Major Drawback

It's carnival time in West Germany with political events of the past year humorously depicted in floats. This float in a Frankfurt carnival parade has the British lion attempting to enter the Common Market with French President Charles de Gaulle hanging on to his tail to prevent it. Sign reads: "Shall we allow him to enter?"

First Major Break Comes In New York News Blackout

NEW YORK (AP) — Dorothy Schiff, publisher of the New York Post, has broken away from the publishers of the city's other ma-or newspapers and announced that her afternoon tabloid will resume publication Monday.

Her decision leaves four newspapers shut down by a printers' strike and four others closed voluntarily.

Mrs. Schiff said Thursday, "I think the strike has gone on long enough. I see no evidence on a settlement."

Mrs. Schiff, owner and editor-in-chief of the Post, and four other publishers shut down the papers when the printers struck against four dailies 84 days ago.

Talks in the contract dispute continue today with Mayor Robert F. Wagner serving as chief mediator.

The Publishers Association of New York City, which represents the major newspapers in dealings with craft unions, said in a statement that Mrs. Schiff's break "does not alter the firm determination of the other publishers in the association to continue to press for a satisfactory agreement to end the current strike."

Mrs. Schiff resigned from the association a short time before her announcement at a news conference.

Amory Bradford, vice president of the struck New York Times and chief negotiator for the publishers' association, said Mrs. Schiff's move was "a great mistake on her part, which is bound to stiffen the union's position and may well prolong the strike."

Elmer Brown, president of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, said "I'm very hopeful that this step will encourage others to do likewise."

Brown made the statement to newsmen as he arrived Thursday night. Wagner summoned him from the union headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., to participate in the resumed peace talks.

Bertram A. Powers, president of striking printers Local 6, stood beside Mrs. Schiff as she announced her intention to reopen the Post, founded in 1801 by Alexander Hamilton and the city's oldest continuously published newspaper.

De Gaulle Is Faced With Serious Crisis

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle faced a serious domestic crisis today. Stubborn coal miners defied him on an issue dearer to them than Algeria or international grandeur—wages.

Communist, Catholic and Socialist unions challenged De Gaulle and began an indefinite strike in France's nationalized coal mines. The government agreed to a demonstration strike today and Saturday. But it said if the miners do not return to work Monday, they will be drafted into the army. If they do not return then, they will be liable to fines and imprisonment after trial by tough military courts.

Other unions awaited the outcome of the test of strength. Workers in the gas and electric systems and the railways—all operated by the government—want more money.

The government contends wage increases for the miners will set off a general rise in wages and that in turn will produce an inflationary spiral. The miners say France is booming and it's time they got their share.

Reports from the major coal mining area about 100 miles north of Paris said that more than 95 per cent of the miners failed to report to their pits this morning. In less important mines the number of strikers ranged from 75 to 93 per cent.

Until Thursday night it appeared De Gaulle had the upper hand. Only about a third of France's 167,000 miners—members of the Socialist Workers' Force, and the Catholic Christian Federation of Workers—had called an indefinite strike. The Communist General Confederation of Labor, which includes the rest of the miners, went along with the idea of a two-day strike only.

A French coal miner earns the equivalent of $60 a day. The Socialist Workers' Force said the miners want an 11 per cent increase to equal workers' scales in other French industries. They also want to reduce the present 46 1/2-hour work week progressively to 40 hours with no loss of pay.

Light Rain Dampens City

March was like a rather mild affair Friday on its initial appearance of the year. It dished up a shower to usher out February and then stirred up a chill which coated the countryside with a thin skin of ice as a special touch.

The wind blew somewhat earlier in the night but by the time dawn had rolled around, the wind had diminished and a bright sun made the frosty rim on the countryside glisten just. The low was 31 degrees—just enough to provide the ice.

The rain, which fell shortly after 5 p.m. Thursday, was rated at .05 of an inch by the U. S. Experiment Station. It pushed the total rain for February to 1.06 inches—the same amount credited to the area for the year. January had only a shower.

The showers, apparently, were general but not sufficiently heavy to do more than dampen things.

Powell's Panel To Counterattack

FIGURES PLACED IN EVIDENCE

Favoritism In Airplane Development Under Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators have been told the rejected design for the revolutionary TFX war plane promised more bomb carrying capacity, longer flying range and cost savings estimated from $91 million to $415 million.

The figures were placed in evidence at hearings Thursday before the Senate Investigation subcommittee. The senators seek to determine whether favoritism might explain why the huge TFX contract was awarded last December to General Dynamics Corp., Fort. Worth, Tex. over the purportedly lower bid of the Boeing Co., Seattle, Wash.

The estimates were listed in a chart compiled by the subcommittee's staff in collaboration with Air Force officers and published in a censored transcript of testimony taken in the closed-door hearings.

The hearings are in recess until Tuesday. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara called the TFX a tremendous step forward in manned aircraft design.

Still on the drawing board and its test flights possibly two years off, TFX is planned to be an all-weather fighter-bomber for both the Air Force and Navy with many capabilities up to missions at more than twice the speed of sound.

The chart described Boeing's design as promising: —1,100 miles longer nonstop flight range than General Dynamics' design on ferrying missions to speed the aircraft to distant stations.

—177 miles longer flying radius on fighter missions to intercept enemy aircraft. —Capacity to carry 69 per cent more pounds of demolition bombs when flying with wings extended; 11 per cent more with wings "tucked in." The plane is intended to have ability to extend or retract its swept wings to suit various flying missions.

—250 per cent more capacity to carry fire bombs, 50 per cent more capacity for nuclear bombs, 70 per cent more land mines, as measured by the company's own estimates.

The chart listed three different and confusing estimates of the cost with Boeing's estimated cost described as lower than General Dynamics in all three. The estimates were based on the planned acquisition of 1,200 of the planes.

The chart gave these figures: —Contractor's proposal—General Dynamics, $3,433,500,000—Boeing, $3,364,200,000.

—Air Force program estimate—General Dynamics, $7,083,200,000—Boeing, $6,983,000,000.

—Air Force program estimate, adjusted figures—General Dynamics, $5,903,000,000—Boeing, $5,387,500,000.

Criticism Is Felt Aimed At Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's Democratic colleagues on the House Education and Labor Committee plan a counterattack to criticism of the New York congressman.

Powell is chairman of the committee and they feel the barrage being fired at him is intended also to discredit the group. Therefore, they decided at a secret session Thursday to strike back.

Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., a ranking committee member, told the House he plans to obtain permission next Wednesday to devote two hours of debate time to reply to critics.

If the attack continues, the Democrats are reported considering more direct action, such as publicizing overseas spending by other congressmen.

At the moment, the chief target of the Democrats' ire is Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, who urged in a House speech this week that the committee's budget be cut $200,000.

The budget comes before the House Administration Committee next week. Powell is asking for $697,000 for this year and next, a $34,000 increase over last session.

In the Senate Thursday, Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., struck again at Powell.

Williams, one of Powell's chief critics, presented to the Senate a copy of a cablegram he said the State Department had sent to U.S. embassies in Europe, arranging for theater tickets and night club reservations for Powell and two women employees who accompanied him on a trip abroad.

Williams said he had invited the State Department to point to any other member of Congress for whom it provided such services. He said he has received no reply.

Burns To Death

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Charles Poehls, 30, of Miles burned to death today in a wrecked butane gas tank truck. The vehicle ran off U.S. 277 at a curve 4 miles north of San Angelo, overturned and burst. Poehls was trapped in the cab.

Tony Anastasio, Brooklyn Waterfront Kingfish, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Anthony "Tony" Anastasio, 57, dynamic boss of the Brooklyn waterfront who battled other leaders of the Longshoremen's Union as well as dock employers, died today in a Brooklyn hospital.

He was international vice president of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association and headed the 15,000-member IILA Local 1814 in Brooklyn.

A family spokesman said death resulted from complications following a heart attack Jan. 2.

A colorful figure, Anthony nevertheless often was overshadowed by two of his headline-making brothers, the late Albert and Joseph Anastasio.

Albert, a reputed power in the old Alford, Inc., mob, was shot dead as he sat in a barber chair in 1957. Joseph—involved in various time in charges of murder, bookmaking and waterfront thievery—died of natural causes in 1956.

Another brother, Salvatore, is a Roman Catholic priest in the Bronx.

Born in Trapani, Italy, Albert, Joseph and Anthony shipped as deckhands when they were children and jumped ship in the United States separately between 1917 and 1924. They eventually became U.S. citizens.

Anthony had a police record dating back to 1925, with arrests on charges ranging from assault to murder. He was freed of every charge.

Anastasio, a widower, lived in Brooklyn with his daughter and son-in-law. Anthony Scott, organized director of Local 1814, and three grandchildren.

Rusk Warns Soviets On Suppressing Cuban Revolt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has served notice the United States will not tolerate use of Soviet troops to suppress an uprising in Cuba.

Nor will the United States tolerate use of these troops in other Western Hemisphere countries, McNamara told a news conference Thursday.

He did not indicate what action the United States would take if the situation arose.

Shortly before McNamara spoke to newsmen, word was received in Washington that perhaps 100 to 200 Soviet soldiers left Cuba aboard the luxury liner Baltika in the past few days. Officials said four other Soviet ships, capable of carrying 8,000 to 9,000 soldiers, are believed heading for Cuba.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A space agency scientist says the moon may have an internal structure resembling a fruit cake.

And, if the first robot landing on the moon confirms this, it would strengthen a growing belief that many inhabited planets may exist among the stars beyond our solar system, said Dr. Robert Jastrow.

Jastrow of the Institute of Space Studies of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, made the comments Thursday at a briefing on various NASA programs for a group of newspaper, radio and television executives.

He said an unmanned spacecraft that will be sent to the moon in October will carry a seismograph designed to find out whether the moon has (1) a core of molten iron or (2) contains bits of iron distributed throughout its entire structure "like raisins in a fruit-cake."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Peace Corps, the most copied-outpost on the New Frontier, celebrates its second birthday today.

President Kennedy created the Peace Corps March 1, 1961, by executive order and handed his brother-in-law, Sargent Shriver, the task of transforming the idea into reality. Later, the organization was given permanent stature by act of Congress.

Other nations have taken up the idea and 43 have joined in forming a new organization to establish new peace corps groups around the world. The U.S. Peace Corps will form the nucleus for the new agencies.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The musical comedy "Brigadoon" will play a one-night stand at the White House March 27.

The occasion is a state dinner President and Mrs. Kennedy will give that evening for the visiting king of Morocco, Hassan II.

