Suffers Defeat

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and his wife, Olive, leave the Parliament buildings in Ottawa for their official residence after Diefenbaker's government suffered two defeats in the House of Commons by votes of 142 to 111. Diefenbaker announced the dissolution of the eight-month-old 25th Parliament and called for an election in April.

Go Easy On Americans, Leader Told

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's plunge into a new national election campaign was accompanied today by pressure on Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker to go easy on anti-Americanism. The pressure came from both inside and outside his Conservative party.

Diefenbaker, 67, went through the formalities Wednesday of dissolving Parliament and calling for new elections April 8 after his regime was unseated by two non-confidence votes in the House of Commons. The move did not affect the Senate, whose members serve for life.

Pleased

Lester Pearson, Canadian Liberal party leader, wears a pleased smile after the dramatic events in Parliament at Ottawa which ended with Diefenbaker's conservative government.

McCall Backs Study Panel

AUSTIN (AP)—Dr. Abner McCall, president of Baylor University, declared today that every college in Texas backs a bill to create a commission to study higher education in the state. The House State Affairs Committee sent the bill to a subcommittee.

A Senate committee approved its version Wednesday. The bill would provide for a study of long-range prospects for junior colleges and private and public senior colleges. "There is a great deal of work already done. It just hasn't been coordinated," McCall said. "If we don't find out where we're going, there will be chaos" in future higher education in Texas.

Rep. David Crews of Conroe, sponsor of the bill, said the estimated $150,000 cost of the study would help colleges chart their courses at the greatest possible saving to taxpayers. McCall said in answer to a question that private colleges were handling a smaller percentage of students than state colleges, reversing a trend of several years ago.

Labor Party Race Divided Three Ways

LONDON (AP)—Britain's opposition Labor party faced the prospect of an inconclusive first ballot today in the three-man race for a new leader whose chief task will be to preserve party unity.

More recently he had backed Gaitskell's policy of keeping Britain a nuclear power and watering down the basic Socialist principle of state ownership.

The 249 Laborites in the House of Commons have been casting secret ballots for a week for a new leader to succeed the late Hugh Gaitskell. The ballot box will be opened tonight and the votes counted.

Two years ago Wilson challenged Gaitskell for the leadership and lost. Then Brown defeated him for the post of deputy leader.

Herrington Trial Reset

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A district judge reset Col. John Herrington's trial today for Friday instead of Feb. 25.

Judge John Onion made the change at the request of state and defense lawyers. "He will probably enter a plea of guilty to murder and assault to murder and the court will study the record," said Dist. Atty. James Barlow.

Aussies Oust Soviet Envoy

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—The Australian government accused the first secretary of the Soviet Embassy today of elaborate preparations for espionage and gave him and his wife seven days to get out of the country.

Stennis Unmoved On Question Of Cuba Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said today that secret testimony about the Soviet force in Cuba has convinced him there has been no lessening of the military threat since offensive missiles and bombers were removed.

POLIO PLANS CANCELLED AT STANTON

STANTON—The third round of Sabin polio vaccine, scheduled to be given here Sunday, has been cancelled.

Polaris A3 Is A Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The advanced A3 model of the Polaris submarine missile scored its first success in seven test launchings today on a 1,800-mile strike down the Atlantic tracking range.

Seeks To Pep Up Health Services

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today prescribed ways to pep up the nation's health services—then got in a quick plug for his politically-hot medicare proposals he may send Congress next week.

Today's message to Capitol Hill spelled out how the $1.6 billion in health funds—requested in his budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1—would be spent. It's $250 million more than the price tag in the current fiscal year.

STEPS GIVEN The President proposed steps to: Encourage and support training of more doctors, dentists and nurses, by helping build new and expand existing schools.

Strengthen federal authority over sales of cosmetics, over-the-counter drugs and other health items. Require cosmetic manufacturers to prove the safety of their wares and health device producers to prove both safety and effectiveness.

TRAGIC IRONY The President devoted two paragraphs in his 10-page message to what he called "a tragic irony that medical science has kept millions of retired men and women alive to face illnesses they cannot afford."

Needless suffering in silence, financial catastrophe, public or private charity—these are not acceptable alternatives in the richest country on earth," he said. "Social Security health insurance must be enacted this year."

AIR POLLUTION

The President also wants to

Also requested: A new bureau of environmental health with a central facility for research in the Washington area. It would pay special attention to the health hazards in the use of chemicals in the environment, including the control of pesticides.

Mrs. Grover Cunningham Sr., 65, Taken By Death

Mrs. Grover Cunningham Sr., 65, died about 5:40 p.m. Wednesday in a local hospital. She had been ill since December, 1962.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the First Methodist Church with her pastor, the Rev. Dewitt Seago, officiating. Burial will be in the City Cemetery under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Tragedy Mars Queen's Visit

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Tragedy marred the visit of Queen Elizabeth II to New Zealand today, just as on her first visit in 1953.

Riders For YMCA Roundup Report Good Branding List

Riders for the Triangle Y outfit were reporting good results on their branding today as the YMCA participating membership roundup moved to the halfway mark.

While scores of volunteers were riding the participating range, invitations went into the mail to sustaining members inviting them to the formal dinner honoring these extra supporters of the YMCA. The appreciation dinner benefiting the Y is set for Feb. 18.

observed Joe (Col. Pecos) Pickle, cattle baron of the Y Ranch Enterprises (campaign). "There are a number of workers who have not yet made their reports, and we are urging them to report results so far by this evening."

THIS IS NO FLAP, JACK; THOSE PANCAKES ARE GOOD

A crew of rough-riders from the Circle K (Kiwanis Club) took over the chuck wagon Thursday morning for the YMCA roundup breakfast.

The foreign minister explained that the Australian woman employe photographed with Skripov was acting as a government agent.

Nuclear Ship In Texas Port

The world's first nuclear powered commercial ship, the NS Savannah, is shown at her berth in the Todd Shipyards at Galveston. The Todd facility is the first commercial "service station" for nuclear ships.

Just in front of the Savannah is the Todd-built "atomic servant," a barge specifically designed to process atomic wastes from the ship.

Dillard Gets Parks Post

James Dillard, who has many friends in this area, has been named by Gov. Jack M. Campbell as acting state parks director for New Mexico.

daughter of Mr. Dillard, who lives in Santa Fe and who has been serving as assistant state parks director.

Gov. Campbell is pressing a re-organization of the parks and recreation commission in New Mexico and soon is expected to name permanent officers.

Dillard has been with the New Mexico parks commission since 1955 when it was reactivated. He has assisted in the planning of the states three newest parks—Pancho Villa at Columbus, Oasis near Portales, and Conchas Dam Park. For five years before joining the commission, Dillard was with the State Game Department. He is rated as one of the foremost authorities on cactus in New Mexico, and his collection in the Pancho Villa Park is among the most extensive in the United States.

Mrs. Grantham, who resides at 433 Hillside, is also the daughter of Mrs. Woodrow Rogers of Big Spring.

Astronaut Warning Net

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An "early warning" system for earth-orbiting astronauts—to allow them to scoot earthward ahead of sudden radiation storms brewed by the sun—was envisioned today by an Air Force expert.

Maj. Osmond Ritland, one of the top officials of the service's manned spaceflight program, told about the possibilities in addressing a symposium on space medicine at Brooks Air Force Base.

Declaring radioactive protons—or space bullets—spewed out for millions of miles by sudden "flares" on the sun constitute a possible formidable problem for spacemen, Ritland said such flares are generated by sunspots. And he added:

"It has been learned that there is an interval of about an hour between observation from earth of altered sunspot activity and the arrival near earth of the initial high-energy particles."

"Thus, a space vehicle on a low earth-orbit mission might have time to re-enter the proteclive atmosphere (of the earth)".

He said the solar-projectile threat is in addition to that constantly posed by the Van Allen radiation belts, which mainly extend from about 600 to 4,000 miles above the earth and "appear to be highly dangerous for stays of more than, say, half an hour."

"Progress is being made in forecasting (solar) flare activity with sufficient accuracy to permit the scheduling of missions in periods of low solar activity," he said.

Saying the evidence points to rises and drops in sunspot activity within 11-year cycles, he declared:

"If this cyclic pattern holds true and if this radiation in fact proves serious, manned space missions of long duration beyond the Van Allen belts—can perhaps be attempted in the four-year low-activity period beginning in 1963."

Six To Attend DE Meeting

Six Big Spring students will be among pupils from 25 high schools who will participate in San Angelo College's 13th annual Distributive Education Day Friday.

Big Spring has won one first place each of the past two years, according to George Rice, who will accompany the group, and prospects are good that the local students will carry home one or more first places again this year. Going are David Stevenson, participating in sales; Don Schlecht and Jack Tower, sales and job interviewing; Larry Bailey and James Thurman, advertising layout; and Vicky Deel, who will be the local D.E. Sweetheart candidate.

Dr. James C. Taylor, dean of the University of Houston downtown school, will speak at the 9:45 a.m. convocation in the college auditorium. Joe Gabriel, San Angelo College distributive education teacher, is director of the day's events.

French Version Of Macmillan Talks Challenged

LONDON (AP)—An authorized British source has challenged the French version of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's December talks with President Charles de Gaulle.

The source denied that Macmillan ever offered a combined British-French nuclear force. French legislators quoted De Gaulle as saying Macmillan made this proposition during their talks.

The French version said Macmillan then surprised De Gaulle by arranging to buy Polaris missiles from the United States.

The Foreign Office declined formal comment on the French version of Macmillan's supposed offer, but the authorized source said: "Mr. Macmillan did not say this."

British officials reported Macmillan did in fact tell De Gaulle he perfectly understood France's wish to build an independent nuclear deterrent—just as Britain had done.

But they also asserted Macmillan gave De Gaulle due notice of his intention to negotiate the Polaris agreement.

Admen Elect San Angelo Man

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Advertising Federation of America has elected a San Angelo man, Mark F. Cooper, 42, its president and general manager.

Cooper will fill a vacancy created last September by the resignation of James Proud. The AFA's board of directors made the announcement Tuesday.

An AFA spokesman said Cooper, who assumes responsibilities immediately in the $25,000 a year post, was selected for the job from among 40 men who were under consideration.

Stock Split Aids Motors In Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors were strong in an irregularly higher stock market early this afternoon. Over-all trading was moderate. The biggest news was that Chrysler plans a 2-for-1 stock split and a higher dividend. The timing of the action came as a surprise. Even before the action of Chrysler became known, the New York Stock Exchange held up trading in the stock upon being notified by the company that it was making an announcement.

