Congor Stelcz, now 7, was only 17 months old when his parents fled Hungary during the 1956 revolt. Left behind, too ill to travel, the boy remained as his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gyula Stelcz of Richardson, came to the United States as refugees. After long exchanges of letters and telegrams, the boy was allowed to rejoin his parents. He arrived via plane in Dallas for an emotion-packed reunion with his mother.

Democracy Faintly Stirrs In Ethiopia

By WEBB MCKINLEY
ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—The first, faint stirrings of modern democracy are coming to Ethiopia and are heartening this ancient country's well-wishers. Here in the strange highlands of the African horn it is no longer quite true to call his imperial majesty Haile Selassie I one of the last of the absolute monarchs. The constitutional government he created in name 32 years ago is emerging at last as an infant fact. Groping and uncertain as it still is, it could if it grows save Ethiopia from a long-predicted explosion. Recently the Ethiopian lower house of 251 members debated for two days a change in the penal code. The government, meaning presumably the emperor, wanted an amendment that would permit public flogging of rumormongers. Parliament voted it down. Next day this surprising body rejected a tax on building materials also badly wanted by the government. Those who take these as heartening signs admit they are mere beginnings. They are also in their way dramatic events which probably annoy but one day may be welcomed by the 71-year-old monarch. Since he became regent as Ras Tafari in 1916 the ruler has tried

Aswan Dam Doesn't Make Everyone Happy

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP)—Many people have worried for years about what will happen to the ancient monuments of Abu Simbel when the Nile rises behind the Aswan Dam and floods the Valley of the Kings. The people of Wadi Halfa are letting the world worry about the monuments. Their town, with its date palms and bazaar, its Nile Hotel and railroad station, will vanish beneath the waters. "It is hard to think that in two or three years there will be only a lake over our homes," said a Halfan living in Khartoum. "Tell the world about that, not about those temples." The task of finding a new home for 50,000 inhabitants has been one of the major headaches of the Sudanese government since 1959, when Sudan signed an agreement with Egypt, settling technical questions springing from the project. The agreement provided payment to Sudan of 15 million Egyptian pounds ($43.2 million) to resettle the Halfans. Even if the money were enough, it could not take care of the human problems raised by the move. The Nubians from Wadi Halfa are a close-knit, aggressive people with a long history. They have provided many of Khartoum's civil servants, and they have political influence. For generations, the town has based its economy on dates from the fringe of the desert. Looking for a new location, the government proposed in 1960 to build a new town at Khazm El Ghibra, a dam project on the Atbara River, 550 miles southeast of Wadi Halfa. The Halfans protested that there is too much rainfall there for raising dates, and that they would be forced into a new kind of life in a strange climate. In 1960 four cabinet ministers went to Wadi Halfa to announce that the government had decided on Khazm El Ghibra anyway. The Halfans reacted in wrath and

Nurse Program Explained To Lions

Work of the school nurses was described to the Evening Lions at their Monday meeting in Wesley Methodist Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Louise Horton, a 10-year veteran of the school nursing staff, told how several tests are run on pupils during the year to screen for possible physical defects or ailments. Where abnormalities are indicated, the pupil is referred to his or her family physician. In addition, the nurses administer the tuberculosis tests to spot unsuspected, incipient TB cases. Committee reports included one by C. W. Tanner on the eliminations in the queen contest. Glen Barnes reported that the date for the basketball banquet will be set as soon as the speaker is named.

Royal Confusion For These Chickens

BRAZORIA (AP)—Grover C. Smith III of Brazoria, age 10, finds anyone can be his own mother hen with the aid of a candy thermometer and a heating pad. He also has confused some chickens royally. Grover's adventure into the hen business began when Grover's doctor told him he would not be at the pitcher's mound during Little League season due to convalescence from osteomyelitis (degeneration of the bone) in his right arm. His parents persuaded him to spend the summer caring for a few hens. After a pen and a hen house were put up by his father, Grover discovered almost everybody that had chickens kept just what few were necessary to furnish eggs for their families. No one with chickens seemed to have any desire to part with a few fowl. So Grover sent post cards for poultry catalogs and requested information on chicken raising from the county agricultural agent. Finally he decided to make his own incubator. He borrowed his mother's roaster from the kitchen, lined it with straw, placed her candy thermometer inside, and began experimenting with a heating pad wrapped in towels placed on top of the roaster lid. He found that a steady temperature of 101 degrees could be obtained if proper insulation were used. His first family consisted of 20 bantam eggs, which he carefully turned each day and lightly sprinkled with water. "Mama chickens always dust their feathers in the early morn-

