Four Seek Trustee Posts

Four candidates have announced for the posts which become vacant this year on the Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees. Two will be selected Saturday. The places of Harold Talbot, incumbent who has announced for re-election, and Clyde McMahon Sr. will be at stake Saturday. Candidates are Wayne Basden, Bennett Brooke, Harold Talbot and Leslie Ray Thomas. Basden, 31, is a local attorney and former teacher with the Ysleta School system. He lives at 615 Colgate. The Basdens have five children. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Texas Western College in El Paso and his law degree from the University of Texas. Born on a farm about 20 miles north of Big Spring, Basden has lived here since 1957. He was city attorney before resigning to go into full-time private law practice. Brooke, 38, 700 Dallas, is co-owner and operator of the Edwards Heights Pharmacy. He has been a resident of Big Spring since 1953, coming here from Belton. Born in San Angelo, he attended high school in Jefferson and is a 1949 graduate of the school of pharmacy at the University of Texas. The Brookes have two children. Talbot, incumbent, has served on the board 3 1/2 years. He was appointed to the board in September, 1959 and was elected in 1960. He is a native of Big Spring, having been born here 43 years ago. He is a graduate of Big Spring High School and of Texas A&M College in 1941. The past five years he has been in real estate appraisal. The Talbots have two children. Thomas, 37, is also a native Big Spring resident who attended public schools here. He attended the University of Texas. Thomas is assistant manager at the Howard County Hospital Foundation and Clinic. Prior to joining the hospital staff, he operated a Big Spring grocery store and for six years was with Cosden Petroleum Corp. He served 2 1/2 years with the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Here's Location Of Voting Boxes

Polls open at 8 a.m. Saturday for election of trustees in county districts within Howard County and for Commissioners' Precincts 1 and 2 on the County School Board. They close at 7 p.m. Seven boxes have been established within the county. Two others are in Big Spring. A run-down of elections which will be held at the various boxes follows. Voters, who in the general election vote at boxes 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 12, 15 and 16, will go to either the Senior High School library or to Kate Morrison Elementary School, whichever they prefer. There they will vote in the Big Spring Independent School District trustee race if they live within the district. Voters in boxes 1, 8 and 12 will also vote in the Precinct 1, Howard County School trustee election and those in boxes 2 and 15 will vote in the Precinct 2, County school trustee election. The Forsan-Elbow School District will have boxes set up in both communities to select trustees for that school district. Forsan voters will also vote in Precinct 2 of the Howard County School trustee election. A box will be established in Coahoma for voters, who normally vote at boxes 5, 7 and 9, to select two trustees for the Coahoma Independent School District. Voters from box 5 will also vote in the Precinct 2, Howard County School trustee election. At Vealmoor, voters in box 14 will vote for one trustee for the Vealmoor Common School District and for Precinct 1, Howard County School trustee. At Center Point box 11, voters will select one member for the Center Point Common School District. Gay Hill Box 6 will be the voting site to determine the winners of two places on the board of the Gay Hill Common School District and for Commissioners' Precincts 1 and 2 on the County School Board. They close at 7 p.m. Knott box 13 will be the election site for Precinct 1, Howard County School trustee and for trustees of the Sands Independent School District.

Soviet Probe Passes Close To The Moon

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's Lunik 4 flew within 10,000 miles of the moon today, Tass reported. The Soviet news agency said the 3,130-pound moon probe was about 226,800 miles from the earth at 6 p.m. Moscow time—Friday morning U.S. time. The moon is about 238,854 miles from the earth. A communique reported radio communications with the space probe good. The statement did not say when the last radio and telemetric reports had been received, nor did it give any information on Lunik's mission. The Soviet press said Lunik 4 was being controlled by a scientific center in the Crimea.

Several Area Races Have Many Entrants

Several of the area school board races have numerous candidates entered. At Forsan, seven candidates are seeking three seats on the board of the Forsan Independent School District. Entered are C. R. Walraven, incumbent, Bobby S. Wash, Frank Philey, Jack F. Ellis Sr., Elmer G. Patton, C. L. Gooch and Ray S. McKinnon. Six persons are seeking two posts which will become vacant this year on the Coahoma school board. Clay Reid is the only incumbent seeking re-election. Others in the contest are James 'Buddy' Barr, T. H. Greenfield, Hezlie Read, Rex Shive and Ray Echols. Write-in votes will select one member for each of the Vealmoor and Center Point Common Schools boards. John H. Lloyd, Center Point, and Dwan Williams, Vealmoor, are not asking for return to their office. No candidates have filed. Incumbents Jimmy Feits and Aubrey Lankford, on the Gay Hill Common School Board, will be opposed by L. C. Underwood Jr. In Glasscock County five candidates will seek three posts on the Glasscock County Independent School District board. Incumbents James Richard Currie, Sidney Hirt and R. D. Dobbs have announced for return to their positions. Other candidates are Edwin Bednar and D. A. Penney. J. D. Harris is the only incumbent seeking re-election for the Lamesa School District board. Walter Bruckel, the other trustee whose term expires this year, has not filed for election. Others who have entered the contest are Mrs. Dick Collins, W. B. Osborne and Charles F. Bratcher. Candidates have been scarce in the election for the Dawson County School Board. No one has filed for the Commissioner's Precinct 1 seat which Ernest Jones, incumbent, is not now seeking. J. F. O'Brien is running unopposed for re-election as Precinct 2 member and Alvin Hog has no opponent in his race to return as county trustee at large.

County Receives More Than An Inch Of Rain

Ready, Aim—Rip!

Bob Ankrum set out with rifle in hand to get a dog that had been chasing his cattle. He spotted the animal, took careful aim, fired—and the result of the explosion split the barrel throughout its 24-inch length, bent the floor plate and rear spring, split the forearm into three pieces, and broke the bolt. Ankrum, of Canon City, Colo., escaped without serious injury. About the dog, Ankrum says, "I'm going to leave him alone! Somebody up there likes him... guess somebody likes me, too, because I'm able to joke about it now."

Final Round Against Polio At Make-Up Clinic Sunday

The final round in the current effort to wipe out polio locally begins at noon Sunday at Runnels Junior High School gymnasium with a make-up clinic for Type III Sabin oral vaccine. Acquiring the immunization is simple—and free to persons who cannot afford the donation of 25 cents per dose being asked to help defray expenses. In less than five minutes a citizen can turn in his authorization and take the lump of sugar on which the vaccine has been placed. About half the residents of the Howard-Glasscock counties area took the Type III vaccine when it was administered Sunday at clinics in the two counties, but many more should take it to insure total immunity, according to health authorities. At least 65 per cent is needed for a good showing and more would help stamp out this dread disease. Some 65 per cent took the Types I and II vaccine. For convenience of persons who have not yet received immunization cards, the authorization form is being published in the Herald again today on page 2-A. Just clip it out, fill in the blanks and turn it in at one of the desks in the front of the gymnasium.

County Posts Sought By 4

Four candidates are vying for the two posts which become vacant on the Howard County School Board. Two are incumbents seeking re-election. Fred Roman, Commissioner's Precinct 1, incumbent, is again a candidate. Opposing him is write-in candidate H. H. (Hub) Rutherford. Another entry for this post, David Gomez, has withdrawn from the race and asked that voters disregard his name on the ballot. In the Precinct 2 election, J. D. Gilmore has asked to be returned to the office. James Cape is seeking the post. Cape, 34, 2518 E. 24th, has been a resident of Big Spring nine years. He is manager of a local investment firm. Cape was born in Ennis. Active in civic work, he is a member of the Jaycees, Rotary Club and the Chamber of Commerce. He is also on the board of directors for the Big Spring Industrial Foundation. The Capes are members of the Presbyterian Church. They have two children, one a student at Washington Place School. Gilmore, 62, has served continuously on the board for about 15 years. A resident of Forsan for 35 years, he has been employed by Continental Oil Company for 35 years. He is now production foreman in Forsan. Gilmore has been active in civic and service work in Forsan and is a member of the Baptist church there. The Gilmores have four children, the youngest now a student at Hardin-Simmons University. Soil Soaker Puts State In Good Shape

The kind of rain that brings jubilation to farmers, ranchers and even petunia growers soaked into the soil of Texas Friday to bring relief from the drought. The moisture had its bad side, too—a fatal collision blamed on rain and a slick highway. The victim was Eldon Pittman, 34, Dallas, killed in a collision of two trucks at Decatur. The rains fell from the Pecos Valley in West Texas eastward to cover the rest of the state except the extreme south and the Panhandle. RAIN TOTALS Rainfall totals for 24 hours to dawn included Austin 3.01 inches, College Station 1.29, San Antonio 1.83, Big Spring 1.25, Palacios and Wortham 1.16, Killeen 1.14, Laredo 1.08, Trinidad 1.04, Cotulla 1.00, Richland 86 inch, Preisdio 85, Waco and West 84, Frost 81, Midland and San Angelo 73, Alpine 72, Ennis 55, and less than half an inch at Mineral Wells, Tyler, Lufkin, Crandall, Corsicana, Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Texarkana, Lubbock, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Beaumont and numerous other points. SECOND DAY It was the second straight day of moisture for some areas which have grown steadily drier all this year. Continuing throughout the night, the rainfall in early morning concentrated on a sector 200 miles wide east of a line from near Wichita Falls to 10 miles west of Mineral Wells and on to 45 miles west of Waco. Light rains covered an even wider area Thursday, dampening much of West Texas and extending across the state to Lufkin deep in East Texas and southward to McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Ranchers in the Big Bend country of far West Texas welcomed the first appreciable rain in several months. It measured around an inch in a big sector centering on Alpine. An unusually cold and dry winter had left ranges, growing crops and newly planted fields in almost desperate need of moisture. Near dawn rain was falling gently at Marfa, Mineral Wells, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Dallas, San Angelo, Junction, San Antonio, Austin, Waco, Longview, Tyler, Lufkin, College Station and Corpus Christi. Another round of thundershowers was expected to develop across the western third of Texas late in the day and move eastward across the state. Scattered showers were predicted again Saturday in parts of South Texas. SLIGHTLY WARMER Slightly higher temperatures were in prospect for most sections Saturday. The mercury hit 85 degrees Thursday at Brownsville, Lubbock and Midland were the coolest spots with highs of 50. Readings early Friday ranged down to 40 at Dalhart.

Wild Weather By The Associated Press Fires fanned by roaring winds spread havoc Thursday from Maine to Georgia, killing at least three persons. Trees were uprooted and power lines fell as wind gusts were clocked up to 81 miles per hour. Cold, snow and hail hit wide areas.

Cuban Pressure HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro has suspended repatriation of American citizens seeking to leave Cuba, possibly to pressure the United States into sending ships for Cubans who want to leave too.

