AN ESTIMATED 3,000 TURN OUT
To cheer the Big Spring Steers during pep rally and bonfire

Patriots Ready To Swarm San Angelo For Big Game

Big Spring fans were prepared today to descend like locusts on San Angelo this evening. A fair indication of the enthusiasm was reflected in an estimated 3,000 turnout for the bonfire and pep rally Thursday evening. Student and town spirit appeared to be at a peak. With two workouts during the day, the football squad appeared to be at fine edge, too.

Although there had been reports that business houses and offices were shutting down early to allow employees to leave for the game, few of them actually were planning to do this. Kenneth Pace, Chamber of Commerce assistant manager polled several stores regarding the rumor and said that although there had been some discussion, the merchants had decided against it.

The Herald-sponsored buses—three of them—appeared to be sold out. They were due to depart from the south side of the Herald office shortly after 5:30 p.m. with a return time projected for about midnight. Local law enforcement agencies were spacing cars at intervals in the mass procession to San Angelo in order to be of assistance to any motorists needing help. At the same time they appealed to drivers to be extremely careful and cautious because of the projected heavy traffic en route to and from the game.

Thousands of fans turned out Thursday night to cheer and encourage the Big Spring Steers as the football team prepared to go to San Angelo tonight in a contest for the 2-A district championship.

The pep rally and bonfire lured an estimated 3,000 persons, including the pep squad, band, Quarterback Club members, as well as the football team and coaches.

Cars packed the high school area as one spectator remarked it was the biggest show of local enthusiasm in history for a football team here. Members of the fire department stood by with a watchful eye on the giant bonfire. Police officers were on hand, as well. Chief Jay Banks said the crowd was orderly, but excited.

Today, many fans were leaving early to beat the traffic caravan expected to head south before game time.

Key Club members Friday thanked city and school officials for allowing them to sponsor the bonfire. They also thanked residents who donated wood for the fire and commended everyone for their conduct during the rally.

18 Believed Dead In Airliner Crash

First Reports Indicate No Survivors

ELLIOTT CITY, Md. (AP) — A United Air Lines plane crashed and burned today in a wooded area at Homestead, Md., about 10 miles west of Baltimore.

State Police said there were 14 passengers and four crewmen aboard the plane and reports from the scene indicated there were no survivors.

The plane was a four-engine Viscount turbo-prop en route from Newark, N.J., to Atlanta, Ga., with a stop in Washington, D.C. It was United flight No. 297.

The plane came down about 12:30 p.m.

"It was awful," said Mrs. Clark Gaither, who lives nearby. "The plane crashed at the edge of the woods and the flames shot higher than the trees."

"We heard a sound like a tractor motor chugging. Then there were three thunderous explosions and all we could see was smoke and flames."

"My husband and I got up from the table where we were having lunch and looked across the field."

"I don't know whether there were any passengers and if there were any I don't know how they could have gotten out of the plane."

"My husband ran out of the house and got into his car. I stayed in the house. He couldn't get very near the plane and he didn't want to go alone."

"Just before the plane crashed, while we were finishing our coffee we thought we heard something like a plane maneuvering. The engines didn't sound right and then they stopped and we heard this noise like a bomb."

TRAFFIC CLAIMS 24

Texas Takes Lead In Holiday Deaths

By The Associated Press

Texas holiday deaths, pushed upward by a rash of multiple-fatality accidents, placed the state on top of the state-by-state tragedy list Friday with a chance of staying there if the pace continues.

With more than half the Thanksgiving weekend remaining, the toll stood at 29 Thursday. Traffic accidents claimed 24 lives.

A searing truck-train crash at Chandler, near Tyler in East Texas, killed three trainmen Friday morning. Two burned to death in a flaming engine and another died en route to a hospital. Two earlier crashes accounted for 10 deaths—five in a collision of an ambulance and a car near Weslaco, and five others as two autos smashed headon near Livingston.

The holiday period started at 6 p.m. Wednesday and continues to midnight Sunday.

By The Associated Press

The tally of Thanksgiving holiday deaths moved steadily higher today, paced by a rash of multiple fatalities in traffic accidents.

Highway deaths since the count began at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday totaled 152 compared to 168 for a comparable period last year. Fires killed 16 persons and miscellaneous accidents, 19.

There were numerous reports of accidents in which three, four and five persons were killed. In Texas, there were two separate accidents in which five persons were fatally injured in each mishap. A two-car crash in Illinois took the lives of four persons and four University of Omaha students were killed when their car smashed into a Union Pacific freight train at a crossing in the outskirts of Omaha.

The National Safety Council did not make an estimate of the traffic death toll for Thanksgiving or for the extended holiday period from 6 p.m. Wednesday until midnight Sunday. It said the traffic on the holiday is not as heavy as on other major holidays.

However, the council said that deaths on the highway for the Thursday through Sunday period at this time of year number about 480. An Associated Press survey of accidental deaths for the 102-hour period from 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 7 to midnight Sunday, Nov. 11, showed 459 highway fatalities. The survey also showed 30 killed in fires and 113 deaths in miscellaneous accidents, an overall total of 602.

In last year's four-day Thanksgiving holiday period, there were 457 traffic deaths, 40 persons killed in fires and 105 deaths in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 602.

India Has Guard Up

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian forces are keeping up their patrols along the Red Chinese cease-fire line in northeastern India, a Defense Ministry spokesman said today. He reported the Himalayan border front quiet, however, as U.S. and British missions opened talks with Indian officials on sending in more military aid.

The spokesman said he had no report whether Red Chinese, as well, were carrying out patrols. They are believed to be consolidating and reinforcing their positions gained in the rugged mountain border areas in 32 days of undeclared war.

The Indians rushed fresh troops to the Himalayas. Feelings here were growing stronger against the Red Chinese terms for peace.

The defense spokesman said Indian forces were patrolling in the northwestern front around Ladakh but on a scale smaller than that being carried out in the northeast.

NO COMMENT

The spokesman declined to comment on a division of the Indian army that was cut off behind swift Red Chinese attacks last weekend.

He reported, however, that in the Chushul Airfield area in Ladakh, the Red Chinese had attacked last Sunday and Monday with about two battalions—estimated to number about 1,600 men. Nearly half the strength of the Red Chinese force was either killed or wounded, the spokesman said. Later, he said, the Red Chinese launched other attacks and captured four Indian posts before the cease-fire.

Tacitly accepting the cease-fire, Indian troops were reported under secret orders to hold their fire unless fired upon. But Prime Minister Nehru refrained from taking a stand on Peking's proposals for ending the conflict.

He told Parliament today "The Chinese cease-fire has continued on their side and so far as I know

Steels Pace Market Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels were pacemakers in a continued stock market rally early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Posting a sharp advance, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.6 to 237.7.

However, the council said that deaths on the highway for the Thursday through Sunday period

Key stocks advanced from fractions to around 2 points over a wide range of the list. The ticker tape lagged behind transactions.

Old Ironsides Disarmed

The 165-year-old warship USS Constitution, better known as Old Ironsides, was disarmed in Boston in a move having nothing whatsoever to do with easing of the Cuban crisis. The carriage of a cannon is hoisted from the deck of the ship as some of the 30 guns are lined up on the dock at left. Stripping the ship is part of a million dollar overhaul for the vessel, a prime tourist attraction.

RR Commission Extends Deadline On Disposal Ban

The Texas Railroad Commission has issued an order extending the deadline banning pit disposal of salt water in the Sharon Ridge oilfield until April 7, 1963.

Noting that the Colorado River Municipal Water District had furnished a letter saying it had no objection to a four-month extension, the state agency modified its deadline for that period of time.

Swerving Car Kills 3 Children

ST. HENRI, Que. (AP)—A trailer truck with no brakes swerved into a front yard to miss a stalled school bus Thursday night and crushed three children to death against the wall of their home.

The children, Gerald Brochu, 5, and his brothers, Yvan, 4, and Simon, 3, were playing beside their father's tractor, which was towing the school bus off the road. The runaway truck hit the tractor and the three children were crushed between the house wall, the tractor and the truck.

The driver of the truck, Charles Lemieux, 35, told police he applied his brakes but they didn't work and he swerved off the road.

Operators in the field had asked for a six-months extension.

"No further extension is likely except where an operator can make a showing of good cause," said the commission order.

The CRMWD had asked for the order banning disposal of oilfield brines in open, unlined earthen pits because it said its study showed this was a major source of pollution of the Colorado River Watershed.

The district has a permit to impound a second lake on the river, but the permit is conditioned on a showing that the heavy salt water pollution is being brought under control.

The district currently is negotiating with Sun Oil Company to supply water for a waterflood project in northern Coke County. Sun has agreed to take part of the total supply in salt water which the distribut will intercept on the river. Officials believe that this will lessen the salt contamination in the river channel to the extent that planning for a second lake will be feasible.

U.S. Cancels Lid On News

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced today it has canceled a 12-point "security guidance" which forbade military and civilian personnel to talk to newsmen.

However, a controversial memorandum requiring defense personnel to report conversations with newsmen remains in effect.

A Pentagon spokesman said a message was sent out Thursday to all defense agencies removing the security guidance which was issued on Oct. 24 at the height of the Cuban crisis.

This action did not mean there will now be a free flow of information.

Even in normal times there is a clamp on certain types of information considered to be sensitive—information that the Joint Chiefs of Staff feel would tip off potential enemies to things they shouldn't know about.

Yule Ornaments Are Going Up

About 75 per cent of the city's Christmas decorations have been put up and the remainder will go up this weekend.

Caldwell Electric, contractor to install, maintain and take the decorations down, took advantage of slack traffic in the shopping areas Thursday to get most of the articles up. The pole ornaments are being connected as they are installed.

The contractor is not working on the installation today. In all, 72 of the ornaments will be placed about the city.

Pastor Faces Morals Charge

HENDERSON, Tex. (AP)—A Baptist preacher who eloped with a teen-age choir singer sweetheart faced charges today of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The Rev. LeRoy Daniels, 27, who left his bride of four months to run away with Flora Jean Cole, 16, was jailed in Henderson last night.

Daniels, pastor of the Cristol Farms Baptist Church at nearby Tatum, and the girl had been living in Wichita, Kan., since Nov. 2.

Sheriff F. L. Gibson said Mrs. Daniels' lawyer has drafted a petition for divorce and the minister has agreed not to contest the suit. She married the preacher only four months ago.

The sheriff brought Daniels and the blonde girl back from Kansas and left her with her parents.

"I do not want to go home," she said in Wichita. "I won't stay home. I'll run off."

Daniels had been working in Wichita at a wholesale liquor house.

Pilot Is Charged With Murder In Horseman's Death

MARFA, Tex. (AP)—A U.S. border patrolman, pilot of a plane involved in a freak accident, taking the life of a horseman, has been charged with murder.

Presidio County Atty. William Earney said the charges were filed against Dudley Clannahan. The ranch hand, Isidoro Rodriguez Chapairo, died instantly on a ranch 35 miles southwest of this Far West Texas town Tuesday when hit by the landing gear of the Border Patrol plane.

Earney said the charges resulted after an investigation indicated that Clannahan made repeated passes over Chapairo and another rider before hitting Chapairo.

The county attorney said the two riders were being investigated as possible "wetbacks"—Mexicans in the country illegally.

A Border Patrol jeep with two other patrolmen was following the riders also.

GIVE THE UNITED WAY

UF Just Short Step From Goal

The United Fund is less than $2,500 away from its goal, and the 1962 solicitation effort will end Tuesday. Leaders who have labored long to achieve another success were still hopeful that the last-minute response will put the program "over the top."

Accounted for this morning was a total of $100,856, against the budget of $103,324. Last year's campaign brought in over $107,000.

The Organized Labor division and some sections of the Employees Division were to make final reports Monday.

And, there was the renewed appeal for any person who has not given to have a part now in the community's major civic effort.

The UF distributes its income to 13 welfare and youth guidance agencies. "Unless we fulfill our commitment," said Co-Chairman Jack Y. Smith, "these deserving agencies will be denied the operating funds they must have."

"We are so close to our goal that it is inconceivable that Big Springers will stand for a failure. We ask all workers to turn in their reports, we call upon all people to do their fair share."

Oil-Laden Truck Hits Train, Fire Kills 3

TYLER (AP)—A truck loaded with 6,000 gallons of crude oil crashed with a freight train early today and burst into flames, burning three trapped trainmen to death.

Police at first reported the truck loaded with butane, but later found it had just finished loading with crude oil at a well near here.

R. L. Parker, police dispatcher, described the wreckage as a "mass of flames." He said the truck "sprayed" the engine with its burning cargo.

The crash occurred Thursday after 7 a.m. Later another engine was brought to the scene to pull the burned engine and its four cars away.

