Bible Symbols For Council

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A ring, a cross and the Bible.

These are the chief emblems of the historic gathering—the 2nd Vatican Council—that opens in St. Peter's Basilica Thursday.

The ring and the crosses are the insignia of office of bishops of the Roman Catholic Church.

Never in history have they gathered in such force.

As they begin considering means of reinvigorating the Church, a large, ancient copy of the New Testament will symbolize a keynote of their objectives.

"The Bible was chosen as a central symbol of the council because it is the fount of revelation," a spokesman said. "The deliberations will focus on it."

ON ALTAR

The book, an elaborate, handwritten New Testament of 1472, will be placed on an altar before the assembled council each morning after Mass, before business sessions begin.

Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken of San Francisco said the symbolic significance was in line with the council's purposes.

That is, he said, "to go back to the Church as Jesus founded it in its original purity and simplicity."

Use of the Scriptures as a council symbol seemed likely to strike a responsive chord with Protestant "delegate observers," whose denominations have cited the Bible as the chief rule of faith.

Advancing the cause of Christian unity is a long-range aim of the council.

The symbol also is in keeping with a Biblical movement in Roman Catholicism.

SOURCE OF TRUTH

The Catholic Church also sees tradition—the cumulative insights of the church through the years—as a source of truth, although no accepted tradition may conflict with Scripture.

The channel through which these traditions often has come is the long succession of bishops, the men who wear the ring and the cross.

Whatever their origins, nation or race, the emblems of their ecclesiastical authority are the same: a heavy, often ornate episcopal ring on the third finger of the right hand, and a jeweled cross hanging on the chest.

They are deemed the successors of the apostles, carrying on the work of teaching and administering the far-flung regions of the church.

At their head stands the Pope, considered the successor of the chief apostle, Peter. Behind them all, they are convened, stands the promise of Christ to guide them in "all truth."

FIRST IN 92 YEARS

This is their first general council in 92 years, and never before has the Church grown to a worldwide body of half a billion, had so many bishops. There will be more than 2,500 participants in the council.

Cuba Has 13 Missile Sites

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP)—Cuba now has 13 known missile sites and more than 5,000 Russian technicians, says Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa. He says existence of the bases was verified in a recent briefing session for congressmen in Washington.

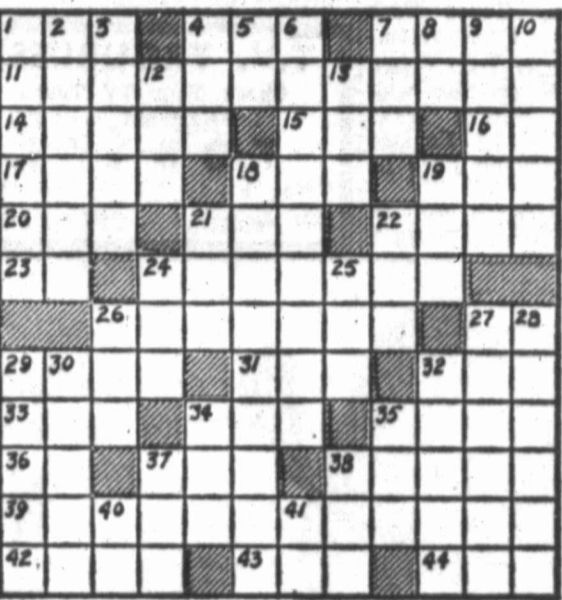

Schweiker told a group of Haverford College students Monday night that 11 bases are surface-to-air installations which use missiles similar to America's Nike series. The others are surface-to-ship installations designed to protect harbors, he said.

Art Exhibit

STANTON (SC)—An art exhibit began Monday and will continue through Thursday in the Stanton High School Building. Approximately 150 works are on display, sponsored by the Stanton Student Council. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the council. Proceeds will be used to buy pictures for the school.

Cuban President Makes Acid Charges At General Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Fireworks over Cuba came with President Osvaldo Dorticos Torrado's blast against the United States.

Dorticos addressed the General Assembly on Monday with an unusual bitterness.

Dorticos made a vague demand that the United Nations concern as an act of war any U.S. blockade of his country.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko is expected to touch off a general East-West exchange when he takes the floor this week to answer Western charges that the Soviet military buildup in Cuba endangers peace in the Western Hemisphere.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson refused to answer Dorticos' accusations in the assembly Monday, since U.N. tradition frowns on anyone debating a chief of state. He did take the floor long enough to accuse the Cuban leader of attacking the United States with "unparalleled calumnies, slanders and misrepresentations."

Stevenson told a news conference later the charges by Dorticos were "neither original nor true." He stressed again that the United States would not attack Cuba but added: "Let it be equally clear that the United States will not tolerate aggression against any part of this hemisphere."

Stevenson branded as absurd Cuban charges that U.S. economic action against Castro's regime was either aggressive or warlike.

"It is the most normal and indeed the least violent way in which we can express our strong disapproval of the threats and sword rattling emanating from Cuba," he said.

Stevenson also leveled a warning at the Soviet Union.

"Let no one mistake the impact of this Soviet intervention in Cuba on the hope we all share for world peace," he said. "If the Soviet Union persists in the course it has chosen, if it continues to try to prevent the peaceful social revolution of the Americas, it will increasingly excite the deep indignation of the people of my country and of other American states."

Most Western delegates felt Dorticos said little that the Cubans had not said in the General Assembly for the past three years. But some African neutrals felt that he had made a conciliatory gesture in insisting that Cuba wants to negotiate.

Men's Brotherhood To Meet Tonight

Martin Neill, chairman of deacons of the First Baptist Church, Midland, will be speaker for the Men's Brotherhood meeting of the Big Spring First Baptist Church tonight. Dave Dorchester, president, said supper would be served at 7:15 p.m.

Nixon Says His Big Push Is On

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, cheered by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's all-out endorsement, says "the big push is on" in his campaign for governor.

Nixon told fund-raising dinners in four cities Monday night that he failed by an eyelash in the 1960 presidential race, but: "I am telling you, now there is victory in the air."

The dinners in San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Bernardino and Bakersfield—linked by closed circuit television—raised an estimated $560,000 for the Republican state campaign.

Eisenhower, speaking at the San Francisco Cow Palace, mixed a few jabs at President Kennedy with glowing words for Nixon's bid to unseat Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown Nov. 6.

"I endorse him 100 per cent," he said of his former vice president.

Eisenhower urged Nixon supporters not to make the same mistake he said he made two years ago in not working harder for Nixon's election as president.

"I urge those who believe in Dick Nixon as I do," he said, "to get up, get out and get going for him through every possible hour from now until Election Day."

Eisenhower received a tumultuous reception in San Francisco, Brown's home town. Police estimated 120,000 people lined the 18-block route of the motorcade running through the financial district during the noon hour. Nixon and Mayor George Christopher, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, rode with him.

Brown sent a welcome-to-California wire to Eisenhower, saying that as a Republican leader it was his duty to enter the campaign. In a Fresno teletone Monday night, the governor twitted Nixon for accepting Eisenhower's help after complaining of carpetbaggers when the visitors are Democrats.

President Kennedy, in two visits to the state, has backed Brown. Former President Harry S. Truman and Cabinet officials have put in a pitch for him, too. Kennedy is expected to return in the final week of the campaign to pump for Democratic candidates.

At news conferences in Los Angeles and San Francisco, Eisenhower noted that Democrats hold a 3 to 2 edge in the House and a 2 to 1 majority in the Senate.

Calling attention to Kennedy's campaigns for Democratic congressmen, he asked: "What does he want? A one-party government?"

Nixon flew to San Francisco with his former boss, then returned to attend the Los Angeles fund-raising dinner.

"It is the big push," he said. "This is the spark that is going to ignite this campaign."

ELECTRIC DRYER

SAVINGS CARNIVAL

See your dealer now about his special installation offer on a FLAMELESS electric clothes dryer

SAVE MONEY. Low in initial cost and economical to install, an electric clothes dryer will cost you even less now because of your dealer's special installation offer.

SAVE TIME. You'll save hours of time every week with fast, flameless electric drying. It takes only minutes to load and set your dryer. And you can dry clothes day or night in any kind of weather.

SAVE WORK. You're spared all the back-breaking work of hanging heavy wet clothes on the line when you dry electrically. There's less sprinkling to be done and many pieces come out of your dryer so fluffy-soft, they need little or no ironing.

SAVE CLOTHES. Your clothes will wear longer because the precision-controlled heat of an electric dryer is safe for even the daintiest fabrics. Clothes don't fade or deteriorate as when dried outdoors. And you actually need fewer clothes because they can be dried quickly and worn oftener.

See the new flameless electric clothes dryers now on display at your dealer's. Ask about his special installation offer.

Longhorns Are 2nd In AP Grid Poll

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Defending national champion Alabama shot back into the No. 1 position in the weekly Associated Press college football poll today.

while Ohio State tumbled all the way down to No. 10.

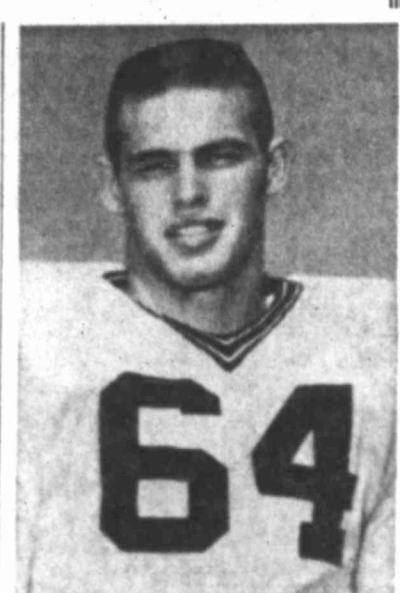

The Crimson Tide, replaced by Ohio State a week ago, compiled 445 points to outdistance Texas, in the No. 2 spot, and Penn State, which moved up to No. 3. Texas had 422 points and Penn State 321.

The points are compiled on a basis of 10 for a first place, 9 for a second and so on. A nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters voted.

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK Smith And Reid Among Honorees

A substitute back for Big Spring and a Garden City sophomore who qualified for his second such award of the year were among the area players earning "player of the week" certificates awarded by the sports department of the Daily Herald today.

TIM SMITH

The Big Spring back honored was Rick Peters, a lad who coach Don Robbins reasoned would not be playing for Big Spring this year. Peters, son of a colonel at Webb AFB, moved away from Big Spring last year but moved back in time to protect his eligibility.

from the sidelines during the game. LINEMAN—Billy Graves, end. Graves backed the line on defense and was little short of sensational. The senior weighs only 135 pounds. Dauphin said Graves was "90 per cent of my line" against Seagraves.

