

Farm Bureau Leader Links Tax Cut To Less Spending

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation called today for defeat of proposed reductions in federal income taxes unless matched by cuts in government spending.

Shuman said in a speech prepared for the opening session of the federation's four-day annual convention that lowering of these taxes without corresponding savings in expenditures would constitute fiscal irresponsibility.

The farm leaders' remarks raised the prospect that any proposal of the Kennedy administration to reduce taxes next year would face broad agricultural opposition unless the federal budget is balanced.

At its recent convention at Fort Wayne, Ind., the National Grange opposed tax reductions accompanied by deficit spending.

The Kennedy administration has been studying proposals to lower income taxes to help spur economic growth and reduce unemployment.

Shuman's tax statement was outlined in a convention talk that called upon Americans—farmers as well as nonfarmers—to make 1963 a year in which the wings of big government are clipped.

He said Congress should be pressed to tell the federal government to leave to states, counties and individuals the responsibility for solving education, medical aid and municipal problems.

The convention appeared to be heading for an almost unanimous approval of resolutions calling for less government in agriculture. Shuman told a news conference that a majority of the nation's farmers oppose Kennedy administration, supplies and prices.

Shuman, who farms in Illinois, said there was also need for a reduction of at least $1 billion a year in foreign aid programs. He said such aid should emphasize technical assistance in developing economies of poorer countries rather than grants of money and goods.

Shuman was particularly outspoken in his criticism of government fiscal policies and the talk of possible tax reductions.

"Total national income of the people of the United States is at a very high level," he said. "We can afford to pay our way as we go. Further deficit spending by our government may generate disastrous inflation and jeopardize the confidence which our nations have in our fiscal responsibility."

Mom Regains Stolen Child

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 2-year-old has been reunited with her mother and her babysitter, seized in Texas, is charged with kidnapping.

Chubby, blue-eyed Marla Carol Loveless was found Saturday by FBI agent Marvin Bell in a dilapidated house near Killeen, Tex., with the baby sitter, Mrs. Carole Lee Gibson, 20.

Bell took Marla back Sunday to her mother, Mrs. Emma Loveless, 27.

"She looks perfect," exclaimed Mrs. Loveless. The mother said she didn't know why Mrs. Gibson took the child.

Mrs. Gibson was jailed on a federal warrant and held at Waco in lieu of $10,000 bond. The FBI said she will be turned over to Long Beach police for prosecution on kidnapping charges.

Bell, the father of three, wiped tears from his eyes as he told Marla goodbye. He told of finding her "filthy, wet and cold" and said his family fed her and bought her new clothes to wear back to California.

"My little girl, Pati Ann, just cried and cried at the airport Sunday morning. She kept saying, 'Let's keep her, daddy,'" the agent said.

As the mother and child started to leave, Bell gave Mrs. Loveless $20 to buy a doll. He said his family bought Marla one in Texas but it was left behind and he wanted to be sure she had one for Christmas.

DEAR ABBY

Just Hang 'No Visitors' Sign

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor's father is a retired gentleman of about 75. He is very friendly and likes to visit the neighbors, but he doesn't shut his mouth. When we go out in the evening, we hire a 17-year-old girl to sit with the children. This old gent comes over in our absence and talks the poor girl's ear off. She has complained to us, but we don't know how to handle it. We hate to tell the lonely old man to stay away, and I suppose his daughter is glad to get him out of the house. Can you or any of your readers help me?

A PUZZLEMENT

DEAR PUZZLEMENT: The old gentleman is probably a little senile. Tell his daughter that you have left instructions with your sister that no one is permitted in the house when she is sitting—and this includes her father. She'll get the message.

DEAR ABBY: I have six children. The oldest is 9. Today I found a note in her pocket. It was from a little boy (he is 10 or 11) who wrote he "loved" her and wanted to know if she "loved" him, too. Should I overlook this incident or do you think I should tell her the facts of life? I felt that she was too young until I read the note today.

