Today And Friday Are Last Days To Find 'Secret Santa'

CBS Runs Away With TV Ratings

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Radio-TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—As the television season rumbles along, it becomes increasingly evident that the CBS network, programming heavily in big star names and comedy, has estimated accurately the public's taste.

CBS, powerful as a bulldozer, presents nine of the 10 most popular shows listed in the most recent Nielsen ratings, plus 18 of the top 20. This establishes some sort of a network record.

The Nielsen top 10—based on estimates of audiences between Nov. 11 through 25—are, in order, the comedy phenomenon "Beverly Hillsbillies," the Red Skelton hour, "Candid Camera," "Ben Casey," "Lucy," the Danny Thomas show, Jack Benny, the Andy Griffith show, "Gunsmoke," and "I've Got a Secret." Sole non-CBS show on the list is ABC's "Ben Casey."

Nine of the top 20 shows are comedy, three are game or panel shows and only two are Westerns ("Bonanza," NBC's only top-20 entry, was number 13).

If nothing else, the list indicates what the average viewer asks of television: light, painless entertainment.

Major disappointment of the week was "The Court-Martial of Captain Wycliff" on NBC's "Dick Powell Show" Tuesday night. It started off powerfully—a military trial of a war hero charged with shooting down a scientist who determined to go over to this nation's enemies.

But the hour resolved itself into the usual whodunit debate—whether the captain murdered the traitor or not. The wind-up was most unsatisfactory: the captain confessed he had not murdered, but "executed" him. It was as if the author, having gotten all tangled up in a moral question of homicide, couldn't find any way to finish the script.

CBS, after Judy Garland's successful appearances in her special and on the Jack Paar Show the other night, is mulling over television series for the singing star. CBS' "Eyewitness" planned to

In other current Chamber activities, questionnaires have been prepared for visiting pilots. They will be available to all private pilots landing at Howard County Airport. Each consists of a stamped, self-addressed postcard with questions about services at the airport and in downtown businesses to determine where improvement is needed.

A cultural affairs committee meeting has been slated for Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. at the Chamber conference room. Mrs. Clyde Angel, chairman, will preside.

CREATURE OR CREATOR

By T. H. Tarbel, Preacher
Church of Christ, 2006 West Highway 80

Literature by those who call themselves "Jehovah's Witnesses" refers to Jesus Christ as a creature (Page 99, tract under review). They use Jno. 5:25, 26 as proof that Jesus received His life from the Father. This takes the passage out of context, for it is speaking of His ability to raise others, and asserts His humiliation and the unity of the Father and Son. It says nothing about His own life. Shame on those who twist the Scriptures!

The tract assumes that because He was called the Son of God, He is younger than God; but one of the persons in the Godhead can be designated as the Son of God because He was born of a virgin, which was the work of God, when He came into the world. Christ is called "the beginning of the creation of God;" and the tract interprets that to mean He was the first thing created by God. The author dabbles into the Greek language seeking to sustain his interpretation. If he insists on going to the Greek, Marvin Vincent (a standard authority) says it can be rendered, "the beginner (or author) of the creation of God."

Col. 1:16 says of Christ, "For by him were all things created." What could be plainer? —Adv.

Gromyko Talks Softly About Berlin Issue

MOSCOW (AP) — Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko declared today the Soviet Union would like to negotiate a settlement of the Berlin question but is setting no deadline for an agreement.

Gromyko told the Supreme Soviet, in the presence of Premier Khrushchev and President Tito of Yugoslavia, that the Soviet Union is prepared to continue an exchange of opinions with the West on a solution of the German problem.

While saying no time limit was placed on such negotiations, he said the Communist powers ultimately would sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany if the Western powers refused to come to an agreement.

"But we will not count the pages of the calendar," he said.

U.N. FLAG

Gromyko repeated the proposal by Khrushchev Wednesday to replace the Western Allies' troops in West Berlin with the flag of the United Nations.

He said that after a treaty is signed and the Allied troops are out of West Berlin, the Soviet Union would give guarantees for the city's independence.

Gromyko said Soviet guarantees of West Berlin's independence would be just as dependable as those of the NATO powers.

He underscored Khrushchev's peaceful coexistence theme and repeatedly called for negotiated agreements with the United States.

Without mutual understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union, it would be impossible to settle a single international conflict, Gromyko said.

"Either we must decide controversial questions at the conference table or slide into war—there is no other way out for the Soviet Union or the United States," he declared.

NO REAL OBSTACLES

Despite their "ideological differences," Gromyko continued, "the Soviet government does not see any unsurmountable obstacles in the relations between the Soviet Union and the United States."

"If there is agreement between Premier Khrushchev and President Kennedy, there will be a solution of international problems on which the fate of mankind depends."

"The Soviet Union would welcome such agreements."

Tito, who followed Gromyko to the rostrum, strongly praised Khrushchev for his handling of the Cuban crisis and defended the Soviet premier's conciliatory move against the criticism of the Communist Chinese and Albanians.

Business Leader Believes A Man Never Stops Learning

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Robert S. Bell already had a bachelor's degree and a law degree. Nevertheless, in 1955 when he was 40, Bell returned to the campus one day a week for a year.

To do it, he had to take time from numerous business and civic activities, for Bell was executive vice president of Packard-Bell Corp., an electronics firm with 1962 sales of about $50 million.

"When an executive is through learning, he's dead," Bell said later, explaining his two-semester stint at the University of California at Los Angeles. He attended classes in a special executive development program.

Something resembling Bell's attitude has been going on in the business world the last few years and appears to be spreading.

In one of its most dramatic expressions, David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, suggested periodic management leaves for high-level executives, perhaps every seventh year.

Speaking to the American Philosophical Society, Rockefeller, a brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, lamented the continuing division of society, especially the business world, into compartments.

The result, he said, was a stultifying communications gap in a decade of extremely rapid social and scientific change.

"We cannot afford to flounder in a communications vacuum while science and technology . . . reshape our world," he said.

To a point, much business thinking across the country is in tune with Rockefeller's thesis.

However, many executives express doubts about the wisdom of sabbaticals of from a full semester to a year.

This year about 3,000 executives were sent to university-sponsored, in-residence executive development programs lasting two weeks or more in the United States and Canada. Roughly 50 colleges, universities, institutes and associations gave such comprehensive programs.

Courses in managerial accounting, labor relations and the like heavily accented many offerings.

A few, such as those at Stanford University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, ran a full academic year and included audiences with Cabinet members, corporation heads and foreign dignitaries.

Exactly what benefits are reaped from these programs?

Like many corporations, Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, which has sent more than 1,600 executives back to school in the past 15 years, couldn't pinpoint them.

"It's very difficult to appraise precisely," said H. P. Schoeck, Jersey-Standard director of executive organization and development.

The real value is not so much the subject matter as in the informal rubbing of shoulders with men from very different businesses, from labor, the academic world, the military and government."

Others stressed the release from the insular aspects of executive life, tending to more specialization, an intense preoccupation with the narrowing job environment.

As Rockefeller put it, even golf course, bridge table, club and cocktail party discussions become parochial.

Since 1956 the Southern Pacific Railroad has sent about 50 men a year to special courses lasting six weeks to a year at schools like Stanford, MIT and Harvard.

"They can study anything they like—Chinese so far as I care. It's broadening," said Donald J. Russell, president.

Actually, study has concentrated on advanced management training, transportation, finance and similar subjects at graduate schools of business at the various institutions.

Regarding Rockefeller's sabbatical idea, several corporate bosses expressed reluctance to give up bright young men for a whole year.

"And there's a reluctance on the part of the men themselves," Schoeck said.

An official of Raytheon Co., Lexington, Mass., electronics concern, approved long sabbaticals, but said they should be regarded not as a complete answer but as a supplement to short courses, seminars, inhouse training programs, fellowships and the like.

In Chicago, Tilden Cummings, president of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co., agreed with Rockefeller that executives congregate too much, intensifying a need for "cross-pollination of ideas."

Cummings' bank sends officers and executives to Rutgers, in New Jersey, the University of Wisconsin and elsewhere for summer courses, mostly to schools of finance.

"We're not particularly interested in liberal arts courses," said Hugh Moltzau, director of management and training at Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit-based pharmaceutical firm.

Robert Mitchell, a vice president of Mattel, Inc., Hawthorne, Calif., toy manufacturer, said most of its middle and senior executives have gone through the UCLA program attended by Bell.

"I think there's some connection between our educational philosophy and the company's growth," Mitchell said.

Ex-Dictator Loses Plea

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has turned down former Venezuelan dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez' bid to avoid extradition to his country to face charges including murder and theft.

He has been living in this country since fleeing Venezuela four years ago.

He based his appeal of extradition orders on the contention that the charges against him in Venezuela involve "acts of state, the legality of which the judicial authorities of the United States have no authority to determine."

He also argued that the "alleged financial crimes were not within the treaty of extradition."

Upon receipt of the appeals court's decision, U.S. Dist. Atty. William A. McRae Jr. in Miami, Fla., ordered the arrest of Perez Jimenez and return of $100,000 bond he had posted.

His attorneys were expected to carry new appeals to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Lotus Blooms In Cattle Pond

BRAZORIA (AP)—How an exotic, aquatic East Asian plant got into a cow pasture pond a mile south of Brazoria is anyone's guess.

But it's there, and the cows of R. C. Walker of Brazoria can enjoy the beauty and fragrance of the sacred lotus.

In the Buddhist religion, the plant is symbolic of perpetual life.

Walker at first thought the plant to be some strange lily. A local nursery expert made the identification as a lotus. He said it was the first he had ever seen.

The blossoms have miniature flat-topped projections in the center surrounded by yellow stamens.

The perfectly round, smooth leaves are supported about two feet above the water on slender, cane-like stems about the diameter of a finger.

The blossoms are on stems another two or three feet higher than the foliage.

Negro Joins Elite Club

WASHINGTON (AP)—The elite Cosmos Club, whose rejection of a Negro for membership a year ago set off a stir that reached to the White House, has accepted its first Negro member.

John Hope Franklin, chairman of the Department of History at Brooklyn College, N.Y., was elected by the club's admissions committee Monday night.

Last January, the club's admissions committee turned down the application of Carl Rowan, a Negro, who is a deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs.

It brought an outcry of discrimination and several government officials resigned, including John Kenneth Galbraith, ambassador to India, who had proposed President Kennedy for membership.

"Being a member or not a member is a matter of conscience," Galbraith announced then. "And mine was best served by resigning."

And Kennedy passed the word that he did not want to join.

The True Meaning Of Christmas Portrayed

The trend toward more religious Christmas cards, which started in the late 1940's, is still gaining momentum. A record of religious subjects is being offered on this year's Christmas cards by the major greeting card publishers.

Approximately 35 per cent of the more than three billion cards that will be sent this Christmas, will contain religious designs. In contrast, less than five per cent of the Christmas cards produced 15 years ago could be classified as religious in character.

The "Madonna and Child" is the most popular of the religious designs, once again, followed by the "Three Wise Men" and the "Holy Family." Other religious motifs run the gamut from drawings of cherubs to choirs, open Bibles to the traditional snow covered New England church.

Beside the religious Christmas cards for general use, greeting card publishers have also made available a wide variety of cards specially designed to be sent to the clergy.

There are such special titles as "To Our Pastor," "To The Minister and His Wife," "To You in the Lord's Service," and "To You Who Teach His Word." There is also a card for "Sunday School Teacher."

The first religious Christmas cards were published in Belfast, Ireland in 1875, the same year that Louis Prang, a prominent Boston lithographer, became the first American to produce Christmas cards on a religious scale.

It wasn't until 1890, however, that religious designs started appearing on American Christmas cards. In fact, the majority of the early Christmas motifs had little or no relation to Christmas or the winter season. They pictured summer flowers, seascapes, fairies, kittens, children playing, even fish and reptiles.

DID YOU KNOW... that the first "enveloped" greeting card was a Christmas card. Greeting cards were not placed in envelopes until Rust Craft Greeting Cards introduced the first "enveloped" Christmas card in 1906.

That Christmas was denounced by the early Puritans. The General Court of Massachusetts passed a law in 1659 making the observance of Christmas a penal offense.

That the first American greeting card was sent by R. J. Pease of Albany, New York, in 1853. Pease, a dry goods merchant, designed, printed and mailed a Christmas card which also served as an advertisement. An original of this card is now housed in an antique greeting card collection.

reserved to its post office by Congressional Act.

That Christmas accounts for 41 per cent of the gifts an average family buys each year. Americans will give more than 1.5 billion presents this Christmas.

Council Urges Local Aid In Mental, Old-Age Cases

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Legislative Council urged today greater local participation in setting up facilities to take care of mentally ill children and older persons. The council, composed of members of the House of Representatives and five senators, adopted subcommittee reports recommending that the legislature look into these fields. One recommendation called for the legislature "to consider passage of legislation authorizing and encouraging establishment of local facilities and services for the mentally ill."

mentally ill persons are operated in Amarillo, Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, Austin, San Antonio, Corpus Christi and Houston. Other recommendations called for local officers to take advantage of immediate admission of court-committed patients to state hospitals "so that jail confinement of the mentally ill in Texas will become as outmoded as hospital waiting lists;" that general hospitals take these patients on a temporary basis and that county officials let members of the patient's family take the persons to the state hospital as soon as possible. Kennedy May Seek Aid Of Businessmen

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy appears set today to turn to business leaders for aid. And the help he wants from these largely conservative men is in dealing with conservative leaders of Congress who are getting their backs up over any tax cutting while the Treasury is running a deficit. Business and the President have had their well-publicized differences this year. So he will have submit early in the coming session. It will be a neat trick. Businessmen in general feel that taxes are too high and are holding back the economic growth desired to create jobs for everyone who really wants to work. They also feel that a balanced federal budget over the long pull is needed to keep the dollar healthy. At the same time, many of them are well aware of how their own companies prosper when they get government orders. And some know to their sorrow how plants can be closed and men laid off when a government contract is lost or canceled. So cuts in government spending are fine in principle when the aim is to balance the budget without piling the tax burden even higher. But the cuts can be pretty tough to take when a particular producer or worker is involved. Few in the Friday night audience are likely to be very hopeful of any significant cut in total government spending, much as they will applaud any promise of efforts to economize. And most are likely to favor any lightening of the tax burden on business and individuals—to a point. That point is the highly debatable one of just how high a Treasury deficit can go before it becomes dangerous. The indictments Tuesday allege theft, conspiracy to steal, acceptance of a bribe and accomplice to theft bribery. The Gregg County grand jury also delivered a formal report declaring: "This grand jury, to a man, takes the position that illegal drilling must be eliminated forever by whatever means necessary."

Fatally Shot CRANE, Tex. (AP) — A boy was fatally shot Tuesday when a rifle accidentally discharged in his home. Justice of Peace Geneva Davis said John Mixon, 13, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Odie Mixon of Crane, was playing with several guns when one discharged.

