Opening lead: Deuce of ♠
Declarer ought not to wait until the end of the hand to bring off the dramatic end play. The planning should be done in the early stages of the contest as declarer in today's hand observed to his discomfort.

North and South bid themselves up to four hearts with dispatch, and West opened fire with the deuce of spades. East took the first trick with the ace and then shifted to the king of clubs.

Declarer was in with the ace and observed that his contract hinged on picking up either the queen of hearts or the queen of diamonds. His first act was to cash the top heart honors, but West showed out on the second round. South next played his remaining spades and then exited with the ten of clubs, hoping to induce a favorable return.

East put up the queen of clubs and, after cashing the top heart, he got out with a small diamond. The declarer played low and West's nine forced out the ace from dummy. On the diamond return, South finessed the jack and West produced the queen of diamonds for the setting trick.

South admittedly ran into an unfavorable lie on the hand, but he could have overcome the bad breaks with a bit of planning. His end play came too late to be of use. A better plan would have been for him to concede a club at trick four.

After winning with the ace of clubs he returns the ten of clubs. When he regains the lead, he can play one high heart honor from his hand but when this does not drop the queen, he should cash out the spades ending in the dummy and then lead the jack of hearts. If East does not cover, the jack is permitted to ride. When the finesse succeeds, the contract is assured.

If the heart finesse loses to West, he will be confronted with a choice of equally unpleasant returns. If he leads a black card, South can ruff in dummy while he discards his losing diamond and, if West comes back with a diamond, it will clear up the finesse in that suit.

New Satellite Expected To Gather Mass Of Data

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Explorer 17 satellite zipped around the globe today and within two days its sensitive instruments were expected to collect more information about the earth's atmosphere than all the knowledge gained through the centuries.

The 410-pound ball of instruments vaulted skyward Tuesday night atop a three-stage Delta rocket and settled into an egg-shaped orbit ranging from 150 to 570 miles high. The launching success was the 16th straight for the reliable Delta.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported good quality signals were being received from the flying laboratory as it circled the world every 96 minutes.

A number of ground stations were equipped to monitor the satellite. Officials said the vehicle would be commanded to send five-minute bursts of information at carefully selected times during the anticipated 60-to-90-day useful lifetime. They planned to activate the sphere 10 to 20 times a day to obtain maximum knowledge of the atmosphere under varying conditions and at different altitudes.

Eight measuring instruments encased in the satellite's stainless steel shell were to record the amount of helium, oxygen and nitrogen gases, neutral particles and electron and ion temperatures and densities. Comparison of the data would help scientists construct a fairly complete chart of the density, composition, temperatures and pressures of the atmosphere at a time when solar activity has a minimum influence.

Nelson Spencer, project manager, said the space agency hopes to launch similar satellites later under different atmospheric conditions for comparison with what is learned by Explorer 17. Officials reported that scientists for centuries puzzled over the makeup of the atmosphere and only in recent years — when rockets allowed them to make direct high-altitude measurements — have they obtained some concrete answers.

Winnie To See Citizenship Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

CITIZEN CHURCHILL: Congress has approved U.S. citizenship for Sir Winston Churchill and plans are being made for a transatlantic televising of the formal event next week.

The Senate voted citizenship Tuesday, following up the House's action last month. Officials said President Kennedy will sign the measure at 4:30 p.m. EST next Tuesday in the White House rose garden. The former British prime minister, too ailing to come to the United States to accept, will be able to witness the event on live television via the Relay communications satellite. The ceremony will be televised by American networks, too.

The Senate action marked the first time Congress has formally granted U.S. citizenship to a foreign leader.

KENNEDY-CIVIL RIGHTS: The Kennedy administration has sent its civil rights legislation proposals to Congress. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy calls it a "do it now" program aimed at speeding up registration of Negro voters. President Kennedy outlined the program to Congress in a February message. His brother described the legislation to newsmen Tuesday. It includes the proposal to substitute a sixth-grade education for literacy tests as a requirement for voting in federal elections which was blocked in the Senate last year.

Another proposal: temporary referees to pass on the qualifications of Negro applicants in any county in which anti-discrimination voting suits are pending and in which less than 15 per cent of the Negroes old enough to vote have been registered.

NEW MINUTEMAN: The Air Force says it is developing a new Minuteman missile with four times the present ability to destroy underground enemy missile sites. It hopes to have the new weapon operational by 1965.

The Air Force said Tuesday the improved Minuteman will have a refined guidance system with accuracy against a hardened target "such that two improved Minutemen would insure a desired probability of kill rather than eight of the other type."

HARD BARGAINING: Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges says the United States may have to take a tougher line on European industrial exports if the European Common Market doesn't relax restrictions on U.S. farm goods.

He told a news conference Tuesday that U.S. tariff negotiators may reach the point of "not giving in on industrial products without getting returns on agricultural products."

WORKING WOMEN: The Labor Department says women's share in the U.S. work force has rised to its highest peacetime level, 34 per cent, and it still is rising.

The department reported Tuesday in its "Handbook on Women Workers" that there now are more than 24 million women employed, that in nearly one third of all married couples both husband and wife bring home paychecks, almost triple the 1940 percentage, and fulltime working wives contribute 35 to 40 per cent of family income.

Actor Burton, Wife Agree On Separation

NEW YORK (AP)—British actor Richard Burton—who has been playing Marc Antony to Elizabeth Taylor's Cleopatra on and off the screen—and his blonde wife, Sybil, have agreed to a legal separation.

The Burtons separation agreement was announced here Tuesday night by the couple's attorney, Aaron Frosch, who said: "Divorce has not been considered or discussed. All financial and other arrangements have been concluded."

Frosch of New York, accompanied Mrs. Burton when she flew in from London Tuesday with her two children, Katherine and Jessica. The trip ostensibly was for an Easter vacation with her father-in-law, Philip Burton.

Burton, 37, stayed behind with Miss Taylor, 31.

The Welsh-born actor and the classic screen beauty have been in the headlines since they began filming "Cleopatra." They are currently working on a picture in London.

Burton and Miss Taylor have turned up at various times on the Isle of Ischia off the Italian coast, the Italian Riviera, Swiss resorts and Cairo. In each case, Mrs. Burton was left behind.

The handsome actor's wife—herself a beauty—flew back and forth between London and Rome as Burton was seen in public with the glamorous Miss Taylor on his arm. Early this year Mrs. Burton denied reports that she was giving her husband a divorce.

Miss Taylor is separated from her fourth husband, singer Eddie Fisher. She has three children—two boys by her second husband, Michael Wilding, her second husband, and a daughter by producer Mike Todd, her third. The raven-haired beauty was married first to hotel heir Nicky Hilton.

Todd was 45 when he married the actress in a 1957 Acapulco, Mexico, ceremony. Eddie Fisher was best man, and his wife of the time, actress Debbie Reynolds, was an attendant.

