ICC Okays Merger Of 2 Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission set up one of the nation's biggest railroad mergers today by authorizing the Chesapeake & Ohio to gain control of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Approval of the control plan came as two other big Eastern railroad unification plans were being processed by the commission.

These would unite the New York Central with the Pennsylvania and the Nickel Plate with the Norfolk & Western.

The commission emphasized that the C&O-B&O case involves only an acquisition of control by an exchange of stock. But the C&O had made quite clear that this was intended as a preliminary step to merger of its operations and those of the B&O.

The ICC said the stock-exchange deal between the C&O and B&O would strengthen the financial condition of the B&O and both carriers will continue to operate as separate railroads.

"Approval of the application will not foreclose our opportunity to consider the lawfulness of any future merger application," the commission added, "nor will it prevent interested parties from raising objections to proposals of that application when it is presented to the commission for its approval."

But railroad industry observers had acknowledged beforehand that approval of the C&O-B&O control plan would be a major step toward the proposed development of three major rail systems in the East through merger.

The C&O operates about 5,091 miles of railroad in a generally V-shaped pattern running northeast and southeast from Chicago. One arm runs through Detroit to Buffalo, N.Y. The other extends through Cincinnati to Newport News, Va. and Washington. The railroad's headquarters is in Cleveland.

The B&O, which went from riches to rags in its 135-year history, operates about 5,910 miles of road in New York, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, Michigan and the District of Columbia. It is based in Baltimore.

The C&O, whose property is valued for rate-making purposes at $197,460,975, reported net income ranging from $51.7 million in 1958 to $4.5 million for the first quarter of 1961.

By contrast, the B&O's property value for rate-making purposes was $69,453,455 but its net income dropped steadily during the same period from $16 million in 1958 to an $11.5 million deficit for the first 1961 quarter.

IT TAKES THREE TO BEAT POLIO

It takes three vaccines to give complete protection from polio. Thus the "victory over polio" campaign will continue until all three vaccines have been offered on a mass basis here.

In November, residents turned out 26,000 strong to take Type I on sugar cubes. Next Sunday, even more are urged to take Type II, the same way. Type III will be offered later.

Residents missing Type I can get it from the family physician. But doctors urged them to be sure and get Type II. It's free, safe and takes only a few minutes.

Stock Market Is Turbulent

NEW YORK (AP)—Sharp gains by Baltimore & Ohio issues on merger news highlighted a turbulent and confused stock market session today as 1962 trading drew near its end. Turnover was active.

On balance the list had a thinly higher edge. Tax transactions and switches of various kinds muddled the trend.

Changes of most key stocks were fractional.

Steel shares were unchanged to easy, motors narrowly mixed, oils steady to higher, chemicals mostly lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 243.0 with industrials up .1, rails up .4, and utilities off .2.

Katangans Continue Battle Against U. N.

Challenge Claim To Swift Victory

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—President Moïse Tshombe's troops battled U.N. Congo command units in north Katanga today, challenging a U.N. claim of lightning victory in this third military campaign against the secessionist province.

The United Nations claimed full control of the area of Elisabethville, the capital, in the south. But incidents of pillage and terror promoted unrest. The U.N. command ordered looters shot on sight.

Consolidating gains, the United Nations ordered Katanga pilots to surrender by noon Tuesday and give up all their planes which had survived U.N. strafing attacks.

Tshombe himself, who has vowed to fight to the end against forced reunification of the Congo, was reported to have returned to Katanga. He took off in a Rhodesian air force transport from Salisbury for an unannounced destination after an overnight visit to the capital of the Central African Federation.

All Katangan planes which have not been surrendered by that time will be destroyed wherever they are found, the U.N. command said.

The United Nations said earlier that Swedish jet fighters had almost completely eliminated the Katanga air force, destroying two British Vampire jets and four or five converted Harvard trainers on the ground.

The United Nations reported that the Belgian mayor of Elisabethville had agreed to cooperate with the world organization. The United Nations claimed on Sunday Belgian public utilities technicians had refused to work for the United Nations but later agreed to work under the auspices of the Red Cross.

FIGHT TO DEATH

Tshombe vowed that his secessionist province would fight to the death rather than accept forced reunification with the Congo central government. He said the Katangans "were only defending themselves" and the U.N. "for a long time prepared to attack us."

On the diplomatic front, pressure built up in Britain and Belgium against any attempt to translate the U.N. military sweep into quick Congo unity.

A British government plea for "discussion and negotiation" in Katanga brought charges from the opposition Labor party that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative regime was trying to thwart U.N. plans for ending the partition of the Congo.

British, Belgian and American capital back mining operations in mineral-rich Katanga, which seceded from the poverty-stricken rest of the Congo almost as soon as Belgium ended its colonial rule in June 1960.

"PROMENADE"

"A military promenade" was the label pinned by a Western diplomat on the swift U.N. cleanup of Tshombe's forces. The U.N. command said it launched the three-day offensive only after it endured a crescendo of Katangan bombardments.

U.N. Secretary General U Thant sent congratulations on the success of the operation to his field commanders.

Thant said it had been "an unhappy circumstance and a matter of regret to me that it became necessary" to resort to military force.

Against U.N. Action

Pro-Katanga demonstrators gather in front of the Belgian-Katanga Friendship Society in Brussels to protest against U.N. action in the Congo. United Nations forces shattered Katangan resistance in Elisabethville and were reported pushing into the rich copper belt to the northwest. President Moïse Tshombe fled his palace as blue-helmeted U.N. troops seized virtual control of his capital.

General Holiday On Tap Tuesday For Most Residents

New Year's Day will be a general holiday for Big Spring. Public offices of all kinds will be shut down.

Stores will present closed doors although inside of many there will be plenty of work going on — preparations for the inevitable January sales and the annual task of inventory providing chores which have to be gotten out of the way, holiday or not.

Only skeleton crews will man the essential departments of the county and city.

The post office will have a holiday with operations limited to putting up incoming mail and dispatching that which is to go out of town. No route deliveries will be made.

At the Howard County court house, the sheriff's office will be open on a partly manned footing.

At 9 a.m., however, the county court room will be the scene of brief ceremonies at which elective officials beginning new terms will be officially sworn in. The public is invited to these ceremonies.

The holiday, while not expected to be quite as general as the one which prevailed Christmas will see a Sunday-like appearance settle on the town. Majority of the citizens will spend the afternoon with eyes glued to the TV as the series of bowl games are projected.

Highways are expected to be busy. Many people are just now on their way home from Christmas trips. Others are taking advantage of the Sunday-Monday-Tuesday layoff enjoyed by many workers for quick trips to other towns and other states.

An appeal for safe driving was sounded by the officers charged with responsibility of keeping the death and accident toll down.

Wednesday, operations which have been in a somewhat hectic state of uncertainty most of December, will begin leveling off to routine. A new year will be in effect and the wheels of business and government will begin once more to turn smoothly.

City Officials Are Returning

Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, was back in his office Monday following a week off during the holidays. City Manager Larry Crow, and Director of Public Works Bruce Dunn will be back Wednesday.

Building Inspector Tom Newton, who was bruised and shaken up in an automobile accident Thursday, was still not in his office Monday but is expected back Wednesday. He is still suffering from stiffness and soreness but is able to be up and move around.

AFL Suspends

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Basketball League, formed two years ago, is suspending operations, officials confirmed today.

Boys Have 11 Grandparents

GALVESTON (AP)—The two young Lanham boys—Jack Don Jr. and Fernand Dean—have two claims to distinction, their parents believe.

The boys were born less than 11 months apart and they have 11 grandparents. Jack Don Jr. was born last Jan. 13, 1961, at the Naval Hospital in Charleston, S.C. and his little brother was born last Thanksgiving Day at Galveston's St. Mary's Infirmary.

And the boys, sons of a navy personnelman third class on the U.S.S. Crow, a destroyer escort stationed here, are a lusty pair. Their combined total weight at birth was 20 pounds and 9 and 3/4 ounces.

Lanham identified his son's paternal grandparents as Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lanham of Lubbock and the maternal grandparents as Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Calton of McKinney.

He said the paternal great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Horton Sr. of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Lanham of Lubbock.

"Then, there's the maternal great grandparents, Mrs. Pearl Recer of Lubbock and Mrs. Ida Mae Calton of McKinney," Lanham continued, "besides a great-great grandmother, Mrs. M. B. Horton, who lives at Christoval."

Six Reported Killed In Crash

SUPERIOR, Mont. (AP)—A bus and a truck collided in western Montana today and the bus plunged into the frozen Clark Fork River, killing at least six persons.

First reports said the bus was a Greyhound and was eastbound.

Car-Train Crash Kills Martin Citizen

STANTON (SC)—George Lewis, 60, a lifetime resident of Martin County, was killed instantly Sunday morning when his sedan was struck by an eastbound Texas and Pacific freight train. The collision occurred about 7:15 a.m. near the intersection of St. Mary Street and IS 20.

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday in First Methodist Church and burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery with Arrington Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. The Rev. Ellis Todd, pastor of the church, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. W. H. Uhlman, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Masonic graveside rites will be held.

Mr. Lewis was born Oct. 26, 1902 in Martin County and was alone in his car at the time of the wreck.

It was assumed by Police Chief John Murdock that the victim was en route to downtown Stanton for a cup of coffee—his regular custom each morning. He lived about three miles southeast of town.

The accident was witnessed by James J. Swagner, a truck driver from Orlando, Fla., who was driving west on IS 20.

The sedan was dragged 161 feet down the track by the train. Officers and workmen had to work an hour before Mr. Lewis' body could be freed from the wreckage.

E. C. Casey, Big Spring, was said to be engineer on the train.

Survivors include two sons, Richard Lewis, Stanton, and B. G. Lewis, Denver, Colo. There are four grandchildren. Mrs. Lewis, the former Clara Faye Loudner, whom Mr. Lewis married May 2, 1931 in Lovington, N. M., preceded him in death last May.