When I was 9, I had no one to tell me the facts of life, and can't recall if I was curious then. But I do know that when my mother finally got around to telling me, I had already picked up a lot of information the wrong way. I don't want that to happen to my daughter.

DEAR ABBY: Do you know if a cow has to have a calf first in order to give milk or can she produce milk before she has a calf?

ROSE, TESS, MARCIA AND HELEN

DEAR R. T., M. AND H.: Yes, a cow must "calf" first in order to give milk.

CONFIDENTIAL TO FORT

WORTH: True, "Beauty is only skin deep," but if a girl is poor and a little on the stupid side, she's lucky to have it!

Trying to re-translate themselves out of a "tight spot," the "Jehovah's Witnesses" leaders make much of the fact that in the original Greek language, there is a definite article before the first word "God" and not before the second. In Jno. 1:1 They tell us the literal translation is, "The Word was with the God, and the Word was a God." See "New World Translation" (1950) and tract, "The Word" (1962).

If it should be translated that way, I wonder why the 148 scholars who translated the three outstanding English versions of the Bible did not know that

Also I wonder why in Jno. 1:12

Long-Term Indian Aid Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP)—Military members of a U.S. mission that surveyed India's critical arms needs reportedly have recommended a three-stage aid plan that could last for years.

Beyond emergency patchup measures to bolster the outnumbered and outgunned Indians in their border dispute with Communist China, the U.S. experts were said to have proposed rebuilding steps for next year and fundamental modernization actions to continue perhaps for years ahead.

Dollar figures were kept secret, but there was informed speculation that it might cost $1 billion to bring India's outdated arms and military organization up to standard.

Emergency help rushed to India by this country so far was said by qualified sources to total nearly $15 million.

Gen. Paul D. Adams, chief of the U.S. Strike Command and senior military officer of the U.S. mission that returned recently from India, was said to have listed winter clothing as the first and most pressing need for India's fighting men. Many were rushed into the mountainous north still wearing light dress suitable to the heat of the lowlands.

Adams was described as deeply impressed with the caliber of the Indian troops and their officers. It was considered significant, U.S. sources said, that the Indian soldiers who were forced to retreat before heavy Chinese attacks often brought back their weapons. This indicated they were disciplined and not routed in panic.

The immediate need is to furnish light weapons and gear that can be carried on a soldier's back at high altitudes and in mountainous terrain.

U.S. military authorities were appalled to find that Indian units were equipped with a jumbled collection of weapons — British, U.S. and Czech-made — with as many as three different calibers.

The battles have been fought as high as 18,000 feet in the mountains and American authorities said it has taken about three weeks for the Indian troops to adjust.

Their Chinese foes, on the other hand, already were used to fighting high up where the air is thin. India should have little trouble getting the pick of her manpower in expanding her 600,000-man army, U.S. sources said.

Because of the higher standard of living in India's armed forces than among the population as a whole, there are said to be about 300 applicants for each opening in the ranks.

About the kindest thing that U.S. military men said of the previous Indian military leadership under ousted Defense Minister Krishna Menon was that it was incompetent.

The new men who have replaced Menon and his generals are given high marks by the American officers who recently examined India's military situation.

Every penny of it in gas stations.
(Of course, you have to have the right truck.)

Volkswagen owners who do 25,000 miles a year tell us that with their former trucks, they spent about $800 annually for gas alone. And that they cut this in half when they tried ours.

It isn't surprising.
Almost all VW Trucks get over 20 miles a gallon. Some even get 30.
24's average.
(Regular gas, of course. A Volkswagen never touches the strong stuff.)
But gas isn't all you save on:
Tires on our trucks go about 35,000 miles. And maintenance usually runs only half the cost you pay with standard trucks.
Nor is this the end of the nice things. A Volkswagen Truck costs very little to begin with.

