Rusk Accuses Reds Of Obstructionism

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk accused pro-Communist forces in Laos today of obstructive tactics and warned that tension is rising in the Asian kingdom.

As fighting erupted between neutralist and pro-Communist Pathet Lao troops, Rusk called on the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to be vigilant.

Rusk told a meeting of SEATO ministers that "a tragic and deplorable series of developments has increased tensions in the Plaine des Jarres" of east-central Laos. It is there that the Pathet Lao has forced a withdrawal of neutralist forces under Gen. Kong Le.

Laos is not a member of SEATO but it is part of an area the SEATO powers are pledged to protect from Communist aggression.

Later today Rusk will meet with French President Charles de Gaulle, possibly to try to win acceptance of a U.S. plan for a multilateral nuclear force in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The French leader has opposed the idea, but his foreign minister, Maurice Couve de Murville, asked Rusk Sunday for further clarification. This led to speculation that de Gaulle may be revising his stand.

Rusk came here for the ministerial council of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. The Rusk-De Gaulle get-together, however, stole the spotlight.

Also sharing the SEATO stage was a possibility of improving French-British relations. These

Judge Overrules Quash Motion In Curry Case

EASTLAND (AP)—Judge Turner Collier overruled a motion to quash the murder indictment against Nathan Curry, 17.

The youth is charged with the slaying at nearby Cisco of middle-aged Mrs. Florence Hussey, a divorcee and church secretary. She was a neighbor of the family and a former Big Springer.

Judge Collier also dismissed a motion in which defense lawyer John Watts of Odessa pleaded that Curry was being subjected to double jeopardy.

Mrs. Hussey was killed in June of 1961. Curry was committed to the Gatesville reformatory and released from there last winter in a court hearing in Odessa. The Eastland County grand jury promptly indicted Curry for murder. He is free on $10,000 bond.

have been chilly since De Gaulle's veto of Britain's Common Market bid in January.

During the three days of talks, luncheons and receptions, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Couve de Murville will meet often.

The SEATO meeting opened with Laos and South Viet Nam foremost in many delegates' minds.

Laos moved back into the crisis stage last week as a result of clashes between forces of the kingdom's neutralist and pro-Communist factions. The possibility is getting stronger and stronger that the pro-Communist Pathet Lao will take over the Asian country between pro-Western Thailand and North and South Viet Nam.

Thailand would consider a Communist takeover in Laos a grave threat to its security. Northeast Thailand is heavily infiltrated by Communist-trained Vietnamese, Laotians and Thais.

South Viet Nam also is high in the SEATO agenda. But the war there between the anti-Communist government of President Ngo Dinh Diem and the Communist Viet Cong is an American responsibility. Other SEATO members are not taking a hand.

The SEATO alliance is made up of the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Pakistan and the Philippines.

U.S. Claims Violation Of Laos Truce

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today Communist forces have committed "a serious violation of the ceasefire" in Laos.

It called on Britain and Russia for "prompt and effective action to stop the firing."

The State Department statement was issued as official reports began arriving in Washington about an attack by Red forces against neutralist Gen. Kong Le's army in the strategic Plaine des Jarres.

Press officer Lincoln White said there is evidence that some Communist troops from neighboring Red North Viet Nam were in on the assault, which he said had been "instigated by the Communist Pathet Lao faction in Laos."

Britain and Russia — plus the three-nation International Control Commission — were called on to halt the firing because those two nations are co-chairmen of last year's Geneva conference which worked out the international agreement for an independent and neutral Laos.

The agreement provided for withdrawal of outside forces, a provision which White also accused the Reds of violating.

Legislature Gives Banks Tax Break Exempted From Franchise Fee

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas legislators gave state banks a million dollar-a-year tax break today.

The House approved 127-4 Senate amendments to a bill previously passed by the House exempting state banks from payment of the state franchise tax. Supporters argued the bill would equalize franchise tax payments between state and national banks. National banks do not pay the franchise tax.

The House action sent the bill to the governor for signature into law.

In the Senate, Sen. W. T. Moore of Bryan used an argument that his filibuster vehicle in delaying action of a University of Houston bill.

"Give me your undivided attention for the next 8 or 10 hours," Moore said, after gaining the floor to discuss his resolution asking a thorough washing and cleaning of the statues of Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin in the Capitol. He spent most of his time talking about a pending bill that he said would permit state aid to be used for graduate courses at the University of Houston.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee scheduled a session to consider a $30 million "package" tax proposal.

A Senate committee gets on Tuesday an appropriations bill expected to exceed $1 billion, which means more revenue will be needed.

Rep. Ben Atwell, chairman of the House committee, said he will gather the 21 committee members "as soon as I can Monday to kick out the tax bill."

Atwell, Gov. John Connally, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, Speaker Byron Tunnell and State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert met Thursday to decide which tax bill will be offered.

Basically, the package proposal will revise the sales tax in several areas to bring in $18.6 million. The corporation franchise tax extension for one year will add another $11 million.

The sales tax changes proposed would knock out the $10 clothing exemption, change the tax on cars from 1.5 per cent to 2 per cent, but put it on the trading difference instead of total price, and tax farm equipment not used solely for agricultural purposes.

Atwell said the comptroller has indicated the present sales tax will bring in $13.5 million during the next two fiscal years that previously estimated.

The $30 million tax package and the $13.5 million additional revenue, will finance Connally's spending recommendations.

Estimates are that Connally's spending requests will exceed general revenue income by about $42 million.

The sales tax revision carries some tax breaks. Newspaper carriers, now charged with collecting the tax on home-delivered papers, would be exempted.

Vending machine operators, who now pay the tax on gross receipts of money taken in, would be exempted.

SCIENCE AT WORK Headway Being Made Against Boll Weevil

WASHINGTON (AP)—Work being done by Agriculture Department economists to eradicate the boll weevil promises to do perhaps as much, if not more, to cure cotton's economic ills than farm production and price control programs.

The department reported promising prospects in the war against the destructive cotton pest a few months after President Kennedy himself put his finger on the weevil as a barrier to solution of a serious cotton marketing problem.

In his farm message in January, Kennedy called for stepped-up research on ways of fighting the weevil. He said elimination of the damage the insect causes the cotton crop could result in reduction in production costs of 5 cents a pound in areas of infestation.

This loss represents nearly 15 per cent of the price growers get for cotton. The crop has run into trouble because its price, as set under a government price support program, is too high to enable it to compete effectively with manmade fibers and with cotton growth in other countries.

The department says its scientists have already made promising new biological, mechanical and chemical approaches to combat boll weevils.

It listed five approaches:

1. Release of sterilized male weevils to mate with females, resulting in production of eggs which do not hatch. The result, where tried experimentally, has been self-destruction of the insect population.
2. Large-scale spraying of cotton with methyl parathion during the fall has destroyed weevils in Southwest field tests.
3. Scientists have found a microscopic organism called schizogregarine that causes a deadly infection among weevils.
4. Development of a machine to pick up from the ground beneath the plants the fallen cotton square in which the larval stage of the weevil develops.
5. Scientists have located and extracted three substances from cotton that are being studied for possible use in control plans.

Modern Man Questions Life After Death

EDITOR'S NOTE: For the years we spend on earth all three of us have asked the question: "Is there life after death?" And how does modern man view these two questions? The Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Kepler, prominent Protestant theologian, considers current attitudes toward death in this first of five excerpts from his book, "The Meaning and Mystery of the Resurrection." Publisher is Association Press, copyright by the National Board of YMCAs.

By DR. THOMAS S. KEPLER

After a Sunday evening sermon in Lent several years ago, an elderly man waited to speak to me at the church door. In my sermon that evening I had referred to Voltaire's words in his early life:

"I hate to live, yet I am afraid to die," followed by his changed thought years later shortly before his own death, "I am now ready to die, adoring God, loving my fellow men, not hating my enemies, but detesting superstition."

Said the man to me: "You hit at my worst fear. Frankly, I am scared to die!"

The words of this man undoubtedly express the feeling of many people today regarding the mystery of death.

On the other hand, there are persons with a materialistic philosophy of life who feel that the few decades lived upon this planet encircle man's entirety of experience.

Christianity is a religion which never would have existed had it lacked a faith in life after death, in which Jesus was the first fruits of the resurrection.

The crucifixion of Jesus, had it not been followed by his resurrection, would have left for history merely a record of a martyr's tragic death, but not the history of "a saving event" or a great religious movement.

In the thinking of the members of the early Church the resurrection of Jesus was God's answer to the demonic forces of the world which put Jesus to death. The Christian devotees of the early Church not only outlived but outdid their opponents, for they shared the resurrection faith for themselves which they held for their Lord.

Various views toward life after death arise in the minds of modern persons.

Some raise the question of where man's continued life takes place. The view is no longer held that our earth is at the center of the universe; heaven has vanished from the heavens, and hell is no longer held as being in the lower regions of our earth.