Flu Spreads To SW Texas

An outbreak of flu-like illness spread into Southwest Texas Friday, closing some schools. Some cities took emergency precautions.

Schools at Natalia, 20 miles southwest of San Antonio, closed Tuesday. A third of the 600 students were absent because of illness. Officials had made no definite plans to reopen the schools Monday.

Hitchhiker In No Need For Charity

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—A crippled man who says he's broke was still hitchhiking today to the Mason Clinic, even though the Los Angeles County clerk says the man has $36,711 waiting to be picked up.

Arthur A. Lambert, 42, and his wife, Ernesta, 34, were last seen thumbing up on a highway that led across the Mojave Desert.

Lambert, an ex-cab driver, was in a wheelchair, the result of a 1959 auto accident.

The Los Angeles County clerk's office spoke up after people all over the country offered financial help to the couple. A spokesman said the next egg represented Lambert's share of a 1962 judgment in the accident.

Why did the Lamberts start thumbing the 2,100 miles to Rochester, Minn.? And why haven't they picked up the money?

Lambert, in effect, replied that the award wasn't big enough and he's still looking for a lawyer who will get him a bigger one.

U. S. Weather Is Unchanged

The nation's general weather pattern showed only minor changes today, with snow and rain in scattered sections and little change in temperatures.

One belt of snow extended from southern Missouri northeastward through southern sections of Illinois and Indiana to southern Ohio. Heavy amounts of snow were forecast for much of the area, with falls ranging from two to four inches, and more than four inches near the Ohio River.

Texas Gets Light Rains

Skies cleared over Texas Friday, putting an end to widespread rains sooner than farmers and ranchers would have chosen.

Light rain fell during the night from North into East Texas, and a few scattered showers still fell in the eastern areas in early morning.

The agreement brought protests from India, which is about to resume talks with Pakistan on the future of disputed Kashmir.

MEDICAL ASSN. APPROVES JFK MENTAL HEALTH PLAN

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Medical Association, which is firmly opposed to President Kennedy's proposed medical program for the elderly, spoke approvingly today of his mental health program.

The spokesman in this instance is Dr. Gerald D. Dorman of New York, an AMA trustee. His forum was the annual conference of State Mental Health Representatives.

Dr. Dorman said President Kennedy's mental health program, announced Feb. 5, agrees with basic recommendations made by the AMA last summer.

He said both programs stress comprehensive care of mental patients at the community level rather than in big, distant state institutions.

"Community centers will supply what has been a missing link in the physician's responsibility for patients with emotional disorders," Dr. Dorman said.

Both the Kennedy administration and AMA proposals call for matching grants to the states from the federal government for building community mental health facilities.

Dr. Dorman said President Kennedy also proposes that services at the community centers be financed in the same manner as other medical and hospital costs—individual fees, private insurance, voluntary contributions and state and local aid.

Some Wall Streeters believed the market had finally entered a period of consolidation after its extended advance.

Motors, steels, metals and rails were higher. Utilities, oils and airlines were mixed.

Crewman Tells Of Troubles With Tanker

BEAUMONT (AP) — Crewmen had trouble with rust and accumulation of hardened sulphur aboard the vanished tanker Marine Sulphur Queen, a seaman said Thursday.

Vincent Stasleunas of Waterbury, Conn., was one of the witnesses heard by Coast Guard probers.

A three-man board of inquiry is seeking clues to why the ship with 39 crewmen vanished after leaving here Feb. 2 en route to Norfolk with a cargo of molten sulphur.

Stasleunas, an able seaman aboard the vessel during two intervals last year, said big deposits of sulphur formed in the void spaces and in a pumproom of the converted tanker.

He first helped clean sulphur from a void space in front of the forward cargo and "the old T-2 pumproom" last June, the witness said he was one of 16 seamen who removed sulphur two feet deep in the bilges last November, he said.

"We never did get all the sulphur out—only enough to make the suction pump in the bilges operate properly," Stasleunas testified.

The pump room caught fire several times, he said, during a November-December voyage in 1962. Lt. George Henrich said an inspection Jan. 30, 1962, while the Sulphur Queen was in drydock here, showed various repairs were needed.

Corrosion inside it necessary to remove the liner of the tail shaft, Henrich said. He added that a section three feet square of the hullside, the under-ter side of the hullstem, was replaced.

Reds Don't Like The Peace Corps

MOSCOW (AP)—The newspaper Izvestia Thursday called the American Peace Corps a fifth column and microbes of American neocolonialism.

The article said members of the corps are too young to be of value to the countries where they are serving but will be of increasing value as intelligence agents as they gain experience.

Bobby Says Presidency Not Target

By LOUIS G. PANOS WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert F. Kennedy looked out the window of his chauffeur-driven limousine and said he does not plan to run for president in 1968.

"Emphatically not," he said. In his voice was a note of plainness, a plea that his answer be believed.

There was also the shrug of resignation from a man who, as attorney general and brother of the President, knows every word he utters for public print will be closely examined — by political opponents for campaign ammunition, by foreign diplomats for a hint of what the administration is really thinking, and by reporters who consider him the most valuable news source outside the White House itself.

THE QUESTIONS

This interview, held during a ride from a hotel speaking engagement to his Justice Department office, was one of a recent series given by the attorney general to The Associated Press in an attempt to answer these questions:

1. Is he being groomed to assume the presidency when John F. Kennedy leaves office?
2. How true are current Washington rumors that, in preparation for a run at the presidency, he will be named secretary of state, with Dean Rusk leaving that post to become ambassador to the United Nations and Adlai E. Stevenson being eased out of the administration?
3. How does he define the unusual role he plays in government affairs?

THE ANSWERS

In brief, these are Robert Kennedy's answers:

1. The presidency. "Absolutely no. I don't even think about being president. I know that may sound funny to some people, but that's the truth."

2. Secretary of state. "Completely ridiculous and untrue." He said he would like to try to do the best job I can running the Department of Justice as attorney general. It's a very important job. Sure, the President gets my advice on matters outside the department — just as he does from lots of others. But he weighs it, just like he does the advice of the others, and then makes the decisions himself.

3. These are roughly the same answers he has given privately many times to similar questions which have cropped up during his first two years in office and, no doubt, will recur as long as Kennedy remains in office and there is one reporter to ask them?

MYSTIFIED

Kennedy and his closely knit group of associates in the Justice Department sometimes seem impatiently mystified by any suggestion that he has any political ambition at all.

"I'm out of politics," he still says.

Forsan Has Two More Candidates

Two more candidates for seats on the Forsan Independent School District school trustee board were filed Thursday with the county judge's office.

They are Bobby Wash and C. R. Walraven.

Election is to be April 6. Deadline for filing is 30 days before the election. All candidates in all school districts in the county except Big Spring and Coahoma must file with the county judge.

Announcement Was Aimed At Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's announcement that long range Soviet reconnaissance jets flew over four U.S. Navy carriers at sea was intended to disarm any Soviet propaganda bomb before it was dropped, informed sources said today.

These sources indicated secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara sought to beat the Soviets to the punch—for example to any claim that the flights were undetected when he told his news conference Thursday of such overflights in the North Atlantic and North Pacific during the past month.

Another possible aim could have been to neutralize Soviet complaints that U.S. warplanes had buzzed and trailed Soviet ships on the high seas.

In any event, questions about the vulnerability of carriers were raised by McNamara's disclosure that four heavy Soviet reconnaissance bombers flew thousands of miles from the Soviet Union straight to the 57,000-ton carrier Enterprise southeast of the Azores last Friday.

But the Navy stoutly denied that the Red flights over the Forrestal on Feb. 22 and over the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise, the Kitty Hawk and the Princeton earlier showed them up as vulnerable.

Officers noted that the Forrestal's departure from the Mediterranean to the United States had been announced. They said it was traveling the Great Circle route, a normal shipping lane, that it had no air patrols out, and that its heavy radio and radar output made it easy for the Soviets to home in.

In a war or emergency situation, the Navy said, none of these conditions would apply.

They did not make similar explanations for the flights over the Kitty Hawk in the North Pacific between Jan. 27 and Feb. 3, over the Enterprise in the North Atlantic on Feb. 12 and 13, and the Princeton in the North Pacific between Feb. 13 and 16.

McNamara replied with a terse "no" when asked whether there has been any Soviet reconnaissance over North America.

"None of the Soviet aircraft showed hostile intent," McNamara said.

Why did he wait so long to announce the long range Soviet flights over the four carriers?

"The information has been coming in gradually," McNamara said. "Initially it appeared to be an isolated incident," he said. "But having seen three or four incidents of this kind in the past four weeks or five weeks, it seems to us to begin to form a pattern and a rather substantial addition to their previous reconnaissance activity."

What was new, he said, is the use of long range planes and "the carrying out of reconnaissance at a much greater distance from the Soviet Union."

Bond Sales Off To Slow Start In This Area

Sales of United States Savings Bonds got off to a slow start in this district during January. The district total was $86,243 or 5.5 per cent of the year's quota. Howard County had sales of $45,181 or 6.7 per cent of its year's quota. Martin County reported $2,475 in sales, or 6.2 per cent; Mitchell County $14,193 for 5.7 per cent; Dawson County $7,387 for 7.4 per cent; Gaines County $4,518 for 4.1 per cent; Scurry County $11,250 for 3.4 per cent; and Andrews County $1,237 for 2.5 per cent.

In area I, where this district is located, sales during January stood at $1,128,262 or 8.0 per cent, and in the state the total sales amounted to $15,814,670 or 10.5 per cent of the year's total.

High Accuracy On Car Title Forms
Deputies in the automobile division of the Howard County Tax Collector's office processed 5,206 title applications in the last six months of 1962. Of that number sent to the state office for approval only 3.1 per cent were rejected as incorrect.
Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, has been informed by the state office that the record for accuracy set up in her office is better by 4 point than the state average of 3.5 per cent.
Mrs. LeFevre said that her deputies make a special effort to insure each title application handled here is complete and accurate.

Bipartisanship And Foreign Policy

What degree of bipartisanship in foreign policy can or should be expected in the United States' two-party system, and under what circumstances?

It is characteristic in American politics for the "in" party to appeal for bipartisanship in foreign policy, but more for its support than for participation in its formulation. It is also characteristic for the "out" party to insist more on participation than the support phase of bipartisanship and to claim that its criticisms are "constructive" rather than mere partisan.

In the past, substantial bipartisanship in American foreign policy has been temporarily achieved when this nation was at war or firmly committed to a course of action in international emergency, with the opposition party taken into the councils of the party in power.

