RETALIATION FOR ANTI-CASTRO COMMANDO RAIDS?

MIGs From Cuba Fire Across Bow Of U. S. Ship

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The captain of the merchant ship Floridian said today two Soviet-built MIGs fired shots across the bow and stern of his vessel Thursday 20 miles off the coast of Cuba and he flashed an immediate distress call to the Coast Guard in Miami.

reaction was: "This couldn't be happening to us."
It was the second incident of its kind reported in a month. Two MIGs with Cuban markings fired at the U.S. shrimp boat 60 miles off the Cuban coast last month. The vessel was not hit.

STAYED ON COURSE
The Floridian was traveling at 15.4 knots when the planes approached and stepped its speed to 17 knots during the strafing, but remained on normal course, Olson said.

when the first shots were fired "without warning." He identified the shots as coming from machine cannon.
"The planes were very dark green in color," he said. "There appeared to be a white or tan circular insignia around the fuselage, but we could not make it out."

group which has been making hit-and-run commando raids on Cuban ports—attacks which some U.S. officials fear may fire up another U.S.-Soviet crisis.
The Floridian docked here at 7:05 a.m. Before it reached the dock, four Navy intelligence officers went aboard to interview Olson and the 24 Americans in the crew.

SHIP'S MESSAGE
The ship radioed the Coast Guard about the attack this way:
"The two aircraft swooped out of the east, one flashing over the ship at about 200 feet. A gun burst of about 30 rounds ripped into the Atlantic some 100 yards from the bow. More shots kicked up plumes of water in its wake. The ship was traveling at about 17 knots. The planes then vanished into the west."
U.S. Navy fighter planes from Key West, Fla., alerted by the Coast Guard, screamed into the area. But when they arrived

"there was nothing going on," said one Washington source.
The State Department in Washington announced the incident. Officials there said they had no other details.
The Floridian's owners, the South Atlantic and Caribbean Lines of New York, said the ship was carrying 35 refrigerated trailers of food and has a crew of 24 including the captain, Charles Olson.

dy ordered the Pentagon to ensure that action would be taken against any attackers on U.S. vessels or planes in international waters off Cuba. The Castro regime denied any of its planes had fired on the shrimp boat.
The Floridian, built in Baltimore in 1960, once plied the run between Jacksonville, Fla., and New York.
In New York, Henry Engelbrecht, the line's vice president, said Floridian-type ships cost a little over $4 million, can travel swiftly, usually at 18 1/2 knots.
"We call these ships the Thunderbirds because they are so fast," he said.
Engelbrecht said the Floridian's sister ship, the New Yorker, twice has picked up refugees fleeing Cuba in small boats.

CASTRO REGIME CLAIMS BOAT INCIDENT PROBABLY AN ERROR

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cuban government has told the United States its MIG jets "probably fired in error" at the U.S. ship Floridian and that the Cuban government had "no intention" of shooting at the American ship, the State Department announced today. Press officer Lincoln White disclosed receipt of two messages from the Castro regime in which the Cubans contended their forces were out looking for a "suspect boat." The United States promptly sent Havana a demand for "a full explanation of this matter." White declined to describe the U.S. note as a protest.

Kennedy Calls Strategy Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy called the executive committee of the National Security Council into session today amid a new wave of tension over Cuba.
The inner strategy group, formed during last fall's Cuban crisis, was faced with these developments at its noon meeting:
1. Thursday night's report by a U.S. vessel that two unidentified jet planes shot at it in international waters off Cuba's north coast. The 4,600-ton ship, the Floridian, sailed on toward Miami under U.S. air escort.
2. The withdrawal of Soviet soldiers from Cuba, which the United States deems disappointingly slow. Latest U.S. estimates place 13,000 to 14,000 Soviet military personnel still on the island.
3. Hit-and-run raids by anti-Castro exiles, which Washington fears could make the Caribbean situation worse.

WORD OF ATTACK
Word of the attack on the Floridian was announced by the State Department Thursday night.
It said the U.S. Coast Guard reported receiving a message from the U.S. motor ship—en route from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Miami—that at about 6:05 p.m. two unidentified jet aircraft had fired bursts across the Floridian's bow and stern without striking the ship.

K Blesses Brazil Meet

NITEROI, Brazil (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev sent his blessings. Shouts of "Cuba! Cuba!" rang out under the huge portrait of Prime Minister Fidel Castro. But no Cuban delegates showed up for the opening of the international Cuban solidarity conference.
The Cubans were expected today. Their absence from Thursday night's noisy opening session went unexplained.
Khrushchev set the theme of the conference, a Communist answer to President Kennedy's meeting in San Jose, Costa Rica, with six Central American presidents.
Khrushchev said in his message the San Jose meeting clearly demonstrates that over Cuba "hangs a new menace." Solidarity with Cuba is of essential importance, he said, "and the Soviet people will always continue at the side of the Cuban revolution."
The international conference followed two days of all-Brazilian sessions which began Tuesday night.
The conference was moved to this ancient Indian settlement after Gov. Carlos Lacerda denounced it as subversive and chased the delegates out of Rio de Janeiro.

Write-In Grows For Rutherford

Activity for a write-in campaign for H. H. (Hub) Rutherford to a place on the County School Board was reported today to be gaining headway.
Rutherford, long-time resident of the county, building contractor and former county commissioner, told friends he would serve on the board if the people saw fit to choose him in this manner.
Rutherford would be a board member from Precinct 1.
Thursday, David Gomez announced that he is withdrawing as a candidate, and asked that voters not consider his name.
Ballots for the April 6 election already have been printed, however, and carry Gomez' name.
Friends and supporters of Rutherford reportedly planned contact work for write-in votes in his behalf.

Leaders Discuss Tuberculosis

Common misconception about tuberculosis were exposed Thursday night at a meeting of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association. Speaker was Dr. Charles T. Meadow, (left). Shown with him are Dr. Fred Lurling (right), new president of the local group, and Dr. Frankie B. Williams, outgoing president. About 50 persons were present at the Coden Country Club for the meeting.

TB Not Disappearing, Society Members Told

Tuberculosis is not disappearing from the earth, Dr. Charles T. Meadow, thoracic surgeon from Abilene, told members of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association at a meeting Thursday night at Coden Country Club.
Dr. Meadow, who is also new president of the Taylor County Tuberculosis Association, pointed out common misconceptions about tuberculosis.
"Our hospitals are not as full as they used to be, but this does not mean the disease is disappearing," he said. He added that improved methods of treatment mean faster cures, making more room in tuberculosis treatment facilities. Also, more persons are being treated at their homes than formerly.
As with most other unpleasant facts, persons often assume the attitude that "it can't happen to me," Dr. Meadow said. But it can, he stressed. Good diet and environmental conditions help to hold down the incidence of the disease, but it is not necessarily restricted to the destitute and inhabitants of slum areas.
About 50 club members, their guests and new board members were present at the meeting. New officers were installed.
Dr. Fred Lurling took over from Dr. Frankie B. Williams as president. Other new officers are Sam M. Anderson, vice president; Mrs. George Peacock, secretary; and Mrs. Lee Rogers, treasurer.
At the business meeting which followed the dinner, members received a report on income from the sale of seals and a report on the state meeting held recently in Austin. Next regular meeting is slated for May 21.

Ashley, Lima Face Execution Tonight

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — Lawyers in Washington and Houston made more efforts today to halt the scheduled executions of Leslie Douglas Ashley, a female impersonator, and Carolyn Ann Lima, his girl friend.
Should the Lima girl die tonight for the 1961 murder of a Houston real estate man, she would become the first woman executed in the electric chair in Texas.
Clyde Woody of Houston filed a stay of execution petition there at mid-morning and U.S. Dist. Judge Ben Connally scheduled a 5 p.m. hearing in Austin.
Lloyd Lunsford, another Houston lawyer, was busy in Washington where three justices of the Supreme Court refused Thursday to intervene.
Lunsford said he would try to see other justices today.
Justices Hugo Black and William Brennan Jr. denied applications for stays of execution without comment. Justice Arthur Goldberg said his denial would not rule out a petition for a writ of habeas corpus being filed in federal court in Houston.
A century ago, Chepita Rodriguez was hanged from a mesquite tree on the banks of the Nueces River for killing a rancher.
The Lima woman clapped her hands and laughed when she learned Connally had agreed to a 5 p.m. hearing.
"Oh, that makes me so happy," she said.
Minutes earlier she had been baptized by prison chaplain Cecil McKee, a Methodist minister.
"I think I will die saved because I have been forgiven," she said. "I feel it in my heart. But I'm scared now. I know how pre-

RITES TO MARK BEGINNING ON NURSING HOME

Groundbreaking ceremonies to mark the start of construction of a new nursing home for Big Spring have been announced for 9:30 a.m. Saturday.
Bruce Frazier, head of the corporation which will build and operate what is planned as a 200-bed facility, said the public is invited. Special invitations are going out to various public officials to have a part in turning first dirt.
The home will be called Bennett House, in honor of the late Dr. M. H. Bennett, long-time physician and civic leader here. It is to be located on Goliad Street, between 8th and 9th, just east of the Howard County Hospital Foundation.
The circuit court justice should be fail to receive stays at the Austin hearing.
Until now, no other woman has ever been legally executed in Texas.
Two other women besides Miss Lima have been sentenced to death but the sentences were commuted to life imprisonment.
Ashley, 24, and Miss Lima, 20, were convicted in the Feb. 6, 1961, torch slaying of Fred Tones, a Houston real estate man. His mutilated and nude body was burned with gasoline after being riddled with bullets.
The couple was arrested in a New York City apartment by FBI officers 21 days later after Tones' abandoned automobile was found on a nearby Manhattan street.
The couple testified during their trial that Tones was shot to death during a sex party in his office.
Lunsford contended in his petition to Justice Black that evidence that Ashley and Miss Lima were mentally incompetent to stand trial was suppressed. Also, Lunsford charged that they were common law man and wife and should not have testified against each other.
After hearing Justice Black's ruling, Ashley told a newsman: "I'm ready to go as I can ever be, I guess. I know it's going to be a horrible thing in there." His cell is less than 12 feet from the death chamber.
Miss Lima minutes after she heard a radio report on the ruling, nodded when asked if she had expected such a decision. Then she added: "I feel sorry for Douglas. I don't think he's going to be able to take it."

RUSSIA DEMANDS U.S. PAY DAMAGES

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today demanded that the United States pay damages for a Cuban exile commando raid that crippled the Soviet freighter Baku three days ago.
A note delivered to the U.S. Embassy also threatened to take unspecified measures to protect Soviet shipping from attacks by anti-Castro guerrillas operating in Cuban waters.
The U.S. government has said repeatedly it is doing all it can to discourage such raids by Cuban exile groups.
But Moscow's note charged that the Baku and other attacks on Soviet vessels "are not accidental and isolated actions, but planned provocations directed from a single center on U.S. territory."
The Soviet note was the second such protest this week. In both notes, the Soviets accused the United States of giving support to the exiles.

VICTORY OVER POLIO

Time To Take Your Lumps Again

The final round of the Victory Over Polio campaign in Howard and Glasscock counties will be held Sunday at 11 area clinics as residents are urged to take Type III Sabin vaccine.
Type I and Type II vaccine, the first two steps in the program were administered here earlier to about 65 per cent of the population.
Physicians reminded residents it is important that all types of vaccine are taken to give complete protection. Each vaccine is protection from one type of polio. All three are necessary to win the polio battle.
The clinics, in various schools, will be open from noon until 5 p.m. The vaccine is free, though a donation may be made to help defray the costs of the program.
The Victory Over Polio campaign is sponsored by the Permian Basin Medical Society, the Jaycees, the various P-TA groups, local pharmacists, nurses, and other civic workers.
The vaccine will be administered as before, on a lump of sugar. Residents should take the inoculation card given them when they took the other vaccine types. Otherwise, fill out the authorization form (below) and bring it to the clinic.
Residents may go to any convenient clinic and should take the Type III vaccine, whether or not

Business Pickup Raises Estimates

WASHINGTON (AP) — A perceptible brightening of the business outlook has caused the administration to boost—unofficially—its estimate of national output in 1963.