The flamboyant Todd was killed in a 1958 plane crash. Six months later, Miss Taylor and Fisher began appearing together in public.

Miss Reynolds got her decree and custody of a son and daughter by Fisher. The singer got a Nevada divorce of his own three months later, to avoid the California waiting law, and 3½ hours after that he married Miss Taylor.

The actress had embraced Judaism, and the ceremony on May 12, 1959, was performed by two rabbis.

Burton, one of 13 children of a Welsh miner, was trained in the best Shakespearean theaters of Britain and appeared in several films before starring in the hit Broadway musical "Camelot," in which he played King Arthur.

No Prospects Seen For Any Big Rains

By The Associated Press

A few showers fell Wednesday along a feeble cold front pushing across Texas toward the southeast.

There appeared to be no prospect, however, for enough rain to dent a growing moisture deficiency throughout the state.

In early morning the front lay along a line linking Gainesville, Mineral Wells and the Big Bend of far West Texas. It was moving downstate at 20 miles per hour.

Showers set off by the cooler air fell at intervals from near Eastland to Bridgeport, and between Gainesville and Denison. There was fog at Galveston before the sun rose.

Skies were clear in the Texas Panhandle and around El Paso and Texarkana. It was at least partly cloudy in other areas.

The cooler air was expected to finish enveloping the state's northern half by Thursday but no big temperature changes were in prospect for the rest of Texas. A few thundershowers were predicted during the night in southern areas.

Weather records for the first quarter of the year meanwhile reflected one of the driest periods for most of Texas in years. Rainfall at Dallas measured 6.27 inches below normal, the sparsest since statistics have been kept.

All 19 cities covered in a report by the state climatologist likewise showed moisture deficits. From San Antonio southward drought conditions are critical, the Agriculture Department reported.

Temperatures early Wednesday ranged from 41 degrees at Dalhart up to 73 at Corpus Christi.

Castro Apologizes For Attack On Ship

WASHINGTON (AP)—The incident of the Cuban MIG attack on the U.S. freighter Floridian was officially stamped closed today following an apology from the Castro regime.

Various Cuban issues remained very much open, however, with prospects that President Kennedy would be asked about them at his news conference this afternoon.

Among them:

- Withdrawal of Soviet troops from Cuba, disappointingly slow from Kennedy's standpoint. Only "several hundred" more were said to have left the island since Kennedy reported the departure of 3,000 at his last press conference March 21. That leaves an estimated 13,000 to 14,000 still in Cuba.
- A further explanation of the administration's reasons for clamping down on anti-Castro raiders.

Also expected shortly is a U.S. note to Moscow rejecting the Soviet Union's charge that the United States was to blame for Cuban exiles' hit-and-run attacks on Soviet ships near Cuba March 18 and 26.

The Castro apology for the March 28 attack on the Floridian, coupled with a promise to avoid such incidents in the future, arrived at the State Department late Tuesday in a note presented by Czech Ambassador Miloslav Ruzek. The Czechs handle Cuban interests here in the absence of U.S.-Cuban diplomatic ties.

Press officer Joseph W. Reap quickly pronounced the Havana answer satisfactory to the United States and said, "We consider this particular incident closed."

The Floridian was about 25 miles off the north coast of Cuba on a San Juan to Miami run when two Soviet-built MIGs fired shots across its bow and stern. The ship was not hit.

In its note, the Cuban government said its pilots had been chasing another vessel and had fired warning shots at the Floridian by mistake.

The Cuban government said "it had no wish to interfere with the U.S. or other international shipping in the Caribbean, that it regrets the incident of March 28, and that it is undertaking to adopt all possible measures to avoid a recurrence of the incident," Reap said.

Ruzek said the Castro regime had also asked the United States to take due account of the "seriousness of the situation" by clamping down on hit-and-run raids on Cuba.

Reap declined direct comment on this, but noted the Kennedy administration's Saturday announcement of tighter measures against freelance forays on Cuba.

In the Bahamas 16 Cuban crewmembers of a raiding ship apprehended by British officials over the weekend were jailed pending an investigation. The 17th, American Jerry Buchanan of Miami, pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal entry, posted a $70 bond and won adjournment of his case on condition he leave the Bahamas by Friday.

Showdown Maneuvering Shifts Ball To Red China

MOSCOW (AP)—Cautious maneuvering toward a face-to-face showdown meeting between communism's two giants shifted the ball back to Peking today.

Premier Khrushchev declined an invitation to visit Red China and instead asked Mao Tse-tung to see him in Moscow.

As an alternative Khrushchev suggested that the Chinese Communist leader first send representatives for high-level talks to clear the air over the deep Moscow-Peking rift.

There was no immediate reaction from Peking. A New China News Agency broadcast said only that the Soviet ambassador to Peking had delivered a letter from Khrushchev to Premier Chou En-lai and other Chinese party leaders.

It appeared, however, that it would be difficult for Mao to refuse at least to send a delegation to Moscow. In his invitation to Khrushchev, Mao said that if the Soviet premier could not come to Peking, he could send a delegation or the Chinese would send a delegation to Moscow.

In his reply Khrushchev declined with thanks the Chinese invitation to stop over in Peking en route to Cambodia this spring.

The letter, signed by the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee, said Khrushchev never intended to visit Cambodia. Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev is going instead, it said.

The best time for Mao's visit to Moscow, the letter suggested, would be in the spring or summer of this year, Tass reported.

If Mao cannot make the trip, the letter proposed that the substitute delegation come about May 15.

The Chinese have been pressing since last summer for an international conference of Communist chiefs for a showdown on whether world communism should follow Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence with the West or Mao's hard line.

Viland Still Leading Pack

OMAHA (AP)—The lead still rested with a Rambler American piloted by Les Viland of Livonia, Mich., as the 36 cars in the 1963 Mobil Economy Run headed for Chicago today on the fifth leg of the Los Angeles to Detroit drive.

As they halted here Tuesday night, Viland had an average of 29.26 miles per gallon for his Class C large engine compact division entry. The day's run was from Cheyenne with high winds plaguing drivers.

Going into the Omaha-Chicago leg, the top race was between a Ford Falcon and a Chrysler Valiant in the class for medium engine compacts. The Falcon had a 26.74 m.p.g. average and the Valiant trailed by only .01.

In the small engine compact category, two women drivers were only 5 miles apart. Mary Hauser of Redondo Beach, Calif., had a 28.71 average in her Chevy II to lead Pat Sawyer of Lehabra, Calif., driving a Corvair Monza.

Other class leaders:

Intermediate size cars with V8 engines: Buick Special, 24.13; standard size cars with six cylinders: Plymouth Savoy, 24.61; low price V8s: Dodge 330, 21.53; medium V8s: Oldsmobile Dynamic 88, 20.59; luxury autos, Chrysler New Yorker, 18.68.

The run will end Thursday at Detroit.

