AWAIT EVACUATION Thousands may have to leave forever

Eruption Sets Off Religious Fervor

KLUNGKUNG, Bali (AP) — Pious Balinese flocked to the white beaches here today to cleanse themselves of the sins they fear may have angered the gods of the Agung volcano.

They carried small house temples and the Hindu trinity to the shore and offered sacrifices.

The cleansing festival takes place every 100 years. The volcano erupted in the middle of it, increasing the fervor of devotees.

There were more than 200 injured and 65,000 left homeless in the disaster area.

The official death toll was 1,478. It is feared this will rise when buried villages are excavated.

This seaside village has become one of the most important rescue centers. Military units, police, Red Cross and government officials face a gigantic task in providing food and shelter.

They begged for air transport to evacuate the injured and homeless and were shocked when two Indonesian air force transports flew in 200 delegates to the 12th annual Pacific Area Travel Association conference.

State Dept. Official Says News Slant Not A Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Assistant Secretary of State Robert J. Manning said today it does not serve the government's purpose "to keep the public uninformed, or have it ill-informed by an ill-informed press."

Manning, the State Department's chief public information official, made the observation in testimony prepared for a House Government Operations subcommittee investigating administration news policies.

He and his counterpart at the Pentagon—Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester—reply today to allegations made to the subcommittee by some news industry leaders that the government has lied to Americans in times of cold war crisis.

Manning, a former newspaperman, said that "while the American press and the American government share identical devotion to the cause of their country and its interests, the two do not—and cannot—always share identical concepts of their functions or of their obligations to the public."

While one seeks to serve the public by disclosure, the other may be serving a public need—and a public desire—by protecting a national policy from failure through premature disclosure.

Texas Senate Begins Work On Loan Shark Measure

AUSTIN (AP)—Senators tried today to wipe out Texas' reputation as the loan shark state.

"This is one of the worst problems we have ever had in this legislature," said Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, sponsor of a so-called compromise loan regulation measure laid out for debate.

loan regulation plans would bring under state control all types of installment plan loans such as those on used cars and household appliances.

"If you pass this bill you will create a finance industry," Dies warned. "They'll be down here every two years trying to get us to change the law."

Sen. Criss Cole of Houston said "This $3,000 ceiling is in there to solve all the loan shark problems, not just part of it. If we drop the ceiling even to $1,500 that would leave at least one-third of the problem unsolved."

Sen. Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin argued against the loan regulation bill recommended by the Senate committee. "This ceiling of $3,000 on loans would be one of the highest in any state in the United States," Dies said.

Sen. Frank Owen of El Paso told Reagan, "What your bill really does is to do away with the loan shark evil by legalizing the evil, by legalizing usurious interest rates."

The Senate refused a week ago to consider the measure, but then voted to make it the first item on today's agenda.

The subcommittee compromise on three Senate bills would regulate loans up to $3,000.

The bill includes a schedule of interest rates with a top of about 33 per cent on the smallest loans and a minimum of 1.43 per cent a month on $3,000 loans.

It also included a provision permitting lenders doing business in the $100 or less area. They may charge 2.77 per cent monthly or charge a flat rate of $1 per each $5 cash advanced.

The bill also has: A prohibition on requiring insurance on loans of $100 and less and on requiring property insurance on tangible property on $300 and less loans.

A prohibition on lenders receiving profit on loan insurance.

A clause forbidding a man and wife from having more than one loan at one time from the same company.

Also scheduled today is House action on the city annexation measure.

Representatives argued over the measure and its 35 or so proposed amendments every day last week.

Generally, the annexation bill allows establishment of buffer zones from 1/4 to 5 miles wide, according to population.

A city could annex only 10 per cent of its land area in one year. However, it could have certain controls over developments in the buffer zones before formal annexation.

Major amendments adopted include provisions to: permit cities to set out in ordinances the minimum standards of paving, gutters, sidewalks and drainage similar to that in the city for the areas to be annexed.

Require a map of the area to be annexed to be printed in a newspaper.

Reduce from 10 to 7 years the time an area can be given a tax-exempt industrial area status.

And to eliminate a provision for mandatory annexation of 50 per cent of the residents of the area petitioned for annexation.

Two prisoners in the county jail, rated as trustees, escaped from their quarters sometime Monday morning, the office of Sheriff Miller Harris announced today.

The two prisoners are identified as Aulten Vaughn Jr., 25, and David Clevenger, 26. They have not been apprehended.

They are believed to have left the jail around 6 a. m., making their way downstairs from the fourth story of the court house and apparently escaping by a window on the west end of the building.

Sheriff Harris and Deputy A. G. Mitchell were in Midland Monday morning on a report the pair had been seen there. However, at noon the men had not been found.

The two trustees occupied a cell on the outer corridor of the jail and almost directly across the way from the elevator.

The trustee cells are not locked at night and trustees have freedom of the runaround and the jail kitchen.

Frank Glasscock, jailer, left on vacation early Sunday and Deputy Sheriff Wesley Patton was acting as jailer. Patton learned the two prisoners were gone from another trustee shortly after 6 a. m.

Deputies said the custom of not locking the trustee cells is one of longstanding.

How the pair managed to work the elevator is the puzzle of the picture. The elevator, which affords access to the jail normally can only be operated with a key. However, there is a possibility a person with a knack of electricity might remove a plate which covers the key switch and short the wires to permit the release of the door and the activator of the motor.

Vaughn, charged with writing a worthless check, was waiting indictment for the offense. An indictment voted against him at the last term of the county grand jury was faulty. His record shows he has a probated sentence of three years hanging over his head in South Carolina for theft. He is described as six feet, one half inch tall, weighing about 160 pounds and with brown hair and brown eyes. He was wearing slacks and a flowered shirt when he left the jail.

Clevenger, three times convicted of worthless check writing is five feet, 11 inches tall, weighs 180 pounds, has black hair and brown eyes. He was wearing work pants and a striped shirt.

The men took nothing from their cell other than the clothing they were wearing.

Clevenger was waiting his turn before the grand jury where an effort to indict him as an habitual offender was to have been made by the district attorney.

Korean Junta Snubs Peace Talk Bids

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's ruling military junta rejected a bid today by anti-government politicians for preliminary peace talks.

The junta chief, Gen. Chung Hee Park, turned down the proposal as unnecessary.

Ten opposition leaders, including former president Yun Po-shun and former Premier Huh Chung, proposed the preliminary talks to clarify the nature of a meeting Wednesday, proposed by the junta.

Offer of preliminary talks was taken as an admission that they do not possess the strength to topple the military regime.

DARJEELING, India (AP) — India reportedly is carrying out photo reconnaissance, some presumably by Nationalist Chinese or American U2 planes, along the border of Communist-occupied Tibet, to guard against another attack by Red China.

Informed sources expressed the belief that U2 flights are originating either from U.S.-administered Okinawa, or from Formosa, where the Nationalist Chinese air force has some U2s.

Prime Minister Nehru told In-MOSCOW (AP) — On Premier Khrushchev's orders, five Cabinet ministers in the central Asian Soviet Republic of Kazakh have been fired.

The action came in the wake of burgeoning charges of wide-scale corruption there and a drop in grain harvests, blamed on dishonesty and government bungling.

Saturn Test

The fourth experimental Saturn rocket is on its launch pedestal at Cape Canaveral, Fla., ready for a test flight, tentatively set for March 28. The 163-foot tall rocket will use all eight of its engines when it lifts off, but one of them will be shut down 100 seconds after launch, cutting its 1.3 million pounds of thrust by 165,000 pounds. The object is to test its performance should an engine fail.

Action Seen By Congress On Aid Cut

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Presented today by a presidential committee recommendation to tighten up the foreign aid program, Congress appears likely to respond by tightening the purse strings to the extent of about $1 billion.

The signs on Capitol Hill indicate the program will be the main target of efforts to trim President Kennedy's $98.8-billion budget.

Kennedy has asked for $4.9 billion in foreign aid for the year beginning July 1—$1 billion more than this year. Kennedy, however, is expected to send a message to Congress this week cutting back his aid request by $200 million or more.

But one high official remarked that the administration will be lucky to escape with a reduction of no more than $1 billion.

In a hard-hitting report, the presidential committee—made up of 10 private citizens headed by Gen. Lucius Clay—told Kennedy the program was too big—trying to do "too much for too many."

OVERWEIGHT
The report, made public Saturday evening, found that this year's $3.9-billion foreign aid program was overweight by half a billion dollars when weighed on the scales of the tougher new standard it was recommending.

This led to some interpretations that since the new foreign aid request is $1 billion higher than this year's program, the Clay committee was recommending it be chopped by $1.5 billion.

But William T. Dentzler, executive director of the Clay committee, said Sunday night this was not so.

The committee, he said, was speaking of only this year's program, ending June 30, and not next year's. Also, he said the report listed several new projects which it thought should be added.

The committee did not propose any immediate specific cuts. It urged, though, graduated future reductions, tightening of assistance criteria and reassessment of administration procedures and personnel.

These steps, it contended, were necessary to strengthen the program which the committee felt was essential to security of the United States and the non-Communist world.

ONLY DISSENT
The only committee member to dissent was AFL-CIO President George Meany. He said aid funds should be substantially increased. He complained the report might be disastrously used by critics of foreign aid.

Without reference to proposed reductions, Kennedy said in a statement that the report was very heartening because of the committee's "expression of support for properly administered mutual defense and development programs."

But the committee's statement that "we are indeed attempting too much for too many" was the kind of ammunition that fit the guns of such economy advocates as Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La. As chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee, Passman wants to cut the program by $2.5 billion. Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said he will vote as a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee for equally deep reductions.

MAY TESTIFY
Clay's offer to testify seemed likely to be snapped up by congressional committees anxious to get at the how, when and where behind his remark at a news conference that "I feel that a lot of money has been wasted" in the program.