Came At Just The Right Time

Rains which began early Thursday continued through Thursday night and on into Friday morning bringing average precipitation over the county to better than an inch. Rainfall in Big Spring ranged up to 1.32 inches. Heaviest rains recorded were on the Howard-Glasscock County line. Ted Fields reported his gauge showed 1.80 inches for the two days. His place is near Lees Store. In Chalk, on the extreme south-east edge of the county, 1.70 inches of rain was measured. NORTHEAST L. J. Davidson, who lives northeast of town on the Snyder highway, had 1.60 inches. Everett Lomax, at Lomax, said his gauge showed 1.50 inches and that a brisk shower between 8 and 9 a.m. today provided half an inch of this total. Bill McIlvain, on the Wilkinson ranch west of town, reported 1.50 inches. Fred Roman, Middle Knott, said his gauge showed 1.11 inches and north of his place an average of an inch was reported. Vealmoor had an inch and Luther 1.20 inches. An inch and a half of rain was gauged on the D. F. Bigony farm in the Fairview community and McKinnon Grocery in Elbow said the total there was 1.30 inches. Mrs. J. D. Gilmore Forsan, said the fall there was 1.11 inches. In Coahoma, 1.20 inches was reported while at Moss Creek Lake, for some unknown reason, the lightest rain of the county—70 of an inch—was gauged. Vincent reported its rainfall at 1.30 inches. Clouds were lighter at 11 a.m. today and there was every indication the showers were on their way out. REGRET Farmers and ranchers watched their departure with regret but said that the rain received so far could hardly have been better delivered. The slow fall was such that there was no runoff and the fields and ranges soaked up almost every precious drop. Shrubby, trees and lawns, al-

Estes To Hear Fate April 15 EL PASO (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomason has tentatively set April 15 for sentencing Billie Sol Estes. The Pecos promoter was convicted March 28 on four counts of mail fraud and one count of conspiracy in connection with mortgages on mythical fertilizer tanks. Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years. The judge said Thursday he also will hear arguments April 15 on defense motions for a new trial and a stay of sentencing pending an appeal. Thomason said federal probation officer Chester McLaughlin had finished preliminary interviews with Estes. The judge postponed sentencing Estes at the time of his conviction until he had a report from the probation officer. Estes was tried on 14 counts. He was convicted on 5. Estes already is under an 8-year prison sentence assessed last November in Tyler on state charges growing out of his wide-spread West Texas operations. This case is on appeal.

Sex Offender Hearing Set

PALO PINTO, Tex. (AP)—A habeas corpus hearing was scheduled today in the case of accused sex offender Virgil Nelson Halford, 26.

The ex-convict's father, Virgil Halford of Mineral Wells, wants his son transferred to a state mental institution.

The slender, dark-haired Halford is accused of raping a 9-year-old Mineral Wells girl and attacks on teen-agers at Grand Prairie and Garland.

The three girls were attacked during an 18-hour period March 17-18.

Sheriff Gilbert Somerfeld arrested Halford near Mineral Wells March 18 shortly after the Mineral Wells child had been raped and released.

Halford's father claimed his son is afflicted with a mental disease and needs immediate treatment. He noted Halford is a former mental patient.

Halford had been working on a ranch near Wylie until his arrest.

A Dallas grand jury indicted Halford for allegedly fondling a Grand Prairie girl, 17. The girl was dumped nude from a truck.

Halford also is under indictment for aggravated assault in the case of a Garland girl, 13.

Four In School Board Race

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Voters in the Colorado City Independent School District will go to the polls Saturday to select two of four candidates to serve for three years. One, at least, will be new to the board, as Board Chairman Dr. Oscar Rhode is not in the race.

Incumbent in the race is Dr. Jene Steakley, dentist. A native of Abilene, Steakley finished high school at Sweetwater and attended HSU, Kansas State and Baylor.

Other candidates include: Porter A. Richardson, Ben Sparks and Toby Dearen.

Richardson, 48, a radio station executive, attended HSU, Texas Tech, and MIT extension school in Florida. He is a graduate of Colorado High School and is a long time resident of Colorado City.

Dearen, 41, is a lab tester for the Col-Tex refinery and a native of Mitchell County. He is a graduate of Colorado High School.

Sparks, 34, is a partner in the Hudson Sparks Dirt Construction Company, and is a native of Eastland and graduate of Eastland High School and North Texas State College.

"He is great who can do what he wishes; he is wise who wishes to do what he can."

August Ifland to conditions today, and do not try to buck the tide too much. You will find at the end of the day you have accomplished more if you sized up the situation and also the people involved, then did not suit yourself alone. Give a thought to the other fellow when making your plans and demands.

Some clearing up of details are due today. Make an effort to finish some of your projects. We are moving into a Full Moon period coming in the first of next week, so it would be well to push things along. Remember, just because completion can come on a Full Moon does not mean that you just sit back and wait for it to make your projects successful. This full tide of energy only helps to speed to port the ships out on the ocean. Dream ships don't count.

The weekend looks fine for trips, visits, entertainment and hospitality.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY ARIES. What pleasant prospects are ahead for you, that is, if you deserve them. This is the year you can collect on past efforts, when things come easily and more profitably. You can expand personally, ask for favors, a raise, or hope for social popularity, including romantic developments if you are eligible. Pursue social contacts now, and then be ready for some rather sudden adjustments in working conditions, in those people who work with you or for you. In October watch your finances. Older ties are more important to you this year so turn to them for support in your ambitions.

EMBLEM SALE SET

Shirley Booth Asks Easter Seal Help

Shirley Booth, star of stage, screen and television and the 1963 Easter Seal Sale chairman, has urged Texans to step up their support of the program.

"I'm working for crippled children these days in addition to running the Baxter household as Hazel," she said. "Crippled children aren't really any different from other kids. What is really wonderful is to watch their development into self-sufficient people like you and I."

"It takes a lot of time, work and money to help them achieve this. Your contributions to the Texas Society for Crippled Children and its 94 local Easter Seal Societies and their 32 Easter Seal treatment centers will help provide direct aid to more than 10,000 crippled children and handicapped adults."

A total of 9,000 envelopes containing Easter Seals have been mailed to residents of Big Spring and Howard County, but so far only about one out of every 10 persons has responded. In order that the local work will not be crippled by lack of finances, Mrs. Rube McNew, campaign chairman, urged the public to respond as quickly as possible.

Saturday the Rainbow girls are assisting in the program by conducting the Easter Lily emblem sale downtown and in the shopping centers. A major portion of all proceeds goes to local and state treatment centers.

Methodist Men Organize Club

A group at the Northside Methodist Church have organized a Methodist Men's Club. The officers are Benito Marquez, chairman; Rosario Moreno, vice-chairman; Jose Perez, secretary-treasurer. The club meets each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The club is beginning a program of voluntary work of improvements of the church building and facilities.

The club sent a delegation of five men to the sub-district meeting in Abilene last Sunday.

Harris Reports On Bad Checks

Miller Harris, sheriff, said Friday that his worthless check department had collected and refunded to merchants 73.5 per cent of the 280 worthless checks turned over to the department in March. Two hundred and three of the checks have been paid off, the records show. Total collections for the month were $3,686.66.

This brought the total collections the department has made in the 15 months it has been in operation to $44,591.95. Collections for the month just ended were well ahead of the total for the same month a year ago. Collections for March, 1962 were $2,803. Collections for the month just ended were also well ahead of February's total this year of $3,088.27.

Seventeen worthless check cases were filed against offenders in the county court during the month and three felony complaints were filed with the district attorney. Announcement was made that check writers had paid $871.45 directly to the merchants. Total paid to the merchants and collected by the department is $4,558.11.

Mormon Broadcast

Members of the Big Spring Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints plan to be at the church at 9:30 a.m. Sunday to watch a televised report on the April General Conference of their church. The famed Mormon Tabernacle choir in Salt Lake City will be heard on the broadcast. Addresses will be made by Prophet David O. McKay and by the 12 apostles of the church. The telecast is to be carried by KOSA-TV.

A Devotional For The Day

Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another; not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord. (Romans 12:10-11.)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, with contrite hearts we implore Thy forgiveness for our weariness and our weakness in serving Thee. When worldly affairs obsess us and our Christian zeal burns low, may Thy Spirit grant us renewal. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

Relief For The Postman

It may prove to be cheaper just to edit this inscription which appears over the Main Post Office in New York City: "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds." Perhaps they could catch a caret, say between "night" and "stays" and insert "only dogs." For dogs may be man's best friend in general but not the postman's in particular. Last year 7,000 postmen suffered the indignity and pain of being attacked by dogs—a more or less constant figure, it seems.

The postmaster general, his specialists, and individual postmen have not, let it be said, failed to address themselves to the problem of biting dogs. Some potential biters have been persuaded to become friends, others have been intimidated by domineering mailmen, but the remaining few dogs hold out, ready to bite the postman twice a day if he still came around twice a day as he used to.

Now Allen W. Fields, a safety engineer for the Post Office Department, believes he has achieved a breakthrough. It is a potion containing mineral oil, pepper and other unspecified ingredients, designed to be fired from a water pistol at an advancing, menacing dog.

"It's wonderful," said Fields. "The dog puts his tail between his legs and slinks away to the back of the house. It doesn't hurt the dog and he doesn't want to bother that postman again ever."

Maybe so. But rejoicing should not be premature. Adequate testing is needed. Any dog that insists on attacking a porcupine and isn't afraid of tackling a badger might just ignore the potion, close with his quarry and exact his five-a-week quota of human flesh.

Stephanie Reminds Us

A little girl named Stephanie Frangoyannis was in the news the other day. She had come to this country for open heart surgery, and news stories said her doctors had told her that she was fully recovered and could return to her home in Greece. In one account, a caption under a beaming picture of Stephanie described her as "possibly the happiest little girl in the world today."

The striking thing about it all was that this child should be in ecstasy because her heart was beating properly, like countless millions of other human hearts throughout the world. Her joy sprang from this simple circumstance.

The incident underscores a commonplace yet interesting fact about people: Most of us take the blessing of health, or at least tolerably good health, pretty much for granted. That astonishing machine, the body, functions decade after decade; we see, hear, taste, touch, smell the world around us, and many rarely suffer anything more disconcerting than a head cold. We accept this as we accept air to breathe.

Yet this is not a thing to be taken for granted. The bubbling joy of little Stephanie Frangoyannis, on her way home to Greece after coming to have her heart put in order, reminds us that sound health is a treasure precious beyond words.

David Lawrence Clumsy Regulations On Deductions

WASHINGTON — The administration may not have intended it that way, but the vague and clumsy regulations just announced with respect to expense deductions on income taxes will have the practical effect of scaring honest taxpayers.

As a result, it's quite conceivable that the government will take in far more revenue than ever before and that vast sums which are not legally taxable will be collected, just because many taxpayers will not want to incur the large expense and time consumed in litigation.

SOME OF THE NEW regulations issued by the Internal Revenue Service are constructive and well phrased but, in the area of expense accounts, much of the language is so difficult to interpret that many taxpayers will decide not to try to claim such deductions, even though entitled to them.

A reading of the regulations indicates at once how really difficult it will be for any taxpayer to prove conclusively some of his deductions even where these are legitimate. The Internal Revenue Service will be free to disregard his claims because of what it considers inadequate proof.

TAKE, FOR EXAMPLE, the following, which is in the text of the questions and answers set forth by the Internal Revenue Service as guidance to the taxpayer:

"Q. Under this lavish or extravagant rule, does the Internal Revenue Service intend to impose dollar limitations on any expenditures?"

"A. No. Whether an expense is lavish or extravagant depends on all the circumstances of the particular case."

This does not explain how "lavish or extravagant" can be honestly interpreted. Congress made a mistake originally when it used such ambiguous language, and it is the duty of Congress now to amplify it. The Treasury cannot revise the language of Congress.

IN ANOTHER section in the Internal Revenue Service's announcement appears the following:

"Q. What is a substantial business discussion?"

"A. Whether a business discussion is substantial depends upon the facts and circumstances of each case. However, it must be shown that a taxpayer actively engaged in a discussion, meeting, negotiation or other bona fide business transaction in order to obtain income or some other business benefit, other than goodwill, at a definite or readily determinable time."

