Choate, Cox Named To Two Offices

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, announced Saturday that he has appointed Wade Choate, district court clerk, to the post of Howard County auditor, succeeding Lee Porter, present auditor, Jan. 1. On that date Porter becomes county judge.

At the same time, Judge Caton announced that he had named M. F. Fern Cox, present chief deputy on Sheriff Miller Harris' staff,

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

This is "makeup polio Sunday." A clinic is being maintained this afternoon at Runnels Junior High for all to obtain type I of the Sabin polio vaccine. There are at least 20,000 in Howard and Glasscock Counties who missed out last Sunday and who owe it to themselves and their fellow citizens to take advantage of a second chance today. Incidentally, some of communities outside of Big Spring had a much better response last week than we did. For instance, Coahoma had 2,064 instead of an expected 1,500. In all, 22,729 took the vaccine.

Our United Fund is so close to success that it must be made to succeed. There are scores upon scores who have not been contacted but who ought to give. All you have to do is mail a check or pledge to United Fund. Almost everyone is able to give something, and without valid reason, those who don't are simply taking a free ride off their neighbors when it comes to support of a dozen worthy agencies.

There has never been a Steer football team that displayed as much fire and determination as this year's squad. Their upset Friday of Abilene was magnificent, and you'd have to include perhaps a dozen linemen and half a dozen backs as stars. Just give us 48 minutes more of that kind of ball. (See THE WEEK, Page 8-A, Col. 3)

DISCARDED TOYS NEEDED

Big Spring firemen are ready to set about their annual big-hearted chore of renovating toys to be distributed to poor children at Christmas.

They need the toys to work with.

Please search your place, and if you have playthings that your children have outgrown or forgotten, please take them to the nearest fire station or the nearest Couden service station.

Please don't bring "junk," but items that can be made usable with reasonable work.

Now is the time. Your cooperation will be appreciated.

Winter Cold Slows Various City Activities

Saturday was the first really cold day of winter and today is forecast to be another just like it—only colder.

The temperature was supposed to drop to about 28 degrees during the night and not get above 45 degrees today.

The low reading Saturday morning was 36 degrees and the mercury barely tipped 42 degrees during the day.

The unforeseen cold snap kept visitors away from the New Car Show in downtown Big Spring Saturday, however a few residents made the tour of the bright, shiny cars during the day. Show representatives reported attendance was low, however.

The 4-H Club Achievement Day events at the fair barns was observed although there were many gloved and pocketed hands during the program. Heavy jackets and coats were in evidence everywhere, and anti-freeze dealers were enjoying a landoffice business.

The new cold front rolled in Friday and has steadily grown colder.

Forecast for the area is for cloudy and continued cold through Monday with a chance of some rain mixed with freezing drizzle and snow Sunday.

Freeze warnings were issued for a large area of the state, from the Panhandle to Southwest Texas, for Saturday and Sunday nights, including the Big Spring area.

Guantanamo Guns Practice

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—The thunder of artillery boomed across Guantanamo Bay Saturday as Marine batteries test-fired their big guns for the first time since the United States clamped an arms blockade on Cuba on Oct. 22.

Along the fence that separates this U.S. Navy base from Communist Cuba, the boom of the 105mm guns punctuated the steady rumble of digging and building as Leathernecks toughened their defensive positions on the steep hillside.

On the other side of the barrier, khaki-clad Cuban sentries watched and waited.

The Marines called the booming artillery practice routine. For nearly an hour, the Marines' big guns fired shells harmlessly into tidal flats off the base. In combat, the jeep-hauled weapons can boom a 37-pound shell up to 8 1/2 miles.

Mounted antitank weapons, concealed in the scrubby, cactus-pocked woodlands, also ringed the base. The crews that handle these 105mm recoilless rifles live in tents beside the weapons.

Spencer A. Wells, President Of Hemphill-Wells Co., Dies

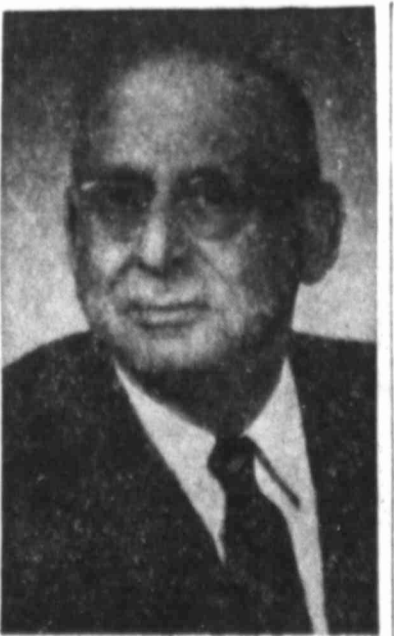

Spencer A. Wells, president of Hemphill-Wells Company and one of the area's most widely known merchants and civic leaders, died at 7:45 a.m. Saturday in West Texas Hospital at Lubbock. He was 76.

Funeral services will be at 3 p.m. Sunday at the First Christian Church in Lubbock, with Dr. Dudley Strain, pastor, officiating. Burial will be at 11 a.m. Monday in Fairmount Cemetery in San Angelo.

Hemphill-Wells stores here, in Lubbock and in San Angelo, will be closed until noon Monday in his memory.

Mr. Wells had been in ill health almost six years and was an invalid much of that time, but he kept in touch with business associates on matters vital to the company. He was a bachelor and had no immediate survivors.

Pallbearers will be Grady Mitcham, Scottie R. Johnson and Guy Rutherford, of San Angelo; Lewis H. Price and Randall Polk of Big Spring; and Bill Collins, B. E. Rushing Jr., J. Culver Hill and Louis E. Griffin, all of Lubbock. All are Hemphill-Wells directors.

SPENCER A. WELLS

was in high school. His father, Wallace B. Wells, a merchant, died when his son was eight years old, and the mother died about three years later. Wells and his sister, the late Mrs. H. A. Wimberly of San Angelo, were reared by an aunt and uncle.

Panhandle Gets Snow; More Coming

By The Associated Press

The first snow of the season—in some areas up to eight inches deep—blanketed almost all the Texas Panhandle Saturday, bringing smiles to faces of moisture-shy ranchers and wheat farmers.

The weather bureau said there was more to come Sunday.

Amarillo, in the middle of the whitened area, had eight inches by late afternoon but the snow had slacked to a misty fall. Borger received seven inches.

Highways in most areas were slick, but not iced over during the early evening. However, at least two deaths were caused by the weather.

Paul Graham, 23, Clovis, N.M., and Julian Garza, 32, of near Farwell, Tex., died when their cars collided near Farwell in a drizzle and fog.

Snowfall which occurred on the fringe of a storm which covered the Plains states, generally ranged from three to four inches. It stretched from border to border on an east-west line and brought sleet as far south as Lubbock on the South Plains.

Northern Panhandle wheat farmers called the snowfall "something just short of a million dollar snow." Many areas had not received moisture of any kind for two months.

They had watched growing wheat sap the surface moisture and ranchers had started to reduce fall pasturing of cattle. They said a few days of sunshine plus the moisture should put pastures back in prime condition.

Agriculture-wise, the only frowns came on the faces of cotton farmers. However, the precipitation is not expected to damage cotton severely if no more large amounts fall.

A lack of strong winds kept the snow from blowing into drifts that could have proved troublesome to travelers on streets and highways.

At Amarillo, where large, wet flakes began to fall about 4 a.m. Saturday, an outbreak of minor traffic accidents occurred on slippery streets.

The snow was sticky and clung to trees, causing some fears to arise that limbs might become cracked.

Conspirators Include 3 In U.N. Mission

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI cracked down Saturday on a pro-Castro Cuban sabotage conspiracy against the United States. Agents arrested three persons, including one Cuban United Nations attaché, and seized a small arsenal of explosives.

Two other members of the Cuban mission to the United Nations, a husband and wife, were named as conspirators and furnishers of the explosives but were not arrested because of diplomatic immunity.

The U.S. delegation to the United Nations quickly asked for their recall to Cuba, saying their actions were a most flagrant abuse of the privilege of residence in this country.

The government accused the three under arrest of conspiring to gather information on U.S. military installations and to destroy national defense materials, premises and utilities in New York.

Further details were not given.

Seized in a morning raid on a Manhattan shop were six French delayed-action incendiary bombs.

Time Running Out On Bombers Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is seeking a prompt, decisive reply from Soviet Premier Khrushchev on removal from Cuba of about 30 jet bombers capable of delivering nuclear bombs against U.S. targets.

Kennedy is reported to have made clear to Moscow through diplomatic channels that for the United States time is running out on the bomber issue and the Soviet government should make its position known without delay.

Officials said the President has not fixed any time limit for new moves if the jets are not taken out of Cuba but it was considered significant in official quarters that the President has set a news conference—his first since Sept. 13—for 6:00 p.m. EST next Tuesday.

Authorities said it seems obvious that when he goes before the American people to make a report on the Cuban situation at that time he will want to have uncertainty over the bomber issue cleared up.

If Khrushchev has by then refused to make good on his commitment of Oct. 28 to take out of Cuba the weapons Kennedy considered offensive, the President, it is understood, may order new measures to deal with the situation. Among those under consideration is a blockade ban on shipment of petroleum products to Cuba. This would deny jet fuel for the planes.

Increasing the strain on U.S. patience in dealing with Cuba was the discovery that pro-Castro Cubans in New York had built up a secret supply of weapons and explosives, apparently intended for purposes of sabotage.

The FBI announced Saturday seizure of the cache of explosives and the arrest of three Cubans, including a newly arrived member of Cuba's U.N. delegation.

Two other Cuban U.N. officials were said by the FBI to be involved in the conspiracy and the United States formally asked Cuba to recall them at once. They are shielded from arrest by diplomatic immunity.

The long deadlock over the Il-yushin 28 bombers is at the heart of the new period of tension now developing in the Cuban crisis. But it is only one of the two major elements.

The other is Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's threat made public Friday to shoot at U.S. planes which are flying reconnaissance missions over Cuba.

U.S. officials evidently are counting on Khrushchev to restrain Castro from what could be considered both in Washington and Moscow as rash and very dangerous action.

The United States has given notice that the flights will be continued regardless of what Castro does about them and if he uses force against U.S. reconnaissance air craft the United States will take immediate, forceful counter-action.

Still another element in this present critical period of the dispute is the apparent windup of the mysterious mission to Havana of Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, a close associate of Khrushchev. Mikoyan flew to Havana two weeks ago for what U.S. officials—and evidently Soviet officials also—thought would be a long weekend of talks, during which he would tell Castro to accept Khrushchev's commitment to the removal of nuclear missiles.

But Mikoyan stayed on for one full week and then another. Khrushchev rushed through a nuclear retreat from Cuba at high speed and the U.S. Navy by partial observation last weekend confirmed the shipment back across the Atlantic of 42 missile-shaped objects. The Russians said these 42 were all they had sent in.

Saturday a dispatch from Havana reported Mikoyan's Soviet airliner to have been checked out for flight and put on a standby basis at the Havana airport.

Championship Game Tickets To Go On Sale

Reserve seat tickets for the Big Spring-San Angelo championship football game, which will be played in San Angelo Friday night, will go on sale at the School Business Office to season ticket holders at 9 a.m. Monday. The tickets are priced at $1.50 each.

Those not sold Monday will be made available to the general public starting at 9 a.m. Tuesday. The ticket office will be open again Wednesday, will close Thursday due to the Thanksgiving holiday, but will reopen Friday until noon.

A thousand adult and as many student tickets were sent here and San Angelo officials have indicated to Don Crockett of the local schools that another 900 adult tickets can be forwarded if needed.

The San Angelo stadium seats slightly in excess of 12,000, but standing room tickets will be available, if the emergency arises. The game is expected to be a sell-out.

Indians In Crucial Battle Against Reds

NEW DELHI (AP)—Indian troops fled southward. The broadcast claimed Indian troops were "smashed" late Friday when they were unable to hold their lines under Chinese counterattacks.

The agency said the Chinese launched their counterattack in answer to an artillery barrage in which the Indians fired 2,000 shells into Communist positions around Walong early Friday.

The agency said Indian forces had launched fierce attacks on Communist positions near Jang and Leuketula, south of the Towang River, about 300 miles west of Walong. A Chinese broadcast said the Indians attacked under cover of heavy shelling between 3 p.m. Friday and 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

An Indian spokesman gave a different version, saying the Chinese attacked at Jang and were repulsed four times.

The fighting around Walong appeared the more crucial. Indian commanders fear a Chinese breakthrough could give the Communists easy passage down into the plains of upper Assam State, where India has its main oil installations.

The Defense Ministry spokesman said fierce fighting was in progress. The Chinese counterattack began Thursday after Indian forces had made attacks in the area to keep the Chinese from consolidating positions.

He said the Indian forces still held Walong and presumably the airstrip south of the village.

Fighting has been mostly on steep mountain sides on the right bank of the Luhit River.

Nixon Apparently Out Of Politics

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, in his first public statement since losing California's election for governor, confirmed Saturday that he doesn't plan to run again for public office.

In telegrams received by several newspapers, Nixon declared the California race was "my last campaign for public office."

300 Turn Out For 4-H Event Despite Weather

Howard County's annual 4-H Achievement Day came in blustery, damp, and cold, but around 300 club members and parents turned out for the events at the county fair barns Saturday.

Hands were shaky as youngsters entered in the showmanship contest, put their animals through their paces, and as the speakers held the microphone, but the show went on.

Highlight of the day was the awarding of ribbons and pins to 4-H Club members in recognition of work done during the year.

A free barbecue dinner was served to more than 300 in the fair barn and the hot coffee flowed freely to combat the weather man's falling temperature.

Delbert Downing, former chamber of commerce manager of Midland, was the speaker for the day and he spoke primarily to boys and girls.

"I would like to encourage each of you to enter the field of learning with an open mind, and to learn more than one thing," he said. "Learn landscaping, architecture, and art, all in general. You would learn it, not with the idea of using it, but with the idea of appreciating what the other fellow has to do and nothing progress being made.

"Open the door of literature." Downing continued, "because all romance of things we know have been preserved in literature. Let it become known to you. Do not tie yourself to one thing and forget all else because that one thing is what you are now interested in."

"Take the 'zero' for instance. It was once against the law in Europe to use it because it represented nothing. Because in some things it represented nothing the ruling heads outlawed it because it meant the worship of nothing. It meant little to them that the

Newest Adjunct To Office Of Sheriff

Sea Scout Ship Works With Local Sheriff's Department

A new adjunct to the office of Miller Harris, sheriff of Howard County, is now in service—Sea Scout Ship No. 136, Rescue Unit. This unusual vehicle, formerly with the Civil Defense but now officially part of the sheriff's organization, is Unit 28 on the records and features a station wagon, bought by the young members of the Sea Scout troop, which is rigged with equipment to be used in rescue operations.

COSDEN'S TROOP
The Sea Scout ship is under the aegis of Cosden Petroleum Corp. C. Roy Wright, a Cosden employee, is skipper of the ship. The organization meets each Monday night at the court house.

Officials of the ship are Jim Pierce, Roger Parker, Bill Whitworth, Rufus Rowland, and Weldon Self, mates; Robert Clay, boatswain; James Beckham, yeoman; Billy Clements and Tommy Bacus, crew leaders; Bill Clements, and Robert Clay, cabinet members.

The ship has $1,404 invested in equipment and this was supplied by the boys which includes the car, a radio, hydraulic rescue kit, stretcher basket, halligan tool, fire ax, camera and other material useable in times of emergency. The ship has three crews assigned.

Crew one is composed of Bill Clements, Tommy Bacus, Robert Clay, Tommy Parker, James Beckham, Larry Jones and Tommy Hines.

CREW TWO
Crew two members are Roger Parker, Rufus Rowland, Ronnie Berrell, C. A. Hines, Billy Smelser, Delmar Simpson, Roger Gammans, Deats Beard, and Chip Sweeney. Crew three is presently composed of James Merrick and Weldon Self.

The ship is an activity in Boy

Scout work for older boys. The ship here was formed in April, 1957, from the Explorer Scouts organization at Sand Springs. Marshall Day was the first skipper. A year later, the name was changed and Carroll Choate became the leader. In 1960, C. Roy Wright became skipper. In May, 1960, the ship dedicated itself to rescue work and began a highly specialized training program in that field.

The ship was at that time under the sponsorship of the Howard County Civil Defense and in its earlier period participated in a number of rescue activities. It helped in drowning incidents, hunted lost children, worked with weather observation programs.

ADDING EQUIPMENT
The boys purchased the present vehicle to replace the old car originally supplied by the sponsor. They are constantly adding to their equipment. They need ropes, oxygen tanks, hammers, wrecking bars, jacks and other tools and pieces of equipment.

"We will add them just as rapidly as we can," said Wright. Back of the ship and its crew is a sizeable organization.

J. Y. Smith is the institutional representative; Holly Grifford, neighborhood commissioner; Robert Long, committee chairman; M. A. Lilly, Lee Roy Wright, H. C. Wallin, Theo Earnest, John Hill and Fred Beckham, committee men.

Wright has two chief mates—J. B. Hall and James Merrick. His associate mates are L. A. Hiltbrunner, Walter Eubanks, Lindy Oldfield, Robert Dugan, Sam Fuller, Alvie Harrison, Red Williams, Paul Solden and Gordon Cizon.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Private Flying Takes A Dive

By M. A. WEBB

Things have been quiet around Howard County Airport for several days, Ted McClung, manager, said Friday. The weather, for all but two days out of 15, has been excellent for flying, but little flying, except for local flights, has been logged.

Jack Porter has started his training for a pilots license with Howard County Airport for several days, Ted McClung, manager, said Friday. The weather, for all but two days out of 15, has been excellent for flying, but little flying, except for local flights, has been logged.

Lloyd flew Malcolm Patterson, Tommy Gage, and Bob Middleton to Bander Thursday for the funeral of Toots Mansfield's mother. The group went in the First National Bank's Aztec.

Ted McClung took Bruce Frazier and two sons to San Antonio early in the week where Frazier attended the Farm Bureau state convention. They made the flight in Big Spring Aircraft's Comanche. Dr. Clyde Thomas and family were taken to Galveston Sunday, with Lloyd flying them down in the Comanche.

Representatives of Kimbell Wholesale Co. flew in to Howard County Airport Friday afternoon in the company's Beech Super 18 twin-engine craft. Two aircraft from the airport have been going steady for several days. They are Paul Kasch in his Comanche and Fred Kasch in his Aztec.

Flying Club activity has been less than normal during the week. Webb Aero Club's Tri-Pacer is down for installation of a new engine. Flying in the Piper Colt after its 100-hour check were: Delaney, Hearstall (2), C. R. Curtis (4), Roberts, Harvey (2), and Tierson. The Cessna was flown by: Hearstall (2), Skip, Wiesmantle, and Dowleary, the latter on a cross country over the weekend.

Big Spring Flying Club members using the Colt were: Al Eldridge (2), Buster Weaver, M. Porter (2), Bill Lewis (7), Thomas, John Stanley, Toby Cook (2), Norton, and Joe Clark.

The Big Spring Flying Club, Inc. has openings for some additional members in order to justify a new four-place aircraft. The cost, per member, to buy in now is $117.50. Monthly cost is $10.50 and flying time costs $5 per hour. Flying time cost, in the club, is less than one-half the cost outside the club.

GOD WITH US

By T. H. Tarbet, Preacher
Church of Christ, 2906 West Highway 80
P. O. Box 1283

"Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us" (Mat. 1:23).

Nature, which is one of God's books, shows God above us.

The Old Testament, which was God's only written book before Christ, shows God against us. The old law was against us, and Christ blotted it out. "Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to the cross" (Col. 2: 14). It showed God against us because it showed how exceedingly sinful was sin; and did not provide the adequate remedy. This was left for Christ. So now, The gospel of Christ shows God with us, and for us.

Our great blessing today is the Lord Jesus Christ, which is God with us. When the end comes, our great blessing will be, us with God for eternity.

Be with us today; learn more about Christ, and how to make Him your Lord and Savior. Sermons: "Death in the Pot" (10:30 a.m.); "A Biblical and Christ-centered Religion" (7 p.m.)—Adv.

C-City Council Accepts Paving

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Colorado City Council held a special meeting Friday afternoon to accept approximately 30 blocks of paving done by the Cen-Tex Paving Company during the summer and fall.

James Dailey, of San Antonio, president of the firm, in explaining his company's failure to reach the city's goal of 50 blocks of assessment type paving, said that he had met more opposition from Colorado City residents in signing them up for paving than he had encountered in any other city in which his company has worked.

The council approved an ordinance accepting the paving in the amount of $75,541, with a half block apparently paved by mistake, still under discussion. Mayor H. I. Berman and Dailey agreed to discuss further whether the city should pay for the paving, or the contractor or the bond holding company or whether the cost of the approximately $800 should be shared. The half block, just off 13th Street, was apparently paved without orders from the city or the bonding company. Paving liens will be filed on the four homeowners involved in an attempt to make future recovery of the money.

Engineer H. B. Reaves, presented a bill from the Lubbock firm of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper for approximately $6,800 in fees in connection with engineering done on the streets, the alleys, and a chlorinator at the city's water treatment plant. His bill was approved.

back to look over prospects for locating a store there for the Baker-Hemphill Company. He and the late M. L. Price, treasurer of the firm and the father of Lewis Price of Big Spring, opened a Hemphill-Price store in Lubbock Oct. 22, 1922. Mr. Wells sold shoes, men's clothing, wrote the store's advertising, arranged window displays and did much of the buying.

Within a few years he was made vice president and general manager and the company's name was changed to Hemphill-Wells. In 1937 he became president of the company.

In 1946, the company purchased the Albert M. Fisher store in Big Spring, and today it operates five units—the one here, downtown stores in San Angelo and Lubbock, and suburban units in those two cities.

When World War II came, Mr. Wells volunteered and was re-commissioned as a captain of infantry. He was promoted to the rank of major, served in the Inspector-General's Department until after V-J day.

Mr. Wells made frequent visits to Big Spring before his health failed, and was well known here. His major interests, of course, were in Lubbock, and he ranked as one of that city's foremost civic and business leaders.

He was one of those who helped obtain Texas Technological College for Lubbock, and served on the college's board of directors from 1936 to 1943. He was both vice chairman and chairman, and his long years of association with the college was one of his proudest personal achievements. A resolution in recognition of his services to the college was adopted by the board in 1943, and only last year, a new men's dormitory at Tech was named for him.

Mr. Wells always urged and helped young people to obtain all the education possible. He employed hundreds of Tech students through the years, but kept his philanthropies closely to himself.

He formerly served as president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and as a director of the Board of City Development. He also was a vice president and a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He was the first "Chief Goodfellow" in Lubbock, and was always active in charity drives. He also was an active Rotarian, and a member of the Christian Church.

In recent years he had served as a director of the Texas Tech Foundation, and of the Western Fire & Indemnity Co. at Lubbock.

son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Choate, pioneer residents of the county. He is a graduate of Coahoma High School. He then attended Howard County Junior College for two years. Draughon's Business College in Abilene for one year and Southern Methodist University. He majored in business administration in all of these schools. He was a student at SMU when the late Judge Charlie Sullivan appointed him clerk Sept. 11, 1956.

He is married to the former Toni Barron. They live at 611 Tulane, and have one son, Kyle. Choate is active in the YMCA. He has been twice elected to the post of district clerk and has a new four-year term slated to begin Jan. 1.

APPRECIATION

He said he regretted leaving the office of clerk and voiced appreciation to Howard County citizens for their confidence in selecting him to fill that post.

"I accepted Judge Caton's appointment as auditor," said Choate, "because I feel that I can do a better service for the county and for the county government in that post. I am grateful to Judge Caton for his confidence."

Cox was born in Glasscock County July 9, 1923. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cox, widely known ranching family of that county. He attended Garden City High School and after graduation enrolled in a business college in San Angelo for a year. He then engaged in ranching and continued in that work (with the exception of the time he was in the U. S. Armed Forces) until 1954.

He came to Big Spring in that year to be office deputy for Sheriff Jess Slaughter. He held that post a year.

BECAME DEPUTY

When Miller Harris was elected sheriff in 1957, Cox became civil deputy on his staff. About four years ago, he became chief deputy sheriff and held that post since.

He is married to the former Miss Marion Jackson. They live on the Andrews Highway at the northwest edge of the city. The Cox's have one daughter. They are members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Cox said that he was deeply appreciative for the confidence shown in him by Judge Caton.

"I will do my best to justify that confidence," said Cox. "I assure the public I will conduct the office of district clerk on the same high level of efficiency and courtesy that it has enjoyed under Wade Choate's administration."

PLEASED

Sheriff Miller Harris said he was pleased that his deputy had been selected for the office.

"It is a promotion that he well deserves and I wish him good luck," said the sheriff.