These committees would want to know also how he and his colleagues propose that administration be tightened up.

On the other hand, supporters of the program probably would like to hear an expansion of the report's contention that foreign aid would be necessary even if "all our outstanding differences with the Communists were to be resolved tomorrow."

YOUR STARS TODAY

"Nothing that is can pause or stay; The moon will wax, the moon will wane."
Longfellow
DAILY GUIDE—The New Moon today brings a little more briskness and alertness into the gloomy picture with which we have been confronted this winter. People will begin to show more hope, will begin to break away from frustrating delays and begin to busy themselves trying to find solutions to current problems.

If you want to test the day-to-day influence of the moon, you will find that there is a surprising correlation in your moods, and the general atmosphere, to the cycles of the moon. Usually you can find the phases of the moon printed somewhere on your calendar. From the New Moon, we have one today, to the Full Moon, it is waxing, that is growing in strength, while from then on it is waning for two weeks. Projects begun in the first two weeks of the moon's cycle are more likely to reach fulfillment, richer growth quicker.

Get out and around now, start things, make plans. Push business, special interests, move faster. The moon in Aries favors energetic action. Today and tomorrow excellent for conferences, news, business with executives.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, ARIES!
You are coming into an unusually favorable period now, so I hope you have been working towards some special goal. This year could be one of your best for promotion of personal interests and ambitions. It is a good time to seek strong support from old friends and close ties with older people who can further your ambitions. Some challenge in social contacts can be expected up to June. After that working conditions may need revision and health could be a problem. Finances could need adjustment in the fall; be wary of investments then. April excellent for making headway if you handle personal ties wisely.

Even Moonshiners Have Joined 20th Century

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The latest wrinkle in moonshining is plastic returnable jugs.

The reason is a clampdown by federal alcohol tax agents on the sale of supplies and containers for illicit whisky, glass jars in particular.

Herman O. Bomar, chief tax agent for Tennessee, says moonshiners are collecting plastic containers used for laundry bleaches. Some operators are requiring customers to return the empties with each new purchase.

Former Majorette's Death Is Ruled Homicide

FORT WORTH (AP)—A shapely former Texas Christian University drum majorette was found beaten to death Sunday in the blaring brick home she occupied in suburban Benbrook.

The death of Mrs. Neota Green, 27, was ruled homicide by Justice of the Peace T. M. Sheffield after an autopsy on the attractive divorcee.

Earlier, it was believed the fire had caused her death. But Sheffield said Mrs. Green, a barmaid in a private club, died of multiple blows about the head. One blow caused a 3-inch fracture, the autopsy revealed.

A 30-year-old man suffering from smoke inhalation was found by firemen in the bedroom. He was questioned by Tarrant County sheriff's officers. He was identified as Ronnie Blankenship and was listed in fair condition at a hospital.

Mrs. Green's body was found nude, lying on the kitchen floor in the home. Firemen found her after entering the house about 4:30 a.m. Her two children were with a baby sitter in another part of town.

Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

An assistant district attorney, James Greener, said a large ash tray was found "that might possibly be the weapon."

TO KNOW IS TO LOVE

It is a generally accepted truth that to know a person is to love him; and the Lord has thrown the Christian in contact with other people. The Lord has sent us out among the people to tell them the gospel story (Mark 16:15, 16). He has taught us to go about "doing good" (Jas. 1:27; Acts 10:38). As a result, Christians have a concern and love for humanity.

And no doubt it helps Christians to love one another that the Lord has thrown them together so much. He has given them the congregation: a God commanded them to assemble themselves together (Heb. 10:25). Those who

I hope to see you tonight, 7:30, at 14th and Main.

Our '63 truck has two (2) engines.

This year you can choose between two engines when you buy a VW Truck.
The one on the left is our standard model. (The legendary engine that made the VW famous.)
The one on the right is our new optional engine. It costs a little more, but then it's more powerful. (And it comes with bigger brakes.)
Say you generally carry a heavy load. Or say you have to do a lot of driving over steep, hilly terrain. Then, you'll probably want to take on our more powerful job.
Do you know some of the advantages in the Volkswagen power plant?

Both engines, for example, are air cooled. So they can't boil over or freeze up.
Both are short-stroke, low rpm engines. Which means less friction, longer life.
Both do about 24 miles to the gallon and hardly ever need oil between changes.
Both go in back of the VW. Where they give the drive wheels unusually firm traction.
The point is this: No matter which engine you choose, you're still getting the same old VW economy, '63 style.

A Few Wet Spots In U.S.

By The Associated Press

There were a few wet spots but generally fair and mild weather was reported in most of the nation today.

Thunderstorms and showers hit areas from eastern Nebraska southward into northeast Texas along and ahead of an eastward moving cold front. Hail pelted areas in Oklahoma.

Showers dampened northern Indiana and western Ohio while another rain belt extended from western North Dakota into northeast Montana. The only other precipitation area was in the Pacific Northwest, with rain along coastal sections of Washington.

Rain was in prospect in much of the central Plains eastward through the Mississippi Valley to the Appalachians and most of southeastern Texas northeastward into the Ohio Valley.

Gulf air fanned far northward into the eastern half of the nation Sunday, sending temperatures to the 70s and 80s in many sections. The 81 in Sioux City, Iowa, and the 80 in Sioux Falls, S.D., were record marks for March 24.

Unimpressed

Rudy Dunsmuir's bungling Beagle who has visited the veterinarian 12 times in his 5-year-life, seems unimpressed with the fan mail he has received since his case history was revealed. Rudy's troubles have been assorted. He's been shot twice while hunting, has broken his tail twice, has fallen from a truck, and is presently recovering from an operation required because he ate a too-long-dead squirrel. His owners, Mr. and Mrs. Francis LeMere Jr., of Dunsmuir, Calif., say the mail includes get well cards, offers to take care of Rudy, and newspaper clippings.

Cuban Priests Leave For Spain

HAVANA (AP)—Four Roman Catholic priests, released from Isle of Pines prison last week left for Madrid Sunday.

The four, who spent months as political prisoners, were Ramon Sidalgo, Luis Jojo, Francisco Blazquez and Rainiero Lebrock. All but Lebrock, who is Cuban, are from Spain.

Since their release, they had been staying at the residence of the Vatican charge d'affaires, where each said Mass prior to leaving for the airport.

A few Spanish diplomats and a handful of former prisoners bid the noticeably prison-wary priests farewell as they boarded a Spanish airliner.

7,000 People On Staffs Of Members Of Congress

Editor's Note—More than 7,000 men and women work for the members of Congress and the congressional committees at an annual cost to taxpayers in excess of $50 million. The ranks of this private, non-elected bureaucracy may swell further, some observers view this growth as a favorable development. Others are beginning to wonder if staffers eventually will have to be hired to find out what other staffers are doing.

By STANLEY MEISLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—In 1914, when Carl Vinson, a 31-year-old Democrat from Georgia, came to Congress for the first time, his entire staff was made up of one secretary, paid $125 a month. The law allowed him and all other congressmen no more.

Today Vinson has four members on his staff. The average representative is allowed to hire up to nine at an over-all cost of $4,000 a month. The average senator usually hires more. And so may the congressional committees.

In a rush to keep pace with the onslaught of modern pressures, Congress has created its own private bureaucracy that now numbers more than 7,000 people and costs more than $50 million a year.

BIGGER, COSTLIER

There's a chance it soon will get bigger and costlier.

This week the House will debate a proposal, approved by its Administration Committee, to increase the office expenses of each congressman by $10,506 a year so he can add still another employee to his payroll.

The huge bureaucracy on Capitol Hill has provoked criticism, particularly from Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., who leads a futile fight each year to wipe out a good number of the Senate's subcommittee staffs.

"Many of these subcommittees are useless," Ellender said in an interview. "All they do is create jobs, monopolize space, and glorify senators. And like old soldiers, the subcommittees never die."

Ellender pointed out that the Senate Judiciary Committee has 15 regular staff members while its 14 subcommittees have 150 staff members.

"I think every senator on the committee has a subcommittee," Ellender said.

Ellender's stand draws support from Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb. In a Senate speech recently, Curtis said "Pretty soon we shall need more staff to find out what some other staff is doing."

A sturdy defense of big congressional staffs comes from Dr. George B. Galloway, senior specialist in American government for the Library of Congress and former staff director of the Senate-House committee that conducted hearings on the reorganization of Congress in 1946.

FAVORABLE

"The increase in staff is one of the most favorable developments in Congress," Galloway said in an interview. "It is a third force that provides Congress with information and intelligence to counteract the interested opinions that come to Congress from interested parties on the one hand and from the executive department on the other."

In Galloway's view, the cause of most of the mushrooming is quite simple: The problems of Congress today are far different and far more complex than the problems of Congress when Carl Vinson was a freshman.

Vinson, dean of the House today with almost 50 years service, recalls that "Congress didn't have the work then that it has now."

"We were concerned with just three issues: tariffs, a few agriculture bills, the prosecution of World War I," he told a newsman.

"Since then—" Vinson stopped, smiled, and with a swift rotation of his hand, acted out the acceleration of federal government brought on by the great depression, World War II, the cold war and near $100-billion budgets.

The first Congress, which met from 1789 to 1791, introduced 268 bills, enacted 108 public laws, and had 155 committee reports. The 87th Congress, which met in 1961 and 1962, introduced 17,229 bills, enacted 833 public laws, and had 4,852 committee reports.

The first Congress had only two committees. In contrast, the Senate Committee on Government Operations reported that in 1955 and 1956 the Senate alone had 17 committees and 129 subcommittees, which, with 13 joint Senate-House committees, met a total of 3,951 times for a total of 11,677 hours.