Will the taxpayer be obliged to furnish testimony from the people with whom he does business? Will any salesman wish to incur the ill will of a prospective customer by bothering him with the writing or signing of affidavits or appearances in person to testify at proceedings in which these points will be resolved? To ask the question is to answer it.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE Service's announcement also says:

"A business discussion which is only incidental in relation to the entertainment does not qualify."

But who is to judge whether a particular piece of information given by a salesman to a prospective customer is "incidental" or does influence the mind of the latter sufficiently to persuade him later on to sign an order? Is the Internal Revenue Service going to set itself up as a judge of the effectiveness of salesmanship?

Undoubtedly there have been many deductions claimed in the past which shouldn't have been allowed. The expense-account controversy, which originated under preceding administrations, has long been a difficult one for the Internal Revenue Service. But the new regulations, in some respects, make the situation even more confusing, and the net result is bound to be a determination by the individual to avoid litigation with the Treasury department.

MANY MILLIONS of dollars doubtless now will flow into the Treasury which, even under a strict interpretation of the rules, should never be paid in taxes. This is bound to produce a good deal of resentment. It will take form in various ways. One result, for instance, may well be that many taxpayers who have been careless about claiming deductions that are legitimate and easy to prove—like state sales taxes—will certainly keep careful records hereafter and claim such deductions. This could cost the Treasury a lot of revenue it has hitherto gotten.

Billy Graham

I am not a Christian, but there are Christians who steal time whenever possible in the large plant where we work. I know that a Christian wouldn't steal money, but isn't it just as wrong to steal time?—L. M.

The Bible has many passages which make it plain that not only money can be stolen, but also time, talents, and opportunities. As Christians, we are responsible for our conduct as well as for our profession of faith. An employer also has a like responsibility to pay a just wage for services received and to provide those facilities necessary for the comfort and health of those who work for him. We must always remember that our Christian faith should change our every relationship of life so that whether it be time, money or anything else, it is regarded as a trust and a responsibility for which we are responsible to God. Paul writes: "And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men." One final word—you seem to be looking at Christians and judging them. What about your own heart? Look at the sin in it and let Christ make a new man out of you.

Frozen, Then Burned

"Um-m, good!" he says.

James Marlow Russia's Answer To China

WASHINGTON (AP) — Red China's advice to Russia about the United States—"let's you and him fight"—is getting the same practical answer: Nothing doing.

Premier Khrushchev this week turned down Mao Tse-tung's mid-March invitation to Peking and instead invited him to Moscow. This is like saying the general never goes to a private.

But, while Khrushchev also gave Mao some advice on first things first, it's easy to see why the Russian won't let the Chinese sic him on the United States.

Although Russia and Red China are neighbors of the Great Eurasian land mass, Russia has all the nuclear weapons, China none. This makes Russia a potential threat to China, even though both are Communist.

IT'S ALREADY been demonstrated—in Albania, Yugoslavia, Poland, and above all in the Russian-Chinese split—that communism doesn't mean unity. Nationalism, running deeper, is the stronger force.

The Russians and Chinese are nationalists before they are Communist. Their mutual communism hasn't replaced their individual nationalism. Therefore, the Russians have reason to suspect Chinese intentions, too.

In any nuclear war between communism and the United States, Russia and this country, out of nuclear necessity, would have to concentrate on knocking each other out.

Both would be flattened, along with Western Europe.

Red China, because it is not a nuclear force, would probably be untouched in the missile exchange. The West wouldn't want to use up on China missiles which might be needed to eliminate Russia.

AND EVEN if the Chinese got hit, they could afford to lose more people than the Russians since they have about three times as many.

When the fires on two continents died down, the Chinese, comparatively untouched or untouched at all, would be the dominant force in East and West.

It doesn't take brains to figure that out and the Russians aren't stupid.

Khrushchev and Mao in their letter exchange laid down four main points for discussion—if they met.

Oddly enough, both put Communist unity last although it might be supposed they'd put unity above everything if they took the trouble to get together to discuss what disunited them.

While the Chinese put "strategy and tactics of the revolution in the contemporary world" first on the agenda of a summit meeting, the Russians' No. 1 item was strengthening the Communist effort to convert the world.

KHRUSHCHEV refused to make any change in his cold war strategy, which is what irked the Chinese in the first place. Khrushchev saw no reason to revise his "peaceful coexistence" line.

Revolutions are quite possible without wars," he instructed Mao. "It's unlikely that any Western leader has been nimble enough to think Khrushchev's 'peaceful coexistence' means he wants to be a good neighbor or even that by peace he means an absence of war."

Then stop worrying.

Around The Rim Mostly This And That

Cleaning out the bottom drawer: With all the hullabaloo over Rachael Carson's warning against overuse of pesticides, the chemical industry claims it was not the profit motive which brought about the phenomenal growth in killer-chemical sales. No, it was spurred on by visions of solving man's ancient problem of providing enough food.

This is wonderful news. I had been led to believe that visionaries simply do not exist in the business world, and that only practical hard-headed types with an eye on the ledger could stay in business.

WE'D BETTER WATCH that Italian soothsayer called Silvestri. She predicted last year that President Kennedy would outbluff Premier Khrushchev in a test of arms during 1962. For this year, she has predicted that the Soviet Union would send a high representative to see Pope John XXIII. When the prophecy came true, it turned out the high official was Khrushchev's son-in-law.

SOME SCIENTISTS now suspect animals as carriers of cancer.

The gist of the theory is that certain animal tumors are caused by viruses, and that animals already are notorious virus carriers. Human cancers have not yet been directly linked to viruses, although they are suspect.

DEFENSE DEPARTMENT officials are pointing out one largely overlooked idea behind the controversy over whether Yugoslavians should be allowed to train at military bases in this country. That idea holds that anyone exposed to American values is bound to be affected by them.

Some of the earlier junior officers who came here already have risen to the rank of general in Yugoslavia's armed forces. It would be nice to think of such a general not pressing the missile button, or changing the aim before he did.

THE JAPANESE are more resourceful than we gave them credit for in World War II. Recently, a young Nipponese executive created a new job benefit—the love allowance.

It works like this: A young couple announces they want to go steady, and the management officially announces the two to be in love. The love allowance is added to their paycheck, with no penalty if the affair is called off. Jobs are realigned to put the lovers into constant proximity, if possible. Officially, the aim not only is marriage, but increased production of goods, efficiency and worker harmony.

Believe it or not, it works.—BOB SMITH

Inez Robb Uncle Tom's Cabin Today

No book ever had such an incalculable effect upon this nation's history as "Uncle Tom's Cabin." No scene in the book or in the drama fashioned from it is more horrendous than that of Eliza crossing the ice, the bloodhounds at her heels.

That incident raised a storm of revulsion 112 years ago at the practice of hunting down, with vicious dogs, human beings whose main crime was that their skin was black. That the practice still exists in this year, the centenary of the Emancipation Proclamation, is enough to make respecting citizens of this nation bow heads in shame and despair.

PICTURES OF A SAVAGE, snarling dog harassing peaceful Negroes in Greenwood, Miss., are an indictment of decency and humanity. This sadism on the part of officers was occasioned by the peaceful efforts of 42 Negroes to register as voters in Greenwood. It was compounded by white bystanders screaming, "Sic 'em, sic 'em," as they begged officers to turn the dog loose on an orderly group of Negroes, quietly marching home two by two after trying to register.

According to eyewitnesses, the dog, a German Shepherd, lunged again and again at the group. The Rev. D. L. Tucker, one of the marchers, was bitten on the left ankle.

ALTHOUGH THE Greenwood police managed to confiscate and destroy some of the pictures of the brutal incident, enough were saved to spread the ugly story around the world. No American has to be told what damage this does to our national image and prestige, especially in marginal nations where we are fighting to maintain freedom and defeat creeping communism.

Aside from the catastrophic effect on international relations, there isn't an American alive, with the exception of members of the white citizens' councils and their hooligan hangers-on, who wasn't sickened by such savagery. The Nazis, too, found it great sport to set ferocious dogs loose on helpless Jews.

THE GOOD PEOPLE of Mississippi are as sickened by such practices as are all good Americans. I have received a number of letters postmarked from a dozen different Mississippi communities. All denounce the Greenwood incident, no less than the random shooting of Negroes who have done nothing more than attempt to register to vote. Many express shame at the burning of Negro churches.

But invariably the writers beg that their respective names not be revealed. And invariably, the plea for anonymity is based on fear of the power of the white citizens' councils—the power to punish economically (ruin, really) either the writer or members of his family.

EVER SINCE the white citizens councils were organized, this has been the excuse—and a valid one up to a point—for inaction on the part of Southern moderates, who are legion. In many parts of the South, it is clearly a case of the majority (moderates of good will) being intimidated by a ruthless minority.

But there will surely come a time when the Southern moderate will have to stand and fight, if only to preserve a tolerable way of life for himself and his kind. This nation knuckled down to McCarthyism too long. But when it finally decided the time had come to rid itself of that nonsense, the opponent turned out to be a hollow man. The councils are more substantial.

THERE IS SURELY cruel segregation in the North, the Mid-West and the Far West, and injustices against the Negro citizen scream for redress. But that is neither excuse nor justification for the revolting spectacle of officers of the so-called law turning a vicious dog loose on peaceful Americans.

Marquis Childs Loneliness Of Waiting

WASHINGTON — Despite the clamor over the seeming stalemate in Congress, the persistence of problems for which no solution is evident, the accumulated delays and frustrations of the moaning office in the world, President Kennedy's style and approach are outwardly unchanged.

HE SEES THE CYCLIC ebb and flow of events. You can influence this ebb and flow at times and then again you must understand how to play the waiting game. If only because hope is an essential part of the equipment of a President, Mr. Kennedy takes a less pessimistic view of the outlook for the months ahead than most of his critics and some of his friends.

The President believes that Congress will pass a tax cut. The drastic nature of what he has recommended—a deliberate deficit augmented by a tax cut—has been lost sight of, in his view. People talked about it for 20 or 30 years. But this is the first time anyone has done anything about it.

THOSE WHO ARGUE that government spending must be cut at the same time—Gov. Nelson Rockefeller is proposing a $4 billion to $5 billion cut—would simply nullify the tax reduction. You would take that much out of the spending stream.

The economic indicators show the economy turning up in the months ahead. The President has heard the private predictions of conservative economists who say the nation is moving toward a long and sustained period of prosperity beginning late this year and early next year.

BUT IF THE economic indicators are borne out the change in the economy should be marked. Hard-core unemployment might be melted down were it not for the flood of newcomers into the labor market. Nevertheless, it is too early to start pressing for a public works program.

Looking ahead to the election next year, the President believes that if the nation is comparatively prosperous he will be returned to office with little difficulty. If the economy worsens, if there is a recession, then it won't matter who the Republicans put up because they will win.

THE PRESIDENT'S attitude has been described as fatalistic. It is an inadequate word but perhaps it conveys something of the Kennedy understanding—and acceptance—of the forces that are today so profoundly altering the nature of human society. He sees one event after another boiling up, creating a lava flow of headlines, and then subsiding.

The shaping of large events can at times only be surmised. Beneath the surface in the Soviet Union the turmoil and uncertainty are greater than in many years. What it means and what anyone on the outside can do are far from clear.

The President is worried over the raids conducted by Cuban exiles on Cuban ports and Russian ships. This makes everything more difficult. The Russians will have a pretext for slowing down or stopping the removal of their forces from Cuba.

HERE AGAIN, however, what to do about it is far from clear. The exiles conducting the raids are operating from one or more of the 700 or 800 empty keys in the Bahamas. As a PT-boat skipper, the President has a keen interest in their techniques—the fact that in a small, fast boat they could get through the harbor defenses and shoot a home-made torpedo into the side of a Russian freighter.

