U. S., Russia Agree On U Thant Position

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union and the United States were reported today to have agreed on U Thant's position as secretary-general of the United Nations. The agreement was reached after a meeting of the Security Council on Wednesday. Thant's position is to serve for a five-year term, with the possibility of re-election. The agreement was reached after a meeting of the Security Council on Wednesday. Thant's position is to serve for a five-year term, with the possibility of re-election.

Burmese diplomat wants to uphold the statutory title of secretary-general and the statutory principle of a five-year term but does not want to serve another five years in the office. The informants said Soviet-U.S. agreement to Thant's election was reached Wednesday at a meeting of American and Soviet negotiators on the Cuban crisis. They said the Soviets had held up their consent previously in the hope of first getting an agreement to settle that crisis.

The meeting was held at Soviet headquarters. Attending were Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan and First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov; Chief U.N. Delegates Valerian A. Zorin of the Soviet Union and Adlai E. Stevenson of the United States, and Chairman John J. McCloy of President Kennedy's Coordinating Committee on Cuba. A move is under way to raise Thant's pay, which now totals $55,000 a year. This includes his $20,000 salary, $20,000 for entertainment, $10,000 for house rent and $5,000 for house upkeep. The advisory committee on administrative and budgetary affairs was to consider the matter today and the assembly's budgetary committee will take it up tomorrow. The budgetary committee by an 84-10 vote Wednesday endorsed employment policies Thant said he would follow to provide ultimately an equitable geographical distribution of jobs in the secretariat and at least five for each of the member nations. The committee vote buried the Soviet Union's latest version of the troika plan—to head each department of the secretariat with three persons—one each from the Communist, Western and neutralist countries. The Soviets earlier had backed off from their original proposal to replace the secretary-general by a three-man troika board. Had they pressed it, they would have had to veto Thant in the Security Council.

Kennedy Kin Judged In Traffic Case

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Patricia Kennedy Lawford, the President's sister and wife of Peter Lawford, is going to have quite a change of pace during the next month. She'll visit the wrecking yard where autos smashed in traffic accidents are interred. And she'll visit children at the Kennedy Child Guidance Center in St. John's Hospital, to make a survey. The first activity sounds like a strange choice for a Kennedy and an actor's spouse. It isn't a choice. It's a court sentence, imposed Wednesday when she pleaded guilty to driving with an expired operator's license. The clinic survey also is part of the sentence. She'll write a report on the number of children who are patients being treated for accident injuries. There's a personal touch to the hospital chore. The center is named for her brother, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., killed in the war. Her junkyard report is expected in two weeks, the hospital survey in 30 days. The court decree was made by Municipal Judge W. Blair Gibbons, widely known for his unusual penalties in traffic cases. He once had a coffin brought into his court and stood tapping it as he lectured 30 motorists.

India, China Curry Favor Of Neutrals

Pickets of the International Association of Machinists parade in front of a main automobile plant at Lockheed Aircraft Corporation's Burbank, Calif., plant after the union struck the plant in a contract dispute. Picketing was orderly and cars of non-striking workers were permitted to enter. The union said about 20,000 union members are taking part at various Lockheed plants.

Hindus Send More Troops To Frontier

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru received a letter from Premier Chou En-lai of Red China today as both sides maneuvered on the diplomatic front for support in the Himalayan border conflict. India continued to send in troops to the battlefronts, quiet since a Chinese-imposed cease-fire eight days ago. A Foreign Ministry spokesman declined to disclose what Chou had to say in his letter to Nehru. But the spokesman told newsmen that previously received Chinese cease-fire proposals have become more confusing. The spokesman was referring to clarification for which India had asked last week. He said India still is considering the proclamation that halted the fighting but was unable to clear up points under which the Red Chinese proposed to withdraw from Himalayan positions as a forerunner to peace talks.

BOTH PULL BACK

The Chinese proposed both sides pull back 12½ miles from what they called the actual line of control in November 1959. This is the line they presently hold in Ladakh, in northwest India, and would give the Chinese control of a considerable amount of territory India claims. The Chinese suggested that civil police keep guard in the area from which the Communist forces withdrew. The Indian spokesman said the confusion in the Chinese proposal centers around the areas where the civil police would be stationed. He said India feels the police would be on Indian-claimed territory. India prepared to send more diplomatic teams abroad in a battle with Red China for the moral support of nonaligned nations. An Indian spokesman announced that in addition to two special diplomatic missions now in Africa and Asia, India will send teams to other parts of the nonaligned world as needed.

PURPOSE

Their purpose will be to convince neutrals that India is right and cannot accept the Chinese terms for a settlement of their undeclared border war. The Communist Chinese at the same time were rushing their own diplomats and diplomatic messages to Rangoon, Cairo, Jakarta and Colombo to counter the Indian campaign.

In the military field all eyes will be on the Himalayas Saturday. The Chinese have promised to begin withdrawing their troops that day from substantial parts of the areas they have seized.

Some Western military observers find it hard to believe the Chinese actually will pull back.

Parks System On The Way Back

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' state parks system has begun the long way back under "modest momentum." Parks Board Planning Director Johnny Buck told a Texas Tech alumni group here. Buck said $630,000 authorized by the last legislature for capital improvements will be used to improve four state parks, including the top three in patronage. Buck said that although park needs are enormous, "this is a definite start toward getting the parks ready for the incredible demand for outdoor recreational facilities." He said that the most advanced project is at Garner State Park near Uvalde, where $139,000 has been appropriated for work.

Skybolt Missile Fails Fifth Time

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The fifth straight failure of the Skybolt air-launch ballistic missile puts the weapon's future in doubt as the Defense Department prepares its fiscal 1964 budget. With the Skybolt encountering numerous development problems and with project costs mounting, defense planners may feel inclined to cut back the program in favor of pouring more money into the near-operational Minuteman intercontinental missile. Skybolt sources acknowledged the program was in serious trouble after one of the missiles failed to gain altitude and plunged into the Atlantic after being launched Wednesday from a B52 bomber 40,000 feet high.

Algeria Outlaws Communist Party

ALGIERS (AP)—The Algerian government has banned the Communist party. Information Minister Mohamed Hadj Hamou told newsmen Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's government decided on the ban several days ago. He gave no further details.

Wednesday night the Arab language Communist party paper Al Hourya was banned. The information minister said it had not been decided what, if any, action would be taken against the leaders of the party. Head of the Algerian Communist party is Henri Alleg, a European. Ben Bella has been studying with his Cabinet for several days the question of the Communist party and internal problems. The Communist party's membership has never been published, but some unofficial estimates put the figure at about 50,000 in a country of 10 million population. During the seven-year nationalist revolution the Communists at first did not support the rebellion, then reversed their stand, but never took an important role in the fight.

The Algerian rebel organization had close ties, however, with the Soviet Union, Communist China and other Communist countries. The market has advanced practically straight upward since resolution of the Cuban crisis and appears headed for its best month in some time. Economic news continued good. More companies declared extra and higher dividends. A nationwide survey forecast a contra-seasonal upturn for appliance sales at the end of the year. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 1 at noon at 240.3 with industrials down 3, rails up 3 and utilities ahead 2. At noon the Dow Jones industrial average was off 1.17 at 650.68. Rails were among the better performers with many gaining fractions of a point.

Stock Market Hits Snag As Prices Waver

NEW YORK (AP)—The five-week rise of the stock market stumbled into a roadblock today as prices wavered in a mixed pattern. The trading pace remained active and in the first two hours was close to Wednesday, which turned out to be the busiest day in five weeks. However, a great majority of price changes were limited to under a point this afternoon. The market opened uncertain and then had an irregular tone. CHEER FUND NEAR $100

THE CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND neared its first $100, with two more gifts today. Thanks to Mrs. Tom Currie, $5, and Mrs. Fred Lutting, $10. This makes a total of $95.

Money contributed to the CHEER FUND buys parts and accessories for toys that firemen rebuild for the needy youngsters at Christmas; it gets a bit of holiday goodies, too. And any surplus is made available to the public health nurse to meet emergencies through the year, in homes where destitute youngsters are hungry or ill. It's a program that has been going on for about 30 years.

If you want to help this year, send your gift — any amount, however small, is welcomed — to The Herald for acknowledgement. Make checks to CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND.

South Texas Vote Probe Due Friday

AUSTIN (AP)—State investigators have asked 70 persons to appear at a South Texas vote probe hearing Friday in McAllen. Asst. Atty. Gen. Sam Wilson said Wednesday that Texas Rangers had begun serving about 70 subpoenas. Inspection of Starr County ballot boxes last week showed 50 to 100 applications for absentee ballots were notarized by persons "who don't exist," investigators said. Ballots from Zapata and Duval counties still are in a Corpus Christi bank where Rangers look them after the Nov. 6 election. Ballots in the three Rio Grande Valley counties were ordered impounded several months before the election at the request of Atty. Gen. Will Wilson. John Allen, Austin lawyer named by Dist. Judge Charles Betts of Austin to act for him in the probes, will preside at the hearing. Investigators said last week that the length of the hearing will depend "on how things start breaking—we know what we're looking for and we might have to do some work outside Starr County."

Shortly before the election, Starr County Atty. Frank Nye Jr. won a court order stopping Wilson from taking testimony in the case. From several Starr County residents. Dist. Judge Woodrow Laughlin of Rio Grande City refused Nov. 10, however, to extend the court order against Wilson. Nye contended he had exclusive jurisdiction in the probe because he began first. James Gardner, Herrington's civilian lawyer, claims the colonel knew so many defense secrets he became temporarily insane Aug. 9 when Herrington, 45, was shot and killed at his home. An afternoon session also was to be closed with Herrington still on the stand. The dark-haired combat veteran was a special weapons officer at the time of the shooting, a job that meant he was in charge of supporting the Air Force's nuclear arsenal.

Colonel Faces 2 Courts, Fails To Show For One

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Col. John Herrington got a respite from his military court martial today to appear in a civilian court but he failed to show up.

Herrington was to appear in district court for arraignment on a charge of slaying his wife and trying to kill a son. A member of the district attorney's office said he had agreed Wednesday to ask for a postponement of Herrington's arraignment for a week. But he said, no one thought to tell Herrington's court martial lawyers about it.

Herrington spent about four hours on the stand in a top-secret session of the court martial Wednesday. His defense has claimed from the start that Herrington should first be tried in a state court because charges were filed there first. The Air Force gave no reason for his failure to appear in court today. Dist. Judge John Onion said he was under the impression the court martial recessed only to allow Herrington to answer the docket call. The judge said that if Herrington doesn't show up for the docket call after the court martial, he will forfeit his $20,000 bond. The state has said it plans to prosecute Herrington no matter what happens in the military trial. Herrington testified while the court-martial was off limits to everyone who is not cleared for top secret material. James Gardner, Herrington's civilian lawyer, claims the colonel knew so many defense secrets he became temporarily insane Aug. 9 when Herrington, 45, was shot and killed at his home. An afternoon session also was to be closed with Herrington still on the stand. The dark-haired combat veteran was a special weapons officer at the time of the shooting, a job that meant he was in charge of supporting the Air Force's nuclear arsenal.

Gloomy Weather In West Texas

By The Associated Press
Gloomy weather took over in most of West Texas again Thursday after a single day of sunshine. Misty rain fell at Amarillo and Lubbock. Patches of fog hugged the ground at Dalhart and Childress. It was cloudy elsewhere in Northwest Texas. Skies were clear to partly cloudy in other sections of the state. A brisk morning temperatures were in the 40s and 50s—a bit lower than the day before but still mild for this time of year. Although a weak Pacific cold front was edging toward the Texas Panhandle, the Weather Bureau predicted no big temperature changes and no rain overnight or Friday. High temperatures Wednesday afternoon ranged from 58 degrees at Amarillo and Minal Wells up to 75 at Laredo and Presidio and 76 at Brownsville. Readings early Thursday varied from 40 at El Paso to 57 at Laredo.

No Rain Expected Through Friday

West Texans probably won't need raincoats for another 24 hours, according to the weather forecast for the Big Spring area. However, more fog and light drizzle are on the menu for Friday morning. A rather weak front is creeping down from the northwest and may or may not reach this area, but clouds will begin forming later today and be around Friday. Little change in temperatures is forecast through Friday.

Kennedy Invokes Labor Law In Aircraft Strike

BULLETIN WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced today that the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists has agreed to end its two-day strike at Lockheed Aircraft Corp. immediately.

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—President Kennedy's swift recourse to the Taft-Hartley Act raises the probability that the strike against Lockheed Aircraft Corp. will be halted soon — perhaps within a week. In the meantime, says the union, work on the vital missile and plane projects has been halted. But the firm says work is continuing.

Only hours after the International Association of Machinists struck the giant aerospace firm Wednesday, the President invoked the labor act, saying the strike would "imperil the national health and safety" if permitted to continue. Kennedy appointed a three-man board to look into the dispute and report to him no later than Monday.

Texan May Escape Death

MONTERREY, Mex. (AP)—Freedom may just be hours away for a Texan under a death sentence in Mexico. A new decision is expected momentarily in the case of Dykes Askew Simmons of Fort Worth. The legal action was ordered by the 2nd District Penal Court and was directed at Judge Alvaro Reyes. The penal court noted a recent ruling voided testimony of a dying girl. This had the effect of virtually wiping out the murder case against Simmons. He was convicted of shooting Marta Perez Villagomez, 21; her sister Hilda, 18, and their brother Juan Manuel, 14, on the Laredo-Monterrey highway Oct. 12, 1959. Simmons, arrested a few days later, was convicted on an identification by Hilda, who then died. After several appeals failed, the Saltillo Collegiate Tribunal recently ruled that the evidence given by Hilda was illegal. A retrial was ordered, but without this major testimony there was little for the prosecution to go on. He said one type—the MIG 21—was faster than his RF101 Voodoo reconnaissance plane, rated at more than 1,000 miles an hour. The Soviet planes, he said, "never fired on us, they just heightened it."

Cotton Field Hearings Dropped

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Harold Cooley, D-N.C., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, says there will be no field hearings on cotton by a subcommittee before Congress convenes in January. Cooley said that in the absence of specific legislative proposals from the cotton industry or the Agriculture Department field hearings at this time would have little to focus upon. Cotton stocks have been building up in government warehouses under the price support program as disposal of cotton in this country has been dropping. Cotton allotments for 1963 have been reduced.

Pilots Over Cuba Weren't Fired On

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two U.S. pilots who flew surveillance missions over Cuba say they saw Red fighter planes, but only one of them indicated he was in reach of attack. Neither was fired on. Lt. Col. Clyde B. East, commanding officer of the 29th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron, said at Tampa, Fla., that he had spotted three types of Soviet MIG jet fighters while over Cuba. He said one type—the MIG 21—was faster than his RF101 Voodoo reconnaissance plane, rated at more than 1,000 miles an hour. The Soviet planes, he said, "never fired on us, they just heightened it."

