ACCORDING TO NEWSPAPER REPORT

K's Secret Letter Showed Him Terrified Of Nuclear War

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev's unpublished letter of last Friday night to President Kennedy was "the product of a man in a high state of agitation, overwrought by the prospect of atomic war," the New York Herald Tribune reported today.

"For that reason, it will not be published in the foreseeable future, if ever," the story said. It now bears a "Top Secret" label. As described by one well-informed source, it caused surprise here "bordering on disbelief." It revealed the Soviet leader in an unnatural fever of excitement and dismay over the prospect that President Kennedy's hard determination to dismantle the missile bases in Cuba might actually lead the world—and the U.S.S.R.—into nuclear war." The story notes that the unpublished first letter to Kennedy never was released in Moscow. The second, imposing the condition that the Cuban missile bases would be dismantled if the U.S. withdrew missiles from Turkey, was immediately broadcast by Moscow Radio.

The first Khrushchev letter, the newspaper said, "was a high-pitched emotional appeal from a man who suddenly saw the world perched on the lip of Armageddon, the precipice of atomic war and was quite frankly fearful of what might ensue."

"One of the basic reasons why the administration has no intention of publishing this first Khrushchev letter, in addition to the fact that it hasn't been released in Moscow, is concern that it might be used by the Communist right wing, the old hard-line Stalinists, against Mr. Khrushchev at this still dangerous time of tension."

"No one pretends to know the full story of Mr. Khrushchev's political strength in Russia today, but the circumstances of the first letter, followed so quickly by the demand for new conditions in the second, have led to a good deal of speculation."

Asked for comment on the White House statement, James G. Bellows, managing editor of the New York Herald Tribune, said: "The Herald Tribune awaits publication of the letter which will confirm the story."

Connally Expresses Confidence Of Victory During Stopover Here

Expressing confidence that his campaign for governor is experiencing a strong upsurge, John Connally today urged his Democratic backers to "give me 48 hours and I'll give you my very best for the next two years."

"I'll try to make you the best governor you ever had," he pledged his backers in urging a 48-hour effort on their part to match his continuous campaigning.

"people of Texas are getting tired of a campaign geared to passion and prejudice, a rein of fear and smear. They want a positive program and they are not buying a negative one."

Connally would carry Howard County heavily, Connally observed that he hoped that he not only could win next Tuesday but by a big margin as an answer to what he termed an opposition campaign of "dollars and deceit."

Intensive Publicity Campaign Mapped For War On Polio

An intensive publicity campaign to encourage complete participation in the "Victory Over Polio" program of Sunday, Nov. 11, was mapped at a meeting of news media representatives Thursday.

Radio stations, television and newspaper will be carrying the full story of the program for the next week. Physicians are to appear on radio and TV programs to answer questions that might come up.

between noon and 5 p.m. Nov. 11. There will be a simple registration blank (names of all members of the family must be listed), then a pharmacist will offer a cube of sugar on which there are drops of the Sabin vaccine.

Idea Considered

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States was reported today to be considering a Soviet proposal to allow the International Red Cross to inspect Cuba-bound ships to verify that they are not bearing military weapons.

FHA Increases Processing Fee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Housing Administration has more than doubled the maximum fee that lenders can charge homeowners to cover the cost of processing government-insured home improvement loans.

FHA Commissioner Neal J. Hardy announced that the maximum fee has been raised to 2 1/2 per cent of the amount of the loan or $50, whichever is greater. The old maximum was 1 per cent or $20.

Hardy said the action was based on a field office survey which showed that the old fee "was not sufficient to cover the lender's cost of making the loan."

The new regulations apply to loans made under a 1961 law providing for 20-year advances of up to $10,000 at 6 per cent maximum interest.

FHA is hopeful the increase in the fee will spur the home improvement loan program, which has been lagging.

In a companion announcement, the Federal National Mortgage Association said it will henceforth purchase home improvement loans at par in the secondary market. FNMA formerly paid 99 cents on the dollar for such loans.

Connally Takes To Air As Cox Tours E. Texas

By The Associated Press
Democrat John Connally moved around the state by air Friday, looking for votes in the Nov. 6 election. His Republican opponent, Jack Cox, campaigned in East Texas.

Connally started his 48-hour tour of 31 Texas cities Thursday in San Antonio with an attack on Cox and a plea for a record vote Tuesday.

"The people of Texas will do the talking Tuesday, and they will say they don't want a turnout Texan for governor," the former Navy secretary said.

Cox used to be a member of the Democratic party. Connally asserted the people will support him because "they don't want a government of passion and prejudice. They don't want a reign of fear and smear."

He said Cox, during six years in the legislature failed to vote on 706 roll calls.

SMEAR CHARGE
Cox was in Dallas accusing Connally of "trying to blast his way into office with smear tactics."

Cox leveled charge after charge of what he called Connally's smear techniques during a 30-minute live television program.

"He (Connally) couldn't bluff his way into office, he couldn't buy his way in, so now he's trying to blast his way into office with smear tactics," Cox said.

"This is the only field I decline to tangle with him. He is the acknowledged master of political smear."

Cox voiced strong predictions of a GOP victory in Tuesday's election. He said he would file with the state attorney general each year he is in office an affidavit showing all his assets.

GOP ISSUES
The major issues, he said, were a two-party system for Texas, the tourism program, industrial growth, equal rights for women, and "hold the line on taxes."

Cox said his Democratic opponent has refused at every opportunity to a debate with him.

"If we had done this (debated) we could have based the campaign on issues instead of personalities," Cox said.

Cox spoke in Port Arthur Friday, went to Orange for a luncheon and shopping center tour. He will spend the evening in Tyler, then go to Athens for a rally before a football game.

At McAllen, Connally blasted Cox on several issues and said, "I think he (Cox) would probably be a good Boy Scout but he doesn't have any qualities that would qualify him for the governorship."

Connally said "They haven't been running against me." "They've been running against the vice president and the President of the United States," the candidate asserted.

Republicans have charged that Connally is a candidate hand-picked by Vice President Lyndon Johnson.

DEAR ABBY
A Strange Philosophy

DEAR ABBY: My husband asks my advice about money matters, then he does as he pleases and we end up in a financial mess. I am ashamed to admit that we have been married 29 years and don't own a thing. He spends every quarter before he makes it and buys things on time. I keep telling him we need security for our old age and he says, "Let the state bury us." I even tried to get him to start a little savings account and he says that's the trouble with our economy today, everyone is saving, which causes a depression. Money should be kept in circulation at all times. I'm too old to work and he's too sweet to leave. Now what?

TRAPPED
DEAR TRAPPED: The state will "bury you." But if your husband's thinking ever becomes universal, the state (and the people) will be digging its own grave.

DEAR ABBY: I have read your column for years and have never seen a problem like mine. I am a secretary and an excellent one. I am bored to death with my job. My boss travels most of the time and there is nothing for me to do in his absence. Sometimes the phone doesn't ring for weeks. I spend my time reading and writing personal letters. I have even brought knitting to work. I like working for this man when I WORK, but I feel useless 75 per cent of the time. I have told him to get a part-time girl because I am not earning my salary. He says, "You let ME worry about that!" What would you do?

BORED TO DEATH
DEAR BORED: Resign with a letter explaining why. And carry a carbon copy of it when you apply for a more challenging position. You won't be "bored" or jobless long.

DEAR ABBY: My brother-in-law is under the impression that you may take home from a night club, restaurant or hotel, ash trays or anything else that has the establishment's name on it. He claims it is their form of advertising and they expect people to take things. I say it is stealing. I would like to have your opinion on the subject.

DEAR M.: No one has the right to assume he may help himself. A person who would slip items into his pocket (or purse) and rationalize it with the excuse that it's "expected"—or "it's a form of advertising"—is a petty thief or a cheapskate. Or both.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to "PUZZLED WAITRESS": I think the reason most people sit down at a cluttered table before it is cleared off is so they can get to the tip before the waitress does.

Speed Of Buildup Surprised Everyone

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is the second article of the series on the Cuban crisis. Reiman Morris, Associated Press special correspondent and twice Pulitzer Prize winner, tells of the backstage happenings in Washington during the critical days. Today's story digs into the controversial question: Was President Kennedy slow to recognize the Soviet nuclear buildup in Cuba?

BY REIMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Controversy swirls today around the question: Was President Kennedy slow to recognize that the Soviets were molding Cuba into a powerful nuclear gun, aimed straight at the heart of the United States?

Republicans say he was. "Those missile bases were there a long, long time before the President spoke," says Sen Hugh Scott, R-Pa., referring to Kennedy's statement of Oct. 22, when he proclaimed the "quarantine" on offensive weapons to Cuba.

In mid-September, Scott said, the Republicans had "very hard information" about Soviet missile sites in Cuba. The same facts were available to the administration, he says.

Before that, on Sept. 8, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., said he thought a blockade of Cuba to screen ships for incoming war material might be necessary.

MISLEADING DATA
This is what administration authorities say in reply:

"In late August, we began receiving reports from Cuban refugees and other sources of missile sites being built in Cuba. We think this is the same information Keating was getting.

"Every one of those reports was carefully checked. "And in every case, they turned out to be reports of 'Samsites' or 'cruise sites.' " "Samsite" is military shorthand for "surface-to-air missile site." In other words, a form of anti-aircraft. "Cruise site" is a type of coastal defense. Neither has the range to reach the United States. Technically, they could be considered in the category of defense weapons.

The Soviet government had repeatedly told Kennedy that defensive weapons were the only type being installed in Cuba. "He received a stream of assurances, publicly and in private, to this effect," an authority says.

It was not until the week of Oct. 15, when reconnaissance spotted definite evidence of a rapid buildup that, figuratively, the alarm-bell rang, administration officers say.

SPEED OF WORK
In all versions of the story, officials stress the speed of the Soviet construction work — sometimes almost with grudging admiration.

A man who participated in all the decision-making conferences says "only four or five days" elapsed between evidence of the first bulldozer scars and the rise of installations that serve a missile site. "They couldn't have been detected earlier," he says.

Kennedy said in his statement of Oct. 22. "Within the past week, unmistakable evidence has established the fact that a series of offensive missile sites is now in preparation."

"He (Kennedy) was confronted with a set of new facts that required a new decision," an administration officer says.

Thursday, Oct. 18, is a critical point in the story.

On that day, after some 72 hours of intensive conferences, more new reconnaissance evidence from Cuba, and continual briefings based on it, the President was very close to making his decision—an arms blockade on Cuba. The die was not yet cast, but Kennedy was close to it.

GRORYKO VISIT
And on that same day, he met in the White House with the Soviet Foreign Minister, Andrei A. Gromyko. Most of their conversation was about Berlin. Then Kennedy came around to Cuba.