Investigators said the truck was going north and the train was moving west, striking the rear of the truck.

Workers for more than an hour. Bodies of Piles and Jones were found in the wreckage. Malone leaped from the flaming engine but died in an ambulance en route to Tyler.

The crash occurred Thursday after 7 a.m. Later another engine was brought to the scene to pull the burned engine and its four cars away.

Investigators said the truck was going north and the train was moving west, striking the rear of the truck.

Former Vice President John Nance Garner sits behind two birthday cakes at his home in Uvalde. According to his wishes, Cactus Jack, as he is known to many, observed his 94th birthday quietly, with no big "fuss" or celebration. A steady stream of well-wishers visited him throughout the day.

Kennedy Clan Holds Re-Union On Holiday

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy swung his attention back to work today after taking a holiday respite around a dinner table laden with a 32-pound turkey.

Kennedy was able to report to the American people at a news conference Tuesday that grave problems still remained but the dangers imbedded in the Cuban crisis had diminished and there was much to be thankful for at this Thanksgiving season.

As they do every year, lots of Kennedys, adults and kids, descended on the family compound for Thanksgiving Day.

The youngsters were fed early at the home of Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy. And then Thursday night sons and daughters and in-laws, the President and First Lady among them, sat down to a turkey dinner at the large, gabled, white-frame home of the President's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy.

been brought into true perspective. Connelly is now in the public relations business in New York. Connelly was sentenced along with T. Lamar Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's tax division, on charges of trying to block the income tax prosecution of Irving Scaphs, a St. Louis, Mo., manufacturer.

At Wadesboro, N.C., Caudle expressed delight at Connelly's pardon and said he had an application to apply for a pardon but had not yet filled it out. He was paroled after serving six months of a two-year sentence.

Democrat Robert M. Morgenthau, who quit as U.S. attorney for the Southern District of New York, ran for governor of New York and lost, got his old job back, courtesy of a recess appointment from the President. The U.S. Senate must approve the appointment after Congress returns to work in January.

HE'S PLEASED
At his New York state residence, Morgenthau said he was "pleased to have the confidence of the President."

People who work for the government won't have to work Monday, the day before Christmas—they'll get a four-day weekend.

Dividends of $22 million on National Service Life Insurance policies and $15.6 million on U.S. Government Life Insurance Policies are going to be paid by the Veterans Administration in January instead of being spread out through 1963. And a special dividend of $90 has been declared for holders of National Service policies.

The special dividend was described by a Veterans Administration spokesman in Washington as a bonus on National Service Life Insurance policies, retained upon discharge from the service by about a third of World War II veterans. U.S. Government Life Insurance policies are held primarily by World War I veterans.

FOUR OTHERS
Besides Connelly, four other persons received pardons and eight additional individuals commutations of sentences. Justice Department records disclosed the following background on these persons pardoned:

Woodrow Wilson Brooks, 49, former president of the bank of Camilla, Ga., was fined $5,000 and given 5 years probation on April 30, 1959, on a charge of making a false entry in the bank's books to deceive the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Ralph Smith, 45, former postmaster at Jeffersonville, Ga., was sentenced to 6 months on Jan. 9, 1957, at the Federal Prison Camp, Montgomery, Ala. for embezzlement of $652.33 of postal funds. He was paroled April 1, 1957 and made restitution.

Leonard John Ventura, 41, of Philadelphia, was deprived of his rights and privileges as a World War II veteran for filing false claims concerning attendance at a vocational school. The administrative action was taken Feb. 27, 1951. The pardon will restore Ventura's veteran's benefits, including hospitalization for a heart condition.

William C. Morton, 63, of Tulsa, Okla., a former accountant, was sentenced to one year probation on Jan. 27, 1956 in the Southern District of Florida for preparation of fraudulent income tax returns in 1947, 1948, 1949.

He is survived by five daughters, Mrs. T. R. Kias, Mrs. R. B. Golden and Mrs. Karl Golden, all of Colorado City; Mrs. Lloyd Newman and Mrs. L. E. South, both of Abilene; a son, C. D. Ayers, Galveston; four brothers, George Ayers, Abilene, Grady Ayers, Glenoce, Texas, Owen Ayers, Safford, Ariz., and Barnes Ayers, Arizona; a sister, Mrs. Lula Seaman, Bollinger, Pa.; 18 grandchildren and 36 great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be held Friday at 2 p.m. from the Kiker and Son Chapel, with burial in the Colorado City Cemetery.

Portuguese Air Crash Kills 18

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—A Portuguese military plane crashed after taking off from the island of Saint Thomas in the Atlantic early today. Unconfirmed reports said at least 18 of its 32 occupants were killed.

The aircraft, a four-engine C54 transport, was en route to Lisbon with military personnel and their dependents. Saint Thomas is off Guinea in the South Atlantic and is a stopping place for Portuguese military transports flying between Angola and Portugal.

First reports mentioned only 14 survivors. The Portuguese air force operates a regular transport service between Lisbon and Portuguese territories in the Atlantic and in Africa.

Later Lusitania news agency said 18 of the 32 occupants of the plane were dead.

The plane, in command of Capt. Sherman Macedo, was scheduled to halt at Portuguese Guinea before continuing on to Lisbon. Lusitania quoted eye-witnesses as saying there was a violent explosion in the plane soon after takeoff, and flames were visible from the airport.

Rescuers, guided by the blaze in the darkness, found the wreckage on land at Roca Boa Entrada, midway between the villages of Casado and Praia, the news agency said.

Dispatches from Saint Thomas said the 14 survivors were taken to a nearby hospital.

THE GOOD WINE

By T. H. Tarbet, Preacher
Church of Christ, 200 West Highway 90
P.O. Box 1352

"When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not where it was, (but the servants which drew the water knew,) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom, and said unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now" (Jno. 2:9, 10).

There is a forceful parable in the fact that men have the good wine first, and later that which is worse. Sin's first cup is always the sweetest. As one continues to drink, it becomes bitter; then more and more bitter as time passes. The Prodigal Son of Luke 15 enjoyed riotous joy at first when he visited the city of sin; but before long he found himself friendless, hungry and miserable. It has been truly said that Satan has no happy old servants. They continue to serve him because they are powerless in his clutches.

When Jesus took over at this wedding feast, the wine got better instead of worse. So it is in Christian discipleship; every experience which follows is superior. Things grow sweeter as the years go fleeing by.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roman visited relatives in Abilene this week.

Her Name? 'Suzanne'

HANTSPOINT, N. S. — The pretty Polynesian girl was named Terehiti Tevahinepou Mafano. Now everybody just calls her Suzanne.

She's the wife of Wayne Dewar, a seaman on the Nova Scotia-built version of the Bounty. They met in Tahiti, where he worked during the filming of "Mutiny on the Bounty" as a stand-in for Marlon Brando.

She had joined the cast as a dancer. The married last fall, and Wayne brought his 24-year-old, convent-educated bride to his hometown to live.

Suzanne was an immediate hit here. "The children love her," says Mrs. Walter Dewar, Wayne's mother. "In fact, everyone does." She has kept her waist-to-0-g black hair uncut, but she wears mostly Canadian styles now.

Plans Marriage

A New Sense Of Values In Home Furnishing Upgrading Standards

NEW YORK (AP)—A new sense of values in home furnishing, which has little to do with status symbols or the old-fashioned Keep-Up-With-Joneses routine, is upgrading the American standard of living. This conclusion was reached by home specialists who spoke at a conference held by the Cooperative Extension Service. The women in attendance are associated with land grant universities, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

lieve they owe it to their children to have a nice home," said Rosa Johnston, University of Massachusetts.

Observed Inez Lovelace, University of Tennessee, "The amazing thing is the new sense of values. Young people have learned to let entire rooms go unfurnished until they can have good things and rather than fill them up with a lot of cheap things."

A guest speaker, designer Jens Risom, applauded this new attitude, emphasizing that good design and good quality almost always go together.

He also added that a room's personality comes from its accessories, but Grace Kampen, University of California, lamented that manufacturers are not producing the kind that should enable a homemaker to exercise her imagination.

Miss Kampen feels, too, that there is too much stress on what is "in" and "out" in home furnishings.

"Many people in my state be-wood chips, salt hay or dead leaves (ask if you have them). Peat moss possibly is best over all, but any mulch will keep soil warmer, hold back frost penetration and conserve vital moisture.

Shrubs Need Winter Cover

Put in a few hours of "undercover" work now and you'll keep your evergreens healthy during their forty winter winks.

Winter protection is another name for this undercover operation. It consists chiefly—but not entirely—of spreading a mulch, or cover, of organic material around the base of your evergreens. For plantings a mulch serves much the same purpose as your own blanket indoors, or your overcoat outdoors.

A mulch is a must for evergreens of questionable hardiness such as boxwood, certain azaleas and fire thorn. Spruces, firs and the chief pines usually can survive on their own, but even they'll pull through a severe winter in better shape if protected.

Your mulch should be at least three inches deep and for best results should cover not only the tree base but the entire root area—roughly the area of branch spread. Use whatever material is handiest—peat moss, corn cobs,

Because mulches, especially leafy ones, pack and shrink under rain and snow, you'd best start with five or six inches depth.

Your more tender evergreens will stand a better chance of surviving if, besides the mulch, you water them thoroughly and set up a wind screen. You might consider one of the new sprays to help prevent drying.

Finally, protect trunks and stems against mice and other rodents.

Luncheon Is Served WMU At Ackerly

A covered dish luncheon was served to members of the Women's Missionary Union, Ackerly Baptist Church, during their all-day mission study Tuesday. Prayer was led by Mrs. Norman Wallace.

Held at the church, the study was conducted by Mrs. David Griffith of Lamesa. Also attending from Lamesa was Mrs. Jack Meares, the Association president. "New Frontiers in an Old World" was the mission book used for the study.

The luncheon table carried out the theme of Japan and East Asia. Eleven members were present.

Mrs. Meares offered the prayer of dismissal.

Jenkins-Taylor Vows On Thanksgiving Day

LAMESA (SC)—Zee Lyn Taylor and Thomas Michael Jenkins exchanged wedding vows at 5:30 p.m. Thanksgiving Day in the First Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. Walter G. Horn, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Taylor of Lamesa, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jenkins, Lamesa.

The double ring ceremony was read before brass candelabrum with crystal votive lights flanked by baskets of white snapdragons, stock and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Matt McCall presented traditional wedding music at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white imported Chantilly lace and pleated tulle. The gown, an heirloom of the bride's family, was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, outlined with iridescent sequins and seed pearls, and long, tapered sleeves, fastened with tiny covered buttons. The fitted bodice terminated in points at the front and back. The bouffant skirt was enhanced with reemboroidered lace medallions detailed in iridescent sequins and seed pearls.

Her waist length veil of imported tulle was attached to a crown of aurora borealis and pearls, and she carried a petite bouquet of white lily-of-the-valley surrounding a white orchid.

The maid of honor was Jean Ranson of Lamesa. Zana Kaye Taylor, the bride's sister, and Jennifer Orson were flower girls. Richard Orson was best man.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church with members of the wedding party and the couple's parents assisting in the receiving line.

Guests attended from Lubbock, Colorado City, Snyder, San Angelo, Amarillo, Abilene, Plainview, Dallas, Brownfield, Ruston, La.,

Can Be Helped Without New Laws

The 58th Texas Legislature may find it necessary to pass new laws to control abuses in oil and gas well drilling such as those revealed in the East Texas "slant-hole" investigations. But the Texas Railroad Commission has power to regulate most of those abuses, power that it had not exercised until just the other day.

The commission has ordered inclination tests for all new wells and for any existing wells that are deepened, or when a well's course is changed as a result of any operation. If any well is found to deviate more than three degrees from the vertical the commission may order it plugged and also penalize the operator.

If the well is found to be within the limits of the lease on which it is being drilled the commission may grant a special permit for production, however.

In another step the commission gives an operator, who can show "probable cause" that another well in the same field is illegally deviated, the right to ask the commission for an inclination or directional test. But "the expenses and damages of this work must be paid for by the complainant."

The commission may find after all that vigorous enforcement under authority it already has can solve the problem without new legislation.

Statistics Won't Tell The Story

Another traffic accident has been chalked up at the Birdwell Lane-Marcy Drive intersection. Fortunately, injuries were slight, but the property damage was high.

"I guess someone is going to have to be killed in a wreck here before they'll put up a traffic signal." That was a remark heard often among the gathering crowd of residents who use the intersection almost daily. All residents south of Marcy Drive in the southeast part of the city must use this intersection. Many Webb AFB personnel live in the area immediately north of the intersection and must use it to get to the base.

Over a year ago, city officials requested a traffic signal for this intersection, but it was refused. Recently, new requests have pointed out the urgency of the situation. As Marcy Drive is a State highway (FM 700), the city says it has no authority to install signals without state permission.