'GESTAPO TACTICS' CHARGED

Ex-Con Charged; Airman Still Faces Murder Trial

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—An ex-convict has been charged with the murder of a mother and her young son—the same crime which the Air Force says it will charge against an airman cleared by civil authorities. Elmore County officers accepted the confession of Theodore Thomas Dickie, 21, that he killed and raped Nancy Joy Johnson, 22, and killed her 2½-year-old son, Danny, at Mountain Home, Idaho, last April. Dickie was charged with first-degree murder. Airman Gerald M. Anderson of San Diego, Calif., had been charged with the slayings. He was released from county jail Monday after seven months confinement while awaiting trial. The charge against him was dismissed. Less than five hours after his release, Anderson was arrested by the Air Force and placed in the Mountain Home Air Force Base stockade. Military investigators said they will charge Anderson with the double murder on the basis of a confession he made to Air Force officers last April. U.S. Dist. Judge Chase A. Clark said Wednesday there is some feeling that the Air Force has used "regular Gestapo tactics" in handling the case. He commented on a postponing until Dec. 5 a hearing on a petition by Anderson's attorney to free him on a writ of habeas corpus. The attorney, Robert McLaughlin, said the Federal Bureau of Investigation will look into the case to determine if Anderson's civil rights have been violated. Anderson was arrested last April, questioned by the Air Force, then turned over to civilian authorities for prosecution. He was ordered freed Monday by Judge Merlin S. Young after another man told authorities he killed Mrs. Johnson and her son, Anderson, protesting innocence, said he signed the confession under duress. Robert McLaughlin, one of Anderson's attorneys, asked Judge Clark to order the Air Force to free Anderson and place him in custody of the U.S. marshal. The judge said he believed it would be proper procedure "unless there is some ulterior motive on the part of the Air Force." Clark said normally the military turns such cases over to a state or federal court for prosecution. "They may have their own personal reasons," the judge said. "They may think they have a better chance to convict by court-martial than they would in state courts or federal courts." "Another thing that worries me about this man being in jail is that it causes concern to a great many people," he added.

Pilots Fined For Inattention To Their Duty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four airline pilots accused of inattention to duty on the evidence of flight engineers' snapshots have paid fines of $300 each and been identified by the Federal Aviation Agency.

The FAA records listed the four, all Eastern Air Lines captains, as J. V. Webster, New York; E. L. Foss, Port Washington, N.Y.; W. C. Ludington, East Quogue, N.Y.; and J. C. Mitchell, Cross River, N.Y.

Administrator N. E. Halaby announced Nov. 9 that the FAA had fined 13 Eastern pilots for inattention to duty.

Halaby said the pilots—nine captains and four copilots—were identified in photographs taken secretly by D. K. Carson of Hicksville, N.Y., an Eastern engineer.

The other pilots are not known to have paid their fines yet and officials said it was likely some had asked for more time.

Carson's photographs, which he said he took on 18 flights between May 1959 and June 1961, show pilots napping in the cockpit, reading magazines or permitting stewardesses to operate the controls.

The secret picture-taking grew out of a flight engineers' dispute with the pilots association over which union's members would hold down the third job in jet cockpits.

JFK Honors Atom Pioneers

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an after-dinner ceremony Tuesday in the White House rose garden President Kennedy greeted 37 men who helped in the birth of the atomic age 20 years ago.

Kennedy told the scientists and their families that it is the responsibility of world leaders that nuclear energy is used for benefit of all.

The 37 made up most of the scientific team that under the late Enrico Fermi triggered the first man-made nuclear chain reaction Dec. 2, 1942, at Stagg Field Stadium at the University of Chicago.

Glenn T. Seaborg, Atomic Energy Commission chairman, showed the President a model of the Fermi reactor which will be exhibited at the new Smithsonian Institution building here. Imbedded in the model is a one-inch tube of uranium from the original reactor fuel.

In the light of the garden lamps, Kennedy praised the "intimate alliance between government and science" forged in 1942 which he said has contributed to the progress of mankind.

Jackie To Star In Movie Houses

WASHINGTON (AP)—First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy, who won an award for her television tour of the White House, will soon be starring in U.S. movie houses in a film of her visit last March to India and Pakistan.

The Motion Picture Association of America said Tuesday any profits will be used to make additional foreign language versions and prints for the government to meet requests for the film from overseas.

The U.S. Information Agency has shown it in 106 countries and in 29 languages to audiences it estimated in the hundreds of millions.

Eric Johnston, the association president, said:

"I've seen firsthand the kind of job these films are doing for America abroad. They're generating tremendous good will. It's heartwarming to see how foreign audiences are responding to the personality of the First Lady. Clearly they merit the widest possible showing here at home."

Johnston said United Artists was chosen in a drawing to assume all distribution costs.

Youths Face Theft Charges

Charges of theft have been filed by Wayne Burns, county attorney, against two 17-year-old Big Spring youths, and one of the two has pleaded guilty to the charge.

The boys, in company with a 16-year-old companion who has been turned over to the juvenile authorities, were arrested in possession of six expensive hubcaps identified as stolen. They also had a 5-gallon gasoline can and a hose for siphoning fuel from cars in their possession.

James Thomas Averitt pleaded guilty to the charge and Judge Ed Carpenter fined him $25 and costs Wednesday afternoon.

William Paul Darrow, his companion, has posted $250 bond and has been released from custody.

The hubcaps came from a car identified as the property of Raymond Hamby.

Hunters Do Get Shot, Sometimes

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Hunters in Florida's woods have been asked to keep an eye out for moonshine stills as they look for game. State beverage director Tom Lee said hunters' tips helped the department destroy 671 stills last year.

James Thomas Averitt pleaded guilty to the charge and Judge Ed Carpenter fined him $25 and costs Wednesday afternoon.

William Paul Darrow, his companion, has posted $250 bond and has been released from custody.

The hubcaps came from a car identified as the property of Raymond Hamby.

Individualist

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The bull moose lowered his head, pawed the ground, charged and clobbered his opponent right between the No. 1 and No. 2 engines.

The roaring Boeing 720 jet, taxiing for a takeoff Tuesday, wasn't staggered very much by the blow, but airport officials were.

"It gets expensive," Tony Schwamm, Anchorage International Airport manager, said. The plane was delayed about 30 minutes for a checkup.

The moose, apparently unhurt and unimpressed, walked away.

Wheat Acreage Reduction Will Be Less Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reports 100,532 wheat-producing farms had been signed by Nov. 15 to divert 939,138 wheat acres to conservation uses under the voluntary 1963 wheat program.

A department spokesman said it is not expected there will be anywhere near the 12.6 million acre reduction in plantings which was in effect for the 1962 wheat crop.

One of the primary reasons for this, he said, is that the 1962 program was a mandatory one, but Congress enacted the voluntary program for 1963 so late this year that much of the winter wheat planting had been finished.

Under the 1962 program, wheat farmers were required to cut back wheat planting by at least 10 percent. They also could reduce acreage by an additional percentage if they desired to.

While Congress was debating what to do about 1963, the winter wheat farmers went right ahead and planted their allotments under the national total of 55 million acres.

Those who have planted the crop can plow up part of it to comply with the voluntary program or just let it grow.

Beaten Path Was Too Much

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—To plug its new industrial loans department, the Arizona Bank recently ran a newspaper ad displaying a baited mousetrap.

The copy read: "For rent—money for, better mousetraps. Whether you are building a better mousetrap or components for the space age be sure to consult our industrial experts."

Industrial borrowers nibbled. So did a host of mousetrap inventors. One proudly showed a trap he said would catch six mice at a time. Another said his would grab 27, one at a time or all at once.

Still another contrived a trap of transistors and electronic relays.

Vice President T. C. (Bud) Bashem said, "If we ever run another mousetrap ad, I quit."

DEAR ABBY

Better Take Second Look

DEAR ABBY: I graduated from business school a month ago and have been looking for an office job ever since. I am turned down everywhere because I am too good-looking! I am told they are afraid the men will spend more time at my desk than at their own. I am flattered to hear this, but do you think it is fair that I should be turned down because I am not ugly? I have to support myself. What do you suggest?
TOO BEAUTIFUL

DEAR TOO: Take a good look at yourself. Are you "beautiful" and perhaps a little too come-hither-erisk? A well-groomed, refined-looking beauty should have no difficulty landing a job.

DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old. I had my eyes checked last year and the doctor said I was near-sighted but I didn't need glasses yet. Yesterday I couldn't read what was on the blackboard and it was only about eight feet away. Everything looked like one big blob. The girl who sits across from me let me use her glasses and, Abby, it was wonderful. Everything was plain again. I told my mother this and she said, "Don't bother me—you are always wanting something!" How can I convince my mother I really need glasses?
CAN'T SEE

DEAR ABBY: Mothers sometimes develop an immunity to their children's requests. Perhaps if your teacher called your mother and told her you should have your eyes checked again, she'd listen.

DEAR ABBY: We have some neighbors with whom we are fairly friendly. They have two children. One is married and is living away from home and the other is in a mental institution. When we meet I usually inquire about BOTH children. My husband says I should not ask about the one in the mental institution as I KNOW he is mentally ill. I am inquiring as to his PHYSICAL condition, which I think is only right. Would it be better not to mention the one in the institution at all? Our neighbors speak of the one in the mental institution as though he were in an ordinary hospital and they don't seem a bit embarrassed by my question. NO MALICE

DEAR NO: Inquire about both children. In this enlightened age one does not pretend that a person who is in a mental institution is not among the living.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GLEN-OLDEN: The quickest way I know of losing a friend is to tell her something "for her own good."

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Restrictions On News Lifted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration has lifted two restrictions on news gathering imposed during the Cuban crisis.

The Defense Department announced Tuesday night it has authorized base commanders to allow newsmen to interview pilots who kept watch over shipping during the naval arms blockade of Cuba.

But it did not permit interviews with pilots flying reconnaissance missions over Cuba.

Earlier in the day, the State Department suspended an order requiring officials giving interviews to newsmen to report the correspondents' names, organizations and subject matter of the interview.

At the Pentagon, spokesman said there were no plans to suspend or cancel the order.

Chamber Members

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce had five representatives at a training institute for Chamber officers, directors and committee chairmen conducted in Lubbock Wednesday.

Attending from here were D. M. McKinney, Mel Stinson, C. A. Rose, Kenneth Pace, assistant Chamber manager, and Carroll Davidson, manager.

Among leaders for the conference were Frank Mueller, State Service Department of the U. S. Chamber, and Fred H. Husbands, executive vice president of the West Texas Chamber.

Representatives of chambers were on hand from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. Included in discussion were problems of Chamber activity and a look at what the future holds.

Cherokees Will Give Land Back To State For A Price

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The Cherokee Indians are willing to give up their claim to about two million acres of East Texas land if Texas will provide college scholarships for Cherokee youngsters, a tribal lawyer says.

The Cherokee lawyer, Earl Pierce, said a tribal delegation would visit Texas soon after the new governor, John Connally, takes office to discuss their proposal.

Pierce said the Cherokee claim dates back to the early 1800s, when a group of Cherokees settled on about two million acres in East Texas with the permission of the Spanish government.

After Mexico won freedom from Spain and Texas then won independence from Mexico, a treaty was made with the Cherokees which agreed to respect the Indian holdings, Pierce said. He said this agreement was made by Sam Houston, first Texas president, in exchange for a Cherokee promise to remain neutral in the fighting with Mexico.

Pierce said Houston—who, he said, had been taken into the Cherokee tribe—respected the treaty, but that later another Texas president sent soldiers to imprison the Cherokees and turn them over to U. S. forces.

The Cherokees, Pierce said, will relinquish their claims against Texas if that state will agree to provide a four-year scholarship for Cherokee boys and girls each year for 25 years at each of its state schools.

In another recent land claim case the Cherokees won a $14 million award from the federal government. This was compensation for about six million acres of land in Oklahoma which the Indians contended they were forced to sell in the 1800s against their will and for less than a fair price.

Wine, Soft Drink
For Christening

STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP)—Georgia's newest tourist attraction, the Stone Mountain skylift, has been dedicated with a splash of wine and soft drink.

Designed and built by Swiss engineers, the 2,600-foot skylift to the top of Stone Mountain was dedicated Tuesday by Dr. August R. Lindt, Swiss ambassador to the United States, and Gov. Ernest Vandiver.

Lindt christened the first 50-passenger cable car with a bottle of Georgia-produced soft drink. Vandiver used a bottle of Swiss wine to christen the second cable car.

Reptile Routed

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Mrs. R. B. Anderson let a 4½-foot water moccasin have the bathroom—at least until she called the postman.

She investigated a noise Tuesday and found the snake crawling on a towel rack. It had crawled in through an uncovered sink drain.

Patrolman Floyd Myers and the unidentified postman used a hoe and rake to rout the reptile.

Rep. Wright Patman, Texas Democrat, who will become chairman of the House Banking Committee in January, poses at his new post in Washington. Patman, 69, believes too many banks are lying down on their job and the Federal Reserve System is getting out of hand.

Rep. Patman Casts Eye On Banking

By EDMOND LEBRETON WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic congressman who believes too many banks are lying down on their job and the Federal Reserve System is getting out of hand will become chairman of the House Banking Committee in January.

Rep. Wright Patman will be achieving, at 69, an ambition burning since he first came to Congress in 1929 from an East Texas farm district: to head the committee that can dig into the operations of lending institutions, the Federal Reserve System and the currency, as well as draft legislation affecting them.

A MAVERICK Patman brought to Washington with him a reputation as an economic maverick. His efforts to win a place on the committee were rebuffed for eight years—a severe setback in the seniority-bound House.

"I wasn't orthodox enough," Patman says without rancor today. "Otherwise, I would have been chairman of this committee 18 years earlier."

The retirement from Congress this year of Chairman Brent Spence, D-Ky., who at 87 was the oldest member of the House, finally cleared the way for Patman. Owlsh behind his dark-rimmed glasses, Patman smiles readily at witnesses or reporters. But he somehow gives the impression of a foxy professor of economics who likes to ask stumping questions.

BARN BURNER "The last of the old-time Populist barn burners," one admiring colleague called him. Other assessments range from "reformer" through "sawdust-floor economist" to "funny money man."

Patman disclaims, without heat, the more extreme descriptions, insisting he stands for sound money and has always opposed inflation. His basic quarrel with the Federal Reserve System derives from his conviction that, as it now operates, private bankers have too much say and the Treasury not enough say in shaping policies that determine the national supply of money and credit.