Guest Speaker

Base Graduates 30 Students

Fifty-five weeks of preparation ended last night when the 30 members of Class 63-D donned the silver wings of the full-fledged Air Force pilot, at graduation ceremonies in the Webb AFB Chapel. Capt. Thomas J. Kuhns, 63-D Class Commander, was named distinguished graduate in a letter received from Lt. Gen. James E. Briggs, ATC Commander. It was the second time Capt. Kuhns received the award; the first time was in 1957 when he was designated distinguished graduate of USAF Navigator Training, Harlingen AFB, Class 57-12. Capt. Kuhns was presented with a second award during the ceremony when Col. Wilson H. Banks, Webb's Commander, awarded him the Commander's Trophy for outstanding performance in three areas of training—flying, academic and military. Speaker at the ceremonies was Robert E. Lair, vice president and general manager of the Military Division of Cessna Aircraft Company. He welcomed them to the "wonderful world of flying." "Flying is one of man's oldest desires and yet it is just getting off the ground. Someone who flies today is considered among the unusual and yet, I feel the time will come when the person who doesn't fly will be considered as unusual as one who does not have a driver's license today."

Mitchell Grand Jury Returns 19 Indictments

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Mitchell County's grand jury reported out 19 indictments late Tuesday afternoon, according to 32nd District Attorney Weldon Kirk of Sweetwater. Charlie Alexander White, 61, of Colorado City was charged with fondling — an offense alleged to have occurred Oct. 13, 1962 at the home of a friend in Colorado City. Leonard Ray West, 27, Colorado City, was charged with robbery by assault. Joe Rodriguez and Jimmy Ochoa were charged with the alleged burglary of a Lorraine Drive-in theatre, Oct. 13, 1962. Rodriguez was charged on a separate indictment in connection with the burglary of the R. P. Mote Auto Supply on the same date. All four men were in the Mitchell County jail Wednesday afternoon.

City Park Entrance To Be Smoothed

The rough strip of paving on Wesson Road, at the city park entrance, is scheduled to get a repaving job this week, Bruce Dunn, director of public works, said Thursday morning. When the paving is completed, to smooth out Wesson Road and provide better pavement to the east on the Coronado Hills and Cosden Country Club road, medians will be laid out to set up turn lanes similar to those at Wesson and Randolph. Dunn said sand bags would be used at first to determine the best angles. Concrete curbs will be placed at the intersection later. Concrete will also be laid at the Wesson and Randolph intersection at the same time.

VW Club Meets

All Volkswagen owners are invited to attend the club meeting at 7:30 tonight at the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. LEGAL NOTICE THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF HOWARD Notice is given herewith that proposals will be considered from Banks or Banking Corporations desiring to serve as depositories for public funds and common school funds of Howard County, Texas, on Monday, February 11, 1963, at 10 o'clock a.m. in the Commissioner's Courtroom of Howard County, Courthouse, in Big Spring, Texas. Applications submitted in accordance with Article 2345, Vernon's Civil Statutes, and it is further provided that same shall be in writing and must be filed on time deposits.

Optimist Program On Heart Disease

Heart disease, of especial interest during February — Heart Month — was discussed for Optimist Club members at a meeting Wednesday morning at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. Dr. R. E. Koenig used a plastic model of the heart to demonstrate heart movements and components. He discussed both congenital and acquired heart diseases, with special emphasis on acquired ailments. Plans were explained for a forthcoming membership drive. The club will be organized into four competing teams each bearing humorous political titles.

Marines Trying To Prove Fitness

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—U.S. Marines are on the march to prove they are just as fit as the Leathernecks of Teddy Roosevelt's day. From Florida to Arizona, it was "pick 'em up and lay 'em down" for some proud members of a proud corps who took a suggestion from President Kennedy as a challenge and set out to meet it. The challenge: Hike 50 miles in 20 hours, double-time the last half-mile and run the final 20 yards. The first to report mission accomplished was Lt. Col. James W. Tuma, 49, a Marine stationed at the U.S. Army Electronic Proving Ground at Ft. Huachuca, near Tucson, Ariz. "I had a notion I could do it," he said after stepping off 50 miles in 13 1/2 hours Wednesday. At Pensacola, Marine Sgt. Stanton E. Jordan ran the final 20 yards into his barracks before daybreak today, completing a 50-mile hike in 17 hours. Jordan, on his day off, hiked around a five-mile course at the naval air station where he is a drill instructor. "I considered this a personal challenge," Jordan, 37, told reporter Pete Williams of the Pensacola News-Journal. Five Marine reservists started out shortly before midnight to hoof it 50 miles to Little Rock, Ark., where their reserve unit is based. "For the honor of the corps," one said when asked why he joined the hikers. The rules of the hike were set forth by President Theodore Roosevelt in an executive order he signed in 1908. Gen. David M. Shoup ran across the old order and sent it to President Kennedy as a historic curiosity. The President suggested a test to see "how well our present-day officers perform the task specified by President Roosevelt." An official hike will be staged Tuesday by 20 young captains and lieutenants at Camp Lejeune, N.C. They'll wear a helmet, cartridge belt, canteen, marching pack and pistol—about 24 pounds of equipment. Marines at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center plan to make a hike the same day—if snow thaws in time. Otherwise, the Illinois hike will come in March or April.

Senate Votes Against Curb On Debates

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's big battle over a new antifilibuster rule ended today in defeat for those wanting a tighter rule. On a test vote, backers of a new rule mustered 54 votes to 42 for the opposition. This vote was on a motion to limit debate on the question of formally taking up a rule change. Next, the Senate voted 64-33 to adjourn, a parliamentary step that wiped out the whole rule fight that had gripped the Senate since Congress assembled Jan. 9. By adjourning, the Senate will begin a new "legislative day" when it meets on Monday, which means the Senate voted 64-33 to adjourn. When the Senate recesses, rather than adjourning the pending business carries over until the next meeting. Since Jan. 15, the pending business has been a motion by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., to take up a proposed rules change that would permit filibusters to be halted by three-fifths of the senators voting instead of the two-thirds majority required under the present rule. The argument over this has kept the Senate from formally organizing committees and getting on with legislative business. Action on Anderson's motion was blocked by the non-stop debate of Southern opponents of any change in the present rule. The 54-42 test vote was on the question of limiting debate and thus putting an end to this Southern flow of oratory. With 96 senators voting on the cloture motion, it would have required 64 to put it over. Thus the attempt fell 10 votes short. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana had given advance notice that unless there were at least 60 votes for limiting further debate on Anderson's motion, he would immediately adjourn. It generally is considered a leadership prerogative to determine adjournment time. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., voted for cloture, which Southern senators opposed and unanimously Sen. Tower, R-Tex., voted against it.

Reappointment Bill Is Passed For Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahoma House members forced down a bitter pill Wednesday, passing a reappointment measure which follows the State Constitution and which, its supporters hope, will meet approval of a federal district court. The bill does not follow strictly the plan laid down by a three-judge federal court which last August ordered Oklahoma lawmakers to reappoint on a population basis by March 8 or be reappointed by the court. The court asserted the Oklahoma Constitution's limitation of 7 members from a county was discriminatory. The plan it approved called for 19 House members from Oklahoma (Oklahoma City) County and 15 from Tulsa County. The Oklahoma House wouldn't go along with this. Members struck down a portion which would have tied membership for the two counties. The section striken would have been effective only if the federal court made a final ruling holding the 7-member limit invalid. The bill would have combined 29 counties into 14 districts, most of which will have one representative each. Oklahoma's 77 counties now have at least one representative.

Attend TML Meet

Commissioner John Stanley and Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson will leave this afternoon for Alpine to a regional meeting of the Texas Municipal League. The meeting will be held tonight in the Country Club building. Stanley will pilot the Big Spring Flying Club's Piper Tri-Pacer. The men will return Friday morning.

Rosary Today For Mrs. Brandon

Rosary will be said at 7 p.m. today at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Chapel for Mrs. Tom Brandon, 55, the former Rose Morgan. Mrs. Brandon died in her sleep at Kermit Tuesday night. She was a member of the Catholic Church there. Graveside rites will be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday at the City Cemetery. Pallbearers will be L. D. Gilbert, Ulysses Hall, Jim Reidy, Joe Carpenter, Ches Morgan and Abe Bailey. Mrs. Brandon was born April 3, 1907, in Fort Worth but lived most of her life here. Surviving are her mother, Mrs. J. M. Morgan; two brothers, James E. Morgan, Big Spring, and Eddie Morgan, North Hollywood, Calif.; and two sisters, Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, Big Spring, and Mrs. Kathleen Williams, Wichita, Kan.

Bank Promotes Bob Airhart

Bob Airhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Airhart, 2902 Cactus, has been promoted to vice president of the Muleshoe State Bank, it was learned here today. A graduate of Texas Tech, he has been with the bank three years. Airhart is also president of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce this year. He married the former Dollie Hollingsworth, of the Merrick County.

West Germany Frees Publisher

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP)—Publisher Rudolf Augustin, whose arrest Oct. 27 on suspicion of treason caused a government crisis, was released from prison today, the federal prosecutor's office announced. Augustin and 10 members of the staff of Der Spiegel were arrested after the news magazine published a story strongly critical of the West German armed forces. The prosecutor said the article contained official secrets.

She Believes Women Are Better Organized

NEW YORK (AP)—Lynn Pressman fingered her five-strand pearl necklace, smiled sweetly at the man executive beside her and said to an interviewer: "I think women in business are better organized than men and don't get excited as men do. "Yet men in business are so condescending. When they flatter me I just want to do this," she clenched her fist and made a jabbing motion. "I don't say to a man. My, you look beautiful today. Why should they do it to me?"

LYNN PRESSMAN

SHE SPEAKS HER MIND
The man beside her gave an embarrassed little laugh but said nothing. After all, Mrs. Pressman heads a multi-million dollar toy concern. But she turned to him kindly.
"Frankly, I like to work with men better; they're less petty than women."
Loyalty to her own sex made her add: "Of course, when women are jealous, it's because they are unhappy within themselves."
This outspoken president has worked for what she's got — and she'd like to be respected for it.
"I don't understand the girls today who do their day's work and that's the end of it. I always wanted to get ahead; not just for the money, but because I love to work."

USED TO FEEL FAT
She was born a farmer's daughter in Jamaica, N. Y., youngest of seven children.
"I was never very popular in school," she recalled. "I guess I always felt fat and pudgy. I fell sorry for myself."
Mrs. Pressman, who now is neither fat nor pudgy and is considered one of the best looking brunettes at the top, chuckled.
"After high school I went to work in a department store in 1929 as a secretary. Then I became a teacher in the training department. One day the girl who had been the prettiest in high school came to me as a student. That did something for me."

HAS THREE CHILDREN
Later she went into advertising, then became a buyer of children's clothes, finally married J. P. Pressman, head of a toy corporation and quite a few years older than she. For some years she was content to be a wife and the mother of three children: Ann, now 25 and married with two children of her own; Edward, 19, now at Tufts College; Jimmy, 13.
But about 18 years ago her husband said he wasn't getting along with his partner. He was thinking of retiring. Money wasn't everything, he told her.
"I said to him: 'Let me be your partner.' He did. I brought dresses down and lived in the office seven days a week, working until 4 a.m. every morning."
"It was youth and faith—and stupidity. Today I wouldn't do that. Here I was, taking this man's fortune and gambling with it. He loved me so much."

