

Constitution For Congo Is Up To Tshombe

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Diplomats and U.N. officials awaited today President Moise Tshombe's reaction to the draft of a new federal constitution that would reunite his Katanga Province with the Congo.

The proposed charter would give the Congo's provinces more autonomy, but would sharply limit their police and tax powers. Foreign affairs and defense also would be reserved for the central government.

Tshombe was absent when the document, a key part of the plan of Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant for Congo unity, was presented to 16 Congo provincial presidents in Leopoldville Tuesday by Congolese Premier Cyrille Adoula.

The leader of mineral-rich Katanga was reported traveling from his capital of Elisabethville to open a rail bridge over the Lublasi River on the Katanga-Kasai border which was blown up during fighting last year. The bridge links Katanga once more with the rest of the Congo.

Adoula unveiled the constitution on the same day that a mixed Katangan and central-government signed a cease-fire between the Congo national army and the Katangan gendarmerie, ending a year-old war in northern Katanga.

The United States and Britain welcomed the agreement as a step toward unity. U.N. sources close to Thant called it an encouraging sign but warned against giving it too much weight yet.

The draft grants each province half of the mining royalties and export taxes on products from the province. Katanga is the principal source of mining wealth in the Congo.

'Modest' Demonstration

Sue Johnson, left, demonstrates the length of the skirt which she and Linda Adamson, right, will be willing to wear in Lubbock public schools. The girls were suspended from school when their parents refused to allow them to wear regulation sleeveless blouses and Jamaica shorts to gym classes and to participate in "immodest exercises."

Republicans Attack JFK Over Situation With Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Republican congressional leaders have attacked the Kennedy administration for "tragic irresolution" in handling the Cuba situation, declaring it to be the dominant issue in congressional elections.

The three are Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the national party chairman, and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Rep. Bob Wilson of California, the chairmen of the Senate and House campaign committees.

They said in a statement Tuesday: "If we were asked to state the issue (in the Nov. 6 election) in one word that word would be Cuba—symbol of the tragic irresolution of the administration."

John M. Bailey, national chairman of the Democrats, shot back a reply in which he accused the Republicans of "lack of memory" and failure to put forth any alternatives to administration policies.

He said communism took over in Cuba in 1958 during the Eisenhower administration and added: "It ill behooves them now to criticize the firm measures taken by the President to improve a situation they themselves permitted to occur."

The three Republicans' statement said the Kennedy administration has shown "little evidence of willingness to recognize the developing danger and to move resolutely to cope with it."

The statement said, "The administration now mouths soothing assurances that the Soviet troops (in Cuba) are only technicians, that their arms are only defensive rather than military purposes, that their 'fishing base' is being established for economic, rather than military purposes, that Guantanamo and Canaveral are not in danger, and that Castro is being isolated."

The Republicans said they did not regard "sarcastic references to 'self-appointed generals' and admirals' or other unlicensed disparagement of the Eisenhower foreign policy as constituting forthright discussion."

This was in reference to President Kennedy's campaign speech in Indianapolis last Saturday night when he accused Sen. Homer Capehart, R-Ind., of indulging in "rash and irresponsible talk" for suggesting an invasion of Cuba.

Kennedy referred to Capehart as one of "those self-appointed generals and admirals who want to send someone else's son to war and who consistently voted against the instruments of peace."

Kennedy, Gromyko Plan Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will meet at the White House Thursday. In announcing this, the White House gave no clues as to specific matters that might come up for discussion. The continuing crisis in Berlin is an obvious point for consideration, among other matters.

Tongans Describe Survival Ordeal

SUVA, Fiji Islands (AP)—Shipwrecked for 11 weeks on a South Sea reef, 12 Tonga islanders defied death and the sea by living on water distilled from the ocean and by catching fish and crabs.

And when a New Zealand Air Force flying boat came out of the night Monday and dropped flares, it was as if everything in their weak, dehydrated bodies came alive again, a survivor said today.

The story of survival came from Veetuo Pahulu and Fine Feuaki, two of the Tongans who lived through the ordeal that took the lives of five of the 12 men.

The Tongans set out in a yacht last summer from Tongatapu to Ata Island, in the Tonga Islands east of the Rijis.

Storm winds blew them far off course. On July 7 the wind bore them down on Minerva Reef, 300 miles west of Ata and well off the shipping lanes.

"The yacht broke up quickly," said Feuaki, "and we were on the open reef all night. It was like a dream when light came and we saw not far away the Japanese wreck."

The wreckage was that of a Japanese fishing vessel. There was but a single match among the 17 Tongans. With it they started a fire from wreckage to serve as beacon and cookstove.

Through the 11 weeks someone always was on watch to see that the fire did not go out.

"We took our food from our wrecked boat and lived on that for 17 days," said Feuaki. "Then we had to catch fish and crabs." They also had aluminum pots. Sea water was put in one aluminum pot with a lid and the pot placed over the fire.

Steam from the pot passed through a rubber tube and condensed in the other kettle. This produced two pints of precious water a day—a small cup for each man.

"After 24 days Fatal Efeasi died and was buried in the sand on the reef. Then later that day Sione Sikemeti and Sione Lose died," Feuaki said.

The men decided to build a raft from the wrecked fishing boat. Capt. Tevita said he would try to reach the Fijis for help.

"We had only a hammer and no saw," Feuaki related, "and had to cut timber with a nail."

By this time, a fourth man had died. The captain and two volunteers boarded the raft and set

Cuban Fliers Just After 'Medicine'

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A Cuban plane landed in Merida over the weekend for the sole purpose of buying medicine to take to Cuba, the newspaper Ultimas Noticias reported today.

Crewmen went into town to buy medicine and took off on the return trip to Havana three hours later, the newspaper said. How much medicine they obtained was not reported.

OBJECTIONS CONSIDERED

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher
Church of Christ, 2000 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1383

In objecting to Communion on the first day of each week, the letter continues:

"Mechanical observance could be as bad or even worse than neglect." Paul's statement in 1 Cor. 11:25 does not say or even hint that the Lord's Supper must be observed every Sunday. Christ did not specify any number of times for it to be observed (Luke 22:19).

In Luke 22:19 Christ did not specify the time for the Communion; but what the Spirit revealed to the apostles was also the teaching of Christ. (1 Jn. 16:13, 14; 1 Cor. 14:37). Acts 20:7 is a part of the Bible, and it shows that the practice of the early church was Communion upon a weekly occasion, called "the first day of the week." (See last article).

To accuse people of observing the Communion mechanically because they do so regularly each week, is to accuse the apostles and the early church of mechanical worship. Why should the Communion become mechanical through frequent observance, but the prayers and songs not be so affected?

