College Trustees Order Final Payment On Paving

Howard County Junior College trustees attended to a schedule of routine business Thursday, ordering final payment of a paving project and authorizing basketball broadcasts.

The board favorably considered the application of Winston Wrinkle, KBST, to broadcast the HCJC Jayhawk basketball games. Wrinkle was the only station representative on hand, and he told the board KBST had over the years broadcast all the Hawk games.

Partial payment had been made on the installation of pavement on Adams Avenue past the stadium, and from the south end of the stadium south to Eleventh Place. With ample funds in hand, the board voted to pay the balance on the account to W. D. Caldwell, Big Spring contractor.

Reports were heard on the dedication of the Kiwanis tennis courts on the HCJC campus, and of the college's increased support of the Big Spring Civic Concert Association.

The monthly financial statement showed $170,063 revenues during October, making $299,358 for the fiscal year; $162,239 of the month's total was from current local taxes. Disbursements for the month showed $3,721 administrative; $1,533 general; $3,565 administrative instructional; $21,619 instructional; library $2,779; $8,145 plant maintenance and operation; $520 athletic; $195 student activities; $784 capital outlay; total $76,186 general fund expenditures. Kiwanis Club Enjoys Music

An all-musical program was presented at the Kiwanis Club luncheon Thursday.

Col. Leonard Einstein, member of the club and a musician in his own right, was program chairman. He introduced Mrs. J. L. Manes, wife of a Webb AFB pilot instructor, who played two Debussy piano selections. She was warmly received by the club.

He then introduced the Deltas, a quartet of Webb AFB airmen, who won first place in the 1962 ATC talent contest and who have already made two recordings. They are proteges of Ted Groebel, Einstein said. Their newest record was released this week.

This harmony group is composed of Airman 2.C. Samuel Wood, Airman 2.C. Bernard Grant; Airman 2.C. Curtis Harrington; and Airman 3.C. Arthur Ayo.

These singers made a tremendous hit with the Kiwanians with their rhythm interpretations of a number of well-known songs.

To close his own show, Einstein played his version of "Begin the Beguine."

FOLLOWING CLOSELY

By Tom Tarbel, Preacher
Church of Christ, 2800 West Highway 86
P.O. Box 1383

Today I bring to you an end to the quotation of a kind and interesting letter from one who disagrees with me. The letter: "I have never encountered any group of Christians who follow the New Testament as close as the Baptists in faith and worship. If I ever do, I will probably cast my 'lot' with them regardless of the name associated with them."

The gentleman is to be commended in wanting to follow the New Testament as closely as possible; but is mistaken in thinking he must cast his lot with the best group he has found or may find. If one finds a group which follows the Old Book all the way

(in name and everything); that is wonderful. But he need not compromise.

If a true New Testament congregation does not exist in one's community, he should start such a church. I promise him this: If he starts up a congregation which will teach and practice only what they can justify by the New Testament, my brother and I will recognize it as the church of Christ.

First of all, why not investigate those who claim to be churches of Christ and wear the right name? Plan to be with us Sunday. —adv.

Sino-Soviet Rift No Cause For Rejoicing

DALLAS (AP) — Differences between Russia and Red China are serious but no sudden and dramatic end to the Sino-Soviet alliance should be expected, a State Department official claims. Roger Hilsman, director of the department's Bureau of Intelligence and Research, said "Loose talk of an inevitable break between Moscow and Peiping has led some people to think that all our troubles were about to end."

He cautioned the World Affairs Council "We can take no comfort from feuds in the enemy camp. Our problems in Viet Nam and Laos, Cuba and Berlin have not disappeared because of the Sino-Soviet rift."

To compare differences in the West with troubles in the Soviet bloc would be erroneous, Hilsman said.

While disagreement is "tolerable and even healthy" in the democracies, for the Communists disagreement is "almost unbearable and disunity fearsome," he said.

"Normal clashes of national interest become threats to the world revolution, and ideological differences become heresy," Hilsman added.

One explanation for the rift is the difference in the thinking of Soviet Premier Khrushchev and of Mao Tse Tung, Chinese Communist party chairman, on the international situation, Hilsman continued.

While Khrushchev "seems to realize that isolation is dangerous," Hilsman said, the Red Chinese leaders of today are the same who led the Chinese Communist party, "an outlawed band of thousands, holed up in the hills" in 1930.

The consequence is, Hilsman explained, that the "aging, megalomaniac leadership in Peiping" became isolated, believing in the Marxist myth about capitalism and about the inevitability of communism.

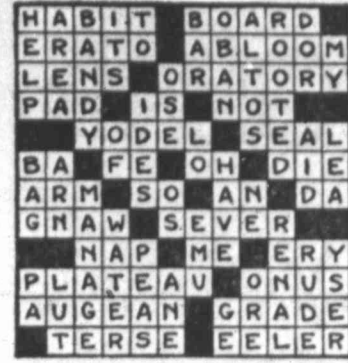

"As the Soviets have become more world-wise, the Chinese remained simplistic," Hilsman said.

Colombian President Is Concerned For Alliance

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Guillermo Leon Valencia expressed deep concern about lack of progress in President Kennedy's $20-billion Alliance for Progress program.

"Hungry people are expectant and waiting," he said. "It would be very dangerous to keep them waiting too long."

Government statistics give a gloomy picture of the plight of Colombia's 15 millions: Most are underfed.

Per capita income is $183 a year; in the United States it is more than $2,200.

40 per cent can't read or write. Nearly 700,000 children do not attend school because of a lack of facilities.

The nation needs 200,000 housing units for improved living conditions.

"When I visited the United States last spring, I was told Colombia would be a showcase for Alliance for Progress," Valencia told an interviewer. "The showcase is ready and waiting but there is very little to put into it."