COSTS COMPARED

In 1907, individual congressmen were allowed $1,500 a year for staff assistance. This rose to $2,000 in 1917, $4,000 in 1924, $5,000 in 1929, and $6,500 in 1940.

The total cost of congressional staff salaries was $3 million in 1920 and $6.5 million in 1940. The present level of more than $50 million could not have been reached without the liberal staff allowances of the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946. Congress passed the act after exhaustive committee hearings on the best ways to streamline Congress so it could meet the modern age.

The number of congressional employees now fluctuates from month to month, but it averages 4,350 in the House and 3,000 in the Senate. Of the House total, 3,000 work in the offices of individual congressmen and 500 work for committees. Of the Senate total, 1,700 work in the offices of individual senators and 600 work for committees. The rest, including capitol policemen, telephone operators, and laborers, serve Congress as a whole.

The size of staffs vary from congressman to congressman. Representatives in districts with more than a half-million constituents are allowed to hire 10 staff members instead of nine.

Picture Is Mixed In U. S. Economy

Editor's Note—After a winter of discontent with the slow growth of the national economy many communities now are shaking off uncertainties and planning optimistically. Others still contend with tough problems. In this first of a series of four articles on how different sections are faring, Sam Dawson, AP Business News Analyst, discusses the varied faces the economy presents this spring.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—To take the pulse of the nation's economy today you need a thousand fingers. The averages culled from the statistics just don't fit any one community exactly nor give you clear a picture of any one region.

It's been a trying winter in some places, coming after a nationwide fright about the economy when the stock market plunged last May and June. But for all its spottiness the economy this spring looks better in most places.

Of course, where the growth has been swiftest, as in the West and Southwest, communities still can see nothing but blue skies, while in other places the tone may be more one of quiet confidence than of exuberant predictions.

Yet varied as are the regional economies, one thing they share in common: The belief that times aren't really as bad as people elsewhere may be saying, nor the future as precarious either for the nation or themselves. Crises, present or predicted, have lost much of their power to paralyze. Problems? Scads of them. New ventures and plans? Many communities are happily deep in them. And the one which doesn't even have some planned or dreamed of is sick indeed.

To judge how people are doing—and how they feel today—look at one of the measuring sticks, department store sales. How people spend their money, and how much they spend, tells a lot.

From January 1 to March 16 the volume in the twelve Federal Reserve districts compares this way with a year ago: Boston up 5 per cent, New York up 2 per cent, Richmond up 5, Atlanta up 8, Chicago up 5, St. Louis up 3, Minneapolis up 3, Kansas City up 4, Dallas up 2, San Francisco up 6.

The two districts that lag behind a year ago — Philadelphia and Cleveland, each down 1 per cent—have been troubled by strikes. And Pennsylvania, lying between the headquarter cities of the two districts, suffers from 9.3 per cent of its labor force being out of work, compared with a national average of 6.1 per cent.

National and international problems hit the entire nation. But the effect often varies widely among regions.

Competition from imports is likely to be felt most in the old-time industrial areas and is most noticed along the three coasts. Textile, steel, oil, electronic centers feel it. Export limitations and competition in world markets upped agricultural sections as well as the mill towns.

Labor strife often seems most acute in the older industrial sections and more easily shrugged off in growing new ones.

Interest rates are always under debate by the money managers in Washington with an eye on the effect on the national economy and the United States' position in world financial centers. But the rates, in spite of the managing, vary a bit from section to section. Exploding economies like those of the Far West need the most investment money. To get it from the older regions, they offer the highest yields.

Easy money, or dear, can mean different things in different places. The impact of either isn't the same everywhere at all—whatever the best for the national economy may be.

Tuesday: Unemployment the number one problem.

Sixth Coldest Winter On Record

CHICAGO (AP)—The past winter was the sixth coldest in the records of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The bureau listed the only colder ones as those of 1899, 1905, 1910, 1929 and 1936. Two of those—in 1899 and 1936—were described as the coldest on record.

Average temperatures in 50 U.S. cities during December, January and February form the basis for its conclusions, the Weather Bureau said.

Stefania Can Wiggle A Tantalizing Toe

ROME (AP) — Italy has discovered a new movie sex kitten who packs more flirt in her big toe than some actresses can generate with everything they have. It took three movies before Italians sat up wide-eyed to look at Stefania Sandrelli, but now they expect to be looking at her for a long time to come.

Stefania is only 17. Movie magazines here already are predicting that she will become more famous than any of Italy's great actresses. Fans who saw her in "Divorce — Italian Style" are sure.

They remember her as the youthful, little brunette cousin of the film's main character, Baron Cefalu, who craftily arranges to find his wife a lover so that he can kill her "with justification."

He gets a light prison sentence and soon is free to marry the pretty young cousin, Stefania. That's where her tantalizing toe gets into the act.

She and the baron marry and go off on their honeymoon aboard a small sailing yacht. The baron is happy, he has his young love. He kisses her. It is a long, lingering one. The camera moves from the clinching lovers down to Stefania's toe. It's busy caressing another toe—not the baron's, the young boatman's.

That's the movie's last, unforgettable scene—two toes playing footsy.

But it's not the last of Stefania. She is now preparing for other films, and trying to grow up too.

Just a few years ago Stefania was an obscure salesgirl in Viareggio, a seaside resort at the edge of the Italian Riviera.

A photographer spotted her out on the Viareggio beach and took her picture. A weekly magazine snapped it up.

Two movie roles promptly came Stefania's way. They were not much, but they led to "Divorce—Italian Style" opposite Marcello Mastroianni of "La Dolce Vita" fame.

One of her next roles will be a Roberto Rossellini film starring the great Anna Magnani. Stefania says she is a little bit afraid of intellectuals like Rossellini.

"I don't like seeing problem movies," she says. "I still prefer cartoons, especially Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck."

A copy of the national charter was presented to Mrs. Johnson by Mrs. Worthan, who expressed appreciation to J. D. Jones of Jones Construction Co. for his assistance in forming the local chapter.

Mrs. Creighton made the scrapbook award, presenting a trophy to the Lubbock chapter. She thanked the hostess group and the city of Big Spring for the hospitality extended to the visitors. Cities represented at the forum meeting were Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Dallas, Amarillo, El Paso, Lubbock, Odessa, Midland, San Angelo, St. Louis and Big Spring.

Entertainment was furnished by Linda and Pamela Mason, daughters of Major and Mrs. Millard Mason of Webb Air Force Base. They presented two dance numbers, including a pantomime done to "Big D."

Served buffet style, guests were seated at tables featuring runners of yellow crepe paper and artificial ivy. At intervals were placed decorative rabbits and glittered paper Easter eggs.

A carpet of grass covered the spot-lighted stage where a mannequin, dressed in white formal gown with rows of ruffles, held a basket of roses. A white garden cart overflowed with artificial fruits and spring flowers, and to the side, a white and gold epergne held a pink rose tree. The entire garden scene was bordered with a row of colorful tulips.

Having A Ball

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer rolls ball as he plays bocce, an Italian variety of bowling, at Cadenabbia on Lake Como, a resort in Italy. Watching is Adenauer's daughter, Ria Reimers. The West German leader arrived last week for a four-week spring vacation. Another daughter, Lotte, accompanied her father and Ria at Cadenabbia where the 57-year-old Adenauer has been spending most of his vacations since 1957.

Daughter Of Texas Judge Is Slain

PHOENIX (AP)—Sheriff's investigators hope a medical report today will shed more light on the mysterious slaying of Jane Langdon, 21, daughter of a prominent Texas judge.

The body of the TCU senior from Fort Worth was found Saturday by target shooters in a prospectors' cave north of Phoenix.

She had been shot to death. Although fully clad in outer garments, her underclothing was missing. This led officers to theorize a sexual attack may have figured in her death in the lonely desert area.

So far, here's what officers have pieced together: Judge Jack Langdon and his wife left for Arizona Wednesday so Mrs. Langdon could have a serious operation Friday in Phoenix. Jane, who was delayed by an examination at TCU, was to join them Thursday at a Phoenix hotel. Wednesday night Miss Langdon was delivered to the Dallas airport by Willis Murphey, a dental student at Baylor, who was her steady boyfriend. She arrived in Phoenix at 2:52

Puny Cold Front Loafs Over State

A puny little cold front loafed along through Texas Monday but didn't have enough vigor to upset anyone's fishing or Monday clothes washing. It's timing was bad for farmers and ranchers. Enough moisture covered the state the previous day to allow the cool front to whip up a little rain, but the front didn't get to Texas in time. The Weather Bureau said the front might set off a thundershower or two in East or South Texas. But most of the state was fair to only partly cloudy. Temperatures during the night generally were in the 40s to 60s.

Georgia's Chief Likes Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Gov. Carl E. Sanders of Georgia feels relations between the United States and Mexico couldn't be better. The governor, in an interview published Sunday, said that went double where his state was concerned. "History tells us that a number of Georgia citizens came here a hundred years ago and fought on the side of the Mexicans against Maximilian. So in Georgia we feel very kindly towards Mexico," he added.

Youngsters Hurt In Race Mishap

DALLAS (AP)—A boy lost a leg and a brother and sister suffered injuries Sunday when a car preparing for a jalopy race spun out of control and hit them. Surgeons amputated a leg of Clyde Coomer Jr., 11. His other leg was broken. His brother, Jimmy, 9, and sister, Linda, 7, were less seriously injured. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Coomer Sr. of Garland. The driver, James William Travis, was uninjured. The accident occurred at Devil's Bowl, a race track.

Automation To Fight Automation

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City plans to use automation to fight the effects of automation, James J. McFadden, acting city labor commissioner, said Sunday night that automatic teaching machines will be used soon to train workers whose job skills have been eliminated or threatened by increasing industrial automation. Initially the machines will be used to train 500 workers as electronic technicians, McFadden said on a taped television show.

