Rotan, Big Lake Tangle In Playoff Here Tonight

Both Teams Believe In Hard Attack

Two teams whose coaches subscribe to the theory that a bombastic attack makes for the best defense—Big Lake and Rotan—tangle in a Class A playoff game in Memorial Stadium here starting at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Rotan, champion of District 6-A and conqueror of Seagraves in district competition last week, is favored to topple unbeaten Big Lake, but not by much. The Owls are titlists of 8-A and last week vanquished Fabens in their bi-district imbroglio.

The Yellowhammers, coached by Tommy Watkins and rated among the top five Class A teams in the state most of the year, have scored 449 points this season to 88 for their 11 opponents.

Big Lake, which has Wilburn George as its mentor, has been only slightly less terrific. The Owls have tallied 348 points while yielding 122.

Each team boasts top candidates for the all-state team. Rotan offers Steve Herron, a 165-pound quarterback whose feats with the football have already become legendary in the Rotan area.

Herron has scored the amazing total of 206 points this season and thrown 16 touchdown passes. He's gained a total of 1,800 yards carrying the mail for practically a 10-yard average.

Tommy Franklin, a 215-pounder who hits the line with the impact of a bowling ball, is Big Lake's chief threat. He's scored 32 touchdowns this year and was never better than he was last week, when he counted all of Big Lake's points

Rotan's Mobile Starting Unit

Here's the opposition Big Lake must overcome if it is to achieve victory in tonight's Class A football playoff game here. It's the offensive unit of the Rotan Yellowhammers, which has scored an average of 39 points a game in its 11 starts to date. Left to right, up front, they are Joe in the Owls' exciting 26-23 victory over Fabens.

The Big Lake quarterback is Mike Holmes, a 160-pound senior who is the state's 100 and 220-yard champion in his class.

Herron is aided and abetted in the Rotan backfield by such performers as Lenis Polnac, who has run for 658 yards in gains and caught 12 passes for another 241 yards; Bruce Baugh and Ed Mac Lang.

Young Baugh, incidentally, is the son of Sammy Baugh, the famed quarterback and coach. He's the third member of his family to perform for the Rotan team.

End Bill Ashton and tackle Howard Van Loon are perhaps Rotan's top hands up front. Big Lake can counter with a sophomore end named Johnny Howard, end Bill Shields and linebackers Dan Loftis and Jerry Aly.

Rotan's only loss has been at the hands of Class AA Hamlin and that by only two points, 12-10. The Yellowhammers slammed Paducah, Roby, Slaton and Spur before plunging into conference play.

Big Lake has had a couple of close calls but boasts an unsullied record. Class AA Sooner gave the Owls a bad time before Big Lake finally won, 14-13.

The local Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the Big Spring Quarterback Club in sponsoring the game and will furnish the personnel to run off the game. The Chamber will furnish the winning coach with a trophy at the conclusion of the contest.

Admission prices have been pegged at $2 for adults and 50 cents for students.

The winner here plays the survivor in the Sunray - Petersburg game in the semifinals next week.

Report Some Hiding During Vote Probe

McALLEN (AP)—Several persons were reported hiding in Mexico to avoid testifying at an investigation of voting in Starr County today.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Sam Wilson said Texas Rangers still had been unable to serve several subpoenas. He indicated he believed the persons are in Mexico.

A number of Rangers and sheriff's deputies scoured the Lower Rio Grande Valley Wednesday and Thursday in an effort to serve 70 persons with orders to appear at the hearing.

The hearing was called Nov. 20. Wilson said an investigation of Starr County absentee voting showed 50 to 100 applications for absentee ballots in the Nov. 6 general election were notarized by persons he said "didn't even exist."

Ballot boxes from Starr Duval and Zapata counties in South Texas were seized by Texas Rangers after the Nov. 6 general election and moved to Corpus Christi bank vault under a court order issued to Atty. Gen. Will Wilson Aug. 14.

Nazi Victims Group Battles Ban Attempt

BERLIN (AP)—The presiding judge suspended today until Dec. 7 the hearing of a suit to ban the Association of Victims of the Nazis after a spectator rose and accused him of having been a Nazi and storm trooper.

Judge Fritz Werner said he would give defense lawyers until Dec. 5 to present the charge formally or disassociate themselves from it.

When the spectator, August Baumgarte, said by government counsel to be a known Communist, made the charge the judge asked the counsel for the association if they wished to present the charge formally.

A member of the association's executive rose and said "yes." But other members shook their heads in the negative.

The West German government has asked the Federal Administrative Court to ban the association, alleging that it is a Communist organization. The Communist party has been banned in West Germany since 1956, and the government charges that the association is carrying on the party's activities.

The East bloc is waging a big propaganda campaign against the government suit. The Communist press likens the move against the association to the Der Spiegel magazine affair, which set off a Bonn government crisis. The aim is to stifle all opposition to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government, the Communists claim.

"This is a great loss to the State of Texas," Mrs. Wheatley said and her husband decided to retract their offer because state funds are not available to develop properly the 4,778-acre ranch near Johnson City.

"Many state parks now need a great deal of repair and we didn't want them to be neglected in place of our ranch," she said.

Mrs. Wheatley said it would require about $2 million to get the ranch in shape for use as a state park.

"We aren't trying to get anything for the place," she said. The Circle Bar Ranch has about 10 miles of frontage on the crystal-clear Pedernales River, a river teeming with fish.

Mimic

Vaughn Meader, a 26-year-old comrade who talks like President Kennedy, can point to a million and a half reasons why Americans must still have a sense of humor. That is the number of people who, at last count, have bought his all-time best-selling record album, "The First Family," a Kennedy satire that leaves no phase of New Frontier life in the White House unstung.

Glowing Cloud Lights Up Sky

WASHINGTON (AP)—The civilian space agency started a week of spectacular displays in the sky today by releasing a glowing cloud of sodium vapor 106 miles up from its Wallops Island testing station on the Virginia Eastern Shore.

The payload was carried aloft at 6:15 a.m. just at dawn, by a Nike Apache rocket. The cloud was reported visible at least as far away as Baltimore, Md.

Similar experiments are to be carried on at dawn and dusk for seven days by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Md. The study is aimed at measuring winds and turbulence at high altitudes.

The spokesman said India wants restoration of the positions both armies held last Sept. 8, before the Chinese swept into northeastern India and threatened its rich and fertile state of Assam.

Nehru and Ayub Khan are expected eventually to get together on the Kashmir issue but first lesser officials are to lay the groundwork.

Nehru indicated today he was prepared to retreat little if any from his position.

An uproar of opposition rose in Pakistan's National Assembly. A Pakistani newspaper, The Times, said officials wanted concrete results from talks and were not prepared for "academic discussions on Kashmir with anybody."

Nehru told Parliament he was not committed to a partition of disputed Kashmir as a basis of settlement and could not "bypass or ignore our basic principles."

Any "upset of the present arrangement would be very harmful to the people of Kashmir as well as to future relations between India and Pakistan," he added.

The present arrangement is a partition by a cease-fire line which has been in effect for 13 years under U.N. watch.

Nehru consented to the talks under the pressure of the Red Chinese offensive which broke through India's Himalayan frontiers.

India has not yet accepted Red China's proposals for the withdrawal.

It has been sending reinforcements by land and air into the crucial northeastern sector of the battlefield since the cease-fire went into effect.

India's hand has been strengthened, for the time being at least, by a lessening of pressure in its dispute with Pakistan over Kashmir.

AGREE TO TALKS
Prime Minister Nehru and President Mohammed Ayub Khan have agreed to negotiate their 15-year dispute but the going may be rough.

The agreement, however, will allow India to breathe easier as it pulls troops away from the Pakistan border to face the Red Chinese.

Peking said it would withdraw its troops 12½ miles behind what it called the line of actual control in November 1959. India doesn't go along because it would leave the Red Chinese still on territory claimed by India.

It has sent off a second note to Peking seeking further clarification of the Chinese proposals. A first request brought what an Indian Foreign Ministry spokesman called a vague reply.

Relatives Of Slain Wife Think Colonel Was Insane

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Relatives of the slain wife of Col. John Herrington testified in behalf of the Air Force officer as a general court-martial was reopened today to the public.

"I am not a psychiatrist, but to my mind he must have been absolutely insane," Joseph Hearn of Santa Monica, Calif., Herrington's brother-in-law, testified.

Hearn said Herrington visited them in Santa Monica in April 1961 and unburdened himself in a long monologue.

"We felt that Colonel Herrington was near the breaking point," Hearn said. "We wouldn't have been surprised if he had broken then and there."

Hearn's wife, Alice, was the first witness. She said they had been close to the Herrington family for 19 years.

"Jack talked for hours. He told us all kind of intimate things," Mrs. Hearn said about the 1961 visit. She said he carried "a big burden in his job in Washington. He was terribly worried about his country."

Only people with top-secret security clearances were allowed in the courtroom the past two days as intelligence officers told of dealings with Herrington. He is credited with knowing many defense secrets through work with atomic weapons.

Herrington and his civilian lawyer, James Gardner, broke into tears Thursday at the climax of the colonel's seven hours on the witness stand.

Gardner claims Herrington's knowledge of secrets caused temporary insanity and the shootings were the result of an irresistible impulse.

Witnesses in the closed sessions included Dr. Charles Reichardt of Washington, director of intelligence for the Atomic Energy Commission; Brig. Gen. William Lee of the Pentagon's Air Force intelligence office; Col. Phillip Hooper, the defense secretary's senior adviser on atomic energy matters; and civilian intelligence workers.

"They testified about highly sensitive classified material," Gardner said, "and about their relations with Col. Herrington when Col. Herrington was the Air Force representative to the Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Commission."

The prosecution did not cross examine Herrington.

Herrington's wife of almost 25 years, June, was shot in the head. The mentally retarded son, 19, was shot in the stomach.

Park Offer Taken Back

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wheatley have withdrawn their offer to donate the Circle Bar Ranch in Blanco County for development as a state park, the San Antonio Express said today.

The Wheatleys live on the ranch much of the time and have a home in San Antonio.

The Express quoted State Parks Board Chairman Maurice Turner as saying:

"This is a great loss to the State of Texas."

Mrs. Wheatley said she and her husband decided to retract their offer because state funds are not available to develop properly the 4,778-acre ranch near Johnson City.

"Many state parks now need a great deal of repair and we didn't want them to be neglected in place of our ranch," she said.

Traffic Deaths Set New Record

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic death toll in the first 10 months this year—33,430—was a record high for any similar period.

The National Safety Council said the deaths, averaging 110 a day, compared to 30,720 for the first 10 months in 1961, an increase of 9 per cent. The previous record for the period was 32,357 highway deaths in 1957.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas has been allotted $172.5 million in federal funds for highway work in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. The apportionment is part of a $3.5 billion distribution of federal highway funds.

Executive Trained Women, Now Faces Arms Charges

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A federal judge filed a plea of innocent today for John Snook, a telephone company official charged with possessing unregistered automatic weapons.

Snook waived arraignment before U.S. Dist. Judge Daniel H. Thomas. His attorney then requested that the court postpone entering a plea at this time.

"Well, arraignment is for something," replied Judge Thomas. "I'll enter a plea of not guilty."

Snook remained at liberty under $500 bond posted after his arrest. His trial is expected to be set for some time in February.

Snook says he used the automatic weapons to train his women employees as girl commandos.

Snook, 43, a wiry bachelor with a Van Dyke beard, surrendered recently to U.S. marshals. He has declined comment on the charge.

U.S. Treasury agents seized eight automatic weapons from Snook on March 19. He had used the guns in training 23 women employees of the family-owned Gulf Telephone Co., Foley, Ala., as commandos. Snook is vice president of the company.

Federal agents seized the guns because they were not registered as required by law.

Snook said he conceived the idea of his women's militia in 1948 and expanded it after a number of the company's male employees were called to active duty during the Korean War.

Housing Bias Policy Outlined

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government's two top home lending agencies outlined today a policy of persuasion, with a big stick in reserve, for enforcement of President Kennedy's order banning discrimination in federally financed housing.

Neal J. Hardy, commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration, and Philip Brownstein, chief benefits director of the Veterans Administration, said at a joint news conference that every effort will be made to persuade builders to end discriminatory practices in the sale of VA or FHA financed homes.

If this fails the builder will be subject to sanctions, they said, which "may take the form of placing the offender's name on an ineligible list."

VA and FHA financed homes make up about 20 per cent of private homes.

The President's order last week omitted conventionally financed homes from its scope.

However, Hardy predicted that "moral (stuation)" will be applied to try to end discrimination in conventionally financed housing through such federal agencies as the Federal Reserve Board and the Home Loan Bank Board.

President Has Fun With Gifts From Somali

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy had fun with the gifts presented him by visiting Somali Prime Minister Abdirasid Ali Scermarche.

The President gave a hearty whack to a brass gong mounted between two elephant tusks.

He also received a monkey fur rug and an ostrich egg lamp.

Those and other gifts were presented Wednesday night by Abdirasid at a reception he gave for Kennedy at Blair House, across the street from the White House.

It came at the end of the Somali leader's two-day visit to Washington.

The devil doll is for the Kennedy's children, John Jr. and Caroline. Other gifts to the President included an ivory desk set and hand carved wooden animals.

Kennedy gave Abdirasid a silver desk set and a 14-volume set of papers of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Alexander Hamilton.

There also were some unopened packages identified as children's books for the prime minister's youngsters, a gift from Mrs. Kennedy.

DEAR ABBY

You Both Need Help!

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this man (he is 26 and I am 22) for about a year. We love each other very much and have spoken of marriage. He has a terrible temper and when he gets provoked he hits me. He has blackened my eyes and left bruises on me several times. Afterwards he begs me to forgive him and promises he'll never do it again, but he always does. The last time he hit me he cracked two ribs and loosened three teeth. I broke up with him and haven't seen him in two weeks. I now find that my love for him is even greater than before and I want to go back to him, but don't know if I should. Can you help me?

NO GREATER LOVE
DEAR NO: Any man who would repeatedly strike a woman is sick. And any woman whose love is "greater than before" after such abuse is sicker than he is. If you go back to him, you should use the rocks in your head to fill up the holes in his!

DEAR ABBY: I read once that Russians think we worship dogs. "Lies," I cried. Then I looked into the facts. I learned that more is spent each year on dog and cat food than on baby food. That there are beauty parlors for dogs (at $10 a visit), mink coats for dogs and jeweled collars and leashes that cost thousands of dollars! Dogs

(and cats) have been named sole heirs to fortunes. And, Abby, there are even psychologists for dogs! I think dogs make charming pets, but when there are so many undernourished and unloved children in the world, they should come first.
MOTHER OF TEN
DEAR MOTHER: Considering the millions of dog-owners in the country, you are focusing far too much attention on the few dolls who lavish thousands of dollars on jeweled collars, mink coats and leave their fortunes to their dogs. Dogs protect the blind, hunt down criminals, protect homes and provide companionship for many, so don't waste energy worrying about what the Russians think.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me how to kiss a boy. I am going to a party the first of December and will need the information by then. I thank you. NEEDS TO KNOW
DEAR NEEDS: How old are you? Anyone who needs information on how to kiss is too young to use it.

