District FFA Contests Held

Six schools participated in the district FFA Leadership Contest at Coahoma High school Wednesday and about 200 persons were on hand for the banquet which closed the program.

Jerry Clark, state FFA president, was speaker for the closing program. He told the contestants that Texas leads the nation in FFA members with 40,000, which is 16,000 more than the second place state.

Big Spring won the junior chapter conducting contest. Larry Leonard, president, and his six members made up the winning team. Other winners were Odessa, FFA quiz; Coahoma (Big Spring was runner-up), radio contest; Midland, senior chapter conducting; Coahoma, junior farm skills; Coahoma, senior farm skills.

Terry Cauble, Big Spring chapter sweetheart, was runner-up in the district sweetheart contest, which was won by the Midland entry.

Schools represented included Odessa High School, Midland High School, Stanton High School, Flower Grove High School, Big Spring High School and Coahoma High School.

Gambill Moved

Forrest Gambill, who has been at Northwest General Hospital in Houston for several months, has been moved to Belle Aire Hospital at 5314 Dashwood, Houston, 36. The transfer has enabled him to get in five hours of therapy each day, and thus hasten the time when he will be able to return home.

Committeemen Will Explain Complicated Feed Grain Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department soon will ask local farmer committeemen to explain to growers the complicated feed grain program for 1963.

Details were disclosed Wednesday by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman. The program follows the general outline of those for 1961 and 1962. But details differ considerably. It, like the others, offers price supports and payments to farmers who retitle at least 20 per cent of their feed grain acreage.

The purpose of the programs is to help reduce feed grain surpluses.

Under the 1961 and 1962 programs, price supports were offered as loans or purchase agreements on grain withheld from the market or use. But in 1963, the price support will be a combination of storage loans or purchase agreements and payments.

The full amount of the 1963 price support is the same for corn and barley as this year—$1.20 and 93 cents a bushel. But the sorghum grain support was set at $1.91 a hundredweight, down 2 cents from this year.

But under the new program, 18 cents of the corn support, 14 cents of the barley and 29 cents of the sorghum grain support will be made in direct payments to participating farmers. The support payment will be made on the normal production of the acres kept in production even though the farmer does not take advantage of the storage loan.

Some farmers feed their grain to livestock and some sell it to other feeders or the grain market. Others store grain under the loans.

These payments are not to be confused with those made on grain land diverted from production. As was the case this year, farmers must idle at least 20 per cent of their feed grain acreage. As also was the case this year, the maximum they may divert is 40 per cent of their feed grain acreage of 25 acres, whichever is the larger.

But the acreage diversion payments differ from this year. Under the 1963 program, payments on the first 20 per cent of the feed grain acreage diverted will be made on the normal production of the idled acres at 20 per cent of the county price support rate on the particular grain land affected. A farm with 10 diverted acres of corn having a normal yield of 600 bushels on those acres would get a payment of $144 if its county support rate was $1.20 a bushel. The rate would be 24 cents a bushel.

But this year, the payment on the first 20 per cent of the land diverted was figured at 50 per cent of the county support rate. Under the above example, the total payment would be 600 bushels times 60 cents, or $360.

Under the 1963 program, the diversion payment on land diverted in excess of 20 per cent of the feed grain acreage will be 50 per cent of the price support rate compared with 60 per cent under this year's program. The lower 1963 diversion payments may draw less land out of use than this year.

The department said the addition of the price support payment to the acreage diversion payment should give feed grain producers about the same total payment as this year, when they amounted to more than $900 million.

This year's program limited price support storage loans to the normal production on the land kept in production. Next year all grain actually produced will be eligible for support storage loans.

In another change, next year a farmer must divert the total acreage he signs up to divert or lose all payments and supports. This year, he had a right to change his mind and divert less than he originally agreed. He got payments and supports on his final plantings.

Enrollment Decreases

Elementary school enrollment dropped by four students and secondary schools lost two to place enrollment at 7,471 students at the end of the last reporting period Friday.

Friday's enrollment is 293 above the 7,178 noted for the same time a year ago.

Showing the most change from the previous week were Boydston, down nine to 509, and Cedar Crest, up six to 306. Washington school was up four to 766 and Airport and College Heights each lost three students. Airport ended the week with 454 pupils and College Heights had 530.

Enrollment at other schools was Bauer 516, up two; Kate Morrison 269, down one; Lakeview 204, up one; Marcy 345, down one; Park Hill 299, no change; Goliad 917, up one; Lakeview Junior High 74, up one; Runnels 727, down two; and Senior High 1,198, down two.

Elementary schools had a total of 4,398 pupils and secondary schools had 2,916. Special education had 157 students enrolled.

JP Courts To Begin Work On Appeal Cases

Justices of the Peace Jess Slaughter and Walter Grice said today they would begin an immediate check of the mountain of appeals cases remanded to their courts from county court.

Slaughter had 97 remanded cases on hand and Grice 110. Both judges said they will issue capias profiles in these cases where the defendants are available. This will enable the authorities to bring the defendants into court and force them to pay the fines assessed in the original trials.

The justices said that some of the defendants are no longer available. Some are in prison. Present addresses of others are missing.

Majority of the more than 200 cases in the justice courts are traffic violations filed by the highway patrol officers.

The highway patrol said that its officers will begin serving the capias profile warrants as quickly as the courts prepare them.

The cases were appealed at their original hearing. In the county court a few weeks ago, that court ruled all were illegally filed and invalid. This sent the matters back to the original courts.

An even greater number of appeal cases rejected by the county court have been sent back to the corporation court.

Indian Guides Gym Night Set

The first big night of competition among tribes in the YMCA Indian Guide program this year begins at 7 p.m. today with Gym Night.

Most of the events will be their-son team competition. Judging from the descriptions of the games, dad comes out on the short end of the deal.

In the Hop-Flop and Carry-Pac Race, dad must hop on one foot through half the course and then carry his little brave piggy-back style in a dash back to the starting line. In the wooden pony race, big braves furnish the load for gym scooters in relay races. Dad then becomes a chariot for the Chiefs Chariot race. Other events include a Little Brave Hound Race and a Salmon Swim Race.

Chiefs of first and second year tribes will be judges for each other. Prizes are feathers to be awarded by the Longhouse Chief.

TRUE TO THE NAME

By T. H. Tappel, Preacher
 Church of Christ, 3200 West Highway 80
 P. O. Box 1533

The angel said unto Joseph, "... Fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife; for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Spirit. And she shall bring forth a son; and thou shalt call his name Jesus; for it is he that shall save his people from their sins" (Mat. 1:20-21).

The name, Jesus means "Salvation of Jehovah." How well the Christ bore that name! How complete is his salvation! He saves sinful man from the penalty of sin, the power of sin, and from the actual guilt of sin!

How wonderful, if we all could bear our names as well as did he!

How grand it would be if we were that true to the names, Christian, parent, son, neighbor, friend! We could never bear the name, Saviour; and we leave much to be desired by the way we bear the name, Christian. Yet, in spite of our shortcomings, the world is a better place for having Christians in it. We are better than we could otherwise be, for we have a perfect model in Christ. And it is our determination to be more true each new day to the name which we wear. —Adv.

Ev And Charlie Show Slated Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—The "Ev and Charlie" show will be back on the boards in the next Congress with no change in its political format dictated by this month's election results.

Kennedy Pay Goes To Charity

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House sources reported that President Kennedy, ever since he entered Congress in 1947, has contributed all his government salary to charities.

Informants said Kennedy would contribute his $100,000 pay as President to charities this year, as he did with his presidential pay in 1961. The President's salary was prorated for his time in office last year and didn't quite come up to $100,000.

In giving his salary to charity, Kennedy is following a precedent set by President Herbert Hoover three decades ago. Both have personal fortunes.

The informants who told of how Kennedy is disposing of his salary did so in response to questions about a copyright story to that effect in the Minneapolis Tribune and Des Moines Register.

No Homecoming For Westbrook

WESTBROOK (SC)—A homecoming for the Westbrook school will not be undertaken this year, the Parent-Teacher Association decided at its meeting here last week.

Membership in the P-TA is now at 110, it was reported. At the meeting there were 100 present to hear a Thanksgiving program staged under direction of Mrs. Fred Smith and Mrs. Robert Hutchings, fourth and fifth grade teachers.

Bids Tabulated

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Highway Department tabulated $11,177,000 in low bids Wednesday on road projects.

For two days of bid opening the total was $18,602,432.

The latest projects, by counties involved, are: Andrews, Rector and Midland, FM 1708 and U.S. 80 from FM 87 south to U.S. 80 20 1/2 miles, grade, structures and surfacing; Jones, Brown, and Paving Contractors, Inc., Odessa, $219,082; Nolan-Interstate 20, from one mile southwest of Roscoe 1 1/2 miles to east of Sweetwater, signing, delineation and safety lighting; Posco Fabricators, ett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Wednesday he sees no reason why he and House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana should swing out of the conservative groove they followed in weekly news conferences taped for television during the last Congress.

Halleck who tends to be a little more conservative than Dirksen, was said by friends to be determined to continue blasting away at New Frontier proposals.

However, Rep. William H. Ayres of Ohio, the Republican congressional publicity chairman, believes it's time for a change in order to give the younger GOP Congress members a chance to be heard.

Dirksen and Halleck, he said, speak too frequently from their own point of view. He suggested they be replaced with interviews with various Republican members of Congress.

At a news conference Wednesday, Dirksen, who won re-election by a not very comfortable margin, said he was not unhappy with the results of the voting which displaced four GOP senators with liberal Democrats and gave the Republicans only two additional House members.

Despite the Senate losses, Dirksen said that Republicans had made some strategic gains in county and state offices which promised to develop for them some "solid party strength" in the 1964 presidential contest.

He said the GOP had made gains in the South which would add to its strength in bidding for electoral votes in 1964.

Dirksen was vague about stands he thinks the Republicans will take in the next Congress. Asked if he and Halleck would reiterate their contention that taxes ought not to be reduced unless there is a cut in expenditures, he said he held no hard and fast views on this subject. He added that if a tax cut were going to increase the deficit, "you had better reduce expenditures or something else."

Dirksen said he expects foreign aid and farm legislation to present major problems in the new Congress. He predicted there will be extended hearings on the proposal President Kennedy is expected to submit again for Social Security-financing of health care for the elderly.

In reply to a question, Dirksen stopped short of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., that Kennedy fire U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and other advisers. Goldwater contended they were "soft on communism."

Dirksen, who conferred with

Sen. Tower (Seaman) In Naval Reserve

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seaman 1st Class John G. Tower, otherwise known as a Republican senator from Texas, re-enlisted Wednesday for another four-year hitch as a reservist.

Capt. Earl Greer, assistant chief of staff of the 5th Naval Command Reserves training operations at Norfolk, Va., and incidentally a fellow Texan from Willis Point, administered the oath at ceremonies in the senator's office.

Tower swore to obey orders from Navy personnel of superior rank—and among four naval officers looking on was a member of his staff, Reserve Capt. Herschel Schooley.

World War II was already under way when Tower graduated from high school in Beaumont, Tex., in 1942 at the age of 16. He tried to enlist but was turned down because of his youth. So Tower went to college for a year, then joined and served on a landing ship in the Pacific throughout the remainder of the war. He has kept in the enlisted reserves ever since, but has not been called for active duty training.

The senator leaves today on a month's round-the-world trip, traveling at his own expense. He will be accompanied by Pierce Langford, a secretarial aide who will also travel at his own expense.

Hot Checker Catches Himself

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A would-be photographer bought a camera at a suburban shopping center, but paid for it with a bad check.

It turned out to be easy for sheriff's detectives to find the man and arrest him at his home. While the camera store clerk was demonstrating the camera, he took a picture of the customer, who was wearing a lettered jacket.

Transportation Taxes Die Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Millions of American travelers will begin saving nearly $150 million a year on their combined travel expenses when wartime transportation taxes are wiped off the books at midnight tonight.

The 10 per cent federal tax on air fares will be replaced immediately by a 5 per cent "user charge" designed to help pay for airports, navigation aids and other government-financed facilities used by the airlines. The 10 per cent tax on the price of rail, bus and boat tickets will be eliminated completely.

These tax changes, approved by Congress last summer, will trim about $170 million from federal revenues. Cash benefits to the public will be less, however, because 24 railroads and about 50 bus lines will increase fares to offset all or part of the tax savings.

At present, no major airline plans to boost fares to take advantage of the tax action. Air fares thus will be 5 per cent cheaper on all flights starting on or after 12:01 a.m. Friday. Air carriers hope the reduced cost will attract more business and fatten profit margins.

All 23 eastern railroads will increase their fares by 10 per cent as soon as the tax expires. And the Chicago and North Western Railway will put a similar boost into effect on coach tickets. These lines hope, in this way, to partly reduce heavy passenger hauling deficits.

No fare changes are planned by southern and western railroads, which enjoy a better profit position. The cost of tickets on these lines will drop 10 per cent.

Most of the bus lines that have notified the Interstate Commerce Commission of plans to increase fares are regional operators. The increases they will impose range from 2 per cent to 10 per cent.

An ICC spokesman said no fare changes have been proposed by the big interstate carriers such as Trailways and Greyhound. The tax changes were endorsed by the Kennedy administration. It hoped that reduction or elimination of the tax would help ailing transportation companies by permitting fare boosts or by encouraging more travel at present fares.

TAKING INCREASING SHARE OF CARGO

Pipelines Edging Into Transportation Business

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Like a burrowing mole, a silent and hidden method of transportation is chewing deep into the conventional freight-moving business.

It is the pipeline.

Networks of underground carriers are taking an increasing share of cargo from the trains, trucks, barges and seaborne tankers.

Astonishing demonstrations of versatility and operating economy are the key to favor with trail blazers in the $100-billion-a-year transportation field.

The pipeline got its first big boost when oil and natural gas producers recognized its capabilities in the late 1800s.

Now, pipelines are moving coal, wood pulp, helium, liquid oxygen, high purity nitrogen and other chemicals on hauls from a few miles to hundreds of miles.

There is talk, perhaps visionary, of a day when such cargo as bauxite, forest products, milk and dry freight in bullet-shaped containers will move inside subterranean tubes.

Pipelines are entering a new era abroad, too, specially for petroleum movement in the Soviet Union, the Near East and North Africa.

Engineers are working on plans for an intercontinental pipeline stretching through Mediterranean waters below the storm and steamship level to link Europe and Africa.

