Prolonged U.S. Cold Snap Easing

By The Associated Press

A prolonged siege of unseasonably cold and snowy weather in the eastern half of the nation appeared moderating in most areas today.

Abnormally cold weather persisted in Florida, which has been hit by the coldest weather in more than 70 years, causing millions of dollars damage to fruit and vegetable crops.

Temperatures this morning again dropped below freezing in northern Florida and into the 30s as far south as Miami. However, the readings were higher than Thursday when the mercury dropped into the teens, marking the state's worst freeze since 1889.

The severe pre-winter weather also has taken a heavy toll in lives—estimates were up to 150. Damage to property was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Snow squalls swept areas in the Northeast, already weary from more than a week of battling the wintry elements. The snow belt covered areas in Ohio, Indiana, Lower Michigan and western sections of New York State and Pennsylvania. Snow also fell in Western Maryland in some parts of New England.

In Florida, harvest hands left the winter-killed vegetable farms and moved into the citrus groves in an attempt to salvage something from the heavy freeze. Fruit growers planned a quick harvest of some of the citrus to convert to juice before rising temperatures deteriorated the frozen fruit.

The Florida Citrus Commission reported damage was heavier than in the winter of 1957-58 when 30 million boxes of fruit froze on the branches and 30,000 trees were killed.

The Weather Bureau said there was a general moderation of temperatures in most of the eastern half of the country. There were only a few sub-zero readings, in northern Minnesota, with -7 in International Falls the lowest. A cold pocket of air, with temperatures in the teens covered the snow-blanketed northeast region.

The snow blanket in northeastern Ohio, with falls continuing, measured up to 54 inches in the Ashtabula area. Highway crews were hampered in clearing highways because of the drifting snow.

A seven-mile stretch of freeway connecting Cleveland and Painesville was closed because of heavy drifts. A 40-mile speed limit was in effect on a 120-mile leg of the Ohio Turnpike from Pennsylvania westward.

Federal Trial For Patrolman

EL PASO (AP)—Inspector Dud Clananah, 32, charged with murder as pilot of a Border Patrol plane which killed a horseman, will be tried in federal court here.

On motion of U.S. Atty. Morris Raney, the case was removed from the state's 83rd District Court at Alpine because Clananah is a federal employe.

He is accused in the death Nov. 20 of Isidoro Rodriguez Chaparro near the Mexican border and about three miles southwest of Marfa.

His low-flying plane struck Chaparro as the horse rider topped a rise. Clananah said he was checking whether Chaparro had entered this country illegally from Mexico.

THE FIRSTBORN

By T. H. Tarbet, Preacher
Church of Christ, 2800 West Highway 30

Christ was called "the firstborn of every creature," which evidently it means he was before all creation, for the next statement in Scripture tells why he is the firstborn: "for by him were all things created" (Col. 1:15, 16). This shows he was Creator; not a creature. The word "firstborn" was often used to portray greatness and privilege; just as the nation of Israel was called God's firstborn (Exo. 4:22).

Referring to Christ, Heb. 1:8-10 says, "And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands."

God was alone and by himself in the creation. "Thus saith the Lord, thy redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb, I am the Lord that maketh all things; that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth by myself" (Isa. 44:24).

Now, this one Creator God, who was alone and by himself in the creation, was manifested in more than one person. "And God said, Let us make man" (Gen. 1:26). Note the plural pronoun.

Plan to be with us Sunday, Sermons: "The King's Business" (10:30 a.m.) and "What I Like About Abraham" (7 p.m.).—adv.

Livestock Diseases Take Annual Toll Of $2 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Livestock diseases take an annual toll of more than $2 billion.

This is the price tag placed on the death and production losses inflicted by infectious, noninfectious and parasitic diseases by the Agricultural Research Service.

To overcome it the Agriculture Department agency is sponsoring research at three large laboratories—Ames, Iowa, Pius Island, N.Y., and Beltsville, Md.—and cooperative projects with the states.

In a progress report on its program, the agency said: "Research will lead to control of some, eradication of others, and side benefits of incalculable value to those studying afflictions of man."

It was back in 1890, the agency said, that three government scientists proved a livestock disease was being spread by ticks from animal to animal.

Their research, which cost $65,000, led to the eradication of cattle tick fever. The agency estimates that freedom from the tick is worth more than $40 million a year to the livestock industry.

"More important," the agency observed, "the discovery helped others successfully combat malaria, yellow fever, and many other insect-borne diseases."

The agency also included these other highlights of the past 100 years' work in animal disease and parasite research:

Discovery that hog cholera is caused by a virus, and development of a virus-serum method of immunization. With slight modifications, the method is being used today to aid in stamping out this fatal disease of hogs.

Finding a treatment to rid dogs of hookworms, which later was

Speech Records 'Informative'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI was assigned to obtain recordings of two recent speeches by Gov.-elect George Wallace of Alabama for informative, not investigative purposes, the Justice Department asserted today.

A spokesman said a radio station supplied the FBI with a tape recording of a speech delivered Nov. 27 by Wallace before the Jackson, Miss., Citizens Council.

Attempts to obtain a similar recording of a speech made by Wallace the same day to the Mississippi Legislature were unsuccessful because the address was not recorded, the spokesman added.