EARLY PRESS TIME TUESDAY

The Herald will observe an earlier press time Tuesday—New Year's Day.

Deadline for classified ads will be 9 a.m., so please call the Herald early. News deadlines also will be moved up correspondingly so that the press may roll about noon.

This will permit most employes to have a half-holiday.

CARRY ON FIGHT

Officials in the Rhodesian border town of Ndola said Tshombe flew to Kolwezi, 150 miles northwest of Elisabethville. Katangans at Ndola expressed belief he planned to reform his government in Kolwezi and organize his armed forces to carry on the fight. They believed Cabinet members accompanied him.

The U.N. command in Leopoldville said fighting centered on the outskirts of Kamina, a mining town 260 miles northwest of Elisabethville, which the United Nations said Sunday had been captured by Ghanaian U.N. troops.

The U.N. command said today a Swedish battalion and a Ghanaian company were under fire.

Messages reaching Leopoldville this morning reported three Katanga companies were still in the town Sunday night.

However, the Ghanaians were reported by the United Nations to have captured a road and rail junction about 15 miles from Kamina, while Swedish troops seized intact about 10 miles or railway track to the east.

AIR ULTIMATUM

A U.N. message to Katangan pilots of both civil and military planes ordered them to fly their aircraft to the U.N. air base of Manono between 6 a.m. and noon.

Kennedy Says Reds Will Lose Their 'Victory' Bet

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy writes in the current issue of Look magazine that the Communists will lose their "bet" that the world will become Communist.

History, said Kennedy, "has already refuted the myth of the inevitability of Communist victory."

"Our 'bet'" he went on, "is that the future will be a world community of independent nations with a diversity of economic, political and religious systems, united by a common respect for the rights of others."

But the President warned, "We would be foolish to think that we can realize our own vision of a free and diverse future without unceasing vigilance, discipline and labor."

He added, "Above all, we must both demonstrate and develop the affirmative power of the democratic ideal—remembering always that nations are great, not for what they are against, but what they are for."

Kennedy wrote the article at the request of Daniel P. Mich, the magazine's vice president and editorial director, according to a Look spokesman. It is against Look's policy to discuss what payment, if any, the President received for the article, the spokesman said.

Telephone Dialing Due Change In Area Communities

Saturday will be the cut-over date for a change in Sand Springs and Coahoma dialing.

While calls to and from Big Spring will be reached by dialing 0, the assignment of seven-number dialing will open the way to subsequent extended-area coverage (toll-free service). This may come during 1963.

Effective Saturday morning, approximately 200 Sand Springs numbers will start with 391, to designate the exchange. These will be followed by four numbers to designate the subscriber.

Coahoma phone numbers will start with 394, followed by four digits. This will take the place of the present Lyric prefix.

Jack Gauble of the Coahoma Telephone Company, Inc. said that the switch to the seven-number dialing was a necessary step toward extended area coverage with Big Spring. Meantime, Coahoma and Sand Springs subscribers may continue to dial within the exchange as before.

Population Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—New Year's Day will dawn on 188,045,000 men, women and children in the United States.

That's the Jan. 1 population as estimated by the Census Bureau.

Such an auld lang syne chorus has 2,755,000 voices more than the one that welcomed the New Year 1962.

Cool Reception To Castro Offer On Cuban Refugees

HAVANA (AP)—A cool reception greeted today the Castro government's offer to let more Cubans go to the United States if Pan American Airways resumed flights between Havana and Miami.

A Pan American spokesman in New York said the line had little desire to resume normal service to Cuba. He said the company had lost heavily on its flights to Cuba in recent years because of restrictions and limited travel to the island.

The State Department banned private and commercial flights to Cuba during the Cuban crisis. The ban is still on although it was lifted temporarily when the Cuban invasion prisoners were ransomed and flown out.

"The revolutionary government," said a communique from Prime Minister Fidel Castro's office, "will maintain its policy to authorize the departure from the country for all those desiring to leave as soon as the Pan American Airways resumes its flights to Cuba which it suspended by a decision of North American authorities."

Official sources denied reports that Castro had agreed to allow more relatives of the Bay of Pigs invaders to follow the prisoners to the United States. James B. Donovan, the New York attorney who negotiated the release of the prisoners and nearly 1,000 of their relatives, said Saturday in Lake Placid, N.Y., that Castro had agreed to let an additional 2,500 relatives go to the United States.

Donovan said as each installment of the $3 million worth of ransom food and drugs for the prisoners was delivered, another group of relatives would be released.

The Cuban communique also denied a report by Donovan that Castro might go to the United Nations to negotiate the release of 21 Americans imprisoned in Cuba.

Havana radio ridiculed President Kennedy's appearance in Miami Saturday before the Bay of Pigs prisoners.

"Kennedy made a real effort to forget his Yankee aristocratic prejudices when he called brothers these contemptible Latin Americans born in Cuba," the broadcast said.

"One of the most ridiculous aspects of the show staged by Kennedy and his mercenaries was the reference to the fake brigade flag which Kennedy promised to return some day to what he called a free Havana."

Gifts Await First Infant

Who will be Mr. and Miss New Year's of 1963 in Howard County? Whoever it may be, 10 Big Spring merchants are all set to welcome the young baby with a variety of gifts.

The award will go to the first baby of the New Year in Howard County to parents who are bona fide residents of Howard County.

The winner will be certified by the Herald, and gifts (as advertised in today's Herald) will be made by Anthony's, J&K Shoe Store, Park Drug, White's Furniture Department, Gandy's, Piggy Wiggly, Furr's, J. C. Penney Company, Montgomery Ward & Company, and Blum's Jewelers.

Come the stroke of midnight, and the stork race will be on. Seldom has New Year's Day passed without a winner, and usually the stork has alighted before dawn.

A Fine Start, Weatherwise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts the new year will get off to a fine start Tuesday with sunny skies and mild temperatures over most of the nation.

In a national weather outlook for New Year's Day the bureau said that only in the Northeast will temperatures continue below normal. A few snow flurries are predicted for the extreme northern edge of the nation from the Rocky Mountains to the northern Appalachians.

These Men Know Their Business

Chuck's Mechanics Can Fix Your Car

Sometimes that automatic transmission has to wind up for several seconds before the car moves. Again it has to unwind after you brake the car to a stop. If it does, it is a pretty good sign that something needs to be done about it. Maybe it also leaves a spot on the driveway, where the fluid runs out past the seal, and new fluid has to be added with about each tankful of gasoline.

Chuck's Automotive Repair, 900 W. 5th, specializes in transmission overhaul and repairs.

These jobs are not for novices because of the intricate parts and proper adjustments. The least trouble in a valve or fluid pump will leave the car standing with its motor racing, or leave the transmission operative after the accelerator is released. The proper training and skill, on the part of the mechanic, is required to do the work right and make the automobile perform smoothly.

Chuck Atwell, owner, has been in the automotive repair business in Big Spring for eight years. He has been in the same location for the past four years.

He employs four mechanics, in addition to himself and a parts man. He knows when the work is done right and all work is guaranteed.

"We handle standard brand parts for all automobiles," he said, "and are equipped to work on all makes."

In addition to the general repair of all automobiles Chuck's Automotive Repair adjusts and replaces brakes, and handles tune-up jobs on all automobiles.

"We also have a steam cleaner for motors," Atwell said. "After some of the sand storms we have in this area motors need cleaning to get rid of the coating.

Equipped To Check Your Power Lines

Around Christmas time, when the additional appliances, ornamental lights for decorating trees and yards, and the long evenings sitting before the television sets, many home owners find their electrical circuits are not sufficient to carry the loads.

Some home owners find out the hard way when fires break out, as lines become hot from overloading, and fuses are stronger than they should be.

Kitching Electric is equipped to check out the deficient circuits and give estimates on the cost of adding new circuits or rewiring the house. It is often much cheaper insurance than can be bought otherwise.

In older homes the wiring was probably installed for much lighter loads than those now being carried. There may not be enough circuits. If the present wiring is good, additional circuits may be added to take care of the demands.

Then, too, those old light fixtures may be taking on faded or obsolete appearances. Modern fixtures, supplied by Kitching, may make a world of difference in the lighting efficiency, and the appearance of older homes.

When homes are properly wired, with enough circuits to take care of modern appliances which are no longer considered luxuries, owners may sit back in relaxed ease knowing that no danger exists.

A trip by Kitching Electric at 902 Gregg, or a call to AM 4-5103, will bring help in modernizing electrical fixtures or circuits.

Are you properly protected with automobile insurance? Ask C. Roscoe Cone about it at 1006 Eleventh Place.

Harley-Davidson's 1963 Scat

The Scat, available at Cecil Thixton's, 908 W. 3rd, has a "Tuned Exhaust" system, ball-end control levers, 18-inch wheels, and off-the-road tires. The Scat is also available in a trail riding model with larger rear wheel sprocket and small transmission sprocket to provide more "dig."

Get Your LP Gas Tank Full For Winter

Not much winter has come to the Big Spring area so far, and gas bills, for heating, have been comparatively low in the last part of 1962.

But don't let that fool you. There's bound to be some winter in 1963 and those tanks need to be filled regularly. There may come a time when trucks can't get over icy or snowcovered roads and if your tank reads empty on one of those mornings, somebody is going to suffer.

Why not let S. M. Smith Butane Co. make regular checks on your tank to insure a supply when needed.

Many homes in the Howard County area use butane or propane for heating, cooking, hot water, and refrigeration.

Smith has the equipment, supplies, and men to render a service to liquid petroleum gas users second to none. Maybe, with added gas appliances, some homes need larger tanks. If so Smith has them and the men and equipment to install them.