The program is a good one, the president said. "It could transform Latin America in a magnificent way, to the advantage of the United States and all countries concerned," he added. "But the Alliance for Progress must make more progress if our hopes are to be achieved."

Colombia, with former President Alberto Lleras Camargo at the helm, was the first country in Latin America to submit a long-range plan for the program a year ago.

It proposed 22,000 new classrooms, 43,066 housing units, irrigation projects, agricultural development and industrial programs to create thousands of new jobs. In 10 years, the Colombian planners figured, per capita income could be increased to $286 a year.

The total investment would amount to $8.4 billion, of which $1.7 billion would come from abroad, mostly from the United States.

But Valencia said "all too little" has come Colombia's way so far. About $49 million was spent in the first year of President Kennedy's program. Another $150 million was committed but has not been disbursed.

Valencia says Fidel Castro's Communist Cuban regime is trying to gain a foothold in his nation by arming and financing bandits in remote mountain areas.

The bandits have been killing an estimated 100 persons a month in isolated northern and western districts.

Widespread banditry has been an outgrowth of political feuds that raged for 20 years until 1958, when a coalition government was organized.

Mistress Gets Share Of Estate

LONDON (AP)—A British judge has ruled that a man can owe a greater duty to his mistress than to his wife.

The background to the ruling was this: The late John Lucas had two women in his life—his wife, Elsie Lucas, 63; and his mistress for 30 years, Jean Watts, 66.

When he died earlier this year, Lucas left an estate of 2,683 pounds—$7,532—to Miss Watts. He left nothing to his wife.

Lucas lived with his wife for seven years. They had two children. After he left her, he went to live with Miss Watts.

Hearing evidence and passing judgment in the case, Justice Sir Geoffrey Cross said the problem is to decide which of the two women has the bigger claim to the money.

"He certainly owed a duty to his wife," the judge said.

"At the same time, he had a high duty to Miss Watts."

Justice Cross pointed out that Lucas and Miss Watts both worked.

Every Friday, they pooled their earnings. They deducted 25 shillings—$3.50—and paid this to the wife, as maintenance money.

They next deducted their living expenses. Then they banked the rest—in Lucas' name.

After hearing the evidence, the judge: Gave the wife 500 pounds—$1,400. Awarded the remainder of the estate to Miss Watts.

"Even recognizing that Miss Watts had the greater claim," the judge said, "I don't feel Mr. Lucas was justified in leaving the widow nothing at all."

Federal Vote Cases Probed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department reports that it is investigating 36 complaints of possible violations of federal laws in connection with Tuesday's election.

One, from Phoenix, Ariz., involved a charge of racial discrimination. Election officials there were accused of illegally requiring about 60 Negroes to read the federal Constitution before they were permitted to vote in the 18th Precinct.

Edwin Guthman, department information officer, said a number of other complaints involved the use of unattributed election campaign material. Most of the charges were described as minor complaints.

Guthman said six had been received from North Carolina, four each from California, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Michigan; two each from New Jersey, West Virginia and Missouri; and one each from Arizona, Texas, Illinois, Kentucky, Nevada, Florida, Utah, and Indiana.

A Girl Among Gls Is Inspiring Chivalry

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)— Being the only woman correspondent among 10,000 U. S. servicemen may sound like a dream. It is.

Mrs. Deepe and Marine

But it has its nightmarish moments. Mine is not the placid kind of life where you must set a clock to get up in the morning. My alarm is either the blast of a 155 mm. howitzer or the bite of a particularly vicious mosquito.

HAS DUAL ROLE

But perhaps my biggest challenge is that most of the fellows stationed here expect me to be a living symbol of the wives and sweethearts they left in the United States. And they expect it even in the field.

I should be feminine, but not fragile. I should be able to change from sportdress to flight suit as most women change house dresses. I should look fresh in fatigues during a 3 a.m. downpour. Or scaling a slippery rice dike on a dark patrol.

FELLOWS CONFUSED

Yet, this dual role also baffles the Gls. Should they help me into a jeep, even though there's no door to open? Should they carry my camera case on a patrol, or treat me like a new private?

Mrs. Roosevelt Thrived On Work

EDITOR'S NOTE: A relative once described Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as "drinking from the top of the stairs." Her deep involvement in world affairs is described in this article, second of three, by an Associated Press writer who knew her well during much of her career.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Eleanor Roosevelt, whose travel record must be the envy of many airline pilots, was curiously adapted to the peripatetic life she enjoyed. At least until she was a widow, she never had a single place which really meant home and roots.

Her younger years were spent in the home of a grandmother and in boarding schools. Franklin Roosevelt, as she said, "could never quite decide to make the break with his mother and build a home of our own." So they lived with the senior Mrs. Roosevelt at Hyde Park, New York, an old house which Franklin loved but for which his wife felt no responsibility. Then there came a temporary period of occupying rented, furnished houses in Washington, a time in the New York state executive mansion in Albany and then, of course, 12 years in the White House.

ALWAYS TEMPORARY

Thus Mrs. Roosevelt learned to make any place she lighted an adequate but always temporary home.

Although she never claimed a vast interest in the usual housekeeping chores, she did some of her own work in the presidential living quarters as the spirit moved her. She was, newspaper women recall, a dedicated furniture re-arranger, and they quickly learned to scurry from her regular press conferences lest they be pressed into service by the First Lady to take one end of a sofa which she proposed to move from here to there. With her innate sense of thrift, and an enjoyment for making things do, her various pied-a-terre were something less than decorator's dreams. One old friend remarked ruefully that the small apartment she maintained in New York during the White House days looked as if it had been furnished out of somebody's attic.

