UF Makes Short Gains

The United Fund effort continues to make short gains, but campaign leaders are urging a strong push to put the drive over its goal of $103,324.

The current total is $67,620,98 and almost all divisions have launched contact work. Monday, the Metropolitan-Residential division and the Rural Area Division begin making contacts.

No major division has reached its quota as yet, however a large number of individual sections have surpassed their previous records.

The Moral: Always Be Well-Oiled

WELLESLEY, Mass. (AP) -Consider the plight of Wellesley's sinking duck.

The dictionary defines ducks as "any of various swimming birds having short neck and legs and a somewhat depressed body.

This one has a short neck and legs and definitely is depressed. But it doesn't swim. It doesn't iously-below the surface.

The duck flew into town several days ago and alighted on the newly tarred surface of a hockey rink

Park Department employes washed the duck with kerosene and detergents to free it.

When it was placed in a nearby pond it sank-slowly and ignominously below the surface.

Park workers hauled out the duck and placed it on the shore. There it sits-waiting for the natural oils in its feathers, removed by the washing, to be replenished.

Blind Man Cited For Driving Without License

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) - A man the state considers legally blind has been cited for driving without a license

A Dayton patrolman said he cited Donald Miller, 23, operator of a concession stand at the family court center, after he noticed Mil ler's car behaving erratically.

A regional supervisor for the Ohio Division of Services for the Blind said Miller's legal blindness indicates his vision is less than 10 per cent of normal in each eye He qualified for state aid a year

Miller declined to comment except to say he learned to drive in Illinois several years ago when his sight was better.

Two Children Injured In Auto Mishaps

Two children were injured car accidents. Wednesday afternoon

Ricky Eugene Jones, 2, 1209 Blackmon, was taken to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital where he was treated for superficial bruises and lacerations and held over until Thursday for further observation. His physician said Thursday morning there was no indication of internal injury. Martha Gene Garcia, 6, 1513 Brown, was treated for bruises and cuts at Cowper Clinic Thursday afternoon. She was released after treatment.

Witnesses told police that the Jones boy was injured in an accident when John Edwin Bowers, 1211 Blackmon, backed out of his driveway just before 6:30 p.m. Bowers apparently did not know the child was near the driveway at the time and drove away, police said. Carl B. Mangum, 1208 Blackmon, took the boy to the hospital. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Jones.

Martha Garcia was reported in jured, while crossing the street in the 600 Block of West Fourth. when she walked into the side of a car driven by Fabris Allen Moore, Rt. 1, and was knocked down. She was taken to the hospital in a River ambulance. Her mother is Mrs. Bertha Ruiz, 1505 W. 1st.

Police investigated one minor accident Thursday. Vehicles involved in the collision at 1300 Harding were a parked car, owned by Imogene Morgon, 1300 Harding, and a car driven by Ed--die Joe James, 119 Madison.

The inner circle on the map shows the 1,200-mile radius from Cuban missile sites which are now completed, according to President Kennedy's speech. The outer circle shows a 2,400-mile radius of sites now being built for intermediate range missiles. Within the 1,200-mile radius are such cities as Washington, Dallas, Mexico City, Miami and Cape Canaveral. Within the outer circle are New York, Montreal, Toronto, Winnepeg, Hudson Bay and Chicago as well as parts of the West Coast.

Hearing Set On Allocation For Oil Field

AUSTIN (AP) - The Railroad Commission set Nov. 28 today to hold a hearing on adopting an allocation rule for the Port Acres (Lower Hackberry) Field in Jefferson County.

The commission said the hearing would be held because the Texas Supreme Court invalidated the allocation formula it had of the U.S. Senate winds in and adopted earlier.

Michel Halbouty, Meredith and Co., Peterson Henderson Oil Co., and Pan American Petroleum Corp., requested the hearing.

In addition to adopting an allocation formula, the commission will also determine productive acreage.

Lodge moves his campaign party in two station wagons and three buses named after his three daughters-the Emily for the candidate and his staff; the Dorothy for the press; and the Nancy for the volunteer workers. Both campaign parties bubble with excitement. But with Lodge it's a spirit of adventure; with Kennedy it's the thrill of the chase, the hunting down of each potential vote by men who have been on a number of such safaris before.