DEAR ABBY: My son's teacher kept the entire class after school for 30 minutes. She would not allow anyone to telephone home to say they'd been detained. I was one of the mothers who sat out in my car waiting. My son was late for his dental appointment, and another boy was late for his music lesson. Please don't give me that song and dance about teachers being overworked and underpaid. They have shorter days and longer vacations than office workers, and if they don't like children they should find another job.
IRRITATED MOTHER
DEAR IRRITATED: An effective way to keep individuals in line is to punish the entire class and let the culprit suffer at the hands of his classmates. But no child should be denied permission to call home.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

P.O. Box 1383

A new booklet of 62 pages has been mailed to me by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, Inc. It is called "The Word - Who is He?" According to John... It is a denial of the deity of Jesus Christ. In articles to follow, I propose to give a brief review of the book. Because it is copyrighted, I am prevented from giving direct quotations from it.

First, I want you readers to know the extent to which the tract relegates and demotes the Lord Jesus Christ.

It claims that when Christ, the Word, became flesh, he ceased to be a spirit person (page 11).

In other words he was all flesh, having no spirit.

Christ is referred to as a creature (pages 47, 59). This would mean that when the disciples worshipped Jesus and prayed to him and served him (Mat. 14: 33; 28: 19; Jno. 20: 28; Col. 3: 24; Acts 7: 60), then they "worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator," a thing severely condemned in Rom. 1: 18-25. (See ASV for clarity.)

Also the booklet refers to Christ as a god (small "g"); believe it or not! (p. 59).

U. N. To Elect U Thant To Top Position

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly meets this afternoon to elect U Thant of Burma secretary-general to serve until Nov. 3, 1966. He will lose the "acting" handle attached to his title for the past year.

The 11-nation Security Council scheduled a private meeting this morning to vote the necessary recommendation that the 53-year-old Burmese continue in the top U.N. post.

Thant's election by the assembly was expected to be unanimous.

The United States and the Soviet Union agreed earlier to give Thant a full five-year term as secretary-general. But on his insistence it will expire Nov. 3, 1966, five years from the date he became acting secretary-general as successor to the late Dag Hammarskjold.

Hammarskjold was killed the previous Sept. 17 in a plane crash near Ndola, Northern Rhodesia. Thant, then Burma's chief U.N. delegate, was named to serve the rest of Hammarskjold's second five-year term, until April 10, 1963.

Besides running the U.N. secretariat of more than 5,000 employees, he has spent much of the past year since in tough negotiations on the problems of West New Guinea, the Congo and Cuba. Friends say that, for personal reasons, he does not want to remain longer than four more years in the U.N. post.

Diplomatic sources report that the major Western powers—for technical reasons—also are opposed to a full new term for Thant.

These informants said the Soviet Union told Thant Wednesday it was willing for him to serve five more years starting with his re-election today.

The Western powers reportedly wanted the five years to start Nov. 3, 1961, the day he became acting secretary-general, so that the acting secretary-generalship would be wiped off the books.

SAME THING
The sources said the Soviet Union would not agree to this but did agree to a five-year term ending Nov. 3, 1966—the same thing expressed in a different way.

When Thant was named to succeed Hammarskjold, the Soviets insisted that he be titled acting secretary-general because they were on record in favor of replacing the secretary-general eventually by a three-man "troika" board.

The Americans disliked the acting designation but went along to get the vacancy filled.

The Soviets have not publicly withdrawn their proposal for a three-man secretary-generalship, originally made by Premier Khrushchev here in 1960. But they no longer mention it.

Club Makes Plans For Annual Party

Big Spring Kiwanis Club's annual Christmas party for the boys and girls who live in the vicinity of Westside Park is set for noon Dec. 20, it was announced Thursday by J. C. Pickle, club president.

Each Kiwanian has been supplied with the name and age of two children who are to be at the Christmas party. Each Kiwanian is to buy gifts for the children.

At noon, Dec. 20, all Kiwanians will go to the community house at the park where sandwiches and cold drinks will be served. The club members and their young guests will eat together. Santa Claus is to arrive shortly after lunch and distribute the gifts.

John Taylor, Big Spring implement dealer and cotton farmer, was speaker Thursday. He was presented by Jimmy Taylor, agricultural representative of the First National Bank, who explained the program was a part of the observation of Farm and City Week in Big Spring. This program, he said, was established on a national basis by the Kiwanis International.

John Taylor said that the biggest problem before the farmer today is government regulation. He added that farmers are struggling to release themselves from this control and return to a free market. The effort is making some gains, he said.

Farmers, he pointed out, have the highest capitalization per capita of any comparable enterprise. In this part of the country, he said, no farmer would attempt to make a go of a farm of less than half a section. And, he added, it takes "a good businessman and a lot of hard work to succeed on a half-section farm." Half a section of suitable farm land would cost at least $48,000. In order to operate the farm, the farmer must have machinery requiring heavy investment.

And on top of that, Taylor remarked, he must gamble his whole year's effort on the kind of weather that may occur.

He mentioned the recently organized cotton institute financed by growers through a program of self-taxation and how this agency seeks to offset the competition to cotton posed by synthetics. Bruce Dunn was general program chairman for the day.

U Thant Sends Military Adviser To Congo Area

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Acting Secretary-General U Thant sends his chief military adviser to the Congo today to tighten pressure on Katanga President Moise Tshombe and try to end the secession of the province.

Thant ordered Brig. I. J. Rikhye to relay to the U.N. Congo Command his new tough policy against Tshombe and to bolster the U.N.'s military position in the rebellious province.

Rikhye was to consult with U.N. field commanders on deployment of new planes, anti-aircraft units and ground troops that U.N. members have offered to help beef up the U.N. military force in the Congo. Italy is sending four jet fighter planes to the Congo. Sweden has offered four fighters and two reconnaissance planes.

Rikhye, an Indian, also planned to go to New Delhi to seek retention of some 5,500 Indian troops, the largest contingent in the U.N. force of 18,000 men. India has said they may have to be pulled out to help in the fight against Communist China.

Thant made clear he is embarking on a tougher policy toward Tshombe in a lengthy report to the Security Council. It called for such measures as a U.N. boycott of Katanga's copper and cobalt exports, a transport blockade and suspension of mail and wire communications.

Robert K. A. Gardiner, Thant's Congo chief, stressed in the report that new emphasis would be placed on more drastic measures.

Gardiner, who has been consulting here with Thant and other U.N. officials, charged that mercenaries in Tshombe's employ were continuing to carry out warlike actions. He called on Tshombe to show good faith and seek to offset the competition to Leopoldville to swear allegiance to the central government.

Thant's report was issued in the wake of moves by the United States and Belgium to strengthen his hand in dealing with the provincial leader. The two nations affirmed that severe economic pressures will be exerted against Tshombe if he continues to balk at Thant's plan.

Soldiers Seek Office To Quit Service

LONDON (AP)—Running for a seat in Parliament is the latest thing in Britain's armed forces. The military candidates don't expect to win—it's the cheapest way to get out of uniform.

A young lieutenant started it by putting himself before the electors of Middlesbrough at a special election this summer.

Now a dozen soldiers—and more—are ready to stand at a special election in the Yorkshire steel town of Rotherham.

Most British soldiers enlist for 9 or 11 years. If they want to break the contract, they have to pay the government up to 250 pounds ($700).

British law says that any soldier who wants to stand for Parliament must be discharged. And running for Parliament costs only a deposit of 150 pounds ($420) which is returned to the candidate if he wins more than one eighth of the votes.

Eleven soldiers escaped to civvy street that way this month. None of them won. They didn't want to. But they got a few votes.

At Chippenham last week three reluctant soldiers captured 600 votes among them out of 36,498 cast.

Rotherham's election is scheduled for March. City officials say 12 servicemen already have entered their names and they expect more.

"Goodness knows how many candidates we'll have by election time," one official said. "As far as I know there's no limit on the number of candidates who can stand."

Service ministers are studying ways of plugging the loophole. The law probably will be changed to permit any serviceman to run for Parliament—if he buys himself out of his military contract.

Strike Talkers Back In Conference

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and its aerospace workers today went back to work—and back to the conference table—after a brief strike was ended at least temporarily.

Government intervention halted picketing after two days. But union leaders vow they'll strike again if demands for a union shop vote aren't met.

The company says it won't weaken its firm stand against the vote.

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Voided absentee ballots pushed Democrat George McGovern into a 481-vote lead over incumbent Republican U.S. Sen. Joe Bottum with 50 of the state's 67 counties Thursday night completing recounts of ballots from the Nov. 6 election.

PRAYER: O Father of all mankind, we are grateful that Isaiah the prophet and Jesus Christ Thy Son called Thy house "a house of prayer for all the nations." We bless Thee for the times that Thou hast met with us there. May we so reverence the place where we are accustomed to meeting with Thee that it shall be easy for others to find Thee, too. We ask this in the name of Jesus. Amen.

The Tax Commission Report

The Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy this week came up with a list of 20 recommendations for changing the new state sales tax law.

One of the proposals is to eliminate the exemption on clothing and to include motor vehicle sales under the regular 2 per cent levy. Other recommended changes were in the interest of making the law simpler to administer, said the committee.

If the changes are made, principally on clothing and on motor vehicles sales, an estimated 10.5 million dollars will be added to state revenues per annum.

In the same report, the observations of the Texas Research League were to the effect that no new taxes will be needed if spending increase is held to 50 million dollars by the legislature (or 65 million if the proposed changes are made).

This report is of more than passing interest inasmuch as it may influence the legislative outlook regarding taxes. More than that, it is a straw in the wind that there likely will be no major tampering with the sales tax law. Previously there had been a lot of clamor to half the rate and apply it to everything, but the report reflects no solid support for this position.

It is quite possible that the fiscal outlook will be one of hold-the-line, and that only the items of urgency such as more support for higher education will stand to receive substantially greater support. The growth factor will absorb most of the increase margin specified by the Texas Research League.

Unmerited Advantage

The new postal rates law grants Rural Electrification Cooperatives the 1.8-cent postage rate. This compares with the regular 4-cent rate. The special low rate was previously granted to non-profit groups such as church organizations, labor unions, scientific groups, etc.

Among the cooperatives across the nation there are publications with a circulation of some 3,000,000. Investor-owned companies have complained justifiably that this puts the cooperatives in a position to spread their message at a fourth of the postal cost to private concerns wishing to do the same.

Postal officials have contended that three successive 10 per cent increases in the postal rates for this type of material will still not cover actual costs, although the $9,800,000 added in the first year will grow to $27,400,000 the third year. Many small publications are beset by costs and can ill afford added postal burdens, yet they will be called upon to subsidize rates for institutions which are in the main far stronger financially.

This is not a necessary element in the service cooperatives were intended to perform. As a growing business, it is not unreasonable to ask that they bear the same share of load as other businesses. The special consideration apparently was put into the law after the public hearing on rate structure. When Congress reconvenes, it ought to be taken out.

Political Uncertainty In Germany

WASHINGTON — The rules of the game of representative government in West Germany are so fouled up that probably even Chancellor Adenauer himself would be hard pressed to say whether he is going to be able to quiet the strife among the warring political tribes and restore a stable regime.

IT BEGAN with the attempt of the Adenauer government to suppress the news magazine Der Spiegel by arbitrary arrest of the editors and sealing of the Spiegel offices. The offense of Der Spiegel (The Mirror) was publication of a document showing the grave weakness of the West German divisions in the NATO exercise Fallex 62.

For Franz Josef Strauss, Adenauer's Minister of Defense, this was renewal of attack by an old enemy. Der Spiegel and Strauss, a vigorous and unrelenting foe, have conducted a lengthy feud. While at first denying any part in the action, Strauss later admitted that he had personally telephoned Madrid to insure the arrest of the reporter who wrote the article and who was on vacation there. This seemed to underscore his close relationship with the Franco dictatorship, which had come to light when Strauss initiated secret negotiations for German training bases in Spain.

TO GIVE HIM a free hand in forming a new government after the Spiegel explosion Adenauer accepted the resignation of all his ministers, including the Free Democrats on whose support the coalition depends. The theory was that a new government would be formed with the troublesome Strauss eliminated.

But now in provincial elections in his native Bavaria the Strauss party, the Christian Social Union, has gained rather than lost strength, as had been expected. The upward swing for the CSU was two per cent over 1958. At the same time the Socialists gained five per cent and the smaller parties lost heavily.

DOES THIS MEAN that Adenauer cannot ask Strauss to step aside? The Bavarians have been called the Texans of Germany and they are said to have resented the idea that their man in Bonn would be sacrificed in the interests of harmony.

Contrary to first reports, based on what was apparently a superficial sampling of opinion, many Germans have been deeply disturbed by what is happening. Most of the press, students in many university centers as well as numerous citizens in letters to the newspapers have expressed their disquiet and their concern for freedom of expression. The haunting fear of a return of the old authoritarianism is reflected in much of the protest.

WHAT HAS BEEN scarcely touched on is the substance of Der Spiegel's allegations—that the West German forces were shown to be woefully unready in almost every department. The government has not denied the charge, merely saying that if the "facts" as printed in Der Spiegel were proved to be true then publication would be treason.

It is here that American policy comes up against the paradox of Adenauer's policy-makers here have strongly resented the intimation out of Bonn from time to time that Washington will not stand up to the Soviet threat in Berlin and that the Kennedy Administration is too ready to negotiate concessions to Moscow.

THIS HAS COME while Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has been rapidly pressing the buildup of America's conventional forces so that aggression can be met by means other than all-out nuclear war. Five full-strength American divisions are maintained in Germany. At the same time McNamara has been urging Germany, Britain and France to increase their conventional forces more rapidly. This effort has been largely in vain.

If reports out of Bonn can be credited, Strauss believes that the German divisions must have tactical nuclear weapons and therefore he would not be too concerned over the poor showing of forces in maneuvers without such weapons. France maintains one and a half under-strength divisions with World War II equipment in Germany. The French drive to build an independent national nuclear deterrent is so costly that little is left over for the conventional force.

ACCENTUATING the German paradox is the fact that while Adenauer, Strauss and others talk hard, the trade between West Germany and the Communist bloc has steadily increased in marked contrast with the restraints put on American traders. The two-way trade between West and East Germany is at an annual volume of $500,000,000. The big contracts which Krupp and other Rhineland industrialists negotiated in Moscow in 1958 have meant a rapid rise in exports to the Soviet Union. Germany is buying more than 2,000,000 tons of Soviet oil a year.