Long-Time Moore Community Teacher Honored At Party

Residents of the Moore community, who were students there half a century ago, got together Sunday to honor one of their former school teachers.

She was Mrs. H. R. Debenport, who, as Miss Onis Leysath, had served as a teacher in the one-room frame structure 10 miles northwest of Big Spring.

Deeply touched by the gesture, Mrs. Debenport thanked the many friends who gathered at the City Park for a picnic dinner. She was presented with a guest register by Johnny Miller and Lee Castle, who instigated the gathering.

ECONOMIC, THAT IS

Irish See German 'Invasion'

By JOHN P. GALE

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Nuala O'Dea, 26, from an old Irish farming family, is a tiny and satisfied part of a German economic invasion rolling across her homeland.

Miss O'Dea works for a German factory in the sprawling industrial hinterland springing up around Shannon Airport. She starts at 8 a. m. in a brightly lit, air-conditioned factory block, takes orders from German bosses and earns $18.20 a week.

"I'm at least 3 pounds—$8.40—a week better off than in my last job as a waitress," she says. "I am also able to stay in Ireland. Until this job came along, I had made up my mind to emigrate, probably to America. There was not enough work for me on the farm."

LESS BLISSFUL
Other Irish people view the German invasion less blissfully.

German land investments have sent values rocketing in some areas. Good farms of 200 acres now cost more than twice the national average of $225 to $250 an acre. German demand has also pushed the prices of some residential holdings in County Cork to about 10 times their previous level—$700 per acre.

Germans bid this month for about $300,000 worth of property in County Donegal. Much of it is farmland.

Dublin's Junior Chamber of Commerce warned of a danger that the small Irish farmer would be swept aside in the land rush by overseas investors.

So far, the Irish government has stood off demands to curb the rate of investment. It is in fact trying to attract more industrialists, settling them in factories and paying state grants up to two-thirds of the total capital cost of building, site development and machinery.

BENEFITS
There are benefits ranging from interest-free 7-year loans to a 10-year tax holiday on the profits of all new export industries.

At Shannon, the tax holiday lasts until 1964 and raw materials enter the airport free of duty.

Twenty-four German industries have settled in the republic since 1959, attracted by these favorable terms and also the availability of a large low-cost labor pool.

German industries are turning out on Irish soil such diverse products as ballpoint pens, carpets, cranes, grain driers, wallets, fork lift trucks and mouth organs.

The German share of state grants outstrips even the British who are traditionally the largest foreign investors in Ireland.

Grants total $16.8 million since the government scheme got under way in 1958. The German share is 28 per cent, Irish 25, British 16, American 10 and the rest 21 per cent.

NO JOLLITY
Among critics of the German infiltration a Dublin economist said: "One trouble is they don't jolly their work people around, which is what we like to do over here. Nor are they so good at handling the unions. They're inclined to be paternalistic. And in their private lives they tend to stick together in little German cliques."

Jack Lynch, Ireland's minister for industry and commerce, gave the reporter a differing view: "There were difficulties of language, initially, and difficulties of temperament. These have been steadily overcome."

"At the Liebherr (crane) factory, the Germans built a row of chalets along one of Killarney's lakes and lived there in a community. But I have heard no complaints they are not mixing as much as one would expect with the local community."

Nuala O'Dea's boss is Anton Dahmen from Aachen. He is works manager of a factory at Shannon that turns out fine wire gauze for television screens, auto carburetors and pharmaceutical purposes.

NO CLIQUES
Dahmen, 32, lives with his wife and 19-month-old baby in an apartment block constructed by Shannon Airport Development Co. Four other Germans are at the plant in supervisory categories.

"There are no cliques here," said Dahmen. "Two of our Germans have Irish girl friends I go to the chess club in the Shannon Community Hall and visit with Irish friends."

Dahmen said he had made a point of trying "not to bear down too hard" on his work force.

"They are more easily led than driven. Once they wanted a longer tea break. They got it. They wanted new stuff for the canteen—electric kettles and so on. They got that too."

"The big advantages of manufacturing here are the plentiful staff and our location. We are much nearer to our markets in the states and in England. We can meet an order from the U.S. in three days if the stuff is in stock."

to the Moore school after she taught there. Carl Merrick had a picture taken in 1913 which shows Lillie Merrick (Hill) as the teacher.

She was present, and so were a lot of others in the picture, including Joe Echols and his dog. Everyone enjoyed the session so much that they agreed to stage a sort of reunion at the park the fourth Sunday in March each year.

For a long time a meeting of the old Moore community residents had been talked, and particularly by the pupils of Mrs. Debenport. Johnny Miller called up Lee Castle and said "Let's do something about it." And they did.

The talk touched on everything from farming ("we had our built-in bale crews with large families") to that historic battle at the Christmas tree program in the school. There was mention of Prof. Cook catching one of the boys on the school roof and spiriting the ladder away. The roll was called on many families prominent in the community (such as the Merricks who "raised the best water-melons and pretty girls"), the Petys (Burnis Petty said "we only had 12"), the Castles, Millers, Hogues, Hills, Leysaths, Shortes and others.

The old school had one big room with a curtain drawn across the middle so as to make two classrooms. On Fridays, however, the curtain was pulled and there was always some kind of program.

The first few years, before the land was broken and planted, the sand wasn't so bad, but later, it took a good team to pull through some of the beds. Occasionally, when the Slaughter herd was pushed through the lane toward rail point at Big Spring, it took several hours for the bellowing cattle to churn past Moore.

Among the old timers who were there Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Burnis Petty, Ted Phillips, Lillian Hart, Vera Shortes, Tom Castle, John Leysath, Lillie Merrick Hill, Henry Hill, Reggie Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Herschell Petty, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Adams, Mrs. Una Castle Dunagan, Lee Castle, John C. Miller, Emmett Hogue, Joe Echols, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Milledale, Carl Merrick, Carrie Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Petty, Cordelia Castle (who was a teacher), B. F. Petty, Barton Petty, and Arthur Stallings.

Funeral services for Elbert C. Williams, 69, Aspermont, will be at 10 a. m. Tuesday in the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home chapel. Interment will follow at 4 p. m. in the Ropes Cemetery at Ropesville. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Williams, a veteran of World War I and a retired welder-blacksmith, died in a local hospital at 9:20 a. m. Saturday after a long illness.

He had spent most of his life in the Aspermont and Ropesville communities. He was born Dec. 12, 1893, in Cisco. His wife, the late Stella Williams, died in 1930.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Wilson Abney, Brownfield; three sons, S. C. Williams, Elizabeth N. Striking Printers Ratify Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Striking printers have ratified a new contract with New York's eight closed daily newspapers. But the last of four striking unions, the photoengravers, continued to hold out today for a better work pact, delaying an immediate resumption of publication.

Publishers estimate the total loss to the economy as a result of the newspaper blackout at more than $200 million.

The blackout was the longest and costliest in the city's newspaper history. The last previous shutdown of the nine major dailies here, in 1958, lasted 19 days. They ordinarily publish 5 1/2 million copies a day.

New Yorkers have had at least five strike-born newspapers to read during a major part of the current blackout. They also have grabbed up an increased flow of out-of-town dailies.

One of the interim papers, the New York Standard, announced that Sunday's edition was its last because it believed the regular dailies would be back this week. The Standard said it had published 20 million copies in the 78 days since its inception on Jan. 6.

In Cleveland, Ohio, where the two daily newspapers have been blacked out for 16 days, a quick end to strikes against the Plain Dealer and the Press & News was not in sight. Striking printers appeared to present one of the last big blocks to settlement.

Officials of the livestock association, which sponsored the event, expressed thanks to Big Spring individuals and business concerns for their support. They had special thanks to Piggly Wiggly of Big Spring for putting a resale of 22.75 under the steers, 14 under the lambs and 18 under the hogs, and to the Herald and Chamber of Commerce for their work.

Appreciation was expressed to Malone & Hogan Hospital, McGibbon Oil, Cosden Petroleum, John Davis Feed, Gound's Pharmacy, First National Bank, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Hemphill-Wells Co., Planters Gin, Kimbrell Feed and Grain, Hull and Phillips Foods, and R. V. Middleton for purchasing animals.

Open bidding was limited to the top five steers and top 10 lambs and hogs. Beyond that point bids were held to five cents over the floor on steers, 10 cents on lambs and seven cents on hogs. However, every boy or girl who entered the show was privileged to put at least one animal in the sale.

Judge Reducing Divorce Docket
Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, this morning, was slowly working his way through a small mountain of divorce suits which have been filed in his court for two years and longer. Most of the cases were being dismissed but a few were placed back on the active docket.

The court explained that it takes time to go through the cases and make certain that attorneys and principals are informed of the plans to dispose of the matters.

There were 70 divorce cases on the original list drawn up by the court. About 10 of these had been dismissed before Monday morning. The court had stricken another dozen at noon.

He said that he intended to strike all of the cases where no response was made by attorneys or principals.

Book Pirates Walking Plank

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Those book pirates in Formosa and Hong Kong are walking the economic plank.

Slowly but it hopes—surely, the U.S. Bureau of Customs is choking off a once thriving trade in college textbooks, copyrighted in this country but reproduced abroad and sold here at a fraction of the regular price.

As recently as last June the trade in pirated books posed a major threat to the multimillion-dollar U.S. publishing industry. Authors were losing thousands of dollars in potential royalties.

"Gray's Anatomy," a standard reference work for American medical students, could be purchased for $2.50, instead of the regular $17.50. Fermi's "Nuclear Physics," regularly $3.50 in college bookstores, was available for $1.25. Encyclopedias normally costing several hundred dollars could be purchased for less than $50.

On one Midwestern campus alone the pirated books sold at a rate of $600 a week.

Perhaps the unkindest cut of all was administered on the campus of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Student agents for a Formosa publisher took orders for the textbook, "Electromagnetic Theory" by Julius Adams Stratton. The quoted price was $2.50, compared with the bookstore price of $12.