Lodge speaks more often than Kennedy, addressing candidates' nights, Masonic meetings, even a gathering of the liberal Americans for Democratic Action

Lodge also has engaged in televised debates with a third senaassistant Lovell Kuykendall, and torial candidate, maverick Dem-"Hi, there. George Lodge. Nice Mrs. Katherine Crawford, county ocrat H. ### A Devotional For The Day

Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you. (Luke 17:21.) PRAYER: O Lord, our Father, we dedicate ourselves anew to the cause of Christ, our Savior. Remove the blemishes that we may worthily serve Thee among the peoples of the earth. In the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven ... Amen."

(From The 'Upper Room')

Eased But Not Over

The initial point of collision between that a major conflict would be a nuclear the world's major powers has been avoided for the moment at least. Russian ships bound for Cuba turned away rather than risk a showdown on the United States ultimaturm to be searched for offensive military weapons.

At the same time Premier Nikita Khrushschev of Russia made a reserved reply in contrast to other bombastic displays. He said Russia would not be reckless and would not be "provoked" by the United States. Observing that Russia realizes duced in the days ahead.

war from the outset but the U.S. citizens apparently didn't, he engaged in a bit of customary sabre-rattling.

Of course it is a matter of intense relief to have some time for consideration and adjustments. But this interval should not lull anyone into a sense of believing that the danger of explosive war is passed. Indeed it has not. Developments may be a straw in the wind, but more substantial evidences will have to be pro-

Driving Tests

yond reach

The majority of drivers hold their license by virtue of having passed a road test and a written examination on traffic regulations. Little effort is made, except on the basis of the subsequent driving record, to screen out those who are psychologically unfit to drive.

There is good reason to believe that some such prior screening process may eventually bring about a big reduction in the number of auto accidents. The other side of the coin is that until some way can be found to identify the accidentprone driver there will be little chance of a substantial cut in the accident rate.

The method has not yet been perfected. Psychologists do not claim to have developed tests which infallibly single out those who would be a menace at the wheel. But limited experience with test-test results are far from infallible, but there is a significant correlation between certain traits and the number of accident claims.

Much work on such testing remains to be done. It seems not too wild a dream, however, that the time will come when only those temperamentally fit to drive will be allowed the privilege of driving.

Around The Rim Ah, A Bird Nest On The Ground!

There is nothing quite so frustrating as car trouble a long way from home. It's bad enough at home, but at least there is a local shop that can be trusted to get the old hoopy in running order again, or at least advise you to junk the thing and start from scratch.

But out on the byways of this troubled land, the motorist with motor trouble feels at the mercy of a curious collection of lackadaisical mechanics who he feels have just one chance to make a killing . . . he's it.

OR SO IT SEEMED to me last week when this happened to my good wife Joyce and I. The trouble all began with overheating. The first place I stopped, the proprietor assured me the trouble was minor.

"Just take out the thermostat." he said, "and your troubles will be over," I asked what the thermostat was, where was it located, and how does one take it out. He gave me directions on finding a fellow who had a wrench that would fit the necessary bolts and I proceded to remove the pesky thing. The job done, he cheerily waved me on down the highway.

I had gone about two miles before the trouble re-announced itself through a steaming radiator. Using every creek, horse trough and way station, I advanced slowly on toward home. But finally, it refused to go farther and I resorted to another mechanic, this one more sagacious than the first.

"NOTHING TO IT," he practically dismissed the whole thing. "Just replace this lower water hose." He explained the problem about pressures within the system that would bring envy to the eyes of an atomic physicist. He paused. "Start it up." I did. His eyes shown like he had just discovered the Holy Grail, or the Mother Lode at least.

"And finally they began to say, 'Why don't you do anything any more, Mom?'

All six of them! Really!" continued Mrs.

his head in a despondent action designed to hide his jubilation at the invitation into my pocketbook. I was shaken.

"The head may be busted too," he added in a solemn voice that had the keynote of doom. So, he proceeded to patch the motor, assuring me he never works on Sunday unless there is a suitable financial reward.

A GOOD DEAL poorer, we were off again. This time we managed to get all of 19 miles before the vehicle stopped running. It was the same story-morose mechanic, judicial scratching of the chin with greasy hand, much shuffling of feet and gazing off into the clouds as though in supplication to some mystic to increase the damage. Finally the pronouncement: "Head gasket blown, perhaps the head is busted too."

It was as though the highway was lined with mechanics, all repeating the same line with dismal forboding "Head gasket blown, head may be busted too."

Again I watched the engine opened, its entrails replaced by others, then patched back together. And again I forked over money with the nonchalance of easy come -easy go.