Lee Porter, county judge-elect, also voiced satisfaction at the selections made for the two posts by the judge.

"I congratulate Choate and Cox," said Porter. "I am happy they will be associated with the county government in their new posts. I think the judge made excellent selections."

Outdoor Work At Fast Clip On Texas Farms, Ranches

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — With frost, nippy mornings and pleasant afternoons, outdoor work moved at a brisk rate on Texas farms and ranches last week.

The succession of cool fronts, however, has dried out surfaces and increased the need for rain, Director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says.

The cotton harvest has picked up in the west and northwest. Livestock is in favorable condition in all areas except for the drier areas and those hit by armyworms.

Moisture is now generally short in the upper Panhandle and wheat needs rain. The grain sorghum harvest is near completion. Cattle and ranges are in good condition.

Frosts have covered the northern part of the South Plains and stripping has started on defoliated cotton. Most sorghums and soybeans have been making good progress, but rust is showing up in some areas. Lettuce and carrots are being harvested. The big push on the cotton harvest is yet to come.

Moisture is adequate in the Rolling Plains and wheat is responding. The cotton harvest is at a slow pace with 40 to 50 percent of the crop still in the field. Some farmers are waiting for a defoliating frost. Wheat grazing is available and cattle are being brought into the district for grazing. Leaf rust damage to wheat has been reported from three counties.

Scattered showers fell over North Central Texas last week. Grains are making good growth. The cotton harvest is now about over. Ranges are providing good grazing and livestock are in good condition.

Rains were general last week throughout Northeast Texas and the cotton harvest was delayed. Grains have made good growth. Some grasses are drying from the light frost but pastures were average. Livestock are in good condition and the marketing is strong.

A general rain is needed in far West Texas where the first general freeze and light frost were reported. The cotton harvest is in full swing and irrigated grains are furnishing grazing. Range and livestock conditions are fair to good.

Moisture is short in most counties of West Central Texas. The cotton harvest is past the midway point while many farmers are waiting for a frost in order to harvest with strippers. Grains are being replanted in the Boerne area due to armyworm damage. The peanut harvest is slow. Range and livestock conditions are fair to good with the number of screwworm cases declining.

Moisture in Central Texas is adequate except in the southeast counties but a good rain would help. Oats are furnishing light grazing; winter grasses are showing up and livestock are normal. The peanut yield is fair to good.

A general rain is needed in South Central Texas for flax and oat plantings and to revive ranges. Livestock conditions are poor to fair to good depending upon local moisture and armyworm damage. Warm weather and moisture would help the grazing situation.

Harvesting of all crops in the southeast and upper Gulf Coast district is about complete. Some second crop rice still is in the fields. Early oats are furnishing good grazing but some armyworm trouble is reported. Most stalks have now been destroyed and farmers are bedding and preparing land. Some late oats are being planted. Pastures are fading but still good.

Coastal cattle are being moved to winter pastures.

All counties in far South Texas need rain. A limited acreage of flax has been planted. Harvesting of green peppers and cucumbers is on. A small amount of citrus has been harvested to date. The condition of livestock are generally fair.

Moisture in East Texas ranges from short to very short and pastures from average to below. Livestock are generally in good condition but some are losing weight. A total of 119 cases of screwworm were reported for the week.

Domestic Peace Corps Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration is ready to set up a task force to determine whether it should launch a domestic Peace Corps.

President Kennedy has tossed the idea around for some time and mentioned it in speeches.

He is now at the point of preliminary action through appointment of a Cabinet-level committee to explore the possibilities and make recommendations, government officials reported.

Should the committee recommend going ahead, the required legislation probably would be sent to the new session of Congress.

The domestic Peace Corps, probably under some other name, would send volunteer recruits to help towns and cities with all sorts of social problems.

Communities would have to ask for help—it would not be thrust upon them—as the administration now envisions the plan.

Sturdy Borden County Jail To Get Historical Medallion

By SAM BLACKBURN

There was an acute need for a jail in Gall in the early months of 1896 and the Borden County Commissioners acted to meet that need.

If the minutes, painstakingly written in ink and still legible, are correct, the commission awarded a contract for a new jail in February and got around to the matter of voting bonds to pay for the pocky three months later.

That same sturdy jail, now heading into its 67th year of existence, is still the official prison of Borden County and it is just as rugged and jail-break proof today as it was when Diebold Safe and Lock Co., Canton, Ohio, first turned the big old key over the Sheriff Tom Love.

SINCE 1937

Sid Reeder, present sheriff of Borden County, who has held that post since 1937, keeps the jail clean and in good repair. It is true, he admits, there are relatively few occasions when the little native stone building just east of the Borden County Court House has a tenant. However, when a jail cell is needed, Borden County has three on hand and when a law-breaker is locked inside he's almost 100 per cent sure to be there when Sheriff Reeder goes back next day to check on him.

"It's a mighty tough jail to break out of," observes Reeder. "In fact, if you are locked in the cages inside and all of the other doors are fastened, I don't believe you can break out."

The jail will continue to serve Borden County for a long time to come.

However, it's age and historic interest has now been duly recognized and soon the Texas State Historical Survey Committee will mark the building with one of the Historical Building Medallions.

PRESENTATION
Sheriff Reeder, who gathered the history of the little jail for the state committee, has not been advised when the presentation is to be made. John Ben Sheppard, chairman of committee, visited Gall recently and was escorted on a tour of the jail.

Borden County was organized in 1891, carved out of a corner of old Bexar County. At that time, Gall, the county seat, was a thriving little town.

"Old timers have told me that in the early years of the county's history," Reeder recalls, "the entire court house block was encircled by business houses."

There was a time, for example, when the block to the north featured a two story hotel building, two busy saloons, a drug store, and several other merchandising establishments.

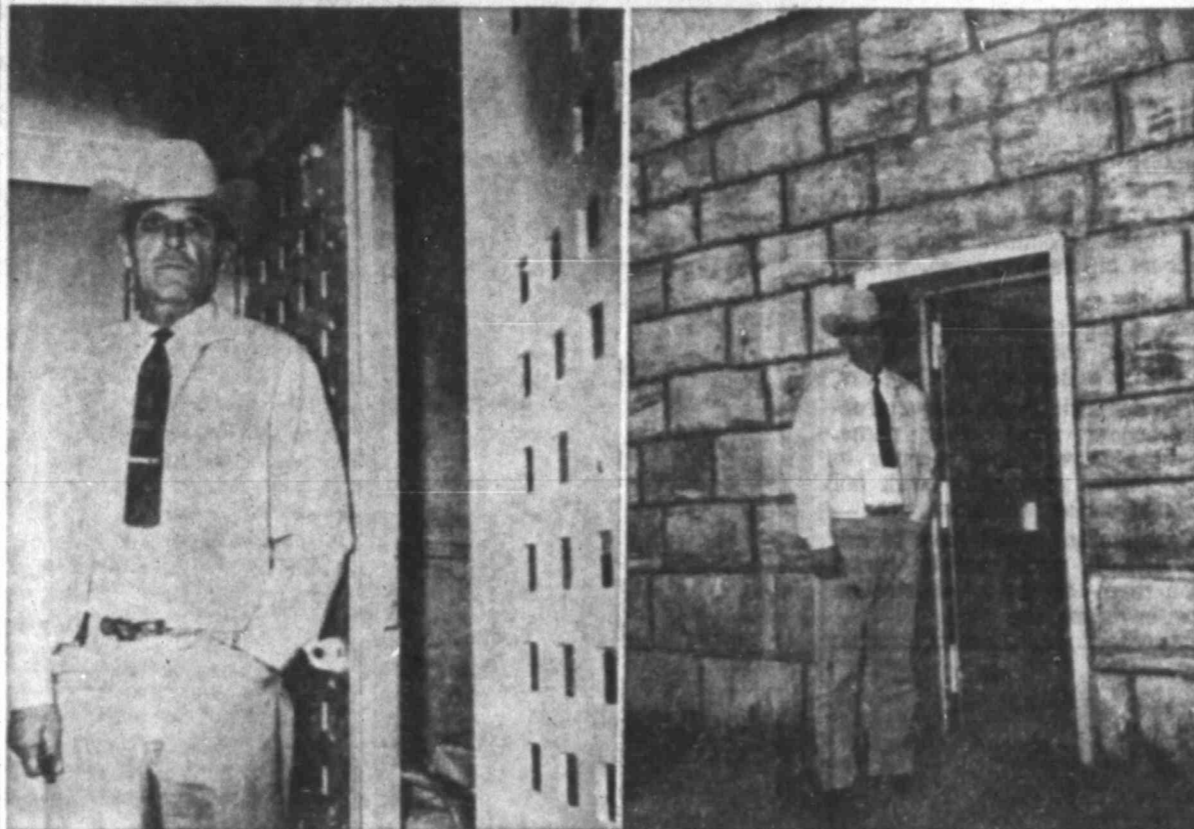

Today, about all of Gall's business establishments are along that one block. There is no business development on the other three sides of the court house.

Reeder said the records show the first court house was built soon after county organization was completed. It was a two story rambling wooden structure. It had a long life and was used until 1939.

BUILT COURT HOUSE
"I'd been with the sheriff's office for two years when they built the court house we have today," said Reeder.

The sheriff was born in Borden County and has a deep interest in its past history as well as in its present prosperity.

The first county commissioners to serve Borden County held its initial meeting in the school house

Historic Landmark

Sheriff Sid Reeder shows off the historic Borden County Jail in Gall. The exterior is solid blocks of native stone, the interior walls are not bars, but plate steel punched with holes for air. It's three cells are considered adequate to hold the few miscreants the sheriff is called upon to incarcerate.

In Gall April 7, 1891, C. O. Wasson was the first county judge. (Judge Wasson was the father of I. E. Wasson, Big Spring, and grandfather of Elmo Wasson, Big Spring merchant. He was a colorful early day rancher and, for his time, a widely traveled man. He died in 1917 and was alert and active almost to the day of his death.)

The county commissioners were W. H. McCulloch, Precinct 1; W. L. Danner, Precinct 2; D. V. Carter, Precinct 3, and J. S. Yorker, Precinct 4.

Wasson and this board seem to have brought about the new court house. In January, 1893, J. M. Searcy became county judge and the minutes record he was still in office when the contract was awarded to the Diebold Safe and Lock Co. to build the jail.

COST $4,500
Cost of the squat building—the walls and floors are all made of huge squared blocks of native stone—was $4,500. This was a pretty good sized chunk of money in those days and apparently the commissioners saw to it that Diebold put everything into the little jail that was needed.

The jail has three cells. In the forepart, just inside the main doorway, is a cage designed for female prisoners. A wall of stone separates this cage from the rear area where two all-steel cells with a walk around area on four sides is provided for men prisoners. The jail now has modern sanitary facilities—doubtless an addition after the 1896 completion.

The cells are built of case-hardened steel which dulls hacksaws. The doors fasten with huge hasps and padlocks and the floors and ceiling are solid steel more than a third of an inch thick. The cell walls are not bars—actually they are steel plates pierced with small square holes.

The main door, deeply set in the stone—work of the inner wall; is also steel, swung on huge hinges.

LOCKS DOOR
The door locks by means of a heavy lever contained in a large steel box just outside the main door. When the lever is pulled (it works manually,) a steel plate the length of the door slides out to fasten the door securely in its casing. The lever itself locks in place with a padlock. The steel box which contains the lever is also padlocked.

This was the jail the county commissioners ordered. The board at the time included County Judge Searcy, W. H. McCulloch, Precinct 1, who had been on the first board; J. C. Kimbrough, Precinct 2; William McNew, Precinct 3, and H. D. Beal, Precinct 4.

The minutes show that on May 12, 1896 (presumably three months after the jail contract had been let and apparently after the Diebold company had finished its work) the commission ordered the issuance of four county jail bonds. Three of these were $1,000 face and one was $1,500. The $4,500 obligation was to be paid off in 40 years. The interest rate was six per cent.

The bonds were redeemable at any time the county chose and Reeder says he understands the debt was paid off long before the 40 years had passed.

TOUGH INMATES
Reeder pointed out that some pretty salty figures were in this part of Texas in the days when the little jail was new. It was a long way, then, to another town. Very likely, he says, his predecessors in office had many occasions to make use of the strong cells to keep bad men in check.

"I have handled a few pretty rough boys myself," he said, "but we don't keep them here long. Gall and Borden County are peaceable these days. We do not have too many lawbreakers."

He recalls ruefully one occasion when three prisoners in the jail broke out and were briefly at liberty.

"They wouldn't have gotten out," he said, "if they had not been in the 'unaround' and if the front door had been locked. As it was, they were out only a few hours. We got some dogs from Big Spring and trapped them in the hills."

He said the trio punched a hole through the ceiling of the inner room run around and crawled between the ceiling and the roof to the front of the jail. They forced the ceiling open over the women's cell and dropped down to the floor. The front door was unlocked and they crept outside.

"GOOD JAIL"
Generally, though, when a prisoner is pushed into one of the cells and hears Reeder snap the series of locks shut, he knows he is not going anywhere until the sheriff returns.

"It's a good little jail," said Reeder. "And all the jail we need here."

He and other officials of the county, as well as the residents of Gall, are looking forward to the day when their historic bastle will be marked with its distinguishing medallion.

India Expects A Long Fight

HICKLEY, England (AP) — A Laborite legislator just back from New Delhi, India, reports Indian leaders expect to be fighting China for the next five or 10 years. "They (the Chinese) want to show Asia that they are masters of the East and the world," said Member of Parliament Woodrow Wyatt at a political meeting. "Indian Cabinet ministers told me recently when I was in Delhi that they expect a long fight with China, five to 10 years at least."

Odessa's Term Suspended In Counterfeit Case

FORT WORTH (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Dooley ordered federal prison Saturday three of four men named in a $450,000 counterfeiting conspiracy. The fourth won a probated sentence. Dooley gave Gus Raymer, an Odessa printer, a two-year probated sentence. Raymer, who pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy and counterfeiting, was accused of printing the bogus $100 bills as part of a plot to bolster finances of the faltering Home Guaranty Abstract Co. Raymer was a government witness in the trial of two others named. They were Burton Ellis, 38, and J. C. Mount, 37, both of Fort Worth. Dooley ordered Mount and Ellis to federal prison for two years for their part in the scheme. An 18-month prison term was assessed the fourth man, Harold Ainsworth, 37, of Fort Worth, who pleaded guilty earlier.

Orlando Hilario, one-month-old infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hilario, died at 10:15 p.m. Friday in a local hospital. Funeral is slated Monday at 8 a.m. in St. Thomas Catholic Church, with Rev. John McDermott officiating. Interment will be in City Cemetery under the direction of River Funeral Home. The youngster was born Sept. 26, 1962 in Big Spring. Survivors include the parents; four sisters, Pasuala Hilario, Rebecca Hilario, Madelina Hilario and Rachel Hilario, all of the home; three brothers, Victor Hilario, Ruben Hilario, and Richard Hilario, all of the home; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lupe Reola, Big Spring.

Communist Leaders To Scan Critical Domestic Problems

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev sits down with other top leaders of communism Monday to try to overcome industrial and agricultural problems and a shortage of money. The Soviet workers show no interest in hard work, machinery is short on farms and the nation wants better shoes. While Khrushchev may bring up the Cuban crisis and other cold war problems, the key problem for the November meeting of the party Presidium and Central Committee is to get factories and farms working better and improve the quality and quantity of consumer goods. That will take money and the government has refused to take funds away from defense. Heavy industry normally has been well-financed, but it is beginning to show signs of a lack of funds. The past two years of rearmament have hit heavy industry just as the consumer goods and farm equipment factories.

There is a real management problem. An American steel man, returning from a big plant in the U.S., commented: "Even the richest American companies cannot afford to neglect their machinery like that." Farms are massively overstaffed compared with west European and American farms. The proposals put forward for improving the situation seem to be the same ones which failed before — that is, to shake up the administrative staff and the party. Reorganization and stepped up party activity were ordered last year as the remedy for agriculture and the country had a harvest best described as mediocre. Soviet industry is still making steady gains, along with electricity and gas production. But these fields drain away so much capital that agriculture is starving for machinery and fertilizer. Industry and building workers seem to show a lack of interest in hard work for they get little reward for it. Newspapers constantly urge managers to give workers incentive payments to increase production. Good food, clothes and household supplies simply are not to be had and thus the worker has only a limited incentive to work. During the first six months of this year in the Kemervod district of central Siberia, 47,000 workers quit their jobs. The director of the local industrial bank, who reported it, blamed disorganization of work and poor pay.

Bid Requests To Go Out Monday

Specifications are being prepared for two new booster fire trucks and two pumpers for the City of Big Spring. An advertisement for bids will be run Monday, Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, said Friday.

"We will have to take separate bids on the chassis and on the apparatus for fire fighting," he said. "We will also have alternate bids on the boosters for a comparison in cost of 500-gallon and 750-gallon trucks." Anderson said plans now call for bids to be opened Dec. 6. They will be tabulated and presented to the city commission at the Dec. 11 meeting. The new trucks will be purchased under the Master Plan bond program.

Surprised Youngsters Given Annual County 4-H Awards

Two delighted and highly surprised youngsters were announced Saturday afternoon as the Howard County 4-H Club Gold Star Boy and Girl for 1962.

They are Bud Saunders, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Saunders, Sterling City Rt., Big Spring, and 15-year-old Robbie Merle Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, Rt. 1, Knott.

Their selections as the Gold Star winners—highest honor a boy or girl can receive in the 4-H movement—was announced at the annual 4-H Achievement Day program at the County Fair Grounds. The selections had been made several days ago but had been carefully kept secret from the young honorees.

Lee Porter, county judge-elect, presented the Gold Stars to the youngsters. He also awarded the other medals and awards to other 4-H Clubbers whose achievements were noted at the ceremonies.

Saunders, currently vice president of the Howard County 4-H Club organization, has been seven years in the work. He is a junior in Big Spring High School.

Herb Helbig, county farm agent, listed the youth's outstanding achievements as:

First place in Electric Awards at district level in 1960; second place, Electric Team Demonstration, District Level, 1961; Leadership Award, 1962; Agricultural Award, 1958; Soil Conservation Award, 1957; Showed reserve medium lamb at county show in 1961; won high individual in beef judging at Junior District Contest in 1958; and was sixth high individual in District Livestock Judging contest 1962.

Other activities in which he has been outstanding: Completed projects in lamb, swine, capons, and electricity; participation in livestock, range, grass and wool judging teams; active participation in his local club and in the county-wide 4-H Club.

Miss Brown, a six-year 4-H Club worker, is a sophomore in the Sands High School. Mrs. Catherine Crawford, county home demonstration agent, reported to the selection committee that Miss Brown has served as reporter, vice president and president of her Knott 4-H Club. She won the blue ribbon in the county dress review for five years and also the blue award at the 1962 District Dress review.

Miss Brown has also completed projects in clothing, bedroom improvement, foods and nutrition, livestock, garden, furniture refinishing, home grounds beautification. She has served as a junior leader and was leader of recreation at the District 2 Leadership Camp.

Royal Couple To Be Apart On Anniversary

LONDON (AP) — The 15th wedding anniversary of Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip, next Tuesday, will find them separated by thousands of miles.

The queen will be in London. Her husband will be in Australia for the British Empire Games.

Palace informants say they will unquestionably communicate with one another—a courtly way of saying they will exchange greetings by telephone or telegram.

Fifteen years after their wedding, the queen and her consort are considerably changed.

She is slimmer, trimmer and less retiring. She dresses better than she did as Princess Elizabeth.

Also, she's more relaxed. She seems to have acquired some of her husband's quick wit and ability to make people around her feel at ease in the presence of royalty.

The queen is 36, Philip 41. He has held his weight but his hair is thinning.

His influence on his wife and the palace has been enormous. The court is less stuffy, more in touch with the times.

Informal palace luncheons—all sorts of people are invited—have become a regular institution. An ardent polo player, but still no lover of horse racing, Prince Philip appears to miss as many of the traditional horsey events as he can.

The queen, on the other hand, is a horse owner, horse breeder, horse rider and horse racer.

The queen and Philip have three children—Charles, 14; Anne, 12; and Andrew, who'll be 3 Feb. 19.

ALLIANCE MIGHT HAVE PREVENTED WORLD WAR II

Eden Assails Chamberlain For Spiking Anglo-U.S. Pact

LONDON (AP) — A new book by the Earl of Avon — formerly Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden — bitterly assails the late Neville Chamberlain for thwarting British-American understanding in 1938 which Eden says could have averted World War II.

Breaking a 24-year silence on the subject, Eden tells the full story of his resignation as foreign secretary in Chamberlain's government 18 months before Hitler attacked Poland.

Eden's memoirs, entitled "Facing the Dictators" and published Sunday by Cassel and Co., provide the most comprehensive account of international affairs in the 1930s written by a leading participant.

Essentially, Eden's break with Chamberlain at so crucial a period came because they differed fundamentally as to how to deal with Germany, Italy and Japan. Eden wrote:

"He (Chamberlain) believed the dictators to be anxious for genuine agreements and himself to be the only man who could negotiate them. I strongly doubted whether either Hitler or Mussolini was in any way interested in coming to worthwhile terms with us and I wanted to strengthen our hand by every means, amongst which closer Anglo-American relations had a first place."

The immediate dispute that compelled Eden's sensational resignation in 1938 was Chamberlain's readiness to recognize Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

But Eden discloses for the first time that he wanted to quit a month earlier—in January 1938—when Chamberlain stymied a project by the late President Roosevelt to curb dictator nations.

Roosevelt had wanted to line America alongside Britain in the project. He had initiated arrangements for British-American naval cooperation in the Far East as the threat of Japanese expansionism developed.

His plan was to appeal for a concerted worldwide attempt to restore international standards, to slow down the arms race, to redefine the rules of war, and to reconsider some of the post-World War I settlements.

But active British support was considered vital.

Chamberlain and his Cabinet intimates regarded Roosevelt's secret approach as naive and woolly rubbish, Eden says. The plan in effect was dismissed.

Eden said he rushed back from a vacation and found that, without consulting him, Chamberlain had cold-shouldered the idea in a message to Roosevelt and all Eden's efforts to retrieve the situation failed.

Eden said the only thing that stopped him from resigning then was American insistence on secrecy which barred him from disclosing publicly his reason for quitting.

Stock Market Rings Up Another Weekly Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — Bolstered by favorable economic news and forecasts, the stock market last week took two mildly declining sessions in stride and rang up its third consecutive weekly advance.

Profit-taking from the sustained climb was not strong enough to dent the surge.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose 14.85 for the week to 630.98, exceeding its gain of the previous week.

Some brokers had looked for a corrective reaction which they considered only natural in the face of the three-week advance. However, the market's performance prompted one investment analyst to say: "The intermediate trend of the market is higher subject to minor setbacks."

Motors took a prominent part in the week's advance. They were in demand because of record new car sales in the first 10 days of November and a forecast that the good 1962 model year will be followed by another in 1963.

Aerospace issues were active and fairly strong, too, on expectations that defense spending will be increased to contend with international crisis.

Some economists revised their earlier predictions and said the likelihood of a recession early in 1963 is fading.

The Kennedy administration estimated the budget deficit for the current fiscal year at $7.8 billion, a figure which some Wall Street sources considered inflationary.

De Gaulle To Clash Again With French Politicians

By HARVEY HUDSON
PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle and his old antagonists, the veteran politicians of France, clash again Sunday.

Frenchmen begin then to elect 465 deputies to the National Assembly. They listened through a bitter campaign as De Gaulle heaped scorn on the politicians and the old line parties accused the general of dictatorship.

Beaten in a referendum last month, the old line parties are trying to gang up to beat all Gaullist supporters.

De Gaulle has called for election of deputies who support him, referring contemptuously to "parties of olden times" who led France "to the edge of anarchy, bankruptcy and civil war."

In an angry reply, former Premier Guy Mollet declared that if it came to a choice between voting for a Gaullist or a Communist, he would recommend the Communist. This from the secretary-general of the Socialist party who has fought the Communists all his public life.

Edmond Barrachin, a leader of the Independents-Peasant party, drew the issue this way: "Are the French people for or against personal power which leads to dictatorship, for or against the single party system?"

De Gaulle and the old political parties have kept a polite distance for most of the four years since the last Assembly elections and the founding of the Fifth Republic. The reason was the Algerian nationalist rebellion that was bleeding France of men and treasure.

The old parties never trusted De Gaulle, but they believed that he was the only man who could unravel the Algerian knot.

De Gaulle never made a secret of his distaste for the political quibbling and maneuvering of the old parties, but he tolerated them as long as they paid him lip service.

With the Algerian problem resolved by independence last summer, the polite sparring ended.