In the speeches, Wallace expressed support of Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett in his defiance of federal court orders to desegregate the University of Mississippi. Wallace also renewed his own promise to defy any similar order.

The department official discussed the speech-recording incident in response to questions after Wallace complained about the use of the FBI to get the tape.

The FBI said earlier it had obtained the tapes for an investigation at the direction of Atty. Gen. Robert (Bobby) Kennedy.

Wallace complained that the FBI mission should be to protect the nation from Communists and to capture notorious criminals, rather than to check up on the speeches of governors.

Youth Accused Of Threat Sent To Institution

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—An Alabama youth accused of making threats against President Kennedy has been ordered to a federal mental institution.

The youth, James B. Hubka, 20, of Ensley, was termed mentally incompetent to stand trial by a psychiatrist, Dr. Howard B. Stevens, and a federal judge ordered him sent to an institution at Springfield, Mo.

Hubka, arrested several weeks ago by Secret Service agents, was charged with sending a letter to a high Justice Department official which allegedly contained a threat against the life of President Kennedy and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Dennis' Mother

Gloria Henry uses a rubber tube to firm inner thigh and upper arm muscles that women seldom use.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Homemade Exerciser Firms Flabby Muscles

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Gloria Henry, better known as Jay North's mother in CBS-TV's "Dennis the Menace" series, has to get up every morning at 5:30 to be at the studio make-up department by 7.

When I come home at night I'm too tired to exercise, and I found that some places were getting flabby from neglect. During my summer lay-off, I worked out a routine. I use an exerciser made of a circular tube of rubber. I pull one set of muscles against the other in dynamic tension. The two places that I concentrated on were my inner thighs and upper arm muscles. These are two sets of muscles that never seem to be used by women no matter what type of work they do.

Mrs. Morehead Tells Of Holy Land Trip

Mrs. G. G. Morehead gave a resume of her trip to the Holy Land and showed slides of her tour for the Wesley Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service Tuesday morning. The Martha Foster and Lalla Baird Circles met together at the church. Mrs. Rene Brown gave the devotion.

One of her favorite exercises is to lie on the floor on her back, loop one end of the stretcher around each ankle and under her instep and put the middle of the stretcher around both knobs of an open door. You must be far enough away to have a good stretch and then pretend to ride a bike. You do this with your feet at about a 45-degree angle. She started with 15 times and worked up to 50. The more you pull the more exercise you get.

Election And Service Held

Memorial services and election of officers highlighted the Wednesday night program of BPO Does at the Elks Hall.

Mrs. Maenner reported enough points for a vacuum cleaner to be sent to the Elks Crippled Children's Home for Christmas. Members were told that Drove No. 61 will install for Odessa Lodge 162 in January with Mrs. Grandstaff, the installing officer, and Mrs. Anderson, conductress.

Attempt To Head Off Shipping Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government called in union and management negotiators today in an effort to avert an East and Gulf Coast shipping strike on Christmas Eve.

Dock workers who struck four days in early October are threatening a new walkout after a current 90-day emergency strike court injunction expires on Dec. 23. Negotiators are in complete deadlock with the deadline only nine days away.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, calling an afternoon meeting, advised both sides "the national interest must be considered more important than the bargaining position in which each of you seems so firmly frozen."

"As a nation," Wirtz said, "we can ill afford a continuing breakdown in your negotiations. Our domestic needs, which are dependent upon the orderly flow of commerce, as well as our world-wide commitments and relationships with other free countries, would be seriously injured by a resumption of the strike."

The dispute is over a new contract between the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) and shipping and stevedoring firms handling pier cargo at ports from Maine to Texas.

About 60,000 longshoremen are involved.

Wirtz and director William E. Simkin of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service are to meet with chiefs of the union and the New York Shipping Association, an employer group which normally sets the bargaining pattern for other port employers.

A government official close to the situation said the meeting could be described "as a last frantic effort" to get some meaningful negotiations started. There has been no agreement on any of a score of points in dispute.