He suddenly rose from his rocking chair, walked out of his office, and returned with copies of his statements in September on Cuba. He read them to Gromyko.

On Sept. 13, he had said: "But let me make this clear once again. If at any time the Communist buildup in Cuba were to endanger or interfere with our security in any way or become an offensive military base of significant capacity for the Soviet Union, then this country will do whatever must be done to protect its own security and that of its allies."

Gromyko repeated the assurances that Soviet actions in Cuba were solely for "the purpose of contributing to the defense capabilities of Cuba."

Meanwhile, the conferences designed to hammer out a course of action were going on, full blast.

NOT THROUGH U.N.
Should the U.S. call on the United Nations to issue a kind of cease-and-desist order to the Soviet Union?

Very early, that was ruled out. "It would only have meant discussions and prolonged delays, talking while the Russians rushed ahead with the work in Cuba," an official said.

There were various military alternatives: a sudden air strike, invasion, a blockade. Each had its own merits. The arguments were hot and heavy. The President did not participate in them.

The quick air strike, some felt, would destroy the sites in a few minutes. Should it be preceded by a warning to the Soviets and other workers to get well away from the regions to come under attack?

"I'll put it this way," says a participant in the discussions. "The President never let the argument get away from the fact that that isn't the way the U.S. operates. Our traditions and morals would preclude a miniature Pearl Harbor in Cuba."

BEST COURSE
Gradually, the consensus seemed to be veering toward the blockade as the best course.

Those in the conferences recognized, however, that the blockade would only stop the inflow of weapons. It would not by itself dismantle the missile sites.

"So if the quarantine didn't work, there was always the possibility of taking a secondary course of action," an authority says.

Top officials of the White House and the Departments of Defense, State and Justice participated in the conferences. Later, two experts on Communist operations were called in. They were Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen and Llewellyn E. Thompson. Both have served as ambassadors to Moscow and have long experience in Soviet affairs.

Their advice was sought on two questions: "What are the Russians up to in Cuba? What will they do if..."

FEW COMMENTS
Kennedy came into the talks only when the conferees had reached a virtual agreement on some specific points. He did not sit in on the long discussions. He seldom commented. Mostly he asked questions—"I want to know how many days this would take," or "who's hauling that?"

Often, he directed further study of a point.

By Saturday, Oct. 20, he was able to say: "All right, we'll go with the blockade. But I want to have another talk in the morning."

THE LORD KNOWS HOW

By T. H. Tarbet, Preacher
Church of Christ, 2000 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1333

"The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished" (II Pet. 2: 9). He not only knows how (a wonderful thought); but the Lord is willing and anxious to deliver us from temptations. However, He does not force upon us his help; and that is why a Christian can fall.

The Lord did not keep Peter from yielding to temptation at Antioch, when Paul had to withstand him to the face because Peter "was to be blamed" (Gal. 2:11).

There are two practical lessons that all need to learn: (1) How to become saved, and (2) how to keep saved. The gospel was given to teach these lessons; and Mr. Siburt, our visiting evangelist, is certainly preaching the gospel in a clear and forceful way, giving all the credit to the Lord for saving us and keeping us saved, while pointing out to man what he must do to avail himself of these supreme needs.

Hear him tonight, Saturday, 7:30 p.m., and Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Next two sermon topics: "A Man Whose Heart the Lord Hardened," and "O Ye of Little Faith." Welcome!

Luncheon Is Held At Coahoma

A covered dish luncheon was attended by 10 members and one guest, Margie Appleton of Big Spring, served by the Coahoma Mary Jane Club Thursday in the home of Mrs. James Coates.

A basket of fall leaves centered the table where the leaf theme was carried out in other appointments.

Mrs. Ted Fowler and Mrs. Bill Milliken, delegates to the polio vaccine project meeting in Big Spring, said that volunteers are to meet at the Coahoma school on Nov. 11. The mass immunization will be from noon until 5 p.m.

The art of finishing plaster plaques was explained by Mrs. Troy Roberts and members displayed handwork and novelties they had made.

A book review by Mrs. Robert Cheopalis will be the program for the Nov. 15 meeting in the home of Mrs. Harold Fraser.

Service Award Made During OWC Luncheon

Mirror decoration, a welcome home salute to the 331st FIS, was featured during the social period preceding the monthly luncheon, business and program for the Officers Wives Club. Held at the Officers Club, the three-hour event was attended by 150 members and guests.

Treble clefs in black and white, arranged with white gladioli and carnations, formed a centerpiece for the main table. The individual tables were centered with turntables, platters and musical notes.

Prior to the luncheon, Chaplain Benjamin F. Meacham talked on the services rendered to the chapel by the OWC. He told of incidents in which the club helped directly, and presented to the group Webb Chapel's Certificate of Service award.

Chaplain Meacham also gave an invocation which was in relation to the current world crisis.

ARTHUR WORRY PRESENTS

A take-off on the Arthur Murray T.V. program, with script by Mrs. Lawrence Casey, was introduced by Mrs. Leonard Einstein. The cast included Arthur Worry, portrayed by Maj. Norman E. Buhner; Mrs. Worry, Mrs. J. P. Smith; Messy Arnez, Maj. Casey; Lucy Falls, Mrs. A. K. Halverson; Chester, Maj. Sherrod Osborne; Zsa Zsa Glamour, Mrs. Casey; Marlon Brandy, Lt. John Holden; Tallulah Blackhead, Mrs. P. E. Lee; Sexy Doll, Mrs. Max Odle; Capt. Bob Daley was the announcer, giving the cigarette commercial.

Presented by members of the M. and S. and CE Groups, the program featured music, planned by Mrs. Veryl Hewitt who was also in charge of decorations. Mrs. Buhner was the "applause meter."

The humorous skit concluded with presentation of winners, a finale, dancing by the Worrys and a closing commercial by Daley.

Mrs. James Gehrig, president of OWC, introduced the newcomers, Mrs. R. D. Wolfe, Mrs. C. H. Smith, Mrs. L. J. McNeil, Mrs. R. L. Skinner, Mrs. J. B. Bickenbach, Mrs. C. R. Thomas, Mrs. B. W. Campbell, Mrs. B. D. Giere, Mrs. R. L. Clark, Mrs. F. N. Sanchez, Mrs. R. J. Sitarz, Mrs. G. B. Hanley, Mrs. G. H. Smith, Mrs. R. J. Lohr, Mrs. R. S. Ryan, Mrs. W. J. O'Neill and Mrs. F. L. Bowers.

Guests introduced were Mrs. L. M. Crow Jr., Mrs. R. J. Ream, Mrs. R. L. Parker and Mrs. Jim Zack. Mrs. Gehrig, on behalf of the club, extended a farewell to Mrs. C. W. Harris who is leaving soon.

Following officers' reports, members voted to accept the annual budget; to pass amendments to the OWC constitution; and to have an OWC cocktail party during the Christmas season.

A subscription to the US Lady was received by Mrs. William A. Clair. Door prizes were won by Mrs. J. L. Martin, Mrs. Kenneth Somers, Mrs. W. H. Baxter, Mrs. Osborne and Mrs. Gerald E. Terreaux.

Mrs. Gehrig invited participation and attendance in the Flowers In Flight Show to be held at the Big Spring Country Club Saturday. She said that entries would be accepted from 10 until 12 a.m. at the club.

She introduced Mrs. Thayne

Thomas as the newly appointed coordinator for OWC; and said that the January luncheon would be held on the 10th instead of the 3rd, with Student Squadron Wives, hostesses.

Mrs. Gehrig also requested that each member attending the luncheon, Dec. 6, bring a Christmas ornament for decorating the adolescent ward at the State Hospital. She asked for volunteer helpers for the project. She said volunteers are needed for stuffing envelopes in the TB drive, according to a note from Mrs. Clyde Thomas, TB Seal Sale chairman.

Saturday Is The Day

'Flowers In Flight' To Be Staged Tomorrow

Entries in the Flowers In Flight Show, tomorrow at the Big Spring Country Club, will be accepted from 10 a.m. until noon at the club. Public attendance will be from 3 until 7:30 p.m. at the club on Driver Road.

Sponsored by the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs, the show is planned and will be executed by National Council member clubs according to standards recognized by National Council and in conformity with National Council and Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. Objectives:

The general chairman of the show will be authorized to uphold her interpretations of the Handbook for Flower Shows and "Directive II" in case of any question of policy or procedure in the execution of this show.

The Standard System of Awarding will be used. The show will be judged by accredited judges of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc.

The classification committee will pass on all exhibits. Any entry which fails to pass classification will be plainly marked "not for competition," and remain in the designated place for the duration of the public hours of the show. No one will be admitted to the entry area after 12 o'clock, noon; entry books will be closed for entries at 12:15 o'clock; and judging will begin at 1 p.m.

The four divisions to be judged are Division I-Horticulture; Division II-Artistic Design; Division III-Educational - Flying Lessons; and Division IV-Junior.

The Big Spring Garden Club Council is comprised of the Big Spring Garden Club, Planters' Garden Club, Rosebud Garden Club, Spaders Garden Club, Four O'Clock Garden Club and After Five Garden Club.

Chapter Has Ceremony Of Jewels

The Alpha Chi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha held a jewel pin ceremony at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant Thursday evening for Mrs. Paschal Odum and Mrs. Frank Perry.

Mrs. W. G. Mitchell, sorority president, conducted the ceremony in the conference room of the restaurant, where tables were decorated in the sorority colors of blue and gold.

Mrs. Marvin Steen accepted new pledges in a separate ritual.

A book review, "Big Spring," written by Shine Phillips, was given by Mrs. J. W. Dickens, Mu Kappa Chapter.

Yellow jonquils filled the brass urn centerpiece. Place cards were miniature rockets on launching pads, carrying out the rush theme, "Orbiting Into Space With ESA."

Mrs. Bert Smith, 1006 Stadium, will be hostess at the next regular meeting on Nov. 8.

Ruth Class Will Provide Bulletin

The Ruth Class of Park Methodist Church had a social gathering in the home of Mrs. Minnie Cannon Thursday evening with 10 members attending.

Mrs. John Knowles was elected treasurer to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. W. B. Morris.

Furnishing church bulletins will be one of the class projects this year.

A reading, "Lord, Help Me to Advance," was given by Mrs. Ruth Coates, with prayers led by Mrs. A. F. Bearden, Mrs. Abbie Anderson and Mrs. E. R. Thompson.

Wife Of Big Spring Man Stage Company Member

David Ross's Fourth Street Theatre, New York City, is reopened this week by the newly formed Writers Stage Company, a repertory group devoting itself exclusively to the finding and production of new plays by young American writers.