In the United States, the "Big Inch" and "Little Inch" pipelines captured the public imagination with workhorse feats in World War II.

At a time when conventional land and water transport was severely strained, the "Inches" delivered huge volumes of petroleum from Northwestern oil fields to oil-thirsty metropolitan areas in the Midwest and Northeast.

In the next 15 years, the network of pipelines facing the country's underground reached out octopus-fashion to an estimated 450,000 miles.

The proportion of all intercity freight traffic moving through them grew from about 5 per cent in 1930 to nearly 10 per cent in 1940, to 12 per cent in 1950 and to just short of 18 per cent in 1961.

Pipelines now carry four-fifths as much intercity tonnage as trucks, about two-fifths the volume of railroads.

The upward trend is on the threshold of a new surge.

In June, work began on a $350-million, 1,600-mile new Colonial oil pipeline from 22 to 36 inches in diameter. It will run from Houston, Tex., to southeastern points and on to the New York area.

Nine big oil companies have joined in backing the project, which will consume 650,000 tons of steel.

In the blueprint stage is a $100-million, 350-mile pipeline to carry slurry—finely crushed coal, mixed with water—from West Virginia to the New York area.

The technology involved was pioneered five years ago in a 105-mile coal slurry line in Ohio, connecting mines near Cadiz and coal-burning electric generating plants at Cleveland.

A third mammoth undertaking, a $223-million, 1,600-mile proposed gas pipeline, currently is tied up in a battle between utility corporations before the Federal Power Commission.

This one would run from Texas across the northern edge of Mexico to Southern California.

Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. recently let contracts on a new 30-inch, six-state, $69-million conduit to expand gas deliveries from Kansas fields to the Midwest.

Wyco Pipe Line Co. plans a 205-mile extension to pipe the output of petroleum refineries at Caspar and Cheyenne, Wyo., to a proposed new terminal at Rapid City, S.D.

Other king-sized projects are in the discussion stage.

Advances in automation and technology have spurred resurgent interest in pipelines, long favored for relative immunity to weather and terrain influences.

They have yielded anti-corrosive steels, greatly improved interior coatings and labor-saving pipe-laying and control techniques that permit a single man to regulate flow for hundreds of miles from a nerve center remote control panel.

The spread of pipelines sends shivers down the backs of railroad and shipping executives, for the economic implications are great.

A coastwise shipping spokesman protested that the Colonial pipeline, operating at full capacity, would displace nearly 100 standard sized tankers plying coastal waters. An earlier estimate by a government agency put the number at 10 to 15.

Railroad men say the West Virginia-New York slurry pipeline would cut sharply into their coal-hauling business and lead to substantial layoffs. They are devising new rail equipment that will allow lower freight rates.

Even in some residential housing developments, pipelines — so far on a microscopic scale—are changing transportation patterns.

In two new communities above New York City and one in New Jersey, builders have installed large-capacity, centrally located fuel oil storage tanks, with pipes radiating to individual dwellings, as in a water distribution system. Meters record usage at each house.

Urges Baylor To Integrate

DALLAS (AP)—The editor of Texas' leading Baptist magazine claims the "time has come when qualified Negroes" should be admitted to Baylor University.

Dr. E. S. James, editor of the Baptist Standard, made the statement when asked his reaction to a move under way to integrate the Baptist university at Waco.

James said a year ago he told an audience of Baylor students he felt the time had come to admit Negroes to the university and his views haven't since changed.

"The attitude in the South to integration is hurting the work of the church, particularly in the mission field," Dr. James said in an interview.

Last week the 48-member board of trustees of Baylor University authorized a desegregation study.

Dr. Herbert Howard, pastor of the Park Cities Baptist Church, said the desegregation of Baylor University "would be fraught with difficulties but it would be a step forward in strengthening our Christian witness both at home and abroad."

Dr. W. W. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, the largest congregation in Dallas, said he would rather not comment on the Baylor integration move.

"This is altogether in the hands of the university trustees. They are the ones who must decide what the university does. It is a heavy responsibility," Dr. Criswell said.

No Marshals For This Student

GRAY, Ga. (AP)—The Justice Department has declined to aid an 18-year-old football player in his attempts to gain readmission to Jones County High School.

Johnny Arnold and his 15-year-old wife were expelled several weeks ago when officials learned of their marriage.

James Balcom, president of the Jones County Boosters Club, asked the Justice Department to intervene in the case, charging Arnold's right to acquire an education has been violated.

Balcom said Tuesday he was told by a department spokesman that "this appears to be a state matter, not a federal one."

Giant Blueprint May Solve Water Shortage

By JERRY PILLARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

On the drawing boards of the Bureau of Reclamation in Austin is a plan for 1,000 miles of aqueducts, canals and pipelines to transport water from East Texas to the drier South and West Texas. The cost: $1.3 billion.

"This is the key to supply water to the 24 million Texans we estimate will have to be served in the year 2010," Harry Burleigh, engineer in charge, said.

The canals are part of a water development plan for Texas to the year 201 made by the U.S. Study Commission-Texas.

The major project is a 400-mile open canal from the Sabine River below the Toledo Bend Reservoir bending around the Gulf through Houston, Galveston and to the Rio Grande Valley. The cost would be $450 million.

Other canal and pipeline systems recommended would move water from the proposed Stacy Reservoir on the Colorado River to the Midland-Odessa area, from Austin to San Antonio and from the Trinity River to Fort Worth and Dallas.

Besides the obvious hurdles involved in condemning land and constructing projects of this magnitude, are the political problems of having the various river basins agree to the exchange of water from one to another.

NO DREAM

"This would naturally require operation by the agencies of the state, regardless of who constructs the projects, state or federal," Burleigh said.

"This is no dream, it's a full-fledged design," Burleigh said. "Everything, including detailed engineering, costs, will all be ready for me to take to Congress July 1."

Burleigh's report visualizes in 2010, Texas with 24 million people, personal income of $63 billion and employment of 8.5 million persons. This compares to 10 million population now, $14 billion in personal income and employment of 3.5 million persons.

"The power of water is the power of growth," Burleigh said. The bureau's reports and projections show the Trinity River with 1,100,000 acre feet of surplus water, the Sabine with 1,200,000 acre feet, the Neches with 1,000,000 acre feet and the Guadalupe with 200,000 acre feet surplus. An acre foot is 325,851 gallons of water.

DEFICIENCIES

Deficiencies of water shown are the Brazos, 750,000 acre feet, the Colorado, 100,000 acre feet, the San Jacinto, 850,000 acre feet, the San Antonio, 300,000 acre feet, the Nueces 950,000 acre feet and the Rio Grande 900,000 acre feet, according to bureau projections.

Burleigh estimated the cost of East Texas water to bring it to the Valley and San Antonio area will be 5 cents for 1,000 gallons. This is untreated water, good for irrigation and industrial uses.

About 6 cents would have to be added to treat it for domestic consumption.

The transportation, through closed conduits, from the proposed Stacy Reservoir on the Colorado River to the Midland-Odessa area would be more, perhaps about 30 cents per 1,000 gallons of raw water, because of the added costs of pumping uphill, Burleigh estimated.

STATEWIDE PACT

"This will have to be a statewide agreement, since Texas law forbids the moving of water from one river basin to another to the detriment of either basin," he said.

The open canal along the Gulf at about the 100-foot land level, or roughly 30 miles inland, would average from 200 to 400 feet in width and be from 18 to 20 feet in depth. About 8,000 cubic feet of water per second would flow through the canal, or about four times the speed of the Colorado River.

"We are lucky that little concrete will have to be laid, Burleigh said. "The coastal canal would be dug along the Beaumont clays and there is little seepage or silting to cause a loss of water." He estimated about 10 to 15 per cent of the water would be lost through evaporation in this type of open canal.

KEY TO PLAN

"The canal is the key to the entire water plan for 50 years," Burleigh said. "The Rio Grande Valley is using all its water now. Expansion and economic growth remain a question mark unless water is available. San Antonio and Corpus Christi need water." The Texas Water Commission has taken a "let's wait and see" attitude toward the coastal canal.

"We recognize the trans-basin diversion of water is necessary and feasible," Chairman Joe Carter said. "But we haven't sufficient information on whether this water is needed for irrigation in the valley area."

Carter pointed out the hesitation of water users in the Red, Neches and Sabine River areas to allow their water to be transported to another area.

NATURAL FEAR

"It is a natural fear that they will need the water by the time a project, like this is ready for operation," Carter said.

Rep. Jack Brooks of Beaumont has voiced opposition to allowing water to be diverted from the Sabine River to other areas.

Burleigh's job is to convince Congress and Texas water engineers and river authorities that the plan can be accomplished to the detriment of no one.

Adenauer Winds Up Talks Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer winds up two days of White House talks today in apparent agreement with President Kennedy that a Cuba settlement must precede any new Western peace move on Berlin.

The veteran West German leader scheduled a morning meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, a luncheon address, then a final afternoon meeting with Kennedy. This conference will conclude two days of official talks which have ranged over major international issues. Adenauer returns to Bonn Friday.

There were morning and afternoon talks at the White House Wednesday. Both American and German authorities reported their chiefs agreed that a solution of the U.S. dispute with the Soviet Union over offensive weapons in Cuba must come before any new initiative by the West on cold war issues.

At a White House lunch, Adenauer praised Kennedy's Cuban action. He said the U.S. stand was a great success for America and a failure for Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

These remarks by the 86-year-old chancellor differed in tone from what he had said in Germany just before leaving for Washington. At that time he had asked how anyone could be sure that all the Soviet missiles had been removed. The crisis, he said, was not over. He was expected to be asked about this today during a lunch at the National Press Club.

The Cuba question and its impact on East-West affairs was the main topic Wednesday as Kennedy and Adenauer first met alone for an hour, then joined their foreign ministers and other principal aides.

While the two agreed a Cuba solution must be a first step before arranging new negotiations on Berlin, their reasoning was not quite the same.

Kennedy has long pushed exploratory talks with the Soviets on the German problem. U.S. authorities believe a Cuban settlement might open the way for East-West negotiations on a wide range of issues. Adenauer has been wary of negotiating on Berlin on the ground that the West stands more to lose than gain.

Kennedy said in a luncheon toast to Adenauer that now is "a time of very great change in the world, both in the West and in the East. An important turning point, possibly, in the history of the relations between East and West."

Aides said Adenauer intended to go more deeply into details of plans to defend West Berlin against Communist pressures during his meeting with Rusk today.

Wednesday, it was reported, Kennedy and Adenauer agreed that contributions to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by the European allies should be stepped up. It was understood that the discussion dealt with NATO's European members in general, not singling out West Germany. The two also talked about Britain's prospective entry into the European Common Market and about Franco-German relations. Adenauer was said to have assured Kennedy that Germany and France do not intend to abandon the idea of general West European political integration just because these two major nations are pulling even closer together.

Graham Says Grid Prayers Part Of Our National Life

DALLAS (AP)—Saying prayers at football games is "an acknowledgment of God in our national life," Evangelist Billy Graham says.

He voiced this view Wednesday in commenting on questions raised by a recent Supreme Court decision banning a written New York state prayer.

The evangelist came here from Waco, where he addressed more than 4,000 students at Baylor university.

Graham said he favors prayers at wholesome events such as football games but feels it would be mockery to pray at the start of a burlesque show or "at horse races where there is gambling."

Alcoholism Week Plans Being Made

Plans are being made by the Big Spring Council on Alcoholism for National Alcoholism Information Week, according to Mrs. A. O. Vanderford, president. The week is Nov. 25-Dec. 1.

The group will display literature at locations about the city during that week. Special programs are being arranged by committees selected at a recent meeting.

Mrs. Vanderford said the council now has films available. Information and assistance is also available through a day and night answering service. The number is AM 3-4242.

Angered By Hiss Issue, Sponsor Wants To Cancel

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The head of the Schick Safety Razor Co., angered by a television show on which Alger Hiss appeared as a critic of Richard M. Nixon, wants to cancel its million-dollar advertising contract with ABC-TV.

But ABC won't agree. Patrick Frawley, chief executive officer of the Schick firm, sought cancellation of the contract in a telegram to Vincent Francis, ABC-TV's Western advertising director.

The wire said in part: "We are shocked at the extreme poor taste and judgment shown by the ABC network in presenting a convicted perjurer involved in the passing of United States secrets to the Communists as a critic of a former vice president of the United States."

In a return telegram, Francis said: "We value our relationship with you and your company, and, of course, we regret that you feel as strongly as you do about that broadcast. However, we cannot grant your request." Asked why Schick would not be permitted to cancel, Francis said: "We're just being good businessmen."

A Schick spokesman said his company had contracted with ABC to sponsor parts of two shows—"Combat" and "Stony Burke"—starting the first of next year. The spokesman said the contract called for an expenditure of more than a million dollars.

Francis said Schick was the only advertiser to complain about the program, which was shown nationally last Sunday night. Frawley has backed various anti-Communist functions, including Dr. Fred Schwartz' school of anti-communism.

The television program was called "The Political Obituary of Richard Nixon" and was moderated by Howard K. Smith. Hiss, whose conviction followed a congressional investigation in which Nixon participated, was one of several persons who expressed opinions of Nixon on the program.

Packers Could Be On The Way To Big Upset

NEW YORK (AP) - Is Green Bay heading for an upset this week? Can the Baltimore Colts end the Packers' winning streak Sunday at Green Bay?

The statistics of their Oct. 28 game at Baltimore indicate the Colts have a chance. Baltimore outgained the Packers both in the air and on the ground with total yardage of 399 to 252.

"There is only one statistic that counts," warned Weeb Ewbank, Baltimore coach, today. "That is the final score and they beat us 17-6."

"We respect the Packers as one of the finest football clubs ever," said Ewbank. "We know they are good but they do not overawe us."

The Colts' defense was sensational in the past two weeks against the San Francisco 49ers and Los Angeles Rams.

The Longhorns will meet the Horned Frogs minus punting star Ernie Koy and starting guard Ken Ferguson.

"We just haven't had our whole club together," said Ewbank, explaining his club's record.

"Even now, Palmer Pyle is out and we have to use Jim Parker (All-League tackle) some at guard."

Big One Comes Up For UT Saturday

Texas, remembering the bitter upset it suffered in last year's encounter with Texas Christian, is concentrating on every possible defense against TCU's versatile attack.

The Texas Longhorns, now rated fifth in the nation, tackle the Horned Frogs Saturday in a crucial Southwest Conference battle at Fort Worth.