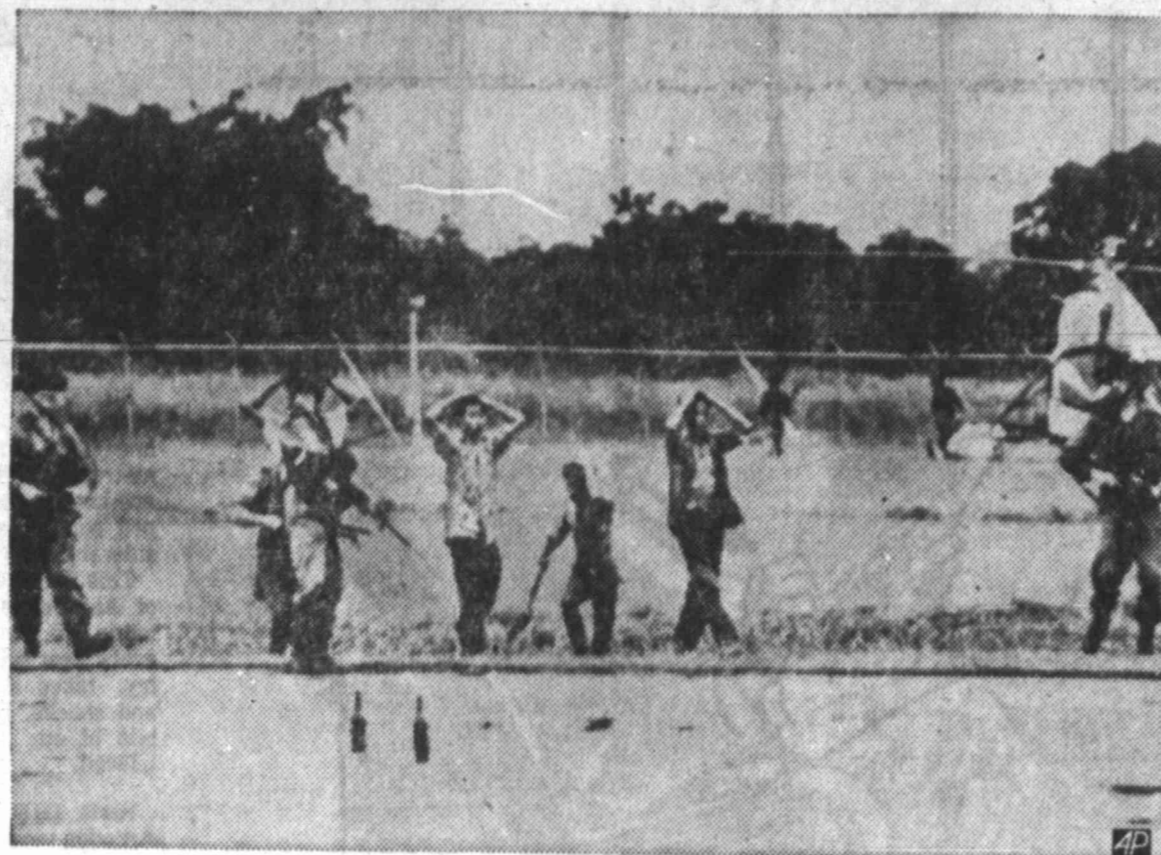

The government's concern with the prospect of a winter stoppage of Atlantic and Gulf shipping was reflected in Wirtz' stern reminder to both sides that their "persistent inability to reach a satisfactory settlement is a matter of deep disappointment and grave concern."

The ILA has rejected an employer offer to raise longshoremen's wages by 27 cents an hour over a three-year contract period. The union has refused to negotiate further until the companies withdraw their own proposals to reduce sizes of pier gangs and allow greater flexibility of manpower.

The ILA has demanded a six-hour day instead of the present eight-hour day, double time for overtime, and extra pay for certain types of work. The shippers say the union demands would more than double the labor cost of handling cargo.

The longshoremen presently earn $3.02 an hour.

Under the Taft-Hartley Law requirements, the National Labor Relations Board is to poll the longshoremen next week on the employers' last offer. This presumably is the 27-cent offer their union has already rejected.

Steinbeck's Works Make Good Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The award of the Nobel Prize for literature to John Steinbeck in Stockholm this week brings to mind the impressive strings of movies that have been wrought from his works.

The selection of Steinbeck for writing's highest honor astounded some critics who claimed the

State Hospital Board Gets New Member

AUSTIN (AP)—Former State Rep. Jesse Osborn of Muleshoe was appointed to the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools Thursday.

Gov. Price Daniel named him to succeed W. G. Kirklind of Odessa, who said he resigned for personal reasons. The term expires Feb. 15, 1965.

Osborn served on the House appropriations subcommittee for hospitals and special schools in the last session. He did not seek re-election.

Kirklind was vice chairman of the board. He had handled its legislative appropriation requests and served four years as chairman of the board's finance committee. Kirklind also is a former legislator.

"He was a very fine board member and probably devoted more time to working for the board than any other member," executive director Raymond Vowell said.

Lamesa Optimists Select J. W. Pryor

LAMESA (SC)—The Lamesa Optimist Club has announced the selection of J. W. Pryor, 16-year-old son of Mrs. Donna Jane Pryor as "Young Texan" for Dawson County for the month of November. Pryor is a junior at Lamesa High School and maintains "A" grades. He is a member of the National Honor Society, Future Teachers of America, Junior Classical League, Booster Club and is vice president of his high school home room.

rugged Californian was passed. This might surprise Steinbeck, who currently has the No. 1 best seller, "Travels With Charlie."

The films based on Steinbeck's novels would appear to strengthen the contention that he is an ace story teller. No other novelist has had so many distinguished motion pictures produced from his works.

Among the other Nobel Prize winners from America, Ernest Hemingway came the closest, with such films as "For Whom the Bell Tolls" and "A Farewell to Arms." Some of the Hemingway works came off poorly, as with "The Old Man and the Sea" and "Adventures of a Young Man."

Films from William Faulkner's novels were hit ("Intruder in the Dust") and miss ("Sanctuary"). Eugene O'Neill fared well with such movies as "Anna Christie," "Long Voyage Home," "Ah Wilderness" and "Long Day's Journey Into Night," not so well with "Desire Under the Elms" and "The Hairy Ape."

Sinclair Lewis's works were mostly done in the early talkie period, occasionally with good results ("Arrowsmith"). His "Elmer Gantry" provided a latter-day hit. Pearl Buck is chiefly represented by the memorable "Good Earth."

How well books are dramatized on film is no criteria of literary merit, of course, and many writers suffer at the hands of insensitive producers. But the Steinbeck record would argue that his dramatic structure is sound and his themes have mass appeal.