The pickup now foreseen is too slight to cause a drop in the high rate of unemployment, official sources said, but it should prevent any further rise in joblessness and has virtually dispelled fears of a recession this year. It also could improve the federal budget outlook slightly.

Highly sensitive business indexes now point to a better than anticipated spring, but the tipoff to a shift in administration thinking came from D. Walter W. Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, in a speech last Monday to the Magazine Publishers Association.

Heller dropped the hint so guardedly that reporters did not pick it up. National production, he said, should total $578 billion to $580 billion in 1963. His January forecast was $578 billion.

Administration sources said today that Heller's phrasing was deliberate and significant. National output could go $1-billion to $2-billion higher than was foreseen only 2½ months ago; the $578 billion figure is now in the lower range of expectations.

The improvement should create enough new jobs to absorb the year's crop of new entrants to the labor force, it was estimated, but not enough to take up any of the idle capacity in industry or reduce the unemployment rate from the unsatisfactory area of 6 per cent. It was 6.1 per cent last month.

There will be no letup, therefore, in Kennedy's pressure on Congress for tax reduction as a business stimulant, officials emphasized.

They pointed out that a total output of $580 billion would represent only a $26-billion increase from last year—very slightly more than the $25-billion rise in 1962 which failed to prevent rising unemployment.

A spring uptick is suggested by the leading indicators, a group of business indexes whose changes generally anticipate the direction of up or down trends in the economy as a whole.

Of the 17 such indicators so far available for February, all but four showed rises. This was the best showing since the late summer of 1961 when the business recovery was gaining momentum—a momentum that diminished in 1962.

The signposts which point up include a longer work week, a drop in new claims for jobless pay, a rise in permits for new housing starts, a decline in business failures, an uptick in the stock market and a gain in long-range buying orders for production materials.

The leading indicators fluctuated widely from month to month throughout the second half of last year, however, and led some economists to predict a recession in early 1963 instead of the "mild, moderate and inadequate expansion" foreseen by the President's council.

Government economists are reluctant to pin their faith on the leading indicators until it becomes clear whether the February upturn was just another jolt in the sawsaw movement or a genuine trend.

They are more impressed by the February rise in new orders to manufacturers, the increase in planned outlays of corporations for new plant and equipment, and the strength of retail demand—reflected in sales running 7 per cent ahead of a year ago.

Bullish sentiment was bolstered by Heller's speech on Monday, in which he said that "relative to our forecasts, the beginning of 1963 was as good as the beginning of 1962 was bad."

MacNamara Says U.S. In Atom Standoff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has told Congress the United States is entering an era of a nuclear standoff with the Soviet Union—a time when neither can launch a nuclear attack without getting one in return.

But despite that prospect, McNamara declared this country intends to win the cold war and "I believe in a reasonable sense of the word we are winning."

"Our objective," he said, "is defeat of the Communists. I do not believe we can achieve that victory by engaging in a strategic nuclear war. I think that kind of stalemate will become increasingly more controlling with the passage of time."

McNamara dealt with this potential "mutual deterrence" during six days of closed-door hearings which began Feb. 6 before a House Defense Appropriations subcommittee that questioned him about the Pentagon's budget.

A censored transcript of his testimony was made public today. "In no sense of the word is there Soviet nuclear superiority today," he asserted, "nor is there nuclear parity measured in terms of numbers of weapons."

Regardless of his theory of mutual deterrence, McNamara preferred not to describe it as a stalemate.

"Stalemate implies lack of action and I visualize our military program leading to quite the contrary," he said. "I visualize it leading to action in the foreign policy field."

The American aim is to "advance the cause of freedom throughout the world," he said, "and to do this in a way that protects our own national security, which means we are not prepared to destroy our nation in the process of attempting to advance freedom elsewhere in the world."

During the six days in the witness chair, McNamara ranged over issues of war and peace in the past, present and future.

As for the Cuban crisis, the defense secretary said the administration made no deals with Soviet Premier Khrushchev to get him to withdraw offensive weapons from Cuba last fall.

American nuclear might forced the Kremlin to back down, he said.

"That may be difficult to understand for some, but it is not difficult for me to understand, because we faced that night the possibility of launching nuclear weapons and Khrushchev knew it," McNamara said. "And that is the reason, and the only reason, why he withdrew those weapons."

He also said there is nothing in the U.S. arsenal to match for range—plus mobility—the medium range ballistic missiles the Soviet Union set up in Cuba.

The Air Force is at work on a project to develop a mobile, accurate, light-weight missile that could be carried on trucks, which is the way the Soviet missiles were transported, he said.

A Sniff Of Spring

The rite of spring began over this land of ours, and all the fractious roverboys came romping, all the frisky fluttergirls came flaunting from wintry cocoons. And little fluttergirls like Leigh Ann Atmar sniffed flowers and flipped for photographer. Some discerning botanist may note that the object of Leigh Ann's sniffer is artificial. No matter, her imagination makes it as real as the joy in her blooming face. Leigh Ann, 2½, is the fluttergirl of Mr. and Mrs. Timon E. Atmar of Houston.

Police Probing Langdon Death Say Student Lied

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Police say an Arizona State College student who turned in a pistol in the slaying of Fort Worth socialite Jane Langdon lied about where he got the gun.

Arthur Brown Jr., 24, originally said he found the weapon. Police quoted him Thursday as saying he stole the weapon.

Investigators say the pistol could be the one used to kill the TCU girl, 21.

Miss Langdon's body, with three bullet holes in it, was found Saturday in an abandoned mine shaft north of Phoenix.

The FBI said the gun couldn't be identified or eliminated in the killing. It is a .38 caliber weapon. One .38 caliber slug was found in the victim. Test firing was inconclusive, the FBI reported.

Police said Brown underwent a lie detector test and denied any part in the slaying but they said that test, too, was inconclusive.

Brown turned the weapon in to Casa Grande police the day the body was discovered. He said then that he found it along the black canyon highway between Phoenix and Flagstaff, where the college is located.

Brown and his pregnant wife said they were asleep in their campus cottage when Miss Langdon was last seen about 4:15 a.m. March 21.

Sheriff's Sgt. Jerry Hill said Brown's claim that he attended a 7 a.m. class that day hadn't been proved. He said students were divided on whether Brown was in attendance.

Showers Due In Northeast

By The Associated Press
Cooler air spreading over Texas is due to touch off thundershowers in the northeast portion of the state Friday.

Skies early Friday were clear to partly cloudy in the western portion and generally cloudy to partly cloudy in the eastern half. The cooler air is expected to take the edge off of summer-like temperatures that prevailed over much of Texas Thursday when the mercury shot to 99 degrees at Presidio, the highest reading in the nation.

Temperatures of 90 degrees or higher were also recorded at Wink, Childress, San Angelo, Midland, Abilene, Laredo, Amarillo, Lubbock, Mineral Wells and Wichita Falls. The low maximum Thursday was 73 degrees at Galveston.

No rain was reported in the state Thursday.

Early morning temperatures Friday ranged from 59 degrees at Wink to 71 at McAllen and Corpus Christi. Brownsville, Laredo and Childress had 70s. Other reporting points had readings in the 60s.

FOSTERING PRIDE

"Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world" (I Jno. 2:15, 16).

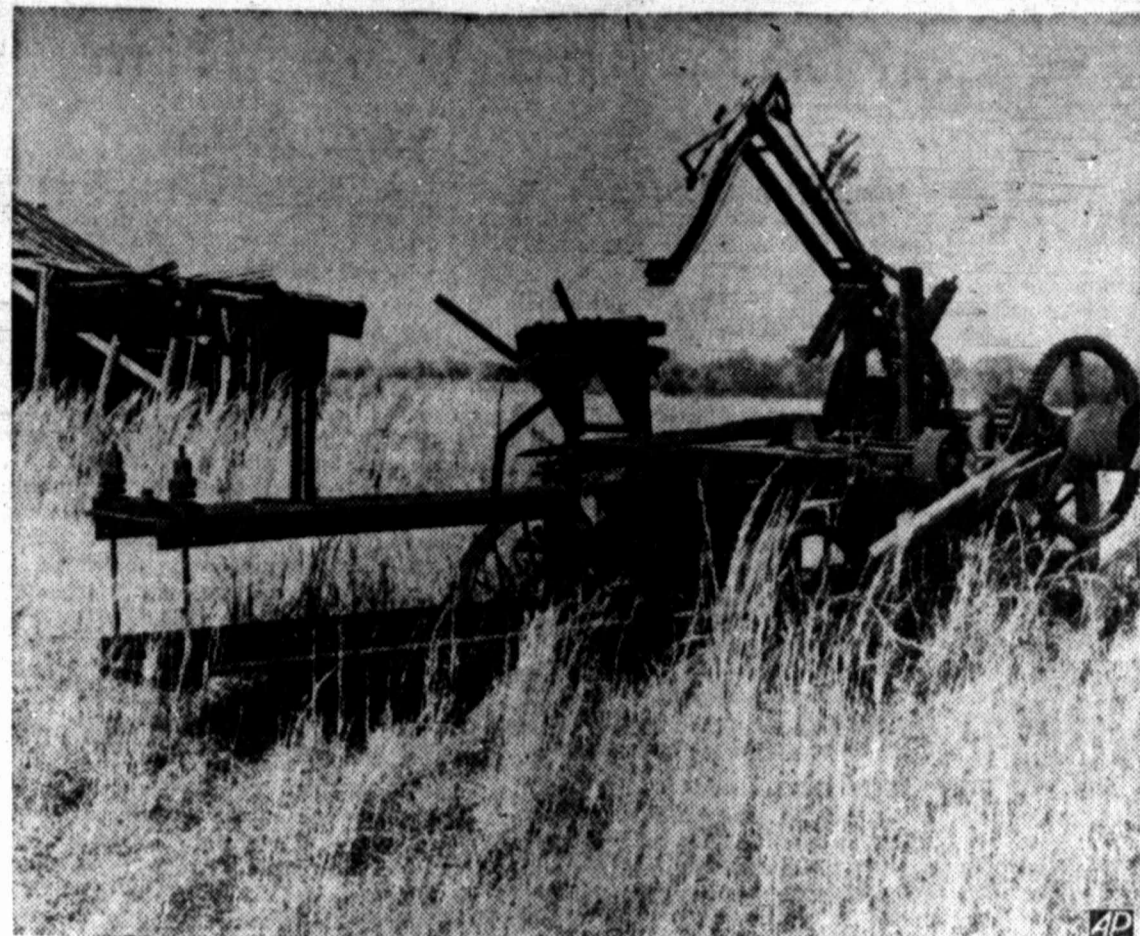

In spite of scriptures like this, religious leaders and religious organizations sometimes appeal to the pride of man. They make their worship services artistic; and the people come to observe rather than to participate in worship. Frankly, I cannot reconcile the teaching and example of Christ with the robed choir.

I cannot conceive of a church sponsoring a contest to see who is accomplished artist in the field of church music.

May I make this humble plea: Let all of us in the religious world consider the danger of defeating our own purpose by fostering pride.

'Who, Me?' Say Hopefuls For President

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
An AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the "Who, me?" season in presidential politics.

It is the season when a man mentioned as presidential timber affects surprise, if possible, modestly vowing he is no candidate, and points to other men as more worthy of the exalted office.

This ritual, while not apt to fool anybody, is dictated by the political strategy books, for two reasons:

1. If the voters get the idea a man has vaulting ambitions they might decide to thwart them.
2. It is wise to avoid the political error known technically as "peaking." If the boom for you reaches a peak too soon, it may have no place to go but down, and some late starter might get the prize.