Farm tractors, trucks, and other motorized equipment, designed to operate on liquid petroleum gas, can be serviced and supply tanks furnished.

LPG engines need suitable oil for proper lubrication and Smith Butane carries a complete stock of Champion motor oils and greases for these engines.

There is economy in operating tractors and heavy trucks on liquid petroleum gas. A call to Smith at AM 4-5981 will give you an estimate on the cost of equipment and operations.

U. S., Poles Could Split

By GENE KRAMER
An AP News Analysis

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Relations between the United States and Poland could take a turn for the worse in 1963. The next few days or weeks may set the course.

One indication will be whether Poland pays its annual $4 million installment on $40 million in compensation for American private property nationalized in the Communist takeover.

The third annual payment is due the first week of January. Competent sources say Poland recently warned the United States it may default on the payments because of congressional action last fall affecting Polish exports to America.

The Poles have accused the United States of bad faith because Congress included in the new foreign trade act a clause calling on the President to cancel tariff concessions, known as "most favored nation treatment" now granted Poland and Yugoslavia.

Polish authorities contend U.S. negotiators morally obligated their government to grant Poland "most favored nation" treatment at the time the property claims agreement was worked out in 1959. There is no legal connection, however.

Several congressmen who visited Warsaw recently expressed surprise at hearing U.S. officials talk of such a moral obligation. They said that while the Kennedy administration had opposed cancelling the trade concession for Poland and Yugoslavia, they had not been informed in Washington of any connection with the claims agreement.

Besides commercial trade, Poland is looking to America as a source of wheat, needed particularly because of a bad 1962 harvest. After repeated delay, talks began in Washington in late November on a Polish request for new shipments of surplus wheat on long-term credit. Progress, if any, has not been announced.

Poland owes $425 million for surplus U.S. foodstuffs imported since 1957 on 40-year credit. Officials say repayment, due to start in 1967, depends on opportunities for Poland to earn American dollars.

Polish exports to the United States have been growing steadily since 1960 and now run about $40 million a year. But Polish sources claim orders are leveling off, partly as a result of congressional hostility toward East-West trade and sporadic boycotts by U.S. anti-Communist groups.

Crop failures and other economic troubles have prompted Poland's regime to give more emphasis than ever to boosting exports and conserving hard currency. Any deterioration of U.S.-Polish economic relations thus would be certain to lower the modest degree of American influence in Warsaw.

GREAT JOY

"Christianity is a religion of present joys, and leads onward to joy eternal" (Fourfold Gospel). The birth of Jesus was announced to the shepherds by the angel in these words: "Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all the people" (Luke 2:10).

Christians are not required to wait until the end of the world for happiness, Jesus said, Blessed (that is, happy) are the poor in spirit... they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness... the merciful... the pure in heart... the peacemakers... they which are persecuted for righteousness sake" (Mat. 5:3-10).

Christians have a joy that no one can take away from them (Jno. 16:22).

Then, there is joy eternal awaiting the faithful Christian; when our Lord shall say, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant... enter thou into the joy of thy Lord" (Mat. 25:21).

The new year can be a happy year for you if you will follow Christ. Your future can be bright; even death will not be able to rob you of happiness; if you will be a faithful Christian. —Adv.

Rocky Adopts Waiting Game On Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has adopted a hare-and-tortoise strategy in his quest for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, reports reaching here indicated today.

The idea appears to be that Rockefeller will hang back, letting such other GOP stars as Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania put on whatever burst of political speed they desire.

Then in the stretch Rockefeller, with that massive New York delegation propelling him, will romp to certain nomination or so his backers feel sure.

In line with this, Rockefeller is keeping comparatively quiet; has few speaking engagements outside New York, and is turning down a number of bids.

Officially, of course, Rockefeller has not entered the presidential competition, nor has Goldwater or Romney or Scranton.

The political betting is that Rockefeller will be in there fighting—and probably will get the nomination, barring some big change in the political picture.

For the present, Rockefeller strategists are passing the word that he thinks the GOP should remain flexible, giving full exposure to all its likely presidential possibilities and then pick the best man, a man with a positive approach.

"The governor," one said, "doesn't want to get in the position of assuming the mantle of the party nominee, or even the stance of a candidate for the nomination at this time."

Asked whether Rockefeller has shown any reluctance to come to grips with President Kennedy since the latter's rocking chair television interview — an event which struck even some Republican leaders as a political tour de force—the governor's backers scouted any such idea.

"He just does not want to assume the role of chief Republican antagonist to the President at this juncture," one said. "This is in line with his policy of not trying to put on the mantle of the nominee."

The Rockefeller high command obviously is bending its efforts to see that he does better in any future political combat than he did last November, when his reelection margin proved smaller than his 1958 plurality—$29,000 as against 573,000.

Whether the departure of L. Judson Morhouse from the post of New York state Republican chairman had anything to do with Rockefeller strategy for 1964 was not immediately apparent. Rockefeller said he was saddened by Morhouse's resignation Dec. 27. Morhouse is reported to have been far from a big wheel in the Rockefeller 1962 campaign, which brought results somewhat disappointing to the governor.

Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits rolled up a plurality of 983,000 as against Rockefeller's 529,000. However, the governor's camp points out that the difference in the total vote for Rockefeller and Javits was not nearly so large—3,272,417 for the senator as compared with 3,061,587 for the governor.

Rockefeller backers also explain that any incumbent governor is apt to suffer attrition these days because of the necessity of levying high taxes and taking other measures displeasing to many voters.

If Rockefeller wins the nomination he will, by all odds, face Kennedy in November 1964. Whether the personable Rockefeller could take the attractive Kennedy could depend in large part on

ON THE SHELF

THE RUSSIA I SAW, By Felix McKnight, SMU Press, $2.50.

Felix McKnight, executive editor of the Dallas Times Herald, always has been an outstanding reporter. This was true when he was an Associated Press newsman before going into the executive side of the news, and it is true today.

An example is his recent book, "The Russia I Saw," published by Southern Methodist University Press.

McKnight and 11 other top editors took an 8,000 mile trip through Russia this year. He returned to write about the trip in his newspaper, and the stories were carried by The Associated Press.

The book contains the stories, somewhat revised from the earlier version.

The reasons the book is so different from the usual ones on Russia are multifold.

One is the excellent writing, clear and concise. Another is his emphasis on how the people live, the price of an apartment, how much they pay for food, why women work, what's wrong with the country.

McKnight, knowing the limitations of a 23-day tour, does not seek to make any profound statements about what is wrong with Russia, except one.

This is less a statement than a recurring theme. This theme is that what is wrong with Russia—from its major internal policies down to the size of cabbage—is the lack of freedom for the people.

On the other hand, McKnight found nothing to lessen the well-known viewpoint that Russia's main goal is world domination despite platitudes of "peaceful co-existence."

One of the highlights of the book recounts the bitter attack made by Soviet Premier Khrushchev on McKnight during one of the Russian chief's rare interviews. It shows plainly, if nothing else does, the Russian mentality and how it can twist any issue for its own use.

Van Allen Slaps Science Committee

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The President's Science Advisory Committee has drawn sharp criticism from Dr. James Van Allen, discoverer of the Van Allen radiation belt around the earth, for a report on radiation effects of a nuclear test last July.

David Becker, executive secretary of the committee, answered that "the committee is a highly competent scientific group with a good reputation for hearing all views."

Dr. James W. Warwick, radio astronomer of the high-altitude observatory at Boulder, Colo., said his studies made with radio measurements generally agreed with Van Allen's and were "inconsistent" with the government's report.

In New York, Dr. I. L. Rabi, Columbia University physicist and consultant-at-large to the committee, said both Van Allen and Warwick "know very well that when evidence is not complete, the results cannot be accurately predicted."

"There are times when practical action must be taken for safety reasons," said Rabi. "I regret that Dr. Van Allen was not consulted beforehand, since he seems to be the final authority."

Dr. James W. Warwick, radio astronomer of the high-altitude observatory at Boulder, Colo., said his studies made with radio measurements generally agreed with Van Allen's and were "inconsistent" with the government's report.

In other developments at the meeting:

A space agency official announced the United States plans to land an expeditionary force of robot detectives on Mars in 1966 to search for life there. He described the ingenious devices being developed or studied to carry out the assignment.

Space doctors weighing the risks, stresses and safety factors for the Apollo moon flights expected by 1970 reported there will be an arbitrary retirement age for astronauts flying to the moon. They said this would not be in terms of years but in exposure to penetrating radiation in space.

The Van Allen dispute grew out of a Science Advisory Committee report in August which implied that a nuclear test last July, 250 miles above Johnston Island in the Pacific, had created an artificial radiation belt that would last long and was stronger than had been predicted.

Evidence from more than a half dozen satellites now passing through the artificial radiation belts indicates the committee statement was wrong, Van Allen said. He predicted the most durable radiation would last not more than a few years and probably would not be detectable by next summer.

Four Held In Death

LEESVILLE, La. (AP)—Officers are holding four DeRidder, La., residents—two men and two women—in the beating death of a Waco, Tex., book salesman.

The salesman and father of four, Bobby Jack Commander, 32, was found dead beside a rural highway near this West Central Louisiana town Sunday.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Malcolm Smart said he expects charges will be filed this week.

Commander died of a fractured skull, Vernon Parish Coroner E. H. Byrd said. He also suffered two fractures of the right jaw and numerous other bruises.

Smart said the four have admitted being in a fight with Commander over a car accident that allegedly occurred sometime Saturday night in Leesville, a small town near Ft. Polk.

One of the men, Smart said, told him Commander was still breathing when he was dumped beside State 1211, two miles west of the nearby community of New Llano.

Two motorists discovered the body about 8 a.m. Sunday. The coroner said Commander had been dead about three hours.

Smart said the four told him Commander was knocked unconscious during a fight at nearby Amoco Lake.

