Gore Is Winner Of Ring

Louis H. Gore, alias "Big Bore Gore" — All-American from Big Spring — walked away with the coveted Shrine diamond ring in the closing activities of the Suez Temple Fall Ceremonial here Friday and Saturday.

Gore, one of 47 novices who were inducted into the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, outdistanced his competitor for the diamond ring, Don Alexander, "Dennis the Menace" Alexander, from Midland, was presented with a diamond tie pin as runnerup.

HELPERS

Gore's victory, it was said by Shrine leaders, was largely due to the diligent efforts of Harvey Hooser Jr., his "coach" and Hank Brooks, tireless water boy. Both Hooser and Brooks were members of the novice class and with Gore made the trip across the hot sands Saturday.

Gore is an engineer at the Veterans' Administration Hospital.

The more than 2,000 Shriners and their wives who have jammed the town for the past two days brought their fall get-together to a close Saturday night at the Cosden Country Club. A ceremonial banquet at 6:45 p.m. and the ball which followed were closing activities on a crowded two-day agenda.

Speaker at the banquet last night — a closely guarded secret until he was introduced — was Louis Freeman, widely-known humorist from Dallas. He is a Shriner from Akbar Temple in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

BIG PARADES

Saturday was a busy day for the wearers of the red fez.

The mammoth parade, 11 blocks in length, wound its way through the downtown area at 11 a.m. and most of Big Spring and Howard County was on hand to watch the procession.

Shriners in full uniform were featured in the march. The Big Spring High School Band and the Runnels Junior High Band had prominent spots in the line of march. The high school band was leader of the procession.

Novices were much in evidence in the parade.

At noon a barbecue was served.

EXTRA COPIES OF BOOK OF RECIPES

The Herald has printed a limited number of extra copies of today's Special supplement, "Tastes 'O' Texas."

This contains many favorite dishes of West Texas families—perhaps new ideas that you would like your friends to use.

Extra copies are available for 36¢ (25¢ plus state sales tax of 1¢). We suggest you come by promptly and get copies you need.

They would, incidentally, make an economical, thoughtful form of Christmas greeting.

NOTE: There are more recipes than could be incorporated into the supplement. These appear on one page of today's regular paper, and this page may be pulled out and folded into the supplement.

Severe Storm Hits Eastern Seaboard

By The Associated Press

The second weekend storm in a row flogged the eastern states Saturday with gale-force winds that boosted ocean tides and destroyed property.

The storm was accompanied by flooding rains that caused a rash of traffic accidents and washed out sports events.

Powerful east to northeast winds pushed Lake Erie from its normal shoreline at Dunkirk, N.Y., and the four-foot drop in water level exposed a big mud flat.

Two boats went aground in the harbor, a tug and commercial fishing boat. A veteran fisherman said it was the first time in memory the harbor water dropped so low.

DEATHS

Storm-related traffic accidents Friday and Saturday caused at least six deaths in North Carolina, three in Pennsylvania and one in New Jersey.

A mother and daughter drowned at Charlotte, N.C., when their car plunged into a rain-swollen stream. Rescue workers were unable to locate the car for two hours.

Navy Checks Out 41 Red Missiles

No Agreement On Moving Bombers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The count of Soviet nuclear missiles leaving Cuba aboard Soviet vessels went on Saturday with 41 of the listed 42 apparently on the high seas.

The U.S. Navy made close-up examinations of three merchantmen Saturday following inspection of four other ships Friday—with six to eight missiles identified on the decks of all except two. One apparently was carrying five on its deck and another had no missiles.

The Navy was taking no chances that some of the Soviet vessels might try to return to Cuba.

The U.S. guided missile warship Dahlgren trailed a Soviet freighter through the Windward Passage on Saturday to be sure there was no turnback.

The Soviet ship was the 12,015-ton Leninsky Kossomol with eight canvas-shrouded long objects on its deck. These apparently were the missiles the Soviet skipper exposed to a U.S. check Friday after holding out for six hours against inspection.

When the destroyer Barry inspected the freighter Anosov at dawn Saturday the Soviet skipper refused repeated requests to completely unrepeat missiles lashed to the deck. But there seemed no doubt that they were rockets and the Pentagon said the count was carried out "without incident."

The Soviet freighter Polzunov, homebound from Havana with five missile shapes on her deck, pelled the canvas cover off one and partially off another for U.S. aerial observers Saturday.

OTHER DEMANDS

But even as the nuclear threat to the Americas receded there was haggling at the United Nations—with no agreement in sight—over Soviet and Cuban balking at two U.S. demands: (1) that Russia pull its jet bombers out of Cuba and (2) allow on-site inspection of the Cuban missile bases to guarantee they have been dismantled and that no nuclear equipment has been hidden away in caves or elsewhere.

U.S. officials forecast that, despite his agreement for inspection that when Soviet Premier Khrushchev has checked all his missiles through the U.S. warship picket line he will declare that any U.N. inspection or other international verification is unnecessary.

Khrushchev was expected to give up only what he feels compelled to yield to avoid nuclear war, even though he was pictured as willing to go far to avoid a holocaust.

JFK DETERMINED

President Kennedy is reported, however, determined on international verification of the removal of Cuba of medium and intermediate-range missiles, which could hurl death onto American cities. Otherwise, officials say, he will continue the U.S. air-sea surveillance of Cuba indefinitely as the only way to prevent another swift buildup of a nuclear threat—perhaps with missiles hidden in Cuba.

U.S. officials still are concerned about whether the 42 missiles Soviet officials say they are taking home are all that are in Cuba. There are reports, difficult to check, that other missiles have been hidden in caves where U.S. reconnaissance planes cannot spot them.

FULL PROOF

When Khrushchev announced Oct. 28 he was withdrawing offensive weapons, Kennedy replied that he would lift the blockade and pledge not to invade Cuba but only after receiving unquestionable proof that the Cuba-based nuclear threat to the security of this nation had been fully eliminated.

Missile Check To Be Given To Red Cross

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Acting Secretary-General U Thant reported conditional agreement Saturday on arrangements for the International Committee of the Red Cross to look for missiles on Cuba-bound Soviet ships.

He told inquiring correspondents that the Red Cross committee, Cuba, the Soviet Union and the United States "have all agreed, with certain conditions."

He declined to give details. But he said he expected final, conclusive agreement early next week, probably by Tuesday.

The Red Cross inspection is intended to replace the naval arms quarantine the United States threw around Cuba on Oct. 24 to keep out Soviet missiles, bombing planes and accessories.

Thant answered the correspondents' questions after a final conference with Red Cross representatives who came here from the committee's Geneva headquarters Tuesday to negotiate on the matter.

The representatives were Paul Roesiger, ex-president of the all-Swiss committee, and Melchior Borsinger, secretary of its executive board.

They planned to fly back to Geneva and report on their talks with Thant. They have described these talks privately as exploratory.

But in a letter made public Saturday, Thant characterized the consultations as "fruitful" and spoke of the committee's "favorable response" to his invitation to undertake the inspection job despite its traditional limitation to strictly humanitarian work.

Graveside Rites Monday For Mrs. H. W. Whitney

Graveside services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday for Mrs. Nola Whitney, 54, wife of H. W. Whitney, Corpus Christi city manager and for many years a Big Spring resident.

Mrs. Whitney died Friday in a Corpus Christi hospital following a short serious illness. She had not been in best of health during the summer and was thought to be suffering from anemia. She entered the hospital last weekend and by mid-week her condition suddenly worsened. A daughter, in Big Spring, Mrs. Jim Bill Little, flew to her bedside.

Services were held Saturday at 4 p.m. in Corpus Christi and the body was returned here by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home and will be in state until shortly before time for the graveside rites at Trinity Memorial Park.

Mrs. Whitney was born Jan. 10, 1908 in Sweetwater. The family moved to Baird and then to Big

Ackerly Youth Is Killed In Accident

Manuel Cobos Alvarez, 17, an employe of V. J. Coleman at Ackerly, was dead on arrival at the Howard County Hospital Foundation at 10 p.m. Saturday. He had been injured about an hour earlier in a one-car accident between West Knott and Ackerly.

Venacio Rojillas, 21, who was a companion of Alvarez in a 1953 car, was bruised and cut but was not hospitalized.

He said there were three other young Latin-Americans in the car. The whereabouts of these had not been established at 11 p.m.

Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home ambulance was called to the scene shortly after 9 p.m. Ambulance men said that young Alvarez was not dead when they started back to town, but he had died by the time the ambulance reached the hospital.

Jestis Slaughter, justice of the peace, ruled death due to an automobile accident.

Rojillas said that Alvarez was driving. This was later confirmed by relatives of the dead youth who were called to the hospital.

Jimmy Parks, highway patrol officer, investigated the accident. Parks said that the accident was just across the line in Martin County. He said it occurred 3.1 miles north of West Knott on FM 2212. He estimated it was a little more than a mile inside the Martin County line.

Young Alvarez was born in Presidio, but the date of his birth was not available. His parents have been notified and are en route from Presidio to Big Spring. A sister, a brother and his brother-in-law live in the Ackerly community and came to Big Spring soon after the accident.

To Resign Aid Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fowler Hamilton, head of the U.S. foreign aid program, has offered to resign, a government official said Saturday night.

Hamilton, formerly a highly successful lawyer in New York City, took the job on a "limited basis," the official said, and would like to return to his law practice, or to private business.

Final Push For United Fund

The United Fund has 90 per cent of its requirement — but it will take intensive work by all those who accepted assignments to bring in the tough ten per cent by November 16.

Friday is the closeout date for the drive, which must net $103,314 if all participating agencies are provided with necessary operating funds for the next year.

A score of UF leaders met in an emergency session Friday afternoon to take a look at the weak spots in the campaign. With Chairman Lee O. Rogers and Co-Chairman Jack Y. Smith, they analyzed the prospects. Their verdict:

The goal can be achieved if all prospect cards are worked.

It was shown that in many areas it has been simply a failure of volunteers to complete their tasks. In some areas which normally make substantial gifts, there has been no report at all.

"Success is in the outstanding cards," said Rogers. "All present at the Friday conference have determined that the job will be done. We make this final appeal for response by all who have not done their fair share."

Saturday morning reports to UF headquarters reflected $92,034.18 raised, or 89.3 per cent of the target.

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK

With Joe Pickle

Do your part today to deliver a knockout blow to polio. All you have to do is to take a few minutes and go to one of several vaccine centers for your lump of sugar containing a couple of drops of tasteless vaccine. Surely you can do that much to help shackle this crippling and killer.

The United Fund has moved into the final tenth of its campaign for a $103,314 goal. This can be reached if everyone will push hard this week. Some people well able to give have not given, and some have not given nearly enough in accordance with their blessings and earnings. If you haven't had a part, don't wait for a personal contact but call the UF office Monday. We can't afford to fail on this.

In contrast to previous years, Tuesday's general election was hotly contested and consequently the turnout of 5,500 votes set a record of a non-presidential year. On the basis of the votes for governor, Howard County Democrats will have 10 in the state convention, Republicans 7. While the Demo delegate strength remains relatively unchanged, the GOP delegate total is up sharply.

R. E. (Peppy) Blount, who was reared in Big Spring and once served a term in the legislature from here, was a write-in victor at Longview for Gregg County Judge. The incumbent had been charged in connection with the slant-hole drilling scandal, and the write-in resulted.

Clowning It

UNDER PRESSURE TODAY

Khrushchev Less Powerful, According To Some Signs

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—The fourth anniversary of Premier Khrushchev's announcement that he would settle the Berlin question in six months finds the issue perhaps even further from settlement — and Khrushchev under pressure. Khrushchev, nearing the peak of his power at home and abroad, announced on Nov. 10, 1958, at a Polish-Russian friendship rally in Moscow, that a treaty with the two Germans should be signed at once. If the West did not agree, he said, then at the end of six months he would invite Communist nations and any others who chose to come to sign a separate treaty with East Germany. He contended the treaty would make West Berlin a free, internationalized city.

Time after time the deadline was postponed. Now there is apparently no deadline. Khrushchev told correspondents at a Kremlin reception last week that, with the Cuban situation growing quiet, the Berlin situation was becoming more acute.

THREE OTHERS
But a significant thing developed at the reception. At the premier's elbow as he delivered the formal toasts for the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution stood the other three members of what now is called here the "Quadrumvirate"—President Leonid I. Brezhnev, Froil R. Kozlov, a top party secretary, and Alexei Kosygin, a first deputy premier.

Throughout the anniversary parade in Red Square, these four also were shown together. Anastas I. Mikoyan the other first deputy premier, was in Cuba trying to tame Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Moreover, in the several meetings with the leaders from Socialist states over the past dozen days, the quadrumvirate has been on hand, with an exception or two.

No one knows for sure what is going on inside the Kremlin except perhaps those inside the Kremlin—and, as history shows, they don't always know for sure.

SAILS TRIMMED?
But from the viewpoint of interested foreigners it appears that the premier's sails have been somewhat trimmed, and that these three associates now share more than before the power that long was largely in the hands of Khrushchev alone.

Again, remembering that this is a view from outside the Kremlin, it would appear that setbacks are impairing the stocky leader's position:

1. His agricultural reforms — and he has been the prime mover there—have not brought profitable results. It is the worst element of the Soviet economy.

2. In 1961 he tried to liquidate finally the Stalinist antiparty group headed by V. M. Molotov, but so far as is known, some are still in the party. One of the group Marshal Kliment Y. Voroshilov, has completed the cycle from disgrace last year to a restored place of honor on Lenin's tomb, where he appeared at the Revolution Day demonstration.

3. The Berlin affair — which Khrushchev is largely credited with initiating.

4. An attempted reform, rejected by the party hierarchy, under which one of the low levels of government would be abolished. It is the ration, or regional organizations, something akin in size to a county in America. Khrushchev wanted them abolished. They are still there.

CUBAN BACKFIRE
5. And finally, worst of all, the failure of the Cuban rocket maneuver. Western analysts here still marvel at how close the Russians came by that maneuver to a very much improved position—even a dangerously dominant position—to demand a settlement on Berlin—which after all is the big trouble area.

If even as few as 40 rockets had been planted in Cuba, with their mechanisms beamed on, say, 20 of America's important Eastern and central cities, Russia would have been in a vastly superior position strategically to push claims on Berlin — or any place else in the world.

But the gamble failed, and here — again looked at from outside the Kremlin — it appears it has cost Khrushchev much position, not only in the eyes of his immediate followers, but in the eyes of the leaders of the Communist states who have been here for talks. What the talks are about has not been disclosed.

But, quite apart from these, the setback in Cuba is looked upon here — again from outside the Kremlin — as a near disaster for Soviet prestige throughout the world.

Rusk County Indicts 20 In Slant Drilling

HENDERSON, Tex. (AP)—The Rusk County grand jury stepped into the widespread probe into slanted oil wells Friday, indicting 20 East Texas oilmen on criminal charges.

Dist. Atty. William Ferguson said the indictments did not complete the grand jury's work in delving into alleged slant well drilling and that other indictments could be expected.

Warrants were being prepared in the district clerk's office here for the arrest of the men.

The indictments, made public Saturday, were:

H. L. Long, Tyler, three counts theft; Robert Cargill, Longview, one count theft; E. B. Hearn Sr., two counts theft and one conspiracy to commit theft; W. S. Barber, Kilgore, two counts theft; Jack McCubbin, Kilgore, two counts theft; J. R. Stegall, Kilgore, two counts theft; J. B. Laird, Kilgore, one count theft and one conspiracy to commit theft; Owen Thomas, Kilgore, one count theft; Daryl Gaumer, Longview, one count theft; E. B. Hearn Jr., Longview, one count theft.

G. M. Jordan, Longview, two counts theft; E. W. Skates, Longview, two counts theft and two conspiracy to commit theft; H. C. Jones, Kilgore, one count theft and one conspiracy to commit theft; W. T. Maxwell, Kilgore, one count theft and one conspiracy; William Hobbs, Tyler, three counts conspiracy; W. R. Henderson, Longview, one count theft; Tom Cook Jr., Longview, one count conspiracy; L. D. Murphy, Kilgore, one count conspiracy; W. O. Davis Jr., Longview, one count conspiracy.

Rusk County's indictments brought the total number of bills returned by grand jurors in the oil-rich East Texas field to more than 100. Others have been returned in Wood, Gregg and Upshur Counties.

Coin Club Names Nominating Panel

Dale Smith, M. L. Kirby, N. A. Wilson, Ed J. Valenta and Mrs. Bob Sanderson are to draw a slate of candidates for offices in the Big Spring Coin Club for the next year. They were named as a nominating committee at the regular meeting of the club Thursday night in the Elks Club dining room.

W. A. Kenney, vice president, presided at the meeting. Reports on the club's first coin show conducted in October were heard and the show classified as a success.

Door prizes for the night went to Edwin Jack, Roger Miller, Reba Parrish, Jimmy Earnest and Victor D. Barlow.

Two new members were enrolled. There were seven visitors at the meeting which was attended by 75 persons.

U.S. BUILDS DEFENSE

Red Bombers Stay In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. defense against bomber attack from Cuba is mounting as the Communists persist in refusal to remove a score or more of Ilyushin 28 medium jet bombers with nuclear-strike capability.

The bombers, together with Russian-made MIG jet fighters which also can be used for bombing purposes, remain a menace, even though, the Russians appear to have dismantled and shipped out medium and intermediate-range ballistic missiles.

Army Nike-Hercules missiles capable of hurling atomic warheads up to 100 miles previously have been placed in southern Florida where batteries of shorter range Hawk antiaircraft missiles already were arrayed.

A photograph of one position shows two Nike-Hercules, one in vertical position, the other still on a transport beside it. This is the first disclosure that Hercules missiles have been placed in southern Florida, 90 miles from Cuba.

Until now, Nike weapons had been deployed in other areas, primarily around big cities and airfields.

The missile defenses are in addition to swarms of Air Force and Navy jet interceptors poised for swift take off from runways and carrier decks.

The radius at which the IL28 can operate is considerably less than that for the intermediate range ballistic missiles which the Russians had been putting into

Club Has Fair Success With World Gift Sale

While sales were not quite as voluminous as the organization would have liked, the Howard County Legal Secretaries' Association members expressed general satisfaction with its World Gift Show staged Saturday.

The show was in the Masters' Cafeteria and featured imported merchandise from all over the world. The merchandise was provided by Allene Hogg, Odessa, who supervised the presentation of the show.

Members of the Howard County organization were on hand to help out. This is the initial public event the new club has attempted. Profits from the show will be placed in the club's educational fund.

The Legal Secretaries organization came into being only a few months ago. Betty Homfeld is president.