BACK—Rick Peters, 155-pound senior fullback. Coach Robbins says Rick accomplishes what he does through sheer determination. Rick doesn't have the natural equipment many athletes have but he makes up for it with super-effort. He was terrific on defense against Wichita Falls last weekend.

Others receiving votes: Georgia Tech, UCLA, Wisconsin, Miami (Fla.), West Virginia, Nebraska, Northwestern, Oregon, Michigan State, Missouri, Minnesota, Duke, Utah State, Maryland, Pittsburgh, Kansas.

BACK—Travis Reid, 20-pound sophomore halfback. They call him "Wild Man" in Coahoma, and for good reason. He runs like a 170-pounder. He carried the ball 14 times against Big Lake and made Coahoma's only touchdown. He's a fine, all-around back.

Player of the Week—Harry King, 150-pound junior halfback. King gained 112 yards rushing the ball against the Coahoma reserves and made two points on an extra-point try. On defense, he came up with 18 tackles.

BACK—Dewey Anderson, 188-pound fullback. Anderson carried the ball ten times against Seagraves and gained 49 yards. Three times he went for first downs and made it. Coach Harlin Dauphin also had lavish praise for his quarterback, Buddy Glaspie, who picked up a fumble in mid-air and raced 85 yards for a touchdown that gave Stanton a sizeable lead. Dauphin only called three plays my own," Houk said. "Whitey didn't tell me he wanted to be taken out."

NEW YORK (AP)—It's the bottom of the sixth inning, score tied 2-2, two out, two men on base and the team's ace pitcher scheduled to come to bat.

Wilson charged that with Buffalo leading 14-10 and in possession of the ball on Houston's 13-yard line with third down and one yard to go, the officials "permitted the (scoreboard) clock to run past the two-minute mark to 1:55, at which time they blew the whistle and penalized Buffalo for delay of game."

Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees, faced with this situation Monday, chose attack over defense. The strategy backfired and the San Francisco Giants went on to win the fourth game of the World Series at Yankee Stadium, 7-3 and tie the classic at two games each.

Wilson asserted that the officials should have called time out at the two-minute mark—as is usually done—to inform both teams of how much time was left. If that had been done, he said, Buffalo would not have been given the five-yard penalty.

Royal Wants Steadier Performance From 11

By The Associated Press
Darrell Royal's Texas team has averaged only 31 points a game, so the coach is calling for more consistency.

"From now on in, we can't play in spurts and win," said Royal, obviously thinking about the upcoming game with Oklahoma. He also mentioned Arkansas and Rice, who are next in line.

"I don't know whether we will be a team that plays well over the full 60 minutes," Royal said. "When it (poor playing) goes on for 15-20 minutes we have got to be concerned."

Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas also apparently was fighting possible overconfidence among his undefeated, high scoring Razorbacks. Broyles said he planned to show the team a film of the 1960 Baylor-Arkansas game in which the Bears handed the Razorbacks a 28-14 licking.

Baylor goes back to Fayetteville for an important Southwest Conference game next Saturday. The Bears obviously have an upset in mind although they have yet to win a game this season. They scrimmaged into rainy darkness Monday against Arkansas running and passing plays.

Coach Abe Martin of Texas Christian was shaking up his team in the wake of a 42-14 lacing from Arkansas. He promoted 251-pound Ken Henseon, a sophomore, to No. 1 center and said there might be other changes.

The Frogs play Texas Tech Saturday night in Fort Worth. At Lubbock, Texas Tech Coach J. T. King will well satisfied with his team's effort against Texas A&M although it lost 7-3. He said it was the best showing since he has been at Tech.

Texas A&M prepared for an invasion of Florida. Coach Hank Foldberg said he was changing his offense.

Rice worked hard on its running game, which has accounted for only 79 yards in two contests. Coach Jess Neely indicated there would be much scrimmaging.

The Owls are hosts to Oregon Saturday.

Southern Methodist is idle this week and the Mustangs took Monday off. They looked at films of their 25-20 loss to Air Force Academy.

Three Mustangs Favor Ailments
ACKERLY — Coach M. B. Maxwell had three boys missing when his Sands Mustangs lost to Trent last week and held out hope that only one would be ready for this week's contest with Hermleigh, which will be played here Friday night.

Paul Davis, defensive end and offensive center, who suffered a shoulder wound in the Robert Lee game, returned to practice Monday and probably will play against Hermleigh.

Larry Chapman and Gary Gaskins are the other Mustangs ailing. Chapman may be out for the season with an injured knee. He hurt it in the Robert Lee game. Gaskins injured his kidney and has been advised to take it easy for a while.

Bill Officials Score Refs

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills have protested to American Football League Commissioner Joe Foss that officials in last Sunday's game at Houston called a "completely erroneous" delay-of-game penalty which "stole the game from Buffalo."

Buffalo owner Ralph C. Wilson called for the suspension of the officials responsible for calling the penalty.

In Dallas, AFL assistant commissioner Mill Woodward said any decision Foss makes on the officials' ruling will have no effect on the outcome of the game—a 17-14 Houston victory on a three-yard touchdown pass in the final 30 seconds.

Wilson charged that with Buffalo leading 14-10 and in possession of the ball on Houston's 13-yard line with third down and one yard to go, the officials "permitted the (scoreboard) clock to run past the two-minute mark to 1:55, at which time they blew the whistle and penalized Buffalo for delay of game."

Wilson asserted that the officials should have called time out at the two-minute mark—as is usually done—to inform both teams of how much time was left. If that had been done, he said, Buffalo would not have been given the five-yard penalty.

After the ball was moved back to the 18-yard line, a Buffalo pass was intercepted, and Houston then drove 79 yards for the winning TD.

DALLAS (AP) — Three teams, Denver, Dallas and Houston, dominate the statistics of the American Football League. They are 1-2-3, in different order, in both total offense and defense.

When Don Larsen pitched a perfect World Series game last six years ago as a member of the Yankees, Yogi Berra, his catcher, raced out to the mound and jumped all over him at the end of the game Monday, as a Giant. Larsen faced Berra when he came in to pitch in the sixth inning. "I kept remembering Yogi jumping on top of me six years ago," Larsen said, "the only other thing I could think of was trying to keep Yogi from hitting that short porch (the right field stands)." P.S. Yogi walked.

Ralph Terry Seeking Win For Newcomer In Family

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Terry, who was scheduled to start today's fifth game of the World Series for the New York Yankees against the San Francisco Giants, has a new heir.

"I felt okay," the Yankee left-hander said, "but if I had been the manager, I'd have done just what Houk did."

Foldberg Knows Gator Personnel

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — By a quirk of football fate, Coach Hank Foldberg of Texas A&M had a hand in recruiting more Florida players who will oppose him Saturday than he did his own Aggies.

Foldberg was offensive line coach at Florida from 1952 through 1959. The senior Gators were freshmen in his last year here.

Sooners Will Field 18 Texans Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS (AP)—The Texas-Oklahoma game coming up Saturday with its 17th straight sell-out crowd has more Texas angles than the Alamo. Oklahoma usually has a large number of Texas boys on its squad. This year there are 18. Six of them will be on the starting team.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Sports dialogue:
AMOS MARSH, Dallas Cowboy back, on why he speeded up after getting out in the clear in his 85-yard touchdown run against the Los Angeles Rams recently:

"I thought about last year in a similar situation against the New York Giants when Jim Patton caught me from behind on the Giant 20. I made up my mind no one was going to catch me this time. And, this time I had my shirt tail in. That helped. Last year when Patton caught me, I had my shirt tail sticking out and that is what he grabbed onto."

RUBE SAMUELSON, Pasadena (Calif.) scribe:
"With the pros riding high in Los Angeles and faced with decreasing football attendance (as well as losing Saturday night dates at the Sports Arena), USC and UCLA are actually thinking of becoming road football teams. That is to say, abandon their six-home-and-four-away schedules in favor of 5-5 or 4-6. Nothing can be done until 1963, however, since slates are complete through that year. The USC-Duke opener drew only 26,400 which, on the surface, is bad. But only on the surface. Troy (USC) picked up around $65,000 from the national TV take."

JOHN BRIDGERS, Baylor coach, after his team had suffered successive losses to Houston and Pitt:
"We still feel we have an excellent chance to have a good football team. It all depends on whether we can continue to obtain improvement from our young linemen."
JULIAN BLACK, former manager of boxer Joe Louis:
"Joe liked big fellows; it was the little guys, and the skinny ones, like Billy Conn, who gave him trouble. Joe also had to be aroused to do his best."
PAUL CHRISTMAN, the noted football 'color' man on TV:
"I spent 20 years, in high school, college, and with the pros, trying to outsmart the defense. So still think with the quarter-back, mapping strategy. I'm always thinking what I would do out there. But I never predict plays. Closest I'll come to that is to say what I think the strongest play would be. Defense? I ignore it. Even if I did understand those complicated pro defenses, I don't think it's my job to explain it—that's for the play-by-play man. Besides, it's all a variation of the four-man defense, anyway, and people can see that on their screens. Why do they need words from me?"

CHARLEY McCABE, San Francisco writer:
"Recently, in a move that will startle good American businessmen everywhere the 49er management cancelled 45 season tickets of a tavern in Sacramento, 90 miles from here. The longer distances they come, the worse shape they're apt to be in when they reach the stadium," said Mr. Peter Giannini, Niner ticket manager. If this Christian but clearly unbusinesslike policy were to be extended to its logical conclusion, and ALL drunks who come to Kezar were refused the boon of season tickets, it is entirely possible the 49ers would go out of business. Which might be a good idea."

Small Men Doing The Biggest Jobs

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Not all the Giants of San Francisco are big men and some of the smallest have been doing the biggest jobs in this World Series.

Chuck Hiller, the chunky second baseman, hit the bases loaded homer that squared the series 2-2 with a 7-3 victory yet overlooked was the fact he wouldn't even have come to bat that seventh inning if Matty Alou hadn't bagged a pinch hit double.

Matty stands just 5-8 and might weigh 160 soaking wet. Yet he's been the hottest hitting Giant in this stretch run. He belted 19 hits in 34 times at bat from Sept. 14 until the end of the Los Angeles Dodger playoff. His single in the ninth of the finale at Los Angeles started the Giants on the way to their four-run rally and victory.

That's why Matty is getting the starting roles when the New York Yankees pitch right-handers in this World Series.