"ARE YOU SURE IT will now run at least 19 more miles toward Big Spring." I asked. He assured me it would, but his helper sniggered in his sleeve and tried to make it look like he was wiping his nose.

This time we traveled five miles before it began heating. My good wife and I lugged water from every rice paddy and puddle we passed. I know how the early pioneers must have felt in their search for water holes. The fall of night was in our favor, bringing cool temperatures that helped the engine keep cool. But then, the generator quit working . . . but that's another entire story.

direct threat to the security of the United States itself

For several months, the American government has known that missile bases were being built and equipped in Cuba. But, up to now, the officially announced assumption has been that all this was "defensive" on Cuba's part. There is, however, little difference actually between a missile base built for defense and one built for offensive purposes.

FOR REASONS BEST KNOWN to the President, it was heretofore deemed unwise, however, to characterize the missile bases as "offensive." But when word of recent shipments from the Soviet Union-including light bombers-was received from authoritative sources by the United States government, there no longer was any reason to hesitate to call the missile bases in Cuba by their right name.

iven before the President announced his intention of speaking to the nation, Sen Kenneth Keating, (R-N.Y.) referred to the report he had publicized recently concerning the construction of six intermediate-range missile bases in Cuba. Ho had declared that the missile bases would have a 2,000 to 2,500-mile range. He said missiles from these bases could strike at the heart of the United States and at the Panama Canal. Not far away from Cuba also is the all-important base at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES, the President required only the information that the Cubans were-unquestionably engaged with Soviet experts in building an offensive base with nuclear warheads before he told the world that such an operation must be abolished and that hereafter Cuba will be "guarantined" and, in effect blockaded.

The timing of the President's conferences and his decision to summon the leaders of both political parties in Congress were something of a surprise even in Washington, because Mr. Kennedy was himself engaged in a campaign trip. Naturally, there is speculation as to whether the dramatic way the whole thing was handled will have some relationship to the current congressional campaign. But any such relationship, it will be asserted in administration circles, is purely "coincidental."

THE CRISIS is a serious one and both parties always tend to work together in an emergency atmosphere. It so happens that the Republicans have been making an issue out of the procrastination of the of this country will continue to feel uneasy and may demand that there be some form of military occupation.

> THE BIG question in the background has been: What will the Soviet Union do if the United States gets tough with Cuba? The administration could not afford to sit on its hands while pondering possible answers to that question. It became clear that the Washington government would have to take the initiative and incur whatever risks might be necessary

For, in international law, it has always been recognized that military security is paramount. A demand that foreign forces be withdrawn from the island, might well be considered only a first step, with invasion and occupation as a natural sequel if no satisfaction is obtained.

WILL THE SOVIETS ever risk a worldwide conflagration just to help out Castro? The experts think not. In fact, without well-corroborated information on this point, President Kennedy doubless would not have risked making the public statement he has now broadcast to the world. Mr. Kennedy has always insisted that Cuba and Berlin are closely related and that both situations must be taken into account as likely to be connected in the minds of the men in the Kremlin. The Soviet Union, of course, is plenty worried today about internal problems and about the aggressive behavior of the Red Chinese, who have invaded India. The last thing Moscow wants at this time is a world war, especially since any likelihood of this would produce a restiveness in the Communist-bloc and a major crisis for the Soviet Union.

All in all, President Kennedy evidently felt that the risk of dealing firmly with Cuba was worth taking-irrespective of Berlin and developments in other parts of the world

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Many who saw the movie "Treasure of the Sierra Madre" will long remember the bitter irony of a closing scene in which ignorant bandits scatter into the wind goldbearing sand that three men spent laborious months to amass.

In a desolate part of Montana stands a man-made hill of lowgrade chromite ore, much of it being slowly, blown away, for which American taxpayers, through their government, paid $31,000,000.

When bought in 1952, this was the only known source of chromium in the United States. Higher grade ore from Africa might be cut off in case of war. But today the Montana ore would have to be upgraded, at further expense, to make it worth even the cost of shipping to eastern manufacturing centers. This represents probably one of the worst examples of unwisdom in the strategic stockpiling program carried out under wraps of secrecy after World War II.

Now another strategic stockpiling program has been carried to what in another decade or less may also appear fantastic lengths. This is the stockpiling of atomic weapons in great variety by tens of thousands to an undetermined degree of "overkill"-and not even under the defense budget, but by appropriations to the Atomic Energy Commission.

Holmes Alexander Mr. Kennedy And The Polish Vote

WASHINGTON - There seems to be a the President and the 87th Congress have slight case of Jekyll-and-Hyde when Mr. disagreed.