State officials have made traffic counts and have admitted a problem, but they advised a four-way stop sign. Even this has yet to be installed. Perhaps statistics do not tell the whole story. Birdwell Lane traffic enters the intersection with a downhill slope from the north and an uphill slope from the south. Visibility is partially blocked for all traffic concerned, as a result.

At any rate, property damage is mounting at this intersection. Perhaps a closer look at doing something about traffic control should get top priority at this point. School children, both walking and on bikes, use this intersection, as well as motorists.

Luckily, we have had no fatalities at this intersection yet. But must this be the price to get something done?

David Lawrence New Relationship With India

WASHINGTON — The United States is getting ready to help India in her war with Red China. Military supplies and perhaps technical advisers will be sent to aid Indian military forces. Great Britain is doing the same.

This is a development of far-reaching importance in America's relations with the Far East.

FOR IT MEANS that at last the United States and the West will have a leverage against Red China and cause the Communists to hesitate before attacking Formosa or the people of any other area in the Western Pacific now allied with this country.

It is, therefore, to the military advantage of the United States to assist India. Also, India's request for assistance from America is, in effect, the beginning of military alliance.

CONCEIVABLY, if India becomes a real military power and is definitely aligned against Red China, the day may come when the Chinese in Tibet will feel encouraged to take the risks of a revolt against the Communist regime in Peiping.

Certainly the whole Southeast Asia situation will be affected favorably for the United States if there is a definite military tie-up between America and India. This becomes a potential force in diplomacy and can achieve a kind of balance of power which could postpone indefinitely, if not avert, a big war between Red China and the West.

IT IS IMPORTANT, too, to note that Pandit Nehru seems to have learned a lesson which should be taken to heart by other so-called "neutrals" of the world. It is that, when the chips are down, little help of substance can be expected from the Soviet Union. For a long time now Mr. Nehru has played ball with Moscow. Perhaps much of this can be blamed on Krishna Menon, who seems to have swallowed the Communist line for many years. He finally was forced out of the position of minister of defense and then out of the cabinet altogether by the realists inside India who couldn't tolerate his double-dealing.

WITH KRISHNA MENON out of the picture, the patriotic leaders of India might influence Mr. Nehru to become a full-fledged partner of the West, particularly the United States. India over the next 25 years will need economic help for her huge population, but she can make no progress in a sociological or industrial way unless her military position is secure. If the United States is able to accomplish this for her, the future of India's relationships with this country will be on a firm basis.

The Indian government itself, however, is not without fault. Its dispute with Pakistan over the Kashmir territory is illogical and unjustified. The people of Kashmir are Moslems and, if it were left to a vote, they would go to Pakistan. India has refused to negotiate. This is a mistake.

LIKEWISE, MR. NEHRU made a blunder in the way he handled the Goa question. Here was a province that had belonged to Portugal for centuries. There were many ways to settle the dispute equitably, but these were disregarded by him and an act of aggression was substituted. This lost India lots of friends in the outside world. For Mr. Nehru had been the leading champion of the formula of settling international disputes by mediation and other peaceful methods.

NOW THE FUTURE of India herself is at stake. An act of aggression has been committed by Red China. India has already lost a valuable part of her territory. It is a paradox to read news reports from New Delhi stating that, in spite of what has happened, Mr. Nehru still favors the admission of Red China into the United Nations. Yet it was a similar act of aggression by Red China in North Korea in 1950 against U.N. forces which prompted the passing of a resolution by the General Assembly which condemned Red China as an aggressor. This has been the main reason why the United States has held out firmly ever since against regarding an aggressor with membership in the United Nations.

IF THERE'S A MORE enlightened attitude by India in the field of international affairs and if Red China is outlawed at last in New Delhi because of the latest acts of aggression, then the way is opened for a mutually helpful relationship between the United States and India. It may prove costly in money to this country, but it is a military maneuver of vast importance to the United States. It could be the means of saving many American boys from another Korean-type war in Asia.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Henry Cabot Lodge, whose tilts with communism's top talent in the United Nations gives him special qualification to speak, drove home anew a truth we shouldn't forget:

"Certainly he (Chairman Khrushchev) bases his international conduct much more on his belief in our free world divisions than in his confidence in his own strength."

Lodge was proposing an international, free-world organization capable of "timely and effective common action."

Fact of the matter is that such a force, organized or not, already exists. It remained only for someone to set it in motion.

The main trouble with organizations is that they get tangled in committee. In the absence of a plan, the "Clay Plan" should be used without hesitation . . . to move decisively and talk about it when there was time.

A variation on the "Clay Plan" was used on Cuba. It did two astounding things:

It forced an open backdown by the Soviet Union, even to announcing the action in the Russian press, albeit coated with a "we-saved-the-world" propaganda layer.

It crystallized unity among free-world allies, quickly and solidly.

AN EXCELLENT IDEA, MIND YOU, BUT—

James Marlow K May Seek Cooling-Off Period

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western leaders think Premier Khrushchev wants a cooling-off period after going through the Cuban wringer. There is even talk he may make a sharp turn and seek closer relations with the West.

The two are not the same.

To confuse them is to let the heart get the better of the head with wishful thinking. Before Christmas he can show whether he wants cooperation with the West or just wants time for the head to die down.

Three testing grounds for him: The disarmament talks which begin again Monday; soon thereafter talks on a nuclear test ban; and the four-year-old problem of Berlin.

It's comforting, but may be unrealistic, to believe the Russian leader suffered a change of heart after his meek and humiliating backdown on the Cuban missiles.

THE ALTERNATIVE to that is the possibility he will lie low for a while, preparing for some new thrust where his chances are better than they ever were in a Cuba far away from Russia.

It would be very human if now Khrushchev — after the international embarrassment suffered by communism in Cuba — tried to restore Red prestige by forcing the West into a retreat.

Thus his present meekness can have two interpretations. But something else happened — after the Russian retreat on Cuba — which may push him toward the Western camp.

"Ironically this push — if that's what it proves to be — came not

Hal Boyle Life's Signposts

NEW YORK (AP) — Life has many signposts along the way.

You show your age by what you like to recall. And you certainly no longer are a spring chicken if you remember when:

College boys serenaded beneath sorority windows to the tune of a well-strummed mandolin. The ukulele and guitar were still voiceless in the wave of the future.

It was widely believed in some quarters that we had a lot to learn from Benito Mussolini because, after all, hadn't he made Italy's railroads run on time?

Airplanes had two wings and their pilots wore a helmet and goggles.

A family that had less than a 20-day turkey on Thanksgiving Day never mentioned it—for fear they'd lose standing in the neighborhood.

A man could wear red suspenders without being accused of being a show-off.

The hole in the stocking a child hung up on Christmas Eve was always plugged with a big bright orange.

Many a pet dog and cat lived a happy carefree life without ever being taken to a veterinarian.

People said there'd never be a racehorse quite like "Man O' War."

You could buy a package of cigarettes for a dime—and get a free picture of your favorite baseball star.

Nobody wondered whatever happened to vaudeville. It was still there.

Baby sitting was still a pastime, not a major American industry.

Comic strips were supposed to be funny.

At the movies the operator, before starting the film, always flashed a comic sign asking, "Will ladies please remove their hats."

A man felt it was a public disgrace to lose a job, rather than a welcome opportunity to take a trip to Florida.

You could gain considerable prestige in the community by pitching a good game of horse-shoes.

People were distrustful of big business, and it was every man's goal to own a small firm of his own.

City parks were a rendezvous for lovers at night—not muggers.

You could have a wild and wonderful afternoon in a penny arcade for four-bits—and still have a dime left over for a double-dip ice cream cone on the way home.

Remember? Well, if you can, you're not the kid you used to be.

To Your Good Health Hormones May Be Needed After Hysterectomy

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Twelve years ago (when I was 43) I had a hysterectomy. I am a very nervous person.

I am still getting hormone shots regularly, but they don't seem to do much good. What is your opinion?—D.S.

The usefulness of hormone medication, or the need for it, varies widely from one woman to another. Most don't require any. Others may find it very useful for a limited period, from six to 12 months.

The need for hormones is greatest in a woman who has had "surgical menopause," that is, a hysterectomy including removal of the ovaries.

In ordinary menopause, the ovaries gradually decrease the secretion of hormones. The body gradually adjusts to a different hormonal balance.

periods on the supposition that their troubles are a continuation of menopause.

But keep this in mind: Menopause and its symptoms do not continue indefinitely. It is a period of transition.

Thus when the symptoms keep on and on, the actual cause may be entirely apart from menopause. Sometimes it is neurosis, sometimes thyroid trouble (the thyroid secretes hormones, too, but of a different type), sometimes hypoglycemia, or low blood sugar, possibly high blood pressure. The list is long.

Hence when hormone shots "don't seem to do much good" any longer, it is quite probable that they have outlived their usefulness. There should be careful study to see whether some other disturbance isn't what really needs correction.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have various conditions. Should I keep the heavy stockings or bandages on when I go to bed?—Mrs. L. R.

This is usually not necessary, unless there is associated phlebitis.

Dear Dr. Molner: My sister had a lot of tests in an exploratory operation which showed she had cirrhosis of the liver. Can you explain about this? I heard it happened only to alcoholics.—M.M.

While alcohol is usually the cause of cirrhosis it is not the only one. It can occur in people who do not drink heavily or even not at all.

It is a gradual hardening of the liver, sometimes progressive, destroying the functioning ability of groups of cells in the liver.

Other than alcohol, causes include both infectious and serum hepatitis; "toxic hepatitis" or poisoning from fumes such as carbon tetrachloride. There are also unknown causes.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Around The Rim On Again And Off Again

In spite of what Texans are born to believe, Santa Anna was not all evil. In fact, in some ways he was a hero.

To his fellow Mexicans, he proved something of a mixed blessing. When his country was faced with great disaster, it was Santa Anna who came forth, and usually won. But good general though he was, he had a way of working his wartime popularity into a succession of dictatorships. The Mexican people on several occasions found it necessary to toss the tyrant out.

SANTA ANNA first pops into historical prominence in Veracruz in 1822, when he proclaimed the Republic of Mexico. The leading revolutionary in the war of independence against Spain, Turbide, had made himself emperor in 1821 following the final Spanish defeat. Santa Anna drove him out, set up the Republic, and promptly made himself dictator.

(Veracruz, incidentally, played a central role in the life of Santa Anna, as it has throughout Mexico's history.)

SANTA ANNA was called to service again in 1829 to repel a Spanish invasion. He clobbered the aggressors at Tampico.

From there, he strutted into the worst debacle of his career—the one Texans are so well aware of.

But two years later, in 1838, Santa Anna was called out of disgraced exile to defend Veracruz—and it was here that the monster of the Texas Revolution became the guardian angel of Mexico. Even though he lost a leg in the engagement, he drove off a heavily gunned French fleet and routed landing attempts.

THE REST OF HIS STORY is a repetition of glories and disasters. He fought Americans, fellow Mexicans, Spaniards, Britishers, and Frenchmen. His exploits ranged all over the Mexican subcontinent, and in a probably apocryphal story he is even given credit for beating an army of invading Russians.

He finally died in poverty and obscurity in 1876.

His epitaph can be summed up in an ancient capstan shandy composed by the British sailors and marines who felt the lash of his armies:

"He was a raunchy general . . ."
—BOB SMITH

Inez Robb A Man's Right To Dream Of Wealth

Ever so often there arises a genuine folk hero from what the poets too often regard as the faceless mob. There comes a time when some census statistic, goaded beyond endurance by some nitwit bureaucratic circumstance beyond his control, rises up and hangs one on history. Well, on current history, anyway.

LEONARD SHERMAN, the stamp collector whom the United States Post Office Department—with malice and meanness aforethought—crossed, up in the matter of the misprinted Dag Hammarskjold stamp, is such a hero. Sherman has slapped an injunction on the postal department to keep it from flooding the nation with deliberate misprints of the Hammarskjold issue.

Good for Citizen Sherman! Even though the $500,000 placed on his block of 50 original and unintentional misprints has dropped to $5 because the P.O. managed to get 375,000 deliberate misprints on the market before the Sherman injunction was granted by the courts.

MY GOVERNMENT right or wrong—except in niggling matters such as this, especially niggling matters that interfere with folk dreams. The government reserves unto itself many rights toward citizens that none of us challenge—it has the right to discipline, tax, forcibly educate, draft and regulate us in a thousand ways.

But it has no right, no mandate, to interfere with our dreams; absolutely none whatsoever! When you deprive an American of the right to dream that he has struck it rich, that he has won the daily double, that some unknown relative in Australia has left him a million or that he has triumphed in the Irish Sweep, then you have deprived him of the legitimate pursuit of happiness, if not of life and liberty.