De Gaulle, anxious to build the prestige and power of the presidency, proposed that future presidents should be elected by popular vote instead of by an electoral college. He thought the quickest way was to bypass Parliament and submit the proposal to a national referendum.

The old line parties, although injured to snubs and haughty treatment by De Gaulle, could not stomach this open insult to their parliamentary prerogatives. Communists, Socialists, Popular Republican Movement members, and Independents-Peasants put up a solid front of protest. All urged a no vote in the referendum.

They struck back the only way they could—by voting Premier Georges Pompidou out of office. De Gaulle retaliated by dissolving the Assembly.

When the voters turned out to arbitrate the dispute, De Gaulle won the first round. He got a 62 per cent yes vote in the referendum Oct. 28. But polls favor the old parties to take the second round by gaining strength in the National Assembly.

J. R. Trent Rites Today

Funeral for John R. Trent, called "Uncle Bob" by residents of Westbrook, will be held in the River Funeral Home chapel at 2 p.m. today. Mr. Trent died at 3:15 a.m. Saturday following an illness of six months.

The Rev. Larry Sullivan, pastor of the Westbrook First Methodist Church, will officiate. The remains will be taken overland to Miami, Okla. for services and interment will be in the Fairland Cemetery, Fairland, Okla.

Mr. Trent was born Nov. 13, 1881 in Roanoke, W. Va. He was married in Pacio, Tex., Sept. 27, 1903. A retired farmer, he also had served as a water commissioner at Westbrook. He was a World War I veteran.

Pallbearers will be grandsons, including Bill Bell, Hoyt Roberts, George Dawson, Leroy Gressett, Roy Messimer, P. E. Clawson, Albert Young and Russ Gressett.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Harry Peggs, Orlando, Fla., Mrs. Paul Rhodes, Miami, Fla., Mrs. Charles Goodnight, Brownfield; seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Cultural Affairs Meet Scheduled

Results of the string instrument survey conducted by the cultural affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce will be reported Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Chamber conference room.

Questionnaires were distributed in September to school children and others who might be interested in taking instruction on a string music instrument. Other information sought from the questionnaire is type of instrument preferred, present or previous instruction, number of others in the family who play musical instruments and what instruments are owned.

along with McClelland but not yet tried.

Putney, a Houston lawyer, testified that McClelland set the $10,000 administrator's fee and asked that it be split with him. Putney said he wrote a personal check to Tierra Grande, Inc., the company from which McClelland could draw money freely.

The defense relied heavily on the fact that the state could not produce McClelland's order establishing the $10,000 fee.

The defense declined to place any witnesses on the stand, obviously believing the state had not proven any crime.

Putney testified he drew an additional $25,000 from the estate without the knowledge of McClelland because he didn't want to split the money with the probate judge.

Johnson, Connally Attend Brown Rites

HOUSTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon Johnson and Gov.-elect John Connally were among an estimated 1,300 persons attending services Saturday for Herman Brown, founder of a world-wide construction firm.

Brown, 70, president of Brown & Root Inc., died Thursday of an apparent heart attack. He had undergone heart surgery in 1960.

Johnson sat beside Connally. Both were honorary pallbearers.

Johnson flew here from Washington to attend the services for a friend he described as "a builder—of his community, his country, and his world."

McClelland Gets 10-Year Sentence

BELTON (AP) — A jury convicted former probate judge Clem McClelland of Houston Saturday of converting $5,000 from an estate to his own use and sentenced him to the maximum 10 years in prison.

McClelland's lawyers asked that once for a new trial and McClelland continued free on $15,000 bond — up from $5,000 — pending a ruling on that motion.

The jury required an hour and 42 minutes to reach a verdict and set the sentence.

Neither McClelland nor his wife displayed outward emotion when Judge James Everts read the jury's verdict.

McClelland, 48, now is free on $58,000 in bonds on 11 indictments, including the one on which he was convicted.

McClelland, appointed the state's first full-time probate judge in 1949, had been elected twice without opposition and had won Democratic renomination this year. He agreed to a suspension and withdrew as a candidate after he was indicted.

The state charged that he suggested that the administrator of an estate split a $10,000 fee with him and that the $5,000 be deposited to the account of an investment syndicate from which McClelland could draw funds at will.

The estate was that of Clara Currie, 78, who died in 1960 without leaving a will. Her estate was estimated at $160,000.

The chief witness was Richard Putney, named administrator of the Currie estate and indicted

Nixon Doubts Importance Of Hiss Talk

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon questioned Saturday the importance of Alger Hiss' television appearance "when weighed on the scales against thousands of wires and letters from patriotic Americans."

Nixon made the observation—his first public statement on the controversial incident—in a telegram to George W. Healy Jr., editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Loser in the recent California gubernatorial race against Gov. Edmund Brown, Nixon said:

"Looking to the future, I hope that my voice can help to preserve and extend the kind of opportunity for all Americans which it has been my privilege to enjoy."

"What few disappointments have been my lot in the world of politics are as nothing compared to the mountain-top experiences which have been mine."

"There is no more striking example of this truth than the events of the past week. What does an attack by one convicted perjurer mean when weighed on the scale against the thousands of wires and letters from patriotic Americans?"

The statement was an obvious reference to Hiss who commented on Nixon on a nationally televised (ABC) program entitled "The Political Obituary of Richard Nixon."

Hiss' appearance ignited many protests.

Hiss went to prison following a 1948 congressional probe.

Nixon, in the telegram, said his parting advice to those contemplating a career in politics was this:

"It is not whether we win or lose that counts but whether we fight to the best of our abilities for the cause in which we believe."

Gin Worker Hurt

GARDEN CITY (SC) — Bill Stephens, an employee of the St. Lawrence gin, was injured Thursday, but not seriously, when three of the fingers on his right hand were caught in a machine. He was not hospitalized.

Burglaries, Thefts Keep Police Busy

Six burglaries and thefts were investigated by Big Spring police Friday, including one theft by bailee of $204.85 in cash and a set of $40 clippers.

H. D. Hammond, owner of the Webb AFB barber shop, called police from his local hospital bed where he had been several days. He said he left his assistant manager in charge of the shop and that the man failed to show up for work Thursday. Another employee reported Thursday night the assistant manager came to him to borrow $10. A check indicated the man left his hotel Thursday afternoon and had taken the shop's money and clippers with him. He had not been located Saturday morning.

Johnny Rangel, owner of J&M Cafe, called officers to investigate burglary of his place at 501 NW 4th. He reported 12 cases of beer, two rolls of silver, an electric guitar, a camera, and a microphone, missing. A window screen had been torn off and the window pushed in.

Jose Ariz Deporto, 710 NW 7th, reported the loss of two hub caps from his car while parked at his home.

Two suits of clothes, valued at $70, were reported stolen from a car owned by Oscar Jackson, 708 Wyoming, while parked at Woody's Place, 500 NW 3rd. He said he was in the barber shop when the suits were taken.

Thomas L. Cannon, 2204 Grace, reported a shovel taken from the north side of his home some time this week.

A boy's bicycle, valued at $56, was reported stolen from the J. W. Dickens home, 624 McEwen, while the family attended the football game Friday night.

THE WEEK

boys, and you'll give San Angelo something to remember.

Those who have ridden over the sections of paving completed last week under the city's continuous paving program certainly will be among the plan's best boosters. It has made all the difference in the world on that stretch on Birdwell between 16th and Marcy (FM 700), on Austin and on Brown between Third and Fourth.

City commissioners had the first reading Tuesday on a proposed new building code. If and when finally enacted, this code is due to bring construction policies abreast of the times instead of gearing them to three decades ago.

School trustees last week instructed architects to develop preliminary plans for a school unit to be located in the Kentwood area of extreme southeast Big Spring. Whether to proceed with plans will be a decision to be reached later in light of finances and of population.

Postmaster Elmer Boatler reported that October postal receipts of $53,155 were some $3,000 above the same month a year ago. For the first 10 months of the year, the office is $19,000 ahead and is bound to set a record. The October showing is especially heartening since there have been few if any brauceros around to help boost the total. (They formerly flooded the office with money orders during harvest season.)

The Breedlove area in northern Martin County continued to look brighter and brighter for oil production. Gulf No. 1 S. R. Singelton completed for 365 barrels in the Wolfcamp (this has been a Devonian field) from 10 1/4-12 1/4, and Pan American No. 1 Humble-Wolfcamp, a mile to the southwest, flowed 114 barrels of oil from the Wolfcamp from 9,292-304.

Under a contract executed last week, Texas Electric Service will be supplied with gas at its Morgan Creek generating plant by the Odessa Natural Gasoline Company. This concern will obtain gas in the sandhills area and deliver it by a 120-mile line (20-in. and 16-in.), connecting on proximity to Odessa and Big Spring to Pioneer Natural Gas lines, to the generating plant near Colorado City. This is of great industrial importance to the area.

Howard County has been honored by the elevation of C. H. DeVaney to the presidency of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation. His elevation to this high post climaxes more than two decades of diligent work on the bureau's behalf.

City fathers have authorized the preparation of bids for two fire trucks. These will be needed under the Master Plan program to provide two new fire stations to the city and thus provide more protection for the sprawling corporate area.

CUBA

a dozen detonators for them, three U.S. Army-style fragmentation hand grenades and a 45-caliber automatic pistol.

Newsmen said the incendiary bombs looked big enough and potent enough to do considerable damage.

The FBI said the bombs were hidden in a fluorescent light fixture, and that the detonators were found in an envelope bearing the address of the Cuban mission to the United Nations.

The bombs and grenades were described as items generally associated with sabotage and guerrilla warfare.

Other pro-Castro Cubans here were being trained in the use of the explosives, the FBI said, but there was no formal sabotage school.

One of those arrested was Robert Santiesteban Casanova, 27, a new attache of the Cuban U.N. mission who flew here Oct. 3 on a plane bringing Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos to attend a U.N. session.

The FBI said he was carrying a fully loaded Mauser semiautomatic pistol and put up a violent physical battle before agents could subdue him at the time of his arrest Friday night.

He also tried to swallow a paper with a chemical formula for a homemade explosive, the FBI said, but agents managed to recover it.

As he was taken out of FBI headquarters for arraignment at the federal courthouse, he kicked Edward Adams, an Associated Press photographer, on the right hand.

Santiesteban had applied for diplomatic immunity but it had not yet been granted.

He was held in bond of $250,000 for a hearing next Friday.

The other arrested were: Jose Garcia Orellana, 42, Manhattan, owner and operator of a shop on West 27th St. in Manhattan. The FBI said the explosive materials were found on the premises.

Marino Antonio Esteban del Carmen Sueiro y Cabrera, 22, Manhattan, described as a part-time worker for Garcia.

Garcia and Sueiro were said to have been members of the Fidel Castro revolutionary movement which won control of Cuba, and to have taken active parts in pro-Castro affairs here.

They were held in $100,000 bail each for grand jury action. Named as conspirators but not arrested because of diplomatic immunity were Jose Gomez Abad, 21, and his wife, Elisa, 20, members of the Cuban U.N. mission.

Tiny Capsules Hold Fate Of Legislators And Bills

By BOB ROOKER

AUSTIN (AP)—The destiny of some political careers and important pieces of legislation probably will be dumped into a small glass bowl along with a handful of tiny gelatin capsules in January.

Once each 10 years, Texas' 31 senators file hopefully by the bowl and, one by one, pull out the capsules numbered from 1 to 31.

The ceremony is required by the state Constitution to determine which senators will have four-year terms and which will have to put their political careers on the line again in two years. Normally, half the state Senate is elected for four-year terms, overlapping with the other half which still have two years left to serve.

But after each 10-year census and redistricting of the legislature, all senators must run for office.

The only constitutional requirement is that after each apportionment, the senators will be divided into two classes. Senators of the first class, with two-year terms, and those of the second class, with four-year terms and the division will be done by lot.

The last time such a drawing occurred was in 1953. The lieutenant governor named three senators to a committee to prepare the ceremony.

Many senators jokingly accused the Senate of rigging the drawing so that all the members would get all the coveted four-year terms. All three, however, drew unlucky capsules—two-year terms.

Those senators who drew short terms in 1953 were luckier than they thought when two years later most incumbents in and out of the legislature were swept back into office with little trouble.

The happy, long-term senators faced re-election four years later at the height of the veterans land scandals when the cry was "Clean up Austin." Almost all seeking re-election faced a hard fight and several were defeated or chose not to run.

Long and short terms have an equal effect: On the future of legislation.

Few legislators like to talk about the effect of impending election on their votes—but very often the effect is there.

It is much easier to cast an unpopular vote—say for a tax increase or raising university tuition—when election time is four years away than when it comes around in two years.

Nine senators who will file by the glass bowl in January were around in 1953. Five drew two-year terms last time.

Webb's UF Gift

Col. Wilson H. Banks, Webb AFB commander (right), and Col. Charles W. Head, base project officer, hand over this king-size check to Jack Y. Smith, United Fund campaign co-chairman. It was a symbol of the $10,000 goal which Webb surpassed last week.

Hope For Missing Seamen Vanishes

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—American craft sighted a capsized lifeboat and bodies in the Atlantic 250 miles northeast of Bermuda on Saturday as hope virtually vanished for 18 seamen missing since they abandoned the burning Greek freighter Captain George on Thursday.

The U.S. Coast Guard cutter Mendota, coordinating an air-sea search that covered a 2,500-mile area, picked up three bodies and reported sighting three others.

The cutter said it presumed the capsized lifeboat was the one in which the 18 seamen had fled from the explosive-laden freighter during a storm. Rough waves turned the lifeboat over, pitching the men into the sea.

The Mendota also reported sighting five empty lifejackets bobbing in the waters among the bodies.

A U.S. Navy plane circled the area to mark the spot for other air and sea craft. Two U.S. Coast Guard planes, with fuel low, returned to Bermuda to refuel for an effort to pick up the rest.

Justed along by the wind, the Captain George drifted at three knots far east of the position at which the bodies were found.

Seven of the 25-man crew have been rescued. The captain, George Karemezis, was among the missing.

Visibility improved under clear skies to 15 miles. The wind dropped somewhat, to 30 knots.

Posey Attends Oliver Preview

DALLAS—W. W. Posey, Posey Tractor Co. Oliver dealer here, and his wife received a dealer preview of 23 new Oliver farm equipment products for 1963—one of the largest arrays unveiled at one time by a single manufacturer—at Market Hall here, Thursday and Friday.

Dealers from throughout several states attended the Oliver Corporation show, entitled "The Growing O," with Samuel W. White Jr., Oliver's president, keynoting the two-day event and talking personally with dealers along with other Oliver headquarters executives. The display of 1963 Oliver equipment featured new developments for every type of farming as well as for all phases of farming operations.

Under Pressure

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures were under selling pressure most of last week and trended generally downward but other commodities on the Board of Trade held a steadily firmer range.

U.S. Wants To Execute Mongoose, But City Rebels

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—A furry little alien mongoose is turning out to be the biggest drawing card at the Duluth Zoo since the place got a hippopotamus four years ago.

The issue of whether Mr. Mongoose, the mongoose, will survive to greet many more visitors remains in doubt this weekend.

The issue was joined when the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service informed the city that a 1909 law prohibits the importation of a mongoose into this country. Why?

Because a pair of them can multiply at a rate that would put rabbits to shame.

Zookeepers say they get a call a minute, many of them on the side of the little visitor, who was donated by a Great Lakes sailor.

"Take Mr. Mongoose and hide out until this blows over," advised one imaginative caller.

More realistically, City Atty. Harry Weinberg has advised zoo officials to plot a delaying action when federal officials arrive for the execution. Weinberg said he feels something might be worked out if city and federal officials can talk things over.

In Washington, officials of the Interior Department said they have no special animosity for Mr. Mongoose, but they noted that the Virgin Islands have been overrun by mongoose which were brought in to control rats.

Trouble was, they ran out of rats and ate their way through crops.

Duluth officials have offered to provide surgery for their bachelor visitor to insure against any reproduction should he by chance come in contact with a lady mongoose.

Ector GOP May Seek Vote Probe

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Ector County Republicans have asked a local attorney to investigate the possibility of contesting a county judge election there, the attorney said Friday.

T. Kellis Dibrell, a former FBI man who investigated the Jim Wells and Duval County balloting in Lyndon Johnson's 1948 Senate election, said he will go to Odessa next week to check facts surrounding the election.

The questioned election involved Democratic incumbent Gerald Fugitt who beat Republican Jack Scurlow by 13 votes out of a 14,500 turnout.

Dibrell said Odessa Republicans think there might have been some unqualified voters in the election.

"I won't recommend contesting the election on technicalities," he said. "But if violations were enough to actually defeat the will of the electorate, I think we should have an all-out contest."

Dibrell said he is investigating "certain public officials" in South Texas now and will be unable to go to Odessa until the middle of next week. He refused to elaborate on his current investigation.

Capt. Mol Gets Award Certificate

Capt. Hendrick D. Mol, Civil Engineering Group at Webb AFB was presented with the Certificate of Award for Merit from the Society of American Military Engineers, in an informal ceremony Tuesday. Col. Wilson H. Banks, base commander, made the presentation.

The award was made for outstanding graduate work at the Air Force Institute of Technology at Wright Patterson AFB, Ohio. The Citation was forwarded to the Webb commander for presentation by Col. Melvin T. Edmonds, DCS-Civil Engineering, ATC, who added his congratulations.

New Danger: Overnutrition

HOUSTON (AP)—Americans may well be shortening their babies' and children's life spans by feeding them too well. Dr. Gilbert Forbes said Saturday.

A pediatrics professor at a University of Rochester, Forbes said: "Indirect evidence points in this direction. It's highly suggestive that well-fed babies are not as healthy in terms of longer life."

Forbes said there are subtle indications of overnutrition in American children.

Nutrition experts, he said, always have worked from the standpoint of deficiency rather than overabundance. This has led to the attitude of "if a little is good for you, a little more will be better."

Forbes said that while there is less malnutrition in the United States than ever before, the good supply of high quality food makes it "easier and easier for a person to overnutrition himself."

The doctor spoke at a pediatric symposium in Texas Children's Hospital jointly sponsored by Baylor University College of Medicine's pediatrics department and the division of maternal and child health of the State Health Department.

Art Frazier Dies In Abilene

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—A. J. (Art) Frazier, 64, a prominent independent oil operator from Abilene, died Saturday in a local hospital. He had been ill about two weeks.

Frazier, a past president of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association, was a partner in the Ungre & Frazier Oil Co. and was president of the Onyx Oil Co.

Funeral services are pending. He is survived by his widow and one brother, A. E. Frazier of Abilene.

Tanner Marks Anniversary

MIDLAND—Henry H. Tanner, warehouseman for Sinclair Oil & Gas Company at Midland, completed 20 years with the company Nov. 1. He joined Sinclair in 1932 as a roustabout at Olney and transferred to Coahoma in 1935 as a warehouseman. Tanner went to Big Spring in 1957 and to Midland in January 1962.

He was born at Dublin, in Erath County, and graduated from Dublin High School and National Business College of Abilene. Mr. and Mrs. Tanner live in Midland.

He is a member of the First Baptist Church of Big Spring; a life member of Coahoma Lodge 992 A. F. & A. M.; a member of Big Spring Chapter 178 Royal Arch Masons; member of Norman Read Chapter 1010 Order of The Eastern Star, Midland. He is a World War II Air Force veteran.

Aluminum Magnate, Arthur Davis, Dies

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Arthur Vining Davis, who helped found the aluminum industry and became one of the richest men in America, died at his home early Saturday. He was 95.

The silver-haired man with a booming voice had not been feeling well for some time. He died at 2 a. m. in the pink mansion he built recently on his estate, "Journey's End," south of Miami.

The multimillionaire when he died was his personal secretary and official hostess for several years, Miss Evelyn Mitchell, and other members of his staff.

The vigorous, energetic man—about 5 feet 4 and 120 pounds—suffered a heart attack in 1956.

Davis, who had been married twice, was a widower and had no close living relatives. Private funeral services will be held here Monday.

Born in Sharon, Mass., on May 30, 1867, Davis was the top scholar in his class at Amherst College when he graduated in 1888.

Teague Says U.S. Winning Space Race

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The ranking Democratic member of the House Committee on Space and Astronautics declared Saturday night the United States is "winning the race for space."

Rep. Olin Teague of College Station said, "We have the offensive now, and we have no intention of yielding that advantage."

Teague said the government had "sufficient courage and boldness, and vision, to cut out the root of aggression before it had a chance to grow."

However, he added, "We must remember that despite the relaxation of tension, there are still deep-seated problems to plague us."

The congressman declared that the U.S. should have absolute assurance that the Russians live up to their pledges.

Concerning outer space and national defense, he said, "It would be foolish indeed—and even suicidal—if we were to pour our treasure into the exploration of the unknown outer space and so neglect our national defense that we would fall easy prey to Communist aggression."

"But outer space and national defense are inseparable and will always remain so," he said.

Containment Doctrine Is Put To Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red Chinese troops poised at points from which they might surge southward over India and toward the Indian Ocean ports pose new problems in the U.S. doctrine for containment of Communism.

The ultimate objective of the undeclared but expanding war which China launched against India remained unclear Saturday although the intensity of the campaign stepped up in heavy fighting in the already invaded areas.

One of the more immediate goals could be capture of oil fields within fairly short distance of one sector of the Red campaign. Soviet coolness toward her big Asian ally could cut off a major source of fuel for both industry and the military of China.

This would create one more rat hole to be watched by the already heavily committed U.S. fleet.

The normal present U.S. naval force in the area between the western Pacific and the Mediterranean is a tiny detachment of about three ships from the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. This so-called Persian-Gulf unit consists of a seaplane tender and two destroyers. Its function is essentially to show the flag.

However, one of the possibilities on which U.S. military officials were keeping an eye was that the Chinese may attempt to press on down across Assam and around Burma toward the Indian Ocean port cities.

Hungarian Lad Re-United With Refugee Parents

NEW YORK (AP)—Geza Buzas, 12-year-old Hungarian boy who was separated from his parents six years ago during the Hungarian uprising, was reunited Friday night at Idlewild Airport with his father, Frank, who lives in Philadelphia.

Geza, who was permitted to leave last week by Hungarian authorities, was met in Paris by his mother, Gizella, who accompanied him to the United States. She explained that the boy had been left with her parents in Budapest when she and her husband fled Hungary.

Red Proposals Forwarded

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. Acting Secretary General U. Thant said Saturday he has forwarded to U.S. officials new Cuban and Soviet proposals for settling the Cuban crisis. He declined, however, to disclose them, and Cuban, Soviet and U.S. delegation sources could not be reached for comment.

Thant told newsmen he passed the proposals on Thursday—the same day he received a letter from Prime Minister Fidel Castro warning that Cuban aircraft would shoot down any U.S. reconnaissance planes flying over Cuba.

Waggin' Their Tails Behind?

The four lambs are at home now.

Nancy Phillips, 10, lost four 4-H Club show lambs when the wind blew a gate open Tuesday night, and Friday she issued a call for help in finding them. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Phillips who live a half mile east of the Howard County airport.

"Mr. Phillips chartered an airplane Saturday afternoon and spotted them in a corner of one of our pastures," Mrs. Phillips said Saturday night. "They must have been coming in from somewhere because they had to have water. We had ridden all the pastures during the week and believe we would have found them if they had been there all the time."

Nancy was happy Saturday night.

Vaccine Goes To 408 In C-City

Maneuvers Held Off Florida Coast

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—Elements of the 1st Armored Division, staging mock maneuvers off the Florida coast, wrestled with tricky ocean currents Saturday to land the remainder of an "invasion" force.

Officers said the operation probably will occupy most of Sunday and Monday.

The first war games of the Cuban crisis—using troops rushed to the area when the Cuban situation erupted—opened Saturday when helimed troops stormed the beach from Army LCUs (landing craft, utility).

Big bulldozers rumbled on to the beach after them.

The tankers of the "Old Ironsides" division struggled under floodlights during the night unloading tanks, jeeps, trucks and ambulances from a big Navy LST (landing ship, tank) which worked for more than three hours to clear a sandbar.

The tanks clanked over a 360-foot floating steel causeway flung out to sea. The rough surf snapped the anchor cables after one LST was unloaded and the causeway was towed back to sea for repairs. Additional sections were ordered from Fort Lauderdale, 113 miles south of deserted Hutchinson Island, the invasion scene.

Silver F104 Air Force jets, reportedly acting in enemy role, flashed low over the beach in repeated passes Friday.

Ike, Kennedy Help Dedicate Dulles Airport

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower dedicated a Taj Mahal of aviation Saturday—the $110-million Dulles International Airport and its beautiful $15.5-million terminal.

A crowd estimated by airport officials at 60,000 witnessed the open air ceremonies and then streamed through the handsome glass-walled structure itself.