Here are the well-remembered Steinbeck films: "Grapes of Wrath" (Twentieth Century-Fox, 1940) was a screen classic, a film that captured the heart and feeling of the novelist's greatest work. It was made in the prime of John Ford's creative powers with a cast that was well high perfect. Particularly memorable are Henry Fonda, ideal as the troubled Tom Joad, and Charles Grapewin as grandpa.

"East of Eden" (Warner Bros., 1955) was no great shakes as a novel, but Elia Kazan managed to cut through some of the philosophical underbrush and fashion a gripping re-creation of the Cain-Abel theme. It was notable for the dynamic debut of a fine new American actor, James Dean.

"Of Mice and Men" (Hal Roach, 1940) which Steinbeck also wrote as a play, fitted perfectly into the film medium. Burgess Meredith and Lon Chaney Jr.

gave fine performances under Lewis Milestone's direction.

"Tortilla Flat" (MGM, 1942) was one of Steinbeck's few comedies. Its success was all the more remarkable for casting Irish Spencer Tracy, Viennese Heddy Lamarr and Jewish John Garfield as the Monterey pisanos.

"The Red Pony" (Republic, 1949) was another Milestone direction, a nicely done piece of sentiment with Robert Mitchum and Myrna Loy.

"The Moon Is Down" (Twentieth Century-Fox, 1943) was Steinbeck's contribution to the war effort, a propaganda piece that he also wrote for the stage. An anti-Nazi sermon, it served its purpose well.

GOD'S CALLING CARD

By what means is the church to draw men unto Christ? A confused Christendom offers many answers. Some appeal through Tradition. Many through Popularity. Certain through Superstition. The church of the first century rejected these media of appeal. Paul challenged the gates of hell with the mightiest weapon man ever possessed—the gospel of Christ. "It is the power of God unto salvation" Romans 1:16. Why is Christendom losing the battle of the soul? Because it has lost faith in the gospel! Where saints once "turned the world upside down" with the gospel for Christ, they now turn the rug back for the church-dance, bingo party, or fellowship-tea. What, then, has happened to the gospel? Has it no longer produce faith in the unbelieving, give strength to the weak, or grant peace to the troubled? The church needs less reliance upon schemes and projects and more faith in the gospel! We are entrusted with God's invitation. Let's use God's calling card.

The Northside church of Christ welcomes you to its services: Sunday: 10:00 A.M. Bible School; 11:00 A.M. Worship; 6:00 P.M. Worship. Wed. 7:30 P.M. Bible Classes.

Kennedy Talks Tonight On Tax Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid powerful new urgings for a big tax cut next year, President Kennedy travels to New York to deliver a major speech tonight which he promised would give some details of the tax program he will propose to Congress.

The President will address the Economic Club of New York at 8:30 p.m. EST and then for 30 minutes will field questions fired from the floor.

Both the speech and the question-and-answer period will be taped for broadcast later on radio and television.

The President got some strong support Thursday for a 1963 tax reduction—a plan that has run into opposition from some key congressional leaders.

BENEFIT AT TOP
The business-financed Committee for Economic Development called for a $6-billion income tax cut with the greatest benefits going to high-income bracket individuals and corporations.

In a formal policy statement the committee also urged a second and later reduction of $5 billion—if Congress and the administration can hold federal spending at present levels.

This tax package, the CED said, would lead to "higher rates of production, employment, investment and growth."

It declared that although the immediate result of the tax changes might be larger budget deficits, the long-term result would be budget surpluses because the government would bring in greater revenue from a speeded-up economy.

"MARXIST" FEATURES
Frazer B. Wilde, chairman of the CED subcommittee that studied the tax question for nearly a year, contended the proposals would help eliminate what he described as "Marxist" features of the tax system.

Wilde, chairman of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co., criticized what he called "the terrible negativism of an excessively Marxist personal income tax structure."

Here is how the first stages of the CED's proposed tax program, which it said should be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1963, would work:
All individual income tax rates would be reduced at least 8 per cent and the maximum rate would be reduced from 91 per cent to 70 per cent.

The present 52 per cent corporate income tax rate would be cut to 47 per cent.
Individuals in the lowest bracket would receive $2 billion of the $6 billion of tax benefits, the CED's economists estimated. Tax payments by corporations and higher-bracket individuals would be reduced by $2 billion each.

TOP PRIORITIES.
Ladd Plumley, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, said reduction of tax rates and restraint in federal spending are next year's two top economic priorities.

In a Hartford, Conn., speech, Plumley renewed the chamber's call for reductions of $8 billion to $9 billion a year.

"Our proposals for income tax rate reductions were not advanced in the panicky fear that recession was upon us," said Plumley in his prepared talk to the Connecticut Chamber of Commerce, "but in the sound conviction that the present period of slow economic growth was an excellent time to enact a long-overdue change in our tax structure."

Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday that despite some congressional opposition he was going ahead with his plans to ask for a tax cut effective in 1963. He said he would offer some definite proposals in his speech tonight.

Boys' Club Names New Officers
LAMESA (SC) — The Lamesa Boys' Club of America's adult membership has named Bob Wade to succeed Skeet Norset as president. The election of Wade and other officers was made Wednesday at its first annual membership meeting.