World War II bipartisanship did not break down until the Republican party made foreign policy a major issue in the Eisenhower-Stevenson campaign of 1952.

Since then, party differences over the conduct of foreign policy have smothered bipartisanship, except momentarily in crucial moments such as the Berlin and Cuban blockades.

It now appears that international relations have become so interwoven with domestic issues that the concept of bipartisanship in foreign policy has become incompatible with a visible two-party system. Though national unity is imperative on basic objectives and in international emergencies, foreign policy decisions and their execution are legitimate and unavoidable issues for partisan debate.

Such partisan debate, however, should be on a high level, where national interests and security transcend mere political advantage. Partisanship that does not measure up to that standard is likely to backfire. In the democratic determination of foreign policy, responsibility on the part of both parties, rather than bipartisanship, is the crucial need.

No Job For Uncle Sam

It is an astonishing fact, if Executive Secretary John H. Fisher of the Modern Language Association is right, that the complete works of only two American authors are available in reliable editions. It is even more astonishing that these should be two 19th Century poets, Georgia's Sidney Lanier and Massachusetts' Emily Dickinson.

While many literate Americans must share Fisher's concern that the works of America's great writers are going out of print, with no new editions in prospect, fewer will favor his remedy: Putting Uncle Sam in the literature publishing business. He urged a House education subcommittee that President Kennedy's omnibus education bill include funds for providing scholarly editions of the complete works of such authors for use in advanced student centers.

Actually, the works of great American authors are available in one form or another in public and university libraries. And while compiling complete editions of authors whose works are not yet in the public domain would face legal and cost obstacles, they no doubt would be forthcoming from private publishers if the demand were adequate. And the way the paperback boom is devouring material, it should soon get ground to complete sets at popular prices for both students and general readers.

Meanwhile, Fisher's proposal for federally financed publication conjures up visions of a hapless committee of bureaucrats, beleaguered by opinionated critics, dilettantes and assorted bigots, trying to take the measure of American writers' greatness for priorities in spending such a fund. It is hardly a vision calculated to move wary congressmen to reach for the pursestrings.

Marquis Childs The Future Of Another Taft

WASHINGTON — There is magic in the name and that is nowhere more evident than in the instance of one of the New Freshmen in the House of Representatives. Robert Taft Jr. was elected Representative-at-large from Ohio last year by a majority of 621,000.

That is one of the most illustrious names in American political history. The new Representative's grandfather, William Howard, was 27th President of the United States and later Chief Justice. His father, Robert Alphonso Taft, was Republican leader of the Senate and narrowly missed the nomination for President in 1952. An uncle, Charles P. Taft, has been active in Ohio politics and is a leader among moderate and liberal Republicans.

THE NEWEST TAFT has followed in his father's footsteps, staking out a strong political base in Ohio before coming onto the national scene at the age of 45. But with his arrival in Washington the progress is bound to be accelerated. His supporters foresee his running for the Senate next year. They are maneuvering to try to make sure that he has his party's nomination without a contest. This could mean cold-shouldering former Senator John W. Bricker, who is said to be considering an attempted comeback.

ELECTED to the Senate in 1964 and kept ever-increasingly before a national public, Taft could be the Presidential nominee in 1968 when he is 50 years old. This is the private dream of certain Republicans who see Gov. Nelson Rockefeller as the candidate in 1964. Failing to defeat President Kennedy, so the dream is not as far off as it seems. Rockefeller could not aside four years later for the new Taft standing midway between the moderates and the extreme right.

GRANTED that this is a long-distance dream, it has a certain inherent logic. Taft himself is carefully tending to his knitting and if he is looking beyond the Senatorship he has given no sign of it. As he has discovered since coming to Washington, there are penalties as well as great advantages in a dynastic name. One of Taft's committee assignments is education and labor and that committee is now trying to put together a bill providing Federal aid to the schools. Rep.

Edith Green (D., Ore.), taking a lead in this effort, has found occasion to point out to Representative Taft that his father, when he was in the Senate, supported Federal aid to education.

TAFT HAD an analysis prepared of his father's stand on this highly controversial issue. The bill that Senator Taft introduced in 1947 called for Federal assistance on the basis of the need of individual states to augment their own school funds. According to this analysis, Federal funds would have gone to only about a fourth of the states. Last year, as majority leader in the Ohio House of Representatives, Taft introduced a resolution calling on the Federal government to turn back, in lieu of direct aid, one per cent of Federal tax collection to the area from which it was collected.

THIS LAST is sound states-rights doctrine. Those who have followed Taft's career to date say that he is at least as conservative as his father. It is a strong family tradition. His grandfather broke with Theodore Roosevelt when TR led the Bull Moose party. Taft was defeated for re-election.

In 1958 when Taft was running for reelection to the legislature in his home district in Cincinnati the Republicans were in a turmoil over a right-to-work amendment put on the ballot at the insistence of the Chamber of Commerce. Opponents paid for an ad quoting his grandfather, his father and his uncle Charles to show that they would all be against such a measure. Taft's position was that while the amendment should not be on the ballot he did not believe union membership should be required to hold a job.

THE AMENDMENT brought out powerful organized labor opposition and one consequence in that black year for Republicans was Bricker's defeat. Taft says he ran 15,000 ahead of the ticket in conservative Cincinnati.

The term of one of Ohio's two Democratic Senators, Stephen M. Young, expires next year. While he spoke about being a strong one-term Senator, implying he would not seek re-election, Young apparently intends to run again and judging from reports from the state he would be the strongest candidate. At 74 he would have the advantage of running on the Kennedy ticket.

BETWEEN the flourishing Kennedy dynasty and the Taft dynasty are many contrasts. Of the four Taft sons of the present generation only two are in public life. William Howard III, Ambassador to Ireland under President Eisenhower, is now a career foreign service officer. Horace is an associated professor of physics at Yale and Lloyd is with a New York investment firm.

Cool, calm and collected are the adjectives that seem to apply to Robert Taft. Personable, intensely hard-working, with the asset of his name he has a long reach.

TRYING TO WEAR THE SAME PANTS

Only One JFK Plan Has Bright Future

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy in the first two months of 1963 has handed Congress four major programs. All are controversial. And the fate of all but one is dubious.

These are the four: A tax cut and tax revisions, medical care for the aged, federal aid to education, and Thursday, civil rights. A tax cut (but not revisions) alone seems to have a bright future.

In each case Kennedy wrapped a mob of proposals—24 in the case of education, 36 in the case of medical care—under one big jumbo label. Because of this, not one has a chance to go through as he requested.

AT BEST Congress would pick, sort and choose. Even at that he will have to fight. It's too soon to know how much of that he's willing to do. But he has already backtracked on one: the tax program.

While the tax cut part is aimed at eventually reducing everyone's taxes, the revision part would force some people to lose some benefits they have now. This would affect different groups in different ways. They squawked in a hurry. If Kennedy tried to insist cuts and revisions must both go through, and be handled together, his chance for either might disappear. So he bowed, indicating this week a willingness to drop the revision part.

Since tax cuts are like lollipops to voters, and would give people more money to spend, the economy might prosper. For these reasons there probably will be a tax cut.

THE KIND of federal aid to education suggested by Kennedy is an across-the-board program from elementary and high schools all the way up to colleges, graduate schools, libraries, and adult education.

This wrapped up a variety of proposals that didn't get anywhere last year.

And, just as expected, the one suggesting federal aid to public elementary and high schools—not parochial schools—rekindled last year's flames in short order.

A Roman Catholic spokesman said any program leaving out parochial schools is unfair. This was the religious issue raised by Catholic leaders last year and last year the bill fell on its face.

Kennedy takes the position that federal aid to parochial schools—even though he is a Catholic himself—is unconstitutional. The Catholic hierarchy argues to the contrary.

SO THERE is no reason to think the program has a better chance this year than last.

And once more in his medical care for the aged offering—almost the identical twin of last year's highly unsuccessful program—Kennedy ran head-on into the American Medical Association which was his big stumbling block in 1962.

The sorest point is the one calling for hospital insurance for the aged through Social Security. There is no room in the program for private or voluntary health insurance plans except as additional insurance.

LAST YEAR Kennedy's medical care bill was strangled miserably in Congress.

But the proposal with the most built-in heat, because of the intense Southern opposition, was the one on civil rights. The main emphasis here was to help Negroes vote and help the process of desegregating schools.

The non-Southern members of both parties in Congress, because they so far outnumber the Southerners, could swamp the opposition to civil rights legislation, if they wanted to. They have seldom wanted to.

To Your Good Health Mumps Can Cause Sterility

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Can mumps cause sterility? Can anything be done for such cases?—MRS. M.C.

Yes, mumps can sometimes cause sterility. Once it has happened, nothing can be done about it.

So naturally it's wise to know enough about mumps to avoid any such serious result.

Most of us have mumps somewhere between the ages of seven and 15. Children tolerate the disease fairly well, adults on the other hand may be mightily sick from it. Oh, I've known of light adult cases, but that's mostly good luck. In general the adult is sicker and has a much higher risk of complications, such as the inflammation "going down" and damaging the testes. This is the phase of mumps which can cause sterility.

But let's keep in mind that it can happen in children, too. Not as often, but it can, and that is why, although mumps is a common childhood disease, it should be taken seriously.

Red rest is the most important single aspect of treatment. Let a youngster with mumps go gallivanting around, getting himself over-tired, and perhaps chilled, and you are inviting trouble.

Other areas to which the infection can spread include the breast, ovaries, pancreas and lining of the brain. Middle ear infection can also occur.

The disease itself is caused by a virus—one of many for which we have no preventive. However, the severity and duration can be lessened by giving mumps convalescent serum at the time of exposure or in the first week of the disease.

Many adults don't remember whether they had mumps as children. For such young adults, if a case of mumps crops up, it is advisable to have a skin test which will disclose whether they are immune—meaning that they HAVE had it.

Sterility can result only if both testes have been involved. If one remains healthy, fertility will continue.

Other virus infections—measles, flu, etc.—may also cause inflammation of the testes, sometimes with serious consequences.

Dear Dr. Molner: I know a girl who says she is pregnant and her mother is making her take "shots" to terminate it. Are there "shots" that can do this?—A.C.C.

No, there aren't.

Dear Dr. Molner: In writing about "C.M.'s" kidney stones, you suggested using foods high in oxalates rarely or sparingly. What foods should be avoided?