The acting company—a nucleus of seven—includes Beverlee McKinsey, wife of Mark McKinsey, Park Hill Terrace, and mother of Scott McKinsey who is residing here with his father.

Mrs. McKinsey, a native of McAllister Okla., and her husband a former Midland resident, are graduates of the University of Oklahoma. He is in the general development division of W. R. Grace & Co.

Mrs. McKinsey has been with her family in Big Spring on two occasions since their arrival here. She is presently in New York playing in the company's production, "P.S. 193." She is an experienced television star, having played in a regular hour-long program with a Boston, Mass. TV station; worked in TV commercials; modeled and appeared in various stage productions.

Her son, Scott, attends the Jack and Jill School here.

Christmas Gifts Collected By Lomax HD Club

Christmas gifts for McKnight Sanitarium patients to mail home, were brought to the home of Mrs. Neil Fryar at the Lomax Home Demonstration Club meeting Thursday at 2 p.m.

The hostess gave the devotion from Romans. Roll call was answered with blessings of the year. Wash cloths were distributed to be made into slippers for Big Spring State Hospital patients.

Eight members were served refreshments from a lace covered table centered with a permatized fall arrangement.

The Nov. 15 meeting will be a 11:30 a.m. luncheon at the Lomax Community Center with members' husbands as guests. Each member was asked to bring a salad and dessert.

Birthday Is Noted

The birthday anniversary of Miss Melody Dabney, daughter of the Ray Dabneys, 2202 Alabama, was observed Thursday evening at their home.

Attending the second anniversary event were the grandparents, the G. W. Dabneys and the H. J. Ages. Also present were the Jim Raouls and W. W. Lanings.

Secretaries Make Plans For An Installation Banquet, Program

Preparations for an installation banquet and charter presentation are being made by the Howard County Legal Secretaries Association. The newly organized group completed plans at the home of Mrs. B. R. Stewart Monday evening. The banquet is slated for Saturday in the Blue Room of the Cosden Country Club, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

It was reported that there would be several out of town guests, state officers and local dignitaries, taking part in the presentation of the charter. The installing officer is to be Mrs. Elaine Talley, president of the National Association.

A World Gift Show presentation was agreed upon for the benefit of the chapter's education fund in supporting H.C.J.C. classes in legal secretarial work. Also the fund supports training programs for young women desiring to become legal secretaries. The show will be held in the Rock Room of Master's Cafeteria Saturday, Nov. 10, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Representing all legal offices in town, several county offices and those handling legal instruments and documents throughout the city, the group is comprised of 20 charter members.

PENNEY'S

60th ANNIVERSARY

Our Greatest Founder's Day In 60 Years!

THESE VALUES STARTED 60 YEARS AGO WITH J. C. PENNEY. They started with a man. They started with an idea. VALUES that were service. VALUES that knew no limits...not in the efforts buyers made to seek them out...or the Penney Company took to test them...not in the careful figuring to bring them down to the absolute minimum in price. The idea grew...brought forth in one store, spreading to 1700.

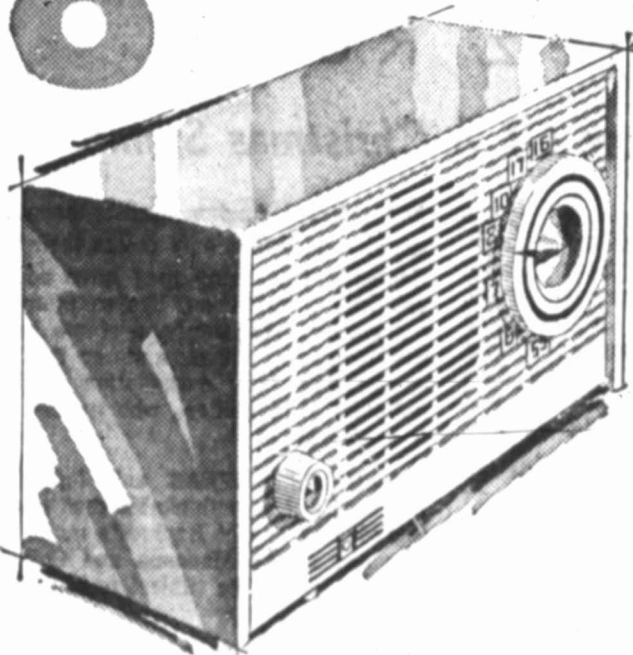

And the Penney Company never stopped looking and learning and leading in bringing America VALUES...not for 3 generations. To thank America for the overwhelming response to our efforts, to herald the promise of even better values with better service, Penney's looks to the next 60 years starting with this great event.

A Devotional For The Day

God is my strength and power; and he maketh my way perfect. (II Samuel 22:33.)
PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee that we do not have to walk in darkness. Thou art our strength and light. Lead us this day in paths of righteousness. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

Dangerous Business

Officers bring a disturbing report of some few youngsters inhaling fumes from rubber or plastic cements in order to experience the "kick" that it is reputed to give.

Parents, teachers and others should get the word around that this is dangerous business—dangerous in the extreme for those who do it. Repeated use of this inhalant can cause brain damage.

Misusing this material is like playing with a rattlesnake. Maybe a snake might be better, for death would be merciful as compared to self-induced brain damage.

Give Him The Boot

The firing of Krishna Menon as defense minister in India is being applauded outside of India as well as in. Nothing would please the free world more than to have him booted entirely out of the Cabinet.

From a relations standpoint, however, a complete ouster of Menon would ease the strain a lot. The ill-tempered Menon has gone out of his way to criticize and attack the policies of the United States and at the same time has bent over backwards in favor of the Communist bloc.

This was what he called neutrality. Menon has had an unusual ability to add insult to injury. Maybe events are unmasking him; maybe the ailing Nehru will be compelled by a fight for his country's life that he has been wrong on policy and on Menon.

May Not Escape It Next Time

WASHINGTON — How close the brush with war came—and a war that could have rapidly escalated from the start in a Cuba bombing and invasion—perhaps only the President himself can say. But it was so close that those who took part in the hour-by-hour ordeal in the eye of the storm have been left with a shaken sense that it must not be allowed to happen again.

ONCE THE JUDGMENT had been reached that America's security was gravely endangered then there appeared no choice but the one the President took. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is reported to have given the Cabinet a conservative appraisal that the stationing of intermediate and medium-range ballistic missiles in Cuba would double the Soviet Union's nuclear potential.

In the aftermath it is not merely the closeness of the brush but the terrifying feeling at the climax of the crisis that events were moving with the inevitability of an avalanche. The loud onrushing roar seemed beyond the power of anyone to abate. And the haunting conviction remains that next time it will not be stopped and that reason and patience will be stretched beyond the breaking point.

BOTH SECRETARY of State Dean Rusk and the President's adviser on security affairs, McGeorge Bundy, were towers of strength in the frantic hours on the brink. But it was, above all, the President whose calm and restraint were unbroken. He held with unshaken singleness of aim to the center point that no negotiation was possible until Premier Khrushchev accepted the removal of the missiles from the Cuban bases.

THE NOTES sent by the White House were masterpieces both for what they said and what they did not say. Without any bluster or invective—in fact, in a civil and responsive tone—they put the case for dismantling in unmistakable language.

The heartfelt and profound reaction with the immediate danger past is that measures must be taken to try to prevent such teetering on the brink. Secretary Rusk intends to put a new and forceful push behind the effort to reach agreement on disarmament. As a neglected stepchild it badly needs the full support of those at the top who alone can give it the highest priority.

THE ASSUMPTION is that the Kremlin was another eye of the storm and that the same wracking and tearing uncertainty prevailed in the critical hours of Saturday night and early Sunday morning. If this assumption is correct then Khrushchev may be ready for the same realistic approach to the beginning of arms agreement that does not stop with an endless quibble over technicalities.

The sadness and dismay of the Cuban exiles is understandable. The thousands living in Miami, who had believed in Castro in the first instance as a liberator from the Batista dictatorship and who suffered a bitter disillusion, want to see their country freed of the Communist yoke. But to believe that it can be freed by an American invasion and a new order restored in a peaceful Cuba is to cherish an illusion hardly less myopic than that Castro was a liberator.

WITH THE PRESENT defenses of Cuba an invasion would require a minimum of

LONG, LONG TRAIL A-WINDING

James Marlow

Cuban Crisis Hurt Disarmament

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of truly big casualties of the Cuban crisis is world disarmament, unless the Soviets cave in on this, too.

The problem can be simply stated: The United States has always argued that before there could be any disarmament there must be international inspection to prevent cheating.

The Soviet Union has rejected inspection. This, it said, was just a form of spying.

THE RESULT has been more and more armaments on both sides. But the Russians lied about the missiles they were setting up in Cuba. They insisted up to the last that they were just giving Fidel Castro defensive weapons.

Then when President Kennedy forced a showdown—with photographs of the missile bases in Cuba and a demand they be removed—Premier Khrushchev no longer pretended the weapons in Cuba were just defensive.

He backed down and agreed to remove them.

This therefore has a direct bearing on any future American-Soviet talks about disarmament because of the obvious question:

HOW COULD the Russians ever be believed—if they agreed to destroy some of the weapons—unless there was a fool-proof inspection system to make sure they weren't lying again?

If now the Russians keep their word and remove the missiles from Cuba this still will be no reason for the United States to take their uncheated word on disarmament in the future.

The Russians promised to pull their weapons out of Cuba because they knew, if they didn't, the United States might invade Castro's domain.

If that happened and the Soviets didn't go to Castro's aid, they would have suffered a worse defeat and humiliation than by meekly agreeing to remove the missiles which would have been the cause of war in the first place.

AND THEY probably wouldn't have gone to his help because Cuba was the wrong place for them to have a war.

After the Russian performance in Cuba, American public opinion probably would prevent any president from making an American-Soviet disarmament agreement without inspection.

Khrushchev agreed to some kind of U.S. inspection of the missile removal although he never spelled out how, either on the spot as it happened or afterwards when the inspectors could be shown empty bases but not missiles.

Thursday night Castro announced he wouldn't permit any U.S. inspection at all. This, intentionally or not, enables Khrushchev to avoid the inspection he agreed to if there's no change in the situation.

THE SOVIET lies about the missile buildup in Cuba will come back to haunt them if in the future they were to seriously want disarmament but balk at inspection.

It's questionable either side so far has ever truly wanted disarmament, despite all their talks. And, for some time to come, probably neither side will want it.

The 17 years since World War II have been a period of frantic development of both nuclear weapons and long-range missiles which, in the possession of either side, would be the best insurance against attack, as Cuba proved.

But until recently the United States and Russia had pretty much of a monopoly in this field of fantastic weaponry. The monopoly is sure to end and is ending now. France has been building its own atomic force.