FEMALE TROUBLE CAUSES NERVOUSNESS

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.
The female reproductive system is still the marvel of God's universe. Man has tried for years to find cures for the many female disorders, only to find that as one organ is patched up or cut out, another trouble starts. These intricate female organs are so connected, co-ordinated and destined to function intelligently and systematically according to Divine Plan. If any one of these delicate organs or glands fails in any degree to function properly, the entire system is thrown out of order and so-called "female trouble" results. These painful reactions usually upset the entire nervous system and often produce moody spells and the erratic behavior that women know so well. Frequently, these emotional disturbances become so involved that the patient becomes mentally unbalanced. To explain why any of these organs or glands suddenly quit functioning or one alters its perfect performance, we must consider what made it work perfectly in the first place. Naturally, we look to the nerve system itself which is the source of all physical energy and the control system for all organic function. We find most all female disorders result from nerve disturbance in the spine, usually incidental to some spinal injury or vertebral displacement interfering with nerve performance. We chiropractors specialize in removing nerve irritation by properly adjusting the spine back into alignment. Once the nervous pathways of irritations restores normal function and health naturally results. Here is such a case. Miserable years of painful, irregular periods and drawing cramps with intense aches and pains between her shoulders and in her neck. Constant headaches, sinking spells, depression and tragic dreams were enough to cause despondency, emotional strain and worry that had this young mother thinking that she was reaching the end of her rope. On her first visit she broke into hysterical sobbing, feeling as lost as any woman suffering can feel. Some time ago she made the statement, "I feel as if you had completely made me over." This statement was made after examination, X-ray had located the cause of the disturbance and treatment had corrected the spine. Today she is a happy woman telling others of the benefits of chiropractic. No. 413. Have your present or past treatments made you well? If not, investigate the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic, across from Piggly Wiggly, today! What can you lose except your ill health? AM 2-3324. —Adv.

Pidgeon, As Perry Mason, Wanted To Lose A Case

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I pleaded with them to let me lose the case," said Walter Pidgeon of his starring role in television's ever-winning attorney, Perry Mason. "My argument was that it would make Perry look good. But the producers said that I had to win. After all, Perry had never lost, and I'd be letting him down if I took over a case for him and blew it." So Pidgeon will continue the show's winning ways when he appears for Raymond Burr on the courtroom show Feb. 25. He is one of the four stars who spelled Burr during the latter's operation and recovery. The guest stint may serve as a break-in for more strenuous television chores for Pidgeon, who has made a pilot film for Daystar Productions and ABC, "Mr. Kingston." Pidgeon plays skipper of Love is the basis of our acceptability with God. "If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be anathema"; "But if any man love God, the same is known of him" (1 Cor. 16:22 and 8:3). Do you love the Lord? If so, you will obey him. Jesus said, "He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me . . ." (Jno. 14:21). Have you obeyed the following commands? 1. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved . . ." (Acts 16:31). 2. "Repent, and be baptized everyone of you in the name of

Fairlane is in a class by itself. It gives you the winners' combination of big-car room, ride, performance—yet it handles and costs more like the compact! To illustrate, let's compare the middleweight Fairlane with the compact Chevy II which some people mistakenly feel is in the same class. Fairlane is almost 15 inches longer. It has more leg room, front and rear—and 3 1/2 cubic feet more trunk space! Choice of two spanning V-8's or a spunky Six! Next, compare the middleweight Fairlane with the big Chevy. Fairlane is a foot shorter, far easier to park and handle. Yet, amazingly, Fairlane has more effective front leg room . . . about the same effective head room . . . practically the same trunk space! Plus Ford's exclusive money-saving two-year or 6,000-mile maintenance! Yet Fairlane is priced hundreds lower—even lower than some compact! Come see your Ford Dealer . . . compare for yourself!

Demos To Honor First GOP President - Abe Lincoln

WASHINGTON (AP) — Abraham Lincoln, the first Republican president in the White House, will be honored today by the present Democratic occupants with birthday party keyed to civil rights.

In advance of the party, President Kennedy will receive a special 250-page historians' report on the progress made in civil rights in the 100 years since Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation.

The President and his wife invited some 800 top officials and civil rights leaders from across the country to a buffet reception at the White House tonight, but banned press coverage of the event.

This is the first such major social event at the White House during the Kennedy administration where no reporters have been allowed. Asked why there was a press ban, except for a brief picture-taking session, presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said some events at the White House were open to coverage and others were not.