Jury Slams Slant Holes

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—A 10-month-old state investigation of slanted oil well drilling has resulted in 209 new indictments naming 44 men, including a state court judge. The indictments Tuesday allege theft, conspiracy to steal, acceptance of a bribe and accomplice to theft bribery. The Gregg County grand jury also delivered a formal report declaring: "This grand jury, to a man, takes the position that illegal drilling must be eliminated forever by whatever means necessary."

JFK Defends Adlai Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy tried again to close the book on the Adlai Stevenson chapter in the Cuban crisis. He said it should be left to history "when the whole record will be spread out in great detail."

But he said he thought that after having read various statements of the past 10 days "any historian—and I think this matter should be left to historians—who walks through this mine field of charges and countercharges, should proceed with some care."

The President in his news conference Wednesday touched on many subjects — including the Mona Lisa and a record spoofing the First Family. But the questions kept returning to Cuba and Stevenson.

"It is our best judgment" that the Soviets have withdrawn their missiles and bombers from Cuba. The United States, he added, will announce within two weeks new regulations to penalize non-Communist shipping involved in the Cuban trade.

The President reiterated, without specifications, his proposal to cut income taxes next year. He contended he and Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, are not as far apart as a cursory reading of a recent interview with Mills might indicate.

Mills, who conferred privately with Kennedy after the news conference, said in the interview that he opposed a "quickie" tax cut or reduction that would balloon the government's debt.

Kennedy said he would detail his tax program at a speech before the Economic Club of New York Friday night.

EXCELLENT JOB
The President again endorsed the U.N. ambassador saying: "The fact of the matter is that Gov. Stevenson renders very distinguished service. He has done an excellent job at the United Nations."

But the President left up in the air who in the administration may have given two reporters information portraying Stevenson as trying appeasement during Cuban crisis conferences of the National Security Council's executive committee.

The president said "it is my judgment that this statement or interpretation of Gov. Stevenson's position did not come from a member of the National Security Council. I satisfied myself on that. I never heard anyone characterize Stevenson's position in that way and I am satisfied myself that no one did."

He added there were other people who might have. But that, he said, is a matter for reporters—"A matter that, as I say, I think can much better be left to history when the whole record will be spread out in great detail."

BOYCOTTS—Persons who boycott stores selling goods imported from behind the Iron Curtain aren't waging much of a fight against the spread of communism.

NUCLEAR ROCKET—Not until tests are completed next July will the government decide whether to put more money into the Rover project to develop a nuclear-powered vehicle for deep space exploration.

VIET NAM—After pouring men and equipment into Viet Nam to counter Communist aggression, Kennedy said, "We don't see the end of the tunnel, but I must say I don't think it is darker than it was a year ago, and in some ways lighter."

ALLIANCE FOR PROGRESS—Kennedy said the United States is deeply concerned over inflation in Brazil. He also recommended strengthening the labor movement in Latin America lest it "be disaffected and go to the radical left."

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The 33 states in the Interstate Oil Compact Commission have been asked to insist that Congress eliminate federal control over wellhead prices of natural gas.

The oil and gas conservation group also has asked that the oil imports control program be broadened to include heavy fuel oils and imports to West Coast states.

The gas and imports resolutions were approved Wednesday at the close of the annual meeting of the interstate body that serves as the forum on oil and gas conservation problems.

The gas resolutions reaffirmed an old policy of seeking remedial legislation for gas producers. It marked the first time the compact has reaffirmed its traditional policy since the Federal Power Commission (FPC) adopted an area pricing formula in late 1960.

Compact members had been urged to cooperate with the FPC

Oil Compact States Asked To Help Curb U.S. Control

DOESN'T KNOW
Kennedy was asked: "You don't know, then, who leaked it?"
"No, I don't know who," he replied, "and I think it is unfortunate if anybody discusses any matter that comes before the National Security Council because I think it lessens its effectiveness."

The tempest blew up over an article in the Saturday Evening Post, written by Washington newsmen Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett, which gave an account of the council's deliberations during the crisis and the positions various members took.

Stevenson has denounced the account of his position as untrue and Kennedy made public a letter expressing his confidence in the U.N. ambassador.

RUMORS OUT
Because Bartlett is an old and close friend of the President, rumors immediately shot through the capital that someone in the administration was "out to get Adlai." Fears were expressed that an attempt was being made to undermine him at the United Nations.

Kennedy said: "I am surprised that anyone would possibly think that it would be in the interest of the country or the administration, or the White House that any lessening of his influence would be provided."

The President assumed full responsibility for decisions of the National Security Council but declined to discuss positions taken by advisers in advance of his decision to wrap an arms blockade around Cuba.

On other matters, Kennedy said he hadn't had time to digest Soviet Premier Khrushchev's speech earlier in the day in which he declared he would hold the United States to its promise of a guarantee against invading Cuba.

OWN METHODS
Kennedy said he hoped Cuban settlement negotiations at the United Nations would reach "some conclusion" but asserted the United States would use its own methods to insure against another Soviet buildup in Cuba. These methods, he said, "are very effective."

As of now, Kennedy declared,

British Troops Chase Asian Rebels Into Woods

LABUAN, North Borneo (AP)—British troops pushed out from regained towns in Brunei and northwest Sarawak today chasing rebel bands seeking refuge in dense jungles and swamps.

Local British commanders were concerned that the rebels, whose strength still is unknown, would attempt to organize a long guerrilla war from swampland hide-outs.

Several hundred tribesmen from the interior of Sarawak, responding to an ancient hostility to the rebel coastal dwellers, were reported prowling the Brunei-Sarawak border areas in an effort to cut off rebel bands.

However, Lt. Gen. Sir Nigel Poett, commander of British Far East land forces, declared after a visit to operations areas that the possibility of rebel guerrilla resistance already was remote after only six days of revolt.

"We have broken the back of the rebellion," he said.

He pointed out that the rebels, who wanted to set up an independent state composed of the Brunei sultanate and the two neighboring crown colonies of Sarawak and North Borneo, were armed only with shotguns and a few rifles.

Columbus Ship Spotted Again

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Nina II, the elusive reproduction of Columbus' third ship which is attempting to duplicate the original voyage, was spotted by search planes again Wednesday about 300 miles northeast of Puerto Rico.

Winds were strong and the sea was rough, but the Nina said it would continue on toward its destination, San Salvador, the Bahamas. The Coast Guard estimated it might arrive there Christmas Eve.

The Nina's crew again refused food but asked for water and cigarettes.

Relay Launch Is Scheduled For Tonight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Keeping a weather eye on the winds six to eight miles above the earth, the space agency today prepared to install an inter-continental switchboard out in space.

Barring trouble from high winds above or the unseasonably cold weather down here below, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will send the Relay communications satellite aloft sometime between 6:30 and 8:18 (EST) tonight.

Relay, a more sophisticated brother of the highly successful Telstar, was designed, as another step in the process of developing a spatial communications network to take the load off overtaxed land lines and ocean cables.

It is equipped to relay telephone, teletype, radio and television signals between the United States, Europe and—except for television—South America. Officials emphasize that it is purely experimental.

Relay will be carried aloft on the nose of a Thor-Delta rocket. Robert Gray, project manager for NASA said the rocket has chalked up 13 straight successes.

He said the only problem that had officials concerned were winds 30,000 to 40,000 feet above the earth in the area where the Thor-Delta undergoes its most severe structural strain.

If all goes well, the experiments will begin Friday morning, 13 1/2 hours after launch, as Relay swings through an egg-shaped orbit reaching from 700 to 4,000 miles above the earth.

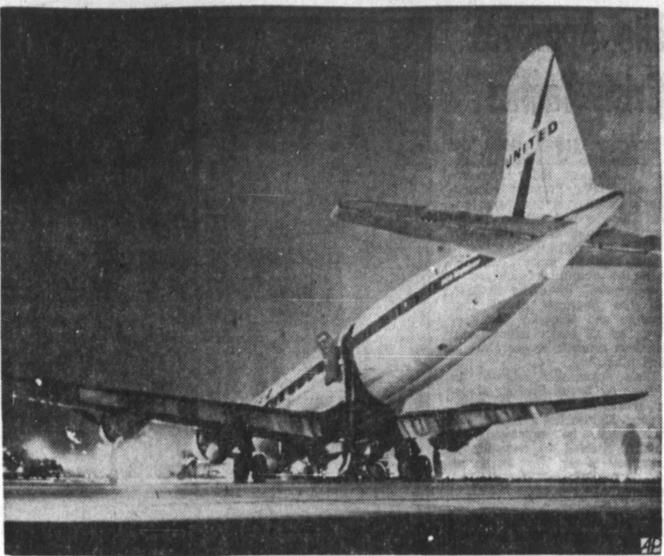

Wideband radio frequency and television test pattern transmissions will be relayed through the satellite. Two days after launching news stories will be transmitted between the United States and Europe, and two days later between the United States and South America.

Enrollment Dips To 7,476

Another dip in enrollment for Big Spring public schools was noted for the last report period Friday. Enrollment dropped by eight to 7,476 students, according to Sam M. Anderson, superintendent.

The losses were about equally distributed. Elementary schools lost four pupils and secondary schools lost five. Special education had a gain of one, going to 164 students. The elementary total is now 4,404 and secondary enrollment is 2,908.

By school, the enrollment and change is: Airport 451, down two; Bauer 516, up one; Boydston 511, down one; Cedar Crest 311, up three; College Heights 528, down four; Kate Morrison 275, down two; Lakeview 202, up one; Marcy 541, down three; Park Hill 297, down one; Washington 772, up four; Goliad 915, down four; Lakeview Junior High 74, down one; Runnels 731, up two; and Senior High 1,188, down two.

K Makes Peace With Tito, Declares War On Dogmatists

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN
An AP News Analyst

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has declared war on the ideological views of Communist China and Albania and publicly made his peace with his old enemy in the Communist camp, Yugoslav President Tito.

In his speech to the Supreme Soviet Wednesday Khrushchev outlined to his people for the first time the details of his feud with the dissenting Chinese and Albanians.

A neutralist diplomat called the speech "a historic turning point" in Moscow-Peking rivalry.

Khrushchev declared that dogmatism, a Communist synonym for the extreme views of the Chinese, had become just as dangerous as revisionism, a word applied to such independent Communist thinking such as Yugoslavia's.

He swore that, from now on, "Soviet Communists, to whom there is nothing higher than unity of the ranks of the world Communist movement, will fight resolutely against both right-wing and left-wing opportunism, which today is no less dangerous than revisionism."

In an open affront to the anti-Titoist Chinese and Albanians, Khrushchev declared Soviet friendship for the Yugoslav Communists.

This drew an approving nod from Tito, seated behind him on the stage, and loud applause from the deputies of the Supreme Soviet.

Khrushchev blamed Stalin for the differences that led to Yugoslavia's expulsion from the Communist camp in 1948.

"But our Yugoslav comrades were not wholly blameless," he added.

"There are still serious divergencies on a number of ideological questions, he continued, but recent moves in Yugoslav domestic and foreign policy have eliminated much of what we regarded as erroneous and as prejudicing the cause of building socialism (communism) in Yugoslavia."

He apparently was referring to Tito's recent economic reforms, tightening central controls over decentralized Yugoslav industries, and his close support of Soviet foreign policy stands.

While never mentioning the Chinese by name, Khrushchev accused them of "sinking deeper and deeper in the quagmire of leftist opportunism, splitting tactics and sectarianism."

"In the crisis over Cuba, Yugoslav Communists took a correct position, whereas dogmatists who pose as true Marxists-Leninists took a provocative position," he said.

"What the crisis in Cuba has shown is that the main danger was represented by those who stood and stand on dogmatic positions."

Khrushchev turned the argument that he was "soft on imperialism" back at the Chinese.

He noted that Peking tolerates the British colony of Hong Kong and Portuguese Macao on its territory.

He compared the Albanians to children who have been taught to hurl obscenities by adults who do not want to do it themselves.

Volunteers Snuff Out Oilfield Fire

COAHOMA — Members of the Coahoma Volunteer Fire Department made a breezy run to the East. Howard oilfields Wednesday morning to extinguish a fire on Fleming Oil Company's Snyder B lease.

A. C. Myrick, pumper, had discovered the fire on the manifold system between the heater treater and tank battery. Coahoma firemen got the alarm at 6:15 a.m. and hustled the city's pumper-booster to the scene in sub-freezing weather.

Chemical powders, with water log as a cooler, quickly brought the blaze under control with minor damage. Neither the treater nor the tank battery was affected.

Rutherford Gets Award

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Stewart Udall said West Texas voters caused him to break a rule in presenting Rep. J. T. Rutherford, D-Tex., a conservation service award Wednesday.

Udall explained that it has been the custom of his department not to honor congressmen while they remain in office.

"But out in West Texas," the secretary said, "they had a moment of temporary insanity last November and this congressman was not returned."

His remark referred to the defeat of Rutherford by Ed Foreman, a Republican, in the general election.

Lauding Rutherford for legislative accomplishments as chairman of the House subcommittee on National Parks the past two years, Udall told him:

"I don't know what awaits you in public service or private life, but in accomplishing the addition of areas to the national park system you have written your name on our land with an indelible signature."

Udall said Rutherford played a major part in legislative moves which authorized establishment of new national seashores at Cape Cod, Mass., Point Reyes, Calif., and Padre Island, off the Texas coast.

Workers Still Await Communist 'Blessing'

By LOYAL GOULD
BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — "So you are another wicked American imperialist," the Budapest taxi driver said with a wry laugh.

"I'd give anything if I could be an imperialist and leave this workers' paradise."

Istvan R., a burly, good natured fellow in his early 40s, had picked this reporter up in front of a Budapest hotel. Just before he dropped me, he invited me to visit his home.

"Pick you up tomorrow night at 7," he said.

Istvan's life is in sharp contrast with that led by the members of Communist Hungary's new privileged class. They live in different worlds.

The worker, for whom communism ostensibly was created, is still waiting for his blessings. On the average, he pays two weeks' wages for a pair of shoes or a month's salary for a suit. He may wait three years for an apartment, despite Hungary's many housing projects.

THE ELITE

Members of the elite, on the other hand, are eligible to obtain houses in residential districts in the hills overlooking Budapest. They get preferential treatment in buying the 6,000 to 7,000 cars imported annually. They can buy French fashions and Western delicacies.

The road to Istvan's apartment led out of brightly lit downtown Budapest to a grimy industrial area. Here workers fought against Russian tanks in 1956.

We turned down a side street littered with discarded building material garbage and empty bottles. Istvan parked in front of an old building, still scarred from the Hungarian revolution.

Up three flights of dimly lit and rickety stairs, Istvan's wife, Iona offered glasses of barack, a brandy made from apricots, and a pot of weak coffee to thaw the chill.

BEST HE HAS

"It's not much," Istvan said apologetically, "but it is the best coffee I can offer."