Dance And Buffet Held For Webb AFB Officers

An annual event honoring Webb Air Force Base field grade officers was the Sunday afternoon dance and buffet with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tollett, host and hostess for the Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

Scene for the affair was the Cosden Country Club which was festive with symbolic decorations of the season. Mr. and Mrs. Tollett and Col. and Mrs. Charles Head received guests in the foyer of the club where hanging baskets were filled with gaily wrapped packages denoting the Christmas time.

Mrs. Tollett was attired in a sheath of pink which was beautifully embossed with white beaded detail. Mrs. Head chose a lavender satin gown, and wore an orchid corsage.

The hors d'oeuvre table was centered with a golden global display of white carnations, large clustered cherries and tall red tapers. The ballroom also featured gold and white tinsel ropes and a kissing ring suspended from the ceiling, gold tassels, bells and the hurricane lamps on each table. White carnations and silver baubles formed the centerpiece for the host table.

Mrs. Wilson Banks, arriving with her husband, Col. Banks, was resplendent in a white cocktail suit which was interwoven with gold and lapelized in bright pink. Mrs. Leonard Einstein was one of the many wearing green, hers being a muted shade with gold brocade design. Also in the green tones were Mrs. Jim Zack, whose full-skirted dress of chiffon featured a softly swathed low neckline; Mrs. Norman E. Buihner, lovely in full-skirted taffeta dance dress with matching green shoes; Mrs. Herbert Dahmke, in vibrant green silk; and Mrs. Roscoe Cowper, in green satin with gold glittered slippers.

Music was provided by Henry King and his orchestra, and during the evening he led in singing the Happy Birthday song for the host.

Good Storage Gives Better Management

Here are the five keys opening the way to better and more efficient use of the storage areas you already have. Try them in every room of the house. Weed out and sort items regularly. Discard or shift to another area the seldom-used and duplicate articles. Regular sorting or inventory of household possessions and clothing will help release space for more needed and often-used supplies. Store most-used items within easy reach. Make use of storage space between eye and hip level first, since this is the easiest to reach. Heavy or awkward articles should be kept at waist level or lower. Stack like articles together. Plates or cups of the same type, for example, should be kept grouped. Don't put small dishes on larger ones. Place only like articles one behind the other. Store at point of use. Items used at the same time, or for the same job, should be kept together near the point of use: furniture polish, wax, buffing cloths, etc. It's often wise to have duplicates where needed: an extra measuring spoon with coffee, or a set of seasonings near the range and another with preparations used in baking. Plan space to fit the item. Store supplies so that they are easy to grasp. Smaller articles and packages should be on narrow shelves, one row deep, and not behind larger boxes. Small utensils and tools may be attractively hung in plain view. Remember safety—keep poisons out of easy access; knives should be stored to protect their cutting edge—and your fingers.

Leftover Glamour

It isn't at all unlikely that these left-over ingredients are in your refrigerator right now: 3 cups cooked rice, 1 1/2 cups cold cooked ham, a cup of peas, a green or sweet red pepper and some fresh tomatoes. If so, toss them together with a spicy French dressing. The result: a delicious salad.

Pontiff At St. Peter's.

Pope John XXIII speaks in St. Peter's Basilica at Vatican City as he closed the first phase of the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council. The 81-year-old Pontiff, showing the strain of illness, addressed the 2,200 council fathers in their last gathering before a nine-month recess that will end Sept. 8, 1963.

Positive Council Meeting Unique

By BENNET M. BOLTON
An AP News Analysis
VATICAN CITY (AP)—The current Ecumenical Council is unique in the history of the Roman Catholic Church.
Twenty councils met before, always to condemn an error in the eyes of the church or battle what was considered a philosophical evil.
But the present council which recessed over the weekend until the fall, has a positive cause to plead instead of a complaint. That cause is internal renewal of Catholicism—"to let in fresh air," as Pope John XXIII said—before going on to seek union with all the churches of Christianity.
Basic changes are already under way within the Roman Catholic Church. The very calling of the council shows it. As a prominent theologian explained: "The council cannot now be undone. Subsequent failure would only serve as a summons for another Vatican Council."

