Anthony Tops Euler In Demo Runoff

LAST WEEK WE were naming all of the new businesses in town, as well as the ones who have just moved, remodeled, etc.

As always happens, we missed a business in the moved and remodeled category, none other than Carrol's printing and office supplies, who are now located the next place north of us on Main Street.

You'd think, since we see Carrol's place every time we come to the office, go to the Post Office, etc., that we'd have remembered Don & Pat Gatlin's newly remodeled home. But that's the way our mind works—kinda hit and miss.

Now this week we have activity on the southeast corner of the Main Street-Highway 60 intersection, with a new tenant refurbishing the other old service station. We don't have the business' name as yet, but it will be nice to have all four corners of the intersection occupied—the first time in many moons for this to be accomplished.

The round for Grand Openings continues in Friona beginning Monday, when Roberts Appliance starts its Grand Opening sale on Main Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Roberts, longtime Hereford business owners, have established a nice line of TVs and appliances. If you haven't dropped by, plan to do so next week.

ALTHOUGH HIGHWAY construction has been at a standstill in the area due to the tie-up of federal funds for construction work, Friona is fortunate in getting at least two "small" jobs, one of which was completed this week, and the other just started.

Completed was work on widening of Spur 270 for about three blocks at the west end of the street. This has been a much-needed item on the street for some time, and the newly widened street really looks nice, besides adding to the safety factor of that section of the "Loop."

Just started was work on the Cemetery Road, by Boswell and Crafter Construction Company. Caliche was put down earlier this week, and then the project received a nice shower, which should have aided the watering of the roadbed.

The Cemetery Road paving of which came about following a whirlwind campaign to raise $45,000 for the project earlier this year, is expected to be completed in the near future. It might even be completed by the time we have another big rain and a funeral the same day.

The pavement will be a nice improvement for traffic to and from the cemetery, as well as enhancing the adjoining property. Paving is always a big improvement, and never fails to be worth many times its cost.

THE DEMOCRATIC and Republican primaries are finally over, after almost six months, a ton of money and thousands of miles travelled by the candidates.

The way things look at this stage, Georgia governor Jimmy Carter appears unstoppable for the Democratic nomination. Carter probably wasn't even in the top three when the campaign began, but he has parlayed an outgoing personality, and a "new face" angle into an almost sure nomination.

If Carter gets the nomination, it will sort of restore one's faith in the democratic process, since he has come up from the grass roots and

But if Carter seems to have it locked up in the Demo camp, things are still not decided on the GOP ticket, with about 80 delegate votes separating Ford and Reagan.

And with the Democratic convention being first on the docket in July, it appears that if Carter does get the Demo nod, President Ford's campaign might falter.

With Carter representing the "new face in Washington" campaign angle, political observers think that Reagan might have a better chance in a national race than Ford, especially since the incumbent president has failed to score any overwhelming wins.

So, the primaries are over, but politics remain much in the forefront in this Bicentennial year.

Only about 25 per cent of the qualified voters in Precinct one registered their preference last Saturday in the Democratic runoff, as Ernest Anthony edged Raymond Euler for the nomination for county commissioner.

Anthony had 238 votes, to Euler's 208. Anthony still must face Republican Forrest Osborn in the November general election.

Anthony won the Friona voting box with 217 votes to 179 for Euler. At Black, Euler was the leader with 18 votes to Anthony's 9, and each candidate had 11 votes at Lakeview.

Anthony's winning margin in the runoff was some 18 less than his margin over Euler in the first primary, when he led the four-man ticket with 282 votes. In the runoff, he received 53.4 per cent of the votes to Euler's 46.6 per cent.

Local election officials had expected over 500 people to vote in Friona, but the turnout was only 397. There had been 843 voters in the May 1 primary. Officials were at a loss as to how to explain the low turnout, with an important county position up for consideration.

In precinct three, former county judge Archie Tarter won nomination to a spot as a commissioner on the court, and the same as was elected, since there are no Republican candidates for the position.

Ernest Anthony

Tarter defeated longtime Oklahoma Lane party leader Wendol Christian, 246 votes to 175 for a seat on the commission. Christian won his home box with 79.5 per cent of the votes, but the Farwell box was carried heavily by Tarter (74.8 per cent), 214 votes to 72. In addition, Christian led in absentee ballots, 10-8.

In the two statewide races, county voters went along with the trend in the race for a spot on the Railroad Commission, giving winner Jon Newton even more of a majority than he received statewide.

Local and county voters, apparently remembering the performance of Sadler in his last essay in public office, gave him only 25.2 per cent of their votes, and 74.8 per cent for Newton.

In Bovina, Newton's majority was even more pronounced, as he picked up 39 votes to only eight for Sadler, a whopping 83 per cent for the winner.

Newton won every ballot box in the county except the Rhea box, where Sadler managed to tie him with six votes. The absentees were also tied at seven each. Newton's biggest margin was at Lakeview, 20-2, 90.1 per cent.

County voters differed from those across the state in their choice for the court of criminal appeals. Going mainly on the recommendation of the Texas Criminal Lawyers' Association and endorsements of several newspapers, Parmer voters gave Carl Dally a margin, however slight, 397-337.

Dally won every box except Oklahoma Lane, where the winner, W.T. Phillips, held a 42-34 lead.

The voting was particularly light in the two precincts which were not electing commissioners this year. Just 48 voters turned out in Bovina, which had 326 voters in the first primary.