Bulgars Short On Joyous Life

By LOYAL GOULD
SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — The grim-faced soldier guarding Georgi Dimitrov's mausoleum looks like a throwback to Czarist times in his richly braided uniform and high black boots.

The head waiter in the Astoria Bar tries to hide his frayed cuffs. Both watch over Sofia's two biggest tourist attractions for East bloc visitors.

The mausoleum and the Astoria Bar, Sofia's sole night spot, are on the Boulevard Russki, just a few blocks apart. Both are about the only buildings in downtown Sofia lighted up at night.

"They also have something else in common," a Bulgarian said. "Only foreigners and party big shots visit them. We Bulgarians are not especially interested in the mausoleum—and the Astoria is too expensive."

Communist delegations pay nothing to traipse through the mausoleum for a quick look at the yellowish, mummified body of Bulgaria's Red hero.

At the Astoria, they need a goodly supply of cash to sip Soviet and French champagne at $15-20 a bottle while ogling East German acrobatic dancers.

When the Astoria closes at 3 a.m., the tourists head down dimly lit Boulevard Russki to the Grand Hotel Balkan, headquarters for nearly all official delegations from the Red bloc.

of foods practically impossible to find in restaurants or markets frequented by their Bulgarian hosts — Polish hams, Hungarian steaks, pineapples from Red China and Bulgarian grapes almost as large as golf balls.

"We can't even buy the best of our own products," a Bulgarian housewife said. "As they are all exported either to the Soviets in repayment of loans or to the West for hard currency."

The rare visitors from Western Europe staying at the Balkan are spotted easily by the cut of their clothes.

They are approached frequently by questioning strangers who whisper while looking furtively elsewhere, pretending to be engaged by something entirely different.

"Unless he's a government or party official," a Western diplomat said, "it's not wise for a Bulgarian to be caught talking to anybody from the capitalist world."

Recently the Cuban crisis has been topic No. 1 in these quickly held sidewalk conversations started by information-hungry Bulgarians.

Schoolmen See Perils In School Anti-Red Courses

AUSTIN (AP)—School administrators warned a House committee Monday to beware of local pitfalls in a proposal to require high school courses on "Capitalism vs. Communism."

The bill introduced by Rep. W. T. Dungan of McKinney brought comments to the House Education Committee from superintendents and businessmen.

One witness read a story from a first grade reader about a lazy socialist squirrel named Bobby.

Roger Harlan of Dallas read from a book, "Our New Friends," which he said was used in the Highland Park schools and which he contended taught youngsters to identify with socialist values.

Supt. Frank Monroe of Highland Park schools in Dallas said he hoped the language of any bill passed would not be so specific as to take the initiative from local schools.

Rep. Reed Quilliam Jr. of Lubbock said "I don't feel a bill can be written at this time under the political climate under which it stemmed, the textbook hearings.

"Most people who testified today were of a far-right wing," he asserted.

Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity asked Monroe if he thought such a course could be divorced of a partisan political viewpoint.

"It would depend on who's to invite the speakers," Monroe said. "There is no goodness in any course as such; it's what is included in it. This information could be included in an American history or government course."

Supt. Nat Williams of Lubbock schools said he endorsed the motives behind the course proposed but "I ask you to study how this comes out. This can't be done in a half year, it has to be conceived of in long-range projects."

Tyler business man Richard Harvey said "We cannot expect this country to long endure unless our young people are properly instructed about the free enterprise system."

He said he joined the Christian anti-Communist crusade after becoming concerned with communism's advance in the world.

Fresh Blast Of Wintry Weather Hits Wide Areas

By The Associated Press
A fresh blast of wintry weather—with snow, sleet, strong winds and freezing temperatures—hit wide areas in the South from Texas to northern Georgia today.

The icy air from the northern Midwest, driven by strong northerly winds, dropped temperatures sharply in the Southern sections. The cold air headed into northern Florida. Readings from 15 to 20 degrees below normal were indicated.

Cold wave warnings were posted for parts of Louisiana, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma.

Two inches of snow and sleet, along with winds of 15 to 35 m.p.h. hit many areas in northeast Louisiana and central Mississippi. Up to four to five inches of snow was in prospect. Temperatures dropped to the teens in northern Mississippi and northern Louisiana, with freezing marks expected in the Gulf Coast.

Snow also fell in northern parts of Georgia and Alabama and eastern Tennessee and a narrow band of freezing rain pelted areas from Montgomery, Ala., to the Great Smokies.