They said, according to Smart, the salesman had been invited to a party after differences concerning the auto accident had been resolved.

Marshall Alton Henderson, 56, of Amarillo, was found dead in the garage of his home Sunday. The Department of Public Safety said he apparently died of asphyxiation, but a verdict was pending.

DEAR ABBY

Old Men, Young Girls

DEAR ABBY: The wife who wrote that her 55-year-old husband wanted to paw all the young girls struck a familiar chord with me. I agree that some men who act like this are "sick." But I think there is another side. Don't you think if mothers taught their daughters not to encourage older men by flirting with them and sitting on their laps (all in fun, of course), we wouldn't have so much trouble of this kind?

FORT WORTH FAN

DEAR ABBY: Not always. Sometimes you aren't even aware of the connection until you get the shock!

DEAR ABBY: Last night while I was fixing supper, my husband came into the kitchen, put his arms around me and hugged and kissed me. I said, "What brought that on?" He replied, "I love you." Later, when the children were out, he said, "Honey, haven't I been treating you right?" I said, "You always treat me right—'What is the matter?'"

His reply: "Well, when I came home this evening, I wanted to type-up my speech for the Chamber of Commerce and found the typewriter out and a letter in it. It started, 'DEAR ABBY.' I explained that I only wanted to write and tell you that I was one of those women who got up in the morning to make her husband's breakfast. Thanks Abby. It gave me a thrill to know he loved me as much as I love him. KY."

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who sleeps with her 13-year-old daughter when she could just as easily sleep with her own husband? The reason she sleeps with me is because my father snores. Well, Abby, SHE snores and keeps me awake. If I don't get my sleep at night, I can't keep my head up in school. What should I do?

ALWAYS TIRED

DEAR TIRED: If there is a couch in the living room, sleep on it. Or fix up a "bed" anywhere in the house, far away from

Another 12 Months Of TV History Made

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Another 12 months of television history has been made—thousands and thousands of hours of entertainment, news and education carried by electronic magic into the nation's homes.

There was an amazing total of 3,831 of these hours on network television during the peak evening viewing hours alone. Most of the programs were run of the mill, some were distressingly bad, but some were superb.

There were fewer dramatic shows, but there was real drama. It came when the cameras were focused on the blastoff of manned space shots, and on the face of the President of the United States alerting the public to a national crisis.

More people watched television than ever before, and the more they watched, the more critical they became.

Critics went on hammering about the quality of television, calling for more culture and education. But viewers continued to turn to their sets primarily for entertainment: far sports, Westerns, parlor games, stories about doctors and comedies.

The hit program of the year was a broad, corny farce, "Beverly Hillsbillies," played strictly for laughs—and achieving them. Stories about medical men continued to be popular, but the plot emphasis moved from clinical to personal problems. No great new stars emerged. Jackie Gleason and Lucille Ball made successful comebacks. Jack Paar and Loretta Young also returned, but without such good luck.

Network schedules artfully pitted one favorite show against another in the battle for audiences. Many programs suffered, but audiences soon learned they could usually catch the drift of a 60-minute show by watching only the second half. Still, they complained about it.

Violence diminished, children's programs improved in quality, villains were more likely to be mentally ill than evil for evil's sake. Commercials tended to be more soft-sell than hard, except in the household remedies area.

Networks worked hard and bragged a lot about their public affairs shows, and their staffs became more skillful in making them interesting.

All in all, it was a busy television year. It reached heights on some occasions.

Outstanding Men Named By Jaycees

Orphans Begin Today A New Life Together

KANNAPOLIS, N.C. (AP)—Eight brothers and sisters begin a new life together today at the Church of God orphanage due to the efforts of a welfare worker, Miss Andrea Triplett.

Another brother, now 10 months old, will join them when he is 2. On Oct. 7, Abner Avery Bentley, 67, a retired carpenter, and his wife, 40, packed their children into the family truck for a trip over a winding road near Morganton.

Bentley lost control of the vehicle and it rolled down a steep incline. When officers arrived, they found Bentley and his wife dead. The children escaped serious injury.

The children were moved out of their four-room home to the home of an uncle. He was unable to carry the heavy burden and they were scattered to six foster homes in mid-November.

Miss Triplett, 21, the Caldwell County welfare worker who handled the case, found that the Church of God orphanage would accept all the Bentley orphans except 10-month-old Terry Wayne. "I talked to them as a group. I explained to them this may be the only way they could remain together," Miss Triplett said.

"There were no problems in getting them into the orphanage except for the baby. The orphanage can't take him until he is 2. But he'll join the others then."

"Because of welfare regulations, the children were not told where their brothers and sisters were staying. They had no Christmas reunion."

"But they all had a very good Christmas," Miss Triplett said. "Organizations donated clothing and toys. I expect the children had the best Christmas of their lives."

The children are Abner Jr., 14; R. C., 13; Bonnie, 10; Jerry, 9; Darlene, 7; A. B., 6; H. T., 5; Danny Gene, 4, and Terry Wayne.

First Family To Hail 1963

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President and Mrs. Kennedy celebrate the arrival of the new year tonight much like many other Americans—at a midnight champagne party with friends.

Their hosts for the second year in a row are Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Wrightman, Palm Beach neighbors and close friends. Wrightman is a wealthy oil man and art collector. His wife, Jan, who collects antique furnishings, is a member of Mrs. Kennedy's White House Fine Arts Committee.

Their party is one of the major social events of the holiday season in this resort city. The President and his wife have to go only a few doors down the road from their borrowed ocean-front villa to get to the New Year's Eve party, where Lester Lanin's society orchestra will play.

The White House and the Wrightmans have combined to keep the plans for the evening something of a secret. White House press secretary Pierre Salinger made it plain to reporters that the evening is a private one for all concerned.

Likely to be among the guests are Sir David Ormsby Gore, British ambassador to the United States, and Lady Ormsby Gore, and three of the President's sisters and their husbands—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawford, Mr. and Mrs. Sargent Shriver and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith.

The President has been in Palm Beach since Dec. 21, getting lots of sun, taking a daily cruise on the presidential yacht and working with his advisers on budget, legislative and tax matters.

Kennedy is not expected to return to Washington until Jan. 8, in time to join in ceremonies opening the exhibition of the "Mona Lisa." The famed masterpiece has been loaned by the French government for showings at the National Gallery of Art in Washington and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City.

Venus Radared

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet scientists have announced they have bounced radio signals off the planet Venus for the first time. The Soviet news agency Novosti said the signals were sent Nov. 19 and Nov. 24.

Tense 1962 Gives Way Tonight For New Year

By The Associated Press

The end of an internationally tense 1962 and the start of an uncertain 1963 arrives tonight for countless millions around the troubled world.

For many, the midnight transition from the old to the new will bring joyful reflections. For others, it will spark sad recollections.

Millions will flock to churches to raise their voices in song and prayer — thanking God for the blessings of the old year and asking His guidance through the year to come.

Others will sing out the old and shout in the new at entertainment spots ranging from cozy corner taverns and tiny dance halls to big city auditoriums and night clubs.

To get to their parties, some will trudge through inches of snow. Others will walk along palm-lined boulevards under balmy summer-like skies.

Many will be oblivious to the magic instant. They are the very sick, the very young, the very tired.

The moment will go virtually unnoticed by those assigned to the task of keeping the vital services of a complex society rolling.

Some will die around the stroke of twelve. Others will be spanked into life.

Particular emphasis has been put on highway safety with hotels, coffee shops, expensive restaurants and churches offering free lodging, coffee and a moment of rest for those whose celebrating might leave them incapable of safe driving.

The Pennsylvania and New Jersey turnpike commissions will offer free hot coffee to any person traveling the super highways.

The Travelers Hotel near La Guardia Airport in New York has offered free overnight lodging to any celebrant who feels the need of it.

Members of the Adaman group will usher in the New Year by an assault on the 14,110-foot Pike's Peak in Colorado. From the summit, the group hopes to set off a fireworks display at midnight. An estimated 12,000 men, women and children will go through last-minute dress rehearsals for the annual Mummers' parade in Philadelphia on New Year's Day.

The 73,000 temple bells that echo across Japan New Year's Eve will include for the first time in 20 years an old favorite reclaimed from Iowa.

The bell, the Choin-in Gankoji temple bell, had rung for three centuries in Japan before it was silenced and disappeared during World War II. It turned up on the Iowa State University campus and was brought back this year to Japan.

Deep snowdrifts brought traffic almost to a standstill in most of southern England. The weather man predicted that a belt of rain moving across the area later today might bring milder weather.

At least five deaths in Britain were attributed to the weather. A man and his wife froze to death in their car buried under a 15-foot snowdrift in a rural spot in Dorset County. The couple's daughter, grandson and another man were rescued unconscious and in critical condition.

Helicopters rescued a number of stranded travelers. Traffic in and out of main cities was halted completely. Snow lay so deep on some highways that attempts to clear it were abandoned.

Roads linking London with the channel ports of Dover and Folkestone were impassable Sunday. Snowplows worked all night at London Airport to keep one runway clear.

The blizzards also swept across Ireland, immobilizing road traffic and closing Dublin airport.

Thaw Expected In Europe In Bad Blizzard

LONDON (AP)—Prospects of a thaw in southern England brought hope of relief today after a week-end of the worst blizzards in memory.

The big freeze spread over much of continental Europe. Rising temperatures in Austria and France brought the danger of avalanches around the crowded ski centers.

Senate Probers To Look Into Illicit Drug Traffic

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators are reported assembling evidence for a massive examination of the illicit drug traffic touching "more or less every major city in the United States."

The Senate Investigations subcommittee has worked with Interpol, the international police agency, and various foreign governments in preparing for the investigation.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark, plans an early meeting of the subcommittee to request an official go-ahead for the start of hearings, and to chart a tentative schedule for other major investigations in the works.