Pope John announced before the worldwide gathering of bishops started work Oct. 11 that the council "will not deal in new doctrine or sensational formulas."
But the tone the council was to adopt for itself—pastoral or doctrinal—hung in the balance while a crucial debate raged midway through the initial stage that ended Saturday.
The hard-fought thesis was on divine revelation. The Catholic Church teaches that scripture and tradition are the sources of God's revealed word. Protestants believe in scripture alone.
Was the council to stress doctrine in the rigid, scholastic terminology used in seminaries?
Or would it be better to find a new and different way to illustrate the same doctrine, a clearer way designed to reach all the people in simple terms without reviving old reformation arguments?

Just One Of Those Things

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Betty Davis and Joan Crawford stars of a movie hit, "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane?" will be fascinated by the outline of the plot of next Thursday's ABC "Premiere Theatre" show.
Co-starring Shelley Winters and Joan Hackett, the story is about "two sisters, one an invalid imprisoned in her bed by her sickness and the other held prisoner by the demands of her sister."
It's probably one of those coincidences of plot—but wouldn't be curious if the bed-ridden sister were a former child movie star?
Liberty Carries Its Burdens, Too
CAIRO (AP)—The United Arab Republic has lifted its ban on the twist and twist records.
The government announcement last week said "freedom of the arts" is replacing "censorship in the arts."
The government more than a year ago imposed an official ban on the American dance on account of its "demoralizing effect on those who dance it."
The government also banned the traditional belly dance last year, but lifted that ban after a month.

Nesmith Breaks 21-Year Record With Championship

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tom Nesmith, 27, riding and roping star from Bethel, Okla., broke a 21-year rodeo record Sunday when he won the 1962 all-around cowboy championship.

Not since 1941 has a rodeo cowboy won the coveted all-around title while competing only in timed events.

Nesmith, awarded the crown at the end of the National Finals Rodeo, wrapped it up by winning $32,611 during the year. He did it in calf roping and steer wrestling, the same events New Mexico's great Elmer Pettigrew last parlayed into the all-around championship more than two decades ago.

The husky Oklahoman also took the world steer wrestling championship and placed third in calf roping for the year.

He went into the world series of the rodeo circuit with a healthy margin over his nearest rival,

Dean Oliver of Boise, Idaho, and wound up with a $2,622 lead. Titles in rodeo events are determined on the basis of money won during the season.

Other new world champions are Ralph Buell of Sheridan, Wyo., bareback bronc riding; Dean Oliver, calf roping; Freckles Brown of Lawton, Okla., bull riding; Jim Rodriguez Jr. of Castroville, Calif., team roping; and Kenny McLean of Okanagon Falls, B.C., saddle bronc riding.

New Plateau In Business?

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The phrase "It's A Wonderful World" is printed on the ties an Atlanta bank president wears.

And the banker, Mills B. Lane of Citizens and Southern National Bank, soon has a visitor believing it is.

In fact, everyone in his bustling southern capital seems to bubble with enthusiasm.

But the feeling in Atlanta as it happens, is not at all typical of business sentiment across the nation.

Summing up majority opinion, one Southwest banker described the current business scene as an "unhurried economy."

A sampling of businessmen and economists in different cities discloses few as satisfied with the current economic situation as Atlanta's Mills Lane. But the same interviews also found only a few taking a violently opposite view.

FAIRLY STABLE
By far the majority see the American economy as going neither sharply up nor sharply down in the near future.

Their opinion several years of sputtering economic growth; unemployment staying about where it is, prices and wages fairly stable and profits tight.

And maybe, some say, this isn't so bad.

"You don't have to run a 100-yard dash every day to show you are healthy," says San Francisco retailer Cyril Magnin, president of Jos. Magnin Women's Wear.

What we have now, says Eugene C. Zorn, vice president of Dallas Republic National Bank, is "an unhurried economy."

"The economy is on a firmer footing and the likelihood is considerably enhanced that we are moving away from the boom and recession pattern," Zorn says.