Only 12 voters voted at Rhea, and 15 at Lazbuddie. All told, just 75 of the 944 county voters casting ballots last Saturday resided in the two precincts without local races.

The 944 voters compared to 2243 who voted in the first Democratic primary. A total of 323 had voted in the Republican primary, and were eligible to vote Saturday.

However, Saturday's turnout was 90 more than voted in the last Democratic runoff in 1968. There were no county races in that particular runoff, but there was a hotly-contested race for governor between Preston Smith and Don Yarborough.

In the Precinct 3 commissioner's race, Christian gained 27 votes from the margin Tarter had posted on May 1. In the first primary, Tarter led by 98 votes, 271-173, with two other candidates receiving 212 votes. The former judge's margin this time was 71 votes.

Chamber Needs July 4th Events

The Friona Chamber of Commerce announced the deadline for the Fourth of July calendar of events last Wednesday.

All churches, clubs or organizations wishing to announce special activities should contact the Chamber's office by noon Tuesday, June 15.

NURSING HOME

Prairie Acres Is Selected For Name

The Friona City Council held their regular meeting June 7, at the City Hall.

Among the many items under discussion was a name for the new Friona Nursing Home. Percy Parsons and the Board of Directors submitted the name "Prairie Acres." The Council accepted the name after some discussion. Parsons suggested that the home be referred to hereafter by its name rather than calling it a "nursing home." He also suggested the occupants be called residents instead of patients.

Second on the agenda was the new Ordinance No. 505, which will raise the rates of cemetery burials. The new charges will include: (1) $100 for an adult space and $40 for an infant space, (2) opening and closing grave services will be $80 for an adult and $25 for an infant, (3) and $25 for the set up and removal of the undertaking equipment. Should the burial occur on Saturdays, Sundays or holidays, the charge will be $100 for an adult and $30 for an infant. With the rising costs of labor and equipment, the city will still lose money with each burial.

Budget guidance for the fiscal year 1977 was discussed with the largest capital expenditure expected to be a $4000 Electron Alert System for the Fire Department. Also on the budget will be a wage increase for the city employees.

The Board of Equalization was appointed. The members include Glenn Reeve, Sr., H.K. Kendrick and Ed Hicks. Their first meeting was set for Tuesday, July 20 at 10 a.m.

Among miscellaneous business was a complaint to the Council on the noise made by motorcycle riders at Reeve Lake Park. It was decided that City Attorney Black would speak to the private landowners seeking their permission in granting the City Council the power to regulate noise at the park.

The tennis court project was mentioned and the Council was reminded of the 60 day completion clause in the project's contract.

Other business included correspondence from Pioneer Natural Gas Company explaining gas rate adjustments for the month of May. The Council also okayed the building of a new street light at the corner of Eighth and Maple.

The next meeting of the City Council will be Monday, July 12, at 7:30 p.m.

RAINBOW...A bright rainbow was visible in Friona just before sunset Thursday following a shower which left an official .22 inch of moisture.

Area Receives More Showers

The Friona area received more showers during the past week, still not enough to cause farmers to shut off their irrigation wells, but coming just right for lawns and gardens, many of which were able to miss a week on their sprinkling schedule.

Late Friday, June 4, a thunderstorm formed in the area, and in the early morning hours Saturday left .40 inch in the official city gauge. A couple of light showers Sunday and Monday afterwards left .03 and .02 in the gauge.

Then Thursday afternoon, another cloud moved across the area. The city gauge caught .22 inch, but reports from the area ranges up to .4 inch.

The season's high temperature was recorded for Thursday afternoon, when the mercury hit 94 degrees prior to the thunderstorm.

The official total rainfall in Friona for the two week period starting May 30 and ending June 11 stood at 2.02 inches of moisture. The total for the month of June stands at 1.69 inches, the wettest month so far in 1976.

HE'S TAKING MY PICTURE.... Climbing out of the pool after an unforgettable dive is Jimmy Lambert, who will be a freshman at Friona High School this fall. Friona's kids have a very extensive repertoire of dives which they perform every afternoon at the Friona Dive-In Swimming Pool between the hours of 1 and 6 p.m. Lambert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Lambert.

tends to his backyard crop of corn which seems to be growing at a very steady rate, due largely to our moisture received recently in the Friona area.

Rev. Russell McAnally, pastor of the Friona Methodist Church the past four years, has been appointed as pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church in Plainview, it has been announced.

5 YEARS AGO—JUNE 17, 1971
Missouri Beef Packers was probably the hardest-hit single concern in last Friday's "big blow," which caused damage locally that will probably top $500,000. The packing plant, three miles southwest of town, sustained heavy damage to the roof of its building, which in turn caused water leakage and a loss of insulation, making it hard to maintain the temperature constant in the new fabricating portion of the plant. Damage will top $50,000 at MBP, according to manager Dave LaFleur. Other businesses sustaining heavy losses included Friona Wheat Growers, which had a grain dryer completely destroyed. Friona Motors had extensive damage to its roof, and some new cars were affected. Rockwell Brothers Lumber Company lost 72 feet of roofing on one of its warehouse buildings. The municipal swimming pool had its roof partially torn off, and some damage to the building structure. Six trailer homes were damaged, one of which was picked up and tossed about 20 feet, landing on its top and being crushed.

