OUTSTANDING JAYCEE AWARD IS PRESENTED
Dr. Seth Cowan congratulates Bob Benson

Bob Benson Of C-City Wins Jaycee Award

COLORADO CITY (SC)—There is hardly an area of community activity in which Bob Benson, the Jaycee's choice for outstanding young man of Colorado City in 1963, has not had a part.

Benson, an employee of Texas Electric Service Company, was honored at the 34th annual chamber banquet here Thursday night. Dr. Seth Cowan, last year's winner and now of Garland, presented the plaque to Benson and a bouquet of roses to Mrs. Benson.

A native of Colorado City, Benson has worked with TESCO since 1961. He has taken a leading role in the fire department, including chief (1961-62), has been on committees of the chamber, including arranging for signs on Interstate 20, a worker in behalf of the museum, constant worker in the United Fund campaign and a chairman of its employe division for two years, a member of All-Saints Episcopal Church, its Sunday School superintendent and a member of the vestry, director of the Country Club and its golf chairman for two years, member of the Quarterback Club, participant in club boy livestock shows, on the Boy Scout health and safety committee, active in bowling.

A few of his myriad of Jaycee activities include holding every office in the club, state director and extension chairman helped build Civic House, where the banquet was held, promoted successfully the provision of voting booths, chairman of tri-regional convention at Colorado City helped build and light two Little League parks, helped erect camera tower at football field, headed project to send girl to Girl's State.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson have three sons.

Organized Effort Cited As Small City Strength

COLORADO CITY (SC)—One of the sad facts of the times is that small cities have a tough battle to maintain their vigor, but organized effort can do the job.

This message of hope was brought to the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce in its 54th annual banquet Thursday evening by a native son who reflected a continuing pride in his home town.

Robert W. Whipkey, publisher of the Big Spring Herald and who cut his journalistic teeth on the Colorado Record operated by his father and uncle, suggested some specifics for Colorado City.

Miss McAvoy Will Face Narcotics Charges

Eileen McAvoy, former Big Spring physician whose license to practice medicine was suspended by the state medical board at a hearing here in 1961, is to be returned to Howard County to face charges of violation of the state narcotics law. Gil Jones, district attorney, said today.

He said that Mrs. Sidney Boyles, one of her two bondsmen, had been asked to be relieved of responsibility for the woman. Mrs. Boyles and Buck Oliver were sureties on three $5,000 bonds on the three indictments pending against the woman.

Jones said that Miss McAvoy, who has been in a Veteran Administration Hospital in Houston, will be released from the hospital Saturday. She was first committed to the Big Spring State Hospital for examination and later moved to Austin.

Dinner Meeting Marks 80th Year Of U.S. Civil Service

Representatives of federal agencies in Big Spring Thursday night celebrated the 80th anniversary of the passage of the Civil Service Act with a special program at Coker's Restaurant.

The dinner meeting was sponsored by the American Federation of Government Employees.

In a talk, Warren A. Farrow, civilian personnel officer at Webb, told members of the AFGE how best to maintain the prestige of their organization.

Delay Is Seen In Action On Voting Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Months may pass before the Supreme Court rules on the first case based on its historic decision that federal courts may act when citizens feel their votes are being diluted by state machinery.

The case involves Georgia's controversial county unit primary system. It was taken under advisement by the high tribunal Thursday after Atty Gen Sam Davis Kennedy argued the system deprives citizens of their constitutional rights.

The appeal by the Georgia Democratic party to the Supreme court is the first to be heard since the court in a landmark Tennessee case last March ruled that federal courts are empowered to consider complaints of arbitrary apportionment by states.

Kennedy in his first appearance before the Supreme Court or any court—urged the court to uphold the ruling of a three-judge panel which decided last year that the county unit system is unconstitutional.

Such a voting system, Kennedy contended, produces gross and arbitrary discrimination against city voters by giving undue weight to the votes from sparsely populated rural counties.

But while urging the Supreme Court to uphold the ruling, Kennedy emphasized the federal government is not asking the court to suggest a substitute.

"For the Supreme Court to set up a standard for various states is impossible," the attorney general said. "The people of the states know their background and problems. As for Georgia, we feel that as men of good will the legislators will pass a law that is fair."

Kennedy said it is the duty of the United States to see that the right of franchise is restored in Georgia.

Arguing for the county unit system and urging reversal of the lower court ruling, R. D. Murphy, a Georgia deputy assistant attorney general, said the system is "valid and represents the proper exercise of legislative power by a state."

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission ordered Texas oil wells held to a 20 per cent capacity of production in February, an increase of 171,647 barrels daily over this month.

The 29 per cent order for February represented the highest allowable requested by the 13 major oil producers and purchasers at the commission's statewide oil proration hearing today.

The lowest request made by two companies was for 25 per cent which would have meant a drop in February production of 57,215 barrels daily.

The order will allow an estimated daily production for February of 2,574,856 barrels.

The order under the new percentage system started by the commission last month, represents a slight increase over the 8-day pattern that was ordered for 11 straight months last year.

Arlene Walker, representing the Texas Landowners and Independent Producers Association, repeated that group's monthly request that major companies reduce their oil imports to a level which would permit the equivalent of 12.14 producing days for producing wells.

William Byrd, for Corpus Christi producers, repeated his group's statements that "There is a point beyond which Texas production should not be cut and that point is eight days or its equivalent."

Nominations included:
For 25 per cent—Cities Service, 81,000 barrels daily; Phillips, 121,000
For 26 per cent—Indiana, 235,000; Mobil, 224,600; Shell, 160,100; Sinclair, 102,400; Continental, 26,500

For 29 per cent—Texaco, 147,000; Humble, 416,370; Gulf, 220,500

Commission Chairman Ben Rainey asked the companies to have their presidents or their representatives to attend the March proration hearing at which the outlook for the next year will be discussed.

degrees in a few hours in International Falls, Minn., as the arctic air fanned across the Canadian border. It reached nearly 30 below zero. Readings were near 20 below in much of North Dakota while subzero cold covered most of Montana.

Blowing snow created hazardous driving conditions in western Nebraska and South Dakota and northwest across Montana. Snow also fell in most of Upper Michigan and Wisconsin southward across extreme northern Illinois and northeastern Iowa.

Only other cold areas was north ern Maine with temperatures near zero. Drizzle rain and fog dampened and shrouded areas from South-eastern Texas eastward across the Gulf coastal states and into Georgia and the Carolinas. Thunderstorms rumbled across southwestern Louisiana.

Fog and drizzle also hit coastal sections of the Far West. Temperatures in most of the Far West were near normal but they were a little below normal in sections of the Southwest. A week of unseasonable cold has caused millions of dollars damage to citrus and vegetable crops in California. Agricultural authorities said the losses will be the heaviest since 1948.

A&M Students Charged In Art Theft Suspended

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Two students charged with the theft of paintings worth $2,000 from Texas A&M's student center were suspended from the college Thursday.

Both were turned over to county authorities, who had filed felony theft charges against them in Bryan last week. They are Jorge Gonzalez of Laredo and William Roberson of Wilmington, N.C., both 29.

The original oils by the late Cowboy Kelly, a West Texas artist, disappeared three weeks ago. No trace of them has been found.

Three Women Pull Boy From Death In Storm Sewer

HOUSTON (AP)—Three women, their strength stretched to its limit, pulled a little boy from death in a rain-swollen storm sewer Thursday.