Kennedy, Eisenhower and other government officials also toured the new building, which goes into operation next Monday. The airport is 27 miles from Washington.

Kennedy called it "a great airport at a great time in the life of our country" and said it is appropriate that it should be named after John Foster Dulles, Eisenhower's secretary of state, who died in 1959.

Eisenhower, during whose administration the airport was begun, said he named it for Dulles because, "It seemed a fitting way to honor a man who had spent most of his life serving his country in the cause of national security and world peace."

To motorists approaching the airport through morning fog, the tall, pagoda-like control tower seen from a distance took on something of the fantastic appearance of a mushroom cloud.

Closer at hand, the graceful lines of the terminal, with its forward tiled walls and sloping, hammock-like roof, gave substance to the observation by the late architect Eero Saarinen, who designed it, that the building would have a dynamic, soaring look.

Although the airport was dedicated Saturday, regularly scheduled jetliners will not start using it until Monday morning.

Many of the airline ticket counters were completed and had schedules posted and personnel on hand to sell tickets but N. E. Halaby, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, told reporters it would be months before the terminal took on a finished appearance.

Porky Britton Is Still In Critical Condition

The condition of Souval (Porky) Britton Jr., who was critically injured in a one-car accident west of Big Spring on the morning of Nov. 4, remains critical. He has been in Cosper Clinic and Hospital since the accident, except for several hours during which time he was taken to Midland for examination.

He had not regained consciousness last Saturday.

Young Britton, a student at Howard County Junior College, was returning to his home in Stanton, when he apparently fell asleep while driving, and his car hurtled through 95 feet of guard rails near the Hartwell Road overpass on IS 20 five miles west of Big Spring.

His physician said he suffered a severe brain concussion, severe chest injuries, and a badly damaged leg. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Souval Britton Sr., Stanton.

Sawyers Injured

GARDEN CITY (SC)—J. L. Sawyers, Garden City, was injured late Thursday when his pickup overturned on the Midland highway. Sawyers was returning from Midland, pulling a trailer which carried two horses. The trailer did not overturn and the horses were not hurt.

Sawyers was taken to a Midland hospital where he was treated for a broken nose and various cuts and abrasions.

Teenagers Killed

Firemen Get Service Pins

Two members of the Webb AFB Fire Department were presented 20-year service pins in a brief informal ceremony in the office of the base commander last week.
Hollis B. Duncan and Ivan J. Gannon accepted their pins from Col. Wilson H. Banks, who made the presentation and offered congratulations.

Duncan entered civil service at Clovis, N. M., in March, 1946 after being discharged from the U. S. Army. He enlisted in Albuquerque in 1940, and was discharged in 1945 after spending 18 months overseas and serving in France, Germany and Italy. On the tour, he received four battle stars and a combat infantryman's badge.
Duncan is a native of Muleshoe, Texas.

Gannon has been at Webb since March, 1961, coming from Vance AFB at Enid, Okla., on a transfer. His civil service began in 1944 at Enid following his discharge from the Army. He enlisted in 1941 following the attack on Pearl Harbor and was sent to the European Theatre of Operations where he participated in actions in Germany and Sicily, as well as North Africa. He earned two battle stars and the combat troopers badge.

25 Goats Are Killed

Mrs. O. D. Daniel Sr., well known Coahoma resident, was shaken up but not seriously injured and the 1963 sedan in which she was riding was demolished in a highway accident late Thursday night, 19 miles south on US 87.

Arvin Henry, highway patrol officer, said the accident, which took the lives of 25 out of a herd of 26 goats, was in Glasscock County. Mrs. O'Daniel was en route to Coahoma with an employee, Rayburn Autry Foster, also of Coahoma. The goats, whose ownership Henry had not established, were on the highway. Foster's car rammed into the flock and a truck, following close behind, crashed into the rear of the Foster car. Driver of the truck was Robert Louis Helton, Austin. Both vehicles were damaged. Only one of the goats escaped death, Henry said. Mrs. O'Daniel was taken to a Big Spring hospital for first aid.

Best In Fire Prevention

For the second time in as many years, the 3560th Civil Engineering Group at Webb AFB won the award for the best Fire Prevention Program. This also marks the third time in five years that the CE Group has won. Others entered in the annual contest are Air Base Group, who placed second; Hospital Group, third; M&S Group, Pilot Training

Same Prefixes For Car Tags

Howard County's 1963 passenger car license plates will bear the same prefixes already familiar to motorists — DD, DE and DF.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor - collector, has received the invoice on her 1963 plate supply. It shows that the county is to receive an initial shipment of 16,395 plates for passenger cars. DE prefix will be the abundant class with tags running in sequence from 10 through 9999. The DB plates run from 7700 through 9999 and the DF series from 10 through 4024.

The shipment, due here anytime after the middle of December through mid-January, will include 3,725 truck tags, 1,900 trailer tags, 290 house trailer, 325 motorcycle, four tractor and assorted other special tags.

Mrs. LeFevre said that the shipment for 1963 will be about the same as the one for 1962.

Construction Running High For The Year

The total value of building permits issued this year has crossed the five million dollar mark, the fourth time in the history of the city.

Tom Newton, building inspector, said two permits issued this week accounted for $296,000. The Big Spring Independent School District took out a permit for a $35,000 addition to Marcy School, and the First Presbyterian Church is building a $241,000 addition to the plant at 705 Runnels.

Permits issued through Nov. 15 now total $5,033,933. This is just $670,751 below the 1961 total; $52,347 below 1958, and $737,757 below 1952 which was an all-time high year.

The First Federal Savings and Loan building and the First National Bank's new building, have helped boost the construction permit total to the high mark.

With still six weeks to go in 1962 the final count could run above the 1961 figure of $5,704,684. Only three new residence permits have been issued in November, amounting to $33,000.

Texas Moves Closer To Dallas Classic

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
FORT WORTH (AP) — Clutch runs by Jerry Cook and costly Texas Christian penalties carried Texas to a 14-0 triumph and with a half-game of the Cotton Bowl Saturday.

undefeated Texas, with a 5-0-1 record, now can tie Texas A&M on Thanksgiving Day and clinch the Cotton Bowl spot. It can win the Southwest Conference Championship with a victory. Paying no heed to a muddy field, the Longhorns slashed and tore Texas Christian into submission after being repulsed repeatedly by the gritty Horned Frogs in the first half.

The Texas defense kept TCU inside its 32-yard line the first two periods, inside its 34 the next and only in the final quarter could the weary Frogs get as far as their 40.

Rice Owls Manhandle Texas Aggies, 23-3

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP) — Randy Kerbow, a 187-pound senior, had a hand or foot in every Rice point Saturday as the Rice University Owls defeated Texas A&M, 23-3, in Southwest Conference football.

Kerbow scored the first 10 owl points by kicking a 36-yard field goal and plunging over for a touchdown from the one and then hit Jerry Kelly and John Sylvester with touchdown passes that covered 64 and 25 yards.

three fumbles while permitting the Aggies to cross midfield only twice the first three periods. Paul Piper made the first interception on the second play of the game and Kerbow kicked his field goal seven plays later.

The Aggies drove 41 yards late in the first period to tie the score on a 38-yard field goal by Mike Clark. The kick permitted Clark to tie the all-time conference single season record of six field goals set last season by Rice's Butch Blume.

Crane Clinches District Title

McCAMEY—The Golden Cranes put their brand on the District 7-AA title Friday night after a 36-0 victory over the McCamey Badgers.

Quarterback Calvin Kirkham accounted for the first two tallies with a 47-yard pass to halfback Dave Williams and a six-yard plunge. Kirkham kicked the conversion following the first score.

Drives of 45 and 61 yards brought second-period tallies for the Cranes as fullback Kirk Looney and Johnny Pierce brought the respective TDs. Looney's run was from 35 yards, Pierce's from one.

In the third and fourth periods Williams scored from the two and booted a 17-yard field goal.

Porkers Edge Ponies, 9-7, To Fan Hopes

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks scrambled for a touchdown and a field goal in the fourth quarter and beat Methodist 9-7 Saturday to keep alive their chances for a South-west Conference title and bowl bid.

The field goal, a 27-yarder by Tommy (True-toe) McKelley, provided the winning points. Minutes before, Arkansas failed on a two-point conversion try after half-back Jesse Branch's 11-yard touchdown run.

But the real Porker hero was guard Mike Hales, who broke through and broke an SMU field goal attempt with one minute left. It was a third down try from the 17 by John Richey. Hales took the ball in the stomach and it bounced back to the 32. SMU had another try from there but quarterback Roger Braugh passed incomplete on fourth down with 22 seconds left.

Until the Razorbacks rose up in the final period, SMU appeared to have the game in its pocket. The Ponies had put together a 78-yard scoring drive and Richey's extra point gave them a 7-0 advantage through three periods.

Twice the Mustangs turned back Porker scoring threats. Danny Brabham fumbled on first down at the five and again when McKelley got a bad snap and had to pass instead of kick on a field goal try from the 25 in the second quarter.

But Arkansas came on in championship fashion after crushing line play sapped the Mustang's vigor.

The Razorbacks moved 44 yards in seven plays after Ken Hatfield returned an SMU punt 12 yards. Substitute Billy Gray directed the scoring drive and made key pass completions to wingback Mike Parker for 12 yards and to end Jerry Lamb for 14 yards.

Lamb's catch gave Arkansas a first down on the 11 and Branch burst through a crowd in the middle on the next play and spurred into the end zone.

First-unit quarterback Billy Moore replaced Gray for the conversion try as the Hogs went for the victory.

Top-Rated Alabama Is Defeated, 7-6

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia Tech used a new shotgun offense and old reliable fullback Mike McNames Saturday upsetting top-ranked Alabama 7-6 and handing the defending national champions their first football defeat in 27 games.

McNames, a 196-pound senior, intercepted a pass in the second period and raced 26 yards to the Alabama 14. Two plays later he went 9 yards for a touchdown. And in the fourth period, his jarring tackle thwarted a two-point conversion try when Alabama went for broke after its touchdown and wound up in a state of defeat.

Alabama charged back furiously in a last-minute drive and reached the Tech 14, but defensive specialist Don Toner intercepted a deflected pass with 39 seconds left to play and sealed the tremendous upset.

DOGIES' GORDON MORRIS Gains yardage against Permian

Shorthorns Slash Permian, 20 To 0

Big Spring's stout-hearted shock troops, the B team Shorthorns, wound up one of their most successful seasons in history by mauling Odessa Permian, 20-0, here in a shivery Saturday afternoon.

The Dogies ended play with a 7-2 record, having lost only to Odessa High and Abilene. They outscored the opposition over the year, 208-76.

The locals scored the first time they had the ball. The Permian quarterback, Don Gross, back to pass, had the ball deflected. Jimmy Nipp grabbed it at the 34 and ran it back to the Permian 25.

Two plays carried it to the 12, but two five-yard penalties against Big Spring followed.

After halfback Don Morris carried to the 17, he caught a pass from quarterback Ricky Earle for the TD. Nipp made the two-point conversion to push the score to 8-0 with 5:33 left in the first period.

Two plays after Odessa received the kickoff, Nipp recovered a fumble, this one at the Panther 25. John Hughes was thrown for a yard loss but Nipp carried for four. Two penalties then put the ball on the 33. Faced with third and six, Earle hit end Mike McAllister with a 33-yard touchdown pass.

A bitter 10-mile-an-hour wind and 25-degree cloudy weather chilled both teams and blew away Air Force's post-season bowl hopes.

Steers Shatter Jinx By Kayoing Eagles

By TOMMY HART

A Big Spring football phoenix rose from the ashes of its Midland defeat to annihilate the Abilene Eagles, 20-0, before 6,000 spell-bound fans here Friday night and thereby throw down the gauntlet to San Angelo in the District 2-AAAA championship race.

The dedicated Steers threw 22 yards of frustration and heartbreak into every play to completely befuddle the enemy.

Eight o'clock lightning struck the Eagles when quarterback Albert Fierro connected on two dazzling touchdown passes early in the game. The War Birds, who came here favored by two touchdowns, never recovered.

San Angelo still leads Big Spring by half a game in the standings, but the Steers can win it all by beating the Bobcats in San Angelo next Friday night.

To add insult to injury, Eddy Nelson booted two field goals for Big Spring in the last 90 second of play, one good for 34 yards and the second for 45.

Big Spring showed its mettle relatively early in the second period when the Eagles charged to the Steer five and appeared poised to go in for the score that would have put them back in the ball game.

The visitors drove 57 yards down to Big Spring's five but the yardage came harder after they maneuvered inside the provincials' 20. Quarterback David Jefferies, needing two yards on a fourth-down play, finally took to the air.

The result was disastrous. Humberto Hernandez came up to wrestle successfully for the ball with Abilene's Hugh Lankford at the goal line and returned it to the three.

In the second half, the mobile Steer line gave Jefferies and mercurial Rusty Harris such a bad time the Eagles were never able to get inside the Bovines' 33.

The Steer primary so outcharged the Abilene forward wall that the Eagles' attacking line looked as if it were made of paper mache.

Big Spring scored the second time it went on the attack, Fierro passing to Hernandez on a play that covered 56 yards. Hernandez showed a great change of pace after taking the ball on Abilene's 40. A covey of blockers, headed by Nelson and Dee Roby Gartman, cleared the way for him. It was a first down play.

Fierro then passed to Charley West for the two extra points. West bobbled the ball after accepting it but was already in the end zone.

A sensational 63-yard kick kick by Dick Spier in the fourth that wound up on Abilene's 11 and two fine angle punts by Eric Nichols kept the Eagles reeling in the fourth.

Late in the quarter, Big Spring drove 36 yards down to Abilene's 17 to set the stage for Nelson's first field goal.

Not long after that, West picked off a Jefferies pass and legged it to the Abilene 30 to open the door for Nelson's second field goal. Time ran out as the ball was in the air.

Fierro again took to the air in the try for point but Abilene batted it down.

Shortly before the second quarter expired, the Steers powered their way down to Abilene's 16 but missed a field goal try at that point.

Fierro never completed a pass in the second half but the Steers made menacing gestures at touchdown-land every time they got the ball and played ball-control like a team possessed.

Walter Minter, Thurman Randle, Dick Irons, Buster Barnes, Rick Peters, Mike Houston, Dick Spier, and Tim Smith, among others, kept putting the pressure on Jefferies and the pace began to tell on the courageous Abilene quarterback, who came here labeled as one of the finest passers in 2-AAAA history.

Big Spring hacked out yardage as far as Abilene's 14 early in the third but bobbled the ball at that point and Bob Bearden made the recovery for Abilene at the six.

A sensational 63-yard kick kick by Dick Spier in the fourth that wound up on Abilene's 11 and two fine angle punts by Eric Nichols kept the Eagles reeling in the fourth.

Late in the quarter, Big Spring drove 36 yards down to Abilene's 17 to set the stage for Nelson's first field goal.

Not long after that, West picked off a Jefferies pass and legged it to the Abilene 30 to open the door for Nelson's second field goal. Time ran out as the ball was in the air.

It was a wobbly boot into a slight breeze but easily cleared the cross bar.

Not since 1940 had Big Spring beaten Abilene and the Steers had never, in modern times, shut out the Eagles.

Dee Roby Gartman made a couple of sensational catches to keep Big Spring drives going.

Nichols, taking much of the heat off fullback Spier, proved to be Big Spring's leading ground gainer with 45 yards gained in 11 carries.

Harris came to town with a remarkable record of having gained 866 yards in 124 carries (for a seven-yard average). The rugged Steer primary limited him to 46 paces in 13 carries. Hard-charging Big Spring linemen all but broke him in two on a couple of occasions.

Jefferies showed up with an equally remarkable passing record, having gained 721 yards in 53 completions. His six completions in 17 efforts against the Steers netted an anemic 23 yards and none of them proved damaging to the Longhorns.

The Longhorns outgained the Eagles, 276 yards to 114, and made 15 first downs to seven for the guests.

The victory was their fifth of the season, compared to three defeats and a tie. Abilene is now 6-3. In conference play, the Longhorns are 1-1 while Abilene is 4-2.

Midland Shocked By Odessa, 20-8

ODESSA — Odessa's Bronchos scored once in each of the final three periods here Friday night to claim a 20-8 District 2-AAAA win over Midland High's Bulldogs.

After a scoreless first quarter Broncho fullback Gary Howell drove 17 yards for a tally. His move climaxed a 40-yard march that took eight plays. In the third Gene Crawford intercepted a pass to set up a 45-yard march. Bill Parks scored from the seven and then passed to halfback David Matejowsky for a two-point conversion.

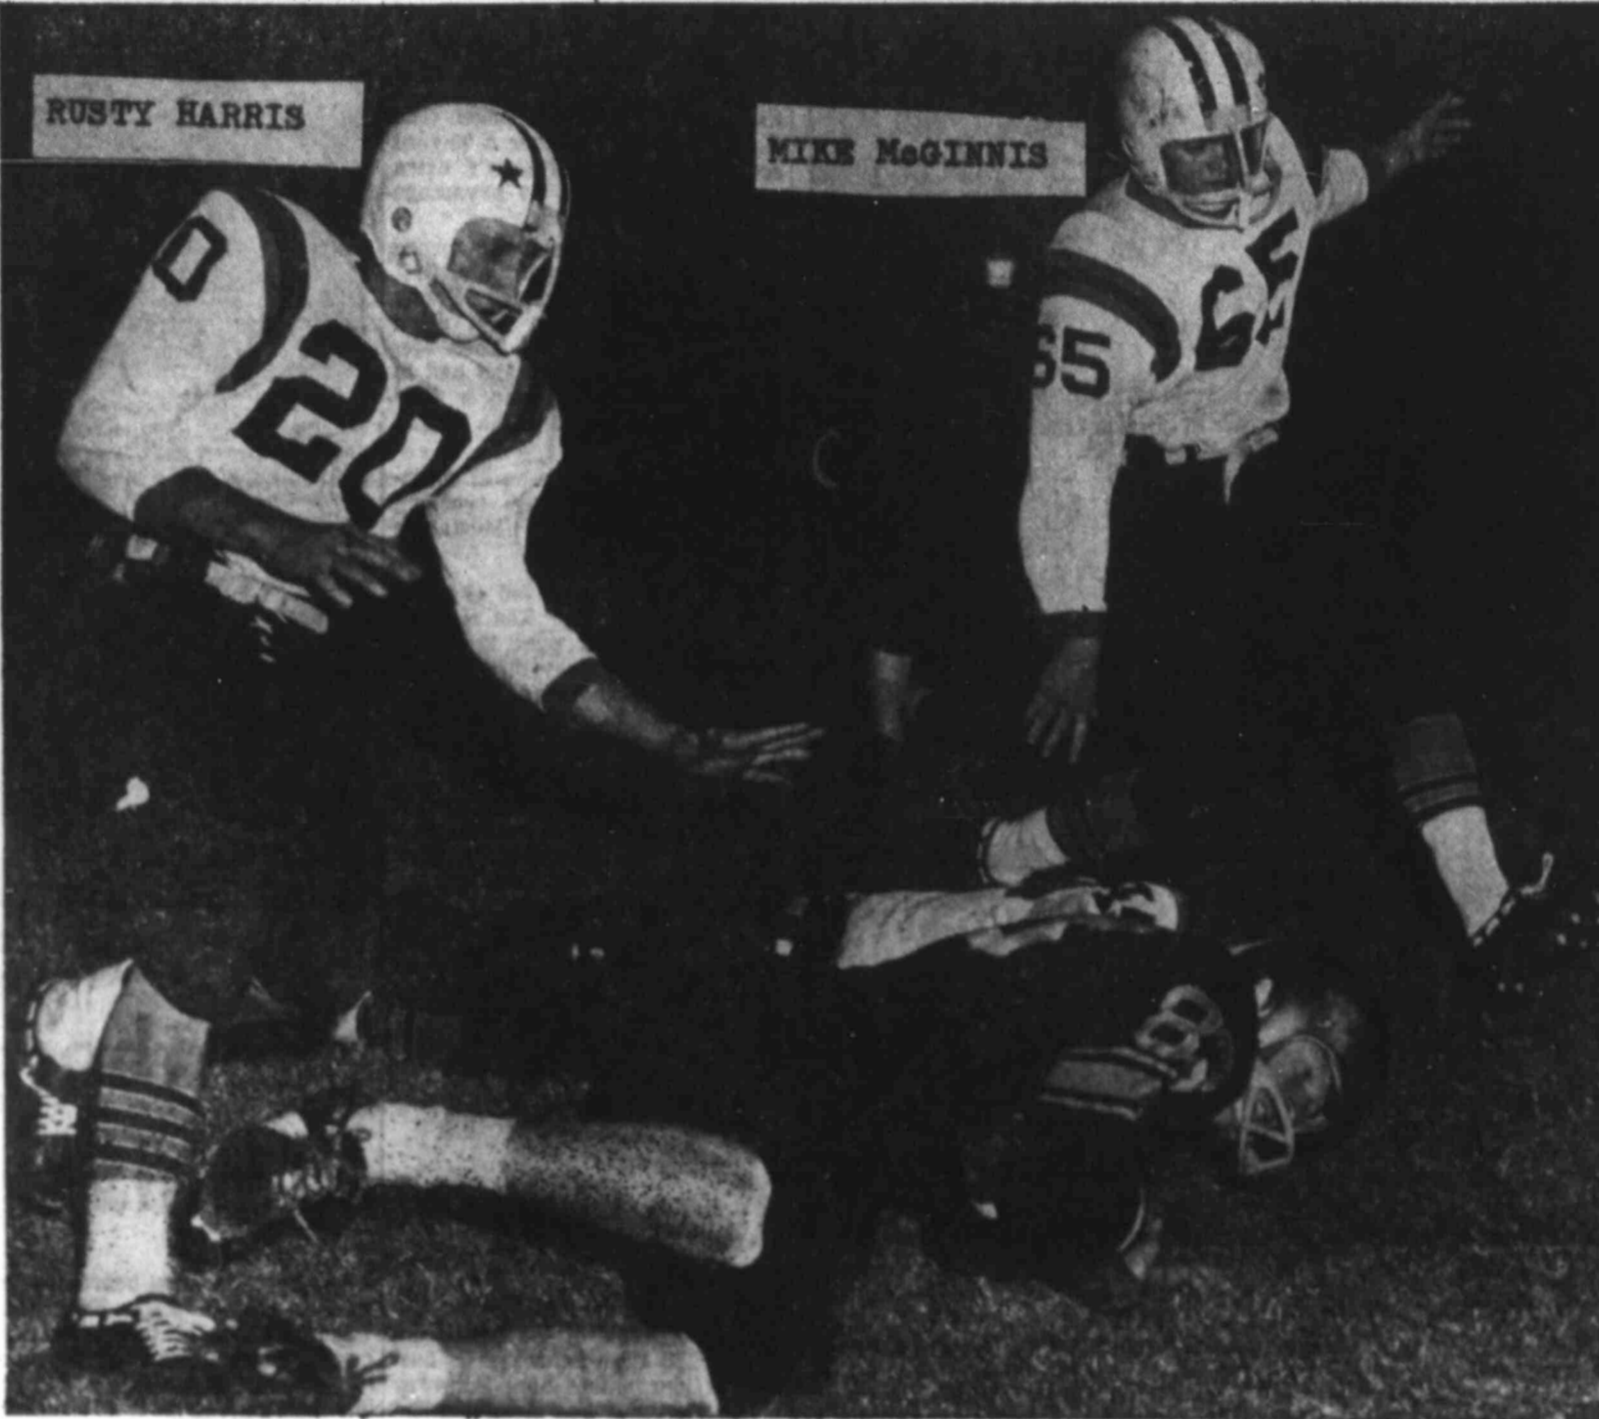

Parks made it 20-0 early in the fourth period when he climaxed a 82-yard move with a dive from the six.

Midland struggled its way onto the scoreboard as fullback Ross Montgomery went over from the one. Quarterback Bill Wood tossed to end Joe Hurley for two points.

Odessa led all the way in statistics with 306 yards rushing to Midland's 145 and 45 through the air to Midland's 22.

Perini Peddles Milwaukee Club To Six Executives

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—A syndicate of six young Midwest business executives and Milwaukee Braves president John McHale summed the job of rebuilding the club's sagging fortunes today after purchasing control of the National League entry from longtime owner Lou Perini.

Perini, a 59-year-old construction magnate with headquarters near the Braves' old home in Boston, announced sale of 90 per cent of the club's assets for $5.5 million Friday.

Perini, who startled the baseball world by moving the Braves to Milwaukee shortly before the start of the 1953 season, surprised most observers with his announcement at a hastily called news conference.

Rather than break away from the game entirely, however, Perini said that his corporation would retain a 10 per cent interest in the club. He will remain as chairman of the executive committee and as a member of the board of directors.