SHE LOVES TWO MEN
She smiled wistfully at this point. "I'm also a romantic. Life without love is nothing."
When her husband died about seven years ago she took over complete control. "I keep a finger on every little operation."
Later she married Dr. Matty Gray, a good friend of Pressman's. She still wears her first husband's ring and uses his name for business.

Meat To Reduce
For all you who have resolved to lose weight, remember that lean meat is important in a reducing diet. Meat leaves you with a feeling of satisfaction and prevents hunger pangs for a longer period than other foods. It provides necessary high quality protein, vitamins and minerals. About 30 meat cuts are low in fat and contain less than 250 calories per 3½ ounce serving.

ACTIVE IN CHARITY
She said she married tidy, rather precise men and "I don't know how they put up with me. I may be meticulous about business, but I'm not personally. If the kids put their feet up on a chair it doesn't bother me. A home's to be lived in."
She likes to help children less fortunate than her own and as honorary vice president for life of the Child Care Women's League band said he wasn't getting along with his partner. He was thinking of retiring. Money wasn't everything, he told her.

A Shoulder Is Bared For Tennis

LONDON (AP)—The man who designed the first pair of lace panties for Wimbledon's tennis courts has unveiled a revolutionary tennis dress. It has a bare strapless shoulder.

"But only one shoulder will be bare," said Col. Teddy Tining, "The other will be partly covered."

Years ago Tining tailored a pair of lace-trimmed panties for America's gorgeous Gussie Moran. She didn't win the Wimbledon title, but she made news all over the world.

A designer of sports clothes, Tining said he has named the new off-one-shoulder dress "the Grecian line."

Reminded that Wimbledon's management committee last October banned colored panties from future tournaments, Tining said: "The committee imposed a ban only on color—not styling."

Players showed up in a wide variety of colored panties last summer. Some spectators complained they distracted from the play.

So the committee decided that from now on, white could be the only color.

"I've designed the new neckline for an effect that is visible from a distance," Tining said. "What everyone seems to forget is how far away spectators are from players on the center court."

He said tennis skirts will remain full, and he will continue to put frills on panties.

Sorority Meeting

Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary teachers sorority, will meet Saturday, Feb. 16, at 10 a.m. in the high school activity room at Coahoma.

Instead Of

Few kitchens boast glass bells for preparing that Victorian elegance, mushrooms under glass. But did you know that you can use inverted heatproof glass deep pie dishes instead of the bells?

'53 Hyperions Honor International Wives

Honored guests of the 1953 Hyperion Club were introduced as members of the International Wives Club Wednesday afternoon. Accompanied by their sponsor, Mrs. Wilson Banks, they were received in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings & Loan Building.

Mrs. Kenneth Perry, president of the hostess club, presided at the tea table. Appointed with silver, the table was spread with white cutwork linen and centered with red carnations in a Valentine arrangement.

Some 30 members and guests heard the story of Big Spring, told by R. W. Whipple, Herald publisher, who was introduced by Mrs. Harold Davis.

From the time of the wandering Indian tribes to the complex industrial system of today, the history of Big Spring was unfolded.

Although Big Spring was not incorporated until 1907, the site was described by Capt. Randolph Marcy in the year 1849. The description was logged after he and his party reached the border of the high plains country and descended to the Big Spring and its great reservoir of water.

Water in a vast wilderness was the initial cause for settlement in the area and the building of great cattle empires.

Next came the railroad and trans-continental transportation; discovery of oil and development of the oil industry; the depression and drought periods; and war and post-war developments.

After establishing the eras in the development of the city, the speaker summarized by saying that the major factors responsible for the city and its growth are:

At-The-Top Secretary Suggests

NEW YORK (AP)—Ruth Gallinot does not believe there is a way to succeed in business without really trying.

"The trouble," sighs the astute, brown-eyed, chestnut-haired woman serving her second term as president of the National Secretaries Association, "is that young people want to take an express elevator to the top."

Today, she claims, an ambitious woman must stop at all floors—the way up to pick up more education, special training, experience, and maturity.

Even now as executive secretary to the president of a large garment manufacturing concern in Chicago Miss Gallinot works at the switchboard once in a while "for the experience."

As the fiancee president of some 2500 stellar girl fridays throughout the world she knows well the typical problems that wrinkle a young secretary's brow. Miss Gallinot's common sense replies to these indicate why she is considered secretary of secretaries. For example:

HOW DO I ASK FOR A RAISE?
Be sure your performance merits it. Time it right. Are the books in the black and the boss in a good mood? Then state your case in a business-like manner, without threats or innuendos about other people's salaries.

THE OFFICE WOLF? Never allow him to reach the point of being a problem. Your icy attitude ought to warn him.

COFFEE BREAKS OKAY? They are an institution, but don't abuse them.

EXPECT TO SHOP FOR HIM? Yes, you are there to conserve the boss' time. He'll probably give you more lunch time for the chore.

THE BOSS'S WIFE? The friendliest relationship possible. Establish rapport at lunch or tea. Be genuinely interested in her problems. Then she won't mind leaving her messages with you instead of insisting on interrupting the boss' meetings.

EXPECT TO LIE FOR HIM? Yes, you will tell white ones to avoid hurting someone's feelings. Each person believes his call is the most important thing of the moment, even though the boss has issued do-not-disturb orders. It's better to say, with fingers crossed, that he can't be located.

HOW DO I HANDLE GOSSIP? You don't participate.

WHAT TO HAVE IN DESK? Dictionary, thesaurus, atlas, road maps, a list of most easily misspelled words, sewing kit, medicine kit, white gloves, extra pair of hose, nail polish, last year's calendar.

Mrs. Crawford On Airport Program

The Airport Home Demonstration Club heard a program given by Mrs. Deline Crawford Tuesday afternoon. Speaking in the home of Mrs. O. W. Decker, Mrs. Crawford's topic was, "Manage Your Way to a Better Day."

Members were asked to bake cookies which are to be taken to the March 5 meeting and then to the state hospital.

The five guests introduced were Mrs. Ralph Gray, Mrs. Jimmy D. Ditto, Mrs. Ted Covington, Mrs. Clint Wallace and Mrs. John B. Phillips.

Mrs. R. V. Covington will be hostess for the meeting on Feb. 19.

Fudge Hint

Modern candy makers say that stirring fudge does just as good a job as beating—and saves a lot of energy!

the pioneers who put down the roots; the railroads and transportation; investments for development; and water supply.

Patio Planting Is Stressed

A program on "Beautifying Gardens with Evergreens and Patio Plants," was presented to the Big Spring Garden Club Wednesday morning. Twenty-one members gathered at the home of Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr. Mrs. Chris Watson served as cohostess.

The speaker, Mrs. John Knox, stated that English and Japanese gardens were easily recognized, but there is nothing distinguished or definitely classed as an American garden. In the future, she said, the patio may be the true expression of an American garden.

Marcy P-TA Hears Psychologist

B. Hill, clinical psychologist at the Big Spring State Hospital, was the guest speaker for the Marcy Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday evening at the school. Hill's topic was mental diseases in children.

Col. C. W. Head, president, announced that the 16th District P-TA Convention will be held in Lamesa March 30.

John L. Summa of the ways and means committee reported that fans will be ordered and installed soon in all rooms.

Mrs. Kenemer Is Tri-Hi-Y Speaker

Meeting Tuesday evening in the Robb Room of the YMCA, 7th grade Tri-Hi-Y members watched a hair styling demonstration by Mrs. Don Kenemer.

Using two models, Mrs. Kenemer created fashionable styles suitable for young girls. She stressed the importance of good grooming in the formative years and gave tips on make-up application. Treasurer Jane Lane reported that the proceeds from a dance sponsored by the group amounted to $13.50. The funds will be applied to world service.

Mrs. Thomas Sykes, Mrs. Everett Stout and Mrs. Clyde Cox.

Also among the guests were Mrs. Raymond River and Mrs. Ben Johnson, presidents of the 1955 and 1956 Hyperion clubs, Miss Jean Drinnen of Tennessee, Mrs. Ray Hightower, Mrs. John R. Coffee, Mrs. Jimmy R. Smith, Mrs. Verdel Turner, Mrs. Glen Allen, Mrs. Tom Setters, Mrs. Akin Simpson and Mrs. Larson Lloyd.

Jacket Dress

Nothing crosses the seasons more satisfactorily than the jacket dress, and it's an ideal style for the prints that tempt you to look ahead. No. 3274 comes in sizes 14½, 16½, 18½, 20½, 22½, 24½. Size 16½ takes 4½ yards of 45-inch fabric or 5½ yards of 39-inch. Send 35 cents in coins for this pattern to IRIS LANE, (care of Big Spring Herald), Box 1490, New York 1, N.Y. Add 5 cents for third class or 10 cents for first class mail. New Fall - Winter Pattern Book 50 cents. Add 15 cents extra if you wish it sent by first class mail.

Fashion Program For Study Club

Modeling a basic dress, Mrs. Rob Etheridge showed how it could be changed for wear at various occasions when the Coahoma 1941 Study Club met Monday evening.

Gathering in the home of Mrs. James Renfro, the group heard a program on women's fashions given by Mrs. Ray Swann, assisted by Mrs. Etheridge.

Elected new officers were Mrs. Etheridge, president; Mrs. Bill Easterling, vice president; and Mrs. Gerald Oakes, secretary and treasurer.

Following the election, refreshments were served to 14 members. The March 4 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Etheridge.

Dream Comes True

David Mason, 24, climbs into his homemade single-seated biplane that took him 2,000 hours and $2,000 to build. Mason took the plane up for its maiden flight in Houston and it passed with flying colors. Mason built the craft in his garage, starting the project 40 months ago. He calls the craft the Skyblazer. It is an original design, powered by a 125-horse power Lycoming engine. It is equipped with a complete electrical system, including two-way VHF radios.

Spy Camera May Find A Peaceful Use

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—A camera similar to the ones used on the remarkable U-2 flights over Russia and Cuba may help Texas engineers build better roads.

Research men are using continuous aerial strip photographs to study what drives motorists crazy.

In addition to concern about the motorists, the Texas Transportation Institute and Texas A & M College researchers are trying to find out just why traffic piles up and how they can design highways to prevent such slowdowns and stoppages.

SIX-MILE SECTION

Recently under the camera's eye was a six-mile section of the Gulf Freeway in Houston.

Richard McCasland, Texas A&M associate professor of Civil Engineering and associate research engineer for the institute, said previously traffic engineers were able to view and photograph a relatively small segment of a highway.

Now they can accomplish a practically instantaneous inspection of a long stretch of highway.