The Elder Dreams

NEW YORK (AP)—As long as a man breathes he cherishes some hidden dreams of glory.

When young he usually day-dreams about unlikely things—such as finding a million dollars in the street, becoming a baseball idol, or having a famous movie star fall in love with him.

Some of these unattainable goals gleam hidden in his secret heart as long as he lives, although he comes to realize how childish they are. But ordinarily as a man adventures his way through middle age, most of his daydreams become almost wishfully practical rather than extravagant.

Here is one middle-aged man's catalog of unachieved ambitions: To climb to the top of the Statue of Liberty.

Find a reasonably-priced hair tonic that really would make a fellow irresistible to the ladies.

Be able to tie his shoelaces in the morning without breathing hard.

Listen to two symphonies, and then be able to tell one from the other.

Win at least one argument sometime in his life with a traffic cop, a bus driver and his boss.

Find a necktie that can't be stained—even if you dip it in a gravy bowl.

Learn to identify on sight all the flowers, trees and birds a fellow meets during a woodland walk.

Read the novel "War and Peace" all the way through.

Visit a midist colony—purely on a scientific research basis, of course.

Be able to help a teen-age daughter with her home work in algebra.

Invent a tasty new food that would automatically convert fat into muscle.

Create a substance that would melt all paper clips and carbon paper in a thousand-mile radius, thus making it impossible to make unnecessary copies of unnecessary business correspondence.

Find a doctor who could tell a man how, without taking pills, capsules or potions, he could wake up every morning feeling as good as he did in 1937.

Get a law passed making it illegal for any high school or college youth to appear in public with a duck-tailed haircut and wearing trousers so tight they look like they were glued to him.

Get another law passed making it a felony for any American girl or woman to wear mascara during daylight hours—or purple lipstick at any time.

Find some kind of a new, interesting pleasure for middle-aged people that wouldn't leave them feeling tired or guilty—or cause them to put on weight.

Don't Try To Stunt Growth Of Big Boy

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: We have an adopted son, not blood related. He is 13 years old, six feet tall and weighs 160 pounds.

Do you think something should be done to check his growth, or do you consider it wise to tamper with nature? I don't want him to be enormous. It seems that over-tall people are weak and unhealthy.

He is a nice looking and intelligent boy but not particularly sports minded. He would rather read or watch TV.

His mother was five feet 11 inches and we were told his father was tall—Mrs. P. B. He's going to be big, all right. But no, don't try to stunt his growth. You can't do it without wrecking his health, and probably even then you couldn't control his height.

I'm not arbitrarily object to "tampering with nature." Plastic surgery such as repairing a cleft palate, could be considered "tampering." So could many things we do. But we do them only when we can see sure benefit and no harm.

I'm glad you called him "son." It's a sign of an adoption working out the way it should. Anyway, boys can have growing spurts at somewhat different ages. At 13, he's sure to grow some more, but perhaps not as much as you think.

Put out of your mind, though, the idea that height implies being "weak and unhealthy." That isn't true. For a few examples, how about professional basketball players? I know an artist who is only an inch less than seven feet. And a couple of radio and TV announcers who have to duck their heads getting out of the elevator, but are personable, healthy and earning excellent livings.

If your big son isn't especially interested in sports, that's all right. Reading is fine. But I hope he'll grow up knowing that a certain amount of daily exercise all his life is going to make him healthier and happier, and probably longer-lived.

With a mother who was five-eleven, it's entirely expectable that he should be several inches taller than that.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please advise me to a cure for bleeding caused by hemorrhoids. Can it be diagnosed by X-ray?—H. B.

It can be cured by surgery. For details, send 20 cents and a stamped self-addressed envelope to me in care of The Big Spring Herald, and request my booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," which covers related troubles, too. No, you can't diagnose it by X-ray, but there's no need to. Direct visual examination is possible and, of course, preferable. For bleeding higher in the colon, X-rays can help diagnoses.

Dear Dr. Molner: How often should a woman have a Pap smear test?—Mrs. E. S.

Every six to 12 months after age 40. Oftener if there is abnormal bleeding or any suspicious appearance of the cervix.

"Don't Quit Because of Arthritis" is the title of my leaflet designed to help all who suffer the aches and pains of arthritis. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of handling.

Dr. Molner is always happy to hear from his readers, but he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters due to the great number received daily. Whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Galleons Bow To A New Concept

There are lessons to be learned from history, and our generation seems to be minding the teacher.

For example, there are certain principles in the drama of the Spanish Armada which are fully recognized today and which our scientists and political and military leaders are following.

KING PHILIP II of Spain, in 1588 A.D., fitted out 131 huge galleons and many smaller ships, sending the Armada with 19,000 marines and 8,000 sailors to conquer England. The English fleet, under Lord Howard and Sir Francis Drake, numbered no more than 80 ships, but it beat the Spaniards back from Plymouth, chased them to Dunkirk, whipped them again, and finally drove the panicked Spaniards into the North Sea where a hurricane took care of what was left of Phillip's mighty Armada.

The lesson in the story of the Invincible Armada is to be found in two opposing principles — the one holding that, if a thing is good, make it bigger; the other holding, if a thing is good, let's make it better.

The Spanish galleons were descended from the ancient galleys of the Mediterranean. In that comparatively windless region, sails were not of much importance, and the galleys were propelled by oars. When civilization advanced into the Atlantic, men developed the art of sailing.

BUT THE SPANIARDS, dealing with both oceans, continued to rely on the ancient galley, added sails and guns, and thus invented the galleon. Northward, the English faced the stormy Atlantic Ocean and the North Sea. They were forced to become dexterous at seamanship. The rolling waves required English gunners to perfect their aim. Piracy and privateering required development of small, fast, highly maneuverable ships.

When the tiny English fleet finally met the Armada in their big showdown, the galleons proved to be so clumsy as to be sitting ducks, while the light but powerfully gunned English ships darted quickly among the foe, moving in close and fast to punch holes at the water line, then speeding far out to rain volleys through the decks — and never sitting still long enough to present a fair target for Spanish guns.

THE GALLEONS were veritable floating fortresses for their day, and by all the rules of Spanish logic, should have been invincible.

But then there was that other rule of logic which gave England supremacy of the seas — one basic idea, or design, can be carried beyond its ultimate usefulness; at which time, it is far better to start trying new ideas.

Today, our leaders seem to be aware that any weapon, any strategy, may at any time become outmoded, and they thus are following up every new idea and fully developing those that prove workable.

THERE IS ANOTHER parallel between our time and the time of the Armada — it was England's victory which spread Anglo-Saxon institutions over a great part of the world, and it was Spain's defeat which ended what might have been world domination by an authoritarian culture.

All of which means, as long as Americans keep their thinking caps on and their spirits high, I'm not worried about the outcome of the Cold War. —BOB SMITH

In Defense Of A Christmas Stamp

Maybe it isn't art; maybe it isn't a true expression of the Christmas spirit. Still and all, I like the first Yuletide stamp that Uncle Sam has ever issued. I wish the critics, who are legion, would keep in mind that this stamp is a first attempt and not discourage Uncle Sam so much that he throws up his hands and lets 50 years pass before he tries again.

GRANTED that the stamp's design is no great shakes and that Leonardo da Vinci could undoubtedly have done better, nonetheless the nation has its first Christmas stamp, and that's something for which to be grateful.

Newspaper editorials have damned the design—a Christmas wreath and two lighted candles—as banal, trite and pedestrian. Individuals are raising a hue and cry that it has no religious significance and hence is unworthy of the holiday season.

MY MAIL on the subject has even included loud and angry letters denouncing the stamp as the product of a godless administration, although I count that Monday lost whose low, descending sun sees no newspaper pictures of the First Family going to or from church the previous day.

Other even more impassioned correspondents see the stamp as a victory of atheistic communism that, somehow, is running the Post Office Department. All this and a five-cent stamp, too, after the New Year on a letter to Mom!

FOR THE LIFE of me, to whom Christmas is as wondrous, dear and happy a celebration as when I was a child, I cannot agree with the above estimates or interpret the stamp as other than a tribute to the joyous Yuletide season. Surely, a holly wreath and candles, which are part and parcel of Christmas—and will be used in thousands of churches as Christmas decor—are not offensive to religious feeling, dignity or good taste.

In our pluralistic society the religious and political fundamentalists cannot demand a card that only meets their specifications. The stamp may have no overt religious connotations, like so many critics protest. Yet, surely, a stamp bearing the likeness of Christ, a stamp that must of necessity bear cancellation marks, is unthinkable to millions who would regard it as sacrilege.

PERHAPS I SPEAK only for myself. But to me it is unthinkable that a stamp reproducing one of Raphael's magnificent canvases of the Madonna and Child, for example, should be subject to cancellation marks.

There are, too, devout Christians in this country who believe that any likeness of God or the Holy Family is idolatry. In a pluralistic society it is quite possible that the best Christmas stamp is one that is a symbol of the season, such as the Post Office Department is issuing in 1962—a symbol in which all Americans can find recognition and joy. Let us see in this first Christmas stamp a good beginning with hope that as the years go by it will constantly improve in artistic merit.

THERE HAS BEEN a great deal of discussion of Christmas cards in recent years, with scalding complaints that many fail to reflect the meaning of Christmas. Where the cards are vulgar and in bad taste, I heartily agree.

But for 30 years I have been receiving from one of the most devout Christians I know, James A. Farley, a simple white card bordered in red and green with a legend wishing its recipient a happy Christmas. There is nothing innately "religious" about the card. Jim keeps Christmas in his heart.

That is where Christmas is best celebrated—in the heart. Uncle Sam's first Christmas stamp is only a reminder that there is where Christmas truly dwells. (Copyright, 1962, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Surveillance—And Reporting

WASHINGTON—The U-2 has been vindicated. Without the photographs made from U-2 planes flying over Cuba, it might have been difficult to convince the members of the United Nations and the world in general that the safety of the United States was actually threatened by missiles aimed at us from Soviet bases 90 miles away.

Instead of manifesting a sense of humiliation in May 1960, as if something wrong had been done, the United States should have staunchly and repeatedly defended the use of the U-2 by insisting that surveillance over the Soviet Union was absolutely necessary to protect the free world against surprise attack.

THE U-2 HAS done a marvelous job of photography in Cuba in recent weeks. While the U-2 flights were discontinued over the Soviet Union in 1960, they were not abandoned wherever else they have been useful. Just what do the U-2 photographs show? They do not reveal such things as the kind of troops on the ground, but there are many objects which are too large to be concealed. The appearance of things on one day can be compared with what has been introduced on the scene the next day, and so on. Constant surveillance is necessary in the photographic operation.