The syndicate of new owners is headed by two former directors of the Chicago White Sox. William C. Bartholomay, 34, of Lake Forest, Ill., and Lake Geneva, Wis., and Thomas A. Reynolds Jr., 34, of Northfield, Ill. Bartholomay is a Chicago insurance broker and Reynolds is a partner in a Chicago business firm.

McHale, 41, Perini's choice to become general manager in 1959 and then to assume the additional responsibility of president last year, will remain in both positions as well as being a co-owner.

Other members of the new group are John J. Louis Jr., 37, of Phoenix, Ariz., and Cable, Wis.; Daniel C. Searle, 36, a Winnetka, Ill., business executive; James B. McCahey Jr., 41, a fuel company executive from Evanston, Ill., and Delbert W. Coleman, 36, of Winnetka, a prominent investment executive.

Bartholomay and Reynolds said the success of the Milwaukee franchise "depends substantially on the loyal support of local organizations" and "we will include in the ownership group other civic-minded fans from Wisconsin whose names will be announced soon."

The new owners assume control at a time when the Braves' fortunes are at their lowest ebb since their final season in Boston in 1952. They drew more than one million fans in their first nine years in Milwaukee, reaching a high of 2,215,504 for 73 home dates in 1957.

The club dropped to fifth place this past season and attendance dipped to 767,221 despite an expanded schedule in a 10-team league. It now is in the process of negotiating a new contract for the county-owned stadium, which is not involved in the sale of the team's assets.

Perini said that in some 20 years as owner of the Braves he had received many offers for the club. He noted that he had said many times the club was not for sale, but that he now feels a good deal more can be accomplished by new ownership.

Sweetwater Wins Over Tornadoes

LAMESA—Three touchdowns in the second half gave the Sweetwater Mustangs a 20-6 District 3-AAA victory over Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes.

After a scoreless first half Lamesa quarterback Sherrill Kidd took the opening second-half kickoff 85 yards to score.

On the ensuing possession Sweetwater moved the ball to Lamesa's 14, from where Tinker Parsons scored. In the fourth Parsons put Sweetwater ahead with a three-yard plunge, and Gene Kropp stretched the margin with a 56-yard scamper. Ron Dement ran the conversion.

Sweetwater nudged Lamesa in the first down department, 11-10, and held a huge 267-132 edge in rushing yardage. Lamesa connected on four passes, netting 55 yards. Each squad lost one fumble and intercepted three aeri-als.

GARDEN CITY — The Garden City Bearcats fell to the Grandfalls-Royalty Cowboys, 52-0, here Friday night. It was the final high school football game for three Bearcats—Ritchie Reynolds, Richard Robinson, and Hugh Schafer—all seniors.

The Cowboys used the first and third quarters to do most of their scoring of seven touchdowns, while racking up a total of 348 yards on the ground and in the air. Garden City gained a total of 116 yards. Only nine of these came through the airways. Grandfalls-Royalty gained 14 first downs to the Bearcats' six. The Cowboys had to punt only once during the game.

The Bearcats received the opening kickoff but failed to make a first down and punted to the Cowboys on their own 37. Before three minutes had elapsed Raydell Cooper scampered 20 yards for the first touchdown and Cox went over for two more points.

Garden City took the kickoff and made two first downs in the remainder of the quarter but could not get close to the goal line. With three minutes left in the quarter, Cowboy Cooper ripped off another 20 yards for a touchdown but the try-for-point failed.

During the second half the Cats managed two first downs and gained 37 yards total on the ground, while the Cowboys ran up three first downs, 51 yards on the ground, and William Cox let fly a pass to Cooper for 20 yards and the third touchdown.

The third quarter opened with the Cowboys taking the kickoff and going to work again. Bill Brandenburg went through the line for 13 yards on third down, Cooper picked up another 15 yards, and Cox pitched one to Bobbie Sidlo for 35 yards and a touchdown. Tipton made two more points.

Brandenburg and Cox scored the next two touchdowns and Tipton took the ball over for another two points but missed on the second try. The Cowboys made four first downs in the third quarter while the Cats could not move the ball enough for a single first down.

Bench warmers went into the game in the fourth quarter for the Cowboys and the Bearcats were able to muster two first downs. They completed one pass for nine yards but could not get yardage enough to count. They lost the ball on a fumble to the Cowboys and shortly afterward Cox took a 12-yard pass over for the final touchdown, with William Brown making the extra points.

Four penalties were assessed against the Cowboys in the fourth quarter for offside, clipping, delay of the game, and for a personal foul making a total of 40 yards lost. One penalty for holding was assessed against the Cats.

During the third quarter fans were treated to a fight when blows were exchanged between a couple of the players, both of whom left the field for the remainder of the game. A second show almost developed a minute later but players from both teams cooled off their boys before anything happened.

The crowd was comparatively small for the game, which was the last of the season for both teams.

Starters for Garden City were Richard Robinson, Hugh Schafer, Ritchie Reynolds, Terry Fields, Vernon Newsom, Riley Chandler, Gary Pagan, and Dennis Seidenberger; for Grandfalls-Royalty, William Cox, Clifford Kidd, Sherman Covington, Richard Marcum, Bobbie Sidlo, Donald Winkley, and Raydell Cooper.

STERLING CITY—The Forsan Buffaloes took the District 6-B eight-man championship Friday night with a thrilling 22-14 victory over the Sterling City Eagles.

The well-matched squads went into the contest with identical 3-0 district records. The Buffs' next hurdle will be the bi-district title with District 5-B champs Jayton—time and place to be decided at a meeting in Snyder Monday noon.

Each team scored twice in the first half and stood at a 14-14 impasse at the half. Forsan's winning touchdown in the opening minutes of the third period was the only second-half scoring.

Sterling City played the part of the aggressor in the first half, twice jumping into the lead only to watch the die-hard Buffs tie it up both times. Coach Oscar Boeker's defensive charges, averaging 175 pounds per man on the line, held the hard-charging Eagles to 147 yards on the ground.

The Eagles, with 102 points, are the highest-scoring team in the district. Forsan's defensive squad went into the game with only 14 points scored against it. Buffalo star quarterback Ken Soles was the game's leading rusher with 130 yards in eight trips. Soles handled his squad well and kept to the ground, throwing only six passes during the game.

Defensive mainstays were Jimmy Flynt and Harry King. Flynt, a 195-pound linebacker, played with a cast on his left arm. Until just before game time Flynt wore a metal splint and was not expected to play. He substituted cast got doctor's approval and the Buffalo co-captain played a good share of the defensive game.

The 145-pound King, a halfback on offense that scooted 56 yards in 14 carries, held a linebacker's slot on defense and scooped up two Eagle fumbles.

Sterling City was held to no gain on the first two plays of the game, but on the third try junior fullback Danny Bailey broke through left tackle on a 54-yard TD run.

The Buffs, refusing to buckle, came right back on the following kickoff as Soles gathered the boot in at his 15 and went 65 yards behind good blocking to score. Jim Alexander's conversion run gave Forsan an 8-6 lead.

Sterling City fashioned a futile march to Forsan's 20, then came back on its next series to move 64 yards to a 14-8 lead. Sophomore end Crisp Williams snagged the first Buffalo pass of the game at his own 18. Quarterback Jerry Payne tossed 15 yards to Williams and nine to Vern Ashton to fuel the move. Bailey, who had earlier scooted 13 yards, scored from the five, then accepted Payne's conversion pass.

Again Forsan tied it up—this time in a close race with the halftime gun. H. K. Elrod picked up an Eagle fumble at the home 17. Soles made it to the one-inch line in two trips, from where halfback K. Robertson scored. The score stood 14-14 as the Buffalo conversion run failed.

The Buffs brought across the winning TD two minutes deep in the third as King flopped on a crucial fumble at the SC 19. On the first play Robertson fought his way over and Jim Alexander's conversion run put the Buffs on top, 22-14.

Forsan managed three drives inside the Eagles' 25 before the game ended.

Sterling City's only other serious drive came in the closing seconds of the game as a fourth down play was stopped at the Forsan eight.

The fired-up Buffs were penalized 80 yards, the length of an eight-man field. Six of the infractions were for being off side.

Early Kills

Bobby Fuller, holding the horns of a deer, and Milton Davis, didn't waste any time bagging their game after leaving on a hunting trip Saturday morning. Bobby killed a 17-pound buck dressing out at 128 pounds (his first ever). Davis felled a nine-pounder weighing 94 pounds. The two left for the Sterling City area before daylight and had their deer by 7:30 a.m. They said they saw lots of other deer in the area.

Elorde Triumphs

MANILA (AP)—Flash Elorde of the Philippines scored a technical knockout over Puntaransing Isarakas of Thailand in the third round of a scheduled 10-rounder Friday night to retain his world's junior lightweight championship. Elorde weighed 135 pounds to 132½ for Isarakas.

Texas Tech Trounces Colorado, 21 To 12

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Frustrated Texas Tech, sparked by a 98-yard pass interception return by end David Parks, rose up to beat University of Colorado, 21-12, Saturday for its first victory of the season before 10,000 snow-chilled fans.

The Red Raiders, controlling action in the first half, struck for two touchdowns by fullback Coolidge Hunt and protected a 14-6 interception lead.

The Buffaloes, who now have the identical 1-3 record of Tech, scored on a 2-yard pass in the second quarter from quarterback Frank Cesarek to halfback John McGuire and in the fourth quarter on a yard plunge by Cesarek. Fullback H. L. Daniels converted all three extra points for the Red Raiders. Both Colorado pass attempts for extra points failed. Colorado, using a second half passing attack as the snow and mist cleared off, completed 7 of 14 passes for 82 yards. It gave the Buffaloes an edge in total offense for the game, 272 yards to 253.

But the Raiders, scoring the first time they held the ball and staying in front, were content to stay on the ground, led by halfback Bill Worley. He gained 88 yards on 11 plays, but yielded rushing honors to workhorse fullback Bill Harris of Colorado. The

Cadets Guilty Of Poor Ball Handling In Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—Rick Lee-son's placement after Pitt's lone touchdown beat Army Saturday 7-6 in a head-knocking football game marred by Army's sloppy ball handling.

Bob Roeder drove into the end zone from Pitt's 4 in the second period after Pitt's Jim Irwin had recovered John Seymour's fumble on the Army 15. Roeder scored on a fourth- and -two situation, skirting right end on a power sweep.

Joe Blackgrove slammed over from the 3 at 10:15 of the third period for the lone Army score. It had been set up by the aroused Chinese Bandits, who had swarmed over Jim Traficant and Paul Martha, throwing them for a total loss of 50 yards in three plays. Blackgrove picked up most of the yardage in the 33-yard march that also included a 15-yard gainer by Ken Waldrop on a reverse.

The Cadets were lining up quickly without going into a huddle during that drive.

With the game hanging in the balance, Cammy Lewis tried to run the ball over for a two-point conversion but he fumbled when he hit short of the goal line. The fumble was not important because he would not have made the distance.

Army reached the Pitt 34 in the final period before another fumble, this time by Don Parcels, stopped them. Irwin again recovered for Pitt.

The teams played it close to the vest most of the way and the game settled down to a punting duel between Pete Billy of Pitt and Dick Peterson of Army.

San Angelo Bobcats Keep Lead With 24-0 Victory

ABILENE—Two scoring drives and a punt return netted three San Angelo touchdowns Friday night as the Bobcats romped to a 24-0 District 2-AAAA decision over Abilene Cooper.

With little more than three minutes of the game gone, San Angelo's Jimmy Bihl hauled in a punt at his 44 and raced 56 yards to the game's first touchdown. Bill Paschal trotted around left end for a two-point conversion.

A 67-yard sustained drive brought the next Angelo touchdown. Quarterback Ronnie Henson passed 15 yards to halfback Sam Ray for the score. Paschal delivered two on an end sweep.

Angelo's third-period tally came when an 80-yard drive was ended with Henson going eight yards off tackle. The fleet-footed back repeated the play on a successful point-after run.

The Cougars drove to the Angelo 33 and one-yard lines in the first half, and in the second to the 18, 28 and the 31 twice.

The Angeloans, now 5-1 in the 2-AAAA lead, defend the top spot next week against the visiting Big Spring Steers.

By JOE BEYER
COAHOAMA — The hometown Bulldogs wound up in third place in District 6-A with a 33-6 trouncing of the Wylie Bulldogs here Friday night.

The victory in Coahoma's final game gives them a three won, two lost conference record with an overall record of six wins and four losses, their best record in four years. Wylie, with two won and eight lost and with no victories in conference play, winds up its season in last place.

Coahoma sounded the victor's trumpet early in the game when it struck two minutes deep in the game on a 38-yard pass from quarterback Tommy Grant to halfback Eddie McHugh. The play capped a 73-yard drive which took only five plays.

The hard-fought game saw five fumbles and a lot of penalties, many of which were canceled because of miscues on both sides. Tempers flared and Wylie lost one of its star players when he was ejected from the game midway through the last quarter.

A small crowd ventured out to watch the cold-weather game. The first crowd the Coahoma team has drawn all year.

The Wylie Bulldogs scored their only touchdown with three minutes remaining in the first quarter after tackle Terry Loetz pounced on a bobble by Buddy Anderson of Coahoma. Anderson recovered a low pass from center, but missed the football when he made a desperation attempt to get off a kick with a swarm of Wylie tacklers on him. Wylie took over on Coahoma's 19-yard line and fullback Dana Veteto carried over from the one six plays later.

Coahoma ripped through the lighter Wylie line for 290 yards on the ground and punctured its pass defense four times for 119 yards. Wylie got rolling only twice after its score and really threatened only once more, that in the final quarter when they drove to the seven and lost the ball on downs.

Coahoma put the clincher on the scoreboard early in the second quarter when quarterback Grant stepped deftly through a hole opened in the line and zipped 77 yards into the endzone. He also ran the extra points. Fullback Bill Turner scored again for Coahoma with 1:05 showing on the clock on a draw play which was good for 25 yards. Wayne Krause kicked the extra point.

Wylie drove consistently only when using a spread against the Coahoma eleven. Coahoma, however, solved that offense when they needed to stop a drive.

Coahoma scored once in each of the last two quarters. Grant passed to Jimmy Mays, end, with 6:25 remaining in the third quarter on a 41-yarder to tack up the fourth Coahoma score and then McHugh chugged 61 yards in short time with 1:22 left in the game. Neither extra point attempt was good.

Halfback D. Allen for Coahoma showed what that Bulldog eleven is storing up for next year. The freshman carried seven times for a total of 88 yards, or a 12.5 yard average. Coach Jim Spann used many of his younger squad members to give them a bit of seasoning.

Sharing the offensive honors with Allen was halfback McHugh, a sophomore, who carried nine times for 120 yards and a 14.4 yard average. McHugh also caught two passes for 54 yards.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

A phone call made to get an after-dinner speaker for a Snyder High School football banquet opened the door for John Conley to become a coaching aide at Texas Tech.

John was then the head coach at Snyder but had decided to resign that post, no matter what kind of a position opened up.

He called Lubbock to ask DeWitt Weaver, who had been head coach at Tech, to accept a speaking engagement at Snyder.

"He was told that Weaver had resigned the Tech coaching job to enter the business world," Conley hung up the phone, then was inspired to invite J. T. King, at the time a Raider coaching aide, to fill the speaking date.

King gladly accepted. Conley subsequently let J. T. know he was available for one of the assistant coaches' jobs and King remembered the conversation when it came time to fill out his staff.

Chuck Bednarik, the Philadelphia pro football center, says he's seen only one better team than the current Green Bay outfit: "Our '49 club."

Oscar Boeker, the Forsan grid mentor, plans to book three 11-man games for his eight-man club again in 1963.

Sands will probably replace the Big Spring B team on the Buffs' schedule.

Forsan will probably meet B squads of Coahoma and Stanton, in addition.

Boeker's biggest task next fall will be in finding a replacement for Jimmy Flynt, his stellar halfback and linebacker.

Bill Teaff, president of the Optimist Club in Snyder, is the father of Grant Teaff, the McMurry College football coach.

McMurry played Louisiana College in Snyder last night.

That red-hot Midland Lee B football team, which was miffed when a game with Big Spring was cancelled recently, won its sixth straight game recently by mauling the San Angelo reserves, 48-0.

Three members of the Odessa High School football team — end Monroe Morrison, tackle Mike Holcomb and guard Butch Collins — quit the squad prior to the Bronchos' game with Midland High the past week.

Young Thomas May Be Seven-Footer

Paul Thomas, the budding cage star here, says this window has been giving his height wrong.

"It should be 6-foot-5," he says.

He's only in the ninth grade (at Lakeview Junior High).

He's apt to be as tall as Will The Sitt Chamberlain before he's through growing and schools all over the area are going to be after him.

Big Spring came close to losing one of its brightest junior high school football stars to Odessa recently.

Each of the four members of the Detroit Lions' defensive line has scored at least two points this season.

They are Bill Glass, Alex Karras, Roger Brown and Sam Williams.

The HCJC basketball team scrimmaged ACC's varsity troops here the other night and reportedly outscored the Wildcats.

Arrangements are being made to broadcast all of the Hawks' games in Kansas this season over station KBST.

Bob Bell, a voice familiar to local basketball buffs, will do the play-by-play.

Al Klaven, the former Big Spring High School and HCJC cage star, is due out of the Armed Forces shortly before Christmas and will probably resume his career as a school teacher.

He is now in Virginia.

The Odessa College Basketball tournament and the Odessa-Amarillo round-robin meet take place on the same weekend this year—Nov. 29-30-Dec. 1.

Teams in the Odessa College meet this year include Schreiner, San Angelo, Frank Phillips of Berger, Lubbock Christian College, NMMI, Clarendon and South Plains of Loveland, in addition to the host school.

The Chicago Cubs will revert to the system of having a manager run their baseball club affair, although the present plan of rotating coaches will be retained on a lower level.

Wichita Falls' Larry Shields has been running on the University of Oklahoma's freshman unit's second team.

Midland's Carl Schreiner is serving as a co-captain of the OU frosh outfit.

Clay May Not Get An Early Title Shot

NEW YORK—Cassius Clay, the hottest prospect and fastest talker in the heavyweight division, appeared today to be in for a disappointment if he hopes to rush into a title fight with champion Sonny Liston.

Floyd Patterson, Billy Daniels, Zora Folley, Doug Jones, Eddie Machen, and even Ingemar Johansson were names being bandied about as possible opponents.

Clay proved himself a valuable piece of property Thursday night when he stopped ancient Archie Moore in the fourth round of their scheduled 12-rounder at Los Angeles.

If Liston will go for it, Clay could wind up in the ring against Patterson in Madison Square Garden in January. Liston would have to okay the bout because he and Patterson have a return bout contract. Sonny demolished Patterson in the first round of their championship bout in Chicago last Sept. 25.

Harry Markson, general manager of the Madison Square Garden Boxing Club, would like to put on a Clay-Patterson bout, with the winner to meet Liston for the crown in the Yankee Stadium in June.

"I know Patterson has a return bout contract with Liston," said Markson. "But I'm sure Floyd realizes that because of his first round knockout, there will be little interest in their return unless he does something to restore public confidence in his fighting ability."

Field Goal Enables Sonora To Tip Buffs

STANTON — A four-yard field goal by Primo Gonzales with four seconds left to play in the game gave the Sonora Bronchos a hard fought 24-21 victory over the Stanton Buffaloes in a District 7-AA game here Friday night.

Gonzales' field goal ended a seesaw battle which saw neither team take more than a seven point lead. The field goal came after a drive which started on the Sonora 18. Using all running plays, the Bronchos drove to the 16. From there Gonzales hit Bobby Castillo with a pass which carried to the seven. Two plays could get only to the four. On third down, not electing to gamble with the touchdown, quarterback Gonzales kicked the ball through the uprights.

Stanton started the game as if it was going to be a run-away. On the opening kickoff the Buffs took possession of the ball on their own

32. Eleven plays later, Joe Williams bounced over from the two to give the Buffaloes a 6-0 lead. Big play of the drive was a 27-yard pass from Buddy Glaspie to Teddy Stewart, which carried to the Sonora 14. Sonora waited until the second quarter to strike back. Taking the ball on downs the Horns started a drive from their own 33. With 7:13 left of the period Julio Samaniego crashed over from the two. Samaniego carried the ball seven times for 54 yards on the drive. Gonzales kicked the conversion to make the score 7-6. Stanton bounced right back and took a 14-7 lead when Dewey Anderson scored from the two with 0:34 left in the half. A pass from Glaspie to Clinton Miller mounted the two-point conversion.

In the second half, Stanton forced to give up the ball, punted to the 46 from where Castillo, the lightest man on the field, took it, headed for the sidelines and ran 46 yards for a touchdown. Gonzales added the conversion which made the score 15-14 in favor of Sonora.

The Buffs, trying desperately to pull this one out, on the following kickoff started a 52-yard drive which netted them a touchdown and a 21-15 lead.

The score occurred on a 14-yard pass from Glaspie to Stewart. Williams made the one point conversion.

The Bronchos fought back when Castillo crashed over from two yards out.

On the extra point try the Buffalo line rushed in and blocked the kick to leave the score tied at 21-21. That set the stage for the drive, which ended when Gonzales swung his talented toe.

Snyder Mauls Colorado City

COLORADO CITY—The Snyder Tigers used the Colorado City Wolves as a staircase to escape the 3-AA cellar Friday night, whipping the Colorado City team, 25-0.

Snyder's first drive—56 yards—was cancelled out when Tiger fullback Darrell Aldridge dropped the ball as he crossed the goal line. The Wolves covered and took over on a touchback. This came on the opening kickoff. The Wolves took over on the 20 but ended with minus yardage and kicked after three plays; and the Tigers began to fashion another drive which took the last minutes of the first quarter and the first minutes of the second. The drive covered 54 yards and ended as halfback Tom Kincaid went through the middle for one yard and the first touchdown.

The second Snyder score came as the Tigers drove 53 yards. The scoring play was a 33-yard pass from quarterback Jimmy Wilson to halfback Leslie Brown. Brown was in the end zone and the ball and a Wolf defender arrived together. Brown dropped the ball as he fell to his knees and some observers thought he caught it on the bounce. Officials ruled the completion, however, and Snyder led, 12-0, as the half ended.

The third TD came on a 61-yard run by Brown in the opening moments of the third quarter. Fullback Darrell Aldridge kicked the extra point.

The Tigers' final score came as the Wolves attempted to climb from a hole on their own 11-yard line. Colorado City's fullback, Charlie Houston, kicked 10 yards to the 21. On the second play, Tiger QB Wilson hit end Tim Hardin with a pass to the one-yard line and then scored on a QB sneak.

Sands, Greenwood Teams Split Two

GREENWOOD—The Sands Junior High boys thumped Greenwood in their season's opening basketball game here Thursday night, 38-34.

In the girls' contest, Greenwood won, 27-16. Jones hit 13 points for Greenwood and Kay Sample seven for Sands in that one.

In PeeWee games, Sands nosed out the home team, 21-20, in boys competition after winning the girls' game, 23-19.

The Sands teams play their next games at home Nov. 29 against Forsan.

Association Sets Partnership Meet

A low-ball partnership tournament, in which linksters can choose their own partners, will be staged at the Big Spring Golf association at the Munny course Nov. 22-25.

Play will extend over 18 holes and golfers can play their round any way they choose. Entry fee is $2 per player.

Merchandise prizes will go to teams posting low scores. Any member of the BSGA is eligible to take part.

Rodrique On Regular Squad At Rice

Julian Pressley, the Odessa High School baseball coach, says he'll make up his mind shortly after football season on the offer made by the New York Mets to scout full time.

Regardless of which job he holds, he'll continue to make his home in Odessa.

He's already employed part-time by the Mets.

Ezzard Charles, the former heavyweight boxing champion who has been visiting in the area, says the comic section of the newspapers first got him interested in a fight career.

Charles was in nine fights in which the championship was at stake.

He works for a wine company now, traveling around the nation to promote its product.

Ezzard reasons he made about a million and a half dollars in the ring but laments that he was able to keep little of it.

Sonny Liston may fight his next title fight in Europe, if no American city will take a chance on his rematch with Floyd Patterson.

He's been offered $600,000 to fight in England.

Barry Rodrique, the former NMMI cage star, has been running first string with the Rice University basketball team in early workouts, along with Kendall Rhine, Larry Phillips, Herb Steinkamp and Frank Pickens.

Elvis Spradling, the former HCJC star, is also bidding for a regular job down there.

One of the basketball lettermen coach Phil George of San Angelo College had been counting on, Gene West of Sonora, didn't return to school this fall.

The Rams have five letter winners back from last season, however, and all were considered starters at one time or another.

The Rams won 23 and lost nine last season and succeeded in beating HCJC in the Region V finals at Amarillo.