SMALL INCOME

While Mrs. Roosevelt never was, by any standards, rich, she inherited a small income. During her earlier married days, she and her husband combined their resources—his income and salary and her income—to maintain themselves comfortably. Mrs. Roosevelt, however, started earning money of her own from writing, teaching and radio broadcasts when still in the governor's mansion. Almost all of the considerable money she made during the years of her husband's public life was poured into charities in which she was interested and experiments in social welfare with which she was concerned.

When her work was concerned primarily with the United Nations after World War II as a U.S. delegate and then as a volunteer, she took a duplex apartment in midtown Manhattan.

Although she had a famous fondness for certain foods—hot dogs and scrambled eggs—Mrs. Roosevelt quite frankly was neither much of a cook nor particularly interested in cookery or even eating.

were with her through all her adult life.

In the course of explaining Roosevelt to an interested public, she casually tossed in that lilies of the valley were her favorite flower; blue, her pet color; that she enjoyed reading poetry; once was nicknamed "Granny"; thought her cousin Alice Roosevelt Longworth did the best imitation of her; enjoyed wearing jewelry of historic or sentimental interest; disliked slacks except in the country, and became "cold and silent" when she lost her temper.

ONE VANITY

She had few vanities, but one of them was her undoubted ability to plan life so thoroughly that she could get through a great amount of work and chores in the smallest amount of time. Actually, Mrs. Roosevelt worked long hours—most of the time an 18 to 20-hour day. Frequently she took care of her column writing and correspondence after returning around midnight from one or another of the interminable succession of banquets and lectures and speeches which kept her busy. "I get along nicely on four hours sleep," she admitted complacently.

"But you see," she would add, happily and almost apologetically, "I have nothing to do except work. No one is depending on me."

And you could tell by the way she said it, that she was having the time of her life, just working.

Slow Warming Trend Expected

By The Associated Press

A slow warming trend is expected to develop in Texas during the weekend fast on the heels of two days of the coldest weather this season.

Skies were clear and temperatures crisp across the state early Friday. Readings were a few degrees higher than those Thursday morning, however. One of the coolest spots was Junction with a 4 a.m. reading of 29 degrees.

Forecasters effective through Saturday call for fair skies to continue.

The Weather Bureau said a slow warming trend gradually will spread across the state from west to east.

Clear skies will permit cool nights while sunny daytime skies will permit mild afternoons.

Legislative Reports Due

AUSTIN (AP)—Three major reports of the House General Investigating Committee will be ready soon, the committee chairman said Thursday.

Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger said the committee reports on its probes of Hurricane Carla insurance payments, alleged point-fixing in Southwest Conference basketball games and the slant hole oil well drilling are nearly complete.

Ballman said the committee will meet again, at an undetermined date, to look over final drafts and review recommendations.

The committee and House Speaker James A. Turman earlier met with the Travis County grand jury which is looking into contempt of the legislature citations given it by the committee.

The citations name Milton Dee (Duck) Mallord of Bryan, Enoch (Sig) Dickson of Dallas and M. C. (Sonny) Pearson of Austin for failure to answer committee questions at hearings on the alleged point fixing.

Girl, 11, Gives Birth

CHICAGO (AP)—An 11-year-old Chicago girl gave birth to a 7-pound, 13-ounce baby Oct. 16, hospital sources have disclosed.

The girl and her son were discharged and are in good condition, an official of Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital said Thursday night. Apart from the mother's high blood pressure, doctors said, the birth was considered "fairly normal."

The girl, who was not identified, was the third 11-year-old to become a mother in Chicago. Two 11-year-olds gave birth in 1958.

The world's youngest mother reportedly was a Peruvian girl who gave birth at 5 in the late 1930s.

Rocket In Red Square Parade

An intermediate range rocket moves past Soviet Communist Party leaders gathered atop Lenin's mausoleum, center background, in Moscow's Red Square. This was part of the Russian military strength displayed in a parade celebrating the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution of 1917.

U. S. Leads Reds In Heavy Missiles

LONDON (AP) — America's long-range missile strength far exceeds that of the Soviet Union, according to an intelligence report issued today by the British Institute for Strategic Studies. The report claims the United States has between 450 and 500 intercontinental ballistic missiles compared with 75 in the Soviet arsenal. But the institute says existing Soviet rockets of this type have powerful boosters and can carry larger nuclear warheads than such American equivalents, as the Titan.

Theoretically, said the report, the Communists could launch 50-megaton warheads into a ballistic trajectory.

They also have been developing for two years a more advanced ICBM which likely will be smaller, easier to conceal and more accurate. It can be expected to be deployed sometime next year, said the institute.

Soviet strategists apparently have concentrated on shorter range rockets—medium-range ballistic missiles in the 600 to 2,000-mile range such as were erected in Cuba, the report said. The institute said the Soviets are believed to have about 700 of these compared with the West's 250.

Soviet medium-range rockets are "deployed in sufficient numbers to deal with strategic and semi-tactical targets — such as fighter airfields in Western Europe, including Britain, and in the Far East," the institute reported. The institute is a privately financed organization with access to much confidential information. Other information in its report included:

The United States and its Allies have a clear lead in nuclear bomber strength. They have 2,200 compared to 1,800 behind the Iron Curtain. Total Communist air strength is put at 15,000 operational planes.

There is no reason to dispute Soviet claims that they have a true Polaris-type missile which can be fired from a submerged submarine, the institute reports.

The Soviets lead heavily in submarines—445 against 212 — but probably lag in development of the atom-powered type.

The total size of the Soviet forces this fall was put at about 3.6 million men. Satellite armies swelled the Communist bloc strength to 7.7 million men under arms.

The regular armed forces of the United States and its treaty allies totaled just over 8 million.

U.S. Releases New Cotton Crop Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department's late-harvest time report estimates this year's cotton crop at 14,533,000 bales. The Texas crop was set at 4,700,000 bales.