The apartment had two small rooms, a bath, and what could be described as a kitchenette for Istvan, his wife and two teenage sons.

"The regulations," he said, "are that no less than two persons should live to a room. If you have fewer to a room you pay extra taxes but that's only for the privileged class."

Housing, Istvan said, was his least expense—about $12 a month, utilities included. His furniture—a couch, two small tables, a stove, four chairs and two double beds—were duplicates of the shoddy offerings in Budapest stores.

Iona said it would be impossible for the family to live without pooling Istvan's $55 a month, her $40 earned in a factory, and the $65 earned by the two sons as machinist helpers.

"Sometimes," she said, "I am at my wit's end with worry how we can get the simplest necessities. Pork costs $2.50 a pound, if you find it. There are always shortages of eggs, potatoes, fruit and cheese. And things are so expensive. A television costs $165."

As she went to refill the coffee pot, Istvan admitted:

"I try sometimes to forget our life by drinking too much brandy."

He touched on a problem government officials say is becoming a problem—alcoholism.

On another night, Andreas S. sat in one of Budapest's best restaurants, the Kis Royale.

He said he was a chemical engineer, earning the equivalent of $875 a month.

His wife, elegantly dressed, dabbed her eyes as a gypsy violinist played.

"My husband courted me in this restaurant when I was a girl," she said.

Their five-course meal, with wine, cost $25.

"We can afford an evening now and then in a place like this," Andreas S. said. "We top it off with a little dancing and a few drinks in a nearby bar."

"Our family was sort of prominent before the war, but the Communists need us now."

The regime needs engineers, doctors and industrial managers. In return for their assistance, the premier and party boss, Janos Kadar, has promised they no longer will run into discrimination because they are not party members.

Although their living standards differ, the taxi driver and the chemical engineer both doubt Hungarians will stage another revolution, at least in the foreseeable future.

"There is no doubt life has improved since 1956," Istvan said. "It is still improving, as long as we can apply pressure for better conditions, there will be no revolution."

Pollard Has Brickbat Party, Boosting Customer Relations

Bill Pollard threw a brickbat party Wednesday evening, and he got what he wanted.

But not at first. Guests had mostly posed to toss in the direction of the Chevy Center, but on constant stimulation by their host, they did come up with irksome incidents and product suggestions.

It was part of a plan by Pollard Chevrolet, and other outlets for the motor car concern, to upgrade customer relations. Several people had been picked as a cross section of the local population, and they were urged to air any grievances or make any observations.

Joe Fitts, San Angelo, representative for the Chevrolet motor division, assisted in the affair held at Coker's restaurant.

"We are proud that Chevrolet has 20 million customers," he said, "but we would be prouder if we could say that it had 20 million satisfied customers. This is what it is all about. We want as nearly all our customers as possible to be satisfied with their product and with their service."

Pollard, speaking for his distributorship here, admitted that he loved the smell of roses, kept asking for the thorns. Assisting in the proceedings were C. Y. Clinkscales, who heads up customer relations for Pollard Chevrolet.

It took a little digging, but finally they pulled the plug on a stream of suggestions from fleet operators, teachers, housewives, individual owners, contractors, business managers and others.

These ran the gamut from service to parts, to design, to customer comfort while waiting, telephone courtesy, firing-backs, etc. Pollard and Clinkscales dutifully recorded the conversation on tape so department heads can hear and heed. There would be other sessions, he said, as a part of the program to constantly seek the best possible customer relations.

Among those on the panel were Hugh Duncan, Clayton Bettis and Rex Hopkins, Oscar Nabors, S. M. Smith, Arnold Marshall, Mrs. Bill Gibson, Mrs. Ida Kelly, Mrs. J. D. Purser.

President Plans To Set Penalties On Cuban Trade

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has decided to impose penalties on non-Communist shipping engaged in trade with Cuba, chiefly by denying American cargoes to the vessels.

New regulations are expected to be put into effect in about two weeks.

The President's move, disclosed Wednesday at a news conference, involves reviving plans that were shelved when the Cuban crisis broke in October.

Thus, the United States is reverting to its pre-crisis policy of putting an increasingly tight economic squeeze on the Castro regime in Cuba and, at the same time, making the cost of Soviet support for that regime as high as possible.

Kennedy also made two other major points about the Cuban situation.

1. He hopes that negotiations going on between U.S. and Soviet representatives in New York "will come to some conclusion in the not too distant future." Meanwhile the United States intends to maintain its vigilance against the re-introduction of Soviet offensive weapons into the island. This was the substance of the President's

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Gulf Oil Corp. has reported a major oil and gas discovery in 209 feet of water 32 miles off Louisiana.

JFK To Review First 2 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will appear on national television networks Monday night to review his first two years in the White House.

The White House announced today that the hour-long program will be taped in advance and shown at 6:30 p.m. (EST) by ABC and CBS and at 8:30 p.m. by NBC.

The program will be produced by a committee of the three major networks and will be entitled "After Two Years—A Conversation with the President." Kennedy will be interviewed by Sander Vanocur of NBC, William H. Lawrence of ABC, and George Herman of CBS.

Tito Approves Crisis Tactics

MOSCOW (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia addressed the Soviet Parliament today and approved Soviet Premier Khrushchev's handling of the Cuban crisis. This seemed certain to increase Communist Chinese anger at the Soviet leadership.

The Yugoslav leader, expelled from the Communist fold as a "deviationist" by Stalin in 1948, told the Supreme Soviet that Kremlin and Yugoslav points of view "on all major international questions coincide or are close to each other."

Tito's appearance followed an address by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in which, echoing Khrushchev's major policy speech, he suggested the U.S.S.R. wanted to negotiate a settlement of the West Berlin issue. He said Moscow is setting no deadline.

The 1,443-member Supreme Soviet wound up its four-day session by approving sweeping reorganization of the Soviet economic structure and accepting the U.S.S.R. 86.6-billion-ruble budget for the ensuing year. The Parliament approved Khrushchev's moves to consolidate economic controls in a newly created National Economic Council. It also approved Khrushchev's "peaceful coexistence" policies.

Toys For Tots

Poor youngsters of the city will share in some bright playthings at Christmas, thanks to the generosity of Bob Bradbury of Radio Station KHEM. The station accumulated some merchandise and has turned it over to the Salvation Army to be included in its Yuletide distribution to needy families. Skybolt's Fate Depends On Kennedy-Mac Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fate of the Skybolt missile program, subject of the hottest U.S.-British argument in years, hangs precariously on next week's meeting between President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan—and this country's military budget.

Tentative American plans to give up on the expensive missile—around which Britain has shaped its nuclear strategy—has brought a sharp reaction from Britain and put a strain on the alliance.

When asked about the Skybolt dispute at his news conference yesterday, Kennedy spoke cautiously.

1. He was sure it would be discussed when he meets with Macmillan in the Bahamas Dec. 19-20. The United States is now reviewing its budget for the new fiscal year. No final decision will be made until these matters have been completed.

2. The United States has put a half-billion dollars into the program so far. To complete it and buy the missiles might require $2.5 billion more. Five tests of the 1,100-mile range ballistic missile for launching from bombers have not been successful.

"So—there really is the question of how much it is worth to the British and ourselves to put in that kind of money when we have competing claims for our available funds," the President said.

Kennedy characterized the Skybolt as "the most sophisticated weapon imaginable. To fire a missile from a plane moving at high speed to hit a target 1,000 miles away requires the most advanced engineering and, of course, it has been really, in a sense, the kind of engineering that's been beyond us."

British experts don't believe the Skybolt is a flop. They feel the initial troubles can be overcome. Kennedy noted that Britain has a "very important equity in the matter."

Fred Wemple, Midland, may be entitled to his 100 per cent attendance bonus after all—for 1953, that is.

Trustees Re-Affirm Policy Regarding Married Students

A meeting for which a short agenda had been prepared turned into a lengthy session Wednesday night for trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tally appeared before the board asking to have their daughter, Sharon, reinstated as a member of the volleyball team. Miss Tally had been dismissed from the team 10 days ago when the coach found out that she had been married.

After much deliberation, trustees voted three to two to reaffirm the present administrative policy which does not allow married youngsters to take part in extracurricular school activities.

At the same time, the policy was stated to include boys Wendal Parks and O. S. Womack voted against the motion.

Pritchard and Abbott Co., Odessa, was awarded a two-year contract, the fourth for that firm, to appraise oil properties for the school district. The present contract expires Jan. 1, 1963. For its services, the company will receive five cents for each $100 valuation of oil produced in the district.

Katharine Hepburn Thinks O'Neill Play Marvelous

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ideas shoot from Katharine Hepburn like sparks from a grinding wheel. So when she is talking it's best merely to sit back and listen.

That Hepburn wanted to talk was not unusual. That she would talk for publication was extraordinary, since she has been elusive for reporters in recent years.

The reason for talking was to help along "Long Day's Journey into Night," the much-heralded film from Eugene O'Neill's autobiographical play.

"I think it deserves a hearing," she said resolutely. "It's a fine piece of work, a truly great play. I think it's encouraging that such a serious film can be done at a reasonable figure and that its commercial prospects are good."

"I was delighted to do it. It was a real challenge, making use of a range of dramatics that I have never shown on the screen before. O'Neill had a depth that is simply marvelous."

The actress lives in a curious seclusion in the high rent district in upper Beverly Hills. It is a cliff-hanging apartment adjacent to an estate. She explained:

"It used to be Jack Barrymore's. Dear Jack, he was so kind to me. I did my first picture with him—"Bill of Divorcement." The lower part of this place used to be his projection room." She showed me a stained-glass door leading to what is now her bedroom. Pictured in it were Barrymore and his second wife, Dolores Costello.

Hepburn settled in one of the chairs she had made herself in the upstairs sitting room, a marvelously lighted room with large windows and skylights. And she talked. Here in abbreviated form are some of the things she said:

"I must say that we had a great era in films. There were real stars in those days, and real characters. We were expected to be a bit wayward, and that added to the aura."

"There were great stars in the group before me, too. I think they and we had something that the actors lack today: vitality. Everything seemed tremendously important to us, and we worked like dogs at our jobs."

"I don't believe in all this confessing in public. It seems to me that the public appreciates a certain mystery. The producers did that in the old days. Take Maude Adams, for example. The public was never allowed to know what she was really like."

"I don't like the way women are portrayed by the new dramatists. I can't believe they are the pinched, lecherous, scheming females they seem to be in those plays."

"Maybe it's because my mother was an ardent feminist. Anyway, I've always had a great admiration for women. They've brought a lot of softness and beauty into the world. For hundreds of years they have made unattractive men think that they are appealing, and that's an act of kindness. . . ."

W. German Crisis Ends

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany's worst political crisis has ended with the formation of a new coalition government.

Konrad Adenauer, the 86-year-old chancellor, will continue to lead the government through in a lame-duck role as a result of the promise wrung from him during the crisis to retire next year.

The Free Democrats, who upset the old coalition by withdrawing from the government three weeks ago, will hold the same five posts they had before.

Mariner II Approaches Its Magic Moment Near Venus

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mariner II now approaches its magic moment in space. The frail, bug-like explorer—spearheaded by the nearness of the sun—is ready for a first, close look at a neighbor planet, earth's cloud-veiled sister Venus.

At 3:10 p.m. (EST) Friday Mariner is to pass some 20,000 miles from Venus—give or take a few thousand miles.

For half an hour its instruments will measure radio and heat radiations from below the dense clouds that hide the planet from sight.

It is an historic moment in man's probing farther and farther into his solar system. Even now a Soviet space probe is pushing toward Mars for a closer look at that planet.

Mariner has weathered a series of troubles, but with one of its solar panels out of operation, it is about to complete its mission.

ALL RECORDS

Mariner is already holder of all records for long distance radio communication through space. When it reports back from Venus, it will set a new record—radio signals from a man-made device 36 million miles away.

This all began on Aug. 27 when an Atlas-Agena B rocket complex boosted Mariner into space. Its predecessor Mariner I had failed little more than a month before when the range safety officer destroyed it 290 seconds after blast-off because of an erratic flight path.

Mariner II got off as planned, but when the time came for it to fire its mid-course motor and get a better aim on Venus, the rocket ran into trouble. Mariner's eyes seemed to get too dim a view of earth. Data radioed back indicated earth was appearing 1-150th as bright as it should have been. Scientists worried that Mariner's eyes were really seeing the moon.

They checked and checked again, finally decided, despite the dim-light report, that Mariner was locked on to the earth. On Sept. 4 they fired the mid-course motor.

A MYSTERY

On Sept. 8, the gyroscopes went on—indicating that Mariner had lost its view of the earth and sun. Then the gyros went off again. Space technicians chalked it up to mystery, nearly two million miles from earth.

On Sept. 29, the same thing happened. Again no good explanation. Suddenly the eyes of Mariner reported the earth was now as bright as it should have been. This too is unexplained, more than five million miles from earth.

On Oct. 31, almost 12 million miles from earth, Mariner radiated that its power production had dropped. Technicians guessed that one of the solar panels, which convert sunlight into electricity, had developed a short circuit. They commanded Mariner to cease its electricity-consuming science experiments while they pondered the problem.

CORRECTED SELF

On Nov. 7, they decided to renew the experiments, since they seemed to be getting enough power from the remaining solar panel. Suddenly the short-solar panel began operating again, and technicians decided the short-circuit had corrected itself. The next day they turned the experiments on again.

On Nov. 15, a solar panel went out again. Mariner continues on one solar panel.

Toward the end of November, temperatures on the sunward face of the solar panels were up to 200 degrees Fahrenheit, with spacecraft temperatures 100 degrees on the shady side. By Friday, experts estimate temperatures on the solar panels will reach 250 degrees.

In spite of all the troubles, Mariner has already earned its keep. It has measured the climate of space on its 182-million mile journey.

Instruments showed that there is a continual wind of sparse, but fast-moving, particles blowing from the sun. Most of the solar particles were traveling between 850,000 and 1,550,000 miles an hour.

SOLAR WIND

A few particles were found to be traveling nearly three million miles an hour.

The solar wind, a sort of thin gas by our earth-noon of things, is still dense enough and fast enough to push around the magnetic fields that exist between the planets.

Mariner's trip comes at a time when the sun's activity is low. There are times when the sun's activity rises and great solar hurricanes blow through space. Mariner found out something about this too.

It discovered that some of the magnetic fields in interplanetary space are so arranged that they will act as a fence to retard the solar hurricane winds.

This is all important to the men who will design the craft which one day will carry men between the planets.

Lyndon Is Speaker For Daniel Banquet

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel will continue to be a leader in Texas and the nation after he leaves office next month. Vice President Lyndon Johnson said Wednesday night.

Johnson and other state leaders honored Daniel at a $10-a-plate appreciation dinner attended by an estimated 2,500 persons.