IT TAKES a big staff of technical experts to analyze the photographs brought back by the U-2's. Thousands of feet of motion picture film are obtained and enlarged many times. Perhaps only a few feet selected from many reels tell the vital story.

But the U-2 alone cannot do the whole job of detecting enemy preparations for military attack. Secret agents, operating inside a country, are absolutely necessary. Also, evaluation must be impartial and without any preconceived notions by administration officials as to what policy the administration would like to follow. A debate has arisen here as to when the Pentagon and the White House really found out about the Soviet missiles in Cuba, and why, if known earlier, something wasn't done about it sooner than October 21 and 22.

AUTHORITATIVE SOURCES say that the Washington government knew about the build-up from the time it began in August and was kept constantly informed by secret agents. Large crates were seen being unloaded from ships and frequent reports about this were received here. Then why was the risk taken and no move made earlier to checkmate the Soviets?

There has been no satisfactory answer to the question of why a risk to the national safety was taken for so many days in a nuclear age. Prime Minister Macmillan has just told the British Parliament that President Kennedy made his decision on October 20. What would have been the plight of the United States if Khrushchev or Castro had decided to fire the missiles or launch planes in a surprise attack on October 25? It would have been of little avail for the administration then to have argued that it was still studying the "hard core" of evidence.

THE FACT IS that the United States government did know in mid-August what was happening and what it could mean militarily. That's what its intelligence system is for, and there is every reason to believe that the CIA and military intelligence units have been functioning efficiently and effectively in the Cuban situation for many months. Policy-making is quite another matter.

IT STILL is a mystery why the administration did not properly evaluate the data it had prior to Tuesday, October 16, and waited so long before acting. Doubtless an opportunity will be afforded next January for congressional committees to discuss in executive session all the facts, just as happened when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee investigated the Eisenhower administration's handling of the U-2 flight over the Soviet Union in 1960. For the representatives of the people ought to be accurately informed whether the lives of the American people were or were not safeguarded from August to October 1962, when our principal adversary did establish missile bases in Cuba ready to fire at many American cities. Fugitive Financier Returns

Edward M. Gilbert, 38, center, financier who fled to Brazil last June, is taken into custody by U.S. Marshal Anthony E. Marasco, left, after arriving at New York's Idlewild Airport. At right is Gilbert's attorney, Arnold Bauman. Gilbert fled to Brazil after being charged with misappropriating $2 million from the E. L. Bruce hardwood flooring firm of which he was president.

Normal Sounds Of Campus Life Heard At Ole Miss

By BEN THOMAS
 OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Normal sounds of campus life—rallying cries for a football team—returned to the University of Mississippi in the wake of a stern warning by Chancellor J. D. Williams against rowdiness.

More than 1,000 students gleefully yelled insults Thursday night, but this time they were directed at James H. Meredith, the Air Force veteran who became the first Negro ever knowingly admitted to Ole Miss.

Instead, the students aimed their yells against Louisiana State University, the Ole Miss football rival Saturday night.

A short distance away Meredith, 29, remained in his two-room apartment in Baxter Hall where combat-ready military police guard all entrances with fixed bayonets.

day by the Student Judicial Council.

Earlier this week, protests against Meredith reached their highest peak since the bloody rioting of Sept. 30 which left two dead and scores injured. Monday and Tuesday night a barrage of firecrackers—mostly the loud-sounding ones called cherry bombs—were hurled at Meredith's room.

During the height of Monday night's demonstrations, an MP fired his rifle and the bullet went through the third-floor window of a dormitory across from his post outside Meredith's hall.

INVESTIGATING

An official Army statement said only that MPs were investigating "the firing into the air by one soldier," but the place where a bullet gouged into a wall of Mayes Hall was viewed by newsmen and students for three days. University maintenance crews put fresh plaster on the deep hole Thursday.

A pro-segregation Citizens Council meeting was held in downtown Oxford Thursday night. About 50 persons, including a dozen or more Ole Miss students, attended. The session authorized the council's executive committee to draft and issue a resolution condemning what it called "brutalities by Negro MPs."

A student told the council one white soldier and one Negro soldier were in the area from which the rifle was fired but that he didn't know which one fired the shot.

HARASSMENT

A council official urged that a telephone harassment campaign be instituted against Meredith and faculty members accused of integrationist viewpoints.

In another development, Rep. John Bell Williams, D-Miss., urged Army Secretary Cyrus R. Vance to see that firearms are taken away from soldiers stationed on the Ole Miss campus. Williams said the weapons were "totally unnecessary and can serve only to cause trouble and maybe death."

SWIFT ACTION

"Swift and drastic disciplinary action, including expulsion" was promised by the chancellor in two speeches Thursday to nearly all of the male students.

"The university could lose its accreditation if there are further breakdowns in student behavior," Williams said. "An institution can retain its accreditation only so long as it maintains on its campus

Parker Has Long Time To Wait For Jury Trial

Jerry Lee Parker, under indictment for the Aug. 26 murder of Stanley Williams, 90-year-old retired farmer, will probably not come to trial before January or February, 1963.

Parker, who was indicted Thursday and who is being held in county jail in lieu of $10,000 bond, has admitted, according to Gil Jones, district attorney, that he battered Williams with a heavy bludgeon, inflicting injuries which took the man's life two days later.

Jones said that he will not have an opportunity to try Parker before next year. He pointed out he already has two capital cases slated for disposition—both of which will require special venues. In addition, there are 15 or 20 other criminal matters which are due to be tried.

He also has a murder case to try in Martin County which will require a special venue.

He has not decided, he said, whether either of the two capital cases pending in this county will be set for trial on the next criminal jury docket which is to be called Nov. 26.

The murder case pending is against Joe Torres, charged with the April 18 slaying of Andrew

Jury Indicts Judge, 13 Others In Slant Cases

QUITMAN (AP)—Gregg County Judge Earl Sharp and 13 other persons, most of them well known in East Texas oil circles, were indicted Thursday by the Wood County grand jury here.

The Texas House Investigating Committee, probing slanted hole oil wells, has tried at least twice to question Sharp. Each time he has been reported ill in the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

The Gregg County jurist is accused in one count of bribery and two counts of thefts in the indictments.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson made the announcement of the indictments in Austin.

Ass. Atty. Gen. Davis McAngus assisted County and Dist. Atty. Jim Flynn and Asst. County Atty. Bob Douglas in presenting charges to the grand jury meeting in Quitman last week.

Flynn said here the indictments were returned after the grand jury heard testimony from "about 30 witnesses."

All the indictments were on charges growing out of oil well operations in the Quitman and Hawkins fields, he said.

Flynn said the indictments climaxed four days of hearings over a week-long period. The jury, he said, is recessed until Monday.

Others named in the indictments and allegations included:

Leon Gibson, Kilgore, conspiracy to commit theft; H. M. Harrington Jr., Longview, four counts of conspiracy to commit theft and one of theft; Ralph Masad, Kilgore, conspiracy to commit theft; Reid Allgood, Longview, three counts conspiracy to commit theft; Charles W. Lutes, Longview, four conspiracy to commit theft and two counts theft; J. W. Baton, Kilgore, two conspiracy to commit theft; Douglas Godfrey, Kilgore, two counts conspiracy to commit theft; J. W. Tyner, Tyler, accomplice to theft; L. D. Murphy, Kilgore, acceptance of a bribe; J. K. Maxwell, Kilgore, conspiracy to commit theft; H. C. Jones, Kilgore, conspiracy to commit theft; J. G. Walker Jr., Tyler, conspiracy to commit theft and four theft; Murphy, Tyner and the Maxwell brothers, Jones and Lutes

Oil Advisory Panel Forms

AUSTIN (AP)—The Independent Advisory Committee, a group of oil industry representatives appointed by the Railroad Commission to advise on oil regulations, held its organizational meeting Wednesday.

The committee is composed of representatives of major oil and gas producers, independent operators and oil and gas associations.

Commission chairman W. J. Murray told the group that the commission's only request is "to study or not to study anything you want and advise us."

Murray said the commission would make suggestions of study topics but "We won't breathe down your necks."

He told the committee that the commission would like to have suggestions on the problems of water pollution, gas-oil ratio reporting and perhaps on the method of oil allocation.

Committee chairman Jim Russell of Abilene appointed a procedures subcommittee "to help guide in the topics we will want to consider."

The full committee will hold its next meeting in Dallas Nov. 19.

Dave Beck Freed In Labor Law Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Dave Beck, the former laundry truck driver who was a millionaire by the time he stepped out as head of the Teamsters Union, won another court fight Thursday night.

A federal court jury acquitted him of charges that he illegally borrowed $200,000 from trucking concerns. Acquitted also were the two trucking executives and three corporations charged with him as a result of the 1954 transaction. But prison still awaits the 68-year-old former labor leader who preceded James R. Hoffa as boss of the vast Teamsters organization. Beck was temporarily released from a federal prison near Seattle to stand trial here.

The government contended that the loan in 1954 violated Taft-Hartley Act restrictions on relationships between union representatives and management.

San Cristobal Missile Site

The Defense Department in Washington released this low level photograph, made Oct. 23, of the medium range ballistic missile site under construction in the San Cristobal area of Cuba. A line of oxidizer tank trailers is at center. Added since Oct. 14, when the site was earlier photographed, are fuel tank trailers, a missile shelter tent, and other equipment. The missile erector lies under a canvas cover. Evident also is extensive vehicle trackage and the construction of cable lines to control areas. Upper right portion of the photograph is an unreproducible map.

Math Session Set Saturday

Mathematics to meet the needs of the space age will be stressed at a meeting of the West Texas School Study Council Saturday in Lamesa. Some 50 mathematics teachers from Big Spring elementary schools are expected to attend the session.

Work is currently being done to acquaint local teachers with this new concept in mathematics instruction and the Big Spring Independent School District will probably institute it more fully next year, Sebron B. Williams, assistant superintendent, said.

Under the new method, students are introduced to elementary concepts of geometry and higher mathematics earlier in school life. Early acquaintance with the subject leads to easier mastery in later grades.

Work sessions begin at 9:15 a.m. with Dr. H. H. Walbesser, a member of the University of Texas mathematics staff, presenting problems submitted to him by elementary teachers. These include such common problems as slow learners, difficulties with division, accuracy in numbers and scheduling of homework.

Remotivation Society Planned

Organization of a Remotivation Society will be the object of a meeting scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mary Hughes, 1506 Tucson. All persons who have completed one of the classes in remotivation offered at the Big Spring State Hospital are invited to attend.

Glue Sniffers Are Jailed Here

Deputy sheriffs and Bob Darland, county juvenile officer, are battling a new sort of crime wave—plastic glue sniffing.