O'Toole Cheers Red Brass With Hurling

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim O'Toole is no magician, but with a little assist from a nail clipper, the cocky Cincinnati lefthander has been pulling goose eggs out of a hat.

O'Toole stretched his string of scoreless innings to 22 Tuesday, holding the Chicago White Sox to two singles in an eight-inning prep for his opening day pitching assignment as the Reds pitched a 7-0 victory in an exhibition game at Tampa.

And O'Toole, who publicly stated he was out to get next Monday's opening day assignment and got it, giving much of the credit to the little nail clipper that has been constantly in his hip pocket since the spring training grind began.

The 26-year-old southpaw shays an ingrown nail hampered his effectiveness last spring and resulted in a slow start that held him to a 16-13 record after he compiled a 19-9 mark in 1961. O'Toole vowed to keep the nail clipped, and has been doing the same to the batters.

While O'Toole continued to shine, somewhat alleviating the problem caused by Bob Purkey's inability to pitch because of an ailing right shoulder, outfielder Vada Pinson again powered the ball in his bid to get ready for opening day.

Pinson underwent an emergency appendectomy Feb. 19, began working out March 22 and returned to action Saturday. Tuesday he smashed a two-run triple in support of O'Toole. Pinson had collected two doubles Monday and now is 5-for-16 with five runs batted in.

The Reds belted 14 hits against Joel Horlen. Mike Joyce and Earlly Wynn, who was notified by the White Sox after the game that he could not be carried on the roster. Wynn, seeking a chance to get his 300th victory, had been working out without a contract.

In other Florida games, Kansas City shut out Detroit 4-0 at Bradenton, the New York Yankees belted Philadelphia 6-2 at Clearwater. Milwaukee defeated Minnesota 5-1 at Orlando, Baltimore walloped Washington 9-2 at Pompano Beach and the New York Mets edged St. Louis 7-6 at St. Petersburg.

Elsewhere, San Francisco knocked off Cleveland 6-3 at Bakersfield, Houston thumped the Los Angeles Angels 9-5 at San Jose, Boston edged the Chicago Cubs 2-1 at San Bernardino and the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the University of New Mexico 4-0.

Ted Bosfield and Ed Rakow combined for a four-hitter that got the job done against the Tigers while Haywood Sullivan led the A's attack with a double, two singles and three runs batted in. Jack Reed hit a grand-slam homer and Joe Pepitone connected for his ninth home of the spring as the Yankees overpowered the Phillies.

Warren Spahn held the Twins to six hits in a nine-inning performance after the Braves put it out of reach in the first inning on Lee Maye's homer and a three-run double by Joe Torre. Luis Aparicio hit a grand slam and Dick Brown a solo shot as the Orioles bopped the Senators.

Pinch hitter Ron Hunt's single drove in the clincher as the Mets rallied for five runs in the eighth to whip the Cards. Two-run homers by Willie Mays and Felipe Alou provided the Giants with enough punch to down the Indians. Mays' seventh-inning homer broke a scoreless tie.

The Colts pounced on Bob Turley for five runs in two innings and used a two-run homer by second baseman Ernie Fazio for the decisive runs against the Angels. Ike Delock, Arnold Earley and Dick Radatz combined for a five-hitter that gave the Red Sox their edge over the Cubs.

Klaus Boys Get Into The Brother Act

Billy Klaus, left, Philadelphia Phillies infielder, visits with his brother, Bobby, 25, when he discovered his younger brother had accompanied the Cincinnati Reds to Clearwater, Fla., for an exhibition game. Bobby played third base for the Reds during the game but is on the San Diego club, a Reds farm team. # Arnie Rated Man To Beat AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the "people's choice," also is the favorite of the exclusive set—the former Masters golf champions—to win the 27th annual classic opening Thursday at the breath-takingly beautiful Augusta National course.

A poll of 14 former winners of the championship gave the muscular Pennsylvanian 10 winning votes. One of the four he didn't receive was cast by Palmer himself. His selection was Jack Nicklaus, his conqueror in a National Open playoff last year.

That, surprisingly, was the only first-place vote big Jack garnered. The others went to Tony Lama, who came into his own last fall and currently rates No. 4 on the PGA official money list for this year with almost $15,000 in winnings. Gene Littler, a former U.S. Open and amateur king and Don January, PGA playoff loser to Jerry Barber two summers ago.

Another eye-opener of the poll of past champions was the fact that Gary Player, the 1961 champion, did not receive a single first-place vote. The jaunty little South African wasn't overlooked completely. He won six votes for second place and two for third.

Nicklaus picked up five seconds and four thirds to complete the "big three's" domination of the balloting.

The oddsmakers, operating informally in the absence of legalized bookmaking, have installed Palmer as a 4-1 choice to win an unprecedented fourth title in six years.

Player and Nicklaus both are rated 6-1 and the others in the field of 82 ranged from 10-1 up.

"In more than 25 years on this beat, the best I've seen, one to a sport, are Joe Louis, Joe DiMaggio, Eddie Arcore, Jimmy Brown and Bob Cousy. I get protests from advocates of Ray Robinson, Sammy Baugh, Sid Luckman, Will Chamberlain and George Mikan. These must be respected. But they aren't the true elite. They don't belong with my people. After Louis, only Marciano, Ray Robinson, Tony Cansoneri and Willie Pep might be considered. But Louis did it all and never ducked anyone. He lasted a good while, but he wasn't the same pug after his hitch in the Army. He started at it after his talent was gone. Ezzard Charley beat him when his skills were impaired. He is my fighter against them all. There isn't one close to him."

BUD WINTER, San Jose College track mentor
"A vaulter probably is going to need two poles, because the temperature influences the bend. In the NCAA meet at Eugene last year, a certain pole was fine in the morning and lousy in the afternoon. We have a man, Roger Werne, who weighs 135 pounds, but holds the world record for breaking five poles in two weeks. If you stretch his record out to include last year, the figure would go up. The poles get weakened when someone throws them down or a man steps on them with spikes. Then, under pressure, they crack. The ads show the poles being bent double, both ends meeting, and they don't break. But when the vaulters use them they crack. They cost $65 each and we've broken so many we're working on the 1965 budget."

One All-Time Texas Record Established

By The Associated Press

One all-time record has been believed and three athletes—sprinter Dennis Richardson of Abilene Christian, distance runner James McClatchie of Lamar Tech and weightman Danny Roberts of Texas A&M—are double leaders in Texas track.

Gerald Pratt of Texas Southern set the record March 23 when he vaulted 16 feet 3/4 inch—the first Texas to top 16 feet.

Richardson leads the 100-yard dash with 9.3 and the 220 in 20.9. McClatchie, a freshman, has the best 880-yard time of 1:32.5 and the top mile time of 4:10.8.

Roberts owns the best efforts in the shot put of 56 feet 11 inches and the discus throw of 164 feet 8 inches.