Most of the secretaries in lawyers' offices in Big Spring are members of the group.

The club expressed its appreciation to the Masters Cafeteria and to the public for helping it initiate its first major event.

The club officers said other events will be attempted in the future.

You are within your rights in questioning the preacher. Gospel preachers of Bible days did not expect the people to take their word without proof. (Acts 9:22 and 18:28).

We are told to "be ready always to give an answer" (1 Pet. 3:15), and we make an honest effort to do in the church of Christ. We are open for questioning at all times.

As space permits, I try to handle a number of questions through this column (questions which are likely to be of concern to our readers generally).

If the anonymous inquirer who asked about instrumental music will write again, giving his name and address this time, I will see that he gets an answer, either through this column, or by mail. I will not publish one's name without his consent; but there is little reason for thinking an anonymous writer is an honest inquirer.

All readers are invited to be with us today. Sermons, "Distress, Debt and Discontent" (10:30 a.m.) and "The Good Confession" (7 p.m.). Bible school, 9:30 a.m. You are always welcome; so are your inquiries.

201 Counties To Connally; Cox Set Record For GOP

By The Associated Press

John Connally carried 201 counties in winning the race for governor, final tabulations by the Texas Election Bureau showed Saturday.

Jack Cox, the Republican, carried 53 counties and polled 45 per cent of the vote, the highest percentage the Republicans have captured in any Texas governor's race since 1869 when they elected E. J. Davis.

The success of Connally in trimming the frequent Republican majorities and erasing it in some cases in the state's most populous counties contributed heavily to his victory by 129,436 votes.

Connally received 838,012 ballots, Cox 708,576 and Jack Carswell, Constitution party candidate, 7,046.

The total vote was 1,553,634, largest for Texas in a non-presidential year. An estimated 4,000 unreported votes in 14 counties were not included in that total. The only county with a substantial vote still not counted was Jim Wells, (Alice), where the returns were impounded until next week. Jim Wells reported 1,089 ballots in the governor's race with an estimated 2,000 still to be tabulated.

Gillespie County (Fredericksburg) gave Cox 74.7 per cent of its vote for the best showing of the party in any county.

McLennan (Waco) gave the Democrats the highest percentage with 61.8 among the larger counties.

Of the top four counties in vote strength, Connally carried both Bexar and Tarrant, won by the Republicans in the 1960 presidential election and by Republican John Tower in the 1961 special Senate race with Democratic Sen. William Blakely.

Connally shaved the Republican lead to 3,781 votes in Harris County, which went overwhelmingly for Tower and for the GOP's Richard Nixon in 1960.

Cox fell a percentage point or two in Dallas County below the Nixon and Tower figures.

Final figures in other races before the Election Bureau, an unofficial vote counting organization, ended its tabulations (Democrats listed first):

1. L. Wright Patman 26,315, James Timberlake 12,950, both Texas-Kan.

2. Jack Brooks 46,926, Roy James 21,271, both Beaumont.

Directors To Plan For Second Lake

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will meet here Monday to consider a proposal described as being of critical importance to plans for impounding a second lake on the Colorado River.

Oilfield operators in northern Coke County have been negotiating with the district for a source of supply for a waterflood project.

E. V. Spence, general manager for CRMWD, said that a proposal had been worked out whereby the district could deliver salt water intercepted on the upper Colorado. This would be diluted with water from Lake J. B. Thomas in quantities sufficient to meet contract demands. This will entail construction of a 47-mile pipeline.

The district has that a conditional permit to impound a second lake if and when it can demonstrate that salt water pollution of the river is being brought under control.

The Texas Railroad Commission issued an order, effective Dec. 7, 1962, banning disposal of oilfield brines in pits. (A group of operators in the Sharon Ridge field has asked for a six-month stay on the effective date of the ban.) Although the district contends this is the principal source of pollution, it still faces the problem of disposing of heavily contaminated water already in the river. The proposal to be considered here Monday may offer some solution of this particular problem, said Spence.

Hence, it could be one of the key steps opening the way to the second lake project.

McCann Gets Second Chance

Rodney R. McCann, young building contractor, will have one more chance to live up to the terms of his 5-year-probated sentence.

If he stumbles one more time, Judge Ralph Caton warned him sternly Friday, he will have to serve the full five years in the state prison.

McCann appeared before the court Friday on a motion by Dist. Atty. Gil Jones that his probation be revoked. It was related by witnesses on the stand that he had written a number of worthless checks. McCann admitted the check writing. He said that he had believed he had enough money on deposit to cover the checks. One time, he said, he had $500 in the bank and wrote about $200 more in checks than his balance. He said that he had depended on another occasion of a third person making a deposit which had not been made as expected.

The court said that in view of the fact the checks had all been paid off and that it was the young builder's first misstep since being placed on probation, that he would be given one more chance.

Hedleston Becomes Drug Firm Owner

Cunningham & Phillips drug store this week will mark the 43rd anniversary of its establishment and the passing of full ownership to Joe B. Hedleston.

The week will be marked by a series of special offerings, and by over-all gifts to someone among the visitors to the store during the week.

Recently Hedleston, a partner since 1946, acquired the interest of Shine Phillips and is now sole owner of the veteran merchandising firm.

"We are grateful for all the support in the past," said Hedleston, "and we hope to be of such service that we will deserve continued support. We are anxious to renew our friendships during this anniversary week."

JOE B. HEDLESTON

FOUNDERS

The business was established in 1919 by two area old timers, Shine Phillips and C. W. Cunningham. For 32 years, the "mother" store flourished at the same location in the 100 block on Main Street. At one time there were five stores, but since 1958 the firm has operated exclusively at 905 Johnson.

Hedleston is a native of Rockwall County but was reared in Coleman County where he got into the drug field after completing high school. He received his license as a pharmacist in 1928 and for a number of years worked with the Bower Drug Stores in Coleman.

In 1941 he established his own firm, selling in 1946 to acquire half interest in the C&P establishment here. He operated the Petroleum Building store while Shine Phillips directed the operations at the Main Street location until it was transferred to Johnson Street in 1952. Cosden purchased the Petroleum Building in 1958 and the store there was consolidated with the Johnson Street unit.

Health at the same time Phillips began to fail and he suffered a series of strokes that forced his retirement.

BACKGROUND

Hedleston is a member of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association, the National Association of Retail Druggists, the West Texas Pharmaceutical Association. He is a deacon in the First Christian Church. He and Mrs. Hedleston have two daughters, Mrs. Stan Koop, Odessa, and Nancy, a junior in Big Spring High School. The roots of C&P Drugs goes back to the turn of the century. It was established originally as McCamant Bros. The late B. Reagan, who had come to Big Spring as superintendent of schools in 1898, acquired the store and operated it until he sold it in 1919 to Cunningham and Phillips. C. W. Cunningham was a native of Houston County and trained as a school teacher. In 1900 he became a licensed pharmacist and came here from Lufkin in 1908. After a year he opened his own store in Garden City and operated there until he formed the partnership in 1919 with Phillips. He served as county judge on Glasscock County and as mayor and school board president here.

FIRST CITIZEN

Shine Phillips grew up in Big Spring and by his own assessment was one of the most mischievous lads in town. He worked as a boy selling newspapers and bottling castor oil and other remedies serving in Washington. He got his first permit in 1910 and after studying at the university 1911-13 he got his license. Briefly he worked at Ranger during the boom then returned here to enter business. Regarded as an unofficial first citizen of Big Spring, he publicized his beloved home town with a book titled "Big Spring—Biography of a Prairie Town." Successive strokes slowed him before one forced his retirement about four years ago.

LETTER TO EDITOR

People Need The Names Of Their Law Makers

To the Editor:

I believe that it is extremely important for the voters of this county to communicate with the people they send to Washington to represent them. Too often a citizen does not know how to write his congressman; therefore he does not express his opinion on the major issues voted on by Congress.

Every post office in each state of the United States should display a list of the names and addresses of the Senators and Representatives serving in Washington. Thus the voter would have the information he needs to make his voice heard in a government that sometimes seems so remote and impersonal.

The individual states could also list the names and addresses of its governor and state legislators. These lists could be provided by the local postmasters and the project would require very little time or money. It would be such a small task and yet would contribute so much to a government "by the people."

I hope you will support such a project in whatever way you can.

Only Federal Offices Close For Vets' Day

Most Big Spring offices will do business as usual Monday. Only Federal and State offices, and a few private concerns will be closed in observance of Veterans Day.

The offices will be closed at the Big Spring State Hospital, the Veterans Administration Hospital, the Post Office and Webb Air Force Base. Skeleton crews will be maintained, except at the Post Office, where windows will be closed. There will be no mail delivery.

Of the local utilities, Pioneer Natural Gas will close, but Texas Electric Service Co. will be open. City and county offices will operate as usual. Since this is not an official holiday for Big Spring, few business houses are expected to close. The banks will be open during their normal hours.

GOP Has Work Cut Out In Defeating Kennedy In '64

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic control of governorships in 14 states that voted Republican in 1960's presidential race indicated Saturday the GOP faces an uphill fight in challenging President Kennedy's re-election.

While the Republicans swept the big industrial states into their fold in last Tuesday's election, only Michigan and Pennsylvania represented newly won governorships in states that gave Kennedy their electoral vote in 1960.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's re-election in New York gave the GOP continued control in a third state that backed Kennedy. Otherwise all of the Republican victories were in states that went for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

These latter included recapture of governorships in Colorado, Ohio, and Wyoming and the election of the first Republican governor of Oklahoma.

With races in Rhode Island and Minnesota still to be decided, Democrats now control the governor's offices in 33 states, the Republicans in 15. These figures include holdover state executives and the unofficial election of a Republican in Maine and a Democrat in Massachusetts, either of which may be contested.

Besides holding on to the governorship of California, which went for Nixon in 1960, the Democrats won in Hawaii, Iowa, New Hampshire and Vermont, all of which voted for the GOP nominee two years ago.

Including holdovers, the Democrats have governors in these additional states that supported Nixon: Florida, Indiana, Kentucky, Nebraska, North Dakota, Tennessee, Virginia, Washington and Wisconsin.

While it doesn't hold true in every state, governors generally are credited with being able to assemble party organizations that can have an impact on the presidential vote outcome in their states.

The political rule of thumb says that the party which has its man in the executive chair of the capitals of key states has a leg up in the national contest.

For the GOP, the 1964 task will be to run a power play with New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan as its pivot. They can hope for some Southern support for their candidate to add to the backing they expect to pick up from scattered smaller states.

For all practical purposes they have lost a large part of their base in New England. This means that the Midwest and Far West will have to be worked hard by the GOP.

FIVE WIN ACQUITTAL IN KILLING MALFORMED BABY

L'EGE, Belgium (AP) — Three women and two men tried for the killing of a baby girl malformed by thalidomide were acquitted today by a 12-man jury.

The accused were: Suzanne Vandepuit, 25, accused of the homicide of her daughter by administering barbiturate drugs in the baby's food; her husband, Jean, 35; her sister, Monique de la Marck, 26; the child's grandmother, Fernande Yerna, 50; and the family doctor, Jacques Casters, 33, all accused of complicity.

Casters is alleged to have prescribed the drug which killed the armless baby.

The trial lasted five days.

The prosecution had demanded convictions for the death of the eight-day-old baby.

Applause and shouts from the huge crowd packed into every inch of the court greeted the verdict.

Women fainted and were held up by the pressure of the crowd.

Alger Hiss To Get A Word At Nixon

NEW YORK (AP) — Alger Hiss will appear on a nationwide television program Sunday entitled "Political Obituary of Richard Nixon."

Nixon, Republican vice president from 1953 to 1961 and before that a California congressman and senator, figured prominently in congressional investigations that preceded Hiss's perjury trials in 1949 and 1950.

Nixon, 49, lost Tuesday in his bid for the California governorship and later held what he called his last press conference. In 1960 he was the unsuccessful GOP candidate for president.

An interview with Hiss will be included in a special Nixon program on the Howard K. Smith show at 10:30 p.m. EST Sunday over the ABC-TV network. The interview was taped Friday.

Others who will be interviewed include Los Angeles lawyer Murray Chotiner, who was Nixon's campaign manager; Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich.; and former Democratic Congressman H. Jerry Voorhees, whom Nixon ousted in his first bid for Congress.

The producer of the Smith show, Bill Robin, said the Hiss interview was longer than the allotted space in the show and a final decision on which portions to use had not been made yet.

Kobin, who attended the interview, said Hiss's comments showed "a surprising lack of hostility" toward Nixon.

"They are more, almost a commentary on the times," Kobin said.

Nixon was a freshman congressman in 1947-48 when he gained national attention for his work with the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

That committee helped expose a pre-World War II Communist spy ring, and, as one outgrowth,

'Most Wanted' Suspect Taken By The FBI

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI announced the arrest in Baltimore Saturday of Bobby Randall Wilcoxson, 33, who was sought for a series of bank robberies and is among the agency's 10 most wanted men.

Arrested with him was Jacqueline Ruth Rose, 19, who also faces bank robbery charges.

The arrest of Wilcoxson and Miss Rose was announced here by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

The two were arrested outside a newly rented Baltimore home less than a week after Albert Frederick Nussbaum, 23, named by the FBI as the third member of the gang, was arrested in Buffalo, N.Y.

Hoover said the couple was taken into custody by a squad of FBI agents outside a newly rented home at 1620 Walterswood Rd., Baltimore.

The couple moved in two weeks ago and Wilcoxson used the name of Robert Thomas Bronson while Miss Rose used the name Gloria Banks. Wilcoxson was posing as her father, Hoover said.

FBI agents in Baltimore said Wilcoxson was arrested as he stepped out of the house and started to enter an automobile parked across the street.

Wilcoxson, 33, and Nussbaum also are prime suspects in the record $1.5 million haul from a postal truck in Plymouth, Mass., last August.

Miss Rose is suspected of having driven the getaway car in at least one of the robberies.

The star salesmen in both divisions will be recognized. An informal program has been arranged, according to James Tidwell, president.

MIGS COMING

Nehru Now Looks For Soviet Help

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Reporting a slight shift in Soviet attitude, Prime Minister Nehru said Saturday the Russians will send MIG21 jet fighter planes for India's possible use in the undeclared border war with Red China.

This. There was speculation he was basing his remarks on editorial activity in Soviet newspapers which have taken a more neutral attitude recently.

The Chinese have seized all but 500-square miles of a 15,000-square mile zone on India's northwest border in the Ladakh area.

India put in the order for the jets long before the Red Chinese opened an offensive Oct. 20 on two fronts in the Himalayas along India's northern frontiers.

Nehru's statement on the planes, reported to newsmen by committee members, was the latest from the government on the long-secret jet deal.

The Russians, faced with wounding their Chinese ally, were at first reported to have reneged on the order. Moscow newspapers sympathetically supported the Red Chinese in their drives to occupy disputed border areas in the Himalayas.

But Nehru told the meeting there had been a shift in Kremlin thinking in India's favor.

Committee members did not elaborate on what Nehru had to say about the long-secret jet deal.

It Looks Good From Here

Lionel Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wright, 3602 Dixon, went about his viewing the hard way as he looked over works presented Saturday at the Las Artistas Sidewalk Show. His brother, Flynn Wright, was one of the persons in charge of the show and one of the artists displaying work. The show had perhaps the largest turnout in its history.

Mrs. Benton, Local Man's Sister, Dies

Mrs. Mary Eloise Benton, 60, Odessa, sister of Joe Pond, Big Spring insurance man, died in a local hospital here at 5:15 p.m. Saturday. She had been ill for three weeks.

Her home in Odessa is at 1401 Lincoln. Nalley-Pickel Funeral Home is in charge of local arrangements, but services are to be in Odessa under direction of Hubbard-Kelly Funeral Home. Details were incomplete Saturday night.

Mrs. Benton was born Aug. 6, 1902, in Colorado City. Her husband died about six months ago.

Survivors, in addition to her brother here, include one son, William E. Benton, Silver City, N.M.; two daughters, Mrs. Leon Self, Ada, Okla., and Mrs. Cecil Cherry, Odessa; two sisters, Mrs. Jack Boone, Lubbock, and Miss Lillian Pond, Odessa. There are seven grandchildren.

Sidewalk Show Attracts Stream Of Art Viewers

The Las Artistas Sidewalk Show of arts and crafts Saturday had one of the largest turnouts of viewers in its history.

Helped along with visitors to the city here for the Shiner Convention, a steady stream of viewers walked among the works displayed on the east side of the main highway. About 75 articles were shown by some 15 artists.

"It was a pretty good show," C. D. Reeder, one of the artists displaying works, said. "The art presented compared very well with that of past shows."

Reeder also gave the show an assist by handling easels for other works. On hand to assist visitors and arrange for purchase of pictures were Flynn Wright, Mrs. Bismarck Schafer and Mrs. A. E. Jones. As usual, however, no pictures were sold.

"The artist and purchaser usually arrange any sale after the show if interest is shown in a work," Wright said.

The number of persons displaying works at this year's show was smaller than at most past shows. Several of the more prominent local artists and others from Midland and nearby towns did not have any of their products on display.

Pictures were not judged and there was no limit to the number each person could display. There was no entry fee.

Works were on display from 9 a.m. until about 5 p.m. The weather was almost perfect.

Walker Draws Weekend Pass For Birthday

DALLAS (AP) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, undergoing a court-ordered psychiatric examination at Parkland Hospital, took a "weekend pass" Saturday to celebrate his 53rd birthday.

Robert Morris of Dallas, one of his attorneys, said the ex-officer left the hospital at about 11 a.m. and will report back "either tomorrow night or early Monday."

"He relaxed at his home today — doing much of nothing," he added.

Walker's family and a few friends helped him celebrate his birthday Saturday, Morris said. Another party is planned Sunday at a friend's home.

Walker, accused by the federal government of rebellion, insurrection and seditious conspiracy by his actions when the University of Mississippi was integrated, entered the hospital Thursday.

U. S. Dist. Judge Claud Clayton ordered Walker to undergo the examination by Dr. R. L. Stubblefield, chairman of the psychiatry department at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical school here.

"Gen. Walker said everything is going satisfactory," Morris said. "He said he is cooperating with Dr. Stubblefield."

Snyder Man Is Mishap Victim

LAMESA (SC) — A 44-year-old Snyder man, alone in his car, became Dawson County's ninth traffic fatality of the year Saturday.

Charles E. Egner, injured in an accident at 5:30 p.m., died at 6:45 p.m. in Medical Arts Hospital.

Highway Patrolman Sam Wester said that Egner, in a late model sedan, was en route to Snyder on US 180. Twelve miles from Lamesa, at the point where the road descends the Caprock, Egner apparently dropped off to sleep.