The cry of "mechanical observance" is a weak excuse for neglect. (1 Cor. 14:37). Acts 20:7 is a part of the Bible, and it shows that the practice of the early church was out for Kandavu, most southerly of the Fiji Islands, 350 miles away. The three had no food and only four cups of water. One volunteer died on the way. Weak and exhausted, the captain and the other islander arrived Monday at Kandavu, and gasped out their story. The flying boat went to Minerva Reef, took the 10 bearded men aboard, and brought them to Suva.

Cooler Air Covers State

By The Associated Press
Slightly cooler air enveloped all of Texas but the southern tip and occasional showers dotted western and north central sections of the state Wednesday.

A cool front bringing the rain had pushed its leading edge as far south as a line from the upper Texas coast to a point near Del Rio on the Mexican border.

The norther's collision with unseasonable warmth set off brisk thunderstorms during the night in several areas.

A squall line moved through Houston, turning loose more than an inch of rain in 30 minutes and causing power failures in several neighborhoods. Weather observers said the blinding down-pour, and not the cool front, could take credit for a 13-degree temperature drop within an hour.

Forecasts called for scattered light rain or showers in all parts of the state through Thursday.

Vibration Study

The stethoscope, a relatively inexpensive piece of equipment, has joined the sophisticated instruments being used by Texas Tech's mechanical engineering department in Lubbock, during experiments in metal fatiguing vibrations. L. J. Powers, department head, is shown using the stethoscope during a recent test to locate the point of stress in the thin wall tubing being tested.

Murder Charge Dropped Against Earl Don Green

Earl Don Green, 23-year-old Negro, has been cleared of any part in the bludgeon murder Aug. 26 of Stanley Williams, elderly retired farmer.

Gil Jones, district attorney, ordered the release of Green from custody Tuesday afternoon and dismissed the charge of murder with malice which had been filed against him Oct. 5.

"We are right back where we were on the night Mr. Williams was attacked," observed the district attorney. "There's nothing to do now but start over again and see if we can find something which will lead us to the slayer."

Jones said that Green had cooperated in every effort the investigators had made to connect him with the case.

"He volunteered to take polygraph tests," Jones said. "Early Tuesday he volunteered to submit to truth serum."

In all the tests, Jones said the Negro was cleared—the prosecutor said that he is now convinced that Green had no connection at all with the slaying of Williams.

Mr. Williams, 90-years old, was so severely beaten by his assailant that he died a few days after the attack Aug. 26. The assault occurred in the Williams' residence at 517 N. Benton. Mrs. Williams was also beaten but not as severely as her husband and she has recovered.

Green, who admitted to officers that he was in Big Spring on the night of the attack, was located in Colorado and voluntarily returned to Texas with local officers.

Jones admitted Tuesday the investigation has reached an impasse. All that can be done, he said, is retrace all earlier leads and hope for a break.

Other Tongues Than Latin Major Topic For Council

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The use of modern languages instead of Latin in the Mass is one of the major topics the 2,700 Roman Catholic prelates of the Vatican Ecumenical Council will discuss in daily sessions that start next week.

The question of the language of the Mass is one that has repercussions throughout the world particularly in the church's missionary efforts.

Many missionary bishops attending the council favor Mass in the vernacular of the people.

Such missionaries argue, for example, that while a Mass in Latin might be incomprehensible to a former headhunter in New Guinea he could find it full of meaning if it were said in his native Papiam dialect.

Traditionalists consider Latin a factor for unity that stands above differences of nationality and local language, a cement that has helped hold the church together for 20 centuries.

Neither view is expected to prevail at the council. Church spokesmen in liturgy express the view that the best advantages of each—Latin and local languages—may eventually be combined.

Arcadio Cardinal Larraona, whom Pope John XXIII has picked to head the council's commission on liturgy, predicted last June that local languages eventually would replace Latin in the first third of the Mass.

No council session was scheduled today as tabulation continued of votes cast by the 2,700 prelates for members of the council's 10 drafting commissions.

The council fathers voted Tuesday for 16 members of each of the 10 commissions, and all of the prelates attending the council were eligible for election. Results of the voting were not expected until Saturday.

Negroes Gain

Kidneys From Dead Give Living New Hope

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Kidneys taken from the dead are giving a few humans a welcome new lease on life.

In Boston today, a young man of about 30 is living on a kidney borrowed from a man who died 6½ months ago.

He is one of 13 persons who received kidneys from the dead during the last decade, thereby winning up to at least half a year more of life.

Another 82 men and women have received kidneys from living donors. One, getting a kidney from his identical twin brother, is perfectly healthy eight years later. That was expected to succeed.

Since few of us have identical twins, the more spectacular news is that two men have lived—one for two years, and two for about a year—on gifts of kidneys from relatives or friends or fraternal no-look-alike twins.

Except among identical twins, spare kidneys, whether from the living or dead, have usually lasted only a few weeks or months. The reason is, the borrowed organ is "foreign" tissue and is destroyed by antibodies such as any person produces protective antibodies to destroy invading germs or viruses.

Indicted Congressmen Certain Of Vindication

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two congressmen, indicted by a federal grand jury on conspiracy and conflict-of-interest charges have expressed assurance they will be vindicated.

Reps. Thomas F. Johnson, D-Md., and Frank W. Boykin, D-Ala., said they were shocked at the indictments handed down Tuesday, and expressed their desire for a speedy trial.

The jury charged they received compensation for trying to persuade the Department of Justice to postpone the mail fraud trial of J. Kenneth Edlin, 64, of Miami, Fla., and attempting ultimately to have the charges dropped.

Edlin pleaded no contest to the charges, made in connection with the operation of the First Colony Savings and Loan Association in Maryland, and was sentenced last April to six months in jail. He also was fined $8,000. Edlin was released last Wednesday from federal prison.

Johnson issued a statement Tuesday night.

"I was deeply shocked and amazed by the charges made against me and I am positive that I will be completely vindicated," he said.

"I believe every fair-minded person will certainly regard it as a strange coincidence that such baseless charges should be brought immediately upon the adjournment of Congress and just three weeks before election."

In the November election Johnson faces Rogers C. B. Morton, a Republican and the brother of Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky. Morton refused comment on the indictments, though other members of the Maryland Republican ticket jumped on Johnson with gusto.

Boykin, 77, also indicated he wants a quick trial, and expressed confidence he will be vindicated. He failed to win the Democratic nomination May 29 after 14 terms in the House.

"I'm anxious for the trial to come real quick," he said. "I have never had a nickel's worth of business with the savings and loans in my life."

Pastures Are In Good Shape

STANTON (SC)—With the results of September rainfall, ranchers report pastures in good general shape for the winter. Mesquite control has helped stockmen realize greater benefits from the rainfall. On some ranches the outlook is unusually bright.