The hard line may be a useful political device inside Germany. But the status of the Western alliance and the strains put on it call for something more.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The abuse of congressional privilege is nowhere better illustrated than in the annual spate of overused junkets to which the members so freely treat themselves at this time of year. . . . All expenses are paid by the government, including night clubs, alpine resorts and mementoes for the folks back home. . . . Congress should impose upon its own members some of the same standards of responsibility it so piously demands of the executive department. It could begin by requiring probative justification for all overseas travel and a rigorous public accounting of funds spent. . . .

When A Reporter Retires

WASHINGTON (AP)—At 65 Harold Oliver weighs 120 pounds, about as much as he ever weighed. He's not tall. He looks like a neat businessman who always keeps his desk clean.

But when he leaves The Associated Press today he carries a lot of American history into the future with him.

There were the trips, or days at the White House, with all the presidents from Coolidge to Eisenhower or poker with Roosevelt; the draft numbers in both world wars; the political conventions; trips with "Skullcap Charley" Bryan.

WASHINGTON was a different city when he went to work for The AP here in 1913. The street cars didn't run after midnight. At three in the morning when he had to roller-skate home through the quiet neighborhood, cops told him to cut out the clattering.

IN BETWEEN the two wars Oliver and the world grew up. He was part of the death vigil on President Wilson. He made one trip with Coolidge. What sticks in his mind is that Coolidge had a big breakfast of steak and pancakes. He made a trip with Harding to cover a polo match when he didn't know anything about polo or much about Harding, either.

There was the night in 1924 when the car of Charles W. Bryan, governor of Nebraska and Democratic vice presidential candidate, collided on a campaign trip with a car containing two young couples. Bryan went to their homes, got their parents up, and lectured them for letting their daughters stay out so late.

OLIVER SLEPT in the same railroad car with Bryan who used to sleep in a black skullcap. Everybody called him "Skullcap Charley" but Bryan didn't know it.

In 1928, Oliver traveled the country with Al Smith in his campaign for the presidency. It was rugged. Smith always had prepared speeches but threw them away. They interfered with what he wanted to say. Twelve newsmen went down sick.

One of his worst days was in 1937 when Roosevelt suddenly hit newsmen with 12,000 words of text on a plan to reorganize the Supreme Court.

His most memorable days in all these years was April 12, 1945, when Roosevelt died at Warm Springs, Ga. Oliver was there. In 1960, on a weekend covering the White House, he got a heart attack. Life for him slowed down after that. His doctor wouldn't let him get involved in excitement any more.

That was why his friends with whom he had worked so many years in the AP office couldn't give him a party when he retired today after 49 years' service, longer than anyone now employed by the world-wide organization.

THEY ARRANGED to gather around his desk at 3:30 p.m., give him a present, and wish a long and happy life. He and his wife, Myrtle, whom he married 37 years ago, have a house in Washington. But the doctor won't even let him rake up leaves. Nevertheless, he's looking forward to being home.

Myasthenia Gravis Is A Mysterious Disease

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please tell me the why and wherefore of myasthenia gravis. My daughter has it. She takes a drug daily but can never miss a dose or she becomes quite weak—MRS. S.E.

"Myasthenia" means muscle weakness and "gravis" means severe.

The disease has also been called "The fatigue that rest won't cure."

Although it has been known for 300 years, no effective treatment was found until 1929 when a woman, an victim, taking ephedrine for a sinus condition, noticed that it helped her fatigue.

Since then neostigmine, and derivatives of it and ephedrine, have been added.

We don't know what causes the disease. The muscles and the nerve trunks are normal, studies show. The present concept is that a chemical defect occurs at the point at which nerves are supposed to transmit impulses to the muscles. With myasthenia gravis, the muscle does not respond, hence the weakness.

Again for unknown reasons, the disease attacks young females more often than older ones. Contrarily, more older males than young ones are affected.

The extreme fatigue usually affects certain muscle groups. Drooping (fatigued) eyelids give a sleepy look. There can be extreme weariness from chewing, difficulty in swallowing, exhaustion from climbing stairs or just walking.

The degree of fatigue varies a good deal. There may also be unexplained improvement, then relapse.

Rest and keeping muscular exertion at a minimum help, but regular use of drugs is essential to improve muscle tone. In women under 40, if the disease is not too severe, removal of the thymus gland brings favorable results but I cannot suggest any reason for this. Hormones, vitamins, special diets, antihistamines and a variety of other things have been tried but appear to have no effect on the ailment.

Using the modern drugs, patients have a favorable outlook but they must never be without the medications.

The Myasthenia Gravis Foundation in New York, by the way, is doing much to foster study and research relating to this mysterious problem.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it dangerous to wash the dishes of a cancer patient with those of the rest of the family?—Mrs. H. J.

No danger, as cancer is not a contagious disease.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is leukoplakia? Is it the forerunner of leukemia, or a type of cancer?—E.H.

It has no connection with leukemia. It is a whitish discoloration which can appear on any mucous membrane: Mouth, tongue, vagina, rectal area. It can be a forerunner of cancer and hence worth watching if it starts.

It often develops from chronic irritation, such as from smoking, especially a pipe. If the condition is found to be intensifying, a biopsy will show whether cancer is present and it then can be removed at a very early stage.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Around The Rim

Double Jeopardy

It started back in 1776, and has been cropping up periodically ever since.

The latest eruption finds two Air Force men—a colonel and an airman—caught in the legalistic injustice of double jeopardy. The colonel is being tried by courts-martial on a charge of murder, and a civil court is awaiting its chance to try him on the same charge. The airman, released by a civil court from a murder charge upon the confession of a civilian ex-convict, has been re-arrested by the Air Force and now faces a courts-martial on the same charge.

THE WAY THE LAW now stands, it is conceivable that the airman and the ex-convict might hang for the same crime, although they have no mutual relationship and only one of them is guilty. And the officer could receive penalties from two separate courts—or be acquitted by one and tried by the other.

The actual particulars of these two cases are beside the point. But they once again bring to our attention the injustice foisted off on American soldiers since the beginning of the American Republic. The primary argument had been between the demands of military discipline, as evolved through the experience of professional European armies, and the demands of Constitutional equality before the law, which in 1776 had not had sufficient time for evolution into protection for the professional soldier.

MANY ATTEMPTS have been made to refine the American military code of justice, to take away what once was an absolute power of life or death from the hands of military commanders, and place that power in the hands of a civil court which operates under all the protections of the Constitution.

Much progress already has been made, particularly since World War II, when millions of citizens suddenly found themselves jerked out from underneath the Constitution which had protected them from birth in their rights to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. The veterans brought back with them many bitter memories of injustices arising out of power in the hands of some of their fellow soldiers. In fact, it is veterans and veterans organizations who bear much of the credit for re-assessments of the military code of justice.

YET, AS THE TWO cases cited at the beginning of this article illustrate, soldiers still are subject to various forms of double jeopardy. It is a situation which undermines morale of other servicemen and leaves a sour taste on the tongues of ex-servicemen.

One proposed solution was offered several years ago—that in all military charges which might result in prison terms or death penalties, the cases be moved to federal civilian courts. A parallel solution, one which would make the former possible, is in a Constitutional amendment guaranteeing to soldiers all the legal rights they had enjoyed as civilians.

AFTER ALL, the original code of military justice grew directly out of the Middle Ages, and concerned a soldiery which was enlisted for life under a system that amounted to legal slavery.

American tradition does not arise from the Middle Ages. There is no reason why our military code of justice should arise from anything except American tradition. —BOB SMITH

Happy Cash Is Here Again

Read the newspapers and you, too, can be fascinating. (Institutional advt.)

My next dinner partner is going to be electrified with the news (found in my daily paper) that there is a large group of rugged individualists in this nation who still pay for their meals with cash.

WITH CASH! How quaint! For the past 10 years, personal observation had convinced me that this custom was one with the chaperon or the high-button shoe. I had come to believe that all diner-outers came pre-packaged with credit cards and ball-point pens.

So it is astounding to realize that there are places in this great nation where individuals, confronted with the tab, reach into their pockets for actual money instead of a marker.

THESE PERSONS, not to beat around the bush any further, are school kids. Probably they are a little young yet for personalized credit cards despite the fact they make a daily shambles of the school parking lot with their convertibles.

Kids still pay cash for their school lunches. That is one of the reasons the United States is short of small change, i.e., nickels, dimes, quarters (called "two bits" when I was a nipper) and fifty-cent pieces. (Read all about it in the newspapers, too.)

HERE I WAS, worrying about the nation being short of $1,000 bills with which to balance the budget and start paying off the national debt—and all the time I have been worrying too BIG! The real worry is the lack of small change, say the big boys at the U.S. Bureau of the Mint.

Not only kids, but slot machines and vending machines use up more small change than the various mints can manufacture. People like myself who have been saying that the nickel isn't worth a hot any longer are crazy. Kids and vending machines can't get enough of 'em! A nickel may not buy a cuppa coffee any longer in Joe's Bar and Grill. But, oh, you vending machines! It may not taste like coffee, but that's what it sells for, and for a nickel to boot.

BUT EVEN THE MINT doesn't seem to know what else is happening to silver change. East and West, everyone suddenly wants silver dollars—the old cart wheel of the West—says Mrs. Eva Adams, Director of the Mint. Once only the West wanted a pocket full of money that felt like money, weighed like money and had a fine ring when dropped on a counter.

The mint and Mrs. Adams apparently don't realize how much small change and big cart wheels are going into the making of jewelry. This sucker has just paid two dollars for a pair of "lucky" cuff links made of two buffalo nickels. That is, there's a buffalo nickel on each cuff link. The advertisement says that when gentlemen want to settle an argument, they can take off their cuff links and say "heads or tails" and toss them.

FURTHERMORE, I have just parted with another five dollars for a money clip made with a big silver dollar. The blurb for this promises that the happy individual who has such a money clip will never be broke. (At least, not until he pries the cart wheel loose from its mounting and becomes the last of the big spenders.)

Easy come, easy go. And the silver lobby ought to be in seventh heaven.

Uncertainty Hurting Business

WASHINGTON—Everyone who knows anything about the operations of American businesses knows that uncertainty is the biggest barrier of all to careful planning.

Uncertainty is increasing. There is talk of a tax cut. There is talk of tax "reform" which will add to various expenses and wipe out certain deductions. There is talk of a tightening of interest rates. There is talk of large deficits in the Treasury—possibly the largest in peacetime. There is talk of a bigger and bigger outflow of gold from this country and a serious impact on the value of the dollar abroad.

ON TOP OF this is the talk of a 35-hour week and higher wage demands, which, in turn, has led to talk of raising prices soon after the tax cut occurs and "spending" is stimulated.

All the talk adds up to more and more uncertainty about the future. For several months now the trend has been characterized as deflationary. Now there are fears of inflation.

What is lacking, of course, is a broad-gauged approach that will bring stability and allow for some long-range planning. But politically minded persons in Washington are, for the time being, interested only in what kind of condition will prevail in the economy 20 months from now when the next presidential campaign will be under way.

SO THE USUAL course in politics is being followed—the same thinking as prevailed in the 1930's, when the emphasis was on the slogan "spend and spend, tax and tax, and elect and elect." But it didn't cure unemployment then. Government spending helped to increase consumer spending, but it didn't encourage the heavy-goods industries.

Today the administration has gone back to the policies that failed in the 1930's. Stress is again placed on consumer spending. The tax cut is to be "across the board" with the biggest reductions probably in the lower brackets. The expectation is that people in the upper brackets—who will get some reduction in tax rates—will promptly invest their money to enable companies to add new plant and equipment.

BUT THE INADVERTIBLE fact is that today there is no lack of money to invest. There is instead a lack of will to invest. The monopoly power of labor is so strong that it threatens the whole system of planning for a fair rate of profit out of which a reasonable dividend rate can be paid.

Congress, of course, is expected to grant the President's request for a tax cut because this is supposed to be politically popular. But increasing consumer spending will not change the business picture or prevent an increase in unemployment. In this age of technological improvement, the need is for better equipment. But unless a large volume of sales is in sight and the national economy, in all its segments, can improve, the risks of expansion will not be taken and the unemployment situation will not improve.

TODAY, according to official figures, personal incomes have risen to record heights. But somehow this doesn't help, for instance, to recover jobs for the nearly 100,000 workers in the steel industry who have been thrown out of work ever since the administration began tampering with the price structure.

It looks now as if the tax-cut legislation may be enacted sometime in the spring of 1963, and the full effects probably will not be felt until later in the year. But also during 1963, if a general tax "reform" bill is passed, there are many businesses which will be hurt. Lots of individuals will have deductions taken look only at the saving obtained in their own over-all tax rate will discover that they have had an increase in taxable income due to the so-called "reforms."

WHAT CAN BE done to bring prosperity? The answer lies in one word—stability. If tax rates, wage rates and interest rates were stabilized, and if political misuse of government funds called "welfare spending" were discontinued and the budget balanced, business would gradually increase its rate of profit, investors would be encouraged, and job creation—the biggest need of the country today—would be given its greatest impetus in decades.

Cellars Of Heidelberg Visited By The Ashleys

(This is the last in a series of accounts of her European tour by Mrs. Lynette Ashley who has been a Herald correspondent—Ed.)

In Heidelberg we saw the university, and through softly falling snow we walked the carefully tended grounds of Schloss-Heidelberg, a palace overlooking the city. We ventured down into the musty old wine cellar, and saw the huge oaken barrels which had held the king's wine. The small barrels have a capacity of ten thousand gallons and one giant held fifty thousand gallons.

In early times the peasants paid their taxes in a liquid form. One tenth of their vineyards' yield found its way into these barrels. The pipeline which carried wine directly to the king's apartments above was still in place after all these years. Part of the privilege of royalty—hot and cold running wine.

TIME IS SHORT

In Cologne we left the river and turned toward the west. Our time is almost gone and so is Gebhard's leave. Our few remaining days will be spent in Bitburg with relatives, Bruce and Lee Hogue.

Bitburg, like all the other towns where American bases are located, is as completely different from the Germany we have seen as daylight from darkness. It seems as if any small town in the States had been somehow transported across the sea and set down intact. One has no feeling of being in a foreign land at all.

Gebhard left us here and started back to the northern city where he is stationed. There are many of the German boys and their wives that we wanted to visit, but most of them are in the northern section, and the distance is too great for the time we have. We were able to see Gebhard leave, but we expect to see him again in the not too distant future. He has been thoroughly indoctrinated concerning Texas, and will be coming back at the first opportunity.

