FATES WORK IN HOSPITAL

Chose One Of Her Own Name

(The names in this story have been changed on request of the persons involved.)

By JOE BEYER

Jayne Thompson is a mental patient.

Most of her life has been spent in the wandering and drifting of the untreated schizophrenic. She left behind her a trail of heart-break and heartaches.

Now in her late fifties, Jayne is confined to a ward at the Big Spring State Hospital, living in her own world into which no other can enter and from which she does not want to depart.

Jayne long ago severed relations with her past and when she arrived at the hospital Nov. 17, 1962, on commitment by court order, she had no one to care except doctors, nurses and attendants at the wards. Friends and relatives contacted when she was admitted live in another state.

Jayne Thompson was one of the patients listed as a good candidate for "Operation Hope," a project through which volunteer workers visit patients regularly in an effort to build a mutual friendship. The work does not require much time, but if a close relationship with an outsider can be established, the chance of recovery is greatly enhanced.

"I'll take Jayne Thompson. My first name is Jayne, too," Mrs. Z. Y. Smith, a member of a local club participating in the project, said.

Mrs. Smith knew the value of having a friend. Her home had been divided when she was a child, and she had been reared by relatives. Now, perhaps subconsciously, she was returning the favor by befriending another.

On Dec. 18, 1962, Mrs. Smith visited Jayne for the first time.

She still does, but because of a simple discovery, she can no longer do it as a volunteer working through Operation Hope.

She found that Jayne Thompson is her mother.

Governors Accept Revision Of Guard

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two spokesmen for the Conference of Governors expressed belief Saturday that most states would accept a new one-step Army plan to shape the National Guard—and the Reserves—on the same pattern as the regular Army.

The Army said the reorganization should be completed before summer.

The plan was unveiled Saturday by Secretary of the Army Cyrus

Vance in a meeting with a National Guard committee of the governors, many of whom have been severely critical of previous Pentagon reorganization plans.

But after the meeting with Vance, Gov. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia, the committee's chairman, said he thought a majority of states would accept the new plan with minor adjustments.

His view was echoed by Washington Gov. Albert D. Rosellini, chairman of the Governors' conference executive committee, which was also in session here.

GOVERNOR'S RIGHT

The executive committee also approved the report handed in by the Vance committee, which had recommended that each governor has a right to oppose the reorganization plans.

The Vandiver group also recommended that the executive committee urge Congress to authorize an average strength of 400,000 for the National Guard. It opposed wording in the present appropriation bill which calls for an "end strength" of 400,000 in 1963.

The governors' National Guard committee met to consider proposals from governors and state adjutants general on the Defense Department's proposed reorganization and to bargain for concessions that would make the re-shaping more acceptable to the states.

The Pentagon's reorganization plan calls for breaking up four Guard infantry divisions and eliminating a net of 335 companies and detachment size units considered outdated.

STRONG PROTEST

Last spring, the Pentagon's proposals ran into a wall of bitter denunciation. Since then, the Defense Department has modified the program in attempts to gain its acceptance.

One of the objections of the states to the Guard reorganization has been that their state units might be changed in two reorganization procedures—first, the elimination of four divisions and formation of eight brigades, and then later a reorganization of the Guard to conform with the regular Army's program, the so-called Road (reorganization Army division) concept.

Thus the Army's one-step plan revealed by Vance appeared to be designed to offer the states the chance to reform the divisions at the same time the general Guard reorganization program is under way.

Army Plan OK'd By Texas Leader

AUSTIN (AP)—Major Gen. Tom Bishop, adjutant general of Texas, said Saturday the Texas National Guard will welcome the opportunity to reorganize divisions and brigades in the same way as the states and Pentagon reach agreement.

The Army announced in Washington a plan to reorganize the National Guard on the same basis as the states and Pentagon reach agreement.

Several weeks ago the Defense

Department also announced a cut-back in Guard strength.

Bishop said the new reorganization plan "will be a fine thing it will let us reorganize one time instead of twice—once under the cutback order and then again under the new plan."

He said that the strength of the Texas Guard will not be affected under the plan.

"All our units have a slot and a mission under the plan," he said. "There will be no decrease or increase as a result of it."

"We've known for several years we must keep pace with the organization of the Army and we are glad to have the opportunity to do so under this new plan."

Relay Satellite Proves Balky

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Relay communications satellite gave new evidence Saturday that its power supply has revived, but it is proving somewhat balky in responding to command.

On two separate orbits during the day, Relay made two successful intercontinental test transmissions, one of them lasting more than an hour.

For 23 minutes beginning at 4:58 a.m. EST, the satellite relayed a television test pattern from Andover, Maine, to the British general post office receiving station in Gonhilly, England. Picture quality was reported to be excellent. The pattern was picked up also by Teletazio, the Italian receiving station.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the hour-long test was conducted while Relay was on its 17th orbit, beginning at 7:55 a.m.

This included TV test patterns transmitted again from Andover to Gonhilly, and teletypewriter tests from Nutley, N.J., to Fucino, Italy.

Relay was launched Dec. 13, but was virtually silent because of power trouble, which NASA said apparently has corrected itself.

Clifton Webb To Undergo Surgery

HOUSTON (AP)—Actor Clifton Webb was reported resting comfortably Saturday night at Methodist Hospital where he will undergo vascular surgery Monday.

A team of Baylor University College of Medicine surgeons will operate on the veteran actor, who is suffering from an abdominal aneurism.

Katanga War Stalls, Hope Held For Talks

Rusk Thinks Settlement Is Likely

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk emerged from a two-hour session with President Kennedy Saturday and reported, "There's a real chance of getting a quick settlement in the Congo."

But, he said, it's up to Katanga President Moise Tshombe to bring about the peaceful settlement.

Tshombe, Rusk said, has indicated he goes along in principle with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's reconciliation plan.

"What we need now is performance," Rusk declared. He said the Congo dispute had been "dragging on much too long."

HOURLY CHANGES

Rusk said he brought the President up to date on the Congo situation in their morning meeting. But, with a smile, he added the situation changes there hour by hour.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Nassau pact agreement on Polaris missiles were on the agenda as well, Rusk said.

Kennedy summoned Rusk, NATO Ambassador Thomas K. Finletter and Central Intelligence Agency Director John A. McCone to a hastily-called session at his vacation oceanfront villa.

McCone spent 45 minutes with Kennedy, along with Rusk and Finletter and then left the others to continue the talks.

The White House press spokesman maintained the session with the three top officials absolutely was not the result of any emergency.

McCone was said to have given the President a general intelligence report.

Finletter, who leaves for Paris Monday "has his instructions" for talks he will engage in during the next two or three weeks at NATO Council meetings in Paris, the spokesman said.

Prominent Texas Woman Dead At 78

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—One of South Texas' most prominent women, Mrs. Lorine Jones Lewis, 78, widow of the late Frank Morton Lewis, died at her San Antonio home Saturday.

Mrs. Lewis was born into a family which played important roles in the state's history. She was the granddaughter of the late Capt. A. C. Jones of Beeville, and was born Nov. 16, 1885 on the Medo Ranch in Bee County, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Whitby Jones of Beeville.

No End Sighted Yet In N.Y. Newspaper Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—New York's newspaper strike entered its fifth week Saturday with no end in sight.

Publifers said the demand, with fringe benefits added, would amount to $38 a week. They offered a package increase of $9.20 a week over two years.

A separate strike against two Cleveland newspapers is in its sixth week.

Pleads With U.N. Troops

Albert Verbrugge, a Belgian cement factory worker at Jadoville in Katanga Province of the Congo, emerges screaming from his car on a road which Indian United Nations troops were advancing into Jadoville. Bursts of fire rang out from the troops into the car in which Verbrugge's wife and a friend, Aline Van Den Eyke, were riding with him. Both women were killed and Verbrugge was wounded. He said he was driving to Jadoville when the shooting took place. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Ndola.)

Peru Claims Red Uprising Smashed

LIMA, Peru (AP)—President Ricardo Perez Godoy's military junta announced Saturday it has smashed a vast Communist plot against Peru allegedly masterminded and financed by Moscow, Prague and Havana.

Raiding squads arrested more than 300 persons suspected of taking part in plots said to call for assassination of the chiefs of the armed forces and key industrial leaders.

Civil guarantees were suspended throughout the nation during the suspension authorities can make arrests and enter private homes without warrants. Public meetings and demonstrations are prohibited. Zonal military commanders took over the conduct of political affairs.

COUNTRY CALM

The country, however, was reported calm. There was no evidence in the streets of Lima that anything unusual was going on.

The junta said the plot was crushed a few days before Red agents were scheduled to lead an uprising with hit and run raids across this nation of 10 million, which has been considered a key country in President Kennedy's $20 billion Alliance for Progress program.

A communique said initial targets included airports, bridges, waterworks, radio stations and power plants.

ARMS SMUGGLED

Red arsenals were said to include rifles, bombs, pistols and submachine guns smuggled in from abroad. The junta charged that some weapons had been shipped from Miami, Fla., as a key country in President Kennedy's $20 billion Alliance for Progress program.

The communique said subversive strongholds were set up in Lima, and seven other points.

The junta said the plot was aimed to sow seeds of unrest in all walks of life and among other things, reverse Peru's pro-Western policy.

The crackdown followed strike violence and other disorders, largely among peasants and miners.

Forces of the two organizations have made three attacks on Cuba to date, "and there will be more," said Fleites, just returned from a trip to New York, Washington and Philadelphia where he contacted fellow members.

The last attack, Fleites said, was an invasion of Juan Francisco Beach in Las Villas Province Dec. 4.

Referring to a recent U.S. government crackdown on Cuban raids, Fleites declared, "We have never left from American bases, and have no plans to do so. Our forces depart from secret spots in the Caribbean."

More Forays Against Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Plans for further hit-and-run attacks against Fidel Castro's Cuba are proceeding, a leader of the second National Front of Escambray, an action group, said Saturday.

Such forays are designed "to destroy the legend that Fidel is invincible," said Maj. Armando Fleites, secretary-general in exile of the group which has joined forces with another, called Alpha 66.

Forces of the two organizations have made three attacks on Cuba to date, "and there will be more," said Fleites, just returned from a trip to New York, Washington and Philadelphia where he contacted fellow members.

Space Study Unit Proposed

HOUSTON (AP)—A group of the nation's top scientists recommended Saturday that an institute for advanced space study be established near the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston.

The recommendation came from the Space Science Board of the National Academy of Sciences as a result of a study it made last summer of the nation's entire program of space research for James E. Webb, National Aeronautics and Space Administration administrator.

The board, headed by Dr. Harry H. Hess, chairman of the geology department at Princeton University, said the institute was vitally needed to help carry out another of its recommendations.

This was that scientists be included among the United States astronauts and that at least one of them be known as a scientist-astronaut.

The academy board pointed out that the space study institute would be needed if scientists were added to the astronaut program.

Associated Press Correspondent Adrian Porter reported from Kolwezi that a train loaded with arms and ammunition and hauling four tank cars of gasoline had arrived in Kolwezi from Angola on Africa's west coast.

Porter quoted a Katangan cabinet source as saying Portuguese administrators in Angola are giving "every assistance" to Tshombe for a continued fight against the United Nations.

REBUILDING

The U.N. drive shattered Katangan resistance. But there were signs Tshombe's army was rebuilding.

Moody Heiress Is Found Dead

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Mrs. Jason Summers, daughter of W. L. Moody III, was found dead in the bathroom of her Terrell Hills home here early Saturday.

Assistant county medical examiner Dr. R. C. Santos said Mrs. Summers apparently died of natural causes. An autopsy to determine the cause of death has been requested by the family doctor.

A member of the family said Mrs. Summers had been ill for some time.

Drys Triumph In Baird Election

BAIRD — Drys in this community triumphed Saturday in an election on a proposal to permit sale of intoxicating liquors for off-premise consumption.

The vote was 338 in favor of continuing the ban against liquor and 225 for legalizing its sale here. This community has been dry for a great many years. The present campaign had been heavily pursued by both the advocates and the opponents of the proposal.

Dock Strike Could Hit All Bargaining Process

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said Saturday that the future of collective bargaining is at stake in the 14-day-old longshore strike that has tied up ports from Maine to Texas.

Wirtz declined comment on reports from Washington that the Kennedy administration might seek some legislation which would make union and management submit disputes to compulsory arbitration. But Wirtz added:

"Without speaking of specific legislation I say this—a particular case of this magnitude is bound to have an effect on the future of free collective bargaining."

He said: "There is at stake both the settlement of this particular case and the future of collective bargaining as a process."

Tshombe Urged To Meet With U.N. Envoys

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The war in Katanga stalled Saturday, clearing the air for possible peace talks. A Katangan official said Belgian and British diplomats are trying to persuade President Moise Tshombe to meet U.N. representatives in Elisabethville.

A high-ranking U.N. officer in Elisabethville said the U.N. forces had halted their drive toward Tshombe's war headquarters in Kolwezi.

MAY RETURN

In Ndola, Northern Rhodesia, the acting representative for Katanga, Jean Tasmier, said that as a result of intervention by British and Belgian consuls in Elisabethville there was a possibility Tshombe would return this weekend to the Katangan capital.

Tasmier said the consuls were in touch with Tshombe by radio. The Katangan leader has had close ties with British and Belgian diplomats throughout the two years he has kept his mineral-rich province independent from the central Congo government.

There were signs the United States would oppose a return of Tshombe to Elisabethville for talks unless he promised to repudiate the further use of force. There were fears in Washington the Belgians and British would have Tshombe return on whatever terms they can make with him.

WANT COOPERATION

In Washington, U.S. officials said the United States would welcome Tshombe's return for talks but only under conditions which would give some assurance that he would cooperate with the central government in unifying the country.

Tshombe and the remnants of his military force and government are making preparations for a last ditch stand at Kolwezi, 80 miles northwest of Jadoville, the advance position of U.N. troops.

The U.N. troops took the offensive against Tshombe last Saturday by seizing Elisabethville and driving northwest to take control of Katanga's copper and cobalt belt. Thursday they captured Jadoville, Katanga's major mining center without a fight.

The U.N. drive shattered Katangan resistance. But there were signs Tshombe's army was rebuilding.

Associated Press Correspondent Adrian Porter reported from Kolwezi that a train loaded with arms and ammunition and hauling four tank cars of gasoline had arrived in Kolwezi from Angola on Africa's west coast.

Porter quoted a Katangan cabinet source as saying Portuguese administrators in Angola are giving "every assistance" to Tshombe for a continued fight against the United Nations.

Brazil Voting Due To Support Pres. Goulart

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—In a referendum Sunday, Brazilians are expected to give President Joao Goulart the support he needs to save the country from drowning in red ink.

The referendum will decide how the government is to be run.

All indications point to a return to a strong presidency, similar to that in the United States.

The voters are expected to end a system called parliamentarism, which curbs the president's authority.

This has been in effect since September, 1961. When the mercenary Janio Quadros suddenly resigned from the presidency, the office went to Vice President "Jango" Goulart.

Parliament, fearing the leftist reputation of the young onetime protégé of dictator Getulio Vargas, passed an act stripping the presidency of much of its power and dividing authority.

ECONOMIC CRISIS
Since then, Brazil has suffered profound political and economic crisis. It has been marked at its peaks by military intervention and strikes. Inflation increased the cost of living nearly 60 per cent last year.

Since May 1961 the value of the cruzeiro, Brazil's monetary unit, has dropped radically in relation to the dollar. In May 1961 it took 200 cruzeiros to buy a dollar's worth of imports. Now it takes about 850.

Foreign investments have plunged. The nation's deficit has snowballed.

Hitting people closer home, black beans and rice have almost disappeared from normal markets. Adults and children have stood in line for hours to get rationed amounts of these dietary staples.

Through all this Goulart has said he lacked the authority to act on social and economic reforms. He proposes a three-year plan to expand the economy.

He would hold price increases in 1963 to half those of 1962. He seeks to overcome an unfavorable balance of trade, but go on importing essential materials and equipment.

NATO's Nuclear Plan Up For Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, one of President Kennedy's top diplomats, will fly to Paris Wednesday to open far-reaching talks with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on formation of an Allied nuclear force for Europe.

Kennedy feels that basic decisions on whether NATO is to have such a force, following up his Polaris missile agreement with British Prime Minister Macmillan last month, will be made this year. The talks to be kicked off by Ball's European trip will probably be the most critical in the recent history of NATO.

The President discussed the subject with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and NATO Ambassador Thomas K. Finletter at Palm Beach, Fla., Saturday.

Ball is expected to tell the 15-nation NATO Council that Kennedy is prepared to carry out in the near future the first of the three stages envisioned in last month's U.S.-British Nassau pact.

The pact calls for providing the NATO powers with an alliance-controlled, European-based force of Polaris nuclear missiles.

The first step would be the commitment undertaken by Kennedy and Macmillan to make available to NATO strategic bomber forces already in existence. Britain and the United States would supply equal numbers of planes with their nuclear bombs. They would be under direction of the NATO commander, U.S. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer.

But the NATO allies obviously will have to approve the offer and work out details for the bomber force control system if it is to go through.

Lockheed Buys Site For Major Plant At Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corp. announced Saturday it will buy a 500-acre manufacturing site and a 50-acre research center site near the Manned Spacecraft Center.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is building a $200 million home for the space center 25 miles east of downtown Houston.

Daniel J. Haughton, Lockheed president, said the firm has no immediate plans for building on the acreage it has agreed to purchase near the space center.

"These sites were acquired as part of our long range planning and will be used if and when required," he said.

Lockheed's research site is part of the Clear Lake City Research Park which is being developed near the space center by the Del Webb Corp.

The manufacturing site is about three miles away and is part of a tract earmarked by the Humble Oil & Refining Co. the owner, for industrial development.

Grand Jury In Martin County Meets Monday

STANTON—Martin County grand jury will convene Monday in 118th District Court here. Included in a number of cases to be presented to it for consideration will be a murder with malice charge against James Monroe Steward.

Steward is charged with the murder of Travis R. Hicks, 37, itinerant electrician. The state alleges that Hicks was shot to death in a motel room in Big Spring on or about the last day in November 1961.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said that the case will be laid before the Martin County grand jury. The body of Hicks was found in a Martin County field Sept. 1, 1962.