"He's been hitting hot the past couple of weeks and that's why I sent him in yesterday," Manager Al Dark said. He had selected Matty to bat with one on and one out in the seventh. Still available were such sluggers as Willie McCovey and Ed Bailey.

"We wanted to score that inning and thought we had the chance," Dark added. So he sent the younger Alou to hit for Jose Pagan against right-handed pitcher Jim Coates. Pagan has hit World Series pitching at a .500 clip yet the Giants' manager thought Matty would have the better chance.

A double down the left field line kept the rally going and the Giants banked their four runs and broke the 2-2 tie when Hiller crashed his grand slammer with two out.

Billy Pierce, who lost the third series game 3-2 to the Yanks, draws the starting assignment in Candlestick Park Thursday.

With O'Dell needed in relief Monday, the Giants went today with Jack Sanford, hero of the 2-0 triumph in the second game.

O'Dell wasn't the least unhappy at losing the starting assignment. "We really would have been down if we didn't win and had been down 3-1 in games," he said.

Billy didn't let the first eight batters to face him hit the ball out of the infield. The little lefty did get into trouble with two out in the ninth on consecutive singles by Tony Kubek, Bobby Richardson and Tom Tresh.

Dark walked to the mound as Mickey Mantle strode to the plate. "He just asked me what I was thinking about, and I told him 'getting Mantle out'."

Lions Retain Lead In AAA

DALLAS (AP)—The leaders never change in the Dallas News poll of schoolboy football teams, but from there down there's a constant shakeup.

For the third straight week Wichita Falls was No. 1 in Class AAAA, Brownwood in Class AAA, Denver City in Class AA and New London in Class A. New London is the only unanimous choice.

The past week saw Port Arthur pull into second place in AAAA as Spring Branch dropped to third and Borger moved from fifth to fourth. Newcomers were Baytown, ninth, and Galena Park and Odessa Permian, tied for 10th.

Class AAA still has Dumas No. 2 but Nacogdoches has moved from fourth to third and Orange has dropped from third to fourth. There were no new teams in AAA.

Class AA has Jacksonville No. 2, with Stamford rising from fifth to third and Rockdale and Palacios being newcomers. Rockdale moved into the eighth spot and Palacios 10th.

Class A still has Rotan and Wink second and third. Big Lake moved up to fourth from fifth and Idalou dropped to fifth. Pearland, No. 9, and Rosebud, No. 10, made the ratings for the first time.

Series Likely To Go 7 Games, Say Pilots

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Managers Ralph Houk of New York and Alvin Dark of San Francisco agreed today that the World Series, now all even at two victories apiece, would go the limit of seven games.

Of course, the rival skipper disagreed on the winner.

Although the Giants pulled even Monday with a 7-3 victory in the fourth game, in which the brilliant Whitey Ford was lifted after six innings, Houk said he wasn't worried. He said he planned no changes in the lineup and confirmed that Ralph Terry, his 23-game winning right-hander, would be the pitcher.

Dark's choice was Jack Sanford, the 24-game winning right-hander who defeated Terry 2-0 with a three-hitter in the second game of the series.

"I'm not worried about the way our boys are hitting," said Houk, whose team was held to nine hits by four Giant pitchers Monday and has hit only one home run in four games. "We're hitting the ball, all right, but not to the right places."

"Naturally, I expect Terry to win today. Then all we'd have to do is split in San Francisco. We've always been able to play .500 or better on the road and I see no reason why we can't continue."

Dark was just as optimistic. He pointed out he had predicted as far back as three weeks ago that a Giant-Yankee World Series would go the limit. At the time the Giants were four games behind Los Angeles with only nine games left to play.

"I told one of my players (Jose Pagan) that we had '19 more games to play,'" Dark said, "nine in the regular schedule, three in the playoffs and seven in the World Series. Naturally, I still feel that way and I think we'll win."

Dark had planned to pitch Billy O'Dell, who lost the opener to the Yankees, but the southpaw was needed in relief Monday after the Giants took a 6-2 lead in the seventh on Chuck Hiller's grand slam homer off relief pitcher Marshall Bridges.

Jim Coates, a right-hander, began the inning after Ford was taken out for a pinch hitter in the bottom of the sixth as Houk tried for a big inning. Coates gave way to Bridges after giving up a walk to Jim Davenport and a one-out double to pinch hitter Matty Alou.

Harris Keeps Scoring Lead

Mike Love, Permian's hard-running back, scored a touchdown against Corpus Christi Miller last week to close in on pace-setting Rusty Harris in the race for football scoring honors in District 2-AAAA.

Harris, who performs for Abilene High, was idle last week. He has 42 points, compared to 30 for Love. No one else in the circuit has more than 18.

Tied for third in the race are Dickie Spier of Big Spring and Bill Salter of Midland, each with three touchdowns to their credit.

COYOTE FILMS ARE ON TAP

Those who missed the football game last week between Big Spring and Wichita Falls, and there were many local residents who did not make the trip, can catch the films at tonight's Quarterback Club meeting in the high school cafeteria. The conclave begins at 7:30 o'clock.

Big Spring, although it lost the game, recovered well in the second half.

A scouting report on Big Spring's next opponent, Midland Lee, will also be given. Ray Baird headed up the team which scouted the Rebels.

Lee comes here Friday night to help the Steers launch their conference campaign.

Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., who fell in his office and broke his left shoulder, arrives at the Capitol in Washington, D. C., in a wheelchair to vote on the foreign aid appropriations bill. Passman, who spearheaded a drive to trim the aid bill, said doctors at the Bethesda Naval Hospital didn't want him to attend House sessions so soon after the accident—but, said the congressman, he over-ruled the doctors.

Army Accused Of Buying Useless Parts Twice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office has accused the Army of buying $800,000 worth of Nike Hercules missile parts it didn't need, then ordering another $1.9 million worth.

The watchdog agency told Congress Monday the excesses could be blamed on what it called the Army's lack of effective supply controls.

The GAO report dealt with Army purchases and orders for three parts of the Nike Hercules guidance system between April 1958, and March 1961.

Although the Army reviewed its purchases of the missile parts about a year ago and said the oversupply had been reduced, the GAO said "the excess of actual and proposed procurement still totaled about $2.6 million in December 1961."

The GAO recommended that the Army tighten its supply controls and use more realistic data in figuring its needs.

In reply, the Army said the Nike Hercules is a high priority weapon, the guidance devices were developed only recently "and the risk of inadequate supply support could not be tolerated."

Navy May Ban Cigarettes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy indicated today it may follow the Air Force's lead in refusing to allow cigarette manufacturers to present gift cigarettes to men in its hospitals.

The Air Force said last Saturday that its surgeon general has declined offers for free distribution of cigarettes in Air Force hospitals "because of the recent evidence which suggests further relation between cigarette smoking and lung cancer, other pulmonary diseases and with certain cardiovascular diseases."

Cigarette firms contend that such research to date is inconclusive.

The Army said it has not taken action like that of the Air Force, "nor is any such action contemplated."

Rockefeller Is Odds-On For Another Term

By ROBERT T. GRAY
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller appears to be a heavy favorite to win re-election in New York State despite direct opposition from Democratic President Kennedy on one side and the extreme right wing on the other.

Because of the nature of the opposition, a clear-cut victory for Rockefeller could put him in the lead for the Republican nomination for president in 1964.

The election pits the exuberant, dashing Rockefeller against Democrat Robert M. Morgenthau, a reserved, soft-spoken lawyer who was a political unknown only a few weeks ago.

DEMO CAMPAIGN
Morgenthau resigned as a U.S. attorney to take the nomination, reportedly with the urging of Kennedy. The President will campaign for him in the state along with such other Democratic big guns as former President Harry S. Truman, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Anthony Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare.

The Democratic nominee is the son of Henry Morgenthau Jr., U.S. secretary of the Treasury under President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He is 43, married, the father of four children, a novice at grass roots campaigning, and wealthy. He won't say how well off he is but asserts "I'm not in the same league" as the multimillionaire Rockefeller.

Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits, 58, aggressive and articulate, is running for re-election with Rockefeller and also is favored to win.

DEALING WITH CASTRO

The Democratic nominee for the Senate is James B. Donovan, a 46-year-old Brooklyn lawyer who negotiated the release of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers from a Soviet jail and now is negotiating with the Castro regime for release of Cubans captured in the Bay of Pigs invasion.

At 54, Rockefeller is a little more gray and his face is a little more lined but otherwise he retains the youthful appearance and enthusiasm that served him well in his 1958 campaign. He came from behind and defeated incumbent W. Averell Harriman by 573,000 votes.

Rockefeller appears to have weathered such political storms as an unpopular tax increase enacted at his request three years ago and his divorce.

The governor has been campaigning strenuously most of this year, while Democrats were struggling to bind the wounds of four years of internal strife.

JEWISH CANDIDATE
Democratic leaders, in choosing Morgenthau, wanted a Jewish candidate, who theoretically would appeal to the large number of voters of that faith in New York City; a newcomer not associated with any of the warring factions; and a well-known name.

Rockefeller, who campaigns with smiling, handshaking zest, is seeking re-election on the basis of a program that includes a mixture of big spending, particularly for education, social and civil rights legislation and such innovations as state subsidies for cultural activity.

In appealing to conservatives, Rockefeller says he has put the state on a pay-as-you-go basis and established a business climate that has brought about record industrial expansion.

Morgenthau asserts that the governor's budget balancing is a tenuous thing.

"BOSSISM" CHARGED
Rockefeller portrays Morgenthau as dominated by "big-city bosses" and as inexperienced and ill-informed on state affairs. Morgenthau is counting heavily on a 400,000 Democratic edge in enrollments among the state's 7 million voters and the campaign support forthcoming from Washington.

The total vote of the newly formed Conservative party, comprised mostly of dissident Republicans, will be watched closely. Its candidate for governor is David H. Jaquith, a Syracuse businessman who holds that Rockefeller and Javits have led New York State Republicanism too far to the left.

6 Years To Move Organ Into Church

DOVER, Del. (AP)—The organ in the Presbyterian church is scheduled to be played the first time next Sunday—and the notes will signal the end of six years of labor in moving the instrument. It has taken six years to move the organ, including 1,922 pipes, from its former home in the Stamford, Conn., Presbyterian church.

Volunteers did most of the work and the moving and reassembly cost about $5,000, one-tenth of what the job would normally cost, according to the Rev. Robert L. McKim, pastor of the Dover church.

The organ was built in 1923 by Ernest M. Skinner, a famous American organ builder. When the Stamford church was razed in 1956, the Dover church bought the instrument for $1,300.