Two sniffers, aged 10 and 12 years respectively, were jailed in the juvenile ward Thursday. Two others were held in the ward earlier for several days.

Eleven others, known to be addicted to the habit, are at large and are being sought. The oldest is 16, the youngest around eight years.

Fern Cox, deputy sheriff, Thursday afternoon freed five of the young sniffers in the attic of an old house on the North Side. He managed to grab two but three scampers away.

They were all busy sniffing at rolls of old rags heavily saturated in the plastic glue used by model makers. Some chemical in this glue is highly intoxicating and the young addicts get "high" on the fumes. The practice is considered extremely dangerous as continued sniffing of the compound can cause permanent brain injury.

Cox said that the youngsters he cornered in the old house had torn an old bed spread into strips which they had smeared heavily with the plastic cement. They rolled these strips into compact rolls and placed it in their mouth holding it in place crosswise with their teeth. Apparently, he said, they hold their noses and suck air through the rag into their lungs. The attic floor was covered with emptied tubes which had contained the plastic cement.

The officer was led to the young gang by a dealer who has been disturbed by extremely heavy demand for the cement.

Agents Elect

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Mrs. Madeline Kennedy of Kingsville was named Thursday as president-elect of the County Home Demonstration Agent Association of Texas. Loreta Allen of Abilene, named president-elect last year, was elevated to the presidency.

Mormons Conduct Missionary Work

Elder Ronald Schetselaar, whose home is in Salt Lake City, has joined Elder Milton Farar, Yuma, Ariz., here as a missionary for the Church of Jesus Christ, Latter Day Saints.

Their ministry is independent of the branch of the church which is located at 1803 Wason Road, although they encourage attendance at the services there at 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Sundays. Most of their work is done in visitation with their message about Christ and the church.

Elder Farar, who has been here about five months, plans to return to school, probably at Arizona State. He attended Eastern Arizona before coming here. Elder Schetselaar plans, in about five months, to enter either Utah State at Logan or Brigham Young at Provo. They reside here at 1315 Wood.

First Family Building In Hunt Country

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Kennedy are building a ranch-style house on Rattlesnake Mountain in the Virginia hunt country.

There's a splendid view of the Blue Ridge range from their 39-acre site 40 miles west of Washington—midway between Middleburg and Upperville.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the one-story masonry and stucco house will have seven bedrooms (two of them for servants), 5½ baths, living room, dining room and kitchen. He said it is expected to cost around $45,000.

The zoning permit filed in Virginia's Fauquier County estimated the cost for a house and stable at $50,000. Usually such estimates come to about one-third or one-half the actual cost, local people say.

NO COMMENT
Salinger would not comment on reports that revenue stamps involved in the land purchase indicate the Kennedys paid $26,000 for the site.

And Salinger said he didn't know anything about a stable, which it was presumed might be needed for Mrs. Kennedy's thoroughbred horse, and for Caroline Kennedy's ponies.

The whole deal for purchase of the site amid a 1,000-acre cattle breeding farm in the heart of the hunt country was kept a close secret and the sale was made in the name of the Kennedy's Midleburg neighbor and friend, Paul Fout.

Only two days ago, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, Pamela Turnure, was saying the recurring rumors about the new house were "absolutely untrue."

The scenic mountainside tract was bought from Hubert B. Phipps of Marshall, Va., publisher of the Fauquier Democrat newspaper and the Loudoun Times. He raises beef cattle on his big farm surrounding the Kennedys' place. He said he was delighted to have the Kennedys as neighbors and added that Mrs. Kennedy first looked over the property last June.

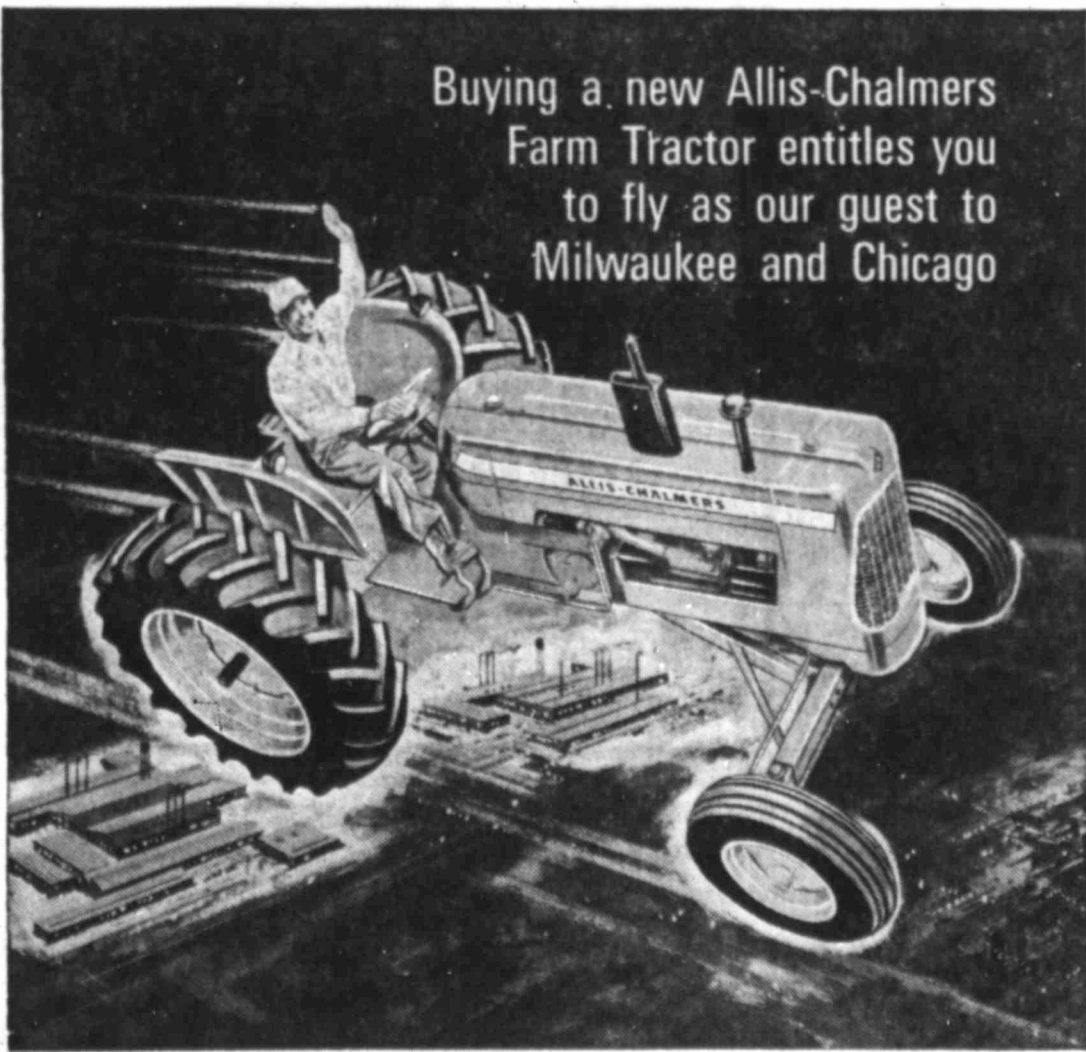

RIDING GROUPS
The land is in the territory of the Piedmont Fox Hounds and borders on the Orange County Hunt, both groups with which Mrs. Kennedy has been riding.

The President and his family have spent many weekends since early 1961 at Glen Ora, their rented country place near Middleburg. Their Glen Ora lease has been extended until the new house is completed.

Salinger reported the President and his wife originally wanted to buy a house in the area, but found it more economical to build. Salinger said only union labor will be employed.

The Bible

THE DIVINE ORIGIN AND THE INFINITE VALUES OF THE HOLY SCRIPTURES

Scripture—Psalms 19:7-11; 119:33-40; Acts 8:26-38; II Timothy 3:14-17; II Peter 1:16-21.

By N. SPEER JONES

THE BIBLE, in addition to teaching us the important things about God and His world, informs us about the Scriptures themselves. The basic belief involved here is whether or not God has spoken to man, and if so, in what way.

God's revelation of Himself to man is the subject of Psalm 19. This revelation is dual. The first part of the psalm deals with His revelation through nature—the wondrous world in which we live. The second part, beginning with the assigned verse seven, deals with His revelation of Himself through His Word.

What is this Word? The key is "law," the first thing mentioned in this section. To the writer of the psalm, this meant

God tells us how we may achieve obedience to God's law; we pray for His help. We cannot do it alone.

The brief passage from Paul's second letter to Timothy is rich in information about God's Word. All Scripture, he says, is "inspired of God"—that is, breathed by God Himself. Peter bears this out in the 21st verse of his second letter. All the prophets spoke, he says, not from themselves, but as God's Holy Spirit moved them. This is the divine origin of the Scriptures.

Paul also exhorts us to cling to these Scriptures, not merely as a point of view, but with our whole beings—"Abide thou in" the Scriptures, he urges. Not only are they sacred, but in them lies the road to the wisdom which can save us, through faith.

More mundanely, Paul lists a fourfold profitability in the Bible — for teaching, for reproof, for correction and for instruction in righteousness.

Peter reminds that he and other apostles did not report, merely beliefs or fantasies, but substantiated the Word of God as actual witnesses to the transfiguration of Christ.

The power of the Word of God is pointed up in an actual example in the passage from Acts. Philip taught the eunuch about Christ simply by reading with him the 53rd chapter of Isaiah. The Word of God here was sufficiently eloquent to prompt this pagan, foreign stranger to ask Philip to baptize him on the spot.

GOLDEN TEXT

"Teach me, O Lord, the way of Thy statutes; and I will keep it to the end."—Psalm 119:33.

God's moral law, embodied chiefly in the first five books of the Bible. It did not mean, as A. F. Kirkpatrick points out (in "Pelubet's Select Notes," p. 411), a "burdensome and vexatious restriction of liberty," but "a gracious reflection of the holiness of God, designed to lead man in the way of life and peace."

At the same time, the psalm hints, this law is also "an instrument for teaching man to know his own sinfulness . . . and to feel the need of an effectual atonement."

This law, or Biblical teaching—if obeyed—can revive one's soul, make a foolish man wise, make a big heart rejoice and his vision be enlightened; it will endure forever (Psalm 19:7-11).

In Psalm 119, the Word of God is likened to a lamp to the feet and a light to the path.

God tells us how we may achieve obedience to God's law; we pray for His help. We cannot do it alone.

The brief passage from Paul's second letter to Timothy is rich in information about God's Word. All Scripture, he says, is "inspired of God"—that is, breathed by God Himself. Peter bears this out in the 21st verse of his second letter. All the prophets spoke, he says, not from themselves, but as God's Holy Spirit moved them. This is the divine origin of the Scriptures.