Under a Texas law a man can be indicted for a murder either in the county where the crime is actually committed or in the county where the body of the victim may be found.

Jones said that he had five or six other felony matters which he would present to the Martin County grand jury Monday.

Judge Ralph Caton and court reporter Jerry Spence are to be in Stanton for the opening of the court term.

Clearing Weather In Wake Of Rains

By The Associated Press

Texas weather cleared slowly Saturday as farms and ranges soaked up widespread rains, usually light but penetrating rains, usually light but penetrating rains, usually light but penetrating rains.

The clearing was slow and from southwest to the northeast, where showers persisted during the morning.

Temperatures were generally mild for January, but the Weather Bureau said most sections would be a little cooler during the night.

By early afternoon most of West Texas was fair. East and Central Texas were cloudy or partly cloudy. The Sunday forecasts called for clear to partly cloudy and mild weather.

Scores of points reported rain, but seldom as much as an inch. The rain that fell, however, soaked in.

U.N. Still Has Big Task In Unifying The Congo

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Nations is still far from its ultimate objective of unifying the Congo and forcing Moise Tshombe to surrender a share of Katanga's rich copper proceeds.

Tshombe's 18,000-man army never was very impressive without its white officers. But Tshombe's fast footwork and boldness were factors of great dimensions.

He obviously is prepared to go to great lengths to preserve at least a major share of the $40 million a year paid into his treasury by Union Miniere du Haut Katanga. His white officers and troops, many of them fanatic in action, can still create serious difficulties for U.N. forces.

NO PROMISE
Tshombe's apparent willingness to negotiate with the central government of Premier Cyrille Adoula, under certain conditions, is no promise of settlement. Tshombe's record of the past two years is a series of negotiations and repudiated agreements.

Tshombe may be delaying things in the hope that the United Nations' precarious finances will force suspension of the Congo operation.

Tshombe and his tough minister of interior, Godefroid Munongo, are fighting for a good deal more than the money provided by Union Miniere in royalties, taxes and dividends.

The concession of Union Miniere to exploit Katanga's mineral deposits expires in 1990. Under the agreement all the mines and mining equipment used by Union

Miniere in Katanga would go to the central government of the Congo at that time.

GREAT WEALTH

If Tshombe could make his secession stick, Katanga might come into possession of these immensely wealthy properties. The copper deposits in Katanga will last well into the next century.

Union Miniere produces nearly a tenth of the world's copper and most of its cobalt and germanium.

Little has been heard of Munongo since the newest hostilities in Katanga began. He is a man who will not give up lightly and who has repeatedly stiffened Tshombe in his resistance.

Munongo is a grandson of Chief M'Siri of the Bayeke Tribe and a very strong tribal leader. Chief M'Siri, long dead, was a tough warrior remembered chiefly for the large numbers of Congolese he sold into slavery during the Arab slave trading days.

Premier Adoula apparently has been able to assure his central government at least three more months of power by prolonging parliament for that period. He may need all of it and perhaps more to reach a settlement with Tshombe.

Adoula's government has been under heavy pressure from a mixed opposition group, including followers of the late Patrice Lumumba, because of his failure to liquidate the Katanga problem and put the Congo on an even keel. If Adoula should fail altogether there would be great danger that the Congo would return to the chaotic conditions of 1960.

Nothing could suit the Soviet bloc better.

SOVIETS BACK
Once expelled from the Congo by army commander Joseph Mobutu, the Soviets and their eastern European allies have now returned to Leopoldville. The Soviets have taken a seven-story apartment building for headquarters and apparently hope to resume the infiltration interrupted by Mobutu.

Mobutu is still commander of the army and is still counted a friend of the West.

The Congo is an unusually sensitive part of Africa because it borders on white-ruled Angola and Northern Rhodesia—extremely receptive fields for Communist intrigue. The Congo also has borders with Rwanda and Burundi, Tanganyika, Uganda, Sudan, the Central African Republic and the Republic of the Congo (Brazzaville).

School Case To Be Heard On Feb. 15

Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland has formally set hearing on the Howard County school annexation case for Feb. 15.

The court granted the motion of the Howard County School Board that the submission date on the appeal be advanced. This led to the setting of the Feb. 15 date.

At the same time, the court granted the two common school districts appellants in the case, time extension to file brief. However, it was said Saturday that this extension will not be needed as the briefs will be filed in time for the case to be submitted to the court Feb. 15.

Gil Jones, attorney for the Howard County School Board and the Big Spring Independent School District, said that there should be no further delay in the hearing of the appeal before the Eastland court.

The case on appeal is the ruling of the 118th District Court that the Howard County School Board acted within its proper powers in ordering annexation of Gay Hill and Center Point Common Schools to the Big Spring district. The order was issued May 5, 1960.

Meantime, Wayne Burns, county attorney, is still waiting for a report from the attorneys for the two school districts before he makes a formal inquiry (asked by the county board) to the attorney general whether the board could now rescind the earlier annexation action. The board has asked that Burns get the ruling.

Taylor Bucked Other Chiefs In Abandonment Of Skybolt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor disagreed with the other top military chiefs when they voted to support the ill-fated Skybolt bomber-launched missile, reliable informants said Saturday.

Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, reportedly agreed with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's conclusion that the Skybolt should be dropped.

It was learned also that Taylor and most other members of the top military group favored starting toward production of the Nike Zeus antimissile missile. A "mild dissent" was entered by Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, Air Force chief of staff, the informants said.

On the Nike Zeus issue, Taylor apparently differed with President Kennedy who has indicated he will deny the Army any money to prepare for production of the missile-killer. Taylor formerly was Kennedy's personal military adviser.

The Defense Department has ordered cancellation of the Skybolt, but the issue is almost certain to echo in the new Congress where the 1,000-mile-range missile has strong friends.

Lemay, Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations, and Army Gen. Earle G. Wheeler were understood to have joined in vot-

State May Sell Hospital Land

Authorization of the sale of excess land at the Big Spring State Hospital is scheduled for consideration by the executive committee of the board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

The board meets in regular session Jan. 14 at the central office at 4405 North Lamar Blvd., Austin.

The hospital land area consists of 560 acres, according to Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent.

Only about 85 acres are now used for the campus proper. The board is considering selling about 400 acres surrounding the hospital, leaving some 160 acres, or about twice what is now being used. Land not now in use is being leased for farming and other use.

ROTC Program Is Due For Cutback

WASHINGTON (AP)—A drastic revision and cutback in the Reserve Officer Training Corps program in colleges and high schools will be proposed to the new Congress by defense officials, Senate sources said Saturday.

They reported that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara advised that the proposal will call for an end to ROTC programs in high schools; elimination of the present compulsory ROTC programs in all land grant colleges; and reduction of the four-year ROTC courses in most colleges and universities to two years.

Possible savings of several million dollars annually in present ROTC costs are claimed for the revised program by its sponsors.

At present, the Army, Air Force and Navy operate student training programs in numerous educational institutions, supplying uniforms, rifles and other equipment, instructors and, in some cases, drill pay.

Sponsors of the new proposal contend that the armed services have been getting relatively few officers, either career or reserve, from the large numbers of trainees and high costs.

They hope to pattern the two-year officer training program after the Navy's plan for paying tuition and monthly allowances to selected college students in the upper two classes who contract to serve as naval officers for at least three years if they win commissions.

The new ROTC proposal is certain to run into some sharp congressional opposition.

Many colleges and universities are proud of their traditional ROTC units, with uniformed military bands and crack drill groups. Exemptions are expected to be made for some institutions.

Adenauer Observes 87th Birthday With Champagne

BONN, Germany (AP)—Sipping champagne, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer celebrated his 87th birthday Saturday without a visible trace of regret that it may be his last as leader of West Germany.

Adenauer has promised to step down next fall after 14 years of guiding West Germany from the rubble of World War II to prosperity and respect in the world.

Straight as a ramrod and looking 10 years younger than his actual age, Adenauer stood in the ornate cabinet chamber of his white chancellery on the Rhine for more than seven hours, shaking hands with hundreds of well-wishers.

He has said often he doesn't like the big yearly parties and would rather spend the day at work. But there was little doubt that he was enjoying himself.

Der Alte (the Old One), as he is popularly known, accepted congratulations and gifts of hand-crafted, ornate, children and handed out candy bars. He exchanged quips and serious words with his cabinet members and political leaders, and met the diplomatic corps.

The younger of his 23 grandchildren rumped among the visitors.

A special Mass said by his son, the Rev. Paul Adenauer, at Elizabeth Hospital in Bonn, opened the day for the Roman Catholic Chancellor. As in the past, his first well-wishers other than his family were the hospital's nuns, who served him breakfast.

New Order In Contempt Case

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Federal Appeals Court Saturday ordered Mississippi Gov. Ross R. Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr. to show cause Feb. 8 why they should not be held in criminal contempt for blocking desegregation of the University of Mississippi.

An order signed by six judges of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said that if the two officials show cause—either by pleading innocent or by other means—they will be tried by the appeals court.

If they fail to show cause, they could be held in contempt and penalized immediately.

Barnett and Johnson have both been held in civil contempt by the appeals court, for refusing to say they will cease interfering with admission of James H. Meredith, a Negro, to the university. Criminal contempt action is considered punishment for past acts with penalties generally left to the discretion of the judges.

Local Men On Scout Board

MIDLAND — Several Big Spring men were named to the Buffalo Trail Council board at its meeting Friday evening.

Included were R. L. Tollett, chairman of the Lone Star district, Jack Alexander and Carl Campbell, members at large; Dr. W. A. Hunt, Col. W. H. Banks, Douglas L. Orme, Joe Pickle, C. H. Rainwater, S. M. Smith, Dr. S. E. Thomas, Sam Anderson, members of the executive board.

Re-elected council president was O. D. Albright, Odessa. Other officials named were Dr. Bryan Wildenthal, A. A. Roach, Andrews, O. O. Whitten, Wink, Mark McLaughlin, Snyder, L. E. Patterson, Midland, vice presidents; Luther Mays, Midland, treasurer; W. H. McCright, Midland, assistant treasurer; G. N. Hughes, Midland, commissioner.

The board voted to increase the pay scales of the professional staff and approved the employment of Larry Smith as a district executive at Snyder.

Membership reports showed 10,953 boys on the roll at the end of the previous year. This was attained despite a loss of 102 in Explorers (senior boys) and 16 units. The council came within $1,000 of operating within its revenues when some area community chest commitments failed to reach the amount pledged. Means of raising the amount needed to round out this year's budget were discussed.

Khrushchev To Have A Look At East Germany

MOSCOW (AP)—Diplomatic sources suggested Saturday that Premier Khrushchev's visit to the East German Party Congress Jan. 15 is to build up Communist leader Walter Ulbricht, not knock him out.

Top-level Soviet delegations have been sent to every congress meeting in the East European bloc this fall and winter. But Khrushchev himself will handle the party representation in East Germany.

East Germany's economy has been going from bad to worse for the past few years. The wall through Berlin in August 1961 was expected to give it a lift by stopping the flight to the West of top-level workers. Instead, the situation in East Germany has been getting worse.

SURPRISE

There was wide speculation that the steady deterioration might mean the end of Ulbricht. But that isn't the way it is felt either in Moscow nor in certain quarters in Western Europe recently visited by this correspondent.

The announcement of the visit of Khrushchev came as a considerable surprise and led to surmises here that East Germany was in a worse situation, economically and politically, than was suspected earlier.

The presence of Khrushchev was looked upon here as likely to see these developments:

An intensified campaign in East Germany against party dissidents, all of whom now are generally labeled Stalinists.

SEPARATE TREATY

More talk, but no definite commitments, about settling the Berlin situation by separate treaty with East Germany as a long proposed.

Possibly restricted offers of aid, within the limits of the Soviet Union's own strained production system.

Another and perhaps more heated exchange between the Chinese and Soviet leaders over the political and doctrinal leadership in the Communist camp.

Western diplomats feel certain the Chinese will send a high-level delegation to East Berlin.

Diplomats here speculated that if any crackdown on Ulbricht was intended, Khrushchev would not go but would send a secondary hatchet man. That is the Communist system.

STILL THE MAN

More likely, certain quarters here speculated, Khrushchev's presence is intended to warn unwilling industrial and party workers in Germany that Ulbricht is still Khrushchev's man. Besides that, nobody here can point to a really promising replacement for Ulbricht.

Khrushchev and other Soviet spokesmen have talked recently about the need of a Berlin settlement, but the line has been soft and no deadlines have been set. Diplomats suspect that Ulbricht, who would like to get the Allies out of Berlin right now, is going to have to put up with Allied troops for some time yet.

Commandery, Ladies Have Installation

Owens, eminent commander; Ray Thomas, generalissimo; C. R. McClenny, captain general; J. B. Langston, senior warden; A. F. Pitts Jr., junior warden; W. T. ## Cotton Warehouse Fire Stubborn

Smoldering cotton left in the ruins of the Colorado City Compress and Warehouse kept firemen busy long after the main fire had been extinguished. The fire occurred on Friday and caused an estimated loss of $185,000 in cotton stored in the building. The building itself was destroyed. It will cost $43,000 to replace. Cause of the disastrous blaze has not been determined.

Ex-Convict Captured In Motel Robbery Chase

FORT WORTH (AP)—An all night manhunt for a suspect in a Fort Worth motel robbery ended Saturday in the capture of a former convict, 32, in a field near Bridgeport, north of Fort Worth. Shots were exchanged during the chase, but no one was hurt. The suspect was taken to jail at Decatur. Charges were not filed at once.

The chase started when a man fled as officers sought to question him and a youth, in the $220 robbery of the Holiday Inn motel Friday night.

Fort Worth officers placed in jail a youth who identified himself as Raymond B. Johnson of New York.

The youth told police and newsmen that he and the ex-convict had netted about $4,000 in a robbery spree.

"It was the excitement that interested me more than anything else," he said. "I'm glad to get out of it. I didn't want to get into it in the first place."

The youth, who said he used to be an amateur boxer, said if he had to go to prison he was going to make the best of it.

"I am going to do a lot of studying so when I get out I can rebuild my life," he said.

To Confer On Road Project

Joe Smoot, resident engineer for the Texas Highway Department, said Saturday there will be a conference at the highway department building at 10 a.m. Monday on plans for construction of the west leg of IS 20 cutoff.

Members of the engineering staff and representatives of the contractor, with city police and highway patrol officers, will discuss problems which are likely to develop when work starts on the project.

Parker and Parker and Earl Bailey are the contractors who are to build the 4.3 miles of four-lane road from east of US 87 to the point of intersection west of town. They plan to begin work at once.

Construction has already started on the east leg which begins near the FM 700 intersection on IS 20 and continues to a point just east of where US 87 crosses 12th Street.

Contract was awarded for the west leg on Dec. 11. The 7.2 mile bypass will cost approximately $4,800,000.

Scientists Call For Search For Life On Other Planets

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of 100 top-ranking American scientists urged the government Saturday to place more emphasis on searching for life beyond the earth.

They cited international prestige as one consideration, and voiced concern that life-detection experiments might not be ready in time for inclusion in the first unmanned capsule landing on Mars, scheduled for 1966.

The scientists expressed some criticism of the man-in-space program. They said not enough emphasis is being put on developing techniques to sustain astronauts on prolonged flights such as those to the moon and the planets.

Among other things, the group called for inclusion of a microphone in the first unmanned capsule to Mars in order to record the swish of any plants waving in the Martian winds and the sounds of any creatures that might be on the ground.

LONG REPORT

The recommendations were contained in a 16-chapter report to the National Aeronautics and Space Science Board of the National Academy of Sciences.

The huge document summarizes discussions and recommendations of a group of government, university and industry scientists who met at the State University of Iowa last summer to appraise the nation's space research. The study was organized by the Space Science Board at the request of the National Space Agency.

While enthusiastically endorsing NASA's space science program on the whole, the group urged that the hunt for extra-terrestrial life be elevated to "the top priority scientific goal of our space program."

SPORADIC

It said that up to now NASA's effort in space biology — which would include the search for life on other planets — has been sporadic. NASA, it said, has been giving principal support to biology projects designed to get man into space, as distinguished from experiments aimed at finding whether life exists elsewhere in space.

Saying that Mars looks like the most likely of all the planets for sustaining life, the scientists said "it is not clear that the development of already programmed experiments is proceeding as rapidly as would be appropriate."

Therefore, it remains an open question whether this program is moving at a pace which will insure the inclusion of life-detection experiments in the first vehicles we shall send toward Mars."

"Of all the discoveries that have come from or can now be anticipated from man's efforts on space science," the report said, "none more easily captures the imagination nor is more likely to focus interest and acclaim than the empirical proof that there is in this universe a biota (life system) other than our own.

PRESTIGE

"On solid scientific grounds, on the basis of popular appeal, and in the interests of our prestige as a peace-loving nation capable of great scientific enterprise. . . . Finding and exploring extra-terrestrial life should be acclaimed as the top-priority scientific goal of our space program."

In other major recommendations, the scientists called for:

1. Immediate steps by NASA to train scientists for active participation investigations "on board vehicles in flight, at extra-terrestrial stations, and on the ground."

Specifically, the group urged establishment of a special institute adjacent to NASA's present training facility at Houston, Tex.—to train scientist-astronauts and allied personnel.

2. Inclusion of meteorologists as copilots of manned orbiting space observatories, beginning with the two-man Gemini flights in 1964.

3. Inclusion of biologists as astronauts on the first manned flight to Mars.

4. Making it a matter of national policy that the planet Mars be kept as a "biological preserve"—that is, free of contamination by any organisms from the earth.

On the subject of the nation's present manned space flight program, the scientists said "only short-term goals have been given priority."

Chamber Banquet Tickets Go On General Sale On Monday

"Getting Along With Others, Or, Only Skin 'Em Once," title of the after-dinner talk by Dr. Charles W. Jarvis, indicates what can be expected by persons attending the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday.

Dr. Jarvis is a full-time dentist in San Marcos, but he has attained recognition as a public speaker. In humorous form he presents a serious message. He has been principal speaker for such groups as the Texas Press Association, Texas Bankers Association and the American Medical Association.

The banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Goliad Junior High School gymnasium. About 650 persons are expected to attend. With reservations open only to Chamber members, more than 300 tickets have already been sold. They go on sale to the public Monday. Cost is $3.50 each.

The banquet will be catered by Don Newsom. The menu will be roast beef and baked Virginia ham with all the trimmings.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the announcement of the winner of this year's Jaycee Distinguished Service Award for the outstanding young man of the year. Wayne Graham, Jaycee president, will make the award.

Dr. C. B. Marcum, incoming president of the Chamber, and new directors will take office at the banquet. Roy Reeder will step down as outgoing president. Reports on progress of the Chamber during 1962 will be brief, with committee reports confined to printed form. A brochure containing detailed information will be presented to every person attending.

Tickets are available at the Chamber office in the Permian Building, or reservations can be made by calling AM 4-4641.

A New Legislature Has Old Problems

AUSTIN (AP)—The legislature meets at noon Tuesday with a new broom administration but a tattered agenda of old issues.

The complete turnover in Texas' top jobs—the first in more than a decade—has John Connally as the new governor, Preston Smith as lieutenant governor, Waggoner Carr as attorney general, a new speaker of the House and a new president pro tempore of the Senate to preside when the lieutenant governor is absent.

Connally and Smith take their oaths of office Jan. 15 but they have been hard at work for several weeks on legislative problems.

NEW MEMBERS
There will be 60 new and 90 old representatives in the House and 10 new and 26 old senators. The first tasks of both houses will be election of presiding officers.

The next speaker is expected to be Rep. Byron Tunnell, a veteran from Tyler. He is the only active candidate for the job and claims 125 pledges of support, with 76 needed for election.

The next president pro tempore of the Senate apparently will be either Sen. Martin Dies of Lufkin or Sen. Louis Crump of San Saba. Both entered the Senate in 1959. Other senators have more seniority but these have had a chance to serve in the post—a largely honorary position.

Actually, a toss of a coin in a closed caucus at 10 a.m. Tuesday will decide which of the two serves as president pro tempore now and which gets the job in the next between-session interval. However, the official election does not take place until the noon meeting.

FESTIVITIES FIRST
The various session opening rituals and routines plus inauguration festivities apparently will delay any serious lawmaking until late January. Then begins the tedious, yet important, committee hearings on the various legislative proposals. These hearings are the only time a voter and citizen has a chance to speak up personally for or against a measure. Otherwise, a senator or representative acts for his district.

Taxation, loan shark regulation, election law revision—in that order. That's what an Associated Press survey of senators and representatives shows will be the three top subjects. All three are ancient controversies.

Sales tax changes and/or new taxes was the overwhelming No. 1 issue picked. If you rank legislative issues like football teams (3 points for a first place vote, 2 for second, 1 for third) the taxation question got 185 votes from the majority of the legislature answering AP's queries. The loan shark issue got 65 votes. Election law changes, including 2-term governors and poll tax bans, got 59 votes.

OTHER MATTERS
Tourist and industry attraction, slant hole drilling regulations and redistricting were next in the legislators' rankings, but considerably below the three top issues. Other issues that appear likely of considerable attention, on the basis of the AP poll, were state parks, text book selection, city annexation, college tuition increases, auto insurance changes and lobby control.

If the legislature follows the suggestion in the state Constitution it will complete its business and adjourn before the 120 day mark on May 8. The regular session must stop before or on the 149th day, May 28.

However, a special session could be—and has been—called within hours of adjournment.

Local Teacher Writes Article

Jean Banister Warren, a teacher at Rannels Junior High School has written about her humorous and sometimes exasperating experiences in the complex society of junior high school in the January issue of the "Texas Outlook."

The "Outlook" is the monthly magazine of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Mrs. Warren points out that although education professors insist a good teacher understands his pupils, she has moments of wondering if it is possible.

"I may like my pupils, enjoy them, find them amazingly and frequently delightful," Mrs. Warren states, "but it is going a little too far to say that I understand them."

"To the adult mind," she writes, "it is not completely logical that students will beg for a sock hop; and when the teachers are assigned extra duty to sponsor the affair and the records are laboriously transported to the gym, the boys line up against one wall and the girls hopefully congregate against the other wall, with two lovelorn couples walking around to the music between."

Mrs. Warren admits, however, that "for all their incomprehensibilities, my students are forthright and endowed with captivating charm."

To Offer Bill On Student Loans

AUSTIN (AP)—Rep. Paul Haring of Goliad said Saturday he will introduce legislation on the first day of the legislature to set up a Texas student loan fund to aid needy college students.

Haring said he will introduce a constitutional amendment and enabling legislation Tuesday to set up a fund to allow loans to students up to $250 for a regular semester and $200 for the summer session.

The primary qualification for the loan is the financial need of the applicant, Haring said.

Repayment of the loan would start after the student finished his education.

Gala Inaugural Program In Austin On January 15

AUSTIN (AP)—Texans can look for their biggest and longest inauguration in six years.

The Austin inaugural committee will throw open the door to all Texans Jan. 15 for a 4-feature, 12-hour day.

The committee already has exhausted its supply of 60,000 souvenir invitations to the affair. Festivities will start unofficially at a $25 Democratic victory dinner Jan. 14. Singer Vic Damone will be on hand.

Inauguration day begins with a prayer service.

Evangelist Billy Graham will speak at the 8 a.m. service at a downtown hotel. Rabbi Donald David Crain of Austin; Dr. Monroe Vivian, executive director of the Texas Methodist Foundation; and Roman Catholic Bishop Louis Reicher also will take part.

The inaugural ceremony will be at noon on the steps of the Capitol. Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert will administer the oaths to Gov.-elect John Connally and Preston Smith, new lieutenant governor, around a century-old Bible reserved for oaths.

The afternoon will feature the longest inaugural parade in history. More than 100 units will begin marching up Congress Ave. at 2 p.m.

The gala inaugural reception will climax the day, replacing the traditional inaugural ball. Connally, Smith and other state officials will greet guests in the Capitol rotunda beginning at 7 p.m. There will be entertainment in the Senate and House chambers.

Happy With Big Family; There Are 21 Children

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — "It's nice to have a big family," said Albert Pina.

He should know. His 21st child was born New Year's Eve.

Pina, his wife and 14 youngest children live in a neat, three-bedroom home in a modest Tucson subdivision.

"We use bunk beds and some of them sleep in the living room," he said Friday, explaining how they manage with only three bedrooms.

"The only real problem is groceries," his wife remarked. "Oh, how they eat the groceries."

Pina is a sheriff's deputy and also conducts a Spanish American music program on a radio station. Pina plays guitar and sings on the program.

"All the kids are on the show sometimes," he said. "I've even had the baby cry for commercials. Sometimes I bring a tape recorder home and they all sing and I use that on the show."

The Pinas had no difficulty listing the youngsters who live at home: Margaret, 16; Francis, 14; Albert Jr., 12; Mary, 11; Kathy, 10; Judy, 9; Ferdy, 8; Joe, 7; Jesus, 6; Ruth, 5; Rita, 4; Anthony, 3; Patrick, 10 months, and Anne, the New Year's Eve addition.

But they had to stop and think a bit to remember the ages of children now married and living in other cities: Albert Jr., 29; Terry, 26; Irene, 23; Raymond, 21; Emma, 20; Richard, 19, and Freddy, 18.

In case you're wondering, that's right—there are two Albert Jr.'s. Since only one is at home, there's no confusion, but names do get to be a problem.

"I told my wife, if we get any more kids, we quit trying to use names and give them numbers," Pina said.

Goen Lime Strike Indicated For Hatch

J. R. Hatch, Big Spring, No. 2 H. Meixner, central Concho County wildcat, was flowing at the rate of 15 barrels of oil and the same amount of water daily from Goen lime perforations at 3,505-10 feet. Operator continues testing in an effort to complete a discovery. The pay had been washed with 250 gallons of mud acid.

The project is six miles southwest of Paint Rock and about 1 1/2 miles south of the Paint Rock, South (Canyon-Strawn) gas area. It is 467 feet from the south and east lines of section 151-72, T&N survey.

WOLF CAMP STRIKE
In northeast Crane County, Texaco, Inc. has completed a Wolfcamp discovery at No. 1-C (UT) Crane Fee. The operator plans to complete the project dually as a Bend pay opener.

On 24-hour potential test from the Wolfcamp, the well pumped 122 barrels of 37-gravity oil and no water. Production is from perforations at 7,892-96 feet and 7,912-20 feet, after a 1,000-gallon acid treatment.

It was originally completed as the discovery for Cisco and Devonian production in the Edwards-04 (multipay) field. Both of these zones were plugged off after their production was depleted.

Texaco has requested that the well be given discovery allowable and be designated as the opener of the Edwards-04 (Wolfcamp).

Field Wells Completed In Howard, Martin Counties

Continental Oil Co. has completed an old well workover in the Howard - Glasscock (San Andres) for 69 barrels of 26-gravity oil on initial potential. It is No. 5-D G. O. Chalk (UT), which spots C NW NW SE, section 124-29, W&NW survey, about six miles east of Foran, in Howard County.

The well also produced 29 percent water and had a gas-oil ratio of 552:1. It paid from perforations between 2,175-322 feet in a pay topped at 2,090 feet. Elevation is 3,015 feet and 5/8 inch casing is set at 2,701 feet. The well is on an 80-acre lease.

Texaco, Inc. No. 3-D Mabee Foundation, NCT-1 has been finished in Martin County for an initial pumping potential of 15 barrels of 31.4-gravity oil, with seven percent water. The Mabee (San Andres) field oiler is 20 miles northwest of Stanton.

It produced from an open hole section between 4,657-734 feet which has been acidized with 7,000 gallons. The well was drilled to 4,734 feet and pay was topped at 4,657 feet. Operator set 4 1/2 inch casing at 4,655 feet. Elevation is 2,884 feet. The project is on a 440-acre lease.

COSDEN SITES
Cosden Petroleum Corp. has staked the No. 1-C Farmer CSL in Andrews County in the McFarland (Queen) field. The project is intended to bottom at 5,000 feet by rotary tool.

It spots 660 feet from the south and east lines of labor 25, league 316, Farmer CSL survey, on a 40-acre lease about 21 miles northeast of Andrews.

Cosden has also plugged another venture in the field. It is No. 1-B Farmer CSL, in labor 24, league 316, Farmer CSL survey. The hole was drilled to 4,826 feet looking for the Queen sand.

ANDREWS TEST
In the western part of Andrews County, about three-fourths mile west of the Nix (Clear Fork) pool, RPL Oil Company of Midland is pumping lead on production tests of the San Andres at No. 1 J. E. Parker.

The operator cleaned out this wildcat re-entry to 4,690 feet and cemented 2 1/2 inch casing at 4,690 feet. The pipe was perforated between 4,657-734 feet.

LP Gas Has Big Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—Sales of liquefied petroleum gas in 1962 rang up a 10 per cent increase over 1961.

Phillips Petroleum Co. of Bartlesville, Okla., in a year-end review of the industry reported usage totaled 10,778,000,000 gallons.

It attributed the gain to colder weather during winter months and a large expansion of usage in the chemical processing field. Some of the increase was offset by extension of natural gas distribution systems and slow housing starts.

Sales of liquefied petroleum gas to domestic and commercial users totaled 4,658,000,000 gallons, accounting for 42.4 per cent of total volume. The gain over 1961 was six per cent.

The greatest percentage gain was registered in sales for the manufacture of chemicals. Consumption totaled 4,511,000,000 gallons, an increase of 12 1/2 per cent. Sales for engine fuel increased slightly to a total of 893 million gallons.

Industrial and miscellaneous use showed a loss of about four per cent. Thirty-two new plants and seven major expansion programs completed in 1962 increased production capacity by about 1.47 million gallons daily.

Permian Basin Rotary Count Has Good Start

The Permian Basin Empire listed eight more active rotary rigs on the Friday survey of Reed Roller Bit Company than were recorded on the first weekly tabulation in 1962.

The West Texas-Southeast New Mexico area had 205 working units on the latest count compared with 197 on the first Friday last year. However, the total was 14 below the 219 active strings of tools credited to the two-state territory a week before.

Lea County, N. M., bounced upward from 31 to 40, a gain of nine, continuing in first place. Ector County, with 17 rigs, was in second place.

In the local eight-county area Borden and Howard counties had most working units with four each. In all eight counties, the total was 16 rigs, down four from the 20 of a week ago.

The county-by-county tabulation follows:
Andrews 10 (14), BORDEN 4 (5), Chaves 4 (5), Coke 1 (1), Concho 0 (1), Crane 12 (13), Crockett 3 (4), Culberson 1 (0), DAWSON 2 (3), Ector 17 (17), Eddy 8 (6), Fisher 5 (3);

GARZA 3 (3), Gaines 6 (8), GLASSCOCK 1 (2), Hale 1 (1), Hockley 1 (4), HOWARD 4 (2), Irion 1 (1), Kent 0 (2), Lea 40 (31), Loving 2 (3), Lubbock 1 (1), Menard 1 (1);

MARTIN 2 (3), Midland 10 (8), MITCHELL 0 (1), Nolan 1 (0), Pecos 12 (12), Reagan 1 (1), Reeves 7 (9), Roosevelt 4 (2), Runnels 3 (7), Schleicher 2 (4), Scurry 3 (3), STERLING 0 (1);

Stonewall 2 (6), Sutton 1 (0), Terrell 2 (2), Terry 2 (1), Tom Green 2 (2), Upton 3 (5), Ward 7 (7), Winkler 6 (7) and Yoakum 7 (7).

Rise Expected In Rate Of Use
NEW YORK (AP)—Oil consumption elsewhere in the free world is expected to increase at a greater rate than in the United States in 1963, Albert Nickerson, chairman of Socony Mobil Oil Co., said.

In a year-end statement on the outlook for next year, he placed the foreign rate of growth at nine per cent against 2.5 per cent in the United States.

Oil demand will continue to grow faster in Japan and Western Europe than in any other of the industrialized areas of the world, he said.

Nickerson estimated the demand for petrochemicals would increase by about eight per cent in the United States and about 15 per cent in the industrial nations abroad.

He said excess production of crude oil and products in the United States and abroad is expected to continue to exert pressure on prices but they should not drop below 1962 levels.

"The growing Russian oil offensive will continue to take the form of substantial exports of both crude oil and products to the free world, often at politically motivated prices," Nickerson said.

"Many nations, however, are becoming aware of the motives behind these exports and of the danger inherent in dependence upon Soviet oil."

Hearing Slated
AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Water Commission set a Feb. 11 hearing date today on an application by Phillips Petroleum Co. to use 3,000 acre feet of water annually from the San Bernard River in Brazoria County for mining use.

The water would be brackish, affected by tidal action.

Large Soviet Oil Reserves To Plague American Firms

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Tremendous Soviet Union oil reserves and rapidly growing output pose a threat in the not too distant future to American oil companies.

U.S. oilmen say that the 11 per cent jump in Soviet oil output in 1962 was anticipated. It is far from welcome news as the Communist bloc continues to upset selected markets—often for political reason—with oil exports priced much lower than American companies can produce theirs.

Such exports, now around 650,000 barrels a day, should reach a million barrels a day by 1965, oilmen here say.

Already the Communists have captured 20 per cent of the Italian market, 18 per cent of the Swedish and all of Iceland's. And while Italy has agreed to cut back, its forward commitments will keep the flow high for some time. Others may have the same trouble reducing their imports.

SOVIET RESERVE
But the threat lies in the huge reserves the Soviet Union could tap to offer a potential output of 14 million barrels a day by 1965, oilmen here say.

How do the Soviets raid a market American oil companies once considered their own? One oil executive here explains it thus:

LOW PRICES
"They can set any price they like without regard to economic rules. They can set the price so low that a free economy can't compete."

They also use their oil as a medium of exchange, he points out. They often get paid in technology or in equipment which they can't produce. An example is steel pipe for the big oil lines they are building from their oil fields to Western Europe. The Soviets have had trouble turning out the right kind of pipe and have been buying it from England, Japan, West Germany and Italy.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization has grown alarmed and is urging a halt to such sales. England has refused and oilmen here doubt if the Japanese will agree, but the Germans and Italians have promised to halt the buildup of the Communist bloc's oil export potential.

Atlantic To Expand In Chemicals

PHILADELPHIA—The Atlantic Refining Company has formed a chemicals program department to accelerate the company's petrochemical expansion in new areas, according to Thornton F. Bradshaw, executive vice president.

Bradshaw said the new department, headed by Charles E. Boline, former manager of chemical sales, will be responsible for Atlantic's chemical expansion program and for the operation of subsidiaries, J. P. Frank Chemical & Plastic Corp., Brooklyn, N. Y., and Massachusetts Plastics Corp., Ludlow, Mass.

Atlantic acquired a majority interest in J. P. Frank, manufacturer of polyvinyl chloride film and sheeting, in 1961, and in Massachusetts Plastics, which manufactures polystyrene dairy and food containers, in May of 1962.

to curb Soviet raiding of Western markets? Oilmen here say there may be little it can do officially, but the government can put quiet pressures on its allies and friends to cut back their oil imports and their exports of equipment to the Soviet Union.

U.S. oilmen say that the 11 per cent jump in Soviet oil output in 1962 was anticipated. It is far from welcome news as the Communist bloc continues to upset selected markets—often for political reason—with oil exports priced much lower than American companies can produce theirs.

Such exports, now around 650,000 barrels a day, should reach a million barrels a day by 1965, oilmen here say.

Already the Communists have captured 20 per cent of the Italian market, 18 per cent of the Swedish and all of Iceland's. And while Italy has agreed to cut back, its forward commitments will keep the flow high for some time. Others may have the same trouble reducing their imports.

This is the 17th in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of its record of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the company.

James Robert Chaney, who was born in Big Spring and reared here as Jim Bob, enlisted in the Navy upon his graduation from Big Spring High in the Class of '45. After two years in the Service, part of it in Japan, he returned and settled down in the town his parents, the J. R. Chaney's, have long called home.