Congress Is At Nearly Complete Halt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress' snail-pace drive for adjournment slowed down today to almost a complete halt.

There was no business at all on the House docket because of the death of one of its members, Rep. Clem Miller, California Democrat killed in an airplane mishap.

Neither was there anything of consequence on the calendar of the Senate, which sent the annual foreign aid appropriation bill to the President Monday.

There was a possibility that the Senate might seize upon a relatively minor House-passed bill as the vehicle for a four-month extension of unemployment compensation payments to workers who have used up their benefits. The House Ways and Means Committee has refused to approve a separate bill authorizing the extension.

No progress was in sight for several appropriation bills which must be acted on before adjournment, nor was there any sign of White House action on another bill holding up the go-home signal. It calls for a tax break for self-employed people who set up their own retirement programs. The bill becomes law at midnight Wednesday night if President Kennedy does not act on it.

If he should veto the measure, backers of the bill hope to try to override the veto or attach the pension program as a rider to a $500 million supplemental money bill which has been stalled in the Senate. As things now stand, the Senate won't act on the supplemental bill before Friday at the earliest.

When Congress will finally quit is a subject of varying guesses.

New Badge For Texas Rangers

The new official badge of the Texas Rangers (right) is a replica of the historic original badge (left) carved by early-day Rangers out of Mexican silver pieces when Texas became a state and their duties changed from military to law enforcement. The badge, second from left, was adopted in 1935 when the Rangers became part of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Third from left is the badge adopted for all DSP officers, including the Rangers, in 1957. DSP Director Col. Homer Garrison Jr. announced its replacement by the new silver badge at right.

Shower Ease Off After Causing Flash Floods

By The Associated Press

Showers persisted across much of Central Texas through the night but eased off in areas where up to 7 inches of rain set off flash floods Monday.

Dallas, hit hardest by the torrential downpours, started drying out and clearing debris left by muddy torrents, which surged into homes, necessitated several rescues, swept a few cars away and tied traffic in knots.

Damage centered around creeks in North Dallas and neighboring Carrollton. Farmers Branch, Irving and Mesquite.

While Dallas gauged 4.92 inches of rain in a few hours, even heavier deluges struck elsewhere. Glen Rose, in Somervell County, caught 7 inches. Corsicana measured 6.68 inches and Lipan, south of Fort Worth, 5.49 inches.

High water caused the State Highway Department to halt traffic for a time Monday afternoon on several routes in Central and North Texas.

Auto crashes on slick roads took two lives. One victim was Helen Miracle, about 53, of Dallas, killed at Mount Vernon as a car being towed by another skidded and four vehicles piled up. A head-on crash near Kaufman killed Frank H. Moore of Terrell.

Rainfall edged southward after drenching parts of North Texas. By early Tuesday a broken area of showers 120 miles wide extended from 50 miles south of Fort Worth to 40 miles east of Austin. Before starting to break up as dawn approached, the showers dotted an area 60 miles wide from 20 miles southwest of College Station to 10 miles north of Palestine.

There were patches of early morning fog around Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Texarkana.

Moisture measurements at other points included Stephenville 4 inches, Bronte 3.60, Putnam 3.5, Crandall 1.73, Fort Worth 1.69, Mineral Wells 1.49, Abilene 1.45, and Terrell 1.41. Numerous places received less than an inch.

Skies were at least partly cloudy over eastern and southern sections of the state but clear across much of the northwest. The Weather Bureau predicted at least a few scattered thundershowers Tuesday evening in parts of East and South Central Texas.

The mercury hit a warm 96 degrees Monday afternoon in Houston. Mineral Wells was the coolest spot with a high of 71.

Temperatures early Tuesday ranged from 43 degrees at Dalhart up to 81 at Brownsville and Palacios.

Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has confirmed several Texas postmaster nominations by President Kennedy. They included: Roland A. Johnson, McCamey.

State, National Peril To Local Rule Is Cited

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas Municipal League delegates, repeatedly warned that the very existence of local self government is being threatened at both state and national levels, and their annual statewide meeting today.

Allen Engleman, editor of the Edinburg Daily Review and president of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association, delivered one of the clearest warnings on the threat to local government.

"This could be one of the last sessions of this organization—if present day trends of government continue," the veteran newspaperman said.

"There may be no need of study sessions for mayors and commissioners two years from now," he said. "Oh, I don't mean your jobs are going to be done away with. After all, Russia has mayors to confer honors and pass along rules and regulations made in Moscow."

"It's just that you may not have to study your jobs any more. From the moment the Department of Urban Affairs is created, and believe me, Jack Kennedy and his ruling group of Americans for Democratic Action will not stop until it is created, your jobs will be on the downgrade as far as importance is concerned."

2,500 ATTENDED
About 2,500 persons attended the 59th anniversary convention of the league, highlighted Monday by a noon luncheon honoring its past presidents and other long-time city officials.

Receiving gold cuff links for past service were Rep. Jim Wright, former Mayor Edgar Deen and former City Atty. Rhinehart Roudier, all past presidents of the league and all from Fort Worth.

George Murphy of Beaumont, league president, told delegates that local officials must work to solve their own problems if they do not want the federal government to step in and do the job for them.

Murphy, in his annual report, predicted Texas would be the center of industrial, commercial, financial, social and cultural leadership in this hemisphere in the space age.

Abner McCall, president of Baylor University and chairman of an independent group in Texas named Committee to Preserve Local Government, said the proposed "trial de novo" amendment to the Texas Constitution poses a threat that could in effect wipe out local government.

FOUR POINTS
Preston Smith of Lubbock, conservative Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, told the gathering he viewed four points "as being fundamental elements of responsible local government":

"1. Sharply defined and widely understood legal status—a clear and proper division of powers among the various levels and functions of government respecting local affairs.

"2. Willingness to assume the responsibilities that properly lie at the local level—as Texas municipalities have shown by declining to seek subsidies from the state treasury.

"3. Sufficient authority to deal with home problems at home—including proper and adequate budgeting and taxing powers.

"4. And finally, an honest and vigorous administration that will earn and keep public confidence."

Another Nuclear Device Exploded

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission says the Soviet Union has exploded another nuclear device in the atmosphere over its arctic testing site.

Monday's test near Novaya Zemlya was described as in the intermediate range, with a force equivalent to 20,000 to 1 million tons of TNT. It was the 18th shot announced by the AEC in the current Soviet series.

Carry it off with several prints. Sizes 10 to 18.

For us, this car will go down in history.

It didn't come easy. We remember our first Volkswagen. People laughed. Too funny looking, they said. Our friends thought we had laid an egg.

But we stayed with it. And Volkswagen's philosophy remained unchanged: Build an honest car—and make honest statements about it.

Still reversing tradition: VW's design was to remain the same. (After all, how would you change the perfect form of an egg?)

Intrigued, people warmed up to our little car. They wanted a car that didn't go out of style every year or two. Another attraction: VW's reputation for staying away from gas stations and repair shops.

Sales grew. And the number of dealers grew—with a nation-wide service and parts concept as unique as the car itself.

Time passed and this week the unexpected arrived. A shiny new Volkswagen tagged: "The 50,000th VW to be imported into the 5-state area of Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Wyoming."

We started to hire a band to commemorate the occasion but the car got away from us. Some alert salesman sold it! (Everything happens too fast these days.)

But wherever it is, for us, this is the car that will go down in history.

It won't be easy to spot. After all, nearly one million Volkswagens are now running about in America.

Which proves this point: Our car has remained the same. Only the people have changed. They're coming back for seconds.

Oddity Of The Times

Some future historian may be able to explain simply and concisely the current phenomenon of close cooperation and collaboration between France and West Germany. Nothing in the history of the two countries from Sedan to Berlin will offer any clues to this sudden, close political and economic rapprochement nor explain the apparent popularity of Charles de Gaulle in West Germany nor Konrad Adenauer in France.

Historians, too, will be left the task of providing an answer to this question: Could France, with a population of 45 million, and West Germany, with a population of 55 million, have been able to forget past differences if 17 million East Germans were not excluded?

De Gaulle has certainly adopted as official French policy the Hallstein doctrine that the West should not recognize East Germany nor enter into any negotiations with Russia over the status of East Germany except on the basis of German unity through free elections. The doctrine has the effect of deferring for the foreseeable future any practical approach to the reunion of Germany.

De Gaulle is not alone in showing no enthusiasm over the reunion of Germany. The opponents of unity can be found on both sides of the Iron Curtain. We know that Russia and Poland are opposed. There is good reason to suspect that Britain and the United States are willing to live with the present division—privately, if not publicly.

The close friendship between France and West Germany, if maintained, practically insures European economic unity. Some political unity will almost certainly follow. History may be in the making just because Germany is divided, certainly an oddity of the times.

Use It Or Lose It

Last week, a pioneer rancher of Jeff Davis County regained title to a tract of land he had decided to the state long ago as a state park. He contended that the state had failed to develop the park as it should have been; he cited that his agreement had been the land would revert to him at anytime the state ceased or failed to make use of it as a recreation area for Texas' people and visitors.

He made it clear that he was not interested in regaining title to the land—he has plenty of land. All he wants, he said, is that the state make proper use of the land for the purpose he gave it.

The tract concerned was the Fort Davis State Park. Visitors to that scenic area will agree the state has done little to develop this playground. There is an inn on the tract where accommodations can be had but other than that no other use is made of the wild and rugged countryside in the area. There used to be a scenic drive of much beauty but it has never been permitted to go to pieces and can no longer be traveled.

Texas, seemingly, has too many state parks and not enough money to develop them properly. Not even enough money to maintain them as they should be. This huge state, with its magnificent tourist potentials in the areas where state parks are located, spent only $515,922 on its park in 1961. Oklahoma, by comparison, spent $2,200,000. California spent $20,067,000. Average expenditure for 50 states on state parks was more than 2 million dollars.

Does it pay these states to spend this kind of money for parks?

Texas parks earned only $190,000 last year. Oklahoma parks earned $1,597,884; California $2,447,668; New York $3,801,668.

The Jeff Davis rancher's court action could be helpful. It could awaken the officials to the opportunity the state is wasting. It could help to bring Texas up to a parity with other states in this important matter of attracting tourists.

Our Partnership In Europe Weakened

WASHINGTON — In the dimensions of the space age, the distance between Europe and the United States is a mere step across the street.

Yet taking a close look at the highly prosperous new united Europe rapidly coming into being, the inquiring reporter is bound to conclude that the distance is far greater than it seems and, moreover, the gap between the two worlds is widening.