AND WHAT ARE life and liberty worth if a man cannot dream? Breaths there an American with soul so dead he does not dream with an almost-evangelical fervor of waking up some fine morning to discover that he has inherited or won a million? If there is, then he is too pedestrian for the likes of most of his fellow citizens.

MOST OF US dream BIG of sudden, easy wealth that never comes. But that makes no difference. We can still dream. It doesn't cost a penny and it's more fun than a barrel of monkeys at the zoo. It doesn't do anyone any harm. And, occasionally, when we read in the papers that some guy has just struck it rich, we all rejoice and go back to our own dreams with new fervor.

My favorite dream since childhood has been of a nonexistent relative in Australia who leave me a pile. In the interim I've scratched like mad to accumulate enough to tide me over the so-called sunset years. But I've had great fun dreaming about that Australian inheritance.

HOW DO OFFICERS of the law explain the fact that no statutes have ever been able to keep Irish Sweep tickets out of the U.S.A.? Because you can't keep people from dreaming, or can you?

Anyway, hurrah for Leonard Sherman, who just isn't taking the government's, that is, the Post Office's, dog-in-the-manger action sitting down. That is, Sherman, not the dog or the Post Office, isn't taking it sitting down. He is a knight in shining armor, fighting for the right of all of us to dream. The government, the big bully, ought to be ashamed of trying to deprive us even of this inalienable right.

Marquis Childs The Problem Of News Security

WASHINGTON — In Britain, where Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is embroiled with a part of the press over a nasty security scandal, a characteristic British discipline has in the past been observed in matters judged in the national interest.

Principal editors and broadcasters receive from the Home Office what are called "D" notices. These highly confidential notices—frequent during World War II, less frequent since—have the approval of the Prime Minister. A typical "D" notice might say:

"YOUR ATTENTION is called to the development of a new supersonic military aircraft, the XYZ. It will be considered helpful if no mention whatsoever is made of this development until further notice."

While editors cannot be compelled to observe the warning in a "D" notice, the system carried over from the war has in general been effective in keeping back so-called sensitive information. The British press is, of course, as a national press far more narrowly held. Except for the large-circulation, sensational papers, which have been exploiting the scandal in the Admiralty, the respect for the establishment—the powers that be—is far greater in the British than in the American press.

ALTHOUGH NO official would admit it, Americans with high responsibility in the cold war have several times looked hopefully toward some form of discipline that would work as does the British "D" notice.

In March of 1948 at the instigation of Secretary of Defense James Forrestal a committee representing all the news media was convened to hear a series of off-the-record reports. Forrestal was motivated partly by the concern of Vannevar Bush, then chairman of the Research and Development Board in the Defense Department, over news stories believed to be supplying vital information to the Soviet Union on America's advanced military planning.

A COMMITTEE representing the news media met to hear off-the-record talks about the threat as viewed from the Pentagon. Forrestal proposed several steps which he said had been suggested to him. One was to take remedial action to prevent leaks and at the same time to declassify material that should never have been labeled secret.

He also proposed that a "Security Council" made up of six representatives of the news media be appointed to advise the Secretary of Defense on "security matters in general." But his most controversial proposal was for:

"AN INFORMATION Advisory Unit set up by the National Military Establishment in Washington that would function 24 hours daily to answer inquiries on certain subjects and offer guidance to the news media."

This last sounded like the "D"-notice approach to guidance or even censorship. The committee, headed by Benjamin M. McKelvey, editor of the Washington Star, rejected it. The Council was approved with the understanding that it should have no concern with "censorship voluntary or otherwise." The remedial measures to be carried out by the Defense Department were also approved. There the matter ended with little change in the relationship between the press and the military.

ONCE AGAIN, with the Cuban crisis, the troubling questions that center around security versus the right to know arise. Were facts withheld to which the public was entitled? Were they distorted for propaganda purposes? Did the press publish reports prejudicial to a peaceful resolution of what was surely the gravest threat to peace since the start of the nuclear era?

Little expert opinion has been heard. James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary, said that "in the most dangerous week civilization ever had" he did not feel the news had been soft-pedaled. Dean Edward Barrett of the Columbia School of Journalism said in a radio interview he felt reporters had ready access to news sources.

MORE PERHAPS than anyone in the field J. R. Wiggins, executive editor of the Washington Post, has concerned himself with the peoples' right to know. In his book, "Freedom or Secrecy," which has become the recognized work on the subject, he reviews the various curbs proposed in the name of security and concludes that if there were real concern both within and without government for freedom of information and the standards of the press no restraints would be necessary.

"The trend toward secrecy in government," he wrote, "inspired by such fears and doubts about the safety with which information for the people can be given to the press, is pushing us farther and farther away from the concept of a free people that is the master and not the servant of its government."

IT IS NOT alone freedom of press and information, it might be added, that is eroding away in what angry critics have called "the warfare state." Under the fear, the strain and the tension of the prolonged cold war the whole structure of a free America is insecure.

Two Men Held Here On Car Theft Charge

Two men, one from Indiana and the other from Florida, were arrested Thursday and charged with the theft of an automobile from Alexandria, La. Both are in the city jail, being held in violation of the Dyer Act, (transporting a stolen vehicle across a state line.)

E. C. Smith, reserve police officer, saw the two men in the 4100 block of Parkway road, trying to scrape a decal off the car windshield. He decided something was not right, and summoned regular police officers.

The driver, a 22-year-old carnival worker, said his home was in Wabash, Ind. The other man, 23, gave his address as Jacksonville, Fla.

They admitted taking the car in Alexandria, La. They drove it to Carthage, Texas, where they took license plates from a used car lot and replaced the Louisiana plates; then to Dallas where they sold a bowling ball to buy gasoline; sold the spare tire and rim of the 1959 model car for more gas; then next ended up in Big Spring where they are housed awaiting action by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Patrolman Robert Husson answered Smith's call and made the arrest.

Two local thefts or burglaries were investigated by police. Alene Bond, owner of Alene's, 400 NW Blvd., reported the door of her place broken open and the juke box entered. An estimated $25 in change, three cases of beer, a guitar, and an accordion were also missed.

C. J. Parsons reported four hub caps valued at $37.50, and a .22 calibre pistol, valued at $59.50, taken from his car while parked at the Blue Note shortly after 11 p.m.

Tree Grew In Brooklyn - But Left

NEW YORK (AP)—A 45-year-old tree valued at $2,000 has been stolen from Brooklyn—and Brooklyn wants it back.

Improbable as it might sound, the roots, tree trunk and all, was stolen from the Brooklyn Botanic Garden two months ago. The announcement of the loss was made Thursday.

The theft of the tree was kept secret so that garden officials could canvass some 200 known students and experts of the Japanese art of Bonsai.

Bonsai is the cultivation of trees that are purposely dwarfed and trained into carefully planned shapes.

The stolen tree is a dwarfed Japanese white pine (Pinus Parviflora), about two feet tall. In its ceramic pot it had to weigh a good 50 pounds, making its theft from the nursery no mean feat.

Dr. George S. Avery, director of the garden, said "someone in the know" stole the tree.

There were about 200 Bonsai trees in the outdoor nursery, and he said the thieves picked one of the "three or four finest" in the collection.

There Are Nuclear Fires In Our Future

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission sees lower cost electrical power for Americans before 1990—thanks to more and better nuclear fires.

By 1990, Americans could be saving over $2 billion a year on electricity, and by year 2000 the savings could total $30 billion, the AEC said Thursday in a report to President Kennedy.

The report said the current AEC 10-year plan was on the threshold of its basic aim: To produce by 1968 competitive electrical power from nuclear reactors in those areas where fossil fuels—coal and oil—are relatively high priced because of transportation costs. By 1970, nuclear power will be economically competitive for most of the nation, the AEC said.

Overlaying this 10-year plan, the AEC proposes to begin a new program—aimed at developing reactors that produce more nuclear fuel than they use.

Such reactors, besides producing power, would also be able to use a wide spectrum of nuclear materials not readily "burned" in present reactors.

At the same time the AEC foresaw a temporary lull in the need for uranium in the late 1960s and in the first half of 1970 before there are really big needs for power generation.

The AEC said the lull would be due to lower needs for weapons, but it didn't explain this or speculate on how much uranium would be spared. One explanation could be the more efficient use of uranium in weapons and the recovery and use of uranium from obsolete weapons.

To "keep a viable uranium industry" and still keep surpluses down, the AEC said it was beginning a plan to defer some uranium purchases until after 1966. If, for instance, a uranium supplier defers an order until 1967, the AEC would promise to buy not only the original order but also a matching amount later on.

In proposing its new reactor program, the AEC said it included building seven or eight prototype reactors.

The program likely will be proposed to begin with fiscal 1964 next July 1.

There was no clear estimate of the cost of the program, but approximate figures mentioned ran from $30 million to $50 million more per year than the AEC now spends on such reactor projects.

Hope lies in converter and breeder reactors—and new technological advances to make them more practical.

Fissionable materials, like uranium, are those which produce energy by splitting their atoms. Some materials are considered fertile, in that they are not naturally fissionable, but can be converted to fissionable forms. Thorium is such a material.

Converter reactors could make use of more diversified materials than present reactors by converting them into fissionable materials. However, the converter reactor would not produce more fissionable fuel than it would consume.

Breeder reactors, on the other hand, would hopefully produce more fissionable material than they use by being more efficient in the conversion and even in the breeding process while producing energy.

Book Censors Are Threat To Schools

By G. K. HODENFIELD AP Education Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Continuing pressures of censorship against books in school libraries and classrooms are undermining education, according to the National Council of Teachers of English.

A policy statement adopted by the council's board of directors Thursday, said "the greatest damage is done by book committees appointed by national or local organizations to pore over anthologies, texts or library books solely to find sentences that advocate causes or concepts or practices these organizations condemn."

"As a result, some publishers, sensitive to possible objection, are careful to exclude from textbooks selections or sentences that might conceivably offend various groups."

The council, holding its annual convention here, said "certain modern writers, praised by recognized critics and well established in the curriculum, are suddenly charged with seditious sentiments or licentious intent. In familiar classics, overt pornography is 'discovered.'"

"The attacks extend even to books about writers. Recently a collection of biographies of great philosophers was condemned for including the life of Plato, who in his own writings, it was charged, 'talked about free love and communal living and such.'"

Some groups and individuals, the council added, have criticized the works of such authors as Chaucer, Shakespeare, Steinbeck, Hemingway, Faulkner, Twain and Whitman.

The policy statement, a pamphlet published earlier this year entitled "The Students' Right to Read," will be sent to all the council's 77,000 members at elementary, secondary and higher education levels.

It notes that teachers should be guided by "good taste, common sense and professional responsibility to students and the humanistic tradition."

It also urges teachers and school officials to willingly consider the merits of any complaint but also to have "the courage to defend with intelligence and vigor a sound program in literature."

COMMUNISM IN THE CHURCH?

DAVID TARRET

"Did the early church practice a Christian-Communism philosophy?" Some believe Acts 4:34-35 favors the modern Communist doctrine of equal ownership of property. The church in Jerusalem did have a common treasury from which distribution was made among the less fortunate (Acts 4:35). However, what motivated this distribution? Equality of wealth? No! "And distribution was made unto each, according as any one had need." Not every Christian was obligated to sell his property. Ananias retained ownership of his property even after it was sold (Acts 5:4); Mary held private ownership to her home (Acts 12:12). The early church knew nothing of a common-ownership of all property, evenly distributed by compulsion among all men. Rather, it practiced individual voluntary stewardship for saints 'in need.' There was no Communism in the early church!

poprop transports began arriving to carry Indian troops and equipment within the country.

The American planes will be flown by U.S. Air Force crews—the first use of foreign military personnel in India's fight, though they are of noncombatant type.

Despite increasing dependence on foreign aid and advice to fight its war, India remained reluctant to acknowledge the extent of that dependence.

The government put out word that the U.S. planes were being leased, as if it were all a normal commercial deal.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman pointed out the use of the planes is outright aid for which the United States has no expectation of being paid.

The terms of payment, if any, for all of the aid remains to be worked out. Some aid has been given outright by the British and much of the American aid is expected to end up as gifts.

Four Canadian Royal Air Force DC3 transports also arrived for supply operations. Two more are coming. They were sold to India for about $500 each.

High ranking American and British missions began talks in New Delhi today on what India needs to continue the fight against the Chinese.

Both countries were called on not only for material aid but also for advice in planning how to drive the Chinese out.

The leader of the American team, Assistant Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman, called on Prime Minister Nehru soon after arriving Thursday.

The British secretary for commonwealth relations, John Tilney, and Gen. Sir Richard Hull, chief of the imperial general staff, were meeting Nehru today.