One of these, still in preliminary stages, will deal with gambling on college and professional sports events and alleged efforts by gamblers to corrupt athletes.

Jerome Adlerman, subcommittee counsel, told reporters the drug hearings would explore the adequacy of existing law to deal with the traffic in narcotic drugs.

"It will touch, more or less, every major city in the United States," he said.

McClellan and Adlerman said the inquiry would be a major effort to chart the flow of narcotics from sources in Asia, Europe and Latin America to the United States.

Little has been learned of the subcommittee's investigations of gambling on sports, a field that it has explored previously. It is known, however, that the subcommittee has used its authority to sift through the income tax returns of gamblers and others.

The subcommittee also has two other investigations in preliminary stages. In one of these Adler-man's staff is checking into the Pentagon's handling of the award of a contract for the design and development of the new Air Force Navy TFX fighter plane.

McClellan has announced only that his staff was looking into reports of inefficiency in handling the award.

The contract went to the General Dynamics Corp., of San Diego, with Grumman Aircraft Co. as its associate, over the rival bids of several other firms.

McClellan also has announced a preliminary investigation of the dock workers strike at Eastern and Gulf Coast ports.

Girl Rates High In Barrel Racing

DALLAS (AP)—Sherry Combs of Checotah, Okla., turned in a time of 17.7 seconds—the best to date—in Saturday's matinee performance of the National Finals Girls' Rodeo Association barrel racing.

Leon McCoy of Paden, Okla., led the steer wrestlers with a time of 6.3 seconds in the Cotton Bowl rodeo.

Don Mayo of Grinnell, Iowa, was first in bareback bronc riding and Dennis Reiners of Clara City, Minn., led the saddle bronc riders.

Jim Bob Altizer of Del Rio paced the calf ropers with a time of 12.4 seconds while Bill Cornell of Palm Springs, Calif., was first in Brahma bull riding.

Six riders managed to stay on Brahma bulls for the required 8 seconds in the afternoon performance. During the first two nights, all but one were thrown before the time limit.

Heller Indicates Tax Cut Plan To Exceed $4 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter Heller, chairman of President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers, has indicated the tax cut the administration will request of the new Congress will total more than $4 billion.

"What is required is not a small cut of $1 billion or $2 billion, but a substantial cut. A $3 billion or $4 billion cut won't do the job," Heller said in an interview Sunday on ABC-TV's "Issues and Answers."

Heller described the still-unbared administration tax plan as a big balanced program. "Included, he said, will be a large reduction in the lower brackets, a cut in tax rates above 65 per cent, more incentive for investment and a reduction in corporate rates."

Opponents of tax reduction have argued that lower levies would balloon the federal deficit. On this point Heller said the choice was further deficits with a weak economy or tax reduction with some temporary deficits and a growing, expanding economy.

"For 5½ years this economy has been operating below, considerably below its potential," he said. "The tax system keeps pulling out of the economy too large a total amount to permit the products of industry and agriculture to be sold at full employment levels."

Heller said the economy was capable of producing $30 billion to $40 billion more in goods and services without strain. This, plus full employment, would produce some $5 billion more in taxes, he said.

The state of the nation's economy was the subject also of a year-end statement Saturday by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

Economic activity has achieved record levels, he said, and the economy is basically sound. But, he added, the rate of forward movement in recent months was slowing down.

The pace of progress next year will be slower than in 1962, Hodges said, "and at a level well below full employment of the nation's economic resources."

A tax cut is imperative, Hodges said, to expand consumer buying power still further and to increase the incentive for business to invest in new and more modern plant and equipment, and in inventories.

A Devotional For The Day

Judas saith unto him, not Iscariot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world? (John 14:22.)

PRAYER: Our Father, as the storms of life sweep over our souls, help us to listen to Thee speaking to us. Strengthen our faith, and by Thy Word grant us reassurance and hope. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Complete The Job

The Texas Legislature will be asked to concur in the Padre Island National Seashore Act which sets aside 80.5 miles of the island as a recreational area. After long consideration, Congress passed the act last session and it was signed by the President. Now, to be effective, the state must concur in the transfer of about 100,000 acres of the state's submerged lands to the federal government. However, the federal act specifically reserves to the State of Texas and to private owners all oil, gas and sulphur rights, together with the rights of exploration and development of these reserves. What is involved here is the right to preserve for generations to come one of the last great stretches of unspoiled seashore in the country.

This is not, as we have pointed out before, a project just for the benefit of the Corpus Bay area. It is something that will benefit all Texans whether they actually take advantage of the preserve by visiting it in the years ahead.

Padre Island is certain to become an increasingly popular tourist attraction. It will draw from all over the nation, and from any direction visitors will travel almost all the way across Texas. That means gasoline taxes, it means money spent for food, lodging and other services and goods. Moreover, those who cross Texas to spend pleasant times on the island will be exposed to the other attractions and advantages of the state. Hence, we hope that the legislature will clear the way promptly for development and exploitation of this park resource.

But It Won't Work

The appeal to all Latin America for complete disarmament, issued jointly by Mexican President Lopez Mateos and Chilean President Alessandri, must be viewed as an idealistic hope rather than a practical policy for immediate consideration.

They are not alone, of course, in their wish that the arms burden could be laid down to turn national resources to the economic and social betterment of their peoples. That is the universal desire in the free world, and no doubt of the mass of the peoples in the Communist bloc. But unilateral disarmament would be suicidal for any major power, and for any region such as Latin America, so long as Communist aggression is a threat.

Disarmament is a special problem in Latin America, which could not defend itself alone against a major-power aggression but which is vulnerable to forceful subversion unless an effective military establishment is maintained. It is a special problem there too because the Latin American military is a political force which would not allow itself to be rendered impotent without a struggle which in a number of the countries would mean civil war.

No doubt much U. S. arms aid has been wasted on the Latin American military bureaucracy, which is also often viewed critically as an obstacle to democratic development. But the hard, harsh fact is that no Latin American nation today could risk the effect of complete disarmament on internal order. And it is safe to predict that neither Chile nor Mexico will attempt it.

The Less Apparent Struggle

EN ROUTE — Sen. Allen Ellender, who scandalized a couple of continents by telling the unfashionable truth about the inability of Africa to be developed by black Africans, was a jump or two ahead of me on this trip, but I caught the back-blast of his candor.

In one radio interview, I responded to a what-do-you-think question by saying that plain-speaking on Africa was more important than diplomatic evasion. In another interview, I opined that the senator was only saying, in his own way, what might have been said inoffensively in a different way: that it will take both races, working together, to develop Africa.

BEYOND THESE TRUISMS, I think there is a little-reckoned fact, more nationalist than racist, and perhaps more open-sesame to the future of Africa. In all the places I visited, the stress and tension between European ideas of government were almost as strong and maybe more significant than the clash of coloration.

South Africa is still fighting the Anglo-Boer war. The Boers of Prime Minister Verwoerd today hold the top hand over the British, who defeated them at the beginning of the century. The Afrikaner language predominates in this bilingual nation. Afrikaner bossism shapes national politics and Afrikaner resentment of a long-ago defeat is a reason hardly less than apartheid for Verwoerd's willingness to take South Africa out of the British Commonwealth.

THE ANGRY OLD Brits sometimes fall back upon the conspiratorial theory to explain the mastery of the detested Boers. They say there was a secret Bund, established before World War I, dedicated to reversing the verdict of the Anglo-Boer war and to subverting British rule and culture. I have been told in hoarse whispers that the Bund, a close cousin to Nazism, really rules South Africa, and that a Gestapo will get you if you talk aloud against the government. When I would point out that the English-language press excoriates the government every day, that the English-dominated party of Sir de Villiers de Graff operates a pugnacious opposition in Parliament, the theoreticians of conspiracy could only look mysterious and crestfallen.

EUROPEAN RELIGIONS, which have caused almost as many wars as politics, are another aspect of non-racial differences. A black African leader told an Irishman, who told me, that the apartheid could be extinguished in South Africa by snipping out a few pages in the Bible.

NEW CHAIRMAN FACES TOUGH BOARD

Jerry Pillard

A Different Legislature

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas House of Representatives meeting Jan. 8 will be different in many ways.

One major change will be in the appearance since $50,000 in remodeling work was done on the House chamber, including a golden colored carpet.

Another will be a more conservative House. Rep. Byron Tunnell claims pledges from 125 members. Only 76 are needed to be named speaker. Tunnell is a conservative from Tyler and supported Gov. elect John Connally.

FOR THE first time, House members will have private offices—all except 60 freshmen members. Tunnell is asking that members conduct their dictation to secretaries in the offices, instead of in the House chamber.

Not Dead Yet

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Retirement is no death sentence. A man who quits work at 65 can expect to live to be 79.5 years old.

Almost 53 per cent of America's individual stockholders are women—but they hold fewer actual shares than men do.

Water doesn't look crowded but it is. Each drop contains about six sextillion atoms.

It is estimated that Americans bought more than 1.5 billion presents this Christmas. Some 41 per cent of the average family's gifts are purchased during the Christmas season.

There is some truth in the remark of old-timers that "We don't have winters like we used to." Scientists say the climate gradually is growing warmer.

"A loving wife will do anything for her husband except stop criticizing and trying to improve him"—J. B. Priestley.

Tokyo now has five English-language newspapers.

The dying words of George Washington were, "It is well."

James Madison said, "I always talk better lying down." U. S. Grant cried, "Water." Grover Cleveland said "I have tried so hard to do right." And Woodrow Wilson said to his wife, "Edith, I'm a broken machine, but I'm ready."

Three per cent of the nation's population moves from one state to another each year.

Some comets have no tails, while others have tails up to 150 million miles long.

It takes persistence to be an author. Marcel Proust had to print "Swann's Way" at his own expense. William Faulkner's book "Sound and Fury" was turned down by 13 publishers. It took Theodore Dreiser and Erskine Caldwell seven years to get their first novels published.