DURING THE past week the big headlines from Berlin to Glasgow told the story of the civil war in Mississippi. For Americans throughout Europe charged with presenting a favorable picture of American life, it has been a painful and saddening ordeal. Similarly for America's European friends, it has been a time of trial.

As one of them put it: "If someone had been able to get Khrushchev an opportunity to speak on every television and radio network in the West for a week at times of his own choosing, nothing like the harm of the Mississippi conflict would have resulted. We have long since learned to discount Soviet propaganda. But it is what you do to yourselves that disarms your friends and delights your enemies."

LET IT BE said at once that this should not be taken in the light of what Europeans—and Asians and Africans—think of our folkways. Whether they love us or not may be, as Americans indignant over European criticism like to say, entirely irrelevant.

What is at stake is far more important than emotional reaction on either side of the Atlantic. This country faces a critical challenge of which most Americans have as yet no notion whatsoever—a challenge that in the next four to five years will determine if America is to continue as the leader of the West with the highest standards of living anywhere.

WHETHER THIS country can work in effective competing partnership with what is swiftly becoming the powerful production and trading entity in the world is the test. A united Europe is moving forward. There is every sign that the forward movement will continue short of a political or military accident that could bring catastrophe.

Throughout Western Europe the story is the same. In Germany, where the economic miracle reached an annual growth of 12 to 14 per cent, the rate has dropped with rising wage costs and other complications to 3½ to 4 per cent. But there is overemployment, with 750,000 workers from Greece, Italy, Spain and even Turkey brought in to fill the demand for labor.

PRODUCTION per man-hour is steadily advancing as Europe automates. The European price level is considerably under that in the United States, which gives European exports an advantage over American exports. By 1970 European agriculture will be producing in surplus in every temperate commodity except feed grains.

Until recently the Soviets dismissed the Common Market as just another scheme of the European imperialists to shore up the rotting structure of capitalism. But a meeting of Communist-bloc economists not long ago took the growth of a unified market with the utmost seriousness, going so far as to suggest the need to try to come into a working relationship with the new force. Many Europeans believe Moscow regards an economically united Europe as a much greater threat than the NATO military alliance.

HAROLD MACMILLAN has staked the future of his Conservative government—and the Conservative Party—on the conviction that Britain will be the seventh member of the community. While Hugh Gaitskell pins his hopes of heading a Labor Government on Labor opposition to joining Europe, the informed estimate is that despite all opposition the marriage will come off if only because it is Britain's last chance to become part of an irresistible, ongoing force.

IN THE liberalized trade act giving the President broad authority to lower tariffs in accord with the Common Market, in United States has taken a first step toward partnership with Europe. But this is only a first step. A far-reaching and often painful adjustment—the elimination of rigidities and anomalies in the wage-price-production structure—is essential if America is to cooperate and compete with the new Europe.

Above all, Europe is watching to see whether we have a workable government that can employ the tools required to cure a stagnant economy and the cyclical ups and downs of recession and inflation that Europe seems to have outgrown. It is in this context that Mississippi dramatizes the paralyzing division of powers between Federal and state governments.

IN THE SAME context, from the European perspective the recent outcry over Cuba has an hysterical sound. Europeans have long known that the Soviets have a great preponderance in intermediate-range missiles sighted on all European targets. Within minutes of the start of a nuclear war Europe would be a total graveyard. Why then, the American is asked, do you tremble at the prospect of ground-to-air rocket bases in Cuba?

The third force concept—implying that the gifts of both East and West have feet of clay—is held by many Europeans, among them Charles de Gaulle. America must now show that it is a mature and solid partner of a community spanning the Atlantic.

Kennedy's Lackluster Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has been keeping ideas to a minimum in his campaigning to get a Democratic Congress elected in November.

The presidential presence—the sight of him—has been going over big, as usual. Big crowds turn out to give him big cheers and big applause.

But what he has had to say sounds tired from repetition. This gives the impression that he feels if he can just stimulate his listeners into voting at all they will vote Democratic.

HE BLAMES the Republicans for most of his troubles with the present Congress, where Democrats far outnumber Republicans, and even for some of the ills he inherited, like Cuba, but hasn't yet solved.

Since this is the usual tactic in a campaign, Kennedy's efforts so far have no particular distinction. He may give it some unique quality of his own before the campaign ends. He hasn't yet.

One of the differences between Kennedy and former President Truman showed up in the week-end politicking.

KENNEDY, UNLIKE Truman, makes a studied effort to avoid getting people mad at him. While he attacked Republicans for blocking him in Congress, he didn't single them out by name.

Truman, trying to rally votes in Indiana for Birch E. Bagh Jr., a Democrat running against Republican Sen. Homer Capehart, attacked the latter so vigorously that Capehart threatened to sue him for slander.

One of Kennedy's favorite week-end themes was a call for help—meaning election of more Democrats to Congress—in moving this country forward.

HE DIDN'T spend much time mentioning the huge majorities his Democrats have in Congress, where they outnumber Republicans 261 to 174 in the House and 64 to 36 in the Senate.

Instead, Kennedy said the Republicans have made "no" a political program but I believe in the word "yes."

But the "no" votes of the Republicans would have been drowned out if all the Democrats had stuck together in supporting Kennedy. The fact that they did not is good reason for his asking for more Democrats.

THIS IS LIKE getting mixed up in a numbers game since Kennedy's plea for even more Democrats raises the question of just how many Democrats does he need to win if he can't get his programs through in a Congress where Republicans are already a minority.

The truth is that too often, for his own good, enough of his Democrats teamed up with Republicans to put the rest of the Democrats in a minority. Another truth is that some Republicans went along with him better than some of his own Democrats.

TRYING to explain all this is probably the main reason Kennedy is sticking to just a few ideas that can be easily absorbed by his listeners like his central theme:

"I hold the view in 1962 that it is vitally important that we have an executive branch of the government and a House and a Senate that is committed to progress."

Ex-TB Patients Are Free From The Disease

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: We are a group of women in a TB sanatorium who would greatly appreciate a column concerning "cured" tuberculosis patients, as to activities and socializing with their normal lives.

There are people who are ignorant of the facts, and a few actually embarrass and insult ex-patients through their ignorance. Perhaps a few words from you would enlighten many who are not aware, or are unwilling to admit that we are perfectly safe.

Sometimes members of the medical and public health professions get downright discouraged. People on occasion have the darndest knock of being stricken deaf if they aren't interested. As when polio vaccine first was available, but people ignored it by the millions—until the outbreak of 1958. Then they scrambled for it!

It's the same with TB education. People are deaf to what we say until suddenly they have some personal interest in it. Maybe your very true remark about ex-patients being embarrassed and insulted may make a dent, because people who don't understand TB can, indeed, be insulting without really meaning to be.

The truth is that an ex-TB patient is safer to be with, than the average person we meet. For among the average, some percentage of people are bound to be carrying TB that has not yet been recognized.

The ex-TB patient, however, not only has been taught how to prevent the spread of TB (covering a cough, etc.) but does not become an "ex-patient" until safe. Only an "active case" can spread the disease—when the lung tissue is loaded with TB germs which work their way into the sputum and finally are sprayed around by coughing.

There are these five steps in making sure that a patient no longer is harboring active germs: 1—Daily sputum examinations under a microscope. When none is visible, the sputum is cultured to see whether germs still lurk and can multiply. (Animal inoculations sometimes may be added.)

2—Then pooled sputum is tested: that is, tests on sputum collected over, say, a 24-hour period.

3—Gastric lavage, or washing, to test whether the germs are in the stomach.

4—Meantime X-rays must show no sign of active infection.

5—Then, as a final safety measure, discharged patients continue drug treatment six months or more to make sure the germs cannot return.

That's why an ex-patient is so thoroughly safe.

Around The Rim

Too Good To Be True

All the hallyhoo these days relative to the new automobiles for 1963 reminds me of a childhood experience which is indelibly imprinted on my memory.

It happened in Coahoma. I think I may have been four years old at the time. My first recollection of the day was the talk of the grownups. Something about somebody who was coming to town. That, I recall, did not seem very important to me—lots of folk came to town every day. The big deal seemed to be how the fellow would be travelling.

HE SHOWED UP in a din of popping and a cloud of dust.

Folk came running from all directions. They didn't want to see the man. They wanted to see his vehicle.

"So that's an automobile!" remarked one town philosopher. "Can't say I think much of it."

The thing looked like an oversized buggy with no top and no horse attached. It had tall wheels, rubber-tired. A cog wheel extended from the middle of the body and a chain, much like that on a bicycle, ran to a larger cogwheel attached to the inside of one of the rear wheels.

BLUE SMOKE poured out of the pipe at the rear, and the engine sputtered and popped. The driver apparently did not dare to risk shutting down his power plant. He preferred to answer questions put to him with shouts.

I remember he had a big droopy mustache. He wore a long linen coat, and he had a pair of goggles over his eyes.

He spotted me and waved for me to come closer. I did so with considerable trepidation—I had heard some bystander mutter that "these darned things are liable to explode." I didn't want to be too close if this one decided to disintegrate.

"WANNA GO FOR A ride?" said the man.

I gulped and nodded.

He waved at the back seat—the thing had a front seat and a sort of basket deal at the rear where two smaller seats ran lengthwise of the body.

"Climb in," he said.

Someone picked me up under the arms and lifted me into the basket. I knelt on one of the running boards and gazed down at the ground and at the bystanders.

The man did something and the engine began to pop faster and faster. There was a lot more blue smoke and the whole contraption began to shudder and shake.

HE YANKED VIGOROUSLY on a lever and the smaller cog wheel just under my knees began to turn. The chain rattled and started revolving.

The vehicle began to move—the big buggy wheels turning round and round and the dusty street began vanishing as I stared.

We went three whole blocks. Then the man turned the wonderful machine around and drove three blocks back to the place we had started.

As soon as he had stopped the car, I clambered down over the wheel to the ground. And I ran back of the crowd and away from the machine.

I forgot to thank him for the ride. I was too filled with emotion to do anything. All I wanted to do was go off someplace by myself and try to figure out this wonderful experience I had enjoyed.

No Vote Is A Vote For Khrushchev

It's a puzzlement—

A man who catches another making off with his ox or his ass, or defrauding him of his lawful goods and gear will scream, "Stop thief!" at the top of his lungs while simultaneously sending in a riot call for the police.

On the other hand, this same citizen—with the utmost complacency—will steal himself blind of his own birthright, when that birthright is the secret ballot, and never give it a second thought.