On Dec. 16, 1947, he began his record with Cosden. From yardman at the refinery, he became a mechanic's helper and mechanic No. 1. When an opening for scout appeared in 1956, Chaney hastily inquired about the job and landed it. Since Sept. 16, 1960, he has been a landman for Cosden. He is an alumnus of Howard County Junior College.

A onetime Dallasite, Anne Hardy, was a receptionist for the company when she and Chaney met. They were married May 4, 1957, in Dallas. The household at 1410 E. 18th boasts three sons: Roebert Holland is 4, James Roy is 2 and John Robert arrived last July 4. The family attends the First Methodist Church.

As extracurricular activities, Chaney turns to golfing and to running a few head of cattle on his Dad's land near Big Spring. He is a member of the Permian Basin Landman's Association.

Education Bill Again Facing Dim Prospect

WASHINGTON (AP)—House members responsible for trying to push President Kennedy's education program through Congress see little chance for the general school aid bill that lies at its heart.

Although the administration has yet to unveil its 1963 edition of a school bill there is little to indicate it will differ much from those that failed to pass in 1961 and 1962.

With the makeup of the new House little changed from the one that rejected the earlier bills, and with the religious controversy that helped doom them still smoldering, these members see no reason to look for a different outcome this year.

PRIVATE VIEWS

None would express such views publicly, but privately they predict no federal aid for the nation's elementary and secondary schools is likely to be voted this year.

That doesn't mean none of Kennedy's education programs has a chance. Once again early prospects are fair for some sort of aid to higher education. Also having a reasonable chance for passage are bills aimed at specific targets, such as improving technical and vocational education and teacher training.

But no such victories would compensate in the administration view for loss of the general school aid bill, which Kennedy has repeatedly called the basis of any effort to improve the nation's educational system.

LEAVE IT ALONE

Although the President seems committed to putting forward a school bill each year, some supporters of such legislation think that the annual combat should be foregone for a while.

The House is barren soil at the moment, they believe, and should be allowed to lie fallow while efforts are made to find a solution to the church-state controversy that has contributed to the succession of defeats.

Some congressional sources feel only the full force of Kennedy's leadership could produce a school bill. And they regard it as unlikely that a politically astute president would force an all-out fight that might tend to drive the nation along religious lines.

Library Being Built

NEW YORK—Construction of an $500,000 museum and library honoring Col. Edwin L. Drake is under way near Titusville, Pa., where Drake drilled the nation's first commercially successful oil well in 1859, according to Oil Facts, a publication of the American Petroleum Institute.

Only 16,000 Bales Ginned, Cotton Harvest Steps Up

Howard County has ginned approximately 16,000 bales of its 1962 crop.

A check of 12 gins Saturday indicated the total to Saturday morning at 16,807. Most gin operators said that the harvest of the belated crop is now stepping up steadily and that their yards were fairly well filled with cotton Saturday.

The step up, they said, began last week.

Many of the gins, with less than 1,000 bales each handled this year, said that not more than a quarter of the crop in their areas have been stripped. The prediction of a crop of 26,000 bales could be realized, some ginners think. However, others doubt if the figure will be reached.

The gins are now extending the hours of operation as cotton begins to reach the yard. Here in Big Spring, the Co-op Gin on Northeast Second had its biggest day on Thursday when it ginned 115 bales. Fairview gin is running around the clock these days and estimated 110 bales were on hand in its yard waiting processing.

Ginners said that anywhere from 2,000 to 2,700 pounds of stripped cotton had to be handled to produce a standard 500 pound bale of lint. This is much higher than the average for a good cotton year. Quality of the cotton is not too bad, most ginners said, but there is some spotty cotton coming in.

Most farmers will push ahead now at top speed with their stripping operations, the ginners said. About all of the late bolls which the plants held are now open that will open.

Lomax community has "just about finished its crop," the operator of the Lomax gin reported. The gin has processed 1,945 bales. Co-op Gin here has handled 4,000 bales to lead the field in the county.

The two other gins operating in Big Spring reported step up in ginning but few bales handled as yet. Guitar gin has handled 1,077 and Planters Gin No. 2 has ginned 1,500 bales.

Other county gins and the bales handled:

Fairview 1,720; Planters Gin at Luther, 1,039; Co-op Gin at Knott, 1,410; Planters Gin at Knott 1,350; Guitar Gin at Knott, 965; Guitar Gin at Coahoma, 706; Acuff Gin, Coahoma, 874; Co-op Gin at Vincent 721.

Seek Integration Of Texas Hospital

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Chronicle said Saturday the council of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas will be asked again to integrate St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital here.

The council meets Feb. 7 in Galveston.

The last council approved a compromise last year in Waco after the wording of a resolution was changed from instructing to requesting the hospital board to integrate.

The Chronicle said integrationists will not accept a compromise this year.

Tax Cut Not In Nation's Interest, Says Lausche

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, said Saturday that a tax cut without a corresponding reduction in federal spending might appear politically attractive, but predicted such action would lead to economic chaos.

For a member of Congress to support the Kennedy administration's proposed tax cut, one of the major issues in the new session, might be politically a good method of getting votes but that doesn't mean that it is in the interest of the country," Lausche said.

Lausche noted that tax-cut proponents are winning some support in banking, insurance, industry, labor and consumer circles, and said:

"These subscribers to the plan have allowed their reasoning to become dulled by the prospect of obtaining a financial windfall. In many instances they have abandoned the sound principle that you cannot unendingly keep spending more than you take in without going to the poorhouse."

He said the mounting national debt—now more than $296 billion—and the decrease of the dollar's purchasing power to about 46 cents since 1941 has caused short-term foreign creditors in a number of recent instances to demand gold instead of "our paper money."

"Our spending program on the federal level has required a tax levy so great that the investing power of business and industry, and the buying power of the general public, has been materially and substantially reduced to the detriment of our entire economy," he said.

"It is thoroughly obvious that the danger to our country posed by our enemies abroad is no greater than the danger to our land posed by the irresponsible fiscal policies followed by the federal government."

Man Is Charged In Cattle Theft

Dickie Lee Bennett, who lives about 5 miles northeast of Big Spring, has been charged with theft over $50 in connection with the stealing and sale of seven head of Holstein cattle, Miller Harris, sheriff, said Saturday.

Harris said that Bennett has been released on $2,500 bond. Harris' records related that Bennett had made a statement admitting the offense.

The report relates that on Dec. 23, the seven head of cattle wandered onto the property occupied by Bennett. The cattle were owned by D. C. Buchanan. On Dec. 28, the report states, Bennett sold the cattle to a third party for $395.

Aubrey Standard, deputy sheriff, worked on the case. He obtained the return of the stock to Buchanan, the promise on the part of Bennett to make restitution of the money paid for the animals by the third party.

Thievery Trials

Griffing, Cuozzo Pitch Rebs To 33-27 Victory

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A pair of Rebel riffs named Lynn Griffing and Gary Cuozzo found ready receivers Saturday in Billy Gambrell and Johnny Baker and passed the South to a 33-27 triumph over the North in the 14th Senior Bowl football game. The 6-foot-1 quarterbacks, Griffing of Mississippi and Cuozzo of Virginia, hurled the South to a 33-6 lead in the third quarter. But Jerry Gross — smashing Senior Bowl passing records along the way—led the North in a pulsating rally that kept the crowd of 38,048 fans in an uproar for the final segment of the nationally televised contest.

Texas Fared Well On Baseball Field

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer
Texas did its best work in baseball the past year although coming through with a fair quota of national championships in other sports.

For the second straight year this state produced the American League batting champion. In 1961 it was Norman Cash, who took the title playing with Detroit. In 1962 it was Pete Runnels of Lufkin, who hit .326 playing with the Boston Red Sox. Runnels will play with the Houston Colts of the National League during the coming season.

Texas did the unusual of winning three of the boys' national baseball championships. Houston won the Pony League World Series, Fort Worth the Connie Mack and Hidalgo County took the Colt World Series.

University of Houston was national collegiate golf champion and its Kermit Zarley was the individual champion. Texas Southern was National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics track and field champion for the second year in a row.

Pan American College of Edinburg swept the NIAA tennis championships—team, singles by Don Russell and doubles by Russell and Jerry Wortelboer.

In tennis Mrs. Karen Susman of San Antonio was singles champion at Wimbledon and teamed with Jean Moffitt of Long Beach to win the doubles. Chuck McKinley of Trinity University was national indoor tennis singles king.

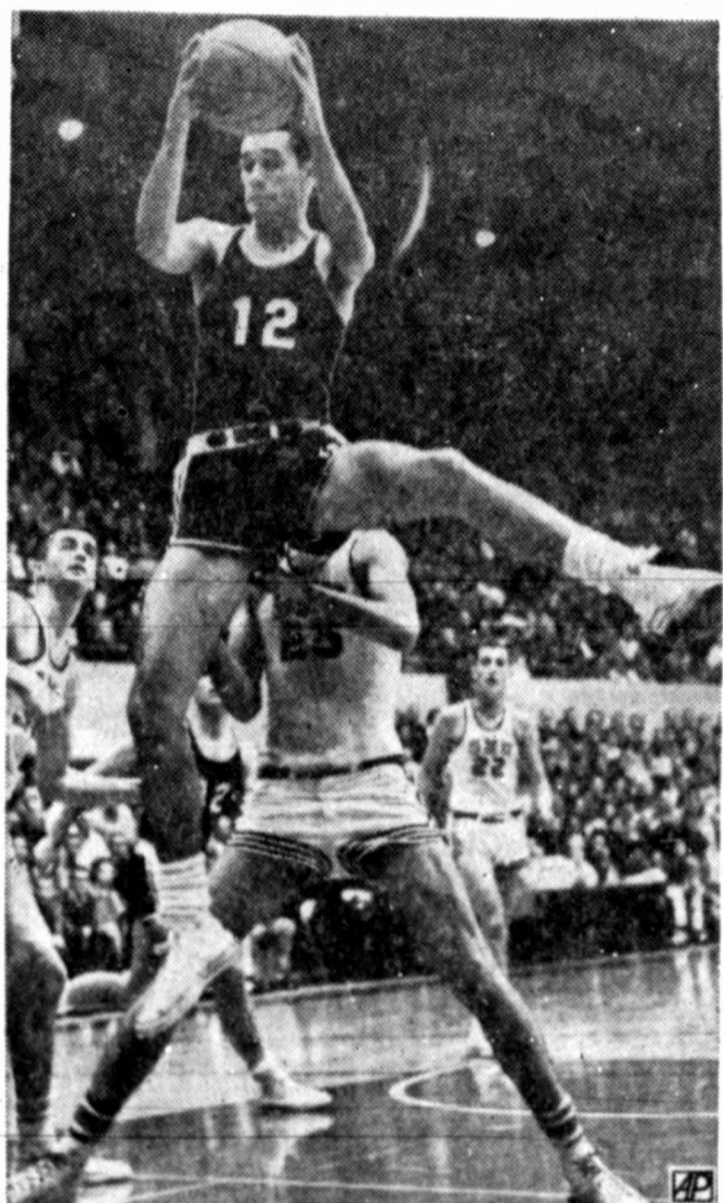

Barbara Galeher of Dallas again won the National AAU Tumbling Championship. It was her eighth title.
Mickey Wright, who lives in Dallas, was the women's titleholders champion, also the women's leading money-winner in golf.

Along the golf trail four Texans and one who played at a Texas college won major tournaments.
Bobby Nichols of Midland took the Houston and St. Petersburg, Fla. Opens. Dave Marr of Houston was victorious at the Azalea Open at Wilmington, N. C. Jacky Cupit of Longview won the Western Open. Billy Maxwell of Odessa won the Dallas Open.

Phil Rodgers, who played at University of Houston, won the Los Angeles and Tucson Opens.
The Texas League was up in attendance for the first time in several years, with most of the clubs making a profit. El Paso was a new member and it proceeded to win the full season pennant. Tulsa won the playoffs, however.

Texas won the most championships in the Southwest Conference, taking football and baseball. Southern Methodist tied Texas Tech for the basketball championship and A&M won golf, Rice tennis and Baylor track.

It was not a big year for Texas but the state showed it still had it in a number of sports.

High Man On The Rebound

Jim Magness (12) University of Arkansas forward, leaps high to take a rebound which he promptly pushed through the basket for two points in the game against Southern Methodist University in Dallas. David Siegmund (25) SMU center, and another SMU player, were too late to prevent the score. Arkansas won the Southwest Conference opener, 73-71. (AP Wirephoto).

LUBBOCK—On January 19th at the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum track fans will see a duel of conference champions when Baylor University, 1962 Southwest Track and Field champion, throws its best runners and field men against the Big Eight champion, the University of Oklahoma. This meeting will take place at the second annual Lubbock Amateur Invitational Track and Field meet, sponsored by the Lubbock Amateur Athletic Association and Texas Tech College, in Lubbock. Baylor will be led by its Southwest Conference sprinter champion, Bill Kemp. Oklahoma will be led by its national broadjump champion and sprinter, Anthony Watson.

Amarillo College Uponds Odessans

ODESSA — Amarillo College shocked Odessa College in a Western Conference basketball game 69-61.
Bob Dibler led the Badgers in scoring with 22 points, the same number bucketed by Ed Gardner of Odessa. The two teams were tied at half time, 25-25.
The win left Amarillo with a 2-1 record in league play. The Badgers had previously been beaten by Frank Phillips and lost to San Angelo. Odessa is 1-1.

Clear Creek Win Streak At End

DEER PARK — The Clear Creek Wildcats dropped a district basketball game Friday night after 79 consecutive 12-AAA victories.
The Deer Park Deer beat Clear Creek 44-43 as Robert Womack dropped in two free throws for Deer Park with 15 seconds left in the game.

Longhorns Open 28-Game Baseball Season March 1

Pitchers and catchers of the 1963 Big Spring High School baseball team will launch workouts in about two weeks, coach Roy Baird announced Saturday.
The remainder of the squad will fall out around Feb. 1. The Steers open play here March 1 at 4 p.m., at which time they oppose the Snyder Tigers.
Baird, who will be assisted by Dan Bustamante again, said the Longhorns will play what appears to be the best schedule in history.
The Steers have 12 games, including two double headers, prior to the March 21-22-23 Uvalde tournament and the beginning of conference play. In all, the Bovines will play 26 games, plus at least two at Uvalde.
Baird has lined up games for the Steers against such teams as Lubbock Monterey and Lubbock High, as well as Colorado City, Brownfield and Snyder.

Queens Clash With Kittens

HCJC's Jayhawk Queens return to basketball play here Monday night, at which time they play Abilene Christian College. Game time is 7 p.m.
The Queens, coached by Anna Smith, have won two straight games. They vanquished Odessa College and Hardin-Simmons University in that order.
Girls playing for HCJC this season include Pat Saunders, Garden City, roving guard; Brenda Cook, Junction, roving forward; Marie Putman, Westbrook, forward; Laura June Whitworth, Rocksprings, forward; Sue Parker, Garden City, guard; Janice Hudson, Monahans, guard; Tanya Boatright, Westbrook, guard; Anita Rees, Westbrook, guard; and Marilyn McReavy, Big Lake, forward. Ann Klepper, Roscoe, is the manager.

Shofner Named Pro Athlete

DALLAS — Del Shofner, the former Baylor star who became a pass-receiving great for the New York Giants of the National Football League, has been picked as pro Athlete of the Year in Texas.
He beat out Abner Haynes, the great halfback of the Dallas Texans while Pete Rummels of the Boston Red Sox now with Houston was selected for third place. Rummels was American League batting champion.
Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankee slugger who lives in Dallas, was chosen for fourth. Len Dawson, quarterback of the Dallas Texans, was fifth.
The naming of Shofner meant all honorees of the year had been announced by the association.
All will receive plaques at the sports achievement dinner of the Dallas YMCA in February.

Solons Likely To Consider Game Proposal

By The Associated Press
Texas legislators, going in session Tuesday, may be asked to consider a bill calling for creation of a new Game, Fish and Parks Department. Gov.-elect John Connally is reported to favor the idea of combining the parks with the Game Department.
The proposed new department would be headed by a governing board, supervising a $17,500 a year executive director. Most money for operations would come from special game and fishing funds.

Also expected to receive legislative attention is an anti-netting bill being prepared by Sen-elect Criss Cole and a Houston lawyer, E. W. Newman. Cole said the purpose of the bill is to stop some netting in Texas' coastal waters, an activity which he says is hurting tourist trade.
Many city and regional chambers of commerce are supporting the measure as well as lawmakers from the coastal areas.

A high seas adventure undertaken by five Texans was in its fifth day Saturday. The Texans plan to make a sailing cruise from Portugal to the West Indies, generally along a route travelled by Christopher Columbus in 1492.
The adventurous group, composed of amateurs, includes Tom Miller, Dr. Stanley Clayton and Bobby Sittles, all of Denison. Dr. Bill Mize of Sherman and Lewis Chandler of Dallas.
They are to be joined by another crew member—a veteran of Atlantic crossings—who will navigate the 55-foot cutter-rigged sloop from Lisbon to the Canary Islands.

A recent survey showed that an estimated 21,000 outboard motors for boats were sold in Texas during 1962, a total which placed Texas fourth on a nationwide scale. New York, Michigan and California ranked ahead of Texas.
The leading Texas city, in increase of sales, was Houston, up 25 per cent over 1961. Houston ranked 11th nationally in sales. Other Texas cities in the top 50 were Dallas 17th, San Antonio 39th, and Fort Worth 49th.

Deer hunters are having trouble with the state law governing the killing of spike deer. On a recent hunt three lawyers spent considerable time thumbing through a Game Department handbook trying to decide if a spike killed in the county in which they were hunting was legal.
Finally, they telephoned the warden and found out it was. The confusion stems from the fact that killing any male antlerless deer is illegal in one county, killing spike bucks is against the law in three counties while everywhere else this animal is legal game.