One of these is Dr. K. F. Campbell's ranch in the northwest part of the county. He signed a 10-year Great Plains contract with the Soil Conservation Service in 1958. Today the ranch is nearing the point where nearly every acre of native grass can be rested. Lehman's love grass was seeded on 101 acres in July and watered with a self-propelled sprinkler irrigation system. There is a 96-acre field of sorghum alnum and small grains.

On the Brunson Ranch, south of Stanton, heavy rain in July washed out a cotton crop, but 340 acres were replanted in forage alum. Two trench silos, each 350 feet long and 12 feet deep, have been dug to hold an estimated 4,000 tons of ensilage now being cut. Connie Mac Hood, Stanton, estimated when the operation is complete there will be enough feed for 300 cattle for two years. "It's a sort of insurance against dry times," he said. The Brunson ranch also has been sprayed for mesquite control.

Late moisture not only restored pastures, but gave a nudge to cotton and grain production.

DEAR ABBY

We've Made Progress—

DEAR ABBY: In regard to men wearing wedding rings, may I comment on the double-ring ceremony, which I know you will not print because it disagrees with your "marriage is a 50-50 proposition" philosophy?

The whole business of men wearing wedding rings is silly and has no historical justification whatever.

The wedding ring is the symbol of bondage of females in marriage. It is the last relic of the collar and shackles, with which captive and purchased brides were (and still are in some parts of the world) bound by their male masters.

Let me quote from an old German wedding prayer book, (1888): "The wedding ring is for the bride only, and is a symbol of her bondage, subjection to, and obedience to her master; a sign that she is now no longer free and independent, but that she is bound and chained under the mastery of her husband."

Yours truly,
T. C. E.

DEAR T. C. E.: Thank you for reminding us how much progress civilization has made since 1888.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been showing up late from work half drunk every night. Do you know why?

ELLEN

DEAR ELLEN: He probably ran out of money.

DEAR ABBY: I can't forget "HARRY," who preferred his mule to his wife because the mule brought in $635 a year. Harry asked, "What does the wife bring in?"

Sometimes, even as his own mother did, she brings into the world a son. So far, neither man nor mule has been able to do that. If a man paid by the hour (union wages, plus tips) for all the services rendered by the average wife, he would consider himself lucky to have a combination cook, baker, laundress, cleaning-woman, seamstress, governess, chauffeur, nurse, plumber, painter, gardener, referee, tutor, book-keeper and financial wizard—and one who performs duties for which some lesser women are paid in diamonds and mink. The National Association of Claimants' Counsel reports that the cost of replacing a 25-year-old mother of two is $6000 per year. Harry had better get a little more work out of that mule.

KENTUCKIAN

DEAR ABBY: Like "stealing" a base in baseball, cheating at Mah Jongg is perfectly legitimate. If you are CAUGHT taking an extra tile, it must be returned. If you can get away with it—it's all in the game.

Kennedy Signs Incentive Tax Revision Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has signed into law a tax revision bill that carries a $1-billion incentive to businesses that modernize.

The bill, Kennedy said in a statement accompanying Tuesday's signing, "makes a good start on bringing our tax structure up to date and provides a favorable context for the over-all tax reform program I intend to propose to the next Congress."

Meanwhile, he said, the bill "will stimulate the economy and provide a greater measure of fairness in our tax system."

Although Congress turned down the President's proposal for setting up a system of withholding taxes on interest and dividend income, Kennedy said the requirements established for reporting such income and interest would help improve compliance with tax laws.

The Treasury estimates it is now losing about $1 billion a year in revenue because taxpayers fail to report all the dividends and interest they receive.

Corporations now will be required to report to the Treasury and to the recipient all dividend payments totaling more than $10 a year. Savings institutions will have to do the same for interest payments.

The provision for an investment tax credit and newly revised guidelines for depreciation of assets, Kennedy said, "will provide added stimulus to investment in machinery and equipment and give American firms tax treatment which compares favorably with their competitors in world markets."

The investment credit of up to 7 per cent on purchases of machinery and equipment is the major revenue law change Kennedy asked when he submitted the bill to Congress in April 1961.

The revenue estimates of the bill are in considerable dispute. The Treasury figures that when all provisions are effective the annual revenue loss will be $170 million. Congressional staff experts place it at $445 million.

The investment credit takes effect as of last Jan. 1. Most of the other provisions will be effective at the start of next year.

The State Fair show featured more than 1,000 show horses, Shetland ponies, western and Arabian horses.

Mrs. Hobby Tells Of News Importance

Galveston (AP) — Oveta Culp Hobby said today the great mechanism of news communication is essential to the government of free men.

"It is a guardian of our constitutional right to know what is going on, it is a servant of the public," said the president and editor of the Houston Post.

"But it must be a self-supporting guardian and servant. It cannot be financed by government or by any one private interest. It must continue to pay its own way for the privilege of guarding and serving."

Mrs. Hobby spoke at the Galveston Rotary Club's observance of National Newspaper Week. The former secretary of health, education and welfare was introduced by David C. Leavell, general manager of the Galveston News Tribune.

Mrs. Hobby said she is a publisher who believes newspapers of today are better partly because of the stimulus given by radio and television to go farther, to dig deeper, to develop more comprehensive coverage of all major news events of the modern world.

"The result is newspapers have changed more than you may have realized," she said.

She said the Houston Post now has an editorial staff of 125 men and women, compared to a night staff and city editorial staff of only six men in 1932.

"A newspaper can be no greater than the character and dedication of its people in all departments," she said.

"From reporters and editors through all the departments of typesetting and printing all the way through to the last newspaper boy throwing the time honored paper route, you see a wide variety of men and women, all with the common quality of character and dedication."

Mrs. Hobby paid tribute to the Galveston News while detailing the difficult conditions under which the Post was published last year when hurricane Carla struck Galveston and the Texas coast.

"If publication during hurricane Carla was not easy for us in Houston, each of you from your own experience can imagine how much greater were the difficulties and the dangers for the Galveston News," she said.

"But your News was published every day without fail. Newspapermen of Texas remember this achievement with pride and admiration."

Mrs. Hobby said American readers take it for granted they can count on their newspapers not only to arrive but to keep them informed on what is going on in the world.

"What is it America's newspapers can give and must give to our self-governing people which no other news media can supply?" she asked.

"A free man, who by his voice and vote influences his government, must know as much as possible about almost every aspect of modern living."

"Self government is an important responsibility."

"And in a democracy such as ours, the facts and events of each day—whether in city or state governments, in public health or outer space or the economics of international affairs—become the material which a citizen uses in his daily work of self government."