Dr. Stratton also happens to be the president of MIT.

Now, through a little known law, the Customs Bureau is blocking importation of such books.

The law says that books copyrighted by an American citizen, or a person domiciled in the United States, may not be imported from abroad.

Customs agents, particularly on the West Coast, are concentrating on packages from Formosa and Hong Kong which appear to contain books. Any books seized under the law are destroyed.

"We think we have this thing choked off," said George Long of the Customs Bureau in an interview.

"We won't know for sure until spring, when the college students place their orders for fall delivery. And we can't be sure the books aren't being sent to some other country first, for transshipment here."

Until the government cracked down, the trade in pirated books was most profitable.

The book pirates keep their production costs to a minimum by photographing the pages of the original work and printing them on high-speed offset presses. They use an inferior grade of locally-produced paper. Their labor costs are as low as $10 per employe per month.

Nationalist China on Formosa does not belong to the Universal Copyright Convention. Thus, there is nothing to prevent a Formosa publisher from reproducing any book printed and copyrighted abroad and selling it without paying royalties to either the author or the original publishers.

One of the exhibits on Long's desk provides a good example of a pirated book.

Marlow, Okla., officers are en route to Big Spring to pick up a 16-year-old boy arrested here in a car stolen from a used car lot in that city.

He said that the boy, in the stolen car, was in a race with another car Saturday night and wrecked the vehicle. Although the car was moving at tremendous speed at the time the youth was not injured, Darland said.

Almost Half Of New Budget Will Pay Employee Salaries

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second of three explanatory articles on the new City of Big Spring budget.

By M. A. WEBB
Salaries will absorb almost half of the total revenue anticipated by the City of Big Spring for the new budget year starting April 1. All salaries, including longevity and retirement, are figured at around $1,076,167. This tops last year's estimate of salaries by approximately $77,804.

Public hearing on the new budget will be at 7 p. m. Tuesday at City Hall. It calls for record expenditures of $2,350,683.

Salary increases for the new year will account for approximately $15,000 plus over $21,000 for new firemen to man new stations and equipment. Longevity pay, which rises each year, will also account for a large part of the increase.

Capital outlay, including mechanical equipment and improvements will add up to nearly $115,000. The biggest portion of this amount is always included in the garage fund, which provides new vehicles and mechanical equipment for the city. It will run approximately $95,250.

Anticipated garage fund equipment purchases will include: seven police cars, with five trade-in vehicles and two motorcycles, $9,800; one pickup for the engineering department with trade-in, $1,400; one compact car for the inspection department with trade-in, $1,200; a power mower for the park division, $500; one cable dump trailer for the street department, $2,050, and one car with trade-in, $1,500; two new hydraulic packers for the sanitation division, with two old truck trade-ins $14,700; metal container system $60,000; three pickup trucks for the water-sewer division, with three trade-ins, $4,100. The police department will absorb the city manager's car during the new year, and will trade in two motorcycles on another new car, giving them two additional vehicles.

The city commission has set up $90 per month as reimbursement to City Manager Larry Crow for the use of his personal car, instead of the city-owned vehicle, which he prefers.

The garage fund is a means of keeping all motorized equipment efficient and up-to-date. Each department is charged a monthly rental on its equipment, based on its use, and the rental costs goes into the garage accounts. Records are kept of the cost of operation of each piece of equipment and, when the cost gets beyond reasonable figures, the vehicle is traded in for a new one. Cost of operation and maintenance of the</

Denies Wedding Plans

Actress Joan Crawford, shown with her 16-year-old daughter, Cindy, said in Philadelphia there is nothing to a report that she plans to marry New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. "I don't need this publicity," she said, "and I'm sure he doesn't." Miss Crawford is shown holding an award she accepted from the Philadelphia Women's Advertising League.

U.S. Communist Is Disillusioned

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

DISILLUSIONED John Santo, a former U.S. Communist leader who, after seven years as a government official in his native Hungary, fled back to the West, has unfolded a bitter tale of his disillusionment with communism.

Santo told about it in testimony, made public Saturday, to the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

After telling how rigged trials, torture, the invisible government of secret police and sweatshop labor conditions played a part in his break with communism, he summed it up this way:

"If it is desired to put the answer in a nutshell, it is the contradiction between the shining beauty of the theory of communism and what it is in practice as a bestial, corrupt, retrogressive way of life, as a system of government of false morality, perverted ethics, wasteful economy and politics of horror and torture for the working people."

SOVIET SUBS Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations, is confident the Navy tracked down and if necessary "would have killed" every Soviet submarine which came near Cuba during last October's crisis.

The Navy made about 20 sightings of Soviet submarines while covering the 3.5 million square miles in the quarantine area.

The subs were not nuclear-powered and did not carry surface-to-surface missiles, Anderson said in a television interview. "We have not seen or have any knowledge that the Russians have deployed any missile-carrying submarines close to or even in our part of the hemisphere," the admiral said.

MANAGER: There's a likelihood that Stephen E. Smith, the President's brother-in-law, will head the Kennedy re-election campaign staff next year.

While many administration leaders expect the campaign to be run officially by Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey, they say he would welcome Smith as the President's man in the campaign since Smith has entered the White House and close contacts with Kennedy.

Smith, married to the President's sister Jean, assisted in the 1960 Kennedy campaign and last year helped Edward M. Kennedy get elected to the U.S. Senate. He now spends about three days a week in an office in the national committee headquarters and presently is engaged in trying to establish party unity in New York.

Church-State Issue Boils

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A country preacher whose sermons departed from the fundamentalist doctrines of his faith has stirred a church-state controversy in Arkansas.

The Arkansas Supreme Court ordered removal of Elder A. Z. Dovers, 36, from the pulpit of the Landmark Missionary Baptist Church at Traskwood, Ark., because he preached that a saved soul can fall from grace.

The court said that in self-governing churches such as Landmark property rights and not majority beliefs are fundamental to law and that those who follow the beliefs of the church founders have property rights.

The minister has asked for a rehearing. Dovers was attacked by a minority of his congregation of 101 for preaching doctrines they considered heretical. According to the "once saved, always saved" doctrine of the Missionary Baptists, one who has undergone true religious conversion cannot sin and therefore cannot fall from grace.

Dovers called this reasoning sophistry and declared that saved souls can slip back into sin and merit repent.

His preaching sparked blazing controversy in Traskwood, a community of 205 about 35 miles southwest of Little Rock.

The congregation voted 54-47 to retain Dovers. The minority walked out and filed suit. A county court ruled for Dovers. On appeal, the State Supreme Court reversed the ruling and restrained Dovers from acting as pastor of the church.

The state Missionary Baptist Association hailed the court for protecting minority rights. Nine of its ministers testified for the minority.

The state's Southern Baptists charged that the state was interfering in church matters and that the majority of the congregation should rule. The court said it had jurisdiction because property rights were involved and because the independent church has no hierarchy to which to appeal.

Justice George Rose Smith said in the 6-1 majority opinion that the court had no concern with theological differences, "but the vital point is that the majority are not entitled to devolve the property to a faith contrary to that for which it was dedicated."

A Devotional For The Day

The Lord said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth. (Jeremiah 1:9.)

PRAYER: O God, who hast called and equipped Thy servants in every generation, call and equip me. Give me grace to hear Thy voice and to answer, as did Isaiah of old, "Here am I; send me." We ask in the name of Jesus. Amen.

Red Man Learns

It seems worthwhile to note that a radio announcer in Flagstaff, Ariz., has been elected tribal chairman by Navajo Indians. His was an upset victory over the much older incumbent, Paul Jones, who had held the office for eight years.

Such an election is accepted as commonplace in that part of the country where the reservation sprawls over 16 million acres extending into Arizona, Utah and New Mexico. Some circumstances of the election may come as a bit of a surprise to many in other regions, however.

The tribal chairmanship is a powerful, $20,000-a-year post for which there is sharp rivalry. To facilitate making the choice, 96 polling places were established for the 73,000 Navajos on the reservation.

It is even more interesting that polling places were also set up in Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Albuquerque, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland. These were for the accommodation of Navajos employed or transiently resident in those cities.

Several of the candidates provided transportation to the polls. This was one indication that the tribe's politicians are learning the white man's ways. Such imitation may be flattering, but let's hope the Navajos learn to make better use of the franchise than the palefaces have.

Don't Bank Too Much On It

Recently Allen Dulles, former chief of the Central Intelligence Agency sounded a word of caution in saying that, in his opinion, the Cuban economy will not sink to a point of collapse.

Despite the record of messed-up harvests, severe rationing, shortage of machinery and absence of repair parts and assorted other woes, the fact that Cuba is managing to eke out an existence is an indication that she may continue to do just that.

As a straw in the wind, Russia is sending an agricultural mission to Cuba. The Russian record in this field is hardly one of its bright spots, but the dispatch of a mission is an indication that Russia intends to keep making an investment in Cuba through means other than the miliitary. Another evidence is the promise of more agriculture products from nations in the Soviet sphere. What goes to Cuba may not materially color the issue at home but may cut a figure in Cuba.

Some authorities join Mr. Dulles against over-optimism in expecting an uprising based on economic collapse. They contend that one is more likely to come from people who are bone-weary of neighborhood stool-pigeons, the transfer of land from estates to the government rather than to the peon who bought this promise, the conscription and assignment of labor, the tyrannical suppression of speech and thought and other things repugnant to the souls of men who long for freedom.

Russian Pledges Are No Good

WASHINGTON — Again and again it has been asserted that a promise or pledge made by the Soviet government is not worth the paper it is written on.

Confirmation of that assertion now has come from Alexei Adzhubel, son-in-law of Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

MR. ADZHUBEL has just visited Rome, where he had a private audience with the Pope. There are indications that some kind of effort is being made by the Soviets to establish a better feeling between the Vatican and the Moscow government.