"We are interested in seeing and thereby knowing—more about operational characteristics of freeways that affect the level of service," McCasland said.

The A&M and Highway Department engineers are looking for the same factors that motorists use to evaluate a traffic way: travel time, traffic interruptions, driver ease (or tensions) and safety.

A strip photograph provides a view that helps engineers analyze both cause and effect of stoppages.

CAUSE STOPPAGE

"For instance in high volume traffic conditions," McCasland said, "vehicles entering the freeway at one of the many ramps can cause a complete stoppage of the freeway at some distance behind it. It is hoped that by observing a long section of strip photographs, the cause may be related to the effect."

The photographs will help to locate the critical areas and help determine what corrective measures can be made not only at the critical area but at locations further downstream in the traffic.

Aerial photographs also permit a wide view on either side of the freeway and places where critical conditions may develop.

How do the engineers figure the time and distance movements?

The strip camera with stereo lens takes a continuous picture by rolling the film past a slit in the shutter at the same relative speed as the ground speed of the airplane.

STEREO EFFECT

A stereo effect is accomplished by exposing half of the film through a lens that is aimed ahead of the plane. The other half of the film is exposed through a lens that is aimed to the rear.

This time lag allows engineers to determine speeds of the automobiles, gaps between the vehicles along with lane densities, distribution of the cars and trucks and so on.

Houston's Gulf Freeway provides ideal conditions for the researchers. It carries some 100,000 vehicles in a 24-hour period.

'Vagrant' Enters Tennessee Jail

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A jury has convicted a man of vagrancy although he had $700 in his pocket and owned an automobile when he was arrested.

John L. Ponte, 52, who was accused of being a professional gambler, was sentenced Wednesday to 90 days in the County Penal Farm.

Prosecutor Robert G. Drewry told the jury: "Just having a job is not enough; the job must be an honest one." He said the law makes it "a misdemeanor for a person having no apparent means of subsistence to neglect to apply himself to some honest calling."

Police said Ponte told them he was a "stickman" at a club in Tiptonville, in northwest Tennessee.

Dunn Goes Back To Court In Hospital Board Fight

PECOS (AP)—Dr. John Paul Dunn went back to court Wednesday in his protracted and sometimes stormy legal battle to keep on using Pecos' lone hospital.

His lawyers sought a state court order to keep the controversial physician on the medical staff of Reeves County Memorial Hospital until a pending suit can be tried.

They flew to El Paso and appeared before Dist. Judge W. E. Ward after filing the petition in this West Texas city. Counsel for Dunn contended that prejudice caused the hospital board of managers to oust him and its decision should not stand.

Ward refused to grant a temporary injunction immediately but set a Feb. 14 hearing in Pecos on the request. Meanwhile the jurist directed hospital officials to let Dunn treat emergency cases only at the institution.

The hospital's six-man board dropped Dunn, 35, from the medical staff Jan. 2. This meant that, unlike other doctors here, he could not send patients to or treat them at the public hospital.

After listening to arguments in Pecos, Ward ruled Jan. 12 that the board must hold a formal hearing and let Dunn answer any charges before it could dismiss him.

It took most of last week for the board to hear witnesses for and against Dunn. Those appearing against him testified Dunn criticized other doctors, drove some nurses and technicians to quit work at the hospital, informed some patients that other physicians weren't treating them properly and hugged and kissed women patients.

Dunn, a stocky and nearly bald individual, testified that his sense of humor had been misunderstood in joking with hospital employees. Other doctors had attacked him verbally, and he did not knowingly try to prescribe for patients of others. He said occasional unsolicited kisses came from women grateful for beneficial treatment.

After reviewing testimony over the weekend, the board again notified Dunn two days ago that it was refusing to reappoint him to the medical staff.

City Election To Elect Two

Two city commissioners are to be elected for Big Spring, April 2, when the terms of Paul Kasch and John Stanley expire.

City Secretary C. R. McClenny said candidates may file at any time between now and March 2. Absentee balloting will begin March 13 and end March 29.

Paul Kasch, who has served two terms, and John Stanley, serving his first term, have not indicated their intentions to run for re-election.

McClenny said no one had filed in the race so far.

Commissioners—with another year to serve are Mayor George Zachariah, Arnold Marshall, and W. L. (Squeaky) Thompson.

Federal Grant

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration approved Wednesday a $107,500 grant to Henderson County, Tex., to help construct water facilities under the accelerated public works program.

Smoot Outlines Road Projects

Joe Smoot, resident highway engineer, dished out an awesome array of figures in a seven million dollar highway building program for Howard County when he appeared before the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday.

The program, spread over approximately two years, centers mainly on the 5.5 million dollar Interstate 20 loop around the north edge of Big Spring. This, however, is by no means all the work the State Highway Department has lined up. For instance a three-quarter million dollar Gregg Street overpass for US 87 will be launched in September.

A $240,000 contract has been awarded for curbing and guttering East Third and East Fourth Streets from Union to Tulane Streets; an $84,000 signing project on IS 20 east is under way; $432,000 is earmarked for extending FM 700 from terminus with IS 20 east of town. It will be pushed northwest to a junction with the Snyder (state 350) highway. The Gail road (FM 669) is to be rebuilt a distance of eight miles north from Big Spring at a cost of $165,000.

Smoot listed some facts about the Interstate loop included on this 7.3-mile job ($2,443,000 under contract to M. C. Winters and $3,030,000 under contract to Parker & Parker and E. M. Bailey of Odessa) are: 1.6 miles of bridges (seven of them); the moving of 1 1/2 million cubic yards of dirt, use of 6 1/2 million pounds of lime, 425,000 cubic yards of base material, 1,000,000 gallons of asphalt, 4.8 miles of piling driven into the ground for bridge base, 8,500 tons of steel, 18 1/2 miles of curb and gutter, nine miles of rail and protective barriers, 34,000 cubic yards of concrete.

Traffic will pass over US 80 east, the T&P, go under State 350, US 87 and the Andrews highway, over the lake bed and T&P, over a spur railroad to Webb and under US 80 west. Completion is scheduled for the summer of 1964.

James Tidwell, president, said the club's miniature golf course project for the State Hospital was being reactivated. He also urged attendance at the zone meeting Thursday evening at Sterling City.

Methodists To Hold Chili Supper

The annual chili supper of the Methodist Men at Wesley Methodist Church will be held Friday at the church. Serving time will be between 6-9 p.m. and all proceeds will benefit the Boy Scout activities.

Tickets at 75 cents per person are available at the church, from any member of the organization, or at the door Friday.

Spacemen Will Have To Gather In Their Stubble

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)— Astronauts will have to bag their whiskers after shaving on a spaceship—to prevent them from floating around the cabin and creating a fuzzy haze.

That's the word from Dr. Stanley C. White, a key scientist in the man-to-the-moon venture.

White says electric razors are being considered for use by astronauts because, for one thing, water will be at a premium. And, he says, with no water for a man-sized rinse, dried soap might irritate an astronaut's skin.

And unless corralled, he told a news conference Wednesday at the Space Medicine Symposium at Brooks Air Force Base, the shaved off whiskers—weightless, just like everything else aboard—would float around freely, creating at least a nuisance.

Other space buffs speculated that free-floating whiskers might even gum up the works in delicate electronic gear aboard the ship.

Dr. White, of the space agency's manned spacecraft center, got into the celestial shaving discussion in relating plans for the personal hygiene and other care of astronauts who participate in the Gemini program.

That's the venture in which two-man crews will orbit the earth for periods up to two weeks as a prelude to the moon flight.

"Why shave at all on a space ship?" a newsmen asked.

"Because the beard acts as a collector of debris and dead skin," said White, "they'll need to shave."

"But they must gather the whiskers and put them in some kind of a container."

A Bride's Breakfast

Whether it's tea for two or coffee for a couple, Mr. and Mrs. Farrel Felts are still enjoying breakfast as newlyweds. Mrs. Felts learned to cook before her marriage and her husband is reaping the benefits of her early training.

BEAUTIFUL AND BRAINY

This Bride Can Really Cook

By JO BRIGHT

Of all the devious routes taken by women in love to reach the heart of a man who has caught their fancy—the most neglected seems to be the thoroughfare running through his stomach. A much traveled route in the dim days when no woman worth her wedding ring would offer a man less than love and home cooking—this straight and narrow path has been greatly ignored in recent years.

It may come as a surprise to young ladies who think the best thing in life is "me"—to find that there are times when a man feels one gal in the kitchen is worth two in lover's lane. Contrary to the notion that starchy-eyed couples can live on love, passion pales when the cupboard is bare and a young bridegroom finds that his chosen one doesn't choose to cook.

One young bride who is clever enough to want to keep her husband contented with her culinary art is Mrs. Farrel Felts, 602 Baylor. Married only a month, she came to the kitchen forewarned about her husband's healthy appetite and armed with some good cookbooks.

Planning to enter Texas Tech this fall, the couple are making their home temporarily with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harden. Since her mother has been confined to a hospital recently, Mrs. Felts is gaining valuable experience in keeping house for both her husband and father. She's finding out that emergencies occur in the best regulated households and that schedules and meal times must be flexible.

Felts, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Felts of Vincent, says he likes anything to eat (possibly with the exception of pickled beets) and believes that a good cook should use not only her hands, but her nose and tongue as well. His simple advice to his bride is that if it smells good—it is good.

The Felts have many interests like most young couples their age. He water skis, builds go-carts and has an enviable collection of fossils, semi-precious stones and arrowheads. She plays percussion instruments and has been a student of piano for nine years. They both enjoy music, but as for music to get romantic by, they are still newlyweds enough to say, "Who needs it?"

Mrs. Felts says one of the variations she uses in cooking was a joke among the family at first but now they all do it. That is mixing cornmeal with flour when frying chicken—or just using it plain. The chili omelet recipe she gives was what she served for their first breakfast at home.

The other dishes were used for their first dinner.

CHILI OMELET

- 2 medium onions (sliced in thin strips)
- 1/2 cup finely diced ham
- 3 tbsps. butter
- 4 eggs (slightly beaten)
- Salt and pepper
- Chili sauce

Cook the onions and ham in half the butter in a skillet until it is golden. Add salt and pepper to taste to eggs. Heat remaining butter in a clean medium skillet. Add the eggs and as they cook gently, draw edges away from side of pan and tip pan so uncooked egg will reach edges. Spread with ham and chili and onions as it is almost cooked. When it is done, fold over gently with a wide spatula and serve. Serves two nicely.

BARBECUED CHICKEN

- 2 fryers-boil until tender (about 3 hours)
- Chicken broth: save from boiling the chickens

BARBECUE SAUCE

- 2 cups tomato catsup
- 4 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tbsps. French's rotisserie seasoning
- 2 tbsps. garlic salt
- 2 tbsps. liquid onion juice
- 2 cans Beef Boullion (soup)
- 1 can tomato soup
- 1 cup vinegar

Any herbs (add to taste)

Cook over low heat all the ingredients until they come to a boil. If more is needed to cover the chicken, use the boullion to add for more. Season again to taste.