His contention that recent policies of "the Fed" have been unduly tight has produced a running controversy with Federal Reserve Chairman William M. Martin Jr. It is enthusiastically renewed whenever Martin appears before one of the committees on which Patman serves. (While waiting for the main chance, Patman has advanced to the chairmanship of the House Small Business Committee and the Joint Senate-House Economic Committee.)

DISTORTED ROLES As for banks in general, Patman says greed and an obsession with playing it safe have distorted the roles of too many of them. "Bankers are the only people who can manufacture money without going to the penitentiary. They are supposed to use this money to take care of the credit needs of their communities—make loans to business men, farmers, individuals on fair terms—not invest it in tax-free municipal bonds."

"I am on the side of the small banks, the medium-size banks, and all other banks who are not pursuing a greedy policy. "I am against those who would have a nation of only a few banks with branches, and those who think a few select people should have a franchise on the economy."

HARSH MEMORIES His complaints perhaps reflect memories of life on a tenant farm and of the 30-to-50 per cent interest his father had to pay on crop loans.

Patman's views of course are well known to the national financial community, but, by and large bankers and Congress members who share their viewpoint do not seem unduly disturbed by the prospect of a banking committee headed by the outspoken Texan.

For one thing, Patman has not appeared vindictive against the institutions he criticizes, though he has on occasion introduced sweeping legislation. He successfully pushed veterans' bonus payment bills in the 1930s—a success to which he attributes in part his long exclusion from the banking committee.

MORE MODERATE He fought but lost a battle in 1938 for government ownership of Federal Reserve banks. He co-authored the Robinson-Patman Act curbing some competitive practices deemed to be detrimental to small business. But in later years his legislative record has been comparatively moderate and his more advanced proposals have not moved far in the House.

He was a close friend of the late Speaker Sam Rayburn—no radical—and Rayburn respected his view on economics. Patman's recent one-man study of possible abuse of the tax advantages enjoyed by non-profit foundations was controversial, but it has been praised as valuable by some publications reflecting the business viewpoint. The Internal Revenue Service conceded some of Patman's points and said it will henceforth check foundation operations more closely.

MORE ACTIVE A Republican source close to the banking committee said, "Frankly, I'm looking forward to seeing this committee more active than it has been in years."

"Wright is vigorous. As for his ideas—well, responsibility has a way of sobering people."

Patman himself has said—in an interview with Banking magazine—"obviously to be a chairman is a handicap in a crusade."

Patman's influence as chairman certainly will be thrown on the side of holding interest rates down and closely scrutinizing the Federal Reserve System. He can be expected to push legislation for closer integration of the system's policies with those of the government—perhaps as a first step for rearranging the Federal Reserve chairman's term to coincide with that of the President.

PAY INTEREST Another likely project is an amendment of present law to permit—and therefore nudge—banks to pay interest on demand deposits such as checking accounts and the government's big tax and loan accounts.

CAPT. C. W. HARRIS

Capt. C. W. Harris To Retire Friday

Capt. Clarence W. Harris Jr., 350th MGS Squadron commander at Webb AFB, will retire from the Air Force Nov. 30 after 20 years of active service. A retirement ceremony will be held Nov. 29 in the office of Col. Wilson H. Banks, base commander.

Capt. Harris, who also had duty at Webb as base fuels supply officer, has been stationed here since July, 1960. A native of San Antonio, he had better than one-third of his Air Force career overseas with tours of duty in Japan, England, Germany and France.

He is married to the former Frances M. Wade of San Antonio. The Harrises have three children: Robert, 20, an airman second class at Carswell AFB in Fort Worth; Rachelle, 17; and Cynthia, 10. Capt. Harris and his family will reside in San Antonio.

Body Of Crash Victim

Stretcher bearers carry the body of one of the 97 persons killed in the crash of a Brazilian airliner on a hillside in the Andes about 15 miles south of Lima, Peru. The Varig Air Lines 707 jet was scheduled to land at Lima and other Latin American points on a flight from Brazil to Los Angeles. The tail section of the plane stands against the sky in background.

Evidence Indicates 105 Died In Crash

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Police digging through the wreckage of a Varig jetliner said today evidence indicated that 105 persons perished, even though the Brazilian air line insists only 97 were aboard.

Nineteen of the passengers were Americans.

Shotgun Bank Robbers Caught

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—FBI agents said today that they had arrested two of three gunmen who staged a daring shotgun robbery of a Perth Amboy, N.J., bank branch Nov. 16.

The bandits escaped with $102,176. A shotgun blast one robber fired into the bank floor ricocheted and wounded a woman bank teller.

Many of the bodies were burned or mutilated beyond recognition when the Boeing 707 smashed into La Cruz peak, 15 miles south of Lima, Tuesday while circling for a landing.

Commander Demetrio Toivar of the Civil Guard (police), director of salvage operations, said he counted 105 bodies.

Ramon Cridao, head of the morgue, said, "There were at least 100 bodies."

There was speculation that some passengers—possibly children—boarded the plane at the last moment in Rio de Janeiro before the airliner took off on a flight to Los Angeles and were not included on the list registered beforehand with Varig.

Three minutes after being told to wait for another airliner to take off, the pilot radioed, "This is an emergency."

The nature of the emergency was not explained.

Proposed Sugar Quota Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman announced Tuesday a proposed sugar quota of 9.8 million tons for use in the United States next year.

This compares with an initial allocation of 9.5 million tons—later raised to 10 million—for 1962. The allocation for 1963 includes 5,875,000 tons from the domestic area.

Cuba is again excluded from the allocation.

New Method On Allowable In Gas Asked

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association called Wednesday for a new method of setting natural gas production allowances.

TIPRO President John Mitchell asked the Railroad Commission for a proration method putting natural gas production on a statewide basis. He said this would prevent gas pipeline companies from denying markets to some fields because of disproportionate taking from others.

Mitchell said the same conservation basis for ratable taking applies to both natural gas and oil. The oil allowable is based on a statewide allocation.

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission continued a hearing today on adopting new allocation rules for the Port Acres (Lower Hackberry) Field in Jefferson County.

The commission's "one-third, two-thirds" method of setting the allocation has been invalidated by the Texas Supreme Court.

Several companies requested the hearing, asking for a formula based on net acre feet of gas pay based on sand thickness or on the net of pay sand in each well multiplied times acreage in the unit assigned to the well.

A small-tract operator, the P. G. Lake Co., said this proposal would mean that his company would need a special allowable of 20 million cubic feet per month for each well to break even on costs.

Shell Water Pipeline Blasted

HARTFORD, Ill. (AP)—A 20-inch line that carries water to the Shell Oil refinery at Roxana was dynamited shortly after midnight today.

Shell officials said the line was used to transport water for process cooling at the refinery. The spokesman said the dynamited pipe will have little effect on the plant's operation.

The Shell plant was struck by 12 unions Aug. 18. A crew of salaried workers has been keeping the plant in operation.

League Of Postmasters To Hold Annual Meeting Here

Postmasters from a large number of West Texas towns and cities, who are members of the National League of Postmasters, will convene in Big Spring Friday for the annual territorial meeting of Territories 21 and 22.

E. C. Boatler, postmaster of the Big Spring post office, is host to the meeting although he is not a member of the League himself.

He said that usually 50 to 60 postmasters attend these annual meetings. The territorial conferences have been held here for several years because of the central location of the city.

Friday's activities begin at 4 p.m. at the Hotel Settles with registration of delegates. At 7 p.m. a reception and entertainment are planned.

Initial business meeting of the group is 9 a.m. Saturday in the hotel ballroom.

Rev. V. Ward Jackson, pastor of the First Church of God, will ask the invocation. Mrs. Helen K. Humphries, Balmorhea, will preside. George Zachariah, mayor of Big Spring, is to welcome the visitors.

Grady E. Martin, Silverton, vice president for Texas branch of the League of Postmasters, will respond to the welcome. Boatler is to introduce the special guests.

Initial major address of the meeting will be by R. M. Chapin, Midland, post office inspector.

His address will be followed by the presentation of Argus D. Smith, Godley, president of the Texas branch of the league. Ruth Norman, Morgan, regional coordinator for the national league, will also speak at the morning meeting.

At 1:30 p.m., the second session will open with Clay L. Allen, Wingate, national vice president of the leagues, as speaker. A number of addresses on technical postal problems will follow.

Toy Collection Is Moving Slow

Usable and repairable toys are coming in to the Big Spring firemen slowly, Chief H. V. Crocker said Thursday.

"The men are running out of something to do in getting the toys ready for distribution to needy children for Christmas," Crocker said. "Repairing, cleaning and painting toys takes time and the men are about out of jobs."

"We are ready for some doll dressers now, too," he continued. "Any one, or any group, willing to help out may come to the Central station or may call AM 4-6083 and we will get the dolls to them."

Big Spring families having toys which their children have outgrown, or have discarded, and which are repairable and usable, can help needy families by bringing the toys to any of the fire stations or by calling firemen to pick them up.

close the meeting Saturday night. The dinner hour is 7 p.m. Guest speaker is to Dale Buckley, Fort Worth, postal service officer.

A dance will be held after the dinner.

Methodists Hold Annual Meeting

Methodists of Big Spring convene here today for their annual conference and for a missionary rally to be addressed by Bishop Paul Galloway.

Bishop and Mrs. Galloway have returned recently from mission tours in the Orient. The public is invited to hear him. He will come here from Abilene, where a district conference also is in progress, and he is expected to be in on the closing portion of the Big Spring conference.

Substantial gains are reflected in the composite reports. Dr. H. Clyde Smith, district superintendent, said. These are being revealed at the afternoon sessions of the conference.

Dr. Smith will preside over the conference at the First Methodist Church beginning at 3 p.m. Approximately 150 delegates from the 37 churches in the district are expected to be here.

District chairmen representing such concerns as education, Christian social problems, evangelism, will present their reports.

Highlights of the composite report prepared by Dr. Smith include 90 additions by confession of faith, 659 by certificate, 59 infants baptized. Church school enrollment shows an aggregate of 10,097 with an average attendance of 5,172. The churches held 22 Vacation Church Schools with an enrollment of 2,194.

Other statistics showed $81,305 raised for pastor salaries and conference claimants. For world service, the conference reported $19,228, a substantial gain, and then $25,122 for advance specials—which is plus giving, over and above firm commitments to missions and special causes. The conference now has 78 members who post $10 annually toward helping start new churches. Gifts to the nurses training program totalled $1,546 and the amount raised for all purposes stood at $321,623.

Smiles On Both Sides

U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, left, and Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan smile as they shake hands at the United Nations headquarters in New York. Both attended a dinner given by U Thant, acting U.N. secretary-general, on Mikoyan's return from talks with Cuban Premier Fidel Castro in Havana. Between them is Platon Morozov, of the Soviet delegation to the U.N.

JFK To Feel Out Reds On Other Issues

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy wants to get first-hand facts from Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan today on whether Premier Khrushchev now wishes to move beyond the Cuban crisis and ease U.S.-Soviet tensions on other issues.

The President is unlikely to get a clear response to his probing, officials said, but he may obtain a better personal impression of the future course of Soviet policy.

Kennedy is scheduled to confer with Mikoyan late today. Mikoyan, who has completed weeks of talks with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, was due to arrive here from New York shortly before noon.

MAY RETURN

The Soviet trouble-shooter intends to remain until Friday. Thus he may return to the White House for another conference if progress is made in his meeting with Kennedy today.

Mikoyan will also confer with other administration officials. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has invited him to lunch. Friday and Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall will be host at a dinner to-night at Udall's home. Mikoyan was one of Udall's hosts last summer when the secretary toured the Soviet Union.

The President was expected to emphasize to Mikoyan that the United States will either get international safeguards for the removal of Soviet nuclear weapons from Cuba or it will continue its surveillance indefinitely.

He was also expected to stress heavily that his no-invasion pledge does not mean U.S. acceptance of or protection for the Castro regime. It means, officials said, that the United States does not choose to try to destroy Castro by military means, but will use such means if necessary in response to any Cuban aggression.

STILL MYSTERY

Khrushchev sent Mikoyan to Havana Nov. 3. He came back to New York last Monday, having spent a little more than three weeks on a mission he never explained to U.S. officials and about which they are still mystified. If he was trying to get Castro to accept international inspection in Cuban territory, he failed.

While he was there, however, the Soviet government did remove 42 nuclear missiles from Cuba under partial U.S. scrutiny and Khrushchev promised a week ago that in 30 days he would take out nuclear-capable ICBM jet bombers. There are 30 or more of those aircraft in Cuba.

It was indicated that Kennedy would decide as he went along how to handle the Mikoyan conference. The talk could prove to be of considerable importance, particularly in its direct bearing on future U.S.-Soviet relations over Cuba.

Mikoyan, for example, has given public support to Castro's demand that the United States get out of its Guantanamo Naval Base and, in effect, drop opposition to his regime.

NO INTENTION

The United States, officials said, has no intention of considering such a demand and in general feels the Cuban situation is about back to where it was before the Soviets slipped their missiles and bombers into the island.

When Mikoyan was on his way to Cuba, it is understood, he told U.S. officials in New York that he would like to talk with Kennedy. At that time he was expected to be in Havana only a few days. One mystery about his trip is why he stayed so long.

When he finally was preparing to leave Havana the Soviet officials at the United Nations were told that if he wished to visit Washington the President would see him.

Presumably he decided to come here upon instructions of Khrushchev. Since he was forced to back down in Cuba, the Soviet premier

South Blamed For Poor Job In Education

DALLAS (AP)—North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford said today he thinks the South is doing a poor job of preparing a new generation of school children.

He spoke before the commission on secondary schools of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

The governor said he did not suggest that Southerners forsake the past—"the good things of the past, but we do need to free ourselves of the weakening bondage which has held us down. . . Our children must prepare themselves to be part of the world, part of the dynamic new South, part of their own new day."

"I don't think we are doing a good job of this in the South," Sanford said. "For that matter I don't think the schools across America are doing what they are capable of doing."

He said the South needs "our own and new kind of emancipation proclamation which will set us free to grow and build, set us free from the drag of poor people, poor schools, and from hate, from demagoguery. . . This kind of proclamation can be written in one word: 'education.' It must be the kind of education which seeks excellence, reaches all, looks to the future."

Marvin, The Friendly Monster

LOS ANGELES (AP)—That sea monster might be a ctenophore, a siphonophore or a salp, experts say.

They don't know which, so they call him Marvin.

Marvin is the strange, spiraling creature that first popped up about a month ago on a television screen by which Shell Oil Co. technicians were watching underwater drilling equipment.