"Price Daniel has behind him a long and useful career of public service—with honors bestowed upon him by the people of this state which have been given no other Texan in this century," the vice president said.

"But he also has the promise of a long and useful life which will, I am confident, serve Texas and the nation well."

Johnson also relayed congratulations from President Kennedy. "The President has asked me to extend his personal greetings to Gov. Daniel and to express his own appreciation and admiration as a former colleague (in the U.S. Senate) and a continuing friend," he said.

Johnson came to Austin after touring North Texas. He and Gov. elect John Connally headed a long list of public office holders and lawmakers who praised Daniel's 23 years in office.

State Insurance Board Chairman Ned Price and State Supreme Court Justices Joe Greenhill and Zollie Steakley reviewed Daniel's service record. He began as a state representative in 1939.

State Bar President Leon Jaworski of Houston told of Daniel's Army service in 1943-46, and Johnson recounted Daniel's U.S. Senate career in 1953-57.

Railroad Commissioner Ben Ramsey presided at the dinner. Former Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheppard of Odessa narrated a film story of Daniel's career entitled "The Family Album."

Blanchard And Co-Workers

Lions Club Feeds Gridders Tonight

The Downtown Lions' Club spreads its annual feed at 7:30 p.m. tonight for members of the 1962 Big Spring High School football team, their dates, the cheer leaders, Steer coaches and their wives.

The banquet takes place at the swank Cosden Country Club. Lt. Col. Felix (Doc) Blanchard, who is on a recruiting mission in this area for the U. S. Air Force Academy, will deliver the principal address. James Tidwell, president of the Lions' Club, will preside.

In the past, the banquet has usually been held in late January or early February but Tidwell said the banquet date was moved up while football was still fresh in the memory of the football buffs. An estimated 225 to 250 persons will attend the party. No sale of tickets to the public took place. However, members will be permitted to bring their wives and guests.

Blanchard is one of the most celebrated players ever to wear the colors of the U. S. Military Academy. He performed in 1944, 1945 and 1946 and was an AP All-American all three seasons.

He teamed with Glenn Davis to give the Cadets a near unbeatable "Mr. Outside, Mr. Inside" combination. Blanchard, a pile-driving fullback, was, of course, Mr. Inside. He was a devastating blocker when he wasn't carrying the ball and his defensive play was considered outstanding.

Army was undefeated in its three years Blanchard and Davis played. A tie in 1946 with Notre Dame was the only blemish on the Black Knights' record during that era.

Dibrell's Sporting Goods will award two trophies and Radio Station KBST one to players tonight.

In addition, the coaches are creating an award for a deserving player, chosen for aptitude, attitude and aggressiveness.

The Dibrell's awards are for the outstanding back and the player showing the best sportsmanship over the season while KBST's cup will go to the best lineman.

Past winners:
1958—Wayne Fields
1959—Jerry Dunlap
1960—Tommy Whatley
1961—Jerry Tucker

OUTSTANDING LINEMAN
1958—Alf Cobb
1960—Alf Cobb
1961—Dexter Pate

SPORTSMANSHIP AWARD
1958—Bill French
1959—Benny Edwards
1960—Gary Pickle
1961—Jack Irons

The trophies are not presented to the boys but instead displayed in the school's trophy case throughout the year. The names of each winner is engraved on the cup.

In addition, the identity of the Daily Herald's choices of the Outstanding Lineman and Outstanding Back of the Year will be made known and each will be presented with a certificate.

Bobcats Vanquish Killeen, 61-54

KILLEEN — San Angelo High hung a 61-54 basketball defeat on Killeen here Tuesday night, after building up a ten-point lead at the half.

Minton White tossed in 21 points for San Angelo, which was in the act of scoring its seventh win of the year.

Herd Draws Seminole As Foe In Tourney

Big Spring has drawn Seminole as a first round opponent in the Snyder Invitational Basketball tournament, which starts Friday afternoon and continues through Saturday night.

The two teams open the show at 1 p.m.
Other games, and starting times:
Snyder A vs. Stamford, 2:30 p.m.; Aspermont vs. Snyder B, 4 p.m.; Winters vs. Plainview, 5:30 p.m.

The Longhorns are assured of playing three games in the tournament, since all eight places will be determined. A victory over Seminole would send the Steers back to action at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

A loss would find them playing at 7 p.m. Friday.
The seventh place contest starts at 3 p.m. Saturday, consolation finals at 4:30 p.m., the game for third place at 6 p.m. and the championship tussle at 7:30 p.m.

Seminole, which recently administered a severe drubbing to Brownfield, and Aspermont are favored to reach the finals. Aspermont kayoted McAdoo, conqueror of Big Spring, not long ago.

The Longhorns will carry a 4-2 won-lost record to Snyder. They have beaten Colorado City twice, San Angelo, Lake View and Brownfield. Their losses have come at the hands of McAdoo and Midland Lee.

Big Spring next plays at home Tuesday night, at which time it opposes the powerful Lubbock Westerners.

Lubbock thrashed Seminole Tuesday night, 58-38. No Seminole player hit as many as ten points.

Lubbock now boasts an 8-1 record. Only team to beat the Westerners this year is Odessa High.

Longhorns Wear Caps In Drills

AUSTIN (AP)— Stocking caps protected the ears of University of Texas football players from near freezing weather in a practice drill Wednesday.

They ran through plays but skipped contact work in drilling to meet Louisiana State in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1 in Dallas.

They'll take off Dec. 22 for Christmas, resume workouts Dec. 26 and fly to Dallas Dec. 30.

Gotham Bowl May (Not) Go

NEW YORK (AP) — The off-again, on-again Gotham Bowl football game is — at least at last count — off again. Maybe.

There was considerable doubt about the status of the game most of the day and into the night Wednesday. The television situation still is up in the air.

Miami, which once or twice threatened to pull out of the troubled affair scheduled for Yankee Stadium Saturday, now says it's coming. The Hurricanes' opponent, Nebraska, is taking a wait and see attitude, meanwhile expecting to fly here Friday.

"Maybe we ought to change the name to 'The Suspense Bowl,'" Gotham Bowl executive director Bob Curran said Wednesday after a series of hastily called conferences that lasted far into the night.

The whole confused affair culminated in the announcement by Miami University president Dr. Henry King Stanford the university had been assured by legal counsel for New York Mayor Robert Wagner that funds covering team expenses would be placed in escrow today.

Nebraska chancellor Clifford M. Hardin, however, said he had received no word from the bowl committee about Nebraska's requested $35,000 for expenses.

Hardin said he assumed that if the bowl committee is putting the Miami funds in escrow "they will do the same for us. But we are just going to wait and see if the deposit is made."

Curran, meanwhile, continued his assertion that the game is on and will be televised.

"It's the same situation we had last year," he said. "You can look for television. We'll have it. I just can't say any more about it right now."

Two Sands Teams Defeat Lamesa

ACKERLY — Sands Junior High eighth grade boys' B team edged Lamesa, 17-15, after leading at half time, 9-8, here Wednesday evening.

Dan Newsom paced Sands with four points while McAlister had six for Lamesa.

In a seventh grade game, Sands nudged Lamesa in an overtime period, 21-19, when Melvin Womack hit a field goal. Womack had sent the game into overtime with two free pitches. Melvin wound up as the top scorer with seven points.

Fees bucketed 11 for Lamesa. The two teams were tied at half time, 7-7.

Mustangs Routed By Abilene High

ABILENE—Abilene High slaughtered Sweetwater, 82-51, in a basketball game here Tuesday night.

The Eagles got hot in the second half after leading only by 33-31 at the intermission.

David Street and Mac Wilburn each tallied 14 points for Abilene while Darrell Turnbow tossed in 18 for Sweetwater.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Trying to tab the winners in this week's football playoff games: BORGER 22, Lufkin 8.

Coach Gene Mayfield's teams never beats any foe very badly but Gene is building a football dynasty up in the Panhandle that may be hard for any school to dent. Time was when Borger concentrated on basketball, conceding that it couldn't compete in football against the likes of Amarillo and Lubbock. When those cities went to multiple school systems, however, Borger became a choice spot to coach. Mayfield came in with a word for the school board: I'll give you a strong football program, he said, in so many words, but it might be at the expense of some of the other sports. It has worked out that way. Basketball has gone into decline at Borger. Mayfield now has everyone talking football. Lufkin is a past power in high school football but the Panthers have dropped three decisions this year.

SPRING BRANCH 16, Brackenridge (San Antonio) 6.
Brackenridge raised a few eyebrows around the state by knocking off Brownsville last week but Spring Branch is something else again. The Harris County school, which has an ex-West Texas Darrell Tully, as its coach, has developed a good athletic program and may be on the verge of dominating high school sports in that area.

DUMAS 24, Jacksonville 8.
Dumas' only loss this year has been to Class AAAA Borger and that was honorable. The Demons never looked better than they did last week in topping Brownwood, which was favored in some quarters to win the Class AAA state championships. Jacksonville is 9-2-1 for the year and plays patsy to no one.

PHARR-SAN JUAN-ALAMO 8, Orange 6.
Ask most anyone in this area and they couldn't tell you where Pharr-San Juan-Alamo is. Little wonder. It's a consolidated school, located in Hidalgo County in the extreme southern tip of the state, near McAllen and Brownsville. Pharr, San Juan and Alamo are all small towns situated on Highway 83, within a few miles of each other. Orange is coming back after being down in football the past few years.

WINTERS 16, Jacksboro 13.
Winters may be in over its head here. Jacksboro has a fine ball club. However, the Blizzards have one of the truly fine fullbacks in the state, plus an outstanding defense. In Class AA, you don't often find teams that concentrate on defense.

ROCKDALE 26, Sinton 14.
Sinton got by Missouri City Dulles by the skin of its teeth last week (on penetrations). Rockdale, 12-1 on the year, looked impressive in trouncing Humble. This one will be played on a neutral field, at Seguin, Friday night.

ROTAN 25, Albany 14.
As long as Steve Herron stays healthy, the Yellowhammers will be a large order for anyone to handle. Albany has had more experience in the playoffs, however, and could use that poise to make it rough on the Rotan team.

NEW LONDON 16, Ingleside 7.
New London is unbeaten and last week ran up 42 points on Smithville.

Four Junior High Games Scheduled Here Tonight

All four junior high school basketball teams see action again this evening.

The two undefeated Runnels clubs play host to Lee of San Angelo while Goliad will entertain San Angelo Edison. The eighth grade contest in each instance gets under way at 6 p.m. while the ninth grade contest starts at 7:30 p.m.

The local quintets met the same teams in San Angelo earlier this week and came away with three victories in four starts. Only the Goliad eighth graders lost and the Mavericks were playing without the service of their star rebounder, Kirby Horton, who was ill with the flu.

The Runnels ninth graders defeated Lee, 46-31. Lee brings a 1-3 record here. Lee's eighth graders are 2-2. Runnels beat them, 32-31, in an overtime thriller this week.

Goliad's ninth turned back Edison, 45-41, in a real thriller. Edison brings a 1-3 mark to town. The Angelo club has also lost to Runnels, 41-39.

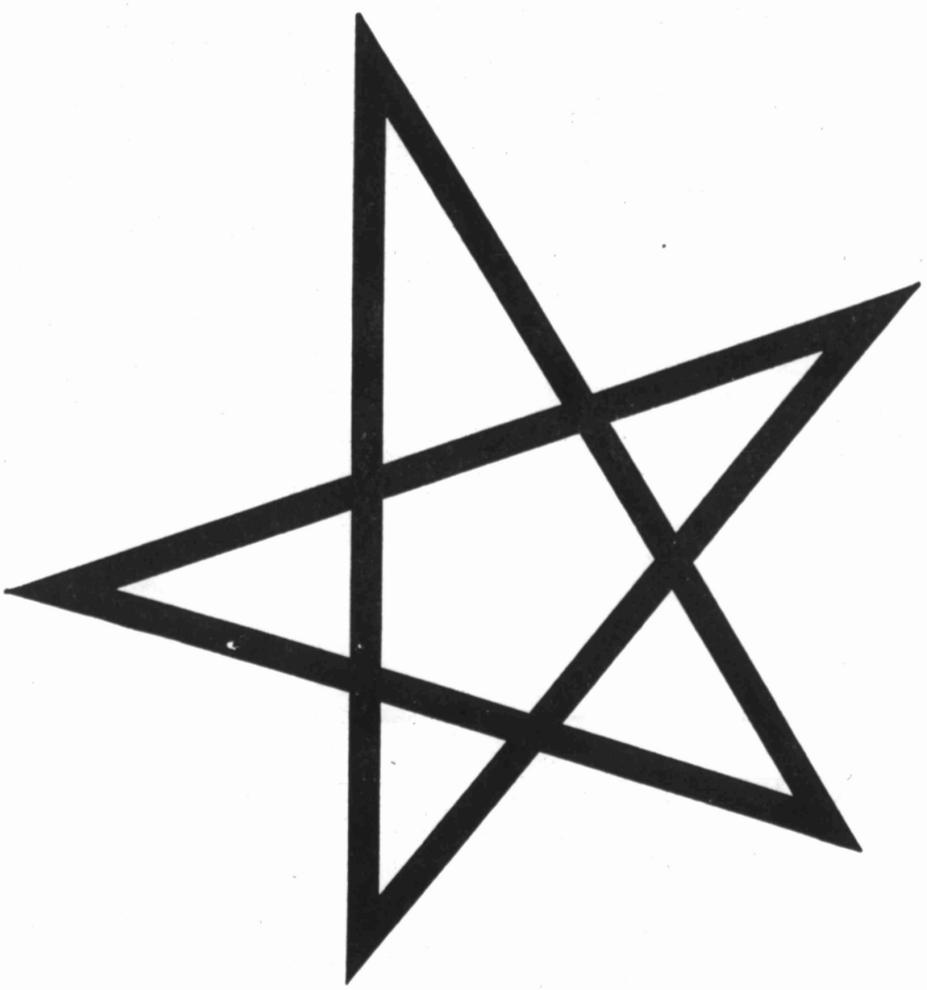

The Edison eighth graders are 2-2 and in their previous meeting with Goliad won by a score of 21-16.

Jim Taylor Selected As Player Of Year

By JACK HAND
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Taylor, Green Bay's crashing fullback who is noted for his great second effort, was voted Player of the Year in the National Football League today by an Associated Press committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities.

Taylor, a 27-year-old former Louisiana State ace in his fifth year of pro ball, grabbed the award won last year by Paul Hornung, the Packers' glamorous triple threat halfback who has been crippled by a knee injury this season.

With one more game to play, Taylor already has tied the NFL record by scoring 18 touchdowns, all on the ground, and leads the league in scoring with 108 points. Packer fans have been insisting that Taylor deserved to be named the All-Star fullback over Cleveland's Jimmy Brown. They finally got their wish this season. Brown's fabulous five-year reign as rushing champion is sure to end and Taylor appears sure to succeed him. Taylor has gained 1,318 yards in 249 carries, 206 yards more than John Henry Johnson of Pittsburgh, his closest competitor. Brown is fourth with 861 yards.