Supposing you took drastic means and arrested the leaders. You might have a Robert Emmet standing in the dock and making the speech of a patriot condemned to death for serving his country's good. (Robert Emmet, the Irish rebel, made a passionate speech before he was hanged for a conspiracy against the crown in 1803, that has ever since stirred Irish patriots.) What would be the effect of that?

In foreign affairs, as in domestic, the President in this waiting phase is more hopeful than those on the outside. He believes the multi-nation nuclear force, as a solution to the problem of the North Atlantic alliance and control of the nuclear deterrent, has a better chance of acceptance than present reports indicate. Acceptance by West Germany would be an offset to the German alliance with France.

The President is not happy with the Lucius Clay Report on foreign aid. If it is used by the enemies of aid in Congress to cut below $4 billion the consequences will be serious. The report said 85 countries were too many for the aid program. But there are 100 countries and which ones would you let go? The Clay Report will serve, hopefully, to keep Congress to the $4 billion mark.

Above all in this waiting phase there is a growing sense of what every President has felt—the cruel loneliness of the office.

To Your Good Health Always Wash Fruits And Vegetables

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: It's almost impossible these days to buy any vegetable or fruit that has not been sprayed with a chemical bug killer.

Don't you feel that continued use of insecticides and pesticides will harm our food supply and endanger our health? I have heard that a lot of people are dying from this kind of thing already.—Mrs. R.

No, I don't think they will "harm our food supply and endanger our health." Quite the opposite.

Nor is there any basis for wild stories that "people are dying from this kind of thing already."

Naturally these chemicals must be used properly, and we should wash the produce before we eat it. Careful distributors are conscientious about washing before the products ever reach the grocery stores. Naturally people using these chemicals for farms, gardens and orchards must handle them with due caution.

Believe me, the problem hasn't been overlooked. It has been studied very carefully.

single death from proper use of any agricultural product.

Carelessness is another matter. People are poisoned by not being careful, just as they constantly are being poisoned by misuse of cleaning compounds, household chemicals, and even aspirin.

Last year, 89 deaths were caused by insecticides and pesticides IMPROPERLY used.

In the same time, 150 were killed by improper use of ordinary aspirin.

Federal and other health authorities test all such materials and go to great pains to see that people are informed of the right way to handle them.

These chemicals simply are not a danger to our health.

And our food supply? It is vastly more abundant because we can control insects and pests. For the simplest sort of example, some people have an apple tree in the back yard, and wonder why the fruit is wormy or stunted. An orchardman would tell them why fast enough: "When did you use spray it last?"

Since in different localities, food may come from many sources, the neighbor's next-door garden, or from a huckster, just keep the one safety rule in mind: Wash every-

Rockefeller Hits Kansas In Campaign Tour

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who had kickoff in Kansas, was here today on a political foray apparently aimed at winning over some of the more conservative elements of his Republican party.

Richard Rogers of Manhattan, GOP state chairman, said as many as 2,000 may turn out tonight to hear Rockefeller, a liberal regarded as a leading contender for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

The governor plans to shake hands with every one, Rogers said he has agreed to be at Municipal Auditorium, site of the rally, 45 minutes in advance for that purpose.

A box supper of fried chicken will be served at $25 a box. The visit is part of a two-day tour that will take Rockefeller to Omaha, Neb., for a speech Saturday night, Rockefeller, who has been making a series of trips throughout the land, promised, on this one, to make another major statement, attacking the policies of President Kennedy.

Rockefeller said in Albany Thursday that he will disclose his plans before next year's primaries.

He declined to say whether he will enter the primaries, or how far in advance he will announce his intentions.

The governor is expected to arrive by plane from Albany early in the afternoon. A news conference, meetings with Young Republican leaders and with the GOP state committee, and a reception are on his schedule before tonight's rally.

Rockefeller's kin in Kansas included a great-uncle and a cousin, both named Frank.

The cousin, Frank S., served in the 1907-08 legislature as a Republican representative from Russell County.

Uncle Frank was the youngest brother of the governor's grandfather, John D. Rockefeller. Several business connections with his brother about 1900, Frank came to Kansas and built a 12,000-acre ranch in Kiowa County.

He ran a modern ranch for that day but loathed the new-fangled gas buggies and would not permit them on his roads.

For the past five years Kanter has been the warm-up man at the Oscar event. They had Claire Trevor do it one year, then they decided it was foolish to waste a name performer, so I was chosen," Kanter explained.

A top comedy writer for films—"Rose Tattoo," "Road to Bali"—and television—the original George Gobel show—Kanter has long helped in writing the Oscar show. His added warm-up chore serves a purpose. To get the theater audience settled and in a happy mood, to establish ground rules for playing the game.

Among the points Kanter tries to get across:

1. Winners should get to the stage as quickly as possible. As he said one year, "A track meet is what we really need. And a suitable reward awaits the winner who breaks the existing record for getting up here. That record is currently held by two stars in 1962, the engaging young sprinter, Mr. Jack Lemmon, equaled the time posted in 1927 by Rin Tin Tin."

2. Acceptance speeches should be short, but not too short.

"We do not ask you to limit yourselves to a mere 'thank you'; we ask only that you keep showmanship in mind. You need not thank your agent, your tailor, or the studio cop who let you in the door."

3. Cases tentatively slated for April 15 under the special setting are the appeals of Dois Orvil Ray, Clyde Brown Jr., William B. Hughes, Bobby Warren Bailey, Theodore Pachall, and Grady Dorsey Jr.

SB152, creating the Travis State School Independent School District.

HB12, changing the name of West Texas State College to West Texas State University.

HB88, providing a maximum speed limit in county parks situated in a county that borders on the Gulf of Mexico and prohibiting the littering of such county parks.

HB766, authorizing the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools to carry out research on mental retardation.

HB266, authorizing the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools to contract for medical care and treatment.

HB271, creating the Taylor County court of domestic relations (effectively immediately).

HB294, authorizing the West Side Calhoun County Navigation District to sell certain water supply facilities to the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority.

HB300, providing a penalty for operating certain aircraft while intoxicated.

HB358, exempting bid bonds issued in connection with any public or private contract from requirement of countersigning of policies by local recording agents.

Defender's intentions: In today's hand were quite clear to declarer—obviously West's purpose was to obtain a club ruff. South pondered a method to foil his opponent; however, he did not go about it in the right way and the defense prevailed.

West properly decided that the best defensive prospect hinged on his obtaining a club ruff. He had double control over the trump suit, and was willing to gamble out that his partner had an entry in the form of the king of hearts. He therefore led the eight of clubs.

The king of clubs was played from the dummy and, fearing an impending ruff, declarer hastened to get out the trumps by leading a low spade to his jack. West was in with the king, and continued with a second club. South permitted the lead to ride to the queen in his hand and he returned in a small spade. West was in no mood to play second hand low however. He rose with the ace of trumps and followed this up by underleading his ace of hearts. When East's king held the trick, he was fully aware of what his partner was seeking, and he returned a club for West to ruff and send declarer down to defeat.

South had properly determined that the success of his contract hinged on averting the club ruff, but his execution was not soundly conceived. Lacking both of the top trump honors he could not hope to pull the adverse spades in time to stop the opponents. His only hope therefore was to break up the communication lines between the two defenders.

At trick two he should lead a heart. If West has a singleton club, there will be no way to avert a ruff. But if it proves that West has a doubleton, the early heart play will save the hand. West can clear his hand of clubs, but when he gets in with the top spades he is unable to put East in the lead, and the defense is restricted to two spades and one heart.

President Kennedy, at his news conference Wednesday, commented that 400 to 500 Cubans have joined the U.S. Army, identifying them as former members of the Bay of Pigs operation.

In his brief reference, the President did not refer to the fact that two programs now are under way and that the majority of the volunteers are average refugees.

The first program was started last September. It permits any Cuban national who qualifies under physical and other standards to enlist. By December about 1,700 were in training under that program.

In February, the Defense Department said it was making available a special military training program for both officers and men of the Bay of Pigs unit.

At present, 2,935 Cubans are training for ground force services, including the Army and Marine Corps.

Of these, 2,600 former refugees and 191 former members of the brigade are at Ft. Jackson, S.C. In officer training at Ft. Benning, Ga., are 144 former brigade members.

In training for service in the Navy and Marine Corps are 21 officers and two enlisted men. Part of this program is being carried out at Ft. Benning and part at the Navy Recruit Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

The Air Force has 28 Cubans in its training program—24 officers and four enlisted men. The officers currently are at Fort Benning and the four enlisted men at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

An Air Force spokesman said that the officers' duties will not involve flying.

Pentagon officials said training personnel "are extremely satisfied with the performance" of the Cubans in their schooling.

There have been some drop-out from the programs, however.

The Army said that at Ft. Benning, about 200 have withdrawn from the program. Spokesmen here said they did not know specific reasons in each case, but assumed that in some instances physical rigors of the training program might have been a factor. All withdrawals have been from among the original refugee volunteers, with none from the battle-hardened former Bay of Pigs brigade members.

Total for March was announced as $38,479.81. March, 1962 total was $24,126.04. For the three months ending March 31, the total is $123,235.31. In 1962, the first quarter total was $97,030.39.

March, however, was the smaller of the three months of the present year in receipts. January was $32,848; February, $40,906; January, 1962 was $33,553; and February, $29,310.

Many Cubans Training In Armed Forces

By ELTON C. FAY AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than 3,000 Cubans are training in the U.S. armed forces, the Defense Department said today.

Most are refugees who fled to this country. Others are veterans of the unsuccessful 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion—men who were imprisoned by the Castro government and then released for return to the United States.

The Cubans will not be organized into any special unit but assigned to various Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force units as they complete their training at four bases.

The program, the Pentagon announced at the outset, was intended to:

1. Assist refugees who have encountered difficulty in getting jobs here.

2. To develop the Cubans, "skills and abilities by service" in the U.S. forces.

President Kennedy, at his news conference Wednesday, commented that 400 to 500 Cubans have joined the U.S. Army, identifying them as former members of the Bay of Pigs operation.

In his brief reference, the President did not refer to the fact that two programs now are under way and that the majority of the volunteers are average refugees.

In February, the Defense Department said it was making available a special military training program for both officers and men of the Bay of Pigs unit.

At present, 2,935 Cubans are training for ground force services, including the Army and Marine Corps.

Of these, 2,600 former refugees and 191 former members of the brigade are at Ft. Jackson, S.C. In officer training at Ft. Benning, Ga., are 144 former brigade members.

In training for service in the Navy and Marine Corps are 21 officers and two enlisted men. Part of this program is being carried out at Ft. Benning and part at the Navy Recruit Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

The Air Force has 28 Cubans in its training program—24 officers and four enlisted men. The officers currently are at Fort Benning and the four enlisted men at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

An Air Force spokesman said that the officers' duties will not involve flying.

Pentagon officials said training personnel "are extremely satisfied with the performance" of the Cubans in their schooling.

There have been some drop-out from the programs, however.

The Army said that at Ft. Benning, about 200 have withdrawn from the program. Spokesmen here said they did not know specific reasons in each case, but assumed that in some instances physical rigors of the training program might have been a factor. All withdrawals have been from among the original refugee volunteers, with none from the battle-hardened former Bay of Pigs brigade members.

Total for March was announced as $38,479.81. March, 1962 total was $24,126.04. For the three months ending March 31, the total is $123,235.31. In 1962, the first quarter total was $97,030.39.