The Abilene High Eagles open their 1962-63 basketball season as early as Nov. 23 (against Coleman), a week in advance of Big Spring High School.

The Eagles will play in the San Marcos and Howard Payne tournaments.

Observers say football fans in Wichita Falls have grown apathetic toward the Coyotes, which is the reason a great football dynasty is slowly going into decline.

PROPOSED UNIT WOULD COST $12 MILLION

Flood Project Hearing Set

A hearing on the proposed Permian Water Flood Unit of 44,160 acres in the Upton-Reagan Counties sector of the Spraberry Trend Area will be held in December by the Railroad Commission of Texas at Austin.

Should the entire program be developed and all of the area in the unit put under flood, an expenditure of around $12,000,000 would be required.

If approved the Permian project would be the second largest unit in the mammoth 500,000-acre plus Spraberry Trend. It would be next in size to Sohio Petroleum Company's 59,980-acre Driver Unit which takes in portions of Midland, Glasscock, Reagan and Upton counties. The Driver Unit is one of the four active water flood operations in the area.

The secondary recovery project being proposed for the Permian area would recover an estimated additional 55,000,000 barrels of crude oil according to estimates by interested engineers.

The territory in the proposed unit now has 266 producing wells. Cumulative production is approximately 13,500,000 barrels.

Those wells presently are yielding approximately 40,000 barrels of crude oil monthly. It is estimated that primary recovery methods—pumping and flowing—will be able to recover only 1,500,000 barrels of additional oil.

More than 95 per cent of the 215 working interest owners and of the 1,100 royalty owners in the area, covered by the proposed project, already have ratified the unit contracts.

Humble Oil and Refining Company would be operator for the Permian Unit.

Under the application to be considered by the Railroad Commission at the Dec. 7 hearing it is proposed to develop the Permian flood in three phases. Each phase is scheduled to cover approximately one-third of the area in the unit.

The proposed unit extends 10 miles from north to south. It is 9 1/2 miles from east to west at the widest points, and five miles from east to west at the narrowest.

The north line of the unit is six miles south of Midkiff and the south line is three miles north of Benedum.

In addition to the 59,980-acre Sohio Driver Unit, other active water flood projects in the Spraberry Trend Area include Humble's 23,160-acre Midkiff Unit, Phillips Petroleum Company's 23,160-acre North Permian Unit, and Southland Royalty Company's 18,990-acre Aldwell Unit. In addition, 10 other proposed units either are in the engineering or negotiating stages.

They are Marathon Oil Company's 20,600-acre Benedum Unit; Phillips' 8,160-acre Greathouse Unit; Phillips' 11,960-acre Hendrickson Unit; The Atlantic Refining Company's 22,720-acre Hutchinson Unit; Cities Service Petroleum Company's 22,400-acre Merchant Unit.

And Tidewater Oil Company's 14,790-acre Nunn Unit; Socony Mobil Oil Company's 29,000-acre Shackleford Unit; Socony Mobil's 18,800-acre South Spraberry Unit; Gordon Street's 12,960-acre Stiles Unit and Amerada Petroleum Corporation's 15,840-acre West Aldwell Unit.

The four operating units in the Spraberry Trend cover 125,290 acres, or approximately one-fourth of the total area in the mammoth field.

The proposed Permian Unit with its 44,160 acres, plus the 176,620 acres represented by the 10 other projects which are still in the "getting ready" stages aggregates 220,790 acres.

The total area in the active and proposed units is 346,380 acres—approximately 70 per cent of the entire reservoir.

Area Oil Potential Climbs As More Wells Are Finaled

Area new potential climbed for the third straight month during October as operators completed more projects in the local eight-county area than they have finished in any month in the past three years.

A total of 52 projects were completed—50 field wells and two discoveries—for 4,961.42 barrels of new oil, up 399.42 barrels from September. It is 324.06 barrels over the 4,537.36 registered in October 1961.

For the year, new potential at the end of October stands at 22,438.06 barrels, up 8,945.17 barrels above the 1961 figure at that point. The 1961 10-month total was more than 6,200 barrels above that for the previous year.

New locations still lag behind 1961 by a count of 40. There were 490 recorded through October compared to 530 a year ago. Completions, however, are up 42 to 430.

Operators struck pay dirt twice on wildcats. In Dawson County, Standard No. 1 N. T. O'Brien added to Spraberry production in the southwestern part of the county with a producer of 41 barrels. Sterling County picked up the Grayburg in the Herrell field with completion of Foster No. 8 TXL for 67.42 barrels.

Martin County went into the lead again during October, chalking up 1,392 barrels from 10 completions. Dawson County, with 15 new wells, had 1,225 barrels of new potential.

A county-by-county look at activity during October follows.
BORDEN
The county logged more production during October than it has in any other month this year with three wells coming in for a total of 689 barrels. Accounting for most of it was one Von Roeder completion for 468 barrels. Another in the field produced 28 barrels. The Hobo field had one well with a potential of 193 barrels.

One wildcat was plugged and abandoned. Another, however, was staked in the county along with a Hobo field site.

DAWSON

Fifteen new wells were good enough for first place in that category in the area during October, but they could take only second place in potential with 1,225 barrels. Nine were in the Welch field. Other lone wells were finished in the Ackerly, Britt, Jo-Mill, Spraberry and Welch, South fields. One wildcat hit discovery pay.

There were eight new locations filed in the county, two of them prospectors. Other sites are in the Britt, Ackerly, Tex-Hamon and Patricia, West fields, one each; and two in the Welch field. One wildcat and one Tex-Hamon site were dusters.

GARZA

Three Post (Glorieta) wells and another in the Dorward field added 195 barrels to area new potential for the total October new oil in Garza County. One prospector and one venture in each of the Garza, East and Red Loflin, North fields were plugged and abandoned.

Two wildcats were included in the 11 new sites filed. One location is in the Dorward field and the other eight are in the Post, GLASSCOCK

Activity virtually came to a standstill in Glasscock County during October, with no projects completed. One wildcat was spotted along with two Spraberry Trend Area projects.

HOWARD

The Howard-Glasscock field logged five of nine producers registered in Howard County. Total new oil for the month was 597 barrels. Other wells were single completions in the Ackerly, Southeast, Iatan-East Howard, Snyder and Spraberry Trend Area. The Trend was pulled farther into Howard County with completion of Connally No. 1 Wilkinson about nine miles west of Big Spring. The county gained its first Spraberry Trend Area production with designation of the Playa (Spraberry) field as a part of the Trend earlier.

Drilling in Howard County continues at a rapid pace as 14 new sites were staked, most in the eight-county area. Three are wildcats, three are in the Howard-Glasscock field, two are in the Iatan-East Howard field and six in the Snyder field.

One exploratory project was declared a failure.

Resumed activity in the Martin County segment of the Mabee field helped push new potential to top place among the area counties with a 1,392-barrel total. There were 10 new wells. The Ackerly field and Spraberry Trend Area had two each, one in the Breedlove field and five are in the Mabee field.

Of six new locations, two are in the Ackerly field and two in the Spraberry Trend Area. The others are one wildcat and one Mabee location. One wildcat was a duster.

MITCHELL

Eight new wells logged 632 barrels of new oil during October in Mitchell County. Three are in the Iatan-East Howard field, two in the Turner-Gregory, two in the Westbrook and one in the Nena Lucia, West field.

Two Turner-Gregory sites and one Iatan-East Howard project comprise the three new locations. Two prospectors were abandoned.

STERLING

A Grayburg discovery in the Herrell field accounted for more than half the total new production of Sterling County during the month. It had 67.42 barrels pumping initially. Two Herrell, East wells had combined production of 64 barrels. One wildcat was a failure.

New locations were spread out evenly among five fields. Each gained one. The fields are the Crede, Herrell, Durham, Clark and Herrell, East.

Oil Institute Chairman Calls 1962 Exceptionally Good Year

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP)—The chairman of the American Petroleum Institute calls 1962 an exceptionally good year.

L. F. McCollum of Houston says a number of problems will be carried into 1963 but the industry, at home and abroad, has set a number of records this year.

New production and demand records have been set for crude oil, natural gas, and petrochemicals.

Total domestic demand for petroleum products is expected to average 10,200,000 barrels daily by Jan. 1.

A new high for total demand had been expected but the indicated 4.2 per cent gain over 1961, largest annual increase since 1955, dwarfs most forecasts. Most pre-

Little Action On Oil Issues

HOUSTON (AP)—The last Congress took little action on oil and gas issues.

Extension of the 4-cent federal tax on gasoline through 1972 was the only significant defeat suffered by the industry.

This was a bitter pill but it was offset by the defeat of two Senate floor amendments that would have cut the industry's controversial 27 1/2 per cent depletion tax allowance.

Independent producers, assisted by some major firms, fought vigorously for stronger oil imports controls. They lost in both houses but the new foreign trade bill retained the national defense clause which led to mandatory controls on foreign oil.

There was no action on legislation to clarify the Federal Power Commission's authority to control wellhead prices of natural gas sold into interstate commerce for resale.

Neither Congress nor the industry pressed for action on gas price controls. There was indication of some impatience toward the end of the session but both sides, for the most part, appeared content to let the FPC have a fair chance to develop the area pricing formula adopted in 1960.

A special study group appointed by the Senate Interior Committee probably gave oilmen their biggest victory of the session.

The group was assigned the job of studying the coal industry's contention that Congress should adopt a national fuels policy. The group recommended no legislation and supported oil's position the nation has a sound fuels policy based on free and open competition among fuels.

The new Congress in January may be tougher.

Activity Makes A Major Climb

Rotary rig activity in the Permian Basin Empire made a major climb upward to 224 working units on the Friday count of Reed Roller Bit Company.

This was a gain of 16 over the 208 active rotaries in the West Texas-Southeast New Mexico area a week earlier and marked the sixth successive weekly survey on which the region had shown an increase in the number of working rigs.

The latest total fell only one below the 225 rigs listed in the two-state territory on Nov. 16 last year.

Despite a drop to 29 on the Friday count, down four from the 33 working rotaries it listed the prior week, Lea County, N. M. held to first place.

The county - by - county count, with previous totals in parenthesis, includes:

Duncan Receives Service Pin

L. H. Duncan, veteran Pan American Petroleum Corporation field foreman, was presented with a 20 year service pin at a supervisor's meeting in Monahans, Nov. 9. Duncan worked in the Wink and Kermit areas prior to moving to Big Spring in 1962. He completed 20 years of service on Nov. 17.

EARL S. CROSS

This is the 10th in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and varied services of these employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the company.

When Cosden opened its bulk plant at Abilene 15 years ago, Earl S. Cross was employed as assistant manager there. He began his work Sept. 1, helping to direct the flow of products which moved in largely by rail.

Today the Abilene point is essentially a products pipeline terminal, and Cross has been its manager since April 1, 1952.

Cross names Austin as his birthplace and Merkel High School as his alma mater. He has broadened his formal education through night classes at McMurry College.

For a 28-month span in the mid-1940's, he answered to "Sergeant Cross" in the U.S. Army. Twenty-two of those months were served overseas in the Pacific Arena.

A Merkel wedding on Jan. 25, 1941, united him in marriage with Claudine Harvell. As the parents of Kay Lynne, 12, they participate in the Parent-Teachers Association. Home is at 1441 S. 19th Street in Abilene; their church home is the First Methodist.

Cross is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and Masonic Lodge No. 559. A huntsman, he scouts in search of deer every year. Creek fishing is another leisuretime interest.

GAZEBO IN REHEARSAL, under the direction of David Guy, right. Others are, from right, Miss Lida Fiveash as Mrs. Chandler, the real estate agent, and Mrs. Leonard Tovrea and Richard Robertson as Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Nash, whose house has been sold. Guy halts the action to give some pointers to the agent and the play's principal characters, the Nashes.

MISTRESS OF THE costumes, Mrs. Robert H. Hartzog, with tape measure, pins in mouth and a uniformed model, Mrs. B. J. Gough, works toward the ultimate in properly attired characters. Mrs. Gough will portray Matilda, the maid in "Gazebo."

CIVIC THEATRE opens its WINTER SEASON

Local talent, employed in the operations of Big Spring Civic Theatre, Inc., has been continuous since its organization in 1956. An upsurge of interest has developed, however, in the current year. This is evidenced in the four plays presented during the past 12 months. Until this year, plays were presented on a non-scheduled basis.

The 1962-63 season will lead off with "Gazebo." The comedy mystery, now in production, will be presented at the City Auditorium Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. Completing the season's presentations will be "Blithe Spirit," a Noel Coward comedy; "Kind Lady," a drama, and "Harvey," a classic comedy familiar to all playgoers.

For the first time since organization, memberships are being offered to the general public. Heretofore admission has been on a single play basis. Memberships may be purchased from James Marlin, Bob Lewis, Mrs. Richard Davis or any member of the BSCT. They are also available at the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

As of now, the patron members of Big Spring are listed as Mr. and Mrs. Horace Garrett, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Larson Lloyd, Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Malone, Dr. and Mrs. Lee O. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tollett, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Whipkey and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Zack. Patron memberships have been solicited and are announced by Mrs. Charles Head.

The BSCT, given the use of the old museum in the City Park, hopes to present plays there soon. With some construction the building can be made usable as a play house.

As a part of the group's projected plans, and with the desire to become an important part of the community, the theatre group hopes to include musical comedies; employ a full-time director; sponsor a children's theatre; and to expand the physical facilities sufficient for the city's needs.

SYMBOLIC GESTURES of the grease paint artist being carried out by Mrs. D. W. Conway whose subject is Arthur

T. Clonts Jr. The part of the building contractor is portrayed by Clonts in "Gazebo."

FOCAL POINT in the one-scene presentation will be the gazebo seen through the interior of a living room, all to be constructed by the set man, Bob Aldridge. Constructing a fireplace for the room, Aldridge is shown with his assistant, Mrs. Bernard Giere, who is particularly apt with the paint brushes.

Population Increase Is Noted On Westover St.

On the corner of Lancaster and Westover, within the confines of a sturdy, hurricane fence is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Butler and their four children, Mark, Rodney, Steven and Kimberly, ages eight months to five years.

In a first place you might believe the place to be overrun with round-faced little boys, but right in their midst is an auburn-haired baby girl, Kimberly.

Natives of Martin County, the Butlers have lived in Midland for the past five years during which time he was in electronics. Recently moving to Big Spring, he is now associated with the Colorado Municipal Water District, taking care of the micro wave and two-way radio systems.

His hobby? Electronics is his pleasure. He likes to fly, and does so on occasion. Also, he likes to fly model planes, and sometimes he and the family try their fishing luck.

Mrs. Butler's pastime is evident on the walls of their home. Delicate china which she has painted is prevalent in the decor. She has pursued the hobby for her own pleasure, but now Mrs. Butler is considering teaching. Should she acquire a class of pupils, she will operate her own kiln which would be available to the class. She is the most recent addition to Big Spring representation in the Permian Basin Porcelain Arts Club.

The Butlers have many friends

Father Wasn't Home

Although their father wasn't at home, three young men were there to speak for him. They are, from left, Mark, Rodney and Steven Butler, shown with their mother, Mrs. Archie Butler, and their baby sister, Kimberly.

and relatives in Big Spring, therefore they do not feel as strangers. Before attending the Odessa Junior College, he attended Howard County Junior College. This time he hopes his residency is permanent. The Butlers are of the Baptist faith, and soon hope to affiliate with a local church.

Mind-Your-Manners Rules For New Generation Of Gentlemen

AP Newsfeatures
"Everyone puts too much stress on how girls should act, how girls should be charming, and how to get along with boys," writes a San Diego mother.

"Why in blazes isn't there more stress on how the fellows should act? They sure need it!" Young men are often in need of advice about social relationships, although their mothers insist that the boys act fine and dandy at home. Some do not know basic manners. Others could use a few reminders. Here are some:

BE COURTEOUS
If you must cancel a date call the girl before, not after she is dressed. Thank her mother for a dinner invitation, and if you spend the weekend with her family, her mother will expect a note, although flowers would be better. Open doors before you date struggles with them. Pull her chair back when she is to be seated.

GROW UP
The girl doesn't accept a date

with you just to belittle you, so don't pout about something you thought she meant. Sulking in a corner because she danced with someone else is another immature trick. And jumping around like a bullfrog should end by the time you are 12.

DEVELOP SOCIAL GRACES
Ask your father or mother for a little guidance. Bring your date a corsage once in a while without acting as if your arm was twisted. Broaden your outlook so that your conversation won't be limited to yesterday's football game. Have something to say when you call her on the telephone. And if you ask a girl to a dance you should be able to make your way around the dance floor with at least a little skill.

BE INDEPENDENT
Stop depending on her for gas money; date money or other loans, even if you do plan to pay her back. Avoid telling her how much the evening is going to cost or how much it did cost.

BE GROOMED
She doesn't care that Jack is going to wear a sports shirt to the dinner party. She wants you to dress properly, because you're with her. Sports shirts are fine for sports but a tie and clean shirt look refreshing to a girl even on a casual evening date. And whatever happened to the old-fashioned shoe shine? Clean hair and fingernails are also important. And stop sniffing. Carry a handkerchief.

BE A GENTLEMAN
Improve your vocabulary and conversation and perhaps you won't have to prove your physical prowess. She doesn't want to kiss you? Let go. What do you gain by making a boor of yourself? If the girl likes you she'll never take to strong-arm methods. And if she's the type who does go for muscle men on the first date, you don't get your "E" for excellence anyway. She'll be happy to share her affections with others.

Dinner Event For Evening Circle

The Evening Circle of the First Baptist Church had a Thanksgiving dinner and business session in the home of Mrs. Johnny Winham Thursday evening.

The program theme was "World Awareness." Mrs. Dorothy Downy sang, "Christ for the Whole Wide World."

A salad supper, set for Dec. 13, will be held in the home of Mrs. Armour Long, 606 Scurry, which will be a Christmas program.

The call to prayer was read by Mrs. Omar Williams, with the closing prayer worded by Mrs. L. T. Hargrove.

European Women's Tip Dress For The Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Take a tip from European women and dress to please men.
That's timely advice, says pretty Susan Kohner, because this is the year of truly feminine women.

The brunette actress explains: "Your hat and dress are just as important to the beauty picture you are trying to portray as eye makeup and lipstick. French women know it. Italian women know it. But American women are just beginning to realize it."

Says Susan, 25, who has been abroad making a movie: The woman who formerly concentrated on facial makeup only, now may realize that it is the entire head-to-toe image that counts.

HATS ARE MAN BAIT
"Fortunately the feminine look that men like is stylish this season, making it simple to shop," Susan says. "Long evening dresses, soft materials and flowing lines are tops on male lists. Hostess skirts are a golden addition to the wardrobe of the wife who normally greets her man in slacks, morning and evening."

Simple, big-brimmed hats, such as the Garbo-style, are man bait, she says. And men like a fur hat, especially if it matches a bit of fur on your suit or coat.

"I've had many male compli-

ments on a small leopard hat and matching muff I bought in Germany when I was making the film on Freud. Leopard is best used in small doses though, unless you are tall and can carry off a whole coat."

DON'T OVERDRESS
Men never like to see women

overdress anyway, she points out. They don't like too-long skirts that they trip over or a dress that a girl must keep adjusting for one reason or another. They don't care for patterned dresses, she has observed, and she thinks it is because prints are too distracting and do nothing for the figure.

One advantage in having many beads—as Susan does is that you can compare notes on their likes and dislikes. But she's found that men run pretty true to form when it comes to women's clothes.

"The simple way to find out what a man likes is to ask him. If he doesn't like it, don't try to change his mind. Exchange the dress or hat instead. But never show him the dress on a hanger. Put it on if you want his opinion," she advises.

Supper Is Held For Lodges

STANTON (SC) — A Thanksgiving supper was held Thursday night at the IOOF hall for members of the Rebekah and Odd Fellow lodges and their families. Judge Jim McCoy spoke on the order of Rebekah and Odd Fellowship. A friendship program was presented by Rebekah. Those participating were Mrs. Flossie Burdick, Mrs. Sauter Lays, Mrs. Roy Linney, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. John Wilkes, Mrs. C. E. Christopher, Mrs. Mason Coggins, Mrs. Virgie Johnson, and Mrs. Walter Graves.

Mrs. Billy Coggins accompanied the group as they sang, "Pack up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag," and "It's a Good Time to Get Acquainted." Each spoke on "Smile" and "Friendship." Mrs. Francis Myrick, addressed the group on "Friendship and Happiness."

The hall was decorated in the Thanksgiving theme. A turkey dinner was served to approximately 50 people.

China's Youth Is Advised On Marriage

TOKYO (AP) — Before a man and woman get married, they should thoroughly understand each other.
These words of wisdom have been given to the youth of Communist China by a writer obviously concerned over some of the mail received. These letters report such things as trouble with bossy husbands and marriages undertaken only as a means of remaining in the big city.

To deal with these problems, Yang Hsiu wrote an article for China Youth, Young Communist magazine published on the mainland.
In a translation that has just reached Tokyo it points out that one of the main problems in marriage is that young people these days regard it as a matter of little importance.

Marriage Aim

LONDON (AP) — Marriage is the target of the teen-age girl, but in her dreams of the future she often sees her husband dead at an early age, according to findings of a survey.

More than 1300 children from different British schools were polled. Their ages were 15 to 16. Details of the survey are published in a book by Thelma Veness, lecturer in psychology at Birbeck College, London University.

SQUADRON SCROLL

Class 64-B Hostess For Surprise Shower

Mrs. Michael Prince appeared Wednesday evening for what she thought would be an informal class meeting of the wives of Class 64-B. Instead to her surprise, the meeting was a miscellaneous baby shower in her honor. A pink and blue parasol graced the table on which the baby gifts were placed as well as the dessert of gingerbread cake and coffee.

Second Lt. and Mrs. R. L. Clark III welcomed two very important people into their home last week. The first was a 6 lb. 12 1/2 ounce baby boy, Mark Allen Clark, born Nov. 8. The second guest was Mrs. Clark's mother and young Mark's grandmother, Mrs. R. A. Chambers from Houston, Texas.

If an increase in the number of moving vans and packed cars have been noticed in the area this week, the reason could be that a new student pilot training class, Class 64-D, has reported to Webb. Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wilkerson of Tulsa, Okla., were surprised and happy parents last week as 2nd Lt. and Mrs. Don Wilkerson, their son and daughter-in-law, arrived unannounced for a short visit at home.

Looking forward to Thanksgiving week are 2nd Lt. and Mrs. J. N. Sanders Jr. At that time Lt. Sander's parents will visit Big Spring from their home in St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. Sanders plans to travel back to St. Louis with her in-laws for a week's visit there.
Last week 2nd Lt. and Mrs. J. T. Floyd and their daughter, Denise, drove to Pelican, La., to visit the home of Mrs. Floyd's parents. Lt. Floyd returned to Big Spring after a short visit and Mrs. Floyd and Denise will return after the Thanksgiving holiday.

Tulsa Church Is Nuptial Scene

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carpenter, 603 Washington Blvd., announce the marriage of their daughter, Janet Sandra, to William H. Boggs Jr., son of Mrs. William Boggs, Tulsa, Okla.

The wedding was performed Nov. 15 in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Tulsa, by the pastor, the Rev. L. Ralph Patterson.

Committee Is Named

A Yearbook committee was named by Mrs. R. J. Barton, teacher, when the Golden Circle Sunday school class met at the church Thursday evening. To serve on the committee are Mrs. Joe Peay, Mrs. Irwin Fenley, and Mrs. Elzie Ledbetter.

Mrs. Garnett Trammell was hostess at the gathering, with Mrs. R. L. Baker, vice president, in charge of business.

A covered dish dinner was planned and will be held in the hall Dec. 17. Instead of exchanging gifts, members will make a donation to the Lottie Moon Christmas offering. Mrs. C. F. Whittington and Mrs. Virgil Smedley offered prayers.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a cloth depicting Thanksgiving and centered with a dried arrangement of fall flowers. Nine members were present.

Baker Is Speaker For Credit Meet

Speaking to members of the Retail Credit Executives Wednesday, Duke Baker, manager of Webb Credit Union, outlined the history of credit. Beginning with Biblical accounts, Baker told of credit progress through the years to the professional status which it now maintains.

George Weeks, president, conducted the luncheon meeting at Coker's Restaurant. Sixteen members attended, and a new member was introduced as John Murphy, the new manager of GAC Finance. Tom Tower, district GAC supervisor, and Capt. Turner of Webb AFB, were guests.

Appels Hosts For Dinner Affair

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Appel were hosts for a dinner party in their home at 700 Marcy Drive Saturday night.

Four guest couples attended the gathering. They were Dr. and Mrs. Herman Munos, Dr. and Mrs. Peter Hernal, Dr. and Mrs. H. Burgos and Chaplain and Mrs. Max Maguire.