Y. A. Tittle, the old "bald eagle" who has thrown 27 touchdown passes for the New York Giants, finished a strong second to Taylor in the voting. Taylor drew 19 ballots, Tittle had 13 and Bobby Mitchell, Washington flanker back, had four. Roger Brown, huge defensive tackle of the Detroit Lions, had two votes and Joe Schmidt, veteran Detroit linebacker, and Lou Michaels, Pittsburgh field goal kicker and defensive end, each had one. Two of the 42-man panel did not vote in this category.

A head-on meeting of the two top vote getters appears to be in the making for the Dec. 30 championship game at Yankee Stadium. Tittle with 179 completions in 333 passes for 2,883 yards has pitched the Giants into the total offense and passing leadership.

Taylor is a key to Coach Vince Lombardi's system of ball control that has seen the Packers score 38 of their 50 touchdowns on the ground and only 12 through the air.

"Taylor may not be as big as some fullbacks but he has balance and determination," said Lombardi earlier. "He is hard to knock off his feet and he fights for every yard."

Taylor runs over people in the open field and grinds out every yard possible behind the crunching blocks of his front line. He is a good blocker, too, and often sets Hornung or Tom Moore free on key runs.

Tittle, 36, has been tremendous in his second year with the Giants. He threw seven touchdown passes, tying the league record, when the Giants ruined Washington's winning streak in midseason. A canny play caller, adept at the automatic, Tittle also can run when necessary. He ran for an important touchdown against Detroit although he was hit so hard that he had to sit out the rest of the first half.

Playoff Survivors Await Grid Tests

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
 Associated Press Sports Writer

The next to last go-round in Texas schoolboy football comes this weekend with Berger and Spring Branch expected to emerge as finalists in the Class AAAA division.

That would set up a title game between undefeated, untied teams for the first time in years. Berger plays Lufkin at Denton and Spring Branch meets San Antonio Brackenridge at Houston in the semifinals Saturday afternoon.

Other divisions also will be deciding finalists.

Defending champion Dumas will take on Jacksonville at Wichita Falls and Orange will clash with Pharr-San Juan-Alamo at Victoria in Class AAA. These games also are Saturday afternoon.

Dumas and Orange will be favored despite the fact Orange will be minus talented quarterback David Foster. He went out with an injury last week while Orange was beating Bay City 18-0.

There are no unbeaten teams left in Class AAA. Even Dumas has a loss on its record—to Berger in early season.

Class AA has this week's only game matching teams with perfect records as Winters and Jacksboro get together at Abilene Saturday night. This is billed as the real championship struggle and the winner will be an overwhelming favorite to take the crown.

It will provide one of the big duels of the week as Steve Grismond of Winters runs head-on into Steve Wheelers of Jacksboro.

The other Class AA semifinal matches Rockdale and Sinton at Seguin Friday night. This one looks like a tossup. Regardless of which wins, it won't be given much chance against the Winters-Jacksboro survivor.

Class A offers the game long anticipated as the one that would

SWC Cage War Will Be Hot

DALLAS (AP)—Southwest Conference basketball teams obviously won't cut much ice nationally but the family-squabble should be hot enough to melt anything.

Texas, with speed, height and depth, is the logical championship choice but there's seldom any logic in a Southwest Conference basketball campaign. By mid-season they'll be beating each other on a round-robin basis, if the showing in the intersectional schedule is any indication.

The conference members have been losing games against outside foes in a 3-to-1 ratio but look about equal in strength when it comes to playing each other.

Only Texas A&M is undefeated in intersectional competition but the Aggies haven't played them as tough as the others.

Even Texas Tech, the outfit that won one championship and tied for another in the last two campaigns, is showing well enough to be given consideration as a "spoiler" although the Techs are winless in four games. They have played most of them close, however, against competition like Nebraska, Florida, Memphis State and New Mexico.

Southern Methodist, co-champion last winter but losing to Tech in the playoff for an NCAA spot, isn't doing any better than most of the others along the intersectional trail. But the Methodists will be expected to be in the thick of the fight when they start playing their colleagues.

Arkansas looks like a solid contender. There's much experience in the Ozarks where Coach Glen Rose has four of his starters back, headed by the talented Tommy Boyer.

The Razorbacks were the last to lose a game this season when they took a 46-45 tumble before Oklahoma State Tuesday night. They boasted victories over Kansas and Missouri.

Texas has a towering team with seven lettermen, four of whom are seniors. There are three 6-foot-8 boys and a couple of 6-foot-7 performers. The Longhorns also have what many tall teams don't have—good speed.

Texas A&M may be the team to beat for the title. There are seven lettermen and 7-foot Lewis Qualls is showing indications of living up to early expectations. This is his final season. Jerry Windham, with 82 points, leads the highest scoring team in the league.

Rice, however, has the top individual scorer and rebounder in Kendall Rhine, who has rolled up more than 100 points in the Owls' five games to date. Trouble is, Rice doesn't have enough experience to go with Rhine for a well-rounded team.

Baylor is improved but still will have to depend too much on sophomores. It's the same with Texas Christian. But both could do some upsetting down the stretch.

UP TO EXPECTATIONS

Football Income Shows Decrease

Despite the good season enjoyed by the Big Spring Steers this year, football gate receipts tumbled $2,931.89 below those for the 1961 season. Total receipts were $31,056.01 compared to $33,987.90 the previous year.

Current receipts, however, are in line with estimates made by trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District in preparing the 1962 budget. They estimated receipts at $30,453.87.

With this start on receipts, the estimate should be just about right, Pat Murphy, assistant superintendent-business, told trustees at a meeting Wednesday night. He said basketball might be profitable if the school team does well, but that other sports remaining will operate at a loss.

A couple of games which were expected to draw good crowds this year failed to do so, especially the contest in Wichita Falls. Paid game attendance there was only 4,307, netting $1,153 for Big Spring. Last year the comparable game with Sweetwater netted $2,969.40.

This year's take was also down for the Plainview, Midland Lee, Odessa Permian and Abilene High games. The Permian game is off almost one-half. Last year it netted $5,026.50 compared to $2,456.98 this year.

Fortunately, receipts from the San Angelo game tripled the 1961 figure to offset many of the other low games. This year it was $7,090.12 compared to $2,077.79 a year ago.

The accompanying chart shows how the games stacked up this year.

Game	Attendance	Receipts
Plainview	2,173	2,271.56
Snyder	4,539	3,281.00
Wichita Falls	4,307	2,931.89
Midland Lee	4,831	2,018.78
Odessa High	4,701	1,836.33
Abilene High	4,457	1,511.80
Odessa Permian	3,612	2,456.98
Abilene High	4,467	2,512.18
Midland High	5,304	2,553.19
San Angelo	14,342	7,090.12

HAWK GAME MOVED UP

The Jayhawks also play here Saturday at 8 p.m., at which time they oppose Henderson County JC.

Machen Held On Mental Rap

NAPA, Calif. (AP)—Eddie Machen, top-ranked heavyweight contender, was detained in a mental hospital Wednesday after a highway patrolman said he found him apparently contemplating suicide.

The patrolman said Machen told him he planned to kill himself because he was broke, couldn't get any more fights and "everything was all wrong."

The 30-year-old boxer was admitted to Napa State Hospital for observation.

Patrol Traffic Officer Bill McCluskey said he found Machen parked off U.S. Highway 40 near Vallejo, Calif., "a loaded gun next to him on the seat. He was writing a farewell letter."

A physician at the hospital said Wednesday night Machen was in "satisfactory condition and has no apparent injuries."

Dr. B. J. Qhehan of the hospital staff would not discuss Machen's confinement but said he would be examined today.

Machen, a Negro, is managed by Sid Flaherty of Portland, Ranked No. 1 by the World Boxing Association and No. 2 behind former champion Floyd Patterson by Ring Magazine, Machen has won 42 fights, lost 4, had 2 draws and has scored 24 knockouts.

He has been mentioned as a possible opponent for heavyweight champion Sonny Liston and an imminent opponent for fast rising Cassius Clay.

Fox Is Again Tops In Field

BOSTON (AP)—Although Nellie Fox is supposed to have slowed down a step or two, the official 1962 American League averages serve as testimony that the veteran Chicago White Sox second baseman can still do more than an adequate job in the field.

The fielding statistics released Wednesday showed that Fox made only eight errors in 812 chances for a .990 average and topped the second basemen for the fifth time. He also led in 1952, 1954, 1956 and 1959.

Oregon State Ace Named Top Back By Writers

By BOB GREEN
 Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Versatile Terry Baker, Oregon State's do-everything quarterback, was named the outstanding college football back in the nation today in an Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Baker, who is being buried in an avalanche of honors in post-season activity, was a narrow choice over Jerry Stovall of Louisiana State, Miami's George Mira and Wisconsin's Ron Vanderkelen followed in that order.

Baker previously had been named to the All-American team and had won the Heisman and Maxwell trophies. He was the No. 1 draft choice of the professional National Football League.

"You name it, and he can do it," one voter commented in casting his ballot for the slender, 195-pound Baker who finished with a career total of 4,980 yards gained, second highest in collegiate history.

Baker, however, edged Stovall by only two votes in the balloting by 132 sportswriters from coast to coast. Stovall, a powerful, explosive runner, was the only non-quarterback in the top five.

Baker, who passes left-handed, kicks with his right foot and pitches baseball right-handed, was the first draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams, who had the No. 1 pick in the NFL.

Baker, however, said he was undecided about a professional football career.

"If I do have a pro career," he said, "it will be after the basketball season. Right now my thoughts are on the Liberty Bowl and then basketball. After that, I will weigh everything and negotiate with anyone who wants to negotiate with me."

He indicated, too, that he may be interested in a coaching career "if I have a long career in

Moving On

It was 1939 and things hadn't gone well for this Oklahoma farm family. They lost their farm and here they are on the highway seeking a better spot elsewhere. This touching picture is by Dorothea Lange for the Farm Security Administration. It is part of the "Bitter Years" exhibition at the Museum of Modern Art in New York City.

Depression Photos Renew Arts Issue

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newfeatures

Should our government establish a permanent federal department of photography to document a pictorial history of the United States, its land and its people?

This question arises again with the powerful public reaction to the current photographic exhibition in New York City's Museum of Modern Art: "The Bitter Years: 1935-1941." It depicts, in 200 graphic pictures, the terrible struggles of the heroic people in the rural areas of our country through a period of depression.

Here we see the visual blow-by-blow record of man-made and natural disasters. There are no tricks, no gimmicks, no arty pretensions to these photographs. They are straightforward, factual mirrors which show how mechanization of agriculture threw families out of work and out of their homes and how dust storms and land erosion devastated whole areas. But the effect is shown in human beings: real men, women and children who lived and suffered through it and survived to start anew.

The exhibition proves our government can make a valuable and permanent contribution in the photographic field of pictorial history.

This belief was expressed by Edward Steichen, 83-year-old dean of photography and departing director of the Museum of Modern Art as he selected the exhibition's pictures from government archives.

And it was expressed by Roy E. Stryker, former economics professor, under whose guidance and leadership a team of Farm Security Administration photographers took about 270,000 pictures in eight years, from which this exhibition is but a tiny sample.

"The country, in 1935, was in a state of upheaval. It was ripe for a photographic record," said Stryker as we walked slowly through the exhibition studying the pictures, each of which he seemed to recall personally. "We can thank President Roosevelt's appointment of Rexford Guy Tugwell as FSA administrator for the chance to do it. He believed in visual education and told me to go ahead with the project."

"With the country today in a similar state of upheaval, what a shame there is no similar effort of the government to record America as it is and what it's going through."

"We have so many serious young photographers around anxious to contribute their talent and time—and nowhere to turn. They appeal to me for help and there is no one in the government to direct them to."

"We should take stock of our land and our people continually. All over the country, small towns are dying, craftsmen are vanishing and old trades are going—never to return. It is pictorial history which is not being recorded. What a shame!"

Stryker has returned to his small town of Montrose, Colo. Steichen has retired to his Connecticut farm. Viewers are still streaming in at the museum to study the hard-hitting pictures of the bitter years. And photographers everywhere, especially amateurs, have a chance to take a truthful and straightforward view of the scene around them with the hope that some day, some how, it might form a valuable segment in the total picture of the country and the period we are living through today.

Missile Killer Scores Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's Nike Zeus missile killer has scored its second successful intercept of a target warhead launched by an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile over the Pacific.

The Defense Department announced that a Nike Zeus anti-missile missile fired from the mid-Pacific Kwajalein Island came within kill range of the target warhead which had been fired 5,000 miles from Vandenberg Air Force Base on the California coast.

Two Zeus missiles were fired in salvo, but one was destroyed automatically because of what was described as a technical defect in its second stage.

The world's first known intercept of an ICBM target warhead was by a Nike Zeus last July 19. Since then there have been at least two test failures because of troubles with a target missile and radar difficulties.

In Wednesday's intercept, as in the first, neither the Nike Zeus nor the target vehicle carried a nuclear device.

The Army said ground tracking equipment indicated that the target warhead was "well within the lethal radius" of an operational Zeus warhead.

The Nike Zeus is designed to destroy oncoming ballistic missiles about 100 miles above earth, as the missile approaches the end of its trajectory.

It need not make an actual physical intercept, but is designed to destroy an enemy warhead from a distance with its own nuclear warhead.

The Pentagon said the Atlas used in Wednesday's test was fired by a Strategic Air Command crew as a training exercise.

Critics of the Nike Zeus have argued that the Pacific tests are something less than realistic because missilemen know the direction from which the Atlas missile will come, when it will be launched and its probable path.

The Nike Zeus system has been under development since 1957, but has not yet proved to the satisfaction of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that it is promising enough to warrant going into production.

Nearly $1.5 billion has been spent on development of the system and it has been estimated it would cost another $10 billion to mount enough Nike Zeus batteries to provide minimum protection to important U.S. cities and bases. Critics of the Nike Zeus question whether its radar is capable of discriminating between actual enemy missiles and decoys which would be sent out with the warheads to confuse the defense. This doubt is shared by McNamara, although the Army contends its radar is equal to the job.

Eyeing The Cats

A little girl and her brother take a look at tiger and panther skins worn by drummers of the 1st Battalion of the Duke of Edinburgh's royal regiment before the battalion left Southampton, England, for Malta aboard a troopship. The skins were a gift of Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru. The drummers will wear them at all times when the Corps of Drums is on parade.

Auto Insurance Fuss May Arise Again

By ERNEST STROMBERGER
AUSTIN (AP) — Legislatures have kicked up a lot of dust about auto insurance, and a repeat performance might be due in the upcoming session.

An Associated Press survey of the next legislature, which opens Jan. 8, shows that three of every four lawmakers feel auto insurance will be one of the top 10 issues.