The playful creature seen was 15 feet long but only 6 inches in diameter. He frolicked about on the screen while Shell took pictures of him.

Shell asked some fish experts. One said maybe he is a ctenophore, a member of the jellyfish family. Another said he might be a salp, a group of small animals that fasten themselves together end-to-end like a daisy chain.

Or, said another, he could be a siphonophore — jellyfish that link themselves together the same way the salps do.

Until somebody catches the monster and identifies him, he'll remain just plain Marvin — which means sea friend.

No Indictment In-Slaying Case

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The Bexar County grand jury refused Wednesday to indict Vladimir Podgoursky, 23, in the slaying of his art dealer stepfather, Count Ivan Podgoursky. The elder Podgoursky, 61, was killed at his luxurious home last April 21. His stepson was accused of hitting him with a bronze book end, charged with murder and released under $5,000 bond. At the time young Podgoursky told officers he and his stepfather, an exiled Russian, quarreled over the count's treatment of his wife, the younger Podgoursky's mother, and the count chased him through the house with a kitchen knife. Mrs. Podgoursky was the count's housekeeper prior to their marriage in 1960. After young Podgoursky's arrest, police found he was wanted on a charge of armed robbery at a supermarket here Nov. 20, 1954. He was a juvenile at the time. He posted $1,000 bond in the robbery case, which is pending.

Railroads Moving Ahead With Featherbedding Ban

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's railroads steamed ahead today with plans to eliminate 65,000 so-called featherbed jobs as union leaders sought a way to sidetrack the drastic work cuts.

The carriers were given another green light Wednesday by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in their fight to eliminate jobs they claim are unneeded and effect a saving of more than $592 million a year.

Leaders of five operating rail unions, representing the men who actually man the trains, studied the decision to map plans for the next move in the dispute which began in 1959.

RULING UPHELD
Three Appeals Court judges upheld an earlier ruling in U.S. District Court that a union injunction suit to stop the carriers from effecting the rule changes did not properly state a cause for a permanent injunction.

The judges also ruled that a temporary injunction issued by U.S. District Court Judge Joseph Sam Perry in October, preventing the rules changes until the Appeals Court acted, was proper.

Charles Luna, president-elect of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said his union plans to take the case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Luna said the five unions—firemen, engineers, trainmen, conductors and switchmen—will meet Monday in Washington to decide on their next joint move.

STRIKE THREAT
The unions previously have threatened to strike if the work rule changes are instituted by the railroads. Such a strike could spark a major rail labor crisis.

However, observers in the Appeals Court pointed out that the current ruling has built-in delays which could mean more months of courtroom maneuvers.

The Appeals Court must issue a mandate to strike if the work rule changes are instituted by the railroads. Then union lawyers could ask for a rehearing in the Appeals Court. Or they could petition the U.S. Supreme Court.

James E. Wolfe, chief spokesman for the railroads, said the Appeals Court mandate will be issued in 20 days, Dec. 18, unless the unions appeal within a requisite 15 days.

If the unions appeal, Wolfe said, the carriers will then have 10 days to reply and the court would take as much time as it wants to reach a decision. After an peals Court decision, the unions could take 90 days before going to the Supreme Court.

Another possible action in the dispute is appointment of an emergency board by the President. Such a move by President Kennedy, under terms of the Railway Labor Act, would postpone both rule change and strike for 60 days, possibly longer.

Wednesday's opinion said evidence indicated the carriers in 1961 paid $592,062,000 in costs and wages "for unneeded employees occupying redundant positions, pay for time not worked, compensation that was not commensurate with the value of services rendered, and the cost of owning and maintaining equipment and facilities" for superfluous jobs.

The court observed that the public interest was involved. The judges also criticized the unions for threatening a walkout which could lead to a "national transportation paralysis."

Union leaders have contended throughout months of talks that there has been no proper negotiation on the work rules proposals first made by the railroads in 1959.

To effect the rules unilaterally, union leaders said, would violate the Railway Labor Act.

The railroads contend that the months of talks constitute proper negotiation and they have no choice but to affect the changes or face financial ruin.

Under the rules changes the jobs of 40,000 firemen who work on diesel locomotives and 25,000 train and yard workers would be lopped off.

MOVE AHEAD
Wolfe said, after the Appeals Court ruling, that, "as soon as the lower court's injunction is dissolved, the carriers will move properly to make effective these rules, which are designed to help end the featherbedding problem."

The carriers have offered an elaborate system of payment on dismissals and job retraining for employees who wish it.

The proposed changes now are the same as those first outlined by carriers in 1959 and much more severe than the recommendations of a presidential study commission early this year.

The recommendations, not binding on either unions or management, called for immediate retirement of 13,000 firemen. Another 27,000 firemen would have been allowed to finish their railroad careers.

The commission also proposed many other changes in rules and wage structure.

Talks were held in Chicago for several months but the bickering continued. Finally, management walked out of the talks.

The five brotherhoods represent 210,000 on-train employees on 185 railroads.

The three judges who signed the appeals court decision were Elmer J. Schnackenberg, Latham Castle and Luther M. Swygert.

LET US ALONE

By T. H. Tarbet, Preacher
Church of Christ, 2906 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1348

There is great public demand that the gospel preacher "let us alone" in his preaching.

He received this advice: "Just preach Christ and let us alone." However, one finds in his Bible study that Paul and the other apostles did not let the people alone when they preached Christ. It was said that their preaching "turned the world upside down" (Acts 17:6). It was a disturbing message.

"Let us alone" is what the Israelites said to Moses when he proposed to lead them out of Egypt; and even though he won their consent, they continued to resent him for having disturbed their peace in Egypt. Once when they faced adversity while fleeing from Egypt, they reproached Moses with this statement: "Is not this the word that we did tell thee in Egypt, saying, Let us alone, that we may serve the Egyptians? For it had been better for us to serve the Egyptians than that we should die in the wilderness" (Exo. 14:12).

Moses had not let the people alone, and the preacher today who does his duty, does not let everybody alone, and just preach smooth things that tickle the ears of the people. He preaches the word faithfully regardless of who it hits.

Sir Winnie Will Celebrate His 88th Birthday Quietly

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill will celebrate his 88th birthday Friday probably more quietly than any anniversary of his long public life.

As his years upon this earth have lengthened, each birthday anniversary has generated a swelling flood of presents and greetings from well-wishers all over the world.

Thousands come in from people he doesn't know—people who've never seen him but who look on him as the living image of an incomparable fighter.

Over the last 10 years—by special messengers, squads of telegraph boys and postoffice trucks—presents and greetings have poured into his London home.

Friday is expected to bring another avalanche of greetings but Churchill plans a quiet day.

"He will see only his family and very close friends," said his private secretary, Anthony Montague Browne.

Asked if Sir Winston would make his traditional birthday visit to the House of Commons, Browne replied:

"No, I'm afraid not."

Sir Winston is very feeble. He is far from senile, but he walks with considerable effort, is deaf and has good days and bad days.

On a bad day, his mind often isn't clear. On good days, it's splendidly lucid.

One of his close friends—a former military man—visited him recently and later confided to friends:

"It's all very sad. He could remember almost everything about

Off Their Feet
MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda complained Wednesday that Soviet shoe factories are still turning out thousands of women's shoes so ugly and defective that they cannot be sold.

World War I but very little about World War II, the one he did so much toward winning."

Yet on other recent occasions—when he was enjoying a good day—he not only discussed World War II but the present state of the world as well with clarity and wisdom.

A birthday dinner is planned for Friday, but it'll be a small one. Mme. Maria Floris, who for 21 successive years has baked a cake for Sir Winston, will do it again.

A professional baker, she plans a light fruit cake.

Her cakes are usually saturated with brandy—one of Sir Winston's favorite drinks.

At 88, he's still the unpredictable Churchill.

In 1960 and this year, he suffered serious falls. With each mishap, he broke a bone.

When people all but gave up hope for him, he made great rallies, rose from his injuries and got well.

Mrs. Dorothy Cardwell will be the instructor on the four-session course which will run Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The $5 fee includes cost of ribbons to be used. Each member will need to bring round and rectangular boxes for practice the first night.

Sessions will be in Room 111 of the Practical Arts Building.

The first night will be devoted to methods of wrapping and tying the package and to learning the pompon bow.

The second class will be devoted to six variations of the pompon bow, plus making flat bows, formal bows, the loveknot bow and bows of little ribbon.

The third session will feature roses, gardenias and poinsettias of the paper and ribbon variety, plus 12 different creative package wrap ideas.

For the final session, class members will do original wrapping ideas and will see demonstrations on paper and ribbon centerpieces.

Those interested may contact the college or be on hand for the first session Monday at 7 p.m.

Arizona Seeks Saline Method

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Arizona Gov. Paul Fannin says his state is sponsoring research to find a scientific way to remove the salt content from Colorado River waters used to irrigate rich Mexican cotton lands.

Noting that the United States and Mexican governments are working on the problem, Fannin said Arizona also should cooperate. He said his state and the Mexican border state of Sonora are working in complete harmony.

The governor stopped in Mexico City Wednesday en route to Puebla, where he will be honored as "Mexico's Best Friend in 1962" by Mexican hotel men.

Cotton growers in Mexico's Mexicali Valley in recent years have complained the Colorado River water the United States delivers under a 1944 treaty was so salty it was unusable for irrigation.

Former Graduate To Speak At Webb

Capt. Jay F. Henry Dyess AFB, will be the guest speaker for the Dining-in of Class 63-C, Friday at 7 p.m., at the Officers' Open Mess. He will speak on "Flight Safety."

Entering the Air Force in 1954, Capt. Henry received his primary training at Columbus, Miss. He graduated from pilot training at Webb AFB to top his class, in 1955, then Henry remained at Webb as an Instructor Pilot from 1955-58.

In 1958, he was assigned to McConnell AFB, Kans., for B-47 training, and from there to Dyess, his present assignment.

Lt. Wright Named Honor Instructor

Lt. Roger W. Wright, 3560th Pilot Training Squadron at Webb AFB, was selected as the October Instructor Pilot.

A native of Fargo, S. D., Lt. Wright entered the Air Force through the ROTC program in 1960. His primary flying training was at Moore Air Base, Mission, Texas, and he won his wings at Webb. He has been an instructor pilot since September, 1961 and has more than 800 hours total flying time with 500 in jet aircraft.

Liberal Leave Policy Offered

The Army is offering a liberal leave policy to young men who enlist during the Christmas holiday season, according to Sgt. Willis V. Brown, Army recruiter here. Men enlisting in the Army from Dec. 10, to Jan. 1, 1963 may request up to 15 days leave before reporting for basic training.

This policy will allow young men to enjoy the Christmas holiday season with their families and still draw full pay and allowances from the Army. Those desiring further information on the offer and other benefits available to young men should contact Sgt. Brown at 207 1/2 W. 4th, or phone AM 4-8940.

They Make Rotan Attack Go

Franklin, Holmes Are Top Threats In Owls' Attack

BIG LAKE—Tommy Franklin, Big Lake's 210-pound fullback, is the Owls' leading candidate for all-state football honors this season but he by no means is all to offer in the way of threats.

Big Lake will be put to the acid test in Big Spring at 7:30 p.m. Friday night when it tangles with Rotan, the 6-A titlist, in a Class A state quarterfinal game.

Quarterback Mike Holmes, Big

Lake's quarterback, is one of the nicest ball handlers around. Mike is the state Class A 100 and 220 yards sprint champion. Not only can he get places in a hurry but he throws the ball well.

The Owls, coached by Wilburn George, showed a big improvement over last year, when they won only five, lost four and tied one. They're undefeated this year.

George built his team around 11

lettermen, including Franklin and Holmes.

Other veterans back from last season include Wayne Luxton, 165; and Bert Colvin, 135, both backs; and Bill Shields, 165; Johnny Ratliff, 160; John West, 165; and Jimmy Munn, 190, tackles; Jerry Aly, 160; and Bruce Colvin, 150, guards; and Don Loftin, 170, center.

The Owls use the standard T as a basic formation. Franklin and Holmes give them a dangerous running attack and they possess more than ample speed.

Aly was a first team all-district selection last year and is said to be better than ever now. Holmes, too, was an all-district pick. Franklin didn't play the entire season in 1961 but he's been terrific this year.

The Owls compete in the same district with Eldorado, Ozona, Rankin, Iraan and Sanderson.

The two closest calls Big Lake has had this season were against Sonora and Fabens last week. The Owls nosed out Sonora, 14-13, in their third game of the season and last week outlasted Fabens, 26-23, at which time Franklin scored all of his team's points.

The Owls beat two teams in the Big Spring area—Coahoma, by an 18-6 tally and Stanton, 28-8.

No foe in District 8-A held the Owls to less than five touchdowns. Big Lake has shut out only one opponent (Iraan) this year. The Owls simply are content to try and outscore the opposition and the results speak for themselves.

Following last week's game with Big Lake, coach Doyle Howell of Fabens heaped lavish praise on Franklin for his defensive work as well as his offensive efforts.

Up until then, there had been some doubts expressed about Tommy's ability to play defense.

Winner of Friday night's game will meet the survivor of the Sunray-Petersburg battle in the semifinals next week.

Rotan is rated No. 2 in the state, Big Lake No. 3.

Franklin and the Rotan great, Steve Herron, have each scored 22 touchdowns this season.

Admission prices for the bout are $2 for adults and 50 cents for students.

A trophy will be presented to the winning team by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce following play.

Purple Win Could Bring Bowl Offer

By The Associated Press

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs have more than the traditional arch-rivalry to spur them on to a victory over Southern Methodist in the Cotton Bowl Saturday — it's their big hope for

Some Horned Frogs, who have already clinched third spot in the Southwest Conference grid race, are counting on a victory to increase their season record to 6-4 and their loop mark to 5-2 in hope they will attract some bowl's invitation committee.

"We realize we may not get a bowl bid," said-end Ben Nix during the Horned Frogs workout Wednesday. "But we know there is no way we can get one without beating SMU."

The TCU-SMU game at Dallas and the Baylor-Rice tilt at Waco Saturday wind up the league's competition for the season. All other teams completed their loop play last weekend with Texas winning the conference crown and host spot in the January 1 Cotton Bowl and Arkansas, tapped for the Sugar Bowl, capturing the runner-up spot.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs, battered and bruised from last Saturday's encounter with Baylor, rehearsed their offensive plays and their defensive assignments Wednesday for the TCU game. Fullback John Ed Clarke, who missed the Baylor game because of a leg injury, is expected to see limited action against the Horned Frogs.

Three Rice backfield stars—quarterback Randy Kerbow and fullbacks Russell Way and Paul Piper—remained on the injury list as the Owls worked out Wednesday. John Eskridge, an unsung senior quarterback who is now working in Kerbow's spot, may start against Baylor.