The car, out of control, plunged across the road, smashing into three mail boxes. It travelled on for 600 feet before, rolling over three times. Egner was thrown out about 30 feet from where the car finally stopped.

"No one saw the crash, but a farmer living nearby heard it and ran to the scene."

The body is at the Higginbotham Funeral Home where arrangements are pending.

Boys Stopped In A Stolen Auto

Two Big Spring youths, one age 15, and the other 13, were arrested in Colorado City Friday night driving a car which did not belong to them.

Don Cunningham, Route 1, reported the car stolen about 9:15 p.m. Friday. He told police it was left parked in front of the Bowl-A-Rafter with the keys in it. Shortly after he reported the loss, the boys were picked up by Colorado City police.

In other police activity, wheel covers valued at $14 were reported stolen from Lewis Auto Sales, 1509 W. 4th. They were said to have been taken Friday night.

An attempted burglary of the Texaco Service Station at Fourth and Circle Drive was foiled Friday night. The person was not able to enter before he fled. Police obtained a good description of the person.

Grazing Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported Saturday that cattle grazing conditions are above average in all but two of the seven Western states. Grazing supplies generally were described as the best in four years. The exceptions were Arizona and Colorado.

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin gave court approval Saturday to Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's investigation of possible South Texas vote fraud.

Laughlin said he sustained Wilson's plea and abatement, presented by an assistant attorney general, to allow an Austin court to prevail in the case.

Elections May Help To Change Filibuster Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long-stymied, bipartisan drive for a change in Senate rules to make it easier to choke off filibusters appears to have been given a big boost by the results of last Tuesday's elections.

A move to revamp Senate Rule 22, requiring a two-thirds majority of senators present and voting to shut off debate, is expected to churn up a bitter battle right at the outset of the new 88th Congress when it meets Jan. 9.

A fight over the issue has marked the start of each Congress in recent years. Southern senators who have banked on filibusters to block civil rights measures have led the opposition and consistently succeeded in forestalling change.

In January of 1961, when the Kennedy administration was just coming into office, the Senate shunted aside proposed changes in its antifilibuster rule 50-46.

The key to tipping the balance the other way apparently rests with a handful of newly elected Democratic senators—Thomas J. McIntyre of New Hampshire, Birch Bayh Jr. of Indiana, Daniel B. Brewster of Maryland, Gaylord A. Nelson of Wisconsin, and Daniel J. Inouye of Hawaii.

They will take the seats of senators who voted with the majority two years ago and could provide more than enough votes to reverse the outcome.

The only likely switch the other way as a result of Tuesday's balloting was the defeat of Sen. John A. Carroll, D-Colo., by his conservative Republican opponent Peter H. Dominick. Carroll had supported those fighting for a rules change.

The antifilibuster forces might pick up an offsetting vote, however, if Democratic New Frontiersmen George S. McGovern finally wins the still-undecided Senate race in South Dakota. On

Garden City Man Places In Area Speech Contest

Roy Thurston, area representative, took second place in the District humor speech contest held Saturday in Lubbock. He was competing with five other men from West Texas and parts of New Mexico and Oklahoma.

The elementary school principal at Garden City became eligible to compete in the event sponsored by the Toastmasters Club by defeating other area contestants last weekend at San Angelo.

First place winner was Minor Bounds, Lubbock, with "What Did He Say?" as his topic. Thurston spoke on "The Story of Opium" and Mac MacWilliams, Midland, took third place with "Tribute To The Ladies."

The contest was held Saturday night at the Cap Rock Hotel in Lubbock. Also making the trip from Big Spring was Bill Schlecht, area governor.

Leaders Check Into Screwworm Control

MISSION, Tex. (AP) — The leaders of Texas' new administration voiced support for the Texas screwworm eradication program today as they toured the screwworm fly eradication plant near here.

The group included Gov.-elect John Connally, Lt. Gov.-elect Preston Smith, acting Gov. Culp Krueger of El Campo, and Byron M. Tunnell of Tyler, who will be speaker of the House of Representatives in January.

Smith and Connally visited together briefly, but occupied themselves mostly with shaking the hands of the assembled lawmakers.

U. S. Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen spoke during a briefing session before the legislators toured the plant.

Dolph Briscoe Jr., chairman of the Texas Screwworm Eradication Committee, said Kilgore's work was largely responsible for the success of the plant and said he hopes to make it possible.

The governor-elect told officials of the plant they would be speaking to friendly ears when they ask for state appropriations.

"I am as strong for continuance of this program as I can possibly be," Connally said. "I don't know of anything that would benefit Texas economically more than the continuance of this program."

Smith then said: "If the program is the type program I think it is and has the possibilities I think it has, you have my support."

Plane Crash Kills Pilot, Baby In Home

EAST MEADOW, N.Y. (AP) — A small private plane torn out of control by an explosion, plunged through an overcast into a row of homes Saturday, killing the pilot and a child on the ground.

The child was trapped in the home which went up in flames along with two others seconds after the plane crashed. The infant's parents and another child were injured.

Witnesses said a loud explosion preceded the crash, strewn large pieces of wreckage along a five-block path leading to the scene in this suburban Long Island community.

The single-engine craft crashed into the residence of George Shapiro at 1437 Prospect Ave., killing Eric Shapiro, 14 months old.

"It was a big, white plane and the wings were falling apart (sic) when I saw it," said an excited Andrew Germain, 14, a resident of a nearby home. He said he was playing football in the area when the plane crashed.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Norman Germain, said, "It was probably the most horrible mess I've ever seen."

She said Mrs. Shapiro started screaming, "There's a baby in the house. She was in a state of shock."

Nassau County police identified the pilot as David Feder, 34, of Jersey City, N.J. They said he was alone in the craft.

Crash Kills Four Persons

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — Four persons died Saturday night when their car left a road and crashed into a tree about 30 miles west of this South Central Texas city. Three others were injured.

Identities of the dead and injured were not immediately available.

James King, dispatcher at the San Marcos Police Department, said three persons were pronounced dead at the scene and another died in a local hospital.

King said the other injured, one believed to be in critical condition, were taken to a hospital in Austin.

Details of the accident were not immediately available, King said. "Only that the car left the road on the left side and hit a tree broadside."

The scene was on FM 12, about 1 1/2 miles south of Wimberly.

October Rainfall Way Below Norm

Rainfall in October was light—the total for the month as gauged at the U. S. Experiment Station running less than half the October average for the 63 years that records have been kept.

Grady Randel, with the station, said that October rains hit .95 inch. The average for the 63 years is 2.06.

This October's drought, however, was not as marked as last year when only .20 inch fell. The dry weather of the past four weeks has not been regarded as a hardship by farmers. They have revelled in the many sunny days—each such day bettered their chances of a heavier cotton yield. Total rainfall for the year now stands at 17.93 inches. Bulk of this, however, is charged to September. That month produced 9.55 inches of the total.

Baylor Will Take Look At Integration

WACO (AP)—Baylor University trustees authorized a committee Saturday to study the question of integration of the Baptist school.

The committee, not yet named, was instructed to report at the board's next general session at Houston April 16.

Trustee Ralph Lee of Houston made the motion calling for a prompt study.

His motion was seconded by the Rev. A. J. Holt of Waco.

The board authorized appointment of a committee to recommend a policy for establishing a faculty housing area near the campus.

Baylor has negotiated four contracts for research with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in connection with selection of Houston as the site for its new manned spacecraft center.

Dr. Stanley Olson, dean of the College of Medicine, told the board.

Chancellor W. R. White reported a "remarkable upsurge in religious interest and activity" this year.

Reds Give Just A Peek At Missiles

The following is an eyewitness account of the interception of a Soviet freighter outbound from Cuba. It was written by an Associated Press reporter who flew in a Navy plane over the Atlantic during the meeting of the freighter and a U.S. destroyer.

By JIM BECKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Soviet freighter refused Saturday to completely uncover missiles lashed to its deck, despite repeated requests from a U.S. Navy destroyer steaming along side to inspect its cargo.

Crewmen aboard the freighter Anosov, stripped to the waist in the bright early morning sun, tugged the heavy brown canvas off a portion of two of the eight missile-shaped objects so the destroyer could take a look.

A thin gauze covering remained but the Soviet ship would not remove that, despite requests from the destroyer Barry.

At one point, the destroyer reported by radio that it was satisfied with the results of its inspection. A few minutes later, it renewed the request for the missiles to be completely uncovered, and apparently wanted all of the missiles revealed for photographing.

It was not clear why the destroyer changed its mind or whether the Soviet ship was required to comply under the U.S.-Russian agreement on inspection of the missiles being removed from their Cuban bases.

The Soviet freighter replied that further uncovering was "against the orders of the Soviet government," and said it had already done more than it was supposed to do.

The Barry asked the commander of the Atlantic Fleet at Norfolk, Va. for further instructions, and continued to cruise in tandem with the Anosov.

There appeared to be no doubt that the eight oblong objects on the deck of the freighter were missiles. They were 60 to 70 feet long and about a dozen feet in diameter. Two Navy antisubmarine planes with newsmen aboard hovered over the scene. It was the first time newsmen have been allowed to witness the inspection techniques used to verify the removal of Soviet missiles.

The two planes ran low on fuel and were forced to return to base before the destroyer completed its mission.

Later, a Pentagon spokesman said, the inspection was completed without incident.

Says GOP's Must Work For Ticket

AUSTIN (AP)—Bill Hayes, defeated Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, said Saturday the GOP must present a united front in future campaigns if they are to elect candidates.

"If the party had put more effort in helping other candidates (than gubernatorial candidate Jack Cox) they could have elected more men," Hayes said.

"We need a united effort to elect a party slate. You can't expect to get good candidates unless you get a united team effort."

"It is difficult to develop a two-party state with a one candidate effort."

He said that in 1964 the Republicans "will get fine men to run, considerable financial support and will elect many Republicans if the party makes a united effort."

After the primaries, the party decided to give Cox 35 per cent of each campaign dollar and 7.5 per cent each to Hayes and Des Barry, congressman-at-large nominee, Hayes said.

Notables At Ceremonies As Mrs. Roosevelt Laid To Rest

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was laid to rest Saturday beside her husband in the rose garden of his ancestral estate high above the east bank of the Hudson River. The rites included a final prayer for a world of peace, of faith, of hope, of light and joy.

"The entire world becomes one family orphaned by her passing," said the Rev. Gordon L. Kidd, the Episcopal rector who conducted the funeral. The oaken casket was covered with pine boughs gathered on the estate.

All three of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's White House successors attended the funeral of his 78-year-old widow, who died Wednesday in New York.

There was Harry Truman, the Democrat who succeeded to the presidency upon Roosevelt's death in 1945. Mrs. Truman was with him.

And there was Dwight D. Eisenhower, Roosevelt's only Republican successor. His wife did not attend the funeral.

Finally, there was Democratic President Kennedy, who wasn't even born when Roosevelt first brought his bride to his Hudson valley village after their marriage in 1905. Jacqueline Kennedy, in severe black, accompanied the President.

Outside the ivy-towered 118-year-old St. James Episcopal Church several thousand neighbors of the Roosevelts stood behind police lines during the private funeral service. There were children among them, bound together in silence by the aura of history that clung to the tall, regal woman, who shared with her husband more years in the White House than any other couple.

Mrs. Roosevelt's personality, forceful and far-reaching in life, was all-pervading, even in death. A congregation of some 200 dignitaries inside the church heard a French-language Bible that once belonged to Mrs. Roosevelt. At the age of 12, while a student in France, she underlined these words that were read Saturday: "Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?"

Then the Rev. Mr. Kidd departed from the Episcopal ritual for a prayer that was Mrs. Roosevelt's favorite. It is the prayer of St. Francis of Assisi. She had a copy on her bedroom wall. She had asked that it be recited at her funeral. It reads:

"Lord, make me an instrument of Your peace.

"Where there is hatred, let me sow love.

"Where there is injury, pardon.

"Where there is doubt, faith.

"Where there is despair, hope.

"Where there is darkness, light.

"Where there is sadness, joy.

"Oh divine Master, grant that I may seek not so much to be consoled as to console.

"To be understood as to understand.

"To be loved as to love.

"For it is in giving that we receive.

"And it is in pardoning that we are pardoned.

"And it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.

"Amen."

The Trumans motored the 85 miles to Hyde Park from New York beneath the sullen clouds of a subsiding gale. Eisenhower and the Kennedys flew in separately.

The presidential parties joined about 70 other guests for luncheon at the home of John Roosevelt, one of Mrs. Roosevelt's four sons.

Shortly before 2 p.m., a procession of half a dozen large black limousines pulled up before the gray stone St. James church.

First out was President Kennedy with his wife on his arm. There was no smiling, no handwaving, either on the part of the President or the onlookers.

By now the rain had ceased and an autumn sun stole timid glances from behind receding clouds.

President Kennedy took the outside seat in the sixth-row pew on the left of the red carpeted main aisle of the long narrow church. In the same pew were Mrs. Kennedy, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and his wife, and the Trumans.

Across the aisle, beneath the heavy timbered ceiling of the church, sat Eisenhower, with Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Col. Robert Schultz, Eisenhower's military aide, and Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York and his wife.

Last to enter the church were the children and grandchildren of Mrs. Roosevelt. There were four sons, John, Franklin Jr., Elliott and Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., and a daughter, Anna Roosevelt Halsted. These five grew to maturity in the White House during the 12 years the family lived there.

Pamphlets entitled "Sending Gift Packages to . . ." are available at the office at 10 cents per copy. Harry C. Meyers, manager, said much important information relative to shipment of packages abroad is contained in these pamphlets.

Veterans Day Program Scheduled For 2 P.M.

The traditional eleventh hour for Veterans Day ceremonies at the Big Spring VA Hospital is being disregarded this year to allow more persons to attend. The program will begin at 2 p.m. today at the front entrance of the hospital.

"We did not want to have a conflict with Sunday church services," V. J. Belda, director said. Members of the High School Band will perform at the opening and Webb Air Force Base will furnish the color guard.

After opening ceremonies outside with raising of the Colors, the program will move into the main lobby for the remainder of the program. Main speaker for the occasion will be Capt. A. J. Blasingame, 331st Fighter-Interceptor Squadron, Webb AFB.

Belda will welcome visitors and read the Presidential Proclamation on Veterans Day. The invention will be given by the Rev. Marvin D. James, pastor of the Kentwood Methodist Church.

"We hope to have a good crowd this year," Belda said.

A social hour is scheduled immediately following the conclusion of the ceremonies. The World War I Auxiliary will be hosts.

Gold Star mothers will be guests of honor. Patients who are confined to wheelchairs at the hospital will be able to attend the services through the courtesy of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary, which is providing escort service.

CHECOTAH, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. E. S. Byrum, 60, of Morton, Tex., died Friday in a car-truck accident 6 miles east of here on U.S. 266.

Dyess Missile Unit Activated

ABILENE — The Air Force added more Atlas F intercontinental ballistic missiles to its mixed force of intercontinental missiles and manned bombers Friday when the Atlas F Squadron at Dyess AFB was declared operational by the Strategic Air Command.

The 578th Strategic Missile Squadron, a unit of the 96th Strategic Aerospace Wing, will operate the new Atlas F complexes. The 578th is commanded by Col. Ray M. Cole.

Atlas F ICBM's are deployed in "hard" steel and concrete silos sunk 175 feet into the earth, where the missiles are protected against all but a direct blow. In minutes the missiles can be fueled, raised to the surface by an elevator launcher, and fired against targets more than 6,300 miles away.

Model Rocket Club Is Proposed Here

A young elementary school teacher, who formerly worked in the guided missiles laboratories of Philco Co., would like to form a model rocket club in Big Spring. He feels that such a club would create a growing interest in science and scientific matters — something that he thinks needs to be stirred to more enthusiasm here.

He is Frank Chiavetta, 1900 Alabama, who came here from Corpus Christi to join the faculty of the Big Spring schools. Currently he is teaching handicraft as a sideline at First Baptist Church and proposes soon to turn the interest of his group to rocket models and rocketry in general.

The project, he said, is entirely safe. He has had experience in the field and said that he has contacts with the manufacturer by which proper and safe materials and fuels can be obtained. He said one need will be a place where meetings can be held.

He would like to enroll as many youngsters from the age of 12 years upward and start the work as soon as possible.

"We would start with theory," he said. "Later we would turn to building model rockets and ultimately to firing them. It is an exciting and educational pastime and one that has almost universal appeal to boys of this age."

He said that he would be pleased to discuss the matter in greater detail with any interested boy who will call him at AM 4-5494 or call at his house.

"Or," he said, "Any interested youngster is welcome to come to the handicraft class at the First Baptist Church at 6:30 p.m. Wednesdays. We are usually there an hour and we will be happy to meet anyone interested in rocketry."

He explained that he had idle evenings and would like to put them to worthwhile use in the furtherance of interest in scientific matters.

He is currently teacher of the fifth grade at Bauer but he has a certificate entitling him to teach in all grades from one to 12.

"I hope we can get a big turnout of rocketeers," he said. "We will then affiliate with the national meetings and contests which can win scholarships for the youngsters who compete."

Carr Will Address Scouters Meeting

Waggoner Carr, attorney general-elect of Texas, will address the annual meeting of the Lone Star Boy Scout district here Dec. 6.

Douglas Orme, general chairman on arrangements for the dinner at which officers for the year will be installed, said Carr agreed to work the Big Spring engagement into a busy schedule because of his belief in the Scouting program.

Tickets for the event at Cosden Country Club will be placed in the hands of unit leaders soon, said Orme.

Carr is well known in this area, having been reared in West Texas. He is a graduate of Lubbock and of the University of Texas law school.

After serving two terms as a member of the Legislature, he was elected Speaker of the House and then in 1959 was returned for a second term in that high post. He also was on the governor's law enforcement committee. Two years ago he barely missed in his first time to offer as a statewide candidate, and last week he won overwhelmingly in his bid for the attorney general's post.

Draft Board Admits Error

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The draft board said Friday it is sorry — it really doesn't want Patrick Reilly, 78, Navy veteran of two wars, to register for service.

Reilly, a resident of the U.S. naval home here, received a notice from Draft Board 121 Tuesday, suggesting he register immediately.

Reilly, a veteran of the Spanish-American War and World War I, said he figures "if they need me, I'll go back."

James Mackey, Selective Service supervisor for eastern Pennsylvania, acknowledged the mistake, said "it was a human error by a clerk."

"Mr. Reilly will get a letter from us admitting the mistake," he added.

Vote Canvass Set Monday

Howard County commissioners court will canvass the votes cast in Tuesday's general election at its meeting Monday.