Latest example of the technique was a remark Wednesday by Sen. Barry Goldwater, Arizona Republican, considered by many conservatives to be the man to knock off President Kennedy in 1964.

Goldwater said the name that keeps coming into his mind is not Goldwater but William F. Knowland of California. He described Knowland as "a strong figure for that race."

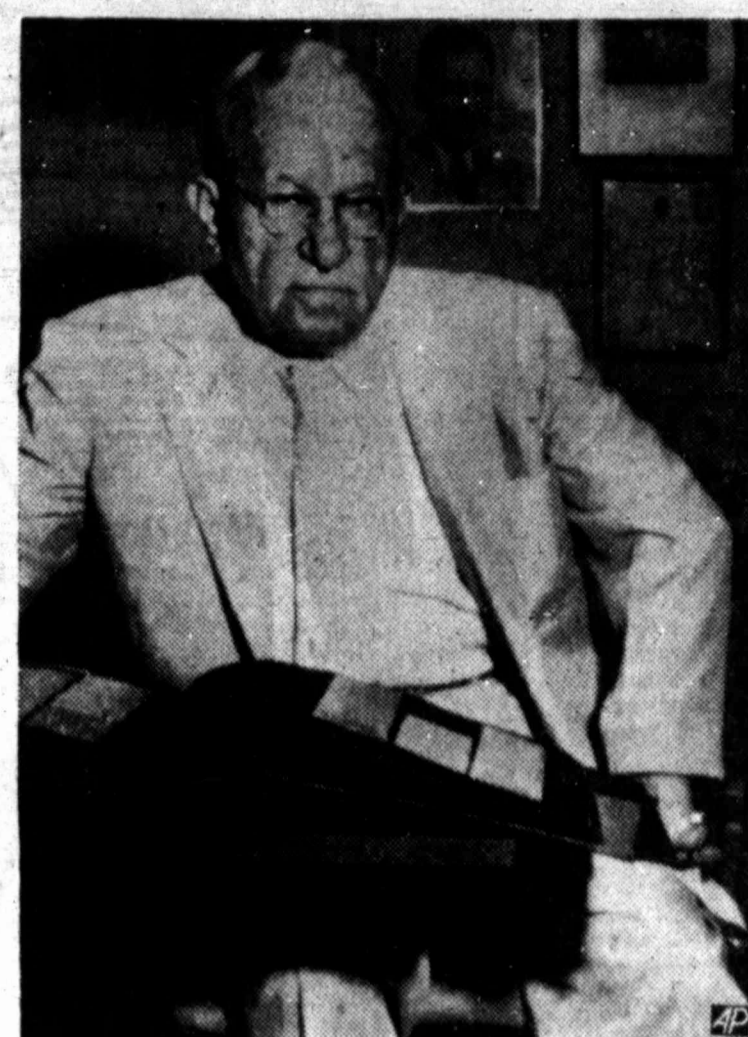

Big Bill Knowland was formerly Republican leader of the U.S. Senate, where he served from 1945 to 1958. In 1958 he decided to run for governor of California, and lost, his only defeat in a quarter-century of politics. In 1956 he would have been among the contenders for the GOP presidential nomination if President Eisenhower had decided to retire, which he did not.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, classed as the favorite for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, is faithfully following the time-hallowed formula.

Nobody doubts he is running hard, but he has proclaimed that the party should stay flexible, looking over the many splendid Republicans who would make fine presidents.

Rockefeller's aides are sternly discouraging admirers of the governor who are moving to open up "Rocky for President" offices in various states. Many party stalwarts consider the governor so far ahead they are grabbing for his coattails. This tends to create jealousy and militates against the party unity which Rockefeller desires.

Other practitioners of the technique of self-effacement include Republican Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

Women Would Lose By Equal Rights, Panel Says

AUSTIN (AP)—"Married women are likely to lose more than they would gain" from a proposed constitutional amendment on women's equal legal rights, a State Bar committee says.

A proposed Constitution change passed the Senate with little difficulty two months ago and is scheduled to be heard April 9 by a House committee. If approved by the legislature it would go to Texas voters for a verdict.

In its resolution opposing the measure, the State Bar committee on the Texas Constitution said a sweeping amendment might "open a veritable Pandora's box of litigation."

On March 25, a Dallas attorney appealed to State Bar President Leon Jaworski for "prompt action in opposition" to the proposal.

"The hazard to sound jurisprudence is sufficiently grave to require the State Bar to vigorously protest and oppose the proposal," said the attorney, John N. Jackson, who is chairman of the Bar's banking laws committee.

The banking laws committee looked into five other bills on phases of women's rights and called three of them "A much better approach to the solution of the problem of coverture" than a constitutional amendment. The three would amend existing statutes to remove married women's disabilities.

Another measure proposing an equal rights amendment, by Rep. Rayford Price, Frankston, was labeled "not as objectionable as SJR2" (the first proposed amend-

Aid Asked For Two Families After Fliers Disappeared

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Two U.S. senators and a representative have been asked to aid two families who were left without means of support when a pair of American fliers disappeared on a reported secret mission over Cuba in December 1961.

The two, Robert Thompson, 28, of Charleston, W.Va., and Robert Swanner, 26, of Miami, left Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Dec. 14, 1961 in a twin-engine private plane after telling friends they had been hired for a leaflet-dropping mission over Cuba.

The most positive word so far on their fate came recently when a refugee, brought from Cuba aboard the mercy ship Shirley Lykes, told newsmen he had seen the plane crash after it had been hit by Cuban anti-aircraft fire, killing both pilots.

The case is reminiscent of that involving four former American airmen who were shot down over Cuba while flying B26 bombers in the Bay of Pigs invasion in April 1961 with one difference.

The widows of the four have been receiving regular compensation checks from a trust fund set up by Double Check Corp. of Miami. Double Check said it had hired the men as an agent for a Central American group which it declined to identify.

Mrs. Thompson, who has three children, and Mrs. Swanner, who has a young son, have received small amounts from friends of the fliers.

Lacking official confirmation of their husbands' deaths, they have not been able to collect on insurance policies or receive Social Security survivors' compensation.

The pleas of Beatrice Thompson and Joyce Swanner have been sent to Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., and Rep. Clifford G. McIntyre, R-Maine. The senators' Washington offices have said they will look into the Social Security payments problem.

After her husband vanished, Mrs. Thompson and her sons Michael, 9, and Ricky, 8, and daughter Debbie, 6, lived at Melbourne, Fla. Later the family moved to the home of Thompson's mother, Blanche Debolt, at Charleston, W.Va.

Last month she took the children to live with her father, Lawrence Paradis, at his home in Presque Isle, Maine. The Paradis home was damaged by fire March 20. Mrs. Thompson, who lost some of her husband's mementos in the fire, lives with the children in an apartment in Presque Isle.

Mrs. Swanner and her son David, 6, continued to live in Florida for a time after her husband vanished. Then she moved to her parents' home at Indianola, Miss.

"It was like a nightmare at first," said Mrs. Thompson. "We got some welfare aid in Melbourne, but it wasn't enough. I tried to work but I was unable to continue. I was living on pills to relieve the tension."

"I tried everybody—the FBI, the Border Patrol, the Coast Guard and even called the White House," Mr. Andrew Hatcher (assistant press secretary) at the White House said he would look into it, but that was the last he heard.

Mrs. Swanner, 24, said she, too, had run into official silence when she tried to find out what had happened to her husband.

"I don't know what to do," she said. "I do wish someone would clear up this thing and kill the ghost of it once and for all."

Another chapter in the case unfolded recently in Circuit Court in Miami over compensation for the loss of the twin-engine Piper Apache which Thompson and Swanner flew.

Rev. Abbott To Conduct Revival At Kentwood

A revival meeting is scheduled for Kentwood Methodist Church beginning March 31, and running through April 7. The guest preacher will be the Rev. Merriel Abbott, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Clyde.

Prayer services for adults will be held each day at 7 p.m., and a film will be shown for children and youth at the same hour. The men will have a breakfast meeting at 6:45 a.m. each day. Regular preaching services will be at 7:30 p.m. each day.

Special music will be furnished by the choir, directed by Joe Burchfield. Frank Arner will be pianist.

The Rev. and Mrs. Abbott have three children. He has served pastorates in the Spur Circuit, at Lone Oak, Wesley Methodist Church, Lubbock; First Methodist Church, Lorraine, and First Methodist, Clyde. He did his undergraduate work at Texas Tech, and his seminary work at Perkins School of Theology, SMU, Dallas.

IT SHALL NOT DIE!

One of the most striking statements of the Scriptures is that where Jesus, promising the perpetual existence of the church, said: "and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

DAVID TARDET
Jesus said that the seed of the kingdom is the word of God, Lk. 8:11. As long as the seed exists the kingdom lives. In every period of the Christian era the kingdom has existed in embryo form wherever the Scriptures were to be found. When this seed is sown in the hearts of men today it produces the same church which Jesus established. Does the church of Christ today need to trace its history back through every century to prove its authenticity? No. When the "seed of the kingdom" is planted today it produces the same plant that it did in the first century—the church that Jesus built.
You can be a member of the original church of Christ today! Come and see. Northside church of Christ, 601 N. Runnels. Sunday 10 and 11 a.m. 6 p.m.

A Devotional For The Day

Thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it: (Isaiah 30:21.)

PRAYER: Almighty God, we thank Thee for Thy Holy Word, food for our souls, light for our pathway, and weapons for our battle against the powers of evil. Help us to live in the spirit of Jesus, and to pray as He taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Be Safe . . . Take Sabin Sunday

It takes all three to do the job as it ought to be done, so thousands of Big Spring and Howard County people are urged to take the third round of polio vaccine on Sunday.

The first two rounds of the Sabin polio vaccine have been comparatively well received. While it would have been better had all but a handful reported for the vaccine, the 60 per cent who did turn out represent enough to have a tremendously important impact on a potential outbreak of polio. In a sense, the portion is enough that it likely would serve as a fireguard in event of a threatened epidemic.

The best thing, however, is that those who have taken their other Sabin vaccine types and who follow through Sunday will have an almost certain personal immunity. This should be a source of peace of mind for hundreds of families.

We hope that yours is one of them and that you make a date with the Sabin centers Sunday a must for the weekend.

Back The Bands

This evening the three school bands in Big Spring will present their spring concert, traditionally the highlight of the year's work. It would be a fine gesture for a lot of people other than parents and uncles and aunts of the players to make it a point to attend. They would be well repaid for their time.

Steady strides are being made in our music program, and this is true of the instrumental part. Over several seasons, the quality of performance has steadily increased, and with this there has come an esprit de corps. Youngsters are finding it fun to be in the bands. They also are finding it good musical training, for our ratio of first division performers (superior) is higher than most schools. In fact, if memory serves us correctly, Big Spring High School has more soloists in the all-state band than any other school in Texas.

The number of our high school players who are being singled out to play in a neighboring symphony is another evidence of their proficiency.

The color and pageantry of a football game won't be present this evening, but excitement will be. The band program is an integral part of our total educational program, and it deserves your support and good will.

Marquis Childs The Economic Outlook In Detroit

DETROIT — It is not hard to find in this city that gave President Kennedy 70 per cent of its vote in 1960 a deep disenchantment with the Kennedy Administration.

Persistent hard-core unemployment—up to seven per cent in the Detroit area despite a boom in the auto industry with the average rate twice that for Negroes — is one of the principal reasons. The President promises to "get things moving again" are recalled with an edge of bitterness.

THE MORE moderate leaders in the United Auto Workers, the spark plug of the Democratic party in Detroit, temper this by saying that probably too much was expected of the young President. They are aware also that deep-seated trends within industry — notably automation — affect employment in such a way that government programs can have little impact.