Of 300,000 known vegetables, only about 20 are widely used as human food.

The longest-lived birds, except for turtles and parrots, are Canada geese. In captivity they have reached the age of 70.

Vampire bats can run on the ground as fast as a rat.

It was Wilson Mizner who observed, "I respect faith, but doubt is what gets you an education."

will not be a party to helping boost the Republican Party."

ANOTHER possible change would be a new set of rules adopted at the close of the last Legislature. The rules change cuts the number of standing committees in the House from 45 to 25 and allows seniority to be a factor in committee selection. The House has never worked under these rules, and indications from members working closely with Tunnell are that the House will revert back to the old rules with 43 committees and the speaker determining the entire composition of a committee by appointment.

A welcome change to legislators will be a state treasury which is expected to be about even by Aug. 31, the end of the current fiscal year.

THREE past legislatures have had deficits starting at them—what means tax bills to be enacted if spending is to stay the same or increase.

Tunnell, and other House members, are hoping that the sales tax will bring in enough money to take care of growing spending needs without enacting any more taxes.

Tunnell says "There is some slight possibility" of enacting no new taxes.

Several recommendations to the Commission on State and Local Tax Policy will be introduced. The major items will be raising the tax on auto sales from 15 to 2 per cent. The other is the elimination of an exemption given to outer clothing costing less than $10 and sales of farm machinery.

OTHER hot house issues include revising election laws, regulating loan sharks and assorted other legislation that representatives have attempted to pass in other sessions.

Driving In A Fog

CHICAGO (AP) — Early-rising motorists often find they must drive through fog before the sun rises very high.

The Chicago Motor Club advises motorists to reduce speed in fog as visibility is reduced. To help ease the situation, use headlights—not parking lights—in the fog.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it possible for cigarettes to cause muscular cramps and soreness? I have arthritis of the neck but the symptoms stop when I quit smoking and begin again if I resume. — L. B.

Yes, smoking can produce odd symptoms in certain individuals. Nicotine also has quite an effect on the blood vessels. Your observation makes sense.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of the leaflet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner uses readers' letters in his column whenever possible.

Some Observations To Ponder

Utterable utterances:

Writer C. E. MONTAGUE:

"All dullness is in the mind; it comes out of the mind and diffuses itself over everything around the dull person, and then he terms everything dull, and thinks himself the victim of the impact of dull things. In stupid rich people, in boys and girls deadeningly taught—at dead-alive schools, in all disappointed weaklings, and in declining nations, this loss of power to shed anything but dullness upon what one sees and hears is common enough."

Postmaster General J. EDWARD DAY: "Too many people think they have the God-given right to dump any old thing into the mail. They use the mails as a sewer rather than our most important artery of commerce."

Senator BARRY GOLDWATER: "I discern no political philosophy in George Romney (governor-elect of Michigan)—and I think one Eisenhower in a decade is enough."

MACK MCGINNIS, writing in Comedy and Comment:

"Jean Folden has revealed the secret of keeping young mentally through life. She says it is simple. Just don't ever try to learn anything new after age 21."

DR. FRANCIS BOWER, New York school psychiatrist:

"We tell the child to respect authority while we disparage our public officials."

We tell him to obey the law while we attempt to bribe a policeman or fix a ticket. We tell him to be decent and honest and, above all, upright—while 'we cheat on our income tax."

SYDNEY J. HARRIS, columnist: "Misfortune, at first, makes our friends sorry for us—but if it continues, it makes them impatient with us, and finally fearful lest the 'disease' be catching."

MALCOLM MUGGERIDGE, British writer:

"The cold war? I think it's running neck and neck. Everywhere the Russians go, they make more anti-Communists; every where the Americans go, they make more Communists."

THOMAS M. STORKE, editor and publisher of the Santa Barbara News-Press: "The greatest sin of American newspapers is refusing to take a stand on hot issues. It is a sin of omission rather than commission. Whatever position newspapers choose to take on an issue, they must speak out if they are to continue to defend the protection of the First Amendment to the Constitution. The greatest threat to freedom of the press lies within ourselves—the press. We are truly the custodians. From the clash of ideas and opinions on an issue, human decency and democratic principles would prevail. From silence and evasion we can expect only public confusion and apathy."

Big Achievement Of 1962

A great many high-minded surveys of 1962 and prognostications for 1963 have already been committed to paper—all kinds of roundups, wrapups, rundowns and weighty peerings into the veiled future.

To me the greatest—the most far-out—achievement of 1962 is that man and his world survived: that each is still in one piece. If we do as well in 1963, I am prone to let well enough alone and not ask too many carping questions.

IN THE NEW YEAR I shall not beseech that the Dodgers win the pennant, or that the stock market make Morgans of us all, or even that bifocals still pass me by but only that man again survives, with the world he knows, intact.

I rejoice this day not in great fortune but in the fact that at the end of 1962 I am alive, kicking vigorously and ready to face up to 1963, which will doubtless be more of the same.

Someone should say a good word for 20th Century man and his staying power, so here goes: He has learned to live with an assortment of shocks and threats more varied and horrendous than any experienced by his ancestors. By and large, under an almost-constant threat of annihilation since World War II, he has managed to live with grace under great pressures.

TO HIS GREAT CREDIT, a credit that deserves both admiration and congratulation, he has lived as if each day were not the last but as if the sun would certainly rise on the morrow as it has for less nerve-racking eons, that alone is a triumph of the human spirit, and a tribute to man's durability.

This nation lived through the Cuban crisis without once faltering, much less panicking. And if anyone wrung his hands, he had the courtesy to do it in private. In the nation's capital, during the Cuban dust-up, our leaders advanced from brink-manship to blinkmanship, with Secretary of State Dean Rusk quoted as saying—vis-a-vis the U.S.-S.S.R. zero hour—"We're eyeball to eyeball and I think the other fellow just blinked."

EVEN SO, that wonderful creature, the man in the street (which included the woman in the home and the child in school), never faltered or—to use official terminology—blinked, or ran screaming to a back-yard shelter. In time of acute crisis, men, women and children went about their daily chores with a calm that deserves the word magnificent.

None of us could know when or if we would be in the midst of a nuclear holocaust. But the 20th Century has so tempered us to crisis that the nation took in admirable stride a profoundly dangerous clash of powers.

DOUBTLESS one of the biggest factors in the nation's calm acceptance of blinkmanship was pride, and great pride, in the fact that at long last we flexed our muscles—we tasted and tested our own power and found it not only completely adequate to the situation but exhilarating.

To a nation frustrated for years by the cold war tactics of the enemy, it was as blamable in Gilead to be part of a situation in which the Communists, at long last, were forced to react to our initiative. We have been reacting so long to the crude power tactics and the facile propaganda feasts of communism that it was great—just great—to be on the giving instead of the receiving end—to halt it out, to pour it on, to go on the initiative!

IN ONE WOMAN'S OPINION, we say farewell to 1962 with pride in what we lived through and what we accomplished as a people, and, having survived the crisis, look forward to 1963 with a good bit more confidence than has greeted other new years in the recent past. Certainly, we greet the new year unblinkingly.

Failure To Deduct Is A Donation

WASHINGTON — The U. S. Treasury may rue the day it ever mentioned the idea of keeping an "expense-account diary."

For, judging by the talk that's being heard nowadays, the treasury may actually lose hundreds of millions of dollars of revenue that it has been collecting heretofore, because the taxpayer now will avail himself of every tax deduction to which he is entitled.

The revenue derived from the carelessness of the citizen in failing to claim legally specified deductions is probably far larger than the amounts that have been lost annually to the treasury by improper expense-account claims.

Thus, government officials said this week that the treasury is hoping to collect only about $100 million a year more in revenue than before by being strict on expense accounts. But if the citizens start claiming every legal deduction and start keeping records of the amounts they pay out in sales taxes alone, it could cost the treasury many millions of dollars.

SOME IDEA of the huge amounts involved can be inferred from the fact that, in 1960, the states collected $18 billion and the counties and cities $18.1 billion in taxes of all kinds. This totals $36.1 billion in taxes which are generally deductible on federal tax returns. Yet all the deductions claimed by individuals for these taxes added up to only $10.5 billion.

Now, there are no comparable figures as to what corporations or businesses claimed as deductions just for state and local tax payments, but their deductions for all taxes, including some federal and foreign taxes, added up to $19.2 billion in 1960. The discrepancy, it would seem, could therefore amount to several billions of dollars which could be legally deducted by both individuals and businesses.

IT ALSO SEEMS probable that, while businesses are claiming deductions for sales taxes, individuals are not. Many taxpayers are not aware that they have a right to deduct on their federal income taxes every penny of state or local sales tax that they pay at the stores in their communities. They are unaware also of the fact that state income taxes, real-estate taxes, state taxes on gasoline and cigarettes, automobile licenses, municipal utility taxes, and a number of other taxes are deductible.

SIMILARLY in the field of medical and dental expenses and interest on installment loans and other debts, the public seems unaware that tax deductions are permissible. It is not generally realized, either, that donations to all charitable and religious organizations—including what is put in the collection plate in church on Sunday—may be deducted in figuring the federal income tax. Few people know that losses due to theft or accident and any accidental damage to property—such as damage caused by storms, floods or freezes—are deductible items for the taxpayer to the extent that they are not covered entirely by insurance.

Many citizens do a good job of itemizing their deductions, but some persons take the easy way of lumping everything in a "standard deduction" just because they don't want to take the trouble to make itemized returns.

THERE IS A TREND, however, toward itemization on income-tax returns. In 1960, approximately 46 per cent of the taxpayers listed their deductions, whereas in 1950 only 23 per cent did.

With the treasury publicizing the idea of an expense-account diary to be kept in one's pocket, however, there will be a handy way every moment of the day to keep a record of legitimate expenses that are deductible on federal income taxes.