March, however, was the smaller of the three months of the present year in receipts. January was $32,848; February, $40,906; January, 1962 was $33,553; and February, $29,310.

Officers said her brother, Benjamin Tanner of Lubbock, was driving the car hit a bridge rail and plunged into a creek. Tanner was hospitalized, but his condition was not serious.

DEAR ABBY— You're Right, Don't Worry

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow of 27. I must eat so I must work. My figure is good and so is my face. My job is waiting on tables and my problem is the male with the urge to pinch. I first became aware of him when he nipped me. I let him have one between his mustache and beard. Then he called me a name, so I gave him a second clip in the chops. That did it. He got loud and the manager appeared. He sided with the creep so I quit. Now I ask you, Abby, must a girl put up with those old goats in order to hold a job?

LOOKING FOR WORK
DEAR ABBY: A sock on the puss is worth two on the foot. No respectable girl has to work in a place like that. With your qualifications, you won't be looking long.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M.R.: If you have picked up this newspaper with your own two hands, and read it with your own two eyes, and understood it with a sound mind, then you are a lot better off than many others. Think about that for a while and write me another letter.

Stop worrying. Write to Abby. For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

State Sales Tax Changes Proposed

AUSTIN (AP)—A House leader disclosed Thursday the tax plan to be submitted to the legislature. It calls for several sales tax changes.

Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas, chairman of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee, which must originate tax bills, met with Gov. John Connally, House Speaker Byron Tunnell, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and personnel of the state comptroller's office.

Atwell said it was decided that his committee would consider Monday a package plan carrying the state sales tax, revisions and a one-year extension of the corporation franchise tax.

Atwell said $13.5 million would be available for future spending under the present sales tax law. Changes in the tax to eliminate a $10 outer work clothes exemption, exemptions on some farm machinery and an increase in the automobile tax would bring in added revenue.

The franchise tax would yield $11 million for the one year. Dropping the clothing exemption would produce $10.2 million each year. The car tax would raise $2 million annually. The farm equipment tax is estimated to raise $1.25 million each year.

Atwell said the tax plan also would exempt newspaper sales, sales from vending machines and sales of alcoholic beverages sold with meals.

Before adjourning until Monday the Senate gave final approval and sent to Connally a measure to merge the State Parks Board with the Game and Fish Commission. The new agency recommended by Connally as an economy move, would be called the Park and Wildlife Commission.

The House gave final approval and sent to the Senate a plan to redivide the state into new congressional districts. The bill gives Dallas County a second congressional seat, takes Dist. 4 from Northeast Texas by combining the districts of U.S. Reps. Ray Roberts of Texarkana, and gives South Texas a new district.

The Senate sent Connally measures to require cities with less than 185,000 population to match firemen's pension funds, and to place a tax on pool tables and let cities regulate pool halls.

Amended by the Senate and sent back to the House was a House bill to exempt state banks from the corporation franchise tax.

The Senate concurred in House amendments and sent to Connally a measure allowing the state to purchase conservation storage space in federal reservoirs.

28.61 Miles Per Gallon By Viland In Economy Run

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. engineer Les Viland of Livonia, Mich., averaged 28.61 miles per gallon in driving his six-cylinder Rambler American to a second straight sweepstakes triumph in the Mobil Economy Run.

Viland, competing in the Class C division for large compact cars, bettered all performances of the 36 American-built cars which completed the final lap of the 2,500-mile, six-day run between Los Angeles and Detroit Thursday.

He failed, however, to match his performance of last year when he won with an average of 31.11 m.p.g. in a stick-shift Rambler American 400.

Viland said his mileage was poorer this year mainly because he was driving a car with automatic transmission, as were the 35 other entries.

Officials of the U.S. Auto Club, which supervised the run, blamed tricky cross winds and high speed turnpike driving for the drop in the overall average. This year's figure was 21.84 m.p.g., compared to 22.70 in 1962.

Finishing close to Viland was Mrs. Pat Sawyer, ranch owner and mother of three from Hemet, Calif., who averaged 27.90 m.p.g. in a six-cylinder Corvair Monza.

Whose Son Is He?

Was Christ different from others? He once asked this arresting question: "What think ye of the Christ? Whose son is He?" Matt. 22:42. My answer to this question will determine my opinion of His church.

Some say He never existed. If so, then let us reject the New Testament as a farce, and the church as a sham. Hell is but a laughing stock and heaven a dream.

Others say He existed, but was the illegitimate son of a Jewish maiden. If so, then let us forget the holy announcement and the messianic fulfillment.

Was He the son of Joseph? Then let us mock at His claims of divinity, prehuman existence and conquest of death.

But if He was more than these—if greater than Solomon or Jonah—if He was the very Son of God (Matt. 16:16) let us harken unto Him!

The way I answer this question is the way I deal with His religion. My attitude toward the church is formed by my attitude toward the Christ. What will my answer be? "Whose son is He?"

The Northside church of Christ, 601 N. Rannels, welcomes you! Sunday, 10 and 11 a.m.; 6 p.m.

'Oscar' Emcee Has Thankless Job

By BOB THOMAS AP TV Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—I've got the most thankless job in Hollywood," moans Hal Kanter. But next Monday night at the Academy Awards he'll be doing it again.

Kanter is not above a few cracks of his own during the warm-up.

"Award for the most ingenious movie exhibitor of the year: Pliny the Younger, proprietor of the Love Nest drive-in theater at Great Neck, Long Island. He increased his attendance 300 per cent in one week by not showing any movies."

"Award for the most conscientious user of the year: Arnold Toynbe, usher extraordinary, who seated 250 patrons in 136 seats with the aid of only a burned-out flashlight and a few crude remarks."

Among the points Kanter tries to get across:

1. Winners should get to the stage as quickly as possible. As he said one year, "A track meet is what we really need. And a suitable reward awaits the winner who breaks the existing record for getting up here. That record is currently held by two stars in 1962, the engaging young sprinter, Mr. Jack Lemmon, equaled the time posted in 1927 by Rin Tin Tin."

2. Acceptance speeches should be short, but not too short.

"We do not ask you to limit yourselves to a mere 'thank you'; we ask only that you keep showmanship in mind. You need not thank your agent, your tailor, or the studio cop who let you in the door."

What the TSO Reputation for Professional Eye Care Can Mean to You

A reputation for excellence takes time and patience to build. And, it is easy to lose if quality and conscientious service are not maintained. TSO has established a reputation for dependable, professional eye care and fine eyewear over a 28-year period. People throughout Texas have, through personal experience, learned that they can depend upon TSO for conscientious, reliable and reasonable-cost service. TSO Doctors of Optometry have consistently held to the high standard of professional service for which TSO has become famous. That is why TSO can say: "Guard Against Eye Disease and Poor Vision with an Annual, Professional Eye Examination by a TSO Doctor of Optometry." At TSO your complete visual case history is recorded. Then, your eyes are carefully examined internally for evidence of disease or defect, such as glaucoma or cataract. Finally, they are examined for visual abnormalities, such as near or farsightedness, astigmatism, or muscle imbalance. Only if glasses are needed are they prescribed. Yet, if this need is revealed, you have the assurance they will be accurately prescribed and fitted to your individual visual requirements. You'll find the cost of this service reasonable at TSO—as low as $14.85 for finest quality single vision glasses, as low as $17.85 for invisible bifocal glasses, including examination, lenses and frame. If you have been considering contact lenses, single vision Micro-Sight contact lenses are $65 complete, and bifocal contact lenses are also available at a reasonable cost. Convenient credit is available at no extra charge. Guard against eye disease and poor vision . . . visit TSO soon.

Golfdom Vets Take Charge In Masters

By MERCER BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer — AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Golf's old guard is chucking. Some of the graybeards showed the younger "big three" a thing or two in the opening round of the Masters golf tournament.

Palmer, 33, the defending champion shooting for a fourth Masters title, had to settle for a 2-over-par 74. So did 23-year-old Nicklaus.

Palmer, a top choice in any tournament he enters, commented: "This is the toughest opening day I can remember. But I can't complain. The wind blew for everybody. We all played the same course."

Palmer's score of 74 was one of the best in the field. He also got down some long putts—one of about 25 feet, another of 22 and another of 20.

Palmer lost three shots on two holes—bogeying the 14th and taking a 7 on the par-5 15th, where he dumped his third shot in the pond guarding the green.

Perhaps the largest opening day crowd in history milled over the beautiful, 6,850-yard course which grand slam champion Bob Jones helped design. An unofficial estimate put the crowd at 25,000.

After today's round, the field will be trimmed to the low 44 plus shots—except that anyone within 10 shots of the leader qualifies for the final 36 holes.

Rain A Treat To Big Relays

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The huge Texas Relays start today with a 100-yard dash matching a crowd of 9.3 and 9.4 men headlining the rain-threatened opening session.

Ray Knaub, the Nebraska flash, puts his championship in the line before the likes of Roger Sayers of Omaha, the NAIA king; Dennis Richardson of Abilene Christian, who has posted a 9.3-second mark this season; and Billy Foster, Southern Methodist sophomore who beat Richardson last week.

A long list of preliminaries fills the day with the rain not due to be a handicap since it is expected to fade after the first few events. Ideal weather is due for the 20 finals to be run off tonight.

The big feature of the meet—a clash of 4-minute milers Daryl Burson and Bill Dotson—comes Saturday. So does the pole vault that sends eight fellows who have exceeded 15 feet in search of the 15-6 1/2 record held by Fred Hansen or Rice. He will be defending his championship.

Texas Southern's Gerald Pratt, the only one who has cleared 16 feet, appears to be the most likely record possibility.

Texas Southern, which dominates the college division like a blanket, has a chance to set a record in one of the first events—the 800-yard relay. The Houston Negro school, which won all five relays and set records in each last year, is expected to furnish at least three today and tonight.

Jerry Dyes of Abilene Christian, who has been setting records in the javelin and broad jump in every meet he has entered this season, will appear in both of these events today. He is considered supreme in the javelin, where he has a toss of 248 feet 11 1/2 inches, but could bow in the broad jump, where he meets his conqueror of last year—Bill Miller of McMurry. Both are 25-foot jumpers.

Abilene Christian, Nebraska, Southern Illinois and Houston are expected to win most of the relays in the university division, with Southern Methodist, Baylor, Texas, Missouri and Oklahoma State coming in for shares.

Burlison, the Oregon ex who has done the mile in 3:57.6, and Dolson, the former Kansas star who has turned in a 3:59, head a field of nine in what may be the Texas Relays first 4-minute mile.

Roden Is Likely To Face Permian

Right-hander Jack Roden will probably get the mound call when the Big Spring Steers host Odessa Permian here at 2 p.m. Saturday in a battle to escape the District 2-AAAA baseball cellar.

Each team has an 0-3 non-losing record within the conference. Big Spring was picked to finish last but Permian was fingered to wind up just back of San Angelo in a pre-season poll.

Quite likely, Jimmy Routh will go to the mound for the Panthers. Routh has a 3-3 record for the year.

Overall, the Steers are 8-11. Permian dropped a 5-2 decision to Midland High in Midland earlier this week.

Long-Awaited Voyage Will Be Realized

By KATHLEEN DOZIER With butterflies in her stomach and literally jumping with excitement Mrs. Lucian Jones is completing her packing for a long-awaited voyage to Italy.

Leaving from the Midland Airport Sunday morning, Mrs. Jones is to meet her father, Ferdinando Testi, that day at O'Hara International Airport in Chicago.