Other new officers named include Frank Robinson, first vice president; Eldon Moody, second vice president; R. Dixie Kilgore, secretary-treasurer; and Moody, Wade, Kilgore, Wayne Noland, L. R. Morris, Joe Coffey, Hermon Caskey, Mrs. B. J. Vaughn and Jim Norris, directors for 3-year terms.

The club has 1,163 members, an average daily attendance of 106 and plans are now under way to construct a new clubhouse.

Sabin Vaccine Program Resumed
LAMESA (SC) — Dawson County's stalled Sabin Oral Sunday program was moved into gear here this week with the announcement by Dr. J. V. McKay, county health officer, that the medical society here had voted to resume the project through the local chapter of the National Polio Foundation.

The county society of physicians announced that Type III vaccine would be given next, followed by Type II.

Project co-chairmen G. Richard Crawley and J. P. White subsequently announced that a meeting of key workers would be held Jan. 30 to work out details of the next two projects here.

Murchison Gives Up Alleghany Presidency

NEW YORK (AP) — Wealthy Texan John D. Murchison Jr. has given up the presidency of a $7-billion holding company 18 months after winning control in an epic proxy battle.

He stepped aside Thursday as head of Alleghany Corp., which controls Investors Diversified Services, a Minneapolis-based investment company complex, and the New York Central Railroad. He will remain as a director.

Murchison had taken over the presidency after he and his brother, Clint W. Jr., overthrew Allan P. Kirby, wealthy New Yorker, as chairman.

Elected by the Murchison-dominated board to succeed John was Bertin C. Gamble, Minneapolis businessman-financier. Gamble two months ago bought nearly one-half of the Murchison group's holdings and has an option to buy more — perhaps all their remaining shares.

An enigma in the new alignment is Kirby, shy and stubborn at 70, who is Alleghany's largest single stockholder. He owns roughly one-third of the 9.8 million outstanding shares of common stock.

Spurned by the Murchisons when they took over in May 1961, Kirby later refused offers of representation on the board, and feuding ensued, paralyzing corporate affairs.

Gamble, 64, is president of Gamble-Skogmo Inc., operator of 380 auto accessory stores and other enterprises, including General Outdoor Advertising Co.

He nursed along Investors Diversified Services in its infancy before selling control to Alleghany in 1949.

When Gamble appeared on the Alleghany scene in October, he talked hopefully of harmony and constructive accomplishment. The harmony note was struck again by John Murchison Thursday. He appealed for support of Gamble by "all stockholders."

Billed as a "battle of millionaires," the Murchison-Kirby struggle of early 1961 caught widespread attention as one of the biggest financial fights since the 19th-century heyday of railroad and oil barons.

It erupted at one point into a hectic stock-buying spree unmatched in Wall Street since 1929. More than 940,000 Alleghany shares changed hands on a single day, April 4. It was the heaviest trading in a single issue in 32 years.

Alleghany common, which hit a 1962 low of $5.75 a share six months ago, has been gaining lately but still may be below the price paid by the Murchisons for the bulk of their holding.

Alleghany closed Thursday at $11.87 a share, up 62 cents a share.

U.S. Maintaining Cuban Air Shield

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is maintaining the air defense system in the southeastern states at virtually the peak strength mustered in the first days of the Cuban crisis.

While the guard against air or missile strike is being kept up, Army ground forces which were moved to forward positions in Florida, Georgia and other neighboring areas generally have been sent back to home bases.

The Navy's huge quarantine fleet has been cut to a small force. At a news conference Wednesday, President Kennedy said it was "our best judgment" that Soviet ballistic missiles and bomber planes have been removed from Cuba. He also said "these things are never 100 per cent" certain.

For that reason, the President said, the United States will continue to use its own methods of inspection. The major means has been aerial reconnaissance.

It obviously is for the same reason, the inability to be 100 per cent certain, that the strong radar warning, fighter interceptor and anti-aircraft missile system is being maintained.

In the swift deployment at the outset of the Cuban crisis, both the interceptor plane and radar warning system was at least doubled. The beefing-up included a doubling of the airborne radar system in aircraft as well as ground-based radar search and tracking and control equipment for vectoring interceptors to possible targets.

Although the Defense Department has not announced specific figures, it is understood that about 1,000 Air Force fighters were sent into airfields in Florida and adjoining areas.

There has been no announcement of any large scale withdrawal of these forces. The only announcement concerned return to bases of tactical aircraft which had been dispersed to various bases near the southeastern states and of the calling off of the high degree of alert for the Strategic Air Command fleet of bombers.

So far as is known, the augmented anti-aircraft defenses, including Hawk missile batteries, is being kept intact. Although the Army has pulled out most of the ground forces moved temporarily into forward staging positions, the normal deployment of troops provides a substantial force in the southeastern area. This includes a division each at Ft. Benning, Ga., and Ft. Bragg, N.C. The Marine Corps has a division at Camp Lejeune, N.C., less elements which are rotated aboard ships in the Caribbean area.

The Navy has dropped the fleet-size operation it conducted with a special task force for the Cuban quarantine, except for long-range patrol craft assigned to check ships leaving and entering Cuban waters.

However, even normal Navy activity in the general area of Cuba means the presence of scores of ships and hundreds of aircraft aboard carriers. The ships include destroyers and submarines engaged in regular antisubmarine patrol.