Texas may place its claim as the nation's No. 1 white-tail deer state now that figures of a National Wildlife Federation survey are out. The survey showed Texas hunters bagged 204,000 of the animals in 1961, running far ahead of second-place Minnesota whose hunters got 106,500.
Word comes from Southeast Texas that the market on nutria, the large rat-like animal, has opened this season at the highest level yet. One of the state's leading buyers and processors in that area says he is paying 60 cents for every nutria he can buy—those that are either trapped or shot in the head and that measures at least 25 inches, not including the tail.
Nutria, not on a game list in Texas, may be shot or trapped year-around by anyone. No license is required.

Higher Postal Rates Go Into Effect On Monday

By SAM BLACKBURN
History is repeating itself.

In 1847 when the first United States postage stamp was issued, the rate for regular mail was five cents.

This rate prevailed until 1851. Monday, patrons of the U.S. mail will once again be required to pay five cents to have their letters delivered.

E. C. Boatler, postmaster, warned all citizens to be certain they place an extra penny of postage on all first class letters starting Jan. 7. Otherwise, their letters will be one-cent postage due.

At the same time, it was announced that airmail postage, which has been a bargain at seven cents, now will cost eight cents an ounce. First class postal cards, too which have been going through the mails with a 3-cent stamp will require an extra penny. Air mail postal cards will cost six cents instead of five cents.

The big clip, of course, will be for regular first class mail.

The increase voted by Congress for postal rates is designed to absorb a pay hike granted to 1,600,000 federal workers.

ONLY "BARGAIN"
The only bargain that Boatler had to cite was that the stamp booklets of the new 5 and 8-cent stamps will be sold for their face value of $1 and $2 per book.

In the past, the department has charged an extra penny for a booklet of 24 of the old 4-cent stamps cost the patron one cent more than face value—97 cents instead of 96. The new ones will drop the penny extra charge.

"In addition," said Boatler hopefully, "the new booklets have a handy postage chart on the inside cover."

The new stamps which will be put in general use are on hand in generous abundance at the local office.

The 5-center is to be a grayish blue stamp featuring a portrait of George Washington. The first U.S. postage stamp ever issued was in a 5-cent denomination, which featured a picture of Benjamin Franklin. That appeared on July 1, 1847.

The portrait of Washington is from a bust by the French artist, Jean Houdon, in 1785. It is regarded by contemporaries of Washington as the best likeness of the first president ever produced. (This same portrait was used by the post office for its 3-cent issue which appeared in 1851. Collectors will find the reappearance of this particular picture of interest.)

FAMILIAR FACE
It's nothing new for Washington to have his portrait on a stamp. There have been seventy different postage stamps bearing his likeness printed since 1847—about 405 billion of these 70 stamps have been issued.

The issuance of the general use 5-center with the new picture of Washington will mean that the current 4-centers which also have his portrait will have to be changed. Instead of George's picture, the new 4-cent stamps will feature the portrait of Andrew Jackson.

Nor, for that matter, is the new Washington five likely to serve long as the common stamp. The postal authorities had hoped to introduce a bicolor 4-cent stamp featuring the U.S. flag when the new rates became effective. However, the job developed some technical problems, and the new gray blue Washingtons had to be substituted. The five issue will appear later this spring.

GREAT SURPLUS
Meanwhile, Boatler is wondering what will be done with the more than a million copies of the old purple 4-centers he has on hand. There will be little demand for these stamps hereafter. Patrons aren't inclined to bother about sticking two stamps.

A quick check Friday of the value of the post office showed 353,000 of the regular 4-cent Lan-coln purples; 55,000 standard stamped envelopes; 5,000 of the window type stamped envelopes; 106,000 4-cent stamps in books; 45,000 of the 4-centers in coils. Also on hand—equally dead stock after Monday—were 9,000 of the old style 7-cent airmail stamps and 25,000 of 3-cent postal cards.

It is possible, when the new rates become fully operative, that the Post Office Department may issue an order for the post offices to destroy surplus 4-cent stamps.

Fire would be the best possible way to insure their complete destruction.

If this plan should be adopted, the bonfire here would represent a paper value of $41,000 going up in smoke.

BUSINESSMAN'S BREAK

Boatler pointed out that it was decided to delay introducing the new postage rates until Jan. 7 to help business mailers.

Zoning Change Asked For Kentwood Area

Two public hearings have been called for the meeting of the Big Spring Planning and Zoning Commission Jan. 8 at 5:15 p.m. The meeting was set up to Jan. 8 because the regular first-Tuesday this year was New Year's Day.

Al Milch is requesting a zone change from single family residential area to multi-family zoning for a tract in the southeast corner of the intersection of East Twenty-fifth street and Birdwell Lane. The four-acre tract is in the Kentwood Addition.

J. W. Thorpe requests a change from R-2 residential to neighborhood service zoning on lots 11, 12, and 13 in Block 1 of the Thorpe Addition. The property is located on Wasson Road north of the miniature golf course.

All owners of property located within 200 feet of the property affected have been notified that they may appear before the commission to approve or oppose the zone changes.

Presidents and Resolutions

It is said that resolutions are made to be broken. Contrary to this adage there are those who have set their goals for 1963, and each will strive to attain his objective. Not the least of these will be the new presidents taking office and assuming their duties in various women's organizations. On behalf of fellow members, each new officer is resolved to make her mark in the city's civic, social and cultural life.

All Are Agreed On Subtle Fit

Previews of next season's American collections indicate that designers are toying with a variety of silhouettes, each stamped with the individual convictions of its creator. All, though, come out flatly for a subtle fit that glides gently over the body—it is neither tightly molded nor loose—according to Evelyn Livingston, fashion writer for the Chicago Daily Tribune. Lengths are beginning to inch down. Most hems cover the knee-cap the level which chic Chicago women have preferred for several seasons now. But some avant-garde designers, such as Ronald Arney of Burke Arney, are dropping them as much as four inches.

CASUAL FOR DAY
The majority of day time clothes are still on the casual wave length, cut with the kind of effortless ease that fashion-great Norman Norell describes as "going with hair that's a little out of place." Generally, the idea seems to be to look as if you aren't really trying too hard. Suits often have jackets that pull over the head, and are shaped like sweaters or fishermen's smocks. Many town costumes, on the other hand, are definitely curvy. Longer, more shapely jacket suits brought close to the body with seams, belts or bias cuts; stride just as surely into spring as the more casual sweater and skirt varieties. And short jackets should not be counted out either.

Apron Holder

Even an apron can profit by the princess cut that lends it a becoming flare. No. 3249 comes in small, medium and large sizes. In medium size, bib apron and one pot holder take 2 1/4 yards of 35-inch fabric; short apron and one pot holder, 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch. ### Teen-Agers Should Break With The Old

The teen-agers' New Year's resolution, according to Frances Borzello of the Chicago Tribune, is to forsake the tried and true for the untried and the new.

1963 should see the teen-ager miss breaking with her bubble hair-do, stiletto heels, tight-sheath and sweater and skirt set.

In their place she should cultivate dresses that suggest, not shout about, her shape, bulky V-necked sweaters that look as though they're ready for a game of tennis, skirts that are styled along A lines and shoes with down-to-earth stacked or little heels.

Ten Young Women Of The Year

Ten young women were honored for signal achievement during the past year by Mademolse magazine. They are (1) Sidna Brower, student journalist; (2) Stephanie Merton Russell, social worker; (3) Maggy Reese, fashion designer; (4) Charlayne Hunter, student; (5) Barbara Harris, actress; (6) Regina Sarfaty, opera singer; (7) Joan Brown, painter; (8) Margaret Smith, tennis player; (9) Ann Eckels Ballie, space scientist; (10) Edna O'Brien, writer.

Student Journalist Is Named As One Of Ten Young Women

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Sidna Brower, a senior at the University of Mississippi and editor of her college newspaper, The Mississippi, has been selected by Mademolse magazine as one of the ten 1962 Merit Award winners.

Miss Brower, 21, a native of Memphis, courageously published a widely reprinted editorial pleading for moderation during the riots over the admission of Negro student James Meredith. She also started a drive to establish a $1,000 scholarship in memory of Paul Guilhard, the French reporter killed at Ole Miss. Miss Brower plans to get her master's in journalism and later pursue some aspect of the field.

SOCIAL WORKER

Stephanie Merton Russell, a 23-year-old psychiatric social worker, is working on her master's degree at the University of Southern California. Her interest in mental illness started in college when she was a leader of a group of Harvard and Radcliffe students who set up and operated Wellmet, a halfway house for schizophrenic patients, a project that has opened new avenues of approach to the treatment of mental illness. After graduating magna cum laude in 1961 from Radcliffe, Mrs. Russell did graduate work in the field of psychiatric social work at Simmons and continued her association with Wellmet before moving to California.

DESIGNER

Maggy Reese, 29, is a young California designer with a sense of humor. Her clothes—in which the spirit of Claire McCardell breathes—are casual, slightly kooky and very young. Her imagination designing flare came to the fore when she turned table cloths into wacky dinner dresses. By now, she is very much in business, coast-to-coast, though she claims it is as much fun as hard work ("clothes are spoofs").

PRECEDENT SET

Charlayne Hunter, 20, will graduate from college in June—the first Negro woman to do so at the University of Georgia. Her admission in 1959 stirred up an ugly tempest of resistance among white segregationist students—a lonely frightening experience that Miss Hunter went through with determined courage, crossing a frontier in American history. She has since won general admiration: a scholarship student, she has been on the honor roll, the dean's list, has won a national sorority award, works on the college newspaper, and looks forward to a career in journalism.

ACTRESS

Barbara Harris, 25, has spent about a year playing the school-girl siren, Rosalie, in Arthur Kopit's off-Broadway production, "Oh Dad, Poor Dad," and at the same time has managed to put in some New York appearances with "The Second City," the improvisational group she got her real start with in Chicago. She has appeared on television on "Playhouse 90" and the "Alfred Hitchcock Show." Besides rave notices, she has won an Obie award as the best actress of 1961-62 and is going into rehearsal in the Rodgers-Lerner musical, "I Picked a Daisy" next fall.

SINGER

Regina Sarfaty, a 24-year-old mezzo-soprano, made her debut at Town Hall in New York in 1958 after studying on a scholarship at Juilliard. Since then she has sung such roles as Cherubino much the youngest painter represented in the Whitney's Young America exhibition, and has had one-man shows both at home and in New York. Her work is included in a number of collections such as the Museum of Modern Art, the Albright Gallery in Buffalo and the Williams College Museum. Besides this precocious success, she teaches art at the San Francisco Art Institute, and is married to a sculptor and has a son.

SPORTSWOMAN

Margaret Smith, a 20-year-old Australian girl, whose home is in Melbourne, is generally considered the finest woman tennis player in the world. Though she has not yet won at Wimbledon, she is a marvelous server and volleyer, and has the best ground strokes of any girl now playing. She holds national titles in Australia, Italy, France and Switzerland; has won important championships in the U. S., including Forest Hills last fall. Unless she gets married, she expects to go on playing tennis, but "either way, I'll be happy."

SPACE SCIENTIST

Ann Eckels Ballie, 27, is a graduate of Middlebury College where she majored in mathematics. In 1959, she was co-author of a paper in which deviations she had observed in the orbit of the U. S. satellite Vanguard I, were used to prove that the earth is not round, but pear-shaped. She was then working in the Theoretical Division of the Institute of Space Studies; she is now at Goddard Space Flight Center in Maryland. She is married and the mother of two children.

NOVELIST

Edna O'Brien, 29, was born in the west of Ireland and at seventeen went to Dublin to study pharmacy. Later, married to a novelist, she had two sons and wrote two novels, "The Country Girls" (1960) and "The Lonely Girl" (1962) reflect, with romantic sensibility, humor, and sensuous verisimilitude, the texture and content of a life much like her own. She has since written two plays which are being produced in London. The Lonely Girl is to be filmed in Ireland next spring.

Questions Continue About Wig Wearing

Not too long ago, wigs came into their own in the United States. However, many women still question the practicality of their use. Do wigs really look natural? Will I know how to care for one? These are examples of questions that arise in the mind of a woman considering the purchase of a wig. Wig authorities answer some of the questions asked most often.

Is a wig hot or heavy on the head? Definitely not. The entire weight of the best wig is less than 4 1/2 ounces, much lighter than the lightest hat. Hold up the wig to the light and note that the spacing between the wefts allows the air to circulate for cool comfort. The foundation of the wig is lacy, light and airy.

Where does the hair come from? It is purchased from peasant girls in Europe and other low-economy countries. The average wig represents a three-year growth. The girls who contract to sell their hair protect the quality by wearing kerchiefs to avoid the sun's rays. They never use lacquer or other chemicals on their hair.

How are wigs cleaned? The 100 per cent human hair wig must be cleaned professionally with a commercial wig-cleaning fluid. Can wigs be shampooed? No, because water may damage their delicate foundation.

Can wigs be colored? Yes, but only by an expert hair colorist. Color rinses can be put on and the color will be changed one to three shades. Frosting and tipping can be achieved. If tinting or bleaching is planned it is best to take a light shade and go dark rather than to take a dark shade and go lighter. All of these services must be done professionally because they are extremely intricate and require the professional touch.

Do wigs fade, oxidize or tend to change color? Yes, constant exposure to air and sun will fade a wig as it fades your own hair. Also, if a wig is not cleaned regularly, it will tend to discolor and deteriorate.

What is the life span of a wig? This depends upon how much the wig is worn and varies from six months to two years. If two wigs are purchased simultaneously, the life span of each wig may be doubled or tripled by alternating from time to time.

Can I use a hair spray? Yes, a very light type of spray can be used in moderation, and from a distance. Never use lacquer.

Is a wig block necessary? Yes, because all wigs tend to shrink. Whenever a wig is not being worn, it should be placed tightly over a wig block in the same size and pinned down securely.

Will a wig come off accidentally? Not if it is properly fitted. It can be worn even while riding in a convertible.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MOLLI HARTZOG

Year 1962 went out in a beautiful orange haze from an over-supply of kumquats. And, as if that weren't enough, 1963 was ushered in with gourmet aplomb... with help from Newsoms grocery store which supplied an enormous barrel full of crushed ice and unshucked oysters fresh from the coast. Thus, we were able to arm ourselves for the coming tribulations with black-eyed peas, hopping-john and oysters on the half shell. So well fortified, we shall turn ourselves to the coming schedule of events.

Tuesday, Jan. 8, is the date for the OWC board meeting. Wednesday, Jan. 9, is the winter spring league of OWC bowlers will meet at 12:30 noon, at the Bowl-A-Rama. No roll-offs will be held then, and the pre-established averages will be used, so any new leaguers are invited to call the president, Mrs. John Nichols, or the secretary, Mrs. Robert Sumner, before that date. Other new officers in the league are Mrs. Rex Fryer, vice president; Mrs. J. M. Wilson, treasurer; Mrs. John Seaton, reporter; and Mrs. D. L. Frederick, sergeant at arms.

Thursday, Jan. 10, at 12:30 noon, the January OWC luncheon will be held at the Officers Club. Sponsored and planned this time by the 3561st Student Squadron Wives, the program will be an informative talk on interior decoration and planning, given by Jack Watkins from Good Housekeeping Shop. Watkins intends to tailor his advice to the specific needs and interests of the Air Force wife, or something similar to "Gracious Living in Tent and Igloo." In reality, he will discuss color, arranging and grouping, carpeting and drapery with many hints for planning moves and settling in different types of houses. In addition, there will be four door prizes from Good Housekeeping Shop.

Looking out our window on Ent Drive, we can point to quite a few houses which will be vacated within the next few months as friends and neighbors will be transferred to other bases. The first house to stand emptied will be that of Capt. and Mrs. J. W. Harper. Capt. Harper has left already for Stead AFB, Nevada, where he will undergo special training. Mrs. Harper and her children will join him soon at Elgin AFB, Florida, which will be their next home for a while. One of Mrs. Harper's moving problems will be the dispersal of a family of kittens. The Gray Lady Corps at Webb will especially miss Mrs. Harper's leadership, as well as her long tireless efforts to schedule volunteer hours in order to please everyone concerned. Among the former Webb dwellers Mrs. Harper will find at Elgin AFB will be Mrs. Joseph Riley and Mrs. Harris Wilhoite.

Mrs. Boots Armstrong from Waco visited her daughter, Mrs. James Hayes, and her family over New Year, and attended with them the New Year's Eve celebration held by Red Flight. The party was given in a three room suite at the Sands Motel, and was catered by that establishment including the midnight breakfast. During the festivities, Mrs. G. F. Bracke was called to the telephone amid much excitement to hear her mother's voice from Canada wishing her "Happy New Year." And the final festive touch came when Capt. and Mrs. C. W. Semler arrived in a flurry of confetti, nearly inundating the other celebrants. About 40 people were there to hail the new year.

Luncheon Is Served At Club

Mrs. Jack Irons, retiring president of the Ladies Golf Association at the Big Spring Country Club, turned the Friday meeting over to new officers, headed by Mrs. Zollie Boykin. Others are Mrs. Harold Talbot, vice president, Mrs. R. L. Heath, secretary, and Mrs. Harold Hall, treasurer.