Texas leads the loop but is only a half game ahead of second place Arkansas, which is host to Southern Methodist Saturday.

"We hope our defense will be as good as it was in the first game and count on our offense to perk up," said Ewbank.

LSU Star Doesn't Look Part Of Great Athlete

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) - In the classrooms and on the campus of Louisiana State University, Jerry Stovall - a modest and extremely well-mannered pre-athletic student who wears glasses - is the most unlikely looking football player.

Trophy winner Billy Cannon two years ago, has been coming up with clutch plays ever since. McClendon refuses to compare Stovall with Cannon.

Cy Young Award To D. Drysdale his brushback pitches, was a 20-game winner for the Dodgers by Aug. 3, the earliest National League pitcher to hit the magic mark since 1918.

The strapping fast-baller ended up with a 25-9 record, most victories by a National League pitcher. Newcombe won 27 for the 1957 Dodgers.

Drysdale struck out 232 batters, leading both leagues in that department for the third time in four seasons.

Wednesday. He will see only limited duty against Texas. The Arkansas Razorbacks, ranked No. 7 in the nation, went through a 70-minute drill to familiarize offensive linemen against the multiple defense tactics of SMU, coached by former Arkansas defensive assistant Hayden Fry.

Meanwhile, the SMU Mustangs, nursing injuries from last week's game with Texas A&M, trudged through a routine workout at Dallas. Four starters—fullback Ed Clarke, end Bill Harlan and halfbacks Billie Gannon and Tommy Brennan—were among the injured who watched from the sidelines.

"If we play our best game we think we have a fine opportunity to beat them. When we played them the first time we had several opportunities but our own errors killed us."

Coach J. T. King said he thought his Texas Tech Raiders 'showed more fire on offense than usual'.

The Baylor Bears heard both good and bad news from the infirmary as they drilled against Air Force plays.

At College Station, Coach Hank Faldberg said he was pleased with the way the Aggies offense was able to gain against freshmen using Rice defenses.

Coach J. T. King said he thought his Texas Tech Raiders 'showed more fire on offense than usual'.

The Baylor Bears heard both good and bad news from the infirmary as they drilled against Air Force plays.

"I want home to West Monroe for the weekend and forget to give him a key," said Stovall's wife Judy, 21, a pretty brunette who works for LSU Auditor Clyde Warwick.

Stovall, who stepped into the shoes of All-America and Heisman Trophy winner Billy Cannon two years ago, has been coming up with clutch plays ever since.

McClendon refuses to compare Stovall with Cannon.

"They're different types, play with different men and against different teams," he said. "It wouldn't be fair to either one to make a comparison."

But McClendon repeatedly calls Stovall the most "complete" player he's ever seen. He does everything well and has a magnificent heart.

Miami's veteran Coach Andy Gustafson doesn't shy away from comparing Stovall to Cannon. Gustafson, whose teams lost to LSU squads with both players, says Stovall has more running ability than Cannon.

Cassius Clay Faces Toughest Ring Test

By BOB MYERS Associated Press Sports Writer LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bombastic Cassius Clay, who has designated himself as the next heavyweight champion of the world, faces the toughest test in his brief career tonight. Cassius, 20, from Louisville, Ky., meets ringwise old Archie Moore of San Diego, Calif., in 12 rounds or less at the Sports Arena.

Slated to be seated at ringside in the present occupant of the heavyweight throne, Sonny Liston, who has indicated some interest in fighting the winner for the title next year. Clay, the 1960 Olympic games light heavyweight champion and unbeaten in his 15 professional enagements, remained favored at 2-1 odds or better. Cassius has repeatedly promised to knock old Archie out, and named No. 4 as the round. The contest will be screened via closed circuit in theaters in a number of cities around the nation. There will be no home television nor radio. Fight time is 8 p.m. Pacific Standard Time (11 p.m. Eastern Standard Time). Co-promoters Cal Eaton and George Parnass envision a live gate of around $150,000 and attendance of about 14,000. Moore, who admits to an age of 45, gets a guarantee of $75,000 and his challenger $40,000. Archie, with 219 fights behind him, has a record of 135 knockouts and the old master still can wallop with authority. Both fighters have regaled the public, and perhaps each other, with a constant exchange of views and verbal needles in the past many weeks. "I'm going to retire that old man," said Cassius. "A good young man can whip a good old man. Moore must fall in four." "Let him needie," Archie once replied. "Needling is my business, too."

Daigle Tribe Is Athletic

SAN MARCOS (AP)—The Roland Daigle family boasts two generations of a active football players—from junior high through high school and college. Roland—teammates at Southwest Texas State call him Pop—is a 29-year-old sophomore full-back. Wayne, 16, is tackle for San Marcos High School. Robert, 12, is a junior high lineman. Because the elder Daigle didn't go to high school, he never played football until he joined the Army. On the day Pearl Harbor was attacked in 1941, he was playing with the Ft. Bliss team. This is Daigle's second season at Southwest Texas State, a team that leads the Lone Star Conference.

"I still find it hard to take the practices," he said. "I can go like mad for an hour or so, but then I run out of steam." Daigle hasn't seen a lot of action with the varsity this season and blames part of it on Southwest's strong team. And he admits he isn't quite the grinder he was while playing on Ft. Bliss' all-service championship team. Wayne isn't about to be outdone by his 200-pound father. He's a 180-pound tackle and has played every minute of every game this year. This season was young Robert's first taste of contact football and he loves it.

Six Girls' Teams Bidding For Title

Six teams take part in the fourth annual Howard County Junior College high school girls' basketball tournament, which got under way this morning and continues through Saturday night. The meet is sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association of the college and all proceeds go toward scholarships. Admission prices are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Morning games today pitted Sands against Forsan B at 9 a.m. and Grandfalls against Forsan A at 11 a.m.

This evening's activity will open with a 6:30 p.m. contest in the loser's bracket. Grady Tindal is coach of the Coahoma team while John Turner has that job at Sands. James Blake at Forsan, Herman Parsons at Westbrook and Robert Moore at Grandfalls.

eliminate a team. Championship finals are scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Saturday. Hull and Phillips Grocery, Polard Chevrolet, Shasta Ford, Swartz, Mancill's Cleaners, Phillips Tire and Diorell's Sporting Goods are furnishing trophies for the meet. A new champion is assured, since the 1961 winner, Post, did not return. Forsan was the runner-up last year while Stanton copped third place and Westbrook consolations. This evening's activity will open with a 6:30 p.m. contest in the loser's bracket.

On top this evening are contests between Westbrook and the survivor in the Grandfalls-Forsan A game at 8 p.m. and Coahoma vs. the Sands-Forsan B contest at 9:30 p.m. Two defeats are required to

Class AA And A Wind Up Regular Play This Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Writer The massive Texas schoolboy football field is whacked by two-thirds this week as classes AA and A trim to district representatives for the start of the state playoffs.

Two defending champions are expected to move into the bi-district round since Albany already has won its title in Class A and Donna is poised to do the same in Class AA. The upper echelons will be de-

Jimmy Flynt Out Of Game

FORSAN — The Forsan Buffaloes will be without the services of their star back and defensive player, Jimmy Flynt, when they take the gridiron against Sterling City in Sterling at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The championship of District 6-B (eight-man) will be at stake. Both teams have unsullied conference records. Forsan's only losses this season have been to Gail and Big Spring B, the latter in an 11-man game. Flynt broke a bone in his hand two weeks ago and has been advised to sit out this one by his doctor. His place in the lineup will probably be taken by Jim Alexander, considered slow but powerful. Alexander has been playing guard. David Roberson's hand is also hurt but he'll probably play Friday night. Coach Oscar Becker will probably go with a lineup consisting of Kenneth Soles at quarterback, Alexander and Harry King at halfbacks, Donnie Gooch and H. K. Elrod at ends, Danny Wash and Bobby Huestis at guards and Tommy Evans at center.

Golf Association Convenes Tonight

All members of the Big Spring Golf association are eligible to attend a meeting of the organization, scheduled to be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the Chamber of Commerce office. Details for future association activities will be discussed. In addition, two movies on golf will be shown. One is entitled "Shell's Wonderful World of Golf" and features Gene Littler and Byron Nelson at Pine Valley. The other concerns the 1962 Masters tournament.

DADS' NIGHT CARDED HERE

The Friday night District 2-AAAA football game between Abilene High and Big Spring, which starts at 8 o'clock in Memorial Stadium here, has been designated as Dads Night by the Big Spring Quarterback Club. The fathers of the players will have special seating on the sidelines near the Big Spring bench and will wear numbers identical to that of their boys. They will also be introduced over the loud speaker.

No Bowl Offer, Insist Hogs

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—University of Arkansas officials have denied receiving a Sugar Bowl bid. Two newspapers say the Razorbacks have been asked to play in the Jan. 1 game. The New Orleans States-Item and the Miami News reported Wednesday that Arkansas, beaten only 7-3 by Texas, would meet Mississippi here unless it wins the Southwest Conference championship. The top Southwest Conference team is host in the Cotton Bowl game. Texas is undefeated in the league with games remaining against Texas Christian and Texas A&M. Mississippi and Alabama, both undefeated and untied, have been regarded as front runners for the Sugar Bowl. Three newspapers reported, however, that the top-ranked Crimson Tide would go to the Orange Bowl. The Miami Herald, Miami News and the States-Item all said the defending national champions would be in Miami Jan. 1.

Two Officers Die In Crash Of AF Plane

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP)—National Park rangers recovered the bodies of two officers, including an Air Force reserve general, in wreckage of a small Air Force plane atop a snow-covered mountain Wednesday.

A ground rescue party radioed it had found the bodies of Brig. Gen. John I. Lerom of Falls Church, Va., and Capt. Ludwig Gesund of New York City.

They died in the crash of a plane into the 6,621-foot high Mt. Guyot in Great Smoky Mountains National Park on Saturday.

Park Supt. Fred J. Overly said Air Force officers in Washington had requested that no persons other than park personnel be allowed to go to the crash scene pending an investigation of the cause of the smashup.

Lerom was a member of the 2nd Air Force Reserve regional headquarters at Andrews Air Force Base, Washington. Gesund was assigned to the office of the deputy chief of staff for plans and programs in headquarters at New York.

They were en route from Andrews to Robins AFB near Macon, Ga.

Red Chinese Blast Niki

HONG KONG (AP)—Officials of leading Communist Chinese papers in Hong Kong seem to be taking a stronger line even than Peiping in criticism of Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

In the past week they have called the Soviet leader an opportunist, a weakling and a traitor. They have sought out European newsmen to air their views, with every indication that they expected their remarks to be reported and to reach Moscow ears.

The surprisingly frank charges included a blast at the Soviet withdrawal of missiles from Cuba under U.S. pressure.

Fugitives from Red China were quoted as saying Peiping's leaders regard Khrushchev as an amateur in Marxism-Leninism.

The Peiping leaders also were quoted as saying: "Stalin's only mistake was he didn't kill Khrushchev."

Abilene Christian To Limit Students

ABILENE — Abilene Christian College has announced that enrollment in the freshman class next year will be held to 1,000 students. This is geared to present accommodations.

Present freshman enrollment is a record 1,008. Abilene Christian College enrolled 2,778 students for the 1962-63 school year, the ninth straight year for a record student body.

In addition, the college is requesting that new students make application for the 1963-64 school year not later than March 1, 1963.

College officials also announced that new students will be encouraged to enroll in the 1963 summer session by guaranteeing them a room in September — assuming that they meet scholastic requirements. Applications from students requesting summer enrollment will be processed first, immediately after March 1.

Skitch Dislikes Piped-In Music

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"I would like to rip all the loud speakers out of banks, elevators, and airplanes," said Skitch Henderson, normally a mild-mannered gentleman. "Because they pipe in music which, nine times out of 10, is mediocre music, poorly reproduced."

"But more than that, these large masses of mechanical music change people's relationship to music. It ceases to be an aesthetic form and becomes functional—like a sidewalk."

Next month Henderson will observe his 1,500th appearance on television. It will come as musical director on NBC's "Tonight Show," the network on which he started more than 14 years ago.

Henderson's nightly chores are a bit of approved network moonlighting. His primary employment is network music director. This means he composes and arranges music for other shows, including documentaries and "specials." He often takes busman's holidays, too, directing orchestras and soon will reconstitute the NBC symphony for a special children's Christmas concert on "Discovery."

The program Howard K. Smith bumped last Sunday to make room for his controversial "political obituary" of Richard M. Nixon will be shown on ABC on Nov. 18. Called "America's Fighting Men," it is a look at the nation's new, mobile striking force.

Good news for the ladies today: Rod Taylor, unhappily missing from the small screen since the demise of his "Hong Kong" two seasons back, will play the lead in NBC's forthcoming and British-made "Ordeal of Dr. Shannon," adapted from A. J. Cronin's "Shannon's Way."

Some television stars develop profitable side lines making record albums, buying motels and

Britain Probes Rumor About Defection Plot

LONDON (AP)—A leading expert on Britain's security system today began an investigation of sensational rumors that a government minister planned to flee to the Soviet Union with a homosexual spy.

Prime Minister Macmillan in a startling statement to the House of Commons Wednesday called for a "trial of truth" and named Lord Radcliffe, 63, as the head of a tribunal with sweeping powers to look into the rumors and the state of government security.

The spy alarm was heightened by Charles Ian Orr-Ewing, civil lord of the admiralty, who said in a speech that thousands of Communist secret agents are operating in Britain.

Macmillan himself warned that "hostile intrigue and espionage are being relentlessly maintained on a large scale" in Britain and that "massive efforts are being made by every possible method to undermine our security."

DEFECTION

His statement was prompted by a rumor that Thomas Galbraith, former civil lord of the admiralty and the second-ranking civilian official there, planned to defect to the Soviet Union with William John Vassall.

Vassall, an admiralty clerk, confessed at his trial last month that the Soviets used his homosexuality to blackmail him into spying for them for six years. He was jailed for 18 years.

Lord Radcliffe's tribunal also will investigate a press report that it was known for 18 months before Vassall's arrest last September that there was a spy in the admiralty.

This will be Lord Radcliffe's second inquiry into government security. He led an investigation of intelligence services after George Blake, a foreign office intelligence agent turned traitor, was jailed for 42 years last year.

As a result of the investigation greatly tightened regulations for civil service employees went into effect.