These figures were compiled by the Abilene Christian College sports information service. It also reports Texas Southern is an overwhelming leader in the relays.

Texas Southern tops the 440 with 40.7, the 880 with 1:25.4, the mile with 3:12.3, the sprint medley with 3:21.0 and the distance medley with 10:40.5.

Texas is the only school able to break into the Texas Southern relay monopoly. The Longhorns lead the two-mile relay with 7:44.2.

Lester Milburn of Texas Southern and Ted Nelson of Texas A&M have the fastest time for the 440-yard dash, each posting a 47.0. Geoff Walker of Houston leads the two-milers with 9:08.8.

Bobby May of Rice leads the 120-yard high hurdlers with 14.2. Rex Wilson of Texas and May each boast a wind-aided 14.1.

Wilson leads the 330-yard hurdlers with 37.8.

Colin Ridgway of Lamar Tech is tops in the high jump with 6 feet 9 1/2 inches.

Cook: Vital Football Info Given By Butts

By DON MCKEE
ATLANTA (AP) — Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook has concluded after a state investigation that Wallace Butts, who for 22 years coached football at the University of Georgia, divulged vital team information to coach Paul Bryant of the University of Alabama prior to last fall's game between the two schools.

Cook's findings, made public Tuesday by Gov. Carl E. Sanders, stirred sharp attacks from attorneys for Butts and Bryant. The lawyers said Cook's conclusions were unwarranted, inaccurate and in some instances untruthful.

As the Georgia report was released, NCAA President Robert F. Ray said a preliminary inquiry indicated possible violations of the rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Investigations also are under way by an Alabama legislative committee, a U.S. Senate group and the Southeastern Conference.

In his lengthy report, Cook concluded the information given by Butts "was unethical and improper, and unscrupulous, and that the furnishing of such information might have vitally affected the outcome of the game in points and margin of victory."

Alabama won 35-0 in the Sept. 22 opener for both teams.

Cook said he found no evidence that "any consideration passed to Wally Butts either directly or indirectly because of the transmittal of football information concerning the game."

The state investigation was ordered more than two weeks ago by Sanders after the Saturday Evening Post said Butts and Bryant rigged the game. Both men denied the accusations. Butts sued the Post for $10 million in a libel action.

Sanders said the report would be filed in the minutes of the executive department and a copy sent to Commissioner Bernie Moore of the Southeastern Conference.

The governor said there would be no further state action since no violation of any criminal statute was indicated and Butts is no longer associated with the university. Butts resigned as athletic director in February.

Sanders declined comment on Cook's request to continue a probe into the question of gambling.

"The report speaks for itself," Sanders said.

"I personally regret the whole affair, all its ramifications, and the unfortunate effect it will have on collegiate football, regardless of the final outcome," he said.

Cook said he concluded that George F. Burnett, an Atlanta insurance salesman, actually overheard a telephone conversation between Butts and Bryant.

Burnett, who said he accidentally was cut into the call Sept. 13, said he was paid $5,000 by the Post for his story.

Cook said his conclusion was "that the information which was overheard being given by Butts was not casual in nature but it related to football plays, formations and patterns, and was of vital concern and importance in respect to the offensive and defensive plays, formations and patterns of the Georgia football team."

There was no evidence, Cook said, that Butts received any consideration for allegedly passing the information to Bryant.

"Nevertheless, I am constrained to conclude that telephone calls were made by Butts to persons known to bet and gamble on football games," Cook said. "These telephone conversations could have been purely coincidental."

Cooper Rallies In 6th To Topple Big Spring

All the fireworks were confined to the sixth inning as Abilene Cooper topped Big Spring, 3-1, in a District 2-AAAA baseball game here Tuesday.

The game blossomed into a gorgeous pitching duel between Cooper's Eddie Venable and Roy New of Big Spring and, New, no doubt, deserved a better fate.

Venable was tough in the clinch, however. Big Spring put two runners aboard in both the first and last frames but couldn't move them around.

Jeff Brown accounted for Big Spring's only run when he smashed a mighty round tripper just inside the line beyond the left field fence. The drive came with one out in the sixth.

New gave the Cougars only four hits whereas the Steers collected five off Venable—and three of those were for extra bases.

A short time after Brown smashed his four-master, Charley West drove out a tremendous triple for Big Spring into right center field. He would have made it all the way but for the fact that he broke stride between third and home, thinking that the ball was about to be relayed home. He was nipped at the plate.

Mike Frush led off Cooper's sixth by getting hit with a pitched ball and promptly stole second. Jack Ridley followed with a single and Venable loaded the bases by nicking New for an infield one-baser.

Roy McCharen followed by skying to center and driving in a run Harry Hammie followed with a solid smash between third and short and accounted for two more runs.

New drove out a two-baser for Big Spring in the fourth but died on base.

Rick Wisener and Bill Andrews reached base for Big Spring in the first inning, all to no avail.

In the seventh, Jack Roden singled and Pat Reilly was hit with a pitched ball to provide the Steers with another opportunity but Venable extinguished the rally by forcing Buster Barnes to fly to right and Wisener to roll out.

The defeat was the third without a win in conference play for Big Spring. Cooper is now 12 Overall, the Steers are 8-11 and Cooper 8-8.

The Longhorns oppose Odessa Permian at 2 p.m. here Saturday.

Ted Williams Is Still Outspoken

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — If Ted Williams has changed, it isn't discernible to the naked eye or sensitive ear.

Outspoken, forthright, explosive intense, inquisitive, nervous and controversial, the big guy is as interesting as ever as he discusses baseball and baseball players, asking as many questions as he answers.

Sitting down, standing up, smiling, frowning, swearing, making sweet talk, gesturing, moving about but constantly talking, the great slugger relished his glory days with the Boston Red Sox.

"I have no regrets," he began. "I don't think I'd do a single thing differently if I were starting out again—except maybe concentrate a bit more on fielding. And I certainly wouldn't feel any different about most of my writers."

He added defiantly.

Except for a slight paunchiness around the middle and some lines on his ruggedly handsome face, Williams at 44 looks about the same as he did when he retired as an active player at the end of the 1960 season.

"You writers haven't changed a bit," he shouted. "Only the other day, a guy asked me to discuss present day hitters. I told him there wasn't a hitter in the big leagues who couldn't improve and that went for guys like Mickey Mantle, Willie Mays or anybody. The guy made it appear that I was criticizing Mantle and Mays. I never intended that."

"I wrote to both Mantle and Mays, telling them exactly what I said. I regard Mantle and Mays as among the greatest hitters I've ever seen. Those guys are super stars."

Now a special batting instructor to Red Sox players, Williams admitted he misses the thrills of his 20 turbulent years with the Red Sox.

"I think I can still hit," he declared. "If I tried to run I probably have a heart attack I quit when I had to after playing as long as I could."