Informal sources in Moscow said eight Indian pilots who have been training in the Soviet Union since September to fly Soviet MIG 21 fighters would keep on with their training there until December.

CRUCIAL TEST
have agreed to deliver four of the MIGs to India in December. The pilots in training would then continue flight tests with the MIGs in India, the informants said.

Whether Moscow actually goes through with the deal is viewed as a crucial test of the relations between the Soviet Union and her Communist ally Red China.

Meanwhile 15 more Chinese left their embassy here. Most Chinese diplomats have gone home and Indian families are pulling out of China although there has been no formal severance of diplomatic relations.

The number of Indian Communist leaders arrested under the Defense of India Act rose to more than 400.

Little Interest In Stringed Music

The cultural affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce pulled the rip cord on stringed music instruction in local schools, but the parachute failed to open. More than 3,800 questionnaires were disseminated to school children in grades 4-9 and 944 were returned.

Only 116 pupils said they would be interested in studying a string instrument, compared to 823 against. It is unlikely that enough of the 116 would take the courses, if offered, to warrant a full-time teacher here.

Breakdown on type of instrument preferred was violin 67, viola 4, cello 6, bass 30, guitar 7, and banjo 1.

Two Men Killed In Plane Crash

FREDERICKSBURG (AP)—A light plane crashed in the rugged hill country of Gillespie County today killing two men.

No identification has been made.

Unravelling, it would stretch over 240 miles. Johnson gets most of the twine from farmer friends who have it left over after baling. A son of the late Magnus Johnson, former U.S. senator from Minnesota, Johnson has collected 900 nail aprons and 4,000 pencils.

Kennedy, Advisers Probe Cuban Crisis

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy and a team of advisers probed into the Cuban crisis today at a conference over coffee cups and cigars. Without explanation, he said on his arrival that Stevenson would not be present.

The others in attendance: Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Undersecretary George Ball; Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Deputy Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and McGeorge Bundy, presidential adviser on national security affairs.

Another presidential assistant, Theodore C. Sorensen, also sat in for a time. The visitors landed at Otis Air Force Base, 30 miles west of here on Cape Cod, flew to Hyannis by helicopter, then motored to the Kennedy home at nearby Hyannis Port.

There was coffee for everybody in the living and dining room. Then the meeting began around the dining room table, with extra leaves added. The session lasted about an hour and the President sat down then with McNamara, Gilpatric, Ball and his deputy, Elmer Staats.

This indicated they were working on the Defense Department budget, which takes up half the total appropriations.

Reds Propose Joint Agreement On Cuba

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasiliy V. Kuznetsov confirmed today that the Soviet Union has proposed a formal agreement to the United States to conclude the Cuban crisis.

Informed sources had said the Soviet Union had put forward a proposed joint declaration of the two powers in the course of talks to settle the matter. A reporter asked Kuznetsov what the U.S. reaction was to the joint declaration.

"There hasn't been an answer yet," Kuznetsov replied. He referred to the proposed document as a protocol rather than a joint declaration. A protocol is a negotiated agreement, usually signed, that constitutes the basis

A new cold front headed toward Texas Friday with prospects of spreading deep into the state by the weekend. However, the front is expected to stir up nothing but cooler temperatures.

GI Insurance Dividends To Be Distributed

WASHINGTON (AP)—GI insurance dividends for 1963 totaling more than $327 million will be distributed in the record time of one month—January—Veterans Administrator John S. Gleason Jr. said today.

President Kennedy announced Thursday that the holders of World War I and World War II dividend-paying policies will receive a special dividend of $80 million next year and a regular dividend of about $237 million under the speeded-up payment procedure.

Gleason said regular dividends which are distributed annually are paid on the anniversary date of the original issuance of the policy. Once before an accelerated distribution was carried out, when the regular dividends for 1961 were paid by mid-March.

The VA said the dividends are primarily a return to policyholders of part of their premium payments since the death rate among GI policyholders continues to be lower than the rate upon which the premium costs were established by law.

Blockade Ship Gets Welcome At Key West

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The destroyer Claud Jones, one of the Navy blockade ships, returned to its Key West base today. About 50 wives and children were on the dock waving a welcome.

One Jones officer said that the vessel was "one of the few ships in the blockade to see the coast of Cuba."

A Navy spokesman said it was the first home port ship to return since the blockade ended, although others had been in and out of the big base here, only 90 miles from Havana, during the four week blockade.

Other Key West-based blockade ships are expected to arrive over the weekend. About 15 submarines and eight destroyers from this base were involved in the blockade, Navy officers said.

News items were allowed on the base for the first time since the Cuban crisis ended. They were permitted to take photographs but were asked not to interview the sailors.

Elsewhere in this hub of the south Florida military buildup during the crisis, there was no indication that the installations were being dismantled.

Soldiers manning an anti-aircraft unit at the Key West Airport were busy filling sand bags near the swimming beach, and radar units were operating.

The military units installed near the golf course, at a beach luxury hotel and north along the Keys, were intact.

Restrictions on private airplane flights were still in effect in Key West, although they had been lifted elsewhere in Florida. The rules require a flight plan and two-way radio, and bar flights south of the 24th parallel—about halfway to Cuba.

Castro Agents Plead Innocent

NEW YORK (AP)—Two pro-Castroites pleaded innocent in U.S. District Court today to charges of conspiring to commit sabotage in the United States and failing to register as agents for Cuba. Bail was set at $50,000 each.

The defendants, shabbily dressed, gazed repeatedly at the prosecutor, U.S. Atty. Vincent L. Broderick.

They are Jose Garcia Orellano, 42, and Marino Antonio Esteban del Carmen Saeiro y Cabrera, 22, both of Manhattan.

Pleading by a third defendant, Roberto Santiesteban Casanova, 27, also of Manhattan, was postponed until Tuesday. Authorities have described him as the ring-leader of a Cuban sabotage ring.

This has been announced by Council President Burtis C. Jackson, Hillsboro, a member of the organization's board of directors since its founding in 1939. More than a thousand industry leaders are expected for the meeting. Committees will bear reports starting Jan. 25 on activities in the fields of production and marketing, utilization research, sales promotion, and foreign trade. Recommendations on research, promotional, and other projects for 1963 will be prepared for approval of the delegate membership.

Astronauts Report Problems Of Next Orbit Mostly Solved

HOUSTON (AP)—Astronauts Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. and Alan Shepard Jr. said today practically all Project Mercury's problems have been overcome.

Shepard, the first American spaceman, is the backup pilot for Cooper's flight.

Cooper said he is delighted to be selected. "I am very happy over the mission," Cooper said. "Each astronaut has always been eager to make each flight, but it is primarily a realistic team effort. Each astronaut has contributed to each succeeding flight."

Cooper is the sixth of the original group of seven astronauts selected for a space flight. A heart flutter eliminated Maj. Donald Slayton.

Cooper and Shepard said they probably will begin intensive training for the flight at Cape Canaveral late in January or early in February.

Cooper said there is no particular phase of the mission that he is looking forward to more than any other.

"The main thing is success in making it into a good orbit," he said. Both Cooper and Shepard agreed that no radical changes have been made in the Mercury capsule since Shepard made his 15-minute, 302-mile flight over the Atlantic from Cape Canaveral on May 5, 1961.

"There have been many changes in design within the capsule but it boils down to gradual modifications resulting from one flight to the next," Shepard said. "Most of the changes of a major nature were made between my flight and that of Gus Grissom, including enlarging the picture window."

Astronaut Virgil Grissom made a 303-mile downrange flight from Canaveral July 21, 1961.

Missionaries Returning To Assam Area

CALCUTTA, India (AP)—Defying government advice, three American missionaries have set out toward the uneasy Red Chinese cease-fire line in northeastern India to return to their hospital, the U.S. consulate reported today.

Reluctant to leave their patients at the Baptist Christian Hospital in Tezpur, the missionaries set out across the Brahmaputra River from Gauhati on a 90-mile trek, gambling that the Red Chinese cease-fire line would hold.

The Indian government has warned civilians in Tezpur to leave.

The consulate identified the missionaries as Donald Loss and Joseph Schoonmaker, both physicians, and J. Warren Johnson, the hospital administrator. No home towns were listed.

Thirty-one American evacuees, mostly missionary families, already have been brought to Calcutta by the Indian air force. A convoy of five autos carrying 19 persons is now reported en route, the consulate said, and between 35 and 50 persons are in Gauhati, awaiting transportation south.

The consulate estimates that 150 Americans were in Assam, mostly south of the river. None reaching Calcutta reported seeing any fighting, but concern was expressed for some American technicians still unaccounted for.

Brownwood Man's Slaying Is Solved

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Police announced today the solution of the killing of U. S. Army Lt. Col. Thomas E. Glover, 31, of Brownwood, Tex., whose body was found in his fire-ravaged Taipei home Oct. 3.

They said four persons admitted the slaying.

Police identified the four as Pan Kao-hsiung, 21; Hsueh Pao, 20; Chung Chao, 21, and Lo Wen-Chi, 19. All were described as burglars with crime records.

Police said Glover was killed when he returned home and surprised the four men in the act of searching the premises.

At first it was believed that

Glover burned to death, but an autopsy conducted at Okinawa revealed he had suffered multiple head injuries and was dead before the fire started. Blood on the premises was examined by U. S. Army laboratory men in Tokyo.

The blood matched that of Pan, who was wounded during the struggle with Glover, police said.

The U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group in Formosa issued a statement praising Chinese Nationalist police for solving the case.

DEAR ABBY

Fishing For Security

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of an arrangement like this? I am in my seventies and I have a lady friend who is in her fifties. She agreed to marry me if I signed over my insurance policies to her. But she will live with her married daughter and I will live with my married son. What do you think?

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow (40) and I go with a very respectable man (44). We are in love and have been for three years. His wife has been in an institution for nearly 10 years. She is incurable. He can get a divorce but he isn't sure it would be right. There are no children involved as his are married (they approve of me) and I have none. Neither of us is pushing, for we both understand the situation. What should we do?

DEAR ABBY: I am an 11-year-old girl. My mother is very good to me and I love her very much. But there's one problem. She likes to sleep late on Saturday mornings. Whenever one of my friends calls me on the phone before 9:00 a.m. my mother has a fit. She yells at me and tells me to tell my friends not to call so early. Recently my best friend called at 8:30 and woke my mother up. She really got mad and told me if that girl ever called that early again I could have nothing to do with her. I never told my friend that because I don't want rumors going around that my mother is mean. But I am afraid my friend will call early again. Then what will I do? NEEDS HELP

DEAR PATIENCE: I happen to believe that marriage is forever. He took his wife in sickness and in health. This is sickness, and what is "incurable" today may be curable tomorrow. This is a decision YOU will have to make yourselves.

CONFIDENTIAL TO Clem Skibinski, Tom Greiner and J. C. Seeshelmer: The message you wrote to me, placed in a bottle and thrown over the side of the J. J. H. BROWN into Lake Huron, reached me on October 24th. What a thrill! When did you throw it?

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

1,500 Youths To Begin 4-H Congress Activities

By WILLIAM SHAFFER
AP Special Report

CHICAGO (AP) — Every year 1,500 smart, dedicated, clean-cut 4-H'ers come to Chicago for the 4-H Congress.

Each is the best in his state in his particular specialty. The young boys and girls, members of 4-H clubs throughout the nation and Puerto Rico, start a whirlwind of activities Sunday and continue the fast pace until next Friday.

They attend four breakfasts, six general and 23 special dinner or supper sessions, one tea, one party, one church service, one concert, a dress review, a dance, a box supper, a horse show, a banquet, 32 press conferences, three tours. They hear five addresses. The 300 leaders who accompany them hear five more speeches on leadership and club procedures.

"They don't stand around and gawk at tall buildings and brush hayseed from their hair," a national 4-H service committee spokesman said. "More and more rural young Americans are as cosmopolitan as their city and suburban cousins. In fact, more than 20 per cent of the delegates are city and suburban kids."

To keep the 1,500 delegates busy the week following Thanksgiving every year takes much preparation. That's the national committee's job.

Most of the visiting club members are guests of industry. Trips to the congress for state winners are sponsored in most categories — an equipment manufacturer sponsors dairy winners; a dress pattern firm, dress making; a container company, canning; a tire company, auto care and safety, and so on.

The same firms also donate college scholarships to national winners.

The national committee has to supervise the judging of all the competition. It does so via close liaison with state committees.

The 41-year-old 4-H committee is backed by the cooperative extension service of the land-grant colleges and universities and by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Some 2.3 million American youngsters aged 10 to 21 belong to 95,000 clubs. They are guided by almost a half million volunteer adult and junior leaders.

The 50-man National 4-H Service Committee coordinates the year-round club activities. It is a non-profit corporation which subscribes private funds in behalf of the 4-H program.