"For indeed news is the homework of a free man."

She said the controlled press of the totalitarian governments throws into clear relief the importance of a free press to a free, self governing people.

"A cog of the machine of state, the Russian or Chinese Communist, has no need to know—as any dictator would agree," she said.

"From reporters and editors through all the departments of typesetting and printing all the way through to the last newspaper boy throwing the time honored paper route, you see a wide variety of men and women, all with the common quality of character and dedication."

Walker Doctor To Ask Help For Mental Tests

DALLAS (AP) — Unless a federal judge decides otherwise, the psychiatrist directed to examine former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker will ask two fellow experts to help devise the sanity test.

Lawyers for the onetime Army field commander raised doubts over the next step in a new court move late Tuesday. They petitioned at Oxford, Miss., for cancellation of U. S. Dist. Judge Claude Clayton's order for the checkup.

Dr. R. L. Stubblefield, chief of psychiatry at Southwestern Medical School here, told newsmen about the same time he had requested two colleagues to confer privately with him tomorrow on what constituted a "reasonable psychiatric" examination. He did not disclose where they would meet.

Federal authorities charged Walker after his Oct. 1 arrest at Oxford with insurrection and conspiracy. The charges stemmed from integration riots at the University of Mississippi. Walker freed under $50,000 bond Oct. 6 from the U. S. Medical Center at Springfield, Mo. has said he is innocent.

Defense counsel contended in the latest move that the court order for a sanity test violates Walker's constitutional rights to post bail and be released, to be represented by a lawyer at all points in the case, to notice of proceedings against him and "to be present in person at the hearing wherein defendant's mental sanity and mental competency is questioned."

There was no indication when the federal court at Oxford might act on the petition.

Walker's lawyers contended the U. S. Attorney could call for a mental test only when he "can show reasonable ground for belief that a defendant may be presently insane or so mentally incompetent that he cannot understand the proceedings against him."

The defense likewise called on the court to remove from the record a telegram James V. Bennett, director of federal prisons, sent U. S. Atty. H. M. Ray in Oxford. The message dealt with a memo from the chief psychiatrist of the Federal Prison Bureau, Charles E. Smith.

Lawyers for Walker argued the telegram makes scurrilous claims about his mental capacity and "violates every known ethical and responsible standard of conduct."

Stubblefield said after conferring with the other psychiatrists, he would ask Judge Clayton to clarify the court's orders for the Walker examination.

Stubblefield said he conferred with Dr. Hardin Branch, president of the American Psychiatric Association from the University of Utah and with Prof. Charles Webster, Southern Methodist University law professor before making his decision to call in the other two psychiatrists.

The two doctors with whom he will meet were identified as Dr.

Andrew Watson, professor of psychiatry at the University of Michigan and Dr. Titus Harris, retiring professor of psychiatry at the University of Texas.

Walker's release was conditioned on an agreement to undergo psychiatric examination by two doctors.

Stubblefield was named as one of the examiners, and the federal government named Dr. Winfred Overholser, Washington, D. C. as the other.

Overholser's name was withdrawn after protesting Walker lawyers said he had a record of tending to seek commitments. It was then that Judge Clayton issued a second order listing only Stubblefield as the examining psychiatrist.

Stubblefield and Webster said the second order issued by Judge Clayton "was not plain."

Paving Work Moves Ahead

Curb and gutter have been laid on both sides of Brown Street between Third and Fourth in preparation for paving under the city's continuing assessment program. Curb and gutter are being installed on Birdwell Lane from Fifteenth Street south to Marcy Drive in the same program.

W. D. Caldwell, contractor, has most of the curb and gutter work done on Birdwell. The grading will be completed rapidly in order to keep the street open to traffic as much as possible during the operation.

Work has not started on San Jacinto and Austin between Third and Fourth but will begin as soon as the curb and gutter crews finish on Birdwell Lane.

If weather conditions continue favorable the contractor will be almost through with the first phase of paving by the time the public hearing is completed and bids called for on the second phase, which will include 26 blocks.

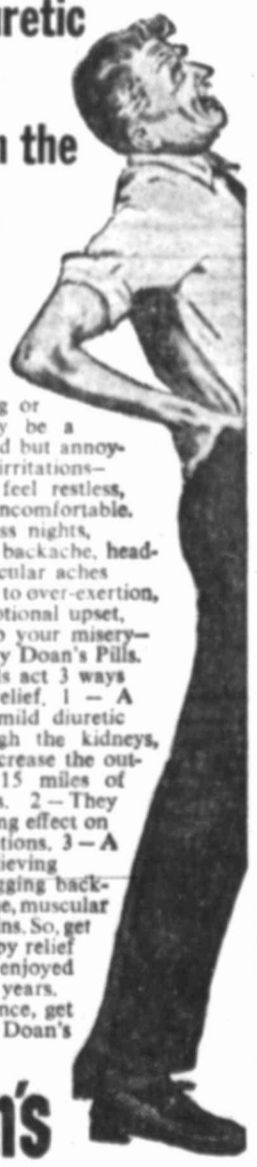

Virginia Street, which is to be included in the paving assessment program, will be held up until a water line, leading to the southeast part of town, is laid. The line is included in the bond program and the city commission held up the paving until the line is completed to prevent cutting the pavement.

Pleasure Boat Blast At Fair Injures 19

DALLAS (AP)—Nineteen persons were injured, one seriously, Tuesday night when a small paddlewheel pleasure boat exploded on a lagoon at the State Fair of Texas.

Doctors and nurses said most of the injuries were superficial. Several of the patients were children.

Police and fire rescue squads halted a search of the shallow lagoon about two hours after the accident, reporting all 23 persons aboard the small craft had been accounted for.

The boat was a scale model of the paddlewheelers seen on the Mississippi River in the years after the Civil War.

Dr. C. E. Glover, who with his wife and young daughter was among the injured, said the boat exploded about midship and quickly was afire.

"I didn't know how deep the water was," he said, "so I got my little girl in my arms and my wife by the hand and went to the edge of the boat to see how deep it was."

"I can't swim! I can't swim!" he quoted his wife as crying out. Glover said the water proved about chest deep and nearly everybody was able to walk ashore. By the time he reached shore, rescuers were going to the boat to help the injured.

Believed most seriously injured was Mrs. Ruth Heiderich, 70, of Corona, Calif. Hospital attendants said she suffered from shock and first degree burns. Her son and grandson, both Dallas residents, likewise were hurt.

The cause of the explosion had not been fully explained. City firemen said gasoline fumes from the boat's inboard engine apparently ignited.

Other injured, as listed by hospitals:

St. Paul Hospital — Richard Heiderich, 45, Dallas, and his son Rickie, 4; Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Glover, Dallas, and their daughter, Deborah, 5.