The buffet table was covered with a linen cloth, and a canary cage filled with fall flowers was the centerpiece arrangement.

Be Individualistic

Bette Davis, starring on stage, TV and movie screens, makes a plea for rugged individualism. Carbon copies of anything are never as interesting as the original.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Actress Says Clinging To Youth Is Pitiful

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — A visit with Bette Davis revives one's enthusiasm for individuality. Before a fragrant wood-burning fire, we talked briefly of Bette's book, which she wrote without pulling any punches.

"The biggest mistake I made was not realizing that since I'm a perfectionist, I couldn't compromise. I should never have attempted marriage in the early stages of my career. But failure can be a great teacher. I thrive on challenges and obstacles, and I am sorry for people who allow themselves to be defeated."

"I am very grateful for my New England upbringing. My grandmother was the type of Puritan who felt it was carnal to be too comfortable. She taught me never to pass the buck; you only have yourself to blame if something goes wrong."

should be a pleasure. It cements the family. It is a part of their life together. But no one wants to take time to cook any more. And all this emphasis on teenage fat is dreadful. Leave them alone—when they get to be a few years older it will drop off. If it doesn't, then it is time to take them to a doctor, but in the meantime, give them a chance to build a strong body. I was a barrel at 13, but my mother believed in a strong body. But my mother was way ahead of her time; she always had balanced meals with no sweets."

We talked of fashion and Orry Kelly who made Bette's clothes when she was being nominated almost every year for an Oscar.

"I think it's idiotic to slavishly wear a fashion disregarding what it does for you. You should try to find your style. I am not a conformist. I have always by-passed the extremes that are so outstanding in notices the dress and not the woman."

The Question—In Long Pants Who Is Boss?

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON Associated Press Fashion Writer

When man wore skirts a few centuries ago, nobody questioned his virility or his position as head of the household.

That's why shaming 6-foot Jack Winters loses patience with men who suggest that ladies in long pants lack femininity and subconsciously seek supremacy over their husbands.

Winters even defends the ample female in slacks, arguing that she looks better in retreat than a man would in a suit.

As the nation's largest producer of women's slacks (35 million pairs last year) he has good reason to believe that such protests fall on deaf ears.

Stretch fabrics, which take the unflattering slack out of slacks and give the female figure a long, lean, look are also credited with improving sports pants popularity.

At home, Winters claims he is indispensible to the boss, even though he is surrounded by females in pants. These include his wife, Muriel, and two daughters-in-law. He likes to look at them, coming and going.

But then they are all size 10s.

Jet Age Families Still Want Old-Fashioned Thanksgiving

The way of grandmother's house these days leads over expressways, through cloverleaf turns. Nevertheless, the warm welcome, wonderful aromas from the kitchen and travelers' appetites are as hearty as ever.

The meal revolves around the turkey, plump, juicy and golden brown. The youngsters find it mighty hard to wait for a drumstick! Once the blessing has been asked, it is time to pass the plates.

Foods served, as traditional as the trip to grandmother's, are turkey, stuffing, cranberries, sweet potatoes and pumpkin pie. Yet, each is as up-to-date as a big super highway. The turkey is a good example. Gone are the days of pulling pinfeathers and trussing a turkey. Supermarkets today feature beautiful frozen birds already cleaned and pinfeathered with drumsticks tucked neatly into a slit at the base of the body cavity.

Access to the body cavity is gained by slipping the legs out of the slit, stuffing the turkey and then tucking the drumsticks back into place. Mrs. Homemaker can even choose the best known bird in the U.S.A. already stuffed with delectable bread stuffing. This turkey goes from wrapper to oven in one easy step.

Complete roasting instructions appear on the wrappers of turkeys. Following them carefully will assure the homemaker of a memorable holiday feast which will start traditions of its own in eating enjoyment.

Sweet potato and pumpkin pie additions to the Thanksgiving meal, are given in the following recipes:

PETAL PRETTY POTATOES

4 cups cooked, mashed sweet potatoes

1/4 cup melted butter or margarine

1/4 cup molasses

1/4 tsp ground ginger

1/4 tsp nutmeg

1/4 tsp cinnamon

8 miniature marshmallows

Mandarin orange sections

Combine sweet potatoes, butter, molasses and spices. Place sweet potato mixture in a buttered 1 1/2 by 7 by 1 1/2 inch baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 25 minutes. Remove from oven. Place marshmallows on top of sweet potatoes. Arrange 4 mandarin orange sections around each marshmallow to form a flower. Return casserole to oven for another 5 minutes. Yields eight servings.

SMOOTH PUMPKIN PIE PASTRY:

1/2 cup shortening

1 1/2 cups sifted flour

2 to 3 tbsps. water

Sift flour with salt into a bowl. Cut in shortening, using a pastry blender or fork, until the mixture is the consistency of corn meal and small peas. Sprinkle cold water, a little at a time, over different parts of flour mixture. Toss together lightly with a fork. Use as little water as possible, just enough to moisten dough. Place dough on waxed paper. Knead 3 times. Press gently with a paper into a ball. Let stand at room temperature for 15 to 20 minutes. Lightly flour pastry cloth or board and covered rolling pin. Roll dough into circle 1/4-inch thick. Use light strokes, working

Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 50 minutes or until knife inserted half way between the center and the edge of the filling comes out clean.

To make cornucopia, cut a 5-inch circle from pastry dough. Wrap dough around a piece of foil which has been shaped like a cornucopia. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 8 to 10 minutes or until brown. Yields one 9-inch pie.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

Far be it from me to take anything away from East Texas when it comes to color with the changing of the seasons, but when one comes right down to brass tacks our part of West Texas isn't doing too badly with the reds and the golds. The native walnut leaves are the purest shade of gold, making the trees appear to be huge bouquets of sunshine. Some of the fruit tree leaves, probably plums, are deep purple and there are small bushes that are scarlet with the changing season. This all will pass with the next big wind, and every yard in town will swap leaves with the next door neighbor... the one on the south or the west. But while the leaves still cling to the boughs they make a pretty scene.

GUEST DAY

Mrs. Watson Speaker At Hyperion Guest Tea

Humorous and harrowing experiences were described by Mrs. Cris Watson for 1905 Hyperion Club members at the guest day tea held in the home of Mrs. Norman Read Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Watson, a Howard County Junior College faculty member, was one of the 25 women chosen to be pilot instructors at the beginning of World War II. She was one of 10 who formed the original WAFS, later to become known as the WASP.

She said that it was routine for her to fly several types of aircraft in one day, and that before the war ended she had flown every type of plane then being used. Her main assignment was in ferrying planes from the factory to the point where it was needed within the states.

Mrs. W. F. Taylor, a guest, read the Thanksgiving prayer written by Mrs. Woodson Ames.

The 20 members and their guests were served from a tea table covered with French lace. The floral arrangement was of lavender spider mums and deep pink carnations.

Mrs. Ben Johnson Jr., president, presided at the silver tea service.

Rook Club Meets With Mrs. Smith

MRS. CLARK T. DAVIS

Miss Braziel Is Bride Of Lt. Clark T. Davis

Nuptial vows exchanged by Miss Mary Ellen Braziel and Lt. Clark T. Davis were solemnized in a ceremony performed at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in Webb Air Force Base Chapel. Chaplain Benjamin F. Meacham officiated in the double ring service, read before altar arrangements of white chrysanthemums, pompons and palms of jade foliage. Cathedral tapers in candleabra illumined the scene.

The bride, 1902 Winston St., is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Braziel of Quanah. Lt. Davis is the son of Mrs. E. M. Gleave of McGill, Nev., and the late Mr. W. D. Davis, Utah.

A program of wedding music included "Always" sung by Capt. J. M. Marlin with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Jim Manes. Capt. Marlin also sang "The Lord's Prayer," as the couple knelt at the altar prie dieu.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian princess gown of heavy bridal satin, designed with marquisette yoke outlined with draped satin. The bodice was buttoned down the back with tiny satin covered buttons, and featured long tapered sleeves. A crown of seed pearls and bugle beads secured the veil of illusion. In keeping with tradition she had something old, something new, borrowed and blue.

Feathered chrysanthemums centered with a white orchid with showery of satin picot ribbon, and seed pearls, formed the bridal bouquet.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Patsy Braziel, the bride's sister, was maid of honor, and matron of honor was Mrs. J. A. Braziel, a sister-in-law, both of Quanah. Bridesmaids were Miss Joan McKinney and Miss Barbara Adams.

They wore gowns of blue iridescent taffeta, styled with scooped necklines, bell skirts and bows at the waistlines. Their headpieces were veils of blue illusion trimmed with tiny velvet bows. They carried cascade arrangements of azalea pink chrysanthemums.

First Lt. Joe D. Parker, WAFB, was best man. Groomsman were Lt. Arthur L. Warren, Lt. Richard Applehans, Lt. William E. Holcomb. Ushers were Lt. Harley Henry, Steve Davis of McGill, Nev., a brother of the bridegroom; Bill and Jim Braziel, brothers of the bride, from Quanah.

Tapers were lighted by Lt. Henry and Steve Davis.

Leaving the chapel, the couple received a military salute from Capt. William King, Capt. Harry Zahn, Capt. Bernard Hevel and Lt. Linwood L. Arthur.

RECEPTION

A reception was held afterward in the main lounge of the Officers Club. The receiving line was formed by the couple, their parents and the bride's attendants.

The table was spread with light blue cloth overlaid with white net, designed with a full gathered skirt caught into scallops with blue and white satin ribbon and flowers. The attendants bouquets made the centerpiece. Appointments were of silver. The two tiered bride's cake, frosted white, was embossed with blue tinted roses and topped with a bride and groom. The sheet cakes were encribed with names of the couple.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS

Attending from out of town were Mrs. Gleave, the bridegroom's mother; Mrs. Eva Twitchell, his grandmother of McGill; Kirk Davis, Salt Lake City, Utah; Lowell and Ross Davis, McGill; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sarrazin and daughters, Nancy and Kay, Quanah; Miss Barbara Olson, South Dakota; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Webb, Miss Gail Webb and Gary Webb, all of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Virginia Henderson, Larry and Charles Henderson, Vernon; and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Adams, Crowell, grandparents of the bride.

WEDDING TRIP

The couple left afterward on a wedding trip to Salt Lake City and Las Vegas, Nev. For travel, the bride chose a metallic gold brocade suit and matching accessories.

They will return to make their home at 2201 Morrison Dr.

The bride, a graduate of Quanah High School, attended Howard County Junior College and business school in Wichita Falls. Until recently she has been employed with Southwestern Investment Company.

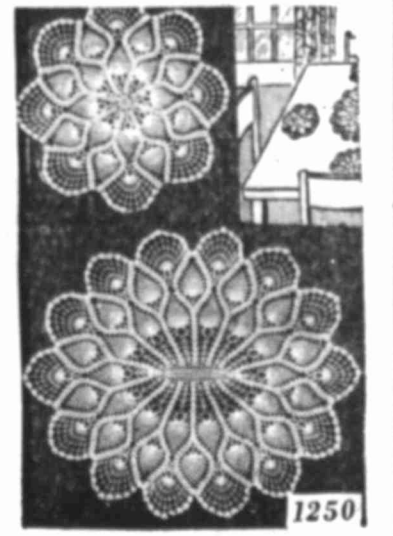

A graduate from Utah State University, Lt. Davis is an instructor pilot in the Air Force, stationed at Webb with Hatcher Flight.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MOLLIE HARTZOG

Hoping to filch an extra sugar cube or two, we volunteered our time to assist the Webb hospital personnel with the recent Sabin Oral program. We pressed our uniform, and arrived early enough to be briefed along with other volunteers and nurses. We were assigned to a station and a specific task, all designed to process hundreds of individuals in a safe, efficient manner. We were warned against improper handling of the live virus, and received an explanation of the necessary paperwork. Our first task was merely dispensing cards stating the dosage had been received. We panicked so at filling out the cards, that we had to be aided by a friend who filled them out at four times our speed, whereupon we determined to sit quietly and smile harmlessly at the children. One sweet-faced little boy looked us in the eye, smiled back, and proceeded to spit out his sugar cube, with the virus upon it, right on our table. While we climbed down from the window ledge, a calmer soul disinfected the table and suggested we transfer to the tally table.

After a disheartening hour trying to tally adult females into categories of thirty - ish or forty-ish, and as a result, receiving glares of undying hatred, we felt we could better serve the program by chewing our own single cube and returning home. We understand they managed to complete the program in spite of our efforts.

In Dallas this week were Capt. James Gehrig, Capt. E. C. Huffines, and Lt. Stu Howerter, attending the 148th reunion of the Scottish Rite Body of Masons, and receiving their 32nd Masonic degree along with Rep. George Mahon and many from this area. Asked whether he managed to shop in Dallas for presents to bring home, Capt. Gehrig replied he devoted several hours to window shopping in honor of Mrs. Gehrig, adding that it was the thought, after all, that counts.

High scorers at the OWC Bridge Thursday were Mrs. Don Jonker and Mrs. J. J. Rattie; second high, Mrs. H. S. Bowden and Mrs. R. O'Leary; third, Mrs. Benjamin Yeargin and Mrs. Charles Head; fourth, Mrs. Wm. E. Harris and Mrs. C. R. Lillie. Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. Jonker and Mrs. L. M. Rubin, which were gift certificates from Caudill's Dress Shop. At the beginners' tables, high scorer was Mrs. Ada Vipond and Mrs. M. Bortner. All Day Bridge will be Thursday, Nov. 29, at the Officers Club. Reservations must be made with Mrs. Stu Howerter, AM 3-4263, by Tuesday preceding the bridge day.

Capt. and Mrs. W. D. Largent left this weekend by chartered aircraft to visit Las Vegas, Nev., and the resort town of Lone Pine, Calif. at the foot of Mt. Whitney. The Largents plan to vacation for two weeks, and spend Thanksgiving with Capt. Largent's parents.

The wives of Group Headquarters Section met for a coffee at the home of Mrs. W. G. Harris, with Mrs. Ken Somers as cohostess. The Officers Club assisted with the catering, and Mrs. Harris also served her specialty, hot sausage breads, for which she is well known at Webb. The group made plans for a Christmas party at the home of Lt. Col. and Mrs. J. H. Crawford. The room was brightened by large bouquets of bronze and gold mums, brought and arranged for the occasion by Mrs. Ken Somers.

The OWC ballet class will be held in the future on Friday mornings at 9:30 o'clock in the Pavilion. There was a good turnout, and reports were given of a hilarious reaction by some fishermen at Mesquite Lake near the Pavilion who couldn't quite figure out what those ladies were trying to do in that building. "That building" has glass walls, affording little privacy to a rec-sausage class, but the ladies have determined to continue and perhaps hope for rain on Fridays.

Opti-Mrs. Club Installs A New President

During an evening business session and supper meeting of the Opti-Mrs. Club, Mrs. Dale Riggs was installed as the new president to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Don Mansell.

Mrs. Mansell will leave soon with her husband to make their home in Seminole. She received a bracelet from the club.

The supper table, at the home of Mrs. W. D. Broughton, featured a Thanksgiving motif. Mrs. Riggs was cohostess.

Plans for a Christmas party to be held jointly with the Optimists Club, Dec. 14, were discussed. It was decided to continue helping the TB patients of the Howard County District.

Traveling prize was won by Mrs. J. D. Davenport. A guest for the evening was Mrs. Leslie Grisham.

The Alps Are Visited By Lyndell Ashleys

(This is one of a series of accounts of her European tour by Mrs. Lyndell Ashley, who has been a Herald correspondent.—Ed.)

The Alps rise suddenly out of the rolling farm country of South Germany. There are no preliminaries for this great range which stretches along the boundaries of Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland and France. The Alps stand as a great natural barrier, and modern highways seem as puny efforts to span them. We hear a saying that the Alps "hold the nations apart and the people together."

We went first to Garmisch and the Zugspitze. Garmisch is a small town on the Apos fringe—beautiful, picturesque and expensive. We hired a driver for a wild 20-minute ride to the base of the mountain. He had been following this route for 25 years and could probably drive it with his eyes shut. In fact, I believe he did, taking the narrow bridges, twisting roads hairpin turns at top speed. In those 20 minutes we stopped three times to show our passports as we crossed parts of three countries.

For a breath-taking ride to the top of the Zugspitze we took a cable car. The weather was bright and clear and we seemed on top of the world as we gazed down at tiny villages, miniature streams and lakes. The first snow of the season had fallen, and the slopes were bright with colorful costumes of the skiers. We lingered for an unforgettable sunset, then hurried to catch the last cog train down the sheer face of the mountain.

Our route lay next through the beautiful Austrian state of Tirol, and although there was snow in the mountains above, we had no need for coats.

Signs of "Freedom for Tirol" and "Tirol belongs to Austria!" told of unrest. Italy claims the southern part of this small country, but many of the people have strong Austrian ties. There have been some armed skirmishes.

The forests were indescribably beautiful with bright golden colors mingled with the dark green of pine and fir. We saw a tree which resembled a pine except that its leaves turn a vivid orange in the autumn.

We found lodging in an almost deserted inn. This is a good time to be here—too late for the summer crowds and too early for the winter season.

Coahoma MJ Club Hears Book Review

The struggles of Dr. Tomas Dooley to set up a medical center in Laos were described by Mrs. Robert Cepolis, speaking to the Coahoma Mary Jane Club Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. Harold Fraser.

In reviewing the autobiography, "The Night They Burned the Mountain," she told of the humor and heartbreak he experienced among almost primitive people.

Mrs. Rayburn Foster will be hostess for the Christmas observance Dec. 6.

A basket of autumn flowers centered the refreshment table which was laid with a white cloth. Ten members were present and two guests, Mrs. Robert Stout and Mrs. Lloyd Wolf.

were built before the Reformation and reflected a belief that God lived in the church; therefore it had to be big and strong enough for Him. Later it was conceived that God really looked down from heaven, and therefore great slender spires adorned the churches.

Walking along a river, I met a young woman pushing a baby carriage and stopped to talk with her. She was Maria Scheer, and spoke little English, and I, little German. Still we understood each other. She told me about the town, the country, the local superstitions, and showed me an old castle beside a small lake.

As it began to rain, she shared her umbrella with me, and invited all of us to her home. Later in the evening, when we parted, she put her hand on my arm and said: "I hope you have a happy life."

And I wondered, if I met a stranger in the rain in Texas, if I would be even half as friendly.

Retired Minister Locates Kinfolk

By SAM BLACKBURN

Nearly 80 years ago, a tragedy—one not uncommon in those days—struck a family in Palestine. The mother of the family died and the father found himself faced with the difficult problem of caring for five young children.

He did as many other men in that time (and perhaps today) did. He farmed out the youngsters to relatives and friends. One of the children was around six months old. "About sitting-up size" according to the old records. This small child was placed in the hands of a neighbor who soon left Palestine and moved to the frontier town of Pecos.

NEVER FOUND THEM
From that date until this, that baby (now a man of 80 years) knew he had brothers and sisters and a father in the area but despite his wanderings he never came in contact with any of them.

In May of last year, the man, a retired Baptist minister, and his wife celebrated the 60th anniversary of their marriage and a change in the situation was created.

Newspaper stories about that golden wedding anniversary were circulated and, in no time at all, a score or more neices and nephews of the man showed up. The odd thing—many of these relatives lived within an hour or two hours drive of towns where the old timer had resided for years.

Today, that same 80-year-old gentleman, alert and happy, makes his home in Big Spring. He is the Rev. Eugene Elmo Mason and he lives with Mrs. Mason at 1304 Birdwell Lane.

Establishing a residence here is a homecoming for the Masons, really. He served as the first full-time pastor of the West Side Baptist Church here from 1937 through 1942.

IN PALESTINE
"When I was born," says Mr. Mason, "my father and mother lived in Palestine. I had three brothers and two sisters. I was the baby and was born Jan. 26, 1882. "Just a few months after my birth, my mother died. My dad placed me with Mr. and Mrs. Jake Summers, friends of his. The other children were placed with other families."

The Summers left Palestine and moved to Pecos. They took the six-month-old child with them and they added "Elmo" to his original name of Eugene. He made his home with the Summers until he was nine years old. Mrs. Summers died at that time and he was placed with another Summers—Brad—who lived in Dallas County. In a short time, the Brad Summers moved to Barstow.

"I stayed with the Brad Summers family until I was 17," Mr. Mason recalls. "I went to Comanche then and got a job at 50-cents a day working on a farm."

STEADY WORK
"A little while later another farmer offered me 'steady' work at $10 a month salary, plus food, room and laundry. He did just what he said. It was sure steady work. I worked from before dawn to after dark, seven days a week. I didn't like steady work so I quit after a month. "As he wandered about West Texas he continuously sought information about his family. He asked

Cards Needed To Find Work

Students, housewives and others who plan to make extra money by working during the pre-Christmas rush were advised to avoid possible delay by getting a social security account number now.

Erven Fisher, district manager of the Big Spring social security office, reminded students who do not have a social security number to apply for one at their nearest social security office.

Housewives should check their social security cards to make sure that the account is in their married name. If the card is still in the maiden name, application should be made to change it, Fisher suggested.

The key to the benefits which are paid to workers who retire, die, or become disabled is the number on social security cards. Any person who cannot locate his or her card should take immediate steps to make application for a new one, obtaining a form for this purpose at the nearest social security office or post office. The new card will have the same number originally assigned to the worker.

Tech Announces Scholarship List

LUBBOCK—The School of Agriculture at Texas Tech announced scholarships totalling over $35,000 have been awarded to its students for the 1962-63 school year.

Donors of the grants, scholarships, merit awards and the students who have been awarded the funds include: J. S. Bridwell Scholarship, Thomas E. Buckner, Big Spring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Buckner; Borden Company Foundation Scholarship, Walter Tom Falls, Snyder; Crouch Dairy Supply Company Scholarship, Dale Finch, Lubbock.

A SISTER HE CAN'T REMEMBER

Rev. E. E. Mason and photo of long-lost kinswoman of his father and of his brothers and sisters. He found no clues.

He was married May 26, 1901. (Years later he was to learn that his father whom he could not remember died soon after that date).

He continued to farm, making his home in many places. "I lived for 15 years in Palo Pinto County," he recalls. "Years later I found I had a whole bunch of neices and nephews within 40 miles of that place the whole time."

Deeply religious all of his life, Mr. Mason became a preacher and was formally ordained as a minister in 1908. He preached in many parts of West Texas and served in many churches. He retired in 1949.

SEVEN CHILDREN
He and Mrs. Mason had seven children, five still living. One son, Vernon, was an employee of Cosden for many years.

The Masons moved to Abilene and it was there that their 60th wedding anniversary rolled around. The event was duly chronicled in the newspaper and copies wandered far and wide. They brought the Masons a mass of mail—including a letter from a Jason Jowell, who lived in Price, Utah. He was looking for a lost kinsman. The clipping indicated Mason might be that kinsman. He was.

The other Mason children knew they had a baby brother but death claimed all of them before they could find him. The last brother, Lon, died in 1959 in Perrin. His widow still lives there and since the wedding anniversary she has visited the Mason family and become belatedly acquainted with her husband's younger brother. He also had a number of neices and nephews visit him. Some have commented on the marked resemblance to their fathers or mothers.

Some brought faded photographs of his brothers and his sisters. "I do not recall, naturally, how any of my brothers or sisters looked," he says. "I was only six months-old when I last saw them."

KEPT IN CONTACT
Apparently the other Masons kept in contact with one another. It was only the youngest of the brood who was lost.

The Masons are happy to be back in Big Spring. Their daughter, Mrs. J. W. Phillips, 1502 E. 17th, has found the neat little house they live in.

"We like it fine," says Mason. "We're just a little ways from a church where we can go on Sunday. We have a big den and a television. It's nice to be back home."

Meantime, letters continue to come in from neices and nephews who never knew the whereabouts of their uncle until a year ago.

Estimated Cotton Crop Reduced For This Area

Texas Employment Commission office here has reduced its original estimate on the 1962 cotton crops in Howard and Martin counties. Effective now, the local TEC office says the 1962 crop in Howard County will not exceed 25,200 bales. It's estimate until Saturday had been 36,800.

Martin County's 1962 crop estimate was reduced from 46,000 to 38,000 bales.

UNCHANGED
Glasscock County remains unchanged. The estimate for that county has been 9,200 bales all season; to date the gins have knocked out 7,923 bales and the crop stands to reach its predicted total without much trouble.

Howard County gins have processed only 3,235 bales so far this fall. Martin County has ginned 16,250 bales.

Frost has hit lightly, but on several nights has tended to drop leaves from many cotton plants. Farmers are pleased with the results of the chill so far—however they are divided on the pressing need at this time for a real killer frost. A couple of weeks grace, most farmers feel, would be most welcome.