The full-time staff works for committee director Norman Mintram. Funds for the $1.5 million annual budget he spends come from donations, sales of 4-H supplies and revenues from the 4-H magazine.

The big push in the downtown

Chicago offices of the committee is the post-Thanksgiving congress, running in conjunction with the international livestock exhibition.

State winners submit elaborate reports on themselves and their projects. A panel of extension agents names the national winners, the scholarship recipients.

The four H's stand for head, heart, hands and health. A fifth H stands for hard work, a cliché goes.

To win a trip to the congress or a scholarship as a national winner takes spirit, know-how and a modicum of luck. But mostly it takes effort.

Say there. You with the Christmas presents in your eyes. Combine all your shopping expenses into one budget-planned loan. No matter the amount — come see us soon. We're here to help you get what you want!

Italy Bans Sale Of Deformity Pills

LONDON (AP)—Italy has banned the sale of precludin and other drugs suspected of causing deformities in unborn babies in the wake of a British investigation into birth-deforming pills.

The current issue of the British Medical Journal reported two women who had taken precludin gave birth to deformed babies. Doctors said it could have been coincidence.

A spokesman for the British College of General Practitioners said Thursday drugs besides thalidomide are suspected of causing baby deformities.

He said drug manufacturers were notified about the college's suspicions. He declined to identify the drugs, pending additional evidence.

Preludin, mentioned in the medical journal, is a German drug introduced nine years ago as a pep pill for slimming down pregnant women.

There was pressure in Canada for a freeze on precludin.

The American Medical Association reiterated advice to expectant mothers to take only essential, prescribed drugs during the first three months of pregnancy.

An estimated 500,000 American women have taken precludin since it was introduced in the United States in 1956. Dr. Frank Lyman, assistant to the director of Geigy Pharmaceuticals, said in New York.

Lyman said there was no evidence that precludin was responsible for any birth malformations.

The drug, marketed by Geigy, is "taken orally to suppress the appetite," Lyman said.

The Italian Health Ministry imposed the ban Thursday and seized drugs containing phenylmethyl-tetrahydro-oxazine.

Preludin was the only product mentioned by name.

The British college spokesman reported: "One or two drugs that are being taken require further thought. Family doctors are now notifying us of any suspicions that drugs are connected with some previously unsuspected defects.

"This may be coincidence, but until we have more information we would rather not say what the drugs are."

The spokesman, a medical authority, was not identified by name, in line with British medical practice.

He said the college had been studying congenital deformities since 1958—long before thalidomide was found to cause deformities in babies.

The spokesman said the college in the last few weeks "collected complete information regarding 1,656 pregnancies, including details of drugs given and any illness suffered. Of these, 43 produced deformed babies—an incidence of 2.6 per cent."

Canadian Health Minister Waldo Monteith said reports about possible dangers from use of precludin were being investigated. He promised to make a report to House of Commons member James E. Walker, who suggested a temporary freeze on the drug.

Monteith declined to go along with the suggestion immediately.

Two French embryologists urged greater care in prescriptions for women in early pregnancy. Dr. Antoine Giroud and Prof. Tuchmann Duplessis recently voiced fears that drugs other than thalidomide may have been responsible for birth deformities.

The use of thalidomide is estimated to have resulted in the birth of 5,000 deformed babies in Germany, 300 in Britain and at least 10 in the United States.

Action Lashed

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The conservative newspaper Excelsior claimed in an editorial that lifting of the blockade of Cuba "appears to be a concession by the White House." It called President Kennedy's action "too complaisant" and said his move surprised the world.

Argentina Smashes Anti-Peronist Plot

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The government says it has smashed a plot by an army faction of anti-Peronists to upset President Jose Maria Guido and prevent elections next June.

The government warned that supporters of the former dictator, Juan D. Peron, also planned to prevent the elections.

Security forces arrested eight alleged plotters Thursday and said further arrests were likely. Those arrested were said to be for a comeback by Peronists under Guido's plan to hold elections June 16 and restore constitutional government.

Retired army Gen. Benjamin Mendez, 78, who led an unsuccessful plot against Peron in 1951, was named as the leader of the alleged anti-election plan.

He is reported to favor the ouster of Guido and installation of a military strongman.

Guido was installed last March after a military coup overthrew President Arturo Frondizi.

The government did not reveal how it had learned of the anti-election plot.

Interior Undersecretary Mariano Grondona said "two sectors are interested in that elections should not be held—the guerrillas (anti-Peronists) and Peron. They are both parasites of national hate among Argentines."

Peron, overthrown in 1955, is living in Madrid, Spain.

His supporters have been struggling to regain power.

The coup that installed Guido was precipitated by a Peronist resurgence in the March elections in which Peronists won 9 of 22 governorships and 47 of 192 seats in the House of Deputies.

Interior Minister Rodolfo Martinez said Thursday Peronists would be allowed to participate in the June elections if they campaign within the framework of the law.

Elections are to be held for president, vice president, both houses of Congress and provincial and municipal offices.

Those elected are to be installed Oct. 12 "if the situation so permits" at that time, Martinez said.

The alleged anti-election plotters rounded up in addition to Mendez were:

Two sons of Menendez, Col. Romulo Menendez and Lt. Col. Benjamin Menendez Jr.; Col. Desiderio Fernandez Suarez, Buenos Aires province police chief in the post-Peron revolutionary government; Col. Gustavo Eppens; retired Col. Manuel Raivunde, undersecretary of war under Frondizi; Col. Carlos Zavalla, and Jorge Meyer, a civilian.

Simmons Aides Seek Dismissal

MONTERREY, Mex. (AP)—Lawyers for a Texan sentenced to death in Mexico, Duke Askew Simmons of Fort Worth, have filed a petition to drop charges and end the case.

Their move Thursday followed a high court order for a retrial. The tribunal ruled that the major evidence heard against Simmons was not admissible.

He was convicted of murdering two sisters and a brother Oct. 12, 1959, on a Monterrey-Laredo highway.

One of the sisters, Hilda Villagomez, 21, lived in semi-consciousness for several days and identified Simmons as her assailant. It was this testimony which the court said was illegal.

Simmons and his lawyers predicted he would be freed before Christmas.

Texas Again Leading U.S. Oil Producer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirty-two of the 50 states had oil or gas production last year, a compilation by the Independent Petroleum Association of America shows.

Texas again was the leader. Estimated value of its production was $3,902,285,000. This included petroleum, natural gas liquids and natural gas, all at the well.

Tennessee was listed with the smallest output—$48,000 worth of crude oil and $11,000 worth of natural gas.

Louisiana was ranked second to Texas with crude oil, natural gas liquids and gas valued at $1,998,685,000.

Next came California with $962,145,000. Oklahoma a $723,547,000, New Mexico $459,197,000, Kansas $421,146,000 and Wyoming $392,111,000.

The value of U.S. crude oil from the first year of recorded production in 1959 through 1961 was estimated at $134,679,337,000.

The 1961 total was $120,290,609,000, the IPAA estimated.

The report said 26.6 million acres of the nation's total land area of 2.2 billion acres have yielded oil and 378.1 million non-productive acres were under lease as of Jan. 1, 1962.

In 1961, the value of petroleum was 56 per cent of the total value of all minerals, the report estimated. Average price of crude oil last year was $2.89 a barrel.

Other items from the compilation:

Stripper oil wells produced 22 per cent of the 1961 crude output.

Average daily production of crude per well at the end of 1961 was 11.7 barrels. The number of producing wells was 696,416, of which 79,359 were gas wells.

"The industry's ability to produce oil continued to increase. But the demand for crude oil continued on a plateau with practically no increase since 1956," the report states.

"Drilling activity remained about the 1960 level but was far below the record year of 1956, when more than 58,000 wells were drilled."

Petroleum and gas now account for nearly 75 per cent of the energy consumed in the United States. Coal and water power supply the remainder.

Reuther Called 'Capitalist Spy'

KYOTO, Japan (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, vice president of the AFL-CIO, was greeted with cries "go home, capitalist spy" by pro-Communist unionists in this ancient Japanese capital today.

Reuther and his party of United Auto Workers, however, also received a welcome from several hundred unionists when they arrived for their one-day tour of Kyoto.

About 70 unionists surrounded Reuther's car in front of the railroad station and shouted abuse for about 10 minutes. There was no violence and no arrests were made.

The demonstrators belonged to the pro-Communist All Japan Automobile Transportation Workers Union, Kyoto Prefectural Government Workers Union and Kyoto Teachers Union, police said.

Madams Attempt To Bribe Officials

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Organized operators of houses of ill repute are trying to bribe city officials to ease up on their anti-vice campaigns. Officials replied by making public their offers.

Fernando Roman Lugo, district attorney for the Federal District and federal territories, ordered the drive to proceed.

He turned over to the press a letter he had received from what he said were leaders of vice centers. In the letter, the operators offered to cooperate with officials if they would remove their agents.

Meanwhile, his department slapped heavy bonds of 50,000 pesos ($4,000) each on several men and women already under arrest.

Adenauer Says Don't Drop Guard Over Cuban Backdown

BERLIN (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer says it would be stupid for the West to let down its guard now just because Soviet Premier Khrushchev backed down in Cuba.

Warning that there is "no real proof of a Soviet change of mind", Adenauer in a speech Thursday night also said West German troops "will stand in the front line to defend Berlin" if the Soviet Union attempts to use force to settle the dispute over this divided city.

His words were wildly cheered by some 10,000 of Adenauer's Christian Democrats packing Deutschland Hall, a big West Berlin indoor arena.

Adenauer's remarks on the use of West German troops for the defense of the isolated city seemed to be directed primarily to the West.

There has been fear that the West Germans would leave the Western Allies completely alone to deal with an attack on Berlin.

Adenauer, who came to Berlin for a meeting of his party's national committee, appeared to be in a less rosy frame of mind than some British and American leaders when he warned the West against letting down its guard.

Some of Britain's leaders are reported feeling that pressures on Khrushchev, following the Cuban crisis, may force him into acceptable solutions of some old war issues, particularly nuclear tests.

Adenauer was optimistic enough, however, to predict a lull in the Berlin dispute for the time being.

If the Soviets moved against Berlin, he said, they could meet "the same firm and determined resistance as in Cuba." In Cuba, he said, "Khrushchev was smart enough to withdraw Soviet arms" when he faced a determined United States.

The Soviets, he said, didn't like the Red Chinese onslaught in India.

Economic troubles at home also were tying down the Kremlin, Adenauer told his audience.

The 86-year-old government leader ran into some heckling when he turned to domestic issues, especially the affair concerning the weekly news magazine Der Spiegel.

He described as completely unnecessary the government crisis that blew up over the arrest of Spiegel publisher Rudolf Augstein and several of his editors on suspicion of treason.

There were boos and whistles when Adenauer declared there was complete press freedom in Germany. Young Christian Democrats ejected at least five of the hecklers.

Adenauer followers clashed in front of the hall with demonstrators carrying banners demanding new elections in West Germany.

Redemption: Man's Response

HOW THE SALVATION WHICH GOD OFFERS US THROUGH CHRIST IS RECEIVED, AND SOME OF THE RESULTS WHICH FOLLOW

Scripture—Acts 9:10-25; 13:1-5; 16:25-34; Romans 6:1-11; 10:4-13; 1 John 1:5-10; II Corinthians 11:21-28.

By N. SPEER JONES
LAST WEEK we discussed God's gracious gift of salvation to man, His restoration of the perfect bond between Himself and man despite his sins. This week we study the other side of the coin—man's role in this wonderful redemption.

As in last week's lesson, much of our material is taken from the experiences of Paul, perhaps the Bible's most notable example of redemption—the arch-persecutor who became the most powerful Christian of the first century.

Our story picks up where last week's left off; Paul (Saul) still blinded from his vision of Christ, is fasting and praying in Damascus. God, as if to show us once more how important are those of us who seem to be obscure, chooses an unknown disciple named Ananias to cure Paul of his blindness. How often have our own eyes been opened to some truth of mind or feeling by just such a seemingly unimportant encounter with a stranger? This obscure layman was also chosen to baptize Paul.

Some interpreters of the Bible have held that Paul's sight was permanently affected by his vision; they cite his constant use of a secretary thereafter, and his reference in Galatians 6:11 to the large letters in which he writes.

When God told Ananias about his mission, He told him that Paul had been chosen to bear His name "before the Gentiles and kings" in His special province, besides the Jews. It is thought that he preached before the emperor Nero himself, as well as various Roman governors.

for he had forsaken not only his former faith, but the trust of the high priest.

Acts 13:1-3 and Romans 10:4-13 both deal with the way in which a missionary should be sent out—he must first respond to God's call. A church does well to wait until God calls His own to His tasks.