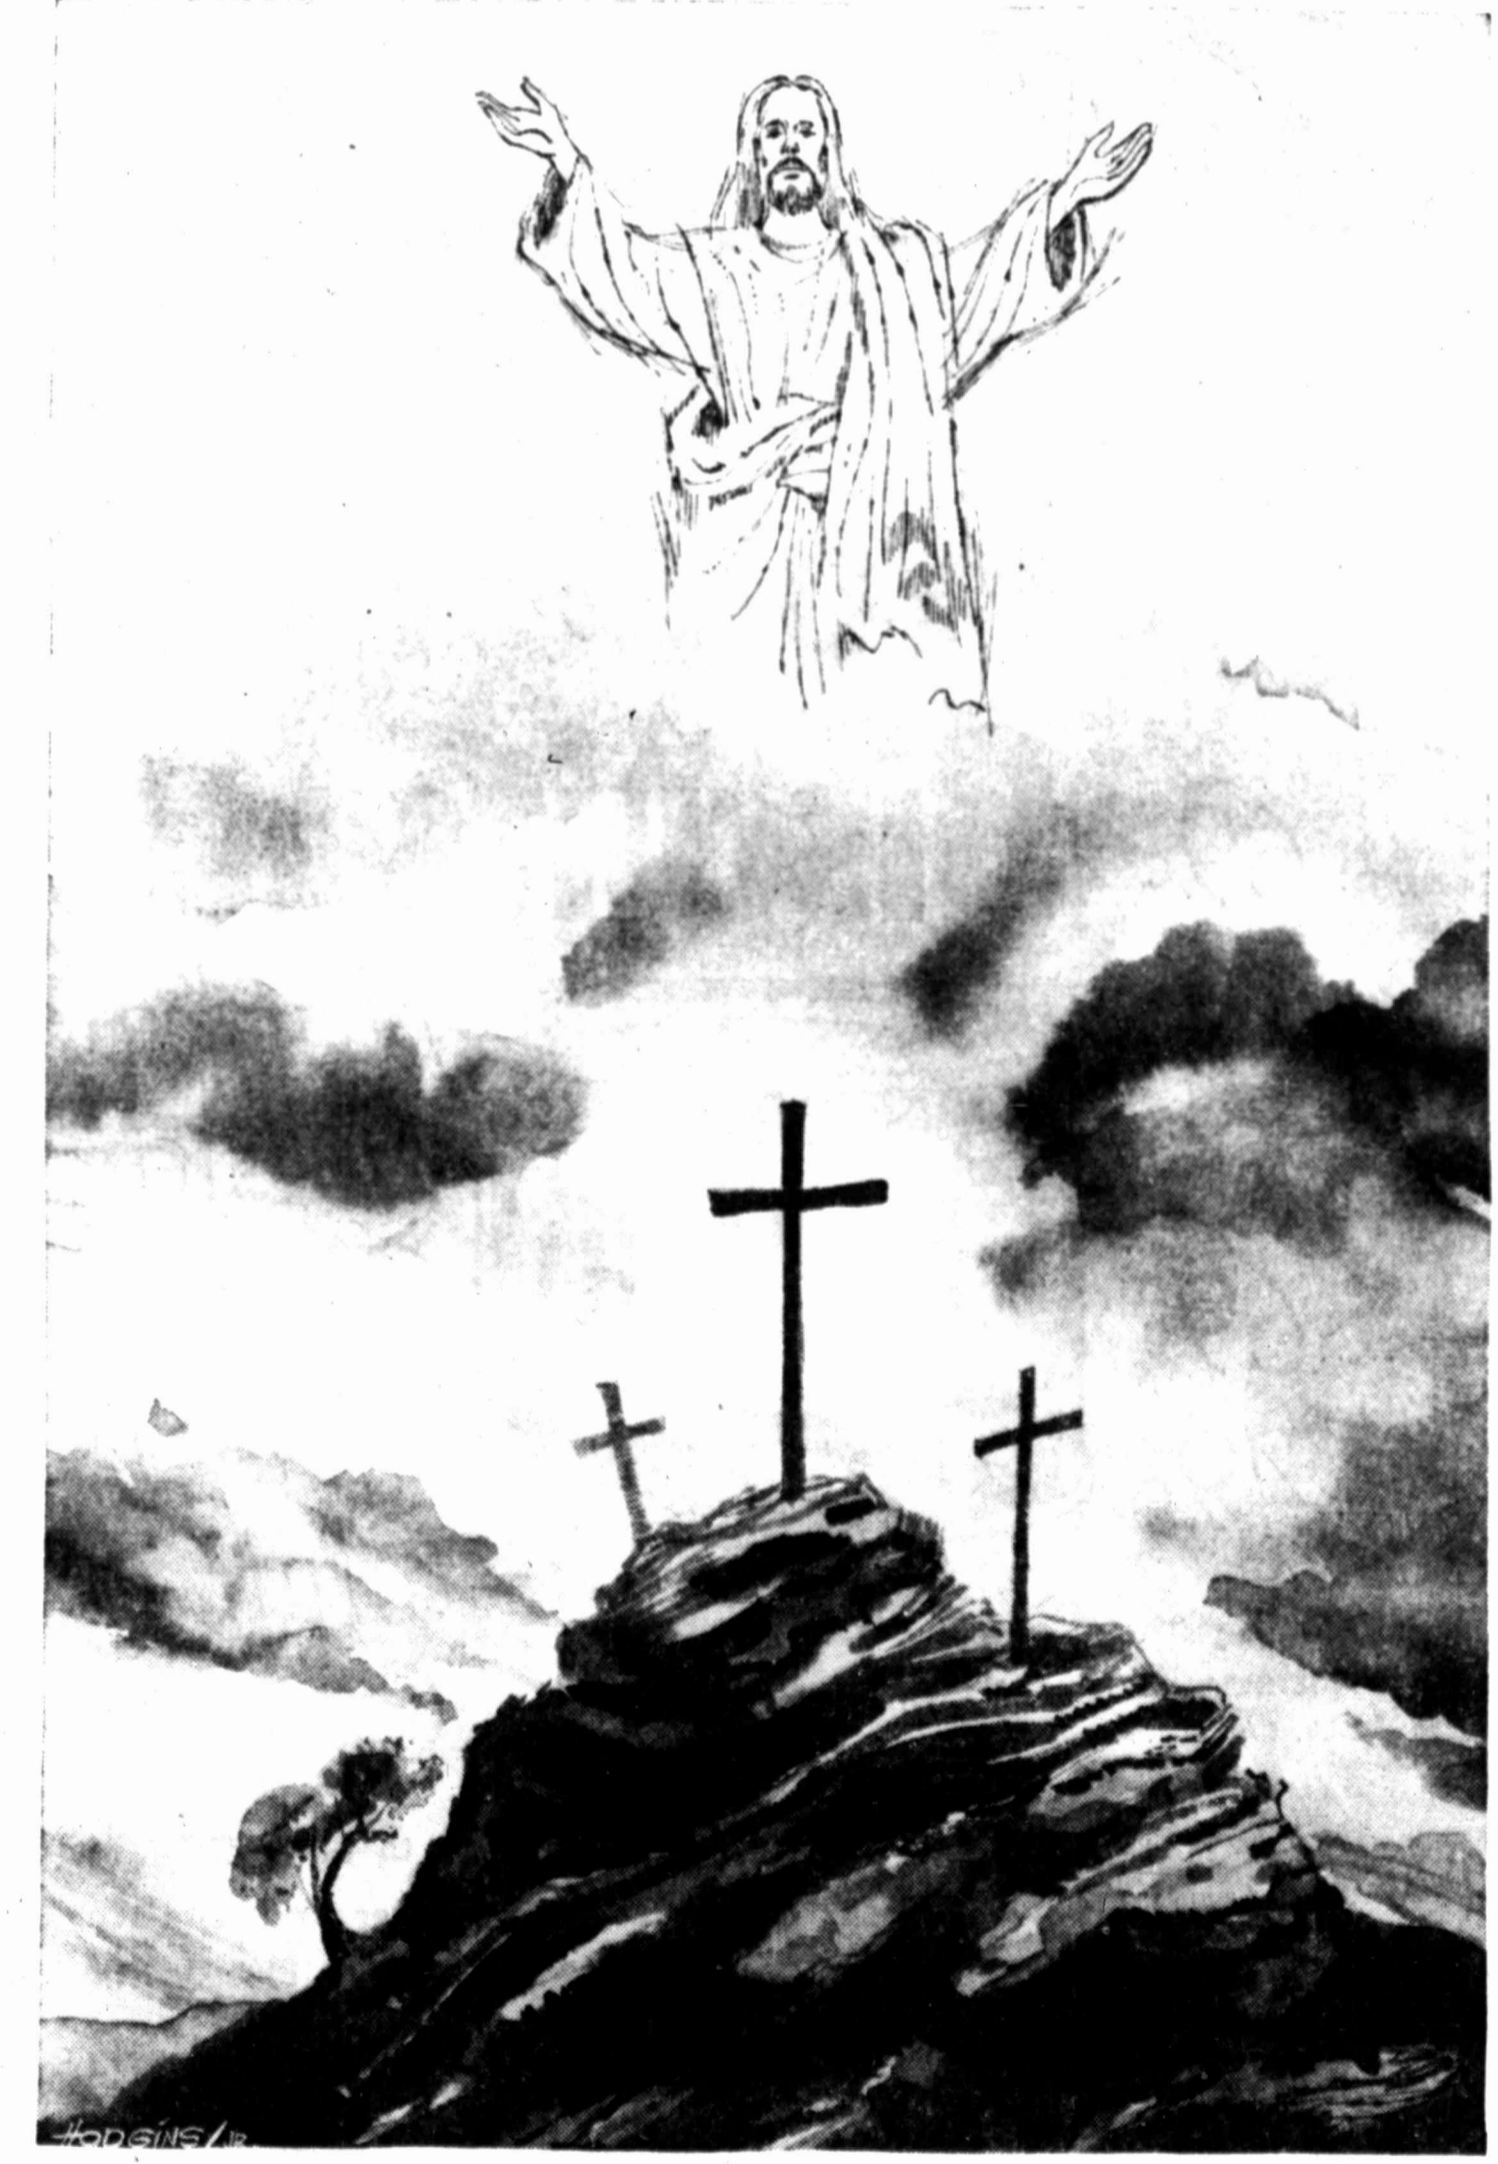

Man lives upon a planet estimated to be over four billion years of age, in an expanding universe 16 billion years old, which extends six billion light years and contains hundreds of millions of planets besides our earth.

In asking their questions about life after death in the light of these figures, these persons show different moods: despair, awe, defiance, mystery, anguish, indifference, humility, complacency.

More "thoughtful" persons within the frame of thought have been influenced by Scientific Humanism, which accepts no religious beliefs not proved by pragmatic, scientifically observed facts.

What can be proved by this method about life after death, they say, is thus far shown only in biological heritage, where a person's immortality is left in his children, and in social influence, where the impact of his life on earth leaves impressions which transcend his death. Thus for them, if life upon this planet were to be annihilated, "immortality" would be lost.

The attitudes of the persons who have given the Ingersoll

Lectures at Harvard University relative to the problem of life after death show the views of solid thinkers about man's continuity beyond the grave.

Harold DeWolf has analyzed the presuppositions of his arguments concerning immortality in 30 of these lectures (1896-1934), with the following among the conclusions from their views:

"Faith in immortality is in its last analysis faith in God. Immortality of man is based on three great postulates: the moral perfection of God, the reasonableness of the universe and the worth of human existence. A good God would not create in man the expectation and desire for immortality, only to deny the anticipated object. . . . Theirs is temper of our modern age is one of absolute skepticism about man's survival beyond the grave. There are other mature thinkers who would argue that the A survey of a few years ago showed that 33 per cent of our American scientists believe in immortality, 41 per cent are disbelievers and 26 per cent are unsure.

Perhaps somewhere in between the statements from the Ingersoll Lectures and those of American scientists the real pulse of the American people about human survival can be found.

Figures are lacking, however, to indicate to what degree Jesus' resurrection has affected contemporary man's belief regarding man's immortal nature, or to what degree man's belief or disbelief about human survival has stimulated his attitudes toward Jesus' resurrection.

The Meaning of The RESURRECTION

Joe Lopez Surrenders

Joe Lopez, 42, sought since Wednesday night in the death of Gloria Gomez, 32, surrendered to his attorney, Roger Brown, at 10 a.m. today. Brown brought the prisoner to the court house where he was transferred to the city jail, pending interrogation by the police.

The Gomez woman, who had filed a charge of aggravated assault against Lopez March 25 in connection with a beating she had received, was found dead in her small apartment Wednesday night. An autopsy indicated death had been caused by a massive hemorrhage in the brain.

Lopez had been able to evade arrest on the assault charge to that date. A complaint accusing him of murder with malice was filed Wednesday night by Dist. Atty. Gil Jones in the court of Walter Grice, justice of the peace.

Nothing further had been heard of the defendant until he showed up with Brown at the county jail. Brown said he had not discussed the case at great length with the defendant and did not know where he had been since March 25.

After he is returned to the county, bond will probably be sought.

Neutralists Under Heavy Red Attack

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Neutralist commander Gen. Kong Le reported today his army is under heavy attack by pro-Communist forces in the Plaine des Jarres after being driven out of the strategic town of Xieng Khouang. Red domination of northern Laos appeared to be a distinct possibility.

Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma told reporters the neutralist garrison at Xieng Khouang, 28 miles southeast of Plaine des Jarres, had been forced to evacuate the town, 110 miles northeast of here. Informed sources said the garrison retreated to the Plaine des Jarres, presumably to rejoin the bulk of Kong Le's forces. There was no information on casualties.

The town, a provincial capital, had been jointly held by neutralists and their former allies, the pro-Communist Pathet Lao. North Vietnamese troops were reported engaged in the fighting against Kong Le's troops.

Diplomatic circles in Vientiane considered the loss of Xieng Khouang a most serious breach of the cease-fire proclaimed last June.

The premier appealed earlier for intervention by the three-nation International Control Commission.

Prince Souvanna Phouma asked the control commission to station a truce team in the Plaine des Jarres. But his appeal was doomed by his half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, the Pathet Lao leader, who opposed it. Such a request must be backed by all three factions in the government-neutralists, pro-Communists and rightists.

Smog, Cigarette Smoke Play Hob With Lung Cells

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—Smog, the haze of cities, and cigarette smoke, the pleasure of millions, play havoc with human lung cells growing in test-tubes, a scientist finds.

Irritants in the smog make the lung cells grow and multiply about as fast as a known cancer-causing chemical does, says Dr. Charles M. Pomeroy of the Pasadena Calif. Foundation for Medical Research.

Lung cells exposed to cigarette smoke show far more breaks in their chromosomes, the carriers of heredity, than cells not exposed to the smoke, he told an American Cancer Society seminar for science writers. Many agents that break chromosomes, like X-rays or chemicals, are known to produce cancers.

This test-tube or tissue culture method of growing lung cells promises a good test to analyze proposed smog remedies. Dr. Pomeroy said. Comparisons can be made, for example, between samples of gas collected before or after going through a device designed to filter out automobile exhaust gases.

Dr. Pomeroy's team also has found the chromosomes in living lung cells can be damaged within half a minute by exposure to the smoke from a filtered cigarette, or a king-size cigarette, he said.

More studies concerning hazards of inhaled irritants or pollutants have been carried out with mice, rats or other animals far distant in relationship to man, the test-tube living cells from humans are only a step or so away from human cells living in their normal environment in the human body, he said.

Carpenter Is In Good Condition

Howard County State Representative Ed C. Carpenter, injured Friday night in a car accident near Llano, is in good condition at the Llano hospital, according to James Barr, his son-in-law. Barr said that the legislator is in considerable pain and will be in a cast for at least six weeks. It is believed he will have to stay that long in the Llano hospital.

He suffered injury to the vertebrae when his car plunged into a ditch as he sought to evade hitting a car ahead of him. His car did not overturn.

Carpenter is not paralyzed and will make complete recovery, doctors said, but the recovery will take a long time.

Monetary Structure To Be Studied

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., upon whom the national spotlight has beamed a number of times since he entered the House 34 years ago, bids fair to make some headlines again.

At least, he's sure to make a lot of headlines on the financial pages because, as the new chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, he has announced plans for what he says will be the most thorough scrutiny of the nation's monetary structure in 50 years.

The stocky, hard driving 69-year Patman, a World War I machine gun officer, gained distinction soon after he entered Congress as the author of the bonus act for veterans of World War I.

CHAIN STORES

And, long remembered as a leader of anti-trust and anti-monopoly legislative moves, he has sponsored for many years a bill to aid small independent merchants through taxation of chain stores by units in their system. He also has long sponsored a bill which would give the government more control over the Federal Reserve System.

In taking over the chairmanship of Banking and Currency as a result of the retirement of Rep. Brent Spence, Patman asked the House to provide his group with $530,000 to make investigations during the next two years. It got $180,000 for use for the remainder of this year, and was told to request funds again in 1964.

Debate in the House on Patman's request, a procedure through which all committees must go to get funds, brought out that his committee last year asked for only $5,000 for probes and actually spent just $400.

PRIVATE COST

"May I invite the attention of the members of the House to the fact that one private organization, the Commission on Money and Credit, recently completed a study of the nation's money and credit system," Patman said.

"This commission spent three years at the task and spent almost $2 million of private money. As this commission report points out, there has been no overall study of our money and credit system since the study of the Aldrich commission, made more than 50 years ago.

"The Commission on Money and Credit issued a report which makes at least 85 major recommendations for changes in the laws affecting the nation's financial institutions, public and private. Obviously, our committee cannot simply accept or reject these recommendations without itself looking into the factual situation which underlie them."

AROUND THE CAPITAL: The staff of Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., averages out as probably the youngest on Capitol Hill. No employee is over 40. The senator is 38, and the average is 30.

Rep. Omar Burleson, Democrat, Anson, has received hundreds of letters commending him for his role in tightening the reins over congressional travels. He is chairman of the House Administration Committee, which handles such matters.

A neighboring West Texas colleague, Rep. Clark Fisher, Democrat, San Angelo, has introduced a bill which would force congressional aides to work either here or in the boss' home district. This would hit at situations such as that involving Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D.N.Y., whose wife is on his payroll but lives in Puerto Rico.

Rep. Ray Roberts, Democrat, McKinney, has been named to a House Veterans Affairs Subcommittee which will study a growing problem as more and more World War II veterans reach the 60 and 70 year brackets.

"That's the question of intermediate care for those individuals who aren't ill enough to require a regular hospital bed, but do require too much attention to remain at home," Roberts said.

While the problem will become more defined as the study progresses, he said it undoubtedly will encompass the nursing home type of problem for the aged.

Who's He?

Just in case anyone doesn't know the man at the microphones, the seals in front and behind proclaim him to be The President of the United States—John F. Kennedy—shown during a news conference at which he answered a question about the currently rumored political struggle of Soviet Premier Khrushchev within the Kremlin.

LBJ Gives His Views

EDITOR'S NOTE—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson gives his views on world and domestic problems and discusses his own political situation in the following interview with Jack Bell and John Chadwick of the AP's Senate staff.

By JACK BELL and JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson regards his office as "neither a stepping stone nor a barrier" to winning election to the presidency. Johnson is not saying so, but evidence is accumulating that the No. 2 elective man in the government is pacing himself with prudent steps toward availability for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1968.

This presumes, of course, that he will be retained in second place on the ticket next year when President Kennedy will be running again and there is no existing evidence that he will not be. Johnson furnished an insight into his political stance, as well as his views on world and domestic problems, in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press.

SOME COMMENTS

Among other things, he said in response to questions:

—There is no "reckless desire" on the part of the Kennedy administration to get to the moon "at all costs" and without regard to other vital national interests.

—The Russians have taken on "a grave economic liability" in Cuba, which may give them second thoughts about continuing support of the Fidel Castro regime.

—The fight against communism in South Viet Nam is inching toward a "successful conclusion" that may be several years ahead.

—The "Free World" alliance will close its ranks, despite its natural differences and disagreements, if there is a new external threat.

Johnson was asked whether he thinks the odds are against the election of a vice president to the top job.