Kennedy puts off the robes of statesmanship and becomes the campaigning politician. He stooped a bit to conquer in 1960 when he bemoaned a "missile gap" that wasn't there and here in 1962 the President has been going after the Polish vote for Democratic candidates in a manner less than lofty.

IN A HUGE Pulaski Day celebration at Buffalo, for example, the President gave the impression that Poland had been badly injured, and her liberation from Soviet domination actually impeded, by an amendment (Republican, by inference) to his Trade Expansion Act. This amendment struck out Poland's Most Favored Nation (MFN) status.

Aside from the fact that many Democrats supported the anti-Communist proviso in substantial numbers. there is a grave question as to whether Mr. Kennedy's arithmetic and rhetoric could pass the truth-test. Polish-American trade is very small and very specialized. The tariff wall that will really exclude Polish goods, and force Poland to concentrate on trading within the Soviet bloc, is the Common Market's barrier, not ours.

FROM HIS senatorial days onward, the President has long advocated aid-and-trade to Poland because of special conditions. The Poles have for centuries been under various foreign subjugations, but have heroically kept their independence of spirit and passion for freedom. The President has hoped to feed this flame of liberty by maintaining commercial and cultural exchange. But he steadfastly declines to encourage armed revolt in Poland-much less to promise U.S. military help-because he

we bought $41 million worth of goods from Poland. The top item was $26 million worth of canned ham. This is a luxury import for fancy dining, and is not touched at all by the new Trade Act. The next item in terms of value is two million dollars worth of casein, used in making glue, and the next $1 million worth of fox fur. All else is under the million dollar mark, including Christmas tree ornaments and bentwood furniture.

POLAND'S HEAVY export is coal. It does not come to the U.S.A. It goes, or did go, to Western Europe. But the extremely protectionist Common Market has slammed the door against Polish coal, as well as against pork products. Had the President been factual in his Pulaski Day bid for Polish votes, he would have blamed Germans and Frenchmen rather than Republicans for seriously injuring Polish trade.

American exports to Poland in 1961 amounted to $75 million, but the bulk of this was food under Public Law 480, and this will continue. Meanwhile, a great number of gift packages under the CARE program go to Poland. While the change in MFN status is of no help to Poland, and is regrettably adopted as a Cold War tactic. American sentiments for the gallant Polish people have not been altered in any way by congressional action. The only enemy we have in Poland is the Russian dictatorship, a hostility that is fully shared by the people there.

Texans Appear Turning To Civil Defense

By ED STAATS Associated Press Staff Writes

A man in his middle-fifties bought three five-gallon jugs of distilled water at a Houston supermarket Wednesday. He told the manager he felt a little foolish, but that was the amount recommended by the Civil Defense.

In Houston and elsewhere in Texas, thousands of persons appeared to be turning to Civil Defense for advice and instructions in the wake of the Cuban crisis.

At Denton, the U.S. Office of Emergency Planning said calls asking for information had increased. Leslie T. Holland, deputy director of the Region 5 office. said Wednesday, "Our work load is heavier, and we're getting a lot more calls for information.

Among the precautions recom mended by Civil Defense for an emergency is stockpiling of water and canned food supplies sufficient for 14 days.

FOODS NEEDED

Suggested foods include canned meat, fish, poultry, beans, peas and fruits; cereals and tinned baked goods: cheese spreads; peanut butter and jelly with crackers, and evaporated and dried milk.

The main statewide development Wednesday was a review by Civil Defense agencies, at least in the major cities, of their ability to protect citizens.

Texas Civil Defense Co-ordinator James H. Garner recommended from Austin that the city and county Civil Defense directors review their local planning.

He also warned that no actions be taken which would cause panic or rash action.

A heavy run on items listed by Civil Defense as necessary in an emergency was indicated both in Dallas and Houston.

Three Houston water distilling companies reported business almost too heavy to handle.

Wintry-Like Weather Hits Broad Areas

SECTION B

By The Associated Press Wintry-like weather, with snow, unseasonable temperatures and gusty northerly winds, chilled millions today from the Rockies to northern Florida.

The vast mass of cold Canadian air which tumbled temperatures to record lows for the date in some areas Wednesday dipped southward into the Gulf coastal states.