Steers, C. City Tangle Tonight

Coach Delnor Poss sends his 1962-63 edition of the Big Spring High School basketball team out against Colorado City here at 8 o'clock this evening.

B teams of the two schools clash at 6:15 p.m. The Wolfpack was to have come here Saturday night but the game was moved forward after the coaches had talked it over.

The two teams clash again Friday night in Colorado City. Coach Poss is looking for one more game before the Steers take part in the Plainview tournament Dec. 7-8.

Poss looks for a big improvement in his club this year, although the team won more than half its games last year (15-13).

Four of the lads returning held down regular jobs last year and a fifth back switched off with a regular from time to time. However, the boys who recently turned from football to basketball have had less than a week to work out, so they're apt to be a bit rusty for a while.

Regulars back from last season include DeeRoby Gartman, 6-1, a junior; Eddy Nelson, 6-14; Albert Fierro, 6-11/2; and Richard Bethell, 6-1.

Charles West, 5-9, is a letterman who played regular part of the time last season. Jeff Brown, 6-1/2, is still another who was a regular during the early part of last season.

The Steers have no height to speak of but Nelson can rebound with the best of them and Fierro is a scrapper on defense and a good ball handler. Rickey Wisener, 5-9, is another returning letterman and figures to play a lot. Nelson grabbed off 283 rebounds and scored 379 points for a 13.5 average last year. Fierro tallied 182 points for a 6.7 average in 1961-62. In addition, he had 163 rebounds. Gartman tallied 183 points and had 94 re-

Borger Tries Irving In War Of Unbeatens

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Undeafened, untied records go on the line this week in the Irving-Borger game that headlines the start of state schoolboy football playoffs in the upper classes. Irving topped the 1961 champion, Wichita Falls, from its throne. And Borger long has been one of the top-rated teams of Class AAAA.

This is the lone contest in Classes AAAA and AAA matching teams with perfect records. Class AA and A head into their second round with the defending champions facing rugged fights to stay alive.

Donna, the Class AA titlist, hurled Froer last week to the surprise of most critics. But it only convinced them that Donna was pulling another 1961—going into the playoffs picked to lose every game because of early season reversals.

Donna lost three games and tied one in the district campaign, but two of the losses were to Class AAA teams and the tie was with another. Donna started moving as the district race opened and now looks as good as ever.

Albany, the defending king of Class A, meets Munday, a team with a better record and one that poses a real threat to the Lions' bid for a third straight title.

Class AAAA sends El Paso Austin against San Angelo, Sherman against Lufkin, Fort Worth Eastern Hills against Dallas Samuell, Houston Bellaire against top-rated Spring Branch, Beaumont South Park against Galena Park, Austin against Brownsville and San Antonio Highlands against San Antonio Brackenridge.

Class AAA has defending champion Dumas starting the playoffs against Seminole and favored to win easily; Brownwood, the only undefeated, untied team in the Class, facing Brownfield; Hurst Bell playing McKinney, Corsicana rolling against Jacksonville, Orange against Conroe, Bay City against Lamarque, Austin Johnson against San Marcos and South San Antonio against Pharr-San Juan-Alamo.

Last week's record was 23 hits and 9 misses. Here's how they look this week:

Friday night: Dallas Samuell over Fort Worth Eastern Hills, Spring Branch over Houston Bellaire, Galena Park over Beaumont South Park, San Antonio Highlands over San Antonio Brackenridge.

Saturday: San Angelo over El Paso Austin, Borger over Irving, Lufkin over Sherman, Brownsville over Austin (night).

Friday night: Brownfield over Brownfield, McKinney over Hurst Bell, Corsicana over Jacksonville, Orange over Conroe, Bay City over Lamarque, San Marcos over Austin Johnson, Pharr - San Juan-Alamo over South San Antonio.

Saturday: Dumas over Seminole.

Friday night: Winners over Crane, Jacksonville over Brownfield, Dagerfeld over Mineola, Maroon over Jefferson, Livingston over Humble, Missouri City over Beaumont Junior.

Saturday: Denver City over Dalhart.

Friday night: Rotan over Big Lake, Albany over Munday, Clifton over Van Alstyne, New London over Jefferson, Southville over Waco Midway, Three Rivers over Overton, Orange over San Antonio, Saturday: Sunny over Petersburg.

Jayhawks Win Second Straight In Kansas

GARDEN CITY, Kans.—Howard County Junior College won its second game in three starts on its current trip through Kansas, slashing the Garden City Bronco Busters, 63-56, here Wednesday night.

The Hawks, now 3-1 on the year, will be idle tonight. They return to action against Hutchinson Friday and then wind up their road trip with a game against Ark City Saturday night.

HCJC will play its first home game against collegiate competition Tuesday, at which time they oppose Texas Western's freshmen. Lou Balenton, a Hawk starter, turned an ankle in the Garden City game and may see little

Pirates Trade Hoak To Phils

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Second baseman Bill Mazerowski became the sole infield survivor of the Pittsburgh world championship team of 1960 today following Wednesday night's game with the Philadelphia Phillies for outfielder Dick Hoak.

HOAK

Wednesday night shipped Hoak, 34, to the Philadelphia Phillies for outfielder Ted Savage and first baseman Pancho Herrera, who was assigned to the Pirates' Columbus farm club in the International League.

Thus, within a space of 10 days, the Pirates acquired five players, all of whom figure prominently in Manager Danny Murtaugh's plans for 1963. Besides Savage, the Pittsburgh newcomers included right-handed pitchers Don Schwall and Don Cardwell, catcher Jim Pagiaroni, and infielder Julio Go-

"We feel we have improved our club a great deal," said Pittsburgh General Manager Joe Brown. "I'm not saying these deals will bring us the pennant but we finished eight games behind first last season. Draw your own conclusions."

Philadelphia's Gene Mauch predicted the acquisition of Hoak would end the Phillies' third base problem.

"What a guy-like Hoak contributes you're not going to find in the record books anywhere," said the young pilot. "He's the kind of inspirational leader who helps everybody on the ball club."

"Hoak completes our club as having a solid man in every position. I think now the Phillies have the best team they have had in a long, long time." Hoak dropped off 57 points to 241 in 121 games last season. He was the acknowledged leader of the Pirate infield for four years following his acquisition from the Cincinnati Reds. Murtaugh said he planned to service on the rest of the trip. He was doing a fine job of cleaning the boards while in action.

Three HCJC players hit in double figures against the Bronco Busters, Walter Carter and Jim Wilburn getting 12 points each and Bill Thompson ten.

For Garden City, Jack Crawford set the pace with 20 points. HCJC led at half time, 33-26. The home club pulled to within three points of the Texans on a couple of occasions but the Big Springers spurted quickly and opened up a bigger lead.

With only 1:45 to play in the game, the Hawks lead had shriveled to 57-52 but that was as close as the desperate Busters got.

Ernest Turner, the Hawks' stellar rebounder, fouled out of the game with 5:01 to go with HCJC leading, 51-41. Bill Sinches exited for the same reason with 3:30 to go.

Compton Returns To Active List

DETROIT (AP)—Rookie back Dick Compton went back on the active roster of the Detroit Lions Wednesday, replacing injured Terry Barr.

Compton, who played at McMurry College in Texas, started the season with the Lions but was placed on waivers last month when Detroit signed Harlon Hill.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Rice will meet Florida in the opening game of the Gator Bowl Basketball Tournament Dec. 27. Defending champion Virginia Tech will clash with Georgia Tech the same night. The championship will be decided Dec. 28 in a game between the first night winners.

The Post boys won a close one, 34-33, after the girls had lost, 39-32.

In girls' play, Robbie Brown and Zelda Bodine led Sands in scoring with 17 and 12 points, respectively.

A late quarter rally on the part of the Sands boys fell just short of a win.

Bill Smith led the Mustangs in that game with 13 points while Jesse Cavazos had ten.

Sands will play Flower Grove in the annual Homecoming game here Saturday night.

Mature Judgment

Actress Joanne Woodward has high praise for the type of discipline that prevents procrastination. She is soon to be seen in 20th Century-Fox's "A Woman in July."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Mature Beauty Can Be Most Interesting

By LYDIA LANE
 HOLLYWOOD — "I was a big slob with the last baby and I paid for it," said Joanne Woodward. Never let it be said that she is not objective about herself. "With Missy (the first baby) I dieted and in above five weeks I was back before the cameras with my same measurements. But this time I was not working and it took me more than three months before any of my old clothes were comfortable. "There was no activity to occupy me, so I got lazy and didn't exercise and I ate too much. I think not having enough to do causes overweight more than anything else. If your mind is on other things, you don't have time to contemplate food. I gained 35 pounds, and I kept telling myself that I'd lose it when the baby was born. But to my horror I found myself faced with 20 pounds that had to be taken off. I'll never do that again. We were on the set of 20th Century-Fox where Joanne had come for retakes of "A Woman in July."

 "I do a strip tease in this picture. Gypsy Rose Lee taught me," Joanne said.
 "When I first met you, I'd never have thought you'd be cast in a part like that. You are more glamorous now," I told her.
 "All the women in our family seem to improve with age. A face is much more interesting and photographs better when it loses that expressionless baby fat that makes it round."

The Losers Are To Be The Winners

The losers will be the winners during next week's activities of the Less-It Take Off Pounds Sensibly Club.

TOPS members met Tuesday evening in the basement of the Salvation Army Citadel to plan the weight reduction contest for which they will be divided into teams. The group with the least weight loss will have their names printed on a crying towel, and will be required to sing the "little pig" song.

As a service project, each member will "adopt" a Big Spring State Hospital patient for Christmas. After the holidays they will join other volunteers working on the Operation Hope project at the hospital.

Mrs. John J. Herbert, president, said the national weight reduction contest will begin in January. The contest will continue for a year, when a trophy will be presented to the winner.

The club is interested in obtaining new members. Interested women in Sand Springs and Commerce are invited to call Mrs. Herbert at LY 4-2735. Big Spring residents may obtain information by calling Mrs. D. R. Seward, AM 4-2379.

CARD OF THANKS

Our sincere thanks to the kind friends and neighbors for the food and flowers; those who gave and offered blood. A special thank to Dr. Cowper and the entire staff at Cowper Hospital for the courtesies extended to us at the passing of our beloved husband and father.

Family of C. L. Posey

Mrs. Hank McDaniel serves a slice of Christmas bread to Mrs. Ray Redman as the staff at Howard County Library takes a breather. In the background, awaiting her turn, is Mrs. J. T. Jackson.

Coffee Break

Push-Button Cookery Useful To Librarian

Thirty-five years ago the Hank McDaniels ran a dairy farm several miles outside the city limits. Besides the cows that furnished all the sweet milk, cream and butter they could use, there were chickens for frying and all the eggs they needed.

With a bountiful food supply at hand, cooking was no problem when feeding four hungry boys. Young Hank, Pat, Luther and Terry McDaniel liked everything—especially the cherry pies their mother made four or five at a time.

Time has passed and the McDaniels still go home to a spacious house on the same site. However, progress has almost caught up with them. The quiet, country road that led to their home is now a busy thoroughfare, housing developments surround the property, and gone are the barnyard animals. Ten acres of good land is still McDaniel property, so there is elbow room when the seven grandchildren come home to visit. Some of them play on "the Hill" that their fathers grew up on.

As Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel's way of life changed, so did her style of cooking. McDaniel, a builder, retired several years ago. The boys are grown and have homes of their own. For the past eight years, Mrs. McDaniel has been head librarian at the Howard County Library.

With the proper equipment—which Mrs. McDaniel has—meals can almost prepare themselves. As part of the recent remodeling in their home, the large kitchen features a built-in double electric oven. This has eliminated a lot of top-of-the-stove cooking that would require watching or stirring.

"About the only things I cook now are the dishes that cook themselves," said Mrs. McDaniel. This push-button cookery, which is essential for most working women, is made easier for her by the use of a meat thermometer. She says this is one little marvel she could not do without. The gadget is placed in the roast, which is cooked in an open pan, and cuts the heat off automatically when it is done.

In the evenings, Mrs. McDaniel often uses both ovens when she prepares meat and vegetables in one and bakes cake, pie or rolls in the other. By making good use of a home freezer, she is able to prepare much of a company dinner ahead of time. One of their favorite desserts from the freezer is angel food cake filled with ice cream.

The steak and baked bean recipes, given below and used often by Mrs. McDaniel, are recommended as simple dishes that "cook themselves" while the lady of the house is at work.

place on top of steak. Cover this with one can of tomato sauce or catsup. Cook four, five or six hours in a slow oven (200 degrees).

BAKED BEANS

2 pounds pinto beans
2 large onions
1/2 lb. bacon
3/4 cup molasses
2 tbsps. mustard
Soak beans overnight in cold water. Pour off all water, add fresh and simmer all day. Place one layer of beans in deep dish, cover with dots of mustard, molasses, onion rings and two or three slices of bacon. Repeat this process until all beans are used, leaving top covered with bacon. Cook covered all day in a slow oven.

CORN BREAD

Sift 2 cups corn meal and 1 teaspoon salt together, and scald with 2 cups boiling water. Quickly add 1 cup cold milk to mixture, to keep meal from lumping. Add two eggs and beat well. Just before placing in oven, add 4 teaspoons baking powder and 1 tablespoon melted butter.

FRUIT BREAKFAST BREAD (Christmas Bread)

1 pkg yeast
1/4 cup water
1/2 cup butter
1 tsp salt
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup scalded milk
4/4 or 5 cups flour
1 egg
1 cup seedless raisins
1/2 cup currants
1/2 cup mixed candied fruits
2 tbsps. grated orange peel
1 tsp. grated lemon peel
Soften yeast in 1/4 cup warm water. Melt butter in hot milk. Add sugar and salt and cool. Stir in 2 cups of flour. Add egg and beat well. Stir in yeast, fruits, peels, and nuts. Add remaining flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on a floured surface and knead five to eight minutes. Place in a greased bowl and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk (1 1/2 hours). Turn out on a floured board and divide in three parts. Let rest 10 minutes, then roll each part into a 12 by 7-inch rectangle. Fold one half over the other, seal edges and place on greased cookie sheets. Let rise until double in bulk, then bake in a moderate oven until golden brown. While warm, brush with butter and sift confectioners' sugar over top.

POUND CAKE

1 lb. butter
3 cups flour
3 cups sugar
10 eggs
1/4 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs one at a time. Beat one minute with electric beater. Fold in flour after it has been sifted twice.

Afternoon Is Tea Time

Bounty from a friend: this recipe for Hungarian coffee cake. It's good with tea or coffee for a refreshing snack break.