"I didn't do much," said Mrs. Mary Valmont, a maid who got there first and found Johnny Petronella, 6, inches from death—buried up to his chin in the swirling water.

"I owe my son's life to a woman I have never met," said Johnny's mother, Mrs. Ben Petronella. Johnny was trapped in the ungrated sewer in the side of a street curb.

The sewer would have carried Johnny about 150 feet underground into Willow Waterhole Bayou.

He was very frightened," Mrs. Petronella said. "Mommie," he said, "I was afraid I wasn't going to get out and ever come home."

Mrs. Valmont, 51, working in a nearby home, heard his cries. "Save me! Help me!" She grabbed his hands and kept his head above water. She could not pull him out—the water's suction was too much.

Seconds later Mrs. J. O. Ware, 36, also heard Johnny's cries and helped. Mrs. Valmont held the boy. Moments later, an unidentified motorist, known only as Mrs. White, joined the rescue. The women overpowered the swirling water.

Personal Income Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal income, boosted by a big jump in wages and salaries, reached a peak of $440.5 billion in 1962, the government reported today.

The record total exceeded 1961 income by $24 billion.

The Commerce Department said that with individual income and other personal taxes up $5 billion, receipts available for spending and saving increased 5 per cent to $383 billion. And this, it said, was almost entirely a genuine pocketbook increase as consumer prices rose about 1 per cent.

Wages and salaries jumped $17 billion, or 6 per cent over 1961, to $295.8 billion. Manufacturing payrolls advanced $6 billion to $93.6 billion.

The department attributed most of the increase to recovery from the 1960-61 recession.

In non-manufacturing industries, payrolls increased $6.2 billion to $122.5 billion. Government employees at all levels received $56.2 billion, up $4.4 billion over 1961.

Income from such sources as unemployment insurance and Social Security benefits increased about $1 billion to $34.6 billion. Dividends climbed almost $1 billion to $15.9 billion. Personal interest payments totaled $29.7 billion, an increase of $2.3 billion.

Nike-X System Is Dual Defense Plan

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new Nike-X antimissile system, mentioned tersely in President Kennedy's budget message, would give the United States a one-two punch to hurl at oncoming enemy hydrogen warheads.

The Nike-X, under development for more than six years, is designed to intercept hostile missile warheads beyond the atmosphere. The very much faster Nike-X would destroy such warheads penetrating inside the atmosphere, relatively close to the ground.

Since the Nike-X still is in the drawing board stage, it appears likely this new orientation in Pentagon thinking on missile defense will delay any combat-ready system until the latter part of this decade, if not longer.

KENNEDY ASKED Congress for $25 million to push development of the Nike-X, which already has intercepted three target warheads in tests over the Pacific, and to start work on the advanced system.

The President also requested $100 million for other unspecified antimissile research projects related to the Zeus.

The message provided no amplification, but defense officials said the mysterious sounding Nike-X would complement the Zeus which they said has been radically redesigned and greatly improved in many respects.

Nike-X was described by those officials as a later generation of the Nike-Zeus, with vastly improved radar, a swifter missile and better electronic components. They said it would substantially increase the effectiveness of the Zeus system.

Top defense officials, who have been skeptical that the Zeus would be equal to the job envisioned for it, are not yet ready to turn optimistic. They said it remains to be seen whether the improvements and the meshing in of the Nike-X would justify starting production.

ROCKET MIXTURE
The Army is restricted in what it can say about the Nike-X project, but from competent sources it was learned the experts are thinking of arraying a mixture of Zeus and Nike-X rockets in missile defense batteries.

The Zeus already is one of this country's fastest rockets, developing 450,000 pounds of thrust in its first stage. The Nike-X rocket, called Sprint, is even faster.

The Zeus is designed to meet enemy missiles above 100 miles out on the downward curve of their long parabolic journey. Some critics have questioned whether its radar could discriminate between decoys and actual warheads. They also have indicated doubt that it could cope with a saturation attack by many enemy ICBMs.

CLEAR TARGET
The Nike-X, because of its great speed, could streak to the attack against the enemy warhead enters the atmosphere. This, its backers say, would simplify the intercept because decoy devices would be expected to burn up in atmospheric friction, leaving the warhead nose cone a clear target.

The close-in Nike-X missile also might be effective in destroying any enemy warheads that slipped past the Zeus.

Both the Zeus and the Nike-X would destroy enemy warheads with nuclear blasts. Since the Zeus intercept would come outside the atmosphere, engineers say the danger of fallout or debris harming the earth below would be virtually nil.

The prospect of a Nike-X intercept within the atmosphere is bound to raise questions about its possible harmful effects to people below.

Advocates of the Nike-X reply that the missile killer would use such a relatively small nuclear warhead that the resulting dangers would be negligible. And they contend the enemy warhead would be demolished without being detonated.

ADDED PROTECTION
There have been suggestions that the Nike-X would be used as added protection for missile bases and command and control centers already deep underground and encased in reinforced concrete.

Thus, the Nike-X might shield such sites from mammoth warheads like the monster which the Soviet Union claims can unleash the explosive equivalent of 100 million tons of TNT—a force which the present magnitude of below-ground protection might not be able to withstand otherwise.

College Study Bill Into State Hopper

AUSTIN (AP)—Two state representatives introduced another top priority item in Gov. John Connally's legislative program Thursday.

The item, a bill to create a committee for studying Texas college education, bore a prized No. 1 tag to assure early consideration.

First of Connally's recommendations to get House consideration and tentative approval was a $217,772 emergency appropriations bill.

The measure could come up for a final vote Monday. It provides $50,000 to start work of the college education study committee, $85,772 to enlarge Connally's staff and $82,000 for the attorney general to continue a slant-hole oil well probe.

Reps. David Crews of Conroe and Gene Fondren of Taylor introduced the college study bill and gave it Fondren's bill number—No. 1. Low numbers usually assure early consideration. Crews predicted committee action next week.

The measure was one of many introduced in both chambers. House and senate adjourned yesterday until 11 a.m. Monday, but most House members planned to stay near the Capitol at least until tonight.

House rules give members until 6 p.m. today to claim the bill numbers they drew earlier in the week. After 6 p.m., House members are free to introduce any bills.

One lawmaker planned to submit eight bills tonight. Many others will equal or better that figure.

The proposed education study committee, strongly recommended in Connally's address to the legislature Wednesday, would be a 25-man panel.

The group would project education needs for the next 10 years, assay present and potential resources of state and private institutions and propose a plan for educational programs "to seize and capitalize upon the opportunities for progress in the next decade."

Crews said if the committee is to meet a reporting deadline of Aug. 31, 1964, set by Connally, "it must be created with dispatch."

Among more than 70 measures introduced Thursday were several to elevate junior colleges at Edinburg, San Antonio, San Angelo, Laredo and Odessa to four-year, state-supported colleges.

Other bills would regulate small loans, abolish the poll tax and establish a voter registration system, revise the sales tax, set up machinery for constitutional revision, forbid race discrimination by state or local governments and set up a civil rights division in the attorney general's office, allow the federal government to establish a national seashore area on Padre Island, govern procedures for firing college professors, increase minimum limits of the safety responsibility law and create a bureau of labor and occupational safety code.

Car Rodeo Set Sunday

Under the sponsorship of the Howard County Citizens Band Radio Club, the program will include the car rodeo, an exhibition of the Suez Motor Patrol and the distribution of numerous prizes. Registration for prize drawings will be 10 cents. According to the sponsors, there will be a drawing every few minutes to keep up interest.