The law specifies that the commissioners check the returns in a general election.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that she plans to dispatch the final official reports to the state headquarters as quickly as the commissioners have completed their official check of the returns.

The commissioners were out of town over the weekend on a visit to one of the laboratories for producing the sterile screwworm flies used in the campaign to eradicate this livestock pest.

Boston College Wins Over Raiders, 42-13

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—Boston College utilized the talents of end Art Graham, quarterback Jack Concannon and a nimble-fingered pass defense for a 42-13 football victory over wireless Texas Tech Saturday.

Graham, BC captain from nearby Somerville, caught a 56-yard scoring pass play from Concannon and blocked for the latter for a 4-yard touchdown just 20 seconds before halftime.

The Yearlings fairly well dominated play, but had to repel a Snyder thrust on their two early in the fourth quarter to keep their goal line uncrossed.

The first quarter was scoreless, but a Snyder fumble and a Big Spring recovery on the Runnels 43 set up the Yearlings' first score.

Big Spring roared the 57 yards in two plays to break the ice. Joe Juare, operating from a halfback spot, going the last 55. Rey Navarette added the two extra points on a run.

Following a Travis punt later in the quarter, Big Spring took over on the 40 and quarterback Sammy Mims passed to Bobby Baker, good for 60 yards and a tally. Juare added the two extra points on a run and Big Spring led, 16-0, at halftime.

Big Spring had the ball only one play in the third period and was deep in its own territory when the round ended.

After repelling the Travis team on the two, the Yearlings marched 98 yards to a touchdown, with Navarette gaining most of the ground. Rey made 68 of the yards and finally scored on 20 yards out. He had runs of 22 and 13 paces in the march. Bobby Griffin added the two points.

In all, the Big Spring coaches played 33 boys. Offensive and defensive standouts for Runnels included Baker, Mel Daves, Troy Houston, Wesley Ballou, Self, Carey, Freddie Stiehl, Ruben Martinez, Smith, Juare, Navarette, Griffin, Tony Saracho, Sammy Mims, Henry Miramontez and Gary Rogers, the latter an eighth grader.

Steers Yield First Place In 'Dog Loss stopped Big Spring passing as no foe has been able to do before in upsetting the Steers, 14-7, before more than 7,000 spectators here Friday night.

The defeat tumbled the Longhorns all the way to third place in the 2-AAAA standings. The Big Springers can win the conference crown only by beating Abilene and San Angelo in their final two games—a large order for any club.

The Bulldogs did not get a penalty, but did fumble and did not get a pass intercepted. In short, they were very unco-operative in yielding possession of the ball.

Big Spring scored first and threatened to go two touchdowns ahead when a 15-yard penalty neutralized the threat. Midland counted comparatively late in the second period on a pass and pitch-back, then got the clinching TD with 5:33 to go in the fourth on a 54-yard drive after Joe Hurley had picked off a Big Spring pass at his 37.

With big Ross Montgomery eating up the yardage on fullback traps and Robert Samford punishing the Big Spring line on cross bucks, the Bulldogs moved to the winning TD in eight plays, with Montgomery getting the tally from one yard away.

Montgomery also added the two PAT's that really put the heat on Big Spring when he took a safety valve pass from Bill Wood and sped untouched into the end zone.

Big Spring had two more chances to move the ball after that and DeeRoby Gartman made a nifty catch of a pass from Albert Fierro at the Midland 33 when the game ended.

Big Spring had a marked edge in the statistics and Eddie Spier proved especially hard to contain. The senior fullback gained a total of 115 yards in 12 carries.

In all, the Longhorns had net total gains of 286 yards to 248 for the opposition. Midland, however, made more first downs—14 to 11.

Spier scored Big Spring's touchdown on a slant from the four-yard line with 7:11 to go in the opening period. Charley West set up the score with a splendid 46-yard run down to the fourth, benefitting from some stellar blocking along the way. The drive went 65 yards and required seven plays. Eddie Nelson kicked the PAT.

Big Spring drove to Midland's 20 late in the first period but the game's only penalty set the Steers back at that point and they eventually lost possession at the Bulldog 22.

Spier almost shook himself loose on a draw pass in the drive with a 46-yard run, chucking to the Bulldog 34 before he was arrested. He had to wait a trifle too long for a blocker to clear the way for him.

West made a save on a Midland thrust early in Round Two when he knocked down a pass near the goal meant for Hurley. Midland was on Big Spring's 35 at the time.

A Big Spring fumble at the Steer 45 midway in the second quarter opened the door for Midland's initial TD. The touchdown occurred on a fourth-down play from the Big Spring 25, when Wood hit Hurley with a pass at the five and Hurley, just when it appeared he would go down, pitched back to Samford, who went on in.

Only 1:37 was showing on the second quarter clock when the TD play developed. Wood tried a fake kick and almost made connections with Hurley on a pass in trying to get the two extra points.

The third quarter was practically all Midland. Big Spring had the ball for 12 plays in that round but was always fighting from deep in its own territory.

In that quarter, a splendid quick kick by Spier, which sailed from Big Spring's 27 to Midland's 17 after getting a Steer roll, momentarily set back the Bulldogs.

The Longhorns moved just across midfield early in the second, only to have Hurley intercept Fierro's pass and get the Midland drive in motion.

Mike Houston, Tim Smith and Walter Minter were especially tough in the Big Spring line, as was Buster Barnes. Bob Stanley was outstanding as a Midland linebacker.

Score by quarters:
Big Spring 7 0 0 0-7
Midland 0 6 0 8-14

opening minutes on fullback Mike McNamee's 25-yard run with an interception of an Eddie Feely pass, tied the count with 6 minutes 28 seconds left in the game. The Jackets drove 53 yards in 11 plays before McNamee dived over from the 1. Lothridge kicked the point after.

Lothridge was bottled up most of the afternoon.

SNYDER — Big Spring Runnels won its eighth straight football game here Saturday afternoon, routing Snyder Travis for the second week in a row, 24-0.

The Yearlings fairly well dominated play, but had to repel a Snyder thrust on their two early in the fourth quarter to keep their goal line uncrossed.

The first quarter was scoreless, but a Snyder fumble and a Big Spring recovery on the Runnels 43 set up the Yearlings' first score.

The Yearlings close out against Big Spring Goliad next Thursday night.

Atlanta (AP) — An aroused band of Florida State Seminoles nearly lifted Georgia Tech's scalp Saturday and the Yellow Jackets were lucky to escape with a 14-14 tie.

The Seminoles, two-touchdown underdogs, outplayed the Southeastern Conference power through much of the game. Tech's first unit, matched the three-deep Seminoles, but the Jackets were unable to make use of their reserves.

Two quick bursts gave FSU its scores. After Charley Calhoun returned a Billy Lothridge punt 26 yards, fullback Dave Snyder burst through center for 22 yards and a touchdown. Doug Messer's kick was good and the score was tied 7-7.

Just 4 minutes later quarterback Steve Tensi hit end Fred Biletneff, a sophomore from Erie, Pa., on a short pass and he outran Tech defenders for a 66-yard TD. Messer again kicked the conversion.

Tech, which had scored in the opening minutes on fullback Mike McNamee's 25-yard run with an interception of an Eddie Feely pass, tied the count with 6 minutes 28 seconds left in the game. The Jackets drove 53 yards in 11 plays before McNamee dived over from the 1. Lothridge kicked the point after.

MERKEL—A big, fast Merkel team capitalized on Bulldog bobbles and then used its crushing offense to remain unbeaten this year as the Badgers capsized Coahoma here Friday by a score of 35-28.

Twice Coahoma overcame a two touchdown deficit and made it anybody's ballgame, but the classy Merkel Badgers put on the steam and showed why they have not yet been beaten. Next week the Badgers take on Rotan, and unbeaten, to determine the winner of District 6-A. The Bulldogs now have a 5-4 record for the season. The game looked like a runaway for Merkel as it piled up 16 points in the first five minutes and 20 seconds of the ball game. Coahoma fumbled the initial kickoff and the Badgers took over 23 yards away from paydirt. On the second play from scrimmage half-back Roger Todd Moore went 11 yards over right tackle for the score. Charlie Russell, quarterback, connected on his first pass of the night to C. B. Brown, half-back, for the extra points.

After an exchange of fumbles Coahoma was forced to kick. The Badgers took over on their own 18-yard line and marched 82 yards in eight plays, scoring on a fourth-down 13-yard pass play from Russell to end Wayne Hester. Moore carried over for the extra points.

Just over a thousand fans braved the cold, with the mercury dropping as the game progressed. Time and again they were brought to their feet with long runs by both teams and a fast, spectacular brand of football.

Defense was almost non-existent during the first quarter with a touchdown scored each three minutes. In the second quarter, however, Coahoma twice contained Badger scoring threats and yielded only 20 seconds remaining until the half.

Coahoma's running game was almost stifled, except when an occasional back would slip through and catch the secondary by surprise. Long gains accounted for much of the huge yardage stacked up by both teams. Merkel had 280 yards on the ground and 94 yards on seven completions in 16 attempts for a total of 374 yards. The Bulldogs netted 276 yards through the line and 66 on three aeriels. They tried a total of 10.

After the initial scoring burst by the Badgers, Coahoma fought back 70 yards in eight plays with Eddie McHugh scoring from two yards out. He aided the drive along the way with a 47-yard scamper. He scored all four touchdowns the Bulldogs made. Thirty seconds deep into the second quarter, after moving the ball 83 yards in seven plays, the Bulldogs scored again with McHugh carrying over from the one. On this drive McHugh had a 56-yarder to his credit. He also carried over the extra points.

Charlie Russell, quarterback who threw two touchdown passes for the Badgers, connected for his second touchdown toss, this one a three-yarder to halfback Jack Mansfield. An attempted pass was no good on the extra points try.

Merkel scored again midway through the third quarter on a two-yard plunge by Russell after he set up the score with a 12-yard pass play to end Charles Dannheim.

The Bulldogs roared back in the final quarter, striking for six points on a quick pass over center from quarterback Tommy Grant to McHugh, who waded through the Merkel secondary before it knew what had happened. He went 39 yards into the end zone. Grant then carried over for the extra points.

Buddy Anderson, guard for Coahoma, recovered a fumble at mid-field and five plays later the Bulldogs were only one point behind with the score 29-28. McHugh carried over from the two for the score. The Bulldogs tried for two points, but the Merkel right end closed in on Grant short of the goal line.

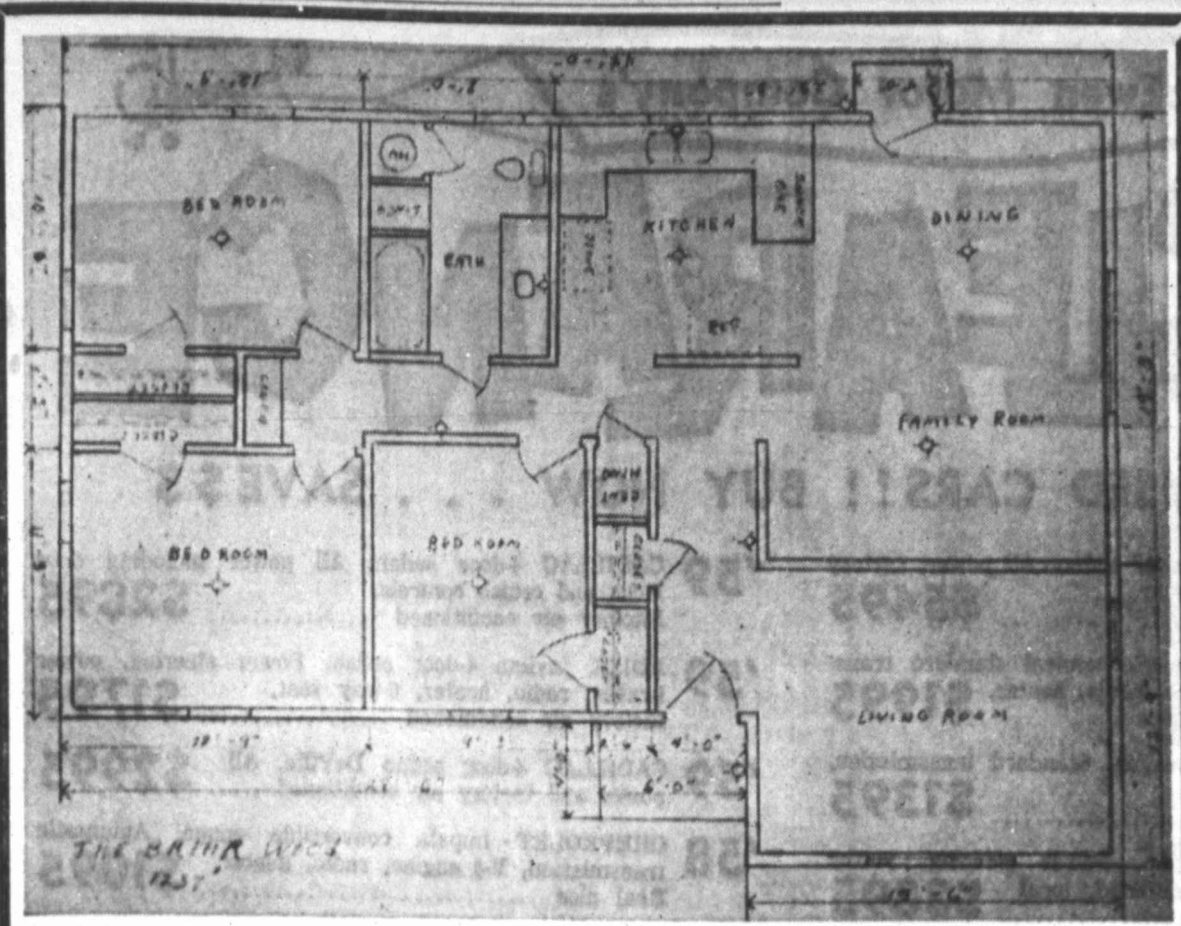

The Bulldogs held a Badger drive, only to make another bobble which clinched the victory for Merkel. Johnny Whisenand, end for Merkel, recovered a fumbled punt return on the Coahoma two-yard line and Moore carried over on the next play to end the scoring.

Salt Strata Underground Make Good Storage Place

Salt water is generally an expensive problem to the oil man and he steers as far away from it as possible. It cannot be purified cheaply and disposal presents the hazard of contaminating fresh water.

However, sometimes men in the industry turn fresh water into saturated salt solutions intentionally. By doing so, they can provide cheap storage for liquid products of oil.

Underground storage for liquid petroleum gases has gained in popularity in recent years, more than doubling in the past 10 years. In 1958 there was storage capacity for just over 40 million barrels of product and today this has risen to more than 88 million barrels capacity.

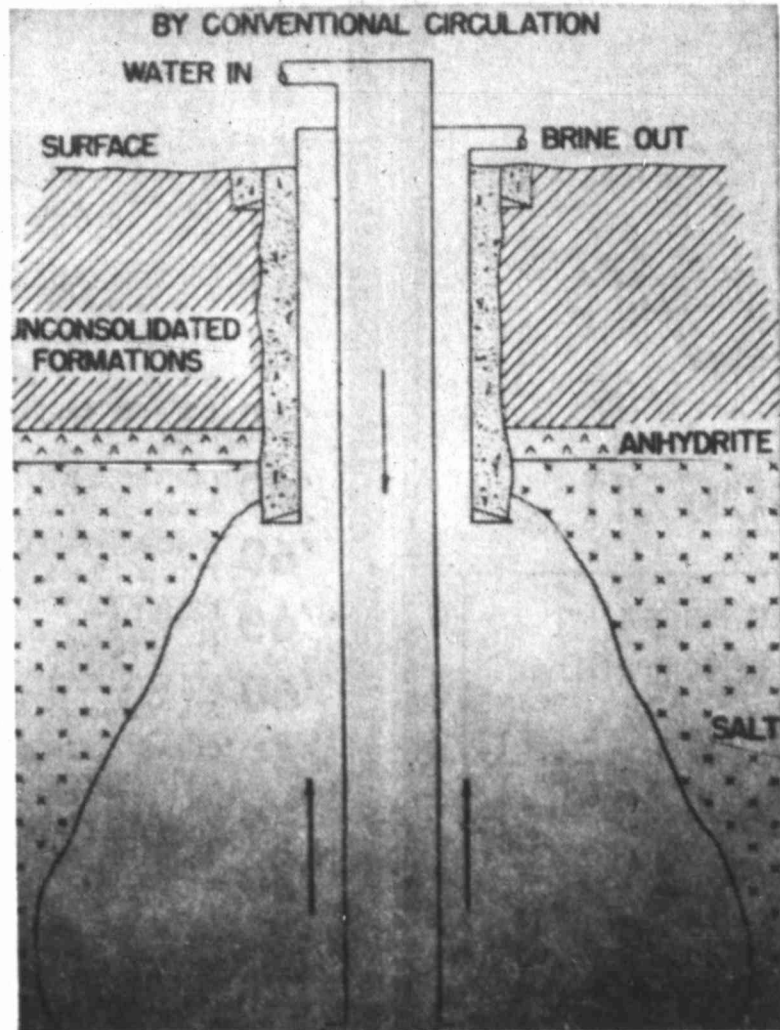

Of this underground storage, most is in caverns leached out of salt domes and thick salt strata. Howard County, being underlain by a thick stratum of salt, is well suited to this type of storage. So far, three firms have drilled into the zone and made caverns in which to store LPG products.

REEF CORP. One of the earlier entries into underground storage was Reef Corporation, located near Sand Springs. Its first storage cavern was completed in 1953 and five others were added by the end of 1954. Total storage capacity is 253,000 barrels for propane in five caverns and 36,000 barrels for butane in the other.

Forming the caverns is really a simple process hinging on the fact that water will dissolve salt, according to Charles W. Sweeney, plant superintendent for Reef. A hole is drilled into the salt strata and water is circulated through two strings of casing. It becomes saturated with the salt, eroding away the walls of the cavern enlarging it.

"About 10 barrels of fresh water must be run through the well to leach out storage space of one barrel," Sweeney said.

The only control on the size of the cavern desired is the size of the salt formation. The great salt plugs of the Gulf Coast and in Louisiana are especially suited to large caverns. However, the larger units usually require more maintenance with caving of the roof and walls more frequent.

Cavity In Salt

Fresh water pumped into a salt formation will become saturated and then can be removed to provide storage space for liquid petroleum products. Shown is the conventional method used to make a cavern. Fresh water is pumped through the central casing and then comes out through the liner outside it. Surface casing is usually sealed in anhydrite or other formation above the salt to prevent caving and loss of casing.