UAW economists point to production figures to show what this signifies. In 1947 the industry turned out 4,800,000 cars and trucks with 626,000 production workers. In 1962 the production figure was 8,200,000, the number of workers 559,000 representing a 70.4 per cent increase in production, 11 per cent decline in employment.

ALMOST NO one on either the labor or management side believes that President Kennedy's tax cut proposals will work any real change in the unemployment picture in the auto industry. The UAW advances a more drastic program for a reduction in withholding which would give a family of four an additional $26 a month in spending money immediately. This would go into installment payments on new consumer goods and the effect on the economy would be felt at once. The program adds up to a $10-to-$11-billion annual tax cut.

INDUSTRY EXECUTIVES such as Theodore Yntema, vice president for finance for Ford, who have been close to the Committee for Economic Development, favor the CED program of a quick across-the-board cut of 56 to 57 billion. The President's program of $10 billion spread out over three years is widely criticized as too little and too late.

How much the disenchantment may mean in '64 is likely to be determined by events still to come and especially by the rise or fall of the economy. You can hear those who worked hard for Kennedy three years ago saying that a lot of voters will stay home on election day. They see a trend toward a more conservative and cautious pro-DR Democratic party that cannot, unlike the Sprites, rely on the activists of the recent past.

AT THE SAME time a split has developed in the Democratic party in the state. On one side are the UAW activists backing John Swainson, defeated for reelection by Republican George W. Romney. They feel that Swainson, who may try again next year, got less than fair treatment from the Democratic organization both nationally and statewide.

On the other side are able political

Hal Boyle He Scares People

NEW YORK (AP)—"It's quite easy to make a kitchen-sink housewife out of a lady," said Alfred Hitchcock positively, "but you can't make a lady out of a kitchen-sink housewife."

"You can always take a thing down, but you can't take it up." Fildrom's chubby master of suspense was off on one of his favorite topics—the shortage of real ladies in Hollywood.

"I don't think there are any ladies left on the screen," he said, fingering a cool glass of luncheon champagne as he looked with glowing appreciation at the dish before him—a hot chicken pie.

"In its heyday we had nothing but ladies. I have in mind ladies like Norma Shearer, Carole Lombard, Irene Dunne, Myrna Loy, Garbo, Ingrid Bergman.

"An artist is to be a real artist has to have range."

Sitting at the film director's side was his latest discovery, Tippi Hedren, an ex-model who is featured in his latest thriller.

"Tippi" is slender, blondly beautiful, and looks like a younger sister of Grace Kelly. She is hopeful that her association with Hitchcock will prove an escalator to stardom, as it proved for several other actresses, including Princess Grace and Vera Miles.

Hitchcock, who was in a gay mood, glanced over at his smiling protegee, and observed nostalgically, "You only come out in the bright sunshine once."

Although the mystery master has turned out some 50 films, the Academy Award for directing has always elude him—a loss which doesn't seem to grieve his placid spirit much. He doesn't regard the winning of Oscars as his real task in life.

"I don't have any real frustra-should not publicly discuss public issues in order that, by so refraining, they will provide an image of impartiality, a sort of Olympian aloofness, and thereby remain free of criticism.

For much of American history, but not all of it, justices have stayed away from direct participation in politics. There's a realistic reason for this. They'd be the center of a political uproar for years afterward and might become targets for political retaliation.

BUT THIS self-enforced aloofness from political activity does not mean they don't think politically.

And it's a fallacy to suggest that a justice might be able to preserve an appearance of impartiality if he didn't discuss publicly issues which may or may not come before the court.

Every time the court hands down a decision the justices, by being for or against it, are publicly expressing an opinion on it, and sometimes at great length.

The court opinions may be limited to a question of saving or not saving a condemned man from execution. Or they may have enormous political and social consequences like these three of recent years:

OUTLAWING racial segregation in public schools stepping in to force state legislatures to give city-dwellers fairer representation by reapportioning themselves, or banning a city-imposed prayer in public schools.

In all three of these decisions the court was criticized. The fact they expressed the opinions from the bench didn't save them.

From the very beginning of the country the justices were attacked for their official opinions. Who did the denouncing at any given time depended on whose ox was gored.

THE VERY survival of the court has depended perhaps on the fact that their most unpopular decisions came at different times, which meant they were criticized by different groups at different times instead of by all of them at once.

"I'm trying to take off 15 pounds right now," he explained.

Here's his advice for taking it off:

"Eat a normal breakfast and lunch. Give up your evening meal and go to bed hungry. Cut out your social activities at night completely. The hardest thing for me to give up is a glass or two of wine at night."

Asked to name his favorite meal, he began:

"Two roast chickens with ham, any fresh vegetables available, stuffing made of green parsley, sweet and bread crumbs, mixed chicken and beef gravy, only slightly thickened, and—"

The look of cherubic joy suddenly faded. He paused, unwilling to go on with this kind of self-torture.

"I'm trying to take off 15 pounds right now," he explained.

To Your Good Health You Have The Right To Consult Another Doctor

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: How does a patient tactfully tell her doctor that she would like another opinion before undergoing an operation?—K. A.

The foregoing actually is only the last paragraph of the letter. It's a question which from time to time is tucked into my mail by readers but always as an apparent afterthought.

This has happened often enough to make me think that many people are asking themselves this question but are a bit shy about coming right out and making it emphatic. Perhaps it's sort of a taboo topic in many minds.

It shouldn't be.

Every patient has the right, if there's a doubt in his mind, to ask for another doctor's opinion, or to have a consultant called in, which is in principle much the same thing. It is a matter of getting another doctor's thinking on the case at hand.

There should be no hesitancy on the part of either the patient or the doctor to discuss this question matter-of-factly.

Say to your doctor, "I trust and respect you, but I'd also feel better if I had another opinion on this before we go ahead."

There is no reason, morally or logically, why any doctor should object or feel hurt. Most don't. Some may be over-sensitive (yes, there are over-sensitive people in the ranks of medicine, too!) and get huffy. They shouldn't.

Frankly, I do not approve of a patient trying to get another opinion secretly. Tell your doctor you want to do it. Tell the other doctor what you are doing—that doesn't mean that you have to tell him what the first doctor decided.

You want a fully independent opinion?

Generally speaking, the findings of the two doctors will be in accord. There may, however, be differences of opinion sometimes as to when to operate. One doctor may feel that as long as a given condition exists, the sooner surgery resolves the matter, the less risk and worry and perhaps even suffering for the patient.

Another doctor may say, "I don't think we are running any risk by waiting three months."

This is a matter of judgment—and medicine is NOT an exact science like mathematics or organic chemistry.

But after you have heard the opinion of the two doctors (in some cases even more, perhaps) you will at least have a pretty sound basis of knowing whether they agree, fundamentally, and that the difference is mostly in how long it is safe to wait.

When a patient wants another opinion, a physician may, in certain cases which he feels are urgent, tell you, "Go ahead, but please do it quickly. This is important." But that's a far cry from objecting.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it safe to handle things belonging to a person who has open cancer on the

Around The Rim He Shoulda Known Better

According to a clipping I have in hand, an A&M professor got an unfriendly reception when he said he was a g a i n s t slaughter of the golden eagle. He said there would be no eagle problem "if herders were placed to look after the sheep."

SOME OF THE COMMENTS: "If Texas farmers and ranchers did not have to pay so many high federal and state taxes to provide the salaries of pseudo-liberal professors who have no understanding of fundamental farm and ranch problems, we would not be bothered by such city chatter as this . . . (the professor) might better devote his time to a study of ranch labor problems than to criticism of ranchmen . . . professors who opposed the killing of golden eagles obviously have made their statements either without proper understanding of the facts or based on misinformation . . ."

SUCH OBVIOUSLY POLITICAL statements can be easily answered: The professor in question does not become political (pseudo-liberal) when opining on an ecological question, except in the minds of people with political axes to grind. Any professor who doesn't understand fundamental agricultural problems won't be long at A&M. Even at A&M, professors' salaries are ridiculously low, and we spend many times more on keeping inept farmers on the land to produce surpluses we don't need, than we spend on education. A study of ranch labor problems is more correctly in the hands of economists, ranchers, statesmen, and labor leaders than in the hands of ecologists (and could this be a bid for a lower minimum wage, or letting wet-backs come over the river to work for cut-rate wages?)

RANCHERS LEARNED THE hard way that professors are not hare-brained; for example, in the successful solution of the screwworm problem. But some people never learn. Finding a scapegoat and jumping to conclusions are part of human nature; thus, when a few lambs are lost and eagles are seen in the sky, the eagle gets the blame. It is doubtful that eagles destroy as many lambs as is believed, the greater share going to bobcats and coyotes. Our folklore tells us that eagles carried off human babies, a contention that proved to be without any basis in fact. Yet, a lot of our ancestors reacted rather emotionally, set their minds against the eagles, and no amount of reason was allowed into their closed minds.

IT MIGHT BE WISE for us to go back to the ways of our forefathers (including those of the Old Testament) in returning to nature a part of the bounty we have received. It might be worth a few lambs—or the salaries of a few shepherds—to keep the golden eagles around to help keep down rabbit and other rodent populations.

But before anyone starts jumping to conclusions, here's something I have coyly saved to the last—it wasn't ranchers making all those wisecracks about the professor. Ranchers have better sense. No, it was pseudo-conservative members of our state legislature.

Inez Robb Cover Girl Contest

These are days fraught with anticipation at countless news and magazine stands across the nation. The stands are a battleground for the stirring competition between Princess Grace and Princess Jacqueline for the title of All-American Cover Girl.

PRINCESS GRACE of Monaco is a late entry, but she is gaining fast and the smart money does not count her out in the cover girl contest. Only a month ago color pics of Mrs. Kennedy in the hunting field blanketed magazine covers as well as inside layouts to such an extent that the Monaco princess seemed left at the post.

However, the former Grace Kelly of Philadelphia and Hollywood has made such a strong comeback this month—with a picture of herself and her handsome children in living, vibrant color on the cover of McCall's Magazine—that the race is again wide open.

NOW I AM NOT talking about the seedy use of these young ladies as cover material by the moldy true-confession, confidant if he didn't discuss publicly issues which may or may not come before the court.

Every time the court hands down a decision the justices, by being for or against it, are publicly expressing an opinion on it, and sometimes at great length.

The court opinions may be limited to a question of saving or not saving a condemned man from execution. Or they may have enormous political and social consequences like these three of recent years:

David Lawrence Implications Of The 35-Hour Week

WASHINGTON — What's a "35-hour week?" Union labor is all for it, and at first glance it seems a wonderful thing not to have to work 40 hours but only 35.

But what are the facts?

In the first place, union labor wants the same pay for 35 hours as for 40. In the second place, the practical effect is that almost always the same employees—not the unemployed—get the extra money whenever work is extended beyond 35 hours.

THE UNIONS, moreover, insist that double payment be made for each hour above 35, instead of the usual hour-and-a-half pay for one hour of overtime work. All this would mean an increase of hundreds of millions of dollars in industry's labor costs. The change from 40 to 35 hours with no reduction in weekly pay would increase labor costs 14 per cent. If overtime also is involved, still further increases would result.

These simple statements tell the real story about what's wrong with the trend of the national economy today and why President Kennedy's prediction of a "decade of recession" is likely to come true, even if a tax cut is granted by Congress.

MR. KENNEDY had made occasional references to the 35-hour week and has taken a position opposite to the AFL-CIO, which is demanding it. The AFL-CIO unions, however, have a powerful weapon available. They can get the 35-hour week—and in some trades now are obtaining it—by the usual process of extortion through strikes or threats of strikes, euphemistically called "collective bargaining."

The public generally doesn't know what a 35-hour week would mean. Not only would this work schedule fail to absorb the unemployed of today, but it would not make new jobs for the millions of young workers coming into the labor market each year.