City Building Hits $84,040

The City of Friona had a fairly busy month in May. The administrative department issued six building permits; two new residences for an estimated $67,500; one addition-alteration for $7,000; a mobile home siting for $8,000 with two storage houses for $1,550; to bring the total estimate for the month to $84,040.00.

Water department records indicate 29,529,500 gallons of water were pumped and 22,591,000 were accounted for in sales to indicate an efficiency of only 76.5 per cent in the distribution system. Rainfall amounted to .95 inch for the month with .33 of that falling Sunday evening, May 30, with marble sized hail and windstorm damage to vegetation.

The wastewater department reported only one sewer tap made to bring the total to 1320.

Fires were extensive last month as the fire department reported four alarms, all outside the corporate limits. The greatest loss was at the Hub Grain Company, May 8, where trucks and grain loss amounted to an estimated $80,000. There was also a $300 loss at the Cattle Town Feed Yard, May 11.

The Police Department reported a heavy month with a total of 79 arrests. There were 63 traffic violations, five illegal aliens, three arrest warrants, three arrests for possession of marijuana, two arrests for drinking while in control of a vehicle, and one each for driving while intoxicated, public intoxication and one runaway.

Three days of excavations were done at the new landfill site and two days at the old site, during the first week of May, in order to adequately care for the old city's solid waste disposal.

On the library scene, librarian Beverly Sweny attended a library workshop in Amarillo. The regular scheduled meeting of the Library Board was held on May 20. Statistics showed that 864 books were checked out by 435 persons.

REMEMBERING...

By BILL D. BROOKS

Victrolas

Our Victrola had belonged to my grandparents and was handed down to them. We called it our record player but Victrolas actually were "talking machines" when they first came out. The maker proclaimed, with pride, that the Victrola was "The most versatile and so the most satisfying musical instrument in the world, made to entertain, to console, and to inspire."

It was a source of daily entertainment for us kids and we were allowed to work it "all by ourselves" once we had been properly instructed as to the do's and don'ts. The rules were listed in a manual that came with the Victrola entitled "How To Get The Most Out Of Your Victrola" (Copyright 1918 by the Victor Talking Machine Company, Camden, N.J.). The following is quoted from it:

"In starting a record, release the brake and allow the turntable to make several revolutions to attain its full maximum speed. Then take the circumference of the soundbox between the thumb and two first fingers of the right hand and lower gently until the reproducing point comes, gently, into contact with the smooth, shiny rim at the circumference of the record. That is the right way and the only right way to start a record." Mom saw to it that we were thoroughly knowledgeable of this and all other rules in the book before we were allowed to use the machine.

I remember I had to stand on a stool to be able to see in the top where the records went. When the lid was turned you could see the turntable and the playing arm in the top part. Three small metal cups held the needles, two of which held new ones. Some needles were for loud sound reproduction, some for soft sound. The other cup (this one had a lid with a small hole in it) was for worn out needles. There were some knobs and things that we were supposed to leave alone that had to do with adjusting the speed and tone of the machine.

In the front was a place that had grill work and cloth over it where the sound came out. Underneath that were two doors with shelves inside where records were stored. The shelves were full of records, most of which were classical and not too much fun to listen to but we had others that I especially liked. "Take That Night Train to Memphis" was my favorite but "The Arkansas Traveler" and "Blue Yodel No. 2" got played a lot also.

Playing the Victrola really took three of us. I turned the wind-up crank, before each record was played. My sister placed the needle on the records because that task could be trusted only to someone with a "most sensitive" touch. My brother, since he understood machines, changed the needle after each record and saw to it that the machine was kept in good working order.

We finally sold the machine to a junk dealer for practically nothing because we got tired of it and it took up too much room. Sometimes I sorta wish we still had it though, because music from it had a special sound, an earnest kind of sound you just don't hear anymore.

To The EDITOR

(Editor's note: The following is a copy of a letter sent by the City of Friona to George C. Wall, district engineer for the Texas Highway Department).

Dear Mr. Wall: It is noted with pleasure that your work crew has finished the renovation, west end of Fifth Street and Spur 270 at Friona.

On behalf of the citizens of Friona and the many motorists, both truckers and automobiles, that use that street I express THANKS and Appreciation for a job well done.

The widening of the thoroughfare will appreciably enhance the safety of traffic upon entry and egress to and from U.S. Highway 60.

Yours truly,

REC Announces New Rate Hike

Effective July 27, members of Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative will have their electric bill computed under a new rate schedule.

"In these days of steadily rising costs, Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative is fortunate to wait this long before announcing a rate increase," stated Board President, Sloan Osborn.

This increase consists of an overall increase of roughly 13 per cent in revenue. This does not indicate the member's total bill will jump by 13 per cent but only that the Cooperative's base rate will increase by this amount on the average.

The fuel adjustment charge, which is calculated in addition to the base rate, is not under the control of the management, staff or Board of Directors. This is simply a pass-through of fuel charges from the cooperative's wholesale power supplier. The Cooperative, nor our power supplier derive any revenue that can be applied toward the operation of the Cooperative from this portion of the bill.

"In an effort to cope with rising costs, as well as stay abreast in the midst of the massive trends toward more electric loads, the Board of Directors feels the increase is necessary in order to maintain present levels of equity," Osborn said.

Although these new loads increased the Cooperative's electric revenue, they also required a tremendous expenditure in new transmission lines, new and larger substations, new tie-lines, and three-phase distribution lines.