CAREER OF PROBES

Before that Lord Radcliffe, a lifetime peer, made almost a career of conducting government inquiries. He headed commissions that drew up the boundaries of India and Pakistan and the constitution for Cyprus and another that made a four-year study of the tax, monetary and credit system. He served as director general of information in World War II.

Assisting him will be Sir Milner Holland, one of Britain's top lawyers, and Justice Patrick Barry, a high court judge since 1950 who in 1952 tried William Marshall, a foreign office radio operator, and sent him to prison for five years for giving secrets to the Soviet Union.

Macmillan told Parliament a "dark cloud of suspicion and innuendo" has surrounded Galbraith the former admiralty minister who last week resigned as under-secretary for Scotland. Vassall had worked for him at the admiralty, and a number of brief, seemingly innocent letters from the minister to the clerk were found in Vassall's apartment.

RUMORS SPREAD

"It is no good hearing about the bush," declared the prime minister. "What was being spread about was that he was guilty of a perverted or immoral association with Vassall."

As Macmillan spoke, Galbraith, 45, married, and the father of two children, sat white-faced on the Conservative benches behind him. He is a member of the House of Commons from Glasgow.

A British newspaperman, Macmillan said, claimed he had been told by the police or security services that Vassall, before his arrest Sept. 12, intended to join Galbraith in Italy.

The implication, said Macmillan was that Galbraith either intended to defect to the Soviet Union or help Vassall do so.

Macmillan said the report that the presence of a spy was known in the admiralty implied that the first lord of the admiralty, Lord Carrington, and his service chiefs had been "guilty of palpable negligence" and a "betrayal of their trust."

SHOULD BE KNOWN

"If this is true," he said, "then it should be known. If it is not true, it is right that this untruth should be plainly and clearly established after a thorough investigation."

Soon after Macmillan's statement, Orr-Ewing, the present civil lord of the admiralty, said thousands of Red spies in Britain were "trained to detect weakness in character, weakness for drink, blondes, drugs and homosexuality. They are carefully card-indexed for future use."

Rockets Solve Grape Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets believe they have an answer to the age-old problem of protecting their grapes from hail. They're using rockets.

The Soviet report—translated by the Department of Commerce and released today—said that for centuries the grape crops in the valleys of the Soviet Republic of Georgia have been periodically destroyed by hailstorms.

But the report said that in 1961 thousands of acres were protected by anti-hail rockets and that the effort was broadened this year.

The rockets, said the Soviets, are loaded with cloud-seeding chemicals and fired into suspecting clouds.

They then work this way:

"On passing through the cloud, the rocket releases a mist whose particles cause the crystallization of supercooled cloud droplets."

The crystallization of these drops, said the report, does two things:

1. It prevents hailstones already present from growing larger;
2. It causes the crystals themselves to "fall as harmless snow," whereas uncrystallized droplets could eventually become frozen into hailstones.

American weather scientists who were asked to comment said it was impossible to determine from the report whether the hail-suppressing effects reported were actually due to cloud-seeding or to natural causes.

"No one in this country has succeeded in suppressing hail in a way that could be scientifically identified as due to cloud-seeding—and not to natural climatic variations," one said.

American scientists said a few exploratory experiments using rockets for hail-suppression were tried in the United States in the early 1950s, but were abandoned for two reasons:

To carry on widespread tests, it would have been necessary to launch rockets over densely populated areas and into airplanes.

In order to shoot rockets high enough to have been effective, it would have been necessary to reduce the payload of cloud-seeding chemicals because of the weight limitations of rockets available for such purposes.

Thus, most American experiments in hail-suppression, and rain-making have been done with aircraft which drop chemicals, such as silver iodide, into clouds.

Farmer Answers U.S. Suit With One Of His Own

ABILENE (AP) — Farmer C. C. Ballard of Moran countered an Agriculture Department suit over his wheat acreage allotment by suing the government for $1 million Wednesday.

In addition, Ballard asked in his U. S. District court suit that the government be required to pay him $100,000 a year as long as it proceeds with the allotment case against him.

Government lawyers brought suit against Ballard in October for $350, claiming he owed this amount as penalty for raising 324 bushels more wheat in 1961 than his allotment permitted.

The suit likewise seeks $497 from Ballard on the allegation that he planted 20.3 acres of wheat this year while his allotment called for only 9.1 acres.

Ballard, in his answering petition, said the government caused him "indeterminable financial loss" and would drive him from home if he failed to get proper relief in court.

Feed store owner J. L. Thornton of Cisco is a co-defendant in the federal suit. The government claims he bought wheat from Ballard without requiring a marketing card and thus was also liable.

Ballard said he has refused to let officials measure his wheat crop,

Navy Tests Are Slated

CHICAGO — Approximately 18,000 youths, 17-21 years of age, are expected to take the Navy College Aptitude Test Dec. 8 in the 17th annual nationwide program of officer selection and training for the Naval Reserve Officer training Corps.

According to Verne Larsen, NROTC project director for Science Research Associates, Inc., registrations will close Nov. 16. Applications are available to all high school seniors and graduates, and may be obtained at the nearest Navy recruiting station or from a local high school.

The three-hour test, developed by SRA, nationally known educational publishing firm, covers verbal, mathematical, scientific and non-verbal reasoning abilities. On the basis of this examination, personal interviews, and other factors, an estimated 2,300 young men will be chosen for NROTC units in 52 leading colleges and universities.

A successful applicant receives financial aid for four years of college. This aid includes tuition, books, miscellaneous expenses and a $600-a-year retainer fee. After successfully completing college degree requirements and naval science training, NROTC students become commissioned officers in the U. S. Navy or Marine Corps.

The first day of debate on the controversial project to clarify the church's view disclosed a deep split among the council fathers.

The immediate question was whether to continue discussion of the proposed constitution on divine revelation, whether to throw it out and substitute a new version, or whether to leave the whole matter over for future popes and bishops.

Issue Hangs Over Vatican Council

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The question of whether to go ahead with a discussion of the place of the Bible and tradition as sources of the word of God hung over the divided Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council today.

The first day of debate on the controversial project to clarify the church's view disclosed a deep split among the council fathers.

The immediate question was whether to continue discussion of the proposed constitution on divine revelation, whether to throw it out and substitute a new version, or whether to leave the whole matter over for future popes and bishops.

The council fathers do not meet on Thursdays in St. Peter's Basilica. But many of them met informally in their seminary quarters or hotel rooms to discuss the disputed constitution, or thesis.

The quickest way to decide their future course would be a vote Friday in the next session in St. Peter's. But council sources agreed that more speeches may be heard before there is any balloting on the course to take.

The question of the sources of divine revelation is one of the most sensitive before the council because it is one of the chief issues dividing the Roman and Protestant churches.

The Roman Catholic Church has always taught that tradition—the "unfolding" of truths as the church studied the Apostles' non-Gospel teachings — and the Bible are the two sources of God's revealed word to man.

"But during the counter-reformation period of the 16th and 17th centuries, the church laid heavy stress on tradition to counteract Protestant emphasis on the Bible alone as revealed truth," explained a priest, a Biblical consultant to the council.

"Tradition was stressed so much that it became almost a separate concept. Now the church in council would put the two (Scripture and tradition) back into equal focus by emphasizing that they sprang from the one single origin—God."

Roman Catholic priests and prelates active in the movement for world Christian unity are said to fear that a council document which, in effect, drags out in the open again the old question of tradition would accentuate Catholic-Protestant differences.

Castro-Guevara Break Is Seen

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Cuban sources say there is reason to suspect a break between Fidel Castro and Ernesto (Che) Guevara, once Castro's right hand aide in Communist affairs.

Guevara, who also headed the National Bank, "definitely is not in Cuba and is assumed to be heading for Red China," a Cuban exile quoted informed courses in Havana as reporting Wednesday.

News from Cuba has not mentioned Guevara for some time and he has not figured in recent Soviet negotiations with Castro.

Vaccine Urged

OTTAWA (AP)—The Dominion Council of Health has recommended the resumption of Sabin oral polio vaccine programs that were canceled in Canada a month ago. Health Minister Jay Monteith told the House of Commons Wednesday.

Ultra-Style-Conscious? You Are Talked About

NEW YORK (AP) — Do you eat, sleep and dream fashion? Worry about being remembered in 1st year's beaded dress? Struggle to be understood? Look your age?

Well, designer Jo Copeland has been talking about you.

She thinks you've got a lot to learn. And as an influence on the American fashion scene for more than 40 years (although she doesn't look old enough), Miss Copeland figures she ought to know.

You'd think that she'd adore the idea of ultra-style-consciousness as a stimulant to business. But—

"Such women are shallow and insecure," she says with maverick directness. "All women should make the most of themselves, but they should have important things in their lives."

JO COPELAND

Throughout Miss Copeland's luxurious apartment are signs of the meaningful things in her own life; books, fine paintings, music, flowers. There is proud talk about her grandchildren.

The attractive designer is the first to admit that she's not the grandmother type.

"Nobody should be." The slim, chic woman in smart blonde coiffure crosses a pair of shapely legs as she discusses the matter.

"Today with clothes, creams, and sensibleness about eating every mature woman ought to look 20 years younger than women of the same age bracket seemed 30 or 40 years ago."

THEORY FOR YOUTH

What's the secret to staying young? Being interested and creative about a challenge. "That's better than any cosmetic, I tell my friends."

Miss Copeland has been challenged and compelled to be creative ever since her math teachers in Manhattan Public High School embarrassed her in front of the class for making drawings on her textbooks.

Fortunately, her father, Samuel Copeland, in the textile business, decided to provide opportunity for more art and less math. Jo studied at Parsons School and the New York Art League, and peddled free lance designs through fabric salesmen before she was firmly entrenched in the ready-to-wear business.

The Patullo fashion house bought her designs as early as 1920, however Jo Copeland's name was not added to the stationery as a member of the firm until 1933.

STICKS TO GUNS

Since then she's kept out of Paris in order not to be influenced even subtly, and has stuck to her guns about her fashion philosophies.

One of these runs contrary to Mrs. John F. Kennedy's. "I never have stood for that understated look. I don't like a uniform. My clothes have to have a statement. And they shouldn't say the same thing for everybody."

Another philosophy runs head-on with anybody believing in the economic benefits of obsolescence. "I resent what they're doing in the auto business with new styles every time. Fashion is not that way, not GOOD fashion. That's timeless."

This thinking makes it perfectly all right to put several thousand dollars in a beaded dress that is sure to be seen and remembered from one charity ball to the next.

"I don't believe people care whether the dress is remembered. They should be flattered if it is, really. A fine dress is as good as a status symbol as anything else."

Miss Copeland happily wears last year's dresses, all created by Miss Copeland. "I dress myself in discards from the line because I'm usually too busy designing next season's things to be worried about having some things made up for me."

But who can tell? They're timeless.

Coffee Is Given At Gehrigs

Mrs. James M. Gehrig was hostess for a Tuesday morning coffee given in her home, 74-A East, for permanent party wives in the Student Squadron, Webb Air Force Base. Mrs. Niles Carter was co-hostess.

About 25 guests were served informally from a silver appointed table spread with ecru lace cloth. A yellow motif was carried out in the centerpiece arrangement, comprised of cornucopia, fruit, yellow chrysanthemums and candles.

Special guests attending were Mrs. Wilson Banks, wife of the base commander, and Mrs. Herbert H. Dahneke, wife of the Student Squadron commander.

Decor Construction Is Feature Of Program

A filmstrip and commentary on holiday decor was featured for the Wednesday morning program of the Oasis Garden Club presented in the home of Mrs. M. C. Stulting. Fourteen members attended. Guests were Mrs. E. H. Wood, Hobbs, N.M., a former member; Mrs. Claude Smith, Mrs. M. A. Mansur, and a new member, Mrs. Otis Grafa Sr.

Progress in garden therapy at the School for Exceptional Children was reported by Mrs. South. She said that bulbs were planted in glass containers and are expected to bloom for Christmas.

Under the leadership of Mrs. W. F. Taylor, the children were taught to pot plants, using geraniums.

Mrs. I. G. Wilson reported the meeting of Southern Zone of District 1 of the Council of Garden Clubs. The program was highlighted by a talk made by A. J. McDaniel of Lamesa. Also, Mrs. Earline Peltier gave a demonstration on making corsages.

"Holiday in Flowers" was introduced by Mrs. Wilson. The pictorial presentation concerned arrangements for the home and detailed instructions for making each.

Members and their holiday arrangements were Mrs. Albert

Hobertz, grapes in shades of blue and white with gardenias, built around a frosted white candle; Mrs. C. V. Wash, mantel arrangement, using small open Bible, a madonna and small gold flowers; Mrs. Lois Smith, a coffee table piece made with a large red candle, a Christmas plate and a brown base edged with pine cones; Mrs. Joe Johnson, a Colonial type buffet piece of evergreen and red candles; Mrs. J. D. Leonard, a versatile round centerpiece featuring evergreen and tall tapertines centered with fruit.

Mrs. Hohertz will be hostess for the next meeting, Dec. 12, when the theme will be "Old-Fashioned Christmas Party."

Members agreed that there will be no meeting until the Christmas party to be held in December.

Child Study Club Has Program On Freedom

Greg Gossett, high school senior and president of Key Club, was the speaker for a Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Child Study Club.

A member of Young Americans for Freedom, Gossett chose as his subject "To Live Under Freedom," comparing the opposing political philosophies of liberalism or collectivism. He based his discussion on the statement, "The Ten Commandments are unchangeable; no medical, scientific or philosophical advancement can change their meaning; they are right and anything which breaks a commandment is wrong."

Members were admonished to make a decision as to political convictions, then work to share that conviction with others. He urged the mothers to make patriotism important to their children.

Mrs. Cecil Richardson was hostess to the 100 per cent attendance. Mrs. Tommy Hubbard served as cohostess.

Chairman Named

Mrs. R. C. Frayser was named chairman of the hospital party committee when the immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society met in the school hall Tuesday.

A bazaar and chili supper was scheduled as a fund-raising project on Nov. 29. Booths will open at 4:30 p.m. with the public invited.

Prayers were led by Father Francis Beazley. The next meeting of the society will be on Dec. 26.

Newsprint Is Fodder

JOHANNESBURG (AP)— A South African farm woman makes one of the world's most unusual uses of old newspapers. She mixes them into fodder for her cattle and horses and claims they thrive on it.

Mrs. G. P. Jacobs, 65, says she was forced to concoct this formula two years ago when her seven cattle and three horses on her farm, about 50 miles east of here, faced starvation because of drought and poor grazing conditions.