Mr. Testi, 83, came to this country in 1906 and two years later he returned to Italy to marry. It was in 1908 when he came back to the States bringing his bride. It has been 55 years since he has seen his family.

For many years Mrs. Jones has corresponded with her relatives in Italy. She writes in English and her letters are read by an interpreter.

Before returning home April 28, she will travel all over Italy visiting with relatives and seeing places of interest including Rome and the Vatican City.

Prepared well in advance, the festivities and feasting will prevail in homes from the northern to the southern tip of the Italian boot.

Italy Bound

Mrs. Lucian Jones, traveling Sunday by plane, packs with care for her vacation in Italy and visit with relatives she has never seen.

Big Spring and in Michigan, Mrs. Jones and her father hope to see points of interest including the Vatican City at Rome. All too soon their visit will be over April 28.

Bluebonnet Trail Opens On April 13

It's time for the first annual "Bluebonnet Trail," through the romantic Highland Lakes Country. Until now, the trail was only a dream and now with the joint sponsorship of the Highland Lakes Tourist Association and the Chambers of Commerce of Austin, Burnet, Buchanan Dam, Llano, Kingsland and Marble Falls, a trail has been carefully mapped out.

The local Chambers of Commerce will serve as tourist information centers during the event. Completion of Highway 1431 in recent years now allows access to many of the most beautiful portions of the "Bluebonnet Trail."

Music For Worship Is Program Topic For Lutherans

Music as an aid to worship was the topic discussed for members of the St. Paul Lutheran Workers Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Harold Fisher.

On April 25, Mrs. J. L. Kountz will be the guest speaker at the Zone Rally for the Lutheran Missionary League in Midland.

The Fellowship Dinner will be held at Parish Hall after the morning services May 5. A donation of $5 was made by the group to the Deacons Association.

Plans Made For Show

"Our Heritage" will be the theme of a spring flower show May 2 in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Morehead Planters Garden Club members received schedules for the show and drew placements for arrangements when they met Thursday with Miss B. Bowen.

Guest speaker was Bill Draper of Faye's Flowers, who spoke on arrangements for the home and showed a film to illustrate his talk. He showed how florists' flowers could be used at small cost to blend with others in enhancing an arrangement.

Bridge Winners Are Announced

GARDEN CITY SOCIETY - The Wednesday Afternoon Bridge Club members were guests in the home of Mrs. Dick Mitchell. Mrs. Clyde Reynolds won high score award. Mrs. Charles J. Cox, second high, and Mrs. Glen Riley and Mrs. Steve Calverley received game prizes.

Mrs. Minot Pratt of Uvalde is a houseguest this week at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Bigby. Also visiting Mrs. Bigby is her daughter, Mrs. Maxine Still of Midland.

The Trinity Lutheran Church has scheduled a picnic for April 7 in the city park which will begin immediately following services. Members are urged to attend as there will be a council meeting to elect new council members.

Return Home

Mrs. Fred Stephens and Mrs. Arthur Leonard returned Monday from San Diego and Upland, Calif., where they visited Mrs. Stephen's brother, J. B. Hanson, and also her niece, Mrs. Bill Rivers.

Two Are Hostesses For Country Club Brunch

Delicate pink hues were magnificently shaded into a party scene Thursday at the Big Spring Country Club. Hostesses were Mrs. Carl Strom and Mrs. Lorin S. McDowell Jr. A grass carpeted garden scene with white flower cart and roses formed a background for the main table where brunch was served.

Weather did not discourage those who attended wearing elegant spring hats. Mrs. Modesta Simpson, in navy blue, wore a white brimmed, tailored Fedora. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Modesta King whose smart, deep crowned hat was of white straw, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wade Simpson of Midland, whose yellow straw bonnet was swathed with net.

Shades of roses appeared crowning the head of Mrs. Ike Robb whose suit was of soft gray and other accessories. Hanging baskets were filled with fern interspersed with pink blossoms.

Membership Sets Program Theme

Mrs. Paul Jones directed the program for members of the First Church of God WMS when the group met at the church Tuesday evening.

Subject of the program was "Expanding Half Dollars" which dealt with membership month participants were Mrs. Pauline Dean, Mrs. John Kolar and Mrs. Rexie Cagle.

New officers were installed by Mrs. J. D. Jenkins whose theme was "Workers Together With God." The dedication prayer was worded by Mrs. George Harrington.

Fourteen members attended. The May meeting will be held on the 7th at the church.

Miss Marshall Is Initiated

Miss Nancy Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Arnold, 1303 Pennsylvania, was recently initiated into Kappa Alpha Theta sorority at Texas Christian University.

She is a freshman student and a graduate of Big Spring High School.

Freeze Lasagna

Modern Italian cooks are likely to make two casseroles of lasagna, one to serve right away, the other to store in the freezer. Prepared with Ricotta and Mozzarella cheese and a tomato meat sauce, the lasagna may be freezer-stored for a couple of months plus a topping of grated Parmesan.

Definition Of Physical Fitness Is Threefold

"Physical fitness does not mean calisthenics but has a triangular meaning of spirit, mind and body," said Joe Leach at the College Heights Parent-Teacher Association meeting Thursday afternoon.

Leach is the physical director of the YMCA and told his audience that three hours of muscular activity a day is required for a child to grow into a fit adult.

Proceeding the program, Mrs. Royce Griffith, chairman, introduced Mrs. Arnold Tonn who brought the devotion. Accompanied by Miss Jan Curry, she sang "Child of the King."

Mrs. Eugene Ray presided during the business session Mrs. T. W. Butler, savings stamp chairman, reported proceeds as $835.75.

A report on the Lamesa spring conference was given by Mrs. Floyd Williams, president.

The annual spring luncheon for outgoing and incoming officers will be held at a local restaurant May 9.

The fourth grade class of Mrs. Joe Hedleston won the room count award. Approximately 40 attended.

Missionary Skit Seen By WMU

The Arlene Bradford Circle was in charge of the program when the Baptist Temple WMU met Tuesday evening. The theme for the gathering was "His Will—Our Way" with Mrs. Joe Newnam the narrator for a skit portraying a missionary meeting.

Mrs. H. M. Jarratt led the opening prayer; Mrs. Riley Rutledge read the devotion; and Mrs. Ray Crooks extended the welcome.

A panel discussion was led by Mrs. Van Perry with Mrs. Jimmy Schoutz portraying an Igorot; Mrs. Benny Porter, the Chinese; Mrs. Charles Modisette, a Christian; and Mrs. Joe Blessingame, a Moro. Also taking part were Mrs. Charles Dunnam, Mrs. A. W. Page and Mrs. Roy Holmes.

Concluding the program, 30 members were served refreshments by the Blanche Groves Circle.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim.

If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girle will contour your hips if they are a problem. The girle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It feels like nothing on but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim" is the peak achievement of the design genius, Olga.

Be "Suddenly Slim" today in either girle or panty version. Featured at HEMPHILL WELLS, 214 Main, Telephone AM 4-8283

Tots, Petite-Juniors Parade In OWC Event

Egg-filled baskets, flowers, bunnies and woolly lambs lent a touch of spring and depicted the Easter season for the Officers Wives Club luncheon Thursday at Webb Officers Club. Highlight of the occasion was a style show presented by Mrs. Eva Pyeat of The Kid's Shop.

Mrs. Imogene Lloyd provided a program of organ music throughout the event, for which wives of the 3560th Hospital Group were hostesses.

Blue Dutch iris, salmon and pink toned gladioli and yellow mums formed the centerpiece for the officers' table. Other tables were decorated with Easter baskets filled with colored eggs.

Novelty features of the show narrated by Mrs. Aurora Ethridge, included her assistant, a large white animated rabbit who helped to direct the small models. During a brief interval, Stevie Wilson wandered among the audience singing a lullaby and pushing an old-fashioned, canopied perambulator.

CHILDREN MODEL Fashions for the very young were shown by children of Webb officers. There were full skirted miniatures with pinafores and bonnets, little boy blazers and short pants, full suited replicas of dads; play clothes, party clothes and nightwear.

Nita Peters appeared delectable wearing a sleeveless, full-skirted peach toned frock with matching bonnet; Susan Lindsley, gay in a yellow dress enhanced with coral and green sprays of flowers; and Pam Lindsley in blue to match her eyes with pinafore of white.

In the older group was Jackie Banks and Marilyn Meacham. Jackie's dress, enhanced with a sprinkling of rhinestones at the neckline, was of blue with wreaths of rose and green lending a festive note to a festive frock. Marilyn, ready for a game of golf, presented a smart ensemble consisting of shorts, shirt and a wrap-around overskirt.

An embroidered pink dress and matching pink sweater was modeled by Tina Smith who chose a white straw hat and white gloves for accessories. Prim and pretty was Martha Hartzog whose yellow spring coat was worn over a yellow dress with just a whisper of green showing through. Her attire was completed with a matching yellow latched crown on the back of her head.

STRICTLY FOR FUN Strictly for fun, Bill Davis strolled boldly upon the ramp in a scarlet space suit topped with the space helmet.

Wild tropical stripes in hopsacking went into the design for a play suit worn by Ann Bence. Her hat, banded with brilliant color, was of natural straw and brimmed for shade.

Others participating were Janet Lillie, Mike Howell, Mark Howell, Susie Peters, Sandy Short, Suzanne Wolf, Mike O'Brien, Jeff Jarmann, Laurie Frost, Sally Triviolet, Pat King, Valerie Summa, Kim and Kris Wilson, David Skelton, Sally Smith, Gina Healy, Laurie Huss, Miky McClurg, Susan Brooks, and Jayne Hense. Also Jessica Vaughn, Joni Summa, Neal Yeargan, Beth Ratti, Darla Seabo, Liz Healy and Laurie O'Brien.

Mrs. James Gehrig presided. She read the slate of officers as presented by the nominating committee, and made announcement of the "Night in New Orleans" benefit party to be held Saturday, April 20, at Webb Officers Club.

She welcomed the newcomers, Mrs. J. H. Carlson, Mrs. J. F. Rodzankas, Mrs. J. A. Bold, Mrs. B. Hampton, Mrs. J. A. Mensinger, Mrs. P. L. Murphy, Mrs. B. Banning, Mrs. D. E. Hope.

Welcomed were the guests, Mrs. Shirley McClurg of Chicago, Mrs. Elvis Clark, Mrs. E. V. Spence, Mrs. C. D. Smith, Mrs. E. Daran and Mrs. G. R. Ryan. She also acknowledged the presence of Mrs. L. M. Standish who is leaving for Georgia.

Door prizes went to Mrs. T. J. McMillan, Mrs. Robert Hartzog, Mrs. J. Thomas McDaniel and Mrs. Jack Rattie. Mrs. Charles H. Smith received the magazine subscription given each month by OWC.

Return Home Mrs. Fred Stephens and Mrs. Arthur Leonard returned Monday from San Diego and Upland, Calif., where they visited Mrs. Stephen's brother, J. B. Hanson, and also her niece, Mrs. Bill Rivers.

The FIVE DAYS

The Palms and the Cross were but five days apart!
On Sunday, down a road strewn with palms, Christ rode triumphantly into Jerusalem . . . and men hailed Him as their King.
On Friday He climbed the rugged slope of Calvary . . . and they nailed Him to a Cross.
How suddenly good turns to evil! How quickly we sometimes lose our vision of God!
The paradox of those five days is history's striking lesson in the importance of a constant faith. The faltering, hot and cold sort of religion made possible the Crucifixion!
Palm Sunday you'll be going to Church. In a quiet moment in the sanctuary remember those five days . . . resolve to worship EVERY Sunday, and to live your faith EVERY day.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Dr. Charlton Will Conduct Holy Week Revival Here

Dr. Frank D. Charlton will be evangelist for Holy Week revival services at the First Methodist Church, beginning Sunday.