Paul also exhorts us to cling to these Scriptures, not merely as a point of view, but with our whole beings—"Abide thou in" the Scriptures, he urges. Not only are they sacred, but in them lies the road to the wisdom which can save us, through faith.

More mundanely, Paul lists a fourfold profitability in the Bible — for teaching, for reproof, for correction and for instruction in righteousness.

Peter reminds that he and other apostles did not report, merely beliefs or fantasies, but substantiated the Word of God as actual witnesses to the transfiguration of Christ.

The power of the Word of God is pointed up in an actual example in the passage from Acts. Philip taught the eunuch about Christ simply by reading with him the 53rd chapter of Isaiah. The Word of God here was sufficiently eloquent to prompt this pagan, foreign stranger to ask Philip to baptize him on the spot.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It's November. And in many a local Church it's time to think about the budget for another year.

This is cause for being thankful. Really it is!

For aren't there many places in this world where men haven't any opportunity to support their Church . . . or any Church to support if they had opportunity?

And aren't there many places where men are compelled to work for causes they do not believe in . . . instead of free to work for a cause in which they do believe?

Frankly, much of the responsibility for keeping our land and our people what we want them to be rests with our Churches.

So let's rejoice in that happy American tradition — the Church budget.

And, in keeping with another fine tradition of our people, let's roll up our sleeves and help!

BUZ SAWYER

I'M NOT AGAINST OUR TAKING IN LITTLE CHIQUITA, CHRISTY, BUT THERE IS STILL ONE MORE PROBLEM... PEPPER!

YES, I'D THOUGHT OF THAT.

SO YOU SEE, PEPPER, THESE COBAN FRIENDS OF OURS WANT TO SEND THEIR SEVEN-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER TO LIVE WITH US, AND... AND...

OH, I GUESS GIRLS AREN'T AS BAD AS I USED TO THINK THEY WERE.

THERE! THEN EVERYTHING IS SETTLED, DARLING.

GREAT SCOTT! I FORGOT TO OPEN MY NAVY LETTER.

I WAS ROBBED!

I SPENT THE WHOLE NIGHT WAITING FOR THE "GREAT PUMPKIN" WHEN I COULD HAVE BEEN OUT FOR "TRICKS OR TREATS"

YOU'VE HEARD ABOUT FURY AND A WOMAN SCORNE, HAVEN'T YOU?

YES, I GUESS I HAVE...

WELL, THAT'S NOTHING COMPARED TO THE FURY OF A WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN CHEATED OUT OF "TRICKS OR TREATS"!

DICK TRACY

BRINGING SUPPLIES TO THE MESA BY MEANS OF DIET SMITH'S SPACE COUPE?

SHALL I GO ABOARD, TAKE THESE BOYS PRISONERS, AND HAVE THE PILOT FLY THE SPACE COUPE BACK HOME, OR—

NO! I'D BEST WAIT AND GET THE BIG SHOTS—NOT THESE FLUNKIES. PATIENCE IS THE WATCHWORD.

AND AS THE SPACE COUPE DEPARTS, THE APPEARANCE OF AN ARMED FIGURE TELLS TRACY HIS "RELIEF" MAN APPROACHES.

MARY WORTH

APPARENTLY, PRISCILLA NOW HAS WHAT IS NEEDED TO CURE A LACK OF SELF-ESTEEM THAT VERGED ON THE PSYCHOTIC, HILLY!

Censorship Charged In U.S. Directives

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department—following the Pentagon's lead—has asked its officials to report any talks they have with newsmen.

The Defense Department issued a directive this week covering similar ground and set off a storm of criticism.

The State Department's move came to light Thursday after the Chicago Sun-Times reported the department—with President Kennedy's backing—was planning to place controls on its officials' dealings with reporters.

The Sun-Times said an official would have to report the name of the newsman he talked with and the interview took place, and the subject of the interview.

Asst. Secretary of State Robert Manning called it "a childish story, and erroneous."

He said "no new regulation has been or is being issued."

Manning, chief of public affairs, said he asked "that State Department officials who conduct interviews or discussions in the department with members of the press indicate through their own public affairs officers to the bureau of public affairs—after the fact, the name of the correspondent, his newspaper or agency, the general subject discussed and the date."

Purpose of the request, he said, was to provide the public affairs bureau "with a rudimentary record of the department's relations with the press."

Manning denied any effort to inhibit the access of newsmen to official sources on foreign policy.

Infant's Funeral Slated Saturday

Funeral is set for 11 a.m. Saturday for Lucy M. Gutierrez, five-month-old infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Gutierrez, 505 E. Pacific, Coahoma. She died about 8 p.m. Thursday in a local hospital. She was born June 2, 1962, in Big Spring.

Service will be at the St. Thomas Catholic Church, with the Rev. Robert McDermott, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the City Cemetery under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

The remains will be in state at 610 NW 8th, Big Spring, until service time.

Survivors include the parents; one brother, Carlos Gutierrez; and three sisters, Cecilia Gutierrez, Teresa Gutierrez and Isabell Gutierrez. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Manela Gutierrez. All are of Coahoma.

Campaign Planning

Democrats were making plans in a special meeting here Thursday, in anticipation of the general election Tuesday. From left, are Mrs. Bob Galbraith, Mrs. Wayne Basden and Judge Eldon Mahon, Colorado City, who was here as speaker.

Supporters Pleased With Coffee For Connally Rally

John Connally for governor supporters in Howard County were pleased with the "Coffee for Connally" rally of Thursday night at the Flame Room in the Pioneer Natural Gas Building.

Mrs. Bob Galbraith, who was one of the co-chairmen for the coffee, said that the event had a good attendance and that the address by Judge Eldon Mahon, 32nd District Court, Colorado City, was well received.

He was introduced to the meeting by Roger Brown, chairman of the Connally for Governor committee in this county.

Mrs. Galbraith's co-chairmen for the event were Mrs. Wayne Basden and Mrs. Wade Choate.

Mrs. Galbraith is county women's Democratic work chairman.

Balloon Package Is Recovered

BROWNWOOD (AP)—The instrument package from a huge, football field-size balloon launched here Wednesday has been recovered, scientists said Thursday.

Officials of Case Institute of Technology at Cleveland, Ohio, and Raven Industries of Sioux Falls, S.D., said the instrument package was cut by radio control from the balloon. It was recovered 10 miles northwest of Macon, Ga.

Another such balloon launch, also to study cosmic radiation, is scheduled for the Brownwood Municipal Airport at 3:30 a.m. Saturday.

Chinese Leader Wants Russian Anti-K Uprising

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Mao Tze-tung hopes the Soviet people will one day rise against Premier Khrushchev, says a former member of a Communist Chinese legation.

Chao Fu, 27, former security officer of the Red Chinese legation in Stockholm who fled to the West last August, said Mao hopes the Soviet people will recognize Khrushchev's anti-Stalinism as anti-Communist.

The Chinese leader said recently "whoever is against Stalin is against Mao." Fu reported.

Fu made the statements at a news conference held by the West German intelligence service on Wednesday. Publication of the interview was barred until today by the refugee time to leave the area.

C. J. Yancey Rites Held

COLORADO CITY (SC)—C. J. Yancey, 83, of Loraine, died at his home early Thursday morning.

He was born in Fulton County, Ark., Jan. 14, 1879, but had lived in Mitchell County for 39 years—18 years in Loraine. He was a retired farmer and a member of the First Methodist Church of Loraine.

Funeral was to be held Friday at 2 p.m. from the Kiker and Son Chapel in Colorado City, with the Rev. Frank Storey, Loraine, officiating. Burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery.

He is survived by two sons, Elton R. Yancey, Big Spring, Clifton Yancey, Lovington, N. M.; a daughter, Mrs. Grady Sparks, Loraine; one brother, Wiley Yancey, Snyder; nine grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Parents of all three hands are urged to attend the concert and brief business meeting.

New Indian Guide Tribes Inducted

Eight new tribes were inducted into the Big Spring YMCA Indian Guide Nation in ceremonies before an estimated 150 persons Thursday evening at the YMCA.

The program included a demonstration of Indian dances by Scouts of the Order of the Arrow.

Ten men were recognized for having organized new tribes this year. They are Ike Robb, Ralph Hughes, James Weber, Doyle Hale, George Weeks, Jack Alderton, Walter Osborne, Sherrill Carroll, Lloyd Arnovich and Chub Jones.

Presbyterians To Break Ground For Sanctuary

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church are scheduled to begin at 11:45 a.m. Sunday, immediately after morning services.

The addition to the church building will more than double available space. It will contain a new sanctuary, nursery, five classrooms, parlor and church offices. Architecture will be quasi-Gothic to match the present building.

F. H. Talbot, president of the Men of the Church, will be the keynote speaker at the ceremony after the opening prayer by George Oldham, included among dignitaries on hand will be Mayor George Zachariah, who will extend greetings to visitors.

A contract for $241,067 has been signed for completion of the building. Olin Puckett is architect for the project and Suggs Construction Co., Inc. is the contractor. Total cost of the addition, including cost of land and furnishings, is expected to run well over $300,000.

The new structure will be located on the south end of the block at 707 Rummels.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor, will be the first to turn earth at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Middleton, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Miller, representing the building committee, will then take their hand to the shovel. Middleton was the chairman of the committee when the addition was first planned and Miller is current chairman.

Several 50-year members will be among the first to turn earth. Included are W. E. Carnrike and Mrs. George Neill. Mrs. T. S. Currie will be represented by Miss Agnes Currie and Dewitt Davis, elder emeritus, and Mrs. Davis will be represented by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Boatler.

Everyone present will be invited

Parked Cars Collide, Suit Filed

A parked, driverless car, which began rolling down a grade and across a street, caused a collision with a second parked car which has led to the filing of a damage suit in 118th District Court for $157,500.

This suit filed Thursday is brought by Albie E. Walker, Big Spring, against TexCrete of Odessa, Inc., Odessa.

Walker's petition relates that he was seated in his parked car near the intersection of Scurry and 13th Feb. 28, 1962. He charges that C. S. Brooks, whom he identified as having been employed by the defendant company at the time and driving a company car, drove it on a parking lot across the street from where Walker was parked.

He said that the driver of the second car left it and entered a tea house. The parked car began rolling and crashed into his car, Walker says, with such force that it caused him injuries so extensive he feels he is entitled to $157,500 damages.

to turn a shovel of dirt following participation by various department heads and committee leaders.