This is 142,000 less than last month's forecast of 14,675,000 bales. It compares with 14,318,000 last year and 13,979,000 for the ten-year (1951-60) average of 13,979,000.

The crop will be supplemented by a reserve and surplus supply of about eight million bales from past crops.

All cotton crops since 1953 have been grown under federal quotas. The department estimated the yield at 444 pounds per harvested acre. The Texas average was 343. This compared with 448 pounds indicated a month ago, 438 last year and 380 for the ten-year average.

The Census Bureau said 9,156,211 bales had been ginned to Nov. 1 compared with 8,675,139 last year.

The department said that if the ratio of lint to cottonseed is the same as the average for the past 5 years, production of cottonseed would be 6,062,000 tons compared with 5,978,000 last year.

The yield per acre and the production of cotton by states included:

Oklahoma 236 pounds per acre and production 320,000 bales; New Mexico 667 and 275,000 and California 1,026 and 1,720,000.

Ginnings by states this year and last included: Texas 1,962,392 and 2,358,397; California 757,044 and 1,005,915; New Mexico 86,907 and 166,310; and Oklahoma 90,367 and 164,585.

The department said most of the decrease in production prospects from a month ago was in North Texas, where boll weevils materially reduced late crop prospects, and in Arkansas, where boll rot and harvesting losses were heavy.

Flags At Half-Staff For Mrs. Roosevelt

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has honored Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt by directing that the American flag be flown at half-staff on government buildings, military bases and vessels until the burial Saturday of the former First Lady.

In response to questions from newsmen, White House secretary Pierre Salinger said he did not know whether flags ever before had been flown at half-staff because of the death of a former First Lady.

Record Denies Nixon Charge Against Press

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, critical of the press coverage of his unsuccessful California gubernatorial campaign, referred to a flub he made during a final television appearance. The implication was that this was more widely reported than a flub made the same day by his Democratic opponent, Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

In its California election story Nov. 6, The Associated Press said: "During his speech, Nixon said: 'If elected governor of the United States, I would correct myself to say: 'Of California.' Brown, who watched Nixon's telecast in San Francisco, said Nixon thus showed that his real goal was another try at the presidency—a charge Nixon has repeatedly denied.

"Brown himself in a rally yesterday called on supporters to elect 'good Democratic senators like Tommy Kuchel.' Kuchel is the Republican minority whip of the Senate and Brown corrected himself to explain that he meant Kuchel's Democratic opponent, State Sen. Richard Richards."

DEAR ABBY

The Purpose Of Prayer

DEAR ABBY: Should we call it "mental cancer"?

When good folks pray both night and day

And never get an answer?

J.M.C. (84)

DEAR J.M.C.: If you would have your outlook brightened, Do not pray for "answers" But pray to be enlightened. A.V.B. (44)

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible for me to get a temporary job even though I am expecting? You see, I left my regular job last month, but after a few days at home decided I wanted to go to work again. I couldn't get my old job back because they had already replaced me. I am a competent PBX operator with eight years' experience. WANTS TO WORK

DEAR WANTS: Apply for work but tell your prospective employer that you want to work just so many months because you expect eventually to become "too big for the job."

DEAR FELLOW RECIPE COLLECTORS: I have a treat for you! I've just returned from Lexington, Kentucky, where I found the world's most delicious Southern pecan pie. I begged the recipe from the pastry chef at the Phoenix Hotel. (It's the "specialty of the house.") He gave me permission to share it with my readers as he's an Abby fan, too. Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and it's yours! ABBY

DEAR ABBY: My name is the same as my father's followed by a Junior. It has created endless confusion. To name a child after one's self is the height of vanity. Each individual deserves to have a name of his own, and should be permitted to build his own reputation in the world. I wish you would ask fathers to think twice before naming their sons after themselves. It is more of an insult than an honor. JUNIOR

DEAR JUNIOR: I can see your point, but I don't agree with you. Passing along the family name is the proud practice of many. And more than one "Junior" has been inspired by his inheritance.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Veterans Day Program Set

Members of the Big Spring High School Band will take part in Veterans Day ceremonies which begin at 2 p.m. Sunday at the local Veterans Administration Hospital.

The band will open the program at the front entrance of the hospital. Webb Air Force Base will provide a color guard.

Immediately afterward, the program will move into the main lobby for the remainder of the ceremonies. Rev. Marvin D. James, pastor of the Kentwood Methodist Church, will give the invocation and V. J. Belda, hospital director, will welcome visitors and read the Presidential Proclamation.

The main address will be given by Capt. A. J. Blasingame, 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, Webb AFB.

"The public is invited to attend," Belda said. He pointed out that the hour will be convenient for persons who are on their way to or from clinics distributing the Sabin polio vaccine.

Hosts for the social hour will be the World War I Auxiliary. The Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary will provide escort service for wheelchair patients at the hospital. Gold Star mothers will again be guests of honor.

Connally Takes Wait-And-See View On Taxes

AUSTIN (AP) — Governor-elect John Connally says he hopes Texas can get along the next two years without new taxes "but that remains to be seen."

Connally held his first news conference Thursday afternoon since his election Tuesday. He will be inaugurated Jan. 15.

Today the governor-elect made an appearance at the Texas Research League annual meeting here, then went to his Fort Worth home. Saturday he will attend the dedication of a screwworm plan at Mission and Monday he speaks at a Veteran's Day meeting in Hillsboro.

"Then I hope to get a few days rest; I don't know where or when exactly," he said.

"Most of November, December and the first part of January I will spend visiting with legislators and members of the state boards and agencies trying to develop as many concrete plans and suggestions as possible."

Connally said taxes would be discussed but he did not have any plans for any emergency recommendations concerning taxes. He said he had no recommendations concerning the type of new taxes should they be required.