My urologist has stressed the necessity of keeping the urine dilute, as you did, and also has told me to cut down on oxalates—P.M.W.

Foods rich in oxalates are certain greens as spinach and endive, figs, plums, strawberries, chocolate products, and tea. These can be left out of a diet without great hardship. Cereals and meats contain a little oxalate but hardly enough to be of concern.

Some stones consist of calcium oxalate and in that case restriction of items too high in calcium makes sense. But for any kind of stone, dilution—drinking lots of water—is a must.

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Molner's helpful booklet, "How To Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Geometrical Geopolitics

THEOREM: That the cold war may be ended, and communism defeated, by splitting the world between the United States and the Soviet Union.

AXIOMS:

1. No one, including even many Communists, really likes communism after living under the system awhile.

2. Everyone, including even our bitterest critics, likes the American system, particularly if they live under it awhile.

3. Free men have shown they will fight when the chips are down, despite apparent weaknesses in peacetime.

4. People's armies have shown an embarrassing tendency to surrender en masse if they know they're going over to the right side, and even secret police have shown a liking for jumping over Berlin walls and crawling under iron curtains.

5. Any division of the world between two world powers based on geography alone would gain nothing, since that is approximately the situation which now obtains.

6. A division which would present, forcibly, both the American and the Soviet ways of life to each nation would rather quickly result in a definite choice on the part of each nation's population.

METHOD:

1. Divide each nation strictly according to population, resources, industry, etc., ignoring the geographical factor.

2. Flip a coin, after the division, to determine which half goes to the United States, which to the Soviet Union.

3. Divide the nations one at a time, starting with the smallest and weakest, moving up to the second-rate powers. (There may be some difficulty with Red China and President De Gaulle.)

4. As each half-nation falls under our wing, work toward the establishment of a situation resembling that existing now in West Germany. (The Soviets, of course, will be establishing a situation which will resemble the present one in East Germany.)

5. After all the world has thus been divided, begin a mutual withdrawal from each nation, in the order in which they have been divided, seal off the outer borders, and let the two halves of each nation decide among themselves which system will be chosen.

6. After the world has 'chosen, either the United States or the Soviet Union will adopt the victorious system, according to the agreement.

PROOF: Begin with Axiom 5, to establish understanding between the two major powers. Throw in Axiom 6 to force the Soviet Union to go along with the plan or make liars out of themselves. Beginning with Method 1, work up to Method 4.

Multiply Method 4 by Axioms 1 and 2. This moves the nth power to our side of the equation.

Next, divide Method 5 by Axioms 3 and 4. This automatically activates the nth power.

Working through Method 6, we discover that our side of the equation has been raised to the nth power, and the Communist side of the equation has been cancelled to zero.

Last Of The Girl-Watchers

It is one woman's opinion that the world is gloomy enough without solemn forecasts that American women, by the year 2000, will be as shapeless as a sack of sugar. With her essential measurements in the neighborhood of 38-38-38. Or, possibly, 38-38-46, allowing for middle-aged or stenographer's spread.

This depressing prophecy has just been issued by several manufacturers of women's foundation garments, which is delicate, lingerie English for girdle, corset and brassiere. "By the year 2000 our women are going to be square," this group says. "Women's waists are moving out faster than their hips and busts. Thus by 2000 A.D. the average American girl will end up in a straight line, 5 feet 10 inches tall."

AND, IF THIS prediction comes true, a cinch to play fallback for the Green Bay Packers? Imagine a race of Amazons fore and aft, up and down built like Jayne Mansfield from her terrace! It is just lucky that the American woman's hips and bust are not moving out with the inexorable pace of her waist, or Gargantua would at last have a mate worthy of swinging with him through the trees.

At the moment it seems impossible that the most famous figures in the world—38-22-36—should ever pass away, indeed, that their life expectancy is less than 40 years. Yet, before we begin to scoff, let us remember that the 18-inch waist of our grandmothers and great-grandmothers lives on today only in Scarlet O'Hara.

MOST OF US have been reared in the belief that only a hundred years ago the 18-inch waist was SOP, with any measurement in excess of that regarded as gross if not indelicate. I was brought up to believe that in Grandma's day the proper waist measurement of a belle was the handspan of her beau. And Grandma stood for no cynical nonsense that the masculine handspan was larger in her day than in mine.

Grandmother and my mother, too, grew up with the benefit of whalebone and without the doubtful blessings of vitamins and milk, every hour on the hour. The modern woman would as soon encase herself in whalebone as in the iron maiden. If fact, she would detect little difference.

"FREE FORM" is the most significant development in modern art and modern woman. To the latter, emancipation has meant the vote and the chain mail, cinched in with corset strings, that kept her in great abash as long as she could gasp for breath. The emancipated woman checked her corset with Scott Fitzgerald and hasn't been the same since. Let it be said that she's great for the shape she's in. But it isn't the same shape as that of her immediate maternal ancestors.

As for the vitamins and milk (before the drug and dairy industries fall on me like a ton of bricks), they are obviously the primary instruments in raising up a race of giants in the U.S.A. I have nothing against either, except that continuous addition to both has surely done away with the 18-inch waist, threatens the 22-inch cincher and may, in all likelihood, produce a "square" woman in 2000 A.D.

IN MY SALAD DAYS there were no such emporiums as "tall girl" shops, catering to the girl who stands five feet nine inches to six feet four inches in her stretch nylons. And no comparable shops for men. Now there is scarcely a community of any size (and no pun intended) that does not boast such specialty stores.

One thing is certain: If 2000 A.D. produces the square woman, it will provide a corresponding number of masculine squares to go with her. There is certainly no visual evidence that man's waistline is steady at 32-to-34 inches. If there is any sex that is spreading at the middle with happy abandon it is "his," and never mind "hers." It may come to pass that the girl watchers of this generation were the last ever to have it so good.

We Should Tell World About Reds

WASHINGTON—Tens of millions of dollars are appropriated annually to world opinion. Yet, when a golden opportunity comes to put the Moscow aggressor on the spot, it is deliberately ignored.

The defense minister of the Soviet government, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, made a startling speech last Friday to an audience of 6,000 in the Kremlin palace. Seated beside him, nodding approval, was Premier Khrushchev. Mr. Malinovsky said:

"WE WOULD LIKE to warn the aggressive circles of the United States that an attack on the Cuban Republic would mean a third world war."

But who sent into Cuba those offensive missiles and weapons, together with at least 17,000 troops and technicians? No satisfactory explanation of the presence of this hostile armament and forces to operate H has been made by Moscow.

SHOULD THE American government continue to remain silent, or should it present the facts comprehensively to the world and formally accuse the Soviet government of a threatened aggression against the United States and the other countries of the Western Hemisphere? Does the latest Soviet declaration mean that the United States must give up all plans to take any action against Cuba, even when American lives and property may be endangered, or when evidence is uncovered that Cuba is being used as a base to export guerrillas and arms to other Latin-American countries to start revolutions there?

IF ANY government is guilty of threatening to start a third world war, it is the Soviet regime, which is still active in trying to overthrow governments in the Western Hemisphere. The whole world has an acute interest, of course, in the effects of any conflict between the United States and the Soviet Union. A direct threat, however, now has been made by the Soviet government that it plans to engage in a world war even if the United States seeks merely to protect its own interests in this hemisphere.

World opinion could certainly be mobilized by a statement of all the facts showing what a dangerous step toward aggression was taken only a few months ago by the Soviet Union when its missiles were sent to Cuba. The Russian people themselves would understand the nature of the blunder made by their rulers if the facts were emphasized again and again so that they would inevitably penetrate the Iron Curtain.

PUBLIC OPINION is a tremendously powerful factor in international affairs. It is the principal weapon of moral force. And when the facts can be convincingly presented to show exactly what the Soviets threatened to do in Cuba, it seems unfortunate that a "warning" such as the minister of defense made in Moscow last week is brushed aside and no public reply is made.

The U. S. Information Agency, which has the task of distributing America's story throughout the world, can hardly be blamed. It is told what to say by the President or by the Secretary of State. If the official word is to ignore a speech such as Mr. Malinovsky made, the USIA will remain muted.

THE MYSTERY is why nothing has been said in rebuttal by any high official in the government here. President Kennedy was at Palm Beach over the week end, but he must have read the news dispatches. He could have set in motion the whole process of reply-making. He could have taken cognizance of the Russian threat in a formal statement which might have given in detail the steps taken by the Soviet Union in the last few months that constitute a threat of world conflict.

The Soviets have given the world a dramatic example of potential aggression.

IS THE UNITED STATES government to be intimidated by such threats? Or will it proceed to denounce the Moscow statement and put the blame for any future conflict where it belongs—on the shoulders of the men who deliberately sent Cuba missiles and bombers capable of carrying nuclear weapons to the United States from the island, only 90 miles away from our southeastern shores? Congress might do better to debate the failure of the White House and State Department to put America's story across to the world than to spend so much time on internal bickering.

Altrusians Hear Of Professions

Public affairs chairman, Mrs. C. R. Rhoads, presented the Thursday program for Altrusians gathered for lunch at Cokers Restaurant.

She introduced the speakers Mrs. J. B. Apple and Mrs. C. O. Nalley, who talked in regard to their professions. Mrs. Nalley told of the lengthy period of training and apprenticeship to become a licensed mortician. She pointed out the requirements, as set forth by the state, and the reports expected from the aspiring individuals.

Mrs. Apple, after explaining the operations of a credit bureau under state and national control, read a humorous letter concerning a young woman's credit problems.

The concluding portion of the program, given by Mrs. Rhoads, was the last will and testament of J. J. Burns, a pioneer of West Texas, whose romantic story is told in letters on file at the Howard County Court House.

Mrs. H. D. Cowden presided for the meeting which was attended by about 27 members.

The next meeting, March 14, will be a business session for the election of officers. To be voted upon are Mrs. Hart Phillips for president; Mrs. Rhoads, vice president; Miss Kay Thornton, recording secretary; Mrs. Ed Black, corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. S. Knowles, treasurer; and Mrs. E. B. Martin, director.

They'll Be Bowling For Cash And Glory

MEMPHIS (P)—The noisy spring festival that involves some 25,000 women in an athletic scramble for cash and glory opens here April 4th.

It's the annual National tournament, sponsored by the Women's WIBC, which expects to put up a prize pot of about $150,000.

The huge national is the most democratic of sporting events. Any woman who bowled at least 12 games in a WIBC-approved league by Dec. 1 was eligible.