THE NUMBER of men and women who royally rob themselves of their right to vote is not only astounding but a national disgrace—although it is not, alas, exactly stop-press news. The American Heritage Foundation, which has been fighting an uphill battle in recent years to shame Americans into exercising their voting privileges, notes that only 43.6 per cent of Americans of voting age went to the polls in 1958, the last Congressional election in a non-presidential year.

IN A CRISP LITTLE pamphlet entitled, "How to Help Khrushchev Bury America," the foundation underscores the fact that in non-presidential years a substantial majority of voters are simply too lazy or don't care to go to the polls to cast a vote for that third arm of the Federal government, the Congress.

The best that can be said for us is that we have been doing a little better by Congressmen in each non-presidential year since 1942. But then, we scarcely had any place to go but up, as only 33.9 of citizens of voting age cast a ballot that year.

OTHER FREE countries have no such cavalier attitude toward the ballot. In recent elections the percentage of voters who have flocked to the polls in Austria reached 95; in Italy, 93.8; in France, 89; in West Germany, 86; in Greece, 85; in Israel, 82; in Denmark, 80.6; in Korea, 80; in Norway, 79.3, and in England, 78.7.

The nonpartisan American Heritage Foundation, whose campaign to get out the vote is endorsed by both the Republican and Democratic parties, points out that prime ways in which to help Khrushchev bury us include:

"DON'T BOTHER to register.

"Stay away from the polls on election day.

"Inflect others with skepticism. Tell them their single ballot doesn't count.

"Refuse to join a political party.

"Discourage others from working for or giving to a political party."

With the blessing of both major parties, the foundation is also backing an "informed voter" campaign. "What is needed is an informed, thinking electorate," the foundation says. Who would disagree, except Khrushchev? It urges us voters to burn a little midnight oil on national and international problems.

IN ITS EXCELLENT work the foundation has overlooked one possibility of luring Americans to the polls. All of us dearly love to bellyache about any administration currently in power, whether in village or in the nation. It is a privilege we value above all others.

But, in all fairness, should Americans who don't bother to exercise this dearly-bought birthright, the ballot, be allowed to put the vocal arm on elected officials? What right have they to complain when they won't walk around the corner to vote?

WHAT ABOUT forbidding non-voters the privilege of sounding off against duly elected officials or the party in power? A few of us might choke to death. But, come the next election, I'll bet the rest of us into 99.44 per cent would be standing impatiently in line when the polls open.

'There's A War On'—In Cuba

WASHINGTON — From a promontory called Suicide Ridge, inside our Naval Base in Cuba, some of us recently watched a well-fleshed herd of cattle move past the Communist pickets beyond The Fence to a wallow hole.

REAR ADMIRAL O'Donnell, Guantanamo Base commander, told us later that the herd had a military purpose for the Reds. It had been ranged between their sentries and ours in order to trample the scrawny undergrowth, improve visibility and clear the ground. There is, of course, a big economic factor. When Castro took power, cattle were indiscriminately slaughtered and the breeding stocks, built up largely by American meat-packing firms, were ignorantly reduced. Next came the Soviet "technicians" who, among other things, began to restore the livestock economy.

THIS IS THE sort of material a reporter tucks away in his notebook for future reference—and in this case it paid off. Shortly after returning from Gitmo, I covered a House committee hearing on export controls. The star witness was Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, AFL-CIO. Curran mentioned a recent shipment to Cuba of purebred cattle out of a Canadian port, the largest of the kind ever recorded. A Greek vessel carried 360 head, and a West German vessel carried 400 head, Curran said. If true, this would put three of our NATO allies—Canada, Greece, West Germany—in a little-known phase of helping the Soviets in Red Cuba. I have asked the Canadian Embassy to verify the figures. Only 23 head were shipped in the first half of 1962, but there are no figures available since June 30th, I was told.

CURRAN is a big, rough-hewn Labor leader, not very delicate in language, but refreshingly forthright. He told the House committee:

"You can't be an anti-Communist by daylight, and then go to bed with them at night."

ANOTHER NATO ally, Norway, has a fleet of merchant ships which plies between New York and the Caribbean, replacing the crews by air but keeping the ships in action for five-year periods. Norway, Curran said, is the biggest operator in Cuban trade. About fifty per cent of Italian seamen, who man many of the ships plying to and from Cuba, are members of Communist unions, Curran added. Then there is the "runaway" fleet of some 1500 vessels, totaling more than 20 million tons, which operate under flags of Panama, Honduras and Liberia, but owned about 50-50 by our allies and ourselves. The crews of these ships are nearly all non-Americans, and many of them are part of the Soviet shuttle. American dollars seem to be invested in many of the foreign lines.

IT IS NOT pleasant to find that business seems to be using a subterfuge to keep the cash registers clicking, while the unions are reduced to tattling and passing rumors which sometimes have little substance. Curran admitted that his "grapevine" could send a message around the world in ten minutes and receive one in five minutes, although he could not vouch for the authenticity of all reports. But, after all, the responsibility here belongs to the U. S. Government. Somebody ought to know what's going on. Somebody ought to be in charge.

THE PRESIDENT told a recent press conference that Soviet aid to Castro commenced under Mr. Eisenhower, but the significant build-up has prospered under the New Frontier. Executive proclamations have banned exports and imports, as well as transshipments of manufactured goods to and from Cuba. But Congressman Paul Rogers (D. Fla.) told the House committee that in March, in May and in July foreign ships sailed out of American port with transshipments to Cuba of cotton linters, useful in the manufacture of explosives. All told, said Rogers, in the period of June-August, 1962, the flags of 20 free world nations have made 183 trips to Cuba with 169 merchant ships.

DURING 1941-45 the question, "Don't you know there's a war on?" was an excuse for much home-front bungling. But now in the Cold War, maybe it's a good query to put to Washington officials. The unions, the newspapers and the Congress seem to know, and to care, a lot more about the Cuban build-up than the Administration does.

Needlework Changes Into A Big Industry

DALTON, Ga. (AP)—When Katherine Evans was 15, she got out her needle, whipped up a bedspread, then another and another—and launched an industry that now grosses more than half a billion dollars a year.

The girl had seen pictures of tufted bedspreads made in colonial times and she wanted one. So she bought some unbleached muslin, drew a pattern and began sewing.

Using some cotton yarn and a big needle, she sewed along the pattern and as the stitches came through the cloth, she snipped each one with her scissors, leaving little tufts of thread.

It was Katherine Evans' first spread. She completed the second a year later—in 1896—and gave it to a sister as a wedding gift. The sister's neighbors saw it, wanted one, and Katherine agreed to make one—for $2.50.

Far Cry From The Old Days

Thousands of persons in Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee were engaged in the business which radiated from Dalton. Route men made specified runs, taking raw materials to Dalton and picking up finished spreads.

Then came the New Deal, with wage and hour changes. Machines were developed to do the work of many people. And with the machines came more and more spreads, and more and more companies, which are still growing.

SHE'S STILL WATCHING

A recent U. S. government report listed gross sales at $592 million a year—compared with that $2.50 in 1896.

At 82, Mrs. Whitener still is watching her baby grow. She loves to talk about the industry—its leaders today and those of yesterday whom she helped to train.

You might say that she sits on the front porch of her neat clapboard home in downtown Dalton and watches the textile industry flow around her.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

The combination of a fruit tree and a vine in bloom is giving a touch of the tropics appearance to the south side of the W. R. DOUGLASS home at 1505 Johnson St. The Queen's Wreath has found its way to the top of the tree and is blooming in full flower, giving the apricot tree a very dressed up look for our fall season that still feels like summer.

Downtown Lions Auxiliary that was planned for Oct. 17 has been set for Oct. 24 to avoid a conflict with the dedication ceremonies of the W. R. Grace Ammonia Plant.

MRS W C BLANKENSHIP is back from Little Rock, Ark. where she was called Tuesday by the illness of her daughter, MRS. BILL (JOYCE) BOSWELL. Mrs. Boswell had undergone major surgery on Monday at St. Vincent's Hospital. She had a few rough days but is better now.

MRS HERMAN HOHERTZ of Priddy is a guest in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, MR. and MRS. ALBERT HOHERTZ. She accompanied MR. and MRS. AWALT HOHERTZ who spent the weekend here and then returned to their home.

MR and MRS DREW DYER left Monday for Hot Springs, Ark. where they will spend their vacation.

MRS LYDIA SCHIRANK, mother of MRS. RAY CANTRELL, came to Big Spring with the Hohertz family and returned to Priddy with them Monday morning after a weekend with the Cantrells.

Circle Plans For Year's Projects

Projects for the year were planned during a Monday morning meeting of the Christine Coffee Circle, First Baptist Church. Members gathered at the home of Mrs. F. W. Bettie, 428 Dallas.

The circle decided to make a monthly donation to the Crippled Children's Clinic and to give a layette to the County Welfare during the year.

Mrs. C. T. McDonald read the calendar of prayer, and a report was made by the community chairman, Mrs. T. B. Atkins. The program, presented by Mrs. B. T. Faulkner, was based on the topic, "The Significance of the WMU Emblem."

HORACE GARRETT is back from Houston where he underwent surgery recently. He is up and around, and looking just fine.

Back from Fort Worth is the TONY TARONI family which includes children, TONI and TOMMY. They met friends from Gordon, Ark. and from Shreveport, La., and all attended the Saturday night football game between TCU and Arkansas. On Sunday they visited Six Flags Over Texas before leaving for their respective homes.

Also in Fort Worth for the game was GEORGE HALL who first saw SMU and Air Force play in Dallas on Saturday afternoon.

MRS. G. L. MASUTH of El Monte, Calif., is here for a week, visiting her brother, STEVE CORCORAN, his wife and another sister-in-law, MRS. SUSIE CORCORAN. Mrs. Masuth's late husband was employed here for many years with Texas and Pacific Railroad. She will leave here to visit with friends in Kansas City, Mo., Newcastle, Ind., and in Xenia, Ohio.

Twins Theme For Surprise Shower

A surprise shower was held for Mrs. Wayne Burns, wife of the county attorney. The stork party was held at the home of Mrs. Lindy Oldfield, Jonesboro Rd.

The refreshment table was decorated in a pink and white motif, using a white lace cloth over pink. The cake, decorated with pink and blue frostings, was served to 20 guests. Hostesses were Mrs. Homer Petty, Mrs. Billy J. Owen and Mrs. Lindy Oldfield. A corsage and the cake decor featured miniature trim dolls.

How To Whip Cream

When you whip cream in an electric mixer, use high speed until the cream is almost stiff. Then beat in the sugar and the flavoring.