After Mr. Adzhubel left Rome, he was interviewed by reporters in Vienna. He declined to disclose any details of his conference at the Vatican, and a news dispatch quotes him as saying: "I am an atheist. I could break my word to the Holy Father, but I will not."

THE BLUNT STATEMENT that an atheist is under no obligation to keep promises will not come as a surprise to those people who have regarded atheism as a synonym for amorality.

Mr. Khrushchev's son-in-law undoubtedly wants to see a meeting between the Soviet premier and Pope John XXIII. He said, however, that while an exchange of views between them as "heads of state" would be useful, "there can never be peaceful coexistence between the Christian religion and our Communist doctrine."

ODDLY ENOUGH, the negotiations being carried on constantly between the United States government and the Moscow regime are predicated on the assumption that both parties will keep their promises. The prolonged discussion, for instance, of a nuclear-test ban presupposes good faith on both sides.

Likewise, the United States has been relying upon the Soviet government to keep its promise with reference to the withdrawal of Soviet troops and technicians from Cuba. A few thousand have been removed, but now there is no certainty that all of the troops and technicians will be removed.

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Kentucky's first major bridge was constructed in 1856 — a suspension bridge across the Ohio River linking Covington, Ky., and Cincinnati, Ohio.

Aid Report Is Contradictory

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's 10-man committee for examining foreign aid has handed him a confused and contradictory report.

It was clear on two main points and may be helpful on a third, if only because it urged the government to get tougher.

It said foreign aid will be necessary in some form for years and that it needs cutting. The committee also suggested the government demand far more self-help from those getting the aid.

TOTAL American foreign aid since the war is now almost $100 billion. The report's great emphasis on economy is fresh ammunition for those in Congress, like Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., who have been chopping down foreign aid requests from presidents for years.

But the report looks badly organized and poorly thought out. In one unemotional and selfish spot it suggests a what's-in-it-for-me American attitude in giving aid.

But in other places the report says that, even if the conflict with communism were over, aid should continue because this country traditionally has been concerned with the plight of the unfortunate.

THE REPORT stresses the need for military help to countries closest to the Communists and explains: "Several of them are carrying defense burdens far beyond their internal economic capacity and, are providing more than two million armed men ready, for the most part, for any emergency."

They add materially to free world strength so long as conventional military forces are required. It might be better to reduce the resources of our own defense budget rather than to discontinue the support which makes their contribution possible.

BY IN the next paragraph the report suggests several of these countries have forces larger than they need and urges they be cut. This whole section is a jumble.

To Your Good Health

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. This seems to be worry-worry, day, according to my mail. For instance:

Dear Doctor: I had some white spots on my arms at first I spread to my back. The doctor gave me cortisone pills and the spots finally disappeared. Now they are starting again. I was told that cortisone is a dangerous drug to keep taking. What harm can it do, if any?—MRS. W. L.

I'm hard put to guess what the spots may be, but as for cortisone, certainly, it's a dangerous drug. How many drugs can you name that AREN'T?

I don't propose to go through a catalog of conditions that can result from too much cortisone, but brittleness of bones is one, and accumulation of fluid in the system is another.

However, that isn't the important point. What matters is that some drugs are handled under prescription, to insure that a doctor supervises their use.

going to him, then TRUST him implicitly. Rely on him to see that you are not harmed by medication.

Dear Doctor: I read that overuse of hormones causes accelerated hair growth. I had my thyroid gland removed and have been getting thyroid. I also have been getting estrogen and B12 shots once a month for menopause symptoms. Could these be causing hair growth on my lip?—MRS. F. G.

I refer you to the answer in the letter above, plus one or two other points. Yes, excessive amounts of some growth. Estrogen (a hormone) once a month sounds very conservative, and not excessive at all.

THE B12 is a vitamin, not a hormone, and doesn't enter into the picture. Thyroid is a hormone, but of a considerably different kind. It does not cause excessive hair growth.

The thyroid merely replaces the amount that otherwise would be produced by the now-absent thyroid gland. In short, there's no excess at all—just normal.

A moderate increase in hair growth can occur naturally in some women after menopause, but it isn't at all like the growth that can come if truly massive doses of hormones are taken for some unusual condition.

I hope we've laid to rest at least a couple of worries.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it possible to ascertain an enlarged heart, and also if the elasticity has gone from the lungs, without X-ray?—MRS. L. R.

Thumping or tapping the chest will give a physician at least a hint as to whether the heart is enlarged but this may be inaccurate. The most accurate method is by X-ray.

Pulmonary function tests, measuring the amount of air inhaled and exhaled, are far more effective than X-ray in measuring the elasticity of the lungs.

"Don't Quit Because of Arthritis" is the title of my leaflet designed to help all who suffer the aches and pains of arthritis. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is always happy to hear from his readers, but he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters due to the great number received daily. Whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Around The Rim Among Irishmen And Scotsmen—

Did you hear the story about the Irishman who got a job as an observatory? During his first night's duty, he paused to watch a learned professor who was peering through a large telescope. Just then a star fell.

"Man alive!" exclaimed the Mick. "You're a fine shot!"

AND HOW ABOUT the one of the sons of Erin who passed on to his reward and stopped at the Gates of Heaven to jaw with St. Peter.

"Sure, and it's a fine snap you've got here, holding down this soft job cinkery after a century. Saint Peter, nivar being turned out by a change of administration or civil service rules. What a position."

"Ah, but you must bear in mind, Pat," rejoined the guardian of the passage to Heaven, "that in Paradise a million years is but a moment and a million dollars are but a cent."

"Thin, will ye be loaning me a cent?" asked Pat.

"Certainly, in a minute."

A SON OF old Erin once was accosted by a military picket.

"Who are you?" challenged the soldier.

"I'm foine," answered Mike. "Hoo's yerself?"

COULD YOU blame a reporter who was sent by his editor to write up a charity ball? Next day, his boss called him to his desk.

"Look here, what do you mean by this," asked the editor. "Among the most beautiful girls was Jacob Aloysius Fremont. Why, you idiot, old Fremont isn't a girl—and besides, he's one of my principal stockholders."

"I can't help that," retorted the cub, "that's where he was."

ANOTHER REPORTER called upon the oldest inhabitant of a community, who recently had observed his 100th birthday, and, after congratulating the greybeard, asked him a few questions.

"To what do you attribute your longevity?"

The centenarian paused a moment and then, holding up his hand and ticking off the items on his fingers, began:

"I never smoked, drank liquor or overate. And I always get to bed early and rise at six in the morning."

"But," protested the reporter, "I had an uncle who lived that way and yet he lived to be only 80. How do you account for that?"

"I guess he didn't keep it up long enough," was the reply.

HERE'S TO YOU, the patient reader: When climbing the Hill of Prosperity, may I never meet you coming down.

Budget Gives Republicans Trouble

WASHINGTON—In politics, as in baseball, the final score is all that counts today—but there are other indices which foretell what may happen over the season.

THEY ARE the Republicans have badly flubbed their initial efforts to cut the President's budget—but wait a minute.

THERE WERE guffaws last March 13th in the House of Representatives when the GOP, having vowed to nip $3 billion from a Pentagon procurement bill of $15 billion, ended by supporting, in the main, a $500 million increase. The score, or vote on the bill, was 374 to 33, with only the die-hard Republicans holding out to the end.

BUT THAT WASN'T the whole story, and maybe not the heart of the story. A few minutes before the final vote, there was a little-reported episode which more truly reflects, I think, the GOP strength and sincerity for economy.

Curtis of Missouri, who owns about the keenest set of brown eyes at the Capitol, took the play argument on Defense spending is—how much is enough. But there are other bills coming out of committees which we Republicans will fight to cut down—both federal spending and federal responsibility.

NEXT TARGET for the House Republicans, said Curtis, would be the administration's package for training idle youth in conservation work.

Both money and principle are involved, so the Republicans hope to draw more heavily on the Democrats. Another bill in which the GOP will stand and fight is federal aid to medical and nursing schools—the states and communities ought to do this for themselves.

A third resistance point will be on Urban Transportation—clearly, declares Curtis, a job for the cities and communities.

CURTIS ADMITS the Republicans were outfoxed by the Armed Services Carl Vinson (D), who sprung the authorization for aircraft, missiles and naval vessels before the minority members were on their toes.

Since then, the GOP Armed Services members have held four strategy meetings. They expect to fight other Pentagon spending measures—need to fight all summer to knock multibillion dollar holes in the federal budget.

The Republicans have one crafty strategy going for them. "If we can cut spending, we'll agree to cut taxes," says Curtis.

A lot of Democrats will think that's a good bargain.

China—The Dark Spot

We hear a lot about "gaps" today—gaps in missiles, intelligence, housing, schooling, medicine, nutrition, et al. There is a gap, however, about which we Americans hear very little—a gap that is of vital importance to us in view of the increasing Sino-Soviet tensions.

That is the "information" gap about the world's most populous nation, Red China.

NEWS POURS into the American hopper from every other corner of the globe in such minute detail that we worry about the threatened extinction of big game in newly independent African states and can trace the casus belli of a Franco-Brazilian lobster war.

But news out of Red China we have none, except as through a glass darkly, an admixture of gossip, Hong Kong rumors and conflicting propaganda. Even now when the world's most populous nation is challenging the U.S.S.R. for Communist leadership of the globe, we Americans do not have enough information about Red China to make an estimate of its internal situation, politically, economically or militarily.