Our date of departure is almost too short, for no one could really get acquainted with this or any other country in a month's time. But we take with us memories and impressions that will linger through the years. We have been privileged to see a side of Germany which many travelers never see. And we are grateful to the boys for the hospitality they have shown us. They have opened doors and paved a way for us to places we could never have seen otherwise.

The Germans have a saying that "There are two sides to every coin," and nowhere is this more true than here. One side is the new and the modern; the hustle bustle of the city; the building and modeling which is going on everywhere; the widening of roads and bridges; the raucous sound of "twist" music and everywhere—people in a hurry. Yet on the other side there is sharp and vivid contrast; the very old pages from history books which seem to live before your eyes; the ancient walled cities; palaces and castles and cathedrals of an era long past; the slow unhurried pace of the farmer and the peace and quiet of the forests.

Let's I give the wrong impression, there were some things which we did not care for at all. The maddening snarl of traffic on the main highways is terrible. Also, the country is much too crowded. I could never be happy under such crowded conditions. Germany is not nearly as large as Texas, but the population is seven or eight times as great.

Another thing I do not like to see is young people, barely in their teens, doing the job of an adult. Only eight years of schooling are mandatory here. After that time an education becomes costly, and a large percentage of the young people find work rather than continuing their education.

SOUND OF THE BELLS

One thing which will always remind us of Europe will be the sound of the bells. Everywhere we heard them—church bells, clock bells, cow bells, big ones, small ones, some sounding melody, others simply ringing—deep bass tones and high tinkling sounds. Their music filled the air at all hours.

We also like the abundance of good music to be found here. These people have an appreciation of music which is sometimes lacking in our own country. In almost every city one finds the opera, concert, ballet or symphony. There is music for every taste. One of the favorite memories we take with us is that of the magnificent organ concert in Vienna.

And of course we fell in love with the German cooking. We were introduced to many strange and delicious foods and we tried them all. People at home warned us that we would surely be sick from our unusual diet, but nothing of the sort has happened. I wanted to see the Iron Curtain while we were here, but it was impossible. Our friends, in the German Air Force, are not permitted to go anywhere near; however we were conscious of its nearness at times. One night we saw a TV program broadcast from Communism controlled Prague. The program was a musical, quite modern with a talented cast. In fact it was very similar to some of our own programs.

Supreme Court May Rule On Doomed Dog

WASHINGTON (AP)—The highest court in the land has been asked to overrule the conviction of Ricky, a German shepherd dog accused of killing sheep and condemned to death.

Ricky's owner, Jim Laing, of Pearisburg, Va., filed the appeal with the Supreme Court Thursday, and court aides believe it sets a precedent. They can't remember a similar appeal involving a dog in the court's long history.

In his appeal, Laing argued Virginia had denied him due process of the law in trying to deprive him of his property.

Ricky's case—including allegations he was spirited out of the state to avoid execution—has been running since February 1960.

He was found then near the carcass of a ewe in Giles County, Va., and shot. When Ricky recovered he was sentenced to death. State courts upheld the sentence.

Laing contends Ricky was trained to do guard duty and was just standing watch over a ewe killed by other dogs.

A veterinarian's examination failed to find any wool in Ricky's teeth.

Kennedy, Mikoyan Agree To Continue Cuban Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan have agreed that the United States and the Soviet Union will continue negotiations for a final settlement of the Cuban crisis.

But their lengthy White House conference failed to yield any evidence of progress toward agreement on other critical East-West issues.

The President and Mikoyan met for more than three hours late Thursday. U.S. officials had hoped the meeting would produce evidence of change in Soviet policies on arms control, or other global problems, in the wake of the crisis over Cuba.

In this hope, they were apparently disappointed.

White House sources said that from the U.S. point of view the meeting did not provide any surprises—that Mikoyan's discussion of Soviet policies produced nothing of a new or different character.

CHIEFLY ABOUT CUBA

Mikoyan, who just spent three weeks in Cuba, told reporters as he left the President's office shortly before 8 o'clock Thursday night.

"We had an exchange of views with the President on questions of interest to both our countries, chiefly about Cuba. As a result of this conversation, we agreed to issue certain instructions to our representatives in New York—we to our negotiators, and the President will instruct their negotiators—to continue negotiations to finally settle the Cuban question."

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the two men had agreed "that, as a followup of this meeting, the conversations would continue in New York between Ambassador Stevenson, Mr. McCloy and Mr. Kuznetsov."

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and John J. McCloy have been negotiating with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov for several weeks on specific problems involved in easing the U.S.-Soviet confrontation over the installation of Soviet offensive missiles in Cuba.

2 MAIN POINTS

While no details of the conversation were made public, Kennedy presumably emphasized to Mikoyan two main points about the U.S. attitude toward Cuba.

1. That until some kind of on the spot inspection is provided, the United States will continue aerial surveillance over the island.

2. That even though Soviet missiles have been removed, the United States strongly objects to any use of Cuba as a military base by the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Union still has thousands of military technicians and troop units in Cuba and a number of short-range missile bases, including 24 anti-aircraft missile installations, which Kennedy would like to have dismantled.

Whether the negotiations will cover such points as these was not disclosed by officials. If there is to be a final settlement of the Cuban crisis, however, the continuing presence of Soviet forces in Cuba—as distinguished from Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Soviet-armed Cuban forces—would seem to be an important issue to be resolved.

ANASTAS I. MIKOYAN
Lots said, little done

LUNCHEON DATE

Mikoyan was scheduled to have lunch with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other officials at the State Department today and dine tonight with Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, who recently visited the Soviet Union. Mikoyan is due to leave Saturday for Moscow.

The White House conference was a small gathering. On the U.S. side, in addition to Kennedy, were Rusk and Llewellyn Thompson, an administration adviser on Soviet affairs, who recently completed several years as U.S. ambassador to Moscow. Mikoyan was accompanied by Soviet Ambassador Anatolyn Dobrynin. Each side had two interpreters present. Mikoyan spoke in Russian.

U.S. officials said Cuba was the dominant subject of the conference, but they described the discussion as wide-ranging. On specific points they said there was a passing reference to the situation in the Southeast Asian country of Laos, some talk of disarmament, including nuclear testing, but no talk at all of Berlin.

OTHER ISSUES

While Kennedy had planned to deal with Cuba as the central issue of the meeting, he was also reported to believe that the session was a good opportunity for diplomatic probing about the possibility of a breakthrough on deadlocked issues, such as nuclear testing.

He apparently felt that if Soviet Premier Khrushchev wants to work toward an improvement in U.S.-Soviet relations, Mikoyan might throw out some hints to that effect.

The emphasis which White House sources placed on the lack of anything new in Mikoyan's presentation made clear that this had not happened.

Inspection has also proved so far to be the insoluble obstacle for a final settlement of the Cuban crisis, even though Khrushchev committed himself to inspection procedures at the time he agreed to withdraw "offensive weapons" from Cuba.

So far as American officials know, Khrushchev failed to fulfill his commitment because Castro refused to cooperate.

MAJOR THREAT ENDED

The major threat of the U.S.-Soviet confrontation over Cuba ended early this month when Khrushchev pulled out 42 big missiles and later promised to withdraw within 30 days about 30 IL28 jet bombers.

Soviet negotiators in New York are also reported to have told U.S. representatives that Soviet troops would be taken out of Cuba in the immediate future. Dismantling of the anti-aircraft and other short-range missile bases, understood to be under Soviet control, would restore the Cuban situation to about what it was earlier this year before the Soviet military build-up was begun there.

Ransom Given Important Post

DALLAS (AP)—Chancellor Harry Ransom of the University of Texas was named chairman Thursday of the powerful executive council of the commission on colleges serving the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Officers and committeemen were chosen as the association closed a four-day meeting. It was highlighted by a decision putting Mississippi on notice its state colleges and universities will lose academic standing if further outside interference occurs in their internal affairs.

This meant probation for the University of Mississippi, where the educators were told there was political pressure to block the enrollment of Negro student James Meredith this fall.

Ransom heads the nine-member council charged with keeping the Mississippi schools under "continued and careful observation." This gives him authority to send investigators to Mississippi and to call the 53-member commission into special session if he deems it advisable.

"The council will keep in general contact with the University of Mississippi," Ransom said. "We will do anything to help Chancellor (John D.) Williams if the need ever arises again."

Scouts Urge Safety Belts

Area drivers will have a chance to obtain safety belts for their automobiles at a reduced cost Saturday, thanks to a project by Boy Scout Troop 7.

The boys and their leaders will operate Saturday beginning at 9 a.m. at Cosden station, 4th and Gregg. The belts, which come in six colors to match upholstery, will be installed at $6 each, or the boys will sell the belts without installation at $5 each.

Only about 15 minutes will be required to install a set, troop officials estimated.

Safety experts have estimated that the number of traffic fatalities could be reduced by 5,000 in the United States each year if automobiles had safety belts which are used. Studies have shown that a major portion of mishaps occur within a local area, underlining the importance of safety belts for safe town driving.

Killer Of Family Dies On Gallows

LANSING, Kan. (AP)—Lowell Lee Andrews, the "model boy" who said greed led him to murder his family four years ago, died on the gallows today. If he repented his crime, he didn't show it.

Calm and composed, even a bit aloof, Andrews stood silently on the gallows trap, lighted by the glare of a single unshaded bulb.

Warden Sherman H. Crouse asked if he had any last words. "No, I don't believe so," replied the 22-year-old killer, smiling slightly.

The warden repeated the question.

"No," Andrews said flatly. The Protestant chaplain of the State Penitentiary, the Rev. James Post, removed Andrews' glasses. Guards slipped the noose around his neck; the death mask over his face.

Panel Finds For Farmers

PECOS (AP)—A three-man review board decided in favor of two farmers Thursday night after two days of heated testimony in a cotton allotment hearing.

At issue were transactions of Marcus Dingle and his son-in-law, Don Vincent, both of Pecos, with 12 displaced farmers from Hunt County.

The government charged land sales to the farmers by which Dingle and Vincent obtained use of cotton acreage allotments of the farmers were essentially side agreements and thus illegal. Dingle was fined $48,399.94 and Vincent $12,298.45 by the Agriculture Department.

On the board were Keith Morrow and W. T. Merriweather of Alpine and John Wilson of Poyte.

To date there have been 11 hearings on cotton allotment transfers and nine decisions for the farmers. Three more eminent domain transaction cases in West Texas remain to be heard.

Hearings for Frank Coleman and Bill Wallace of Pecos will be held in Fort Stockton. No date has been set.

Neither has a time been set for a hearing on Billie Sol Estes' transactions in Pecos and Reeves Counties. The government began levying allotment penalties after the onetime Pecos financier was arrested on fraud charges.

A CHRISTIAN-COMMUNIST?

DAVID TARRET

"Every religious idea, every idea of God, every flirtation with the idea of God, is unutterable vileness."

Are the words of Ingersoll, Voltaire or Paine? Neither. They are the words of Vladimir Ilyich Lenin, one of the most powerful leaders of the Communist movement ever produced. True Communism is more than a political force. It is essentially an atheistic advance! Khrushchev said: "There is no God. I freed myself long ago from such a concept." K. I. Marx stated that the aim of his life was "to dethrone God. Lenin boasted: "We have struck the kings from the earth; now let us strike the King from the skies."

Can Christianity and Communism be harmonized? Not until light can unite with darkness, life with death, and faith with despair! "Communism is not a foe of the church." Indeed! Communism is dangerous, destructive and hellish!

You are invited to hear the gospel proclaimed at the Northside church of Christ, NE 6th and Runnels. Sunday: Bible Classes 10 A.M.; Worship 11 A.M. and 6 P.M. Wednesday: Classes 7:30 P.M.

Aims At New Record: 425

College Baptist Church is aiming at an all-time attendance goal of 425 in Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. Sunday.

The previous peak attendance was 359. The church is engaged in a revival this week, continuing through Sunday. The Rev. Byron Orand, who recently was called as pastor, is the evangelist, and David Humphrey, minister of music at the First Baptist Church in Hurst, is directing the music.

The church was established June 12, 1885 as a mission of the First Baptist Church and became an independent congregation June 9, 1957 with a membership of 205. It has experienced steady growth and today operates on a $33,000 budget with 395 members. Once since organization as a church, it has enlarged its plant, and now plans are being made to construct a new sanctuary to accommodate 600.

Nuclear Power For Earth-Moving

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States could be using nuclear explosions to blast out harbors and canals at tremendous savings if it were not for political timidity and lack of imagination and enterprise, says Dr. Edward Teller.

Teller, often called the father of the H-bomb, plugged for atomic energy's useful and constructive uses at a news conference Wednesday at the American Nuclear Society meeting.

He said the cost of large earth moving projects would be one-tenth to one-twentieth as expensive by nuclear means.

Pontiff Making Good Recovery

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII is making a good recovery, with medical treatment "obtaining the hoped for results" in his battle against anemia, a Vatican communique said today.

Are So-Called "Bargain" Eyeglasses Really A Bargain?

Have you ever heard this famous quotation: "Quality Is Remembered Long After The Price Is Forgotten"? This is true. Of course, this doesn't mean that real values shouldn't be looked for whenever they truly exist. But, there is a difference in real value and so-called "bargains"...and this is especially true when it comes to eye care and eyewear.

So-called "bargain" eyeglasses may, in fact, not be a bargain at all. Unknown to the purchaser of so-called "bargain" eyeglasses, some important elements could be left out of the lens prescription, or a special type of bifocal or trifocal lens may be omitted, just to cut the cost of making the glasses. These omissions could result in strained eyes, discomfort and improper vision. Also, inferior quality frames might be used which could reduce the wearing comfort as well as the useable life of the glasses.

There is no good reason for risking priceless eyesight and comfort on so-called "bargain" eyeglasses, when real value in professional eye care and eyewear is available at famous

Texas State Optical. For the past 27 years hundreds of thousands of people throughout Texas have learned to rely on TSO for outstanding professional eye care and finest quality eyewear at reasonable cost.

At TSO, your eyes are carefully examined by an experienced Doctor of Optometry...both for internal evidence of disease or defect and for visual abnormalities. If glasses are needed, an accurate prescription is formulated and they are prescribed and fitted to meet your exact visual requirements, and to give you the best vision and utmost comfort. If you need single vision glasses, your cost is as low as $14.85, including examination, finest quality lenses and frame; if you require bifocals, your cost is as low as $17.85, complete, with examination, lenses and frame. Convenient credit is available at no extra cost.

The next time you need professional eye care and finest quality eyewear, see the dependable TSO Doctor of Optometry in whom you can place complete confidence and trust for the care of your eyes and your vision.

Filling The Kettle

Members of the Salvation Army Advisory Board crowded around the Salvation Army Christmas kettle in front of Woolworth's this morning to see who could be the first to help provide a Christmas dinner for Big Spring's needy. The kettles went up downtown today. Left to right are Jack Alexander and Mrs. J. E. Hogan, members of the Christmas Committee of the Advisory Board; Lonnie Coker, chairman of the Advisory Board, and Maj. Robert L. Short, commander of the local post, who was manning the kettle.