THE OVERTIME problem is the real reason. A company that operates on one shift, for instance, of eight hours a day for five days a week cannot hire new workers to take care of an hour or two of work each day after the regular shift finishes. It is natural to use the existing personnel and to pay the overtime rate of an hour and a half for every extra hour worked. As the overtime expense grows, the employer has to figure out whether he can make a profit at the increased cost of the labor involved. In lots of instances, he is stymied and cannot exa daughter and the younger a son. Each lives in an official residence with historical significance.

NOT ONLY are the two ladies married to men who head their respective countries, but Prince Rainier and the President share a serious problem that continues to baffle both: Gen. Charles de Gaulle. In the handling of this problem the President can well take a tip from the prince.

McCall's advertises in its current issue "For the First Time — Prince Rainier's Own Story—His Family with Princess Grace and the Royal Family; His Trials as Ruler of Monaco."

WELL, SIR, the prince's story is a heart-rending one. His trials are not, as you might suspect, with absconding croppers and gamblers with luge-proof systems at roulette. No, his large, economy-size worry is Gen. de Gaulle. In his "own story," a blending of "The Egg and I" and "The Memoirs of the Grand Duchess Marianna," the prince tells his heart-rending attempt to turn Monaco from a sunny paradise for tax evaders into just another tax trap.

In short, Prince Rainier, through an American magazine, has taken his case to the public. No one can read the prince's poignant story without realizing that the general is just another old kill-joy. The article is certain to rally public and moral support to Monaco's side.

LET THIS BE a lesson to the President. Let him tell his "own story," with suitable color shots of wife and children, and the electorate will surely rise up to chase into the sea Gen. de Gaulle, Nikita and the G.O.P.

As for the cover girl contest, it will—in the classic phrase of the magazines, "be continued in our next."

In the first place, union labor wants the same pay for 35 hours as for 40. In the second place, the practical effect is that almost always the same employees—not the unemployed—get the extra money whenever work is extended beyond 35 hours.

THE UNIONS, moreover, insist that double payment be made for each hour above 35, instead of the usual hour-and-a-half pay for one hour of overtime work. All this would mean an increase of hundreds of millions of dollars in industry's labor costs. The change from 40 to 35 hours with no reduction in weekly pay would increase labor costs 14 per cent. If overtime also is involved, still further increases would result.

These simple statements tell the real story about what's wrong with the trend of the national economy today and why President Kennedy's prediction of a "decade of recession" is likely to come true, even if a tax cut is granted by Congress.

MR. KENNEDY had made occasional references to the 35-hour week and has taken a position opposite to the AFL-CIO, which is demanding it. The AFL-CIO unions, however, have a powerful weapon available. They can get the 35-hour week—and in some trades now are obtaining it—by the usual process of extortion through strikes or threats of strikes, euphemistically called "collective bargaining."

The public generally doesn't know what a 35-hour week would mean. Not only would this work schedule fail to absorb the unemployed of today, but it would not make new jobs for the millions of young workers coming into the labor market each year.

THE OVERTIME problem is the real reason. A company that operates on one shift, for instance, of eight hours a day for five days a week cannot hire new workers to take care of an hour or two of work each day after the regular shift finishes. It is natural to use the existing personnel and to pay the overtime rate of an hour and a half for every extra hour worked. As the overtime expense grows, the employer has to figure out whether he can make a profit at the increased cost of the labor involved. In lots of instances, he is stymied and cannot ex-

IT ISN'T TAX reduction, therefore, that can save the day, but a better margin of profit on the present volume of sales so as to make it worthwhile to invest money to bring about the very expansion which increases jobs. It is a less expensive way to promote employment than deficit spending by the government.

Installation Is Held By BPO Does At Elk's Lodge

An installation ceremony was held Wednesday evening when the BPO Does met in the Elk's Lodge at the Crawford Hotel. Installed were Mrs. W. R. Rogers, trustee; Mrs. Chuck Coley, outer guard; Mrs. J. M. Maenner, conductress; Mrs. Joe Flock, chaplain; and Mrs. Hugh Nixon, color bearer. A letter of appreciation from the Texas Crippled Children's Center at Octine was read, thanking the members for a vacuum cleaner which the Does purchased for them at Christmas. Supper was served preceding the installation, with Mrs. Fred Greenberg heading the hostess committee. A birthday observance honored Mrs. Maenner, Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. Alma George.

The Sands Parent-Teacher Association will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the school. There will be a special program with guest speakers.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise. Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem. The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It feels like nothing on but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation. "Suddenly Slim" is the peak achievement of the design-genius, Olga. Be "Suddenly Slim" today in either girdle or panty version. Featured at HEMPHILL WELLS, 214 Main, Telephone AM 4-8283

Awards Taken At Monahans

The Western District Convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Monahans came to an end Thursday with several awards going to local clubs. In the home life department under the International Hostess Division, second place was won by the Spoudazio For Study Club. In the same department, under the Americas Division, first place went to the 1948 Hyperion Club. Spoudazio For also was awarded second place in the International Hostess Division of the Council of International Clubs department.

In the Press Book Contest, Class E Division, third place was won by the Woman's Forum. In the Junior Clubs' Class E Division, first place went to the Junior Woman's Forum. Attending from Big Spring were Mrs. James C. Jones, Mrs. Don Farley and Mrs. Richard Patterson of the Spoudazio For Study Club; Mrs. J. P. Dodge and Mrs. A. C. Bass of the Modern Woman's Forum; Mrs. J. C. Pickle of the 1905 Hyperion Club; and Mrs. Lonnie Coker and Mrs. Jack Johnson of the Woman's Forum.

Luncheon For Forum Held In Blue Room

Members of the Junior Woman's Forum met for a luncheon at Cosden Country Club Thursday at 1 p.m. with Mrs. Kenneth Orr, Mrs. Don Wiley and Mrs. Wayne Henry the hostesses. Members and two guests, Mrs. Don Stevens and Mrs. Merry Jo Bright, were seated at a T-shaped table featuring three French bouquet arrangements. New spring shapes and colors were evident in the varied hat styles worn by those attending. Just a hint of a hat was the tiny pillbox in brown and beige worn by Mrs. Orr. As a contrast, Mrs. E. C. Smith's turban appeared to be yards of cerise tulle topped with pink roses. The new gouché sailors were pretty and popular. Mrs. Bill Draper's was of beige straw, while Mrs. Wayne Henry and Mrs. Ernest Welch chose almost the same style in black. Pink roses covered the cloche worn by Mrs. Ed Corson. The white braided straw worn by Mrs. Stevens was banded with big white roses. Wispy ostrich feathers formed the face framing cloche that drew envious glances to Mrs. Max Green. The luncheon was an annual Federation Day observance.

Class Completes Quilt For Family

A quilt was completed for a needy family when the Hannah Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church met for a workday Thursday. A quilted dish luncheon was served at noon to 11 members and two guests. Mrs. F. W. Bettle and Mrs. Frank Hull. The invocation was worded by Mrs. Doc Wallace. During the business session, Mrs. W. A. Stall presided. Plans were discussed to help a needy family with linens or other home necessities.

Class Guest Of Mrs. H. Lees

Fifteen members of the Homemakers Class, First Christian Church, were guests in the home of Mrs. Harry Lees Tuesday. Mrs. C. N. Waldron was cohostess. Prayer by Mrs. W. E. Carnrike was followed by a devotion, "Why Every Christian Should Support the Church," given by Mrs. Jim Allen. Cards were sent to the sick, and a letter read from Mrs. Hila Weathers at the state hospital, thanking the class for a sewing machine which was given for use at the hospital. Mrs. Carnrike was a guest for the meeting, and entertainment was provided by Mrs. O. G. Buras.

Wives of Class 64-D, Webb Air Force Base, wore pink bows in their hair to serve as hostesses for the Officers Wives Club coffee Thursday morning. Held at the Officers Club, the occasion honored newcomers and those departing for new assignments. A game of names was played with Mrs. James Gehrig receiving first prize, and Mrs. J. B. Mandel, second prize. The door prize, a pink hydrangea, went to Mrs. P. L. Murphy. Mrs. Shirley McClurg of Chicago was introduced as the houseguest of Mrs. Richard McClurg. Also introduced were the commanders' wives, Mrs. Wilson Banks, Mrs. Charles Head, Mrs. Lawrence Casey, Mrs. Harold C. Collins, Mrs. Jack Crawford, Mrs. William A. Clair and Mrs. George E. Franks. Five new permanent party wives were introduced as Mrs. R. S. Ryan from Moody AFB in Georgia; Mrs. E. D. Aman of Moody; Mrs. C. O. Densch, Hahn AFB, Germany; Mrs. L. A. Haskins from San Antonio; and Mrs. Mandel, Vance AFB, Oklahoma. Welcomed were the wives of Class 64-F, Mrs. P. L. Murphy, Mrs. Bruce Banning, Mrs. Richard Hesslink, Mrs. Larry Hodge, Mrs. Dalbert Hope, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Danny Dail, Mrs. Douglass Dumlner, Mrs. James Fox, Mrs. Duane Martin, Mrs. Alan Provost and Mrs. Forrest Wineberger. A farewell was extended to Mrs. Melvin Pollard whose husband has been reassigned to Randolph AFB, San Antonio.

Takes Exercise

Actress Linda Lawson believes in exercising internally as well as externally even if you don't have a weight problem. She is a regular cast member of NBC's "Don't Call Me Charlie."

'Internal' Exercise For Energy Problem

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Linda Lawson has discovered what she calls internal exercise and was bubbling over to tell me about it when I visited with her on the "Don't Call Me Charlie" set at NBC-TV. "It's really deep breathing, but you get so much more out of a need it most. Mine is my legs," she added. Here is Linda's favorite exercise to help slenderize her legs: She holds on to a ballet bar, or the back of a sturdy chair will do, and brings one leg up with a bent knee. Then she swings her leg to the side, keeping her knee bent and her back straight. She holds this position while inhaling—then brings it back to the first position and down while exhaling. Then she repeats the exercise with the other leg. "You may be sore at first," Linda cautioned, "but if you do this breathing as your leg comes down, and exhaling as it comes up, you'll be exercising internally as well as externally, and you will surely get good results."

MORE BEAUTIFUL LEGS
If you want to improve the shape of your legs, send for Leaflet M-77, "Reshaping Your Legs." The same warming-up exercises are explained that ballerinas use. They can be done at home with the aid of this leaflet. For your copy send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 53, Calif. Be sure to ask for Leaflet M-77.

Weeks Will Marry In Stamford

The engagement and approach to marriage of Miss Judy Kathryn Hughes to Ronald David Weeks, former Howard County Junior College Student, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Hughes of Stamford. Weeks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy O. Weeks, Stamford.

The wedding is to be performed at St. John's Methodist Church, Stamford, June 22, at 7 p.m. Dr. Burgin Watkins will officiate.

The bride-elect is a 1959 graduate of Stamford High School. She is a senior student at North Texas State University where she is an elementary education major. Presently she is doing practice teaching at Richardson.

Weeks graduated from Stamford High School and H.C.J.C. He is a senior pre-med student at the University of Texas where he is a member of the varsity basketball team.

At what age are they the cutest? Children, that is. This week we are photographing boys and girls from 19 months through three years.

Last week we saw some mighty cute ones from 3 months to 18 months of age.

Next week we know we will have before our camera some real personality kids in the 4 and 5-year-old bracket

But from which group will emerge our $125.00 cash prize winner?

The winner may have already been photographed. Then, again, he or she may still be out there as yet unknown and just waiting to be discovered... like a movie star.

Do you have the cutest child of all? You will never know unless you bring him in NOW to be photographed in the Big Spring Herald Child Personality Photo Contest.

And, remember, in each age group there are 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place cash prizes to be awarded—$65.00, $35.00, and $25.00—so your child could well win one of these, even if he isn't lucky enough to be selected for the big award of $125.00. Anyway, win, lose or draw, remember the photograph of every child entered in the contest will appear in a special section of the Big Spring Herald April 28th in celebration of National Baby Week. So... don't fail to enter your child.