Several businessmen, however, joined in the doubts expressed by R. G. Follis, board chairman of Standard Oil of California.

CAPITAL GROWTH

"I just wonder if we can continue very vigorous very long," he said, "if we keep putting such a small percentage into capital growth. It's way below what the other industrial countries are doing."

Karl Brandt, who was on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's council of economic advisers and who now heads the Food Research Institute at Stanford University, says not going up means going down.

"Once an economy starts sliding sideways," he says, "what's to prevent it from sagging? If we say we'll let it drift, we're forgetting our leadership."

On the other end of the opinion spectrum from the gloomy ones are those who forecast a giant upsurge in the economy.

But like those predicting bad times, they seem to be in the minority. Their chief difference from the majority things-on-a-plateau opinion is in their estimate how strong certain economic stimulants will be.

BABY BOOM
Bill Chartner of the Stanford Research Institute points to the maturity in the next few years of the postwar baby boom.

"This is a generation that's used to living pretty good, and they'll be buying a lot," he says, "you can already see it in auto sales. These upper-age teenagers want cars, and they're getting them. Soon they'll be starting families and we'll have a strong generator for setting off a new durable goods boom."

Still others see the growing economic power of once-depressed minority groups as an important economic stimulant.

Lane cited the rising income of Negroes in his area and the heavy demand for goods and services this will create as a factor for good.

And many view the future enthusiastically because of the prospects of free trade raised by the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 and the European Common Market.

Enlarging the free world into one pulsating trade area, says J. Paul Austin, president of Coca-

Cola "could mean all our gross national products increasing 5, 6 or 7 per cent a year. "It is easy to imagine a stage of prosperity nobody ever thought about before."

Freeze Hits Broad Area

By The Associated Press

Freezing weather chilled a broad Texas expanse Monday, and winter sent another blast of arctic air bowling south toward the state.

There were no clouds anywhere in the state to slow the mercury's drop.

Pre-dawn readings sank to 26 degrees at Dalhart, 29 at Lufkin, 30 at Junction, 31 at Lubbock and 32 at Amarillo, Wink, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Longview. Marks at other points ranged from the lower 30s up to 38 at Brownsville.

Forecasts called for slightly warmer temperatures across the southern part of the state overnight and the arrival of a fresh cold front in extreme North Texas Tuesday.

Skies were expected to be clear to partly cloudy except for considerable cloudiness in South Central Texas and a few showers along the middle and lower coast areas Tuesday.

Chile's President To Meet With JFK

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—President Jorge Alessandri of Chile, a key South American nation beset by economic and political problems, arrived in the United States today for a four-day visit and frank conversations with President Kennedy.

The talks will touch on such matters as Cuba, the U.S. Alliance for Progress effort to help Latin America, and Chile's specific problems, which include an adverse trade balance, inflation and devalued currency. The visitor is expected to ask President Kennedy to speed delivery of economic aid which the United States promised last March.

CUBAN RELATIONS

Chile is one of five Latin-American nations which maintain diplomatic relations with Fidel Castro's Cuban regime. Chile has a $10-million a year trade exchange with Cuba, the highest in Latin America. It has pursued a hands-off policy with regard to the Castro regime, but recently there have been reports the Alessandri government was considering a break with Havana.

President Alessandri is a 66-year-old, ascetic bachelor noted for his blunt talk. He has been having trouble with the powerful pro-Communist "Popular Action Front," a five-party alliance of Communists, Socialists and other minor groups which include Castro followers.

LAND REFORM

Before winning approval a government land reform program languished six months in Congress because of delaying tactics by leftists who claimed the program was not drastic enough. Land reform, to ease popular pressures, is one of the Alliance for Progress goals in Latin America.

For all its problems, copper-rich Chile is one of Latin America's more developed and stable nations. U.S. investments total $800 million, the third largest total, after Brazil and Venezuela. The Kennedy administration

Violent Death Toll Reaches 21

The toll was recorded in the period between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

Let's All Hope 'Papa' Was No Space Monster

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pushinka, the fluffy white dog that came to the White House as a gift from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, may be expected.