Evidences Of Christmas Season Begin To Appear

Evidence of the approach of Christmas continues to arrive bit-by-bit. Today the Salvation Army kettles, which will mean a Christmas dinner to many local families, made their appearance on the scene. Manning the kettles are volunteer civic groups and workers with the Salvation Army Corps. This year the Corps is trying to raise about $2,500-$3,000 to offset the cost of furnishing Christmas baskets for needy families in the area. The first kettles went up on Main Street this morning. A kettle will be placed part-time at the Post Office and supplemental kettles may be obtained for other business areas of the city. "About 100 persons have already applied for the Christmas baskets," Major Robert L. Short, commander of the post, said.

Applications have been received since Tuesday and the cutoff date has been set at Dec. 12. About 300 persons, the same as last year, are expected to be given assistance. Representatives from civic groups will meet at a noon luncheon at the Post to arrange days and hours for members of their groups to man the kettles.

Bishop Sounds Note Of Hope

Bishop Paul V. Galloway sounded a note of hope for Christian advance as he told a large crowd at the First Methodist Church Thursday evening of his experience last summer in the Orient. Bishop Galloway had come here for the closing portions of the annual Big Spring Methodist district conference. It would be folly to underestimate the difficulties and even the dangers in mission work in the Orient, he told his listeners. Yet he said he sensed a groundswell of interest, a real opportunity and challenge for the spread of Christianity in that part of the world. In response to his appeal for missions, over and above that already reported in the district, his listeners raised upwards of $700 in a collection at the service. During the afternoon, Dr. H. Clyde Smith, district superintendent, presided over business sessions in which the 37 churches reported their work. Representatives for the various boards and commissions made their reports and appeals. On hand for the business portion of the conference were 165 delegates from the churches.

Lamesa Council Purchases Building For New City Hall

LAMESA (SC) — Mayor Guy Weekes has announced that the City of Lamesa has contracted to purchase the Burkhead Office Building for $30,000 and indicated it would be converted into a City Hall as soon as possible after the deal is closed. The purchase of the property is being handled with the present owner, E. C. Burkhead, former Lamesa now living in Hot Springs, Ark. The contract with Burkhead calls for the transaction to be completed by Dec. 31, 1962. Included in the $30,000 package, along with the all-masonry 50 by 100 foot brick building, is a three-bedroom house and a lot measuring 140 by 150 feet. Possession of land and buildings, as outlined in the contract, is as soon as possible after the first of the year. Both the house and a portion of the building have tenants. The mayor said that no additional bonds would be required to finance the purchase, which will be made from the general fund.

Highway Work Set For 1963

LAMESA (SC) — The Texas Highway Commission has approved the expenditure of $480,000 for highway improvements in Dawson County during 1963. It was announced by District Highway Engineer O. L. Crain of Lubbock. He said a total of 20.7 miles of highway in the county will be involved. The work will be under the supervision of H. B. Bryan, district maintenance engineer for the county, and A. W. Partain, senior resident engineer of Lamesa. The following improvements were authorized: State Highway 137 from the Terry County line to North 17th Street in Lamesa, reconstruct, grade, structures and surfacing, estimated cost of $474,000 for 18.7 miles; and seal coat two miles from North Seventeenth Street to South Fifteenth Street, estimated cost of $6,000. All offices, except the corporation court, police and fire departments, will be moved from the present City Hall to the new location after improvements are made. Not all of the office space in the Burkhead building will immediately be needed, but the city council has indicated long range plans call for development of the property to include all city functions, including police and fire units.

Awards Are Given To Pack 1 Cubs

Cub Pack 1, with A. J. Hoover as cubmaster, met Thursday at the Airport school with about 50 on hand. Den 1 gave the skit and also won the attendance award. Den 2 served refreshments. Cubs getting awards were Steve Hill, silver arrow point and assistant denner's badge; George Cole, bear badge; Michael Gerhart, gold arrow point; Gary Stuteville, silver arrow point and two-year service pin; Gary Ringener, denner's badge.

Local Herefords Are Rated High

A Howard County Hereford bull sold at Amarillo's annual Hereford sale this week was ruled grand champion animal of all the animals consigned. He was owned by Dr. E. T. Hall and sold for $3,800. The 77 bulls sold at the sale averaged $1,213 and the 23 females averaged $1,085. Charlie Creighton's bull was rated as first in its class and sold for $3,350. Leland Wallace sold one bull for $735. Buchanan Hereford sold three bulls for $750, $690 and $650 and one female for $700. Howard County - South Plains Hereford Association's annual sale is set for Dec. 8, at the Howard County Fair grounds building. A large number of bulls and females from the choice herds of the area have been slated for sale.

First Curtain Tonight For Little Theatre's 'Gazebo'

Director David Guy walked his cast through a dress rehearsal Thursday, the last before "The Gazebo" opens a two-night stand today in the City Auditorium. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. both evenings. Tickets, as well as season memberships, will be available at the ticket office tonight and Saturday. "The Gazebo" is the first play of a four-play season offered by the Big Spring Civic Theatre. Guy's interpretation of the play places the emphasis on the mystery within Alec Coppel's successful Broadway production, however a highlight of the production is Richard Robertson's comedy pantomime scene. As a television writer who is frightened that he may have committed a perfect crime, Robertson probably will please local audiences again with his stage abilities. One of the most pleasing as-

Smith Purchases FHA Residences

E. C. Smith was successful bidder on nine Big Spring residences recently put up for sale by the Federal Housing Administration, Lubbock. Smith was the only bidder on the property. The houses are in the process of being cleaned up and repaired for resale. Some have already been completed and sold. Smith said. This is the first time for local houses to be put on the market under this new program instituted by the FHA.

Fire Destroys House Interior

Big Spring firemen fought a well-started fire in a vacant house at 812 Cherry Thursday afternoon. About 500 feet of hose was used and the shell of the four-room house was saved. "The interior of the house was practically destroyed before we could get it stopped," Chief H. V. Crocker said. "The fire apparently was set by children who were playing in the house. There was one old couch in a room and it was so heavily damaged that it appeared to have been the starting point. A new house next door to the burned one was scorched by the blaze. Crocker said about 20 false alarms had been turned in from the area over the past several months. A trash fire at the rear of 811 Runnels was extinguished at 4 p.m. Thursday with no damage reported.

C. W. Riggs Found Dead

Walter Grice, justice of the peace, said today that it was apparent Charles Wallace Riggs, 50, odd jobs man, died of natural causes shortly after 9 p.m. Thursday at his quarters in the rear of 1205 S. Main. Grice said the man was found on "his bed dead" and there were no signs of violence. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is sending the body to Owensboro, Ky., tonight where interment will be held. A sister, Mrs. Hubert Ritchie, Louisville, Ky., was contacted by the funeral home last night. Mr. Riggs was born Sept. 26, 1912 in Owensboro, Ky. He had been married but was divorced. No information as to how long he had lived in Big Spring or other details were available.

Heart Council Previews Films

Members of the Howard County Heart Council previewed three educational films on the heart and began planning projects for the coming year at a meeting Thursday at the Chamber of Commerce. For 20-year records, six members pin was presented to him by R. W. Thompson, vice president, pipelines and supplies. Pins for 30-year tenures went to Ira Williamson, pumper blender, and John J. Miller, asphalt pumper. C. F. Wakefield, Colorado City refinery superintendent, made the presentations. George Grimes, manager of refineries, handed pins and watches to the 25-year men. They include Maberry Willbanks, special tester; C. G. Harkins and R. J. Wood, testers No. 1; James W. Coker, pumper blender; Warren Goode, vacuum stillman; and Dewey Martyn, asphalt salesman. Jack Alexander, chief asphalt sales engineer, assisted in the presentation to Martyn. Numerous awards were handed out to qualified Cub Scouts at a meeting of Pack 14, sponsored by the Boy Scouts P.T.A. at the High School cafeteria Thursday. They were presented by Cubmaster J. W. Dickens. Den 6 presented a skit to entertain the 152 persons present for the occasion. Den 5 won the attendance award. This month's activity is a Pinata which will be held in Birdwell Park Dec. 1 at 10:30 a.m. Parents of the Cubs have been invited along to watch the fun. Receiving Wolf Badges were Barry Armstrong, Jackie Cunningham, Rocky McIntire and Wayne Nugent. Bear Badges went to James Connor, David Humphrey, Harold Lee, John W. Teague and David Morton. Lloyd Kuykendall received a Lion Badge. George Anderson and Randy Pittman received one year service stars and Jon Rice was awarded the two-year star. with the pro-Western CENTO and SEATO alliances because of the rush of the United States and Britain to build up Indian arsenals. Pakistani critics charge the rapid-fire guns and other weapons eventually will be turned against Pakistan. KEY ISSUE. Kashmir is the key issue. The ruling Hindu marajah of Kashmir, whose 3 1/2 million people are 77 per cent Moslem, decided to join Hindu India in 1947. But Pakistan troops and irregulars invaded the Himalayan border state, and Indians and Pakistanis soon were fighting an undeclared war. Since 1949 U.N. observers have been on watch to uphold a cease-fire, with India in possession of about two-thirds of the country, including Ladakh which is now mostly occupied by the Red Chinese.

Rites Set For Mrs. Brown

Services for Mrs. Willie Mae Brown, 66, wife of E. R. Brown, 604 W. 18th, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in River Funeral Home Chapel. Rev. Dewitt Seago, pastor of First Methodist Church, will officiate and interment will be in the City Cemetery. Mrs. Brown died of a heart attack at 2:47 p.m. Thursday as she drove her car along Fourth Street and had halted at a traffic light near the Shasta Ford Co. Mrs. Brown, a victim of a series of earlier attacks, had lived in Big Spring since 1907. She and Mrs. Jetty DeWayne Henry, a daughter - in - law, were enroute home after taking one of Mrs. Henry's children to the hospital. When Mrs. Brown collapsed, Mrs. Henry called out for help as the car began rolling forward. A passerby halted the vehicle. Mrs. Brown was taken to the Howard County Foundation Hospital by Nalley-Pickle ambulance but was dead on arrival. She was born in Extel, Texas, July 9, 1896. She was married in November 1946 to E. R. Brown, an employee of the Texas & Pacific Railroad here. Survivors, in addition to her husband, include three sons, T. G. Henry, Jerry DeWayne Henry and Elmo Henry, all of Big Spring; three daughters, Mrs. Maybelle Johnson and Mrs. Betty Jones, Big Spring, and Mrs. Elnora Davidson, El Paso; three brothers, J. H. Coats and George Coats, Big Spring, and G. V. Coats, Dallas; two sisters Mrs. F. Airhart, Knott, and Mrs. W. P. Mims, Big Spring. She has three great-grandchildren and 16 grandchildren.

Civic Chorus To Rehearse Tonight

The Big Spring Civic Chorus will meet tonight in the Big Spring High School Choir room for regular rehearsal at 7:30 p.m. The chorus is open to all residents who like to sing, according to Mel Ivey, director. He is also high school choir director. Chorus rehearsals are held regularly on Friday nights and is currently practicing for a Christmas program.

Three Thefts Are Reported

Three thefts and two burglaries were investigated by Big Spring police Tuesday. E. L. Ramirez, reported a tire and wheel taken from his pickup while it was parked at Sam's Bar, 307 NW 4th. Jerry Baker, 605 W. 15th, reported a tire and wheel taken from his pickup at Howard County Junior College. Assistant Principal Harold Bentley told Detective Jack Jones that a piccolo, valued at $150, was taken from the high school band room Monday. The instrument was in a black case. J. M. Ringener, manager of the Rainbo Bread Co., reported a window, screen, and door forced open at 1309 E. 3rd. All desk drawers were ransacked, but nothing was missing. Linda Rodriguez, who lives at the rear of 1204 W. 3rd, told police she had gone to a drive-in theatre and when she returned her television set was missing. The door had been forced open and a vase broken but nothing else was missing.

President Launches Crusade For American Cultural Center

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy led a big closed circuit television audience on the beginning of a $30-million culture crusade Thursday night.

He told the nation that when the dust of centuries has passed the United States "will be remembered not for our victories and defeats in battle or in politics, but for our contribution to the human spirit."
He was joined by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, tuned in from Augusta, Ga., in a non-partisan appeal for funds to build a national cultural center here. "A mecca for art," Eisenhower called it. He said it could give everyone who comes to Washington a better appreciation of America.

Kennedy opened the show—an extravaganza of the arts from ballet and drama to concert stage, Negro spiritual and poetry, all donated by the artists.
He said "as always, art knows no national boundaries" and "genius can speak at any time and the entire world will hear."
But hearing was a big problem at the huge National Guard Armory, where a sellout crowd of 5,000 paid $100 for dinner and the show. Despite elaborate acoustical plans, much of the audience had trouble hearing throughout the program, which ran 45 minutes over its scheduled two hours.

By the time the telecast ended at 12:12 a.m., more than half of the armory audience had departed, including Kennedy's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sargent Shriver.
And comedian Danny Kaye, starting his routine at 11:40 p.m., quipped, "You know when I came here tonight I was a young man."
Kennedy had come from a more than three hour White House conference with Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan. He rose and stretched once midway through the program.

Eisenhower, who was to close the show, was kept up late at his Augusta Country Club vacation spot where a glittering southern banquet hall was created for the $50-a-plate dinner.

An audience estimated at 150,000 tuned in on the closed-circuit pageant in 65 cities, paying entry fees from $1 to $100. It was hoped the night's efforts would raise one million dollars—just a fraction of what's needed for the cultural center.

Prior to the program several construction company representatives reported they were hailed to a White House meeting on Nov. 20—when ticket sales were lagging—Kennedy strongly urged them to buy $1,000 tables. One man who was present said the President

"frankly was strong arming us." A White House source said the President had appeared at two meetings of local people concerned with the program, and that both had been announced.

The performing stars, tuned in from stages in five cities, included conductor Leonard Bernstein, pianist Van Cliburn, comedian Bob Newhart, singer Marian Anderson, actor Fredric March and poet Robert Frost.
Sitting at the head table in Washington, Kennedy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson all had a big laugh at comedian Hal Holbrook's comment that Washington is a place for culture, but no place for a cultured Presbyterian.

And Eisenhower responded with a huge and delighted grin at the performance of Chinese cellist Yo-Yo Ma, 7, and his sister, Yeou-Cheng Ma, 11.

Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Eisenhower, both honorary co-chairmen of the cultural center, participated. Mrs. Kennedy, in a brief comment, said she hoped by spring ground would be broken for the center "for that will be a reward to all who have worked so hard for tonight, and it will be an encouragement to all of us who must keep on working until the center truly exists."