Trophies for the rodeo will be offered by Shasta Ford, Pollard Chevrolet, Truman Jones, Citizens Band Radio Club, Raymond Hamby, McEwen Buick and Dibrell's Sporting Goods.

Included in the prizes to be given away are a wrist watch, a chicken dinner, women's blouses, TV service call, beauty shop hair set, eight cup perk carafe, air conditioner cover, lube job and a skating ticket.

Demands Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—An investigation of United Nations military operations against President Moise Tshombe's Katanga Province was demanded Thursday by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex.

THE SINFUL WOMAN

One time, when Jesus was on earth, he forgave the sins of one who has come to be known as "the sinful woman." Luke 7.

Some think that because Jesus said unto her, "Thy faith hath saved thee," she was saved by faith alone, but Jesus did not refer to faith alone in the case of the sinful woman. Rather he referred to what she had just done, then he said, "Wherefore I say unto thee, her sins, which are many, are forgiven for she loved much." Luke 7:44. This is no example of gaining forgiveness through faith alone. Indeed not.

Neither does this teach men that they may be saved today without baptism; for this is not an ex-

Shop-Rite And Parker Merge

Announcement has been made of the merger of Parker's Food Stores—a system of 14 units in the Wichita Falls-Lawton, Okla., area—with Shop Rite Foods, Inc. Bob Parker and Garnet Parker are owners of the Parker stores and Garnet Parker will join the board of directors of Shop Rite, which has stores in Texas and New Mexico, including the Piggly-Wiggly Store in Big Spring.

Addition of the Parker chain will increase the number of stores operated by the corporation to 71, according to Herbert Wilcox, president.

Wilcox stated that no personnel or policy changes are anticipated. "Our policy of offering nationally famous brands at the lowest possible prices and our long association with S and H Green stamps fit Parker's policy so perfectly that no changes are imminent," Wilcox said.

Before the merge, Shop Rite Foods, Inc., operated 57 supermarkets with division offices in Albuquerque, Lubbock, San Antonio, and Amarillo. Wichita Falls will become headquarters for a fifth division.

Andrews Students To Visit Hospital

Russell E. Shrader, director of the Texas Merit System, is seeking more persons to take the open competitive examinations for system placement.

There are many vacancies in the fields of inspection, investigation, interviewing and case work, child welfare, public health nursing and others, he said.

Information about openings, salary ranges and examination times and places can be had at the Texas Employment Commission office here.

Congo's Premier Has Heavy Burden

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
LEOPOLDVILLE, (AP) — Two Congolese soldiers stepped from a sentry hut, carefully checked papers and then waved the car on.

On a little knoll stood a low, attractive house surrounded by lawn and with a garden at the rear. A soldier with a rifle and bayonet slowly patrolled the road. Papers were checked again and the soldier stepped back.

At a knock on the door, a rich, sure voice called, "Come in."

Inside, in a broad modern living room sat Cyrille Adoula, 47, former clerk, former secretary and now premier of the central Congo government.

He was barefoot, wore striped pajamas and apologized for his attire. He had been suffering from a stomach ailment, not serious enough to keep him from the desk.

Adoula is a burly man with a brow that crinkles deeply when he is driving a point home. Already he has learned much of how to give the diplomatic answer, the soft turn to a sharp query, but his manner is forthright and his trip from a mud hut behind a Leopoldville garage to the premier's chair has not been easy.

He is affable, has a certain charm and is hospitable and courteous. None of these qualities has reached the masses of the people he is striving to govern. To them he is a man in an office, a name

Trapper Makes Annual Report

Earl Brownrigg, county trapper, made his annual appearance before the county commissioners Thursday.

Brownrigg, who has served as Howard County trapper for the past 22 years, told the court he was deeply appreciative of the $15 a month pay boost voted him and reminded the court, "I didn't ask for it but I'm grateful."

He told the court that 1962 had been a busy year for himself and for a trapper employed by Kent Morgan and other ranchers to keep predatory animals under control.

So far in January, he said, he has trapped and destroyed 12 coyotes and five bobcats. The private trapper has already destroyed six coyotes and five cats this month.

Last year, he said, his score was 123 coyotes and 85 bobcats. The trapper employed by Morgan and others snared 222 coyotes and 89 bobcats.

He urged, if the money is available, that the services of the extra trapper be continued through 1963. Brownrigg is now paid $290 a month and $85 a month car expense.

DEAR ABBY

Meet Him Enjoy Your

DEAR ABBY: I have a 14-year-old son. I have just discovered that he has been smoking. Should I punish him or should I just ignore it and let him smoke? Some say to give him permission to smoke in front of us and the fascination of it will wear off. What do you say? WEST TEXAS

DEAR WEST TEXAS: Tell the boy about the effects of tobacco and ask him not to smoke until he is 21 as a favor to himself and a gesture of respect for his parents' love and wisdom. If he will meet you halfway, he may forego smoking all his life. Here's hoping.

DEAR ABBY: You will save my life if you put in your column what a "D" means on a report card. I got a "D" and my father took all my privileges un-til next report card time. I tried to tell him that a "D" was a passing mark but he wouldn't believe me. Do teachers grade different, Abby? Please answer right away. PRISONER

DEAR "PRISONER": When some teachers give a "D" it indicates that the student barely passed but he DID pass. Other teachers will give a "D" even though the work is not actually passing, but she knows the student tried. Have your father call your teacher to find out what YOUR "D" meant or you are D-E-A-D.

DEAR ABBY: Nine years ago my husband's mother moved in with us and we can't get rid of her. She has a job and pays us $10 a week, but her food and laundry cost more than that. My husband took out an insurance policy for her with my husband as beneficiary. We pay the premiums. Well, she borrowed $400 on it and the insurance people tell us if we don't pay it back, when she died there won't be enough to bury her. When we asked her to pay it back she said, "I don't care what you do with me after I die. Dig a hole in the back yard and throw me in!" When we threaten to put her out, she says she'll quit her job, go to court

FALLACY OF FEELINGS

How often have our emotions become the criteria for judging truth? "God approves" of my religion because it gives me a feeling which is better felt than told, telling me I am right." But are we being fair with ourselves in evaluating our faith by our feelings? Just how much trust should we put in feelings? Surely, all must agree that feelings are not infallible. The impelling conscience of the Hindu mother that causes her to throw her infant into the mouth of the crocodile certainly does not justify her action! The conscience of the Roman heathen which motivated him to put to death the followers of Christ did not bring vindication! When John's conscience led him to worship the angel he was rebuked. Feeling a practice is right does not make it so. The Bible says: "Lean not upon thine own understanding." Prov. 3:5 And again: "It is not in man that walketh to direct his steps." Jer. 10:23. Feelings, therefore, are not to be judges in religious matters. Our religious practices must be proved in the light of a greater standard—the Scriptures. On what is your religion based? Feelings? or Facts? Only facts will stand the tests of trial.

You are invited to the Northside Church of Christ, 601 N. Rannels, Sunday 10 & 11 a.m. 6 p.m. Wed. 7:30 p.m.

Feuding Sisters Plan Honeymoons Together

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer
Disagreements between sisters are just part of growing up, explains lyric soprano, Carla Alberghetti, 23, younger sister of Anna Maria.

The two girls who feuded as teen-agers may shortly go on a double honeymoon.