The home of Mrs. Clifford Hale was the meeting place for the Evening Circle of Kentwood Methodist Church Monday when Mrs. Raymond Hamby gave the program. Also participating on the program were Mrs. Weiden Nuckolls and Mrs. Hale. Mrs. Frank Arner, chairman, presided during the meeting.

United Church Women Plan District Meeting

United Church Women of Big Spring are urged to attend the fall District 20 meeting to be held Oct. 18 at the First Methodist Church in Brownfield.

Registration begins at 9:45 a.m. and the meeting will close with an installation service at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. George Cherryhomes, former missionary to Thailand and China and wife of an Abilene minister, will give the afternoon address, "Oneness."

A roundtable discussion concerning work of United Church Women and purposes of the organization will be presented by the Lubbock Council.

Luncheon reservations may be made with the local council president, Mrs. W. D. Lovelace. Councils included in District 20 are Abilene, Lamesa, Colorado City, Stamford, Snyder, Littlefield, Big Spring, Lubbock and Brownfield.

Hostess For Circle Is Chairman

Mrs. T. K. Price was hostess to the Mary Hatch Circle, at the First Baptist Church Monday, when she presided for the meeting.

Mrs. J. E. Brown led the call to prayer, and all members voiced prayer for the missionaries.

"Significance of the WMU Emblem" was the subject used by Mrs. J. E. Hardesty, program chairman. Participating on the program were Mrs. Price, Mrs. C. O. Hitt, Mrs. Ervin Daniels and Mrs. Alton Underwood.

A gift of $5 was given for a HCJC scholarship. Members of the circle reported on making cookies for patients at the Big Spring State Hospital this week.

The Oct. 14 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Hitt, 1301 Pennsylvania, when the program will be "New Frontiers In An Old World."

Circles Have Bible Study

Circles of the First Presbyterian Church met in their respective places Monday and studied the first chapter of Matthew with Bible study entitled "The King is Crowned." Emphasis for the month is stewardship.

The Ruth Circle met in the home of Mrs. Grady McCrary. Mrs. Arthur Pickle worded the opening prayer, and gave the program. Mrs. Charles Hartwell will be hostess for the next meeting, Nov. 12.

Mrs. Cecil Wasson was hostess for the Ella Barrett Circle when three members and one guest, Miss Bertha Schuchert, were present.

The home of Mrs. Don Farley was the meeting place for the Margaret Currie Circle at 2 p.m. The Friendship Circle met at the church at 7 p.m.

Romans Speaks For P-TA Meet

FORSAN (SC)—W. M. Romans, principal of Forsan High School, spoke on textbook selections for the school, Monday at a meeting of the Forsan P-TA. Mrs. Paul Lancaster worded the devotion.

Roy Stockstill led a panel discussion on citizenship, its purpose, social studies, knowledge and patriotism. Panel members were Mrs. Bill Conner, Mrs. Tom Spell, Cliff Ferguson, and Jim Childress.

Mrs. Pearl Klahr and Mrs. Jackie Conroy were named delegates to the state convention.

Plans for the fall festival, November 3, were begun.

Children Return Home To Coahoma

STANTON (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Granville Graves of Coahoma came for their children, Terri and Craig, who have been visiting in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graves.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Yates and son have been visiting in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adkins. The Yates are moving to Midland from Ft. Worth.

A Woman Executive, 'Haphazard,' Says Men Choose Auto Styling

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A woman executive with a colorful nickname insists men, not women, choose autos on the basis of color and styling.

Women are more interested in safety, durability and dependability, says Genevieve Hazzard, Campbell-Ewald Co.'s only woman account executive and the first woman executive at Chevrolet Division of General Motors.

"They call me 'Haphazard,'" said the red-haired woman at a leadership seminar for women executives at the University of Michigan.

Miss Hazzard says "sheer spunk" enables her to hold down two jobs in Detroit, circle the globe two or three times a year, consort with movie stars like Dinah Shore and dictate fashions to designers.

Program Given For Members Of Salem WMU

The Women's Missionary Union of Salem Baptist Church met at the church Monday afternoon. Nine members were present for the program having the theme, "Laborers Together." Participating in the program were Mrs. J. L. Baugh, Mrs. Robert Honeycutt, Mrs. J. H. Reeves, Mrs. Leslie Kelley, and Mrs. Waldo Tindol, under the direction of Mrs. Ray Walker, program chairman.

In a business meeting, Mrs. Henry Musgrove, president, announced the following to serve as chairmen for the divisions of the work during the new associational year:

Enlistment vice-president, Mrs. Johnnie Walker; stewardship, Mrs. Waldo Tindol; community missions, Mrs. Sam Foster; program, Mrs. Ray Walker; missions study and publicity, Mrs. Leslie Kelley; and social, Mrs. Jesse Brooks.

Mrs. J. H. Reeves, Mrs. Johnnie Walker and Mrs. Robert Honeycutt were elected by the group to serve as a nominating committee.

Secretaries To Organize Here

An organizational meeting of the Big Spring Chapter of the Legal Secretaries Association will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The dinner-meeting is to be held at the Snae-A-Ritz, and all prospective members are asked to make reservations with Mrs. Kaye Thornton, telephone AM 4-7541.

not just interested in styling and color—it's the men who are more interested in these things. What women really want to know about is safety, durability, dependability and styling," she says.

She is a fashion-plate who believes a woman should act and think like a woman. "Just because I'm in the auto business doesn't mean I have to think like a man," she said.

Miss Montilla Arrives From Philippines

STANTON (SC)—Miss Josephine Montilla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Montilla of Manila, the Philippines, has arrived in Big Spring. Miss Montilla is the bride-elect of Glen D. Bunn, son of Mrs. Ruby Bunn Miller of Fort Worth and the late B. O. Bunn of Big Spring.

Glen Bunn is with the Stanton Physician Hospital. The wedding will take place Oct. 13 at the Sacred Heart of Mary Catholic Church in Big Spring.

DATE BOOK

The Kings Daughters Circle of the First Presbyterian Church will meet Thursday at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. R. W. Rozell, 604 Bucknell.

Girls' Group Organized

An organization of girls, ages 5 to 11, has been formed in the area on the south side of Lake Thomas. The "Girls Blue Jean Club" met Friday, and elected the following officers:

Betty Gray, president; Jerri B. Hodnett, vice president; Linda Lansford, secretary; Martye R. Graham, treasurer; Mrs. Jack Graham, leader; and Mrs. Jackie Jennings, assistant leader.

Meetings will be held on the first and third Saturdays of each month, and Friday, Oct. 12, was the date announced when the girls will appear on a radio program.

Guild Study Presented At Supper

First in a series of mission studies on "The Rim of East Asia" was held Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the First Methodist Church. The study is being conducted for members of Wesleyan Service Guild.

Preceding the program a business session, supper was served in Fellowship Hall with Mrs. H. M. Rowe, Mrs. A. C. Moore, Mrs. T. P. Harrison and Mrs. Clyde Lowery, hostesses to the 30 members. The invocation was given by Mrs. S. Gorman.

The president, Mrs. M. R. Turner, presided, and a responsive reading, given as the devotion, was led by Miss Twila Lomax. Mrs. B. M. Keese offered prayer.

Identified as the area of study were the countries of Korea, the Ryukyus, Okinawa and Formosa. The study was led by Miss Gladys Burnham; the history told by Mrs. Turner; the people described, by Mrs. Irene Draper; relief, reported by Mrs. Ruby Martin; the church, Mrs. Keese; and personal interest story, Mrs. Nan Bunn.

The next meeting will be Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock for a study devoted to Korea.

Mrs. Frank George Circle Hostess

Mrs. Frank George, 1410 Scurry, was hostess Monday to the Esther Circle of the First Christian Church. Mrs. J. D. Benson gave the program, "Does Belief Matter?" Mrs. T. B. Baldrige worded the opening prayer.

Eight members and two visitors, Mrs. H. G. Hill and Mrs. John Black, were present. The Nov. 12th meeting will be in the home of Mrs. J. C. Burnam, 418 Ryon.

Center Still Needs Help On Transportation

The Howard County Rehabilitation Center is still in need of individuals who will volunteer to help transport youngsters to and from the center.

This is not an every day assignment, James Thompson, therapist, pointed out. "We are hopeful that there will be enough to offer to transport these children that we won't have to call on the same individuals too often," he said.

Thompson said that operations were now proceeding normally, thanks to help of numbers of people. In addition to a list of plumbers, electricians and suppliers previously acknowledged, he mentioned Byron's Transfer for having moved the equipment without charge.

Mrs. Grady Harland helped with the packing and unpacking and Bo Bowen furnished and made curtains. Among those who gave gas stoves were Henry Moser, Walter Eubanks, Welby Jackson, Choc C. Jones, Benny Rogers and the YMCA.

Aubrey Lee Leonard, 45, was held in contempt of court this morning and ordered to jail until he purged himself. Judge Ralph Caton ruled that the man was $295.95 in arrears with child support payments ordered paid to the defendant's minor children. Leonard was taken in custody by the sheriff but in a short time had raised the amount of money and was released.

The several hundred telegraphers already laid off by the railroad should not be entitled both to the layoff benefits recently negotiated and the claims for layoff benefits they have filed as grievances, which are still pending. Garrett ruled that final action was ultimately up to the railroad, a management decision. This principle, enunciated earlier by a White House emergency board which examined the issues, is one all the nation's railroads are being seeking as a means of ending what the carriers call "featherbedding," their term for unneeded workmen.

Heavy Traffic For Carnival

Traffic was terrific at the carnival operation of the Downtown Lions and other organizations Monday evening.

Club officials reported that response was gratifying the opening evening as hundreds flocked to the Fun-O-Rama grounds at Fourth and Birdwell.

Lions manned the ticket booths, and members of other organizations staffed various booths. Included were such things as cat throw, hats, pop corn, hot dogs, snow cones, bingo, ducking, ring toss and a variety of prize games. In a couple of instances customers were too skillful and concession operators had to pull in their horns.

For the most part the rides got good patronage. These included small cars, boats for tiny tots, a small roller coaster, rocket ride, space patrol for the youngsters, merry-go-round, tilt-a-whirl, and little ferris wheel, and train. The show will run through Saturday evening.

Free African States Welcome Uganda

By LYNN HEINZERLING
KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Uganda, a British protectorate for more than 60 years, becomes the 33rd independent nation in Africa today, but the continent's troubles are far from ended.