The winner of six batting crowns, recipient of two Most Valuable Player awards and owner of a 344 lifetime batting mark, the man who rates with Babe Ruth among the greatest sluggers of them all, said today's stars are equal to those of his day.

Schwarzenbach Is Ringer Champion

Bill Schwarzenbach has been crowned champion of the ringer golf tournament staged during the month of March at the Big Spring Country Club for children of club members.

Schwarzenbach qualified with a 47 and wound up with a 37 for low net honors in the championship ship fight.

Mike Hall was declared the most improved player in the championship fight. He cut 16 strokes off his score after opening with a 57.

In the first flight, Pat Weaver captured low net honors. He opened with a 60 and closed with a 43.

David Dave Duncan was declared the most improved player in the first flight. He opened with a 67 and finished with a 52.

In all, 13 players took part in the meet.

Members of the BSGA are being asked to gather at the Chamber of Commerce at 7 p.m. Friday for an important business meeting.

How U.S. Considers Kremlin's Troubles

EDITOR'S NOTE—Domestic and international troubles are piling up on the Kremlin. John M. Hightower, AP diplomatic affairs writer, reviews the situation and reports on how U.S. officials view it in broad policy terms.

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The shadowy outlines of a policy crisis in the Kremlin have cast a deep uncertainty over the future development of Soviet relations with the United States and the outside world in general.

The best-informed U.S. officials discount reports abroad that Premier Khrushchev is in serious political trouble, faced with tough opposition inside the Soviet ruling group. So far as can be judged from here, he is still the dominant wielder of power in Moscow.

Yet the accumulation of troubles with which the Soviet government is now beset, including the long and serious argument with Red China, is a condition for which Khrushchev as the leader of the government and the Communist party must take major responsibility. This could lead to personal difficulties for him.

POLICY TERMS

In broad policy terms, authorities here see the present period in Moscow as one of great indecision, and the question which concerns them is what the trend of Soviet policy will be when the time of debate over various possible courses of action comes to an end.

The brief period of seeking friendlier relations with the United States, which began in the aftermath of the Cuban crisis last fall when Khrushchev was playing out his chosen role of savior of the peace, has long since ended.

It has been succeeded in East-West relations by a period of stalemate with evidence of Soviet stalling on such issues as Berlin, Cuba and disarmament.

Within the Communist bloc there is a kind of slow-motion sparring between Moscow and Peking over proposals to restore some degree of unity, but with results which so far are unpredictable.

The chances as estimated here are that Khrushchev and Red Chinese leader Mao Tze-tung will soon open up negotiations through lower level emissaries. The prospects for their actually overcoming basic differences are not considered very great.

Two developments this week shed a little fresh light on the complex of problems with which Khrushchev and others in the Kremlin are grappling. The first came in a remarkable dispatch from Moscow to the Communist newspaper L'Unita in Rome, reporting economic failures in the Soviet Union and saying that Moscow is going through "a delicate political moment."

An Associated Press dispatch from the Soviet capital Tuesday said Western observers there have seen signs of strain among Russia's ruling clique in recent months but failed to see any imminent threat to Khrushchev's position.

A second development Tuesday was the disclosure by the Soviet news agency Tass that Khrushchev has turned down an invitation to visit Peking for a conference on the split with Red China.

Instead, he has invited Mao—or a Chinese delegation at a lower level—to visit Moscow.

NO YIELDING

Authorities here said it is noteworthy that the Soviet note like an earlier Chinese note to the Communist leadership in the Kremlin, showed no sign of yielding on any of the basic points at issue between the two big Red powers.

But Khrushchev's difficulties range far beyond his quarrel with the Red Chinese and his obvious efforts to reassert Soviet leadership throughout the Communist bloc. Probably the most serious problems he faces are those concerned with promoting agricultural production and stimulating industrial expansion. After 10 years of growth, Soviet industry has leveled off. The chronic farm crisis is probably as bad now as it was a decade ago when Khrushchev virtually took personal control of agricultural policy.

U.S. To Provide Nuclear Arms For French Air Units

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States this week will arm with nuclear weapons two units of French fighter-bombers based in West Germany but the weapons will remain under American control, Defense Department sources have disclosed.

Officials said Tuesday night that the arrangement was worked out in negotiations begun five years ago between France and the United States and completed about a year ago.

The delay, they said, was caused by the time needed to acquire "lock and key" devices by which the United States retains control of the warheads.

The American control is retained through the so-called "permissive link" system. Thus even though a foreign national may be flying a plane equipped with a U.S. nuclear weapon he is unable to fire it without an electronic code ahead from another base. That electronic permission is kept in American hands.

Officials said this is the ninth such bilateral agreement between the United States and other North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries. The groundwork for the agreements was laid by NATO government heads in the late 1950s.

The agreement, the sources said, does not apply to any French units on French soil.

U.S. sources contended that the delivery of the U.S. nuclear weapons would make no change in the divergent U.S. and French views on nuclear arms policy.

The United States opposes independent national nuclear forces, favoring a multinational NATO force. Figuring large in President Charles de Gaulle's "grand design" for France is her own atomic force. He has turned down President Kennedy's offer of Polaris weapons to be put under NATO control.

From Paris' standpoint, the delivery of the weapons doesn't damage De Gaulle's stand, for the weapons will not be on French soil.

The United States feels it is remaining true to its policy opposing the spread of nuclear weapons for only the French units assigned to NATO are getting the weapons. The previous eight agreements were made with the Netherlands, Belgium, West Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Greece, Turkey and Canada, the officials said.

The only agreement left to be put into effect, they said, was the one with Canada. Debate over whether to accept the nuclear warheads is the hottest issue in the present Canadian election campaign.

Suits Against JFK Settled

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Damage suits, totaling $450,000, against President Kennedy were settled out of court today for a reported $17,750.

The suits were filed by four Mississippi delegates to the 1960 Democratic convention. They contended that they were injured in an accident involving a car rented by the Kennedy campaign committee.

One suit was brought by Mississippi State Sen. Hugh Lee Bailey. Another was brought jointly by Mrs. Lee Hills, wife of a newspaper columnist; Circuit Court Judge Walter M. O'Barr Jr. and William H. Austin of Hernando, Miss.

Annual Banquet Thursday For Vocational Students

Students participating Thursday at 7:30 o'clock at Cosden Country Club 27th annual banquet for Big Spring High School vocational students in cooperative training can proudly boast of being a part of two first places. The Distributive Education class here holds first place in all of Texas when it comes to size. The Industrial Cooperative Training program holds the distinction of being first in the point of continuous operation.

eased slightly to 62. Four graduated at mid-term (and two of these are continuing on their jobs while continuing their education at Howard County Junior College). There were 30 enrolled in the ICT program under Louis Maneely, and graduation at mid-term, moving from the city, etc. has reduced the figure to 20 active students.