Baylor Hospital — Mrs. Mary Marconi, 22, Dallas, and her son Tony, 2; C. M. Gilisti, 38, Corsicana, his wife and their son, C. M. CHICAGO (AP)—Standard Oil Co. of Indiana declared a special stock dividend in addition to a regular quarterly cash dividend of 45 cents a share.

The company will pay one share of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey stock for each 115 shares of Indiana Standard owned.

Royalty Owners File Suit Over Salt Water Injection

LONGVIEW (AP)—A group of royalty owners filed a $340,760 damage suit Tuesday, claiming they were deprived of oil under their property because of underground salt water injections.

Some oilmen claim crude can be moved from under leases by injection of salt water, a process that maintains underground pressure in the fields and disposes of the water.

The petition filed in 124th District Court alleged the East Texas Salt Water Disposal Co. of Kilgore pumped water back underground and flushed the oil from beneath two Gregg County oil leases.

Twenty of 22 wells on the leases near Kilgore "were dried up by salt water and destroyed," the petition charged.

Plaintiffs are James Bivins and Tom Durham Bivins of Gregg County; John and Jessie Durham; Nix of McLennan County; Ramsey and Louise Durham Velington of Hays County; Ruth Latta Durham and Mary Durham of

U. S. Bureaucracy Produces A Hero

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal bureaucracy, butt of many a joke and gibe, can boast that in this year 1962 it produced an authentic heroine, a female knight in shining armor.

Frances Oldham Kelsey, M.D., Ph. D., doesn't look much like a knightess. She's a plain Jane in flat-heeled shoes, with no lipstick, and she has the seemingly unromantic job of physician and pharmacist for the Food and Drug Administration.

But, by now, most everybody knows how, in one of the most notable acts of female obstinacy in history, she blocked the marketing of the sedative thalidomide in this country.

When word came that this drug was being blamed for the deforming of thousands of babies born in Europe, President Kennedy hastened to hang a gold medal around Dr. Kelsey's neck. Other honors have showered on her.

The thalidomide incident put new strength into a drive for a stronger drug safety bill. The Senate hastily replaced some of the teeth that had been extracted from the bill and it breezed through Congress.

HONORED GUEST
 Dr. Kelsey was among the honored guests looking on when Kennedy signed the measure Oct. 10. Thus, Dr. Kelsey has taken her place on the roster of notable warriors for safe, effective drugs and wholesome food—a roster including such men as:

Upton Sinclair, Socialist uplifter who couldn't make much of a dent with his Socialist propaganda but did play a mighty role in the passage of a meat inspection act and the nation's first pure food and drug law, in 1906.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, an M.D. with an evangelical fervor for adulterated food. As chief chemist for the Agriculture Department (1883-1912) he conducted his fight by "poison squad" tactics and other means, and was the first administrator of the pure food law.

Samuel Hopkins Adams, freelance reporter and muckraker extraordinary. Nothing, not even attempted blackmail, could deter him from pursuing the quacks and nostrums of his day. His series "The Great American Fraud" began appearing in Collier's Oct. 7, 1905, and had great impact. It was accompanied by charming illustrations, such as a grinning skull with patent medicine bottles for teeth.

BAD MEAT
 In 1906 Sinclair published a novel "The Jungle." It was about the Chicago stockyards and was designed to forward socialism by enlisting sympathy for downtrodden stockyard workers. It didn't do that, but it did turn the stomach of America by its descriptions of the unwholesome conditions under which meat was being produced.

Dr. Wiley, in 1902, established what the newspapers immediately dubbed "the poison squad." It was composed of rugged young volunteers, mostly employes of the Agriculture Department. In a basement dining room in his bureau, he fed them food to which preservatives, coloring and other substances had been added.

The public interest was so intense that "my poison squad laboratory became the most highly advertised boarding-house in the world," Wiley wrote in his autobiography.

FLAT CONCLUSION
 Wiley's conclusion was flat: "Preservatives used in foods are harmful to health." Modern scientists would take some exceptions to this; some preservatives now are pronounced all right.

When Wiley became chief chemist of the Agriculture Department in 1883, he began with two or three laboratory assistants and a secretary. The Food and Drug Administration, now part of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has 2,684 employes today.

It is still a midget agency, as federal bureaus go, but it is not a midget in brainpower. On its rolls are physicians, physicists, pharmacists, veterinarians, pathologists, pharmacologists, bacteriologists, biologists, chemists, microscopists.

MOST HONEST
 George P. Larrick, FDA commissioner, emphasizes that the great majority of food, drug and cosmetic makers are honest. (No one alleges any fraud on the part of the men who tried to market thalidomide; they had imperfect knowledge of the possible side effects.)

New 'Copters Pour Deadly Fire Onto Reds

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Four U.S. Army escort helicopters poured rocket and machinegun fire into a concentration of Communist guerrillas Tuesday, apparently with deadly effect.

The helicopters, recently sent from the United States, are designed to help neutralize the increasing Viet Cong guerrilla ground fire that has downed at least two planes in two days with the loss of three Americans.

The four heavily armed HU1 helicopters were accompanying lightly armed helicopters bringing out a battalion of Vietnamese soldiers 55 miles northwest of Saigon.

The Vietnamese had been landed to protect a U.S. helicopter forced down by mechanical trouble. It was necessary to destroy the helicopter, and lurking Viet Cong opened fire as the helicopters began lifting out the Vietnamese.

The late-model helicopters swooped into action, their 16 powerful rockets and two .30 caliber machineguns blazing.

Reports said the helicopter fire hit a column of about 75 guerrillas.

Farther north, a civilian spotter plane crashed Tuesday in the central highlands where increasing guerrilla ground fire had shot down two other planes.

Officials were tight-lipped about the nature of the plane or the identification of the pilot injured in the crash.

The craft was one of a fleet of unmarked planes performing intelligence work in South Viet Nam. They include a variety of light planes and L28s, DC4s and DC6s.

Reports recently have told of hotter fire from the jungles and hills in central Viet Nam, and a Viet Cong guerrilla anti-aircraft team was said to have arrived in the area.

African U. N. Delegate Runs Into Racial Trouble

By TOM HOGUE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The loneliness of the big city no longer bothers the young delegate from Chad, but the snubs still hurt.

"I've made some good friends during my two years at the U.N. General Assembly," said 24-year-old Hissene Guigoussou, "but as a Negro I've run into my share of prejudice."

Guigoussou's experience typifies the problems encountered by hundreds of new delegates from 31 black African nations as they try to fit into a strange and sometimes hostile land.