'Meaningful Drama' Raises Questions, Gives No Answers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Radio-TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Sarnoff, board chairman of the National Broadcasting Co., occasionally fires off a communique to the nation's television editors, and the most recent one, this week, dealt with "meaningful drama."

As a case in point, Sarnoff used a recent episode of the NBC "Eleventh Hour" series (that's the Wednesday night show about psychiatry and psychology). It dealt with a 15-year-old girl who had gotten, to use an old-fashioned phrase, in trouble.

He noted that, although the theme appeared daring, it was handled with responsibility and good taste and that the network later received requests from schools, churches and PTA groups for prints to show teen-agers and their parents.

Armed with Sarnoff's definition of "meaningful drama" ("dealing with mature subjects, controversial themes or problems of direct pertinence to real people in real life," I tuned in this week's episode of "The Eleventh Hour."

It was the story of a 19-year-old boy charged with the rape-murder of a classmate.

The story opened as the boy, with blood on his hands and a strange look on his face, was running away from the body of the girl. But in the end, it turned out that he hadn't done it at all—that he was a sensitive lad suffering all sorts of trauma because he had had an aggressive, demanding father who had tried to get him to kill a rabbit when he was 11.

It seems to this viewer, who has been exposed to short courses in psychiatry, surgery and internal medicine during the past couple of seasons, that television drama is getting less dramatic as it goes in, more and more, for enacting case histories. (There was a period when novel writers, led by May Sinclair around the turn of the century, went through this "case history" phase, too.)

Sarnoff ticks off a few of the themes treated in NBC programs this year—including intolerance, juvenile delinquency, an expectant mother's fear of childbirth, a young child's hostility to an older brother.

I have seen so many sordid situations explored on television in the past two seasons that it would be easy to believe that most children hate their parents, that most parents are too demanding or too unconcerned, that most people solve their problems by alcohol, drugs, homicide or suicide. Old dramatic themes are dressed up with sick characters seeking revenge for imaginary wrongs, burdened with senseless fears, strange compulsions. I've gotten so inured to "meaningful drama" that I accept stories dealing with abortion, narcotic addiction and juvenile gang warfare as routine.

They are presented as entertainment, these dreary case histories. But for the most part they don't have a climax—they merely raise questions to which, to date, no one seems to have found answers.

RR Commission To Study Testimony On Gas Rules

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission will begin study soon of two days of testimony on gas allocation rules for the rich Port Acres (Lower Hackberry) Field in Jefferson County.
The hearing ended Thursday with testimony from Miller Walker, legislative representative for the Texas Landowners & Independent Producers Association, and Eddie Gray Jr., representing Gray Oil Co.

Walker said he visited 800 small tract owners in the field and he wanted to protect their mineral rights and "fight for their neighbors' rights to develop their minerals to the fullest extent."

Asked whether he was ever offered a chance to enter a pooling agreement with other operators, Gray said he offered to pool with Peterson Henderson Oil Co. "and they didn't take it."

Peterson Henderson, Pan American Petroleum Corp., Michel Halibouty of Houston and Meredith & Co. requested the hearing after the State Supreme Court invalidated the field's "one-third, two-thirds" allocation rule. This based production one-third on field production percentage and two-thirds on acreage.

The applicants requested a formula based on net acre-foot of gas pay and on sand thickness maps or else on the net of pay sand in each well multiplied by acreage.

Small tract owners did not seek any specific allocation formula, but all requested special allowances to recover production costs before the field is depleted.

BUT SUBURBIA MARCHES ON

Lad Loses Canyon, Writes President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Not very long ago practically every boy had his "canyon" — a magical place that in a twinkling became battlefield or jungle.

Scott Peter Turner, 7, of San Diego, Calif., had just such a place where he hunted lizards, where he could play games or just be a boy.

Like thousands of other canyons, Scott's was gobbled up by a housing project when his back was turned.

It was a sad discovery and Scott hurried home and taking pencil in hand printed this plea to President Kennedy:

"Dear Mr. President, We have no place to go out in the canyon because there are going to build houses so could you set aside some land where we could play? Thank you four listening love Scott."

Scott's father added an accompanying note to "emphasize the honest motivation which drove him (Scott) to seek help from the highest power of the land."

His son, he wrote, had gone off to some previously open land to hunt lizards, only to find one area had been pre-empted by a field restricted to organized play and beyond that other "canyons" had been taken over by home construction.

"In complete defeat, anger and frustration he ran home, demanded paper and pencil and put a determined hand to his letter of protest," the father wrote.

"In building our progressive world of supervised play and sterilized playthings we seem to have forgotten that a youth needs trees and frogs and earth with ants in it—and time for uninterrupted observations of the path he treads."

"Isn't it nostalgically sad when, in an era of seemingly intellectual advancement and highly civilized progress, a little boy can't find a place to play?"

Secretary of Interior Stewart L.

Udall was assigned the job of replying to Scott. He made public the exchange Thursday.

"The President sent your letter to me to answer because the feelings you expressed so well in your letter are his feelings too, and I am the man he has appointed to try to correct the conditions which are making you unhappy."

"President Kennedy and I have a great awareness of the needs

November Ends Cloudy And Mild

By The Associated Press
Texas closed out November with mostly cloudy and milder than usual weather.

Skies were overcast in all sections early Friday except for a clear patch around Abilene and partly cloudy conditions in South Central Texas. There was fog in the San Angelo area.

Occasional showers or light rain were predicted for Northwest and Southwest Texas during the evening. Otherwise little change was in prospect.

Thursday's top temperatures ranged from 51 degrees at Amarillo up to 76 at Brownsville.

Readings early Friday varied from 40 at Junction to 60 at McAllen.

you feel—the need to be able to hunt lizards and follow ants and maybe just lie in the sun on your back and watch the changing shapes of clouds—all alone."

Udall pointed out that the last Congress had established three new national seashores, including Point Reyes in California which has "wide sand beaches, wind-swept caves, forests and lots of room for a wide-eyed boy."

"I am more sorry than I can say that you lost your canyon playground," Udall concluded. "I hope you will be able to find another one not too far away."

Scott was pleased with the reply.

"Good," he told a newsman. "Now we're getting somewhere." And how did the whole business start? Explained Scott: "This gang of mine, we were going to catch a lizard to scare a girl."

Bill Of Rights Observance Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has called on Americans as "trustees of freedom" to mark the 171st anniversary of the Bill of Rights Dec. 15.

In a proclamation issued Thursday Kennedy also designated Dec. 10 as Human Rights Day and the week of Dec. 10-17 as Human Rights Week.

Eagle Doesn't Give Up Easily

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP)—The gold-leaved eagle today still sits proudly—albeit a little off center—atop City Hall.

The symbolic bird now looks south instead of southwest.

Pilot Richard Grabber of the Eastern States Helicopter Service, Amityville, N.Y., was trying to slip a cable down over the eagle Wednesday when the tail of his helicopter struck the bird. The craft's nose dipped and Grabber had to give up.

The century-old City Hall is being demolished to make way for an interstate highway.

Cuban Invasion Might Have Left U. S. Bereft Of Arms

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
An AP News Analysis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States might have been left with few readily maneuverable Army and Marine divisions to deal with other crises if it had launched an invasion of Cuba.

Perhaps for that reason, it was evident U.S. military chiefs counted on a swift, pulverizing stroke to knock out Fidel Castro's forces and Soviet-manned missile bases. The Defense Department disclosed Thursday that more than 100,000 troops in the Strategic Army Corps had been alerted for possible use against Cuba in the recent crisis.

This represented five of the eight divisions in STRAC, the force maintained by the Army in the United States as a reserve to be rushed overseas in event of emergencies.

Two of the five divisions earmarked for the Cuban operation were the only paratroop outfits in the Army. The 82nd Airborne and the 101st Airborne Divisions normally would be the first to go in any hurry-up "fire brigade" operation.

16 DIVISIONS
Over-all, the Army has 16 divisions. In addition to the eight in the United States, five are pinned down in West Germany facing the Iron Curtain, two are in South Korea confronting the Communists in North Korea and one division is split between Hawaii and Okinawa.

The Pentagon's roundup of Military actions in the Cuban crisis indicated that about 12,000 Marines—nearly the equivalent of a full division—were committed to the Cuban operation.

They were sent in to reinforce the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo or were embarked with the Atlantic Fleet preparatory to landings or helicopter-borne attack on Cuba.

These Marines came from two of the corps' three divisions—the 2nd at Camp Lejeune, N.C., and the 1st based at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

More than 1,700 of the roughly 7,000 Marines now holding the Guantanamo perimeter in Cuba are expected to be pulled out soon and sent back to California.

ON OKINAWA
The 3rd Marine Division is positioned on Okinawa, with an 1,800-man battalion landing team from that outfit aboard ships of the 7th Fleet cruising Far Eastern waters.

A 10-page Pentagon summary showed that at least 213,000 Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force fighting men either were on special alert or in position to strike at Cuba and defend the southeastern United States.

About 85,000 of these were aboard 183 Navy warships that blockaded Cuba and were set to their missiles, guns and jets against Cuba if the order were given.

The 85,000-ton nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise and the 75,000-ton carrier Independence, with escorting ships, stood by ready to send off their more than 200 Navy and Marine planes in defense of Guantanamo.

Another 6,000 or so Air Force pilots and ground crewmen manned nearly 1,000 rocket-and-cannon armed jet fighters and interceptors in Florida, poised to take on Cuba's Soviet-made jet fighters or bombers and to blast Cuban military positions in support of any U.S. landings.

CROWDED FIELDS
An undisclosed number of Navy and Marine fighters, fighter-bombers and dive bombers were posted at crowded military airfields in Florida for the same purpose.

The Defense Department's report said the Air Force's Strategic Air Command mounted a "massive airborne alert" of many of its 600 B52 heavy jet bombers.

Cub Pack 137 To Collect Toys

Webelos Pack 137, Cub Scouts, will begin a drive Saturday morning to collect toys and cold drink bottles for their annual Christmas service project.

Lloyd Nalls, Cubmaster, said the drive would begin in the east part of Big Spring and that areas not covered would be started on future Saturdays.

"It is our annual drive to do good deeds for some folks who may not otherwise get any Christmas," he said.

The rest of the B52s and about 1,000 B47 bombers were on their runways, primed to take off combat-loaded within 15 minutes after warnings.

The crews of 144 U.S. intercontinental ballistic missiles also were on special alert.

About 126,000 air crewmen, missilemen, mechanics and others in SAC pitched in on this round-the-clock operation.

The main purpose of the SAC alert was to make certain any surprise missile strike against this country would not catch U.S. ICBMs unready to fire and American long-range nuclear bombers on the ground before they could start for their enemy targets.

But it was disclosed for the first time that SAC bombers joined Navy patrol planes in keeping a watch on the 2,000 ships which were in the Atlantic during the U.S. arms blockade of Cuba.

Sir Winnie Begins Birthday With Boiled Egg, Champagne

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill launched his 88th birthday celebration today with a soft-boiled egg and a glass of champagne.

A lifetime late riser, Britain's great wartime leader spent the morning in bed and read the newspapers while the front door bell of his London home kept ringing and ringing.

Messengers brought stacks of telegrams from all over the world and postmen staggered in with pouches stuffed with anniversary greetings. Well-wishers called to sign the visitors' book.

Extra policemen directed the heavy traffic in and out of the quiet dead-end street in which the statesman has his home.

A member of Churchill's staff said they did not expect the old warrior to go out today "but he is very well."

It is just over three months since Sir Winston came home to complete his convalescence from a broken thigh suffered in a fall in a Monte Carlo hotel room.

After a quiet luncheon with Lady Churchill, Sir Winston was to rest this afternoon in preparation for a family party tonight.

Sir Winston's children — Randolph and Diana Churchill, Mrs. Mary Soames and Lady Audley (Sarah Churchill) — were all expected.

Japanese Sisters To Visit Airport Baptist Church

Yoshiko and Emiko Shiga, Wayland Baptist College students from Kyoto, Japan, will sing and speak at the Airport Baptist Church, Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service, as the church observes Foreign Mission Week, Dec. 2-9. Other Foreign Mission Week plans include daily meetings of the WMU during the week at 9:30 a.m. and screening the film, "Extending the Light," Wednesday evening, Dec. 9. Dr. James Giles, missionary under appointment of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention to Cali, Colombia, is to preach.

The Japanese sisters have been sought after as speakers since their arrival in America. Yoshiko, senior at Wayland, was selected by audition from hundreds of Texas Baptist students as a member of a 14-voice choir which made an eight-week tour of the Orient in the summer of 1961. Emiko was unable to visit her family that summer so she worked with her people under the Home Mission Board in California. In 1960, Yoshiko served as a summer missionary in California while Emiko worked at Glorieta Baptist Assembly.

The girls' parents remained Christians throughout the war and suffered persecution because of their religious beliefs. Mr. Shiga was fired from his job during the war years. Coming from a large family, which includes five brothers in Japan, the girls say the thing they have missed most since coming to America is their family. While both girls were uncertain as to how Americans would treat students from a former enemy country, they agree that they have found nothing but kindness since being here.

CHRIST'S PREDICTION ABOUT THE CHURCH, ITS ORIGIN AND EARLY GROWTH, AND SOME IDEALS FOR THE CHURCH REVEALED TO PAUL

Scripture—Matthew 16:15-17; 18:15-20; John 17:20-26; Acts 2:1-4, 28-47; 1 Corinthians 11:23-26; 12:12, 13, 27-31; Ephesians 2:11-22.

By N. SPEER JONES THE GREEK WORD for church — ekklesia — originally meant a public assembly summoned by herald. In the Greek text of the Old Testament it refers to an assembly of the Israelites. In the New Testament its meaning is the one common today, all those gathered together by their faith in Christ, knit together and in Him through the power of the Holy Spirit. Christ Himself refers to the church only twice in our records of His public ministry. These are in the assigned passages from Matthew. In the first, if the passage is logically continued to include verse 18, the relationship of the church to Christ is illumined. The key piece of the church is the fact that Christ is the Son of God. The building of this or circumstances, wherever "two or three are gathered in (Christ's) name." The chapter from which our reference from John is taken is devoted entirely to Christ's important prayer to His Father on the night of His betrayal. Most of this is devoted to the other members of His church. Among the things He asks is a unity among His believers. This unity takes the form of mutual love, patterned on the unity of the Father and Son. This unity is elaborated in the passage from Ephesians. There Paul makes it emphatic that both Jews and Gentiles can be one in Christ, joined in a temple in the Lord Himself. Yet, although we are a unity, we must recognize the beauty of our varying gifts; we are not, and should not try to be, the same in anything except GOLDEN TEXT "You are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God's own people, that you may declare the wonderful deeds of Him Who called you out of darkness into this marvelous light."—1 Peter 2:9.

our love of God and Christ. Paul dwells on this point at length in our passages from Corinthians. The actual birth of the church is recorded in Acts 2:1-4. Not only is the church a spiritual entity rooted in Christ's Sonship, but the very creation of His church is a divine act. With a mighty sound and sight, the disciples were suddenly invested with the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentecost. This gift of the Holy Spirit to the disciples was much the same as the descent of the Holy Spirit to Christ at His baptism.