Dr. Charlton is a native of Newport News, Va. and a graduate of Washington & Lee University. He studied in Candler school of theology at Emory in Atlanta, took his B. D. in Yale Divinity School and did graduate work in Chicago Theological Seminary and the Divinity school at the University of Chicago.

Licensed to preach in Virginia, he was ordained in New York and received his elder's orders at First Methodist Church in Austin in 1931. He served pastorates in New Braunfels, San Antonio, Austin, Gonzales, and Brownsville before being named district superintendent. Under his guidance in this capacity at McAllen and Austin, three rest homes, a camp, and a Latin-American settlement home were established.

On two occasions he was named delegate to the National Family Life Conference, to the Town and Country Conference, and has held several board places on the South Texas and Northwest Texas Conferences. McMurry College conferred the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree on him in October of 1962.

Jesus Fulfills His Mission

HOW THE DEATH OF CHRIST REVEALS THE TRUE CHARACTER OF ALL THOSE WHO WERE INVOLVED WITH HIM

Scripture—Mark 14:10-15:41.

By N. SPEER JONES
THIS WEEK we begin the second quarter of the year's Sunday School lessons. In it, we will finish our examination of the Gospel according to St. Mark, and go on to study the inspiration provided by the Psalms.

On this Palm Sunday our lesson concerns, as usual, Christ's crucifixion. Notice first, that in the betrayal of Judas, it was Judas himself, not any of the Jewish officials, who initiated the betrayal. The motivating factor was apparently money—the sin of covetousness. Thus we see to what extreme end the love of material riches—obedience to Mammon—can lead.

To make ready the Last Supper Christ sent Peter and John. The reason they were not told directly where to go, but told to follow a man bearing a pitcher, was perhaps to avoid Judas' knowing in advance of the place. Christ knew he had arranged to betray Him, but did not want His Last Supper interrupted by His capture at that point.

Notice also that only at the Last Supper, after the betrayal arrangements have been made, does Christ announce that He is about to be betrayed.

This Last Supper was Christ's institution coinciding with the Passover Feast, regularly celebrated by the Jews. As the disciples leave the supper room, they proceed to the Mount of Olives, about a mile away. As they go, they sing a hymn—also an evolution from Jewish custom, for the Jews traditionally sang at the end of the Passover Supper the Psalms 115-118. The second part of this hymn was called the Hallel, meaning to be high enough to keep the praise (from which our word "hallelujah" is derived). There has been considerable argument about the exact meaning of "this cup," which Christ asks God to remove, if possible. The important lesson here is that even Christ, with His holy will, asks that not His, but God's will prevail.

The trial before Caiaphas, the high priest, was actually preceded by another trial before Annas (recorded only in John 18:13, 14, 19-24). This is the Caiaphas mentioned in Luke 3:2, when John the Baptist was preaching in the wilderness.

Pilate was the Roman procurator of Judea, hated by the Jews because he brought images into the city of Jerusalem. The man who carried Christ's cross, Simon, was from Cyrene, a bustling city in North Africa near Tripoli.

Before they crucified Him, Mark tells us they offered Christ "wine mingled with myrrh." Myrrh is a gum resin from certain Arabic shrubs, used as a tonic and stimulant, and in embalming. It also acted as a narcotic, for it was standard practice to offer this mixture of wine and myrrh to criminals, about to be executed, to numb their pain.

Although Christ is always pictured in crucifixion with His feet nailed to the cross, we have evidence only of His hands being nailed (see John 20:20, 25). There is a suggestion, however, that the feet were also nailed in the prophetic Psalm 22:18.

Pictures of a very tall cross are also misleading, for such a tall one would be difficult to fix upright; the crosses needed only to be high enough to keep the victim's feet off the ground.

Second Wave To Leave For Japan

Cheered by news of a good response to the first wave of the New Life movement in Japan, three Big Spring people will leave this weekend for brief periods of mission work there. Two others will follow before the end of the month.

Press reports from Tokyo said that Tuesday night during the closing meeting of an area-wide crusade as part of the Japan Baptist New Life program, more than 1,000 Japanese made decisions to embrace Christianity. Over 10,000 attended the mass rally at Korakuen Stadium, and following the sermon by Dr. Baker James Cauthen, secretary of the Southern Baptist mission board, one of 10 responded to the invitation. During the five meetings of the Tokyo campaign, 1,650 responded, which is more than the 1,500 Baptists presently in the Tokyo area.

Leaving Friday morning for Dallas to board a plane Saturday for the Far East will be Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Reeder, who will work in Shimotozu Kokura, about 1,000 miles southwest of Tokyo and on Kyushu. Rev. Robert F. Polk, First Baptist pastor, will leave following the Sunday evening worship services and will fly Monday to Japan. He will be evangelist at the Sengawa Baptist Mission in western Tokyo.

During the past 10 days, Dr. P. W. Malone and daughter Mary Frances Malone, have been working with the Billy Graham team in the Tokyo Crusade. They will be in that area for about a week.

Joe Dunn has received his assignment and will leave April 15 for Hitoyoshi Mission at Kumamoto, Ken, which is in southernmost Japan, below the Nagasaki area. He will work with Rev. Don Walker, Kerns, the evangelist, and George M. Parker, Amarillo, lay leader. Dunn will lead the music services. His return date is May 6.

Last to leave will be Rayford Dunagan, who is participating in the final wave of the movement. His departure is April 22 and he will work with Dr. and Mrs. John Rasco, Odessa, at Shinzaiya, Hamiji, which like the Reeder's post, will be below Hiroshima.

Baptists Set Revival Crusade

Sunday marks the beginning of a week revival crusade in the Westside Baptist Church, 1200 W. Fourth. The evangelist is to be Rev. Bill Beatty, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Robert Lee. Rev. Beatty received a B. A. from Howard Payne College in 1953, a B. D. from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1957. He is the former pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church of Anson and the First Baptist Church of Kosse.

The church is to observe special nights of emphasis: Monday "Kinfolk Night"; Tuesday "Sunday School Night"; Wednesday "Men Fill the Choir Night"; Thursday "Pack the Pew"; Friday "Treat Night"; Saturday "Youth Night."

The weekday services have been scheduled for 6 a.m. with breakfast to follow; 7 p.m. for prayer emphasis, and 7:30 p.m. for evangelistic services.

Complete nursery facilities of the church will be available for all services.

Youth Revival Set

The Prairie View Baptist Church has scheduled a youth revival for tonight, Saturday and Sunday. A youth team from Howard Payne College will conduct the services, which are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. each day. All young people are invited to attend.

THE BOOK OF ACTS

In the Book of Acts there are five outstanding lines of thought, and all others are secondary to these five. These are:

- That Jesus is the Christ, the long expected Messiah foretold by the Old Testament Prophets; This fact is proven partly by the fact that He fulfilled the Old Testament prophecies and secondly by the fact of His resurrection.
- That the Holy Spirit, who came on Pentecost, was the immediate and Divine source of revelation and under whose power the Apostles preached.
- That the entire Jewish age and economy was fulfilled in the death of Christ and that it was superseded by the "Law of the Spirit of Life"—through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins and by Him all that believe are justified from all things from which they could not be justified by the law of Moses—Acts 13:38-39.
- That salvation in Christ is to be obtained by a spiritual process, known as conversion, a change of the mind brought about by Godly Sorrow and followed by a reformation of life. Faith, repentance, confession of faith and baptism into Christ were all necessary to this regeneration, called a "New Birth" into the kingdom—Jn. 3:3-5. This made a NEW CREATURE in Christ, see—II Cor. 5:17, Acts 2:38, Rom. 6:3-6, Gal. 3:26-27.
- That the promises of the Gospel, viz. a remission of sins, b. gift, or indwelling of the Holy Spirit, and eternal life are for all who will meet the terms of pardon, Jew or gentile, Acts 10:34-35, 11:18, Gal. 3:28.

The Book of Acts carries forth the Great Commission, of Mt. 28:18-20, Mk. 16:15-16, Lk. 24:46-49, by way of examples. There exists today a VERY REAL NEED for men everywhere to study and obey this book!

Rev. Good To Be Speaker For Holy Week

The Rev. Donald M. Good, minister of youth and evangelism of the First Christian Church of Midland, will be the guest speaker during the Holy Week services at the First Christian Church, Tenth and Goliad. The services will begin Palm Sunday morning, at 10:30 o'clock and will continue each day through Friday at 7:30 p.m. The Sunday evening service will begin at 7 o'clock.

Rev. Good, who has experienced good response during his ministry in evangelism, Christian education and youth work. Many members have been added to the Midland Church during his four-year ministry there, and the youth and Christian education programs have been enhanced.

Rev. Good served churches at Stinnett and Borger. He received his A. B. degree from Phillips University, Enid, Okla. and will receive his B. D. degree from Texas Christian University, this summer.

Rev. Good visited the Big Spring church at the invitation of the evangelism committee headed by Coach Don Robbins and his wife, Gene Ann, and pastor, some six weeks ago and launched the "Crusade For Christ." He helped organize the committee into teams of visitation evangelism. Ten members have already been added and the church is anticipating others during the Holy Week services.

Poised Burma Gentry Set For Regional Spelling Bee

Take a generous portion of poise. Blend well with a liberal helping of scholastic ability. Mix in a heaping lot of confidence. The finished product could be the next regional spelling champion for the Lubbock region. Her name is Burma Gentry, and Saturday afternoon she will test her spelling skill against the best spellers of West Texas in the tough regional competition.

If it takes poise, confidence, scholarship and imperturbability to make a champion, Burma has it. The young auburn haired daughter of S. Sgt. and Mrs. Gordon L. Gentry, 1505 Cherokee, won the county spelling championship here last month over a field of 21 contenders.

Saturday, she goes to Lubbock and at 1:30 p.m. will compete for the regional title against the county champions from 20 West Texas counties. If she wins that contest, she will go to Washington in June to try for the national title. The 13-year-old eighth grader from Goliad Junior High School, who has a record of making straight A-plus grades in all of her school subjects (except for one A-minus in physical education) does not regard the words selected to test the spelling mettle of the contestants particularly difficult.

She has been putting in a lot of time over the official spelling book in which the words to be tested in the contest are listed. She has a knack for spelling and an understanding of words which is much higher than for most youngsters her age.

Mrs. Gentry, Burma and Roger, Burma's 7 1/2-year-old brother, will leave early Saturday for Lubbock. Mrs. Gentry plans to reach that city around noon and have plenty of time for Burma to eat lunch and check in at the spelling bee headquarters ahead of the 1:15 p.m. deadline.

"Then," said Mrs. Gentry, "I plan to get in the car and drive around until the bee is all over. I didn't attend the county meet and I don't think it best I sit in the audience at the regional meet. Burma will do better, I am sure, if I am not there."

Meantime, in Oson, Korea, another party will be eagerly waiting the outcome of the spelling bee. He is S. Sgt. Gordon Gentry, a 17-year veteran of the U. S. Air Force, Burma's father. A fireman by rating, Gentry is winding up an overseas hitch in August. He has been sent all of the news about Burma and her victory in the county meet and will be getting additional stories about his daughter as soon as the regional meet is over.