Fatal Collision

PETTUS, Tex. (AP)—Two men were killed Thursday in a collision of a pickup truck with a Southern Pacific train within the city limits on U.S. 181. They were William Gibson, 56, of Beeville and George Ussery, 54, of Kingsville.

When Gamble appeared on the Alleghany scene in October, he talked hopefully of harmony and constructive accomplishment. The harmony note was struck again by John Murchison Thursday. He appealed for support of Gamble by "all stockholders."

Billed as a "battle of millionaires," the Murchison-Kirby

DEAR ABBY

More Than Glamor To It

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and some day I hope to become a spy. My parents and relatives have tried to discourage me, but I have dreamed of being a spy as long as I can remember. When I mention my future plans to adults, they laugh and think I am kidding, but I am not, Abby. Spies have very exciting lives and they perform great services for their country. Do you think this is a childish dream or should I go through with it? I know what I am getting into as I have read every spy story I could get my hands on.

FUTURE GIRL SPY
DEAR FUTURE GIRL SPY: The "spy" stories you have read probably emphasized the glamor, excitement and adventure of such work. But to get down to realities, a spy must be well grounded in history, geography, foreign languages, criminal psychology, the art of self-defense and many other fields. No one should laugh when a 15-year-old expresses his or her ambition. At least you have one.

DEAR ABBY: My feathers were ruffled last year when you said the mimeographed newsletter-type Christmas greeting was usually boring and a lazy way of getting out of writing all year or something like that. What is "lazy" about composing a friendly, newsy letter to keep all your friends up to date on your activities? I enjoy Christmas newsletters from others and had assumed they enjoyed mine. Besides, it's the only thing I ever wrote that was published. And I had a circulation of about 150 people!

FRUSTRATED
DEAR FRUSTRATED: I, too, enjoy the newsy, cheerful, clever Christmas letter. It's the ones containing "news" of Aunt Bessie's gall bladder operation, a flood in the basement and Rover being hit by a car that I can live without.

DEAR ABBY: My wife is beautiful, healthy and lazy. She sleeps from 10 to 12 hours a night and complains about having to do the lightest kind of housework. I am ashamed to invite anyone to drop in as the house is a mess 75 per cent of the time. I work 10 hours a day, rain or shine, to keep her in style. She can buy anything she wants. Don't you think it's a wife's job to keep the house tidied up? Why should a man knock himself out to keep a woman cool, comfortable and well fed for nothing?

FED UP AND READY TO QUIT
DEAR FED: Your wife is spoiled and you spoiled her! Of course it's her job to keep the place reasonably neat. If a man wants a beautiful ornament around the house to look at, he can buy a statue.

DEAR ABBY: My husband never puts the caps on tooth paste, mouth wash, deodorants, shaving lotion or hair tonic. How can I get him to be more careful?

NAGGING WIFE
DEAR NAGGING: If I were to send you a small sampling of letters from wives who complain because their husbands never take the caps OFF the above-mentioned items, you'd put the caps on yourself, and be glad to do it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO AL: When someone calls on you and talks endlessly about how well he is doing, before he leaves, you had better count your spoons.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

One For The Road Spells Trouble

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A Miami man has been charged with watching television while driving on the Florida Turnpike.

Jack S. Minstzer, 26, was arrested by state trooper Joe Bowen, who said he gave chase when Minstzer's car ran off the highway, pulled back on, then continued, astride the center lane. Bowen said he found a portable television set, in operation, on Minstzer's dashboard. A 1951 law outlaws television which distracts an automobile driver, and carries a possible penalty of six months in jail or a $500 fine.

Construction work is well under way at Marcy Elementary School, where a wing is being added to give the school five more classrooms. ## 'Life Adjustment' Education Is Out

By BOB BARNES
LOS ANGELES (AP)—It's no use to the grindstone for California school youngsters from now on—and learn those three R's.

Dr. Max Rafferty, a blunt, two-fisted foe of the "life adjustment" theory of education, becomes state superintendent of public instruction on Jan. 7.

What happens thereafter in one of the world's biggest school systems could influence school policies in the nation. Educators and millions of parents will be watching.

Progressive education, a trend throughout much of the country since the 30s, is on its way out in California.

It was doomed even before Rafferty's upset victory over Dr. Ralph Richardson in a campaign which saw liberal Democrats backing Richardson and conservative Republicans boosting Rafferty. But Rafferty will give it a mighty shove out the door.

He has, perhaps somewhat to his surprise, strong backing for most of his ideas on the State Board of Education, even though 9 of the 10 members backed his opponent.

The success of his program will depend on how well he can get along with the board, controlled by Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown's appointees; the appointive Curriculum Commission, which selects textbooks; and the heavily Democratic legislature, which votes the money.

Rafferty believes in old-fashioned book learning, minus such frills as basket-weaving aimed at developing "the total child," as advocates put it.

He won a Freedom Foundations award—and national attention—for a blunt speech, "The Passing of the Patriot," taking strong exception to the disappearance from textbooks of American heroes in favor of Tom and Betsy and their day at the zoo. California libraries for months have had waiting lists for his book, "Suffer, Little Children," which rakes progressive education.

What's in store for California school children if he gets his way?