More than 75 per cent of the continent's surface will be free of the colonial presence when the new red, black and yellow flag of Uganda goes up. On a population basis, more than 85 per cent of Africa's 240 million inhabitants will be living under governments free of any colonial restraint.

At the end of World War II there were only four independent nations in Africa—Egypt, Ethiopia, Liberia and the Union (now Republic) of South Africa. Their combined area is about 11 per cent of Africa's 11.6 million square miles.

LOT OF TROUBLES
In 17 years newly independent countries have exchanged colonial grievances for a sobering collection of new complaints—tribal enmities, one-party dictatorships, slumping trade figures, social unrest and administrative incompetence. But the drive for freedom persists.

DIXIELAND FLAVOR FOR INDEPENDENCE

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—Independence ceremonies celebrating the birth of Uganda as a nation today had a Dixieland flavor.

Dance music included "When the Saints Go Marching In" and "Swanee." "St. Louis Blues," listed on the program, was dropped without explanation.

Two years old, is still divided, propped up by the United Nations and on the edge of bankruptcy.

Ghana, 5 1/2 years old, is plagued with political dissension, tribal jealousies and governmental feuds which resulted in attempts to assassinate President Kwame Nkrumah.

The Sudan, nearly seven years old, is ruled by military dictatorship. Many of the new governments are one-party, near-dictatorial establishments.

LOOSE FEDERATION
Uganda is moving into the Free World with 28 different tribes as a loose federation of four kingdoms and the district of Busoga. Serious internal quarrels over boundaries, finances and the relative importance of the various kingdoms are to be resolved.

The Uganda Broadcasting Service must broadcast in six African languages and still does not reach all the seven million inhabitants.

Even with Uganda free, a score of protectorates, territories, colonies or enclaves in Africa are still controlled by Britain, Spain, Portugal and France. Here are some of the trouble spots:

Northern Rhodesia—A British protectorate south of the Congo with rich copper deposits. The 2.4 million Africans have been ruled by 70,000 whites. In elections Oct. 30, Kenneth Kaunda, African leader of the United National Independence Party, is certain to gain strength. He demands a breakup of the central African federation of which Northern Rhodesia is a part. The federation prime minister, Sir Roy Welensky, says a Kaunda victory would mean chaos.

DANGEROUS ODDS
Southern Rhodesia—A self-governing British colony of 2.8 million Africans and 150,333 whites. Sir Edgar Whitehead's white government has been at dangerous odds with the Zimbabwe African Peoples Union headed by Joshua Nkomo. Whitehead outlawed Zapu Sept. 20 and called up territorial forces to guarantee order. Nkomo demands votes for every African.

Nyasaland—The third part of the Central African Federation, with 2.7 million Africans and only 8,000 whites. Nationalist Hastings Banda plans to take Nyasaland out of the federation.

ANGOLA—This Portuguese Colony bordering the Congo and Northern Rhodesia has been subject to attacks by forces operating from the Congo. The Portuguese voice determination to hold the territory with its population of 4.4 million Africans and 110,000 whites. Free Africa focuses angry attention on Angola.

LACKING IN RIGHTS
Mozambique — Another Portuguese colony across the continent on the Indian Ocean with 6.7 million Africans and 80,000 whites. As in Angola, most Africans lack political and civil rights.

South Africa—A free, wealthy and highly developed republic in which 3.12 million whites withhold from 12 million non-whites all political and civil rights. The South African government, taking unusual and defense measures, vows to keep the nation white. A number of reserves are being established where Africans will have a measure of self government. There have been no serious clashes since the Sharpeville riots of 1960.

South West Africa—A former German colony mandated to South Africa by the League of Nations with 539,000 Africans and 66,000 whites. South Africa has rejected United Nations demands that this become a U.N. trust territory. Reports of discontent have been made to the United Nations.

AT THEIR MERCY
Basutoland—This British protectorate of 11,116 square miles forms an enclave surrounded by South African territory. Britain promises the 800,000 Basutos eventual self government. This would place a black nation within the borders of segregationist South Africa. Basutoland, with no economic future, could be at the mercy of South Africa.

Swaziland—Another British protectorate between South Africa and Mozambique with 275,000 Africans not far advanced from tribal life but with a more promising economic future than Basutoland.

Kenya—A rich agricultural colony on the Indian Ocean, already stained with blood from the Mau Mau uprising of the early '50s, is expected to become independent of Britain in 1963 or 1964. Many of 48 African tribes are feuding. A "land freedom army" appears to be preparing for violent action. Many of the 66,000 whites are leaving.

PEANUT ECONOMY
Gambia—A British colony in West Africa of only 4,000 square miles with a population of 275,000 Africans. With an economy based almost entirely on peanuts, its future economically is very dim.

Other colonial territories with an uncertain future include the British protectorate of Bechuanaland, French Somaliland, Portuguese Guinea, Spanish Guinea and Spanish Sahara, Zanzibar and several tiny Spanish enclaves in Morocco. Their total population is about 1.6 million.

Vice Presidential Protection Sought

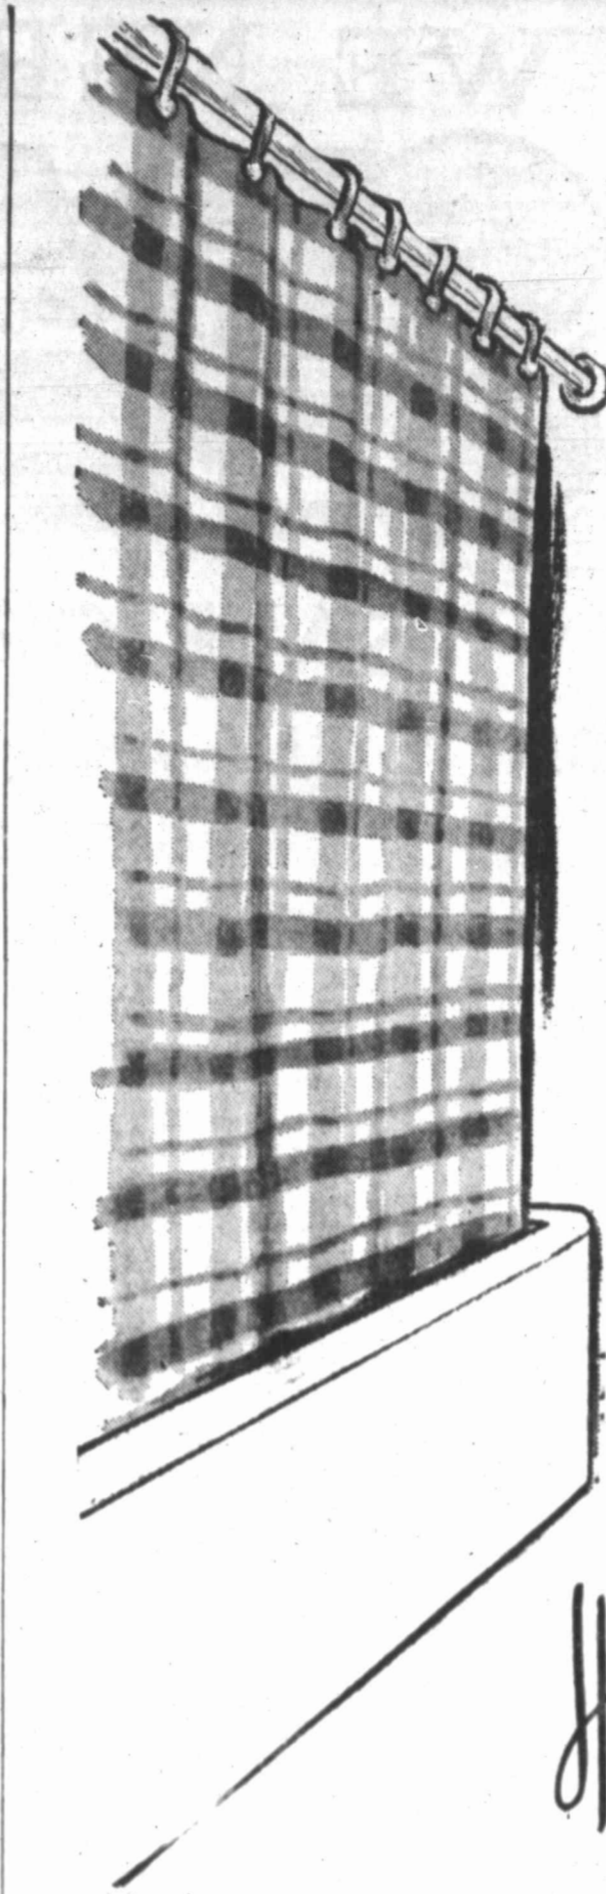

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent to President Kennedy a bill providing full-time Secret Service protection for the vice president.

The measure approved Monday by the Senate also authorizes protection for vice presidents-elect and for a former president for a reasonable time after he leaves office if he requests it.

Kennedy had asked for the legislation last April.

Back From Fair

STANTON (SC)—The Future Farmers of America students have returned from the State Fair, where the boys were on the grass judging team. The team included Alan Tate, Richard Perry, Buddy Stewart, Rodney Robinson, Jerry Stuard and Larry Ratliff.

Crippled Children's Group To Elect New Directors

Annual meeting of the membership of the Howard County Rehabilitation (Crippled Children's) Center is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at 5:30, in the Chamber of Commerce conference room. All contributors are invited to attend.

Principal business will be the election of a new segment of the directorate, a third of which is to be named under a rotating system. Also reports from various committees will be heard. It is likely that new officers will be named at a later session, after the new board is brought into office.

Directors whose terms expire are S. M. Anderson, George Zach-ariah, Clyde Hollingsworth, Dr. F. W. Lutting, W. L. (Squeaky) Thompson, and Roy E. Watkins. By coincidence, these include all the officers, since Anderson is president, Lutting vice president, Zachariah secretary, and Hollingsworth treasurer.

Others on the board, whose terms continue, are Daryle Hertz, Mrs. Buford Hull, Lester Morton, Mrs. Obie Bristow, Mrs. Roscoe Newell, R. W. Whipkey, John Currie, Richard M. Johnson, John Burgess, R. B. Travis, Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas Jr., and Jim Bill Little.

Honor Students Named At Stanton

STANTON (SC) — Marilyn Sale and Buddy Glaspie have been selected as the citizens of the month for October, Bill Johnson, high school principal reported. The student council has made plans again this year to sponsor this program.

The faculty selects two students from the high school, based on cooperativeness, willingness to apply themselves and dependability.

On the first Tuesday of each month these students are honored by the Stanton Lions Club.