The Gentrys came here nearly eight years ago and Burma has spent her entire school life in the Big Spring schools. She enrolled first in Airport school which is near her home. Now in Junior High school, it seems her career in the local schools may be nearing its end. When Sgt. Gentry returns from Korea, he will be assigned to some other base.

Another group of Big Springers will be at the spelling bee—Jan Campbell, a Runnels junior high student, and runner-up in the county contest. She lost out to Burma and is officially an alternate. She will not have a chance to compete at Lubbock, however, unless something should cause Burma to drop out at the last minute. Jan and her parents, the Mr. and Mrs. Winford Campbells, are going to the meet to watch how it turns out.

Burma's competitors for the regional spelling title will be county champions from 19 other West Texas counties including six who have representatives at the regional contest for the first time this year.

Like Howard County, Borden, Mitchell, Scurry, Ector and Midland counties have joined in the

CUTE, CONFIDENT AND CAPABLE Burma Gentry, Howard County champ, ready for regional bee

Spelling Bee competition this year for the first time. Counties which have sent contenders to the regional meet in other years will have champions on hand this year are Archer, Bailey, Cochran, Terry, Yoakum, Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock and Lynn.

The regional bee is strictly business. Burma and her fellow spellers will assemble at the A. S. Slaton Junior High School in Lubbock not later than 1:15 p.m. Saturday. They will be registered and will draw for positions in the spelling line. The spelling begins at 1:30 p.m.

How long the match will run is variable. It depends on how capable and able the spellers are. Sometimes it is over in a relatively short time. On other occasions it has gone on for a long time.

When the contenders have dwindled to one and that lone survivor has spelled the "clinch" word, the bee is over. The regional winner will then be acclaimed. In addition to the free expense-paid trip to Washington June 10-15, the champion gets a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica, a special pen and pencil set and the possession for one year of the inscribed rotating plaque. Further, the winner's school is recognized and will receive free use of one Britannica educational film each month for a year.

The second place winner gets $20 in cash. Third place pays $15; fourth place, $10, and fifth place, $5.

East Fourth Baptist Will Ordain Young Ministers

ELDON COOK ALVIN R. HILTBRUNNER

The East Fourth Baptist Church will ordain two men to the ministry Sunday in special services at 2:30 p.m. at the Baptist district encampment grounds, seven miles north of Stanton.

They are Alvin R. Hiltbrunner and Eldon Cook. Hiltbrunner is minister of music and youth at South Lawn Baptist Church in Amarillo. Cook is the new pastor at Westover Baptist Church in western Big Spring.

A 1960 graduate of Big Spring High School and a 1962 graduate of HCJC, Hiltbrunner is attending West Texas State College, where he will graduate in January, 1964. He surrendered to the ministry Nov. 19, 1960 and was licensed the following Feb. 18. Before going with the Amarillo Church, he was music and youth director at Westside Baptist Church here. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hiltbrunner, 2206 Cindy Lane.

An active layman for many years, before being called to preach, Cook has been head of the Meat department at Piggy Wig-gly.

No Dirt From White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Little Catherine O'Connor, age 7, won't be getting a sample of dirt from the White House to add to her growing soil collection.

On behalf of Catherine Kennedy, age 5, to whom Catherine appealed, the White House says it's sorry, but it can send no sample. Although unwilling to reveal just what reply was sent to Catherine in Ann Arbor, Mich., a White House spokesman explained, "We have so many similar requests, we're sorry we can't oblige her."

The little girl, a second grader, is embarked on a collection of soils from every state and the District of Columbia in the interest of a science project.

She put Catherine Kennedy on her list in an effort to get a pinch of Washington soil.

But the White House chose not to get involved. When asked why, Pamela Turnure, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, said: "We don't send leaves from the trees, gravel from the walks or paint from the walls."

Choir To Sing 'Requiem' Here Sunday

The Chancel Choir of the First Methodist Church, with organ and instrumental ensemble, will present Gabriel Faure's "Requiem" Palm Sunday in place of the regular service, minister of music Ted James has announced. Soloists in this service will be Lt. Morris Smith, Mrs. Carl Bradley, and Mrs. Don Newsom.

"The 'Requiem' by Faure, is the only major work of its kind, since Mozart, that is suitable for both liturgical and concert use," James said.

"The 'Requiem' was begun by Faure to express his sense of personal loss on the death of his father. During its composition his mother also died, and so it can be said that the content of the music reflects clearly the reactions of a sensitive Christian musician to emotional experience.

"In the choice of both music and text," James said, "Faure emphasized the elements of faith and hope in the Christian philosophy of life rather than the fears and terrors of judgment. He never allowed the music to take on the spectacular quality of the concert hall or opera stage, and there are no sections of the composition where the music does other than follow the demands and needs of the text. Insofar as it accomplishes what it sets out to do, the 'Requiem' is perhaps the most successful composition of its kind."

Cinema Comment

If "To Kill a Mockingbird" fails to win several Academy Awards it will not be because the film does not deserve them. It is one of the most warmly human motion pictures of the last several years.

The film was based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel of the same name.

Unlike Hollywood's general tendency, the book was translated to the screen without changing characterizations or plot. Neither was the spirit of the book destroyed.

The story is that of Atticus Finch, his two children, and a few friends and neighbors who figure importantly in their destinies. The setting is small Southern town in the year 1932, and the atmosphere is that of a cross section of humanity as seen through the maturing eyes of a small child. The story tugs at the spirit without being maudlin or overly sentimental.

Seeing the movie merely whets the appetite to read the book, instead of running it.

All but one of the actors come either from Broadway or fresh to show business—in the latter case, some fine natural acting from a couple of unpolished young performers. The role of Atticus Finch is taken by Gregory Peck in one of the best portrayals he has ever essayed.

All the many themes of childhood are interwoven against a background of a prejudiced trial of a Negro man for rape, and the eerie presence of a "maniac" chained in a neighboring home. Two of the several memorable scenes come from these events.

Hard indeed is the viewer who is not moved when Atticus walks out of the courtroom after a brave but vain attempt to stem an injustice, and the Negro gallery rises silently in respect. Again, a later scene depicting an ambush of Atticus' children is almost like something out of Hitchcock—except that this one seems so real.

Anyone who remembers his childhood will be stirred by "To Kill a Mockingbird." Your last chance to see it during its present run will be today and Saturday, at the Ritz Theatre.

Sig Rogers Opens Evangelism Post

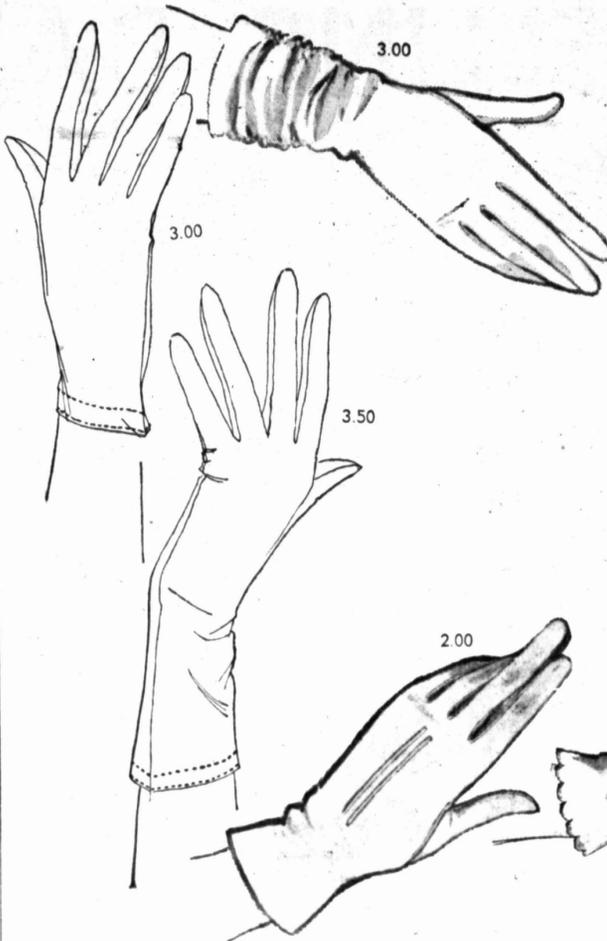

The Open Bible Evangelistic Center will begin work in temporary quarters, 419 E. 3rd, Saturday at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, according to Sig. Rogers, who is directing the work. He invited the public to attend nightly services. The center has no sponsor, Rogers said, and it is not a rescue mission nor planning a building program. There will be gospel preaching, singing and music, he said. Sunday services will be at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

'Disraeli' Show Not Best, But Acting And Color Good

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Like "Victoria Regina" last season, NBC's "Hall of Fame" production Thursday night, "The Invincible Mr. Disraeli," was more a series of vignettes than a play.

About two-thirds of the 90-minute program was primarily devoted to the British statesman's marriage and, incidentally, his rise from young member of Parliament to cabinet rank. During the last half hour, the widower Disraeli, as Victoria's prime minister, devoted himself to his queen and swung a 20-million pound loan which somehow made her empress of India.

The handsome settings included a London town house, a Victorian palace and the halls of Parliament. But it was primarily a talky and rather static biography of a witty and clever statesman.

Mr. Disraeli, played by Trevor Howard with a quip or a well-rounded phrase on his lips, made speech after speech. Greer Garson playing as usual the loving wife, aged magnificently if rather abruptly. It was not one of the Hall of Fame's greatest efforts. But the actors were fine and the color was beautiful.

The British prime minister and his wife may have been the luminaries of the week's television, but little, white, peck-marked hats are the stars of the weekend. The Masters golf tournament, with the coveted prizes, will be televised Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

Peter Molnar, the CBS sports-show producer, and staff of some 70 have been preparing for the event for months.

"We can cover every stroke from the time the players reach the 15 hole to the 18th green," said Molnar.

CBS and its staff have only guest status at the tournament.

"They are very finicky about the way the spectators are treated," said Molnar. "They are given every consideration. And the tournament management is especially fussy about the way the golf club is pictured. There were some very unhappy moments one year when we showed some of the debris scattered around the course at the end of the tournament."

Molnar says that figure skating is probably the easiest sport to cover, and that golf—because of the distances and tough terrain—is one of the hardest.

"But the most impossible of all," he admitted, "is bobsladding. There is absolutely no way to get cameras on most of the curves—unless you ride the sled."

Recommended weekend viewing:

Saturday—Masters golf tournament, CBS, 5-6 (Eastern Standard Time)—from National Golf Club, Augusta, Ga.; "Hootenanny," premiere, ABC, 8:30-9—folk music program.

Sunday—"St. Matthew Passion," NBC, 3:30-5:30 p.m.—Bach oratorio by the NBC Opera Company; Masters golf tournament, CBS, 4-5:30—finals; "The Shark," NBC, 10-11—Anthony Franciosa and Skip Homeier in a thriller.

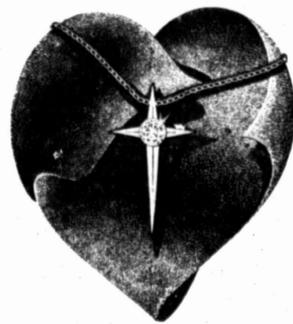

Kim Reported To Have Quit Role

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Kim Novak was reported today to have offered to quit her role in the film "Of Human Bondage," which is running into production snags here. Elizabeth Taylor is said to have been invited to take over the part instead.

A week ago Henry Hathaway quit as director following disagreements with Miss Novak.

She is cast as the waitress, Mildred, in the film version of the Somerset Maugham novel.

The Daily Herald reported that Ken Hughes, who has taken over from Hathaway as director, had offered the part to Miss Taylor.