MIXED SALAD

- Mixed greens
- Mixed vegetables (1 can)
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 2 sliced cucumbers and 1 large sliced onion

Mix greens and cucumbers and onion in vinegar and let set overnight in icebox. Add vegetables before serving and garnish with roquefort dressing and parsley.

ROQUEFORT DRESSING

- Mix 2 packages of roquefort cheese (wedge-style) to two cups mayonnaise. Beat with electric beater until smooth and creamy.

BARBECUED BEANS

- Mix one cup already prepared barbecue sauce with 1 large can of pork and beans and heat.

PECAN BARS

- 1 cup pecans (chopped)
- 1 egg white
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla

Beat egg white until stiff. Add sugar and beat. Add salt, vanilla and nuts. Spread in a buttered pan and bake (set oven all the way over to bake, past 550 degrees). Cut into bars. Remove while still warm.

HOMEMADE PASTRY MIX

Do Brides Really Enjoy Cooking? Far More Than Dining Alone!

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

A professor in the department of education, psychology, and psychiatry at the University of Chicago, contributing several months ago to a symposium on the American Female in Harper's, bemoans the fate of today's young bride.

The professor, Dr. Bruno Bettelheim, writes: "Modern labor-saving devices have abolished most of the back-breaking household work of the past—and good ridance; but at the same time they are doing away with the real satisfactions this work once yielded. Using her husband's money to buy machine-made clothes for her family involves no unique or essential labors of her own. Much the same can be said about cooking with highly prepared ingredients."

To arms, brides! Use your "unique and essential labor" in making your own "highly prepared ingredients" and gain fulfillment! In other words, make your own mixes!

Any bride who doesn't find a lot of satisfaction in preparing and using the following rule for pastry mix is beyond recovery. We doubt that even a course in education, psychology, and psychiatry will help her.

To lure you on, here are a couple of features of this mix: First, you may have greater success with it than with one that is commercially prepared. Second, it can be made in short order and, stored in a covered container, it will be ready for turning out fine pastry dishes. Think of how much extra satisfying time you'll have to read Dr. Bettelheim, author of a book called "Dialogues with Mothers."

A BATCH OF HOMEMADE PASTRY MIX

- 8 cups sifted enriched flour (a 2-lb. bag)
- 4 tbsps. salt
- 2 2/3 cups hydrogenated shortening

If you use a 2-lb. bag, the flour does not have to be sifted. Mix together the flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening with a pastry blender or an electric mixer until mixture is crumbly. Store in a covered container at room temperature. In using the mix, spoon it lightly into a measuring cup and level off with a spatula. Makes about 11 cups. If self-rising flour is used, omit the salt.

To use the homemade pastry mix for a two-crust pie: Measure 2 1/4 cups of the pastry mix into a bowl. Sprinkle with 4 to 6 tablespoons ice-cold water—try to use the minimum amount—and mix lightly until dough begins to stick together.

Turn out on a prepared pastry cloth and press dough together; divide in half. Roll one half so it makes a round that is 1/4-inch thick; fit into a 10-inch glass pie plate.

Roll remaining half of dough for top crust and cut design in pastry to allow steam to escape. Spread filling in bottom crust. Arrange top crust over filling. Trim, seal and flute edge.

Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven 25 to 35 minutes or until lightly browned.

Valentine Franks For A Very Special Party

Valentine's Day is a perfect time for a party. Plenty of food will help guarantee the party's success. As a party snack or for a Valentine supper, these bow and arrow frank sandwiches are fun to make and fun to eat.

Franks are always a party favorite because they have the flavor kids love. Mom will like the franks too, because she knows that the complete meat protein is important to her family. You can't tell a good frank just by looking at it. That's why the best assurance to highest meat quality is to select the franks of a well known meat packer.

The young folks will be glad to help make the Valentine Franks. Use a frank as the bow and a pickle spear for the arrow. Triangular pieces of bread form the string. The franks are heated slightly in very hot water. Place the warm franks on the piece of bread and top with a tangy cheese sauce. Adults may prefer a sharper sauce made with extra hot mustard. Heat the sandwiches under the broiler until the cheese is just melted.

While the franks are heating, cut the arrows out of dill pickle halves. Just before serving place the dill pickle arrow across the frank sandwich. Serve with crisp potato chips and hot chocolate.

VALENTINE FRANKS

- 1 lb. franks
- 6 slices sandwich bread
- 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
- 1 tsp. mayonnaise
- 2 tbsps. prepared mustard
- 1-16 tsp. cayenne pepper
- 1/4 tsp. Tabasco sauce
- 3 dill pickles, sliced in halves

Toast sandwich bread and slice diagonally in half. On each slice place one frank, which has been slightly heated. Combine cheese, mayonnaise, mustard, pepper, and Tabasco sauce in blender, and beat until smooth. Spread 1 tablespoon cheese mixture over each frank.

Place under broiler and heat until cheese is just melted. Cut arrows out of the dill pickle halves, and place across frank sandwich.

Good Buys This Week

By The Associated Press

Shipments of several fresh items increased and prices dropped in the wake of warmer weather in winter produce gardens this week, reports the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Carrying lower wholesale prices at Texas markets are green beans, cabbage, sweet corn, peppers, radishes, yellow squash, lemons and tomatoes. Onions, oranges and bananas are slightly lower.

Lettuce prices also are slightly lower, but there's a wide range of quality and condition, due to earlier cold weather.

Cucumbers alone are higher.

Best-buys this week are cabbage, carrots, celery, onions, potatoes, radishes, sweet potatoes, avocados, turnips and rutabagas.

Supplies of most root crops and some processed vegetables like canned corn are more than ample.

Apples dominate fresh fruit markets, in excellent supply at moderate prices. Banana shipments again are abundant and lemons are priced reasonably. Fresh winter pears and canned and frozen red tart cherries are plentiful.

Shoppers find a trickle of Mexican strawberries, Temple oranges and cantaloupes at some markets. Egg production is increasing. Broiler prices remain lower than a year ago. Peanuts and peanut products are plentiful. Prices on better grades of beef continued down.

A Coffee Cake Heart For Valentine's Day

Valentine's Day arrives at the perfect time to lend a note of romance and beauty to an otherwise lack-lustre season. You can make the most of this sentimental holiday by carrying the Valentine motif right to your breakfast table with a Heart-Of-My-Heart Coffee Cake.

No matter how much a labor of love you make of baking your coffee cake, the final result will depend upon the ingredients you select. Margarine is an excellent shortening, and if you select a brand that is as good for flavoring and table use as it is for baking, you'll have made an economical choice.

After your dough ingredients are combined, rolled out and wrapped up with a spicy-nut filling, you can form it into a whimsical heart shape. A pretty pink icing added after baking will accentuate the Valentine theme.

If you find yourself in the role of hostess during this season, a Valentine brunch is easily planned around a Heart-Of-My-Heart Coffee Cake. A fruit compote, brown and serve sausage and quantities of coffee will complete an easy and speedy menu.

HEART OF MY HEART COFFEE CAKE

1/4 cup margarine
2 cups sifted flour
3 tps. double-acting baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
2 1/2 to 3 cup milk
2 tps. margarine, melted
1/2 cup finely chopped nuts
1 tsp. cinnamon
2 tps. sugar

Cut margarine into flour which has been sifted with baking powder and salt until the mixture is the consistency of corn meal. Make a well in the flour mixture. Add milk and stir. Turn onto waxed paper. Knead six times. Roll on a lightly floured board or pastry cloth into a rectangle approximately 16 by 9 by 1/4 inches. Brush with melted margarine.

Combine nuts, cinnamon and sugar. Sprinkle over margarine on biscuit dough.

Roll up dough into 16-inch roll. Place on baking sheet. Form into a heart shape with a point at the top.

Steak Braised A La Marinade Perks Up Meal

Marinades are fun to use with meat, but most often you think of them in warm weather when meat is being grilled outdoors.

Why not marinate meats to perk up indoor winter meals, too? For instance, round steak can be zestily flavored by allowing it to stand a few hours or overnight in the refrigerator with a vinegar-oil-garlic mixture. The meat is then braised with onions and 1/4 cup of the marinade.

A noted authority on meat cookery, stresses that less-tender meats, like round steak, probably will not be made tender enough to broil by the use of a marinade. Moist heat cookery is recommended.

BRAISED STEAK A LA MARINADE

1 round steak, cut 1 inch thick
1/4 cup salad oil
1-3 cup vinegar
2 cloves garlic, minced
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
3 tps. flour
3 tps. lard or drippings
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 medium onions, quartered
1/4 cup of remaining marinade

Flour for gravy. Combine oil, vinegar, garlic, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Mix well. Marinate steak in the oil and vinegar marinade 2 hours or overnight in the refrigerator.

Drain excess marinade from steak. Dredge steak in flour. Brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Add onions and 1/4 cup marinade. Cover tightly and cook slowly 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 hours or until meat is tender.

Thicken cooking liquid with flour for gravy, if desired. Yields: 4 to 6 servings.

Snack Is Simple

When friends are visiting in the evening, they'll enjoy these savory cheese-flavored tidbits.

CHEESE PASTRY STICKS

2 1/4 cups homemade pastry mix
1 cup (1/4 lb.) medium-grated cheddar cheese
1 tsp. caraway seed

With a fork, stir the grated cheese and caraway seed into the pastry mix. Sprinkle with 4 to 6 tablespoons ice-cold water—try to use a minimum amount—and mix lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out on a prepared pastry cloth and press dough together.

Roll dough 1/4-inch thick into a square (12 by 12 inches). With a pastry wheel cut the square into 18 strips (each 2 by 4 inches); roll up each strip jelly roll fashion (the long way). Use tag ends of dough to make 4 more rolls. Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet in a hot (425 degrees) oven until lightly browned—15 to 20 minutes.

Note: Instead of homemade pastry mix, you may use rich dough for a 2-crust 8- or 9-inch pie and follow directions above.

Flavor As Illusive As Love

Flavor is an illusive thing, as indefinable as love. One minute it's not there and then suddenly it is, and like "why do I love you" we can't always count the ways.

Some morsels have it naturally. Others have to be herbed, spiced and battered until flavor is created. Either way, the moment of discovery and recognition is an ecstatic experience, like when a diamond cutter comes upon a perfect stone or an art dealer looks upon a masterpiece for the first time.

Just so Sassamon discovered the cranberry. Oh, it had not been entirely unknown before. The Indians used what they had in as many ways as they served a purpose. Cranberries had given bright color to their rugs and had been spread in a poultice over arrow wounds, but it was Sassamon who playfully rolled a berry around in his mouth and finally bit through the resisting skin.