"We made our wells about 50,000 barrels because we believe that is the best size," Sweeney said.

A limiting factor in the Big Spring area is the thickness of the salt strata.

The salt zone was topped about 900 feet by Reef. Cosden, to the held up to 215,000 barrels of natural gasoline, two of about 230,000 barrels total capacity are used for propane and another will take about 50,000 barrels of alkyl feedstock.

The first Cosden well was drilled in 1954 and the others have been added since. They are located between 1,025-1,300 feet, according to E. W. Richardson, refinery superintendent.

Initial cost of the storage facilities in salt is about $1 to $2 a barrel, compared to $4 to $10 a barrel for above-ground storage. Cost of high-pressure tanks above ground may run as high as $16 to $20 a barrel, depending on size and type of product being stored.

LITTLE MAINTENANCE "We have had very little maintenance on our caverns," Richardson said.

Sweeney, likewise, noted that maintenance over the period has been reasonable. However, he said there had been some initial problems with caving.

Gulf, however, which has three caverns at the Coahoma LPG station with storage capacity of 126,000 barrels, has had difficulty with all of its tanks. Original capacity was planned for 50,000 barrels in each tank, but cave-ins and lost tubing have decreased the capacity to about 36,000 barrels each.

Liquid petroleum products are not affected by the salt. They are pumped into the caverns, where they displace salt water until LPG is returned instead of salt water. To withdraw the product, salt water must be pumped back into the cavern. Fresh water cannot be used without washing out the cavern, enlarging it. Being lighter than water, the LPG will rise to the top.

LITTLE LOSS There is very little loss of product through seepage and other means. Sweeney said the loss has been about three per cent for Reef.

"This is very good," he said. "You can expect to be off that much on measurements."

Mobil and Union Texas Petroleum also make use of the salt layer elsewhere in the area. In Martin County, Mobil has capacity for 350,000 barrels of propane and 50,000 barrels of LPG. Union Texas has facilities for 150,000 barrels of butane in Glasscock County.

west, topped the zone at just under 1,000 feet. It is about 300 feet thick.

"The first section is about 100 feet thick and is pretty pure," Sweeney said. "The rest is pretty streaked with anhydrite, red beds and other material."

FIVE CAVERNS Cosden Petroleum Corp., which has five underground wells, has a total storage capacity of about 495,000 barrels. Two caverns can

Rotary Count Up For Fifth Week In Row

For the fifth consecutive week, rotary drilling activity in the Permian Basin Empire registered a slight gain according to Reed Roller Bit Company surveys.

The Friday tabulation had 208 active units in the West Texas-Southeast New Mexico region, a gain of one over the previous week. Despite the gain, the total for the second Friday in November this year is 29 below the 237 rigs checked in the area on the same weekend in 1961.

Lea County, N. M., held first place with 33 rigs, the same as last week. Pecos County went from fourth to second with 18 units, showing a gain of three.

Other more active counties were Ector, with 16, and Andrews, with 14.

The local eight-county area showed a gain of two units over the previous week, with 24 rigs going. Dawson, Garza and Sterling counties showed gains, while Glasscock and Mitchell counties went down.

The county-by-county survey, with the previous week's figures in parenthesis, follows:

- Andrews 14 (16), BORDEN 1 (1), Chaves 2 (2), Cochran 2 (2), Crane 9 (9), CROCKETT 7 (6), Curry 1 (0), DAWSON 8 (6), Ector 16 (21), Eddy 5 (7), Fisher 1 (3);
- GARZA 3 (2), GAINES 9 (6), GLASSCOCK 0 (1), Hale 1 (1), Hockley 1 (2), HOWARD 5 (5);
- Kent 3 (2), Lea 33 (33), Loving 2 (2), Lubbock 1 (0), Lynn 0 (1);
- MARTIN 3 (3), Midland 6 (7), MITCHELL 2 (3), Nolan 4 (4), Reeves 4 (4), Roosevelt 1 (2), Runnels 6 (5), Schleicher 2 (1), Scurry 5 (6), STERLING 2 (1), Stonewall 1 (1);
- Terrell 1 (4), Terry 3 (1), Tom Green 2 (1), Upton 7 (6), Ward 7 (6), Winkler 7 (7) and Yoakum 3 (3).

Wildcat Amended

Carper Drilling Co. & T. J. Slevley No. 1 W. D. Johnson, 5,500-foot explorer in Borden County, has been amended to 660 feet from the north and 2,310 feet from the west lines of section 32-32-Sn, T&P survey. It was originally set at 1,980 feet from the west line of the section.

Look Ahead Slated At API Convention

CHICAGO (AP)—Oil operators meet next week to review 1962 and prepare for problems of next year.

About 6,500 producers, refiners, pipeline and marketers will attend the American Petroleum Institute (API) convention.

In checking the health of the industry, the oilman will find 1962 has exceeded expectations in some phases of operations.

API officials a year ago said demand for oil products this year probably would increase no more than 3 per cent. A survey last week estimated the gain at 4 1/2 per cent.

Drilling lagged and gasoline price wars disturbed refiners and marketers across the country. Consumers, however, were delighted.

NEW POLICIES

The oilmen will be briefed on the possible impact of new world trade policies.

Most problems this year are carried over into 1963. These include federal regulation of natural gas, wellhead prices, imports, and defense of the industry's 27 1/2 per cent depletion tax allowance.

A year ago the API bolstered its Washington staff by electing Frank Ikard, a Texas congressman, as its executive vice president. Ikard was a member of the House Ways and Means Committee.

John Kelly, assistant interior secretary for mineral resources, is on the program Wednesday. He is a former New Mexico oil operator. Speculation is that he may disclose oil imports quotas for the first half of 1963.

The API has taken no active role in the oil imports controversy. Its membership includes major importers as well as the independents, who have sought stricter controls.

DEPLETION

Ikard said last month another attack on the depletion allowance can be expected next year.

The 27 1/2 per cent allowance survived three Senate attacks this year. All three attacks were considered relatively minor but oilmen fear a major tax reform proposal could promote a major attack next year.

In the Tuesday election, oil lost some friends who have given aid in the depletion allowance fight. Seven senators who helped beat off this year's attacks will be missing in Washington in 1963.

Three senators who voted to reduce the allowance will not return.

Projects Making Hole

Only two drilling reports were turned in by operators in the eight-county area at week's end.

In Dawson County, Roden Oil and Maguire No. 1 Adcock is making hole below 9,430 feet. This Fuselman prospector spots 2,175 feet from the south and 1,650 feet from the west lines of section 31-35-6n, T&P survey, about five miles north of Lamesa.

A Martin County venture, Kern County Land Co. No. 1 Kingsfield, is digging below 6,321 feet. Location is C NW SE, league 253, Ward CSL survey. It is about two miles southeast of the Wolcott (Wolfcamp) field.

Goen Strike Indicated For Local Operator

J. R. Hatch, Big Spring, No. 2 H. Meixner has indicated Goen production by recovering free oil on a drillstem test. The central Concho County wildcat is about 1 1/2 miles north of Strawn oil production in the North Speck (Strawn-Canyon) fields.

Operator conducted a one-hour test from 3,497-513 feet, recovering 400 feet of free oil. The hole was deepened to 3,575 feet and 2 1/2 inch casing was then cemented at the bottom. On last report the venture was waiting on cement.

It is 467 feet from the south and east lines of section 151-72, T&NO survey, about six miles southwest of Paint Rock.

Gets Devonian Flow

In southeast Gaines County, about nine miles southwest of Patricia, Crude Oil Co. and Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. No. 1-25 J. B. Chilton, north offset to the operator's No. 1-23 Thompson, recent Devonian discovery, returned Devonian oil on drillstem test.

The test was run for 1 1/2 hours from 12,110-290 feet. Oil surfaced in 21 minutes and flowed through a one-quarter inch choke at the rate of 64 barrels an hour. Gravity was not reported.

The flow pressure was 700 pounds and no shut-in pressures were registered as the reverse tool failed to open. On last report, the tool was being pulled.

This confirmation attempt is 660 feet from the south and 2,118 feet from the west lines of labor 25-288, Gray CSL survey.

Strikes Canyon Gas

Delta Drilling Co., Pauley Petroleum, Inc. and Dalton Cobb No.

1 Couch, Crockett County explorer, was finalized for a calculated absolute open flow of 9.5 million cubic feet of gas per day from the Canyon Sand.

Distillate recovery was gauged at the ratio of 11,700 cubic feet of gas for each barrel of distillate. It was of 69.5-gravity.

The discovery produced from a series of perforations between 6,375-7,071 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 25-ST, HEAWT survey, about eight miles southwest of Ozona.

Finals In San Andres

Discovery pay was logged in the San Andres about five miles east of Sheffield, in the western part of Crockett County, with completion of Southland Royalty, Midland, No. 1 Bair. The well pumped 46 barrels of 22-gravity oil, with no water, from perforations between 1,396-412 feet. The zone was acidized with 500 gallons and fraced with 15,000 gallons.

The site is about 3 1/4 miles southeast of the Half (Grayburg) field. It spots 330 feet from the north and 690 feet from the east lines of section 42-1, I&GN survey.

COMPLETIONS

HOWARD Sawnee Robertson No. 24 Percy Jones, spotting 320 feet from the north and 650 feet from the east lines of section 13-30, T&P survey, pumped 31 barrels of 30-gravity oil on initial potential in the latest East Howard field. Water was produced at the rate of 10 per cent. The gas-oil ratio was too small to measure and perforations between 2,400-800 feet were fraced with 60,000 gallons. Total depth is 2,711 feet. pay was logged at 2,450 feet and 4 1/2 inch casing is at 2,711 feet.

ROY E. RAY

This is the 9th in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the one and valued services of those employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the company.

Out at Cosden's refinery, the catalytic cracker is a familiar landmark to all who pass the scene. On duty there at what has been termed the heart of the complex is Roy E. Ray, who was assigned to the installation as a helper on Nov. 1, 1949. Two weeks later, machinery was set in motion and Ray was one of those who helped bring the catcracker on stream for the first time.

With an intimate interest in the unit, Ray has seen it revamped and enlarged so that its capacity has almost trebled. Since the spring of 1956, he has been No. 1 operator at the unit.

Born near the old Morgan Community northeast of Big Spring some 15 miles, he attended school there. A two-year hitch in the Army afforded him brief action in the Philippines as a private in the 25th Infantry Division and a period of driving a staff car in Japan. He launched his career with Cosden on Sept. 8, 1947, as a yardman, and was a relief gauger prior to moving to the catcracker.

Yvonne Milam became Mrs. Roy E. Ray in a Big Spring ceremony on Feb. 18, 1947. She is president of the Parent-Teachers Association at College Heights, where the Rays' son Grady, 10, is a fourth grader; she is also vice president of City Council P-TA. The family worships at East Fourth Baptist Church and resides at 1216 E. 15th St.

For his special interests, Ray favors water skiing, hunting and Little League work. He coached a team last summer while Grady was a fielder. A man who enjoys shift work, Ray usually manages to get to the refinery early for a round of dominoes with his associates.

BREAD AND ROLLS
When she married an Air Force man from Texas, English born Mrs. Bayless had to learn some West Texas cookin' and that meant about once a week. When a friend in New Mexico gave her the Chili Corn Bread recipe, Mrs. Bayless found the family liked it better than plain corn bread. M. Sgt. and Mrs. Bayless reside at 240-B Langley, Webb AFB.

CHILI CORN BREAD
1 cup corn meal
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1 egg
1/4 cup milk
1-3 cup melted shortening
1 can green chiles
1 can cream style corn
Grated cheese
Mix dry ingredients. Add egg, milk, corn and shortening. Put half in greased 8x8 inch pan. Add chiles and grated cheese, top with

A HOME ECONOMIST COMMENTS

Recipes submitted in the Herald's Tastes O' Texas contest have been judged and winners chosen by the Department of Food and Nutrition at Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

Mrs. Gladys K. Holden, assistant professor, in a letter to the Herald, said one class of students in Food and Nutrition selected recipes for testing; two other classes prepared the dishes, and the first class acted as tasters.

"Because of the basic philosophy of the department," Mrs. Holden wrote, "only recipes that would make an actual contribution to the nutrition of the family were selected. The department holds that food is primarily for nutrition and that a homemaker's time is wasted preparing a concoction that does not furnish several nutrients in significant amounts."

Also, the home economist believes "it is even a greater waste of time if the preparation method destroys part of the nutrients present in the food."

top of crisp lettuce leaves, which are placed on a chilled salad bowl or platter.

VEGETABLES
Garnish with extra egg quarters and if desired, stuffed olives. Serve with barbecue and hot garlic bread. Makes about 5 servings.

PIES AND CAKES
Peach Cobbler with Honey Sauce was another winner submitted by Mrs. Ray, whose "Cooking Magic" book might be the "magic touch."

PEACH COBBLER WITH HONEY SAUCE
4 cups sliced fresh peaches
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. lemon juice
3 tbsps. water
2 tbsps. margarine
1 1/4 cups sifted flour
1/4 tsp. salt
3 tbsps. baking powder
2 tbsps. brown sugar
1-3 cup shortening
1/2 cup milk
1 egg, beaten
1 tsp. margarine
Combine peaches with one cup sugar, lemon juice, water and margarine, in a saucepan. Cook over low heat until barely tender, then pour into buttered casserole and set in oven to keep hot.

Sift flour with salt, baking powder and brown sugar. Work in shortening. Add milk and beaten egg. Beat until well mixed. Spoon over peaches in casserole, cutting several slits in top for steam to escape.

Dot with margarine and bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, about 30 minutes or until golden brown. Serve with honey sauce. Serves 6.

HONEY SAUCE
1/2 cup margarine
1 cup powdered sugar
2 tbsps. honey
4 tbsps. cream
Combine all ingredients in top of 1 large grated onion

1 cup whole kernel corn
3 slices crisp bacon, crumbled
2 tbsps. flour
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 cup grated cheese
Salt and pepper to taste
Boil carrots, celery and onions until tender. Save 1 1/2 cups of liquid. Make cream sauce with flour, vegetable water, salt and pepper.
Add cheese and cook enough to melt. Mix vegetables in casserole, pour on sauce. Cover and bake 10 to 15 minutes at 350 degrees.

GENERAL DESSERTS
Mrs. Shaw, 1806 Alabama, credits her sister-in-law, Mrs. Walter Hall, Beverly, Ohio, with Butter-scotch Sour Cream Cookies. The recipe was first prepared and written by Mrs. Hall, who in a regular exchange of recipes with Mrs. Shaw, passed along the cookie instructions. Mrs. Shaw, a bookkeeper at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital, is also a homemaker for her family.

BUTTERSCOTCH SOUR CREAM COOKIES
1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
2 eggs
1 cup sour cream
2 cups wheat germ
3 cups flour
2 tbsps. baking powder
1/4 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. salt
1 cup chopped pecans
Cream margarine and add sugar slowly. When well blended add unbeaten eggs and beat. Add the sour cream and the dry ingredients mixed together and the vanilla.
Mix well and drop by small spoonfuls onto a greased cookie sheet. Bake 10 minutes at 400 degrees.

MAIN DISH
Not only are Mrs. Griffith's Ham Patties nutritional, but they provide an excellent means for using up the remains of a baked ham. Mrs. Griffith of Coahoma often has kitchen assistance from her grandchildren, Dale, Derrill and Tammy Griffith.

HAM PATTIES
2 cups ground ham
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
1/4 cup chopped green onion
1/4 cup milk
1 slightly beaten egg
Dash of pepper

1 tsp. margarine
1 cup sour cream
Mix (reserve sour cream) and shape into 6 patties. Heat margarine in skillet and brown patties slowly. When done, place on platter. Heat sour cream, do not boil. Serve over patties and garnish with chopped scallions.

remaining half of batter. Bake about 35 minutes at 400 degrees.

An original recipe, Creamed Gold Vegetables is a versatile one. Mrs. Brasher says she can work wonders with the dish which was developed through her own ingenuity. It can be enriched with pecans; flavored with green beans; or made into a one-meal dish with the addition of chicken.

CREAMED GOLD VEGETABLES
3 cups cubed carrots
1/2 cup cubed celery

Margaret's Hair-Do Exciting

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret's new hair-do—probably the most exciting she's ever worn—had them all talking.

"It can't be all her own," gossiped one woman over the noise of the ballroom band.

"Of course it isn't," chimed in another in a loud stage whisper. "But they were wrong."

Every royal hair of the hair-do belonged to the pretty princess. It was a Grecian hair-do. With a shape-revealing pink gown, she wore it to Thursday night's sparkling Dockland Settlements Ball.

The hair was set up abruptly from Margaret's forehead and fixed with jewel-studded pins above and slightly behind her ears.

This produced a sort of grandiose pony-tail.

The ends, however, curled back on the long and shapely royal neck.

Wing Wives Gathering

A brunch was served to the Wing Headquarters Wives group Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. Bedford R. Underwood. Hostesses were Mrs. Don E. Harris, Mrs. John F. Seaton and Mrs. Richard C. Johnson.

The serving table centerpiece was an artificial pineapple, made of crepe paper covered with gold and bronze chrysanthemums. It sat upon a brass urn surrounded by artificial grapes and flanked with gold candles in brass holders. The coffee and tea services also were brass.

A dinner party, scheduled for December 7 at the Officer's Club, will be the next social event for the group. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Thomas Seebor or Mrs. John Larson. Party chairman is Mrs. Don Harris.

Object Of Pride

When Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McElreath left Big Spring several years ago they were newlyweds. They have returned with two things they are proud of—a master's degree for McElreath and 3-months-old Dana Danise.

Home Town Looks Mighty Good To These Returning Residents

"You can't go home again," is a saying disproved by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McElreath, 3908 Hamilton.

Listed as newcomers this week, both were reared in Big Spring. Away for several years, the young couple has just returned to make their home.

After attending Howard County Junior College, McElreath continued his education at Texas Technological College. Mrs. McElreath

Cake Decoration Shown To Club

The art of cake decorating was demonstrated by Mrs. Delaine Crawford, Home Demonstration agent, for the Coahoma club Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Leroy Echols.

The group planned for a Thanksgiving dinner to be held at the Cosden Country Club on Nov. 20. Six members attended, and one guest. Mrs. Clovis Phinney Jr.

went to Lubbock with her husband while he attended school.

Like many young wives, she discovered that staying financially solvent is an art, especially when the man of the house must be in class most of the time. She was employed as a secretary and bookkeeper for a finance company, and he worked part-time for the Medical-Dental Bureau.