LOUISE CROCKER'S NUT ROLL

1/4 cup milk
1/4 pound butter or margarine (soft)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 cup warm water
1 pkg. active dry yeast
2 eggs (beaten until thick)
4 to 4 1/2 cups (about) flour
Lemon Nut Filling

Scald milk; remove from heat; stir in butter, sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm. Pour water (110 to 115 degrees) into a large mixing bowl; add yeast; stir to dissolve; stir in lukewarm milk mixture, beaten eggs and 2 cups of the flour; beat until smooth. Beat in well enough more flour, with your hand, until dough comes away from hand. Place in lightly greased bowl, turning over. Cover; let rise in warm place (85 degrees) until doubled in bulk—about 2 hours. Punch down. Turn out on prepared pastry cloth; cut in half. Roll out, one half at a time, to make two rectangles, each 14 by 10 inches. Spread with Lemon Nut Filling; roll tightly. Place the two filled rolls in a shallow pan and let rise 30 minutes. Spread tops with soft butter. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 45 to 60 minutes or until well browned.

Lemon Nut Filling: Put 8 ounces walnuts through food chopper; add 1 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, grated rind of 1 lemon and 1 1/2 cups milk. Cook gently, stirring occasionally, until thick enough to spread; cool before spreading on dough.

Mince-meat Relish Is Handy Mixture

Something to make now and use all through the holiday season:

RAISIN MINCEMEAT

1 pkg. 15 oz. raisins
3 cups finely chopped pared apples
1/4 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. mace
1/4 tsp. ginger
1/4 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. grated orange rind
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
Juice of 1 orange (about 1/2 cup)
Juice of 1 lemon (about 1/4 cup)
1/2 cup cognac
Mix all ingredients except the cognac in a large saucepan. Slowly bring to a boil, stirring often; cover and simmer 1 1/2 hours, stirring occasionally. Mix in cognac. Store, covered, in refrigerator. Makes about 1 quart. Fold 1 cup of the raisin mincemeat into 1 quart soft but not melted vanilla ice cream; pack into a 1-quart melon mold; freeze; unmold at serving time. The raisin mincemeat may also be used as a filling for cookies, baked apples, yeast breads and turnovers.

Numerous Nutrients

Only 130 years ago food was thought to consist of a single substance—nutrients. Today we know of some 50 separate nutrients. These nutrients are all chemicals: vitamins, minerals, amino acids, glucose, fatty acids, all of known composition, all obtainable from food and water.

Who Invented Burgers? Russians, Naturally

Who invented the hamburger? You're right—the Russians did!

According to the historians, evidence points to the Russians as the inventors of the hamburger.

Many think that the hamburger originated in the German city of Hahburg on the North Sea, but they are wrong.

Actually the people of Hamburg like their meat red, a habit picked up from friends in Estonia, Latvia and Finland with whom they traded. These countries then were a part of imperial Russia. The hamburger became popular in this country at the St. Louis Fair of 1904, where it was broiled and served to thousands.

Americans, however, have invented the blueburger. This delicious treat, simply is a regular hamburger topped with crumbled American blue cheese. The pungent blue-marbled cheese is put on top of the burger a minute or so before it is removed from the grill.

Those who prefer a milder blue cheese mixture blend equal parts of American blue cheese and butter. This spread also can be used for blueburgers or put on baked potatoes, steaks or chops.

Blueburgers are ideal for summer cookouts because they have plenty of he-man flavor. They are easy to make, and the man of the house will enjoy charcoaling his new specialty—the blueburger. Served with potato chips and a big salad, blueburgers are a cinch to score a hit with the entire family.

Save Gizzards

You might like to save chicken gizzards in your freezer until you have enough to simmer in seasoned water and then to dice and add to gravy to serve over bread as an open sandwich.

Fry Cornmeal Mush

Cook extra cornmeal mush and mold it in the refrigerator. After slicing, dip the mush in beaten egg and crisp cereal crumbs before frying. This coating adds interesting texture contrast.

PENNANT PARTY
Everyone can win at this one

TEEN TREATS

Win Or Lose...Have A Pennant Party!

Pennants-a-plenty turn an ordinary party into a hit of the year. The pennant shape is "king" in the invitations, menu and games. Give a Pennant Party after the game to celebrate your team victory. On those gameless week-ends it's a sure winner too.

Plan the theme around your school colors. Carry the colors for the Pennant Party into the invitations, decorations, games and party food that follow!

INVITATIONS

Make pennants out of construction paper in a school color so they open at the side. Initial your school letters on front in contrasting school color. Fill in invitation on inside. Thread toothpick through pennant at connected end for stick.

DECORATIONS

Games and refreshments double as colorful decorations. Feature the Pennant Cake as the centerpiece for the refreshment buffet table. Put the cake on a cutting board or piece of heavy cardboard. Prep the cake up at an angle with a cup or sauce dish. Arrange pom-poms and pennants on sticks around the cake.

Pennants on the wall from the Matching Mixer game add a colorful touch to the room. The wall chart from the Pennant Fuzzer serves as a decoration too.

GAMES

Make pennants with guests' names to put on wall. Cut two out of each color, one lettered with a boy's name and one with a girl's. Pennants of the same color match couples for the beginning dance. Give as favors when party is over.

ETIQUETTE

A good hostess has the stage set when her guests begin to arrive: decorations in place, records selected, refreshment table arranged, party food ready except for last touches and a place designated for coats. Have a few topics of conversation in mind to prevent an awkward silence.

The minute the fellows and girls step in the door the first act is in full swing. Enthusiasm of the hostess sets the tone for the evening, so have a gay greeting. Take their wraps and introduce them to parents or other adult chaperones.

CHAPERONES

Introduce parents or chaperones to your guests as they arrive. Whether they quietly retire to the den or join right in, help them enjoy your party, too. When the party is over ask chaperones to be at the door to share good-byes and thank yous.

FOOD

HOT DOG CRESCENT ROLL-UPS

Unroll 1 can refrigerated crescent dinner rolls, separate into 8 triangles. Make a narrow slit lengthwise in 8 hot dogs and insert a quarter slice of American cheese in each. Place a hot dog on each triangle, roll up and bake as directed on label.

Pennant Cake: Prepare 1 package devil's food cake mix. Bake in 13 x 9-inch pan. Cool 15 minutes. Turn out onto cake rack and cool thoroughly. Make 2 diagonal cuts from middle of one 9-inch end to corners of opposite end for top layer of pennant. For bottom layer, place the 2 small triangles together at 13-inch side. Trim so layers match. Frost between small triangles, layers and on sides and top with milk chocolate frosting mix. Makes a stencil of your high school letters. Place over cake. Fill in with crushed peppermint, shaved chocolate or cake decorations. Remove stencil.

Creamy Cocoa (Makes 8 servings): Heat 1 quart and 2 cups milk. Blend together 1 package fudge frosting mix and a little of the hot milk in a large serving pitcher; stir until smooth. Stir in remaining hot milk. Serve.

Nostalgic For Turkish Delight? Bake A Batch!

Youngsters living in the first half of this century were lucky: their mothers, or teen-age sisters, were likely to go into the kitchen around holiday time and make a batch of Turkish Delight.

Several years ago culinary experimenters came up with a new edition of this sweet, using a modern product—nonfat dry milk. When recently we tried an orange-flavored version of this latest recipe, we felt it was worth passing along.

ORANGE TURKISH DELIGHT
3 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 1/2 cups cold orange juice
2 cups sugar
2 tbsps light corn syrup
1/2 cup extra-cold orange juice
1/2 cup nonfat dry milk solids
2 tbsps lemon juice
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1 tsp. grated orange rind
Extra chopped walnuts or grated coconut

In a large mixing bowl, sprinkle gelatin over 1/2 cup of the cold orange juice to soften. In a 2-quart saucepan stir together the sugar, corn syrup and remaining 1/2 cup cold orange juice; stir constantly over moderate heat until mixture reaches a rolling boil; boil for 5 minutes without stirring. Remove from heat; pour over softened gelatin; stir until gelatin dissolves. Stirring occasionally, cool at room temperature to the consistency of a thick syrup—45 to 60 minutes. Pour the 1/2 cup extra-cold orange juice into a medium mixing bowl.

Add dry milk and beat with an electric beater until soft peaks form—about 3 to 4 minutes; add lemon juice; beat until very stiff—about 3 to 4 minutes; without washing beater, beat into gelatin mixture until smooth. Fold in chopped walnuts and orange rind. Turn into buttered 9-inch square pan. Chill at least one hour. Cut into 36 pieces. Roll in extra chopped nuts or grated coconut. Store, covered, in refrigerator where it will keep well for about a week.

Old-Fashioned Sweet

Turkish Delight, that all-time favorite, is given modern treatment by the inclusion of nutritious instant nonfat dry milk crystals.

Start Now On Holiday Baking

Gifts from the kitchen at holiday time are a favorite with everyone. Neighbors and friends will be especially pleased with goodies baked at home and packaged in handy household utensils that are useful long after the holidays.

What could be more natural than a Mocha Nut Bread tied with bright red ribbon to a bread board. This holiday bread filled with spices, raisins and nuts makes it a favorite for afternoon coffee.

An apothecary jar is a wonderful container in which to give cookies. Filled Fancies packed in the jar will make a hit with the grown-ups as well as the young folks. Chocolate pieces, maraschino cherries or raisins are the surprise in the center of the cookie. Holiday baking will be extra delicious when the margarine with the new flavor blend is used. Home economists suggest baking holiday goodies well in advance. This will leave plenty of time for enjoying the festivities with the family. Be sure to bake a few extra for "instant nibbling." Cookies should be cooled and then stored. Bar cookies keep best uncut and tightly covered in the pan in which they were baked. Soft cookies stay soft in a tightly covered canister; a half an apple will help keep the cookies moist. Crisp cookies keep best in a loosely covered box or jar.

MOCHA NUT BREAD

- 1/2 stick (1/4 cup) margarine, melted
 - 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 4 tsps. baking powder
 - 1/4 tsp. salt
 - 1/4 tsp. cinnamon
 - 1/4 tsp. allspice
 - 1 tbsps. powdered coffee
 - 1 tbsps. cocoa
 - 2 eggs
 - 1 1/4 cups water
 - 1 cup chopped nuts
 - 1 cup raisins
- Sift dry ingredients together into a bowl. Beat eggs until light. Blend water and melted margarine into eggs. Add liquid ingredients to dry ingredients and stir until well blended. Fold in nuts and raisins. Pour batter into a 9 1/2 by 5 1/4 by 2 1/4 inch pan which has been rubbed with margarine. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) for about 1 hour. When cool, frost with Coffee Frosting.

COFFEE FROSTING

- 2 tbsps. margarine
 - 1/4 cups sifted powdered sugar
 - 1/4 tsp. vanilla
 - 1 tbsps. milk
 - 1 tbsps. powdered coffee
- Cream margarine. Add about half of the powdered sugar. Blend in vanilla and milk. Stir in remaining powdered sugar and powdered coffee and blend well. Spread on top of Mocha Nut Bread.

FILLED FANCIES

- 1 stick (1/2 cup) margarine
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 1 egg, separated
 - 1/4 tsp. vanilla
 - 1/4 tsp. lemon extract
 - 1/4 tsp. orange extract
 - 1 cup sifted flour
- Semi-sweet chocolate pieces
Raisins
Maraschino cherries
Finely chopped nuts
Shredded coconut
Cream margarine. Add sugar and cream well. Beat egg yolk and add to creamed mixture with vanilla and extracts. Mix well. Blend in flour. Chill dough about 1 hour. Spoon about 1 teaspoonful of dough and press 2 or 3 chocolate pieces, raisins, or maraschino cherry pieces into dough and form into a ball. Beat egg white slightly. Roll cookies in egg white and then in finely chopped nuts or shredded coconut. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes.
Yield: 3 dozen cookies.

Birthday Circuses Are Fun

Birthdays are important to all of us but when you are only five, it is a big event. The birthday child and his friends will be intrigued with a circus party and special foods, like popcorn and peanuts for munching. For the party, popcorn, in its own foil container, can be popped in a jiffy and the package opened to resemble a flower. The popped corn can then be served right from its own container.

The highlight of the refreshments will, of course, be the birthday cake. Frost it with a fluffy vanilla frosting and then decorate with a parade of happy clowns and animals bearing candies. For the drink, a fruit punch and for nibbling, a dish of dry roasted peanuts with their herb and spice coated skins will please all guests.

BIRTHDAY CAKE

- 1 (1 lb. 3 oz.) pkg. yellow cake mix
- 1 tsp. pure vanilla extract
- 1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries

Make up cake mix according to package directions. Add the vanilla extract and the cherries and stir in gently. Bake according to package directions.

FLUFFY FROSTING

- 2 egg whites
 - 1 1/2 cups sugar
 - 1/2 cup water
 - 1 tbsps. light corn syrup
 - 1/4 tsp. salt
 - 1 tsp. pure vanilla extract
- Mix together all ingredients except the vanilla. Place over rapidly boiling water and beat until mixture forms peaks when beater is raised (takes 7-8 minutes). Remove from boiling water. Add vanilla and continue to beat until thick enough to spread. Enough frosting for 2, 8-inch or 9-inch layers. If you like, a few drops of pure food coloring can be added to frosting with vanilla.

Youngsters Are Sweet On Holiday Candies

For most youngsters, homemade candies are one of the many delights of holiday time. The children not only enjoy eating the candies, but the pleasure of helping to make them too. Peanut brittle, taffy, and popcorn balls are all family favorites, all fun to make.

The taffy requires only three ingredients: unsulphured molasses, butter, and sugar. The cooking is simple enough, although the pulling requires some technique. The trick is to pull the rope of candy quickly with the fingers, until it reaches a creamy color and the proper chewy consistency.

Both the peanut brittle and the popcorn balls are equally simple and equally suitable for youngsters who want to "help" with the holiday cookery.

Should you have teen-agers around the house, you will doubtless find them especially enthusiastic about the taffy. A taffy pull is enough fun to warrant giving a special "taffy party." Make the candies in quantity for the chances are you will need plenty for both visiting youngsters and grownups throughout the holiday season. And as everyone enjoys gifts that have been made especially for them, it's a pleasant idea to make quantities of the candies to wrap in festive paper for holiday giving.

MOLASSES TAFFY

- 1 cup unsulphured molasses
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Combine all ingredients in a

First Class Protein

A serving of tuna provides more first-class protein than a comparable serving of any red meat or poultry, and more than other seafoods, too. An average serving of tuna makes a generous contribution toward the daily protein requirements.

Pink Applesauce

To have applesauce a pretty pink color, heat it with some cinnamon candies. Use about three tablespoons of the candies for a pint of applesauce.