History records Sassamon as a perfidious character, instigator of the King Phillip War and disrupting the friendly relationship existing between the early settlers of Massachusetts and the Wampanoags.

Yet, in this one way he was a hero. He lifted the cranberry from obscurity to start it on its way to fame as a traditional dish of the new country. Cranberries were named Sassamanesh in his honor.

They've dropped their Indian name and their association with Sassamon, but they still go on, adding flavor to whatever they are served with . . . or in . . . or on . . . Please pass the cranberry sauce, and let's pronounce it "SASS" in belated commemoration of Sassamon who knew a good flavor when he tasted it.

Vary Meat Leaves

You can vary the texture and flavor of meat leaves several different ways. Toasted or plain bread (white, whole wheat or rye), cracker crumbs, rolled oats, rice and other cereals are some ideas. Vegetables and fruits such as grated potatoes or carrots, peas and grated apple can be added, too. Remember to keep the amount of these foods relatively small so that you taste the good meat flavor.

Oven Pot-Roast

You can cook pot-roasts and other braised meat dishes and stews in the oven as well as on top of the range. If you wish, first brown the meat on top of the range. Then place in an oven-proof baking dish and cover tightly. Cook in a slow oven (300 degrees F.). The time will be approximately the same as that recommended for top-of-the-range cookery.

Turning The Spendthrifts Out

WASHINGTON—If the Republican party really wishes to defeat President Kennedy for re-election in 1964, maybe all that needs to be done is to take a page out of the campaign history of the Democrats.

Plagiarism perhaps isn't satisfying—for most politicians like to be original—but a declaration of the Democratic party in one presidential campaign was so successful that its argument not only defeated the incumbent administration but it also won the electoral votes of nearly every state in the union.

"TURN THE spendthrifts out" was the battle cry in 1932. "Democrats pledge at least 25 per cent reduction in expenses" was the headline in protest against deficit spending.

"WE FAVOR maintenance of the national credit by a federal budget annually balanced on the basis of accurate executive estimates within revenues, raised by a system of taxation levied on the principle of ability to pay."

"REMEMBER THAT the deficit at the end of the last two years of Hooverism is around $4 billion—the greatest in peace time history."

"Remember that this huge deficit was not born overnight but the performances of the past two years have wiped out previous gains in the way of reducing our national debt and have brought it to the astounding total of $20 billion."

"Remember that though Republicans preached economy in 1920 and 1924, and promised highest efficiency at lowest cost in 1928, government bills have mounted steadily."

"REMEMBER THAT although it was clear that our chief source of revenue, income taxes, would drop seriously and retrenchment was the watchword in every home and business, government spending kept merriety on at $5 million a day more than income."

"Remember that the 71st Congress with a big Republican majority was in session from December 1930 until March 1931."

"Remember that a balanced budget as well as reconstruction plans had to await a Democratic majority in the House where all revenue measures must originate.

"REMEMBER THAT Republican leadership has brought us to the verge of bankruptcy . . ."

"Democrats pledge at least 25 per cent reduction in expenses."

"Turn the spendthrifts out. Put responsible government in—elect Roosevelt and Garner."

"Issued by Democratic National Campaign Committee."

"But this wasn't just a piece of Madison Avenue advertising literature. For the Democratic platform, which was adopted at its national convention in Chicago in June 1932, read in part as follows:

"WE FAVOR maintenance of the national credit by a federal budget annually balanced on the basis of accurate executive estimates within revenues, raised by a system of taxation levied on the principle of ability to pay . . ."

"REMEMBER THAT the deficit at the end of the last two years of Hooverism is around $4 billion—the greatest in peace time history."

"Remember that this huge deficit was not born overnight but the performances of the past two years have wiped out previous gains in the way of reducing our national debt and have brought it to the astounding total of $20 billion."

"Remember that though Republicans preached economy in 1920 and 1924, and promised highest efficiency at lowest cost in 1928, government bills have mounted steadily."

"REMEMBER THAT although it was clear that our chief source of revenue, income taxes, would drop seriously and retrenchment was the watchword in every home and business, government spending kept merriety on at $5 million a day more than income."

"Remember that the 71st Congress with a big Republican majority was in session from December 1930 until March 1931."

James Marlow Cuban Rumpus Loses Its Steam

WASHINGTON (AP)—The rumpus over the size and kind of Soviet forces in Cuba lost much of its steam today after the McNamara presentation.

Of first concern to Americans was the answer to this question: Are the Soviet forces in Cuba a threat to the United States?"

But Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., who had been charging the Russians were keeping offensive bases in Cuba, said McNamara had disputed none of his charges.

HOWEVER, KEATING had toned down some of them in an interview with The Associated Press published Wednesday in advance of the McNamara presentation.

He agreed he doesn't think the Soviet weapons are poised against the United States or that an invasion is a threat.

And in the interview he backed down from a statement he made one week ago that there is "continuing absolute confirmation and undeniable evidence the Soviets are maintaining" the missile bases involved in last October's Cuban crisis with Premier Khrushchev.

HE CONCEDED in the interview that he was not talking about hard bases for intermediate range missiles. He said he knows those bases have been broken up.

BUT IT WAS precisely those bases and those missiles, capable of hitting almost anywhere in the United States, which were involved last fall when Khrushchev backed down and pulled the missiles out. Next question: Are the Soviet weapons of the kind that could be used for offensive purposes at all?

Again McNamara said no. And, when he said that, he included Soviet tanks, planes and certain kinds of missiles of very short range. He said the planes could not be used for bombing to back up an invasion.

He said "I am satisfied there are no offensive weapons in Cuba."

The most Keating could say on this was that he thinks the men and weapons present a threat.

Next question: Could the Soviet forces in Cuba, men and weapons, be an invasion threat to any Latin-American country? If they couldn't be an invasion threat they could hardly be any threat at all.

ONCE MORE McNamara said no. He gave his reason. That Fidel Castro doesn't have the kind of shipping necessary to move the Soviet equipment from Cuba to any other country.

Keating was very cautious on this one. He said he thinks the Soviet forces in Cuba are forming the "base of operations in other Latin-American countries."

He said there were still bases in Cuba for missiles with a range of 1,000 miles.

McNamara denied this. He said the only ground-to-ground missiles in Cuba will go less than 30 miles.

But—Keating said he doesn't think it possible to launch a great invasion from Cuba against some Latin-American country although "it is possible to get personnel from Cuba to other Latin-American countries without our knowledge."

WHAT THEN is left of Keating's warnings and misgivings about the Soviet men and arms in Cuba? Not much. He said the Soviets have at least 20,000 men in Cuba. McNamara said they did once have 22,000 but now have only 17,000 and that only 5,000 of them are in combat units.

Before McNamara went on the air the American intelligence chief, John A. McCone, gave senator a fill-in. Some of them later said the problem was "critical" or "of concern." That was before McNamara talked.

Hal Boyle Buttering The Boss

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions—and how many do you agree with?

If you want to impress your boss, give him success talk.

Most executives have an emotional need to look through rose-colored glasses. They are less likely to promote a chronic fault finder, no matter how talented, than a subordinate who habitually emphasizes the hopeful aspects of a bad situation.

It's the office cheerleader who is most likely to get ahead in a business—that is, as long as the business lasts.

No man is going to have a happy marriage for long if he finds it necessary to run next door more than once a week to borrow ice cubes from his neighbor's pretty wife.

The world's best cabbies are in London because before they get behind the wheel, they spend arduous months on a bicycle learning every street in that sprawling city. Some of the worst taxi drivers are probably in Manhattan.

To them everything north of Yankee Stadium or east of the Brooklyn Bridge (except for the airports) is a howling wilderness.

To me one of the most depressing signs of the decline in the value of money is the fact that many people today, if they drop a penny, no longer bother to pick it up. I made 12 cents last year rescuing lost pennies that strangers didn't retrieve.

A henpecked husband is more likely to get in an auto accident when driving alone than when his wife is in the car. He is unused to depending on his own judgment in a traffic crisis.

The most insufferable snobs civilization has produced are those whose only claim to fame is that they play bridge expertly about his losses at a race track. It is often acclaimed as a good sport. But anyone who regularly loses more money than he can afford to bet on horses is actually a masochist. He enjoys self-punishment. Most gamblers are as sick as alcoholics.

You can take three years off your life expectancy for every inch your waist is bigger around your chest.

Few losing politicians ever believe they were defeated by an enemy who was a better man. They secretly feel it was their friends who let them down by not doing enough.

To Your Good Health Hot Flashes Can Be Triggered By Many Things

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: I am 53, haven't menstruated for six years, and I still get hot flashes. I had a hysterectomy five months ago and that didn't stop them.

My doctor says I'm not menopausal. If I have to put up with them, I would like to know why. What are the causes?—R.S.

I have been told that no mere man has any business talking about hot flashes because he doesn't experience them and therefore doesn't know what he is talking about.

With this preface of humility, I'll try to answer.

Hot flashes are a characteristic of menopause. Although not universal, a hot flash is a sensation of warmth or change of life.

They are thought to be due to instability of the automatic control of blood vessels—a rush of blood through the surface blood vessels brings a sudden sensation of warmth. Hot flashes.

They are not dangerous, any more than a blush is. But they can, I am sure, be upsetting. They bother some women a great deal, others very little. Both intensity and duration vary widely.

which occurs at menopause. This explains the fact that giving hormones for a few months at this time helps prevent or minimize the hot flashes until the body has achieved a new equilibrium, hormonally speaking.

We do note, however, that the nervous type of woman seems to have more trouble, and it lasts longer. Hence in some cases tranquilizers or mild sedatives are very helpful, without use of hormones.

As a rule the hot flashes wane and disappear within a reasonable time but some women, and emotionally stable ones, too, report cessation when the "change" is over, only to have them recur later on. Fatigue, an emotional crisis, anxiety can trigger them it seems. Adequate rest can be important.

In addition we know that hyperthyroidism (overactive thyroid) can be involved and that this is more common after 50 than formerly had been supposed. Hence careful checking of the thyroid, along with seeing that there is no anemia, often pays dividends in curbing flashes when they occur after the usual time for them has passed.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain the function of the spleen. If it is injured, is an operation necessary?—Mrs. B. W.

The spleen is a lymphatic organ similar, for example, to the lymph glands under the chin. The purpose is to filter out unwanted materials in the blood stream.

In the case of the spleen, so much blood flows through that a rupture of it can cause a person to bleed to death internally. The tissues are such that it is extremely difficult to sew up such a wound. However, the entire spleen can be removed and the blood vessels tied off, and there will be no trouble afterward. Not all injuries to the spleen necessarily mean a rupture.

Attention all women! For the pamphlet, "The Pre-Menstrual Blues," write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling. This pamphlet may help you!

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Putting Them All In The Same Basket

We hear, on occasion, the hue and cry against "guilt by association" regarding Communist, Reds and "pinks," whatever the latter may be. Most will join in the condemnation of such practice.