CAN RED CHINA bring Khrushchev tumbling down in political ruin, as is now believed to be her goal? Can Chou En-lai or Mao Tse-tung wrest the leadership of the Communist conspiracy from

Good Enough To Eat

Rep. Bruce Alger, R-Tex., boasts the sweetest hobby on Capitol Hill in Washington. He makes candy houses in his spare time. Alger is shown putting finishing touches on a Texas ranch style home. The Texan says he makes the candy houses in his Capitol office during lunch periods and spare time, and then turns them over to the Children's Hospital in Washington. Construction plans are Alger's secret, but he does admit that it takes a big bowl of candy to finish off one of his houses.

Governor's Chair Changes Hands

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Democrat Karl Fritjof Rolvaag is to take over today as the 31st governor of Minnesota, a somewhat bittersweet reward for persistence.

The four-year term to which he aspired in the election last Nov. 6 has shrunk to three years and nine months. Not until last Saturday did Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen concede defeat.

During the long weeks of a recount, Rolvaag sat in a drab basement office in the state Capitol. Upstairs, the Republican-dominated Legislature enacted laws and confirmed appointments by Andersen.

Many state departments are headed by Republicans. Only two key appointments are open to Rolvaag. A few department heads have indicated a willingness to resign. Others have said they don't intend to budge.

Rolvaag has told advisers he will demand the resignations of Tax Commissioner Roland F. Hatfield and Highway Commissioner James C. Marshall, Andersen appointees.

The Senate recently confirmed reappointment of Hatfield for a six-year term. Before his confirmation, he would a legislative committee he would not resign even if Rolvaag became governor and asked him to quit.

Marshall, a frequent target of Rolvaag criticism, is serving a four-year term that expires in April 1965. A retired Army general, Marshall has said he intends to complete his term.

Andersen has made many appointments, mostly of a minor nature—such as pharmacists and barbers named to state boards governing their professions.

Hatfield and three other major appointees have been confirmed by the Senate. They are William Joyce, liquor control commissioner; Lawrence McCabe, aeronautics commissioner, and Gerald Bryan, banking commissioner. To force these men to resign, Rolvaag would have to prove malfeasance or nonfeasance.

Rolvaag has told associates he intends to be cooperative and conciliatory with Republicans in state office and the legislature. His middle name, Fritjof, translates from Norwegian as "Peacemaker."

Minnesota legislators are elected on a nonpartisan ballot but those caucusing as Conservatives generally are Republicans; Liberals are Democrats. Conservatives control both houses of the legislature.

Rolvaag, 49, said he doesn't fear working with a 1962 Republican-dominated legislature. As lieutenant governor from 1954 until the end of 1962, he presided over the conservative Senate.

In his last two-year term in the No. 2 spot, the former insurance company executive was a vociferous critic of Andersen. In 1962 Rolvaag became the Democratic candidate for the state's first four-year governor term. More than 1.2 million persons voted in the election.

The result was so close that neither candidate would claim victory. The State Canvassing Board eventually ruled Andersen the victor by 142 votes, and Rolvaag asked for a recount. Teams retailed each voting machine and checked every paper ballot. Finally a special panel of three district judges heard arguments. Last Friday, the panel declared Rolvaag the victor by 91 votes.

In the meantime, Andersen, 51, retained office. He sent messages and appointments to the legislature and he signed bills into law. Andersen conceded Saturday and vacated the governor's office.

Tower To Get H-SU Degree

BROWNWOOD (AP)—Howard Payne College will confer an honorary degree of doctor of laws on Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., April 5.

The college president, Dr. Guy Newman, said Tower will speak in connection with Howard Payne's annual "Democracy in Action" week program.

DEAR ABBY

This Is A Tickler!

DEAR ABBY: I grew a beard for the Piedmont Mo. Centennial in 1955. I got the prize for the longest beard in town. I also had a beautiful mustache, which measured 7 1/2 inches long. After the celebration I shaved my face clean. Everyone told me I should have kept the mustache. My wife especially. I am starting to grow one again, but I don't know how to shape it. Is there a book of pictures showing different styles and shapes of mustaches? I'm pretty good with a straight-edge razor. Does any place still sell mustache wax? F.W.M.

DEAR F.W.M.: Ask the best barber in town to shape your mustache the first time, then follow his line. (He'll know which style suits you best.) Mustache wax can be found in drug stores. Good luck. Your wife will be tickled. I'm sure.

DEAR ABBY: How does a girl know what to order on a date? For instance, last night, after a school dance (not formal), three of us couples went out to eat. I don't know how much money my date had and I didn't want to take a chance on embarrassing him, so I said I wasn't very hungry and all I wanted was coffee. My date ordered himself a shrimp cocktail, steak sandwich, French fries and a sundae. The other kids ordered the same. What should I have done? THE CONSIDERATE ONE

DEAR CONSIDERATE: Before ordering you should have asked your date for a suggestion. Or, "What do YOU feel like?" Even after having ordered coffee and everyone else had ordered extravagantly, you could have said, "I've changed my mind. I'll have the same."

DEAR ABBY: About those busy-bodies in "Small Town," who thought the man with five small children should have delayed his second marriage out of respect to his wife's recent death: Wonder if any of them ever offered to help with the kids, or brought over a hot meal, or volunteered to do a day's laundry? He was fortunate to have found someone to step in. He needs sympathy and understanding, not criticism. I, for one, wish them all the luck in the world. VIEW FROM THE HILL

Little Theatre Production To Open Friday

"Kind Lady" will be produced Friday and Saturday nights in the Municipal Auditorium by the Big Spring Civic Theatre, another in the current season.

Curtain time for the production is 8:15 p.m. each day and tickets will be available at the door. Season ticket holders need only show their membership pass at the door.

Richard Robertson is director for the production and Pete Stone is producer. Robert Aldridge and Dick McClurg, who have given the theatre group its best sets, have prepared this one. Jon Christenson had a hand on it as well.

Yvonne Huffins handled properties, John Arnold will be sound director and James Woodruff will operate the lights.

City To Consider Air Equipped Cars

Three bids for two new police cars, with or without air conditioning, have been tabulated and will be considered by the Big Spring city commission at Tuesday night's meeting.

Shasta Ford Sales submitted low bids. The commission will consider the bids, based on specifications and price.

Pollard Chevrolet submitted a bid of $1,416 without air conditioning and $1,681 with, allowing $900 trade-in value on each of the two old cars. The base bid for Chevrolet was $2,316.

Jones Motor Co., Dodge dealers, bid $1,472.91 and $1,572.91 for the two cars without air, and $1,772.91 and $1,872.91 with air, allowing $1,050 and $950 trade-ins. Base bid was $2,522.91.

Shasta's base bid was $2,619.15. Trade-in allowance was $1,210.02.

For both old cars, leaving a net of $1,409.13 for each car without air, and $1,572.73 with air.

The commission will hold a public hearing on the city budget for 1963-64 and, if approved, will set the city's tax rate at $1.50 per $100 valuation. The budget will be ready for use by April 1.

A public hearing will also be held on a request for on-premises consumption of beer at the northeast corner of Third and Galveston. The request was made by Bill Stoval.

In other business, the commission will consider proposals received for a bank depository; proposals for codification of the city's ordinances; bids on lubricating oils and greases for six months; consider authorization of bids for a garbage and trash container system, and consider plans to call a public hearing on continuing assessment paving Project III.

Ordinances to be read and considered include: authorizing the sale of beer for on-premises consumption of beer at the Lucky M Drive-in, 3507 US 80 West; changing zones from residential to retail on Block 32, Section 41, in the northeast corner of Snyder Highway and IS 20, and Block 33, Section 26 at the northwest corner of US 87 and Andrews Highway, and second reading of ordinances changing Lots 11, 12, 13, Block 1, Thorpe Addition from residential to planned district for neighborhood service, and changing the southeast corner of Twenty-fifth and Burdwell from residential to planned district for multi-family residence to permit an apartment building.

Mortar Shell Injures Boy, 5

DALLAS (AP) — Michael Ammons, 5, picked up a mortar shell marked "practice" Sunday and the souvenir exploded, ripping him with shell fragments.

The father, Horace Ammons, said the family stopped at a Kingman, Ariz., cafe en route to his former job at Alcatraz Prison at the Seagoville Correctional Institution near here. Ammons said one of his three sons picked up the shell there.

Ammons said he allowed the boys to keep the shell because of its markings.

Senate Clamp On Debate Protested By Demo Club

A resolution strongly attacking secret sessions in the State Senate, and protesting any clampdown on public debate has been passed by the Howard County Democratic Club.

The organization took action at its recent monthly meeting, and ordered copies of the resolution sent to the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, members of the Senate, and various Democratic leaders.

Whereas: In recent action on the floor of the Senate, the presiding officer disallowed public debate on certain rule changes, having to do with the expulsion of any senator revealing information as to the stand taken by the various senators on measures before the Senate while in secret sessions.

Whereas: Such disallowances, rules, and promulgation of secret sessions, abrogate the constitutional rights of the citizens of Texas, and deprives them of knowing how their senator voted.

Whereas: All elected officials are bound by oath, and morally pledged to uphold the principles of justice, freedom, and democracy, and the aforesaid actions are contrary to, and detrimental to such principles. Now therefore be it

Resolved: Re the aforesaid actions, that the members of the Howard County Democratic Club are unequivocally opposed to, and strongly condemn such flagrant disregard of said principles, by the chair and various of the senators. And be it further

Resolved: That the Lt. Governor and senators of the State of Texas, are requested to take immediate and appropriate remedial action setting right the affairs of this public body. And further.

Resolved: That copies of this resolution be forwarded on to the Governor, Lt. Governor, senators, Democratic state chairman, district chairmen and chairwomen, and all Democratic county chairmen in the 24th senatorial district.

Few Absentee Votes Are Cast

Little interest is being shown by absentee voters in the forthcoming city commission and city school trustee elections.

Ten days of the absentee voting period have elapsed with only two votes cast in the election for trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District. The election will be held April 6.

The number can be expected to climb, however, as the deadline of April 2 approaches.