In order to provide adequate service in the Nazareth and Dimmitt area, a new substation, as well as nine miles of 69KV transmission line is being constructed at an approximate cost of $245,000.00.

New irrigation loads throughout Deaf Smith, Parmer and Castro Counties have made it necessary to recently build 31 miles of 69KV transmission line and two substations at a cost of $580,000.00.

These two projects alone cost approximately $825,000.00, which does not include the cost of three-phase line to carry power from the substation to the new loads. This rate increase is being implemented now, in order to save the member added expense and delay under the guidelines of the new Public Utility Commission of Texas.

Although the total increase amounts to roughly 13 per cent, the individual increases vary, depending on the rate schedule used. Because the winter irrigation rate was eliminated, electric irrigation cost to the member in the months of October through March will increase approximately 50 per cent.

However, the winter months comprise only 27 per cent of KWH sales to irrigation and 17 per cent of total revenue derived from irrigation. Therefore, the combined summer and winter affect is about a 20 per cent increase in cost to irrigation.

When considering only summer usage, cost for irrigation will increase only about 11 per cent. In addition, the annual minimum will be increased from $6.00 to $9.00 per horsepower for irrigation services.

The farm and home rate which includes over 50 per cent of the Cooperative's meters, will see only an eight per cent increase. The monthly minimum will however, be raised from $2.50 to $4.00. This small percentage increase, as compared to irrigation is in an effort to more closely equate cost of service for various consumers to the revenue received.

Area Receives $42,621 In ASCS Payments

County by county figures from the Texas state office of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service reveal that $42,621,291 have been fed into the High Plains economy by the disaster provisions of the 1973 Farm Act, compensating farmers for weather-induced losses on 1975 crops.

The total includes payments to producers in the 25 Lubbock area counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. PCG is the organization which in 1973 initiated and built support for a section in the farm law which would reimburse farmers for some of the losses resulting from unavoidable crop failures.

The disaster program authorizes payments to producers of cotton, wheat and feed grains when weather prevents them from planting crops or reduces yields to abnormally low levels. Payments in the 25 counties on 1974 crops came to $78,732,600, bringing the two-year total of the program to over $121 million.

A review of the benefits stemming from the program was prompted by a recent speech against disaster payments by Representative Paul Findley of Illinois, plus continuing opposition to the program from the current Administration in Washington. Con-need and put disaster protection into the current law over the strong objections of Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, and USDA opposition has not abated. The Administration now proposes to repeal the disaster section of the law, saying its functions can be replaced by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC), an approach which producers think is totally impractical.

PCG President W.B. Criswell of Idalou contends that today's high cost of producing agricultural commodities makes it imperative that farmers have the protection afforded by the disaster program. An arm of Congress which studies such things, the General Accounting Office, recently reported that the Administration's plan to provide crop loss protection through FCIC instead of the disaster program has "considerable merit," but added it also has some "shortcomings."

These shortcomings, according to incomplete information on the report, include failure to allow reduced premium rates in high-risk growing areas such as the Plains and the lack of insurance coverage for farmers who are prevented from planting because of floods, droughts or other natural causes. Over and above these objections, Criswell cites the absence of FCIC insurance on dry-land cotton acreage and the overall inadequacy of FCIC payments when losses occur on covered crops.

"So retention of a disaster program in the farm law," he says, "will continue to be a major PCG objective." Officials of the producer organization see no danger that the program will be terminated in 1976, but expect a strong Administration move against it for 1977, the final year of the 1973 law, and again when new farm legislation comes up for consideration.

Crop loss payments in Parmer County totaled $1,499,675 in 1974 and $1,047,420 in '75 for a two year total of $2,547,095. The neighboring counties of Bailey, Castro, Deaf Smith and Lamb counties received two year totals of $4,735,196, $3,381,825, $4,720,661 and $5,048,064, respectively.

Extension Service Director Named

Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel has been named director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System's public service agency which provides agricultural, homemaking, 4-H and consumer assistance to thousands of Texans throughout the state.

Pfannstiel's appointment was made Tuesday, April 25, by the Texas A&M University System Board of Regents, subject to concurrence of the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture. The appointment was effective June 1.

The 2,000-employee service, which operates offices in all but two of Texas 254 counties, is a joint county-state-federal program which has traditionally served farmers, ranchers and residents of rural communities and is becoming increasingly popular with urban dwellers.

"We have searched throughout the nation to confirm what we thought was the case all along: that we already have in our ranks the best person for this key position," pointed out Board of Regents Chairman Clyde H. Wells in announcing Pfannstiel's promotion.

Pfannstiel, 48, has served the Texas Agricultural Extension Service for 27 years, being associate director since 1971. He joined the Extension Service upon graduation in 1949 from Texas A&M. He worked his way up through the ranks, from assistant county agent in Wharton County to county agent in Matagorda County

Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel in 1952, to administrative assistant at the service's College Station headquarters in 1956 and to assistant director in 1959.

He succeeds Dr. H.O. Kunkel, Texas A&M's dean of agriculture, who has served as the Extension Service's acting director since February when Dr. John E. Hutchison retired as director of the largest state Extension Service in the nation.

"Dr. Pfannstiel is undoubtedly one of the most qualified administrative officers in the nation's entire Cooperative Extension Service," Dean Kunkel noted. "He has been eagerly sought by several other agencies but has chosen to stay and serve in Texas."

In addition to his B.S. degree in animal husbandry from Texas A&M, Pfannstiel earned a master's in extension education from Michigan State University in 1952 and a Ph.D. in extension administration from the University of Wisconsin in 1959.