Mrs. Jacobs said she couldn't provide her stock with sufficient oats and grass and didn't want to destroy them.

So she bought a large drum of molasses, tore up several old newspapers into fine shreds, added a touch of washing soda and brought the mixture to a boil until it reached the consistency of meal. She added molasses and with trepidation but hope-poured the mixture into the feeding trough. Mrs. Jacobs relates: "The animals ate, paused, and ate again. The experiment had proved successful."

So she collected more old newspapers and bought more molasses and went "whole hog" with the mixture. She says the condition of her animals improved daily on this diet.

"My troubles are now past," Mrs. Jacobs says, displaying a compound of the mixture. "My cows relish the feed and eat it like pudding. The horses don't like the ink smell from the papers but I am experimenting with a bleach to take the ink out before I boil the fodder. My daily routine is to tear up 10 or 12 newspapers, knead them into fine shreds and squeeze them until they reach a pulpy consistency. I add the washing soda (only a teaspoonful) and boil it, stirring regularly. The molasses forms the basic flavor of the fodder."

Talk Given For WSCS

Mrs. Ernest Bauch was speaker for the Northside Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service Wednesday afternoon at the church. The study topic was "New Frontiers of Domestic Missions."

Assisting with the program was Mrs. Ramon Navarro, Mrs. Thomas Marquez, and Mrs. Bennie Marquez.

The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Bauch. The scripture reading was given by Mrs. A. Tobias. The pre-Christmas meeting on Nov. 19 was planned and will be directed by Mrs. Bennie Marquez.

Mrs. Thomas Marquez gave the benediction.

A mission study on Hong Kong was continued when the Kathryn White Circle, Women's Missionary Union, Vincent Baptist Church, met Wednesday with Mrs. J. M. Wilson leading the program was Mrs. Jack Brown, assisted by Mrs. Luther Streetman and Mrs. J. H. Redman.

Mrs. Wilson read the prayer calendar. The closing prayer was worshiped by Mrs. Redman.

A Royal Service program will be the occasion for a meeting at the church on Nov. 20.

Available, Reasonable Food Today

By The Associated Press

The latest government report on the quantity and price of popular foods reveals nearly all well-known foods are available this week and at reasonable prices.

Aside from seasonal fruits and vegetables which periodically disappear from markets, most foods were reported in an abundant supply throughout the country.

What isn't available fresh may be available canned or frozen. What isn't in abundant supply may be in plentiful supply. The scarcest supply still was described as ample.

Emphasis this week will, of course, be on stocking up for Thanksgiving Day. Turkeys, needless to say, are reported in abundance.

Garden Gifts Are Subject For Program

How gifts can come from the garden was explained to Planters Garden Club members by Mrs. D. H. Hines, Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Dick Collier. In presenting the program, Mrs. Hines named the fruit and flower representing each calendar month, and explained how it could be used in gift-giving.

To illustrate her talk she created arrangements appropriate for the seasons and holidays of the year. The program closed with the reading of a poem, "The Lord God Planted A Garden."

The night attending were served refreshments by the hostess.

Party Slated For The Does

A president's party was scheduled for Dec. 19, when the BPO Does met at the Elk's Hall Wednesday evening. Program officers are Mrs. Wolford Greenberg, first counselor and Mrs. J. M. Maenner, junior counselor.

Mrs. Glen Gale will be in charge of preparing a basket to be given to a needy family at Thanksgiving. A memorial service for past members of the organization was scheduled for Dec. 12 during a regular meeting.

Winner of the door prize was Mrs. Maenner.

Dinner For Women In Construction

Three new members were accepted by the Women In Construction organization at a dinner meeting, Wednesday in the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. Joining the group were Mrs. Kenneth Cole, Miss Dreda Wilson and Miss Lillie Frazier.

Weldon Warren was announced winner of the turkey given by WIC. A Christmas party was scheduled for Dec. 4 at Cosden Country club.

Twenty-one attended, including two guests, Mrs. Charles Carter and Mrs. Charles Campbell.

Cans For Baking

You can use empty one-pound cans for baking nut-and-date or other quick breads and bake in a moderate oven about 45 minutes.

Chapter Will Be Chartered

The Texas Epsilon chapter of Phi Sigma Alpha International Sorority will be chartered in a Sunday afternoon ceremony, scheduled from 2 until 4 o'clock in the Western Room of the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. Mrs. Gwen Greshman, field executive for Phi Sigma Alpha, will conduct the ritual.

Theme for the event will be the sorority motto, "Friendship, Wisdom and Courage." Decorations will be in the sorority colors, blue and white, using the PSA flower, the carnation.

Mrs. Andrew Jones will be installed as president of the new chapter. Others to be installed are Miss Margaret Armstrong, vice president; Miss Morris Gay, secretary; Mrs. Ed Cowan, treasurer; Miss Leatrice Erving, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Robert M. McDonald, program moderator.

Phi Sigma Alpha was founded at the suggestion of Mrs. Walter W. Ross, wife of the founder of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Ross was one of the first pledges and helped to plan the rituals and cultural programs. Headquarters for the organization is in Scottsdale, Ariz.

Davidsons Will Gather To Offer Thanksgiving

It will be an old-fashioned Thanksgiving next week at the farm home of Mrs. Walter E. Davidson.

Filling the air will be the aroma of baked turkey, spicy pumpkin pies, cornbread dressing and the sound of children's laughter. In the living room the men folk will discuss world affairs, the local market and perhaps a hunting or fishing trip, while the women will be engaged with children and the preparation of dinner.

Host for the day will be Mrs. Davidson's son, W. E. Jr., and a special guest will be her mother-in-law, Mrs. N. B. Davidson, the children's great-grandmother.

Also to be there are Mrs. Davidson's son-in-law, L. D. Hayward, with his children, Elizabeth, Lydia, Melanie and Farley Hayward; the son-in-law and daughter, the E. M. Kennemers, with their children, Timothy, Lance and Nell.

Should one turkey be insufficient, there are many more birds ready for the picking. By accident, Mrs. Davidson inherited some turkey eggs which hatched, presenting her with some 60 turkey hens and a number of gobblers. Raising the flock was Mrs. Davidson's first experience, and she lost only one in the process.

The turkey dinner Mrs. Davidson has planned will include cornbread dressing, creamed potatoes, a green vegetable, baked sweet potatoes, cranberry sauce, pumpkin pies and pineapple cake.

Mrs. Davidson's method of cooking, with a dash of this and a pinch of that, is considered to be the mark of an excellent cook.

The pineapple cake will be made just as it was made by her mother, the late Mrs. J. H. Haller. A plain, two-egg white cake, baked in layers, is put together with the fruit and juice from one small can of pineapple and 7-minute icing. The pineapple and juice is spread on the top layer, with the 7-minute icing piled high on top and spread over the entire cake.

Mrs. Davidson serves the moist cake in generous portions, because if it is not eaten soon after it is made, the acid from the pineapple will dissolve the icing.

For dressing Mrs. Davidson bakes a large pan of corn bread. This is mixed with dried bread crumbs, not quite half the amount of corn bread, and three whole eggs. One large onion, chopped, and about two celery stalks, chopped, are added; seasoning to taste with black and red pepper, salt and some sage. Add turkey broth (saving enough for giblet gravy) half of the chopped giblets and the meat from the turkey neck, also chopped.

When asked about making cranberry sauce, Mrs. Davidson said

Seasonal Good Buys

By The Associated Press

Thanksgiving foods such as fruits, nuts, turkey, ham, squash, sweet potatoes and others will be readily available at Texas markets this weekend, reports the Agricultural Marketing Service.

In-season fruits being stocked in volume and at reasonable prices include apples, grapefruit and oranges, grapes, and cranberries, according to fruit and vegetable market news offices of the service. These items, plus always-available bananas, carry best-buy labels among fruit offerings.

Apples at wholesale cost less this week than last. Tangerine supplies are increasing slowly. Avocados are scarce and higher.

Peanuts, raw or roasted, and most tree nuts, including pecans, are abundant right now, although several are priced higher than a year ago. The pecan harvest is light.

Letture for Thanksgiving day salads is noticeably lower than last week. It's a "best buy." Other vegetables with especially attractive prices include cabbage, carrots, celery, greens and green onions, potatoes, acorn squash, sweet potatoes and rutabagas.

Priced higher are snapbeans, peppers, yellow squash and tomatoes.

Turkey, chicken and ham are in good supply. Turkeys may cost a few cents per pound more than last year, but not much. Chickens are almost unbelievably low. Maine sardines, the small, luxury-size kind, are back on grocers' shelves in abundance; prices are modest. Shortenings, invaluable for preparing that big meal, are plentiful.

Diced Turkey Is Fancy Dish

For the couple with ideas for feasting on a smaller scale than the traditional baked bird, a portion of turkey can be used and prepared in a fashion more suitable to the twosome.

SCALLOPED TURKEY AU GRATIN
2 1/2 cups diced roasted turkey
10 1/2 ounce can condensed cream of chicken soup
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup cubed aged cheddar cheese
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1/4 teaspoon basil
1/4 cup finely crushed cracker crumbs

Combine turkey, soup, water, cheese, and seasoning in a buttered 1 1/2 quart casserole. Top with crumbs. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes, or until bubbly. Serve with Chinese noodles.

Homemakers who wish to serve highly nutritious food on a limited budget will find sweet potatoes to their liking.

Southern homemakers long have recognized that sweets are a prize food package, brimming with vitamins A and C and loaded with food energy. They lend an inviting appearance to all menus, whether served as a part of the main dish, as a vegetable, or whipped into a flavorful sweet potato pie.

Sweet Potato Is Nutritious Food

As vegetable, dessert, salad, appetizer, beverage, relish, garnish, or as an accent in main dishes, jauntily hued cranberry sauce, whole or jellied, and cranberry fruit drink can enliven all meals of the day.

For instance, you may wish to try Cranberry-Sausage Pancakes: This is hearty fare for blustery mornings. It also is an easily prepared supper entree. Allow two pancakes for each serving. As they are browned on both sides, place one pancake on serving plate and spread with jellied or whole cranberry sauce. Then add two or three cooked-to-perfection link sausages and top with the second pancake. Perch a square of butter atop the "sandwich" and serve immediately.

Be sure to have some hot maple syrup on the table for those who think pancakes and maple syrup are inseparable.

Or try Cranberry Shortcake: Combine canned whole cranberry sauce with diced bananas and chopped unpeeled apples, adding some chopped nuts if desired. Chill the cranberry, apple and banana mixture about an hour and then serve shortcake style on hot buttermilk biscuits. Ice cream or whipped cream is a perfect garnish.

Use Meat Drippings
Rinse out the skillet in which you have fried hamburgers with a little boiling water and extra seasoning and pour over the meat.

Yummy Yam Pie

Thanksgiving yam pie may be flavored various ways; our version calls for spice, but some times lemon and molasses are used.

Yam Pie Is Thanksgiving's Happy Ending To Turkey Dinner

Thank southern ladies for bringing the sweet potato pie to holiday tables. Up north, we regret to say, this good dessert still needs to get around.

Sometimes sweet potato pie is called yam pie, but don't let this confuse you. Yams are sweet potatoes all right—but sweet potatoes with ruddy skins, bright colored flesh and lots of sweetness. Yams are fine to use in sweet potato pie.

So many versions of this happy ending to a turkey dinner! Looking into regional southern cook books, we find two varieties most often featured.

In one, the sliced cooked potatoes are layered with sugar, buttermilk and flavorings. In the other, the cooked potatoes are mashed before other ingredients are added.

Best of all, we like the following recipe for a custard-type sweet potato pie. The filling has excellent texture and it's not very sweet. Serve this pie in virginal form—no whipped cream or ice cream topping allowed. But if you must have a garnish, we'll permit one of toasted buttered pecans or a drift of confectioners' sugar.

Versatile Cranberry

Should there be a plethora of desserts on a holiday table, and all this sweet potato pie is not eaten, cheer! You can reheat and serve it at snack or supper time as a hearty dessert after cold turkey and a salad. Then its staying qualities will really be appreciated.

If it's important to save time, you may want to use canned sweet potatoes for the pie's filling. That's what we did. To make the amount called for in this recipe, we used all but two of the small peeled whole sweet potatoes in a 1 pound and 1 ounce vacuum-packed can.

If you prefer to cook your own potatoes, bake or boil them in their skins, and then divest the flesh of its shell. This is a good idea because there's lots of milk in this recipe—it helps to give pleasant delicate flavor—and the mashed potatoes should be on the dry side.

JANE STREET SWEET POTATO PIE
1 1/2 cup mashed cooked sweet potatoes (yams)
2-3 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. ginger
2 large eggs (slightly beaten)
1 cup milk
1 cup undiluted evaporated milk
9-inch unbaked rich pastry shell with high upstanding rim

Using a spoon, fork or whisk, mix together until blended the sweet potatoes, sugar, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger, eggs and both kinds of milk. Pour filling into pastry shell. Bake on the low shelf of a moderate (375 degrees) oven about 45 minutes or until pastry is browned and center of filling looks firm. Serve warm or reheat.

Note: We like to make the shell for this pie with half vegetable or lard-type shortening and half butter or margarine because this combination usually produces crisp rich pastry from which this sweet potato filling benefits.

Storing Turkey For Future Use

If in the past you have had problems with left overs from the Thanksgiving feast, the following suggestions may be used:

To Refrigerate: Remove stuffing from body and neck cavities. Place in bowl and refrigerate. Leftover turkey may be refrigerated whole or stripped from the bones. Refrigerate broth and gravy as soon as possible. When cooled, turkey, stuffing, and gravy should be covered.

To Freeze: Turkey meat may be wrapped and frozen. Use within 2 months. Stuffing may also be wrapped and frozen. Use within 1 month. Individual servings of turkey meat and stuffing may be wrapped and frozen together. Use these within 1 month.

SAUSA-RONI STUFFING
2 cups SKINNER Elbow Macaroni
1 lb. ground pork sausage
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 green pepper
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 tsp. parsley flakes
1 tsp. garlic salt
2 tsp. poultry seasoning
1 egg, slightly beaten

Cook macaroni as directed on package. Meanwhile, brown crumbled sausage; drain off fat. Add onion, green pepper, celery, parsley flakes; brown slightly. Add seasonings, macaroni. Remove from heat; add beaten egg; mix well. (If dressing not as moist as desired, blend in another slightly beaten egg.) Salt inside cavity of fowl; pack dressing in cavity loosely. Roast fowl at 300° to 325°, allowing 1/2-hour per lb. This amount will stuff a 4-lb. fowl (6 to 8 servings). Double the recipe for an 8 to 12-lb. bird.