There are four candidates in the race for the two seats on the school board which are at stake in the election. In the running are Bennett Brocke, Wayne Basden, Leslie Raymond Thomas and Harold Talbot, incumbent.

Voters expecting to be out of town April 2 when the election for two city commissioners will be held, are not rushing to the city clerk's office to cast absentee ballots.

"Not a single vote has been cast," C. R. McCleary, secretary, said Monday morning, "and requests for ballots have been made. The deadline is Friday."

Three candidates have filed for places on the ballot: Paul Kasch and John Stanley are seeking reelection and Roscoe Cone has filed as a new candidate.

Burglars Get Only 40 Cents

A lot of work and effort were used some time Sunday to break into two Swartz stores, and the monetary reward amounted to only 40 pennies taken from the cash register.

Adolph Swartz, told police about 4 p.m. Sunday that the back doors were damaged. Locks were broken in both places but he could find nothing else missing, at first.

A neighbor, Frank Sabatho, who was in his office at 214½ Runnels, said he saw a couple of boys in the alley, but paid no attention to the noise because he thought a plumber was working.

T. S. Hastings, who parked his car at the Casa Grande Courts, 401 NW 8th, reported the theft of a tire and wheel, and a box of tools, between 8 and 10 p.m. Sunday. Value of the stolen items was around $200.

Dr. Mann To Speak Here Tuesday

Dr. Frank R. Mann, national director of the Child Evangelism Fellowship, is to speak in Big Spring Tuesday evening. "Re-deeming the Time" will be the theme for the meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., at the Community Room, First Federal Savings and Loan Building.

The sound, color film, "Our Children," will be shown which will be followed by a time of informal fellowship. State directors of the Child Evangelism Fellowship, Leona Hooper and Louise Paulger, announced that friends throughout the area are invited to attend.

Woman Tells What It's Like On A Starvation Diet

Editor's Note — When admittedly fat Mary Ferguson moved into a hotel room to get away from the temptations of her own cooking, she caught the imagination of millions. Here is her story of her continuing fast, written exclusively for The Associated Press.

By MARY FERGUSON
Written for The Associated Press
LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Seven days have gone by—170 hours without food—and I'm feeling like a rose blooming on a dewy vine.

Sounds kind of corny, I know—but it's true. I've lost 12 pounds and I am down to 232.

I'm 3½ inches smaller around the hips, 2 smaller around the waist and 4 smaller around the bust.

It's hard to guess just yet how much I'll lose between now and next Sunday, when my self-imposed fast is over. My doctor says I will average about two pounds a day, but I'm hoping for more.

I promised myself and my husband that I would fast for two weeks, locked up here in my hotel room, but everything is going so well I think I'll keep it up even after I go home.

What I really want to do is get down to 128 pounds, which would be just right for my 5-foot-2 height.

My husband calls me at least twice every day, and when I told him my new measurements—35½ hips, 44 waist and 49 bust—he said: "Honey, that's wonderful. Keep it up. I know you can, and I love you."

He's a wonderful man. Slender, not like me, and with white hair at 45 he's very distinguished-looking. I started this fast because I wanted a new dress for Easter. I want to be down to at least a size 20½. That way I can find something with a little color in it, not those drab blacks that you get in size 24½.

I know I'll get a new dress now—my husband Arthur has already promised it to me.

The doctor told me the first 48 hours would be the hardest, that after that my stomach would shrink and there wouldn't be any hunger pangs.

I've found, however, that it is rough for the first 72 hours. All I have had is coffee, tea and bouillon. I have coffee at 8 a.m. with no cream or sugar, just a little saccharine. Then iced tea at noon and coffee again at 4 p.m. The closest thing to food I have is bouillon, at 7 p.m.

My worst time of all came with the bouillon, last Tuesday night. The waiter who brought up my tray made a mistake—there was a big plate of crackers on it. "That's not my tray," I told him. "Get it out of here. Get it out of here."

I guess he must have thought I was about to flip. "Now, don't get excited lady," he told me. "I'll take the crackers back."

The sight of the crackers was evidently too much for me to bear, however, and I was terribly sick for hours afterward. I didn't sleep too well after that. My stomach just seemed to churn all night.

Somehow, I guess it was association. I had a craving for cheese to go with the crackers I didn't have. I had visions of all kinds of cheeses, American and Swiss, in great big chunks.

On Wednesday I awoke and felt terribly depressed.

For about an hour I felt I couldn't go on any longer. It was the worst feeling I've had since I came here. But I immediately prayed to St. Jude—the patron saint of those who try the impossible—and I said my Rosary. After that I began to feel a little better.

Later in the morning the hunger came back. For a minute I felt like I was leaving this world completely, but I got up and chewed a stick of gum and felt better immediately.

I guess I've crammed my system with so much sweet stuff for years and years now that when it's not getting anything sweet it balks a little bit. I guess the little sugar I chewed out of the gum came to its rescue.

Since then I have found that eating really isn't so terribly necessary. It's really a very bad habit we acquire to compensate for our feelings of inadequacy.

I feel calmer now than I have for months. Fasting seems to bring a wonderful tranquility. I honestly believe I'm having such an easy time of it because God is with me.

I've offered up any suffering I may go through to the blessed Lord for all my past sins and gluttonous actions. I really believe that because of it He is helping me bear up with this fast very well.

Some of the nicest people have written me—more than 100 letters. I'm going to answer every one of them, too.

Tribute To Marilyn Has A Superficial Treatment

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Marilyn Monroe died tragically last summer, leaving behind a legend of glamor and a history of unhappiness.

Sunday night, ABC broadcast the first of several television and film biographies of the blonde beauty which are in preparation. It was not a noteworthy job—a string of newsreel clips, a lot of still photographs, a few bits from old movies and a fuzzy kinescope from a "Person to Person" interview, glued together by a sticky, adjective-laden script narrated soulfully by Mike Wallace. It was a highly superficial treatment.

Sunday night's NBC drama, "Diamond Fever," was an old-fashioned thriller about a sinister master jewel thief with his eye on the million-dollar Hartwick diamonds. He didn't get them, of course, even if he was Peter Lorre. The good diamond cutter's bad brother tipped off the cops.

What made the show a little different was a sub-plot about whether the good diamond cutter could cleave an uncut stone without shattering it. Mostly, however, it was a lot of rushing around and very little suspense.

Whole Family Gets Into Act

Producer Joe Pasternak's creed is to make pictures for the enjoyment of the entire family, and with the current release of "The Courtship of Eddie's Father," he has managed to get almost every member of the family in his film titles.

Way back in 1935, Pasternak made a picture in Budapest titled "Little Mother." After coming to Hollywood, he created "Three Daring Daughters."

There is no "son" in any of Pasternak's productions, but he came close to it with "Where the Boys Are."

As for aunts and nieces, they could fall under the category of his 1936 film, "The Opposite Sex."

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
(© 1963, By The Chicago Tribune)

Q. 1—As South you hold:
♠ J 10 7 4 3 ♡ 3 ♦ A 7 6 4 ♣ K Q 2

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Four spades. You should be unwilling to play for less than game. A three spade bid would be inadequate, since that is not forcing once you have passed. Partner might say, "We could not possibly have a game, partner, in view of your previous pass," and would be at liberty to drop the bidding at the part score.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
♠ A 4 ♡ A 9 5 ♦ K 10 8 2 ♣ A 8 7 3

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—We would accept partner's invitation and proceed to game by bidding either three no trump or four hearts, with a slight preference for the latter on account of the ruffing value to be found in the doubleton spade. Your hand contains 15 points in high cards alone and, since partner has bid twice, he must have better than an average hand. He may, therefore, be counted upon for 11 points and that accounts for the necessary 26 points to warrant a game commitment.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
♠ Q J 10 4 ♡ K 4 ♦ Q 5 ♣ A Q J 6 2

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—While you may have had mild aspirations when your partner opened the bidding, his subsequent calls have been anything but encouraging, and you must be content with a game contract. Bid three no trump.

Q. 4—Partner opens with one diamond, and you hold:
♠ 7 4 ♡ J 10 6 5 ♦ Q 10 8 5 ♣ K 9 4

What is your response?
A.—There is only one bid that gives an accurate description of your holding, and that is a raise to two diamonds. A response of one heart is completely pointless. If this hand belongs in hearts, partner will be able to bid two hearts over your bid of two diamonds should he happen to have a four card heart suit and sufficient high card values to warrant making the bid.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
♠ Q 10 4 ♡ 6 5 ♦ 7 6 3 ♣ A K 6 3 2

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♠ Pass ?

What action do you take?
A.—Two spades. Your hand contains 10 points in support of spades, which is the top limit for a single raise. If you bid two clubs and partner rebids two spades, you may feel constrained to raise to three, which procedure is overbidding your values by a considerable margin. With this type of hand it is better to get off the spot immediately and describe your hand in one bid.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
♠ K 10 4 ♡ A Q 7 2 ♦ Q 5 ♣ A J 7 6

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—This is a very strong holding, and it might well produce a slam if partner has the ideal hand. In order to learn more about it you should make a temptingly bid of three clubs for, when a major suit has been supported, the mention of some other suit must be treated as a one round force.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
♠ A K 10 9 6 ♦ A J 7 ♣ A 10 5 3 2

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♣ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—A jump shift to three diamonds is our choice. If the bidding develops favorably we may even reach a grand slam. If you are playing with a partner who is not well adapted to scientific bidding, we would find acceptable a direct jump to six clubs.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠ 9 7 6 ♡ Q 7 2 ♦ A K 2 ♣ Q 8 4 2

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—The answer is arrived at on a basis of simple arithmetic. Partner has a maximum of 20 points. You have 11. The partnership therefore cannot have more than 31 points in high cards, and with this balanced hand slam is known to be out of reach. The proper bid, therefore, is three no trump.