"We'll know in about 10 days," said White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger. Pushinka is undergoing tests to determine whether she is pregnant.

Pushinka is one of three dogs owned by the President and his family. Khrushchev said that she was a daughter of the Soviet space dog Strelka.

There has been no announcement of who might be the father.

Lovable Turkey Escapes The Axe

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Mitch, the Jackson, Mich., turkey too lovable for anyone's Thanksgiving table, now has a guarantee it won't be on anyone's Christmas menu, either.

It now has a new home on the 15-acre farm near Ann Arbor of Thomas Payne, a sports car race driver and auto dealer who promises Mrs. Mitch will be "strictly a pet" for his children.

The change of address means Mrs. Mitch will give up a career as an aide to Mrs. Robert Henry in teaching biology to elementary school children of Jackson.

Hatched in an incubator in Mrs. Henry's classroom, Mrs. Mitch quickly outgrew the school's facilities and Mrs. Allyn Kehrer "adopted" the bird, keeping it in the back yard of their home.

The Kehrs later decided to give Mrs. Mitch away.

Payne wrote asking the Kehrs for Mrs. Mitch, after reading an Associated Press story, and the Kehrs agreed.

"Mrs. Mitch will have plenty of company," says Payne. Other occupants on the farm are a donkey, two horses, two dogs, a cat, two bantam hens and a cageful of pigeons.

Israel's Law Of Return Stands

JERUSALEM (AP)—The Israel Supreme Court has held that a Jew who embraces another religion ceases to be a Jew in the Israeli national sense of the word.

The court ruled that a Roman Catholic priest of Jewish parent-age was not automatically entitled to Israeli citizenship under the Law of Return.

"Every Jew has a right to come to this country as an immigrant," that law says.

Father Daniel O. Carm, who was born Oswald Rufeisen, brought the test of the Law of Return, passed by the Israeli Parliament July 5, 1950—two years after the Jewish state was established.

The 40-year-old priest, a member of the Catholic Carmelite monastery on Mount Carmel, near Haifa, came to Israel in 1939.

What Every Cop Should Know

OVERLAND PARK, Kan. (AP)—Patrolman M. A. (Skip) Stolz answered what he thought was a routine neighborhood emergency call. It wasn't.

Mrs. Lloyd Hartford was at home alone, having a baby.

"I shed my hat, gloves, gunbelt and handcuffs, in that order," Stolz, a bachelor, said. Another policeman arrived and a woman neighbor of Mrs. Hartford pitched in.

Stolz made one mistake. He informed Mrs. Hartford that she had a "nice little boy."

It was a girl.

Self-Surgery For An Alibi

MONTREAL (AP)—Reginald Ouimet has confessed in court that he removed a bullet from his abdomen and later replaced it with one of different caliber as an alibi in an armed robbery case.

Ouimet was sentenced to three years in prison when he changed his plea to guilty and revealed the self-administered surgery.

Police in suburban St. Michael had fired on two men who held up a store. One was hit.

Ouimet said he removed the police bullet from his abdomen and then reported to a hospital to have the wound treated. He was turned over to police.

Ouimet said that while he was in jail he re-opened his gunshot wound and inserted the alibi slug. He later complained of pain and the bullet was removed in the jail infirmary.

Japan Crusade Report Is Due

DALLAS (AP)—A progress report on a Baptist evangelistic crusade in Japan will be given the 192-member Texas Baptist Executive Board at its quarterly meeting Tuesday.

The Japan Baptist New Life Movement, which seeks to reach more than 94 million people next spring, will be described by Dr. K. Owen White, board chairman, and T. A. Patterson of Dallas, Texas Baptist executive secretary.

Dr. White, pastor of Houston's First Baptist Church and new president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will preside at the sessions Tuesday for the last time.

In addition to a new chairman, the board will elect persons to nearly 50 positions on key Baptist boards, committees and commissions.