Guigoussou has attempted to shut out the hostility by spending most of his time at the U.N.'s big river-front headquarters.

During the day, he does double duty in the assembly's economic and legal committees. Until his wife and infant son joined him recently, he devoted most evenings to the endless round of U.N. parties.

For a serious-minded intellectual the chatter of the cocktail circuit sometimes palls, but Guigoussou still goes to many receptions. Contacts are essential to a career diplomat and the free food and drink are welcome to anyone on a junior diplomat's pay.

"It costs me nearly $50 a day just to live in New York," said Guigoussou, "and that doesn't leave much for entertainment."

Housing poses a major problem for African diplomats, especially those in the lower ranks. Most African missions refuse to let their delegates live in New York's Harlem, which they regard as segregated. New delegates usually avoid the suburbs because they can't afford cars.

As a result, most seek quarters near their job. This means living in the high rent, color-conscious area of New York's East Side.

There is a popular myth that a dark-skinned person can go where he likes in America—if he wears a foreign headdress. Guigoussou, a Moslem who wears a fur-trimmed fez, found otherwise.

"When I first came to New York last year," he said, "I telephoned a rental agent about apartments, and he said he had just what I wanted."

"But when I went there in person, he acted embarrassed and told me everything was booked."

New York landlords rarely admit they turn down delegates on color grounds. The usual excuse is that delegates move too often and use diplomatic immunity to protect themselves from suits for rent default or sudden departure.

The State Department has tried to stop discrimination against colored envoys. New York's Commission on Intergroup Relations and several agencies of the United Nations also have intervened on behalf of the Africans.

Guigoussou's housing problem was solved when the U.N. hospitality service got him an apartment on the East Side.

A diplomat is expected to dress the part, and Guigoussou, who looks slightly uncomfortable in the Western clothes, has found his tailor bill a big item.

Guigoussou sometimes lunches in the U.N. delegates' dining room because he feels it is expected of him. The tab runs high, however, and he usually goes home to lunch.

Occasionally he has dinner at a restaurant, but there's always a chance the color issue will crop up.

Guigoussou feels the friendships he has made in America offset the humiliations.

"I'll always remember a wonderful family I met in Westport, Conn.," he said. "I went there on a get-acquainted tour the United Nations arranged for new African diplomats."

"We got along so well that months later they invited me back for Thanksgiving dinner. It was the first time I really felt I was seeing America."

Another segment of Americana that intrigues Guigoussou is the stage show at Radio City Music Hall. Movies bore him.

Guigoussou speaks French, Arabic and English. He has relieved homesickness with a powerful short-wave radio.

"I can pick up stations all the way to Brazzaville where I went to the university," he observed. "It makes home seem a little closer."

U.S. Wastes No Time In Setting New Atom Test

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States is wasting no time trying to redeem its slumping nuclear prestige by scheduling another high-altitude shot in the Pacific this weekend—just four days after the latest flop.

A low-yield nuclear device with a punch of less than 20,000 tons of TNT is set to be touched off at an expected height of 20 to 30 miles near Johnston Island.

As in previous tests, it will be carried aloft by a missile. But this time the vehicle probably won't be a Thor, the cause of four previous failures in the trouble-plagued 1962 Pacific nuclear series.

Indications were a specially constructed booster utilizing the motor from a surface-to-surface Sergeant missile would loft the payload to its firing altitude.

The detonation planned for firing during a five-hour period starting at 9:30 p.m. EST Friday (2:30 a.m. EST Saturday). It will be the smallest attempted at high altitudes thus far.

The latest fizzle occurred Monday night. The Thor rocket lifted off its concrete launch pad at Johnston on schedule and was heading on a predetermined trajectory to the detonation point. Halfway there the rocket developed a malfunction and a range safety officer pushed a button, destroying the rocket and its nuclear payload without detonation.

Totem Pole Is Gift To Mexico

It was made by Mungo Martin, who died last August at the age of 81.

Boatler Plans Sale, Stamps Going At Cost

E. C. Boatler, postmaster of Big Spring, has a merchandising problem. He has on hand more than half a million copies of the current 4-cent postage stamp. In the near future, this huge supply of stamps will be augmented by 20,000 commemoratives and within a few weeks, he will get a still larger shipment of 100,000 copies of the new special Christmas issue.

Unless he figures out a way to sell the supply of 4-centers he has and will have on hand in the next two months before Jan. 7, he's likely to be stuck with his stamps. His problem is one of reducing his inventory of one kind of postage stamps which in all probability will have little sales appeal after Jan. 1.

4-CENT STAMPS — ANYONE?
E. C. Boatler, postmaster, has selling problem

It all began with the recent action by Congress increasing postal rates on first class mail from four to five cents.

At the same time it was announced that after Jan. 7, the common everyday stamp at the post office will be a new type 5-cent issue. (When this new issue hits the stands, it will not only relegate the old familiar 4-cent model to oblivion but will also outmode the current 5-cent model.)

The new 5-center will feature a picture of George Washington whereas the current issue depicts James Monroe. However, this model will not long be used—within a few months it is to be replaced by still another design of 5-cent stamp. This, it is planned, will be the permanent design. It's feature will be the flag of the United States in full color.

Therefore, Boatler has reason to believe that after Jan. 7, demand for the 4-cent stamps is likely to be slow.

"I think I better have a sale," mused the postmaster. "I will dispose of my entire stock of current 4-centers at cost. Anyone who wants to buy a lot of brand new 4-cent stamps can get all he wants at 4 cents a copy."

He waved at two big cartons. Each contained 250,000 brand new 4-centers.

"The stock is fresh," Boatler stated. "Never been out of the original packages."

In 1961, the Big Spring post office sold 3,680,800 four cent stamps of all sorts. It also peddled 270,805 three centers; 103,920 seven-cent airmail; 3,200 air mail five cent postal cards; 766,500 regular three cent post cards; 15,575 air mail 7-cent envelopes; 89,000 regular four cent envelopes and 3,750 3-cent envelopes. Total receipts for these sales hit $183,409. In addition to this total, the office collected $113,800 for postage meter fees; $19,700 for third class circulars mailed and $1,200 for newspaper postage.

This brought revenue to the office from the sale of stamps and stamp services to $234,500.

Assuming that the sale in 1963 holds to this figure (actually Boatler thinks that it will be a good deal larger) the residents of Big Spring will have to dig up around $50,000 additional postage money to pay for the letters they mail.

This is caused by the increase in first class mail from four to five cents; the increase in air mail from 7 to 8 cents; postal cards from three to four cents and air mail postals go from five to six cents.

Since the bulk of the postal activities involves first class mail, the big jump will come in the sale of stamps for such mail—five centers replacing the traditionally familiar purple Lincoln models.