But when it comes to our youngsters, we take a different tack. When one young lad crashes his car into another, we decry "wild young drivers." When another gets caught attempting to "share the wealth," we moan over "delinquency."

When vandalism occurs, it is always done by a "bunch of hoodlums" or "punks." Lumping them together, we regretfully acknowledge that the younger generation, (like all those before it), is certainly going straight to the dogs.

IT IS ABOUT THE point where to name a youngster a teenager is to put the brand of shame upon him; as though to be of that age makes him a rake and a no-good. It's guilt by association. And unfortunately, there is no way a youngster can escape this age bracket; he eventually must become a teenager and somehow, survive it.

We pay lip service to the statement "not all teenagers are bad"; darned polite of us, don't you think? The statement implies that most teenagers are bad, but we will grudgingly admit that a few of them must be good. Perhaps, the statement could be re-phrased "not all teenagers are good."

THE FACTS ARE that all teenagers get credit for the bad that a few teenagers do; it is fortunate that this practice does not extend over into the adult age brackets. For instance, if a 25-year-old man commits a murder, we could, by that logic, assume that all adults in their 20's are murderers and publicly brand and hold all of them in suspicion.

Or any other age bracket for that matter. Of course, that doesn't make sense; but then, neither does the brand we place on teenagers.

WE ARE QUICK TO CONDEMN, but slow to recognize merit and accomplishment in our teenagers; neither an original nor profound observation. While we have a handful of reports of teenagers getting into trouble, we have hundreds who are making notable accomplishments in music, stock raising, citizenship, church work, and many others.

We hear about and discuss the former, we rarely notice the latter. But we are prone to lump them all together in our minds as followers of the trouble makers. It's a curious product of our thinking, this "guilt by association."

—V. GLENN COOTES

Holmes Alexander One Man Of Independent Intellect

WASHINGTON—"But my true love's a rover," wrote Edna St. Vincent Millay—not in celebration of Federal Reserve System Chairman William McChesney (Bill) Martin, and his independent testimony before the Joint Congressional Economic Committee, but that's how the poet's song rang to one fed-up reporter.

ALL WEEK the consorts and kept men of the New Frontier had been vowing their fidelity and hugging the hearts that warms their egos. Call fidelity a good thing in matrimony. Praise the ties that bind the honest husband and mate.

But when you find conformity and brain-washed yes-saying in the intellectual community, look out. When you find men whose opinions are worthless before a Congressional committee unless the views are freely bestowed and believably at variance, give me the loose-footed rover who follows his heart and mind.

IT WAS A SICKLY and sycophant procession of apron-string economists who sang for their supper. There was the scholar, Walter Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. In order to justify the Administration's tax-cut, debt-building, deficit-accepting $99 billion budget, Heller had to perform an act of matricide upon Mother America.

THE OLD DAME has always believed in putting pennies away in the cookie jar for a rainy day. While never being ungenerous to her thrifless sons and scapegrace neighbors overseas, the national spirit of America has been for thrift, honor, frugality and sobriety. But Heller couldn't be faithful to his corner in the White House without taking a sham at the old lady who reared us all. So he curled a lip at her. He spoke against the "Puritan Ethic" (although the local press caught him saying Puritan "effort") which is the admonition to pay your debts and shame the Devil who tempts you to pass them on to your children and neighbors.

OTHER ADMINISTRATION house pets mewed and purred their keeper's line. Treasury Secretary Dillon, Commerce Secretary Hodges, Labor Secretary Wirtz, and the President's new man on the Reserve Board, George Mitchell, who could see no danger of inflation in our prodigal spending and two-handed borrowing amid the I.O.U.'s of a $300-billion National Debt.

Only Bill Martin among the Federal job witnesses to date showed a rollicking unconcern as to where his next bed-and-breakfast as a Government official would come from. Not that he had his foot on the automatic opposition button, or was objecting just to object to the President's fiscal plans.

HE ACKNOWLEDGED that we have a "hell-skelter array of taxes" and that perhaps it "could be improved and streamlined out" by tax reform. But he didn't go along with the doubling up of a $13.5 billion cut in taxes and a planned deficit of $11.9 billion for 1964 with future deficits in plain view. He spoke for a relatively tight-money policy, pay-off of debt out of individual and corporate savings rather than by still looser credits. He said:

"THE FEDERAL RESERVE Board sits under a Sword of Damocles with two time bombs"—one, the inflation threat, the other continuing imbalance of international payments.

Martin is not an extremist. He is not a pliant, obedient, old-fashioned peepo-pinchin'. But among these hot-led apologists for White House spend-and-elect, he seemed foot-free and nobody-owns-me. That's how a man of intellect should always be. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

J. A. Livingston News Blackout Affects Wall Street

Trying to judge whether the shutdown of newspapers in New York and Cleveland had had an effect on Wall Street is like trying to solve a murder without the corpse delict.

The corpus delicti—as any reader of murder stories knows—is the body. You have to prove that somebody died, or you can't get a conviction.

WHAT WOULD BE the crime in this case, assuming there is a crime? First, we must assume that investors and speculators rely on newspapers for stock prices and information about corporation earnings and dividends, etc. Second, we must presume that if newspapers black out, this would affect investment decisions to buy and sell stocks.

Therefore, if we can establish a diminution in trading in Cleveland and New York greater than in cities with newspapers, we've found the body, the corpus delicti.

Lets start our search with a bit of general evidence. In the first week of December, the volume of transactions on the New York Stock Exchange—the number of shares traded—was 13 per cent higher than in the same week in 1961.

Then came the New York strike. The next week the volume of transactions compared with a year ago was off 16 per cent. From a plus of 13 to a minus of 16 is a swing of 29 points. Quite a change.

NEW YORKERS—deprived of their daily reference table—lost the stimulus (I'll define this later) to buy and sell. That had an impact on total market volume. About a quarter of all public transactions on the New York Stock Exchange originate in metropolitan New York.

Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, the giant brokerage firm which does 15 per cent of the business on the New York Stock Exchange, has worked up some supplementary before-and-after data. Take for instance its Cleveland offices.

THE VOLUME of transactions—the amount of commissions—in the week following the strike against the Plain-Dealer and the Press and News fell 30 per cent from the week before. The drop in volume on the New York Stock Exchange was only 13 per cent.

For New York City, the evidence is fully as persuasive. In the first full week after the closdown, commissions in four New York Merrill Lynch offices, including the big one in the financial district, fell 26 per cent from the week before, as against drops of 20 per cent in St. Louis, 19 per cent in Dallas, 26 per cent in Philadelphia, and a 22 per cent drop in trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

AS THE WEEKS wore on, commission business in New York slumped—relative to the pre-strike week—perceptibly more than in other cities and perceptibly more than volume on the New York Stock Exchange. In no week has the New York business of Merrill Lynch attained the level of the pre-strike week. This is not true for St. Louis, Dallas, or Philadelphia.

When people read about earnings or dividend news, when they study stock quotations, they constantly have in the recesses of their minds question: Should I hold, buy, sell?

THE NEWS BLACKOUT disrupted habits. Customary stimuli to action were mute. At first, Victor B. Cook, Merrill Lynch, vice president in charge of trading operations in the office in the financial district, felt that the lack of newspapers wouldn't affect business. He has changed his mind.

He estimates that the lack of headlines cost several hundred thousand shares in reaction to the President's tax program or President de Gaulle's British black-bail.

"I don't say that's good or bad," he declared. "I'm not holding out a tin cup. Maybe we're better off without it. I'm merely noting that we don't get the response we used to when people had newspapers."

But What About Now?

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Those males who consider the attractiveness of coeds when applying for college could do worse than reflect on Bowling Green State University.

Both Jacqueline Mayer, Miss America of 1963, and Bonnie Gawronski, Miss Ohio of 1963, were Bowling Green State students at the time of their succession to their titles.

Tea And A Sermon

PORTSOY, Scotland (AP)—Parishoners arriving at Portsoy Church on Sunday mornings now get a hot cup of tea and a chocolate biscuit before they take their place in the pew.

Treasurer William Morris said: "The heating in the church is not good, and the tea keeps the congregation warm." The tea and biscuits are paid for out of funds raised by the church youth club.

Cotton Leader Doesn't Care What Others Say

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
HILLSBORO (AP) — Some say Burris C. Jackson is this old Central Texas cotton town's outstanding citizen. Some say he's the cotton industry's world leader. Others say he is neither. Jackson says he is just a cotton merchant.

Currently he is chairman of the board of the American Cotton Council and in Washington fighting for legislation which would eliminate an existing two-price system caused by an 8 1/2-cent-a-pound export subsidy on cotton.

He has been president of the National Postmasters Association for an unprecedented three terms, and is former liaison man between the Post Office Department and the armed services.

"People who do things," he says of his sometimes heated opponents, "always have enemies as well as friends. I can't say I love them, but I'm as proud of my enemies, in a way, as I am my friends."

Rep. Paul Jones, D-Mo., and Rep. Charles Halleck, R-Ind., among others, oppose his proposed cotton legislation as a "mill bill." They say his recommendations are silent on any question of giving growers a choice between sets of acreage allotments and price supports.

"To say this is a mill bill is incorrect," Jackson says. "The mills are our greatest market, so it is a growers' bill to save the growers' markets."

Cotton Digest, the industry's organ, named him world cotton man of the year in 1960.

Entering the Army as a captain in World War II, Jackson rose to colonel and became the liaison between the Pentagon, Congress and the Post Office Department.

There's little doubt that some GI's blamed him when their mail was late. But Postmaster General Jesse Donaldson of the Truman era said:

"No man had more to do with the speedy delivery of servicemen's mail at the battlefield and at the home front than Burris Jackson. He worked tirelessly for the men and their families."

Jackson helped found the National Cotton Council 25 years ago. He was the moving figure in formation of the American Cotton Congress in 1939. He organized the Statewide Cotton Committee in 1956. He is chairman of the Texas Cotton Research Advisory Committee, created by the Texas Legislature. And he is chairman of the National Affairs Committee of the American Cotton Shippers Association. Some say all this activity is only ego food for the tall, white-haired Hillsboro man. Others say he has a sincere determination to help the industry.

A Hillsboro bank president, who would not be identified, said Jackson "could have taken almost any path he desired after he graduated from Texas A&M."

A Hillsboro real estate broker, who also asked that his name not be used, said: "That Burris Jackson couldn't get elected constable even in his own home town."

Jackson takes it all in stride apparently, and identifies himself only as a cotton merchant.

"That is where I started," he said, "and that's where I intend to end up."

Austin Awards 2nd Contract For Cable TV

AUSTIN (AP)—The city council has awarded a second contract for cable television in Austin.

The contract, unanimously approved at a special meeting Wednesday, went to John Campbell of Mineral Wells.

Campbell said his company, TC Cable of Austin, has signed a contract with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. for use of its poles and "is already working on installation problems."