Best of luck.

Band Concert Slated Tonight

Three school bands combine talents tonight to present the Annual Band Concert at the high school auditorium. The concert is sponsored by the Big Spring Band Boosters Association, an organization of parents and friends of band students, which each year raises money to give assistance to the school's band program.

Participating in the program will be the high school band and bands from Rannels and Goliad Junior High schools. The performance begins at 7:30 p.m. Tickets at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children, are available from band members.

John Haynie, guest soloist from North Texas State University, will be accompanied by the Senior High Band for his performance. He will present a piece first performed last spring by the North Texas State Band. It was composed by a teacher of theory and composition at the University and dedicated to Haynie.

During his 12 years as a member of the North Texas State staff, Haynie has built up one of the largest trumpet classes in any school in the nation.

Negroes Plan A New March

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP)—Vowing to make Greenwood and Leflore County what they call "a testing ground for democracy," Negroes planned another march on the county courthouse today in their drive to register as voters.

Police, using a trained dog and aided by civilian volunteers equipped with riot clubs and wearing yellow Civil Defense helmets, have twice dispersed the marchers.

The Rev. D. L. Tucker, a Greenwood Negro minister who led Thursday's march, claimed he was bitten by a police dog. Police said he was faking.

Police Commissioner B. A. Hammond said Tucker was examined and definitely was not bitten. However, Dr. Mabel T. Garner of Greenwood said she treated Tucker for "several severe bites" on his left ankle.

"All at once a large police dog jumped out," Tucker said. "Somebody yelled 'There's that black nigger preacher!'"

"The dog lunged. The whites yelled 'Kill him!' The dog knocked me down and grabbed my leg."

A policeman said, "Get up you black nigger, you're not hurt!" I tried I couldn't. Two of my brothers carried me.

The policeman told him, Tucker said, to get a cab. The minister quoted the officer as saying, "I can't hold them back much longer. They want to kill you!"

No arrests were made Thursday. The previous day, 11 marchers were jailed. Six have been convicted in City Court of disorderly conduct.

To Grand Prairie

Burial rites for Lloyd H. Hollis, 31, whose mangled body was found beside the Texas & Pacific tracks Thursday morning, will be in Grand Prairie. The body was taken in charge late Thursday by Moore-Brown Funeral Home of that city.

Relatives contacted by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, made local arrangements. No details as to the occupation, relatives or other information about the victim of the accident were obtained.

Accident Ruled In Death Of Stantonite

STANTON — M. L. Gibson, justice of the peace for Martin County, ruled today that Tommie Lee Damsby, 44-year-old Negro, met death here last Saturday morning from accidental causes. Her body was found in the charred ruins of her small house.

Gibson, on receiving report of Dr. Jarrett Williams, Abilene pathologist, filed a report in which he said primary cause of death was burning and incineration and that the secondary causes were high alcoholic content in the woman's blood and heavy saturation of carbon monoxide.

"There was nothing to justify the theory that she might have met with foul play," said the justice. Dr. Williams said that his autopsy showed the alcoholic content of the blood was three per cent—he said that death comes from four per cent—and that the woman was in a state of advanced intoxication. The carbon monoxide content of her lungs was 36.4 per cent—heavy but not necessarily fatal. This indicated that she had breathed for some time after the blaze broke out in her house.

"A piece of wire found across the throat had no part in her death. It probably fell where it was found during the fire. We have made an exhaustive investigation of the case and I am grateful to Bobby West, special investigator for the district attorney's office, for his help."

The woman formerly lived in Big Spring. She moved to Stanton recently and made her home in the "flats" section of the Martin County seat.

Square Dance Festival Slated Here Saturday

Local hoodlums are getting their boots polished for one of the largest square dancing festivals staged annually in Big Spring. More than 300 square dancers from the West Texas portion of the Permian Basin will congregate here Saturday night for the event.

The three local square dance clubs will host clubs from other cities at dances in the Howard County Junior College Student Union Buildings.

The evening of dancing begins at 8 p.m. with registration at the Dora Roberts SUB. Dances will be conducted simultaneously there and at the old SUB until 11 p.m. Another dance, free to all square dancers, will be held at the Settles Hotel from 12:30 a.m. until 2:30 a.m. Sunday morning.

Admission for the events at HCCJ are $2 per couple. One admission suffices for both dances and couples can go from one dance to another as they wish, to dance to the tunes of their favorite callers. Thirty-eight prominent callers from the area have been invited to demonstrate their abilities.

Theme for the dances is "Rodeo." Such events are sponsored by the Permian Basin Square Dance Association every fifth Saturday, with each member city hosting in its turn.

Hosts Saturday will be the Big Spring Squares, the Cosden Promenaders and the Howard County Hoodlums.

Some lucky person will come away with a $100 gift certificate after a drawing to be held at 9:30 p.m. Donations to the building fund of the Big Spring Squares entitle persons to a chance at the prize.

The square-dancing public has been invited to attend the affair. There is no admission for spectators.

Among the visitors will be Mr. and Mrs. Roy Long, Dallas, presidents of the State Federation of Square and Round Dancing, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson, Stinnett, vice presidents. Husband and wife hold a single office jointly.

Couples are expected to be here from Abilene, Sweetwater, Colorado City, Midland, Odessa, Monahan, Fort Stockton and Wink.

In Howard County, Sannie Robertson has filed No. 7 Percy Jones C SE NW NW of section 13-30-15, T&P survey, for 3,000 feet by rotary tool. The later-East Howard site is on a 320-acre lease about five miles southeast of Coahoma.

Campos Still At Large After Escape

Pablo Campos, 30, who vanished into the night Wednesday from his hospital room in the Cowper Hospital, continued at large today and officers said they had no clue as to his probable whereabouts.

The elusive Latin-American, who fled custody wearing only a pair of shorts and a strip of bandage on his right forearm, is under indictment as a habitual burglar and if apprehended and convicted, will go to prison for life.

A car which was stolen the same night Campos escaped from his hospital bed, was found abandoned in Odessa Thursday afternoon. A check of the vehicle for fingerprints or other evidence that it might have been driven there by Campos proved futile.

Campos, who had slashed his arm with a razor blade in a suicide, or simulated, suicide attempt Wednesday afternoon, was in the hospital for treatment for loss of blood and shock. While Sheriff Miller Harris was out of the hospital room for a few seconds, the prisoner left his bed, raised a window and vanished into the darkness.

Fire Blamed On Cigarette

A fire at Wheat Furniture Co. Store, 115 E. 2nd, Thursday, did light damage to the store building, but heavy smoke and fire damage to furniture. Fire Marshal A. D. Meador said the fire, confined to a store room, was started by a cigarette which ignited a mattress and spread.

Between 30 and 35 pieces of new furniture, mattresses and other items, were heavily damaged by the fire. Smoke filled the rest of the building so heavily that firemen could not see around the building. Insurance adjusters had not completed their check of losses at noon today.

"We had just received a Smoke Ejector," Fire Chief H. V. Crocke said, "and used it at the store for the first time. The suction-type ejector is designed to clear around 5,000 cubic feet per minute, and it didn't take long to get the smoke out."

"The loss is going to be partially covered by insurance," the chief said, "but it won't be enough. That's a big store and held lots of smoke."

The fire was in a small store room at the rear of the building. A deck for storing furniture was partially burned and the walls damaged. Fire walls prevented the flames from going through to other buildings.

Officer Says TFX Action 'Improvident'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force Col. John L. Gregory Jr. has told Senate investigators he did an "improvident" thing when he signed a statement challenging military evaluations of rival designs for the TFX warplane.

The evaluations favored a rejected design by the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash. The statement signed by Gregory and others said there was no comparable basis for judging this on two major points.

The colonel told the Senate Investigations subcommittee in testimony released today that he was not competent to make such a judgment.

The effect of his testimony was to back away from some of the data on which Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara apparently relied to support his award of the development contract to General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex.

Ambulance Driver Delivers Mrs. King's Eighth Child

When an ambulance driver has to double in brass as a midwife and delivers a baby which won't wait until the mother-to-be can reach the hospital, who signs the birth certificate?

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, had that question to answer today. She called the state registrar, W. D. Carroll, in Austin. He told her that (1) the doctor who had been attending the mother prior to the birth can sign the certificate if he wishes or (2) if the doctor declines because he was not actually present at the delivery, the ambulance driver would be required to sign.

It turned out that the doctor in this question, Dr. Jerome Wensinger, Webb AFB, was willing to sign the certificate; but if he hadn't, Henry Blessingame was standing by to officially endorse the certificate.

Blessingame is an ambulance driver for the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. It turned out that Mrs. Alvin King, 805 Wyoming, who realized early today that she was about to become a mother for the eighth time, couldn't have picked a better man to come to her aid than the young Howard County Junior College student.

Blessingame, despite his youth, has three times before had to become obstetrician on ambulance runs, and took this newest incident in full stride.

"The baby was too far along to make it to the hospital," he said. "There wasn't anything else to do but go ahead."

He had high praise for Mrs. King, the wife of an Army man stationed at Fort Bragg for her calm acceptance of a somewhat unorthodox incident.

"When the baby was delivered," said Blessingame, "we placed Mrs. King and the little girl in the ambulance and took them to the base hospital. Both were in good shape."

At the hospital, the doctors said the ambulance driver did a fine job and both the mother and the child were in excellent condition today. The only question was relative to the birth certificate and who should sign.

Blessingame is a Colorado City resident attending H.C.J.C. He plans to be a doctor.

"I have been here for about four months," he said. "I used to drive ambulances at Grand Prairie and

Grocery Store Safe Robbed

Approximately $2,000, in currency and some rolled silver, was taken from a big safe at the Hull & Phillips Food Store, 809 Scurry, some time Thursday night. The safe was moved from in front of a south window to an aisle between show racks and forced open.

Police Chief Jay Banks and Detective Aubrey Hurley said it was the work of a professional. Entry to the building was made through an exhaust fan opening on the roof. The fan belt was cut and blades of the fan bent down to allow a man to go through the opening.

The safe door was peeled open while the big safe was turned on its back on the floor. Silver, left in the cash register drawers, was spilled on the bottom of the safe, along with checks and papers. Some rolls of silver were also left, and some found on the floor at the rear of the building. Officers believed that silver was too heavy for the burglars to carry.

The burglary last night was the first in Big Spring involving a safe since the Reeder Insurance Co. robbery over a year ago.

Police found no marks to indicate how the burglar got on the roof of the building.

Saturn May Pass Russia

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States' Saturn booster may soon overtake the Soviet lead in rocket power in a move which could have a significant bearing on the race to the moon.

Although Saturn still is in the experimental stage, it may within six months score a great propellant breakthrough and at the same time toss a 33,000-pound satellite into orbit—more than doubling the weight of the largest Soviet satellite sent up to date.

In 121 seconds of powered flight Thursday, Saturn completed the first phase of its test program. When the test was over, the first stage had registered its fourth success without a failure and demonstrated it can operate even when one of its eight engines fails.

After 100 seconds of flight, a timing device cut off one engine to simulate a failure. Fuel flow to that engine halted automatically and the propellant was distributed equally to the other seven.

Jury Disagrees With Blount

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—The Gregg County grand jury has called "untrue" statements about alleged irregularities in the government of the East Texas county.

The jury made its report Thursday after hearing 57 witnesses during six days of testimony. The body said Gregg County commissioners and other officials were innocent of any wrongdoing.

County Judge R. E. (Peppy) Blount said in February he had uncovered evidence through a Houston private investigation firm that proved there were irregularities in the county's operations.

But the jury said, "the sworn statements submitted by the private investigators were found by this grand jury to be incomplete and unsatisfactory because they were based on innuendos, insinuations, unsupported assertions and rumors without fact."