Deadline for entering, Jan. 10. Thunder in the 48 lane bowling palace, a dream in cream, gold and blue, will spread over eight weeks. Another tournament, the WIBC's Queens Championship, will follow.

Easy requirements and the relatively painless entry fee of $6 aim at bringing out the modest amateurs' backbone of a flourishing business.

"Our biggest job is selling those new bowlers who sort of flinch away when they hear the word 'National,'" says Freda Botkin, who handles tournament promotions.

Over the 46 years of the event, the message has gotten home with such success that amateurs now trek to the National from places like Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico.

"Many of them save all year long for this," says Mrs. Botkin, approvingly.

A basic attraction is you never know when lightning will strike in bowling.

A hot streak long enough to cover three to nine games can make a tournament tiger out of an unheralded tabby.

Nine games got you through the team, doubles and singles.

"Take one of the big winners last year," recalls Mrs. Botkin. "She had been doing poorly for months. There were times when her team could cheerfully have killed her. Then she hits the National and bang! everything clicks."

Another thing about bowling: Any amateur who wins gets the cash. Unlike other sports, there is no question about whether an amateur may accept money.

The National will be loaded with most of the big name professionals. But so many tiger-backs have turned up no pro has every won this event.

Any pro who wants in the five-day Queens that opens May 6 must first bowl in the National. The Queens carries a cash pot of $17,127.

FIRST SOUTHERN TOURNEY
The bulk of out-of-town amateurs in the National try to make their trips and do their stuff during weekend periods. This will be the first time the tournament has been held in the South.

Action in the team, doubles and singles usually means a contestant must remain at the scene at least overnight.

Many stay around considerably longer, particularly the delegates to the three-day WIBC convention, opening April 29, and those who make the trip their vacation.

The ladies, with competence determined by league average, compete in two divisions. For the first time, separation of the hotshots and the gutter rollers by division also will extend to doubles and singles play.

About 1,430 women will be in there swinging each day.

Has Appeal

Actress Georgia Moll, who will soon be seen in her first leading-lady role in an American film, Warner Bros. "Not On Your Life," talks about attracting the opposite sex.

Sex Appeal Is More Than Matter Of Dress

By LYDIA LANE
NEW YORK — Sex is not a trick put together with low-cut blouses or tight skirts," Georgia Moll, that dark-eyed beauty from Italy, said in surprisingly clear English. "Clothes like that may be a symbol, but that's all."

Georgia was in New York for Warner Bros. promoting her latest picture, "Not On Your Life."

"Sex is an attraction between men and women. It is expressed by your whole being and by your attitude toward yourself and others. Sometimes it is a gift — a kind of animal magnetism, but it must be accompanied with discrimination if it is to have meaning."

"Do you think a woman can learn to have sex appeal?" I asked.

"I certainly do," she replied.

Home Management Club Topic At Forsan Session

Four enemies of energy are frustration, impatience and worry, according to Mrs. DeLaine Crawford, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Crawford made the statement before members of the Forsan Home Demonstration Club when they met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lois Yearbrough. She told the women to think a problem through before taking action on it, plan the action before beginning it.

The devotion was given by the hostess, followed by roll call which was answered with a song by the club members. Refreshments were served to six members and Mrs. Crawford.

Submarines, Ships Given Gideon Bibles

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—Ships coming out of Newport News, from Polaris submarines to Japanese merchantmen, are linked by at least one thing in common.

Each leaves this port city with copies of the Gideon Bible. It began a few years ago when the States Steamship Lines specified that the captains' quarters of four passenger-cargo vessels under construction here be supplied with Bibles.

"Knowing I was a Gideon, one of the company officials referred the States Lines' request to me," said R. R. Stall, supervisor in the hull design training department of the Newport News Ship Building and Drydock Co.

Deluxe editions were provided for the captains' quarters and hotel copies were put in the 12 passenger staterooms of each ship. Stall said that States Lines now advertises, "Gideon Bible in each stateroom."

Since that time Bibles have been put on every ship coming out of the yard here, from the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise to the latest Polaris submarine.

Another member of the Gideons here, Lloyd Weaver, has taken it on himself to see that bilingual Testaments are put aboard Japanese merchant ships when they visit the port, said Stall.

Last year 370 bilingual Japanese Testaments were given away by the local Gideons to Japanese ships. Stall said that this year the Gideons hope to present 500 more copies to visiting Japanese seamen.

Counsel For Couples—NEW YORK (AP)—The American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry, observing its 25th anniversary, has launched a full-scale marriage counseling department, both to train doctors, lawyers, ministers and social workers in helping husbands and wives in trouble and also to provide direct counseling to couples with problems.

TRUE GREATNESS, AS ILLUSTRATED IN THE EXPERIENCE AND TEACHINGS OF CHRIST

By N. SPEER JONES
CHRIST'S UNIQUE combination of divinity and humanity is nowhere more sharply set forth than in today's lesson, wherein Mark relates in immediate succession the Transfiguration of Christ and His very human healing of a demon-ridden boy.

Our story opens six days after the concluding episode of last week's lesson, Peter's confession of Christ in Caesarea Philippi. Partly for this reason, scholars feel quite sure that the Transfiguration took place on a mountain called Mt. Hermon, which is just six days' journey from Caesarea Philippi. It is a peak ten thousand feet high, the great northern landmark of Palestine, and visible from every part of Palestine.

For this event in His life Christ chose as witnesses only the "inner three" of His disciples, those closest to Him and significant compared to their own leader, Christ. One of the great purposes of the Transfiguration was to provide the apostles after Christ's crucifixion with some solace and hope before His resurrection. Immediately after this magnificent display of His divinity, Christ literally and figuratively descends the mountain to the valley of very ordinary men—one of whom desperately seeks His help in curing his afflicted son. The importance of this occasion is heightened by the fact that this particular act of healing—at which the disciples had tried and failed—depended entirely on faith, not at all on power. Thus Christ has come from the most exalted to the most humble form of action, prayer.

This is the true range of greatness, as illustrated by Christ. The remainder of the chapter is devoted to another prophecy of Christ's coming death and resurrection (Mark 9:30-32) and to five great teachings given by Him to His disciples. These include an explanation of true greatness (33-35), in which He reiterates what He Himself has just proven, that the greatest makes himself the servant of others. The other teachings are receiving children in Christ's name (36-37), the fact that those who are not against Christ are for Him (38-41), the dreadfulness of hell (42-48) and the very difficult teaching about salt (49-50).

Regarding the latter, salt is used to mean a preservative from spiritual corruption, just as real salt is used as a preservative from physical corruption, in pickling, etc. This preserving "salt" for Christ's followers will be the fire of self-sacrifice.

"BAPTISM IS A BURIAL"
Baptism is an immersion. It is a burial. The Bible teaches this in Col. 2:12 "Buried with him in baptism, wherein also you are risen with him." Those who are "risen" are those who were first buried in baptism. It is taught in Rom. 6:4-5. "Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death, that like as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life." The new life follows the resurrection with him. The New Life is the Christian life, the resurrection is being raised from the burial, the burial is the baptism. These are facts you cannot afford to pigeonhole. Even this minute many are shelving and tableting and deferring these truths, but these truths are conclusive and irrefutable, they do not change, they are in the word and in the judgment, we will be judged by the word, John 12:48.
In 95 A.D. Barnabas said, "We go down into the water full of pollutions, but come up again, bringing forth fruit." In 144 A.D. Justin Martyr said, "Then we bring them to some place where there is water, there they are washed in water." In 375 A.D. Ambrose said, "Thou wast asked, Dost thou believe? Thou sayest, I do, and wast immersed." These men were right, but right only because they agreed with the Bible. The man who agrees with the Bible is on solid ground, to disagree with the sacred word puts one in the dangerous realm, neither opinions nor biotory are in the word of life; but the truth only, let us obey it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

What's Inside?

WHAT MAGIC INGREDIENTS DO THESE BOTTLES CONTAIN? Do they hold harmful, injurious poisons? Or are they filled with healing medicines and vitamins? Will they inflict pain, or will they cure disease?

But what does it matter? If the contents are bad, we can pour them out.

But the minds of children is an entirely different matter. A small human being can be filled with selfishness and hate, or he can be filled with sincerity and love. Unfortunately, evil is more quickly dispelled from a glass bottle than from the soul of a child. For in the human mind bad thoughts can grow, and as time goes on, it is more difficult to replace them with truth and love.

That is why it is so important to instill within our children a sense of right and wrong at an early age. Of course, by example, "you" can be a tremendous influence. But you need the help of your church—the wisdom of Christ's teachings. With them, you can fill your heart with the essential ingredients for a happy and fruitful life.

Spoon Enters Guilty Plea, Gets 20-Year Prison Term

Thomas Spoon, who was apprehended a few minutes after he had staged a holdup-robbery of Frager's Men's store two months ago, this morning was sentenced to serve 20 years in the state penitentiary. He pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery by assault in 118th District Court.

Judge Ralph Caton accepted the recommendation of Gil Jones, district attorney, that Spoon be given a 20-year prison term. He waived time and was sentenced. He was credited with the 65 days he has served in the county jail since his arrest.

Russell Leggett, who was one of the ringleaders in a burglary ring which worked more than a score of towns in Texas including Big Spring, was sentenced to serve six years in prison.

He pleaded guilty to the indictment here accusing him of burglary. The sentence will run concurrently with other sentences the man has already received or will receive. He still has a number of places to go to answer charges. He was returned to Big Spring on a bench warrant. At least two other cities have hold orders for him.

Robert J. Patrick, accused of felony theft, was given a three year sentence and the sentence was then suspended.

Rebellious Kurds Are Ready To Fight Again

By ALEX EFTY

NORADIN, Northern Iraq (AP) - Mullah Mustafa Barzani, leader of the Kurdish revolt in northern Iraq, says he will order his warriors back into battle against the new Iraqi regime unless the tribesmen receive self rule quickly.

Speaking in Russian, the chief said in an interview at his headquarters in the mountains of Northern Iraq that the overthrow of Premier Abdul Karim Kassem Feb. 8 was the direct result of the 18-month Kurdish war against the Baghdad regime.

A similar, if not worse, fate will befall anyone else who opposes the establishment of an autonomous Kurdish regime, "the Moscow-educated leader said."

Barzani, 60, said he ordered a cease-fire when Kassem was overthrown and killed, in order to give the new Baghdad government a chance to declare its intentions on the Kurdish issue.

"I gave them 10 days. Those days are over. I am not prepared to wait indefinitely," said Barzani, fondling a long Kurdish dagger.