The new 5-cent Washingtons will be in blue.

Rotarians Hear German

Lt. Olaf Delugi of the German Air Force, a student pilot at Webb AFB, told Rotarians Tuesday about the organization and operation of the educational system in Germany. Lt. Delugi was introduced by Col. Wilson Banks, commanding officer at Webb.

"Most of the schools in Germany are operated by the State," he said. "Everybody has to attend school eight years. From there the route taken by each student, for higher education, depends upon the student and his parents. He can go into trades, technical, or scientific schools. The last two require longer schooling."

"The school year in Germany begins at Easter," he continued. "Languages are stressed in the universities, along with mathematics, and science subjects. The students who go to the universities must take stiff entrance examinations because they are crowded just as they are in the United States. It is hard work but in the end the degrees are acknowledged by the whole world. The quality of the work to earn a degree is not questioned."

The lieutenant said more and more students are taking advantage of the student exchange programs and going to school in foreign countries to become better acquainted with the people and customs.

President Ben Johnson announced that three new members would be inducted into the club next Tuesday.

Capon Show Dates Set

STANTON (SC) — The Martin County Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the annual Martin capon show Nov. 6-10. Gerald Hanson is chairman of the agriculture and livestock committee of the chamber.

Hanson said that capons will be required to be brought to the exposition between 4-6 p.m. Nov. 9. Judging will be Nov. 10 with Marshall Miller, Texas A&M College Extension Service, in charge.

Dub Bryant, Big Spring, will be auctioneer. The auction will be held in downtown Stanton at the First National Bank corner at 2 p.m. on the 10th.

Ribbons and trophies have been ordered for the winners. Each exhibitor will be allowed to enter five birds and only four of the five will be eligible for the auction sale, Hanson said. Only the 80 top capons would be placed on the auction block.

Mexico Bars Cuba-Bound Ship

VERACRUZ, Mexico (AP)—Officials here won't let a Norwegian freighter unload—not even temporarily to discharge other cargo—1,500 tons of lumber and tin-plate shipped originally to Cuba.

The vessel is the Teneriffs and its skipper said he could reach 2,500 tons of cargo bound for Mexico only by removing the other goods.

The captain said his ship was scheduled to stop first in Havana on a voyage from Sweden. Therefore the Cuban cargo was stowed on top.

En route to Havana instructions were sent him to bypass Cuba and unload the cargo in Mexico because of U.S. plans to restrict shipping to Cuba, he said.

Education Chief Faces DWI Charge

AUSTIN (AP)—There has been no trial setting in a case involving state Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar, Asst. County Atty. Charles Burton said Monday.

Policeman W. T. Phillips charged Edgar on Aug. 17 with "operating a motor vehicle unlawfully while under influence of intoxicating liquor." Edgar is free on $300 bond.

An associate said Edgar denies the charge, stating he was under a doctor's care and had been seriously ill with pneumonia at the time.

He said trouble in the transmission of Edgar's car caused it to strike two parked autos.

Disarmament Act Explained As One To Get Information

It is unthinkable that the United States would reduce armaments or disarm unilaterally, and no responsible person would advocate such dangerous nonsense," according to Rep. George Mahon, of the 19th congressional district.

Under this or any other law that will obligate the United States to disarm or to reduce or to limit the Armed Forces or armaments of the United States, except pursuant to the treaty-making power of the President under the Constitution or unless authorized by further affirmative legislation by the Congress of the United States."

Arms Idea Is Questioned In Letters

To the Editor: There is no doubt that Rep. George Mahon has done a fine job for Howard County and the 19th Congressional District.

But I would like to ask a few questions: Why did he vote FOR continued foreign aid to Communist countries? Why did he vote FOR House Resolution 9118 which in effect created the United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency to legally disarm our country? And, further, why did he vote FOR the purchase of U.N. bonds with $100 million of the taxpayers' money?

N. E. SIMPSON

To the Editor: Your Sunday editorial entitled "An Outstanding Congressman" gave a generalized picture of our congressman, but omitted one of the more pertinent facts.

George Mahon voted "Yes" in favor of the Disarmament Bill (HR 9118). This bill will effect the dismantling of our Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force along with the scrapping of our Missile Inventory. After 28 years in Washington, during which time Mr. Mahon consistently asked for more and more money for our Defense (rightly so, I believe), we are now told that all this must be scrapped if we are to preserve the peace.

I consider the idea of disarmament to be, in words of our President "rash and irresponsible," and a radical departure from the strong America we have come to expect. I cannot conceive of any thinking American wanting to dismantle our Armed Forces, the greatest in the world, at a time when there are those threatening to bury us."

Quarterly Dividend Declared By Fund

The board of directors of Hamilton Funds, Inc., has declared the regular distribution of 3 cents per share from ordinary income on both Series H-C7 and H-DA shares, payable Oct. 21, 1962 to shareholders of record Oct. 1, 1962. This is the 59th consecutive quarterly dividend.

This dividend payment brings total distributions paid in the past 12 months on Series H-C7 shares to 13 cents from ordinary income and 12 1/2 cents from securities profits. During the same period, distributions paid on Series H-DA shares total 12 cents from ordinary income and 13 cents from securities profits. On Oct. 1, 1962 net assets of Hamilton Funds, Inc. totaled more than $227 million.

Post Office Workers Wait On Pay Hikes

Postal employes in Big Spring have been doing a lot of figuring on the backs of old envelopes and scrap pieces of paper these days. They are trying to determine just how big their pay checks will be for the pay period ending last Saturday, when they get them Nov. 2.

They are all getting pay hikes, effective with the current work period. However, for most of the crew, size of the increase won't be known until they get their pay Nov. 2.

The increases vary but across the board will average out about 10.7 per cent. The 56 employes at the office will be getting their last checks on the old pay schedule Friday. The next checks, assuming the government is able to solve the complicated bookkeeping problem the new increase sets up, will be at the new pay rate and will be for the period which began Oct. 13.

It is quite possible, if the monumental task of setting up the bookkeeping machinery gets out of hand, that the Nov. 2 checks could be at the old rate. However, the workers won't be worried. They know that the new boost is in effect—if the adjustment is delayed a check will be coming along later adjusting the difference.

The pay hikes vary according to the "level" of the worker. Of the 56 on the payroll in the local office, 47 are classified as Level 4. Their pay hike will be 8.2 per cent at this time with a 2.5 per cent second boost to become effective Jan. 1, 1964.

The increase in pay is provided for by the increase in postal rates which becomes effective Jan. 7. It climaxes a long fight the organizations of postal workers have been waging for pay adjustments. The raises are not, perhaps, as much as the postal workers had asked and hoped for but they are of great importance and are eagerly awaited here.