In Jacksonville, Fla., the weather Bureau warned of flooding and further erosion in Jacksonville beach communities from the third storm which struck the northern Florida coast this winter. Beach communities waited for 100 carloads of granite from North Carolina to be used to plug holes in seawalls.

Much of Texas was glazed with ice and snow. Six inches of snow was dumped in the Lubbock area in West Texas, with four inches in Nacogdoches in the eastern section. Schools in many areas were closed.

The mercury dropped to 15 below in Alpena, Mich., while sub-zero marks extended into northern Illinois. It was 3 below in northwest suburbs of Chicago.

Abilene Tests Under Protest

ABILENE (AP) — The use of psychological tests in Abilene schools came under attack Monday night by about 15 parents.

The tests are an invasion of privacy of the student, his parents and his home, Mrs. A. K. Doss Jr., one of the parents, told the Board of Education.

Supt. A. E. Wells told the parents the tests are given by a counselor with the consent of the student's parents.

He said only six such tests have been given during the current school year and they are not a part of the routine academic or aptitude testing program.

Mrs. Doss said her daughter, a high school student, was given the test and cited one of the questions which her daughter was to have answered either true or false: "I would never play poker with strangers."

Mrs. Doss then asked the board how a child was expected to answer such a question.

Dr. Irby Fox said the test contained questions which could be interpreted only by a medical doctor, not a psychologist.

Dr. Fox protested to the "secrecy" surrounding the tests, claiming parents are not allowed to examine copies of the test upon request. Morgan Jones Jr., board president, said public distribution of the test would invalidate its effectiveness.

The board, Jones said, does not have a policy pertaining to the psychological testing. Trustees said they would review the program and draw up a definite policy.

Marines Find Today If They Can March

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C. (AP)—This is the Day of Decision for the Marines.

This is the day they learn whether they're as physically fit as Boy Scouts, female reporters or Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

This is the day that 34 officers, led by Brig. Gen. R. McC. Tompkins, will be determined on a 50-mile hike.

What began as a lark quickly turned into something decidedly different.

Marine Commandant Gen. David M. Shoup discovered an ancient order by President Teddy Roosevelt that showed how a 1908 Marine was expected to march 50 miles within three days.

Shoup sent the old order to President Kennedy, who wondered whether today's Marines were as fit. So the tests were called for.

But horrors! Before the Marines could prove how remarkably trained they are, a passel of fitness fiends, from the attorney general on down, had hit the road for 50-mile jaunts.

Walking, an almost forgotten art in this motor-mad nation, suddenly became as important as goldfish swallowing once was.

So the Marine who falters now is in disgrace. And, alas, the guessing here Monday night was that some might fail.

A veteran sergeant, pleased to see his officers on trial, predicted that at least three will never finish.

"In the Marine Corps," he said, "you can count on it that no matter what you try you're going to have 10 per cent failure."

"I'll call that bet," said a callow lieutenant.

The sergeant hastily explained he wasn't doubting present-day officer material. What he was counting on, he said, was that some officers will have boots that are not well broken in, and that blisters will take their horrible toll.

The rules of the road are simple. Each officer is on his own. He must twice circle a 25-mile course at any speed he desires and is free to stop at any or all of the three rest stops. But he must hobble across the finish line, with a sprint, if possible, within three days. And his actual walking time must not exceed 20 hours.

Thirty-one of the marchers are lieutenants and captains drafted for this unenviable chore. General Tompkins, Col. J. O. Bell and Maj. C. J. Clark have volunteered for the long hike.

If you wonder why this test for physical fitness on the part of the military, well, it goes back at least to Karl von Clausewitz, who lived from 1780 to 1831 and is the great authority on waging war.

"War is the province of physical exertion and suffering," Clausewitz said. "In order not to be completely overcome by these a certain strength of body and spirit is required."

Gen. Shoup didn't put it as ornately as did Clausewitz, but he put out a statement last month that should scare a couple of notches off the belt of any desk-bound officer.

"Too many fatties are still around," the general said.

Cuban Policy Critics Lashed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy Administration, under heavy fire from its political opponents, is striking back at Republican critics of its Cuban policies.

In the face of a fresh assault by GOP congressional leaders on the inept conduct of our foreign affairs by the Kennedy Administration, Sens. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., have teamed to condemn what they called partisan and irresponsible charges.