But few of the replying representatives and senators reported specific plans which could draw wide support.

The lack of a central burning issue might result from the absence of a controversial safe driving insurance plan, which the State Board of Insurance junked this summer after 2½ years of operation. Under the plan, drivers were penalized three years for traffic violations by rate increases. Ticketless drivers got discounts.

The plan came under heavy fire from lawmakers after the board raised auto insurance rates. Stymied because there is little legislature can do short of taking away the board's rate-making power, both houses asked for abolition or revision of the plan.

The legislature also studied requests for delaying the rate increase and for hiring of an auditor to investigate the rate increase.

Rates for auto insurance now are based on driver class and territory. Board Chairman Ned Price said when the board dumped the plan that a new plan penalizing drivers for accidents probably would be adopted.

The introduction of a new plan could arouse lawmakers and jell their generalized feelings about auto insurance. Several expressed concern over motorists who do not carry liability insurance.

"There should be some effective way to establish financial responsibility in the third of auto drivers which are not covered by liability insurance," said Rep. Bob Eckhart of Houston.

Uninsured motorists involved in accidents often are not able to pay for damages claimed by other persons in the wreck.

One method suggested by replying lawmakers to meet this problem is a compulsory liability insurance law. Rep. Nelson Cowles of Hallsville said he probably will sponsor such a bill, and Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity said he will support it.

Compulsory liability insurance received some attention in recent legislatures, but the Texas Legislative Council said last year a study showed such a measure is not necessary.

Price said the board has been concerned in the past of the effects of compulsory insurance — both the resulting increase in rates and the changes in drivers' thinking.

"Compulsory insurance puts a new concept in drivers' minds. They say 'I know you have insurance' and become more adamant about collecting on damages," Price said.

Kennedy-Nikita Phone Proposed

GENEVA (AP) — The United States has proposed the installation of a direct telephone connecting President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev as part of a detailed system for preventing war by miscalculation or accident.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean urged the 17-nation disarmament conference to give careful consideration to ways of keeping the world from blundering into war.

Thought of Plato and Aristotle," "The Chemistry of Uranium, The Element, Its Binary and Related Compounds," "Folkways," and "Statics and Dynamics of a Particle."

Birdwell explains that some of the paperbacks are used to supplement standard textbooks, while many are planned for the college student who wants to learn something generally about a subject outside of his special field of interest.

The Exchange Store carries, for example, the paperback book "Four Ways of Being Human," which is an introduction to anthropology, although the college has no courses in that field.

"Why aren't textbooks printed in paperback form, so as to save the students some money?" This is a question Birdwell has to answer often.

"The binding of a textbook accounts for only about 10 per cent of its price," Birdwell says. At current average prices for texts, this would make the book only 50 to 75 cents cheaper if bound in paperback. But the paperback binding would cut sharply the resale value of the book, and many students sell their books at the end of the semester.

"The savings affected in paperbacks comes from large printings — 100,000 copies and up — and smaller royalties to authors or often times no royalty at all. Neither saving is applicable to the average hard bound textbook," Birdwell explains.

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — There are paperback books and then there are paperback books.

A strong trend toward use of the specialized paperbacks on college and university campuses continues to gain momentum, Carl Birdwell, manager of the Texas A&M College Exchange Store, says.

Some of the mass market paperbacks seen in drug stores and supermarkets have a place on college campuses, but it's quality paperbacks which are found on foot after foot of shelving in a college store.

The paperbacks making such a hit on college campuses often have slightly larger pages than those found on newsstands. And the prices match the larger format. It's not uncommon to pay $1.75 for a quality paperback.

Birdwell recalls that the first paperback book he ever saw used on a college campus appeared in the 1930s and was entitled "Six Plays by Shakespeare."

The use of paperbacks on the campus spread slowly until the late 1940s and in recent years gained great momentum.

Many university presses devoted exclusively to scholarly works have entered the paperback field in the last several years.

A large college store such as the Exchange Store on the Texas A&M campus stocks hundreds of different paperbacks.

The subject matter range is indicated only in a broad way by these titles: "The Political Dryer pulls moisture out of grain in a cloud of steam. Local grains have been carrying a large per cent of water this year, which must be reduced before the grain can be marketed.

High Water Content Tested In Grains

Grain farmers in the area are losing lots of weight in their crops this year due to the heavy water content, according to E. T. Tucker, Big Spring Grain Co.

Grain being brought in for marketing is averaging about 10 per cent moisture, he said, but there have been many loads that ran much higher. As a result, there is a constant flow of steam from the grain company's big dryer on First Street as the grain loses the water—and some of its weight.

Tucker said Dub Coats cut a load on Clay Reid's farm that tested 50 per cent moisture, Willis Walker brought in a load that registered 37.7 per cent.

"All grain that came in, until three days ago, was measuring 20-30 per cent," he explained.

To market the grain, it must have less than 14 per cent water, Tucker said. After the water is dried out, a lot of the local grain is being graded No. 2, however the wettest grain is falling into the No. 3 category.

"We've never had this much water in local grain before this late in the year," Tucker said. He attributed the high content to the twin problem of late planting and a late frost.

The biggest water problem has been to the east around Coahoma, he said. Grain farmers to the south have not had as much of a problem.

The hard freeze this week is expected to materially reduce the heavy concentration of moisture in local grains.

Child Support Case Heard

A hearing on child support styled Dr. Ronald Eugene Lemmons vs. Martha Jane Lemmons was being heard in 118th District Court this morning. The case was filed Oct. 9.

The case of Connie Mae Thomas, individual and as next friend to Myona Lynn Thomas vs. Billy Ray Carter was settled out of court this morning.

A hearing on the revocation of probation for Austin J. Bankston, 1101 W. 5th, scheduled for 9:30 a.m. today, has been postponed until Friday on request of Gil Jones, district attorney. Bankston received a probation sentence Feb. 20, 1962 for driving while intoxicated, second offense. Jones charges that Bankston has failed to comply with terms of the probation, in that he has not paid a $300 fine within nine months. Bankston faces a one-year jail term if the probation is revoked.

Two Plead Guilty In County Court

Jimmy Whitaker, 1400 Marjio, pleaded guilty Wednesday in Howard County Criminal Court to charges of driving while intoxicated and was assessed a $100 fine and five days in jail.

This morning, Eddie Reed pleaded guilty to two charges of illegal transportation of liquor and was fined $100 and court costs of $28.85 on each count.

A charge of driving while intoxicated against Billy G. Meek, Odessa, was reduced to a Justice of the Peace court charge. Meek pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and court costs.

Eddie Anderson, Coahoma, charged with driving while intoxicated, comes up for trial Friday at 9 a.m.

Other cases continued Wednesday were Jerry Arrick, 1210 E. 18th, and Jerry Floyd King, Sand Springs, both on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Players In Shape For Benefit Game

Plans for the half-time entertainment at the benefit football game Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Stadium are shaping up well, Capt. Walter Eubanks of the Big Spring police department said Thursday morning.

"We aren't going to say just what will be staged, but it's going to be hilarious." Coaches of both teams say the men are in good condition and worked out every day from 4 to 6 p.m. at the old football stadium and say they are in good physical condition.

"That game is going to be hard and we promise to show the fans a lot of football," Dub Day, one of the police department players and former Steer player, said Thursday. "Eleven of us are former Steers."

Sgt. Robert Dugan, in charge of ticket sales, said he would like to see a harder run on tickets between now and game time.

"We have sold tickets pretty well, but could stand a lot more sales. Tickets are in the possession of all members of the police department, and on sale at the police station, at all Toby's grocery stores, at the Wagon Wheel restaurant, and at the 66 Cafe," he said. "It looks like the weather is not going to be too cold for fans and about right for playing."

All tickets will be general admission and sell at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Thefts Crowd Offense Reports

Four thefts and burglaries, and one report of vandalism, were investigated by Big Spring police Wednesday. A BB gun was used to break the windshield from a car owned by Obie Bristow while parked at the high school Tuesday night.

Al Acuff reported the theft of a vending machine from his service station, 1510 E. 4th, some time Tuesday night or early Wednesday.

Cecil McDonald told police that someone had taken nine squares of roofing and a keg of roofing nails from the yard of a house he was building at 2213 Cecilia, valued at $102.

A television set, iron, portable electric mixer, several skirts, lady's coat and $100 in cash, were reported stolen from Alene Bond's home, 909 W. 5th. She told police Wednesday she was staying with a patient at a local hospital, after taking clothing home from a cleaners, and that the house had been entered through a door propped shut with a chair.

A shoplifter was reported at McCrory's, 200 Main, at 3 p.m. Wednesday. Bill Nelson, an employee said he saw a Latin American take a radio, valued at $40, and walk out without paying for it. Nelson told police he chased the man across the west viaduct but could not catch him.

Swim Olympics Scheduled Tonight

Indian Guide Swim Olympics comes up tonight at the Big Spring YMCA, according to Joe Leach, physical director.

The competitive swim events will be for boys in the Y Indian Guide program and their fathers. They begin at 7 p.m. Awards will be given, with a special participation award for every person taking part in the Olympics.

Weevils, Cotton Created A Career

GALVESTON (AP)—But for boll weevils and cheap cotton, the long and colorful career of T. A. Binford as a law enforcement officer in Harris County may not have materialized.

"Yep, the boll weevils and four and three-quarter cent cotton sent me scurrying from the farm to the city in 1907 for a job to raise my family," said the tall, silver-haired Binford. He was sheriff of Harris County for 18 years and a policeman and city detective for another dozen years.

Friends and acquaintances seeking the former law officer can find him in Galveston at the Moody House which he began calling his home about a year ago.

If Binford's not at home, he probably can be spotted at the nearby Pleasure Pier fishing, dressed in complete Western attire even to boots and spurs.

"I've gone from roping cattle to stringing fish," he said.

Now 81, the energetic and friendly retired rancher and lawyer says he's "taking things easier in the prime of life." From appearances, he's a likely subject for a physical fitness merit badge.

Born on a ranch in Harris County, about 47 miles from Houston, on April 5, 1881, the former sheriff spent most of eight decades "riding the range as a rancher and lawman."

He was 26 years old when the boll weevils and cheap cotton drove him to Houston and his first job with that city as a driver of a city sprinkler, "with my own team and wagon."

The job didn't last long, as Binford said he had applied for work with George Ellis, chief of police, and Sheriff A. R. Anderson, "as soon as I hit Houston and my chance to work with the sheriff came on Aug. 1, 1907," Binford recalled.

"I rode horseback mostly, serving subpoenas, but not long after that Chief Ellis offered me a job as a mounted policeman, and riding a horse was something I really knew about," he said.

Binford served as a police officer for approximately six years when he was offered a job as a city detective. After working for the city of Houston for almost 12 years, he was elected sheriff of Harris County in 1918.

GOP Delegation Wiends Power

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas three-man Republican delegation in the new Congress convening Jan. 9 may wield more influence than would be expected from its size.

This was indicated when Representative Ed Foreman, 28-year-old Odessa engineer, visited here recently to size up his new job and do some house hunting.

Foreman—the 12th Texas Republican to become a member of Congress visited headquarters of the GOP National Committee and so impressed officials that he was asked to fly to St. Petersburg, Fla., to fill a speaking engagement.

House Minority Leader Charles Halleck, R-Ind., meantime, has promised Foreman he will do all he can to win membership for the Texan on the Armed Services Committee. Freshman congressmen don't normally receive such recognition.

And Rep. Bruce Alger, Dallas, rounding out eight full years in the House, has moved far up the GOP seniority ladder and is also a member of the powerful Ways and Means Committee.

Sen. John Tower, elected to fill out the six-year term to which Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was elected in 1960, ranks second only to Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in the number of public speeches made throughout the nation by Republican senators during 1962.

Tower, the only Republican sent to the Senate from the South by popular election since the Civil War, is well regarded by conservative Southern Democratic senators as well as by those in his own party.

The three Republicans to compose the Texas GOP delegation in the next—88th—Congress ranks second to the state's Republican group in the 41st Congress—March 4, 1869 to March 3, 1871. This delegation contained one Democrat and five Republicans.

Texas was readmitted in 1870 to representation in the Congress. It had had no representation for almost a decade because of having seceded to join the Confederacy.

The lone Democrat on the 1870 delegation was Rep. John C. Comer of Sherman. He served one term and died Dec. 10, 1873.

The two GOP senators in the group were Morgan Calvin Hamilton of Austin, a native of Alabama, and James W. Flanagan, born in Virginia in 1805. A lawyer, he moved to Henderson in 1843, and served several years in the Texas legislature in the 1850s.

the House at the time were Edward Degener of San Antonio, George Washington Whitmore of Tyler and William Thomas Clark of Galveston.

It was not until 1895 that Texas sent another Republican to Congress. He was Rep. George Noonan of San Antonio. Two years later the Galveston district sent Rep. Robert B. Hawley to Washington for one term. The San Antonio area sent Rep. Harry Wurzbach of Seguin in the 1920s.

It was 1950 before the Republicans elected another Republican to Congress. That was when Ben Guill, one time Pampa school teacher, won a special election in the Panhandle to fill out a vacancy and served for seven months.

Santa Fe May Move Offices

GALVESTON (AP)—The president of the Santa Fe Railway Co., said in a telegram to the Houston Chronicle from Chicago Tuesday that the matter of moving the Santa Fe offices from Galveston is being "seriously considered."

"While the matter is something that has been studied and is being studied, there is nothing definite at this time and it may be a while before any announcement is made one way or the other," he said.

The newspaper said the statement squelched rumors that Santa Fe is already making preparations to move their gigantic office complex to Dallas and Topeka in the immediate future. While this is still a distinct possibility, it is felt the transition, if it is to come, would take as long as five years to complete.

More than 600 employees would be affected by such a move.

Lamesans Visit Optimist Club

Twenty-one members and five Optimist members from Lamesa, were present at the 7 a.m. breakfast of the Big Spring Optimist Club Wednesday at the Waggon Wheel. One new member, Truett Newell, high school coach, was introduced. Lamesa guests were James Norris, Rex Timms, Robert Brown, Jerry Bell, and Don Phelps.

Capt. Walter Eubanks and Patrolman Sam Fuller of the Big Spring police department spoke on narcotics and dope addiction. Slides showing the results of dope addiction were shown.

Optimists reported sales good in their Christmas tree stock on the parking lot east of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Wrong Turn

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—M. B. Sewell returned from a fishing trip and found all the shingles ripped off one end of his house.

An investigation revealed that an aluminum-siding firm had contracted for a job at 108 West Stadium Drive. Sewell lives at 108 East Stadium Drive.

The company agreed to replace his shingles.