Carla is three years younger than Anna, a lot of difference in the early teen years. But once you get past that period, Carla says, you are on the same level. Sisters find each other, especially when in trouble, Carla says.

"When I am ill Anna comes running, and when she does not look well, I bound her to rest," says Carla.

A dainty size 6, Carla was wearing a light blue wool coat by Balenciaga, a recent gift from Anna. The pillbox hat made to match the coat is exactly like those that Anna almost always wears, but is "the first hat I've ever owned," says Carla who is thrilled with her gift.

The two girls have the same enormous brown eyes, black hair, fair skin and winning demureness. Neither wears lipstick.

The two came here from Italy with their family in 1952, although Anna had been here briefly two years before for a Carnegie Hall concert. The family toured the country. Mother Alberghetti played piano, father and brother conducted, the girls sang. After Carla wouldn't let her career interfere with marriage to California attorney Paul Polena, and the plan is evolving that she and Anna may do a movie in Chile while on their honeymoons.

Anna's fiance, Claudio Guzman has bought a very dramatic Spanish story, "The Steps," and talk is that he'll film it in Chile with Anna in the lead, and I may play the part of the mute girl."

Women Organized, Announce Platform

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A challenge to support strict constitutional government was made today to 600 women attending a quarterly meeting of Women for Constitutional Government.

The challenge came from one of the founders of the new organization formed in Jackson, Miss., in protest of action taken by the federal government during the racial crisis at the University of Mississippi.

Mrs. Florence Sillers Ogden, sister of Mississippi's House speaker, received a resounding ovation as she declared: "We stand ready to sacrifice our lives for our country, but we will not give up our freedoms. We stand for constitutional government."

She explained that constitutional rule in government could only be made by presenting a united front in support of conservative candidates during elections.

She cautioned the women, "Never, never, vote for a liberal."

Mrs. Ogden said that the organization stands for free enterprise and prayer in the schools, and is against the Kennedys, disarmament and communism.

Alabama's first lady, Mrs. Lurleen Wallace, welcomed the women. The wife of Gov. George Wallace commended the organization for its aims.

Mississippi's first lady, Mrs. Ross Barnett, was also introduced to the assembly.

The editor of the Summit, Miss. Sun, Mrs. Mary Cain, gave the seven-point platform which the group adopted.

It includes the defeat of communism, recognition of individual integrity, support of free enterprise, separation of the duties of the three branches of government, opposition to foreign aid, opposition to the United Nations and what the group called a return to God in government.

Shouting Communists Halt Talk By Chinese Delegate

BERLIN (AP)—Jeering, shouting Communists halted speech by Red Chinese delegate Wu Hsiu-chuan at the East German party congress today after Wu made a veiled attack on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's coexistence policies.

Khrushchev was not present to hear Wu assail revisionists of the Tito clique—the Chinese Communist way of criticizing Soviet leadership.

Snubbing the Red Chinese, Khrushchev spent the morning at an East Berlin television factory.

Throughout Wu's speech, the 2,500 delegates and guests from 70 Communist parties stamped their feet, shouted and whistled to show their disapproval.

Such attacks, Verner said, are incompatible with relations which should exist between Marxist-Leninist parties.

He told Wu to stop such tactics. Several times Wu was stopped by shouts of "Pfu"—a favorite German jeer.

Jury Seated In Fourth Trial

A jury was seated and first evidence being presented at 10:30 a.m. today in the trial of the compensation suit brought by Archie Lomax against Travelers Insurance Co. The case is in 118th District Court, with Judge Ralph Cañon presiding.

The Lomax case is the fourth jury trial to be heard this week in the court.

A jury returned a verdict for the defendant in a compensation case tried Thursday in the court. The case styled Pedro Munoz vs. Commercial Standard Insurance company ruled that the plaintiff seeking compensation had in reality been an independent contractor on the job and that as a result he had no claim for compensation against the insurance company.

Sheriff Ignores Commission, Retains Deputy Lunch Policy

Sheriff Miller Harris said today that he does not intend to abide by the county commissioners' recommendation that he stop his deputies from eating their noonday meal in the county jail.

"I have thought the matter over carefully," he said, "and I am convinced this is a matter for me to decide—a part of my office administration procedure."

He said the plan of having the deputies eat their lunch at the jail when I first took office. I did so for several reasons — one, to save time, in that the deputies would take only 20 to 30 minutes for lunch instead of an hour as they would if they went home.

Second phase of the program, based on the first phase cost, with W. D. Caldwell as contractor, was $133,000.

"We are real pleased with the bid prices on the second phase of the continuing assessment paving program," Bruce Dunn, director of public works, said Friday.

The longest single connected paving strip will be on the north side, where approximately 12 blocks will be topped, and includes curb and gutter. This section begins on Northwest Fourth at Aylford, and runs to Channing. From there it follows Channing to Northwest Seventh, then Northwest Seventh from Channing to

Lubbock Firm Apparent Low Bidder On Paving Project

Daniel Brothers, Lubbock, were apparent low bidders on approximately 31 blocks of new paving in the city's continuing assessment paving program.

Second low bid was by Clayton Equipment Co., Odessa, with a bid of $114,418.33 for hot mix paving and $109,475.89 on cold mix.

Bids will be tabulated by the city's engineering department and submitted to the city commission next Tuesday night. If the commission approves the bid, a public hearing will be called. The reaction at the public hearing will determine whether or not property owners will be signed up and a contract signed.

Court Denies More Salary

Lee Young is the duly elected and acting constable for Big Spring but his salary is still $1 per month, despite an appeal he made Thursday before the Howard County Commissioners Court for an adjustment.

Young asked the commission to increase his salary to $175 per month and grant him a $50 a month as car allowance.

The court heard his plea, and then told him it would stand by an earlier action in which the salary of the constable was set at $1 per month.

Another constable and another justice of the peace, elected at last November's election, are eligible to serve when they have properly qualified. They are officials of Fortson township and the city officials.

Tunisian President Sees Algerian Help In Plot

TUNIS (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba charged today that a recent plot against his life had been hatched by Algerians. He said the Tunisian ambassador to Algeria will be recalled.

Bourguiba told a crowd of more than 200,000 that Tunisia's frontiers with Algeria will be severely controlled.

He said his government is ready to "resume our relations (with Algeria) but mutual respect and sincerity should be established."

Bourguiba asserted that some members of the Algerian government had a hand in the reported conspiracy and blamed the policies of Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.

"Not all members of the Algerian government were involved," Bourguiba said. "Most of them criticize the policy of Ben Bella today."

It is surprising and paradoxical to see Algeria—as soon as it became independent, thanks to aid given by Tunisia—become a residence for the criminals and plotters against the government of Tunisia.

The crowd, massed outside the capital's sprawling native quarter, roared "Ya hya Bourguiba! Long live Bourguiba!" as the president ended his speech.

It was Bourguiba's triumphant return to the capital after a month's absence in Le Kef near the Algerian frontier.

Dr. Young To Speak At Odessa

Dr. Paul C. Young, chief psychologist at the Big Spring State Hospital, will address a group from the Highland Methodist Church in Odessa Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

This is one of three speaking engagements he has during the week.

At this meeting, and at a Key-Notes luncheon in Odessa Monday at noon, he will discuss "Parallels Between Psychology and Religion." Dr. Young will speak on "Emotional Growth" in a group in Kermit that evening at 7:30 p.m.