Barzani expressed impatience over the delay in getting word from his special emissary, Jalal Talibani, who went to Baghdad last week to negotiate with leaders of the new government.

(Talibani said in Baghdad Thursday that he was hopeful that an agreement with the new government will be reached "within this week.")

Barzani scoffed at a suggestion made last week by the new government's minister of state, Hazem Jawad, that the Kurdish question should be examined by a conference representing all political parties and racial groups in Iraq.

"All that is needed is for the government to recognize the Kurdish people and give them the right to administer their own affairs," he said. "Then we can go ahead and have a conference."

This correspondent and AP photographer James Pringle journeyed for six days to reach Barzani's headquarters and return.

We traveled by auto, by tractor, and finally on horseback.

Except for the main towns and half dozen beleaguered Iraqi army garrisons, all the highlands north of a line from Kirkuk to Sulaimania appear to be firmly in Kurdish hands.

The Kurdish Democratic party, headed by Barzani, administers several thousand square miles through representatives in each village and township.

Barzani wore Kurdish national costume—a cross-button jacket with wide bell-bottomed pantaloons of grey striped hand-woven wool. A rifle lay on the window sill, and he had two bandoliers of rifle bullets strapped around his waist and a holstered revolver.

A red turban rested jauntily on his head.

We spoke Russian, which Barzani speaks fluently, having spent 12 years in exile in the Soviet Union.

Asked about the strength of his army, Barzani replied: "We are stronger than ever now. I have not counted the soldiers as there are two million Kurds in Iraq and all our people could be soldiers if we need them."

John D. Nixon Jr., Coahoma, was taken by River ambulance to Howard County Hospital Foundation at 10 a. m. today suffering from head and facial cuts following a two-car collision on the south access road of IS 20, east of the Cosden refinery. Driver of the second car was Branford F. Bulls, Kermit.

Hospital attendants said Nixon, a laboratory technician for Cosden, was not seriously injured. Bulls, a Cabot safety man, received minor bruises and was not hospitalized. Both vehicles were heavily damaged.

Highway Patrolman Jimmy Parks, who investigated the accident, said Bulls was driving east on the access road and Nixon driving west.

Six minor accidents were investigated by Big Spring police Thursday. There were no injuries.

Locations of collisions, and driver's names, were: 10th and 11th, Tenth and Runnels, A. C. Bailo, 709 San Antonio, whose car was parked, and unknown driver who left the scene; 700 block of West Third, Donald Lee Rich, Coahoma and Mrs. Paul Sawyer Snyder, Marcy and Airbase Road, Doyle Ray Burnett, 606 San Antonio, and Delmer Ray Simpson, 603 NE 10th, James Flores DeLaGarza, 108 NW 4th, and Earlie Griffith, 1001 NW 4th, Stadium and Kenney, Ronnie Wade Dale S, 2030 Main and Dorothy B. Trantham, 1519 Stadium, rear of Ellis Homes, car ran into ditch and driver left.

Enrollment Unchanged

Student population of Big Spring public schools was virtually unchanged on the last reporting period. There were 7,424 students enrolled, compared to 7,420 the previous week.

Elementary grades, with a total of 4,400, showed a gain of six students. Secondary schools, at 2,964, were down two and special education showed no change with an enrollment of 160 pupils.

The count by school was: Airport 470, up three; Bauer 502, down one; Boydston 531, up five; Cedar Crest 297, down six; College Heights 519, down one; Morrison 270, up three; Lakeview 206, no change; Marcy 540, down one; Park Hill 280, down four; Washington 785, up three; Goliad 911, up three; Lakeview Junior High 67, down one; Runnels 739, up two; and Senior High 1,147, down six.

Work Order Issued For Pipeline

Work order for the construction of a 51.7 mile pipeline from Lake J. B. Thomas in southwestern Scurry County to near Silver Community in northern Coke County has been issued.

R. H. Fulton of Lubbock, the pipeline contractor, will confine his work in the initial stages to boring highway crossings. Under an agreement with the district the contractor will not begin preparing right of way or stringing pipe until March 18. No fence posts are to be cut prior to that time, said O. H. Ivie, assistant general manager for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, which is constructing the line to serve Sun Oil Company's waterflood project in the North Jameson field of Coke County.

E. V. Spence, general manager of CRMW, said that 98 per cent of the right of way had been secured. He expected the remainder to be cleared within a matter of days.

"We appreciate the understanding and the cooperation of the people along the pipeline route," he said. "We have been able to effect amicable agreements in every case without any need to consider condemnation."

Target date for completing the project is July 1, 1963, and in fact Fulton has a $1,000 per day penalty after that date. He has his pipe on order now, 21.7 miles of it 24-inch for the north section of the line and the remainder in 18-inch dimension. His contract is for $2,041,475.

Spence said that the $2,750,000 revenue bonds to finance the project are in Austin for approval of the attorney general. Validation by the First National Bank in Fort Worth is expected by March 15 when the bonds will be delivered.

Wants New Car

Howard County Commissioners have advertised for bids to supply the sheriff's department with a new automobile. The bids will be opened at 10 a. m. March 18. The commission wants to buy a 1963 four-door sedan with an eight cylinder engine. There is no trade-in planned.

Jefferson And Denton Vie In Headline Game

By The Associated Press
Dallas Jefferson and Denton clash at Dallas Friday night in the big game of the week—and possibly for the season—in Texas schoolboy basketball.

Jefferson's defending Class AAAA champions, winners of 19 in a row and with a 30-2 record, take on one of two teams to beat them this campaign. Denton tumbled the Dallas quintet 77-73 in overtime last December. Previously, Jefferson defeated Denton twice.

The AAAA teams that play in the state tournament. Class AAA also is deciding its tournament teams with head-to-head clashes except in one region. Dumas, the state champion, plays in a tournament at Lubbock Friday and Saturday. The Dentons meet Graham in the opening round. Seminole and Lamesa clash in the other game. The winners meet Saturday afternoon. Three other games will produce three teams for the state tournament. Hurst Bell and Kilgore play at Commerce and South San Antonio meets San Marcos at Seguin Friday night. Brenham tackles Clear Creek at Houston Saturday night.

The other team holding a decision over Jefferson is Jeff Davis of Houston, which won 46-42 but isn't in the race for the title. It is generally conceded that the winner of the Jefferson-Denton game will be a topheavy favorite for the championship next week at Austin.

San Angelo plays Fort Worth Haltom at San Angelo and Victoria meets Burbank at San Antonio in other Class AAAA playoff games Friday night. Spring Branch and Beaumont French tangle at Houston Saturday night. These four games will produce

Don Robbins plans now to start spring football workouts at the local high school May 6. That means the Steers will play their annual game against the Exes the night of Saturday, May 25. Most of the District 2-AAAA schools will have their spring drills out of the way by that time, so all the 2-AAAA head coaches will probably be here to watch the Longhorns wind up their spring toil.

Robbins is already developing migranes, worrying about how to stop Ross Montgomery, Midland High's huge fullback, who has two years of high school athletic eligibility left.

Montgomery played a major role in Midland's upset victory over Big Spring last fall. He's already bigger than Mike Love, Odessa Permian's all-state performer last fall.

Montgomery probably never will have the native talent Love possesses but he's big enough to deal misery to any opponent. Before he completes his football eligibility at Midland, he's likely to weigh close to 250 pounds.

Big Spring's fullback next fall is apt to weigh no more than 155 or 160 pounds.

Incidentally, another Midland backfield star, Bill Sallee, reportedly has been cleared to start track workouts next week.

Bill missed spring football training due to an injury. He cracked three vertebrae in a football game last fall and recovery has been undeniably slow. If the bones knit back as they should, he'll be as good as new next fall, a fact that may cause a few more shudders around the league.

Odessa High wound up three weeks of spring grid drills last week, at which time the Reids led the Whites in an intra-squad game, 20-20.

Any Reed, Chuck Clark, Gene Crawford and Sidney Robin reportedly gladdened as ball carriers in the game. Billy Parks passed for two touchdowns in the contest.

Coach Bradley Mills of the Broncos compares Parks favorably with Ronnie Stanley, a boy he helped coach in football who went on to become a star at Baylor.

Big Spring is losing a family boasting two football players of junior high school age—to Odessa, of all places. One of the boys weighs 194 pounds.

Billy Paul Thomas, one of this area's best softball pitchers, has shed approximately 25 pounds since last summer.

NBC-TV reports that the Rose Bowl football game was the highest rated sports attraction of the year—attracting more viewers than any one World Series game or the NFL championship playoff.

An estimated 53 million patrons watched the thrilling contest between USC and Wisconsin.

Starting this year, the Masters Golf tournament is adopting a new set of eligibility rules.

Past U.S. Open, National Amateur and PGA titlists will have their eligibility limited to ten years from the date of their championships.

The lone exceptions to the rule will be Freddy McLeod, 81, Jock Hutchinson, 79.

McLeod won the Open in 1908 while Hutchinson was the PGA titlist in 1929.

HC Track Team To Ft. Worth

Coach L. L. (Red) Lewis and his HCJC tracksters left today for Fort Worth, where they hoped to get in a light workout for Saturday's gigantic Southwestern Recreation track and field meet.

The Hawks, seeing action for the first time this season out of doors, will be pitted against university freshmen, as well as other junior college entries.

No team champion in any division will be recognized in the meet.

A total of 2,000 boys are entered in all divisions of the 40th annual Southwestern meet. The high school boys will run several preliminaries and five final field events today but the other entries do not see action until Saturday morning.

The Hawks are due to be especially tough in the field events and the mile relay. Don Carter will give the locals added power in the sprints, too.

Boys who made the trip with Lewis, in addition to Carter, include Tommy Wise, Milton Marrow, Larry Mauldin, Michael Hill, Gary Walker, Kenneth Windham, Tommy Yarbro, Ronnie Overton, Lewis White and Bruce Teagarden.

The Hawks will be quartered at the Loring Hotel.

Local Linksters Play In Tourney

Big Spring is one of 11 teams entered in the Sweetwater High School Invitational Golf tournament, which started at the Sweetwater Country Club this morning and continues through Saturday.

Neil Robinson, in the first three off the No. One tee, David McCullah, Jody Thompson, Norman Patterson and Butch Bradford were the Big Spring representatives in the field.

Other schools competing for individual and team honors are Borger, Lubbock, Monterey, Midland High, Pampa, Snyder, Breckenridge, Lubbock High, Plainview, Andrews, and the host school.