"Well," he replied, "ten, or approximately a third of the men who have been vice president have become president. It is difficult for me to answer your question directly without appearing to have a personal motive."

"Trying to be as objective as I possibly can, however, I would say that the vice presidency is neither a stepping stone nor a barrier to the presidency, although we heard a good deal in 1960 about the experience of the vice president, and how it equipped Mr. Nixon for the nomination and subsequently for what the Republicans anticipated would be the presidency.

STANDS READY

Since the President is "one of the most overburdened men in the world," Johnson said he stands ready to "perform any mission that he suggests or to comply with any request that he may make."

Johnson said, however, he does not attempt to act as a bridge between Congress and the White House on legislative matters unless he is invited to participate by the President and congressional leaders.

Johnson rejected a suggestion that he might want to change the constitutional requirement that he preside over the Senate because of the burden of other activities as a member of the Security Council, chairman of the Space Advisory Council, head of the Equal Employment Opportunities Committee and chairman of the Peace Corps Advisory Committee.

The vice president, who came to Congress when Texas was a fully segregated state, said he hasn't changed his fundamental view there should be equal opportunity afforded to the races.

"I have always believed in equality of opportunity, and I think that those beliefs are reflected in my actions over the years," he said.

DOESN'T AGREE

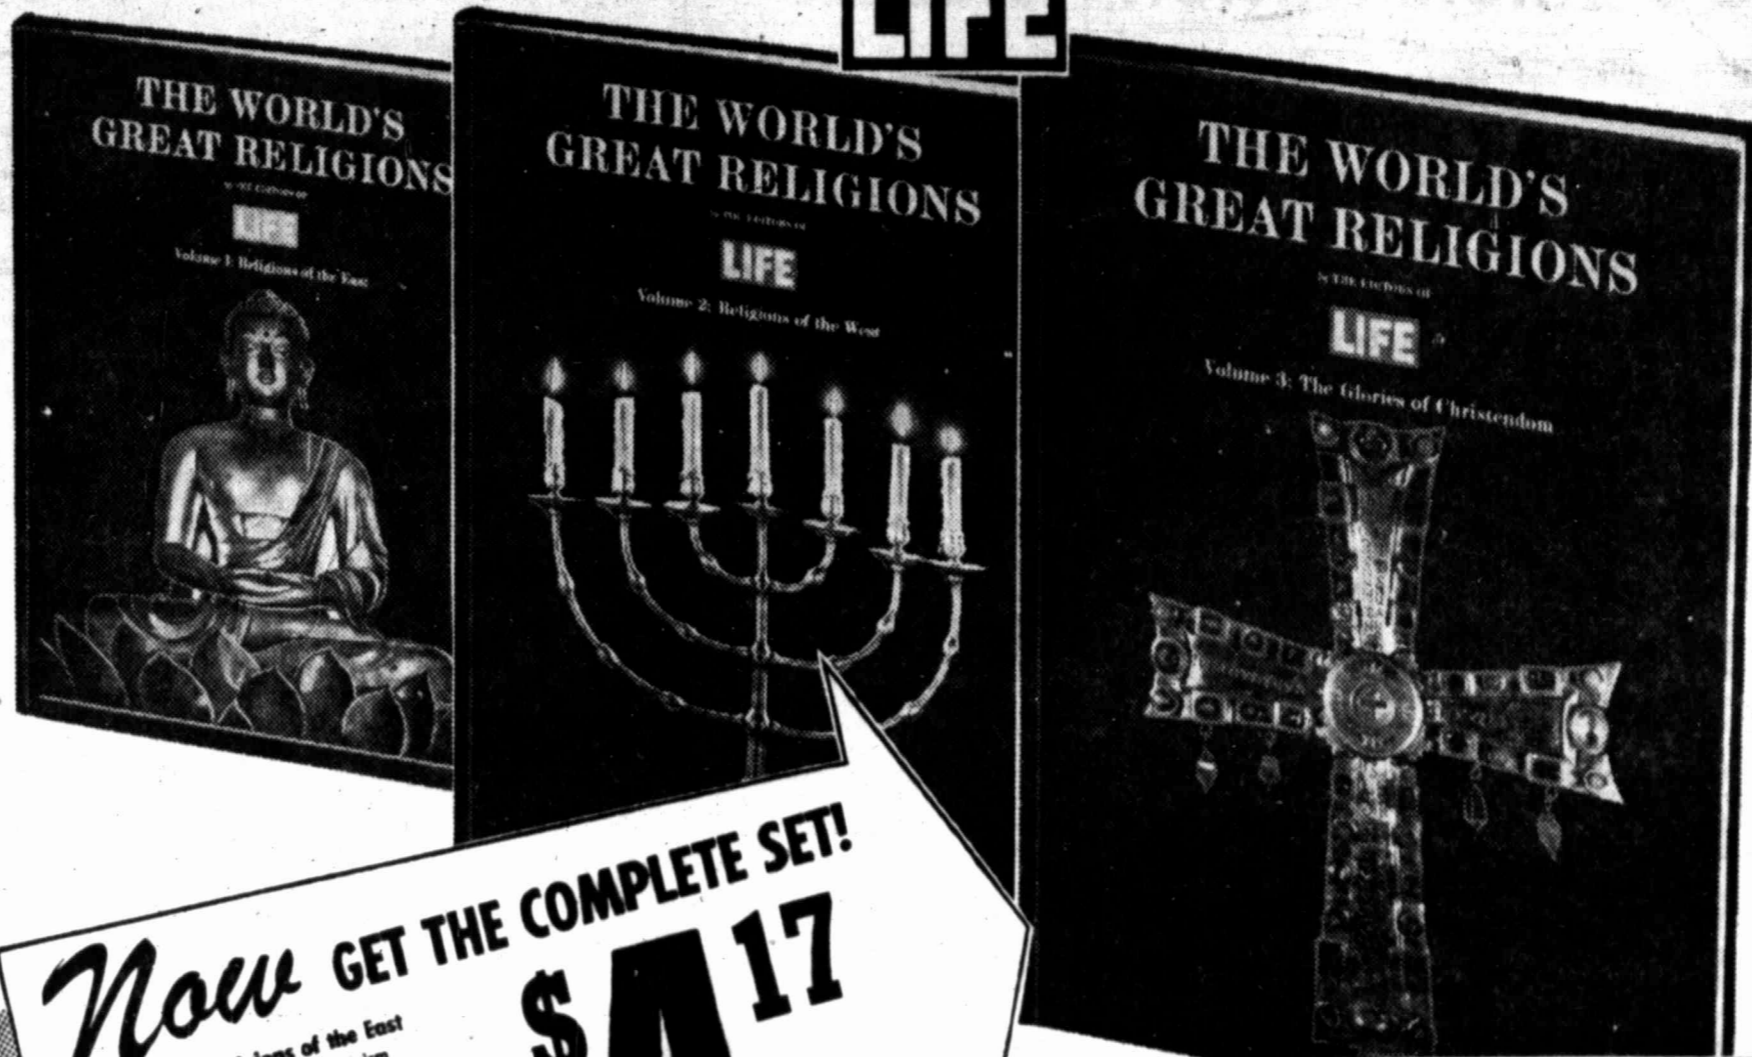

Johnson, who has taken congressional Republicans to task for criticizing Kennedy's foreign policy moves, said he doesn't agree with the philosophy of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, R-Ohio, that the business of the opposition is to oppose.

"Personally, I have never agreed with this philosophy," he said. "Under no circumstances do I think that any public official should be immune from criticism. But as an American I believe that when I criticize, I have a responsibility to try to be constructive, and to try to find a solution between varying points of view."

"I believe that the average American knows rather well when he hears criticism whether it is really constructive criticism or whether it is obstructive."

GIVES HIS OWN ANSWER

A correspondent asked me why Mark 16:16 did not say, "He that believeth is not baptised shall be damned?" Then he said it is because "God sent Jesus into the world to save it, not to let those who love him perish". I agree that God will not let those who love him perish; but the Bible says, "For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments" (1 Jno. 5:3).

I have no right to hold out a promise of salvation to the disobedient; when the Lord has not held it out. I would be giving him a false sense of security. I would be taking too much upon myself.

I can only assure a man he is saved when he meets the conditions. When Christ said, "He that believeth and is baptised shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned" (Mark 16:16), he laid down two conditions to salvation, and one condition to damnation. It is easier to be damned than to be saved.

Birmingham Police Dogs Break Up Race Demonstration

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Negro leaders have urged renewed desegregation efforts in this Deep South city where police dogs crushed violence during demonstrations Sunday.

At least 29 Negroes were arrested as police halted a prayer march led by the Rev. A. D. King, brother of integration leader Martin Luther King Jr.

More demonstrations were scheduled today. Blind singer Al Hibbler of "You'll Never Walk Alone" fame—"You'll Never Walk Alone"—volunteered to help in the desegregation effort.

Violence broke out when a knife-wielding Negro tried to slash a police dog.

The dog downed the man and a surging crowd of more than 200 Negroes moved to the man's rescue.

About 50 policemen and at least six other dogs jumped into the fray. The crowd broke and ran, with the dogs and patrolmen at its heels.

Police Commissioner Eugene (Bull) Connor shouted to newsmen: "Look at that dog go! That's what we train them for—to enforce the law."

The fracas was over within seconds. Six policemen held down the Negro who attacked the dog. He was among those arrested.

Twenty-three marchers led by Police Commissioner Eugene (Bull) Connor shouted to newsmen: "Look at that dog go! That's what we train them for—to enforce the law."

Attendance at a wiener roast held in City Park following the contest was held down by the dust storm which kicked up early in the afternoon. Each tribe held its own roast.

Kites ranged in length from about four inches to more than seven feet. Each was hand-made.

Winners among the first-year Indian Guilders were: most original, a tie between David Wright and Richard Harris; smallest kite, Mike Thomas; largest kite, Teton Tribe; highest flier, the Teton Tribe; and best-looking kite, Mark Sheedy.

Second year winners were: most original, Rickey Loening; smallest, Clint Boardman; largest, Blackfoot Tribe; highest flier, David Hagen; and best-looking, a three-way tie between Mark Sweeney, Ronnie Allen and Steve Flint.

City street crews began work this morning on new signs for the city's thoroughfares. Director of Public Works Bruce Dunn, said the first work started on Douglas, from Fourth to Dallas, and will move to Lancaster, Seventeenth, and to others as fast as possible.

The city commission approved a system of through streets, with controlled intersections, in March with directions to make the changes as fast as possible.

Speed limit signs are being changed by the Highway Department on Marcy Drive to conform to the commission's approval for speed zones.

In the program several streets will be named thoroughfares. The new program will reverse some controls now in use.

Pilfered Tank Startles Lovers

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A pilfered M48 tank clanked back and fourth in a city park for half an hour just before midnight, startling spooners no end.

Police played a futile game of tag with the 48-ton vehicle, taken from a National Guard armory close by. Finally it rumbled across a small creek. By the time officers detoured and caught up, the tank was abandoned.

King were arrested on charges of violating a city code which prohibits parading without a permit.

At least four others were arrested after the riot, mostly on charges of failure to move on the orders of a police officer.

Negroes were called for a mass meeting at a nearby church less than 30 minutes after the incident. "It may be you they put the dogs on next time," a minister shouted over a loudspeaker.

Record Vote Seen Today For Canada

TORONTO (AP)—Fine weather across Canada promised a record vote today in a national election which most analysts expect will make Lester B. Pearson, 65, the next prime minister.

"I think the tide has turned," the Liberal party leader said as he ended a campaign tour of more than 20,000 miles and returned to his Ottawa home to await tonight's tabulation of votes.

Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker, home in Saskatchewan after a "Give 'em Hell" tour that ran 26,000 miles, expressed confidence, too. But qualified observers, after soundings in all 10 provinces, concluded that only a major upset could save Diefenbaker's Conservative party from a drubbing.

Diefenbaker, 67, became prime minister in 1957, ending 22 years of Liberal rule. In 1958 he scored the greatest victory in Canadian history, but since then his popularity has been slipping. An indecisive election last June left the Conservatives in a minority in the House of Commons, and that led to today's election.

Preparations are already being made for an Easter Egg hunt and special Easter services are planned.

All day Thursday patients will take part in the Fashion Shop program, which this week is being extended to all patients at the hospital. The men will be able to select a tie to dress up their Easter outfits and women will do some free shopping at the "Hat Bar."

That evening, a special Maundy Thursday service will be conducted.

Friday, volunteers from Tri-Hi-Y clubs will dye 2,000 eggs for a hunt to be staged Saturday. The eggs will be hidden Saturday just before noon and at 2 p.m. the hunt will be on. All patients will turn out, with volunteers assisting wheelchair patients, in the park area in front of the hospital administration building.

That appraisal came from State Chairman Robert Denney of Fairbury after Rockefeller met with the committee Saturday afternoon. The things the New Yorker said, Denney commented, "definitely fit in with my definition of a conservative Republican."

Nebraska's conservative Republican segment is large and influential in state politics.

In the evening, Rockefeller got a standing welcome from a big dinner honoring Nebraska Sen. Roman Hruska. The response to his speech was polite but not particularly demonstrative, newsmen agreed. In it, Rockefeller pictured himself as a budget-balancing, fiscally conscious governor.

Earlier in a statement, Rockefeller said achievement of a more rapid rate of economic growth "is our nation's No. 1 domestic problem."

He called for a reduction in corporation taxes from 52 to 47 per cent and a $7.5 billion cut in personal income taxes, both effective next July 1.

More than 200 Big Springers do sales and customer relations work before the end of this week. Enrollment in the Frank A. Patterson Jr. and Associates Clinic which opens tonight now stands at about 150 and another 50 are expected to enroll at the start of the clinic.

The three-day course, to be held at the Senior High School auditorium from 7:30-9:30 p.m. each day, is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Patterson, of Phoenix, Ariz., arrived this morning to conduct the clinic. Local representative is Henry Dipple. Applications for the course are being taken by the Chamber.

Slated for tonight are such subjects as "how do star salesmen achieve success," "the selling approach" and "the sales presentation."

Other subjects to be taken up during the course include effective speaking, remembering names and learning how to get along with people. Each person attending will receive a booklet containing a resume of the entire clinic.

Operator has perforated the zone between 10,590-600 feet and has acidized with 500 gallons. Total load is 12 barrels of acid and 83 barrels of water.

Perforations between 10,630-631 feet were squeezed off with 200 sacks. The hole is bottomed at 12,290 feet and the project has been plugged back to 10,970 feet for tests. Location is C NW SW, section 3-38-18, T&P survey.