Acts 16:25-34 describes another instance of an obscure man's response to God's gift of salvation. When the jailer is made aware of God's power, he gives himself immediately and totally to God's work.

The passages from Romans and John emphasize once more the fact that salvation is made possible only by the death of Christ, that it is received by believing in Christ and by confessing our sins and seeking forgiveness thereof.

THE MOST EXPENSIVE THING IN OUR CHURCH is an empty pew. It benefits no one. Come Seeking and You Shall Receive

"OBEDIENCE TO POSITIVE LAW"
The soundness of a man's heart toward God is seen in his obedience in all things; but on the other hand to obey God in only some things shows the unsoundness of the heart. It was expressed this way by one writer: "Obedience to God is the most infallible evidence of sincere and supreme love to Him." John 9:7 is an example; when Jesus placed the clay on the man's eyes He told him in order that he might see to go wash in the pool of Siloam. The blind man did not stand there arguing back that he didn't believe in "Water Salvation." He was convinced, that sight depended on his obedience to POSITIVE DIVINE LAW. II Kings 5 gives another example: Naaman the captain of the Syrian army was afflicted with leprosy. In order that he might be cleansed therefrom, Elisha the prophet told him to go wash or dip seven times in the River Jordan. This made Naaman angry and he went away in a rage; but he was still a leper, so he reconsidered and obeyed. God cleansed this man but only when he obeyed positive divine law. Now in these "enlightened" days when men think they have outgrown obedience to Positive Law and argue against Acts 2:38, which definitely with the utmost veracity and exactitude teaches that all men must be baptized for the remission of sins. Let us obey with prudence, sobriety and good judgment.

Many Voices, Many Minds Forging New Church Contours

By BENNET M. BOLTON
VATICAN CITY (AP) — The whole Church has the floor and is having its say.

That is the basic fact of the Vatican Ecumenical Council today. Many voices and many minds, shaped under diverse backgrounds and propounding varying views, are forging the new contours of the Church.

Ordinarily for Roman Catholicism it is Rome alone—the Pope and the Vatican Curia—that spreads the final and authoritative word. As St. Augustine once put it: "Rome has spoken. The case is concluded."

While this remains the case, in a jurisdictional sense, the voice of Rome has become a vast chorus.

PRAYER POWER Brought Before Kings

By HELEN REAGAN SMITH
As a little boy in England, Robert Morrison read the scripture which said the servants of God would stand before kings. He puzzled over it.

"I'd like to do that," he thought, wondering about its meaning. "Do you suppose such a thing could ever happen to me?" He decided to ask God.

Only his prayer took a strange turn and he didn't ask God after all. Instead, he prayed that God would take him, use him in whatever capacity that God, Himself, desired! Later, he felt the call to become a missionary.

insights of many places and peoples, the urgencies of Asia and Africa, the ideas of the Orient, the ways of Americans, the experiments of European churchcraft.

Although the fundamentals of doctrine unite these men, they have come laden with creative plans and fresh approaches to renew their church.

They are pushing them—in full, forceful, unrestrained fashion.

As Bishop Thomas William Muldoon, of Sydney, Australia, put it: "If anyone thought for a moment that the bishops of the world were brought here to rubber-stamp a set of pre-determined proposals, he could not have been further from the truth."

"Each one has a chance to speak his mind . . . and I can assure you that the bishops are taking full advantage of their rights."

All this goes on in the ancient syllables of Latin, but as the weeks go by, the bishops have become more and more articulate in it—tossing off impromptu remarks with casual ease.

But the significant factor underlying it all is the coalescence of views, as the catalyst in producing conclusions.

Astronaut Is In Religious Mural

LUTON, England (AP) — The Church of St. Francis in this Bedfordshire village probably has the distinction of having the first astronaut in a religious mural.

minds about a lot of things since coming here," an American bishop said. "Some bishops that were out-and-out conservatives have seen the need for changes."

Although essential doctrine is regarded immutably true, there are many proposals in the works for fuller interpretations, clarifications, and modifications in practices.

As Archbishop Edward D. Howard, of Portland, Ore., put it: "Safeguarding the integrity of dogma does not mean that nothing can be done regarding existing difficulties in the field of doctrine. Too often the difficulties arise from the fact that the sense of dogma is not well understood or is even perverted."

Clearing up these matters, he adds, can bring closer understanding with other Christians.

This objective—opening the door toward eventual Christian reunion—remains a major, prevailing theme of this historic gathering.

This does not mean that Catholicism is going to give up its centuries of traditions, which are treasured as the legacy of Christ's guidance over the years.

But it may mean that the hard lines of opposition between Catholicism and Protestantism, set at the Council of Trent in the 16th Century may be softened.

That by-gone council "may not be reformed," Archbishop Howard said, "but it may be completed."

Signs Indicate Hours Of Mass

ROME (AP) — Highway signs along a main road south of Rome now indicate the hour of Mass at churches in small towns along the way. The sign has the outline of a church, a cross and the hour.

The Highway Department described it as an experiment, requested by the Italian Center for Preservation of the Faith.

Roman Catholicism is the state religion in Italy.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Time was when it took a month for a letter to get from one city to another, and such things as radio and television were unheard of.

Now we don't think in terms of miles — we think in terms of the time it takes to span them, and it doesn't take long to get around the world.

As for communications — well, they're instantaneous, these days.

But for all of that, we seem to find it just as hard to understand one another as we ever did.

Only one form of communication hasn't changed... God's method of communication. He speaks to you through His Church, and through a Bible that has survived the centuries. Go to church this Sunday, every Sunday, and hear His message for yourself.

Jaybirds Claw Buffs In Bi-District Tilt

By LARRY LAWRENCE

FORSAN — The Jayton Jaybirds flew to a Bi-District B eight-man football victory over the Forsan Buffaloes Thursday afternoon, 56-22, behind a scoring display that featured three successive touchdowns opening each half. The Jaybirds, District 5-B kings, practically scored at will against the Bisons, who were sim-

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Weighing the tangibles alone, San Angelo has to be the overwhelming favorite over Big Spring tonight.

The Bobcats are defending champions in District 2-AAAA—and carry the prestige that go with the role. They will be playing at home. They are a bigger ball club than the Steers. They boast more experience. They're deeper. They have a better overall record. Their line is considered the best in 2-AAAA. They've got probably the two best blocking halfbacks in the league in Bill Paschal and Sammy Ray, plus a one-time gang by the name of Gordon Walker, their 161-pound fullback. Considering the intangibles, though, you have to concede Big Spring a great chance. The Steers have the incentive—they've never won a 2-AAAA football title. They are splendidly coached. There is a rare and admirable spirit of camaraderie among the boys themselves and between the boys and their coaches. And, most important, the team has had a chance to taste victory against perennial toughies like Permian and Abilene High—and found it most delectable. It should be a terrific struggle.

Look for San Angelo to try something out of the ordinary tonight. It wouldn't be a representative San Angelo team if it didn't. Last year, the Bobcats sent a second string guard charging down field to try and unhinge the kickoff man in most of their games—and could try the same thing tonight.

The Cats have a tricky way of sending their man in motion in such a manner that it pulls the opposition offside and the maneuver could be especially troublesome against a key-up opponent. Like Big Spring is apt to be tonight.

Emory Bellard, the San Angelo coach, is a master psychologist and could have been saving a couple of tricks for this one game.

Spec Gammon, the Odessa scribe who has doubted Big Spring's ability to play 2-AAAA football in the past, says the Steers are fully capable of beating San Angelo.

Gammon also says that he's going to put Permian's Mike Love and Odessa High's Gary Howell on his all-district backfield, along with the two Abilene boys, David Jefferies and Rusty Harris.

Spec is being unrealistic. Both Love and Howell play fullback. He would be leaving out backs from San Angelo and Big Spring and those clubs are merely fighting for the championship this week.

Time was when Midland High and Odessa High packed the stadium every time they played football. When their football teams met in Odessa last weekend, only about 3,000 spectators were on hand, however.

Odessa Permian and Midland Lee did even less business in Midland. The paying customers there numbered no more than 1,250.

Obie Bristow, the one-time coach who, incidentally, has been cheered by the resurgence of football at his alma mater, the University of Oklahoma, got a laugh recently when Sports Illustrated magazine came out with the claim that Ernie Nevers was the greatest football player of all times.

Scribes of the magazine, of course, convey the impression in their works as if they are final authority when, in reality, they are far less professional in their approach than the working stiff of the press who have been walking the sports beat for years.

Bristow performed in professional football against both Nevers, the one-time Stanford All-American, and Jim Thorpe, the great Indian from Haskell Institute. Obie says there was no comparison between the two, that Thorpe was in a class by himself whereas he knew of half a dozen backs who were equal or superior to Nevers in skills.

Obie himself ran over Nevers on one occasion, bowling him over and backward about ten yards. Bristow also recalls that Thorpe had a unique way of using his hip to ward off would-be tacklers and rebalance himself at the same time. He's never seen another player quite master the trick.

Midland Bulldogs Turn Back Rebs

MIDLAND — Midland High won its third District 2-AAAA football decision of the year by turning back Midland Lee, 49-14, here Thursday afternoon.

Bob Sanford, senior halfback, gave the Bulldogs an early lead when he raced three yards to score in the opening period, then booted the extra point.

The Bulldogs made it 21-0 in the second period on a 1-yard scoring run by fullback Ross Montgomery and a 29-yard scamper by Sanford. Quarterback Bill Wood passed to Montgomery for the 2-point conversion. Sanford added

6 more in the third period on a 1-yard plunge. Scott Rogers counted from one yard out in the third period to put Lee on the scoreboard. Cubby Rice went 22 yards for a Bulldog score and ran the conversion.

John Chesney of Lee went in from 10 yards out, with Bill Childress adding the two extra points. The final scoring of the game came on a 48-yard dash by Midland's Rice and a 2-point conversion run by Cliff Hoffman.

Midland made 19 first downs to 11 for Lee and 305 yards rushing to 116 for the Rebs. Passing yardage favored Lee, 65-33.

Wills Voted MVP Award; Mays Second

NEW YORK (AP) — Maury Wills, Mercury-footed shortstop of the Los Angeles Dodgers and the first major leaguer in modern baseball to steal 100 bases in a season, was named the National League's Most Valuable Player of 1962 today.

Wills, 30, son of a Baptist minister, won in a close race with Willie Mays, the brilliant center fielder of the champion San Francisco Giants. Wills drew 209 points to 202 for Mays in the annual poll of 20-man committees of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. Results were announced in Boston through Hy Hurwitz, secretary of the BWAA.

Genung Leads Texas Surge

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas, with Johnny Genung firing the offense and Jerry Cook and Ray Poage furnishing the power, moved over Texas A&M 13-3 Thursday and Texas was in the Cotton Bowl.

It was Texas' first undefeated season in 39 years and its ninth undisputed Southwest Conference championship. It also put the Longhorns in their fifth bowl game in the six years of Darrell Royal's coaching.

Texas' opponent in the Cotton Bowl will be announced Saturday afternoon, Felix R. McKnight, chairman of the selection committee, said at Dallas.

He would not reveal who the visiting team would be but it is expected to be Louisiana State.

Louisiana State closes out against Tulane at New Orleans Saturday and the Tigers are expected to wind up with an 8-1 record. Louisiana State and Texas have similar records except that Texas didn't lose a game. Both were tied by Rice and both beat Texas Christian.

Texas had to fight back in the fourth period to beat the stubborn Aggies in one of the nation's longest rivalries—69 years and 69 games.

Mike Clark kicked a 29-yard field goal in the first period to give the Aggies a lead that stood up for three quarters. A fumble by Poage set up the field goal. It was Clark's seventh of the season—a Southwest Conference record.

TUCKER STAR IN 21-0 WIN

EL PASO (AP)—Texas Western College blanketed Trinity University 21-0 here Thursday on three touchdowns passes hurled by freshman quarterback Jerry Tucker to end Ulysses Kendall.

Tucker, from Big Spring, found Kendall with a 13-yard touchdown pass in the first period. They connected again on scoring passes in the third and fourth quarters.

Golden Cranes Vanquish Comanche Tribe, 24-7

STORY IN FIGURES
Cranes: First Downs 17, 12; Rushing Yards 177, 137; Passing Yards 153, 107; Total Yards 330, 244; Time of Possession 34:00, 28:00; Penalties 4-20, 3-15; Fumbles 1-0, 2-0.

COLORADO CITY — The Golden Cranes of Crane made hash of any Thanksgiving hopes held by the Comanche Indians Thursday, scooping up three interceptions and a fumble for three TDs and a field goal to win, 24-7.