Organizations represented will be the Deacons, represented by Charles Harwell, chairman, J. O. Johansen and Mr. and Mrs. Noble Kennermer; the Board of Christian Education, by George Oldham, chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bill Little;

Sunday School, by Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Porter; Men of the Church, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Talbot; Women of the Church, Mr. and Mrs. Elvis McCrary, Mr. and Mrs. Don Farley and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Willcox;

Senior Youth Fellowship, R. W. Rozell, Danny Kennermer and Susan McNary; and Pioneer Fellowship, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kenney, Paul Soiden Jr. and Barbara Crenshaw.

More Campaign Expense Reports

AUSTIN (AP)—Frank Owen III spent $825 and his Republican opponent, Dr. S. L. Abbott, also of El Paso, spent $547 campaigning for state senator, reports to the secretary of state show.

Owen also reported debts of $1,028 for the general election campaign. He spent $12,962 in the first and second Democratic primaries.

Owen reported gifts of $920, including $400 from Mac Murchison, $100 from Thornton Hardie and $100 from Jim F. Hulse, all of El Paso; and $100 from Dr. Nate Rogers of Beaumont. Prior contributions total $7,332.

Abbott reported gifts of $290, including $100 from M. A. Abbott of Ponce City, Okla.; and $100 from J. G. Paterbaugh, McAlester, Okla.

Goldwater Charges JFK Vote Buying

PARADISE VALLEY, Ariz. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., says the Kennedy administration is using contracts to buy votes.

Speaking Thursday night to electronic firm owners, Goldwater said the threat is being applied in Massachusetts, California, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and some Southern states.

"Naked force is being used and all the power of the executive is going into this election," Goldwater said.

"Every defense contract goes through the White House now," Not only are contracts and threats being used to gain votes, Goldwater said, but also to satisfy labor leaders running for union offices.

In Texas, Goldwater said space contracts are involved.

Referring to the recent aerospace industries strike threat in California, Goldwater said Kennedy virtually ordered the industries to accept "a rigged fact-finding committee's recommendation of closed union shops."

Third Grade Girls Invited To Join Tri-Gra-Y Club

Third grade girls have been invited to take part in the Tri-Gra-Y program of the YMCA, according to Francis Flint, general secretary.

Until now, only girls in grades 4-6 have been eligible. The program is being reorganized into two sections, one for grades three and four and another for grades five and six.

Girls who have not attended Tri-Gra-Y functions previously are invited to visit at the next meeting beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday, Flint said. They should bring bathing suits. The morning's activities will include a club meeting, crafts, gym and swimming.

Are So-Called "Bargain" Eyeglasses Really A Bargain?

Have you ever heard this famous quotation: "Quality Is Remembered Long After The Price Is Forgotten"? This is true. Of course, this doesn't mean that real values shouldn't be looked for whenever they truly exist. But, there is a difference in real value and so-called "bargains"...and this is especially true when it comes to eye care and eyewear.

So-called "bargain" eyeglasses may, in fact, not be a bargain at all. Unknown to the purchaser of so-called "bargain" eyeglasses, some important elements could be left out of the lens prescription, or a special type of bifocal or trifocal lens may be omitted, just to cut the cost of making the glasses. These omissions could result in strained eyes, discomfort and improper vision. Also, inferior quality frames might be used which could reduce the wearing comfort as well as the useable life of the glasses.

There is no good reason for risking priceless eyesight and comfort on so-called "bargain" eyeglasses, when real value in professional eye care and eyewear is available at famous

Texas State Optical. For the past 27 years hundreds of thousands of people throughout Texas have learned to rely on TSO for outstanding professional eye care and finest quality eyewear at reasonable cost.

At TSO, your eyes are carefully examined by an experienced Doctor of Optometry...both for internal evidence of disease or defect and for visual abnormalities. If glasses are needed, an accurate prescription is formulated and they are prescribed and fitted to meet your exact visual requirements, and to give you the best vision and utmost comfort. If you need single vision glasses, your cost is as low as $14.85, including examination, finest quality lenses and frame; if you require bifocals, your cost is as low as $17.85, complete, with examination, lenses and frame. Convenient credit is available at no extra cost.

The next time you need professional eye care and finest quality eyewear, see the dependable TSO Doctor of Optometry in whom you can place complete confidence and trust for the care of your eyes and your vision.

Lakeview Seeks Third Grid Win

Lakeview's Rockets seek their third football victory in seven starts in an 8 o'clock game with Midland Carver at the old Stadium Saturday night. The Rockets, coached by A. C. Clark, have defeated Golad of Big Spring and Odessa Blackshear, the latter by a score of 36-0 last week. They've lost twice to San Angelo and once each to Midland and Big Spring Ranges. Probable starters for Lakeview include: Ends—Robert Green 160 and Wayne Turner 137; tackles—Oscar Tucker 153 and Robert Jackson 152; guards—Kenneth Haynes 147 and Harold Jones 156; center—Fred Williams 154; quarterback—Juan Williams 125; halfbacks—Roosevelt Brown 119 and Larry Pickens 133; fullback—Johnny Johnson 148.

Service Fuss Hurt Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Space Committee says friction between the Army and Air Force partly explains why the nation has very little to show for the $170 million spent on the military's Advent communications project.

"If the Advent program is not a good example of interservice rivalry, it is certainly a poor example of effective interservice cooperation," the committee said in its report Wednesday.

Advent was conceived in 1958 as a worldwide jam-proof military communications system.

As originally planned, Advent would have used a 1,000-pound satellite placed into a tricky orbit by the Centaur rocket—then on the drawing board. But, the report said, the satellite's weight grew to 1,300 pounds as it developed. The Centaur, far behind schedule, seemed less and less capable of handling such a payload.

Now, the idea is to develop a new 500-pound package for an interim system using an Atlas-Agena rocket.

"The original estimates of the total costs of the Advent research and development program reportedly were $140 million," the committee said. "By the time the project was canceled, well over $170 million had been spent, much of which has been written off as an unrecoverable loss."

Chocolate Twist

Well, Dean Terrazas isn't really doing the Twist. As featured twirler for the Big Spring High School Band, she's juggling a couple of king-size chocolate bars for free-lance photographer Guy Chapman. The Band Boosters Club, seeking to pay for some junior high school band uniforms, has bought a few tons of the candy, and now they're juggling with the problem of selling enough to deck out the junior bandmen. So, for the next week, band members will be ringing doorbells with one hand and wrestling piles of candy bars with the other. Good-hearted citizens with a sweet tooth may help a good cause by helping make the chocolate bars disappear like Booster Girl Dean did with the one that is vanishing out of the top of the page.

African Applauds JFK Race Action

IBADAN, Western Nigeria (AP)—President Kennedy has done more to combat racial discrimination in America than any other president, Western Nigerian Administrator Moses Majekodunmi said Wednesday.

Speaking at a luncheon honoring Chester Bowles, Kennedy's special assistant, Majekodunmi said he and all Africans appreciate the efforts being made by Kennedy to eliminate all race restrictions in the United States.

South Florida Seethes With Military Action

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—South Florida seethes with military activity today as the United States maintained its blockade and aerial checkup of Cuba, and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro insisted his nation would not accept inspection of the removal of Soviet missile bases.

Florida Gov. Farris Bryant toured the buildup in the Key West area, 90 miles from Havana, late Thursday.

The governor told pilots who are hanging an aerial umbrella over the Florida Straits that he had a great feeling of well being after watching their operations.

The governor later spoke at a seafood restaurant only 50 feet from an Army radar installation ringed with sandbags and barbed wire.

Armed jet fighters blasted overhead as he spoke.

HOSPITALS READY
Elsewhere in south Florida, a 400-bed naval hospital at Opa-Locka near Miami was painted and stocked for any eventuality. Nearby, 35 emergency field hospitals stood ready for use, along with 50 ambulances.

The troop concentration in the area was so heavy that hundreds of soldiers were sleeping in tents along the road to the base. At Fort Everglades, 30 miles north of Miami, four landing ships were beached, with their bow doors open. There was no evidence of troops aboard.

Security at the port was increased.

At Fort Lauderdale, city officials say 250 soldiers will use Yankee Stadium, the spring training base of the baseball champions, for sleeping quarters while working at Port Everglades. A two-month lease was to be signed.

Extensive ship movements were reported at St. Petersburg. The Miami Herald said black-out shutters were up at the Boca Chica Naval Air Station near Key West, for the first time since World War II.

BRYANT BRIEFED
An aide to Bryant said he was briefed for more than an hour at Boca Chica, the heart of air operations over the Florida Straits. The base is closed to newsmen.

Equipment and a few fresh troops arrived in Key West Thursday. Among the new arrivals were Navy and Air Force pilots. The fliers who have been pounding out missions steadily since the crisis began, have reported they are very tired, but there has been no letup.

Venus Craft Has Power Trouble

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—After rolling up nearly 12 million trouble-free miles, the Venus-bound Mariner 2 spacecraft has suddenly developed a mysterious disorder in its power system.

But scientists say the 447-pound vehicle may still accomplish its scientific mission when it passes Venus in mid-December.

Project spokesmen reported that there had been a sudden drop in voltage supplied by solar panels aboard Mariner 2. This caused apprehension because it would start drawing power from its battery if the voltage drop continued. The battery power, needed later, would be quickly exhausted.

Scientists at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory decided to turn off Mariner instruments conducting four interplanetary scientific experiments. They calculated this would reduce the power drain by more than 50 per cent. Reason for the power drain hasn't been explained.

Gas Dividend

DALLAS (AP)—Lone Star Gas Co. has announced quarterly dividends on its common and preferred stock. A 25 per cent dividend was declared on common stock, payable Dec. 10, and $1.21 on the company's 4.84 per cent convertible preferred stock, payable Dec. 15.

Key Club Members Visit With Kiwanians Thursday

One of the gravest threats to the perpetuation of freedom as manifested in the principles of democracy is a growing lack of love of country in the hearts of too many Americans.

This was the declaration of Gregg Gossett, youthful high school student, speaking before the Big Spring Kiwanis Club Thursday. Gossett, president of the Key Club, a youth organization sponsored by the Kiwanis in the high school, was guest speaker at a program at which Key Club members officiated.

Dale Bulla, vice president of the Key Club, presided at the luncheon. He introduced Jimmy Burleson, who served as song leader. He then presented Gossett, who read a number of selections on patriotism as a part of his plea for greater manifestations of love of country by Americans. The young speaker was given an enthusiastic reception by the club.

Nearly all of the Key Club members were guests at the luncheon. Walter Eubanks, Kiwanis Club candy sale chairman, reported that he has $1,431 in cash on hand

Estes Jurors Vote Absentee

TYLER (AP)—Jurors in the Billie Sol Estes trial were given a chance to cast absentee ballots Thursday in the Nov. 6 general election.

Dist. Judge Otis Dunagan made the arrangements. "They're going to the county clerk's office right after closing time so that nobody else will be present," the judge said just before adjourning court.