Amend Location

T. F. Hodge No. 3-C W. V. Roy has been amended to 330 feet from the north and 900 feet from the lines of section 13-4-5, H&GN survey. It was formerly located C NW NW of the section.

Commission To Hold Three Public Hearings

Three public hearings, including two on requests for on-premises consumption of beer and wine, and one on continuing paving project No. 3, will be held by the city commission at its 7 p.m. meeting Tuesday.

Sixteen other items are on the agenda, including a resolution authorizing City Manager Larry Crow to sign an application for a grant for construction of the Beals Branch trunk sewer line. The application will go through the State Health Department.

The requests for on-premises consumption of beer and wine are for the "Intrepid 2," at the northeast corner of Lamesa Drive and Northeast Seventh, and for Polly's Cafe, 203 N. Benton.

Paving project No. 3, included in a bid extension by Daniel Brothers Construction Co. will take in 31 blocks in addition to an equal number on which public hearings have been held. All the paving included for the public hearing is on the south side.

The request for a grant of funds for construction of the Beals Branch sewer line, included in the 1964 schedule under the Master Plan bond program, has resulted from the cost of construction being far above the original estimate and above funds allocated in the bond program. Bids were taken on the line, at the same time the sewer plant contract was let, but the commission rejected the bids as being too high.

The State Highway Department has submitted an agreement form for the commission's approval, for construction, maintenance and operation of a lighting system for the proposed new T&P overpass and approaches on Gregg.

Old John L. Would Have Had Apoplexy

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
PARIS (AP)—In the normal tradition of organized labor a strike's when a lot of employees go off the job, picket the place and stay out until all or some of their demands are met.

The French, with fine Gallic flair, regard a strike in a totally different light. This attitude prevails generally except for French coal miners, who act as if they've been studying American labor practice.

Strikes have been hitting France periodically for some months in varied fields of industry and endeavor. They are French-type strikes, however, and this may also be defined as public nuisance in gigantic proportions.

Take the metro (subway) workers. They call two-hour or four-hour strikes at surprise hours. People who are trying to get to work fume, walk, hitch rides or try to catch taxis. Everybody's temper gets a little thin.

But the metro strike is against the government and the people in government who matter don't ride the metro anyway. The brief loss in revenue can't be large. Some resigned Frenchmen sit out these strikes, muttering angrily, until the trains rumble through the tunnels again.

At the end of these strikes everybody goes cheerfully back to work. Only the people—who have nothing to say about metro wages in the first place—are inconvenienced.

The electrical workers do the same thing. They make surprise cuts in current. The gas workers lower pressure in the mains. Industry takes a temporary setback and housewives raise Cain because the vacuum doesn't work and the metros are gloomily silent again, for without power they black out.

In an hour or so it's all over and things are normal. The bus workers follow suit. Great masses of grumbling people are late to work, don't get to work at all, walk or hunt for taxis. But in a couple of hours the buses are roaring through the streets again.

If the primary objective is to let the government know they are not satisfied, the metro people, the utility workers and the bus crowd probably have a point. A lot of Parisians think this could be done better by committee. Then people could get to the office and the vacuums would work.

Railroad employes have turned traffic snarling into a high art. The passenger train people go out for two hours at the start of each shift. This is given added savor when the freight crews go out just as the passenger trains go into operation. Since collisions are both forbidden and damaging to the citizenry, the passenger trains have to wait until freight crews climb back into their cabins and clear the tracks.

This way the rail workers get double their value on a strike.

Vicky Unus, 18, a blue-eyed blonde, made her debut as a star aerialist in the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus in New York's Madison Square Garden and thereby made circus history. "She came direct from high school to the big show," said her father, Franz F. Unus, who also stars in the show. "It's never happened before."

Weekend Death Toll Reaches 37

A highway crash which killed five helped swell the toll of weekend violence in Texas to 37 fatalities, including 26 in traffic.

Three small children and their mother died in a second multiple tragedy.

The five men perished Sunday night in a head-on collision of a pickup truck and a car 20 miles northwest of Lubbock on U.S. 84. They were Neal Bean, 55, and Connie Rudd, 40, Sudan farmers riding in the pickup; and Davis Belcher, Henderson Pearson, 18, and James Wheeler, 17, all of Anton, among five Negroes in the car.

An El Paso mother, Mrs. Jean Adams, who would have been 40 Sunday, shot her three children to death Saturday night then took her own life, police said.

The children, Kathy Lee Shepard, 12, Mrs. Adams' daughter by a previous marriage; Elizabeth Adams, 4, and Mark Adams, 8, were shot in the heads while they slept. Police said Mrs. Adams then went to her own bed and shot herself in the head.

The bodies were discovered by another son, James M. Shepard, 18.

Other violence included: There was a flurry of gunfire and John Lopez, 18, dropped dead from a bullet in the back after three youths approached his car at a Plainview drive-in theater late Sunday night. Another boy and three girls with Lopez said the three fired and none could identify them.

Witnesses counted 10 shots but only one struck Lopez. He died clutching an old-fashioned straight razor in one hand.

Gaines Bickason, 22, of Joinerville, died Sunday in a one-car smashup at the edge of Henderson in East Texas.

Darrel Barns, 35, of Odessa, died early Sunday when a fire swept his home.

Wesley Neal Jr., about 38, of Corsicana, was killed Sunday when a train struck him as he was sitting on a trestle near Corsicana.

Coyless Welborn Sims, 50, of Houston was killed Sunday when his car veered off Texas 7 and struck a tree seven miles east of Nacogdoches. Sims was alone.

T. J. Johnson, 26, died in Victoria Sunday 12 hours after he was injured in a two-car accident at a Victoria intersection. His wife, Betty, 21, was critically injured.

John A. Lewis, 50, a Houston service station operator, died Sunday, apparently of carbon monoxide poisoning, a medical examiner said. Lewis was found slumped over the front seat of a car parked at his station.

DEAR ABBY: My son, 18, asked for permission to smoke. He is a senior at high school. I think smoking is a bad habit, but gave him permission to smoke at home in his room—but not at school. Since September he has been caught three times smoking at school, so I had to give him permission to smoke at school so "disobedience of school authorities" would not appear on his school record and spoil his chances of getting into a good college. Please print this with your comment because other parents don't know what to do about this problem either.

NEW HAVEN: DEAR NEW HAVEN: You gave your son "permission" to acquire a bad habit—and now you complain because he has acquired it! Don't blame the boy, the fault is clearly yours.

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of a certain woman who works in an office mostly frequented by men. She has a spaghetti strap dress for every day in the week. She wears scoop neck dresses in winter and summer and believe me, the scoop is scooped out so low you would think you were in a night club. All her shoes are high-heeled sandals with no backs. When she answers the telephone she takes off her left earring and clips it on the top of her stocking. Please print what you would do with such a woman in YOUR office.

OBSERVER: DEAR OBSERVER: She wouldn't last long in MY office. But if she's holding down a job in the one she's in, she either has something on the ball—or the boss!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I had a discussion about that woman who complained because her husband never said, "I love you." I told him that letter could have been written by me. He said I was silly to feel that way, that he loved me and shouldn't have to tell me. He said all husbands get like that after ten or more years of marriage. He suggested I take a survey of all my married friends. I would like to start with you, Abby. When was the last time YOUR husband said, "I love you"?

TAKING A SURVEY: DEAR TAKING: This morning, DEAR ABBY: This is in answer to the woman who waited 27 years for her husband to buy her a wedding ring. Instead of HER buying one for HIM, and hoping he'd take the hint, she should have bought one for herself. It's done every day. Plenty of women buy wedding rings for themselves, and I'm glad they do.

JEWELER'S WIFE: What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Austerity's Still The Word In Ohio Under Gov. Rhodes

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Austerity hit Ohio the day Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes took office. It still is in vogue nearly three months later. Its reverberations have echoed far beyond the borders of the Buckeye State.

Rhodes, who was state auditor for 10 years and before that Columbus mayor and city auditor, terms drastic economy the only way to balance his operating budget without new taxes.

What's more, he says it is the best way to pay off an $80-million deficit inherited from his Democratic predecessor, Michael V. DiSalle, and cut a monthly spending rate of $5 million more than revenues.

Rhodes, 53, calls his efforts "a return to fiscal responsibility in the statehouse."

Critics call it other things—among them government by meat ax.

Rhodes' economies have slashed payrolls, poor relief subsidies and spending more quickly and deeply than many expected. The stir created in Ohio by his austerity drive is attracting attention elsewhere.

The governor practices frugality but is a soft touch when it comes to home life with his wife, Helen, a childhood sweetheart, and their three teen-age daughters.

His Ohio coal miner father died when Rhodes was 8. The youngster helped his widowed mother and two sisters but later was able to attend Ohio State University briefly.

He turned to politics, maintained an interest in sports—serving two terms as Amateur Athletic Union president—and co-authored several books. They included, "The Trial of Mary Todd Lincoln," "Johnny Shiloh," "The Ohio Teen-Age Hall of Fame," and "The Court-Martial of Commodore Perry."

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Monday, April 8, 1963

When DiSalle left the governor's office, he took his personally purchased rug and drapes to his new law office here. Rhodes simply ordered the black and white marble floor polished and moved in. He calls it "the echo chamber."

Rhodes, a 6-foot, 190-pounder, often works in shirt sleeves, puffing a pipe or cigar. He professes a liking for people, politics, hard work, golf and all varieties of cheese.

His stand against new or increased taxes marks the greatest contrast with the four-year administration of DiSalle, who had been President Truman's federal price controller and former Toledo mayor. DiSalle pushed through a tax increase of nearly one-third of a billion dollars in the Democratic-controlled 1959 Ohio General Assembly at the start of his term.

Goldwater Lists Cuban Strategy Views

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater says he favors an economic blockade of Cuba, U.S. support of Cuban exile attacks and—as a last resort—an invasion sponsored by the United States and the Organization of American States.

"We should not do it unilaterally," the Arizona Republican said Sunday in a taped radio-television interview. "It should be a multilateral effort, but I think we can accomplish it without our having to commit our own troops."

Goldwater said of Kennedy administration estimates that Cuban raids on Soviet ships are ineffective: "Well, I don't know, I think they killed a few Russians the other day."

Goldwater scored as "cry-babies" those in Washington "who say anything we do against Cuba will result in a nuclear holocaust."

"It will not," he said. "Russia is not going to risk losing her world empire over a tiny island in the Caribbean."

In Miami, Cuban rebel sources said intensified U.S. and British efforts to halt their commando activities had dealt a crippling blow to their movement to rid Cuba of communism.

The State Department denied a Florida report that this country is working to resume diplomatic relations with the Castro regime. A spokesman said the report "is just not correct."

Next Grand Jury Session Scheduled

The Howard County grand jury will be convened April 29, it was announced today by Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court. Gil Jones, district attorney, said that the grand jury will be asked to consider between 25 and 30 cases, including two complaints charging murder with malice.

This is the second session of the grand jury for the current term of district court. This is the "long" term and it is the custom to call the grand jury at least two times during the interval.

The murder cases which are to be placed before the jury are complaints against George Ives, charged with the gun death of Lorna Doyle O'Neal, 32, March 31; and against Joe Lopez, accused in the death of Gloria Gomez, April 2.

Wilson Set Off Remarkable Period Of Congress Activity

By LARRY OSIUS
WASHINGTON (AP)—There, 50 years ago today, stood Woodrow Wilson, the lean, lantern-jawed college professor turned president, urging Congress to get started on his "New Freedom" program. Not since John Adams in 1797 had an American president addressed Congress.

Wilson took barely 10 minutes to sketch his tariff reduction proposals. But that speech—touched off 567 legislative days that have left their mark on the nation.

Among the 63rd Congress' landmarks: the first major lowering of the tariff wall in 50 years and the graduated income tax; creation of the Federal Reserve banking system; the Clayton anti-trust act; establishment of the Federal Trade Commission.

In scope the program was matched only by the pulsating "hundred days" of Franklin D. Roosevelt's first months in office. Wilson didn't originate the programs. They had been building for more than a decade, their roots running deep in such soil as Populism, the Progressive movement and the crusading sector of the press. They reflected the rising unrest of those who felt the American dream was more than boom and bust, privileged monopoly and social evil.

Although the Democrats controlled Congress in 1913, Wilson like President Kennedy today, faced the problem of a majority party deeply divided on many fundamental issues.

Wilson was able to call on a wellspring of public support for the restoration program he presented. He also benefited from a mild Senate revolt.

The day after his inauguration, so-called Wilson Democrats captured control of the party's Senate caucus and set about to weaken the seniority system which would have placed many committees in the hands of conservative Democrats unfriendly to the Wilson program.

In a few short days, the Wilson Democrats—Split the Finance Committee in two and arranged that both new committees would have enough members favorable generally to Wilson's programs to ensure passage.

Denied Pitchfork Ben Tillman, 65, the chairmanship of the Appropriations Committee, to which he was entitled by seniority, on grounds that he was too old and too ailing to do the job justice.

Adopted as party policy the right of committees to choose their own chairmen, regardless of seniority.

Elected John Worth Kern, an Indiana Democrat with only two years seniority, majority floor leader.

SHORT REVOLT
The revolt was short-lived. Kern was defeated in 1916 and the Senate went back to its old ways. It hasn't strayed far since.

Wilson didn't doubt that his was the national voice even though he had won little more than 40 per cent of the popular vote in 1912.

He set about immediately to present his program and see it through to victory, using every weapon he could find—persuasion, pressure or patronage.

When protectionists launched a major campaign against tariff cuts, Wilson took the offensive through the press conferences he had inaugurated shortly after taking office.

In later years Wilson was to run into a new group of powerful Republican senators, led by Henry Cabot Lodge, who defeated him in an epic attempt to lead the United States into the League of Nations.

But most of his problems with his first Congress were with his own party, and could be more easily solved.

CASE IN POINT
The Federal Reserve bill was a case in point. Southern and Western Democrats, representing debt-ridden small farmers, wanted easy credit through a government-owned bank. More conservative Democrats sought an elastic but sound currency through a bankers' bank similar to the federally chartered, privately owned National Bank of the early 19th Century.

The cleavage threatened passage of any bill in the House. Wilson stepped in with the compromise that has lasted essentially to this day—a Federal Reserve Board to regulate currency, appointed by the President, confirmed by the Senate, but operating independently of executive control.

Wilson claimed no credit for his major legislative achievements. The tariff and currency measures won, he said, "because the people demanded them and Congress knew it."