Free Enterprise, Statism An Odd Mixture In Italy

By EUGENE LEVIN
ROME (AP) — The citizen's breakfast included fruit marketed by the state. As he ate, he glanced through his morning newspaper, owned by a state firm.

He dressed in a suit made of cloth from a state-owned mill. The car he drove to work was constructed in a state plant. At the office, he used a telephone provided by a state company. He lit a state cigarette with a state match.

At home, he switched on lights using state power. He took ice from a refrigerator built by a state company. Then he settled down to watch television — with only two state-operated channels to choose from. Next day he left on a business trip, planned by a state-controlled tourist agency. He traveled on state-owned trains, planes and ships, and stayed at a state hotel. He was an Italian, living in "capitalist" Italy today. He was not confined to using only state products. In some cases he could have turned to services and goods provided by private firms. But his choice demonstrated that Italy — more than any other Western country — has a mixed economy in which the state is actively participating in almost every phase of industrial and business activity. Now the state is taking over another field—electric power. A bill nationalizing power is in the last stages of parliamentary consideration. About 25 per cent of Italy's electrical output already is produced by state-controlled companies. Nationalization consolidates these companies and private industries under a single state agency. The power nationalization represents another step forward in state industry started by Benito Mussolini. In 1933 he set up the Istituto per la Ricostruzione Industriale (Institute for Industrial Reconstruction) as a depression emergency measure. It took over industrial stockholdings from banks, enabling the banks to shed shares that were rapidly losing value. In the postwar struggle for recovery, the institute became a way of Italian economic life, a super holding company with a book value of $2.25 billion. Its industries are worth much more than this. The institute controls other holding companies. These in turn control other firms. Sometimes the institute has 100 per cent ownership, as it does in the big Alfa Romeo automobile plant. Sometimes it doesn't. For example, the institute holds 50.6 per cent of the stock in the Finsider holding company. Finsider in turn holds 51.2 per cent of the stock in the Dalmine metal firms. It is hard to figure the government interest in companies down the line, but government control extends over a wider area than the actual value of state shareholdings indicate. Private equity in Institute firms has been estimated at 40 per cent. Institute companies employ 271,000 persons. It controls four-fifths of shipbuilding capacity. It turns out 55 per cent of Italy's steel and 85 per cent of its pig iron. IRI controls the biggest banks. Institute firms make parts for missiles, household appliances, heavy machinery, optical goods, textiles, trucks, radar machine tools, and dozens of other products. IRI also controls the state radio-television network, Italy's biggest shipping companies and the Alitalia Airline.

Savings Bond Sales Down

Sale of United States Savings Bonds is lagging slightly off the pace in district No. 5 although two counties have exceeded their year's quota. Larson Lloyd, chairman, said today. Martin County has reported $86,699 in sales, which is 216.7 per cent and is exceeded only by two other counties in the state. Gaines County has reported $135,798, which is 113.2 per cent of its year's quota.

The district as a whole sold $57,062 in bonds during October to bring the year's total to $1,220,790, or 70.6 per cent of its quota. On a monthly basis, the figure at this time of the year should be 85 per cent.

Howard County, which carries the major share of the district load in quotas, reported sales of $34,856 in October, according to Robert W. Currie, County chairman. This brought the aggregate to $580,701, or 78.5 per cent.

Dawson, with sales of $2,456 in October and $71,583 for the year, has achieved 65 per cent of its quota, and Mitchell with $4,525 in October and a total of $199,924, has attained 74 per cent.

Andrews with sales of $1,500 and a total of $23,450 and 39.1 per cent, and Scurry with sales of $12,318 and a total of $166,486 and 45 per cent are lagging well behind the others. County bond chairman in Martin is James Jones and in Gaines, Doyle Hankins.

It's A Bang, Bang, Bang, Bang World

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Six movie extras on location for filming of a comedy were wounded by bullets fired by a studio guard during a bus stop scuffle.

No one was hurt seriously. The name of the film: "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World."

Allan Salin, 26, an extra, suffered a flesh wound in the side. He was in fair condition. The others suffered superficial leg wounds when they were struck by ricocheting bullets.

A studio spokesman said the incident occurred Tuesday when about 200 extras left the set at Revue Studio in Universal City before dismissal time.

They went to catch a bus that was to shuttle them from the set to the studio main gate, about a mile away.

The guard, Vance Boyd, 35, refused to let them aboard.

Boyd, a part-time studio employe, was booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

Old Cemetery Holds Remains Of Many Of Texas' Heroes

By JOE DAVENPORT
Written For The Associated Press
NACOGDOCHES (AP) — Within a stone's throw from the old San Antonio Road, giant oaks and cedars spread protectively over Oak Grove Cemetery here where Texas' past vividly comes alive with stories of bitter struggles for freedom.

more prominent men to wage war for independence first from Spain, then from Mexico—men who were leaders of a struggling nation, then of a budding state.

Standing tall among the silent sentinels is a spire that is a tribute to "patriot, soldier, statesman and jurist" Thomas J. Rusk.

The San Jacinto hero was commander-in-chief of the Texas Army who are all buried within the long shadow of the Rusk spire.

English-born Taylor was a land commissioner of the Mexican government in 1833 but threw in with Texans during the revolution and was named chief justice of Nacogdoches County during days of the Republic and Rio Grande Land Commissioner after Texas became a state.

Roberts, a Virginian, arrived in Nacogdoches after a stint as sheriff at Natchitoches, La. His leadership in the Battle of Nacogdoches Aug. 2, 1832, won him a seat at the consultation of 1835 and a signature on the Declaration of Independence. That same year he commanded the Nacogdoches Company in the successful storming of San Antonio.

Elias E. Hamilton also helped drive Mexican Gen. Coos from San Antonio in 1835 then stayed in the ragged Texas Army through Sam Houston's retreat to the San Jacinto victory.

Commanding the Nacogdoches Company at San Jacinto was Hayden Arnold of Tennessee. Both Hayden and Hamilton are honored with Texas granite markers only a few steps from the grave of Hayden Edwards.

Edwards, like the more famous Stephen Austin, was an empresario in "New Spain." However, Edwards was the first leader attempting escape from Spanish and Mexican governments. He led the ill-fated and often forgotten

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Nov. 29, 1962 7-C

Fredonian Rebellion of 1826-27.

Edwards served in an integral role during the later revolution by touring the United States raising money, men and munitions.

Rising to fame after the revolution, Kelsey Harris Douglass became the greatest campaigner for veterans' rights on the Senate floor.

However, Maj. Gen. Douglass was far more successful against the Cherokees. In July 1839, Douglass, Rusk and Edward Burleson drove the Indians from East Texas into the United States.

Douglass was also a driving force and charter member of the Grand Masonic Lodge of Texas, as were his life and death neighbors, Rusk, Taylor and Adolphus Sterne.

Sterne was a backer of the revolution, his pocketbook opened through a fast friendship with Houston.

Also in Oak Grove Cemetery are markers honoring two other close friends of "The Raven," figures of a romantic triangle that has become the most written about love affair of early Texas—Dr. Robert Anderson Irion and his wife Anna Raguet.

He was Houston's personal physician during the revolution and was named senator in the republic's first congress.

Pipeline Plan Due Changes

HOUSTON (AP)—A proposal to build a Texas to California pipeline will be modified but not scrapped, officials of the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. and Southern California Edison Co. said Tuesday.

Both firms withdrew a proposal to build the line by way of Mexico after objections were raised in a Federal Power Commission staff report.

They are putting together a revised project and new applications will be filed with the FPC and the California Public Utilities Commission, W. W. Witmer, Tennessee senior vice president, and Jack Horton, Edison president, said.

One major change in the project would be elimination of the plan to route part of the line across Mexico, they said. Without elaboration, they added that modifications to some of the supply sources of gas will change the character of the original project enough to warrant new applications.

Witmer and Horton said the bulk of the gas, however, will continue to be obtained from the vast King Ranch area holdings of Humble Oil & Refining Co. in South Texas.

They said the revisions are intended to improve the economic feasibility of the plan to provide assured annual volumes of gas for use as fuel in steam-electric generating plants in the Los Angeles area.

Scientist Calls Moon A Fossil

HOUSTON (AP)—Dr. Harold Urey, the Nobel Prize scientist, describes the moon as a fossil left over from the early days of the solar system.

He told scientists attending a Robert A. Welch Foundation conference on chemical research Tuesday he believes the moon is possibly 100 million years older than the earth and planets Mercury, Venus and Mars.

The earth was formed later by the accumulation of a great number of similar moon-like substances and quite a few asteroids, said Urey, professor at the University of California.

Urey suggested the great craters called seas which now pit the surface of the moon were created by a bombardment of asteroid-sized bodies that once orbited the earth.

He said his theories will be made more certain or modified by knowledge gained from direct exploration of the moon.

"It is well to remember we do not know how the moon originated," Urey said. "There is available some evidence in regard to the question but much more is needed before conclusions can be reached which will be generally accepted."

A Devotional For The Day

They bowed their heads and worshipped. (Exodus 4:31.)
PRAYER: Our Father, forgive us for our failure to love and serve Thee as we ought. Fill us with a new sense of Thy wisdom and love. Lead us into deeper reverence for Thee and love for our fellowmen. In the Master's name we pray. Amen.

Uncertainty Of Terms

Texas senators may not thank them for their efforts, but a number of political commentators have been engaged in making something of a virtue out of a necessity. It concerns the fateful drawing for two or four-year terms when the Senate organizes in January.

Someone with the kindly wit of a Borgia constructed the Texas law governing Senate terms. Because senatorial districts must be redistricted after every U. S. census, the terms of all senators expire in 1962. Senators elected in November will not know until January whether they will serve a two or a four-year term. Fifteen of them who draw the "black bean" will end up with two-year terms. In an effort to soften this blow, one commentator dredged through the files to find that in the last drawing, in 1953, those senators who drew two-year terms were returned to office with virtually no opposition, whereas the four-year terms were swept out of office in the wake of the veterans land scandals. No effort was made to extrapolate, to borrow a statistician's favorite, however.

Senators, generally speaking, would just rather have a four-year term to begin with, persuaded that no evil that is four years off can be as bad as one that is only two years off.

Watch Out For A Killer

Each winter brings its toll from carbon monoxide, the killer gas loosed wherever fuel is used to power cars, cook meals or to dull the chill of weather.

It claimed the lives of 42 Texans last year, and will undoubtedly strike again and again this winter.

Carbon monoxide does its damage with lightning speed. Industrial hygienists have reported that a car running for five minutes in a garage 20 by 30 by 10 will release enough carbon monoxide to cause serious physical effects.

Any fuel containing carbon can produce CO—and that includes all of the common fuels used in South Texas, such as natural gas, liquefied petroleum gases, oil, gasoline and kerosene.

Unvented space heaters in homes are particularly hazardous. They work well when the room is properly ventilated, but in closed rooms they quickly burn up the oxygen, which in turn permits a build-up of the lethal carbon monoxide.

Ventilation is the natural enemy of carbon monoxide. Don't work on your car with the motor running in a closed garage. Don't burn an unvented heater in a room with all windows closed. Remember the dangers of carbon monoxide and live.

Things Aren't Getting Better Yet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Back to the salt mines. For several weeks, since the Cuban crisis died down, there has been a kind of national sigh of relief and perhaps even elation in the hope now maybe things would get better because they couldn't have been much worse.

But now Secretary of State Dean Rusk has squirmed some ice water on any notion that the world ought to begin getting better now Rusk, who is usually bland and seldom says anything startling, was startled in an interview televised Wednesday by CBS.

HE TRIED to be practical, as he put it, and urged caution about optimism. In fact, he said, the Cuban experience has made both the West and the Communist world more cautious.

That caution has to take three directions:

1. The Russians were caught trying to slip a fast one over with their missiles in Cuba. They will be viewed with renewed suspicion no matter what they say, particularly since they lied about the missiles.
2. The missiles, among other things, gave the Russians a chance to see whether President Kennedy was tough enough to do anything about it. He was. They'll have to be cautious about testing him again.

3. THE RUSSIAN retreat in Cuba, a bad place for them to get into a war, doesn't mean they'll back down somewhere else, if it's more to their liking. So the United States will have to be cautious in any future showdown.

And Rusk, in the hour-long interview, said this country has even "cautioned our friends from drawing too many conclusions from the Cuban experience."

He said: "It would be, I think, wrong to say that because this situation in Cuba came out of the way it did that therefore a lot of other questions are going suddenly to take a new shape and new form in fundamental respects."

"I do think that this experience has caused an element of caution on all sides—in Moscow as well as elsewhere."

A Peculiar Disease

NEW YORK (AP)—Sidewalk observations by a Pavement Plator.

The two most widespread ailments among mankind are tooth decay and the common cold.

But the most prevalent disease among American middle-aged men today is a comparatively new one known as "pensionitis."

Tooth decay can be treated and the patient with a common cold can at least be made comfortable while his malady runs its course. But so far there doesn't seem much that can be done for a person in the throes of pensionitis.

Pensionitis is characterized by an acute delusion that life is better without work. The victim hables endlessly about how much greener the pastures will be when he is 65, gives up his job, and no one will tell him what he has to do. Usually he also makes wild and impossible plans about how he is going to enjoy his final freedom.

The disease is mildly noticeable in men of 35, deepens in intensity in those over 40, and in men past 50 or 55 often becomes a kind of frenzy.

However, in recent years pensionitis has spread rapidly among younger segments of the population. Personnel directors report to more and more young college graduates are as interested in the company's pension program as in its opportunities for executive advancement.

Except among the rock 'n' roll set—no one really can understand what they talk about, or care—pensions are by far the most popular conversational topic anywhere in the land. Yes, far more popular than old standbys like baseball, politics, the weather—and whether the man next door beats his wife.

If you doubt this, the next time you go to a cocktail party step to the center of the room and announce in a loud, clear voice:

"My company has just put in a whopping new pension program and boy, is it a good one!"

You will find this is a far better way to become the life of the party than had you merely stood on your head or sat down to the piano and ripped through a Mozart concerto. Everyone will flock up to hear your good news.

The present preoccupation with pensions is a rather sad reflection of something basically wrong with our times.

Man has always yearned for security in an insecure world, and for too long he feared old age because for many it meant making the lonely journey over the hill to the poorhouse, or being dependent on the charity of his children.

Social Security and the spread of pension programs throughout our economic system are doing much to wipe out that fear and to give the elderly financial independence.

But the trouble with pensionitis is that it makes a pension not an end reward but the actual goal of life.

set—no one really can understand what they talk about, or care—pensions are by far the most popular conversational topic anywhere in the land. Yes, far more popular than old standbys like baseball, politics, the weather—and whether the man next door beats his wife.