Maybe when all the tax deductions are added up, the treasury will wish it had never made such a fuss about expense accounts and had centered its attention instead on ferreting out those who were really cheating.

Citizens who do not keep track of deductible expenses are, in effect, donating big sums to the federal government.

Alarming Mistake

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — When fire engines answered an alarm in downtown Tucson, Arizona Daily Star staffers Ted Craig and Charles Burkhardt offered a quick explanation for the false call.

They had seen a young woman, letters in hand, reach up and pull the alarm, thinking that would allow her to deposit the letters in what she thought was a mail box.

'Good Business' Seen For State

AUSTIN (AP)—"Good business as usual" is the watchword in Texas for 1963, the Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

"It appears that 1963 will be a year of good business. Fears of a recession have subsided for lack of negative factors in the outlook. On the other hand, there is no expectation of a boom," said the University of Texas agency.

The 1963 outlook was based on business figures gathered by the bureau for 11 months of 1962.

November business activity in Texas was 2 per cent above the previous month and 5 per cent over November of last year. This was the second consecutive advance after business activity took a sharp drop in September.

For 11 months, the bureau's figures on business activity increased 10.1 per cent over 1961.

Most phases of Texas business increased, but railroad business was an exception. Freight carloadings rose 4 per cent in November but averaged 16.6 per cent below 1961.

"Other transportation media have made heavy inroads into railroad carriage of the manufactured products," the agency said.

During the 11 months, oil production increased 0.3 per cent. Crude oil runs averaged 5.3 per cent above 1961.

"This increase in refinery runs at a time when crude production was virtually unchanged was possible because a certain amount of oil produced in neighboring states finds its way to Gulf coast refineries," the report said.

"This is a natural feature of interstate trade and of the oil business. Much of the refining capacity of the nation is located on the Texas Gulf Coast, supply jobs for thousands of Texas refinery employees."

Residential building permits averaged 11.6 per cent above 1961. Non-residential permits were up 7 per cent.

Furious Weather Hits Eastern U. S.

By The Associated Press

Winter unleashed its fury on the Eastern section of the nation in the last hours of the year.

Below-zero temperatures were reported today in many spots.

High velocity winds tore down power lines, may have swept a youth off a ferryboat to apparent death, and overturned a motorboat whose operator drowned.

The powerful gusts also ripped off a movie house roof, toppled a huge construction crane and literally blew a river from its bed, stranding numerous boats.

The wintry blast also brought fresh accumulations of snow in some places.

Bangor, Maine, had at least 21 inches of new snow on top of the 15 inches previously fallen. Howling winds piled up drifts as high as 20 feet. The state's third largest city, population 50,000, was "just about paralyzed," according to one newsman.

The Bangor Daily News failed to publish its morning paper today, for the first time since 1899.

The Maine blizzard, termed the worst in a decade, also forced closing of Bangor movie houses for the first time in memory and stranded some 2,000 persons in buses and cars throughout the state.

Maine's Gov. John H. Reed appealed to citizens to take in the refugees.

The 4,500 persons in Lincoln, Maine, some 40 miles north of Bangor, were reported isolated with no power and all roads blocked.

Maryland recorded three deaths in sledding accidents—a boy and a girl whose sleds were struck by cars and a boy whose sled careened into a tree.

Six Boy Scouts were trapped several hours in a car stuck in a snow drift in Washington County, Pa., before highway crews freed them.

The New York Central and New Haven, railroads said the severe cold knocked out signal systems at many points along their main lines in the Northeast. Trains were delayed up to three hours.

New York City experienced 4-degree temperatures today, equaling the year's lowest reading.

The mercury fell below zero elsewhere, including low readings Sunday night of -11 at Massena, N.Y.; -13 at Montpelier, Vt.; -4 at Hartford, Conn.; -6 at Worcester, Mass.; and -20 at the Adirondack Mountain communities of Old Forge, Boonville and Big Moose in upstate New York, and -38 atop Mt. Washington in New Hampshire's White Mountains.

Gusts reached 80 m.p.h. in Newark, N.J., and an estimated 70 m.p.h. at Riverhead, N.Y., where the Peconic River was blown out into Great Peconic Bay on the north shore of Long Island. Boats were left stranded in very low water over a stretch of two miles or more.

A passenger on the Staten Island ferry in New York City reported seeing a teenage boy swept overboard by the fierce winds. A search of the harbor did not immediately produce a body.

A man drowned when winds capsized his motorboat off Oyster Bay, N.Y., on Long Island's north shore.

In New York City, N.Y., a movie house roof went flying, and the same happened to the roof of a Brooklyn, Conn., shopping center. No one was hurt in either case.

In New York City, a 150-foot construction crane toppled on its side. No one was injured.

Six persons were injured when a bus on the New York State Thruway was caught by a gust of wind and crashed into a culvert.

Twelve miles of highway between Conway and Chocoma, N.H., were strewn with fallen utility poles and trees. State police, working in from both ends of the blocked area, brought out some stranded motorists.

A Belgium Mauser rifle, valued at $50, was taken from a car owned by Curtis Durham, 611 Goliad, on the night of Dec. 21. Durham said he missed the rifle when he arrived in Amarillo to visit his parents.

Six athletic greats enter the Texas Sports Hall of Fame today, bringing to 37 the number who have received the organization's accolade.

Gerald Mann, former football star of Southern Methodist; Dr. D. A. Penick, builder of great tennis teams at Texas; Cecil Grigg, whose feats as football player and coach have spanned a half-century; and Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist's mighty runner of the late 1940s and early 1950s and star of pro football, will be presented plaques by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

The late David (Skippy) Browning, only Texan ever to win Olympic diving, and the late John J. McCloskey, founder of the Texas League, will receive posthumous awards.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Eddie, gangling and awkward as any 17-year-old, shuffled up to the door of the Vista Del Mar welfare agency in west Los Angeles.

A few months before, Eddie had joined one of the most neglected—mostly by their own choice—groups of men in the nation: unwed fathers.

"The unwed father is the forgotten man," says Ruben Pannor, social worker at Vista Del Mar and the man Eddie was coming to see.

Pannor's pioneer program to ferret them out is gaining national attention from big city welfare agencies.

"Unwed mothers have the immediate problem," Pannor admits.

"But the boys and men involved are just as confused and emotionally disturbed as the girls."

For the last five years, Pannor has been interviewing and trying to guide unwed fathers. They've ranged in age from 14 to 35, and included teen-agers, bachelors and married men.

Denver Man Dies

By The Associated Press

Morris C. Minton, 46, of Denver, Colo., was killed in a two-car collision Sunday one mile north of the West Texas town of Hereford.

ark, N.J., and an estimated 70 m.p.h. at Riverhead, N.Y., where the Peconic River was blown out into Great Peconic Bay on the north shore of Long Island. Boats were left stranded in very low water over a stretch of two miles or more.

A passenger on the Staten Island ferry in New York City reported seeing a teenage boy swept overboard by the fierce winds. A search of the harbor did not immediately produce a body.

A man drowned when winds capsized his motorboat off Oyster Bay, N.Y., on Long Island's north shore.

In New York City, N.Y., a movie house roof went flying, and the same happened to the roof of a Brooklyn, Conn., shopping center. No one was hurt in either case.

In New York City, a 150-foot construction crane toppled on its side. No one was injured.

Six persons were injured when a bus on the New York State Thruway was caught by a gust of wind and crashed into a culvert.

Twelve miles of highway between Conway and Chocoma, N.H., were strewn with fallen utility poles and trees. State police, working in from both ends of the blocked area, brought out some stranded motorists.

A Belgium Mauser rifle, valued at $50, was taken from a car owned by Curtis Durham, 611 Goliad, on the night of Dec. 21. Durham said he missed the rifle when he arrived in Amarillo to visit his parents.

Six athletic greats enter the Texas Sports Hall of Fame today, bringing to 37 the number who have received the organization's accolade.

Gerald Mann, former football star of Southern Methodist; Dr. D. A. Penick, builder of great tennis teams at Texas; Cecil Grigg, whose feats as football player and coach have spanned a half-century; and Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist's mighty runner of the late 1940s and early 1950s and star of pro football, will be presented plaques by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

County Audit Received, Several Suggestions

Final official business of the Howard County Commissioners Court for 1962 was the acceptance of an audit of county affairs and finances for a period ending just one year earlier—Dec. 31, 1961.

R. Clyde Hollingsworth, certified public accountant, employed by the county to make the audit, submitted his report to the commissioners.

In the report, Hollingsworth made a number of recommendations—mostly dealing with the needs for better and more flexible controls so that the status of all existing accounts and funds could be more readily dealt with.

NO DISCREPANCIES

No major discrepancies were reported, the auditor told the commissioner, but he did find what appeared to be laxities in the manner of record keeping in some offices and he urged that steps be taken to correct these conditions.

Included in his recommendations was a proposal dealing with the handling of court cost deposits in the office of the district clerk. However, Lee Porter, county auditor, and Wade Choate, district court clerk, informed the auditor commissioners that a revising of methods had been put in effect this year which in general copes with the problem the report cited.

The auditor also suggested somewhat similar methods be adopted in the office of the county clerk in county court cost deposits.

The auditor reported that the records of justice of the peace Precinct 1, Phase No. 1, (Walter Grice) showed that a discrepancy revealed in 1960 had been corrected in accounts and that "it appeared that the balance in the court cost bank account may have been adequate to cover open items in the court docket at Dec. 31, 1961." The auditor reported that extensive checking failed to clarify all phases of the office operations and that some of the records appeared to be incomplete and missing.

NO MIS-USE

"We found no evidence," said the auditor's report, "of misappropriation and we do not suggest or imply there was any misuse of funds. We recommend strongly, however, for the officer's own protection as well as the county's that much more attention be given to complete and accurate record keeping."