Verses 38-41 deal with the first converts to the church. Verses 42-47 deal with some of its early characteristics, and the passage from the 11th chapter of first Corinthians elaborates on the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

A second important aspect of the church is pointed out in this passage—it can be present anywhere, regardless of setting. "GOOD MORALS DO NOT JUSTIFY DISOBEDIENCE"

The title to this article might not mean anything to even some religious people. This is because that in their way of thinking there can be no disobedience in anything but moral matters. But let's think a little! God has laws both physical and spiritual and various types or subdivisions within each; in the physical realm the law of gravity is immutable — unchangeable; if a man walks over a cliff all the prayers in the world will not keep him from falling. If you put your hand in the fire all the prayers in the world will not keep you from burning! God likewise has positive divine and arbitrary laws in the spiritual realm which are just as immutable or unchangeable. In 11 Chronicles 6:7 "And the anger of the Lord was kindled against Uzzah and God smote him there for his error and there he died by the Ark of God." All he did was put forth his hand and touch the ark and try to steady it and keep it from falling! The next verse tells how David disliked it; and maybe you don't and I, but I ask you are we to dislike the laws of God. Uzzah disobeyed for only the priests could touch the ark and Uzzah was not a priest! So dear friend, whether we like these things or not is not the question we have a future appointment to meet God in Judgment day—the last day, Jan. 12, 48 and we will be judged by the word. We must confess our faith before men, repent of our sins and be baptized for the remission of sins and these laws are as immutable as that which when disobeyed destroyed Uzzah.

The Evening Star

The brilliant evening star is a symbol of many things to many folk. Mariners hail it as a good omen, for it usually forecasts a clear, calm night and smooth sailing. The shepherd tending his flock on a desolate hillside gratefully notes its appearance in the heavens, for its friendly light offers an intangible sort of companionship during his lonely vigil. To many, the star is representative of God's infinite power and wisdom.

Just as this star touches hearts in countless different ways, so may the Church bring to those in all walks of life, peace and comfort which lead to a happier, more fruitful pattern of life.

Let us make the Church our guiding light. We can brighten our lives if we accept the teaching of the Scriptures as guideposts along the pathway to future endeavors.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Porkers Place Trio On All-S'West Club

DALLAS (AP)—Arkansas was nosed out in the league championship race but it has placed three men—including the only unanimous selection—on the 1962 All-Southwest Conference football team. The unanimous selection was Billy Moore, the Razorbacks' all-purpose quarterback. Texas, winner of the loop's grid crown, and Baylor each placed two men on the stellar squad while Texas Tech, Rice, Southern Methodist and Texas A&M wound up with one each. Only Texas Christian failed to place a man on the first team. The two University of Texas selections—guard Johnny Treadwell and back Tommy Ford—lacked only one vote each of being unanimous choices. Lacking only two votes for unanimous picks were Tech end Dave Parks and Arkansas tackle Jerry Mazzanti. Jerry Hopkins of Texas A&M was picked for center. Rounding out the first team are end Gene Raesz of Rice, tackle Ray Schoenke of Southern Methodist, guard Robert Burk of Baylor, fullback Danny Brabham of Arkansas, and halfback Ronnie Goodwin of Baylor. Scott Appleton of Texas was within one vote of a tackle spot. Ray Trail of Arkansas was the same at guard. And Jesse Branch of Arkansas lacked only one vote of tying for a backfield spot. The second team is made up of Tommy Lucas and Tom Magoffin of Texas Christian at ends, Appleton and Melvin Simmons of Texas A&M at tackles, Trail and Robert Mangum of Texas Christian at guards, John Hughes of Southern Methodist at center, and Don Trull of Baylor, Ray Poage of Texas, Pat Culpepper of Texas and Branch in the backfield. Sonny Gibbs, Texas Christian's mighty passer, almost made the second team as did fullback Tommy Crutcher of Texas Christian. Both were given honorable mention.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

To many residents of Rotan and Big Lake, Big Spring becomes the most important city in the state tonight. Those visitors who have flocked in here for the all-important Class A football struggle deserve a great, big "howdy" from everyone in town. The game between the high schools of the two communities bids fair to be highly explosive and, for that reason, highly entertaining, too. Local buffs who flock to the contest could well be seeing the state champions. Both teams are highly rated in statewide polls and perhaps haven't been rated highly enough. Time will tell.

It's all but definite now. The 1963 Big Spring High School football team will open its season here against Lamesa (probably Sept. 13), take off a week and then meet Snyder and Wichita Falls in road games before plunging into conference play. The new contract with Wichita Falls will extend for two years, which means the Coyotes will appear here in 1964. There is a bare possibility that Big Spring will have only four home games next fall. The new schedule to be adopted by the conference could dictate that.

Dickie Spier, Big Spring's fine fullback, suffered a hairline fracture of his wrist. That wasn't what put him out of action in last week's game with San Angelo, however. He was the victim of a mild concussion. Coaches decided to take no chances with him and he watched the second half of play in civilian clothes. Dr. R. E. Koenig, the Steers' physician, and physical therapist Jim Thompson have both been awarded honorary football letters for the work they did with the team the past season.

Paid attendance at last week's game between San Angelo and Big Spring, totaling 14,642, was not only the biggest through ever to watch the Steers in action but also constituted a record home gate for the San Angelo club. Previous high attendance for a game there was 14,565, present for last year's playoff game between the Bobcats and Wichita Falls. In all, 15,139 were present for the Steer-Bobcat contest, as compared to 15,127 for the game against Wichita Falls. The huge turnout last Friday night was more than twice the average gate for Steer games this year, so the Steers played what amounted to 11 games, as far as income is concerned. Big Spring, of course, gets half the gate, after expenses. In five home games this year, San Angelo played to 52,733 — or nearly 11,000 per game, on the average.

Eddy Nelson, the star Negro athlete at the local high school, will probably have to take it easy in basketball workouts for a while. He experienced a sterno clavicular separation in a recent game and the misery has caused a swelling in his chest. He's the best rebounder coach Delnor Poss has and one of the best in 2-AAAA. Oddly enough, his football coach, Don Robbins, suffered the same sort of injury (but more serious—his shoulder had to be rewired) in a game between Texas A&M and Baylor a few years ago. Hot baths and rest have been recommended as a help for Eddy's trouble.

Those down on the sidelines at the Permian-Odessa football game in Odessa the other day insist the official blew the play when he ruled that Mike Love stepped out of bounds on his long touchdown run. There were clear marks outside the boundary lines, true, but they were not Mike's. So said those close to the play. Mike himself reasoned he stayed well within the line. A touchdown would have enabled Love to emerge as the scoring leader in 2-AAAA. As it was, Rusty Harris of Abilene High won the honor by one point.

February 25—First Baptist of Stanton vs. Church of Nazarene; Temple Baptist vs. Westside Baptist; First Baptist of Stanton vs. LDS.

As a result of the compromise, the players will receive 95 per cent of the one game. The other 5 per cent goes to the commissioner's office for All-Star game expenses.

The players, through their representatives, reluctantly agreed Thursday to drop the second All-Star game, at the request of the owners, who compromised by agreeing to relinquish all claim to All-Star receipts.

The players previously had received 60 per cent of the receipts, amounting to approximately $300,000. The other $200,000 went to the owners, who used the money, except for the commissioner's 5 per cent, to aid the minors.

Terms for the settlement were originally proposed by Commissioner Ford Frick, who was stoutly supported by Dan Topping, president of the New York Yankees.

Only One All-Star Contest Next Year

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The major leagues will return to one All-Star game in 1963. The game will be played on Tuesday, July 9, in Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The players, through their representatives, reluctantly agreed Thursday to drop the second All-Star game, at the request of the owners, who compromised by agreeing to relinquish all claim to All-Star receipts.

The players previously had received 60 per cent of the receipts, amounting to approximately $300,000. The other $200,000 went to the owners, who used the money, except for the commissioner's 5 per cent, to aid the minors.

Terms for the settlement were originally proposed by Commissioner Ford Frick, who was stoutly supported by Dan Topping, president of the New York Yankees.

Judge Robert Cannon, legal advisor of the players, who sat in on the meeting between the 20 player representatives and 20 club owners, said the players were very pleased with the new arrangement.

The two-All-Star game setup has been in existence four years. The National League squad won both games in 1959. There were splits in 1960 and 1962. The National won one game in 1961 with the other ending in a tie. The American holds an over-all lead of 17-15 since the mid-summer meetings began in 1963.

The players and owners also agreed to a change in the proportioning of the World Series money, adding the fifth place teams to the spoils. Each fifth place team, starting in 1963, will get 2 per cent of the World Series player pool.

It would amount to approximately $300 per player on the fifth place teams, but as Bob Turley, of the Los Angeles Angels, the AL representative put it: "It's not the money involved; it's to make fifth place mean something, and give the players an incentive."

The owners acceded to a number of minor demands by the players but rejected their request to increase the minimum salary from $7,000 to $7,500.

Rams, Odessa, Phillips And S. Plains Triumph

ODESSA — San Angelo College, Odessa, Frank Phillips and South Plains posted first round victories in the annual Odessa College Basketball tournament here Thursday night.

San Angelo, favorite to succeed HCJC as champion, turned back Lubbock Christian by a score of 76-63. Odessa came from behind to topple Clarendon, 79-68. Frank Phillips mauled Schreiner Institute, 82-67. South Plains upended NMMI, 64-51.

In games tonight, San Angelo clashes with Odessa at 7 p.m. while Frank Phillips plays South Plains at 9 p.m. Finals are scheduled Saturday night.

Kirby Pugh scored 22 points and Bruce Tibbets 14 for San Angelo. Stanley Lynch tossed in 14 while Ned Boax had 12 for LBB. Stanley Heaps paced Odessa to its victory, with a 15-point surge. Odessa led at half time in that contest, 33-34.

Big Spring manhandled Colorado City, 59-22 without any difficulty in its 1962-63 basketball opener here Thursday night...

and reinjured it in practice not long before the San Angelo contest. Bespectacled Ronnie Banks gave the Steers fans and the Wolves quite a show as he guided the Longhorns to victory...

The Wolves managed only three points the first quarter and trailed at half time, 28-9. In B team action, Big Spring also won easily, 47-19, although no one on the squad hit as many as ten points.

Sophs Assume Spotlight At Philly

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sophomores like Roger Staubach and John Seymour figure to play the biggest role in Saturday's 63rd Army-Navy football classic...

And if sophomores are supposed to be unpredictable so is the outcome of this bitter struggle which will be viewed by President Kennedy, 101,000 other Philadelphia Stadium spectators and a national television (CBS-TV, 1:30 p.m., EST) audience.

Neither bowl trips nor rankings are at stake yet victory never was more important in this hectic series and the pre-game war of nerves never hotter.

Giants Are Favorites

By JACK CLARY Associated Press Sports Writer The New York Giants, shrugging off the pressure-packed schedule that exhausted them a year ago, face the Chicago Bears in Chicago Sunday needing only a victory in their final three games to nail down the National Football League's Eastern Conference title for the second straight year.

In winning the crown in 1961, the Giants played under the gun until the final Sunday while the Western Conference Champion Green Bay Packers clinched their title two weeks before the season's end and were fresh and relaxed in whumping the Giants 37-9 in the title game.

Now the shoe is on the other foot. Green Bay (10-1) has only a one-game lead in the West over the Detroit Lions (9-2) while New York, also 9-2, is 2 1/2 over second-place Cleveland (6-4-1). The Packers are heavily favored to whip the Baltimore Colts (5-6) at home.

The games took place in the Goliad Junior High gymnasium. A third game was to have been played but the 331st FIS forfeited to the 3560th Pilot Training Wing.

Forsan Buffs Lose, 40-39

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo Lake View nosed out Forsan, 40-39, in a basketball game played here Thursday night.

Lake View led by five points with 1:15 to play but H. K. Elrod closed the gap with two jump shots scored from close in.

Pat Stewart led Lake View in scoring with 10 points while Elrod paced Forsan with 11. The score was deadlocked at half time, 24-24.

The Forsan girls won a thriller over Lake View in overtime, 55-54. The issue was decided when Betty Conner hit a set shot from about 30 feet away with seven seconds of play left.

Conner tossed in 20 points while Bonnie Simpson had 18 and Jody Dodd eight. In the back courts, Judy Hughes, Lanell Overton, Patsy Gooch and Pam McKinnon excelled for Forsan.

Judy Tomlinson scored 33 points for Lake View. Forsan now has an 8-3 won-lost record. In the girls' B game, Forsan eked out a 25-22 victory Sandra Rister and Paula Gordon each counted ten points for Forsan while Dena Parker tossed in five. Sara Findley was outstanding as a guard for the Buffalo Queens. Sherry Turner led Lake View with 12.

Forsan (39) — Elrod 35-11, Gooch 3-7, Evans 2-15, Soles 1-6, Hardwell 2-13, O'Brien 4-19, Total 124-29. LAKE VIEW (40) — Bradner 4-8, Hartman 4-19, Blain 2-15, Stewart 6-23, Probst 2-7, Jones 0-11, Hasty 0-0, Total 176-40. Score by quarters: 12 24 30 39. Forsan vs. Lake View 19 24 32 40.

Peace Pact Between NCAA And AAU Is Short Lived

By JERRY GREEN Associated Press Sports Writer DETROIT (AP) — The seething struggle between the AAU and NCAA for track control in the United States had boiled over into a new war of words today—two weeks after it seemed peace was in sight.

The NCAA, through its coaches union in the U.S. Track and Field Federation, charged the AAU with reneging on an agreement made in New York Nov. 13. The AAU replied there was a misunderstanding on details in the agreement.

The federation's charges came Thursday night, hours after the AAU's 35-man executive committee unanimously endorsed a track and field coalition which was formed at the New York truce meeting. That meeting, called by Atty. General Robert F. Kennedy, had been designed to end the 2 1/2-year squabble and help toward insuring a strong U.S. team for the 1964 Olympics.