Freezing weather-the season's coldest-was reported in parts of Virginia, North Carolina and Alabama as the cold air spread southward. Temperatures were in the 30s in many sections of the Carolinas, Virginia, Alabama and Georgia. Tallahassee, Fla., shivered in 38-degree temperature, far below normal Below freezing marks were reported in Richmond, Va., Raleigh, N.C., and Anniston, Ala. It was near freezing in Tuscaloosa, Ala.

A fresh batch of cold air pushed across the Canadian border and centered in the Dakotas. Temperatures dropped into the 20s and lower in the northern Plains. Readings were in the 30s in most of the northeast quarter of the country.

No immediate general warming was indicated for most of the cold

More snow and snow mixed with rain fell across broad areas in the Great Lakes region and the Ohio Valley. Strong winds lashed most of the wet belt. Gale warnings were posted on the western Great Lakes. The snow in the nation's midsection extended southward as far as Missouri and southern Illinois. Falls in most places were light

Astronaut Has Hard Touchdown -In A Kite

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)-Astonaut Virgil I. Grissom has walked away from a hard landing-in a kite. He flew a kite-like paraglider and landed it upright, although the craft's nose wheel crumpled when it hit the ground.

The Air Force major climbed out smiling and unhurt. He was the first astronaut to pilot the open-air vehicle, which was towed aloft by a biplane and released to glide downward in the manner expected to be used eventually for

Time-Saving Discovery Made By Housewife

Late last fall, a Florida housewife wrote to the No-Roach Co .- "For years now, I have been adding a cupful of No-Roach to the rinse water, when mopping my floors. This has kept roaches, ants, and spiders out of my home. What puzzles me - is why don't you ever mention this?"

Well, dear readers, it just goes to show. . . . The manufacturers of No-Roach had never thought of it before. They experimented, it works, and now this advice is featured on their new No-Roach label. Thanks to a very bright housewife.

If you've got bugs at home, get a bottle of Johnston's No-Roach and try it.

Nobel Prize In Literature To Steinbeck

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) John Steinbeck won the 1962 Nobel Prize for literature today.

The 60-year-old California-born author, who rose to fame with his novel "The Grapes of Wrath," is the sixth American to win the literary award-this year worth $49,656

For 30 years, Steinbeck has been turning out best sellersmany became prize-winning stage plays and films-and gained a reputation as a chronicler of social justice in the United States. His writings in recent years showed a versatility that emerged in his latest book, "Travels with Charley," an oft-whimsical story of U.S. travels with his dog Char-

Steinbeck, author of 27 books, was cited by the prize committee "for his at one and the same time realistic and imaginative writings, distinguished as they are by a sympathetic humor and a social perception."

Steinbeck heard about the award at his home in Sag Harbor, N.Y. His wife told reporters it was "a great thrill" for him.

Other American winners of the Nobel Prize for literature were Sinclair Lewis, Eugene O'Neill, Pearl Buck, William Faulkner and Ernest Hemingway.

Thomas Stearns Eliot, American-born, also won the award, but after becoming a British subject.

Kennedy Signs Medical Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)-President Kennedy has signed a bill to ease taxes for persons with unusually heavy medical expenses and to encourage private pension plans to add medical benefits.

The measure retains the present basic limitation which permits tax deductions for medical expenses of only those expenses in excess of 3 per cent of income.

It raises some over-all ceilings now in effect. For single persons, it sets a deduction limit of $10,000 instead of $5,000. For married couples, the deduction ceiling is raised to $20,000, and the deduction for dependents is increased to $5,000.

Disabled persons over 65 are allowed deductions of $20,000 instead of $15,000 for single persons, and $40,000 instead of $30,000 for married couples.

The new law permits combined administration of private pension and medical plans for retired em-

COAHOMA-New officers were chosen at recent meetings by members of Coahoma Future Farmers of America Chapters. The Coahoma Chapter chose Vernon Long, president; Dwayne Fraser, vice president; John Lowke, secretary; Weldon Self, treasurer; Travis Reid, reporter; and Olen Fryar, sentinel. The senior group also discussed means of financing chapter activities during the 1962-63 year. It will be host for the El Rancho District Leadership contests to be held here Nov. 14. Other activities for that day will include a basketball tournament between teams from each chapter represented. The day will be climaxed with the annual District Banquet, at which time leadership contest winners will be announced and the District Sweetheart will be elected from candidates of the various chapters.

The Greenhand Chapter, at its meeting, made preparations for the District contests also.

Officers named by that group are Robert Pherigo, president; Teddy Merrick, vice president; Keith Hodnett, secretary; Bobby Lindsey, treasurer; James Bailey, reporter; and Mike Hinsley, sentinel