Steerettes Win In Tournament

LAMESA — Big Spring defeated the Lamesa reserves in a first round game of the Lamesa Girls Volleyball tournament here Thursday evening, 15-3, 15-3.

Janice Cobb was the most effective scorer for the Steerettes. She counted 11 points in the first game.

Big Spring plays Plains in the second round at 3 p.m. today. Ten teams are entered in the tournament.

Runnels Splits Two With Travis

Runnels Junior High defeated Snyder Travis, 36-32, in a ninth grade girls' volleyball game here Thursday night after the eighth graders had lost, 63-41.

In the ninth grade play, Irma Trevino had 15 points for the Yearlings. In the eighth grade bout, Julia Vaughn and Gloria Correa each tallied seven for Runnels.

Runnels visits Colorado City for a contest next Thursday.

Goliad Junior High won two girls' volleyball decisions from Snyder Lamar here Thursday evening.

The eighth graders, coached by Margo Lauderdale, prevailed, 15-8, 15-5. Sally Wade and Pauline Womack were very effective at the scoring line for Goliad.

Jayhawks Turn Back Amarillo, 88 To 78

Although they had to walk on eggs through the last ten minutes of the game, HCJC's Jayhawks breezed by Amarillo College, 88-78, in a Western Conference basketball game here Thursday night.

The Hawks led virtually all the way but there was a time here when it seemed they would finish the game with less than five players on the court.

Ernest Turner, who went full throttle for 27 points, fouled out with 2:41 to go in the game and two other locals, Conroy Lacy and Walter Carter, each had been charged with four fouls when the end came.

Lacy played a whole of a game. He gunned in 23 points for the Big Springers while Carter tossed in 19 after a slow start and was tough on the boards.

HCJC built up a 44-39 advantage at half time. The clubs, oddly enough, equally divided their point aggregate in each half.

The Amarilloans didn't find a very tall team but they proved to be a bunch of scorpions, deadly with the whiplash drive and their outside shooting, as well.

Little Bob Dibley, a standout for Amarillo for two seasons, led the visitors in scoring with 20 points. Toby Hall followed with 15.

HCJC built up its biggest lead with 11:15 to go in the game, at which time the score was 67-54. Amarillo had cut its disadvantage to 79-74 with three minutes to go but the Hawks again spurred to ice away the verdict.

The win was the 24th of the season for HCJC, compared to seven losses. Within the conference, HCJC is 40-5.

Carter went over the 500-mark in scoring. His 19 gave him 505 for the year. His total, no doubt, would have been much higher but for the fact that he was injured in the HCJC Christmas tournament and missed four games.

Turner can hit the 500-point mark with a good night against San Angelo Monday night. His 27

Heyman Is Named Player Of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Art Heyman of Duke was named today as the 1963 college basketball player of the year by The Associated Press.

The 6-foot-5 senior from Rockville Centre, N.Y., won the honor as successor to Ohio State's Jerry Lucas on the basis of the votes he polled for the 1963 All-America announced Thursday by the AP.

Heyman, who led Duke through an unbeaten regular season in the Atlantic Coast Conference, topped the voting for the All-America with 744 points on the basis of five points for a first team vote and two for the second team.

Named to the All-America, along with Heyman, were Ron Bonham of Cincinnati, Jerry Harkness of Chicago Loyola, Gary Bradds of Ohio State and Barry Kramer of New York University.

Bonham polled 706 points, Harkness 428, Bradds 321 and Kramer 319 from the 183 sportswriters and radio-TV broadcasters who voted.

An indication of Heyman's ability is the fact that he was an unanimous choice for the All-ACC team for three straight years, the first time it has happened.

Bill Bradley, Princeton's star sophomore, Tom Tracker of Cincinnati, Ron Thorn of West Virginia, Cotton Nash of Kentucky and Walt Hazzard of UCLA were named as the second team All-America.

Bill Green, of Colorado State University, Eddie Miles of Seattle, Tony Yates of Cincinnati, Jimmy Rayl of Indiana and Nick Werkman of Seton Hall comprise the third team.

LUBBOCK — San Angelo College warmed up for its Monday night basketball game with HCJC by blasting Lubbock Christian College, 68-54, in a Western Conference battle here Thursday night.

Lubbock Christian equalled the Rams' output of field goals but San Angelo made 26 gratis pitches to only 12 for the Pioneers.

Bruce Tibbets scored 16 points and Kirby Pugh 15 for San Angelo. Ned Boaz paced LCC with 20. San Angelo led at half time, 25-23.

Ernest Turner (14) of HCJC appears to be putting the hammer lock on Amarillo's Toby Hall in the above picture, snapped during the Jayhawk-Badger cage thriller here Thursday night. The game was basketball and not wrestling, however. HCJC won the decision, 88-78. (Photo by Keith McMillin)

Kasch Low Bidder On Clinic Project

A. P. Kasch & Sons of Big Spring were the apparent low bidder Thursday on the new Malone & Hogan Foundation Hospital clinic building to be erected in the 900 block on Main Street.

Although it may take as much as two weeks, a contract likely will be awarded. The $71,995 bid by Kasch was within estimates of Jacob Anderson, Dallas, architect for the three-story project.

Other proposals were from Rose Construction Company, Abilene, $584,000; J. W. Cooper, Odessa, $607,912; R. G. Farrell, Odessa, $608,000; and Lippert Bros. Construction Company of Oklahoma City. Lippert built the north wing of the present hospital in 1945.

The clinic building properly will cost about $446,000, while retaining walls, parking deck, connecting tunnel and other appurtenances will account for the remainder.

BELONGS TO FOUNDATION

The 20,000 square foot clinic building will be provided by the hospital foundation and leased to doctors in the clinic organization. When the building debt has been retired, all net rentals will go to the hospital foundation for general purposes.

Anderson said that the structure will be one of few in the nation designed specifically for particular departments. There will be separate departments for radiology, orthopedics, pediatrics, general surgery, internal medicine, obstetrics and gynecology, urology and eye, ear, nose and throat. There are presently 13 doctors on the staff, and provisions are being made for 19 doctors.

MORE BEDS

When the new clinic building is completed, the first floor of the present hospital will be converted into 30 additional patient rooms.

Long vertical lines will be maintained on the clinic building, which will rise on foundations sufficient to carry the building an additional four floors. Precast panels with exposed quartz aggregate in white Portland cement matrix will accentuate front lines as will vertical masonry columns in the ends. Glass will be of a solar type to provide protection from heat and the sun's rays. Planters will provide a decorative effect.

At the south of the clinic structure will be a protected parking area with a second deck ground level entrance will be had from the Main Street side at two points, and the second deck will have a drive at that level off Tenth Street. Later, as the clinic is enlarged, additional decks may be added to the parking area.

TUNNEL UNDER STREET

The clinic will be connected with the hospital by a tunnel under Ninth Street. Pneumatic tubes will deliver charts and records from the file room to department and doctors' offices or to the hospital. A large retaining wall will be constructed on the east side of the tract due to topography.

On the ground floor of the clinic building will be the laboratories, X-ray diagnostic and treatment; chart room; offices for radiologist and orthopedist; treatment rooms; doctor's lounge; central supply; and physiotherapy.

The first floor will contain the lobby and reception area, the bookkeeping department, secretarial and business offices of the department of pediatrics with of-

Rotarians Hear Tech Speaker

About 200 Rotarians, their wives and guests, attended the annual Rotary Ladies' Night program at the Big Spring Country Club Tuesday night. Dr. P. Meriville Larson, head of the speech department at Texas Tech, was speaker.

Dr. Larson gave two titles to his talk: "Footlights Across Europe," and "Rotating Across Europe." He told of experiences when he conducted a tour, with a group of drama students from Tech, to about 20 European theatres in 1961. The group visited England, Scotland, Holland, Italy, and France, seeing the major theatres and play houses. They made a side trip to Monte Carlo July 4, but failed to see Princess Grace.

"In one of the plays in Italy where horses were supposed to be used," he said, "the actors came out riding stick horses."

Perfect attendance pins awarded at the meeting went to Walton Morrison for 19 years, Jimmy Walker for 12 years, and Olen Puckett for 17 years.

Music was furnished by Ira Schantz, accompanied by Mrs. Carl Bradley.

Explorer Director Visits Thursday

Yorel Harris, Dallas, director of the Explorer program in Region IX of Boy Scouts of America, was here Thursday for two conferences. At a luncheon at the Wagon Wheel, he met with a group interested in the mechanics of organizing Explorer posts for senior boys. At 7 p.m. he met with advisors (the unit adult leaders) in the Cosden Office Bar to discuss the operations of Explorer units.

Polk Included In New Dictionary

A biographical sketch on Rev. Robert F. Polk, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be included in the new directory of International Biography. The reference work to be published in London, England, May 30, is termed "A Biographical Record of Contemporary Arts."

All the biographies are to be housed permanently in the various archives of Great Britain, including the libraries of London University and the Institute of Contemporary Arts.

In 1957, Rev. Polk was included in "Who's Who in the Protestant Clergy," published by Nygaard and in 1960 in "Who's Who in the South and Southwest," published by Marquis. He has made two visits to England and participated in a Baptist evangelistic effort in Ireland.

Criticizing Judges Results In Fine

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison was fined $1,000 Thursday for defaming eight New Orleans criminal district judges in a quarrel over a vice investigation.

The maximum penalty possible was one year in prison and a $3,000 fine.

The judge pressed charges against Garrison after he accused them of blocking his probe of French Quarter vice and said the situation raised "interesting questions about racketeer influences on our eight vacation-minded judges."

DEAR ABBY
The Game Has Rules

DEAR ABBY: I have an aunt who is a 36-year-old perpetual husband-hunter. She saw a man who works with me. She liked his looks and asked me to introduce her to him. He said he was unmarried so I saw no harm in it. Well, he asked her for a date and she fell for him hard. She saw him night and day and even went on weekend trips with him. When she pressed for marriage, he told her he had a wife from whom he was only separated because his religion wouldn't sanction divorce. My aunt is broken-hearted and her whole family is blaming me for this mess. Was it MY fault?

GOOD INTENTIONS
DEAR GOOD: When a man tells you he is unmarried, you have a right to assume he is. You were responsible for introducing them, period. If a 36-year-old "husband-hunter" wants to play the game, it's time she learned the game laws.

DEAR ABBY: If your husband came home with the odor of perfume on his shoulder, when you have none of your own, would you assume he had been close enough to someone to have had the odor "rub off on him"? Or would you say he had to have somebody's head on his shoulder?