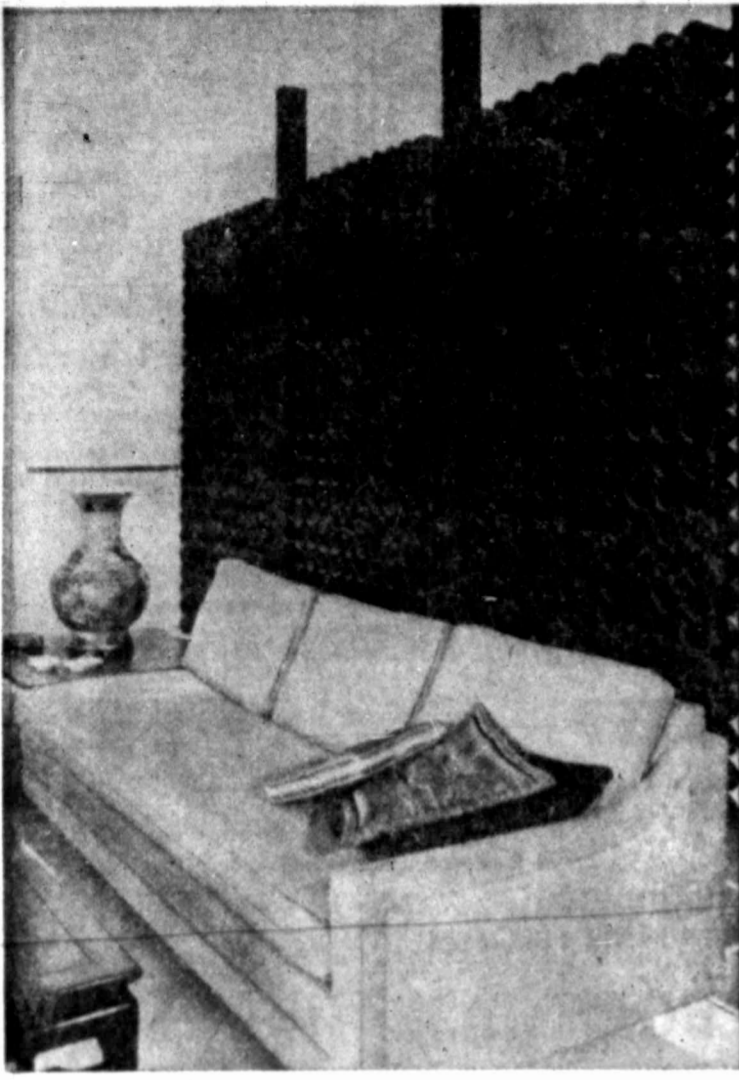

Mrs. Morris Patterson presented a gift to Mrs. Irons on behalf of the association.

Mrs. Boykin named committee chairmen as Mrs. Bill Edwards, social; Mrs. Elmo Wasson, party bridge; Mrs. Wasson, duplicate; Mrs. Jack Magee, golf; Mrs. H. W. Smith, ways and means; Mrs. R. H. Weaver, swimming pool; Mrs. Jim Zike, telephone.

Thirty-five members and guests attended the regular luncheon meeting. Mrs. Dan Greenwood, Mrs. Harold G. Andrews and Mrs. Charles Marcum of Southern Pines, N. C. were guests. Mrs. R. W. Andrews received the door prize.

After-Fives Are Body Conscious

After-five dresses for 1963 are body conscious. Some curve about and delineate the figure with bias cuts and seaming. Others achieve the same effect with elevated waistlines and midriff emphasis. Softness, shirring and graceful drapery are on everyone's list. For evening the ankle-length gown continues to dominate.

Can You Guess?

What is the secret of this setting? It is the divider behind the sofa. You can journey from Canada to New Canaan by canal boat without finding a more unique building material. Those black cylinders are common, garden variety tin cans soldered together, but they do provide a good looking, low cost solution to a structural need.

She Follows Sweet Smell To Success

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A positive thinker herself, mink-swathed Suzanne Thierry is certain any woman can get what she wants if her pores exude the proper mixture of aroma and confidence.

Admittedly, the beautiful, brown-eyed, auburn-haired founder of one of France's most expensive fragrances ($30 per ounce) has a one-scent mind, but she makes a lot of sense.

To exude properly by Suzanne's standards a woman must practically cover her arms and nape of the neck with the stuff. No skimpy dabs, please.

"American women don't wear nearly enough," she says with hardly a trace of accent. "They use an ounce in a year. A French woman uses that much in a month. She wouldn't think of leaving the house without it."

A lady must wear enough to be aware of her own fragrance, claims the petite Parisienne. Then even though she may be a little musclebound, she'll think "I'm feminine and alluring." Positive thinkers know that these confident thoughts, send pulses into the atmosphere, charging other people's minds—among them men's—into thinking she's feminine and alluring. And, voila, she's got her man.

MIND OVER MATTER

Suzanne doesn't have HER man, but you know at a glance that if there was one she wanted, she'd have him. "I travel to this country so much," she says of her single status. "And you know Frenchmen. I wouldn't trust one at home by himself."

Shuttling across the Atlantic to promote her perfumes began for Suzanne in 1963 when chemists at last found the haunting, lasting scent she was seeking to produce. She makes 35 trips to America in a year.

Although she had decided upon a perfume manufacturing career immediately after World War II, it took 8 years and 5,000 different formulas of flowers and spices, and lots of money before her educated nose told her she had the right aroma.

"It was so exciting after so many, many discouraging experiments," she recalls.

Born and educated at high schools and college in Orleans, France, 40-ish Suzanne educated her tiny turn-up nose as a girl by stealing and mixing her grandmother's fragrances.

Today to the consternation of some of her friends, she can sniff and name their scents with the accuracy of a wine-taster.

ADVICE

Sometimes her scholarly nose is a trifle offended because women aren't getting the most out of their perfume bottles. For them she has this advice:

Blondes should wear light, delicate scents leaving the heavier, exotic ones to brunettes.

The perfume, although used lavishly, should be a discreet aroma that does not impose.

She should not wear a variety of perfumes but should develop a perfume personality or trademark by sticking to the same fragrance for a month at a time.

While she should encourage perfume gifts from her man, she should be certain he knows the kind she uses.

She should apply cologne after a shower, when her pores are open, and perfume in the morning, in the evening, and especially when she's weary.

She should never use perfume as a camouflage for cleanliness.

Because the chemical structure of any perfume is sensitive to light, she should cover a glass bottle after use. Long opened perfumes should be discarded because they sour after continued air exposure.

Stars Tell

Stars Looking Ahead Voice Resolutions

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—The eye of a new year is the time for resolutions—for plans to make dreams come true and to overcome weaknesses. What resolutions are being made by Hollywood stars?

Shirley McLaine's career is soaring. She owns a lovely new home in the Valley. She is rumored to be a hot candidate for an Oscar for her performance in "Two for the Seesaw." What will Shirley strive for in 1963?

"We can't stand still," Shirley asserted. "We either have to advance or decline. It is pleasant to look back at the things you have overcome, but you don't grow by admiring yourself. I am going to continue to work to keep from having violent swings of moods. I wear myself out soaring up into the clouds and dropping 'boom' to the bottom."

Natalie Wood is another actress who has had a wonderful year. What will she wish and work for this coming year?

"It is a sign of immaturity to want everyone to like you," Natalie declared, "but I have to learn not to be annoyed by unpleasant and untrue things that are printed about me. People gossip and always will, so my resolution is that I will never participate in this destructive indoor sport."

Rock Hudson holds an enviable position in the hearts of his fans. His close friends will tell you his personality has not changed although he's a star.

"I don't think they could be considered new resolutions," Rock replied. "I am still working on the same problems. I find it difficult to be relaxed around strangers. It sounds silly to call myself shy, but I have to admit I am more comfortable with a few people I know well than with large gatherings. Some people are poised and at home wherever they are, and I hope some day I'll learn their secret and use it."

Audrey Hepburn manages three careers superbly — actress, wife and mother. But such good fortune is never an accident. Behind it lies a philosophy and discipline to carry out ideals. "Happiness is not born out of a wish to please yourself, but others," she said. "When you make others happy you'll make yourself happy. This past year has been a wonderful one for me, and I wish for more of the same. We have to appreciate our good fortune because without gratitude, it will not remain with us."

At ABC-TV I found Fred Astaire rehearsing for one of his periodic television shows. "I'm not good at talking about resolutions and that sort of thing," he said with surprising shyness. "But my first wish is for world peace and for health for my family and myself. One has to keep working. I never quite realize or seem to get what I'm seeking, but I feel that it is high aims that count and not failure."

Mrs. Perry Hostess To Lomax Club

Mrs. Gene Perry was hostess for a meeting of the Lomax Home Demonstration Club in her home Thursday afternoon. Presiding for the first time was Mrs. Neil Fryar.

The program time was used to get acquainted with the yearbooks, naming hostess and committees. A new committee was named to work under personal service. Its members are Mrs. Jap Melvain and Mrs. Ralph Newman. Mrs. Melvain was also named as the new council delegate.

Refreshments were served to 12 members.

The next meeting of the group will have Mrs. Ralph Newman as hostess on Jan. 17.

Toweling Fashions

Cotton terry cloth conquers new fashion fields in 1963 resort collections, reports the National Cotton Council. The days of terry for towels only are gone and the era of terry in fashion at resorts and at home is here.

Woven and knitted terry go sophisticated in colors like subtle sepia and brilliant turquoise, and the shaggy and velvety texture of terry are ideal to show off new "avant garde" prints such as large abstracts, all over florals and bold stripes.

Cotton terry also interprets the fluid lines of today's styles. The loose fitting shift, for instance is striking in absorbent terry as a beach or poolside coverup or as an outfit for shopping and household chores.

A burnoose in bold abstract curvy and white stripe design illustrates the use of terry for high-fashion beach coverups. Topped by a voluminous hood, it is buttoned on the shoulders and falls to the ground in a long slim line.

Polaceks Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Polacek of Jal, N.M. were guests for New Year's Day in the home of Mrs. Lucy Bauer, and with other relatives.

Beach Sphnix

A glamorous burnoose features a bold curvy and white gargantuan print on cotton terry cloth. It adds a touch of glamour to beachwear.

Writer's Marital Work Is Inspiration To Many

Many were inspired while others were shocked when Mary Merryfield wrote about a marriage contract in her current series on "The New Woman and the Man in Her Life."

In response to her requests, a Waukegan couple compiled and submitted a contract for marriage taken from their class assignments in a "Marriage and Family" course offered by the Catholic Newman Foundation at the University of Illinois.

COMPANIONSHIP FIRST
Companionship—We will strive to be affectionate companions, sharing all of life's joys and sorrows.

Grievances—Each party will be willing to admit his mistakes. We will discuss our grievances before retiring so that each can give to the other the comfort, encouragement and loving solace he needs at the end of the day.

Sexual Relationships—We understand the differences in responses of man and wife. The husband will be affectionate, patient, and considerate of my wife in this relationship. I, the wife, will be responsive and receptive to my husband's efforts. We will consider intercourse the climax of a day of happiness, the final way of expressing our appreciation for each other.

CHILDREN
Procreating and Rearing Children—We shall attempt to beget as many children as Almighty God sees fit to entrust to our care.

We agree that each child's training must be planned with his particular needs and abilities in mind. We will treat each child as an individual, help him manifest his attributes, and accord him the respect and consideration due a human being. We will show our love and affection for him, but not to the extent that it fosters dependence in his later years.

In matters of discipline, we, the parents, will maintain a united front. . . . When physical punishment is required, we will never administer it in anger.

Religious Training—One of the main objectives of our marriage will be the establishing of a truly

Christian home. If at all possible, our children will attend schools in which religion is an integral part of the curriculum. The family will pray together and whenever possible will assist at mass and receive holy communion as a unit.

CONSIDERATION FOR ALL
Relationships With Others—Each of us agrees to be cordial to the other's friends and relatives and welcome them graciously in the home. . . . Only in extreme circumstances, such as dire financial distress, will we live with either set of in-laws. When the parents of either of us become aged and in need of care, we will welcome them into our home, but with the understanding that they are honored guests, not the head of the heart of our home.

Financial Matters—Since we will be one spiritually and physically, we consider joint ownership of properties the normal and desirable objective, however, in some instances, title in properties will rest wherever the best tax advantage may be gained.

We recognize the husband's legal and moral obligation to support the family. The wife will seek work outside the home only insofar as it is compatible with her duties to the other members of the family.

The budgeting of expenditures will be a cooperative effort. However, since the husband is more experienced in financial matters and since he is the head of the family, the final decision in all such matters will be his.

We will try to establish a savings program as soon as possible. One of the purposes for these savings will be the purchase of a home. We will avoid extensive purchasing of nonessential items on installment payments.

RECREATIONAL PLEASURE
Recreations and Hobbies—Common recreations will be one of the bonds which will unite our family.

This does not prohibit, however, participation by members of the family in activities which are of special interest to them.

Conclusion—We will review this contract from time to time, at which times additions and clarifications will be made as necessary. It is understood that all agreements which pertain to the essential objectives of marriage will never be changed.

We further agree that when any problem becomes too great for us to handle, we will seek the advice of a priest, marriage counselor or other qualified person.

Fashions For The Youngsters

There is no need for little girls to yearn to play dress-up in mother's clothes. Not when they can snare some of the best grown-up design talent for themselves. In the past year the label lineup was so impressive that daughter could easily be the trend-setter in the family.

Helen Lee, established children's designer, has the leading lady of the tender-age group, Caroline Kennedy, among her followers.

Custom designing shows big promise as part of the general evolution in young girl's fashion. In this country,

December The Month For Webb Weddings

By JANET POWELL

The song "It's June in January" would have to be changed to "It's June in December" to apply to the student squadron at Webb Air Force Base. December was a month for weddings, and as a result, Big Spring will be gaining some new residents.

Six brides and the wives of Class 64-D were welcomed to the OWC at the "Hi and Bye" coffee January 3. Members of 64-B, and in particular Mrs. Thos Irving, deserve credit for planning the coffee.

The five new wives of Class 63-H were honored at a "come-as-you-are" breakfast given by Mrs. C. R. Thomas on the morning of Jan. 4. The brides are Mrs. J. D. Arnold from Michigan, Mrs. C. G. Hofeich from New York, Mrs. T. G. Lockhart from West Virginia, Mrs. R. G. Wallin from California and Mrs. D. T. Wellington from Indiana. The surprised guests were served home made rolls and coffee cake, coffee and tea and spent a most pleasant morning.

A casual party last night honored 64-A newcomers, Mrs. B. M. Fox from Massachusetts, Mrs. J. C. Hauser from Colorado, Mrs. P. D. Robinson from Illinois and Mrs. R. S. Hopkins from Iowa.

Another new Big Springer in 64-D, Mrs. John R. Ames, recently arrived from Indiana to join her husband.

Two open houses for members of 64-D were held over the holidays. Hosts and hostesses were Capt. and Mrs. Donald Quackenbush and Capt. and Mrs. Kenneth Robinson.

Mrs. E. W. Boelter Sr. from Salt Lake City, Utah, left for home last Friday after visiting Lt. and Mrs. E. W. Boelter Jr. and seeing her new grandson, Sterling Keith.

The wives from each class in the student squadron who have the responsibility for reporting class news will meet with the new squadron reporter, Mrs. Arthur A. Powell, next Wednesday at 3 p.m. in her home at 220 Wright Street.

The student squadron wives are busy planning the OWC luncheon this week. The luncheon will be Thursday, Jan. 10. A $25 gift certificate from the Good Housekeeping Shop will be given away as a prize. Jack Watkins of the Good Housekeeping Shop will speak to the group.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

Sec. D Big Spring, Texas, Sun., Jan. 6, 1963 Sec. D

March Of Dimes Fund Drive Launched Here

The 1963 March of Dimes for Howard and Glasscock counties is now under way. The entire month of January, according to Mrs. H. H. Stephens, chapter director for the campaign, will be under heavy emphasis about the program and its goal.

"We have no set quota to meet," said the campaign director Saturday, "but we hope to raise at least $10,000 this year."

"After all, this is a particularly important year for the March of Dimes. It is the 35th anniversary of its creation and we would like to mark that date by a successful campaign."

SLOGAN

Mrs. Stephens was named campaign director by Rad Ware, chairman of the Howard-Glasscock Chapter of the National Foundation. The slogan for this year's drive is "give for the life of a child." The funds raised will be used to combat the crippling effects of birth defects, arthritis and polio.

"We will have about 10 major activities in this month's campaign," explained the director. "We have already begun our efforts. Mrs. Rube McNew is now placing 500 coin containers in stores and offices in the two counties. The public is invited to drop cash donations into these containers."

"Mrs. Jeanette Ware has addressed and mailed out 9,900 appeal letters, accompanied by self-addressed return envelopes, to many residents of the two counties."

"The women's clubs of the city are asked to have benefit coffees as they have in the past. Mrs. C. A. Horton is contacting the officers of each women's club and determining the dates these coffees will be held."

FEATURE

A special feature this year will be the March of Dimes Bowling tournament set for the latter part of January. Frosty Robinson is chairman of this event and is working out details.

Another feature being pushed to mark the 35th anniversary of the National Foundation is a bond sale. George Zachariah and Squeaky Thompson are in charge of this feature.

"The bonds are in $25 denominations," explained Mrs. Stephens. "These workers will endeavor to sell as many bonds as they can—each purchase meaning a $25 donation to the war on crippling diseases which handicap children."

Sometime during the month, an airlift event will be worked out and local fliers will take residents on flights over the area for a fee equal to their respective weights. All receipts will go to the March of Dimes.

MOTHER'S MARCH

The big event, Mrs. Stephens says, is the annual Mother's March.

"This annual feature is the real money raiser for the cause," she said. "The march is staged each January by the members of the Parent-Teachers Association chapters of the schools of the city and county. We expect about 400 mothers to take part in this year's march."

The mothers will make house-to-house calls the night of Jan. 21. The march begins at 7 p.m. Residents will be asked to leave their front porch lights burning and the campaigners will call at each house and collect donations for the polio campaign.

"It is shocking to know," observed Mrs. Stephens, "that 250,000 American babies are born each year with significant birth defects and thousands of youngsters are denied a normal childhood because of arthritis. The Foundation works to help these children—directly in many instances and indirectly by never-ending research to find ways to prevent these tragedies from occurring."

PROCLAIMED

Ware added his comment that he hoped the drive this year would be successful. Mayor George Zachariah has been asked to proclaim the entire month of January as March of Dimes Month in Big Spring.

More Polio

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The State Health Department said Saturday that 145 more paralytic polio cases were reported in Texas last year than in 1961. As of Dec. 29, the department said, Texas had 182 cases of paralytic polio, compared to 37 the previous year. Non-paralytic cases increased from 43 in 1961 to 60 last year.

Missionaries Assigned Here

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints has appointed two new Elders to direct the missionary activities of the Church in the West Texas area. They are Elder Earl Mullenax, Regional Counselor, and Elder Don Riggs, Traveling Elder.

Mullenax has been in missionary work in Texas for 21 months, and was recently transferred to West Texas from the Houston area. He is originally from Montana where he attended Northern Montana College majoring in Industrial Arts.

Riggs is from Utah and attended Brigham Young University where he studied sociology. Before being called to work with Mullenax, he was in Peconic.