Pfannstiel is a native of Bexar County. He is a colonel in the U.S. Army Reserves and is a member of numerous professional organizations.

SCS Board Has Meeting

The Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District board met June 1 for its regular monthly meeting. Leroy Johnson acted as chairman in the absence of chairman, Leon Grissom. Other directors attending were M.C. Osborn of Friona and Dan Smith of Lazbuddie.

Besides regular business of paying bills, approving conservation plans and correspondence; the board was informed that no teacher in Parmer County had applied for the conservation education workshop scholarship at WT this summer.

Reports were given on Soil Stewardship Week activities and on the regional conservation awards banquet at Canyon. The most recent district newsletter was reviewed.

The final item of business was the completion of a survey on conservation problems in Parmer County. The Parmer County district is cooperating with the state association of conservation districts in making this survey. In making this survey, the state association can help coordinate needed conservation research and education within the state.

Little Leaguers In Third Week Of Play

This past week's Minor League action got off to a great start last Thursday evening when Ag-Chem took a 9-8 win over Ethridge-Spring. Emilio Castaneda pitched the win for Ag-Chem while sister Sally scored two of Ag-Chem's nine runs. David Hough and Jeff Sharrock came up with hits for the winners.

For Ethridge-Spring, Rodney Allen socked three base hits and also accounted for two of Ethridge-Spring's eight runs. On Friday, June 4, Parmer County met the BJ Bees and came away with a 12-7 win which brought their season record to two wins, and two losses. Olga Sanchez and Ross Roden provided the pitching for the winning Parmer County team.

The hottest team in the Minor League, Hi-Pro Feeds, met Ethridge-Spring this past Monday night and got cooled off a bit as they were upended 29-5. Ethridge-Spring's Rudy Bermea started things off right with his first inning single, and his team took it from there as they came up with 29 runs and a fine pitching performance by Reese Fleming.

Ag-Chem met Parmer County on Tuesday, June 8, with the Implement Company coming up with a big fifth inning, in which they scored 23 runs, and taking a 30-12 win. Female hurler, Olga Sanchez, continued to strike the boys out as she puzzled the Ag-Chem batters. Ross Roden relieved her in the fourth inning and pitched the remainder of the game. Sanchez hit an inside-the-park home run in the fifth inning to complement her pitching effort. Parmer County stands 3-2 on the year.

Last week in the Major League, Reeve Chevrolet handed the Friona Star their second loss of the year, winning 5-4. The Star scored three runs early while four almost perfect innings were played before Reeve got on the scoreboard and eventually took the win. Randy Ortiz pitched the win for Reeve and Jeff Lundy scored the winning run.

The following evening, Friona State Bank improved their record to 3-1, with a 22-1 win over the Friona Feed Yard. The Bank team had a nine run first inning and went on to overwhelm the Feed Yard team.

The Friona State Bank team boosted their record to 4-1 as they took a 9-5 Monday night win over Reeve Chevrolet. The Bank again got off to a good start when they sent four runs across the plate in the first inning of play. Anthony Brady was the winning pitcher for the Bank.

Tuesday night's play saw Friona Feed Yard slip by the Friona Star 9-8, behind the strong pitching of Jamie Pena and Mark Tucker. Jeff Landrum stammed out three hits for Feed Yard while Mark Neill came up with two hits for the Star.

T-Ball play continued on June 4, with Piggly Wiggly meeting Tasty Cream. The Tasty Creamers started off well, scoring five quick runs, but were unable to keep up with Piggly Wiggly's balanced scoring. Frankie Perez scored five runs for Piggly Wiggly while his teammates Brad Moyer and J.V. Arias scored four and three runs respectively.

The score ended up being 25-9, and the win made Piggly Wiggly 3-0 for the season.

The game on June 8 between Tasty Cream and Credit Union was a real close contest in which the Credit Union squeezed by their opponents 19-18, using 24 hits to secure the win. Bruce Fleming, Danny Perez, Victor Granado, and Alan Faulkner had four hits apiece for the Credit Union team.

SENIOR LEAGUE

Bovina moved into first place in the Senior League after their two wins over Cattle Town last week. In last Thursday night's game, Bovina won by a 9-6 margin, pitching Ronnie Cary throughout the contest. Cattle Town's Leslie White pitched a fine game and picked up two hits also before Bovina had their big seventh inning during which they scored seven runs. Chris Barnett also slammed out several hits for Cattle Town.

The Pioneer Cattle Order Buyers met Cattle Town Monday night, and Cattle Town took an 11-7 win behind the pitching of Mike Hutson, who picked up the win by holding Pioneer batters to just seven hits. Martin Mercado, Chris Barnett, Kyle Barnett, and Phillip Veazey had hits for the winning team.

This past Tuesday evening the team from Bovina slipped by Bengier 2-1 to remain at the top of the standings. Ron Cary of Bovina held Bengier batters to just two hits, those coming from Jimmy Lambert and David Bermea.

The June 4 game between Bengier Air Park and Pioneer Cattle Order Buyers was cancelled because of rain. It will be replayed on Saturday, June 12.

Summer Track Underway

"Catch us if you can" could be the theme of Friona's summer track program now under way. Anyone ten years old through 18 is invited to participate.