But as another student of government, James MacGregor Burns wrote in his recent book, "The Deadlock of Democracy," Wilson's "management of Congress during

Students Die As Parts Of Building Fall

MOUNT PLEASANT, Mich. (AP)—"We screamed for them to get out of the way—and they tried to—the two boys and the girl—but it was just too late. The cornice stone and the bricks and the marquee—they all fell on top of them."

Malcolm Filson, a chemistry professor at Central Michigan University, was one of hundreds of persons who watched helplessly as tragedy struck this quiet college town Sunday.

"We were all out watching the fire in the stores across the street from the campus," Filson said.

The students were standing with about a dozen other young people on the sidewalk in front of the University Plaza, a block-long business building directly across from the CMU campus, police said.

The fire, which started in a grill at the north end of the block, was spreading to adjoining business places when an explosion shook the building, ripping off the cornice on the south end.

Killed were Robert A. Powers, 20, Marshall, Mich.; Cherrie Lou Anderson, 19, Cheboygan, Mich.; and Matthew Taychachayawongse, 22, an exchange student from Bangkok, Thailand, who had just been elected by his fellow students to the CMU student government.

Twelve other persons were injured—eight of them seriously enough to be hospitalized. One was William Powers, 19, brother of Robert.

Some 100 firemen battled the blaze for more than two hours before bringing it under control. Damages were estimated at $275,000.

But most of his problems with his first Congress were with his own party, and could be more easily solved.

CASE IN POINT
The Federal Reserve bill was a case in point. Southern and Western Democrats, representing debt-ridden small farmers, wanted easy credit through a government-owned bank. More conservative Democrats sought an elastic but sound currency through a bankers' bank similar to the federally chartered, privately owned National Bank of the early 19th Century.

The cleavage threatened passage of any bill in the House. Wilson stepped in with the compromise that has lasted essentially to this day—a Federal Reserve Board to regulate currency, appointed by the President, confirmed by the Senate, but operating independently of executive control.

Wilson claimed no credit for his major legislative achievements. The tariff and currency measures won, he said, "because the people demanded them and Congress knew it."

But as another student of government, James MacGregor Burns wrote in his recent book, "The Deadlock of Democracy," Wilson's "management of Congress during

John T. Teenagers Arrested At Drag Race Scene

Sixteen youngsters entered guilty pleas to charges of unlawful assembly; nine others posted $200 bonds on the same charges and two, identified by officers as young teenagers, were released, as aftermath to a raid by Highway Patrolmen Jimmy Parks and Jack White on an alleged "drag race" scene Friday night.

The officers said the defendants in the case and their cars were assembled on the road known as "Rockhouse Road," about 1 1/2 miles south of Big Spring and just west of the Old San Angelo Highway.

The patrol cars approached the collection of cars and people from two directions bottling the group in the area. On an earlier date, the officers had attempted to reach the scene but the gathering scattered before the patrolmen reached them.

The patrolmen took the defendants before Judge Jess Slaughter at 11:30 p.m. Friday. The charges of assembly to commit an unlawful act makes it an offense to even witness such a planned act, Slaughter pointed out. Drag racing on a public road is an offense.

Patrolmen said they found some beer and other liquor at the scene and that one person was intoxicated.

Fines of $1 and costs—a total of $16.50—were assessed against those who pleaded guilty. Slaughter said that some of the defendants had already paid off and that others were doing so Monday.

All of those who pleaded not guilty and had bonds set at $200 posted bail and were released.

The patrolmen said they had been having many reports of offenses of this type. They said that people living on some of the roads selected by the youngsters for the races had complained they could not get on the road because of the racing and because of the congestion.

The patrol said it intended to press for the arrests of offenders in future cases.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—More than a million news-hungry readers in Greater Cleveland saw their daily newspapers today for the first time in 130 days.

A multiple union strike had kept the Plain Dealer and the Press & News off newsstands and home door steps since Nov. 29.

Another 3,212 Take Type III Vaccine

Volunteer workers at the make-up clinic for Type III Sabin Oral Polio vaccine were kept busy Sunday as 3,212 persons took the vaccine to bring the campaign to an end.

A total of 22,692 persons, representing 54.9 per cent of the population of Howard and Glasscock counties, according to the official 1960 census, took the vaccine during the final clinic and make-up.

This is the lowest percentage recorded for any of the clinics.

"We expected the number to drop off, but we feel the clinic has been a success," Dr. J. M. Woodall, medical director, said.

A total of 26,091 persons, or 63.2 per cent of the population of the two-county area, took Type I vaccine and 26,495, or 64.4 per cent, received Type II vaccine.

Although percentages of 75 per cent and upwards are desired to achieve almost total protection, the local figures are considered satisfactory. Dr. Woodall, however, urged persons who have missed any or all of the immunizations to get them from their family physicians.

He especially thanked Parent-Teacher groups and other volunteers who manned the posts at the three clinics and make-up sessions.

"Without them the drive could not have been conducted and they deserve credit for its success," he said.

The program was sponsored by the Jaycees in conjunction with the Permian Basin Medical Society. Dr. B. Broadrick was chairman of the program and Wayne Gound headed the pharmacists section. Mrs. Fred Hyer was chairman of the nurses.

Figures were not available today on contributions at the make-up clinic, but the previous total was $14,191.93, well above expenses. A contribution was not required to take the vaccine, but sponsors were asking 25 cents per dose donation to compensate for expenses. Any excess is earmarked for the Howard County Rehabilitation (Crippled Children) Center.

Expenses will not be known for about another week, John Currie, who heads the group handling finances for the drive, said today. They depend on spoils of vaccine, amount used and the quantity which can be returned to the distributor. He estimated $2,500-$3,000 will be available for donation to the rehabilitation center.

New Major League Play Opens Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Four new managers, four dozen new players, and a new strike zone help bring in the new major league season today.

As has been the custom for some time, Washington in the American League and Cincinnati in the National got a 24-hour jump on the other clubs with games today. The Baltimore Orioles were the Senators' rivals in the nation's capital while the Pittsburgh Pirates were the Reds' opponents at Crosley Field.

BEGIN TUESDAY
The other clubs will launch their pennant drives Tuesday. President Kennedy had his right arm cracked up for the traditional first toss at Washington's D.C. Stadium. Thereafter the pitching was to be in the hands of left-handers Don Rudolph (8-10) of the Senators and Steve Barber (9-6) of the Orioles. Some 47,000 spectators were expected.

Another capacity crowd, some 30,000 fans, was assured for the Cincinnati opener. Southpaw Jim O'Toole (16-13) of the Reds and right-hander Earl Francis (9-8) of the Pirates were the scheduled hurlers.

In the Tuesday National League opener, the San Francisco Giants will be starting the defense of their National League crown in Houston. Los Angeles will play the Cubs in Chicago, Milwaukee will meet the Pirates in Pittsburgh and the Reds will help the Phillies begin the season in Philadelphia.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart
One of the trainers conditioning horses at Sunland Park this season is Hugh Jackson, a part-time resident of Borger and the father of Mrs. Bill Gibson of Big Spring. Jackson's three-year-old colt, Bernie K, won a Sunland Derby triumph recently.

Carrying 111 pounds, Bernie K went the mile and 1/16 Sunday in the $7,500 Sunland Derby, with B. Harmon in the irons.

A retired oil field worker, Jackson trains more for a hobby than anything else. He brought the player Superb Idea, back to the track in good condition after an extended layoff necessitated by injury. The gelding, after having been operated on at Fort Collins, Colo., has been second twice in recent starts.

Jackson registered one of the horses in his daughter's name.

One of Hugh's most rapid rooters is Arnold Gibson, 17-year-old son of the Big Spring Gibsons who takes lessons in the art of training horses from his grandfather whenever he can. Arnold now aspires to study veterinary medicine and work with animals.

One of the District 2 AAAA football players who will appear in the annual North-South All-Star football game at Houston in August is Bob Stanley, the Midland High guard who is bound for the University of Texas.

Stanley, who weighs 190 pounds and stands 6-foot-2, was named to the all-district team last fall and local coaches unanimously agreed he richly deserved the honor.

Midland High had a player in the game two years ago, when Knox Nunnally made the list.

Big Spring's Charley Johnson and the St. Louis Cardinals will get to show their wares in Chicago Aug. 31 in an exhibition football game against George Halas' Chicago Bears.

The game is noteworthy because (1) Johnson will be trying to get a football's best defensive teams and (2) Halas is the patriarch responsible for getting the Cardinals to move from Chicago to St. Louis.

The teams last met in 1959 and the Bears won, 31-7. The Cards offered no threat to the Bears as a gate attraction in Chicago, but he couldn't work out a television arrangement to his satisfaction as long as another pro team was based in Chicago, so Halas reportedly anted up more than a little loot to help hustle the Cardinals out of Chicago.

Incidentally, the official NFL records for 1962 were released by commissioner Pete Rozelle's office recently and they confirmed the fact that Johnson was the 13th leading passer in the league. Charley completed 150 of 308 aerials for 2,440 yards in gains, including 16 touchdowns. His longest bomb went for 86 yards and a touchdown (on Sonny Randle) and most local football buffs were able to catch it on TV.

Johnson also picked up 138 yards net rushing on 25 carries, ranking ahead of such illustrious individuals in that department as Johnny Unitas, Tommy Tracy and Bart Starr, to name a few.

On three occasions, Johnson rambled in for touchdowns. He scored one seventh of the TD's the Cards collected rushing the ball and was on the throwing end of all but two the Red Birds got through the air.

Bert Gravitt, the Denver City grid star who appeared here in a playoff game a couple of years ago, reportedly is no longer in the University of Oklahoma. His brother, Bill, departed the Nor-campus some time ago.

The Cubs in Chicago, Milwaukee will meet the Pirates in Pittsburgh and the Reds will help the Phillies begin the season in Philadelphia.

AFTERNOON
All games will be played in the afternoon except for the night opener in Philadelphia.

A night opener also has been scheduled in the American League Tuesday with the Boston Red Sox engaging the Angels under the lights in Los Angeles. The New York Yankees will start proceedings against the Athletics in Kansas City, the Chicago White Sox play the Tigers in Detroit, and the Twins will be host to the Cleveland Indians in Minnesota.

Washington and Baltimore will be idle Tuesday.

The Yankees open a powerful 1-to-3 favorite to register their third straight American League pennant. A three-team battle involving the Giants, Dodgers and Reds has been predicted in the National.

SPICE
Off-season trades, of which there were a record number, were expected to spice the pennant races. All clubs except the Twins, who finished second last year, participated.

The Yankees open with Joe Peppone at first base after having traded Bill Skowron to the Dodgers.

Nashville 10 Clips Wayland
ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Nashville Business College of Tennessee owns its second straight women's national AAU basketball championship, and its fifth since 1959.

Nashville defeated Wayland College of Texas 45-41 in the national tournament finals Saturday night. The two teams have met in the finals for six straight years.

TWO MORE DIE
Pennsylvania Panel Probes Ring Deaths

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, under orders by the governor to investigate the ring death of a 19-year-old boxer Saturday night summoned today several officials to give their version in the opening of a formal inquiry.

In the wake of the death of Francisco Velasquez shortly after he was knocked out during the amateur benefit bout in nearby Carbondale, it was expected there would be new demands to outlaw boxing in the state. A bill already has been introduced in the state Senate to outlaw the sport.

Velasquez, of Laquillo, Puerto Rico, who was stationed with the Army at the nearby Tobyhanna Depot, was knocked out in the second round of a scheduled three-round middleweight bout. His was the fifth ring death this year and the second which occurred Saturday night. A similar tragedy occurred in Gypsey, Australia.

Dr. Paul E. Kubasko, Luckawanna County coroner, said an autopsy showed Velasquez' death was caused by a massive intracranial hemorrhage and that the hemorrhage resulted from multiple contusions of the brain.

Kubasko said the autopsy showed no previous brain damage. Authorities said Velasquez was a veteran of 22 amateur fights and appeared to be in excellent physical condition for the bout against 17-year-old Earl Johnson of the St. Michael's High School for Boys in nearby Hoban Heights.

Velasquez never regained consciousness and died about 15 minutes after the fight.

Killed Saturday night in the professional fight in Gypsey was Norman Smith, 26. The fight was stopped at the end of the second round and Smith was carried unconscious from the ring.

Scotch Foursome Draws Good Field
Weldon Bryant and Jodie Sabato won low gross, and Son Powell and Edith Ramsey captured low net in Scotch foursome play at the Big Spring Country Club Sunday afternoon.

Dr. J. E. Hogan and Betty Jones finished second for low gross, and runners up for low net were Max Milam and Mickie Marcum. The perseverance award was won by Pat Patterson and Lucile Boykin. Fourteen teams took part in the play.

Ortiz Looks Over Kenny Lane Bout
SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP)—Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz, who turned back the Sunday night challenge of Cuban Doug Vaillant with the greatest ease, looked to his next title defense today—and he looked over, around and right past No. 1 contender Kenny Lane.

Ortiz barely worked up a sweat before 18,000 hometown fans as he disposed of Vaillant, who now fights out of Miami, Fla., on a technical knockout in 49 seconds of the 13th round.

It was his second defense of the 135-pound crown. Ortiz was guaranteed $50,000, Vaillant $45,000. The crowd paid about $110,000.

Bill Daly, Ortiz' advisor, flew into a dressing room rage when reminded after the fight that the World Boxing Association had given the champion until June 2 to defend against Lane, a southpaw from Muskegon, Mich.

AUSTIN (AP)—Fred Hansen went to Rice because he was a top football prospect and also because he was a pole vaulter. He played freshman football but decided to give up this sport in favor of track.

The Texas Relays were happy that he did. Hansen gave the field track and field carnival its first 16-foot vault Saturday.

Baltimore, which may have made the most judicious trades of all clubs, starts newcomers Luis Aparicio at shortstop, Al Smith in right field, Dick Brown and John Orsino behind the plate. Joe Gaines in the outfield and Pete Burnside and Stu Miller on the mound. The Orioles also have a trip of outstanding rookie pitchers in Jim McNally, Bill Miller and Steve Dalkowski.

Of the four new managers, two will be managing in the majors for the first time. They are Johnny Pesky at Boston and Ed Lopat at Kansas City. Bobby Bragan, Milwaukee's new pilot has managed at Pittsburgh and Cleveland. Birdie Tebbets, the Indians' new skipper, has had tenures at Cincinnati and Milwaukee.

Thwarted in previous efforts to break into the win column, the Big Spring Steers were to seek to sample victory in their meeting with Permian's Panthers of Odessa here at 4 p.m. today.

The game was called off Saturday when a fresh batch of clouds moved in on the heels of two days of showers. As it turned out, the sun broke through and it would have been an ideal day. However, at the time the game was called off, it looked like another trash-out was about to take place.