The men worked temporarily in Midland, before making Big Spring their headquarters.

Bible Study Week Begins Jubilee Year At E. Fourth

Participating in the Southwest Bible study week, the East Fourth Baptist Church will this week launch its Jubilee Year.

Although the actual anniversary date of the founding of the church in 1913 does not come until Jan. 19 and the formal celebration of it until later in the year, the church is using the Bible study as a springboard for beginning its 51st year.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, Houston, for nearly 20 years pastor of the First Baptist Church here, is to be the principal speaker for the week, announced the Rev. Jack Stricklan, pastor.

Dr. O'Brien will teach the book of Matthew to adults and young people at 7 p.m. daily beginning on Monday. Starting at 10 a.m. Tuesday, he will teach the book of Job, one of his favorites. Likely, he has taught lessons from Job more often than any man in the Southwest. Since his retirement here a year and a half ago, Dr. O'Brien has been devoting

Former Judge Files For Peace Justice

LAMESA (SC) — Former Dawson County Judge R. F. Spraberry has filed for the $1-a-year job of justice of the peace, Precinct 1, Place 2.

A $1,000 fidelity bond has been recorded in the county clerk's office. The document was dated Dec. 31, 1962, the date Spraberry administered the oath of office to his successor, Leslie C. Pratt, who defeated Spraberry in last year's runoff election.

County Atty. Vernon D. Adcock indicated that Spraberry apparently filed for the position on the grounds that he received one write-in vote for justice of the peace in the Nov. 6, 1962 general election.

The fidelity bond notes that

Special Service Planned Tonight

Baptist Temple Church, Eleventh Place and Goliad, will observe a special New Year's Service tonight at 7:30 p.m. The ordinance of baptism and the Lord's Supper will be observed.

Larry Snodgrass, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Snodgrass, 4205 Parkway Road, will be baptized at the beginning of the service and will observe the Lord's Supper for the first time with the congregation.

The new pastor, Rev. James A. Puckett, will bring his New Year's sermon entitled "The Soul Winner's Reward." The Training Union, under the direction of Capt. R. J. Stricker, will begin at 6:15 p.m. The New Year's service begins at 7:30 p.m.

The nursery will be open for both services and the public is invited.

Parents Adopt Another Family

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — Food consumption is up considerably at the Harold Rowberry home.

Mrs. Rowberry has to use four gallons of milk a day and 10 pounds of flour a week to feed 11 children.

The Rowberrys, who have six children of their own, recently adopted five more.

The adopted children, ranging in age from 17 months to 17 years, were members of the same family. Their parents are divorced.

Rowberry is a yardmaster for the Union Pacific Railroad. Mrs. Rowberry works 5 1/2 days a week in a beauty shop attached to their house.

"The biggest problem," says Mrs. Rowberry, "is keeping all the socks matched."

New Officials Are Sworn In

GARDEN CITY (SC)—Two new Glascock County officials have been sworn in here along with half a dozen others who were re-elected.

Mrs. Lois Blalock, who is the first woman to serve as commissioner from Precinct No. 4, was sworn in along with J. W. Cox, Precinct No. 2, as a member of the commissioner's court.

Mrs. Jonnie L. Cybert, the other new official, took office as county treasurer.

Veteran of the officials is Mrs. Vena Lawson, county and district clerk, who is beginning her 23rd year. Others include Otto Dozier, county judge; Royce (Booger) Pruitt, sheriff and tax assessor; collector Fred J. Hoelscher and A. W. White, commissioners; C. W. (Pete) Underwood, justice of peace.

Sternor Rulings Due In Court

Wayne Burns, county attorney, intends to advocate sterner punishment in 1963 for repeater offenders who are handled through his office in county court.

He demonstrated his new policy Friday afternoon in the case of Frankie Boyd, charged with writing a worthless check. The woman pleaded guilty before Judge Lee Porter and Burns recommended 10 days in county jail and costs as punishment. Judge Porter followed the recommendation.

Earlier Friday, Burns had recommended 30 days in jail for another offender who had been before the court on other occasions.

Entering Solo In Flight Log

The first member of Class 63-H, 2nd Lt. Donald E. Lehtola, enters a solo in his flight log record book as flight instructor Capt. Wayne K. Heise looks on. Lt. Lehtola is from Laurium, Mich., and made his solo in a T-38 Talon Thursday afternoon.

Training Wing Reports 'Safe'

Operation "Home-Safe" project officer, Lt. Col. J. H. Crawford, and all commanders of the 3560th Pilot Training Wing were pleased to learn this week that Wing personnel went through both the Christmas and New Year's travel without a single traffic injury.

Local and long distance travel during the two holidays exceed (by estimate) more than one million miles.

The story was not a new one for the 3560th; for the past five years the Wing has chalked up injury-free reports covering the same period.

Tenant organizations did not fare so well; the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron reported one fatality; and the Weather Squadron, another Webb tenant sustained serious injury in a vehicle accident in California during the period.

Well, Not Everybody

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — When a man has eight pounds of hippopotamus meat, there is really only one thing to do: Share it.

That's exactly what Will Lucas, a Salt Lake City radio announcer, has in mind.

Shortly before Christmas, Lucas saw an Associated Press story that said Uganda wanted to push exports of hippo meat.

"A-ha," Lucas told his listeners, "Here's a Christmas present for the man who has everything — a nice leg of hippo."

As mail came in, he sent a telegram to the Uganda delegation at the United Nations, asking for samples.

The director of veterinary services and animal industry in Uganda sent him six cans of the meat and a telegram.

"Grateful of reaction in Mountain West," he said, "Inform me of likely demand."

Lucas hired a chef, rented a hotel banquet room and invited 20 friends to lunch next Thursday.

"I want to promote wider use of hippopotamus meat in Utah," Lucas said. "Doesn't everybody?"

Stanton Honor Students Named For December

By CAROLYN SPRINGER

We had to start back to school again Wednesday January 2, 1963. Everyone has made New Years resolutions and I think one of the most popular is to study harder.

The last days before the holidays some of Stanton High's former students were visitors.

Students of the Month for December have been announced. The girl and boy to receive this honor are Martha Johnson and Bob Stevenson. Congratulations go to Martha and Bob for being outstanding students at SHS.

Prizes have been awarded to the organizations having the best decorated doors. The freshmen won first place and received $5. Three dollars was awarded to the annual staff for the second place door. The sophomores received $2.00 for third place.

The boys "A" basketball team was entered in a tournament at Big Lake this weekend. They played several games during the holidays. The boys are coached by Harlan Dauphin.

Pastor's Father Dies Thursday

GARDEN CITY (SC)—The Rev. D. D. Smith, pastor of the Garden City Baptist Church, was called to Seagraves Thursday on learning of the death of his father, W. S. Smith, 91, of Loop.

Mr. Smith had lived at Loop for a long time.

Surviving him are two sons, Rev. D. D. Smith, Garden City, and Rev. Moody Smith, San Saba; seven daughters, Mrs. E. W. McElroy, Weatherford; Mrs. Clara Gresham, Wichita Falls; Mrs. C. L. Favor, Mineral Wells; Mrs. Ross Jones, Truth or Consequences, N.M.; Mrs. John Burnett, Odessa; Mrs. R. T. Mills, Seagraves; Mrs. B. W. Tate, Loop.

Net Earnings Reported Up

Net earnings for the first quarter of the current fiscal year, ended Nov. 30, 1962, were up 4.16 per cent according to R. Earl O'Keefe, chairman of the board of Southwestern Investment Co.

The increase resulted in earnings of 25 cents per share on the company's outstanding common stock, as compared with 24 cents for the first quarter last year. The number of outstanding shares are up slightly from the previous year.

Total volume for the quarter was $50,645,287, up from $39,867,494 for the first quarter last year, an increase of 27 per cent. Outstanding receivables for SIC stood at $108,774,357 on Nov. 30, 1962, up $4,900,152 from the end of the previous fiscal year, Aug. 31, 1962.

A Devotional For The Day

I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named, that he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man. (Ephesians 3:14-16.)

PRAYER: Our Father, teach us to be concerned with the deepest needs of others. Use us to nourish the hungry spirits of those about us. This we humbly ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Planning A Road Program

Not the least of the challenges facing the new Howard County administration is that of bringing a unified road program back into focus, with sound planning and execution according to public needs and in keeping with firm economy.

The county's road and bridge fund wound up its last fiscal year in October with about $29,000 deficit. Some of this could be accounted for in unusual maintenance and repair costs because of heavy rains; in some pay raises which were not in the original budget; and in unanticipated overtime costs.

There were other factors, however, that should not have come about. There was an administrative mistake on the handling of at least one road paving job that took $6,000 of the county's lateral road money.

Howard County has had—in and out—to good a record in building a unified road program dating back to the late Charlie Sullivan's tenure) to let it retard any further than it has of late.

Much of the work done in the past couple of years was based on engineering developed before Engineer Walter Parks left. So, on the face of it, some good projects continued.

Now the county is running out of engineering. This ought to be the first task tackled. There is no substitute for this, and only adequately trained people can accomplish it.

The Herald believes that the majority of thinking people in the county have demonstrated time and time again, that they will back a properly organized, properly executed unified road program.

And they deserve it. They need to get the most out of their tax money. Hazardous direction at the top will not get it for them.

We hope court members will see the prompt need for putting sound programming into the whole road program.

Priority, Please

The city has been making a series of traffic studies, and one of them has been on the Goliad-Marcy intersection. We have no information on the results of the traffic count, but we would be surprised if it does not show a substantial volume of traffic at that point during the day.

Previously the city had included the stretch on Goliad from the Goliad Junior High southward to an intersection with Marcy in its projected continuous paving program.

There are many places in the city where paving is urgently needed, but off hand we cannot recall any which has so much to commend it for priority as this bit of Goliad Street.

First of all there is the matter of currently heavy traffic, which we are persuaded would be heavier still if it were not for the roughness of the existing gap.

In the second place, this is a key road because it funnels much of the traffic going to and from Goliad Junior High and College Heights Elementary Schools. It also is an arterial road which furnishes the most direct route from Highland South Addition to the city. It carries also much of the traffic bound from the southwest areas of the city toward the Senior High School, and not a little of that bound for the eastern portions of the business area.

Thus, we hope that whatever can be done to expedite this project will be done.

Another U.N. Failure

WASHINGTON — Almost unnoticed, the United Nations has thrown in the sponge. It is willing to play the role of bully among the weak, defenseless tribes of the Congo, but has given up the idea of trying to use its moral force to liberate the people of Hungary from the strong arm of Soviet imperialism.

A RESOLUTION adopted in 1956 by the U. N., condemning the enslavement of the Hungarian people by Soviet troops, has been reiterated every year since. It was not repeated in 1962, though lip service was paid to its principles. Moscow has consistently refused to permit the U. N. even to send an inspection team into Hungary, and the U. N. now has cancelled the special mission of Sir Leslie Munro, of New Zealand, to investigate the Hungarian situation. The whole matter was turned over to Secretary-General U. Thant just before Christmas to take whatever action he thinks best. The U. N.'s principal members, including the United States, now have acquiesced in the "colonialism" of Communist Russia. It's a tragic record.

THE LINE handed out is that President Kennedy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and American Ambassador Adlai Stevenson felt that it might ruffle the feelings of Soviet Premier Khrushchev if the U. N. were to adopt a strong resolution on the subject of Hungary. The idea seems to be that the Soviet ruler made a substantial concession to the cause of world peace when he withdrew his missiles from Cuba and that this deserves some kind of gesture of appeasement from the United States, which had been the principal proponent of the U. N. resolutions concerning the situation in Hungary in past years.

IT IS PARADOXICAL that President Kennedy could make such a spirited speech on the subject of "liberation" of the Cuban people from the yoke of Castro and his Communist masters, though no such brave words have come in recent months from the White House or the State Department with reference to Hungary. The people of that unfortunate country and the peoples of Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Poland, Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia are in precisely the same situation as Cuba. They have lost their independence and the kind of rights

One Tax Cut Theory—To Create More Jobs

Poverty amid plenty.

That was the bitter social commentary during the Great Depression when American farmers were overburdened with wheat, corn and livestock at low prices and city dwellers couldn't find jobs—and the money—to buy the food excesses.

Today, the social commentary isn't bitter—just baffling: Unemployment amid plenty.

THE TOTAL OUTPUT of goods and services—the Gross National Product—rose 7 per cent last year to a record high. Yet, the rate of joblessness stubbornly stayed above 5 per cent of the labor force, all year. It's now 5.8 per cent.

Here is a paradox for which economists have no adequate explanation, no satisfying theory. They can cite reasons—plenty of them. Automation has done away with jobs more rapidly than new jobs are created. Jobs available require great skill and the unskilled are unwanted. Technological change—the use of oil instead of coal, of aluminum, cement and plastics instead of steel, of copying machines instead of typists and mimeograph operators—has diminished work opportunities and created pockets of unemployment.

HOME OWNERSHIP, private pension plans and unemployment compensation have made workers immobile. They don't want to move from one place to another. Labor unions have made wages too rigid and increasingly costly. And industrialists' "administrative" prices—keep them high—and reduce production, rather than decrease prices.

All these have been wrapped up in a chant: "Slow growth. That's why a tax cut is the No. 1 item on the President's legislative agenda. Lower taxes will restore growth and profit-seeking incentive to the economy. At the same time, it will increase purchasing power."

UNEMPLOYMENT at the moment is higher than the statistics show. The latest data—for November—indicate 3,800,000 out of work. But unemployment often rises in December and then takes a big jump in either January or February. Statistical unemployment will approach five million at the winter's worst—the highest level in a year and a half. The big argument—and it always is a big argument, never small—is, How much real unemployment do we really have? This is a free society. People can change jobs—quit—when they feel like it. Many persons regard this as a precious right—especially at hunting and fishing time. Some are laid off by weather—carpenters, painters, tracklayers, etc. This between-job status is called frictional or transitional unemployment.

THERE'S NO definite statistic for this group of unemployed, but unemployment amounted to about 2,000,000 in boomtime 1948 and 1947 when jobs sought people, and again during the Korean boom there were 2,000,000 unemployed, or about 3 per cent of the labor force. On that basis, transitional unemployment today would amount to 2,150,000. This would indicate "real unemployment" is down to 1,650,000 (see chart).

Many economists argue that this approach glides the problem, that "slow growth" has stultified expansion of the labor force. If jobs were available, they argue, more persons would be in the labor force. Indeed, the increase in the labor force this year was only 0.4 per cent, the smallest since 1952 (0.2 per cent). It's significant that the quit rate in industry has dropped to about 1.5 per cent, or one-half the level of ten years ago, and a third that of the early post-war years. When demand for workers falls, people hold on to jobs they'd rather be "shut off."

TWO SCHOOLS of argument have arisen. One school says that unemployment remains high because of structural changes in the economy. Technological shifts reduce jobs faster than new jobs are created.

The other school agrees that technological displacement goes on. It always has. But this would not matter if demand for goods and services rose rapidly. Then displaced workers would quickly find jobs. Unemployment wouldn't be a problem.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY and his economic advisers lean to this second approach. Hence, the emphasis on a tax cut—not only to spur industrial incentive but to increase "aggregate demand."

As in all bitter arguments, much can be said on and for both sides.

Family Tree From Punch Cards

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The state library has turned to modern data-processing methods to give additional help to those interested in tracing their Ohio ancestors.

Names of approximately 90,000 Ohioans counted in the U. S. Census of 1920 are being arranged alphabetically. State librarian Walter Brahm says these will be put on punch cards and run off in list-showing county of residence in 1920 and other personal information.

Hemangioma Yields Easily To Surgery

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: My four-month-old daughter was born with a large red spot on her arm. Our family doctor says it is a collection of tiny blood vessels and will disappear when she is 4 or 5, but it seems to grow bigger and thicker every day. Should I take her to a specialist? Is it possible to have it removed? —Mrs. J. D.

Such a spot is called a hemangioma. I'd gamble that your doctor said it "may" disappear in a few years, because many of them do.

Some don't, but they can be removed surgically, and it's a familiar operation. If the hemangioma continues to grow, consult your doctor so he can send you to a specialist. But don't be panicky. If it needs removal, this can be done.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a very low blood count and my doctor has prescribed iron medicine which I take every four hours. I keep falling asleep at work and am afraid I'll get fired. What is low blood count? Someone told me it can be very serious if neglected. —E. M.

In this case it means a lower-than-normal number of red blood cells. There are several possible causes—gradual loss of blood; faulty diet; glandular trouble. And more.

Depending on the type, some are extremely serious if neglected; other cases merely mean that you keep on feeling tired and draggy when you shouldn't, if you could get the red count up. Iron is one of the chief medications, and extremely beneficial in many instances. The big question is has your doctor determined the cause? Finding (and curing) it is better, naturally, than continually taking iron to make up for the deficiency.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 16 and want your advice concerning a girl. I know it isn't best for a diet my age to go on a diet but I think you will agree with me when I give you the statistics: I weigh 140, am 5 feet 2, and my measurements are 35-27½-39½. —WILMA J.

I agree that you'd do well to get rid of some weight. Now do me a favor—and yourself one, too. Look up the word "diet" in the dictionary. You'll find that it means, among other things, "an habitual mode of living."

So don't go on a "crash diet," which starves you temporarily, soon forces you to start eating again, and is not good for your skin or your health, besides which it does no permanent good.

Instead adopt a new mode of living—and eating. Follow these rules—stop between-meal snacks; go easy on fatty or fried foods, and rich sugary items. No pie, cake, doughnuts. If you get hungry, eat fruit or raw vegetables.

Drink skim instead of whole milk. A soft drink is better than ice cream sundaes or malted. Sugarless soft drinks are still better from the calories standpoint.

Get ample protein—eggs, lean meat, poultry, fish, cheese. Eat smaller meals, spread the butter thinner, avoid gravies, no seconds. You can do it without anyone realizing you are "on a diet."

Dear Dr. Molner: We have been freezing the milk we use. Soon I am going to be starting my baby on whole milk and am wondering if the freezing takes away any important vitamins or minerals. —Mrs. L. K.