During the last 18 months McElreath worked on acquiring a master's degree; he held a teaching fellowship at Tech. Now he is associated with Cosden Petroleum Co. in the marketing department and hopes to be here permanently.

Dana Danise McElreath, a blue-eyed blonde, is three months old. It isn't known what she thinks of Big Spring, but apparently there are no complaints as long as dinner is on time. Before long, she will be big enough to try some of her mother's cooking. Mrs. McElreath enjoys cooking very much and likes to experiment with recipes in creating dishes her family likes. What leisure time she has, since Dana joined the family, is spent reading.

"My husband has always participated in sports, and golf now on weekends," said Mrs. McElreath. "I don't know enough about the game to know whether he is a good golfer or not."

The McElreaths, active in the Westside Baptist Church, will be teaching the young married couple's class there. While still in school, McElreath drove back and forth on weekends to serve as educational director at the church and lead the choir. An accomplished vocalist, he would like to make music directing an avocation.

Yarn Twist

Work with the twist of the yarn, rather than against it, when making needlepoint. This can be determined by running your fingers along each strand of yarn before threading the needle. If it is done this way, stitches are smoother and more uniform and the finished product more attractive.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MOLLIE HARTZOG

Among the wives at Webb, one of the busiest recently was Mrs. K. L. Nellermoe. Capt. and Mrs. Nellermoe have just returned from a month long visit to North Dakota where they saw relatives and friends and enjoyed pheasant hunting near Fargo, N. D. Mrs. Nellermoe is especially pleased with the colorful cock pheasant feathers she has collected to trim a winter hat.

Attendant at the monthly meeting of the 3561st Squadron, Mrs. Nellermoe managed to win a door prize, the high score and the traveling prize at the bridge session. There were two prizes and the centerpiece left after her unusual good luck, and these were won by Mrs. K. W. Rocloffs, Mrs. R. L. Sandner, and Mrs. H. C. Collins, respectively. Forty ladies of the 3561st Squadron were in the bridge session and partook of the fallish refreshments all of which was planned by Green Flight.

Modesta's Gift Shop presented a pre-Christmas showing Tuesday at the Officers Club for the members of the 3560th Squadron. Winning door prizes were Mrs. J. M. Hitzel and Mrs. J. Brazeel. The refreshments were served from a buffet table, decorated with an autumn theme and centered with a gold, brown and tangerine arrangement of dry flowers within a beige cornucopia of straw fabric. Jaguar Flight was hostess for the gathering and acted as chairmen for the gift showing.

BALLET CLASSES

Mrs. Dick Wilson has announced that she will teach ballet and tap dancing for Webb children, aged four through teens, at the Webb Youth Center on Saturday mornings. Ballroom and cha-cha steps will be taught the older groups.

and classes will be divided as to age and interest.

Hours for each age group may be determined by calling the youth center or Mrs. Wilson and the cost will be $3 per month, beginning Nov. 10.

There will be a class on Monday mornings at 9:30 at the Webb pavilion for members of the Officers Wives Club. The fee will be 50 cents per person. Instruction will be in ballet, particularly for those wives who would like a bit of exercise in a useful and graceful manner. The ballet class will proceed in a slow and easy fashion for those of us who are most out of condition, with frequent coffee breaks permitted.

A BRIDGE SESSION

Mrs. Don Greenwade was hostess for an informal bridge group Wednesday in her home. Winning high score was Mrs. Lynwood Arthur, while traveling prize went to Mrs. William Holcomb.

The regular monthly bridge of the Officers Wives Club will be held Thursday, November 15 at the Officers Club beginning at 1 p.m. There will be tables es-

Class Observes Thanksgiving

The Lydia Sunday school class of Baptist Temple held a Thanksgiving supper Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Yates, 1909 Mittel. Special guests were Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Jarrett.

Following the blessing, by Dr. Jarrett, members and husbands dined at individual tables decorated with fall motifs. Eighteen participated in the fellowship and games following the supper.

Couples Bridge Club Plays At The Parkers

GARDEN CITY (SC) — The Couples Thursday Night Bridge Club, made up of players from Garden City and Sterling City, met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Parker.

High score honors went to Mr. and Mrs. Ross Foster. Second place winners were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Reynolds will be hosts for the November 26 meeting at their ranch.

Approximately 50 callers visited Mrs. Belle Wilkerson at her home in Garden City Thursday in observance of her 90th birthday. Out of town visitors were the families of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawton and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brunson, all of Midland.

At home for the day with their families were Mrs. Wilkerson's sons, Joy and Cecil. Her daughter, Mrs. Vena Lawton, was a hostess and was assisted by Mrs. Ruth Flanagan.

Mrs. W. A. Bigby has been confined in the Stanton hospital the past week.

pecially for beginning bridge players, and all who arrive on time will benefit by 500 points. It is customary to come with a bridge partner, but for those who cannot do so, the hostesses will be available to fill in at the tables. Also, the fifth Thursday in November, the 23rd, will be the date for an all-day bridge session at the Officers Club.

On Friday, November 9, a portable television set was presented to the Obstetrics Ward at Webb Air Base Hospital. The presentation was made by Mrs. Wilson Banks, Mrs. James Gehrig and several members of the Gray Lady Corps on behalf of the Officers Wives Club.

ARTHUR'S WORRY

A skit entitled An Arthur Worry Party, presented at the OWC luncheon earlier this month met with such rousing success that it was presented again Friday evening at the Officers Club. M. and S. and C. E. Group were responsible for the skit which met with an over-whelming response on its evening performance. It was suggested that the performance be given again at a later date, but Arthur tripped over his own feet and lost most of his teeth in the process.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Successful Women Tell Grooming Habits

By LYDIA LANE
 HOLLYWOOD—Editor's Note: Lydia Lane invites your letter but regrets that a personal answer cannot be given. From time to time, she will answer beauty problems in her column. If you would like your question and answer to appear in this space, write to Lydia Lane, Stratton and Answers, P. O. Box 111, Los Angeles 33, California.

Q. I hope that you can help me with my beauty problem. It has caused me much misery throughout my teen-age years. I can't grow fingernails. My fingers are naturally short and without long nails my hands look so stubby that I'm ashamed of them.

A. June Lockhart of CBS-TV's "Lassie" series had a similar problem, which she solved by coating her nails with many layers of polish. "I first put on a colorless base coat. Then I add two pink coats and then a top coat of plastic. Every other day I add another coat of plastic. I go six weeks without removing my polish, but I give myself a manicure every week. As your nails begin to grow, put polish under the tips as well as on top. Add a fresh coat of polish whenever your nails need it to look neat. I have told many people of this method and I have never found one person who was not able to grow nails this way."

Q. — AM 30 years old. I have wrinkles around my eyes and I want to know what I can do about the wrinkles around my eyes. I laugh and I certainly don't want to change my expression, but what can I do to keep these wrinkles under control? I have been using a cream at night. What do you suggest?

A. Gina Lollobrigida likes to keep a suntan, and she keeps wrinkles away from the delicate

SQUADRON SCROLL Auction Is Highlight For Squadron Wives

For the monthly meeting of the 2561st Student Squadron wives Thursday morning, Mrs. Edward G. Jacob presided as auctioneer during a white elephant auction which brought spirited bidding from the guests. Several holiday decorations and gifts were among the items bought by the lucky women who had the highest bids.

Announcements made during the meeting were primarily regarding the January OWC luncheon and the January OWC bridge, both of which the Student Squadron wives are sponsoring. It was also announced that the December meeting of the Student Squadron wives would be an election meeting.

Doorprizes were won by Mrs. Glen Lingenfelter, Mrs. Don Wilkerson and Mrs. Larry Nichols. A dried arrangement of fall flowers was the centerpiece for the refreshment table from which was served coffee, tea and pastries.

A feature of the meeting was a speech given by Col. H. C. Collins, 3560th Pilot Training Group Commander. Col. Collins explained the background of the pilot training program in relation to its operation today and enumerated the personal and professional pre-

Vibrant Colors For Fall

Bouquets of vibrantly colored autumn flowers—such as chrysanthemums, pompons and carnations—and eye-catching dried arrangements, together with luxuriant green plants, make exciting focal points in your rooms and interesting accessories for entertaining.

Fresh flowers in autumn's rich colors are the perfect choice for formal and family dinner settings; green plants provide the friendly atmosphere and hospitality so important in a home, and dried arrangements with their muted colorings and interesting textures, offer timely accents for home living and entertaining.

Arrangements of golden mums, copper-toned pompons, bright-berried bittersweet, green huckleberry foliage and wisps of wheat, for instance, make centerpieces in the harvest spirit for buffet and sit-down dinners.

MRS. WILLIAM CLIFFORD HANSEN

Hansen-Wicks Nuptials Solemnized In Evening

Miss Carole Ann Wicks and Lt. William Clifford Hansen exchanged nuptial vows Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the First Christian Church. The Rev. John C. Black Jr., pastor, read the double ring service before altar arrangements of gladioli and mums flanked by wrought iron candelabra holding cathedral tapers.

Standards and white satin rope marked the aisle leading to the altar. Family pews were designated with white satin bows. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Wicks, 500 Austin. Lt. Hansen of Webb Air Force Base is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hansen, Burlingame, Calif.

Nuptial music, provided by Mrs. John Birdwell, organist, included "Trauerlied," "With This Ring," "Clair de Lune," "Always" and the traditional marches. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown designed with a bodice of white Alencon lace and taffeta, a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long petal point sleeves. The lace extended into a front panel of the skirt which was pleated in the back to form a chapel train. A capulet of nylon held her elbow length veil of silk tulle. She carried a white Bible and a cascade arrangement of frenched mums backed in tulle and pearl leaves.

In tradition, she had something old, borrowed and blue. Mrs. Wayne Beck was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Joyce Thomas and Miss Linda Manley. They wore identical gold taffeta dresses styled with full skirts, basque bodices, rounded necklines and short cap sleeves. Circlets of gold nylon tulle and taffeta were worn with other accessories of brown. They carried bronze mums showered in matching satin.

Lt. Harold E. Morton Jr., Waco, was best man. Ushers and groomsmen were Lt. Randal Ryan, Big Spring, and Jimmy Everett, cousin of the bride, Snyder.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with white lace over gold. A composition of bronze mums formed a centerpiece. The white three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Jay Lebcowitz was in charge of the register. Other members of the house party were Mrs. W. D. Everett Jr., Mrs. Talmage Higginbotham and Mrs. L. H. Manley.

RECEPTION
Guests were received in the parlor of the church by the couple, the parents and the bride's attendants.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS
Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hansen, Burlingame, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Maule, Colorado City, the bride's grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Wicks, her grandparents from Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Everett Jr., and children, Jimmy and Belinda, Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Morrison, El Paso; Miss Julia Blackwell, Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Stewart, Del Rio; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Prewett, Odessa; Lt. and Mrs. Harold E. Morton Jr., Waco.

WEDDING TRIP
For their wedding trip in Texas and New Mexico, the bride chose to travel in a suit of exotic blue wool, black patent shoes, and capulet of nylon mesh topped with velvet bows. She wore a corsage of frenched mums from the bridal bouquet.

Returning to Texas the couple will reside at James-Connally Air Force Base, Waco, where the bridegroom will be entering navigator training.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended commercial college in Midland. She has been employed with Zale's Jewelers.

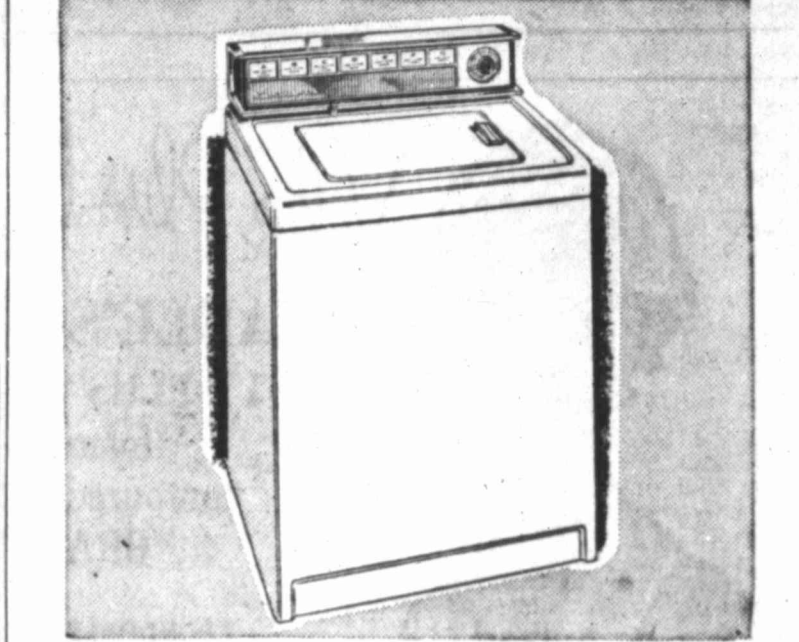

Lt. Hansen, a graduate of Palo Alto High School, received his degree from the University of California. He is a member of Arnold Air Society and Saber Air Command.

Mrs. Ashley Writes Of Her Tour Of Europe

Editors Note: Mrs. Lyndell Ashley, a former correspondent of the Herald, writes of her impressions on a tour of Europe with her husband. Mrs. Ashley's story began when a doctor friend remarked that the people of Big Spring have a wonderful opportunity to offer hospitality and good will to the foreign students; and commented on the far reaching results this would have. Somewhat reluctant to do so, the Ashleys opened their home to foreign students. Two of these, Gebhard Schwab and Erwin Hellmann, became favorites of the family. By special invitation from the two, now in their homelands, the Ashleys are touring Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

Frankfurt and were amazed when we arrived to find the streets filled with people and businesses open at the late hour of 11 p.m. My husband, in his Western hat and Texas style boots, seems to open doors for us everywhere. People walk up to us and begin speaking English without bothering to ask where we are from. Tomorrow, Oct. 31, we will arrive in Munich, where Erwin will be waiting for us.

FIRST IMPRESSION
Mrs. Ashley writes: "Our first impression of Europe was looking down upon the incredibly green countryside of Belgium. From the air we were reminded of a giant checkerboard. Every field and pasture, even the forests, seemed to be squared off in neat and tidy lines. Here, and there autumn reds and yellows added color to the checkerboard squares. As our plane taxied to a stop at Luxembourg, the stewardess announced the arrival in three languages. Acquaintances made on the plane proved to be invaluable in clearing baggage, finding schedules, helping us on the right trains and buses, and telling us of the country through which we passed. We spent our first night at

West Texas Natives For Ornaments

Johnny Johansen, park superintendent for the City of Big Spring, has cleaned out all old shrubbery requiring a lot of water, at East Tenth and State streets intersection traffic islands, and has replaced them with native cactus. Use of these plants, and a gravel covering, will help to beautify the area and keep down maintenance costs to the city.

Special Week Honors Youth

This marks a week when parents and teachers are urged to pat boys and girls on the back.

Under the leadership of the Optimist Club, Youth Appreciation Week (Nov. 12-18) will center around this idea. Mayor George Zachariah, in proclaiming the special observance, reminded that perhaps five per cent of juveniles get unsavory mention because of misdeeds.

"It's too easy to forget to compliment the 95 per cent of guys and gals," he said. "We want to take this occasion to tell them we appreciate how well they are doing and to express our confidence in them."

Wednesday at the 7 a.m. meeting of the Optimists at the Wagon Wheel, there will be a panel composed of Police Chief Jay Banks, Mayor Zachariah and Francis Flint to consider what problems may be facing the youth of this community. The panel also will explore whether these are community responsibilities to the extent of suggesting unity of action upon them.

Other clubs and organizations may also recognize youth during the week. Sam Anderson, school superintendent, voiced his support of the program, reiterating the mayor's reminder that adults are prone to remember the tiny percentage that gets into trouble while ignoring the great majority who are upright young citizens.

Martin Delegates In San Antonio

Light Frost Benefits Laggard Area Harvest

First frost of the fall has made its impact evident in the cotton fields.

So far, no serious damage has developed from the frost with one area excepted. In the St. Lawrence community in Glasscock County, the freeze seems to have been sharper than elsewhere in the district and some evidence of damage has developed.

In other counties, for the most part, the little nip of winter has been beneficial if anything. It was not severe enough to harm the bolls, but it will result in the partial defoliation of some of the plants—most of which are exceptionally heavily leaved at this time. Removal of the foliage, may offer a better chance for the sun to get to the immature bolls and speed up their ripening process.

NEED FAIR WEATHER

If a really severe frost can be delayed for another two weeks the crop prospects in many counties in this area — particularly Howard County which is the laggard of the entire lot—would be materially improved.

More and more cotton coming to the gins in the counties has been picked by machines and as time pushes ahead, still more strippers will be put in the fields.

Seventy-five per cent of Dawson County's cotton is already being pulled by strippers. Last week, the gins in that county processed 11,000 bales to bring the total for the season to 42,704. This is about 30 per cent of the estimated crop. At least 65 per cent of the bolls in the fields are now open. Dawson County had two nights when it froze. The farmers say that the chilly weather was a decided benefit.

HOWARD TARDY

Howard County's tardy fields are only 18 per cent open and less than 8 per cent of the crop has been harvested. Total ginnings for the year are only 2,487—not as last week.

Glasscock County is picking up the last fragments of its 1962 crop. It is estimated only 500 to 600 more bales remain to be ginned. Already 7,215 bales have been handled.

Martin County has ginned 14,125 bales and farmers said that what frost occurred in that county was definitely helpful.

The tier of counties which are served by the Sweetwater office of the Texas Employment Commission are well along with their ginning.

OTHER COUNTIES

The four counties — Fisher, Mitchell, Nolan and Scurry—have more than 100 strippers at work and more are showing up every day.

Nolan led the pack with 4,836 bales ginned last week. This brought its total to 9,478 bales. It had 57 strippers at work. Scurry had 34 strippers in the fields and 1,513 bales were ginned during the week. The season total is 10,478.

Fisher ginned 3,450 bales last week to push its total to 8,733 and there were 8 strippers at work. Mitchell had 8 strippers in the field and turned out 2,322 bales to push the total for the season to 10,545. Light frost may have helped the crop.

Gold Star Awards Set For Saturday

Howard County gold star girl and boy of 1962 will be announced at the annual 4-H Club Achievement Day set for next Saturday.

It was announced by Herb Helbig, county farm agent.

The winners have been selected but their names will be kept secret until presentation of awards is made at the Achievement Day program at the county fair barns at 10 a.m.

From 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. exhibits and demonstrations will be featured.

Starting at 11 a.m. the contests in showmanship will begin. To compete in this contest, each 4-H Club member must have his own steer or lamb at the barn not later than 9 a.m. The contest will be based entirely on the ability of the club member to display his animal and has no bearing on the quality of the animal being shown.