As stated, the raises vary percentage-wise in the several "levels." A Level 2 worker, for example, will get a pay boost of 9.1 per cent in the first stage and 14 per cent in 1964. There are two employes in Level 2 on the local post office payroll.

With the exception of Level 7, which has three workers, Level 4 with 47 employes, the other levels in the office have but one member each.

Top bracket locally is Level 11. E. C. Boatler, postmaster, is in this classification.

How much additional money the new increases may mean in take-home pay remains to be seen. The workers know that most of them will have bigger deductions for income tax and retirement than they have been paying.

The postal workers in Level 4 are made up of postal clerks, route carriers and maintenance workers.

Nominations For Oil Rise

AUSTIN (AP) — Nominations by major oil purchasers and producers for Texas crude oil in November totaled 2,524,186 barrels a day, an increase of 33,853, the Railroad Commission said.

The Bureau of Mines forecast for the November demand is 2,500,000 barrels a day, up 85,000 from October.

The commission will set the November scale Thursday. In Washington the Bureau of Mines estimated today crude oil demand for November at 7,165,000 barrels a day.

That compares with 6,950,000 barrels daily forecast for October. The bureau said domestic crude demand for the rest of the year is expected to fall below the level of last year "because of the depressing effect of high product stocks on total crude runs and because imports for November and December are expected to exceed those of a year ago."

Natural Gas Sales Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six producers would be authorized to sell gas from Texas Railroad Commission Dist. 4 if a decision filed Monday by a Federal Power Commission examiner is upheld.

The decision, subject to FPC review, is conditioned upon a reduction in the proposed price to 15 cents per thousand cubic feet. The producers proposed an initial price of 18.2 cents. Producers are Cities Service, Jake Hamon, Tennessee-Texas Oil Co., Tidewater Oil Co., Sunray DX and Texaco.

Tropical Storm Delays Launching Of Moon Probe

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The gusty winds of tropical storm Ella have forced a four-week postponement of the attempt to launch the Ranger 5 spacecraft to the moon.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had planned to launch the spacecraft today, but called off the effort Tuesday night when Weather Bureau reports indicated there was a good chance the storm would cause unfavorable weather at Cape Canaveral the next several days. Preparations were made to remove Ranger 5 and its Atlas-Agena B rocket from the launch pad and move them to the safety of a hangar.

The space agency had only a four-day period ending Friday when the moon was in a favorable position for the Ranger 5 launch. The next optimum period begins about Nov. 13. Ranger 5's mission is to streak a quarter million miles to the moon.

DR. LINDELL O. HARRIS

Interim Pastor Is Selected

Dr. Lindell O. Harris, chairman of the Division of Religion at Hardin-Simmons University, has been chosen as interim pastor at Baptist Temple.

He was selected unanimously by secret ballot to serve the congregation until the church calls a regular pastor. Meanwhile, the church has named a pulp committee headed by F. D. Rogers to spearhead the search for a pastor.

Others on the committee are Joe Dunn, Mag Legg, Dr. H. M. Jarratt and Larry Snodgrass. Dr. Harris has held numerous pastorates on an interim basis since joining the H-SU faculty in 1962. During the past summer he was interim pastor of a Baptist church in Honolulu, Hawaii.

He formerly taught five years in the Baptist School of Religion in Honolulu. He has been fulltime pastor of churches in Missouri, Louisiana and Texas.

Since becoming a member of the Hardin-Simmons faculty, he has spent one semester in the American School for Oriental Research in Jerusalem, Jordan.

Dr. Harris, 47, is a native of Blodgett, Mo., and received the associate of arts degree from Southwestern Baptist College, Mo., the B. A. from Baylor University, the Th. M. degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, and the Th. D. from Southwestern.

He is past president, vice president and secretary of the Southwest Baptist Bible Teachers Association, past vice president of the Association of Baptist Professors of Religion, and is a member of the American School of Oriental Research and the National Association of Biblical Instructors. Dr. and Mrs. Harris have a son, David, 15, and a daughter, Linda, 11.

Colorful Ballet Program Opens Concert Assn. Series

A varied and colorful presentation of the ballet arts opened before a sizable crowd Tuesday evening in the city auditorium as the opening event of the Concert Association series.

On hand was the National Ballet of Canada, which has appeared in Big Spring previously. The program came in three portions. Part one featured the second act of "Swan Lake," a classic and one of the most-staged on ballet road show circuits.

Since the Canadians had opened their present tour in Midland and Big Spring was their second stop, there were some ragged edges, most particularly in the orchestra pit during the "Swan Lake" sequence. The veteran performers, however, were not long in firming up—or, loosening up, as they are dancers. All in all, "Swan Lake" proved to be smoothly done, lively or dramatic at the proper moments, all against a colorful backdrop of imaginatively-created scenery and props. The costuming also was highly professional.

Part two was a sort of modern-art interpretation of a Bach concerto. The choreography was polished but unimaginative, seeming to be an attempt at mobile abstraction of music with no particular story, and lacking in any backdrop or special lighting. The orchestra and dancers performed excellently with what they had, however.

Part three was a great relief, being as colorful and entertaining as the first portion of the program, if not more so. "Offenbach in the Underworld" had the added element of comedy. The theme was based on "Orpheus in the Underworld," a musical masterpiece most closely associated with another masterpiece—the French can-can.

The sequence was lightly amusing in spots, laugh-provoking elsewhere, particularly during a cafe brawl scene. It was liveliest when the girls came out to do the can-can.

It was not really the can-can, though. It was a balletic interpretation of the dance. Only the French can perform the can-can the way it should be performed. There is a great difference between the way it was done on the stage here Tuesday evening and the way it was done in several dozen Paris bistros at about the same time.

And, as far as this reviewer is concerned, vive la difference. —BOB SMITH

Enrollment Swings Up

Enrollment in Big Spring public schools took a turn upwards again last week. Friday's count was 7,468 pupils, up eight from the previous week.

This is 308 above the 7,160 noted at this same time a year ago.

Enrollment has leveled off in most of the schools, with only minor fluctuations, but elementary schools continue to show the largest gains and losses. Airport and Boydston each picked up five students. Goliad Junior High increased its enrollment by four, but a loss of four in Runnels offset that and there was no change in the secondary total.

Total for the elementary schools was 4,389, up six, and the secondary figure was 2,928. Special education gained two pupils, going to 151.

By school the enrollments are Airport 462, Bauer 510, Boydston 524, Cedar Crest 287, College Heights 531, Kate Morrison 268, Lakeview 207, Marcy 339, Park Hill 295, Washington 766, Goliad 913, Lakeview Junior High 72, Runnels 731 and Senior High 1,212.