The program will try to participate in at least three different A.A.U. meets this summer. The meets will be in Hereford, June 26, Amarillo, July 1 and Borger July 10. The Borger meet will be a Regional Qualification Meet and the winners will travel on to Pasadena, Texas.

The team will also plan to attend a meet in Lubbock. Practice sessions are Monday, Tuesday and Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Friona High School track under the experienced guidance of Danny Murphree.

Murphree, a Friona High School graduate, is well qualified for the coaching job. He attended Wayland Baptist College on a track scholarship and still holds several school records.

There have been 19 boys and girls out for the program, but there is still room for more, Murphree says.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting Danny Murphree, Bob Owen, Ted Giddens or Dr. Alexander.

IN YOU GO... Captured by the Star camera as he made his way off the slide at the Friona Dive-In Swimming Pool is Mark Bavousett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bavousett of Friona. Swimming lessons for area kids began on Monday, June 7 and will conclude on June 25. The lessons are being conducted by Phillip Duggins and Pam Veazey.

Six Pack Stand 8-3

The Friona Six Packs have moved into the second half of their season with a very decent record. They have won three of their last five games to bring their seasons total to eight wins and three losses.

Scores of the last five games are as follows: Six Packs 4-Hereford Rancheros 13, Six Packs 6-Dimmitt A's 8, Six Packs 17-Tulia Pirates 2, Six Packs 15-Muleshoe Royales 11 and Six Packs 6-Muleshoe Tigers 4.

Book Details Texas And The Revolution

Texans, who aren't exactly shy when it comes to bragging about their state, think it's time the rest of the country learned that Texas helped America win its independence.

So what if Texas wasn't one of the original 13 colonies. Forget the fact that, in 1776, this minor province of Spain was separated by more than 1,500 miles from Concord and Bunker Hill. The future heroes of the Alamo (most of whom hadn't yet been born) didn't actually march with General Washington's rebels, but they supported his cause.

And Texas still claims that it had a role in the American Revolution. To prove it, the prestigious Institute of Texan Cultures here put its research staff to work on a special Bicentennial project.

The result is a book, appropriately entitled "Texas and the American Revolution," which has become a minor best seller only weeks after its publication. And the Institute's gallery exhibit, with the same title, has been attracting several hundred visitors daily.

Now some historians, who have routinely ignored any contribution Texans may have made to American independence, are taking a second look.

There were only 3,000 Texans in 1776 but nearly all of them disliked the British. Only a third of the citizenry was Spanish (the rest were Indians and people of mixed blood), but they shared a smoldering resentment of the Spanish throne for Britain.

One who had a personal grudge against England was the commander of the Spanish troops protecting the Texas frontier. He was Hugo O'Connor, a fiery tempered Irishman who grew up a revolutionary and was driven from Ireland by the English. He joined the Spanish army and, in 1763, shipped out to the New World.

He changed the spelling of his name to Oconor, gave it a Spanish pronunciation and settled down to leading Spanish forces against the Indians. If the British Army hadn't been defeated by the colonists, Oconor and his men were ready to meet them on the Texas frontier.

That didn't happen, of course, and no resident of Texas in 1776 ever fired a shot in the American Revolution. But Oconor and others watched the activity in the colonies closely—and used the same strategy later when Texas declared its independence from Mexico.

Many of those who did fight at Lexington and Concord must have recognized Texas as the land of the future. In 1821, when Texas was finally opened to U.S. immigration, many veterans of the American Revolution headed this way. At least 46 men who fought under Washington have been identified by Institute of Texan Cultures research as eventually coming to Texas. There probably were many more.

These newcomers, with their experience with independent self-government, literally "brought revolution in their hip pockets," as the Institute's book points out. One, an ancient Caddo Indian named "Bead Eye," claimed to have commanded a company under Washington and to have watched Cornwallis surrender at Yorktown.

The story of "Bead Eye" and the others are told in the Institute's 72-page book, "Texas and the American Revolution" ($4.15, including sales tax and postage, when ordered directly from the Institute of Texan Cultures, P.O. Box 1226, San Antonio, Texas 78294).

SCS Report

Not all teachers know all the services that are available to them through the local Soil Conservation District and Soil Conservation Service. Mrs. Bill Boling, sixth grade teacher at Farwell, does. Mrs. Boling attended the conservation workshop at West Texas last summer and became aware of what is available locally. Since that time, she has been working with the local Soil Conservation Service in her conservation and environmental studies.

Recently, she asked Herb Evans of the SCS if there was any practical method to give her students a first hand experience with the value of soil and water conservation.

The mutual conclusion was that a conservation tour would be just what the doctor ordered.

Mrs. Boling arranged for a time and the transportation. The SCS provided the tour route and the tour guides.

Friday the 21st was the big day. About sixty sixth graders, room mothers, and Mrs. Boling made the tour.

The tour included conservation practices such as grass seeding, grassed waterways and parallel terraces. Also, included were center pivot irrigation sprinklers, land leveling jobs, and the floodwater retarding dam at Bovina.

The tour concluded with a picnic and a visit to radio station KZOL in Farwell.

The hottest planet in our solar system appears to be Venus. A space probe discovered a surface temperature there of 885°F.

Library Report

"The Powers of Evil" by Richard Cavendish is available at the Friona Public Library.

"The Powers of Evil" is a survey of the supernatural agencies that throughout the ages have been thought to menace and prey on mankind.