These will include trustees for two new institutions, Valley Baptist Academy in Harlingen and Mexican Baptist Bible Institute in San Antonio.

Preacher Fatally Stricken In Pulpit

GREENVILLE (AP)—The Rev. Bill Betts, 36, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, was fatally stricken with a heart attack Sunday night as he delivered his evening sermon.

He was stricken shortly after entering the pulpit, and was dead on arrival at a hospital. He recently returned from a four-week missionary trip to Brazil.

He came to Greenville two years ago after serving Texas churches in Detroit, Avery, Royse City, Frisco and Wichita Falls.

Survivors include his widow, two sons and a daughter; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Betts of Dallas; and a brother, Dr. F. G. Betts Jr. of Tyler.

Oil Compact Panel Reviews Control Of Wellhead Prices

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—An Interstate Oil Compact Commission study committee met today to review the 23-state conservation group's position on federal regulation of wellhead prices for natural gas.

The commission never has adopted a formal policy toward the area pricing formula set by the Federal Power Commission in 1960.

There was some indication the study committee may ask the commission Wednesday to reaffirm its old policy of seeking legislation that would remove FPC authority to regulate prices of gas sold in interstate commerce for resale.

This policy was not abandoned last year when the special committee headed by A. L. Porter Jr., secretary-director of the New Mexico Oil Conservation Commission, was appointed to study area prices.

A report by Porter's committee at the mid-year meeting of the commission in Omaha, Neb., commended the FPC for its continuing efforts to expedite area prices but made no reference to remedial legislation.

Porter told the commission's executive committee in September, however, that legislation still is needed to prevent the FPC from regulating wellhead prices.

Several trade groups, discouraged in recent months by the FPC's progress in developing the area formula, have renewed old pleas for remedial legislation.

The formula adopted in 1960 calls for price control for each of 23 major producing areas. Hearings on the formula for the first area, the Permian Basin of West Texas and New Mexico, still are in progress.

Porter's committee met Sunday but postponed area pricing discussions until today because of the absence of Richard Byrd, chairman of the Kansas Corporation Commission. Byrd is the compact representative on the FPC's natural gas advisory council.

Porter's group drafted a resolution commending a national fuel policy study report that is to be placed before the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee next year.

The report was prepared by a special study committee that included representatives of the oil and coal industries. Oil men say the report supports their industry's argument there is no need for legislation because the nation already has a sound fuel policy based on competition.

The fuels policy study was sought by coal interests. Oil men have charged the coal industry is seeking control which would dictate the type fuels individual consumers must use.

ON THE SHELF

SHELA. By Aubrey Menen. Random House, $3.95.
By The Associated Press

It seems that Buddha was sitting under the tree in his 10 by 10 feet Nirvana one day when along came the Angel Michael and the Devil.

Michael delivered a message from the Commander-in-Chief (Jehovah) that the current reincarnation of the Dalai Lama had been located. As the Devil pointed out, Michael was a little short of the truth—two had been found. One behind the Iron Curtain and the other in a Tibetan refugee colony in Switzerland. The odd circumstance was that the latter happened to be a girl.

With this beginning, Menen spins out a fluffy satire about the Communists and the West conducting a cold war over the He-Lama and the SheLa. Known, for short, as HeLa and SheLa.

Menen jibes at American politics and at egghead experts in the White House, and then comes up with a burlesque of a conference between the American President and the Soviet ambassador. When SheLa arrives in New York, he has an opportunity to caricature her mentor, an American millionaire who has gone nutty over exotic religions.

The whole affair makes an international stir at the United Nations when the Russians produce HeLa, and of course the two Lamas start romancing.

Meanwhile the author gets in a few licks regarding the Westernization of the East and the greedy opportunism of the new African politicians.

Satire of this type has to maintain a thoroughly airy tone or it falls flatter than a pancake. Menen has avoided this misfortune. He has kept his book sufficiently nonsensical to make it a palatable entertainment.

Come to think of it, it probably could be turned into an amusing Broadway musical.

—Miles A. Smith