Both the DE and ICT programs, several Big Spring coordinators have been drafted into district supervisory positions, and some have gone on to state positions. The program Thursday evening will be in charge of the students in DE and ICT classes, and there will be vocal selections, plus a skit. There will be presentation of awards—a certificate as a qualified training station—for every business or professional institution furnishing employment to the boys and girls under the program.

who got their first training as ICT (it originally was DO—Diversified Occupations) students. There are many others who are managers or assistant managers. George Rice has one former student who is now employing a student under the program. One of Maneely's former students is assistant manager in a firm which has trainees under him.

MANEELY, RICE

Coordinators Enthusiastic About Training Programs

The men who coordinate the schooling and on-the-job training of four score Big Spring High School students in the Industrial Cooperative Training and Distributive Education programs are enthusiastic about the work.

There are few if any problem children who stay in the program, they point out.

"For one thing," said Maneely, "a boy or girl who goes to school in the morning and then puts in several hours on the job in the afternoon will be too tired to get into trouble."

"More than that, they generally develop a good attitude toward themselves, their work, toward others and toward life."

This doesn't mean they don't have troubles, for probably as a group they have more than the average. The percentage enrolled in the classes who come from broken or disrupted homes is higher than the school average. Getting into the program occasionally is evidence that the students want to do something to establish themselves.

Maneely and Rice estimate that 90 per cent of their time is spent in counseling with students. Fortunately boys and girls bring their troubles, ranging from personal or family problems to knotty job situations, to the coordinators for advice and help. Rice's class is so large that he keeps open the lunch hour so students can come in for conference. Maneely has been in the ICT program here for nearly six years. He attended HCJC after service in World War II, then took his A.B. degree at West Texas State College, and his M. Ed. from Texas Tech. Since then he has done graduate work at North Texas State University, the University of Texas and Texas A&M. He is a member of Lambda Sigma, national vocational fraternity, also a member of the Methodist Church. He was industrial arts instructor at BSHS from 1957, when he became ICT coordinator. Rice earned both his BA and his M. Ed. degrees at Texas Tech and taught commercial subjects in Goliad Junior High for two years before becoming the coordinator for the DE program three years ago. He is a Baptist and formerly was a Lion before he had to keep his lunch hour open for conferences. Rice wrote the sales manual for the University of Texas Extension Service to be used in DE training.

LOUIS MANEELY

GEORGE RICE

Unofficial Tie Of Schools, College Helps

There is an unofficial and unintentional tie-in between the Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College which is helping many young people further their education. Both Louis Maneely and George Rice, in charge of the DE and the ICT programs, point out that in many instances young men and women after their graduation continue working for the firms which served as their on-the-job training station. Then they enroll in Howard County Junior College. Not only are they able to finance two years in college while they continue their work, but a number of them have saved enough that they have gone on to complete their education in a senior college. Their job experience here in several instances has enabled them to find employment readily in cities where senior colleges are located.

Clubs Extend Class Work

To extend the work of the vocational programs and promote fellowship among the students, those enrolled in the Distributive Education and the Industrial Cooperative Training classes have organized clubs.

The clubs meet regularly, also stage periodic social gatherings, sponsor the annual spring banquet, promote interclub competition.

Don Schlecht, who trains at Prager's, is president of the Distributive Education Club; Rick Henderson, who is in produce at Furr's, is vice president; Susan Gibbs, who is at the Hooser law office, is secretary-treasurer.

Officers in the ICT's Vocational Industrial Club are Mickey Lawson, dental assistant for Dr. Charles Warren, acting president; Judith Lyster, nurse's aide at Howard County Hospital Foundation, vice president; Donna Fulton, nurse's aide at Medical Arts Hospital, secretary; Darla Parker, nurse's aide at Malone & Hogan Clinic Hospital, reporter; Jackie Crawford, Fiveash Plumbing, sergeant-at-arms.

Getting Job Done Is 1st Requirement

Getting the job done is the main qualification in the Big Spring High School vocational program, and it doesn't seem to make much difference whether the field is traditionally for boys or girls. For instance, Kay Peacock is training as a printer, a field normally pre-empted by men. In district competition recently, in skill-speed, Kay mowed down 18 young male printer trainees.

Business Prospects Continue To Improve

By SAM DAWSON
Associated Press News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Business prospects continue to improve. The latest gains are in industrial production, especially in the making of durable goods. And this is cheering because much of the slackness that was disturbing during the winter was in this sector.

Yet for all its perkier appearance, the economy is showing no signs of heading for a boom. And a boom is what many labor and business leaders say would be needed now to cure unemployment and the profit margin squeeze.

Legislature In Brief

AUSTIN (AP)—The Legislature Tuesday: Senate: Passed to House on voice vote an annual voter registration bill, passed on voice vote to the House to acquire public park and historical sites, sent to House a general reorganization of the state criminal statutes. House: Passed nine bills to the Senate, including measures to create new civil appeal courts at Corpus Christi and Tyler, allow judges to grant occupational drivers' licenses to those with suspended licenses who must drive to keep their jobs, and let counties buy goods up to $500 without competitive bids.

Tong To Speak At Library Meet

MIDLAND—Marvin E. Tong Jr., director of the Museum of the Great Plains at Lawton, Okla., will be guest lecturer at the annual meeting of the Midland Friends of the Library Association April 7, at 3 p.m. at the library.

Tong is editor of the Great Plains Journal and has authored articles on the history, anthropology and archaeology of the Great Plains. The setting for his address will be a collection of 20 paintings and six works of sculpture of the western artists, Frederick Remington and Charles M. Russell. The collection is on loan from the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art in Fort Worth.

The exhibit will be open to the public weekdays, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 to 6 p.m. with Mondays and Thursday to 9 p.m.

Orders for steel are pouring in. The mills expect April output to be largest in the last 12 months. They know that much of the latest ordering spurt is sparked by hedging against the outside chance of a strike late in the summer, should the labor contract be reopened and negotiations stalemated. But steelmen insist much of the orders on their books now are from customers who expect to use the steel soon after delivery because they are optimistic about their own business outlook.

Backing for this view comes from the latest figures by the Department of Commerce. They show new orders received by all manufacturers rose 2 per cent in February to a record high. Economists regard these orders as a leading indicator—that is, pointing the direction the economy in general may be taking in the months just ahead.

The rise in durable goods orders was 3 per cent. The biggest increase was a 7 per cent rise in iron and steel orders, with auto and aerospace industries reporting good gains.

Manufacturers sales also rose in February to a record. But the rise in new orders was even faster. So for the second straight month the backlog of unfilled orders swelled. This, too, spells good times for at least the nearby weeks and months.

Much of the optimism this spring is based on the still climbing totals of personal income and retail sales. The only disappointment is that they aren't rising faster.

Business confidence also is bolstered by official reports that the nation's corporations are planning to spend more this year than last for new plants, and more especially for new equipment.