"I think our principal problem is to provide stimulation for industrial expansion and economic growth in a manner economically feasible," he said.

He said there had been some thought given to an affair during the inauguration to which industrial, business and labor leaders throughout the nation would be invited. "However, it is my personal view now that such would be too time consuming but we will see if we can do it later in the spring."

The Austin Statesman said state Democratic leaders have tentative plans for a $25-a-plate dinner the night before Connally's inauguration to which numerous out-of-state business and civic leaders would be invited.

Draft Board Needs An IBM

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Okay, Uncle Sam, if you want Patrick Reilly again he'll answer the call. Reilly, 78, is a Navy veteran of the Spanish-American War, the Mexican trouble in 1915-16 and World War I, and lives at the Naval Home here. In all, he's had 30 years of active service, and he wears a few medals.

Wednesday, as he was lunching, another resident came along with the mail and said, "Wait till you see what I've got for you, Pat."

Reilly was so bowled over he lost his spoon in the soup.

For his piece of mail was a draft board notice—a post card—ordering him to register pronto at Selective Service headquarters.

"According to your date of birth shown in the records of the local board you should be registered with the Selective Service system," it said.

Reilly said he'd go along with that; he simply filled out the card and sent it back as asked. "Well, I've been through two wars, in and out," he said, "so I figure if they need me, sure I'll go back."

There has been no reaction so far from the Selective Service people.

Reilly, a Chicago native, retired from active service in 1933, and entered the home in 1942.

Arabian Fantasy Launched Shriners

An American actor transiently in Marseilles, France in 1867 was invited to a party given by an Arabian diplomat. The entertainment was something in the nature of an elaborately staged musical comedy with an oriental theme. At the close of the party, the Arabian diplomat formally inducted all of the guests into a secret society.

The actor was William Florence, who only a few weeks earlier had received his 32nd degree as a Scottish Rite Mason.

The fantasy he had witnessed at the party in Marseilles stirred his imagination.

Why not an order of Masonry for members of the Scottish Rite and York bodies of the lodge in which the gay color and imagination-stirring atmosphere of the East would be dominant?

He began an elaborate ritual and on his return to this country laid his suggestion before Dr. Walter M. Fleming, prominent physician and surgeon of the time and an enthusiastic Mason.

It is said that the script which formed the basis for Fleming's effort was translated from the Arabic material supplied the actor by the diplomat, Yusef Cheri Bey.

After two more chances to see the same Arabian ceremonial Florence and Fleming worked out a ritual and set up on paper the organization which now is internationally known as the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Fleming and Florence were both excellent showmen. They realized to insure their effort having the appeal it must have, they must enshroud it in glamour and mystery. So well did they do this that even today, nearly a century later, no one is quite sure where the legend ends and where truth and history begin.

The organization as set up by Florence and Fleming, was the lineal descendant of a secret society formed in Mecca by Kalif Alee, son-in-law of the Prophet, in the year 644 AD, or so they said.

On the night of Aug. 13, 1870, Florence and Fleming inducted themselves into the Order of the Mystic Shrine. On June 16, 1871, they inducted 11 brother Masons into the order.

The ritual was much as it is today, with gay and exciting costumes employed in the ceremonies and parades; the colorful and romantic names to the temples and the officials of the organizations—all are a part of the impression Florence brought with him when he left that Oriental feast in Marseilles two years after the end of the American Civil War.

In the early stages of the campaign to publicize the idea of the shrine, Dr. Fleming, who was a first grade press agent, created the story that the Shrine ritual was the work of the great Persian poet Alnasir the Hafiz.

(Just to set today's record straight, no one has ever been able to prove that the great Hafiz had any part in the writing of the exciting ritual the Shrine employs.)

Fleming also released a story that he had been granted the right to establish the first temple of the Shrine in America by Rizk Allah Hassoon Effende. This character, Fleming said, had brought to London the original copy of the ritual as it had been found in the Archives of the Order in Aleppo in Syria.

(No one has been able, unfortunately, to locate the Shrine Archive in Aleppo.)

Further, Fleming revealed it had been decreed that members of the Shrine were privileged to wear the red fez—an emblem which would set them apart from all others.

Furthermore, it was leaked out where a lot of folk would hear about it, that the examination to permit one to become eligible for an attempt at becoming a Shriner was difficult. Many, it was said, failed to pass the exam. Further, the story said, the initial tests were tough—mentally and physically. This only increased the allure of the order and multiplied the enthusiasm of Masons to become members.

Dr. Fleming had hard going with his new "baby" but he missed no bet. He worked out a complete organization. He designed the emblems and created the costumes. He established the pattern which the 167 Shrine temples in this country and the more than 800,000 members still use and follow.

He was not by himself in the work. He was provided invaluable aid by a number of other enthusiastic workers. One of these was Charles T. McClenahan and another William S. Patterson. Albert Rawson, prominent scholar and Mason, provided much of the Arabic background for the final ritual.

The actual start of the Shrine in this country probably dates to a meeting on the night of Sept. 26, 1872 in New York at the Masonic Temple. The first temple was named Mecca and the original 13 members inducted in June, 1871 became the charter members of the Temple.

A second temple called Damascus was founded in 1876 in Rochester, N. Y.

By 1892, the order had risen to nearly 23,000 members. In 1906, the membership had attained the 100,000 mark. The reputation the Shrine had first gained for its charitable work in places where fires and disaster had struck, was growing. It was voted that the Shrine send $25,000 to the relief of sufferers in the San Francisco earthquake and fire.

By 1922, the Shrine had 511,000 members and its work in the field of aid to crippled children was becoming known from coast to coast.

However, official action creating the original Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children came out of the national meeting in 1920.

The year following a chain of hospitals was authorized and the first was built at Shreveport, La., in 1922. There are 17 such hospitals now spanning the continent. One of the newest is the Los Angeles Unit established in 1952.