This will be a busy week for the Steers.

A regularly scheduled game is set for Tuesday in Midland, and then Abilene will come here on Thursday. The Abilene game was scheduled originally for Saturday, but it was advanced by agreement to avoid conflict with the Easter holidays.

Coach Roy Baird was to start his mound ace Jack Boden, this afternoon. While unearned runs have cost him dearly in some tight games, he has been one of the most effective chankers in the league.

Other starters were due to be Charley West, catcher, Jeff Brown, first base, Bill Andrews, second base, Roy New, third base, Baxter Moore, shortstop, Eric Nichols or Rick Peters, left field, Ricky Wisener, center field, Buster Barnes, rightfield.

Roy New is due to get the nod Tuesday as the starting pitcher. Baird has reached no decision on his starter on Thursday.

Tennis Meet Begins Today
HOUSTON (AP)—College players figure to dominate play today when 64 contestants meet in two qualifying rounds in the 29th annual River Oaks Tennis Tournament.

Their numbers were to be whittled to 16 for daily rounds beginning Tuesday against 16 players exempt from the qualifying.

Six of the world's eight top-ranked amateurs are among the 16 exempt players and the field is regarded as the most impressive in the history of the meet.

Roy Emerson of Australia, the top amateur netter in the world, has been installed as favorite and is followed closely by Manuel Santana of Spain, second-ranked world amateur and second-seeded in the tournament. Santana defeated Emerson Sunday in the finals of the Masters Tournament at St. Petersburg.

Chuck McKinley, ranked No. 1 in the United States, has been given the No. 3 seed, and Rafael Osuna, University of Southern California student and member of Mexico's Davis Cup team, is seeded fourth.

Emerson, McKinley, Santana and Osuna are the top-ranked stars of their countries and 13 of the exempt performers are current or former Davis Cup team members from the United States, Australia, Spain, Mexico and Great Britain.

DIST. TRACK MEET TUESDAY
The District 6-A track meet, scheduled here for last weekend, will be held instead on Tuesday.

Preliminaries will start at 10 a.m. at Memorial Stadium track, and the finals are scheduled for 2 p.m. The meet was slated originally for Friday and Saturday, but rain made the track too heavy. A make-up date was then pegged for Wednesday, but to avoid conflicts it was shoved forward to Tuesday.

TCU Leading SW Baseball
By The Associated Press
Texas Christian takes out from baseball this week holding a 1-3 gam. lead over the Southwest Conference field.

Only non-conference games are on the schedule and only four of the six conference members will see action.

The TCU Horned Frogs surged into the lead and knocked Texas A&M from the unbeaten ranks last week as they trimmed the Aggies 4-2 and 2-1.

Texas edged Rice 3-2 and Baylor beat Southern Methodist 10-4 in the only other games.

Rain wiped out a Baylor-Texas series and a Rice-SMU double-header.

Thomas And Suggs Win Tournament
Jackie Thomas and Bobby Suggs teamed to win the Big Spring Golf Association partnership tournament at the Munny course Saturday and Sunday with 65.

Tied for second place with a pair of 66s were Dan Bustamante-Jesse Hernandez and Bernard Rains-J. C. Robinson.

Twenty-three teams took part in the meet. The next scheduled event is an individual match play on April 20-21. Full handicaps will be applied, and there will be two flights.

A meeting of the association is set for 7 p.m. Wednesday at the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

Nicklaus Begins Working On Golf's Grand Slam

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Young Jack Nicklaus, a sandy-haired money maker with golf clubs as his tools, seems intent on reducing the game's "Big Three" to the "Big One."

With his victory in the 27th Masters tournament Sunday, this powerful 23-year-old sophomore professional continued to dominate other members of golf's ruling trio—Arnold Palmer and Gary Player—as he has done in most of their major meetings, starting with the U.S. Open last year.

BEAT PALMER
In that Open, he beat Palmer in a playoff for the title, later whipped both Palmer and Player in the inaugural "World Series of Golf," where the trio met head-to-head in a 36-hole match, and now has taken a Masters crown from the two former Masters champions.

Only in the 1962 PGA championship did Nicklaus' mastery of the two titans of the game slip. Player won that one, Nicklaus tied for third and Palmer tied for 17th.

Shouldering aside ever-increasing pressure as first one, then another competitor made a bid and fell back in the final round of the Masters, Nicklaus showed the determination it takes to make a great champion.

After bogies on Nos. 8 and 12 knocked him out of the lead, he rallied with a pair of birdies and sank a clutch three-foot putt on the 18th to win by one shot from Tony Lema and beat Julius Boros and faltering Sam Snead by two strokes.

STRING OF PARS
Nicklaus, starting where he left off Saturday, extended his string of pars to 18 before a bogey on No. 8 ended it. He also bogied the 12th, sinking a long putt to save himself from a double bogey, but offset them with birdies on the 13th and 16th for a par 72 finish and 286.

Lema closed with a 2 under par 70 for 287.

Boros, playing with Nicklaus, also had a 72 for 288 and Snead fired a 71 for 288.

But when it was all over it was Nicklaus' show and the Columbus, Ohio, comet became the youngest man ever to win the Masters.

Palmer, the defending champion, started rallies in both the third and fourth rounds, but never

Score Calls It Quits
CHICAGO (AP)—Southpaw Herb Score of the Chicago White Sox, stumbling along the comeback trail for six frustrating years after a career-wrecking eye injury, is through with baseball.

Score made his decision after the White Sox had announced he was being optioned to Indianapolis. He has worked two scoreless innings in a 2-1 victory over Cincinnati Sunday in an exhibition finale in Indianapolis.

"I've talked it over with my wife," said Score, "and I have decided to quit the game." He immediately left for West Palm Beach, Fla., where his family is vacationing.

What proved to be the beginning of the end of one of baseball's most promising pitcher careers came May 7, 1957, in a night game against the New York Yankees.

A line drive off the bat of Gil McDougald in the first inning struck Score over the right eyebrow. At first it was feared Score might lose the sight of his eye, but he recovered and was sidelined the rest of the season.

Before the mishap, Score was considered one of baseball's hottest properties. He broke in with the Cleveland Indians in 1955 with a 16-10 record and led the American League with 245 strikeouts, earning Rookie of the Year laurels.

The following season he posted a 20-9 record and again led the league in strikeouts. Owner Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox offered a million dollars for the sensational southpaw but the Indians turned it down.

Score never came close to regaining his pre-injury form.

Ballenger Horse Wins Top Trophy
GARDEN CITY (SC)—Bob Ballenger's 3-year-old gelding, P a y Hand, was declared grand champion of the A&M quarterhorse show in College Station Saturday. He earned his owner a trophy.

Pay Hand, sired by Buck Dodger and a descendant of the famous Waggoner sire, Pretty Buck, is out of a Jiggs mare.

The gelding won his class, then went on to capture the top title in the show. About 500 horses and mares were entered, including three other ribbon winners by Ballenger. Roy Carter accompanied Ballenger to College Station for the show.

was able to get one of his amazing comeback drives really rolling. He closed with a 71 for 291 and a tie with Don January for ninth place.

PLAYER FALTERS
Player, who twice during the final round was tied with Snead and Nicklaus for top spot, finished bogey-bogey for a 70 and 289, putting him in a tie for fifth with Ed Furgo and Dow Finsterwald.

Francis (Bo) Winger closed with a 72 for 290 and eighth spot. Nicklaus plans to enter the British Open again this year, as well as the U.S. Open and the PGA championship. With the Masters, they make up the "grand slam" of professional golf.

Snead, who soon will be 51, was leading briefly on two occasions as Nicklaus and Player were having their ups and downs. But he bogied two of the last three holes and there went his chances for a fourth Masters crown.

Nicklaus picked up $20,000 for his victory and that put him on top of the PGA money winning list at $36,715. He was third behind Player and Palmer until the Masters. Player dropped to second with winnings of $27,502. Lema climbed from fourth to third with $26,831 and Palmer fell to fourth with $25,025.

Royals Tie Series With Celtics, 3-3
CINCINNATI (AP)—Someone apparently forgot to tell the Cincinnati Royals that the "book" called for them to lose the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division final playoff to the Boston Celtics in five games.

A 109-99 Cincinnati victory Sunday night squared their series at three games each. As a result, the whole ball of wax will be wrapped up in a seventh and deciding game at Boston Wednesday night. The winner will get the right to play either Los Angeles or St. Louis in the league's championship playoff.

Los Angeles took a 3-2 lead over St. Louis in the Western Division final by beating the Hawks 129-96 at Los Angeles Sunday night. The sixth game will be played at St. Louis Tuesday.

After taking the lead early in the second quarter, the Royals were behind once as Oscar Robertson scored 36 points and put on a brilliant display in the third quarter. He tallied 16 of them in that 12 minutes of action.

It was a rough encounter and Red Auerbach, the Boston coach, had plenty to say about it.

Referring to officials Sid Borcia and Norman Drucker, Auerbach said, "If that game had gotten any rougher, they would have had to put up a boxing ring and let them slug it out."

Colt Tilts To Be Aired
The Houston Colts opening game, as well as all of its games this season, will be carried over KBYG radio here.

The Colts will open at home against the champion San Francisco Giants at 1:15 p.m. Games Wednesday and Thursday will be at 7:45 p.m., followed by night games in Colt Stadium at the same hour against Los Angeles. Harkness Led West To Victory
KANSAS CITY (AP)—All-America Jerry Harkness of Chicago Loyola, in the unusual job of a substitute, led the West All Stars over the East in the 12th annual Shrine basketball game Sunday with some uncanny passing and ball-hawking.

The West finished on top 82-79 after leading by 20 points and the 6-foot-3 Harkness, an agile left-hander, was named Most Valuable Player.

Harkness missed both Saturday practice sessions, because he was detained in Chicago by examinations, and didn't start the game.

By half time, the West was in front by 16, 48-32, and the lead went to 20 points before the East rallied on the shooting of Tom Thacker of Cincinnati. Nate Thurmond of Bowling Green and Jimmy Rayl of Indiana.

Harkness scored 14 points and fed teammates for several baskets.

The West also was given a big lift by the rebounding of Tony Cervenik, rugged 6-foot-5, 225-pounder from Arizona State.

All-America Art Heyman of Duke scored 14 but grabbed only five rebounds.

Glass Protects Furniture Tops

Those unsightly scratches which spoil the appearance of fine furniture tops can be prevented if the finish is protected with a covering of glass.

Cut-to-measure, the glass top will guard against accidental scratches, burns and beverage spills without detracting from the rich appearance of the wood.

It's easy for homemakers to make a pattern of their prized furniture from which a glass dealer can cut a top. Here's all there is to it:

1. Place a large sheet of smooth wrapping paper, or newspaper if large enough over the top to be measured. Hold firmly in place and crease all around the edges with the flat side of a ruler.

2. Cut the pattern formed by the crease to the exact size and shape.

3. After cutting, recheck the pattern for accuracy by laying it on the top to be sure it matches perfectly.

Minor Problem

George Gividen, left, who operates a parachute center in Flemington, N.J., is shown with Joseph Korch, of Johnsville, Pa., a student at the school. Each has only one leg but neither regards it as more than a comparatively minor problem for a skydiver. Gividen, who became a paratrooper after graduating from West Point, retired from the army in 1960 after being denied permission to continue jumping. He started the parachute center while skydiving was a weekend sport for him.

Academy Awards Event Is Tonight

BY JAMES BAIGON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD—AP—They hand out the Oscars tonight, and the 35th annual Academy Awards look closer than a National League pennant race.

For instance, each nominee for best actress is strong enough to win. There can be no upsets among Betty Davis ("Whatever Happened to Baby Jane?"), Lee Remick ("Days of Wine and Roses"), Katharine Hepburn ("Long Day's Journey Into Night"), Anne Bancroft ("The Mirror Has Two Faces") and Geraldine Page ("Sweet Bird of Youth").

Sentiment for Miss Davis to become the first three-time star winner gives her a slight edge.

The race is just as tight among the men. Gregory Peck, Jack Lemmon and Peter O'Toole are hitting the wire neck-and-neck. Marcello Mastroianni and Burt Lancaster are not far behind.

Peck and O'Toole have the backing of nominated pictures—"To Kill a Mockingbird" and "Lawrence of Arabia." Lemmon—"Days of Wine and Roses"—Italian Mastroianni—"Divorce—Italian Style"—and Lancaster—"Birdman of Alcatraz" are going it on their own.

There's a lot of talk, as always, for a landslide for best picture as has happened in recent years with "West Side Story," "Ben-Hur" and "Gigi."

"Lawrence of Arabia," with 10 nominations, is the favorite of the avalanche school but "Mockingbird," a well-done piece of Americana, is pressing at the finish. The other movies nominated are "The Longest Day," one of the best war movies ever made; "Mutiny on the Bounty," a sea classic and "The Music Man," a thoroughly enjoyed movie.

The show will be telecast over the ABC network beginning at 10 p.m. EST. There will be entertainment by Eddie Fisher, Robert Goulet and Ethel Merman.

There will be one familiar face missing. Due to a conflict in toothpaste sponsors, Bob Hope will be replaced by Frank Sinatra as master of ceremonies.

Lack Of Data Social Register Name-Drop Cause

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's daughter, Mrs. Robert Pierson, says the only reason she and her pastor husband were dropped from the Social Register's 1963 edition was because they didn't send in certain data.

An official of the society "blue book" agrees.

When the 1963 Social Register appeared last fall and the Piersons were not listed, some published reports speculated that the omission was linked with the Rev. Mr. Pierson's arrest as a Freedom Rider in 1962.

A Devotional For The Day

Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone; and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. (John 16:32)

PRAYER: Father God, be Thou with us as we pass through life's storms. Though we walk through the valley of the shadow of death, help us to fear no evil, knowing Thou art with us; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Recuperative Powers

It may not be the peculiar nature of a free society to produce bogus Messiahs—they have appeared in totalitarian Germany and Russia, for instance—but it helps. The United States has produced its quota.

What is most amazing—and heartening—about the American people, however, is their ability to receive and embrace false prophets and mountebanks, yet survive. The quality is well described by Gerald W. Johnson in his book, "Peril and Promise," who reassures those who fear for the future of freedom by observing that the strength of the American people lies not in their resistance to folly or any other temptation but in their amazing ability to recuperate. We have managed to survive colossal errors in judgment on international and domestic questions. We have somehow been able to forgive the blind stupidity of many a leader and forget many a false crusade. Through it all we have kept a sense of humor and a strong sense of direction, however much at times we may have lacked a well-defined sense of purpose.