A delightfully different poultry stuffing for your holiday feast—good enough to become a tradition. One caution: To be sure your savory stuffing is perfect, be sure you use Skinner Macaroni, the macaroni made with 100% amber durum wheat.

First Time For Turkey? Here Is Cooking Guide

Thaw bird completely by one of the following methods before stuffing. Do not refreeze turkeys once thawed.

HOW TO THAW
Thaw in the original moisture-proof wrapping in the refrigerator. Or thaw the wrapped bird in a pan set under cold running water. Turkey may be left in the refrigerator 1 day, then completely thawed under cold running water. Free legs and tail from tucked position as soon as possible. Remove turkey from bag. Remove neck and giblets from the neck and main cavities. Refrigerate turkey if not to be used immediately. Use the turkey within 24 hours after thawing.

Giblets: Unwrap and rinse. Cover gizzard, heart, and neck with salted hot water and simmer 1 to 2 hours, or until tender. Add liver during the last 25 minutes of cooking time. Remove meat from neck and grind or chop with giblets. Keep giblets and broth in refrigerator until ready to use.

Add to gravy or stuffing.

Rinse: Rinse turkey and drain.

HOW TO STUFF
Rub neck and body cavities with salt.

Stuffing (see recipes): Use approximately 3/4 cup of stuffing per pound of frozen ready-to-cook turkey. Stuff neck and body cavities lightly because stuffing will expand during roasting. Roast turkey as soon as stuffed.

Tips on Stuffings: The dry ingredients may be prepared the day before and stored in the cupboard. Prepare moist ingredients and refrigerate. On roasting day combine ingredients and stuff bird.

When roasting large turkeys (20 to 25 pounds ready-to-cook weight), it may prove more satisfactory to roast the unstuffed bird and bake the stuffing in a separate pan.

Extra stuffing may be baked in a casserole or open pan. Add extra moisture as giblet broth or canned chicken soup. Cover with sliced bacon or salt pork. Bake

1 hour in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.).

HOW TO SHAPE
Draw neck skin over stuffed neck cavity to the back and fasten with skewers. Fasten wings behind back by twisting the tip ends.

Return legs and tail carefully to tucked position. It is not necessary to close the body cavity with skewers or cord.

HOW TO ROAST
Open Pan: Place turkey breast side up on a rack in an open pan. Use no water or cover. Spoon melted fat over turkey. Cover turkey lightly with aluminum foil or several thicknesses of cheesecloth. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees F.). Use chart as a guide to the length of roasting time. See tests for doneness.

Covered Pan: Place turkey breast side up on a rack in the bottom of a roaster. Use no water. Cover with top of roaster. Roast in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Use chart as a guide to the length of roasting time. If bird is not sufficiently brown at the end of roasting time, remove cover and continue roasting 15 minutes or until brown.

TESTS FOR DONENESS
Protect thumb and forefinger with paper or cloth. Pinch thickest portion of drumstick. Meat should feel very soft.

Insert roast meat thermometer into thigh muscle next to body cavity. Temperature should be 190 degree F.

OLD-FASHIONED BREAD STUFFING
Yield: 9 cups
(Enough to stuff a 12 pound bird)
1 1/4 cups finely chopped onion
1 1/4 cups finely chopped celery
1-3 cup butter
8 cups dry bread cubes (1/2 in.)
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. poultry seasoning
1/4 tsp. sage
1/2 cup water
1 egg, well beaten
Cook onion and celery in butter in a skillet until tender. Add mixture to bread cubes which have been placed in a large pan. Sprinkle with seasonings which have been mixed together. Combine. Add water and egg. Toss together with forks. Stuff thawed bird immediately and roast.

VARIATIONS

Oyster Stuffing: Add 2 cups oysters, chopped, uncooked or heated in butter, to bread stuffing. Combine as for bread stuffing.

Chestnut Stuffing: Add 1 cup chopped cooked chestnuts to bread stuffing. Combine as for bread stuffing.

Corn bread stuffing. Omit 8 cups dry bread cubes in bread stuffing. Add 8 cups crumbled corn bread. Combine as for bread stuffing.

TURKEY PAN GRAVY
Yield: 6 cups
3/4 cup turkey drippings
3/4 cup flour
6 cups milk
Finely chopped cooked giblets, if desired
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper

Pour drippings from pan in which turkey was roasted. Put 1/4 cup drippings in a skillet. Add flour, mix well, and brown slightly. Put 2 cups milk in roasting pan and cook up browned bits. Gradually add milk plus remaining 4 cups of milk to mixture in skillet, stirring constantly to make smooth gravy. Add giblets, salt, pepper, and other seasonings, if desired. Bring gravy to a boil. Stir and cook 5 to 10 minutes.

Timely Advice: How To Carve A Turkey

Let turkey "rest" 15 to 20 minutes before carving. With tip of knife or scissors cut the strip of skin holding the legs in place. Place turkey on a large flat platter. Avoid overcrowding platter with garnishes. Place turkey directly in front of carver with breast of turkey at carver's left. Have sharp carving knife, long-pronged fork, and dinner plates handy.

Place the knife between the thigh and body of the turkey and slash through the skin to the joint. Separate the entire leg from the body by pressing the leg outward with the knife during cutting and by bending the leg back away from the body with the fork or with the left hand holding the leg bone. Cut off slices of dark meat from the leg. The thigh and drumstick may be separated at the joint.

Insert the fork firmly into the upper wing. With the knife, make a long cut above the wing joint, through to the body frame. If desired, the wing can be disjointed from the body by cutting through the skin as the fork presses the wing away from the body. See disjointing the leg.

Slice downward with straight even strokes, beginning halfway up the breast. When the knife reaches the incision above the wing bone, the slice of white meat will fall free.

Continue slicing the breast meat by beginning the cut at a higher point each time, until the crest of the bone is reached. Carve enough white and dark meat for all guests before serving the plates.

We May Have To Re-Heat Crisis

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
An AP News Analyst

If Fidel Castro is not to emerge in the guise of victor and hero from the U.S.-Soviet confrontation, it may be necessary one of these days for the United States to re-heat the Cuban crisis.

The appearance of a Castro victory in the Cuban standoff, after all that has happened, could have disastrous results for U.S. policy in Latin America, where it scored heavily with the strong posture which resulted in dismantling of Soviet missiles in the Caribbean. Yet under certain circumstances Castro might make points for his side. It is entirely possible for him to proclaim himself a victor over the "North American imperialists" if nothing is done about those Soviet bombers on Cuban soil or inspectors are not put in Cuba to make sure offensive weapons have been removed.

The Communists could propagandize the compromise on either of these points as a backdown by the United States in the face of Castro's defiance. Castro might thus try to recoup some of the losses he sustained in Latin America when both Kennedy and Khrushchev humiliated him in the showdown.

It is difficult to believe that the long stay of Anastas I. Mikoyan in Cuba has been anything more than a Kremlin masquerade, a subterfuge to indicate to the world that the Havana regime still enjoys sovereignty, that it is not owned outright by Soviet communism.

It is difficult to believe there was no collusion between Castro and the Soviet first deputy premier in what is presented to the world as a stubborn Castro stand against inspection and against giving up the bombers.

The Soviet Union, through Premier Khrushchev, pledged itself to remove from Cuba any weapons Kennedy regarded as offensive, and to permit on-the-spot inspection. Moscow's excuse for not removing the bombers and fulfilling the inspection commitment was that Castro wouldn't permit it.

But Castro has no place to go. His bridges are burned. He has no choice in the long run except to obey Moscow. The whole of Cuba's economy and all the island's military hardware depend upon the Russians. If Moscow support were withdrawn, Cuba would be in chaos. The Red Chinese are in no position to substitute for the Russians even if Castro wanted to pull a deviation.

Therefore, it seems logical to suppose that if Moscow wanted to insist, to twist Castro's arm, the Cuban boss would have no choice but to do as he was told.

However, instead of insisting on Cuban permission for inspections and surrender of the bombers, Mikoyan and the Soviet press take up a cry of support for Castro's so-called "five points," which include a demand that the United States give up its Guantanamo base.

The Russians must know the five points will get nowhere, but the cry provides Khrushchev with excuses.

A&M Outlines Progress Plans

COLLEGE STATION—After 19 months of internal and external study, the Board of Directors of Texas A&M College has issued a "Blueprint For Progress" to guide development of the institution until its 100th anniversary in 1976.

To be formally made public at the Nov. 16 Convocation and Open House marking A&M's 86th year of service to the state, the blueprint called for the following programs to be instituted or strengthened:

Programs to secure the highest calibre of faculty members with provision to reward individual achievement; selective development of strong programs in engineering, natural and applied science, agriculture, veterinary medicine, and liberal arts in space-related fields; selectivity in students; physical improvements particularly in science and technologies of space age; liaison between researchers and field staff; development of moral and spiritual qualities in students; locate new financial resources to underwrite the program; insistence upon excellence; public information.

Former Estes Associate Tells Of Loan Securing

EL PASO (AP) — A former business associate said Wednesday that Billie Sol Estes surrendered stock in three businesses to secure loans made to the West Texas promoter.

Dr. Harold Lindley, a fellow resident of Pecos with Estes, testified about their dealings before J. C. Brooke, referee in bankruptcy.

Creditors of Estes, since adjudged bankrupt, had questioned the stock transfers to Lindley last March 15. This was just two weeks before the arrest of Estes on fraud charges, which led to collapse of a farm-based business empire handling millions of dollars.

Lindley said he started loaning Estes money in 1952. He estimated the ex-financier owed him $274,814 last June, a month before going into involuntary bankruptcy. The customary interest rate was 10 per cent and Estes always provided security, he said.

Word from a banker that an oil royalty agreement put up by Estes was over-valued caused the transfer of additional security in mid-March, Lindley testified. He said this consisted of stock in a mortuary, a printing firm and a flying service.

Auctioneers meanwhile finished taking bids on the assets of Coleman McSpadden of Lubbock; another former Estes associate who likewise is bankrupt. The latest in a series of public sales was held at Hereford, where farm machinery, other equipment and 10 tracts of McSpadden land were offered.

DAVID SARNOFF

Sarnoff Sees Electronic Body Organs

NEW YORK (AP)—Industrialist David Sarnoff, noting that body-implemented electronic devices now keep hearts pumping in cardiac patients, says that he can foresee the time when such devices will operate other human organs, too.

They may be used, for example, to operate the lungs or kidneys when their functions have become impaired, he said.

"It is within probability that there will be complete electronic substitutes for worn-out or otherwise useless human organs," Sarnoff said.

"Missing legs, arms or hands also may find effective replacement through electronically controlled prosthetic devices operated by the body muscles."

Sarnoff, board chairman of the Radio Corp. of America, made the predictions in calling for a greatly stepped-up attack against disease through broader application of electronics to medicine.

In a speech delivered at a luncheon honoring winners of the 1962 Albert Lasker medical awards, Sarnoff said electronics can be the "single most important instrument in the arsenal of medical research in the years that lie ahead."

His speech was read for him by his son, Robert W. Sarnoff, board chairman of the National Broadcasting Co. The elder Sarnoff is convalescing from a recent operation.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wife of the vice president, presented the awards. The two winners, previously announced, are: C. H. Li, professor of biochemistry and experimental endocrinology and director of the Hormone Research Laboratory at the University of California, Berkeley.

Dr. Joseph E. Smadel, chief of the laboratory of virology and rickettsiology, a division of the National Institutes of Health, Washington, D.C.

Webb Cub Pack Slates Meeting

Cub Scout Pack No. 46, Webb AFB, will hold its monthly meeting at 7 p.m. Nov. 29 in the Academic Building. There are 53 boys enrolled and others waiting to join as soon as they become eligible.

Mayor Thayne L. Thomas, Cubmaster, said that 27 boys will be initiated and receive their Bobcat badge at the next meeting. Older Cub Scouts who have passed the achievement tests during the summer will receive Wolf, Bear and Lion Badges, gold and silver awards.

Den No. 3 will present the skit, and Webelos will present the physical fitness program; Dens 1 and 2 will have the opening and the closing ceremonies.

Parents are urged to attend the Pack meeting, because the den having the most parents present will receive the attendance pennant to attach to their den flag standard. This pennant will remain with the Den winning it until another Den surpasses it in numbers of parents attending.

Joins Cizon's Staff

The association of Mrs. Marie Eason with the sales staff of Cizon's Jewelers has been announced by S. A. Waits, manager. Mrs. Eason has been a resident of Big Spring for the past 15 years and has been experienced in jewelry merchandising during that period. She will be assigned primarily to the silverware, chinaware and crystal departments at the store, said Waits.

Italy Now Takes Out Half Payroll For Social Security

By ALLAN JACKS
ROME (AP) — Italy has increased its Social Security taxes to almost exactly 50 per cent of payroll, a record of sorts that has businessmen and more conservative politicians jittery.

They fear the high cost of social programs, added to the cost of constantly rising wages, will cut off the flow of foreign investment capital. There is also concern in business circles that Italian goods will be priced out of world markets.

The most recent boost in Social Security taxes—amounting to 3.75 per cent of payroll—means that for virtually every dollar earned in wages and salaries throughout Italy's booming economy the government takes in about 50 cents. This vast take pays for medical care, old age pensions and the huge bureaucracy that handles it. The taxes are applied to all salaries, no matter how large, with no cut-off point. On top salaries, however, the total tax slides from 50 down toward 40 per cent. The charges, approximately 42 per cent payable by the employer and 8 by the employee, puts Italy in an expensive social class by itself in Europe's developing Common Market.

Belgium's Social Security taxes come the closest. That country levies 27.75 per cent against salaries and 33.50 per cent against wages, with the employer paying approximately two-thirds, the employee or worker one-third. But the Belgian levies have a relatively low cut-off point, above which no taxes at all are collected.

French social charges total 20.25 per cent, Holland's 13.8 per cent and Germany's 14 per cent, variously divided between employer and employee.

These percentages compare with the United States Social Security tax of 6 1/2 per cent of payroll up to $4,800 of earnings, equally divided between employer and employee.

Got Any Ideas On Cloves? See The Sultan Of Zanzibar

By LYNN HEINZERLING
ZANZIBAR (AP)—Anybody with a bright idea for increasing the consumption of cloves should get touch with his highness the sultan, Seyyid Sir Abdulla Bin Khalifa, royal palace, Beit El-Ajaib square, Zanzibar.