The coaches agree with the principle of a coalition. At issue is just what the coalition will do, particularly in international track competition. The AAU insists it will continue to control U.S. participation in international meets. The NCAA agrees the coalition—made up of several groups including the two warring bodies—eventually should have international control. Soon after the endorsement, federation leaders held an urgent telephone pow-wow and agreed the AAU plan was unsatisfactory. Sitting in on the conference phone call were Bill Russell, federation president and a district director of athletics in California; Chick Werner, Penn State coach and a federation executive director; and Don Canham, Michigan coach and a federation executive vice president. Canham said the New York agreement stated in one of its points: "In 1964, the new coalition would seek with the AAU's blessing to have the International Amateur Athletic Federation recognize the new coalition as the governing body of track and field in the U.S." The IAAF, world governing body for track, currently recognizes the AAU. The AAU's executive committee voted to disapprove any suggestions "at this time" that would make the coalition the U.S. governing body to the IAAF. The AAU admitted, however, if all parties involved in the coalition agreed, it is possible the coalition may be able to become the U.S. governing body after 1964.

Jayhawks Meet Hutchinson 5

HUTCHINSON, Kansas — Winners in two of their three starts in their current tour, the Howard County Junior College Jayhawks challenge rough and rugged Hutchinson in a basketball exhibition here tonight.

The Texans wind up their tour of the Sunflower State in a game against Ark City in Arkansas City Saturday night. They return home to oppose Texas Western's freshmen of El Paso next Tuesday night.

The Hawks have defeated Chanute, 87-58, and Garden City, 63-56, on their current tour. They lost their opener to Coffeyville, Kansas, the defending national champion by a score of 88-69.

Both Hutchinson and Ark City, perennial contenders for the national title, are due to give the Hawks formidable opposition.

Ark City lost out to Coffeyville by one point in the regional finals last year and has every starter back from that team.

Probable starters for HCJC include Walter Carter, Ernest Turner, Jim Wilburn, Bill (Cotton) Thompson and either Lou Balenton or Charles Cumbers. Balenton is the regular at the position but he suffered a turned ankle in two of his starts against Garden City and could sit out this one.

The Hawks are 3-1 on the year, having defeated Webb AFB's Student Squadron team, 75-55, in their opening test.

The game was decided when Betty Conner hit a set shot from about 30 feet away with seven seconds of play left.

Conner tossed in 20 points while Bonnie Simpson had 18 and Jody Dodd eight. In the back courts, Judy Hughes, Lanell Overton, Patsy Gooch and Pam McKinnon excelled for Forsan.

Judy Tomlinson scored 33 points for Lake View. Forsan now has an 8-3 won-lost record. Rebounding N. Dame Clashes With Southern California

By BOB GREEN Associated Press Sports Writer Southern California, attempting to nail down the national championship for the West Coast for the first time since 1939, goes against rebounding Notre Dame Saturday in the climax game on college football's wind-up weekend of the regular season.

The program also includes such tidbits as the colorful, traditional Army-Navy clash in Philadelphia and closing action for national powers Mississippi, Alabama and Oklahoma.

Mississippi and Alabama are expected to announce acceptance of bids to the Sugar and Orange Bowls, respectively, immediately after their games, which would complete the line-up for the major post-season classics.

Southern Cal already has secured the Rose Bowl berth opposite Wisconsin, but must get past the Fighting Irish to complete an unblemished season and retain solid control of the No. 1 spot in the nation.

Should the Trojans falter—and they're one of the very, very few teams in the country to escape upset this season—it could jeopardize their bid for the national title, which will be decided in next week's poll.

The games took place in the Goliad Junior High gymnasium. A third game was to have been played but the 331st FIS forfeited to the 3560th Pilot Training Wing.

Henry Vicellio led the 3561st Student Squadron with 13 points. Linwood Arthur kept the losers in contention with a ten-point effort.

In the second game, Earl Hanna tossed in 17 points and Leo Fernandez ten for the 3560th AFB while Phil Hayden hit 19 for the 3561st PGT.

ELBOW — Play in the Elbow Elementary School Basketball tournament will be resumed at 3 p.m. here today.

The tournament will be concluded with championship contests at 7:30 p.m. and 8:45 p.m. Saturday.

Today's schedule: 3 p.m.—Garden City vs. Grady (girls); 4:15 p.m.—Grady B. vs. Elbow (boys); 5:30 p.m.— vs. Hill vs. Elbow (girls); 6:45 p.m.—Forsan vs. Grady (boys).

Thursday's results: Forsan 31 Gay Hill 25 (girls); Grady 42 Coahoma 22 (girls); Grady 42 Coahoma 18 (boys); Elbow 36 Garden City 18 (boys).

parison with the Southern California result is inevitable. Wisconsin closed its season last week.

The Trojans lure a one-touch-down favorite to turn back the Irish, but a form reversal is a decided possibility.

Coach Joe Kuharich's lads from South Bend have stormed to four straight victories after a shaky start. They've piled up 119 points in rolling over Navy, Pitt, North Carolina and Iowa and have history in their favor. Notre Dame holds a 22-9-2 edge in the old series.

Southern Cal, winner of nine straight, is seeking its first unbeaten, untied season in 30 years and the first national title for the West Coast since the Trojans won it 23 years ago.

A crowd of about 85,000 is expected for the game in Los Angeles, while about 101,000 including President Kennedy are expected for the service classic in Philadelphia Stadium. The game also will get national television coverage (CBS, 1:30 p.m.—Eastern Standard Time).

It's strictly a pick-em affair between the Cadets and the Mid-dies, with President Kennedy expected to break tradition and go to midfield for the pre-game coin tossing.

Titles and bowl bids don't enter the picture for the colorful clash but Army prides does. Coach Paul Dietzel, hired this season to break Navy's string of three straight, has used his three-peat magic to forge a 6-3 regular season record. Navy, seeking a record fourth straight over Army, is 4-5. Mississippi, ranked third in the nation, is a solid favorite to close out an unbeaten, untied season against Mississippi State. Alabama, No. 5 with an 8-1 record, also is favored over a tough Auburn team.

Oklahoma, No. 8, already has the Orange Bowl spot and the Big Eight title, and has little but prestige at stake against Oklahoma State.

Scouts from both the Gator and Gotham Bowls are expected to scout the Florida-Miami night game, while Texas Christian still has some bowl hopes going into its game with Southern Methodist.

Northern South Dakota State (10-0) and Lenoir-Rhyne (9-0) play for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics eastern regional title in Hickory, N.C. The winner goes against Central Oklahoma State in the Camelia Bowl for the NAIA national title the following week.

In other Saturday games, Georgia Tech and Georgia meet in their traditional affair, Tennessee is at Vanderbilt, Rice at Baylor, Virginia at Rutgers, UCLA at Utah, Holy Cross at Boston College and Cincinnati at Hous-

Peace Pact Between NCAA And AAU Is Short Lived

By JERRY GREEN Associated Press Sports Writer DETROIT (AP) — The seething struggle between the AAU and NCAA for track control in the United States had boiled over into a new war of words today—two weeks after it seemed peace was in sight.

The NCAA, through its coaches union in the U.S. Track and Field Federation, charged the AAU with reneging on an agreement made in New York Nov. 13. The AAU replied there was a misunderstanding on details in the agreement.

The federation's charges came Thursday night, hours after the AAU's 35-man executive committee unanimously endorsed a track and field coalition which was formed at the New York truce meeting. That meeting, called by Atty. General Robert F. Kennedy, had been designed to end the 2 1/2-year squabble and help toward insuring a strong U.S. team for the 1964 Olympics.

The coaches agree with the principle of a coalition. At issue is just what the coalition will do, particularly in international track competition. The AAU insists it will continue to control U.S. participation in international meets. The NCAA agrees the coalition—made up of several groups including the two warring bodies—eventually should have international control. Soon after the endorsement, federation leaders held an urgent telephone pow-wow and agreed the AAU plan was unsatisfactory. Sitting in on the conference phone call were Bill Russell, federation president and a district director of athletics in California; Chick Werner, Penn State coach and a federation executive director; and Don Canham, Michigan coach and a federation executive vice president. Canham said the New York agreement stated in one of its points: "In 1964, the new coalition would seek with the AAU's blessing to have the International Amateur Athletic Federation recognize the new coalition as the governing body of track and field in the U.S." The IAAF, world governing body for track, currently recognizes the AAU. The AAU's executive committee voted to disapprove any suggestions "at this time" that would make the coalition the U.S. governing body to the IAAF. The AAU admitted, however, if all parties involved in the coalition agreed, it is possible the coalition may be able to become the U.S. governing body after 1964.

Hoffa Breaks Off With Aide, Long-Time Friend

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and George S. Fitzgerald, his legal counsel and friend for 27 years, have parted bitterly in the midst of Hoffa's $1-million conspiracy trial.

As the prosecution rested its case Thursday—following six weeks of testimony by 29 witnesses and featuring 263 exhibits—the Detroit News said in a copyrighted article that Hoffa fired Fitzgerald, who is from Detroit.

Fitzgerald's firing, the News said, followed a heated exchange last Monday between the men outside the federal courtroom here.

TESTIMONY

Fitzgerald, under subpoena as a government witness in Hoffa's trial, told the jury on Monday he swapped his personal check for $15,000 to Hoffa in return for a dividend from Test Fleet, a trucking firm involved in the trial, made out to Hoffa's wife.

Fitzgerald testified the transaction was made at Hoffa's request and that the latter offered no explanation.

The News quoted Hoffa as telling Fitzgerald: "You're all through. Turn in your books and records. And you'd better start thinking about the $75,000 loan."

The News said the loan purportedly had been obtained by Fitzgerald from the Teamsters Central State Conference, of which Hoffa is president.

Fitzgerald, who has been a Teamsters attorney since 1935, is a former Michigan Democratic committeeman. Hoffa said the Detroit paper was in error and told a newsman: "We didn't fire him, he resigned."

NO RESIGNATION
Fitzgerald, in a telephone interview from Detroit, told a newsman for the Nashville Tennessean Thursday night that "there was no talk of resigning at any time," and adding: "It happened just like the paper (the Detroit News) said it happened."

As for turning over union books and records, as requested by Hoffa, Fitzgerald said he had neither books nor records. "I talked with him (Hoffa) twice after that," Fitzgerald said, and he repeated it (the firing). Hoffa said the union had "made certain requests of Mr. Fitzgerald and that 'rather than comply he severed his relations with the union.'"

As for Hoffa's statements about him resigning, Fitzgerald told the

JAMES R. HOFFA
Who's telling the truth?

Detroit Free Press Thursday night, they were "strictly a fabrication—garbage."

Hoffa said he had told all union lawyers—not just Fitzgerald—they would have to drop some of their clients and if necessary spend their full time with the union. He said he made other requests of Fitzgerald.

DRINKING CHARGE
"I told him he had to stop drinking and he had to take our business first before he takes his other clients," the union chief said.

Commented Fitzgerald: "As far as all this stuff about my drinking, that is a lie right out of the gutter. It had nothing to do with this situation at all."

Fitzgerald said Hoffa fired him "because I think he was displeased with my testimony. But the testimony was the truth to the best of my recollection. And I was sworn to tell the truth."

Hoffa said Fitzgerald's resignation had been under discussion for several weeks and that he received Fitzgerald's resignation in the mail Thursday.

Fitzgerald further told newsmen Thursday night in Detroit: "I didn't speak up before because I was afraid I might prejudice the case. But I can't keep quiet any longer."

In the current trial, Hoffa, 49, is accused of conspiring with a Detroit automobile transport firm, Commercial Carriers, Inc., to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting concealed payments as a payoff for labor peace with Hoffa's 1.5-million-member union. The prosecution further contends that Commercial Carriers, to keep labor peace in 1948, created a truck leasing firm known at first as Test Fleet, and assigned half the stock to Mrs. Hoffa—and after that there were no more labor difficulties.

KEY ISSUES

Distribution of Test Fleet's profits, a key issue in the case, brought a number of bankers, stock brokers and auditors to the witness stand this week as the government sought to link the profit distribution to Hoffa.

The trial is being heard by U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller and a jury of six men and six women. While the government was presenting its case, Hoffa's battery of lawyers managed to have 156 exhibits of their own put into the trial record.

The defense has said it plans to concentrate today on urging Judge Miller to acquit Hoffa and throw out the case—a normal court procedure.

The defense will start its trial presentation on Monday. Hoffa's attorneys have told the jury that Test Fleet's operations were perfectly legal and that they would prove the labor leader never received a penny from its truck lease business.

Test Fleet, later called the Hobren Corp., was chartered in Nashville in 1949, with its stock listed in the maiden names of Mrs. Hoffa and Mrs. Owen (Bert) Brennan, wife of a Teamster official who died in 1960. Brennan, a longtime associate of Hoffa, was the Teamsters international vice president.

HELPED FIRM

The government says Test Fleet was operated by Commercial Carriers, which helped the infant firm acquire 10 trucks. These trucks, the government contends, subsequently were leased by Commercial Carriers for "a total sum of $1,042,072 of which $257,759 was net income before taxes."

The prosecution told the jury that, from the start, Test Fleet proved to be a profitable operation and that dividends soon began going out to Mrs. Brennan and Mrs. Hoffa.

In concluding its case Thursday, the prosecution produced charts purporting to show Mrs. Hoffa and Mrs. Brennan each got $57,500 in dividends from Test Fleet's earnings over the years 1949-58, and that in addition the two women each had a $23,977.79 equity in the firm.

Witnesses this week testified that some of this money eventually went to pay Hoffa's income tax and to buy securities for him. Other witnesses told of Test

Fleet or Hobren money being invested in, or loaned to, a wide variety of business enterprises. In each instance, the witnesses testified, the transaction occurred at Hoffa's direction.

"PERSECUTION"

Hoffa, who contends he is being persecuted by the Kennedy administration, has told newsmen that his many tussles with the federal government have given him lots of legal experience.

Hoffa said he would hear what the defense witnesses had to say before deciding if he would testify. If convicted on the two-count indictment, Hoffa could receive a maximum sentence of one year in prison and a fine of $10,000 on each charge.

Opinions Vary On Smoking TV Commercials

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. and American Broadcasting Co. differ with the president of the National Association of Broadcasters over his suggestion that cigarette commercials be revised to avoid any encouragement of smoking by youngsters.

The association president, former Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida, contended in a recent speech that medical evidence suggested a health hazard in cigarette smoking.

Collins expressed a personal opinion that broadcasters should take the initiative in adopting corrective measures concerning commercials aimed at young people. He said such reforms could come through amendment of the trade group's code of good practices.

The National Broadcasting Co. said in a statement: "Gov. Collins was not speaking for the National Broadcasting Co. in his recent observations on tobacco advertising and NBC does not share the views he stated on the subject."

The American Broadcasting Co. issued this statement: "ABC does not concur with Gov. Collins' view."

The Columbia Broadcasting

System said: "This is a code matter and the established code organization is the proper forum for a discussion of it."

A meeting of the code committee is scheduled in Washington on Dec. 11.