Can the marvelous recuperative powers of the American people survive in a world that becomes increasingly more complex and the demands for conformity more strident? There is good reason to hope that we can.

Problem Of Unemployment

One reason for a substantial tax cut lies in the stubborn, intractable problem of unemployment which lies like a dead hand on the economy of the nation. The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment is currently running at more than 6 per cent. If the nation's rate of growth, an estimated 2.5 per cent a year for the past five years, is not increased the rate of unemployment will inevitably increase proportionately in coming years.

At the present rate of growth, with an estimated one million persons entering the labor market each year, prospects are that the economy can absorb no more than two-thirds of the army of new workers. This means that at least 300,000 new workers a year will enter the ranks of unemployed. They may never be employed if the economy is not expanded at a greater rate than 2.5 per cent a year. No businessman, public official or citizen can afford to be complacent about unemployment. The problem of unemployment is not alone the tremendous waste of human resources, but the continuing burden that each taxpayer must bear in supporting the unemployed. Equally as serious is the obvious failure of an economic way of life that fails to provide work for all men and women who need it.

The administration and businessmen share the hope that a substantial tax cut will revive the lagging economy. The alternative of a tremendous public works program might well be a cure that would be even more expensive than cutting taxes.

Fundamental Cause Of Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told newsmen on Wednesday to look back at the period between 1958 and 1960 when the Eisenhower administration was in power, and they would find a high unemployment rate, the largest peacetime deficit and the biggest outflow of gold.

But Mr. Kennedy forgot to mention that the Democratic party had a majority in both houses of Congress during that same period. After all, the national legislature has to vote the money that's spent by the government and also decide on the tax rates. Congress, therefore, is primarily responsible for any deficits. Likewise, the outflow of gold was due then, and is due today, to the large grants and loans for "foreign aid." This also is basically the responsibility of Congress.

THE DEMOCRATIC party has had a majority in the Senate and House ever since 1932 with the exception of the period between 1946 and 1948 and between 1952 and 1954. Thus, for a total of 26 out of the last 30 years, the Democratic party has been in charge of law-making and, especially, the appropriation of public funds.

As for the unemployment rate, which has declined only slightly during the present administration, the responsibility definitely rests on the Democratic party in Congress. Year after year, after year, has refused to broaden the anti-trust laws to regulate, if not abolish, the labor union monopolies which today push up the wage rate and force the squeeze in profits that brings unemployment.

THE KENNEDY ADMINISTRATION, moreover, has not made a single recommendation to Congress thus far to deal with the abuses of "collective bargaining" and the violations of the "civil rights" of those workers who refuse to join a union or wish to cross a picket line and work.

The President's reference to the prevailing unemployment rate and that of the preceding administration was made on the same day that the Secretary of Labor, W. Willard Wirtz, said to a news conference at Rochester, N. Y., that "last year, some 19 million man-hours were lost because of strikes, but in that same year, 900 million man-hours were lost due to unemployment." He declared that the strike picture is comparatively rosy. Mr. Wirtz sought to give the impression that the labor unions are not in the least responsible for the unemployment situation in America and that there is no connection between the unemployment problem and the behavior and policies of union leaders.

Churchill—Wise And Otherwise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Even people who couldn't speak English got a lift from Sir Winston Churchill's rage against the Nazis.

Once, with Stalin, Churchill went too fast for the interpreter. But when he was carried away he banged the table. Stalin stood up and told him, "I don't understand a word you say but, by God, I like your sentiment!"

As a human being Churchill has been so many things, from wise to otherwise. He fits Walt Whitman's own description of himself: "I am large, I contain multitudes."

No wonder the unique tribute being given Churchill Tuesday—honorary American citizenship—is a little less than what he tried to visualize 20 years ago for all Americans and Britons.

HE SUGGESTED then that, with their common language, they might some day become full-fledged citizens of each other's countries.

In the end he probably would have backed away from it—just as he did after proposing a Council of Europe—because it might mean some loss of British sovereignty.

He made no bones about admitting that with him England came first.

"I have always," he said, "faithfully served two public causes which I think stand supreme—the maintenance of the enduring greatness of Britain and her empire and the historic continuity of our island life."

Even Stalin seemed grateful to him once though all his life Churchill hated Bolshevism. He called it a "foul baboonery" which made Stalin the big baboon.

"THERE HAVE been few cases in history," Stalin said, "where the courage of one man has been so important to the future of the world."

This turned out to be a sardonic tribute as Stalin showed soon afterward when he double-crossed the prime minister by gobbling half of Europe. He had his own ideas about the world and the future.

Churchill needed glasses when he thought before both world wars there would never again be great land battles. But his vision of communism was better, at least near war's end, than that of his American contemporaries.

He wanted to stop his Russian allies from overrunning the Balkans and East Germany. He was afraid, once they got in, they'd communique all of it, as they did.

President Roosevelt suspected, and rightly, that Churchill was anxious to restore British influence and interests in Eastern Europe. The United States wanted no territory from the war.

THIS, FOR Churchill, was never reason enough for not preventing the Russians from seizing new real estate. He wrote later: "When voices are about, the shepherd must guard his flock even if he does not himself care for mutton."

In 1943 he even made a naive journey to Stalin to work out a division of influence in the Balkans. On a piece of paper the two imperialists figured how much "preference" Russia should have here and Britain there. They agreed.

But Stalin had gulled him. When Churchill said, "Let's burn the paper," Stalin said, "No, you keep it." What he really meant was "Keep it for your scrapbook."

Churchill's optimism in this case was typical. What he wanted, he wanted to believe. His heart got the better of his head, as it often did.

How Healthy Are You?

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a communist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

If you are sick fewer than 16 days a year, you're healthier than the average American.

Do you snore habitually? Some 22 million Americans do, although 21 million of them probably deny it.

Tip to housewives: When you wish to retreat next cooked fare, cover it with leaves of lettuce to avoid getting it too well done.

Modern health measures are making motherhood much safer. In 1925 the death toll during pregnancy and childbirth was 65 of every 10,000 mothers. Now it's less than five per 10,000.

Christopher Columbus was no speed demon. He averaged 2.9 miles an hour on his first trip to America.

Other notable notables: "It is indeed desirable to be well descended, but the glory belongs to our ancestors"—Plutarch.

History lesson: It isn't true that the White House is a haven for intellectual mediocrity. At least 11 U.S. presidents were members of Phi Beta Kappa.

Go West young man, if you're looking for a rich husband. We are informed one out of every thousand persons in Casper, Wyo., is a millionaire or was.

Those good old days? Ohio spent $2 a year on each of its public school pupils—back in 1831.

Prosperity note: Businessmen who expect to hire a competent engineering graduate from the Class of 1962 can probably get him for a $600-a-month offer—if the fringe benefits also tempt him.

Life is getting easier all the time. You can now buy an electric carving knife for only $27.95.

Fast talk: The French are reported to be among the fastest speakers in the world, averaging a reported 350 syllables a minute. American men speak about 105. American women 175.

Keep your child on his feet. The famous heart doctor, Paul Dudley White, in advocating the benefits of exercise, warns that hardening of the arteries begins in boys as early as the age of 12.

Maybe this will help you feel bigger. Approximately 99 per cent of all living things are smaller and weaker than man.

The perils of authorship: Honoré de Balzac, the French novelist, died exhausted at 51. It was estimated he consumed 50,000 cups of coffee while turning out 230 books.

To Your Good Health

Some Birthmarks Can Be Easily Removed

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D. Dear Dr. Molner: I read a letter in your column from a woman whose infant daughter has a birthmark on the arm.

It was described as being exactly like my daughter's "strawberry nevus," with which she was born. By the time the baby was three months old it was the size of a quarter. It was on her wrist—raised and lumpy.

We took her to a dermatologist. He gave her X-ray treatments for two years.

He said that by the time she is six years old the mark would vanish. She is not quite five now, and it is completely gone—no scars or any sign. We are eternally grateful to the dermatologist. Perhaps you can forward my letter to the mother if you have her name in your files, or if not just print my message for parents with a similar problem, so that they will know something can be done about ugly birthmarks—MRS. F. M.

You are right. Something can be done about ugly birthmarks. Not always the same thing, because it depends on the case.

I don't save letters from readers. I accept them as confidential, and if I want to keep one, I cut off the name and address with a pair of scissors.

I can't forward your letter to the mother—but anyway I can print it for all parents who are worried about birthmarks, stains, strawberry marks, moles and so on.

Some of these marks fade spontaneously. Some are better left alone until a child is older, when they can be removed by simple office surgery, or by plastic surgery, depending on location, or can be obliterated by electric needles. Freezing with dry ice techniques is also sometimes used.

Of all the kinds of "spots before the eyes," none causes so much concern as the blemishes on a child's skin as seen by parents. Being a father myself, I understand.

There are mighty few of these blemishes that cannot be corrected. But as I said, not all respond to the same treatment.

How does a physician choose which is which? He can't, without a great deal of technical training—and that's why some doctors become dermatologists, or skin specialists.

I'm not a dermatologist. However, if one of my children had had such a birthmark, I would have gone to a specialist and asked him what to do. By virtue of his experience, he could have told at a glance or maybe after close examination) what kind of blemish, and the best way to erase it with the least sign afterward, if any.

He might have, as in the case of Mrs. F. M.'s daughter, been able to predict the time within which, after treatment, the birthmark would disappear.

It takes skill to do this. But skill is available.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have the beginning of a double chin. I am not fat, either. Is there an exercise or other method to prevent it?—R. E.

A double chin comes from one of two things: Overweight, or a sag in the skin. Since you aren't fat, that leaves the other. No exercise will help this, but if it appears a nuisance so far as appearance goes, plastic surgery can correct it.

Count your calories the easy way! To receive a copy of my pamphlet, "The Calorie Chart," write Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Maybe It's A Bigger Game

Around you scatter, when we break out the dominoes for a game, we have to borrow a rock from the checker-board set—and appropriately mark it with a ball-point pen or the business end of a crayola—in order to make everything come out even.

We could play checkers, I might add, but one of the pieces is missing, too. If the truth were known, it could be rattling around in the penny bank—along with a button off my coat and one of mother's ear-bobs.

THE PENNIES? If they couldn't be shoved through the opening in the dime bank, they're probably at the bottom of the jack-in-the-box or secreted in the mouth of the toy elephant—which haven't been deposited through the fascinating and mysterious chasm in the medicine chest, where all the used razor blades are supposed to be filed away and forgotten. I'm tempted to use a saucer from the miniature set of dishes to fill out the checker set but my two daughters might remind me that the dolls would take umbrage.

THERE'S A place for everything around the Hart manor but that doesn't necessarily mean everything is in its place, especially with a six-year-old girl and her three-year-old confederate on hand to police the area.

The heiresses subscribe to the theory of taking daily inventory of everything that's loose, and then rearranging the items to suit themselves. The missing domino was originally borrowed, I'm sure, to complement the construction of a frontier fort. We have special blocks for that, too, but it so happens that most of them are being given a ride in the doll swing or serve as Easter eggs, to be secreted all over the house.

THE GIRLS came into possession of a rather substantial storage-box for toys not long ago. Turned out it makes a delightful place in which to hide during the numberless games of "hide-and-seek" that go on around the abode during our waking hours. There's plenty of space inside, since it rarely embraces any toys.

The six-year-old gets rather impatient with the three-year-old during the time we play what passes for card games like "books" or canasta.

The younger sister develops pack-rat tendencies in the endeavors and gets terribly put out with anyone who relieves her of her hand's face cards, even though such summonses might be encouraged by the rules of the game.

I'M INCLINED to think the shuffle and the deal, along with the prospect of getting a fistful of cards she can call her own, are what fascinate the younger one—rather than the game itself.

Both are entranced by horses but I think each of them would settle for a saddle as a gift and leave the reins and the sorrels of Roy Rogers, if I would agree to hitch on the riding gear and serve as a pack animal.

Someday, I'm going to venture under the house and examine the area where the old razor blades are supposed to fall—under the medicine chest. Who knows, I might find a missing domino there.

Gumshoeing Instead Of Lawmaking

In the nation's capital in recent weeks it has been only too apparent that there has been a great deal of moaning at the National Press Club bar over the changing status of Congress. Columnists whose theme song is "Backward, Turn Backward O, Time in Your Flight" are alarmed at Congress's current manifestations.

Without putting my foot on the brass rail, I sympathize with the gentlemen. There is a drastic and worrisome change in Congress, all right. But the change cannot be traced to dastardly foes of Congress who have mounted "the most vehement attack upon Congress as an institution since the first Roosevelt New Deal," as reported by that pundit of doom and gloom, William S. White.

NOR DO I BELIEVE that the times are too tough or the nuclear age too technical for the average Congressional I.Q. I cannot string along with Seer Holmes Alexander who sadly writes, "The aerodynamic complexities, as well as the economic extrapolations, are just too overwhelming for Congressional comprehension."

Even without the press club bar to sustain me, my enduring faith in Congress has never faltered. Granted, it is moving along strange paths now, but of its own free will. All Congress needs to do is take a hitch in its collective pants, get back on the old track and do its homework.

The present trouble with Congress, and self-made trouble at that, stems from the fact that since World War II the House and Senate have gradually been transforming themselves from legislative to investigative bodies. No one denies, or would deny the right of Congress, to investigate any facet of the national life. Its investigative privileges are among the nation's safeguards.

THE WHIR OF THE television camera and the newspaper headlines attendant upon a Congressional investigation have proved irresistible to members of the Senate and the House. Columnist Bascom Timmons recently wrote that the Senate alone plans 34 investigations this session.

Not only is the tremendous publicity value of an investigation fully realized by Congressmen, but investigations also enable members to meet so many interesting people, such as Frank Costello and gun molls. Any honest man will admit that such activities are a lot more exciting than wrestling with a tax bill.

HOWEVER, Congress is neither on its last legs, as Alexander fears, nor intellectually inadequate to deal with the complexities of modern life. Nor is it about to be done in by some powerful, unidentified foe, as White suggests. On the contrary, Congress is full of health and vigor. It just needs to put first things first, one more and tend to its legislative knitting, which is its major task.

All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

THE FOUNDING FATHERS intended that Congress should legislate first and foremost. But this prime function is becoming secondary as Congressional gumshoeing in all directions. The current Congress is now, in the fourth month of its stewardship, with little to show in the way of major legislation except the extension of the military draft. Cabell Phillips of The New York Times writes, "This Congress has made one of the poorest legislative records of the last dozen years."