Festive Nog Is Hearty And Glamorous Drink

 4 eggs separated
 2 to 3 tbsp. sugar
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. cinnamon
 1/4 tsp. mace
 1 cup cold milk

1 pint (2 cups) chilled cranberry juice cocktail

 Red food coloring, optional
 Combine egg yolks, sugar, salt, cinnamon and mace; beat until foamy. Blend in milk, cranberry juice cocktail, sherbet and ice cream; blend until smooth. Tint a delicate pink with a few drops of food coloring, if desired. Beat egg whites until they hold soft peaks; fold into nog. Serve in chilled glasses. Makes 6 cups, 8 to 10 servings.

GREAT PARTY DRINK

Pork Roast Latin Style Makes Different Dinner

Dressed up for holiday dinners is this pork roast with its bright red sauce topping and surprise rice stuffing. The original recipe from Brazil has been modified for American tastes and convenience with a canned spaghetti sauce with mushrooms, well seasoned with a chef's touch, as the base of the topping. To the sauce are added plump raisins, ripe olives, green peppers, onions, and a little chili powder for an interesting new flavor combination. The sauce gets double use with the roast, for a little is added to the rice stuffing and the rest is spooned over the roast as it bakes.

BRAZILIAN PORK ROAST
 4-5 lb. loin pork roast
 2 tbsps. olive or salad oil
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1/4 cup minced onion
 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
 1 (15 1/2-oz.) can spaghetti sauce with mushrooms
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. chili powder
 1/4 cup ripe olives, sliced
 1-3 cup seedless raisins
 2 cups cooked rice

To complete the menu, serve green beans with whole small onions, and individual dishes of spiced hot apple slices with the roast. For dessert, an egg nog chiffon pie and coffee makes a satisfying ending.

Have meat dealer cut pocket in loin of pork through center of meat. Set oven 325 degree F. Heat oil in skillet. Add garlic, onion, green pepper and cook until vegetables are tender. Add spaghetti sauce with mushrooms. Mix well. Add salt, chili powder, and bring to a boil. Add olives, raisins and cook gently for 5 minutes. Add 1-3 cup sauce to rice and mix well. Fill pocket in loin roast with rice mixture. Place in shallow roasting pan. Bake 1 1/2 hours. Pour off fat. Spoon remaining sauce mixture over roast. Return to oven. Bake 1 1/2 hours longer. Makes about 6 servings.

Party Punch For New Year's Eve

This combination of ingredients makes a punch with delightful flavor and spirit!

NEW YEAR PUNCH
 2 pkgs. (10 ozs. each) frozen sliced strawberries
 1 bottle (4-5 of a quart) sauterne (chilled)
 1 lemon and 1 orange (both thinly sliced)
 Ice block (made in a 2-or 3-cup size mold)
 6 ozs. (3/4 cup) cognac
 1 bottle (26 ozs.) champagne (chilled)

Shortly before serving, turn the strawberries into a large punch bowl with the sauterne, lemon and orange slices; allow to thaw at room temperature just enough to separate the berries. Add the ice block, cognac and champagne; stir gently and serve. Makes 16 servings.

On Cooling Meat

Do not cover cooked meat until cool. A covered dish, foil, or other wrapping retard cooling. When cooled, cooked meats can be covered or wrapped loosely to keep in the refrigerator. Freezing canned cured meats is not recommended.

Custard Testing

Modern recipes for custard pie usually suggest testing for doneness by inserting a silver knife near the center. That's because heat will be retained after the pie comes out of the oven and finish the setting of the custard filling.

Home From The Hills

Soon to provide steaks for the Charles Houston family will be one of the luckless deer being displayed by, left to right, Dick Carlton, Mike Houston, Ronnie Crowover and Danny Coats.

The young men hunted near Rock Springs last weekend. The young lady in the inset is Judy Houston, sister of Mike, who shares some recipes she uses in cooking while on scout trips.

Big Deer Will Soon Be Steak In Freezer

By JO BRIGHT

A good cook, like any other artist, has to have a good base to start with. One of the providers at the Charles Houston home, 1316 Sycamore, is 17-year-old Mike, who just returned from Rock Springs with another deer to add to the four already stored in the family larder.

Mike, a senior in Big Spring High School, has been on many hunting trips with his father but last weekend he and two friends struck out alone and did very well for themselves. He is an active FFA member and now has 13 head of cattle that he cares for after school. The Houstons don't have to worry about where their next steak is coming from.

When the young men were at the hunting camp, they ate fresh deer meat that they simply prepared like chicken-fried steak. At home, Mrs. Houston usually cooks it as Swiss steak, adding potatoes, onions and tomatoes as it simmers.

Charles Houston, local manager of Mead's Fine Bread Co., is chairman of the barbecue pit, and often prepares charcoal broiled venison in the evening. The pit is used, too, for roasting dove and quail during the bird hunting season.

Sister Judy is a 4-H Club worker who is also raising a calf. In past years she has had pigs (that became sausage) and a lamb. A member of her mother's intermediate scout troop, she is passing on some of the recipes the girls use on camping trips for hearty meals and quick snacks.

MOCK ANGEL FOOD CAKE
 1 loaf day-old white bread, unsliced
 1 can condensed milk
 1 pkg. shredded coconut
 Trim all crust from loaf and divide into 12 pieces. Dip each piece of bread in condensed milk until well covered, then roll it in shredded coconut. Toast on end of stick over coals until golden brown. May also be cooked in a reflector oven. (Serves 12.)

BREAD TWISTERS OR DOUGHBOYS
 1/4 cup biscuit mix
 1/4 cup water

With a peeled stick mix a small amount of water at a time, with the biscuit mix until you have a stiff dough. Peel a green stick for six inches at the large end. Heat the stick over the fire. When hot, wrap the dough around the heated stick. Bake over coals, turning the stick so the dough bakes evenly. When cooked, the twister will slip off the stick. Fill with butter, brown sugar, or jelly.

For bacon twisters, wrap a piece of bacon around stick as described above and cook thoroughly. Cover with biscuit mix dough and bake. A sausage or frankfurter may be used in place of bacon.

For cheese twisters, cut yellow cheese into bits and mix with dough. Raisins may be used in the same way, if a dash of sugar is added to the dough.

BANANA BOATS
 1 banana
 Chocolate bar squares
 Small marshmallows
 Peel back one side of banana leaving peeling attached. Scoop out about one-half of banana. Fill with chocolate squares and marshmallows. Wrap with bear grass leaf. Bake over hot coals. When done, banana will be soft.

HOBO SUPPER
 1 hamburger patty or 1 pork chop
 1 small carrot
 1 small potato
 1 small onion
 Season meat with salt and pepper. Cut or dice the carrot, potato, and onion. Put on meat. Wrap in tin foil and cook over coals. Cook for 20 minutes on both sides. (Serves 1.)

SOME-MORES
 2 graham crackers
 4 sqs. thin chocolate
 1 marshmallow
 Toast marshmallows over coals until brown. Put chocolate on one side of cracker, top with marshmallow and cover with other cracker. Press gently together. This recipe may be varied by using slices of apples cut cross-wise, pineapple rings or peanut butter in place of chocolate.

Herring Appetizer

Pickled herring, in wine or sour cream sauce, can be found in many food markets nowadays. This tidbit makes a delightful appetizer.

Food Pests Are Added Cost To Buyer's Budget

Do you know how much it costs you to feed and shelter the many little pests that invade foods during the movement from the farm to your table?

Countrywide, there is a multi-billion dollar loss annually in food due to these pests. This represents a part of your grocery bill.

Losses due to storage insects in just one food — stored grains and grain products such as feed, flour and packaged cereal — alone run into millions of dollars a year.

But research by the Agricultural Marketing Service is making orphans of many little weevils and other insects which once thrived so well in packaged dry groceries. In fact, you can test the value of this research yourself. Check the packages of flour, meal and powdered milk you buy during the year. How few of these are damaged? Just a few years ago, the story was quite different.

One of the great break-throughs in packaging has been the AMS discovery of a fumigant that can be concentrated between two layers of paper. Although it would not harm the food, it never comes in contact with it, and any pest which penetrates the outer layer never lives to get through the next layer.

The marketing research staff of AMS is studying how to maintain the quality of all agricultural products in storage, in channels of trade and in packages all the way to the kitchen. This promises you — the consumer — a higher quality of food. Also, the savings in reduced food losses will help lower the total marketing bill which you pay.

Sumptuous Supper After Christmas

Here's a flavorful variation of our annual chowder with turkey broth as the base.

TURKEY CHOWDER
 2 cups turkey broth
 1 can (10 1/2 ozs.) condensed tomato soup
 1 can (about 7 ozs.) whole-kernel corn
 1 can (3 ozs.) broiled chopped mushrooms
 1 tbsp. dried toasted minced onion
 Salt and freshly-ground pepper
 Dried crumbled basil
 Into a medium saucepan turn the turkey broth, undiluted tomato soup, undrained corn, undrained mushrooms and onion. Slowly heat to serving temperature, stirring occasionally and adding salt, pepper and basil to taste. Makes about 1 quart—4 servings.

Heavy Snow

A parking lot attendant adds another shovelful to a pile of snow as South Bend, Ind., battled to keep ahead of a heavy snowfall that snarled traffic, closed city and rural schools, and blocked country roads.

Khyber Pass Again Point Of Tension

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
KHYBER PASS, Pakistan (AP) — The clang of ancient battle seems to echo still from the limestone cliffs of this historic invasion route where Alexander the Great's soldiers marched into India and generations of British troops fought the Pathan tribesmen.

But now you can drive comfortably through Khyber Pass in a taxi and buy a porcelain bust of Abraham Lincoln or a bag of fresh popcorn on the way.

Silence hangs over the great mud fort of Jamrud. The squat stone picket forts guarding the hillsides are empty of riflemen. Tribesmen, with guns clutched in their hands and chests lopped with bandoliers of cartridges, smile and pose for pictures. The road that twists along 21 miles of Khyber Pass is a tourist route.

STILL BOILING
Under the colorfully calm exterior, however, tribal passions still boil and the pass is once again a point of tension. American aid which poured through the famous mountain valley until last year is affected.

Cut through great brown shale and limestone walls, Khyber Pass joins West Pakistan and Afghanistan. Over the centuries foreign invaders have used it to conquer India—Greeks, Tartars, Moguls and Persians.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy made a one-woman invasion of it this year, and villagers reminisce hungrily about the feast given in her honor.

British soldiers of the Indian army used to lead expedition after expedition through it for wars against Afghanistan and to subdue rifle-wielding tribesmen who created havoc on the frontier. In nearby Jagdalik Pass the Pathans wiped out a retreating British army of 16,000 men in 1841.

TRIBAL AREA
The Khyber is a restricted and loosely administered tribal area still. Visitors need a special entry pass from the Pakistan government. Tribal justice rules and shooting feuds are common.

Garishly colored buses and trucks bulging with passengers, baggage, geese and chickens grind up the pass road. Hooded women in tribal handkerchiefs and their fortified mud villages with bundles of firewood on their heads. Alongside runs a railway built with many tunnels in 1925. The tribesmen ride it free. A few years ago they shot a conductor who insisted on collecting fares.

In the nearby hamlet of Dera, villagers do a thriving business in tribal handicrafts—such as a hand-made rifle tool from torn-up railway tracks.

The political trouble that swirls around the pass today is another tribal affair. Pakistan and Afghanistan broke off diplomatic relations 15 months ago when Afghan diplomats were accused of fomenting strife and subversion among tribesmen in the frontier area.

BIG CLAIMS
Like most inhabitants along the Afghanistan border, the tribes speak the Pushtoo language. King Zahir's all-family government at Kabul claims the entire frontier area is "Free Pushtoonistan." More than that, Kabul claims most of West Pakistan is "occupied Pushtoonistan."

Kabul traditionally has brought its imports through Pakistan—many of them through Khyber Pass. Pakistan lost a lucrative transport business, but Afghanistan may have cut off its nose to spite its face.

Now the country has no practical way of importing anything. Some goods still come in through the Soviet Union or follow an almost prohibitively expensive roundabout route through Iran.

The United States has virtually suspended aid since materials cannot be brought in.

The dispute has not had much effect on life along the pass, except to cut down traffic.

SMUGGLER'S PARADISE
The railway ends at the village of Landi Kotal, a smuggler's paradise.

In the crowded bazaar, richly fragrant from bright mounds of curry and spices, illicit transistor radios blare oriental music.

Vendors sell popcorn, sugar cane and birds in wooden cages—or Japanese fountain pens, Swiss watches and English brushes.

Pakistan ends at Torkham, a few miles farther on with snow-wrapped peaks thrusting up in the distance.

Next to a shop that sells brassware and little heads of Buddha—and Abraham Lincoln—from the Khyber Rifles guard a gate bearing the green and white crescent of Pakistan.

From public loudspeakers both sides send propaganda blaring across the border and echoing up the pass.

Guard Chiefs In Retreat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The men who command the Army National Guard in the states appeared to be in reluctant retreat before an unrelenting Pentagon drive to streamline the Guard.

Although the states' adjutants general maintained an outwardly solid front, they were split several ways after a two-day meeting.

Some of them indicated they could live with the plan proposed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Army.

Others called it "totally unacceptable," but did not say they would hold out against it.

Some, apparently in the minority, spoke well of the Pentagon plan in private, but they wouldn't say so for the record.

The adjutants general convened Monday for the purpose of drafting some kind of recommendation to the governors. Every state except Alaska was represented.

Tuesday the adjutants general finally settled on a letter backing the problem to the governors without any firm recommendations beyond urging that a special committee headed by Georgia's Gov. Ernest Vandiver meet with McNamara soon to iron out points still at issue.

Case Settled

The jury Wednesday ruled in favor of Dorothy Holland in a contested divorce proceeding settled in the 118th District Court. Earnest Q. Holland had contested the divorce, but he was not on hand to testify, and the jury rendered its verdict quickly, deliberating only about 10 minutes.

SITTING DUCK

A guest is in luck when a hostess serves roast wild duck and browned hominy grits and boiled white onions

Wild Duck And Grits Makes Manly Dinner

Some lucky cooks have wild ducks stowed away in their freezer—brought home by the man in the family or received as a holiday gift. How may the ducks be prepared and what to serve with them?

We found we did well when we took the advice of Sidney Corbett, co-author with his wife Lucy of a delightful cookbook, "Pot Shots from a Grosse Ile Kitchen," published some years ago. Mr. Corbett liked his ducks "crisp and brown outside, pink and rosy inside, and dolloped liberally with red wine sauce." He averred, too, that "browned cakes of hominy grits would help pay fit tribute to the rugged hunter who shot the birds." If this suggestion appeals to you, here are two recipes patterned after those used in the Corbett kitchen.

ROAST WILD DUCK

2 wild ducks (about 1 lb. each)

Corn In Cream

A little cream leftover from party fare? Drain canned whole-kernel corn and heat in the cream with freshly-ground pepper. Superb!