A stronger emphasis on subject matter. He calls it the "conservative revolution in education," or sometimes "education for survival." It means, says Rafferty, education in depth.

Specifically, Rafferty advocates: Use of the phonics system in teaching reading; stressing of the great heroes, stories and facts of American history from the first grade; encouraging youngsters to read the children's classics; abandonment of group psychological tests now given in many districts; scrapping of the terms "social studies" and "language arts" and a return to teaching of specific subjects such as geography and history; memorization and drill in subjects such as historical dates and names of great significance; the multiplication tables and number combinations, and passages from great works of prose and poetry; and teaching of basic principles of the American free enterprise system.

He is cool toward federal aid to education, strong on local control and believes teachers should be intellectual and cultural leaders in their communities.

Some things Rafferty plugged for in 385 speeches, including 48 debates with his equally outspoken opponent, have been put into effect the past three years by a revitalized state board—though he didn't acknowledge it. Board president Thomas W. Braden, publisher of the Oceanside Blade-Tribune, says he and most other board members see eye to eye with the longtime school administrator on many things—among them Rafferty's distaste for progressive education and his wish to raise standards.

Rafferty thinks his victory is a clear mandate to install "a disciplined, systematic subject matter philosophy."

Still, he expects no immediate upheaval.

"Education is not like a prairie fire," Rafferty says. "It's like a glacier. It took a long time to get into the situation where we needed this revolution, and it can't be brought about overnight."

U.S. Offers Skybolt To Britain

PARIS (AP)—The United States has offered to turn over the entire controversial Skybolt rocket program to Britain free of charge, qualified sources reported.

They said the British have been told they can take over the highly complicated project either in the United States or in their own country if they feel they can successfully develop it.

The British government accepted the American suggestion for study along with other alternative proposals advanced as replacements for the 1,100-mile, air-launched rocket, according to a British informant.

Skybolt, a rocket designed to be fired from the swift-moving platform of American and British bombers, thus far has cost the United States nearly $500 million for development.

Wilson Wants Officials To Bare Tax Data

AUSTIN (AP)—Requiring government officials to make public their federal income tax returns would be a big step toward preserving the integrity of government in Texas, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said Thursday.

Wilson made the statement at his last news conference as attorney general.

He added that corruption in local government probably is the most fruitful area for future investigation.

Probes of local government corruption, Wilson said, "have just scratched the surface."

He named the administration of charitable trusts as another uninvestigated area, calling it "sort of an unknown—a dark continent."

Reviewing investigations he has led, Wilson said news coverage, especially of the House General Investigating Committee, played a major part in speeding action on the East Texas slant-hole oil scandal.

"In our system, the light of day brought through the news media is the most efficient enforcement agency we have," he said.

Actions of East Texas grand juries, which have returned 358 indictments against 82 persons in the slanted well investigation, were pleasantly surprising, Wilson said.

"I was told at the start that we couldn't get proper handling in some counties concerned," he said.

Captain Acquitted

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—Shrimp boat Capt. Calvin Hebert, 27, was acquitted by a U.S. District Court jury Wednesday in the murder of another shrimp, John Farmer, 45. The knife slaying May 31 took place at sea while both men's boats were tied up in the Gulf of Mexico.

Issue Defeated

EL PASO (AP)—Voters defeated a $7.75 million city bond issue to finance an international convention center by a decisive margin Tuesday. They approved a city charter amendment providing for a 3 per cent transient room occupancy tax.

Cold Weather Leaves State

By The Associated Press
Light rain fell at a point or two in extreme South Texas as winter beat a retreat from the state Friday.

Temperatures sagged a little below freezing across North and West Texas but it was considerably warmer nearly everywhere than the day before.

The early December cold wave was blamed for three deaths in home fires at Dallas, Fort Worth and Nederland.

There was light rain or drizzle most of the night in extreme South Texas. Fog mixed with the drizzle at Brownsville and McAllen in early morning.

Occasional showers were expected to spread into Central Texas and to grow heavier near the coast. Continued fair weather was predicted in Northwest Texas.

Forecasts called for slightly higher temperatures in all sections through the weekend and another cool spell about Tuesday or Wednesday.

The mercury climbed above freezing everywhere in the state Thursday for the first time in two days. Top marks ranged from 42 degrees at College Station up to 62 at Dalhart.

Readings early Friday edged down to 27 at Dalhart, 30 at Amarillo, Lubbock and Texarkana, 31 at Wink and 32 at El Paso and Dallas. It was 49 at the same time in Corpus Christi.

Text Group Is Named

Fifteen representatives of the Big Spring Independent School District Wednesday were appointed to a multiple-list textbook committee.

The group will hold hearings for textbook selection beginning Jan. 2, 1963 and continuing through February. Final selection must be made not later than March 1, 1963, according to Sebron B. Williams, assistant superintendent.

Separate meetings will be held with representative from each company desiring to have its texts chosen. Each book will then be considered in a separate meeting.

Selected to the committee were Sam M. Anderson, superintendent; Mrs. Joyce Bradley, Tom Henry, Mrs. Mabel Logan, Wilbur Cunningham, Don Green, J. Hollis Lloyd, Mrs. Inez Turner, Mrs. Dolores Gage, Coleen Slaughter, Mrs. Florence Lenox, Janice Spaeth, Mrs. Fern Alexander, Robert Kelley and Douglas Whiteley. Williams was also appointed as an unofficial member to assist the committee.