The council awarded its first contract for cable television Jan. 28 to Capital Cable Co.

Austin, a city of 200,000, now has only one commercial station, KTBC-TV, owned principally by the wife of Vice President Lyndon Johnson. KTBC-TV hold an option to purchase 5 per cent of the stock in Capital Cable Co.

Another firm which sought a cable television contract, Independent Cable Television of Austin, withdrew its application Tuesday.

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said Wednesday that a former assistant attorney general, Mrs. Mary Wall, has joined his staff.

Crude Price Cut Spreads

TULSA (AP) — Sinclair Crude Oil Co., Champlin Oil & Refining Co., Apco Oil Corp. and Big Heart Pipeline Corp. made a 5-cent per barrel price reduction Wednesday for Oklahoma crude oil.

The prices will be effective Friday for Sinclair and Champlin. Sinclair buys about 40,000 barrels of Oklahoma crude daily and Champlin buys 27,000.

The cuts were effective Wednesday for Apco, 22,000 barrels daily, and for Big Heart, 3,000 barrels daily.

Sunray DX Oil Co., Rock Island Oil Co., Rock Island Oil & Refining Co., and Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, the state's three largest crude purchasers, made 5 cent reduction earlier.

HOUSTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert (Bobby) Kennedy will spend about eight hours here Feb. 15, U.S. Atty. Woodrow Seals said Kennedy will talk with members of the federal law enforcement agencies and federal judges.

WHAT'S FOR DINNER MRS. SKINNER?

HAM-A-RONI

2 cups SKINNER 1 tsp salt
Jumbo Elbow 1/2 tsp dry mustard
Macaroni 1 cup water
1/4 cup chopped onion 8 broccoli spears,
2 can (8 ounce) 4 slices baked ham
tomato sauce 3 tsp butter

Cook macaroni as directed on package. While macaroni cooks, saute onion in 1 Tbsp. of the butter for about 5 minutes. Then add tomato sauce, chili sauce, salt, mustard and water; stir. Bring to a boil and simmer for 2 minutes. Turn macaroni into a buttered 8" x 12" baking dish (or 2-qt. casserole). Place ham slices on macaroni, top ham with broccoli spears. Pour sauce mixture over all. Dot broccoli with remaining 2 Tbsp. butter. Bake in 350° oven for 35 minutes. Sprinkle grated Parmesan cheese over top if desired. Makes 4 servings. Average cost per serving: 35¢.

Good eating, for sure! Especially good when you start with Skinner Macaroni. This is the macaroni made with 100% amber durum wheat. That's why it tastes better, cooks better, looks better. Why it has the Golden Glow of Quality.

John Galm's Family Eats Over $3,500 A Month

By JUNIUS GRIFFIN
NEW YORK (AP)—For the past 13 years John Galm has attempted to reduce his family budget. But try as he may the food bills average more than $3,500 a month.
"Just this month, I paid $240 for fish alone," Galm said with a sigh, "and the mother of our newly born requires vitamins that cost $1.50 daily."
Galm's family consists of 250 birds and 130 mammals, all with tremendous appetites. He is su-

Prostitution Ring Bared

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Police say four arrests uncovered a statewide prostitution ring involving possibly 200 persons.
One investigator said that in making the arrests here Tuesday night, state police confiscated "booking" records for hotels and motels with names of persons throughout Texas.
Jailed in lieu of $10,000 bond were William (Big Daddy Bill) Stevens, 44; his wife Betty, 19, and Donald Caldwell, 34, a hair dresser. Clabon Booker, 30, a bellhop, posted $1,000 bond.
All four are charged with false imprisonment by abduction for the purpose of prostitution.
Stevens and Caldwell were seized during a raid led by Texas Ranger Sgt. S. H. Denson on a motel. A 22-year-old Victoria woman was taken into protective custody.
Mrs. Stevens and Booker were arrested later that night at a downtown hotel.
Officers quoted a Corpus Christi area woman, also 22 and in protective custody, as saying she had been held for two weeks under narcotics in Corpus Christi, Victoria, Cuero and Temple.
Both young women told police they were picked up for a date by a man; drugged, beaten, held captive by further use of drugs and being forced to engage in prostitution.

U.S. Eyes New York Arts Subsidy For Developments

By PHIL KEUPER
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Today, in culture-conscious America, you can buy an original painting on the installment plan.
In New York State you can go to a ballet or a concert in your home town and have the rest of the state's 5 1/2 million taxpayers share the cost of your ticket. New York spends almost a half-million tax dollars a year subsidizing the performing arts.

Rhode Island taxpayers also share the cost of local ballets or concerts, but on a much smaller scale. That state's General Assembly last year appropriated $65,700 for the performing arts. Other states are watching the New York experiment. So is Congress, where a bill that would create a Federal Arts Council with a $10-million budget has been introduced.

New York State's Council of the Arts was created three years ago by a legislature lukewarm to the idea of taxpayers supporting theater, ballet and demonstrations about how to look at a painting.
The council was a project of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a former president of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

"The governor," grumbled one lawmaker, "is trying to put the state in the ballet business."
A $50,000 initial budget started the council on a statewide cultural survey. In 1961-62, the appropriation soared to $450,000, enough to send live Shakespeare, opera or ballet into almost every major upstate community. This year, the council had $550,000 to spend.
In 1961 a total of 7,300 persons jammed a fieldhouse in Troy to hear Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra. Many others were turned away. Children paid 50 cents a ticket, adults $1.50.
The concert was the council's biggest success. John H. Macfadyen, the council's executive director, said: "They could have charged $2.50 a ticket, still a reasonable price, and had the concert without state help."

This, according to Macfadyen, is the ultimate goal of state-supported art: to launch communities on cultural projects of their own.
"It would be a mistake," he said, "for people to begin to depend on an annual sum of money from a temporary commission."
Several upstate cities began organizing local arts councils last year.

Stokowski Still Waves Banner For Young Folk
By MILES A. SMITH
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—At 75, Maestro Leopold Stokowski still carries a musical banner for youth and its future hopes.
Still tremendously busy—building another orchestra, making guest appearances with the Philadelphia Orchestra and others, reading manuscript scores that pour into his studios overlooking Central Park—the man who once formed an All American Youth Orchestra manages to find time to give encouragement to young musicians.

Friday, he will be back in Philadelphia for an anniversary concert commemorating the 50th season since he made his debut there.
But in answering an interviewer's questions about the anniversary, he soon turned the subject aside.
"I would rather talk about the future," he said. "The past is something we no longer can do anything about."
He began talking about the American Symphony, which under his leadership began giving concerts last fall.
"One-third of our players are the most talented youth from the great music schools of New York, Boston, Rochester, Philadelphia and Baltimore—young people with tremendous talent," he said.
"For the remaining two-thirds we have the great, experienced free-lance players of New York, whom I know personally from making records for years."
"The young players learn from the experienced players, and the latter gain from the enthusiasm and vitality of the young people."
In connection with this project, he continually adds young singers, young players and young conductors. Nor are young composers neglected.
Then the talk turned to public support for youthful talent.
"Should there be national support for young people in the arts?" "The central government in Washington," he said, "has tremendous problems both in the United States and in relation to other countries. I am confident that each city and each state is able to take care of itself culturally."
"If ever the intense problems of national security are solved, then great funds would be made free for the cultural life of the United States."
"Until then," he went on, "each city and state should take care of its own and can do so."
"The greatest question for young people is opportunity. America is the land of opportunity and it must remain that."

College Publicist Director Named
FORT WORTH (AP)—Robert McCulloch of Oklahoma State University was elected director of the Southwest district of the American College Public Relations Association.
McCulloch succeeds Mrs. Joyce Whitfield of Abilene Christian College.
The public relations and development people voted to hold next year's convention at McAllen with Pan American College serving as host.

GOING SHOPPING

She saw it in the Big Spring Herald

Consumers with needs to be filled and money to spend shop the ads in their daily newspaper even though they may not be searching for a specific item.

A research study reveals that four out of five readers like to look at newspaper ads as a regular part of their daily reading. This same study shows that consumers rated newspapers ahead of all other major measured media for advertising that can be depended upon for information that is factual, useful, and tells where they can buy the products advertised. And they know they can clip the ad and take it right along as a handy buyer's reference for shopping.

Advertising, national and local, in the daily newspaper is always ready to help the buying consumer make his purchase whenever he decides, "now is the time I want to buy." It's always ready because almost nine out of ten families get a newspaper in their homes every day. Advertising is seen and read because the survey results show that 89,567,000 adults and 9,456,000 teen-agers read a newspaper on an average weekday.

Think of the expense, Judy! They've already got Nubbin and the twins to feed.

I ran into Doc, Skeezix. I got the conversation around to babies, but he didn't spill a word about Judy!

He naturally wouldn't. Nina, Ethics, you know.

I'm surprised Skeezix hasn't confided in you, Corky! After all, you are brothers!

If Skeezix wants to keep Nina's condition a secret that's his privilege, Hope's!

Slaying Climaxes Unusual Parallels Between 2 Women

CORSICANA, Tex. (AP)—The curb-side shooting of a policeman grimly links two Corsicana mothers who work almost side-by-side in a hat factory.

One woman's husband was shot to death Dec. 23, 1962, as he investigated a traffic violation. The other's faces murder charges in the slaying.

Both have Faye as their given name and they live just three blocks from each other.

Mrs. Faye Robinson, 26, widow of Sgt. Bob Robinson and mother of a 3-year-old girl, admits she's fighting a battle against bitterness.

"Bob came home that night for supper," she said. "He left to go back on duty, and about an hour later they came to tell me he was dead."

The police sergeant was killed by a shotgun blast when he apparently stopped Grover Beamon to investigate a traffic violation.

Mrs. Faye Beamon, 32, who has four children ranging from 13 months to six years, visits her husband each day. In fact, she takes his evening meals to the Navarro County jail where he has been held without bond since Christmas Eve.

On Sundays Mrs. Beamon takes the children to see their father. Each morning the mothers leave their children with baby sitters and report for work at the hat factory. Mrs. Robinson sews bands in hats. Mrs. Beamon inspects the band work.

Neither has much financial security. Sgt. Robinson canceled a life insurance policy just three months prior to his death. Court-appointed attorneys will defend Beamon, due to be tried for murder Feb. 24.

Sympathetic citizens here started a "Bob Robinson memorial fund."

Recently, Mrs. Robinson received a $2,979.32 check, proceeds from the fund.

A fund was also started for Mrs. Beamon and her children. It now stands at $412.

President Of Nicaragua

Rene Schiek Gutierrez waves to supporters in Managua, Nicaragua, during voting when he was elected president of the Central American nation. Schiek, 53, was the candidate of the Liberal Party, run by out-going President Luis Somoza. A new law prevented Somoza from succeeding himself or being succeeded by any member of his family. Schiek will take office May 1.