Most members of Congress concede that this year's is a deplorable record. If it were not for the headlines made by the Senate in its investigation of the TFX contracts, this nation would scarcely be conscious that Congress is in session. In the past, Congress has inquired into everything from racketeering to B girls to strategic stockpiling. No matter how important these investigations may be, they don't leave Congressmen much time for their primary function, which is legislation. The first of the original seven articles of the U.S. Constitution deals with legislative powers. It reads:

"All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives."

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Kennedy's decision to restrain the Cuban Freedom Fighters from raiding the Soviet military base in the Caribbean has to be reported from two viewpoints—one is history and the other is background news.

Historically, the U.S.A. is now back where it was in the 1940's, when we formed a wartime alliance with Russia. The circumstances, of course, are different, but the results are similar. In World War II we had a common cause with Soviet Russia in order to put down Hitler and to pacify Europe. Today, we again have embraced a common cause with Russia to keep peace in the Caribbean.

IN THE 1940's the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. had the giant power of the German Reich as their enemy. Here in the 1960's Mr. Kennedy's decision has given America and Russia another foe—the puny but pestiferous anti-Castro raiders. We have now come to the rescue of the Russian forces in Cuba, which have been attacked by Alpha 66, one of several counter-revolutionary groups which are fighting the Red dictator of Cuba. This puts us clearly on the side, at the side and for the side of the Soviet Union. History can write it no other way.

American forces, and an American ally, Great Britain, are joined to protect Russian lives and property, as well as Russia's Communist Revolution. We have embraced, and are enforcing, Khrushchev's policy of fostering Communist "wars of liberation." Khrushchev's move last year to fortify Cuba has now brought about a full reversal of the Eisenhower-Kennedy policy of ejecting Castro, which was unsuccessfully tried at the Bay of Pigs.

THAT IS THE historical meaning, and it is too lucid for contradiction. The background of the current news situation is far more fuzzy. Among others to state the Administration's case is Sen. Morse,

That Strange Alliance—Again

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Kennedy's decision to restrain the Cuban Freedom Fighters from raiding the Soviet military base in the Caribbean has to be reported from two viewpoints—one is history and the other is background news.

Historically, the U.S.A. is now back where it was in the 1940's, when we formed a wartime alliance with Russia. The circumstances, of course, are different, but the results are similar. In World War II we had a common cause with Soviet Russia in order to put down Hitler and to pacify Europe. Today, we again have embraced a common cause with Russia to keep peace in the Caribbean.

IN THE 1940's the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. had the giant power of the German Reich as their enemy. Here in the 1960's Mr. Kennedy's decision has given America and Russia another foe—the puny but pestiferous anti-Castro raiders. We have now come to the rescue of the Russian forces in Cuba, which have been attacked by Alpha 66, one of several counter-revolutionary groups which are fighting the Red dictator of Cuba. This puts us clearly on the side, at the side and for the side of the Soviet Union. History can write it no other way.

American forces, and an American ally, Great Britain, are joined to protect Russian lives and property, as well as Russia's Communist Revolution. We have embraced, and are enforcing, Khrushchev's policy of fostering Communist "wars of liberation." Khrushchev's move last year to fortify Cuba has now brought about a full reversal of the Eisenhower-Kennedy policy of ejecting Castro, which was unsuccessfully tried at the Bay of Pigs.

THAT IS THE historical meaning, and it is too lucid for contradiction. The background of the current news situation is far more fuzzy. Among others to state the Administration's case is Sen. Morse, chairman of the Latin American subcommittee of the Foreign Relations Committee. He told the Senate on April 15:

"The responsibility for the American foreign policy rests with the American Government and not with the Cuban refugee."

The statement, while axiomatic, is narrow and unsatisfactory. Alpha 66, as many people in Washington know, is a creature of the Central Intelligence Agency. Its raids, and other activities, have had the consent and encouragement of the American Government. Raiding Cuba, therefore, was Kennedy's policy up until approximately the time that Freedom Fighters of Alpha 66 and the Second Front of Escambray attacked a Russian freighter on or about March 19, inflicting some dozen casualties upon the crew. Why has the policy been changed? In the absence of hard news, there are these speculations on the loose, all from cogent sources but none susceptible, as yet, of solid proof.

SUPPRESSION of Alpha 66 and other approved commandos is the CIA's way of cracking down upon disapproved and irresponsible raiders who are supported, I am told, "by millionaire refugees in Miami."

The injunction is part of a larger diplomatic deal to get Russian troops out of Cuba and to prevent another showdown on Berlin.

The action is somehow related to a statement by U.S. Secretary General U. Thant on last Oct. 24, when he urged "the parties concerned to get together with a view to normalizing the situation in the Caribbean."

SOME OF THE CURRENT reports may have to be amended as hard news evolves. But the moving finger of history, as the poet said, "writes, and, having writ, moves on." Temporarily, at least, we are allied with Russia.

Today

"Earth of the vitreous pour of the full moon just tinged with blue!" Walt Whitman DAILY GUIDE—Recently President Kennedy spoke of the rhythm of all life and things, with ups and downs to be expected even in politics. This Full Moon accents personal relationships, especially marital. Cooperate and use charm to win others. This is a Libra trait and is emphasized today. Arians will do well to how now to the more peaceful Librans. Arians often do not realize how much they challenge everyone around them.

There is extra energy released, this being the full tide of the moon rhythm. Try to bring your efforts to a peak, even if it is only your usual routine of chores. Get that little extra into what you do, and don't forget that the public in general is more active and emotional. People like to get out and talk to others, to press for advantages. They tend to be noisy, sometimes unruly in groups. The police expect to be busier than usual.

Prepare to be practical and realistic about business, correspondence, telephone conversations tomorrow.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, AIRES!
You are now coming into your own. If you have been working towards some goal, and have stepped up your efforts in the past few years, you can hope to attain the peak in the coming year. This will be the time to collect, to enjoy social life, travel, and even romance, or some expansion of your personal interests or ambitions. In June watch out for fire-works in the environment in which you work, or in health matters. Avoid hasty action, but accept sudden changes with the knowledge that this is the time for new arrangements. Early in October be wary of careless thinking in regard to security or joint funds. Avoid difficulties with loved ones in the next few weeks.

Medicine Man Enters White Eyes' Hospital

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—A 117-year-old Navajo medicine man and former Indian scout finds the white man's hospital a boring place but he is making the best of it.

Jeff King passes the time telling patients and hospital staff members about the days when a Texas Confederate army invaded the Union territory of New Mexico in the Civil War, about the Indian wars and how Geronimo was captured.

The old days for King, now a Navajo medicine man and rancher, go a long way. His medical records from Ft. Wingate say he was born in 1846.

King entered an Albuquerque hospital for a prostate operation and is doing fine.

But his discharge can't come too soon.

"I don't like it here. My relations don't come to see me," King said. "My sheep, my horses and my grandchildren are waiting for me at home. I've got a lot of work I've got to get money to buy food."

A hospital spokesman said it shouldn't be long before King is back with his family and the Navajo reservation where he still rides horses. His home is at Pinedale, N.M.

Among his memories King counts the time Kit Carson rounded up the Navajos and took them on the "long walk" to the Bosque Redondo at Fort Sumner in 1864. They were held in captivity until 1868.

King was an army man for more than 30 of his 117 years. His army record shows he served with honor and distinction as a scout, participating in many of the campaigns against the Apaches.

WRECKS, DAMAGE SHOW INCREASES

LAMESA (SC)—Accidents and property damage showed sizeable increases in Lamesa during March when city police arrested 92 persons and county officers 86. Twenty-five wrecks last month caused property damage estimated at $6,185 compared to 17 mishaps and damages of $4,720 in February. The accident rate for the first quarter of 1963 is behind that of last year.

Murray Oil Lease Paid Off $285,000

AUSTIN (AP)—Railroad Commissioner William Murray Jr. says he sees nothing wrong with his having a part in a $700,000 West Texas oil deal. Murray, a former chairman of the state agency regulating oil and gas production in Texas, confirmed today he made "several thousand dollars" net profit on the transaction. Murray commented after the Dallas News published a copyright story today concerning an oil lease in Throckmorton County, North Central Texas southwest of Wichita Falls.

FOREVER FREE. By Joyce Adamson. Harcourt, Brace. $5.95.

By The Associated Press

The world—or at least a fairly portion of it—learned about Elsa in "Born Free" and about Elsa's cubs in "Living Free." For younger readers there also was an adaptation, "Elsa: The Story of a Lioness."

This is the final volume in Mrs. Adamson's chronicles of a lioness raised by hand, her return to the wild, her three cubs, her death from a rare infection and the struggle to save the cubs.

The book begins with a dilemma. The government has decided that the very familiarity with which the half-wild, half tamed Elsa maintains her contacts with Joy and George Adamson constitutes a danger to other humans in the area. She and the cubs will have to be captured and transported to a remote area. When Elsa's death intervenes, an even greater problem is raised. Young lions are not able to fend for themselves until they are about 2 years old, and the cubs are only half that age.

So the Adamsons are forced to become foster parents to the three-fourths-wild Jeshpa, Gopa and Little Elsa. For a time it appears the cubs are joining, a pride and reverting completely to nature—a development that might turn out well or ill. But through the affectionate Jeshpa, the cubs renew their contacts with the game warden and his wife.

The suspense centers around the question of whether the Adamsons will be able to capture and transport the cubs before the government deadline, and condition them to a completely free life.

The other volumes were greatly appealing animal stories. This one also impresses the reader with the remarkable qualities of the author and her husband, who uncomplainingly went through tremendous physical hardships, anxious planning and gruelling work in their efforts to reach their goal.

U.S. Weather Wet And Cloudy

By The Associated Press

Wet and cloudy weather covered broad areas in the western two-thirds of the nation today. Light rain fell in many sections, with the major wet belt in the Midwest and the central and northern Rockies. Light snow powdered higher mountain ridges of the Northwest and in northeast Minnesota.

Cooler air spread from the northern Plains across northern areas through the midwest into the Atlantic states region. Readings were mostly in the 30s and 40s across the northern half of the country, with the 50s and 60s in southern sections.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 77 in Laredo, Tex., to 25 in Oscoda, Mich.

Sledge Hammer For Insurance

DALLAS (AP) — Insurance technicians enraged a Dallas store owner, and he took out his own insurance.

This new insurance was a sledge hammer he placed near his safe. Thieves got in, all right, and used the sledge hammer, unsuccessfully, on the safe.

The store owner told officers D. L. Sharp and T. R. Garner that the hammer was his.

He explained that twice previously burglars had looted the safe by working the combination and the insurance company would not pay off.

The officers said the grocer told them he bought the hammer and left it handy to the safe "in hopes the burglar would beat up the safe and he could collect the insurance."

Pianist Wins Music Award

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Pianist Celia Hudson, Decatur, Ga., won the $6,000 three-year Dimitri Mitropoulos scholarship in final competition at Stephens College.

Ten district finalists competed for the four scholarships. John Lynn Mitchell, Pampa, Tex., pianist, won the $3,700 award.

'Ugly American' May Be A Controversial Movie

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "The Ugly American" has reached the screen and appears destined to arouse as much controversy in movie form as it did as a book.

The best-seller was fragmentary at best and many of its angry theses have been blunted by the shift of events. Producer Director George Englund and writer Stewart Stern wisely updated the story and provided a strong story line of an American ambassador's sometimes misguided efforts to lend aid to a Southeast Asian nation.

The result is a movie that is strong and stimulating. Its appeal is to the head rather than the heart. But that is calculated, the film being aimed at provoking thought. The fadeout is pointed: A comfortable American switching off his television set in the middle of a plea for him to give some attention to foreign affairs.

Marlon Brando plays the ambassador, and he dominates without being domineering. He remains the screen's most fascinating performer and this time he plays himself. In all other roles he has employed accents and makeup to mask the real Brando. In "The Ugly American" he allows himself only a moustache. His wit, his toughness, his knack of commanding attention are authentically Brandoian.

The film is a remarkable debut for young Englund. In his double role he has taken a subject that is difficult to dramatize and has brought it to life with skill. He emerges as one of Hollywood's bright hopes for the future.

Theft Reports Made To Police

Four gallons of paint, a brush, and a tachometer, were reported stolen during the weekend to Big Spring police.

Mrs. Mary Collins, Ellis Homes, reported the paint and brush valued at $19, taken from an apartment. She said a neighbor had seen a woman drive up to the apartment, put the paint in a car, and drive off.

Forrest R. McKee, Egleess, driver of a truck owned by Jack Cooper Trucking Co., Grand Prairie, said he parked his truck on the lot at the truck terminal over night. When he returned Sunday morning, a tachometer had been taken from the dash of the vehicle. He said the "sender" for the tachometer, mounted under the hood, was not taken.

Minor Collisions Checked Sunday

Three minor accidents, with no injuries, were investigated by Big Spring police Sunday. The first, at 107 NW 7th, involved vehicles driven by Patricia Martinez, 501 NW 10th, and Jimmy F. Fierro, 107 NW 8th.

Locations of other collisions and drivers of vehicles involved, were: Owens and Sixteenth, Ethel H. Cain, Stephenville, and Jesse Levi Bedwell, 602 Lancaster; Nineteenth and Gregg, John Joseph Romer, 2800 Lawrence, and Phillip Mark Alexander, 707 W. 18th.

Moist Air Enters State

By The Associated Press

South winds started fanning moist air inland from the Gulf of Mexico again Monday and clouds thickened over South Central Texas and the north half of the state.

Weather Bureau observers sighted no immediate prospects for further rain, however. A possibility of showers in the Panhandle by Tuesday was the only moisture mentioned in the forecasts.

Mild temperatures were expected to continue.

New five-day forecasts promised readings a few degrees above normal in all sections of the state and little or no moisture.

Afternoon highs Sunday ranged from a hot 97 degrees at Presidio in the West Texas Big Bend down to 73 at Galveston on the coast.

Readings before dawn Monday varied from 51 at Lufkin to 77 at Brownsville and Corpus Christi.

Tech Accepts Grant By NASA

LUBBOCK (AP) — Texas Tech directors have accepted a grant of $101,600 from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for six doctoral fellowships in space related sciences.

The board also authorized construction of the Killgore Beef Cattle Research Center at the Tech research farm near Amarillo. Low bidder on the project was Wirtz Construction Co. of Amarillo with a net bid of $378,839.

Leading Lady

It wasn't long ago that Charlene Holt was a movie goer in Texas drooling over Rock Hudson. Now she's his leading lady, making violent love to him in "Man's Favorite Sport." Producer Howard Hawks spotted her on a television commercial in New York and brought her to Hollywood. Both Hawks and Hudson have her signed to contracts.