Classes will be set up according to the number of years the contestant has been feeding.

Club members are also asked to have on hand articles of clothing they have made as a part of the 4-H club project. These garments will be displayed but no judging will be made of them.

At noon a free barbecue dinner for all 4-H club members and their parents will be served at the barn.

From 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. the presentation of the awards for achievement in various fields of 4-H club activities will be made.

It is at this time, the coveted Gold Stars will be presented to the top boy and top girl of the county organization. There will be a special speaker for the occasion.

At 2:30 p.m. a meeting with calf and lamb feeders is slated. Discussion of stock show entries will be featured at this session.

Red Man Heap Smart On Forecast

The Indian weather legend forecasting the date of the first frost seems to have scored a bullseye this year.

Grady Randel, who keeps track of area weather for the U. S. Experiment Farm here, admits he used the old formula for predicting the initial reading of 32 degrees or lower.

"The legend has it," explained Randel, "that it will frost 90 days after the first norther hills."

"I marked down Nov. 11 for the freeze. The first norther, officially regarded as such, fell on Aug. 13. Ninety days would make Nov. 11 the day. Of course, this year, the freeze hit three days ahead of the Indian deadline but certainly close enough to give an air of validity to the legend. We had our first freezing weather on the night of Nov. 7-8."

Randel pointed out that he had kept track of the frost and the first northers for a good many years and that the record bears out the ancient method of forecasting.

"I have begun to believe those old Indians were a pretty bright bunch of folks," said Randel.

A FEW FACTS ABOUT B.S.E.A.

The Big Spring Employment Agency opened its doors on November 15, 1961, with offices in the Permian Building. Our first job placement was a young lady as a secretary with a local banking institution. Our most recent job placement was a young man as a trainee with a manufacturing firm. The months in between have been filled with many successful job placements. But all of this did not just happen; it has been the result of relentless work, dedicated planning, and acceptance by employers and job applicants of our services.

From the first moment that B.S.E.A. went on the planning board, it has been pledged to quality service. Never for a moment in the many months of interviewing and testing of job applicants have we veered from this objective. On occasions employers have listed jobs with us that we have not been able to fill. In these instances, we refused to send to the employer applicants who did not meet his specifications. We have also had applicants register for certain types of jobs that were not available at the moment. However, in most cases we have been in a position to match qualified applicants with quality jobs.

Most of the credit for B.S.E.A.'s success can be attributed to our skilled staff whose responsibilities are introducing people and jobs. Their experience, combined with our programs of testing and interviewing, is producing effective results in the local job placement field.

It has been our pleasure to serve you in these twelve short months. To keep abreast of the challenge extended to us by this community, we have joined the Southwest Employment Board and have become a member of the National Employment Association.

If you are an employer who has hired through B.S.E.A., you are aware of the many advantages we offer, and we thank you for your past patronage. If you are an applicant who has secured a good-paying position through our offices, you are familiar with the many ways we serve, and we thank you for the confidence vested in us. If you are an employer or a job applicant who is not familiar with our job placement program, we invite you to call or visit us at your earliest convenience. We promise to serve you professionally and to your best interest.

"I appreciate the services rendered by the Big Spring Employment Agency. I feel that the employer as well as the person seeking employment can obtain valuable help from this facility. Big Spring is most fortunate in having this service available."

A Devotional For The Day

O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea. (Isaiah 48:18.)
PRAYER: Dear Lord and Father of mankind, we need Thy presence and power in our endeavor to fulfill Thy will and find peace. Help us as we join with Thy children everywhere in bringing about the spirit of understanding, goodwill, and peace among men. In the name of Christ, the prince of peace. Amen.

Our Cooperation On Trial

Our cooperative spirit is on trial today. The percentage of our population taking the Sabin polio vaccine will be a pretty fair test of how well people respond voluntarily to programs which undeniably serve the public good.

There will be some few who will have personal objections or religious scruples against any sort of medication, preventive or otherwise. But few is the right assessment of these non-participants. In addition, there will be a number proportionally hindered, but relatively speaking these will constitute a handful. That leave the vast bulk of our population with no reason to fail to cooperate other than disinterest or civic laziness.

It is tremendously important that our community have the maximum degree of protection possible against polio. The Sabin vaccine has been proven absolutely safe and almost perfectly effective. Be a good sport—more than that, be a good citizen and a good neighbor by taking your family to the nearest point Sunday and get your Sabin vaccine. Do your part to win complete victory over polio.

Street Program Is Moving

The city is making commendable progress on the first phase of its continuing assessment paving program. One stretch most in the public eye is that Birdwell from 15th to Marcy Drive. Any day now the actual topping will be put in place and a smooth stretch of road will have replaced an alternately dusty and muddy street.

While this has been going on, other blocks have been shaped under the program. Singups are under way on new ones.

Beyond this, the city has extended its preventive maintenance efforts by one course stabilization of the shoulder and ditch on Scurry south about three blocks from Scurry Street. This was, however, effected only on one side. Admittedly this carries the bulk of the water, but by no means all of it.

Another area where stabilization was effected a couple of months ago is on Goliad south from the junior high to Marcy Drive. Traffic has roughed this, and now an erosion problem is arising. Perhaps if this stretch could be disced, re-rolled and re-rolled, it would result in a compact base serving as semi-permanent topping. Like Birdwell, this handles a tremendous amount of traffic.

J. A. Livingston U.S. Strength Recognized By Confidence In The Dollar

STOCKHOLM—One solid vote of confidence in the dollar! One unqualified assertion that raising the price of gold would be futile. It would help only the Soviet Union, which has a vested interest in the rise in the gold price.

"May I quote you on that?" I asked Per Asbrink, Governor of the Bank of Sweden.

"WHY WOULD you want to quote me?" he replied. "You know all that. Your central bankers know that. Your government knows that. It isn't new."

"That's entirely correct," I responded. "But so few persons, especially international bankers like yourself, express themselves so positively on the subject."

We were seated in the boardroom of the Bank of Sweden, at one end of the long table. Governor Asbrink smiled, and said: "If you think it is useful, please don't hesitate to quote me, though my English isn't too good." Like most well-educated Swedes his English was almost flawless. Rarely would he grope for a word.

"WE ARE NOT so nervous about the dollar in this country as people are in other countries," he said. "We never converted any dollars into gold." He looked up in the air, as if combing his mind for precise statistics. "About 25 per cent—yes, I think that's right, about 25 per cent of our reserves are in gold. Almost all the rest is in dollars."

"Don't you have sterling reserves?"

"A little. But they are just working balances."

"Why do you have such firm confidence in the dollar?" I asked. "I'm not challenging you. I merely want your supporting evidence."

"THE LONG-TERM position of the dollar—of the United States—is stronger than that of any nation in the world. You have great assets, great industrial resources, and you have an export balance of trade."

As Mr. Asbrink spoke, I couldn't help reflecting how knowledgeable are Swedish bankers, economists, and government officials about U. S. affairs. I had the feeling, though I didn't test it, that many Swedes could rattle off the names of the 50 states, whereas most Americans would stumble and falter at 40.

"Yours is not a genuine minus position that can be compared with other minus positions in the world," continued the Governor. "Your deficit in the balance of payments is caused by huge capital exports. You have investments abroad. And these are assets which will be earning money, which will help—in time—to reduce the deficit and perhaps reverse it."

"YES," I PUT IN, "and furthermore we could correct our payments deficiency by cutting out foreign aid."

Governor Asbrink nodded tentatively. "I don't believe you are free to stop your foreign aid just as you like. But the rest of the world must recognize that fact. As President Kennedy told the meeting of the International Monetary Fund in Washington, if the dollar didn't exist the world would have to invent it."

Governor Asbrink didn't spell out his point—but the meaning was clear. The world requires an acceptable, convertible, interchangeable medium of exchange—something solid men can rely on; something that everywhere commands goods and services or gold.

"EUROPEAN BANKERS who start propagandizing waves and speculation against the dollar," continued Mr. Asbrink, "are taking a very shortsighted attitude. If anything happened to the dollar, the world would be greatly embarrassed. We would all get into a terrible mess. Exchange rates would be chaotic."

If speculative flurries against the dollar forced the United States to introduce controls against exports of capital, or restrictions on the travel movements of American citizens, or limitations on purchases abroad, the world would be bereft of its financial anchor. The world would lose faith in dollar convertibility and be the worse for it.

GOVERNOR ASBRINK has no patience or faith in suggestion that the price of gold be raised. Doubling the gold price would not correct the gold of the U. S.

balance of payments deficiency. It would not alter the political need to maintain large military forces in being and to help underdeveloped nations.

An upward revision of the gold price would help the Soviet Union, which has a "vested interest" in a price advance, and would destroy faith in the dollar—a double benefit to the U.S.S.R.

"How much gold do you think the Soviet Union has?" I asked.

HE SMILED — a $64,000,000 smile — "I don't know, but I think they mine a lot of gold."

And so I said goodbye, secure in the feeling that here was one central banker who wasn't going to run away from, and thereby cause a run on, the U. S. dollar.

What Others Say

For a good many years now, the old family doctor has been losing ground to specialists in such areas as pediatrics, surgery and obstetrics. The quality of medical care undoubtedly is better than it ever was but somehow we still wish there were more general practitioners.

We thought for a moment we saw a glimmer of hope in a recent news item. Dr. Ward Darley, executive director of the Association of American Medical Colleges, is distressed by the fact that, in this era of specialization, some families have trouble finding a doctor to treat them.

So Dr. Darley is proposing that medical schools train doctors in a field called "family practice." But it turns out that, despite the reminiscent words, this would not mark a trend back to the G.P. For a major function of the doctors schooled in "family practice" would be to diagnose illness in the family — and refer the patients to the right specialist.

To Your Good Health Tularemia Infects Rabbits And Rodents

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Some children and I recently discussed the danger of handling wild animals after they are dead. I explained that many times these animals have diseases.

Then one child asked about picking up game that a hunter kills. How does he know if it is diseased?

I have heard that wild rabbits should be handled with gloves so as not to pick up tularemia. — Mrs. L. D.

Rabbit fever—or tularemia—is caused by a germ which infects rabbits and a variety of rodents. It can cause illness and fever in human beings if they acquire the germ. (It is transmitted from one animal to another by insects which bite.)

Rabbit stew is safe to eat, or other forms of cooked rabbit, because heat destroys the germ—just as the mild heating of milk in pasteurization destroys dangerous germs if they happen to be present.

The danger from tularemia is in handling rabbits before they have been cooked.

There is no way of telling whether a rabbit has this germ in its blood.

The safe rule is to make sure that the germ cannot enter your bloodstream. Therefore the use of gloves while skinning a rabbit is a required precaution. Notice that I said the germ is transmitted by insects that bite. It doesn't take a large amount of the germ to start trouble. Gloves protect the hands from picking up the germ—if it is present—through some insignificant cut or scratch which may be no more noticeable than an insect's bite.

There is also the risk of some trivial wound by your knife, fork or something scratching the skin by a bone or something sharp.

I certainly don't want to make children (or anyone else) unduly afraid of animals. I don't know as I'd say that wild animals "often" have diseases that are dangerous to people, but sometimes they do.

In the wildlife range, I think it's wise to teach children never to pick up dead birds. Scoop 'em up on a shovel or something. They often carry lice or other insects. And after all, the kind of dead bird you find in the yard often has been a sick bird.

Bears and some other animals that live at least in part on meat (or meat scraps, or garbage) can carry trichinosis, the disease that can come from pigs if the pork is not thoroughly cooked. (Beef doesn't have it, because cows don't eat meat, and the meat carries the infection.)

Many wild animals, as well as domestic dogs, can carry rabies. Maybe not often, but a lifetime of being careful is better than being exposed just once to that disease.

(Bats, too, can carry rabies.)

So let's not be overly scared—just smart enough to be careful.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain the difference between a cyst and a tumor. — C. G.

A cyst is a sac which fills with fluid or semi-fluid material, such as a small gland which becomes plugged and cannot discharge the substances it secretes. A tumor, on the other hand, is a growth. The simplest I can think of is a wart. A common cyst is of the sebaceous, or oily skin glands. A common tumor, in women, is the fibroid tumor of the uterus. There are also ovarian cysts.

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment for this pest, write for the booklet, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm" enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Feller Did A Lot Of Speechifyin'

DEAR RUFE:

There was this piece of culture, the other night, and if you was smart enough you would of liked it. You may of liked it anyhow.

What we had was a talker. Just one feller, and him doin' all the talkin'. Mostly what he was doin' was talkin' in pomes, although they was not the kind of pomes me and you is used to, since they do not always come out in rhymes. Poetry that rhymes you can tell at a glance. The other kind you have to sort of digest.

WELL, THIS FELLER gave you the kind to digest.

First off, he was a fine figure of a man. Tall, big shoulders, handled hisself real good, and didn't trip over the rug—there was a little rug on the stage, and he stayed right on it, all night—in fact he was what you might call graceful without bein' sissy about it.

NEXT THING, he was dressed pretty snazzy. One of them black outfits with silk stripes down the side of the pants, but this big feller did it real slick. He would go low when he needed to, and go high when he needed to, and then soft, and then a little louder, but the truth is he never did get quite loud enough for me to get all the words. There was some of them I wouldn't of understood anyway.

But when he put love in his voice, or when he put real old misery in there, it made you feel like love, which of course is silly, and it made you feel miserable, which is more natural.

YOU SEE, some of them pomes was love pomes, like a feller writin' to his girl or his wife, or somethin' like that, and this feller speeched 'em right out, where you and me would be ashamed to say such stuff. It was kinda pretty, at that, and if you had been 30 years younger, you would have been wantin' to sit with the gal you was a-courtin', and holdin' her hand at the time.

This would show you that the feller did a pretty good job in speechin' up pomes.

WELL, THE SECOND half of his show was another story. He kept spoutin' lines—I guess, pomes, though no rhymes—about these characters that was in trouble.

One was from Denmark, another was from Scotland, and I think another set of 'em was from England. Wasn't an American in the bunch.

Thing was, every dab-run one of them folks was down deep in trouble, and they just moaned about what was gonna happen to 'em, and mostly what did happen was bad.

THE FELLER who did the speechin' didn't carry this stuff right out to the killin', but I think these characters who felt so down-and-out either killed themselves or got killed, or somethin' unpleasant.

Leastwises, it ain't what happened to 'em, it's what they said before it happened. And that's what the feller kept speechin' about.

By golly, the feller had a candle burnin' on a table on the rug, too. This kept things lighter for some of us who wasn't gettin' a glimmer of the whole thing. Wish you could have set with me—hold that I mean you would be the one I'd hold hands with—it would just be to get you cultured.

Marquis Childs Another Democratic Triumph

WASHINGTON — In late August and early September the customary Republican claims to a great upcoming victory were tempered by dire warnings about the future of the republic. Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said that failing a victory in 1962 we will have to look under a rock to get someone to take our nomination in 1964.

EARLIER IN Seattle he had said that the nation could not remain half socialist and half free. Indeed, he added, we had better win this year or we may never win again.

There were various reasons why the claims of Rep. Bob Wilson, chairman of the House Congressional Campaign Committee, and others to 50 seats and House control should have been less strident. When President Kennedy was winning two years ago the Democrats lost a net of 20 seats in the House and this clearly represented a backlash from the Democratic sweep of 1958. If the President had won by something more than a hairline margin he might have pulled in a number of Democrats and the reaction would have come this year instead of in 1960.

BUT WHEN THIS is said the plight of the opposition party in our two-party system is grim. The consolation that Miller took in the "miraculous" Republican showing in the South is cold comfort. It may, in fact, illustrate why the Republicans have such a hard time in the North where national elections are won.

The Republican candidates in the South with very few exceptions try to out-segregate and out-conservative their Democratic opponents. In short, they seem bent on trying to become the minority party of extreme reaction in those areas where an appeal to the past still wins votes.

IN THE NORTH, however, as the election just over seems clearly to demonstrate, this will not go down. Unfortunately for moderate and liberal Republicans, what candidates say in the South can also be heard northward in the Mason and Dixon line. An able Republican Senatorial candidate, Perkins Bass, was sacrificed in New Hampshire to the conspiratorial extremists on the right bent on retreating into a past that never was.

AS IN 1960 so once again this year Richard M. Nixon is the best example of the effort of the Republican party to keep to a double standard. At the climax of the '60 campaign Nixon flew to South Carolina and was photographed on the embrace of ardent segregationists. Those photographs were reproduced in every newspaper in the North. What galls Republicans is that the Democrats do seem to get away with a double standard. The explanation may be that, in effect, there are two Democratic parties, a party of the North and a party of the South.

THIS YEAR NIXON used every device out of his political past, including the immuendo of soft on communism. He brought into his campaign Murray Chotiner, who had been sideswiped with the charge of employing smears in previous Nixon campaigns. With his party harassed by extreme rightists the unhappy Nixon apparently felt he had to try the two-way stretch. It is instructive that Sen. Thomas Kuchel, who was careful to disassociate himself from the Nixon campaign, won re-election by a comfortable majority.

The political facts of life speak louder than words and especially in California. Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown has been one of the best—some would say the best—Governors the state has ever had. Lacking the articulateness and the television personality of Nixon, he could point to a long roster of achievements, including the huge transfer of essential water from north to south.

ANOTHER FACT of life is the organization effort that leading Democrats put into the campaign. Foremost among them was Jesse Urush, Speaker of the State Assembly. He put on a massive get-out-the-vote drive that was as important as any single factor in the Brown victory.

What happened on Tuesday will rank close to the Democratic triumph of 1934 when in that off-year election the party in power gained nine seats in the House and 10 in the Senate. Even discounting the losses of 1960 that altered the balance, the showing in a time of turmoil and trouble is formidable. It is likely, as Chairman Miller predicted, to make the search for a Presidential candidate in 1964 long and arduous.

THE WORST SLAUGHTER was in the Senate where Sen. Barry Goldwater was chairman of the Senatorial Campaign Committee. He has been at odds with his fellow Republicans on the moderate and liberal side in the Senate and they have appeared to be shunted aside in favor of the Goldwater brand of conservatism. Perhaps now they will feel the time has come to assert themselves in giving their party a new direction.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

In a rhythm that has persisted throughout the history of the United States, the issue of state versus federal rights has reached another furthest point in the wake of enforced integration at the University of Mississippi. There has been no definite pattern to the theme, yet it can be said with certainty that the present phase will ultimately yield to a lull, succeeded again by a new crescendo.