CARD OF THANKS: My thanks to all Doctors, Nurses and Friends for their kindest attentions, cards and letters during my recent stay at the Veterans Hospital for surgery. Especially I wish to thank the children of Mrs. Sweatt's 5th Grade at Boydston School for all the letters they wrote. I shall remember always. J. B. Moseley

DAILY GUIDE—This is a good day to move quickly from chore to chore, clearing up details, getting in touch with those who can help in finishing some of your projects. Excellent personal relationships can be established. Business should move smoothly; it is good for both buying and selling as people are in the mood to enjoy themselves.

Plan hospitality, entertainment, romance for the younger set. In fact, this weekend promises to be a lively and enjoyable one for young people. They will want to be on the go, seeking fun and excitement.

Scissors are highly favored in the coming last days of this month and first few of next. Virgoans should find other people very cooperative in the next few days. Geminians have two days of extra activity; they are restless and like to be on the move.

Another active day coming with an emphasis on travel, news, correspondence, talk.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, AIRES! There are two months more of social activity and perhaps some clearing up of problems with such contacts or relationships with loved ones. After that you can depend on some old ties for support through the year. The coming year can prove to be one of the best in many years. You can collect benefits for past efforts, and even hope for a little extra luck in your endeavors. Personal popularity, applause and attention, romance if eligible, and a generally happier outlook can be expected. Changes can come suddenly from time to time in your work routines; June could bring some unpredictable event. Take care in financial arrangements in early October; attend to details and spending in May and June.

Odessa Held On Check Charges

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — An AWOL sailor was arrested Thursday in the wake of a check-passing $20,000 cross-country spree, police said.

He is Marvin E. Lee, 24, reported missing from the Great Lakes Naval training center near Chicago Nov. 8, police said. He is a native of Odessa, Texas. Officers said Lee headed south from Chicago along the Atlantic Coast, and westward along the Gulf, working his way into California via San Diego and coming up to Eureka along the Pacific Coast.

Water Hearing

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Water Commission heard testimony for the fourth day today on two applications by the American Canal Co., Houston.

American wants to supply a proposed industrial site near Houston with 50,000 acre-feet of water annually from the Brazos River and Clear Creek.

Season Announced For Six Flags

The 1963 season for Six Flags Over Texas will begin April 20. The third operating year for the historical theme park, located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, has been set up to begin on a Saturday and Sunday basis only until June 1. For the months of June, July and August it will be open seven days a week. Following Labor Day in September and continuing through Dec. 1, the Park will revert again to a week-ends only operation. A million dollar expansion program now is under way. Last year 1,272,000 people visited the attraction.

FBI Agent Compliments Local Enforcement Officers

The word going the rounds on the grapevine of the criminal element of Texas these days, according to Curtis Lynum, FBI agent, is "stay out of Big Spring."

Lynum, who is head of the FBI bureau office in Dallas, was speaker at the regular Thursday luncheon of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club over the state are pleased when they hear hoodlums telling others to keep clear of certain counties and cities.

"It is a compliment to the officers of your community and county," he said, "and more than that, it is a compliment to you, the citizens of the county or city. You have demonstrated to your officers that you want the law enforced."

Jay Banks, Big Spring police chief, presented Lynum to the club. Also in attendance was Ed Dorris, FBI agent at San Angelo.

Lynum discussed briefly the origin of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and of its present size and objectives. He said there are 35 bureaus, such as the one he heads up, and 500 sub-stations, similar to the one Dorris serves. To man these establishments, the total personnel of the FBI is only 6,000 — including the laboratory men in Washington, the administrative personnel and all operatives.

"When you consider there are 6,000 policemen in the city of Los Angeles and 12,000 in the city of New York, you realize we are not a large outfit," he said.

He told how J. Edgar Hoover was appointed to head up the FBI at the time when gangsters were threatening to take over the nation. Prior to that time, he said FBI agents were not permitted to carry firearms and their duties were largely restricted to civil matters.

Under Hoover's administration, by terms of the proposal he submitted if he was to accept the post of FBI chief, the agency has become a highly effective organization dedicated to the task of coping with law enforcement. He cited the newer laws which have broadened the field the FBI can serve and expressed his appreciation to the cooperation accorded by local officers, state officers and the public.

Banks, who was chairman of the committee on the circus project earlier this month, informed the club that net receipts will probably be around $800.

The musical portion of the program featured Mrs. Ann Keller, vocalist, who sang "Summertime" and "I Could Dance All Night." She was accompanied by Jack Hendrix of Howard County Junior College.

Panel Rejects Helium Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee has rejected a Bureau of Mines request for a $17.5 million annual increase in its authority to contract for purchase of helium for storage.

In its report on the Interior Department money bill for the year starting July 1, the committee said:

"This increased annual authority would permit the department to enter into additional long-term contracts for the purchase of 24 billion cubic feet of helium involving an expenditure of about $385 million over the next 22 years."

Granting of any additional contract authority, the committee said, "should be deferred pending a comprehensive analysis and estimate of future stockpile requirements and result of present negotiations to obtain revisions of the existing purchase contracts."

The committee noted that 4 present contracts involve $47.5 million in annual helium purchases for a cost of $1 billion over 22 years.

That, the committee added, will provide for conserving 62.5 billion cubic feet of helium, or a 100-year reserve supply at present rates of consumption.

Loan Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communities Facilities Administration has approved a $360,000 loan to Midwestern University at Wichita Falls, Tex. The money is for an addition to, and remodeling of, the Union Building.

Urrutia Flies Today To Miami

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Former Cuban President Manuel Urrutia flies today to Miami where he will rejoin his family.

He first had planned to fly to Houston Thursday and then continue to Miami today.

The former president ousted by Fidel Castro, arrived here Monday after nearly two years of asylum in Latin American embassies in Havana.

In-Law Of Prison Board Man In Pen

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Post said Thursday the Rev. C. A. Holliday, the first Negro appointed to the Texas Board of Corrections, has a brother-in-law in the penitentiary.

The newspaper said the Fort Worth minister and civic leader confirmed it but would not say whether he had revealed it to Gov. John Connally before his appointment.

Connally could not be reached for comment but a member of his staff told the Post the governor "would stick by his appointment." The aide also said Connally knows of the situation but he would not say whether the governor knew it when he appointed the minister.

The newspaper said the prison inmate is George M. Kinney Mays, 46, brother of Mrs. Holliday, who is serving a seven year sentence for forgery from Gregg County.

Editor Will Preach Here At 1st Methodist Sunday

Rev. Carl Keightley, editor of the "Texas Methodist," will preach at First Methodist Church Sunday at the 11 a.m. service.

REV. CARL KEIGHTLEY

Rev. Keightley was licensed to preach in 1953 in Des Arc, Ark. He served appointments in the Little Rock, Rocky Mountain, and Rock River Conferences before coming to Texas; and he was also religion instructor and minister to students in Conway, Ark. Rev. Keightley was associate minister at Highland Park Methodist in Dallas from 1949 to 1952, then he served appointments to University Methodist Church in Wichita Falls and to First Methodist Church in Irving. He became "Texas Methodist" editor in June, 1959.

Rev. Keightley was married to Julia Delle Stevenson in 1942. They have two daughters, Michal Anne, 19, and Cheryl, 13. The preacher-editor travels continuously throughout the state to keep in personal touch with Texas Methodist readers and give a first-hand report of gatherings and other news events. He was in Big Spring and preached here last summer.

Preparation for Christ's Coming

OUR LORD'S PROPHETIC OUTLINE OF THE COURSE OF THIS AGE AND OF HIS RETURN

Scripture—Mark 13:1-14:9

By N. SPEER JONES
THE SO-CALLED Olivet Discourse comprises the major part of today's lesson. This is the name given to the prophecies given by Christ on Tuesday of Holy Week as He sat on the Mount of Olives, the famous hill just opposite Jerusalem to the east. On the other side of the crest of this hill was Bethany. Fresh from this discourse were only four of Christ's disciples—Peter, James, John and Andrew. It was precipitated by a remark made by one of his disciples as they all emerged from Jerusalem's temple, where Christ had just commended the poor woman for her donation to the treasury. One of the disciples remarked about the beauty of the stones and architecture of the temple, which was indeed the most magnificent oration or people of Israel, not any temporal period. Over and over, in Matthew's account of this discourse, Christ exhorts His followers to watch constantly for the hour of His return. Mark is not repetitive in his recording of this exhortation, but does record it once. It does not mean that we are to try to ascertain the particular time of this return in advance, but rather that we should be eternally vigilant in our duties as Christians, so we will not be caught unaware, or spiritually asleep. Then we shall need no fear of the Lord's arrival. The last event recorded in our lesson is one which chronologically took place several days earlier, the anointing of Jesus by Mary of Bethany on Saturday evening before Holy Week. On no other deed does Jesus ever bestow such praise.

ent on the eastern shore of the Mediterranean. Jesus replied gloomily that not one of those beautiful stones would be left standing. It was the four disciples' request for illumination of that statement which led to the Olivet Discourse.

Christ's prophecy regarding the temple was fulfilled just 40 years later, in 70 A.D., when the temple and fortifications of Jerusalem were leveled by the Roman general Titus in the Jewish War.

The events which Jesus predicts can be divided into three parts or phases—those occurring before the great tribulation (Mark 13:5-13), those during the tribulation (Mark 13:14-23) and those after the tribulation (Mark 13:24-27). In the first, "rumors" of war means talk of war—and when

THE END DOES NOT JUSTIFY THE MEANS
It would seem that even some churchmen, leaders in religion and politicians, leaders in government in this land and over the world have debased, depraved and degraded themselves with the idea that the good or supposed good end to be attained justifies any means possible to reach that end; regardless of how poisoning, or how contaminated or polluted that means may be. Deception and dishonesty can thus easily be justified, murder and adultery, lying and stealing, cursing and killing, you name it, whatever the sin it is not too low down for the fellow or for the system, whether religious or political, that follows the idea that the end justifies the means. There seems to be very little that is corrigible, curable or improvable in the people who take this attitude. This attitude is born of pride and self-righteousness; it is born of ignorance of the truth. A man must put himself in the place of God to believe the theory that "the end justifies the means to reach it."
Henry Clay once said, "I would rather be right than president." He had in mind that if in order to reach even the highest political office of the U.S.A. and if he were the best man for the job he would prefer to be right than be wrong or do wrong to get or to hold the job.
Lincoln said, "Let us have faith that right makes might and in that faith, let us to the end, dare to do our duty, as we understand it."
Shall we pursue every phase of our life here on earth with this spirit?

THE TREE Climbers

Thought about climbing any trees lately? The tree climbers seem to belong to a very young segment of the population.

Why do you suppose most of us have outgrown that compelling urge to climb a tree? It used to make every trunk a challenge, every limb a precarious perch.

Well, we've discovered other challenges. And we've had our fill of precarious perches. Eventually a man turns his zest for triumph to more constructive purposes.

But, have you observed that many people seem to climb above the tiresome every-day level of life? And, strangely, they appear more secure challenging the roof of existence than those who cling to its floor.

The youthful compulsion which once made us tree climbers reaches maturity on a spiritual plane. Our God-given zest for triumph finds fulfillment in the quest of religious Faith... the challenge of Christian living! Start climbing next Sunday... in church!

Coolers To Be Needed Soon

Three window-type air conditioners, preferably evaporative, are badly needed for this summer by the Howard County Rehabilitation (Crippled Children's) Center. Jim Thompson, director, said Friday.

"We have not needed these coolers since we have moved into the present building at 402 Edwards Blvd." Thompson said, "but will need them badly soon."

Anyone who has a window-type air conditioner, and is willing to donate it, or lend it, to the center, is asked to call the director at AM 3-2880.

Four Places Burglarized

Sam's Bar, NW 4th, one of four burglary victims during the past 24 hours, lost $331.20 worth of items between closing time Wednesday night and opening just before noon Thursday.