The sultan's realm, which encompasses the tiny islands of Zanzibar and Pemba off East Africa, has 4.5 million clove trees and supplies 8 of every 10 cloves in the world.

The bottom has dropped out of that market. The huge warehouses of the Zanzibar Clove Growers Association are piled high with 22,000 tons of cloves—a two-year backlog.

The sweet, spicy smell of cloves gives the narrow streets and crowded bazaars of Zanzibar an oriental flavor, but the aroma is turning sour for the merchants.

At association headquarters, where the trade is controlled, they tell you sadly that Indonesia bought 8,000 tons of cloves in 1960, but only 3,000 in 1961. The 1962 figures look even worse. A ton of cloves is worth about $750 on the world market.

In India, cloves are popular as a food spice and even more prized by devotees of the betel nut. They wrap a betel nut in a leaf along with a clove and enjoy the sharp flavor for hours.

The sultan is interested in the trade for a number of reasons. It provides a living for a good many of his subjects. It normally provides a third of all government revenue in the form of export taxes.

Indonesians grind up the cloves and mix the powder with tobacco to make a cigarette with a sharp taste and odor. Clove growers here say somewhat petulantly that Indonesia has been buying so many Soviet MIGs and other military hardware that Zanzibar cloves have become a luxury.

DEAR ABBY

Sounds Like A Movie!

DEAR ABBY: Last night, while I had bridge club, my husband went to a drive-in movie. When he came home at 5 o'clock in the morning he said, "Now don't get mad at me, I fell asleep at the drive-in movie and nobody woke me up." Can this be true?

DEAR GRAND: It is ridiculous enough to be true.

DEAR ABBY: I was told not to wear black to a wedding. I went out and bought a new dress, although I had a perfectly good (new) black one in my closet. When I got to the wedding, two out of five women were wearing black dresses. The wedding was at 7:00 p.m. Please answer in the paper. I want to settle this with someone.

DEAR ELKHART: If it gives you any satisfaction to know that YOU were more appropriately dressed than the women in black—here it is.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the 15-year-old girl who signed herself SLAVE because her mother asked her to do a few chores around the house. I, too, felt that I was being imposed upon because my mother insisted that I help with the housework. Now that I have a home of my own I am sorry I didn't learn more under my mother's supervision. Do you know how to mop and wax tile floors? And how to polish furniture properly? Can you wash and iron your husband's shirts? Do you know how to clean an oven? And defrost a refrigerator? Do you know what to do if a fuse blows? Can you buy groceries in the right amounts? Unless you can answer yes to all these questions, don't complain.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what you think about a 16-year-old girl buying her boyfriend a shirt that matches her blouse. He is 18 and we have been going together for about a year.

FAITHFUL READER

DEAR READER: Don't "surprise" him with it. Ask him first.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Big Day When Railroad Came

STAMFORD (AP) — Still within the memory of living men it was a great day when a railroad first reached a town.

One example was Stamford, Ia. which rail service came 62 years ago as of last Feb. 11.

All day long people gathered for the great ceremony. Some came on horseback, some in wagons, others in hacks and surreys.

The older children were taken by their teacher for this historic event.

Finally about sunset there came chugging into Stamford the first passenger train over the tracks of the Texas Central Railway from Albany, 40 miles away.

The little engine with Hardy Holt as conductor and John Frederick (Dutch John) Uloth as engineer, represented industry and progress to a town which had started hardly six weeks earlier, Jan. 1, 1900.

There were grown people there that day who had never seen a train," a pioneer recalls.

"It was a dream come true as that train came to a stop with a flourish of importance," the late R. V. Colbert, another pioneer of the town, said many years ago. "I remember we had lunch with Col. C. Hamilton in a little lunchroom near the tracks."

In November 1899, the Stamford townsite was formed by the Swenson Ranch interests when the Texas Central Railway wanted to extend its lines and the people of this section needed a closer market for their products.

Henry McHarg, president of the Texas Central Railway (later the MKT), named the new town for his old home of Stamford, Conn.

One of the streets of the town was named Hamilton, another McHarg, and of course, one is Swenson.

Another story in connection with that day concerns the two men who brought the train in, Holt and Uloth.

Their last run together over the MKT was March 12, 1936. While there were seven years difference in their ages, both men died in 1941. They both went to school at Walnut Springs at the same time for one year and first worked together out of Walnut Springs in 1899, running a mixed train, an old-fashioned oil burner.

A Devotional For The Day

Be zealous to be found by him without spot or blemish, and at peace. (II Peter 3:14. RSV.)

Industrially Significant

Announcement that Odessa Natural Gasoline Company has contracted to supply Texas Electric Service Company with fuel for its Morgan Creek power generating plant is of more than passing interest to this area.

It is, in fact, of considerable industrial significance. Not only will this assure TESCO of an adequate source of fuel for its largest single generating unit in the system, but it will secure future additions to meet growing area power needs.

Moreover, Odessa Natural Gasoline Company will construct its 120-mile (20-in. and 16-in.) line so that it will be in proximity to both Odessa and Big Spring. At these points, the line will have connections with Pioneer Natural Gas Company, thus adding flexibility as well as total supply which will be available to the industrial complexes in the two cities.

Beyond this, the step represents the utilization of a fuel resource of the Permian Basin in the Permian Basin rather than being obliged to export it to out-of-state markets. This will have a beneficial effect on our economy, especially since it is being developed at the hands of West Texans.

Back Up Those Steers!

Friday's encounter between the Big Spring Steers and the Abilene Eagles isn't exactly a do-or-die situation. We'll survive if we don't win. We'll be out of the district race but we will still have San Angelo to tackle.

But how much sweeter it would be to win and this goes into that final game with a fighting chance to pull the impossible and win the district.

Based on cold analysis we couldn't be classed as favorites. Yet, our squad of players this year has played with its heart as well as its hands and feet, and this sometimes makes the dope bucket look silly. One of the reasons the lads have played with such fire is because they have had an equally fired-up bunch of fans whooping it up from the stands.

We know we can count on the boys to do a little bit more than their best, and we hope we can count on the fans to do as much.

The 'Disunited Nations'

WASHINGTON—Just what is the United Nations today? Most Americans have not yet become aware of the fact that the name itself is a misnomer. An appropriate title would be the "disunited nations." For this organization of high purpose is badly split. Such members as the United States, Great Britain and France—who have done so much to advance economic and social progress in the world—are in the minority. They are outnumbered in votes, and subject to the whim of a galaxy of small nations. A group composed mostly of the uncivilized, backward and underdeveloped countries of the world now rules the United Nations.

A vote just a week ago in the U.N. was an eye opener. By a big majority, the small nations voted for the expulsion of a member—the Republic of South Africa—whose internal problems are not being handled to the satisfaction of this new majority. To meddle in the internal affairs of a member state is a violation of the charter of the U.N., but this didn't deter the new majority, which completely disregarded the specific wording of the charter.

There are 106 member nations in the organization. Russia has three votes, though the United States has only one. Representation has no relationship to population, nor is it on the basis of financial or economic equities.

In favor of the resolution to expel South Africa, there were 67 member nations, and 16 against. There were 23 member nations which "abstained." This means they felt they would be embarrassed if they voted either way. How many Americans know even where some of these countries are to be found on the world map? Here is the list of the 67 which rule the U.N. today:

Afghanistan, Algeria, Burma, Burundi, Cambodia, Cameroon, Ceylon, Chad, Congo, Brazzaville, Congo, Leopoldville, Cyprus, Dahomey, Ethiopia, Guinea, Indonesia, Iran, Iraq, Ivory Coast, Jamaica, Jordan, Laos, Lebanon, Liberia, Libya, Maldives, Malaya, Mali, Mauritania, Morocco, Nepal, Niger, Nigeria, Rwanda.

Also, Saudi Arabia, Senegal, Sierra Leone, Somalia, Sudan, Syria, Tanganyika, Togo, Trinidad-Tobago, Tunisia, Uganda, United Arab Republic, Upper Volta, Yemen, China, Israel, Mexico, Pakistan, Philippines, U.S.S.R., Byelorussia, Ukraine, Albania, Bulgaria.

Also, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Mongolia, Poland, Romania, Yugoslavia. The last 12 listed above comprise the Communist bloc countries.

Nationalist China voted with the majority for political reasons, but it is hard to explain the vote by Mexico and by the Philippines or Pakistan and other nations which get substantial amounts of "foreign aid" from the United States. But, even omitting this latter group, it is important to note that still voting against the United States were more than 54 nations—a majority of the 106 members.

Here are the 16 countries which supported the U.N. charter and hence cast their votes against the resolution to expel South Africa:

Australia, Belgium, Canada, France, Greece, Ireland, Japan, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, New Zealand, Portugal.

MAY HAVE TO BE A SHOTGUN AFFAIR

Cuban Situation Getting Confused

WASHINGTON (AP)—What seemed simple is sticky. What looked calm is disturbed. And Fidel Castro, who wasn't talked to, became very talkative. That's the story three weeks after the Cuban crisis reached the explosive point.

If the picture isn't completely ugly now, it's far from pretty. In fact, it's a mess. And the reported new offer by Soviet Premier Khrushchev—with many conditions attached—to pull his jet bombers out of Cuba hasn't helped to untangle the situation.

It appeared clear from last month's letter exchange of President Kennedy and Khrushchev that they agreed: 1. Russia would demolish its missile sites in Cuba and take its missiles back home. 2. A U.N. team would conduct on-site inspection in Cuba to be sure Cuba's offensive weapons were truly removed.

BUT ALL THIS apparently was arranged between the President and the premier without asking Castro how he felt about letting U.N. inspectors roam around Cuba. He put in his two cents in a hurry.

When U Thant, the acting U.N. secretary-general went to Cuba to arrange for the inspection, he talked with Castro two days and then returned to New York. His U.N. inspectors returned with him—Castro would have nothing to do with them.

Khrushchev hustled his first deputy premier, Anastas I. Mikoyan, over to see Castro. He's been in Cuba almost two weeks. But what agreement the two men reached, if any, is still not known.

Meanwhile Castro laid down demands of his own without promising anything. He wants the United States not only to end its offensive arms blockade of Cuba but to abandon its naval base at Guantanamo. The United States won't even listen to this.

THE ONLY CHECK on Cuba has been by American planes taking photographs. This country was satisfied the Russians were dismantling the missile bases.

And the U.S. Navy has confirmed that Russian ships have hauled away 42 missile-like objects but the Russians didn't let the Navy see them all individually.

But that's a long way from the U.N. inspection team Kennedy seemed to have in mind for checking in Cuba itself to see that no missiles were left behind for possible use some other rainy day.

So the inspection problem is up in the air. So is another one—the question of bombers.

President Kennedy made it clear to Khrushchev that Soviet jet bombers—as well as Soviet missiles—would have to be removed from the island. But authoritative sources who reported Khrushchev's new offer to take back the planes say that he attached so many "ifs" that a prompt settlement is not seen by U.S. negotiators.

NO ONE IN the United States is pretending to know what happened between Castro and Mikoyan. It looks like a fair bet that Cuban-Russian relations are in a mess, too.

At the United Nations, where Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and his American team have been negotiating with the Russians, there have been no indications of progress.

Kennedy could lend a lot of illumination on all this if he held a news conference and either made a statement or answered questions. But he hasn't held one since Sept. 15—long before the crisis boiled up.

And on top of all this the Kennedy administration appears to be self-conscious about what looked like a presidential pledge not to invade Cuba if the offensive weapons were withdrawn and inspection was permitted.

Why would anyone want to take snuff? There are several reasons. You don't have to light it, filter it or puff it—and it leaves the hands free to work. Second, it is inexpensive. A weekly supply of three ounces costs about 36 cents.

Many of its fans also claim snuff helps clear their sinuses, settle their stomachs and relax their nerves. And, finally snuff doesn't start forest fires or cause explosions in chemical factories.

Snuff precedes the discovery of America," said Gilmartin. "Indians here customarily sniffed it through an eight-inch reed called a cubit."

Explorers brought snuff back to Portugal, Jean Nicot, French ambassador to Lisbon, sent samples home to his queen, Catherine de Medici, who spread the fad through European nobility. Nicot's reward: He gave his name to nicotine.

Snuff comes in two forms—dry and finely powdered, known in the trade as "scotch," and "moist," which is coarse cut. There are some 60 brands, flavored with licorice, clove, cinnamon, wintergreen and other flavoring ingredients. Each manufacturer guards his secret formula as carefully as do the makers of fine whiskeys or Coca-Cola.

So far no one has thought of coming up with a whiskey- or cologne-flavored snuff, thus combining the various markets.

Makeup Minimizes Dark Circles Under Eyes

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Please give me some information on the treatment of dark circles under the eyes. I am 43 and have had a hysterectomy. I have always been a little dark under the eyes but it seems to be getting worse and I am real self-conscious.—MRS. N. N.

I wish people would stop fretting about "dark circles." But I suppose they won't. If the vagaries of feminine cosmetics were to make dark circles stylish, then no doubt I would start getting as many requests for help in acquiring circles as I now get of the opposite.

The operation has nothing to do with the circles. Neither does it have anything to do with circles except indirectly.

The skin of the eyelids is thin. It contains the same pigments (coloring matter) that all skin has, but the prominence of the color can vary considerably. The amount of water in the tissues affects it. Brunettes have more "circle" problem than blondes.

Loss of weight can accentuate the circles. High cheek bones can make the circles more prominent.

If the skin becomes unduly saggy, it is possible to have a tuck taken by plastic surgery, if the matter is of sufficient importance to warrant this.

Where does it come from in the first place? He has gained so much weight, all in his stomach.

MRS. E. H.

He certainly should avoid alcohol—and besides that, he is eating too much, which he absolutely must not do if he expects to keep diabetes under control. There's no "cure" for diabetes, but with proper diet and medication it can be prevented from interfering with ordinary, normal life. For a very complete outline of what to do and what not to do, send 25 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and request my booklet, "Diabetes, the Sneaky Disease" (Such inquiries should be addressed to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald.)

Dear Dr. Molner: My doctor says I have an "enlarged ring" but that I don't have a hernia. What would cause this?—T. S.

There are spaces in the groin called "inguinal rings." It is through these that an inguinal or groin rupture can occur. Sometimes the "ring" can be felt distinctly by an examining doctor, yet there is no hernia. This is a "relaxed inguinal ring." It requires no treatment. And it probably wasn't "caused" by anything.