That puts all three sectors of spending on the upgrade: business, consumer and, of course, government. Federal spending is due to increase in the months ahead, and still bigger boosts are looked for in outlays by state and local governments.

It still doesn't add up to a big enough increase in the general economy to erase the problems. Most pressing is that of unemployment. With the labor force growing faster than new jobs open up, labor leaders say the ranks of the jobless are more likely to increase than shrink. They also charge that much of the spending by business will be to install machines that require fewer workers to turn out the same amount of goods.

the immediate future are impressive. Orders for steel are pouring in. The mills expect April output to be largest in the last 12 months. They know that much of the latest ordering spurt is sparked by hedging against the outside chance of a strike late in the summer, should the labor contract be reopened and negotiations stalemated. But steelmen insist much of the orders on their books now are from customers who expect to use the steel soon after delivery because they are optimistic about their own business outlook.

Oilman Rates Industry One Of Worst-Run

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A leading independent oil operator rates his business one of the worst-run industries around. "I can't think of any other industry that violates so generally the principles of good business," Rexford Blazer of Ashland, Ky., said Tuesday.

Blazer, board chairman of the Ashland Oil & Refining Co., spoke at a session of the National Petroleum Refiners Association. He said the industry uses cut-throat tactics, follows irresponsible policies and engages in predatory actions.

"We must learn to live with our problems, but far more important is the need to learn to live with one another," Blazer said.

He said gasoline price wars are the big villains of his industry. "It just isn't easy to explain gasoline price wars," Blazer said. "As has been pointed out by a large number of our industry spokesmen, the average consumer is prone to think that normal gasoline prices must be much too high. Otherwise, how can we afford to sell gasoline on occasion at such ridiculously low prices?"

Many people, he said, think the oil industry cannot afford to continue present policies. A Chicago labor relations man declared in another speech that some kind of social innovation must be effected to at least cushion automation or this country may face the worst labor crisis in its history.

"Total government regulation of the bargaining process will become a certainty and we will have lost a significant battle in the long struggle to demonstrate that individuals in a free society are capable of governing their own affairs," said Howell Turner, an executive of the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana).

He said the public seems to be taking a dimmer view of labor than it has in many years.

No Mystery About Training Programs

There is really no mystery about the cooperative vocational training programs at Big Spring High School.

Boys and girls of junior and senior level may sign for the program, either learning a skill craft or a service or sales job. Then they attend school during the mornings as usual, satisfying their remaining academic requirements for graduation and also studying technical work related to the jobs they are trying to learn.

During the afternoons, they go to businesses and offices in Big Spring and actually work on the job to apply what they are learning and what their employers teach them.

Most students average between 20 and 25 hours a week on the job, and a number of them put in Saturdays. All are paid for their work, and they average about $7.5 cents per hour. This would mean a minimum of $3,000 a week to the 80 young people employed in training.

In the Industrial Cooperative Training there are now trainees in such fields as nurse's aide, laboratory medical technician, dental assistants, printing, welding, television and radio repair, electricians, plumbing, aircraft and all types of auto mechanics, etc.

In the Distributive Education field, there are numerous situations in all kinds of retail sales, in services such as cleaning and pressing, stock room, department store work, offices, etc.

Businessmen Are Advisors

Both of the vocational occupational programs at Big Spring High School are assisted by businessmen serving on advisory committees.

On the Distributive Education committee are A. J. Prager, chairman; Herman Bauer, Woolworth; M. C. Grigsby, C. R. Anthony Co.; and Sebron Williams, assistant school superintendent.

Serving on the Industrial Cooperative Training advisory committee are J. D. Hyden, Hyden Auto Service, chairman; E. D. Dorchester, Texas Electric Service Company; George Bair, Big Spring Welding; Carroll Davidson, Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Letha Duke, R. N. Malone & Hogan Clinic Hospital.

DAILY GUIDE—Keep in mind the friction stirred up in yesterday's activities, and go easy through this day. It is especially important that those born at the end of July take care now. Not only are the Leo's bursting out aggressively, but the Aquarians are resenting some conditions imposed on them by other people, particularly partners, or other alliances. Taurus and Scorpio need to keep alert to the extra pressures brought on them now. Those born at the end of April or October may be confronted with decisions and action now.

I have good news for those born under Aries, or who know their horoscopes well enough to know that Jupiter in Aries will mean for them. Jupiter enters Aries today, remaining for a year in that sign. This does not mean that Arians can expect a sudden rush of good luck, but that over the year, they should be able to expand and grow progressively. It is the time for them to collect benefits due them for past accomplishments.

Allow for plenty of change tomorrow; keep flexible.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, ARIES! Do you hear that starting gun? You should be feeling in top form to take off for a grand year when things can come your way easily and with extra dividends involved. It can be a big social year, a time you step up in your career, receive praise for past efforts, or are unusually popular socially. Travel can be especially enjoyable. Those so inclined may find romance exciting. Right now social activities should have picked up, but by June be ready for some big changeover in working conditions. Health may also be a factor so do not press too much on the job. Other people can challenge you in August.

Israel Worries Over Germans
JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—Israel's Parliament has been ordered to break off its Passover recess and convene in special session Sunday to deal with the problem of German scientists working for the United Arab Republic's arms industry. The session was called Tuesday night at the demand of three opposition parties—the right-wing Herut, the Liberals and the left-wing Mapam. Spokesmen said they plan to move a motion of no confidence in Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's coalition government.

Controversy On Video

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Movie - TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Network television usually would rather be safe than sorry, particularly when it comes to editorializing.

Usually, when a controversial issue is involved, the approach becomes documentary, the various viewpoints in careful balance. But that is not the tack of outspoken Aline Saarinen, well-known critic and writer on art and design, who is a bi-weekly guest of NBC's "Today Show." Mrs. Saarinen, a woman of strong opinion in the areas of her specialty, enjoys shaking up her audience by attacking, questioning things that are popularly accepted.

In a recent television appearance, she nominated the huge granite sculptures carved in Mt. Rushmore as one of the six ugliest objects in America—resulting in considerable fiery mail.

She is the enemy of awe-inspiring square skyscrapers that contribute, she believes, to the growing ugliness of great cities. She deplores the uniformity of typical development houses that spring up like mushrooms on cleared and treeless tracts.

She even dared scold the New York public for flocking to see the visiting "Mona Lisa"—while 10 blocks away hangs, unsung and largely unvisited, what she calls one of the greatest pictures ever painted: Rembrandt's self-portrait.

Mrs. Saarinen, a slim 42 and bubbling with enthusiasm, is like a peppermint after a rich meal.

You may not agree, but she makes you think. She'll be turning up on "Today" again Friday—infuriating some complacent souls, upsetting others but stimulating to everyone.

"We're on a culture kick, but I do think American taste is improving," says Mrs. Saarinen. "We still have a long way to go in product design. It is perfectly possible for lines to be clean and direct and simple. But the public has to demand it. I hope I can help; that's what I'm on television for."