Salt and pepper
3 tbs. butter or margarine (melted)
1½ cups Burgundy

Sprinkle cavity and outside of ducks with salt and pepper. Place breast side up in roasting pan. Brush with a little melted butter. Mix remaining butter and Burgundy; pour over ducks. Roast in a very hot (450 degrees) oven, basting once, for about 10 minutes. Reset oven temperature control to hot (400 degrees) and continue

'Herb Superb'

Good cooks frequently earn their reputations by playing favorites, that is by serving dishes almost everybody likes. The secret, though, is adding a special touch of variety with your own "secret ingredients."

One such idea is an easy one that goes under the glamorous title of "Herb Superb." Simply combine 1-3 cup buttered bread crumbs, ½ teaspoon crumbled tarragon leaves and ¼ teaspoon oregano and sprinkle over your best macaroni and cheese casserole before baking. Who said macaroni and cheese was "old hat"?

roasting ducks, basting often, until ducks are done as much as you like—usually 35 to 40 minutes for 1½ cup (about) corn-oil margarine and 1 of the eggs that has been slightly beaten. Spoon into a greased 8 by 8 inch baking pan; smooth top. Cover surface of grits with waxed paper and chill until firm—about 1½ hours. Cut grits into about 1½ inch cubes. Beat remaining egg slightly; add milk and heat to combine. Heat about 1 tablespoon of the remaining margarine in a large skillet. Dip the cubes of grits into the egg-milk mixture and add to skillet; turn as needed so all sides will be golden brown. Don't have heat so high it will scorch margarine—browning should take about 15 minutes. Add additional margarine as necessary.

GOLDEN GRITS

5 cups water
1 tsp. salt
1 cup white hominy grits
½ cup (about) corn-oil margarine
2 eggs
2 tbs. milk

Bring the water and salt to a boil in a saucepan. Gradually stir in the grits. Cover and cook over low heat, stirring often, for 25 to 30 minutes. Remove from heat. Beat in 3 tablespoons of the margarine and 1 of the eggs that has been slightly beaten. Spoon into a greased 8 by 8 inch baking pan; smooth top. Cover surface of grits with waxed paper and chill until firm—about 1½ hours. Cut grits into about 1½ inch cubes. Beat remaining egg slightly; add milk and heat to combine. Heat about 1 tablespoon of the remaining margarine in a large skillet. Dip the cubes of grits into the egg-milk mixture and add to skillet; turn as needed so all sides will be golden brown. Don't have heat so high it will scorch margarine—browning should take about 15 minutes. Add additional margarine as necessary.

Good Cooks Can Trip On Culinary Spelling

Nowadays ladies who contribute recipes to regional cookbooks are pretty good spellers. Compared to their sisters of 50 years ago, these modern cooks are almost letter perfect.

Judging from our strictly personal survey, errors in today's culinary spelling are limited to a small number of words, and here are four of them. If you are considering writing a cook book, or contributing to a local group effort, watch out for these four Waterloo's.

Misspelled: sherbet.
The word is sherbet, with just one r. Sherbets, of course, are frozen desserts—ices usually made with egg white, milk cream or gelatin. At one time, according to Webster, a sherbet also meant a refreshing drink concocted of sweetened and diluted fruit juice.

Misspelled: avocados.
The plural of avocado is avocados. This fruit, like the tomato, is often used in savory appetizers such as guacamole and in salads than it is in sweet dishes. However, avocados do make a delightful sherbet.

Misspelled: broccoli.
The word is broccoli and the vegetable is a Johnny-come-lately. The first really large plantings of broccoli in this country are said to have been made only about 40 years ago. Since that time, broccoli has made steady progress, even rivaling its cousin the cauliflower in favor.

Misspelled: tortes.
The plural of torte — a luxurious dessert adapted from German and Austrian cuisine—is torten. Even professional American cookbook authors, who should know better, consistently misspell the word.

Fruits And Nuts Are Plentiful

By The Associated Press
Christmas fruits and nuts abound at Texas produce markets this week.

Apples rate best-buy attention. Florida oranges and grapefruit are arriving regularly, plentiful and economical. Oranges are priced some lower. Most markets offer increased supplies of tangerines and tangelos, says the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Cranberries, both fresh and processed, are abundant. So are bananas and grapes. While prices on avocados are slightly lower, Cranberries are some higher.

Peanuts, raw or roasted, and tree nuts of all kinds are readily available. Pecans cost more than a year ago.

Wholesale prices on cabbage, onions and sweet potatoes are lower this week. Celery is lower in some areas. All offer much value for cost. Other vegetable best buys this week include green beans, carrots, Texas cauliflower, egg plant, green and green onions, iceberg lettuce, potatoes, turnips and rutabagas.

Turkeys, broiler-fryers and Maine sardines continue plentiful and economical. Supplies of all red and processed meats are ample at reasonable cost.

A Jigtime Festivity
If you have a bought or homemade sponge-type cake in your freezer, you can give it this jigtime frosting when dessert is needed.

CHOCOLATE FROSTED CAKE
1 sponge-type cake (9-inch tube pan size)
1 cup heavy cream
½ cup sweetened ready-to-use dry cocoa mix
1 teaspoon vanilla

Brush crumbs from cake and place on serving plate with strips of waxed paper protecting plate. Add cocoa mix to cream; whip until thick, adding vanilla. Cover cake with frosting. Remove paper strips. Refrigerate until serving time. The mix we used in testing this recipe contains cocoa, sugar, dry milk solids, salt and flavoring; the amount listed in the recipe ingredients gives the frosting a sweet flavor and pleasant chocolate taste and color.

Anchovy Sauce
This is a delicious recipe for an Italian sauce. Heat 2 tablespoons oil over low heat. Add a clove of garlic, crushed, 1 can anchovies cut in small pieces, and a dash of cayenne. Cook slowly for 5 minutes. Remove the garlic and pour the warm sauce over freshly cooked broccoli.

Banana Torte

This is utterly delightful to serve for a festive family meal or to company. Garnish the top with maraschino cherries or sliced bananas.

Torte makes an utterly luscious dessert. A few weeks ago my sister Phyllis asked friends to "come for dessert," and invited me to bring some sweets! Phyllis herself provided a fine peach kuchen, and I turned up with a rich caramel custard ring and this Banana Torte. The torte won most applause.

BANANA TORTE

¼ cup each white and firmly packed dark brown sugar
6 large egg whites
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
½ tsp. each vanilla and almond extract
2 cups graham cracker crumbs
1 cup walnuts (coarsely chopped)
3 bananas
1 cup heavy cream

Sift together the white and brown sugar. Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until foamy. Gradually add sugar to egg whites, beating at high speed until slightly tipping peaks form when beater is slowly withdrawn. Fold in vanilla and almond extract. Mix graham cracker crumbs and walnuts; fold into egg white mixture until evenly distributed. Turn into two 8-inch layer cake pans whose bottoms are lined with waxed paper. Bake in a slow (300 degrees) oven for 30 minutes or until top is light brown. Place pans on wire racks to cool for 5 or 10 minutes; turn out of pans; remove paper; cool. Just before serving, put the layers together with a thin spread of the whipped cream and two sliced bananas; cover top of torte with remaining cream and garnish with the remaining sliced banana. Marinate the banana slices in orange juice before using. No sugar needs to be added to the whipped cream but it may be flavored with vanilla.

Busy Day Dinner Is Chiletti

Busy day? And a hungry family to prepare dinner for? Here's just the recipe for you.

This quick supper combines three things families like best, spaghetti and franks and tomatoes, in a dish delightfully spiced with chili powder.

CHILETTI AND FRANKS
1 7-oz. pkg. thin spaghetti
1½ tsp. salad oil

1 medium sized onion, coarsely chopped
1 clove garlic, finely chopped
4 frankfurters, cut in quarters, lengthwise
1 can (8-oz.) tomato sauce
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. chili powder

Cook spaghetti as directed on package; drain. Meanwhile, heat oil; add onion and garlic and saute until lightly browned. Add frankfurters and cook until browned. Add tomato sauce, undrained tomatoes, salt and chili powder; mix well. Heat to boiling point and simmer 20 minutes. Serve over spaghetti. Makes 4 servings. Average cost per serving: 21 cents.

DEAR ABBY

Time For Some Plain Talk

DEAR ABBY: I am married to an outdoor man. In the summer it's fishing and in the winter it's hunting. Don't get me wrong, I want him to enjoy life, but it is asking too much of him to spend ONE Sunday a month with me and the children? I would like him to take us to a movie and have dinner out once a month. He leaves Saturday at sun-up and doesn't come back until late on Sunday. Then he hands me the car keys and says, "Here—take the kids to a show so I can sleep." Am I being unreasonable?

work, although somewhat awkwardly. For years my mother-in-law would come in and, if I was sweeping, she would take the broom from my hands and say, "Let's get this done!" Not wanting to hurt her feelings because I knew she meant well, I said nothing but I felt like crying.

Now I see the same thing happening to a friend who has another kind of crippling disease. Only it's her mother who tries to help her. My friend was drying her dishes and broke a cup. Her mother sat her down, took the towel and said, "Let me do it or you won't have any dishes left!" I know how it must have hurt. Please print this, Abby. There are so many who mean well but don't know better.

SLOW WORKER

SPORTSMAN'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Not in my opinion. How about this approach: "Look, Dear, if you spare time on me, that's OK. I'll always be around, both wiser and sadder. But the kids are growing up and away from you. Soon they'll be gone. You'll have memories of hunting and fishing, but none of your family. That'll be an open space in your life that you won't like. Think it over before it's too late."

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a woman who works out when she has 4 children at home under the age of 5?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: She is either desperately and unfortunately eager to get out of the house, or she desperately and unfortunately needs the income.

DEAR ABBY: A few years after my marriage I came down with polio. I was left with a slight disability which slowed me down a little. I can still do my own house-

DEAR ABBY: We have a 7-year-old daughter who is a very lonely and quiet child. She has no friends. I am unable to have any more children and want to adopt a little girl the same age as our own. My husband thinks it would be better to adopt a child a few years younger. And a boy! I can't see where this would provide our daughter with the companionship she needs. Can you advise me? Or perhaps some of your readers have some helpful opinions on the subject.

MRS. F.
DEAR MRS. F.: I agree with your husband. To force a "twin" on your daughter at her age could create problems of jealousy, rivalry and continual competition for both girls. Try for a younger child. And a boy might be just what the doctor ordered.

Few Come Tougher Than Rep. Cannon

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — They may come tougher than Clarence Cannon, but it's hard to find them.

He's the cantankerous Democrat who lambasted his own House leadership in the closing hours of the last session so bitterly that the Republican leader took the floor to say some kind words about Speaker John McCormack. The 83-year-old Missouri congressman, who heads the House Appropriations Committee, is a man of many facets. Depending on his mood and the occasion, he can be as tenacious as a bulldog, as stubborn as a Missouri mule, or as gentle as the dotting grandpa that he is.

A small man physically — he weighs around 140 pounds—Cannon makes up in grit for what he lacks in heft. His physical encounters during a span of almost 40 years in the House include minor fisticuffs with such colleagues as former Rep. John Phillips of California and Rep. John Taber of New York, Republicans, and former Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, a Democrat.

ALL OVER MONEY
These sparring matches occurred over differences on government money bills, all of which clear through Cannon's hands. During his more than 30 years on the Appropriations Committee, Cannon has helped shell out billions of dollars of the taxpayers' money, and has cut billions from recommended appropriations. He warns continuously of the dangers of overspending and the evils of deficit financing.

As tight as he is with the public's money, Cannon is somewhat loose with his own, especially with silver dollars. He has shelled out hundreds of them to children whom he encounters in the course of his official meanderings. With each silver dollar goes the admonition that if the recipient holds on to it "you will never go broke."

Cannon is mentally as well as physically agile—and he can hold a grudge or forget it.

QUICK TURNABOUT
At the end of the recent session of Congress he unleashed a tirade against the Democratic House leadership in general and Speaker McCormack in particular. He described the leadership as the most "biased and inept" he had seen during his long years of service.

Only a few minutes later, he stood and applauded as the House adopted a resolution praising McCormack's "able, impartial and dignified" handling of the speakership.

Cannon was personally close to the late Speaker Sarny Rayburn of Texas, although Rayburn privately conceded that at times he found Cannon extremely difficult to get along with legislatively. "Stubborn" and "bullheaded" were words Rayburn used on occasion to describe Cannon's attitude.

FRIEND IN NEED
But when the chips were down during Democratic national conventions, Rayburn at times found in Cannon a real friend in need. As chairman of many conventions, Rayburn always insisted that Cannon serve as parliamentarian. Conventions can get out of hand without a presiding officer and a shrewd parliamentarian with a working knowledge of precedents and the procedural "ropes."

On more than one occasion Cannon dipped into his bag of parliamentary gimmicks when the going got rough. He could somehow manage to cite a precedent for almost anything Rayburn wanted to do as chairman.

Rayburn once confessed after a turbulent convention session that he didn't know where Cannon found the precedents and doubted if they actually existed.

"If he can't find them, he'll make them," the late speaker commented.

CANNON'S RULES
Probably no one is more experienced in legislative precedent than is Cannon. He wrote many of the House rules—and "Cannon's Procedure in the House of Representatives" is a legislative bible.

Cannon started out to be a lawyer but got into local Missouri politics to widen his field of contacts. In 1911, Champ Clark, then speaker of the House, persuaded Cannon to come to Washington as a clerk in the speaker's office.

"I wanted to see the wheels go around" for a few weeks and took the job, Cannon recalls. He never got back to Missouri to stay. In 1917 he was named parliamentarian of the House, a post he held until he was elected as a member in 1922. Only one present member, Rep. Carl Vinson, Georgia Democrat, outranks Cannon in years of service.

HOME-LOVING MAN
In private life, Cannon is a gentle, home-loving man. His devotion to his wife, the former Ida Dawson Wigginton, to whom he has been married 56 years, is cited as a model of domesticity by colleagues.

The Cannons have two married daughters and five grandchildren. "She runs the place, but she doesn't fool me," Cannon says of the only granddaughter, "but I doubt if I fool her, either."

Cannon's hobbies are few. He tinkers at the piano and operates a diversified 750-acre farm on the Mississippi River. He is an avid student of history.

He is a Baptist by birth and by choice and has never moved his home from his native town of Elsberry, Mo., which was founded in 1879, the year Cannon was born.

This year Cannon led a prestige battle with the Senate over the Senate's insistence that it be allowed to originate some appropriation bills, a privilege the House claims as its own.

NOT NEGOTIABLE
"Like the Berlin crisis, the dispute between the Senate and the House is not negotiable," Cannon asserts with finality. "We are right and they are wrong."

One of Cannon's final legislative moves in the 87th Congress was to have the House fire back to the Senate a temporary appropriation bill that originated in the Senate. The Senate countered with a resolution insisting it has the right to launch money bills.

There the matter stood at adjournment. But the battle will be renewed in 1963, and those who know Cannon are betting he'll win.