Shriners are assessed $5 each year for funds to provide for the operation and expansion of these hospitals. Many Shriners endow the movement in their wills and by gifts. A quarter of a million boys and girls have received treatment in these hospitals since their organization.

The Shrine is bigger now than ever. It has plans for even more activity in the future and sees no reason why it cannot achieve its dream.

Crippling Burns Get Attention

Each year thousands of children are crippled by burns.

The Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America have taken note of this fact and recently embarked on a campaign to see what can be done about it.

Reliable medical surveys show that facilities in North America for research, treatment and care of burns are inadequate. As a leader of child therapy in the field of orthopedics, the Shrine is now entering this area in an effort to make another contribution to medical science.

A Colorado corporation, Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, has been directed to establish and operate one or more hospitals for the care and treatment of curable crippled children afflicted with acute burns. The hospitals will provide training programs and research activities related to burns.

Cost of the hospitals may go as high as $10 million. The board of trustees of the corporation is responsible for determining how many such hospitals are needed

Two Terms Distinguish The Shriners

Two terms will distinguish men here for the Suez Temple Shrine fall ceremonial Friday and Saturday.

They are the nobles—the duly installed members of the order—and the novices. The novices are candidates for initiation and occupy a very subordinate position until they have completed their instruction and "hot sands" initiation. Then in the final functions—the dinner and the ceremonial ball—they are as full fledged nobles.

Prospects are that there will be something like 50 novices seeking admission at the current ceremonial. Big Spring alone will supply 16 to 20 candidates, while Sweetwater has pledged eight. Substantial numbers are coming from the units at Midland, San Angelo, Brownwood, Abilene, and with candidates expected also from Snyder, Lamesa, McCamey, Brady, Sonora, Ozona, Big Lake and other points.

Physical Exam Precedes Initiation

Compositus goes out the window when Shriners initiate their novices. Even the mighty get whitened out to size.

So rigorous is the horse-play in the hot sands (second part) of the initiation, that all novices are given a physical examination. This enables their fellows to be prudent in the initiation, or to guard against physical harm. Just the same, those who come through know well they have been over the hot sands.

Two Divans Guide Work

Work of a Shrine Temple is directed by officers known as the Divan.

Actually there are two of them—the elective and the appointive.

Heading the Temple, of course, are the elective officers led by the potentate, the chief officer. Other officers are the chief Rabban, the assistant Rabban, the High Priest and Prophet, Oriental Guide, the treasurer and the secretary. In the Suez Temple future leaders must enter the Divan at the position of Oriental Guide and serve a year (unless vacancies accelerate the rate in the position immediately above) before they succeed to the Potentate's position.

The appointive Divan deals with the ritualistic and ceremonial work of the Shrine.

Half-Century Ago

The fez was uniform-of-the-day 50 years ago, just as it is today, when members of the Hella Temple of the Shrine journeyed here from Dallas, Main Street, where they gathered at that time, has changed considerably, but the Shriners remain the same in purpose. Only the faces have changed. This picture, taken where Hemphill Wells now stands, was made at the April 1, 1913, Convention of the Shriners. This picture was furnished by Ed Fisher.

All Shriners Help Support Hospitals

Seventeen Shriners scattered over three nations are standing testimonials that the Mystic Shrine of North America is more than a mere playground for Masons.

Organizers of the organization early recognized its potential value as an aid to mankind and began to consider projects which would help justify the existence of the Shrine.

The first such project was considered in 1914 when the Imperial Council appointed a committee to consider establishing a tuberculosis sanitarium for afflicted children of Shriners. The following year, however, the committee rejected the proposal because management over the wide area covered and selection of persons to be aided would be so difficult that the idea was impractical.

Four years later the idea of Shriners hospitals was born and in 40 years it has mushroomed. It was through the work of W.

Freeland Kendrick that a resolution was introduced in 1919 to form a memorial which was to "take the form of a home for friendless, orphaned, crippled children." The following year Imperial Potentate Kendrick presented a changed formal resolution to establish a Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children. It was adopted unanimously and each Shriner was to be assessed $2 a year to support the action.

The first hospital contribution, however, was received from a non-Shriner. Robert R. Meyer, Birmingham, Ala., gave $1,000.

The Shreveport Unit at Shreveport, La., was the first of the chain of hospitals approved by the 1921 Imperial Council. It was opened Sept. 16, 1922.

The next five years saw a tremendous growth in the number of hospitals. Fourteen units were opened.

Three units were opened in 1923, one each at Honolulu, Hawaii; Minneapolis, Minn.; and San Francisco, Calif. In 1924 units were added at Portland, Ore.; St. Louis, Mo.; and Spokane, Wash.

Four hospitals were added in 1925, as the chain extended into another country — Canada. The units were opened at Montreal, Quebec, Canada; Springfield, Mass.; Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada; and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Chicago, Ill.; Philadelphia, Pa.; and Lexington, Ky., gained Shriners hospitals in 1926. The expansion was brought to a halt temporarily with opening of a center at Greenville, S. C., in 1927.

Two units have been opened since that initial expansion. A center was opened at Mexico City, Mexico, in March, 1945 and another at Los Angeles, Calif., in March, 1952.

The Shriners hospitals are operated by local boards of governors who serve without pay.

Support of the network of hospitals has been an expensive task and Shriners now pay $5 each year instead of the original $2. About $6.5 million is needed each year to maintain and operate the hospitals.

Since the first Shriners hospital was established, more than 300,000 children have been restored to health and well being or materially aided. Happiness has been brought to thousands of parents who could not afford to have orthopedic medical treatment given their children.

Children under 15 years of age, regardless of race, color or religion, whose parents are unable to pay for treatment are eligible to enter the Shriners hospitals. A Shriner can admit a child by securing an application from the Recorder of his Temple or from a hospital unit.