Recommended tonight: "CBS Reports," 7:30-8:30 (EST)—"The Silent Spring of Rachel Carson," a report on the widespread use of pesticides; "Mission to Fear," CBS, 10-11—Robert Horton in a suspense story.

Passman Has Aid Ax Ready

EDITOR'S NOTE—Louisiana's dapper Rep. Otto Passman for years has been a major obstacle for foreign aid measures. Now he is sharpening his ax for new aid proposals sent to Congress by President Kennedy's "Mr. Peace" John F. Kennedy.

By STANLEY MEISLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., said today he finally feels vindicated in his long battle against foreign aid—but vindicated in words, not in action.

So he still will wield his ax when President Kennedy's $4.5 billion foreign aid bill comes his way. For nine years, the ax of this dapper, jocular 62-year-old businessman from Monroe, La., has been a major obstacle for any foreign aid bill trying to wend its way through Capitol Hill. No bill has emerged unscathed.

Passman derives his power from his position as chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee on foreign operations. He derives his distaste for foreign aid from a simple philosophy: "Head to a bar tonight and watch some people drinking cocktails," he said in an interview. "Then watch the drama that unfolds each time the waiter brings the check. Everyone grabs for it. We are a nation of check grabbers."

SHORT ARM
"Everyone is," he continued. "I am, too, although my arm gets shorter as I grow older. We think we accomplish something if we grab the check. That's what we do as a nation—grab checks all over the world. We think we are going good. And we're wrong."

Passman's new sense of vindication comes from the spurt of criticism that has buffeted foreign aid in recent weeks—the gloomy report on aid to Southeast Asia by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and three other senators, the critical analysis of foreign aid by the special committee headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the incorporation of some Clay Committee criticisms into President Kennedy's foreign aid message to Congress Tuesday.

But, to Passman despite the feeling of vindication, these criticisms are words, words, words, while he is interested in cuts, cuts, cuts.

Kennedy, in his message, cut his original budget request for foreign aid from $4.9 billion down to $4.5 billion. But Passman says a $2.5 billion program would be ample. The final congressional figure likely will be near midway between the $4.5 billion and the $2.5 billion.

Passman believes his nine-year battle against foreign aid has been misrepresented by the press, radio, television and the State Department.

CONTAIN PROGRAM
"They have accused me of trying to wipe out the whole program," he said. "That's not true. I have been trying to contain it. I have been trying to help the executive department manage a program that is uncontrolled and uncontrollable."

But, in the next breath, Passman acknowledges that he actually is against the whole idea of foreign aid. While he sees his assigned role in Congress as the man who must prune and slice the program, he personally would prefer to have no program at all.

"Let's look at the Alliance for Progress," he said. "We are not accomplishing a thing. Have you ever seen an exiled Latin-American leader who was poor? Even if they are in office just six months, they end up rich. There are no income taxes in these countries. There is no land reform. Without this foreign aid simply fills up coffers that keep on emptying."

"But, even if these countries had reforms and their leaders were not corrupt, I would be against the Alliance for Progress. These countries don't need aid. They need trade and private investment."

SENSITIVITY
At times, Passman betrays some sensitivity at the criticism heaped upon him, particularly from Ivy League graduate economists in the State Department and the Agency for International Development.

"You don't need a diploma to know this," Passman, who has no university degree, says from time to time. "All you need is common sense."

Common sense, according to Passman, tells him: (1) Foreign aid won't work; it's wasteful and earns resentment instead of friendship and (2) Foreign aid hurts the American economy; it gives away American wealth and diminishes the U.S. supply of gold.

Although most State Department and aid officials won't agree with what Passman's common sense tells him, many men in government grudgingly give him credit for mulling the details and twisting finances of the program. "I couldn't do what I have been doing," Passman said, "if I didn't have the confidence of the subcommittee and the House."

DEAR ABBY

Better Find Out First

DEAR ABBY: I am single. I met a single man—a sergeant in the Air Force. We are both 39. He retires next year. He's asked me to marry him. I'm sure we love each other but I am in doubt about a few things. He never has any money. A top kick's pay (after deductions) is about $375 a month. He lives in the barracks and gets his meals at the mess hall or the NCO Club. He has no dependents and his clothes aren't expensive. Yet when we go out I have to lend him $10 or $20 until his next payday. He hasn't saved anything. I wonder what he does with his money? CURIOS

DEAR CURIOUS: Don't marry the top kick until he gives you an accounting of where his money goes or you'll wind up kicking yourself later.

DEAR ABBY: You are so right in saying that mixing school books with babies and milk bottles is for the birds. I am connected with a college, and we have housing for married students with children, but most of them can't afford it. They live in shacks and trailers instead. I feel so sorry for these young wives married to students. Many struggle with small children while husband studies Aristotle and the Second Carthaginian War. And after he completes his education, he informs his wife that he has "outgrown" her intellectually, and then divorces her for someone more suited to his educated self. BITTER

DEAR ABBY: We grew up in a strict Catholic home and never had meat on Fridays. We are all married now and have our own homes. All of us observe the dietary laws except my youngest sister. When she has our parents to her home on Friday nights she serves her own family meat and fixes fish for the folks. They have never said anything about it but I know how it must hurt them. I asked my sister not to do this and she became very angry and told me to mind my own business. Why does she take this attitude? HURT BROTHER

DEAR BROTHER: Your sister is declaring her independence high, wide and handsome. It is HER way of showing her parents that she is no longer under their domination. She is being disrespectful, small, and childish.

Stop worrying. Write to Abby. For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Industrialists Plan Dinner

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. John Connally and other state officials will be guests of Texas industrialists at a dinner tonight. The legislative dinner is sponsored by the Texas Manufacturers Association. The banquet speaker will be Roe Bartle, mayor of Kansas City.

Rocket Is Fired At Cape Cactus

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico (AP)—A group of university students launched an 8-foot rocket more than a mile high Tuesday from a desert they dubbed "Cape Cactus."

The students said they used a mixture of zinc and sulphur to power the rocket. It climbed about 6,582 feet in a 45-second flight. The group from the University of San Luis Potosi, launched a half-dozen similar rockets earlier. The students are assisted by professors of the university physics department.

Miscegenation Ban Ouster Asked

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—A Negro representative in the Missouri House of Representatives introduced a bill Tuesday to end the years-old ban on marriages between races.

Rep. Hugh J. White, D-St. Louis, offered a bill eliminating the action barring marriages between a white and a Negro or a white and a Mongolian.

As the law now stands, even if intermarriage occurs elsewhere, the couple is barred from residence in Missouri. Violation is a misdemeanor, carrying a fine of up to $1,000 or a year in jail or both.

No Nagging Backache Means a Good Night's Sleep

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation... with that restless, uncomfortable feeling. If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain-relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes. So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. For convenience, ask for the large size. Get Doan's Pills today!