It was also pointed out that this office handled the bulk of all justice of the court civil cases filed in the year and that this made the record keeping in this office more difficult. The auditor urged that a division of such suits be made between the two offices of justice of peace. This, he said, would facilitate handling the cases and expedite their disposition.

The sheriff's office, the auditor reported, has three bank accounts—an operation account, travel account and civil paper account. The auditor recommended that the operating account be eliminated and that all expenses of the office be paid through the county auditor. The audit also recommended that more time be devoted to the other two accounts with special regard to the civil papers account.

CONSOLIDATE

The civil papers account contained $197 at Dec. 31, 1961, which represented small fees collected during 1959, 1960 and 1961, that had not been reported and paid to the county treasurer although cash was available to cover them. Proper maintenance of the foreign docket, effective control over fees billed but not received, and regular reconciling of bank accounts and accountability, will relieve the difficulty," the report stated.

Otherwise, the auditor had no major recommendations to offer. The accounts of the several of files were in good shape and the records adequate.

The cost of this audit was $2,912 and Hollingsworth presented his bill. Joe Hayden moved it be paid, the motion was seconded by L. J. Davidson.

The meeting was the last for Ralph White, who is to be replaced by Ray Nichols Tuesday. Ed Carpenter, county judge, also leaves the board effective today to become a county legislator. Lee Porter becomes county judge Tuesday.

MRS. KENNETH CRAIG JOHNSON

Miss Shirley Bride Of Kenneth C. Johnson

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Sonya Jo Shirley and Kenneth Craig Johnson in a ceremony performed at the First Baptist Church, Midland, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Dr. L. L. Morris, pastor, officiated in the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Garland Fort, Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Johnson, 210 Circle Dr., are parents of the bridegroom.

Centering the altar scene was an arrangement of calla lilies and mums, around which, in a semi-circular pattern, were placed candelabra and tapers.

Miss Mary Pat Speed, organist, presented a program of wedding music which included "Whither Thou Goest."

Given in marriage by her brother, Eddie Shirley, the bride wore an informal gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta. It was fashioned with a scalloped sabrina neckline, detailed with pearls, long sleeves tapered to petal points over her hands, and a street length skirt. Skirt fullness was emphasized with unpressed pleats. A cluster of fabric roses accented the back. A crown of pearls secured her veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and stock blossoms.

Miss Donna Gale Mogle, Midland, was maid of honor. Her gown,

E. C. Vines Honored At A Dinner

Each year, on the Sunday following Christmas, a dinner is held for E. C. Vines of Comanche, with his children, grandchildren and their families in attendance. This year the dinner was held for Mr. Vines, 87, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Truitt Vines, Hilltop Road. All except two of his children were present.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Cagle attended from Comanche; W. C. Vines, from Albany; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Vines and Mrs. Lola Hutcherson, Abilene; and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Vines and daughter, Vicky, of Hempstead. Grandchildren and families present were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hill of Lubbock; Mrs. B. F. Yates of Dalhart and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dobbs of Big Spring.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

A pre-nuptial event was the tea held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lonnie Coker, 612 Highland Drive. The honoree was Miss Sharron Creighton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Creighton, whose marriage to Sam G. Terry is scheduled for Jan. 26 at the First Baptist Church.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Ralph Proctor, Mrs. Dwain Leonard, Mrs. Leonard Coker, Mrs. Buel Fox, Mrs. Bledsoe O'Brien, Mrs. R. B. Reeder, Mrs. J. O. Hagood, Mrs. E. A. Turner, Mrs. W. B.

Younger, Mrs. J. D. Jones and Mrs. Jack Y. Smith.

Approximately 100 guests called and were served from a silver appointed tea table, spread with white cutwork linens. The centerpiece was an arrangement of roses and carnations in the bride-elect's chosen colors, white and silver rose.

Mrs. Lonnie Coker, Mrs. Creighton and the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. Chester Cathey, formed the receiving line.

Miss Gloria Coker and Mrs. Louis McKnight of Perry, Okla., were members of the houseparty.

Have Your Notes Of Thanks Been Sent?

By VIVIAN BROWN

Friendships have flowered and been broken by letters, but a great omission is the letter that is never sent. Even the good friend who insists "It was silly of you to write that thank-you note," is secretly pleased that you did.

"The thank-you letter should have a spirit of friendliness, love, fondness, affection," advises Susan Nichols Pulsifer of Brunswick, Maine.

She first introduced at Bryn Mawr College the idea of teaching composition through the personal letter. And in her book, "Creative Writing Through Letters," she illustrates that even high school students can become good in the art of writing a letter. Many letters used in the book were written by students of Oak Grove School in Maine, and the book has been the subject of college discussion panels.

"The high school age is the most social, when young people want to make friends and get in touch with friends. It is important to know how to write a letter," she says, pointing out that as one of her students said, "When one writes a letter he writes for a distinct person... we forget ourselves and the bashful and hesitant ways we have while speaking."

WEDDING TRIP

Leaving on their wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride chose a three-piece knit suit, featuring leather trim on the jacket. Black accessories complemented the costume.

The Johnsons will return to make their home in Lubbock, where both are students in Texas Tech.

The bride is a graduate of Midland High School, where she was a member of the National Honor Society. She is majoring in home economics at Texas Tech. A graduate of Big Spring High School, Johnson is a marketing major at Tech, and is social chairman of Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS

Those attending the wedding from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Shirley of Tecumseh, Okla., the bride's grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wakefield, Lubbock; and the bridegroom's parents.

valued to write letters when they are hopelessly in love, sick or discouraged," she says. But that is the time to write but file your letter in Time, a safe place in a desk or other hiding place, "exhuming it in a week, month, a year," she says.

Favorite writers, poets, actresses offer revealing personal letters worth reading — Elizabeth and Robert Browning, Dickens, Ben Franklin, Keats, Thackeray, Ellen Terry and Bernard Shaw.

If you have doubts about letter writing, practice may reveal real talent, as Mrs. Pulsifer's students illustrated. Letters in her book are to and from just about anything—a coat writing to a lake; a Picasso painting writing to a Mona Lisa; an alley cat to a Persian kitten; from Brooklyn to Maine. Students also stepped into the pages of history, writing as if they were Cleopatra, Caesar, Cyrano de Bergerac, Roxanne.

SAY THANKS AT LEAST

Young people who claim they cannot write a good letter, could practice writing to imaginary people, trees, snow, a pet alligator or hamster. They could be surprised at the words they release with their pens.

Sometimes or other, you're likely to receive a gift that leaves you speechless. What should I say? How can I say it? Are the thoughts that run through our minds for hours, days. Though the heart is full, in the end there could be that same old block to writing—the lack of confidence—so that we cannot say more either in person or on paper than "thanks."

Reception Held

The Webb AFB commander's annual reception was held Sunday afternoon by Col. and Mrs. Wilson Banks. Officers and civilian guests, numbering some 600, were received during the hours from 2 until 4:30 o'clock. Shown with Col. and Mrs. Banks are Dr. Carl Marcum, newly elected president of the Chamber of Commerce, left, and Mrs. Marcum, right. In the Ivy Room, Webb Officers' Club, the receiving line was formed by Col. and Mrs. Banks and Col. and Mrs. Rex D. Fryer, deputy commander and his wife, with group commanders taking their places in the line as their individual groups were received.

Duplicate Winners Are Named

Nine tables were in play for the regular duplicate session, Sunday afternoon, at Cosden Country Club.

Placing in north-south position were Mrs. Jack Irons and Mrs. Truman Jones, first; Mrs. Elvis McCrary and Mrs. Riley Foster, second; Mrs. Wallace Slate and Mrs. Robert Dyer, third; Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. Anne Hardy, fourth.

East-west places were won by Mrs. Doug Orme and Mrs. Roy Worley, first; Mrs. J. D. Robertson and Mrs. J. H. Holloway, second; Mrs. Ayra McGann and Mrs. Bert Wall and Mrs. R. E. Dobbins and Mrs. Ward Hall, tied for third and fourth.

Coats Cuddly

Children's coats, traditionally in wools, are coming out this spring in shaggy cottons and synthetics, soft to touch and as cuddly as teddy bears, or crisp and linen-like.

To Store Raisins

When you open a package of raisins and use only part, turn the rest of the fruit into a jar, cover tightly and refrigerate. Do the same thing with currants.

DATE BOOK

The 1963 Hyperion Club will meet at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Elmo Wasson, 508 Edwards Blvd.

As the tired Old Year bows out and the bouncing New Year bounds buoyantly in... the time is ripe for us to wish you and yours all the best things of life in 1963... good health, great love, high happiness.

Gibson-Cooper Vows Said At Brownfield

LAMESA (SC) — The Calvary Baptist Church in Brownfield was the scene Saturday at 8 p.m. for the wedding of Miss Virginia Lee Cooper and Jerry Wayne Gibson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cooper of Welch and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Gibson of Welch.

The double ring ceremony was read by Van Worten. The altar was banked with four baskets of gold chrysanthemums and palm trees, flanked by red candles. Mrs. Roy Jones of Midland presented vocal solos.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of candlelight silk peau de soie designed with princess lines, a low portrait neckline and long tapered sleeves ending in petal points over the hands.

A panel of re-embroidered Alencon lace, cascading down the front of the dress, was accented by small covered buttons. Fullness in the back was emphasized by unpressed pleats and the skirt extended into a chapel train.

Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of bronze pompon mums accented with bronze Fuji mums atop a white Bible.

The maid of honor was Miss Barbara Kirschner of Brownfield, and Ned Harp of Welch was best man.

For traveling the bride wore a three piece green wool suit, a brown mink hat and brown lizard shoes and bag. The couple will be at home in Seminole after Jan. 3. The bride has been employed by Goodpasture Grain Company in Welch. The bridegroom is engaged in farming.