The harvesting of what cotton there is will be almost wholly mechanical this season in Howard County. Few pickers are in the

Tax Collectors Just Don't Turn The Other Cheek

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A man has been sentenced to six months in federal prison for slapping an income tax collector.

Roy W. Wilson, 50, a television repairman, was convicted of striking tax collector Metz K. Clements.

According to testimony before U.S. District Judge Boyd Sloan, Clements was struck at Wilson's home during an argument. Internal Revenue Service agents said Clements was trying to collect back taxes of about $100 from Wilson.

fields and all, seemingly, are domestic.

No other counties in the Big Spring area have had production totals revised. Dawson County still expects to gin 140,000 bales and many observers think the total will be higher. The gins have already handled 54,897 bales.

Strippers are abundant in the tier of counties served by Sweetwater TEC office. At least 119 of the machines were in the fields in Fisher, Nolan, Mitchell and Scurry counties as the week ended and additional machines will go into action next week.

No change in crop estimates has been ordered in these counties. Fisher has ginned 11,477 bales of its estimated 29,000 bale crop. Seventeen strippers were at work. Nolan's ginning stands at 11,707 and its crop estimate at 19,000. There were 55 strippers in the county Saturday.

Mitchell County has ginned 13,611 of a 32,000 bale crop and has a dozen strippers at work while Scurry County has 12,688 bales of its 35,000 bale crop ginned and 25 strippers busy.

Marquis Childs Cuban Situation Is 'In Hand'

WASHINGTON — While de-fusing the Cuban crisis is taking rather longer than had been anticipated in the first flush of the agreement with the Soviet Union, those in charge believe that, in the classic phrase, the situation is well in hand.

Any illusions about Castro have been largely dispelled in the moment of truth that came with the confirmation of a Cuba armed by Moscow with missiles with a nuclear potential.

1. HIDDEN MISSILES. The caves in which such missiles, beyond the 42 already removed, might be concealed are not invulnerable. Trustworthy sources of information are available which within a relatively short time could spot concealment.

Another source of strength is the satisfaction over the way in which the whole Cuban operation was mounted. This was a demonstration of America's capacity to employ a sizable conventional force and to assemble it in short order.

3. THE BLOCKADE. This will be strictly maintained until every phase of the agreement is carried out. It can be tightened overnight to cover not only the Cuban oil supply but food supplies as well.

A SOUTHERN aerial defense line is being completed from Florida across Texas. One of the weaknesses in the American defense system has been the absence of such a line.

KHRUSHCHEV in his note to the President said that the "weapon which you regard as offensive" would be removed under inspection. If Castro cannot be made to live up to the letter of this agreement, then Moscow can have no reason to interfere with the subsequent steps this country will be compelled to take against Castro.

With the de-fusing process going on a chorus of denunciation has grown louder and louder. Coming from completely divergent sources it nevertheless is in the same key. Red China has been broadcasting furious editorials calling the withdrawal of the Cuban missiles another Munich.

Around The Rim Post-Election Political Advice

Today we will talk of politics. Being a congenial coward, I will not say some things that I did not have nerve enough to say before the election.

ANOTHER IS that some of the shrewd advisors to the candidates ought to tell them that it would be smart to shut off all the oratory, the claims and the shallow promises about two weeks before voting day.

IT MAY BE a debatable question, but people are not altogether fools, and resent being treated as such during an election campaign.

SHE SUGGESTED, specifically, that the names and addresses of such lawmakers ought to be posted in every post office in the land.

I cannot disagree with this, and commend it as an idea. I suggest only that great care be taken by the postmasters not to post the officials' names too close to those "Wanted" posters that also appear in post office lobbies.

Congress and the Legislatures want to hear from the people, provided their opinions are presented in honesty and fairness. Trouble is, most people don't write until they are mad about something, and get abusive, or until they yield to a pressure group, and then lose their identity.

Read an article recently along this line which listed some "Don'ts":

DON'T TRY to instruct your congressman, or nag him when he doesn't vote precisely as you would wish.

Don't rely on pressure campaigns, mass mailings, and that sort of thing. A sheaf of identical telegrams becomes suspect.

Don't berate your Congressman and call him names. This is not very democratic, but it is democratic to show him why you disagree with him.

DON'T PRETEND to have more political influence than you have. You can't always be speaking for all your friends and neighbors. Present your own case.

Don't rely blindly on those "voting records." They usually are compiled by pressure groups, and contain only a list of that group's favorite issues.

WHAT IT ALL amounts to, as Mrs. Davis propounds, is that your work didn't stop on election day. Best thing is to try to be informed, and to be reasonable, and to be fair.

P.S.: I am not now a candidate for any office. —BOB WHIPKEY

David Lawrence The Bad News Of The Budget

WASHINGTON — Why were the American people not told before the congressional election that the federal budget would show a deficit this fiscal year of an estimated $7.8 billion?

THESE QUESTIONS are being asked because they go to the root of democratic government in contrast with a totalitarian state where the facts are manipulated and the truth is for certain intervals concealed from the people.

Certainly the reason could not have been an ordinary error in estimating the figures for the current fiscal year, which runs from July 1, 1962, to June 30, 1963. The Treasury must have known for several months that such a large discrepancy did not justify the optimistic estimate made last January.

COULD POLITICS have been the reason? The January prediction of a federal surplus of $463 million for this fiscal year was used all through the campaign to emphasize the comparison with the big deficit of the Eisenhower administration in fiscal year 1959.

When, however, the $7.8 billion deficit estimated for fiscal year 1963 is added to the $6.3 billion deficit for the fiscal year 1962—both under the Kennedy administration—it amounts to $14.1 billion for the two years.

WHAT THE PUBLIC didn't know during the election campaign was that the estimated rate of spending has risen from $92.5 billion to $93.7 billion, even though the estimated receipts were declining from $93 to $93.9 billion.

The government knew that its receipts were declining, but the Democratic party, which controlled Congress, was authorizing expenditures far above the intake.

ACTUALLY, the national debt is growing year by year because of the perennial deficits. The Democratic party has been in control of Congress for nine out of the last eleven years, and the U. S. Treasury shows a total deficit of $45.5 billion in that period. Even on a cash basis, the Treasury shows a total deficit of $20.7 billion in the fiscal years 1953 through 1963.

The outstanding point is that, despite the decline in estimated income this year, the administration kept on spending and is promising more and more spending for the future. A tax cut is being advocated for next year by administration economists as a means of improving the business situation. But this can be offset by the ill effects of a growing deficit which will, for instance, affect adversely the American dollar abroad.

THE LATEST budget review is certainly discouraging, as the public will find it hard to believe the administration's estimates of a balanced budget or surplus when, within so brief a period as ten months, a promised surplus of $463 million turns out to be a deficit of at least $7.8 billion—and now the outlook is for a $10-billion deficit for the next fiscal year beginning July 1, 1963, even without a tax cut.

For the first time in many years, an administration has omitted to mention in its mid-year estimates the exact figure of the national debt. This evidently will be $302 billion, which is in excess of the limit imposed by existing law, and Congress doubtless will be asked in January to raise the debt limit.

District Meet Hosted By FFA

By CAROLYN WILSON

Coahoma played host once again to the District FFA Leadership Contest this past week, which was climaxed by a banquet. The District FFA Sweetheart was elected and crowned. The representative from Midland was chosen as the District FFA Sweetheart. Big Spring's representative placed second, while Coahoma's candidate placed third.

The juniors were busy this past week taking the Iowa Tests of Education Development.

The girls' basketball team entered the HCJC invitational tournament. They played their first game with Sands on Thursday night and lost 33-27. The girls did a fine job and it looks like they will have a great season ahead. The team will play their next game with the Quarterback Club Wives next Thursday night.

Wednesday morning at the class meetings class favorites were elected. From the senior class Patsy Edens and Jimmy Mays were elected, then Linda Nichols and Weldon Self were chosen by the juniors. The sophomores chose Shana Fryar and Wendell Joe Anderson; and freshmen favorites are Nadine Honeycutt and Wayne Krause.

There was a sad atmosphere around Coahoma High School as everyone began to realize that last Friday was the last football game of the season. Friday night was a night of very much activity since the Football Sweetheart and Band Sweetheart were crowned. Mr. Football was also recognized. Now is a good time to congratulate the CHS Football team for their fine record of winnings. It's the best Coahoma has had in years, and not only have the boys won in game numbers but their fine sportsmanship has boosted Coahoma.

Team, Coaches Honored In All-School Social

By KAREN ELROD

This has been an exciting, action-packed week for Goliad students, teachers, and parents.

Thursday night in Memorial Stadium at half-time during the game between Runnels and Goliad Jean Watson was crowned football sweetheart. Jean, the other nominee, Marilyn Meacham and Pam Lurting, the eighth grade attendants, Beverly Peters and Linda Robertson, rode around the field in convertibles to the music of the Goliad Marching Band which formed a heart on the football field. While the band played "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" a glittering helmet was placed on Jean's head and flowers were presented by Barry and Teresa Therwanger, children of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Therwanger. Escorts for the young ladies were Danny Kirby, Van Tom Whately, Harrell Newton, Pat Armstrong, and Kirby Horton.

During the pep rally Thursday afternoon in an impressive moment Dale Marchant gowned in a net and taffeta formal was presented to the student body by Mr. Russell McKisick as the Band Sweetheart for 1962-63. Don Haney, band president, accompanied Dale who received a tiara and an arm bouquet of flowers.

Class favorites named this week were Robbie Smart and Gregg Willis in the seventh grade, Karon Brown and Paul Waggoner in the eighth grade, and Marilyn Meacham and Gary Earhart in the ninth grade.

Since this past week was National Education Week, the student council chose Tuesday evening as Parents' Night. There was an assembly in the gym at which the student council members, their sponsors, Mrs. Lynn Calvert and Mrs. Dolores Gage, and the other teachers were introduced. Speeches of welcome were made by Mr. S. A. Walker, principal; Van Tom Whately, student council president, and Mrs. Lynn Calvert. After the assembly the parents visited in the home rooms and were served refreshments in the cafeteria where art work done by pupils of Mrs. Maurine Burk's rooms was on display. The home rooms having the highest percentages of parents present were Mrs. Blanche James, seventh grade; Mrs. Cornelia Gury, eighth grade; and Mrs. Inez Turner, ninth grade. Special prizes were given these rooms.

The band performed not only during half-time at the Runnels-Goliad game, but also at half-time during the senior high game Friday night with Ahilene. The three public school bands formed a steer head on the playing field.

Saturday night an all-school social was held in the gym honoring the football boys and coaches. This was sponsored by the student council and chaperoned by the teachers.

The ninth grade classes of Mrs. Gage were shown colored slides of Mexico this week by Rev. E. A. J. Seddon who spent a number of years in Mexico.

Chorus Plans First Concert

The Big Spring Community Chorus, in its first public appearance, will present a Christmas program Monday, Dec. 17, at the HJJC Auditorium.

Director Mel Ivey said the group will open with Shaw's "A Fantasia for a Christmas Day," followed by "For Us a Child Is Born," a cantata by Bach. Next will be a group of nine Christmas carols arranged by Robert Shaw and Ringwald, and for a finale, the "Hallelujah Chorus" from "Handel's Messiah."

These selections were chosen by the music committee composed of Mrs. Joyce Bradley, Mrs. Marilyn Newsom, Ira Schantz, Ted James, and Don Morton.

"The carols are not the conventional arrangements you hear every Christmas," Ivey said. "Shaw and Ringwald have given them some very special treatment which make them interesting and fascinating."

There are now about 30 to 35 people attending rehearsals of the chorus Mondays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the high school choral room.

Mercy Killing Is Theme Of Movie

In Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Thank a Fool," Susan Hayward, acknowledged as one of the screen's finest dramatic stars, has a controversial role. The film is now showing at the Ritz Theatre.

The new drama, co-starring Peter Finch and filmed in Cinemascope and color on locations in Ireland and England, is based on Audrey Erskine Lindop's novel, concerning a woman doctor who has been convicted of a "mercy killing" in London. Prosecuted by a wily and relentless barrister, she is found guilty of manslaughter and is given a two-year prison sentence.

On her release, banned from practicing medicine, Christine Allison (Miss Hayward) answers an advertisement for a companion-nurse and is shocked to discover her advertiser to be Stephen Dane (Peter Finch), her former professor.

In this ironic situation, she consents to accept the position only because of her deep sympathy with Dane's lovely young wife, Liane, a pathetic victim of schizophrenia, who believes herself to be the cause of her father's death in an automobile accident.

In the series of suspenseful events which follow, Christine finds herself the center of a web of mysterious happenings in which evidence points to the fact that Dane would be happy to have his wife relieved of her tormented life. And before the story is finished, Christine once again faces trial for a "mercy killing," but this time with Dane defending her.

Or is he defending her? As the inquest proceeds, Christine's former fears begin to return. Is Dane fighting for her or against her?

The role of Liane is enacted by Diane Cilento, young Australian-born actress who appeared in "The Naked Edge." Other leading parts are played by Cyril Cusack as her father, Athene Seyler as Dane's housekeeper, and Kieron Moore as an Irish horse-trainer who boasts of his association with Liane.

"Thank a Fool" was produced by Anatole de Grunwald and directed by Robert Stevens from a screen play by Karl Tunberg.

Locations were photographed in Liverpool at the New Brighton Fair Grounds, with a sequence including a horse race, and in the picturesque fishing village of Crookhaven in the south of Ireland.

Director Mel Ivey said the group will open with Shaw's "A Fantasia for a Christmas Day," followed by "For Us a Child Is Born," a cantata by Bach. Next will be a group of nine Christmas carols arranged by Robert Shaw and Ringwald, and for a finale, the "Hallelujah Chorus" from "Handel's Messiah."

These selections were chosen by the music committee composed of Mrs. Joyce Bradley, Mrs. Marilyn Newsom, Ira Schantz, Ted James, and Don Morton.

"The carols are not the conventional arrangements you hear every Christmas," Ivey said. "Shaw and Ringwald have given them some very special treatment which make them interesting and fascinating."

There are now about 30 to 35 people attending rehearsals of the chorus Mondays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the high school choral room.

Bobby Darin, Sandra In Romantic Comedy

Combining romance and comedy in just about equal portions, Universal's Ross Hunter production, "If a Man Answers," opens Tuesday at the Ritz.

Sandra Dee and Bobby Darin, together for the first time in "Come September," are again paired off, this time in frothy situations that heighten the conflict of, and the natural attraction between, the sexes.

Adapted from Winifred Wolfe's novel, "If a Man Answers" is the story of the daughter of a French mother and staid Bostonian father whose life is filled with problems of love—first on how to trap the man she's decided to marry and then how to keep his attention focused on her. All of her problems in an unorthodox manner from advice given to her by her mother. But the way they are solved could start a revolution among young married couples if taken seriously.

Micheline Presle, a French actress, was brought to Hollywood from Paris to give all the necessary authenticity to Sandra's mother. John Lund is Sandra's staid Bostonian father.

Additional assists in the acting department are delivered by Cesar Romero in the role of a mature continental playboy and by curvaceous Stefanie Powers as Sandra's former school chum who would like nothing better than to steal her husband.

In the customary Hunter tradition, "If a Man Answers" abounds in gowns and sets for the fashion-minded.

An example of what to expect in the glamour department may be found in the 50 gowns created by Jean Louis, Hollywood's foremost designer for the three feminine principals. Miss Dee, of course, gets the lion's share with 32 outfits.

Darin provides the title song, and he is responsible both for the words and the music, also of the picture's love theme. In the picture it is performed instrumentally only, but Darin has since written words to it as well.

Henry Levin is director. Richard Morris developed the screenplay from Miss Wolfe's novel.

Movie fans will find another Ross Hunter trick. In "Flower Drum Song," Hunter introduced a series of Dong Kingham water-color sketches to tell the introductory portion of the story. "If a Man Answers," he adapts the technique into a complete full-color animated cartoon sequence to relate the early incidents leading up to the key situations.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newscasters

The first United States Christmas postage stamp, discussed previously in this column, depicts the traditional holiday symbols—burning tapers and an evergreen wreath with a red bow. The lettering is in Old English. The new 4-center which was first placed on sale in Pittsburgh will remain available for sale until Dec. 31.

Intended for use on season's greeting cards, the new stamp ties in with the Post Office Department's "Shop and Mail Early" campaign. According to Postmaster General J. Edward Day, the stamp will serve a double function. It will supply a colorful fillip to greeting cards and will encourage the use of first-class postal rate for such cards thus providing preferred handling and return-to-sender service in the event of nondelivery.

Day also announced that there are plans to reissue a Christmas stamp during future holiday seasons.

The U. S. Post Office Department announced that precanceled postal cards designed to cut operating costs and speed delivery will go on sale in November for use next Jan. 7, when postal rates increase. The new 4-cent card, on white stock, is an improvement on the buff colored ones in use for many years. A light purple portrait of Abraham Lincoln appears on the card, replacing the purple Statue of Liberty 3-cent issue.

In addition, it was also announced that a new embossed 8-cent airmail stamped envelope will be first placed on sale at Chantilly, Va., Nov. 17, to coincide with the dedication of the Dulles International Airport. This new envelope also is being provided to meet the increase in the postal rates effective Jan. 7. The stamp on the envelope will depict a modern jet airliner in flight.

Congo issued a set of overprinted stamps to commemorate the reorganization of the Cyrille Adoula ministry. The basic stamp shows Dag Hammarskjold, and was originally issued on July 11. New values are overprinted.

Brazil has issued a new 8 cruzeiros stamp honoring Julio Mesquita, journalist and founder of the city of Sao Paulo, on the 100th anniversary of his birth. Also from Brazil comes word that new stamps will be issued to honor the centennial of Dr. Quintino Bocaina, football championships and the 140th anniversary of Brazilian independence.

'The Interns' Returns At Jet Wednesday

Probing into the private and professional lives of young doctors interning at a big hospital, the Columbia Pictures release, "The Interns," returns Wednesday at the Jet Theatre.

A wild New Year's Eve party of interns and nurses, and the birth of a baby, are sharply contrasting dramatic highlights in the film.

The large cast includes Michael Callan, Cliff Robertson, James McArthur and Nick Adams as the interns; Suzy Parker, Haya Harareet, Anne Helm and Stefanie Powers as the girls; Buddy Ebsen, Telly Savalas and Kay Stevens.

Callan, dancer-turned-actor, plays an opportunistic young doctor who romances an older woman, to help him make a valuable contact in the medical world, even as he has an affair with Miss Helm.

Robertson, on the other hand, throws away his career for love of the beautiful Miss Parker, who plays a fashion model who has become pregnant. MacArthur, Robertson's friend and fellow doctor, is responsible for Robertson's expulsion from the hospital and from medicine when he reveals his roommate has stolen drugs to help Miss Parker halt her pregnancy.

Nick Adams, of "The Rebel" TV fame, plays a money-hungry young doctor who is changed by a brief encounter with a beautiful, but incurable, patient, Haya Harareet, the Israeli actress who flashed to world prominence in "Ben-Hur," is seen as a European doctor who must fight to overcome the prejudice against women surgeons on the part of the hospital chief of surgery, Telly Savalas. Stefanie Powers, as the student nurse who falls in love with MacArthur; Buddy Ebsen, as the hospital's medical supervisor; and Kay Stevens as a flip nurse, also star.

"The Interns," based on Richard Frede's novel, was written for the screen by Walter Newman and David Swift. The Columbia release was directed by Swift for producer Robert Cohn.

Luther Bean Returns Here To Position At VA Hospital

A former Big Springer resumed his residency here last week after an absence of more than 2 1/2 years. Luther L. Bean returned to his former post of chief pharmacist at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital.

He replaces Francis J. Hajny, who left to take a position at Fort Meade, S. Dak. effective Nov. 11.

Bean was here for more than 10 years, coming here his first time in March, 1950 and leaving in March, 1960 to go into private business. He has been at the Harris Hospital in Fort Worth the past 1 1/2 years.

"I guess I became fond of Big Spring," Bean said on his return. Before coming to Big Spring he had spent three years in San Angelo and might almost be considered an old timer in West Texas.

The 45-year-old pharmacist is staying in the attendant's quarters at the hospital. His family will move here toward the end of this month. In addition to his wife, Mildred, there is Susan, 19, a sophomore at Arlington State College, and Jenny, 13, a junior high school student.

Born in Winters, Bean was reared in Eastland. He spent six years with the U. S. Army during World War II and saw service in five campaigns in Europe. He was wounded three times. He and Mrs. Bean were married May 2, 1941 while he was stationed in Del Rio.

Bean is a 1947 graduate of the University of Texas. His work does not leave much time for affiliation in civic organizations, but Bean makes time in his spare hours to get in a bit of sailing. He has a craft which he hopes to base at Lake J. B. Thomas.

Farmers Are Paid For Not Planting

One hundred and fifty-nine Howard County farmers voluntarily did not plant approximately 10,000 acres of land allotted to feed grains for 1962. Last week these farmers received payments totaling $88,935.61 for their cooperation.

The Howard County Agricultural Stabilization Committee office issued the checks to 150 grain sorghum farmers, one barley farmer and eight wheat farmers. Checks are still to be issued to 27 additional farmers, according to Gabe Hammack, ASC office manager. He estimated the total payment, by the time the program is closed, would be close to $100,000.

Under the program, the sorghum farmers did not plant 9,977 acres of grain land which they were entitled to plant. They are being paid for the idle land at about $10 an acre. Twenty acres of barley was not planted and the grower has been paid about $9 an acre.

Four hundred acres which would have been planted to wheat remained unplanted and the farmers were recompensed at $15 an acre. Sorghum growers received $81,830.38. This compares with $50,376 paid last year. Last year, 106 farms were involved; this year 150 farms.

The one barley grower was paid $186.80 and the eight farmers who grow wheat received $6,017.55.

T&P Receives Merit Award As Runner-Up

Dallas Texas and Pacific Railway Company was named runner-up in the annual freight traffic promotion competition sponsored by Railway Progress Institute. The announcement was made at the Institute's 54th Annual Dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City.

George A. Craig, vice president-marketing for T&P, accepted the Merit Award plaque on behalf of the railway from John W. Scallan, chairman of RPI.

The four-fold purpose of the Traffic Promotion Award is to give recognition to railroads and their personnel for outstanding use of effective sales promotion and advertising techniques to sell railroad freight service; spotlight effective methods of selling and promotion; foster the increased use of modern sales and merchandising methods; and help promote greater freight traffic volume for the railroad industry.

Texas and Pacific's award-winning entry in the 1962 traffic promotion competition was based on the reorganization of the sales and marketing department, improvement of efficiency of marketing operations and reports, and the institution of a sales training and management program.

DEAR ABBY

Leave Kids At Home

DEAR ABBY: We received an invitation to a wedding. It was addressed to "Mr. and Mrs. . . ." and then our names. Is it safe to assume that our children are invited? They are not babies. They are 9 and 11 and conduct themselves like a little lady and little gentleman. The people who sent it know we don't go anywhere without our children. The wedding is to be held in a fine hotel. We think attending adult social functions helps develop poise in children. We will abide by your decision.

MR. AND MRS. DEAR MR. AND MRS.: I agree, attending adult social functions does indeed develop "poise" in children—but unless they are specifically invited, it develops ulcers in the hosts. Leave the little lady and little gentleman at home.

DEAR ABBY: You were right about the honor system not working. And it won't work until the students themselves make it work. And I don't mean "tattling" to the teacher. If they can put the screws on someone who dresses oddly, why can't they put the screws on someone who cheats? Young people should have integrity and I can see no better way of cultivating it than ostracizing those among their own peers who cheat. I'd like to know what the students think about this.

C. A. A. (Pastor)

DEAR ABBY: I am a volunteer Group Work leader. I have been a faithful reader of your column for many years. I used some of your letters to help discourage young people from going steady and now I have something for you! It's called The Ten Commandments for Teen-Agers. You are welcome to use it. I never did know who wrote it.

MRS. G. W. SCHULTZ

1. Stop and think before you drink.
2. Don't let your parents down. They brought you up.
3. Be humble enough to obey; you will be giving orders yourself one day.
4. Turn away from unclean thinking at the first moment.
5. Don't show off when you're driving. If you want to race, go to Indianapolis.
6. Choose a date who would make a good mate.
7. Go to church faithfully. The

9. Avoid following the crowd. Be an engine, not a caboose.
10. Or better still, keep the original Ten Commandments.

Poll Tax Receipts Not In Demand

Poll tax receipts are not in demand at the office of the tax collector. So far in November, only 59 receipts have been issued.

However, Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, assessor-collector, said that this is a common situation at this season of the year. Last November, she recalls, few poll tax receipts were written. The big rush will develop after the first of the year as the deadline pushes near, she said.