The victory, which gave the Cranes the bi-district championship of 7AA and 8AA, did not entirely reflect the fine effort by the Comanche squad, which in fact, outgained the Cranes in total offense, 265 to 211 yards. The Cranes, however, played almost errorless ball and in the person of fullback Kirk Looney, probably had the game's outstanding player.

The Cranes scored late in the first quarter on halfback David Williams' boot from the 17-yard line after Crane had failed to gain following recovery of an Indian fumble on the Comanche 19.

At the close of the first quarter, Crane QB Calvin Kirkham intercepted a Comanche pass on the Comanche 45 and returned it to the Comanche 24 and on the first play of the second quarter Williams took the ball to score. Williams broke over tackle and counted with the aid of a fine bit of broken field running. Looney kicked the extra point.

With ten minutes left in the quarter, Crane scored again—this time following a Crane pass interception on the Comanche 11. A two-yard loss set the ball back of the 13, and Looney rammed thru the middle to score and Williams converted.

Steers Gun For Title In San Angelo Game

will be on San Angelo tonight when the championship goes up for grabs.

For a change, Big Spring has a chance to enter the throne room. The Steers must defeat San Angelo tonight to claim their first 2-AAAA flag in history. San Angelo can claim first place and a spot in the playoffs with a victory or a tie.

Abilene is out of the running for the consolation but can clinch second place tonight should San Angelo topple Big Spring or could tie for second if the Steers win—taking for granted the Eagles hook Abilene Cooper, as expected.

San Angelo will be favored by as much as two touchdowns over the Steers tonight. The Steers are conceded a chance only if they get fired up as they were against Odessa Permian and again against Abilene.

Big Spring carries a 5-3-1 record onto the field tonight. San Angelo has done only slightly better, having won six while losing three.

Emory Bellard's Bobcats will carry a decided weight advantage onto the field and has a reputation for playing ball control and using brute power to make the opposition knuckle under.

The Tabbies stick mainly to the ground but can throw the home run pass. The Steers are primarily a passing team and, in Albert Fierro, no doubt, have the best long aerialist in the league, if not the state.

Gordon Walker, San Angelo's junior fullback, a Negro youth, is one of the most dangerous runners in the league.

Junior Ronnie Henson and senior Richard Wallace will divide time at the controls for the Cats. Both are good. Henson is perhaps better on the sprint outs.

The Steers' defense has been little short of sensational. The Longhorns have up two early touchdowns to highly rated Permian and then came roaring back to win by two touchdowns.

Last week, the Longhorns blanked Abilene High for the first time since Wally Bullington took over as coach.

If the Steers lose tonight, they'll drop to third place—still not bad for a team that was destined to finish anywhere from fifth to last in the eight-team circuit.

This could be the last game for 13 of the Big Spring boys. Seniors on the team include Rick Wisener, quarterback; Donnie Phillips, halfback; Ricky Peters, fullback; Danny Coats, halfback; Dickie Spier, fullback; Humberto Hernandez, wingback; Eric Nichols, wingback; Buster Barnes, guard; Robert Wilson, center; Mike Houston, guard; Walter Minter, tackle; Jack Roden, end; and Eddy Nelson, end.

San Angelo, like Big Spring, is primarily a junior outfit and should be double tough again next year.

The crowd quite probably will exceed 12,000 and may approach 15,000. More than 3,000 will storm the gates from here. The San Angelo stadium seats 12,001.

Probable BIG SPRING lineups:

QB—Eddy Nelson 172 and DeeRoby Garman 152.
RB—Walter Minter 168 and Dick Irons 208.
FB—Buster Barnes 165 and Tim Smith 172.
QB—Robert Wilson 165.
QB—Albert Fierro 168.
RB—Buster Moore 158.
WB—Eric Nichols 176, Charley West 148 or Humberto Hernandez 154.
FB—Dickie Spier 161.
SAN ANGELO lineups:
QB—Ken Ayler 158 and Bob Paschal 175.
RB—Bill Gould 183 and A. E. Drown 208.
QB—Edward Martindale 216 and John Bonner 176.
C—Jim Grisman 197.
RB—Richard Wallace 140.
RB—Bammie Ray 180 and Bill Paschal 181.
FB—Gordon Walker 161.

Louisiana State Likely To Get Cotton Bowl Bid

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Two major bowl berths have been secured, two others lack only official ratification and at least another should be nailed down by tonight Saturday in college football.

Texas' 13-3 triumph over foe Texas A&M in the top college game on the Thanksgiving Day program put the Longhorns in the Cotton Bowl and indirectly put Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl. Only minutes after Texas closed its season against the Aggies, Arkansas accepted a bid to play in New Orleans on New Year's Day.

Those two are secure. Wisconsin, which goes against Minnesota for the Big Ten title Saturday, needs only official conference sanction for a trip to the Rose Bowl. The same is true for Southern California, headed for the host spot in the Rose festival.

Louisiana State can all but secure a berth in the Cotton Bowl in its season finale Saturday. A victory over Nebraska would all but clinch a spot for Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl.

The probable line-up for the major year-end bowls now looks like this:
Rose Bowl—Southern California vs. Wisconsin.
Cotton Bowl—Texas vs. Louisiana State.
Sugar Bowl—Mississippi vs. Arkansas.
Orange Bowl—Oklahoma vs. Alabama.
Gator Bowl—Penn State vs. Miami (Fla.).

Miami (6-2) could take a long step toward the Gator Bowl berth tonight against rugged Northwestern, once ranked the nation's best but loser of its last two.

Texas, ranked fourth nationally, trailed for three periods before nailing down the Southwest Conference title in its victory over Texas A&M. The Longhorns closed the regular season with a 9-0 record, their first undefeated season in 29 years.

Arkansas (8-1) had an outside chance at the title and the spot in the Cotton Bowl until Texas won it, but immediately announced its acceptance of the Sugar Bowl bid. The Razorbacks, ranked seventh nationally, close their regular season against Texas Tech Saturday.

Their likely Sugar Bowl opponent, unbeaten Mississippi, is idle until Dec. 1, as is Alabama, almost certain to get a bid for the Orange Bowl. Mississippi closes against Mississippi State, Alabama

Probe Asked On Terrorism

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The president of the Chamber of Deputies says a sweeping investigation should be made into a string of terrorist outbreaks despite government assurances that they pose no organized threat to federal power.

Manuel Moreno said Thursday it was vital to determine whether there was any connection between scattered plots which broke into the open the last few days.

The unrest has been attributed to rightwingers, peasants, and frustrated politicians.

Calm appeared to have been restored in the two prime areas of unrest — Matamoros across from Brownsville, Tex., and in Huajuapán de Leon, 150 miles southeast of Mexico City on the Pan American Highway.

Agents of the attorney general's office are questioning suspected plotters at both places, as well as persons taken into custody in connection with a bomb attack on the Soviet embassy here.

The plot at Matamoros was to blow up bridges, highways and public buildings there and in other northeast Mexico towns. At Huajuapán de Leon, a band of about 300 attacked a small army outpost, killed two soldiers and a civilian and carried off weapons and ammunition.

As workers carry his son's body down a fire truck ladder after efforts to revive him failed, George F. Tadin collapses in grief atop the electrical sign on which he and his son, George Jr., had been working in Mt. Prospect, Ill. The younger Tadin was electrocuted when he touched a high-tension wire. Carrying the victim is Robert Blasky, a public service company employee, who tried to revive Tadin with mouth-to-mouth respiration.

Lucy's New Duties Aren't Too Heavy

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Radio - TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Lucille Ball of Desilu—described recently by an admirer as the "corporation president with the prettiest legs"—is winding up a short business trip to Manhattan and to date has not found her new added responsibilities particularly heavy.

A few weeks ago Lucy bought out her former husband's interest in their mutual television production company (for a reported $3 million) and assumed his post as head of the big studios.

This puts her in the rather curious position of being, as star of "The Lucy Show," her own employer. And being an employee, she feels, is her number one job still.

"Fortunately we've got a good group working for us—the same ones who have been with us from the start," Lucy said reflectively.

"There's the production head, the creative head, the financial head and the tax people. I'll be depending on them as we always have."

Lucy does expect to miss Desi Arnaz, most of all as executive producer of her new series, which in a few weeks catapulted to the top of the popularity lists.

"I'm sorry to lose him, particularly his advice on playing comedy scenes and in the cutting. He's always had the last word there, and it's an area he knows so well and it is always so right."

Lucy and her new husband, comedian Gary Morton, are staying in a hotel while Lucy holds conferences with her sponsors, submits to an endless series of newspaper and magazine interviews and tries to sublet a big Manhattan apartment she leased before her marriage.

Of the success of the new show, Lucy says, "I'm amazed, and so is Viv (Vivian Vance, her co-star). We were worried about not having the two men around, but we both feel that, somehow, the distribution of plot and the jokes give an easier feel to the show—"

much easier than it was with 'I Love Lucy.'"

But they both were scared, she added, when they saw the glowing reviews of the new show.

"Nobody, ever before, had given us good reviews. Nobody had ever said a good word for the writers. But this time they did—and it sure made us nervous. But, anyway it worked out all right."

Lucy plans to plunge back into production of her show. She works on the schedule of intensive rehearsal leading up to shooting the episode during a live audience on Thursday nights. This, in the past, has given her a chance to have long, restful weekends with her family.

She hopes her new job as Desilu president won't eat into this precious time—"although maybe it will cut into one of those days."

In any event, she will not be doing any more guest appearances or specials at least for the rest of this season.

"I've done three and that's it," she said. "They are fun, but when you're working in one series, taking on a special doubles your work and that's bad. Besides, the network doesn't want me to do any more now."

At the moment Lucy doesn't know how long she wants to keep on with the new show—she'll make up her mind during the next few months.

Legal Institute Set In C-City

COLORADO CITY—Salt water problems in oil and gas operations will be among topics discussed here Dec. 1, at a legal institute for area lawyers.

The one-day study, under joint sponsorship of the State Bar of Texas and the Mitchell County Bar Association, will open at Civic House at 9:30 a.m., with J. Dell Barber, Colorado City, local bar president, presiding. Bar secretary Don Butler will preside over the afternoon session.

San Antonio attorney Elwood Cluck will open the institute with a lecture on "Joint and Mutual Wills." E. Wayne Thode of Austin, professor at the University of Texas School of Law, will discuss "Recent Amendments to the Rules of Civil Procedure."

Following a luncheon at Civic House, the lawyers will hear a lecture by Dallas attorney Albert E. Aikman on "The Lawyer's Place in the Income Tax Field." Aikman also will discuss the newly enacted Smathers-Keogh Bill, which concerns retirement programs for self-employed professional persons.

Attorney Ralph B. Shanks, Dallas, will conclude the meeting with a lecture on "Salt Water Problems in Oil and Gas Operations."

The program, to attract lawyers from 36 West Texas counties, is part of the continuing legal education program of the Bar.

Mild Weather Sticks Around

By The Associated Press

Mild weather is sticking around for the holiday weekend in Texas. Except for partly cloudy skies in South Texas it was clear throughout the state Friday and forecasts called for little change.

The Weather Bureau predicted slightly lower temperatures for most sections Friday night or Saturday but no severe drops.

Thanks to a warm 80 degree range up to a warm 80 degrees at Brownsville and Laredo, Dalhart was the coolest spot with a high of 56.

Temperatures early Friday varied from 41 at El Paso to 70 at Brownsville.

Vocational Nursing Class Is Scheduled

Applications are now being received for the new class in Howard County Junior College's school of vocational nursing.

The class will begin Nov. 28, said Dr. Melvin Crawford, adult education director at HCJC. Mrs. Johnnie Amos is to be the instructor, and applications may be made at the college or with her by calling AM 3-1106. The tentative enrollment goal is 15 students.

Instructions emphasize the academics in the earlier stages. Gradually, students are given on-the-job training in hospitals until in the final stages most of the experience is actually in vocational nursing activity.

Another adult education course is coming up soon, this one on a short-term basis, said Dr. Crawford. Gift wrapping will be offered the first week in December.

If there is a demand, a Driver Education course will be offered during December. If those enroll desire it, driving instruction can be conducted during the holiday season.

Bricklayers have been in contact with college officials for organization of a course of training for apprentices. There also has been some inquiry about auto mechanics as a field of training under the job re-education program, he said.

Council Grows

The 40th annual meeting and banquet of the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, has been set for Jan. 24 in Odessa, it was announced today by Dr. Dwight Kirk, chairman of the Arrangements and Program Committee.

Dr. Kirk, superintendent of Odessa Schools, said the meeting and banquet will be combined, a departure from previous years, but that the change will provide Scouts from distant places in the 18 county area more time and convenience.

Taxing Supported

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas AFL-CIO went on record Wednesday as upholding junior college districts' taxing authority. The labor organization advised the state Supreme Court of its opinion in a "friend of the court" brief.