First Shrine Hospital Was Opened In 1922

Just over 40 years ago, on Sept. 16, 1922, the first Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children opened its doors in Shreveport, La. Since that time, 16 other units have joined in the work of providing medical care for indigent crippled children.

More than 300,000 crippled children have been treated at the hospitals at a cost of $75 million for operating expenses alone. The hospitals represent an investment of another $21 million. Each year the cost of operating and maintaining the hospitals is about $6.5 million.

The units are now located at Chicago, Ill.; Greenville, S. C.; Honolulu, Hawaii; Salt Lake City, Utah; Lexington, Ky.; Los Angeles, Calif.; Mexico City, Mex.; Quebec, Canada; Philadelphia, Pa.; Portland, Ore.; St. Louis, Mo.; San Francisco, Calif.; Shreveport, La.; Spokane, Wash.; Springfield, Mass.; Minneapolis, Minn.; and Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada.

The hospitals were built and are maintained by the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America. The Order numbers more than 825,000 members at this time.

The idea of providing medical care for indigent crippled children without regard to their race, color or creed was first conceived by W. Freeland Kendrick, a former mayor of Philadelphia, and instituted by the Shrine of North America.

The hospitals receive a yearly budget which is met through a national fund. Operating costs are covered by annual hospital dues of $5 which each Shriner is assessed. Other income is from such Shrine investments as Permanent Hospital Life Memberships, Voluntary Hospital Life Memberships, wills and bequests of Shriners and non-Shriners and contributions from major activities undertaken by Shrine Temples. While the major financial support comes from within the Order, contributions are frequently made to the hospitals by persons impressed with the value of the work who desire to contribute to its continuation and expansion.

Financial outlay of the Shrine toward building and maintaining the hospitals aggregates more than $96 million. It is impossible to place a dollar value on the efforts of the Nobility in furthering their aim to aid crippled children.

Shriners hospitals are operated by a national Board of Trustees. In addition, there are local Boards of Governors and Nobility of the Order who donate their time and finances and are responsible to the trustees for the affairs of individual hospitals.

Although more than 300,000 crippled children have already been helped at the orthopedic centers, the waiting list for admission still contains about 2,000 names. The average hospital stay per patient is about 90 days at an average cost of $1,500.

The work is 100 per cent charity, since no paying patients are accepted. A child of any race, color or religion, under 15 years of age, whose parents or guardians are financially unable to pay for orthopedic treatment, may be admitted to one of the Shriners hospitals. However, there must be reasonable hope that orthopedic treatment will rehabilitate the child so he will become a useful citizen and not a charge upon the community.

Children with congenital types of clubbed feet, curvature of spines and joints and other such diseases and deformities which can be treated by orthopedic surgery, are treated and discharged either as completely cured or materially improved.

Recently the Shrine has moved into another field with its philanthropic work. Hospitals will be opened for treatment of persons acutely burned. The work may cost as much as $10 million.

Albert P. Groebel, brother of the present potentate (Ted O. Groebel) of the Suez Temple, left his life's estate to Shriners' hospitals for Crippled Children. As a memorial to him one issue of "Suez Scribbles," the Temple's monthly magazine, was dedicated to Al Groebel in 1959, noting his work in the Shrine.

Preparations Being Made For Webb Annual Art Show

Preparations for the annual Webb AFB art show are being made. John H. Lees Service Club officials, sponsors, have announced names of the judges. They are Mrs. Charles W. Burks, Mrs. Leonard Einstein, wife of Webb personnel, and C. D. Reeder, Big Spring portrait and landscape artist. Deadline for entrants is next Sunday. The judging will be Monday, and the exhibits will be displayed Tuesday 6-8 p.m. at the Service Club. The winners in each category will go to Randolph AFB, San Antonio, in competition with winners from all bases within the Air Training Command. Judging will be Nov. 21. Winners are requested to affix affidavits to all entries stating their willingness to sell the winner of the ATC competition for $100. The winning exhibit then will be sent back to the base from which it was received to become a permanent display. Judging will be according to the accepted art standards—originality and ingenuity; composition and design; and execution and technical ability. Entries will be accepted in two separate categories—contemporary, and traditional, in both painting and sculpture. Participation and achievements points may be earned toward the ATC Commanders' Participation Trophies by ATC bases entering the contest. All inquiries should be addressed to the Webb Service Club director.

Request Can't Be Carried Out

NEW YORK (AP)—A request made in life by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt could not be carried out in death. She willed her eyes to an eye bank, in hopes of aiding the sight of someone who survived her. But her son, Rep. James Roosevelt, announced that the bequest could not be fulfilled because an autopsy confirmed doctors' diagnosis of the cause of death precluded donation of the eyes.

Daniel Plans Park For Big Thicket

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel has named a committee to study the possibility of creating a Big Thicket State Park that would equal Yellowstone National Park. The committee, headed by Mayor Dempsey Henley of Liberty, will report to the legislature in January. Daniel called the first session of the committee for Nov. 19 at the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation near Livingston. Chief Cooper Sylvestine of the Indians is a member of the committee. The Big Thicket is a lush area of Southeast Texas, mostly in Hardin, Liberty, Tyler and Polk counties. In the first Democratic primary, in which Daniel lost, some opponents claimed the governor's family holdings near Liberty would benefit from creation of the state park. Daniel asked the committee to limit any lands in the proposed park to "gifts and leases which would not detract from the state's financial responsibility to parks already established." He also asked the committee to consider the economy of the area in determining the extent and location of the park and to protect present timber, mineral, grazing and hunting uses. "If the state, local citizens, landowners and industries in the area can get together on a plan of action, Texas can build a small portion of the Big Thicket into one of the Southwest's greatest tourist attractions and make an important step in wildlife conservation," Daniel said. Daniel said the Big Thicket contains "more specimens of plants, trees and wildlife than any similar area in the United States and with proper restoration of native game such as bear, deer, bobcat and mink, it can equal Yellowstone National Park in its attractions for tourists and scientists." He said a state study should be made before it attracts attention of federal wildlife officials. Other members of the committee include Edgar Brown Jr. of Orange, former Rep. Martin Dies Sr. of Lufkin, Clifford LeBlanc of Beaumont, Henry LeBlanc Sr. of Port Arthur, David Read of Silsbee, Charles Schmucker of Beaumont, Lee Sheffield of Beaumont, Garland Shepherd of Beaumont and R. E. (Bob) Smith of Houston.