READY TO FILE
DEAR READY: He could be innocent. The head on YOUR shoulder is the one you have to worry about. Don't lose it.

DEAR ABBY: A couple of months ago I attended a big church wedding and reception. The bride wore a beautiful white gown and veil. Six months later the bride gave birth to a nine-pound baby boy, so I know she must have been expecting at the time of the wedding. They tell me that this is being done all the time. Is this true, or am I behind the times?

DEAR JOAN: You are NOT behind the times. Some babies are ahead of their times.

DEAR ABBY: Apropos the woman who felt "unloved" because her husband never said "I love you." My sister and I recently asked Mother to tell us about her courtship days, whether Dad was romantic, and how he proposed to her. She replied, "Your father never said much, and he never once came out and said 'I love you.' And this is how he proposed. 'Well, do you want to get married or don't you?'"

Maybe flowery speeches don't mean much, because Mom and Dad had been happily married for 38 years.

Achievement Plan Explained

The Big Spring Optimist Club held its regular meeting Wednesday morning at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant with 19 members and one guest present. The program was in charge of John W. Ruthford.

Tom Red, Midland, executive director of the Midland Junior Achievement Clubs, spoke to the group on the purposes of the clubs. The Midland organization, he said, has 16 companies with 300 participating workers.

Junior Achievement Clubs are formed by young people 15 to 19 years of age who organize companies exactly as corporations. Red said they function for eight months and then liquidate. Profits are distributed among the members and some go into a mutual fund for equipment to help sustain new groups.

Red presented a film, "Freedom of Choice," which explained how Junior Achievement promotes the free enterprise system.

New Method In Heart Treatment

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For some years doctors have been able to pump needed drugs and oxygen to stricken hearts by running long tubes up arm arteries into the heart.

Now and then they run into a problem: A clot in a heart artery blocks the way. They can't reach the damaged area and the heart stops.

A new technique for sending drugs and oxygen through the "back door" via tubes through veins draining heart muscles, was described Thursday at the convention of the American College of Cardiology.

Dr. Domingo Liotta of Baylor University in Houston, Tex., said experiments with animals showed this method, called retroperfusion, reached areas accessible in no other way.

Radioactive material backwashed into the heart in this manner, he said, was traced into areas which otherwise would be starved by a clot.

Dr. Liotta said the resulting increase in blood pressure in the area tended to lessen the likelihood of fibrillation—an irregular beating which usually follows attacks and sometimes brings death.

Earlier, a new treatment for patients with dangerously abnormal heart rhythms was reported by Dr. Bernard Lown of Harvard Medical School.

Lown said 77 of 84 patients were treated successfully with a surge of direct current which lasts only 2.5 thousandths of a second. This stops the heart for one beat, and when the organ recovers it resumes pumping at the normal rate.

He said the 7,000-volt electric bullet is not dangerous, if fired at the right moment. The seven patients who did not respond were not harmed.

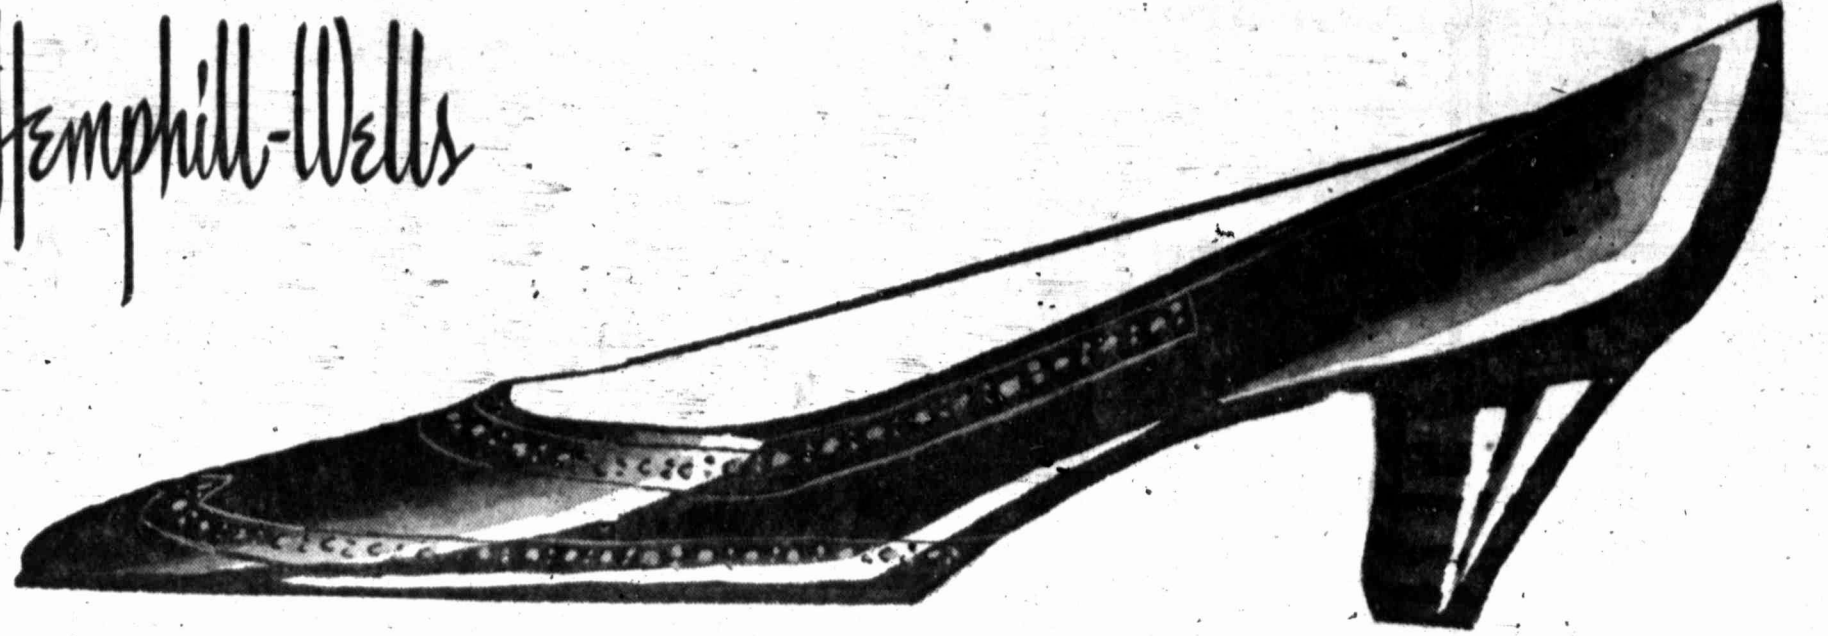

Spelling Bee Is Slated

Ramses Junior High School will determine its school spelling champion at an elimination contest set for Monday. Roscoe Newell, principal, has announced.

Classroom champions have been determined and these will be pitted against one another to determine the representative of the school to enter in the county spelling bee March 16.

Newell said that the elimination will be handled by a special committee with Mrs. Veina Graese as chairman, Frank Medley and Clara Seibert as members. The school spelling bee will be in Room 110 at 9:15 a.m.

Art Linkletter Knows First In Series Can Be A Killer

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Life in the television boiler factory would be more pleasant if the audience could see the eighth show instead of the first of a new series. But Art Linkletter is neither dismayed nor downhearted when that first show doesn't come off as well as he hoped.

"After 30 years in broadcasting," says the busy veteran of thousands of afternoon and evening shows, "I still don't know how to start a new show except to begin in front of God and the television audience."

Linkletter's new evening show on NBC kicked off recently with what might charitably be called mixed critical notices. But sing no sad songs for this enthusiastic, pleasant man.

"I've been doing 'House Party' for 18 years, 52 weeks a year," he continued, stabbing at a melon slice in his luncheon fruit salad. "I can walk in, nod to one man or another, and get ahead with the show. Everybody knows what to do and how to do it. We've been together that long."

"But when you start a new show, it means assembling a new crew and learning how to work together—that's why they have so much trouble with specials."

"We had nothing but trouble with the opening 'Art Linkletter Show.' Just before we started, Debbie Reynolds, who was to be the celebrity guest, picked up a virus and had to pull out. During the first showing, while we were taping the relays on the monitors broke and there was a 22-minute halt. We had to keep the audience amused and warm during the hold-up."

"Then one roll of film developed the flutters and we had to re-roll three times. Finally, the microphones between the control room and the musical director went out—anyway, it took two hours to get through that half-hour show."

He grinned, shrugged and remarked. "It will all straighten itself out, given a little time."

Linkletter, an old pro, has done so well over the years, and invested his earnings so wisely and widely, that today he is financially independent—very rich, to put it baldly.

Among other things, he owns a 700-acre sheep ranch in Australia, 7,000 square miles in the oil country of Argentina, a chain of 200 dancing schools in the United States, an airport in Arizona, and is building three subdivisions in Southern California, including a trailer park for older people.

He is on the boards of directors of a bank, an airline, a soft drink company and an electrical company, owns a profitable toy manufacturing company and still finds time for lots of charitable and educational work.

He also has a wife, with whom he enjoys traveling, and five children—four of whom are still at home.

He is, in a word, a happy, busy, successful man.

"Broadcasting isn't work, it's fun," he says, and means it. "My job on the air is the best in the world—I get to meet the most interesting people in the world and listen to them when they talk about the things they know best. That's pretty nice."

HONG KONG. By Gene Gleason. John Day. $5.95.
By The Associated Press

East is East and West is West, and one of the most fascinating—and important—places where they DO meet is Hong Kong.

Longtime newspaperman Gleason does a thorough and competent job in this 310-page volume of telling how the divergent cultures manage to keep meeting in a place that "has so many people, hasn't enough land to stand on, can't raise enough food or store enough water, is incessantly harried by rising tariffs and shipping costs and has no idea what its testy, gigantic neighbor to the north will do next (but would appear not to have a worry in the world)."

Gleason covers everything from history to the shopping and dining opportunities—and pitfalls—in the British crown colony.

Though it deals with history, economics, religion, trade and welfare, the book never is heavy reading; it has more substance than the average guidebook, but never loses itself in mazes of statistics.

More than anything else, the story is one of survival; how hundreds of thousands of refugees and residents manage to survive fire, pestilence, starvation and government harassment (on both sides of the Iron Curtain); how piracy has managed to thrive through the centuries, despite the most extensive efforts to stamp it out; how Hong Kong businessmen prosper despite wars, blockades, union troubles, inefficiency and bureaucracy; how British colonial rulers have managed to overcome all the above handicaps, and more, in maintaining the colony.