Christmas Cantatas Fill Church Calendar Sunday

The Christmas season brings the traditional holiday cantata and churches throughout the city have scheduled such musical offerings this week.

The Kentwood Methodist Church will present its Christmas cantata Sunday morning at 10:55 a.m., under the direction of Joe Burchfiel, director. The cantata is "The Infant Holy," by Louise E. Stairs.

Frank Arner will be at the piano and Lorene Barbee at the organ. The cantata will include 10 numbers by the choir and a meditation by Rev. Marvin James, pastor.

The Choir of the First Baptist Church will present the Christmas cantata "Canticles of Christmas" at the evening service, Sunday at 7:45 p.m. This brief modern cantata was composed by Dr. T. W. Dean, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Solo passages will be sung by Ira Schantz, Walter Wheat, and Mrs. Dorothy Downey. Jack Hendrix is the organist; Mrs. William T. McTea, pianist. The cantata will be directed by Glenn E. Faison, minister of music.

The evening service will include singing Christmas carols by the congregation, and a message by the pastor, Robert F. Polk.

The Chancel Choir of the First Christian Church will present its annual Christmas Cantata, Sunday, at 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

This year the choir will present a work by Lewis Henry Horton, a present day composer. The cantata is "An Appalachian Nativity," based on the old tradition of "shape - notes." This term describes a system of notation invented in this country at about the end of the 18th century and was devised to facilitate teaching singing.

Soloist for the cantata will be Mrs. Joyce Bradley, soprano, and Ira Schantz, tenor. Milverly Ivey is the director with Mrs. Jackie Simpson at the organ.

Christian Love

THE PREEMINENT PLACE GIVEN TO LOVE BY CHRIST AND THE APOSTLES

Scripture—Matthew 25:35-40; John 15:12-14; I Corinthians 13; Ephesians 3:14-19; Colossians 3:12-17; I John 3:11-18; 4:7-8.

By N. SPEER JONES
 THE SUBJECT of this week's lesson is a kind of love which was so important to Christ that it has come to be known by His name—Christian love. Compassion is another word sometimes used to express this feeling or emotion, but it is a word not quite large enough to cover the active, positive, joyful nature of the feeling Christ wished to instill—a feeling of profound unity with one's fellow man.

The compassionate part of this feeling is well shown in the first selection, however, the famous passage from Matthew 25, in which Christ, just before His crucifixion, foretells the separation of the good and bad on Judgment Day. The portion assigned deals only with those who are to be rewarded. These blessed are commended not for their lofty ideals or fine pur-

THE END DOES NOT JUSTIFY THE MEANS
 It would seem that even some churchmen, leaders in religion and politicians, leaders in government in this land and over the world have debased, depraved and degraded themselves with the idea that the good or supposed good end to be attained justifies any means possible to reach that end; regardless of how poisoning, or how contaminated or polluted that means may be. Deception and dishonesty can thus easily be justified, murder and adultery, lying and stealing, cursing and killing, you name it, whatever the sin it is not too low down for the fellow or for the system, whether religious or political, that follows the idea that the end justifies the means. There seems to be very little that is corrigible, curable or improvable in the people who take this attitude. This attitude is born of pride and self-righteousness; it is born of ignorance of the truth. A man must put himself in the place of God to believe the theory that "The end justifies the means to reach it."

Henry Clay once said, "I would rather be right than president." He had in mind that if in order to reach even the highest political office of the U.S.A. and if he were the best man for the job he would prefer to be right than be wrong or do wrong to get or to hold the job.

Lincoln said, "Let us have faith that right makes might and in that faith, let us to the end, dare to do our duty, as we understand it."

Shall we pursue every phase of our life here on earth with this spirit?

Elbert R. Garretson, minister

GOLDEN TEXT
 "If God so loved us, we also ought to love one another."
 — I John 4:11.

posers, but for the everyday acts of human kindness and compassion they have shown their brothers.

This is a dispensation of rewards which is in keeping with the whole Christian tradition; the lowly act of common kindness is exalted, as is the lowly manger or the tiny town of Bethlehem or the obscure carpenter. This Christian love is not only for the great or the famous, but for every one of us.

The way to this love is indicated in John 15. One who obeys Christ's commandments abides in His love; abiding in such an infinite love, we cannot fail to pass it on to others—as indeed, Christ orders us to do.

From these words of Christ on the subject of Christian love, we turn to the sayings of two of His disciples on that subject. There is no greater or more beautiful explanation of this love than we find in Paul's first letter to the Corinthians.

"LET NOTHING YOU DISMAY"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

One of a million carolers. And on Christmas Eve she will bring comfort, reassurance, joy to many.

Mrs. J. is blind. She has never seen the carolers... but eagerly she listens for their arrival.

Mr. H. is an invalid. His nurse invites the boys and girls in and serves them cocoa. Mr. H. loves their happy smiles as well as their joyous voices.

Little Paul R. broke his leg last Saturday. That's why he's not caroling this year. But they'll be around to sing "Silent Night" under his window. That one is Paul's favorite.

When you hear the carolers on Christmas Eve, pause and consider the Love that inspires their singing. That Love was born in a Bethlehem stable one holy night centuries ago.