Personnel Group Meets Thursday

Members of the Big Spring Personnel Management Association met for a short, informal session Thursday night at the Cosden Country Club. Attendance was cut down to about a dozen because of conflict for many members with the banquet staged at Coker's Restaurant for the anniversary of the Civil Service Act.

Among subjects taken up at the dinner meeting was assistance to handicapped. The group considered employing handicapped workers by the Association as a start on getting them employed by businesses.

Mrs. Glaser's Funeral Today

Funeral was to be held at 3 p.m. today for Mrs. Mary Magdelene Glaser, 85, who died Thursday morning in Lamesa. A former resident of Big Spring, she had spent the past 10 months in a nursing home in Lamesa.

Mrs. Glaser had been in failing health the past five years.

Born Oct. 13, 1877, in DeWitt County, she and her family came to Howard County in 1903. She married Robert Julius Glaser in 1894 in Rannels County, who preceded her in death July 14, 1952.

A son, Henry Earl Glaser, also preceded her in death May 8, 1959.

The Glasers were a pioneering family of Howard County. He was an early day cowboy and rancher. Mrs. Glaser was a member of the Jehovah Witnesses Church.

Services were to be held at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, Chapel with Jack O'Shaughnessy, minister of the Jehovah Witnesses Church, officiating, with burial in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of Nalley-Pickle.

Palbearers were to be Jess Slaughter, Harvey Hooser Jr., Roy Bruce, J. C. McWhorter, Dwain Leonard and Wendell Parks.

She is survived by one son, Robert L. Glaser, San Angelo, three sisters, Mrs. J. R. Spence, Modesto, Calif.; Mrs. Will Wilmont, Santa Barbara, Calif.; and Mrs. Leonora Hurlock Houston, eight grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

VIP stands for very important pooch, to the students and teacher at District 116 school near Darwin, Minn. Here, Sparky, the school mascot, enjoys lunch hour with her master, Holly Ann Smith, 10-year-old fifth grader. The Labrador goes to school and enjoys the classroom sessions and romping with the kids at recess. The teacher, Florence Witte, who doesn't mind anyway, had to agree with school board's wish that Sparky can attend as a mascot.

Once Flashy Rail Queen Nears End

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee Railway, once a flashy speed queen among interurban lines, is creeping toward its last stop.

The 68-year-old, 106-mile line between Chicago and Milwaukee will quit business at 4:01 a.m. on Monday, a victim of the auto-riding commuter.

It is slated to follow into oblivion such other railroad casualties as a sister line, the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin, which served points west of Chicago; the New York, Ontario and Western, the Rutland Railway and several others.

In all, the nation's railroad network has shrunk by about 10,000 route miles since World War II—to about 216,000.

When the North Shore dies, its 10,000 riders, mostly commuters, will have to shift to other rail lines or to the highways. About 650 employees will lose jobs.

The Windy City will lose another monument to the late Samuel Insull, famed utilities tycoon.

A memory will disappear for sailors from the Great Lakes Naval Training Center and soldiers from Ft. Sheridan who jammed the line's swaying coaches during the war.

"You could hardly walk through the cars, they were so packed," recalled W. E. Graham, 63, of Lake Forest, Ill., a conductor for 30 of his 42 years with the road.

James E. Armstrong, 46, a conductor from Zion, Ill., sounded more sad than bitter about the approaching end. He worked for the North Shore 12½ years.

"It's pretty tough to be kicked out without a job and no future," Armstrong said.

E. P. Costello, a spokesman for the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said unions are trying to get jobs for members.

He said there is no severance pay when a railroad is abandoned but the majority of employees qualify for unemployment benefits under the Railroad Retirement Act.

Costello said the blow falls hardest on those in the twilight zone — "too young to retire, too old to get another job."

The Chicago and North Western Railway and the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad serve many of the same communities. But North Western depots vary from two blocks to four miles away from North Shore stations in the same areas.

The North Shore received the Interstate Commerce Commission's permission to cease operations on its plea that it is losing more than $1,000 a day.

The North Shore Commuters Association still hopes to keep the electric line going. It has appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court and is also trying to raise money to buy the railroad.

The target of much of the fire from commuters is the Susquehanna Corp., a holding company. North Shore is a wholly owned subsidiary of Susquehanna.

After the North Shore quits, Susquehanna will enjoy a sizable tax break.

The ICC, in authorizing the North Shore to stop service, commented that Susquehanna will have "substantial tax savings" but stated that had no bearing on the decision.

The roots of the North Shore trace back to 1894. Years later steel cars whizzed between Chicago's Loop and Milwaukee.

Sample Bills By Texans On The First Day

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON — Among the hundreds of bills introduced in the House on the opening day of the 88th Congress, several score came from Texas members.

There were no offerings, however, from Rep.-at-large Joe Pool, Democrat, or Rep. Ed Foreman, Republican. There is something of a tradition that first-termers are to be seen but not heard early in a session and seldom does a newcomer contribute to the legislative hopper on his first day in Congress.

Here are some sample offerings by the Texans, representative of the wide range of subjects which may occupy the attention of the lawmakers for the next two years.

Rep. Wright Patman, dean of the Texans in Congress—a bill reaffirming the national public policy and the purpose of Congress in laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies.

Rep. Bruce Alger—a bill to rescind and revoke membership of the United States in the United Nations.

Rep. Lindley Beekworth—a bill amending the Civil Service Act so that all states will have a share proportionate to population of the summer-time federal jobs for students, positions now held down largely by young from the District of Columbia, Virginia and Maryland.

Rep. Walter Rogers—a bill to increase the personal income tax exemption on dependents from $600 up to $1,000.

Rep. George Mahon—a bill amending the Registration and Trademark Act to carry out provisions of certain international conventions.

Rep. Olin Teague—a bill to provide veterans' mortgage protection life insurance, and other bills that would be handled by the House Veterans Affairs Committee of which he is chairman.

Rep. Clark Thompson—a bill to authorize the construction of the Columbus Bend project by the Interior Department.

AROUND THE CAPITAL
Republican Rep. Alger of Dallas, meeting with reporters at a luncheon, recalled the strained relationship that existed between him and the late Speaker Sam Rayburn.

"I regret to say that we never were able to sit down and straighten out personal differences," the tall and handsome Alger said.

"I had a respect for him, even though I knew he had said he would not attend any meeting of the Texas delegation if I was there. That being the case, I made it a point not to go to any of the delegation meetings, to avoid embarrassment to all concerned."

Rayburn's dislike for Alger stemmed from an offhand remark made by Alger to a group of reporters shortly before he came to Congress, after his election in November, 1954. The remark was to the effect that Alger thought Rayburn, known as Mr. Democrat, would put party ahead of country.

Local Lambs, Steers To Be Entered At Abilene

Forty five lambs and five steers, owned by Howard County 4-H Club members, are to be exhibited at the annual Abilene Fat Stock show which opens Jan. 20.

Herb Helbig, county farm agent, said that the new 4-H Club van, just being put in service, will be used to convey the Howard County competitors to the show. The delegation leaves at 8 a.m. Sunday.

He said activities in connection with the show get under way Friday. On that date, all club members are to bring the lambs and steers they are to enter in the show to the county fair barn.

Judging of the fat lambs will begin at Abilene Jan. 21 at 8 a.m. The steers will be judged at 2 p.m. Jan. 22. The auction sale will be at 11 a.m. Jan. 23 and the van and the 4-H club entrants will be back in Big Spring at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

He said that all boys and girls who are showing Southdown lambs are asked to wash their lambs before bringing them to the fair grounds barn Friday. The persistence of bad weather, he explained, would prevent this being done.