Gen. Walker In Hospital For Tests

DALLAS (AP)—Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker strode confidently into the Southwestern Medical School Thursday to begin his long-scheduled mental examination. "I feel fine and have always felt fine," Walker said. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Catherine Walker, and three attorneys. Walker is undergoing the examination to determine if he is competent to stand trial on charges of rebellion, insurrection and seditious conspiracy for his actions in the integration rioting at the University of Mississippi. Dr. R. L. Stubblefield, chief of psychiatry at the medical school, will conduct the tests. Walker also will undergo a complete physical examination. The psychiatric test will be limited to points in a court order from Judge Claud Clayton of Oxford, Miss. These include if Walker understands the nature of the charges against him, is able to recount his role and can assist counsel in his defense. The results of the examination will not be publicly released. Spokesmen declined to say how long the examination will take. Robert Morris, an attorney for Walker, said "The tests will show Gen. Walker is fully capable of standing trial." Morris said that Dr. Stubblefield knows what is necessary to conduct the tests and that the Walker attorneys are satisfied with all that Dr. Stubblefield has done to date. The examination — originally scheduled for Oct. 12 — was arranged in a conference between Walker's attorneys and Charles Webster of Southern Methodist University School of Law, attorney for Dr. Stubblefield.

ON THE SHELF

ESCAPE FROM RED CHINA. By Robert Loh as told to Humphrey Evans. Coward-McCann. $5.75.

By The Associated Press

Loh was lucky. He was a middle class Chinese who had gone along with the Red regime and almost had believed in it for a time. He had learned to weave back and forth with the doublethink switches of the Communist line and had gained the confidence of party members. But he found he could not live and breathe in fear. He got out in the proverbial nick of time, and now has a translator's job in Washington. Knowing that the woman he loved has committed suicide in Red territory, and that his friends are beyond help, he has decided to tell his story. The son of a stock broker, and educated in the United States, he returned to China in 1949. He became one of the few members of the capitalist class who were tolerated as front men, or window dressing, when the Communists began their oppressive measures. By 1954 he had decided he could stand the regime no longer, but it was 1957 before he managed to get himself smuggled out of the country. The unnerving thing about his narrative is that it gives specific details, a sort of running play-by-play, of the insane, illogical tyranny that he had to undergo. He relates the play-acting in which he engaged to fool visiting foreigners into thinking the Reds were encouraging capitalism. He describes many "confessions" which were extracted willynilly from every level of society. He was smart enough to save his own hide by becoming a lecturer who rationalized the abrupt, idiotic reversals in party logic. He has some interesting revelations about the "Hundred Blossoms" period in which the party invited criticisms — which turned into near-rebellion — after which the regime liquidated its critics. He tells how the Hungarian revolution shook the people of China. He relates graphically how a Chinese delegation went to Russia at the end of 1956 and found many things that shocked it. Loh's story is about one man who helped in the brain-washing process but retained enough of his own brainpower to manage a flight to freedom. It is a frightening, tense and revealing book. —MILES A. SMITH

Worse Than Pearl Harbor, Nimitz Notes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The United States Pacific fleet would have been completely destroyed if the Japanese sneak attack had come anywhere but Pearl Harbor, Ret. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz says. The former commander of the fleet during World War II declared the United States would have lost every officer and man in the fleet if the blow fell anywhere but inside the shallow waters of Pearl Harbor. The fleet, docked at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, would have been wiped out if it had moved into the open seas to meet the Japanese assault, Nimitz told the San Francisco Bar Association. The 77-year-old Nimitz noted, "We had only two carriers against their six. Our ships would have been picked off, one by one."

Sex-Change Drug Abused, Justice Dept. Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—A New York firm has been charged with selling food and drugs illegally adulterated with an agent described as capable of changing sexual characteristics of boys and girls. The Justice Department said the charges were contained in a criminal information filed in U.S. District Court in Brooklyn against Nysco Laboratories, Inc., and four of its officials. The Long Island City-based firm and the officials were accused of violating the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetics Act. They were identified as Milton Sacks, president; Eugene J. Yoss, treasurer; Robert Goldman, director of laboratories; and Harry E. Gimbel, production supervisor. The government charged that the defendants sold diet supplements, prescription drugs for tuberculosis, tablets for acid stomach and an antihistamine for cold and hay fever which were unlawfully adulterated with the synthetic hormone diethylstilbestrol. The Food and Drug Administration described diethylstilbestrol as a powerful compound which has many of the biological and medical properties of female hormones. The FDA said it can cause feminization in young boys and can cause early internal physiological development in young girls. The FDA said all of the suspected products have been withdrawn from the market. The Justice Department said the suspected drugs were traced by the FDA in cooperation with state health officials and private doctors. The department said contaminated shipments were sent to the states of New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, California, Minnesota and Ohio. The department said Gimbel was named as defendant in nine counts and the others in eleven counts, each of which involved a different shipment of the drug. The maximum penalty upon conviction under the charge is one year in prison and a $1,000 fine on each count.