They include the devil and the demons of Judeo-Christian traditions, the malevolent gods and spirits of paganism, ghosts, witches, vampires, nightmares, powers of the underworld and hell, giants and dragons and many other sinister creatures that have captured the human mind, as well as the two great evil and inescapable mechanisms of death and fate.

Man has used these powers to explain accidents, disasters and ill luck and has connected them with darkness, disease, dirt, sex, frightening atmospheres and all error and wrong. They have been sensed inside the human mind itself in cases of madness, hysteria, epilepsy and obsession and have been feared, propitiated and worshipped.

The book concentrates on popular and widespread concepts rather than on the philosophy or theology of evil. It is far more concerned with what people believe and the causes of their beliefs than in debating the validity of the forces. A study of these powers may or may not reveal the world outside us, but illuminates many facets of ourselves.

JOEL OSBORN

Joel Osborn Earns Medical Degree

Medical Degree

The University of Texas Medical Branch bestowed the degree of doctor of medicine on 186 future young physicians at the 86th Annual Commencement Exercises, Sunday, May 30, at the Moody Civic Center.

This year, there were 157 fourth year students and 29 third year students, who have chosen to enter their residency training one year earlier.

Ninth in the nation by medical student enrollment and a leader in the field of medical education, the UTMB School of Medicine has increased its enrollment within recent years and adopted a new curriculum. Through the Medical School's new educational pattern, the basic sciences are being related to clinical medicine during the freshman year. Students now learn about patient care much earlier.

Joel Osborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Osborn of Friona, received a medical degree. He graduated from Friona High School in 1969 and earned a B.A. degree in 1972 from North Texas State University. Osborn was a member of AKK Fraternity and Mu Delta Honorary Medical Service Society.

UTMB medical students pursue four 15-week periods of basic science material and 48 weeks of clinical science material. During the clinical science training, they learn about the operation of hospitals by rotating through various services. Depending upon faculty evaluation, students have a choice of graduating in three years or entering a 48-week fourth-year track program where they learn about patient care in a medical specialty.

Commencement exercises this year featured guest speaker Dr. Eugene A. Stead Jr., professor of medicine at Duke University, who spoke on "Healers of Other Faiths." UTMB's President Dr. William C. Levin presided over the ceremony. The honorary medical professional oath, the Physician's Oath, will be given by Dr. Truman G. Blocker Jr., UTMB President Emeritus.

Increase corn grain yields up to 10% with SPARK.™

Your Helena dealer has an exciting new way to help you increase corn yields up to 10% with SPARK GROWTH STIMULANT for corn, a combination of dinoseb plus surfactant, used as an over-all post-emergence spray on corn has the UNIVERSITY PROVEN POTENTIAL OF INCREASING GRAIN PRODUCTION BY 5 - 10%. Here is how SPARK helps promote bigger yields: -Enhances corn growth -Silks emerge about 2 days sooner -Tassels emerge about 2 days sooner. This tendency to get away from corn that does not fill all the way out to the end. Enhanced growth, longer pollination, fewer barren stalks, more complete ear-filling. They all add up to big potential production increases and profit.

Indiana. "We returned $19 per acre on a $5 investment, at least a 7-bushel increase. SPARK could mean the difference between a new piece of machinery this year and next year. I'll spray ALL my corn in 1976." Otto Werner, Hanna, Indiana. TIMING... IT'S ESSENTIAL. The most important factor in SPARK application is timing. Look to apply SPARK when corn is in the 6-leaf stage, about 2-4 weeks before tassel emergence when corn is about knee-high. Get into the field, split some stalks, and find the unemerged tassel in length. The best time to apply is when the unemerged tassel elongates from 1/2" to about 7/8" in length. SPARK, PRODUCED WITH THE HELENA GUARANTEE OF QUALITY.

AND PROVEN IN THE FIELD. Farmers who have tried SPARK say: "I'll never plant another acre without SPARK." Ralph Russell-Michigan. "I got 8 bushels per acre increase, didn't have as many barren stalks, ears were filled out better." Everett Curtner, farmer and bank president, Union City, consistency and produced under the most careful quality control. When you buy SPARK, you buy the best. Ask your Helena dealer about SPARK, the corn growth stimulant that is leading the way to bigger yields and bigger profits for you.

For more information contact Helena Chemical Company, South 385 Hereford, Texas, Phone 364-3733. SPARK has been registered for use in Texas, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma.

With Your News Item

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Blosser of Balco, Oklahoma were weekend visitors in the home of Calvin and Ann Martin. The Blossers and Martins got acquainted on a tour, which took them to Alaska and Hawaii, a year or two ago.

The Blossers nor Mrs. Martin had ever seen Triticale growing until this past weekend when they were out driving around the countryside.

Susan and Barry Isaacs of Colorado Springs are guests in the home of their maternal grandparents, Frank and Ethel Ruth Spring.

They are the children of Jim and Mary Tom Isaacs.

David and Julie Reeve of Corpus Christi spent a few days with his mother, Fay, last week. They also visited in the home of Floyd and Betty Reeve and daughters, Debbie, Dena and Becky.

Carol, the other member of the Fay Reeve family, is in Dallas preparing herself to become a physical therapist.

Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Zetsche, who live out on Austin Street, observed their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday afternoon with a family party in the home of George and Frances Zetsche, who live north of town in Deaf Smith County.

Their other Friona children are Robert, Carol, Bobby and Robin Zetsche, who live over on Cedar Avenue.