The show expenses for each steer will be $12 and $2 for each lamb.

The five steers to be entered in the show are being exhibited by Mark Barr, Maxwell Barr, Mary Thornton, Freddie White and Gary McNew.

Are So-Called "Bargain" Eyeglasses Really A Bargain?

Have you ever heard this famous quotation: "Quality Is Remembered Long After The Price Is Forgotten"? This is true. Of course, this doesn't mean that real values shouldn't be looked for whenever they truly exist. But, there is a difference in real value and so-called "bargains"...and this is especially true when it comes to eye care and eyewear.

So-called "bargain" eyeglasses may, in fact, not be a bargain at all. Unknown to the purchaser of so-called "bargain" eyeglasses, some important elements could be left out of the lens prescription, or a special type of bifocal or trifocal lens may be omitted, just to cut the cost of making the glasses. These omissions could result in strained eyes, discomfort and improper vision. Also, inferior quality frames might be used which could reduce the wearing comfort as well as the useable life of the glasses.

There is no good reason for risking priceless eyesight and comfort on so-called "bargain" eyeglasses, when real value in professional eye care and eyewear is available at famous Texas State Optical. For the past 27 years hundreds of thousands of people throughout Texas have learned to rely on TSO for outstanding professional eye care and finest quality eyewear at reasonable cost.

At TSO, your eyes are carefully examined by an experienced Doctor of Optometry...both for internal evidence of disease or defect and for visual abnormalities. If glasses are needed, an accurate prescription is formulated and they are prescribed and fitted to meet your exact visual requirements, and to give you the best vision and utmost comfort. If you need single vision glasses, your cost is as low as $14.85, including examination, finest quality lenses and frame; if you require bifocals, your cost is as low as $17.85, complete, with examination, lenses and frame. Convenient credit is available at no extra cost.

The next time you need professional eye care and finest quality eyewear, see the dependable TSO Doctor of Optometry in whom you can place complete confidence and trust for the care of your eyes and your vision.

Blasts Out

Gary Player fresh from winning the San Diego Open golf tourney, blasts out of trap on 17th hole at Pebble Beach, Calif., during practice round before start of 22nd National Pro-Amateur Golf Championship.

There'll be halftime entertainment for the callers. An Odessa team, composed of Franck C. Stretch Jr. and David Petty, will stage a table tennis match. Stretch is among the top five in the Southwest in the sport and is regarded as one of the finest left-handed pingpong players in the world.

NMMI is perhaps not as strong as it has been in recent years but is still considered a good match for any foe. Even at peak strength, the Hawks would figure to have a rough time with the Roswell team, and the Hawks are nowhere near peak strength.

HCJC suffered another blow Thursday when ace guard Jim Wilburn turned his ankle in practice. He'll be out at least a week. The Hawks were already playing short handed.

NMMI recently gave San Angelo College all it could handle before losing 79-64. The Cadets used a full court press to advantage against San Angelo and pulled to within one

Negro Cager Brings Fame To Small Town

DETROIT, Tex. (AP)—In this Red River town in Northeast Texas, the kids at the little frame schoolhouse all use pencils with the same markings: "Detroit High, home of John Savage."

When he was 13, John Savage took a rubber basketball and dribbled it down the court behind the same school building. It was his introduction to a game in which today he has few peers.

Since then fame has reached out and touched the big 6-foot-5 Negro in many ways. But the tribute from Detroit High means a great deal to him, close friends say.

Ask him about it, though, and he's just as likely to deny that such pencils exist.

Savage just wants to play basketball. And he does a lot of it at North Texas State. He did enough last year as a sophomore to make the all-conference first team in the Missouri Valley Conference.

In a conference known as one of the giants of basketball, that was quite an accomplishment on a team that wasn't among the leaders.

As North Texas assistant coach Travis Duncan puts it: "We don't have to do much coaching with a boy like that. You just give him the ball and get out of the way."

Savage, averaging 19.5 points a game this season, was a standout last week as the Eagles lost to top-ranked Cincinnati. He scored 22 points before fouling out with more than eight minutes left.

Sports writers at the game said "I had offers from Michigan, Wyoming and Idaho and a few more," Savage said. "But I wanted to stay close to home. I wanted to play in the Missouri Valley Conference, too. My coach at Detroit, (Denny) Rundles, wrote a letter to the school and told them about me."

North Texas coach Charlie Johnson did some checking. He found the Detroit team had gone into the state Negro playoffs for two straight years. Savage averaged 26 points his junior year and 32 in his senior year. During the playoff in his senior year, Savage swamped one rival team with a 61-point scoring spurge.

Detroit doesn't have a gym. Most of Savage's practice in those days was on the hard dirt court where he dribbled that rubber ball at age 13.

As for the future, Savage is looking forward to his senior year—next year—when he believes the Eagles will be in position to compete equally with tough Missouri Valley foes.

"I need to improve on my shooting and I know I need to work on getting more moves," he said. "I know. I'll need more moves if I get a chance to go to the pros."

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fred Haney, whose shrewd deals helped lift the Los Angeles Angels into third place last year, says he'll be happy if the team finishes in the first division in 1963.

The Angel general manager fears a leveling off and says he is not sure whether last year's race was a true test of the club's ability.

Angels May Level Off, Says Haney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fred Haney, whose shrewd deals helped lift the Los Angeles Angels into third place last year, says he'll be happy if the team finishes in the first division in 1963.

The Angel general manager fears a leveling off and says he is not sure whether last year's race was a true test of the club's ability.

NEW YORK (AP)—Alex Karras, star tackle of the Detroit Lions, had his foot pulled out of his mouth, and a gag slapped in it, today.

Karras, who blurted out on a television show Wednesday that he had bet on games—without explaining that he meant he bet "a pack of cigarettes or a couple of cigars"—spent two long questions and answer sessions with National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle here Thursday.

Karras emerged glum and tight-lipped, and flew back to Detroit, where he said: "I'm under strict orders not to do any more talking."

The NFL had no comment, either. Rozelle said he will have a statement on the current investigation of betting rumors when it is completed.

A new name popped into the picture late Thursday, with a report in the Miami (Fla.) Herald that Carroll Rosenbloom, the owner of the Baltimore Colts, has been questioned about betting on his own team, and denied it.

The Herald said Rosenbloom's lawyer, Jerome Doyle, confirmed in New York that the owner had been questioned.

Karras came to New York to discuss his television show remarks, which stirred up the betting probe all over again. With him was teammate Wayne Walker, who got off with a 10-minute lecture from the NFL commissioner.

Rozelle could let Karras off with the stern lecture, which clearly shook up the big star, or slap him with a fine, a suspension or even throw him out of the league.

Walker, a linebacker and place kicker, got off lightly. He had admitted that he has met some persons of shady character, but insisted he never discussed football with them or made a bet.

Steers Host Abilene Flock Saturday At 8

MIDLAND — Steady Eddie Shirley beat a steady tattoo on the goal in leading the Midland Bulldogs to a 77-57 District 2-AAAA basketball victory over the Big Spring Steers here Thursday night.

The defeat was the fifth straight for the Longhorns and left them with an overall record of 10-10. Midland is now 2-3 within the league.

Big Spring returns to action at home Saturday night, opposing the Abilene High Eagles at 8 o'clock in the Steer Gym. B teams of the two schools square off at 6:15 p.m. Shirley conquered for a total of 31 points. Only one other Midland player, Scott Gilmour, had more than ten points. He wound up with 13.