Mansfield, the Democratic leader, pointed his guns at New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sens. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa. He told the Senate Monday that "irresponsible public utterances are playing dangerously with the fires of public emotion."

Humphrey called on Republicans to make certain that "a rash of charges that cannot be substantiated by facts do not find their way into this chamber" or into the newspapers.

"The people are worried, concerned and indeed confused because of so many conflicting reports," he said. He added that President Kennedy, the Defense Department and the Central Intelligence Agency "have been frank and candid" in disclosing Soviet military strength in Cuba.

Mansfield flatly denied — as Scott had suggested — that there was any deal between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Kennedy for the removal of American missiles in Europe in exchange for the withdrawal of Soviet missiles in Cuba.

In a barb patently aimed at Keating, one of the most vocal critics of the administration, Mansfield told his colleagues he would be the last to suggest that members of Congress know less about matters pertaining to Cuba than the President, the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense.

"But I would suggest most respectfully," he said, "that the responsible course which helps rather than hurts the nation would be for these well-informed members to take their inside, unimpeachable information on Cuba to the appropriate departments at the same time that they take it to the press galleries."

Don't you wish somebody would do something about those bumpy roads?

Chamber Directors Okay Air Show Here For May

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce Monday put its stamp of approval on an air show for Big Spring, voting to underwrite the cost of the show. According to plans presented to the board by the aviation committee, the show is tentatively set for May 26 at Howard County Airport. Total cost of about $1,800 will be defrayed by an admission of $1 for adults.

Purpose of the show is to call attention to Big Spring's aviation facilities and to focus attention on the economic importance of private flying.

In other business conducted at the noon meeting in the Settles

Hotel, the board endorsed two recommendations made by the public health and safety committee. Recognizing that juvenile delinquency is on the increase in Big Spring, the board called on parents and other citizens to accept their responsibility in combatting the problem, urging them to cooperate with the police. The board also urged the judiciary to make prompt disposal of cases involving juveniles.

The group recommended to the city and county that a child welfare program be established in Big Spring. This organization would not distribute funds, but would help wayward and other unfortunate children with their problems.

Dr. M. W. Talbot also reported on the recent Civil Aeronautics Board decision granting increased airline service to Big Spring. He noted that a schedule for flights would be worked up in about a month and more details would be known then.

The board approved the audit of the books of the Chamber for the calendar year 1962. Only minor discrepancies were noted, according to Hillard and Green, certified public accountants who examined the books.

Club To Stimulate More Participation

The Ambassadors Club of the Chamber of Commerce this morning embarked on a campaign to stimulate more active participation in Chamber activities by its members. The job will be accomplished through personal contact by the club members during the next few months. The club met this morning for breakfast at the Sixty-Six Cafe.

Water District Makes Contacts For Pipe ROW

Representatives of the Colorado River Municipal Water District are making contacts for right of way in an effort to expedite work on a 51.5-mile pipeline project.

The pipeline will extend from Lake J. B. Thomas in southwest Scurry County to near Silver in northern Coke County. At that point Sun Oil Company will take delivery of water for a field water-flood project.

No date has been announced for the actual beginning of construction, but the first work likely is to be installation of crossings.

Meanwhile, production of 24-inch and 18-inch pipe for the project will proceed. The 24-inch section will extend from Lake Thomas 21.7 miles southward. This will put it to a point almost due east of Moss Creek Lake. The remainder of the line to Silver will be 18-inch diameter.

First order of business will be to complete this line by the latest date of July 1. The Colorado River Municipal Water District meantime will proceed with plans to construct channel dams across the Colorado River and intercept its normal low flow, which is heavily mineralized. This will be delivered by laterals to the main supply line, and as much as a million gallons a day of the Sun Oil contract may be in this salty water.

By intercepting the low flow of the river, the district will move to control pollution of the river, opening the way for a second major lake on the Colorado River, possibly in southern Mitchell County.

Engineer To Attend Bid Opening Today

Ross Jacobs, project engineer for Big Spring, with Forrest and Cotton, Inc., consulting engineers from Dallas, was expected in the city this afternoon and night to check bids on water main extensions. Bids were to be opened at 2 p.m., for tabulation, in time for the city commission meeting at 7 p.m.

City Manager Larry Crow said five bids were expected for the Master Plan bond program water line extensions. A total of 12,116.88 feet or 2.25 miles, of new water line will be included in the contract to be awarded.

The line connecting downtown with the Northside elevated storage tank, will include 2,103 feet of 18-inch, and 4,738.88 feet of 16-inch pipe.