ONE-BY-PRODUCT of the Cuban affair—an indirect result that could not have been planned by the Kennedy administration and perhaps was not even thought of at the time—is the increasingly bad blood between the Soviets and Red China.

The latter denounced the Russians for yielding so readily to American warnings to pull their missiles out of Cuba.

The Sino-Soviet split could lead to one of the greatest breaks the West ever got: A real split between the two Communist allies. This, too, is pie-in-the-sky stuff. Rusk reduced this to practicality, too.

He acknowledged "very serious and very reaching" differences between Moscow and Peking. But he mentioned that the differences are not so halting world revolution but only on how to bring it about.

EVEN ON this one he said: "Let's see how the story comes out."

Sees Sea

CHINCOTEAGUE, Va. (AP)—Mrs. Ralph Shreeves has lived her life close to the sea without being able to see the surf until recently. The only way she could get there was by boat. When the Assateague Bridge and Beach Authority opened a road and a four-span bridge across Assateague channel Mrs. Shreeves walked the four miles to the beach and another four miles back just to take a look.

To Your Good Health

Don't Believe In All Those Superstitions

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Superstitions die hard. Sometimes they are harmful, sometimes innocent. Sometimes they just worry people. Here's an example.

"Dear Doctor. Recently I was told that if a woman craves a certain food during pregnancy and eats quite a bit of it, her child will be born with a birthmark resembling that food. Or that if she doesn't get it and touches herself, there will be a birthmark at that spot on the child.

"I realize this second is absolutely ridiculous, but the people who told me have given me quite a list of examples: A woman who craved cottage cheese and the baby had a white strip on its forehead, and a woman who craved cherries and didn't get them and touched herself on the head had a daughter with a red mark there. It appears during the cherry season and then goes away.

"Now, after all of this, can a child have a birthmark because of the food the mother eats in large quantity? And if not, what causes birthmarks?

"Truthfully, I don't believe it, but I would like an opinion from an expert. These people said this is more common in Italy, where you can't always have what you want.—J. A. C." The answer, of course, is no. What the mother eats has nothing to do with birthmarks. Moles, birthmarks, and other such incidental things, are the result of minor quirks of nature.

The sources of these stories go back to the days when folklore developed to explain anything which was not readily understood. It is not uncommon for pregnant women to have a hankering for some particular food—undoubtedly it happens quite often.

And birthmarks of various kinds are extremely common, too. It is rare for a person NOT to have at least one mole or similar mark, even though small. Some people have many.

Many youngsters (and some adults, too, perhaps) have watched clouds in the sky and conjured up visions of sailing ships, horses, knights in armor or whatever.

And people do the same, sometimes, when a birthmark occurs. They imagine that the mark looks like something or other.

By the laws of physiology, eating something or being frightened by something, won't "mark" a baby.

Nor will reading good literature while pregnant turn the baby into an author, or listening to concerts make him a musician—but these pursuits will improve a mother sometimes.—Mrs. C. L.

As to the "examples" of marking being "common" in Italy, you'll notice that superstitions always happened somewhere else. They never happen where you can see them.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a 6-year-old girl, red-headed, and recently I have seen a lot of gray hair. What causes this and what can be done?—Mrs. C. L.

Just a quirk, and nothing can be done except to dye it—but are you sure that the hair is graying? It is not too unusual for such children to occasionally change from red to top-heads, so take a closer look.

Dear Dr. Molner: What are the effects of the fumes of cleaning fluid and white gas on the lungs and stomach?—R. O.

Irritation of the lining of bronchial tubes and lungs is the first effect as a rule. More particularly, this and the toxic effects can be shock, decline in blood pressure, loss of consciousness. The liver also can be damaged by inhaling such fumes.

Around The Rim

East Or West, Which Dumps The Best?

A fortunate engineering feat hides the Big Spring City Dump from the sight of visitors to the city from the east. True, if the wind is blowing strongly enough, visitors might get a whiff, but in these days of air conditioned cars, it is a remote hazard.

But the State Highway Department so cut its grade on the east side of the city so that the visitor probably will never see that pile of trash and litter. If the motorist turns off onto FM 700, he can gain a splendid view of the rubble, but chances are he will miss that turn as it is practically impossible to negotiate even for those who habitually use it.

WHAT THE STATE Highway Department has preserved on the east side of town, we have lost on the west side. Out there, just beyond Webb AFB, another garbage pile is doing a thriving business. No engineering feat could save this one from view. The visitor from the west is given a wide open view of a sprawling mass of debris, littered across the hill side.

Of course, a dump heap could have been located on the back side of the hill, preserving the appearance of the ground as it approaches to the city. It would appear that the other side of the hill would do just as well. But there it is, positioned in such a manner as to give the tourist the very best of views.

ONE WONDERS what a city our size needs with two dump groups. Much larger cities manage with but one and the one on the east has been improved with the sanitary fill method of disposal, as opposed to burning. The one on the west side is usually burning heavily, spreading evil odors into the nostrils of tourists and residents alike.

Chambers of commerce occasionally spur on residents to beautify the approaches to their cities, pointing to auto wrecking yards, signs, and the lot. These do not make the best presentation to the city's newcomers, but are they more offensive than a garbage heap? It's unusual that Big Spring has two dump grounds, and even more unusual that both should be located on the city's heaviest traveled highway.

NOT ONLY THAT, but we have them coming and going, a dump ground both ways. So far as I know, there are no dump grounds yet on US 87, either way; or SH 350; or SH 176. But on US 80, we offer our visitors a dump ground to the east and another to the west. On the east, of course, he may not see it. But on the west, he can't miss it.

Cities' Big Problem—Automobiles

Architectural prizes and—or plums have dropped steadily into the lap of Edward Durrell Stone since he built his first house in Fayetteville, Ark. "The Athens of the Ozarks" almost a half-century ago.

That structure was a birdhouse (designed for bluebirds), entered in a birdhouse contest. It won him top prize, which was $2.50. The prize and the tremendous sum involved forever seduced Stone into building via architecture.

NOW ONE of the world's most distinguished architects, thanks to that far-away birdhouse, Stone has just written his first book, "The Evolution of an Architect." It is distinguished by the same Arkansas drawl, laced with wit, kindness and never a dull moment, that distinguishes his conversation.

The architect who has won one of the greatest architectural prizes of the century, the creation of the National Cultural Center on the banks of the Potomac in Washington, D. C., has definite ideas not only about buildings, but about cities and the creation of beauty and comfort for poor, old Homo Sapiens—too often, abandoned amid urban sprawl.

"IF," STONE SAID the other day in his elegant midtown Manhattan office—"if the private automobile could be abolished from the streets of New York we would be living in paradise. That goes for other great cities, too.

"Venice is heaven, the dream city of millions of urban tourists from all over the world, because it has no automobiles. We all admire the old palaces, churches and museums, and we love the canals. But the real reason modern man falls in love with Venice is because, as a pedestrian, he is in no danger of sudden death at every crossing.

"AND HE DOESN'T have to hunt for thirty minutes for a place to park. It is sheer paradise because there are no motorcars."

"If American cities would have the courage to banish automobiles from their centers and insist that private automobiles be parked on their respective peripheries, the lives of city dwellers would be immeasurably enriched—and lengthened."

"The idea of building great garages in the middle of a city is only compounding madness."

"I BELIEVE in a new Cabinet post to be called 'The Secretary of Environment' rather than the 'Secretary of Urban Affairs,'" continued Stone who, in his black astrakhan-collared topcoat, looks like a successful Shakespearean actor who has spent a lifetime doing Macbeth and may start in on "Othello" any day.

"Such a Cabinet post would result in more homogeneous cities and not just hit-and-miss buildings that are monuments to a momentary ego. This nation needs a system of art commissions that can decide on the esthetic merits of construction. Today the only city in the United States with such a commission is Washington, D. C.

THE NEW CULTURAL center in Washington is Stone's "dream" birdhouse. He said, happily, "I guess it's the dream of all architects to do a monumental building in Washington, D. C., and my dream is coming true."

It couldn't happen to a nicer man or a better architect. (Copyright, 1962 United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Czechs Reject Capitalism

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia—In this beautiful city—one of the most beautiful in the world—is a thoroughfare which diplomats sarcastically call the Street of Political Errors.

Up to the defeat of the Austro-German coalition in the First World War, it was named Franz Ferdinand St. in honor of the heir apparent to the Austrian throne. Czechoslovakia was then part of Austria.

TEN, IN HONOR of Marshal Foch and the Allied victory, it was renamed Avenue Foch. Then came the German takeover, and in 1938 it was called Hermann Goering Strasse.

After the defeat of Hitler's Wehrmacht and the communizing of Czechoslovakia, it naturally became Stalin Street. Then came Khrushchev. In 1960, it was given a name which could last for all time. As Wine Garden Street, it honors the Czech vineyards.

I'M NOT SUFFICIENTLY familiar with Prague to know whether there is a Karl Marx St. Nor am I sufficiently bold to proclaim that someday it will be renamed. But this I can be sure of. The officials in the Ministry of Foreign Trade and in the Central Bank are still Marxists, if not Stalinists.

They look down on capitalism as a system of economic anarchy. People are permitted to produce, buy, and sell what they wish. Not according to plan! That's what's wrong with the Common Market, for example. No central head—like that of Stalin—dominates the prospect. Nor can the Common Market serve the common people and "lift the standard of living."

"ISN'T IT POSSIBLE," I suggested to the Czech official who said this, "that as the market for goods within the Common Market expands, prices will be cut, wages will remain steady or even rise, and thus purchasing power of workers will be increased?"

"That hasn't happened," was the stolid response. "Prices have gone up."

"But you have had inflation, too."

"No. Prices have a different role in our system. Every product which is made has a price calculated according to the real cost and the real needs of the people. Thus the prices of things essential to living are kept low—prices of food, rent, and medical care."

I OBSERVED that in Soviet Russia, inflation is hidden by fixed prices. Then, every so often, there is an appropriation of capital—a reevaluation of the currency.

"That was just because of the war—the terrible havoc of the Nazi attack. It can never happen now that the after-effects of the war have spent themselves."

"YOU HAVE savings in Czechoslovakia?" I asked rhetorically. "Well, if people have savings, doesn't that indicate that your plan isn't working perfectly? You're producing goods that people don't buy. Isn't that potential inflation?"

"It's not like in the United States. You have hire-purchases—installment credit—to force people to buy the overproduction of your factories. Here in Czechoslovakia people save to buy automobiles, or homes, or furniture. They don't borrow. Someday, when the American people lose jobs, and can't pay their installment debt, you'll have another 1929—a depression."

FOR THE PLANNERS, nothing would ever go wrong with their system. Overproduction is inevitable in ours. When I left, I felt like the man whose best bit of repartee had stuck in his throat. I should have said:

"Wouldn't you just wish you suffered from overproduction—that your stores were so crammed with goods and your automobile dealers so overstocked—that people could buy anything any time they wanted to?"

Gardening, Driving Car

PINE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP)—Ninety-year-old Harold Magruder is a firm believer in the old adage "you are only as old as you feel."

He rarely misses a day driving to the post office and his bright yellow car is usually filled with flowers from his garden. They go to the sick and shut-ins, church, community and school organizations, and sometimes, he makes a round of the business offices and leaves a posy on each desk.

Hospital Time

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—Robert H. Brodie got the proverbial middle-of-the-night awakening by his wife. Time to go to the hospital, she told him.

They made it but both were taken into the hospital in wheel chairs. Mrs. Brodie had a 7½-pound boy. The proud father passed out cigars from his bed in another room on the same floor. He had made his first parachute jump the day before and discovered his ankle was broken when he tried to get out of bed.

Electronic Ear

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An electronic ear, no larger than today's hard-of-hearing aids but capable of bringing sound to many who are totally deaf, may be available within two years.

The surgically implanted device was described at a meeting Tuesday of the American Medical Association by Dr. John B. Doyle Jr. of Los Angeles, the inventor.

Experimental models, weighing two ounces and measuring 1-by-1-1/2-by-1/2 inches, have been imbedded in the skulls of two patients.

The new device consists of two tiny induction coils. One is imbedded in the head, with wires running to the cochlea. The other coil, worn externally, generates a magnetic field which acts upon the imbedded coil.

ON THE SHELF

MR. WILSON'S WAR. By John Dos Passos. Doubleday.
$6.95.

By The Associated Press
Dos Passos writes of an era when world tensions were building, when the Republicans were accusing the President—a Democrat—of failing to stand up to aggressors, and when a Latin revolutionary was harassing and embarrassing the United States to the South.

Sound familiar? It isn't 1962 of which Dos Passos writes, but of the era which made him famous as a fiction writer—World War I.
The title is misleading, for the book covers much more than the two years of America's participation in the war. It goes back past the turn of the century to show how and why situations developed in America and abroad which led to the First World War.

kept America out of the conflict for agonizing months and finally plunged the country wholeheartedly into it.

As much as anything, the vividly written 502-page book is a fascinating series of biographies of American leaders of that period—
William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, William Jennings Bryan, Charles Evans Hughes, William G. McAdoo, Charles G.
Dawes, John J. Pershing, Robert
LaFollette, Col. Edward M. House and most of all, Woodrow Wilson himself.

The picture of Wilson that unfolds in Dos Passos' second contribution to Doubleday's Mainstream of America series is far more interesting than anything else in the book.

Drawing at length on the memoirs of people who were in close contact with Wilson, the author sketches the "Schoolmaster in Politics" from all sides of his many-faceted character.

He presents the Wilson with the iron jaw, who could decide on a course and go into a gray-eyed fury when opposed; the Wilson who could speak in such lofty terms that former President Grover Cleveland was heard to mutter "Sounds good, I wonder what it means"; the Wilson who could, on occasion, be so indecisive that some Republicans accused him of plain cowardice and his secretary of state wrote "Has the blood of patriotism ceased to throb in American veins?"; the Wilson who became such a master politician that—when it became expedient—he could change his views completely and calmly on woman suffrage and government intervention in wages and hours for labor.

Much of the book is devoted, as the title implies, to an account of World War I, but it all comes back to Wilson as Dos Passos shows again he's as much at home in nonfiction circles as in fiction writing.

Recon Pilots

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Gen.
Thomas S. Power has decorated 10 of his Strategic Air Command re-weapons in Cuba.

The 10 are members of the 400th Strategic Wing, Laughlin viously has been confirmed as being equipped with U2s. These are the unarmed high-flying photo reconnaissance planes of the type in shot down over the Soviet Union.

One of the 10, Maj. Richard S.
Heyser, Battle Creek, Mich., was personally congratulated at the White House by President Kenedy as being one of the two men who first furnished conclusive evi-