The Big Spring leader was again Eddy Nelson, who tossed in 24 points. Eddy connected on only two of 13 free shot opportunities.

The Bulldogs waxed warm in the final three minutes of the second quarter and the first three minutes of the third to pull away from the Longhorns.

Albert Fierro, one of Big Spring's best rebounders, sat out all of the last quarter of the game after fouling out. Fierro scored 16 points before he called it a night.

The game officially ended the career of Bob Todd as the Midland coach. He's going to start selling insurance. The Midland team played as if it dedicated the game to him.

The Steers hit 13 of 27 shots from the field the first half and 11 of 21 the last half. It was again a case where they simply didn't shoot enough.

Big Spring won the B game, 72-57, thanks to a mighty effort by Mike Peters, who becomes eligible for a team action this week-end.

Peters blitzed for 24 points, turning in far and away his best effort of the year. Keith Bristow tallied 12 points and Teddy Graham ten for the Longhorns while Joe Rattie did fine work on the boards.

ABILENE—Fine outside shooting by Malcolm Nichols gave the Abilene Eagles a 72-63 District 2-AAAA basketball victory over the Odessa Bronchos here Thursday night.

Nichols scored 26 points for the War Birds, who now have won three of five league starts. Odessa is 2-3 within the circuit.

The game was rough and Abilene was given a technical foul in the fourth quarter when coach Hugh Cochran of Odessa was accused of arguing too strenuously with the officials.

Terry Trippett and E. V. Rogers paced the Odessa offensive with 17 points each. The Eagles never trailed in the game. David Wray, shaken up under one of the baskets, tossed in 15 points for the winners.

LETTER TO EDITOR Spradling Sportsmanship Is Lauded By Observer

Dear Mr. Hart: In regards to your article on Elvis Spradling's basketball ability at Rice University, you might also have added an equally outstanding laurel for the exemplary sportsmanship that he displays any time he represents his college in a basketball game.

In the game between Texas A&M vs Rice last January 8th, the first thing that anyone in G. Rollie White Coliseum noticed among Rice's first string players besides their uncanny ball control was their sportsmanship. Quite early in the game, after a belligerent slugfest, an Aggie and one of the Rice players were thrown out of the game. This speaks for all members of both teams except one—Elvis Spradling. Of all the players on the court, the one who kept the coolest head, the one who didn't raise a finger in anger, the one who kept his composure for the entire game was Elvis—affectionately known in the Southwest Conference as "Eli." To me, indoctrinated with all the fight and spirit that the 1961-62 Steer football team possessed, not to mention the spirit of the Aggie Twelfth Man, that was undoubtedly one of the finest displays of sportsmanship that I have ever seen in any sport of any kind. That game itself was rougher to me than any game I saw the Aggies play in Kyle Field and Elvis' temperament and self-control speak very well for the type of skill and sportsmanship that is being taught at Howard County Junior College. Needless to say, to see one of the hometown boys make good in college basketball and then to see why he made good brings home about 390 miles closer.

Please convey my congratulations to Coach Bud Travis and his '63 basketball team and wish them the best of luck for the remainder of the season.

Sincerely yours, D. P. THOMPSON College Station

Jesus Encounters Early Hostility

CHRIST'S EXPERIENCE SHOWS HOW EVEN A DOER OF GOOD CAN BE OPPOSED AND PLOTTED AGAINST

By N. SPEER JONES

IT IS WISE to realize that no matter what a person does, he can expect criticism from some quarter. Nothing that you can do will please everyone. The least offensive action is probably complete inaction—yet that usually does no good to anyone, and even that will bring criticism.

An understanding of this truth enables us to act more fearlessly, with more poise and more self-confidence. We worry less about what others will think, and more about what God will think; and we are guided more truly by our own conscience.

Today's lesson deals with the opposition felt even by Christ— even in His early ministry, and even from those who thought of themselves as religious people. The scene is Capernaum, at the northern end of the Sea of Galilee, early in the summer of A.D. 28.

ance from the time of Ezra, to the point where their influence counted for more in the governing Sanhedrin than the priestly aristocracy.

The second instance cited by Mark of Christ's opposition comes immediately after He calls Matthew to be a disciple. Matthew, called here Levi, had been a tax-collector by profession. When he converts his life to follow Christ, he celebrates with a great feast, to which he invites his fellow tax-collectors (publicans) and others considered as sinners. (The tax-collectors then were generally profane.)

Christ at once makes it plain that His is a religion accessible to all—even those considered the worst of sinners. Here, again, Christ cuts through the red tape of the priesthood and the priests are rightly alarmed at this rival to their authority.

The question about fasting, like the one about picking grain on the Sabbath, is posed to demonstrate the superficiality of mechanical rules, as opposed to the true heart of a situation. Christ reminds the people that the Sabbath was designed for man's welfare, not vice versa, and that He Himself is Lord of the Sabbath and can rule as He pleases about it.

This aspect is heightened in the healing of the man with the withered hand on the Sabbath. To shock his critics out of their self-righteous rule-consciousness, Christ poses the choice of doing good or evil on the Sabbath. Not to do good when one can, is to do evil—and this is never right.

The lesson becomes more meaningful if we consider the man as spiritually withered, or incompetent, as well as physically so. Any little thing that we can do, at any time, for any one, to help him become a more complete person—this is an act of healing and of value to God.

"REPENTANCE"

The word "repentance" when simply and sanely defined means to change one's attitude, from the viewpoint of the Bible repentance is a change of the mind brought about by godly sorrow and followed by a reformation of life. There is a vast difference between "repentance" and "penance"; this latter word means an ecclesiastical censure or punishment imposed by ecclesiastical law for the cleansing and correction of the soul. In the Roman Catholic Church is one of the Sacraments and in the realm of suffering included therein is fasting, flagellation, wearing of chains etc. and all of this is to make satisfaction for offences and then to be followed by absolution or forgiveness of the sin. It ought to be obvious to any student of the Bible that there is no reasonable, sound nor rational relationship between Bible "Repentance" and "penance."

Nations, communities and church congregations are all made up of individuals; and as these individuals go so goes the group. If any man desire to be a channel of blessing he will never exercise greater discernment, foresight and discrimination than when, in obedience to God's word he repents. The man who denies his need of repentance is under an illusion, he has somehow created a false impression of himself.

God has commanded all men everywhere to repent—Acts 17:30; for God is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance—II Pet. 3:9. It is the goodness of God that leads men to repentance—Rom. 2:4, and it is godly sorrow that work repentance unto salvation—II Cor. 7:10. Baptism and repentance are supplementary and both must be done by the willful decision of the one who repents. "Repent and be baptized everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins"—Acts 2:38.

"AND THEN PRINCE CHARMING"

Do you remember the undivided attention you gave to a story-teller . . . when you first heard Cinderella, Snow White, or some gallant warrior hold? It seems so long ago. And yet, that attention reveals within ourselves more than dreams; it reveals a secret longing after mysteries, after the things we do not understand, but somehow love.

Religion, in a way, is somewhat like that. Everybody is religious! But, of course, everybody doesn't call it that! Nevertheless, there is in the heart of man a secret yearning, a wish, a hope for things eternal. We express those wishes in church.