The "tennis for homemakers" fad hasn't missed Friona. Many young women in our vicinity are learning the game. Mickey Griffin, Alton Peak and maybe another instructor or two are teaching classes since the close of school.

David McFarland, a medical student at Southwestern in Dallas has also been home for a break. He visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.G. McFarland, and other relatives and friends.

Wonder if anyone has made a count of the number of fryers being produced in Parmer County. Had I started one, I would have expected to come up with the count of zero.

Things have surely changed in that department. Had you lived on a farm twenty five years ago, growing chickens for the table and dressing them for the freezer would have been the expected thing.

Not so any more. With massed produced poultry the price is, the cost of baby chicks and feed so high, and the time and attention required to grow them, I really thought that phase of our life was in the past.

However, on at least two farms in the Friona area, 1976 was a good year for growing fryers. About the first of April Doyce and Mary Joyce Barnett and Lloyd and Betty Louise Rector purchase White Cornish baby chicks from a hatchery in Portales.

They had good luck with them and now most of them have been eaten or frozen. How long has it been since you ate a freshly killed, dressed and fried chicken? Most of us probably can't remember that far back.

According to Granny Renner's report, "They surely do taste good." She also added, "Very few young homemakers would know what to do with a live chicken if someone gave them one."

Incidentally, Granny Renner is making satisfactory recovery from an injured right hand. When I first heard about the accident, I thought I wasn't hearing right.

Later, I learned that she really had started out to help Mary Joyce dress chickens for the freezer when she fell inside her home.

At the time, her main concern was getting out of the hospital in time to attend the 1976 graduation ceremonies. Two of her grandsons, David Barnett and Robin Renner, were members of the class and she just had to see them graduate.

She made it to the exercises, but has been confined to her home most of the time since.

Then, too, Cotton, Kay, Robin and Darcy have moved to Jal, New Mexico recently. Cotton is the golf pro down there.

Mrs. Mabel DeLong of Mesa, Arizona, is in Friona. Her daughter, Dorothy Harrelson, and one of her sons, flew out to Mesa and drove home with Mrs. DeLong.

She lived her several years, but following the death of her husband, she moved to Arizona.

She says, "I like the Arizona weather in the winter, but prefer Friona's weather in the summer."

In the very near future Frionans will be able to purchase chances on a beautiful king size quilt with a Bi-Centennial theme in red, white and blue.

The white blocks have autographs of a large number of Parmer County residents embroidered in red and Bi-Centennial motifs. Then, the white blocks were stripped together with blue strips and with red and white dots.

Several Girl Scout leaders and others interested quilted the quilt at Girl Scout House last week.

Had there been medals for "the most improved quilters," they surely would have gone to Marca Lynn Herring and Ada Beth Smith.

Neither of these two young homemakers had ever quilted before, but they were very enthusiastic about learning and I'm guessing this will not be their last quilting project.

Two Friona mothers and grandmothers had some very anxious moments following the break of the dam on the Snake River in Idaho recently.

Mrs. L.D. Pope and Mrs. Ella Dukes, mothers of Fred and Nell Duke, became more worried with each report that the water was on its way to Idaho Falls, but were unable to contact Fred and Nell.

Finally, they were able to contact one of their near neighbors and learned that no one was at home and that their home had not been damaged.

At the time, Fred and Nell and the boys, Leslie, Robert and Kenneth were in Colorado Springs visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Dukes and family.

Later they came on to Friona and are now visiting relatives and friends for the first time in several years.

Their daughter, Frieda, who lived here awhile and checked groceries at Houser Foods, is presently living in Massachusetts.

Smith and Lavern Pope of Amarillo are here, too. They are also children of Mrs. Pope and Mrs. Dukes.

The 1976 Powell and Cook Reunion was held Saturday and Sunday, June 5 and 6 at the Federated Club House.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cook of Gruver; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Don Powell and family, Melvin Hall, all of Friona; Mr. and Mrs. Olen Cook of Claude; Mr. and Mrs. Joel Murry and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powell, all of Dumas; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Urem of Pleasantville, Iowa.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mincher and boys of Summerfield; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Favor and daughter of Hale Center; Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Mancher of Dimmitt; Mr. and Mrs. Connie Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Powell, all of Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Sedwich of Roaring Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sedwich and son of Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Suzie McGee and children of Pampa; and Mr. and

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Blair of Euless, Texas, were here for the graduation of their grandson, Robert W. Zetsche.

On Thursday night, they attended the graduation of their granddaughter, Dianne Dodd, in Texas Stadium. The couple left Sunday morning.

DEMOCRATIC RUNOFF RESULTS

Buske Attends State Convention

B.K. Buske and others from the real estate profession are making San Antonio their headquarters June 9-12 for the Bicentennial convention of the Texas Association of Realtors. Texas Realtors are especially interested in talks by Senator Lloyd Bentsen (D-Texas) and Phil Smaby Saturday, June 12. Bentsen will be speaking at 2 p.m. in San Antonio's convention center; we expect him to give us some specific insights relating to Congressional intent in the months ahead as far as the housing industry is concerned. Smaby is the president of the National Association of Realtors. He will address the general session Saturday morning and has just returned from two very important housing sessions, one in San Francisco and the other in Vancouver, Canada. Smaby participated in a United Nations housing meeting in Canada and just a few days ago in the 27th World Congress of the International Real Estate Federation," Buske said. Among the realtors who are involved in particular sessions in San Antonio is B.K. Buske.