No one with any knowledge of the Constitution or the thinking that went into its formation need be surprised by this ebb and flow of American discourse. For the framers of the Constitution had livedly fears not only of a militant and articulate minority but of a tyrannical majority. This led them to establish three, co-equal branches of the federal government and a system of checks and balances which prevent, or at least minimize the danger from, ill-conceived or hasty action. As a final check the Tenth Amendment gave to the states or the people such rights or powers not expressly vested in the federal government.

It is the division of powers, of course, which feeds the argument. But the argument itself is the surest evidence that the system is working, that a national consensus is being formulated, that the tyranny of a majority or a minority can be resisted, that every swing of the pendulum is influenced by countervailing forces.

David Lawrence Conservative Coalition Stands

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy did not get his wish. He campaigned harder than any other chief executive in history to get an increased majority of his party in both houses of Congress, but the voters did not grant his request.

The coalition of conservative Republicans and Democrats, therefore, remains in control of both houses. Radicalism is checked again. Business can breathe easier. For, if the Democrats had made substantial gains in both houses of Congress, the stock market would have broken badly and there would have been predictions of a deeper recession in 1963 than now is anticipated.

ALL THE TALK of "net gains" by mathematically putting together the Senate and House victories of the Democrats — doesn't alter the fact that it needs only a coalition in one house to block radical legislation. This barrier exists more firmly than ever before against unsound fiscal policies and proposals which, if enacted, would discourage and retard business progress.

In fact, it would not be surprising if 1964 finds President Kennedy campaigning with a less liberal and more conservative strategy than he followed in 1960.

THE ELECTIONS for governor generally had no national significance—except that the Republicans gained a number of those state houses in big states with large electoral votes. The newly elected Republican governors can help their party in an organizational sense.

Looking across the country at the congressional contests, it is evident that Democrats in many areas had a difficult time getting re-elected. Majorities were considerably reduced in many places. In Alabama, for instance, the Democrat, Sen. Hill, won by a narrow margin. In a big state like Illinois, Senator Dirksen, the Republican minority leader, won out, and Kentucky again returned a Republican senator. The Democratic victory in New Hampshire was due to a factional fight inside the Republican party.

IT IS TRUE that in Indiana Senator Caphart, of the conservative school, lost, but here the labor-union vote is al-has been compromised by failure to use it.

NBODY IN AUTHORITY will audibly discuss this, but attention is called to a remarkable pair of articles which appeared in the October issue of the magazine called "U. S. Naval Institute Proceedings." These two interlocking pieces deal with the American landings in Lebanon in the summer of 1958. One article, by our ambassador to Lebanon, Robert McClintock, who was on the spot, tells how the iron fist of sea-borne power, in the velvet glove of diplomacy, brought off a successful success of peace-keeping. The other article is by Marine Colonel H. A. Hadd, who commanded the Leathernecks. His article is entitled, "Orders Firm But Flexible." His thesis is that the Lebanon landings "should serve as a primer for the future . . . wherever such forces are landed in a situation short of war."

WHILE THE PROBLEMS in Lebanon and in Cuba are unlike in detail, they both involve uninhibited use of sea power. On exhibit in both places was a "graduated deterrence" in which just enough force to gain the objective could be applied.

The important difference, historically speaking, is simply stated. In Lebanon we exerted an initiative. We took a grave responsibility which nobody else dared take. In Cuba we gave the full initiative and responsibility to Acting Secretary General U. Thant and the U.N. "presence."

HISTORY DOES NOT recommend a nation's failure to use its power, nor does it recommend the artificial creation of a vacuum of power. This is what we have done. It has a lot of people worried about the eventual outcome.

Training For Farm Workers Is Considered

The possibility of a manpower training program for farm workers is under consideration here following a meeting held here Thursday.

If sufficient interest is shown and a demand indicated for trained hands, a course could be set up for training farm machinery operators and maintenance men.

Some of those participating in the meeting called by the Texas Employment Commission thought that Howard County Junior College would be the logical agency for coordinating the training if a program seems warranted.

Herb Helbig, county agent, suggested that more checking be done with farmers as a basis for reaching a decision. Hulan Harris, coordinator for the Texas Education Agency, said his agency is ready to provide the program if it is wanted. A second meeting has been set for Nov. 15.

Others at the session were Dr. Melvin M. Crawford, Bruce Frazier and Ben F. Johnson, HCCJ; Carlton Chapman, State National Bank; Jimmy Taylor, First National Bank; L. R. Tunnell, Farmers Home Administration; Ben F. Johnson, Billy W. Gillum, TEC farm placement interviewer; and W. N. Townsend, San Angelo, district TEC director.

Didn't Know He Wanted A Wife

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—When George Howland experienced legal complications in his attempt to adopt vivacious Adi Von Franzel, a judge friend had a suggestion: "Why don't you marry her instead," suggested Judge Carl H. Allen.

So George, 87, and Mrs. Von Franzel, 52, said yes. George and Adi met a year ago when he moved into her guest house.

"George kept talking all the time about how much he wanted a daughter," Mrs. Howland said. "I didn't realize that it was a wife I really wanted," Howland added.

Give Report To Welfare!

DEAR ABBY: A woman who lives down the street from us is on relief, has two Princess telephones and pays $90 a month for her apartment. She keeps a bum she calls her "husband." This bum she keeps has a wife and three children, and you won't believe this but she pays his wife's alimony out of her welfare check so he won't get arrested for non-support. She has four children of her own who are the hungriest-looking kids on the block. She drives a new car and is having trouble making the payments. Respectable citizens like ourselves pay taxes to support trash like her. How does the welfare department let people like that get away with it what I'd like to know?

Counterfeiter Gets 5 Years

MIAMI (AP)—A Miami printer, Norman Koran, 46, was sentenced to five years Friday for manufacturing and distributing counterfeit bills.

Koran pleaded guilty. John Marshall, Miami Secret Service chief, said the arrest of Koran and three other men broke up a counterfeiting ring responsible for $250,000 worth of "very fine" $10 and $20 bills.

Arrested in August also was Joseph E. Allen Jr., at Midland, Tex., with $180,000 in bogus bills in his pocket. Agents in Dayton, Ohio, arrested L. W. Ellison, 37, and William Langdon, 47.

I have been a clerk in a large store for many years and some of the conversations I hear are absolutely unbelievable! One customer was trying to select a sympathy card. I showed her one which read, "Thinking of you today." Then she said—"But she won't get the card until TOMORROW!"

DEAR ABBY: I am a junior in high school and am writing for others as well as myself. Do you see anything wrong with a boy and girl walking down the hall with his arm around her waist? Hammack Discusses Program Of Work At VA Hospital

The functions and purposes of the Veterans Administration hospital were discussed at length here before members of the American Business Club at the Settles Hotel Friday by Bill Hammack, acting chief registrar of the facility here.

Hammack reminded his listeners that most of them benefited either directly or indirectly from benefits passed on to veterans of the armed forces. He said VA hospitals in the United States treated an estimated 120,000 patients every day and defined those ex-servicemen who are eligible to apply for treatment in government hospitals.

Those who served at least one day in the armed forces during war time are included, Hammack stated. The local hospital, he revealed, has had one patient who served during the Indian wars plus countless veterans of World War I, World War II and Korean War days.

Veteran benefits are nothing new, according to Hammack. They have been passed on to men who have served their country since colonial times. He estimated there are now 22 million veterans living in this country.

Hammack also revealed that the local VA hospital played a major role in the community's economy, since it had an annual payroll exceeding $1,750,000.

Hammack was introduced by Richard Hughes, program chairman.

Guy Chapman, Dr. Harold Smith and Tom Conway were awarded prizes by the club for perfect attendance during the recent attendance campaign carried on within the club. If the individual whose name is called for the door prize is not present, the award will be added to the premium the following week.

A telephone committee is being set up within the club to remind the members each Friday of that day's meeting.

The ABClub will co-operate with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in providing transportation for people needing rides to and from Sabin oral vaccine sites today.

Members who volunteered for the service will stand by for telephone calls in event they are needed.

It was announced from the podium that efforts were being made anew to start AB Clubs at Ardmore, Okla., Abilene and Wichita Falls.

The KEYS are on the TABLE

It's strange how a man's mind works . . .

My wife had said, "The keys are on the table," and we both were thinking of the car keys. I have that abominable habit of laying them down wherever I put my gloves — and I'm always losing my gloves.

But when I saw the keys, I saw the Bible, too. We always keep it there even though we seldom read it.

"The keys are on the table." I am just enough of a philosopher to see the chance implication of those words. The keys to a great many things must lie within the covers of that Book. Perhaps the keys to all of the really important things for you, and for me, and for everyone else.

We've been searching far and wide for the keys to peace, and security, and fairness, and brotherhood.

I wonder if the keys are on the table!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newfeatures

To focus world attention on international cooperation for the peaceful uses of outer space, the United Nations Postal Administration will issue a commemorative stamp on Dec. 3. This new stamp will honor the 28-member United Nations committee whose task it is to work on this particular project.

The main design is allegorical in nature featuring a globe and palms of peace emanating from the center into outer space. The stamp was designed by Kurt Flowitz of the U.N. Presentation Unit. The 4 cent is blue and the 11 cent is maroon.

First-day cover collectors desiring covers should send their addressed envelopes together with remittance covering cost of stamps to be affixed to United Nations Postal Administration, United Nations, New York.

To commemorate the 17th anniversary of the United Nations, Tunisia has issued three stamps, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The designs were created by foreign artists, winners of an international contest sponsored by the Tunisian Post Office Department. The first prize winner was Pascal Besson from Switzerland. His design showing a dove of peace and a globe appeared on the 40 millimes. Burhan Ozak of Turkey and Pyzark Dutziel of Poland tied for second place. Their designs, the 20m. and 30m. values, feature respectively the U.N. emblem encircled by the flag of Tunisia and a sprout beside the globe.

Dahomey has honored the Red Cross with a set of four new stamps showing Red Cross workers in that country engaged in nursing and first aid. The centenary of the Red Cross movement will no doubt see many nations throughout the world issuing commemoratives for the occasion.

The magnificent U. S. stamp collection which belonged to the late Harold G. Duckworth of Springfield, Mass., will be broken up at auction in December by Harmer, Rooke & Company of N. Y. The collectors auction value is in the range of $150,000.

Some Returning Movies Classified As High Grade

There are some among the returning movies which are worth a second see. Or a first, if you missed them the first time around.

One of these, and perhaps the best, is "Flower Drum Song" as adapted from the successful Broadway production. This is the story of a group of Chinese-Americans, and the conflicts which arise as the older, tradition-bound generation views with dismay the "Americanization" of their children and grandchildren—a process which obviously is desirable but which does have its drawbacks. The young ones are thoroughly American, and that's good; but they also tend to take on some of the lesser traits of their contemporaries, which leads the older heads to wag in sorrow. But all in all, it is a liting, happy film.

"Bachelor in Paradise" finds Bob Hope doing research among suburban housewives. Bob, a bachelor, is engaged in a very proper sort of job, but there are some lonely women who think his research should go a bit further. But since he's really a nice guy with no ideas of taking advantage of husbands who are all in the city working, complications set in—and "Bachelor in Paradise" becomes a typical Bob Hope situation comedy, which is another way of saying one is in for some good hearty chuckles.

"Ring of Fire" is another ultra-realistic production by Andrew and Virginia Stone. It is suspenseful, well-staged, and—as we said—realistic.

The Stones obtain their realism by using real disasters—or rather, real objects purposely involved in disastrous consequences. They write stories around these disasters, select casts of good actors, then set everyone to work living out the story while ocean liners sink and forests burn.

"Ring of Fire" centers around two young thugs and their teenage female companion who kidnap a state trooper in the wilds of Oregon. The trooper, to save his life, must take the wild-eyed bandits out of violence; and the kids, learning that they are not woods-wives, must keep the trooper alive until they are back to civilization again. A raging forest fire with plenty of hair-breadth escapes merely makes their mutual problems more acute.

There are a couple of returning films one might do well to avoid. The worst of these is "Geronimo." Here, Hollywood puts Freedom-Fighter ideas into the mind of a savage who was an outlaw even among his own people. It is a mish-mash of confusing philosophies, missing motives, complete lack of understanding of the mind of the savage Indian—and doesn't even have the old-fashioned satisfaction of some good, rousing scalp-lifts. What little there is in the way of battle scenes is oversimplified and disappointing.

"Boys' Night Out" is alright for a mixture of slapstick and pseudo-sophisticated comedy, but those who are led by the ads to believe they're seeing an American version of "Lady Chatterley's Lover" will be sorely disappointed.

"Boys' Night Out" has Kim Novak taking an apartment with the idea—as a student—of writing a research paper on the sexual motivations of the American male. The husbands she selects, naturally, think they have a good thing going, but they soon discover they are mere guinea pigs—and all they get for their trouble, after being spurned by Miss Novak, is a mess of angry wives.

It is only lightly amusing, and hardly worth the trouble.

Former Actress Obtains Alimony

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Former actress Sally Eilers will get $600 monthly alimony under terms of a temporary separate maintenance order.

The order, issued last week also directed Miss Eilers' husband, Hollingsworth Morse, to keep up $190 monthly house payments.

She had asked $1,705 temporary alimony pending trial of a contested divorce suit.

Miss Eilers charged Morse with extreme cruelty. He filed a cross complaint on the same charge. Both are 51. They were married in 1949.

Classic Chiller In New Version

One of the most famous of all macabre classics, "Phantom of the Opera," comes to the Ritz Theatre starting Thursday. This third film version of the terror tale is in color, and is rather lavishly produced, considering its type.

Lon Chaney, the "man with a thousand faces," made movie history with the first version nearly 40 years ago. His grotesquely made-up face was a masterpiece of makeup, particularly since the state of the art was comparatively primitive in the year 1925, the time of the silent movies.

In 1942, Claude Rains added voice and other sounds to Gaston Leroux's sinister story.

Now, two old hands at horror movies—producer Anthony Hinds and director Terence Fisher—have created the third version of the old story. It is dressed up in modern style, even to the original opera written for a climactic scene in the movie. Yet, it generally follows the original story with only a few changes.

Phantom

Herbert Lom essays the new role of the Phantom—a penniless composer whose music is stolen by a greedy impresario. In revenge, the composer tries to destroy the plates from which his music is being printed under the impresario's name, accidentally starts a fire, is horribly burned by acid when he tries to quench it, and runs burning into the river.

The police assume the composer is dead—but the river sweeps him into the sewers of underground London, where he is rescued and cared for by a dwarf whose love is music and who lives like a timid mouse in the closed cellars of the opera house.

Recovered, but forced to wear a mask, the composer turns Phantom, haunting and terrorizing the opera house and its occupants.

Lom has a challenge in equaling the performances of Chaney and Rains, and in many ways the newest version is not so terrifying as the two previous. But that may be because audiences are not so easily spooked anymore. But Lom puts forth a performance that is more than adequate, and his co-star, Heather Sears, who portrays the victimized opera singer, shows signs of a promising future.

Geography Was Wrong

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth strolled past the picture of the wild, bare-breasted beauty with unruffled regal dignity.

But Malayan High Commissioner Tunku Yaacob protested the display in his country's section of the new Commonwealth Institute.

The semi-nude girl and men stripped to the waist in two other Dyaks from North Borneo. Yaacob said by exhibiting them in the Malayan section "we are depicted as savages."

Institute Director Kenneth Bradley apologized that the pictures had been hung in the wrong place "in the last-minute rush to prepare the exhibition hall" for the opening by the Queen earlier last week.

The Dyaks are now in North Borneo's section.

War Story

Jack Ging is co-starred with Stanley Clements in "Sniper Ridge," a war drama which is now showing at the State Theatre. The film is double-billed with "Burn, Witch, Burn," which stars Janet Blair and Peter Wyngarde.

Oriented

Miyoshi Umeki is co-starred with Nancy Kwan and James Shigeta in "Flower Drum Song," now showing at the Jet Drive-In Theatre. It is a compassionate story of old and new Chinese generations going through Orientations into the American way of life—and that pun was no Accident, son.

'Mutiny On Bounty' May Prove Worth The Cost

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Mutiny on the Bounty" at long last has ended its second film voyage, and the question will be asked: Was it worth it?

In view of the new economics of the movie business, the answer will probably be: Yes. In the old days, investment of $18½ million in one film would be enough to put a studio under the waves. But today's market allows a company to recoup such an investment over the long haul—if the movie has merit.

"Mutiny on the Bounty" does. Even if all its millions don't show on the screen, enough to make it one of the great screen spectacles.

Some of the Tahiti scenes—native boats swarming around the newly-arrived Bounty; an immense human chain herding fish into a lagoon—are no less than magnificent.

What about the film as drama? It is no easy job for a remake to capture the magic of the original, especially a well-remembered one like the Clark Gable-Charles Laughton 1935 version. The 1962 film tries a few new tactics, which are welcome and often successful.

The portrayal of Marlon Brando as Fletcher Christian is destined to be controversial. He appears to have sought the farthest reach from the Gable portrayal and presents Christian as an upper-class fop.

But Brando is still the most fascinating actor around, and it becomes apparent that he knows what he is doing.

Trevor Howard also manages a difficult feat. His Bligh would naturally face comparison with Laughton's Bligh. Howard is capital to recoup such an investment over the long haul—if the movie has merit.

Richard Harris draws third star billing, and he makes a fine, muttering mutineer. The rest of the crew, Britishers all, are superbly cast. Tarita, the native girl who provides the major romantic interest, is easy on the eyes, especially in performance of the free-wheeling Tahitian hula.

New Hospital Building On Board Agenda

Preliminary plans for a new medical and surgical building at the Big Spring State Hospital will be discussed Monday at a meeting of the board of Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools in Austin.

Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent of the hospital, said he will not be able to attend the meeting. However, he made a trip last week to Austin in an effort to get more funds appropriated for the construction. At present, $450,000 has been set up.

"This would not give us the facilities to meet expanding needs," he said. "It would give us facilities which are adequate, but 10 years from now we would be in the same shape as now."

Dr. Harrison said chances were good that more money would be provided. Detailed drawings will be drawn up for the building and construction can be expected to begin next spring.

Four Pending Cases Dismissed

Four cases which have been pending on the criminal docket of the 118th District Court were dismissed last week.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said that the dismissals were because three of the four defendants are already in the state penitentiary on other convictions and that in the fourth case, which has been pending for sometime, the evidence is not sufficient to merit a trial.

The defendants and the cases against them:
William J. Yockers, removal of mortgaged property, insufficient evidence.
David Mendoza Campos, burglary, defendant already in the penitentiary.

Morris Minter, worthless check repeater, defendant already in the penitentiary.
Granville W. Southland, burglary, defendant already in the penitentiary.