There were no signs of forced entry but a saxophone, valued at $175, a movie camera, $150, and two cases of beer, $6.20, were missing. Santos Mendoza is owner and found his back door unlocked when he arrived.

A salesman found the south door open at Jeannie's Tavern Thursday and police were called. Detectives found the cigarette machine forced open and 298 packages of cigarettes missing. Cash taken in nickles, dimes, and quarters, amounted to $55.

A tractor radiator and an unknown quantity of gasoline were reported stolen from a warehouse at the Co-op Gin, 104 NW 3rd, after a hole was broken in a door. The radiator was forced off the tractor. Lindell Newton reported the theft.

Windows and frames valued at over $400 were reported stolen from a building site at 2906 MacAuslan. E. L. Ramirez, one of the contractors, reported the items stolen.

Governor Signs Bills

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. John Connally has signed these bills and resolutions Thursday: HB4, regulating pesticides. HB100, authorizing boards of colleges to buy liability insurance. HB334 and HB333, on qualifications for chiropraxy exams. SCR28, asking Congress to review cotton price support program and foreign subsidies.

Little Theatre Group Stages 'Kind Lady' Tonight, Saturday

"Kind Lady," Big Spring Civic Theatre production which plays tonight and Saturday in the city auditorium, is a departure from the more often produced comedies offered by the amateur theatrical group. There isn't a chuckle through three acts of this light drama.

Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. each evening and tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce offices, the Officer's Club at Webb AFB, or at the door. Season ticket holders need only show their cards.

Others of his crew include Clonts, stage manager; Jan Christensen and James Beauchamp, set crew; James Woodruff, lighting; John Arnold, sound effects; Yvonne Huffines, properties; Lois Davis, ticket sales; and Gordon prepared the hair styles.

New High Record Set Thursday

Thursday was the warmest March 28 in the history of Big Spring. The temperature passed the 92 degrees scored on this same date in 1928 and at 3 p.m., the mercury stood at a swasty 93 degrees.

The coolest it got all night was 62 and many windows, which had been kept down all winter, were raised for the first time this year.

Trees, shrubs, and flowers, already swollen with spring, broke open into a mass of greenery almost as the observer watched.

Even the cautious and stubborn mimosa trees, which were even more reluctant than the shrub, yielded. Little green shoots were reported on many of these trees.

March 28, according to the Texas Almanac, is the latest date for a killing frost in these parts. Householders, eyeing their yards and lawns, went about wiping their perspiring brows with their fingers crossed—there's still the so-called pre-Easter cold spell to be encountered. Easter is April 14.

Tanker Had Been Ready For Repairs

NEW YORK (AP)—A Coast Guard inquiry board has been told that the tanker Marine Sulphur Queen, lost with its crew of 39 early in February, had been scheduled to go to a shipyard for annual repairs in January but the overhaul job was postponed.

Skit Rehearsal

Cub Scout Den 4 of Pack 48 rehearsed a skit Thursday to be given at the pack meeting Saturday night. The Cubs discussed the nature trip made recently and Ben Johnson told a story with puppets. Mrs. Johnson is den mother.

Opening lead: Five of ♣

The declarer used his eyes instead of his head in mapping out his line of play in today's hand. Failure to attack in the right direction proved fatal to his cause.

North and South lost no time in getting to three no trump and West opened his fourth best heart. East covered the ten with his king and declarer's ace won the trick. With six tricks assured in spades and hearts, he started development of the diamonds immediately to build his line to the required number of nine.

A diamond was led to the jack and East was in with the ace. On a heart return, South finessed the nine losing to West's jack and another heart cleared the suit. When the diamonds failed to break, declarer discovered that he was still a trick short. After running the spades, he led a club, but West put up the ace and still had enough hearts left to sink the contract.

Declarer's timing had been faulty. After the first trick produces the ten, king, and ace of hearts, he has a tenace remaining in the queen-nine which is safe from further attack on his left. He should therefore endeavor to keep his right hand opponent out of the lead while he does his preliminary work.

He has six sure tricks with ample additional tricks if diamonds break evenly. If the suit does not respond, however, he will still be a trick short, and if East has the ace of diamonds a lead thru South's heart holding may prove fatal.

Declarer should begin to work on the clubs first, for this is a suit that he can develop with impunity. It is suggested that he cross to the ace of spades at trick two in order to play a small club. If East has the ace, he cannot afford to put it up, for by so doing he will establish three tricks in the suit for South. If declarer succeeds in sneaking thru one club, he can afford to switch his attention to the diamonds.

When the first club lead actually loses to the ace on his left, South is still in good shape, for West cannot attack the hearts profitably, and declarer has ample time to work on the diamonds.

U.S. Wants Direct Line To Moscow

GENEVA (AP) — The United States pressed the Soviet Union today for the establishment of a direct permanent communications link between the leaders of the two powers to avoid the risk of war by accident or miscalculation.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stille told the 17-nation disarmament talks the Cuban crisis demonstrated the need for improved continuous and reliable communications between the leaders of the two major military powers, the United States and the Soviet Union.

He said the U.S. government "is prepared to act quickly" in setting up a permanent line which could be used both for teletype and voice communications.

He said the American end of the line would be in the National Command Center which maintains continuing contact with the President and his principal assistants.

"The major military powers," said Stille, "have a heavy responsibility to their own people and to other nations to take those relatively simple steps that would reduce the danger of unintended war."

To do less, when so little is required, would be incompatible with the exercise of the responsibility which rests upon the major military powers.

The direct communication idea is one of three measures the United States has proposed to reduce the risk of war by accident or miscalculation.

The other proposals are for each side to provide the other with advance notification of military movements, and the exchange of small military missions.

Soviet negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin has refused so far to enter into detailed negotiations on the American proposals.

Farmers Thumb Noses At USDA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Local farm review committees are in most cases, rejecting the Agriculture Department's contention that transfer of certain cotton acreage allotments in Texas actually amounted to illegal trafficking in the prized right to grow cotton.

Local juries have crossed off about $175,000 of the total $734,328 in penalties the department had levied, officials said today.

Estes Faces Sentencing In About 2 Weeks

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—At least part of the Billie Sol Estes maneuvering in farm finance were fraud and not just a method of doing big business, a federal court jury decided Thursday.

Unless the appellate courts disagree, the chubby, round faced promoter could draw prison terms totaling up to 25 years. U.S. Dist. Judge R.E. Thomason said sentence will be passed in about two weeks.

The verdict, capping an 18-day trial, came just one day short of a year after federal agents arrested Estes at his costly Pecos home in West Texas. Since then his 30-odd firms dealing in grain storage, fertilizer sales and cotton farming have collapsed. Now he's bankrupt.

Estes, outwardly unperturbed, gazed steadily at the jurors as the decision was read. He even managed a weak smile. His wife Patsy, occupying a front row seat in the courtroom, looked stricken.

As they left the Estes' three brothers, both declined comment on the conviction or their plans. Mrs. Estes, a comely blonde, clutched his arm tightly and murmured in a low, tense voice: "He looks just as good to me today as he did yesterday."

Prosecutors claimed Estes bilked about 100 individuals and up to a dozen finance companies, including some of the nation's largest, of about $24 million through phony mortgages on fertilizer tanks.

Specifically the jury convicted him on four counts of mail fraud and one of conspiracy, each carrying a maximum penalty of five years in prison. He was acquitted on nine counts and awaits trial on 13 more at Pecos.

PLEADED GUILTY

Three co-defendants pleaded guilty earlier to five counts in the same indictment. They are Harold E. Orr of Amarillo and Coleman D. McSpadden of Lubbock, each sentenced to 10 years, and Ruel W. Alexander of Amarillo, six years.

Sheriff's Trial Centers On Letters

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Suspended Jefferson County Sheriff C. H. Meyer, who testified he received about $85,000 in contributions during the five years he was in office, Thursday identified a large group of envelopes as ones that had been in his office.

Meyer, being tried on charges of incompetence and misconduct, said that the envelopes had been kept in a filing cabinet by a chief deputy so that he could send letters of thanks to his contributors.

The state is attempting to show that some of the contributions which the sheriff received from 1956 to 1961 might have come from operators of bawdy houses and illegal pinball machine operations.

The defense contends that the contributions received by Meyer, who was suspended two years ago followed a probe by the House Investigating Committee, were to help the sheriff carry on his numerous youth programs and other civic activities.

COMPLEX EVIDENCE

Robbin E.L. Washington, believed the first Negro elected foreman of a Texas jury since Reconstruction days, told the court near the halfway point that sifting evidence was proving complex. He also said the jurors were having trouble remembering the judge's oral charge.

After sending the panel back to deliberate further, Judge Thomason departed from his custom and made available a copy of the charge—a 15,000 word document stating how various laws applied to the case—for study as any questions arose.

Witnesses testified the Estes tank deals worked this way: Explaining he needed more capital to expand, Estes induced farmers or business men to buy anhydrous ammonia (fertilizer) tanks on time. He leased the tanks—which were nonexistent—and paid rentals matching their monthly installments. Each tank buyer received a lease bonus of around 10 per cent of the amount of money he borrowed.

AT DISCOUNT

Estes or associates sold mortgages securing the tank purchasers' loans to various finance companies at discount. The documents and other papers were exchanged through the mails.

Defense lawyers maintained there was no fraud or conspiracy because both the tank buyers and the loan firms knew there never were any tanks. They added that this was an accepted mode of financing. And all entered the transactions only because there was promise of quick profit.

Costs Money To Be Popular

Yul Brynner, starring in "Taras Bulba," made himself available to everybody when filming on location in Argentina. He recently found out what his friendliness had cost him.

During the past year, Brynner has sent more than 2,000 autographed photographs of himself to Argentina, at a cost (including photographs, stuffers and stamps) of $1,240.00.

Jewels Stolen

ROME (AP) — Jewels worth $840,000 were reported today to have been stolen from the former Mrs. Harrison Williams, longtime world's best-dressed woman and noted figure in European and New York society.

DEAR ABBY

His, Hers, And Theirs

DEAR ABBY: When a wife earns money by doing substitute teaching shouldn't she be allowed to spend it on whatever she pleases? My husband is a professional man with a good income. He thinks a mink stole is a frivolous luxury, and when I wanted to buy one with my own money he said, "Why is it when I earn money it is OURS, but when YOU earn money it is YOURS?" I don't work steady and do not neglect my household duties. Our children are in school all day and I enjoy substitute teaching. My husband is very reasonable except when it comes to money. Can you (or someone who has handled this problem) give me an opinion.

FRUSTRATED
DEAR FRUSTRATED: The husband is normally the provider for the family so his income becomes his and hers. Any money a wife earns through her own efforts is HERS. But in case the family needs HERS it should quickly become THEIRS.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my husband. I hate to go to a movie with him because he forgets himself and yells, "LOOK OUT BEHIND YOU!" Or, "RUN, YOU FOOL!" People actually move away from us. When I tell him to be quiet, he claims he can't help it. I'd like to know if it's possible for a person to act that way through no fault of his own? Or do you think he could control himself better if he tried?

EMBARRASSED
DEAR EMBARRASSED: Some people are so moved by an exciting performance they forget momentarily that it's only a performance. There are worse faults. But if it ruins the show for you, let him attend the wild ones alone.

DEAR ABBY: I went with a boy for five months. For Valentine's Day he gave me a gold locket with my initials on the front of it and his on the back. We broke up and I don't want to keep the locket. Should I give it back to him? My mother says no and my father says yes.

NORA
DEAR NORA: I agree with your mother. The boy would have no use for a gold locket with YOUR INITIALS ON THE FRONT. Put it in your drawer and forget about it.

DEAR ABBY: Animals CAN NOT count. The behavior described in your column is instinct, not counting. If a cat has seven kittens and she moves them from one place to another, she will always make eight trips.