Troubled with varicose veins? To make sure you are doing all you can to relieve the problem, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald requesting my booklet, "How To Deal With Varicose Veins," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Specialty Of The House

It was a desolate stretch of road in New Mexico. Our road map said it was 91 miles to the next town. It was lunch time so we decided to stop in the tiny town we were passing through.

All the buildings were from a time long past. They looked like those false front buildings in TV westerns. The cafe matched the pattern.

WE WALKED in and the cafe was empty except for a proprietor, a red-faced individual with a white apron, kerchief and folded paper sack hat. The walls were bare and the ceiling was enormously high. The glass case that held up the cash register was also empty, except for three pairs of used cowboy boots, obviously on sale.

He greeted us and indicated a booth, one of three along the wall. There were no menus, but a wide variety of dishes were listed on the rear wall. We began picking and choosing from the list, but he was out of all of them.

"How about a bowl of chili," he asked. My good wife Joyce had laryngitis and was afraid to try it.

THIS ISN'T the kind of chili you are used to," he assured her. "It's got real beef in it, not just a bunch of hot sauce, grease and dog meat." That didn't help her decide.

"Let me give you a sample," he said. He scurried back to the kitchen before she could say no. He was back with a small plate and a spoonful of chili.

Sure enough it wasn't bad and we both had a bowl.

Then a pair of truck drivers came in. They went through a similar exchange with the proprietor and ended up with a bowl of chili. A third couple came in; sure enough, they finally settled on bowls of chili, after exhausting the imposing list of delicacies on the wall.

"I'VE JUST COOKED up a batch," he told them. "I make the best chili there is. The chili business is suffering from those big-city places that mix up some chili peppers and beans and call it chili."

After hearing his spell three times, we finally decided he didn't have anything else in the place but chili. I think the others decided the same thing. But we all ate the chili with gusto. I think one of the truck drivers had seconds, which enormously pleased the little man who was so proud of his chili.

And it was good, as a matter of fact. —V. GLENN COOTES

A Great Opera Personage Returns

A gray-haired woman, full of charm, authority, years and honors, is back at the Metropolitan Opera House, where she reigned in the 'thirties and 'forties, tactfully trying to transfer some of her great know-how to a new generation of stars.

She is the legendary Lotte Lehmann, who has been called "the most aristocratic of artists and the most intelligent." Now, on the eve of her 75th birthday anniversary (Feb. 27, 1963), Mme. Lehmann has been coaxed out of semi-retirement in Santa Barbara, Calif., to help coach Richard Strauss's "Der Rosenkavalier."

IN THIS OPERA she was acclaimed the greatest Marschallin of her generation. Nor has any soprano arisen since Mme. Lehmann's retirement to challenge this appraisal. In beauty of person, voice and performance she ravished a generation of opera-goers.

Still an exceptionally handsome woman, with a serene but animated face, a clear, smooth skin and lively blue eyes, she sat in the suite of her Park Avenue hotel the other day and discussed opera, old and new.

MME. LEHMANN is only amused by all the talk of the "new look" in opera—no temper, no temperament, no clagues, diet-conscious-size-10 prima donnas, and tremendous improvement in acting on the operatic stage. In her opinion, the more opera and opera stars change, the more they are the same.

"First of all, one must make a distinction between temper and temperament," she said, and laughed. "I had both when I was young. I was always in hysterics.

"BUT," SHE ADDED, "I never belonged to the category of prima donnas who throw shoes! No, I never throw shoes or anything else! But opera will always be the same. The strain is constant for a singer.

"We are always haunted by fear of catching a cold, or forgetting a word or even a whole line. My advice to any young person seeking a career in opera is to forget pleasure and to devote himself solely to music.

"IT IS A HARSH life," continued Mme. Lehmann, who was hailed as a queen in opera houses both here and abroad for almost 40 years. "One modern invention has made it even harsher—the airplane. Because the plane annihilates time and space, it encourages a singer to attempt too many engagements.

"From the point of view of the singer, it is a great hardship to fly from one climate to another. And from the point of view of the opera, itself, it discourages ensemble singing, which is the glory of any opera house. Singers don't stay put long enough to be fused into a glorious ensemble as in the old days.

"AS FOR ACTING," Mme. Lehmann went on—and with an amused smile—"no one can say that opera is better acted today than yesterday. I love to see opera well acted. But if it is magnificently sung"—and Mme. Lehmann mentioned a Metropolitan soprano of glorious voice, ample girth and no perceptible gifts as an actress—"who cares how it is acted? If one hears an overwhelming voice, nothing else matters!"

Mme. Lehmann has never been a woman to waste time. Since her retirement in 1951, she has taught music, devoted herself to painting and taken up ceramics. A many-faceted artist she is the author of several books, including poetry, volumes on the art of singing. When she came East, she brought with her a finished manuscript on the life and operas of Richard Strauss, whom she knew well.

"WHEN 'DER Rosenkavalier' is sung next Monday night (Nov. 19), I have been asked to 'take a bow,' said Mme. Lehmann, who has stood before the golden curtain hundreds of times and heard the Met echo and re-echo with applause for her performances. "But after all these years, the very thought makes me feel shy."

Loud But Not Clear

WASHINGTON — "Now take it easy," said Dr. Clarence W. Couchmaster, the nation's psychiatrist, to the writing patient on his couch. "Just tell me once more."

"Whatever it is," hollered Holmgry, "I'm against it. That is, unless I'm for it."

"NATIONS AND their leaders are like that, too," pronounced Dr. Couchmaster. "They suffer from compulsory attitudes. Even when the attitude is against logic and reality, the victims are stuck with it."

"Sometimes I don't want to be for and against everything," roared Holmgry, who always hollers like that. "My friends tell me I'm irrational."

"SO IS KHRUSHCHEV," for example, irrationally for Red China in the present Sino-Indian war. It's a compulsory attitude that Old K. has to take. He's got to be for Communism everywhere, just as Ben Bella of Algeria has to be for anti-imperialism everywhere. You can't expect the leader of an ex-colony to be anything else."

"Doesn't Ben Bella mean it?"

"Not necessarily. He needs Western aid and protection. But he's got to holler against things, as you do, and as Nasser of Egypt has to holler against Israel. These men couldn't stay in power at home if they ever relaxed their compulsory attitudes."

"BUT I DON'T just holler against. Sometimes, I holler for."

"So does Chiang Kai-shek," asserted Dr. Couchmaster, who knows the motives of men and nations. "Old Chiang and his government couldn't exist if they were ever separated from the policy of a return to the Chinese Mainland. No matter how unrealistic it may sound, Nationalist China must stay yoked to the proposition of over-thrrowing Red China. It isn't insincerity, but it isn't a free choice of political position either."

"MEN WITH MY ailment are always sincere," cried Holmgry.

"Not necessarily," repeated Couchmaster. "Adenauer of West Germany probably isn't as strong for All-Germany reunification as he makes out. It couldn't be accomplished without loss of power to himself and prosperity for his country. Reunification would weaken Adenauer's military alliances with the West and enrage his enemies to the East. But he's frozen in the attitude that calls for re-joining Prussia to the rest of the Fatherland, although the get-together swears at Adenauer's membership in the Common Market and his very useful friendship with France."

"SOMETIMES I HOLLER so loud that people can't hear what I say," admitted Holmgry sadly.

"Some of the Latin Americans have the same trouble," nodded Couchmaster in sympathy. "For years the Latins have been striking a belligerent and pious attitude against Yankee intervention in their internal affairs. They have yelled so loud against this that nobody can hear them now that they're spying that the U.S.A. ought to throw internal Communism out of Cuba. In one breath, the Latins shouted that they don't want the Alliance for Progress if it means domination by North American interests. But lately, they've been shouting that the Alliance for Progress is no good unless the Yankee dollar drives out the Red subversion and Russian-oriented socialism. These compulsory attitudes make their victims very inconsistent and often make them inarticulate."

"NOBODY LISTENS to guys like me," wailed Holmgry. "The more I holler, the less I'm heard."

"That may be your salvation," replied Dr. Couchmaster soothingly. "It may be the world's solution, too. The world might be better off if we didn't pay too much attention to bellows against anti-imperialism, threats of war by dictators who haven't any idea of waging it, statesmen whose false positions are transparently phony, agitators who say one thing and mean another."

"But will guys like me ever quit hollering?" asked Holmgry.

"Not till the laws of human nature are amended," was the sagacious reply of Dr. Clarence W. Couchmaster. "But it would do you good to find out that nobody's listening very hard."

Livestock In Capital

A herd of cattle moves along the main street of Vaduz, capital of the tiny principality of Liechtenstein in the center of Europe. In the background is the Vaduz City Hall. Vaduz has no railroad station and, though international trains pass through Liechtenstein, they don't bother to mention it in timetables, much less stop. Liechtenstein has 17,125 residents but it has no daily newspapers, no airport, no customs officials, no army—and uses Swiss francs for money.

Liechtenstein: A Tiny, Tidy Nation

By LOYAL GOULD
VADUZ, Liechtenstein (AP)—There's no railroad station in this capital of the principality of Liechtenstein. International trains pass through the country but don't stop. Liechtenstein has no daily newspapers, no airports, no customs officials, no army.

With 17,125 residents, Liechtenstein is a cozy country that has survived the wars and turmoil that have swept Europe for centuries.

"Things are going topsy-turvy most everywhere else," says farmer Frederick Oepel, "but we hope to go on living pretty much as we have in the past without too much worry about the outside world."

FEW TOURISTS

The Liechtensteins have not developed tourist attractions. "You're welcome to come here," said farmer Gunther Vogel, "but we don't go out of our way to get you here."

Liechtenstein lies in the center of Europe. Covering 62 square miles, it stretches 17 miles north to south and about 7 miles east to west at its widest point.

The Austrian princes of Liechtenstein bought the territory from two other bankrupt noblemen and founded the state in 1713.

Switzerland and Austria are immediate neighbors. The Swiss supply border guards, diplomatic representation abroad, and use of their currency. From the Austrians come the lion's share of the legal system plus rich pastries and meat dishes swimming in cream sauces.

TWO LOYALTIES

Most of their German-speaking Swiss neighbors are Protestants, but the Liechtensteins, like the Austrians, are largely Roman Catholics.

"Our heads are with the Swiss but our hearts with the Austrians," says Mrs. Joseph Rheinberger, 80, a farmer's wife. Every village is a picture of compromise—Swiss cleanliness on the outside but an atmosphere of relaxed Austrian comfort inside. The ruling monarch is Franz Joseph II. A shy, retiring man of 56, the prince lives in a castle atop a hill on the outskirts of Vaduz. He owns the castle and the surrounding acre or so of land, plus vineyards.

LIMITED RIGHTS

His rights are limited. Liechtenstein's 15-member Parliament, which his grandfather set up in 1921, sees to that. Aside from opening and closing Parliament, signing measures approved by Parliament and okaying the law maker's choice of prime minister, he grants amnesties and bestows titles on deserving subjects.

The prince controls a large share of the wine industry, which produces red and white vaduzer. Little of it is left to send abroad after Liechtenstein consumers buy theirs—at $2.50 a bottle.

The income the prince derives from industrial and farm holdings in Western Europe is substantial but not enough to let him live extravagantly.

The prince receives not a penny of government funds and pays no taxes, but his subjects look to him in times of need. When a widow's barn burned down and her cows were lost, the prince's family supplied money for a new barn and a new herd of cows. After the last war when the treasury was short, the prince's family helped pay for new roads.

STAMP INCOME

The Swiss let Liechtenstein turn out stamps despite its incorporation with the Swiss postal system. The sale of limited editions to collectors provides a tidy income—exactly how much is a secret.

Liechtenstein's specialty is the registration of foreign companies whose directors need not reside in this country of reasonable taxes. No list of these is ever published, discretion being part of the service offered. Government officials say 5,000-6,000 such firms are signed up for an annual fee of $100-150 each.

"These fees help build our roads and schools and keep work going in government house," said Oswald Keller, a storekeeper.

Government house is the three-story capital. The 12-man police force and the Interior Ministry occupy the ground floor. The infrequently used jail is in the basement.

NO PENALTY HERE

The Finance Ministry and the Treasury are in Room 26. On either side are the agricultural ministry and the office of Prime Minister Gerard Balliner. The Supreme Court takes up Room 35 with Parliament in Room 39.

Balliner, one of three full-time government ministers, is a member of the country's largest party, the Citizens party. The other party, the Union, is likewise Roman Catholic and conservative.

Before the last war, 80 per cent of the Liechtensteins lived from farming. Only 12 per cent do today. The others have gone to work in new metal plants and in factories making false teeth and artificial sausage skins.

The Richmond Junior Chamber of Commerce built the wall to emphasize the contrast between divided Europe and America.

A National Guard tank will knock down the wall at 5 p.m. today and a squad of infantrymen will make a symbolic charge through the ruins.

Clark Receives Winner's Prize

C. J. Clark was presented with a desk set Monday evening when Downtown Lions observed their chicken and chili dinner following the annual lightbulb sale.

Clark's division set the pace in the citywide sale. Lions jackets or T shirts were presented to the top salesmen on the various teams.

Inducted into the membership of the club were Harlan H. Hulbrege and Ed Clark.

The affair was held at the Howard County Student Union SUB, and James Tidwell, president, was in charge of the meeting. Wives of the members were honored guests and shared with their husband the menu of chicken or chili, depending on how the Lions fared in sales.

Richmond's 'Berlin Wall' Takes A Little Shellacking

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP)—Richmond's model of the Berlin wall remained a slightly marred tourist attraction Wednesday after a wayward truck and a firecracker assault.

Shortly before daybreak, a west-bound tank truck, running too close, knocked half a dozen concrete blocks off the short wall blocking part of the sidewalk on the north side of Main Street—U.S. 40.

National Guardsmen were posted along the street to keep other vehicles away from the six-foot wall across the middle of the street and the smaller barricades on the sidewalks.

During the night, a group of youths threw firecrackers at the wall from the top of a nearby building. They caused no damage.

A block away, in what the signs proclaimed the city's "Eastern Zone," city employees were busy erecting big Christmas candles on street standards.

The Richmond Junior Chamber of Commerce built the wall to emphasize the contrast between divided Europe and America.

A National Guard tank will knock down the wall at 5 p.m. today and a squad of infantrymen will make a symbolic charge through the ruins.