And somehow God hears our wishes and consoles and explains. That is a very important part of the Church; for it is a place of consolation and understanding, a place where wishes (prayers) are heard, where the mysteries of life gain new meaning.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Bishop Meditates

Bishop St. Psalm meditates his problems as he sits inside a casket in his St. Psalm Spiritual Church at Nashville, Tenn. The Negro spiritualist says he is conducting a fast and prayer vigil to determine whether God wants him to make any more "holiness wine" for the congregation. Police charged the bishop with making moonshine whiskey and he was fined $50. St. Psalm also is threatened with eviction from the church building for failure to pay rent. The collection plate on the table was placed there for convenience of visitors who wish to express support.

Baby Girl Still In Critical Condition in Beating Case

FORT WORTH (AP)—A baby girl still was in critical condition today after a severe beating Wednesday night left her near death. Diana Secrest, 23 months, was treated for two skull fractures, a broken elbow, broken ribs, a dislocated shoulder and bruises over most of her body. "She is improving," a hospital spokesman said. "We are still carrying her on the critical list because of the nature of her injuries." Charles Rumsey, 22, the child's uncle, admitted beating the child repeatedly in an attempt to toilet train her. Police said charges of assault to murder will be filed against Rumsey today. Police said they have received more than 20 telephone calls from persons asking about adopting the little blonde.

Explorers Make Spring Plans

Seven of the 11 Explorer Posts in the district had representatives at the cabinet meeting at the old student union building at H.U.C. last night. Fifteen men and boys attended. Plans were made, but no definite dates set for a First Aid course and for a "Survival" camp. The first may be held some time in February to get the boys ready for emergency services for which they take various kinds of training. The second, designed to teach them to "live off the land," will be conducted probably in March or April at the Air Force's Survival Camp in Borden County.

Mrs. Caldwell Dies Today

Mrs. J. C. Caldwell, 88, mother of W. D. (Dubs) Caldwell, died today at her home in Walnut Springs. She had been bedfast for several years. Arrangements were pending, but it is likely that the funeral will be held Sunday at Walnut Springs with burial in the Eolian Cemetery in Shackelford County. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell lived in Howard County for many years, residing on a farm southeast of Vealmoor and at the south edge of what later became the Vealmoor oil field. They moved in 1946 to Walnut Springs, and Mrs. Caldwell died in December of 1948.

T&P Credit Union Plans Annual Meet

The Texas and Pacific Railway Company Federal Credit Union will hold its 16th annual meeting Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Howard County Junior College auditorium, according to H. L. Shirley, president. Current membership is about 1,000 persons, a drop of some 200 from last year. Despite this, the organization has had a good year, Shirley said. The loss was due mostly to reduction in personnel of the Western Division of the T&P.

Dunn Will Have Hearing Tonight

PECOS (AP)—A court-ordered hearing is due Dr. John Paul Dunn tonight before the Reeves County Memorial Hospital's board of managers, which seeks to drop him from its medical staff.

Funeral Set For Youngster

Tanya Sue Froman, age 17 days, died at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in a local hospital after a short illness. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Froman, 106 Anna. Funeral services will be held from the River Funeral chapel at 2 p.m. Saturday with the Rev. R. B. Murray pastor of the First Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of River Funeral Home.

Survivors include the parents, two brothers, Kenneth Froman and Donald Jean Froman, Big Spring; the maternal grandmothers, Mrs. M. and Mrs. Jim C. Harper, Big Spring; and the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Claude Froman, Big Spring.

THE TANGLED BANK. By Stanley Edgar Hyman. Atheneum. $10.

By The Associated Press
Style is supposed to be an artistic dimension. But even mathematicians speak of "elegant" solutions, and certainly the grand conceptions in the biological and social sciences are feats of creative imagination whose literary expression may be closely related to the success of the theory.

It is this aspect of the work of four great shakers — Darwin, Frazer, Marx and Freud — that Prof. Hyman develops in his massive, readable and immensely stimulating volume.

Darwin in establishing evolution and natural selection opened perspectives on a pervasive competitive struggle for survival of the fittest. He assigned man a humbler than accustomed place in nature's scheme, a scheme reminiscent of a tangled riverbank (Darwin's metaphor) with its complex interrelationships of teeming life.

Frazer, notably in "The Golden Bough," carried evolutionary concepts into comparative anthropology. He focused attention on the glint of savagery behind religious and mythological facades, but clung to his faith in ultimate perfectibility. Here Freud, perhaps the greatest innovator among the four, was less sanguine. His model of the mind at war, with dark instinctual drives infiltrating from the unconscious, created an entirely new intellectual climate.

Marx concentrated on the economic basis of social development, taught the class struggle and historical inevitability of proletarian triumph, and still marches on despite the conspicuous failure of many of his key predictions.

The point is that these sweeping visions shaped, and were shaped by, the imaginative designs of the works which gave them expression. Hyman shows for example, how "Capital" is more argument than objective socio-economic analysis. And he notes that Darwin's "Origin" swept all before it well before scientific evidence was conclusive.

The power of the four men as imaginative writers is thoroughly explored in rich extracts from their works. Coincidentally, "The Tangled Bank" provides a fine survey of their essential thought. The possibilities of academic pedantry in a study of this sort seem endless. Yet only once or twice in over 400 pages is there a faint echo of that fashionable analysis which chirrups over textual minutia and twists the obvious into knots. Sometimes Hyman makes too much of commonplace stylistic characteristics. But to have avoided most of such pitfalls is in itself a triumph of contemporary criticism.

Spraberry Loses Justice Post Bid

LAMESA (SC) — The Dawson County Commissioner's Court has ruled that "neither R. F. Spraberry nor any other person" was elected to the post of justice of the peace, Precinct 1, Place 2, and declared, "in any such office legally exists, the same is now vacant."

The action was approved in the form of a resolution and came after an investigation of the circumstances surrounding Spraberry's claim on the post when he filed a $1,000 fidelity bond Jan. 2.

The purported official bond of Spraberry, former county judge, was disapproved and will not be forwarded to the secretary of state along with bonds of other elected officials.

The resolution passed by the court further noted that one of four tally sheets "had been altered by some person." A copy maintained in the office of the county judge was different from ones held by the election judge and filed in the county clerk's office.

One tally sheet bore notations "Place 2" beside Spraberry's name and "Prec. 1, Place 1" beside the name of A. L. Standefer who was re-elected in last November's general election. Election clerks maintain that the notations were not on the lists when they were turned in after the election.

County Atty. Vernon D. Adcock said he intends to turn all information over to Dist. Atty. George Hansard for possible presentation to the Dawson grand jury. The panel convenes here Feb. 18.

Adcock said one other tally list, filed in the election stub box, could not be opened without prior approval of Dist. Judge Truett Smith. Adcock said it is possible the county will seek that approval to check the tally lists with the other three.

Justice
Gerrie Doherty, clad in her brief costume as a bunny at the new Playboy Club in New York, works at her post as door check. A state supreme court justice ruled in defense of the bunnies, freeing them to cavort as Playboy Club waitresses. Earlier the city license commissioner denied the club a cabaret license because of its scantily clad waitresses.

Police Get Pat On Back

To the Editor:
We take for granted the service we receive from our officers. For the past six years that I have operated my cafe, they have patrolled around the area regularly and have reported all breakage to me. Last week during the real cold weather, my pipes froze and broke, but at 2:30 a.m. in the morning the police got word to me so that I could get something done about it and prevent damage. I appreciate deeply this public service.

Sincerely,
ZORA HARRISON