Freezing can cause some of the lighter proteins to precipitate—it doesn't harm the food value, but these particles are more likely to clog the nipples of bottles. The milk may also have a "watery" taste. The faster the milk is frozen, the less trouble from precipitation.

Let Me Talk To The Operator

Some of the more enjoyable moments of the holiday season come when, filled with spirit (of a sort) you decide to call old friends for a long distance telephone visit.

Generally you get them at the wrong time, but if they're friends of sufficient warmth, the whole thing turns out cheery.

THIS IS JUST leading up to the business of handling long distance calls, which ain't what it used to be. Although an old fuddy-duddy like me is prone to resist the automation that Mr. Bell et al are continuously adding, I am going to have to go along with the efficiency of the methods, if not the togetherness which in times past existed between caller and operator.

Oh, the girls of the past couple of weeks were as gracious as could be, and I even wheedled them into breaking company rules and saying something besides what the book calls for, simply by forcing in a "Merry Christmas" or a "Happy New Year" and adding a little triviality to make them feel wanted. You see, phone operators just don't feel as wanted as they used to.

REMEMBER the old days when the girl at the phone office was "Central," and you could gab with her while she was ringing the other party? And she might know if your friend John had left the shop to go out for a cup of coffee, and could assure you that he'd be back in a few moments, and she'd ring him then. Or that Mrs. Throggible was down in her back again this morning, and somebody ought to run over and see if she needed help.

THE COMPLICATED bit of making a long distance call was exciting because if you could talk from West Texas to somebody in North Platte you were ringing (no pun intended) up quite an accomplishment.

I recall times when it was an adventure to make such a call, and the night girl on the switchboard would let you share it. You could hear her call Fort Worth, and get the word that she would have to be connected with Dallas, and then wait while a relay was going to Oklahoma City, and then possibly others to Lincoln and Omaha, and maybe even the big city of Chicago.

AND YOU COULD hear the girls chattering about the routing and the connection, the weather, and various other topics, until the whole procedure was stimulating, even if you didn't get the person you were calling.

Well, the efficiency may be here now, but the personality is gone.

This past season, a call to Montreal, Canada, turned out to be of no more importance than one to Cosmo. And one to Germany was only a trifle more exciting, due largely to the fact that you had to converse with a person who called herself an "Overseas Operator," who obviously didn't talk Texan, and didn't want to understand it.

ABOUT THE BEST you can hope for, nowadays, is to tell the operator you don't have a number, an address, no initials, and are even doubtful about the town. That's when she goes to work for you, and you get to sit in on the byplay, getting in a word or two yourself on occasion.

Just to pick up the instrument, dial an Area Code number and then about a dozen other digits (neatly inscribed in your notebook at hand) has put this LD calling on a frigid basis. I have a personal aversion to numbers, anyhow, and to try to remember something like 701 293 8294, extension 563, is just like having mashed potatoes without gravy. Dry.

I'LL GO ALONG, but I'd really rather play ignorant and get the gals at the switchboards into the act. They're nice, and I like to talk to them, as well as to old friends.

—BOB WHIPKEY

JFK's Motives On Skybolt

WASHINGTON—With the Skybolt affair, President Kennedy enters 1963 bearing two sets of credentials that will surely be examined by the 88th Congress.

One set shows the President, upon his performance record, to have become supreme commander of the Free World forces. At this writing, he no longer abides any question as to his bona fides and his capacity. But he enters the New Year upon another passport, too. Without doubt, Mr. Kennedy is a power politician, loaded with guile as well as genius, so much so that there does exist legitimate questions as to what are his motives and what are his goals.

IN RETROSPECT, his swift and implacable scrubbing of the air-to-ground Skybolt guided missile shows him as a man who knows his mind, is fearless of consequences, yet clever in the persuasive arts of public relations by which criticism is blunted and his own position is buttressed by a dazzling but selective display of technical and budgetary facts. He took Skybolt away from the U. S. Air Force and the British government, took it out of the U. S. nuclear deterrent arsenal and out of the 1964 national budget. He justified the entire action by a series of declarations which are plausible to the layman and difficult to dispute.

THE PRESIDENT said of Skybolt that it was uneconomic, unnecessary to defend, unjustifiably expensive and technically infeasible since "it has been, really, the kind of engineering that's been beyond us." Other weapons systems, the President assured America and the Free World, represent a far better and a sufficient investment in maintaining full military supremacy.

THIS LOOKS to be leadership of a high order. It can't be said of Mr. Kennedy, as was justly said in the past, that he hasn't matched action with words. He undoubtedly knows what he's doing, but does anybody else know? The President is decisive, but in this instance he also has been devious to the point of bewildering and antagonizing one or more major Allies, several unimpeachable Democratic senators and a whole body of American thinking which is uneasy about the downgrading of military advice, disarmament of any kind in present circumstances and treating our friends worse than our enemies in any circumstance.

IT IS HARD to accept Mr. Kennedy's motives on face value. His arguments, although plausible to the uninitiated, seem specious to a great many persons who are informed. The technically competent magazine, "Aviation Week and Space Technology," has editorialized, for example, that it is "naive" to condemn Skybolt on the basis of a few test flight "failures" and that the cancellation "smacks of finding a convenient excuse to support budgetary and political decisions."

SO, WE ARE LEFT wondering what end purpose the President is seeking. Where does the scrubbing of Skybolt fit into his Grand Design? The President's own deviousness here has invited speculation in many places and suspicion in a few. It is not the best of all possible ways to open the New Year.

Curbing The 'Intolerable' Strike

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
(For Marquis Childs, who is on vacation)

WASHINGTON—However unpleasant the subject may be in this gray morning after period of the new year, the harsh and undeniable fact is that this government must face up now to the necessity of curbing the power of irresponsible labor.

FEW POLITICIANS, even among the conservatives, really relish the notion of reopening the sweaty, immensely difficult and ill-rewarding field of labor legislation. There are many reasons not to do so—the main one perhaps being the violent and unreasoning response which will inevitably come from the great voting blocs within organized labor.

But there is a single, compelling reason to do so. This is, simply, nothing less than the preservation of basic national interest. It is the greatest domestic issue before this country.

ALTHOUGH IT made some improvements in 1960, Congress has not enacted any general labor legislation since the Taft-Hartley Act of 1948. This act went far toward restoring a fair balance between management and labor. Labor for a decade under the Wagner Act had passed from its old position of undue lack of power relative to management to a position of undue power not only over management but also over the interests of the general public.

Taft-Hartley was a reasonable response to years of labor union excesses, as the Wagner Act earlier had become an extreme response to generations of management excesses. But Taft-Hartley is, demonstrably, no longer adequate. There must be a new and fully effective weapon against which might be called the intolerable, public-be-damned, strike.

THE INTOLERABLE strike is defined here as one in which the fundamental rights and necessities of the people themselves are denied by labor stoppages which menace not merely some corporation or other but the general welfare itself.

Such an intolerable strike—by the longshoremen—is now going on to paralyze, first, the East and Gulf coasts, and, second, the whole national economic interest. Such a strike is now going on in New York City. It has closed nine newspapers covering a metropolitan area where 12,000,000 Americans are being shut off from the world by a printers' union whose demands upon the publishers are demonstrably unreasonable by any standard acceptable to reasonable men.

AND SUCH a strike for weeks has also closed the only two newspapers in Cleveland. This one involves the odorous Teamsters Union and the American Newspaper Guild—which surely can hardly take pride in the nature of its ally in this enterprise.

This columnist all his adult life has been a member of what is called "the working press," meaning the non-owning, non-management part of the press. He owns no newspaper stock. He claims no detailed knowledge of the issues in Cleveland, as distinguished from those in New York.

HE KNOWS for a fact, as a working newspaperman, however, that to black out a whole vast community is to go far beyond a legitimate economic struggle into something which is destructive of more than the press itself. It is to hit also at the very life spirit of the people. There is a darkness here that is more than economic; there is a paralysis here that is more than a paralysis of the marketplace; there is a paralysis of the mind, of the common culture.

AS TO THE DOCK strike, the deepest economic interests and the highest foreign policy designs of a whole nation are put to peril. After months of anxious debate this country has at last been prepared legislatively to enter upon the brave new world of expanded trade which is being opened by the European Common Market. Unless the maritime unions are brought under some rational form of check, they can smash this brave new world so far as we are concerned.

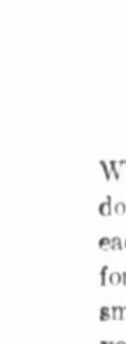

And with this they can all but destroy the very underpinnings of the foreign policy of the United States of America. (Copyright, 1962, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Doris Shoves Liz Off Top

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The girl next door type — Doris Day — has stolen the affections of American theater owners from screen siren Elizabeth Taylor.

Miss Day was named the nation's top box office draw last week in the annual poll of film exhibitors conducted by Motion Picture Herald.

She regained the title she held two years ago. Miss Taylor dropped to No. 6 spot. She headed the poll last year, but had no new films released in 1962.

Miss Day had a pair of hits, "Lover Come Back" and "That Touch of Mink."

Others in the top 10 were Rock Hudson, No. 2; Gary Grant, 3; John Wayne, 4; Elvis Presley, 5; Jerry Lewis, 7; Frank Sinatra, 8; Sandra Dee, 9; Burt Lancaster, 10.

Group Reviews, Discusses Planning

A review of 1962 activities and projections for 1963 were the subjects discussed at a meeting of the public health and safety committee of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon.

Among projections for the coming year is support for establishing safety patrols in local schools, as an extension of progress made during 1962 by work of the Police Department, Parent-Teachers Association, and school officials.

James Cape and W. W. Brown will meet with school trustees at their Jan. 15 meeting about traffic hazards at the high school. Other support for the coming year will be efforts to improve areas on the North Side such as parks, lighting, the swimming pool and to get more youth programs started.

The committee is presently seeking information on the child welfare program so it can make recommendations.

Movie Lister Don't Miss the Battle of Songs

Like airplane accidents or inside straights, it seems to come in cycles.

This week's movie playbill is loaded with some of the year's finest films, along with some which may not be great but are entertaining.

Perhaps the greatest is "The Miracle Worker," the story of the kind but hard-headed nurse who brought Helen Keller out of darkness. Anne Bancroft portrays the nurse who breaks through the barrier surrounding Miss Keller (played by Patty Duke).

Helen Keller, as a woman, has become a symbol of courage against impossible odds. Stricken blind and deaf at the age of 2 she soon also became mute, remaining in this state to the age of 7, when Annie Sullivan came from an institute for the blind to attempt to teach the child.

Young Helen had become almost an animal and unteachable, her only major contact with the world being through the sense of touch. Miss Sullivan, being as strong-willed as Helen, finally broke through to the unmanageable demon to find the spirit inside—and from there, with her mentor's help, Helen Keller went on through college, and has dedicated her life to helping the blind. She became a leading writer.

Helen Keller also became a legend.

The movie, adapted from the stage play by William Gibson, concentrates on that early first meeting between Annie Sullivan and Helen Keller. The collision and the final victory produce some of the most intensely emotional drama yet seen on screen or stage. The studio publicists weren't lying when they called the story both "terrifying and beautiful." It is also inspirational.

"Barabbus" has been needed by some critics, but most have called it a truly moving motion picture even if it is a bit too long.

The length and spectacle of this multi-million dollar picture are perhaps the chief reason for critical spleen, and there are always those reviewers who will allow their judgment on all other phases of a film to be distorted by their resentment at one or a few weaknesses.

"Barabbus" stars Anthony Quinn in the title role, as the thief and murderer who was released by the mob instead of Jesus. Little is known about the man whose life was bought by another, but novelist Par Lagerkvist, the moody Scandinavian mystic, penned a story that is quite logical and which reflects his own penetrating philosophy.

The movie version probably could have been cut down in length, but those critics who object to spectacle as such are merely being narrow. Properly used, spectacle can add to rather than subtract from the personal drama at hand. Under producer, Dino De Laurentiis, "Barabbus" almost does this. De Laurentiis has produced a few bombs, but he also created the prize-winning "La Strada."

The spectacular scenes in "Barabbus" include a lot of gore and brutality, but this is not unreasonable in a film which depicts a cruel and barbaric age. At least, it has been handled with taste and discretion, where other bombastic spectacles have deliberately played up barbarity to say nothing of sexuality.

And some of the spectacular scenes could be described as beautiful, such as that of the Crucifixion.

Quinn gives an understanding portrayal of a man who is haunted by a puzzling question, running from or unable to understand the answer, until at last he opens his heart and lets the truth in. The fact that Barabbus himself ends up on a cross is a subtle point made by Lagerkvist which should need no explaining.

Jackie Gleason attempts the impossible in "Gigot," the combining of pathos and comedy as only the greatest artists such as Chaplin have done. He very nearly succeeds, and comes close enough to make his effort more than rewarding.

Gigot is a lovable mute janitor who upkeeps a Paris apartment house. He is laughed at and tolerated by most of the citizens, and is watched by police at the time of a "different" who is a "different" in a "different" way. But Gigot hasn't a mean bone in his body. He is kind to animals (his only friends) and soon has a chance to show kindness to a small child. The child's mother, however, is not so kind, and she gets him into enough trouble that he is chased by a mob into the Seine.

About the only weakness of "Gigot" is the happy ending. Gleason just might have done the impossible had he carried the mood of the story clear to the end.

"Tower of London" with Vincent Price turned out to be more than just another horror movie. It is as true to history as expected from Hollywood, and Price for once is allowed to paint more than just a cardboard character. His is the role of one of England's more infamous tyrants, and one made famous by Master Shaxup himself.

Another returning movie is "Judgment at Nuremberg," which takes an uncompromising and not very pretty look at the war crimes trials of guilty Nazis following World War II. Judy Garland shines through a brilliant performance along with Spencer Tracy, Burt Lancaster and other luminaries. But this film is so engrossing that one does not notice the length, nor do the stars try to outshine each other.

It is a story that probes deeply into the characters and motives of all participants, the judges included. The picture is a deep afterthought to Nuremberg—a nod to Auschwitz.

"El Cid" also is long, and it is in the tradition of the spectacular. It does not, however, go so deeply into the nature of things, but rather tells once more the legend of Spain's national hero. It does faithfully follow the legend—and if it had tried to tell what really happened to El Cid, dictator Francisco probably would have borrowed someone's nuclear bomb to drop on Los Angeles.

In any event, there is enough color and adventure and romance and spectacle to please those who like that sort of thing.

Ed Sullivan Named In Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ed Sullivan has been named principal defendant in a $95,000 damage suit brought by a process server, Clyde E. Richardson of Beverly Hills, Calif., alleges Sullivan became abusive and ordered him physically restrained when he served legal papers on the television personality last Jan. 7 at a Hollywood night club.

The suit, filed last week, charges false arrest and assault and battery.

The Walls Came Tumbling

Shirley Eaton looks on while Jimmy Edwards tries to fix a telephone in this scene from "Nearly A Nasty Accident," Thursday at the State Theatre. The British, well-known for their subtle comedy, try a bit of slapstick in this uproarious yarn about an airman who thinks of himself as a mechanical genius but is really a genius only at creating major disasters.

The Difference

John Saxon and Robert Redford are starred in "War Hunt," a Korean War setting which explores the difference between a hero and a killer, and that indefinable overlapping between the two. The Wagnerian-type drama opens today at the State Theatre on a double bill with a documentary, "We Will Bury You."

Janitor And Friend

Jackie Gleason, as the mute Paris janitor Gigot, pulls his friend Diane Gardner down a Montmartre street in this scene from "Gigot," showing today at the Ritz Theatre, and featuring Gleason in his first straight dramatic role. That's friend Skippy trotting along beside the cart.

Jackie Gleason Starred In First Dramatic Role

After Jackie Gleason made his dramatic debut as a pool shark in "The Hustler," the famed comic was besieged with offers to play straight dramatic roles. Bypassing many scripts because they were invested with sex and violence, Gleason came up with his own idea about a poor, simple janitor in Paris, which Pulitzer-prize winner John Patrick fashioned into "Gigot." The 20th Century-Fox comic drama, which represents the comedian's first starring role, opens today at the Ritz Theater.

Before his popularity on television, Gleason was a nightclub comic who had made several Hollywood films, all of which received little or no acclaim. However, his overwhelming success as a TV performer, first on a Variety show from which "The Poor Soul" character that is "Gigot" was born, then on "The Honeydoers" and his portrayal in the Broadway musical, "Take Me Along," made Gleason one of the most demanded personalities for Hollywood projects.

Gleason has already completed three films and is now before the cameras in another. He received acclaim for "The Hustler" and was mentioned as a strong "Oscar" candidate for "Gigot." He appeared as fighter Anthony Quinn's manager in "Requiem for a Heavyweight," and he is currently filming "Papa's Delicate Condition."

"Gigot," a Seven Arts production, directed by Gene Kelly and produced by Ken Hyman, was filmed on location in Paris in DeLuxe Color.

Bob Newhart Plans Marriage

Newhart and Miss Quinn, who picked up the license Thursday, plan to marry Jan. 12 in Los Angeles. It will be the first marriage for each.

Helen Keller Story Is Told In Drama

"The Miracle Worker," showing Thursday and Friday at the Ritz Theatre, is a picture about two extraordinary people of indomitable will — Annie Sullivan and Helen Keller. An adaptation of the award-winning Broadway play by William Gibson, the film tells the dramatic and inspiring story of how Annie, a dedicated young Irish girl, brought light into the dark world of a deaf, mute and blind child.

Anne Bancroft and 14-year-old Patty Duke re-create their stage roles as Annie and young Helen, also marking Miss Duke's screen debut. Also starred are Victor Jory as Helen's domineering father, Inga Swenson as the mother, and Andrew Prine as the half-brother.

The play, and the film version, were based on the early childhood of the world-famous woman who, solely through the sense of touch, learned to communicate with the world and its people, becoming a legend within her own lifetime.

Discovery

Patty Duke and Anne Bancroft repeat their shattering stage roles in "The Miracle Worker," story of the salvation of a child known later to the world as Helen Keller. In this scene, Miss Bancroft finally has established communication with the child who is deaf, blind and mute.
